Crowds View Johnsons

Tethered balloons hold American and Korean flags aloft over Seoul's City Hall Plaza today as a crowd estimated at 350,000 greeted President and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson on the final stop of their far eastern tour. The South Koreans gave the Johnsons a three-hour welcome, greatest of the trip, including arrival ceremonies at the airport, the motorcade into the capital and the city hall festivities. The city hall is at right. (AP Wirephoto by radio from Seoul)

Korean Throng Hails 'Great Texas Giant' Two Million Greet LBJ

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Crowds estimated to number two million turned out to welcome President Johnson today in his biggest, wildest reception in his Far East tour. Throngs broke down metal fences, swarmed around police, and clung to rooftops for a glimpse of the man hailed in a typical banner as the "Great Texas Giant."

The outpouring obviously pleased him and at a state dinner tonight Johnson promised the United States would come again to the defense of South Korea "if aggression—God forbid—should occur once again."

FRIENDLIEST
This nation—born by war with the Communists 16 years ago—is the President's last stop on his seven-nation tour around the eastern rim of Communist China. The crowd in Seoul was the friendliest of the trip.

There wasn't a sign of the kind of anti-U.S. sentiment that marred otherwise warm and at times boisterous welcomes in other nations on the tour.

The President responded by popping out of his car half a dozen times to mix with the confetti-tossing, flag-waving throng.

Facing massed crowds estimated by police at 350,000 in City Hall Square, the President voiced concern for the safety of those who pushed, shoved and trampled each other in an effort to get a better view. He urged courtesy and caution "so we don't hurt anyone."

Harking back to the Korean War in which 54,246 Americans died, Johnson said he was standing on "hallowed ground."

"I have come to express our gratitude for the brave and generous help you are giving to our common ally, Viet Nam—both on the battlefield and in rebuilding the countryside. This is the act of a nation that understands the nature of aggression and that knows what it means to have help in resisting that aggression."

HUGE CHEER
A huge cheer echoed over the square. In a toast at the dinner, Johnson issued the U.S. promise to come to Korea's defense again if it is attacked.

"Korea inspires us to feel that nations can meet the gravest challenges successfully if they can be secured from terror," he said. "And I can assure you that the United States will continue to play its part in providing that security. Here in Korea, our fighting men stand with your own along the demilitarized zone, and we shall come more to your defense if aggression—God forbid—should occur once more."

The United States has 50,000 combat troops on the 151-mile armistice line along with 610,000 Koreans.

South Korean President Chung Hee Park, who has sent 45,000 troops to Viet Nam, had waiting a variety of requests for aid, including $300 million for development projects, a guarantee of at least $200 million a year to support the South Korean army, and more orders for South Korean manufacturers to supply the forces in Viet Nam.

The vast outpouring of Koreans came as Johnson entered the last stage of his 17-day, 31,000-mile journey around the eastern rim of Communist China. He leaves for Washington Wednesday, stopping en route for nearly 12 hours in Anchorage, Alaska.

NEW WARNING
He flew to Korea from Kuala Lumpur, capital of Malaysia, where he voiced a new warning to Communist China, the old foe of Korean War days. He said the Chinese Reds were inviting danger by development of nuclear-tipped missiles. He promised that the United States would offer protection against nuclear blackmail to nations that forego development of their own nuclear weapons.

His Malaysia stay was marred by anti-American riots in which one person was killed. But South Korea, where the United States expended blood and money to resist Communist expansion a decade and a half ago, gave the President a completely enthusiastic welcome.

SOCIAL EVENTS
Johnson will spend 44 hours in Korea. He will visit with South Korean and American troops guarding the armistice line against the Communist North, talk with President Park and other leaders and attend a busy round of social events.

The President, although tired on the homeward leg of his energetic travels, will get little respite in Washington. Well-informed sources said he would leave the White House again Friday on a 12-state campaign tour in advance of the Nov. 8 elections. Then he is expected to combine rest and work at his Texas ranch for a week or longer.

Killed

Go-Go Girl Found Slain

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP) — Pretty Linda Marie Kohlmeier, a small town girl from a big family, left home to become a secretary — then a go-go girl. She lost touch with her family about a month ago. They found her Sunday when her father identified her body at a morgue in Columbus. The body, clad in a dancing costume and a jacket, was found on a rural road near here at about dawn.

MYSTERY DEATH
The girl was killed by a blow on the back of the head, according to a preliminary autopsy report. Other than that, authorities said, the death is a mystery.

She was reported missing a month ago by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kohlmeier of Beach City, Ohio, a town of just over 1,000 population about 15 miles southwest of Canton in Stark County.

Lt. Louis Napier, a Stark County sheriff's department detective, who had been working on the search for Linda, 19, said Saturday. "I knew the family well. She was one of the finest kids I've ever known."

BIG FAMILY
There were 11 children in the family, including one born last week. Linda was the oldest.

Knox County Sheriff Ralph Pears said the girl reportedly had been living in the Mount Vernon area, in central Ohio, about six weeks and had danced at night spots in Columbus and Cincinnati, and at a bar here.

Pears said witnesses told investigators that Miss Kohlmeier left the bar here after work Saturday night, went to a party and left the party alone to return home.

Her car was found at the farm home east of here where she roomed — about two miles from where the body was found.

'007' PLOT

Dallas Pilot Frees Three

RICHARDSON, Tex. (AP) — An ex-Marine says he flew to a remote mountain airport and posed as a cattle buyer to pluck three imprisoned Americans from the Brazilian jungles.

Alan A. Hulsey said the code signal for the Americans to elude their guard and race to his rented plane was the phrase: "Going to Rio."

Hulsey's account, contained in a copyrighted story in today's Dallas Morning News, was the latest revelation in a tale of intrigue involving the "007" diamond and a South American general's aborted play for political power.

Freed and brought back to their homes after nine months of detention in Brazil were Joseph A. Truhill, 47, of the Dallas suburb of Richardson; Joseph McCutcheon, 36, and Sam Sexton Jr., 41, both of Fort Smith, Ark.

FALSE CHARGES
Truhill said in an interview at his home that all three were convicted of smuggling charges in Brazil trumped up by Gen. Rio Grandino Kruehl, former chief of Brazil's federal security police.

Hulsey, the 41-year-old owner of a Dallas greeting card company, said he and Truhill have been friends for years. He said he and a companion, Oliver C. Kavanaugh, 32, of nearby Irving, took off for Brazil Oct. 13 in a rented Aero Commander. He said they landed on an out-of-the-way mountain airstrip near Anapolis, 80 miles southwest of Brasilia, where the three were serving 3-year prison terms.

CATTLE BUYER
Posing as a cattle buyer, he told the News, he went to the prison in Brasilia and asked to see "Los Americanos."

Hulsey said he gained the confidence of the guards by giving them fountain pens and taking their pictures with cameras he had brought along.

He said he told Truhill that when everything was set, he would telephone him from the airport and say he was "going to Rio." He said he made the call Wednesday, asked for "Americano Joe," and said he was "going to Rio."

As they had customarily done, the three Americans took a guard out on the town. They then quickly plied him with liquor and left him at a hotel room "with friendly people."

GRAB CAB
Truhill said he and the two Arkansans jumped in a cab, sped by a sleeping guard at a federal police checkpoint, and raced for the airstrip. They took off from Anapolis at 4:30 a.m. Thursday and landed at a small Dallas airport Saturday night.

"If the situation were reversed, I think Joe would come after me," Hulsey told News Staff Writer Kent Biffle.

NO COMMENT
In Brasilia, a spokesman for

Claims Innocence

Joe Truhill, an escapee from a Brazilian lockup, said at a press conference at his Richardson, Tex., home, a suburb of Dallas, that he and three other Americans spent nine months in jail on false charges because of Brazilian officials' quest for a fabulous diamond. (AP WIREPHOTO)

The Federal Department of Public Security said there would be no comment from its officials on the charges by the three Americans of Kruehl's involvement.

In Rio de Janeiro, the U.S. Embassy said there had been no request from the Brazilian government for extradition of the men.

Under terms of the U.S.-Brazil extradition treaty that went into effect in 1964, neither country is required to extradite its own citizens. Earlier this year, Brazil rejected a U.S. request for extradition of Ben Jack Cagle, who is under a 10-year Texas prison sentence after his conviction on a charge of embezzlement. He fled to Brazil in 1958 and became a Brazilian citizen in 1963.

"We were framed on charges in which Gen. Kruehl wanted to make a name for himself," Truhill said. "He wanted control of the mining industries and the customs offices."

The three Americans quietly appeared at the U.S. Customs station in Brownsville, Tex., Saturday after nearly nine months of detention at Brasilia, interior capital city of Brazil.

TRAINED IN VAIN
Truhill would not discuss details of the escape, saying only that it was engineered by the three prisoners and Mrs. Truhill, a trim, brunette pilot who once trained in vain to become a woman astronaut.

Brazilian authorities said the prisoners fled after being al-

Viet Cong Desertions Continue Sharp Climb

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese officials today announced a sharp rise in Viet Cong desertions to the South Vietnamese side. They reported 2,062 defectors from the Communist cause in October, the third highest month this year.

The announcement came on the eve of South Viet Nam's National Day which will be celebrated with a big parade that will include 500 former Viet Cong in the line of march.

The war itself lapsed back into a lull after sharp weekend clashes. Only small ground actions were reported and monsoon rains again reduced U.S. air raids over North Viet Nam.

REDS DOWN PLANE

Viet Cong guerrillas shot down a U.S. C123 cargo plane today in the dense jungles of the "iron triangle" 23 miles northwest of Saigon. The plane's three-man crew was rescued unhurt by Air Force helicopters.

B52 bombers from Guam made two raids Sunday night over South Viet Nam.

One wave of the bombers struck for the second straight day in the central highlands near the Cambodian border. The bombers hit at suspected base camps and staging areas of the North Vietnamese regulars who launched five assaults Saturday against units of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division and then vanished in the elephant grass and jungle growth. The raid was in support of Operation Paul Revere 4, taking place 43 miles southwest of Kontum City.

CONTINUE TO FIGHT
The other B52s raided Communist troop concentrations 20 miles west of Quang Ngai City near the central coast.

In Hanoi, President Ho Chi Minh repeated that North Viet Nam will continue to fight until its peace terms are met. Hanoi's official news agency said Ho reiterated his stand in a recent interview for a French publication.

In Saigon, South Viet Nam's military rulers headed by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky formally opened Independence Palace as the nation's seat of government. The palace was built for the French governors general of Indochina and has been in the process of being remodeled since planes bombed it in an attempt to kill President Ngo Dinh Diem.

THIRD ANNIVERSARY
The National Day celebration Tuesday marks the third anniversary of Diem's overthrow, the date from which the present government dates the birth of the republic.

The October figure of 2,062 defectors was exceeded this year in March, when 2,236 Viet Cong desertions were reported, and in February, when the figure was 2,082.

Officials offered no immediate explanation for the October rise in Communist defections which in the past has fluctuated by seasons.

51 MISSIONS
U.S. fighter-bombers flew 51 bombing missions over North Viet Nam Sunday, about one third the usual number because of continuing poor weather.

U.S. pilots flew 430 sorties over the South and claimed destroying or damaging 219 enemy huts, structures, sampans, trenches and other fortified positions. South Vietnamese pilots flew 68 combat sorties.

Strike Pits Men Against Women

SOUTH ROCKWOOD, Mich. (AP) — Opposing forces resume negotiations today, hoping to end a long and unusual strike — one pitting men against women.

Negotiators for the United Auto Workers Union and company representatives were to meet to try to settle a 105-day strike by women employees of a plant owned by Better Plastics of Michigan, Inc.

The strike already had: Forced the closing of the plant. Resulted in a court order limiting picketing and forbidding threats and acts of violence.

Prompted charges of unfair labor practices by both sides.

"WEIRD SITUATION"
"It's a weird situation," said plant manager Renato Tordi. The plant's 19 women employees remained on strike while the 10 men workers went back to work one day after the walkout began July 18.

The central issue appears to be disagreement between men and women employees over union representation.

The employees voted last March to be represented by the Brewery Workers Union. Five dissenting votes were cast by men. The strike began in July after negotiations for a first one-year contract failed.

MORE WOMEN
On Sept. 21, the women voted to leave the Brewery Workers Union and join the UAW.

Friction between the striking women and the working men began to grow when nonunion women were hired to replace the strikers.

Marilyn Parrish, formerly stewardess of the Brewery Workers Union local and now stewardess of the UAW local, said the male employees maintain molding machines for the women. The plant manufactures flower pots and dairy containers.

Tordi said the men do not want a union because, among other things, they would be outvoted by the women 2-1.

Police Kill Two Students

MADRAS, India (AP) — Police opened fire on demonstrating students in Vijayawada, Andhra Pradesh State, today, leaving two dead and 11 injured.

The students were demanding that India's fifth steel plant be built at the east coast port town of Vizagapatam, 400 miles north of here.

According to reports from Guntur, about 240 miles west of Vizagapatam, police used tear gas to quell crowds demonstrating in support of location of the steel mill at Vizagapatam.

In Kakinada, a port town south of Vizagapatam, a student crowd estimated at some 10,000 carried effigies of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and Congress President K. Kamaraj.

It was the third straight day of student agitation on the issue, and shops of Vijayawada, Vizagapatam, Kakinada and several other towns remained closed.

Oil Workers Pull Walkout

FARMINGTON, N.M. (AP) — About 20 workers were believed away from their jobs today at San Juan Basin oil drilling operations in a move to gain employer recognition of a union bargaining agent.

The walkout by general field workers and drillers against nine drilling companies began Sunday when about 175 employees stayed away from their jobs after voting 164-10 in favor of strike activity.

A representative of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union, Joe Garcia, said he didn't have reports yet from the drilling rigs scattered throughout the northwest New Mexico basin.

MIGHT SPREAD
"Since we haven't heard of any problems they're apparently still off the job," Garcia said.

He said up to 250 workers could become involved in the walkout today and the strike companies providing specialized services to the drilling companies.

Another union spokesman, Harry Drenner, said that work could resume at once at sites where a drilling company extends recognition to the union. Negotiations toward a contract would follow, he said.

FIRMS STRUCK
Companies struck by the employees were identified by Drenner as Circle A Drilling Corp., Cactus Drilling Corp. of Texas, Brinkerhoff Drilling Co., Loffland Bros. Drilling Co., Young Drilling Co., Arapahoe Drilling Co., J. C. Mann Drilling Co., Perry and Fast Drilling, and Pico Drilling.

There was no comment from company representatives. One company representative said Sunday that work was continuing at some drilling sites with skeleton crews.

WATCH OUT FOR GOBLINS

This is the night when little goblins get around — and little goblins often times wear black, dart out unexpectedly from between parked cars, or run into the street in their exuberance at Trick or Treating.

Thus, officials have issued pleas to all drivers to be extremely careful this evening, driving much slower than usual and being on constant watch for little children out for an evening of adventure.

Texas Senate Race Rated Cliff-Hanger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Political strategists are classing 10 Senate races, involving six Democratic and four Republican seats, as cliff-hangers as the final full week of active campaigning starts.

Although other close contests might provide election upsets, leaders of both parties now are concentrating their attention on Idaho, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Oregon, Tennessee and Texas.

The consensus of party workers who have followed the campaigns closely is that there is no predictable sweep for either party and that most races will be settled primarily on personalities and local situations.

This could mean that the current Senate ratio of 67 Democrats and 33 Republicans may change only slightly in an off-year election in which the minority party customarily picks up additional strength.

ISSUES HAZY

The 10 races regarded as down to the wire affairs illustrate the seeming lack of an overriding issue that reaches across the nation.

In New England, for example, there is a sharp contrast between the campaigns in Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

In Massachusetts, the Republicans are running Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke, a Negro, against former Gov. Endicott Peabody for the seat being vacated by GOP Sen. Leverett Saltonstall. Some Republicans fear a white backlash against Brooke but even that issue is blunted by Peabody's strong civil rights stand.

In New Hampshire, Republican nominee Harrison Thyng, a retired Air Force general, is trying to combine an outstanding World War II and Korean record with proposals to step up the Viet Nam fighting into a defeat of Democratic Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre. McIntyre generally has supported President Johnson's policies.

LIBERALS ANGRY

In Texas, GOP Sen. John G. Tower is depending on a Democratic split to bring him through in his contest with Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr. Although both are conservatives, Democratic liberals are angry with the administration of Gov. John Connally and may give Tower some help.

In Tennessee, it seems to be a case of whether Gov. Frank G. Clement, a veteran of many political wars, has picked up enough enemies to give Republican Howard H. Baker Jr. a winning margin. Baker is the son-in-law of Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and thus has got a little added attention from Republican campaigners.

WHITE BACKLASH

The Middle West provides two top contests in Illinois and Michigan and a race in Nebraska where the Democrats think they have a chance of knocking off GOP Sen. Carl T. Curtis with Gov. Frank B. Morrison. This is largely a test between Curtis' conservative views and Morrison's support of the Johnson "Great Society" program.

In Illinois, the white backlash, Viet Nam and a potential sympathy vote for Republican Charles H. Percy, whose daughter was murdered, figure in his contest with Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas. But many politicians believe a decisive factor may be Percy's age of 47 matched against Douglas' 74.

In Michigan, the pros think it's a case of whether Gov. George Romney, seeking reelection, will be able to pull his senatorial appointee, Robert P. Griffin, with him into the win column. Griffin faces former Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

GOP SPLIT

In Montana, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield is working hard to save the Senate seat of Sen. Lee Metcalf, who has lined up with Mansfield against any escalation of the Viet Nam conflict. GOP Gov.

Free Under Bond

James C. Boyd, charged with burglary, posted $2,000 bond on the complaint against him here and another $1,500 bond for a charge pending in Comanche County. He has been released according to Howard County jail, according to Sheriff A. N. Standard.

Tim M. Babcock, who went all the way with Barry Goldwater in 1964, is regarded as something of a hawk.

GOP Sen. Len B. Jordan has run into a Republican split in Idaho that festered with the defeat of Gov. Robert E. Smylie in the primary. Although Jordan has tried to steer clear of the intraparty fighting, it could affect his chances against former Rep. Ralph R. Harding, a Democrat.

In Oregon, GOP Gov. Mark O. Hatfield has toned down his previous dissent with Johnson's course in Viet Nam. But his Democratic rival, Rep. Robert B. Duncan, continues to cite his support of Johnson's policies. Party strategists think the personalities of the candidates may finally settle this contest.

Little Theatre Tryouts Continue

Tryouts for the upcoming little theatre production of "Dracula" will be continued tonight. Residents interested in taking part in the Big Spring Little Theatre production are asked to be at the Prairie Playhouse in City Park at 7:30 p.m.

Jerry Whitlock, director of the play, said there are numerous parts available and encouraged anyone with a talent for the stage to take part. The play will be staged in the City Auditorium the first week of December.

LBJ's Asian Trip Aids Demos?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says President Johnson's Asian trip will not have any appreciable effect on the Nov. 8 election.

Republican House leader Gerald R. Ford doesn't think an expected campaign trip by the President later this week will help Democrats, either.

But they took different political paths to reach their conclusions Sunday.

"I do not believe that the President's journey — was in any way politically motivated," said Humphrey on NBC's "Meet the Press."

He added: "I am sure the American people are pleased that the President went. I have a feeling that the attitude of the American public will be one of support for the President's efforts."

Ford said the expected campaign trip following Johnson's return Wednesday would not help Democrats because voters have kept their minds on basic issues, headed by inflation.

INFLATION ISSUE

Ford said on ABC's "Issues and Answers" that Republican leaders had been apprehensive

John's trip would "divert the most able, most qualified people I know in the House of Representatives."

Meanwhile, Maddox claimed Georgia was the No. 1 target of the national Republican party. He said the national party was spending $500,000 a week on the campaign with funds from Wall Street and Washington.

TOP TARGET

Rep. Howard H. Callaway is running for governor against segregationist Democrat Lester Maddox. Callaway, a conservative, was called by Ford "one of

Women Seek To Lift Curtain Of Prejudice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 300 men and women have formed the National Organization for Women designed to break through what it calls "the silken curtain of prejudice and discrimination against women" in all fields in America.

The group, formed after a weekend organizational meeting, said it would work for "a fully equal partnership of the sexes, as part of the worldwide revolution of human rights."

In a statement of purpose, it urged women to work for equality "not in pleas for special privilege, nor in enmity toward men, who are also victims of the current half-equality between the sexes, but in self-respecting partnership with men."

WRITER ELECTED
Betty Friedan, social critic and author who wrote the best-selling book "The Feminine Mystique," was elected president. Named chairman of the board was Dr. Kathryn Clarenbach, University of Wisconsin director of continuing education and chairman of the Wisconsin governor's Commission on the Status of Women.

The 300 charter members include men and women representing all religious, ethnic and economic groups.

20-MEMBER BOARD
Richard Graham, director of the National Teacher Corps and former commissioner of equal employment opportunity, was elected vice president and four other men were named to the 20-member board of directors.

The group called on the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to enforce laws prohibiting discrimination on the basis of sex and urged wider use of women in industry and government.

Stripped Car Found

Deputy Sam Roberts found a 1963 model car abandoned and partially stripped on the side of the road near Coahoma, Sheriff A. N. Standard said. The car, stolen from Midland on Oct. 29, was sly a transmission, tires and other features when discovered.

DALLAS (AP)—The American-Hellenic Educational Progressive Association has chosen Dallas as site of its national convention in August, 1967.

The association has 450 chapters in the United States, Canada, Greece and Australia. As many as 7,000 members, most of Greek descent, are expected in Dallas for the 1967 meeting.

Funeral Tuesday For Resident Of C-City

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Joseph Ed Richardson, 77, former manager of the Producer's Cooperative Gin, died at the Root Memorial Hospital Sunday after a short illness.

Richardson was born in Denton, Oct. 4, 1889, and moved to Colorado City from Coryell County in 1927. He was a member of the First Methodist Church, and married Mozelle Ament in December, 1908 in Coryell County. He had been a gin manager for 20 years, had worked at the Colorado City post office and had been retired for several years.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Kiker and Son Funeral Chapel, with the Rev. Billy Wilkinson, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of the Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

He is survived by his wife, and one son, Porter Richardson of Colorado City, a sister, Mrs. Lela Newsom of Brownwood, and three grandchildren.

India Due To Urge Nuclear Pact

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — India was expected to react to Communist China's latest atomic weapon test with a speech at the U.N. today urging all the nuclear powers to sign a treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons. The Chinese presumably will reject the appeal if they don't ignore it.

ARMS FREEZE

The basic Indian position has been that there should be a treaty against the spread of nuclear weapons; that it should involve a balance of obligations between nuclear and non-nuclear countries; that all nuclear powers should adhere to it, and that it should be linked with a freeze on stocks of weapons.

India, neighbor of Red China and the object of a Chinese border war in 1962, is one of the eight nonaligned nations at the Geneva disarmament negotiations. The eight are among sponsors of two resolutions before the assembly.

KREMLIN PUSHING

One of the resolutions, which the Soviet Union and the United States are pushing, appeals to all countries to take all necessary steps to conclude a nonproliferation treaty at the earliest possible time and "to refrain from any actions conducive to proliferation of nuclear weapons."

Some delegates predicted the committee would approve that resolution Tuesday or Wednesday by an almost unanimous vote. They expect Albania to vote no and France to abstain.

The other resolution, which has none of the nuclear powers among its sponsors, asks the nuclear weapon powers for assurance that they will not use or threaten to use nuclear weapons against nations that don't have them.

Beaumont Marine Gives Explanation

BEAUMONT (AP)—A Beaumont Marine had a simple explanation for his parents when they asked him by letter why he'd volunteered for an extra tour of duty in Viet Nam.

At a time like this they need me for a little while longer," wrote Sgt. Richard E. Byrd. He said the Marines are short of experienced men and he is currently holding down "three or four different jobs."

Day Will Come When You'll Be The Nurse

At some time every mother and housewife—probably every woman—may be called upon for home nursing duties.

Florence Nightingale recognized this more than a century ago when she wrote: "If, then, every woman must, at some time or another in her life, become a nurse . . . take charge of somebody's health . . . how immense and how valuable it would be if every woman would think like a nurse."

The Council on Family Health—a non-profit corporation that directs its program to mothers as health keepers of the family—suggests some guides to help a woman think like a nurse.

Keep in mind that, while the patient needs special attention, regular home life must not come to a halt. Try to plan the patient's program to fit in with the family's life.

A good nurse always gives reassurance to the patient.

Do not trust to memory. Write down the doctor's instructions.

Before mealtime, have the patient ready for the meal. See that his personal needs are satisfied, that he is washed, comfortable and relaxed.

Keep noise to a minimum.

Give school-age children something useful to do, such as making up a shopping list, planning menus, or scheduling the day for taking medicines, having meals, rest periods, naps, and playing games.

Keep a chart. Charting is part of every nursing procedure. On it, record the date and hour when medication was given, date and hour of thermometer readings, the diet served. Put down remarks on unusual symptoms or unusual remarks by the patient. Record how the patient ate, slept, rested and took medication.

Be sure to read the thermometer accurately. Cleanse it by holding the thermometer by the tip, bulb down, and wiping it with a piece of cotton or tissue moistened with antiseptic solution. Then repeat the cleansing, using cotton or tissue moistened with plain water.

Follow safety rules for administering medications:

Think about what you are doing.

Measure accurately.

Follow the doctor's orders implicitly.

Read the label three times: before taking the container off the shelf; before measuring the dose; when you replace it on the shelf.

Give medications on time.

Never give medication to a semi-conscious or delirious patient.

Never use medication ordered for one member of the family to treat another member with similar symptoms.

If you make a mistake in measuring and giving medication, call the doctor at once.

See that the atmosphere in the patient's room is cheerful. Keep fresh flowers where the patient can see them. Keep bed linens fresh and smooth.

Have the room temperature between 65 and 70 degrees Fahrenheit. Be sure the patient is not in a draft.

When serving meals, make the tray neat, attractive and easy to use. It may be easier on both the patient and the mother-nurse to serve the meals in courses.

When changing linens, be careful not to shake dust or lint from the bedclothes into the air of the room.

New Shoes Have Built-In Springs

Look for women's shoes this year with a spring to them. A device that works like a shock absorber has been added to a number of shoe brands to make walking in high heels easier.

The tiny spring embedded in the heel can't be seen but it can be felt in terms of making walking on hard surfaces seem more like walking on air.

Bride-Elect Feted At Gift Party

Miss Rose Sturm was honored with a pre-nuptial shower held Friday evening in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company. Miss Sturm is the fiancée of Kirby Lynn Hodnett, and the couple plans to be married Nov. 23 in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church.

Hostesses were Mrs. James A. Barkley, Mrs. Robert Barkley, Mrs. Richard Deal, Mrs. Willie McDaniel and Mrs. W. L. Osborne. The honoree's sister, Miss Carol Sturm, presided at the register.

Corsages of white carnations were presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Louis Sturm, and her fiancée's mother, Mrs. Grady Lynn Hodnett. Another honored guest was his grandmother, Mrs. Frank Hodnett.

The refreshment table was covered with a white lace cloth over blue linen and was centered with an arrangement of blue flowers flanked by crystal candelabra holding blue tapers. Other appointments were of crystal and silver.

Thirty-five guests attended between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m., and the hostesses' gift to Miss Sturm was an electric mixer.

Altrusans Get Report

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, president, reported on the Oct. 15-17 district meeting in Lubbock when the Altrusa Club met for lunch Thursday at Hotel Settles.

The theme was "Harvest Time in District Nine," and a highlight was the Miss Cotton Queen contest held during a "fun night" at the Woman's Club. District Nine has 45 clubs, and 39 were represented at the meeting attended by 180 delegates and 17 guests. Mrs. Helen Hooker of Abilene, outgoing governor, presided and was the keynote speaker at the banquet.

During Thursday's luncheon, Mrs. J. L. Billings received an award for four year's perfect attendance, and reports were heard on members who have been absent due to illness. They were Mrs. A. C. Bass, Mrs. L. E. Rose and Mrs. G. C. Broughton.

Twenty attended, including a new member, Mrs. Lloyd Curley. The Nov. 10 program on international relations will be under the direction of Mrs. Homer Petty.

A LOVELIER YOU

Be Practical When Choosing New Coat

By MARY SUE MILLER

Have you ever stopped to think that your "winter" coat makes an entrance—a first impression—when you do? It makes a lasting impression, too—on your bank account.

A mistaken choice is a double loss. The chance of error becomes unlikely, though, when selections pass this four-way test:

Is the coat on the uptrend? If so, it will have a longer fashion life. At present coat shapes move in and out. Narrow coats move closer to the body, the skinniest yet. The so-called "tent" shapes swing from narrow shoulders to wide hemlines. In between there's the jaunty military "swagger" with epaulettes and brass buttons.

As exemplified by woolens, loomed in America, materials trend to warm, bulkless weights in both soft and crisp finishes—soft like the loose tweeds, crisp like the classic twills. Checked and plaid patterns run rampant. Color encompasses the pales, brights and subtle darks.

Are all the details becoming? Most figures. But its fullness must be controlled for a short or full-figured. Of course the skinny coat looks best on the slim. Military models and model-sized girls are made for each other.

Wishing to appear slimmer, choose conservative textures, patterns and shades.

Is the coat suited to the life it will lead? Unless you have a wardrobe of coats, let simplicity be the buy-word.

POCKET CALORIE COUNTER

Do you really know the calorie counts of the foods you eat? Our new booklet, "Pocket Calorie Counter," tells the score at a glance. It also gives a diet plan—a way to eat and slim. For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller, in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin.

Delegates Back From Area Meet

Five delegates from the Big Spring United Council of Church Women attended the District Three annual meeting Thursday at First Methodist Church in Colorado City. Mrs. A. D. TFWC Officer Speaks Here

Mrs. B. F. Seay of Andrews was an honored guest and speaker during the Thursday afternoon meeting of the Junior Woman's Forum in the home of Mrs. R. S. Galbraith Jr., 2601 Ann.

Mrs. Seay used the topic, "Education—Adult and Youth—the Challenge of Tomorrow." She urged clubwomen to help provide scholarships and encourage students to turn from "way out" to "out front" in leadership. Also, she asked that clubwomen write their congressmen to support legislation for highway safety, and said she hoped local clubs will enter community improvement projects.

TEXANS AT WAR

'Terrorists Stay In Back Of Mind'

By The Associated Press
If you thought much about the terrorists, says Capt. James Cox, a Texan at war, "it would get you."
"It's always in the back of your mind," says the 23-year-old Marshall native who spent most of last year in Saigon with the 120th Aviation Co., carrying troops in helicopters and flying support missions for the Military Advisory Command.

SAN ANGELO SLAYING

Car Crashes Net 27 Texas Deaths

By The Associated Press
Multiple-fatality traffic accidents—including one in the Panhandle that claimed eight lives—pushed the violent death toll in Texas over the weekend to at least 34, the highest figure in recent weeks.
Car wrecks alone caused 27 of the deaths.
The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday and went through midnight Sunday.
The toll:
Mrs. Eunice W. Persons, 74, and Clarence E. Barrett, 51, both of Quitaque, were killed Sunday in a two-car collision on FM 1065 in Floyd County.
Bennie M. Greenwood, 44, Sandia, Tex., was killed Sunday when his automobile collided with a fire truck on US 359 just north of Orange Grove in South Texas. The fire rig was on an emergency call when the accident occurred, police said.
BUMPER JACK
Johnny Lopez, 17, Brownfield, was fatally injured Sunday when he was struck in the head with a bumper jack during a fight at a drive-in theater. Police arrested an 18-year-old youth.
Jennie B. Jettison, 65, and Olney J. Michner, 67, both of Fort Worth, were killed and two persons were injured Sunday in a two-car crash 2 1/2 miles south of Argyle on US 377 in Denton County.
SHOT TO DEATH
Larry Westbrook, 18, was shot to death in San Angelo Saturday night, apparently by a person or persons who robbed the drive-in grocery store where young Westbrook was employed.
Eight persons died in the two-car wreck 12.8 miles east of Childress Sunday and four others were hurt.
The dead were Ronald Bernard Jones, 1; Walter Lorenzo Johnson, 23, and Mareline Jones, 17, whose addresses were unknown; Leo Griggs, 22, Wichita Falls; Ella Foster Burkley, 36, Childress; Ceola Watson, 32, Wichita Falls; Marcellis Holman, 31, Quitaque, Tex., and Wallis Ray McArthur, 20, Wichita Falls.
FATAL SLEEP
Saturday, four elementary school pupils from Marshall were killed when the car in which they rode went off the road near Waskom and hit a tree after a tire blew out. They were Steve McMichael, Jodie Kirkpatrick, Tom Jones and Reggie Ruff. Three other persons were critically injured.
John R. Parsons, Garland, was killed Sunday when officers said he apparently went to sleep at the wheel of his car in Garland, a Dallas suburb.
HUNTING MISHAPS
Julia Hunt, 34, Fort Worth, was shot to death in her home while her 4-year-old son slept in a bedroom. Police arrested a retired Air Force man a short time later.
Tyson Freeman, 53, Central Texas farmer, was killed Saturday in a hunting accident near Maysfield.
James George Schmoker, 22, San Antonio, was struck by a car and killed Sunday as he helped a girl companion who had been injured shortly before when Schmoker's car and another collided on Texas 16 in Bexar County.
CAR FLIPS
Amado Barrios, 35, was run over and killed Sunday as he lay on Farm Road 2102 three miles west of Kenedy in Karnes County.
Fred Woodson Jr., Nacogdoches died Sunday when a car in which he rode hit a culvert and flipped end over end on Texas 21 one mile east of Nacogdoches.
Celvesty Warren, 12, was burned to death Sunday in the blaze of an abandoned office building in Dallas.
Howard Harrison, 23, McKinney was killed in a traffic accident in Dallas Sunday.
STABBED TO DEATH
A collision 11.2 miles north of San Manuel in the Lower Rio Grande Valley Sunday killed Ann Inez Culver, Aledo, Tex.
Billy Edward Rogers, 37, Victoria, was killed Saturday when his automobile collided with a Southern Pacific freight train near Wharton.
James D. Holloman, 25, Dallas, was found stabbed to death in a South Dallas street Saturday.
Billy James Hillendahl, 11, Houston, was accidentally shot and killed Saturday while hunting with his brother, John, 14.
A pickup truck ran into the back of a parked car at a curve in Plainview Saturday, killing Johnny E. Sparks Jr., 25, Plainview.
Ramon Garcia, 80, was killed Saturday in a two-car collision on an access road to Interstate 35 at San Antonio.
Richard Wayne Williams, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams of Route 1, Malakoff, suffered fatal injuries when the motorcycle he was riding and a car collided Sunday. The accident occurred about 4 miles north of Malakoff near the Clearwater Bay subdivision.

Equipment Taken At Cement Plant

Sheriff's officers are investigating the theft, perpetrated sometime in the last two months, of tires, wheels and tools stolen from the Big Spring Read-Mix Cement plant south of town.
A report of the theft of three radiators and a battery from farm equipment has been received by the sheriff's office by John McChristian, who lives a mile and a half south of Elbow.

Wins Silver Medal

BEAUMONT (AP)—Mark J. Brookner of Beaumont has received the Elijah Watt Sells Silver Medal for his high score in a uniform certified public accountant examination.
Brookner scored second highest among 15,221 who took the nationwide exam.

Two Local Lads To Boys Ranch

Joe Moss, Howard County director of West Texas Boys Ranch, has announced that two more Big Spring boys are being accepted by the ranch. The boys, 10 and 12 years of age, are being placed there by the Howard County Probation Department.
Thirteen Big Spring boys have been cared for by the ranch in recent years. One Big Spring boy, Horace Wayne Clark, lived at the ranch for eleven years before joining the Marine Corps last summer. Clark, who lived at the ranch longer than any other boy (the average stay is a little over three years) was accepted by the ranch when he was eight years old. The two latest Big Spring boys will go to the ranch on Nov. 2.
West Texas Boys Ranch is located 18 miles west of San Angelo near Tankersley and is supported entirely by the free-will contributions and donations of the public. The ranch was established in 1947 to serve the needy, homeless, dependent and neglected West Texas boy. The ranch has a nationally recognized ratio of 8 out of 10 boys released making excellent or good adjustments.

Wives Plan Picket Lines

HOUSTON (AP)—Houston's boycotting housewives dropped their picket lines at chain groceries and discount houses Tuesday and got on the telephone to recruit others for a renewal of picketing Tuesday.
Mrs. Marie Mitchell, head of the Texas Housewives Association, said she hopes to have at least 500 women on the picket lines soon.
The women are campaigning for elimination of trading stamps and game promotions and for a 3.5 per cent reduction in food prices.

CORSICANA (AP)—Charles Gullatt, 29, of nearby Blooming Grove drowned early Sunday when his car missed a curve on Farm 744 at the edge of Malone and sank in a deep stock pond.

TONS OF AMMO SEIZED 20 Minutemen Jailed

NEW YORK (AP)—Police say they have arrested 20 members of the super-secret, right-wing Minutemen organization, seizing tons of ammunition and weapons and breaking up what they called a plot to blow up three private camps in New York State, New Jersey and Connecticut.
In lightning predawn raids Sunday in Queens, Westchester County, on Long Island, and at Syracuse, more than a hundred state, county and local police went into action. They said they confiscated arsenals that included mortars, bazookas, machine guns, semiautomatic rifles, homemade bombs, machetes, crossbows, garrotting nooses, and a million rounds of ammunition.
TARGET CAMPS
The raids were announced by Queens Dist. Atty. Nat H. Hentel. He would not disclose the identity of the target camps, but added that the Minutemen group is dedicated to destroying "Communist, left-wing and liberal" installations of any kind.
Hentel said the camps were slated for destruction Sunday, a few days after the start of the hunting season.
Six of the men, all dressed in hunting garb, were seized in a Queens diner. Officers said guns, ammunition and bombs were found in the car of one of them. Another man was arrested in his Katonah, Westchester County home.
CONSPIRACY CHARGES
Hentel charged the men with conspiracy to commit arson and most received additional charges of violation of the anti-weapons law and unlawful assembly.
During an investigation which began last January, police said they learned the following about the Minutemen:
That they tried to infiltrate the Army Reserve's 11th Special Forces—the "Green Berets"—at Miller Field, Staten Island, to learn guerrilla tactics.
"KILL DEVIL WHITES"
That members of the group distributed racist literature in Queens, purporting to be from Negro extremists and urging Negroes to "kill white devils."
Robert B. DePugh of Norborne, Mo., who established the Minutemen six years ago, was not available for comment. DePugh also is national chairman of the newly organized Patriotic party.
Membership in the Minutemen has been estimated from a few thousand to 100,000.

Man Speared With Lance

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jacob Susselman told police he was in his car waiting for a traffic light to change Sunday when a man wearing a sheet as a toga and blue and white paint on his face speared him in the arm with a six-foot lance.
The painted man then retrieved his lance and disappeared, Susselman said.
A few minutes later officers booked Alvin Paul Ingram, 22, of West Hollywood, on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.
Officers said they found him standing at a nearby corner—holding a lance. Susselman, of Hollywood, was slightly injured.

'Blind Corners' Drive Praised

BEAUMONT (AP)—This city's concentrated drive to rid intersections of visual obstructions has drawn commendation from a San Antonio newspaper.
In an editorial entitled "Un-beautify Those Corners," which was mailed to City Mgr. A. K. Steinhelmer the paper said:
"It is a meritorious plan which takes political courage." More than 100 "blind corners" were cleared in the city's campaign.

What are all these good magazines doing in an ad for a newspaper?

They're helping make this point: Magazines that specialize in a single subject—whether it's sports, fashion, business or bringing up babies—do an outstanding job of covering their special field. The daily newspaper does an outstanding job of covering every field every day. How do we do everything at once? Our own expert reporters track down everything that's going on right here. And The Associated Press covers the rest of the world. Everything that's going on, goes into our newspaper. That's why you get so much out of it.

A Devotional For The Day

Who can discern his errors? clear thou me from hidden faults. (Psalm 19:12, RSV)
PRAYER: Father, make my conscience sensitive to Thy truth. Let the searchlight of Thy word pierce into the dark places of my being. "Clear thou me from hidden faults." If there be any wicked way in me, lead me in the right way. In the name of Christ, my Redeemer and guide. Amen.

For Water Development

The Herald calls your attention again to the importance of one of the constitutional amendments on the Nov. 8 ballot.
This is No. 11, which would authorize the issuance of an additional $200 million in bonds by the Texas Water Development Board, and expand the purposes for which the board may spend its funds.
Texans voted in 1957 to approve an amendment creating the Water Development Board and giving it power to issue $200 million to help develop water projects.
Many projects have been so aided, and many communities — including those in West Texas — have benefited. Now, as should be clear to every one, there is more need for more water development.
There is no political issue involved in this amendment, there is nothing to tie it to the widely-publicized water plan. It simply improves the machinery whereby more water projects can be carried out, and these are essential if Texas is to continue its growth. Gov. John Connally, in advocating the amendment, sees disaster ahead for the state if the amendment is not passed.

Amendment 11 on which we vote Nov. 8 will authorize three changes in the existing program:
1. Increase the Water Development Fund from $200 million to $400 million.
2. Authorize use of the fund for acquiring and developing projects necessary for the filtration, treatment and transportation of water.
3. Provide a constitutional safeguard to surface water in river basins of origin.
The Herald recommends a favorable vote on No. 11 on your ballot.

Reasonable Men Best Way

A federal judge has issued a ringing dissent against one American Bar Association's Advisory Committee on Free Press and Fair Trial report recommending drastic restrictions on reporting of crime news.
Judge George Clifton Edwards Jr. of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit characterized the restrictions as "the most dangerous threat to the American ideal of free speech and press since the days of Joe McCarthy."
Judge Edwards' interpretation of the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling in reversing the conviction of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, on which the bar committee relied heavily in preparing its recommendations, certainly was not on all fours with that of the committee members.
"The court did not suggest secret court hearings in criminal matters (nor) sanctions against a free press, (nor) silencing lawyers for months or years prior to a criminal trial," Judge Edwards said in a 14-page statement. "What the Sheppard case actually held is that a criminal trial in order to be fair needs judicial protection from press abuse." By this, he added, the court meant that a trial judge should take steps to assure fairness — such as locking up a jury and hearing a well-publicized case in another place or at another time.
Judge Edwards entered a plea to "leave the First Amendment un-abridged."

"I object to attempts at control of pretrial publicity on grounds of principle and practicality," he continued, noting that the dangers become "obvious" when "we give thought to the problems posed in past (and present) history by prosecutions corrupted against the public interest by organized crime or by such pressures as those of the Ku Klux Klan in some states."
Lawyers and judges would do well to ponder carefully the words of Judge Edwards. There is no reason to create a vendetta between the press and the legal profession. The press, after all, with its influence and the First Amendment's authority, will likely be able to maintain its right to print. Lawyers, too, should hesitate to adopt rules which might muzzle them to such a degree as to remove them from what Justice Holmes called "our free market place of ideas."
Limitations on press coverage of a trial should be voluntary ones, so well defined as to be acceptable to the press, opposing attorney and the presiding judge. Reasonable men can assure that the rights of a free press, and of a free trial, can coexist peacefully.

David Lawrence Hanoi Thinks We'll Get Tired

WASHINGTON — Why doesn't the North Viet Nam government agree to talk peace and end the war? This is the biggest unanswered question in the world today.
President Johnson has made it clear that he will talk peace and that American troops will be withdrawn from South Viet Nam if the Hanoi government does likewise. Every government, including North Viet Nam, knows that the United States has the military power to win the war. But the Hanoi regime doesn't give the slightest sign of weakening.
THE MOST plausible explanation is that North Viet Nam has not become convinced that the United States will continue the war to the bitter end. America has made several pauses in the bombings. It isn't using maximum power in the air or on the ground. Naturally, the Communist government in Peiping would not mind seeing the war prolonged for years. As for the Soviet Union, it does not want to see a larger war, but it isn't ready to intervene behind the scenes to persuade the Hanoi government to come to the conference table.

SO THE SIMPLE answer to the question of why the Hanoi government doesn't quit may be that it thinks more is to be gained by continuing the war than by talking peace now. The Communists apparently believe that the United States will get tired of fighting. President Johnson, on the other hand, has expressed this week in the most militant terms America's determination not to weaken but to carry on the war intensively. After his visit to South Viet Nam, he said: "Each of the nations meeting at Manila has now expressed its willingness to seek an honorable peace. None of our nations has insisted on the unconditional surrender of the forces opposing us, or on terms which those forces could reasonably find dishonorable."
"WE AGREED at Manila that our own forces will be withdrawn from South Viet Nam as the forces sent down from the north are also withdrawn and as violence disappears. And we made it clear that this could be accomplished from our side in not more than six months after the conditions are met — and perhaps even sooner."
An adversary which faces defeat anyhow would be expected to welcome Mr. Johnson's overtures but, backed up by Peiping, the Hanoi government has brushed aside everything that has been said along this line.
SO FAR AS the United States is concerned, Mr. Johnson now has made it clear that the struggle is not just related to one area but is directed against the wider threats of aggression by "Asian Communism."
If the North Viet Nam government still remains dubious, a decision in Washington on a broader strategy, involving the use of maximum military strength, seems to be inevitable.
THE RED Chinese and the Hanoi government will be making a big mistake if they think any kind of surrender is in prospect. The logical conclusion, therefore, is that the Viet Nam war will be intensified, beginning next month.

Billy Graham

Now that the fall elections are coming up, we hear again the old cliché. "All politicians are crooked." Is this, in your opinion, a fair generalization? I know that you are acquainted with many of our national leaders. Do you find that most politicians lack integrity?
F.T.
You might as well say, "All doctors are quacks, all lawyers are dishonest, and all preachers are hypocrites." You can mark it down that when you hear a sweeping generalization, that it is unfair and untrue. Generalizations come cheap, and are usually made by unthinking people. Unfortunately, however, there are no federal laws against them, and there is no known way of keeping people from making them.
To be a national leader is not an easy job. You live in a glass cage; your life is not your own, and you are open to every carping criticism, justified or unjustified. In my opinion, a man who serves his city, his state, or his country well, must have a definite dedication and integrity. True, there are a few, just as there are in other professions, who are unworthy of the name, "public servant." Great pressures are put upon them by their constituencies, who naturally contend for their selfish and personal advantage. But a public servant, worthy of the name, must walk the tight wire between the interests of his constituency, and the greater interest of his city, state or nation. Read "Profiles in Courage" if you think all politicians are crooked. A close study will show they are not.

"DE GAULLE is impossible," Churchill complained to Secretary of State Cordell Hull in May, 1943. "I am completely disgusted by him."
"De Gaulle may be a good man, but he has a Messianic complex," wrote Roosevelt to Churchill in May, 1943. One month later he added: "I am fed up with De Gaulle. I agree with you that the time has come for us to part company with him."
"It is impossible to trust De Gaulle's friendship," replied Churchill in June. But, he advised, "We cannot forget that he joined us in the darkest hours and that he tried to carry on the struggle against the Germans."
The man is impossible, but one must take those facts into account."
De Gaulle is an aging man. American policy planners ask: Is the regime founded by the general a Gaullist one or merely De Gaulle's? Is Gaullism the work of one man, or is it a coherent doctrine which will survive him?
James Marlow, who quietly writes his column, is an optimist.

Business Review De Gaulle Is Impossible?

(Guest Columnist)
WASHINGTON (AP) — To understand Charles de Gaulle you should leaf back through history. It may help, though you may not understand him even then.
This is the advice one gets from Washington policymakers trying to explain the French president's press conference statement last Friday. What he said was hardly new, but the way he said it was more impatient, more acid than before.
Students of history dismiss the simplification that whatever De Gaulle says or does, his motive is to spite his allies. His motive is much nobler: for decades he tried to play the part of a mediator between East and West, the two blocs superior to France in power, but inferior, he believes, in historical experience.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:
American women are going in for insurance in a big way. According to an industry estimate, they now own $130 billion in life insurance. The average woman executive last year bought a $10,000 policy, the policies bought by housewives averaged $3,900.
If people could digest grass and other plants as readily as do sheep and cows, by simply getting rid of the world's livestock the earth could support 14.5 billion more human beings than it now has.
A NOISY home life can make you physically ill. Scientists have found that a noise level of 100 to 120 decibels can cause gastric ulcers and temporary deafness. And you can reach that level by simultaneously turning on a vent fan, the dishwasher, the garbage disposal unit and the radio or television set.
We like to think of ourselves as inveterate travelers, but some 60 million U.S. adults have never gone more than 200 miles from home. And three out of five have never spent a night in a motel or hotel. Only five per cent of motor trips are for more than 500 miles.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am enclosing a clipping about the use of sugar for healing skin ulcers and would appreciate your opinion.—D.A.T.
The use of granulated sugar on ulcers is not, as the writer of the clipping implies, new. I have seen some superficial ulcers improve with such treatment but I think it has largely been abandoned because better methods and remedies are available now.

Some ulcers become chronic because of smouldering infection. The concentrated sugar may tend to suppress this infection as well as to serve as a counter-irritant to stimulate healing.
Thus this old remedy is not entirely without merit, but the underlying cause of an ulcer should be found. The best treatment may instead prove to be removal of some irritating condition, correction of a circulatory fault, or some other factor.
Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for the booklet, "Ear Noises — Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Around The Rim Origin Of Superstitions

This and that:
Are you superstitious to the point that you knock on wood for good luck?
Maybe you'd like to know how the practice started. Trees were holy objects at one time and when lightning struck a tree, divine power was supposed to have struck the wood.
Another good luck charm is the practice of nailing a horseshoe above a door. (When we were kids the general practice, when you found a horseshoe, was to douse it with saliva and throw it over your shoulder.)
They say that the belief in the horseshoe as a goodluck charm started in the middle ages, when people fancied that witches wore brooms because they feared horses. Any horseshoe nailed over a door, then, was enough to frighten away a hobgoblin.
THE ARMED Forces have been so notoriously strict when it comes to forcing their soldiers to wear the wrong size shoes, the jeep just had to be invented. The foot soldier just couldn't take the abuse to his poor feet much longer.
They say that the Union forces came closer to losing the Civil War because their fighting men were poorly shod rather than because Robert E. Lee made a serious run at Washington. The situation didn't improve much down through World War II. Many of the fellows drafted into the Army at that time insisted on wearing their civilian shoes, and for good reason. Some of the supply sergeants who put shoes on them were unconsciously working for the enemy, whether they realized it or not.

INCIDENTALLY, mass production of shoes didn't start until the War Between the States, when the government commissioned a manufacturer to make shoes.
Up until that time, many individuals owned their own lasts, which the shoemaker kept, so the customer could get a pair of shoes made to fit him, anytime he wanted.
I think of all the frustrating chores, the worst would be assignment to a shoe store specializing in the sale of women's shoes. And if I did assume such a job, I'd want to be the last one down the street. Tell me now, did you ever see a woman buy the first pair of shoes she puts on?

Holmes Alexander A Senator Steps Down

By LEVERETT SALTONSTALL
(Mass. Guest Columnist)

WASHINGTON — I appreciate Holmes Alexander's invitation to write a guest column setting down a few of my thoughts. As the second session of the 89th Congress closes and I get ready to retire, many pleasant memories come to mind.
I came to Washington to be sworn as United States senator in the first session of the 79th Congress. Now, almost 22 years later, I leave with many regrets, but with a firm resolve that it is wise to retire now, in order that Mrs. Saltonstall and I can return to our home in Dover and enjoy in a more peaceful way the many things that we still want to do.

PEOPLE OFTEN ask me if I enjoy politics and government service. Yes, I do, because I love people and the contacts that come from close association with both men and women serving in the common cause of government.
Woodrow Wilson once wrote that Congress in committee is Congress at work, and I certainly agree with that. Much of my time in the Senate has been spent in committee. I've tried to be conscientious about attending these meetings and participating in them. It's not only a stimulating and educational experience, but it is one way to have some impact on how our government is run, on what projects are to be funded and which are to be deferred or dropped.
OFTEN I AM asked whether I preferred the office of governor or of senator. Both have their advantages. As governor you can try to do what you believe is best for the state, and you get to know intimately its problems and the people concerned with those problems. In Washington you are one of 100 senators. That means frustrations, and requires persistence and much greater patience. Sometimes your efforts end in naught. But always there is the opportunity to deal with people and to get their points of view.

I THINK the most satisfaction I have had in senatorial duties is trying to get House-Senate conferees on a bill to agree on a compromise. Without doubt, the bill that gave me the greatest sense of accomplishment was the enactment of the bill unifying the armed forces into what is now the Defense Department; I was the acting chairman of the conference that finally agreed upon the terms of the original bill.
SO MRS. Saltonstall and I will leave Washington with sadness and regret, but with the feeling that over these 22 years we have accomplished some things that we hope will be of benefit to our state and to our country. It has been a rich and satisfying experience. We have enjoyed the excitement of the Capital of our nation, with its visitors, tourists and leaders. We appreciate more than words can express the many friendships we have made among the members of Congress and their families, among the executive departments and their leaders, and among the diplomats from the 120 countries that now have embassies within our Capital.

BUT OUR little farm in Dover, Massachusetts, with all the natural beauties of New England, with our cattle, our ponies, our gardens, and our old friends who have come down with us from childhood, will give us fun, enjoyment and many activities, I hope, in the days to come.

John Cunniff Chances Of Winning Are Quite Small

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Giveaways, contests and sweepstakes are sweeping the country today but your chances of winning anything of great value are very, very small.
Many gasoline stations, for example, are playing matching games. Each time you enter the station you receive a marked piece of paper—an envelope or ticket usually—which you hope to match with another—perhaps on a subsequent visit.
WHAT ARE YOUR chances? Not bad for a small prize, of which there generally are many. The odds are prohibitive on the larger prizes. It is possible in some contests that a top prize never will be won.
In one of these games, considered high-paying, the company says it has budgeted $10,000 in prizes for every one million entries printed. The average, then, is one cent per entry. But of course the contestant doesn't put up any money.
THE RETURNS on this type of advertising can be tremendous, if temporary. Stories circulate in the contest and gasoline industries of stations whose sales have spurted 50 per cent. Some of this business, it is hoped, will remain.
Many of the more popular games involve a number mailed to you, either in its own envelope or in a publication. "You may already have won a valuable prize," says the advertisement with the number. Your job is to check your number against a list, generally posted in a store.
THE PURPOSE of these sweepstakes is to overcome inertia, "to get someone inside your store, to have someone look at the advertisement in the envelope," says a sales specialist.
"When we take the pressure off—end the contest—we hope sales will stay at a higher level," he explained.
Most games encourage you to do something active about the product, such as to read a small figure on the label of a jar, thereby fixing the product name in your mind. The "25 words or less" games encourage you to write about the qualities of a product. So do the jingle contests.
THERE ARE curious aspects to many of these games. In some, for example, you seldom hear about the winner unless you ask for it. Seldom is there a public announcement. Why? "There's no return on that type of advertising," says a mail order man. "The idea of the contest is to get people actively interested in your product. The jazz is to get everyone excited. After the contest there's no jazz."

Are there always winners? Always, but seldom for all the prizes. In fact, a contest producer claims that 50 per cent of Americans who enter contests have won something at one time or another. Very few, however, have ever won a car, nor do they know anybody who has.
"IF ONE MILLION lucky numbers are mailed to people," the mail order man said, "you might have 10,000 prizes. That is, one per cent of the number mailed are winning numbers." This makes the odds 100 to 1 for any prize, much greater for a prize of great value.
Perhaps 20 or 30 per cent of the winning numbers are returned, but it may be as low as 10 per cent. Although a producer of games feels that "to throw away a coupon is not a simple judgment to make," many people do just that.
SINCE ONLY 10 per cent of the tickets may be turned in for prizes, only 10 per cent of the available prizes are handed out in some contests. The unwon prize could be one of the valuable prizes.
Says a producer: "If I have a client with $25,000 to spend I tell him he can have a $100,000 sweepstakes."
The producers say the winning numbers, chosen by an electronic computer, are guarded in a vault. Some employees are bonded. Usually the client and the mailer do not know the winners.
"We're very keenly involved with honesty and integrity," said one of the larger innovators of contest games. "It is absolutely critical to us to see that our business is honest."

$500,000 Painting Recovered

CHICAGO (AP) — An anonymous telephone caller with the voice of a frightened teen-ager directed police Sunday night to a trash basket containing a stolen $500,000 painting. The caller said the theft of the Renaissance painting, "Madonna and Child with St. John," by Correggio, was a prank that got out of hand.

The painting was found in a trash basket in lakefront Grant Park, about a quarter of a mile down Michigan Avenue from the Art Institute of Chicago.

The richly colored work, on a wooden panel, was taken from the Art Institute early Sunday morning.

Charles C. Cunningham, director of the institute, said the 16th-century Italian masterpiece suffered moderate, but repairable, damage. After it was purchased last year it was described as the institute's most important acquisition in more than 60 years.

The break in the case came shortly before 6 p.m. when the anonymous caller told both the police and Art Institute personnel where to find the painting.

Lt. Stanley Bazarek, 44, driving alone in a squad car when he heard the radio call, said he found the painting "in the first can I looked at, about 30 feet off the street."

Police were uncertain how the burglar got into the institute, which until now had gone without a major art theft. However, they believe he left the building by breaking a second-story window, dropping the painting 20 feet to a roof, then jumping 14 feet to an air-conditioning duct and then 6 feet to the roof.

Udall Claims Nation's Water Problems Grow

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall said today sweeping solutions must be found to meet the nation's increasingly critical water problems.

"Far from gaining ground, our progress is not even keeping pace with the problems," Udall said in remarks prepared for a symposium on arid and semi-arid lands.

The symposium preceded by one day the inauguration of Texas Tech President Grover E. Murray, founder of the college's International Center for Arid and Semi-Arid Land Studies.

MAJOR TALK
Governmental, educational and civic leaders from across the country are here for the symposium and inaugural ceremonies.

Udall delivered the first major address of the one-day program, discussing "The Arid Lands—Conservation Is Always The Key."

The secretary, quoting from a book entitled "The Coming Water Famine," by Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., said:

ALARMING DEPTHS

"We have been growing too rapidly to keep pace in the development of our resources, and have been too preoccupied with growth to think enough about conservation. We have abused the resources we have."

Udall said water supplies have shrunk to "alarming depths" and added:

"Right here you face all the water problems of the rest of the nation with a few extra ones, peculiar to your state, thrown in."

He said the federal government is seeking scientific solutions to many of these problems and predicted that state and federal studies eventually will "come up with a source of action to which most people can subscribe."

Judges Will Study Voting Procedures

Precinct judges and their assistants and all persons who will assist in next Tuesday's general election are urged to attend a workshop session at 7 o'clock tonight in the District Court room.

The workshop has been arranged by Ed Fisher, Howard County Democratic Chairman, and Dr. Akin Simpson, Howard County Republican Chairman, as a bi-party project.

Workers who will be in the voting precincts on Nov. 8 are to be provided the answers to any questions they may have on procedure, and any changes which may have been made in election laws will be reviewed and explained.

Letters were sent out to the 20 precinct judges and their assistants by the two county chairmen informing them of the meeting and urging that they be in attendance.

Four Women Radio Dispatchers Hired

PORT ARTHUR (AP)—The Port Arthur Police Department has hired four women radio dispatchers in order to release more male personnel for patrol duty.

A similar replacement of male personnel is planned by the city's fire department.

Paving Added To County Network

Six miles of new paved road have been added to the county's growing network of highways, Simon Terrazas, county commissioner, announced today.

The project, just completed, is the West Knott road. It begins at West Knott and goes four miles south, then two miles east to tie into FM 2231.

It was one of the paved road projects for 1965 which had to be carried over into the current year.

The Abilene Paving Co. has just finished paving the strip. Cost of the paving was $13,101.

Viet Leaders Dedicate Unknown Soldiers Tomb

THU DUC, South Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese leaders today dedicated a tomb to unknown soldiers in a big new cemetery for this country's war dead.

Artillery boomed in the background as Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu lit an eternal flame before the hilltop memorial 12 miles from Saigon.

Viet Cong are active around Thu Duc. Important military and diplomatic guests arrived from the capital by helicopter. Terror raids have been made on a motor pool and a police station near here in recent weeks.

HONORS MANY
Thieu said the 44-acre cemetery will honor "the many who sacrificed their lives for the betterment of the country. This sacrifice must be recognized by the people."

"20 years of fighting to bring democracy to the people," he added.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, a two-star general and commander of Viet Nam's air force, wore a business suit and sunglasses for the evening ceremony. The rest of this country's military junta were in snappy dress whites.

WESTMORELAND PRESENT
Lt. Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, attended the 35-minute ceremony.

The marble tomb will not actually contain the body of a Vietnamese soldier. Officials said it will rather commemorate all of the thousands of war dead.

The tomb is under a pillared, tiled roof canopy on a hilltop overlooking burial plots for 45,000, and nearby rice paddies. The flame burns in front of the tomb. It got out of hand at the dedication and spewed oily soot on some of the guests.

The dedication took place on the eve of Viet Nam's third national day, marking the overthrow of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem in 1963.

4 More Days Of Absentee Voting

Four days remain in which absentee ballots will be accepted by Pauline Petty, Howard County clerk, for voting in the Nov. 8 general election.

Through Monday morning, her office had handled 89 absentee ballots voted in the office and had mailed out 59 to electors in other states and overseas.

Deadline for absentee voting is 5 p.m. Nov. 4.

DEAR ABBY

Silence Not The Answer

DEAR READERS: Owing to the overwhelming number of letters I have received lambasting me for one of my replies, I repeat the item together with a sampling of the mail that followed:

DEAR ABBY: My mother was Jewish, my father was not. I married a gentile and I suppose there are many people who do not know my background, altho I've never tried to hide it.

To get to the point: Recently I was a guest at a cocktail party in the home of some prominent and respected gentile people. Another guest started making small talk with me, and in casual conversation he made some very degrading remarks about "the Jews." I remained silent, but was deeply hurt. Now I'm wondering if perhaps I should have said something. And if so, what?

DEAR HURT: Bigotry and bad manners are heinous, whether perpetrated on one who is half-Jewish, or 99.44 per cent Chippewa. Unless one would reveal his own insecurity, the best response is sincere (and silent) pity rather than uttered (and futile) censure. You cannot hope to educate a bigot with one short lecture at a cocktail party.

DEAR ABBY: You've just lost your 5-star rating in our home. By remaining silent, does not one condone bigotry? I find the worst offenders are the nice, quiet people one meets socially.

I don't advocate impassioned speeches, but a quiet, rational, informed rebuttal would inform the bigot that at least one listener does not subscribe.

NEW BRITAIN, CONN.

DEAR ABBY: If one cannot hope to educate a bigot in one short lecture at a cocktail party, one wonders why you even bother to write a column and offer advice. Better you should just read the letters people send you, and pity the ignorant authors.

The idea that you may be persuading countless people to believe that silence, which is tacit agreement, is a virtue, is appalling, especially in the light of the atrocities which have been perpetrated in the world while millions remained silent. BERKELEY, CALIF.

DEAR ABBY: Revealing one's insecurity notwithstanding, how can anyone recommend "silence" in response to anti-Semitic, anti-Catholic, anti-Negro, or anti-anything so obviously based on prejudice and bigotry? Silence can only imply apathy, cowardice or agreement.

DEAR ABBY: A wise man was asked, "When will intolerance be abolished?" He replied, "Not until the person who was NOT maligned reacts as tho he were the person who were." I cannot condone your answer with my silence—and I would have written this letter had the issue been Puerto Rican. PERU, IND.

Tidy Thief Robs Bank

HOUSTON (AP)—Police today sought the tidy burglar who stacked the broken glass in neat piles when they entered the Mercantile Bank of Houston over the weekend and robbed it of $20,007.63.

A boys club which had scheduled a breakfast in the bank's community room discovered the burglary Sunday.

Detectives said the thieves smashed a second-story window and forced a door to enter the ground floor. The concrete wall of the main vault was too much for them, but they did smash through a tile wall to an outer vault, where they ransacked two money carts.

They broke a downstairs window, apparently to make it easier to remove the loot, which included $900 in change. "They were very neat housekeepers until they got downstairs," Detective E. E. Tessier said.

IPAA Chief Raps Canadian Imports

By MAX SKELTON
Associated Press Oil Writer

DALLAS (AP)—The chief spokesman for the nation's independent oil operators said today Canadian oil and gas must not be permitted to displace markets that can be supplied by domestic sources.

F. Allen Calvert, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, said oil imports from Canada are averaging more than 30,000 barrels a day and gas imports now have an energy equivalent of more than 270,000 barrels of crude oil daily.

"Displacement of domestic markets of either oil or gas denies funds to the domestic industry with which to expand its exploratory and drilling programs," Calvert said in his presidential report before the annual meeting of the trade group that represents independent operators in nearly 40 states.

The association is expected to renew Tuesday its plea that Canadian gas imports not be permitted to increase faster than the growth rate for domestic production.

A Canadian official told the oilmen Sunday Canada must increase its oil and gas exports to the United States.

Jean-Luc Pepin, minister of energy, mines and resources, said Canadian reserves represent an important supplement to those of the United States "and the logic which flows from this has prevailed as our exports have grown."

"This process must be expected to continue," Pepin said. He said Canada's imbalance of trade with the United States now amounts to from $1 to $1 1/2 billion. "I feel sure you will agree with me it is logical and necessary for Canada not only to press forward in supplying its own domestic markets but also to increase its oil exports," Pepin said.

Calvert said his association advocates a market-sharing policy recognizing close relationships and many mutual interests with Canada.

ESSENTIAL

"That is neither an unreasonable nor untenable position but is essential if we are to restore and maintain a vigorous effort to provide the increasing petroleum supplies—both oil and gas—required for the future," the Tulsa, Okla., independent said.

The association's supply and demand committee said domestic petroleum activity in 1967 will be in line with the nation's economy that should continue to expand but at a slower rate than in 1966. The committee said inflation will continue to be a problem and higher costs could squeeze profits.

DEMAND ON RISE

The committee estimated that 1967 demand for petroleum will average a record 12,250,000 barrels a day. This would be an increase of 428,000. Demand in 1966 is expected to exceed 1965 by 518,000 barrels a day.

Domestic crude oil production for 1967 was estimated at a record 8,499,000 barrels a day, an increase of 193,000. The 1966 gain over 1965 is expected to average about 502,000 barrels a day.

'Sullivan Show' Same Old Recipe

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The situation on Sunday night's "Ed Sullivan Show" was absolutely normal.

There was a military drill team snapping through its paces. There was an impressionist on the bill complying with what is obviously a show rule — another impression of host Sullivan.

For the culture crowd there was a bit of "Elizabeth the Queen," with Judith Anderson. For the teens there was a rock 'n' roll singer.

In recent seasons the show has gone into color and spruced up its production values. But under the new icing, the cake is there, made from the same fool-proof recipe Sullivan has been using for the past 13 years.

WON'T LAST LONG

It calls for the widest range of acts, from jugglers to grand opera, from Beatles to Belafonte. Most of the time the artists, even the biggest star names, are given only a few minutes in the spotlight. But because Sullivan tries to put in something for every segment of the audience, viewers are likely to stick with the show, knowing that even if the act of the moment is not pleasing, it won't last long, and they may like the next one.

This is a season in which six of the 10 weekly variety shows on the three networks are not, quite frankly, howling successes. In the most recent Nielsen ratings, only three could be counted in the hit category.

GREAT CLOWN

It is no coincidence that all three have been around for a long time. There is Red Skelton, a magnificent clown, in his 14th television season. Lawrence Welk has now been around weekly for 12 years.

Each show has its own distinct personality and is predictable. The Sullivan show is, of course, an hour of vaudeville. But so is "Hollywood Palace" in the lower half of the Nielsen list.

Danny Kaye is a great clown, too, but his hour show is currently pulling such low ratings that its return for another season is highly doubtful.

Andy Williams and Roger Miller have musical shows, and both are well-produced, handsomely mounted and in good taste. Yet it is Welk who has built the large and loyal following. Williams and Miller are not in the same Nielsen league. Dean Martin's easy-going show has charm yet in two seasons it has not managed to climb up into the hit class.

Obviously no one knows the answer to the riddle of audience preference.

YOUR Horoscope Forecast

By Carroll Righter
for Tomorrow

MONDAY
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A restless discontent pervades nations and their leaders as well as individuals such as you and me and it is necessary that a watchful, waiting attitude be adopted in which steadfastness of purpose in completing with character what has already been placed in motion is prerequisite to a successful day, evening, or night (March 21 to April 19). Don't be in such a rush to get so much done that you have an accident or worse disaster of one sort or another. Some out-of-town letter could be disturbing. Compose yourself and you find if will result in more benefits for you.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) If you use good, practical sense instead of memory matters are handled ideally. Be sure to take care of minute repairs about the house, shop, etc. Have greater faith in yourself for that.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You had better schedule your time intelligently or you get confused and then have a feeling of failure, exasperation. Take more time with your appearance. Avoid even the smallest amount of needless MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 31) Although you are altogether too nervous about certain disturbances, conditions of the day, if you use true intelligence all is fine. Do not outbursts while waiting for situations to arise themselves. Then you get right victory answers.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Better very here on yourself today, since you could be very busy with own affairs and have little time to assist you. This is not a good day for that personal attainment you have your heart set on. Avail a more opportune time.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) Show wisdom and tact in any public affairs, meetings, or you could most certainly jeopardize good will you have laboriously been building up. Use some system that helps you to cut down on errors in your work. Be a perfectionist.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 22) Before you abandon present, friends, situations to follow the new and untried, think well. Study more and you find that present set-up is really ideal. Success can be just around the corner.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Trying to slough off your work on others or being forceful with them could lead you into much trouble, so be sure to stick to your duties religiously. Be conscientious in personal matters, also. Don't be a loser.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are so self-opinionated right now that you fail to comprehend the ideas of associates, higher-ups. Take no action until you are more sure of your facts. This way you take no chances in your present position.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Fascinating new systems can make your daily routine more pleasant and easy and displaced co-workers then cooperate with you. Do whatever relieves present tensions. This improves your health, too.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) See how fast you can rid yourself of all old habits and then off to the amusements that mean a great deal to you. Give your success from worry, hard work. Close the could be irate. Show patience, smile.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Be more diplomatic with close ties or a big argument can ensue that is best avoided. Harmony is very important regardless of your inner feelings. Get your particular work done with thoroughness and efficiency.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow he, or she, will be one of those persons with an insatiable interest in the universe, but if he best you early teach to complete one job before going on to another. He persistently, otherwise, your property will be forever making radical changes and accomplishing very little in life. Any specialized work that requires both mental alertness and physical stability is best here.

Packers Rout Lions To Keep Hold On Western Section

By The Associated Press
Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski can afford to be patient but Elijah Pitts, the odd man in Green Bay's backfield galaxy, isn't playing the waiting game.

Anderson and Grabowski, the heirs-apparent to veteran stars Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor, counted their bonus money Sunday while Pitts, filling in for the injured Hornung, led the Packers to a 31-7 National Football League triumph over the Detroit Lions.

Get Out The Caliper

Cleveland Browns' quarterback Frank Ryan kneels to scrutinize a yardage measurement during Sunday's NFL game with the Atlanta Falcons at Atlanta. The second down play

PACKERS' PITTS
Pitts, a speedster from little Philander-Smith, Ark., College, scurried for 89 yards — most in one game for a Packer this season — and scored three touchdowns as the defending NFL champions romped to their seventh victory in eight starts.

He carried five times for all but 10 yards in a 55-yard second-quarter drive, boiling over from the four for the first Green Bay touchdown, then plunged three yards for another score and caught a 24-yard TD pass from Bart Starr.

Pitts, who made the Green Bay club as a 13th round draft pick in 1960, has run for 178 yards and caught eight passes for 210 yards this year, surpassing his 1965 figures in each department.

PROTECT LEAD
The Packers' third straight one-sided victory protected their two-game Western Division lead over the Baltimore Colts, who whipped Los Angeles 17-3 behind record-breaking Johnny Unitas. Unitas threw two touchdown passes — including an 89-yard bomb to John Mackey on the Colts' first offensive play — and bettered Y. A. Tittle's career record for passing yardage.

Elsewhere, Dallas rocked Pittsburgh 52-21; Cleveland trampled Atlanta 49-17; Minnesota drubbed San Francisco 28-3 and Washington downed Philadelphia 27-13.

Unitas stunned the Rams with his TD strike to Mackey the first time he handled the ball and later hit the tight end with a 17-yard scoring pass. The Baltimore ace broke Tittle's lifetime mark of 28,339 yards with a 31-yard pitch to Raymond Berry in the third quarter and finished with a total of 28,375.

MEREDITH HOT
Don Meredith fired four touchdown passes, including an 84-yarder to Pete Gert; Mel Renfro returned a kickoff 87 yards for a touchdown and linebacker Lee Roy Jordan scored on a 49-yard interception run-back, leading Dallas past the Steelers.

The victory sent the Cowboys into a first-place tie with St. Louis in the Eastern Division at 5-1-1. The Cardinals play Chicago tonight at St. Louis.

Cleveland's Frank Ryan also passed for four touchdowns and LeRoy Kelly raced 70 yards for another as the Browns pulled away from the winless Falcons in the second half and remained in the Eastern title race with a 5-2 mark. Jim Ninowski, who replaced Ryan late in the game, capped the Cleveland barrage in all. Tarkenton completed 17 of 31 passes for 278 yards and added 71 yards on the ground.

49ERS UPSET
Minnesota's Fran Tarkenton scrambled the 49ers, passing for two scores, running for two more and picking up 349 yards ended an inch short of a first, but Ryan wanted to be sure. The Browns win, 49-17.

SONNY JURGENSEN hit Bobby Mitchell with a four-yard touchdown toss in the fourth quarter, snapping a 13-13 tie, and the Redskins wrapped it up less than 1 1/2 minutes later on another four-yard TD pass, Jurgensen to Jerry Smith. Jim Shorter's 54-yard run with a stolen pass set up the go-ahead touchdown.

Only Five Major College Teams Remain Undefeated

By The Associated Press
Should what happened to Southern California and Wyoming upset Notre Dame and Michigan State?

The Irish and Spartans rolled along their merry way Saturday, registering decisive victories over weak opponents. Notre Dame crushed Navy 31-7 and Michigan State shut out Northwestern 22-0.

But there were ominous signs for the handful of unbeaten college teams in a season that has been remarkably free of upsets until now.

Southern California, ranked No. 5 in The Associated Press' poll last week, was stopped by Miami of Florida 10-7 on Friday night and Wyoming, No. 10, was knocked off 12-10 by Colorado State Saturday.

FIVE LEFT
The remaining unbeaten major college teams — UCLA, Alabama, Georgia Tech, Florida and Nebraska — kept their records clean for at least another week.

Notre Dame's remarkable passing attack bogged down a bit Saturday with sophomore end Jim Seymour nursing an injury, but the runners took over. Larry Conjar and Nick Eddy ran all over the Navy and four pass interceptions — three by linebacker John Pergine — helped matters considerably.

Clint Jones and Bob Aplica ran for touchdowns for Michigan State, which stopped Northwestern, allowing just six yards on the ground. The Spartans may have suffered a big blow, however, when Apisa hurt his leg in the second half.

Third-rated UCLA was led to a 38-13 triumph over the Air Force by Gary Beban who threw for one touchdown and scored two himself. A 71-yard runback of a pass interception by Sandy Green set up Beban's first score with the Bruins trailing 10-7 at the time.

TIDE ROLLS
Alabama, No. 4, got past Mississippi State 27-14 on three scoring passes by Wayne Trimble. Steve Davis kicked field goals of 35 and 31 yards.

Sixth-ranked Georgia Tech recovered three Duke fumbles and made three pass interceptions in pounding the Blue Devils 48-7. Florida, No. 7, edged Auburn 30-27 on a 40-yard field goal by Steve Spurrier with 2:12 left in the game. The big quarterback also hit on 27 of 40 passes.

Opinion is rampant that while Southern Methodist is the only unbeaten team left in the Southwest Conference football race, Arkansas will make the Cotton Bowl by at least tying for the title.

For that matter, most of the critics think Arkansas will be the undisputed champion like it was supposed to be in the first place.

Southern Methodist's feat in coming from behind to beat Texas 13-12 with only 18 seconds left was hailed as of championship stuff. But what Arkansas did to Texas A&M at College Station Saturday night, plus the Razorbacks' known penchant for gaining strength down the stretch, induced the prediction that Arkansas wouldn't lose another game.

LOOKS LIKE HOGS
If that be true then Southern Methodist will be a victim of the Razorbacks and even if SMU didn't lose another one, Arkansas still would be the Cotton Bowl team since it would have beaten the team that tied it for the title.

Arkansas smashed Texas A&M 34-0 to drop the Aggies into a tie for second with Arkansas, each with a 3-1 record. SMU, with 3-0, leads the race.

Texas A&M plays Southern Methodist at Dallas Saturday while Arkansas meets Rice at Little Rock, and those are the only games of general interest since SMU, Arkansas and A&M are the last teams left in the championship struggle.

Some think that Southern Methodist won't even survive the A&M game, which would leave an Arkansas-SMU battle to decide the title should Arkansas beat Rice as expected.

ELIMINATED
Texas and Baylor were eliminated from championship consideration over the weekend. Southern Methodist's victory was Texas' second loss and they don't even share the championship in this league with as many as two defeats.

Baylor, the saddest team in the league, took an unexpected 6-0 licking from Texas Christian for its second loss and what was a rosy future two weeks ago now is in the limbo of what might have been and "wait until next year."

This was the team that whipped Arkansas for the first regular season defeat of the Razorbacks in more than two years.

SURPRISE
Another surprise — and upset — was Texas Tech's 35-19 triumph over Rice — the team that almost beat a lot of good teams. It was Tech's first conference victory of the campaign.

Texas and Baylor play at Waco Saturday, while Texas Tech engages Oklahoma State at Lubbock in an intersectional test. Texas Christian has an off week, resting for its traditional game with Texas.

Dallas Defense Credited With Lopsided Win

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Coach Tom Landry told his Dallas Cowboys all the defense needed to be able to win again — were some big plays.

Then he sent Mel Renfro from running back, where he had been beaten out by Dan Reeves while missing time with injuries, back to the defense to help make those big plays.

The Cowboys had them Sunday as Dallas whipped Pittsburgh 52-21 and snapped out of their doldrums occasioned by a tie with St. Louis and a loss to Cleveland just when they had won four straight and were being talked as most likely National Football League champions.

TURNING POINT
Renfro made one of a cascade of big plays and it was singled out by Coach Bill Austin of Pittsburgh as the most decisive of the game.

Dallas led 24-14 at the half. Opening the second half Renfro grabbed the kickoff and raced 87 yards for a touchdown.

"That turned it," said Austin. "We thought at the half we were still in it. We had a player who was supposed to be in a certain place on the kickoff return. He wasn't."

It is doubtful if the Dallas defense ever had a greater day. Landry said, "I thought our defense was outstanding, so outstanding I didn't think Pittsburgh should have scored. Offensively we made too many errors."

While the defense led the way to five touchdowns and a field goal, Don Meredith had a good day, too, at quarterback, although he didn't think so. Meredith passed for four touchdowns in less than three quarters, his touchdown tosses for the season now number 19.

Stanton Looks Good In Win

SLATON — Stanton continues to show over-all improvement but dropped a 14-0 District 4-AA football decision to Slaton here Saturday night.

The Tigers ran across both touchdowns in the third quarter. Richard Washington broke up the scoreless deadlock with a 43 yard gallop from scrimmage, and Steve Harlan kicked the point after.

A minute later, Steve Pickens picked off an enemy pass and ran it back the distance of 30 yards for the other score. Harlan added the conversion kick.

Slaton made good on both his scoring opportunities, but Stanton had drives stopped on the Slaton two and four.

Stanton thus incurred its first district loss in 4-AA play, and Slaton won its first district contest.

Slaton 0 0 14 0-14

RICK ALMOST BEATS RECORD

Ricky Terry came within a stroke of tying the Big Spring Country Club record Sunday.

Coming into the 18th, he needed a birdie to beat the 63 posted by Jack Montgomery as the best round ever fired over the course. A par would tie, but Ricky had trouble on this and took a bogey. As it was, he shot seven-under-par 64, thanks to a red hot putter and some phenomenal chipping.

Nance Bulldozes Patriots To Victory Over Oakland

By The Associated Press
Scalding water almost washed out Jim Nance's football career when he was four years old. Now he's blazed a trail for Boston to the top of the American Football League's Eastern Division.

Like a bulldozer in a jungle, the 235-pound Nance knocked down just about everything in his way Sunday as the Patriots defeated the red-hot Oakland Raiders 24-21 for their third straight victory.

The triumph, coupled with Buffalo's 33-23 decision over New York, put the Patriots one-half game ahead of the Bills and the Jets in the East, Oakland, which had won three straight, dropped two games back in the West.

Nance, a second-year pro, rambled for 159 yards on 19 carries in the first half and wound up with 208 yards on 38 tries for the game.

BEST RUNNER
The performance, the third best in AFL history, fired Nance far ahead of his closest contenders for the league rushing crown. The former Syracuse fullback has gained 753 yards this season, averaging 107 a game and 4.6 a carry.

Anyone who knew Nance 19 years ago never would have thought such a record possible. "We had one of those old stoves in our house, and my brother was boiling some hot water," Nance explained. "When he tried to move it from the stove to the sink, I reached up and pulled his arm. I got scalded."

OTHER GAMES
In other AFL games San Diego defeated Denver 24-17 and Kansas City whipped Houston 48-23.

Nance scored two touchdowns from inside the three while Gino Cappelletti took care of the rest of Boston's scoring with a 24-yard touchdown pass from Babe Parilli, three extra points and a 15-yard field goal. Clem Daniels scored Oakland's three touchdowns.

The Jets, with Joe Namath throwing two touchdown passes, threatened Buffalo with a 20-point fourth quarter, but the Bills already had piled up too great a lead. Charley Warner's 95-yard touchdown run with the second-half kickoff plus four field goals by Booth Lusted sparked the Bills.

KC BOOMS OILERS
Kansas City stayed on top of the Western Division, bombing Houston with long distance touchdowns. Johnny Robinson and Willie Mitchell teamed on a 78-yard run on an intercepted pass and a lateral, Mike Garrett raced 77 yards and Pete Beathard combined with Otis Taylor on a 77-yard pass play.

John Hadl flipped a pair of one-yard touchdown passes, helping keep San Diego one-half game behind Kansas City. Hadl over-all completed 19 of 26 passes. Bob Scarpitto faked a punt and ran 63 yards for a Denver touchdown.

HONOLULU HULAS

Native Captures Hawaiian Open

HONOLULU (AP) — There was hula dancing in the old town Sunday night. Ted Makalena, a local boy who dug his first divot on the Waialae golf course along the blue Pacific, won the $8,500 top prize in the second Hawaiian Open.

Every Hawaiian, and almost everybody else, was rooting for him and he had to battle his way through a throng of perhaps 10,000—including a dozen kids who climbed up the coconut trees—to finish with a birdie flourish on the 18th green.

The 32-year-old Makalena fired a final round 68 that could just have well been several strokes lower.

Makalena's final 68 made his tournament total 271, exactly 10 strokes better than the winning total last year, and 17 under par for the Waialae course, where his father still works as a greenskeeper.

He had earlier rounds of 66, 71, and 66.

The win came hard because Gay Brewer, the defending champion, made a gallant try with a final 68, and National Open champion Billy Casper chipped in with a 69. Both finished at 274, three strokes back of Makalena.

Gene Littler, the World Series of Golf winner, fired a course record 65 in his final round and took fourth money with 276.

Area Club Nips Tulsa

A battle between the first and second place clubs headlines the Texas professional Football League schedule this week.

Tulsa, which suffered its first loss of the season last week, clashes with second place Pasadena and can clinch the title with a triumph.

Tulsa's defeat came at the hands of all people, last place Odessa-Midland, 14-10 last week and it tightened the race immeasurably. Now Pasadena is only a little more than a game behind.

Sherman - Denison, clinging forlornly to hopes of sharing the title, will be at Burkburnett while Odessa-Midland pays a visit to Dallas.

Odessa-Midland and Dallas both have been eliminated from the race.

Sherman - Denison lost to Burkburnett 21-13 but the clubs play again at Burkburnett Saturday night.

Pasadena beat Dallas 14-7 to climb in the standings.

Tournament Set For Partners

A partnership tournament has been set for Nov. 12 at the Big Spring Country Club. Although the format is the same as in previous ones, this tournament will be restricted to residents of Big Spring.

Teams must be composed of one player with a 10 or under handicapped paired with a player carrying an 11 or over handicap. The entry fee is $2.50 per player.

Play will be over 18 holes at the Country Club, and it will be on a Saturday.

Greens at the club have just been top dressed and should be in excellent condition by tournament time, according to Marvin Williams, tournament chairman.

Zoning Change Will Cost $50

BEAUMONT (AP)—The city has decided to charge $50 for applications for zoning changes rather than processing the forms free as in the past. The city said the cost of running notices, preparing maps and making aerial photo surveys of the areas involved was too high.

Halloween Has A Way Of Changing Things

Tonight's the night the moon plays tricks. It might even come to pass that a little girl would change from sugar 'n' spice to a way-out creature. That's what New York AP photographer Eddie Adams did to his daughter, Susan, with the help of a multiple exposure picture and some special makeup. (AP WIREPHOTO)

BODY DRESSED LIKE BRIDE

Halloween Saga Mystery Lingers

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—One of the eeriest of Halloween happenings in the United States began here — in the nation's southernmost city — 35 years ago. The mystery lingers on.

It was a chilly end of October night when beautiful Elena Hoyos, 22, died of tuberculosis. The torture she had felt in life was gone, but even in death her body would not rest in peace.

As Elena died, a friend named Bienvenido Perez marched in a Halloween parade in a devil costume Elena had made for him.

Minutes later he was pounding at her door. "Something told me she was dying and I rushed to her house," Perez said. His suspicion was right.

DEEP ADMIRATION

One of the mourners at Elena's funeral was German-born Karl Von Cosel, a man in his 60s who was a technician at the Marine Hospital. He held a deep admiration for the girl. He painted her name on the side of his airplane after the funeral. Perez visited Von Cosel a few days later.

Inside the plane, propped up in a chair, was Elena's body. Perez, ordered away by Von Cosel, raced to the home of Elena's sister, Florida Lachina Medina.

WAX REPLICA

Mrs. Lachina Medina didn't believe Von Cosel had her sister's body. She told Perez it was only a wax replica.

The macabre events quieted for a while.

But eight years later Von Cosel had built a shack in the brush near 17th and Flager Ave. Perez, who had been elected constable, received word from undertaker Ben Lopez to take a look.

BODY FOUND

Inside, he said, he found Elena's body.

A young attorney, Enrique

Esquineldo Jr., became interested in the case. He said Mrs. Lachina Medina had been to see him and spoke of a fear she felt every time she visited her sister's crypt.

She had been to see Von Cosel, too. "Don't worry," she said he told her. "Your sister is all right. I have her here with me."

Elena was lying in Von Cosel's shack on the same bed she died in. Esquineldo took the news to the sheriff. But the sheriff said Von Cosel was innocent. He liked to work with papier mache dolls.

Mrs. Lachina Medina still wanted Esquineldo to do something. She had begged Von Cosel to take Elena's body back to the crypt. But he didn't.

WON'T TELL

Esquineldo swore out a warrant for his arrest. Deputies strapped guns to their hips to nab him.

They found Elena in the shack. The body was wrapped in gauze, covered with plaster, dressed like a bride, and wearing a wedding band.

Von Cosel was freed under the statute of limitations. He tried to reclaim the body, but was denied. He died when he was 83 at Zephyr Hills, Fla., in 1952.

Perez said he buried Elena's remains secretly. Perez, 68, a night watchman at the Key West Airport, still won't tell where she is buried. He says he is the only one who knows.

Farmer Injured In Auto Mishap

Sam Lawrence Duke, 68, is in Coper Hospital and Clinic in fair condition following an accident of Saturday night involving his car. He lives in the Knott community and is a farmer.

Sheriff A. N. Standard said that Duke, alone in the car, was traveling along a road in the Luther community. The car ran out of control and left the road, crashing into an embankment. Sheriff's deputies took Duke to the hospital.

Officer Killed In Revolt Try

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—One rebel officer was killed and another was captured as they tried to start a revolt at a National Guard school outside Caracas Sunday, the defense ministry announced.

It was the first reported rebellion of consequence against the 2½-year-old administration of President Raul Leoni.

Military spokesmen said the slain officer, Lt. Col. Clemente Pacheco Ochoa, had left the country in 1962 with a group of officers suspected of leftist activities. Unconfirmed reports said rightist supporters of former Dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez instigated the uprising.

Leaders of the Civic National Crusade, a small party that plans to run Perez Jimenez for president in 1968, were reported being sought for questioning. The government blames the crusade for several recent disturbances, including an attempted general strike to protest Perez Jimenez' imprisonment on embezzlement charges.

Leoni, the first constitutionally elected leader to succeed another elected president since Venezuela became independent in 1830, has formed a coalition with labor and peasant support and has carried out a land reform program.

Fair Skies To Remain

By The Associated Press

A weak cold front eased across the Texas Panhandle today but skies were expected to remain generally fair throughout the state.

A few showers should develop in South Central Texas Tuesday as the system moves southward.

Early morning temperatures today ranged from 37 at El Paso to 63 at Galveston and Houston.

The Weather Bureau's five-day forecast, extending through Saturday, called for temperatures to dip some 10 degrees below normal later this week, then warm up again before the weekend.

Maximum afternoon temperatures Sunday covered the span from 83 at Austin, Corpus Christi and Victoria down to 68 at El Paso.

Mediators Seek To Avert Strike

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—Federal mediators sought a last-minute compromise today to avert a strike of 14,000 Westinghouse electric workers.

With no compromise or agreement, the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers could pull its members off the job at 46 plants on the expiration of its contract at midnight tonight.

Talks broke down Sunday and mediators hurriedly arranged a meeting of both sides this afternoon.

SAME OFFER

The IBEW contends Westinghouse is offering less than what it granted three other unions in settlements reached in the last 10 days. The union also said the offer was less than the recent General Electric settlement.

However, the IBEW said the offer was the same as the one accepted by the other three unions with respect to wages, vacations, holidays, pensions and cost-of-living provisions. The unions said the package was worth about 50 cents an hour in wages and fringe benefits over three years.

$3 HOUR AVERAGE

Under the old contracts, production employees averaged about $3 an hour.

Among the issues unresolved, the IBEW said, are: geographic wage differentials; a union shop; improvements in the lay-off income benefit plan, a clause to keep employees from being downgraded before layoff, accu-
