Johnson Greeted By Eskimos

Eskimo dancers greet President Lyndon B. Johnson upon his arrival at the Elmendorf Air Base near Anchorage, Alaska, early this morning. Mr. Johnson is ending a 17-day Asian tour and is spending the night in Anchorage. (AP WIREPHOTO)

LBJ Promises Anti-Red Stand

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The most important and most historic. Recalling that he had said on departing Washington that he expected no miracles at the Manila conference of Viet Nam allies, Johnson said that the only message heard yet from the Communists has been "the voice of hostility." He said that "until that voice changes — until the Communists realize they cannot win this war — there will be no miracle of peace in Viet Nam."

WANTS REPORT In Anchorage, the traveling White House said the President asked for a complete report of the incident from the commander of the U.S. 8th Army in Korea. Returning from a seven-nation tour, Johnson was greeted by several thousand residents of Alaska's largest city in a steady, but gentle, midnight rain.

The President told welcome at Elmendorf Air Force Base, four miles from town, that United States is taking a stand in Asia—and Viet Nam—and "that stand is going to come true."

VIET THEME Although the dampened late-hour crowd was the smallest of his 31,000-mile journey around the Pacific, the President took his auto microphone in hand to urge repeatedly that his greeters "move back a yard there and let the motorcade proceed."

RED PRESSURE The North Korean attack was announced five hours after the President took off for Alaska. It was the most serious of a series of attacks made by the North Koreans along the armistice line since Johnson's trip to Korea was announced Oct. 6. Some observers in Seoul thought the Communists might be trying to put pressure on the South Koreans to resist any American requests for more troops for Viet Nam.

FRONT YARD FIRE Dutch Harbor is a community in Alaska's Aleutian islands. The President said he did not believe in ignoring a fire "until it gets to your front yard."

WASHINGTON HOP In remarks prepared for an early morning gathering in Anchorage, Johnson summed up his arduous trip, saying: "It has been the most rewarding, the most thrilling, the most encouraging journey of my life. I believe it may also have been going to happen after the fighting stops but how to stop the fighting." Ambassador Jose Pinera of Chile said: "I don't think it had any direct contribution to peace. I don't think President Johnson had that idea in mind. It was an effort of countries participating in Viet Nam to close ranks. From that point it appears successful."

U.S. WILLING There has been no official British reaction to Manila, but privately officials in London have hailed Johnson's efforts in Asian diplomacy, mainly for encouragement to Asians to join in setting up their own defense system.

NOTHING At the other end of the opinion scale, Tanzanian Ambassador J. W. Malecela observed: "As far as clearing the path to peace, the trip has accomplished nothing."

This African delegate added: "The communique issued in Manila means very little. What concerns us now is not what is

Erhard Tells Party Leaders He Will Quit

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Ludwig Erhard told party leaders today that he would quit if he could take part in all discussions on his successor, an informed source said.

When he would be ready to resign was not made clear. Erhard spoke at a closed-door meeting of Christian Democratic party chiefs in Parliament. It has been widely reported that he would favor Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder to succeed him—if he had to go.

The source said Erhard stressed the importance of continuity in policy and also made it a condition of his resignation that he take part in the formation of his successor's policy.

CHIEFS PRESS The informant reported that top party leaders had already agreed to press Erhard to quit. This decision was said to have been made at an earlier meeting of the party's top leadership—a group of 11 men.

The top-echelon group decided to confront Erhard with their demand at a meeting of the full steering committee later, the informants said.

TAX HIKE Erhard was meeting with his rump Cabinet to work out of the tax increases which brought the resignation of four Free Democratic party ministers last week and set off the crisis that led to demands for his resignation.

The Cabinet now includes only members of his own party. The 1967 budget has a hole in it estimated at $75 million to a billion. At least $450 million of this is needed to fulfill promises to buy arms in the United States.

Whether higher taxes can be approved is uncertain. The Free Democrats have said they will not vote for them and without the Free Democrats, Erhard has no majority in Parliament.

In Munich, the Bavarian wing of the Christian Democrats called for Erhard's resignation and a complete reform of West German policy.

Ambush Pulled Near Johnsons

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—North Korean troops ambushed and killed six American soldiers and one South Korean below the armistice line before dawn today while President and Mrs. Johnson slept 30 miles away.

The incident was the gravest involving Americans since the Korean War ended in 1953. It occurred eight hours before Johnson left Korea for the United States.

In Anchorage, Alaska, the traveling White House said Johnson has asked for a complete report on the incident from Gen. Charles H. Bonesteel, commander of the U.S. 8th Army in Korea and of the United Nations Command there.

The President met with Bonesteel Tuesday when he visited American and South Korean troops during his stay in South Korea.

LONE SURVIVOR There was one survivor, an American, from the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division patrol. Wounded by a grenade but reported in good condition, he said the attackers wore North Korean army uniforms.

The Communists escaped and there was no indication that any were wounded. A spokesman for the U.S. 8th Army said the attack occurred under a full moon and the firing was heard at the patrol's base camp. A motorized patrol

DIPLOMAT SUSPECTED Real Estate Agent Linked To Spy Ring

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard officers investigating a transatlantic spy ring seized a real estate agent today and charged him with violating Britain's Official Secrets Act.

William Cecil Mulvena, 47, was arrested in an early morning raid on a house at Westcliff on Sea, a resort town 40 miles east of London.

The Official Secrets Act is the law under which spies usually are tried in Britain.

The arrest followed close on the seizure by FBI agents in Los Angeles of German-born Herbert Boeckenhaupt, a U.S. Air Force sergeant accused of conspiring to pass defense secrets to the Russians.

NOT IDENTIFIED A foreign diplomat in London also was reported under Scotland Yard surveillance as suspected link with Boeckenhaupt.

The diplomat was not identified in published reports, but the Daily Sketch said he works at an Iron Curtain embassy and "will be expelled from Britain in the next few days."

10 Firefighters Lose Lives Battling California Flames

SYLMAR, Calif. (AP)—A blast of flames sweeping up a steep hillside snuffed out the lives of 10 firefighters in a crew of 25 battling one of four brush fires in Angeles National Forest.

The men were veterans, known as El Cariso Hotshots from Riverside County who had specialized in combatting the hottest of forest fires in Montana, Idaho, California and Oregon.

But they lost Tuesday to that unpredictable quality of all fires—the wind—behind them that kicked up before they could escape.

"It's something every firefighter thinks about—a sudden gust of wind," said U.S. Forest Service spokesman Don Porter in reporting the death toll of a blaze that swept 2,100 acres.

NAMES WITHHELD Names of the dead were withheld pending notification of next of kin. Nine of the 15 survivors in the crew were in critical condition at the Los Angeles County General Hospital's Burn Center.

Suppression leaders said the fire was 90 per cent contained early today.

Of the other two fires, one on Camp Pendleton Marine Corps reservation in San Diego County swept 1,900 acres. In Ventura County, a 300-acre blaze burned inland from U.S. Highway 101 through an oil tank farm with out-damaging structures. In the Santa Susana Mountains west of the Angeles crest fire, two blazes scorched more than 150 acres.

HOT BLAST The inferno of flame coursing through Pacoima Canyon in the Angeles crest fire was touched off by a downed power line. Hot blasts of dry desert air—a storm known locally as the Santa Ana—poured over the mountains, driving temperatures as high as 101 degrees, a record for November. Gusts reached 60 miles an hour.

No structures were damaged, but early in the day a wall of flames was halted at Olive View Hospital, where most of 600 tu-bercular patients were evacuated. Also evacuated were 450 patients of a veterans administration hospital in the same area.

FLASH RUN The men who died were backed up against a rocky cliff in the process of cutting a line around a hot spot. One of the survivors said the flames "made a flash run up the hill."

Early in the day, a Nike base was threatened, but the flames failed to reach this installation or either of the two hospitals.

Howard County's first "hard freeze" of this fall occurred Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

A low of 23 degrees was reported at the U.S. Experiment Station at 3 a.m. However, the temperature dropped to 32 degrees as early as 11 p.m. Tuesday and the weather was below freezing until after 8 a.m. Wednesday.

This was an interval long enough, in the opinion of most observers to put the blight on the cotton leaves and probably strong enough to speed the bursting of unripened bolls.

Paul Gross, county farm agent, said that he believed the frost in general will be welcome. Most farmers have been anxious to begin cotton harvesting. Some have defoliated and begun stripping. In many fields where this has been done, there have been many unopened green bolls and it is possible the cold may crack them.

While results of the freeze may be debatable by farmers and flower-raisers, it is welcomed by hay fever sufferers because it may stop or reduce pollen. Luxuriant plant growth had made this an unusually trying autumn for those with this allergy.

The 23 degree reading came within a single degree of matching an all-time low for Nov. 2 in this county. This record was scored 44 years ago. The low on that occasion—Nov. 2, 1912—was 22 degrees.

Bright sunshine returned with Wednesday dawn and soon pushed the mercury up twelve degrees from the 30 noted at 8 a.m. The reading was 42 at 10 a.m.

Cattlemen were watching results closely, because stock has been feeding in many fields where grain sorghum crops have been planted or combined. Freezing weather can produce a chemical change which yields prussic acid in the stalks. This is notably true in Johnson and similar grasses. In sufficient quantities, prussic acid can kill livestock.

Gross warned that livestock should be pulled off fields with grain sorghums and Johnson grass until the feedstuffs have time to dry out and the prussic acid disappear.

OPTIMISM THROUGH DOUBT Reaction To LBJ's Journey Runs Gamut

World reaction to President Johnson's trip and the Manila conference runs the gamut from optimism through doubt to pessimism.

This is evident from an Associated Press survey of capitals not on the Johnson itinerary, and from a cross-section of opinion at the United Nations.

There Frank Aiken, foreign minister of Ireland, told a reporter: "I would say it appears to have been a very successful trip for the President."

As for the prospects for improvement in the Southeast Asia situation, Aiken said "the trip has provided a chance for the ministers to coordinate their views."

At the other end of the opinion scale, Tanzanian Ambassador J. W. Malecela observed: "As far as clearing the path to peace, the trip has accomplished nothing."

This African delegate added: "The communique issued in Manila means very little. What concerns us now is not what is

'The Governor's Broke'

Sir Humphrey Gibbs, the British governor of Rhodesia, above, lives in near exile and his friends are helping to pay his bills. His aide-de-camp says, "The governor's broke."

Governor Of Rhodesia Lives In Near Exile

By DENNIS LEE ROYLE
SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Hundreds of Rhodesians — black and white — are helping Gov. Sir Humphrey Gibbs pay his bills. He lives in near-exile, shunned by Rhodesia's rebel Prime Minister Ian Smith and many of the white population. "The governor's broke," says

Capt. Christopher Owen, his aide-de-camp. Sir Humphrey is Queen Elizabeth II's representative in Rhodesia, where Smith declared independence last Nov. 11. Rhodesian born, the governor remained loyal to the queen and the British government and stayed at his post, defying demands from Smith's government that he vacate Government House.

FORGETS DEMAND — The Smith regime doesn't recognize Gibbs. Likewise, Sir Humphrey doesn't acknowledge Smith as the lawful authority. Each month Owen gets a $700 demand for the rent of Government House.

It's addressed to Stand 8060, Salisbury, since the title "Government House" irks the Rhodesian government officials. Owen files the demand away and forgets about it. About the same time as the rent comes due a shoal of letters arrives addressed to the governor. They mostly contain funds to assist in paying running expenses.

Salisbury Stopped — Donations to the unofficial "governor's trust fund" came mainly from white Rhodesians but sympathetic blacks also subscribe. An African cook and a priest send $2.80 monthly. "Sir Humphrey is not a wealthy man," said Owen. "When the illegal Rhodesian government stopped his salary he was broke."

Gibbs depends almost entirely on his salary as the queen's representative in Salisbury, plus the income from a farm. Severe drought has reduced his farming profits to practically nothing. British Prime Minister Harold Wilson offered to pay for everything, but Gibbs declined.

Young Taft Racing For Political Life

By ARTHUR EDSON
CINCINNATI (AP) — Swiftly the Plymouth convertible swerved to the right, of course — and Bob Taft took the expressway exit so hurriedly that his sound truck behind missed the turn.

No one could say Taft was driving recklessly. He was just another harassed candidate without a minute to spare. For Robert Taft Jr., is racing for his political life against Rep. John Joyce Gilligan, a first-term Democrat, in what looks like the nation's No. 1 congressional contest.

This race has everything. The Taft name, a national political force for four generations; granddad was president and chief justice, dad was Mr. Republican; lively, young, articulate contenders, money to spend, vociferous supporters who feel that if their hero is drubbed then all mankind is doomed, the prospect of a finish that could be in doubt to the last ballot.

Each side has special reasons for trying harder. BARRY CAME ALONG — After serving his apprenticeship in the Ohio Legislature, Taft was elected congressman at-large in 1962 and seemed on his way up, maybe even to the White House.

Then, from Taft's viewpoint, a terrible thing happened, namely, Sen. Barry Goldwater, who lost Ohio so one-sidedly to President Johnson in 1964 that Taft sank, too, in his bid for the Senate.

Now, as Taft red-hot sees it, another defeat — not only would be a disaster for him, but it would also be a major setback in their attempt to steer the Republican party along what they think is a moderate path.

GOP SOLUTION — There's only despair and confusion on the right," Taft's campaign manager, Paul Rubin, says. "The salvation of the Republican party — if there is a salvation — is a man like Bob Taft."

For the Democrats: Lyndon B. Johnson's success in pushing his "Great Society" programs through Congress has been due to the loyalty of 48 freshmen Democrats. If Republicans can win back half or more of these seats — and this is one of them — Johnson will get little new legislation, and will have trouble financing programs he already has.

At a recent rally attended by Gilligan, Jimmy Simpkins of the Teamsters' Union put it on the line: "If we lost 10 or 12 seats, the control of the House is going right back into the hands of the Republicans and the Southern Democrats. It would be a shame and a disgrace to the people of Ohio not to send this man back to Congress."

WON'T BE EASY — Sending this man back to Congress won't be easy.

This district is the eastern part of Hamilton County — Cincinnati. It was strongly Republican when Gilligan shocked everyone, himself included, by winning by 5,411 votes in 1964. To make sure this wouldn't happen again, the Ohio Legislature gave the district a little more real estate and 7,000 more Republican votes.

Democrats, especially those who are very poor, need a lot of arousing before they will go to the polls, and this is hard to do when there's no presidential race.

FIGHTS COMPUTER — Gilligan isn't only fighting Taft; he's also battling a computer.

Painstakingly, the name of every voter — and his preferences — was collected and fed to the machine. "You've got to go where the ducks are," Goldwater used to say. In these critical days before Nov. 8, Taft can go where the undecided ducks are.

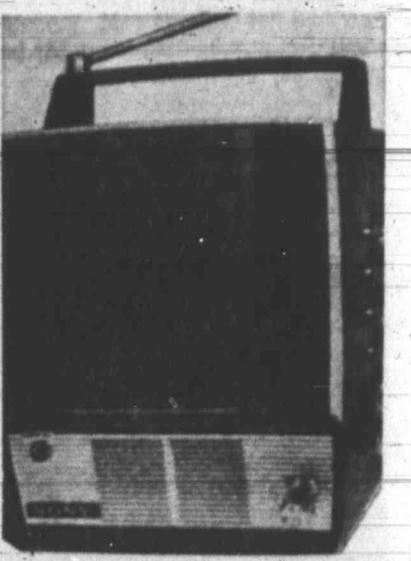

On election day, in theory, the Republicans can round up every solid vote they have — and can studiously ignore those they know will go against them.

Good organization wins the close ones; that's why Taft is rated a slight favorite.

Tall, husky men like Taft usually rate adjectives like "bluff" and "hearty." Despite that impeccable family tree, despite Yale and Harvard, Taft at 49 is still shy and slow to warm up.

Suave he is not. But take him to the large, elegantly turned out home of Mrs. Joseph Claggen Jr., before a large, elegantly turned out group of matrons, and they love him.

DEAR ABBY Cost Of A Wedding

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 and have been on my own for six years. I'm engaged to be married, and the kind of wedding my fiancé and I want will cost about $1,500. My mother has offered me $200 towards my wedding, which is the amount she gave my sister for her small wedding, which is all it cost, so you can imagine it was pretty crummy. My fiancé says my mother should pay for the kind of wedding we want as she can afford it.

The truth is, my mother and father were divorced and mother is remarried, and she doesn't think her new husband should put on a wedding for ME, and she personally can afford only $200. This is causing trouble between my fiancé and me. He says mother can get the money. What can I say?

SOMEWHERE IN THE MIDDLE
DEAR IN: Tell your fiancé that if HE wants to go into hock up to his fetlocks for a fancy wedding, he can finance it because your mother will not. And I would take a good hard look at the man you are planning to marry, dear. Because if this is a sample of his reasoning, you are in for plenty of storms on the sea of matrimony.

DEAR ABBY: Here is a suggestion for parents to help safeguard their daughters during their courting days. First, make a rule that your daughter cannot go out with a young man unless he comes to the house for you to meet.

When he shows up, the mother should entertain him while the father goes outside and

Murder Probe Thoroughness Is Questioned

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—Defense lawyer Chilton Swank sought Tuesday to raise questions about the thoroughness of police investigation during the first day of testimony in the murder trial of Walter Adrian.

Adrian, 15, is charged with killing Mrs. Betty Pratt. Her daughter Cynthia Ann, 7, also was slain at the family home Feb. 22. Both had been slashed with a knife.

In cross-examination of city detective Don Prickett, Swank said it appeared police "made up their minds pretty fast" about the suspect without conducting a thorough and detailed investigation.

Swank said Richard Speck, the man accused of murdering eight student nurses in Chicago last summer, was traveling through-Oklahoma from Dallas at the time of the slayings here. The defense lawyer has been to Chicago to look into the Speck relationship with the case. He said the accused mass slayer was in Cushing, 30 miles southeast of Stillwater, Feb. 22 and is known to have traveled northward on Interstate 35, which runs 14 miles west of here, about that time.

Swank also questioned Charles Pratt, husband and father of the victims, about whether there had been "trouble" between Mrs. Pratt and Pratt's three sons by a former marriage.

Webb Seeks Bids On Trash Haul

Webb's procurement office has issued an invitation to bidders for a contract covering trash and rubbish removal from Webb Air Force Base and Webb Village Housing units. Bids for the contract will be received until Dec. 1 in the office, building 625 at Webb.

The resultant contract will be for a 12-month period, beginning Jan. 1. Requests for bid sets must be received on or before Nov. 24.

Castro Moving Force In Cuba

By ISAAC M. FLORES
HAVANA (AP) — What's Fidel Castro like?

"Well, it's like this," says a young Communist. "He's forever teaching us the right way to go about doing things."
"He is inspiring to everyone," says a young female admirer.

A straw poll in any area of the country is sure to come up with approximately the same conception of the prime minister's main characteristic: teacher and example to "the masses."
Whatever else his enemies may think of him, he is the country's moving force.

THINGS BOG DOWN

Without his constant prodding, cajoling, instructing and lecturing, things bog down. When he is inactive — which isn't often — there are plenty of words but little action from other party officials.

A new-departed diplomat known for his biting analyses of Cuba's top figures once described Castro as "that great salesman, pitchman, preacher, teacher, actor, Communist theoretician and father figure all rolled up into one indefatigable, thoroughly unexplainable personality."

GREAT PERSUADER

Castro is a forceful, articulate speaker, a great persuader and phrase maker, a joy for Cuba's slogan-happy Communists.

He revels in crowds.

He has been known to hold a crowd for five to seven hours. As the "maximum leader" he has the government-controlled press in his pocket. Newspapers, magazines, radio and television report his every move. They vie to see who can present the most euphoric accounts of his actions, words and decisions.

As an instructor he seems to have no equal.

FAVORITE WORD

He can go on for hours about artificial insemination of cattle — a favorite project — or his struggle against Socialist bureaucracy.

Wherever he goes — and he seems to be in one part of the country one day and at the opposite end of the island the next — he "orients" the masses. "Oriente" is a favorite word in the Communist dictionary.

One day he's climbing the face of a mountain to tell a coffee grower how far apart to plant his trees and what fertilizer to use. That evening, deep in a rain forest, "el maximo lider" instructs his subordinates in how to prepare malanga stew — it's a potato-like vegetable — for their supper.

Later, he strolls in the darkness to a little school where he outlines agricultural projects to be followed by the area's campesinos or peasants. He orders health officials to see that a country doctor make periodic trips through that mountain area.

After exhausting everyone in his party, the bearded premier finally hops into his hammock, clothed in his habitual olive-green army fatigue uniform and taking off only his heavy combat boots. He continues his lecture before dropping off to sleep after midnight.

HERO OF MASSES

Castro demonstrates deep interest in the welfare of the country's campesinos — the social and economic conditions, leaky roofs, medical care, adequate roads, proper diet and schooling for their children.

He is up bright and early on his inspection tours, bouncing over mountain roads in a jeep, carrying his campaign for greater production into the hills of Cuba's back country.

This solidly built, 40-year-old grim-visaged "hero of the masses," as newspapers call him, is in his element while thus engaged — his fatigue cap pulled

TTA Has Sharp Nine Month Gain

HOUSTON — TTA, Total service carrier for six southwestern states, has announced that net income for the first nine months of 1966 totaled $717,972, up 43.3 per cent over the same period in 1965 when net income was $501,095. Earnings per share were 93 cents compared to 73 cents on fewer shares outstanding in 1965.

Revenues for the first nine months of 1966 were up 20.4 per cent, despite a $468,137 reduction in federal subsidy. Operating revenues totaled $20,200,979 compared to $16,773,265 registered in 1965. Passenger revenues climbed to $14,780,394, up 33.3 per cent over the $11,087,984 last year.

Traffic for the first nine months was up also over 1965. Revenue passengers were up 33 per cent to 896,513 carried compared to 674,095 carried in 1965. Revenue passenger miles were up 33.5 per cent for the nine months to 204,652,361, compared to the 153,269,264 flown in 1965. Load factor was up to 47.21 per cent for 1966 compared to only 40.51 in 1965.

Dallasite Granted Leave Of Absence

DALLAS (AP) — Paul J. Schmitz Jr., a lifelong Dallas resident, has been granted a leave of absence from the Department of Agriculture to accept an appointment as assistant to the chairman of the Dallas-Fort Worth Federal Executive Board.

The appointment was announced by John J. Slaughter of the USDA Food Distribution Division, chairman of the Federal Executive Board.

Ex-Rodeo Rider Trains Furred Actors

By GENE HANDSAKER
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When television's "Daniel Boone" needed a pig that could open a door, the order was a cinch for Moe Di Sesso.

The pig opens the door by yanking a rope with its teeth. Di Sesso also has a raccoon that plays basketball, pigeons that stand on their head, a goose that plays a child's toy piano and a cat that operates a miniature old-fashioned water pump. Animals and their trainers are bigger business than ever in show business, thanks to television.

Frank Inn, who turned to coaching animal actors after breaking his back as a rodeo rider, has a stable of 500 creatures, mostly dogs and cats. He grossed $200,000 last year, partly from the histrionic endeavors of

Arnold the Pig and Alice the Hen on "Green Acres" and various skunks, possums, porcupines and a swimming cat on "The Beverly Hillbillies."

SUPPLIES BEASTS
Africa, U.S.A., has 450 animals — elephants, rhinos, tigers, ocelots, cheetahs, giraffes, llamas, even tarantulas — on 155 acres 40 miles north of Hollywood. It's a setting for "Daktari" and supplies beasts for other productions as far away as just now, Florida. Jungland stables 2,000 specimens and is presently supplying 900, from mice and goldfish to elephants and giraffes, for the film "Doctor Doolittle."

Then there's dogdom's star Lassie, whose acting pays owner-trainer Rudd Weatherwax more than $100,000 a year.

Di Sesso, 43, swarthy and 5 feet 4, has been training furred or feathered actors for 17 years. One was Vincent Price's and Peter Lorre's cawing costar in "The Raven."

Recently Di Sesso acquired two associates — Donald L. Smythe, 30, an animal psychologist from the University of Texas, and Rocky Shore, 45, an adventurous ex-British commando who works with animals in night clubs.

Carr, Tower Haggle Over Campaign Funds

By The Associated Press
Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and Sen. John Tower, nearing the end of their campaign for the office now held by Tower, wrangled anew Tuesday over how much the Republican senator has spent wooing voters.

Their latest exchange followed Tower's report that these efforts had cost $313,610, of which Texans contributed $287,695 and sources in 18 other states donated $7,724—with 49 gifts from Connecticut totaling $698.

A similar accounting was expected today from Carr, the Democratic nominee.

RICH REPUBLICANS

Carr, who has been quoting a news magazine as stating Republicans in Connecticut supplied $400,000 for the campaigns of Tower and GOP candidates in California and Georgia, had this to say:

"My opponent has been denying it, but now he admits getting $698 from those rich Connecticut Republicans. I'm going to keep pushing him until he admits it all.

"How long does he think he can fool the people of Texas? How much more has he gotten and what kind of a deal was made to get it?"

SAVE HIMSELF

Tower, in turn, asserted: "My opponent... has declared... that I have received $400,000 from contributors in Connecticut. He is lying, trying desperately to save himself from overwhelming defeat."

Carr spent Tuesday stumping the Panhandle from Plainview to Amarillo and Sanford Dam near Borger, flying on to Beaumont for the night. He went handshaking in that vicinity today, planned a lunch stop at Orange and was due to wind up with a dinner speech in Beaumont.

Tower swung across Northeast Texas from Texarkana through Marshall, Paris, Mount Pleasant and other points, winding up at a night rally in Tyler. The senator likewise was in the Beaumont vicinity today and expected to speak at a Houston luncheon and to jump to San Antonio in the afternoon.

LBJ TO HELP

County Democratic leaders in San Antonio said meanwhile that Gov. John Connally had sent word that President Johnson would be there to campaign for Carr next Monday—the day before the election.

Taking note of earlier speculation about such a development, Tower said he believed the President's efforts would produce "no appreciable effect—I think Mr. Carr's campaign is unsalvageable."

Gov. Connally joined Carr at Amarillo in emphasizing a view that a Democrat can accomplish more than a Republican for Texas as its U.S. senator. The attorney general went on to say at the same rally, however, that "if you're looking for a 'yes man' for your U.S. senator, Waggoner Carr isn't for you."

DOUBLE TALK

At Tyler, Tower accused Carr of some double talk about Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex. "Speaking privately to businessmen and conservative leaders, he (Carr) says his election is necessary to dilute the influence of this state's senior senator," Tower said. "His campaign material, carefully aimed at specific voter groups, seeks to imply that he would work harmoniously with the senior senator. Obviously he cannot have it both ways. He cannot serve two masters, and those who seek to be his masters should realize the truth of this."

Tower Reports Vote Expenses

AUSTIN (AP)—Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., says his campaign expenses for re-election are $8,000 more than contributions.

In a preliminary report filed with the secretary of state's office Tuesday, Tower said he spent $313,610 and received contributions of $305,220.

Of the contributions, he said, $287,695 came from Texas and $7,724 from 18 other states, including $698 from 49 contributors in Connecticut.

His opponent in the Nov. 8 election, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, was expected to make public his campaign expenses today.

The majority of Tower's expenditures—some $213,000—were to the Rives-Dykes advertising firm in Houston, which handled most of his campaign work.

Texas' 19,217 contributions to Tower included 3,861 individual donations from Dallas County and 2,970 from Harris County.

TEXAS DONATIONS

Texas donations, of $200 or more, were from R. W. Briggs Sr., $500; Dr. W. E. Simpson, $200; Dr. W. C. Winter, $1,000; and J. H. Frost, $200, all of San Antonio; W. K. Lehrer, $1,000 and W. N. Lehrer, $500, both of Garwood.

From Dallas came the following contributions:

Citizens for Good Government, $5,000; R. S. Bond, $1,000; D. W. Forbes, $1,000; P. O'Donnell Jr., $1,000; P. M. Raigorodsky, $1,000; J. A. Gillin, $500; N. Waggoner, $500; A. G. Hill, $500; H. W. Klein, $500 and W. K. Manning, $500. Forbes also was listed as giving a separate $100 contribution and Raigorodsky as giving another $210.

In Harris County, the following contributions of $200 or more were listed:

R. E. White, $400; R. P. Gregory, $200; H. H. Baker, $300; E. C. McGraw, $500; T. D. Anderson, $250; T. C. Prior, $200; L. P. Texas, $200; D. M. Underwood, $400; I. Arnold, $1,000 and L. S. Reed, $500.

Crusading News Exec Dies At 73

HOUSTON (AP)—Martin Emmet Walter, long known as a crusading and colorful newspaper executive, died last night. He was 73.

He had retired Feb. 1 as editor of the Houston Chronicle, with which he started as a reporter in 1922 and served as editor for 16 years.

Walter suffered a heart attack Monday at his home. Death came shortly before midnight at St. Joseph Hospital.

Associates often referred to him as one of the last among the nation's great personal journalists. The Chronicle, in announcing his retirement, told its readers no Houston editor had done more to shape the community.

In addition to other duties, he had been an editorial consultant and vice president of the Chronicle since 1961.

NOTRE DAME GRAD
He was a graduate of Notre Dame University and held bachelor of philosophy, master of arts and bachelor of laws degrees.

A native of Mount Carmel, Ill., Walter was admitted to the bar in Illinois after leaving college and practiced law for a few months.

Then he entered the Army in World War I, received a second lieutenant's commission at Ft. Sheridan, Ill., and transferred to Texas to go overseas with its 36th Division for combat duty. Among other exploits, Walter received France's Croix de

Guerre decoration, was captured by the Germans, escaped and made his way to Paris. RETURNS TO TEXAS
At the war's end he returned to Texas and went to work as a reporter for the Galveston News. He transferred to the Houston Post and became its city editor after two years, and went back to the Galveston paper as news editor two years later.

Actress Joins Her 'Pop Prince'

Actress Romina Power, 15, daughter of film stars Linda Christian and the late Tyrone Power, is reunited with Count Stanislaus de Rola, 23-year-old singer known as the "Pop Prince," on her arrival at the airport in Turin, Italy, yesterday. Miss Power says she intends to marry him, but they have to wait until she's 18. (AP WIREPHOTO by cable from Rome)

Zone Panel Okehs Changes And Plat

The Planning and Zoning Commission skimmed through a light agenda Tuesday afternoon, approving two change requests and a subdivision plat.

A request for a zone change from "general residence" to "multiple family housing" was granted by Reeder and Associates on Tract 2 of the amended William B. Currie subdivision. A $700,000 low-rise housing project may be constructed on the site, with 70 units in 12-14 buildings.

Bill Estes told the commission that the site in question involved a little over four acres on land formerly owned by Earl Parrish and W. W. Posey in the north section of the City of Big Spring.

The proposed buildings would be brick veneer, Estes said, and would be a mixture of one and two-story structures. They would be mostly three bedroom units, but some would be one and two-bedroom units. The project is proposed under the rent subsidy program with the federal government, picking up one-fourth of the rent of low-income families in the project.

The commission approved a zone change from "one family residential" to "commercial" on a 159.4 acre tract along Interstate 20, bounded on the south by the right-of-way line of the T&P Railroad, on the west by the half section line of sections 41 and 44, on the north by the city limit line and on the east by Birdwell Lane.

A portion of a Coronado Hills plat already approved but never filed was given the green light by the commission. The plat contains about 10 lots north of Coronado Avenue.

Six Collisions Are Checked

Police investigated six traffic accidents Tuesday, with no major damage or injuries.

On the high school parking lot, a collision involved the driverless car of Ben Costin, 2513 Larry, the parked car of Travis Maupin, 107 W. 21st, and the car of Raymond Michael Noble, Gail Route. Drivers involved in a wreck in the alley in the 300 block between Gregg and Lancaster, were Elvis McCreary, 1201 Rinnels, and Richard C. Fitzgerald, 902 Lorilla. Drivers colliding at Tenth and Nolan were Jerri Lynn McNaughton, 1732 Burdette, and Gary Allen Rogers, 1103 Ridge-road. Bennie Munoz, Sterling City Route, riding a motorcycle, and Donna Womack Sawyer, Lenorah, were involved in the wreck at FM 700 and Scurry.

George A. Lewallen, 1604 Scurry, and Ruby Branson a Riggs, 1811 NW 4th, ran together at Tenth and Gregg. In the 400 block of Main, Dixie Todd, Gail Route, and Nellie L. Weaver, 1604 1/2 Main, were in collision.

Methodist Clinic Slated Tonight

A Children Workers Clinic for teachers of children-in-the-Methodist Church will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the fellowship hall of Wesley Methodist Church.

The clinic will be conducted by Mrs. Uel D. Crosby of Dallas, who is well known in the Methodist church as an author and educator. She spent several years in West Texas as the conference director of education of the General Board of Education of the Methodist church in helping retarded children.

The Rev. Jarrell H. Sharp, pastor, invites children's teachers from the area to attend.

Trust Provides Lots Of Flowers

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The feminine members of the Alvin F. Moore family can expect to receive corsages on Easter Sunday and Valentine's Day for the next several decades, according to a provision in the Pittsburgh man's will.

Moore, who died July 10, directed that $5,000 of his $221,341 estate be placed in trust and invested by one of his daughters. Earnings from the trust will be used to buy flowers for the girls and women of the family.

An inventory of the will was filed Tuesday.

Locals To Attend Heart Seminar

A special "heart seminar," sponsored by a natural food group, will be held Saturday and Sunday in Amarillo.

Several persons from Big Spring are expected to attend. The program includes a number of lectures about the heart and is planned to give complete information about personal heart problems and what can be done before, during and after a heart attack.

Included on the program will be Dr. Joe D. Nichols, Dr. H. W. Holderby and Tom Lavitt.

Scout, Leader Sessions Set

The initial training session for scoutmasters, assistants and troop committeemen has been set for 7:30 p.m. today at Wesley Methodist Church. All unit leaders and committee members who have not had the training are urged to be on hand.

Melvin Coleman will be the instructor, and sessions will continue on Nov. 9 and 16 at the same time and place.

Thursday at 7:30 p.m. the district committee will meet at the Cosden Country Club, and R. L. Tollett, district chairman, has urged institutional representatives to be on hand.

The junior leader training course for patrol leaders and other boy leaders will be held starting Saturday morning at the Roundup grounds. Sammy Jones, who took his training last summer at Philmont Scout Ranch, will be instructor. Gene Vaughn, assistant council executive, is assisting in the program here temporarily while William T. McRee, scout executive, is convalescing from a heart attack.

Out-Of-Towners, Women Lead List Of Forgers

Ninety per cent of the forgers who work their racket in Howard County are transients, according to Sheriff A. N. Standard.

He pointed out records of his office show there have been 55 forged checks handled by the check department in the interval Jan. 1 through Oct. 31. Twenty-two individuals forged the checks investigated, he said.

In 43 of the forgery incidents involved, his office has been able to establish the identity of the person who perpetrated the offense. From this list, he has established a large percentage of the forgers are transients.

As a result of the forgery investigations, 10 felony complaints have been filed. Two of the identified offenders have been juveniles, and their cases have been turned to the county juvenile officer. In one case, because of technical difficulties, a felony charge was not practical. So, the sheriff said, a misdemeanor charge was filed.

Three of the 22 persons involved in forgery cases are women. Standard noted that these three women were involved in writing 14 of the 55 forged checks delivered to his office.

Some of the persons who are identified as the offenders here are now in prison, he said, on convictions from other counties.

Food Supply Costs At Low Figure

It cost Howard County a little more than 16 cents per meal for food supplies to feed its county jail prisoners in October, according to Sheriff A. N. Standard.

He reported his jailer had served 1,619 meals during the month and the grocery bill for prisoners had been $268.30. There were 70 inmates in the jail during October.

He also reported October saw 43 misdemeanor check cases filed by his check department. Three felony complaints were also filed.

The office served 144 civil papers and investigated 53 criminal cases in October.

Oil, Gas Lease Bids Received

AUSTIN (AP)—The general land commissioner's office announced receipt Tuesday of $2,591,296 in bids for 66,773 acres of land offered for oil and gas leasing.

The bids included a total of $268,032 for two 1,440-acre tracts in Galveston County by Shell Oil Co., $77,846 for 1,440 acres in Aransas County by Cities Service, Skelly, Sunray and Tide-water and $75,398 for 1,440 acres in Kennedy County by Texaco.

Dies In Fire

TROUP, Tex. (AP)—Alber M. Hancock, 84, died in a fire that destroyed his home Tuesday. A neighbor, Charles Hodge, said he heard a sound like an explosion before seeing flames cover the house.

Two-Car Collision Kills Oil Chemist

HOUSTON (AP)—A two-car collision Tuesday killed Herman Langley, an oil company chemist.

Nation's Weather Pattern Is Mixed

By The Associated Press

Unseasonable cold and snow in parts of the Midwest and South contrasted with scorching heat in the Far West to give the nation a varied weather pattern today.

Snow fell from the southern Great Lakes to central Alabama. Hazardous-driving warnings were issued for a five-state area from the southern shore of Lake Michigan to western North Carolina.

Record low temperatures chilled the Plains from Texas to Nebraska.

MANY SWELTER

By contrast, Southern California continued to swelter under record-breaking temperatures that reached 101 degrees Tuesday in Los Angeles and helped spread near-killing brush fires in Los Angeles County.

The early fall of snow dumped three to five inches along Chicago's Lake Michigan shore. Two inches of snow fell at Bowling Green, Ky., and up to three inches dropped in portions of North Carolina and Tennessee.

Amounts of one inch were common from Indiana to northern Alabama.

COLD IN KANSAS

It was the coldest weather ever for so early in the season at Topeka, Kan., where the temperature dipped to 15 and

Application For Fellows Invited

AUSTIN — Chancellor Harry Ransom of the University of Texas today reminded colleagues in Texas that another nationwide search is under way for outstanding men and women, ages 23 to 35, to serve as White House Fellows.

Open to college graduates from all fields, the White House Fellows program was established two years ago by President Lyndon B. Johnson to give potential leaders one year of "first-hand, high-level experience with the workings of the federal government and to increase their sense of participation in national affairs."

Fellows have served with White House staff assistants, with various Cabinet officers and have participated in an educational program conducted by the Brookings Institution. The third group of fellows will be selected next May. Jan. 6 is the application deadline.

Application forms and additional information are available from Thomas W. Carr, director, Commission on White House Fellows—The White House, Washington, D. C. 20500.

Dime A Meal

It cost less than a dime per meal for food supplies to feed prisoners in the City Jail during October. Prisoners were served 918 meals during the month, at a total cost of $91.54 for an average of 9.77 cents.

Vandals Strike

Vandals struck three times during the night. A glass was thrown through a window at 901 Johnson. Two windows were broken at the Gulf Station, IS 20 and SH 350. J. H. Lockridge, 1027 Stadium, reported a tire on his car was slashed.

Hearing Today

Frank Parker, business manager for the Operating Engineers Local 826 and spokesman for the Oil Patch organizing committee said that a hearing for certification of recognition will be held today, Nov. 2, 1966, in Odessa, before representatives of the National Labor Relations Board. The hearing at Ector County courthouse was to pertain to the employees of Parker Drilling Company of Odessa.

Thefts Reported

Officers today were checking two thefts reported Tuesday. C. L. Mason Auto Sales, 400 Galveston, reported an air cleaner valued at $50 taken from a car on the lot. The Burger Chef, 2401 S. Gregg, reported two garbage cans, which it valued at $174, stolen. Both were filled with garbage.

U.S. Manpower Due To Surge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pentagon sources predict U.S. manpower in South Viet Nam will surge to 352,000 by the end of December and move past the 400,000 mark in January.

Plans for this expansion from the 336,000 troops now in the Southeast Asian country are considered all but definite.

Beyond early 1967, however, the view is less clear and the Pentagon is in the process of calculating what it believes future military needs will be.

Sources said latest additions to the war will likely be elements of the 9th Infantry Division which was activated last year and has been training for duty since January.

COMBAT READY

The 9th, with a strength of about 17,000, is virtually combat ready. In addition to it, a number of support-type units with thousands of troops have been tapped for duty.

When and where the infantry division will deploy is secret for security reasons. There have been reports it would be sent to South Viet Nam's rice-rich delta region, now defended largely by South Vietnamese troops.

Military officials say the Pentagon is at a crossroads in mapping out the course of the war beyond early 1967. One reason: This is budget-planning time, a period when the services lay out their monetary needs.

BIG BUILDUP

Moreover, the Saigon command has recommended a buildup to at least a half-million men, while at home Congressional predictions on the required forces have gone as high as 600,000.

United Fund Needs A Push

The United Fund goal can still be reached within the next few days if the contributions continue with community help.

A "slow" day was reported Tuesday at United Fund headquarters, with only $664.52 turned in. The grand total is now $86,483.07, or 62 per cent of the goal. Returns of $3,000-$4,000 per day by the various divisions could push the donations to the $139,877.51 mark by the end of next week.

Divisions totals Tuesday were, out-of-town, $9,483.87; big gifts, $34,002; special gifts, $5,681; employee, $28,147.53; Webb, $7,061.29; and metropolitan division, $1,726.75.

OIL REPORT

Sterling Has Fusselman Strike

A Fusselman wildcard strike has been completed in Sterling County by Texaco Inc. at No. 1 S. McEntire, seven miles west of Sterling City.

On the 24-hour potential, it pumped 28 barrels of 45.1 gravity oil plus 25 barrels of salt water from perforations between 8,783-788 feet after a 500-gallon acidization. Gas-oil ratio registered 1,096-1.

It is a mile east of the shallow Parochial Bay. East pool, nine miles northeast of the WAM, South (Fusselman) area, 690 feet from the south line and 1,980 feet from the east line of section 6-T, T&P survey.

Pan American will drill deeper into two old wells in the Howard-Glasscock field of Howard County.

The No. 2-C-H-R. Clay is spotted 330 feet from the south line and 990 feet from the west line of section 13B-29, W&N survey, 13 miles southeast of Big Spring. The drilling depth was not reported.

Operator will drill to 3,900 feet on the No. 5-C-H-R. Clay, 13 miles southeast of Big Spring. The old total depth was 1,799 feet. Location is 330 feet from the north line and 990 feet from the east line of section 13B-29, W&N survey.

Champlin No. 1 Foster, Sterling County venture, is still making new oil. Operator pumped 17.29 barrels of new oil and 14 barrels of formation water in 24 hours. This project is 467 feet from north and east lines, section 13-21-H&C survey.

Two Martin County locations have been staked.

Humble Oil and Refining No. 2-D State University will seek the Spraberry in the MAK field at 8,800 feet. The hole will go down 14 miles southwest of Patricia at the drillsite, 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from the east line of section 30-6-University Land survey.

TV Viewers Don't Panic Very Easily

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — An engineer speaking at a meeting of the American Public Health Association this week complained about "panic and scare" techniques which predict doom 35 years ahead and hint at disasters around the corner.

He was referring specifically to predictions of water and food pollution. Obviously, he could have included some worrisome peaks into the future made recently in television documentaries — air pollution, life on other planets, widespread use of insecticides and more.

The television viewer must be forgiven if he finds it hard to get steamed up about a possible shortage of drinking water in the distant future or an impending traffic jam that could stop everything. His set gives him so many things to "panic and scare" about right now.

There is the possibility, explored constantly, that each of us offends in one way or another. Am I using the right mouthwash in order to get ahead? And should I tell the boss that he is not? Is my husband inattentive because of my gray hairs, or is it my tooth paste? Do those tattle-tale wrinkles suggest I'm using the wrong soap?

A lot of viewers by now must have come to the conclusion that if one watches afternoon and late-night movies Ray Milland played the guy who lost the girl in every motion picture made in Hollywood up to 1945 — except the ones in which Ronald Reagan lost the girl.

Now, it appears, Tony Curtis has starred in all motion pictures made since World War II, except the ones in which Doris Day starred. This fall has been close to a Tony Curtis-Doris Day festival in prime-time movies.

Network executives are constantly making speeches predicting the day when satellites and laser beams will bring pictures directly into home television sets with new and larger screens. They talk about the world events moving directly into the living room. But some of us think cynically about using all this marvelous scientific equipment — to transport a badly chopped-up old movie or a 14th rerun of "Dennis the Menace." Science is wonderful, but programming, very often, is not.

No Attempt To Extradite Three Escapees Expected

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—No attempt to extradite three American prisoners who fled prison back to the United States is expected, U.S. Embassy officials say.

The men were serving three-year smuggling sentences.

The Embassy officials said Tuesday they based their conclusion on a Justice Ministry statement that it would be no use to request extradition since "no country grants extradition to one of its own nationals."

FLEW TO TEXAS

The three escapees are Sam Sexton Jr., and Joseph McCutcheon, both of Fort Smith, Ark., and Joe Truhill, of Addison, Tex. They were held at a fire department barracks and allowed to go out at night under a special arrangement.

Last Thursday they boarded a twin-engine aircraft flown to Brazil by one of their friends and flew to Texas.

SOONER IN JAIL

Rail Hearings Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Rock Island Line's request to discontinue two passenger trains between Kansas City and Tucumcari, N. M., will be the subject of public hearings Nov. 30 at Topeka, Kan., and Dec. 7 at Tucumcari, the Interstate Commerce Commission said Tuesday.

Dial, Oklahoma City, Okla., returned to the barracks in Brasilia and is awaiting action on a clemency petition and an appeal against his five-year sentence.

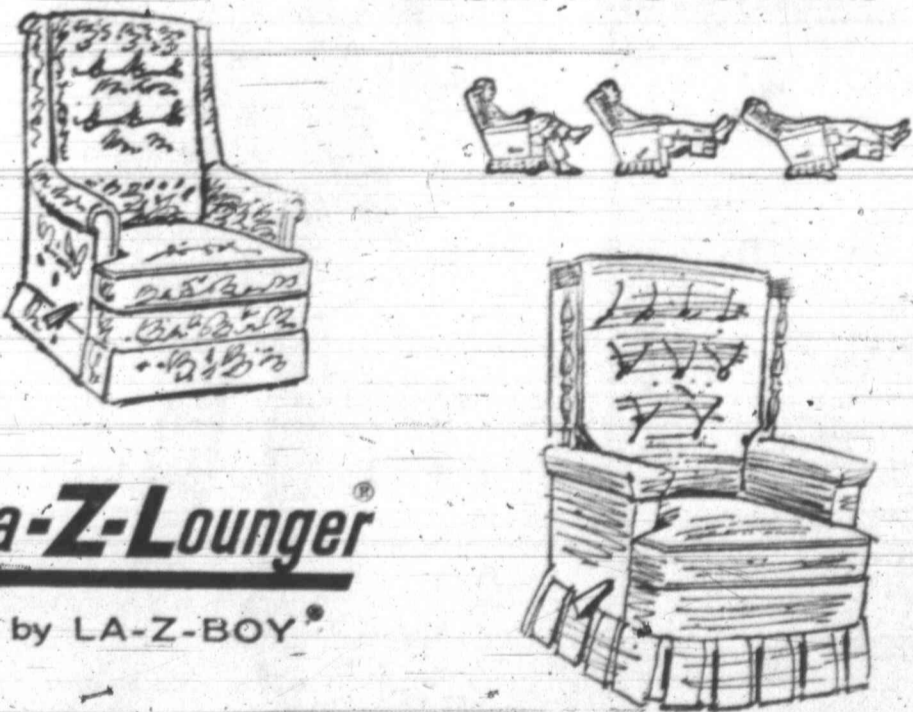

A fifth member of the group, Darin Mandel, a pilot from Dallas, Tex., was released before the case came to trial.

Although the U.S.-Brazil extradition treaty does not specifically prohibit extradition of nationals by their own country, the Brazilian Constitution does.

U.S. officials point out that since reciprocity is the key element of international relations, it is unlikely the men would be handed over by the United States if Brazil requested it.

Mrs. Kyle B. Cauble Speaks For ABWA

The same principals apply to military moves concerning flower arranging as to other arts according to Mrs. Kyle B. Cauble, speaker at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Scenic Chapter, American Business Women's Association.

Mrs. Cauble said that a flower arrangement used in a home should have a definite purpose and conform to the period and decor of the home. She also described arrangements and decorations that can brighten the home during the holiday season.

The chapter met at Coker's Restaurant with Mrs. Tony Barron presiding. Mrs. D. H. Soles introduced the vocational speaker, Mrs. H. P. Wooten. Mrs. Wooten said that the Wooten Transfer Company operates in 50 states and handles shipments to all foreign countries. Their moving vans provide service for about 80 per cent of the

Two Named To OES Grand Chapter Posts

Steve Baker and Mrs. Pyrlle Bradshaw received grand appointments at the Oct. 24-27 session of the Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of Eastern Stars in Houston. Both are members of the local OES Chapter No. 67.

Baker became a member of the Masonic Educational Committee, and Mrs. Bradshaw was appointed to the Arthritis and Rheumatism Special Committee.

Mrs. A. G. Eitzen of the Laura B. Hart Chapter, was appointed to the Fraternal Visitation Committee.

The announcements were included in a report given by Mrs. Steve Baker at the Tuesday evening meeting of Chapter No. 67. In commenting on the Houston convention, Mrs. Baker also noted that 4,968 delegates attended, representing 618 chapters in Texas.

At the convention, Mrs. Mildred Sharpe, Dallas, was installed as worthy grand matron, and Herschel F. Harrington, Houston, became the worthy grand patron.

Other local delegates attending the session were Mrs. H. F. Brewer of the Laura B. Hart Chapter, and Mrs. Charles McCarty, Mrs. Norman Bead, past grand matron, participated in the memorial services.

Approximately 70 attended the Tuesday evening meeting at the Masonic Temple. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Eugene Gross, Mrs. Willard Sullivan and Mrs. Hartman Hooser Jr. The refreshment table was covered with a red cloth and centered with a bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Sheryl Gambill sang the "Beauty and the Glory." Assisting with the registration were Mrs. Roxie Dobbins, Mrs. A. McKinney and Mrs. Edna worthy matron's song, "The Phillips."

This Quick Reducer Takes Off Overflow

By MARY SUE MILLER
Most times you can look in the mirror and see what, if anything, is wrong with your figure. But there's one fault that can confuse you, and that is padding high on the hips.

Somehow the flesh overlaps your waistline, more so with than without a girdle. So you wonder whether the trouble is really in the hips or in the waist.

Well, there's news for you: It's in the hips. A girdle simply flattens the hippy weight and the excess overflows into the waist. The immediate answer is a new girdle or a corselet constructed to deal specifically with the problem. Such garments are not a rarity.

For a long-term solution, the only course is a course of spot-reducing exercises. This one is both effective and quick:

1. Stretch out, back down, on floor; extend arms at shoulder level and raise legs perpendicular to floor. As legs swing up, center weight on topmost part of hips. Now rotate legs, as though pedaling a bike but with this difference — try to touch ceiling with toes and chest with knees. Continue for one minute, slowly and rhythmically. The idea is to massage off high-hip, not to wear down legs.

2. Stand and hold onto sturdy chair for balance. Alternately raise legs back and up, moving slowly and working for a squeeze in the high-hip muscles. Ten to 20 times.

HIP REDUCING

You can diet until you become feather-light and still be hip-heavy. Reduction in the hip line is assured only by exercise. For a set of quick and effective ones, send for my leaflet, "Hip Reducing Routines." Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in coin to cover handling.

Robert Cheathams Attend Reunion

KNOTT (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cheatham and children attended the Cheatham family reunion in Childress over the weekend.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Newcomer have returned from Little Rock, Ark., where they attended a fellowship meeting of Independent Baptist Churches.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Harrell have returned from Lubbock where they attended a postmaster's convention.

Patients in Hall — Bennett Memorial Hospital are Mrs. R. H. Unger, Big Spring; J. P. Nichols, Gall Rt., and Mrs. Lonnie Smith.

The Rev. and Mrs. Ernest Hollis left Monday for Dallas to attend the State Baptist Convention.

Mrs. P. L. Crawley, Midland, was a weekend guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Motley.

Lodge Presents 30-Year Jewel

Mrs. Charlie Boland received a 30-year jewel at the Tuesday evening meeting of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 284. The members met at the lodge hall with Mrs. Joe B. Evans presiding. Mrs. Jones C. Lamar presented the jewel.

Mrs. M. R. Ray was appointed program chairman for November.

Oasis Club Takes Tour Of Gardens

A Sunday afternoon tour through home gardens was taken by the Oasis Garden Club. The members saw the casual arrangements of Mrs. H. T. Hansen's garden which was accented with a play area and a wishing well.

Mrs. Dale Smith's garden reflected easy-care gardening with its sunken rock garden, ground cover and ivy.

The garden of Mrs. Jim Zike was highlighted by a yellow forsythia and an array of chrysanthemums in bronze tones.

Coffee was served at the home of Mrs. J. D. Leonard. Her yard and garden are landscaped for outdoor entertaining and accented by large trees and shrubs.

Little Sewing Keeps Baby's Feet Warm

Dear Heloise:

When I was expecting my first baby, several people gave me those three-piece terrycloth outfits (shirt, pants and booties).

I found that the elastic on the booties was either tight or too loose on the baby. As a result, I hardly ever used them, until one day I thought about sewing the booties onto the little pants.

I ripped out the elastic in the booties, and fitted the knitted cuffs of the pants into them, then sewed them together.

By doing this, there was no tight elastic to hurt little ankles, and baby's feet were always covered. Mrs. John Osborn.

Dear Heloise:

So that I can use both hands to fix the back of my hair (French twist, etc.), my husband installed a side-view car mirror beside the medicine cabinet in the bathroom.

The mirror has an adjustable arm, can be tilted in various directions, and is large enough for good viewing for styling hair.

Now I can see the back of my hair in the medicine cabinet mirror. Margot Sparling.

Dear Heloise:

It is not a moneysaver, but certainly a timesaver, to use bottled salad dressings to flavor the yolks for deviled eggs.

I usually use French or chesapeake, but one could vary it according to family tastes.

And if one counts calories, the low-calorie dressings do just as well as the others. Jean Marlin.

Dear Heloise:

To avoid wear in the elbows of your sweater sleeves, baste pieces of an old nylon stocking to the inside of the sleeves (at the elbows).

These will usually last the life of the sweater. Mary E.

Dear Heloise:

I wear heavy glasses and they hurt behind my ears.

I dip my finger in my face powder or dusting powder and dust that spot behind each ear before putting on my glasses. It really helps a lot in preventing soreness. Reader.

Dear Heloise:

Whenever I make the children a pair of P.J.'s out of flannel, I make them hankies out of the scraps.

These are soft and convenient to keep under their pillows. Neva Grosenbacher.

Dear Heloise:

For very crisp sweet onions: Slice, place in fruit-jar, cover with cold water and cap. Put in refrigerator overnight or longer.

I usually change the water once if the onions are strong. Drain them on a paper towel when ready to use.

Great for salads or hamburgers. F.W.O.

Well, Well! By golly if I didn't get the crunchiest, crispiest, sliced onions ever. Absolutely great. Heloise.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Here's a long-range view on how the District 2-AAAA football teams stack up in 1967:

BIG SPRING

Must go with a new quarterback since Gary Rogers is a senior. However, Bill Burchett and Johnny Patton look like comers. Lonnie Clanton should really come into his own as a running back. Doug Robinson will be of tremendous help, both on offense and defense. R. J. Englert and Tommy Mauldin can expect to play a lot in the secondary.

Among boys playing out their string up front are ends Robert Jackson and Richard Cauley, tackles James Carver, Henry Dicks and Harold Jones, guards Gary Turner, David Gomez and Cliff Talbot and center Kenneth Hamby.

However, team should be much better off for experience, with ends Laven Flores, Greg Willis, Larry Newton, Mike Gartin and Joey Baker, tackles Jerry Ryan, Steve Riordan, Dan Malone and Lonnie Wright, guards Gary Don Newsom, Ronnie Wright and Mike Irons and centers Chuck Smith and Bob Purser all returning.

Coaches' biggest problem will be to develop a strong passing game and find two guards who can pull out and block for the ball carriers.

SAN ANGELO

Coach Emory Bellard will face a complete rebuilding job, with his first 20 boys playing out their eligibility. However, the Bobcats have a strong JV team.

Going will be ends Don Aylor, Don Hill and David Robertson, tackles Randy Stout, Jerry Head, Mike Ford, Quentin Baunister, guards Alan Sikes, Tony Wallace, Chuck White, Jimmy Wallace, Gary Heflin, Tommy Jones and Billy Green, quarterback Gary Mullins, fullbacks Terry Collins and Tyrone Peterson and halfbacks David Williams, Ken Newman, Daryl Kirkham, David Burnett and John Gable.

Returning will be end Raymond Mullins, Bruce Wadzeck and Stacey Allen, tackles Marvin Shultz, Barry Hetrick, guards Lewis Williams, halfback Mark Dove and quarterback Mike Phelps.

ODESSA PERMIAN

Will be hit about as hard by graduation as San Angelo, losing 25 to the sheepskins. Graduation will riddle the Panther backfield, with boys like quarterbacks Rickey McNurlin and Marshall Owens, halfbacks Billy Rogers, David Byerley, David Routh, Jody Coleman, Gale Maxwell and Ronnie Williams and fullbacks Billy Diffe and Gary Horner departing.

Linemen playing out their string with Permian include ends James Garner, Jeff St. John, Johnny Orr and Roger Collins, tackles Dale Dickey, Terry Blair and Mike Ott, guards Paul Strahan, J. C. Nickens, Fred Pugh, Jackie Culbertson, Rickey Jumper, Jackie Moravcik and Bill Abbe and center Dan Yarbroough.

Permian will have Pat Pope and Bill Stewart back to call signals, along with fullback Roger McGraw and halfbacks Don Evans, David McLaurin, Roger Delhart, Dub Ratliff and Jackie Davis. The team appears fairly well fixed for guards and tackles but may be hit hard at ends.

ODESSA HIGH

Quarterback Ed Harris and Steve Mauldin and fullback Mark Clapham will be among the 21 seniors departing. The team would appear to be especially deep in halfbacks, however. Coach Joe Means may have to shift someone to play the end positions but is in fairly good shape for interior linemen. Boys who will be sorely missed up front include ends Tommy Doran and Jerry Chancellor, tackle Gary Swan, center Dewey Walker and guards Tom Parker and Roy Bingham but big tackle Craig Fife will again be eligible, as will Sammy Johnson.

MIDLAND HIGH

Coach Harold King has all four of his quarterbacks returning, including ace passer Paul Lyons, but must rebuild without halfbacks Jack Levin and Bob McCullough, tackles Elisardo Madrid and Bob Rogers, center Mike Claiborne and ends Don Spain and Jerry Stephens. Midland probably loses fewer to graduation than any other 2-AAAA school, however. Among those who'll be back include guard Steve Aycock, punting star Hardie Thornton and backs Jesse Cobbs and Kenneth Dodson, along with ace receiver Larry Pipkin.

MIDLAND LEE

Backs Roger Camp, Tommy Orloff, Ira Bates, Al Buron, Trey Berry, ends Jimmy Francis and Rick Maroney and center Carl Browning will be gone but coach Bob Burris can build around quarterback Greg Frazier, one of the best passers in 2-AAAA in years; end Larry Molinare and tackle Richard Wigzell. Lee has a great B team, too.

ABILENE HIGH

Of the Eagles' eight starters on offense, only tackles Robert Clemmer (98), quarterback Dale Douglas and halfback Bill Catterell return in 1967. Boys like backs Kit Davis, Santos Rodriguez, Bob Callison, Jerry Taylor, Randy Bradford and Connie Scraggs, center Jack Kiser, guards Ed Adams and Stan Goldsmith, tackle Bill Jackson and ends Rusty McDearman and David Richardson will have departed.

Quarterback Mike Chaney and ends Tommy Steward, Ronnie Vinson and Gary Merrill figure to help fill the breach.

ABILENE COOPER

Loses all seven line starters on offense but all starting backs will return. Probably will break the starting barrier as the favorite, if for no other reason than quarterback Jack Midren will still be around. Cooper has a fine feeder program and boys like Don Shahan, Mike Shelton, Ricky Rodgers, Scotty McDonald and Robin Lutz will help take up the slack in the Cougar primary.

Voters Must Still Okeh Plans For New Stadium

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The name and owner haven't been decided but New Orleans will have a team in the National Football League when play opens next season.

The NFL franchise was announced here Tuesday by Pete Rozelle, the NFL commissioner.

"New Orleans has the population (about 1,053,000), it has the sports interest, it has the weather," said Rozelle. "Geographically, it fits into our plans and more important at this time it has the very attractive stadium available for the 1967 season."

The stadium is the 82,500-seat Sugar Bowl at Tulane University.

However, city officials were hoping to construct a domed all-weather sports stadium which would be home to the football club and available for other events.

Construction depends on whether voters in the state approve a constitutional amendment Nov. 8 authorizing the project, which would be paid for by a tax on hotel and motel rooms hereabouts.

Rozelle said no one has the inside track in the bidding for ownership of the New Orleans club.

"We are going to immediately go into an investigation of the financial responsibility of those who have applied, their back-

Baseball Stars Leave For Viet Nam

A group of baseball stars left San Francisco International Airport Tuesday to visit American troops in South Viet Nam. They will tour American camps for about two weeks. Checked aboard their flight by Pan Am stewardess are from left: Stan Musial, Joe Torres, Henry Aaron, Harmon Killebrew and Brooks Robinson. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Martine Bercher Is Hogs' Best Safety

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Martine Bercher, a 180-pounder with exceptional quickness, has eighth-ranked Arkansas vying again for the national punt return championship, but it's other qualities that make many regard him the finest safety in recent Razorback history.

"If he can continue to perform as he has in the first seven games," says coach Frank Broyles, "he would have to draw strong consideration on the All-America teams."

"Since I've been coaching I don't believe I've run across a kid who had more ability and did a better job in the defensive secondary," says Johnny Majors, the former Tennessee All-America who is in his third year as defensive backfield coach here.

Bercher has scored on returns of 64 yards against Tulsa and 59 yards against Texas A&M. He had a 9-yard return to set up the game-winning touchdown in a 12-7 triumph over Texas and darted 18 yards to the Oklahoma State 30 in the final three minutes of the season opener as Arkansas went on to a 14-10 comeback victory.

Against Texas he forced four incomplete passes by cracking a receiver as he took the pass and he added two others against A&M. Bercher intercepted two passes in Arkansas' zone defense, both when the opponent had gotten behind the defensive halfbacks.

"He is quite a competitor," says Broyles. "He's a great leader and he calls signals in our secondary."

Majors recalled that last week Bercher forced one A&M fumble that another teammate recovered and later in the game broke through an intended receiver going for the ball, fell to the ground and then got up to throw a block 25 yards down field ahead of Tommy Trantham who had intercepted the pass.

"This boy is a do it all kid," says Majors. "He's one of the first people on the practice field and has been for the three years I've been here."

In the last six years Arkansas has led the nation in punt returns four times—Lance Alworth twice and Kenny Hatfield twice—and finished second once.

Bercher now has 20 returns for 304 yards, a 15.2 average per return.

"I guess I'll cry when he leaves here," says Majors. "It won't be the same place without Bercher. He doesn't want to be second in anything. He's a real winner."

Queens Romp By Longhorns

FORSAN — The Forsan High School girls won their third straight basketball game here Tuesday night, turning back Loop by a score of 45-29. Ability of Wanda Albertson, Valynia Conway and Deryl Dunagan in the backcourts enabled the Buffalo Queens to post the relatively easy victory.

In the B game, Forsan clamped down on Loop in the last three quarters to win going away, 37-14.

Sandy Koufax Is Named Cy Young Award Winner

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It is true that Sandy Koufax was not exactly thunderstruck when advised he had won the Cy Young Award for the third time.

KOUFAX

Reached at his bachelor's villa Tuesday in suburban Studio City, the superb southpaw was, however, delighted. The vote was unanimous, just as in the previous years, by the Baseball Writers of America.

The award as baseball's best pitcher to the Los Angeles Dodgers' hero amounts to an unprecedented event. No hurler had ever won it twice, as did Sandy in 1963 and 1965, much less three times.

"I'm thrilled," said Koufax, who may have been groping for words different from his reactions on the previous award occasions.

"It's a great honor to be selected more than once, and it's an even bigger thrill to win it two years in a row.

"Especially," he continued, "since we have some great pitchers in the league—in both leagues, that is."

Koufax paused, as if reflecting on the innocent, momentary omission of the American League, and quickly added with a chuckle:

"The way Baltimore pitched against us, maybe they should split the award up between their pitchers."

The Baltimore pitchers, you'll recall, slew the Dodgers four straight in the recent World Series.

Queried about rumors that he may retire from baseball because of his famous, and infamous, ailing left elbow, Koufax merely said he has given no thought one way or another about his future plans.

The 30-year-old Koufax, who had a 27-9 record, may be the last Cy Young Award winner as it is now designed, covering both leagues.

Baseball writers are voting on whether the award should be given to the best pitcher in each league.

Collins And Frazier Statistical Leaders

Although he was hobbled by an injury, Terry Collins of San Angelo did well enough against Abilene High last week to continue as the rushing leader in District 2-AAAA games with a total of 411 yards.

Collins has carried the ball 19 times for an average pickup of 21.6 yards. He is far ahead of Billy Dale of Permian, a late starter, who has gained 329 yards in 70 lunges for a 4.7-yard norm.

Gregg Frazier of Midland Lee continues as the circuit's leading passer, with 43 completions in 87 attempts for 529 yards in gains, including two touchdowns. He has had six interceptions. Paul Lyons of Midland High is second in that department, with 32 completions in 77 tries for 505 yards and one touchdown. Seven of Lyons' aeriels have been picked off by the opposition.

Larry Pipkin of Midland High is the No. One receiver, with 18 catches for gains totaling 262 yards. He made only one touchdown. Mitch Robertson of Cooper ranks second, with 18 catches, good for pickups aggregating 199 yards.

The No. one punter in the circuit is Jerry Taylor of Abilene High, who has averaged

Five 28-AA 11's Forfeit Loop Tests

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Dist. 28 of Class AA schoolboy football reeled today with news that four more members had been found playing ineligible players — that making five in all.

After forfeitures and double forfeitures that made every body's head swim, Tulo-Midway and Rockport, two of the schools not ineligible, lead the district race with 4-1 records. They clash at Rockport Friday night in a game that probably will decide the title.

That isn't absolutely certain, however, because there are two games to play. Bishop, only a game behind the leaders, could win both of its remaining games and the either Tulo-Midway or Rockport for the championship if each should lose a game.

This would be quite a twist since Bishop was the first school to be found ineligible and forced to forfeit all except two of its district games.

The four schools found to have ineligible players Tuesday are Calallen, Aransas Pass, Ingleside and Taft. Calallen and Aransas Pass dropped to 0-5 in the standings. Ingleside stands 2-3. Taft and Bishop 3-2. Gregory, Portland, the other team not having ineligible players, wound up 1-4.

Uniquely, Ingleside, which hadn't won a district game, now has its 2-3 record because it didn't use ineligible players in district competition and won forfeitures from Calallen and Aransas Pass.

Supt. R. S. Morgan of Bishop is the district chairman. He called the ineligibleity on his own school. Then somebody suggested that he check Taft, he decided to go into all the eligibility lists and the four schools were added to the list.

It is the biggest jumble that can be recalled in the history of the Texas Interscholastic League.

Spartans, Uclans Favored Saturday

By HAROLD CLASSEN

NEW YORK (AP) — Here's hoping for a quick recovery from the worst weekend of the season with 18 losses among the 36 games that reached a decision for a paltry 679 average.

The forecast for this Saturday's top college football games:

Note Dame over Pittsburgh: The Irish are awesomely strong; the Panthers woefully weak.

Michigan State over Iowa: Michigan State will win by 28 points. The Spartans are that good, too.

UCLA over Washington: Gary Behan of the Bruins rates as one of the three top quarterbacks of the season and the Huskies have no one who can match him.

Huskies not only are big but they also are fast, agile, talented, determined and very, very good.

Florida over Georgia: Steve Spurrier continues Florida's last-quarter magic at the expense of the once-beaten Bulldogs, whose only defeat was a 7-6 setback in the mud at Miami.

Arkansas over Rice: This is Jess Neely's final year as coach at Rice and the season becomes more sad every Saturday.

Southern California over California: Everybody mentions the Trojan offense but their defense has allowed only 40 points in seven games. California has allowed 143.

Tennessee over Chattanooga: Not in the same league.

Harvard over Princeton: Bobby Leo and Vic Gatto provide the Crimson with the best running attack in the Ivy League.

Miami over Tulane: A rare trip away from home for the Miami team and the boys will show their appreciation with a 10-point triumph.

Furdue over Wisconsin: The Boilermakers, beaten only by Notre Dame and Michigan State, want that trip to the Rose Bowl. Bob Griesse to show them the way.

Syracuse over Penn State: Floyd Little will break loose for at least one touchdown run.

Seagraves Visits Coahoma Friday

COAHOMA — Relegated to the roles of spollers now that Seagraves has won the right to represent District 5-A in the football playoffs, the Coahoma Bulldogs will try to send that team onto temporary derail in a 7:30 p.m. game here Friday.

The Bulldogs have won only two of eight starts this season and are 0-2 in conference but Bernie Hagins says he was encouraged by the fact that his club refused to strike its colors in a losing effort at Jal, N. M., last week.

Coahoma dropped that one 20-6. Following the game, the Jal coach and some of the players said that they hadn't been hit harder all season than they were by the Coahoma team.

The Bulldogs, in addition to scoring a TD in the contest, got down to the enemy two on another occasion but were set back by two successive five-yard penalties.

Jal is one of the favorites to win a state championship in the state of New Mexico.

R. L. Coates of the Coahoma team broke a finger in the Jal game but likely will play against Seagraves, which has lost only one in eight starts. Seagraves has averaged 13.9 points a start this season while limiting the opposition to an average of 12.9 points per start.

Last week, Seagraves outlasted Tahoka, 18-12.

Rickey Evans, hard-running back who has been on the sidelines with a broken arm, likely will return to play for Coahoma this week.

A Devotional For The Day

Put on the new nature, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness. (Ephesians 4:24, RSV)
PRAYER: Help us, O God, to avoid hypocrisy as we dedicate ourselves to Thee, and to Thy purpose for us. Give us the power to accomplish the task Thou hast assigned us. In the name of Christ. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Idea Whose Moment Has Passed

Aside from the serious ever-present risk of triggering mass violence, that political phenomenon of the unsettled Sixties—the "peaceful protest demonstration"—is becoming a debased and hence spent, force for change.

At the inception in this country of what is hoped history will record as a passing fad, the protest demonstration generated first alarm and then a response for ameliorating reform. Then came fright and a reaction against the demonstrating protestors labeled "backlash." The emergent feeling now, however, seems to be a mixture of disgust and weary boredom.

A case in point was the peremptory snatching, to the general public's indiffer-ence, of a trio of Nazi-uniformed nuts, who tried to carry anti-Semitic and racist banners to an appearance on the Southern Methodist University campus at Dallas of the United States ambassador to the United Nations, former Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg. What impact did "protest" have on Texas public opinion? Our guess would be resentment, embarrassment, the further discrediting of whatever points the demonstrators were trying to make, and a tired shrug or sigh by most who read about it.

Under the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution, the legal right to make a peaceful and orderly protest demonstration, whatever against, cannot be seriously questioned. But frivolous and extremist abuse of that right has, temporarily at least, robbed its exercise of power of any constructive purpose. The protest causes and tactics have deteriorated to such a ludicrous level as to be not only impotent, but self-defeating. It's fade-away time for this unbalanced political and social phenomenon—an idea whose moment has passed.

One Mark Of A Good Citizen

Less than a week separates us from the general election.

On Nov. 8 voters select the individuals whom they will have serve them for the next two, four and six years; also make decisions on such issues as constitutional amendments (16 of them on the ballot this time).

Too often Texans get all worked up for the primaries, but these are to choose nominees who will appear on the general election ballot.

—but actually on Nov. 8. So, whatever else your interests may have been in the primaries, your vote does not really count until it is cast next Tuesday.

One test of a good citizen is that individual who will assume the responsibility of voting.

You have the right to vote for whom or what you please, but you do not have the moral right, under a democracy, to stay away from the polls. Be a good citizen next Tuesday. Vote.

Yes, Wives, There Is A Santa

NEW YORK (AP)—For every entry he passes out to customers in a certain sales contest, the owner of a gasoline station pays two cents to his supplier.

It costs the grocer about two cents on each $1 of sales to supply you with trading stamps. Put another way, the grocer pays $2.40 for the 1,200 stamps needed to fill a certain stamp-book.

Is it possible, then, that these costs won't, in turn, be added to your bill? The trading stamp companies and contest promoters say these gifts are really free, and that they add nothing to your bill.

WHO PAYS then? Is there really a Santa Claus in all this?

The usual answer is that yes, there is a Santa Claus. It is volume. Promotional schemes, so the theory goes, provide so much added volume to a store that they pay for themselves. The needed increase might be about 15 to 20 per cent.

Not only do promotional schemes provide you with a gift and put dollars in the grocer's pocket too — but in doing this they apparently bring profits also.

One sweepstakes promoter says its business has tripled in the past few years. And Sperry & Hutchinson, a trading stamp distributor, reported profits from January through September of $17,581,000.

PROMOTION companies offer documentation for their claims that a good sales scheme can more than offset its own cost by means of added volume. This, however, leaves unanswered a big question: Where does the volume come from?

Generally speaking, the added sales come at the expense of a competitor. It is difficult to increase the volume of consumer food buying generally. It must come from another store's share.

The other store, however, doesn't usually permit this without a fight. It increases its advertising and promotion, and perhaps takes on a stamp of its own. The quality of stamps then becomes a competitive factor.

Well aware of this, the stamp companies strive to improve the value of their products and the location, appearance and efficiency of their redemption centers.

IF EVERY store had trading stamps what kind of a situation would we be in? It hasn't happened nationally yet. About 40 per cent of the nation's food dollar carries a stamp premium with it. But some neighborhoods have been nearly saturated.

When this situation is reached you can watch the big market to pull out of the competition, announce it will reduce prices and thus use price savings rather than gifts as a promotional tool.

With surveys showing eight of 10 households now save stamps it is difficult to determine whether it is the demand of housewives for savings or the supply of stamps that keeps people saving, pasting, clipping, redeeming.

Some promoters say housewives enjoy playing sales promotion games, but, now that food prices have risen, some of the fun and some of the playful mood seem to have disappeared.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The party bloodhounds in Peking are closing in on their quarry. Many had suspected that one of the top men there was Peng Chen, Mayor of Peking and member of the Chinese Communist politburo, and that the intellectuals who had taken the initial drubbing were, but a stalking horse.

Peking radio has announced the appointment of a new man, Li Hsueh-feng, as first secretary of the Communist central committee in the capital—that is the city, not the national committee. In Mr. Peng's case, one of the difficulties is that his public utterances in the past have shown him a tough party-liner. His views on Russian "revisionism" have been uncompromising.

Since Mr. Peng is the local party chieftain in Peking, it may well be that Chairman Mao (or whoever has most say these days) is persuaded that he must be held responsible for the contumacy going on right under his nose.

But it could be something with deeper implications than that. For example, it might be that the other members of the politburo have ganged up against Mr. Peng because he seemed the most immediate threat to each and every one of them as a possible successor to veteran Mr. Mao. And caught up in all this is the suspicion of many outsiders that there is also raging in Peking a fierce struggle between the obtuse ideologues and the professional soldiers. Perhaps even more significant events are in the offing.

THE PEACE FEELERS ARE COMING!

James Marlow Viet War Language Like Rubber Band

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the Vietnamese war, language is like a rubber band, and both sides stretch it until what may seem clear at first glance turns out not to be clear at all.

Yet, it's just when the language is cloudy that one side or the other may be leaving the door open for eventual negotiations. It's when the language is clearest that both sides seem to start the door.

Both the North Vietnamese Communists and the Viet Cong guerrillas—the United States insists the Viet Cong are simply North Viet Nam's agents—demand this country pull out its troops and abandon its bases in South Viet Nam.

But—they're vague on just when the pull-out must take place, never saying precisely whether this means before any negotiations can begin or after negotiations start but before there can be a final settlement.

IN TURN, President Johnson says the country is ready to begin talks about a settlement without "any preconditions." But this doesn't say or mean the United States wouldn't lay-down conditions for peace when talks begin.

And last month at Manila Johnson agreed the United States would pull out its troops, provided the other side does likewise and provided the other side stops infiltrating the south, and as the level of violence subsides.

But in this seesaw neither side has said anything so flatly that talks of any kind would be impossible. It's when the language gets a little clearer that a solution seems as far off as ever.

The United States repeatedly has made two basic points plain about its position and its reason for being in the war: It wants a free, independent South Viet Nam and it wants to stop a Communist takeover of South-east Asia.

THE UNITED STATES cannot retreat from those two points without admitting defeat or looking hypocritical.

But the Viet Cong's parent organization, the National Liberation Front, has laid down what seems to be a very definite condition for a peace settlement. It says the NLF must have the "decisive" voice in any settlement.

But, according to the NLF's program outlined years ago, it says the government of South Viet Nam must be overthrown and a new one put in its place. This, of course, would be one under NLF control. And North Viet Nam, in its four-point program for peace, backs up the NLF by insisting in one of its points that:

"THE INTERNAL affairs of South Viet Nam must be settled by the South Vietnamese people themselves in accordance with the program of the NLF," a program just explained above.

And, to make it doubly plain, North Viet Nam later said the NLF "must have the decisive voice in any settlement. That really opens a bag of obstacles.

Watching Teens Good Hobby

NEW YORK (AP)—Doctors are always telling bored middle-aged and elderly people, "What you need is a good hobby. It will add zest to your years."

The trouble with most people, however, is that they don't really want to acquire a good hobby. All they want to do is go on following their bad hobbies—such as eating, drinking, gossiping and chasing members of the opposite sex.

But if your doctor has forbidden you such pleasant pastimes, there are still other ways you can make your declining years enjoyable.

Here, for example, is an off-hand list of unusual hobbies, any one of which may give you more fun than collecting stamps or sticking pins in expired bottles—and may also raise the eyebrows of your neighbors:

COLLECTING memorable remarks made at cocktail parties. This is a real test of ingenuity. Literary scholars have estimated that there is an average of only one memorable remark made for every 10,000 cocktail parties in America, so you have to keep your ears open all the time in order to build much of a collection.

Knitting sweaters for squirrels in the park. Turning out the sweaters is fairly easy, but getting the little rascals to wear them particularly during the summer months—will test all your powers of persuasion.

Learning to eat spinach. This is a test of character. But if you start slowly, nibbling only a few leaves a day, before you know it you will be able to put down from 10 to 25 pounds of spinach a week. You'll wind up with so much iron in your system you'll clank when you walk.

Watching teenagers. While going to the zoo has its charms, there is no better way to study modern animal life in the raw than simply sitting and watching the antics of teenagers. Don't worry for fear that your staring will annoy them. It won't. Teenagers are unaware that adults over 40 exist.

Wash Day

Wash Day Blues is just a copy writer's phrase these days, but there was a time that it meant something. Maybe not the blues, but it meant plenty of physical effort.

THE GOOD FOLK who may not have had fancy clothes nevertheless believed that what they did have could and should be clean. And clean meant boiled clean.

Wash day at our house was something of a family affair. Usually it came with sunup Monday, and it was the responsibility of my brother and me to see that the pot was cleaned, filled and fired, and the battery of No. 3 tubs filled with fresh water. All this had to be done before going to school, and my sisters pitched in and had all the clothes sorted, the pockets and socks turned. In the summer, they had their assignments at the rub board along with Mom.

THE POT was just that, a big black cast iron kettle which had three legs that had to be seated securely on three bricks or sturdy racks. Once we had the inside scrubbed and rinsed, we carried buckets of water until the pot was about two-thirds full. Meantime a chunk of lye soap, or bars of Crystal White or P&G soap had been shaved down with a butcher knife, and these pioneer soap flakes put into the pot, which by now had a fire of kindling and mesquite grubs burning merrily under and around it.

WHEN THE WATER got boiling hot, the clothes, first the white ones such as shirts, sheets, underclothes, etc., went in and were pushed down with a wash stick. This was a piece of broom handle with one end softened by constant prodding in the hot and soapy water. Once the clothes had been boiled sufficiently, the ticklish business of dipping out the steaming pieces without touching the sooty pots sides got underway. The aroma of steam and soap was wood ashes was one of purity.

THE COLOR-FAST pieces such as dresses went in next, while the first batch went to the rubbing tub. How Mom could stand that hot water was past understanding, but she rubbed the clothes with more soap and made that board sing. Soon she wrung out a piece with a vise-like grip and tossed it in the rinse tub. This required a little more scrubbing, too. Sometimes, depending on how things were going, the clothes went to another rinse tub, or perhaps to the prettiest tub of all—the bluing water. Just the right amount of bluing had been added—enough to make the clothes snowy white but not enough to give a blue cast. Once the bluing water had been wrung out, the clothes went to a tub or basket that was carried to the clothes line.

MEANWHILE, other clothes such as work garments, overalls or coveralls, and dresses that were apt to fade were making their way through the pot to the tub, etc. Finally, the socks were dropped into the pot and given their baptism of heat. As these made their way through the series of tubs, they had to be turned again before they cleared the bluing water.

When clothes went up on that line, they had to be clean. You somehow got the impression that the family could stand a skeleton in the closet better than it could a dingy wash up on that line. It was a matter of honor. —JOE PICKLE

One Man's Marked Ballot

WASHINGTON — Some years ago, before a university audience, I was accused by a shrill, insistent heckler who demanded to know my batting average in the endorsement of candidates. It was a puny one, I admitted, but look how the country had gone to the dogs for ignoring the recommendations. This year I give them in convenient categories of menace to the faltering republic:

VOTE FOR any candidate who, in effect, is against Governor George Wallace. The Alabama spellbinder was a useful abrasive when he first came along and began to rough up the racial radicals and sentimentalists. But the South doesn't need an indispensable man, which is what Wallace would become if allowed to increase his power by the election of his wife and other governors in and near Dixie. Votes against Maddox (Ga.), Mahoney (Md.), Johnson (Ark.) and Lurleen Wallace (Ala.) would be healthful for the nation.

VOTE AGAINST almost any candidate who wears the livery of Robert Kennedy. Neither Wallace or Kennedy is the worst man alive, but overambition is a grievous fault in them both. I wouldn't know how to decide whether Wallace or Kennedy is the more virulent racier, one anti-black and one anti-white. But Bob is also a rouser of flaming youth, economic mendicants, blood donors to Communist Viet Nam, sponsors of the enemy in Red China, meddlers against our friends in Rhodesia and South Africa, Leftists against Lyndon, promoters of nuclear disarmament and other assorted anti-social elements in America. The Senate would be a safer and saner place if the voters declined to choose such potential Kennedymen as Roncallio (Wyo.), Duncan (Ore.), Metcalf (Mont.) and Harding (Idaho). Votes against them would be sound investments in America's future.

VOTE AGAINST boobies and spoilers. High on the boobosity list is Milton Shapp (D), gubernatorial candidate in Pennsylvania, and tops among spoilers is Franklin Roosevelt (Lib.), a gubernatorial aspirant in New York. Gov. Pat Brown (D, Calif.), along with both gubernatorial candidates in Florida, High (D) and Kirk (R), could be listed under "B" for boob without much loose usage. Under "S" for spoilers would have to come the two Conservative party candidates for Senator in Virginia, Hawthorne and Carter. They have no place in the race except to knock down the totals of the two true-blue conservatives, Senator Harry Byrd Jr. (D) and former Mayor James Ould (R).

A FULL-BLOODED boob, of course, is "Soapy" Williams (D, Mich.), who is trying to displace Senator Robert Griffin, a very good man.

Vote against peace-mongers. No rule is valid without an exception, and Gov. Mark Hatfield (R, Ore.) probably should be given this year's waiver. Hatfield's real indiscretion is boobosity-by-association with Senator Wayne Morse, but it is involuntary and shouldn't be held against the Governor.

THE DAY will come, I'm sure, when another heckler will charge me with endorsing losers. But, surely, there must be a dispensation for columnists who mark their public ballot against power-seekers, boobies, spoilers and most of the peace-mongers. Better to ride with losers than the wrong kinds of winners. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Answer To China's Nuclear Threat

WASHINGTON—The Red China regime may have thought that its announcement of a missile test with a nuclear device would intimidate the other countries of Asia and weaken their ties with the United States. But the event will have exactly the opposite effect. It will strengthen the new alliance being formed by America with Asian countries.

PRESIDENT Johnson was quick to perceive the need for an immediate assurance to the friendly nations of Asia that they will have the nuclear strength of the United States behind them if any threats of nuclear warfare are made against them by Peking. Mr. Johnson, in his speech in Malaysia, warned the Red Chinese that they were inviting danger to themselves and that America would make her nuclear power available to defend Asia. This could be a deterrent against the employment of any nuclear weapons in that region just as it has been in Europe.

PRESIDENT Johnson, in commenting on Red China's test, said: "The pursuit of a national nuclear capability not only makes international arms control, including a nuclear test ban and a non-proliferation treaty vastly more difficult. It also invites danger to China itself. For the leaders of China must realize that any nuclear capability they develop can—and will—be deterred.

"We have already declared that nations which do not seek nuclear weapons can be sure that they will have our strong support. If they need it, against any threat of nuclear blackmail."

THE WORD "deterrent" has a significant application in the military vocabulary of today. It has never been sharply defined, but it can mean that, if a nuclear power shows evidence of irresponsibility, and a likelihood of attack without warning, the interceptive devices of the United States could be instantly employed as a defensive measure. Maximum power would then be immediately released in an offensive move against the territory of the government which had struck the first blow.

The military theory is that, by making known to all the world the intention to use nuclear power without limit if any nuclear bomb is dropped on American forces or those of its allies anywhere, a deterrent will have been imposed.

THIS IS THE strategy which, it has been assumed for some time, would be used if any member state of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization were assaulted by nuclear weapons. The treaty itself declares that an attack on one member is the same as an attack on all members.

PRESIDENT Johnson evidently is beginning to intimate that the same principle may be invoked in Asia. The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization does not require America to regard an attack on an Asian state as the same as a hostile move against the United States, but provision is made for cooperative military action to be taken by constitutional processes.

PRESIDENT Johnson is already pointing out that it would be much better if Red China concentrated her resources on economic development, and there is every reason to believe that the United States stands ready to aid the Chinese people to attain that end. ## Billy Graham

Our son just returned from a tour of duty in Viet Nam. He missed two years of education, and his father and I were under terrific tension every moment he was in the combat area. Why do our young men have to be exposed to such violence and murder, when they say we are living in the most enlightened era of history?

S.A. When the parents of a young man killed in Viet Nam presented a gift to their church in their son's memory, the mother of another youth suggested to her husband that they do the same thing. "But our son returned home safe and sound," the father said. "That's just the point," the mother said. "Let's make a gift of gratitude because he did come home safe and sound."

While the casualties during the last five year period in Viet Nam has reached the 5,000 mark, there are many boys who have been fortunate enough to receive no injuries, and have come home safe and sound. To me, this gives great cause for gratitude on the part of the parents, and I believe that you, instead of being bitter, should be deeply grateful. Your son escaped injury and death in one of the most complicated wars in our history. You should be most grateful to Providence who brought your son through this harrowing ordeal, unmailed and uninjured.

Chinese Hands Do Not Easily Let Go Of What They Grasp

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP)—Six Western allies with more than 363,000 men fight beside the Republic of Viet Nam. Why do the Viet Cong and Communist North Viet Nam depend almost solely on their own men?

Hardly a week passes without a call from the Communist camp for greater assistance to the comrades in Viet Nam.

Red China has been saying for a year it is prepared to make the "maximum sacrifices" for the Vietnamese. By Peking's account, volunteers are standing by only awaiting word from North Viet Nam's Ho Chi Minh to march.

LINE ECHOED
The same line is echoed, more weakly, from Moscow, which has sent technicians to North Viet Nam.

Fighting men, it is said, are ready to go from Pyongyang, Bucharest, Budapest, Prague, Ulan Bator, Havana, Warsaw, Sofia and East Berlin.

North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung appealed last week to all Communist nations to send volunteers at once to Viet Nam. At the same time he puts his finger on the malaise that aborts such action.

NO VOLUNTEERS
No Communist volunteers are in Viet Nam, he said in effect, because communism no longer is the monolithic bloc it was in Stalin's day.

Thanks to a monumental quarrel between the Communist parties of China and the Soviet Union, the old international that once spoke with a single voice—that of Stalin and the Soviet Union—is now a discord of three. Red China shouts angrily that war is the solution to communism's ills. The Soviet Union argues more softly that Communist goals can be achieved through coexisting with the West. A third voice—North Viet Nam, North Korea and Romania—tries to stay neutral between the giants.

OWN BRAND
In Eastern Europe there is a rainbow of experimentation with varieties of Marxism, some involving capitalist-style incentives, private land ownership. In Asia, the rigid economic controls and super-patriotism of Peking are not echoed in Hanoi or Pyongyang. The Soviet Union has liberalized its own brand of communism.

Though it is widely believed that Communist China pulls the strings for North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong, proof is hard to come by.

Peking undeniably sees the Viet Nam war as a vehicle justifying its claims that people's war is the surest weapon in the Communist armory. If the Communists of Viet Nam win, China will trumpet that Mao Tse-tung's thought has triumphed once more. China is caught up in a frenzy of jingoistic ultranationalism. It talks tough, challenges the world, browbeats its people. The Viet Nam war suits its mood down to the ground.

The atmosphere at Hanoi seems markedly different. Ho Chi Minh makes no claims to international supremacy for his theories. Though as a revolutionary he is older and as experienced as Mao, he does not boast that he, or his brand of communism, surpasses all others.

China is Viet Nam's traditional enemy and though the Chinese now wear workers' clothes, Ho has no desire to see them march in again, even as friends. History has taught Ho that Chinese hands do not easily let go of what they grasp.

Soviets Taming Atom For Everyday Living

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet scientists, too, are taming the atom to produce power for everyday living.

Behind their efforts is the need and hope that they can use nuclear energy to light their cities, heat the arctic wastes and make them usable, brew fresh water from the sea, and create portable packages of electric work for space travel.

The research parallels U.S. efforts. Some reactor designs are reputed to be more advanced than those in the United States. The opposite is also true.

WARES DISPLAYED

Many Western scientists have been invited to visit some Soviet installations through the East-West exchange program. The Soviets have put some of their nuclear wares on display.

The Soviets put the world's first industrial nuclear power station into operation at Obninsk, 60 miles south of Moscow, in 1954.

The reactor can produce up to five megawatts of electric energy for local power needs. Normally one megawatt of electrical power is enough for 1,000 inhabitants.

At Obninsk and other research centers, scientists work on power reactor designs. This has led to the development of two special-purpose power reactors, the TES3 and the ARBUS.

The Soviets claim the TES3 is unique. They say it can be divided in sections and carried on four diesel tractor-trucks, and can generate electric power for 240 to 270 days. Tested since 1961, it opens up new horizons for remote, underdeveloped areas.

Similarly, the ARBUS can be broken down into seven parts and shipped to remote areas, especially the Arctic regions. It takes two to three months after delivery to reassemble and begin generating electric power. There have been—as yet—no official reports of an ARBUS reactor in use in the arctic.

SIX TYPES
The Soviets now have at least six different types of atomic reactors in operation or in the test and study phase. The idea is to determine which can produce electric power at the cheapest cost.

One type is compact, provides the power aboard a nuclear ship like the Soviet icebreaker "Lenin."

A further consideration is what type to keep in Russia—and what type to export to communist countries or less developed nations. Military security, export sales and possible foreign aid programs are involved.

One type of reactor can produce either electric power or fuel for atomic bombs. It is likely to be kept in the Soviet Union because of security reasons.

Of the present reactors, probably the most impressive is the superheating device located in Byeloyarsk, near Sverdlovsk, some 900 miles east of Moscow in the Ural Mountains. Scientists familiar with nuclear research here and in the United States called this reactor "very advanced" and probably ahead of similar efforts in the United States.

The reactor first heats, then superheats steam in one device. The steam goes to turbines that produce electric power. Superheated steam is more efficient.

The Soviets claim this reactor increases the efficiency of the power plant by 35 to 40 per cent and significantly decreases the cost of producing power.

This reactor began producing electric power from superheated steam on April 26, 1964. It has a capacity of 100 megawatts of electric power.

A second superheating reactor at Byeloyarsk, scheduled for operation this year, will double that electrical output—enough electricity for 200,000 residents.

Another basic type of reactor is the conventional boiling water reactor, the kind most likely exportable. Much of the work on this reactor has been done in a wooded zone in the science town of New Melekes, across the Volga River and 60 miles east of Ulyanovsk.
