SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American air blows against North Viet Nam surged upward Wednesday for the second straight day with the weather again clear over Communist targets, the U.S. Command said today.

Four Young Marines Die In Flames

LOS ANGELES (AP) — As a veteran firefighter—sobbing in recollection and grimacing in pain—described how 10 of his men were killed, disaster struck again.

BOTH DISASTERS

The Marines were on high ground overlooking a canyon called Piedra de Lumbre—Rock of Fire—at Camp Pendleton 80 miles south of Los Angeles.

Three hundred men controlled the fire, one of several which scorched 5,000 acres of harsh, brown land on the base.

Twenty-five miles northwest of Los Angeles, near Sylmar and Pacoima, the 2,100-acre blaze that killed the Forest Service crew was contained in Ventura County, and in the nearby Santa Susana Mountains, fire fighters had the upper hand over smaller fires.

"SOME DIDN'T" From his hospital bed the leader of the Forest Service group, George King, 32, described through blistered lips the loss of 10 of his men near Pacoima Reservoir.

"We were making headway," said King. "Then the wind suddenly stopped. Twenty seconds of stillness.

"Then it became a hill of hell. It happened so fast. The fire was on top of us. I saw it coming."

"I yelled 'Move out! Move out!' The rest of the crew saw it too. Everybody knew where to go—to a safety zone we picked out."

"Some made it. Some didn't." The four Marines killed were identified today as:

Lance Cpl. Roger L. Zarbok, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman H. Zarbok of St. Paul, Minn.

Pfc. Leslie W. Hendrix, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hendrix of Keyes, Calif.

Pfc. Cecil J. Henshaw, son of Mrs. Hazel K. Henshaw of Bellevue, Wash.

Pvt. Lewis W. Connor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyal B. Connor of Kenova, W. Va.

'Flying Circus' Performance Neatly Executed

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The United States today fired the opening shot in its plan to develop a military man-in-space program by hurling an unmanned, modified Gemini capsule over a scorching sub-orbital path. Then the same Air Force rocket orbited four satellites, one carrying a batch of satellite decoys.

The launching of the Gemini craft over a 33-minute ballistic course was the first test of hardware to be used in the Manned Orbiting Laboratory program, which expects its first manned flight in 1969.

Goal of the program is to determine what military duties man can perform in space. Purpose of today's test was to see whether the Gemini, with a circular access hatch cut in the protective heat shield, could survive blistering re-entry temperatures.

The Air Force reported the Gemini survived the punishing trip and parachuted into the Atlantic about 5,000 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy, seven miles from the aiming point.

The "flying circus" act was neatly executed by a huge Titan 3 rocket which burst away from Cape Kennedy at 8:31 a.m. and performed a series of space acrobatics in sending its multiple payload over a roller coaster path.

Close Friend Says Dr. Sam Put Pressure

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — J. Spencer Houk returns to the witness stand today in the murder retrial of Samuel H. Sheppard after he testified what he went through as a close friend of the family when Marilyn Sheppard was murdered over 12 years ago.

'I DID NOT'

"I did not," Houk said. Bailey then asked Houk if he thought that Sheppard's two older brothers, Drs. Stephen A. and Richard N., or Sheppard himself, were responsible for the "finger of suspicion pointing in your direction."

"I had a feeling they were trying to tell me something," Houk replied.

Sheppard, 42, served nine years of a second-degree murder conviction before a U.S. Supreme Court ruling freed him.

Bailey continued his questioning. Did Houk feel there was pressure on him during the investigation?

'NO PICNIC'

"Well, it certainly was no picnic," he said. Was he angered when Sheppard's brothers accused him of having "affection for Marilyn?"

"I don't believe I was angered," he replied. Under questioning by County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan, Houk recounted the day Marilyn was found dead in her second-floor bedroom at the Sheppards' lake front home, three houses from where the Houks lived.

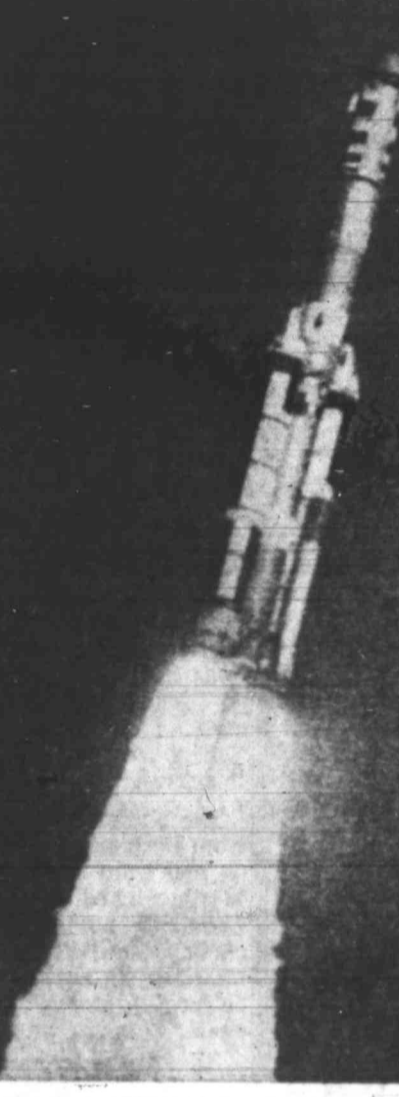

Houk said he was awakened about 5:45 a.m. by a telephone call from Sheppard, and quoted the former osteopath as saying: "My God, Spen, get over here quick. I think they killed Marilyn."

Houk said he and his wife Esther were the first outsiders on the scene and arrived in five minutes. He said he saw Sheppard "half-sitting, half-slumping down in an easy chair in the den."

Houk said Sheppard told him he had seen a man going out the door near the lake. Sheppard has maintained that a bushy-haired stranger murdered his wife.

Houk and his wife were divorced in 1962 and she is a potential witness in the retrial that started Oct. 24.

YOUR Vote Counts! But it counts only if you cast it!

Tricky Blast

The Air Force Titan 3 rocket takes off on the first unmanned flight of the Manned Orbiting Laboratory program test with a modified Gemini capsule that is to be hurled over a 5,000-mile course as part of a "Flying Circus" act.

Freezing Weather Spreads In Texas

Freezing weather spread deeper into Texas today, extending all the way to the upper coast, but temperatures weren't as severe as at some points the day before.

Skies were mostly clear and many areas had just enough wind to accent the chill.

Early morning marks ranged down to 23 degrees at Texarkana, 25 at the Gregg County airport outside Longview and 27 at Tyler in East Texas.

Readings were as much as a dozen degrees higher than at the same hour Wednesday in the Panhandle, where the mercury sank to 28 at Amarillo and 29 at Dalhart. El Paso on the state's western tip registered 30.

Warnings for a freeze in the Lower Rio Grande Valley were cancelled as early as Wednesday evening. Temperatures there were brisk again, however, with 38 at McAllen and 41 at Brownsville.

Forecast called for continued fair weather and it was due to be somewhat warmer tonight in Central and East Texas. A little cooling was expected Friday over most of the state's interior.

$150,000 Fire

HUTCHINS, Tex. (AP) — Fire caused an estimated $150,000 damage today at the Jetstream Rubber Co. plant south of Dallas.

The fire began about 9 p.m. Wednesday and burned through the night.

Japan To Rely On Uncle Sam For Protection

Despite Red China's Atom Warhead Shot

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Eisaku Sato says that despite Communist China's explosion of a missile-borne nuclear warhead Japan will continue to rely on the United States for its security from nuclear attack.

"We have the capacity to develop nuclear weapons, but we are not doing so," Sato said. "Our policy is adherence to the nonproliferation of nuclear weapons. We depend on the United States (for protection)."

In an Associated Press interview Sato also praised President Johnson's trip to the Far East because of its possible contribution to the search for peace in Viet Nam.

SEEKS STABILITY

He declared that Japan, as the greatest industrial power in Asia, but a power which has "abandoned expansion and militarism," is ready to play a major role in trying to bring social and economic stability to the region.

Johnson emphasized repeatedly in his Far Eastern speeches that the United States would back Asian nations in establishing a new international system in this part of the world — meaning a system of non-Communist countries confronted by the growing power of Red China.

U.S. officials hope that Japan will take the lead in this enterprise, perhaps developing a kind of Marshall Plan for Asian development.

VIET PROBLEM

The most urgent problems worrying Japanese and other Far Eastern leaders today, however, are peace in Viet Nam and what to do about China's emerging nuclear power.

Last week Peking announced explosion of a nuclear warhead delivered on target in the test area by a guided missile.

U.S. experts on China's nuclear resources say Peking's latest achievement proves it a step nearer to the time when all the countries of the Far-East will lie under direct threat of Chinese nuclear attack.

The two biggest countries, Japan and India, so far have taken the position they would not undertake to build nuclear weapons systems of their own.

Lone Survivor

American Plays Dead To Survive

121ST EVACUATION HOSPITAL, South Korea (AP) — "We just didn't have a chance," said a shaken 17-year-old American soldier who played dead during the Communist ambush which killed the other seven members of his patrol south of the Korean demilitarized zone Wednesday.

"After it was over," said Pfc. David E. Bibee, of Ringgold, Va., "I crawled over to my buddy, there was nothing I could do for him. He was sucking blood. I started praying for him, but there was nothing I could do. We just didn't have a chance. They seemed to come from behind. The only thing I could make out was that there were at least six of them."

"He was a brave guy," he said. "He could have run away, but he stuck with us."

One of Bibee's doctors said he arrived at the hospital with numerous small punctures in his right leg and shoulder and upper left leg, apparently from grenade fragments.

Jury Convicts New Mexico Man In Murder Case

CLEBURNE, Tex. (AP) — A New Mexico man, Paul Neeb, 42, was convicted today of murder of his wife's boy friend and placed on five years' probation.

Neeb, of Jal, N.M., must report to a probation officer once each month under the sentence issued by the jury.

The state asked the death penalty, while the defense pleaded self-defense. Neeb is charged with the fatal shooting Sept. 10 of Charles A. Ingram, 34, of Burleson, Tex., who had been dating Neeb's estranged wife. She is 23.

Neeb testified that he shot Ingram as Ingram pulled a pistol from his pocket. Neeb said he had asked Ingram to leave his wife and three children alone.

'THERE IS DANGER IN DEEP DIVISION' Johnson Appeals For American Unity

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, home from his historic mission to the Far East, has appealed for unity behind American policy in Viet Nam for "where there is a deep division in a land, there is danger."

In Viet Nam is far from done, but he said Asians—the people closest to the arena of conflict—know that Communist aggression there must be defeated.

no American withdrawal from Viet Nam until there are peace talks.

greet the President, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., listened in the rain as Johnson reported: "It has been my hope and my prayer since I took leave of you that this journey and the meeting at Manila would help move things faster in the right directions. History will decide. No new treaties were made. No new commitments were offered."

Johnson said America's task

Opening lead: Seven of ♠ Today's hand resulted in a standstill when it was dealt in this year's World Championship match between Italy and the United States. At both tables, South became declarer at a contract of three no trump and, although he could have been defeated, neither defensive pair uncovered a successful attack.

The bidding sequence given in the diagram occurred at the table where the North-South cards held the North-South cards. South took the conservative course, when he rebid only two clubs over his partner's one-spade response. North gave him another chance, however, by offering a sporting raise to three clubs. South did not duly further and proceeded directly to three no trump.

West opened the seven of hearts. East put up the ace and returned the ten which was covered by declarer's jack. For reasons best known to himself, West permitted the jack to hold. South played the ace of clubs and when both defenders followed suit, he quickly ran for cover with nine tricks—six clubs and one trick in every other suit.

At the other table, East opened the bidding with one spade. The Italian player seated South made a take-out double over which West bid two hearts. North and South subsequently reached three no trump with no further competition from their opponents.

It appeared to the American seated West that his opponent was well prepared for a heart lead and he chose to make a safer opening of the queen of diamonds from his complete sequence. Unfortunately, his partner, who desired a heart lead since he held the ace, did not register any enthusiasm when the queen of diamonds appeared. East followed suit with the four, still bent on obtaining a heart play.

South ducked the queen of diamonds and West dutifully shifted to the seven of hearts. East put up the ace and, though he was still in position to clear the diamonds, he returned the ten of hearts thereby establishing a ninth trick in that suit for the declarer.

Observe that, if the defense drives out the ace of diamonds before setting up South's queen of hearts, the later must fall one trick short of his goal. After running his club suit, declarer may try the spade finesse in an attempt to make his contract. If he does so, East will be in with the king of spades and now the defense can take the remaining tricks to set South down by two.

Small Firms Land Defense Agency Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department, largest spending agency in the world, is spreading more of its business around. It's boosted the percentage of contracts to small business firms by one-third since 1962.

Pentagon figures showed today that small firms received $12.7 billion in contracts and subcontracts in fiscal year 1966, which ended last June 30. This was a jump of 43 per cent over 1965 and the highest total since the Defense Department began keeping records in 1951.

SHARES SPENDING
Measured another way, this means 28,000 small businesses around the nation shared in the increased defense spending this year, said Albert C. Lazure, director of the Pentagon's small business program.

"We really started putting a strong emphasis on small businesses about four years ago," Lazure said in an interview. The small business directorate subsequently was upgraded and now employs 661 persons across the nation who act as talent scouts for the Pentagon, trying to interest competent little firms to bid for major defense contracts.

GOVERNMENT FEARS
"It's amazing the number of people who are afraid of government," Lazure said. To overcome these fears, he added, the Pentagon sponsors a series of clinics aimed at teaching operators of small firms that "things aren't as bad as they seem. A lot of red tape can be overcome."

Another major step, Lazure said, was Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's recent order liberalizing regulations and permitting advance payments to small businessmen "to get them over the hump."

$33.9 BILLION
Big business, which got the bulk of the $33.9 billion the Pentagon awarded to U.S. firms this year, does its share too.

The top 714 prime contractors all have their own versions of small business programs — prompted by the Defense Department's policy of putting clauses in all major contracts urging the big firms to subcontract wherever possible to small firms.

It Didn't Really Snow In Dallas

What's a gal to do when she wants a snow scene for her Christmas cards and the long range weather forecast doesn't even mention a flurry of white? Well, Doris Dudley Jackson, Dallas realtor, did a real snow job. She hired a firm that specializes in firefighting equipment to spray foam all over the grounds at her home. Some 800,000 gallons of white stuff later Doris is pictured in her own "winter wonderland." (AP WIREPHOTO)

Power System Changes Make Blackout 'Impossible'

TORONTO (AP) — Improvements in North America's power system are making a recurrence of the Big Blackout a year ago virtually impossible, the chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission says.

The blackout Nov. 9 extended from northern Ontario to Florida and from the Atlantic Coast to the United States Midwest. About 25 million persons, including those in the New York metropolitan area, were without power for periods ranging from one to 12 hours.

Heath Quits Regent Post

AUSTIN (AP)—W. W. Heath quit Wednesday as chairman of the University of Texas board of regents because, he said, "Business and professional commitments" left him without enough time to devote to the post.

Heath, 62, has been chairman of the regents since 1962. A university spokesman said Heath would remain a member of the board. His term on the board has four more years to run.

The resignation is effective Dec. 1. Vice Chairman Frank Erwin of Austin, Democratic national committeeman, is expected to act as chairman until the board reorganizes in January, when the terms of three present members expire.

Heath was appointed to the board eight years ago by Gov. Price Daniel. Gov. John Connally reappointed him in 1964 to a second six-year term. The board picked him as chairman in 1962 and reelected him in 1964.

"This has been my most rewarding experience, and I now wish to share it with whomever the board may choose to succeed me," Heath said of the chairmanship.

"These have been eight exciting years; they have been most rewarding and yet ever increasingly time consuming," Heath said in a statement. "The chairmanship of the board of regents is a high honor which I deeply appreciate yet during recent years its responsibilities have greatly increased."

He said he would, as chairman, submit to the governor a final report of the state of the university.

'Perfectly Proper' Says Key Bircher

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The national public relations director for the John Birch Society says it's "perfectly proper" to keep asking political candidates if they belong to the society.

"The members of the John Birch Society are proud of their membership and proud to say so," John Rousselot told the Phoenix Press Club Wednesday night.

Delaware Rips Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State of Delaware fired an angry blast at the Supreme Court today for refusing to hear a suit challenging the electoral college system.

In effect, Delaware Atty. Gen. David P. Buckson accused the court of violating the U.S. Constitution.

The court is required by the Constitution to settle disputes between the states, Buckson told the justices, and its refusal to give Delaware a hearing denies the state "due process of law in violation of the Fifth Amendment."

'WINNER TAKE ALL'
Last summer, while the court was in recess, Delaware asked permission to file its suit challenging the constitutionality of the "winner take all" electoral system. Under this procedure all of a state's electoral votes are cast, as a unit, for the presidential nominee who received a plurality of the popular votes in the state.

Though neither the Constitution nor federal law requires this system, it is in use in all the states and the District of Columbia.

DISCRIMINATES

Delaware claimed the procedure discriminates against voters in smaller states by making their votes less meaningful than those of voters in the larger states.

It sued the 49 other states and the district. Twelve states eventually lined up with Delaware while New York asked the court to reject the challenge.

This suit did not on Oct. 17, giving no explanation.

Today, Buckson petitioned the court for reconsideration.

Three More Men Linked To Dallas Bank Holdup

DALLAS (AP)—Three more men have been arrested on charges stemming from the $27,550 holdup Oct. 17 of the Trinity National Bank of Dallas.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Tim Timmins identified them as Manuel T. Carter and Richard Wayne Adams, both 32, and Eugene Harold Britton, about 25.

Carter, jailed in lieu of $10,000 bond Wednesday, is charged with aiding and abetting the crime by driving the truck in which Ralph Lawson Browning allegedly fled from the bank after he held it up.

Browning, charged with bank robbery, is held under $50,000 bond set by U.S. Commissioner William E. Smith.

Carter also is charged with having received $100 of the stolen money.

Adams and Britton are charged with having received $1,750 and $350, respectively, of the loot. Both went free Wednesday after posting $1,500 bonds.

Last Minute Pact Averts Houston Bus Strike

HOUSTON (AP) — City bus drivers voted shortly before 3 a.m. today to accept a new two-year contract instead of striking.

Word of the agreement came after midnight from spokesmen for Rapid Transit Lines and Transport Workers Union Local 260. It was reached in negotiations lasting throughout the day and night.

"The drivers voted to go to work as usual today," said M. D. Hendrix, president of the local.

PAY INCREASE
He said the contract provides for a pay increase of 13 cents an hour the first year and an additional 12 cents the second year.

The union had sought hourly raises of 30 cents for the first year and 15 cents the second. In the past the starting wage has been $2.46 an hour, going up to $2.55 after 15 months.

Hendrix said the agreement also provides for improvements in pension, holidays, vacation and welfare trust benefits.

Pickets appeared at the city bus terminal five minutes after the old contract expired at midnight but they withdrew 35 minutes later, telling newsmen a new contract had been proposed.

560 DRIVERS
The 560 drivers employed by Rapid Transit Lines voted authorization for a strike last week unless an agreement was reached before the old one expired.

Stanley H. Gates, vice president and general manager of Rapid Transit Lines, had said it was impossible to grant wages and other benefits sought by the drivers without more flexibility in schedules and work procedure. He also said it would be necessary to raise fares.

Gates estimated the union demands would add $1.75 million a year to company operating costs.

Nearly 100,000 passengers ride the buses daily.

Driving Safety Booklet Goes To Young People

A new teenage-oriented safe driving publication, called "Welcome to the Highway," is being distributed to public, private and parochial high schools throughout the state in a new approach to the problem of improving highway safety.

Designed to appeal to all teenagers, whether they are months away from receiving a driver's license or already are licensed drivers, it is published and distributed by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company as a public service.

The 24-page, four-color booklet points out in realistic illustrations and language the difference between independence and recklessness. And it stresses the importance of mature driving attitudes.

Two years of intensive research involving safety authorities, educators, clergymen, parents and teenagers themselves went into development of the safe driving booklet, company officials report.

Political Friction Way Of Life In Viet

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Friction is a constant way of life, in the politics of South Viet Nam.

The friction discernible now could ignite a new political explosion. The Americans and their allies in Viet Nam's frustrating war are keeping their fingers crossed. They pin their hopes on an odd sort of stability which has marked the rule of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and the 10 men associated with him in the ruling military junta.

Here the word "stability," as so many other words, is a relative term. At the moment, on the surface, the position of the flamboyant young air vice-marshal who runs the show seems fairly secure.

SIGNS WATCHED
Will it last? The history of Saigon governments since President Ngo Dinh Diem was overthrown three years ago has been one of coup, countercoup, plots and confusion.

The answer seems to be this: The Ky regime will last as long as the generals in the junta, "the national leadership committee," remain on his side.

Two members of the junta will be watched for signs pointing one way or another. Lt. Gen. Nguyen Huu Co, who is considered a capable military officer, has suffered from widespread rumors, and there are reports that he has aroused the anger of Americans here. He may be marked for oblivion. He is believed to have the loyalty of a group of influential military men. Any attempt to oust him from the junta could provoke crisis.

COMMANDS DELTA
The other junta member being watched is Lt. Gen. Dang Van Quang. He commands the 4th Corps in the Mekong delta, where half of South Viet Nam's population lives. Quang has, in the past, opposed the introduction of large American units in the delta, complaining that Americans did not know how to deal with Vietnamese. The Vietnamese there are not showing much talent in that direction either.

The Americans, however, are going in, probably soon and in force, whether or not Quang has changed his mind in recent months. The delta is one key to the war, scene of the bloodiest fighting at village and hamlet level. Civilian casualties there are painfully high. The brunt of fighting and heavy losses is borne by irregular regional, district and village forces rather than the regular Republic of Viet Nam forces.

Court Docket Keeping Pace

District Court's criminal and civil docket nearly kept an even keel in the number of active cases on file in October.

Fern Cox, district court clerk, said that the month began with 1,031 cases. Sixty-three new cases were filed and 58 were disposed of. This left the total on hand as of Oct. 31, only five ahead of the total for the first of the month.

Divorce suits, for a change, diminished 10 in the month. There were 227 when the month began. Twenty new cases were filed, and 30 were disposed of. Twenty-six of these were decrees granted by the court and four were dismissed. This left the total at 217 when the month ended.

Annulments remained unchanged with four on file, no new cases and no dispositions during October. The same applied to tax suits—308 at the first and the end of the month.

Other civil cases began October with 439 on file. Twenty new cases were presented and 21 were disposed of during the month. Fifteen were tried by the court, six were dismissed, leaving the final total at 441.

Criminal cases increased by eight. There were 53 on file Oct. 1. Twenty new indictments were filed. Six were disposed of before the court and one was dismissed. This left 66 on file as of Oct. 31.

Veteran Election Official Moves

Loy Acuff, veteran election judge at Voting Pct. No. 2 (Washington Place School) has removed from that precinct and can no longer serve as judge.

Replacing him will be Mrs. Jane Thomas. Mrs. Thomas, wife of Dr. Clyde Thomas Jr., lives at 400 Washington.

Her assistant judges are Mrs. Oliver Cofer and Mrs. Carl Coleman.

Mrs. Thomas will officiate as judge at the general election Tuesday.

The Acuffs, who formerly lived at 107 Washington, have recently moved to the southwest part of town.

Washington School voting box is the second largest polling place in the county. It has a potential total of more than 1,700 votes.

Texan Dies In Ambush

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Texan was among six American soldiers killed by North Korean troops in a pre-dawn ambush this week in South Korea, the Pentagon has announced.

He was Pvt. Leslie L. Hasty, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton L. Hasty, 715 S. May, Palestine.

The Defense Department also said that Marine Lance Cpl. John T. Bradford of Fort Worth has died in Viet Nam from causes other than hostile action. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie M. Bradford, 1905 Portland St.

Not Even For The Birds

When you're a native of South America, a quick November snow seems mighty chilly. A Macaw parrot shivered on top of a snow covered picnic table Wednesday at the Washington Park Zoo in Indianapolis. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Blind Piano Tuner Missing

DETROIT (AP) — Snow was pelting down, the thermometer stood at freezing, and the woman said: "We've not had a word. I was just thinking what Thanksgiving will be this year for my daughter. There's no heat in the house. The furnace has been out since June, and the hot water heater isn't working now, either."

The woman speaking was Corene Reetz. The daughter is partially blind. Mrs. Gerald E. Henke, 30, of suburban Southfield, whose blind piano tuner husband vanished last March 4. Henke's disappearance still is high on the "unsolved" list of suburban Southfield police, and the Detroit FBI office maintains an active missing persons file on him.

NO TRACE

Police say they've followed more than a hundred leads — some from as far away as Washington, Mexico and Kentucky — without uncovering a trace.

A nationwide Associated Press story about the missing man moved 12 days after he vanished. It was accompanied by a photograph, which showed the 6-foot-2½ Henke's outstanding characteristics, a widow's peak in his brown hair and a depression over his right temple.

New Transmitter For County Here

Sheriff A. N. Standard said that the radio transmitter for use by his office has arrived and that installation should begin next week.

The new transmitter, which will eliminate a rental deal the department now has with the city police radio, will be put in service as quickly as possible, the sheriff said.

Authorized by the county commissioners, the transmitter represents a total investment of about $5,900, of which the Civil Defense and county each will absorb half.

The equipment (Motorola) will be installed in the court house. The antenna system is already in place on top of the building. The auxiliary power system, with buried fuel tank, has been installed in the basement. This is for use in any emergency when normal power sources might fail.

Cables from the antenna to the three points where the transmitter can be operated have already been run.

The sheriff said that the transmitter proper and control panel will be set up in the room at the west end of the sheriff's quarters. Another control panel will be in the main office where the dispatcher is seated. A third panel will be in the quarters of the county jailer on the fourth floor.

A monitoring station will be installed in the offices of the highway patrol.

The county has had an agreement with the city police, paying $1,200 annually for more than 15 years. The new transmitter will give his department a better direct communications system with patrol cars and other law enforcement agencies and that, within a few years, its cost will be absorbed by the savings in rental fees, Standard said.

Illness Takes S. Sgt. Hedge

S. Sgt. Francis M. Hedge, 35, died Wednesday in Wilford Hall Hospital at Lackland AFB of pneumonia following a serious illness.

He was a native of Bethany, Okla.

He arrived at Webb AFB Jan. 24 of this year, and was assigned as a supervisory fire fighter in the fire department of civil engineering of the 3560th Air Base Group in Headquarters Squadron.

He is survived by his wife, Pamela Hedge; three children, Theresa, Hedge, S. Marica Hedge, 5, and Ladonna, Hedge, 1, all of the home in Lake Charles, La.

Funeral arrangements are being made at Lackland AFB.

Henry Fowler Service Friday

LAMESA (SC)—Services for Earl Homer Fowler, 64, Lamesa sewing machine agency operator, will be at 2 p.m. Friday in the Branon-Phillips Funeral Home chapel. Burial will be in the Lamesa Memorial Park. The Rev. Howell Watkins of the Northridge Methodist Church will officiate.

Mr. Fowler died Wednesday afternoon in a Lubbock hospital where he had undergone surgery several weeks ago. He had recently returned to the hospital.

He was born Jan. 9, 1902, in Canton and moved to Dawson County in 1938 from Lubbock. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Evelyn Fowler, Lamesa; three daughters, Mrs. Margaret Davis, Henryetta, Okla.; Mrs. Harvey Hayes, Dallas; Mrs. David Gavras, Wichita, Kan.; one son, Edward H. Fowler, Tulsa; two sisters, Mrs. Gladys Ervin, Muskogee, Okla., and Mrs. E. P. Seabolt, Wichita, Kan.; two brothers, Joe W. Fowler, Casper, Wyo., and Don B. Fowler, Austin. There are eight grandchildren.

Palbearers for the services will be Alva A. Jarrett, Robert Koger, Ed Tinsley, Bowers Pucell, R. C. Lott and Dick Breen.

Grace Hatchett Dies Today

Miss Jewel Grace Hatchett, 1963 Johnson, died at 9:40 a.m. today at her home. She had been in failing health for several months.

Funeral services are pending at the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Miss Hatchett was born May 26, 1906, in Erath County, Texas, and came to Big Spring with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hatchett in 1924 from Tahoka. She was graduated from Big Spring High School in 1926 and attended Draughn's Business College in Abilene.

She worked as an accountant and secretary, including 14 years with W. D. Coffey & Associates in Los Angeles. Since 1962 she had made her home here with her sister, Miss Edith Hatchett, who is a member of the First Baptist Church.

Surviving her are four sisters, Mrs. R. V. Jones and Miss Edith Hatchett, Big Spring; Mrs. Pascal Peak, Eugene, Ore., and Mrs. Bertha Greenfield, Brownfield; and one brother, Herbert H. Hatchett, Casa Grande, Ariz.

Two Sales Reduce Earnings Slightly

AMARILLO — Net income of Pioneer Natural Gas Company and subsidiaries for the first nine months of 1966 amounted to $5,457,820, C. I. Wall, president, disclosed at a meeting of the board of directors held here today.

These earnings of 76 cents per share on the 7,173,028 shares outstanding compare with $5.921,849 or 83 cents per share for the first nine months of 1965. Consolidated operating revenues for the nine months of 1966 were $41,186,171, an increase of $898,390 from the same period of the prior year.

Net earnings for the third quarter were $1,280,168 or 18 cents per share from revenues of $12,271,118, a decrease from the third quarter of 1965 when net earnings were $1,556,933 or 22 cents per share from revenues of $12,739,664.

Disposition of two unprofitable isolated distribution systems resulted in a non-recurring net loss of $123,000 in August, and unseasonal rains caused September irrigation sales to fall approximately one million dollars below those of the same month of 1965, Wall said.

The board of directors declared a quarterly dividend of 18 cents per share (up one cent) on the outstanding common stock, payable Dec. 1, 1966 to stockholders of record Nov. 18, 1966.

Absentee Voting To End Friday

With deadline for absentee voting only one day off, 256 Howard County electors have used that method to vote in the Tuesday general election.

Deadline for acceptance of absentee votes is 5 p.m. Friday.

Of the 256 absentee votes handed, 77 have been mailed out of the county and 149 have been cast in the clerk's office.

Several Thefts Are Reported

Several thefts are under investigation by police.

Mrs. Ralph Barries, 1901 Alabama, reported a bicycle stolen.

The Spanish Inn Cafe reported several men took the door keys Wednesday.

An unknown amount of money was taken from the soft drink machine in front of the Premier Service Station, 610 Lamesa Highway. Zolite T. James, 1600 Oriole, reported tools valued at $200 were taken from his parked pickup.

Webb Military And Civilian Gifts Pep Up United Fund

The United Fund received a surge today, thanks to the military and civilian personnel at Webb AFB, who turned in another $4,000, making their contributions to the drive $11,301.48.

The over-all total of the United Fund now stands at $90,977.26.

Field Maintenance Squadron and Hospital joined the units which have achieved over 100 per cent in Webb's UF donations. Contributions moved in briskly during the week, putting the base at approximately 50 per cent of its over-all goal.

Contributions from civilian personnel are lagging, and Warren A. Farrow, chief of civilian personnel, has asked for increased efforts to bring the civilian returns up.

In other reports, DCO had achieved 85 per cent of its goal; DCM, 75 per cent; and Air Base Group, 71 per cent. Among tenant units, the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron had reached 88 per cent; Communications Squadron, 64 per cent; Weather, 56 per cent; and Field Training Detachment, 49 per cent. MED and Rescue had completed their drives, with over 100 per cent participation.

County Nears Bond Quota

Howard County is within nine per cent of reaching its United States Savings Bonds quota for the year, and District 4 is nearing four-fifths of the way to reaching its annual goal.

One of the most remarkable records, however, has been achieved by Martin County. With sales of $2,138 through September, Martin County had aggregated $28,624, or 143 per cent of its quota according to County Chairman James Jones.

Martin County had approached oil-rich Andrews County with sales of only $37,602.

If the September sale figure is maintained throughout the district through this month, the district quota will be reached. The seven counties in the district had sales of $113,360 during September, making $84,376 for the year, or 77 per cent of quota, said Larson Lloyd, Big Spring, chairman.

Reports of September sales (and cumulative in parentheses) and per cent of quota by counties showed: Andrews $2,899 ($37,607); 47; Dawson $6,088 ($90,946); 51; Gaines $3,470 ($50,946); 73; Howard $72,661 ($500,646); 91; Martin $2,138 ($28,624); 143; Mitchell $20,795 ($104,558); 89; Scurry $5,319 ($71,292); 55.

Fire Department Has Resignation

Ronald Shaw is the 27th man to resign from the fire department this year. He gave Chief H.S.V. Crocker notice Wednesday, and will leave his post Dec. 6. The chief is now taking applications to fill two vacancies in his department. Shaw worked in the Eleventh and Birdwell Lane station; the other vacancy is at the downtown station.

Merchants Take Starlac Off Sale

Lige Fox, sanitarian for the city-county health unit, said today that Big Spring food merchants were removing Starlac, a milk powder preparation, from shelves. Borden Company had issued word for all this material to be called in after there were reports that salmonella bacteria had been spotted in some samples. Many merchants here did not wait for direct word after hearing news reports, said Fox.

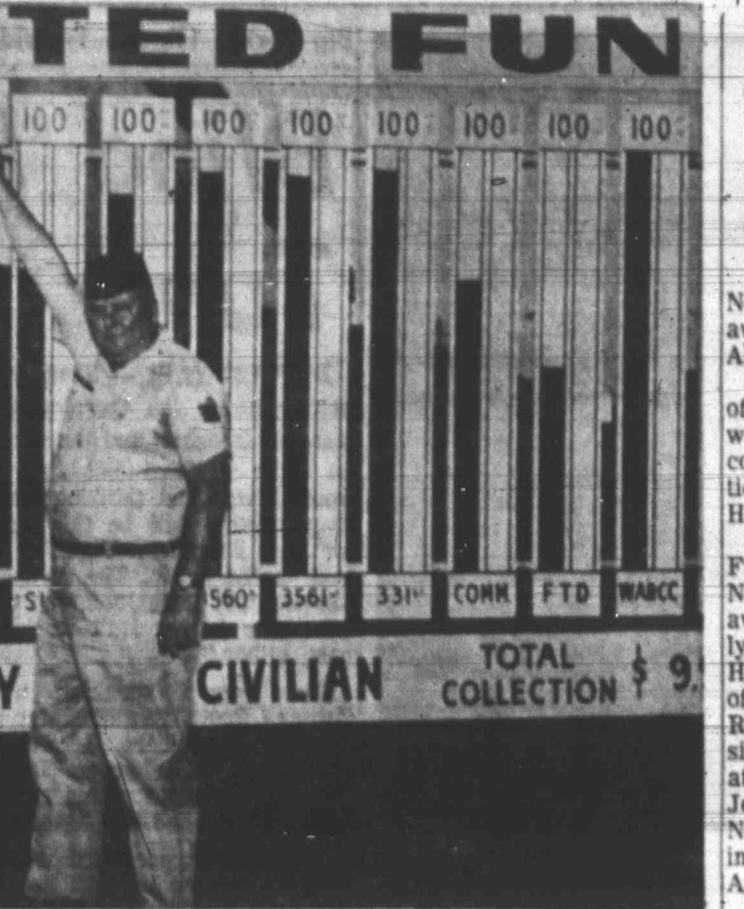

Rather than take any chances with any of the product, Borden asked that it be removed from shelves and offered to take back any that had been bought recently.

Bid Date Altered On Base Contract

Changes to the invitation to bidders for a contract covering trash and rubbish removal from Webb Air Force Base were announced this morning by Webb's procurement office.

Bids for the contract will be received until Dec. 7, instead of the previously announced Dec. 1, in the office, building 625 at Webb.

The resultant contract will be for a six-month period, beginning Jan. 1. Reception of bids has been extended from Nov. 24 until Nov. 30.

Squadron Goal Attained
Maj. James R. Hamilton, Field Maintenance Squadron commander, and M. Sgt. Johny R. Parks, squadron first sergeant, point out the goal their men met in the Webb AFB United Fund drive.

City Has Four Motor Mishaps

Four minor automobile mishaps were reported Wednesday, with no major damage or injuries listed.

Dora Armistead, 910 W. 4th and Ruby Neill, Rt. 1, were in collision at Sixth and Runnels.

At Fifth and Gregg, crashing motorists were Gace T. Grandstaff, Box 1167, and Thelma May Schakke, Rt. 2. On the Gibson's parking lot, the parked car of James A. Coggins, 2304 Alabama, was hit by another car that left the scene. On the 69 Cafe parking lot on IS 20, William Benjamin Moore, Rt. 4 was involved in a crash with a parked tractor-trailer.

County Tax Collections Approximate 85 Per Cent

Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector, estimated today that at least 85 per cent of the Howard County ad valorem tax payers will benefit from the October three per cent discount plan.

Deadline for such discount fell on Wednesday at midnight.

A small mountain of mail has accumulated on Mrs. LeFevre's desk in the past few days—tax remittances sent by mail last month, and entitled to the three per cent discount. She said that it will take a week to officially enter these payments and dis-

Organist Here Today

Mrs. Wilma Jensen, Oklahoma City, will be presented at 8 p.m. today in an organ concert at the First Methodist Church. This is a free public service of the West Texas chapter of the American Guild of Organists.

Mrs. Jensen has been playing since she was a small girl and is rated as one of the leading organists in the country. She will be playing on the church's new $77,000 Reuter organ. The public is invited.

Weather Forecast

Snow flurries are predicted Thursday night for an area extending from northern New England through the St. Lawrence Valley into the southeastern Lakes region. There will be showers over the central Pacific coast. It will be colder in the Atlantic coastal states and the central plateaus and plains. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Nobel Physics Prize Awarded

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The 1966 Nobel Prize for physics was awarded today to French physicist Alfred Kastler of Paris.

The Royal Swedish Academy of Science said the $60,000 prize was given Kastler for "the discovery and development of optical methods for studying Hertzian resonances in atoms."

The award to the 65-year-old French physicist was the third Nobel Prize for medicine went jointly on Oct. 13 to Dr. Charles Huggins, 65, of the University of Chicago, and Dr. Peyton Rous, 85, of Rockefeller University in New York, and the literature prize was awarded to two Jewish writers on Oct. 20 — Nelly Sachs, 75, who now lives in Sweden, and Samuel Joseph Agnon, 78, of Israel.

The Norwegian Nobel Committee which awards the peace prize has announced it will not be given this year.

Prof. Kastler, of Ecole Normale Supérieure in Paris, was born in 1902 at Guebwiller in Alsace. In 1941 he moved to Paris and the work for which he was awarded the prize today was carried out in his laboratory at Ecole Normale Supérieure.

WORK LISTED

The academy gave this account of the work for which the prize was given:

In the narrow spectral lines of atoms and molecules their structure is reflected and the different states in which they can exist, disclosed as an ascending series of sharply defined levels of energy. Equally sharply determined is the light, or radiation, which appears when an excited molecule reverts from a state of higher energy to some lower energy level and in so doing rids itself of the excess energy through emission of radiation.

There are radiations which correspond to a key which to perform a screw-headed motion, right- or left-handed. When there is an accurate fit radiation and molecule will play together like a string reached by sound of the pitch—it was tuned to in resonance.

"RADIATION KEYS"

Kastler in 1949 proposed an idea, based on the use of such "radiation keys," to open insight into the structure of atoms, to begin with in mercury vapors and later in other metal vapors.

The method of having atomic energy levels revealing their positions and other properties themselves, through resonance, is called double resonance because it employs two keys, one pertaining to radiation in or near the visible spectrum, the other related to such radiation as with radio or microwaves.

Kastler discovered a method to prepare molecules or atoms in the ground state, not in the commonly occupied sublevels thereof, but abnormally displaced to some other sublevel. This he accomplished through a process which he called optical pumping.

Acting on orders from its guidance system, the transtage pitched nose up, ignited two more times and pushed a 38-foot-long canister — representing the Mariner Orbiting Laboratory—into a circular orbit 184 miles above the earth.

Minutes later, the decoy and communications satellites were fired out of spring-loaded tubes in the nose of the canister, serving as a "space bus." The orbiting canister carried nine experiments.

WTCC Names Publicity Chief

Jack Nixon Jr., Abilene, has been named publicity director for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, according to an announcement by John Ben Shepperd, president of the organization.

The appointment came as a result of a decision to expand the advertising and publicity services of WTCC and to emphasize the importance of tourism as a West Texas asset. The board's recommendation includes a complete revamping of the format of the monthly magazine, "West Texas Today."

Nixon will have the responsibility of editing the new magazine and will handle all publicity for the organization.

Nixon has been active in the WTCC for several years and is widely acquainted in the West Texas area, having lived most of his life in Brownwood, Balinger, El Paso and Abilene.

Chicago Prof Grabs Nobel

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The 1966 Nobel Prize for chemistry was awarded today to Prof. Robert S. Mulliken of the University of Chicago.

Mulliken, born in Massachusetts in 1896, was awarded the prize for "his fundamental work concerning chemical bonds and the electronic structure of molecules by the molecular orbital method," the Swedish Academy of Science said.

Mulliken received his Ph.D. in physical chemistry at the University of Chicago in 1921. Afterward, he held positions at Harvard and New York University, until he rejoined the University of Chicago in 1928. Since 1931 he has been professor of physics there.

TEXANS AT WAR

Bullet Leaves Mangled Scar

By The Associated Press

The date was Oct. 5, 1962, but for Maj. Ray A. Houts, 32, twice a Texan at War, it could have been only last week.

"I heard the burst," said Houts, a member of the first helicopter unit to be committed to Viet Nam.

"It came from directly beneath the aircraft. . . . The clouds were low and we had to fly low over the objective area to spot fleeing Viet Cong.

"They just opened up on me with an automatic weapon.

'ONE GOT ME'

"The aircraft took five bullets, and only one of them got me. . . . It may have been the first that hit me because I sure didn't hear anymore after that."

The bullet tore a huge hole above Houts' ankle and left a mangled scar that still reflects the pain and damage.

The incident occurred on a mission in the Delta area about 35 miles southwest of Saigon and hospitalized Houts for two and a half months.

"We were in hot situations frequently," he said, recalling that "we'd been fired on in nearly every mission. . . . I only had two weeks to go to complete my assignment, and that was the first time I had taken a round in my aircraft."

RETURNS TO VIET

He returned to Viet Nam for another year's duty in 1965, commanding an aviation section of the 54th Signal Bn., and now is an instructor pilot at the helicopter training center at Ft. Wolters, Tex.

He brought home with him eight air medals, the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Bronze Star and the Purple Heart.

Copter Hit

"They just opened up on me with an automatic weapon," said Maj. Ray A. Houts, 32, Houts, a native of Kingsville, suffered a leg wound while flying a helicopter over Viet Nam.

Just recently was elevated to major, is married. He and his wife, Woody, have a daughter, Julie, 2.

Bernstein Quits NY Philharmonic

NEW YORK (AP) — The president of the New York Philharmonic Society says he is going "to search the world" for a replacement for Leonard Bernstein who plans to leave as the orchestra's full time music director in 1969.

Bernstein announced his decision Wednesday and said he intends to spend most of his time composing. He will continue to be associated with the philharmonic, however, as "laureate conductor" for life.

Amyas Ames, the orchestra's president, declined to name any candidates, but he indicated an American would be preferred.

Bernstein, now 48, first directed the Philharmonic at age 25. His 10-year contract expires at the end of the 1968-69 musical season.

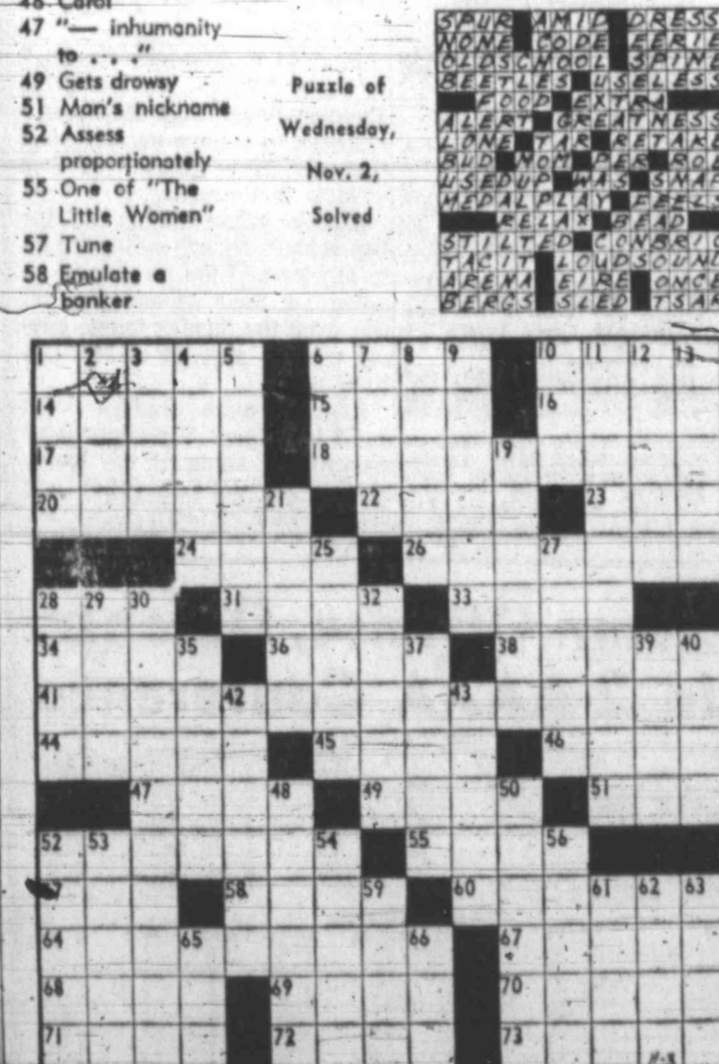

Winds Flip Over Oil Drilling Rig

HOUSTON (AP) — Wind up to 80 miles per hour is blamed for overturning an oil drilling rig Tuesday night about 23 miles offshore from Tampico, Mexico.

Tilman Falgout of Galveston, president of Golden Lanes drilling Co. which owned the vessel, said all 42 men aboard were rescued.

Aggies' Ace Bomber

When the Texas Aggies seek to bounce back against SMU in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas Saturday, following that defeat at the hands of Arkansas last weekend, they'll be leaning heavily upon the passing ability of Edd Hargett (above). The Aggies are 3-3-1 while the Ponies are 5-1-4. Game time is 2 p.m.

No Texas 11's Are Included In Rankings Schoolboy Legions Hit Home Stretch

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Writer

Autumn's schoolboy legions hit the home stretch this week with four state playoff teams already determined and 28 more likely to be known when the firing ceases Saturday night. Thirty-seven undefeated, untied teams sit precariously up there to be shot at and probably seven of them will fall under the fusillade.

Only two championships are in the balance in Class AAAA where one already is definitely known—Houston Waltrip in District 9. The other remains up in the air.

However, there are three more weeks to determine district champions of Class AAAA and Class AAA, whereas Classes AA and A have only two.

Lubbock Monterey can sweep up the North Zone of District 3 by beating Borger while Amarillo, Tascosa and Lubbock class for the other one.

Grand Prairie can win Zone 1 of District 4 by beating Wichita Falls and Dallas Woodrow Wilson can become a zone champion in District 6 by beating Dallas Adamsom.

In District 7 if Carrollton beats Garland and Denison defeats South Garland they will win the two zone titles.

Nederland clashes with Port Arthur in a battle of leaders in District 11, and in District 13 Austin McCallum can take a zone title by beating Austin.

In Class AAA Athens can win District 8 representation in the playoffs if it downs Ennis and Comroe can accomplish the same thing in District 10 by beating A&M—Consolidated.

Lamar Consolidated can sweep it up in District 11 by taking Angleton in tow.

District leaderships are on the line in District 2 where Monahan and Andrews tangle, District 3 where Lamesa and Littlefield clash, District 7 where Palestine meets Nacogoches, and District 15 where Fredericksburg looks up with Del Rio.

Classes AAAAA and AAA each has 16 districts.

Alpine and Mexia already have won their way to the playoffs in Class AA and 'I' other spots can be gained in the 32-district division this week.

Because ineptibility has struck five of the eight teams in District 28, the class of Tulo-Midway and Rockport Friday night will be of more than passing interest. Those two were among the three teams untouched by ineptibility and their battle could well determine the district championship.

Each has a 4-1 record.

The changes were the result of losses by five of last week's rated teams. They were Arkansas State, which was beaten by Lamar Tech 17-0, and fell from fifth to sixth place, plus North Dakota, Middle Tennessee State, Sul Ross State and New Mexico Highlands. The latter four dropped out of the Top Ten.

North Dakota State collected 10 first-place votes and 169 points in the balloting by a national panel of 18 sports writers and broadcasters. San Diego is a close second with five first-place votes and 153 points.

Points were awarded on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second, etc.

North Dakota State and San Diego State meet Saturday night.

Last Saturday, North Dakota State, with an 8-0 record, beat South Dakota 13-0 and San Diego State 34-13. Montana State beat North Dakota 59-21 for its seventh victory against one loss.

Tennessee State, a 21-9 winner over Southern University, climbed two notches to fourth. Northwestern State of Louisiana, which downed Troy State of Alabama 14-7, advanced from eighth to fifth.

Massachusetts, which beat previously unbeaten Vermont 27-21, took over the No. 7 spot. The Redmen are followed by Eastern Kentucky State, Weber State and Wayneburg, in that order.

Teams To Play

COAHOMA — Three Coahoma football teams see action this evening, two of them on the local field.

The seventh and eighth grade units will be at home to Colorado City, with the opening contest scheduled for 5 p.m.

Coahoma's B contingent goes to Roscoe for a 7 o'clock engagement.

New Orleans May Not Get Break In Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — Look for the Sugar Bowl and red-hot interest in the new entry, the decision to become a member of the Western Conference in the National Football League.

The East had its pick last time and took the Atlanta Falcons. Now it's the West's turn. With those 82,500 seats in the Atlanta stadium, the decision should be easy.

Nobody knows exactly how they will stock the New Orleans team. The merger of the NFL and the American Football League and the common draft in January may not permit the Atlanta to get the same breaks.

When the Falcons participated in the NFL draft last year they had two picks on each of the first five rounds, including the No. 1 over-all selection. Tommy Nobis, the Texas linebacker, was the No. 1 choice.

Apparently he was worth it. Norb Hecker, the Falcons' coach, said he should be the rookie of the year.

When the Falcons were stocked last February, the NFL used the 40-man rosters of opening day as a base. Each team was permitted to freeze 29 of the 40. After the Falcons took one from the 11-man list, each team was permitted to freeze two more players. Then the Falcons were free to take two from the remaining eight.

The 42 men, three from each club, and the rookies from the draft formed the basis of the Falcons. The No. 2 draft, defensive back Bob Riggle of Penn State turned out to be one of the best.

You can expect more Monday night games in the NFL after the high television ratings for the Oct. 31 game between St. Louis and Chicago.

The TV doubleheader next Sunday will be the regular area game, followed by Minnesota-Green Bay.

Thanksgiving will be a special treat, with San Francisco at Detroit at noon and Cleveland at Dallas, at 5 p.m. Big Spring time.

AT SANDS HIGH Homecoming Set For Saturday

ACKERLY — Sands High School will observe Homecoming this weekend with an exhibition eight-man football game with Sierra Blanca.

A chili supper will be served in the high school cafeteria from 5 to 7 p.m. Saturday. The game gets under way at 7:30 p.m. that day. Plates for the supper will be $1 each. A dessert will be served, along with the chili.

The Mustangs will be seeking to improve upon a 4-2-1 record. Little is known of the Sierra Blanca club, outside of the fact that it was unbeaten in its first four starts. The visitors are coached by Kenneth Scoggins.

The Mustangs are still not at full strength. Alfonso Calvio, area running back, is definitely out with an injury and fullback Merwin Beal may miss the contest due to illness.

Kynn Maxwell likely will start in Beal's spot at fullback while Larry Oaks will replace Calvio.

Massillon On Four-Game Football Losing Skain

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP) — Bob Seaman never expected the No. 1 high school football coaching job in Ohio to turn into a nightmare.

But adversity has struck the football fortunes at Massillon High School.

The mighty Tigers, rated the best scholastic team in the state 11 times since 1947, are going through the agony of a four-game losing streak, longest at the school since 1932.

No. 3 looms Friday night when unbeaten Steubenville, the top-ranked grid power in the state, comes to Tigertown.

The 34-year-old Seaman, in his first year here after two brilliant campaigns at Sandusky High School, still maintains a good sense of humor.

"I'm liable to make history losing five in a row," Seaman noted.

From 1932 through last year, a period described as the "modern era" by Massillon boosters, Tiger teams have turned in 13 unbeaten, untied seasons in posting a fabulous 296-34-12 record.

This season, Massillon has a 3-4-1 mark, following two straight schoolboy championships.

It may be small consolation, but Seaman is traveling in some fast company. In 1932, the year Massillon lost four in a row, a young fellow by the name of Paul Brown was in his first year at the Tiger helm.

He bounced back for some pretty good years with the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League.

Goliad Mavericks Clash With Sweetwater Here

Goliad Junior High's ninth opposition this year, 143-126. They have yet to shut out the Sweetwater in any contest.

Goliad's eighth grade unit hits the road, going to Sweetwater for a 6 p.m. engagement.

When the ninth grade teams played previously, the Mavericks won a 29-6 victory. Goliad will be seeking to improve upon a 5-2-1 victory and will be trying to bounce back after a 44-16 defeat suffered at the hands of San Angelo Edison last Saturday.

The ninth grade Mavericks have managed to outscore the opposition in 11 contests.

McCutchen Leads District Scorers

Phil McCutchen of Bronie is 21 points ahead of his nearest pursuer in the race for individual scoring honors in District 4-B, with a total of 97 points.

Elton Payne of Trent is runner-up in the derby with 76 points.

Forsan's Larry Callihan and Jack Ellis are both among the top point-getters. Callihan now has 70 points and Ellis 26.

The leaders:

Yearling Teams To Visit Snyder

Held to a scoreless deadlock by Snyder Travis last week, the Runnels Junior High ninth graders seek to bounce back against that eleven in Snyder at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Eighth grade teams of the two schools square off at 6 p.m. in Snyder and the locals will be going for their second straight win over the Snyder team, having won by a count of 34-6 last time out.

Runnels' ninth graders boast a 5-2-1 victory. The Yearlings' losses have come at the hands of San Angelo Lee (34-6) and Snyder Lamar (6-0).

BANKERS ARGUE ISSUE

Should A Town Raise Money To Build Private Factory?

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — To hear bankers assembled at a convention argue about an issue on its philosophical or moral merits is not rare, but it really isn't the customary approach to banking.

Bankers, nevertheless, have been wrestling with a certain issue for 15 years now and it is no nearer to being resolved than it was in 1951. It will be reargued this winter at the usual sun-and-work conventions.

The problem concerns a special kind of bond—an industrial development bond. But why should a bond cause an examination of conscience? The problem is: Should a town or a city use its privilege of borrowing cheaply to raise money for a private business? Should it float bonds, go into debt to build a factory to attract new business to town?

COMPLICATIONS

Generally speaking, a company that wishes to build in an area raises money and goes about building. The complication comes when the town needs the business more than the business needs the town.

A town has a great borrowing advantage over business. It can raise money a lot more cheaply. Why? Because a lot of people want to buy municipal bonds. They'll accept a lower interest payment on them for a big privilege—that of paying no income tax on the interest.

TAX EXEMPT BONDS

This makes it possible for towns to build economically municipal, nonprofit facilities such as schools, sewers, water systems. By having their bonds tax-exempt, towns can more easily market them.

But, ask some bankers, is a factory that will be used by a private concern for a private profit a municipal facility? Those in favor of this financing method reply: "Yes, it is a municipal facility if it provides jobs, raises the purchasing power of the area, saves the town from impoverishment."

SOME ABUSES

"The issue is sociological," says James F. Reilly, a partner in Goodbody & Co. "A town has the right to save itself. There have been abuses, sure, but it has done more good than harm."

The American Bankers Association, which in 1951 took a stand against such uses of bonds, feels that the practice is a misuse of a government right for a private purpose.

The heart of the ABA argument is that by going into debt for factories, a town reduces the amount of money it can spend for sewers, schools, water systems. The practice also drains the amount of investment money available.

COMPLEX FUSS

Beyond this there is a more complex argument—that the mixing of private and public enterprise might result in abuses of the rights of both: a factory dictating wages, a town telling a business how it should operate.

One of the biggest losers in this practice, due to lost taxes, is the U.S. government. And it is getting more concerned. Such financing is growing swiftly, spreading among more corporations and more states.

Under present laws, the federal government can do little about it. Industrial development bonds are perfectly legal in any state which has voted them into law—a law that later has been invalidated by its courts.

Munoz Rites Friday

Services for Mrs. Juana R. Munoz, 67, of 306 NW 10th, who died Tuesday, will be held Friday at 9 a.m. in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church. Burial will be in the City-Cemetery under the direction of the River-Welch Funeral Home. Survivors include three sons, five daughters, two brothers, 47 grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Sister Of John A. Coffee Dies

Mrs. Lightner Burns, El Paso, sister of John A. Coffee, 513 Edwards, died Wednesday morning in an El Paso hospital. She had been ill for several months.

Services will be held Friday at 3:30 p.m. in El Paso, with burial in Anthony, N.M.

Other survivors locally include a cousin, Mrs. C. C. Coffee; a nephew, John R. Coffee; and a niece, Mrs. Louis Heinze.

To The Voters of Howard County

IN ORDER THAT THE VOTERS MAY KNOW ALL OF THE FACTS CONCERNING THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE IN HOWARD COUNTY BEFORE THE ELECTION ON NOVEMBER 8, 1966, I SUBMIT THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION:

1. The County Superintendent is an elected County-State school official, elected for a four-year term, whose primary duties are both administrative and supervisory, and are prescribed by state law.
2. The office is supported by STATE FUNDS received from the Texas Education Agency, based upon a County Administration Budget approved by the elected County School Board and the Texas Education Agency finance Director. The sole item paid from local county taxes is the County Superintendent's annual bond premium of $5.00 per year.
3. This office has actually spent $2,000 to $2,500 less than the approved operating budget for each year during the last five years. County records, available to all, will substantiate these facts.
4. The question of abolishing the county superintendent's office is how it may BEST be done. I pledge, that if re-elected, I will support and work for abolishing the office by a legislative bracket bill. This will save the cost of a special election and will fix an early, specific date for closing the office and transferring its duties to the office of the county judge. I have discussed this with State Representative Temple Dickson and State Senator David Ratliff, and both have responded favorably to this procedure.
5. My opponent has said: "If elected, I will work to secure the necessary petition to abolish this phantom office." While I cannot concur that it is a phantom office, this procedure means that if the voters are asked to approve abolishment, as she proposes, the office under state law cannot be terminated until Jan. 1, 1971. Moreover, the cost of a special election would be $800 to $1,000 to Howard County.

I earnestly seek your vote for re-election on Nov. 8 and offer you the knowledge and experience of a career in school administration to be used in the orderly, expeditious closing of the office and the transferring of its duties.

Farm Bureau In Texas At Peak

WACO—The Texas Farm Bureau passed the 100,000 mark in membership Wednesday for the first time in its 33-year history.

Dairy farmer Oswald Norman, 47, of Rt. 1, Willis Point, Van Zandt County, was the 100,000th member signed up this year. Last year TFB had 92,204 members.

TFB organization director Wayne Little said the official 1966 total would be several hundred over the 100,000 mark. His staff is still tabulating the flood of memberships that poured into the TFB headquarters here the first two days of this week. Oct. 31 was the end of the organization's fiscal and membership year.

Little said the new record high membership means that more than nine out of every 10 farmers and ranchers in Texas belonging to a general farm organization are members of the Texas Farm Bureau.

TFB president C. H. DeVaney drove to Van Zandt County Wednesday afternoon to personally present Norman with his membership card and to congratulate him on being the 100,000th member.

Cafe Man Wins Second Trial

Warren Sampson Christie, Garden City cafe operator who sued the Wes-Tex Telephone Cooperative for $1,000,000 exemplary damages and $60,000 actual damages for refusing, as he alleged, to install a phone in his cafe, Wednesday won a second trial of his case.

An order, ruling a mistrial in the hearing before a jury here last July 25, was signed by Judge Ralph W. Caton, 118th District Court. No date for a new trial was set.

The mistrial was sustained on the plaintiff's contention there was a conflict in the jury's answers to special questions, Nos. 1-6 and No. 6A.

The jury verdict did not answer all of the queries it received, which left the case somewhat up in the air.

The case was tried here on a change of venue from Martin County.

Sampson charged that he had petitioned the Wes-Tex Cooperative to install a phone in his place of business in Garden City and the defendant cooperative never complied.

This, he charged, led to heavy loss in his business.

Rural Housing Loans Increase

More than 2,443 Texas families—some 70 per cent more than that of the previous year—during fiscal 1966 used $16,787,304 of Farmers Home Administration credit for construction and improvement of homes.

Some $1,735,590 of this amount was advanced directly to Texas senior citizens for improved housing facilities, more than 400 per cent over credit extended the previous period to rural residents of 62 years or over, L. J. Capplemann, director, explained.

Other rural housing loans to Texans totaled $15,052,714 during 1966—66 per cent more than that of the previous 12 months. In the past five years rural home loans have aggregated nearly a billion dollars, and repayments are ahead of schedule.

These loans ranged from minor repairs to loans for building modest, but adequate homes. Some of the funds were used to improve or construct essential farm buildings. Delbert Doneison, FHA county supervisor, said that funds are available and applications are being processed for loans in Howard County.

Pope Might Seek Christmas Truce

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Vatican circles think Pope Paul VI will appeal for a Christmas truce in Viet Nam again this year.

Roving U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, after a 40-minute meeting with the Pope Wednesday, said he did not rule out the possibility of such a papal appeal.

Vatican circles said they considered a papal call for another cease-fire likely. They said although the Pope was disappointed that the cease-fire last Christmas did not become permanent, the pontiff was deeply satisfied that even a temporary pause in the bloodshed had taken place.

Harriman's visit to the Pope was one of a series he is making to world leaders to report on the Manila summit conference on Viet Nam.

Shell Raises Price Of Crude

In order to remain competitive, Shell Oil Company effective Nov. 1, raised the following West and West Central Texas and New Mexico posted prices for crude oil and condensate:

Sour up 5 cents per barrel to $3.00 per barrel for 40 degree to 44.9 degree gravity; segregated intermediate sweet, up 5 cents per barrel to $3.06 per barrel for 40 degree to 44.9 degree gravity; segregated Ordovician up 3 cents per barrel to $3.11 per barrel for 40 degree to 44.9 degree gravity.

These changes affect approximately 128,000 barrels per day sour crude, 45,000 barrels per day intermediate sweet crude, and 28,000 barrels per day Ordovician crude.

OPTIMIZATION SPEED READING COMES TO BIG SPRING

Optimization, the most advanced method known for teaching speed reading, will hold classes in Big Spring.

OPTIMIZATION EXTENDS... its usual invitation to everyone — High School & Jr. High students, teachers, business and professional people.

"Horse and Buggy reading methods are no longer sufficient to keep pace with today's increased reading requirements," says Dr. Cecil Mullins, inventor of Optimization.

The world is moving ahead of every field of endeavor at jet speed in a jet age. Today's industry could not survive by using the same methods used decades ago. It just does not make sense to use antiquated reading methods.

Dr. Mullins, renowned Educational Psychologist, says that the faster you read, the more you comprehend. "Fifteen years ago," he continued, "I became intrigued with the tremendous possibilities of the human mind. I found that by teaching students to read with greater speed and concentration, I was able to make them read books in as little as fifteen minutes with better comprehension than they would ever have been able to in 8 to 10 hours. It didn't matter whether the books were fictional history, or of a technical nature. A doctor can devour medical books, a lawyer legal matter, etc. at unprecedented and often unbelievable speeds."

Dr. Mullins' methods were so successful that he created the Optimization Speed Reading Course. Taught in 12 two-hour sessions, Optimization guarantees the student will read at least 1,000 words a minute or a book in an hour or less with good comprehension.

"One of the secrets of our success," said Dr. Mullins, "is that we are firmly committed to the principles that learning proceeds best, only when the students are enjoying themselves. In our classes most of the students have a ball from beginning to end—and along the way, they become the best readers anywhere."

The accomplishments of some of Optimization's previous students sound like something out of science fiction. One 13-year-old lad reads books for his public school assignments in 6 to 10 minutes. His grades have jumped from barely passing to straight A's and B's after taking the course.

Another ex-student, a 35-year-old public school teacher, has made less than average grades in his undergraduate university work. He went back for graduate studies after developing thru Optimization, the ability to read an average non-fiction book in 10 to 15 minutes. His first semester at Texas University he was awarded straight A's and a chance for a scholarship.

These are just two of many reports from teachers, doctors, lawyers and other business and professional men who find that each day has progressively more reading to be done and fewer minutes to do it.

"I know the results sound incredible," Dr. Mullins said. "But we have a standing offer for anyone who is undecided to come to our first meeting free of any obligation, to see for himself what the course will be like. And our guarantee is absolutely firm."

Mrs. G. T. Hall served coffee as Big Spring Garden Club members arrived for a meeting Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. John Balch, 2800 Cactus.

Mrs. Clyde Angel, pilgrimage chairman, conducted the group on a tour of gardens at the home of Mrs. O. M. Waters, 2802 Cactus; Roy Peet, 1701 Scurry; and Mrs. Ike Robb, No. 4 Highland Cove.

Mrs. Hall presided for the business session, reminding members of the council flower show which is scheduled from 3 to 7 p.m. Saturday at the YMCA. Mrs. Hall and Mrs. H. G. Keaton, vice president, reported on the district flower show which they attended in Odessa Oct. 26.

The Dec. 7 Christmas meeting will be in the home of Mrs.

P-TA Views Style Show

Fashions for the fall and winter season were shown during the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the P-TA's Parent-Teacher Association at the school. The Junior Girl-Scout Troop No. 366 from Boydston Elementary School presented the colors.

Mrs. Steve Baker was commentator for the show and introduced the models, Mrs. F. C. Gambill and daughter, Sheryl Wayne, Mrs. Wally Slate and daughter, Kay; Mrs. Mildred Cunningham and daughter, Millie, and Julia Vaughn. She noted that today's young fashions recall the 1920's.

Mrs. R. E. Watkins, presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. Gerald Bennett, read a Thanksgiving poem entitled "Thanksgiving or Thanks Living." Mrs. Robert Patterson gave the council report, and Mrs. Watkins reported that six members attended the recent fall workshop in Forsan.

Mrs. Dwight McCann reported that 13 students will receive certificates of achievement for outstanding salesmanship during the P-TA's magazine sale. Alan Hill was the top salesman, and other students won prizes for their efforts. Mrs. Luke Fortenberry presented gift certificates to Mrs. Opal Wiley, Mrs. Gladys Anderson and Don Turner for having the highest home-own sales.

Roscoe Newell, principal, announced that Mrs. Gerald Bennett is the recipient of a Life Membership in the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Members were reminded that Sam M. Anderson, superintendent of schools, will be installed as president of the Texas State Teachers Association in Austin Saturday. There will be a community banquet held here in his honor on Nov. 10. The unit will have two outstanding citizens as its guests at the banquet.

Mrs. Anna Stallings was guest speaker. She described methods of keeping the skin clean and of applying make-up and eye shadow.

Tentative plans for a scholarship for a Howard County student were discussed, and a Dec. 2 Christmas dinner was scheduled.

Welcome as a guest was Mrs. Bob Fetters of Indiana.

Mrs. George Sutton presided, and Mrs. W. D. Morris gave the devotion.

Members were reminded of the Nov. 8 meetings. The Martha Foster Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Doyal Milner and the Lalla Baird Circle at the home of Mrs. W. D. Lovelace.

Mrs. Rene Brown served refreshments to 30 guests from a table covered with lace and centered with fruit in a crystal compote.

Crocheting Hint

When crocheting something large like a bedspread, slip the finished part in a clean pillow slip and then work along the top as usual.

A LOVELIER YOU

Be True Or 'Falls', -But Have Topknot.

By MARY SUE MILLER
You can't tell she wears one. A fine hairpiece that looks real. But it's a good bet she does, if her locks appear super luxurious.

The hairpiece worn is most likely a switch, for it is the most versatile of all. It works into a svelte pageboy or twist by day, a romantic top-knot or braid by night.

Moreover, the length of your own tresses, unless they reach to the waist, is not a factor in arranging a switch. The true and false are quickly blended, owing to a minuscule base which can be attached to and covered by just a few strands of your hair.

New Bride Honored At Gift Party

Mrs. Ronald Perry Duncan, the former Karen Buhner, was honored Wednesday at a shower given by Mrs. James Perdue, 1202 Marijo, and Mrs. Wayne C. Moore.

Corsages of white carnations were presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Norman E. Buhner; her husband's mother, Mrs. Perry R. Duncan, and her grandmother, Mrs. Edna Ritz.

The refreshment table was covered with a pale green linen floor-length cloth and was centered with an arrangement of dried fall flowers. Appointments were crystal and silver.

Twenty-five guests attended between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m., and the hostesses' gift to Mrs. Duncan was an electric mixer.

Mrs. Bill Metcalf, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the register.

Mrs. Browder Is Tea Honoree

Members of the recently-formed Browder Circle were honored at the Tuesday morning tea for the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Wesley Methodist Church.

The affair was held at the church, and Mrs. Robert Bryant presented the honoree, Mrs. R. O. Browder, with a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Rene Brown served refreshments to 30 guests from a table covered with lace and centered with fruit in a crystal compote.

Mrs. George Sutton presided, and Mrs. W. D. Morris gave the devotion.

Mrs. B. B. Ford Conducts Program

Mrs. B. B. Ford conducted a program on Japan during the Tuesday morning meeting of the Women's Missionary Union of the Sand Springs Baptist Church. Mrs. Bill Tucker read the prayer calendar, and Mrs. Harold Neagle gave the opening prayer. Mrs. Lowell Brown presided during the business meeting, and Mrs. Virgil Drewery gave the closing prayer.

Small Item Sale Held By League

A small item sale was held during the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the Ladies Home League of the Salvation Army at the Citadel. The proceeds, $25.21, were donated toward the $150 goal for the spring missionary effort. Members were reminded that the Nov. 9 meeting will be a class on Christmas baking.

Baptists Speak On Royal Service

KNOTT (SC)—The Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church met Tuesday morning with Mrs. Shirley Shroyer presiding. Mrs. C. L. Jones read the prayer calendar. A royal service program was led by Mrs. Jack Myers. Attending funeral services for Mrs. Mary Murphy in Colorado City were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Airhart, Big Spring; Mrs. Mike Davidson, Ackerly; and Mrs. Herschel Smith.

Mrs. Don Fleming and family have recently moved to her parents' home in Ackerly. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Davis, have moved to a new home in Big Spring.

Hyperions Discuss Skin Care

A program on skin care and cosmetics was the highlight of the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the 1946 Hyperion Club. The members met at the home of Mrs. J. H. Fish, 907 Mountain Park. Mrs. Jack Cook was cohostess and Mrs. Grant Boardman presided.

Mrs. Anna Stallings was guest speaker. She described methods of keeping the skin clean and of applying make-up and eye shadow.

Rule Waves

What's your hair problem? You'll find a way to overcome it in my 16-page booklet, "Rule Your Waves." Advice includes: beauty treatments for oily, dry, and normal hair; ways to manage unruly locks; how to add color and highlights; tips on cutting, permanents and styling; grooming tricks. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald for your copy, enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin.

NANCY BERRY

Tops See Fashions Modeled

Fashions from Montgomery Ward and Company, coordinated by Mrs. Joe Gunning, were shown at the Tuesday meeting of the TOPS Pound Rebels in the Student Union Building at Howard County Junior College.

Mrs. D. G. Burris was the moderator, and the models were from the Classic School of Modeling. They were Nancy Berry, Debbie Duncan, Cheri Turner, JoAnn Slagle, Sherri Arrick, Betty Dennis, Carol Garrison and Judy Stocks.

Following the show, Mrs. Harold Bell presided for a business session, and the TOPS pledge was led by Mrs. Walter Goodwin. The next meeting will be Tuesday evening in the Chamber of Commerce.

Auxiliary Makes Poppies To Sell

A poppy-making workshop was held at the Wednesday evening meeting of the American Legion Junior Auxiliary. The members met at the legion hall with Brenda Jones presiding.

The poppy sale will be Saturday in downtown Big Spring. Proceeds will go toward scholarships for veterans' children and to the Veterans Administration Hospital.

A certificate from the Texas American Legion Auxiliary Department was presented to Miss Jones for her work in gaining new members.

The spring convention of the Junior Auxiliary will be in Big Spring with the date to be announced.

Refreshments were served by members of the Senior Auxiliary.

Hyperions Examine Marriage

"Will the Real You Please Stand Up" was the program topic during the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the 1963 Hyperion Club. The members met at the home of Mrs. Bill Pollard, 1606 Osage. Mrs. Roger Brown was cohostess, and Mrs. Ralph Caton presided.

The program was conducted by Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin. She was assisted by Mrs. Kimball Guthrie, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Billy Jones and Mrs. W. P. Edwards.

The theme was on developing interest and hobbies for married women. Each program participant discussed a phase in marriage, and stressed development of outside-the-home activities. Suggestions included civic and church work, antiquing furniture and creative art work.

Introduced as new members were Mrs. R. L. Heith, Mrs. Darrell Bomar, and Mrs. Glen Shelton.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white linen cloth and centered with yellow and brown chrysanthemums.

The Dec. 7 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Edwards. Mrs. Harold Davis will lead the program on "The Battered Bride."

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Stack-Style Bins Go In Any Room

Dear Heloise: Plastic stack-style vegetable bins are old friends of mine!

Oh, yes, they do a very fine job of holding vegetables, but that is just the beginning of their usefulness.

I have a stack of them in the baby's room to hold her powder, creams and such (in the top one) and undershirts, socks and gowns in others.

A friend of mine bought a dozen to hold socks, panties and slips for her older children.

The top one is great for Scout pins, scarves, socks and badge sash, and keeps them together from meeting to meeting.

For the boys, all the hankies and ties are right on top, and shirts, socks, etc., are separated beneath.

If your daughter has mohair sweaters that "grow" on hangers and crowd drawer space, more bins will hold them nicely.

These bins come in all colors to match any room.

If you have a nautical decor, use red, white and blue bins to match.

If you have a pink checked spread and curtains, try a white bin between two pink.

Run out of space for these useful bins? Not yet—they fit snugly UNDER the bed! ... Catherine Roberts

Dear Heloise: I save time when my little girl bakes cupcakes in her play pans.

I give her the paper cups from boxes of chocolate candy, and she uses them as liners.

Sure saves time soaking those little pans ... Mrs. W. Noel

Dear Heloise: When gathering material, start out with very small stitches for 1/2 inch, then switch to the gathering-length stitch.

The thread doesn't pull out when you slide the material, as it might with just a knot ... M.A.

If gathering on the sewing machine, you can prevent those first stitches from pulling out by sewing about 1/2 inch of reverse stitching before you start the gathering stitch ... Heloise

Dear Heloise: When painting the ceiling of any room, to avoid paint from getting on your face, cut a split long enough in a paper plate to slip your brush handle through.

The paint will fall in the plate and not in your face or on the floor ... Mrs. Jones Johnson

Dear Heloise: A small clock, no longer in running order and with the works removed, makes the darlings frame for photographs.

I put my grandson's picture in a small gold clock, and receive compliments on it almost daily ... Mrs. Daisy McClure

Dear Heloise: One use I find for leftover pastry is to cut rounds for tart shells from it.

You can freeze them flat, then when you need a quickie dessert, drop them on top of muffin cups. As soon as they thaw enough to be flexible (a few minutes) you can press them into the cups, trim and bake.

Fill them with whatever you have handy—jam, instant pudding, fruit, etc.

They're always handy for leftover dabs of pie filling ... Mrs. Wilbur Lewis

Dear Heloise: When baby outgrows those worn sleeping bags, cut out the whole circular bottom and hem the garment.

It makes a warm, practical robe for a long while ... Mrs. V. Boas

(Write Heloise in care of The Big Spring Herald.)

Results have been announced for two duplicate bridge sessions held this week at the Big Spring Country Club.

Mrs. E. L. Powell and Mrs. Jack Irons placed first during the Tuesday games, and other winners were Mrs. Ayra McGann and Mrs. Ward Hall, second, and Mrs. Carl Blomfield and Harvey Williamson, third.

Mrs. Tom South and Mrs. Powell were first in the Wednesday games. Other winners were Mrs. R. E. Dobbins and Mrs. Hall, second; Mrs. McGann and Mrs. B. B. Badger, third; and Mrs. Allen Gindoff and Mrs. Victor Bouquet, fourth.

It was announced that next Wednesday will be Master Point Day, and the Friday games will begin at 1:30 p.m., following the Ladies Golf Association luncheon.

Negro Ballots Weigh Heavily In Deep South

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negro registration zoomed up sharply in the South in the last year and probably increased considerably in the country as a whole.

Negro ballots could weigh heavily — perhaps be pivotal — in some of this year's major election contests if a high percentage of registered Negroes vote.

Precise figures on the number of U.S. Negroes qualified to vote are unobtainable because most states do not keep registration figures by races.

The Democratic National Committee uses the figure six million in news releases which have occasion to mention one. This is the same figure it used in 1964.

However, Louis Martin, deputy committee chairman, a Negro who works particularly in this field, says he believes it is actually considerably higher. For the South alone, he estimates the current total at 2.5 million.

The Republican National Committee says it has no current figures.

The Justice Department's civil rights division reports that Negro registration rose from 857,000 to 1,016,800 between Aug. 6, 1965 and last Aug. 6 in these five states: Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina.

The 1965 date is that on which President Johnson signed the Voting Rights Act of 1965 which permitted the dispatch of federal registrars to states where the attorney general found discrimination to exist.

Aside from actions by federal registrars there has been an increase due to registration drives by civil rights groups.

YOUR Horoscope Forecast for Tomorrow

By Carroll Righter

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You can put across whatever ideas or merchandise you have with real ease and facility now and are able to get a better understanding of what your emotional attachment aspects of you. There is much commerce now between nations that can improve relations started just at this time encourage all to engage in trade.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Listen to what you have to suggest so that the cherished aims you are harboring can be brought forth to early fruition. Use it to your finest advantage. Be thorough.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Follow your inclination to cement better relations with associates in every sphere of your endeavor. Show others that you are witty and highly intelligent. Be explicit but don't be redundant.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) The arrangements you make now in business can certainly ameliorate conditions to a good extent. Don't close your mind to new ideas, etc. Reach for better accord with all those with whom you work or work for you.

MOON (June 22 to July 21) Do whatever will prove to those who are loyal to you that you are likewise with them, equally helpful. Avoid selfishness of any kind. Take the treatments that make you more charming, magnetic.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) First consult with experts before dashing into some new outlet about which you know very little. Take time to consider their views, also. They then give you the co-operation you need.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Contacting good friends early and stating your aims, brings their willing co-operation, and you gain your cherished desires. Their ingenuity makes the future much rosier. Show gratitude for assistance given you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Look to an influential individual for the right answers to pressing problems that he may be rather slow and deliberate. Show ingenuity with those in high position. Get the right results.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Be more kindly with sales persons, since they may have just the products you need and at the right price. Be sure you handle correspondence wisely, also. Be more active, get more out of life.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Although you may appear to be too affectionate with loved one, this is better, than taking them for granted. Get bills, work behind you quickly. Then plan for more and better getties.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you consider the potential in certain deals you have with associates, you can then carry through in a very successful way. Labor methodically. Later you can be out to very enjoyable amusements.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Scheduling your work properly is the best way to get it done intelligently and without rushing or pressure. Co-workers will then be pleased and cooperate willingly. Make plans for the evening's entertainment early.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You need recreation now so that you get rid of tensions and pressures that have been mounting up for some time. Your loved one has fine ideas. Carry through with them — go to museums, places of culture, etc.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow, he, or she, will be one of those charming little youngsters who only feels that others are criticizing or belittling him, or her, and it would be well to give a logical, friendly reply as well as more care to the diet. The mind here is a logical one, however, and the field of merchandizing would be excellent, selling, business of any sort, etc. Send to a commercial college for best results. Be kind.

Beaumont Plans New Health Unit

BEAUMONT (AP) — Negotiations are in progress for a state-approved health unit to replace Beaumont's present city health department, city officials report.

The city, if the plan is approved, will remodel its Municipal Hospital to house the state unit. The city had planned to abandon the hospital after phasing it out.

City Mgr. A. K. Steinheimer said the state facility would be used for training and research rather than for treating patients.

Feeding Time For Baby Gorilla

A new-born gorilla is fed with a bottle at the St. Louis Zoo nursery just like its human counterparts. The small gorilla's name is Mzuri which zoo director R. Marlin Perkins says is Swahili for "good." The gorilla is the ninth born in captivity in the world, Perkins said. It is 15 days old. (AP WIRE-PHOTO)

JUVENILE COURT SYSTEM OFTEN MYSTERY

What Happens If You Get Call Police Are Holding Your Child?

DALLAS (AP) — Somewhere in a little used corner of the minds of many parents probably rests a nagging worry that one day it may be their youngster. But most are unprepared for the phone call that brings the news that their son or daughter is in trouble with the law. It is a call made thousands of times each year in Texas and it is the start of a bewildering and heartbreaking time. The workings of the juvenile court system remain a mystery to most. Using Dallas County, where more than 6,000 juvenile lawbreakers were picked up last year as an example of procedure, the process begins on the third floor of City Hall, headquarters of the police department's juvenile bureau.

Offender back to the probation department for regular supervision, agree to let his parents place him in a private institution, allow him to be placed in a foster home or order psychological consultation. Or, he may send the youth to Gatesville, where delinquent boys from all over Texas are funneled for confinement and, hopefully, rehabilitation. Girls are sent to Gainesville or Crockett reformatories. Gatesville consists of five separate schools. Boys are assigned according to their age and maturity.

Statistics indicate the system is working. Before it began in 1961, about 42 per cent of all juveniles returned. Last year, the percentage dropped to 37. The Texas Department of Corrections says that only 3.9 per cent of the adults entering the Huntsville prison were ex-wards of the Texas Youth Council.

TEXAN IN PROFILE

Abilene Banker Is Self-Made

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Walter Johnson ascended to banking's top echelons the hard way: by hard work. Now 49 and the president of the Texas Bankers Association, Johnson stepped into a major bank presidency at the age of 37. That's pretty young as such things go, especially for a man who never had the chance to go to college. He began his career as a bottom-of-the-ladder bookkeeper at the Raymondville First National Bank in 1934, when he was 18. Three years later, he had advanced to the position of cashier. He has been advancing ever since, and has been president of Abilene's oldest bank, the First National, since 1954. AWARDED DFC Johnson was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross during World War II. He enlisted as a private and came out four years later a captain with 44 combat missions over Europe to his credit. Speaking of how he got the DFC, he brushes heroics aside, saying it was simply the result of "wanting to stay alive." It happened on a bombing mission when he was a bombardier with the 9th Air Force. One of the bombs in the plane failed to fall clear over the target and got stuck in the bomb bay. Johnson calmly de-fused the bomb and rendered it harmless. "It was just one of those situations you get in to where you have no choice—you have to get out of it." Before the war, he worked out of Dallas as an assistant examiner of national banks. HAD TO WORK He helped organize several new Dallas banks in the late 1940s and early 1950s, then moved to Abilene to become president of the First National, then known as the Farmers and Merchants National. A native of the small South Texas town of Lyford, he attended school there until his father died when he was 13. Then he and his three brothers had to go to work, precluding college. Johnson finds time for various civic projects and is a trustee and vice chairman of the board of McMurry College. While a lieutenant stationed at Hodon Air Force Base, he went to Bandera for a weekend and met the former Virginia Pearce of San Antonio. They got married a year later, and now have two sons. He wants both his boys to go to college, for, as he says: "In the present world, a man needs all the education he can get."

Carr Courts Labor

Relations between Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and Sen. Ralph Yarborough, a fellow Democrat, provide one of the latest topics for the U.S. Senate race pitting Carr against Republican Sen. John Tower. In his campaign for re-election, Tower has been asserting his opponent "tells conservatives he will work against our senior senator (Yarborough) in Washington and he tells liberals he'll work with the senior senator." Tower repeated this statement Wednesday while he and Carr both were campaigning in the Beaumont area. Carr, asked if he cared to comment, told newsmen: "That's consistent with Sen. Tower's objectives of doing everything he can to divide the Democratic party, but he's not going to be successful. I have stated . . . that Sen. Yarborough and I will differ on some issues, but there are going to be many areas where we can work together for the good of the state."

'VOTE FOR CARR' U.S. Rep. Jack Brooks, another Democrat who introduced Carr at one Beaumont gathering, said Yarborough "has told me personally he will vote for Carr."

Former Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, a Democrat backing Tower, presented the GOP candidate to another Beaumont audience. Tower took note of reports that President Johnson is expected to visit San Antonio the day before the Nov. 3 election and put in a plug for Carr's candidacy. "It may be significant that the President is going into every state where the Democratic candidates are in deep trouble," Tower said. "Obviously this would be an attempt to salvage a faltering campaign."

SANCHEZ BACKED Moving on to San Antonio, Tower told reporters he had learned that Johnson will appoint a Mexican-American to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. While a Californian has been mentioned, the senator said he favors Bob Sanchez of McAllen, a Tower supporter recommended for the post by Yarborough.

Carr courted the heavy labor vote in the industrial triangle embracing Beaumont, Port Arthur and Orange, traveling through the area in a motorcade made up of 147 automobiles. Stressing party unity, he said: "Republicans chase people out who don't like to go to the country club, but the Democratic party is big enough for everybody."

The attorney general said he knew of no definite plan by President Johnson to campaign in his behalf.

Country Club "Republicans chase people out who don't like to go to the country club, but the Democratic party is big enough for everybody."

Singer Divorces Actor

Connie Stevens, 25, singer and actress, enters Superior court in Los Angeles Wednesday to obtain a default divorce decree from actor James Stacy, 23. She accused him of using "abusive and vulgar language" and told of arguments in public. They were married three years ago and have no children. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Wintry Weather Arrives Early

Wintry weather, with snow, gusty winds, and unseasonably low temperatures, has made an early and unwelcome arrival in wide areas in the eastern half of the nation. An intense storm early today centered over Lake Erie, dumping snow over a six-state area from Tennessee to Michigan. Heavy snow warnings continued, with from three to six inches indicated across the eastern and lower Great Lakes. The early November storm left a blanket of snow up to 13 inches in central Kentucky and up to 10 inches covered sections in southeastern Tennessee, western Ohio, southeastern Indiana and Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Smaller amounts were reported in other Midwest areas. SOUTH REELS The Deep South also reeled from the cold and snow and sleet storms, the earliest in many years in some Southern cities. Four inches of snow was reported at Huntsville, Ala., and Birmingham reported the first measurable snow since 1951. At least 12 storm-related deaths were reported, most of them in traffic accidents on snow-covered highways. Severe cold, with the mercury edging to near zero in northern Minnesota, extended deep into the Southland with temperatures dipping near freezing into Florida. Jackson, Miss., reported a frosty 22 degrees. In Florida, temperatures dropped into the high 20s and low 30s in the northern part of the state. Some snow was reported unofficially in the Fort Walton Beach area. In south Florida, the mercury shot down in the 50s. Wednesday afternoon, it had been in the 80s. GALE WARNINGS Gale warnings were posted for most of the Great Lakes and the North Atlantic Coast. Thousands of motorists were stranded in the snow belt, the most being reported in sections of western Ohio.

Film Industry Treated Like Belle Of Ball

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie - TV Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The mood of the movie capital during this unseasonably hot Indian summer is one of elation tempered with concern. The elation is due to the generally sanguine outlook of the film industry. Audiences are returning to theaters in large numbers, and movie company profits range from good to excellent. Mostly it is the performance of old movies on television that has signaled the upturn for Hollywood. The immense hit of "The Bridge on the River Kwai" was no fluke. Feature films continue to dominate the ratings, adding still more to the value of the studios' backlogs. BIG MONEY These developments have stirred an unprecedented interest from the financial world. The film industry, which Wall Street formerly treated like a fading trollop, now finds itself the belle of the ball. That's what worries Hollywood. The infusion of big money to film companies is welcomed, but outside influences are not. Says one hardened veteran of the studios: "Whenever the bankers step in, the movie business goes to hell." He speaks from experience. Often in the past, film companies fell on bad financial times, and bankers and financiers tried to adopt more businesslike methods to film production. Their efforts usually created chaos, since cost accounting and other techniques seldom apply to movie-making. INSIDERS FEAR After trying to straighten out the troubles of Paramount during its depression bankruptcy, Joseph P. Kennedy came to this conclusion: "Movie production requires producers — men with a flair for showmanship and an instinct for dramaturgy, men who could orchestrate the sound and fury of which pictures are made."

Small Foreign Car Flip Kills Woman

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Mathelda House, 26, of Taft, Tex., was killed Wednesday night when her small foreign car overturned on Corpus Christi's north side. Police said her vehicle swerved to avoid another automobile.

Romney Pushed For President

DETROIT (AP) — While Gov. George Romney refuses to look beyond next Tuesday's election — and discourages others from doing so — plans are afoot to start a drive for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination on his behalf, The Associated Press has learned.

And Romney and his political advisers are awaiting the country's reaction to his expected victory before making any plans or taking any concrete steps, sources close to the governor say.

WAIT AND SEE

"We will have to wait and see the size of his win and the prominence of his position — the kind of call he gets from citizens and national party leaders before we do anything new," one source said.

The Romney for president clubs that collapsed when Romney refused to encourage them in 1964 are about to try again.

George A. Zimmerman, a Dallas manufacturer who organized and headed the group of dedicated amateurs two years ago, said in a telephone interview Wednesday that he "will make an announcement shortly."

REFUSES TO SAY

He declined to say what the announcement would be or when it would be made.

The organization claimed chapters in 20 states.

Zimmerman said he has had no recent contact with Romney or his staff, although he has kept track of Michigan politics and Romney's activities through "mutual friends."

While not ruling out the possibility of a 1968 presidential drive, sources close to the governor insist that Romney "is really doing what he keeps telling the press he's doing — concentrating on this year's election."

TARGET DATE

Observers expect Romney to take off running toward 1968 in his nationally televised interview on "Meet the Press," scheduled for the Sunday following the election.

His role in a December meeting of the National Governors' Conference at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., a Republican governors meeting on an undetermined date, and out-of-state

Flames Destroy 5,500 TV Sets

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A fast-moving fire swept through part of a warehouse filled with new television sets Wednesday night, causing damage that could amount to $5 million.

A General Electric spokesman said his firm had leased two sections of the three-section warehouse, and 5,500 television sets were destroyed.

No one was reported injured. State police said the fire was caused by a short circuit in an electrical conduit in one of the sections in the concrete block and steel building.

Curley Burney Rites Set Friday

E. B. (Curly) Burney, Big Spring resident since February, died in Wichita Falls Wednesday after a short illness. He was a superintendent for the Luke Grace Drilling Company and had gone to Wichita Falls on business. A son, Richard Burney, has recently moved to Big Spring.

Services will be held Friday at 2:30 p.m. in St. Mark's Methodist Church, Wichita Falls, under the direction of the Hampton-Vaughn Funeral Home. Burial will be in a cemetery there.

L. D. Gilbert's Father Dies

S. M. Gilbert, 88, Bruin, Pa., father of L. D. Gilbert, 1304 Dixie, died at his residence in Bruin Wednesday morning. He had been in failing health for several years.

Services will be held Friday in Parker, Pa., under the direction of the Bowser Funeral Home. Burial will be in the Parker Cemetery.

Gilbert and his sons, Jack and Bob, flew to Pennsylvania early today to attend the services.

Erhard Still Hanging On To Job

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard today began looking for a majority in Parliament to support a new government but the task appeared almost hopeless as long as he stayed in office.

Beset by rising opposition in his own Christian Democratic party and a 1967 budget deficit of about $1 billion, Erhard said Wednesday he would quit if necessary to resolve West Germany's week-old cabinet crisis.

Erhard was thought to consider Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder the man most likely to carry on his pro-American policies as his successor. But a strong group of Christian Democratic leaders, led by former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, favors closer relations with French President Charles de Gaulle. One of the group is former Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss, 51, who is believed almost certain to return to an important cabinet post.

Erhard reports Tuesday to his party's members in the Bundestag, the lower house of Parliament. Until then, leaders of the Christian Democrats, Socialists and Free Democrats will be maneuvering for positions in the new cabinet.

Erhard met with Christian Democratic leaders for three hours Wednesday and with the party's caucus for an hour and a half.

Erhard met with Christian Democratic leaders for three hours Wednesday and with the party's caucus for an hour and a half. Although he had previously insisted that he would stay on as chancellor, he said he would not allow moves toward a new government to founder "because of my person." But he said he wants, as party chairman, a full part in negotiations to determine the new government and its policies.

Dry Milk Panic Doused

WASHINGTON (AP) — Medical experts say discovery of salmonella bacteria in samples of Borden's "Starlac" dry milk is no cause for alarm.

The infection of the digestive tract caused by the organism is seldom serious, said Dr. Albert Martin, chief of the salmonella unit at the communicable disease unit in Atlanta, Ga.

Martin commented Wednesday night after the Food and Drug Administration announced all stocks of the Borden Food Co. nonfat dry milk product were being recalled from distributors and stores across the nation.

REPAY CUSTOMERS

The company notified all distribution points to request return of all stocks of Starlac, officials said, and has arranged to make reimbursements for packages returned to stores by customers.

An FDA spokesman, asked to pinpoint where samples containing the organism had been found, said persons anywhere in the nation who have Starlac in their homes "might well be advised to return it."

PAINS

The most common medical effect of salmonella is an infection which results in stomach pains, diarrhea, vomiting and often fever. Although the victim is quite uncomfortable for two or three days, the communicable disease expert said, the case usually is relatively mild and is treated at home.

Occasionally, Martin said, among people very susceptible — such as children and older adults — it can become serious. Deaths have been caused by it, he added, but they are infrequent.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT

Both Candidates Are Now Vowing To Abolish Job

Tuesday's election likely will be the last that voters of Howard County will have a chance to vote for a county school superintendent.

The two candidates for this post have each announced that, if elected, they will seek to bring about the abolition of the office.

The difference, it seems, is in the method each proposes to employ in the matter.

Walker Bailey, Democrat, who is seeking re-election to the office, has said that, if he is re-elected, he will set about pressing the legislature to enact a law which will abolish the office.

His opponent, Judith B. Spencer, the Republican candidate, says she will initiate a campaign for a special election to eliminate the office.

Bailey contends that his method is best for two reasons: A special election, he says, will cost the county considerable money. Further, he argues, should the voters vote to eliminate the office, the effectiveness of such an election would be delayed until 1971 — expiration of the term of office of the winning candidate Tuesday.

His plan, he says, would cost the county no money, and if the legislature approved the special act, the office could disappear within a few months.

The office of county superintendent, to a large degree, has lost its governmental importance due to the elimination from the county scene of common schools.

Consolidation of the Vealmoor school with the Borden County Independent School district about two years ago marked the end of the common school era in this county. Prior to Vealmoor's departure from the picture, Gay Hill and Center Point schools had already been eliminated by consolidation with the Big Spring Independent school district.

However, the office continues to have certain responsibilities and duties. If it should be eliminated as an independent agency, these duties would have to be relegated to the office of county judge. This is what has happened in many counties where the county superintendent's office has disappeared.

Nance Named Week's Best

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Nance, Boston's sophomore sensation, has stopped thinking about Jimmy Brown — and started running like him.

He ran like him last Sunday, gaining 208 yards rushing in 38 tries as the Patriots defeated Oakland 24-21, and today was named the Offensive Player of the Week in the American Football League by The Associated Press.

The 208 yards on the ground represented Nance's personal high, surpassing anything he had ever done even at Syracuse, where he became the third great Orange running back — following in the footsteps of Brown and Ernie Davis.

Drafted by the Patriots and the NFL's Chicago Bears, Nance decided to go with Boston. But he went nowhere for them last year until the last four games when he got his weight down to a respectable 235 and forgot the comparisons people were bound to make.

"I forgot Jimmy Brown and the comparisons," Nance recalls, "and for the first time in months I wanted to play football."

He picked up this season where he left off last year and has turned into the No. 1 ground gainer in the AFL, his efforts against the Raiders pushing his total yardage for the year to 733 — more than halfway to Paul Lowe's league record of 1,121 with seven games to go.

But, while the Jimmy Brown comparisons may be behind Nance, the comparison being made between the AFL and the National League, still are in front of him. And Nance says that's one of his driving forces.

"I'm tired of hearing all this talk about the NFL being so great and that I couldn't have played in that league," said the 23-year-old fullback. "I think about the merger a lot — especially about the big championship game and how I want to play against the NFL."

There's little doubt that's what his mind was on against the Raiders as he barreled over the 200-yard mark for the first time in his career, scored two touchdowns and helped push the Patriots into first place in the Eastern Division.

Eighteen Bulls Entered In Show

Eighteen Howard County Hereford bulls have been consigned to the annual Concho Hereford Association Sale in San Angelo, Monday.

The animals are from the herds of Charles Creighton, James Coates and Leland Wallace.

The sale is Monday afternoon following the judging of the stock.

GARDEN FRESH TOMATOES
Surprise family with different taste

Homemade Catchup Provides Extra Flavor To Every Meal

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
If there's anything better in the pickle-and-relish line than homemade tomato catchup, we don't know what it is.

But how delicious your catchup will be will depend not only upon the recipe you use, but on your tomatoes.

SPECIAL TOMATO CATCHUP

- 8 pounds deep-red ripe tomatoes (about 2 dozen medium-large or 3 dozen medium-small)
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1/2 cup chopped sweet red pepper
- 1 tsp. whole pickling spice
- 1 stick cinnamon
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. paprika
- 1/2 cups red wine vinegar
- 1/2 cup orange juice

Prepared Jars
Rinse tomatoes in cold water;

cut out stem ends and quarter. Into a large kettle turn the tomatoes, onion, celery and red pepper. Cover and cook over moderate heat, stirring occasionally, until vegetables are soft.

Through a food mill placed over a bowl, puree a small amount of the mixture; discard pulp left in mill. Puree remaining mixture in small amounts the same way. As puree comes up high in bowl, pour it into another container.

Pour all the puree into the clean kettle. Note depth of puree. Over medium to high heat, cook puree until reduced by about one-half—about 1 hour.

Tie pickling spice and cinnamon stick in a small piece of cheesecloth; add spice bag to tomato mixture with sugar, salt, paprika, vinegar and orange juice. Cook over low heat, stirring often to prevent sticking, until thick—about 1 hour. Have heat extremely low toward end of cooking because of sputtering.

With a glass liquid measuring cup, pour the boiling-hot catchup into one of the Prepared Jars, filling it up to 1/2-inch from the top. With a clean damp cloth, wipe rim of jar and screwthreads; put on lid and screw-on band evenly and tightly. Continue filling and sealing jars, one at a time, the same way. Set jars, right side up, in a draft-free place to cool for about 12 hours; then test each by pressing center of lid; if dome is down or stays down when pressed, jar is completely sealed. Store in a dark, reasonably cool place. Makes about 4 one-half pint jars.

Top Choices Revealed For Parties

What a festive season November heralds! Homecoming football games, gala parties, family feasts and the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. No wonder your food costs hit the highest peak of the year during November and December.

You can help offset this seasonal increase in your food spending by planning more of your meals around plentiful foods, suggests the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Here's a preview of the foods that will be the most plentiful in local markets during November.

For main dishes, look to pork, turkey and dry beans. For salads and desserts, check on fresh pears, grapes and raisins.

After checking both local and national supplies, USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service has designated these half dozen foods as the most plentiful for November.

This is the fourth year in a row that turkey production has hit a record high—116 million birds—about 11 million birds more than last year.

Farm prices are generally running lower than last year on both turkey toms and hens, so retail prices are trending downward from last year.

Pork production is heavier than usual for this season because of the 10 per cent increase in the spring pig crop now moving to market. Hog prices are dropping below a year ago so watch for retail pork prices to reflect this decline.

And what a big crop of dry beans was harvested—about 22 per cent more than last year.

The pear crop promises to be about 47 per cent larger than last year. Output of both fresh grapes and raisins is a fifth larger than average.

Parmesan Cheese

Next time you broil tomato halves, try sprinkling them with buttered bread crumbs and grated Parmesan cheese.

Governor Edmund Brown Knows A Good Barbecue

EDMUND G. BROWN

Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, as a veteran of many a political war and countless election campaigns, knows a good barbecue when he sees one, and he likes best the ones he does himself.

This particular turkey barbecue is an excellent choice for large gatherings where the host-chef wishes to circulate around and about among the guests. It requires very little attention after it is once set spinning on its spit—and one can always find a handy volunteer to wield the basting brush.

The governor likes to marinate his turkeys and has a number of interesting ways to do this. The simplest is to pour the marinade in the bag the fowl came in and let turkey steep, taking a few precautions first, as we shall see.

GOV. PAT BROWN'S BARBECUED TURKEY

Combine and blend thoroughly two cups of dry California sauterne, a cup each of soy sauce and salad oil, the juice of half a lemon, and one minced garlic clove.

If you're using a frozen turkey, clip the end of the bag and let bird thaw, then remove the neck from the body cavity. If the giblets are wrapped separately, unwrap them and put them back in the neck cavity. Stopper the big hole with a closed fruit jar or whatever kind of jar will fit.

Stand the turkey in a bowl, with the open end of bag up, and pour in the juice. Let it marinate three or four hours, then pour off the fluid and reserve for basting.

Start your charcoal burning at the back of the fire box and fix the bird on the spit. Insert the rod above the tail and on the diagonal, coming out at the breastbone. Be sure to get the balance right. Tighten the spit forks, tie the bird securely, and insert a thermometer in the thickest part of the thigh.

Place a drip pan made of heavy foil in front of the coals, start the turkey whirling, and baste it with the marinade every so often, using also the drippings from the bird itself.

A 24-pound turkey will take about five or six hours, at which time the thermometer should read 185 degrees and the drumstick should be soft.

Call everybody to the table, and have at it, compliments of Gov. Brown.

Quick Barbecue For Cube Steaks

Cubed steaks give a quick skillet barbecue on the evenings when the homemaker doesn't have much time to prepare dinner. Pan-fry the steaks in lard or drippings in the frying-pan, then add one-fourth to one-half cup of barbecue sauce. Cover the frying-pan tightly and cook slowly approximately 30 minutes, thus allowing the flavor of the barbecue sauce to develop fully.

Beans, Beef Change Autumn Supper Menu

Here's a real treat for a cold winter's night... steaming big bowlfuls of "Beans 'n Beef, Hungarian-Style" with thick slices of crusty brown bread and butter.

This simple, yet satisfyingly good, supper dish is quick to prepare from canned beans and ground beef in barbecue sauce. This latest entrant into bean-dom features lean ground beef and tender beans in a zesty, deliciously different barbecue sauce. You get a nutritional bonus, too, for each nourishing serving supplies both protein from beans and protein from beef.

Steaming hot "beans-n-beef-in-a-bowl" makes marvelous family supper fare. For buffet suppers, picnics and parties, add canned beans and ground beef can be dressed up with other ingredients for a wide variety of tempting casseroles, hot sandwiches, and chafing-dish or table-skillet supper dishes.

BEANS 'N BEEF, HUNGARIAN-STYLE

- 1 tsp. butter or margarine
- 1/4 tsp. caraway seed
- 1 cup shredded cabbage
- 1 tsp. water
- 1 can (1 lb.) beans and ground beef in barbecue sauce

In saucepan, melt butter. Add caraway seed and cabbage; toss lightly to coat with butter. Add water. Cover; cook over low heat about three minutes, or until cabbage is just tender but still crisp. Add beans and ground beef. Heat, stirring now and then. Makes two to three servings.

Days Of Boarding Houses Belong To Fond Memories

By JO ANN PHINIZY

One of the good things that have come and gone, is the old-fashioned boarding house. A private home where good cooking, served family style, could be had for fifty cents a meal. These days, such places are remembered when old friends reminisce of times that used to be.

In the late '30's and early '40's, Mrs. Annie Lee Sanders operated a boarding house at 808 Main. She cooked three meals a day for an entourage of some 21 people.

Mrs. Sanders, who now lives in Coahoma, says that she cooked each meal just as she would for her own family. Since many of her boarders did shift work at Cochen Oil and Refinery, this meant that she would also have an early morning breakfast as well as fixing each one a box lunch.

That was only one of the ways Mrs. Sanders added a home atmosphere.

"I would always try to vary the menus from day to day and from week to week," she said, "except for deviled eggs." They always seemed to add a spot of color to the table.

And it seemed to me that if you put too much food on a serving plate, some of it was bound to get cold. So I would fill a plate with enough for one round. Then I would get a fresh, hot batch from the kitchen."

PINCH AND DABBLER
When it comes to cooking techniques, Mrs. Sanders puts herself in the "pinch and dabblar" class.

"Recipes just naturally want to be changed every now and then," she said, "and besides, some of them took too much time."

Take a pork roast, for example. The quickest way to do that was to boil the meat long enough for a good supply of broth. While that was being done, I'd make a dressing of corn bread, biscuits, a little chopped onion and a few eggs. I'd sprinkle it with sage, salt and pepper and mix in the broth.

Then I'd put it all in a big pan and let it cook until the pork was good and done. I served it with cranberry sauce."

Another specialty of Sanders Boarding House was skillet corn bread.

Mrs. Sanders made hers with a "scant dab" of salt, a teaspoon of sugar and buttermilk and soda.

"Lots of grease in the skillet," she said, "so that the edges would be brown and crisp and it wouldn't stick."

WW II
Mrs. Sanders has a host of memories of those years. One of them was during World War II, when wives of Webb AFB personnel would be staying with her.

"They were about as lost as the rest of us," she recalled. "I would get letters from them for years after they had gone. I still get a Christmas letter from one particular soldier. He and his wife live in New York City.

MRS. ANNIE LEE SANDERS

"And except for the soldiers, most of my boarders still live in Big Spring; they are all my very good friends. You know, I don't remember anyone ever leaving my house to eat somewhere else."

These days, Mrs. Sanders keeps her kitchen talents sharp by cooking for her family. They are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harris and their daughters, Leah Lea and Clarinda Sarah.

In commenting on her selected recipes, Mrs. Sanders says that the Soda Cracker Pie is a favorite and the Sweet Potato Bread is perfect with ham.

SWEET POTATO BREAD
2 cups uncooked shredded yams
2 eggs
1/2 cup flour
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1 cup raisins
1/4 lb. melted butter
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup cornmeal
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. cloves or allspice
2 cups milk

Blend well and cook in a buttered baking dish in a moderate oven for about one hour.

FRENCH DAINITES
4 envelopes unflavored gelatin
3 cups sugar
1/4 tsp. salt

Soak gelatin in water for 30 minutes. Bring to a boil, stirring until gelatin is dissolved. Simmer 15 minutes, remove from stove, and divide into three equal parts.

To the first part, add two drops of oil of cloves and a few drops of red cake coloring. To the second part, add four drops of peppermint extract and a few drops of green cake coloring. To the third part, add three drops of lemon extract and a few drops of yellow cake coloring.

Rise three 4 x 6-inch pans in cold water. Pour a separate candy mixture into each pan and put in a cool place (not refrigerator) and let stand overnight.

Loosen candy around edges of pans with a wet, sharp knife and pull out onto a board lightly covered with granulated sugar. Cut candy into cubes and roll in sugar. Makes about 80 small cubes.

HOLIDAY FRUIT DROPS
1 cup shortening
2 cups packed brown sugar
2 eggs
1/2 cup soured milk
3/4 cups sifted flour
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. salt
1 1/2 cups broken pecans
2 cups candied cherries (halved)
2 cups chopped dates

Mix shortening, sugar and eggs well. Stir in soured milk and dry ingredients. Fold in pecans, cherries and dates. Chill one hour.

Pre-heat oven to 400 degrees. Drop rounded teaspoonful of dough about two inches apart on lightly greased baking sheet. Place pecan half on each cookie and bake eight to 10 minutes.

SODA CRACKER PIE
3 egg whites
1 cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1 cup chopped nuts
14 soda crackers

Beat egg whites until stiff, then slowly add sugar and continue to beat. Add vanilla and

1/2 cups water
Oil of cloves
Red cake coloring
Peppermint extract
Green cake coloring
Lemon extract
Yellow cake coloring

Bring water, salt, gelatin and sugar to a boil, stirring until gelatin and sugar are thoroughly dissolved. Simmer 15 minutes, remove from stove, and divide into three equal parts.

To the first part, add two drops of oil of cloves and a few drops of red cake coloring. To the second part, add four drops of peppermint extract and a few drops of green cake coloring. To the third part, add three drops of lemon extract and a few drops of yellow cake coloring.

APRICOT BREAD
1 cup dried apricots
1 cup sugar
2 tbsps. butter
1 egg
1/4 cup water
1/2 cup orange juice
2 cups flour
2 tbsps. baking powder
1/2 tsp. soda
1 tsp. salt
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Soak apricots 30 minutes in warm water. Drain and cut into small pieces. Mix together sugar, butter and egg. Add water and orange juice. Sift together and stir in other dry ingredients; blend in chopped nuts.

Line a greased loaf pan with oil paper and pour in batter. Let stand 20 minutes and bake in a moderate oven for 55 to 65 minutes. Remove from pan, and let cool on rack.

Use Lemon Juice To Top Peach Pie
A one-crust pantryshelf peach pie gets a popular crumb topping.

STREUSEL PEACH PIE
1 can (1 lb., 13 ozs.) sliced cling peaches
1 tbsps. lemon juice
1/2 cup sugar
1 tbsps. plus 1/2 cup flour
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 tbsps. finely grated orange rind
8-inch pie shell with fluted rim, unbaked

Turn peaches into a colander or strainer to drain thoroughly; sprinkle with lemon juice. Mix peaches with 1/4 cup of the sugar and 1 tablespoon flour; mix together the remaining 1/2 cup sugar and the 1/2 cup flour, butter and orange rind with a pastry blender until butter particles are fine. Turn peach mixture into pie shell; sprinkle with flour mixture. Bake on low shelf of a hot (425 degrees) oven until pastry and topping are lightly browned — 30 to 40 minutes. Serve warm.

Green Beans Get Special Attention

Green beans get savory flavor!

SYBIL'S GREEN BEANS

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 medium onion, cut in thin strips
1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
1 lb. snap beans, cooked

Salt and freshly ground pepper
In a small skillet melt the butter; add onion and mushrooms; cook moderately fast until onion is golden. Mix with hot cooked beans; add salt if needed and pepper to taste. Makes 6 servings.

A group of small pitchers, of clear glass or in harmonious shades of china or pottery, may be grouped, filled with flowers or leaves and used as a charming centerpiece for a dining table. Such pitchers—with some age, but not "antique"—may often be picked up at inexpensive prices.

Use your electric blender to obtain a smooth mixture from cream style cottage cheese plus the addition of a little lemon juice and buttermilk; serve as "ersatz" sour cream to weight-watchers.

or canned) in lemon juice to which seasoned salt, lemon juice and a suspicion of sugar and olive oil have been added and you'll have a good hors d'oeuvre for weight-watchers.

Add diced cucumber and thinly sliced radishes to low-fat cottage cheese and use as a spread for crisp rye wafers when you are counting calories.

Pack potato salad into a glass pie plate that slips into a "basket" holder. Garnish the top of the salad with wedges cut from canned pimiento and green pepper and you'll have a pretty "pie."

Roast Serves As Two Meals

When a beef pot roast is on the Sunday menu, buy one a pound or two heavier than needed with a second meal in mind. For yesterday's pot roast becomes today's memorable menu when made into a delectable main dish such as Beef and Noodles Parmesan. The smooth creamy gravy of this meaty dish owes its success to double-rich evaporated milk, so handy and so thrifty to use.

BEEF AND NOODLES PARMESAN

1/4 cup butter
2 medium onions, sliced
1 cup sliced celery
About 3 cups cut-up cooked beef pot roast
1 tsp. salt
Dash of pepper
1 cup boiling water
1 beef bouillon cube
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce

2 tbsps. flour
1-3 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 can (14 1/2 oz.) evaporated milk (1 2/3 cups)
8-oz. pkg. medium noodles, cooked

Melt butter in large skillet. Add onions and celery; cook over medium heat until onions are transparent, stirring occasionally. Add meat; continue to cook slowly until meat is thoroughly heated. Remove from heat. Add salt, pepper, water in which bouillon cube has been dissolved and Worcestershire sauce. Gradually sprinkle in flour, stirring to blend smoothly. Stir in Parmesan cheese and evaporated milk. Heat, stirring occasionally, until mixture is hot and bubbling, about five minutes. Serve over hot cooked noodles. Makes six servings.

A Devotional For The Day

Dead to all feeling, they have abandoned themselves to vice, and stop at nothing to satisfy their foul desires. (Ephesians 4:19, NEB)

PRAYER: Help us, our Father, to be alert that we may avoid evil and love good. May we so commit ourselves that nothing will distract us from loving Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.

U Thant's Dramatization

The United Nations Security Council has voted unanimously to extend the term of Secretary General U Thant for another five years. But there is no assurance that Thant will accept, after agreeing somewhat reluctantly to serve until Jan. 1, although his term expires Nov. 3.

Why is Thant leaving, in the face of almost unanimous appeals that he accept another five-year term? The reason is almost certainly due to the menacing war in Viet Nam and his inability to affect what he considers a drift toward international disaster.

An unidentified "astute observer" of the U.N. was quoted by a Christian Science Monitor reporter as follows: "The fact is that those who ask for him to stay do not understand the reasons for his decision to go, or, if they understand, have obviously no intention of doing anything about it. . . . (He) has made it quite clear that the United Nations has ceased to be an effective instrument for world peace. He has done what he could to reverse the trend, but the real task belongs with the state members, not with him. . . . It would be easy for U Thant to yield before such universal pressure, but if he did, things at the U.N. would remain exactly as they are now."

Thant may hope to dramatize the issue by retiring and thus forcing upon the great powers the necessity for exploring ideas for making the U.N. an effective instrument for world peace. But this is not likely to be the result in the present stage of great power politics.

Bottom Of The Barrel

If New York should follow New Hampshire by adopting in the Nov. 8 election a state revenue-producing lottery, other states would likely be tempted. Also a bill for a national lottery, repeatedly introduced in Congress by Republican Rep. Paul A. Fino of the Bronx, might get serious attention.

Hence there is national interest in the lottery proposition (state constitutional amendment) being fought by the New York State Council of Churches and one of the biggest networks of citizen organizations ever mustered in that state. The issue is in doubt, because the people of that state and particularly New York City are heavily tax-burdened and tax-shy and looking for an easy out to fiscal problems.

But we hope the proposal fails. Government lotteries are, so New Hampshire experience indicates, uncertain and disappointing revenue-producers. And, again in the New Hampshire case, the long odds necessary to produce significant government revenue make them virtually a fraud against the players.

The government lottery idea is usually excused, if not justified, by the good purposes proposed for revenue use. In New York the beneficiary would be education. In Rep. Fino's national plan, it would be federal school aid and health care. But there are two overriding objections.

Those tempted to play the government lottery are usually those least able to lose. It amounts to taxation that reverses the principle of ability to pay. Worse, however, a government lottery gives an official condonation to gambling likely to produce a climate nourishing to all the criminal elements that prey on the gambling weakness. It is, in our opinion, a shoddy and damaging way for a society to raise money, no matter how commendable the purpose to which that money would go. When government comes to this, it has reached the bottom of the barrel.

David Lawrence

Can Choice Be Penalized?

WASHINGTON — The Johnson administration is studying what it can do to compel private schools to desegregate. The Internal Revenue Service is investigating, for example, whether it can revoke the tax-exempt status of those private schools in which a "preponderant" amount of money comes from tuition grants furnished by the different state or county governments to parents who do not wish their children to attend public schools.

THE THEORY is that state action in such cases is, in effect, helping to maintain segregated schools. This is presumed to be in violation of that provision of the Fourteenth Amendment which says that citizens must be given the "equal protection of the laws."

But can the federal government penalize an educational institution because of the citizen's use of money given him for the education of his children? The First Amendment to the Constitution is supposed to permit freedom of association by individuals. Can states or the federal government deny citizens the right to send children to any private school? These are the questions being examined by government lawyers. The answers will have a significant bearing on the whole problem of how far the federal government can go in using the refusal of tax exemptions as a means of accomplishing a purpose not spelled out in legislation or in the Constitution itself.

THE SUPREME COURT of the United States has never passed upon the specific question of whether, if a group of parents transmit to private schools the money derived from tuition grants, this in any way endangers the right of the school to be accorded a tax exemption.

A three-judge federal court did rule that a state would be violating the Fourteenth Amendment if a "preponderant" amount of money was obtained by a segregated school from state tuition grants. But this is not final, and the legal meaning of "preponderant" is hard to determine.

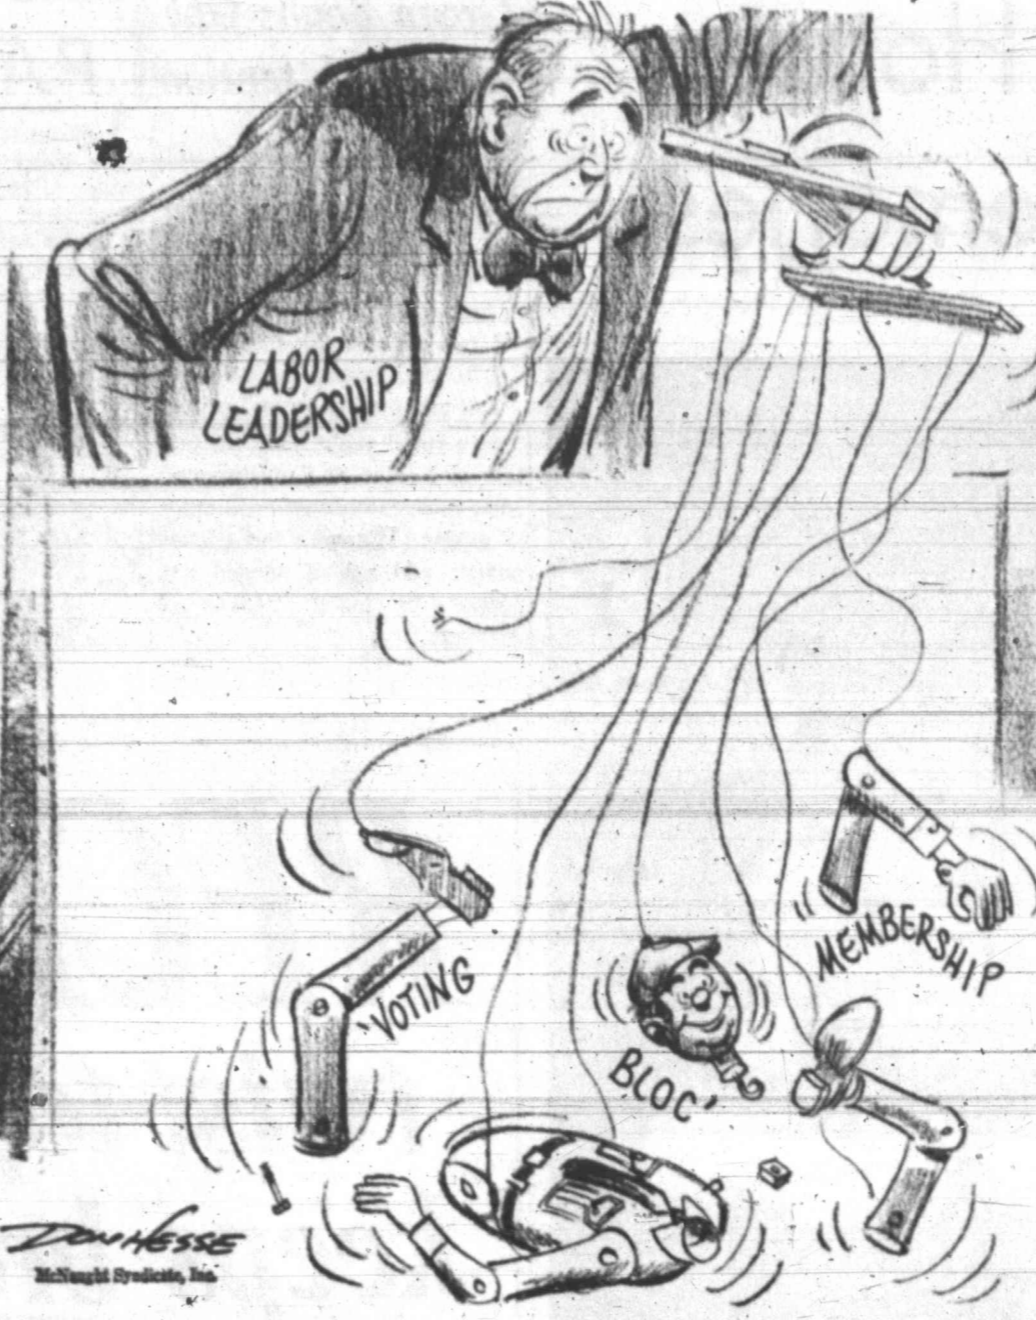

IN RECENT YEARS, there has been a movement urging federal aid to parochial schools. While most parochial schools do not close their doors to children of a particular color or race, there are some religious schools which insist on enrolling only students from a certain sect. The federal government began after World War II what is known as the "GI Bill of Rights." Tuition payments were made directly to schools and colleges to help veterans complete their education. In many instances the money went to support institutions which taught religion. An ex-serviceman could study for the ministry if he liked, and federal funds would be available for that purpose.

IT MIGHT BE argued that, strictly speaking, this is a government subsidy for religious activity. But the answer usually made is that the individual exercises his "freedom of choice." This may be asserted similarly with respect to the parents of children attending private schools—they, too, are entitled to the same freedom.

The real issue for the courts to decide—if the IRS does forbid "preponderant" donations to a segregated school—will be whether the state is a party to the discrimination or is merely giving "equal protection of the laws" to any citizen who cannot get for his children in a public school the kind of education he wants and who prefers instead a private school which happens to be segregated by reason of color or race or religion.

IF, MOREOVER, the removal of tax exemptions comes into use as a means of achieving a legislative objective, perhaps the federal Corrupt Practices Act—which forbids unions from making contributions to political campaigns to elect a president and members of Congress—could be enforced that way.

Was LBJ's Trip Worth The Risk?

WASHINGTON (AP) — On the morning of the day of his death President John F. Kennedy remarked it would be easy for anyone to shoot a president.

It's easy for that to happen here, as it did, despite all this government's precautions, it would have been a cinch on President Johnson's just-finished trip to seven Asian and Pacific nations.

Millions turned out to see and greet him, making any hope of thorough precautions impossible and ridiculous, particularly when Johnson leaped out of his bullet-proof car to mingle with the crowds.

SIDE BY side with the obvious questions about his trip — what did it accomplish? — is the other equally important and pertinent one: Was the trip worth the risk?

When he returned Wednesday night Johnson said "every hour and every mile was worth it." But he also added that there were no new treaties signed on the trip and he made no new commitments.

This means then that the accomplishments, whatever they were, were intangibles. But the risk was always real.

NO DOUBT Johnson created fresh goodwill for this country in the places he visited, if only because he used that much time and effort out of his busy life to go there.

But, so far as can be seen, there was no need at all for creating more goodwill, when the risks involved are remembered, although Johnson himself is probably the only one who can say for sure whether the trips were necessary.

He did mention Wednesday night that "solid unity" was achieved at his Manila conference with the leaders of six other nations. If so, that's probably all that was achieved there.

The peace proposals which the conference made to North Vietnam were ridiculed by the Communists. There is nothing to show the conference brought peace one step nearer.

THE MEMORY of Kennedy's assassination does not seem to have made Johnson any more cautious about exposing himself to danger, either in this country or abroad. He has taken a lot of chances both places.

If he had been shot or killed on this trip there would have been hand-wringing and soul-searching and suggestions that all future presidents must be more careful.

All these factors add to the hazards for a president on the loose. It seems reasonable to believe Johnson owes it to himself and the country to avoid any unnecessary risks of assassination.

By the same reasoning Johnson owes it to himself and the country not to be a party to his own self-destruction.

Johnson, 58 now, has had his own physical experience as a warning to be careful about his health. He had a heart attack 11 years ago. He has had kidney stones for years. He had a gall-bladder operation last year.

He's overweight. And on much of this trip he was reportedly to be suffering from a cold and sore throat. It was a back-breaking, grinding trip. Carelessness about his health can have the same effect as an assassin's bullet.

Space Age Scoops

NEW YORK (AP) — Items from a space age newspaper 500 years from now:

MINSK — Comrade Ivan Minsk, claimed by Soviet fellow citizens to be the oldest man on earth, celebrated his 312th birthday today by the installation of a new brain, liver and thyroid gland.

"Organically, I feel great," he said. "The new heart and left kidney I had put in 50 years ago are still doing fine. My doctor tells me if I continue to recuperate I should be able to get back on my feet in another decade or so. I have gotten a little weary with being bedfast for the last 47 years, even though I realize it's only temporary."

PARIS — Clothing visible to the naked eye is the startling new fashion decreed for next year by high stylists here.

Affirming a return to past modes, one authority said firmly: "Total feminine nudity has become boring and unsophisticated. Only naive women in the future will continue to wear invisible clothing. If clothing is worth wearing at all, it is worth being seen."

LAS VEGAS — Jack McSpur, noted Texas spurger, kept gambling fans agog last night as he lost Dallas, Fort Worth and 50 square miles of the Panhandle at roulette in a continuing run of bad luck.

"Don't you worry about ill ole me," he told consoling friends at dawn. "Tonight I'll win 'em back by throwing in Houston and Galveston."

"I believe in putting the big pot in the little one. If a fellow can't stand the heat, he ought to stay out of the kitchen."

NEW YORK — Executives of the universe-wide communications system have announced a revolutionary plan to replace telephone numbers with letters.

For example, in making a call to the planet Venus, you would simply dial the letters of the alphabet in order instead of 26 numbers.

Boycotts have already been threatened by subscribers in Berkeley, Calif., and other centers.

"Who can keep all those letters in his head?" demanded one subscriber. "Digits are so much easier to remember."

PARIS — Archeologists digging in the old French capital are puzzled by the ruins of an ancient steel skeleton uncovered recently.

"According to legend it was known as the Eiffel Tower," said one "and — although this is purely conjecture — it was apparently built as a temple by the natives to appease the wrath of De Gaulle, one of the minor tribal gods of that era."

Today we have come to a different era of exploitation. It is one in which the plunderers of the commonwealth are just as avid for the swag, but are hooded in the garb of socialism and armed with the cudgels of demagoguery.

THE MODERN spoils system, the scheme within some irregular forces of the Great Society is to organize the non-earners of the nation and eventually to coerce the earners into paying tribute. The booty is known as the guaranteed annual wage. It carries no obligation on the part of its receivers to take either job-training or jobs.

Sen. Marcy, in his day, frankly stated what a lot of his fellow henchmen believed and practiced, and so it is with certain outspoken swagmen in our time. There was an article entitled "A Strategy to End Poverty" in "The Nation" of May 2, 1966. The co-authors are Richard Cloward and Frances Fox Piven, both at the Columbia University School of Social Work. This, in part, is what they say:

"HOW CAN the poor be organized to press for relief from poverty? . . . It is our purpose to advance a strategy. . . . If this strategy were implemented, a political crisis would result that would lead to legislation for a guaranteed annual wage and thus an end to poverty. . . . and the strategy we propose is a massive drive to recruit the poor onto the welfare rolls."

SIX MONTHS after the appearance of this manifesto, a suit was brought against the D.-C. Board of Commissioners. The central theme of the plea was that the Fifth Amendment protected welfare claimants from giving any information which might prove them ineligible. Aiding the plaintiffs was one Edward V. Sparer. Like the co-authors of "The Nation" manifesto, Mr. Sparer came from the School of Social Work at Columbia.

On the day that any such method is achieved, the victors will have grabbed such spoils as Marcy and the Rubber Barons never dreamed of. (Distributed by McLaughlin Syndicate, Inc.)

Around The Rim

They Don't Let Him Boil Water Anymore

Having cleared the hurdle once, and little the worse for wear, I started out much more blaze" this time . . . indeed, with a certain sophistication. Which shows how much a fellow forgets in three years.

DECIDING that nature was not going to take her normal and natural course, the doctor ordered us to report to the hospital last week, ready for the helpful hand of modern science in bringing forth our second.

We arrived at 7:30 a.m., checked into an all-too-familiar room, and began ordering some of science's benefits—a telephone, a television, etc. With these preliminaries out of the way the nurses decided to move us to the "delivery room," a chamber equipped with many mysterious devices which the unsuspecting husband figures were transferred from some medieval torture chamber. By then, it was 9 a.m.

THEN THE familiar sing-song began, to be repeated over and over during the remainder of the day. "Would you step outside for a minute?" After much pacing back and forth, the next voice says "You can go in now." Back inside, I could sit on a small stool beside my good wife, but she wasn't in much mood for jocular discussions, lengthy polemics, or the review of a book I had recently finished.

The nurses—I don't know where the world would end up without them—figured our youngsters would be welling his loudest before noon. Nothing happened when that hour passed, and I decided to chaste out for a sandwich. Returning 10 minutes later, the nurses had decided our new one would be on the scene before the shift change—3 p.m.

THE NEW shift came on duty and things still moved at a snail's pace. The final guess, and more correct one, put arrival time "before dark." About 4:30 p.m., I received my final dismissal. "Would you wait outside in the hall?"

"Outside" is a corridor filled with busy nurses, running this way and that, caring for a multitude of patients. It is the least suitable place for a husband trying to keep up a brave front. Invariably he gets in everyone's way.

When they had a spare minute, the lovely nurses offered the coffee, water, and smiles of encouragement. There is little else that can be done, I suppose, for someone who is just plain in the way.

MEANTIME, it was obvious that medical science still pretty well leaves all the work up to mother. Although there are a few aids, mama is still mostly on her own in bringing about this miracle.

Chatting with the nurses over the prospects of a boy or girl, the time tick-tocked through a sea of molasses. At 5:11 p.m., one of the nurses slipped out the delivery room door to announce: "It's a boy." I have no idea what happened to my coffee cup.

I CHASED along behind her to the delivery room and heard the loudest crying in three years. Minutes later, she came back out on the way to the nursery with the strapping youngster. She paused long enough to give me a good look, and he appeared gargantuan.

She put him on the scales of the nursery and began adjusting the levers. Finally, with a big smile and look a wonder, she came back to the door to tell me: "He weighs 11 pounds even, and is 22 inches long."

THE DOCTOR came out next, and assured me things were okay with my good wife, and even allowed me to step inside for a minute. Sure enough, she was all smiles too, then reminded me of that long list of telephone calls I had to make.

So after a long, long day of feeling hopelessly useless, I finally had something responsible to do.

Persuasive George

WASHINGTON—It was just coincidence that movie actor George Hamilton and "black power" leader Stokely Carmichael were notified on the same day that they were up for draft reclassification. The reaction of the news varied as far as the two men were concerned. Hamilton said if his country needed him he would be happy to serve, while Carmichael said he'd rather go to Leavenworth Prison.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if Hamilton could persuade Carmichael to go into the Army?

I CAN SEE IT now. Hamilton is sitting on an Army bench waiting for his physical, and Carmichael is sitting next to him.

"Hello, my name's George Hamilton. What's yours?"

"Burn, Baby, burn."

"Oh, you're Stokely Carmichael of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee. I've seen you on television. Tell me, have you seen any of my movies?"

"Baby, I only go to movies where they don't let me in."

"DON'T YOU think it's wonderful that they finally decided to classify you 1A?" Hamilton says. "I've been trying to get in the Army for the last six years, but I'm the chief support of my mother and my draft board insisted I take care of her first. I was naturally very disappointed as I'd much rather be in the Army than be a civilian and live in a 39 room house in Hollywood."

"You may feel that way, Baby, but I'm not going to be a black mercenary and fight a white man's war in Asia."

"I FEEL entirely different about it," Hamilton replies. "The way I see it, there is a moment of truth in every man's life when you have to decide whether you'd rather make $100, 000 a picture with Ursula Andress or Brigitte Bardot or fight for your country against communism."

"Yeah, and which do you want to do?"

"SERVE MY country, of course."

"You're trying to get out on a psychiatric discharge, aren't you, Baby?"

"You're being unfair. I'm looking forward to this experience. It will not only be enlightening, but I'm eagerly anticipating the training and the discipline of the Army as well as the comradeship and esprit de corps that is so much a part of the military service."

"Man, you are a good actor, aren't you?"

"STOKELY, you have no idea how awful it feels to know you're safe in a movie studio, making love to Sophia Loren, while out there our boys are giving their all to repulse godless aggression."

"I never thought about it in those terms before," Carmichael says.

"This may sound strange to you, but I'd rather wade through a rice paddy in the Mekong Delta than dance to 3 o'clock in the morning at the White House."

"WOULDN'T WE ALL, Baby? Wouldn't we all? I'm raring to go."

"I knew you'd see it my way, Stokely."

JUST THEN Cassius Clay walks in and sits down.

Stokely sticks out his hand. "My name's Carmichael, what's yours?"

"Burn, Baby, burn," Clay says.

"That's the way I felt when I came in," Carmichael replies. "But then I got to talking to my buddy George. Hey, George, Baby, here's another conscientious act. Tell him what you told me."

Blueprint For Super-Spoils System

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Sen. William Learned Marcy (1786-1857), a New York Democrat, is famous for nothing whatever except giving the phrase "spoils system" to the American political language. Defending his party's pork barrel during the Jackson administration, Marcy blandly told the Senate that he could see "nothing wrong in the rule that to the victor belong the spoils of the enemy."

ALL GOOD citizens and public commentators, of course, were called upon to despise and avenge this crass philosophy. They were called upon again in a later age when buccaneering industrialists were credited with such declarations as, "The public be damned." "All the traffic will bear" and similar gauderies.

Today we have come to a different era of exploitation. It is one in which the plunderers of the commonwealth are just as avid for the swag, but are hooded in the garb of socialism and armed with the cudgels of demagoguery.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace's wife seems destined to win the governor's race in Alabama and set the stage for her husband to make another race for president as a "white backlash" candidate.

Opinion polls have established the blonde, 40-year-old Lurleen Wallace as a solid favorite to defeat two male opponents Nov. 8.

The Republican candidate, Congressman James D. Martin, has conceded that Mrs. Wallace is leading, but contends the margin is narrowing. He is counting heavily on what he calls a sizable bloc of uncommitted voters.

An autogyro crash in a Birmingham shopping center sent the other contender, Dr. Carl Robinson, to a hospital and weakened his already shaky chances. Robinson, who practices both medicine and law, lists himself as a Democrat but is running as an independent.

3-1 LEAD

A telephone poll of voters in 50 of the state's 67 counties made by the Montgomery Advertiser, which is supporting Martin, showed Mrs. Wallace with a 3-1 lead. The governor, campaigning with his wife, predicts the margin will be even greater.

If Mrs. Wallace wins, she will be the first woman governor in Alabama's 147-year history and the third in the United States. Until now, only Miriam (Ma) Ferguson in Texas and Nellie Tayloe Ross in Wyoming have held that office.

Martin, if victorious, would be

Alabama's first Republican governor since Reconstruction.

Mrs. Wallace has devoted much of her campaign oratory to denouncing what she calls a trend toward centralized government. Unless this trend is checked, she contends, it will "destroy the free enterprise system and individual liberty and freedom."

JUST MIGHT

The governor, who surprised critics with his showing in the Democratic presidential preferential primaries in Wisconsin, Indiana and Maryland two years ago, has said only that he "just might" run for president in 1968.

But he has told campaign crowds that unless the two major parties "give us someone we can vote for, I'm going to raise sand from Maine to California."

And then, systematically, he has eliminated as unacceptable every Democrat or Republican who has been mentioned as a potential candidate.

Wallace withdrew in 1964 to avoid splitting the conservative vote. When former Sen. Barry Goldwater flew to Alabama to help Republican candidates in this year's election, the governor said the 1964 GOP presidential nominee had "no business trying to tell the people of Alabama how to vote."

"He carried five states after I withdrew," says Wallace. "If I had stayed in the race, he would have carried only one."

Rites Friday For Ex-Editor

HOUSTON (AP) — Funeral services for M. E. Walter, former editor of the Houston Chronicle, will be held at 11 a.m. Friday at St. Theresa's Catholic Church.

The Most Rev. John L. Morokovsky, coadjutor bishop of the Galveston-Houston Diocese, will pronounce the absolution of the mass.

Recitation of the rosary and meditation of the sorrowful mysteries will be at 8 p.m. Friday in the Fannin Street Earhart Funeral Home.

Walter, who for 26 years played a major role in Houston's development, died Tuesday night after suffering a heart attack at his home Monday. He was 73.

He was editor of the Houston Chronicle 14 years. He retired in 1960 but continued as a vice president and editorial consultant until he resigned last February.

He had been a member of the City Planning Commission since 1940, serving as its chairman since 1956. While on the commission he envisioned and fought for the elaborate freeway system that now is coming into reality in Greater Houston.

Walter is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alfreda Winkler Walter, whom he met while a student at Notre Dame University.

DEAR ABBY

Why That Invitation?

DEAR ABBY: I have been divorced for two years and have no intentions of marrying again as I am a Catholic. My husband (also a Catholic) remarried a few months ago. Which is his business. We don't socialize and there is no reason for us to even see each other as settlement was made and we had no children.

Last Saturday I attended the wedding of my brother's daughter. I was shocked to see Joe and his new wife there. It was all very awkward, so I stayed only for the ceremony and left immediately afterwards. A relative who helped address the wedding invitations later told me that my ex-husband AND his wife were sent an invitation addressed to "Mr. and Mrs. . . ." Later my sister-in-law explained it this way: "We are Catholic, and as far as I am concerned, Joe is still your husband, and that's why I invited him." Does this make sense to you?

DEAR NO: Hardly. Your sister-in-law's "holier than thou" attitude is so holy, it does not hold water. If she really considers Joe to be your husband, why did she invite your "husband" and the woman with whom he is living in sin? Ask her to explain that.

DEAR ABBY: Anyone who thinks a girl is lucky to have an older brother because he can introduce her to some of his friends had better think again. I am 23 and my brother is 27 and I sit home every night like 75 per cent of the girls. Whenever I ask him to introduce me to some of his men friends, he says, "All my friends are bums." What is a girl supposed to do? NO DATES

DEAR NO: You ought to be thankful your brother is honest. A girl can meet enough bums without her brother's help.

DEAR ABBY: Recently, out-of-town friends whom we had not seen in years called asking if they could come to visit us. We said they could. When they arrived I suggested they bring in their luggage as the guest room was ready for them. The wife then said, "Go bring in the dogs, Willie." I was horrified. I am a good housekeeper, and have no facilities for pets.

I wouldn't mistreat one, but we hadn't counted on housing any. I suggested the garage or basement, but they said, no, their dogs had the run of their house—and they weren't kidding. Abby, they kept their two cocker spaniels in our guest room, and the mess those animals made was unbelievable.

I could have cried! They stayed three days. Shouldn't they have mentioned their dogs before they came? What can be done? We can't demand they replace the carpeting.

HEARTSICK: There's no use crying over spilt milk—or anything else: Borrow three St. Bernards (not housebroken) and go to visit them.

Antipornography Law Faces Vote

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A group of Californians is asking the state's voters on Nov. 8 to write a stringent new antipornography law.

Proposition 16, which would hand juries authority, usually reserved for judges and permit police, to seize suspected obscene materials without warrants, was placed on the ballot by 470,000 citizens who signed petitions circulated by CLEAN—the California League Enlisting Action Now.

Heading the organization is State Assemblyman E. Richard Barnes, San Diego Republican and onetime Navy chaplain whose attempts to strengthen antipornography laws have been foiled in recent legislatures.

DEAR FRIEND: In letters seeking support, addressed to "Dear Friend in Christ," Barnes claims California has become the source for more than half the pornography produced in the United States.

California law enforcement and religious organizations long have pressed the legislature for tougher pornography laws, but they're not backing Proposition 16.

The measure's most outspoken opponents include Dist. Atty. Evelle Younger of Los Angeles County, and the Northern California Council of Churches.

The issue has split the top Republican candidates. Ronald Reagan, the party's contender for governor endorses it, while Robert Finch, its nominee for lieutenant governor, opposes it.

Finch says it is clearly unconstitutional. He contends it would be overturned by the courts, leaving the state without a pornography law.

Reagan also has questioned its legality, but he backs it anyway, saying lawmakers might assume from its rejection that the public doesn't want tougher laws.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who is seeking a third term, has called the initiative "one of the grossest forms of censorship, a perversion of the administration of justice."

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Lynda Bird Johnson, daughter of the President, greeted special guests, as she stood in a reception line with officials of the Philadelphia Museum of Art Wednesday night at the preview of a show of the works of Edouard Manet.

About 3,000 persons, all members of the museum, were on hand, although all did not go through the reception line.

Miss Johnson was driven to Philadelphia from New York where she works for a magazine. Secret Service men escorted her.
