Army Takes Over African Kingdom

KINSHASA, the Congo (AP) - The army has taken over the tiny neighboring African kingdom of Burundi and deposed 19-year-old King Ntare V, the Burundi radio announced Monday night. The coup was led by Premier Michel Micombero, an army captain who helped Ntare depose his father, 61-year-old King Mwambutsa IV, in July while the king was in Switzerland for medical treatment. Mwambutsa said then that extremist elements had made a puppet of his young son. Burundi has been the scene of periodic Chinese Communist activity, and the Chinese are believed in the ascendancy again. SAFETY GUARANTEED Ntare was in Kinshasa for the celebration of the first anniversary of Congolese President Joseph Mobutu's seizure of power. The young king was not available to newsmen today. Micombero, in a broadcast from Bujumbura, the Burundi capital, said he had become chief of state and head of a committee of national liberation made up of 12 army officers. He said his foreign policy is unchanged, guaranteed the safety of foreigners, and asked other states not to interfere. NO COMMENT Burundi and the neighboring republic of Rwanda, both of which Belgium administered until July 1, 1962, had been torn for years by conflict between the rival Watutsi and Bahutu tribes. Watutsi extremists have had close contacts with the Chinese Communists. U.S. Ambassador Donald D. Dumont and his public affairs officer were expelled in January after being accused of conspiracy in the October plot. They have not been replaced. In Geneva, Mwambutsa declined to comment on the upheaval in his homeland. The death of John H. Baker, 49, of Wink, whose body was found on the Veterans Administration Hospital grounds late Monday, was ruled by Justice of Peace Walter Grice to be the result of a self-inflicted gunshot wound. Richard Harold Savers, a member of the VA maintenance crew, found the body in a Volkswagen van on the northwest parking lot of the hospital about 7:05 p.m. Mr. Baker was dressed in pajamas and a VA housecoat. He was on a bed inside the van and was lying on a 22-caliber rifle. Three shells were found on the bed. Grice also ordered an autopsy. Donald D. Van Meter, hospital director, who called police, said Baker was a patient in the hospital but had been missing from his ward since 9 a.m. Monday. Mr. Baker was admitted to the hospital Nov. 24. Funeral arrangements are pending notification of next of kin.

Quint Passes First Crisis

PITTSBURGH (AP) - Kicking and active, tiny Roni Sue Aranson passed the first crisis in her struggle for survival today, bolstering the hopes of her parents and doctors that at least one of Pittsburgh's quintuplets would live. The sounds of cries from the infant declared her to be free from the respiratory difficulty which claimed the lives of her four sisters within 56 hours of their birth Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Aranson, both 22. Doctors said Roni Sue's survival past the 72-hour mark - at 2:41 a.m. today - ended her first crisis. But "we've got a lot of hurdles, and this is just the big one," said Dr. Lee Bass, chief of pediatrics at Magee-Women's Hospital. At a mid-morning news briefing, Dr. Bass disclosed that the infant had become jaundiced and a decision will have to be made about an exchange blood transfusion within the next few days. Dr. Bass explained that jaundice, which causes a yellowing of the skin, is common in premature babies and can be corrected only by replacing the entire blood supply. However, the doctor said Roni Sue "continues to be very active and is moving and kicking." He said her over-all condition was "quite good." The quintuplets were born 2 1/2 months prematurely to Patti Aranson, an attractive, 5-foot-2, 104-pound brunette. Roni Sue weighed one pound, 12 ounces at birth. Like the others, she was placed immediately in a heated, glass-enclosed incubator. Bass said the mother took the deaths of her children "as well as could be expected." The parents "are anxious to see one live baby and are praying," he said.

Memorial Rites Held

Memorial services for Capt. John R. Humphrey, 35, a former instructor pilot at Webb AFB who was killed in a plane crash in South Viet Nam Saturday, were to be held today at 3 p.m. at the base chapel. Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Robert T. Deming was to officiate. Capt. Humphrey, who was assigned to the 356th Pilot Training Squadron while at Webb, was copilot of the C-47 transport which crashed in the jungle shortly after take-off Saturday night. He was reassigned in July of this year to the 388th Tactical Fighter Wing in Viet Nam. His wife, Shirley Thelma, and their son sons, Dale Allan and Scott Allan, reside at 4210 Parkway. The body is due to be returned later with burial in California likely.

Hussein Warns Israel

(Editor's Note - AP correspondent Roy Essayan interviewed King Hussein of Jordan today on the current crisis in the Middle East following an Israeli raid on Jordanian border villages and violent demonstrations in Jordan. Here is his report of the exclusive interview. AMMAN, Jordan (AP) - King Hussein of Jordan told The Associated Press today the Middle East is on the brink of an explosion more dangerous to world peace than the Suez crisis of 1956. His warning was directed at Israel, the Arab world and the West. He said his armed forces would strike back at Israel - "and strike extremely hard" - if Israel attacks again across the armistice line. "Our patience is at an end and we won't stand for any further aggression," he said in an interview at the royal palace in Amman. NO JUSTIFICATION Hussein said "there was no justification whatsoever" to Israel's claim that it was retaliating against terrorist raids across the border when it raided Samua and two other Jordanian frontier villages Nov. 13. The raid set off violent demonstrations in West Jordan demanding arms against Israel and denouncing the government for the weakness of its border defenses. The disturbances were brought under control, possibly temporarily, only when troops of Hussein's tough Arab Legion moved into the area. The army so far has remained loyal to its 31-year-old Sandhurst-trained monarch, as it has through other crises of his 14-year reign. TENSIONS SOAR Hussein charged some of his Arab neighbors were serving Communist ends by calling for his overthrow. Hussein has enjoyed peaks of popularity among his people, especially when he has espoused Arab nationalist causes, but his pro-Western policies are opposed by his neighbors in Syria and the United Arab Republic and do not arouse the enthusiastic support of the Arab masses.

NEW OMINOUS REPORT

Cigarette Smoking Called Death-Dealer

WASHINGTON (AP) - A new and more ominous report in effect extending the government's contention that cigarette smoking imperils health - this time from the standpoint of increased death rates - was issued today by the U.S. Public Health Service. The report attacks the subject from a somewhat different angle than the famed surgeon general's report of 1964. That report blasted cigarette smoking as the major cause of lung cancer, and said it was either a direct cause or closely associated with a number of other death-dealing ills. A spokesman for the Tobacco Institute, trade organization of the major tobacco manufacturers, said the institute had no comment to make on the new report. DEATH ANALYSIS The new report includes an analysis of death rates compiled from the records of every state health office in the country for the period 1950-1964 - and deals specifically with "mortality from diseases associated with smoking." Among the major findings of the report, prepared by the health service's National Center for Health Statistics: 1. Rises in death rates from lung cancer and emphysema - the latter already rated by the health service as "the fastest growing crippling disease in the United States" - were "of unprecedented proportions for noncommunicable diseases" during the period studied. NEARLY DOUBLE 2. Mortality from chronic bronchitis nearly doubled during the period. 3. There were "substantial increases" during 1950-1964 in mortality from three of the eight groups of diseases which the surgeon general's report had said were "associated with but not clearly causally related to smoking." These three were: -Arteriosclerotic heart disease, especially in the male population. -Cirrhosis of the liver - "with the most marked increase for the nonwhite population." -Emphysema - "especially for the white male population." The report attacks the subject from a somewhat different angle than the famed surgeon general's report of 1964. That report blasted cigarette smoking as the major cause of lung cancer, and said it was either a direct cause or closely associated with a number of other death-dealing ills. A spokesman for the Tobacco Institute, trade organization of the major tobacco manufacturers, said the institute had no comment to make on the new report.

TWO MIGS SHOT DOWN?

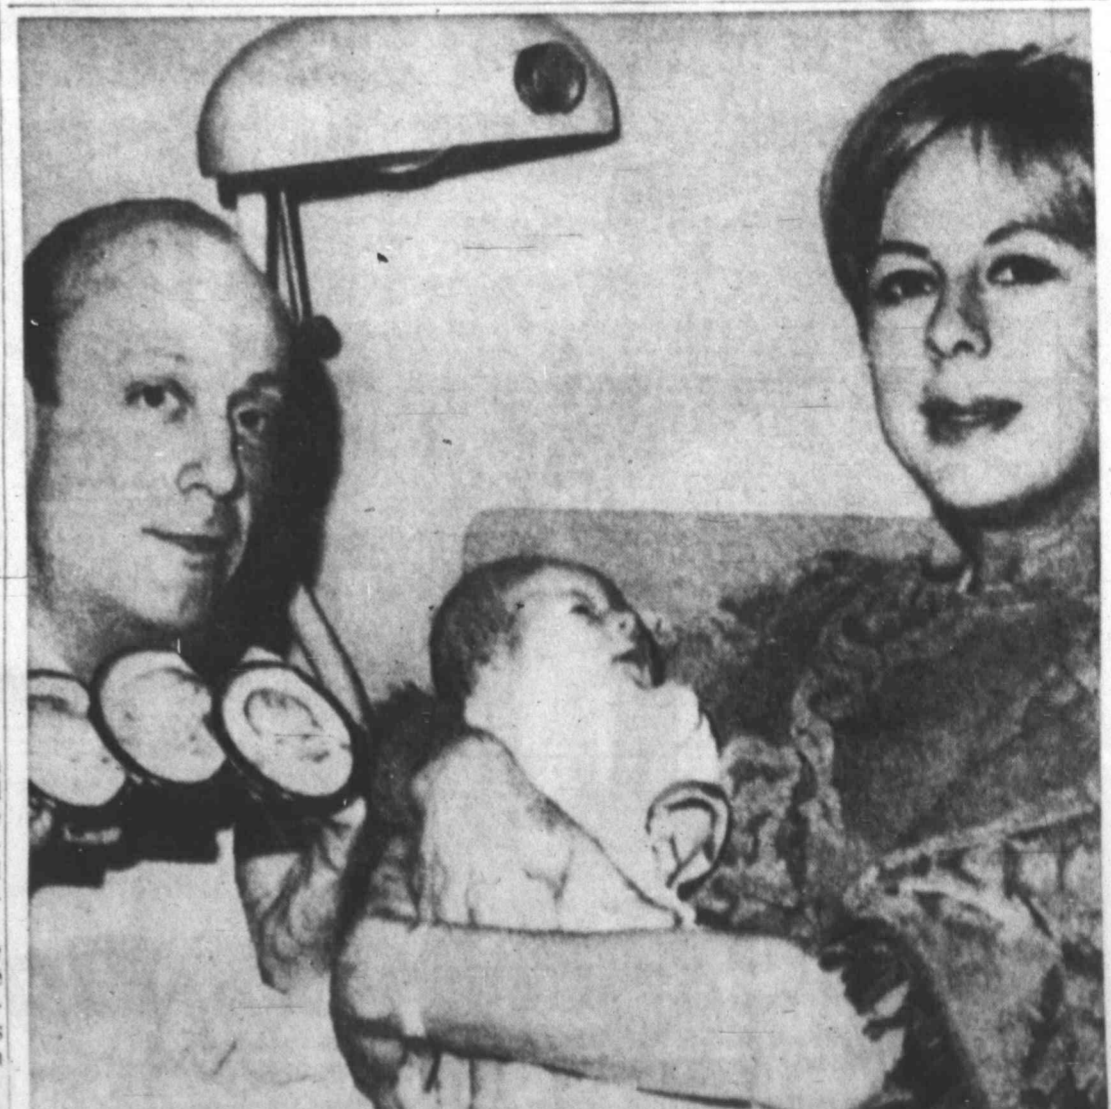

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) - An Israeli army spokesman said two Egyptian planes of the MIG19 type were shot down after a short dogfight over Israel territory shortly after noon today. The spokesman said the battle developed after an Israeli plane on routine air patrol over southern Israel's Negev Desert was intercepted by two Egyptian MIGs. Two Israeli Mirages immediately flew to the scene and met the two Egyptian planes over Israel territory at Beerotayim. In a short battle both MIGs were hit and fell inside Egyptian territory close to the Israel-Egyptian frontier, while both Israeli planes returned safely, the spokesman said.

Peking Barred For 16th Time

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) - The General Assembly today voted by a substantial majority to bar Red China from the United Nations for the 16th time. It also rejected an Italian proposal for a high-level study of the China representation problem. 17 ABSTAIN The vote to expel Nationalist China and seat the Peking government was 57 against and 46 in favor with 17 abstaining and Laos not participating. The proposal study, which many believed might lead to a recommendation for seating both the Chinese Communists and the Chiang Kai-Shek government, was defeated by 34 in favor, 62 against and 25 abstaining. The Assembly had decided in advance that both resolutions would require a two-thirds majority for approval. The action proved unnecessary, however, since neither received even a simple majority. DEADLOCKED The result was to leave the China problem more tightly deadlocked than ever. While the anti-Peking forces picked up 10 votes in comparison with 1965, there was much more switching of position than the tally indicated. Among the new countries in the anti-Peking column were two newly admitted members, Lesotho and Guyana, along with Chile, Congo (Kinshasa), Dahomey, Iceland, Libya, Rwanda, Saudi Arabia, Sierra Leone and Central African Republic. Another notable switch was made by Canada which through the years had voted side by side with the United States against seating Peking. Today Canada abstained, reflecting that country's apparent move toward recognition of Red China. Morocco and Singapore voted for seating Peking last year but abstained this time. In 1965 the assembly vote on the question of seating Peking was 47-47 with 20 abstentions. The total membership then was 117. Two members did not vote and one was absent. TWO-THIRDS ISSUE Today's rebuff to the Chinese Communists came after the Assembly had approved a U.S.-supported resolution reaffirming that the Chinese questioning an important one requiring a two-thirds majority. The vote on that was 66 to 48 with seven abstentions. As in the past, Britain and France split with the United States and voted for the pro-Peking resolution sponsored by a group of Communist and non-aligned countries. LUKEWARM SUPPORT Albania, Cambodia and other countries sympathetic to Peking led the fight to seat the Chinese Communists. The Soviet Union and India - former champions of Peking - voted yes, but gave only lukewarm support to the bid. There was speculation that an Italian proposal to have a special U.N. committee study the question for a year might carry, opening the way for a solution to the 16-year-old stalemate. 'REALITIES' The Italian plan is seen as a long-range maneuver to seat both the Communist and Nationalist Chinese regimes in the United Nations. Although the resolution avoids any mention of the two-China idea, it urges a solution that would take "into account the existing situation and the political realities of the area." The China debate lacked its usual steam this year, due mainly to the worsening dispute between the Soviet Union and Red China and a three-way split among the Western nations over how to break the stalemate. During seven days of discussion preceding the balloting, most of the speeches on both sides were apathetic.

Reds Nab Skipper

SEOUL, Korea (AP) - Four North Korean gunboats fired on a group of South Korean fishing boats on the east coast, south of the military demarcation line today and abducted South Korean fishermen, Seoul's radio Donga reported. The broadcast said the Communist navy craft surrounded about 30 South Korean fishing boats and fired an unknown number of shells. It said the incident took place about 1 p.m. The broadcast said the Communists seized the 10-ton Bokjung Ho and her skipper, Hwang Kyung-hi along with seven other fishermen and then broadcast said. It added that three other South Korean fishing boats were reported missing and feared to have been taken by the Communists. No official comment was available from either the South Korean government or the U.N. Command.

Opening lead: Three of ♣
A detailed chain of inferential reasoning that would have done justice to a "Sherlock Holmes," enabled East to pierce South's impressive facade and thereby uncover the one line of defense to send the latter's four spade contract down to defeat.

West opened the three of hearts and East put up the ace. The highly distributional nature of the dummy did not enhance defensive prospects. It was clear to East that even if declarer did not have the king of diamonds, he could readily establish North's suit by finessing West for that card, and once trumps were drawn — the dummy would have tricks to spare.

In order to defeat the contract, it was necessary for East to construct a hypothetical holding, and then proceed on the assumption that the desired holding was—in fact—the actual distribution.

First of all, he placed the ace of spades in his partner's hand, so that by shifting to a diamond, East would be in position subsequently to obtain a diamond ruff. Secondly, it was necessary for West to also hold the ace of clubs, or else the defense would be limited to a maximum of three tricks—the major suit aces and one ruff.

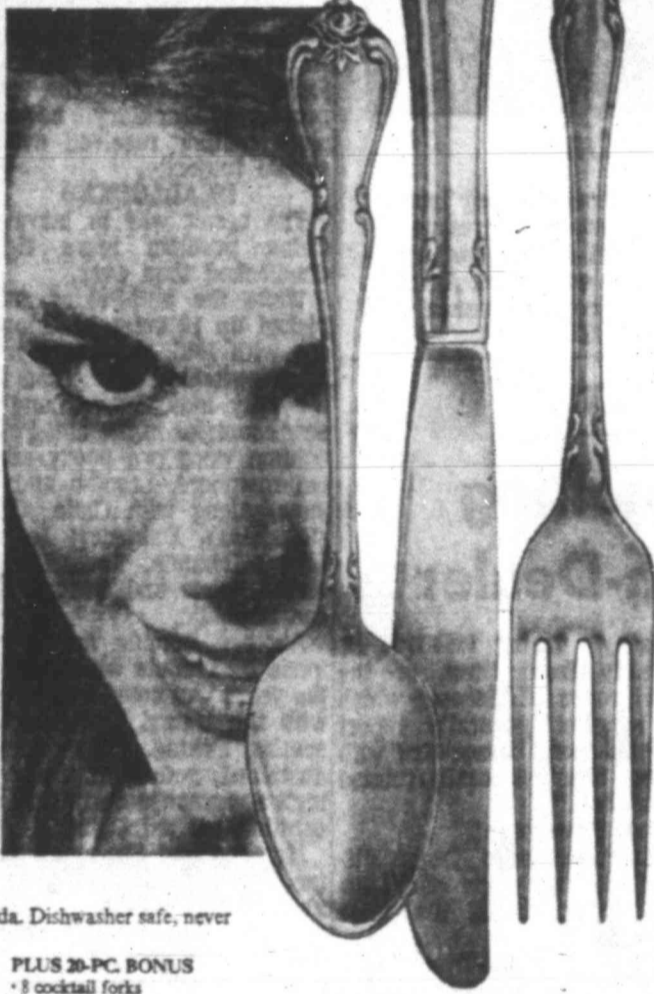

Finally, provision must be made for the possibility that declarer had the king of hearts and would obtain a club ruff from the dummy if the lead were surrendered prematurely. In order to protect his partner's club trick, therefore, East shifted to that suit at trick two instead of playing his singleton diamond.

South put up the king of clubs and West was in with the ace. It was now essential for the latter to provide a key measure of cooperation with East's conjectures by returning a diamond. The desired shift was promptly forthcoming for, from West's point of view—unless his partner was extremely short in diamonds, the defense was powerless to develop another trick.

South did his best to fool the opposition by winning the diamond return with the king and then leading the jack of spades from his hand as if he were finessing for the queen. West was not taken in, however, and he put up the ace of spades and led another diamond which East ruffed for the setting trick.

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE?

Home-Building Gets Transfusion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is giving the sagging home building industry a $250-million emergency transfusion. Some builders hail it as a step in the right direction. Others say it is too little, too late.

President Johnson ordered the release Monday of one-fourth of the $1 billion in special federal mortgage funds authorized by the last Congress. The government said the action would permit construction of 15,000 new homes.

Due largely to a shortage of mortgage funds, the housing industry is mired in its deepest recession in two decades. Total housing starts in October dropped to 83,100 units — the lowest since World War II and more than 50,000 under October 1965.

'HIGH COST AREAS'
The $250 million will be used to buy mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration on new homes costing a maximum of $15,000, or $17,500 in "high cost areas" and $22,500 in Hawaii, Alaska and Guam.

Release of the federal mortgage funds coincided with other developments related to the nation's economy:

—Officials in Washington said no decision has been made on whether the President will ask Congress next year to raise taxes. "It's still a 50-50 chance," one said. A day earlier, Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., said he expects Johnson to seek a tax increase of between $10 billion and $15 billion.

SPLIT PREDICTED
—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., predicted a sharp division in the new Congress over the issue of possible tax increases. Proxmire is in line to become chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee in the 1967 session.

—House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said the GOP will keep plugging for a sharing of federal revenues with the states even if federal spending is cut and taxes raised.

—Dr. Leon H. Keyserling, who was economic adviser to former President Harry S. Truman, said in a Denver, Colo., speech that "holding back the economy to restrain inflation, rather than stimulating the economy, seems palpably wrong to me."

Experiment Farm Progress Is Topic

The progress of the U.S. Experiment Station will be discussed at the meeting Thursday of the agriculture committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The session will open at 7:30 p.m. in the Chamber conference room.

A representative of the Plains Cotton Growers Association will also be present to discuss cotton promotion, said Walker Bailey, chairman.

Ranks Swell In AFL-CIO

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO said today it swelled the ranks of organized labor by about 1 million members in the past three years, reversing seven lean years of dwindling membership.

Latest figures show that "AFL-CIO unions broke all recent yearly records for organizing success in fiscal 1966," the big labor federation reported.

Membership has "continued to move upward" in the five months since the end of the fiscal year, a spokesman said.

The gains bring a total membership of the AFL-CIO's 129 unions to a record high of approximately 13.5 million, the spokesman said.

Approximately 2.7 million more workers belong to independent unions not affiliated with the AFL-CIO.

The new evidence of steadily advancing membership eases one of the chief worries of many labor leaders that unions were losing ground in the growing and rapidly changing economy.

Seven Die, Six Hurt In Shattering Wreck

KENT, Tex. (AP) — A tire blowout was blamed for a shattering collision of two cars in which two adults and five children died Monday night. Six other persons were injured.

State Patrolman J. P. Kincaannon reported the right rear tire burst and swung the automobile of an Oakland, Calif., Negro family across the center of US 80, where an Austin minister's vehicle hit it broadside to Draper Funeral Home at Van Horn.

THINLY SETTLED

The crash occurred three miles west of here about 7:30 p.m. Kent is between Van Horn and Balmorhea in a thinly settled stretch of far West Texas. State Highway Patrol listed these dead:

The Rev. Allen Lamar Dunbar, 36, of Austin, who formerly went by the name of Lamar Gillum.

Thelma Lloyd Coleman, about 35, of Oakland.
Ronald Coleman, 10, and Larry Coleman, 4, sons of the dead woman.

Eric Lloyd, 4, and Frederick Lloyd, 6, sons of Charlie Lloyd. Lynda Lloyd, 4, daughter of Otis Lloyd.

Attendants at a Pecos hospital reported Charlie and Otis Lloyd, brothers of Mrs. Coleman, were injured critically.

IDENTIFY DEAD

Occupants of the Dunbar Car, reported in fair condition at the same hospital, included Bob Hansen, 37, an Austin landscaper; James Dale Fry, 32, an employe of Hansen; John Lamar Gillum, 14, son of the dead minister, and Mike Lamar Gillum, 14, a cousin of John.

In Van Horn, 33 miles west of where the collision took place, a passing motorist told gasoline station operator J. C. Hamlett the wreckage was so widely scattered he first thought at least four cars were involved. It took officers more than six hours to identify the dead and injured.

Bodies of the dead were taken

Panel Probes Tugboat Fate

HOUSTON (AP) — A Coast Guard fact-finding panel sat today to hear more testimony on the fate of the tugboat Southern Cities, which vanished with a crew of six early this month in a Gulf of Mexico storm.

In Monday's session, the three-man board and witnesses looked at what was found of the tug: Two life jackets, two pieces of a ship's name board and pieces of hawser.

The tug was towing a barge from Freeport, Tex., to Tuxpan, Mexico, for Bludworth Construction Co. when it radioed Nov. 1: "It looks like it will be the best trip yet." That was the last message.

R. A. Bludworth, vice president of the construction company, testified that winds were at 80 to 85 knots in the tug's area that day. G. T. Blaylock, another employe of the firm, said seas were running at 16 to 18 feet.

GOT SCARED

Frank McCarney of Freeport, Fla., former chief engineer of the Southern Cities, told the board he left the craft at Port Isabel on its next to last cruise.

"To tell the truth, I just got scared of the boat and got off," McCarney testified. He explained that the tug was taking water in the engine room through doors on the main deck, adding:

"A boat that size shouldn't take that much water."
McCarney assured the board, however, that the Southern Cities was in "first class condition," and a marine surveyor testified that his examination of the boat earlier this year showed it to be "slightly run down" but capable of "going outside a harbor."

VANISHED

Coast Guard Lt. Cmdr. John Costello, former commanding officer of the cutter Triton, told of standing by the Southern Cities during a previous trip when the tug encountered bad weather.

"In my experience of going to sea I've never heard a master as frightened as Mr. (Brady) Reynolds sounded," Costello said. "He stated several times that he thought the vessel would founder if the tow was lost."

Reynolds, from New Orleans, vanished with his tug, along with mate Victor Benton of Omega, Fla., engineer Clyde Sparkman of Houston and deck hands George Johnson of Jacksonville, Fla., and Tommy Roland and Buddy Lee, both of Perry, Fla.

Bludworth testified that the barge the Southern Cities was towing was found in perfect condition, cargo intact.

The Coast Guard panel is a fact-finding body and is not convened to determine any criminal or civil law responsibility.

Pupils Plan Mass Sit-In

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Student leaders called for a mass sit-in today at the University of Michigan as a "show of strength" in their demands for a role in decisions now made by university officials.

Harlan H. Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, one of the largest universities in the nation with 33,000 students, moved to head off growing antagonism by students. He postponed a controversial ban against sit-ins and ordered re-examination of the ban by a committee of students, faculty and administration. He said he is establishing a similar commission to study the question of "student participation in university decision-making."

NOTICE POSTED

Leaders of three student groups posted notice of an all-campus rally at noon today. They said they would ask students at the rally to march on the administration building and sit down in the halls to enforce their demands.

Edward Robinson, 21, president of the Student Government Council which has broken off official relations with the university, said he would urge the sit-in "to illustrate what we can do if the administration does not give students the place in the university that they want."

Robinson, a senior from Haverford, Pa., was joined in the appeal by Michael Sweig of Birmingham, Mich., chairman of Students for a Democratic Society, and Douglas Ross, a Detroitier who is president of U-M Young Democrats.

Hatcher told the faculty senate Monday night "the general policy against disruption of the university cannot be abrogated."

'Jackie Gleason Show' Achieving New Heights

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's biggest success story this season is "The Jackie Gleason Show," achieving new heights by the expedient of returning to a musical comedy format that delighted the home audience eight years ago.

Lyn Duddy, with his partner Jerry Bresler, is again turning out the music and lyrics for the "Honeymooners," expanded from 10 to more than 20 shows after the Nielsen ratings indicated audience approval of the reunion of Gleason and his long-time partner, Art Carney.

WORKING HARDER

Duddy, in New York briefly, said the big production staff is working "nine days a week" on the shows taped in Miami.

"People love to see Jackie performing — more than playing host," he theorized. "And he's working harder than I've ever seen him work and apparently thrives on it. He's cheerful, enthusiastic — and available."

Gleason and Carney are not exactly professional singers, he admitted, although "Jackie has a tremendous ear for music" and Carney is a better-than-average bathroom tenor.

"But when you write music for them, you tailor-make it for their ranges," Duddy said. "That automatically knocks out certain things — we wouldn't do a song like 'Tenderly' for either of them because it involves too much range."

UNLUCKY 13

As Duddy and Bresler finish their songs, they put them on tapes — "You should hear Bresler do Sheila MacRae's numbers" — and turn them over to the performers.

"I've seen Gleason learn a song from two playings," Duddy said. "Both he and Carney like to learn their songs by playing them over and over when they are around the house."

Mid-season cancellations of television series mounted to an unlucky 13 over the weekend when CBS decided to dispatch its Thursday night "Jericho" in mid-January. The Secret Agent series, produced by MGM, was in 80th place in a list of 104 shows in the last Nielsen rating.

It will be replaced by "Coliseum," featuring rodeos, circuses and an ice show, all produced by Joe Cates as soon as he winds up his production chores on "The Garry Moore Show," another of CBS' four dropouts.

Southwestern Bell announces $6 million rate reduction for Texas Telephone customers

Second Voluntary Reduction For Texans in Two Years

At a time when prices for most goods and services are continuing their upward spiral, Southwestern Bell has announced a voluntary reduction in rates that will result in annual savings of $6 million for Texas telephone users.

Included in the reduction are both Long Distance rates (effective January 1, 1967) and a series of miscellaneous telephone charges, (effective December 1, 1966).

Lower Rates on Long Distance Calls Between Cities in Texas

Reductions in intrastate (calls within Texas) Long Distance rates become effective January 1, 1967.

With the reduction, most station-to-station calls over 56 miles in distance will have lower rates, varying from 5 to 15 cents for three minutes, depending on the distance. Reductions are even greater for calls over three minutes.

In addition, all intrastate station-to-station calls which are made after 8 p.m. and all-day Sunday will get the lowest night rate—a maximum charge of 80 cents, plus tax, for three minutes. At present only station-to-station calls which are prepaid (charged to the number placing the call) and credit card calls get this low rate.

This is the 10th reduction in Long Distance rates for Texas telephone users since the end of World War II.

One-Time Color Charge, Other Rates Reduced on December 1

Texans will also enjoy savings on other telephone services, effective December 1, 1966.

These include the one-time charge for telephones in color (from $7.50 to $5). This is also the second reduction in the color charge in the past two years.

The original color charge was reduced from $10 to $7.50 on April 1, 1965.

And a new Residence Service Charge will benefit most residence customers who will be arranging for new service and additional service requiring installation. At present, there is a Service Connection Charge on each item of equipment installed. The new flat-rate, one-time Residence Service Charge will enable residence customers to have two or more telephones installed for the price of one.

There will also be a reduction in the monthly rate for amplifier telephones (presently ranging from $1.25 to $2). The new charge will be $1. Amplifier telephones are primarily used by persons with hearing impediments and at noisy locations.

Customer Cooperation Helps Reduce Long Distance Rates

Technological developments continue to play an important part in keeping the cost of telephone service at a reasonable level. But much of the credit for making possible the reductions in Long Distance rates goes to Texas telephone users.

Without the cooperation of our customers in placing their calls by number, using Area Codes, and the taking advantage of Direct Distance Dialing where it is available, it would not have been possible to achieve the operating economies that have made possible these reductions.

We know of no better way, in passing these savings directly back to you, to say "thank you."

DEAR ABBY

Show Off Your Son

DEAR ABBY: John and I have been married for two years and he still hasn't told his parents that I have a four-year-old son, Ricky, by a previous marriage. John told them I was a divorcee (he was also divorced), but because his parents lived out of state my son was never mentioned.

John's parents are coming to visit us over the holidays so John wants me to send Ricky somewhere—just "hide" him because he's not ready to tell his parents about him yet. Abby, when we were first married, John asked me not to let on that I had a child, so I had to listen to other mothers talk about their children, and show pictures, while I kept quiet. Well, I think I've kept quiet long enough. I love John, but I can't take much more of this. What should I do?

SECRET MOTHER: Tell John that when his parents come, either Ricky will be very much in evidence and introduced as your son, or he will be well-hidden—out of sight, permanently. And wherever Ricky is, YOU will be right beside him. Let John decide.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 years old. I was at a party the other night and I met a boy. We liked each other right away and before I knew it we were in the bedroom making out. (Nothing serious happened.) There were about 15 other kids there, including some football players from our high school. This boy is a key club member and is neat up at school. Abby, whenever I see him in the halls, he doesn't even speak to me. You would think he never saw me before. This has me confused. What's wrong with him? Or is it me?

CONFUSED: You were foolish to "make out" with a boy you just met at a party. He is either (a) ashamed of himself, (b) doesn't want anyone to know he knows you, (c) doesn't recognize you in the light.

DEAR ABBY: My baby chose to arrive on the night that a friend of mine was giving a baby shower in my honor. Because of this I wasn't at the shower and I don't even know who attended it. My problem is that the hostess never turned over any of the gifts to me. My little girl is a year old now so it isn't likely that many

Two Dallasites Killed In Crash

ROYSE CITY, Tex. (AP)—Two young Dallas residents were killed and a third was injured about 3 a.m. today when their car rammied a guard post near here on Interstate 30. The crash killed Donna Gayle Johnson, 18, (of 4915 Bryan St.), a J. C. Penney Co. secretary, and Billy Dean Jones, 20, (of 4939 Bowser St.), assistant manager of a food store.

Officers said it appeared the left front tire on the car blew out. The impact of the vehicle hitting a guard post drove the left front wheel into the front seat. Roommate of Miss Johnson, was taken to Baylor Hospital in Dallas. Attendants said she was in fair condition.

Progress Made Against Beetle

BEAUMONT (AP)—East Texas timber growers were told that progress is being made in the fight against the southern pine beetle—a scourge of timberlands in this region. One of the more effective new methods being tried is putting an attractant substance on a certain tree, then killing off all the pests which congregate on that one tree. The method was one of several outlined at the Southern Forest Research Institute meeting here.

Whisky Works Fine
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Thomas Lotta, an artist, said he found a solution for one problem of painting watercolor pictures in freezing weather. The water was turning to ice on my palette," he said. "I happened to have this bottle of whisky, so I used it. It worked fine."

LBJ Expected To Meet Diaz

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expected to meet President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz of Mexico at Del Rio, Texas and Ciudad Acuna, Mexico, Saturday, authoritative sources said today.

The $78 million dam, rising 254 feet above the bed of the Rio Grande, is 6 1/2 miles long and will create a reservoir with a surface of 138 square miles, making it one of the largest in North America.

In Washington, however, authoritative sources said the two presidents would meet at the border cities of Del Rio, Tex. and Ciudad Acuna, Mex. That is the site of the Amistad Dam, being built as a joint project by the two countries.

The trip will be Johnson's second into Mexican territory this year. Last April 14-15 he and Mrs. Johnson were given a spectacular reception on a state visit to Mexico City.

Peking Plans Nuclear Test?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said today there is "reason to believe" Communist China may undertake its fifth nuclear test in the near future.

The announcement by press officer Robert J. McCloskey did not elaborate on the indications but said that the test would be conducted at the usual site at Lop Nur in Sinkiang Province.

"This continuation of Chinese atmospheric testing reflects the determination of Communist China to move ahead with its nuclear weapons program in defiance of world opinion as expressed by more than 100 nations which signed the test ban treaty in 1963," McCloskey said.

Camporee Is Set Saturday

Hundreds of Boy Scouts in the Big Spring area will have a chance to learn and work on advancement this weekend.

Every Scout unit is being urged to take part in the camporee at the Roundup grounds south of the City Park, said Frosty Robinson, camping and activities committee chairman.

Most of the troops plan to camp overnight at the Roundup grounds Friday. After breakfast Saturday, the morning will be devoted to merit badge work and troop hikes.

After lunch, several instructors will be on hand to work on such requirements as care and use of knife and hatchet, first aid, camping and hiking tips, plant and wildlife identification, use of compass, etc.

An awards program will be held at a campfire program starting at 7 p.m. Saturday. Some troops will break camp after the campfire, but others will remain until Sunday morning, leaving in time to attend Sunday school and church. Friday evening, the campfire program is to feature some Indian dances.

Hey Santa, Don't Forget Me

Youngsters, some with admiration, some with awe and not a few with trepidation, crowded around Santa Claus as he arrived here Monday in his traditional red velvet suit with black broad leather belt and white fur trimming. The total turnout, however, was relatively small. Santa arrived by T&P train, rode to the courthouse in a stage coach, all to the accompaniment of music by the Big Spring High School Band. The jolly saint brought along a quantity of balloons and candy, and spent upwards of an hour discussing Christmas problems with boys and girls. (Photo by Sam Blackburn)

Merger Gives Webb Credit Union $5 Million Assets

The Webb AFB Federal Credit Union will end the year with assets well in excess of $5,000,000 as a result of a merger with Walker AFB at Roswell, N. M. Walker is being phased out in 1967.

In fact, assets of the merged credit union already exceed the five-million figure. All accounts in the Walker credit union have been taken over by the Webb credit union, and a branch office is being operated at Walker until that base is finally closed in late spring or early summer next year.

Prior to the merger, which had an October effective date, Webb AFB credit union's assets were about $3 1/2 million, with member share accounts of around $3 1/2 million. Loans were over the three million mark.

Now the merged unit, which continues to operate as the Webb Federal Credit Union, has around $4 1/2 million in share accounts and nearly $5 million in outstanding loans.

Recently several from the Webb unit went to Roswell, N. M., where retiring officials of that credit union were honored at a dinner.

Gilbert E. Webb, president of the board of directors, presented letters of appreciation to the honored guests of the Walker credit union. Wade Choate, manager of Webb's credit union, expressed his sincere thanks and appreciation for the outstanding cooperation and assistance that the Walker employees demonstrated during the merger.

NLB Cancels Its Union Vote For Pioneer Employees

Notification was received today by Pioneer Natural Gas Company that the union election scheduled among the distribution employees of the company's West Texas Division has been cancelled at the request of the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 340 of Amarillo.

The information about cancellation was contained in a wire from the National Labor Relations Board.

Approximately 260 employees of Pioneer National Gas Company would have been involved in the election. These employees are located in Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, Big Spring, Plainview, Littlefield, Brownfield and surrounding towns.

In announcing the cancellation, M. B. Edquist, vice president of Pioneer said: "I believe it was because of an insufficient number of signed cards among the employees in question or anticipated loss of the election by the union."

IUOE, Local 340, lost an election involving the transmission department employees of Pioneer on Nov. 17-18. At that time these Pioneer employees rejected the union by a vote of 89 to 34.

Cuban Gals Take Aim At Rambling Wrecks

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba is conducting a traffic safety campaign to cut down the number of motor vehicle accidents, which have killed some 2,200 persons in the last four years.

It is cracking down on reckless drivers and pedestrians and attempting to enforce widely disregarded traffic laws.

The latest effort in this capital city of 1.5 million and a large number of rambling wrecks that pass for automobiles is the use of young girls to direct traffic in busy areas.

GREEN BOOTS Decker out in green and white uniforms, green boots and white berets, the girls stand in the middle of congested intersections and attempt to regulate the vehicular flow with arm signals and the aid of a short, baton-like, combination pointer and nighttime signal light.

No one is sure it will work in downtown Havana, but an intensive educational campaign is under way to make both drivers and pedestrians aware of the traffic dangers that have caused more than 100,000 accidents throughout the island since 1963.

FEW WOMEN DRIVERS It is almost traditional for Cuban motorists to ignore stop, slow, yield and speed limit signs, particularly in the Havana area.

Many pedestrians walk in the streets instead of on sidewalks, especially in the narrow, congested byways in the older parts of Havana, and other cities.

Few motorists use hand signals and, when they do, they are usually the wrong ones. Many drivers operate their vehicles with one hand on the wheel and one arm hanging out the window and swinging wildly up, down and sideways as they talk to their companions.

Most of the violators are men. There are few women drivers in Cuba.

Frosty Weather Knifes Texans

By The Associated Press Frosty weather knifed deep into Texas today as skies cleared nearly everywhere in the state.

Early morning temperatures ranged down to 20 degrees at Junction, the coldest of the season there.

Sample readings elsewhere at 6 a.m. included Dalhart 26, Longview 9, San Antonio 30, Lufkin 31, Amarillo and Tyler 32, Waco 33, Dallas and Fort Worth 35, Texarkana 36, Beaumont and Brownsville 37 and Galveston 39.

In general, however, frost was light because there was little moisture in the air.

The mercury nosedived for a second straight night after Monday's quick warmup, which produced highs in the 60s and a top mark of 69 at Presidio, Dallas was the coolest spot with a maximum of 57.

Fair and a little warmer weather was predicted through Wednesday except for increasing clouds and a little cooling again in the west and northwest part of North Central Texas Wednesday.

Knife Wounds Fatal

AUSTIN (AP) — An Austin High School pupil died today of knife wounds suffered Monday when he was set upon by several other youths a short distance from the campus.

Killed was Charles D. Weston, 17. Police questioned five persons but no arrests were made at once.

TEXANS AT WAR 'You Were Never Safe Around Viet Nam Base'

By The Associated Press Servicemen in the heat of the Viet Nam fighting re-enlisted or extended their tours at a higher rate than those at home bases, says a Texan at War who spearheaded Marine re-enlistment efforts.

M. Sgt. Joe C. Casillas, 40, of San Antonio thought he would spend 13 months in the comparative safety of Okinawa but the Viet Nam war diverted him for the final six months.

GOOD BONUSES "I was chief career advisor — I tried to induce more re-enlistments—in Okinawa and also chief of the education program we offer GIs," he said.

As the Okinawa-based Marines faced transfer to Viet Nam, Casillas said, "many volunteers who were due to go home extended for six months and re-enlistments went up generally.

"The bonuses and salaries were good, but most of all the men wanted to stay with their division and their buddies. We call it a high esprit d'corps."

SET UP DEFENSES Viet Nam fighters had little time for correspondence or extension college courses but before Casillas left he had set up the framework for a re-enlistment division at his base in Da Nang.

He now is a Marine recruiter in Dallas.

He saw little fighting himself but said he was constantly reminded of the war "because you were never safe around the base even in the daytime."

He helped supply the troops who were setting up rings of defenses around Da Nang.

Unusual Battle

Marine M. Sgt. Joe C. Casillas of San Antonio who spent six months in Da Nang, Viet Nam helping supply troops in the fighting zones didn't meet head on with the enemy. He said his most dramatic experience was when he fell into a foxhole up to his nose in water. (AP WIREPHOTO)

'66 Taxpayer Due Tiny Bonus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The taxpayer who waits until the last minute to file his yearly income tax return will get a two-day bonus next spring — the filing deadline has been extended to April 17.

And the Internal Revenue Service said it should be easier for the more than 65 million individual taxpayers to complete their returns next year because the few changes made in the tax form should simplify matters, not complicate them.

Changes made by Congress this year in tax laws will have no effect on the new tax forms. For example, the new law which permits taxpayers to divert $1 of their tax — $2 for married couples filing joint returns — to a presidential campaign fund doesn't go into effect for another year.

SMALL BOX The form to be filled out in early 1968 for 1967 taxes will include a small box to be checked by the taxpayer if he wants to do this.

Even if Congress should raise taxes early next year, the new forms would be unaffected. The forms filled out in early 1967 are for this year's taxes.

The two-day filing bonus results because the normal April 15 deadline falls on a Saturday. In such cases, IRS usually gives taxpayers until the next business day to submit returns.

The biggest change in the upcoming filing period will be in the handling of the returns by the government.

GASOLINE TAXES For the first time since it began data processing operations in 1962, IRS will send every tax return through a complete computer check. Only about half the individual returns got the full treatment this year.

This means a check not only of arithmetic, but also comparisons on each return with data on dividends and interest sent to the government by a taxpayer's bank, savings and loan association or corporation.

The computers also are programmed to shunt aside any return on which a deduction seems out of line. These then are checked by IRS personnel.

IRS said today taxpayers should begin receiving their forms and instruction sheets just after the first of the year.

A new table has been added to the new instruction sheet to help taxpayers figure their deduction for state gasoline taxes. It is based on the approximate mileage covered in a year and the amount of a state's gasoline tax.

Museum Directory Is Now Available

AUSTIN — The new 1967 Texas Museum Directory compiled by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee is now available for distribution. TSHSC President John Ben Sheppard of Odessa said today.

The directory was published by Humble Oil & Refining Company of Houston. Individuals or organizations may write to the Humble Touring Service (P. O. Box 2180, Houston, 77001) to request copies.

Repeating the recent rapid growth of museums in Texas, the fourth edition of the directory lists 243 museums and travel information on other places to see the story of Texas history attractively displayed. Last year's 5,561,000 people visited the museums. The directory it replaced listed only 172 museums.

VA To Speed Up Form Processing

The Veterans Administration is setting up eight regional centers relocating key personnel and streamlining addressed answer forms to make it easier for more than two million veterans and their dependents to return annual income questionnaires. Jack Coker, manager of the VA Regional Office in Waco said today.

The VA mails these income questionnaires to all pensioners, and to parents who receive dependency and indemnity compensation because payments are based on incomes.

The questionnaire form will be mailed out with the November checks, normally received early in December. These must be returned before Jan. 31, 1967, or those on pension rolls face the possibility of having payments stopped.

The form, which bears the return address, must not be mutilated, folded or cut because it will be processed several times through electronic equipment.

The processing centers will be in Philadelphia, Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Los Angeles, St. Paul, Seattle and Washington.

The term of Miss Harriet Griffin, Fort Worth, as president closes at midnight Wednesday and S. M. (Sam) Anderson, of Big Spring, TSTA vice president, moves into the presidency. Miss Antoinette Miller, Houston, officially becomes vice president.

The new officers have pledged an all-out effort by Texas teachers to win passage next year of TSTA's legislative program which proposes salary increases and improvements in professional status.

Gen. Little to Webb for the presentation. Col. Chester J. Butcher, wing commander, Col. George H. Franks, Air Base Group commander, and Col. William K. Knight, chief of maintenance, greeted the ATC officers at 9 a.m. and accompanied them to base supply for the presentation.

In presenting the award, Gen. Little congratulated materiel and supply personnel on their success and encouraged continued participation. "Winning the ATC trophy indicates fine management, good command, and excellent organization throughout," the general continued. "Since the work is performed in an outstanding manner, your organization gives evidence of fine attitude and spirit. Important also is the training program," he concluded.

Lt. Col. Lewis J. Britain, chief of supply, accepted the award. T. Sgt. Raymond Lagor serves as supply training NCOIC. Announcement of the award was received earlier in a letter from Lt. Gen. Sam Maddux Jr., ATC commander. The letter read in part: "This recognition is a testimonial to the professional skill and objective attitude of the personnel of Webb and assists in improving the image of your supply operation and the supply career area throughout Air Training Command."

Presentation of the supply award is made annually, with determination of first, second and first place winners being made in October each year.

Peters Must Face Trial

John Marvin Peters, under indictment for burglary, is mentally capable of being tried for the charge against him.

A jury in 118th District Court took only a few minutes to so decide Monday. The hearing, called by Judge Ralph Caton to adjudicate ruling of the authorities at Rusk State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, clears the way now for Peters to face trial for a burglary he is accused of committing nearly two years ago.

Peters had been in the Rusk hospital for nearly a year on a commitment by another 118th District Court jury which ruled him insane at that time. Hospital authorities said he now is sane.

Trial of Peters will be set for later on this winter. His case is not on the current docket which was opened Monday.

The jurors were excused from further duty until Wednesday morning. The state hopes to go to trial then with the case of Roberto Morales, charged with possession of narcotic drugs as a habitual offender.

Gas Well Flames Claim Three Men

AZTEC, N.M. (AP)— Three men died today of burns received Monday when a gas well erupted in flames.

The men who died in nearby Farmington were Lyman Gerard, 34, of Aztec, and two Farmington men, Walter Fredericks, 39, and Otis Landes, 35.

Fredericks' wife, Bonni, is a nurse at the hospital. Five others were in serious condition. Ten men received burns in the fire at an El Paso Natural Gas Co. site six miles north of Aztec in the San Juan Basin of northwest New Mexico.

TRUCK MELTS
Undersheriff J. C. Cattaneo said the three-hour blaze was so hot the well rig was destroyed and a cement pumping truck melted.

Cattaneo said the fire erupted as workers forced cement into the well in a plugging operation as the well was being abandoned. He said an oil and gas mixture, distillate, and drip gas apparently were forced up through the wellhead and into the pumping engines igniting the gas.

CLOTHES RIPPED OFF
A well service operator, Gene Reames, said damage to his equipment at the site would be about $200,000. He said he was told the firm plugging the well, Halliburton Co., had damages of about $100,000. Another man at the site,

KOREAN ORPHANS PLEAD FOR OLD CHRISTMAS CARDS
Bethel Home in Pusan sounds appeal for unusual help from Americans

Korean Orphans Ask For Your Old Christmas Cards

When Christmas has passed, don't throw away that pile of colorful Christmas greeting cards you received.

Suh Woon Lim and his young charges in far off Pusan, Korea, want them.

As Suh Woon Lim puts it: "A couple of year ago, one of our newspapers in America printed our appeal of used holiday cards and many warmful American friends have sent us many beautiful old cards which made our children most happy and good use in every day of our life."

Suh Woon Lim is superintendent of the Bethel Home for Happy Children, 603 Cho Up Dong, Pusanjin-ku, Pusan, Korea. That's where to send your old Christmas cards when you get ready to do so.

He writes the Daily Herald under date of Nov. 1.

"Greetings and blessings of God to you all in your company and may there be prosperity for your work. First of all, we are praying that this letter will be allowed to submit to you and read by your kind understanding into your human love for all our ill-fated children in this home. I was made happy to know your precious name in an American book."

He then recites how an appeal of two years ago brought many "beautiful old cards" to make his children happy.

"Once again through this letter, I am sorry to trouble you, but I hope will appear our wishes and my plea for all these orphan children if you could possibly do so to be of help to my work. We will be most happy and appreciated to get more of any old cards and used school supplies from your people."

"In closing I heartily hope that you will have a generous understanding of this plea and it shall be greatly appreciated if we could hear from you any fortunate news towards those who are grown. May God bless you and all the warmful American friends who are."

Suh Woon Lim enclosed a picture of his young charges with the letter.

The other 60 countries represented on the campus each have less than 20 students.

Rice Grower Likes Plane Planting Idea

BEAUMONT (AP)—A rice grower from India has taken a liking to this area's method of planting rice from low-flying planes and plans to take the idea back to India with him.

Said R. V. Swaminathan, a member of the legislative assembly in Madras, "It could be adopted as a co-operative effort by several farms."

CONSUMERS IN SOUR MOOD?

Retailers Facing Big Challenges

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Retailers are facing one of their biggest challenges ever during this Christmas shopping season. Even the experts are confused. The big unknown factor is the consumer mind. Everyone knows he's thinking of money. But is he thinking of spending it or saving it?

There have been many years in the past, poorer years by far than 1966, when department stores and other retailers could forecast with complete confidence that sales would be higher than the previous year.

There is a very good chance that such a forecast will come true this year. The consumer has the money. There are more consumers than ever before.

But forecasting is less certain because consumer buying habits in the past few months have become very difficult to predict. Some of the signals are even contradictory.

MANY FEARS
Through much of this year Americans received a hard-knocks course in household economics as they strove to beat inflation. By early fall, back from his expensive vacation, the consumer threw up his hands in frustration. Inflation put him in a sour mood and he still may be in it.

The factors affecting consumer habits during the past few months are a jumble of events, some of them seemingly irrelevant to the situation. Among them: inflation, high interest rates, the fear of recession, the Viet Nam war, criticism of products from various sources and a resultant lessening of confidence in goods, an erratic stock market, the balance of payments deficit.

The lessening of confidence apparently was a cumulative thing. Through much of the summer, retail sales continued to rise month to month. But in September the rise was broken. Sales dropped, although slightly.

Throughout the year the University of Michigan measured consumer attitudes, not by the cash register as much as by interviews. This survey, in itself, tells a story.

In the last half of 1965 consumers were more confident than at any time in 20 years, the university said.

CASH REGISTER
By April, the consumer was described as "guardedly optimistic," but nevertheless satisfied. He even believed the Viet Nam war made for good times at home without causing shortages of goods.

By June, the American consumer was less optimistic both about the future of business and about his own spending intentions. "Consumer optimism has weakened significantly during the past six months," the university said.

By fall, his willingness to spend appeared to have deteriorated further. It was being noted in lower, but still high, car sales for one thing; and in shopper resistance at supermarkets. Curiously, Viet Nam no longer was considered a "good" business factor.

Nevertheless, the study determined that many people — despite the gloomy attitude — continued to make plans to spend large amounts of money on automobiles or home appliances. Why?

It's a good question, one of many that the poker-faced consumer isn't answering for the retailer. Only the cash register will give the answer.

A Devotional For The Day

God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself. (II Corinthians 5:19)

PRAYER: Our Father, this Advent season we are especially thankful that Thou didst love the world so much that Thou didst send Thy Son to be our Savior. Help us not to lose our sense of appreciation in the midst of worldly celebration. Help us to seek and do Thy will. In Christ's name. Amen.

Overdue Reform

The Bureau of Labor Statistics has undertaken a long-overdue reform in its method of counting the employed and the unemployed. It may not, as the bureau said, alter the over-all job statistics by more than one or two tenths of a percentage point a month, but those statistics will at least be more meaningful.

For instance, the bureau has decided to drop the reporting of those aged 14 and 15 from the counting system. These youths work mainly as newsboys, babysitters, and delivery boys. Whether or not they are employed has "little economic or social significance," the bureau decided.

High school students who began hunting for summer vacation jobs in April will no longer be counted as unemployed until schools close. They should never have been counted as unemployed during that period.

Equally as important, those who are now counted as unemployed must go to an employment agency or answer a want ad, seeking a job at least once during the four weeks previous to the monthly survey week. Also, a worker on strike will not be counted as unemployed, even though he is looking for another job.

These may be minor adjustments in the over-all figure. But they are important because they tend to reflect more accurately the true employment picture. Public confidence in the figure is thereby increased.

Time For An Overhaul?

Austin reports indicate that feuding between Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and House Speaker Ben Barnes is disrupting the work of the Legislative Budget Board, which fired its budget officer, Vernon McGee, in a stormy session Aug. 29. Perhaps this may lead to abolishing the board which might better operate from the executive office.

The Texas Legislature in 1949 created the Legislative Budget Board to prepare a biennial state budget and general appropriations bills. It includes the lieutenant governor (Senate presiding officer), the House speaker, chairmen of the House revenue and appropriations committees and of the Senate finance and state affairs committees, plus two other representatives and two other senators. And it has a budget director and staff who prepare the "legislative budget" and general appropriations bills.

In 1951, the Legislature transferred the executive budget officer from the Board of Control to the governors office, where he should be. The governor now has a budget officer and staff who prepare the "executive budget," which is submitted to the Legislature as a duplicative basis for the general appropriations bills and taxing recommendations.

In 1957, the Legislature somewhat improved this curious and clumsy dual budget system by providing for uniform budget-request forms and joint hearings for the convenience of state agencies and to reduce the conflicts between the two proposed budgets. However, the whole system is an anachronistic effort of the Legislature to control what in the federal and most states governments is recognized as an executive responsibility.

The governor should be given full authority to review agency budget requests and prepare the biennial budget and the general appropriations and tax bills for submission to the Legislature. The Legislature would still have an adequate check, through review and revision by appropriate committees and the governor would have a final check with his "item veto" power.

Marquis Childs Republicans In The Cabinet?

WASHINGTON — Seldom has any President been confronted with such a thorny thicket in his path as Lyndon Johnson faces in the Viet Nam war only a year and a half before he runs for re-election. Bitter and unpopular for many Americans, it is an incomprehensible war, 10,000 miles from our shores.

Korea is no analogy, since in the Korean war the United States, acting through the United Nations, was supported by virtually all non-Communist countries. Yet in 1952, when that war had gone on for two years with ever-increasing casualties, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower could campaign as the peace candidate, saying that Asians should fight Asians and Midwestern farm boys should stay on the farm.

THE PRESIDENT has so far stoutly resisted proposals from his military advisers who argue for measures to bring a quick end to the war. These measures include more extended bombing of the Hanoi area, and the influence of the military is reflected in news stories inspired by the Pentagon to the effect that electric plants and other industrial centers will soon be targets. They argue, too, for bombing the harbor of Haiphong to stop the flow of military materiel to the Communist North and for direct hits on the anti-aircraft bases around Hanoi.

THE PRESIDENT knows, as he indicates from time to time, that to extend the range, as the Joint Chiefs of Staff want, would risk a greatly enlarged war. At the very least, it would put an end to the effort to improve relations with the Soviet Union if it did not bring the Soviets into the war in far more direct and active participation. To carry out a limited invasion of North Viet Nam, as some of the military want, would likewise be a grave risk of another kind of war bringing in both China and the Soviet Union.

THE PRESIDENT'S model out of his early years in Washington was Franklin Roosevelt, and he has not forgotten that on the eve of the republican convention in 1940 FDR named two prominent Republicans to the key posts of War and Navy in his Cabinet. The Republicans howled with rage, seeing this as a move to blur the issue of peace or war as Nazi armies overran Western Europe. It undoubtedly helped to give a non-partisan look to the measures "short of war" Roosevelt was taking in behalf of a beleaguered and desperate Britain.

The White House today is said to have a list of Republicans who could contribute in the same way toward insuring that Viet Nam is non-partisan and nonpolitical. High on that list, according to current reports, is Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, who steps out on January 17.

REFUSING to confirm or deny any conjectures about his future plans, Scranton says he will make no determination until after he leaves office and has time to weigh the choices before him. But so seriously did Gov. George Romney of Michigan take this report that he discussed it some time ago with Eisenhower.

One possibility is the hot seat as Ambassador to Viet Nam. He would replace Henry Cabot Lodge, another Republican, who has served two tours of duty in that demanding and dangerous post. Lodge would then go as Ambassador to France, satisfying a life-long ambition. Part of his education was in France and he speaks French fluently.

WHEN HE SPOKE at Dallastown, Pa., in early September, Johnson gave Scranton warm praise. With the Governor on the platform beside him, he said, "We have always felt that he put his country before his party." His words, saluting the "progressive state government in Harrisburg," were widely used by the Republicans in the campaign, to the annoyance of the Democrats.

In his talk, the President referred to "your sons and husbands... in Southeast Asia helping to defend the peace and the freedom of not just Dallastown but free men everywhere in the world." It may have been that with Scranton beside him he was taking a long look ahead to the need to reshape his Administration.

James Marlow It's Handwringing Time For LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Remember those days — they seem a long way off — when President Johnson was running around the White House, turning off the lights to save money?

You don't hear much about that any more. But, things have been going up all over, living costs, wages, prices and even the cost of the war in Viet Nam. Another four weeks and it will be bell-ringing time, Christmas. But down on Johnson's Texas ranch, from now until Christmas, it will be handwringing time, usual every year about now, as Johnson sweats to cut spending.

But spending is going up. PRESIDENT John F. Kennedy's last budget sent to Congress in January 1963—for the 1964 fiscal year, beginning July 1, 1963 and ending June 30, 1964—called for spending $98.802 billion.

When Johnson took over the presidency about this time in 1963, he had to tug and tussle with the figures to ready the budget he had to submit to Congress in January 1964, for fiscal 1965.

He really sweated over that one. He wanted to keep his budget lower than Kennedy's, which would be a kind of miracle, if he could. And, by jingo, he did. His budget, $97.9 billion, was just a little less than $1 billion below Kennedy's.

But everything was inching along, living costs and all that, just a little up and up, and we were getting a little deeper into the Vietnamese war, which was not inexpensive.

THEN came November and December 1964 and Johnson went through the tug-and-tussle about his budget for Congress in early 1965 for fiscal 1966.

He hustled and battled but it turned out his budget was $99.7 billion, which was just a little below $1 billion over Kennedy's last budget, and $1.8 billion over his own budget of the previous year.

But by this time the United States was getting up to its neck in the war.

Once again came that time of the fiscal Turkish bath on the Johnson ranch — November and December 1965 — with the war getting bigger and all the expenses of the "Great Society" program, which Congress had passed earlier in the year, to worry about.

SO, while Johnson may have lost weight sweating about the spending, the spending itself got fatter and in January 1966, when Johnson submitted his budget for fiscal 1967, it turned out to be $112.8 billion.

But What About Little Boys?

NEW YORK (AP) — Every little girl yearns at some time to become a ballet dancer, a nurse, or a schoolteacher.

But the fact is that more and more wise little girls are growing up to become business executives.

For woman's place today is as much the office as it is the kitchen. One of the results of the continuing industrial revolution has been to put womanhood in a new seat of power — behind a typewriter.

Less than 100 years ago, women were almost as scarce in American business offices as gem pearls are in restaurant oysters.

"ACCORDING to the 1870 census, there were just seven female office workers," says Earl Tiffany Jr., president of the Royal Typewriter Co. "Today there are approximately three million secretaries, stenographers and typists — and 98 per cent of them are women."

Another source, Miss M. Merle Law, president of the National Secretaries Association, agrees with Tiffany's figure of three million, but estimates the total number of U.S. women office workers in all jobs at seven million.

How did women come to this giant step? Some historians trace it back to the year 1881 when the YWCA started the first typing courses for women.

Year by year, women methodically replaced men in office work just as in the fields the tractor replaced the horse.

HERE are some statistics which may explain why so many little girls today are turning to secretarial work rather than becoming ballerinas, nurses or schoolteachers: Says Tiffany: "Between 1955 and 1964, those earning $100 or more weekly increased from 5 per cent to more than 28 per cent. Top secretaries command salaries of $10,000."

Says Miss Law: "Salaries vary in different parts of the country, but secretaries to middle-management men average $97 per week, and secretaries to top-level management average $112 per week. But they range up to $17,400 a year and in one case, considering extra cash benefits, to $21,400."

SAYS Tiffany: "This is one field in which age presents a minimum drawback to the older woman. More than half of the 'Miss Typewriters' of this country are married, and almost half are more than 40 years old."

Says Miss Law, with considerable pride: "A survey of our members showed that 32.8 per cent owned their own homes, a car and some stock shares."

The U.S. Department of Labor estimated that 200,000 more secretaries a year will be needed for the next decade—a prospect of two million new jobs.

This seems to take care of the futures of a lot of little girls.

But what about little boys?

A smart little boy right now might start going steady with some smart little girl who shows unusual aptitude for the typewriter. Later in life she could be a great big help to him in achieving a style of living to which he would like to become accustomed — that is, if she doesn't wed the boss's son.

Around The Rim

The Proud USS Arizona—Always On Duty

It soon will be Dec. 7 again and another anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Like many other days which shone with terrible brightness when they first arose, interest and concern over Dec. 7 has dwindled. I think it has lost impact even faster than Nov. 11, 1918.

PROBABLY there will be a short program Dec. 7 on the half-submerged deck of the USS Arizona in Pearl Harbor, and the flag, which flies from the mast above that ghostly battleship, will flutter in the breeze. Probably there will be a shower during the ceremony, almost symbolic of tears. Then taps will be sounded in memory of the 1,102 men who perished on that date a quarter of a century ago and whose bones are still inside the twisted and rusting wreckage of their battleship.

Perhaps there will be a few of the 400 other crewmen and officers of the Arizona who survived that holocaust on hand to pay their own particular tribute to their comrades.

YESTERDAY I read a few lines in some newspaper about the Arizona. One statement impressed me. "The Arizona," said the item, "is the last surviving battleship—to remain in service in the U.S. Navy."

Thirteen years ago I sailed into Pearl Harbor aboard the mightiest of the battleships—a guest on the Wisconsin, which with the USS Missouri, holds the honor of being the biggest battleship ever built. Since naval strategy has completely changed, and the Wisconsin and the Missouri are no longer active, their prestige as the biggest will probably remain from now on. THE USS ARIZONA was one of the unfortunate American naval vessels docked in Pearl Harbor the day the Japs made their sneak attack on the installation. The Arizona was less fortunate than some of its sister ships. One of the Jap bombs fell into her huge smokestack, crashed deep inside the hold and exploded. The Arizona settled quickly in the shallow waters of the harbor. Most of her men were trapped below deck and perished.

An effort to remove the bodies of the 1,102 victims was made and proved disastrous. Two Navy divers sent below into the twisted wreckage became trapped and died.

THE NAVY sent messages to all of the next of kin to the 1,102 Arizona men whose bodies were trapped in the shattered hull. The messages asked if the relatives would consent to the victims remaining where they had died.

The records show that all of the kinsmen replied: "Yes, let them sleep where they are."

That is why the USS Arizona remains classified as a commissioned Navy battleship, and why a boat puts out daily at dawn from Pearl Harbor to ceremoniously raise the flag over the ship and returns at dusk to lower it.

IT WILL be a long, long time before the heavy armor plate of the Arizona rusts completely and the dim outlines of the battleship fade into the blue waters of Pearl Harbor.

But will the memory of the brave men who lie sleeping there still remain? —SAM BLACKBURN

The War Can Be Won

WASHINGTON — The Viet Nam War could be won and over within another nine months. Government officials have reached this estimate, and given it to this reporter, and have qualified it only with the proviso that present trends continue.

In different words, nothing except a set of very improbable events — those mentioned as examples would be a coup that overthrows Premier Ky or the resignation in protest of several topmost advisors to President Johnson — can deny well-earned victory by Allied arms and political viability in Saigon.

THIS ESTIMATE by American spokesmen is of the utmost importance because it finds that the trends set in motion, and kept in motion, are of our own making and are now set on a course of predictable success.

THE ARCHITECT of the coming victory is President Johnson who made a historic decision in the spring of 1965 to win against communism both in the Dominican Republic and Viet Nam. There never was a smoother operation, more courageously taken and vigorously prosecuted, than LBJ's old-fashioned gunboat diplomacy, laced with ultramodern refinements, which completely foiled the Red revolutionaries at Santo Domingo. It was such a contrast to the Bay of Pigs, such a refutation of the Nervous Nellies, that those critics who downrate the President's ability at foreign affairs have been lockjawed ever since.

AT APPROXIMATELY the same time, Johnson gave orders for the military buildup in Viet Nam and for the relentlessly increasing air war against the Hanoi regime. LBJ had acted in the nick of time. In May, '65, the South Vietnamese forces, whom we were still "advising," had reached the furthest point of commitment. They were so fully engaged as to have no reserves and therefore no way of meeting the next Communist thrust. Only American troops, fighting an American war and backed up by ever-increasing numbers and ever-rising firepower, could save the Saigon government. In the 18 months that followed, American success has been "spectacular" — a strong word for experts to use — in the slaughter of Communists, the shattering of their morale and the aborting of the enemy initiative. No U.S. Commander-in-chief ever snatched our cause from the clutch of disaster with more aplomb and audacity than did Lyndon Johnson — and this opinion is virtually uncontroverted by those in a position to know.

THERE ARE three areas of operation that must be discussed in allowable detail for they are the main factors that must eventually cause the Asian Communists to withdraw from their losing game of aggression. I give them here in outline and hope to flesh them out later. The three layers of dynamic development are:

1. — The military frustration of the enemy's plans which is in full progress, as described.
2. — The course and pace of political achievement in South Viet Nam.
3. — THE SHAPE of public opinion in the United States and to a lesser extent in the rest of the watching world.

In all three areas, the pressures are mounting to the cracking point against the Communists.

All The Time He Luffed Hitler

WASHINGTON—There was a spate of so-called neo-Nazi activity in last week's Bavarian elections in Germany and naturally everyone who lived through World War II is slightly nervous.

What the emergence of a new right wing in Germany means is hard to say, but it's quite possible that after denying for 20 years that they were Nazis, many former members of the party might feel it politically wise to insist they were.

"HERR SCHMIDT, you're very kind to see me in your Bavarian Schloss. There are rumors that you were a member of the Nazi Party."

"Yes, you do mean rumors? I was a loyal Nazi till the very end."

"But in your testimony at the Nuremberg trials you denied it."

"Lies, all lies. Ask anyone. Ven you thought of Schmidt, you thought of Nazis, you thought of Schmidt."

"But surely, sir, you were a minor functionary, a victim of circumstances."

"ARE YOU TRYING to ruin my political career? I was Gauleiter in charge of an entire district. Would you like to see my black boots?"

"But even so, you said at your trial that you didn't know Eichmann."

"Vat do you mean I didn't know Eichmann? I was his best friend. We worked side by side in the same office. We shared the same locker."

"But isn't it true that you only followed orders?"

"VAT KIND OF question is that? I gave the orders. Vas I some sort of robot who just did what people told me to do?"

"I guess what has confused me was your testimony at Nuremberg."

"I vas in a daze at Nuremberg. I couldn't remember anything. But it's all come back to me now. If you don't believe me, read the record."

"You said you had become disillusioned with Adolph Hitler in 1933 and you only stayed in the party because you were afraid of being put into prison."

"THAT'S RIDICULOUS. I luffed Hitler like a brother. He gave me the Iron Cross and I still have an autographed photo taken with him and Eva Braun. Here it is in my campaign literature."

"Then you were not in on the plot to kill Hitler in 1944?"

"It was the one who discovered the plot and saved his life."

"You also said at Nuremberg that you never knew there were any concentration camps in Germany."

"HOW COULD I say such a thing ven I built them? I vas the father of the concentration camps."

"You certainly seem to be a different man than you were in 1946."

"I vas caught up in the emotions of the time. I hope people will judge me now, not by what I said in 1946, but by what I did in 1939."

"Well, thank you, sir."

"It was my pleasure, and by the way, Hell Hitler!"

His wife, Capt. Ethel Tully, is with the Army's Third Field Hospital, and sons Sgt. Robert E. Tully Jr. and Cpl. Ronald J. Tully are with the Marines.

The father was the last to get into the fight. His wife has been there six months, the boys nine months.

Billy Graham

How is it possible to have peace of heart and mind with so much trouble in the world? F.A.

Yes, I know that peace is possible for people right now and regardless of outward conditions. There are three kinds of peace and they follow in a natural sequence. First of all, and without which the other two are impossible, one must have peace with God. This is a vertical relationship, made possible for us by our accepting Christ, the Son of God, as our own Savior from sin. It is faith in Christ which gives us peace with God. The second kind of peace is the peace of God which comes into our hearts when we become His children through faith in Christ. This enables us to take the hard things of life with the knowledge that all things work together for good for those who love God. It is the kind of peace which only God can give and which the world cannot take away. Finally, there is peace with our fellow men. This finds its expression in love instead of hate, in trying to help those in need, in forgiving wrongs instead of holding resentment. There are thousands of ways in which we can show this love to others and it adds to our joy and peace. If you truly want peace you must find it in God's way.

To Your Good Health A Man Functions With Half A Brain

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

A patient with half of the upper part of his brain removed has upset some previously held beliefs. Surgeons at the Omaha VA Hospital had to remove the left part of his brain, a segment five inches across, because of a tumor.

Such an operation is quite a feat to begin with, although it has been done before.

The striking thing is that the patient is able to do so many things that supposedly he could not do — he talks well, uses a telephone, walks with a cane; phlebitis kept him in bed longer than otherwise would have been necessary, plays checkers, prints, recognizes colors and other such things.

The prior belief had been that removal of so much left-side brain tissue would hopelessly handicap the right side of his body, and especially interfere with speech.

Well, such massive removal of brain tissue obviously does a lot of damage, but this patient spoke a few words soon after the operation was completed.

He had trouble at times when he couldn't surmount the exact word he wanted to use, and the report goes that he did some fluent cussing when that happened. Since this his word-power has been returning, and he makes out very well with patriotic songs and hymns, is better than the average man at mechanical tests involving use of his hands (he was adept before) and has regained some skills which he lost temporarily, one of them being the ability to distinguish different colors and shades.

Such extensive brain surgery is, of course, rare, and few who read this column will ever have direct interest in it. However, it occurs to me that this is of potential importance to millions who may someday have a stroke, or have a member of the family affected by one.

There is no way to undo completely the damage of a severe stroke, but experts in rehabilitation keep telling us that too many stroke victims give up too quickly. They find them that patience and persistence will pay off, and the experience of this man in Omaha becomes, I think, a striking example of how much even a damaged brain can do.

"Tips On How To Stop Smoking" are paralyzed to some degree, and think that nothing at all can be done.

The truth is that if some movement remains, improvement is usually possible. There are many cases of a hand being extremely weak after a stroke. Steady practice (such as squeezing a rubber ball, or lifting very small weights, then increasing the size) brings increased usefulness.

In some cases it is possible for other parts of the brain to take over functions which have been controlled by a part now damaged.

I do not want to minimize in any way the seriousness of strokes, but we know that a good deal of improvement is possible when a patient is told you give up the habit. To receive a copy of the booklet, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Longhorns Win Third Game In Row, 69-51.

Big Spring High School gave the Andrews Mustangs a lesson in defensive play the first half and went on to achieve a 69-51 victory over the Mustangs here Monday night.

The Longhorns, now 3-0, move to Kermit for an 8 o'clock engagement tonight before launching play against Kermit in the first round of the Odessa invitational tournament at 5 p.m. Thursday.

Andrews, a semifinalist in the State Class AAA meet last year and boasting good height, was no match for the fast breaking Steers.

The locals outshot the Mustangs from the field, 27 buckets to 14, and led all the way. They had achieved a 12-7 bulge at the end of the first period and were out front by half time, 31-18.

The Steers' edge was so pronounced, coach Don McDonald had an opportunity to use all his talent.

Big Spring connected 12 of 22 times from the hardwoods the first half for 55 per cent and 15 of 37 the final two periods for 41 per cent.

The loss was the third in a row for the Ponies. Previously, they had been beaten by seven points in Odessa by Odessa High and yielded to Jal, N. M., by eight.

Robert Jackson paced the Mustangs in scoring and rebounding. He tallied 25 points and picked off 16 caroms. Danny Clendenin hit 14 points and Wayne Johnson 11 for the Mustangs.

Y Organizing Cage Leagues

The YMCA is now taking applications for entries in three leagues which, if the proper amount of interest is manifested, will begin play shortly after Jan. 1.

A four-team adult league will be organized, as will a four-team senior high circuit. The number of teams in the junior high circuit will depend largely on how many boys sign up.

Present plans call for the junior high league to play its games Saturday afternoon at the Y. The adult league will play each Monday night and the senior high circuit on Tuesdays.

The teams in each of the leagues will engage in double round-robin schedules.

Those interested should get in touch with Jim Gilbert at the Y as soon as practicable.

Stanton, Coahoma Collide Tonight

STANTON — Stanton warmed up for its game with undefeated Coahoma by drubbing McCamey, 56-48, here Monday evening. Stanton goes to Coahoma.

The Stanton B team set the pattern for success by turning back the McCamey reserves, 55-25, in the preliminary joust. Freshman Larry Franklin had 13 points and junior Robert Haggard 11 for Stanton in the preliminary while Frank Taylor scored for the visitors.

Stanton's A team win was its fifth in a row. Coach Doyle Edmiston had three boys in double figures. Buddy Shanks leading the way with 14 points. Allen Springer and Jimmy Jones each scored 11 while Springer led all rebounders with 14.

The Buffaloes hit 38 per cent of their shots from the field. McCamey was paced by Bubba Grigsby, who wound up with 17 points. He was the only Badger to hit in double figures.

Eagles Place Seven On MV Star Units

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Middle guard Burkley Harkless and flanker John Love, both from co-champion North Texas, are the only unanimous choices on the 1966 All-Missouri Valley football team chosen by The Associated Press.

Veteran Odus Mitchell of North Texas was named Valley Coach of the Year. This was his 21st and final season at North Texas and 42nd as a head coach.

North Texas also dominated the 22-man team, with seven selections to six for Louisville and four for Tulsa, the other co-champ. Wichita landed three men and Cincinnati two. Cincy dominated the second team.

The team includes two of the nation's top passers and three of the nation's top receivers from the nation's most pass-minded conference.

The voters put both John Eckman of Wichita, the nation's top passer with 195 completions, and Benny Russell of Louisville, high in national total offense, in the first team backfield along with Love and Gene Lukuskiak, Tulsa fullback.

Russell, a sprint-out passer and good runner, broke 11 school marks at Louisville, five of them once held by Johnny Unitas, now with Baltimore. Eckman is a drop-back passer.

Sophomore Glenn Meltzer of Wichita, who leads the nation with 91 catches for 1,115 yards, was chosen at one end with Jim Russell of North Texas, with 45 catches for 668 yards, at the other. Love caught 68 throws for 1,130 yards, best in the nation, and 10 touchdowns.

Notre Dame Firms Up Lead In Poll

By BEN OLAN
By The Associated Press

It's Notre Dame by a more solid first-place margin over Michigan State while Alabama is a stronger third in The Associated Press' next-to-last major college football poll of the 1966 season.

The Fighting Irish moved in front by 34 points this week after finishing their season with a smashing 51-0 conquest of Rose Bowl-bound Southern California.

Notre Dame led the second-ranked Spartans by only three points a week ago after the teams battled to a 10-10 tie in Michigan State's final game.

The No. 1 and No. 2 teams each finished with a 9-0-1 record.

Alabama, the defending national champion and the only major team with an unbeaten record, trails Notre Dame by 78 points and Michigan State by 44. A week ago, the Crimson Tide was 89 points behind the Irish and 88 behind the Spartans.

The Tide rolled over Southern Mississippi 34-0 for their ninth victory last Saturday. The final poll will be taken next week after Alabama completes its regular season by playing Auburn at Birmingham, Ala., this Saturday.

In the latest balloting by a national panel of 52 sports writers and broadcasters, Notre Dame collected 505 points while Michigan State had 471 and Alabama 427.

The Irish were given sole possession of first place by 35 voters while five others put them in a tie for the top spot with Michigan State. The Spartans were given undisputed top ranking by only five voters.

Each team received 10 points on a tie ballot with the rest of the points distributed on the regular basis of nine for a second place vote, eight for third, seven for fourth, etc. Two selectors placed Notre Dame and Michigan State in a second-place tie while making Alabama No. 1.

In all, Notre Dame received 40 votes for first place, nine for second and three for third. Michigan State drew 10 first-place votes, 36 for second place, five for third and one for fourth. Alabama collected seven votes for the opposition, three for second, 37 for third, four for fourth, and one for fifth.

Georgia, UCLA, Nebraska, Purdue, Georgia Tech, Miami of Florida and Southern Methodist complete the Top Ten in that order.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points:

- 1. Notre Dame (40) 505
- 2. Michigan St. (10) 471
- 3. Alabama (7) 427
- 4. Georgia (6) 427
- 5. UCLA (5) 427
- 6. Nebraska (5) 427
- 7. Purdue (5) 427
- 8. Georgia Tech (5) 427
- 9. Miami (5) 427
- 10. Southern Methodist (5) 427

Joe Kuharich, coach of the Philadelphia Eagles: "The most complete football player of my time was Ollie Matson. Matson, Hugh McElhenny, Jim Brown, Gale Sayers and Timmy Brown are the five best ball carriers of this era. McElhenny may have been the most spectacular of them all. Among those still active, Timmy Brown has quickness and a great change of pace. He might not be as strong a runner as Sayers but he has quicker feet and he's a better pass receiver. Do I have any regrets about leaving Notre Dame? No, pro holds the most interest for me. I didn't realize it until I left and went back to college coaching. Pro stimulates me more."

Hugh McElhenny, former pro football great: "I always ran scared. It was like when I was a little kid. I used to have to walk through a dark alley to get home at night. There was a light at the other end of that alley and doorways, dark doorways, on both sides of the street. Well, I didn't walk on either side. I'd run down the middle of the street for the light. But I'd run down the anticipation that there was someone trying to get at me in each of those doorways. It was the same in football. I could just feel them coming for me. I could hear their footsteps."

Former fight champion Joe Brown, prior to the recent ring fiasco between Cassius Clay and Cleveland Williams at Houston: "You can sew a man up. You can get him well again. You can make him strong and healthy. But you can't give him back his reflexes. Sure, Cleve can still punch like a mule's kick, but can he react in time to throw that punch?"

Bud Wilkinson, the former Oklahoma football coach, now a football commentator for the NCAA telecasts: "I'm pleased with my job because it allows me to see my friends and stay current. The game doesn't change radically but there are fashions in football like everything else. I have no plans to ever return to coaching. It is strange when I was in coaching everyone asked me when I was going to quit. Now I get the opposite question."

Hayden Fry, SMU grid mentor: "Our Jerry Levis has got the moves that Lance Alworth never thought of having."

Los Angeles Is Likely To Stage Super Bowl

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Coliseum and Sunday, Jan. 15 are the likely site and date of the Super Bowl football game between the champions of the National and American Football leagues.

If the Pro Bowl game, between all-star teams of the NFL's two conferences, can be shifted from Jan. 15 to Jan. 22, the two pro leagues are expected to move their first big game into the vast 110,000-seat Coliseum.

No decision has been made. The Coliseum, Miami's Orange Bowl, New Orleans' Sugar Bowl and Houston's Astrodome are being considered, according to NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

A joint committee from the two leagues, with Commissioner Rozelle as chairman, is making its recommendations to the two leagues at separate meetings. A definite announcement is expected before the two pro leagues end their meetings Wednesday or Thursday.

Of primary importance to the members of the NFL is a discussion of realignment. With New Orleans becoming the 16th team in 1967, the league will have 16 teams. They will be split into the same two Eastern and Western Conferences, with the West choosing between New Orleans and Atlanta as its eighth member. Baltimore

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue: WELLS TWOMBLY, Houston scribe: "As the weeks slip painfully past and the defeats begin to pile up like snow on an Eskimo's lawn, it becomes increasingly obvious that beating the Houston Oilers does not require a great deal of intelligence. A chimpanzee could figure out the game plan. Just send a couple of receivers deep and tell them to wave their hands so the quarterback doesn't lose sight of them. The rest is laughingly easy."

CHUCK JOHNSON, Milwaukee writer: "Attention to detail, combined with good personnel, leads to winning football, whether on the high school, college or professional level. Good coaches almost wear out their eyes looking at films. After every Green Bay Packer game, for instance, the coaches break the films down in two segments, offense and defense. Then each player is graded on every play. This means that a play will be run back and forth five or six times for each player, or a total of 60 times on each play. The other team is studied closely on film, too, against its last opponents and also the last time it played the Packers. All of this information then must be correlated with practice on the field. It must be explained in such a way as to help each player face his assignment in every conceivable situation in the game itself. It is complicated, but fascinating."

Ortiz Looks To Collision With Texan

NEW YORK (AP) — Another lightweight title fight and then champion Carlos Ortiz, knock-out conqueror of Filipino Flash Elorde, may move up against welterweight king Curtis Cokes.

Ortiz and his manager Bill Daly, who had a second's license for the Monday night rout at Madison Square Garden, mentioned Sugar Ramos of Mexico City and Carlos Cruz, the contender from the Dominican Republic, as the possible lightweight opponents.

Ortiz flattened the game, wiry Elorde with a smashing left hook to the chin at 2:01 of the 14th round, ending a fight that was as one-sided as a duel between a machine-gunner and a guy with a water pistol.

Elorde, as flat as a day-old glass of ginger ale, never could get going against the smart, crisp-hitting Puerto Rican-born New Yorker.

Judge Joe Armstrong gave all 15 rounds to Ortiz, the 3-1 favorite. Judge Artie Alda scored it 12-1 and referee Jimmy Develin had it 11-2. The Associated Press score card had it 12-1.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Curtis Cokes, the thin brown panther of the ring, successfully defended his world welterweight crown against short-armed Jean Josselin Monday night, then looked toward a title bout with lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz, who wants to move up.

Norm Levinson, promoter for the Dallas All-Sports Association, pointed to a $55,000 gate and 5,800 attendance for the Cokes-Josselin fight and said he wanted every fight to stage a Cokes-Ortiz scrap in Dallas.

Doug Lord, manager of Cokes, expressed himself heartily in favor of the move. Cokes said he figured the fight would be in San Juan, Puerto Rico, but he didn't know the date.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates have acquired Juan Pizarro in an attempt to solve their primary problem, and the Houston Astros have grabbed Bo Belinsky with the hope that he can overcome his.

Pizarro and Belinsky, both 29-year-old left-handed pitchers, were in the spotlight Monday as baseball's annual winter meetings got under way.

Belinsky, whose weakness possibly has been as much good times as it has bad pitching, went to the Astros for $25,000 in the player draft, and several hours later Pizarro became the first player to be involved in a deal at the meetings. The Pirates bought him from the Chicago White Sox for an undisclosed amount.

"We watched Pizarro last summer, and we think he can help us," said Manager Harry Walker, whose Pirates just missed winning the National League pennant because of weak pitching. "He's still young enough to come back. He still can throw."

Pizarro won 19 games for the White Sox in 1964 but has won just 14 in the two seasons since then. His problem has been arm trouble.

Tascosa Gets Major Test

The Texas schoolboy football race hits its quarter-finals this week and Amarillo Tascosa, the big favorite in Class AAAA, may be facing its greatest test of the campaign.

Saturday at Amarillo, Tascosa meets San Angelo, considered the top contender for the title most of the season and now fighting back to its erstwhile prominence.

Tascosa removed one former champion last week when it

MAURY WILLS

Maury Wills Is On Block

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers said today they have placed shortstop Maury Wills in the trade mart partly — if not primarily — because he left the club during a tour of Japan.

"I don't know yet whether Wills will be traded," said Buzie Bavasi, the Dodgers' general manager, "but if anybody makes a reasonable offer then, of course, Wills would be one of the first we would trade."

Asked if Wills' failure to remain with the Dodgers during the recently completed exhibition tour of Japan had anything to do with the decision, Bavasi said:

"It's partly due to what Wills did."

What Wills did was leave the Dodgers early in the tour after they had been refused permission to do so by Walter O'Malley, the Dodgers' president. However, Wills said he needed medical attention for his right knee.

In discussing Wills and the Dodgers' decision, Bavasi said he had spoken with O'Malley Monday night and they had decided to make Wills available.

Bavasi revealed that he already had told three clubs that Wills was available — the New York Yankees, Minnesota Twins and Atlanta Braves.

Bavasi, however, indicated there haven't been any firm offers that would make a deal imminent.

During the 1962 season, Wills stole 104 bases. But last season, hampered by his leg injury, the 34-year-old shortstop stole only 35 bases and was caught stealing 24 times.

Mummy Sheds His Bandages

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The Mummy on New Mexico's sixth-ranked basketball team, 6-foot-9 Mel Daniels, has shed the bandages.

The Detroit, Mich., star was saddled with the nickname last year after he was severely cut in a fall through a glass door during halftime against Utah midway in the season.

Some New Mexico backers kept their fingers crossed for this season which opens in New Mexico's new, 14,831-seat arena Thursday against Abilene, Tex., Christian.

Others thought Lobo basketball fortunes had died.

Dr. Jerome Greenblatt, team physician, said cuts on Daniels' right hand, shoulder and head were about the worst athletic injury he had seen. He said the deltoid muscle — which covers the shoulder joint — was severed.

trapped Wichita Falls 20-7. San Angelo is another ex-champion although this goes back to 1943. Bryan Adams faces Carrollton Turner, Spring Branch clashes with Port Arthur and, Alice meets San Antonio MacArthur in other Class AAAA quarter-finals. There are comparisons in three instances.

COMPARISONS
Port Arthur beat Spring Branch 12-7 during the regular season to offer a direct comparison but what happens to teams in such instances usually is the opposite, as illustrated last week by defending champion Plano of Class AA, which beat Decatur 14-6 after losing to that team early in the season.

Tascosa beat Odessa Permian 6-0 and Permian beat San Angelo 12-6.

Carrollton Turner whipped Garland 20-8 and Mesquite 23-20 but Bryan Adams was held to a 6-6 tie by Garland and lost to Mesquite 34-28.

There is no comparison between Alice and MacArthur, both undefeated, untied teams.

There is no comparison of any kind among the Class AAA teams left in the race—Monahans vs Vernon, McKinney vs Ennis, Bridge City vs Clear Creek and San Marcos vs Fredericksburg. But Vernon, McKinney, Bridge City and San Marcos will be favored anyway.

NO BASIS
There also are no measuring sticks in Class AA where Iowa Park clashes with Granbury, Plano meets Dainfield, Bastrop takes on Hardin-Jefferson and Sweeny tangles with San Antonio Randolph.

In Class A where Keller tackles favorite Forney in a battle of the unbeaten and untied, there is a comparison that tells little. Keller beat Cedar Hill 20-6 and Forney beat Cedar Hill 23-6.

In other Class A quarter-final games, White Deer plays Sonora, Hewitt takes on Rosebud and Schuenburg engages George West.

Forney, Hewitt and George West will be favored but White Deer may face trouble aplenty with Sonora, which is unbeaten and untied and rolled up 381 points in 11 games. White Deer has managed 410 in a like number.

Annette, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Felts of the Gay Hill community, brought back quite a trophy from a hunting trip with her family west of Menard the past weekend when she felled an 11-point buck that dressed out at 105 pounds.

Her father also killed a deer but the antler spread wasn't nearly as impressive.

Bagging a deer on the family's hunting grounds is sort of "old hat" with Annette. This is the fifth deer she has felled since she began hunting.

Three Receive Jewelled Pins

A jewel pin ceremony was conducted during Tuesday's meeting of Mu Kappa Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, which followed a dinner in the Patio Room of the Holiday Inn.

Mrs. Robin Howell was assisted in the ritual by Mrs. Eugene Dean, and receiving pins were Mrs. James Hargrove, Mrs. C. W. Muse and Mrs. Tommy C. Mills.

During the business session, Mrs. Hargrove reported that a Thanksgiving basket was delivered to a family with 12 children. The chapter will provide a Christmas basket for the same family.

An invitation was read from the Alpha Chi Chapter inviting the group to a Christmas ball which will be held Dec. 10 at Cosden Country Club. Mu Kappa's chapter beauty, Mrs. Hargrove, will be presented at that time along with the beauty chosen to represent Alpha Chi.

The T-shaped banquet table was covered with white linen and centered with an arrangement of fall flowers. The ritual table featured blue and gold banners on a white cloth and silver candleabra-holding yellow tapers. The centerpiece was of yellow chrysanthemums.

Secret sisters were revealed and gifts exchanged. The Dec. 12 Christmas party will be held in the home of Mrs. Muse with Mrs. Howell as cohostess.

Tall Talker Club Sets Party Date

"Pilgrim's Progress" was the program theme during the Monday evening meeting of the Tall Talkers Toastmistress Club. The members met at the Officers Open Mess with Mrs. Lewis Vale presiding.

The program was based on religious aspects of American society, and Mrs. Albert Condon was toastmistress.

Mrs. Richard Shaver's talk was entitled "Theological Potpourri." The second speaker was Mrs. James Brooks who gave a selective reading from the book, "The Status Seekers."

Author Truman Capote Was 'Host With Most' Last Night

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
NEW YORK (AP) — It was hard to decide who was belle of Truman Capote's much-touted masked ball Monday night — Lynda Bird Johnson, Kay Graham or agile Alice Roosevelt Longworth — but there was no doubt that he was the host with the most, the idol of the "in" crowd.

The President's glamorous elder daughter — a working girl — danced until 2 a.m. with several partners.

The honored guest, publisher Kay Graham, sat out few of the dances.

Mrs. Longworth, daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt, sat out the dance tunes by Peter Duchin and the Soul Brothers. Nevertheless, she was surrounded until the wee hours by various personalities.

At one time, at the same red-clothed table, sat three members of White House families — Lynda Bird chatting animatedly with Mrs. Longworth while Margaret Truman Daniel listened.

For endurance on the dance floor the prizes went to Lauren Bacall and bearded Jerome Robbins, who danced until they were wet with perspiration.

Mia Sinatra danced the fast ones with Roddy McDowell while her husband Frank chatted with Pat Lawford and Eunice Shriver, sisters of the late President John F. Kennedy. The late president's mother, Mrs. Joseph Kennedy, arrived early in the evening while Lee Radziwill, Mrs. John F. Kennedy's sister, was a glittering latecomer in a silver bugle-beaded dress.

Celebrities were plentiful at this imaginative party given in the grand ballroom of the Plaza Hotel at 59th Street and Fifth Avenue.

Throaty Tallulah Bankhead was "darling-ing" everybody.

At the next table, a contingent of nine from Garden City, Kan., watched the doings of the "beautiful people." The watchers included Alvin Dewey and his wife. He was an investigator for the Kansas Bureau of Investigation, and a principal figure in Capote's book, "In Cold Blood."

Capote set the fashion tone by insisting that his female guests wear black or white. Most wore combinations of the two.

The ladies and some of the gentlemen outdid themselves with imaginative and sometimes fantastically expensive masks.

Most ladies' masks were sprays of feathers twinkling with gems. John Gunther, author of those "Inside" books, kept his face inside a book-like box.

As for Capote, he wore a 35-cent mask from a Manhattan toy store.

Mizpah Disc Given To Mrs. Louis Jones

A mizpah disc was presented to Mrs. Louis Jones during the Monday evening meeting of Xi Mu Exemplar Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Donald G. Bailey, 2301 Alabama, was hostess. Mrs. Buddy Redden was co-hostess, and Mrs. Wade Choate presided.

Mrs. Horace Rankin presented the traditional symbol to Mrs. Jones who is moving to Louisiana soon.

Mrs. Truett Vines reported on final plans for the Dec. 2 patient's birthday party at the state hospital, and Dec. 12 was set for the sorority Christmas party.

A program on home crafts and holiday decorations was presented by Mrs. J. F. Skalicky. Refreshments were served to the 18 attending from a table covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a bouquet of autumn flowers.

Beauceants Plan Party

Plans to participate in the Dec. 20 Christmas party for patients at the state hospital were completed during the Monday evening meeting of the Social Order of the Beauceant. The 16 attending met at the Masonic Temple with Mrs. Eugene Gross presiding.

Mrs. Albert Smith and Mrs. Ervin Daniels reported the delivery of a Thanksgiving basket to a needy family.

During the Dec. 12 meeting a memorial service for Mrs. O. B. Hull will be observed. There will also be an election of officers.

A LOVELIER YOU Glow Little Go-Girl To Light Up Evening

By MARY SUE MILLER
For a belle of the evening the secret of an enchanting face is shimmer. A very soft, diaphanous glow!

And there's where "shimmer" cosmetics work magic under nightlight. Their built-in sparkle, greatly heightened this season, counters the drain of harsh lighting and illumines the face when lights are low.

Lid lustres, with gold and silver mined into them, supply dancing glints for the eyes. Opal foundations endow the skin with all the luminescence of the gem. Undercover of shimmer, rose lipsticks alluringly gloss the mouth.

But — and the big one — the beauty of these cosmetics is often lost "by a shade" — the shade on a dressing table lamp. Or worse, by the fluorescent or yellow glare of a bathroom light fixture.

When you apply cosmetics for evening wear, it is vital to have a true light. The dressing rooms of actresses and models are outfitted with wall mirrors, ringed with frosted glass, and fitted with 100 watt, white - frosted bulbs. The arrangement, of course, is hardly practical for home girls.

The answer takes the form of just one high intensity white light that can be focused on the face. For convenience such lights come housed in miniature lamps with an articulating arm. And, looking cute as ladybugs, they perch in any available make-up spot.

That way your light is flawless and likewise your make-up. LOVELIER COMPLEXION Whatever your skin problems, to find a solution send for my booklet, "A Lovelier Complexion." Detailed advice contained includes the correct care for dry, oily, combination and normal skin types; proper application methods; treatments for blackheads, enlarged pores, circles, wrinkles, crepiness, etc. For your copy of "A Lovelier Complexion," write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost and handling.
