U. S. Jets Battle Communist MIGs For Fourth Straight Day

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Another U.S. plane was shot down over North Vietnam today, bringing the toll in the last 24 hours of the quickening air war to three American aircraft.

The U.S. Command announced that American jets tangled with Communist MIG interceptors Monday for the fourth straight day, but there was no word that any American or North Vietnamese planes were downed in the dogfights.

MASS SURRENDER
 In South Vietnam, Vietnamese military headquarters announced the mass surrender of 63 Viet Cong guerrillas in the enemy-infested Hon-Chong — Twin Sisters — mountain area on the Gulf of Siam near the Cambodian border.

A spokesman said that 2,250 peasants in the area dominated by the Viet Cong also sought the refuge of government and U.S. officials. The U.S. Agency for International Development arranged to send them rice, cooking oil, blankets and other supplies.

nam once again dominated war developments and the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reported only small, scattered ground fighting.

REDS DOWN JET
 The plane lost today — the 438th reported loss of the war over North Viet Nam — was an Air Force RF4C photo reconnaissance jet downed by ground fire near Dien Bien Phu close to the Laotian border. It was the 11th American plane lost in the north since Friday.

The two fliers aboard were picked up in a rescue operation that required three helicopters which also rescued two of the paramedics sent in to aid the jet pilots.

An Air Force RF101 Voodoo and an F105 Thunderchief were downed during bombing raids on the north Monday, while other American pilots clashed with MIG17s and advanced model MIG21s north and northwest of Hanoi. The pilots of both the downed planes were listed as missing.

FISHERMEN KILLED?
 Qualified sources in Saigon said because of the greatly increased MIG challenge, U.S. Air Force officers here would probably press Washington to approve bombing of the North Vietnamese airfields where the MIGs are based.

In a related development, Communist China charged that U.S. planes sank six Chinese fishing boats in the Gulf of Tonkin last week, killing 17 Chinese fishermen and wounding 29 others. U.S. officials declined to comment on the charge.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov demanded in the United Nations that the United States stop bombing North Vietnam. He said the only way to peace was an end of what he called U.S. aggression of Vietnamese soil.

He also called for American troops to leave South Vietnam. In the raids on the north Monday, U.S. pilots reported inflicting heavy damage to the vital Yen Bay railroad yards 76 miles northwest of Hanoi, silencing 11 antiaircraft gun positions, damaging a missile site and destroying a radar site.

Navy, Air Force and Marine pilots flew 85 bombing missions against the north Monday, or 250 to 300 individual strikes.

The mass surrender of 63 Viet Cong on the coast 142 miles southwest of Saigon came after an intensive leaflet propaganda campaign.

APPEAL FOR HELP
 Officials said the psychological warfare drive also resulted in the appeal for help from the 2,250 refugees in the area, who included some 1,200 children.

Newly Elected Solons Back Spending Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A cross-section check by The Associated Press showed today that sentiment runs strongly among newly elected members of the House of Representatives for greater military efforts in Vietnam if present policies fail to improve the war situation.

The newcomers — mostly Republicans — also favor cuts in spending and see no need for new civil rights legislation now. The AP poll of 35 first-term House members elected Nov. 8 shows that 20 Republicans and five Democrats favor additional use of U.S. military might to bring the Vietnam war to an end if present tactics fail.

Four freshmen oppose expansion of the war and six take no public stand.

While many of those questioned said they would vote for a tax increase if needed because of war costs, all but three said they want first to try cutting spending.

'HAWKS INCREASE'
 Twenty-four first-termers, including five Democrats, said they don't believe new civil rights legislation is needed at this time. Five called for further congressional action and six declined specific comment.

There has been much speculation on the impact of the election in which Republicans gained 47 House seats. While they can have no formal voice in determining President Johnson's course in Vietnam, the sharp increase in "hawks" among House members might increase difficulties of the President in keeping the conflict limited in scope.

The "Great Society" programs apparently have lost what may be marginal support with the substantial increase in those who say they are determined to reduce federal spending.

FILIBUSTER
 On the basis of the canvass, a civil rights bill which included an antihousing discrimination clause not only would face a probable Senate filibuster but would have extreme difficulty going in the House.

First-term members were asked:
 1. Would you favor escalation of the war in Vietnam if the present course fails to show signs of improving the situation?

2. Would you favor increasing income taxes or cutting domestic programs as a means of financing the war?

3. Do you think there is any need for new civil rights legislation at this time?

ESCALATION URGED
 The Republicans, of course, have considerably more new members than the Democrats. The canvass reached 26 of the 48 new House Republicans and nine of the 14 Democrats.

Jerry L. Pettis, newly elected Republican in the 33rd California District, sounded like many of his colleagues-to-be in endorsing an escalation of the war.

"There is not much hope of getting the Communists to the negotiating table unless they are convinced they have been defeated militarily," he said.

RE-EVALUATION
 Thomas F. Railsback, Republican who is Illinois' only new member of the House, said he doesn't favor moving more and more U.S. troops into Vietnam. He said he feels "we should be doing some military activities we are not doing."

Bob Eckhardt, Democrat elected in the 8th District of Texas, said he is against escalation of the fighting. But he added that if the present course doesn't show improvement in the situation, "that would call for re-evaluation."

Rep.-elect William Nichols, D-Ala., said he "very definitely" favors escalation of the war. But Rep.-elect John R. Dellenback, R-Ore., wasn't prepared to commit himself to any such course before every effort is made otherwise "to settle this on a sound, long range, realistic basis."

Recovering From Heart Pump Surgery

Esperanza del Valle Vazquez, 37, talks with her 8-year-old son in Mexico City. Mrs. Vazquez, first person to survive surgery with an artificial heart pump, plans to return to her job as a beautician in Mexico City this week or next. She underwent heart surgery in

'I Feel Marvelous,' Says Pump Patient

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Esperanza del Valle Vazquez, the first person to survive surgery with an artificial heart pump, plans to return to her job as a beautician in Mexico City soon.

"I feel marvelous," she said. "I can do almost anything I want now, walk without getting tired and eat anything. It is so marvelous just to be alive."

Mrs. Vazquez, 37, underwent heart surgery at Methodist Hospital in Houston, Tex., Aug. 8 to have two valves in her heart replaced.

NO PROBLEMS
 The doctors, led by Dr. Michael DeBakey, the famous heart surgeon, planted a domed shaped left ventricle bypass pump in Mrs. Vazquez right side near her waist to keep her blood circulating while her own heart rested.

The pump was in place 10 days. Four other similar operations failed and the patients died of complications.

Mrs. Vazquez, who has an 8-year-old son, said her recuperation caused no problems and she has no plans to return to Houston soon.

"Before the operation I would get tired before I walked a block," she said. "Now I can walk as much as I want, I can go shopping and I've even been

FUND NOW IN DOLDRUMS

For the second day, the CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND settled to a three-day pattern. Checks for $5 each were received from Nell Hatch and Mrs. H. D. Stanley, and one from Dr. E. O. Ellington for $10. This brought to $377.50 the amount so far given.

It will take a lot more, however, to meet the needs for toys and other aid to the needy, and by spreading Christmas cheer throughout the year by aiding the sick and hungry. Please mail or bring your checks to The Herald as soon as possible for grateful acknowledgment.

to the market a few times. I just feel wonderful."

FAITH IN GOD
 Mrs. Vazquez said she was aware of her chances before the operation but was not very worried.

"I knew I was in good hands and the doctors would do all they could for me. I kept my faith in God and in the doctors. "But I was a little scared after I woke up in the hospital and heard all that machinery. And it seemed like every doctor in the United States was in that room."

Mrs. Vazquez said she is now much more aware of the world — and the joy of living — because she got a new chance at life. "People who have not been through something like this just don't know what it is like," she said. "Everything is marvelous now."

Berkeley Senate Backs Chancellor

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Backed by an overwhelming faculty vote, the University of California's chancellor met Monday night with a student committee in an unsuccessful attempt to end a classroom boycott.

After meeting with Chancellor Roger W. Heyns, the student committee said they would take a vote to determine whether to continue the strike.

During his first meeting with the committee, Heyns rejected demands that police never again be called to the university, that certain nonstudent political groups be allowed campus rights, and that disciplinary hearings be open. He also refused to promise amnesty for students involved in demonstrations.

CONFIDENCE
 The faculty vote had come as Heyns prepared for a special Board of Regents meeting today concerning the boycott.

"We affirm our confidence in the chancellor's leadership and pledge our continued support and cooperation," 795 professors of the Academic Senate voted. The tally against Heyns' position was 28.

Trouble started last Wednesday after an altercation concerning a Navy recruiting table in the Student Union. Police and sheriff's deputies arrested 10 persons, including six nonstudents.

Vietnam War Peace Feeler 'Perishable'

WASHINGTON (AP) — About the most perishable commodity in the diplomatic world today is a Vietnam peace feeler.

The State Department says that since 1964 there have been 26 major ones initiated or supported by the United States. It says these efforts are continuing.

But no sooner is one launched in the corridors of the United Nations—or over a vodka martini at a diplomatic reception in Washington or Moscow—or reported in a whispered conversation in New Delhi, Belgrade—or Algiers — than it is exploded with a massive denial.

HANOI DENIES

"One has sometimes heard of peace feelers," Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a Canadian interviewer at the start of the 37-day pause in U.S. bombings in Vietnam last Christmas.

"Actually these have arisen on the initiative of someone else. I don't know of any initiatives taken by Hanoi to seek peace," he said.

"Others — third parties, other governments, perhaps private citizens — have had conversations with Hanoi, and when some of these are made public these are translated into something called peace feelers by Hanoi."

"Hanoi has denied that they have made any peace feelers," Rusk said.

Ruby Trial Set At Wichita Falls

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby will be tried the second time for the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald in Wichita Falls, Judge Louis Holland announced today. The Montague jurist disclosed the new site after a conference with state and defense lawyers this morning. No trial date has been set.

Wichita Falls, a city of 150,000, is 140 miles northwest of Dallas.

At the crowded Academic Senate meeting, Heyns' vote of confidence was included in a resolution that said in part:

Ex-Big Spring Patient Slain

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Discovery of a missing automobile gave police their first clue in the slaying of Dr. Neil Holland Sullenberger, a noted and controversial chest surgeon.

The body was found Sunday in a sand pit near the Wolf River here.

Sullenberger, 51, a psychiatric patient until last October, had been missing since Nov. 17. Authorities said the body apparently had been in the water since that time.

Police said Jesse James Bowles from near Stanton, Tenn., reported Monday a late model automobile had been left at his farm home by four youths. Officers said the car was Sullenberger's.

'BROKEN DOWN AUTO'

State trooper Barney Barcroft said Bowles told authorities the four youths aroused him about 4:30 a.m. Nov. 29 to ask if they could have their "broken down car" behind his house for a few days.

Dr. J. T. Francisco, county medical examiner, said an autopsy showed Sullenberger was killed by 11 blows on the head and two shots, in the right shoulder and in the left front of his neck.

NO MONEY

Police said Sullenberger's billfold, with papers and identification intact, was on the body but the billfold contained no money.

Sullenberger was last seen here as he left John Gaston Hospital, where he was chief of the emergency room, late the evening of Nov. 17.

He came to Memphis Nov. 1 from a three-month stay at Ft. Roots Veterans Hospital in North Little Rock, Ark., as a psychiatric patient. He was under the care of a Memphis psychiatrist.

The surgeon's last practice before coming to Memphis was at Spur, Tex., where he ran the community hospital.

He was committed to the state mental hospital at Big Spring, Tex., in August after a fight with a laboratory technician and transferred later to the North Little Rock Hospital by a brother.

CRMWD Takes Stacy Stand

The Colorado River Municipal Water District took the position today that designation of a sponsor for the Stacy Reservoir on the Colorado River is premature, pending the completion of the Texas Water Master Plan.

However, in the event the Texas Water Rights Commission should grant the sponsorship, it was urged that CRMWD be named as co-sponsor. The city of San Angelo has already asked to be named sponsor to negotiate with the U.S. Corps of Army Engineers for the proposed reservoir.

Meanwhile, the Texas Water Development Board and the Lower Colorado River Authority have also asked to be named as sponsors.

A hearing is set for Dec. 15 in Austin.

Wilson Urges World-Wide Ban On Trade

LONDON (AP) — The British government made plans today to wage economic war against defiant Rhodesia despite the grim knowledge that the cost could be crippling.

The nation braces for rising turmoil in Africa, more bitterness in the Commonwealth, parliamentary strife at home and a harmful effect on its already shaky finances.

These were some of the accepted implications of Prime Minister Harold Wilson's vow to crush Ian Smith's rebel white settler regime in Rhodesia no matter how long it takes.

FORMULA REJECTED

One immediate concern was that a run on the pound sterling might develop in stock exchanges reacting nervously to the Rhodesian cabinet's rejection of the peace formula Wilson and Smith drew up last weekend.

The Bank of England was reported to have made 10 million pounds ($28 million) available in New York and to be ready to spend millions more in the foreign exchange market to fend off any sudden onslaught by speculators.

FULL SPEED

Warning the Rhodesians that "certain inevitable consequences" must flow from their continued defiance of Britain, Wilson ordered full speed ahead on moves to impose a worldwide ban on trade with the breakaway colony.

Foreign Secretary George Brown was leaving for New York tonight to steer Britain's application for compulsory sanctions through the U.N. Security Council.

A council meeting was scheduled Thursday morning, and quick action was expected. Officials in Washington pledged continued U.S. support for British actions against Rhodesia. But aroused Africans at the United Nations renewed demands that Britain use force.

"Britain should have used force long ago," Ambassador Mousa Leo Keita of Mali, a member of the council, told a reporter. Keita said he was aware that Britain had an economic stake in Rhodesia.

Couple Married In Home Service

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Haston are at home at 1207 Douglas following their wedding Nov. 4 and a trip to the West Coast. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. M. Duke, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, who was assisted by the bridegroom's son, James Haston.

Mrs. Haston is the former Mrs. Zennia Hare, a PBX operator at Webb Air Force Base, who was given in marriage by her son, Jackie Thomas. Haston is owner of Haston Electric Company.

Among the 20 attending the wedding were the couple's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Mize and Mr. and Mrs. Barton Haston.

Engaged

Dr. and Mrs. William Platzer of Vienna, Austria, and Schwabisch Gmund, Germany, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Gertrude Maria, to Victor R. Coats, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Coats, Gall Ri. The couple is planning a January wedding in Big Spring.

A LOVELIER YOU Fatigue And Strain Shows On All Faces

By MARY SUE MILLER
Fatigue, pallor and strain come to all faces. Even children's faces!

The remedy, of course, is relaxation - sleep and perhaps a "do nothing" day. But only babies have the time to let the world go by. The rest of us mortals are pressured by duty. Our refreshments have to be taken in quick, small doses. The most resultful for a jaded face follow:

1. Take off stale make-up with cosmetic remover. Then wash gently with any mild, deliciously-fragrant soap and rinse well. Fold an ice cube into a clean, damp washcloth and compress to the face until it chills and firms the skin. (Never apply ice directly to face.) Time: 10 minutes.

2. Cleanse the face with a liquid that removes cosmetics and tones the skin at the same time; make not less than two applications, thoroughly massaging each off. Time: five minutes.

3. Cleanse in your accustomed manner and apply a mask that improves texture and brings up glow. While it sets lie back down on the floor with feet propped on pillows. Time: 20 minutes.

4. With less than two minutes to spare, remove old cosmetics and bathe the skin with a mild astringent lotion: Let it partially air-dry, then pat off the excess with tissue.

After any of those treatments, your face will look fresh and take a sparkling make-up. What a boon!

CREPEY THROAT

To firm and uplift sagging facial muscles and flesh, use my four-way method. It works wonders through corrective exercise, posture, skin care and make-up. Procedures are detailed in the leaflet, "Banish Crepey Throat and Chin." For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 10 cents in coin and a large self-addressed stamped envelope.

Big Spring Girl Receives Cap In Nursing School

Billie Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bailey of Hill Top Road, Big Spring, recently received her cap as a student at Methodist Hospital School of Nursing, Lubbock. The capping ceremony was held at St. John's Methodist Church, following an enrollment of eight weeks in the school of nursing.

Miss Bailey entered Methodist Hospital School of Nursing in September, after having completed a number of required college courses. Presently, she is enrolled in clinical nursing courses and courses related to nursing. Her expected date of graduation is May, 1968.

Past Matrons To Assist Family

Mrs. Norman Read was hostess to the Coahoma Past Matrons' Club Saturday morning at Holiday Inn. Mrs. Bert Shive gave the invocation, and Mrs. Melvin Tindol presided for the business session.

The group agreed to assist the Coahoma Order of Eastern Star chapter in providing gifts and food for a needy family at Christmas. Also, a donation was made to the Buck-A-Month Club at Big Spring State Hospital.

Prior to the gift exchange, Mrs. Read read "Keeping Christmas" by Henry Van Dyke. Seventeen attended and were seated at tables decorated with holly and red candles.

The place for the Jan. 7 meeting is to be announced.

Conducts Study

"Ministry of the Church to the Sick" was the program topic during the Monday evening meeting of the Women of St. Mary's Episcopal Church at the parish hall. Mrs. Jack Lipscombe presided, and the Rev. John H. Payne Jr. gave the program. Twenty-two attended, and hostesses were Mrs. John Payne Jr. and Mrs. Bill Emerson.

Gift Party Held For Bride-Elect

The parlor of St. Paul Methodist Church in Fort Worth was the scene Friday evening for a pre-nuptial shower honoring Miss Sena Jo Goodlett, bride-elect of James Michael Leese. The couple will be married here on Dec. 23 in the First Methodist Church.

Hostesses were Mrs. Cecil Krueger, Mrs. Marion Thomas, Mrs. James Dyer and Mrs. B. R. Bradford. Calling hours were from 7:30 to 9 p.m., and approximately 50 guests attended.

The honoree was attired in a yellow long-sleeved sheath with cowl neckline and was presented a corsage of pink rose buds. With her in receiving guests were her mother, Mrs. W. S. Goodlett, 1802 Gollad, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Calvin Fuchs of Fort Worth.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Fred McCleskey of Stephenville, Mrs. Jesse Ward and daughter, Beth, of Arlington, and Miss Marianne Bell of Fort Worth.

Pink lace over white linen covered the refreshment table which was dotted with pink velvet roses dotted with silver lame ribbons. A pink rose tree formed the centerpiece, and it was flanked with pink candles in silver holders. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Choir Sings For Council

The advanced choir of Goliad Junior High School presented a program of Christmas carols during the Monday afternoon meeting of the Howard County Home Demonstration Council. The members met in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church with Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins as mistress of ceremonies.

Mrs. Joseph Dawes directed the choir, and Mrs. J. C. Pickle gave a devotion entitled "The Trip from Bethlehem." Mrs. R. D. Cramer installed new officers using as her theme the poem, "Trees." She compared the duties of each office to the different parts of a tree.

New officers are Mrs. Frances Zant, chairman; Mrs. Emer Decker, vice chairman; Mrs. Alden Ryan, secretary; and Mrs. Nelson Ball, reporter.

Christmas gifts were exchanged, and refreshments were served from a table centered with an arrangement of pine boughs and silver balls.

The next meeting will be Jan. 9 at the county HD agent's office.

GA Auxiliary Has Traveling Dinner

A progressive Christmas dinner was held Monday evening for the Girl's Auxiliary of the Midway Baptist Church.

Appetizers were served at the home of Mrs. Walter Barbee, and Mrs. J. R. Overton was hostess for the salad. The dinner was served at the home of Mrs. Harvey Harris, and Christmas gifts were exchanged at the home of Mrs. James W. Johnson.

Special gifts from Mrs. W. C. Westbrook, assistant counselor, were presented, and guests were Mrs. Maggie Richardson and Walter Robinson. Mrs. Vera Sandlin was in charge of arrangements.

During the program session, a skit entitled "Lottie Moon Christmas Offering" was presented. Carol Oglesby, organist, accompanied the group in carol singing. Other program participants were Betty Robinson, Dorothy Shifflet, Linda Rice, Jackie Nichols, Brenda Krause, Kayla McKinney, Darlene Rice, Debbie Wall, Janie Meacham, Pam Grant, Kay Frazier, Mrs. Ricky Phinney and Mrs. J. R. Swann.

Area Group Visits J. Nichols Home

KNOTT (SC)—Recent guests in the J. G. Nichols home were Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Nichols of Elbow and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Jackson and Jack Walls, all of Andrews.

The Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church began a week of prayer Monday. The theme will be "Behold, the Lamb of God," and meetings will be held daily.

Study Club Hears Panel

A panel discussion of the Christmas season in foreign lands was the highlight of the Monday evening meeting of the 1941 Study Club of Coahoma. The 20 attending met at the home of Mrs. Gerald Oakes with Mrs. A. J. Bohannon as cohostess.

Mrs. Henry Beard introduced Mrs. Joe Pickle as program moderator. Other guests were Mrs. Hal W. Reddock, Nicaragua; Mrs. Irineo Bringas, Philippines; Mrs. Al Valdes, Cuba; and Mrs. Else Sinnott, Denmark.

Each guest described the customs, holiday foods and religious symbols of her country during the Christmas season.

Holiday decorations were used throughout the entertaining area and, following the program, club members exchanged Christmas gifts. Mrs. Bill Read presided during the business session.

Glittering Gowns Go To Christmas Dances

Baubles, bangles and shimmering beads were very much in evidence in the festive holiday gowns chosen by Big Spring women for holiday dances held on the weekend.

At the American Businessmen's Club dinner dance at Big Spring Country Club, long gowns were popular, but side or back slits in the skirts made the music of Jess Gayer easier to dance to.

Mrs. Roger Brown chose an A-line white brocade with ruffles circling the neckline, and Mrs. Fred Clark wore a two-piece black gown with all-over beaded effect. Mrs. Bob Renshaw's sunburst metallic sheath was styled with a shallow neckline, and Mrs. Roy Granberry was a bright picture in a gold maitelasse skimmer with jeweled neckline and gold accessories.

Mrs. Morris Robertson was attired in an Empire fashion with white lace top and long rose-colored skirt, while Mrs. George True wore a slender, two-piece bone crepe gown with beading on the shell. In the same party, Mrs. Bill Condray also chose the Empire line in a gown of white lace with fuschia satin cummerbund.

Mrs. Elmo Phillips' long gown featured a beaded shell top, and Mrs. Bill Reed was pretty in a floor-length gown of white background and all-over embroidery in silver with curved slit at the front.

Many of the dancers chose the ever-popular cocktail dresses in a shorter length. Mrs. Robert Johnson was seen in a white dress, the beaded and sequined bodice topped a full chiffon skirt, and Mrs. Garner McAdams looked festive in a short red dress in looped fringe. Mrs. George McAllister was attired in a sleeveless dress styled with green velveteen bodice and printed embossed skirt, and Mrs. Max Green's white lace shell was worn with a blue skirt.

A semi-fitted white brocade, with jeweled neckline, was worn by Mrs. Derle Everett.

Vivacious Mrs. Carroll Davidson wore a short, royal blue velvet sheath, with bodice detailing, and at the same table, Mrs. Harry Sawyer looked glamorous in a midnight blue metallic gown with a matching cape.

Moseley Family Holds Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Moseley, Donnie and Terry, 509 Owen, were hosts to their sons and daughters and their families recently in the first reunion the group has had in 12 years. Following dinner, the evening's entertainment consisted of music and recordings to mark the occasion.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Robinson, Midland; Mrs. Laverne Barber and Kay, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Barrett, Bobby and Mar; and Mrs. Alta MacFrieds, Johnny and Jackie, all of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Arnold and Tony, Enid, Okla.; and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Rogers and Curtis and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hart, Teela and Cliffe, all of Big Spring.

DEAR ABBY

He's Not A Prospect

DEAR ABBY:—Hugh and I have gone together for eight years, and I am no closer to marriage now than I was when I first met him. We hit it off perfectly on our first date, and from that moment on I have had no interest in any other man. I am 34, and he is 43.

My problem is Hugh was badly hurt by a woman (they are now divorced) and he doesn't want to take a chance on marrying again. I know our love will last and we could be happy together, but he is afraid of marriage. How can I convince him that he is wrong?

WANTS HUGH
DEAR WANTS: You can't. He has already convinced himself that he doesn't want to marry again. And when a man doesn't want to do something, one excuse is as good as another.

Oil Wastes Hearing Set

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission scheduled a hearing today on whether earthen salt water pits to dispose of oil field wastes should be banned statewide.

Representatives of several associations of independent oil and gas producers were expected either to oppose such an order or to ask that it not impose too tight restrictions.

Some oilmen expected the testimony to last two or three days.

Forty-three counties now are covered by commission orders banning salt water disposal pits. Many of these orders are for the area overlying the Ogallala formation, a major water supply source for the Panhandle and South Plains.

The state action committee discussed the possibility of a statewide no-pit order at a meeting Monday. The committee is a loosely-knit organization that includes the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association, Permian Basin Petroleum Association, West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association and North Texas Oil and Gas Association.

Committee Chairman Tom Gordon, Abilene, resigned and was succeeded by Nelum Steed, Wichita Falls, and E. Bruce Street, Graham, who were elected co-chairmen.

Several who spoke at the meeting said they thought the commission would adopt some sort of statewide no-pit order as evidence of good faith in regulating oil field brine disposal.

The commission has exclusive jurisdiction over such regulation, a District Court ruled recently. The court voided all no-pit orders issued by the Texas Water Pollution Control Board.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 33-year-old male hairdresser who has shared an apartment with a co-worker for two years. Last Sunday I woke up to find that my roommate had brought home a young divorcee and her 3-year-old child, and all three of them were sleeping in the living room. My roommate plans on marrying her next week, and can't see why we can't all live together.

My half of the furnishings represents $3,000. I can't move out and take my half with me. (How do you divide carpeting, draperies, and pairs of tables, lamps, a dinette set, etc.?) He hasn't the cash to buy me out, and I certainly don't want to stay here under these circumstances. What do I do now?

STUCK
DEAR STUCK: If your roommate won't move out with his newly acquired family, then it's your move. Take as much of your "half" of the furnishings as possible, and let him pay you-in-monthly installments for the balance.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's father has been seen in broad daylight necking with girls who were young enough to be his granddaughters. He lives with us because he cannot hold a steady job.

We have been told by our neighbors, who would have no reason to lie, that my father-in-law brings young girls into the house while we are away. We have talked to him several times about this, but he denies it.

Some of our neighbors will not let their children associate with ours because of the bad reputation my father-in-law has created. Will you please tell us what to do?

AT A LOSS
DEAR AT: Your father-in-law is a sick man. Do not leave him alone in your home any more! Consult your family physician and ask for his recommendation. Thus far it is only a medical problem, but unless it is corrected at once, it could be a legal one with serious, messy repercussions.

WEST TEXAN RELATES PEACE CORPS EXPERIENCES

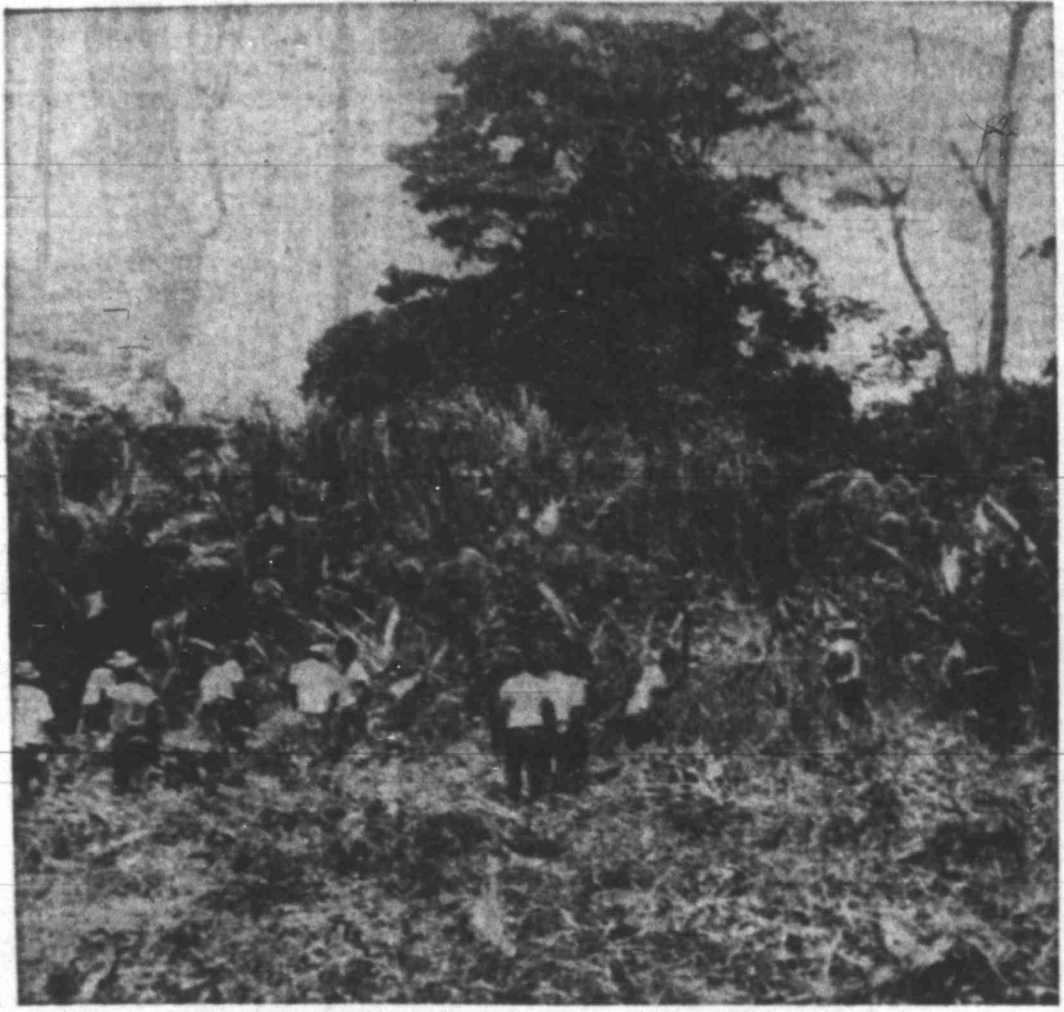

Life With Cuna Indians

By JO ANN PHINIZY
Ever been bitten by vampire bats? Or maybe you've spent seven days and nights watching a witch doctor perform ancient rites to purify land before it can be cleared?
Steve Dennis knows all about such things. He has recently returned from a tour with the Peace Corps in the San Blas Islands.

for transportation to and from the mainland. However, when an engine failed, they simply unhooked it and traded coconuts for a brand new model.
Steve "cannibalized" several old motors and showed the natives how to replace worn parts or construct an entirely new version.
He became an instant hit and was soon instructor of the island mechanical school. Shortly thereafter, the natives set up their own repair shops, and Steve won an accolade for starting a completely new island industry.

native hut, take them back and returned to his home and to Texas Tech to finish his senior year. But he brought his interest in the Cunas with him.
ART TO MUSEUM
Steve collected, and donated to the Texas Tech museum, an outstanding example of native art. The collection is made up of mola material. The mola, used for native dress, was invented by San Blas women. It is intricate applique — layers of fabric cut through to show vivid colors — and cannot be duplicated.
Because of its beautiful color and originality, mola material is becoming the fashion designer's darling. And, as Steve points out, will provide still another source of Cuna income.
Steve's after-college work is very likely to include more government work.

When Steve's tour ended, he returned to his home and to Texas Tech to finish his senior year. But he brought his interest in the Cunas with him.

Makings Of A Rice Field

Cuna Indians begin work clearing site of proposed rice field. The same land was, a few days later, the cause of a premonition of death dream that led to an ancient rite of purification. The land was later abandoned to jungle growth.

ADVISOR TO INDIANS
Steve was amazed to find himself as advisor to a tribe of Indians. He had volunteered for the Peace Corps when he was a junior at Texas Tech. He felt that his request wouldn't be processed until he had finished college.
Almost by return mail, it was apparent the Peace Corps knew a choice application when it had one.
Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dennis, Borden County ranchers. He has all the legendary and modern traits of the rancher: plus being a whiz in mechanics. It was more than the Peace Corps could resist. Steve was soon on his way to Panama.

PANAMA PROBLEM
The San Blas problem is not the customary poverty of a down-trodden society. Instead the object is to preserve their culture against the policies of the Panamanian government.
In 1925 the Cunas won a treaty from Panama granting them independent government and access to the mainland. Since that time, the Indians have developed the paradox of keeping their ancient culture while joining bits and pieces of the 20th Century. The economy is based on the sale and bartering of coconuts.

Lodge Says War Might 'Fade Out'
SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The war in Vietnam "just might fade out" with no formal end, U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said today.
The American envoy, serving his second tour of duty as ambassador to South Vietnam, said the over-all situation in the country is better than it was a year ago although "progress is uneven."

NEW MONEY
Steve's assignment was to assist the Cunas in finding secondary crops and new sources of money. Only in this way could the Indians maintain their standard of living.
This was no easy task, as Steve soon discovered.
"The Cunas are day-to-day practical people," Steve said. "If they couldn't see an immediate need for something, they just let it go."

SERIOUS DREAMS
Dreams are serious business to Cunas. Solving this one called for work stoppage while the men met in the local "town hall." For one week they drank chicha (sugar cane beer), listened to the chant of the "nele" (medicinal doctor), and smoked pipes, being careful to save the ashes.
For the finale, the "nele" danced across the condemned land while sprinkling ceremonial ashes to the wind. This turned the trick; evil spirits vanished, and the men returned to their work.

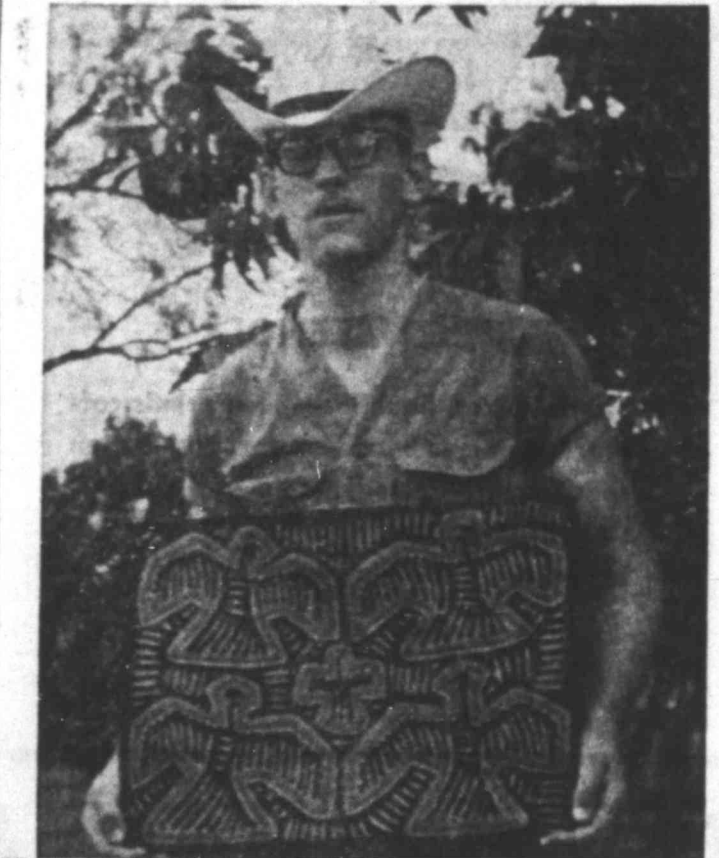

Poetic Farmer
MARDELA, Md. (AP) — Farmer Paul Phillips wanted to make certain that hunters who annually flock to this Eastern Shore area during the deer season don't shoot unless they are certain of their quarry.
He posted four signs along his property where it joins the road:
"Shoot a deer.
"Mount a rack.
"Shoot a hog.
"I shoot back."

Jean Arthur's Final TV Show Labeled 'Bad'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — "The Jean Arthur Show," only 12 episodes old, departed from network television Monday night — a comedy series that had everything except comedy scripts.
Miss Arthur, who can do more with a bright line than most actresses, struggled and clowned gallantly, but no one could overcome the handicap of those dreary stories.
The final show, like the others, was given a glossy and professional production. But just when some substance was needed from the plot, everything fell into a ridiculous heap.
The plot of the final show had something to do with Mrs. Marshall — played by Miss Arthur — and her son — Ron Harper — quarreling and breaking up their law partnership. This in turn led to having them on opposite sides in a murder trial.

EMBARRASSED
So far, so good, but when Miss Arthur and Harper had their courtroom scene, the supposedly invincible lady lawyer dissolved into a series of sentimental daydreams that had her adult son conducting the prosecution in various phases of his life, from infancy on. It was so bad that even the laugh track sounded embarrassed.
Next week the spot will be filled by "To Tell the Truth," a day-time panel game that has been around for years.

ROUGH SEASON
The season has been a rough one for some very big star names. Miss Arthur, Milton Berle and Garry Moore have received midseason cancellations, and Danny Kaye limps off at the end of the season — all victims of bad ratings.
The mass-television audience may not always agree with the critics in its choice of programs, but it obviously knows what it likes. On the night last week when Red Skelton's "Clown Alley" special pre-empted Kaye's Wednesday night hour on CBS, it attracted an audience almost twice as large as Kaye did a week later.

New 5-Cent Stamp
OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's first five-cent commemorative centennial stamp, to be issued Jan. 11, shows the red maple leaf flag and a blue centennial symbol superimposed on a global view of North America with Canada emphasized in blue. It is expected to total $20 million in year-long sales.

Private Faces Court-Martial

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — A general court-martial convenes at 9 a.m. today to try Curtis Armstrong, 21, a Groves, Tex., Army man, on a charge of murder in a Nov. 13 armed robbery at nearby Temple.
Armstrong, a 2nd Armored Division private, is on trial in the gunshot slaying of George E. Robbins, 18, Temple service station attendant.
The court-martial board will be empowered to give the death penalty. Armstrong was arrested by Bell County officers and charged with the slaying, but was turned over to the military for trial.
If found innocent by the court-martial board, Armstrong still could face civilian trial in the slaying.
John Young of Orange, Tex., a civilian, is the defense attorney.

After Opening Of Trial

F. Lee Bailey, lawyer for Dr. Carl Coppolino, talks with the defendant's second wife, Mary, following opening day of trial in Freehold, N.J., in which Coppolino is charged with first-degree murder in the 1963 strangulation of retired Army Lt. Col. William E. Farber. (AP WIREPHOTO)

First-Degree Murder Trial Is Under Way

FREEHOLD, N.J. (AP) — Defense lawyer F. Lee Bailey says he may try to have Dr. Carl Coppolino's murder trial shifted to another locale on the grounds that pretrial news reports may have affected prospective jurors.

Coppolino, 34, went on trial Monday for first-degree murder in the 1963 death of retired Army Lt. Col. William E. Farber, a neighbor. The state charges Farber was strangled.

In his opening remarks, Bailey told Superior Court Judge Elvin R. Simmill he would reserve until today the right to request a change of venue or a postponement of the proceedings.

DEATH DEMAND

Monmouth County prosecutor Vincent Keuper said in court he would demand death in the electric chair for the dark-haired anesthesiologist, hypnotist and author.

Opposing sides then settled down to the selection of a 14-member jury, two of whom will serve as alternates.

Only one juror was picked from the first eight examined Monday. He was James E. Jerram Jr., a married employee of an ice cream manufacturer.

LIVED NEXT DOOR

Farber, a 50-year-old retired artillery officer, and his wife, Marjorie, lived diagonally across the street from Coppolino and his first wife, Carmela, 32, in the tree-shaded Fox Run section of Middletown.

Communications Series Slated

AUSTIN (AP)—The significance of communication in a complex society will be emphasized in a program planned for the spring at the University of Texas.

Dr. DeWitt C. Reddick, director of the School of Communication, said seven authorities in various fields of communication theory and research will be invited to the university for a series of public lectures and meetings with students in a graduate seminar.

The initial program in the series is set tentatively for Feb. 20.

Capitol Hill 'Long Shot' Romps Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nearest thing to a national sweepstakes has been run on Capitol Hill and a long shot romped home.

The event was the biennial drawing among freshman members of the House of Representatives for office suites.

The slip marked "Number 1" entitling bearer to first choice went Monday to the newcomer who will bring up the rear of the alphabetical roll call in the new Congress, Rep.-elect John M. Zwach, R-Minn. He wasn't even there; an aide drew for him.

FIRST CHOICE

What Zwach won, however, was first choice among frankly b o t o m-drawer alternatives. Seniority rules almost everything in the House and before the freshmen even reached for their slips in the bowl all current members and all members returning after a break in service had picked their quarters for the next two years.

None of the 63 freshmen had a crack at a suite in the much-criticized but much-sought-after Rayburn Office Building. There members rate three rooms each, are under the same roof as such amenities as the House swimming pool and have a miniature subway to haul them to the Capitol.

STATUS INDEXES

There were, however, enough two-room suites to accommodate all the newcomers in the middle-aged but still handsome Longworth Office Building, just a tunnel away from the Rayburn.

Twenty-eight suites were available in the Cannon Building, the oldest of the three House office buildings, and Zwach picked one of them. Half the Cannon building is closed for remodeling into three-room accommodations. Three are expected to be prizes in future years, combining spaciousness with high ceilings and tradition.

A maze of status indexes and personal whims determines choice of office locations. Accessibility to one's committee rooms is an important plus. Corner suites are favorites.

View is important. Obviously when a constituent looks out of his representative's window, he will be more impressed if he sees the capitol than if he sees a parking lot.

Jury Cases Fold In Martin County

STANTON — No jury trials will be heard in 118th District Court this week.

Judge Ralph Caton, after sounding the docket, found no cases ready for trial. The jury panel which had been asked to report today will not have to serve.

A number of the cases on the docket were dismissed on motion of Dist. Atty. Wayne Burns, Judge Caton said.

Cases dismissed, some of which had been on the books since 1959, included:

Roy Elton, forgery; Pete Leal, worthless check; Chris Calhoun alias Mert Ragon, forgery; Joe Lynn Bruce, burglary of a motor vehicle; Joe Bob Bruce, robbery of a motor vehicle; Herbert Armstrong, burglary; Wayne Doshier, burglary; Jerry Lee Wright, possession of marijuana.

Cases passed included: Raymond B. Boon, DWI second; Floyd Vernall McCoy, DWI second; Wayne Earl Calhoun, DWI second.

Bonds were forfeited in two cases. Ralph Holly McAlister, DWI second, failed to show when his name was called. Also not on hand was Thomas Mitchell, charged with possession of marijuana.

Cancer Division Heads Are Named

Cancer crusade chairmen to work with the April drive chairman, Mrs. Joe Moss, were announced today at the luncheon meeting of the Howard County Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

Serving with Mrs. Moss will be R. L. Tollett, advanced gifts; John Burgess, business; Mrs. Ralph Caton, house-to-house chairman, and Mrs. Bob Galbraith, co-chairman; Mrs. George Franks, publicity chairman.

Other chairmen who serve year-round are Mrs. M. M. Edwards, memorial chairman, and Dee Jon Davis, legacy chairman.

Mrs. Donald D. Van Meter, president, presided at the meeting, which was held in the Officers Club at Webb AFB.

A Devotional For The Day

O our God, . . . we have no might against this great company that cometh against us; neither know we what to do: but our eyes are upon thee. (II Chronicles 20:12)

PRAYER: Almighty God, our eyes are upon Thee. We are frail and helpless, not knowing what to do, nor where else to turn. Thou art good and mighty; help Thou us. We put our trust in Thee, knowing Thou wilt come to our rescue. Receive us in Christ Jesus, in whose name we pray. Amen.

Make Names Public

Texans will be thankful — if they are not already — that the Lyndon B. Johnson State Park is being established across the ranch road from the LBJ Ranch. It will not only protect the privacy and provide for the security of the President, but it will also avoid a blatant commercialized development of that area. In years to come the park may well be one of the state's outstanding tourist attractions.

But many Texans may regret the manner in which the park is being created. It would have been far better if the legislature had had the foresight and wisdom to pass a bill creating the park and setting aside sufficient money to buy the needed acreage. Instead, the Parks and Wildlife Commission, without funds, resorted to a private trust fund to collect money for the purpose.

Since the money had to be raised by private subscription, it is unfortunate that a furor has arisen over the identity of the donors. We agree with Gov. John B. Connally that no evidence of improper solicitation has been presented. Why, under these circumstances, shouldn't the names of contributors be made public? Members of the commission would do well to consider the probability that the list of donors will ultimately be "leaked" to the press anyway.

The Parks and Wildlife Commission should dispose of this controversy in order that it may be free to proceed with more important work.

Shaking Up The Organization

Reports from Washington suggest that President Johnson has derived a useful lesson from the general elections. He is represented as preparing to overhaul and revive the Democratic National Committee.

The Lid On The Baker Case

WASHINGTON — There must be at least a couple of hundred persons around Washington who know what is inside the Pandora's Box called the Bobby Baker case — and that's far too many persons to keep secrets.

A BILL OF lading for the box's contents would include: the FBI's integrity as a getter of goods on Communists and crooks; the reputation of Robert F. Kennedy both as a crime-buster and as a respecter of the civil liberties; the status of Nicholas Katzenbach (now a high-up State Department figure) as a man of strong character; the interrupted Dump Lyndon Movement which was intended to remove L. B. Johnson from the proposed Democratic ticket of 1964; the frolicsomeness of Very Important Persons in the supposed privacy of cozy celebrations.

FIRST, IT has to be recognized that the FBI is a privileged agency. Its veteran director, J. Edgar Hoover, is an exemplary public servant. He behaves with discretion and moves into borderline methods of gathering evidence only by permission or direct orders of his superiors, the attorney general and the President of the United States. It is no hyperbole to say that Hoover is entrusted with the security of the U.S.A. and that indiscriminate exposure of FBI records, logs, tape scripts and procedures might hurt us as much as the loss of a military battle.

FOR THESE reasons, the Justice Department and the federal courts may find it better that Baker squirm out of his multiple indictments than that the FBI be made to disclose in detail how it sometimes cracks its cases.

In his days as attorney general, Billy Graham

Is there any evidence that Jesus attended school? He could have done so after His appearance in the temple. D.B. Whatever we think about Jesus' attending school would be conjecture, for there is nothing in the Bible to indicate that He had any formal education.

Bob Kennedy rose above his suspect beginnings as a briefless lawyer, a political manager and his presidential brother's appointee to be the nation's chief legal officer — a post which Bob Kennedy did not deserve on his merits.

FOR ALL THAT, he did display such industriousness and native shrewdness as to become an excellent administrator and inspirator of other people's talents, to say nothing of becoming the cabinet officer who ranked as a top helper to President Kennedy.

AS TO THE other items on the bill of lading, political circumstances may draw the curtain of mercy. How subservient was Katzenbach to keep his job under Bob Kennedy and to gain two promotions under Lyndon Johnson? Was Johnson in real danger of ouster from the '64 Democratic ticket? What men of public dignity have cut up high jinks at private parties given to wheedle their votes and influence?

The answers are under a lid which national security, and political practicalities, can hardly allow to be lifted. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

A Lot Of Changes Since Pearl Harbor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-five years ago Wednesday was a gray day: cold, even in Louisiana. I was fishing in Salt Bayou, 30 miles from New Orleans, with a man who had taught English in some of the best schools in the East. He had an elegant touch, even toward fish. But we didn't catch any.

And when the sun began to dissolve behind the trees we went across the bayou, into the channel with the tall grass, keeping the outboard motor low. We pulled up at the wharf near Big Sam's boathouse. The little man who worked for him came skipping and hopping down to see us.

"THIS PLACE is loaded with crappies," he said. "You ought to try them." We did. He kept telling us where they were: here, there, there. But we didn't get any. We were shaking in the cold. The sun was gone. We packed up and went up to the boathouse.

Big Sam was there, behind the counter where he sold soft drinks and sandwiches. But he hardly said hello to us. He was looking up at a radio on a shelf on the wall, and listening. There were two strangers there, too, looking up and listening.

And the voice on the radio was saying the Japanese had sunk the battleship Arizona. We thought we had come in late on a program. I asked Sam what the program was. He said there was no program. He said the Japanese had attacked Pearl Harbor. I asked him if he was kidding. He said: "No, just listening." The voice was saying more.

our lives change." And they did. And, while the little man who liked crappies forgot about Pearl Harbor, practically nobody else has, ever since, or could.

There were a lot of changes. For, while trying to blow up Pearl Harbor was just a part of World War II, what really blew up was the roof of a world which then became a mixed bag of blessings and dismay for the next quarter of a century.

UNTIL THE big war, for most people the world had been a lifelong journey through a dismal swamp where, except for Japan, almost every country in Asia and Africa was centuries behind the times, held in outright thralldom by the big powers of the West, or under the Western thumb.

The war brought changes as fantastic as the age of exploration. Everywhere new nations were born with a chance for the first time to achieve their own ecstasy or agony.

Has man learned much from World War II? Not much, basically. In many ways: he has only rearranged the furniture.

JAPAN was denuded of its acquisitions, forced back into its home islands. The vast German empire of Hitler was split in half. The Soviet Union is now the antagonist of the West.

Phlebitis Isn't Hardening Of The Arteries

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain the difference between hardening of the arteries and phlebitis. I had phlebitis in my leg following an operation.

Sometimes the two middle fingers on one hand lock closed and I have to open them with the other hand. I wonder if this is from hardening of the arteries or phlebitis. My legs also burn. I am 72.—MRS. J.F.F.

interfere with the delivery of blood to the tissues. The burning sensation in your legs could, indeed, be a consequence of hardening of the arteries. Sometimes medication can give relief, so discuss this with your doctor.

As to the locking fingers, that would be a problem involving the joints, or cramps, and would have nothing to do with either the condition of your arteries or veins. My principal thought is to note whether this tends to occur when you are tired or cold. Avoiding too much strain and keeping your hands from being chilled may help.

posed to be somewhat acid. In fact, a small amount of dilute hydrochloric acid is one of the necessary digestive juices. Alkali (soda being one) neutralizes acid and can, in sufficient quantity, actually interfere with digestion.

If too much acid is neutralized, the human body, in its logical way, will try to produce more. Hence you can have an irritating swing from too much alkali to too much acid.

Around The Rim

Warm Weather Tough On Trappers

Winters like this used to fret me a lot when I was a kid.

The warm weather, which I find pleasant enough now, was not welcome to me then. It cut pretty sharply into my winter season income.

You see, in those dim days, when jobs for youngsters were not too abundant — particularly in small West Texas towns — I supplemented my somewhat meager cash by running a trap line. I caught the fur-bearing varmints the area provided. The selection wasn't too broad. Most of the pelts I harvested were skunk. Occasionally I would get a coon and now then a coyote.

THE WARM weather kept the quality of fur down. This meant a much lower price and less money for me.

It was the hard cold winters when the beasts developed what the buyers called "prime" quality fur and the price was agreeably higher.

Each week I would hurry to the mail box to get my price report from the Funsten Fur Co. of St. Louis. I would study that price list with the same absorption you see on the faces of bankers reading the Wall Street Journal.

I WAS EXPERT enough, in those days, to know exactly how the graders in far off St. Louis would rate my pelts. The market tended to fluctuate pretty sharply, too. This week, the price on the particular grade of furs I had on hand would be way down; next week's report might show an improvement.

Not only did the weather have to do with the value of my pelts. Since the bulk of my catch was skunk, the amount of white fur on each hide was a primary factor in determining its value. The more white the skunk's back showed, the less the price. A black skunk, with no white (you caught one now and then) was a real prize and brought top money, particularly in a cold spell. Most of the ones I caught had white stripes as wide as my hand from the tips of their pointy noses to the ends of their bushy tails.

IF I HAD enough spare change on hand to get by I would sometimes not ship when the prices were low.

I would hold off until the next price sheet came out. Sometimes this gamble paid off — sometimes it didn't. There were times when the prices (just like stocks on Wall Street) continued to drop from week to week. In such depressed intervals, the best I could do was ship my furs, take my small check and feel as good about it as I could.

WHEN YOU TRAP skunk and handle their hides day in and day out as I did you become quite accustomed to the pungent aroma of the beasts. In fact, you get so you hardly notice it at all.

However, the scent is most pervasive. It seeps into your pores, soaks into your clothing. It may fade when you are out in the chill outdoors but when you moved into a warm room, it began building up.

I USED TO think that I just wasn't popular with my school friends. They didn't seem to want to be near me. I have often had an entire area in front of the schoolroom's big pot-bellied heater to myself. The other kids, although I am sure they were cold, seemed content to stand off to one side sort of.

I used to wonder why. I think I know now. I didn't any have best friends then to tell me the reason.

For Whom The Bells Told

WASHINGTON — They're putting a new name on the Paris Herald today. From now on it will be known as the International Edition of the New York Herald Tribune and Washington Post, and if you ask for it under that name at the airport you'll miss your plane.

The Paris Herald has never been a crusading paper because as a guest of the French it isn't nice to tell them how to run their capital.

IT TOOK PLACE when I was writing a night club column and living just off the Avenue George V on the Rue de Boccador, a cobblestone's throw from the beautiful American Pro Cathedral. At this moment some generous soul had decided to give the cathedral a gift of carillons, the likes of which had not been heard in Europe since the coronation of King Louis XIV.

The dean of the cathedral, a music lover, decided to share the carillons with all of the Right Bank of Paris, and as soon as they were installed and blessed he proceeded to have them play on the hour, every hour, from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night, with an added concert at noon and 6 o'clock.

WELL, AS MUCH as I loved the cathedral, the bells were driving me nuts. I knew a plea to the dean from a night club columnist would have little effect, so I decided to take the issue to the reading public of the Paris Herald.

I wrote a letter to the paper's mailbag under a fictitious name which read:

don't you ring them on Sundays like the Catholics do and let it go at that? . . . Madame Micheline du Bois."

THE LETTER produced real mail from many indignant Americans who didn't care about the American cathedral as much as they did about the anti-American comments. There was a series of letters demanding to know where France would be without the United States. My campaign to eliminate the bells was sidetracked for a week until I got it on the rails again with a letter which said:

"I believe the real question is not what America has done for France, but what the American cathedral is doing to Franco-American relations. We French don't want to be reminded what time it is. It interferes with our lunch hour. I say stop the bells or close the church. . . Alain Berneim"

THE MAIL poured in, but we only printed the anti-bell letters. One of the deacons of the church also happened to be the general manager of the paper. He knew vaguely I had something to do with the anti-carillon campaign and he said, "Don't you have any letters for the bells?"

I said, "Of course."

"Well, why don't we print one?" he said angrily.

I rushed to my typewriter and wrote the final letter of my campaign. It read:

The Anti-Missile Problem

WASHINGTON — The nuclear giants, once described by Robert Oppenheimer as two scorpions in a bottle, are squaring off for another round in the nuclear arms race. That is the reality behind the hopeful talk about easing tensions and such minuscule achievements as the recent agreement for a direct commercial air route between Moscow and New York.

DEFENSE Secretary Robert S. McNamara has had to help shape in his six years in the Pentagon none is more momentous than the one with which he now is wrestling. That is whether to give the go-ahead for construction of an anti-ballistic missile system. The price tag is in terms that have come to carry no meaning at all — $30 billion or $40 billion.

Everything goes into this hopper from rugged partisan politics to scientific and technical calculations so far out that only a few scientists comprehend them. On both sides of the great divide the basic component of fear and with it the lingering belief that absolute safety is still possible in a world in which rival nations are armed with nuclear weapons.

A Republican living in Ann Arbor, Mich., executive vice president of the Ford Motor Co. As he has several times said, three weeks after he became Secretary of Defense he had established beyond a doubt that the "missile gap" was a myth.

McNamara in a press conference at the Johnson ranch revealed that the Soviets were installing such a defense.

RECENT HISTORY is about to be repeated as part of the exercise. With their new-found muscle the Republicans talk of making the "anti-ballistic missile gap" a major charge leading up to 1968.

HE IS CONVINCED that neither side has the capacity for a first-strike knockout which would leave the initiator of a first strike relatively whole. McNamara believes his summing up in the posture hearings of February, 1964, is valid today as it was then.

Oregon Prexy To Head Huge Church Group

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, president of the University of Oregon and a former U.S. Cabinet member, today was elected president of the National Council of Churches.

He is the second layman to be named to the post since the interdenominational cooperative organization was formed 16 years ago.

A Methodist and for 20 years a federal government official in various important posts, Flemming succeeds Bishop Reuben H. Mueller of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

41 MILLION

The council's triennial General Assembly elected the Rev. Dr. Edwin H. Tuller, of Valley Forge, Pa., of the American Baptist Convention, as first vice president.

The council includes most of the major Protestant and Orthodox churches in the country—30 of them with a total membership of 41 million.

Flemming served as secretary of health, education and welfare in the cabinets of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Before that he held various other high posts, including heading up the Office of Defense Mobilization in which he was "manpower boss."

In Eugene, Ore., where he now heads the University of Oregon, he also is president of the Oregon Council of Churches.

SHARP CLEAVAGE

Meanwhile at the convention, sharp cleavage was pointed up among American Christians over evangelistic methods, but a dramatic and surprise move appeared in the making to get the two camps pulling together.

The overtures for making common cause — even though advocates of the old and new evangelism differed markedly — developed at a session of the National Council of Churches' General Assembly.

SOCIAL ACTION

Baptist evangelist Billy Graham sparked the outpouring of pleas for an alliance between conservative evangelicals, who stress conversion by preaching, and a modern school, stressing persuasion by social action.

Some conservative evangelicals, including many small but vigorous missionary-minded denominations, make up the largest bloc outside the National Council although many of them are in churches belonging to it.

The council has 30 member denominations — most of the country's largest Protestant and Orthodox bodies with a total of 14 million believers. There are an estimated 20 million conservative evangelicals outside the council. About half of them are Southern Baptist.

NOT FAKE WAR

They recently held a world congress on evangelism in Berlin, and a series of reports on that meeting — including one from Graham — touched off the appeals Monday night for the two factions to join forces, despite their differences.

That key differences exist was emphasized earlier at a news conference.

"There is a real clash, not just a fake war," said the Rev. Colin Williams, a Methodist and the council's evangelism secretary, who maintained that effective evangelism must be linked with work to improve social conditions.

Later in a special session on the subject, Graham also cited the differing views, but said both approaches had their uses.

Singer Becomes Dad

LOS ANGELES (AP) — One of the Righteous Brothers, a singing duo, became a father Sunday, Cedars of Lebanon Hospital reported.

It was a first child for Robert Hatfield and his wife Joy. The 7-pound, 13-ounce boy was named Robert Lee Hatfield Jr.

Nursing Care Provided For Chronically Ill Vets

An expanded program of nursing home care has freed thousands of beds for treatment of additional veteran patients in Veterans Administration hospitals, the VA Information Service said today.

Dr. H. Martin Engle, chief medical director of the VA, reported that a three-point program of nursing home care has made available an additional 1.37 million bed days of hospital care in the VA system by freeing hospital beds formerly occupied by chronically ill veterans.

Veterans transferred from the hospitals to nursing home-care facilities are mostly older, chronically ill veterans who have received maximum hospital benefits but still require skilled nursing care, Dr. Engle explained.

A Rockefeller In Harlem

Laurance Rockefeller, 22-year-old scion of one of the world's wealthiest families, enters office of Block Communities Inc., in Manhattan yesterday. The son of conservationist Laurance S. Rockefeller began an eight-week training program in Harlem slums to qualify for the government's VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America) program. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Rockefeller Enters Whopperburger World

NEW YORK (AP) — Laurance Rockefeller took a seat in the steamy lunchroom in East Harlem's slums and ordered a 45-cent Whopperburger and a soda.

Later, he returned to his tenement over Juanita's Beauty Salon where he will among the Puerto Ricans in the building.

For the next year, life in the slums will be the life of the 22-year-old scion of one of the world's wealthiest families.

'I WANT TO HELP'

He'll work seven days a week for $50 a month plus room and board and $2.50 a day pocket money because, as he puts it, "I want to help others help themselves."

Rockefeller is the son of Laurance S. Rockefeller, a noted conservationist, and the nephew of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. He was graduated from Harvard last June and spent the summer flying around the world in his private plane.

FIRE ESCAPES

Young Rockefeller was among 10 persons from across the country who began an eight-week training program Monday to qualify for VISTA, which stands for Volunteers in Service to America.

It meant moving out of the family's swank Fifth Avenue residence into a world of Whopperburgers and a partment buildings festooned with fire escapes.

Part of Laurance's job will be to encourage residents to work in community activities and help them take advantage of city services.

BIG CHALLENGE

On his first day, the discussion eventually got around to money and Laurance told newsmen: "As you might know, I have money of my own. But I don't plan to touch it while I'm working here. I don't see why $50 a month shouldn't be enough with rent and food taken care of."

The recruits also included Tweed Roosevelt, 24-year-old great-grandson of President Theodore Roosevelt.

Rockefeller summed up his aspirations: "Having an independent income gives me more freedom over the long span to devote myself to public service activities which I find more challenging than anything else.

"The type of (block) project struck me. You're living on the block and dealing with the whole problem of poverty. All the problems seem to go back to a common level — fear and desperation and hopelessness."

2 Texans Die In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Texans from Odessa and Houston, were listed Monday by the Defense Department as dead in Vietnam.

Army Spec. 4 Larry P. Campos, son of Joe Campos of Odessa, was killed in action. Navy Fireman Stephen C. Sharp, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Sharp of Houston, died of nonhostile causes.

Capt. D. Kerley Goes To 331st

Capt. David N. Kerley has joined the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Webb Air Force Base. He has just returned from Southeast Asia where he served in 7th Air Force Headquarters.

A veteran of 17 years, he spent two years in Korea, and has amassed over 3,300 hours flying time in F-86, F-84, F-89, F-84, F-102, and F-104 aircraft.

He and his wife, Mary, reside at 1015 Sycamore with their three children, Eric, Kermit and Hope. After re-qualification in the Mach 2 Starfighter, he will be certified as combat ready.

Scuba Graduates

Graduates of the recent scuba-diving course at the YMCA were John Ahnert, Bert Andries, W. K. Babcock, Wayne Engstrom, Fred Kenyon, Jan Nelson, Pascal Odum and Mr. and Mrs. John Pearson. Instructors for the course were Dr. Floyd Mays, Jim Gilbert, Ken Norman, Pat Nelson and Dr. J. P. Darby.

Services are pending in California and local arrangements are being handled by the River-Welch Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Thelma Schubert, San Diego, Calif.; one son, one daughter; one brother, James Schubert, Fort Worth; two sisters, Mrs. Petty, Big Spring, and Mrs. Lillian Sheen, Midland.

Viet Cong Bombing Turning Point Of War?

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Army Maj. Warner Baxter was officer of the day at Qui Nhon, Vietnam, on a pleasant day in February 1965.

Suddenly, Viet Cong agents set off satchel charges they had placed around the base of the hotel that housed hundreds of American soldiers.

"More than 65 were killed by the blast," the Texan at War recalls. "Two of our men got the Silver Star for quickly manning machine guns at either end of the building and keeping the VC away from the area."

TRIGGERS BOMBING

Baxter, from Corpus Christi, says the hotel incident was one of the dramatic developments that led to U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

"And that was probably the turning point of the whole war," he added.

A graduate of the University of Texas, Baxter is married to the former Marion Janet Knappe of San Antonio. They have two children.

CAN CARRY 45

He is now secretary of the officers open mess at Ft. Wolters.

Baxter went to Vietnam in October of 1964, flying one of a fleet of CV2B aircraft from this country to Qui Nhon. He became maintenance officer of the 92nd Aviation Company in Vietnam.

He said the CV2B can land and take off on only 800 feet of runway, and can carry 45 men.

"The plane is used mainly to support field operations," Baxter said.

High Court Eyes Georgia Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court is expected to rule within five weeks on the thorny question of how Georgia should choose its next governor.

During oral arguments at Monday's public session of the high tribunal, the judges not only shot piercing questions at attorneys but fell to disputing among themselves.

Justice Hugo L. Black, for one, showed no enthusiasm for telling Georgia how to elect a governor.

He kept popping the question: Just where in the United States Constitution is any such power given to the court?

NO MAJORITY

He disputed any contention that the court has asserted such power by decreeing that state legislatures must be based on population. That decision, grounded on the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment, is entirely different from the question of whether a state must hold a popular election for governor, he held.

The case came up to the Supreme Court because neither Republican Howard H. Callaway nor Democrat Lester G. Maddox got a majority in the Nov. 8 election.

42-YEAR-OLD RULE

A 42-year-old proviso in the Georgia Constitution says that in such cases the legislature shall pick between the two high men. A three-judge federal court in Atlanta said this would be contrary to the U.S. Constitution; it said the man who got the lesser popular vote (Maddox) might win.

In Monday's argument Justice William O. Douglas said maybe the nub of the question is whether

Mrs. Anglin's Funeral Held

Services for Mrs. G. W. (Rosella) Anglin, 91, of 2213 18th St., Lubbock, were held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church of Stamford...

Mrs. Anglin was the mother of Mrs. Jack Tibbs, Big Spring resident, and was well-known in Howard County. Mrs. Tibbs has returned to Big Spring after attending the services.

Mrs. Anglin died at 3:30 a.m. Friday in St. Mary's Hospital, Lubbock. She had been a Lubbock resident for three years, moving there from Stamford, where she had made her home for 35 years.

A native of Gassville, Ark., she was a member of the Baptist Church. George Anglin, her husband, died in 1932. Mrs. Anglin was a member of the Royal Neighbors for over 35 years.

Survivors include six daughters, Mrs. Pearl Paulson and Mrs. Elbertine Hush, former Big Spring residents, now of Lubbock; Mrs. Tibbs, Big Spring; Mrs. Florence Young, formerly of Big Spring, now of Stockton, Calif.; Mrs. A. R. Wood, Columbus, Tex.; and Mrs. Randolph Roberts, El Centro, Calif.; one son, B. G. Anglin, formerly of Big Spring, now of Odessa; also 14 grandchildren, 31 great-grandchildren and three great-great grandchildren.

Allied Cadets At Dinner

Col. Chester J. Butcher, Webb wing commander, discusses future military careers with three of the honorees at the Military Assistance Program dinner held last week at the Officers Open Mess.

Iran, Jordan Students Hubby Held In Webb Training Class

When Class 67-D graduated at Webb AFB last week, the nations of Iran and Jordan were represented by three allied students who graduated from the pilot training program.

Mustafa Samkari and Air Cadet Ahmad Azaam Fnaiker El Mustafa, both of the Royal Jordanian Air Force, received their pilot's wings with their classmates during the graduation ceremonies which marked the end of their pilot training.

Having completed the year-long flying training program under the Military Assistance Program, the three students will return to their homelands for service in their respective air forces.

At the beginning of their training period in the United States the three air cadets attended the language school at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Since their assignment to Webb as pilot trainees the allied students have had numerous opportunities to visit various areas of interest in our country.

Listed among their orientation trips are the National Aeronautical and Space Administration facility at Houston, and the government buildings and historical institutions in Washington, D. C.

Early returns showed less interest locally than the ASC had hoped.

Newburn decided to try to retrieve the duck with his rod and reel. He cast a line with a multi-hook lure on the end of it, snagged the duck and reeled it in.

To his astonishment, he not only retrieved the bird—but also a two-pound bass.

Tommy Ruppert, Rt. 1, said a coat was taken from his car while parked at the Sands Lounge, Byron Smith Jr., 615 Holbert, reported the back door of the home forced and a wall telephone stolen.

The Forman Service Station, 311 N. Gregg, reported yeggs took a pistol and $35 from a cash register, as well as an unknown amount of money from the cigarette machine.

Five thefts and burglaries have been reported to police, and detectives were checking on them today.

Change from a cigarette machine and an unknown amount of beer was taken from Carlos' Restaurant, 308 NW 3rd. Gayle Harding, HCJC dormitory, reported a stereo unit and 10 tapes were stolen from her car.

Survivors include the husband, one son, Jack Oliver, Big Spring; two daughters, Mrs. Dale Merritt, Sweetwater, and Mrs. T. O. Robinson, Lamesa; one sister, Mrs. Clyde Miller, Colorado City, and four grandchildren.

She was born in Travis County, Sept. 24, 1898. She was married to Charles W. Oliver, who survives here, in Westbrook and had made her home there for 47 years.

She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Westbrook.

Stock Market Gain Posted

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market posted a thin gain early this afternoon despite weakness in London stocks caused by the Rhodesian-British crisis. Trading was moderate.

The market was up from the start, despite weakness in some of the aerospace issues.

Airlines and some of the high-priced glamor stocks on office equipment and photography were especially strong.

Drugs, electronics, oils, rails, utilities, chemicals and steels were among the gainers. Motors, building materials and tobaccos were mixed.

The rise came after six straight sessions in which there were more losers than gainers.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 291.5 with industrials off .1, rails up .3 and utilities up .4.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.45 at 795.04.

American, Eastern and United airlines each rose more than two points while Pan American gained about 1 1/2.

Xerox advanced nearly five, Polaroid about four, IBM more than three.

Gains of a point or better were made by Merck, Pfizer, U.S. Gypsum, Control Data, U.S. Smelting, Sperry Rand and Republic Steel.

Among copper producers, Anaconda advanced more than a point, Phelps Dodge a point or better, Kennecott a fraction and International Nickel nearly a point.

Bristol Myers sank 1 1/2 to 50 1/2 on a block of 311,000 shares.

Boeing and United Aircraft were off about a point each, trimming early losses which exceeded two points each.

Prices rose in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Decoration Presentation

Lt. Col. Barry R. Butler, commander of the 356th Student Squadron at Webb AFB, pins the Air Force Commendation Medal on T. Sgt. Norman Newell, Disaster Control NCOIC, at Commander's Call ceremonies.

Commendation Medals Go To Three Webb Men

Air Force Commendation Medals were presented to three Webb men assigned to the 356th Student Squadron in ceremonies at Commander's Call last week.

T. Sgt. Norman Newell, disaster control NCOIC, Capt. Thomas F. McGuire, Class 68-A-FO, and 1st Lt. Edward R. Marsey, Class 67H-FB, were presented the awards by Lt. Col. Barry R. Butler, student squadron commander.

SGT. NEWELL Sgt. Newell received the commendation medal for service in Vietnam. He left Vietnam in August, and was assigned to his present duty at Webb.

The citation accompanying the commendation medal read in part: "... distinguished himself by meritorious service as Non-Commissioned Officer in Charge of Disaster Control, 377th Combat Support Group, Tan Son Nhut Air Base, Republic of Vietnam from Sept. 23, 1965 to Aug. 15, 1966."

SGT. NEWELL Sgt. Newell is a veteran of 20 years Air Force service. He served one year in the Pacific Theater of operations during World War II. A native of Uxbridge, Mass., the sergeant graduated from Uxbridge High School in 1943.

CAPT. MCGUIRE Capt. McGuire distinguished himself by "meritorious service" as the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron project officer for Project Falcon, Hamilton AFB, Calif., during the period from April 20, 1965 to June 24, 1966.

The citation accompanying the award read in part: "During Project Falcon 1965 and Falcon 1966, Five Accidents Are Investigated Five minor automobile mishaps were reported to police Monday. None involved serious damage or injuries.

Three drivers were involved in the crash at Cedar Road and FM 700. They were Raymond J. Woolverton, 412 Edwards, Pansy Floyd Cathey, 121 Lindberg, and Emma Brown, 1508 Oriole.

L. C. Williams, 804 Douglas, and Emily Hope Ray, Box 149, crashed at Second and North Benton. At Fourth and Main, Barbara Huber Clark, Webb Village, and Ruth D. Nichols, 431 Hillside, crashed.

WWilliam J. McClanahan, 1108 E. 14th, and Lavanda Lewis Yager, 1405 Lincoln, ran together at Connally and Laurie. Minnie Kay Reed, 104 W. 18th, was involved in a one-car mishap on Coronado off FM 700, and Jesus Ruiz Esparza, Rt. 1, was involved in a crash with a car that left the scene at Fifth and Aylford.

With three months of rehearsal behind them, the Big Spring High School choir had one last rehearsal today on "Cottull Carmina" with distinguished accompanists.

Members of the original Piano Quartet arrived here Monday night and were due to rehearse the special work with Mel Ivey and the choir during today.

Then at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Auditorium, the curtain will go up on this unusual work of Carl Orff, which will constitute the first part of the quartet's program. Ira Schantz, of the TCU music faculty and formerly HCJC choir director, will be tenor soloist, and Mrs. Don Brinegar will be the soprano soloist. Members of the Big Spring High School band will be the percussionists.

The entire spotlight will be on the Piano Quartet for the second portion of the program, with passages from many of the masters.

Another feature of tonight's program, which is the second in the series of the Big Spring Concert Association, is the presentation of a prize for the winning entry in the cultural affair.

Young GOP Club Talks Projects The Young Republican Club held its monthly meeting Sunday afternoon featuring a discussion on the success of pre-election club projects, and possible activities. The executive board presented an outline of projects, including one for Christmas, to be undertaken during the next two months.

Members adopted a proposal to hold a public debate at the next meeting. Two teams of three each will debate the military draft, and all interested students are invited to attend.

Police Check Burglaries Five thefts and burglaries have been reported to police, and detectives were checking on them today.

Change from a cigarette machine and an unknown amount of beer was taken from Carlos' Restaurant, 308 NW 3rd. Gayle Harding, HCJC dormitory, reported a stereo unit and 10 tapes were stolen from her car.

Cotton Voters May Participate Through Friday

Voters in the cotton research and promotion referendum have through Friday to ballot by mail, according to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County committee.

Balloting began Monday. The ballots will be counted Dec. 14.

Early returns showed less interest locally than the ASC had hoped.

The election is on a plan by which growers would agree to an assessment of $1 per bale on cotton — the money to be used for research and promotion. New uses for cotton would be sought to bolster the sagging world demand for the staple.

U.S. Air Force Leaders Back Red Viet Bombing

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—U.S. Air Force leaders in Viet Nam probably will press against for bombing of North Vietnam's jet airfields because of the greatly increased activity by MIG jet fighters, sources indicated today.

Raiding American warplanes met North Vietnamese MIGs for the fourth straight day Monday. A day earlier, U.S. pilots reported sighting 16 MIGs aloft. One senior Air Force officer said this was the biggest number in the skies in a long time.

American F105 Thunderchiefs knocked down one MIG17 for certain Sunday and probably downed another. This boosted the U.S. score to 26 definite kills and two probables. North Vietnamese pilots have shot down only five American planes.

STRIKES NIXED Decision - making U.S. officials in Washington have ruled out any strikes against North Vietnam's jet airfields, at least until now. They said there is no need to hit them until the North Vietnamese air force becomes a serious threat.

U.S. Air Force leaders believe it would be prudent to take out the jet fields. One source said the Air Force has repeatedly urged such action. The much increased activity of the North Vietnamese MIGs gives the air generals a new lever.

Despite persistent reports that the North Vietnamese air force has been beefed up substantially, American air officers said the Red force still numbers about 75 planes. They said combat losses have been replaced by the Russians or the Red Chinese.

WAIT FOR CRIPPLE Air Force generals said the North Vietnamese pilots are not very aggressive. They do not come out looking for a fight.

"The North Vietnamese pilots wait for a cripple — a sure kill," said one general.

Indian Guides Elect A Chief

The Crow Y-Indian Guide tribe met Monday night at the home of Big Oak and Red Squirrel (Wade Choate and Kyle) to elect Long Bow (John L. Taylor) as chief of the tribe.

Other officers are Big Moon Face (Olen Graves), medicine man; Red Cloud (Charles Dunbar), wampum bearer; and Big Oak (Wade Choate) as tally keeper.

Red feathers were awarded to Red Feather (Kerry Graves) and Red Squirrel (Kyle Choate).

4-H Club Yule Party Scheduled On Saturday

Howard County 4-H clubs will stage their annual Christmas party at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Howard County Junior College Student Union-Building.

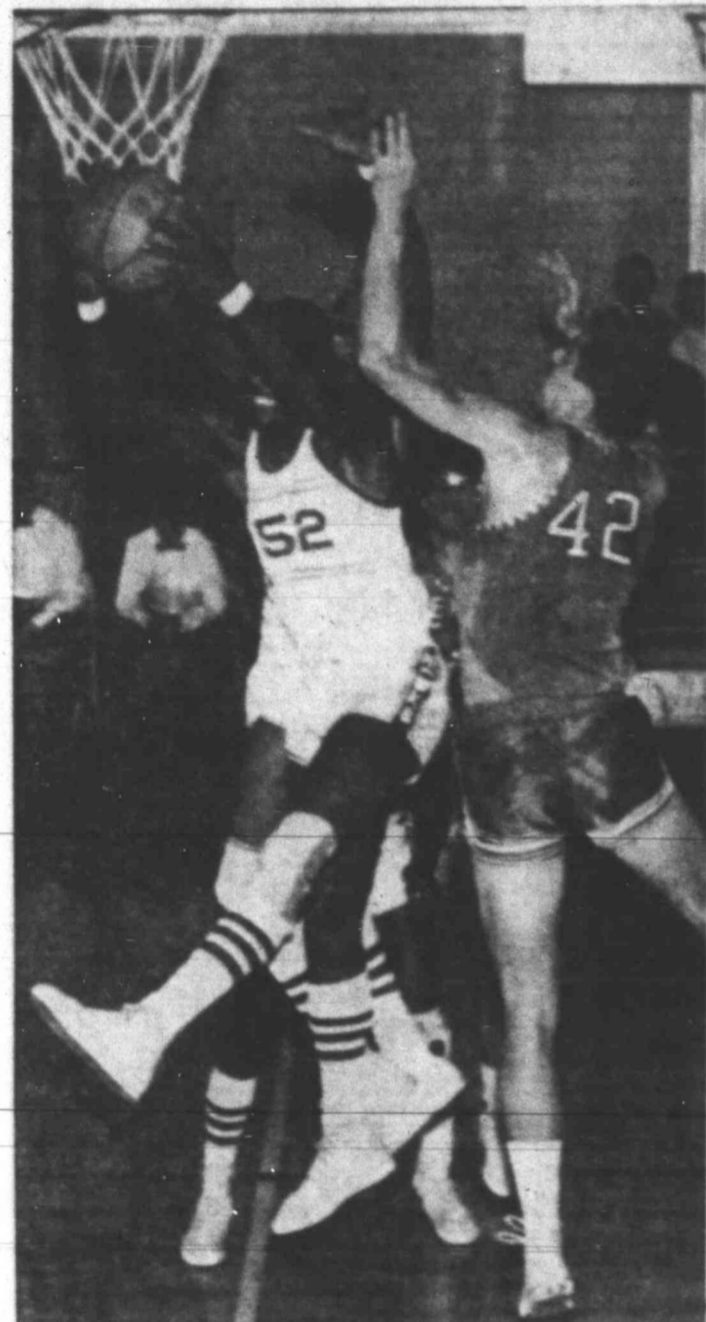

Program for the evening will be arranged and presented by the members of the Gay Hill 4-H Club. Big Spring and Lamesa 4-H clubs will arrange for the refreshments.

Each club member is asked to bring a gift costing from 50 cents to a dollar. These gifts will be turned over to the Big Spring State Hospital and will be given to patients there at the hospital's Christmas party.

Paul Gross, county agent, and Mrs. Catherine Crawford, county home demonstration agent, suggested these gifts include games of all kinds, greeting cards, cookies, candies, books, nylon hose, socks, combs, brushes, creams and lotions, costume jewelry, suspenders, nail polish, nail polish

Jayhawks Seek Fourth Victory Here At 7:30

HCJC's high-octane Jay-Hawks cooled off a promising hawk go after their fourth Texas Western College victory in six starts in a 7:30 p.m. game, 79-66. The Hawks started like the proverbial house afire, averaging over 100 points a game in their first few games. However,

Old Reliable

Henry Willis, star rebounder for the HCJC Jayhawks, comes down with a carom in the locals' recent game with the Texas Western College freshmen. Willis and his team mates go after their fourth win in six starts against New Mexico JC here at 7:30 o'clock tonight. No. 42 is Tom Issac of TWC. (Photo by Danny Valdes)

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue: GENE WARD, New York scribe: "All that feverish intensity generated by the collision of the colossals at East Lansing, Mich., reminded me of a pronouncement coach Red Sanders of UCLA made on the eve of a showdown battle with USC for a matter of life or death." Sanders said, "It's more important than that." Every once in a while we let our enthusiasm slip over our equilibrium, and it happens most often in connection with football. All of a sudden everybody starts acting as though the world is a gridiron and events taking place beyond its boundaries are of no consequence. It was that way when Notre Dame played Michigan State. The coaches, the players, the undergraduates, the alumni, and flocks of fans were caught in the grip of something which very closely resembled an acute case of jumping hysteria. . . If the kids were playing in the pros I wouldn't think a thing about it. But they're not. They are college kids. They are kids matriculating at institutions of higher learning, ostensibly in pursuit of knowledge, and that Saturday would have been their day of fun. Instead, it was a deadly business, full of violence and blown out of proportion. It wasn't so long ago that the good fathers under the Golden Dome in South Bend broke off the Army-Notre Dame series for what they termed "over-emphasis," which means that things had got out of hand. Well, I've got news for them: they're right back at the same old stand."

DON SWARTZ, football guard for Stanford University: "If we lowered the requirements we would just encourage players who are merely interested in going into professional football. This is not a farm school for the pros, and it never should be. There is no place for that type of athlete here."

ARCHIE MOORE, the former boxing champion, when asked if he felt bitter, at any time, for being pushed around by fight promoters, and regretted not having fought Sugar Ray Robinson: "Never! I was never bitter. I figured it's only the bull who gets bitter, and he never makes it. . . I regret I didn't get to fight Robinson. The attraction would have rivaled a Clay-Marcelino fight, gate-wise. But it was Robinson's fault. Ray reminded me of a dog crossing the bridge with a bone in his mouth, and he sees a bigger dog in the water—himself, of course—so he opens his mouth to bark and loses what he has. Ray wanted that $1 million guarantee. It was no-good, tax-wise, and I told him so. Anyway, I'm sure Ray would have tasted a bitter and unhurried defeat—for all his alleged greatness."

ART ROSENBAUM, San Francisco scribe: "Pick Peter Pifer, who packed a peck of pigskins for Oregon State this season, to be the star of the East-West Shrine game Dec. 31."

FRANK BOGGS, Oklahoma City sports scribe: "The world has become far too complicated for the average man. I can remember, for example, when you could walk into a store and order a bicycle. The clerk would inquire what size you desired, 24 or 28-inch. You'd point to one usually red with the bell on the left side of the handlebar. . . Now you go in to buy a bike and they don't ask what size. They ask how many pounds you want and they put it in a sack and you're supposed to go home and manufacture your own bicycle. . . Unless the American male revolts, this trend will move into the shirt industry. Our shirts will come in small envelopes. The sleeves and collars will be separate and they'll put the buttons, one needle and some thread in a little plastic sack. All we'll have to do is build it."

DOMES GETS TITLE BOUT

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight Champion Cassius Clay and Ernie Terrell, recognized as titleholder by the World Boxing Association, agreed today to meet for the undisputed title at the Houston Astrodome Feb. 6.

Announcement was made simultaneously here and in Houston by the Astrodome Championships Enterprises, Inc., headed by Roy Hofheinz.

UCLA Ranked Tops In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Lew Alcindor's sensational debut as a college pivotman has given powerful UCLA an early stranglehold in The Associated Press basketball ratings.

The Bruins, who drubbed Southern California 105-90 in their season opener behind a 56-point spree by 7-foot-1 soph Alcindor, top The AP's national poll by an overwhelming margin.

A somewhat shaky leader in last week's pre-season poll, UCLA drew 32 of 34 first-place votes in this week's ballot of sports writers and broadcasters. The Bruins, who led runnerup Texas Western by 20 points—a week ago, hold a 337-288 point bulge today over the defending NCAA champions.

Texas Western romped to two victories last week and retained its second-place edge over Kentucky, which opened with a 104-84 triumph over Virginia. The Miners drew one of the remaining first-place votes while fourth-ranked Louisville received the other.

Louisville, a 99-81 winner over Georgetown in its opener, moved up one notch from fifth, replacing Duke.

The vote was based on results of games through last Saturday night and the ballots all were in before Illinois stunned Kentucky 98-97 in overtime and Michigan knocked off Houston 86-73 Monday night.

The Top Ten with first-place votes in parentheses, and total points on basis of 12 for first place, 9, 6, 3, etc.:

1. UCLA (32)	337
2. Texas Western (1)	288
3. Kentucky	259
4. Louisville (1)	176
5. Houston	135
6. New Mexico	108
7. Duke	71
8. North Carolina	63
9. Brigham Young	61
10. Cincinnati	43

Irish End Up As No. 1 Team On Final Ballot

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Coach Ara Parseghian and the student body took the fact that Notre Dame was named the nation's national collegiate football champions in stride Monday night.

The student body had little chance to demonstrate. "I guess the students were studying and not listening to their radios," said a campus spokesman. "They'll know all about it Tuesday when the Chicago morning papers hit the campus."

"But, let's face it. They expected to be No. 1." Parseghian, who was informed of the vote before leaving for Chicago and the annual Knute Rockne Memorial Awards Dinner, said he was "absolutely delighted."

In the preseason poll, Notre Dame was ranked sixth with Michigan State No. 1. The Irish kept edging up in the first four weeks with victories over Purdue, Northwestern and Army.

When Notre Dame hammered North Carolina 32-0 while Michigan State was struggling to an 11-8 victory over Ohio State, the Irish took the top rung and remained there although Notre Dame and Michigan State played to a 10-10 tie late in the campaign.

Notre Dame had an opportunity to gamble for a last ditch victory against Michigan State but the Irish elected to run out the clock.

The move became a controversial high point of the season but Parseghian, his forces depleted by injuries, said his men had played great football for 59½ minutes and he wasn't going to gamble and lose in the final seconds of the game.

The Irish eliminated all doubt of their No. 1 status when they clobbered Rose Bowl bound Southern California 51-0 in the final game of the season.

Notre Dame finished up in the final poll with 41 first place votes and 506 points on a 10-9-8 etc. basis. Michigan State was second with 471 points followed by Alabama, the only undefeated, untied team in the nation, with seven first place votes and 425 points.

Georgia finished fourth with 332 points followed by UCLA with 291, Nebraska with 224, Purdue 193, Georgia Tech 165, Miami, Fla. 76 and Southern Methodist 62.

The final 1966 Top Ten, with season records and total points on a 10-9-8 etc. basis:

1. Notre Dame 9-0-1	506
2. Michigan State 9-0-1	471
3. Alabama 10-0-0	425
4. Georgia 9-1-0	332
5. UCLA 9-1-0	291
6. Nebraska 9-1-0	224
7. Purdue 8-0-0	193
8. Georgia Tech 9-1-0	165
9. Miami, Fla. 7-0-1	76
10. SMU 6-2-0	62

Stanton Wins 10th Straight Decision

STANTON — The red-hot Stanton Buffaloes will seek their 11th straight basketball victory in a game with Tahoka here tonight.

Three games are on tap, with the B boys scheduled to open the show at 5:30 p.m. The A girls will follow, with the A boys playing about 8:30 p.m. Tahoka pushed the Buffs into overtime in the recent Tahoka tournament before Stanton pulled out a 61-57 victory. In Mitchell Williams (6-1½), the Tahoka team has one of the finest all-around players in West Texas.

Stanton kayoed Colorado City here last night, 64-52, after the Colorado City B team had edged the local reserves, 64-62.

The Buffaloes had three boys in double figures. Buddy Shanks led the way with 15 points while David Jones had 14 and Carol Holloway 10.

James Tilley paced the Wolves with 14 points. Stanton built up a 32-28 edge at half time and by the end of Round Three led, 50-38.

In the B game, tall Tommy Glenn led the Bisons with a 23-point effort. Jim Parker collected 18 for Cee City.

REGION V NEWS

Dallas Baptist Comes On Strong

Biggest news in Region V basketball occurred recently when top-rated Dallas Baptist College upset Cameron, Okla., ranked second among the nation's junior colleges nationally, 70-68, in a game at Dallas.

The win was the fourth in five starts for the Indians, who visit Big Spring Thursday, Dec. 15, to play Odessa College in the first game of a double header that will also pit HCJC against Jacksonville.

Dallas Baptist is now the clear-cut choice to win the Region V title and sweep to the National tournament at Hutchinson, Kan.

Amarillo College is also showing tremendous muscle in the early stages of the season. The Badgers recently handed New Mexico Junior College its first defeat of the season and twice turned back Murray State, Okla.

Amarillo's margin of victory over NMJC was 109-101.

Clarendon College, doorman in the Western Conference the past several seasons, is staging a strong comeback. The Bulldogs won the South Plains tournament at Levelland last weekend.

Ranger won two straight games and was the only undefeated team in Region V through Saturday night.

The Rangers bowled over Midwestern's B-team, 80-51, and Howard Payne Jr., 69-63, in their assignments.

Steers Seek Second Win Over Lubbock

Their six-game winning streak terminated by a rangy El Paso Jefferson team last Saturday night in Odessa, the Big Spring Steers return to competition against Lubbock High in Lubbock tonight.

B teams of the two schools clash at 6:15 p.m. while the varsity teams square off at 8 o'clock.

The game opens a busy week for the Longhorns. The locals will pop up in Hobbs, N. M., Thursday night for a game, then take part in the Canyon Reef tournament at Snyder Friday and Saturday.

Lubbock High won its first game of the season Saturday in the Odessa meet by defeating Kermit 66-58. It was the first win in seven games for the Westerners. The losing streak was the longest coach Max O'Banion has ever experienced. When the two teams met here the night of Nov. 25, the Steers won a 70-61. The Westerners, however, made a game of it and closed to within two points of the Steers at one stage in the third quarter.

Coach Don McDonald of the Longhorns probably will start a lineup consisting of Danny Clendenin, Wayne Johnson, Robert Jackson, Charley Tubb and Jerry McGuire.

O'Banion is apt to go with Jim Sawyer, Tom Mattison, Jim Ferguson, Jack Parker and Joel Hayhurst.

Hobbs, N. M., will prove to be a stout challenge for the locals. The team has won 30 straight games over two seasons. The latest came at the expense of El Paso Austin Saturday night by a score of 80-45. The Eagles are 2-0 this year.

The Steers won a big trophy in the Odessa tournament, although they lost in the finals to Jefferson, 57-46.

In addition, two members of the Steer team, Robert Jackson and Wayne Johnson, were named to the all-tournament team.

Other players on the all-star unit included Nate Stephens, 6-8, Jefferson; Chuck Smith, 6-1, Permian; Bill Melton, 6-2, Permian; Salvador Sanchez, 6-0, Jefferson; Gene Johnson, 6-1, Odessa; Eddy Wagon, 6-1, Odessa; Pat McKean, 6-4, Amarillo Palo Duro; and Bobby Smith, 6-4, Andrews.

Odessa won third place in the meet, defeating Andrews, 69-60. Palo Duro copped consolation honors by turning back Permian, 63-52. Lubbock's 66-58 victory over Kermit was good for seventh place.

Mike Love Is Second Team All-American

NEW YORK (AP) — Almost any college football fan can tell you that Jim Seymour and Terry Hanratty were sophomore stars at Notre Dame this season, that Steve Lindell's first varsity season at Army brought a victory over Navy and that newcomer Bill (Super Bill) Bradley starred at Texas.

But who among them can identify Carl Garrett? Garrett, a 215-pound, 6-foot halfback, plays for New Mexico Highlands at Las Vegas, N.M., and there are football critics in that region who rate him the best of the sophomores who played during the 1966 season.

The 19-year-old native of Texas climaxed his fine season today by being named to The Associated Press Little College All-America team.

Others in the first string backfield with Garrett are Don Hass, a junior from Montana State, at the other halfback post and quarterback Don Horn of San Diego State and fullback John Ogles of Austin Peay.

During the season the ace of the Highlands Cowboys averaged 8.9 yards a carry and also returned 13 kicks for an average of 33.2 yards each. He scored 26 touchdowns, two more than the previous collegiate division record. He also converted two touchdowns for a total of 158 points, eight points shy of the national record.

This stellar backfield is fronted by a line that averages, from end to end, 6 foot, 1 1/2 inches in height and 216 pounds.

The front wall is anchored by 245-pound Fred Davis of Doane, a tackle and David Edmondson, center for California Poly of San Luis Obispo. The other sophomore in the first-team lineup is Dwayne Nix of Texas A&I at end.

Richard Ries of Northern Arizona State, drafted as future a year ago by Miami of the American Football League, and John Huard of Maine are a pair of spectacular linebackers. Huard is the only repeater from the 1965 lineup.

At Dadd of Northwest Louisiana State, one of the chosen defensive backs, swiped 31 enemy passes during his collegiate career, getting nine this season. The remainder of the offensive line lists Joe Peyton of Puget Sound at the other end, Herb Slattery of Delaware at the other tackle and Harry Sorrell of Chattanooga and Bill Stringer of Southwest Missouri State at the guards.

On defense, backing the line along with Ries and Huard is Roger Bank of North Dakota, Ray Vinson of Jacksonville and Mel Thake of Superior, Wis. State complete the defensive secondary. Up front with Odessa are ends Ron McCall of Weber State and Joe Egeszti of Gettysburg and tackles Ken Oze of Arlington State and Mark DeVilling of Muskingum.

Mike Love of Abilene Christian made the second team at offensive halfback, while Alfredo Avila of Sul Ross was placed at a defensive backfield position.

Love is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Love of Coahoma. Receiving honorable mention were the following Texas collegians:

Tackles—Ed Marcontell, Lamar Tech; Richard Callahan, Howard Payne; Thomas Nelson, Sul Ross; Gene Upshaw, Texas A&I; James Greer, Stephen F. Austin. Guards—Bernard Erickson, Abilene Christian; David Martin, Sam Houston State; Randolph Winkler, Tarleton State. Halfbacks—Charles Guyton, East Texas State.

Joey Giardello Is Ring Victim

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Young Nate Collins, engaging in only his 20th professional fight, knocked out former world middleweight champion Joey Giardello in the eighth round Monday at Winterland in a scheduled 10-round bout.

Collins, 162, of San Francisco, was never able to drop the 36-year-old Philadelphia but had not lost a single round when referee Vern Bybee stopped the one-sided bout at 2:14 with Giardello's face a bloody mask.

The 165-pound Giardello had been cut alongside the left eye in the first round and bled from the nose and mouth from the fourth round on.

Collins, 23, scored his ninth knockout in winning his 11th fight.

DeWitt Sells Club Interest

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — William Orville DeWitt, the only general manager ever to have had pennant winners in both major leagues, has bowed out as owner-president of the Cincinnati Reds in favor of a group of local investors.

Francis L. Dale, publisher of the Cincinnati Enquirer, announced Monday night his group has bought all the baseball team's stock for $7 million and will sign a 40-year lease with the city to help Cincinnati build a new riverfront stadium.

DeWitt, a baseball veteran who four years ago bought the Reds for a reported $4.6 million, will continue running the club until the deal is approved by the National League, probably sometime in January. Manager Dave Bristol and the Reds' front office staff also will continue in their jobs.

The new manager will have a "pretty free hand," Dale said. "Our interest is to keep the Reds in Cincinnati and make sure that city gets the new riverfront stadium," Dale said.

The $43-million stadium would serve as home for both the Reds and a professional football team, the city hopes to get, but at present the financing is still unsettled.

Most Reds fans welcomed the change of ownership. The first year under DeWitt, but the portly executive's popularity plunged this year.

The Reds ended up on the short end of an off-season trade that sent slugger Frank Robinson to Baltimore in return for pitchers Milt Pappas and Jack Baldschun and rookie outfielder Dick Simpson. None of them helped the Reds much and the team wound up in seventh place while Robinson won the American League batting crown and led the Orioles to a world championship.

Krishnan Leads Indians To Cup Success, 3-2

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — India won the Davis Cup Interzone tennis final from Brazil today, three matches to two, and earned the right to meet Australia in the Challenge Round Dec. 26-28.

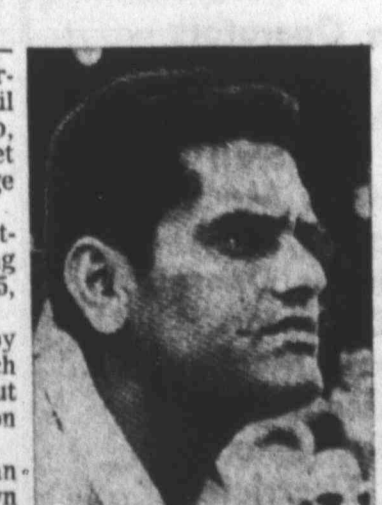

Ramanathan Krishnan defeated Thomas Koch in the deciding singles match 3-6, 6-4, 10-12, 7-5, 6-2.

The match had been halted by darkness Monday with Koch leading two sets to one. But Krishnan rallied today and won the last two sets.

In the fourth set, Krishnan fought back after being down 1-5. He won the next six games in a row with magnificent stroke play. Koch tried a net attack but passed repeatedly good back-hand cross court shots and volleys.

Krishnan staged a magnificent comeback after trailing two sets to one Monday and down 1-4 in the fourth set today to win the last two sets in 55 minutes against Koch, Brazil's No. 1 player. The victory enabled India to move into the Challenge Round for the first time.

Spectators surged on the court applauding wildly and surrounded Krishnan for congratulations. Fireworks also were set off to celebrate India's resurgent victory.

Brazil was playing the Interzone final for the first time ever.

Krishnan was the main architect of India's victory, winning both his singles matches and the doubles with Jaideep Mukher-

LAUGHING MATTER

"Six years ago, on this spot, your mother gave out the first hint."

Tower Thinks Republicans On Upsurge In This State

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of four articles based on an exclusive interview with Sen. John Tower by Ed Wischamper, editor of the Abilene Reporter-News, and made available to The Herald.)

By ED WISCHAMPER
WICHITA FALLS — The November election, Sen. John Tower says, made one point loud and clear.

"It showed that hundreds of thousands of Texans know how to split the ballot and are perfectly willing to split it," he declared in an exclusive interview with this writer at Tower's home here.

Hence, "party loyalty is less a factor now in determining elections in Texas than it once was. People are going to tend to cast their votes in the future on their preferences for individual candidates, rather than party labels," Tower said.

He made no reference to his own victory Nov. 8 over Waggoner Carr, but none was necessary.

Tower defeated the Lubbock Democrat $39,131 to $40,478, a margin of 198,653, although Democrats outnumbered Republicans 3 or 4 to 1. At the same time, Gov. John Connally won re-election with 1,024,929 votes over 366,929 for the Republican, T. E. Kennerly.

CONNALLY OK

"Obviously," Sen. Tower said, "the great majority approved Gov. Connally. While there was only a token Republican candidate, still there was no protest vote."

Tower declared "the trend toward a two-party state in Texas is firmly established, and would not have been reversed had I been defeated."

But wasn't that trend considerably enhanced by his convincing victory?

He nodded agreement that it was.

Continuing to interpret the Nov. 8 Texas election, Tower said:

"From the standpoint of developing a two-party state, people stated that views and deeds are of primary importance; that where Republicans offered candidates whose views were generally acceptable, Republicans were likely to be elected."

Besides Sen. Tower's victory, the Republicans gained two new Congressmen — George Bush in a Houston district, and Bob Price, Pampa rancher, in the Panhandle.

STATE CHANGING

"Texas," Sen. Tower said, "is no longer an agrarian state, hide bound to certain political traditions."

"It is a modern, urban and industrialized state." His inference was that this has changed the voting patterns, and Texas likely will never be the same again.

What gains does Tower expect for the Republicans in Texas in 1968?

"A great deal depends on the restricting to be done in the legislature in 1967," he said. "A great deal also depends on the political climate nationally in 1968."

He said he was reluctant "to say with any precision" what the Republican Party might or should do in 1968 in fielding candidates in Texas.

"Where we can offer qualified candidates, we should provide the people with an alternative," he asserted.

Pressed whether the party would contest for most state, congressional, legislative and county offices, Tower replied:

MORE LOCAL OFFICIALS

"We would like to elect more local officials — county and local, and we would like to improve our position in the state legislature."

Tower would not be drawn into a discussion of the Republicans opposing Connally if he should seek the governorship again.

"Republicans will be watching for the opportunity to win the governorship," was all he would concede. But the impression seemed rather distinct that it would not be while Connally stays in the statehouse.

Since Sen. Tower won such a decisive victory in re-election to the highest office held by a Republican in Texas in modern times, wouldn't that establish him as a titular head of the party in the state?

He disdains that position.

LAUDS O'DONNELL

"Rather, I would consider it a matter of exercising a leadership role in the party. I don't dictate, and the party leadership does not." He intends to work closely with the Republican organization in advancing the party.

"I would be remiss," he volunteered, "if I did not point out the tremendous influence of Peter O'Donnell." He is the Republican state chairman.

Tower was questioned on the conservative-liberal split in the Texas Democratic Party ranks. Are the Republicans cultivating the Latin-American voters, and is there a place for them in the party?

"We made a considerable effort in the last two or three years," Tower related, "to develop our partisan leadership among Latin-Americans, and I think we have shown some degree of success. We are going to do our best to bring the Latin-Americans actively into party activities and leadership positions."

And what of the declared desire of Texas labor union leaders to drive conservatives out of the Democratic Party, into the Republicans, so there would be a clear choice in a two-party system?

"We welcome everybody who wants to work in the framework of the Republican Party in Texas. It is our expectation that our party numbers will grow largely through affiliation of moderates and conservatives."

Tower said "we expect the Republican Party to remain essentially conservative in Texas."

Stiff Breezes Hike Mercury

By The Associated Press
 Stiff south breezes shoved more moist air into warm and cloudy Texas from the Gulf of Mexico today.

With the first official day of winter just 16 days in the offing, afternoon temperatures in the 80s were in prospect through out the state.

Early morning marks stood in the 50s to 60s. Monday's top readings ranged from 84 at Cotulla down to 68 at Dalhart. Clouds hung low this morning from around San Antonio across Northeast Texas. There were high, thin clouds in most other areas.

Forecasts called for a little cooling by Wednesday in the north part of Northwest Texas and a few showers were in prospect along the middle and upper Texas coast. Little change was predicted elsewhere.

T-Men Report 42 Violations

Forty-two traffic violations were reported by the volunteer T-Men of the Big Spring Traffic Commission last week. Persons seen breaking traffic laws will receive letters urging them to drive more carefully.

Sheikh-Less Sands To Provide Camels

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—The sheikh-less sands of the Coro Peninsula next spring will offer Arab-style camel rides among the native Venezuelan tourist attractions. Four male and two female camels are coming here as gifts of Jordan's King Hussein, the tourism office announced.

YOUR Horoscope Forecast for Tomorrow

By Carroll Righter

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You now have an unusual day to get the good will and active allegiance of any with whom you have any sort of desire to have a closer association. In the days ahead you can certainly think out the presents you would like to give to anyone at Christmas as well as any entertainment to be put in motion.

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19) If you quietly sit down and talk out any differences you may have with associates of this kind, you will find the cement for better relations. Find some new and interesting site to go with your wife or inamorata. If unrequited love, possessions, apartment, shop, etc. Doing whatever will cause your co-workers to understand you better is wise. Production will increase appreciably.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) Concentrate more on light entertainment and get others to go along with you, which is fine for all concerned. Be sure you do not get carried away by government matters.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) Stop being so sorry for yourself and do whatever will delight those living at home with you who may be even more depressed than you. Increase feeling of security. Start outland in outside world.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) You can increase comfort and security in the future by actively going after whatever you desire. Be busy-write, telephone, etc.—ideal for shopping for necessities on this day.

VIRGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Finances are uppermost in your mind and this is fine, since you need to increase your income and feel more sure of your position in life. Seek expert for ideas to improve property.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A day full of activity and happiness for you if you get an early start and are full of vitality. Get out to social gatherings tonight and be the life of the party. Spruce everybody up, and choose the blues out the door.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Privately investigating those matters that are burning is wise right now, since you can come up with the right answers. Out tonight for amusement with loved one after a good deal of activity. Be happy.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Entertaining or attending social affairs are your best bet for gaining cherished aims now, and seeing good friends, making new ones. State personal aims specifically. Every chance to years to get there.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Be respectful with higher-ups instead of forceful and show get the backing you need with little effort. Check up on your credit especially for the holidays just coming up. Then you have little trouble.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Getting into some charming spot with good friends can bring forth some excellent plan for the future that is very worthwhile. That new friend can also give inspired ideas. Cultivate intelligently.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to March 20) Trust your intuition in dealing with one partner who is not easy to get to understand your ideas and plans. Be sure to pay bills, make collections. Evening is ideal for romantic feelings and much love.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow—he or she will be one of those very fascinating young people who has a strange sort of charm that will be very fetching to others, and the best society here would be in the service of the public, clothing design, selling, or entertaining. Early teach to work, since there could be a tendency here to live more or less on the bounty of others and a fine promise in this chart could be ruined.

 South revived an apparently hopeless small slam contract in hearts today without the benefit of a peek into his opponents' hands, by uncovering the only possible distribution of the cards that offered him a chance for success.

North had 20 high card points and when his partner kept the bidding open by responding with one heart, it behooved him to force the issue to a game in the only way possible—by making a jump shift to three clubs. Observe that a jump rebid in no trump was not available inasmuch as North lacked a stopper in spades.

South had a sound opening bid himself and after his temporizing rebid of three hearts elicited a raise, he proceeded to slam—first checking back for aces.

West opened the four of clubs and declarer played the king from dummy. With an inevitable diamond loser apparently in view, South concentrated his immediate efforts on the trump suit. The silence of the opposition had provided declarer with no clue regarding the distribution, and he chose to cash North's ace of hearts first. When East revealed the bad news by discarding a spade, South realized that he must find a parking place for the six of diamonds or else concede defeat, for West's queen of hearts represented a sure trick for the opposition.

The club suit offered declarer his only hope and he cashed dummy's ace on which East dropped the ten. The six of spades was led to South's king so that he could make the next club play from his hand. West followed with the seven and declarer promptly finessed dummy's nine.

When East showed out on the third round of clubs, South was in the home stretch. The queen of clubs was cashed on which the six of diamonds was discarded as West helplessly followed suit. A heart was led next and South put in the ten to permit his opponent to score the queen. The diamond return was ruffed in the closed hand and the remaining trumps were drawn with the king and jack, enabling declarer to claim the rest with good hearts and spades.

Altho South's club play may appear to be a lucky guess, his strategy was well conceived. Observe that, if the clubs are divided three-three, declarer might just as well abandon the contest, inasmuch as a discard on North's long club will be of no use if West ruffs the trick—since the latter will still retain the guarded queen of trumps.

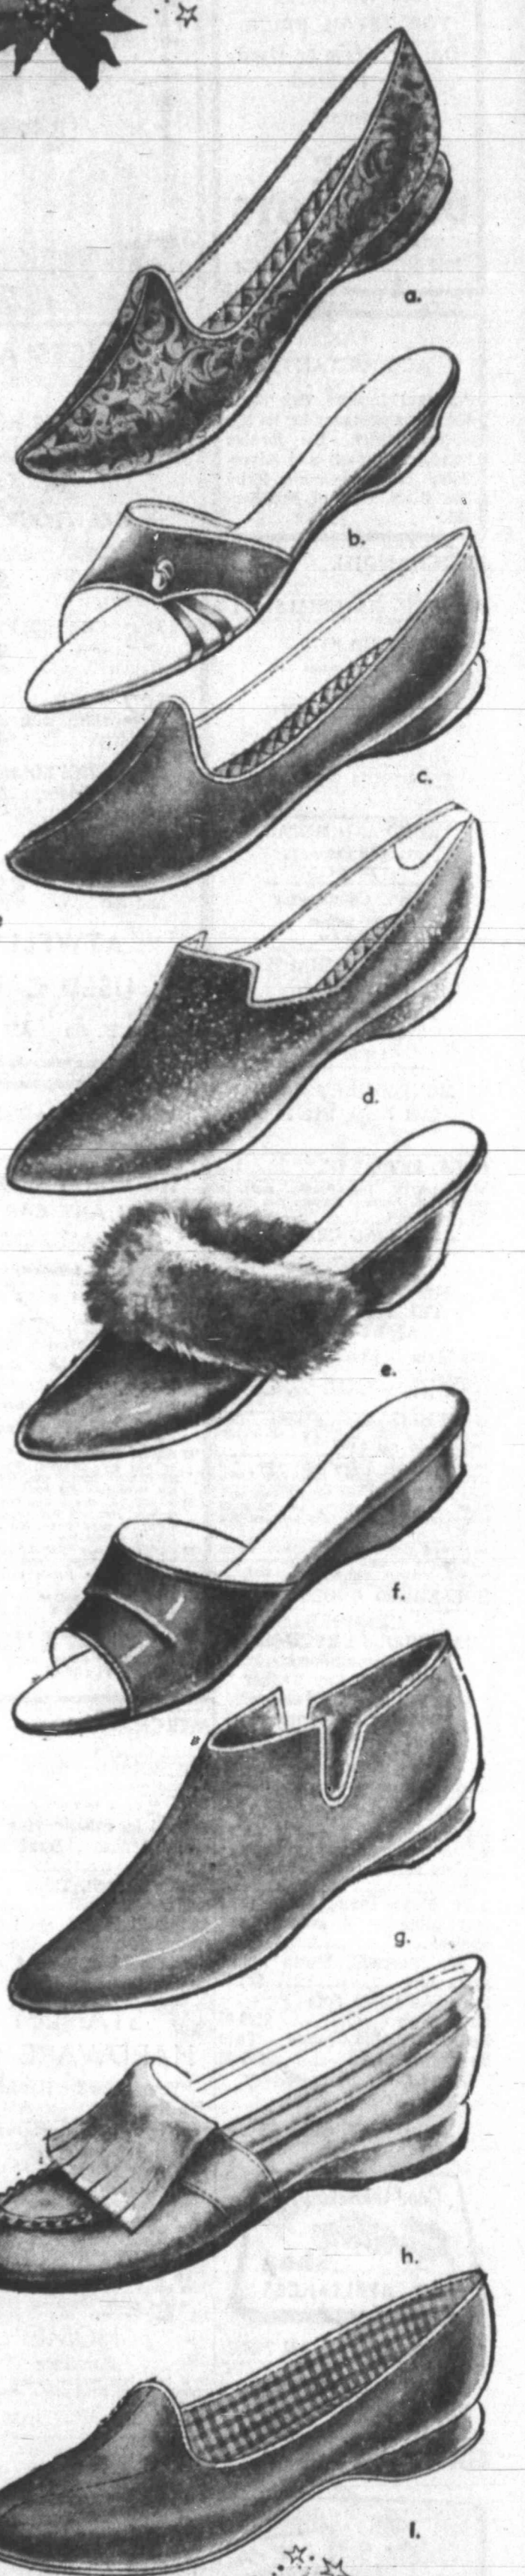

In other words, declarer's only chance for success was to find the hand with the long trumps also holding four clubs, so that the diamond discard could be achieved before the lead was surrendered.
