

Commission Gets Report On Ambulance Service

The fate of the city-county ambulance service—Alert Ambulance Service operated by Bruce Frazier through Bennett House—currently hinges on a wage and hour division decision concerning "dual employees."

John Burgess, city attorney, reported to the city commission Tuesday night on an impromptu meeting Tuesday morning with Frazier and a representative of the federal wage and hour division of the Labor Department, who agreed to seek a ruling favorable to Frazier's operation.

Frazier, according to Burgess, uses Bennett House employees in a dual role—as hospital attendants and as ambulance attendants when a call is received. These employees get regular pay, plus a $2 bonus for each ambulance call they make.

COST COULD SOAR

It may be, however, that all Bennett House employees connected with the ambulance service will come under minimum wage rulings. If this is ruled, it would push the cost of a single ambulance call to some $75, Frazier said at the meeting.

Frazier is seeking to get a ruling that would enable Bennett House employees to serve as ambulance service employees apart from their regular duties, thus keeping the costs of the service at the levels anticipated by Frazier when he started providing ambulance service here.

Another problem Frazier is facing concerns his liability insurance. His rates may be increased because of the hazard.

King Under House Arrest

MASERU, Lesotho (AP)—The prime minister of the world's second youngest nation put his king under house arrest at midnight Tuesday after months of feuding over their respective powers.

Prime Minister Leabua Jonathan ordered King Moshoeshoe II confined to his palace in Maseru following a day of disorder in which six persons were killed and more than 100 arrested. The dead included a police inspector.

Jonathan, Lesotho's premier chief, and Moshoeshoe have been disputing the division of political powers made when Lesotho, formerly Basutoland, gained its independence from Britain Oct. 4. The tiny African nation has an area of 11,716 square miles, a population of about 880,000 and is surrounded by South Africa.

Violence occurred Tuesday after Jonathan's government set up roadblocks to search people on their way to a gathering that the 28-year-old king was to address at Thaba Bosigo, 15 miles from Maseru.

Airbase Still Relies On Rails

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Lackland, very much in the aerial-space age, still relies heavily on the railroad.

It has its own private system. A seldom noticed, base-operated diesel engine quietly winds its way between long white warehouses and is heard only when it gives a warning blast on its booming airhorn as it approaches a crossing.

The engine and the five miles of track provide the base with a useful distribution system. The track connects to the Southern Pacific main line.

The line delivers canned foods, uniforms, hardware, medical supplies and occasionally even a disassembled aircraft. So useful is the engine that when an earlier one couldn't do the work, it was replaced recently with one with considerably more power.

5,575 Texas Teens Referred To Corps

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Employment Commission referred 5,575 Texas male youths to the Job Corps in fiscal 1966, the agency's annual report shows.

Of these, 85 per cent reported to a training center, the commission said.

Priest Reveals He Wed Divorcee

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Robert G. Wesselmann, former chancellor of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Belleville, announced Tuesday he was married to a divorcee last fall.

The priest, who was ordained in Belleville 13 years ago, said upon leaving Belleville to live in Kansas City, Mo., he was married to Frances H. Burton, 36, of Belleville in a civil ceremony.

Wesselmann, 38, resigned as chancellor of the diocese Oct. 23. The position is the third highest in the diocese. At the time he said he was resigning for reasons of health.

"I am convinced that I am no longer called to live and serve in the priesthood as it is currently structured," said Wesselmann. He said he would work for a private firm in Kansas City, evaluating poverty programs in the city.

Two Workers Presumed Dead In Hotel Flames

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP)—A pre-dawn fire destroyed part of the famed Marcy Hotel in this Adirondack resort today, and firemen said two employees were missing. The estimated 475 guests escaped safely, but the owner and four employees were injured.

Three other employees whom police had presumed dead finally were located in the village.

The injured, suffering mostly from smoke inhalation, were reported in fair condition at Placid Memorial Hospital. The owner, Jack Davis, 52, suffered a minor cut on the left leg.

Fire officials said the fire broke out in the kitchen and was ous duties Bennett House employees face as ambulance attendants. Again, this matter is trying to be solved on the "dual employee" basis.

CONTRACT AWARDED

In regular business during the meeting, Continental Oil Co. was awarded the contract to provide gasoline to the city. The firm was low bidder, agreeing to provide regular gasoline at 156 cents per gallon and Ethyl gasoline at 176 cents per gallon.

Commissioners accepted the improvements to North Ninth street, which cost a total of $39,375.88, of which the city's share was $7,863.40. Estimates before the work was done placed the total at $38,752.95 and the city's share at $7,038.65.

Third and final reading was given the new plumbing code; second reading was given the zone change for a Coronado Hills tract, changing from Zone NS to Zone MF.

First reading on the ordinance changing the tract at Twenty-Fifth and Birdwell Lane from Zone 1F-1 to Zone MF was passed by a 3-2 vote. This tract is owned by Al Milch, who several times sought a change.

John Stanley, Chester Cathey, and Arnold Marshall favored the proposal; Walter Stroup and Jimmy Morehead opposed it.

Today's hand illustrates an aspect of the Blackwood convention with which everyone may not be familiar. It provides that when a cue bid has been made on a preliminary round to show an ace or a void and the Blackwood four no trump is subsequently called, the responder should not—in making his reply—count an ace held in the suit which his partner has cue bid.

When South bid four hearts to announce first round control of the opponent's suit, he was making a slam try, and it should have been clear to North that his ace of hearts was a duplication of values inasmuch as South was obviously void in that suit. Consequently, when the latter persisted to invoke Blackwood after North returned to four spades, it would have been expedient for the latter to bid five clubs even if he weren't familiar with rule cited above, in an attempt to cool his partner's passions which were obviously near the boiling point. When North admitted to having an ace, South could hardly be blamed for bidding the slam.

West opened the king of hearts. With the appearance of the dummy, declarer found himself confronted with two almost certain losers—a diamond and a club. South saw a slight glimmer of hope provided certain cards were well placed, and he proceeded on his optimistic assumption.

Declarer was in no hurry to take a discard, and he ruffed the opening lead with the ten of spades. The ace of that suit cleared up the trump situation and the ten of diamonds was led next. West was afraid of losing his ace if he ducked, so he put up that card and returned the queen of hearts. The ace was played and South discarded a club. He returned to his hand with the king of diamonds, led a small spade to the dummy's nine and cashed the queen of diamonds. When the jack fell, North's nine became established for yet another discard, and South disposed of his remaining club loser.

It would have done West no good to duck the ten of diamonds. Dummy's queen will win the trick, enabling declarer to discard the king of diamonds on the ace of hearts and thus eliminate his diamond loser. He now gives up one club and ruffs out the other two.

DEAR ABBY They Try To Please

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to sound ungrateful, but why do grandparents always buy clothing for their grandchildren two and three sizes too big for them? Often these items are needed for use immediately, but they may hang in a closet or be put away in a drawer until the child "grows into them." Many a lovely gift has been stored away and forgotten, and by the time the child can wear it, it's out of style. Mention this in your column, Abby. But please don't use my name. MRS. X. DEAR MRS. X: The reason grandparents buy clothing for children to "grow into" is obvious. It's a holdover from leaner years. However, gift-giving grandparents want only to please. So a word to the wise should bring the right size. DEAR ABBY: While walking down the street yesterday, I saw a mailman emptying one of those sidewalk mailboxes. A woman was standing there screaming that she had just mailed a letter in that box and she wanted it back. The mailman said he was sorry but it was against the rules and he couldn't give it to her. She yelled even louder that she could prove it was HER letter and she wanted it back. Then he tried to tell her what she would have to do to get it, but she refused to listen — she stormed off in a huff. Now I would like to know how a person can get his own letter back after mailing it if the mailman won't give it to him. INNOCENT BYSTANDER DEAR INNOCENT: Make a duplicate of the envelope of the letter you want back. If it was going out-of-town, go to the main postoffice. If it was a local letter, go to the postoffice in the zone in which you mailed the letter and ask the postmaster for the appropriate form to fill out to retrieve your letter. If your letter hasn't left the postoffice, and you can identify yourself adequately, they'll give you your letter. If the letter has left town, they will telephone or wire the out-of-town postoffice (at your expense) and if it hasn't been delivered, they'll send the letter back to you. But when it comes, you will have to go to the postoffice and pick it up personally. This may sound like a lot of red tape, but it's not too much trouble for one who has mailed a letter in haste and wants it back. DEAR ABBY: I telephoned an unmarried man-about-town and invited him to my home for a dinner party last Friday. He said he would be delighted to come, and before I had a chance to say another word, he said, "Do you mind if I bring Lulu?" (She is one of his many lady friends.) Well, I couldn't very well have told him not to bring her. It spoiled my plan because the whole idea was to have him meet an unmarried girl friend of mine. My husband said I should have set him straight then and there. Would that have been proper? How should this have been handled? SLOW THINKER DEAR SLOW: You should have invited him this way: "If you are free for dinner on Friday, I would like you to be the dinner partner of a friend of mine." That way you wouldn't have to say — "but don't bring Lulu."

Rains Helping Small Grains

AUSTIN (AP)—Rains helped the growth of small grains in Texas' eastern section last week, but the season's coldest air mass damaged some grains in northern parts, reports the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The state's cotton harvest was rushed to 99 per cent completion—compared to only 83 per cent a year ago—but lack of moisture slowed seeding of next year's flax crop, the department said. Commenting in its weekly crop-weather report, the department said "most High Plains cotton was below average in quality as well as quantity due primarily to an early freeze." Some oats were nipped by the freeze in North Texas. Only 40 per cent of the flax crop was seeded by Dec. 23, compared to last year when the seeding was virtually completed. Cabbage, lettuce, carrots and onions made good growth in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, which moved out a moderate volume of citrus and fair volumes of lettuce, cabbage and carrots. The pecan harvest was nearly completed over the state. Cattle were moved off dry land wheat as grazing was depleted, and supplemental feeding of hay and protein were increased because of the cold weather.

TEXANS AT WAR 'Shooting Scared Me'

By The Associated Press Jay Bisbey's philosophy helped him endure the rigors of Vietnam combat, but he admits the shooting "scared hell out of me." Capt. Bisbey, 28, a Texan at war from Houston, flew a twin engine Mohawk with the 23rd Special Warfare Aviation Detachment on reconnaissance missions for the intelligence section. "GOING BACK" In the air, amid anti-aircraft gunfire, says Bisbey, "you can't think about getting hurt. You have to operate on the assumption that you're the one going back." "You can't let it bother you or you end up in the nut-house," said Bisbey, who returned from a year's duty in Vietnam with a Purple Heart and the Distinguished Flying Cross. Once he ejected from his plane when it was disabled by ground fire, just one week after his roommate died in a similar situation. "SAME MACHINE?" "His ejection was unsuccessful," recalls Bisbey. "Of course you feel these things. You can't dwell on it, on the fact that you're out there getting shot at each day." Bisbey talks of another tour in Southeast Asia. "There's a possibility I'll be going back over to fly that same machine in March or April," he said. Bisbey is a Texas A&M graduate and now trains flight division instructors at the helicopter training center at Ft. Wolters at Mineral Wells. He and his wife and their two children live in Mineral Wells. Philosophy Capt. Jay Bisbey, 28, of Houston, says his philosophy helped him endure the rigors of Vietnam combat. Bisbey, Texas A&M University graduate, says that while in the air, amid anti-aircraft fire, "you have to operate on the assumption that you're the one going back." Bisbey flew reconnaissance missions for the intelligence section. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Paper Towels Signal 'Mo'

GATESVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Charles Powell probably is the state's biggest household user of paper towels. She uses them to talk to her son, I. Elmo Powell, as he zips across Coryell County in a jet plane. On one of his trips over his home town from his base in Laredo, he spotted a big sign on the ground reading, "Hi Mo." It was made with paper towels. His next trip across the county brought out a sign reading, "We Love Mo."

Blonde Girl Meets Three Little Pigs ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—A blonde girl with sparkling eyes romped in the land of make-believe and personality met the Three Little Pigs. Susan Dewey, 6, a leukemia victim from Grand Rapids, Mich., was given VIP treatment Tuesday at Disneyland. She was met at the gate by the Three Little Pigs and a human-sized cartoon character named Goofy, who—in the fantasy land of children—is a talking dog. She viewed most of the sprawling land of fantasy from a wheelchair. Susan doesn't have much strength. Doctors say she may die from the blood disease within a year. "There were doubts she would be here to celebrate Christmas," said her father, George Dewey, a used car salesman. Susan arrived Monday night with her parents and sister, Kathie, 4, after spending Christmas at home. The trip was financed by a Los Angeles businessman, who asked to remain anonymous. "She had a wonderful time," said Mrs. Dewey.

Cotton Maid Will Be Bit Brainy, Tall

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The 1967 Maid of Cotton—to be picked tonight—will be a bit on the brainy side, tall, slim and perfectly at ease among the social set.

All 20 finalists in the annual competition meet those requirements in what is regarded as the world's most sedate beauty contest. The winner will be the cotton industry's goodwill ambassador for the coming year.

"She must be pretty, of course, so very pretty she stands out in a crowd," says Mrs. William L. LaFollette III of Phoenix, one of the judges.

"But beauty is the least important thing," says Mrs. LaFollette, a former Maid of Cotton herself.

Most maid contestants are college students or graduates, accounting for the brainy quality. They're tall and trim because the maid is called on to do a lot of modeling.

But it's social poise that probably counts most. For two days the girls run through every form of public exposure from press conferences to teas and balls, and the judges watch their every move.

Only the judges see the girls in swim suits, and that's just to be sure the winner will make a pretty model for cotton fashions.

The contest finals tonight will be before an invitation-only audience at city auditorium. All the girls are from cotton-producing states and come from families associated with the industry.

The winner will tour the world promoting cotton. She receives an all cotton wardrobe and a new automobile.

Chile Quake Registered

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey reported a large earthquake early today in northern Chile and a spokesman said the survey's observatory at Honolulu had issued a seismic seavave warning.

The survey said the quake registered 7.5 on the Richter scale and occurred at 3:30 a.m. EST. Its exact location was not determined immediately.

There is no top on that scale, which goes by logarithmic progression, but the 1906 San Francisco quake registered at 8.25.

Secretaries Recite Roster

AUSTIN (AP)—State Senate secretaries, who must call the roll of senators from memory every time there is a record vote in the upper house, have long memories.

Garland Smith, who last served as Senate secretary during the 1947 legislature, visited the Capitol recently. Upon an informal dare, Smith recited without a bobble the alphabetical roster of Senate members almost 20 years ago.

Charles Schnabel, present Senate secretary, already has his 1967 roster memorized to include the 10 new senators. "I don't have any trouble adding the new members to the list," Schnabel said, "but sometimes I forget to drop one of the old members who is no longer here."

Road Deaths Not Recorded In Five States

By The Associated Press
Death bypassed the highways in five states during the Christmas holiday weekend, and traffic safety officials credited the achievement to intense driver education, increased police patrols, bad weather and the spirit of Christmas.

Fatalities dropped substantially in several other states, some of them with large populations.

There were no traffic deaths reported in Idaho, Alaska, Nebraska, Delaware or Rhode Island.

Latest figures show that 584 persons lost their lives in the three-day Christmas weekend. Last year 720 persons were killed during Christmas observance. The 1966 Thanksgiving four-day holiday set an all-time record for any holiday period when 748 persons died.

A. E. Perkins, head of the Idaho State Police, gave credit to a pre-Christmas campaign which urged parents to have their children take more time reaching home for the holidays and asked partygoers to do their drinking after their driving.

"We had some inclement weather and that slowed people down," he said. "And I think the spirit of Christmas prevailed a little. People are getting to be a little better drivers, a little more courteous."

Several populous states recorded sharply reduced death tolls for the weekend.

Last year 50 persons were killed in Ohio. This year's toll was 34. Twenty-four persons died in New York State compared to 35 in 1965.

The toll increased in two states. Sixty-one persons died in California this Christmas weekend compared to 54 last year. In Texas 48 persons died in 1965 Christmas accidents and 52 were killed this year.

Although the 1966 yule death toll was far under last year's total, it was well above the 391 deaths counted in an Associated Press survey for a nonholiday weekend, Dec. 9-12. The National Safety Council had estimated 650 to 750 persons would be killed.

Speakers Rip Farm Agency

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Speakers at a meeting of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association here Tuesday castigated policies of the Department of Agriculture.

S. J. Vaughan III of Hillsboro, president of the group, told the meeting that "everything is working against the cotton farmer."

Vaughan said he believed there was a conspiracy afoot against the cotton farmer. Other speakers said Agriculture Department policies cost the average Texas cotton farmer an average of $10 per bale this year.

Charles Stenhold, secretary of the Rolling Plains Cotton Association, said the government had built up a huge cotton surplus with its export policy. Now, he charged, it is using the surplus "to beat us over the head."

Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco told the meeting, however, that the only way the government could export cotton was to pay somebody a subsidy. Poage said he had rather see the farmer get the subsidy.

Rep. J. J. Pickle of Austin, like Poage a Democrat, suggested that the cotton interests in Texas agree on a man and named to the Agriculture Department.

BUILT-IN LEVIES

Taxes Will Jump On New Year's Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — Your taxes will increase on New Year's Day regardless of the decision President Johnson ultimately reaches on the Vietnam War.

It's a built-in rise in Social Security levies which Treasury Department officials estimate will draw $1 billion more into the Social Security trust funds during 1967.

The most anyone will have to pay, however, is $13.20 additional over the year.

The extra money will help pay for the increased retirement, disability, health care for the elderly and other benefits voted by Congress.

The increase will amount to two-tenths of one per cent on both the employer and the employee, less than half the actual increase in rates which went into effect last New Year's Day.

MED DEDUCTION

Increases in Social Security taxes are already built into the law through 1967.

These step ups could go even higher because President Johnson will seek increased Social Security benefits from Congress next year. Increased benefits could mean increased taxes although the President has not yet indicated whether he would ask that the increase be financed from Social Security taxes or from general funds. Republican leaders also favor an increase in benefit payments.

The increase in Social Security taxes is only one of seven changes in the tax law which go into effect New Year's Day.

Two of them, approved by Congress in 1965, change for some taxpayers the method for computing medical deductions. The others, adopted this year, don't change the amount of taxes to be paid but spell out in greater detail how and when they should be paid.

AGED ASSISTED

This will mean the maximum payment will increase from this year's $277.20 to $290.40 for each worker earning $6,600 and his employer.

The maximum payment in 1965 was $174.

Of the $290.40 maximum to be paid next year, $33 will go into the special trust fund to pay for the health-care program for the aged which went into effect last July 1.

This is based on a medicare tax rate of one half of one per cent and a basic Social Security rate of 3.9 per cent.

The maximum Social Security tax paid by both worker and employer will rise under existing law to $323.40 in 1969-72, to $336.40 in 1973-75; to $339.70 in 1976-79; to $366.30 in 1980-86, and to $372.90 in 1987 and thereafter.

In addition to the withholding allowance, these other tax changes were voted by Congress this year to take effect New Year's Day:

POCKETBOOKS

But the tax law change that will affect the most pocketbooks is the increase in Social Security taxes.

During 1967, the base on which this tax will be paid remains the same—the first $6,000 in earnings. A change in the base last year from $4,800 to $6,600 was responsible for much of the extra tax paid during 1966.

Next year's tax rate will be 3.9 per cent for both employer and employee instead of 4.2 per cent this year.

DRIFTER CHARGED WITH RAPE JAILED

HOUSTON (AP)—A 28-year-old drifter, charged with raping a 16-year-old girl, slashing her throat and leaving her for dead has been arrested in California, the Harris County Sheriff's Department said today.

Officers said James Oscar Sayres was arrested Tuesday night in San Diego on federal charges of driving a stolen car from New Orleans to the California city.

A two-state alert had been out for Sayres.

IMPORTANT CHANGE

In one important change taxpayers who claim a substantial amount of deductions and who normally receive a large refund will be permitted to take a "withholding allowance" and thus reduce the amount of tax withheld from their paychecks each payday.

This is simply a device to bring a person's withholding more in line with the actual tax he must pay.

Forms and instructions for claiming the $700 allowance—similar to the $600 exemption permitted for dependents—have already been sent to employers by the Internal Revenue Service.

This doesn't mean that a person can reduce his actual tax by $700. It simply means that tax will be withheld from his paycheck on $700 less income a year.

'Gomer Pyle' Is Genuine Hit On TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Movie - TV Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — In the television world there are two categories of successful shows. There is the genuine hit, like the kind the public samples, likes and will follow to a new time period and a new night in the schedule.

"Gomer Pyle" is an example. Last season it had high Nielsen ratings on a Friday evening. This season it is doing even better on Wednesday nights.

There are also the shows, counted as successful, that beat their competition on the other networks. Some pretty dreadful shows are hits merely because the opposition was even worse.

REAL COMPETITION

"Gilligan's Island" was a hit last season when it was on a Thursday night opposite "Gidget." This season it was moved to Monday nights, found real competition in "The Monkees" and "The Iron Horse," and dropped like a stone in the ratings.

Programs with weak competition are in what the trade calls "a soft spot." The happiest position for a fledgling show used to be opposite CBS' Tuesday night news hour, which while excellent, almost always has small audiences.

TWO OPTIONS

—Corporations begin paying taxes on a current basis in 1967 instead of in 1970 as directed under a 1964 law.

These two tax changes approved by Congress in 1965 also go into effect Jan. 1:

—Persons 65 and over will be able to deduct only those medical expenses which exceed three per cent of their gross income. They can now deduct all medical expenses although other taxpayers are subject to the three per cent floor.

—A person may deduct half of his health insurance premiums as medical expenses even if they don't exceed three per cent of his income. The maximum deduction permitted would be $150.

These two options can be taken only if the taxpayer itemizes his deductions.

Social Security taxes for the self employed also rise on Jan. 1—from 6.15 per cent to 6.4 per cent or a maximum of $16.50 on the first $6,600 in earnings.

This raises the maximum for a self employed person from $405.90 this year to $422.40 next year.

CROSS-EYED LION

Sometimes the success of a program is pegged on other circumstances that have little to do with dramatic or entertainment qualities.

"Daktari" on Tuesday nights, is one of these. As drama, the show is about as realistic and meaningful as "Batman."

But "Daktari" abounds in shots of delightful animals—a sweet, patient cross-eyed lion, a funny little chimp and many other nonhuman but lovable guest stars. Probably few viewers pay much attention to the silly stories.

The result is that the animal show is in Nielsen's top 20 shows. The other two are in the lower half of the list.

News Cheers Manchester

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (AP)—Recuperating from pneumonia, author William Manchester was reported cheered by the news that Mrs. John F. Kennedy is no longer pressing for an injunction to prevent publication of his book about the assassination of her husband.

"That's great!" said Manchester's wife, Julia, when told Tuesday night. "That's marvelous!"

Manchester was not available for comment, but was "feeling like himself again" according to a spokesman at Middlesex Memorial Hospital.

The 44-year-old author of "The Death of a President" got out of bed Tuesday for the first time since he was hospitalized early Monday with a high fever.

Thief Gets Hot Shock

BEAUMONT (AP) — A burglar attempting to steal a late model used car from a repair shop here got a hot surprise.

He had no way of knowing that the fuel line had been disconnected for repairs and hadn't been reconnected. When the would-be thief turned the ignition and stepped on the gas, the auto burst into flames, causing the startled burglar to flee.

Mark 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Augustine marked their 50th wedding anniversary Tuesday and observed the occasion with a family dinner in their home Christmas Day. The couple was married Dec. 27, 1916, in the Methodist Church at Sterling City and are the parents of Mrs. William Foster and J. S. Augustine, both of Sterling City. They have five grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Mrs. Augustine, the former Miss Dessa Murtishaw of Robert Lee, is active in Methodist church work and her husband is engaged in ranching in Sterling County. Mrs. Foster honored the couple with a party for close friends in her home Tuesday evening.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

There was a flurry in the shops and stores the day-after-the Monday holiday and most of it was caused by people who had made the wrong guess on sizes and colors they had selected for Christmas gifts. And then there were those among us that got two of the same thing . . . after doing without even one of them for years. Anyway, the merchants are very understanding, and most of them expect to do a lot of exchanging. The Christmas rush got some of the salespeople a little fractious but now that the bird is over, perhaps the good dispositions will return. The last days before the Big Day can be rather hectic.

MR. and MRS. L. K. GLADDEN have returned from a flying trip to Jennings, La., where they spent Christmas with her relatives. They returned here Monday evening.

The LUTHER McDANIEL family from Atlanta, Ga., are here for the holidays with their parents, MR. and MRS. HANK McDANIEL, and MR. and MRS. OLLIE ANDERSON.

MR. and MRS. MARION WAGGONER spent Christmas in Abilene with relatives. The GLENN COOTES family flew to Borger for the holiday with MRS. COOTES' mother and other relatives. MRS. TOMMY JORDAN is visiting her daughter and son-in-law in Lubbock.

MR. and MRS. ALTON UNDERWOOD spent their holidays in Dallas with their daughter and her family.

LT. and MRS. FRED LINSFORD are here for a visit with her parents, MR. and MRS. W. R. CROWNOVER. They have been living in South Dakota but he will soon leave on an assignment in the Pacific. Mrs. Linsford, the former Kay Crownover, plans to enter Texas Tech for work on a masters degree in English.

LT. (j.g.) and MRS. TOM CROFTS are expected to arrive here Thursday from Temple where they have been with her mother, MRS. ELLEN CROSLAND, who is in Scott and White Hospital. The Crofts have been stationed in Newport, R. I.

MRS. JANIE NOOTBAAR of El Paso was the holiday guest of her parents, MR. and MRS. GARNER McADAMS.

MRS. FAYE NEWMAN will accompany her daughter, MARGIE, as far as Dallas Friday when Margie, a freshman art major at North Texas State University, returns to school. They will visit Mrs. Newman's brother, O. H. ANDERSON, in Dallas and will take in the Cotton Bowl parade and football game.

MR. and MRS. T. A. ROGERS, who live on the Highland Lakes above Austin, have been here for Christmas with their daughter and her husband, MR. and MRS. JOHNNY STEWART. Another daughter, MRS. NELL FLYNT, came over from Carlsbad, N. M., to spend the holidays.

The LUTHER KELLEY family had a happy house full of company for Christmas. Her brothers, HENRY and GEORGE DENISON and families of Dallas, her sister and husband and family, MR. and MRS. ELDON REYNOLDS, Spur; and her mother, MRS. DELLA TANKERSLEY of Rule, were guests of the Kelleys. In addition, their son, Warren, was home from Texas Tech for the holidays.

It's turn about for the JIM STEPHENS family and her parents, MR. and MRS. H. E. O'NEAL. The Stephenses went to Grandbury to spend Christmas with her parents. Friday, Mr. and Mrs. O'Neal will be here when he is to assist in the work in the master's degree for Stephens at Masonic Lodge 1340.

MR. and MRS. JAMES EDWARDS have had as their Christmas guests their son and family, MR. and MRS. BENNY EDWARDS and baby of Corpus Christi. Benny is with IBM in Corpus.

NCO Wives Have Party

Gifts were exchanged during the Tuesday evening meeting of the NCO Wives Club. The 18 attending met at the NCO Open Mess with Mrs. Frank Mayberry presiding.

Wedding Solemnized In Mason Ceremony

Miss Dorothy Ann Vater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew A. Vater of Mason, was married Thursday to Milton Thomas Asbill in the Methodist Church at Art. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Asbill of Sterling City.

The Rev. Jim Boswell, pastor of the Fairmont Methodist Church in Abilene officiated for the double ring ceremony.

The altar was enhanced with candelabra and greenery, and the pianist, Miss Marilyn Letfeste, accompanied David Vater, the bride's brother, as he sang, "One Hand, One Heart" and "O, Perfect Love."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of chrysaline peau de soie with a lace jacket featuring three-quarter-length sleeves. Her fingertip-length tulle veil fell from a ring hat of peau de soie, and she carried a single orchid in a cascade arrangement of white carnations and lily of the valley.

Miss Gloria Jordan was the maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Jane Hamilton and Mrs. Park E. Johnson II. They wore red peau de soie gowns fashioned similar to the bride's and each carried a single red carnation tied with white streamers.

The bridegroom's brother, Vernon Asbill of Sterling City, was best man. Another brother, Thelbert Asbill of Morton, and a brother-in-law, Tommy Roge of Big Spring, were groomsmen. The head usher was Leroy Churchill.

At the reception, Miss Freda Thormann presided at the register, and members of the house party were Miss Kate Null, Mrs. Leon Mayo, Mrs. Fritz Hahn, Mrs. Vernon Jordan and Mrs. Walter Schmidt.

White taffeta and net covered the refreshment table, and the centerpiece was of white gladioli and chrysanthemums. Satin bells topped the three-tiered wedding cake.

Assisting with the serving were Miss Colene Hamilton, Mrs. Tommy Roger and Mrs. Thelbert Asbill.

The couple took a short wedding trip and are now at home at 1957 Estes in Abilene. For traveling, the bride chose a light blue knit suit with brown accessories.

Mrs. Asbill graduated from Mason High School and her husband is a graduate of Sterling City High School. Both are seniors at McMurry College in Abilene where he is employed at the Abilene State School.

Painting Ceiling? Here's Advice From Expert

When painting the ceilings of your new house, make a practice of moving the stepladder more and reaching less. This makes the job safer for you and diminishes the chances of slipping paint on the floor. Other tips for a safe and efficient ceiling painting project: Wear a hat and glasses to keep the paint out of hair and eyes. With oil based paint, paint across the width, in strips about two feet wide. This will let you get back to the starting point while the previous strip is still wet, thus avoiding a lap mark. Remove paint can or roller tray from ladder before moving it.

Pistol Falls From Holster, Youth Dies

COLORADO CITY (SC) — James Irvin Baer, 18, Austin, and a former Colorado City resident, was killed Tuesday about 8:30 a.m. while hunting crows on Lone Wolf Mountain, four miles north of Loraine.

Baer's hunting companion, his step-brother, Chad Bowman, 23, of Austin, said that Baer had squatted while attempting to build a fire and that as he arose, a single action .22 magnum pistol fell from Baer's holster and discharged when it hit the ground. The bullet struck Baer in the lower part of the back and ranged upward to the collar bone.

Baer was taken to the Johnson Hospital in Loraine, but he was dead on arrival.

The death was investigated by Mitchell County Sheriff Lewis Claxton, Highway Patrolman Buddy Hertenberger and Justice of the Peace Homer Hart. Loraine. Hart had not rendered a verdict late Tuesday. Sheriff Claxton said that in his opinion, the death was accidental. He said the pistol was not on safety and the hammer appeared to have struck against a rock or hard earth.

Baer's mother had taught school at Colorado City in 1964-65 as Mrs. Lucille Baer. She recently had married Dr. Henry A. Bowman, professor of sociology at the University of Texas.

James Baer was born Aug. 7, 1948 in San Antonio, and had lived in Columbus and Colorado City, and since 1965, in Austin. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Funeral services were to be held Wednesday at 3 p.m. at the First Methodist Church in Colorado City. The Rev. Billy Wilkinson, pastor, was to officiate. Burial was to be in the Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of the Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Bowman, Austin; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs.

Jim Bodine, of Colorado City; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. C. A. Baer, San Antonio; and his step brother, Chad Bowman, Austin.

Pilot Rescues Family Of Six

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A Coast Guard helicopter, searching for a missing plane, brought back the unexpected: a family of six who had been marooned four days on an island after a storm wrecked their boat.

The helicopter ferried Harold Carty of Chowchilla, Calif., his wife and their four children, to a resort on the coast of Baja California Tuesday.

Coast Guardsmen reported the family had been spotted by an Air Force search plane. The island is about 75 miles south of the village of San Felipe in Baja California.

Planes were combing the area for a missing twin-engine plane carrying San Francisco importer Richard Y. Dakin, seven members of his family and a crew of two.

The plane, which disappeared on a flight to La Paz, Mexico, has been missing nearly a week.

Kosygin Plans Britain Visit

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin will visit Britain Feb. 6-13, Prime Minister Harold Wilson announced today.

The announcement of the Soviet leader's coming was seen as an indication of some improvement in British-Soviet relations despite the continuing Vietnamese conflict.

Kosygin's visit will be the first to London by a Soviet premier since Nikolai A. Bulganin and Nikita S. Khrushchev, then boss of the Soviet Communist party, came in April 1956. Since then Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Wilson have both been to the Soviet capital.

TOP OFFICIALS DECLARE: No Point In Changing U. S. Bombing Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top-level U. S. sources say there is no point in changing U.S. bombing policies in North Vietnam despite controversy surrounding a Pentagon admission that some civilians have been hit.

The officials said it is necessary to bomb military targets in order to raise the price to North Vietnam of aggression against South Vietnam and to save lives of Americans and others fighting the Communists.

The Pentagon acknowledged Monday night that attacks on military targets have inflicted civilian casualties but said "it is impossible to avoid all damage" to residential areas dotted with military targets.

On the way to the site of the HOUSES BLASTED wreckage, Salisbury said, the caravan crossed the Paul Doumer Bridge the populous approaches of which he reported earlier were hit by U.S. planes on Dec. 14.

"It appeared from this trip conditions and traffic movements across the bridge that bombing on Dec. 14 was directed at its approaches and fell short in each case, striking residential quarters," he said. "The bombs dropped in the Hoan Kiem and Yen Vien quarters." An American communique on the Dec. 14 raids had said the target was the Yen Vien rail yards.

'DESOLATION'
The Pentagon response was to a story by Harrison E. Salisbury, an assistant managing editor of the New York Times who reported from North Vietnam that he saw "block after block of utter desolation" on one town and learned of 89 civilian deaths in another.

The implicit declaration by the U.S. officials that there is no review of bombing policy pending appeared certain to be challenged soon after Congress convenes Jan. 10.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and critic of U.S. policy in the war, plans hearings on the subject. Fulbright aides said Tuesday they have no doubt he will call on Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk for detailed reports on the bombings.

IKE BACKS PENTAGON
Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, however, supported the Pentagon contention that any civilian casualties were unintentional.

"Is there anyplace in the world where there are no civilians?" Eisenhower asked newsmen as he left a hospital. "I know U.S. operations are aimed exclusively at military targets but unfortunately there are some civilians around these targets."

Salisbury in a dispatch published in the Times today said he had inspected an unmanned U.S. reconnaissance plane that was shot down over Hanoi Christmas Day and crashed about 12 miles northeast of the city.

'FIREBEE'
Salisbury said North Vietnamese officials escorted members of the foreign press corps to view the drone's wreckage Tuesday. He said it was "a Ryan model with a wingspread of about 18 feet that the Americans call the Firebee."

Salisbury said the robot plane was reported at an altitude of about one mile when it was shot down near the main rail line linking Hanoi to Red China. The plane presumably had been gathering information on rail
