Pilot Ejects

Residents and neighbors at Laguna Hills Leisure World near Santa Ana, Calif., go to the aid of a Marine Reserve pilot who ejected after his plane and another military jet collided Sunday. Lines lead to his chute, snagged on a rooftop at the retirement village. Several buildings caught fire and burned. Both pilots ejected. One is dead and the other in critical condition. (AP WIREPHOTO)

'No One Had Chance'

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — "Oh, My God! I hope I got it past the building!"
These were Marine Capt. James Powell's last words, minutes after his Skyhawk jet attack plane collided with another in a rainstorm Sunday.
Both disabled planes crashed into a Southern California retirement community, setting two dwellings on fire. Powell and four residents died.
Four other persons were injured, three residents of the Leisure World community and the pilot of the second A4b Skyhawk.

ment-like dwellings sold to retired people, was built over objections of the Department of Defense. A compromise reached in 1962 permitted the Ross Corlees Development Co. to go ahead by agreeing to reserve a half-mile strip touching the air station for nonresidential use.
SUFFERS SHOCK
Both of the buildings destroyed by the planes' wreckage were adjacent to the half-mile strip.
As more than 100 firemen battered smoke and flame, the bodies of Leon Lauderbach, 77, a paraplegic, Harold Bernman and his wife, Margaret, and H. H. Kenyon, 87, were recovered.

Powell, of New Milford, N.J., was fatally injured when wind caught his parachute and smashed him against a stucco wall.
The other pilot, Capt. Frank Gambelli, 29, of Livingston, N.J., also ejected. He was found near his wrecked plane, suffering from shock, and was taken to El Toro's base hospital.

MASS OF FLAMES

Many residents of the community 14 miles southeast of Santa Ana and 45 miles southeast of Los Angeles were away at church services when the planes crashed.
"No one had a chance," said Dr. Adrian Irvine, a retired physician. "I looked out a window and saw a mass of flames engulf the building."
Laura Stevens, like Irvine a Leisure World resident, was reading a newspaper when she heard what sounded like thunder.

INSTRUCTIONS IGNORED

Johnson Warned Baker About 'Moonlighting?'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bob Baker testified today that the then Democratic leader of the Senate, Lyndon B. Johnson, "reprimanded and cautioned me" in 1960 about "moonlighting" — or outside activities.
That was the reason, Baker said, that he arranged to have eight $1,000 checks, which came

Loyalty Law Tossed Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court threw out today a New York law which makes Communist party membership grounds for dismissal of state university and college teachers.
The high court also declared unconstitutional a 1917 New York law which made "the utterance of any treasonable or seditious word or words or the doing of any treasonable or seditious act" ground for dismissal from the public school system.

Kidnap Suspect Surrenders Tot

FORT WORTH (AP) — Archie Pringle, 23, accused of kidnaping his 8-year-old nephew nearly a year ago, surrendered today, the district attorney's office said.
The nephew, Joel Landingham, apparently unharmed, was returned to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Landingham.
Pringle, indicted last June for kidnaping his nephew, told his lawyer, Jake Cook, that he and the boy had been living in Dallas since April.
A nationwide search had been conducted for the two.
Last March Pringle took his nephew without permission to Arizona, where they were stopped by police.

State Workers Pay Hike Bill Action Begins

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas senators put aside scheduled business today to take up a $5 million appropriation for low paid state employees, many of whom get less than the so-called poverty level.
"This is a sad situation that I think we should do something about right now," Sen. Charles Herring of Austin told the Senate in introducing his emergency appropriation bill.
At Herring's request the lieutenant governor recessed the regular Senate session so the Senate Finance Committee could act at once on the measure.

DIRE NEED
"Several thousands of our state employees are below the salary level that the federal agencies call the poverty level ($3,000 a year)," Herring said. "This is a dire need that needs to be met now . . . It also would help us fill thousands of vacancies in our state agencies because our pay level is no where near the salaries paid by private business and the federal government."
FAST OKAY
The Senate action on emergency appropriations came after the House Appropriations Committee approved earlier today $6.39 million in emergency appropriations asked by Gov. John Connally, including $5.5 million for Texas' exhibit at San Antonio's 1968 HemisFair. The House bill still must be approved by the House Rules Committee.
Rep. W. S. Heatly of Paducah, Appropriations chairman and sponsor of the two bills providing the emergency money, said Wednesday probably will be the earliest day for debate on the measures.
Speaker Ben Barnes said he expects the bills to come up Tuesday.

NO TROUBLE

Despite weekend reports that the HemisFair bill might run into opposition, there were no indications of trouble at the committee hearing.
The only question came from Rep. George Hinson of Mineola, who said he supports the HemisFair but wanted to know how much money San Antonio and Bexar County were putting into the HemisFair.

Police Chief At C-City Dies

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Funeral services were to be at 4 p.m. Monday for Harry Leon Yeager, Colorado City chief of police who died late Saturday night in the Root Memorial Hospital after an illness of several weeks.
Yeager, 48, came to Colorado City to join the police department in 1951, and had been police chief for 13 years. He recently was presented an award by the Chamber of Commerce for special service and devotion to duty.
Rites were to be at the First Presbyterian Church, with the Rev. Fred Bruton, pastor, and the Rev. Darris Egger, Sweetwater, officiating. The body lay in state at Kiker and Son Chapel until time for the service. All lay officers in the city and county were honorary pallbearers.
Mr. Yeager was born March 29, 1918 in Collin County and was married to Virginia Bertram in 1946 in Merkel. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and a World War II veteran.
He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Paul Yeager of Nevada, Tex.; his widow; two sons, Paul, a Sul Ross student; and Dennis, Sara Kay of the home; a daughter, Sara Kay of the home; and four brothers, Aulton and Allen Yeager, both of Nevada, Tex.; Claude Yeager of Garland and Buford Yeager of Amarillo.

Fernando Aguero, Conservative Party's presidential candidate for Nicaragua's Feb. 5 election, spoke at political rally in Managua last night after which street fighting broke out. President Lorenzo Guerrero was reported to be away from the capital city when the fighting occurred. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Snipers Battle Guards

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — The government said today a group of rebels holed up in the Gran Hotel had taken 20 American guests as hostages. National Guard troops surrounded the hotel.
The development came after antigovernment rioting Sunday night. Twelve persons were killed and more than 30 wounded in clashes between tank-led troops and demonstrators.
A U.S. Embassy employe entered the hotel and said all the Americans were well. The embassy described them as tourists and businessmen.
A government spokesman said troops surrounded the hotel as a result of reports that Fernando Aguero, opposition Conservative party presidential candidate, set up a rebel headquarters there with Pedro Joaquin Chamorro, the party's coordinator.

$70 Social Security Low Asked By Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today to raise Social Security benefits by 15 per cent and 50 per cent in the lowest bracket and said such an increase will be "a major step toward our goal that every elderly citizen has an adequate income and a meaningful retirement."
Johnson's proposal, which he said would guarantee minimum benefits of $70 a month for individuals and $105 a month for married couples, also includes a recommendation for increased Social Security taxes, both by raising the taxable base and by increasing rates.

to at least 15 per cent for those eligible for maximum benefits.
Johnson recommended that the amount Social Security recipients can earn without losing trip benefits be increased to $1,650 a year and that the amount above that for which a beneficiary can retain $1 in payments for each $2 in earnings be increased to $2,880.
The increased benefits had been sketched in broad outline in Johnson's State of the Union message.

ing escalator clause without raising taxes.
The maximum increases under the President's proposals would go to 2.5 million persons now receiving minimum benefits of $44 a month for an individual. But Johnson said increases of at least 15 per cent would go to the other 20.5 million beneficiaries. The monthly minimum benefit for a retired couple with 25 years coverage would be raised to $150, while individuals in this category would get at least $100 a month.

$100 GUARANTEE

He called in the earlier communication for the rise from $44 to $70 in minimum benefits, and a guarantee of $100 a month for persons with 25 years or more of coverage.
The State of the Union message did not go into the tax increase to pay for the increased benefits.

WORK PROGRAM

In addition to the Social Security increases, Johnson proposed legislation to upgrade state welfare laws, to simplify and reduce taxes for older Americans, to bring 1.5 million disabled Americans under 65 into medicare, and to enact federal legislation banning discrimination in employment because of age.
He urged that state welfare agencies be required to raise cash payments to welfare recipients to the level the state itself sets as the subsistence minimum, that this subsistence standard be no less than two-thirds the level set for medical assistance, and that state welfare programs be required to establish a work-incentive provision for old age recipients.

BIG JUMP

The biggest increase in benefits — 50 per cent — would apply only in the lowest bracket to raise the individual minimum from $44 to $70. From that the rise would graduate downward

FACES FIRE

Johnson had announced earlier that his proposals would cost $4.1 billion during the first year. The tax rise is expected to come under fire in Congress, especially from Republicans who have urged an eight per cent increase plus a cost-of-liv-

Surprise!
Visitors to Oklahoma City's Lincoln Park Zoo got a special treat yesterday when Frieda, somewhat reluctantly, showed off her latest offspring, a female that weighed in at about 150 pounds and stands six feet tall. Unusually warm weather — near 80 degrees — had lured large crowds to the zoo and the debut of the still unnamed baby giraffe. It's Frieda's second offspring at the zoo. ### Billy Graham Backs Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—Billy Graham, the evangelist, defended Dallas and the Texas governor in a taped "Hour of Decision" broadcast for use Sunday.

Dr. Graham said Dallas has, since the assassination of President Kennedy here in 1963, borne "a stigma it does not deserve."

The broadcast is received by 900 radio stations. Dr. Graham is in Dallas for a Baptist evangelical conference and speaks tonight at a convocation. All the 11,500 seats in Memorial Auditorium have been reserved.

Dr. Graham also took issue with William Manchester's description of Dallas as a diseased city.

NOT TRUE

"Nothing could be further from the truth," he said. Manchester wrote the controversial book, "The Death of a President."

Among other things, the book quoted Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy as saying she disliked Texas' Gov. John Connally because he talked so much about himself.

Dr. Graham said he had been a friend of Connally for 15 years and called him "one of the greatest Americans that we have in public office today."

BEARS STIGMA

The minister said he did not believe Mrs. Kennedy made the remark and said about Connally, "if there is one thing he doesn't do, it is talk about himself."

The evangelist will talk at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth Tuesday and speak in Houston Wednesday.

Dr. Graham said, "Lee Harvey Oswald (named by the Warren Commission as the assassin) had been in Dallas only a few months and had practically no friends and few acquaintances. Yet today Dallas bears a stigma that it does not deserve."

To blame Dallas for Kennedy's death, the evangelist said, would be similar to blaming Washington for Lincoln's assassination or blaming Buffalo, N.Y., for McKinley's murder.

Big City Lawmakers Nix City Sales Tax

AUSTIN (AP)—Informal polls among big city legislators on the proposed optional city sales tax show most of them against it, at least on the surface.

According to an Associated Press survey the present feeling among senators and representatives from Houston, Dallas, San Antonio and Fort Worth show 37 against the city sales tax, 12 for it and 10 undecided.

The AP gathered the figures from newspapers in the four big cities that had polled their individual legislative delegations. Legislators generally were hesitant to say definitely how they would vote on the issue but here is what the four big city newspapers reported:

Houston 13 against, three for, seven undecided; Fort Worth one for, maybe, nine against; San Antonio, nine against, four for, Dallas, six against, four for, four undecided.

One principal reason given by a number of legislators for indecision was that the final form of the city sales tax bill has not yet been decided and introduced. The governor only said he recommended a one per cent city sales tax where voters approved such a levy.

The Texas Municipal League said the bill will be completed some time this week. A league spokesman said two alternatives are being studied that would permit countywide local option elections instead of city by city. One route would permit one or more cities with a majority of a county's population to request a countywide election and if it passed the tax would be countywide.

In a pre-session mail survey of all 181 legislators by the AP, a big majority of senators and a sizable majority of all House members answering the query said they oppose a city sales tax.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
To Meet By The Chicago Tribune

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠109 ♥1085 ♦AQ74 ♣Q1065

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East Pass Pass 1 ♣ Dble. ?

What do you bid now?
A.—This hand does not quite measure up to the requirements for a redouble and so completely descriptive call is available at this time. An immediate raise of the clubs might be looked on by partner as showing a more distributional holding with less high card strength. If a convenient opportunity presents itself a delayed raise may be offered with this holding.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠A106 ♥8765 ♦KQ3 ♣AJS

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♣ Pass 1 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—One no trump. True, you do have a trump trump suit in support of hearts your hand is strong enough to bid 13 points as one point must be deducted for the even distribution. As such it constitutes a very mediocre holding and no encouragement should be extended partner.

Q. 3—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠A1063 ♥8 ♣A8752 ♣765

The bidding has proceeded: North East South 1 ♣ 3 ♥ ?

What do you bid?
A.—Pass. East has placed you in an uncomfortable position by virtue of his preempt, but you should not permit his action to produce a state of panic. While your hand does contain two aces, it does not warrant voluntary action at this level. Partner still has the opportunity to speak and he will make allowances for the pressure under which you have been placed.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠KQ6432 ♣AK1032 ♣K7

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South 1 NT Pass Pass Dble. Pass 2 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Two spades. This is admittedly an underbid, but unless you bid West under strong suspicion, a cautious approach is indicated. The outstanding high card strength is banked behind you and partner's response indicates that what meager values he possesses will be of little help to you. Be content with a part score, if you can get it.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠Q7642 ♥Q ♣865 ♣9432

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♥ Pass Pass 2 ♦ 3 ♥ ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Four hearts. You may not make it, but it's worth trying for, in any event partner has voluntarily contracted for nine tricks in the face of your jump retraction announcement. Actually, you are not bankrupt at all. The queen of hearts is both a solidifying card and an entry and the spades may prove to be of use.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠A3 ♥K10963 ♦J8542 ♣7

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South Pass 3 ♦ Dble. ?

What do you bid?
A.—We favor an unorthodox call of three hearts for purely strategic purposes. In view of your mediocre holding with its great length in partner's preemptive bid, there is a strong likelihood that the opponents will bid a slam in spades. If they do, a heart lead from partner, thru the strong hand, may be of vital importance, and you still have the ace of trumps. In order to provide for that circumstance, you must get the "lead director" in now. You, of course, plan to take a save in diamonds, if the opponents permit.

Q. 7—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠J5 ♥5 ♦KQ1072 ♣QJ986

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♣ Pass 1 ♦ Pass 1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Two clubs. This admittedly is an underbid but a jump to three clubs would be much too drastic an action to take with nine high card points. A jump preference would constitute a game force and in this instance, since your suit is a minor, you would hardly wish to underwrite an 11 trick commitment.

Q. 8—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KJ ♥Q83 ♦AQJ1083 ♣AQ

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♦ Pass 1 ♥ 1 ♠ ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Two no trump. You have 19 points in high cards and a jump bid is definitely in order. Our choice favors no trump because of the overall nature of your hand.

The truck hit a mine and was ambushed within sight of the post gate. The enemy hit with mortars and small arms fire and all the men in the truck were hit.

Blinding Fog Slows Travel

By The Associated Press

Blinding fog socked in the big Houston International Airport for the fourth straight day early today and held ships at bay from the Bayou City's usually-busy shipping channel.

Some airline flights trickled in and out of Houston early Sunday night, then the visibility dropped below one-quarter of a mile and all traffic was stopped.

Great billows of fog shut off shipping first. More than 20 ships waited off the bar at Galveston today unable to move until the fog lifts.

Forecasters said the fog would continue on the coast tonight and Tuesday, with scattered showers likely for the southern part of the state.

The forerunner of a cold front was pushing toward the Panhandle and was expected to drop temperatures below the freeze line there tonight.

But the rest of the state was in for more of the same pleasant temperatures that reigned over the weekend.

Sunday's maximums soared into the 80s. Childress had 84 degrees, Abilene 83 and Pecos 81.

A long-range forecast from the Weather Bureau indicated increasing cloudiness for East and South Texas, with continuing warm temperatures across the state. The forecast, for the period through next Saturday, said South Texas readings would be 12 degrees above normal, with North Texas getting temperatures 15 degrees warmer than usual for late January.

Light rain was in the outlook for northern sections and continued showers expected in the south.

B. R. Seidenbergers Take Wedding Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Robert Seidenberger Jr. are on a trip to an undisclosed destination following their wedding Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church.

The bride is the former Miss Carla Jean Pierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Clifford Pierce, 616 Bucknell, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Robert Seidenberger Sr., Rt. 2, Garden City.

The Rev. Francis Beazley performed the double ring ceremony before an altar graced with arrangements of white snapdragons and spider chrysanthemums. Flanking the altar were candelabra with white tapers and sunburst arrangements of silver chalice gladioli and white pompon chrysanthemums designed in emerald fern trees. At the center was a white wrought iron prie dieu with white satin pillows. White satin roping and bows marked the bridal aisle and family pews.

Mrs. Leslie Green, organist, accompanied Mrs. Harold Talbot, vocalist, as she sang "Mother At Your Feet Is Kneeling," "Ave Maria," "Blessed Be This Day" and "Thanks Be Unto God."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white bridal satin; the lace-covered bodice styled with scalloped neckline and fitted sleeves ending in petal points over the hands. Lace appliques cascaded down the front of the skirt, and side fullness swept into a chapel train. Her shoulder-length bouffant veil of illusion was held by a white satin rose on a circle of lace.

The bridal bouquet was of white glamelias backed with maline and showered with satin picot.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Roger C. Mercer, and bridesmaids were the bridegroom's sister, Miss Cecilia Seidenberger of Garden City and the bride's cousin, Miss Patricia Kizer of Bownwood.

The attendants were identical, gowned in blue brocade dresses fashioned in the Empire style with squared necklines and bows at the back fullness. They carried bouquets of white carnations designed with white satin in love knots and silver lace.

Dennis Seidenberger of Garden City served as his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Danny Huss of Hermleigh and Gary Seidenberger, and ushers were Bill Schraeder of St. Lawrence and James Seidenberger, the bridegroom's brother. Mike Carl and Mike Davis lighted the altar candles.

RECEPTION

The reception was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall with the couple's parents joining in receiving guests who were registered by Miss Judy McDonald of Dallas. Presiding at the refreshment table were Miss Nancy Easley, Miss Nancy Hardesty and Miss Kathy Galloway, the latter of Abilene.

Woman's Forum Has Creative Workshop

An all-day workshop for creative arts was held by the Woman's Forum Friday in the home of Mrs. Cecil McDonald, 908 Washington. Co-hostesses for the program and buffet luncheon were Mrs. E. P. Driver, Mrs. Jack Johnson and Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas Jr.

Mrs. L. B. Maulden presided, and 18 members attended.

The workshop was led by Mrs. Lucian Jones, Mrs. Charles Harwell, Mrs. Charles Sweeney, Mrs. W. N. Norred and Miss Margaret Zike.

Mrs. Jones showed a knitting machine and explained its operation as she displayed articles made with it. Mrs. Harwell showed the processes for producing antiqued or painted plastic flowers and illustrated her talk with table arrangements.

Plastic grape accessory pieces were shown by Mrs. Charles Sweeney. Noting that she used Christmas tree balls as molds, Mrs. Sweeney told how the clusters are formed of liquid plastic with other ingredients used for coloring.

Mrs. Norred's talk concerned the making of millinery and covering shoes with fabrics. She exhibited hats and explained how the forms were made of buckram into the desired shape and covered and trimmed to match or contrast with other garments.

Miss Zike, a high school senior, displayed jewelry of paper mache and demonstrated how it was created.

The next meeting will be Feb. 17 with Mrs. Omar Jones and Mrs. Joe Pickle as hostesses.

First Half Surge Gives East Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Tom Landry, coach of the Dallas Cowboys and the all-stars of the National Football League's Eastern Division, thinks his conference has closed the talent gap with the West—and the Pro Bowl supports his contention.

Sensational Catch In Wrong Place

Charley Taylor (right) makes a sensational "touchdown" catch for the Eastern Conference in Sunday's Pro Bowl game at Los Angeles, but it didn't count. His feet came down out of bounds. Western Conference defender is Dick LeBeau of the Detroit Lions. Taylor is a Washington Redskins. At left is Chicago Bears' Dick Butkus. Eastern Conference won, 20-10. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Landry's Easterners slugged out a 20-10 win over the West in a persistent rain Sunday before 15,062 fans. The success was the second in a row for the East stars, who, a year ago, dumped their Western counterparts, 36-7.

Landry's own Dallas Cowboys made a case for the East just three weeks ago when they came within a whisker of tying Western winner Green Bay in the NFL title game. The Packers prevailed, 34-27, but the Cowboys proved a worthy contender.

PRaises Defense

Now Landry was a winner and smiled as he praised his team: "We had a fine game. Defensively, we made the key plays and that decided the ball game. Offensively, we missed a lot of chances, of course, but I thought (quarterback Don) Meredith played well in the first quarter and (quarterback Frank) Ryan played well in the second period. Then, in the second half we lost momentum."

ANOTHER TD

Then defensive back Larry Wilson, also of St. Louis, intercepted a pass and Ryan found Collins in the end zone with an 18-yard scoring throw.

Additionally, Clark missed three field goals in the half and, statistically, the East outplayed the West better than 2-1.

The West defense rallied in the second half and the offense moved the ball well, but a strong Eastern pass rush and three interceptions preserved the lead.

Bruce Gossett of Los Angeles kicked a 27-yard field goal in the third quarter and San Francisco's Ken Willard caught a 51-yard touchdown pass from Bart Starr of Green Bay in the final quarter—but the West never really threatened to pull out a victory.

SAYERS BEST BACK Despite the West's defeat, Chicago's exciting runner, Gayle Sayers, was voted the outstanding back of the game. The second-year pro from Kansas gained 110 yards in just 11 carries — including a twisting, 52-yard sprint.

Floyd Peters, a nine-year defensive tackle for the Philadelphia Eagles and the East, was named the top lineman, primarily for his intensive pass rush that kept the Western quarterbacks off balance much of the time.

LOBOS LOSE Brigham Young trimmed New Mexico 89-73, extending the Lobos losing streak to four games, as 6-foot-11 Jim Eakins scored 15 of his 21 points in the first half. The victory gave the Cougars a 4-0 Western Athletic Conference mark.

TEXAS WESTERN, 12-2, humiliated Weber State 72-35 and seventh-ranked Kansas, 12-3, topped Iowa State 73-65. Third-ranked Houston, No. 4 North Carolina, No. 5 Princeton and No. 10 Providence were idle.

UNBEATEN Toledo came from behind in regulation play and trimmed Villanova 72-65 in overtime for its 10th victory; once-beaten Western Kentucky ran its winning streak to 14 by downing LaSalle 95-56 and Southern Illinois, the nation's top small college team, topped Wichita 77-55.

St. Louis 124-114 in Saturday's action.

The Celtics' John Havlicek's basket with 34 seconds left tied the game at Boston at 107-107 and sent it into overtime. Then, trailing 121-120, Boston got the ball with 19 seconds remaining, and Larry Siegfried was fouled by the Lakers' Walt Hazzard while attempting a shot. He made both free throws.

Emile, Joey Slug Verbally

NEW YORK (AP) — "I'm going to beat him real good and shut his mouth," predicted middleweight champion Emile Griffith as he awaited his title defense against Joey Archer tonight at Madison Square Garden.

"I beat him before and didn't get the decision so this time I'll make sure it's not even close," rebutted Archer, the 29-year-old challenger from New York.

The 28-year-old champion, winner over Archer by majority decision last July 13, is a 7-5 favorite to make it two straight in the scheduled 15-rounder.

It will be telecast live nationally and to Mexico but New York will be blacked out. Starting time is 10 p.m. EST.

Garden officials forecast a crowd of 14,000 will pay upwards of $100,000 at prices ranging from $5 to $20. Griffith has been guaranteed $75,000 against 45 per cent of all receipts. Archer will get 15 per cent of all receipts.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Southern Methodist will go into football spring training without two letterman linemen off its 1966 Southwest Conference championship team.

Dick Irons of Big Spring and David Graham of Abilene failed to pass enough academic work at mid-term to retain their athletic eligibility. Both are defensive tackles.

JOHN TAYLOR WINS Blind Bogey Event The blind bogey tournament at Big Spring Country Club was made to order for John Taylor Sunday afternoon, and he captured the event with a 58.

SPOT COCKLE, with 62, ranked second and Perry Johnson third with a 63. Dr. Bill Cashion was close behind with 64, and three — Lefty Reynolds, Daryle Hohertz, and Dr. Arch Carson — all tied for fifth with 65's.

RICKY TERRY shot an even par for the round, but the drawing didn't fall in his direction. The contest drew 42 golfers, the best for a club event in several months.

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Gary Visconti of Detroit and Peggy Fleming of Colorado Springs, Colo., figure to lead American hopes in the 1968 Olympic figure skating competition.

They were crowned men's and women's national champions here Sunday. Visconti, 21, de-throned Allen Scott, 17, of Smoke Rise, N.J. for the men's crown while Miss Fleming won her fourth women's title.

An 18-member national team, plus two alternates, was named after the competition for the world meet at Vienna Feb. 28-March 5 by the U.S. Figure Skating Association. The team will also compete in the North American championships in Montreal, Feb. 10-12.

Linda Reaps Three Seconds

Linda Cathey, wearing Big Spring colors, bettered her previous times, but she had to settle for three seconds and a third at the five state swimming meet in Duncan, Okla., Saturday and Sunday.

Linda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cathey, is slowly rounding into form, but she couldn't quite touch the bank first against the top swimmers of Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas. Twenty-one cities were represented in the meet.

She ranked second in the 400-yard individual medley with 4:26.1; in the 100-yard breast stroke with 1:16.1; in the 200-yard individual medley with 2:28.5. Her 2:44.7 in the 200-yard breast event was good for a third place.

Putting For The Lead

Billy Casper, his wife, Shirley, watching in the background, puts for par on the 18th at Pebble Beach Sunday and takes over the lead going into fourth and final round of the Crosby National Pro-Am today. ## Casper Leads In Crosby Tourney

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Billy Casper, Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, each a winner of more than $100,000 in 1966, led the race for top cash in Bing Crosby's $104,500 Golf Tournament heading into the stretch today.

Casper, at 215, led by a stroke as the only golfer, among the 168 pros who started, to better par for 54 holes. Pressing the U.S. Open champion at 216 were Masters' champ Nicklaus and Palmer, the leading money winner of all time.

They battle 75 other finalists for a $16,000 top prize. Casper led the pro golfers last year with $121,944. Nicklaus finished second at $111,419 and Palmer earned $110,467.

Golfers duelled over the long Pebble Beach course, attested one of the world's best, where one errant shot can ruin a round.

All the finalists have played three courses already — Cypress Point, Spyglass Hill and Pebble Beach — with varying success. The tournament runs a day longer than usual because a Pacific storm canceled Saturday's play.

After Sunday, Bill Parker of West Orange, N.J., surprisingly found himself in fourth place with a 70 and 217.

Jim Colbert of Kansas City, Kan., Jerry Pittman of Locust Valley, N.Y., each with 74, and PGA champ Al Geiberger of Carleton Oaks, Calif., with 71, were all at 218.

For the third 18-hole test, Nicklaus scrambled at soggy Spyglass Hill, Palmer charged at Cypress Point and the methodical Casper passed them both with his routinely spectacular game at Pebble, where twice he has won.

The San Diego Star set a tournament record of 277 in 1958 and won again in 1963. His closest competitors haven't captured the Crosby although each has finished in the runner-up spot.

Leading the pro-amateur teams into the final was the routine combination of Mike and Frank Souchak with a best-ball 192 even though pro Mike didn't qualify among the individual pros with a 238. The cutoff was 227. Older brother Frank, with an eight handicap, had helped with 36 strokes.

Honolulu's Ted Makalena and Paul Spengler were second at 193 with Makalena still among the contestants for pro honors with 220.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Robert L. Howsam, an advocate of "growing your players" through a strong farm system, is the new general manager of the Cincinnati Reds of the National League.

Howsam, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals since 1964, was named Sunday.

Tracksters Set Calculated Pace

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With the long 1967 track season indoors and outdoors—just beginning, the athletes are breaking from the starting blocks at a measured pace.

Winners in the Los Angeles Invitational indoor meet Saturday night before 11,346 fans in the Sports Arena struck a repetitive theme.

Jim Ryun, who won a tactical mile in 4:02.6, said, "Last year I reached my peak too early. This year I want to come along a little more slowly. That's why I was very satisfied with my performance."

Jim Greele, the 30-year-old veteran who outspurred Gerry Lindgren to take an 8:45.0 two-mile, said, "I'm going to concentrate on the longer distances. I'd like to build up for the three-mile outdoors."

And Richmond Flowers, the Tennessee football star whose 7.1 won the 60-yard high hurdles, admitted he was looking ahead. "I can hardly wait to get outdoors. I'm aiming for 12.9 in the 120-yard high hurdles."

The present world record is 13.2, held by Martin Lauer of Germany and Lee Calhoun of the United States.

Pole vaulter Bob Seagren came within a slight push of breaking his world indoor record of 17-1, set last month. Seagren cleared 17-2, but failed to push the pole backward as he thrust his body over the bar.

The pole fell under the bar and into the pit, nullifying the vault. Seagren had to settle for 16-6.

Other favorites winning their events were Charlie Greene, 6.0 in the 60-yard dash; Ralph Boston, 26-3/4, in the long jump; Art Walker, 53-11/4, in the triple jump, and John Rambo, 6-11 1/2, in the high jump.

Jim Kemp won the 500-yard run in 37.2, Jack Yerman took the 600 in 1:10.6, Preston Davis captured the 1,000 in 2:11.9, and Dave Maggard put the shot 62-11 1/2.

Mrs. Dye Wins FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Alice Dye, Indianapolis, Ind., defeated Sandra Post 1-up Sunday to win the 33rd annual Doherty Cup Women's Golf Tournament at the Coral Ridge Country Club.

Green Pulls Reverse, To Remain At Cooper

Meril Green, Abilene Cooper football coach who last week accepted an offer to become athletic director at Midland, has been lured back into the Abilene fold.

Green Saturday evening advised Midland officials that he had made up his mind to stay in Abilene after all. Earlier, the Abilene board, reluctant to lose the popular mentor, upped his salary by $800 to make $11,000 per annum.

"The job at Midland is an outstanding opportunity," he said, "and I appreciate them considering me for the position."

He accepted the Midland post on Thursday but hadn't signed a contract. Neither had he formally resigned at Abilene.

This left Abilene, and particularly Cooper, officials elated, and it left Midland looking for an athletic director. Green said there wasn't anything he didn't like about the Midland offer, and that money really had no bearing on his final decision.

"But it boils down to the fact that I just can't get away from working with boys and girls at this time."

Green had been contacted last week about talking over the coaching vacancy in Big Spring, but at that time he said he had decided to accept the Midland proposal.

UCLA May Face Sterner Test In Chicago Games

By The Associated Press If UCLA's prodigious Bruins have trouble getting excited about their trip to Chicago this week, Coach John Wooden probably will be glad to settle for a repeat of last Saturday's let-down.

The top-ranked Bruins ran their unbeaten string to 14 games over the weekend by thrashing Portland 122-57 and California Santa Barbara 119-75.

"We let down a little Saturday," said Wooden — with a straight face.

ALCINDOR HAS 27 UCLA should get stiffer arguments from Illinois and Chicago Loyola Friday and Saturday nights in the Windy City, but the ever-cautious Wooden wonders whether his young club might be taking the trip for granted.

UCLA raced to a 10-0 lead over Portland Friday night and breezed home, 7-foot-1 Lew Alcindor leading the way with 27 points. Then the Bruins wrecked Santa Barbara's floater defense Saturday night and topped the century mark for the seventh time.

"We felt the only way to defend against them was to let one of their men go," said Santa Barbara pilot Ralph Barkey. Lucious Allen, the man most often free as the Gauchos concentrated on blanketing Alcindor more than Large Lew.

The Bruins met Illinois in the nightcap of Friday night's doubleheader after Chicago Loyola and Brigham Young collide in the opener. Saturday, they try to avenge last season's 102-96 overtime loss to Loyola in part of a tripleheader that also pits Brigham Young against sixth-ranked Texas Western and Illinois against Notre Dame.

RUN AROUND While UCLA was running up points last weekend, three other national powers — No. 2 Louisville, No. 8 Florida and No. 9 New Mexico — were running around.

Gordon Smith's 20-foot jump shot with five seconds to play lifted Cincinnati past Louisville 59-58, tightening the Missouri Valley Conference race. The Cardinals, now 15-2 over-all, still lead the MVC with a 4-1 mark, but Wichita, 3-1, Tulsa, 2-1, Cincy, 3-2, and Bradley, 3-3, all are within range.

Tennessee, led by Ron Widby's 13 points and a tenacious defense, subdued Florida 56-42 for its second victory over the Gators in six days. The Vols, who trail first-place Vanderbilt

Brannon's Frogs Can Make Last Season Memorable

By JACK DONOVAN Associated Press Sports Writer Byron Brannon announced last week he would retire at the end of this, his 19th season as basketball coach at Texas Christian University.

The announcement came at a time when the Horned Frogs are leading the Southwest Conference with three victories and no defeats. It might be an added incentive for them to give their coach a bowing out championship.

Miss Fleming, clad in gossamer gold with a matching band around her jet-black hair, won mainly on the brilliance of her style after dominating the compulsory figures.

In the senior pairs, champions Cynthia, 18, and Ronald, 20, Kauffman of Seattle, Wash., dominated an eight-team field as they displayed one thrilling maneuver after another in their five-minute program. The Kauffmans got one vote of 5.9 for their style and four scores of 5.8 for technical merit. A perfect score was six.

John Baldwin of Colorado Springs, Colo., won the novice men's finals and Wen-An Sun, Iowa-born skater now from Colorado Springs, went on to win the novice women's title.

What Triggered Gigantic Struggle In Communist China?

Editor's Note: What is going on in China and what is the outlook? William L. Ryan, an AP specialist on Communist affairs, seeks to answer these and other questions in a series of five articles this week, of which this is the first.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The 400-year-old ghost of Hai Jui returned to haunt Mao Tse-tung and frightened him into launching the gigantic struggle that grips Communist China today.

The confusing and dangerous upheaval is traced by Chinese in the West to June 1959, and the publication of an essay called "Hai Jui's Scolding of the Emperor," made into a play two years later with the title of "Hai Jui's Dismissal."

When the essay and play appeared, says Dr. C. Y. Cheng, head of the University of Michigan Department of Chinese Studies, every Chinese intellectual and many nonintellectuals immediately recognized the symbolism.

"GREAT LEAP"
Hai Jui, in the Chinese mind, stands for righteousness and justice. In this case, he stood for Peng Teh-huai, whom Mao dismissed as defense minister because Peng opposed the "great leap forward" launched in March 1958.

The "leap" was supposed to transform China within three years into a mighty economic power — by regimenting the half-billion peasants in "people's communes" and by putting urban workers into millions of backyard smelters. The "leap" was headed for debacle even in its early stages.

The author of the essay and play was Wu Han, deputy mayor of Peking and right-hand man to the powerful mayor and Politburo member, Peng Chen, who was considered then an outstanding contender for Mao's mantle.

MAO PROTEST
The work was a protest against Mao. Even as far back as 1958, the big struggle had begun. Mao's position had been considerably weakened late that year by opposition to his policies. His opponents included his old comrade-in-arms, long an heir apparent, Liu Shao-chi.

It now develops, from what is being disclosed in the internal propaganda war in Peking, that Mao was shoved aside as chairman of government, the equivalent of president, and retained only his party chairmanship. Liu took the presidency. Today's Red Guards wall newspapers claim Mao left the job against his will. Dr. Cheng says that probably is correct.

BLUNDERER
This is not the first power struggle in China, nor by any means the first big purge.

In February 1956, Nikita S. Khrushchev, in a secret speech to the Soviet Communist party's 20th congress, destroyed the legend of a Stalin three years dead, portrayed him as a blood-thirsty monster and blunderer. Mao had no particular love for Stalin. He had clashed with the Soviet dictator several times. Stalin tried to impede and slow down Mao's revolution and Mao, in turn, purged and tossed out pro-Stalin elements.

But all the evidence suggests Mao did not like the precedent being set in Moscow. It might some day apply to Mao in the same way. Dictators have a tendency in their waning years to want to make gods of themselves.

CRITICAL PERIOD

China now was entering a critical period in its relations with the Soviet Union. Khrushchev, in October 1957, had promised Mao a prototype sample of the atom bomb and data on how to manufacture it. But he dragged his feet. In November 1957, Mao and Marshal Peng, his defense minister, traveled to Moscow to prod Khrushchev. It became clear the Soviet chief had changed his mind. Mao was furious.

Defense Minister Peng, who had loyally supported Mao at critical moments, evidently opposed the idea of getting into a verbal Donnybrook with the Russians. As a professional soldier, he saw the U.S.S.R. as the only source of wherewithal for China's ascent to the status of major world power.

RESENTMENT

As Hai Jui had challenged the emperor 400 years before, now Peng challenged the master of the party. Mao, despite other differences with members of his Politburo, still had plenty of authority. He turned for help to the saturnine military strategist, Marshal Lin Piao. In April 1959, Mao fired Peng as defense minister and appointed Lin in his place. Lin eventually would become Mao's favorite, the chief evangelist of "Mao Tse-tung's thinking."

The Wu Han essay, two months later, was a clear sign of disaffection in high places and resentment of Mao's actions.

But a new phase, which began in 1961, was even more serious. Now two camps were forming, and the republication of the essay as a drama was, in effect, a demand that Marshal Peng be reinstated as defense minister.

DEEP DIFFICULTIES

China was then going through a series of natural calamities — floods and drought — and in the grip of deep economic difficulties.

Essayist Wu Han, with the protection of his chief, Peng Chen, and the Peking city party committee, produced the play which presented Hai Jui — and thus Peng Teh-huai — as the one who "redressed the grievances of the people." Indirectly, the play also was proposing the end of people's communes and the return of commune land to the peasants for private cultivation. The "great leap," coupled with the natural calamities, had proved an economic disaster, as the Russians had predicted it would.

UNEASY TRUCE

Implicitly, the play was an indictment of Mao and praise for those purged for opposing him. By now, it seemed likely that President Liu and Peking's Mayor Peng Chen were allies. They seemed to have firm control of the party apparatus, the party-dominated trade unions of which Liu had been an architect, and the eight-million-strong Young Communist League, which Peng had built and directed over the years.

A rival group appeared to be headed by Premier Chou, Chen Yi, vice premier and foreign minister, and their government apparatus. From all appearances, the party general secretary, Teng Hsiao-ping, tried to stay neutral. At this stage, Lin Piao appeared a balancing force in the middle.

For two years, there seemed to be an uneasy truce between the two contending camps.

Then the dam broke.
Next: A look backward.

New Zealanders Charmed By Ky

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand (AP) — Despite a brief flash of temper at an airport news conference, South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky charmed his way through his first meeting with New Zealanders today.

Ky flushed with anger when a newsman asked for comment on a statement by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., that if Ky did not negotiate with the Viet Cong, he should be replaced.

"I am no puppet of the United States or anyone else," Ky said, his voice trembling. "That is my answer to Mr. Fulbright. He is a colonialist."

'AID, NOT WAR'

Ky went on to deftly field a barrage of questions about his current hero, a reference to a past statement that he admired Hitler. Ky replied that his heroes were "all the men fighting in my country."

After the news conference, Ky plunged into a waiting airport crowd of about 700 persons mainly women and children. Outside the airport about 150 orderly demonstrators stood waving placards which said "Ky not welcome here," "Aid not war" and "We condemn bombing of Hanoi and Hanoi."

FARM VISIT

After being welcomed at the Town Hall by Mayor G.M. Manning, Ky moved across the old city square to his hotel and was greeted by another crowd.

Ky is scheduled to fly Tuesday to Wellington, the capital city of New Zealand. In the afternoon he will fly on to Auckland, the largest city in New Zealand, where a large anti-Ky demonstration is expected.

Ky will visit a dairy farm at Hamilton, 100 miles from Auckland on Wednesday before flying back to Saigon.

Rusk Speaks On Friday At H-SU Event

ABILENE — A capacity audience will hear Secretary of State Dean Rusk on Friday, Jan. 27 when he speaks at a special convocation at Hardin-Simmons University.

The nation's top diplomat and foreign affairs expert will be awarded an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree in ceremonies in Behrens Chapel.

The convocation has been set for 10 a.m.

Secretary Rusk is expected to arrive at Dyess AFB, flying in from Austin, where he is scheduled to address a joint session of the Texas Legislature the day prior to his H-SU speech.

Congressman Omar Burleson of Anson, an H-SU alumnus, will introduce Secretary Rusk, according to Dr. Elwin L. Skiles, H-SU president.

Among dignitaries who have accepted invitations to attend are Judge Zolie Steakley of Austin, associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court; State Senator David Ratliff of Stamford and State Rep. Frank Calhoun of Abilene.

Gov. Connally has been invited to attend.

Rusk's address is being held in conjunction with H-SU's 75th Anniversary Celebration. The Diamond Jubilee event began last April and will conclude on Founders Day, April, 1967.

Rusk will be honored with a luncheon in the H-SU Student Center following the address.

Dr. Skiles will host the luncheon which will be attended by department and divisional chairmen at H-SU; state and local government officials, trustees, chairmen of H-SU boards, alumni leaders, college presidents, Chamber of Commerce leaders, Dyess representatives and members of the Rusk party.

Six Persons Die In Car-Bus Crash

EFFINGHAM, Ill. (AP) — Six persons were killed and 31 others were injured Sunday night in the collision of a car and a chartered bus returning a party from a wedding in Dayton, Ohio.

The accident occurred at the intersection of U.S. 45 and Interstate 70 outside Effingham.

Shootings, Stabbings Hike Texas Death Toll

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents, highlighted by crashes on fog-bound South Texas roadways, claimed at least 14 victims of a 26-person violent death toll across the state this weekend.

An Associated Press tabulation of weekend violent death in the state began at 6 p.m. Friday and continued until midnight Sunday.

Saturday night violence swelled the total with an epidemic of shootings and stabbings.

An Austin couple was killed about dawn Sunday when their car and another collided on Farm Road 1325 in Travis County. Dead were Clement Carl Krulh, 63, and his wife Anita, 53.

John William Baker, 73, was fatally injured Sunday when his pickup truck overturned 2 1/2 miles south of Rocksprings on Texas 55. He was from Odessa. Clifton McKinney and Ernest W. Carr, both of Stephenville, were killed Saturday when a car skidded off US 80 east of Gordon and slammed into a tree.

Douglas Gollihare, 10, fell into a canal at Beaumont Saturday and drowned. Two companions failed in their efforts to save him.

Jerry Ashworth, 30, manager of an aviation service, was killed and Philip Bohart, Midland oil operator, was critically injured when their pre-World War II bi-plane crashed near the Midland Country Club Saturday.

Ezequel Reyes Rodriguez, 35, of Plainview was shot to death when he answered a knock on the front door at his home in Plainview. Officers were seeking a man who fled from the scene.

Louis Lyndon Sander, 24, a Houston traffic patrolman, was shot to death on the north side of Houston late Saturday apparently by a motorist he had stopped for a traffic violation.

All available police officers joined in an intensive search for the killer who sped from the scene in a late model car.

Will Swindell, 13, was struck and killed by an automobile Friday night in Commerce.

Thelma Vines Guthrie, 51, of Humble was killed early Saturday when her car and a pickup truck collided head-on on US 59 north of Houston during a heavy fog. The driver of the pickup was injured critically.

Robert C. Potter, 22, of Lake Jackson and Humble, was killed when his car ran off an overpass during a dense fog early Saturday north of Houston. He sailed 105 feet in the air and landed upside down. A companion suffered minor injuries.

Ralph W. Shelton Jr., 26, of San Antonio was killed shortly after midnight Friday when his car ran off US 87 during a thick fog and overturned several times seven miles east of San Antonio. A companion was injured.

Henry H. Till Jr. of Weimar was killed early Saturday on fog-shrouded US 90 when his car struck the left side of a van he was trying to pass and bounced directly in front of a tractor-trailer unit. The accident occurred one-half mile west of Weimar.

Gene Thomas Hudspeth, 34, of Borger was shot to death Sunday in the business section of Skellyton. Carson County Sheriff John Nunn filed a murder charge against Gene Harlan, Skellyton businessman. Harlan was released on bond of $10,000.

A Devotional For The Day

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven. (Matthew 5:16)

PRAYER: O God, our Father, whose loving-kindness has lighted the pathway of all believers, help us to do good in our lives. We pray for all those we shall meet this day, and may our influence help towards a better world. Help us to live in the spirit of Christ, in whose name we pray. Amen. (From the 'Upper Room')

War On Crime

The major innovation in domestic policy which President Johnson has so far recommended to the 90th Congress is a broad program of federal aid to state and local police systems. Johnson's "declaration of war on crime" drew strong bipartisan applause from his congressional audience. Being against crime is, of course, an automatic political reaction. However, there may be less enthusiasm on Capitol Hill for initiating a big new federal aid program while the budget is running a heavy deficit under war pressures.

Johnson's proposed Safe Streets and Crime Control Act of 1967 is based on preliminary recommendations of the National Crime Commission he appointed, as authorized by the previous Congress. The heart of the proposed act is federal matching aid ranging from 50 to 90 per cent to states and cities for crime laboratories, police academies, special police training and equipment, and crime-control planning programs.

The idea of a national police system to cope with the nationwide crime problem is, as Johnson said, repugnant to American traditions. The federal police agencies must stick to federal law enforcement and interstate and international crime problems. The idea of federal aid to state and local law enforcement is new, though there has been some advisory aid — as by the FBI police academy — and efforts toward closer federal-state-local cooperation where jurisdictions tend to overlap.

Undoubtedly the federal aid program which Johnson proposes would improve state and local police systems without any serious danger of imposing national control. And the nation's huge and rising crime rate confirms how much such improvement is needed. The decisive question, in judging the necessity of his proposal, is whether the states and cities (and counties) lack the resources to make that improvement on their own.

If they do lack the resources to develop and maintain greatly improved police systems, then federal aid on the scope suggested by the President is warranted. Otherwise, it might be wiser to hold the federal aid down to an incentive level, that is, just enough to encourage the state and local governments to put a higher budget priority on their crime-control efforts and to view their law-enforcement responsibilities from a national perspective.

Electoral Reform

Congress will be asked to wrestle anew this year with an old adversary: Electoral college reform. The American Bar Association, through a special commission, has asked for the passage of a constitutional amendment scrapping the electoral college in favor of a direct popular election of a president of the United States.

Sen. Birch Bayh, Indiana Democrat, promptly endorsed the proposal, and said he would introduce a resolution on the subject. He is chairman of the Senate constitutional rights subcommittee.

The new version of a recurring proposal has a section which may quiet earlier criticism that it would tend to encourage the formation of splinter parties which could throw an election into the House of Representatives. The winning candidate would have to poll 40 per cent of the popular vote. A runoff is provided if no candidate achieved a 40 per cent plurality.

Traditionalists and representatives from small states may combine to defeat the proposal, though. Under the present dispensation Alaska is given one electoral vote for every 73,380 inhabitants, while California has only one electoral vote for every 392,930 residents. The rule that each state, no matter how small its population, is entitled to two electoral votes is an advantage that representatives from small states will fight to retain. Encouraged tradition, too, is a powerful counterweight.

A more modest approach would appear to be in order. There is reason to believe, for instance, that Congress might approve a proposal to modify the "winner take all" formula for electoral vote counting in the individual states. Instead of awarding all electoral votes to the candidate who polls slightly more than 50 per cent of the total vote, the electoral votes would be divided in exact proportion to the popular vote cast. This principle of equal representation extended to the electoral college is one that is difficult to fault.

John Cunniff Predicting A Slowdown

NEW YORK (AP) — Late last year Dr. Pierre Rinfret, the economist, forecast rather accurately and in sharply clear language that President Johnson would propose more taxes for 1967.

Rinfret followed this forecast with the assessment that "the administration will then go into a corner and pray that such a request for a tax increase will be refused by Congress."

ALONG WITH some other economists, Rinfret believes a tax rise at this time — even a surcharge as proposed by Johnson — would damage the economy. A year ago it might have helped, he believes.

Moreover, he suspects the President feels the same way but, because of complex pressures from a cross-section of economic and political realities, had little option but to announce his tax measures.

The accuracy of the tax forecast, the manner of delivery, the flair — maybe even the daring — are typical of Rinfret, one of the most popular of a breed that is growing in importance: the economic consultant.

The economic forecaster, as we all know, can be dead wrong, often because he ignores the political ingredient.

RINFRET, WHO believe the subject is "political economy" rather than just "economics," feels he was wrong in calling a downturn for the second quarter of this year. "It has already begun," he said in an interview.

Borrowing a thought from Henry Thoreau, he forecast that in 1967 "the mass of men will lead lives of quiet desperation." Then he toned it a bit. "We will have a slowdown," he said, "but it will be the highest level recession in the history of mankind."

Despite its problems, he said, "the American economy is the greatest economic machine in the world."

THE QUESTION then was put to Rinfret, a man of great Gallic charm and articulation:

"How do you break the news to clients who pay a basic retainer of $7,000 a year that you are wrong?" He answered simply, "With these three words: 'I was wrong.'" The assumption follows that he then says the consequences.

Businessmen will not argue if you conduct our business in a businesslike manner, he believes. "They insist on something for their money. They expect you to bat better than .500. They want you to bat more than .700."

Some forecasters try to attain this through obscure language or by hedging or by couching their analyses in complex language. Rinfret pleads innocent to these charges. He takes an artful approach and speaks simply.

SOME ECONOMISTS, for example, examine statistics as a witch doctor studies a sackful of bones. Rinfret searches for "trigger points" and follows this with deft probing of personal contacts in business, politics, government, education.

A trigger point may be a statistic that cannot be explained easily. It may be a mere wiggle in a chart. It could be, for instance, a shift downward in the volume of intercity truck traffic.

Billy Graham

I would like to follow Christ, but I'm only 17, and I would like to have some fun before I settle down.

A. H. — Where did you get the idea that being a Christian keeps one from having fun? I'm afraid you have seen too many imitations of Christianity, and too little of the real thing. The happiest people I know in the world are followers of Jesus Christ. In fact, I really don't know any genuinely happy people who are not Christians.

If you could hear the hilarious laughter when Christians get together, and see the real joy on their faces, you would never say, "I want to have some fun before I settle down and be a Christian," again. Probably you have listened to too many "don'ts" and negatives by older Christians. They just neglected to tell you that, although there are some "don'ts," and restrictions, God never asks us to give up anything that is good for us. Like any loving Father, He wants His children to enjoy the finest and best. But remember this: you can't beat God in the game of give-away. If we give up something for Him, He gives back to us a hundredfold. It really then isn't a sacrifice, but a wonderful game in which God takes delight in matching our consecration with blessings beyond measure. "He that loseth his life for my sake," said Jesus, "shall find it."

'GOODBYE, DEAR — I'LL BE WITH FULBRIGHT TODAY'

James Marlow More Talk Than Action?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republicans were a pretty quiet bunch in 1965, the year after their election disaster when the Democrats outnumbered them 295 to 140 in the House and 67 to 33 in the Senate.

They were practically speechless and for want on ideas the Republican House leaders went around trying to pick outsiders' brains. They set up task forces to give them a talking point.

Gradually, they regained their speech but not their gusto until the 1966 elections in which they did better, particularly in the House where they picked up an additional 47 seats. They picked up three in the Senate.

And just about two weeks ago the Republicans and Southern Democrats formed their first coalition of the year, whether or not they consulted beforehand.

Not one Republican voted in Powell's favor.

But, even with a coalition, Ford will have a tough time trying to translate into reality the various ideas he tossed off in his part of the Republican State of the Union message.

preacher and man-about-town, from taking his seat in the House.

THE PERVERSITY of newsmen who keep asking him, "When? When?" is an annoyance. Nobody on earth so yearns for the end of the beatniks, not the Doves, not the volunteer strategists who tell him publicly and privately how to wrap up the victory and bring it home.

Fifteen months ago, in mid-1965, the President had as crucial a decision as any chief executive of the nation ever faced: It was get in—or get out! It was to turn the distant struggle into an American war, with massive commitment, or call it quits. And with all the casualties, all the criticism, all the remaining uncertainty as to duration, it can't be doubted that LBJ did what the country would want him to do.

Hal Boyle Thieves Lousy Lovers?

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping today are those who try to live it up on stolen credit cards.

I always suspect that a guy who uses a first initial, a three-syllable second name and a two-syllable last name—for instance one such as J. Bellington Bilker—is a con man at heart. However, over the years, a surprising number of them have headed philanthropic foundations.

There is no case on record of a man falling head over heels in love at first sight with a girl wearing a purple dress.

When you apply for a bank loan nowadays, the fellow behind the desk is likely to ask, "Are you planning to buy a new car, or just making a visit to your dentist?"

The seasons are really getting confusing. It is now possible to see the first robin of spring before viewing the final football game left over from last year.

Eight out of 10 American husbands—old jokes to the contrary—actually get along with their mothers-in-law about as well as they do their wives.

You can always tell a poor neighborhood by the fact the young couples in it buy the most expensive-looking baby carriages.

If the authorities in any high school issued a decree that girl students had to wear miniskirts as a uniform, most of the girls would immediately show up in hoop skirts.

THE ONLY real fun I know of in attending a big public dinner is to place side bets on which of the famous people on the dais will fall asleep first.

Have adenoids gone out of style? You hardly ever hear them mentioned any more.

A cocktail party never really comes alive until they run out of coat hangers and have to start piling things on the beds.

Pickpockets are usually lousy lovers and their girl friends constantly cheat on them.

To Your Good Health Significance Of Salt In The Diet

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: When dieting, is it necessary to eliminate salt from your foods? — P. T.

Not unless you mean a low-salt diet.

If you mean a diet to lose weight, then eliminating salt may mean that less water will accumulate in your body, so you lose a little apparent weight. Yet a healthy body needs salt, so after a time you get back to normal salt intake, and promptly you return to a normal water level — and the "lost" pounds come right back.

Many "crash" diets tell you not to eat salt, but that is because people who make up these diets want to show that you can "lose" a number of pounds in a few days. It makes it look as though the diet were more effective than it really is.

A low-salt diet is quite another matter. It is used when an illness of some sort causes the body to retain too much water. Such ailments as heart disease, kidney or liver disorders are typical of conditions calling for limiting your salt.

For a healthy person, whether trying to lose weight or not, salt restriction is neither necessary nor good for you.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would high blood pressure cause temper tantrums in a man of 78, or do the tantrums cause the high blood pressure? Should such a man be allowed to drive a car? He is also very hard of hearing. — I. R.

The emotional upsets — the tantrums — undoubtedly raise his blood pressure. Whether continued high blood pressure has caused some brain damage which might contribute to the tantrums is hard to say.

I can't answer the bit about driving, but his doctor should be able to help.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am almost deaf. Two years ago I was sent to an ear specialist. He said an operation would restore most of my hearing.

I was going ahead but my relatives scared me out of it. I am grown and have decided to have it done against their wishes, but if it didn't turn out successfully I would never hear the end of it. What do you think? B.

Surgery helps some, can't help others — but specialists can tell with accuracy which is which. So what are you waiting for?

Dear Dr. Molner: Will a teaspoon of olive oil taken after meals digest as food or might it remain as oil and enter the bloodstream? I have taken it to help heal an ulcer but was warned against it. — J. M. L.

The oil will be digested.

"Vitamin starvation" is possible even if you eat a lot. In order to check your diet to make sure you are getting necessary nourishment, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the pamphlet, "Vitamins—The Alphabet of Health." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner is always glad to hear from his readers, and whenever possible he uses their questions in his column, but because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, he cannot answer individual letters.

Around The Rim Watch For The Blazing Red

One thing and another: You will soon be able to tell what manner of stop the driver ahead is making by watching his tail lights.

A Purdue University engineering student has perfected rear signals for automobiles, with varying intensity. The harder a driver pushes the brake, the brighter the red. Dim means a rolling stop, a brighter tone signals a quicker one. Flaming red means "Throw out the anchor!"

THE BIG SPRING State Park is better patronized than many other such facilities around the state, yet the state refuses to spend a dime toward updating the recreational area.

The state is combining with the federal government to spend upwards to a million dollars on a park near Fort Davis that probably won't be patronized as much in a year's time as the local facility.

Holmes Alexander President Has A Plan For War

WASHINGTON—From the Oval Office, the Fish Room and the Cabinet Room, where President Johnson meets with his advisors, the Vietnam War has the aspect of a human life.

And because LBJ is so intensely a human being, the very same man whom so many in Washington have known to be utterly untouched by the pomp and portentousness of the presidency, it isn't remarkable that he thinks and talks in the common language of mortality. Lyndon Johnson knows that he, and all men, must die, but the day and the hour of any decrease cannot be fixed. So it is with this nerve-testing, life-taking war. End it must, and in victory, but not even the President can say when.

escalation of that magnitude would have political repercussions, perhaps beyond military gains.

BUT OUT OF some trial and error, out of the experience and intuition of important participation in three wars, based on a meeting of minds with Generals Westmoreland and Wheeler, President Johnson now has a master plan.

It could go by the initials M&M: "maximum result from minimum cost." What it amounts to is a war of attrition. The grand strategy has been in effect since November. Gen. William Westmoreland, as theater commander, is now moving into the once-impregnable enemy strongholds and is systematically destroying them. The Communists need bases just as much as we do, but theirs are more important to them than ours are to us, since ours can be replaced.

WITH RELENTLESS pressure on the Viet Cong and the North Vietnam forces, coupled with selective bombing of supply lines, we are exterminating men and materiel at a rate that is grinding the enemy into submission.

The end of the conflict is unpredictable at the White House for the best of reasons—namely, that we are winning and, in the circumstance of limited warfare, it is the loser who decides when to give up. Yet it would be an informed guess that Ho Chi Minh has begun to wonder about his own basic decision: to stay in a losing fight or to pick up the standing offer to negotiate.

MEANWHILE, President Johnson's ordeal often seems more than a man should have to bear. He can daily read and hear (a) that he is bombing nothing but orphanages and hospitals, or (b) that he is chasing motorcycles and trucks with million-dollar aircraft.

In fact, he does have a master plan, a grand strategy, and it is small wonder if it irks him how little is written or said about it.

(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

THE PERVERSITY of newsmen who keep asking him, "When? When?" is an annoyance. Nobody on earth so yearns for the end of the beatniks, not the Doves, not the volunteer strategists who tell him publicly and privately how to wrap up the victory and bring it home.

Fifteen months ago, in mid-1965, the President had as crucial a decision as any chief executive of the nation ever faced: It was get in—or get out! It was to turn the distant struggle into an American war, with massive commitment, or call it quits. And with all the casualties, all the criticism, all the remaining uncertainty as to duration, it can't be doubted that LBJ did what the country would want him to do.

BUT THE COUNTRY doesn't pay him, and his duties don't require him, to predict. And after listening to many predictors, calculators and exhorters, the President has learned a great deal about margins of error. If these men had been his business counselors, the rancher of the Pedernales would be broke! Destroy the port of Haiphong and sink a couple of Russian ships! How would it shorten the war by ten minutes? Wheel the battle cruisers and blast the coastal targets of North Vietnam! Any ordeal often seems more than a man should have to bear. He can daily read and hear (a) that he is bombing nothing but orphanages and hospitals, or (b) that he is chasing motorcycles and trucks with million-dollar aircraft.

In fact, he does have a master plan, a grand strategy, and it is small wonder if it irks him how little is written or said about it.

David Lawrence Communism's Impact On Oswald

WASHINGTON — The Soviet press has been getting away with a lot of misleading comments about the motives of Lee Harvey Oswald, and seems to have ignored completely the fact that the assassin of President Kennedy was deeply influenced in his thinking by Marxism and communism.

The "Literary Gazette," published in Moscow, had the effrontery last week to charge that Gov. Ronald Reagan of California is "controlled by the forces which took John Kennedy's life." This was reported in a UPI dispatch on Wednesday to newspapers in the United States.

SO FAR AS American observers are concerned, they have been inclined for a long time to believe that Oswald was just a "crackpot." But if there is to be a re-examination of what really influenced Oswald's life, the facts can be found in the Warren Commission report. They show clearly that there was no Hitlerism or Fascism involved — as is now claimed by the Soviet newspaper.

Very little attention has been given in the American press to the impact on Oswald's mind which resulted from his identification with communism. The Warren Commission says he started to read about communism when he was 15 years old and told his fellow Marines later that he was a Communist, though he never formally joined a Communist party. The Warren Commission in its report adds:

tem, but that he nevertheless maintained his belief in Communist ideology.

EARLY IN 1963 Oswald became active in promoting the "Fair Play for Cuba Committee," and in September — two months before the assassination — went from New Orleans to Mexico City to apply at the Cuban embassy there for a visa to Cuba on his way to Russia once more.

Recently Henry J. Taylor, the newspaper columnist who was American ambassador to Switzerland under the Eisenhower administration, published a series of articles which reported that Oswald had a key contact with an officer in the Soviet intelligence service and had written letters to Soviet embassy officials as late as Nov. 9, 1963. Mr. Taylor pointed out treatment in the Soviet Union and declared that he was affiliated "with the Communist cause and its personnel up to the very moment he died."

AT THE TIME Oswald was in Moscow, he wrote to his brother:

"In event of war I would kill any American who put a uniform on in defense of the American government — any American."

There is no doubt that Oswald had an unbalanced mind. But responsibility for unbalancing it rests to some extent on the Communist philosophy in which he was indoctrinated during his two-year stay in Russia.

(Copyright, 1967, Publishers Newspaper Syndicate)

"IT SEEMS CLEAR that his (Oswald's) commitment to Marxism was an important factor influencing his conduct during his adult years. It was an obvious element in his decision to go to Russia and later to Cuba and it probably influenced his decision to shoot at Gen. Walker. It was a factor which contributed to his character and thereby might have influenced his decision to assassinate President Kennedy."

Oswald went to the Soviet Union in October, 1959, at the age of 19, and wrote to his brother that he would fight for communism. He defected to the Soviet Union and lived there for two years. When he came back to the United States in 1961, he said he was disillusioned with the Soviet system, but that he nevertheless maintained his belief in Communist ideology.

DEAR ABBY Must Accept Mother's View

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy of 17. A girl I think a lot of went to the hospital, so I went to visit her there and I carried her some flowers and a small gift. (An inexpensive necklace.)

The next morning she called and said her mother said she had to give the necklace back. Abby, I like this girl a lot. She is only 15 and her mother does not let her date. I have never met her mother. What should I do about this? BEWILDERED

DEAR BEWILDERED: Obviously the girl's mother does not want your necklace on her daughter's neck, and if you don't want the girl's mother on YOURS, you had better accept its return graciously.

DEAR ABBY: I have several grandsons in the service and I just boil when I see the neighbor boy who is 22 years old sitting around doing nothing.

This boy is sloppy fat, and he brags that he stays that way on purpose to keep his blood pressure up so he can't pass the physical. He refuses to hold a steady job, and works only long enough to draw unemployment compensation.

He tells everybody that his hobbies are eating, sleeping and draft-dodging.

When there are so many fine young men volunteering, and even married men being called up, why should fat, lazy slob be allowed to get away with this?

GRANDMA

DEAR GRANDMA: I do not have all the facts, and neither do you. But don't believe everything the boy says. It is a good bet that there is more wrong with him than he admits, and he is only covering up with braggadocio talk. If he were fit material for the service, they would have a uniform on him faster than you can say Vietnam.

DEAR ABBY: Here is another "I love my husband—but" letter: My husband, who is really a wonderful person in every way, teases our two little boys until they get so angry they cry. For instance, the baby is just beginning to walk, so my husband will stand in front of him, and step from side to side so the child can't get through the doorway. Or he will grab a toy, or ball the six-year-old is playing with, and hold it high up over his head so the boy can't reach it.

I am sure my husband loves the boys as much as I do, so I can't understand why he teases them this way. I want the boys to love their father, but if they grow up harboring resentments, I wouldn't blame them. Is there any importance to this?

TROUBLED MOM

DEAR TROUBLED: You are

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff proposed today a $50-billion drive against slums through the 1970s to "rid ourselves of the ghetto cancer that destroys so many of our cities and our people."

The Connecticut Democrat said Congress should insure guarantee job opportunities for all Americans — with the government itself the nation's "employer of last resort" for the jobless. Vaulting past President Johnson's State of the Union proposals, Ribicoff said Congress should appropriate more than $5 billion in 1967 for new programs designed to cope with the ills of American cities.

He said those problems cannot be solved "with the outdated, inefficient, directionless and red-tape snarled programs of today."

NEW YORK (AP) — Bing Crosby and his golfing associates encountered really rough going Saturday and the ABC network and assorted sponsors must have thought longingly of those safe and certain golf programs made months in advance of broadcast time.

A howling gale caused the postponement of the third round of the pro-amateur tournament but on Saturday night Crosby and others tried — rather lamely — to fill out a half-hour of chitchat and news notes but mostly they talked about the weather.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Thai security forces are reported to have made large-scale surprise raids on Communist hideouts in six provinces last weekend, rounding up 117 Communists or suspects and a large number of guns, ammunition and documents.

The reports said the operations indicated for the first time the extent of Communist activities in central Thailand. The raids were also intended to cut links between the Communists operating in the northeast and those in the south along the Malaysian border.

ERRATIC WORK
The play on Sunday seemed to involve some rather erratic camera work, but it was interesting but mostly because we had a chance to see some of the celebrity amateurs, like Dean Martin, Andy Williams and Robert Goulet swinging instead of singing.

The final rounds will be broadcast — live and weather permitting — today.

NBC's biography of a race horse, "Thoroughbred," came along while the golf tournament was still on the air, but the dial switching was well-rewarded.

RACE LOST
Network cameramen were present on March 26, 1964 when a bay colt was born in the Greentree stud outside of Lexington, Ky., and took his first wobbly steps. And they were around during all the important events in the little thoroughbred's life until last Aug. 17 in Saratoga when, as a two-year-old he ran — and lost — his first important race.

In between was fascinating information on the care and training of valuable horseflesh.

CBS decided to postpone its "Essay on Women" Tuesday night in order to show some Polish film shot in North Vietnam. When it found the film had already been shown — on rival ABC it dropped the project and restored the light essay to its evening schedule.

ABC, which in other years used re-runs of "Hollywood Palace" in the summer, this year will import a British variety hour called "London Laughs."

'Madrid' Paper Founder Expires
MADRID, Spain (AP) — Juan Pujol, founder of "Madrid," an evening newspaper in Spain's capital city, died Sunday of bronchopneumonia. He was 83.

Beatle McCartney Grows Mustache
LONDON (AP) — Beatle Paul McCartney has grown a droopy mustache because, the London Sunday Times said, he wants to get away from the mop-top image.

"It's part of breaking up the Beatles," interviewer Derek Jewell quoted him as saying.

'Dead Sea' Discovered

BEAUFORT, N.C. (AP) — A small "dead sea" of poisonous and polluted water was accidentally discovered recently off North Carolina.

Duke University scientists say the basin, four miles northeast of Morehead City, is only the fourth known major area in the world's oceans where nature has so polluted the water that animal life is nonexistent.

The other three are a basin off Venezuela, some of the Norwegian fjords and the Black Sea.

Dr. Robert Menzies, marine biologist and professor of zoology at Duke, said increased industrial wastes or other organic materials could easily upset the precarious balance of oxygen content of additional areas along the North Carolina coast.

Menzies said the necessary studies of current flow and distribution of nutrients and oxygen in the water are "fairly simple" and should be considered before industrial development of the Cape Lookout area.

The small "dead sea" is under 20 to 30 feet of bright blue sea water. The polluted area was discovered by accident by scientists aboard Duke's research vessel Eastward.

Menzies suggested that an opening might be cut through a sand bar separating the bright area from the oxygenated waters of the Atlantic to correct the pollution.

"Once oxygen is present it is safe to predict that the ocean floor will be quickly populated by species of animal life of benefit to man, such as clams and shrimp," Menzies added.

If the polluted area is altered with fresh currents, it would provide a natural laboratory for studying the ways and order in which animal life develops as well as growth rates of the population.

Actor Conway Battles Back

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Things are looking up for Tom Conway. Conway, brother of actor George Sanders and once "The Falcon" in films and "Inspector Mark Sabre" on television, earned nearly $1 million in a 29-year, 290-film acting career.

He was found broke and living in a $2-a-day hotel room in a beatnik area of suburban Venice, Calif., in September 1965. But today his health is better after four months in a county hospital and three months in a convalescent sanitarium for cirrhosis of the liver and general debilitation.

ON WAGON
He has been on the wagon "completely" for nearly a year and finds "the old brain works better."

He's seeing his agent this week to see about getting parts again in movies, television and radio. His last was on TV's "Perry Mason" three years ago.

He has plans to manufacture "a couple of gimmicks I devised while lying in the hospital."

And he plans to develop a Baja California Gulf Coast resort, with local labor building abode cabanas and Conway serving as overseer and host between Hollywood roles.

"I've got a million things cooking," Conway said. "It will be more or less a cold start, but acting-wise I think I'm at my peak."

'JUST SCRAPE BY'
Conway is 62, large-framed, still with great poise and quiet, jovial, British charm. Born in Russia to a Russian mother and a British father, he was educated in England.

Thatches of gray hair protrude above the frames of his thick-lensed spectacles, provided by the county after he had surgery for cataracts on both eyes.

He lives in a modern, $135-a-month, second-floor apartment next to a service station on Wilshire Boulevard. A long-time woman friend prepares his meals and does housework.

He draws a federal old-age benefit and has "a little other income" he declined to specify. "I just scrape by," he said.

Visited unexpectedly—he has no telephone—Conway was in blue jeans, carpet slippers, shirt and sweater. He dabbles in carpentry and plans for the future.

CAP Cadets Get Airplane Flights

Three cadets of the Big Spring Composite Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, received powered flight orientation during squadron activities at Howard County Airport Sunday afternoon.

Cadets Paula Dean Lefebvre, cadet information NCO, Donna Marie Young, Kaydett commander, and Jimmy Carl Young, a new cadet, received the orientation flight from senior member Bill Best, operations officer of the squadron.

Other Civil Air Patrol members up in the new L-16 just purchased by the squadron were CWO Christine Mulkey, supply officer; WO K. D. Lawhon, commandant of cadets, senior member Rodney Hallmark, operations section, and First Lt. E. L. Mulkey, squadron commander.

Business News Pact Revealed

NEW YORK (AP)—A major new venture in the international collection and distribution of economic news was announced today by The Associated Press and Dow Jones & Company, Inc.

The two organizations have signed a contract providing for formation of AP-Dow Jones Economic Report, a business and financial overseas news service that will make use of their respective resources throughout the world. The service will go into operation April 1, transmitting 24 hours daily on newly established land, cable and radio-teletype communications circuits to countries outside the United States and Canada.

DEMAND GROWS
William F. Kerby, president of Dow Jones, and Wes Gallagher, general manager of AP, said in a joint statement that "AP-Dow Jones Economic Report is specially designed to serve the rapidly growing worldwide demand for comprehensive and authoritative economic news—reported and written knowledgeably for a sophisticated audience."

The news report will be written, edited and transmitted by a special staff, but will also have access to the news reporting of some 4,000 full-time staff members already stationed in 104 countries. The stories reported for the new service by its own staff will thus be supplemented by material developed by the existing global staff of The AP, news agency, and by the staffs of the publications produced by Dow Jones, since 1882 the leading economic news-gathering organization in the United States and Canada.

DEEP-DIGGING
Dow Jones publishes The Wall Street Journal, Barron's Business and Financial Weekly, and The National Observer, and operates two business news wire services, the Dow Jones News Services in the United States and Canada.

Kerby and Gallagher said AP-Dow Jones Economic Report will be delivered by private teletype to individual subscribers, such as bankers, brokers, industrialists, traders and other businessmen, as well as to newspapers and news agencies. The new service, they said, will emphasize "enterprising, deep-digging reporting. It will give businessmen immediate facts on news developments and economic trends affecting their business and their markets."

CHANGING TRENDS
Aside from carrying daily stock and commodity market quotations from the world's business centers, AP-Dow Jones Economic Report will cover and analyze the changing trends in national economies and major industries throughout the world. Industry and corporate coverage will include reports on domestic and export marketing plans, price policy, new products and processes and earnings prospects. The development of new government trade, fiscal and monetary policies will be covered, as well as specific actions in the economic field. Other areas of coverage will range from finance and commodities to new management techniques.

BRANCH PLANTS
"The emphasis," the announcement said, "will be on useful news—news that will equip businessmen with the information to make sounder, prompter decisions and to grasp opportunities quickly in today's increasingly competitive business climate."

"The service also will enable businessmen to keep their own customers and potential customers better informed of developments of interest to them. And it will enable business concerns to have the service delivered to branch plants, ending the feeling of isolation and inadequate information that often troubles operations scattered far from headquarters."

"This news report will provide the economic intelligence needed by the modern, profit-minded businessman who wants to run his enterprise more competitively and efficiently," they said.

Montreal Coach Says Team Quit

CHICAGO (AP)—Coach Toe Blake called his Montreal Canadiens "a bunch of quitters" and virtually dismissed their hopes of repeating as National Hockey League champions Sunday night following a 4-1 loss to the Chicago Black Hawks.

"I never thought I'd have a team that would quit," shouted the infuriated, gun-chewing Blake, who has guided the Canadiens to eight championships in the last 11 years.

Blake wasn't the only unhappy NHL coach. New York's Emile Francis saw the Rangers bludgeoned by Boston in consecutive losses to Boston and Detroit. The Bruins won Saturday 6-2 and the Red Wings Sunday 7-2.

Boston completed its weekend sweep with a 3-1 decision over Toronto Sunday.

Clay Exercises, But Not His Pact

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Ernie Terrell took a day off from training today and the other heavyweight champion, Cassius Clay, planned a sparring session in addition to the usual three miles of dawn roadwork in preparation for the Feb. 6 showdown fight in the Astro-dome.

Airman Scudder Awarded AF Commendation Medal

Airman I.C. Bruce A. Scudder recently was awarded the Air Force Commendation medal for service in Vietnam. Airman Scudder has served as a day shift chief in the T-37 section since his arrival at Webb in October. Presentation of the medal was made in ceremonies held in his office by Col. William K. Knight, chief of maintenance.

The citation accompanying the award of the Commendation Medal read in part: "A distinguished himself by outstanding achievement as an assistant crew chief on the RF-101C aircraft at Tan Son Nhut Air Base, Vietnam from Nov. 15, 1965 to April 1, 1966. His exceptional technical know-how and accurate trouble shooting techniques during aircraft preflight and postflight inspections kept the aircraft down time to a minimum. Through his efforts, his aircraft averaged 77 flying hours per month, well above any stateside average."

A veteran of six years Air Force service, Airman Scudder brought back some favorable impressions from his Vietnam tour.

"The first thing that you become aware of is that every serviceman there is a man, regardless of his age. "I liked the Vietnamese people. I was able to observe the tremendous good accomplished by the orphanages established by U.S. forces. "The USOs are flooded by mail addressed simply to 'Serviceman, Vietnam.' And it was heartening to see the mountains of cookies sent to the hospitals. I saw these personally when I was hospitalized for an appendectomy during the Christmas season in 1965."

Airman Scudder also related that he missed by two days seeing his brother, who is a veteran of 30 years' service in the U.S. Army. His brother had served a tour at the same base, but left two days before Airman Scudder's arrival.

Airman Scudder and his wife have two children, Keith 4, and Cheryl 3.

CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS Uncle Sam To Ax Jackie's Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government plans to discontinue after July 1 clerical and office funds for Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

For several years after her husband's death, Mrs. Kennedy received $50,000 a year from the government to cope with massive correspondence and other business relating to the assassination. At her request, funds for the current fiscal year were cut to $30,000.

"The work at my office, although still considerable, has diminished enough so that I can personally assume the burden of my own official business," Mrs. Kennedy recently wrote President Johnson and the Bureau of the Budget.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott says he will introduce today a bill that would require public disclosure of the source and use of all contributions to candidates for federal elective office.

Scott said in a prepared Senate speech his bill would require members of Congress and candidates for Congress to disclose all gifts or payments they receive with a value of more than $100. His bill would apply to primaries and pre-convention spending as well as to general election expenses.

FOOTNOTES

The AFL-CIO committee on collective bargaining with General Electric Co. and Westinghouse Corp. intends to continue cooperation among the 11 member unions, especially in the fields of organizing and contract administration.

Rep. Fred Schwengel, R-Iowa, says 11 senators and 31 representatives have signed a letter to President Johnson seeking a change in the St. Lawrence Seaway's financial structure to eliminate a need for a toll increase.

CAPITAL QUOTES

"I propose that in 1970 — after three years of careful planning — we begin spending this money at the rate of $5 billion a year — until all substantial housing is erased from the land." — Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., urging a 10-year, $50-billion drive to "rid ourselves of the ghetto cancer that destroys so many of our cities and our people."

Time To Spray Against Tree Gall Formers, Scale

This is the best season of the year, according to Paul Gross, county agent, to take steps to control plant pests which infest deciduous trees and plants.

The plants are in dormant stage now, Gross pointed out and can be effectively treated for many diseases by proper use of dormant oils.

Spraying pecan and fruit orchards as well as ornamental trees and shrubs with such oils can often prevent severe damage from phylloxera (gall formers) and scale insects the following season. Control during the growing season is difficult due to the hard waxy covering on scale insects and the protective gall of phylloxera. During the winter, these insects are generally in the egg stage and oils are effective as oviducers — are able to cause death to the egg.

There are two types of dormant oils on the market, concentrated emulsions and emulsible oils. Such terms as emulsible oils, miscible oils, and soluble oils are applied to emulsible oils. These oils usually consist of an oil in which one or more emulsifying agents have been dissolved. Emulsible oils usually contain from 95 to 99 per cent oil. The concentrated emulsions usually contain from 80 to 90 per cent oil by volume.

Careful attention should be paid to the selection and application of a dormant oil. Generally, heavier oils are more toxic to insects; however, they are also more toxic to plants. The more highly refined or purer an oil, the safer it is to the plant; also, the higher the cost of the oil.

Oils kill insects by completely enveloping them in a continuous film which interferes with respiration, thus suffocating the insect. Therefore, complete coverage of plants with a dormant oil spray is necessary in obtaining satisfactory control. Avoid excessive application as damage to the tree may result. Dormant oils should be applied when the temperature is between 40 and 60 degrees F. and free of freezing weather within 48 hours after application.

Dormant oils should not be allowed to get on the roots of trees.

Dormant oils have reportedly damaged sugar and Japanese maple, beech, hickory, walnut, and butternut trees.

Follow directions given on the container label, Gross said.

Stock Market Prices Climb

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market climbed in heavy trading early this afternoon, spurred by reports that Ho Chi Minh, leader of North Vietnam, had invited President Johnson to confer with him in Hanoi.

The report came from London and quoted a rabbi who said he had seen Ho.

On the theory that "peace is bullish," stocks were bought on a broad front.

The more volatile glamor stocks, however, were the most heavily traded.

The market rose from the start, reached a peak late in the morning then backed away from its best level.

Arkansas Rape Ruling Issued

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court unanimously ordered a lower federal court today to hear an Arkansas Negro's claim that the death penalty is administered disproportionately to Negroes convicted of raping white women.

The court made no comment in ordering the U.S. Circuit Court in St. Louis to clear the way for a hearing on the claim. It was made by civil rights lawyers on behalf of William L. Maxwell, a Negro sentenced to death in Garland County, Arkansas, in 1962 for the rape of a 35-year-old unmarried white woman.

OPTIMIZATION SPEED READING COMES TO BIG SPRING

Optimization, the most advanced method known for teaching speed reading, will hold classes in Big Spring.

OPTIMIZATION EXTENDS... its usual invitation to everyone — High School & Jr. High students, teachers, business and professional people.

"Horse and Buggy reading methods are no longer sufficient to keep pace with today's increased reading requirements," says Dr. Cecil Mullins, inventor of Optimization.

The world is moving ahead of every field of endeavor at jet speed in a jet age. Today's industry could not survive by using the same methods used decades ago. It just does not make sense to use antiquated reading methods.

Dr. Mullins, renowned Educational Psychologist, says that the faster you read, the more you comprehend. "Fifteen years ago," he continued, "I became intrigued with the tremendous possibilities of the human mind. I found that by teaching students to read with greater speed and concentration, I was able to make them read books in as little as fifteen minutes with better comprehension than they would ever have been able to in 8 to 10 hours. It didn't matter whether the books were fictional, history, or of a technical nature. A doctor can devour medical books, a lawyer legal matter, etc. at unprecedented and often unbelievable speeds."

Dr. Mullins' methods were so successful that he created the Optimization Speed Reading Course. Taught in 12 two-hour sessions Optimization guarantees the student will read at least 1,000 words a minute or a book in an hour or less with good comprehension. "One of the secrets of our success," said Dr. Mullins, "is that we are firmly committed to the principles that learning proceeds best, only when the students are enjoying themselves. In our classes most of the students have a ball from beginning to end—and along the way, they become the best readers anywhere."

The accomplishments of some of Optimization's previous students sound like something out of science fiction. One 13-year-old lad reads books for his public school assignments in 6 to 10 minutes. His grades have jumped from barely passing to straight A's and B's after taking the course.

Another ex-student, a 35-year-old public school teacher, has made less than average grades in his undergraduate university work. He went back for graduate studies after developing, thru Optimization, the ability to read an average non-fiction book in 10 to 15 minutes. His first semester at Texas University he was awarded straight A's and a chance for a scholarship.

These are just two of many reports from teachers, doctors, lawyers and other business and professional men who find that each day has progressively more reading to be done and fewer minutes to do it.

"I know the results sound incredible," Dr. Mullins said, "But we have a standing offer for anyone who is undecided to come to our first meeting free of any obligation, to see for himself what the course will be like. And our guarantee is absolutely firm."
