The Verdict: Guilty

Bobby Baker was without expression yesterday as he left the U.S. District Court Building in Washington after a jury found him guilty of income tax evasion, larceny of campaign funds and conspiracy. Baker, former secretary to the Democratic majority in the U.S. Senate, may remain free on bond until his sentencing. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Baker Says He Plans To Fight Conviction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bobby Baker plans to fight his conviction for tax evasion, conspiracy and stealing campaign funds to the Supreme Court if necessary.

His hands trembling and his cheeks whitening, the former secretary to Senate Democrats and behind-the-scenes power on Capitol Hill heard a federal court jury Sunday pronounce him guilty.

But Baker, 38, a one-time Senate page who built a $2-million fortune, stayed free on $5,000 bail.

Sentencing is expected in about two weeks. Penalties for the seven counts on which he was convicted could total 48 years in prison and $47,000 in fines.

ALL THE WAY

"We, of course, are going to the (U.S.) Appeals Court and all the way to the Supreme Court if necessary," said Baker's attorney Edward Bennett Williams. One Justice Department official speculated the appeal process could consume two years.

The trial lasted three weeks and centered around $99,600 in campaign funds contributed by California savings and loan executives.

Lyndon B. Johnson was referred to in testimony by Baker — though not by name — and names of other political figures dotted the proceedings. Seven senators and a representative appeared one day to testify.

The consequences for Baker, if he does not win a reversal on appeal, would almost certainly be far more severe than the wrist slap the Senate Rules Committee gave him after a probe into business dealings he conducted before resigning his Senate job under fire in October 1963.

PARTY GIRLS

While the Senate investigation had brought out allegations of party girls and racy goings-on in the trial in U.S. District Court was money-oriented.

Judge Oliver Gasch told newsmen, "It was essentially a question of credibility. If the defense was believed by the jury I could see an acquittal and if the defense was not believed this was an entirely appropriate verdict."

The verdict was delivered by six men and six women, all millions of dollars in taxes to savings and loan associations owned by stockholders.

The Baker story was that he collected $99,600 cash from California savings and loan executives in 1962 and turned it over to the late Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla. This, Williams stressed, was after Kerr had ceased pushing a tax bill provision which would have cost added

U.S. Sends F-104's And Men To Jordan

Press dispatches out of Washington have announced that an emergency airlift of arms from the U.S. to Jordan has gotten under way. It was announced out of Amman, Jordan, that two U.S. C-130 cargo planes delivered the first equipment in mid-January.

The U.S. airlift and aid is a part of an American effort to restore the arms balance in the mid-East, the Washington dispatch said.

An official Air Force announcement, coming out of Webb Air Force Base, today said: "A number of U.S. Air Force personnel are being deployed temporarily to Jordan in connection with training of Jordanian Air Force personnel. This temporary deployment is necessitated by accelerated delivery of F-104 aircraft to Jordan as announced by the State Department Dec. 22, 1966.

"That statement was 'at request of Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan the United States government has agreed to provide under its existing military assistance program certain items of military equipment to strengthen the defensive capability of Jordanian armed forces. This additional equipment is being provided as means of enabling Jordan to assure its security, and thus contribute further to stability of area. A substantial portion of this equipment will be airlifted to Jordan over the 30 to 60 days. In addition to these deliveries, some of the F-104 interceptors aircraft previously purchased by Jordan, will be expedited."

The 33rd Fighter-Interceptor Squadron, an Air Defense Command unit based at Webb, is equipped with the F-104 aircraft, the type being delivered to Jordan.

While the Air Force official announcement said nothing about the local unit, there are indications that some elements of this squadron are involved in the general deployment to the mid-East.

There was no official information as to number of aircraft or number of personnel involved locally.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI and Soviet President Nikolai V. Podgorny met for more than an hour today in the Pope's studio, discussing the Vietnam war and Roman Catholicism inside the Soviet Union.

Podgorny, highest Communist official ever received by any Pope, spent 70 minutes with the pontiff in an audience marked by an unusual degree of protocol.

The Vatican said later in a communique that the two talked about "questions concerning the maintenance of peace and improvement of relations between peoples" and that Pope Paul discussed with Podgorny "problems about religious life and the presence of the Catholic Church on Soviet territory."

Good Guys Switch From White Hats
BEVERLY, Mass. (AP) — Beverly's good guys are switching from white hats to blue hats as they'll have less trouble catching bad guys.

Police Chief Edward Aucone said Sunday that, although he prefers white hats, he agreed to the change after his men said the white hats made them "good targets" and prevented them from catching burglars.

Johnson Seeks Power To Control Pollution

Storm Deaths Near 100

By The Associated Press

Midwest cities Monday shook partly free of last week's record snowstorm as the death count from effects of the paralyzing snow and ice neared 100. An additional three-inch snowfall which brought Chicago's total to 26 inches went almost unnoticed as main streets and highways were reopened and thin streams of traffic moved.

Arctic cold moved into snow-clogged northern sections of Lower Michigan where the mercury dipped to 20 below zero. Alpena had -18.

In the Far West, a coastal storm which had flung 100-mile winds and rain, lost much of its punch today.

SNOWDRIFTS

The storm toll in Michigan rose to 22 deaths. Indiana counted 15, Wisconsin five and Ohio one.

At least 56 persons were dead in Illinois following the 23-inch snowfall Thursday and Friday that set a Chicago record. At midweek Sunday, city and suburban crews worked to clear remaining snowdrifts—up to 15 feet deep—on two inches of new snow settled on the area. Madison, Wis., had three inches in the same period.

BLOOD SHORTAGE

Most main streets in Chicago were clear, but side streets lay buried under drifts, their intersections blocked by abandoned autos parked at crazy angles.

O'Hare International Airport, closed since 7:30 a.m. Thursday, reopened at 5:45 p.m. Sunday.

Commuter trains were running, if not quite on schedule. But many city buses were rerouted and some routes were closed by abandoned vehicles blocking the streets.

Hospital spokesmen voiced fear that a blood shortage would develop. They said blood donors had made almost no donations since Thursday when the snow began.

LOOTING DIPS

Looting, particularly severe Friday and Saturday in the West Side neighborhood plagued last summer by looting and rioting, dropped off sharply. At least 237 looting arrests were made. A 10-year-old girl was shot to death during one incident.

Chicago public and parochial schools and many suburban schools, remained closed, but several area colleges and universities resumed classes.

Food hoarding remained a problem, with many grocery shelves bare from a weekend onslaught of shoppers afraid to be caught without supplies. Truck drivers found it difficult to make deliveries in the snow-clogged streets.

Former Banker Free On Bond

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—A former Athens bank president, Hubert Marshall Aaron, 50, was free on bond today after his weekend conviction on 37 charges of embezzlement and making false entries in the bank books. Sentencing was set for Feb. 27.

Aaron had sold his interest in the Farmers and Merchants State Bank of Athens in May of 1965 to three Athens men after he had been president since arriving in Athens from Mineola in 1960.

The federal government charged Aaron Aug. 8, 1966, with embezzling or making false entries for a total of $8,754 during his presidency.

The federal court jury found him innocent of three counts of making bank checks and money orders without bank directors' permission. The jury also cleared Aaron's former secretary, Mrs. Jeanelle Busby, of two charges of making false entries.

Aaron testified Mrs. Busby made the entries under his direction. He is under $100,000 bond.

Grissoms At Memorial Service

Sad Space Community Mourns Apollo Astros

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — In silent tribute, Cape Kennedy today bade farewell to America's three Apollo astronauts. Their remains headed toward their burial sites, in flag-draped coffins.

Members of a board of inquiry probing to answer the torturing question, "Why did it happen?" stood with about 300 other persons as the bodies of Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Comdr. Roger Chaffee left in the same Air Force jet.

FATAL FLASH

Although there was no official confirmation from the board or National Aeronautics and Space Administration, all signs today indicated that a flaw somewhere in Apollo 1's electrical system sparked the fatal flash fire that turned the moonship into a deadly furnace.

There was also reason to believe that the investigators do not now know exactly where or how that flaw occurred.

MILITARY ESCORT

With a military escort, the coffins were carried in civilian hearses from a medical dispensary to the Cape Kennedy airfield, located less than four miles from the launch pad where the spacemen died Friday in a ball of flame.

After a flight of about one hour, the Air Force jet carrying their remains lands at Andrews Air Force Base in Washington. From there, the bodies of Grissom and Chaffee go to Arlington National Cemetery, where three other U.S. astronauts, killed in plane crashes, are also buried.

The two Apollo 1 pilots will be buried there Tuesday with heroes' honors, Grissom at 9 a.m. and Chaffee at 1 p.m.

TRIBUTE PAID

White's body will be taken to a Highland Falls, N.Y., funeral home to await burial at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

Paying tribute to a fallen comrade during memorial services for Chaffee Sunday at Webster, Tex., near the Manned Spacecraft Center, three astronauts flew gleaming jets out of a setting sun. They left a vacant slot in their formation to honor their fellow astronaut.

At Seabrook, Tex., just down the road from Webster, relatives and friends of astronaut Grissom crowded the Seabrook Methodist church to capacity today to mourn the plucky veteran of Mercury and Gemini flights.

DEAD FRIEND

During the memorial services, the family's minister said Grissom would not have wanted "anything stopped or changed because of his death."

Three astronauts paid pilots' tributes to Grissom, as had been done for Chaffee, by jetting over the church in traditional diamond formation, with a slot vacant for a dead friend. Similar services were planned later today for White.

At Cape Kennedy, the 12-man board of inquiry continued probing the tragedy, looking at photographs taken of the cockpit, interviewing witnesses and studying data.

All that remains inside Apollo 1 is a gutted, charred mass of burnt-out wires and scattered debris, an eyewitness said.

BACKS OF REDS BROKEN Turning Point In War?

Editor's Note: Operation Cedar Falls, the biggest U.S. military operation of the Vietnamese war, ended Thursday after 19 days. AP Correspondent George McArthur reviews the big sweep of the Viet Cong's "iron triangle" north of Saigon and what U.S. commanders say it achieved.

Gen. William De Puy, whose 1st Division infantrymen did much of the fighting.

More than 1,000 air strikes were flown during the 19-day operation. Giant B52 bombers from Guam dropped 1.5 million pounds of explosives. Day and night, field artillery gunners rained uncounted rounds supporting Seaman's 21 American and seven South Vietnamese "maneuver battalions."

The Viet Cong lost 720 dead and almost 600 weapons, an unprecedented proportion. While U.S. casualties for specific operations are not revealed, they were officially characterized as "light" and the ratio was roughly one American killed for every seven dead Viet Cong, or about 100 Americans.

The Americans captured more than 2.7 million documents of varying sorts — the richest single haul of Communist records ever taken in Vietnam.

'BIG FISH'

A total of 516 prisoners surrendered or were captured, some of them party members with intimate knowledge of the vital Red headquarters in the area. Sorting the "big fish" from the lesser fry is still going on.

The cost of the operation in dollars isn't measurable. The seized documents alone are worth the cost, U.S. officers say. A report of the 1st Division says: "Some of these documents describe in detail the activities of (Viet Cong) military region 4 from 1962 through 1966 and their intelligence value is tremendous. These documents contain the strengths of Viet Cong units, the names of their members, the towns and villages in which they operate, some of their meeting places, and a great amount of information on exactly how they operate and what their future plans are."

GIVE UP

Almost all the 503 Vietnamese who voluntarily gave themselves up under the Chieu Hoi (Open Arms) program came in with leaflets carrying the allied surrender offer, although the mere possession of these leaflets can lead to the death penalty in Communist units. And these people were surrendering from a top Communist headquarters area.

Fight Against 'Poisoned Air' Is Being Lost

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, saying "America's struggle against poisoned air" now is being lost, asked Congress today for legislation giving the federal government power to control air pollution.

But in a special message titled "Protecting Our National Heritage," Johnson said federal action alone cannot master pollution.

"The states, the cities and private industry must commit themselves more fully, more effectively and with a new sense of urgency to America's struggle against poisoned air," Johnson said.

FIRST STEPS

Johnson said one of the first new steps in the attack on air pollution should be emission control levels for those industries that contribute heavily to air pollution.

He recommended that the secretary of Health, Education and Welfare be authorized to designate industries that contribute significantly to air pollution, develop and publish industry emission levels, provide each state the opportunity to adopt equivalent levels or stricter ones, and to apply federal levels in those states which do not adopt their own.

FEDERAL HELP

The secretary also would be authorized to designate interstate areas where effective regional air pollution programs are needed and to set up a regional air quality commission in each such area.

In another step to combat air pollution, Johnson proposed federal matching grants to help the states establish inspection programs for motor vehicle pollution control.

He said also that there must be additional research in various fields, including the contribution of fuel additives to air pollution.

PLAN KILLED

In last week's budget message to Congress, Johnson recommended that $46.34 million be spent during fiscal 1968 to fight air pollution, an increase of $20.3 million over this year.

Johnson again proposed establishing a national water commission because water problems are becoming increasingly critical in various parts of the country. The plan died in Congress last year.

The proposal was part of a $3.51-billion conservation and natural resources section of the President's budget, up $228 million from this year's estimated spending.

Connally's Pay Raise Plan Asked

AUSTIN (AP) — The House adopted 143-0 today a resolution asking Gov. John Connally to submit his state employees pay raise plan to the legislature for emergency consideration.

The measure adopted is a rewritten version of a resolution approved Thursday by the Senate asking Connally to submit state employee salaries—not necessarily his own—as an emergency.

Further Senate action now is required for the resolution to go into effect, since the measure was amended.

Still pending in the Senate is a bill by Sen. Charles Herring of Austin that would raise the salaries of about 38,000 employees March 1 at a cost of $5.2 million.

No effective date is mentioned in the House resolution. If the employee pay raise plan Connally already has recommended as of Sept. 1 were made effective March 1, the six-month cost would be about $6 million, said Rep. Don Cavness of Austin.

Cavness said Herring's bill, if passed, "would have been inadequate" and "was drawn up overnight" while Connally's plan was devised after months of research and consultation.

Too Much Crude Oil Produced?

By MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Oil Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—There is concern within some segments of the domestic petroleum industry that too much crude oil is being produced in the United States.

Record production has caused crude oil inventories to jump sharply. There is some fear the buildup is too sharp in that a normal spring slump in demand is just weeks away.

Crude oil being held in storage Jan. 20 exceeded 253.4 million barrels. Inventories totaled only 219.8 million a year earlier.

Crude production the week ending Jan. 20 averaged a record 8,740,000 million barrels a day. It was the fourth new record level within seven weeks. Production the four weeks ending Jan. 20 averaged 8,678,560 barrels a day, compared to 8,210,810 a year earlier.

WARNING
Texas regulatory officials have reduced the state's February production allowable by 23,000 barrels a day after hearing reports that January output was exceeding demand.

The chief spokesman for the nation's independent oil operators has warned that the industry cannot continue to send oil to storage at such an excessive rate.

"Demand could be met and inventories maintained at more than adequate levels with a crude oil production rate some 300,000 barrels a day less than current output," said F. Allen Calvert, the independent Petroleum Association of America president from Tulsa, Okla.

Another spokesman for the independents had said in December that domestic crude production increased about 321,000 barrels a day in 1966 but included a substantial amount of borrowing against future production in that large quantities of the output went into storage.

Minor S. Jameson Jr., the association's executive vice president from Washington, D. C., said demand for crude increased 345,000 barrels a day in 1966 but actual production jumped 321,000 barrels.

Sanitary Fill At New Location

The city's sanitary fill method of garbage disposal will move next to the area between the sewage treatment plant and FM 700, Ernest Lillard, public works director, said this morning.

This area is below the surrounding land, especially in the newly developed ball parks adjacent, and Lillard said this area would be leveled.

The city has almost finished its land reclamation project on North Birdwell Lane, where a deep ravine has been filled and leveled. Lillard said the trucks would start hauling into the new area with a few weeks.

Study Four Points

Big Spring Traffic Commissioners will study four projects on its agenda Tuesday, meeting at 3:30 p.m. in the City Hall. Traffic controls on Settles and Ayllford will be discussed, as well as a new traffic control at Goliad and FM 700. A "no parking" zone in front of the Taylor Building will also be considered.

Kerr Blames Gov. Reagan

NEW YORK (AP)—Clark Kerr, fired as president of the University of California, is quoted in this week's issue of Newsweek magazine as saying the move to oust him began late last year and that Gov. Ronald Reagan's role in his dismissal was "very substantial."

Newsweek quoted Kerr as saying in an interview: "There was a strong suggestion from a close supporter (of Gov. Reagan) that I resign prior to Jan. 1. And the governor privately met with some of the regents the week before the action was taken."

A majority of the 16 regents voted to fire Kerr immediately on Jan. 20, resulting in a furor that raged the length of the state and into academic circles across the nation.

Newsweek also reported Kerr said Reagan, as a member of the Board of Regents, brought three new votes to the board "and influence over several other votes."

"Beginning with Gov. Reagan's election last November," Kerr said, "the situation changed quite drastically."

Kerr said the rise of the free speech movement on the Berkeley campus was "only half the story" behind his dismissal.

"The other half is that the left-wing radicals at Berkeley triggered an intense reaction among the right-wing radicals in California," he said. As a result, he said, as university president he became for many people "a symbol of tolerance for expression of opinions they didn't like."

Odessa College Site Of Exams On Deferment

ODESSA — Three Selective Service student deferment examinations have been scheduled by the state selective service headquarters to be held at Odessa College on March 11 and 31, and April 8.

According to Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, students must apply for permission to take the test by Friday, Feb. 10. Application blanks and information pamphlets are available at the college or through the local draft board.

Col. Schwartz pointed out that taking the test is entirely optional with the student. He said that in order to be eligible, the applicant must be registered with a draft board, intend to request occupational deferment as a student, and have not previously taken the test.

The examination is to be given at 23 colleges and universities in the state. Col. Schwartz noted that approximately 7,000 men took the test in November and about 30,000 did so the previous May and June.

Federal Wage Takes Effect On Wednesday

Editor's Note: The federal minimum wage increases on Wednesday. Coupled with the current fervor over a state minimum wage and a move by some groups for city minimum wages, it means more pay for some employees, a loss of jobs for some, and in some instances price increases for the consumer. The state has filed suit to exempt its employees from the federal increase. The AP takes a look at the minimum wage.

By The Associated Press
A federal minimum wage increase takes hold in Texas Wednesday—a state suit notwithstanding—and some employers are going to be paying larger salaries and many customers are going to feel the raises where it hurts the most—in the billfold.

POVERTY CURE?
The federal minimum wage increase, up to a $1 an hour for some businesses and $1.60 for others, comes at a time when there is pressure in the Texas Legislature for a $1.25 minimum hourly wage for Texas workers not covered by the federal law. A move also is afoot in some towns for a local minimum hourly wage of $1.25.

The federal minimum wage laws extends to state employes, with a $1 an hour minimum for 44 hours extending to such persons as employees of the many state hospitals. The law is under attack in Houston federal court in a suit filed by Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

Many call the minimum wage increase as a cure for poverty. Others say it creates more poverty than it alleviates, through loss of jobs and increased prices.

William Rogers, director of the U.S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division in Dallas, said "There will be some price adjustment by employers. Laundries have in some instances not been paying the minimum and will have to go up."

OVERTIME PAY
Rogers said the minimum wage of $1 per hour will apply for the first time to hospitals and nursing homes, schools, dry cleaning establishments regardless of size, all contractors engaged in construction, large hotels, motels and restaurants, and some farms.

He said workers previously covered by the $1.25 hourly wage will get $1.40. Also, all overtime work except those on farms will be paid time-and-a-half under the federal law.

Rogers said "There are provisions under the law that handicapped persons, those with physical or mental impairment, those past the age of 65, and school students can be paid less than the minimum wage."

SPOT CHECKS
Rogers said there will probably be some violations because of "failure to understand the law." He said spot checks will be made to see if employers are complying.

"If we run into anybody deliberately violating the law, then we will ask the federal courts to step in," Rogers said.
Texas Atty. Gen. Martin has filed a suit on behalf of the State of Texas, asking that the government be enjoined from enforcing the law in regard to state employes.

"The financial structure of the state would be subjected to immediate chaos," Martin said. "The state would never be in a position to adequately establish a budget and forecast revenues needed for the future operations."

SUIT SLATED
"If hospitals and schools operated by the state can be subjects of regulation in the area of wages and hours, then the Public Health Department, the police, the Highway Department, the Railroad Commission, the Board of Medical Examiners—even the legislature would be subject to jurisdiction, control and regulation of various federal agencies at the whim of Congress."

A three-judge panel—Judges John E. Brown, Woodrow Seals and John V. Singleton—will hear the suit in Houston at an undetermined date.

U.S. Atty. Morton Susman told The Associated Press the suit probably will be heard in the next 30 days.

Susman, who filed a motion seeking dismissal of the case, said a meeting will be held Monday to see what to do with the money that accumulates for the state employes during the litigation.

CHAOTIC CONDITION
"It is possible the parties will agree on a protective device in which the money can be put in a separate bank account and held until a decision is made on the challenge," Morton said.

The minimum wage increase will have some immediate price repercussions across the state, a spot check shows.

C. H. DeVaney, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, said the federal minimum wage "is creating a chaotic condition for farmers and ranchers. It is forcing complete mechanization of agriculture. This will result in higher costs to farmers. It will mean the elimination of more farm workers."

"The passage of a state minimum wage would only aggravate this situation and result in higher food costs."

OPTIMIZATION SPEED READING COMES TO BIG SPRING

Optimization, the most advanced method known for teaching speed reading, will hold classes in Big Spring.

OPTIMIZATION EXTENDS . . . its usual invitation to everyone — High School & Jr. High students, teachers, business and professional people.

"Horse and Buggy reading methods are no longer sufficient to keep pace with today's increased reading requirements," says Dr. Cecil Mullins, inventor of Optimization.

The world is moving ahead of every field of endeavor at jet speed in a jet age. Today's industry could not survive by using the same methods used decades ago. It just does not make sense to use antiquated reading methods.

Dr. Mullins, renowned Educational Psychologist, says that the faster you read, the more you comprehend. "Fifteen years ago," he continued, "I became intrigued with the tremendous possibilities of the human mind. I found that by teaching students to read with greater speed and concentration, I was able to make them read books in as little as fifteen minutes with better comprehension than they would ever have been able to in 8 to 10 hours. It didn't matter whether the books were fictional, history, or of a technical nature. A doctor can devour medical books, a lawyer legal matter, etc. at unprecedented and often unbelievable speeds."

Dr. Mullins' methods were so successful that he created the Optimization Speed Reading Course. Taught in 12 two-hour sessions, Optimization guarantees the student will read at least 1,000 words a minute or a book in an hour or less with good comprehension. "One of the secrets of our success," said Dr. Mullins, "is that we are firmly committed to the principles that learning proceeds best, only when the students are enjoying themselves. In our classes most of the students have a ball from beginning to end—and along the way, they become the best readers anywhere."

The accomplishments of some of Optimization's previous students sound like something out of science fiction. One 13-year-old lad reads books for his public school assignments in 6 to 10 minutes. His grades have jumped from barely passing to straight A's and B's after taking the course.

Another ex-student, a 25-year-old public school teacher, has made less than average grades in his undergraduate university work. He went back for graduate studies after developing, thru Optimization, the ability to read an average non-fiction book in 10 to 15 minutes. His first semester at Texas University he was awarded straight A's and a chance for a scholarship.

These are just two of many reports from teachers, doctors, lawyers and other business and professional men who find that each day has progressively more reading to be done and fewer minutes to do it.

"I know the results sound incredible," Dr. Mullins said. "But we have a standing offer for anyone who is undecided to come to our first meeting free of any obligation, to see for himself what the course will be like. And our guarantee is absolutely firm."

Four Persons Shot To Death

By The Associated Press
Fifteen persons died from violence in Texas over the weekend, nine in traffic accidents. Four were shot to death and another was either shot or beaten.

William DeLoyce Jackson, 43, attendant at a parking lot in Dallas, was found dead and an autopsy was ordered to determine how he met his death. A co-worker, Charley Washington, 69, was unconscious from beating. Police later found an abandoned car that had been stolen from the parking garage. Armegeleo Valdez, 46, was shot to death in Dallas, with a 56-year-old man being held for questioning.

Jesus Carlos Martinez, 2, died in a San Antonio hospital after he was shot in his mother's arms as his parents walked down a street. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Martinez, said they thought they heard a

Fire Leaves 15 Homeless

DALLAS (AP) — A three-alarm fire raced through two vacant buildings and a two-story frame hotel on State and Hall streets late Sunday night, leaving one man burned and 15 other persons homeless.

L. B. Reese, 53, resident of the Little State Tourist Hotel, suffered second degree burns on his right arm. He was reported in good condition at a hospital.

Oak Tree Kills Auto Passenger

MALCOLM, Md. (AP) — A 16-foot oak tree, blown over by a wind gust, killed an automobile passenger Sunday in a freak highway accident.

Mexico Booming

DALLAS (AP) — Mexico is the most dynamically developing country in Latin America with no end in sight for its booming economy, a former U.S. ambassador, Merwin L. Bohan of Dallas, said here in a recent speech.

Mayor Carr Dies

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Robert S. Carr, Orlando's mayor since 1956, died Sunday a week after suffering a heart attack. He was 67.

Fog Hugs Italy

MILAN (AP) — Dense smog darkened Milan today as fog hugged much of northern Italy.

Dog Sled Racer Seppala Expires
SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Leonard Seppala, famed as one of the great dog sled racers of his time, died Saturday. He was 89. A native Norwegian, Seppala and other racers saved Nome, Alaska, from a diphtheria epidemic in 1925 by rushing serum across a 650-mile stretch of arctic barrens.

Brother Of Fallen Astronaut Goes To Last Rites

1st Lt. James B. White, an instructor pilot with the 5581st Pilot Training Squadron, has gone to West Point, N.Y., where the body of his astronaut brother, Lt. Col. Edward H. White II, will be held.

Seven Accidents Reported Here

Seven accidents occurred during the weekend, two involving parked cars. Mrs. R. A. Rogers, Golden West Motel, reported her car had been hit while driver of the City Auditorium.

Mrs. Davidson's Rites Held Today

Last rites were said today at 3 p.m. in Trinity Baptist Church for Mrs. N. B. Davidson, 89, who died here Saturday.

Police Seeking Man For Fondling

Police Monday were searching for a man alleged to have fondled a nine-year-old girl. While going to a nearby store on an errand, the girl and her seven-year-old companion said a man stopped to inquire the way to the air base.

Fowler Asks National Debt Ceiling Boost

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler asked Congress today to raise the national debt ceiling by $7 billion to a new level of $337 billion.

He said that unless Congress acts, the Treasury will have to start holding up some payments within a month.

In an unusually blunt statement to the House Ways and Means Committee, Fowler said: "You and I know that there are many who have voted for, and will vote for, appropriations and then take comfort and protection in a vote against extending the debt limit. This is not a responsible act."

Fowler said that among the payments that would be in jeopardy about March 1 unless the debt limit is raised are Social Security and disability benefits, veterans' pensions and military and civilians retirement pay.

The Ways and Means Committee has never failed to recommend debt limit increases under similar circumstances in the past and Congress has always followed through, but often the increase has been less than the Treasury asked.

Ray Services Are Held Today At Morton Church

Last rites were to be held at 2 p.m. Monday in Morton's Missionary Baptist Church for Walton Bethel Ray, 95, father of Melvin Ray. He died here Saturday evening.

Mr. Ray was a former resident of Morton, coming here a short time ago. He was born Sept. 1, 1871 in Wood County, Texas. Mrs. Ray died Nov. 8, 1939.

Survivors include three sons, L. W. Ray, Lubbock, Carl Ray, Morton, and Melvin Ray, Big Spring; five daughters, Mrs. A. H. Raynolds, Odessa, Mrs. I. S. Clyde Edmondson, Goldthwaite, Mrs. R. E. Hamilton, Sulphur Springs, and Mrs. Oma Bynum, Wasco, Calif. He also leaves 22 grandchildren, 50 great-grandchildren, and two great-great-grandchildren. Local arrangements were handled by Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

WILLIAM (BILL) DOUGLASS

Bill Douglass Rites Tuesday

Funeral services for William Mathis (Bill) Douglass, 16, victim of an one-car mishap near Greeley, Colo., Saturday evening, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel.

The Rev. Robert F. Polk, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will officiate, and burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Bill was killed instantly when his small car drifted into the median of a freeway, hit a low retainer and rolled. Passengers were at the car immediately but said he showed no sign of life.

A popular junior student at Fort Collins, Colo., where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. (Jake) Douglass Jr., moved last spring, Bill had driven to Denver, Colo. to get some materials for his hi-fi set. He called home just before he left to say he was running a little late.

He was born in Big Spring Nov. 1, 1950 and attended school here for many years. He was active in the youth affairs of the First Baptist Church, played Little League ball here, and was a frequent visitor in the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Phillips. He and his brother spent Christmas here. At the time of his death, he was a member of the Travel Avenue Baptist Church in Fort Worth.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Douglass Jr., Fort Collins, Colo.; a brother, John Robert (Bob) Douglass, Fort Collins; a half sister, Laurie Douglass, Lubbock; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Phillips, Big Spring; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Douglass Sr., Fort Collins; maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Evelyn Walker, Big Spring.

No improvement has been noted in the condition of Mrs. Sharon Walls, 20, gravely injured last Thursday morning in a pickup accident east of Big Spring.

Mrs. Walls Still In Dire Condition

She continues unconscious and in critical condition at the Cowper Hospital and Clinic. She is being sustained by artificial respiration and it was reported that she is incapable of breathing without the mechanical aid.

Boys Questioned About Gas Theft

Two 14-year-old boys were detained at the police station over the weekend for questioning about gas stealing at McMahon's Concrete Co. Two hundred gallons of gas were taken Wednesday and Thursday out of the parked trucks at the establishment.

John H. Cline Is Cub Derby Champ

John Harvey Cline won the trophy when Pack 14 had its Pinewood Derby at the regular monthly meeting Thursday.

There were 30 cars entered in the race, judged by Carol Cannon, assistant cubmaster, and Gus Tatom. Division winners were: First division — John H. Cline, Dan Ball, Robert Garver; second, Rickey Morrow, David Shryack, Darrell Loyd; third, Ronnie Wagner, Marion Thurman, Terry Free.

Den 6 presented a skit, assisted by Mrs. W. C. Garver, and Den 3 had the closing with Mrs. Nancy Otwell assisting. The Blue and Gold banquet will be held Feb. 24. Refreshments were served to 70.

College Test Seminar Stated Here Feb. 20

A workshop for Texas high school guidance personnel and principals will be held at the Howard County Junior College Feb. 20 by the American College Testing program. The workshop will be directed by Dr. Vernon L. Odom, Lubbock, ACT regional director, and Dr. James R. Tarter, Grand Prairie, ACT district director for Texas.

The workshop here is one of a large number of similar sessions being conducted in colleges and universities of the state. The first will be held Feb. 6 in Texas Western and the last at Dallas on March 7.

ACT is a nonprofit Iowa corporation which administers a college admission test to nearly 850,000 high school juniors and seniors each year.

At these workshops, high school officials will receive information about new services and programs offered by ACT. A sound filmstrip, "You're More Than a Score," is shown which explains the ACT program, its test and the test scores, and how the test results are used by colleges. They will be told about ACT's new financial aid services and what they will mean to students who need financial assistance to attend college.

Grand Jury To Begin Tuesday

Howard County grand jury will be organized at 9 a.m. Tuesday and will immediately begin consideration of 19 felony complaints which Wayne Burns, district attorney, proposes to lay before the body.

Whether or not the grand jury will want to look into the death soon after Christmas of Mrs. Elizabeth Allin Gann, 30, is not known. Mrs. Gann's body was found beside a street near the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church on the night of Dec. 27. Investigation indicated she was a hit-and-run victim.

One murder with malice complaint is pending for the grand jury to consider. This is the complaint filed Jan. 17 against James Reed, who is charged with shooting Jimmy McCarty to death on the night of Jan. 16.

Bittman Bags Hoffa, Baker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Square-jawed William O. Bittman, who's bagged James R. Hoffa and now Bobby Baker, acknowledges that he's pleased that his ego feels good.

"But far more important than that," says the Justice Department prosecutor, "is the strengthening of the faith of the people in their government."

That, he says, is a likely outcome of the Baker trial, because if Baker had gone free, many people would have murmured that the government hadn't exerted itself to convict him.

But Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats, was convicted Sunday of conspiracy, evading income taxes and steering "campaign funds."

Baker will appeal. Bittman, in fact, is still waiting out Hoffa's appeal of a 1964 Chicago conviction for conspiracy, which he also prosecuted.

Bittman, 35, was perhaps outshone in courtroom rhetoric and color by Baker's attorney, Edward Bennett Williams.

But the black-haired, stocky, 5-foot-11 Bittman had his own hallmark: Repeatedly in discussing points of Baker's defense he fixed blazing eyes on the jury and declared, "Ladies and gentlemen of the jury, don't believe it!"

He relentlessly marshaled facts against Baker, one-time behind-the-scenes power of the Senate. After each day of the trial Bittman's aides worked with him far into the night perfecting their case.

An associate in the Justice Department describes Bittman as "a bulldog type, a character who believes in becoming deeply informed about and involved in anything he is working on."

Officials Pledge Probe Of Terrorist Bombings

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. and Canadian officials formally apologized to complaining Yugoslav leaders and pledged an intensive probe of terrorist attacks that rocked six of the Communist nation's diplomatic missions within an hour.

But there was no announced indication today of arrests or leads into the explosions that shattered predawn stillness Sunday at embassies in Washington and Ottawa, and at consulates in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Toronto.

Yugoslav Ambassador Veljko Micunovic lodged a strong protest with Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach and received a promise the United States will expend all effort to capture and punish the bombers.

'SENSELESS ACTS'
Secretary of State Dean Rusk, in Williamsburg, Va., when told of the attacks, expressed "official and personal" regrets at the "outrageous and senseless acts of terrorism and vandalism."

The Yugoslav press vehemently demanded greater protection for its missions in the two Western nations and hinted of government collusion with the terrorists.

Yugoslav President Tito had no comment.

The FBI heading the investigation in the United States, refused comment on the bombings. A spokesman said there would be no word unless arrests are made.

No one was hurt by the powerful bombs, although a New York fireman died of a heart attack after being summoned to the consulate.

The bombings coincided with Tito's visit to the Soviet Union.

Tippit Widow Weds Policeman

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dallas Police Lt. and Mrs. Harry Dean Thomas were at home today following a honeymoon in South Texas and the Gulf Coast.

Mrs. Thomas is the former Mrs. J. D. Tippit, widow of the patrolman killed shortly after President John F. Kennedy was assassinated.

The Warren Commission said Lee Harvey Oswald killed Tippit soon after he allegedly killed President Kennedy.

Thomas, a divorcee with four children, said he and Mrs. Tippit were married Jan. 21 at the Beckley Hills Baptist Church in a small, private ceremony conducted by the Rev. Larry Young.

The Rev. Mr. Young said both principals in the marriage were members of his congregation. He said he had known Thomas about a year and that Mrs. Tippit had attended the church ever since he had been pastor.

A former pastor of the church, the Rev. Mr. Young added, officiated "at J. D.'s funeral." After her husband was killed, Mrs. Tippit received donations from all over the world amounting to $647,379. She was required to pay no income tax.

A judge authorized about half of the amount for a trust fund for the Tippit children. The widow received the bulk of the remainder.

Five of the couple's children were present for the marriage. They included Charles Allan Tippit, 17; Joe Richard Thomas, 14; John Robert Thomas, 14; Brenda Kay Tippit, 13, and Curtis Glenn Tippit, 8.

Junior College Building Slated

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Cooke County Junior College will move into its new vocational-technical building this spring.

President John Parker said certain classes will be held in the building until all equipment is moved into place. Drafting classes will move as soon as the contractor turns the building over to college officials.

Construction of the building started last fall. It is to be used as a vocational-technical classroom and shop building, and was constructed through funds furnished by the federal government and local funds. Cost was $300,000.

Cooke County Junior College is an area vocational training school for Cooke, Montague and Denton counties.

College officials hope to train badly needed machinists for Gainesville industries when the building opens for classes.

Ex-Lawmaker Dies

NEW BERN, N.C. (AP) — Former Congressman Graham A. Barden, a conservative Democrat, known for his battles against federal controls over education, died Sunday. He was 70. He represented his state's coastal 3rd District for 13 consecutive terms until his retirement in 1960.

Show Pinpoints Tragedy Of War

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
Associated Press TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Final War of Oily Winter," first television play in the new "CBS Playhouse" series, was the last chapter in the star-crossed, wasted life of a good man. But more, the broadcast Sunday night was a strong preachment on the tragedy of war — the destruction, hunger and death of innocent people, even animals.

Oily Winter was a New York Negro in the Vietnam of 1963 as a master sergeant "advisor," but a veteran of World War II and of Korea.

Ronald Ribman's play opened with a military massacre. The South Vietnamese, flouting his advice, were cut down by Viet Cong guerrillas, and Winter survived only by smothering one man and shooting another who turned out to be a woman. He was almost physically sick with revulsion.

SHOT DOWN

Then he picked up a Vietnamese girl whose family had been killed in the fighting the day before and a hungry little dog. He didn't want them around, but they tagged after him. Then he came upon a baby who had survived its parents, sprawled in the road. Winter, a fine soldier and reluctant hero, groused constantly, but shared his rations. When he caught a young Viet Cong, he was so sick of killing he spared his life. Eventually, he detoured into Cong country to deliver this strange band of dependents to a small village. Then, when escape seemed possible, and with it even some happiness with the girl, he was shot down.

Ivan Dixon in the title role was superb, investing compassion and sympathy in the role and lightening it here and there with flashes of humor. Tin Chen, as were the others, but essentially the play was concentrated on the principal character.

Officials Trying To Rig Election?

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's chief election commissioner flew to Kashmir today to investigate charges that some officials of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's Congress party in the state are trying to rig the general election next month.

The state's chief minister, G. M. Sadiq, has denied the allegation.

Deficient Hearing Project Sponsored

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Senior students in Trinity University's program for teachers of the deaf are assisting with a weekly project on campus for adult San Antonians with deficient hearing.

The project is co-sponsored by the university's department of education and by the Bexar County Hearing Society.

Britain" was in conflict with the CBS drama, and no one viewer could see both of them in full. It was a shame, since the NBC show was beautifully photographed as it gave us a leisurely inspection of the architecture, interiors and art of royal residences from Scotland's historic Holyrood to Windsor Castle and Buckingham Palace.

CBS's "The 21st Century," in its premiere earlier Sunday night, looked ahead three decades when, as one scientist predicted, communications satellites will make the world "a global village."

When the 21st century arrives, it will be, it seems, a world of laser beams, home computer consoles, three dimensional television and a place where everybody can be reached by telephone at any time.

Recommended tonight: News Special, NBC, 8:30-9:30 EST, Report on Communist China's internal troubles.

When news breaks anywhere in the far flung combat areas of Vietnam, you can pinpoint the exact places involved if you have this comprehensive and detailed new Hammond map, offered for sale now as a public service.

Families of boys in Vietnam will want it to hang on their wall, as will every intelligent newspaper reader who wants to keep in touch with the explosive situation in southeast Asia.

Printed in handsome full color on heavy paper of high quality, this 21x29 inch map folds compactly to fit in a handbag, desk drawer or glove compartment.

Da Nang, Hue, Chu Lai and hundreds of other places are shown, including major air bases, United States marine and army landings, roads, railroads, mountain passes, falls and rapids, rivers and other topographical features that help you understand the strategy of the fighting.

Besides the large-detail map embracing North and South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia, there are smaller maps showing elevations, Communist dominated countries, and the continent of Asia as a whole; also an economic map of southeast Asia spelling out the agricultural, industrial and power resources of individual countries. Another "extra" is a chronology of events since World War II. An atlas type index lists and locates cities, towns and physical features in North and South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

The map is produced by C. S. Hammond & Company, a leading organization in its field. Get your copy today.

- Detailed 18" x 24" reference map of Vietnam and neighboring countries
- Additional economic, topographic, political and pictorial maps
- Chronology of events since 1945

Mrs. Louis Underwood was hostess to the Luther Home Demonstration Club when it met in her home at 2 p.m. Thursday. Ten members and two guests, Mrs. W. E. Coley and Mrs. H. S. Connolly, attended.

Mrs. Ed Simpson, vice president, presided, and a skit, "The Worry Jar," was presented by Mrs. J. M. Wilson, Mrs. J. L.

Give Six Hymnals To Wesley Church

The Mary Martha Sunday school class of Wesley Methodist Church met for a party Friday in the church parlor where Miss Helen Ewing gave the devotion.

The group gave six hymnals to the church. One was in honor of Mrs. R. O. Browder, and the others were in memory of Mrs. Charles Peterson, Mrs. Marie Schilling, the Rev. R. O. Browder, Mrs. Lalla Baird and Mrs. Lois Forsythe.

Mrs. Claude Van Fleet was hostess and served refreshments to 18.

A LOVELIER YOU

Nape Of Neck Gets More Attention Now

By MARY SUE MILLER
The nape of the neck needs more attention than it usually gets. Owing to neglect, the skin in the area is often sallow and coarse, and sometimes blemished.

Albeit the neglect is not deliberate, but purely oversight. To put an end to forgetfulness, all that's needed is a rearview mirror. The nape becomes fixed in the memory, once it is plainly seen.

Obviously short hairstyles demand a well-tended nape. Although long styles may curtail the territory, it still needs care—more, maybe, because of contact with dust and oil from the hair.

Keeping the nape in condition is a simple process. A good beginning might be the use of a soft brush on the back hairline during shampoos. Also indicated is a sponge or stiff bath brush at bathing. A firm scrub tones the pores and stimulates the skin's clarity. Moreover it tends to keep down the fatty layer to which the mature are prone.

The nape's appearance further responds to whatever treatment product you use on your face, such as an emollient, moisturizer, astringent or bleaching medication. When you apply one such, pat the nape with the residue on your hands and then

Lloyd, Mrs. Regis Fleckenstein and Mrs. Simpson.

The club accepted a plan to "adopt" a shut-in for each month.

The next event will be the Feb. 14 tea in the home of Mrs. Crawford.

CENTER POINT CLUB

Members voted to re-adopt the "Buck - of - the - Month" project at the state hospital at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of Center Point Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. W. E. Anderson.

The club gave $12 to the project for the year and $5 was contributed to the March of Dimes. Mrs. W. L. Eggleston presided, and yearbooks were filled out.

Mrs. Anderson gave the devotion, "The Poems Speak," and roll call, "With My Hobby, Do I Save Money, My Nerves, Or Both?" was answered by 12 attending.

"The Worry Jar," a skit proving worry can be eliminated and is unnecessary, was presented by Mrs. Vernon Kent, Mrs. L. J. Davidson, Mrs. Bob Wren and Mrs. Aiden Ryan.

Mrs. Kent received the attendance prize. The next meeting will be a tea Feb. 14 at 2 p.m., honoring members of Luther, Center Point and Knott HD clubs. It will be held in the home of Mrs. Delaine Crawford, county HD agent.

KNOTT CLUB

Mrs. John McGregor was introduced as a new associate member and was hostess at the Tuesday meeting of the Knott Home Demonstration Club in her home.

Mrs. Emmett Grantham, Mrs. Pat Gaskins and Mrs. McGregor presented a skit, "The Worry Jar," pertaining to mental health.

Roll call was answered by those attending. Guests introduced were Mrs. Novella Kirkpatrick and Miss Sally Vera. The next meeting will be the tea in the home of Mrs. Crawford.

CITY CLUB

Mrs. M. F. Hodnett directed games at the Friday meeting of the City Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Ervin Daniels, 1310 Johnson.

Roll call, "Do I Save My Money, My Nerves, or Both with My Hobby," was answered and guests pantomimed their birthday month.

Members put individual worries in a jar and burned them following the presentation of the skit, "The Worry Jar." Those on the program were Mrs. D. D. Johnston, Mrs. Alton Underwood, Mrs. W. N. Norred and Mrs. Daniels.

Mrs. Marvin Sewell was given the attendance prize. Mrs. Carl Gum was introduced as a new member, and Mrs. W. J. Priebe gave the devotion.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. J. W. Elrod, 1800 Main, Feb. 10.

High Tallies Announced At Club

Nine tables were in play for duplicate bridge games held Friday at Big Spring Country Club.

North-south winners were Mrs. Joe Herbert and Mrs. Glen Cox, first; Mrs. Don Newsum and Mrs. J. C. Greenhaw, second; Mrs. Victor Bouquet and Mrs. Frank Anderson, third; and Mrs. J. H. Fish and Mrs. Hayes Stripling, fourth.

East-west winners were Mrs. E. M. Bunn and Mrs. Riley Foster, first; Mrs. John Stone and Mrs. J. D. Robertson, second; Mrs. Elmo Wasson and Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow, third; and Mrs. E. O. Ellington and Mrs. Ayra McGann, fourth.

There were no games at Cosden Saturday due to the tournament in Lubbock. Tuesday will be Master Point day, and Friday is luncheon day so games will not start then until 1:30 p.m.

Hears Talk On Islands

Mrs. W. A. Laswell was hostess to the Modern Woman's group Friday at 3 p.m. in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Tommy Gage, on Alledale Road.

Eleven members and six guests attended. The visitors were Mrs. W. F. Taylor, Mrs. W. D. McDonald, Mrs. H. H. Stephens, Mrs. Tom Ross, Mrs. I. Bringas and Miss Regina B. Acosta.

Mrs. Laswell presided and presented a program on fine arts in foreign countries. Mrs. Bringas was the guest speaker and told of customs in the Philippine Islands as she showed clothing and other articles from her homeland.

Mrs. Laswell was assisted by Mrs. Gage in serving refreshments from the buffet. A milk-glass punch service was used. The next meeting will be Feb. 10 with the place to be announced.

High Boots Keep Fashion Spotlight

Remaining good for the season are boots to cover every mood from regal to raffish. This year the boot to beat for pure smash is the laced up leather type. It's especially new when laced around brass hooks rather than through eyelets.

Among the prettiest boot looks are the bright and printed vinyls, all slicked up in a rampage of colors, flag stripes, tattersails and scatterings of winter flowers.

Tale Told For Small Paintings

Certain paintings are called miniatures because, originally, they were painted with minimum, which is native cinnamon or red lead.

The paint, not the size, was responsible for the name.

Methodist Women Present Program

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mrs. Bill Rees gave the program, "Renewal In Apathy Valley," at the Monday afternoon meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service at Westbrook Methodist Church. Mrs. L. E. Gressett brought the devotion. Seven attended.

MRS. RONALD RILEY

Vows Said In Stanton Rites

STANTON (SC) — Miss Carolyn Fern Britton became the bride of Ronald Riley Jan. 21 in the Church of Christ Bible Choir Chapel in Portales, N. M.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny W. Britton of Portales, formerly of Stanton. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ruby Riley and Fred Riley, both of Portales.

Double ring wedding vows were read by two ministers, Ross Blasingame of Deming, N. M., and Grover C. Ross of Portales.

The altar was centered with an arch of greenery and white carnations. Baskets of white gladioli completed the arrangements.

Wedding music was furnished by a quartet who sang a capella the selections, "I Love You Truly," "Always" and "Because." Those in the group were Judy Walding, Lubbock; Red McCaghen, Petersburg; and Mrs. Jack Self and Buleen Barnes, both of Portales.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza over tulle fashioned with a fitted lace bodice and scalloped neckline accented with seed pearls and sequins. The long fitted sleeves came to petal points over the hands, and the full skirt was appliqued with lace, seed pearls and sequins, in a tear-drop design. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

ATTENDEES
Miss Cynthia Britton of Midland was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Judy Smith and Miss Joann Lambert, both of Petersburg. They wore dresses of pale blue satin and chiffon and carried bouquets of blue and white carnations.

Chris Weems of Portales was best man. Ushers were Terry Britton, brother of the bride, and Mike Riley, brother of the bridegroom, both of Portales. Charletta Riley and Tommy Riley, brother and sister of the bridegroom, lighted the church tapers. Jimmy Oden, Lubbock, was the ring bearer, and Arlen Williams and Donald Dunn, both of Portales, served as groomsmen.

The couple will be at home at 5318 25th St., Lubbock.

Mrs. Riley is a graduate of Portales High School and is attending Lubbock Christian College. The bridegroom graduated from Portales High School and attended Eastern New Mexico University. He is now employed in Lubbock.

RECEPTION
Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Bible Choir Recreation building where the bridal couple, parents and feminine attendants received guests.

Others in the house party were Mrs. Stanley Hardin and Mrs. David Riley of Portales; Mrs. C. W. Oden, Lubbock; Mrs. Eddy Avery, Midland; and Mrs. H. P. Morrison, Stanton.

Westbrook Church Is Scene Of Ceremony

WESTBROOK (SC) — Vickie Lee Jarratt and Jimmy Ray Rees were married Saturday evening in the Westbrook Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James L. Jarratt, Colorado City, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis (Choppie) Rees of Westbrook.

The Rev. L. B. Edwards performed the service before a lighted arch flanked by baskets of white chrysanthemums and palms.

Mrs. Kirk Taylor was organist and Mrs. Johnny Shackelford was the soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white satin gown with jeweled lace adorning the neckline of the bodice and the skirt hemline. Her satin train was edged with lace, and her shoulder-length veil cascaded from a jeweled lace crown. She carried a crescent bouquet of white carnations, centered with a gardenia, and white satin streamers tied with love knots.

Miss Martha Vick of Abilene was the maid of honor. She wore a floor-length dress of rose pink satin and a brief veil attached to a pink satin headpiece. She carried a crescent bouquet of white carnations trimmed in pink.

Bridesmaids were Miss Kathy Smith of Brownwood and Miss Donna Lewis of Dallas. Their dresses were similarly designed to the gown of maid of honor, and they carried bouquets of white carnations trimmed with pink.

Teresa Dorn served as flower girl. Don Jarratt, brother of the bride, and Dale Byrd lighted the candles.

Charles Rees of Colorado City, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. Groomsmen were Larry Bell and Tommy Bryant, and Don Jarratt and Dale Byrd acted as ushers.

Following a wedding trip to El Paso, the bridal couple will be at home on the Snyder Highway Route, Colorado City.

Mrs. Rees is a graduate of Westbrook High School and attended Howard Payne College, Brownwood. The bridegroom graduated from Westbrook High School and is associated with the Texas Highway Department.

Airman Visits In Home At Forsan

FORSAN (SC) — Airman J.C. Sammy Simmons of Sheppard Air Force Base in Wichita Falls was a recent guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ward.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cardwell are Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Breithaupt and Karen of Odessa.

Mrs. E. M. Bailey and Kathie of San Angelo were recent guests in the home of Mrs. Mollie Smelser.

Cheryl Moore and Dorothy Green of Midland are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kubecka.

For the past week, Mrs. Oscar Boeker has visited her mother, Mrs. W. L. Cooper, who is in the hospital in San Antonio. Boeker and the children met Mrs. Boeker in Brownwood during the weekend and accompanied her home.

A Devotional For The Day

"A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another; even as I have loved you, that you also love one another." (John 13:34, RSV)

PRAYER: We thank Thee, O Lord, that in Christ our eyes have been opened to new life, the life of self-giving and sharing. May we walk in the light of Thy love and goodness. In Christ's name. Amen.

United Fund Shortage Hurts All

The payoff for the community's failure to respond fully to last fall's United Fund appeal is beginning to appear. It will be more obvious in months to come, as the various agencies which had budgeted their year's activities on the basis of their United Fund request find themselves out on a financial limb.

A case in point is the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, which just this past week revised its budget downward by a couple of thousand dollars, in the face of greatly increased treatment loads and number of patients served.

Other agencies, which the public ordinarily expects to perform just as always, will be looking for miracles. They will be faced either with re-trenched activities and perhaps loss in valuable personnel, or they must go out, hat in hand, for supplemental appeals.

It would be a wonderful thing if all the citizens of the community could recognize the fact that the United Fund is not some great impersonal entity that can be given token support, or ignored altogether. But that they would know it as the organization which saves money by one coordinated appeal, and which only serves as a transmitting agency to the agencies which bind themselves together under its banner. If you didn't do your part in the United Fund, you have crippled a dozen or more agencies which you, as a good citizen, really want to succeed.

The New Minimum Wage

Wednesday is an important date for most American businesses. The federal minimum wage goes from $1.25 to $1.40 per hour. For a great many smaller enterprises, it is a red letter date, because they are coming under the wage-hour regulations for the first time.

And they are going through some agonizing re-appraisals of the way to operate their businesses.

While, at the pace of today's economy, $1.40 per hour doesn't seem like a lot, the fact remains that some types of business — smaller ones — have been marginal, and now will be critically up against the profit picture.

They have employed many people at the menial, or chore level. They have had many part-time workers. They have had, by the nature of their operation, followed a shift system for workers.

Much of this is having to be changed. We are seeing stores shorten their business hours. Undoubtedly we shall see fewer workers; certainly the overtime factor (which has been a boon to many a wage-earner) will be diminished.

The point is that decreases by the government, so sweeping in nature, create many inequities. The very people, in many instances, that the law is designed to help, may be the ones who suffer. Many will lose jobs, others will be cut back to shorter workweeks.

And the public may be touched, too. In many instances, it can be expected that prices will rise again, to meet the additional cost of doing business.

Wage Guidelines Disappear

NEW YORK (AP) — It is hard to believe that President Johnson's much-battered guide-posts for limiting wage and price increases have been erased with so little else put in their place.

The guidepost formula, which tied price and wage increases to gains in productivity, had been defended to the bitter end last year as the administration's best weapon to stabilize the economy.

WHEN UNBEARABLE economic

Good Form

CHICAGO (AP) — Contrary to what Emily Post might say, it's not bad form to use form letters. And it can be good business.

Form letters today can easily replace repetitious business communications and cut correspondence costs as much as 54 per cent, reports A. B. Dick, manufacturer of duplicating equipment. The personal touch is maintained by modern equipment that turns out mass-produced letters that defy detection. Even individually typed salutations can be filled in to match the body type perfectly.

The company says that up to 40 per cent of items typed in the average office might be reproduced this way.

Billy Graham

I heard you on the radio Sunday, and I'd like to do what you say: "Accept Christ," but I can't bring myself to take a blind leap in the dark. I am not at all sure there is a God, or even that Christ is the Savior. It seems a lot to ask of one.

G.K. I could tell you that accepting Christ isn't a blind leap in the dark — that there are convincing evidences that Christ is indeed the Son of God, the Savior of the world. I could give you the stock arguments for the existence of God, but these can be found in the writings of thoughtful men through the centuries.

But I'm going to tell you that accepting Christ is "Not a leap in the dark." That leap in the dark, as you call it, is called faith, based upon the best of evidence. The Bible says, "Without faith it is impossible to please God," and, "The just shall live by faith." This simply means that we hear something is true (but we're not sure), but we proceed and act as if it were true. That's faith: not just a blind leap in the dark. Faith is saying: "Let God be true, and every man a liar." Faith is saying: "I stake my life on the truthfulness of God."

Once when I was a little boy my father and I were climbing over a rail fence. He crossed first, but I couldn't see because it was so dark. Father told me to jump, and believing him, I did, and found myself in his strong arms. Take the leap of faith, and you will find yourself in God's arms. God does not ask you to surrender your reason when you come to Him — He asks that you use it.

'THAT'S A CONTROLLED AND REASONED PACE?'

James Marlow

Mixed Up Go-Go Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's a busy time, full of go-go. Mixed up, too.

The United States and Russia spent billions, and used up years, to build missiles to use on each other, just in case. Now the Russians are busy with an antimissile system which could cost them another $25 billion.

This country, debating about it, wishes the Soviets wouldn't throw money around like that because, if the United States goes all out on an antimissile kick, the bill may be $40 billion.

THE RUSSIANS, according to reports, have an X-ray arrangement that could blow up incoming missiles while this country, so reports say, knows how to make a missile which could destroy several cities hundreds of miles apart.

This involves a special technique called MIRV, which is short for Multiple - Individually - Targetable - Reentry - Vehicle. That may be too much for most people to understand but most can understand that relations between Russia and Red China are closer to breaking than ever before although practically nobody outside China seems to understand what is going on inside China.

THE CHINESE are calling the Russian leaders pigs and, in effect, reactionaries while the Russians are calling the Chinese, in effect, nuts.

Neither is saying the embarrassing thing: That both are suffering from acute nationalism, which communism was supposed to eliminate, or that nationalism may last longer than communism, which is bound to go to pieces if nationalism last long enough.

ELSEWHERE, the "doves" and the "hawks" are swooping and picking and pecking at one another over Vietnam while the Arabs, who were supposed to be united against Israel, are banging the weekend bombing by Egypt of Saudi Arabia.

If this weren't bad enough, last week's budget by President Johnson was.

This budget, which he presented to Congress as the expense bill for the next fiscal year, starting July 1, got caught up in a pair of systems which may make sense if you're not an economist but not if you're not.

JOHNSON had predicted earlier his budget would be $135 billion which, if looked at the old system way, comes out sure enough at $135 billion.

But under the new system, called the national income account budget, it comes out at $169 billion. Since this is a bookkeeping way of looking at it, nobody seems mad about it if only because not everybody is a bookkeeper.

MEANWHILE, Congress is a puzzle. Nobody seems to know what to expect there were the Republicans in the last election picked up a bunch of seats, particularly in the House — not enough to take control away from the Democrats but enough to put a dent in them.

Instead of a big change, this puts things back where they were for years, giving the Southern Democrats the balance of power. If they stick with the rest of the Democrats, the Republicans will be swamped.

But if the Southern Democrats join forces with the Republicans they can frustrate the rest of the Democrats and Johnson, too. This might seem a happy prospect for the GOP but the Republican leadership in the House says it won't form a coalition with the Southerners.

Running In Circles Helps?

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

You may be feeling older, but the U.S. population is getting younger. The median age five years ago was just over 29 — now it is below 28. The nation has 25 million teenagers, but only 15 million aged 65 or up.

No wonder your stomach gets out of kilter now and then. A pear-shaped pouch only about 10 inches long, it is an intricate chemical laboratory containing five million glands to process all the gunk you put into it.

THE MOTORIST who really wants to impress his neighbors can now order tires with sidewalls decorated in plaid or polka-dot colors.

Two lads in Athens, Greece, figured out a new way to cheat on school exams — by using walkie-talkies. One boy outside, broadcast the answers to a friend in the classroom who picked them up on a small receiver. Alas for precocity, both were arrested for using an unlicensed transmitter.

PROSPERITY note: Only about one in five families in 1965 had incomes of $10,000 or more. Last year the number rose to one out of four families.

Quotable Notables: "An optimist is a guy that has never had much experience" — Don Marquis.

The sins of the mothers: You don't have to take narcotics yourself to become an addict. A hospital authority here estimates that as many as 800 addicted babies a year are born in New York City to mothers who have the dope habit.

CHANGING times: In the 18th century, South Seas natives ran in circles to stop sneezing. Civilized man runs in circles now because he can't figure anywhere else to run.

Good students make good drivers. An insurance company has found that among students who have their own cars those who make high grades have driving records 25 to 30 per cent better than those whose marks are low.

It was Oliver Wendell Holmes who wistfully asked, "Why can't somebody give us a list of things that everybody thinks and nobody says, and another list of things that everybody says and nobody thinks?"

Count your calories the easy way! To receive a copy of my pamphlet, "The Calorie Chart," write Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is the best treatment for hemorrhoids? I have been told that injections are just as effective as surgery and less painful. — M. N.

It's not as simple as that. Small hemorrhoids sometimes can be treated by injection; in other cases surgery is the only feasible method. The wisest course is to let your surgeon or proctologist decide. What you, as a patient, can do to help the healing process and prevent recurrence is outlined in my booklet, "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids." Send 20 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me, in care of The Herald, for a copy.

The Business Of Umbrellas

The wife and I brought home a couple of umbrellas for the girls following a recent trip and the younger one was desperately hoping it would rain so that she could give her's a trial.

You don't see many umbrellas in these parts, mainly because of the rarity of moisture, but in other sections of the world the business of making umbrellas is big, very big. Some 175 factories in this country alone turn out upwards to 12 millions of the items each year.

THE UMBRELLAS have long been regarded as essentially a feminine article. For La Femme, it serves as a fashion accessory, a convenient depository for handbags and hankies and, on occasions, a very handy weapon to wield against man and mice alike.

Women purchase upwards to 90 per cent of the umbrellas sold in this country each year. Some females have become so attached to their umbrellas — or parasols, if you like — that they have even requested that they be buried with them upon their death.

MOST MEN would rather brave the elements outfitted simply in a rain coat and plastic hat covering but many famous people have often been pictured luging umbrellas around with them. Abraham Lincoln was often seen inspecting battle sites during the Civil War, with umbrella in hand. Neville Chamberlain, Great Britain's prime minister who subscribed to the theory of appeasement when Adolph Hitler was making menacing gestures at Austria and other selected parts of Europe, usually went nowhere without an umbrella tucked under his arm.

THE FIRST umbrella — carrying man in the Western world probably was a Londoner named Jonas Hanway, who appeared on the streets of that city one rainy day in 1750 with an odd-looking fabric mushroom over his head. A world traveler, he had grasped the idea after watching Chinese mandarins carrying parasols of oiled paper for sunshades.

Back in those times, some people denounced the use of umbrellas on religious grounds.

"If God had not intended for people to get wet," they argued, "He would not send rain to earth."

THE UMBRELLA actually dates back to antiquity, when slaves carried them to shield their masters from the sun.

Modern umbrellas can cost up to several hundred dollars, if they are bejeweled. The handles often range from lucite to bamboo to gold and semi-precious stones. The carrying end may be a horsehead or a crook or again a jewel encrusted knob. Some sold in the great cities are built with a taxi whistle.

People are still prone to be forgotten about them and leave them wherever they go. In a recent year in New York City, city subway crowds picked up 7,800 forgotten ones.

Fulbright Works For Soviet Treaty

WASHINGTON — As chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee Sen. J. William Fulbright is showing that he is a good soldier. He is cooperating with the Johnson Administration in helping to put through a proposal on which the whole future of America's policy turns.

That is the consular treaty with the Soviet Union. If it fails of approval, the determined effort of the President to build a bridge to the East and prevent another and perhaps catastrophic spiral in the nuclear arms race goes down with it. Giving the treaty first priority, Fulbright has put aside his planned hearings into the uses and abuses of American power and the deeper and deeper involvement in Vietnam.

FULBRIGHT'S own role as the chief critic of Vietnam policy says a great deal about the difficult problem the Administration faces in the bridge-building goal. He has championed the right of dissent and in his new book, "The Arrogance of Power," he opens up new avenues of criticism that can properly be called constructive in that they suggest possible ways out of Vietnam.

But he is undeniably a rallying point for a large segment of opinion that increasingly, as escalation continues, has become inflamed not only against the war but against the Administration and all its works.

ON THE OTHER side the extreme right is mounting a concentrated attack on the consular treaty and the proposed easing of East-West trade. Through a half-dozen organizations Senators are being flooded with mail opposing any relaxation of tensions with an "enemy" supplying North Vietnam with weapons to shoot down American fliers. These forces on the right want to extend the bombing in

Hanoi and Haiphong and "get it over with."

FOR MOST of these letter writers J. Edgar Hoover is a national totem. Whether his cryptic response to Secretary Rusk's letter means that he does or does not approve of the treaty, his worshippers will decide for themselves. Hoover has declined to testify before the Fulbright committee.

The treaty, proposing to open one and perhaps two consulates in each country, is of itself of no real importance. The same step could be taken by executive action. But the White House has chosen, with Fulbright's full cooperation, to make the treaty a test.

AS A TEST, the treaty is supremely important. Rejection by the Senate will be a clear and unmistakable signal that any thaw in the cold war is impossible.

Failure would certainly doom the next step, which is the treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons. Considerable progress has been made in recent weeks in talks between the two nuclear giants. There is still, however, a long way to go in the disarmament negotiations in Geneva.

MOSCOW PUTS the nuclear treaty at the top of the list. If a draft can be agreed to, then the following and far more vital step is at least possible. That is for both sides to cease and desist in installing nuclear anti-ballistic missile (ABM) defensive systems.

In this perilous moment, when so much turns on decisions in the Senate, Fulbright can perform a service of inestimable value. He can help to lead the way out of the trap of the arms race.

Lyndon, Rocky And The Russians

WASHINGTON — In frontier days it was a pretty heinous crime to sell firearms and firewater to the Red Indians, but look who's in the same line of business now. The President of the United States and the governor of New York are among those boosting trade with Red Russia.

IT DOESN'T take a modern Edward Gibbon to point out that republics connive at their own decline and fall by this sort of deterioration in the rage to live. Lyndon Johnson's parents wouldn't have survived in the wild west if there'd been much of that sort of hanky-panky down on the Pedernales. A good Injun was a dead one, or at least a disarmed one. And Old John D. Nelson Rockefeller's grandfather and fortune builder, couldn't have reared the Standard Oil Company by trading favors at a loss to other petroleum refiners. The world hasn't changed so much in the 20th century that a nation ever prospers by aiding and comforting its foes.

IT IS EASIER to understand the President than it is the governor in this matter of promoting trade with the Soviet bloc, but it's downright impossible to excuse either of them. Mr. Johnson, if you allow the assumption that he belongs to the populist wing of the Democratic party, can be said to be doing what comes politically natural.

There always was a fatal attraction in that breed of Democrats toward the professed faiths in the Russian experiment. If you generalize, you can say that the party of the people, the economic liberation of the masses, the yen for World Government and the preaching of world peace while making war are recognizable doctrine among American liberals as well as among the founding commissars of the U.S.S.R.

LYNDON JOHNSON should know better, but the hidden persuaders of Democratic party beliefs seem to be speaking to him. They tell him that by "building bridges" to the Soviet Bloc, he may improve the trade balances, may appease the Kremlin, may find a clue to settlement in Vietnam.

It is harder to surmise what's in Gov. Rockefeller's mind, or in his psyche, except by saying outright that he's always been as liberal and as internationalist as any Democrat.

BUT IT'S a stubborn political fact that the governor is supposed to be a Republican. He is also a persistent aspirant for the GOP presidential nomination. In the upcoming election of '68, he has taken the self-chosen role, at least temporarily, of being not so much an active candidate himself, as a selector of the candidate. This would seem to call upon Rockefeller to be a party spokesman, a man whose ideas and actions would find broad acceptance among the Republican population.

BUT HOW REPUBLICAN is Rockefeller on this issue? Sen. Everett Dirksen, speaking lately for a majority of that party in Congress, came down hard against trading with the Russians and their satellites. It would be a one-way bridge, said Dirksen, for moving "our bounty and treasure to the unfriendly and uncooperative nations without any value whatever received in return."

Observers have, before this time, detected a political death wish in the Republican party and in Rockefeller himself. The governor seems to have proved, again, that a death-wish can be kept alive and kicking.

Palmer Repeats As LA Winner

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Arnold Palmer, the thinking man's golfer, got to thinking. He was in Los Angeles but he started thinking about San Francisco. So he stopped thinking about records.

Palmer shot a final round 68 for 269, 15 strokes under par, in winning the Los Angeles Open for the second straight year Sunday. His score was just one stroke shy of the tournament record set by Phil Rodgers in 1962.

So was he thinking about Rodgers' record? "It came to my mind, but I wasn't going to be foolish about this one," a laughing Palmer said.

It was an obvious reference to the 1966 U.S. Open at San Francisco. Palmer had a seven stroke lead with nine holes to go on the final round. He was within sight of Ben Hogan's Open record 274 and started thinking about it.

The rest is history: Palmer blew the seven stroke lead and Billy Casper went on to win it. "I was just trying to win this one," Palmer said after collecting his $20,000 check for his third victory in the Los Angeles Open since 1963.

Palmer took the lead in the third round Saturday by four strokes, saw it dwindle to two after 67 holes Sunday as Gary Brewer came on, but the Arnie assault reasserted itself and he stormed in to win by five shots. Brewer finished second with a 69 for 274, worth $12,000, while Julius Boros, with a 67, and Don Massengale, the second round leader, and young Lou Graham, each with a 69, tied for third at 275.

Palmer was tied for sixth with 277's. Favored Jack Nicklaus went away empty handed. His final round 71 left him at 286, one stroke out of the money. It was the first time Nicklaus had suffered such embarrassment since the American Golf Championship at Akron, Ohio, in 1965.

TCU-SMU Game To Decide Lead And Perhaps Title

By The Associated Press
Texas Christian and Southern Methodist meet Tuesday night for the Southwest conference basketball lead, and few coaches this season know the principals involved any better than Abe Lemons of Oklahoma City. Lemons' Chiefs have played both teams twice, losing both times to Southern Methodist and splitting with the Horned Frogs. So, what does Lemons think? "I've seen about all the good Southwest Conference teams at one time or another this year, and I believe the winner will come out of the TCU-SMU game," he says.

with a 78-61 victory over Arkansas last Saturday. FOURTH FINE UP
The Mustangs, beaten only by Texas in five conference games, turned up last week for the big clash by whipping Oklahoma City 92-82. The loss to Texas was the defending champion Mustangs' first in the conference since TCU beat them 97-89 in the fourth league game last year. "SMU was a lot more interested in playing the last time than the first time we played," Lemons says. "There was no comparison. "I can't see how Texas could beat SMU for the life of me. It shows what can happen."

One of the Mustangs' hot-handed firemen is sophomore Bill Voight who came off the bench and scored 30 points against Oklahoma City last Wednesday. Lemons believes that after two consecutive championships SMU has a winning complex. But TCU might have it too after winning four in a row. "It should be a heckuva of a game," the Oklahomaan adds. Elsewhere in the conference the elimination process continues Tuesday night. Texas, in third place with a 3-2 record, meets Baylor, 2-2, at Waco, and Arkansas, 2-4, plays Rice, 1-3 at Houston. The Saturday Southern Methodist goes to Texas Tech, 1-4. Texas Christian travels to Rice and Texas A&M, 2-3, at Baylor. The Aggies have an engagement with Trinity University at San Antonio tonight. In the only other games last week, Baylor won a pair, beating Tarleton State 106-78 and Texas Tech 71-66.

Runnels Splits Pair Of Games

The Runnels Eighth Grade team got caught in the middle in the Sweetwater tournament Saturday—too short for placing and too good for consolation. Runnels beat Colorado City in the opening round 40-30, then lost a defensive battle to Snyder Travis 31-28. Previously, Travis had beaten Runnels by 10 points, but it took a hot second quarter, marked by an equally cool one by Runnels, to do the locals in. Moreover, Snyder hit 50 per cent of his free throws to 40 per cent for Runnels. Eighth graders of the two schools will meet here starting at 5:30 p.m. today in the Runnels gym, and ninth graders will tangle at 7 p.m. The box score:

Parnelli Jones Wins 500 Event

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — It took a thinking man to dethrone Dan Gurney as champ of the annual Riverside-Motor Trend 500-mile race for grand national stock cars. A balding, wiry driver named Parnelli Jones thought and drove his way around the twisty, 2.7-mile course Sunday to win $21,980 in the delayed race. Jones, of Torrance, Calif., entered the race determined to avoid an old bugaboo — broken machinery. He said he thought about it constantly. "I felt I could outrun all the other cars," Jones said, "and I thought if I talked to myself I could keep from punishing the car and I might make it." He made it, averaging 91.06 miles an hour in a 1967 Ford.

Sam Snead's Squatting Stance Sharpens Putting

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Sam Snead says his new croquet style of putting wasn't developed out of desperation. Rather, explained the 54-year-old golfing marvel, it came about "because I finally got smart."

posting a 66, six strokes under par. His 72-hole total was 279. Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Ind., finished with a 70 for 288 and second place. Freddie Haefling of New Orleans, La., the defending champion, had 71 for a 290 that was good for third place.

Snead, whose trophy chest lacks only the U.S. Open crown to be complete, has been rated as a mediocre putter during his long and illustrious career. Last summer he started putting in croquet style, straddling the ball and shoving it toward the hole while holding his regulation putter like a croquet mallet. "About a year ago I got to thinking that in rolling the ball toward the hole while putting a golfer uses the same stance he does in driving the ball through the air from the tee," he said Sunday after winning, by a record nine strokes, his third PGA Seniors' Teachers Trophy in four years. "That didn't seem right to me, so I tried my sidewinder system. It worked for me." Snead three-putted only one green in the final round while

Partner Tourney At Country Club

A partnership tournament is scheduled Sunday at the Big Spring Country Club. It will follow the usual format of a player with a 10 and under handicap paired with one having 11 or more handicap. Players make their own pairing and fix their starting times. The entry fee is $3.50 per player. Prizes will be in merchandise only, and Ricky Terry will serve as chairman. Balmy spring-like weather Sunday brought golfers out in near record numbers. Jerry Green, club pro, said it was the biggest turnout since last July.

Celtics Nip Knicks To Hang In Race

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics, still nursing hopes of overtaking Philadelphia in the regular season chase, are riding a nine-game winning streak while sticking to an old superstition.

"We're not thinking of winning streaks—it's strictly game-to-game with us," player-coach Bill Russell said Sunday after the Celtics completed a sweep of a weekend series against the New York Knickerbockers with a 141-106 rout at the Garden.

The Celtics, who rallied from a 17-point deficit for a 114-112 triumph in New York Saturday night, wasted little time in pulling away from their National Basketball Association "cousins." The Knicks were overpowered by Boston's 75-point first half and suffered their 15th straight loss to the Celtics since March 17, 1965.

HOWELL IS SPARK
Bailey Howell, a veteran All-Star forward obtained for Mel Counts in a trade with Baltimore just before the season opened, sparked the Celtics' early explosion, hitting on seven of his first eight floor shots in the first half. Howell took game honors with 32 points while playing only 33 minutes.

In other action, Los Angeles crushed the Bulls 142-122 in Chicago, and Cincinnati stopped San Francisco 121-118 in Cincinnati.

At St. Louis, the Hawks moved out to a 16-point lead in the third quarter, then fought off a late Philadelphia rally. Player-coach Richie Guerin had 29 points and Bill Bridges 28 for St. Louis. Wilt Chamberlain had 29 for the 76ers.

ROYALS WIN
Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas led the Royals past San Francisco. Robertson with 35 points and Lucas with 25 points and 30 rebounds. Rick Barry topped San Francisco with 37. Los Angeles replaced Chicago in fourth place in the Western Division with its victory. Jerry West's 28 points and Elgin Baylor's 26 paced the Lakers. Bob Boozer topped Chicago scorers with 29.

Yank Skiers Disappoint

MEGEVE, France (AP) — The coach of the American ski team has admitted that the U.S. showing in the recent European events was below expectations. "I have to admit we have not done all we hoped," said Bob Beattie of Manchester, N.H., as the men's team prepared to leave for home following the Megeve Grand Prix in which the best U.S. performance was turned in by veteran Jim Hengen.

Heuga, from Tahoe City, Calif., had trouble Sunday on the 71-gate first leg of the special slalom and that cost him a shot at cracking the top three. He came down in 64.43, then did 58.90 on the 65-gate second run for a 2:03.38 total. Dennis McCoy of Bishop, Calif., finished 11th with runs of 65.85 and 62.42 for 128.27 and Ken Phelps of Lyon Falls, N.Y., was 21st in 133.17 after negotiating the courses in 70.25 and 62.92. Ni Orsi of Stockton, Calif., was disqualified.

No Basket Here

UCLA's big center Lew Alcindor, rear, puts a big hand above the ball to block a shot for the basket by Loyola's guard Art Oates 30, in the second game of tonight's triple-header at the Chicago Stadium. UCLA won, 82-67. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Snow Storm Fails To Cool Sizzling Bruins Of UCLA

By The Associated Press
Their Snow Saga safely behind them, UCLA's unbeaten and top-ranked Bruins can stay in the sun all this week. They have nowhere to go but Los Angeles' Sports Arena where a 30-minute freeway ride will get them to their next basketball game, against Southern California Saturday night. That's in extreme contrast with their traumatic travels last week, when they flew to Chicago for games Friday and Saturday nights only to be rerouted to St. Louis from where they took a 12-hour train ride back to Chicago.

Louisville, No. 4, defeated Bradley 81-68 for its 16th victory against two defeats. A record home turnout of 16,318 saw Wesley Unseld score 23 points and Butch Beard 20. SURPRISING TIGERS Surprising Princeton, fifth-ranked, continued rolling, increasing its record to 14-1 with a 7-66 victory over Penn at Philadelphia. In one of the more interesting games of the night, sixth-ranked Texas Western defeated Brigham Young 85-76 in the first game of the Chicago Stadium tripleheader. The match was interesting because Texas Western won the NCAA championship last year and Brigham Young took the National Invitation Tournament title.

In other games involving members of the Top Ten, Vanderbilt, No. 9, whipped Mississippi State 79-64 at Nashville, Tenn., and 10th-ranked Providence pulled out a 91-87 overtime victory at home against Seton Hall.

Reason for all the trouble was a two-foot snowfall which paralyzed Chicago — but not UCLA. The Bruins were stopped temporarily when their game against Illinois was snowed out Friday, but they whipped Loyola of Chicago 82-67 Saturday night and came back Sunday afternoon with a 120-82 triumph over Illinois.

Neil Steinhauer, Randy Matson To Meet Saturday

By The Associated Press
Bob Seagren, warned by a doctor to take it easy, and Neil Steinhauer, told by his coach to lead, led the first big record setting weekend of the 1967 indoor track and field season. Seagren, who pulled a muscle in his back in a futile attempt to extend his world pole vault record in New York Thursday, shook off the effects of the injury in Albuquerque, N.M., Saturday and vaulted 17-3, an inch better than his previous record. And Steinhauer, who earlier this month set an indoor shot put record of 66-6 1/2, bettered that mark by an amazing 15 1/2 inches in Portland, Ore., Saturday, raising the record to 67-10. Seagren, the 19-year-old University of Southern California student, consulted a doctor before competing in the meet but disregarded his advice to take it easy.

Club set a record in the two-mile relay on an 11-lap track at 7:25.6. Jerry Proctor, of Pasadena, Calif., set a high school mark of 26-2 in the long jump. At the Boston A.A. meet, Willie Davenport of Southern University tied the 45-yard high hurdles mark at 5.4 and back in Albuquerque, Texas Southern's James Hines tied the indoor record 5.9 in a heat of the 60-yard dash. Hines then beat out Bill Gaines of Mullica Hill, N.J., a co-holder of the record in the 60, and George Anderson of New Orleans, La., in the finals, though all three were caught in 6.0. Jim Ryan, competing in the 1,000-yard run instead of his specialty, the mile, won at Portland in 2:09.9, nearly four seconds off Peter Snell's indoor record.

Lloyd Waner, Branch Rickey In Baseball Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — "I think it's just wonderful," said Lloyd (Little Poison) Waner, "to be put in there with my brother." He was talking about his election to baseball's Hall of Fame Sunday. But his remark was just an echo, almost verbatim, of his comment 40 years ago when he was put into the Pittsburgh Pirates' outfield with big brother Paul. Paul (Big Poison) already had established himself and Lloyd was a skinny, uncertain rookie at the time, in 1927. But Lloyd wasted no time proving himself. He laced National League pitching for a .355 average and a record 223 hits in his rookie season, and, with Paul, led the Pirates to a National League pennant.

LLOYD WANER

"I've had lots of thrills in baseball, but this here is the biggest thrill of all," Lloyd said in Pittsburgh when notified of his selection. He and long-time baseball executive Branch Rickey were named to the Hall by the veterans committee, becoming the 105th and 106th members of baseball's elite. They'll be inducted into the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., in July. The 12-man veterans committee, headed by former Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, can name no more than two players in their annual elections. They consider players who have been married, Rickey was a catcher for the old St. Louis Browns. He later played with the New York Yankees, but arm trouble and tuberculosis cut short a rather mediocre playing career.

Then he turned his talents to administration. And made baseball history. The colorful, bushy-browed Mahatma broke the color line in baseball when he signed Jackie Robinson to a contract with the old Brooklyn Dodgers and is credited with being the founder of the farm system.

He became president of the Cardinals in 1917, and, during his administration, the team won seven National League pennants and five World Series.

TWO MORE
He moved on to Brooklyn in 1942 and won two pennants in eight years before selling his 25 per cent share of the club for a million dollars. At 69, he signed a five-year contract as executive vice president and general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Waner, who now lives in Oklahoma City, had a 19-year major league career and a lifetime batting average of .316. He never won a batting championship but had high averages of .362, .355 and .353. He hit .300 or better 12 seasons and four times had 200 or more hits in a season. In 1906, when the couple was

Black Hawks Could Take First Crown

By The Associated Press
There's another blizzard brewing in Chicago—and this one could turn the National Hockey League into a disaster area. While the Windy City dug itself out after last week's record snowfall, the blustery Black Hawks stormed to a commanding lead Sunday night in their drive for the NHL title that has eluded them for 40 years.

Triggered by Stan Mikita, the league's runaway scoring leader, the Hawks buried Toronto, 5-1, extending their unbeaten string to eight games and stretching their first-place margin over the fading New York Rangers to nine points.

The Montreal Canadiens moved past Toronto by edging Boston 3-2 as Jean Beliveau registered a goal and two assists. The Rangers blew a two-goal lead and bowed to the surging Detroit Red Wings 4-2 in Sunday's other game.

The Hawks, only NHL team that has never won the regular-season championship, whipped the Leafs 5-2 at Toronto Saturday night.

Beliveau, back in the line-up after a month-long absence with an eye injury, scored his sixth goal and set up John Ferguson and Yvan Cournoyer as the Canadiens grabbed a 3-0 lead at Boston and hung on.

The Rangers, beaten 3-2 at Montreal Saturday night, jumped to a 2-0 first-period lead over Detroit as Phil Goyette broke a 40-year-old club record with two goals in nine seconds.

Buckpasser May Return To Race

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — The future of Buckpasser, the nation's leading thoroughbred in 1966, remained problematical today but his trainer, Eddie Neloy, was optimistic that the millionaire 4-year-old would be back racing during the year. Buckpasser was declared out of the $100,000-added Charles H. Strub Stakes at Santa Anita Saturday because of a flareup of a quarter crack in his front forehoof.

Beaumont Man Wins Tournament

FREEMONT, Grand Bahama (AP) — Randy Wolf, 22, of Beaumont, Tex., fired five birdies on the final round of the Grand Bahama Amateur Championship Golf Tournament Sunday. His two-under-par 70 gave him a 293 total and an eight-stroke margin over the nearest challenger. Wolf, a senior at Louisiana State University, had earlier rounds of 79-75-69.

$700,000 Gem Burglary Staged

LONDON (AP)—Thieves broke into a London jewelry store during the weekend and stole $700,000 worth of gold and gems, police said today.

The robbery was discovered this morning, Theodore Williams, managing director of the firm of Brody Williams & Son, said the store was "cleaned out" of gold.

Police said the burglars took many diamond rings and a number of gold ingots.

The loss was discovered when an employe found he could not open the front door. The burglars had bolted it on the inside. They had severed wires, bypassing an intricate burglar alarm system, then ransacked safes.

It was believed the burglars knew this was the right weekend to strike. A large export order for Australia was packed and ready to be shipped today.

Sato's Party Scores Again

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's party won another big but reduced majority in Japan's Lower House elections Sunday, weathering charges of corruption and turning Communist China's turmoil against the leftists.

The majority for Sato's Liberal Democratic party was cut from 99 seats in the Lower House elected in 1963 to 88, and their percentage of the popular vote dropped from 54.67 in 1963 to 49.09. But eight of the nine independents elected are likely to support the Liberal Democrats, raising their majority to 84.

The chief opposition party, the pro-Peking Socialists, also suffered their biggest election setback in 17 years. The Communists, who claimed to be independent of both Moscow and Peking, failed to win as many seats as they expected although their percentage of the total vote improved slightly.

Gains were scored by the Komeito (Clean Government) party, political arm of the Buddhist Soka Gakkai sect, and the Democratic Socialists. Komeito, contesting a national election for the first time, won 25 seats and the Democratic Socialists increased their holding from 23 seats to 30.

It was an impressive debut for Komeito, which ran only 32 candidates.

Despite their losses, the Liberal Democrats scored a significant psychological victory by winning more seats than even Sato had predicted in the face of adverse pre-election polls, some by his own supporters.

With more than 47 million Japanese voting, or almost 75 per cent of those eligible, the final unofficial tally showed this of the 486 seats:

DEAR ABBY

Can't Take It With Her

DEAR ABBY: I have an older sister who is a bit on the thrifty side. I should say "cheap" — but, after all, she is my sister. She married late in life and her husband passed away soon after, leaving her a nice bundle. She keeps it hidden somewhere. She won't put it in the bank where it can draw interest because she doesn't want anyone to know how much she's got.

She could live like a queen, but she denies herself luxuries because she hates to part with money. All she talks about is the sales the stores are having. She never entertains because it costs too much, so of course she has no friends. How can I get her to realize she can't take it with her? HER SISTER a talk with your brother's doctor.

And when you next visit your brother, invite your fiancé along. Mental illness in the family is nothing to be ashamed of. I know of no family that has escaped it completely.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles Calif., 90069. For a personal unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Men Ordered Back To Work

NEW YORK (AP)—Arbitrator Theodore Kheel says the National Maritime Union (NMU) has ordered its men back to work on a number of freighters and tankers after walkouts in Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports.

Kheel, impartial arbitrator between the shipowners and the NMU, said Sunday he had been prepared to order the men back to work if the union had not done so.

Reports here said at least 20 ships had been affected by the strike of unlicensed crewmen which began Friday night.

Complaints were reported unofficially to have ranged from a lack of safety devices to non-operable television sets.

Texas Regent Kerr Expires

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Funeral services were scheduled at 4 p.m. today in Huntsville's First Methodist Church for S. A. Kerr, 56.

Burial was to follow in a local cemetery.

Kerr, a member of the North Texas State University board of regents, died Sunday following a heart attack about a week earlier. He was a district governor of Rotary International and a widely known East Texas businessman.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Frankie Zou Gaston Kerr; two daughters, Mrs. Stephanie Smith, Houston; Mrs. Zou Cherry, College Station; two brothers, Dr. Denton Kerr, Houston, and Thurman Kerr, Alvin; and three sisters, Mrs. Estella Birdwell, Houston; Mrs. E. E. Drawhorn, Houston, and Mrs. Loma Balbre, Rosevine.

DEAR SISTER: You can't. But you should tell her that if she plans to take it with her, she'd better put it in the bank before someone finds the hiding place and takes it with HIM.

DEAR ABBY: Some of my relatives and I are having a disagreement. They say that cigarette smoking stunts a person's growth. I say it doesn't. I have an uncle who stands 6 feet tall and he has been smoking since the age of 14, so I think I am right. What do you think? PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Your relatives could be right. You'll never know how tall your uncle might have grown had he NOT smoked.

DEAR ABBY: How do I explain my mentally ill brother to my fiancé? My brother has been in a mental hospital for nearly 10 years. He comes home to visit twice a year for a week, and I visit him about once a month. (He is not in this city.) I do not know what type of mental illness he has, or how he got that way.

Mother said he had a "nervous breakdown" and is "confused." But he doesn't seem confused to me. He jokes a lot and is very thoughtful — even remembering people's birthdays.

I love my brother and want my fiancé to love him, too, but mother seems ashamed of him, and has asked that I not mention him or his condition until after I am married. This does not seem right. What is your advice? ENGAGED

DEAR ENGAGED: You are tragically uninformed about your brother's condition. You have a right to know the facts, and so has your fiancé. Have looking for further information which may lead to a possible slam. It is not necessary to bid any more than three spades, and it would be premature to show the diamonds at this stage.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠AKQ10 ♠AK10874 ♠Q3 ♣K
 The bidding has proceeded:
 West North East South
 3♣ Pass Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Our first choice is a bid of four hearts. This is by no means a preempt, but announces that you would like to play at four hearts even if partner has a very weak hand. If he has any strength, he is at perfect liberty to go on. The only other choice is a take-out double.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠KQJ854 ♥KJ ♠AQ5 ♣AK
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 2♠ Pass 3NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Six no trump or six spades. Partner is marked almost to a certainty with the king of diamonds and an ace. This is practically the only holding which would justify a jump response to to three no trump.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠AQJ5 ♥QJ63 ♠K ♣AK54
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1♠ 1♦ 1♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Two spades, forcing to game. A mere jump rebid in hearts would be inadequate. Partner needs very little to produce a slam, and an effort should be made to describe the great power of your hand. On the following round it will be time enough to show your fine heart support.

Q. 8—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠J7 ♥Q9 ♠K108743 ♣AJ2
 The bidding has proceeded:
 East South West North
 3♠ Pass Pass 4♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Five clubs. Partner has announced a powerful hand on which he can win most of the 10 tricks in his own hand. You may have just enough to bring the total to 11. This will show the adverse suit's ace and also a willingness to play at hearts.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
 Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
 ♠AQJ63 ♥AK1072 ♠84 ♣44
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1♠ 2♦ 3♠ Pass
 3♥ Pass 4♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Five spades. You should have enough material to produce 12 tricks, but you are faced with the possible loss of two tricks in diamonds. The five spade bid should convey this information or message. If partner can control the second lead of diamonds, you wish him to bid a slam. A Blackwood call would be ineffective if partner acknowledged only one ace.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠AKQ87 ♥763 ♠J103 ♣A10
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1♦ Pass 1♠ Pass
 2♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Three clubs. You should lay some foundation for investigation of slam possibilities. If partner has a good diamond suit and some kind of heart control, there may be an easy slam. Your next move will depend upon partner's reaction to your three club bid.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
 ♠64 ♥5 ♠AJ108 ♣AJ10864
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1♠ Pass 2♥ Pass
 3♠ Pass 3♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Three no trump. Showing the diamonds at this point would not meet with our approval. Partner's blood pressure has obviously been raised to a high point and a four diamonds bid might induce him to take unduly drastic action. A slightly discouraging note should be injected into the proceedings at this time.

Q. 4—Neither vulnerable, you have 80 part score, and as South you hold:
 ♠AQJ10864 ♥Q ♠AJ83 ♣6
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1♠ Pass 2♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Three spades. This strongly suggests to partner that you are

Grant Manager To Conference

J. A. Newman, manager at the W. T. Grant store here, will attend a week - long training conference with Grant top management executives in New York commencing Feb. 13. Sixty store management trainees representing Grant stores in 25 states, coast to coast, will attend the conference which is the culmination of their store management training program. This program has guided them through all phases of retail store operation in preparation for their assignments to store management. Thirty-two of the 60 in attendance have already received assignments to manage their first stores.

During the 18 years the Grant store management program has been in operation, more than

Sorry 'Bout That

WHITHARRAL, Tex. (AP)—Don Reding joked with a friend when the friend reached 40 years, but the pal had the last laugh.

When Reding reached 40 recently, he was driving along the highway when he saw a sign reading, "Would you believe—As you pass this way—That poor Don Reding—is 40 today."

A short distance beyond was another sign, "Sorry 'Bout That."

That wasn't the end. He found another reading, "Some men are meek—Some men are bold—But Mr. Don Reding—is 40 years old."

Other friends got into the action, with more signs, some of them carried by pals at a basketball game to which they knew Reding would go.
