BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

Formal Battle Begins With Ending Of Truce

Americans Suffer 168 Casualties

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—The war in Vietnam picked up where it left off Sunday after a four-day lunar new year truce marked by 168 American casualties. As the cease-fire ended, a U.S. spokesman said, "Full military activity in the Republic of Vietnam was resumed."

The truce proclaimed by South Vietnam and joined by its allies ended at 7 a.m. Saigon time—6 p.m. EST—as scheduled, despite a Viet Cong declaration that the Communists would hold off offensive activity until Wednesday morning.

CANT COMMENT

Asked if the announcement that military activity was resumed meant new air raids against targets in Communist North Vietnam, the U.S. spokesman said, "I can't comment on that."

COMMIE CRITICISM

As the four-day halt in offensive operations neared an end, however, it had become increasingly evident in Saigon that the truce period would end as scheduled despite the criticism it might bring in Communist, neutralist and other centers of international opinion.

377 INCIDENTS

The U.S. spokesman said 269 cease-fire incidents were recorded by American forces during the truce period, with 86 of them considered significant—meaning there were casualties on one or both sides.

20 YANKS DIE

The U.S. spokesman said 20 Americans were killed by enemy action in the cease-fire period. He said 181 enemy were killed and 65 were detained.

CONNALLY TOP TARGET

Yarborough, speaking at the installation dinner of the Mexican Chamber of Commerce, praised the new federal minimum-wage law that he forecasted in the Senate.

BRUSH JUSTICE

The law became effective Feb. 1, "giving the protection of the minimum-wage law, for the first time in Texas, to workers in all industries, and in the larger hotels, motels, restaurants, hospitals, nursing homes and on the large farms," he said.

Mao Alerts 'Frontline' Commanders

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese dispatches reported the Red Chinese army took control of Peking Saturday while orders posted in the name of Mao Tse-tung alerted military commands on the frontiers to watch for moves against China by forces of imperialism and revisionism—Chinese terms for the United States and the Soviet Union.

TROOP MOVEMENTS

The emphasis in the orders was on the Soviet-Chinese border in the west and Sinkiang Province, where Red China has its nuclear testing ground at Lop Nor, the Japanese account reported. It added there is also some concern in Peking for mainland areas facing the Nationalist Chinese island of Formosa.

DELAYS PURGE

A Peking dispatch of the Kyodo news service said the posted orders quoted Mao as telling military commanders and Communist party leaders they need not pursue his purge of internal foes simultaneously with the alert. He also acknowledged that this turn of events would delay the purge, Kyodo said.

GUERRILLA WARFARE

Chou and Chen, as well as other officials at the rally wore military uniforms, other Japanese dispatches said. Kyodo's dispatch quoted Mao as placing specific emphasis on Sinkiang Province, which borders on Soviet central Asia. Anti-Maoists led by Gen. Wang En-lai, political and military commander of the province, were reported by Moscow radio on Feb. 3 to be entrenched in the mountains and engaged in guerrilla warfare in Sinkiang.

SET BACK

Kyodo said there is growing concern among Mao's backers that Fochow and Kwangchow—Canton—could possibly become the "frontline" since both districts are located in a coastal area opposite Formosa.

COLOR MAP OF VIETNAM

Because there has been an unusual demand, The Herald again is offering a large, detailed, four-color map of Vietnam. However, the supply is limited. This map is helpful in following all phases of the Vietnam conflict. It is a high quality item, made by the Hammond Company, with much detail of Southeast Asia.

BIT OF SNOW, TOO After 129 Days, Some Rain Fell

It rained a little and snowed a little in Howard County on Saturday. The snow was really the first of the winter. A few days ago a light fall of sleet left some traces on sidewalks and streets but it lacked character enough to be called a real snow.

In Big Spring, the average was perhaps a quarter of an inch. The heaviest rainfall reported was at Moss Creek Lake where the gauge showed .50 inch. Most of the county had about the same amount of rain as that which fell in Big Spring. Most of the county, but not all of it, shared the brief flurry of snow—marked by the biggest snowflakes in several years. The big blobs of snow melted as they fell in town but in some rural communities, the snow lasted long enough to cover the ground. Not all parts of the county got snow—there

400 Backers Hail 'Punished' Priests

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Praising the New Mexico retreat where they spent five days as church "punishment," two Roman Catholic priests returned home Saturday to a tumultuous welcome by more than 400 supporters.

TEAR GAS THREAT

Police took extraordinary precautions because of a telephoned threat received earlier, threatening a "tear gas" attack on Fathers Smith and Killian.

"It was a moving experience for us as priests and men to be associated with those in that canyon," Father Killian said of Via Coeli. "The next time we go back it may be on our own steam."

POSED IN NUDE

38-25-38 Coed Insists Faculty 'Wronged' Her

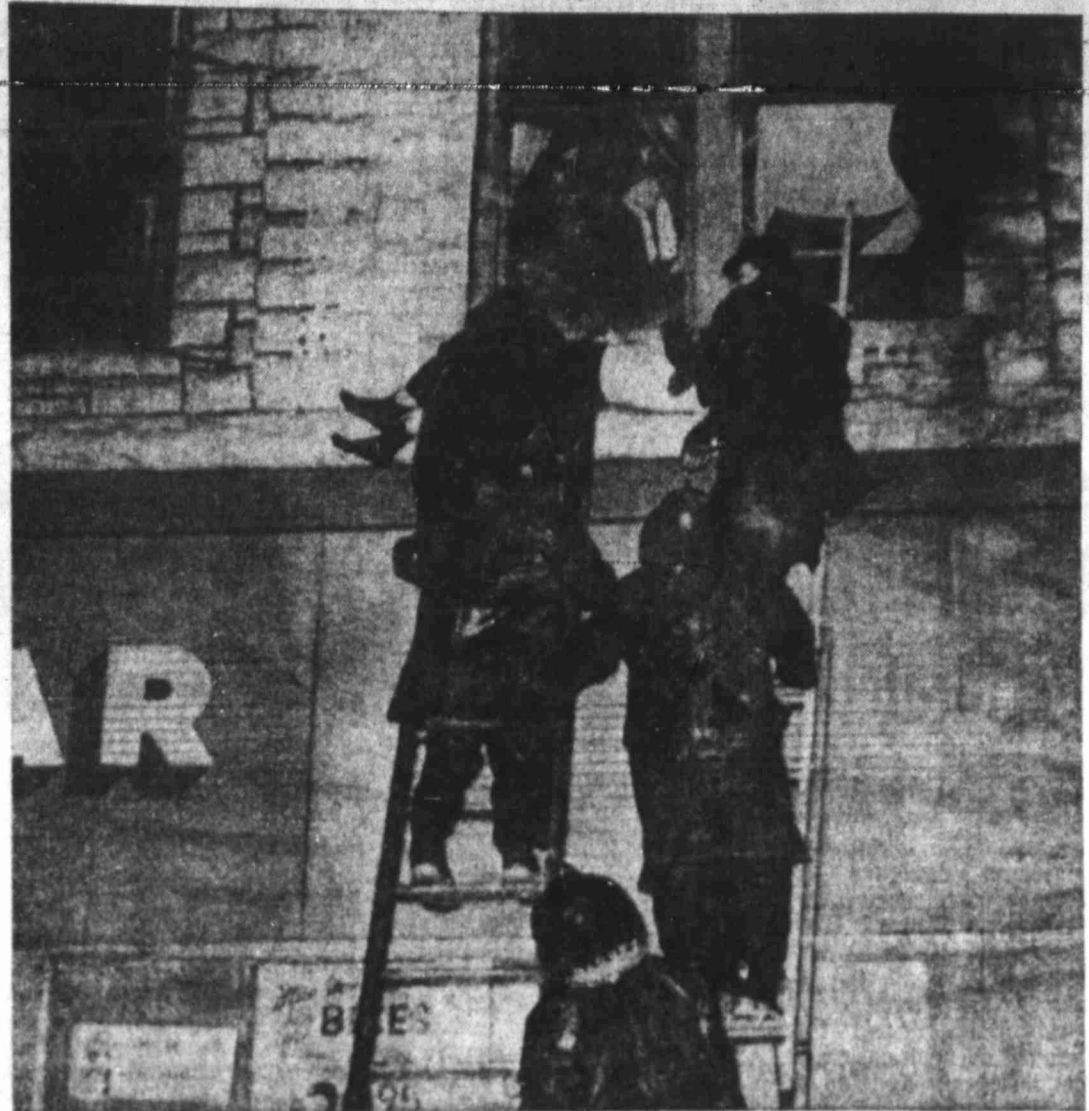

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—University of Florida coed Pamela Brewer, found guilty by a faculty board of misconduct for posing in the nude, insisted Saturday she did nothing wrong.

The penalty against the shapely 18-year-old dramatics student from Springfield, Va., is to be announced Tuesday by the Faculty Disciplinary Committee. It could be anything from a lecture to expulsion.

During a lengthy hearing Friday night, the committee ruled Miss Brewer's action amounted to "indiscreet and inappropriate conduct."

Her nude photograph had appeared in an off-campus humor magazine. Miss Brewer, a sophomore with 38-25-38 measurements, said: "I feel I had a right to do this. I do not feel I've done anything to disrupt the academic goals of the university."

Asked whether she felt wronged, Miss Brewer replied: "Wrong? No. Wronged? Yes." Her attorney, Selig Goldin, said he would wait until advised of the penalty before deciding whether to appeal to the Board

Remove Fire Victim

Fire Sweeps Hotel, Six Guests Killed

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—Firefighters continued to probe the ruins for other possible victims. Two persons reportedly were unaccounted for.

There was no estimate of damage. The roof and second floor collapsed onto the first floor. Only a shell of the building remained.

Authorities said they had not determined the cause of the fire. Burnick's wife, Marge, 34, told police she smelled smoke and opened the door on their

OVERCOME

"The smoke came billowing down the hall and into our room so fast my husband was overcome almost immediately," she said. She said they fled out the front entrance, yelling "Fire!" as they ran to arouse the guests. Frank Rocha, a railroad worker who suffered burns on both hands, said he smelled smoke and woke up to find the room filled with it.

JUNIOR CHAMPION

Barr Wins Again At San Antonio

Maxwell Barr, 13, able young stock expert from Vincent, Saturday won the grand championship of the junior steer show at the San Antonio Fat Stock show, over the biggest field of steers ever to be entered in this exposition.

Actually, it was old hat for Maxwell. This is the third year in a row that he has won the junior show championship at San Antonio.

Monday Maxwell pits his steer against the champion of the senior show for the grand championship of the exposition. James Shelton, assistant county farm agent, feels there is a very good chance that Maxwell will emerge with the coveted rosette.

His winning steer was a 915-pound Hereford, named Bo. The animal was bred by J. C. Sales, Stanton.

Maxwell wasn't the only Howard County youngster who had a good day at the San Antonio show. In fact the local kids dominated the heavyweight division.

Barr's steer, of course, was first in the heavyweights. Dolores Lankford showed the second place animal, Mark Barr, the third and fourth, and Robert Haney, the fifth. There were 60 heavyweights in the show.

Dolores Lankford's entry in the middle-weight division won her a second place against 67 other competing steers and Robert Haney took a second and Mark Barr a fourth place in the lightweights against an equally heavy field of competitors.

Nor was this all of the county's achievements. For the third straight year, the Howard County pen of five was rated first in the show.

The local youngsters will decide later how many of their steers they will offer for sale at the show auction. Should Maxwell win the grand championship he will probably sell since the San Antonio show has a reputation of paying the highest price for champions of any show in the southwest.

The steer which won the junior show championship for young Barr won the reserve grand championship at the Fort Worth Fat Stock show two weeks ago. Barr declined to sell the animal at that show and reserved it to compete in San Antonio.

The local boys and girls will probably be home on Friday of this week.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week With Joe Pickle

Our week was one with more tragic news. Betty Sue Garrison, injured when hit by a car, followed her sister Vicki Ann Garrison in death. Mrs. Ludwig Grau died in less than a day after her clothing had caught fire Monday noon. George Z. (Sonny) King was shot fatally in an incident which led to charges of murder against W. E. Parker. In addition, there was a car mishap in which two children were hurt seriously but not critically.

Several score people rallied to help the family of Airman I.C. Carl Garrison. Starting spontaneously with some on-base gifts at Webb AFB, the move to express neighborhood concern spread over the area and by the end of the week more than $800 had been given to help cover some of the expenses.

Construction news took a million-dollar turn last week. Rep. Omar Burleson said that steps were being taken to get started on the $700,000 building program at Webb, involving an NCO mess and additional bachelor quarters. Then Murphy & Roehester announced that a $200,000 addition is coming up next month at Coronado Apartments, which will add 18 units of a first phase of an ultimate project which will see still another 20 units.

The first round of the spring elections opened last week with calling of the Big Spring school trustee election for April 1. Jimmy Felts Jr. and James Cape, incumbents, each filed for re-election. Deadline is March 2. The city's election will be set for April 4, and two places will be filled.

Rumors of impending changes at the 331st Fighter Interceptor Wing, which has made its home at Webb AFB since 1958 to protect the southern borders of the nation, were confirmed. Word from the Defense Department was that the 331st will be replaced by the 476th combat crew training squadron. There may be some dip in manpower for a time, but by autumn the complement should be about the same.

A bill went into the legislative hopper last week for abolishing the post of county supervisor. The bill, which has the green light (See THE WEEK, P. 8-A, C. 1)

Kosygin Unbends With Scot Hosts

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — To a wait of minutes and thunderous cheers, Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin smiled, drank and unbent with his Scottish hosts Saturday on a tour highlighted by a soccer game and a sip of scotch whisky.

He left the formality of diplomatic talks in London for the only day of outright sightseeing on his week-long visit to Britain. The normally dour Scots put on their most hospitable manner for him.

Kosygin couldn't resist a detour at one point — to a hamlet south of Glasgow called Moscow.

Scots turned out by the thousands. There were burly Glaswegians, 30,000 fans at a big league soccer match and technicians in neat white coveralls at a nuclear power plant, which was a must for the engineer-premier of the Soviet Union.

POSIES PRESENTED

Informality was the order of the day, beginning with Mrs. Sheena Mahon, 25, a housewife clutching her baby son, who leaned across police crash barriers in Glasgow's George Square to present Kosygin and his daughter posies of white snowdrops.

Kosygin shook hands with people in the crowd as he made his way to a reception at the City Hall. He couldn't get enough of it and told the crowd: "I am sorry to be rushing. It is not my fault but that of the organizers for making me go so quickly."

WATER OF LIFE

Inside City Hall, Lord Provost (Mayor) John Johnston laid on a drink for Kosygin, who had let it be known that he wanted a taste of Scotland's famous water of life. But the handshaking had slowed him up and he had to wait until lunch for that drink.

Glasgow has a radical history going back to the militant unions formed at the turn of the century. Johnston reminded the premier it was the first city to send greetings to the Bolshevik government after the Bolshevik Revolution.

The city's radicalism was displayed Saturday by members of the campaign for nuclear disarmament carrying banners with such slogans as: "Scotland will die when Kosygin's bombs hit Polaris base."

'RAG WEEK'

The U.S. Polaris submarine base in Holy Loch is only 50 miles from Glasgow.

Police were more worried about pranksters in the local university "Rag Week," when students dress in outlandish costumes and organize stunts to raise money for charity.

Last week they kidnapped a Danish soccer star and held him for ransom. Police feared they might overreach themselves and try a similar stunt on Kosygin, forgetting his armed bodyguards.

Job Placements Drop In Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Employment Commission said Saturday there were 62,454 job applications in January, compared with 60,491 a year ago.

Job placements, dropped by 2,428 to 38,469. This decrease was blamed on job requirements that called for skills not possessed by many in the state's diminishing supply of job seekers.

Vietnam's New Charter Is Nearing Completion

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — South Vietnam's new constitution is nearing completion in an atmosphere of restrained optimism.

By law the constitution must be written by March 27. It is now expected to be completed a week or two early.

A head-on clash between the 117-member Constituent Assembly, which is writing the new national charter, and the military government which has the final word on its implementation appears to have been avoided.

A series of private luncheon and dinner meetings this month between junta leaders and members of the assembly have lessened the danger of sharp divergence on the provisions, Vietnamese sources said.

FACE SAVING

Both sides appear to be doing everything possible to avoid a confrontation. This is good politics everywhere and especially in Asia, where confrontations are to be avoided if face is to be saved.

The assemblymen resume sitting Tuesday in the refurbished French-built opera house, they will debate the proposed powers of the executive branch.

Political sources said the generals who rule Vietnam were unhappy with the draft articles on presidential powers. The Constituent Assembly limited the powers of the executive branch compared with those for the proposed National Assembly.

DELIBERATE

This was deliberate. Some deputies were imprisoned during the regime of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem. Under Diem the legislature was a rubber-stamp body.

"The problem before us is to have a strong, effective government and still prevent a dictatorship," Dr. Phan Quang Dan told his fellow deputies.

Diem's overthrow Nov. 1, 1963, marked the end of the old constitution. It could not be revived for emotional, nationalistic reasons.

The Constituent Assembly was elected last Sept. 11 to draft a new one. Analysts said fewer than half of the deputies have had meaningful political experience. Most are young. Their average age is just under 40.

CORRUPTION

Nevertheless the assembly tackled the job of trying to find a national framework for a people divided along regional, ethnic, religious and economic lines, terrorized by war, victimized by inflation, cheated by corruption and traditionally mistrustful of central governments.

What the assembly is trying to do may be compared to the writing of Articles of Confederation during the American Revolution rather than drafting the U.S. Constitution after peace was established.

BILL OF RIGHTS

The draft constitution's nine chapters provide for executive and legislative branches, an independent judiciary with a 15-member supreme court, a bill of rights, basic provision as to what comprises Vietnam, advisory councils for cultural, educational, social and economic affairs and minority groups, a two-party political system, the manner in which the constitution is to be amended and the transitional period between rule by the military and an elected civilian government.

Election of a president and vice president on the same ticket is provided for within six months after the constitution is promulgated — scheduled for May 3 at the latest.

Burial will be in Coahoma Cemetery under direction of River - Welch Funeral Home.

Powell's Pals Axed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of Adam Clayton Powell's chief aides on the House Education and Labor Committee are being replaced now that Powell is no longer chairman of the committee.

House Democrats stripped Powell of his chairmanship Jan. 9 as punishment for the alleged misuse of committee travel and payroll funds.

The committee is being reorganized under rules adopted last year that give a majority of the committee Democrats hiring and firing power. Some of the changes now going into effect were already being contemplated at that time.

Powell's chief aide, C. Sumner Stone, who was on the committee payroll at $25,500 a year, and Teri Calabrese, one of his staff assistants at a $16,000 annual salary, have been told they go off the payroll Feb. 15.

Louise M. Dargans, the $25,500-a-year clerk of the committee and a long-time Powell associate, has been retained but will probably get another assignment. Several former Powell aides in lesser positions are also being kept on the committee.

Other Powell appointees who drew their salaries from the committee are being shifted over to his congressional office payroll.

Gov. Reagan Shouted Down

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A crowd of nearly 10,000 students and teachers shouted down Gov. Ronald Reagan Saturday at their surprise appearance at their march on the Capitol.

The Republican governor just finished saying, "I tell you now that I am going to represent the people of this state."

Immediately the crowd burst into a swelling chant, "We are the people."

He was booed earlier when he opened his five-minute talk. "There is nothing I could say that would create an open mind in some of you."

He also said, "Never will I permit a regent of the university to actively participate in a political campaign in my behalf," referring to alleged "political interference" in high education.

The march was the second during the week of protest Reagan's plans for budget cuts and tuition for state higher education.

Preceding the march a state college faculty union leader predicted "the schools won't open next fall" if Reagan's higher education budget cuts and tuition plan go through.

Texas Joins Wage Battle

BALTIMORE (AP) — Texas and 15 other states have joined Maryland in a federal court suit challenging extension of the federal wage and hour law to cover public school and hospital employees.

Entering the case as the deadline for filing ended Friday was the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO.

The suit is to be heard by a three-judge panel in U. S. District Court here next month. Maryland and the other states contend it is illegal for the federal government to set wages that the states will be required to pay.

Congress extended the law in a bill passed last fall. It was to take effect Feb. 1, but has been set aside pending the outcome of the suit.

The suit was filed by Maryland last month under the 10th Amendment which reserves for the state power not specifically delegated to the federal government.

The states object to provisions of the act which will set the minimum wage at $1.60 an hour by 1971.

Other states to join the suit are Hawaii, New Mexico, Delaware, Maine, Missouri, Nebraska, Arkansas, Ohio, South Carolina, Virginia, New Jersey, Florida, Oklahoma, North Dakota and Colorado had earlier asked to be allowed to participate.

DESPITE UNION BAN Dow Firm Imports Metal From Russia

HOUSTON (AP) — Dow Chemical Co. says increased demands for magnesium because of the Vietnam War contributed to its decision to import 1,200 tons of the metal from Russia despite a longshoreman's union ban on handling cargo from the Soviet Union.

The Houston Post said Saturday that four shipments of Russian magnesium passed through Houston between Dec. 1 and Jan. 31, bound for processing in the Dow plant at Madison, Ill.

The newspaper said the price tag was $2.3 million which included a 100 per cent U. S. customs ad valorem tariff charge required on shipments from Communist nations. The tariff from a non-Communist country would have been 40 per cent.

ELIGIBILITY TIGHTENED

Arlington Burial Space Limited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arlington National Cemetery is temporarily running out of burial space, so the Pentagon is imposing stricter eligibility requirements.

Only active duty and retired career servicemen, plus Medal of Honor winners and high government officials can be buried at Arlington effective next week, an announcement Friday said.

That means virtually all non-career veterans will be barred from the famed cemetery on gently rolling Virginia hillsides across the Potomac River from Washington.

The cemetery includes the Tomb of the Unknown Soldiers and the grave of President John F. Kennedy. It was the burial site early last week of Apollo astronauts Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom and Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee.

One veterans group, the American Veterans of World War II, said it would ask the President and Congress to reconsider the move by the Army, which administers the cemetery.

The Pentagon said the policy change does not apply to the other 67 active national cemeteries.

The Pentagon said it plans to add about 60,000 more grave sites adjacent to Arlington beginning in December, 1969. But only 6,437 sites remain now available — less than a year's requirements at the current rate of more than 7,000 burials annually.

Non-career veterans and their dependents, who now will be barred, made up about half of last year's burials. The Pentagon said the Vietnam war accounted for 290 burials last year and "has not been a major factor" in the space shortage.

Local Group Has Part In JC Meeting

A number of Howard County Junior College faculty members will be leading roles in the annual convention of the Texas Junior College Teachers Association of Texas which opens Feb. 16 in the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas.

Ben Johnson, dean of Howard County Junior College, is secretary-treasurer of the state association. Dr. Marvin Baker, now at South Plains College but formerly of HCJC, is vice president of TJCTA.

Miss Movelda Rhine of HCJC is social chairman for the state organization. At the guest book in Dallas she will be assisted by Miss Elizabeth Daniel. The refreshment table will be handled by Miss Anna Smith and Mrs. Marshall Box. All are of Big Spring.

Banquet sales tickets, ticket collections and decorations will be directed by Miss Rhine aided by Larry Nutter, Mrs. Harlan Huijbregtse, Kenneth Roach, Mrs. Willie Lundy, Paul Ausmus, Mrs. Bill Adams, Leslie Kelley, Marshall Box and Gary Grant—all with HCJC.

Lee Thackery of HCJC is a member of the important TJCTA committee on nominations. The meeting runs through Feb. 18.

Cotton Crop Final Report 56,790 Bales

Howard County's phenomenal 1966 cotton crop has been pegged at 56,790 bales. This total has been reached by tabulating the number of samples submitted to the Abilene Classing Office of the Consumer and Marketing Service.

It is the second largest crop in the history of the county. The only year to top it was 1949. Production that year was 66,071 bales. However, in 1959, Howard County farms had more than 100,000 acres planted to cotton to produce the crop reported; this past year the acreage was only slightly more than 40,000 acres.

This past year saw a 35 per cent reduction in acreage and a critical change in counting skip-row acreage. The production achieved in this county per acre has never before been attained.

IN TWO MONTHS

The year was also remarkable in that bulk of the crop was gathered and ginned in two months. Good weather and the wide use of mechanical cotton harvesters accounted for this achievement.

Glasscock County showed 11,150 bales for the 1966 year. This compared with 12,227 in 1965. In 1964, the crop was 10,090. In 1963 the county produced 9,875 bales and 9,772 were ginned in 1963.

Howard's crop was set at 56,796 last year. This was about 10,000 bales ahead of 1965 when the crop was 46,106 and was nearly three times the crop of 1964—20,899 bales. In 1963 the county harvested 45,623 bales and in 1962 the figure was 26,890.

OTHER COUNTIES

Martin County this year had 63,154 bales. This was 3,000 under the 1965 figure of 66,114 but was double the 1964 crop of 31,635. In 1963, the Martin County figure was 38,580 and in 1962 it was 44,770.

Mitchell County had a crop of only 32,836 bales last year. In 1965 the crop was 45,102. In 1964 the fields yielded 20,489 bales and in 1963 the total was 32,225. In 1962 the crop was pegged at 29,944.

Scurry County had 46,407 bales in 1966 compared with 60,204 in 1965 and 26,795 in 1964. The 1963 crop was 40,709 and the 1962 total was 44,738.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Voices Opposition To Liquor-By-Drink Bill

To the Editor:
The church going people of Texas, and this is 72 per cent of our population, have been outraged at Gov. John Connally's proposal to bring back the saloon to Texas to sell its liquor by the drink and all its other accompanying evils. The overwhelming majority of our church going people are compelled to oppose this because of the:

606 more people who will be killed in automobile accidents in Texas each year because of Gov. Connally's proposal. (3,025 were killed in highway traffic in Texas in 1965. In the state of Iowa, highway accidents went up from 20 per cent to 30 per cent after liquor by the drink was legalized.) Even 20 per cent would mean 606 more Texans killed! We cannot afford the carnage!

24,433 crimes each year to be caused by Gov. Connally's proposal. (States with liquor by the drink average 232 more crimes per 100,000 population than states with package stores only.) Texas is already spending $50,000,000 on crime annually. Can we afford the staggering extra crime burden to be brought about by Gov. Connally's proposal?

157,000 more alcoholics to be produced in Texas because of Gov. Connally's proposal. (States with liquor by the drink have 50 per cent more alcoholics than states with package stores only.) Texas presently has 315,000 alcoholics with 630,000 other people suffering because of these alcoholics. We cannot afford anymore!

8,400,000 gallons of additional liquor to be consumed because of Gov. Connally's proposal. (States with package stores only average one gallon of liquor per person per year. States with liquor by the drink average 80 per cent more!) Think of the poverty this wasted money will bring!

$800 million dollars loss to merchants to be caused by Gov. Connally's proposal. The estimates are that $50 million dollars or more will be needed to meet the present state budget. In order to do this by taxing liquor by the drink, we would have to induce Texans to spend $800 million dollars for liquor by the drink and 57 per cent of this would leave Texas for the pockets of manufacturing in other states. Only a small part would go to taxes and the entire $800 million dollars would be taken from what would otherwise be spent with legitimate merchants. Can Texas businessmen afford to lose $800 million dollars in business each year? There is a way to bring about adequate new taxes without bringing in more drinking to Texas, and at the same time let those who are already consuming alcoholic beverages pay their fair share of the bill. The five Southern states, from Florida to Texas, average paying $12.65 per barrel in taxes on beer. In Texas we pay only a measly $4.30 per barrel, one-third of what our neighbor states pay. We charge five cents per gallon tax on gasoline in Texas, if we charge five cents per bottle of beer, we would produce $91,237,608.05 in taxes. We charge 11 cents per package tax on cigarettes, if we charge 11 cents per bottle tax on beer, we would produce $206,722,737.71 in revenue.

Presidential Succession Amendment Is Completed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two gaps in the Constitution have been plugged with the ratification of an amendment dealing with presidential disability and vacancy in the vice presidency.

The 25th Amendment was ratified Friday when Nevada became the 38th state to give its approval. Congress submitted the amendment to the states July 6, 1965, after the Senate and House each approved it by the required two-thirds majority.

Nevada's action completed ratification by the required three-fourths of the 50 states. Minnesota had become the 37th state earlier Friday. For a time it was thought Minnesota was the 38th, but North Dakota's officials ruled their state's approval ratification Thursday was not valid.

IMMEDIATE

The amendment became a part of the Constitution immediately, although a formal proclamation of ratification will be made later by the administrator of the General Services Administration.

The last previous amendment was adopted Jan. 23, 1964. It banned the poll tax as a condition for elections to federal office.

One section of the 25th Amendment provides that whenever the office of vice president becomes vacant, the president shall nominate a successor who would take office upon confirmation by a majority vote of both houses of Congress.

The country has been without a vice president 16 times. These vacancies covered 37 years.

PROVISIONS

Other sections provide that when a president is incapacitated or otherwise unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office, the vice president shall become acting president. If a president notifies Congress in writing of his disability, the vice president would take over until the president sent word he was able to resume the powers of his office.

In case a president was unable or unwilling to declare his disability, the vice president would become acting president if he and a majority of the Cabinet, or a majority of such other body as Congress may later provide by law, advised Congress in writing that the president was unable to discharge his duties.

If such a dispute arose, it would be settled by Congress, which would be required to assemble within 48 hours if it were not in session.

If Congress determined within 21 days by a two-thirds vote of both the Senate and the House that the president was unable to discharge his duties, the vice president would continue to act as president. Otherwise the president would resume the powers and duties of his office.

'SOLUTION'

Sen. Birch Bayd, D-Ind., chief sponsor of the amendment, hailed its ratification as providing "a solution to a constitutional gap that has continued for nearly two centuries."

He said that vice presidents have feared to act when a president became disabled lest they be "branded a usurper."

This has been because of doubt whether, under the Constitution, an incapacitated president upon his recovery could regain the prerogatives of his office once a vice president had taken them over.

Other Gifts Swell Funds For Garrisons

The Garrison Memorial Fund climbed to $858.23 Friday when $266.23 additional gifts were received at the headquarters in the Grace Baptist Church.

The Rev. Roy Honea said that gifts tabulated Saturday morning were $266.23. The previous total had been $592.

The fund is being raised to assist the family of Vickie Ann and Betty Sue Garrison, two junior high school girls, who were fatally injured when struck by a motor car as they waited for a school bus.

Their parents are Airman I.C. and Mrs. Carl Garrison. They are currently in Marion, S.C., where they went to lay the girls to final rest.

Gifts received and not heretofore acknowledged include:

Students and faculty of Goliad Junior High School, $113.41; students and teachers of Goliad Junior High School, $18.82; General Welding and Supply, $50; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Tollett, $50; Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Cook, $5; Mrs. Roy Shaffer, $5; Mrs. Louise Brooks Jr., $5; Lyle S. Dougherty, $5; Mrs. C. O. Hitt, $5; Phillip R. Thomas, $5; Nathan Dalton, $2; and Hugh E. Rhyme, $2.

It was also explained a contribution of $10 announced as being the gift of Mrs. Al Milch should have been credited to the Sunday school class to which Mrs. Milch belongs. She asked that a correction be made.

WTCC Infocade Slated Thursday

Miss LeFebvre Transferred

The Big Spring composite squadron of the Civil Air Patrol announced that Cze Paula D. LeFebvre is being transferred to the CAP squadron at Dover AFB, Delaware. Joining this unit in September, 1965, she has been cadet information officer, and received high rating for her work.

Miss LeFebvre has participated in all of the squadron's activities including two summer encampments, the 1966 Texas Wing Search and Rescue Effectiveness Test held in Odessa in September, the Penny Parade for Polio in February of 1966, and many others. She has been presented the Curry Award, Lindbergh Award, Rickensacker Award and the Cadet Recruiters Ribbon. She has also held the offices of Kaydett Commander and Kaydett Executive Officer.

Virtually every facet of West Texas development will be touched on at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce annual "Infocade" set for Thursday in Odessa. The local Chamber of Commerce is urging wide attendance from Big Spring.

Sessions will open at 10 a.m. at the Lincoln Hotel with Dr. Joe T. Nelson, Weatherford, WTCC vice president, presiding. Topics will include:

"The West Texas Economic Picture," George W. McClesky, WTCC vice president, Odessa; "Inside Austin," Weldon Hart, executive vice president of the Texas Good Roads Association; "The Washington Pulse," Thomas A. Martin, executive vice president of Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association; "Women Can Help West Texas Grow," Mrs. John J. Kirchhoff, Plainview; "Young Leaders Future in West Texas," Larry Bates, Hardin-Simmons University, Fort Worth.

There will be question and answer periods.

The program in Odessa also includes a workshop for WTCC leaders, scheduled in the afternoon. The Rev. Leo Gee, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Big Spring, will bring the keynote address, "Leadership Responsibility."

Group sessions will be for presidents and other officers, led by Mac Hudgins, Monahan; for directors and committee chairmen, led by V. A. Patterson, Crane; publicity committees, led by James Roberts, Andrews; and C-C executives, led by Pat Ryan of Lamesa.

Ask Reports On Knott Improvement Program

KNOTT — Families in the Knott community who are cooperating with the Texas Community Improvement contest in which Knott is entered are asked to complete their report forms and return them to Mrs. Robert Beall or Mrs. H. C. McClain before March 1. The forms are available at the McClain Grocery for any family who did not attend the meeting last Thursday night at the Community Center.

Announcement has been made that a work day is set up for Feb. 16 starting at 9 a.m. Women of the community are to complete the painting of the mail boxes and the men will make repairs to the gymnasium windows and ceiling. A covered dish dinner will be served at noon in the Community Center.

The community meeting agreed the next major project will be the provision of rest rooms for the Community Center. If the community wins any prize money in the state contest, the money is to be used for this purpose.

Indicative of the high interest and accelerated activity the community improvement program has generated is shown in the fact that the Community Center was used 125 times from April 1 through Feb. 9.

Committee assignments were announced at the meeting last week by J. E. Peugh, vice president.

Derwood Blgrave heads the utility committee; Donald Allred, the community service committee with Mrs. E. G. Newcomer and V. L. SUNDAY
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Although the early morning is very good for planning what is right to do in almost every situation because of a depth of understanding, the later day and the evening bring to light some very perplexing conditions you need to think over carefully. Take your development and make no decisions until more favorable time.

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19) Early in the day you want to do for the day and where to spend the evening so that you do not go off on some tangent. Show that you have dignity. Make this a memorable and happy Sunday. Do not retire too late.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20) Same idea that a friend proffers is best even though it may not seem to be of the moment. Later if you plan wisely, you can build security appreciably. Make sure that your ideas are practical and your methods efficient.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) Any civic concerns should be handled early in the day, but later be sure you do not get off on any tangents. Avoid making unwise changes. Be sure you do not neglect a clever and good person for one just the opposite.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) Morning could bring an excellent day that should be cherished, but later don't trust your intuition. This could lead you into trouble. Your emotions should be carefully controlled.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) It is wise to give your partners a pat on the back right now and forget about any misunderstandings they may have. Show that you are loyal. Unnecessary criticism could do a good deal of harm, give your friends a pat.

VIRGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You come to a far better understanding of a partner today on this Lincoln's Day, but later you have to show diplomacy with much tact, or she may be feeling quite irritable. Use intuition wisely.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Do work of home early so that you can do out later to be with individuals who have much of interest to talk over with you. Be astute in handling certain affairs in the outside world. Don't tend to conclusions.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) That interesting new friend of yours can show you a terrifically good time, but be sure to handle any important matters first. Change your attitude where work is concerned. Get ahead later.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Morning is ideal for making changes around the home so that later you can go out with congenials for recreation shopping, etc. Be economical. Make arrangements to get your final papers to work.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Seek out wisdom and knowledge in a.m., but avoid arguing with kin later and be most gentle and thoughtful. You should be your best now in business deals. Make much progress come Friday.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Plan recreational activities in a.m. and then get together with companions and spend the rest of the day just the way you wish. Show that you have great ability at whatever you do. Make sure your work is well done.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to March 20) You are very dynamic in a.m. and can surpass others to do your bidding, but later you have to be very serious where finances are concerned. Be very practical tonight. Morning is fine for intellectual matters.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY...
He, or she, will be a most sensitive youngster and will need a most careful education if the fine promise in this chart is to be realized. The future is a promising one. It is possible that this child be best expressed in some government connection. There is much patriotism here also. Give as fine an education as you can afford. Teach the child to work early, for best results.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Confusion from yesterday's events holds over until well after noon and it is advisable to attend to what you can deliberate and double-check whatever is important to you before you do make decisions of vital significance to you. The p.m. is fine for putting a brilliant new course in a situation.

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19) Better do a better time if you want to fulfill that obligation properly. You find that a feeling of jealousy involving a loved one resolves itself nicely by p.m. Have faith and increase happiness.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20) Although you may be puzzled just how to proceed since an only and an advisor do not agree, one in whom you have confidence shows you straight later. Do not let others of your descent dim. Then you achieve them readily.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) Don't be so demanding in a.m. or you make little progress, whereas a more suave attitude gives the way to greater success. Show your love impulsively and study that new idea well before you put it into operation.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) If you have over certain practical items you have with close ties, they have a much better chance of being successful. Get rid of whatever is obsolete around you. Start a new upward in this fashion.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) A new attitude and more modern system is required if you want to advance in present projects or get into new ones. A new contact may have ideas that are of assistance with usual advisers, but you should listen to them. Study well.

VIRGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Find some way of showing closest tie that you are truly devoted and will get more favorable response. Your mood you are using in business or in your creative work could stand some revision. Be efficient.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Show more cooperation toward practical instead of endeavoring to make them do what you like. Do some listening on well and you stand. Then make those corporate plans work beautifully.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Any promises you have to keep are efficiently handled. During morning close ties are apt to act in a different manner. However, by p.m. all clears up very nicely and you cannot relate. Plans for better.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't be lulled by the answering situation in a.m. since later all turns out for the best and you win. A rather disappointing letter will turn into an opportunity if you study it later. Be charming with everyone.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Some confusing situation could make a big dent in your security during morning. If you are not able. However, help come to the rescue. Forget that intriguing influence and bring more success and respect.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Those who play prominent part in your life can now be appreciated by putting them in the right lights, showing appreciation for all. Don't be forgetful. Others do not appreciate going along with you as if they were not.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to March 20) If you handle financial affairs intelligently during day, you find that you can increase abundance as is your desire. Don't trust those who are very helpful though.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TOMORROW...
If your child is born tomorrow he, or she, will be one of those very clever young ones who will have wonderful intuition and long years ahead to make changes, how to improve on established ideas, projects, etc. Money will come to your project for advice. Start early if a point to teach your son, or daughter, to complete whatever has once been started, since the mind is such that all things are interesting to him, or her, and much doing can become the rule, limiting success possible.

OFFERED AGAIN!—BECAUSE YOU ASKED FOR IT! VIETNAM CONFLICT MAP

Offered again as a public service by THE HERALD

When news breaks anywhere in the far flung combat areas of Vietnam, you can pinpoint the exact places involved if you have this comprehensive and detailed new Hammond map, offered for sale now as a public service.

Families of boys in Vietnam will want it to hang on their wall, as will every intelligent newspaper reader who wants to keep in touch with the explosive situation in southeast Asia.

Printed in handsome full color on heavy paper of high quality, this 21x29 inch map folds compactly to fit in a handbag, desk drawer or glove compartment.

Da Nang, Hue, Chu Lai and hundreds of other places are shown, including major air bases, United States marine and army landings, roads, railroads, mountain passes, falls and rapids, rivers and other topographical features that help you understand the strategy of the fighting.

Besides the large detail map embracing North and South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia, there are smaller maps showing elevations, Communist dominated countries, and the continent of Asia as a whole; also an economic map of southeast Asia spelling out the agricultural, industrial and power resources of individual countries. Another "extra" is a chronology of events since World War II. An atlas type index lists and locates cities, towns and physical features in North and South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

The map is produced by C. S. Hammond & Company, a leading organization in its field. Get your copy today.

CORE TRENCH PROGRESS MADE, MORE EQUIPMENT ON THE SITE

Robert Lee Dam One-Tenth Complete

Work on the Colorado River Municipal Water District's dam across the Colorado River above Robert Lee is now one-tenth complete. Two years from now the contractor, Clement Bros., should be putting the finishing touches on the massive structure stretching four miles across the river valley. The latest progress report, according to O. H. Ivie, general manager, shows 10.27 per cent of the work done and 10.59 of the time (based on a March 1, 1969 target) elapsed. The contractor has performed 3.2 per cent of the core trench excavation and back fill, and 101 per cent of the shale excavation. The latter figure is high because there will be more shale to be excavated than first estimated. Ivie estimated that some 3,000 feet of core trench has been excavated to depths required for perfect foundation and material, then backfilled with impervious (clay) material. The excavation is averaging 35 feet deep on a 3/4-1 slope with a 20-foot bottom width. The core's purpose is to seal off any possible underflow at the dam. The core is brought to ground level, and at no time will there be an open trench from one end of the dam to the other. As a matter of efficient operations, equipment carrying out a load in excavation will return with a load of clay; thus the fill creeps closely behind the excavation. Material taken from the core trench is put into the fill of the dam, and this wetted and rolled

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL

Spectacular Scenery Seen On Floats Down Rio Grande

By ED SYERS
Late fall, 1899, Texas' great geologist, Robert T. Hill, took five men and three 300-pound boats to explore for a month the 350 miles of mountain-barriered Rio Grande, from Presidio, round Big Bend, to Roy Bean's lonely Langtry: first, thus, to record from within, our mighty, triple canyons — Santa Elena, Mariscal and Boquillas.

Each year, now, scores of outdoor families run one or more canyons — excitingly safe, with care. Apropos a Wichita Falls couple's recent trip, here are tips from Kerrville's Dr. John Redden, who says rubber-rafting is the run's best — fall to spring.

"Santa Elena and Boquillas both require overnight camps en route, unless you're a skilled and fast canoeer (and canoes, wisely, aren't recommended by the park).

Rewards? "Excellent weather, our last two Thanksgiving trips: crystal nights allow a winter view of heavens rarely seen elsewhere, yet such nights aren't too cool. Sunrise—as sunset—defies description.

"Take fishing gear; channel cats hit at dusk. You'll enjoy a batter-fried camp breakfast. If firewood's scarce, use dead ocotillo stumps and stems.

THE CANYONS

"Boquillas is best to start with, though the longest water trip. The going's not hazardous and good campsites are plentiful. You put in at the park's southeast edge, end up at Adams Ranch or the International Bridge below Blackgap Wildlife Refuge. The only white water is between the ranch and bridge.

"Santa Elena — across Big Bend—is the most difficult and rewarding. Chief problem is a massive rockslide one mile inside the gorge. Officially it calls for a difficult portage; but with enough water you can float through. Four-man-size or larger rafts (two men each) make it safest. Best to stop and study this one before floating through.

"Waterproofing all gear is a must; you'll ship water on this trip. Best campsite en route is on the Mexican side, one-half mile of white water before entering the canyon and a good day's float from starting point of Lajitas." (You'll clear the canyon next day). Once inside?

"There's a cathedral-like stillness, interrupted only by the gurgling of water, so closely confined by Empire State Building-high walls on both sides . . . and an occasional crow caw. The ride's like a conveyor belt;

Fund Set Up To Honor Professor

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Harvard University has announced the establishment of a John F. Enders university professorship fund to honor the man who won a Nobel Prize for isolating the polio virus.

The announcement was made Friday night at a party marking Dr. Enders' 70th birthday. He will retire June 30 as a Harvard professor.

the river drops uniformly . . . like a downhill highway, with the sky a thin ribbon far above. Light and shadow make photography tricky.

"Mariscal is the shortest trip and most difficult to reach driving. Jeeps or pickups are best. It's possible to make the run in one day, but . . . who wants to rush it?

WHERE TO APPLY

"All necessary information is available by writing to the Ranger Station, Big Bend National Park. A park permit, at headquarters, is required. And bring all your own gear, best including a car for either end of your run."

Floater Redden compares the three: Santa Elena, a mighty, sheer-walled gash; Mariscal, more open-walled, yet a more twisting run past cream-colored giant columns and terraced or overhanging walls. Boquillas combines some of each — brilliant colored cliff gashes, interspersed with great, distant-walled, quiet valleys.

"Safe for you?" "More and more go," says Redden. "Last Thanksgiving, we rode awhile with a flotilla of 41 Lubbock Explorer Scouts . . . who'd made all three canyons in one trip."

And how, for the rest of us, did you Lubbock Scouts like the going?

CAMP AND BOAT

Texas Sierra Clubbers are conservation-minded outdoor folk who know the quiet joy of hiking, pack-camping or boating the back country stillness. If you'd like to boat-camp a stream gentler than the canyon-river Rio Grande, Houston Sierran Jack Roof (3522 Greenwich, zip 77025) might help. Here's a schedule:

Feb. 18-19: Neches River, Hwy. 94 to US 59. Canoe trip with overnight camping at Holly Bluff Campground. A 25-mile through pine and hardwood forests. Put in at 10 a.m., Saturday at Hwy. 94 bridge west of Lufkin. Leader: Pasadena's E. O. Kindschy (1008 Eva Ave.) Mid-March schedules a two-day canoe trip through Big Thicket on Village Creek. The Guadalupe and Colorado are calendared, mid-May and June.

Cooperation Paves Ditch

The City of Big Spring joined with school officials recently in a plan to pave this drainage way along the west side of the Big Spring High School campus. The school district had planned to pave one side, and the city agreed to pay for paving the other. This

MOD Agency To Buy Braces For Children

Braces and corrective shoes for two youngsters struck by cerebral palsy were approved by members of the Howard-Glasscock Counties chapter of the National Foundation during the meeting Thursday.

Wade Choate, president of the March of Dimes agency, said the children are the sons of Sgt. Manfred Ohnsorge, stationed at Webb AFB. They are Michael 10, and Marcus 4.

Choate also named a nominating committee to select officers for the upcoming year. Clyde McMahon Jr. is chairman of this committee, which includes Edith Gay and Mrs. Tom Phillips. It is to report at the next meeting, April 4.

In a report on the annual March of Dimes drive, Mrs. Betty Rains, treasurer, said almost $6,000 has been received, but many of the persons who pledged donations during the telephone had not yet sent in their money. Also, other gifts are expected from the solicitation mail sent out recently.

Choate emphasized that all outstanding pledges are needed to meet the organizations pledges of help. He urged those who have put off sending in their gifts, to do so as soon as possible.

Allreds Planning Charolais Herd

ACKERLY — Mr. and Mrs. Cecial Allred, widely known farm-ranch family, have launched an ambitious plan to establish what will probably be the first pure-bred herd of Charolais cattle in Howard County.

According to authorities, a number of ranches in Howard County have had a few cattle of this breed from time to time but apparently no effort has been made by any operator to establish a herd of purebred Charolais.

Mr. and Mrs. Allred's bid in the field has already led to their being accepted for membership in the American International Charolais Association. They were notified by J. Scott Henderson, executive secretary, of their acceptance into the association last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Allred have three of the unusual Charolais cattle now. They purchased a purebred bull and two registered heifers in December. "We bought each other the cattle as a Christmas present," explained Mrs. Allred.

The Charolais is white with a pink nose and pink ears. The breed is amazing for its tremendous size when grown and for the excellent meat provided.

The Allreds explained. The calves weigh 60 pounds at weaning time and reach a weight of 2,000 pounds in 10 months. They are also noted for their amiable nature.

The breed originated in France 200 years ago. They did not show up in this country until relatively recent times but they have rapidly gained in popularity. There are many herds of Charolais in south and southeastern Texas.

Registrations and records of the Charolais association show there are now 43,000 head of purebred animals and 200,000 Charolais - Cross cattle being used in breeding up programs to pure bred status.

Jimmy Taylor, Big Spring bank officer in charge of agricultural affairs, said that he has heard of a number of experiments with the breed in the county. The Edwards Brothers, Ross Hill, Cecil Long and other ranch operators have had Charolais on their places, but apparently no concentrated effort to set up a purebred herd has been attempted.

The Allred ranch is about 20 miles north and west of Big Spring, between Ackerly and Knott.

Dear Abby

FILTHY WORDS

DEAR ABBY: While looking for a pen in daughter's purse, I found some notes she and another girl had exchanged in class. Abby, the language was unbelievable!

I don't know where she learned such filthy words! She never talked that way, around the house. She is only 15. I wonder if she uses that kind of language with boys? If she does, they surely can't respect her. What if a teacher got a hold of them?

I can't understand it. I've tried to raise her right. We go to church and say grace at meals so it can't be a lack of moral or religious training. I thought she was a nice girl. Right now I feel so lost and disappointed. I am sick inside. What should I do?

Texan Is Found Shot To Death

DENISON, Tex. (AP)—Herb Wastler, about 55, operator of a liquor store on the north fringe of Denison off US 75, was found shot to death in his store Friday night.

Two teenagers went into the store, to buy cigarettes they said, and found him.

He was shot three times in the back of the head. His purse was taken and the cash register emptied.

This is the first liquor store robbery-death in Denison, where liquor has been sold for about 10 years.

Johnny Peugh Has Top Pig

Due to misinformation, it was incorrectly reported that Kelly Gaskin, Knott 4-H Club member, had shown a second place mediumweight Hampshire pig at the El Paso Fat Stock show.

The correct information was that the second place mediumweight hampshire was shown by Johnny Peugh. Kelly's entry, a lightweight Duroc, showed 10th in his division.

Dixie Coleman showed a 22nd place steer at the show and the Crenshaw brothers had a 17th place lamb.

anything. All children, no matter how carefully reared they are, eventually are exposed to filthy language. To use such words makes them feel "sophisticated," grown up and a little wicked and daring, but it's only a phase which they pass through quickly.

Believe it or not, your daughter can still be a "nice" girl. Your "shock" and disappointment are understandable. Mother, but somehow you survived hearing and reading such language in your youth, I'm sure. And so will she.

Meanwhile, without revealing your discovery, comment casually that boys feel justified in making indecent advances to girls who use "dirty" language.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's brother and his wife got a brand new spinet piano, so my husband and I went over to see it. I took piano lessons myself when I was a girl, and I know how to play fairly well, so I said to my brother-in-law, "Is it O.K. if I play a few tunes on it?" He replied, "All right. Just make sure your hands are clean."

Abby, I am no kid. I happen to be 45 years old. I was never so insulted in all my life. What would YOUR reply have been?

INSULTED DEAR INSULTED: I'd have said, "Don't worry, I'll only play on the black keys."

CONFIDENTIAL TO F.R.T. IN WATERLOO: Psychiatry is NOT an atheistic concept. The greatest textbook on human behavior ever written is the Bible in which the principle of psychoanalysis was set forth.

"And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." (New Testament, John VIII; 32)

Not until one knows "the truth" about himself, complete with all the grim hostilities, insecurities, and unresolved conflicts, is he truly "free."

It is the role of the psychiatrist to remove the camouflage, self-deception, and rationalizations, and to bring the unconscious conflicts into the conscious mind where reason can deal with them. Once reason is gained, the cure begins, because the truth does make one free.

Magazine To Use Herald Stories Soon

A series of articles written by Dal M. Herring, instructor at the Howard County Junior College, and printed last June in the Daily Herald, will be reprinted in "Texas Outlook," according to a letter received by John Talmadge, with the Big Spring High School.

Herring, who teaches journalism in H.C.J.C., was working for The Herald during the summer when he wrote the articles. They were on the Texas Honors Institute and its functions in the high schools.

"Texas Outlook" is the official magazine of Texas school teachers. It is read each month by more than 25,000 teachers in schools of the state.

The letter to Talmadge informed him that the editors of Outlook believed the Herring stories were remarkably clear and informative, and the magazine feels the information contained will be of general interest to the schools of the state.

Houston Fire Fatal To Pair

HOUSTON (AP)—A young couple died early Saturday in a blaze that swept a two-story home.

Five other persons escaped, including two children of the dead couple.

The dead were Thomas Bruce McDowell, 24, and his wife, Charline, 23.

John V. Bordner, 24, Mrs. McDowell's brother, and his wife saved their own child, Kelvin, 3, and the McDowell's two young children, Charline Lynn, 2, and Robert Bruce, 10 months.

Mrs. Bordner said she awoke about 7:45 a.m. to find the inside of the house aflame. Bordner said his wife awakened him and they grabbed the children and fled.

Bordner said the fire was so intense "we couldn't do anything about the others."

The McDowells slept alone upstairs. Bordner and his wife and child and the McDowell children slept downstairs.

We'd ask you to compare it... but with what?

Comparing a Cadillac has always been a problem, for the car has long been clearly in a class of its own. In 1967, the challenge is even greater... because Cadillac has never before asserted its leadership so convincingly.

Start with beauty. Cast about for a luxury car contender that can list such styling advancements as Cadillac's dramatic new roof line, its forward sweeping front design and its graceful and flowing side contours. Then consider that there are eleven exciting examples of this kind of Cadillac beauty... as well as the totally new Eldorado, the world's finest personal car!

Consider also the incomparable newness of Cadillac's beautiful interiors and their unexcelled safety and convenience. There are passenger-guard door locks, a hazard warning system, a dual circuit braking system, latches that hold folding front seats securely in place and dozens of other safety features.

And, of course, there's performance. There's nothing else smoother than Cadillac's V-8 power; nothing else easier than Cadillac's improved variable ratio power steering; nothing else surer or steadier on the highway.

Visit your authorized dealer and measure Cadillac against your own motoring requirements. It's the only valid comparison test for the Standard of the World.

China Looms As Chief Enemy Of Muscovites

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
An AP News Analyst

MOSCOW (AP) — Events in the Soviet-Chinese feud these days are remarkably similar to those of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's last year in power. But now Moscow and Peking are much angrier at each other, while Moscow and the West are drawing even closer. It is the old pattern drawn less in grays, more in sharp blacks and whites.

The men who ousted Khrushchev in October 1964 sought to improve relations with China. Peking ignored them, then scored them, then turned savagely upon them.

MUCH WORSE
Relations are much worse now because, according to the Russians, the Chinese are being more provocative. Peking, in turn, accuses the Russians of provocations.

Recent incidents are similar to some in 1963.

In June 1963, someone broke the glass of a display case in front of the Chinese Embassy in Moscow and took out material criticizing Soviet positions. At the same place last week, Russians chopped down display cases that gave the Chinese version of a Soviet-Chinese clash in Red Square.

SHAME ON YOU
In September 1963, Russians demonstrated in front of the Chinese Embassy, shouting "Shame, shame!" From Monday through Thursday of last week, the same thing happened. The 1963 demonstration was against Chinese opposition to the Soviet signing of a nuclear test ban treaty with Western powers. Last week's demonstrations have opposed the Red Guard siege of the Soviet Embassy in Peking, which began after the Jan. 23 Red Square clash.

SELLOUT CHARGE
The nuclear test ban treaty was the high point of Khrushchev's attempt to stabilize East-West relations in a way that might curb the danger of nuclear war. The Chinese denounced any agreement with the West as a sellout of the Communist cause, saying they did not fear war.

After Leonid I. Brzhnev and Alexei N. Kosygin replaced Khrushchev, they tried literally to reorient Soviet policy — facing the orient more than the west.

They soon found that Mao

Tse-tung, the Chinese Communist chief, demanded nothing less than complete acquiescence in his guns before better policy. They balked.

Now the Soviet leaders are back on Khrushchev's path of seeking to fight only a cold war on one front. They are moving back into agreements with the West while China looms as the potential enemy.

The recent signing of a treaty for peaceful uses of outer space and current progress toward a treaty banning the spread of nuclear weapons are in the 1963 Khrushchev tradition.

VIET SECOND
In September 1964, the Soviet press suddenly carried tales of Chinese persecution of Sinkiang's tribal peoples, related to tribes across the Soviet border. Now the Soviet press has run a few stories that sound almost exactly like those of 1964 about Sinkiang and the border there.

In 1963 and 1964, Khrushchev sought a conference of the world's Communist parties to endorse the Kremlin's position in its sharpening ideological dispute with Peking.

His successors muffed the idea. But since last November the Kremlin has been trying again to whip other parties into line on a basically anti-Chinese conference.

Now the Vietnam situation remains grave. But it has slipped to a distant second place in Soviet attention.

Mounting hostility toward China is the dominant theme of Russian public opinion today.

Guardsmen Called Out To Stand Alert Drills

The 56 enlisted men and officers of Battery A, 13th Artillery, 49th Division, Texas National Guard, stationed in Big Spring, are having a busy week-end.

Their week-end began at 3 a.m. Saturday when, on orders of their commanding officer, Capt. Johnny P. Hopper, the entire battery was theoretically called to active duty. In actuality, they did not show up at the National Guard Armory until 2 p.m. From then on late into the night and again today, the alert, to all practical purposes, was very real.

"We're drilling," tersely reported an officer at the armory, "and the drills will continue through Sunday."

The national guardsmen here are engaged in the same activity as their 23,000 counterparts in all parts of Texas.

The occasion is a special operation called Exercise Talon Shield which began at 3 a.m. yesterday and goes on through March 12. It initiates all actions necessary in the event of an actual call to active duty. Theoretically, it was explained, the phone calls and messages which stirred the guardsmen from their warm beds early Saturday morning was a technical call to active duty.

The guardsmen affected by the exercise are those in Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana.

The next round of drilling will be on the last days of the exercise March 11 and 12.

Rites Pending For Mrs. Black

Mrs. Belle Black, 77, of 1109 E. 4th, died at 5:30 p.m. today in a local hospital. She had been in ill health for some time but had been in the hospital only a few days.

Services for Mrs. Black are pending at the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

She was born Dec. 8, 1889 but the place was not known Saturday night.

She was married to Jim Black in Merkel Nov. 8, 1908. He was a night manager and they moved to Big Spring in 1919. He died in 1933.

For many years after his death Mrs. Black was agent for the Southwestern Life Insurance Co.

She was a member of the 14th and Main Street Church of Christ.

Survivors are one daughter, Mrs. Fred Guitler Jr., Roswell, N.M.; one son, Jim Black, Midland; one sister, Mrs. Willie Highsmith, San Antonio. There are eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

face, but they were eye-openers, nevertheless.

Dates for the Howard County Heart Council's annual fund appeal have been fixed for Feb. 27. Our county has always had a good record in support of giving to help overcome this major killer.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Burns, Ackerly, had a real shocker when they returned home last week from Dallas where they had been at the bedside of her mother, who had undergone surgery in Dallas. Where their home had been northwest of Ackerly was nothing but a charred heap. Everything they had — except what they had taken on the trip — was destroyed. And there was no insurance.

Our friends over at Stanton checked off another Chamber of Commerce year with a banquet Thursday evening. Cecil Bridges became new president, succeeding Horace Blocker, and the organization honored Newell Tate as Martin County's outstanding farmer.

Antimissile Money Okay Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., predicts that Congress will put up the $377 million President Johnson asked in standby funds to start installing an antimissile system.

Russell, who heads the Senate Armed Services Committee, said in an interview "Congress is in a box" because Johnson made spending of the proposed appropriation contingent on negotiations with the Soviet Union for an agreement under which neither country would go into this highly expensive field.

$40 BILLION
"I don't know anything that Congress can do but provide the money and hope that it won't have to be spent," Russell said.

He said that if the Russians prove obstinate about expanding the skeleton system they are installing around Moscow he looks for a long-term American program which would require an outlay of about $40 billion over the next 10 years.

"We could do it, of course, but I hope we don't have to," Russell said.

TUNE CHANGES
Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., head of the Senate-House Economic Committee, said he believes the Russians are changing their tune since Johnson's announcement that he wants an agreement to eliminate antimissile outlays.

"I think that (Secretary of Defense Robert S.) McNamara is finally getting through to them, that if you spend $3 or $4 or $5 billion for defense in an antimissile system, you can counteract that by spending about $1 billion in offense," he said.

"Everybody I've talked to is convinced, including the ones on the other side in this argument, that we can get through any kind of antimissile system that they construct."

TO PROTECT SITES
Proxmire said he thinks it is important to try to get some kind of agreement with the Soviets.

Russell previously opposed the antimissile program but supported Congress' decision last year to provide unasked funds for preliminary purchase of component parts. He indicated he believes any initial installations would be designed to protect the Minuteman missile sites.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff have recommended defense systems for the 50 largest American cities at a cost of some $18 billion to $19 billion. But those in Congress familiar with the program say such a program will be a long time in materializing if it ever is undertaken.

Proxmire's remarks were taped for the television program, "Youth Wants to Know."

Crisis Lies Behind Election In India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India holds its fourth general elections beginning Wednesday against a backdrop of crises — food shortages, a staggering economy, overpopulation, student unrest, disunity and border tensions with Pakistan and Communist China.

About 250 million are eligible to cast ballots to determine the people who for the next five years will fill the 521 seats of Parliament's lower house and the 3,560 seats of the various state legislatures.

WEEK OF VOTING
Because the country does not have the facilities to hold all the balloting on one day, it will be spread over seven days. Counting will start after all voting is completed and the government hopes to have complete returns by Feb. 24.

Sometimes after that — in March or April — the majority party's members of Parliament will meet to select the prime minister for the next five years. There is no question but that the Congress party again will be the majority party but there is considerable uncertainty whether Prime Minister Indira Gandhi will be their choice.

BAD SHOWING
In May, all members of Parliament as well as all state legislators will vote on the country's next president. President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, who is 78 and in poor health, is not expected to stand for another term.

Mrs. Gandhi's Congress party is expected to make its worst showing since independence although it still holds a majority. It holds 364 of 509 seats in Parliament now but may go into the next term with 325, or fewer, of 521 seats.

SYMPATHY VOTES
If the party does better than expected, Mrs. Gandhi's position will be strengthened but if it does badly, as feared, the party may look for a stronger candidate.

Mrs. Gandhi's seat in Parliament is regarded as certain. A "safe" constituency in her home state of Uttar Pradesh was selected so she could devote her time to national campaigning.

But these plans were dashed when Mrs. Gandhi suffered facial injuries when hit by a stone thrown by a heckler at Bhubaneswar last Wednesday. She was hospitalized overnight Friday and ordered to discontinue her campaign.

The incident may bring a substantial wave of sympathy votes, especially from women, who comprise half the electorate.

Scouts Score Heavily With Exposition

The most boys, the most exciting displays and demonstrations and the biggest crowd ever to turn out for a Boy Scout event in Big Spring made Saturday's Lone Star District Exposition record-breaking in the opinion of leaders in the organization.

Bill McRee, scout executive, termed the event the most successful ever held here and said that the effective use of the Mall at the Highland South Shopping Center made the show an even greater success. The location attracted hundreds of visitors—many of whom were unfamiliar, he said, with scouting and these found the exposition especially absorbing.

McRee credited much of the success of the event to the diligent efforts of Bill Bradford, ticket sales chairman, and to Henry Stewart, the general chairman.

Although it was technically a three-county event — Howard, Glasscock and Sterling — only Howard County boys took part.

The president's ribbons — top awards for the exposition — went to Pack 1, sponsored by St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Joe Horton, cubmaster; Troop 7, sponsored by Downtown Lions, with Bert Andries, scoutmaster, and Sea Ship 136, sponsored by Cosden, with Roland Beal as skipper.

Cub packs winning blue ribbons were Nos. 1, 179, 236, and 238. Red ribbons went to Packs 45, 202, 138 and 146. Yellow ribbon awards were to Packs 14 and 37.

Troops winning blue ribbons were Nos. 329, 8, 179 and 116. Red ribbons went to Nos. 146, 136, 2 and 4; yellow ribbons to 216, 81, 18 and 135.

Explorers Post No. 236 won a blue ribbon.

The exposition was under the general supervision and direction of the camping and activity committee headed by Frosty Robinson.

Red Williams headed up the jury of judges which made the awards.

McRee estimated between 300 and 400 boys took part in the day-long event at the shopping center. Despite the somewhat menacing weather of early morning nothing slowed the day's activity, McRee said.

City police said that a big truck loaded with scrap failed to heed a red light and crashed into the middle of a car driven by Durwood Cummings, 27. Cummings, alone in his car was travelling west and had reached the middle of the intersection the police reported.

The truck, driven by John Hernandez Flores, 45, of Hereford, was going south on Gregg. It was loaded with bales of

HC Rips Clarendon For 16th Victory

CLARENDON — Howard Clarendon barreled through Clarendon College, 88-64, here Saturday night for its 16th victory over the Hawks.

The Jayhawks had expected to run into a buzzsaw in the Bulldogs but poured it on from the start. In Western Conference play, they are a respectable 7-2 and refuse to concede anything to any foe in the battle for the Plains College of Levelland.

Reserves played much of the second half for HCJC, so completely did the Hawks dominate Clarendon is now 3-5 with in the circuit.

Lee Leonard, consistently hitting his patented jumper from outside, led Buddy Travis' team in scoring with 25 points. He hit 20 of those before the half-time intermission.

HCJC had beaten Clarendon by 11 points in Big Spring but did not pull away until the late stages of the game. This one was far different.

HC recently suffered through a five-game losing streak. Now it has won the last four times out of the chute and with six starts remaining in regular season play appears headed for that coveted 20-game win season again.

Saturday night's game may have gone a long way toward sewing up a berth in the Region V tournament at Amarillo next month for the Hawks.

Clarendon's top hand was Mike Barrera, who wound up with 15 points.Leod Smith banked in 15 for HCJC while Henry Willis counted 14.

Randy Matson Snaps Own Mark With 70-7 1/2 Effort

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Randy Matson, Texas Aggie giant, threw the shot 70 feet 7 1/2 inches Saturday night to better his own world's record by a quarter of an inch.

The tremendous throw came in the Dallas Indoor Track and Field Meet. Matson was using the outdoor shot and could not set a world's indoor record although the throw was almost three feet better than the 67 feet 10 inches record held by Neil Steinhauer of Oregon.

Matson set the world's outdoor record in the shot in May of 1965 in the Southwest Conference meet when he threw the 16-pound ball 70 feet 7 1/2 inches at College Station, Tex.

The big Aggie junior, second shot 69 feet 2 inches Friday night in the Will Rogers Games at Fort Worth.

Griffin was also named the State Bowler of the Month for his 256 game achieved in January while White capped the All-Events in the meet with a 191. The squad's winning score was 3997. MEET SET AT MUNY

Weather permitting, a Partnership Handicap Golf tournament will be staged over the spacious acres of the Municipal Golf Course today.

This is the first big event of the year planned by J. E. Wetsel, manager of the course, and he's issued a special invitation to linksters throughout the city to take part.

Entry fee is $2.50. Players will be shooting for gift certificates, redeemable at the golf shop.

Funseth Leads Phoenix Open

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Rod Funseth overcame erratic driving during the early play Saturday and a near disastrous final hole to hold a one stroke lead after three rounds of the $70,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament.

Funseth, 33, from Spokane, Wash., finished the day with a three-round total of 68-64-70-202, one better than Dean Refram, Boca Raton, Fla.

Funseth, winner of the Phoenix Open in 1965, bogeyed the second and fifth holes and collected one birdie on the front nine for a one-over 36.

It could have been worse, as Funseth, driving erratically throughout the tourney, pushed his drive on No. 2 behind an olive tree, hit the tree with his second shot, came up short with his approach and needed a six-foot putt to salvage a bogey.

It wasn't over for Funseth, who carried a comfortable three-stroke lead into the 18th hole. He hit his drive out of bounds on the right and needed five strokes to reach the green, where he two-putted for a double-bogey seven.

As Funseth had said earlier, it was driving that was getting him down, just the opposite of the baby-faced Refram, 30-year-old regular who has yet to win on the circuit.

Refram the first round co-leader, was two strokes ahead of Jerry Mowlds, Julius Borge and Gardiner Dickinson, grouped in third place with eight-under 205s.

Ponies Widen Lead; Tech Upsets TCU

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—South in trouble after they went in front to stay on John Higginbotham's basket with 3:42 remaining in the first half.

Denny Holman and two sophomores, Lynn Phillips and Bill Voight, each scored 20 points for the Mustangs. Bob Begert added 19.

Despite the scoring of Baylor's Jimmy Turner, with 30 points, and his teammate, Darrell Hardy, who had 22, the Mustangs never were seriously as Christian's comeback for a 77-72 Southwest Conference basketball victory Saturday.

A crowd of 6,547 saw the regionally televised game.

The cellar-dwelling Red Raiders dominated play in all departments as they rolled to an 18-point lead in the first 15 minutes. Texas Christian then rallied to trim Tech's margin to 44-33 at halftime.

The Frogs continued their climb in the second half, whitening Tech's edge to 64-58 with seven minutes remaining. Then the Raiders went into a delay game that stifled the Frogs' rally.

Featured Skaters

Pictured here are four skaters who gave a performance at the Valentine party staged under the auspices of the Skateland Roller Club at the Skateland building Friday night. The girls are Cheryl Lewis (left) and Patricia Musick, both of Big Spring, while the men are Paul Renwick, Wellsville, N.Y., and Joe Coffman, Warrensburg, Mo. The club now has about 27 members and is still growing. Renwick and Coffman have won numerous awards for their performances on roller skates. The four will shortly take proficiency tests in Dallas, given by the Roller Skating Rinks Operators of America. Initiation fee within the club is $3.50 each.

NORM VAN BROCKLIN

Vikings Lose Head Coach

ST. PAUL — MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Norm Van Brocklin, the only head coach the Minnesota Vikings have had since their entry into the National Football League six years ago, resigned Saturday.

The resignation was immediately accepted by the club's board of directors, and General Manager Jim Finks said, "as of now this club has no coach."

Van Brocklin did not attend a news conference called to make the announcement and was not available for comment.

The Vikings issued a prepared release which quoted Van Brocklin as saying:

"Under existing conditions I feel the general interest of the Minnesota Vikings as well as those of my family and myself are best served at this time by my resignation as head coach. "I wish to emphasize that this is not a hasty decision on my part, but one that I have given serious consideration to over a period of several months. It is, obviously, not an easy decision to make. "However, I do have peace of mind and general interest of my family in mind in arriving at this decision. They are of paramount importance to me.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Texas dominated the backboards, took advantage of Arkansas floor mistakes and used an effective stall in the closing minutes to defeat the Razorbacks 67-61 Saturday in a Southwest Conference basketball game.

Billy Arnold poured in 22 points and Noel Stout added 15 as the Longhorns maintained control most of the way after vaulting to an early 12-1 lead.

Arkansas rallied in the late stages of the first half to trail by only two, 31-29, at intermission and managed to lead three times early in the second half.

Texas went ahead to stay with 9:12 remaining by reeling off six consecutive points for a 52-46 edge. Arkansas never got within four points after that as poor passing gave the Longhorns possession four times.

Kennel Club Match To Begin At 1:30

The Big Spring Kennel Club will offer an American Kennel Club Plan A-OA Sanctioned Match at the Big Spring Skateland on US 80 West today. Entries will close at 1 p.m. and judging will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Typical Of Show Breeds

Ch. Warhaven's Eighth Day, the dog pictured here, was sired by Ch. Merrie Oaks Midnight Star who was Sire of the Year in 1965 for siring the most colie champions. Colies are one of the most difficult breeds to "finish" because there are a large number of them bred each year and the American Kennel Club awards point values according to the number bred and the number entered in shows in given areas; the more that are bred, the harder it is to become a champion in that breed. In 1965, for instance, there were over 20,000 rough colies registered by the American Kennel Club, but only 70 dogs completed their championships, making the odds one in 3,000. Only superlative representatives of the breed can hope to attain the coveted title, Champion of Record.

Pictured here is the immediate past president of the Big Spring Kennel Club, Bill W. Tubb, with his Rough Collie champion Warhaven's Eighth Day, WA-119489. "Butch," as the dog is called, will not be eligible to compete in this Plan A-OA event because he has already climbed the long show road to his championship by competing in many "point" shows but he is typical of the young dogs who are being campaigned in the area and will be present to try for the $200 worth of trophies which are being offered in today's event at the Skateland building.

"expression" by holding their ears up and alert. Many hours of patient training go into developing the dogs ability to show their natural elegance. "Butch" is a ham and likes to compete as most show dogs do. Other breeds are shown in other characteristic poses, with some being set up by the handlers; that is, their feet are arranged in the square position and their heads and tails are

Steer Mermen Defeat Eagles In Exhibition

The Big Spring Steers tipped Abilene High, 56-28, and lost to Abilene Cooper, 67-29, in a double dual swimming meet staged at the YMCA here Saturday morning.

Bob Tyldesley, Jim Devore, Frank Horn, Bruce Bunn and two relay teams picked up first place for the Steers against Abilene High.

Devore had two firsts and Tyldesley one against Cooper. The Longhorns will see action twice next Saturday in Midland, meeting Lee at 10 a.m. and Midland High at 2 p.m.

Big Spring results: 100-yard medley relay—first against Abilene High, second against Cooper. 200-yard freestyle—Bill Borner, second against Abilene High and second against Abilene Cooper. Cooper also took a third. 400-yard freestyle—Bob Tyldesley, first against Cooper and first against Abilene High and third against Cooper. Chuck Stone, second against Abilene High and third against Cooper. 100-yard intermediate—Jim Devore, first against Abilene High and first against Cooper; Bob Bell, third against Abilene High and third against Cooper. 100-yard backstroke—Devore, first against Cooper, second against Abilene High; Johnny Arquele, third against Abilene High. 400-yard freestyle—Bill Borner, second against Cooper, second against Abilene High; Charles Loy, third against Cooper, third against Abilene High. 100-yard breaststroke—Bell, third against Cooper, second against Abilene High; Larry Ehm, third against Abilene High. 400-yard freestyle relay—first against Abilene High.

held in the most complimentary positions to show the structure of the dog to the judge. Still others are actually lifted onto tables and set up so that the judge may make an accurate appraisal of the merits of the dog. These, of course, are the toy breeds and smaller breeds such as Dachshunds.

Visitors to the match today will see many breeds being shown including some of the rare breeds. Matches are training grounds for these dogs who travel with their owners or handlers many thousands of miles before they attain the title of champion. There are over 500 AKC Licensed "point" Shows across the nation each year and many dogs are shown from coast to coast. Countless matches are held also.

All are strictly governed by the American Kennel Club who require that the events be held under specific rules. Possibly the most famous dog show is the Westminster Show, which is also being offered this weekend at the Westminster Show carried at the same value as any other point show, but the prestige of a win at the Garden is the goal of every exhibitor.

Perhaps some young being started on the show career here today may someday win at Westminster — who knows?

Stanton Bisons Slam Morton Quint, 62-49

MORTON — The Stanton Bufaloes moved within one game of a clinch tie for first place in District 4-AA basketball standings by kayoing dangerous Morton here Friday night, 62-49.

Carol Holloway and David Avery led the Buffalo surge by each counting 14 points.

The Bisons tangle with Stanton at home Tuesday night. A win there would put them into a playoff with Post for the conference crown. Stanton is now 8-1 in league play and 29-3 overall.

Stanton trailed at the half, 20-25, but outscored the Buffs in the third, 22-6, to all but put the decision on ice.

Bryan Willis kept Morton in the ball game all the way with a 19-point output.

The Stanton B team also won 65-50, in a game that saw Johnny Louder count 20 points and Tommy Glenn 18 for the visitors.

Bob Hawkins and Rusty Roden each had 11 for Morton. If the tie for first place endures after Tuesday night, the playoff for the crown could take place Friday night on a neutral court.

STANTON (62) — J. Jones 14-2; shorts 4-0-8; Springer 11-7; Holloway 6-2-14; Avery 7-0-14; White 1-0-2; Cox 1-0-1; Muckaby 0-0-0; D. Jones 1-3-7. Totals 27-42.

MORTON (49) — Willis 8-3-19; Thomas 1-2-4; Moore 0-0-0; Harvey 1-0-2; St. Clair 1-0-4; Thompson 5-0-14; Davis 6-2-14; Hobson 1-0-2. Totals 20-49.

Flower Grove Fems Play Gail At Home Tuesday

The Flower Grove Dragons and the Gail Coyotes, who finished the District 87-B girls' basketball season deadlocked for the lead, will open the best of a three-game series at 8 o'clock Tuesday in the Flower Grove gym.

The second game is slated for the Gail fieldhouse at 7 p.m. Friday. If a third game is necessary, it will be unreeled in the Lamesa gym at 8 o'clock Saturday.

Comparative scores would indicate that the playoff is a toss-up and might go right down to the wire. Gail beat the Dragons by five points at Gail but Flower Grove turned around and won by four points on its home court.

In other district starts, Gail beat Klondike twice but split with Loop. Flower Grove topped Loop twice but was able to win only one of two from Klondike.

Stanton and Sundown have been the teams' only common opponents outside of conference. Gail dropped an 11-point decision to Stanton and lost by five to Sundown.

Flower Grove yielded to Stanton by 10 but handed Sundown its only defeat of the season, 40-39.

Much of the Flower Grove success can be credited to the Dragons' backcourt combination of Diane Massengale, Carol Ann Pribyla and Neta Hightower. At times, a six-foot freshman, Virginia Pribyla, has done yeoman service when one of the regular guards has gotten in foul trouble.

Massengale, who stands 5-9, and the 5-10 Carol Pribyla are the only seniors in Flower Grove's starting lineup. Neta Hightower is a sophomore.

A junior, Mary Pribyla, and sophomores Ann Haggard and Cindy Dykes (daughter of the coach, Roy Dykes), are the starting forwards for the Dragons. Cindy leads the club in scoring with a near 30-point average. She has proved to be especially poisonous from the foul line.

AMARILLO Quint Shatters Mark

AMARILLO — The Amarillo College Badgers "hung tough" in the Western Junior College Conference basketball race by punishing Frank Phillips of Borger, 137-72.

Charles Wells counted 38 points in leading Amarillo to victory. The Badger aggregate was a new school scoring record.

All the Badger starters hit in double figures. Dale Dawson led the hapless Platinemen with 25 points.

Amarillo College is now 16-7 for the season and 8-1 in league competition.

Chiefs May Have To Rebook Game

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs were informed Friday night they cannot use the municipal stadium Aug. 24 for a professional football exhibition with the Chicago Bears because of a baseball game scheduled the next day.

John Antonicello, stadium director, urged the Chiefs to reschedule it for Aug. 23. There was no immediate reply.

Cincinnati Remains No. 1 Candidate for AFL Team

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—American Football League owners will hold their annual meeting beginning Monday with the 1967 schedule, expansion, the merger agreement, a possible farm set-up and the Super Bowl among the items to be discussed.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle has said he plans to attend. The major discussion is likely to revolve around the schedule, with a 16-week program to be drawn up. The big question is whether to start the season on the Labor Day weekend or the following week.

The owners also are expected to discuss the exhibition season in which each AFL team will meet at least one National Football League team.

expansion with an eye toward the AFL's 10th franchise, which will become operational for the 1969 season. Cincinnati remains the leading candidate for expansion.

Also under consideration will be the implementation of various items under the AFL-NFL merger agreement and exploring the possibility of setting up some sort of farm system with one or more of the minor leagues.

As for the Super Bowl, the owners are expected to present their ideas for its future. There has been sentiment among AFL owners for having it played in an AFL city at the end of the 1967 season since the first game was played in Los Angeles, an NFL site.

Clubhouse Needed To Make Munny Course Top-Rated

By TOMMY HART

More than 20,000 rounds of golf will have been played at the Municipal Golf course here over a 12 months' period by the time the fiscal year ends March 31. The course is getting a heavy play by local linksters and is attracting golfers from Colorado City, Snyder, Odessa, Midland and Stanton. The Cee City course, for instance, reportedly has been closed to greens fees players and that type of individual is gravitating more and more toward the local course. The Munny layout desperately needs a clubhouse but will not get it until such a building has been budgeted by the city. A layout covering about 2,400 square feet would cost about $25,000. The city should be able to afford that, since the golf course is one of the few facilities maintained by the municipality that provides a return on the investment dollar. The city of Lubbock is preparing to spend $70,000 for an addition to the clubhouse on its municipal course. The public links players here are prepared to help pay for such a building through increased green fees, so long as that increase is not exorbitant. Nothing sells a city to incoming industry like good recreational facilities and the Munny course can never become a top-rated operation until it gets an adequate clubhouse. Over 42 per cent of our nation's golf population, and they now number more than 8,000,000 people, play on the 1,063 municipal courses which represents only 13 per cent of the 8,323 courses of all types in the nation. Only those players who have visited other courses and found they have to wait hours and even days for starting times can appreciate the fact that they usually can tee off immediately after they arrive at the Munny course here. Tulane is doing tremendous football recruiting in the Houston area, which means the state's talent will be more diluted than ever. Oklahoma University, Oklahoma State, Mississippi State, Tulsa, Arkansas and LSU already scout heavily in Texas.

Cinder tracks are fine where schools emphasize track programs but they are an eternal headache in West Texas, where the wind constantly blows in sand that mixes with the cinders. It would cost the schools here about $30,000 to change to a revolutionary new type of track called Grass-Tex but the problem would then be solved for once and for all. The Grass-Tex surface is ideal under all kinds of conditions and any foreign matter like sand could be cleaned away with a good drainage system simply by turning the hose on it. The surface is durable, too. The athletic situation has become so bleak at South Plains College in Borger that basketball coach Don Loyd recommended to the board of trustees that they get out of all competitive athletics but his suggestions went unheeded. The school awards no scholarships to basketball players, though it does provide some janitorial work for seven players. Frank Phillips has about 770 students. Without scholarship help in the powerful Western Conference, a school cannot hope to compete. NMMI was forced to forfeit both its wins over Frank Phillips, by the way, because Bob Pennington, one of its players, did not pass enough hours in the fall semester. They've cut down on the basketball scholarships at NMMI to help the football program. For that reason, the Bronchos will probably be looking for a new cage mentor after this season. Cassius Clay says his recently-dissolved marriage cost him $190,000. Of that amount, $38,000 went to the lawyers alone. Some of the pro football teams have cooled off on Ray McDonald, the big Texan who was such a running whiz for Idaho University last season. Too slow? Larry Morris, the former HCJC cager, has two brothers at Crosbyton High School in Lonnie and Lance who are pacing that team to a tremendous season. Larry played his high school ball at nearby McAdoo. A well known junior college basketball coach was asked not long ago what was the major difference he experienced, after stepping up from the high school ranks. He summed it up neatly in two words: "No mothers."

War Birds Trounce BS Cagers, 65-55

ABILENE — Abilene High place with Abilene Cooper. The Longhorns, however, have already nailed down third place in the eight-team race. Over-all, the Longhorns are 24-8. Rusty McDearman, one of four Eagles to hit in double figures, led the way with 19 points. Bruce Huff had one of his better games for the Eagles, tossing in 14. Robert Jackson led Big Spring with 15 points but didn't hit the total he needed to zero in on Bill Thompson's second leading all-time scoring mark. Jackson now needs at least 22 points against San Angelo Tuesday to topple that mark, set eight seasons ago. The Steers stayed right with Abilene for a while, using a zone defense and a deliberate attack. McDearman ultimately put the Eagles ahead with a field goal with 2:35 left in the second period. By half time, the Eagles were in charge, 26-21, and the Abilene team outscored the Steers, 21-10, in the third period, leading at one time by as much as 20 points. The Steers caught fire again in the fourth, outgunning the War Birds, 24-18, but by then it was too late. Danny Clendenin scored 13 points before he fouled out in the fourth for Big Spring while Wayne Johnson counted 11. Abilene easily won the B game, 61-41, in a contest that saw Jack Carter bang in 15 points for the winners and a James Newman lead Big Spring with 18.

Mustangs, Gail Meet Thursday

ACKERLY — The Sands Mustangs clinched a tie for first place in District 87-B basketball standings by belting Loop, 54-36, here Friday night. The Mustangs, who engage Gail in a 'sudden death' play-off in the Lamesa High School gymnasium for the conference title, now are 9-1 in the race and 18-5 on the season. Arlen White's club had trouble for a half but took complete charge in the third quarter by outscoring the Longhorns, 18-5. Lynn Maxwell did a lot to destroy the Loop defense, scoring 26 points for the Ponies. Oren Lancaster chipped in with 12. Ken Schneider paced the Longhorn team with a nine-point output. In the game at Lamesa, the Mustangs will be trying to retain the crown they won last year. The Sands girls played what their coach, James Blake, said was the finest game of the season in winning the preliminary test, 55-32. Boys' game: SANDS (54) — Lancaster 44-12; Russell 6-3-1; Maxwell 11-4-26; Hornbrink 2-2-7; Calvis 8-1-1; Fryer 8-1-1; Hooper 9-2-2; Newcomer 1-0-2. Totals 18-54. LOOP (36) — Walters 1-3-5; Yucum 1-0-4; Schneider 4-1-7; Clark 8-1-1; Schneider 9-4-4; Cunningham 1-1-3; McCamp 9-1-1. Totals 18-16-38. Sands 10-27-34. Loop 8-21-26-26.

Cooper Rips Cats, 47-42

SAN ANGELO — Abilene Cooper made sure it continued in a tie for first place in District 2-AAAA basketball standings by defeating San Angelo, 47-42, here Friday night. Cooper now has a 10-3 record while San Angelo is 4-9 in the chase. Sam Bradley led the Bobcats with 17 points while Tom Stanton had 17 and Jack Midren 16 for Cooper. MIDLAND — Odessa High, a Johnny come-lately in the 2-AAAA race, toppled Midland High, 66-55, here Friday night. The win was the sixth in 13 starts for Odessa while Midland dropped to 5-8. Gene Johnson stuffed in 16 points for Odessa while Jodie Mayes counted 18 for Midland. ODESSA — Odessa Perman manhandled Midland Lee, 62-54, in District 2-AAAA play here Friday night. Chuck Smith again stepped out to lead Perman with a 21-point effort. Pat Gooden chipped in with 17 and Bill Melton 12 for the winner. For Lee, Rick Maroney was the only one to hit in double figures. He wound up with 11. The win was the fifth in 13 league assignments for Perman. Lee has an identical record.

Wolves Firm Up Hold On First

COLORADO CITY — Already crowned basketball champions of District 5-AA, the Colorado City Wolves added frosting to the cake by turning back Hamlin, 79-64, here Friday night. The win was the 19th in 28 starts over the season for Caddo Matthews' team. The Wolves will now meet the Crane-Marfa winner of District 6-AA in bi-district competition. Kerry Campbell led Cee City with 22 points. Milton Davis tossed in 30 for Hamlin.

Anderson Is Set To Take Over Post

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Paul Hornung, the Golden Boy of the National Football League for the past 10 years, has made his exit from the Green Bay Packers but one of the league's richest rookies, Donny Anderson, is waiting in the wings. Hornung, who missed most of the 1966 season with a pinched nerve, was taken Friday by the New Orleans Saints in the NFL draft to stock the new team. "It's hard to realize that after 10 years I won't be with the Packers next year," Hornung said. "I knew I was going to be on the list," Hornung said. "I talked it over with coach Vince Lombardi and you have to take into consideration my injury and all. "It's just that it hasn't all sunk in yet." Whether or not Hornung will be able to play for the new NFL expansion club is problematical. Asked if he'll play for the Saints, Hornung said, "I'll just have to wait and see how the shoulder progresses before making any decision. Right now it feels fine." The 31-year-old Hornung, once called "the world's greatest living football player," came to the Packers in 1957 from Notre Dame where he was an All-American and Heisman Trophy winner. At Green Bay, Hornung led the Packers in scoring in 1958 and 1959 and set a league scoring record of 176 points in 1960. Hornung's performance last season was a far cry from the Golden Boy's glory days, but New Orleans coach Tom Sears is eager to give Hornung another chance in 1967 when the Saints go marching into their first NFL season.

Local Linksters 3rd In 2-AAAA Golf Race

ABILENE — One could throw a blanket over the eight teams after the first round of competition in the District 2-AAAA golf race, which took place at the Maxwell Municipal course here Friday. San Angelo staged a mild surprise in taking the lead with a four-man 18-hole score of 289 but the Cats led last-place Odessa Permian by a mere 17 strokes — not much when the fact that four more rounds of competition remain. The squads will gather again at San Angelo next Thursday for the second 18 holes of activity. Big Spring, although laying back in third place, is only 11 strokes removed from the top spot, so the issue is still very much in doubt. Defending champion Permian is dead last in the scrambling strokes — not much when the fact that four more rounds of competition remain. Forsan Fems Wait For Bi-District

STERLING CITY — Both Forsan High School basketball teams closed out their District 67-B seasons on a successful note here Friday night. The boys ran their league record to 8-2 by beating the Eagles, 76-67. On the season, the Buffaloes finished with a 16-9 mark. The Forsan girls, who had already clinched the 67-B title, finished district play unbeaten in ten starts by kayoting Sterling City, 82-57. Coach Don Stevens' girls have won 27 of 32 assignments over-all. Their bi-district opponent will be Mertzon. Jack Ellis zeroed in for 26 points and Clayton McKinnon 20 for Forsan while Ray McKinnon made a big contribution with 17. For Sterling, Alex Sedillo had 21 and Ronnie Kilpatrick 16. Forsan finished second to Bronte in the boys' division of the 67-B race. An oddity of the Forsan scoring was that it scored 20 points in each of three quarters — the first, second and fourth. Mollie Condon hit the basket with startling regularity in the girls' game, counting 27 points for the Bisons. Mary Simpson tossed in 15 and Sherry Walraven 11 for Forsan. Elaine Price had a big night for Sterling, banging in 33 points.

Ex-Champ Fights All-Out War Against Delinquency

By HAROLD V. STREETER VALLEJO, Calif. (AP) — Arc Moore, the ageless mongoose of boxing, is in the fight of his life at 53.

ARCHIE MOORE

The former world light-heavyweight champion, recently elevated to boxing's Hall of Fame after a 28-year ring career of more than 200 fights, is going all out against juvenile delinquency.

In Vallejo, his ABC Club — Any Boy Can — cut vandalism losses at a real estate development from $7,000 a month to virtually the vanishing point, in a year's time.

The development firm was so impressed it hired Moore and built an outdoor gym as part of an investment of $25,000 a year.

One hour a day, five days a week, Moore's ABC boys meet for rigorous mental and physical drills. When they recite the pledge to the flag, the sound made by smartly slapping their saluting arms across their hearts almost jars your eardrums.

implores, "and introduce yourself." "I'm student Curtis Pope," the 9-year-old boy says softly.

Webb Boxer Eyes Spot On U.S. Olympic Squad

By NATHAN MITCHELL

When Artemio (Art) Ordonio was a small boy in Manila, The Philippines, he spent most of his time around a boys' club gymnasium. The section of the gymnasium which interested him most was the boxing ring.

Since boxing was the only sport he knew, he devoted much of his idle time to it. For a large part of 1958 he sparred regularly with Larry Smith, then the Air Training Command champion in the featherweight division.

When asked which of his 52 fights had proved the biggest test, Ordonio related, unhesitatingly: "Lou Johnson definitely was the toughest. Unlike Bill Mitchell, Lou Johnson combined speed and fitness with brains."

PLEASE COME BACK THIS WEEKEND

Hundreds of people accepted our invitation last weekend to see Lakeside Estates, on the largest lake in West Texas. In fact, our grand opening was so successful that we didn't get a chance to visit with everyone who dropped by, to show them all of the outstanding features of this newest water playground of West Texas. We'd like to make it up to you soon. We've assigned more sales representatives to serve you and they are on duty seven days a week. So, if we didn't have the opportunity to visit with you last weekend, please come by anytime and let us make it up to you. This weekend would be the perfect time for you to choose the lakefront lot you've been waiting for.

See how close YOU are to Robert Lee and Lakeside Estates . . .

Employment Record Set In January

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's total employment hit a record January high of 72 million in what the Labor Department described today as a dramatic show of strength despite other slipping economic indicators.

At the same time, the nation's unemployment rate remained at 3.7 per cent last month, indicating that "people have been drawn into the labor force" because of the bright job picture, said Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Ross said total employment had shown "surprising" strength in rising 1.2 million since last September.

USED CAR
WARRANTY.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY
USED CAR WARRANTY
BASIC FACTS

Ford Motor Company warrants to Purchaser of used 1-, 2- or 3-year-old Ford-built cars certified and registered by an authorized Dealer, that the Dealer, using exclusive repair parts or Ford Authorized Reconditioned parts, will repair, free of charge including related labor, any Power Train part which fails in normal use and service within (1) 24 months from the termination of the Used Car Warranty or from the date the Used Car Warranty is registered, if that is later; or (2) 50,000 miles of total operation, whichever ever comes first.

The Purchaser will pay only the first $25 of each warranted repair and must present his Owner's Card or Warranty Certificate.

Fewer Train parts include: engine block, head and internal parts, water pump, intake manifold, transmission case and internal parts, torque converter, driveshaft, universal joints, rear axle, differential and rear wheel bearings, but exclude related items such as ignition, electrical, cooling and fuel systems, engine or transmission controls or linkages, manual shift lever, clutch or brake assemblies or wheels, tires or tubes.

The Warranty is not transferable and does not apply to failures caused by abuse, neglect or inadequate maintenance. Repairs attempted by non-authorized dealers, accidents or other casualty.

Every 4 months/4,000 miles: engine oil and filter should be changed, breather cap and air filter cleaned and transmission and axle fluid levels checked. Every 12 months/12,000 miles: air filter (closed ventilation system) emission control valve, thermostat filter and oil breather cap (14 models) should be changed, and emission system and carburetor inspected.

Every 24 months/24,000 miles: air filter (open ventilation system) should be replaced, and universal joints (1964-65 models) inspected. (On 1964-65 Lincoln, manifold to water valve hose and check hose should be replaced every 24 months/24,000 miles. On 1964-65 Ford, Mercury and Comets with air-conditioning, and all '64 Lincoln, manifold to water valve hose should be replaced, and in all models, engine coolant should be changed every 24 months/24,000 miles.)

Webb Chapel Scene Of Friday Ceremony

Miss Wandella Carole Thompson and Robert George Quevedo Jr. were united in marriage during a candlelight ceremony Friday evening at the Webb Air Force Base Chapel.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Thompson, 1107 E. 4th, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert George Quevedo Sr.

Chaplain Thomas Holland officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked by arrangements of large white chrysanthemums, gladioli and pompons. Seven branched candelabra, entwined with greenery, and holding white cathedral tapers, completed the nuptial scene.

The Rev. Billy D. Rudd sang nuptial selections, and Jerry Oliphant was the organist.

T. V. Thompson gave his sister in marriage. For her wedding, the bride chose a formal gown of white satin designed in an Empire style with French Alencon lace accenting the front panel. Her long fitted sleeves formed petal points over the hands, and the chapel train extended from the shoulders. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion cascaded from a crown of seed pearls, and she carried a Juliet bridal bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley, backed in satin and pearl leaves with picot satin streamers.

Miss Kathy Kirby, niece of the bride, served as maid of honor. She was attired in a dress of pink brocade satin fashioned similar to the bride's dress, and carried a white nosegay of Frenched carnations trimmed in matching satin.

Bridesmaids were Miss Terrie Thompson and Miss Cynthia Pruitt, nieces of the bride. Their dresses were designed identically to the maid's of honor, and they carried nosegays of pink carnations.

Airman I.C. Charlie Heiken of Webb Air Force Base was the best man. Ushers were Airman 2.C. Kurt Van Tassel and Airman 2.C. Jim Smejkal, both of Webb Air Force Base. They also acted as groomsmen.

For her wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a two-piece red knit suit with brown lizard accessories and a corsage from her wedding bouquet.

MRS. ROBERT G. QUEVEDO JR.

The couple will be at home in Commack, Long Island, N.Y. She is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School and attended Licensed Vocational Nursing School at Medical Arts Clinic and Hospital. She has been employed at Bennett House. The bridegroom was previously stationed at Webb Air Force Base and has been on duty at Clark Air Force Base, Philippine Islands. A reception honoring the bridal couple was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Kirby, 1607 E. 5th. Those in the receiving line were the bride and bridegroom, the bride's mother and the feminine attendants. The refreshment table was laid with a white lace cloth over pink and centered with an epergne holding white carnations and butterfly roses. The three-tiered white wedding cake was trimmed in pink and featured a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Miss Diane Pruitt, niece of the bride, presided at the guest register. Members of the house party were Mrs. Perry Thompson, Mrs. Fran Pruitt and Miss Koleta Witcher. REHEARSAL DINNER The bridal couple presented gifts to their attendants at a rehearsal dinner Thursday evening in Coker's Restaurant.

A LOVELIER YOU

Prints Burst Forth In Spring Fashions

By MARY SUE MILLER In spring fashion collections, prints burst with news. They're a fabulous explosion of color and pattern.

Never shy, colors come on strong and bright or clear and light. Clashing mixtures vie with harmonies for attention. Art-oriented is the term for patterns. Scrolling abstracts have the look of a stained-glass, art nouveau lamp.

Primitives take their cue from African and Inca cultures. Some florals, the small posies, seem stamped out with a cookie cutter; big impressionist blooms have little kinship with reality. In highly sophisticated color combinations, stripes and chevrons run the gamut for size. The geometric... cubes, cones, squares and circles... are softened to near-abstracts.

No lovely will be able to claim she "just can't find an interesting print." But if you aim to combine flair with flattery, you'd best be guided by the laws of proportion... the relation of a print's size to your own.

As guidelines: A tall, willowy figure is needed to carry splashy patterns. For a petite, small-scaled prints are recommended. Heavy, short figures are minimized by medium-sized, shadowy motifs. Well-spaced or scattered designs suit tall, full figures.

With flattery figured for you, why not break out in the prints now coming into the stores? That way you'd leap right into the spring mood.

DIET AND LIKE IT!

Reduce without starving! Send for my purse-sized booklet, "Diet... And Like It," which includes: Shortcuts to dieting; a calorie calculator; simplified menu planning; your

Cosmotologist Mark Beauty Salon Week

"National Beauty Salon Week, Feb. 12-18, is dedicated to more beautiful women everywhere, announced Gary Don Carey, president of Big Spring Affiliate No. 24, National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, as the observance began today.

"The theme is 'Wear the Promise of Spring in Your Hair,'" continued Carey, who said that local cosmetologists will be at Big Spring State Hospital today to volunteer their time and talents to provide beauty service for women patients.

The association is re-emphasizing its year-round program of public service with visits to local hospitals and institutions.

This week's visits are a part of the activities and celebrations saluting the 17th annual National Beauty Salon Week, sponsored by the national professional association. Similarly, 70,000 member cosmetologists across the nation are preparing to give 500,000 free professional beauty treatments to women in homes, for the aged and orphaned, hospitals, mental institutions, and other such establishments where this type of service is not normally available. The beauty service will range from shampoos and new stylings to coloring and permanent waving, according to Atha Harding, chairman of the local Institutional Welfare Committee.

"The new spring hair fashions have just been released," said Carey, "and can be seen at the NCO Open Mess at Webb Air Force Base Feb. 16 at 7:30 p.m. The new spring hair fashions will be shown along with new spring clothes furnished by local merchants. The public is invited to attend and there will be no charge.

The diamond look is the new look in hair styles for spring, according to the official hair fashion committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association. The diamond has its points rounded softly, which gives a tall, slender look with soft width at the sides.

The diamond shape is most visible from the front view. Hair is dressed closely to the head at the ears, and then width is extended softly outward above the brows, tapering in again to a gracefully narrowed volume at the top. From the side, hair hugs the nape, extending width at the back crown area, and then rounding the top gently to balance the profile.

In most of the new diamond look styles, hair is dressed upward and off the forehead. An open face look is expected to be established definitely by summer. However, wherever hairlines require, or brows are overly dominant, softly curved bangs will be used.

Generally, hair is dressed into a combination of rolling wave movements and scroll overlays. Soft pillows of wave movements give width to the sides and crown areas. Day coiffures are usually dressed into more curve than curl, but evening styles burst out dramatically in freely formed waves and curls.

Hair pieces and wiglets are used freely for the crown area, for both day and evening. However, evening styles are all emphasized with greater detail and volume. In all coiffures, no hair piece is allowed to trail any lower than an inch below the nape.

Wedding Solemnized In Home Ceremony

Miss Becky Jean Cunningham and Richard C. Scott exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hass in Sand Springs.

When Abraham Lincoln sat quietly reading a book, it's doubtful that he ever imagined that one day his giant, brooding statue would be a national landmark, and that he would be known throughout the world.

Basically, Lincoln was a simple man, his nature as essentially rugged and rustic as the log cabin in which he was born. His life, from beginning to end, was a hard one, physically, mentally, and spiritually. Yet, throughout terrible trial, he never lost his faith in God.

Lincoln wasn't "born religious." Faith came to him the hard way, just as everything else did. But once he had found it, his devotion knew no limit. Most of the great men in our country's history have been devoted. Why? Because experience has shown them that no man can go it alone. That we, all of us, need God's guidance.

The place to seek that guidance is in the church of your choice.

TOPS Club Gets Diet Recipes

Diet recipes were given during the group therapy session held Thursday evening by the TOPS Plate Pushers in the Reddy Room of Texas Electric Service Company.

Mrs. Herbert Doering presided, and two new members, Mrs. Doug Walker and Mrs. Jim Cearley, were introduced. A total weight loss of eight pounds was reported and a gain of three pounds.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., Thursday in the Student Union Building at Howard County Junior College when Mrs. Ken Carter will present a program.

J. E. Hogans Hosts Foreign Students

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Hogan, 509 Westover, were hosts Saturday afternoon at a get-acquainted party for 15 foreign students stationed at Webb Air Force Base. The men were accompanied by Capt. Robert G. Burns and Lt. Gus Jordan, and 12 local people were also in attendance.

The informal affair, held from 2 to 5 p.m., is one of many planned hospitalities promoted through the Community-Base Relations Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Refreshments, all typically American, were served from the buffet.

Other such parties will be held in the future for the 50 foreign students now stationed at the base.

Taking The First Step In Scouting

Den Mothers Introduce Cubs To Scout Program

When a young man reaches the age of eight years, he becomes eligible for the Cub Scouts and enters the program by joining a "Den," thereby gaining another mom, a Den Mother. Conversely, every Den Mother gains several extra sons.

Mrs. Patti Horton is Den Mother to 14 youngsters, all in Den 3 of Pack 100, sponsored by St. Paul Presbyterian Church. She and her husband, Joe Horton who is an inspection engineer at the Cosden Oil and Chemical Co., joined the Scouting movement by virtue of having four sons of their own, the oldest turning eight two years ago.

When Greg, now 9, joined the Cub Scouts, so did his father and mother. Joe Horton is Cubmaster of the pack, and Mrs. Horton is his Den Mother. Since then, their second son, Waleo, 8, joined the Den, and Derek, who will be six today, and Doug, 3, are waiting their turns.

ENJOYS IT
"I enjoy working with boys," Mrs. Horton explained, "and it has helped me understand my own boys better." She meets each Monday at 4 p.m. with the 14 youngsters at the church, and goes with them to the monthly Pack meetings, held on the last Tuesday of each month at 7 p.m.

Pack 100 includes four Dens, plus a Den for Webelos. The Pack chairman is Birt Allison, and Carroll Davidson is the institutional representative, Rev. Daniel Sebesta is head of the institution, and Ray Thomas is assistant Cubmaster.

The 46 boys in the pack will be the focal point of special services in the church today—Scout Sunday.

Assisting Mrs. Horton in Den 3 are Mrs. Donald Lester, assistant Den Mother, and Steve Burnett, Den Chief.

Each meeting of the Den begins with a patriotic ceremony, including the Pledge of Allegiance and posting four flags—Den flag, Pack flag, Texas flag, and the U.S. flag.

GOODIE BUCKET
The roll call comes next, in which a record is kept of the Cubs who are in uniform, those with their dues, and books, etc. The Den Chief organizes games and a different Cub brings the refreshments for each meeting. (To help him remember, a "goodie bucket" is provided him when his turn comes around, and he brings it to the meeting filled with the refreshments he has planned for his fellows.) Meetings are closed with "the living circle," she said.

Once each month, Mrs. Horton plans an outing, coinciding with the theme for the month. Currently, the Cubs were working on their exhibit for the Exposition and the upcoming Blue and Gold banquet.

Any youngster of eight years joining the Den is automatically a Bobcat and gets this pin. He immediately goes to work to earn his Wolf Badge, which requires the accomplishment of 12 achievements, and he can take a year to complete, depending on the Cub.

OTHER BANKS
In addition, the Cub Scout can earn Arrow Points for elective achievements, up to 10 Gold Points—then 10 Silver Points. After becoming a Wolf, the Cub can work toward becoming a Bear, when he is nine years old. At 10 years, he can become a Lion, and each of these successive badges requires 12 achievements, plus what he can earn in elective arrow points.

At 10½ years, he can enter the Webelos (Wolf-Bear-Lions) Den, which prepares him for the transfer into Boy Scouting. Throughout his Cub Scout activities, the Cub is eligible to serve as denner and assistant denner. In Mrs. Horton's Den, the boys elect those who can wear these badges, and the honor is passed around so that everyone gets to serve. These posts involve helping clean up after Den meetings, getting out the flags, and numerous other duties.

"This is a highly-sought post," she said, "and the Cubs are anxious for their turns to come around."

Cubs can also earn Service Stars, which they can also wear on their Boy Scout uniforms when they progress that far. Service Stars also are available for one, two, and three years.

BOYS ARE FUN
In addition, there are special badges for particular achievements, such as recruiting or other special activity.

"Boys are fun to work with, no matter what they are doing," Mrs. Horton said, "and I plan to continue working with them."

She also finds time to work in a wide variety of activities, in addition to Scouting. She teaches the third grade Sunday school class at her church, and is therapy chairman for the Four O'Clock Garden Club, which involves working with children in Special Education.

She is chairman of the Peggy Potter Circle, St. Paul Presbyterian Church; press book chairman of the Junior Woman's Forum; a member of the Downtown Lions Auxiliary; and Xi Mu chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

She has helped with the Easter Seal campaign, as well as the March of Dimes. And when Little League time rolls around, she expects to find plenty of work to do. Her husband is a coach in the minor league, and is deacon of his church, a member of the Lions, in addition to his Scouting work.

Program Has Long History

Scouting — whether it is for Cubs (younger boys), Scouts or Explorers (older boys) — is essentially a program of knowledge developed over nearly three-score years.

It has a national identity in that it is one of the few institutions chartered by Congress; also, millions of boys are joined under one banner, wearing identical uniforms for each age level.

Administration is broken down into regions, and in turn to Councils. In this area, the Buffalo Trail Council is responsible for making Scouting available to all boys who want it.

In turn, the council is divided into a district, and the district committee of the Lone Star District is responsible of not only making Scouting available, but to strive for a quality program that will give boys a satisfactory experience.

The work is sliced into several special areas, all under R. L. Tollett, district chairman, who is assisted by Jack Gulley, Dr. Clyde Thomas and Erven Fisher, vice chairmen; and Don Womack, district commissioner. Frosty Robison heads up camping and activities; Paul Soldan, health and safety; Joe Pickle, public relations; Noel Reed, leadership training; John Richard Coffee, organization and extension; Dick Ream, finance; and Donald Van Meter, advancement.

Tindol's Writs Are Overruled

Three handwritten petitions for writs of habeas corpus filed from the state prison by James Tindol, and a similar petition on file from Jo Pat Anders, were summarily overruled Friday afternoon by Judge Ralph Caton in 118th District Court. Tindol is serving a sentence in the state prison for a homicide committed here several years ago.

MAKING THE PROGRAM GO

Scouting Leaders Vital

There's only one bottleneck in Scouting — and it isn't the boys.

The program could be carried almost overnight to 50 per cent more boys — who are interested — if there were enough adult volunteers to serve them.

Thus, most of the stories which you find in this section today in connection with the observance of Scout Week are stories about volunteers who help bring Scouting to boys. They were chosen at random to tell the story of a particular job. There are doubtless many others like them whose stories would be just as interesting and whose activities would be just as great.

But the personality sketches of people in Scouting are told here in the hopes that it will reveal to others what is involved, perhaps challenge them, too, to offer their services. Above all, it is hoped that these stories will help adults get a feeling of the joy and satisfaction that comes out of helping boys become wholesome, participating red-blooded Americans.

REV. DAN SANFORD

Feels Church Is The Best Scout Sponsor

"Any program which doesn't believe in Christ or doesn't include Christ in the organization isn't worth the trouble," according to the Rev. Dan Sanford, pastor of the Phillips Baptist Church, and the institutional representative for Troop 120.

"This is one reason I think the best sponsoring institution for the Boy Scouts is a church group," he said. "But sometimes when a church cannot be a sponsor, a good Christian man will do. If you were to question a boy about who he would most like to be, the boy will name mostly one of three men. He will name either his father, his pastor, or some man in his Scout program that has good morals and is a good Christian," Rev. Sanford said.

There is an institutional representative for each Scout troop and the sponsor furnishes the Scouts with a place to meet, sponsors their activities, buys camping equipment and inside equipment, and teaches self-support. Most of the church sponsors will award the Scout award thing he has earned in front of the congregation on Sundays.

"I personally try to emphasize duty to God first, then to our country," he said. "The most important thing on this earth is to honor God, and that is why I have said churches make the best sponsors."

Rev. Sanford has been an institutional representative for the past year. He and his wife, Joyce, have two sons, Luke, 2, and Dan Jr., 15, who is a Tenderfoot Scout.

Enrollment Hits Record

A new enrollment record for the Lone Star District (Howard, Glasscock and Sterling counties) of Boy Scouts of America was established last year. The district has fixed a goal of at least 66 additional boys this year.

As of Dec. 31, 1966, Scouting had on the roll 1,582 boys. Of these, 738 were in Cub packs, 664 in Boy Scout troops, and 182 in Explorers.

These boys are served in 28 troops, 19 Cub packs and 15 Explorer posts.

Each of these is under a sponsoring institution, which is something peculiar to Scouting. BSA does not have a single unit in all the United States—only sponsors have units.

Churches make ideal sponsors, and it is not surprising that about half the units in this district are the properties of churches. The Parent-Teacher Association units are also popular sponsors, especially of Cub packs. Service clubs (here the Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, and Optimists sponsor units) are active in support of the program. There are fraternal groups such as the Elks, military groups such as Webb AFB, law enforcement groups like the city police, and businesses like Cosden who sponsor units.

Troops Depend On Committeemen

"You can't put your time to better use," according to Pete Earnest, unit committeeman for Troop 136.

Committeemen are big helpers to the Scoutmasters in almost all phases of Scouting activities.

"There are several things committeemen do, but mostly they carry out all Scout programs, work with the Scoutmasters, and stand behind the Scoutmaster in all things," said Earnest.

Earnest said that he has encountered no obstacles because "everytime we come up with something we always come out on the top in the end. But if there is one big obstacle, it isn't on the part of the Scouts but on the committeemen's part. Our problem is getting committeemen and keeping them."

"Most of the committeemen are fathers of the boys in the troop. When the boys leave, the fathers also resign as committeemen and then there are not enough assistants to help with the troop."

Earnest was a Scout when a boy. He was in his uncle's troop in Big Spring at the East Fourth Baptist Church. Now he is a committeeman and he was one of the men responsible for organizing Troop 136. He has been a committeeman ever since 12 years ago.

There only have been two Scoutmasters in the past 12 years. The troop averages 30 boys a year.

Earnest has been at Cosden for 21 years and is presently in the sales department. He has two boys, Douglas and Jimmy, who are Eagle Scouts. He plans to continue as a committeeman because he feels "he couldn't put his time to any better use." He donated an acre of land in Sand Springs for a Scout hut, when the troop organized and it is still being used.

Scores Of Rewards Reaped By Longtime Scoutmaster

It's understandable that Bert Andries got a bigger kick than most the other night when he went to see "Follow Me, Boys," the movie about a scoutmaster and his troop.

Bert lived a lot of the story, because it paralleled in many respects his own career as a scoutmaster. For more than a decade now he has served as unit leader for Troop No. 7, sponsored by the Downtown Lions Club, and he has reaped scores of rewards — all of them walking rewards who are growing into places of leadership in the northwest part of Big Spring. "Just seeing my boys grow up and turn out right is enough for me," said Andries.

BERT ANDRIES

SATISFYING
His sense of satisfaction may be even greater than most scoutmasters, for his troop is made up primarily of boys of Latin-American extraction and serves an economically disadvantaged area. Perhaps it is a sense of need of these boys that keeps Bert Andries working at the job.

Andries is a transplanted East Texan. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Andries, were from Louisiana, but his father's work as district electrician with Humble took the family to East Texas. They moved to New London shortly after the tragic explosion which wiped out about half the school.

When Bert graduated from high school, he attended Kilgore Junior College for a couple of years. His buddy, also pursuing an engineering course, decided to go to Texas Tech, and that's where Bert went, too.

GOT A JOB
While he was in school, the Knights of Columbus decided to sponsor old Troop 91 at Lubbock and asked if he would be interested in helping. It turned out that "helping" was to be scoutmaster.

Andries had not been a Scout, so he did what so many other adults have done — he got a Boy Scout manual and learned right along with the boys. He put in a couple of years before he took out to serve four years in the U.S. Navy. After separation from service, he returned to Tech.

and to Troop 91 for a year. In 1956, E. B. McCormick, chief engineer for Cosden, interviewed Bert Andries on the eve of his graduation as an electrical engineer and hired him as Cosden's instrument engineer. Bert hadn't much more than got settled here when he was drafted as Troop No. 7's scoutmaster.

A few years later he got some real help from Nick Malarchik who served as his assistant. When Malarchik moved a couple of years ago, Andries was back in the market for a helper and finally got Pilar Yanez. Pilar had been under another famous scoutmaster of Troop 7, the later John R. Hutto, and he knew from personal experience what scouting could do for boys.

SCOUT HUT
Andries had limited facilities and equipment, as well as help, at the outset. Later, almost by accident, he fell into a Scout Hut. The Rotary Club had created a hut for its troop out of an old bombardier school barracks which was moved to College Heights School. When the schools required the land, the building had to be moved, and Bert got it for No. 7, locating it on a lot which is just south of Kate Morrison School. The hut has been remarkably free of vandalism, and it was not until recently when someone shelled out the window panes that he decided to put up board shutters.

The Lions Club pays the utilities and keeps up the equipment and otherwise lends a hand. But for the most part Andries encourages the boys to learn their own way for programs, camp, etc. Until recently, a prime fund raising project was a booth at the Lions Fun-O-Rama, but now that this activity appears defunct, Andries and his boys are looking for some other means of earning their way.

Admittedly, the troop's advancement record isn't as high as some others, but they hold their own. In addition, they go heavy on the spirit of scouting. Andries tries to develop leadership among his boys by using the patrol system and relying heavily on a senior patrol leader.

The troop is long on camping. A few years ago the troop acquired a 48-passenger bus, and Andries tries to stage a trip of some sort — like a junket to Monahans Sandhills State Park — at least once a month. The troop has spent three summer sessions in the Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountain, then went two years to the old East Texas area camp, took a trip a couple of years to Colorado and New Mexico, then to Corpus Christi and now two years to the new Camp Pirtle at Lake Murval in East Texas. Most of the advancement is done on these camping trips.

GOOD TURNS
Fortunately there has never been any mishap of consequence, and the bus has given trouble only once. It honked out near Abilene en route home from Colorado. Bert knew a friend at Abilene's Boys Club, borrowed a bus there and came right in on schedule.

He has slept on the ground right along with the boys, that is until recently when the troop earned enough to buy a round of cots. The spirit of a good turn has been a hallmark of his troop, which has helped with the Easter Seal and Heart Society campaigns, and annually with the Lions Club Lightbulb sale. He encourages his boys to earn money for their uniforms.

Bert Andries majors in his boys, but he finds time for other activities. He has served as grand knight of the Knights of Columbus and served three years as district deputy. He is on the Lions Club Boys and Girls Committee, is a member of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers, and of the Instrument Society of America (and its Permian Basin Chapter). He also is the owner of a 1960 model Cherokee airplane, and since 1958 he has been flying for relaxation. The good turn spirit carries over to this hobby, and each year Andries helps with the March of Dimes Penny-A-Pound flights. All of this doesn't leave a lot of time for even a bachelor.

MANY BOYS
Probably 250 boys have come under his influence within the past decade. The record isn't perfect, but as in the case of one lad who got into trouble but got back on the right track, they turn out to be solid citizens. Many of them have families of their own now. Before you know it they'll have Scouts of their own, and maybe Bert will get still more help then.

Merit Badges Helps Scouts Boost Skills

"Merit Badge Counselors try their best to help Scouts earn merit badges because it encourages them to increase their skill in things they like to do and gives them a chance to try out new activities that may result in new interests," said R. L. Cranford, Merit Badge Counselor.

INFLUENCED
"Many men who were once Scouts feel that their lives were influenced by their merit badge work. Hundreds of doctors, engineers, forest rangers, and naturalists had their ambitions kindled while earning merit badges as Scouts," according to Cranford.

Most merit badge counselors are men who are successful in their respective fields and interests. They believe in scouting enough to give time to help Scouts advance. When a Scout has made up his mind to earn a merit badge, he makes an appointment with the merit badge counselor. The Scout talks over the subject with the counselor and he tells the Scout what is required of him and how and where he can get the information to help him.

He might suggest books or interviews with persons in the community who know the subject in which the Scout is trying to earn a merit badge. When the Scout feels he is ready to take the merit badge test, he contacts the counselor, who gives the test.

15 GROUPS
"There are 15 merit badge groups and over 130 merit badges in all," said Cranford. The 15 groups include campcraft, crafts and collections, outdoor sports, aquatics, personal development, conservation, citizenship, public service, animal husbandry, communication, transportation, arts, nature, plant cultivation, and building.

In order to become a Star Scout, a boy must have five merit badges; a Life Scout must have 10 merit badges; an Eagle must have 21 merit badges.

Cranford has been active in Scouting for over 10 years. He has worked in every classification in which a volunteer leader can work. He has received the Scoutmaster's Training Award, the Scouters Award, the Commissioner's Arrowhead, a training certificate from the National Boy Scout Ranch in New Mexico, and the Woodbadge Award, the highest award a Scout leader can earn.

Advisors Challenge Boys In Explorer Scouts Program

"We try to meet the challenge of holding their interest and encourage them in their abilities," Roland Beal, advisor to Sea Scout Ship 136 of the Exploring program, said in thumbnailing the work of adults in this phase of Scouting.

Beal, who lives on Rt. 1 at Midway, joined the Scouting program in much the same way many workers do—he had a son who joined a Cub den. Reared on a farm, Beal had no chance to be a Scout himself, as there were no active units in his area.

A pipefitter, he went to work for the Onyx Refinery at Abilene in 1949, and after Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. bought the firm, he was moved here in 1958.

Five years ago, Snickle (Roland Jr.) joined Den 1 of Pack 236, sponsored by the Midway P-TA, and is today a first class Scout in Troop 136 sponsored by Cosden.

ENTER SON & FATHER
When his son joined Scouting, Beal followed suit and served two years as chairman of the Pack committee. Two years ago, he became advisor to the Explorers, Ship 136, also sponsored by Cosden.

The 23 boys registered in the unit meet each Thursday in the Scout Hut at Sand Springs. "We have a wonderful bunch of boys," Beal explained, "and I appreciate the opportunity of being able to work with them."

Exploring, he explained, is open to boys between 14-18 years of age, and boys do not have to have previous Scouting experience to join a unit. "We try to maintain a program in which all boys can participate," he said, "keeping the activities as individualized as possible. We want every boy to feel he is a part of Exploring."

BOYS RUN IT
The Explorers themselves conduct all meetings and elect their officers. "Quarterdeck Meetings" are held to plan future activities of the Sea Scout Ship.

Social activities, such as swimming, golfing, and movies, help balance the program. Community service has included helping the Salvation Army, Heart Fund, March of Dimes, in addition to helping clean up the Moss Creek Lake area.

Some programs include training films, such as on boating and boat safety, swimming and swim safety, gun training and safety. In fact, some of the boys have participated in the National Rifleman's Association match competition.

Camp-outs have included trips to the Davis Mountains, as well as Moss Creek Lake and Lake J. B. Thomas.

RESCUE UNIT
The pride of Sea Scout Ship 136 is its rescue unit, which Beal said had drawn many boys into the unit. It is a panel station wagon, which has been approved and has two-way radio communication with the sheriff's department. It is equipped with red light and siren, but is primarily designed to help in search and rescue operations.

Equipment includes stretchers, ambulatory basket, ropes, tools to force open wrecked cars, and First Aid equipment. All boys are First Aid trained and annually take refresher courses, in order to be prepared in the event of an emergency.

Recently, three members of the Ship received nationwide recognition for helping save a man's life who had been injured in a car wreck on IS 20. They were Wesley Wright, Jim Earnest, and Douglas Ernest.

Red Nations Split On German Issues

By GENE KRAMER
WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The midwinter meeting of Warsaw Pact nations here showed that Communist countries are splitting into northern and southern groups.

A two-sentence communique ending the Soviet bloc foreign ministers talks in Warsaw this week contained no denunciation of the new West German government and omitted the usual phrases about agreement and unanimity. It spoke only of "friendly cooperation and full mutual understanding."

As diplomats read it, this indicated agreement to disagree and meant that southern members of the Communist alliance are now abstaining from the criticism that the northerners — East Germany, Poland the Soviet Union — have for West German overtures for European reconciliation.

The latest meeting was precipitated by Romania's opening of diplomatic relations with Bonn on Jan. 31 in a manner that alarmed Poland and East Germany. They felt the act should have taken place in Bucharest rather than Bonn and that Foreign Minister Willy Brandt should have been told to his face that he speaks only for West Germany, not the whole German people.

But Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria, which have no frontiers with Germany, have started viewing the issue more on the basis of economic self-interest than their allies.

To East Germany, the Soviet Union and Poland, West Germany is a question of ideology, politics and emotion. For the East Berlin and Warsaw Communist regimes, survival itself may demand keeping alive a West German menace and exacting the highest possible price from Bonn for normal relations.

Czechoslovakia seems to stand between the northern and southern extremes. Like Bulgaria and Hungary, the Czechoslovaks are considering diplomatic relations with Bonn for trade reasons. Like Poland and the Soviet Union, Prague has had memories and frontier questions lingering from World War II.

The Warsaw communique said the foreign ministers had reviewed developments since the bloc's July 1966 Bucharest declaration which declared that security and normal relations in Europe require recognition that there are two German states, that present frontiers are permanent and that nuclear weapons must be denied to Germany.

Communist sources said Romanian party chief Nicolae Ceausescu as early as the October 1966 Communist summit meeting in Moscow declined to join in reiterating and implementing those conditions because Bucharest by then had decided to exchange ambassadors with West Germany.

Sources suggested Hungarian Foreign Minister Janos Peter took a similar position at Warsaw this week.

A Devotional For The Day

There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus. (Galatians 3:28)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, Thou knowest the way is difficult for us, and we are often perplexed. Help us to find the path to practice what we know to be Thy holy will, the path that knows not race or color. In the name of Jesus, our Lord. Amen.

Your Best Investment

This is the anniversary week of Boy Scouting, and with it comes a reminder of its contributions and its needs.

From the beginning, the ultimate aims of Scouting have been citizenship training and character building. This has been brought about through a program which often involves the boy in the "play way" of learning and which puts it in a locale of outdoor activity which further strengthens the lessons of self-reliance and of teamwork. All of this is woven upon a framework of reverence for and dedication to God and country.

The genius of this movement, however, is in bringing boys in contact with good men and women who consciously or unconsciously give expression to the philosophy that this is one way to pay a debt to mankind.

Outside the church, there is hardly activity to which one can address himself or herself that will do more to perpetuate and improve upon all that is good and noble and right and honorable in our society.

It is ironic that as our problems grow more complex and the pressures upon youth increase, our reservoir of adults willing to get involved seems to diminish. It is tragic when men and women brush off this obligation to help young people because they "don't have time" or can't afford "to get tied down."

Scouting — with its Cubs, its Scouts, its Explorers — does not have a monopoly upon shaping the lives of boys. But it has a proven record of attracting and maturing boys, and it is a wonderful avenue for anyone of good conscience to help America of tomorrow. Unless adults are willing to give time, tomorrow may be too late.

Now Is The Time

Now that occasional days have a spring or summery touch, it is time to get serious about your home plantings.

This is the best time of the year — and soon it will be a little late — for putting out your trees, shrubs, and bushes. Don't get in a fret about flowers and grass, because that will come with warmer weather, but for the slower growing plantings, and those which lie dormant during the winter months, get them in the ground.

Before the end of this month the sap will be rising rapidly, and trees will be blooming or putting on foliage.

Your best licks for beautification can be put in with the next two or three weeks.

McNamara Goes Full Speed

WASHINGTON—Facing his Senate adversaries in the new Congress for the first time, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara encountered heavy flak. With the verbal shells bursting around him, he nevertheless in typical McNamara fashion continued full speed ahead.

The occasion was the presentation to the armed services committee of the annual posture statement. This is part of a ritual consuming much of the Secretary's time at the start of each session. With 202 pages of unclassified facts and figures and 100 pages labeled secret, the details of the $75 billion defense budget are enough to tax even McNamara's mastery of this incredible sum.

THE MOST remarkable exchange came when the Secretary presented his case for going slow on installing an anti-ballistic missile defense system. What about the cost of installing such a system? Was the reported total of $40 billion anywhere near correct? McNamara replied that it might be on that order.

Why, said Sen. Allen Ellender of Louisiana, spread out over eight to 10 years, that shouldn't present any difficulty. By cutting foreign aid, most of the cost could be met from that source alone. Ellender went on. This, incidentally, is an early clue to the trouble foreign aid will run into, with the prospect that it will be cut deeper than even last year's record low.

PERSISTING, McNamara went forward with his brilliantly logical case against construction of a defense that would, in fact, be no defense at all. McNamara put it thus:

"It is the virtual certainty that the Soviets will act to maintain their deterrent which casts such grave doubts on the advisability of our deploying the Nike-X system for the protection of our cities against the kind of heavy, sophisticated missile attack they could launch in the 1970s. In all probability all we could accomplish would be to increase greatly both their defense expenditures and ours without any gain in real security to either side."

WHATEVER HIS critics may say, and in Capitol Hill they say some very harsh things indeed, no one can accuse the Secretary of Defense of scaring easily. A proposal in his statement runs right into the jaws of powerful pressure groups and the Congressmen, including members of the two armed services committees, who speak for them.

This is for construction of Fast Deployment Logistic ships. These would provide for wholly automated handling of cargo. They would be larger and faster than current merchant ships and a certain number would be always loaded or partially loaded with war materiel for eventualities such as Vietnam.

What is more, the FDL ships would be built in new automated yards far speedier and more efficient than existing ship yards.

Several large companies not normally in shipbuilding, Lockheed among them, are interested in contracts for the new sealift. While five FDLs are included in the new budget, an efficient, automated yard would be justified only if 50 to 100 such ships were to be built.

THE SUBSIDIZED shipbuilding industry, with long established yards in southern seaboard cities, will not like this, nor will their representatives in Congress. They will resent the implication in McNamara's statement that only by some such revolutionary step can this country compete, in peacetime, in shipping and in building ships. Another source of opposition will be the maritime unions that have long fought automation on the east coast.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

New York City has devised an excellent plan to help finance small business enterprises in the ghetto areas. If it proves successful, it could provide a model for other cities to copy.

The plan is based on the depositing of city funds in small independent banks in the ghetto areas or large banks that have branches in economically depressed neighborhoods. In most cases, this would be done in the form of demand deposits at no interest, a type of transaction that, naturally, has a strong appeal for the banks.

On any single day, New York has between 20 million and 100 million dollars in taxes and federal and state aid funds in its treasury.

To be eligible for city deposits, a bank would have to agree to make loans available to small businessmen in the ghettos who are good credit risks. In addition, the banks would agree to give these borrowers advice with regard to loans and business management and to cooperate with the federal Small Business Administration.

New York has found that its treasury can be an instrument of social gain at the same time it is meeting the city's fiscal obligations. It is hoped other cities will benefit by its example.

Trend Toward Easing Of Money Market

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — New signs of an easing of the money situation appeared during the week.

This trend had been credited in part for the strong advance by the stock market in January.

The latest developments: Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York posted rate reductions ranging to 1/4 percentage point on its negotiable certificates of deposit.

First Western Bank & Trust Co. of Los Angeles reduced its real estate loan rate from seven per cent to 6.75 per cent.

SEVERAL finance companies and lending institutions reduced the interest charged automobile dealers on loans to finance car inventories.

Recently Chase Manhattan Bank sliced its prime rate — the interest charged the biggest and most credit-worthy borrowers — to 5 1/2 per cent from six per cent. Other major banks came down to 5 1/2 per cent, but Chase stuck with its bigger reduction.

The new Morgan Guaranty scale quoted 30- to 89-day certificates of deposit at 4 1/2 per cent and 90 days and longer at five per cent. That is down from five per cent on certificates maturing in 30 to 89 days and from 5 1/2 per cent on those maturing in 90 days or longer.

JULIAN E. Broen, vice president of First Western Bank & Trust, said his institution's cut in its real estate loan rate was "an indication there's more money around to make the loans."

Ford Motor Credit Corp. reduced its interest charged car dealers to six per cent from 6 1/2

ECONOMIC REPORT

- Big bank posts reduction in rates
- Interest to car dealers lowered
- Tax increase called 'intelligent'
- Nation's employment at January high
- Wholesale prices show an advance

per cent. Other lenders, cutting rates to 6 1/4 per cent from 6 1/2 per cent, included Chrysler Credit Corp., Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. of New York and National Bank of Detroit.

William McChesney Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, called President Johnson's tax increase proposal prudent and intelligent. Johnson had asked Congress to enact a six per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes.

MARTIN denied the tax proposal involves any deal with the Federal Reserve Board to ease credit.

The Federal Reserve Board tightened money in 1966.

Martin told the Senate-House Economic Committee that the policies of the Federal Reserve Board achieved substantial success in the past year and a half.

"With monetary policy responding flexibly to changing pressures on the economy, and with the President's tax proposals a bulwark against a repetition of surges in demand that marred the economy's performance," he added, "we can look forward with greater confidence to a better balanced expansion in 1967."

THE NATION'S total employment attained a January high of 72 million. The Labor Department described the development as a dramatic show of strength despite other slipping economic indicators.

The unemployment rate held at 3.7 per cent of the labor force last month, or 3.2 million.

The department said the usual drop in jobs after the Christmas season was less than usual, indicating employers had kept many temporary workers to fill permanent job vacancies.

WHOLESALE prices advanced in January for the first time in five months. The Labor Department's price index, at 106.2 per cent of the 1957-59 average, was up 0.3 from December, led by a substantial increase in farm product prices.

Automobile production for the week was estimated at 151,200 passenger cars, up 19 per cent from 127,049 the previous week but down 23 per cent from 195,514 a year ago. The week's output was curtailed by snowstorms but not as much as the previous week.

Steel production for the week edged up 0.1 per cent to 2,376,000 tons from 2,373,000 tons the previous week.

How Much Should X-Ray Be Feared?

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Periodically readers ask me whether they have been getting "too many X-rays." The answer almost always is no. These inquiries usually involve diagnostic X-rays which are so brief as to subject the patient to very little radiation.

The questions display more panic when the X-rays have been taken in the course of pregnancy. This is, in fact, a more critical question, because excessive radiation can damage an embryo in its formative stages. Even so, panic is rarely justified.

I have just read an article by Dr. Antolin Raventos, of the University of Pennsylvania, who uses a comforting phrase—that such X-rays are cause "for care, not concern."

He cites a real-life case of a pregnant nurse whose doctor requested a chest X-ray because she had a cough. She refused for fear of harming the baby.

Months later, after the baby had been born, she finally permitted the X-rays. By then she had advanced tuberculosis, and had to have surgery and was hospitalized for months.

The only sensible rule is to use X-ray when it is necessary, and never use it without reason. Then stop worrying about it.

In pregnancy an important aspect is the part of the which is exposed to radiation.

If the womb itself is not exposed, there is scant reason to worry. If the womb must be irradiated, then it must. This would, however, be done only for a very good reason. Severe kidney disorders, for one example, might be such that without X-ray, life would be in peril.

This would overbalance the risk that harm might—or might not—come to the child.

For not every X-ray necessarily does damage to the embryo. We do not have as much information about this as we would like, as Dr. Raventos points out. It is not the sort of thing we can study experimentally with people. Much of our knowledge is assumed from tests on animals. Amounts of exposure and the time of giving it both are important. Working with rats, it was found that a small dose of radiation on the ninth day of gestation prevented the eyes from developing. It required a large dose on the 10th day—and after the 12th day the defect could not be caused at all (although other deformities could).

The embryo, in other words, is most sensitive in its early formative days; later in pregnancy the same amount of radiation may do little or no detectable harm.

Due-care in use of X-ray is the proper answer — care, not concern.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been told that chicken liver and pork liver do not have the same food value, especially iron, as Mrs. Lee's liver. Is this true?—Mrs. L. F.

The difference is so small as to have little significance. Raw beef liver has 7.8 milligrams of iron per 100 grams (about three ounces). Pork liver has 10.6, actually higher than beef, and chicken liver has 7.4.

Pork liver has a few more calories because of having more fat.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading the booklet, "The Way to Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

What Time Is It?

You know that, among all the other legislation in the air, the politicians are working to change the time of day.

The federal government has passed a law saying that on the last Sunday of April each year the standard time in each zone shall be advanced one hour, and this situation prevails until the last Sunday in October, when the clocks go back (or up) to where they were.

A PROVISION is that this will apply throughout the country, unless any state, through its legislature, enacts a special law to exempt itself from the time changes. Thus, states have a right to be different, if they want.

There has been a bill offered in Austin to exempt Texas, which generally asserts its independence. There doesn't seem to be any public poll yet, but, as with every other issue, sides are being chosen.

ONE HEARS that the rural people don't much like monkeying with the clock. For one thing, cows don't adjust themselves in April and October. They may not know what time it is, but they know when they're ready to be milked.

Traditionally, farmers have a long enough day as it is, and if this makes it an hour (or is it two?) longer, that doesn't set well.

ON THE OTHER hand, business interests are saying that Texas can't afford to be out of step with the rest of the nation. Bankers who have to talk with New York need to know what time this is all going to take place; a lot of business calls to the East are involved. If a brisk Eastern er places a call in his direction at 8:30 a.m. his time (and we aren't in time), he'll be dragging the Texan out of bed at 6:30. If the Texan calls East at 10 a.m., he'll find the New Yorker out to lunch. Inconvenient, eh?

THE TELEVISION and radio people think we ought to stay in step, too. Otherwise, it means a lot of "taping in advance, so this program can be brought to you at a more convenient hour," and the network situation would get all fouled up.

Somebody will hear from this. If "As the World Turns" is going to come on at a different hour, or the same with "Password," the routine of a lot of households is going to be upset beyond all recovery. The fellow who expects his lunch at noon, Central Standard Time, may find he either should have come at 11 a.m., or is it 1 p.m.?

I WANT NO PART of the decision, because time changes always confuse me. I cannot be sure whether, beginning the last Sunday in April, if I can sleep an hour later, or if I have to get up an hour earlier.

If I were to come to the office and ask about an absent employee, I might be told, "Boss, Gloria isn't due until 8:30, and it's just now 7:30." And I would have to ask, "Whose time?" Same for quitting time. Do we all parade out an hour earlier, or do we stay an hour later? What does the New York Times do?

SO COUNT me out, whether I am an hour early or an hour late. It would be nice to keep up with the rest of the country—but the sun doesn't have any business coming up an hour earlier. Or is that what it's supposed to do? —BOB WHIPKEY

A Bureau Makes Its Own Laws

WASHINGTON—Respect for law and order has been preached again and again by almost everybody in government from the President on down. No explanation has been given, however, as to why the U.S. Office of Education is today disregarding the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which specifically says:

"Desegregation shall not mean the assignment of students to public schools in order to overcome racial imbalance."

THE SAME LAW declares that, to assure "nondiscrimination in federally assisted programs," each federal department and agency which is empowered to extend financial assistance to any program or activity is authorized to effectuate the provisions of the statute. But it is stated that this can be accomplished only "by issuing rules, regulations, or orders of general applicability which shall be consistent with the achievement of the objectives of the statute authorizing the financial assistance."

It is also stipulated that "no such rule, regulation, or order shall become effective unless and until approved by the President."

MR. JOHNSON thus far, however, has not approved any regulation containing "guidelines" with respect to "racial imbalance" in the schools. The U.S. Office of Education nevertheless continues to threaten the withdrawal of public funds if certain "guidelines" are not obeyed.

The latest example of this activity is reported in an Associated Press dispatch from Orlando, Fla., on Feb. 6, which reads as follows:

"Florida counties in which few Negroes live will be expected to abolish the dual-school systems by next fall, a federal official said yesterday."

"STRICTER FEDERAL guidelines for desegregation of public schools were spelled out by John Hodgson of the U.S. Office of Education. He spoke to county school officials from throughout the state.

"Counties with Negro school populations of less than 15 per cent will be expected to phase out dual systems in the fall, Hodgson said. Those with more than 20 per cent should achieve integration of 15 per cent of the total by September, he added.

"NEXT YEAR, we will also be asking for the equivalent of two full-time teachers per school on a desegregated basis," Hodgson said. "Last year, one teacher per school was satisfactory."

The same situation which is described in Florida prevails in other states. Unquestionably many students will have to be transported from one school district to another in order to achieve "racial balance" of this kind, but the Civil Rights Act of 1964 says:

"NOTHING HEREIN shall empower any official or court of the United States to issue any order seeking to achieve a racial balance in any school by requiring the transportation of pupils or students from one school to another or one school district to another."

BRIEFS HAVE been requested in this case. It is anticipated, however, that the U.S. Office of Education will argue that the "guidelines" are only "advice," and not an order. But the effect of the activities of the Office of Education is just the same as if an order had been issued. For the federal government can withhold funds at its own discretion and apparently does not give any reasons for such action, except to say in general terms that the wishes of the federal government have not been fulfilled.

'Our Friends, The Russians'

WASHINGTON — Red China is making threatening noises at the Soviet Union and has even said that if the Russians keep beating up Chinese students at Red Square the People's Army of China will have no choice but to attack the Soviets in force.

American sympathies for the first time in years are with the Soviet Union, and, while it's hard to believe, we may soon be referring to the Russians as "our valiant allies" again.

NO ONE speaks about it, but there is a contingency plan for just such an eventuality, and it's headed by a State Department-type named Horace Turnover.

I found Turnover in the sub-basement of a temporary World War II building located behind a door marked Department of Friendly Soviet-American Relations and Co-ordinating Commission.

When I walked in I found him on his hands and knees putting the last touches on a sign which said "Take a Russian to Lunch."

TURNOVER seemed elated with the turn of events and said, "For 22 years they made fun of me, but they aren't laughing any more. Why, if things keep going as they are between the Soviets and the Red Chinese, they might even move me back to the State Department building."

I noticed for the first time that Turnover's window was broken and the snow was pouring in.

"I gather up until now they haven't given your department too much money."

TURNOVER pulled his overcoat collar tight around his throat. "You can say that again. You might even say they've tried to keep my department under wraps, but now all these years of waiting have paid off."

"What do you plan to do first?" He took me over to a rusty metal cabinet and opened it.

"I have all the film here that we made about our valiant Russian allies during World War II: 'Song of Russia,' 'Convoy to Murmansk,' 'The Meeting at the Elbe' and 'Our Friends, The Ukrainians.' As soon as I get the word we're releasing them for television on the Late, Late Show."

"It will be nice to see them again," I said to him.

"THEN WE'LL give the Soviets 50 old American destroyers as part of a new lend-lease program."

"But what do they need with destroyers? The Red Chinese have no navy to speak of."

"It will be a friendly gesture. After that we can send them the hard stuff. We'll explain to the American people that the Russians are fighting our war."

"Something like any attack on the Soviet Union is an attack on us?" I asked.

"Exactly. We might even bring over some Russian war heroes to sell U.S. defense bonds."

"Maybe we could have a rally in Hollywood for the Soviet Union Widows and Orphans Fund," I said excitedly.

"IT'S NOT going to be easy," Turnover said. "I called Hollywood and spoke to a writer about starting one, and he said the last time he organized such a rally he couldn't find work for 23 years."

The snow was now blowing all over Turnover's desk.

"Well, I hope for your sake the Red Chinese really give the Soviets a bad time," I said.

He replied, "I do, too. Otherwise I'm going to be stuck with 20 crates of hammer and sickle buttons, and J. Edgar Hoover is sure to start asking questions about them soon."

District Committee Watches Over Program

In Scouting, a district committee exists for the purpose of seeing that the program is carried to the boys. It doesn't necessarily develop the program, nor does it give it directly to the boys. Instead it does the sometimes harder task of trying to see that the job is done.

The task is broken down into specific areas, and typical of them is the camping and activities committee. The heart of Scouting is in the outing, and the stimulus is in the activities.

There's plenty for Carille (Frosty) Robison, chairman, and his committee to do.

One of the major responsibilities is the promotion of long-term (one week or more) summer camp and signing units to take part. This takes various forms such as letters, distribution of brochures, showing slides and movies, and even direct contacts with unit leaders.

For those not going to the Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains, the committee tries to get commitments for other camps or trips. As a result, last summer 18 of 24 active troops signed up for long term camping. Even now Robison and his colleagues are working toward this summer's sign-up.

Equally important, the committee works with units to encourage weekend camps and hikes to avoid hot house Scouting.

At least once in the spring and autumn, the committee promotes a district camporee, frequently managing to pick the worst weather of the season.

FROSTY ROBISON

Highland Center mall and which parades Scout craft and skills. In other years this takes the form of a Scout Circus.

Still another promotion is the annual summer Cub Olympics in which the younger boys have a track and field meet with some Cubbing skills and with a few contests involving the den mothers. Also, during the summer the committee tries to keep Cubbing active, promoting a family picnic and other affairs.

Usually the district has a swimming meet which is handled by this committee.

In addition, there are special events such as aiding the United Fund in distribution of literature, or covering the city in presidential election years to Get-out-the-Vote.

Robison's committee works together on most of these projects, but in some instances, like the exposition, a project chairman may be appointed.

If all this sounds like a pretty good job, it is. There are some who might avoid helping because they are, according to their statements, too busy.

But consider the case of Frosty Robison:

He has held this job for several years; he and Mrs. Robison have a family of three; he has served as director for many years and president of the Downtown Lions; served six years on the YMCA board of directors; is a trustee of the United Fund; was fund drive chairman for the March of Dimes for two years; served as a reserve policeman; was secretary of the Big Spring Personnel Management Association; was co-captain of the Quarterback Club; attends First Methodist Church where Mrs. Robison teaches a second grade group; plus numerous other civic services.

There are numerous activities which fall under the committee's jurisdiction. One of these is the Scout Exposition, which was staged yesterday on

Commissioner Praises Scout Training Program

"When a man agrees to become a neighborhood Boy Scout commissioner, it is most important that he realize there is more to his acceptance than merely agreeing to let his name be used on the official lists," Don Womack explained.

Womack, with the Texas Electric Service Co., is Scout Commissioner for the Lone Star District of the Buffalo Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America.

He is fairly new at the job, having taken over the duties with the resignation of Commissioner B. L. Cranford, who is now council commissioner.

The Womack family moved to Big Spring in 1965, and his experience with the Scout movement at the district level began with his arrival.

ONCE A SCOUT
"I was a Scout when I was a boy," he said. "I managed to become a Star Scout before other activities took me out of Scouting at the age of 15. I kept my interest in Scouting even though I had no opportunity for a number of years to do more than watch the growth and expansion of the program as a lay observer."

Womack, like some other officials in the organization, has no sons in the Scout movement. His older son, now 14, is, as his father put it, so involved in Little League, school activities and organizations and other endeavors that he hasn't had time to devote to Scouting.

"My 11-year-old daughter, though," said Womack "is an enthusiastic Girl Scout member and much involved in the activities of that organization. My other son is only four and not old enough to even be a Cub Scout."

The Womacks live at 107 Canyon.

HOW IT WORKS
Womack said that the district includes Howard, Glasscock and Sterling counties.

His official family begins with five assistant district commissioners. There are then 18 neighborhood commissioners with each neighborhood official responsible for from three to five Scout groups — troops and dens.

"We need six or eight more neighborhood commissioners," said Womack, "to properly serve the troops and packs in the district."

Right at this time, he said, he and his associates are pursuing what might be termed a training program.

"We have found there is an urgent need for a better comprehension of the duties, responsibilities and opportunities serving as an assistant commissioner or as a neighborhood commissioner offers," he said.

GETS RESULTS
The program is bearing fruit. As a result, the men whose duties as commissioners bring them in direct contact with the boys and the troops and packs, are finding much broadened opportunities to help the work advance.

Monthly meetings are held by Womack with his district and neighborhood commissioners. At these meetings, he said, problems which the neighborhood commissioners have encountered in their work with the units under them are reviewed. Cooperatively, the meeting seeks a solution and oftentimes the solution adopted for a specific problem of one troop, pack, or post brings to light better ways of dealing with other problems.

CHALLENGE
"It is a fine challenge," said Womack, "and I believe that the man who serves as a district commissioner, or assistant commissioner at any of the levels will find he benefits importantly from his work."

"That is to say — he will benefit if he realizes that he can accomplish more by coming in direct and personal contact and working with the boys and the men who are scoutmasters and cubmasters. There is a lot of satisfaction to a commissioner and a wonderful opportunity for him to employ his native ingenuity to enlarge the Scouting opportunities of his neighborhood and community."

Cubmaster 'Fell Into' Job, Develops Great Enthusiasm

Young Greg Spinks, not quite eight years old at the time, came home from school all excited.

He had an application blank for enrollment as a Cub Scout. His enthusiasm, however, was not matched by his information on the Cub program, so Sgt. Freddie Spinks, his father, and Mrs. Spinks, decided to go to the Airport School to a Cub Pack meeting and find out the details.

"We went to the meeting," recalls Spinks, "and we found out first of all that Greg was not then old enough to be a Cub Scout."

"But that wasn't all that happened. I had never been a Boy Scout — they didn't have Scouting where I could take part in it around Goldthwaite where I was reared on a farm."

SUDDEN JOB
"Yet, when we left that meeting that night I somewhat dazedly realized that I was now Cubmaster of Pack No. 1, and somehow I was responsible for a pretty big outfit of boys and their parents."

That was about a year ago. Spinks, who is with the 205th Communications Squadron at Webb, is still Cubmaster. He has developed a great enthusiasm for the work.

Greg, in due time, reached the age of eight and is now a busy Cub Scout.

Mrs. Spinks, who had no intention on that memorable night other than to find out how Greg could become a Cub, is now a Den Mother and has 10 youngsters, including her son, at the Spinks residence one day each week for a den meeting.

The Spinks like their Scout work and of course Greg, now deep in the complicated program of being a Cub, revels in it.

Glen Spinks, 5, is as excited as Greg. Even though his tender years do not permit his becoming a Cub, Glen is quite thoroughly convinced that he is a major functionary in the ac-

More boys are showing interest in the Pack and in the Cub program.

"I am completely sold on the Cub Scout idea," said Spinks. "I believe it does a tremendous amount of good. My wife is as pleased with it as I am."

"GLAD WE DID"
"We were pretty shook up that night we went to the meeting where I was named Cubmaster. We weren't sure just what we had got into. I knew nothing about the Scout movement."

"Now after more than a year, I'm glad we did go that night. It has been a most rewarding and inspiring thing working with the youngsters and the folk who back the program."

The Spinks have been in Big Spring for two years. They came here after Spinks had been assigned to Webb AFB after a hitch overseas. They live at 4203 Birch Street.

RAPID GROWTH
Pack 1, Spinks explained, is sponsored by the Airport P-T-A. There are now 56 Cubs in the Pack, members of five dens and one Webelo group. The Pack, under Spinks' leadership, has grown from 18 to its present size.

"We have a lot of plans ahead," he said. "We meet once each month at the Airport School. I am delighted with the interest shown by the boys, by the Den Mothers and, in particular, by the mothers and fathers of the boys. We have just

Swim Meet Set
The regular grade school swim period for the YMCA Saturday morning has been set back until 1:30 p.m., Jim Gilbert, physical education secretary, said today. Big Spring is interested in a swim meet from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the YMCA pool.

Judi West Makes Debut On Film In Jet Showing

Judi West, who makes her film debut in "The Fortune Cookie," is the talented blonde dynamo who was acclaimed for her performance in Arthur Miller's "After The Fall." Starring Jack Lemmon and Walter Matthau, "The Fortune Cookie" opens today at the Jet Theatre. It is in Panavision and was directed by Billy Wilder.

Chicago born, Miss West began her career in show business as a dancer, she was a protegee of the late Carol Haney, for whom she worked on Broadway in "She Loves Me." After being turned down for a dancing role in "Bajour" because she didn't look enough like a gypsy, Judi stormed across the street on an impulse and angrily read for the part of Maggie in "After The Fall." It was a straight dramatic part and one that was written for a much more experienced actress.

Martin Has Popular Habit

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE PURPLE MARTIN by J. L. Wade. Published by Griggsville (Ill.) Wild Bird Society. 216 pages. $4.95 plus postage.

The Purple Martin, a member of the swallow family, has one highly interesting characteristic which has, in the span of five short years, made him the hero of an Illinois town; the state bird of a big state and honored in numerous other cities and towns — including Houston, Texas.

Why? Mr. Martin eats 2,000 mosquitoes a day. In Griggsville, Ill., where Purple Martins are now the principal business, mosquitoes were a tremendous problem. The services of this attractive little bird were solicited and encouraged. Today Griggsville has its mosquito problem licked.

Mr. Martin also has his own weekly tabloid newspaper devoted to him and his problems. Factories have been developed which manufacture special aluminum houses which the Purple Martin loves — some of such fabulous qualities as to be quite properly called Martin Palaces.

Nor does the Martin limit himself to consuming only mosquitoes. He eats all kinds of insects and is the best pesticide, his sponsors say, in the world. J. L. Wade, who is an industrialist, has become the chief prophet for the Purple Martin. His book, which tells the story not only of the bird itself but of how Griggsville (The Purple Martin Capital of the World) has adopted the little feathered visitor but how the popularity of the bird is spreading from coast to coast.

The book is liberally illustrated and answers nearly any question that may be asked about Purple Martins.

The newspaper, "The Purple Martin Capital News," is a tabloid which contains much information about the Martin and much other information about other wild life and other birds. A feature is the letter department. Apparently there are men and women from coast to coast who are putting up the specially designed aluminum houses the Purple Martin likes. Especially is it true there are many towns in Texas where the bird is being given a warm welcome.

Many communities where the Martin has been encouraged to spend his time have solved their mosquito problem. Whether the Purple Martin stops off here on his amazing annual trip from the north to Brazil or rests in this area on his way back home I do not know. If he knew of our mosquito crop each spring and summer, doubtless he would stop over. —SAM BLACKBURN

'FUNERAL IN BERLIN'
Michael Caine and Oscar Homolka

Actor Compares Himself With Role

"We're both just ordinary guys doing our jobs," said Michael Caine of Harry Palmer, the character he created in "The Ipcress File" and which he repeats in "Funeral in Berlin," the spy thriller in Technicolor and Panavision opening Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre.

"Oh," Caine continued, "I don't suppose you can really equate acting with espionage, though we both lie, cheat and fiddle around a lot."

"We both have a good deal of respect for our superiors," Caine laughed, "with one basic difference. I don't know of any one superior, while poor Harry has to report in to Colonel Ross. But, if I did know of anyone superior to me, I'm sure I'd respect him."

"We're a lot alike when it comes to food, too. He loves to cook and I love to eat."

"We both enjoy the company of women, though Harry is a bit more of a romantic than I am. Though, I must say, my romances are far more successful than his. Part of that is due, I suppose, to the fact that women want to mother Harry. They don't want to mother me and I'm happy about that."

Caine noted further that where Harry Palmer loved to read cook books, Michael Caine enjoyed reading spy stories.

"I enjoy reading about spies," he said, "because they're lonely people fighting in strange surroundings. That's almost like being an actor."

"That's the way it was for me before I began to make it. I was a working class actor and I had to work and fight in hostile surroundings to become a star."

"I believed in myself and I never stopped fighting, just as a spy has to believe in himself. And if he lets down and stops fighting, even for an instant, he's finished."

"As a spy, Harry Palmer literally started at the bottom of his profession and made good, not because he wanted to, but because he had to."

"As an actor, I started at the bottom of my profession and I made good because I wanted to and also because I felt I had to."

"If you start at the bottom of any profession, there's no excuse for not making good because you have absolutely nothing to lose and everything to win."

Kathy, Phelan To Take Tours During Spring

Kathy Seddon, Austin College sophomore from Big Spring, will be one of 20 music students going on the wind ensembles spring tour of six cities in Texas and Louisiana.

Miss Seddon, who plays a flute in the woodwind ensemble, is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. E. A. J. Seddon, formerly residents here when he pastored St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

The groups, directed by Cecil Isaac, will play at churches from Feb. 24 to March 1 in Dallas, Houston, Longview, Orange, New Orleans and Baton Rouge.

Robert Macon Phelan of Big Spring will perform with the North Texas State University A Cappella Choir during its spring tour, beginning Feb. 19.

The 42-voice choir, directed by Frank McKinley, will sing two major works during the six city tour of Texas and New Mexico.

Phelan, a junior music education major, is the son of Mrs. Roberta Lee Phelan, 1706 Scurry. A 1960 graduate of Big Spring High School, he is a member of the bass section of the choir.

The new Odessa Permian Playhouse has opened with a six-night run of "The Women" by Clare Boothe Luce. Members of the Odessa Junior Service League furnish acting talent for the characters in the play which will run Feb. 16-18.

Thursday night performance begins at 8 p.m. and Friday and Saturday's at 8:30 p.m. Tickets may be reserved by calling EM 6-1511, Odessa.

'THE TENTH VICTIM'
Marcello Mastroianni and Ursula Andress

Satire Has Scenes In Big Coliseum

The great Colosseum of Rome has seen many a spectacle in its two thousand years of existence, but nothing to compare with the final sequences of "The Tenth Victim," a comedy-thriller in the high satire genre which opens Wednesday at the Jet Theatre.

But where it used to be Christian martyrs dodging lions in the good old days, it's Marcello Mastroianni dodging the bullets of gorgeous Ursula Andress in the film, as Mastroianni's mistress, played by Elsa Martinelli, goes into assorted faints, hysterics and screaming fits in the new laugh hit which is in color.

Why the Colosseum? Wouldn't a studio set have served the purpose?

Perhaps. But it so happens that "The Tenth Victim," which is from a best-selling novel by Robert Sheckley, was produced by Carlo Ponti who insisted upon authenticity but felt that as long as the picture was being made in Italy, audiences might just as well be given the extra treat of seeing some of the country's famous and historic landmarks in color.

In fact that's why a camera crew and players were sent to New York, just to record authentically, one sequence in the film. It's authentic New York alright, shot right in the great Metropolis' busiest streets and if it strikes you as funny that nobody among the passers-by appears to be staring at the camera it's because authentic New Yorkers don't stare at anything anymore unless it's steam shovels in deep excavations.

Nor is the Colosseum the only famous Roman landmark which "stars" in the new comedy. There are also the Villa Borg-hese, the ancient Temple of Augustus, the great high road to Rome of antiquity the Appia Antica, and such modern landmarks as the Fiumicino Airport, the Cavillieri Hilton Hotel, a cafe barge on the Tiber River, and the Velodrome Bicycle Stadium, perhaps the world's largest. There is also a glimpse of the beach at Ostia, historic as the birthplace of the topless bathing suit.

The co-starring of Mastroianni and Andress is being hailed as one of the greatest triumphs of casting in recent picture history. Mastroianni is generally conceded the world's outstanding international male star, having scored successfully in the recent "Marriage — Italian

By SAM BLACKBURN
Big Spring's two junior high schools were already deep into preparations for the Fifth Annual Howard County Spelling Bee.

The bee will be held April 15 and is sponsored by the Daily Herald.

It has been the history of the preceding four spelling bees that the champions have come from the two junior highs. The finals at the county bee, as a result, have developed into a contest between Goliad and Runnels.

Last year's title holder was Scott McLaughlin, Goliad. He eliminated Mary Lou Brown for the title in the county spelling bee and represented Howard County at the Lubbock regional spelling bee. Mary Lou was the Runnels champ.

The previous year, Don Hickson, now in the Big Spring High School, was not only the county champion, but won the regional title as well and competed for the national championship in Washington. Don, who has won two county titles, was a Runnels student both years.

Both McLaughlin and Miss Brown are back in the running this year along with other veterans of earlier bees.

Other schools, the records show, have also produced some high calibre spelling and it is always possible that a youngster from an elementary school will turn out to be the best speller of the lot. The elementary schools and the two parochial schools are getting ready to stage their own classroom and school eliminations.

Meantime, ample copies of the official spelling book used in the bees at all levels are on hand at the office of the Daily Herald along with copies of the official rules. The books are 15 cents each.

At Goliad Junior High School, Soc Walker, principal, said that he has asked Mrs. Connie

Gary, eighth grade English teacher, to be generalissimo for that school. Her job will be to coordinate the spelling bee activities at the school. Walker said that the same plan used in the past will be followed — classrooms will have their own eliminations and the champion of each classroom will then compete in a school spelling bee to determine the school's best speller.

At Runnels Junior High, Roscoe Newell, principal, said that Mrs. Margorie Talmadge, who served in the same capacity last year, will head up a five member committee to work out the details for this school's competition.

He said the school will set

'You Bag 'Em, We'll Get 'Em'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The noise at night of nine raccoons in her attic was so great that Mrs. Sarajo Lord moved from her bedroom to the front room. That was almost a year ago. Now Mrs. Lord has asked the Los Angeles Animal Regulation Department for help in getting rid of the raccoons.

"You bag 'em and we'll come and get 'em," she said the city answered her plight.

Mrs. Lord said she'll apparently have to put up with the noise.
