LOST BATTLE

But She Didn't Cry

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Suzy was losing a big battle, but she didn't cry.

"In the two weeks she has been dying she never cried once," said Mrs. George Dewey, mother of six-year-old Suzy Dewey.

Those two weeks ended Wednesday as Suzy lost an 18-month fight against leukemia, a fight that brought her into the hearts of thousands of strangers across the nation.

Letters, Gifts Pour In

Cards, letters and gifts, including one from entertainer Frank Sinatra, poured into Suzy's home.

A cruel prankster nearly brought heartache to the child with so little time to live.

A man posing as an agent of comedian Jerry Lewis called her parents and offered an expense-paid trip to California and Disneyland at Christmas.

But a Los Angeles woman who still remains anonymous opened her heart and purse to finance the four-day dream trip for Suzy and her parents.

Florida Probe

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Authorities are investigating the death of a Florida man two years ago at the request of his brother who said he wanted a fresh probe because of the current investigation in New Orleans of the Kennedy assassination.

Fled From Dallas

The brother, Earl Killam, said the dead man, Thomas Henry Killam, told him he fled Dallas in December, 1963, because he was being harassed by "agents." Killam said his brother didn't specify whether the agents were federal, state or some other type.

"I'm a dead man," Killam quoted his brother as saying. "I've run as far as I'm going to run."

Wanda Killam, the dead man's wife, reached Wednesday in Dallas by the Pensacola News-Journal, said her husband had been questioned several times about the assassination by federal agents.

His Throat Was Slashed

Killam died beside a broken shop window on a Pensacola street March 19, 1964. His throat had been slashed.

Police said the death was an apparent suicide. The coroner called it accidental.

Earl Killam, 38, a car salesman, has asked Es-cambia County Solicitor Carl Harper to exhume his brother's body to determine the exact cause of death.

Harper said he took a statement from Earl Killam Wednesday morning and would investigate immediately. He would not discuss his investigation except to say he was seeking concrete evidence. "not suspicions."

Talk To Garrison

Harper said he planned to talk to New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison, who is conducting an assassination probe.

Wanda Killam said her husband returned to Florida in early December, 1963, saying he was going to look for a job. She stayed in Dallas, where she had been employed for several years as hostess in a night club owned by Jack Ruby.

Ruby, who died of cancer while in custody, was charged with the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused of killing President John F. Kennedy in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963.

Mrs. Killam said she, too, favored an investigation of her husband's death and said of the suicide ruling: "No, Hank wouldn't do that."

Roomed With Oswald

She said her husband was briefly employed in Dallas as a house painter by a man named Jack Carter. Earl Killam said Carter once roomed in the same Dallas boarding house as Oswald.

Killam said that after his brother returned to Florida he spent four months in Tampa and then returned to Pensacola March 15 to live with his mother.

Two days later, he was dead.

Thomas Killam received a phone call at his mother's home at 4 a.m. March 17, 1963, according to his mother. She said he dressed and left the house. She heard a car pull away, although Killam did not own a car.

About a half hour later, two street sweepers heard a crash on a city street. Police said they turned their truck around and saw a man staggering in front of a broken display window.

Garrison, Ferrie

New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison (left) hinted today that David W. Ferrie (right) carried some secrets to his grave concerning the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. Plot Pilot Found Dead

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison hinted today that free-lance pilot David W. Ferrie carried to his grave some secrets about President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

Ferrie, 48, who described himself as a psychologist and private detective as well as a flyer, was found dead in his bed Wednesday.

Garrison, the 6-foot-6 gun-toting prosecutor, called the death "apparent suicide."

The coroner, Dr. Nicholas Chetta, said tests were not complete but death seemed due to a massive brain hemorrhage, with no sign of suicide except a curious, unsigned, undated note saying death was a "sweet prospect."

"NOW HE'S GONE"

Ferrie was on the brink of producing information that could have been important, said Garrison, whose assassination probe — started long after the Warren Commission finished its work — has created an international sensation.

"We felt that he was really now ready to talk candidly, to contribute to this important investigation," said Garrison. "now he's gone and it will be much harder to make the connections between certain people. But I'm sure we'll make them anyway."

"I'm just as optimistic today as I was two days ago."

Two days ago, Garrison was insisting that his effort to prove a conspiracy in the assassination of President Kennedy will result in arrests and convictions.

"CREDIBLE PROOF"

The President was shot in Dallas, Tex., Nov. 22, 1963. Garrison insists that a conspiracy to murder him was conceived in New Orleans.

No "credible evidence" of a conspiracy was found by the Warren Commission, which said Kennedy was killed by Lee Harvey Oswald — a former New Orleans resident — acting alone.

Garrison said his office had planned to take Ferrie into custody early next week. Because Ferrie had expressed fears for his life, Garrison said he provided him a temporary hideout at a motor hotel here.

"Evidence developed by our office had long since confirmed that he was involved in events culminating in the assassination of President Kennedy," Garrison said.

"NUDE BODY"

The nude body of Ferrie, who operated a flying service here, was found in the calm posture of sleep, covered to the chest by a bedsheet.

His second floor apartment was in disarray and disorder. An American flag was in the living room. Although 15 bottles of various pills were on a table, the coroner said no drugs were found other than those used for vascular disease. He said Ferrie was born with a weak blood vessel at the base of his brain. It ruptured, producing a massive cerebral hemorrhage. Chetta said Ferrie also suffered from high blood pressure and recently told a friend he had encephalitis (sleeping sickness).

"NOTE UNSIGNED"

An unsigned, undated note was found on the dining room table. The first paragraph said: "To leave this life is, for me, a sweet prospect. I find nothing in it that is desirable, and on the

Bus Clerk Skips Out

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — David Lewis, who said last Monday he feared for his life because of what he knew about a local probe into the death of President John F. Kennedy, was reported today to have left town with his family for an undisclosed location.

The disclosure came after a routine check for Lewis for comment on the death of David W. Ferrie, a key figure in the investigation directed by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison. Ferrie was found dead in his apartment Wednesday.

Lewis, 26, a bus station baggage clerk, formerly was a private detective. In that role he claimed to have met New Orleans-born Lee Harvey Oswald, named by the Warren commission as the Kennedy assassin.

Employees at the bus station said, "We don't know where he is and don't know when he will be back — and that's official."

Man Found Dead, Identity Sought

Officers are seeking the identity of a middle-aged, tattooed man whose body was found late Wednesday sprawled in a shallow ditch about 50 yards south of the Texas & Pacific Railway right of way, at the west end of the railroad yards.

The man had been dead about 36 hours, it was estimated. An autopsy was planned this afternoon to establish, if possible, the cause of death. Other than for a slight abrasion on his forehead, there are no signs of injury. Officials do not believe the man could have been a train victim. The body, according to Jess Slaughter, justice of the peace, was too far from the tracks to indicate a fall from a boxcar or similar mishap.

Slaughter said the victim's head was lying in a puddle of mud and water, but that the water did not cover the face. The clothing worn by the man was soaked and Slaughter said he could have been sprawled in

Cahoon Files Congressional Remap Plan

AUSTIN (AP) — A congressional redistricting plan that merges districts of only two incumbent congressmen was introduced today by Rep. Frank Cahoon, Midland Republican.

Cahoon said his bill is similar to one he presented in the 1965 legislature and "incorporates all the necessary and desirable factors needed for fair and effective representation."

The bill merges the districts of Reps. Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls and Omar Burleson of Anson. It reunites all of Brazoria County in a single district with no incumbent congressman.

"PICKLE PLAN"

"It takes into account population trends so it will be much easier to work with after the 1970 census," Cahoon said.

The bill joins Ector and Midland counties in a single district, unlike the present plan. It would take President Johnson's voting residence, Blanco County, from the district of his close friend, Rep. J. J. Pickle of Austin.

Another congressional remap was introduced Wednesday by San Antonio Reps. R. L. Vale and Jake Johnson.

"GERRYMANDERING"

"This is a just bill—nonpolitical," Johnson said.

"This corrects the gerrymandering last year by Mutscher (Rep. G. F. Mutscher of Brenham, chairman of the Committee on Congressional and Legislative Districts)," Johnson said. The bill does not affect Houston or other major metropolitan areas, he said. It would put several congressmen against one another by placing them in the same district.

A Rio Grande Valley district would include the homes of U.S. Reps. Eligio de la Garza and Abraham Kazen.

"BURLESON MERGER"

The bill also would put Congressmen Graham Purcell, Wichita Falls, and Omar Burleson, Anson, in the same district. U.S. Reps. John Dowdy, Athens, and Olin Teague, College Station, also would be in one district.

"I'm sure it won't stand a chance in (Mutscher's) committee," Johnson said, "but we're still in court and he knows it." Johnson and others have challenged both congressional and legislative redistricting in federal courts.

The U.S. Supreme Court Tuesday sent back to a special three-member federal court in Houston the Texas legislative redistricting plan.

Brazoria County, now split between two districts, would be united in a new district without an incumbent congressman.

Paratroopers Jump Behind Enemy Lines

SAIGON, (AP) — American troops deployed in the jungled War Zone C today in biggest offensive of the Vietnam war.

Spearheaded by paratroopers making the first U.S. combat jump of the conflict, some 45,000 fighting men struck near the Cambodian border Wednesday to encircle the Viet Cong's long-time main operating base and reputed national headquarters.

The drive covered a Tay Ninh Province area ranging from 30 to 75 miles northwest of Saigon.

"BOOBY TRAPS"

Reports from the battle area said initial resistance was light, with U.S. forces encountering only enemy sniper fire and booby traps.

The new drive was announced by Gen. William C. Westmoreland's headquarters. It was described as of multidivision size and given the code name of Operation Junction City.

The operation was preceded by four softening up raids by B52 bombers on Wednesday, just before some 750 paratroopers jumped into blocking positions behind enemy lines and barely three miles from Cambodia.

"ARMORED PUSH"

The Viet Cong have not used artillery to any extent so far in the war. A Vietnamese spokesman said the eight cannon seized were believed to be American made and had been mounted on wheels by the Viet Cong.

Following the paratrooper jump, swarms of helicopters ferried infantrymen into positions flanking the battle area and several armored columns pushed north from above Tay Ninh City.

The new operation, in the upper part of War Zone C, followed immediately after the termination at midnight Tuesday of Operation Gadsden, a relatively uneventful campaign in the lower part of the zone.

"COPTERS RECOVERED"

With major portions of three U.S. infantry divisions and several separate brigades thrown into the new drive, the troop strength well exceeds the 30,000 men deployed in Operation Cedar Falls, a clearing operation last January in the Iron Triangle 30 miles north of Saigon that had been the largest operation of the war.

U.S. headquarters said five helicopters were downed by enemy ground fire Wednesday and three crewmen were injured. Headquarters said all five helicopters were recovered. Nearly 250 helicopters were used to ferry troops in the assault.

"LIGHT CASUALTIES"

"Initial enemy opposition was scattered and U.S. casualties were very light," it said.

Two battalions of Vietnamese marines were flown in to support the operation.

Brig. Gen. John R. Deane Jr. of San Francisco, commander of the 173rd Airborne Brigade, was the first man to jump in the war's first American combat jump.

Over-all field commander of operation Junction City is Lt. Gen. Jonathan O. Seaman, 2nd Field Force commander.

"CAMP BLASTED"

The high-flying B52s struck today at a Viet Cong base camp 25 miles north of Tay Ninh City and close to Cambodia.

Ground action was reported light throughout South Vietnam Wednesday by both the U.S. and South Vietnamese high commands.

South Vietnamese troops uncovered two large Viet Cong arms caches in the Mekong Delta which included six tons of enemy ammunition and eight 75mm artillery pieces. A Vietnamese spokesman said the Viet Cong intended to use the cannon to form their first artillery battalion.

Guadalupe Bill Clears Final Legal Hurdle

AUSTIN (AP)—The legislature knocked down today the last remaining legal hurdle to creation of the Guadalupe Mountains National Park in far West Texas.

The House sent to the governor, 132-10, the Senate-passed bill conveying Texas mineral rights in the park to the federal government.

Rep. Gene Hendryx of Alpine assured the House the bill contains ample safeguards that Texas may regain the mineral rights if the area ever ceases to be a park.

"DUSTERS DRILLED"

He also said that if oil or gas is developed in adjacent areas, the state may enter into pooling agreements with producers and "get a proper share of the proceeds."

"Dry hole after dry hole has been drilled in that area in the last 30 years," Hendryx said. Hendryx said in a debate Wednesday the government plans to spend $13.5 million to develop the park.

Because of land acquisition time, he estimated it may be 10 years before the park is completed—"Big Bend was that long."

"HIGHEST PEAK"

"Teddy Roosevelt told Congress 60 years ago that if we are going to preserve wilderness areas in national parks, we can't have mining companies digging up minerals and oil companies spudding in oil well," he said.

The park area includes McKittrick Canyon and Guadalupe Peak, highest point in Texas.

"SAME PROVISION"

The measure gives the National Park Service Texas' mineral rights to 45,000 acres of the 77,000-acre park in Hudspeth and Culberson counties—a congressional requirement to establish the park.

Hendryx explained Wednesday that the same provision was in the bill creating Big Bend National Park.

A long wait for details of the governor's liquor-by-the-drink proposal is due to end Friday at a 9:30 a.m. news conference.

Drafting of the measure was completed Tuesday, but introduction was withheld until sponsors could be decided upon.

The governor wants to legalize public sale of mixed drinks on a local option basis and charge a nickel an ounce tax on drinks.

Napalm Protest Jail 17 Wisconsin Students

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The University of Wisconsin has vowed to "go through a Berkeley" to keep its campus open to everyone despite 17 arrests in a protest against job interviews by a firm making napalm for Vietnam.

Roben W. Fleming, chancellor of the Madison campus who was barricaded in an office for three hours by the protesters, wrote a personal check for $1,200 that bailed the demonstrators out of jail. But he refused to yield Wednesday night to demands that representatives of the Dow Chemical Corp., target of the protest, be evicted from the university.

The demonstrators threatened to continue the protests. BERKELEY BRINK "We stand at the brink of a Berkeley," Fleming said, but he added the university would not sway from its policy that no one would be denied access to campus facilities because of a clash over beliefs. "There's no prospect of backing away from this historic principle. We're willing to go through a Berkeley for that principle. We'll go through that tragedy," he said. He referred to mass protests in the past that disrupted the University of California at Berkeley.

BAIL POSTED Arraignments were scheduled today for 16 students and a Madison mother arrested on charges of disorderly conduct in the demonstrations against Dow. Fleming said he was furnishing bail because he believed the university should settle its disputes without police action. He said he would recommend the charges be dropped, but said the final decision belonged to the director of the engineering school placement service, James Marks, who had summoned police.

SIT-IN STAGED Eleven demonstrators were carried out by police when they staged a sit-in in the office where Dow planned to conduct interviews. Six others were arrested when they threw themselves under police cars and paddy wagons trying to cart the first group away. Fleming and other university personnel were trapped in an administration office by demonstrators packing a hallway after word of the arrests spread. Leaders of the group said they wanted to trade the release of their friends for that of Fleming and others in the office. 'THAT'S NOT TRUE' During the three-hour blockade, Fleming conferred with several of the leaders who insisted they had a right to block the recruiting of companies. They argued it was immoral for Dow Chemical and other firms to support the Vietnam war effort. "You assert you have a superior moral right. That's not true," Fleming answered. From 150 to 450 students participated at various stages of the protest. The university has an enrollment of about 30,000 on its Madison campus.

Doves, Hawks Due To Clash Over Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Critics of the Vietnam war plan a Senate slowdown today as President Johnson's request for a speedy authorization of $4.5 billion for military hardware, research and construction.

A lengthy clash between doves and hawks appeared likely. "I don't know how long this will take," said Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

On the eve of the debate, W. Averell Harriman, U.S. ambassador-at-large said there were signs that North Vietnamese leaders were coming around to the point where they may be willing to talk about a settlement of the war in Vietnam. Harriman suggested in an interview on a National Education Television program Wednesday night that the allied forces might find an opening by exploring potential differences between Hanoi and the Viet Cong.

Another ambassador, Arthur J. Goldberg, the chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations, said in New York that "the door is still open" to negotiations. Apparently setting the tone for a 12-day trip to Saigon and four other Asian capitals, Goldberg said, "We do not ask our adversary to accept, as a precondition to discussions for negotiations, any point of ours to which they may have objections."

'EYES AND EARS' Goldberg addressed 1,200 community leaders at a conference on world problems held Wednesday night on the New York University campus. He said a news conference that he was not carrying any new peace proposals in his pocket. Instead, he said, he was going as "eyes and ears" of the government and naturally would be discussing Vietnam. Today's Senate meeting on the Vietnam military authorization recalled that last year a debate over U.S. policies in Southeast Asia delayed action on a $4.8-billion Vietnam spending authorization more than two weeks.

NECESSARY ACTION Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said in an interview he did not question the right of opponents to debate the current money request now before the Senate. But "it would have been more appropriate for them to have done it when the Gulf of Tonkin resolution was considered," he said. Russell, whose committee gave quick and unanimous approval to the $4.5-billion request last week, added: "This is a supplemental bill which deals with the existence of a half-million Americans out there. It is a matter of whether the men over there are going to be fed and clothed and armed to defend themselves," he said.

Russell's reference to the Gulf of Tonkin resolution was to congressional approval in August 1964 of President Johnson's request for broad authority to "take all necessary action including the use of armed forces" in Southeast Asia. This was after Communist forces attacked a U.S. naval vessel.

Fund Appeal Nearing End

Appeals for the fund to assist the family of Airman Carl Garrison in an hour of sorrow and need were running out today.

As of this weekend the appeals will be halted, thus those who have been intending to have a part are urged to respond immediately by sending gifts to Grace-Baptist Church (P.O. Box 1507), the receiving agent.

The Garrisons lost their two daughters in a traffic mishap three weeks ago as the girls waited for a school bus. Friends since have been rallying to help them with heavy expenses incurred.

Wednesday evening members of the Grace Baptist Church, where the Garrisons attend, raised $50 toward the fund. The airborne electronics branch of the 331st FIS at Webb came through with $25, and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Willingham with $5. This boosted to $1,440 the amount so far received by the church. In addition, members of the mess hall force in two buildings at Webb raised $90 and later $45.

Medders Face Feed Lot Suit

MUENSTER, Tex. (AP)—Embattled Ernest Medders, fighting for his life in the ranching business, Friday faces the only civil suit filed against him, a comparatively nickel-and-dime action, in nearby Gainesville.

Medders, a Tennessee mechanic grown to Texas cattle-and-oil tycoon in six years, gained nationwide attention this week when delving lawyers and newsmen unearthed a mass of notes and deeds of trust filed against his 1,400-acre showplace ranch, Colonial Acres Farm.

$1 MILLION DEBTS
It appeared the debts might exceed $1 million.
The civil suit, Martindale Feed Co. of Valley View, Tex., versus Medders and his wife, is docketed for 10 a.m. Friday in 16th District Court in the Cooke County Courthouse. The suit alleges Medders owes $3,071.13 in feed bills.

Friday's hearing is to show cause why the judge should not appoint a receiver.

Last year, Medders said, the farm netted $200,000 on 21 horses alone. He sold a one-third interest in a Red Angus bull to James Melton, a Washington, D.C., businessman for $37,000, a price Mrs. Medders said was a record for the breed.

They also had income from 33 producing oil wells on their fabulous spread, just northwest of this small German Catholic town of 1,210 persons.

OPTIMISM
Both Medders and his wife, Margaret, as late as Tuesday professed optimism that they could come back from their financial difficulties.

Bankers in Muenster expressed doubt that the Medders could "pull out," but Tuesday Mrs. Medders said a debt of more than $330,000 at Neiman-Marcus in Dallas "had been settled satisfactorily."

The Neiman-Marcus deed of trust was filed in both Cooke and Montague counties, as the land in question is in both counties. A Neiman - Marcus official has denied that the whole bill has been paid, however.

Norman W. Brambley of the store said there was no plan to drop the deeds of trust soon. The law allows four years from the date of filing a deed of trust before advertising property for sale.

Roman Catholic groups apparently held meetings Wednesday to determine any moves in the case. The Medders apparently departed Jellico, Tenn., where they had been for several days, but they left no destination behind them.

In another development Wednesday, a spokesman at the St. Francis convent in Mishawaka, Ind., said an attorney for the Poor Sisters of St. Francis, Seraph, of the Perpetual Adoration, Inc., would investigate reports that the order had been engaged in financial transactions with Medders.

"We are not sure of the total situation," said the convent spokesman.

"The banks haven't any foreclosures coming up—or anything like that," said Mrs. Medders. "I think everything is going to be all right." She spoke from her old hometown of Jellico.

MOUNTAIN WALK
Medders, just back from a "walk on the mountain," told The Associated Press that he, too, was optimistic. "If people will just stop tryin' to root me around," he added.

The Medders both spoke freely of their debts even before they became so widely publicized.

As she showed a newsman pictures of various properties, Mrs. Medders remarked, "Of course, there are mortgages on nearly everything. That's just the way you have to do business."

Speaking of stories that were widespread about their operation, Medders asked, "Do they tell you I'm broke? How could I go broke when I never had anything?"

NOT A DIME
"Yeah, I heard of a big inheritance," he told a questioner, "but I've never seen any of it. I never received a dime."
"But the stories have really hurt us in a business way," Margaret Medders added without elaboration.

"We took a rock farm out here," she continued, "and improved it and built it up . . . and from some of the stories you would think that we've just been playing."
The Medders borrowed "something like $30,000" from Subiaco, Ark., Academy to buy the initial 185-acre homestead on their farm. It has since been repaid.

some," said Ernest, "maybe two or three weeks in the summer." He emphasized, however, that "I like it here. I've never felt so good as I do here." He said he had gained 45 pounds in the six years he had been in Texas.

About 10,000 from Catholic orders, Mrs. Medders said. "The church has really taken care of us . . . If we've ever had difficulties, they pulled us out of it. I always knew I could work, but it took a little more than just work . . . The Church is interested in people."

Besides the huge Neiman-Marcus account, the Medders have pledged their original 185-acre homestead to secure notes totaling around $730,000. They include notes of various amounts to the National Bank of Commerce in Memphis, Tenn., two to the City National Bank of Wichita Falls, Tex., and one to the Muenster State Bank.

$15,000 STALLION
Herds of Red Angus and Black Angus cattle and about 21 Appaloosa horses dot the rich coastal bermuda grass of the rolling Colonial Acres Farm.

Medders said last week he hoped an April 21 sale of the Black Angus herd would bring in about $500,000.

One champion Appaloosa stallion is valued at $15,000. He won the Bear Step Katoische Award at last year's national Appaloosa Show in Syracuse, N.Y.

Creditors became restless when Margery Medders, a sister-in-law in Memphis asked for an accounting on funds she said Ernest Medders received from the Pelham Humphrey estate. Her attorney, A. V. Grant of Muenster, said Monday he would ask for dismissal when the case comes up next month.

The Humphrey estate involves an old and often rejected claim to a league of Southeast Texas land, much of which became part of the great Spindletop Oil Field which put Texas in petroleum production leadership in 1901. Queries, come up often from persons who believe they may be the Humphrey heirs.

Medders said he heard about the claim about 1958 or 1959. He was sick at the time, and his doctor had advised him to seek a drier climate.

Subiaco Academy loaned them the money to make their start in Texas several months later, and the saga of Colonial Acres began.

Later, when 330 acres next to the original 185-acre farm was up for auction to settle an estate, Medders borrowed the money in Wichita Falls and bought it.

Is That A Lullaby We Hear?

You might say 15-month-old Jennifer Rhone is all wrapped up in her big sister's music. Theresa Rhone, first chair tuba player in the Lamar Tech band, had to play at a basketball game at Beaumont and also babysit, so, she did both, and Jennifer liked it. (AP WIREPHOTO)

$20,000 Bequest Surprises Texan

DALLAS (AP) — Carl Ray Johnson, a night club manager of 23 who has supported himself since he was 13, headed for Mineral Wells today to collect a surprise inheritance of $20,000 from an aunt he met once for three hours.

Johnson said he was shocked at the news that Mrs. Ada Langston had changed her will to include him after their one-time-only meeting in 1961.

He learned of his inheritance Tuesday from an announcement on the Art Linkletter "Missing Heirs" show.

WILD KID
"She was a retired school teacher—I guess she was in her 70s—and she talked education, education, education to me. She had told my sister she would pay my way to college if I'd stay in high school rather than go into the service."
"But I was a wild kid and I thought I had to go on into the service so I did," he said.

Johnson's mother died giving birth to him. His father, a miner, worked in Joplin, Mo., while the son lived with two older sisters, aunts and uncles—and when he was old enough, worked at odd jobs to feed and clothe himself.

BRIEF VISIT
Johnson said he took distributive education courses in high school—working half days and going to school the other half—and was on the verge of quitting in the 11th grade when he learned his father was dying of emphysema.

It was through his father's wish to be driven to Mineral Wells to see Mrs. Langston that Johnson met his great aunt. He remembers nothing dramatic from the brief visit and never heard from her again.

HCJC Prexy Sees Demands On Education For Training

In an age of fantastically fast unfolding technology and science, education faces the task of staying abreast or getting run over.

The demands upon educational systems, said Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, in an address to the Downtown Lions Wednesday noon at the Settles, is not only to train in this rapidly changing atmosphere, but also to retain. Alert to these demands, he said that the HCJC trustees have on the drawing boards now a vocational training plant to meet the needs of this area.

"One of the greatest problems," he said, "is how to educate our students to face these realities of rapid change. We can't stand still; we have to keep pace. The nation can't get too far behind and survive."

"OUTDATED TOMORROW"
"Today's knowledge is outdated tomorrow. According to some industrial estimates, 85 per cent of those now in occupations will have to be retrained as occupations disappear to be replaced with new ones. Even those with a baccalaureate may have to return to school within a decade to update their knowledge."

He quoted the president of the American Junior College Association as saying that the junior college is peculiarly equipped to meet the vocational - technological training demands of this rapidly unfolding age, that "the junior college is where the action is." Moreover, said Dr. Hunt, it is in direct contact with the people who support it and are served by it. The next three decades will be a period of great innovation and maturity.

UNDREAMED OF THINGS
He quoted from Dr. John J. McKetta Jr., dean of the school of engineering at the University of Texas, that so far as technology's potential is concerned, "we are in the caveman age."

Pack 137 Has Banquet

Approximately 200 boys and parents took part in the Pack 137 Blue and Gold Banquet at Goliah cafeteria Tuesday evening.

Amos Johnson, cubmaster, presided over the family affair, and talks were made by Mrs. Don Farley, president of the sponsoring P-T-A; by John Hardy, institutional representative; and William T. McRee, Scout executive who appealed for more committeemen.

Those receiving Wolf badges were Steve Ayres, John Massey, Richard Kennedy, Randy Hull, Gene Hobby, George Robinson, Willis Morrison, Robert Creelman, Rusty Mitchell, Michael Newsom; Bear badges, David Wilson, Bobby Alexander; Lion badges, Kelly Johnson, Barry Canning, Kirk Wrinkle; Webelos, Mark Clark (who got his graduation certificate), Don Rice, Craig Phillips, Robert Douglas.

Arrow points were received by Robert Santoscoy, Kevin Bernard, David Fowler, Gary D. South, David Towle, Kelly Johnson, Andy Rözelle, Randy Hull, Randy Burks, Robert Creelman, James Douglas, Sammy Hammon, Tracy Thompson, Rex Mayes, Randy Christian, Tim Yates, Robert Bradbury, Ronnie Huff, Stephen Arnold, David Travis, Joe Fenfield, Kirk Wrinkle, Mark Clark, Craig Phillips.

Service pins went to Craig Phillips (3 years), Robert Bradbury and Barry Canning (2), Billy Huff, Jimmy Shanks, Randy Burks; dinner badges to Robert Santoscoy, Stephen Arnold, Barry Canning, Willis Morrison; and assistants, Kevin Vernard, Ronnie Huff, Sammy Hammon, Randy Burks.

The next 10 to 15 years will bring unreamed - of things; man will be on the moon, by 1964 will be on Mars, and by the year 2000 "we will be in the inter-solar age." Dr. McKetta foresaw victory over cancer, development of artificial lungs and kidneys; electric eyes that will do highway driving; cars propelled by batteries; solar energy captured by mirrors and stored.

All of these will mean new fields — many not now known. Even now the prediction is that by 1975 the nation will need 106 per cent more machinists - operators, 61 per cent more chemists, 56 more cement workers and finishers, 44 per cent more radio and television technicians, 40 per cent more engineers, 29 per cent more teachers, 11 per cent more physicians.

AID FOR TRAINING
The concepts of vocational training is not new. Dr. Hunt reminded. Since the Smith-Hughes Act was adopted in 1917, the idea has been expanding. The 1963 vocational education act has opened the way for local institutions to be supported in three - fourths of the furnishing and the teaching costs and in 50 per cent of building costs. HCJC hopes to be able to make use of this, he said.

Cancer Talk Is Scheduled

An intensive two-hour discussion of "Cancer of the Female Genital Tract" will be presented to the Taylor-Jones County Medical Society, March 14, at 7:30 p.m. at the Hendrick Memorial Hospital auditorium, North 19th and Hickory, in Abilene.

"Physicians have been invited to attend this meeting from Brown, Callahan, Coleman, Fisher, Haskell, Howard, Jones, Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry, and Taylor counties," Dr. Jarrett E. Williams, president of the Taylor-Jones County Medical Society, announced.

Led and moderated by John A. Wall, M.D., clinical professor of department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston, the panel will include Alan L. Kaplan, M.D., Jack P. Abbott, M.D., Philip T. Hudgins, M.D., and Montague Lane, M.D.

This is the third year that the American Cancer Society has sponsored teams to visit meetings of county medical societies. Subjects discussed by earlier panel members were oral cancer and colon-rectum cancer.

The program will be one of vital concern to most physicians, the American Cancer Society has predicted, because cancer of the female reproductive organs is the chief cause of cancer death in women. Yet, ironically, this cancer is near to being 100 per cent curable when it is diagnosed at certain sites early in its development.

Mrs. Raley Displays Work

Among the collection of paintings in the one-man show of Mrs. Ira C. Raley, on display in the Hobby Shop on Eleventh Place, are several water colors which glow with the particular interest the artist has for this media.

Landscapes are one of Mrs. Raley's particular joys, and she feels no artist should have trouble finding subject matter with the abundance of inspiration from nature. Other works in the exhibit include oils, pastels and graphics which give meticulous attention to detail and color, but the water colors show more freedom in technique.

Mrs. Raley has been teaching and working in Big Spring for over 40 years, and is a charter member of the Big Spring Art Association. She has studied under several instructors, including Helen King Kendall of San Angelo, Addie Miller at Howard County Junior College, and Mrs. Alma West Parker.

The exhibit opened Sunday and will remain on display through Monday.

UNUSUAL DISPLAY Pictures at College Heights

Students Turn Out Modern Pictures

By ROBERT TSETLES

Swirls and Twirls is the theme for the show case in the front hall of College Heights School, which features several marbled paper pictures.

Mrs. Joe B. Hedleston, fourth grade teacher at College Heights, read in a magazine about making marbled paper and she decided she and her fourth grade students would try it.

She took India Ink, which is colored and waterproof, and a shallow pan with about an inch of water. She put a piece of construction paper on the surface of the solution and ink mixture, counted to 10, and took the paper out to dry with the impression on it.

"It turned out interesting to the whole class, especially to me, because the students could see different objects or animals in their pictures which I could or could not see," said Mrs. Hedleston.

"There are four pictures that turned out exceptionally good. They looked like many modern art paintings that I have seen sell for several hundred dollars," she said.

"There has already been an offer to buy Karen Jenkins' and Tonia Moore's pictures," Mrs. Hedleston pointed out.

"I have received many comments on the beauty and the idea of marbled pictures," she said. "I feel it is worthwhile and an unusual event, the children enjoyed it, and it was different from anything else we have ever done here at College Heights."

Guilty Verdict Returned In Case Against Webb Airman

A jury in 118th District Court early this afternoon returned a verdict of guilty, in the case of Narciso Joseph Santiago, charged with assault with intent to murder.

After the verdict, deliberations were being conducted as to the sentence.

A jury of six men and six women began deliberating the guilt or innocence of a 21-year-old Webb AFB airman charged with assault with intent to murder at 11:30 a.m. today.

The defendant is Narciso Joseph Santiago. He is accused of shooting Mrs. Jean Morton in the arm and head with a pistol on the night of April 25, 1966. The case has been on trial all week in the 118th District Courtroom before Judge Ralph Caton.

Judge Caton Thursday morning read the charge to the jury and Wayne Burns, district attorney, and George Thomas, defense lawyer, presented their oral arguments.

The charge instructs the jurors it is their duty to determine the guilt or innocence of the defendant. They are to establish if the state has proved its contention of assault to murder with malice which can bring as punishment for the young New Yorker.

The jury must also decide if the assault was made without malice. This would bear a much lighter sentence—one to three years. The jury could also find the defendant not guilty.

The jurors are R. E. McKinney, Mrs. Mildred Laws, Daryl Wood, Mrs. James M. Carver, Johnnie D. Ford, Helen King, Mrs. D. Lightfoot, Henry W. Bell, Mrs. Joe Myers, Rex Shive, Jack Wolf and Mabel E. Norrell.

Santiago, slight dark-eyed, darkhaired, wearing glasses, sat quietly at the counsel table during the argument as he has throughout the trial. He has made copious notes on a yellow scratch pad and paid close attention to the witnesses on the stand.

From time to time, he has whispered to his attorney, George Thomas.

Santiago is indicted on two charges. One charges that he shot Sgt. M. T. Gore to death. The offense alleged is murder with malice. The second charge, for which he has been on trial this week, is assault with intent to commit murder.

Mrs. Morton, 33, who was Gore's companion in the latter's car on the night of April 25, was wounded in the fuselage of shots fired from the back seat of the car. Gore was killed. Mrs. Morton was shot in the arm and head. She testified she played dead after the shot which struck her had been fired and that the gunman, who had been concealed in the back of the car, leaped from the vehicle and ran away into the darkness.

The episode occurred a few hundred yards north of the main gate at Webb AFB on the night of April 25. Mrs. Morton identified Santiago as the man she saw in the back of Gore's car pointing a pistol at her head.

Santiago did not take the stand in his own defense.

The state ended its case against Santiago with the testimony of Mrs. Morton, the alleged victim of the defendant's gun.

The defense case was brief. Only two witnesses were presented. One was Dr. Clyde Thomas, who testified as to the wounds suffered by Mrs. Morton. They were gunshot wounds, he said. One was in the lower left arm and the other on the right temple. The bullet had passed through the woman's arm and lodged just under the skin on her skull. Dr. Thomas said he removed the bullet.

The second defense witness was Bob Bronson, police identification officer. Thomas used him to identify the photographs of the scene and to assert that the position of the body of Sgt. Gore, shown in some of the pictures, was in the position it was found when officers first reached the scene of the shooting. Angle of certain bullets was also discussed by the witness.

other hand everything that is loathsome."

Dr. Chetta said the time of Ferrie's death had to be before 4 a.m. Wednesday because of the rigor mortis condition. However, a newsman for the Washington Post, George Lardner, said he had visited with Ferrie in his apartment until that hour.

Garrison said the conflicting statements constituted "one of the mysteries we don't understand."

Five Thefts Are Reported

Five thefts were reported to police during the night. Laura Birdwell, 111 NW 2nd, reported to police Wednesday that she had left her purse on the counter of the Kwikie Store on Lamesa Drive and when she returned, it was gone. A money order for $60, and $600 in bills were in the purse, she said.

Fox's Pawn Shop, 210 N. Gregg, was missing nine watches and two sets of rings valued at $300, after thieves apparently broke the plate glass window and took them from the showcase.

William Watson, 2400 S. Scurry, reported the theft of a radiator valued at $25. It was leaning against his car in the front of his house. Carroll Yater, Route 1, Stanton, reported a .30 calibre rifle had been taken from his car while parked at Katie's Bar. Roy Deltage, Wilson's Cafe, reported two tires mounted on pickup wheels had been stolen while he was in the cafe.

A New Orleans florist, Edward Voebel, had seen Lee Harvey Oswald's picture on television and reported that he and Oswald had served in a Civil Air Patrol squadron under Ferrie. When authorities sought to question Ferrie, they found he had gone to Texas.

Ferrie told a newsman recently that he and two friends took a short vacation trip to Texas the day of the assassination "on the spur of the moment." He said they visited Houston, Galveston and Alexandria, La., before returning home. They did not go to Dallas, he said.

And Ferrie said he and Voebel were in separate CAP squadrons. Ferrie said he never knew Oswald. A native of New Orleans, Oswald lived in New Orleans the summer of 1963.

Great MGM Proxy Fight Reel Unwinds

NEW YORK (AP) — When better movies are made, maybe Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer will make them. But for what the ads call elemental passion, raw lust for power, intrigue and tinging suspense, they'll never draw MGM stockholders so close to the edges of their seats as the great MGM proxy fight of '67.

The last reel of this gripping human drama unwinds today at a stockholders' meeting where shareholders will vote for a 2-man board of directors, including a president, to run MGM.

But the socko ending won't be revealed for days or perhaps weeks, after election judges have declared a winner in the contest for control of one of the entertainment industry's biggest giants.

CAST DIVIDED

The battle figures are big ones. Valued at a gross of $184,918,000, the 43-year-old film studio has 5,042,859 shares of common stock outstanding among some 12,000 shareholders.

This cast of thousands is divided — yet-unknown proportions — between two warring generals, each backed by 12-man slates of board candidates, while in the wings waits "the cavalry," six mutual funds which control about 20 per cent of the stock. Their preferences were still unknown on the eve of the showdown; they could ride to the aid of either side at the last minute.

The generals are Robert H. O'Brien, 62, MGM president since 1963, and New Jersey land developer Philip J. Levin, 57, who bought into MGM in 1964 and is now on the board of directors.

Both men are running on O'Brien's management record, which O'Brien sums up this way: "Since he took over in January, 1963, MGM stock has turned from a $17.4-million, or $3.39-per-share, loss that year to a $10.2-million, or $2.03-per-share, profit in 1966. MGM has declared one five per cent stock dividend and two dividend increases, and the market value of MGM stock has increased by about 2 1/2 times.

And, he adds, MGM has turned out some pretty good movies, including "Dr. Zhivago," which O'Brien predicts will gross $40 million, to become the fourth largest money-maker in film history.

Levin's view of the record is less kind.

He contends: O'Brien's 12-man board gives rubber-stamp approval to anything O'Brien decides. O'Brien leases too many recent films to television too soon and for too little money. MGM should return to the policy of developing big-name stars and keeping them under exclusive contract, rather than letting them free-lance. MGM should knock off the so-called package deals for production of films with independent producers, in which MGM pays the cost but the producer may own half the film.

Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, has been admitted to the Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital. Davis has been ill all week and is said to be suffering from pneumonia. A criminal jury docket slated for trial this week in Howard County Court had to be cancelled because of his illness. His condition is said to be satisfactory.

'A Man And A Woman' Labeled Rare Movie

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This week the Motion Picture Academy gave official recognition to what American audiences have been discovering: that "A Man and a Woman" is a rare and original movie.

The French film won four Oscar nominations — for star Anouk Aimee, director Claude Lelouch, as best foreign language film and for the script. The film has buoyed the fortunes of its American releasing company, Allied Artists. Long runs have occurred in every city. San Francisco theater owner Irving Levin reports the movie in its 16th week did better business in a 265-seat house than when it opened in a 1,000-seat theater.

AMAZING

Anouk Aimee — pronounced A'-nook Aim-ay' — is now in Hollywood and is basking in the burst of fame that "A Man and a Woman" has brought her. She is a slender, graceful beauty with a profusion of chestnut hair parted in the middle.

"Isn't it amazing?" she exclaimed in her flower-filled suite at the Beverly Hills Hotel. "All my life I had a vision of what it would be like to be a star in Hollywood. Now it is happening to me, and it is exactly as I pictured it."

She has already been the recipient of an award—the Golden Globe as best actress in a drama. She and her husband, Pierre Barouh, have been par-

OFF BEATEN TRAIL Rio Bravo On Congress Ave.

By ED SYERS

As sought here recently, mid-1800 Austin did indeed boast a smack-down Congress-Avenue creek, then affectionately dubbed our Capital's "Rio Bravo."

Austin's H. L. E. confirms it "a pleasant, spring-fed, year-round branch which, underground today, still seeps its way."

The clear stream headed just northwest to today's Capitol (a low drain trails its course across those grounds now). Bearing southeast, "it crossed Eleventh Street, then down Congress' east side, down the now alley between historic old Driskill Hotel and Littlefield Buildings. Then it veered southeast to spill, with Waller Creek, into the Colorado."

So recollections from Tyler and College Station were right: old timers did catch fat perch right in Austin's paved-over, heavy-trafficked heart. As the city grew, recalls this researcher, little Rio Bravo was filled or built over, but still seeps through its age-old course.

FREE WATER

"Early Austin residents prized locations on the merry little stream, because they did not have to buy water from the wagons, selling around town." That turns a strange page.

Forgotten Rio Bravo, adds the Austin writer, could boast another and ironic claim to fame: a win over its own Ben Thompson. A later gun-slung Thompson would be described by no less expert than Bat Masterson: when sober, the soul of courtesy and kindness; when not, a crueler, deadlier, faster gun than any ever thrown.

When quite young, you see, Ben Thompson was trying to sell from that water wagon.

ANOTHER HOTTENTOT

A recent recollection put a village, "Hottentot," the 1880's, west of Austin near today's Mansfield Dam. Now, before the vote's in on that one, here comes another; you judge.

Lubbock's Mrs. Martha L. Head: "I grew up in Flatonia (between Seguin - Schulenberg, US 90). My grandfather, F. A. Neersta (that name set some athletic records) was born a few miles from there in a town he said they called 'Hottentot,' later changed to Praha — a Czech settlement, almost unchanged over the years.

(Note: Praha, indeed, is one of our earliest, proudest Czech settlements, its annual reunions, drawing thousands. I've no record of anything but its name for the Czech capital.)

(Write OBT, care of The Herald, or Ingram, Texas 78025. For personal reply, please enclose stamped, addressed envelope.)

Thanks to Austin's Mrs. Robert Brandt, an assistant Texas archivist, who's answered some tough questions directly to readers.

Thanks also to Texas State Historical Survey Committee's able Director Truett Latimer for two excellent directories you should have, exploring Texas: Guide to all historical museums (243) and roadside markers (3,946). While they last, write P. R. Dept. Humble Oil, Houston. With T.S.H.S.C., Humble has quietly done a fine job for heritage-minded Texas travelers.

Midland's Clifford Chapman: "You mentioned a Corpus Christi man who has maps of early Texas. I let the article get away." (David Hotchkiss, 914 Buford Street.)

GM Plant Will Open

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Company officials said today that the Arlington General Motors assembly plant will open again sometime during the middle of next week.

The announcement came after workers in Mansfield, Ohio, Fisher Body plant decided to end their wildcat strike there.

GM officials said it would take several days to produce the necessary body parts and ship them to assembly plants.

Workers at the Arlington plant will be notified through news media as to the exact day their plant will be opened.

taking of the local social scene, often in the company of their new friends, the Steven McQueens.

Miss Aimee's joy with her experience here was tempered somewhat by a painful accident; she was pinned against a garage wall when her husband lost control of a station wagon. But she was only bruised and is recovering in a wheelchair.

VERY SMALL CREW

The French couple spent a few quiet moments beside the hotel pool, and they discussed the amazing success of "A Man and a Woman." It is a simple tale, beautifully told with impressionistic flashbacks of a man and a woman who are drawn together by the fact that their children attended the same boarding school in the south of France.

"We made the film in a month," said Miss Aimee, "shooting on Saturdays and sometimes Sundays, too. It was all done very informally; that's the way Lelouche likes to work."

"The crew was very small," added Barouh. "In fact, we toured all over France in just two cars. Lelouche is his own cameraman, and he needed only a handful of people to help him with the filming."

The entire film was produced for $125,000, making it one of the most impressive film investments in recent times. Its take in the United States alone will run into the millions.

Dear Abby

IT'S THEIR BUSINESS!

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of this situation? Elsie is 34. Her mother is 52. Herman is 37. Herman has been dating Elsie for 10 years. Elsie lives at home with her mother and Herman has a room somewhere, but he practically lives at Elsie's.

These three have gone on long trips together, and have been seen at movies and all over town together, but get this: Herman has been seen with Elsie's mother ALONE (marketing and driving around) nearly as much as he has been seen with Elsie. There is something peculiar going on here.

At present Herman is unemployed and is mooching off these two women. The mother is a widow and should be looking out for herself. As a friend of the family, I would like to see this relationship terminated. But how?

INTERESTED PARTY
DEAR INTERESTED: If Elsie, her mother and Herman are happy, I can't see why the relationship should concern anyone else. As I see it, what should be "terminated" is your pre-occupation with somebody else's business.

DEAR ABBY: When a boy is visiting a girl at her house and the girl walks him out to his car, should he walk her back to the door? My boyfriend thinks he should, but I don't.

CURIOS
DEAR CURIOS: If you want to be absolutely proper, say your final goodnight at the door, and let the boy walk himself to his car.

DEAR ABBY: My wife has been overweight ever since we have been married, which has been 10 years. She has kept her weight a secret—even from me.

Last week a college friend of mine was visiting us and the subject of weight came up. He asked my wife how much she weighed, and she said she'd tell him "later"—but not in front of me. Then she called him into the kitchen later and told him.

After he left I asked her how much she weighed and she refused to tell me.

What do you think of a wife who would keep her weight a secret from her husband, but would humiliate him by revealing it to a stranger?

MAD
DEAR MAD: Your wife, conscious of her overweight, may not want to humiliate HERSELF in front of you—and perhaps invite your critical comment. She needs your help, not your censure.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69790, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Lone Picket Idles 600

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—One man walking a picket line has idled 600 workers at a big chemical plant.

Roy Farrell picketed the plant Wednesday protesting his dismissal for allegedly running—instead of walking—in the parking lot of the plant in violation of safety regulations.

A sign lettered in 10-inch-high figures near the Beaumont Du Pont works parking lot says: "Walk—don't run."

Farrell's former employer, the Armstrong Construction Co., which was doing some work at the Du Pont plant, said he ran in the parking lot. Farrell said he walked.

He was fired a month ago by the construction company, but says his grievance is personal, not union.

"I have been accused of running in the parking lot. I was not running," he said. W. S. Briggs, parking manager for Du Pont, said no legal action was currently planned to stop Farrell's action.

"We are proud of our safety program and promote safety on and off the job," Briggs said. Farrell said he declined to go inside the plant Wednesday to talk over his problem because that would have brought down the picket line.

"Had I gone inside, the picket line would have gone down, and everyone would go on to work because they wouldn't be crossing any picket line," Farrell said.

He said he still wanted to negotiate his problem, however.

Don't Write Off Mop-Hair Teens

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—British Commonwealth Secretary Herbert Bowden has an answer for those who belittled Britain's long-haired teenagers.

"Of course teenagers behave extravagantly, they always did and they always will," he told a National Press Club luncheon today.

But remember this, he said, "the so-called decadent playboys of the 1930s were the fighter pilots of the Battle of Britain in 1940. It is just as dangerous to write off Britain now."

Federal Judge Sheehy Expires

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Sheehy, appointed to the federal bench by President Harry Truman in 1951, died today at Tyler Medical Center following a heart attack. He was 56.

Judge Sheehy had been in and out of the hospital with a heart ailment for several years.

His docket was often crowded with litigation growing out of the slant well oil scandals of East Texas.

He was stricken at 12:15 a.m. and died at 1:30 a.m.

Funeral arrangements were pending.

He was a native of Saratoga in East Texas. He attended the University of Texas in the late 1920s and received his law degree from Baylor University in 1934.

He practiced law for several years and was a major in the Army Air Corps in World War II. Sheehy was a former assistant state attorney general when Truman named him a federal judge.

Sheehy was chief judge of the 41-county Eastern District of Texas. Survivors include his widow and two sons, Joseph William and Michael James Sheehy.

Daylight Saving Time Argued Before Legislative Committee

AUSTIN (AP)—Time is money, an old adage says, and you had better believe it when opponents in the daylight saving time fight start quoting how many millions it will cost if they lose.

There also is the emotional side.

School children will have to stand in pre-dawn darkness, some predict, waiting for their buses under daylight saving time.

Others say television is one of the most important things in our lives, and you don't want to stay on regular time because everybody else will be getting that big pro football game while the church service is still on your tube.

MAINLY MONEY

But mainly it is the money. And time is no object where enough cash is involved, as a House State Affairs Committee hearing proved. It started Wednesday night and lasted into the early hours this morning.

The hearing was on a bill by Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont that would exempt Texas from the 1966 Federal Uniform Time Act, which puts all states that do not exempt themselves on daylight saving time starting April 30.

After 5 1/2 hours of testimony, the committee sent the bill to a subcommittee.

Smith produced several witnesses, including:

—Martin Miles, representing El Paso, who said the West Texas city would lose $75 to $100 million in business from New Mexico under daylight saving time.

BOWLING LOSS

—Charles W. Horan Jr., operator of five Fort Worth cafeterias, who said, "People eat breakfast and lunch by the clock, but they eat supper when the sun goes down." Daylight saving time would make food establishments stay open an extra hour, he said.

—John Gray of Texas City, president of the Texas State Bowling Proprietors Association, who said people who are engaged in more outdoor activities because of daylight saving would not go bowling. He estimated a $1 million annual loss.

Smith also cited support for his bill by the Texas Farm Bureau, which reportedly represents 100,000 families. Farmers don't want to milk their cows in the middle of the afternoon, Smith said.

WASHINGTON RATES Three-Gun Salute

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Sand Point Naval Air Station fired a three-gun salute Wednesday in honor of George Washington's birthday anniversary.

It started out to be a traditional 21-gun salute but as a spokesman explained, "We had a little gun trouble. After the first three volleys, the breech jammed on one and we had a hung fire on the other."

"By the time we got everything fixed and put back together, it was too late to fire any more."

HOURLY NEWS

The opposition included:

—Walter Gaven, Austin lawyer for the railroad industry, who said there was more chance of accidents in the confusion of different times in states in the same time zone.

—William P. Hobby Jr., president and editor of the Houston Post, who said Houston might lose the 1968 Republican national convention if it cannot offer the central time the GOP selection committee prefers, other

Guide Dog Grabs Bag

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Tracy Goodman, 22, a housewife who is expecting her first child, was walking in midtown Manhattan Wednesday when she noticed a man, apparently blind, approaching. The man was being led by a guide dog.

"Just as the man got close to me," Mrs. Goodman told police later, "I heard him say (to the dog): 'Serge, get the bag.'"

"Then the dog jumped up on me," Mrs. Goodman continued, "knocked me to the ground and grabbed my pocketbook. The man whipped off his glasses and yelled, 'Let's get out of here,' and he and the dog both ran off up Sixth Avenue. The dog kept my bag in his mouth."

Mrs. Goodman was taken to a hospital where she was treated for bite and scratch wounds. Police said that unless the dog is found, she faces a series of painful antibiotics injections.

She told police she had $45 cash in her purse.

Burglar Picks Wrong Home?

HAMMONTON, N.J. (AP)—Elvin D. Kendall, 23, Pleasantville, is charged with breaking and entry and larceny.

Police say he looted the home of Nicholas Cirillo earlier this month taking jewelry, cash and a revolver.

things between competing cities being equal.

—Ray Herndon, representing a Midland television station, who said network news programs would start at 4:30 p.m. instead of 5:30 p.m. Taping equipment needed to delay network shows one hour would cost individual stations $75,000 and operation of the equipment would run $2,000 a month, he said.

Rep. Ralph Wayne of Plainview, coauthor of the Smith bill, asked Herndon if more than 35 Texas stations didn't already have taping equipment.

Herndon said yes, but, "How good is news that is already an hour old?"

Growers To Ship Dirty Potatoes

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—The Idaho Senate has approved a bill permitting Idaho potato growers to ship dirty potatoes to other states.

Sen. Marsden Williams said that when seed potatoes are washed they don't keep as well.

Opening lead: Queen of ♣

When South opened the bidding with one club, his partner had no fully satisfactory response. Although he holds 13 high card points and a balanced distribution, he should avoid bidding two no trump because he lacks a stopper in hearts.

The four card spade suit, headed by only the jack, is not considered biddable. North reasoned that the slightly unorthodox response of one diamond provided the greatest flexibility. When South rebid one spade, North confirmed the fit and committed the partnership to game by making a jump raise in that suit. South carried on to game in spades.

West opened the queen of clubs and the ace was played from dummy. Trumps were drawn in three rounds ending up in the North hand and a club was led. South put in the seven, allowing West to win the trick with the nine.

West switched to the nine of diamonds and dummy played the ace. Declarer observed that, if the clubs divided evenly, he could discard a diamond from the North hand on his long club. He cashed the king of diamonds first, and then led a club.

When East showed out, discarding a diamond, declarer's hopes of obtaining a sluff vanished, however, another prospect presented itself. He put up the king of clubs and returned the ten. West covered with the jack and was permitted to hold the trick as the five of diamonds was discarded from dummy.

Inasmuch as West had only hearts left, he was obliged to open that suit, thereby establishing South's king for the fulfilling trick. Declarer's losses consisted of one heart and two club tricks.

Observe that, if West has a diamond left as an exit card when he is in with the fourth club, South ruffs in dummy, and he still has time to play a heart toward his king.

Hank Aaron Given Pact He Sought

Hank Aaron says he got the works from the Atlanta Braves, and Sonny Siebert thinks he's getting the works from the Cleveland Indians. "I want for the works and got what I wanted," Aaron said Wednesday in confirming he and the Braves had reached agreement on a two-year contract calling for $100,000 a year. The new contract gives Aaron an estimated $35,000 increase over last season when he hit 279 and led the National League with 44 home runs and 127 runs batted in, and makes him the highest-paid Brave ever. Warren Spahn had been the highest paid, a reported $32,500. Meanwhile, Siebert, who pitched the only no-hitter in the major leagues last season, is used a "pay me or trade me" ultimatum to General Manager Gabe Paul. Siebert, who earlier vowed Big Spring's up-and-coming high school golf team, only six strokes off San Angelo's pace in the District 2-AAAA race, has about three weeks to hone its game before the third round of competition March 17.

The Steers are conceded a good chance to overtake the Bobcats and hold off other conference teams because (1) two of the remaining matches will be played on long courses and the Steers are generally booming their tee shots farther than the golfers of the other school; (2) the final five rounds will be over the friendly confines of the course the Steers know best, the Big Spring Country Club.

The fight stable maintained by Martin county's Melton McMorris is staying busy.

Bantamweight Marcelano Rivas, now rated among the top 50 men in his weight class in the world, has been offered a fight in San Antonio with Steve Freeman but may have to give away too much weight. Freeman wants to come in at 120 pounds.

Rivas was to meet one Raul Herrera in Juarez earlier this week. Elisio Estrada (16-1-1) is matched against Ben McCall in a semi-windup in a New Orleans ring next Monday night. The two are featherweights.

If Estrada beats McCall, he may get a main event in the Crescent City.

The story is circulating in pro football circles that the new Orleans Saints will take either Steve Spurrier of Florida or Bob Greise of Purdue (both quarterbacks) for their first draft choice, then trade him immediately to Green Bay for hard-running Jim Taylor.

Ex-coach Harold Davis, now in business here, recently returned from Atlantic City, N.J., where he spent much of his nights watching eastern collegiate basketball teams on TV.

He was impressed most by the surly attitude of the crowds, frequenting the gym for the game, says the games had to be stopped from time to time so that attendants could clean up garbage thrown on the playing courts by the spectators.

The onlookers, to express their disgust, were prone to toss everything from paper cups to soft drink bottles and pennies onto the hardwoods.

Odessa and San Angelo have had coliseum for years and have profited by it. Brownwood is discovering what a tourist lure such a structure can be. Snyder is getting one. There's an all-out campaign in Abilene to vote the bonds for such a structure.

Big Spring needs one. Such attractions as ice shows, concerts and conventions could be booked in here regularly, if the city had a coliseum, not to mention the variety of athletic events. I think the citizenry would like a chance to decide the fate of such an issue but it has to be brought before the people, if it is ever to be constructed.

There'll be 3,454 teams competing in the 64th annual American Bowling Congress championship tournament, which opens in Miami Beach March 4 and extends through May 7.

The more than 17,000 keglers entered in the event will be trying for a share in a $360,419 prize fund. This will mark the first time the tournament has ever been staged in a Southeastern city.

Crusader Five May Get Nod In Tourneys

By The Associated Press They start naming the at-large selections today to college basketball's two major postseason tournaments, the NCAA and the NIT, and Holy Cross may be a surprise pick.

Virtually forgotten after they had lost four of their first five games, the Crusaders from Worcester, Mass., have put together a 14-3 record since then under the direction of Jack Donohue, perhaps better known simply as "Alcindor's coach."

HE COACHED LEW This refers to Lew Alcindor, UCLA's supersophomore, who played under Donohue at Power Memorial High School in New York. Their paths parted in 1965 when Donohue became head coach at Holy Cross and Alcindor decided to enter UCLA.

The Crusaders won their sixth straight and seventh in their last eight by whipping Fordham on the road 73-63 Wednesday night. Led by juniors Keith Hochstein and Al Stazinski, the Crusaders pulled away after a 36-36 halftime tie. Hochstein and Stazinski each got 16 points.

Louisville, second-ranked nationally to unbeaten UCLA in The Associated Press poll, became the third team to qualify for the NCAA championship tourney.

The Cardinals crushed Drake 86-63 before a hometown crowd of 16,306 for their eighth in a row and 23-2 over-all record. The victory wrapped up the championship of the Missouri Valley Conference and an automatic NCAA berth.

Westley Unseld and Jerry King each tallied 20 points to lead the Cardinals as they joined Western Kentucky and Connecticut in the NCAA field. Western Kentucky and Connecticut qualified earlier by winning the Ohio Valley Conference and Yankee Conference.

Fifth-ranked North Carolina pulled out a 79-73 road triumph over Maryland on two free throws by Dick Gruber in the last 23 seconds. Texas Western, 10th ranked, lost at home to the AAU Phillips Oilers, 67-61, in an overtime exhibition game.

Texas Western, as the defending national champions, appear certain to receive an NCAA bid.

NATIONAL JC RANKINGS

- (COACHES' FINAL POLL) Team record: 1. Moberly, Mo. (21-2) 2. Son Jactro, Tex. (21-3) 3. Cameron, Okla. (18-3) 4. Ranger, Texas (20-2) 5. Port Huron, Mich. (20-0) 6. Mineral Area, Flat River, Mo. (20-0) 7. Eastern Utah, Panguitch, (20-0) 8. Northwest, Powell, Wyo. (20-0) 9. Brewster, Okla. (19-0) 10. Browne Tech, Southampton, N. Y. (22-2) 11. St. Gregory's, Shawnee, Okla. (21-3) 12. Wilson Branch, Chicago, (15-1) 13. Rochester, Minn. (21-4) 14. Coffeyville, Kan. (24-3) 15. Tyler, Texas (24-3) 16. Ellsworth, Iowa Falls, Iowa, (20-3) 17. Wesley, Dover, Del. (19-2) 18. Gardner-Webb, Bowling Springs, N. C. (22-4) 19. Illinois Valley, LaSalle, Ill. (15-3) 20. Northwestern, Sterling, Colo. (17-2)

But the biggest problem of all was that of Baltimore pitcher Gerry Herron.

A sporting goods firm failed to deliver an order on time for the opening of training at the Orioles' camp in Miami, Fla. So, the 225-pound Herron and other rookie pitchers had to wear uniforms belonging to players due to report later.

Scuba Class Almost Full

Deadline for registration in the SCUBA course to be taught under the sponsorship of the YMCA is Tuesday.

First session begins at 7 p.m. Tuesday and will continue for about three hours.

Those seeking the course must undergo a physical examination, as well as fill out several papers at the Y.

The curriculum will include at least one trip to Balmorhea as well as Possum Kingdom Lake and will embrace two courses weekly for a period of eight weeks — Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Twelve persons have already signed for the lessons and instructors can accept only four more.

Graves Is Named Coleman Mentor

COLEMAN — Grady Graves has been named head football coach at Coleman High School.

He replaces Ronald Robbins, who resigned recently to move to Dallas.

Graves posted 7-3 and 5-5 records at Burleson the past two seasons. He previously had coached at Archer City, where his 1964 club won the Class A state championship. He also has coached at Olney and Electra.

Graves is a graduate of Texas Tech.

Talpa And Fluvanna Open Tourney Friday

Only first round action slated in the Region VI-B boys' basketball tournament here Friday night pits Talpa - Centennial (66-B) against Fluvanna (70-B). Scene of action will be the HCJC gymnasium, the starting hour 7 p.m.

A doubleheader is booked in the Jayhawk fieldhouse, however, with the 9 p.m. afterpiece

HARLEM STARS TO MEET LOCAL QUINTET IN LONGHORN GYM

Boyd Bule's Harlem Stars will invade Big Spring Friday for a benefit basketball game with a Big Spring all-star unit.

Scene of action will be the high school gymnasium, the starting time 8 p.m. Price of admission will be $1 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12.

Bule is the former Harlem Globetrotter who has only one hand. He makes good use of that one.

Among those who will probably play for the Stars are Don McDonald, the high school coach; Delnor Poss, a former Steer mentor; Don Finkenbinder, Don Neill, and Jay and Zay LeFevre.

The Student Council of the high school will get the proceeds, over and above expenses.

Honolulu To Bid For NFL Club

HONOLULU (AP) — Honolulu will make a bid for a National Football League franchise in the super jet era of 1972 before the owners get down to serious business today on the controversial common draft issue.

Kenneth Brown, a prominent Hawaii businessman, will tell the owners that Honolulu will have a 46,000-seat stadium no later than 1972 when travel time and costs will be drastically reduced.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said Wednesday night the league had no timetable for immediate expansion but first would assess the success of the addition of recent new franchises. New Orleans begins operation this year as the 16th franchise.

Rozelle still is hopeful that the NFL will agree to separate regular and redshirt drafts in common with the American Football League. A red shirt is a player who still has college eligibility although his original class has graduated.

Green Bay, with 10 picks in the first five rounds and a vast reservoir of talent on a world championship club, would prefer a single draft. This permits the Packers to take a chance on a red shirt selection for the future with their picks while others must concentrate on their present status.

It is possible that some sort of compromise will be made to continue a single draft of all collegians for one year and then go into separate selections in 1968. However, Rozelle is on

Boston Celtics Succeed Because They Specialize

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Boston Celtics may no longer be the best team in the National Basketball Association, but they must be the best disciplined.

While there have been many changes in the playing personnel, the Celtics have maintained the same winning formula while capturing nine NBA titles during the past 10 seasons.

Unselfishness is usually a characteristic of players on a winning team. The Celtics seem to carry it one step further with a distinctive "man for every job" quality.

Boston has more specialists than a hospital staff. Coach Bill Russell is in charge of rebounding. K.C. Jones heads the defense and sets up plays. Sam Jones paces the offense. John Havlicek supplies the spark off the bench.

Bailey Howell, Satch Sanders and Larry Siegrist do a little bit of everything—Howell and Sanders providing rebound muscle and scoring, with Siegrist pumping in points while aiding in the playmaking.

The Celtics stayed mostly within their prescribed areas Wednesday night as they whipped the Baltimore Bullets 135-120 in the second game of an NBA doubleheader. The Chicago Bulls beat the New York Knicks 107-103 in the opener 117-103.

Sam Jones scored 20 of Boston's first 43 points against Baltimore and wound up with 42 for the game. He took 36 shots. K.C. Jones pestered the Bullets on defense, as usual, and was credited with nine assists. Havlicek didn't score a point as a first quarter substitute, but finished with 23. Russell snared 16 rebounds, and contributed 12 points.

Boston never trailed after opening up a 23-13 lead in the first period. When Baltimore pulled to within 97-91 early in the fourth quarter, the Celtics rallied for eight consecutive points to put the game out of reach.

The Bullets, who have beaten Boston once in eight tries, were led by John Egan's 23 points.

Chicago, shooting for a playoff berth in its first season, blew eight and 11-point leads in the first half before clinching the victory by outscoring New York 20-6 during the final seven minutes of the third quarter.

Bob Boozer scored 23 points to pace the Bulls, who trail Detroit by two games for the fourth and final Western Division playoff berth. Erwin Mueller and Guy Rodgers each scored 21, with Rodgers also assisting on 12 other baskets.

Cazzie Russell scored 21 to top the third-place Knicks, who maintained their 2½ game lead over Cincinnati in the Eastern Division. The Royals lost to Los Angeles 103-102.

pitting HCJC against Amarillo College in a collision that has taken on championship proportions in the Western JC Conference.

The other three teams in the VI-B tournament have drawn first round byes and will not see action until Saturday. Winner of the meet here becomes eligible for the State Class B tournament at Austin next weekend.

Bronte (67-B) challenges the survivor in the Talpa-Fluvanna engagement at 9:45 a.m. Saturday. Sands (71-B), the sentimental favorite here, will square off with Anthony (74-B) at 11:15 a.m. for the right to play in the finals.

The third place game Saturday night starts at 7 p.m. while the title game goes on at 8:30 p.m.

Talpa, 54-50 winner over Merton in bi-district competition, brings the best record here. The club has lost only twice in 22 starts.

Sands earned the right to take part in the regional for the third straight year by turning back Grandfalls - Royalty at Midland Tuesday, 76-66.

Coached by Arlen White, the Mustangs are 20-7 for the year and have beaten some of the best clubs in the area.

Anthony's Wildcats, coached by Richard Sambrano, is 14-12 on the season. Anthony won a third place in last year's tournament here.

Bronte, 23-5 on the year, is coached by James Raughton. Fluvanna turned back Blackwell, 65-48, Tuesday to win the right to play here. Talpa is coached by Barney Popnow and calls its team the Rams.

The owners voted to retain the 40-player limit for a fourth straight year and also approved changes in the waiver rules that should help the weaker clubs.

Under the new rules, the last five players cut by a team to reach the 40-man limit, will be subject to irrevocable waivers.

For example, as Green Bay cuts its last five players to reach 40, each of those men can be picked up for the $100 waiver price by another club without the Packers getting a chance to recall the waivers. Only the last three cuts were subject to this rule last year.

Rozelle said the owners tabled until the spring meetings, recommendations by joint AFL-NFL committee that would make other changes in the waiver process and restrict trading to spread the better players among the weaker clubs.

George J. Halas, a nephew of the owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, made a presentation about wiring football fields for built-in heating that would melt snow and ice and recent freezing. It is understood that Green Bay plans to experiment with the process.

Forsan Hosts Coahoma Fems

FORSAN — Girls' basketball teams of Coahoma and Forsan clash here at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Nothing will be at stake but prestige. Coahoma, the 5-A champion, will be seeking to avenge a recent loss at the hands of the Buffalo Queens.

Forsan is the reigning 67-B champion, awaiting a bi-district test in Big Spring next Tuesday with Merton.

Coahoma returned to winning way against Balmorhea in Big Spring Tuesday night, defeating Balmorhea, 57-32.

Linda Pherigo bucketed 24 points for Coahoma, which now has a 22-8 won-lost record.

A LOVELIER YOU Shame How Women Neglect Care Of Hair

By MARY SUE MILLER

It's enough to curl your hair... how women neglect the care of theirs. All attention focuses on styling and coloring. Yet, unless the hair is conditioned like a baby, it begins to ail. Then it neither holds a styling nor takes well to coloring. Neglect, however is not the only factor that causes tress distress. Mistreatment — the wrong kind of care — brings all manner of ailments. To save your locks a deluge of damage, follow these No-No Rules:

Never comb when you can brush... nor brush with uneven or dusty bristles... nor borrow another's comb or brush.

Never fail to shampoo before the need becomes a scandal... to use a shampoo suited to your hair's condition... to rinse out every soapy trace... to quick-dry sets and then remove rollers at once... to wash rollers, pins and nets after use.

Never subject the scalp or hair to harsh brushing, massage or toweling... extremes of heat or cold, including water, weather and dryers.

Never permanent, straighten or color poorly conditioned (sick) hair... nor abuse good hair by the overuse of perms, straighteners and tints... nor forget that the scalp is part of the face and that blemishes spread from one to the other. Never overlook the impor-

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1967 SEC. B

She Wears The Pants

Tradition has it that brides wear something old, new, borrowed and blue. Mrs. Norman Edward Dolf, the former Carol Sinclair Dunham, found her "something new" in this trouser-type wedding outfit comprised of sleeveless, backless top under an embroidered net bolero, with wide-legged, satin-banded, lace-covered enclotes. The newlyweds pose after their marriage ceremony in a New York hotel.

Wedding Solemnized In Home Ceremony

Miss Tamara Candace Letcher and Seaman Apprentice Jack M. Griffin Jr. were united in marriage at 8 o'clock Monday evening in the home of the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Grigg, at Ackerly.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Raymond Riley, pastor of the Ackerly Methodist Church, and vows were exchanged by the couple before an arch of greenery.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Letcher of Portland, Ore., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack M. Griffin Sr., 1320 Stadium, Big Spring.

The bride, given in marriage by the bridegroom's father, was attired in a street-length white lace cage over a satin sheath. The gown was fashioned with cowl neckline and long, trumpet sleeves. Her shoulder-length, bouffant veil was held by a tiara of seed pearls and iridescents, and she carried a cascade of white Frenched carnations backed with tulle and showered with satin streamers. Miss Karen West, cousin of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and wore a pink sheath trimmed with sequins at the collar and cuffs. The bridesmaid was Miss Teresa Lynn Griffin, who was attired in an ivory two-piece wool dress with short sleeves and wide collar. Both carried nosegays of pink carnations and rose buds.

Dick Brown of Big Spring served as best man. The reception was held immediately following the ceremony with Mrs. Grigg and Mrs. Kenneth N. Green of San Antonio serving refreshments from a table laid with pink net over pink linen. Pink roses were used for the centerpiece, and appointments were of crystal and silver.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. A. Faulkenberry and S. Sgt. Kenneth N. Green and daughter, Jo Ellen, all of San Antonio; Pvt. Ward Booth of Ft. Polk, La.; and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Griffin of Dawson County.

Mrs. Griffin attended public school in Portland and is now a student at a beauty school there where she will reside while Seaman Griffin is serving aboard the USS Johnston. He is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School and has served in the Navy for over a year.

The second in a series of studies on "Affluence and Poverty" was held Monday by the Wesleyan Service Guild at First Methodist Church.

The study is being conducted by Mrs. Thel Watts, and Monday's program, "The Christian and the Puzzle of Poverty" was presented by Mrs. O. T. Brewster.

Mrs. Brewster explained what poverty does to people, noting that some people are stronger than others and that poverty forces them to show their character through struggle. She said that laws may be passed to provide jobs for people but that no law can be passed that will force a man to work. This must be done, she said, by making men take pride in their jobs and showing them that getting enjoyment out of work means success. He must have a sense of value in his work and output whether he is digging ditches or probing outer space.

Mrs. Brewster expressed the opinion that Christians should help others have faith in their abilities and assist them in receiving joy and fulfillment in their job. She closed by saying that some people go through life struggling but not working and there is no use to provide jobs for people who do not want to work.

Approximately 15 attended. The next study will be Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the church.

Cool Water May Set Ink Spots

Cool water is usually the best first aid for clothing spots and stains. But not on ballpoint ink stains. Never apply water to this stain. If you do, the stain will become a permanent part of your wardrobe. It's just like the manufacturers say. These inks were made to work under water.

Housewife Can Save This Week

By SALLY RYAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Remember last year, when bacon was $1.19 a pound?

It is now 48 cents at a supermarket in Lake Oswego, Ore., for example, and 79 cents at a New York area supermarket chain.

The nation's homemakers are finding larger supplies of pork, beef, lamb, poultry and eggs this winter—and at lower prices than a year ago.

The Agriculture Department predicts retail prices will rise one to two cents on every food dollar this year.

Now beef output is approaching record levels and pork marketings are running ahead of a year ago. Growers are raising more chickens and turkeys and egg production has soared so high that eggs are selling for 5 to 10 cents a dozen less than a year ago.

Citrus prices have tumbled with the huge orange crop in Florida and the heavy harvest of navel oranges in California.

Most fresh vegetable prices are lower than a year ago when a freeze in Florida cut supplies.

Potato prices generally are higher—a freeze again, in Idaho late last fall. But there are big supplies—and frequent specials—on frozen french fries.

Shoppers generally can expect to find more canned and frozen fruit but less dried fruit than a year ago. Supplies of canned and frozen vegetables are about the same, but prices may edge up because of processing costs.

There are bigger stocks than a year ago of frozen apples, blackberries, blueberries, boysenberries, strawberries, asparagus, broccoli, brussels sprouts, carrots, corn, baby lima and spinach.

But supplies are smaller of frozen apricots, cherries, grapes, peaches and peas.

Flank Steak Is Sandwich Idea

Flank steak can be served as a tender cut if it's high quality and scored (this cuts the fibers), then cooked quickly by broiling. It's served by cutting slantwise in thin slices. Cutting the broiled flank steak, sometimes known by the term, "London Broil," in thin slices makes it a scrumptious sandwich when served on hot, buttered garlic bread. If desired, garnish with dairy sour cream and panfried onions.

is unavailable, they plan to use red velvet.

Majoring in home economics in college, Mrs. Caldwell enjoys sewing but finds it difficult to find the extra time required. She does make all her square dancing costumes, however, and feels that she saves a great deal of money by sewing them herself. She is now in the process of making a crinkled white cotton dress with silver and white trim. Each costume takes about five yards of material and features a full, graceful skirt. She has a basic pattern which she knows to fit perfectly, and varies the dress to suit her desire for a new creation.

Mrs. Caldwell is enthusiastic about yard work, and although she has many power tools, still likes digging and weeding by hand. She plants seeds each year and enjoys seeing them grow to full bloom, and this last year raised tomatoes for the family table.

When cooking, she almost never uses a recipe, but just adds some of this and a pinch of that. She has difficulty sharing her recipes with others, because "I just never really know how much of anything I put in," says Mrs. Caldwell.

Area Food Stores To Offer Stamps

MINNEAPOLIS — More than 100 new food stores in the Dallas, Tex., area will soon begin offering Gold Bond Stamps, it was announced here by H. Glendon Johnson, vice president.

Johnson's announcement of the new food accounts followed disclosure of Safeway Stores, Inc., that they are discontinuing offering Gold Bond Stamps in the Dallas area. "We already have signed contracts with many fine food stores in the Dallas area," he said, "and are completing arrangements with a large number of others. We advise the many thousands of stamp savers in that part of the country to watch their local newspapers for announcements and advertisements identifying the new merchants who will be offering Gold Bond Stamps."

Johnson emphasized that the decision by Safeway to discontinue stamps in Dallas area does not effect the food chains of other divisions now offering Gold Bond Stamps.

Blueberry Sauce Sparks Appetites

The two-fruit combination in this sauce is delicious.

BLUEBERRY SAUCE
1 tsp. cornstarch
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup orange juice
1 pkg. (12 oz.) frozen blueberries, thawed

In a 1-quart saucepan stir together the cornstarch and sugar; gradually stir in orange juice, keeping smooth. Add blueberries and their juice; cook and stir constantly over low heat until thickened and clear. Serve with Quick Pancakes.

Quick Pancakes — Put 2 cups milk, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons salad (not olive) oil in a mixing bowl; add 2 cups pancake mix; whisk or stir until fairly smooth. Bake on a hot lightly greased griddle. Makes 14 to 16 pancakes using 1/4 cup batter for each.

MRS. BILL CALDWELL

Trailer Living Easier With Paper Products

By RHODA LEMONS

"From January through May, or about 12 times a year, we just hang our clothes in the trailer closet and take off on a fishing trip," says vivacious Mrs. Bill Caldwell, who resides with her husband at 2701 Carol. Their trailer "home away from home" is a complete unit with bathroom facilities, and sleeps four comfortably. Fully equipped, the Caldwells just buy an extra supply of paper plates, towels and other necessities that can be discarded. Although the camping trailer has a modern kitchen unit, they prefer to do their cooking outdoors unless the weather is unbearable. On one of their recent trips, they drove through snow to get to their campsite, but had Indian summer weather during the days, with cold nights.

A favorite camping and fishing place for the Caldwells is at Lowry's camp on Devil's River near Del Rio. This site appeals to Caldwell because it is so inaccessible, offering no telephones or doorbells.

On their outings, Caldwell does most of the actual cooking, while Mrs. Caldwell serves as assistant. "He is a much better cook than I am, and he makes the strongest black coffee in existence," Mrs. Caldwell emphatically says. Accompanying her husband for the first time on a deer hunting trip in November, Mrs. Caldwell has decided that she "loves" the sport and will go again with him in the coming year.

Caldwell is owner and operator of Caldwell Electric Company, and he and Mrs. Caldwell are the parents of three children. They have one married son, Jim, a daughter, Linda, 19, and Billy, 13. Linda is a mid-term graduate of Big Spring Senior High School and is attending Howard County Junior College, where she plans to major in business administration. Billy is a seventh grader at Goliad Junior High School.

Using a rod and reel with minnows as bait, the Caldwells fish for crappie, but Caldwell does hip-boots and wades out in the river when seeking bass. They usually set a trotline for catfish.

Another prime interest of the Caldwells is square dancing. They are members of the Big Spring Squares and the Huff 'N' Puffers dance club. Sometimes they dance as much as four times a week. They dance the first, third and fourth Saturday nights locally and attend area get-togethers within a radius of 100 miles.

They love to play cards, and have friends over frequently for games of rook and trey-pitch. They entertain informally and want "everyone to just feel at home."

Mrs. Caldwell shops "within a certain amount." She says that she buys what her family likes and wants, but does not especially watch for budget buys. She does not utilize her food freezer to any extent, and says that her husband does not care for leftovers at all. He doesn't even care for desserts that were baked the day before.

The home appliance that Mrs. Caldwell feels she couldn't be without is her electric mixer. She uses it daily, and in many unusual ways, such as mixing salmon patties or meat loaf.

Linda does not especially care for cooking, but does assist her mother on occasions, and prepares what she is particularly hungry for at the moment. For her graduation gift, the Caldwells gave Linda a handsome bedroom suite of Spanish design. Mrs. Caldwell and her daughter are now in the process of securing orchid draperies and a bedspread. PANTRY PICK-UPS

Add slivers of syrup - preserved ginger to applesauce and serve with roast duck, goose, turkey or chicken. If only candied ginger is at hand, wash the pieces of ginger in hot water to remove the sugar coating and to soften before slivering.

For a festive dinner during the holidays, have a whole leg of fresh pork boned and rolled for roasting in the oven or in a rotisserie.

Unsweetened pineapple juice and ginger ale make good additions to cider. Use equal quantities of ginger ale and cider and half as much of the pineapple juice.

Crumble crisply cooked bacon extremely fine and use the bacon crumbs as a topping for salad greens tossed with blue-cheese dressing. This is a combination men like!

Bacon - wrapped chicken-liver halves, water chestnuts or pimiento - stuffed olives may be placed on the flat rack of a very shallow roasting pan and then baked in a hot oven for about 20 minutes or until hot through and the bacon is crisp.

A Devotional For The Day

Let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith. (Hebrews 10:22)

PRAYER: Lord, since Thou hast set no barrier between Thee and us, help us, Thy children, to set no barrier of self-will, pride or indifference between ourselves and others. In the Savior's name we offer our prayer. Amen.
(From the 'Upper Room')

Protecting Historical Heritage

The Texas House has passed the Senate a bill which it is hoped the Legislature will finally pass and appropriate funds to implement. It would authorize the Parks and Wildlife Department to acquire and maintain historic buildings and archaeological sites of statewide or national significance, at a cost of about $650,000 a year.

Such a direct state effort is needed to help prevent the further, and accelerating deterioration of the state's historical heritage and archaeological treasures. Historic buildings are continuing to fall before the march of progress, and prehistoric Indian campsites, burial grounds, flint quarries, and artifact caches are too often ruined by amateur collectors and souvenir hunters before they can be studied by professionals, much less preserved for the interest and edification of future generations.

Many of the invaluable links with the near and distant past have been preserved by the state and federal parks programs, by private owners who respect their public-interest worth, by philanthropists and private groups dedicated to that purpose. But a state program of acquisition and maintenance is needed to save those buildings and sites worth preserving for which the money can be raised in no other way.

Future generations of Texans will blame us bitterly if we let these historic and prehistoric values vanish through neglect and indifference. And as an immediate practical consideration, the state cost of preserving such buildings and sites will be returned to the state many times over in the tourist trade they will help promote through future years. Conservation in this field, as in most others, is not only an important contribution to the quality of our civilization but also a sound economic investment.

Bridle For Land Sale Schemes

President Johnson's proposed package of a dozen consumer-protection bills is a veritable Pandora's box of lobby-frightening bogies. It contains enough touchy issues to keep several sessions of Congress in controversy, and probably will.

One proposal may be singled out, however, as a public protection clearly needed and long overdue. That is to put a damper on fraudulent, if now legal, mail-order selling in interstate commerce of unimproved subdivided lots of grossly misrepresented value. The victims usually are elderly people, who often sink life's savings into a retirement dream that turns into a nightmare.

To say that the purchasers should have sense enough not to buy any land sight-unseen would be to hark back to the old "let the buyer beware" concept of free enterprise that died with the Twenties. The reasons for land-sale regulations are as good as those for regulation of stock offerings, which we have had beneficially, both federal and state, for a generation.

The Johnson proposal would require land promoters operating by mail in interstate commerce to describe their offerings in precise detail for potential customers, with statement copies filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. How well that would work would depend on SEC vigor in investigation and enforcement. But it seems likely that the reporting requirement would in itself serve at least as a deterrent to the kind of outrageous schemes now prevalent.

Art Buchwald Spying Isn't What It Used To Be

WASHINGTON — Many students have been interviewed concerning how they felt to discover they were part of a CIA-financed operation, but nobody has bothered to interview anyone from the CIA to ask how he felt to be part of a student organization.

I had the good fortune to speak to a CIA man on a park bench in Lafayette Square. I knew he was a CIA man the minute I saw him because he was counting out $100,000 in cash to give to several students who were picketing the White House to stop the bombing in Vietnam.

ONE OF THE BILLS blew away, and when I retrieved it for the agent he told me to keep it and invited me to sit down.

"It's very discouraging," he said. "Here I thought I had joined a professional outfit, and it turns out that all I'm doing is giving money to students and labor union leaders."

"But that's a big responsibility," I said. "Not everyone can be a James Bond."

"THAT'S ALL RIGHT for you to say," he replied, feeding a squirrel a $100 bill. "But when I joined the CIA, I thought it was just a few of us fighting the evil forces of communism throughout the world. Now it turns out every Tom, Dick, Harry and even Gloria is working for the CIA."

JUST THEN a man came up and said, "I need $75,000 to send a Vasser student tour up the Amazon." The CIA agent counted out $75,000.

Billy Graham

I hear that you addressed a bunch of modernists recently. Since these people are not of your theological persuasion, isn't this a compromise? Many people are disturbed that you would do this.

T.E.H. Christ said, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel." I read nowhere in the New Testament that we are to preach only to those who are "of our theological persuasion." If I followed this policy, I could never preach in India where the majority of people are Hindus.

Our Lord's mingling with "publicans and sinners" shows clearly that compromise is not associating with those who do not hold to your beliefs, but compromise in changing your message to conform to, and win over the goodwill of others. If you will take the time and trouble to read my sermons, wherever I have preached, you will admit that my message is unchanged. And it is unchanged because I do not proclaim my own opinions or notions, but the Gospel of Jesus Christ. When I begin to preach any other Gospel, then you may accuse me of compromising. But I pray that my lips may be silenced by death before I depart from the faith, lower my flag, and play into the hands of the popularizers.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Faster than anyone believed — or wanted to believe — Communist China is achieving a ballistic missile capability. The latest, and most disturbing, evidence comes in reports by Defense Secretary McNamara that China may test its first intercontinental ballistic missile this year.

McNamara also confirmed recent reports that the Soviet Union is developing a primitive anti-missile defense system which could cost them as much as $25-billion.

All this does not necessarily mean that the United States must plunge headlong into the anti-missile missile race. But it doesn't mean we shouldn't, either.

Above all, world leaders must intensify efforts to secure an end to the costly arms race. It should be obvious that if the research and development funds currently being plowed under in anti-missile and missile research were devoted to, say, agriculture, the peoples of the world would be far better off.

Those Chinese missiles emphasize the necessity for the world to come to an agreement to stop the spend-thrift international arms race.

'BUT I'M ALREADY A GOOD SOLDIER'

James Marlow

Bizarre Twists In JFK Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Talk without evidence is all so far from the efforts of New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison to prove a plot in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

But there are some bizarre twists.

The Warren Commission concluded Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in the killing in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963. There have been doubts about this ever since. Up until now Garrison has simply added to them.

He says he has no reason to believe Oswald killed anybody in Dallas that day. Last Saturday, giving no details, he promised five arrests and convictions, though the arrests were "most certainly months away."

Then Wednesday, after David Ferrie, a plane pilot of about 45, had been found dead in his bed in New Orleans, Garrison said he had planned to arrest Ferrie next week.

"APPARENTLY we waited too long," Garrison said, although he called Ferrie "one of history's most important individuals." Ferrie's death was one of the bizarre twists. The other, in Florida, was the start of an investigation into the 2-year-old death of another man.

Garrison referred to Ferrie's death as an "apparent suicide." Coroner Nicholas Chetta said Ferrie died of a ruptured blood vessel in the brain but added that further tests were being made.

A NOTE, found in Ferrie's dining room, said: "To leave this life is, for me, a sweet prospect. I find nothing in it that is desirable and on the other hand everything that is loathsome."

But — and this is written after consultation here in Washington with a physician who is an internist — it would have seemed impossible for Ferrie to write the note at all and then walk back to his bedroom after the blood vessel burst.

Yet, if Ferrie wrote the note, intending it as a farewell, how could he have possibly known that as soon as he got back to bed the blood vessel in his brain would burst? Blood vessels are not that obliging.

FERRIE, no stranger to the Kennedy case, was questioned in 1963 shortly after the President's death by both the FBI and Garrison's office and was questioned again in Garrison's office last November.

Each time he was released. He said the FBI first became interested in him when a New Orleans man reported he had served with Oswald in a Civil Air Patrol unit under Ferrie. Oswald lived in New Orleans in the summer of 1963. Ferrie had lived there 15 years.

He repeatedly denied he ever knew Oswald and complained that Garrison had him "pegged as the get-away pilot in an elaborate plot to kill Kennedy." He called this a "big joke."

Unless Garrison has a lot more that he hasn't revealed, none of this so far shows any conspiracy.

Kin Of Chief Scout Joins Action

By EDDY GILMORE RIPLEY, England (AP) — Lord Baden-Powell — whose grandfather founded the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides — has become a scoutmaster.

His illustrious grandparent, the first Lord Baden-Powell, was born in London exactly 110 years ago today.

"I NEVER REALLY became a Boy Scout," said the 30-year-old present Lord Baden-Powell in an interview at his new home in the heart of this Surrey village. "I was a Wolf Cub (a beginning rank in Cub Scouts) and enrolled as a Boy Scout, then I left them almost before I was one."

"I suppose I'd just had too much of it around me all my life," he explained.

"IT HAPPENED to all my cousins too. None of them have become scouts."

What made him finally decide to join the movement?

"Just after we got married in 1963 my wife said 'I think I'll take up guiding.'"

The Girl Guides in Britain correspond to the Girl Scouts in the United States.

"I finally said: 'Well, perhaps it'll be all right. I'll go down there with a troop, but if I don't like the scouts I'll be away like a shot.'

"I WENT DOWN to the troop in Roehampton, south London, and the scoutmaster and I sort of clicked. We got on well, so now I'm running the senior scouts there." That was nearly two years ago.

"I'll go on with scouting, most definitely," he said. "I realize now what I didn't realize before — what scouting offers."

Does he remember Lt. Gen. Robert Stephenson Smyth Baden-Powell, first baronet and first baron, the scouts founder?

"OH YES," he answered. "I was taken to see him when I was four. He was living in Kenya. He was a fascinating storyteller."

The first Lord Baden-Powell founded the Boy Scouts in 1908 and the Girl Guides in 1910. He became the chief scout of the world in 1920.

The world's chief scout, who died on Jan. 8, 1941 at the age of 83, is buried in Kenya.

Around The Rim

An Important Benefit

There is an air of enthusiasm among those involved with Corporation Court of the planned "juvenile jury system." City Attorney Tom Huckaby, City Judge William H. Eysen, City Manager Larry Crow, and Police Chief Jay Banks all have good things to say about the project.

PROBABLY few of the benefits are more important than Huckaby's comment: "educating our teenagers and familiarizing them with our court system, the system of trial by jury, and the role of Corporation Court in the judicial system."

Sad to say, the only first-hand experience most teenagers get of city court is paying a traffic ticket, a negative aspect of the judicial system. And even in this connection, they most often pay off their tickets at the court clerk's desk. Mr. S. Frankie Marstrand, rather than go through the court process.

SCHOOL classes that cover this aspect of civic life are more often dull, filled with fairly dry, legal terminology and a subject to be hurried through and forgotten as quickly as possible. It is a rare student, I suspect, that gets a taste of the real stuff in a government class.

After all, it's a difficult course to thread with excitement.

GOING INTO the courtroom should add a bit of glamor to the judicial system. Studying and making decisions on real cases should make the material more subjective, more interesting, and in turn, educational.

If the system does no more than meet the hopes of Huckaby in this area, then it shall be well worth the time and efforts of those concerned.

LOOKING at it another way, short of writing them a ticket, it's the best way to get them in court for a few lessons.

New Generation Of Republicans

WASHINGTON — Congressman William Steiger of Oshkosh, Wis., is a fair-cheeked, wavy-haired blond, one of the three newcomers to the House of Representatives who are 28 years old — born yesterday, as we think of it here.

Steiger is a few months older than Congressman William Green (D) of Philadelphia, and a few months younger than Congressman Donald Riegle (R) of Flint, Mich., and there are two points to make from these vital statistics.

OF THE three new representatives of the same age, two are Republicans (which is a switch from the Democratic youth movement of the Kennedy Era), and the only one of the three with prior legislative experience is Republican Steiger. Astonishingly, Steiger came to Washington after six years of service in the Wisconsin legislature.

FURTHER TO the point, of the 800-odd Young Republicans who are in town for their leadership training school, 90 per cent are attending these courses for the first time. The GOP has changed its nature with such rapidity that neither the general American public, much less the popular cartoonists of the nation, have caught up. It's a misnomer now to speak of the Grand Old Party as being one of senile clubmen cursing Roosevelt and drooling at girls through the clubhouse windows, or to depict the party as a crutch-borne elephant in the likeness of Sen. Dirksen, or in the hyperbolized obsolescence of former Sen. Goldwater.

THESE YOUNG congressmen, state legislators and rank-and-filers are the generation of draft-dodgers, beatniks and female exhibitionists in miniskirts, but conspicuously without those faults and quirks. Their conservatism does not go to out-datedness or suspended motion. It goes to present concern for a country at war, to intellectual grappling with contemporary problems and to spiritual awareness that the death of God has been grossly exaggerated.

THESE WERE the impressions of a journalist who is long in the tooth, who had got them from two meetings that preceded the ingathering of Young Republicans at the leadership school, and who dreaded to have his illusions shattered. If the disillusionment was going to happen, it had to be when 36-year-old Buz Lukens, for the past several years a Goldwater gunslinger but now a freshman Ohio Congressman, addressed the YR federation of which he was once national chairman. If anybody had a right to crow, and a roost to do it from, it was Buz.

BUT HIS message was that Republicans should not be anti-government, anti-labor or even anti-Communist. They should be "for freedom" wherever it was endangered. The competitive system in America, he said, would always produce winners and losers, with no disgrace attached to either, but the system should never produce quitters. He saw the anti-poverty war as a research project of matching the man with the job — opportunity. He dismissed the internecine strife among Republicans as nothing to compare with the power struggle of Democrats between the Johnson and Kennedy factions.

YOUTH MUST have its fling, and this the Young Republicans certainly had from 1962 to the Goldwater nomination and defeat in '64. They were rambunctious and not without reason. The party had come near to ossifying under President Eisenhower and to dehydrating under the burning sun of the Kennedy ascendancy. It was a time for life-loving Republicans to rip and snort.

But the YR's reputation for smashing up the furniture is no longer deserved. These aren't barn-burners, these are home-builders for the GOP.

Our Need For Intelligence

WASHINGTON — Many people throughout the United States are reading derogatory criticism or seeing cynical cartoons about the methods of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. Few persons, however, know what the gathering of "intelligence" really means to the future of the nation itself.

To take an example, if an enemy country possesses nuclear weapons that could result in the sudden destruction of 130 million Americans, wouldn't it be worthwhile to get the facts and bring them to the attention of the military authorities in our own country so that counter-measures could be taken to prepare a defense system which would act as a deterrent against the carrying out of any such lethal plan?

TODAY AMERICA is in grave danger of potential attack by the Russians. Within the last year, the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff learned through intelligence channels that the Soviets had started to build antimissile defenses around Moscow, Leningrad and other key population centers at the rate of half-a-dozen each year.

IT WAS NOT until after news articles were published last autumn telling the story of the antimissile system which the Soviets are building that the defense department itself confirmed the information. Congress now is confronted with the problem of spending 30 billion dollars, spread over the next few years, to build a defense system that could cut the total casualties in the United States in the event of war by at least 70 million lives.

IT HAS JUST been published that 1952 was the year when the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency began to subsidize some student organizations affiliated with the National Student Association. This correspondent recalls a conversation in London that same year with a British intelligence officer of high rank, who had been asked by the writer for an evaluation of intelligence systems of different countries in the world. The intelligence officer said:

"Your own intelligence work in the United States is in its infancy. It is going to take you 10 to 20 years to find out how to do the job effectively. It sometimes takes many years merely to establish lines of communication to certain parts of the world, and you Americans are just beginning. It will cost a good deal of money. But the job has to be done — and in secret."

IT IS, of course, as important to keep secret the mistakes sometimes made in intelligence work as it is to refrain from boasting about successes. Intelligence is a continuously secret operation. Yet a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee is already proposing an open investigation of the CIA. This would indeed be a boon to the Soviets.

WHAT POSSIBLE benefit, it will be asked, can come from lining up American student organizations? What do such groups know about war operations or preparations? They may know very little, but they can find out a great deal if they become intimate with the students of enemy countries who assemble in meetings in various parts of the world. Sometimes there are students of Communist countries who want to defect. Their parents may be engaged in military service. Students may gather scraps of information which, when pieced together with data obtained in some other way, begin to make a case for efforts in pursuit of further intelligence.

GATHERING intelligence is as important as fighting at the battlefield. In its simplest form, the issue is whether the United States should keep up-to-date in collecting vital information to defend itself or take chances while an irresponsible enemy builds up its power to blackmail the other nations of the world.

Remote Control

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Ray Morrison finally discovered who was using his new color TV set when the family was out.

Four evenings in a row the set, equipped with an electronic device that turned it off and on by remote control, was going full blast when the Morrissions came home.

The next night Morrison was in the living room with the TV off when the telephone rang. The set immediately came to life. Research showed that, at certain times, the ringing of the phone triggered the control gadget.

Nine Killed When Train Rams Wagon

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A freight train hurtled into a station wagon at a crossing Wednesday and killed nine members of a family.

With the train horn blowing and signals working at the South Sacramento area crossing, a Southern Pacific train going 60 m.p.h. rammed broadside into the vehicle, scattering bodies and debris as far as 200 feet.

Killed instantly were all nine occupants of the station wagon. They were retired Air Force Sgt. Herbert Hill, 42, of nearby Broderick; his wife, Annie Laurie, 38, and children Deborah, 3; Michael, 4; Timothy, 6; Edward, 7; Caroline, 8; Herbert Jr., and Douglas, both 10.

Train engineer Calvin C. Searley, 56, of Tracy, said he did not see the station wagon before the crash.

The five other members of the Hill family, all daughters, were elsewhere.

Hanoi Hannah Noticed Death's Calling Cards

By The Associated Press

Death had 53 faces for the Viet Cong on a calling card left by a Texan at War.

The cards, emblazoned with a white on black winged skull and the inscription "Death from Above," even drew the notice of Hanoi Hannah during Army Capt. R. W. Gallagher's one-year tour in Vietnam.

"It wasn't an original idea," said Gallagher, "but it worked with the Viet Cong." The cards, with the death message printed on the back of an ordinary deck of playing cards, were put on the body of any Communist killed by Gallagher or his airborne company of soldiers.

VC AFRAID "We'd burn a house or go through a village," Gallagher, 26, said, "and strew the cards all around. The VC are really afraid of them."

A captured prisoner also got his "Death from Above" card to wear back to interrogation. "That way they knew who captured him," Gallagher said. The symbol had good effect on the morale of his command, Charlie Company of the 1st Cavalry Division's 1st Brigade.

"The men loved it," the Corpus Christi native said. "It set them apart . . . it was something like a gang symbol."

The VC, "as superstitious as most Asians," were particularly afraid of the spade, Gallagher said.

$300 REWARD The cards were noted on broadcasts of Hanoi Hannah, the Viet Cong's sultry-voiced answer to Tokyo Rose. She related that a $300 reward was out for any American captured carrying the death-faced calling card.

The VC, he said, were more susceptible to psychological warfare playing on their superstitions than were the more sophisticated North Vietnamese.

regular Army troops.

"The Viet Cong were really afraid of the head when it came on an ace of spades, that's death in any language," Gallagher said. He characterized the North Vietnamese regulars as better fighters than the farmer-fighter VC, "most of whom are illiterate."

Gallagher, who spent four years as an enlisted man before going to Officer Candidate School, figures he will be back in Vietnam within a year.

"I saved some of the cards," he said during a rest leave at his parents' home. "I figure I may need them again."

Water District Sells More, But Revenue Dips

The January operating report of the Colorado River Municipal Water District reflects an ironical situation—111,000,000 gallons more water delivered but $2,000 less revenue than for January a year ago.

Actually, this is due in a large measure to a time lag which catches up at the end of the year. January revenues are based upon water delivered in the preceding December. Water billed in January, 1966 was based on the (December) 1965 fixed charge of $81,840 per month, whereas that billed this January was at the (December) 1966 fixed charge of $79,400 per month. Although there was a net gain of 43,000,000 gallons of water sales to the cities, the lower fixed charge of last year cut the revenue by $1,000. This January the receipts from cities stood at $108,479.

Another factor in lower revenue from oil companies in the face of increased water draw is that SACROC, one of the larger consumers, pays one-fifth of its estimated annual charge each month, adjusting at the end of the year. However, the January figures showed that SACROC's demands were up $4,000,000. Total receipts from oil companies amounted to $95,544 as compared with $96,250 for the same month last year.

Receipts from the Perkins-Prothro pipeline were the same at $1,918, and those from recreational facilities were $18,993 as compared with $19,703 for last January. Total revenues stood at $225,045 for the month as against $227,586 in January, 1965.

Expenses amounted to $89,178 in January as against $90,315 a year ago and this was due in part to costs of higher pumpage, plus heavy administrative expense which happened to fall due in January, whereas last year it was spread over several months.

Forsan Will Elect Three

FORSAN—Forsan will elect three new city aldermen April 1, but no candidates have filed for the seats on the city council.

Mayor C. J. Lamb, with whom candidates should file, said the deadline for filing is March 1 and he is becoming alarmed over the lack of interest.

The three incumbent aldermen whose terms are expiring are Joe B. Hoard, John B. Anderson and L. M. McElreath. None has filed for reelection and Lamb said he did not know if the men planned to run again or not.

The holdover members are G. L. Mononey and Lee Whetzel. Lamb's term as mayor does not expire this year nor that of the city marshal, S. C. Cowley. Lamb urged any prospective candidates to file without fail before March 1.

Services Set For Mrs. McMillan

Services were to be held at 3:30 p.m. today in the First Methodist Church at Clifton for Mrs. P. M. McMillan, mother of Mrs. S. M. (Sam) Anderson. Mrs. McMillan died unexpectedly early Wednesday morning of heart failure at Clifton. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson flew there immediately on learning of her death.

Dr. Joe Weldon Bailey, pastor of the Columbus Avenue Baptist Church in Waco, was to officiate at the services, and burial was to be in the family plot in the Fairview community cemetery.

Besides Mrs. Anderson, only other survivors are a son, Lawrence McMillan, Waco; and one granddaughter, Mrs. Tom (Lynn) Brewer, Little Rock, Ark.

'Leased' Gal Plans To Show Love Letters

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The attorney for attractive Beate Leber, says his client's relationship with a wealthy Arizona rancher was more than "man and mistress" and he has 100 letters to prove it.

The letters are the central point of a trial involving a $2.5-million breach of promise suit by Mrs. Leber against William Brown, 65, heir to a Pittsburgh, Pa., coal fortune.

Mrs. Leber said that Brown jilted her after promising to marry her after she obtained a Mexican divorce from her husband in Heidelberg, Germany.

NUDE PHOTOS Brown, a sport car racing enthusiast, part-time rancher and yachtsman whose hobbies include photographing nude women, claims he only leased the dark-haired German woman.

Brown's attorney, Norman Hull, said the agreement was for Brown to pay Leber $40,000 for leasing his wife for one year.

Raymond F. Hayes, attorney for Mrs. Leber, said he would introduce the letters in U.S. District Court today, the second day of the trial.

MARRY PROMISE? "They will say that he promised to marry her," said Hayes. Brown, called to testify Tuesday as an adverse witness by Hayes, recounted how he met the Lebers as they were strolling nude on a beach at a German nudist resort.

"We were all nude," he testified. Brown said he asked to take nude photographs of Mrs. Leber and the posing was done in the couple's Heidelberg apartment a few months after their 1963 meeting.

Following the visit to the Heidelberg apartment, Brown testified that he and the Lebers traveled to Switzerland, the Bahamas, New York and his Sababe, Ariz., ranch.
