

WHO IS HE? Black Bag Mystery

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — A mysterious student has been attending a class at Oregon State University for the past two months enveloped in a black bag. Only his bare feet show.

Each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 11 a.m., the Black Bag sits on a small table near the back of the classroom. The class is Speech 113—basic persuasion.

The Black Bag seldom speaks or moves. But a newsman who attended the class says his presence becomes overwhelming.

Prof Knows Identity

Charles Goetzinger, professor of the class, knows the identity of the person inside. None of the 20 students in the class do.

Goetzinger said the students' attitude changed from hostility toward the Black Bag to curiosity and finally to friendship.

"We must find a rationale for everything. Life is pretty well structured from birth to death. We always have a frame of reference for events," Goetzinger said.

Dark Bag Defense

"Then in walks a black bag with a human inside. It nowhere in our frame of reference has there been such a thing. So we resent. But we're stuck, so we find reasons for it all. And once we find reasons, then we defend our reasoning. So now, we defend the Black Bag."

Early in the term, students are required to give three-minute talks. The Black Bag, when his turn came, stood in front of the class for four minutes without speaking.

But in his second talk, he mumbled a little and answered a few questions about himself. Most of his answers, however, were, "I'm not at liberty to say."

The term ends March 13. Will the Black Bag disclose his identity?

'I'm Not A Negro'

He says he doesn't know. "I might just walk out in my black bag, go somewhere and hide it and just be a human being again. I don't know."

He arrives and leaves in a car driven by a friend and apparently lives on or near the campus. He says there is no physical reason for wearing the bag, and he does not wear it to his other classes.

"No, I'm not malformed. No, I'm not a Negro, although discrimination enters into it. I am sure the Negro must be stared at and resented just like I am in the bag," he says.

"The student came to me before the term started and said he wanted to come to class in a black bag. I'm enough of a nut to try anything once, so I went for it."

Dope Raids Staged

LONDON (AP) — Narcotics squads swooped down on hundreds of teenagers at clubs and house parties in five British cities over the weekend. Scores of detectives — some aided by dogs trained to sniff out marijuana — arrested more than 30 young men and girls on charges of possessing drugs.

Teen Addiction Up

Huge quantities of reefer and pep pills were seized in the raids. Official sources said the crackdown was ordered by Home Secretary Roy Jenkins, who has expressed alarm at a considerable increase in a teenage drug addiction.

In the past six years the number of known addicts in Britain has risen from less than 500 to more than 1,200, and the latter figure is considered a conservative estimate.

The raids were made in London, Exeter in the west, Winchester in the south, Manchester in the north and Folkestone on the Channel coast.

Sniffer Dogs Used

Police spokesmen said information gathered during the raids could lead to many more arrests. The sniffer dogs were used in London. One picked up the scent of marijuana at a cafe on the Stepney waterfront, and two men were charged with possession of the drug.

Johnson Says New Strikes Far Reaching

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today the latest American strikes at North Vietnam are more far reaching but still are designed to promote peace.

The President said he believes he is on the best course and he sees no reasonable alternatives.

The news conference with the President in his oval White House office centered once again on the Vietnamese war — and in particular on the mining of rivers in North Vietnam, naval bombardments north of the demilitarized zone and the use of heavy artillery to reach targets in the north beyond the zone.

BEST ACTIONS

"We have taken the actions we think are best," the President told the reporters, "to protect the national interests of the country and freedom and humanity in the world."

Johnson was asked whether the latest actions represented a military step up. He didn't buy that term. But he said that certainly these actions are more far reaching than those in the last few weeks.

JUDGEMENT

Johnson said civilian and military leaders were consulted and the latest actions "represent the reasonable judgment of our civilian and military men that this is desirable and essential in the situation there — the buildup and infiltration."

At one point he said it is impossible to predict accurately the extent to which infiltration from North Vietnam has been halted. But he said strikes against the north may be tying up as many as 500,000 persons who otherwise would be "down there with some of your cousins and brothers doing other things."

Johnson said there is reason to believe the North Vietnamese would like to see the bombing stopped and this is proved by their own statements.

ROAD FUNDS RELEASED

On other matters: —The economy. The administration is following day-to-day conditions very closely, Johnson said, and has released $175 million in frozen highway funds, and authorized a go-ahead on a $600 million soldier's housing program and $250 million in help to private housing.

Four Die In Wreck

AUSTIN (AP) — At least four persons died today in the crash of a small sedan and a heavily loaded truck on a bridge in Manor, about seven miles northeast of Austin.

Witnesses said two bodies were removed from the compact car, which contained several pieces of luggage. The crash tore the small car in half.

Two bodies were in the cab of the truck which careened into an embankment after the crash and burst into flames.

Another report said an injured person was brought to an Austin hospital.

Texas Lawmakers Take Up Code Of Ethics Bill

Sales Tax Bill Facing Debate

AUSTIN (AP) — The House took up today a far-reaching code of ethics bill for legislators and state employees.

Kerrville Rep. Jim Nugent's bill requires disclosure of legislators' and regulatory agency employees' business interests and forbids them to introduce bills benefiting their businesses.

The House passed to the Senate on voice vote a bill designating the governor as chief planning officer of Texas, establishing a division of planning coordinating within his office and authorizing him to appoint interagency planning counties in several government areas.

NICKEL'S WORTH

"It behooves us to have our own planning and coordination to make sure we get the most from every nickel we get from them," Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria, sponsor of the bill said, referring to growing federal aid programs.

Speaker Ben Barnes told a news conference Nugent's bill is "one of the toughest ethics bills the House has considered."

Barnes said Segun Rep. John Traeger's local option city sales tax bill will be debated Tuesday. Barnes said about 12 amendments, all unacceptable to Traeger and "designed to weaken or defeat the city sales tax" have been prepared.

CLOSE VOTE

Some amendments would exempt certain counties, including Harris, Bexar and Tarrant, from the bill, Barnes said. Others would make it apply to some articles not covered by the state sales tax or exempt certain items now included in the tax.

"I expect it to be a very close vote, from the various polls House members have taken on the floor. The proponents have a few more votes than the opponents," he said.

The 299 Senate bills and 651 House bills introduced so far will be joined today by a measure that many expect to be the most controversial of the session — proposed legalization of liquor-by-the-drink. The measure will be sponsored by Reps. Dick McKissack and John Fields, both of Dallas, and Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso, the governor said Friday in telling details of the bill.

One expected hot committee session this week has been postponed for at least a week. A hearing was set for Tuesday on the $99.2 million omnibus tax bill recommended by the governor but later the hearing was postponed until March 7. The bill would place liquor and beer sales under the 2 per cent sales tax, raise the corporate franchise tax from $2.25 to $3, increase the natural gas production tax from 7 to 8 per cent, and raise the gasoline tax from 5 to 6 cents a gallon.

Other committee highlights include a hearing tonight on setting up a Texas Water Quality Board to control pollution, hearings Tuesday on creation of county traffic courts and denial of bail to persons charged with felonies committed when already out on bail, and on Wednesday hearings on dues checkoffs for city employees, revision of traffic safety laws and exempting Texas from the federal daylight savings time act.

Stockholders Get Chance To Block MoPac Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court gave minority stockholders today the opportunity to block the Missouri Pacific Railroad's planned consolidation with the Texas & Pacific.

The court held, 8-0, that a majority of holders of both classes of MoPac stock must consent to the consolidation. The decision, announced by Justice Tom Clark, said a Missouri law must be applied to the consolidation. This reversed a ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court in St. Louis.

ICC CONCERN

Clark said the court was not passing on the merits of the merger itself. This, he said, is the concern of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Clark noted that MoPac's articles of association require a vote by both classes on consolidation and Missouri law therefore demands such a vote.

However, the circuit court said in this instance, for the sake of a national transportation policy, the majority of all voting shares should be applied.

COURT MISTAKE

Here, Clark said, the circuit court erred in construing the federal Interstate Commerce Act.

Justice Abe Fortas took no part in the case.

The consolidation to form a new Texas & Missouri Pacific Railroad Co., with 9,079 miles of track in 11 states, has been approved by the directors of MoPac and of the Texas & Pacific Railway, a MoPac subsidiary.

The question before the court was how were MoPac stockholders to have their say about the planned merger—whether the minority holders of the highly more valuable of two types of MoPac stock were to have a chance to block it.

NOT AT ISSUE

Terms of the consolidation were not, themselves, at issue.

There are two kinds of MoPac stock: Class A, which, in effect, is preferred stock, has an equity permanently limited to $100 a share and of which there are 1,849,576 shares; Class B, with an equity worth $6,500 a share and of which there are 29,731 shares.

Under the consolidation plan, each share of MoPac stock, Class A or Class B, would be worth four shares of the new company's stock. And in the voting to determine if the consolidation were to have the stockholders' permission, each share of stock, regardless of type, would be entitled to one vote.

TWO-THIRDS VOTE

Thus 98 per cent of the voting power would be in the hands of Class A stockholders. Approval of the consolidation would require a two-thirds vote of all shareholders.

Six individual Class B stockholders and Alleghany Corp., a holding company which owns 51 per cent of the Class B stock, sued in U.S. District Court in St. Louis in an attempt to upset the voting plan.

They won a ruling that under the Interstate Commerce Act and Missouri law separate affirmative votes of both classes of stock were required.

'PRIMARY STANDARD'

Last April, the U.S. Circuit Court in St. Louis reversed the district court. Under the federal law, it said, majority vote is the "primary standard" for rail mergers. And, the circuit court said it had not been convinced that Missouri law and MoPac's articles of incorporation called for class voting.

The suing Class B stockholders described the voting plan as an attempt by the Mississippi River Fuel Corp., a holding company which owns about 38 per cent of the Class A stock, "to seize for itself the legal rights and property . . . belonging to the minority (Class B) stockholders of the railroad."

Lawyers for the Alleghany Corp. claimed the circuit court ruling disfranchised Class B stockholders "despite the explicit protection given them in the MoPac charter and under applicable Missouri law to vote as a separate class."

'CLEARLY CORRECT'

Lawyers for the Missouri Pacific called the circuit court ruling "clearly correct." They asked the Supreme Court to reject the appeal, leaving to the Interstate Commerce Commission a determination of "the issue of the fairness of the proposed consolidation."

Court Nixes Hoffa's Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court turned down today twin moves by Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa to stay out of jail but his lawyers were back in court within minutes with a new effort.

Counsel for the Teamsters' boss asked Justice Potter Stewart to hold up the judgment. Stewart has supervisory jurisdiction over lower federal courts in the Tennessee area where Hoffa was convicted of jury tampering.

They said they will "promptly" file a motion for a new trial in the Chattanooga court, based on the eavesdropping claims which were a major basis for the appeal to the high court.

In another move to keep Hoffa out of jail at least temporarily, they also asked Stewart to hold up the judgment pending lower court rulings on other legal challenges to Hoffa's 1964 conviction.

GOLDWATER BLOCKBUSTER

CIA Worked To Finance Socialism In America?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Sen. Barry Goldwater says the Central Intelligence Agency worked "to finance socialism in America."

And Michael Wood, the former National Student Association official who blew the whistle on NSA's ties with the CIA, says the spy agency once threatened to discredit an NSA official by forging psychiatric records.

These are the latest charges against the CIA growing out of the two-week-old clamor over its financing of private organizations.

Goldwater said Sunday he saw nothing wrong with the CIA operations except that, he said, all the money went to "left wing organizations."

"Why didn't they spread this money around," he asked. "In other words, what they have been doing with it, as far as I can see, is to finance socialism in America."

LEFT-OF-CENTER

He said "a little money could have gone to the Young Republicans, the Young Americans for Freedom, to some conservative groups."

He spoke on CBS's "Face The Nation."

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., agreed separately that most of the money went to left-of-center groups. "It is just as bad to subsidize left-of-center groups as it is to subsidize right-of-center groups," he said.

Wood, former NSA director of development in charge of fund raising, refused for "obvious personal reasons" to say how he learned of the threat to forge psychiatric records.

Wood said the CIA wanted to keep the threatened official from divulging anything about the spy agency.

PRESSURES

"There were immense pressures exerted on me but by no one whom I wasn't already conversant with, with respect to the CIA," he added.

"There were pressures placed on other people in attempts to try to get lawyers to drop cases, attempts to get lawyers to feed CIA lines to their clients, threats to forge psychiatric records," he said.

Wood, two senators, a former CIA official and four other present or former NSA officials appeared Sunday on one of the other two panels discussing the CIA's financial support of NSA.

SPY FUSS

Except for Wood's charge, both panels mostly discussed — and disagreed — on the role of a spy agency in a democracy and whether the CIA influenced NSA.

Wood talked with Eugene Groves, NSA president, and Richard Stearns, NSA vice president for international affairs.

They were on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

The other panel comprised Sens. Clark and Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., Robert Amory Jr., former CIA deputy director for intelligence; Sam Brown, NSA board chairman, and Dennis Shaul, former NSA president,

Maoists Beat Four Dead Horses Again

TOKYO (AP)—Supporters of Chinese Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung have renewed their attacks on four early targets of Mao's purge, possibly indicating a narrowing of the so-called cultural revolution because of setbacks.

Japanese correspondents in Peking reported ousted Peking Mayor Peng Chen, former Vice Premier Lu Ting-yi, former chief of staff Lu Jui-ching, and former party official Yang Shang-kun had been officially termed counterrevolutionaries. All four had been accused in earlier wall bulletins of preparing a coup d'etat against Mao a year ago.

STRONG CHARGE

The Peking correspondent of the newspaper Nimon Keizai said the counterrevolutionary label was contained in a notice posted Sunday by the party central committee. Such a charge—one of the strongest in the Communist armory of epithets—could indicate a trial is being prepared.

Isolation of the four as purge targets came amid more signs that Mao is trying to put a lid on Red Guard zealots and tone down the civil strife. But other reports indicated Mao's opponents are as active as ever, though some of the reports came from Communist foes of Mao who are anxious to see him defeated.

Moscow Radio said in a Japanese-language broadcast that anti-Mao armed forces had taken over the industrial city of Loyang in Honan Province and that a number of Maoists had been arrested. It added that clashes between pro- and anti-Mao groups were continuing in several provinces.

BRIDGE BLASTED

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug reported from Peking that wall posters carried an order by Premier Chou En-lai for army units to be sent to Honan to restore order.

Chinese travelers arriving in Hong Kong reported that saboteurs severely damaged a railway bridge Saturday night about 55 miles east of South China's major city of Canton, holding up their train six hours for repairs. Passengers were prevented from viewing the damage.

Reports from Canton earlier this month said that opponents of Mao were stockpiling explosives and planning to blow up railway tracks and bridges in the Canton area.

Quest Continues For Speck Jurors

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Richard Speck's trial on charges of murdering eight student nurses started its second week today with the number of tentatively accepted jurors reduced from three to two.

Judge Herbert C. Paschen announced at the outset of the session that one tentatively chosen juror has been excused for cause. He is Donald Scott, an insurance agent.

That left only two who had been tentatively accepted, a truck driver and a housewife.

They were selected Thursday. Scott was chosen Friday.

Judge Paschen, prosecutor William Martin and defense attorney Gerald Getty spent the weekend recess in their Chicago-area homes. Judge Paschen prepared his reply to a suit filed in the Illinois Supreme Court by the Chicago Tribune charging that his limitations on news coverage violated freedom of press.

Speck, 25, was in his basement cell at the Peoria County Courthouse.

U. S. Planes Mine Rivers

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy planes started sowing mines in rivers of North Vietnam today in a third new increase of military pressure on the Hanoi regime.

U.S. military headquarters said the step, like the other two announced over the weekend was aimed at cutting the flow from the North of men and supplies to South Vietnam. The headquarters announced earlier that long-range artillery in South Vietnam was shelling North Vietnam across the demilitarized zone and that warships of the U.S. 7th Fleet were bombarding military targets from off the North Vietnamese coast.

11 YANKS KILLED

In South Vietnam, the Viet Cong shelled the big American airbase at Da Nang and an adjoining Vietnamese village with mortars and rockets early Monday.

Efforts To Find Relatives Of Victim Futile

No relatives of the man, whose lifeless body was found partially submerged in a shallow pond last week, have been located. The body is being held at the River-Weich Funeral Home.

The man was identified by the Department of Public Safety as Bert Ford Day, 41, Monroe, La.

He was said to have relatives there, but efforts of the city police department here to find the victim's kin and advise them of his death apparently have been futile.

Forsan School Race Has Filing

H. Rutherford, county board trustee, has filed for reelection from Precinct No. 1, not from No. 3 as reported.

Shivers To Head Highway Anniversary Celebration

AUSTIN — The 50th anniversary of the Texas Highway Department will be observed in an "appropriate and dignified manner" under the direction of a citizens' committee headed by former Governor Allan Shivers.

This announcement came today from the Department on behalf of the Texas Highway Commission. Chairman Herbert C. Petry Jr., of Carrizo Springs and members Hal Woodward of Coleman and Jack H. Kuitgen of Waco sent a letter to Shivers outlining their thoughts about a proper celebration of the 1917 creation of the Department. They said Shivers has accepted the assignment.

The celebration, in the view of the Highway Commissioners, should be a tribute "to our illustrious predecessors (on the commission), to the administrators and staff members whose unflagging and loyal efforts have earned international recognition, and — certainly not last on the list — governors and legislators of the past and present who have sponsored and passed excellent laws and made revenue available to build the nation's No. 1 state highway system."

Gov. John Connally, representatives of the legislative branch, and highway commissioners of other years should be made honorary members of the observance committee, the commissioners said.

In launching the program, the commissioners made it clear that details will be left to the lay arrangements committee. They told former Gov. Shivers he was the "logical person" to serve as chairman, "both because of your statewide and nationwide prestige and your great record of support and friendship for the Texas Highway Department."

"As state senator and lieutenant governor you were instrumental in passing much of our modern highway legislation. As governor you sponsored a construction program that doubled our highway mileage. And in recent years you have remained actively interested in the highway program."

Shivers was in the Senate from 1935 to 1947 and then lieutenant governor until he succeeded to the governorship upon the death of Beauford H. Jester July 11, 1949. He served as governor from January 15, 1957. During his 22-year public career the State Highway System grew from 12,338 paved miles to 32,849. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Texas Good Roads Association.

day, killing 11 Americans and 35 Vietnamese civilians. Another 70 Vietnamese and 32 Americans were reported wounded and an ensuing fire burned 150 wood and tin Vietnamese shacks in the village of Ap Do, on the edge of the airbase.

Reports from Da Nang said 11 American planes were damaged. U.S. headquarters in Saigon said the damage to aircraft was light and the airbase was closed for several hours but reopened at daybreak.

U.S. headquarters in Saigon said only 12 to 14 rounds were fired, but U.S. officers at the scene said 18 rounds landed on the airbase and about 56 more hit the neighboring village.

'Slant Hole' Hearing Nixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to consider an appeal challenging the constitutionality of a Texas law that permits penalties up to $1,000 a day for operating a "slant hole" oil well. Such a well angles across the leaseholder's boundary.

The court made no comment in announcing it would not hold a hearing on the Texas law.

In the case appealed, the fines actually assessed were $304,800 but the petition said it was only one of about 100 in which the states is seeking fines or penalties totaling almost $500 million. "This case... will determine whether 'due process' and the 'equal protection of the laws' and a truly unconstitutional act of the Texas Legislature shall be the rule of law hereafter applied in the State of Texas to the almost 100 cases that remain to be determined," the petition said.

It contended the statute itself violates the U.S. Constitution's provision that "excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, or cruel or unusual punishment inflicted." Further, it contended that due process and equal protection were denied in the method followed in assessment of fines. The state takes the view, and was supported in this by the state Supreme Court, that a well is in operation on any day it is in operable condition even if no oil is produced on that day.

In Texas, actual production from wells is restricted by the Railroad Commission. Under the regulation system, a well may produce its entire monthly "allowable" in a few days.

Parnell Gets DFC For Combat Valor

Chief Warrant Officer James I. Parnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Parnell, 3202 Cornell, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for actions he performed March 30, 1966, in Vietnam as the pilot of an armed helicopter.

Parnell's aircraft was supporting the extraction of an infantry platoon which had discovered a large enemy force in concealed and covered positions.

Parnell made several accurate and effective firing passes, scoring numerous confirmed kills and completely destroying at least one machine gun position.

Later, he observed a loaded lift-aircraft crash and burn on takeoff. With his aircraft ammunition expended, he circled the downed helicopter at tree top level and low airspeed, ordering his door gunners to fire into the enemy positions. His aircraft succeeded in drawing the enemy fire, allowing a survivor to escape the crash site and reach a concealed position.

After rearming, he returned to the battle area to find that another lift helicopter had been downed, with the crew endangered by a large enemy force. In the face of enemy fire, his aircraft made continuous low level firing runs. Parnell remained in the area providing cover until a friendly force was able to reach the scene of the crash.

A copy of the citation sent to his parents stated "his professional ability and devotion to duty were directly responsible for the successful rescue of the downed crew."

Parnell has finished his tour of Vietnam and will be stationed near Munich, Germany, with his wife, Geraldine, and two daughters.

He Can't Believe He's A Movie Star

These are two of the disguises which actor Alan Arkin wears while portraying a master criminal in the Hollywood version of the stage hit, "Wait Until Dark." Arkin, who says he finds it hard to believe he's now a movie star after just one film, is up for an Academy Award as best actor. The nomination came for his performance in his first movie, "The Russians Are Coming, The Russians Are Coming." (AP Wirephoto)

Judges 'Itching' To Censor Press

NEW YORK (AP) — "There are a lot of judges just itching" to impose rules on how much news the police can give the press in criminal cases, says U.S. Judge Harold R. Medina. "When the day comes when we have judicial censorship of the press, we think that will be a very sorry day for the American people," he said Sunday. Medina, of the U.S. Court of Appeals, is chairman of a special committee of the New York Bar Association which published a report last week on freedom of the press and fair trial. Medina, speaking during and after an appearance on the WCBS "Newsmakers" program, said the press and public should be admitted to all trials but that newsmen "ought to be more cooperative" and use "good judgment." CODE OF ETHICS The report called for a strengthened code of ethics covering the activities of attorneys and also proposed voluntary codes for police and news media. The American Society of Newspaper Editors criticized some aspects of the report, asserting the proposed restraints would limit the media's freedom. Medina said it was imperative that the judiciary exercise proper control over its attorneys. He criticized lawyers who, he said, try their cases in the newspapers and "perform on the steps of courthouses and at press conferences." 'CELEBRITIES' Attorneys, said the jurist, should "do their work in the courthouse, in the courtroom. They're not Madison Avenue fellows." Concerning his belief that newsmen should be more cooperative, Medina cited the publishing of the names and the interviewing of jurors in a trial. "The first thing you know, the jurors become celebrities and that interferes with the trial," Medina said. Asked if newsmen should be excluded from the courtroom at the request of a defendant, Medina replied, "I disagree with that."

Senate Space Committee To Probe Apollo Tragedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate space committee opens the first public inquiry into the Apollo spacecraft tragedy today in the wake of a space agency report that risks of fire had been misjudged. The testimony from top space officials comes exactly one month after the fire that killed three astronauts. "We thought it better to have the testimony in open session," Chairman Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., said. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which has been handling the principal investigation of the disaster at Cape Kennedy, has so far issued three reports on its progress. But today's hearing marks the first time the agency's officials have made themselves available to an outside body to answer questions raised by the fire. RISKS MISJUDGED In a report released Saturday, NASA said that "continued alertness to the possibility of fire had become dulled by previous ground experience and six years of successful manned missions." The risks of uncontrollable fire had been misjudged, the agency said. The report called for a number of corrective measures. NASA chief James E. Webb, Deputy Director Robert C. Seamans Jr. and George E. Mueller, head of the manned space office, are expected to testify today. 'MOST LIKELY SOURCE' NASA said in the report it is possible the investigators will be unable to pinpoint the exact cause of the fire, but that electrical malfunction is regarded as the "most likely source." Other causes such as chemical reactions and spontaneous combustion are still being considered, the space agency said. The review board conducting the inquiry is expected to conclude its work by the end of March. Disassembly of the space capsule and minute examination of the parts is still going on. CAREFUL EXAM "The risk of fire that could not be controlled or from which escape could not be made was considerably greater than was recognized when the procedures for the conduct of the test were established," Webb said in a statement released with the report. "The bursting of the capsule," he said, "happened in such a way that the flames, as they rushed toward the rupture and exhausted through it, traveled over and around the astronauts' couches. Under these conditions, and with just a few seconds of time available, the astronauts could not reach the hatch and open it." "This fire indicates that a number of items related to the design and performance of the environmental control unit will require the most careful examination and may require redesign."

Cycle Gang Racks Bar

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP) — More than 100 members of a motorcycle gang called the Outlaws tore up a Tiffin bar Saturday night, causing $2,000 damages as revenge for an insult, according to Police Chief H. J. Fraley. Wearing black leather jackets, hats and armbands with Nazi swastikas and carrying chains, the gang rode into town in cars and headed for the pub bar on East Market Street. Fraley said the gang members came from Lima, Columbus, Bucyrus, Port Clinton, Chicago, Michigan and other points. Fraley said a Tiffin resident had words with the leader of the pack at the bar a week ago. "When a man in the bar told the leader he didn't like his looks, that sparked the whole thing," the police chief said. There was no fighting and no one was injured as gang members smashed windows, tables, chairs and bottles in the tavern before 40 policemen, Seneca County sheriff's deputies and Ohio highway patrolmen quelled the disturbance. They escorted the gang out of town. There were no arrests, Fraley said, because no one in the bar could single out any of the troublemakers.

Knew Nothing, Says Defendant

EL PASO (AP) — The fate of Leopoldo Morales was expected to be put in the hands of a district court all-male jury today. Before the trial was recessed Saturday, the 27-year-old Morales testified he had no knowledge of the events of Sept. 4 when four persons were slain in the apartment house where he lived. He is being tried in the death of Pamela Artz, 18, and is under indictment for murder in the deaths of Mrs. Artz's husband, Michael Artz, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mearse, both in their 70s. He is also charged in two counts of arson. Morales testified he spent several hours drinking, fell asleep and knew nothing until he was revived by firemen outside the burning apartment in which the four persons died.

Bridge Test

—CHARLES H. GOREN

BY CHARLES H. GOREN (© 1967 By The Chicago Tribune) ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AQ5 ♥K32 ♠AKJ1093 ♠8
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 5 ♠ Pass
? What do you bid now?
A.—There is no doubt that you should accept the slam invitation, but, as a precautionary measure, it is suggested that you contract for six clubs to protect the king of hearts from attack on the opening lead, should it develop that North has two small hearts.
Q. 2—Both sides vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠J105 ♥AQ842 ♠A83 ♠K2
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1 ♠ Dbic. 1NT Pass
What do you bid now?
A.—A pass is clearly indicated. To contract for eight tricks, with a passing partner, would be highly indiscreet. East has shown length in spades and clubs, making it probable that he is short in hearts, which may be banded in the West hand.
Q. 3—As dealer you hold:
♠K74 ♥KJ82 ♠AQ6 ♠AK4
What is your opening bid?
A.—This hand is too big for a one no trump bid and should be opened with one of a suit. The orthodox bid is one heart. However, a good result will sometimes be obtained by opening with one club. This makes it somewhat easier for partner to respond if he happens to have some border-line hand containing diamonds.
Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠Q4 ♥Q106 ♠KJ104 ♠QJ85
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
2 ♥ Pass 2 ♥ Pass
3NT Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Partner has shown a hand with distributed values and about the equivalent in high cards of an opening three no trump bid. You, therefore, have sufficient values to justify contracting for slam in no trump.

Andretti Captures Richest Stock Race

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Stocky, Italian-born Mario Andretti gave himself a $43,000 present Sunday — two days before his 27th birthday — with a lead-footed victory in the Daytona 500, richest stock car race ever.

"It was a lovely day," said Andretti, who drove a trouble-free Ford factory Ford the distance at an average speed of 146.925 miles per hour despite 54 laps of running in fixed position under the caution flag.

Andretti, of Nazareth, Pa., drove a brutal race, running out front of the starting field of 50 for 112 of the 200 laps and beating out Ford teammate Freddy Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., by one half minute.

Hawks Could Win Crown

The Howard County Junior College Jayhawks (20-12) have only to defeat South Plains College in Levelland this evening to win the Western Conference basketball crown.

But that tiny word "only" is full of problems when the two teams meet at 7:30 p.m. First, the game is on the South Plains boards; second, it is no secret that South Plains had rather beat HCJC than any other team; and third, the Hawks will be under pressure to capture the title.

Recently, when it looked as if the Hawks were hopelessly out of the running, HCJC hopped on a june bug and touched off a homestretch drive that was climaxed by a victory over Odessa, which appeared to have it all wrapped up, and then one here Friday over the double-tough Amarillo team. Meanwhile, Odessa obliged by dropping one unexpectedly to Lubbock Christian College. In conference play HCJC is 11-2, Odessa 11-3.

The Hawks are anxious to go out of the district in a blaze of glory with a victory instead of having to share the crown with Odessa. This would totally justify the selection of the Hawks as a regional tournament team when play gets under way Thursday in Amarillo.

Weaver Rallies, Wins In Panama

PANAMA CITY, Panama (AP) — Bert Weaver, set back by illness last year, readied himself for the U.S. golf tour with an eagle on the 12th hole Sunday that carried him to the Panama Open title with a 14-under-par 274.

The pro from Broadwater Beach, Miss., whose last tournament victory was the Jacksonville Open in 1965, fired a 71 on the final round for a three-stroke victory over Art Wall Jr., of Jonesdale, Pa.

Alcindor Leads UCLA To Win

By The Associated Press
Waving a tournament bid in front of Lew Alcindor is like waving a red flag in front of a bull. He charges.

Louisville, Western Kentucky and Syracuse reacted the same way — until they ran down their bids. Now, with no flags waving, they fell flat on their faces.

The apparent letdown probably cost the three clubs some of their national ranking as Louisville was upset by Wichita 84-78, Western Kentucky was gored by Murray 75-69 and Syracuse dropped before Canisius 68-64, all on the road Saturday night.

Alcindor tossed in 61 points as top-ranked UCLA humbled Washington State 100-78 at home and clinched the Pacific-8 title for an automatic bid to the NCAA tournament.

"I guess I bore down a little more because it was for the conference championship," said the 7-foot-1 sophomore.

ONLY 56 POINTS
Alcindor, hitting jumpers, hooks, tip-ins and one-handed dunks, connected on 26 field goals in 35 attempts and nine of 18 free throws top the 56 points he scored in his varsity debut.

In contrast, second-ranked Louisville, 23-3, with the Missouri Valley Conference locked up for an NCAA bid, stumbled on Wichita's pressing defense as the Shockers' seven suspended players returned to action.

Mel Reed scored 24 points as Wichita led all the way despite 24 points and 17 rebounds by Westley Unsel of the Cardinals.

Third-ranked Western Kentucky, 21-2, the Ohio Valley Conference champs, was snorting along with a 21-game winning streak before Murray's Herb McPherson's 24 points stopped them.

Syracuse, No. 8 with a 19-4 record and an NIT bid tucked away, was halted by Johnny Morrison's three-point play with 24 seconds left that put Canisius ahead 65-64.

Other teams still chasing conference titles and tournament bids did not let down.

Princeton, No. 6, all but clinched the Ivy League title by stopping Cornell 81-66 at home, breaking a first-place tie with the Big Red. The Tigers, 22-2, need only a victory at home against Pennsylvania Wednesday to win the title.

Kansas, No. 4, closed in on the Big Eight Conference crown with a 90-55 romp over Missouri at Lawrence that left the Jayhawks 1 1/2 games ahead of second-place Nebraska, their opponent Saturday at Lincoln. Jo Jo White paced Kansas with 20 points.

Ninth-ranked Tennessee remained one game ahead of Vanderbilt in the Southeastern Conference with three contests left after the Vols' top-ranked defense stopped Auburn 54-45 and Ron Widby scored 19 points.

NO LET DOWN
Houston, No. 7, and Texas Western, No. 10, with NCAA tournament bids already gathered, did not let down as the Cougars charged by Creighton 87-73 and the Miners took apart West Texas 97-67.

Fifth-ranked North Carolina, which must win the Atlantic Coast postseason tournament to earn an NCAA bid, dropped Virginia Tech 110-78.

The Big Ten race turned into a five-team fight after Iowa upset leading Indiana 75-74 on Gerry Jones' lay-up with 12 seconds remaining in overtime. Indiana is 7-3 with Iowa, Michigan State, Northwestern and Wisconsin tied at 6-4.

NIT-bound Providence stopped Holy Cross 88-75 as Jimmy Walker scored 47 points in his struggle with Alcindor and Mal Graham of New York U. for the nation's major college scoring lead.

St. John's, headed for the NCAA tournament, halted Miami of Florida 97-70 on Sonny Dove's 28 points, and Tulsa kept alive its NIT hopes with a 60-59 victory over St. Louis.

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Eight of the Houston Astros working out in Cocoa today are from the Atlanta Braves organization, and their acquisition here is mostly the doing of John Mullen, a Braves man from the Boston days.

Mullen, who formerly directed the Braves' farm operation, joined the Astros last summer as manager Grady Hatton's right-hand man.

Since, in trades and drafts Mullen has helped secure for Houston slugger Eddie Mathews, one-time $80,000 bonus boy Arnold Umback and, just this week, Sandy Alomar, who came along to make Houston's utility infielder situation a bit more interesting. All are Braves products.

House Leaders Boast Votes To Seat, Discipline Powell

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders from both parties believe they have enough votes for adoption of a resolution that Adam Clayton Powell be seated and severely disciplined — but vocal dissenters promise a fight.

An Associated Press check of key leaders shows most have little doubt the House will follow a select committee's recommendations to seat and publicly censure the Harlem Negro, dock his pay $40,000 at the rate of $1,000 a month and strip his 22 years of seniority.

The unprecedented resolution comes up Wednesday.

Two lawyers met with Powell on his Caribbean island retreat at Elmini over the weekend. But they had no immediate report on what Powell would do.

Negroes — probably would go along with the resolution even though some considered it unnecessary.

But others who think Powell should not be seated promised strong opposition.

Rep. Sam M. Gibbons, D-Fla., predicted defeat of the measure. "It's going to take about 218 to seat him, and I don't think there are that many people behind it," Gibbons said in a telephone interview.

HARD TO STOMACH
Gibbons, a member of the Education and Labor Committee, began a move last September to take away Powell's powers as chairman of the committee. The Democrats last month replaced Powell as chairman.

Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., said in a separate interview he has found widespread opposition to the Powell resolution.

Van Deerlin, who began the move to unseat Powell, said many congressmen "just think that with all the committee findings — close to criminal conduct — to make the No. 1 recommendation that he be seated is a lot more than a lot of men want to stomach."

Rice Stadium Builder Dies

HOUSTON (AP) — C. J. Rollo, 59, the engineer who directed the construction of Rice University stadium in a record nine months, died Sunday of a heart attack.

Rollo was a senior vice president of Brown & Root, Inc., one of the world's largest construction firms. He was in charge of chemical, petroleum and power plant construction in this country and in charge of engineering and construction in Canada for the firm.

He was born in Page, Okla., and attended Wentworth Military Academy, the University of Michigan and was graduated from Texas Tech in 1930.

He was manager of many large projects including Rice Stadium in 1950, the Phillips Chemical plant at Dumas, the General Tire and Rubber plant at Waco, the Diamond Alkali plant in Houston, the Shell Oil Co. plant in Odessa, the Stanoil Oil Co. plant at Levelland and the $78 million navy yard addition at Corpus Christi.

Survivors include his widow; two sons, James of Baton Rouge, La., and Joe, a student at Texas Tech, and a brother, Dr. K. B. Rollo of San Antonio.

Services were held today.

SMU Senior Picked

DALLAS (AP) — Stephen M. Curry, a senior at Southern Methodist University, was picked to take part in an undergraduate honors program at Argonne National Laboratory. The Dallas resident is a physics major.

Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., said he will introduce a bill to prohibit members of Congress from employing relatives on their office staffs or on committees on which they serve.

Survivors include the widow; two daughters, Mrs. Herman Hesse, San Angelo, and Mrs. Robert Jackson of Corpus Christi; one sister, Mrs. B. D. D. Green, San Antonio, and three grandchildren.

San Angelo Realtor Dies

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Sam Seelyne Dowdy, 42, San Angelo realtor, retired groceryman and a former city official, died Sunday after a long illness.

Dowdy was the father-in-law of Robert M. Jackson, editor of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times.

Funeral services were scheduled Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in the Robert Massie Chapel. Burial was to follow in a San Angelo cemetery.

Dowdy, born in Austin, moved from Brownwood to San Angelo as a child. He and his wife, the former Rena Mason of Brownwood, moved back to Brownwood in the early 1900s where he went to work with Western Produce & Provision Co.

Dowdy served three terms as a San Angelo city commissioner. He had earlier served as city alderman.

Survivors include the widow; two daughters, Mrs. Herman Hesse, San Angelo, and Mrs. Robert Jackson of Corpus Christi; one sister, Mrs. B. D. D. Green, San Antonio, and three grandchildren.

Students To Get Inside Tax Look

AUSTIN (AP) — Selected graduate business students at the University of Texas will get an inside look at taxes under a newly established program.

Three students will have half-time jobs at the regional Internal Revenue Service Center here while they work toward master's and doctor's degrees in business.

Jobs will last as long as two years and the students will be their experience and the data they collect for theses, dissertations and professional reports.

WOULD RUN AGAIN

The resolution would give Powell until March 13 to be sworn in as the lowest ranking member of the House.

Powell, who had scheduled a weekend press conference and then canceled it, did tell newsmen on his return from a fishing trip Saturday that if he were not seated, he would run again and win.

"Even if I'm dead, as long as they keep me propped up, I will be elected," he said.

DEFEAT PREDICTED

In Congress, there were indications that members sympathetic to Powell — including

Dear Abby

No Parental Snooping

DEAR ABBY: More power to mothers who snoop. Every authority on child rearing advises us to know where our children are, what they are doing, and with whom they associate.

Just how are we expected to know these things if we don't snoop? I have strained my ears to hear conversations thru walls ever since my children were old enough to have their friends over to play. I have read their letters, their diaries, and listened in on their telephone conversations. Not so much to learn about MY children, but to find out what kind of companions they have. The results have been rewarding.

I have been able to weed out undesirable friends and discourage bad influences. I have been able to guide my children and advise them when they ask for advice (and they all have!) because I know ALL about their problems.

They are not aware that I have snooped on them all their lives. And they never will be. (You have to be pretty stupid not to be able to outsmart a child.) The more parents know about their children, the better parents they can be. And if this can be accomplished by snooping—I say snooping!

A MOTHER WHO CARES
DEAR MOTHER: A "police state" as you espouse it, is no more conducive to the development of character and maturity in a family than in a nation, and I am opposed to it—on any level.

Reasonable parental surveillance of their youngsters is necessary. Wholesale invasions of privacy, eavesdropping, and telephone bugging are over-protective nonsense.

DEAR ABBY: I am a high school senior and have been dating a nice, clean, respectable girl for almost a year. I look her to the winter prom and look her to the prom as the I didn't care.

I heard several wisecracks and dirty remarks from my friends, and I regretted the whole evening.

Should I have told her to change her dress and changed her getting mad at me? Or did I do right? EMBARRASSED?
DEAR ABBY: Your mistake was in COMPLAINING her. You should have told her in a nice way to please change her dress. Being the "nice, clean, respectable" girl she is, she'd have understood and appreciated it.

If she got "mad," you'd have been lucky. With summer coming on, no telling what she might have worn to the next dance.

DEAR ABBY: Recently I had the nightmarish experience of nearly being attacked by a man. It happened late at night on a deserted side street. My loud screams for help drove him away.

After he fled I ran to the nearest pay phone to call the police, but I had only dollar bills, a nickel, and a few pennies in my purse. Luckily, a police car came along and my problem was solved. I wonder how many other people couldn't call the police because they didn't have the right change for a pay phone?

Abby, please, this is a plea to the telephone company to make it possible for a person to at least be able to reach the operator in case of emergency.

Until this is done, I am going to baste a dime in every bra I own. And I hope other women do the same. Sign me LUCKY

Texas Death Toll Smaller Than Usual

By The Associated Press

Sixteen persons died violently in Texas during the weekend. The toll, smaller than usual, included nine traffic deaths. It was recorded between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

These were among the victims:

Curtis Saxon, 28, a Negro, was found fatally stabbed early Sunday outside a Dallas residence. His car was parked nearby.

Joe Morales, 25, was stabbed to death Friday night in a bar in Houston.

Mrs. Dorothy Cisneros, 38, was fatally injured Saturday when her car struck a traffic signal pole in Houston.

Bernie Bailey, about 65, was found dead early Saturday in the bedroom of a fire-ravaged Houston garage apartment.

SCOOTER FLIPS

Two men from the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station were killed Saturday morning when the motor scooter they were riding hit a curbstone and flipped over in the coastal city.

They were PO Robert Morgan, 21, of Trenton, N.J., and Airman Apprentice Robert E. Phillips, 20, of Midwest City, Okla.

Horace Ray Cox, 43, of Amarillo, was killed Saturday night in a three-vehicle accident five miles west of Dumas on US 87. Eight other persons escaped injury in the smash-up.

FATAL JUMP

Pat B. Busby, 57, and his wife Ruby, 32, were killed and a third person was injured Friday night in a two-car wreck five miles west of Hereford on US 60.

Donald William Luhr, 19, a sophomore architecture student at Texas A&M University, was killed Saturday near College Station when his parachute did not completely open during a practice jump as part of a parachute club exercise. Luhr was from Dallas.

R. L. Bullock, 27, was killed Saturday and six others were hurt in a traffic accident west of Conroe. He was from Farmersville.

BURNS TO DEATH

Mrs. Mary Ella Wright, 81, was burned to death Saturday after a small space heater at her Fort Worth home set her clothing on fire.

Boston Campbell, about 70, was killed Saturday when fire destroyed his small two-room house in Mineola.

Edgar Vickers, 67, of Taft, Tex., was killed and a deputy sheriff, Joe Zapata, was injured when their cars collided Friday night on US 81 in Sinton.

L. J. Andrews was hit and killed by a car that did not stop Friday west of Sudan on US 84.

Flames swept a two-story frame home Friday, trapping and fatally burning a near-invalid, Mrs. Rachael Robinson, 84.

Sex Strangler Seeking Psychiatric Treatment

WALPOLE, Mass. (AP)—Self-proclaimed Boston strangler Albert DeSalvo originally hoped that by escaping from a mental hospital he would be shot to death, but is now content to remain in state prison if he receives proper psychiatric care, his attorney says.

DeSalvo hopes that the massive 32-hour manhunt for him has forced state officials to recognize that he needs the care and is the man who killed 13 women in the Boston area during an 18-month period, F. Lee Bailey said Sunday night.

The attorney said DeSalvo told him during a meeting at the prison that after escaping from Bridgewater State Hospital Friday morning he did "not intend to hurt anyone, especially women."

'CHANGED HIS MIND'

"He told me his purpose was to run around until somebody shot him, but he changed his mind in response to appeals from our office that were broadcast over the radio," Bailey said at a news conference.

Bailey said a $10,000 reward that his office offered for any one who captured DeSalvo alive "apparently frustrated his purpose — it was worth too much money to hold your fire."

The former handyman surrendered meekly to two employees of a uniform store in the Boston suburb of Lynn Saturday afternoon. Bailey said he doubts that anyone can show that DeSalvo, 35, was "captured."

MASSIVE MANHUNT

Asked whether the massive manhunt state officials marshaled for DeSalvo gave implicit recognition to his claim to be the strangler, Bailey said, "The conclusion is mandatory."

When he was committed Saturday to the maximum security state prison he sought desperately to avoid, DeSalvo said he had been told that inmates there would try to kill him.

Bailey said, however, that DeSalvo no longer appears concerned about such a possibility.

"I think that if he is in danger, our clients and contacts in the prison will inform me — they're pretty dependable," Bailey said.

BEATS DUNGEON

"Now that he is at Walpole, he sees why I told him he ought to prefer it."

"He finds that his quarters are 10 times better than the dungeon he had at Bridgewater and is content to wait and see what they'll do for him."

DeSalvo was being held in a hospital cell at the prison under 24-hour guard and apart from other prisoners, although corrections department officials said he might be integrated into the prison population as early as today.

DeSalvo was sentenced Jan. 18 to 10 years plus life in state prison after a jury convicted him of assaulting and robbing four women in their homes, but

Christmas Gets Time In Pokey

John S. Christmas, charged with writing a worthless check, entered a plea of guilty in Howard County Court today, Judge Lee Porter, on recommendation of Wayne Burns, district attorney, appearing in the absence of Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, sentenced Christmas to 90 days in jail, a fine of $1 and costs. Burns pointed out the man has been in jail 15 days, so he was given credit for the time already served.

School Holiday Set March 10

That "no school today" business won't apply until March 10. That's the day that Big Spring schools, and all others in this area, will be closed to allow faculty members to attend the annual District IV meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association.

When the school calendar was drawn up for the year, the TSTA date had not been fixed, and it was estimated for March 3. Since then the date was firm for Friday, March 10, so that means there will be school this Friday.

To Open Bids

ROBERT LEE — To meet present needs and those anticipated in the wake of the CRMWD dam project near here, Robert Lee will open bids this afternoon on a sewer project expected to cost $330,000 and a water project due to cost $102,000. Bids must be approved by the Robert Lee council, then by the Federal Housing Authority and the Federal Water Pollution Control Department before a contract award can be made.

Why Does Mao Want To Break?

One of the most intriguing questions that Western experts on the Soviet Union and China are mulling over is this: Why does China seem to be so intent on breaking relations with Russia?
 Latest reports indicate that there are almost daily demonstrations outside the Soviet embassy in Peking. Some Soviet diplomatic representatives have been manhandled. The children and wives of Russian representatives have been sent home, almost under emergency conditions. Normal diplomatic intercourse with the Chinese government apparently has been broken off sharply.
 Speculation as to Chinese intentions—and it is surely only speculation—centers on these possibilities: The Chinese may want to break off relations in order to clear-cut competition between two Communist systems can begin. That Mao Tse-tung can brand Chinese friends of Russia as "traitors" after a break, thereby strengthening his hand. That China wants a break so it can press its claims to territory now held by Russia, including most of Siberia and all of Central Asia.
 But the Russians refuse to be provoked. The men they have left in charge of their diplomatic relations are described as "sturdy men" who, if necessary, are prepared to sacrifice their lives.

 During his recent visit to Britain, Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin emphasized repeatedly that Russia would "never" unilaterally break off diplomatic relations with China. He conceded that the two fraternal nations had had their differences, but that the Russians would not be the first to rupture the bonds of friendship and ideology.
 Russia has its own reasons for this attitude. Many friends of Russia are Chinese, some of them in the higher echelons of the party and the military. There is always the hope that the two great Communist states can patch up their differences, hence the Russians will present the best face possible toward the unruly Chinese.
 But there seems to be no question any more that the two giants of communism have come to the historically inevitable parting of the ways. This will require a profound readjustment of the military and diplomatic ties that governed the post-World War II era. The future is fraught with danger and with opportunity. Russia, in accordance with Charles de Gaulle's prediction, is about to rejoin the European family of nations.

Air Pollution Broader Than States

Many states may still refuse to believe it—Texas is one—but air pollution abatement at the state and local level cannot succeed. This conviction underlies President Johnson's Air Quality Act which he sent to Congress recently, one that would put the federal government in charge of controlling the pollution of our air.
 The Department of Health, Education and Welfare would be the operating agency under the act. The secretary of HEW would be authorized to name the chief industrial offenders — perhaps electricity generating companies, petrochemical and paper manufacturers and metallurgical processors, to begin with. The HEW and offending companies would consult and agree on the maximum amount of pollutants they would be permitted to discharge into the air. Federal standards would prevail, unless local standards were stricter.
 Hand in hand with the Air Quality Act would be a much more intensive research to develop methods of controlling many forms of pollution that cannot now be dealt with either effectively or economically. The effect of fuel additives—tetraethyl lead is an example — on health would be researched much more exhaustively.

 Texans have been warned by some of their leaders that the federal government would step in if state and local measures failed to control air pollution. But the response has been minimal for a very good reason: Communities that compete for industry are understandably reluctant to prescribe pollution control measures for plant location.
 Even more important, the good effects of one community may be nullified by the refusal to prescribe control measures in nearby communities. The same objection often applies to states, where control in one state may be ineffective by reason of lack of control in a bordering state.
 Therefore the control of air pollution, certainly one of the pressing health problems of the 20th Century, must be accepted as a federal responsibility. Federal control satisfies the standard set by Abraham Lincoln when he said that the federal government should undertake those tasks that state and local governments cannot perform, or cannot perform as well.

John Cunniff Plenty Of Help On Taxes

NEW YORK (AP) — Your income tax payments are, as you are quite aware, frequently another person's income. Not just Uncle Sam's, but the income also of those in a growing group of businesses related to taxes.
 Said in another way, a thriving industry has developed in this nation based on the willingness of individuals and companies to pay for income tax information and filing assistance.
 SOME OF this money is spent unwisely, for many amateur advisers supply less advice for $5 than the income tax people will give for a 10-cent telephone call to the district office.
 Some is spent needlessly also, quite an irony in view of the intent, to save money.
 There are, for instance, at least 13 tax instruction books new on newsstands and in bookstores, ranging in price from 75 cents to nearly $2.

 But, a 50-cent check or money order to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., 20402, will bring by return mail a similar book, an official one, called "Your Federal Income Tax."
 A CHECK of the commercial books shows some of them to have an amazing likeness to the government publication. In fact, the Internal Revenue Service claims that three of the higher-priced works are photographic copies of theirs.
 The only major changes, the IRS claims, are (1) the covers, (2) perhaps the addition of an introduction or some similar material and (3) the price. The other books range in quality. Some are highly regarded, even by the IRS.
 SOME PEOPLE, however, choose not to instruct themselves but to have others fill out the blanks on their tax forms. Thus the tax practitioner.
 The IRS estimates there are now more than 80,000 professional tax practitioners, men and women whose fulltime job is taxes: interpreting them, questioning them and preparing returns.
 Between five million and 10 million returns are professionally handled, the IRS estimates.
 In addition, income tax assistance is sold professionally by growing chains of tax specialists, at least one of which is a nationwide organization. These companies generally pledge to support the taxpayer if his return is audited.
 AND THEN there are the tax preparers, part-timers generally, who operate in variety stores, gasoline stations, hardware stores or wherever else they can hang a sign for a few weeks before April 15.
 Tax preparers, distinct from practitioners, number, the IRS estimates, between 200,000 and 500,000. The quality of their service varies widely. Some are expert. Others get themselves and clients into trouble.
 The professional tax advisers as a result are often staffed with knowledgeable people. But, the IRS cautions, the final responsibility is with the taxpayer rather than the preparer. Advice can be bought but responsibility cannot be sold.

Billy Graham

My church is always asking me to do things, but I am not talented as many are. Is it necessary for me to do the things they ask in order to be a good Christian?
 You must have some talent, or they wouldn't continue to ask you to do these things. Let me tell you a little story. There lived on the East Side in New York a girl born of very poor parents. She was a weak child and couldn't run and play like normal children. One day her wise mother said, "Althea, see that big rock down by the barn. You go and bring that up to the house so we can use it for a step." The girl tried, but she could only move the stone a half an inch. But she kept trying, and although it took her more than three weeks, she moved that stone to the porch where it became a step. But Althea learned something very important during that painful experience: If we feel weak we can grow stronger by struggle and effort. Last year the Queen of England stepped out on the tennis court at Wimbledon in London, and placed the tennis crown on a girl who had won over the world's best. And that girl's name was Althea Gibson, the same sickly girl who struggled with the rock years before.
 Now, your church has asked you to do something that is difficult for you. But we gain strength and skill by doing, so be faithful and God will give you the strength. People who now have great strength and skill were once weak like you.

James Marlow Subsidies For Spies Not New

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's as old as man.
 The House demanded to know about the secret use of government funds in foreign affairs. The President refused to explain. This wasn't President Lyndon B. Johnson. It was President James K. Polk 121 years ago.
 Now the Central Intelligence Agency is criticized for secret financial help to U.S. groups, such as students, involved with similar groups overseas where this government tries to block Communist influence and takeovers.
 It can be taken for granted that's only part of CIA's operations, that it spends millions in spies, bribes and subsidies. None of this is new.

is to line up the French on the American side, one of the advisors he considered a patriotic American was a well-paid British spy.
 IN THE 1790's, when this country sent envoys to Paris to ward off war with the French, Talleyrand, the French foreign minister, refused to see them but sent in confidential agents who wanted a bribe of $250,000.
 One authority on espionage in the Civil War recently expressed the belief that the Union side alone had about 4,200 spies. In his special war message to Congress in 1917 President Woodrow Wilson said the Germans had already so saturated this country with their spies "they could never be our friends."

BUT SPIES, bribes and informers go way back. The Bible had its share. Judas, for informing on Jesus, got 30 pieces of silver. When Samson gave the Philistines the miseries, they promised Delilah 1,100 pieces of silver for finding out where his strength lay. She discovered it was in his hair and when he went to sleep she brought in a man to cut it off.

Hal Boyle Marriages Cut Suicides

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:
 Every American yearns to own "a place in the country," but most have decided the best place to make hay is in the city. Only six per cent of the U.S. population now dwells on the farm.
 It has been found that earthworms are more susceptible to learning before midnight than after. The same thing is true of college students, but you can't make some of them believe it.
SHOPLIFTERS are most active between Thanksgiving and Christmas. During that period they steal an estimated $26 million worth of merchandise from retail stores.
 Marriage is the best masculine protection against self-murder. Statistics show that married men are only about half as likely as single men to commit suicide and only one-sixth as suicidal as divorced men.
QUOTABLE notables: "The world is only beginning to see that the wealth of a nation consists more than in anything else in the number of superior men that it harbors." — William James.

 Ever wonder how much that skin you love to touch weighs? Well, if you are of average size, your skin weighs six pounds and covers about 3,000 square inches that it harbors." — William James.
 It varies in thickness from 1-50th of an inch over your eyelids to 1-3 of an inch on the soles of your feet.
IN AMERICA, woman's place is on the job. The U.S. work force now includes nearly 29 million women, up 1 1/4 million from a year ago. A girl born today can look forward to spending one-third of her life working outside the home.
 We are "traveling people." Americans now take more than 257 million trips a year and spend two billion nights away from home. One billion of those nights the travelers spend as guests in the homes of friends or relatives.
 Touch football now causes more injuries per player among college students than varsity football.
 Worth remembering: "He who talks without thinking runs more risks than he who thinks without talking."

To Your Good Health Other Things More Important Than Mouthwash

brush nor mouthwash help.
 Diseases of the gums can smell very bad and nothing will help except having the diseases treated (pyorrhea, Vincent's disease, etc.). From the health standpoint, such treatment is important. It makes the difference, eventually, between having teeth and not having them.
 Drainages from infections of sinuses or nose are important sources of bad breath. Mouthwash obviously can't affect them — and once again the odor is a warning that treatment is needed.
 Exudates from diseased tonsils or adenoids, or from some ailment of the intestinal tract, or the lungs (bronchiectasis is a relatively common source of bad breath) fall in the same class.
 Mouthwash may be temporarily refreshing, and I don't intend to pan it. But when somebody's breath bowls you over it's time to tell her to find out what's wrong, not just refer her to the mouthwash commercials.
 Dear Dr. Molner: Can frequent urination and straining to urinate in a 16-year-old boy be a nervous condition? It started after a serious throat infection two years ago. A urologist examined him and found nothing wrong. I've thought of taking him to a neurologist. — MRS. F. J.

 Since the urologist found no bladder problem, this frequency could be due to diabetes insipidus. It would be wise to have him examined by an internist or neurologist.
 (Note that diabetes insipidus is not the common "sugar diabetes" or diabetes mellitus. It is a considerably different disease, but is featured by abnormal intake of water and frequent urination.)
 Dear Dr. Molner: I wish you would again make the point that eating raw beef can be as harmful as raw pork. I have a son who does not think this is possible. — MRS. deB.
 It's a different kind of danger, and probably not as common, but it is there.
 Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes—The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim Postman Doesn't Have A Chance

One thing and another:
 All of us, I'm sure, have been disappointed at one time or another when a letter didn't arrive on time in the mail. How many, however, have felt inclined to take it out on the poor postman?
 Consider the case of that household in South Hadley, Mass. The postmaster called the owner and asked her to tie up a vicious dog which had been making it unpleasant for the passing letter carrier.
 When the postman arrived the following day, he found the mutt tied to the mail box.
 A UNIVERSITY of California physician takes issue with those who preach the perils associated with smog and goes so far as to say a little bit of smog may be a good thing for all of us.
 He sees no real threat to the public's health from air pollution and adds that the public hysteria is being goaded by unwarranted threats of disaster from public health officials. Some of them, no doubt, hope to keep eating at the public trough by pressing such issues.
 AND DR. Robert J. McAllister of

Reno, Nev., suggests that children today probably would enjoy happier childhoods if it weren't for adults messing up things for them.
 "We are robbing children of their childhood," Dr. McAllister told an audience in Iowa recently. "Adults are so intent about their children. We try to cram them in our own plans for them, so that they have no childhood."
THE NEVADA man added that, beside the basic needs of shelter, clothing and food, children need security, love and individuality.
 Another thing that disgusts the good doctor is the fact that society likes to label children with tags like "juvenile delinquents," "slow learners" and "problem children."
 He explains that penchant thusly:
 "It relieves society of its discomfort and understanding of the individual child through labels. If adults are entitled to a full, complete life, then they have an obligation to provide children with one. If we do not fulfill this obligation, we prevent them from having a full life."

David Lawrence The Decision On Powell

WASHINGTON — The House of Representatives, through a special committee, has taken only the first step toward punishing Adam Clayton Powell for misbehavior and misappropriation of public funds. The American people will have to take the next step if they want to preserve the integrity of Congress itself.

THE COMMITTEE, in its report, expressed the view that under the Constitution Powell would have to be seated because he has satisfied the three qualifications enumerated in the Constitution — being above 25 years of age, a citizen for seven years, and an inhabitant of the state in which he was elected. But other provisions of the Constitution, which were not mentioned at all in the report, say specifically that "each house shall be the judge of the . . . qualifications of its own members," and "may punish its members for disorderly behavior and, with the concurrence of two thirds, expel a member."

THE CONCLUSIONS of the special committee charge Powell with "contumacious conduct" toward the courts of his own state and with "contemptuous conduct" in refusing to cooperate in "lawful inquiries authorized by the House." The report cites several instances in which he "wrongfully and willfully appropriated" public funds to his own use and engaged in "improper expenditures of government funds for private purposes." It is formally asserted that Powell's actions have "reflected adversely on the integrity and reputation of the House of Representatives and its members."

BY FORWARDING copies of the hearings, records and report to the Department of Justice "for prompt and appropriate action," the inference is left that the House of Representatives, through its committee, requests court action against Powell. But the main issue is whether Powell shall, in the meantime, be given a seat in the House.

It has frequently been said in the press lately that, if Powell were expelled, the people in his own district would promptly re-elect him. But this means only that, if the House of Representatives stands firmly on its rights, it can exclude Powell again and again. The end result would be to deprive the Harlem district of its representation until it is ready to send to the House of Representatives someone who meets the qualifications prescribed by the House under its constitutional powers.

THE POWELL case has aroused nationwide interest, and many citizens are wondering whether the vote of each member will be recorded or a voice vote accepted when the resolution comes before the House itself. If there is a record vote, the people in each district can hold responsible those members who refuse to expel Powell.

The case against Powell, as portrayed by the special committee and previously by another House committee, has built up a public opinion that now demands from Congress the enforcement of the simple codes of honesty and good behavior.

THE MEMBERS of the special House committee may well have felt that they should take only one step at a time—namely, to give Powell his seat and then administer punishment — on the theory that he would not otherwise come within the jurisdiction of the House. But after once seating Powell, a two-thirds vote is required to expel him. It is being assumed by many observers that, since more than one third of the members come from metropolitan centers where there are large numbers of Negro voters, these members will hesitate to vote against Powell. In effect, this means that Powell would be retaining his seat because of his color and without regard to his qualifications.

IRRESPECTIVE of the outcome of the Powell case itself, Congress has been alerted to the fact that the American people will in the future insist upon simple honesty and proper behavior as the price of a seat in either house of Congress.

Holmes Alexander That's Where Your Money Goes

WASHINGTON — On the same day that the CIA dominated our headlines as the subsidizer of youth movements and labor unions, a small, inside-page yarn in a new paper told how 31 teachers of English were arriving here for a six weeks course in Shakespeare — at expense of the federal government.

The two tales had much in common. Both related to the Cold War. Bogh demonstrated how cavalierly the holders of public trust spend other people's money, and how it is almost as unusual for a man to bite a shark as for federal officials to underwrite private persons and institutions in a way that makes good sense.

NOW, SHAKESPEAREAN culture is a fine thing, and so is anti-communism, but federal subsidy is nearly always a corruption. The 31 schoolteachers of English literature who come here to immerse themselves in "Shakespeare and His Milieu" at the Folger Library and the University of Maryland are among 20,000 of their kind who will get junkets this summer at the cost of $30 million in contracts to universities. These folks will be taking taxpayers' money under a program that the Congress originally intended for the education of young space scientists and engineers. The National Defense Education Act of 1958 was an offshoot of the Sputnik crisis. It had the single, targeted, important purpose of helping the U.S.A. to "catch up" with Russia in Space.

AS ALWAYS HAPPENS, the spenders burrowed under the tent like the camel following its nose. By 1964 there were War on Poverty amendments to the act allowing education funds for "disadvantaged youth." Again, as usual, you don't find the money going to the intended beneficiaries. No "disadvantaged youth" will ride the junkets and improve their literacy on these culture-tours. It's the lucky bystanders and bureaucrats, selected by the U.S. Office of Education, who draws the stipends, travel expenses and get put up as guests in the college dorms.

THE LINK-UP between Shakespeare and anti-communism, as a pair of subsidized activities, occurs in the shared realm of political insolence. The federal government has no more right to spend money on the National Student Association and the Newspaper Guild (AFL-CIO) than on the schoolmarm. The one redeeming feature of the CIA's paying students to attend international gatherings is that it was a pro-American effort for a change. But even if this much is commendable, the general practice is not — and everything considered, the good was accidental.

FOR THE GOVERNMENT is always an irresponsible and erratic spender. Back in the New Deal days, the WPA and other agencies laid out millions of dollars for writers and artists who became notorious propagandists for communism. As recently as the Truman administration, there were examples of Communist and pro-Communist intellectuals being employed to "give guidance" in our policy toward Red China.

HAPPILY, the State Department and CIA have done better in recent years. At least, there's now a distinction made between pro-Americans and anti-Americans when the kale is handed out. But it's a pretty good rule of thumb to go by — in whatever amount the government spends money on subsidies, that money is being grossly misapplied.

Light Rain Marks Cool Front Path

By The Associated Press
Damp and slightly cooler weather spread across Texas toward the southeast from the Panhandle-Blaine states today. Occasional showers or light rain marked the path of a weak cool front. It was moisture sorely needed—and far too skimpy to bring appreciable relief from weeks-long drought. Near daybreak the forward edge of the cooler air lay along a line from east of Midland to Wichita Falls and into Oklahoma. Behind the front rainfall amounts ranged up to .15 inch at Dalhart and 12 at Pecos in the upper Panhandle. Amarillo received .06, Lubbock .03 and El Paso .02.

Except for a spot or two in the Panhandle, early morning temperatures were mindful of early spring.

North winds gusting up to 15 miles per hour put teeth in a 33-degree temperature at Peryton. Early morning marks at other points behind the front included Dalhart 36, Amarillo 38, El Paso 40, Lubbock 41 and Midland 46.

Readings held in the 60s overnight at many points near the coast and in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Top marks Sunday afternoon varied from 55 at Dalhart to 75 at Presidio in far West Texas.

Forecasts called for scattered showers tonight in all sections except West Texas, with a little rainfall continuing. Tuesday morning in Northeast Texas. A little cooling was in prospect in northern areas of the state with little change elsewhere.

Texas Chain Owner Dies

HOUSTON (AP) — Funeral services were planned today for Joe Weingarten, the immigrant boy who built a grocery empire from his mother's $300 in savings and then turned in his last years to encouraging the study of peace.

Weingarten died Sunday in a Houston hospital at the age of 82.

He was board chairman of J. Weingarten Inc., a 70-store supermarket chain which grossed $170 million last year. He also was a Houston civic leader, a friend of the Boy Scout movement and an active worker in Jewish affairs.

Weingarten was a national vice president of the United Palestine Appeal, a fellow of Brandeis University and chairman of the building committee of Congregation Beth Yeshurun, where funeral services were to be at 4 p.m. today, with burial in the congregation cemetery.

Fifteen years ago, Weingarten conceived a plan for encouraging schools and universities around the world to begin research into ways to end war. He founded and actively guided the Houston-based World Institute for World Peace, which has endowed a peace chair at Rice University and a center for the study of peace at Detroit's Wayne State University.

Weingarten left school in the fifth grade. Using his mother's $300, Weingarten and his father opened a small grocery store in Houston in 1914.

That store grew into the current chain operating in Houston, Galveston, Beaumont, Bryan, and Texarkana, Tex., and in Little Rock, Ark.

Survivors include the widow, two sons, a brother and a sister, all of Houston.

Grant Gains In January Sales

J. A. Newman, manager of the W. T. Grant store at College Park Shopping Center, announced company sales of $46,097,261 for the month ending Jan. 31, an increase of 7.54 per cent over last year's January sales of $42,867,006. This is the 22nd consecutive month in which this general merchandise retail chain has achieved record sales.

Preliminary sales of $920,821,690 for the fiscal year ended Jan. 31, 1967, were up $81,106,233 or 9.66 per cent over sales of $839,715,457 for the preceding fiscal year. This is likewise a new sales record for the company.

Scientist Urges Cadaver 'Banks'

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — A Duke University scientist said today that transplantation of hearts and other organs from the dead to the diseased living is achievable if enough national effort is put into the quest.

Indeed, said Dr. D. Bernard Amos, planning should begin now by federal, state and private agencies toward establishing a national network of organ-transplant centers — to be ready for possible breakthroughs in the technical field.

He said these breakthroughs could come soon.

ORGAN BEQUEST

As a starter, he urged that all states lacking it adopt enabling legislation "to permit a patient to bequeath an organ of his body for transplantation."

The physician told a science writers' seminar at Duke University Medical School that lack of such enabling legislation in a number of states is one of the biggest barriers to progress in the organ-transplant field.

He said in a prepared report that encouraging results already have been achieved by American and European scientists in transplanting kidneys from cadavers into living patients. And he declared that while the transplanting of various other organs — such as the heart, liver and lungs — presents even more formidable problems, these problems can be overcome.

MONEY NEEDED

The scientist said that other barriers that need to be overcome are the need for further research to improve methods of preserving organs, and the need for "adequate financing" of research in the field.

Dr. Amos declared that a start towards a national network of cadaver "organ banks" could be made in the kidney field.

He said otherwise incurable kidney disease patients could be sustained temporarily by artificial-kidney machines at special centers while suitable potential donors of kidneys were sought from among patients about to die from other causes in the same institutions.

He said this system could later serve as a source of other tissues or organs for other patients.

Bus Drivers Might Seek Gun Permits

DETROIT (AP) — Now that Detroit grocers are arming themselves and have slain two holdup men within a week, union bus drivers may ask the city to permit them to carry guns.

Kerchel Schwartz, president of Division 26 of the Amalgamated Transit Union, announced the possibility of asking for guns Sunday. A bus driver was shot twice and seriously wounded in a holdup Friday night. It was the third robbery of a bus driver within a week.

Schwartz said the request for guns was certain if the city turns down a demand to buy 300 more two-way radios for city buses. He said the wounded driver's two-way radio permitted him to call for help and also resulted in the quick arrest of a suspect.

Police Commissioner Ray Girardin objected to the arming of bus drivers, as he did to grocers arming themselves.

"Only the police should be armed," Girardin said. "The use of guns involves not only the training of how to handle and clean a weapon but emotional reaction."

"A bus driver who has a gun might do something foolish," Schwartz said. "I have 200 new buses have two-way radios. He said a request for 800 more radios had been denied by budget officials."

"We need guns or radios," he said, "and the operators prefer radios."

Grocer killings of two holdup men last week focused attention on the growing fear of small businessmen in Detroit over armed robbers.

Last month, Walter Shamie, ex-grocer and managing editor of Grocers Spotlight, a trade paper, said in an editorial he would conduct gun clinics to teach grocers how to handle weapons.

His first clinic 10 days ago drew 200 and was conducted by representatives of the National Rifle Association.

Fairy Tale Provides Happy Hour

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
Associated Press TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC's musical adaptation of "Jack and the Beanstalk" was a fancy Hollywood production, an elaborate combination of cartoon and musical comedy.

It was the season's second adaptation of the children's fairy tale, but the first, on CBS a couple of months ago, was a simple and very modest effort, designed exclusively for the young viewers.

In this last version, Jack — a most appealing little boy named Bobby Riha — was accompanied by a jolly peddler up the bean vine to the land of the terrible giant. Because the peddler was played by Gene Kelly, all adventures led to pleasant dances and songs.

It was a happy hour, one of the few children's programs that an older viewer could actually enjoy thoroughly.

MYSTERY

CBS' "The 21st Century" is one of the most stimulating and intelligent programs of the season, whether the subject at hand be transportation of the future, moon travel or, as Sunday night, genetic research and experimentation.

The program showed frogs that scientists have produced from only one parent. Discussed, too, were the possibilities of selective breeding of humans as well as suggestions of how close we are to cracking some of the mysteries of birth.

NBC's Telephone Hour Sunday night was more a feature story on the annual explosion that occurs in a small Belgian village than it was a report on its yearly jazz festival. But it was interesting even to people who can take that kind of music or leave it alone.

IVAN IVANOVICH

Best part was sitting vicariously through the first rehearsal of a new number by Benny Goodman and his sextet before their appearance.

ABC, still making decisions about its fall program schedule, says that still undecided are the fate of "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea," "Time Tunnel," "F Troop," "The Iron Horse," "Rango," and "The Fugitive."

In listing 16 programs, including two movie nights, that will definitely be continued, the network spokesman omitted "The Monroes," "Love On a Rooftop," "Green Hornet," and "The Phyllis Diller Show."

Thus, it would appear they are definitely out of the lineup.

Recommended tonight: "Ivan Ivanovich," ABC, 10-11 EST, film report on Soviet family life.

Hanoi Claims Warship Sunk

TOKYO (AP) — Hanoi radio claimed today a U.S. warship was sunk Sunday off the coast of North Vietnam by "the people's armed forces" of Thanh Hoa Province.

Hanoi radio, in a Japanese-language broadcast monitored here, said U.S. warships shelled "residential quarters of the coastal areas of Thanh Hoa Province at 5:30 p.m. Feb. 26."

"The people's armed forces in the province counterattacked and sank one of them. Other U.S. warships fled."

"This was the third American warship which was sunk by North Vietnam since early February, this year."

Brucellosis Control Hearing Is Sought

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Cooke County has petitioned the Texas Animal Health Commission for a brucellosis control area hearing.

County Agent Neil Tibbets and Charlie Kammerdiener, Cooke County Farm Bureau president, mailed petitions bearing the names of 750 ranchers to the Texas Animal Health Commission recently requesting the hearing. Mrs. Jo Hillis, county tax assessor-collector, certified names on the petitions as persons owning cattle in the county.

Petitions were sponsored by the Cooke County Beef Herd Improvement Association and the Farm Bureau.

Mr. Sadler knows...

The immediacy of newspapers in transmitting pertinent information to air travellers, as well as the selling power of newspapers, has consistently proved itself to American Airlines. Marion Sadler stated: "American Airlines was the first airline to advertise the Boeing 747 that will carry close to 400 passengers. We offered reservations for the inaugural flight in 1970 and received an overwhelming response within a few hours of newspapers' publication of our ad."

Cold Snap Kills At Least Seven

By The Associated Press

The effects of a record-breaking cold wave lingered in eastern portions of the Southeast today but a welcome warming trend was moving in from the west along with some rain.

Temperatures from Atlanta west to the Mississippi River were as much as 20 degrees warmer this morning, but the mercury remained in the 20s over the Carolinas and north-east Florida.

In Atlanta, which recorded lows of nine Saturday and 14 Sunday, the temperature was an almost balmy 35.

Freezing rain, sleet and light snow iced roads through the Midwest. Hazardous driving warnings were posted from the Ozarks to the Lower Great Lakes.

CITRUS DAMAGE

At least seven deaths were attributed to the southeastern cold snap, which brought heavy damage to some Florida crops and complaints from south Florida tourists. However, agriculture officials said damage to the huge citrus crop in that state was "not too extensive."

Temperatures soared into the 40s and 50s Sunday afternoon and weathermen promised further warming today.

Not even the normally balmy south Florida area escaped the cold. Record low temperatures Sunday morning were 32 at Fort Myers, 35 at West Palm Beach and 36 at Miami. Northern sections were even colder with Gainesville reporting 19, Tallahassee 21 and Tampa 28.

ST. PETE ICICLES

Residents of St. Petersburg, Fla., were treated to the rare sight of icicles on palm trees Sunday morning.

A long band of rain dampened states from New Mexico to Kentucky.

Heavy snow was reported along the New Mexico-Colorado border near Raton Pass. Drivers in the mountains were warned of blowing snow and poor visibilities.

Two men died while clearing snow in suburbs of Rochester, N.Y.

The heaviest damage to crops occurred in central and north Florida.

WARNINGS OUT

Warren Johnson, head of the Federal-State Frost Warning Service in Florida, said reports indicated heavy damage to potatoes, watermelons, tender vegetables and ornamentals.

Freezing rain, sleet and light snow iced roads in the Midwest. Hazardous driving warnings went up from the Ozarks to the lower Great Lakes.

Cops Nab Stabbing Suspect In Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—An intruder stabbed Susan Taber, 24, and left her gravely wounded in her apartment early Sunday.

Miss Taber, a secretary who has been active in amateur theatrical productions, was able to describe her assailant to police. They arrested a patron of a taxicab which was stopped for speeding in the neighborhood.

Detectives found a bent and bloody pocket knife on the floor of the young woman's blood-spattered bedroom, which apparently was entered through an unlocked second floor window.

They quoted Miss Taber as saying her attacker, after knifing her eight times, promised to leave if she would stop screaming and did when she complied.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Taber of Hobbs, N.M. The parents reported Miss Taber came here to work for an architect 18 months ago after her graduation from New man in custody, a 29-year-old the setter, as soon as her condition permitted. He was held without immediate charge.

Reception For YMCA Speaker

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Whipkey, 711 Dallas, was the scene Saturday of an afternoon reception honoring Ben Barnes, speaker of the Texas House of Representatives. Barnes and his son, Greg, arrived by plane from Austin for Barnes' appearance as guest speaker at the annual YMCA banquet.

Calling hours were from 4 to 6 p.m. with over 100 attending. Members of the house party were Mrs. H. W. Smith, Mrs. J. Y. Robb, Mrs. Harold Davis, Mrs. James Duncan, Mrs. Harold Jones, Mrs. Ike Robb, Mrs. Odell Womack, Mrs. Don Womack and Mrs. Carroll Davidson. Mrs. Whipkey was attired in a black crepe dress with three-quarter length sleeves and fabric rose at the front waistline. The accent was a rhinestone clip at the shoulder.

An ecru linen cut-work cloth covered the refreshment table where a white compote, circled with silver, held a French bouquet of Darwin tulips, Dutch irises, jonquils, Shasta daisies, spray chrysanthemums and acacia. Silver coffee and punch services were placed at opposite ends of the table and other appointments were of silver and crystal.

A similar floral arrangement graced a living room console.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Tricky Illusion For Dieters

Dear Folks: Many of us are on diets and cannot eat the yellows of eggs. Yet how very hungry we get for that good breakfast with some scrambled eggs.

I know how you feel. I was on a diet too and after four months of no scramble or fried eggs and a longing for some, I finally figured out the answer.

Don't laugh when you read how!

Try it!

After you crack your raw eggs, separate the whites from the yellows. Put the amount of egg whites you want to use in a cup.

For each egg white you have in the cup put two drops of yellow food coloring.

Stir the droplets of coloring among the egg whites with a fork. Do not beat them or put them in a blender unless you want solid color scrambled eggs.

The point of stirring them with a fork is . . . you will end up with part yellow and part white in your scrambled eggs and they will not look like the powdered eggs we had during World War II.

As you stir the cup of egg whites with a fork, you will find there will be a thick part that the yellow will not mix with.

Fine. This part will end up as the egg white when it is scrambled. The part that mixes with the coloring will turn out yellow.

Pour it into your skillet and scramble away.

I did find that you need lots of salt and pepper on this. Also, you could top it with hamburger relish and it was out of this world, no matter what time of the day you ate it.

Also, if you put it in a blender and added some baking powder, it would turn out all the same color, but it would be fluffier like an omelet. If you like eggs all the same color, you may like this method.

But it leads you to believe that you are finally eating a scrambled egg with a yolk.

What price psychology? Bless you. . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Often, in the daytime, visibility is poor and it is necessary to drive with the headlights on.

Here is a reminder I use to be sure they are turned off when I park.

I have a magnetic clip on my dashboard. Whenever I turn my lights on during daylight, I move the clip right next to the ignition switch.

Then when I turn the engine off I am reminded of the lights and turn them off, too.

This system has never failed me. . . R. E. Fues

Dear Heloise:

Here's a wonderful way to restore crispness to limp curtains: Launder according to instructions, dry, press and hang back on rods.

Pin newspapers or a sheet of plastic behind them to protect the windows and spray with spray starch.

They will look like new when dry. . . Mrs. Mary Bundy

Dear Heloise:

While crocheting the other day, I couldn't find my scissors.

I found a pair of finger nail clippers and used them to cut clean non-washable stuffed toys. Later I put them on a chain and I now wear it around my neck while crocheting. The clips are small and really handy. . . Evelyn Hileman

Dear Heloise:

I would like to know if you have any suggestions on how to

I wash the foam-filled ones with soap and water, but don't know what to do about the non-washables. Any ideas? Sure would appreciate it. . . A Reader

A LOVELIER YOU

Skier Should Cover Hair For Protection

By MARY SUE MILLER A lovely writes: I have just returned from a skiing vacation with a beauty problem. My hair has become dry and brittle. Could exposure to freezing weather be the cause? I had thought only heat dried the hair. I didn't wear a cap, only earmuffs on a headband. In any case, I need help.

The Answer: Extremes of both cold and heat have a drying effect on the hair. On ski slopes at high altitudes, weather works several ways to parch your locks. The air is both cold and dry. The sun is hot, much hotter than you think.

To prevent damage a skier most certainly should cap her head before going outdoors. Another good safety measure is to film the hair with pomade and brush well after a day on the slopes.

Once the damage is done, however, a series of reconditioning treatments is in order — one a week for at least six weeks at shampoo time. There are excellent conditioners to be found at cosmetic counters and beauty salons.

During the conditioning period, use a soft hairbrush and do brush night and morning. Tinting and permanent waving should be avoided until the hair returns to normal.

The head, of course, should not go hatless. It must be proected from wind, weather and dust. That warning might well be a cue to getting a new spring chapeau. It's the quickest way to turn a beauty problem into an asset.

RULE YOUR WAVES What's your hair problem? You'll find a way to overcome it in my 16-page booklet, "Rule Your Waves." Advice includes: beauty treatments for oily, dry, and normal hair; ways to manage unruly locks; how to add color and highlights; tips on cutting, permanents and styling; grooming tricks. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald for your copy, enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin.
