TEENAGERS

Not For Recreation

"We need a place for recreation. It's all we have."

Terry Anderson, one of four teenagers attending the Big Spring City Commission meeting Tuesday, thus summed up the feelings of the group during the discussion by the city fathers of a proposed ordinance regulating activities around drive-in restaurants. The ordinance, which was given unanimous approval, is frankly aimed at teenage gatherings at drive-ins. With him were Jimmy Wilson, Butch Caldwell and Bobby Plowman.

Nothing Else To Do

"There is nothing else to do in Big Spring," Terry said. "What are we going to do?"

Commissioner John Stanley told the youths he observed unbecoming action by teenagers, recently at a local drive-in, when they booted and hissed at police officers attempting to restore order.

"We try to be nice people," the youths replied, although admitting that there are some troublemakers. "Most of us are trying to stay out of trouble, but the drive-ins are just a place to meet others, and is the only place we can meet our friends."

Show Where They Stand

"It's true that the majority are not troublemakers," Chief of Police Jay Banks said, "but the majority should show they are on the side of law and order when trouble develops. Disorderly conduct should not be tolerated by well-meaning youth, and you can show it at the time trouble begins."

"We've got to stand a little somewhere," Terry added. "Where else is there besides out in the country?" One of the other boys pointed out the YMCA closes at 9 p.m.

"Drive-in restaurants are not places of recreation," Chief Banks reminded the meeting. They are commercial places of business."

Lost Everything He Had

One drive-in owner pointed out that another operator had "lost everything he had" due to the congregating of teenagers at his restaurant. The only way he could control was to close up and stay closed.

Luci Expecting

AUSTIN (AP) — Luci Johnson Nugent will give birth to President Johnson's first grandchild in a giant maternity ward enveloping the top floor of an Austin hospital.

An Austin doctor, who asked that his name not be revealed, Tuesday gave the first medical confirmation of Luci's pregnancy.

The doctor said the top floor of Holy Cross Hospital will be reserved for Mrs. Nugent and the presidential and family visitors.

White House Silent

The White House and the Nugents, however, maintained their silence on the prospects for a presidential grandchild.

The Secret Service, of course, will guard the special maternity setup. An agent will be assigned to the baby at birth.

The doctor said the identity of Mrs. Nugent's obstetrician and the date of the expected delivery were both well-guarded secrets.

Fat Cops Under Fire

BOSTON (AP) — The fat is under fire in the Boston police department as 75 officers weighing a total of eight tons embark on a weight-reduction course that has helped 300 colleagues lose more than five tons.

Dr. Samuel S. Berman, who has led three other groups of Boston policemen through the voluntary program since September, 1965, welcomed the 75 new recruits Tuesday night.

Not Anything Magic

"It's not a question of anything magic," said Berman, who believes "some people are born with a more limited metabolic output than others."

His approach is a dietary restriction, but not elimination, of carbohydrates — starches and sugars, especially sugars — and the inclusion of protein — for tissue building — and saturated and unsaturated fats — for energy and heat.

Three Pills Daily

Fats do not put fat on the human form, Berman said. It is the carbohydrates that do the damage.

Those on the diet also take metabolic pills three times a day "to make sure they burn up all the calories in the fat."

City Tax Bill Sent To Senate

AUSTIN (AP)—House members finally passed and sent to the Senate, 85-63, today the one per cent local option city sales tax bill requested by the Texas Municipal League and many mayors.

It took just a few minutes to finish the job that tied the House up for nearly three hours Tuesday. One amendment was added, putting under bond the comptroller's employees who would help administer local sales taxes.

TWO WEEKS DELAY

The Senate is not expected to take up the bill for at least two weeks, according to House sponsors.

Only Rep. Tom Bass, Houston, spoke against the bill, which passed by virtually the same vote by which it won tentative approval Tuesday.

He warned that local sales taxes or the possibility of such taxes might impair the legislature's ability to raise the state sales tax this session or in 1969.

TEAM VOTE

"This is not a liberal, conservative issue," Bass said. "There are men who definitely are 'team' members who voted against this bill."

Bass said it is possible that parts of Gov. John Connally's tax program will not pass, leaving it up to the legislature to find new revenue sources.

"If we are lucky, we'll be looking again at the sales tax next session. If we are not lucky, we'll be looking at it again this session," he said.

The House also tentatively approved Kerrville Rep. Jim Nugent's conflict of interest bill for legislators and state employees. A final vote is still needed.

HOUSE QUITS

Nugent's bill requires legislators and state employees to disclose their interests of 10 per cent or more in businesses regulated by the state. It prohibits legislators from introducing bills that would benefit their employers or clients.

The House then quit until 10 a.m. Thursday.

The Senate adjourned until 11 a.m. Thursday after a brief session in which they ignored the one House-passed bill on the formal calendar. Much of the session was taken up with introduction of new bills including one to protect horned toads and another to regulate the transportation of dead animals.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

Senators went into an executive session where they approved several governmental appointments including Harry D. Jersig, San Antonio, as a new member of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission.

The local option city sales tax got an 84-63 vote for tentative approval after Rep. John Traeger, Seguin, led a corps of hard-nosed supporters in beating down 30 attempts to amend the bill. Many of the attempts were tabled by majorities of about 4 to 1.

13 VOTES SHY

However, Traeger failed by 13 votes to get the 120 votes needed to get a final vote on the same day that debate started. He needed only a bare majority to win final passage today.

But opponents fought to the last tally, claiming allocation of sales tax collections to cities would hurt the state's ability to increase the state sales tax in the future.

Former Webb Pilot Killed

Capt. Dwight S. Campbell, a former T-38 instructor pilot of the 3561st Pilot Training Squadron at Webb, was killed Feb. 22 while on a mission in Southeast Asia.

Capt. Campbell, 28, arrived at Webb in September, 1962 and left in November, 1966. His wife, Patty Coleen and three sons are residing at 1011 E. Northwest St., Miami, Okla. Capt. Campbell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Berle Campbell, Route 1, Fairland, Okla.

After attending Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College, Capt. Campbell graduated from Oklahoma State University in Stillwater in 1961, where he received his commission through ROTC. At Webb, Capt. Campbell lived at 28-A Günter. He and his family attended the 14th and Main Church of Christ.

Funeral will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at the First Christian Church in Fairland, Okla. Arrangements are being handled by the Cooper Funeral Home in Miami, Okla.

House To Strip Powell's Power?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House decides today whether to strip the last vestiges of congressional power from its most controversial figure, Adm. Clayton Powell.

Members of the select committee which recommended the Harlem Democrat be seated with a stiff censure, a $40,000 assessment against his future pay and loss of all seniority expressed confidence the House will approve their proposal, which has support from nearly all Republican and Democratic leaders.

But vociferous members of both parties who want Powell removed from Congress promised to try to block the committee's proposal, and a tangled parliamentary path awaits the censure resolution before its likely approval later in the day.

ADAM MISSING

Although many different possibilities exist, some form of ouster seems the most likely result if the committee's censure resolution fails. The debate could end in a couple of hours or drag on into the evening.

Powell wasn't expected to appear for the debate. At last word he was at his fishing retreat on the Bahamian isle of Bimini, along with his secretary Corrine A. Huff.

The resolution also would remove Miss Huff, a former beauty contest winner, from a $19,000-a-year job on Powell's office payroll.

BARRICADES READY

Barricades were made ready in the halls of Congress for the large crowd expected for the debate. Plans were made to clear the visitors' galleries every 10 minutes.

If Powell is censured, he would be the first House member so punished since Oct. 27, 1921, when the House censured the late Rep. Tom Blanton, D-Tex., for inserting salacious language into the Congressional Record.

If the resolution is approved, Powell would be left with his congressional seat and the lowest seniority of any member. He also would face $1,000 deductions from his $2,500 monthly salary for the remainder of the 90th Congress.

'Promise Me, Little Buddy'

BLOOMINGTON, Tex. (AP) — "Promise me, little buddy," he said. "If I don't make it back wherever you are you'll come and sound taps for me."

Marine Corp. Gunnery Sgt. Dan Adan Alaniz Jr. of Corpus Christi will do just that today.

His 62nd trumpet regiment will honor First Sgt. Clarence (Charley) Brown of Bloomington, who just a week ago became the 79th South Texan to die in Vietnam.

Although Alaniz has played at hundreds of military funerals in his 15 years in the Corps, this one will be a little special. This taps is for a friend.

IT'LL BE TOUGH

"He was like a brother to me," Alaniz said. "I worshipped the ground he walked on. It's going to be tough to play it. I just hope I can. I sure want to do it with something extra."

Alaniz, a native of Rio Grande City, and Brown worked together as Marine recruiters in Corpus Christi and Victoria from 1963 until Brown went to Vietnam last November. Brown was killed Feb. 22 when the jeep in which he was riding struck a land mine near Da Nang.

Brown's funeral is at 2 p.m. today. Marines from all over South Texas will attend it here. Brown, a widower, is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence F. Brown of Bloomington; a son, Kenneth, 7, and a daughter, Cindy, 6.

"We went everywhere together," Alaniz said. "They used to call us Mutt and Jeff." Brown was over 6 feet tall. Alaniz is 5-5.

"He was happy-go-lucky,"

Prisoner Says Cong Morale Hits New Low

Commies Know They Cannot Score Victory

PHUOC THANH, South Vietnam (AP) — A North Vietnamese lieutenant captured by Korean troops said today the failure of the lunar new year truce to produce peace negotiations has put "Viet Cong morale at an all-time low."

"Night and day the Viet Cong long for peace," said Lt. Truong Hiep, a platoon leader with the 3rd Company, 85th "Independence" Battalion, a Viet Cong main-force element. "They had high hopes for negotiation. Now they know they cannot win without direct help from Russia or Red China," he said.

KARATE CAPTURE

The lieutenant was interviewed through an interpreter at the wire-enclosed stockade of the Korean Tiger Division here in the central highlands 290 miles northeast of Saigon. A Korean private captured him this week with a karate blow. The lieutenant was attempting to fire his German Walther pistol at a Korean patrol that surprised him as he was returning to duty from a Viet Cong hospital hidden in the mountains.

A North Vietnamese regular, Truong infiltrated from Hanoi a year ago and was assigned as a special cadre to work with Viet Cong main-force troops in Phu Yen Province, which actually was his home. Like many other idealistic young Communists, he went north during the 1954 armistice that followed the Geneva agreements and rose through the ranks of the North Vietnamese army.

TRUCE EXPECTED

The lieutenant said as a cadre officer he had been told to indoctrinate his troops with the idea that a truce would soon come about with a coalition government of Viet Cong and South Vietnamese representatives ruling the country, following the immediate withdrawal of all American and other foreign troops.

Truong's special job was guarding provincial officials of the Viet Cong shadow government operating in the tactical area being swept by Korean troops. He was badly scalded in January while trying to boil water in an ammunition box and was taken to a Viet Cong dispensary deep in the mountains. The hospital once had consisted of four buildings, but because of air strikes had been reduced to a single hut staffed by one doctor, two medics and a nurse.

Strict Drive-In Controls Approved

City commissioners heard from both sides Tuesday before deciding to approve a new ordinance providing for strict control of patrons of drive-in restaurants.

Alene Bond, of Pin's Drive-in, and E. L. Terry, operator of two drive-ins here, appeared to favor some kind of control, after questioning sections of the proposed ordinance that concerned blowing paper and placement of garbage cans.

TEENAGERS

Four teenage boys — Terry Anderson, Jimmy Wilson, Butch Caldwell, Bobby Plowman — were heard briefly, but commissioners turned most of their attention to garbage can placement and the wording of signs as required in the ordinance.

The ordinance is aimed at protection for the drive-in owners, commissioner Walter Stroup pointed out, which Terry said he would welcome.

The ordinance, unanimously approved as an emergency measure, provides that drive-in restaurants are public places and that the owners - operators are required to provide quiet and good order.

Regulations, which patrons of these restaurants must observe, include:

Drivers can not race their car motor, come to a sudden stop or start, blow their horn, or make any other "loud or unseemly noise."

Drivers may not park their car and leave it without consent of the drive-in owner, but if they should and the car is parked one hour, it will be impounded; may not "cruise" on the drive-in premises without the consent of the owner, nor race, nor use the premises as a short-cut to another street.

LOITERING

Another section makes it unlawful "for three or more persons to congregate on the premises and linger or loiter at any location on the premises of any drive-in restaurant other than in the restaurant building or in a legally parked vehicle."

Drive-in restaurant operators are required to post signs concerning the cruising and loitering provisions of the ordinance, as well as station two trash cans at the exits of the driveways, or as the city sanitation may require.

There are also provisions in the ordinance against drinking by minors and the use of profanity.

Fines up to $200 are provided for violations of the ordinance.

DISCRETION

City attorney Tom Huckaby assured the commissioners that police officers will use discretion in enforcing the law, and that in any case, the drive-in operators would call in police only when they need help.

T&P Final Brief Filed

AUSTIN (AP) — The final brief has been filed in the effort of the Texas & Pacific Railway to abandon passenger service between Fort Worth and El Paso and the matter is before the Texas Railroad Commission for a final decision.

A spokesman for the commission said there was no indication when the three commissioners will announce their decision.

The T&P asked last year that passenger trains 26 and 27 be discontinued, claiming a loss of $300,000 on passenger business during a 12-month test over the run. Public hearings were conducted in several cities along the T&P line with strong protests coming from Fort Worth, Big Spring, El Paso, Midland, Abilene and other points.

Walter G. Wendlandt, who conducted the hearings for the Railroad Commission, recommended in January that the railroad be allowed to discontinue the daily east and west passenger trains.

Wendlandt blamed the federal government for destruction of railroad passenger service in the West Texas area.

He said that the real problem, in addition to fewer passengers, was the loss of other revenue that went with passenger service, primarily handling the mail.

He said the post office diverting mail from trains to trucks seriously crippled the passenger business.

Klan Leader Added To Indictment List

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — A Mississippi Ku Klux Klan leader has been added to the list of those the federal government contends were involved in the slaying of three civil rights workers near Philadelphia, Miss.

Taps For A Friend

Marine Corps Sgt. Adan Alaniz Jr. today is to fulfill a request from a friend. The friend, 1st Sgt. Clarence Brown of Bloomington, Tex., said that he wanted Alaniz to play taps at his funeral if he was killed in Viet Nam. A land mine killed him Feb. 22, and Alaniz, of Corpus Christi, will fulfill the request at the funeral in Bloomington today. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Hearing Set On Annexation Move

City commissioners Tuesday decided to call a public hearing on an annexation request of Humble Oil and Refining Co. to take in a small section west of the city at the intersection of IS 20 and US 80.

The company is building an Enco service station on the site, and wants annexation in order to get city water. However, the company signed a waiver that it would not expect to get sewer service, as the site is below the necessary elevation.

EXTRA LAND

Larry Crow, city manager, proposed that the commissioners consider annexing additional land, with the service station site, in order to leave no "gaps" in the city limits line. Taking in only the service station involves 3.09 acres; annexing additional land in order to eliminate a gap, would involve 5.22 acres.

Commissioner Jimmy Morehead suggested that the extra territory be brought in under the same sewer service waiver as the service station site, by negotiating with the landowner, Charlie Creighton. He was assured by Crow this would be discussed at the public hearing—March 14.

Wayne Basden, appearing for Elbert McCalister in his application for an on-premises consumption permit at the Bosonova Lounge, 504 NW 4th, was told by the commissioners to submit another application for consideration at the next commission meeting, indicating approval might be forthcoming. McCalister has made numerous applications for the permit, which have been turned down. Basden pointed out the building has been upgraded, and he believed it would pass most any requirements.

The commission called a public hearing for March 28 at 7 p.m. in the city hall for the upcoming new city budget for 1967-68. The budget includes some $132,000 in salary increases for city employees.

Quick approval was given an ordinance changing the names of the 1200 and 1300 blocks of West Sixteenth to Indian Ridge and allowing the residents on the sector to apply their own numbering system.

APPEALS BOARD

Four were named to an appeals board for the new plumbing ordinance, and will serve with the plumbing inspector, city engineer, and city health officer. Appointed were J. B. McKinney, master plumber; Haley H. Hayes, journeyman plumber; Tom McAdams, building contractor; and James Brooks, licensed architect.

Third and final reading was given the on-premises consumption permit for Lillie's Cafe on North Gregg Street.

OWES $20 MILLION?

Estes' Money Troubles Not Solved By Prison

EL PASO (AP) — Even in prison, Billie Sol Estes continues to have financial trouble.

The government claimed at a hearing Tuesday that Estes owes $20 million in taxes, penalties and interest.

Estes, the former Pecos farm promoter, is in the federal reformatory at Sandstone, Minn., serving a 15-year term for fraud.

Bankruptcy referee Malcolm McGregor took the case under advisement. He gave both sides 30 days to file briefs.

Harry Moore, trustee of Estes' estate, said it amounts to only $1,243,000 in cash and government securities. He said this money came from the sale of assets by American Grain Co. and it still owes the estate $5.8 million.

Moore said the Commodity Credit Corp. owes the estate $500,000 for grain storage charges.

The government, seeking to establish a prior claim to the assets, said Estes owes $19,664,315 for the years 1959-61. Government lawyers said the total included $12,190,632 in taxes, $6,995,316 in penalties and $1,378,367 in interest.

El Paso Judge Due To Rule On Bequest

EL PASO (AP) — County Judge George Rodriguez was due to rule today on a suit challenging the will of Ann Yates Oliver, a wealthy oil heiress who died last November.

A niece of Mrs. Oliver and nephews challenged her will, which included a $300,000 bequest to San Angelo accountant C. A. Freeze.

The relatives contended Mrs. Oliver was not in control of her mental processes when the will was made. The document was filed a month before she died.

Cong Troops Hammer Gls In War Zone

SAIGON, (AP) — North Vietnamese troops have inflicted heavy casualties on two U.S. Marine companies and hammered at positions of long-range American guns south of the demilitarized zone with intensive mortar barrages, U.S. spokesmen announced today.

The official report estimated the Communists fired 1,000 mortar shells at Marines during a day-long battle Tuesday about 10 miles south of the buffer territory that separate North and South Vietnam.

Evidently seeking to interrupt the shelling of North Vietnam across the zone, the Communists lobbed 475 81mm mortar shells at the positions of some self-propelled 175mm guns that had been moved to within two miles of the zone.

150 REDS
A spokesman said there was no damage to the big guns, which can fire shells up to 20 miles, and that American casualties were light.

In the Zone C theater adjoining the Cambodian frontier, American planes and artillery killed more than 150 Viet Cong after the Communists badly mauled a company of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division, the U.S. military command reported.

The six-hour battle Tuesday was the biggest to date in the week-old Operation Junction City, a 45,000-man U.S. squeeze on the Communist jungle stronghold near the Cambodian border. The company of 178 American infantrymen suffered heavy casualties, meaning it is no longer an effective fighting force until it receives replacements.

North Vietnamese regulars operating just below the demilitarized zone fired off a tremendous mortar attack in an effort to knock out the long-range U.S. artillery guns which last week began shelling across the six-mile zone into North Vietnam.

GUN MIRACLE
U.S. headquarters said the North Vietnamese fired 475 mortar rounds against the 175mm guns in two shelling Tuesday night. A U.S. spokesman said "miraculously" there was no damage to the big guns and only light casualties to American troops.

The 175mm guns, the biggest in Vietnam, are positioned two miles south of the demilitarized zone. The U.S. Command announced last Friday that the huge artillery pieces had begun firing at military targets in North Vietnam and in the demilitarized zone.

Wanted Here, Held In Dallas

Garland Prudhomme, wanted here in connection with a car theft charge, is being held in Dallas on a fugitive warrant lodged by the FBI, Sheriff A. N. Standard said today.

Prudhomme was originally apprehended on a local warrant in the state of Washington. He refused extradition. While extradition proceedings were being instituted, he jumped bond and disappeared. He has now been apprehended in Dallas by federal officers.

Standard said that a hold has been posted against him there and that as soon as the federal charge has been disposed of, he will seek to bring the man back here.

Billy Wayne Hall and Billy Green, under sentence for burglary and probation violation, both to serve three years, were taken to the state penitentiary today by Deputy Sam Roberts.

En route home from Huntsville, Roberts will come by Angleton, where Samuel Ponder, wanted here on a misdemeanor charge has been apprehended.

Joe Lomas, whose probation was revoked here earlier this week, has now been removed to Lamesa where he faces a felony charge.

Russell Pistole Dies In Wreck

Russell Pistole, son of a former T&P division superintendent here, was killed in a car collision near Texarkana Saturday, and his brother, Louie Pistole, was injured. They were en route from Van, where Russell Pistole lived, to Hot Springs, Ark., to visit their mother, Mrs. A. E. Pistole, 90, when the mishap occurred. Services were held Sunday in Van for Russell Pistole. His brother, Louie, who lives in Bryan, was hospitalized in Texarkana. Mrs. F. M. Thorp, 110 Lockhart, is a cousin of the two men, but actually more like a sister because she was reared by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pistole.

Nalley-Pickle Gives Service

Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, following a quarter of a century of service to the people of Big Spring and surrounding area, has kept pace with the demand for efficient and dignified service and comfortable facilities in keeping the confidence of those served, or to be served.

Coy Nalley and J. C. Pickle, owners, have added the Rosewood Chapel where memorial services are held with the solemnity and understanding most needed by families in the time of their bereavement. The sanctuary has been built with the knowledge that comfort, quietness and friendly service is most desired and appreciated when planning becomes difficult for relatives.

Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, through long years of service, has become the symbol of this comfort during hours of bereavement. Complete confidence in the trained men and women of Nalley-Pickle has led to a long-standing custom of turning all arrangements over to them, with the assurance that everything will be carried out in the minutest detail.

Rosewood Chapel is designed to provide privacy for the family during the service; to protect those attending services from inclement weather with a sheltered entranceway; comfort in air-conditioned rooms during services in the heat of summer, and controlled central heat in the winter, and ample parking with entrances on three streets.

Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home is a member of the National Selected Morticians, a world-wide organization which keeps members informed of the latest developments in the profession.

Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home is located at 906 Gregg, and any information needed may be had by calling the professional employees and owners at AM 7-6331.

Brooke Promises Friendly Service

Bennett's Pharmacy was built with you in mind. The fast, friendly service, offered by Bennett's, is unsurpassed in the Big Spring area. Why are more people going to Bennett's Pharmacy for their prescriptions, needs? Bennett's Pharmacy features the best service with the customer in mind.

The near-perfect location between the 1600 block of Gregg and Lancaster streets, is off the fast traffic of Gregg, away from downtown congestion, and away from areas near schools causing extra traffic hazards. It offers a relaxed, non-congested atmosphere with convenient and ample parking space, both front and rear.

An asphalt drive-way leads the customer directly to the side of the pharmacy to the drive-in window. The drive-in window was built with the customer in mind, so the customer could pull directly beside the window without having to drive around the pharmacy, or twisting and turning to avoid hitting other buildings too close to the window or other objects nearby, as offered by other pharmacies. A small coffee bar with coffee ready for sipping at all times and comfortable chairs are offered for tired customers or customers who wish to visit with other friends and neighbors taking advantage of the pharmacy and added conveniences.

If your home or other buildings need painting to protect them from rain, winds and icy weather, there is still plenty of time to get the job done.

The home with the paint beginning to crack or peel, or look dingy, is in shape to let the elements do a great deal of damage. The only way to get the bare spots covered is with a good coat of paint made to withstand West Texas weather.

Cactus Paint Co., a local industry located on US 80 east, manufactures paints for homes, both interior and exterior, business buildings, and all uses, to stand up under the weather conditions, including pounding dust storms.

Much testing and analyzing go into the work before a paint is put on the market, and it must meet the highest standards before Cactus Paint Co. approves it for use.

In addition to the work in the laboratory, tests are made on lumber and other materials under the punishment of outdoor weather conditions to see whether or not it stands up.

If a customer wants a room painted to match the rest of the house where the finish is still good, a Cactus job will give him what he wants. Call AM 7-5922 for further information, or come by the shop located on US 80 east where there is plenty of room to park.

Remember, with Cactus Paint "quality comes first!"

Carter's Features All Furniture Styles

No matter what you want in furniture, you can get it at Carter's Furniture, 100-110 Runnels.

From Early American to patio furniture, the perfect choice for your home is on display at Carter's two huge buildings.

J. W. and Terry M. Carter, a father-and-son partnership, have been in the furniture-business in Big Spring since 1948 (when they had Carter's Shop & Swap on Second and Gregg).

They moved into 110 Runnels in 1957, and last October acquired the old Montgomery Ward warehouse, 100 Runnels. The addition of the warehouse gives Carter's 21,000 square feet of floor space — 9,000 at 110 Runnels and 12,000 at 100 Runnels — to display whatever furniture the customer wants to see without crowding either the furniture or the customer.

The newly-enlarged operation gave Carter's room to depart-mentalize all furniture. They put all the Early American, suites, pieces, tables, chairs, in the building at 110 Runnels. At 100 Runnels, they put different furniture in different rooms — French Provincial, Modern furniture, Spanish, colored accent pieces, patio and outdoor furniture, and dining room furniture to match all groups.

With all the furniture, it is quality that counts with Carter's. All is brand-name furniture—merchandise of quality. Such famous brand-names as Tell City, Broyhill, Sealy Mattress, Berkline Recliner, Lane Cedar Chests, and Empire Furniture abound.

"We service what we sell," Terry Carter says. "And we offer a time payment plan, or we'll hold for 30, 60 or 90 days with no interest or carrying charge."

Something popular at Carter's is the $1 table, where a real variety of gift and accessory items are always kept on hand, each selling for only a dollar bill.

The departmentalizing of the furniture makes it easy to shop Carter's. If your taste runs to Spanish, Carter's has an extremely large, varied stock in the big building at 100 Runnels. Colored accent pieces? Carter's has them in abundance in grays, greens, any color to match your style and choice. French Provincial? The middle room of the building has all you expect. Modern? A whole big room full of the latest styles in the newest color combination. One huge room is devoted to outdoor and patio furniture, and another to dining room sets to match any style of furniture.

When thinking of buying furniture, whether it be a household or one piece or something special, the place to go is Carter's. The stores are open six days a week, Mondays through Saturdays, from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. — and when the customer walks in the front door there's always someone there to serve him, politely, efficiently, knowledgeably.

IF ESPIONAGE SUCCEEDS

CIA's Spy Payments Must Be Top Secret

Editor's Note: The Central Intelligence Agency's funding of the National Student Association and other private groups has raised controversy over the government's spy machinery. This story looks at the background of the CIA.

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the furor over Central Intelligence Agency handouts to students, no one is questioning the CIA's legal authority to spend large amounts of the taxpayers' money in secret.

The 1949 Central Intelligence Agency Act says the CIA director may spend money "without regard to the provisions of law and regulations relating to the expenditure of government funds." He can do this on a voucher certified by him alone.

Nor does CIA have to report to Congress or to any federal department. It is an independent agency responsible to the President. It does give some information about its activities to a designated group of Congress members.

SPY TRADITION

The secrecy laid down by law and practiced by the CIA is in the tradition of the spy business: for espionage to succeed, it must be kept quiet.

Thus the spreading disclosures about CIA payments are not to CIA's liking. And the publicity in each case means that even without the presidentially ordered investigation, CIA would probably want to end that operation.

In historical perspective, CIA is the postwar embodiment of government intelligence activities that date back to the earliest days of the Republic.

The main U.S. intelligence work was, until World War II, carried on by the armed services and by the State Department. The first four CIA directors after the war were admirals or generals.

CLOAK AND DAGGER

But during the war, intelligence mushroomed into a huge and complicated business. New cloak and dagger outfits sprang up, most notably the Office of Strategic Services.

With the end of the hot war and the beginning of the cold, the intelligence functions outside of those that were strictly military were lumped in 1947 into a new agency, the CIA.

Today CIA is one of the federal government's biggest operations. Because of the secrecy, few people know just how large it is. Its subsidies for overseas student activities are only a fraction of the total.

By general acknowledgment CIA's annual budget runs into hundreds of millions of dollars, most of it hidden in the multibillion-dollar appropriations Congress votes for defense.

EMPLOYS THOUSANDS

It probably employs several thousand persons, though here again the numbers are secret. The CIA law provides for secrecy on "titles, salaries, or numbers of personnel employed by the agency."

CIA's headquarters in nearby Langley, Va., is one of the largest modern government buildings. It is identified from the adjacent highway only by a sign saying "BPR" for "Bureau of Public Roads."

Proportionately, only a small percentage of CIA men are overseas in spy roles—although there is probably hardly a country around the world without some sort of CIA presence, again the numbers are secret.

INFO STORED

Many personnel are at work on such projects as research on foreign economic and scientific developments, monitoring and analyzing foreign propaganda broadcasts, compiling data on foreign political personalities and organizations.

For instance, CIA runs what is believed to be the world's single most comprehensive system of information storage and retrieval. It has translation computers that can convert Russian texts into English at 30,000 words an hour. Its global radio listening service relays important foreign broadcasts to Washington almost instantaneously.

Against this broad range of intelligence gathering, the recently disclosed CIA subsidies to student and other private groups have been a relatively small operation undertaken in the first instance at White House orders—not on CIA initiative.

POLITICAL GOALS

There is some indication that former President Harry S. Truman opposed CIA getting into actions to achieve political goals, as distinguished from merely collecting intelligence.

Writing in 1963, the year after the CIA-linked Bay of Pigs fiasco, Truman, who was president when the CIA was created said:

"I never had any thought that I would be injected into peacetime cloak and dagger operations. Some of the complications and embarrassments that I think we have experienced are in part attributable to the fact that this quiet intelligence arm of the President has been so removed from its intended role that it is being interpreted as a symbol of sinister and mysterious foreign intrigue—and a subject for cold war-enemy propaganda.

"I, therefore, would like to see the CIA be restored to its original assignment as the intelligence arm of the President, and whatever else it can properly perform in that special field—and that its operational duties be terminated or properly used elsewhere."

The White House now says, however, that CIA support of American private organizations was started by the Truman administration under policies set by the National Security Council in 1952 and continued thereafter.

The National Security Council, composed of the top federal government officials with foreign affairs-defense responsibilities, is the President's senior advisory body in this field.

Subsidies to the National Students Association began at a time, when government officials and some internationally minded students were concerned about the global Communist campaign to take over nongovernment international groups and use them for the Kremlin's ends.

Some American students willing to travel to international meetings to contest the well-financed Red delegations lacked funds. Government officials decided the money for the overseas U.S. student activities should be paid secretly, so as to avoid opening the Americans to propaganda charges of being government agents. Hence the job went to CIA.

This is the official version. Another reason for CIA involvement, according to some who recall the circumstances 15 years ago, was the uproar over the communism in government charges by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis.

American collegians then as now tended to criticize U.S. foreign policy, and some were far left by McCarthy's standards. Open government subsidies of students who strayed from official policy could have come under McCarthy's attack. CIA's secret payments were hidden from him.

The National Student Association and some other groups getting CIA aid have, in fact, taken some positions critical of U.S. policy. Defenders of the subsidies say, however, that the students did a highly effective job overseas when they found the anti-Yankee drive led not by "liberals," but by hard-core Reds.

Hawaiian Wedding

Actress Leigh Taylor-Young and actor Ryan O'Neal are shown following their marriage in Honolulu Tuesday night. The couple are the stars of the "Peyton Place" television series. The bride wore a floor-length blue and pink mummum. Both she and her husband wore the traditional Hawaiian leis of malle leaves. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Schools To Remodel Old Barr Building For Offices

Sam Anderson, superintendent of Big Spring schools, was given authorization Tuesday night to spend up to $5,000 to make changes inside the old Barr Photo building to make it usable as an administrative building for the school district. Trustees approved a proposal that the money be taken out of the building fund.

At the same time, John Gary, architect, appeared before the EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — On April 9, 1914 a book was checked out of the El Paso Public Library for two weeks. The book was returned last week, almost 53 years overdue. Library officials said the fine would amount to $784.40.

Six File In Coahoma Race

COAHOMA (SC) — With today the last day for filing, the Coahoma Independent School District trustee race has six candidates for three places.

Marion Hays is the only incumbent so far asking for reelection, while others who have asked for a place on the ballot are Donald Webb, Harold Fraser, O. D. O'Daniel, Jack Cagle and Hezzie Reed.

Donald Duke and Jasper Gibson are other incumbents whose terms expire. Filings are to be with the office of W. A. Wilson, superintendent.

Barber Work Measure Filed

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. James R. Nowlin of San Antonio introduced a bill Tuesday giving the state Board of Barber Examiners authority to establish minimum prices for barber work in cities and counties.

Nowlin's bill says the board would set the prices after two-thirds of the barbers in a city or town agreed to the fees. A public hearing must be conducted in the area, he said.

Under the measure "The board is authorized to make investigations of both insufficient and excessive prices for barber work and to establish a reasonable minimum price for such services," Nowlin said.

Rep. Joe Allen of Baytown introduced a bill making it illegal to dredge within 1,000 feet of navigation channels and 3,000 feet of shorelines. The measure also would prohibit dredging within 3,000 feet of a game refuge.

A measure by Rep. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi would establish a judicial redistricting board to redistrict, if necessary, judicial districts within Texas.

Rep. R. G. Pennington of Andrews introduced a bill that would set up a two-way, closed circuit television network for 12 West Texas colleges.

The measure says the system—Western Information Network Association—would be a "cooperative system for communication and information retrieval."

A bill by Rep. Joe Shannon Jr. of Fort Worth would allow law enforcement officers to take arrested persons before a magistrate "without unnecessary delay" rather than "immediately as now in the law."

Bogus FBI Agent Fails As Lawyer

DALLAS (AP)—Donald Guy Johnson, charged with impersonating an FBI agent, was transferred to custody of the U.S. marshal in Tyler Tuesday and ordered held in lieu of $13,000 bond.

Johnson, 23, of Terrell, also is charged with possessing counterfeit money.

Acting as his own lawyer, Johnson cross-examined Vernon Clawson of Texarkana, Tex., who identified Johnson as the man who took $1,120 from him. Clawson said Johnson got the money by representing to be an FBI man and by signing a receipt.

Clawson, testifying in the hearing before U.S. Commissioner W. E. Smith, said Johnson appeared at his grocery store and service station, showed federal identification and accused the storekeeper of counterfeiting.

Clawson said Johnson demanded the cash in his store so it could be examined closely.

MOD Given Big Boost By Bowlers

The March of Dimes campaign received a $168 boost Tuesday from bowlers in nine leagues at the Bowl-A-Rama. Mrs. H. H. Stephens, representing the Howard - Glasscock Counties chapter of the National Foundation, was on hand to receive the funds. Mrs. Frances Glenn, who also chaired the tournament for the March of Dimes, won first place, $25; Jim Tatum, placed second, $15; Lola Lamb, $10; J. C. Self received 15 lines of bowling; Curtis Arnold and Hank Ingram, each received 10 lines of bowling. Keith Henderson, of the Bowl-A-Rama, gave the prize money, leaving all proceeds of the tournament to the March of Dimes. Leagues participating in the special tournament included Mixed Trio Scratch, Night Owls, Men's Major, Tuesday Couples, Cosden Couples, Petroleum, Ladies Classic, Bell Telephone and Industrial.

Odd Quirk In Fertilizer Field Tests

LAMESA — An odd quirk occurred during a nitrogen fertilization test on a land cotton on the Marshall Corn Farm during the past season. The addition of 40 pounds of nitrogen per acre added 60 pounds of lint cotton, but 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre added only 50 pounds. "The decreased yields from 40 to 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre is unexplained," observed Lee Roy Colgan, county agent. "It is an example of why research and demonstration work must be observed for several years before a valid management decision can be made from the results." All fertilizer applications, however, paid off in this test, but the 40-pound treatment appeared the most efficient, producing $2.73 worth of cotton for each $1 spent on fertilizer. An unfertilized check plot yielded 900 pounds of cotton per acre. That with 40 pounds nitrogen grew 1,020 pounds; with 60 pounds nitrogen 1,010; and 80 pounds nitrogen 1,060 pounds per acre. Results in general, however, appeared to support data from other tests which indicated 40-60 or 20-20-40 applications will pay under dryland conditions. In years when moisture is extremely short, it is doubtful if fertilizer will pay. A rule of thumb is to fertilize before planting when soil moisture is good, but if subsoil is dry, the operator should be prepared to sidedress fertilizer when moisture conditions improve.

Trustees Decline To Extend Supt. Anderson's Contract

Big Spring Independent School District trustees Tuesday night declined to extend the contract of Superintendent Sam Anderson for an additional year. They left the contract as it is to expire June 30, 1969. However, in 1967-68, Anderson had asked that his contract be extended an additional year beyond its expiration date. The salary increase had been stipulated earlier. As a result of this action by the board, the contracts of all other administrative personnel were reduced by a year. Anderson had proposed two and three year contract extensions for most of the administrative staff. With his own tenure reduced to two years, he had to ask for shorter terms for his co-workers. Donald Crockett, business manager, had his contract extended a year and his salary, now $12,000 a year, raised $1,000. The board approved the employment of a director of instructional service at a salary not exceeding $15,000 a year. No such post now is operative in the school system. LONG DEBATE The board, after long debate, extended the contract of Noel Reed, personnel services director, but suggested his duties be shifted and that some other person handle personnel and teacher recruitment. Keith Swim, administrative assistant for special programs, was approved for a new one-year contract, but much discussion of his activities was heard and it was suggested, as in Reed's case, that his work be reassigned. John F. Smith, principal of the high school, Harold Bentley, assistant principal, and Raymond D. Pope, vice principal and dean of students, were all given one-year contracts and the superintendent was authorized to hire an additional assistant superintendent of the high school. Anderson told the board that the influx of some 650 ninth graders into the high school would make the need for an additional supervisor imperative. Don Green, assistant business manager, was given not only a new contract, but his salary was hiked $500 per annum. This was the only new salary boost not previously set up, authorized by the board.

Watkins To Seek School Board Seat

Roy E. Watkins filed Wednesday morning for a place on the ballot as candidate for the Big Spring Independent School District board of trustees. Today is the deadline for filing. Watkins said he had long had an interest in the schools and previously had thought seriously about offering as a candidate. He has been a resident of Big Spring for the past 14 years and with his family lives at 606 Drake Road. Watkins has been active in Parent - Teacher work and Mrs. Watkins currently is president of the City Council of the P-T.A. He worked with the Boydstun unit and served as vice president of the Runnels Junior High unit, which he helped to reactivate. He and his family attend Trinity Baptist Church. He has served a number of years on the United Fund board of trustees and was subject of a film strip last year which was used to promote participation in the employe division. He also has been serving on the committee working toward an area mental health out-patient clinic. Watkins is No. 1 operator for Cosden's polystyrene unit and has served eight years as head of Local 826 of the IUOE, far longer than any other individual. Watkins was in the U.S. Marines from 1941-47, serving 42 months in the Pacific on Guadalcanal and in the Solomons. A few years after he got out of service, he and his wife picked out Big Spring as the place they wanted to live. They have three daughters, one in high school, one in Runnels, and one to start in the autumn. "I have long been interested in our schools," he said, "but I became intensely interested in working on the committee supporting our master plan program for the schools. I feel like we have a good system, good administrators and a good staff. I have utmost respect for their background and experience. These are professional people, and I respect them as such, and I want the opportunity to work with them toward ever increasing the educational opportunities of our children."

High School Bandsmen Change Tour Plans

Big Spring High School band members, who had been planning a week's trip to Old Mexico, have substituted a trip to Houston, Corpus Christi and San Antonio instead. They are to appear in the Corpus Christi Bucaneer Music Festival, and participate in concert and sight reading competition there. The group will then go to Houston, where they will attend a night baseball game at the Astrodome, attend church on the morning of April 30, tour the NASA facilities, and then take off for San Antonio. The trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District, after considerable discussion, it was felt by some of the members that the time lost from school was too great. It was also debated whether this might not be the final junket the band will be able to take — its size to be expanded in years ahead to such proportions as to make such events impractical. The trip was supported by a large number of members of the Band Booster Club, who showed up to press for approval of the project.

directors, with two full time at high school, one each at the two junior high schools, with these men also serving on a part time basis at the high school. BAND PROGRAM A marching band of 200 members is being proposed — a project which will call for the duties of an assistant band director at the high school. The director will want one or two other bands and a concert band. One expense involved will be the capital outlay of $13,000 for band uniforms, plus cost of additional large band instruments. Anticipated total band expense will run $47,000. The band boosters on hand at the meeting spoke for a full time band director at each junior high school rather than a suggestion that one band director serve both junior high schools. Anderson had drawn up a list of questions about the band and the problems the new set up will develop. These he asked the board members to study and fill out. The board appointed a special committee of its own members to investigate all phases of the problem and report its findings to the board. Mrs. Roscoe Cowper, Dr. Carl Marcum, representing the high school choir, and Grant Boardman are on the committee.

Firemen Make A Water Haul

Big Spring City Firemen would like to know the identity of a man who called in to report a "big grass fire" near Luther. Fire Marshal A. D. Meador said the caller was no teenager. "He was a man." The fire department, noting that the wind was blowing hard, hastily organized a truck manned it with four firemen and sent it hurrying to the Luther area. The firemen found no fire nor anyone having knowledge of one anywhere in the area. The run covered more than 35 miles. It is against the law to turn in a false fire alarm and the fire department will be most happy to insure prosecution, if the identity of the caller can be established. "What kick," asked Meador, "could a grown man get out of a thing like that?"

GI Recalls Friday 13th

By The Associated Press
Not a superstitious fellow, James Bell, a Texan at war, took no particular note of the date as he trudged through the Vietnam jungles on patrol. It was Friday the 13th.

"I was thinking about how lucky I had been," recalls L. Cpl. Bell, 18, of Gregory. He had been in Vietnam seven months and had some close calls, but never been wounded.

CLOUD OF DUST
Then the grenade went off. "I saw a cloud of dust, and the next thing I knew I was on the ground. I got up. I didn't know I had been hit."

Shrapnel tore into his left wrist, hit the left side of his face, knocked out a few teeth and tore into his legs. The GI walking in front of him had tripped the booby trap grenade.

SNIPER FIRE
About the same time, sniper fire broke out. His platoon commander and two others were wounded.

Bell, platoon radio operator, called for medical evacuation and soon was on his way to a field hospital.

Bell is now recuperating at the U.S. Naval Hospital in Corpus Christi from the January incident. His face and legs are well, but the wrist will take time to heal.

Webb Medical Facilities Checked For Future Plans

An on-site survey team checked over Webb AFB and its medical facilities in relation to the community Tuesday.

The team, explained Col. Jack C. Carmichael, assistant for medical facilities planning, office of the deputy assistant secretary of Defense (health and medical), included Webb in its tour of inspection while studying the possibility of upgrading facilities.

The problem, he said, is first of all to determine the needs of taking care of the Air Force family, then relate this to available facilities, plus existing facilities.

Col. Chester J. Butcher, wing commander, welcomed the group to the base, and Lt. Col. M. E. Frantz, director of the base medical services, was host to the team members.

With Col. Carmichael were Winton Ross, Washington, D. C., hospital affairs branch, bureau of the budget; Col. Ned F. Conner, facilities division, office of the surgeon general, USAF; and Col. John A. Johnson, Randolph Field, plans and hospitalization director and executive officer to the ATC surgeon's office.

During the morning and early afternoon the group looked over the base and inspected the hospital, and during the afternoon viewed the community facilities. They were guests at a luncheon, to which Col. Butcher also invited several community and medical society leaders.

Textbook Group In Final Meet

The textbook committee will conduct its final session at 7 p.m. today in the board room of the administrative offices, said Noel Reed, assistant superintendent and chairman of the panel.

Texts are being chosen from state-approved lists in nine levels or areas of instruction. Sub-committees in all the schools have been studying and comparing texts from the approved lists and have made recommendations to the 15-member text panel. In most areas, there have been as many as five texts to evaluate, while some have three or four.

Areas and levels include basal readers (grades 4-6), handwriting (grades 1-6), health (grades 4-8), advanced math (high school), biology (I-II), speech, business law, French (III), American history (5th).

The bidding:
East South West North
Pass 1 ♠ 2 ♠ 2 ♠
3 ♥ 4 ♠ 5 ♥ 5 ♠
Pass Pass Pass

A well-concealed thrust enabled West to pierce South's armor and deliver a fatal blow to the latter's five-spade contract.

The auction was highly competitive, and West made a good decision when he refused to sell out cheaply to the opposition. Observe that the five-heart bid is a very cheap save, inasmuch as that contract can be defeated by only one trick. North's values were primarily distributional and he persisted to five spades.

West reasoned that the prospects for defeating five spades hinged on the defense being able to cash three tricks in hearts and clubs. It appeared likely from the auction that one of the opponents held a singleton heart, in which case West's quota would call for two club tricks.

If declarer held the king of clubs, it was desirable to put East on lead for a play thru South. West feared that, if he made the normal opening of the ace of hearts, it would be left to him to initiate the attack in clubs and an essential unit of time might thereby be lost.

West accordingly opened the three of hearts. East played the ten and, tho he was somewhat surprised to hold the trick, he promptly made the indicated shift to a club, and West cashed out in the suit to defeat the contract.

Observe that, if West leads the ace of hearts originally, he must cash the ace of clubs immediately to prevent South from scoring an overtrick, for dummy's diamond suit will provide declarer with all the discards he requires as soon as trumps are drawn.

Cultural Inventory Finished, Sent To State Commission

A monumental community cultural inventory has been completed by Mrs. Leslie D. Maulden and will be forwarded today to the Texas Fine Arts Commission.

The state agency had requested all Texas communities to share in a penetrating survey of what was available in the way of cultural, entertainment and recreational facilities and activities.

Mrs. Maulden has spent most of six weeks checking with nearly two score organizations, agencies and schools. Thirty-four of these filled out extensive questionnaires and forms. Separate ones were designed for the college; producing, sponsoring and related groups; facilities; schools; businesses; local government; civic clubs.

While the study was undertaken as a factual inventory, there were some areas in which there was a noticeable dearth of activity such as fine arts festival, fair, opera, ballet, folk festival, book fair, classical movies, orchestra, commercial art galleries, museum, creative writing groups, archeological groups, etc.

In some of these the survey indicated considerable interest, in some there appeared insufficient potential.

The study noted numerous areas of activity such as study and professional-culture groups, agencies for esthetics and beautification; library; historical preservation; musicals; art exhibits; recreational (more than 30 types of establishments or agencies).

It also listed tourist attractions and the Peter Hurd mural at the post office; the city auditorium and city park amphitheatre.

There appeared to be a good supply of teachers, particularly in the field of music, and to a lesser degree in the field of graphic arts.

The material goes to the state commission, which is operating under a private grant to make the state-wide survey, and will be included in a broad study aimed at ultimately stimulating interest in cultural affairs and in assisting communities in bolstering this facet of community life.

"I want to express my appreciation to each of you who helped in the survey of our community," said Mrs. Maulden. "This has been a big job, it has given us an excellent opportunity to serve our state in doing a worthwhile thing. We hope the results will be far-reaching and will be of much value in future planning in our community. I hope this will have the added benefit of helping place Texas among the cultured states."

T-TA Reports High Earnings

HOUSTON — Trans-Texas Airways, Inc., earned a record $903,000 in the year 1966, up nearly 28 per cent from 1965, William S. Mackey Jr., vice president-finance, announced today. Net earnings per share for 1966 were $1.15 compared with 97 cents in 1965.

Revenues were up 20 per cent to an all time high of $27,500,000 despite a $613,000 reduction in federal subsidy. The improvement in net earnings came largely from lower effective U.S. income tax rates and increased gains from the sale of property. Higher operating expenses restricted the growth in operating income to 4.7 per cent over the prior year.

T-TA scored an all time high in traffic during 1966 by carrying 1,225,000 passengers, up 32 per cent over 1965. Plane miles flown increased nearly 14 per cent to 17,000,000 which translated into a nearly 16 per cent increase in available seat miles to 592,000,000.

He is a world renowned geologist who has served as a consultant to a number of South American countries, and played a prominent role in development of the oil industry in Australia.

Flames Trap Truck Driver

WILMINGTON, Calif. (AP) — A tanker truck driver died Tuesday night when his vehicle overturned and ruptured, spilling 6,600 gallons of flaming liquid on a busy freeway offramp and into Los Angeles harbor, police reported.

Investigators said the unidentified driver was trapped inside his truck's cab by the flames, which prevented firemen from approaching.

Officials said some of the liquid — identified as methyl isobutyl ketone — ran through drainage channels and spilled into the harbor six blocks away.

Fireboats at the scene towed six barges out of the way of the flames.

Officers said the fires in the storm drains and harbor were put out quickly but that it took more than two hours to determine that the driver had been inside the truck.

A Devotional For The Day

As the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater: so shall my word be. (Isaiah 55:10-11)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, we are grateful for the refreshing and strengthening miracle of the outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon us. Thanks be to Thee for the joy and the strength He supplies to our hearts as nothing else can. Shower us with blessings that we may bear fruit for Thee. In Christ's name. Amen.

An Issue To Be Faced Some Day

President Johnson's request for a $250 million annual increase in veterans' benefits, mainly to bring Vietnam war veterans' benefits in line with those of veterans of previous wars, undoubtedly will and should be approved by Congress. The obvious equity of that overrides any consideration of cost.

However, there is much that is inequitable and wasteful in the overall veterans' benefits program, jerry-built over a half century with never a thorough revision and reorganization. Adoption of the President's proposal will bring the annual cost of veterans' benefits to around $7 billion.

The time is nearing when that cost will compel a comprehensive review and re-adjustment to effect large economies while improving the fairness of compensation for wartime sacrifices. The President recognized this and is directing the veterans' affairs administration to make a study of the system "in consultation with leading veterans' groups." That is unlikely, however, to result in an impartial study with unbiased recommendations.

Though it may not be politically feasible until after the Vietnam war, what is needed is well-staffed study by a distinguished, impartial, independent special commission. Among its objectives would be to simplify the veterans' benefits programs, gear benefits more equitably to wartime sacrifices, merge the benefits with other health, welfare and pension programs where that would cut administrative costs, eliminate unjustified non-service-connected benefits and devise automatic inclusion of veterans of future wars in existing programs.

That will be politically difficult to do. Nevertheless, the cost of federal veterans' benefits is reaching a dimension where it will become economically imperative to eliminate unjustifiable expenditures and effect administrative economies.

Doubly Reprehensible

Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr. of Mississippi has properly described the bombing-death of Wharkest Jackson, a civil rights leader in Natchez, as a "heinous and senseless murder." The City of Natchez responded instantaneously to this revolting crime with a $25,000 reward for arrest of those responsible for the explosion.

This is not only lawlessness that transcends feelings about civil rights but it also is a classic example of insidious cowardice. It is evident that the good people of Mississippi resent this violent approach to the question, and it is hoped that they will press for a solution to this and similar occurrences. Too many of these have fit into a pattern, and some of them have been almost identical.

Murder is murder, and when it is conceived and executed in cowardice and under cover, it becomes doubly reprehensible. It doesn't matter when or where; it is a challenge to honor to deal with it with all powers at command.

David Lawrence

Mergers May Mean System Survival

WASHINGTON — Why have the number of business mergers in America reached unprecedented heights in the last two years? The Federal Trade Commission, in a report just issued, gives the figures on the continuation of the trend but does not attempt to explain the reasons for the consolidation of so many companies.

THERE IS MORE than meets the eye in what has been happening. For the fact is that the American free-enterprise system has been subject to some powerful influences, and among these is the introduction of new factors in domestic as well as in international competition.

While mergers are due primarily to a desire to increase profits in companies which are already successful, there are often situations in which the weaker companies in a particular industry find it almost essential, in order to survive, that they combine their resources with the larger competitors.

THE TREND toward high merger activity, which was evident at the close of World War II, slackened somewhat during the postwar recession, and then resumed the upward movement. But even back in the 1920's the concept of putting together competing companies began to be widely embraced. At that time also what was known as "diversification" was given new emphasis as companies which had concentrated in one industry saw the necessity of investing in an entirely different line in order to provide a safety valve against severe competition that might arise within the original field of business.

IT WAS NOT uncommon, therefore, to see mergers extended to businesses that were wholly unrelated to one another. Unfortunately, when the big depression started in 1929, many of the diversified companies felt financial strains, although these were generally less painful than those of the smaller companies which had not been able to acquire partners with big resources.

The movement toward consolidations is not confined to any single part of the economic sector. In 1966, however, nearly 70 per cent of the full acquisitions were in the manufacturing line, while merger activity fell off among companies which provide services rather than goods.

THE POSSIBILITY of antitrust action has doubtless prevented many mergers that otherwise would have contributed to the stability of an industry and lessened the ill effects of dissolutions which are forced when the small company is to withstand.

While the American legal system is designed to prevent private monopoly, there have been instances in which small companies have been driven out of business by competition itself. Also, in many cases, if it were not for the merging of middle-sized companies in a particular industry, the top corporations would wind up with a virtual monopoly.

SO THE DEPARTMENT of Justice cannot justify any blanket opposition to mergers as such, and must examine each case to determine whether it is likely to lead to harmful or to constructive results. Not long ago the Supreme Court of the United States, by a 6-3 decision, blocked the merger of two grocery chains in Los Angeles, though their combined sales were less than 8 per cent of the retail market in their area.

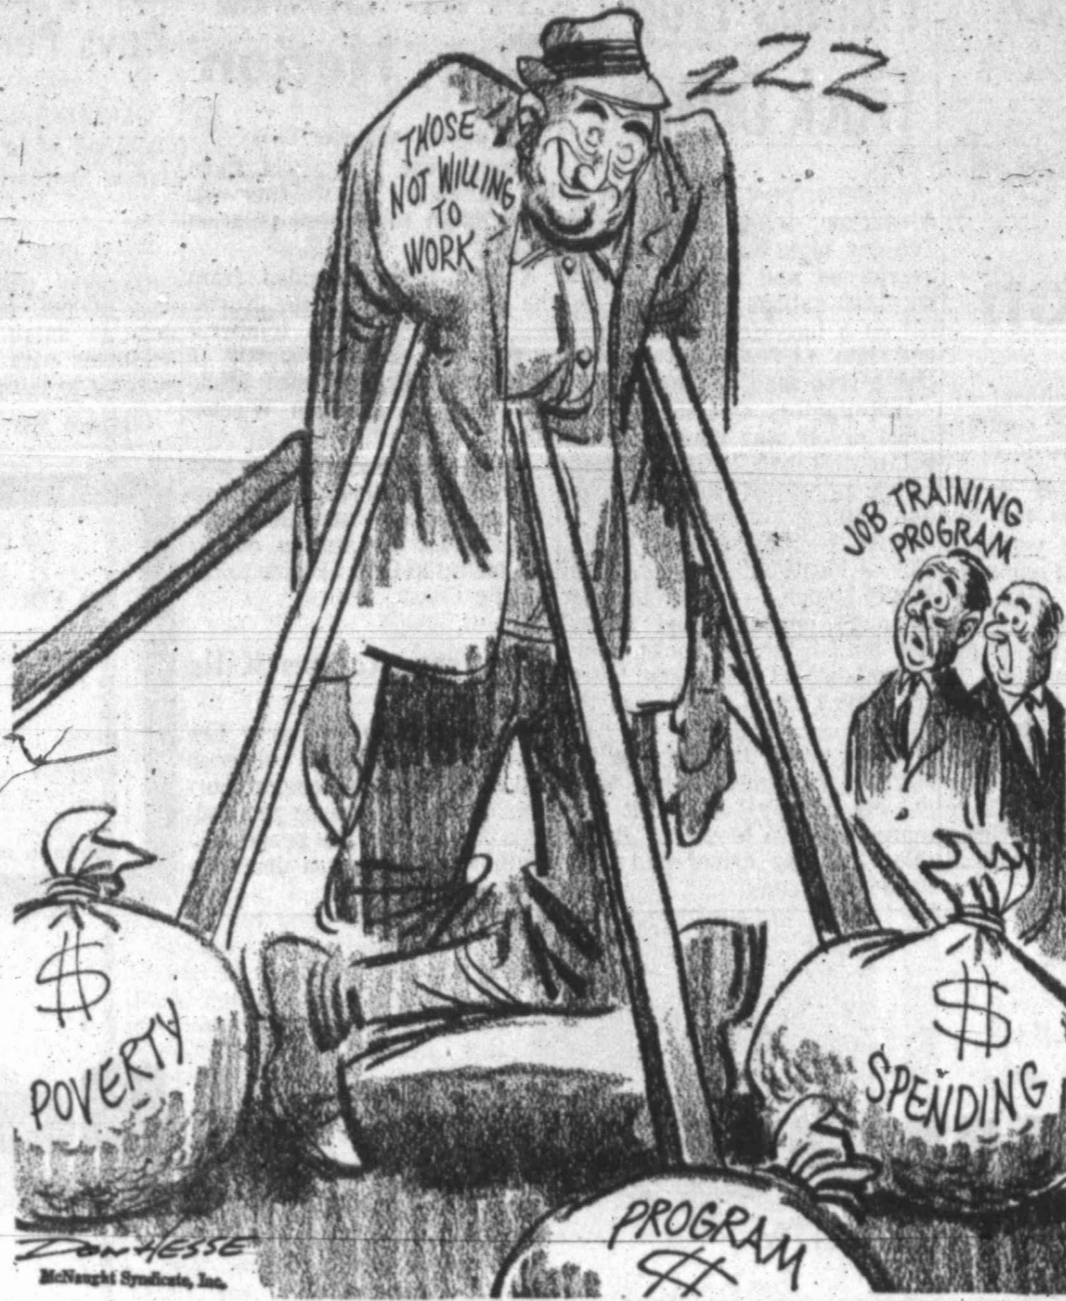

The rise in the number of mergers is, for the most part, a sign of healthy conditions in business, though in some instances the combinations are brought about to avert threatened disaster. About the subject is fully analyzed, on the other hand, it will be found that many mergers, especially between the smaller units in an industry, are due largely to an inability to gather together the necessary working capital to expand. Hence, the merger idea has proved to be an effective way to preserve the free-enterprise system.

None of the new group has disclosed any plans for digging.

'IF WE CAN JUST KEEP HIM AWAKE'

James Marlow Clark Called Court's Clearest Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court will lose its clearest and best-organized writer when Justice Tom C. Clark retires, sometime before the end of June.

Yet, he has had small recognition for the clarity of the opinions he wrote, perhaps because he was less colorful or controversial than some of the other eight justices.

Now 67 and on the bench since 1949, Clark announced Tuesday his decision to step down after President Johnson named his son, Ramsey Clark, 39, attorney general. The younger Clark had been acting attorney general.

JUSTICE CLARK'S reason for leaving: to avoid any conflict of interest since the Justice Department, under his son, will be handling Supreme Court cases.

The present court, for courage and the tremendous impact of its decisions in the past 12 years, is probably the greatest in American history. But most of the justices still write opinions in the fashion of 75 or 100 years ago.

In short, those opinions lack precision, self-discipline, good organization and therefore the kind of easy clarity the court could but doesn't achieve. As a result, most of the opinions are a complex scramble.

Clark's opinions, when he was writing for the majority or dissenting, got to the point in a hurry, stating the case, background, opinion, and the reason for it.

THE COURT has been told privately and publicly that it could and should do better writing but it won't change. Thus, from a literary view, it justly could be called reactionary.

Clark was the court's real middle-man. He could never be flatly identified as liberal or conservative. He moved from one side to the other, depending on the case, although it seems fair to say he was frequently very conservative.

He was part of the court which in 1954 outlawed public school segregation. But in 1957, in two very important cases involving communism, he was the lone dissenter when the court voted twice 6 to 1. In 1966 he was part of the majority which banned poll taxes as a prerequisite in state voting.

Hal Boyle Office Zoo Antics

NEW YORK (AP) — No drama about modern business life would be complete without an account of how people come to work each morning and meet the fresh challenge of a new day.

Just getting there, in many cases, is the biggest victory they may have in mind that day. It is a long way to go simply to find a place to rest in their home away from home.

If you are an inhabitant of an office zoo, some of these how-to-get-the-day-started types may be familiar to you:

THE PIONEER—as the first one in, he figures it is his empire. He walks around the empty place, picking up a pencil here, a paper clip there, then plops downstairs for a two-hour coffee break.

The suburbanite—He arrives swathed like a polar explorer or a pilgrim from Siberia. By the time he takes off his boots, removes his coats, unwinds his muffler, sheds his sweater, stops his teeth from chattering and swallows his cough medicine, he has 15 minutes left to do his work for the day. Then he must start rewrapping himself he'll miss his train back to the suburbs.

THE PROCRUSTATOR—With a bustle of importance he rushes to his desk and stares at the work he left unfinished yesterday. When no one is looking, he picks up the papers and drops them on an empty desk some distance from his own. He figures that by the time the papers are found and sent through channels back to him, it will be tomorrow.

The gossip—"I just peeked into the office of the junior executive, and there was a single wilted rose lying on his calendar," she says. "Who do you suppose left it there, and when, and why?"

The stoic—Plodding to his swivel chair, he begins to scribble furiously on a pad as if his ideas were coming too fast for one hand to put down. Finally, he relaxes and leans back. He just figured out that he has 19 years 7 months, 2 weeks, one day, 7 hours and 53 minutes to go until he retires.

The semiformal greeter—this chatterbox says "hello" to everybody, asks if they had any trouble getting home the night before, what they had for dinner, how they slept and whether they met any interesting bus drivers on the way to work this morning.

THE OFFICE BOY—lifting his wisp of blond beard from a paperback copy of the selected contents of Kafka, he pours the contents of the in-basket into the out-basket then dumps the contents of the out-basket into the wastebasket, he stares lovingly into the mirror, combs his long hair with maddening fingers, murmurs aloud, "Life is chaos," and wonders what Proust would do if he had to earn his living in a business office.

To Your Good Health

Difference Between Headache And Neuralgia

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: What is the difference between histamine headache and neuralgia, and what can be done?

I have been having terrible pains in my face and ear which from a description sound like neuralgia. My doctor has given me pain killers. Sometimes I have the pains every year, sometimes every other year, but this has continued for 13 years now. — MRS. T. B.

First order of business in a case like this is to identify the trouble as best as possible. After 13 years of it, I would recommend seeing a neurologist.

Histamine headache very often includes intense pain back of one eye which possibly might fit your "pains in my face and ear." And might not.

Histamine headaches often are cyclic, precipitated by periods of anxiety, emotional upsets, alcohol, fatigue. Treatment varies: Preparations containing ergot, given by mouth, injection or rectal suppository, may give relief. In other instances desensitization with tiny doses of histamine may be the answer.

But these measures are of no use if the pain is neuralgia, which is involvement of a nerve trunk. Neuralgia tends to be a pretty constant affair instead of coming and going like headaches. It calls for totally different treatment, which is why I put such stress on the need for exact diagnosis.

Dental problems, a faulty bite among them, may cause pain in the area you mention. Disorders of the jaw joint must also be considered.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain why some of us get so easily, and how we can get over it. — M. H.

Some folks have a supersensitive "gag reflex" which tightens muscles of the throat. If a tongue depressor is used in an examination, the patient often can avoid gagging by breathing through the mouth.

If you have trouble swallowing food and drink, taking smaller amounts slowly will prevent gagging.

A long soft palate and any disorder of the esophagus are other factors.

Dear Dr. Molner: My daughter and I would like to know if it is harmful to use bar soap on our hair. We don't rub it on directly, but work up a lather with our hands. With one particular brand we have had better luck than with any of the shampoos on the market. — MRS. J. K.

No, ordinary hand soap such as you use in the bathroom will not harm your hair. Results are what count. If you have found a brand you like, by all means use it.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband has been diabetic since childhood. We have two children, aged eight and 10. I have checked their urine for sugar but found none. Should they have a blood sugar test regularly? My doctor knows their father is diabetic but has not mentioned that test for them. — M. V.

Occasional testing of urine collected two hours after a meal is sufficient, I believe. Children usually show other signs of diabetes quickly if the disease develops: Thirst, urinary frequency, weight loss, bed-wetting. (I don't mean that bed-wetting alone is a symptom of diabetes, of course.)

If your youngsters are ill with a fever and show any sugar, then a blood sugar test or even a sugar tolerance test would be wise.

You are sensible in checking the urine occasionally, but don't make a big issue of it. They may not develop diabetes despite their father's history. One precaution: Don't let them get fat.

Around The Rim

What Do These Names Mean?

My historically-minded colleague, Sam Blackburn, had a piece a short time ago about the ill-starred community of Chicago, Texas. It was a fascinating story about the town that simply picked up and moved lock stock and barrel into Lamesa, which had beaten it in a county-seat election. In one simple move, Chicago simply ceased to exist.

WHAT IS especially significant about this story, however, is that some individuals with a sense of responsibility to posterity erected a marker where Chicago once stood. Moreover, they did it now while this could be done accurately, and while those who knew about the incident could still testify about it. They are to be congratulated for their initiative. Most of us would have sat back and said "they (whoever they) is) ought to do something about it."

HOW MANY places are there around these parts which should be marked so that the next generation, or those who come after them, will know that this is the spot where such-and-such an event happened or where a certain community once stood?

Do you know where Panther Draw is? How about Green Valley? Ever hear of Bisco school? Auto? Soash? New Drumwright? Ross City? Moore? Some of these were no more than names of remote rural schools. Some were once roaring communities.

ONE OF the most famous of all institutions was the long S ranch of Col. C. C. Slaughter. Headquarters for this were located north of Vealmoor, just over in Borden County. From this spot, the affairs of scores of cowboys and thousands of cattle grazing upon thousands of sections of land were administered. It is not exaggeration to say that much of the cattle industry of this area had its genesis in this place. But just where is this spot?

In this connection, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Martin, who formerly headed the English department at Howard County Junior College and who now is at Odessa College, is aiding Dr. Fred Tarpley, ETSCU at Commerce, in trying to compile a dictionary of place names.

SHE URGES that Howard County and surrounding area residents help her with the origin of such names as Abrams, Alward, Beals Branch, Bethel, Buzzard Creek, Calf Creek, Center Point, Cherry Creek, Chimney Creek, Coronet, Devils Creek, Gay Hill, Guthrie Draw Creek, Hartwell Hill, Hollow Creek.

Or the name Howard, Iatan Creek, Iatan Lake, South Prong Creek, Top, Jarel, Midway, Modesta, Moore, Morgan Creek, Morita, Moss Creek Lake, Mustang Draw, Natural Dam Salt Lake, Plumb Draw Creek, Rattlesnake Gap, Red Draw Creek, Salem, Sandy Draw Creek, Sandy Hollow Creek, Snyder, South Haven, Spring Creek, Trinity, Vealmoor East, and Vangris.

WE CAN help her with a few of these. Maybe you can, too.

And maybe we all could help by putting up a few markers ourselves. Or better still, by finding a devoted few who would take the ball of a feverent county historical society and run with it. This should be a service made to order that some of our retired and semi-retired folk can give. —JOE PICKLE

Holmes Alexander Can't Beat Somebody With Nobody

WASHINGTON — If President Johnson was worried about his re-election chances at the turn of the year, he now has good reason to cheer up. His popularity rating in the polls is low, he's made no progress at closing his credibility gap and the November victories of Republicans show that the Democratic party has lost its momentum. But the presidential contest is still a match-race, and the President has the soundest of all political odds going for him — you can't beat somebody with nobody.

EVEN IF Gov. George Romney were twice the public figure that he is, he would be running into the teeth of an historical head wind. State governors are has-beens as national candidates. Franklin Roosevelt barely beat the curfew on executives from the provincial capitals. There were no international problems in 1932 that came close to matching the depression as a national attention-getter. By the time it came for FDR to make himself a lifetime monarch with a third and fourth term, he was running entirely on his record and experience in foreign affairs.

FROM THAT day onward, the jig was up for governors who sought to become presidents. Dewey and Stevenson were badly outrun. By 1960, both parties were nominating Washington-based candidates, and in 1964, an Arizona senator beat off one GOP governor after another for the nomination. Last week Romney, in a five-state tour, was proving again that the evidence of a governor's ignorance increases as he approaches the waterline of foreign affairs.

RICHARD NIXON, beaten by John Kennedy and Pat Brown, and never a decision-maker in his days as vice president, remains a popular party figure, but there are those who consider him only an intraparty one. The heir of the Goldwater wing. The word is that Gov. Rockefeller will spend his last dime to stamp out Nixon's career.

on's career. It's sad but true that Nixon, the most loyal Republican of them all, cannot expect loyalty for himself.

The henchmen of Sen. Robert Kennedy, but not the senator himself, still claim to see him in the running for the Democratic nomination next year. There was a time, as in 1964 at Atlantic City, when Bob Kennedy might well have stamped a convention. There also was a time prior to this year, when he looked fully capable of sweeping half a dozen state primary elections like his brother before him.

BUT THE serialization of That Book has taken the bloom off the Kennedy rose, and its publication in April seems likely to wither that same rose on its vine. For these and other reasons, the living Kennedy brothers, no longer bearing the special privilege that made senators of them, are reduced to the common lot they'll have to make good on their own from now on, and next year's too soon.

George Wallace of Alabama, another dynasty-builder, has said that he can do at least as well as Goldwater did, which means carrying five Southern states and perhaps one more in the West. But Wallace won't be taking any liberal votes from Johnson, only conservative votes from the Republican candidate.

PROVOKINGLY, Johnson is stronger than his party. Ironically, that party has been weakened by following the Johnson leadership into what is now the shambles of the Great Society. But by next year LBJ will almost certainly have won his war in Asia. And gone are the days when domestic failures could defeat a sitting president whom the country knows to be experienced in foreign affairs.

It isn't that Johnson can't be beaten or shouldn't be beaten. But the man isn't yet in sight who could bring it off. (Distributed by McNought Syndicate, Inc.)

John Cunniff Uncle Sam Enters Retail Book Business

NEW YORK (AP) — The Government Printing Office, which last year sold 66.6 million publications at an average price of 22 cents, is gradually expanding into the retail book business.

"We might get some flak from the commercial bookstores," said James Harrison, whose title is Public Printer, "but we're really not competitive with them."

Plans of the 72-year-old agency to make its publications available at its own stores in cities other than Washington is a sharp change in direction. Not long ago it had just one store, in its own building in Washington.

THE CHANGE comes in response to a directive from President Johnson to heads of agencies asking them to explore ways in which they could improve their services to the public.

Partly as a result, the Printing Office now has four stores and another planned in Washington, another in operation in Chicago, and plans for a big, ground level store in Kansas City. All will be in federal buildings.

Beyond these three cities, the agency is playing it by ear. But federal buildings abound, and most of the new ones have large open spaces in their lobbies, the kind of location suitable for book display.

"As long as we've got federal buildings we should make use of them," said Harrison.

"If we find the demand is there and Congress clamors we would also consider taking space in a commercial building. We feel this information belongs to the public and should be made available."

ply wasn't done, perhaps for fear of criticism from commercial booksellers.

Instead, for many years the Printing Office concentrated its retail activities in a store on the ground floor of its main Washington building and in a mail order business.

This mail order business is huge. The Printing Office claims one million subscribers for its selected list of important government publications, issued 30 times a year. Thousands more subscribe to lists in specific categories.

Nevertheless, all this material also had been available at wholesale to commercial booksellers, the concept being that since the publications were printed for the public they should be as widely distributed as possible. But there has been little acceptance from the commercial booksellers.

FOR ONE thing, the 27,000 Government Printing Office titles would present an enormous inventory problem for any bookstore. For another, most titles sell at a very low price. The profit potential apparently is not there.

In addition, the commercial sellers generally have rejected as too small the 25 per cent discount given on wholesale orders. They want, instead, a discount closer to 40 per cent.

SOME PUBLISHERS have, however, managed a seemingly more acceptable profit by reproducing the government works, which is their right, and selling them at prices higher than in the government catalogue.

Meanwhile, a Government Printing Office spokesman commented that the only recent expansion of orders from the regular retail outlets seem to be confined to college bookstores.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

By LUCILLE PICKLE
This is a good time of the year to get up early and watch the sunrise. A great number of people make remarks about the beautiful sunsets in our part of the world . . . and it is true that they are outstanding. I am led to believe, however, that a great many more people are on hand to watch the sun set than are up and about to see it rise. Each morning we watch the dawn break over South Mountain. I see it through the bare branches of our big willow and the scene is beautiful in nature, but no one would think it particularly worthy of putting on canvas. To me it looks like a line drawing done on a super background of softest pastels.

DON COKER, son of MR. and MRS. LEONARD COKER, arrived Tuesday from Marine training in California. He is to spend his leave here before reporting to his base in North Carolina.

MR. and MRS. GEORGE McALISTER JR. left from Terminal Airport this morning for Los Angeles, Calif., where they will join a group that will be attending the National Audio-Visual Association convention in Waikiki, Hawaii. The schedule for the entertainment of the tourists includes tours of various plantations, and the trip should cover 12 days.

MISS OCTAVINE COOPER, longtime friend of MRS. T. M. COLLINS, left this morning after spending a week here. Miss Cooper taught at one time in Colorado City, and JOE POND was one of her pupils. She taught at Hardin-Simmons University and in Baton Rouge, La., before retiring several years ago.

Before returning to her home in Baton Rouge, Miss Cooper will visit MRS. SAM MAJORS in Colorado City, and MRS. DEFFENBAUGH in Abilene.

Another visitor in Mrs. Collins' home during the past week was a nephew, DELMAR L. DANIELS of Lubbock.

MR. and MRS. DON DUNCAN were in San Antonio over the weekend to attend the Texas Art Educators Association meeting. Mr. Duncan, an instructor in Goliad Junior High School, gave a talk on art curriculum in public schools.

Former residents, MR. and MRS. JOHN HOGUE and their five children, were here from their home in Fort Worth at the end of last week and were guests of MR. and MRS. GRANT BOARDMAN and their family.

Xi Mu Unit Plans Sale Of Wiglet

Mrs. Wade Choate presided as Mrs. Jones, Miss Beverlyn Jones and Mrs. Redden were named to the nominating committee. Reports were given on the recent Valentine dance and plans begun for the Founder's Day banquet in April. Xi Mu Chapter will be in charge of decorations and those to work on the committee are Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Kenneth Curry, Mrs. Truett Vines, Mrs. Newsom, Mrs. Jerry Spence and Mrs. Joe Horton. At the banquet, a local woman will be named "Woman of the Year" and Xi Mu will name a "Girl of the Year."

Mrs. Frankie Simpkins, a cosmetic company representative, gave the program and refreshments were served from a table covered with white lace. Seventeen attended.

The March 13 meeting will be hosted by Mrs. Vines at her home on Hilltop Road.

A candlelight initiation ceremony was held for Miss Mayvonne Sherer, and 70 visits to the sick and shut-in were reported by the 36 attending.

A LOVELIER YOU

Routine Inspired By Hawaiian Movements

By MARY SUE MILLER

Would you like to have hands with the grace of an Hawaiian dancer? They're entrancing to see! And a truly feminine asset!

If you think for a moment that your hands cannot be taught to move in so fluid a pattern, just try these routines which are taken from parts of Hawaiian ceremonial dances:

"Waves": Raise arms forward to shoulder level with elbows slightly bent; turn palms down and raise right hand about one inch. Now tilt palms to face right and sweep arms to right until elbows start to straighten, immediately turn palms to left and sweep arms to left across body. Repeat 10 times, with undulating, wave-like motions.

"Dunes": Place left hand on right shoulder. Extend right arms to sides at shoulder level. With plenty of wrist motion describe the small semi-circles with hand - as if scooping up sand. While scooping, move arm continually back and forth across body. Repeat with left arm.

"Breeze": Bend elbows and touch index fingers to center chest. Now move elbows up and down like wings of birds in flight. At same time, quickly move each finger in turn, as though playing piano scales.

Throughout work for rhythm and coordination. After a few practice periods you'll be amazed by the increased grace and poise in your everyday hand movements. As we said, what an asset!

LAZY EXERCISES
Here's an effortless way to trim off heavy spots. All you do is lie down or sit down, and flex your muscles. If that's for you, send for "Lazy Girl's Exercises." Based on the isometric principle of exercise, routines trim head-to-toe figure. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 15 cents in coin.

Rainbow Girls Need Hosiery For Hospital

A hose drive to benefit therapy classes at the Big Spring State Hospital was organized when 73 members of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls met Tuesday evening in the Masonic Temple. Seventeen adults attended.

Jane Anderson, worthy advisor, presided as the girls made plans for a door-to-door collection of the used hosiery at 1 p.m., Saturday. Ayn McGlothlin, who holds the post of Charity, will head the drive as the girls work from 11 homes to cover the entire city. Homes which will provide a base of operation are those of Vickie Ammen, Miss McGlothlin, Melissa Simpson, Sherri Alexander, Mary Ellen Hodges, Cindy Cook, Jane Thompson, Marilyn McGuffy, Judy Stocks, Rhonda Barger and Linda Roberts, Coahoma.

Local residents who work or do not plan to be home are asked to put their hose on a porch or other convenient place. Anyone who is not contacted may call any of the members to have hose picked up. This is a project being undertaken by all Rainbow assemblies.

Initiation ceremonies were held for Ronda Hooper, Donna Jones, Rebecca Ouellette, Elizabeth Alsbury, Carla Wiggins, Brenda Thomas and Becky Barris. Miss Alexander asked that all girls assist with the sale of floral print ironing board covers for $1.50. Those wanting the covers may call AM 7-7295 after 5 p.m.

Cougars' Hayes Wins All-American Spot

NEW YORK (AP) — Lew Alcindor, UCLA's supersophomore, was named today as the college basketball Player of the Year by The Associated Press.

The 7-foot-1 1/2 inch, 215-pound Alcindor, a native New Yorker who has lived up to all the rosy predictions made when he was still in high school, received 215 of 290 votes cast. Far behind in second place was Jim Walker of Providence with 49.

Buffalo Queens Defeat Mertzon

Forsan won its way into the Region VI-B girls' basketball tournament by flogging Mertzon, 56-40, in the HCJC gym here Tuesday night.

The Buffalo Queens were coming off a one-sided defeat at the hands of Springlake and had trouble with the Green Hornets for a half but Mollie Condon and Sherry Walraven began to find the range after the intermission and the Queens scored all doubt as to the outcome.

Forsan, in the words of its coach, Don Stevens, has looked much better than it did against Mertzon. If they get back in the groove, they'll pose a major threat for the VI-B crown here Tuesday night.

Last night's victory was the Queens' 30th in 36 starts. Condon ripped the cords for 24 points to lead her team in scoring. Mary Simpson had 16 and Walraven 12. Nancy Anderson got the other four, before shifting to a guard position.

Mertzon was led by Dolores Gonzales, who coupled two field goals with nine gratis pitches for 13 points. Sussie Ewing had 11 for the Hornets.

Ewing made the only field goal Mertzon had in the first half. Even though the Hornets could not connect from the floor, they trailed by a mere five points (at 23-15) when the intermission arrived.

Mertzon ended its season with a 12-13 record.

FORSAN (56) — Mollie Condon 6-12 24; Sherry Walraven 6-12; Mary Simpson 12-16; Nancy Anderson 3-6 14. Total 56-40.
MERTZON (40) — Dolores Gonzales 2-9 11; Ann Lovelorn 2-9; Sussie Ewing 5-11; Susan Thomas 1-4 7. Total 40-56.

Duke Refuses To Surrender In Cage Wars

Don't count Duke out of the NCAA postseason tournament for the national collegiate basketball championship.

The Blue Devils from Durham, N.C., are on the way back after being virtually counted out in the wake of their two December trouncings by the top-ranked UCLA Bruins and their supersophomore, Lew Alcindor.

Led by Bob Verga's 39 points, Coach Vic Bubas' boys crushed Wake Forest 113-71 Tuesday night for their fourth in a row and 11th victory in their last 12 starts.

Ahead is a Saturday afternoon game with nationally third-ranked North Carolina and then next week's Atlantic Coast Conference championship tournament for an NCAA berth.

Verga scored 15 field goals on 20 shots and converted nine of 10 free throws as the Blue Devils upped their season record to 16-6. It was the highest point total ever for a visiting player on the Wake Forest court.

The Blue Devils reached the semifinals of the 1966 national tournament before losing to Kentucky at College Park, Md. They finished in third place by beating Utah.

Elvin Hayes of Houston and Jim Walker of Providence, named to the first team All-American by The Associated Press before game time, shared the scoring headlines with Verga.

Hayes scored 41 points for the seventh-ranked Houston team to lead the Cougars in a 106-64 home court bout of New Orleans Loyola.

Walker tallied 33 points to pace Providence to a 68-67 squeaker over the visiting DePaul Blue Demons. Two free throws by Walker in the last 33 seconds provided the winning margin.

The 19th-ranked Boston College Eagles, the only other team in the AP Top Ten to see action, similarly pulled out an 80-76 home court victory over Canisius on successful free throws in the closing seconds.

Jack Kvanec converted twice from the foul line to break a 76-76 tie with 51 seconds left. Four seconds later Doug Hice sank two more free throws for the final points.

Walt Tiberi, with 23 points, and Ron Kozilek with 20 combined for 43 points to lead Northwestern to a 91-82 victory over Wisconsin at Evanston and keep the Wildcats one game back of first-place Indiana in the torrid Big Ten scramble.

Nebraska also kept its Big Eight hopes alive with an 80-73 road victory over Missouri behind Stuart Lantz's 25 points. Ron Coleman got 30 for the losers.

Local Girls Win Again
The Big Spring High School girls' volleyball team scored its second straight victory in District 2-AAAA competition here Tuesday night, turning back Midland High by scores of 14-15, 15-4.

The two teams play a return match in Midland Friday night. Senior Carol Sturm led the scoring for the Steerettes, accumulating 16 points.

Also impressive for the locals were Christi Price, Connie Trevino and Suzanne Milch.

The Big Spring B team also won. Standout for the locals in that one was Sharon Hughey.

TITLE THIRD FOR HAWKS
The championship title HCJC Jayhawks won earlier this week was the third the local team has won or shared since the Western Conference was organized immediately prior to the 1960-61 season.

Rich Allen Says Offer Too Low

When a guy grows up in Wampum, Pa., it's only natural that he develop a more than passing interest in money.

And when he hits 317 belts 40 home runs and knocks in 110 runs, the interest becomes intense.

So Rich Allen is prepared to spend this summer selling automobiles instead of hitting baseballs unless the Philadelphia Phillies fill his pockets with cash.

Specifically, Allen is asking for $100,000, which is considerably more wampum than he got last year. He figures his figures make him worth the investment.

But John Quinn, Philadelphia's general manager, who holds the purse strings, hasn't been swayed yet.

"Quinn saw me all last summer," argues Allen, who is keeping busy selling cars. "He knows what I did, what I didn't do. He talks about my salary going up a little each year."

"I want what I'm worth now, not when I'm an old man. He's got my figure. Maybe he thinks I'll come down. I won't."

Allen said he started thinking about this year's contract and the $100,000 figure when he was hurt last summer. He missed 24 games with a lame shoulder.

"That's all a player has got to his body," reasons Rich. "If I'd be seriously hurt so I couldn't play, what would I have? Nothing."

Ponies Nudge Aggie Quint By 85-71 Tab

Southern Methodist, relaxed and unwound since it clinched the Southwest Conference basketball championship, ahead of time with some hair-raising finishes, easily trounced Texas A&M 85-71 Tuesday night.

It not only broke a home-court jinx but kept the Methodists three games ahead with only one to play. Not since 1960 had SMU beaten the Aggies at College Station although winning or sharing three championships in a row.

Texas Christian continued to slump in the stretch, taking an 88-79 licking from Texas. That boosted Texas into second place and dropped the Frogs into a third place tie with Baylor, which took Rice into camp 73-68.

Texas Tech thumped Arkansas 73-59 and pulled into undisputed fifth place.

The campaign grinds to a close Thursday night with Texas meeting SMU at Dallas, TCU host to Texas A&M, Baylor and Arkansas clashing at Fayetteville and Texas Tech winding up against Rice at Houston.

Denny Holman roped in 22 points and Charley Beasley 29 as Southern Methodist shot at a 54.7 pace to whip the Aggies. SMU led 14-30 at halftime and had little trouble the rest of the way.

Gary Overbeck was the big show as Texas shot down Texas Christian. He scored 20 points and grabbed 13 rebounds, and that was the difference in the game.

Between them, Stanton High School's Allen Springer and Buddy Shanks scored 1,020 points the past basketball season. Springer led the way with 517.

Shanks made two more field goals than Springer but Allen had more chances at the penalty line and made more (111 to 93).

Brevard became the first junior college basketball team in Florida to go unbeaten in regular competition (25-0) and ranked ninth in the final national poll but it is doubtful the Titans would prosper against junior college teams from other areas.

However, coach Jim Oler of Brevard ranged far to recruit his team. Among his athletes are two from Indiana, one from Pennsylvania plus an ex-serveiceman and a former pupil of his who coached at MacArthur High School in Hollywood, Fla.

The current Brevard team averages 6-2 in height and has no starter taller than 6-4 1/2.

Dr. Marvin Baker, president of South Plains College in Levelland, is a dyed-in-the-wool University of Texas fan, where he received his college degrees.

After he went to South Plains, he changed the school's colors to Orange and White and the athletic teams' nickname to Texans.

The best runs-producing hitter in the Chicago White Sox's history remains Zeke Bonura, who clubbed home 138 team-mates in 1936.

Bonura was regarded as a butcher around first base, although he had one of the top fielding averages in baseball.

The Indianapolis Clowns, a road show baseball outfit, would like to book an exhibition game here sometime this summer.

The management of the team is agreeable to working with Little League or Teenage League groups to raise funds for benefits.

The Clowns once played in a Little League park in Deming, N.M., and have also performed in Yankee Stadium in New York. They've appeared in as many as five games in one day. In Lubbock a few years ago, they appeared before 35 people while a tornado alert was in progress but have drawn as many paying customers as 41,127 at a single game.

All they ask of the sponsor is to supply a ball park, a dressing room, base umpire, baseballs for the game, ticket sellers and advertisement for the game.

One-time Big Spring Gordon (Moe) Madison rates Clarence Redic, declared ineligible during the middle of the past basketball season at Odessa Extr High School, on a par with the fabulous Dubby Malaise.

That's quite a statement to make but Moe says that Redic probably had a better shooting percentage than Malaise did in high school.

Bright Added To BS Staff

Charles Bright, a native of Merkel, has been added to the Big Spring High School coaching staff, athletic director Spike Dykes has announced.

Bright comes here from Channelview, where he served as head basketball coach and first assistant in football.

He is married to the former Kay Bagby of Merkel. They have one son, Jeff, age 3. The family has purchased a home at 3302 Cornell. They plan to become affiliated with a Baptist church here.

Bright comes highly recommended by members of the University of Houston staff, who have seen his work at close hand. His basketball team the past season finished with a 14-14 record.

Bright graduated from Merkel High School in 1958 after lettering four years as a quarterback. He enrolled at San Angelo Junior College where he played basketball one season under Phil George, then took his degree from North Texas State University in 1962.

He started coaching at Orange in the fall of 1962, helping Jackie Bond with the basketball program. He went to Channelview in 1964 and has been the basketball coach there the past three seasons.

In football, he coached the offensive and defensive backs. The Channelview team the past season won nine of 10 starts. The one defeat came in district competition and deprived the club of appearing in the playoffs.

Bright has done some work toward his master's degree at Howard Payne College in Brownwood and has indicated he will probably transfer back to North Texas State to finish work on it. The 1962 Orange team, which Bright was associated in a coaching capacity, won 11 and lost two, yielding to Pharr-San Juan-Alamo, 20-13, in the playoffs.

Bright's starting salary will be $7,720 per annum. In all, he has had 5 1/2 years of teaching experience. For the remainder of the year he will assist in teaching Driver Education at Goliad Junior High.

Wilt Better's FG Record

By The Associated Press. Ho hum. Wilt Chamberlain has broken another record. Big Wilt made the first four shots he took Tuesday night in Philadelphia's 127-107 victory over Cincinnati at Syracuse, N.Y., giving him a National Basketball Association record of 35 straight field goals.

The old record was 31 straight, set earlier this year by Chamberlain. The record before that was 19 straight, held by Chamberlain. Besides hitting on 11 of 14 field goal attempts and scoring 23 points, Chamberlain also picked up nine assists and grabbed 36 rebounds against the Royals. Cincinnati was led by Oscar Robertson with 24 points.

A field goal by Jerry West and a fumbled pass by Detroit's Dave DeBusschere gave the Los Angeles Lakers a 119-117 victory over the Pistons in the first game, and Willis Reed's field goal nailed down a 127-123 victory for New York over San Francisco in the second.

NBA Boycott Threatened

NEW YORK (AP) — A threat of a players' boycott of the upcoming National Basketball Association playoffs loomed today in an atmosphere of confusion.

A retroactive pension plan is at the heart of the controversy. The players say they have discussed this matter with the league; the league says no.

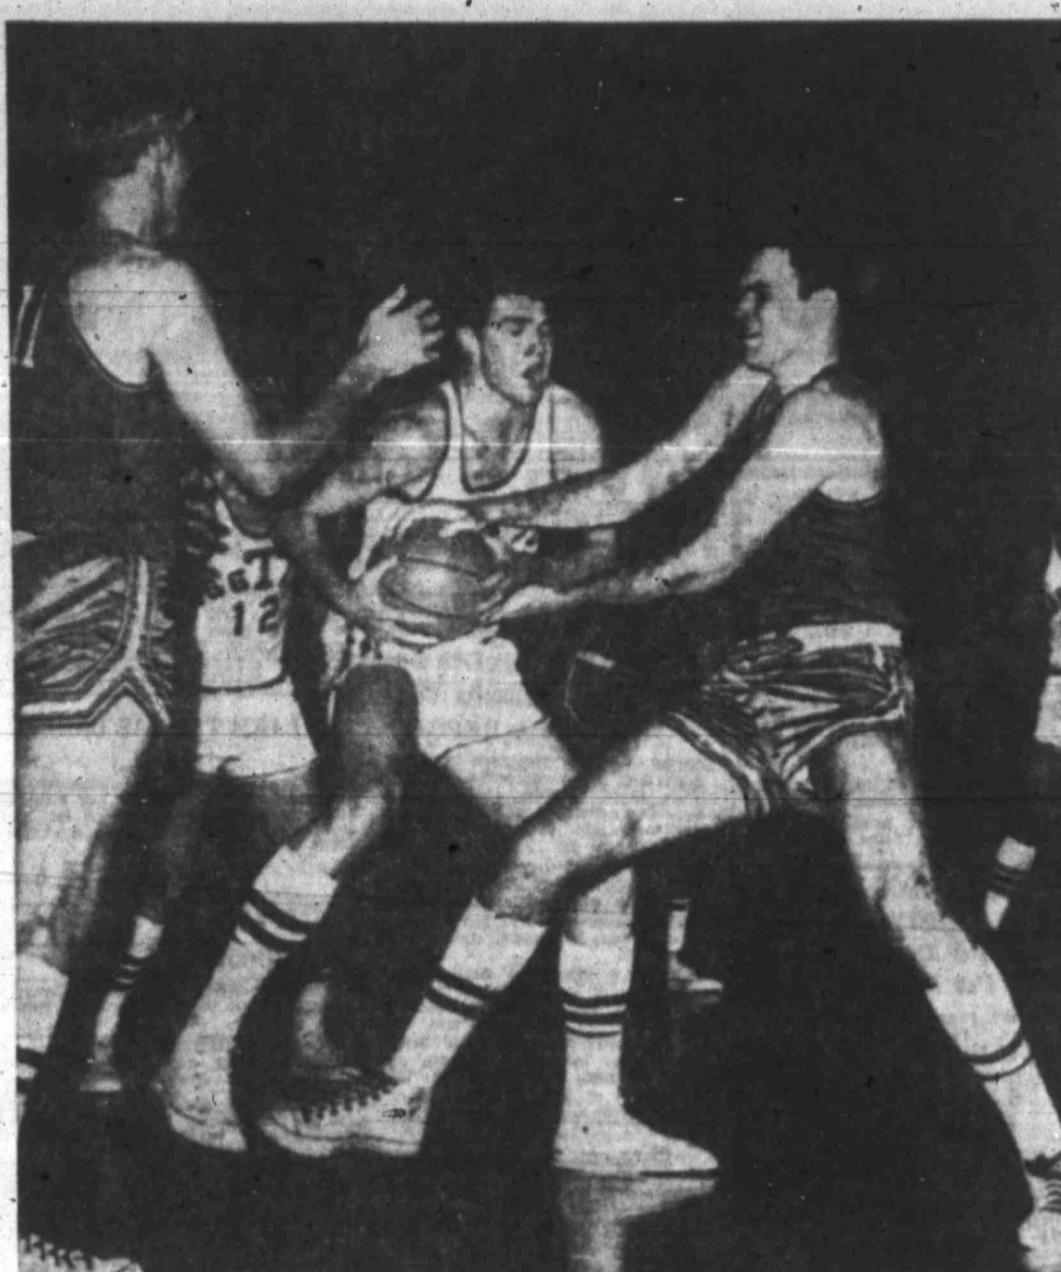

The player representatives of the league's 10 teams announced at a meeting here Tuesday that they would stage a sit-down strike if their demands aren't met by the time the playoffs begin in three weeks.

"The major part of our differences with the owners is that the pension program they offer is far short," said Lawrence Fleischer, the players' attorney. "We received what seems to be their final offer last Friday, and it was rejected unanimously here by the player representatives."

NBA President Walter Kennedy countered with a news conference at halftime of the first game of a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

Kennedy said he first knew of the players' association's announcement when he received a telegram at 3:35 p.m., stating: "Player association at a meeting today, voted unanimously to turn down proposals of Board of Governors in reply to our request. (signed) Oscar Robertson."

He also said that he had held a series of meetings last week with Fleischer and that a retroactive pension plan was not discussed. In fact, he said, the players had never made a request for such a plan known to the league.

Vibra-Whirl company was given the green light to push ahead with the basic plan for the rebuilding of the athletic field north and east of the high school by action of the Board of Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School district last night.

The plan calls for a completely new and modern light system for the field. A six-foot-high fence with three strands of barbed wire at the top was included. All needed gates will be installed. Goal posts will be built and a 40-foot flag pole erected.

The sixth item was a plan to remove all concrete slabs and other structures from the old stadium and to clear the practice field. This, the company said, could be done by other agencies if the board desired.

The eighth item proposed a 44 by 106 foot concrete block field house and public rest rooms building, complete in all details, with a cost tag of $44,275. This was also set up as an alternate project. The board took a 30 day option on this plan, the company pointing out it could not guarantee the cost to remain at the level stated beyond that date.

All of the first six projects are involved in what is termed the south side of the field. The latter two proposals are listed as being on the north side of the tract.

The Vibra-Whirl people said they would be ready to start plans and preparations immediately.

White Is New ENMU Coach

PORTALES — Howard White, assistant football coach at the University of California, Berkeley, will become the new head football coach at Eastern New Mexico University effective today.

In announcing the selection of White from among nearly 90 applicants, President Charles W. Meister said, "I feel that Eastern is very fortunate in having a man of Howard White's ability as our new head football coach. He has the high attributes of leadership, character and football knowledge that will permit our football program to continue to prosper."

The 38-year-old California native will succeed B. L. Lees, ex-Viggo Springer, who piloted the Greyhounds for three years.

In eight years as head football coach on the high school and junior college levels, White compiled a record of 58 wins, 16 losses, and three ties. This performance includes five championship titles.

In addition to three years as assistant at the University of California, he served on the staff of Warren Woodson at New Mexico State University from 1960 to 1962 and coached under Joe Kerbel at West Texas State University from 1962 to 1964.

As Aggie backfield coach, White was given much of the credit for producing such players as Charley Johnson, now St. Louis Cardinal quarterback, Purvis Atkins, and Bob Gaiters. In his present position, he has been responsible for both offensive and defensive planning of the CU football program.

Married and the father of three children, White played football at Riverside (Calif.) City College from 1940 to 1942, and at San Diego State in 1943. After a hitch in the Army and additional football experience there, he played at the University of Southern California in 1946.

White studied at Riverside City College, San Diego State, and received the bachelor of arts degree from the University of Southern California in 1948. He earned a master's degree in education from the same institution in 1955.

In addition to his coaching duties, he will have the academic rank of assistant professor in health, physical education, and recreation.

Blue Monster Awaits Field

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Golfers who prefer the challenge of a long, tough course will find Doral to their liking — 7,002 yards of agony and hazards that have made the course The Blue Monster in golf lexicon.

When a choice field of protees off Thursday in the $100,000 tourney, it'll be strictly man versus par on the palm-fringed but also water-trapped layout.

In the six-year history of the tournament, winners who banked the $20,000 prize have always broken par — two-under for an average. But this year the monster may look tougher to the field that includes Arnold Palmer, the only PGA two-tourney winner this year, Jack Nicklaus, and defending champion Phil Rodgers.

During a remeasurement of the course for rating, par was reduced on the 10th hole from 5 to 4 for the maximum-permitted 470 yards.

As in most tourneys, Palmer and Nicklaus, who have never conquered the par-71 Doral, are considered strong bidders. Billy Casper, two-time Doral winner, is on a tour of the Orient.

"I'm playing well," says Rodgers, freckled ex-Marine who edged Jay Dolan and Kermit Zarley by a stroke last year. "If my putter works, I should do all right again."

Louisville Sews Up Crown In MV

By The Associated Press. The Louisville Cardinals, led by All-America Westley Unseld, have wrapped up the Missouri Valley Conference basketball championship and an NCAA berth. Now all eyes are focused on a red-hot battle for second place.

Tulsa, with a bid to the National Invitation Tournament already in its pocket, currently is second because Mike Marrs dropped in a free throw after the game ended to edge St. Louis 60-59 Saturday.

Wichita, 84-78 victor over Louisville last Saturday, still has a good chance to take runner-up honors, however.

Tulsa will play at Drake and North Texas at Wichita Thursday. Then Tulsa and Wichita will wind up the season with a head-on battle at Wichita Saturday.

Louisville dominated the league in statistics as well as in games won and lost. The Cardinals finished on top in offense (77.6 points a game), field goal accuracy (.504), free throw accuracy (.748) and scoring margin, topping their foes by an average of 12.6 points per game. St. Louis leads in rebounds, averaging 46.3, while Tulsa is the leader with fewest fouls, 12.3 per game. Tulsa's 14.4 percentage is best.

The best defensive club in the conference is Cincinnati, which has held its foes to an average of 64.1 points. Louisville is second at 65, edging Tulsa with 63.3.

New conference member Memphis State also has finished its season. Memphis State, which doesn't begin play for the Valley crown until next season, posted a 17-8 record and accepted an NIT bid.

Besides the Tulsa-Wichita clash Saturday, St. Louis will play at Bradley in a televised contest.

Cincinnati winds up its season Friday against hometown rival Xavier. St. Louis finishes next week against Washington of St. Louis.

Hole-In-One Is Fired At Webb

S. Sgt. Manuel Garcia, a member of the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron, shot a hole in one recently on the Webb AFB golf course. Playing into the wind, Garcia used a No. 7 iron to accomplish the feat on the par three, fourth hole.

Garcia has been playing the greens for several years, but this was his first hole in one since mastering the game. Witnessing the shot was M. Sgt. Felix Shoffner and Mike Brown.

Banks Is Named Player-Coach

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Ernie Banks, the lifeline of the Chicago Cubs since he came up in 1953, now owns his first executive title.

The 36-year-old Banks, awaiting the start of his 14th full season with the Cubs, has been named a player-coach. "Ernie will be a great asset and invaluable addition to our coaching staff," manager Leo Durocher said.

Room Clerk Top Suspect In Stabbings

HOUSTON (AP) — Police sought a Latin American room clerk today for questioning about the fatal stabbings of a Houston couple who ran a motel.

Bodies of Fred C. Davis, 72, and his wife Alvada, 59, were found in their apartment at the motel Tuesday.

Davis, stabbed 20 times in the chest and throat, lay in a pool of blood. His wife, stabbed nine times and bludgeoned in the face, was sprawled in the doorway to their bedroom.

Their two Chihuahua dogs also were slashed to death.

NOTE FOUND
Jack Watson, an employee at the motel, said he watched television with the couple Monday night and found their apartment shuttered next day. An unprinted note pinned to the door read:

"House closed gone to New Orleans will be back in 2 days take care of the place Jake."

Watson said the name on the note was wrong, so he called Davis' brother. They opened the apartment and found the bodies.

WAGON MISSING
The couple's blue 1966 Volvo station wagon and a Latin American employee of the motel were missing.

Police said the Latin American wearing a white shirt and dark trousers was seen leaving the motel with a suitcase, and the room clerk's apartment there was empty.

The Davis car was involved in a wreck early Tuesday morning.

Tax Committee Members Picked

AUSTIN (AP) — The five-man subcommittee that will study Gov. John Connally's tax proposals was appointed Tuesday by Rep. Ben Atwell, Dallas, chairman of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee.

The subcommittee received four bills by Atwell, duplicated in the governor's tax bill, making reforms in state tax administration.

Connally's tax bill will be heard next Tuesday.

Subcommittee members named Tuesday are Reps. R. H. Cory, Victoria; J. E. Johnson, Houston; LeRoy Wieting, Portland; John Wright, Grand Prairie; and Gene Fondren, Taylor.

Atwell also announced his committee will hold a public hearing March 21 on the governor's liquor by the drink bill.

Sent to the subcommittee were bills exempting lease-use natural gas from the gas production tax, requiring the state to pay for tax audits, establishing a seven-year limit for state liability claims for past taxes and allowing automatic tax refunds for overpayment of most state taxes.

Also sent to subcommittee were bills exempting oil field pipe for offshore drilling from the state sales tax and setting up a state real estate transfer tax.

Treasury Agency Juggles Its Books

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the third time since mid-December, the Treasury Department has juggled its books to keep the national debt from exceeding the legal limit. The end to touch-and-go debt management appears in sight.

Congress planned to complete action today on the Treasury's request to raise the debt ceiling from $330 billion to $336 billion, giving the department some breathing space it hasn't enjoyed for three months.

On Jan. 18, the department came within $74.96 million of the ceiling, the closest ever. It used unusual techniques — Republicans have called them gimmicks — to stay within the law.

DEBT SOARS
The debt would have shot through the $330 billion ceiling Tuesday had it not been for the latest juggle. As it was officials estimated the debt rose to $329.9 billion as of the end of business Tuesday.

Exact figures won't be available until Friday. Since Dec. 1, the debt has fallen below $329 billion only once — on Jan. 30 when it was $328.87 billion.

The department normally likes about $3 billion headroom in handling the debt.

REVERSE ENTRY
Tuesday's juggle involved about $800 million in Treasury securities held by the Federal Home Loan Banks, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. and the Civil Service Retirement Commission.

The Treasury redeemed these issues with cash it had on hand, thus reducing the debt and its cash balance by about $800 million. The three agencies bought the same type securities on the open market where they had already been charged against the debt.

In a related transaction, the department removed about $700 million in Treasury securities from the Exchange Stabilization Fund through a simple bookkeeping entry. This also had the effect of reducing the debt.

International transactions are handled through this fund. The $700 million will be replaced later by a reverse bookkeeping entry.

Power Blackout In North Texas

SHERMAN (AP) — A 69,000-volt line fell into the steel structure of a substation here, cutting off electrical power to a wide area of North Texas for 38 minutes Tuesday afternoon. There were no injuries in the blackout that cut off power to Cooke, Grayson, Fannin counties and a portion of Collin County.

Officials of Texas Power & Light Co. said insulation broke loose, causing the power line to fall across the steel structure. This in turn shorted out a transformer and caused the power failure, TP&L said.

Hospitals in the area went on emergency power, but traffic signals were cut off, along with all radio and television broadcast stations.

Texas' Bail Laws Ripped

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' bail laws work in favor of professional criminals who go on committing crimes while free on bond in felony cases, three Austin witnesses told a House committee Tuesday night.

"I could relate case after case," said Bill Youngblood, immediate past foreman of the Travis County Grand Jury. Youngblood, Police Capt. George Phifer and Hub Bechtol, also a past grand jury foreman, testified in favor of a constitutional amendment permitting denial of bail to a person charged with committing a felony while free on bond in another felony.

Bail could be denied only after a hearing and a showing of substantial evidence that the accused actually committed the crime with which he is charged. The constitution now allows denial of bail only in capital cases where there is strong evidence for the guilt of the suspect or after two felony convictions.

Phifer said the amendment would be the "first opportunity we have to really strike at the professional criminal."

He said professional crooks based in Austin and other Texas cities form a mobile and loosely knit network that will get together to commit a crime in Texas or another state, then disband.

Abilene Voters Okay Bonds

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Abilene and Taylor County voters turned out in large numbers Tuesday to approve multi-million dollar bond issues.

In the largest turnout in this city's history, voters approved $8,835,000 in bonds for municipal improvements.

County voters approved a $4.75 million bond issue for a new courthouse and a coliseum and authorized, 8,648 to 6,280 votes, the levying of a 15-cent road tax.

Votes cast in Abilene on the county issue totaled 14,189. The entire vote was 15,371.

Bonds for a new courthouse were approved 7,726 to 704. The coliseum bonds carried 9,499 to 5,395.

The vote on capital improvement bonds for the city was: —$2.5 million for improvement of the airport. For 9,395. Against 4,308.

—$3 million for construction at the civic center. For 7,679. Against 6,134.

—$683,000 for parks. For 6,996. Against 6,539.

—$2.45 million for streets, drainage and traffic signals, for 9,184. Against 4,660.

Texas Weather Slated To Roar

By The Associated Press

If there's anything to the old saying about "in like a lamb, out like a lion," Texas weather is due to be roaring by the end of this month.

Except for temperatures a little below freezing at several points, this first day of March dawned mild and springlike.

Light showers around Brownsville ended before midnight, adding .01 to the .87 inch of moisture there earlier Tuesday.

It was cloudy in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, partly cloudy along the Texas coast and clear elsewhere across the state.

Temperatures before daybreak ranged down to 25 degrees at Junction and 29 at Lubbock. At the same hour the Brownsville reading was 49. Forecasts indicated little change the next few days.

love her, never did, and CAN'T love her, but she says she loves me anyway — no matter what. I have told her I am having my fun and she should have hers, but she doesn't see it that way. I really think she's a mental case, but I don't dare tell her that because she'll accuse me of trying to put her in the state hospital just to get rid of her. What can I do? END OF ROPE

DEAR ABBY: I was invited to spend a weekend at a friend's home. I arrived on Saturday morning and spent a lovely day with my hostess and her husband.

On Sunday morning I came down for breakfast between 8 and 8:30, and no one else was up.

I had never been in their home before, so I searched around in the cupboards and refrigerator trying to find something to eat. All this time my hostess was upstairs sleeping. Since I was an invited guest, was it not up to her to get breakfast for me? Or have times changed? WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Times have not changed. Common sense still transcends protocol and etiquette. Something should have been said about plans for breakfast before you retired. But since it wasn't: Was there a restaurant across the street? Or were you out in the wilderness? Did you have a car? Or were you stranded?

Was your hostess young and healthy, and you elderly and ailing? Or per chance was your hostess elderly and ailing and you young and healthy? Circumstances would determine my answer. Fill me in and I'll tell you what I think.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.
