

ON SUNDAY Closing Obstacles

The long, concerted campaign for Sunday closing of businesses ground uncertainly against a formidable obstacle on the eve of the target date this Sunday.

Dr. H. M. Jarratt, president of Citizens for a Better Howard County, said today that 324 businesses have signed, including "all major stores except two."

Not Predict Outcome

He would not predict the outcome of the movement for overwhelming voluntary closings this Sunday, but the outlook was not good.

"This has been the crucial week concerning Sunday closing in Big Spring," Dr. Jarratt said. "It appeared that everything was falling in place and all concerned were expecting to be able to close on the tentative date of March 5. There have been many visits to both the local discount store and super market by the committee, but the final decision of the owners in both these stores has been not to sign."

He said this had prevented the successful completion of the closing effort and that this was disappointing to the citizens, the 324 businesses which had signed and to their employees who had counted on the closing.

Wait And See

Now, Dr. Jarratt added, the attitude is to wait and see, but he noted "we do not consider this matter closed. We have in our files letters from both our representative and senator stating that they will do all they can to produce a workable Sunday closing law."

"We feel the advertisements have brought to the attention of our citizens what is happening as more and more businesses open on Sunday. We feel that this is a good investment because more have been led to consider the Lord's Day more than in the past. If this be true, the entire campaign has been worthwhile. All efforts, we feel, have actually changed the shopping habits of church people."

Expresses Thanks

He expressed thanks to all who helped and gave in support of the effort, and noted that other gifts would still be welcome to help erase a modest deficit.

Evidence Guzzled

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Seven prisoners in city jail got off scot free Wednesday on charges of public drunkenness.

They drank the evidence, six cases of beer from the evidence locker at the city jail.

Corporation Court Judge O. E. Cannon ruled Wednesday there was "insufficient" evidence to convict seven denizens of city jail of charges ranging from public drunkenness, to theft, drinking under age and fighting.

Good Time Had By All

The matter all began Saturday night, officers testified, when seven inmates got into an "evidence locker" and stole the beer. A good time was had by all until jailers arrived and cut off the party.

But that was after the 1 a.m. Sunday deadline Texas sets as the drinking cutoff point. Four of the seven were charged with drinking after hours. Three more were under 21 years of age and were charged with that offense, and two more were charged with fighting.

Never Too Late

Age is no barrier to romance and it seems proper and fitting to record that the final applicants of February—traditional month of St. Valentine—for marriage licenses at the office of Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, offer proof of the statement.

The last couple issued a license in February was Cecil A. Sollis and Mrs. Osie Lura Lewis, both of Midland.

Both 71 Years Old

Each was listed as being 71 years old.

February was a busy month in the marriage license department. There were 48 licenses issued—which was eight more than in February, 1966.

March has started off briskly in the same field. Through Wednesday four licenses had been written the first day of the new month.

Pressed Adam

Rep. Thomas Curtis, R-Mo., was the mainspring behind the House movement which yesterday resulted in barring Adam Clayton Powell from his seat. Curtis argued that the "facts warrant his exclusion from this body, not to punish him . . . but to maintain the dignity of this body." The House vote to bar Powell from the seat he held for 22 years was 307-116. (AP WIRE-PHOTO)

House Bars Adam Powell

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has barred Adam Clayton Powell, its most controversial and flamboyant figure—but may have trouble making the ban stick.

While the Harlem preacher relaxed at his Bahamian fishing retreat at Bimini, his attorneys termed Wednesday's action of the House "unconstitutional." They raised the threat of a federal court suit to overturn it.

The House itself may have to deal with the matter again, perhaps within two months. A special election will be held to fill Powell's seat and there is every likelihood he again will be elected to fill the post he has held 22 years.

GOOD CASE

"It will come back to haunt the House," said Rep. Emanuel Celler, the venerable New York Democrat, after the House rejected 222 to 202 the recommendation of his select committee to seat the Negro Democrat with a stiff censure, a $40,000 assessment and the loss of all seniority.

The action also rejected leadership from both parties, who had backed the committee action, and led to the final vote 307 to 116.

"If I were representing Adam Clayton Powell," Celler told reporters, "I'd take the case to court right away. I think he's got a good case."

GALLERIES PACKED

And Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr., the West Virginia Republican who fought alongside Celler for adoption of the censure proposal, referred reporters to his statement midway through the five-hour debate: "If we turn him out, his constituency will turn him back with an even greater majority."

The galleries were packed but orderly. Although Powell, 58, was absent, his lawyers were there. They listened intently but left when the outcome became clear.

Later, they issued a terse statement through Powell's office, which said: "Within a few days an announcement will be made by or on behalf of Mr. Powell as to any future course of action."

NO DECORUM

The House floor was hushed during most of the debate, although at one point the hum of conversation rose so much that presiding Rep. Hugh L. Carey, D-N.Y., reminded members: "Gentlemen, we're voting on a matter involving decorum in the House—there is no decorum in the House."

ANGER EXPRESSED

Civil rights leaders expressed anger at the House action. And in Ewell's Harlem district, citizens were indignant and said they'd vote for Powell again if he runs in the special election.

Although his future was uncertain, the action meant that as of 6:55 p.m. Wednesday, Adam Clayton Powell ceased to be either a member or a member-elect of the 90th Congress. His $30,000 annual salary will stop and he will have to vacate his plush Rayburn Office Building suite, though he will get a few days to pack.

The action came just 51 days after Democrats voted to strip Powell of the Education and Labor Committee chairmanship he had held since 1961. The next

Connally Rips Federal Aid Restrictions

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. John Connally of Texas lashed out today at restrictions accompanying federal aid to the states, calling them the work of "average men without any divine wisdom."

Connally, a close friend of President Johnson but increasingly a critic of the administration and of some of the President's programs, made his strongest attack on federal guidelines to date.

He remarked at one point that today is the 131st anniversary of the Texas Declaration of Independence from Mexico.

DAMAGING MISCHIEF

"Few can quarrel with the worthy aims of many of the programs enacted in good faith by Congress," he told the New York Chamber of Commerce.

"The damaging mischief comes all too often when the design is worked out in endless, tedious detail by middle management and clerical personnel in dozens of bureaus, to be handed down to state and local governments for exact compliance to uniform regulations, or else."

"These regulations, which often go beyond the legislative intent of Congress, are the product of men—average men without any divine wisdom. Yet their will—in existence merely by the accident of their employment in a given agency—becomes the law across the land—not for one community, or one state, but for all."

CITES GROWTH

The governor said there are 399 separate federal aid appropriations under 170 programs administered by 21 federal departments and agencies, 150 Washington bureaus and 400 federal regional offices. Five years ago, he said, there were only 45 such appropriations.

"Let me make it clear that I harbor no patience with the time-worn 'states rights' plea, when it serves to cloak inaction," added Connally, a former secretary of the Navy.

But, Connally said, many federal regulations leave no leeway for talented people at the local and state level to apply federal aid in a creative way attuned to local conditions.

"It makes no matter that what might work on a highway in West Virginia might not work on a highway in Texas," he said.

'ABSURDITY'

Federal guidelines "often grow to volumes of laborious detail" and "range in character from triviality to absurdity. Were it not for the power behind them, they would be ludicrous," Connally said.

The governor cited federal specifications for a new research laboratory in Dallas as an example, saying they even prescribed the width of corridors and doorways.

Coed Found In Canyon

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A college coed missing for almost a month was found Wednesday, weak from exposure and lack of food, in a mountain canyon of northern Mexico.

For the past two weeks, Eleanor Dart told a rescuer, she had gone without food but her condition was regarded generally as good.

The fate of her companion, Oden E. Kellogg, with whom Miss Dart had been on a mountain-climbing trip, was still unknown. She decided to stay and help hunt for Kellogg, 21, of Gold Hill, Ore. Miss Dart, 20, lives at Eugene, Ore.

The two left Claremont, Calif., on Feb. 3 to climb 10,134-foot Mt. Diablo, 150 miles south of the U.S. border and the tallest peak in Baja California. When they failed to return to Claremont for college classes Feb. 13, a search was started. Miss Dart and a search party walked partly out of the canyon Wednesday night.

Arrested In Garrison Probe

Clay Shaw (left) is led by the arm by a district attorney officer in New Orleans Wednesday night after he was arrested in District Attorney Jim Garrison's investigation into the Kennedy assassination. Shaw, 54, a retired New Orleans executive, was booked on "conspiracy to commit murder" and released on $10,000 bond. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Wealthy Exec Linked To JFK Assassination

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen.-designate Ramsey Clark said today the Federal Bureau of Investigation already has investigated and cleared Clay L. Shaw—a businessman arrested in New Orleans—of any part in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Clark made the statement to newsmen moments after the Senate Judiciary Committee approved his nomination to become attorney general.

Shaw, wealthy retired director of the International Trade Mart, has been booked on a charge of "conspiracy to commit murder" in the Kennedy assassination investigation being run by New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison.

NO CONNECTION?

In a brief corridor interview, Clark said the Justice Department knows what Garrison's case involves, and does not consider it valid.

He said Shaw "was included in an investigation in November and December of 1963."

"We have the evidence and we can assume what their conclusions are," Clark said.

"On the evidence that the FBI has, there was no connection found" between Shaw and the assassination of the president in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963, Clark said.

'THAT'S RIGHT'

"He was checked out and found clear?" Clark was asked. "That's right," Clark replied.

Both the FBI and the Justice Department had previously refused to discuss the arrest of Shaw.

Shaw's arrest was the first in Garrison's assassination probe. "There will be more arrests, a considerable number of them," said Garrison, who has been conducting a probe of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy for the past five months.

Shaw, 54, a decorated Army major in World War II, was released on $10,000 bond after his arrest Wednesday night. His luxurious French Quarter home was searched for nearly three hours by Garrison's agents.

The dozen men who made the search carried away five cardboard boxes filled with various items, including books and a gun in a canvas case—a rifle or shotgun.

GARRISON VOW

Shaw is ruggedly handsome and silver-haired. He brushed past newsmen without a word when he was released from central lockup after being booked, fingerprinted and mugged.

He was arrested in Garrison's office, where he had appeared for questioning, in response to subpoena.

Garrison has vowed to prove that a conspiracy conceived in New Orleans "culminated in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy" in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

His claim contradicts the official report of the Warren Commission, which said Lee Harvey Oswald, a former New Orleans resident, shot the president—and that it found no credible evidence that any one else was involved.

MORE ARRESTS?

The announcement of Shaw's arrest said: "The first arrest has been made in the investigation of the New Orleans district attorney's office into the assassination of President John F. Kennedy."

"Arrested this evening in the district attorney's office was Clay Shaw, age 54, of 1313 Dauphine St., New Orleans, La. "Mr. Shaw will be charged with participation in a conspiracy to murder John F. Kennedy."

SEMANTICS IGNORED

"It should be pointed out, however, that the nature of this case is not conducive to an immediate succession of arrests at this time. However, other arrests will be made at a later date."

The booking and the announcement did not specify whether Shaw was being charged with a conspiracy resulting in Kennedy's death—or with a conspiracy, not carried through, to commit the murder.

Asked about this, Garrison replied: "I don't want to get involved in semantics."

The point was brought up due to the wording of the announcement—"a" conspiracy, not "the" conspiracy—and because of Garrison's previous remark that not one but several conspiracies were involved in the probe.

INFORMATION BILL

Garrison said he would file a bill of information against Shaw.

Under state law, a district attorney can bring a prisoner to trial under one of two methods: by filing a bill of information with a judge, or by a grand jury indictment.

Asked what was meant by "immediate succession of arrests," William Gurvich, the chief investigator, explained it as, "no other arrests are imminent. However, an arrest may occur tomorrow, or an arrest may occur a month from now."

In Washington, the Justice Department and the FBI declined comment on Shaw's arrest. Officials in Dallas said they knew nothing about the case.

NOT IN RECORDS

Shaw's name does not appear in the records of the Warren Commission.

The International Trade Mart, in an impressive 33-story structure at the foot of Canal Street, is a privately supported, non-profit organization formed to promote trade through the Port of New Orleans.

After 18 years as managing director, Shaw retired Oct. 1, 1965, to pursue his personal interests and manage his real estate holdings.

Syria Halts Oil Battle

BEIRUT, Lebanon. (AP)—Syria called off its oil war with the Western-owned Iraq Petroleum Company today and agreed to reopen pipelines from Iraq to the Mediterranean.

The company announced in Beirut that the Syrian government had signed an agreement ending an oil crisis that had tripped the Middle East since December. The crisis threatened to strangle the economy of Iraq.

Under the agreement, the IPC will pay increased transit rates for oil pumped across Syrian territory, but Syria's demands earlier for approximately $280 million in back payments have been dropped, the company said.

Texas House Also Passes Conflict Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—With less than seven minutes of debate, House members today gave their approval, 132-14, to a bill clamping a tight lid on Sunday sales in Texas.

The measure, which removes the emergency certificate provision of the present Sunday closing law, goes to the Senate.

A few minutes earlier the House also passed and sent to the Senate a bill strengthening Texas' conflict of interest laws, principally by making all legislators and state officials disclose their sources of income.

LONELY VOICE

Only one voice was raised in protest at the speedy amendment of the Sunday closing law, a controversial question in Texas since its passage in 1961. Originally it prohibited the sale of about 45 specific items on both Saturday and Sunday. Later courts ruled that merchants would not be held responsible if Sunday customers signed a certificate saying the purchase was an emergency—which Sunday customers did by the thousands.

"This bill is designed by merchants who want to close on Sunday to abolish all competition on that day," Rep. Don Gladden, Fort Worth, said in a brief protest. "Worse than that it established two preferential religious holidays in Texas, Saturday and Sunday. Most people prefer to worship on those days now but sometime in the future they might want to worship on another day but would be forced by this law to use those two days."

GENUINE EMERGENCY

"When we passed this bill the emergency certificate was put in there in good faith with the thought that genuine emergencies might arise," said Rep. Willis Whalley, Houston, "but a few retailers took it upon themselves to circumvent the law in this way."

"The conflict of interest law passed the House on voice vote. "I have this admonition for our senators—the eyes of all Texans are upon you, senators. Those eyes have seen the assumption of responsibility by the House and its leadership and now expect the same of you," said Rep. Jim Nugent of Kerrville in a brief speech after the bill passed.

NO DEBATE

There was no debate today on the measure, which calls for disclosure of substantial interests in businesses regulated by the state and requires legislators to make it known publicly if they introduce bills benefiting their employers or clients.

"Today, you have passed one of the strictest codes of ethics in the United States. Adherence to this code will place your conduct beyond reproach," Nugent said.

DIES IN SENATE

He reminded the House that a similar code passed in two previous sessions, only to die in the Senate, "buried in the seclusion of a committee."

As amended, the bill requires any legislator who introduces a bill benefiting his employer or client to announce this interest to his colleagues.

Any legislator, state employe or legislative candidate with a 10 per cent or greater share in a business regulated by the state would have to file a sworn statement of this interest with the secretary of state.

Lawmakers and candidates for the legislature would have to disclose all their relatives on the state payroll.

A similar bill was passed by the House in the past two sessions but died in the Senate.

Rep. DeWitt Hale, Corpus Christi, tried Wednesday to soften a provision that violation of the code of ethics could result in expulsion from the legislature. He offered an amendment allowing censure or reprimand instead of expulsion.

"It's too harsh the way it is," he said.

"Texas doesn't want an Adam Clayton Powell situation where a member who has violated the code can wriggle back into his seat because of a technical flaw in the rules," Nugent said.

Hale's amendment was tabled.

Suggests AFL-CIO Reforms

NEW YORK (AP) — A New York labor leader suggested today that George Meany and Walter P. Reuther agree on constitutional reforms in the AFL-CIO.

Edward Swayduck, president of Local 1, Amalgamated Lithographers of America, proposed as a first reform a constitutional change that would permit the rank-and-file membership to choose the leaders of the national labor group through direct elections.

At present, officers are elected by the delegates to the AFL-CIO's biennial convention.

Meany is president of the AFL-CIO. Reuther, president of the AFL in 1955, is head of the United Auto Workers.

UNDEMOCRATIC

Reuther resigned from the AFL-CIO Executive Council last month after charging Meany with stagnant and undemocratic leadership of organized labor.

Swayduck, interviewed at his mid-Manhattan headquarters, contends that it is undemocratic for top officers of the AFL-CIO to — as he puts it — perpetuate themselves in office through a system which shields them from periodic membership voting.

Local 1, founded in 1882, is operating at the moment independently of both the Amalgamated Lithographers of America and the AFL-CIO because of jurisdictional disputes and a desire to protect its $60-million assets, including a blue chip pension fund. But it is loosely affiliated with the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union.

HIS MEN FOLLOW

At age 54, Swayduck, a non-conformist union leader who thinks automation is great, has just been drafted for a 10th two-year term as president of his 9,300-member local.

Even though he is a non-conformist, his men follow him, even to the point of signing a contract Wednesday 14 months before the old one expired.

Swayduck, who is credited with conceiving the cost-of-living automatic adjustment in 1940, said the new contract with the Metropolitan Lithographers Association was signed to compensate his men for a new rise in the cost of living and for their acceptance of additional technological advances.

"We would be working the same as our grandfathers if unions in England had succeeded in holding back the industrial revolution," says Swayduck. "Thank God for automation."

DAYLIGHT GAME REPLAY

Verbal Brickbats Fly During Austin Hearing

AUSTIN (AP) — The movies and television and railroads Wednesday for a replay of the daylight saving time game.

When it was over, the Senate State Affairs Committee voted approval of a bill that would keep present time standards in Texas when the federal Uniform Time Act advances clocks one hour in most of the country.

The bill is now ready for Senate debate.

PRIME TV TIME
A similar battle last week before the House State Affairs Committee sent the House version to a subcommittee, where it remains.

"It would take $13 million additional investment for 41 TV stations to delay network programs one hour in order to hit prime viewing time," said Ves Box, general manager of KRLL-TV in Dallas.

IMPRACTICAL
Box, a spokesman for the Texas television industry, said the networks considered it economically impractical to make the delayed transmissions.

Roy Stansuh of Austin, spokesman for the Texas Restaurant Association, said daylight saving time would cause increased expenses. Afternoon business would slow down in cafes and the dinner crowd would come later, he said.

Communist Casualties Increase 50 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says Communist casualties in Vietnam have increased 40 to 50 per cent in the past three months because of intensified U.S. military action.

But he implied to newsmen Wednesday that new types of U.S. warfare in Vietnam — including mining of key North Vietnam rivers and ground and sea artillery bombardment of the North — do not represent an escalation of American efforts.

He said the new moves resulted largely from a cutback in bombing because of bad weather.

LIMITED DEBATE

House debate on the military authorization bill is expected to be limited. But Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the House Armed Services Committee announced in advance he'll try to tack on $15 million to furnish the Marine Corps aircraft equipped with radar-jamming devices.

Both the Senate and House versions would authorize funds for additional weapons and supplies to carry out the war. The added $4.5 billion would bring to about $73 billion authorized U.S. defense spending for the current fiscal year.

LB'S POLICIES

Before passing the bill, the

NO SPECIFIC FIGURES

He offered the Communist casualties only in percentages, not specific figures.

The House is set to vote today on a bill providing $4.5 billion more for the intensified military effort this fiscal year. Little opposition is expected.

The Senate passed a similar measure 89 to 2 Wednesday after hotly debating an amendment that urged no further expansion of the war while backing President Johnson's efforts to negotiate for peace.

The amendment, which expresses congressional intent to "provide all necessary support" while at the same time seeking "a negotiated settlement," was described by Mansfield as being in full accord with Johnson's policies.

Senate voted 72 to 19 for an amendment by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield that offered something for both supporters and opponents of U.S. policy.

Even Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., perhaps the most constant critic of U.S. war policy, voted for the amendment, although he and Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., cast the only votes against the bill itself.

Federal Reserve Board Lets Out Credit Girdle

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In easing the amount of credit available to the economy, beginning today, the semi-independent Federal Reserve Board showed clearly that it has achieved a more cordial relationship with the President.

The uncoincidental evidence of this develops in the same month that the administration must decide whether or not to reappoint William McChesney Martin to another term as chairman of the board.

Martin and his board have achieved this credit easing by lowering the amount of money banks must keep idle as a reserve against possible claims on deposits.

perhaps and behind the scenes of course, that the fierce battle last year between Johnson and the board helped nothing, least of all the American economy.

Now there seems to be an understanding about the requirements and demands of each other's role.

OUT OF SHAPE

This meeting of the minds comes little more than a year after Johnson blistered the board publicly because it thought tighter money was needed to slow the economy.

The board stood its ground stubbornly against a propaganda barrage from the very seat of federal power. It went ahead and put a girdle on an economy it felt was swollen out of shape. It tightened the supply of money in order to slow spending.

This girdle gradually became light as a corset and the administration howled as if the laces were pinching.

market as it has done many times before.

This would not have had the very same effect. It would, for instance, have been a slower method of getting money into the small or "country" bank areas. But still, it would have accomplished the job.

The board's action, then, is being interpreted by some as a token gesture towards easy money.

HOME MORTGAGES

2. The nature of the move will put more money exactly where the administration has been, through its own efforts, trying to place the money; that is, in the hands of institutions which are liable to commit the funds to home mortgages.

One effect, among many, certainly will be to bring downward pressure on the costs of borrowing for homes and, perhaps, for large appliances. These are areas now in recession or depression.

UNDERSTANDING

The fact that the easing of credit, and the manner in which this is accomplished, matches the administration's policy may be a mere coincidence. The views should, in fact, coincide more often than disagree.

More likely, however, there has been an agreement, tacit

EASY MONEY

Now the pressure is being eased, perfectly in tune with administration desires. And among other factors, these are significant:

1. The board could have supplied as much money to the economy with almost no publicity simply by purchasing government securities in the open

Sales Tax Vote Listed

AUSTIN (AP)—Here is how House members voted on the $2.50 final passage of the local option city sales tax bill:

Sophia May Adopt Baby

ROME (AP) — After losing four children in miscarriages, actress Sophia Loren may be planning to adopt or raise an orphaned baby, an Italian magazine says.

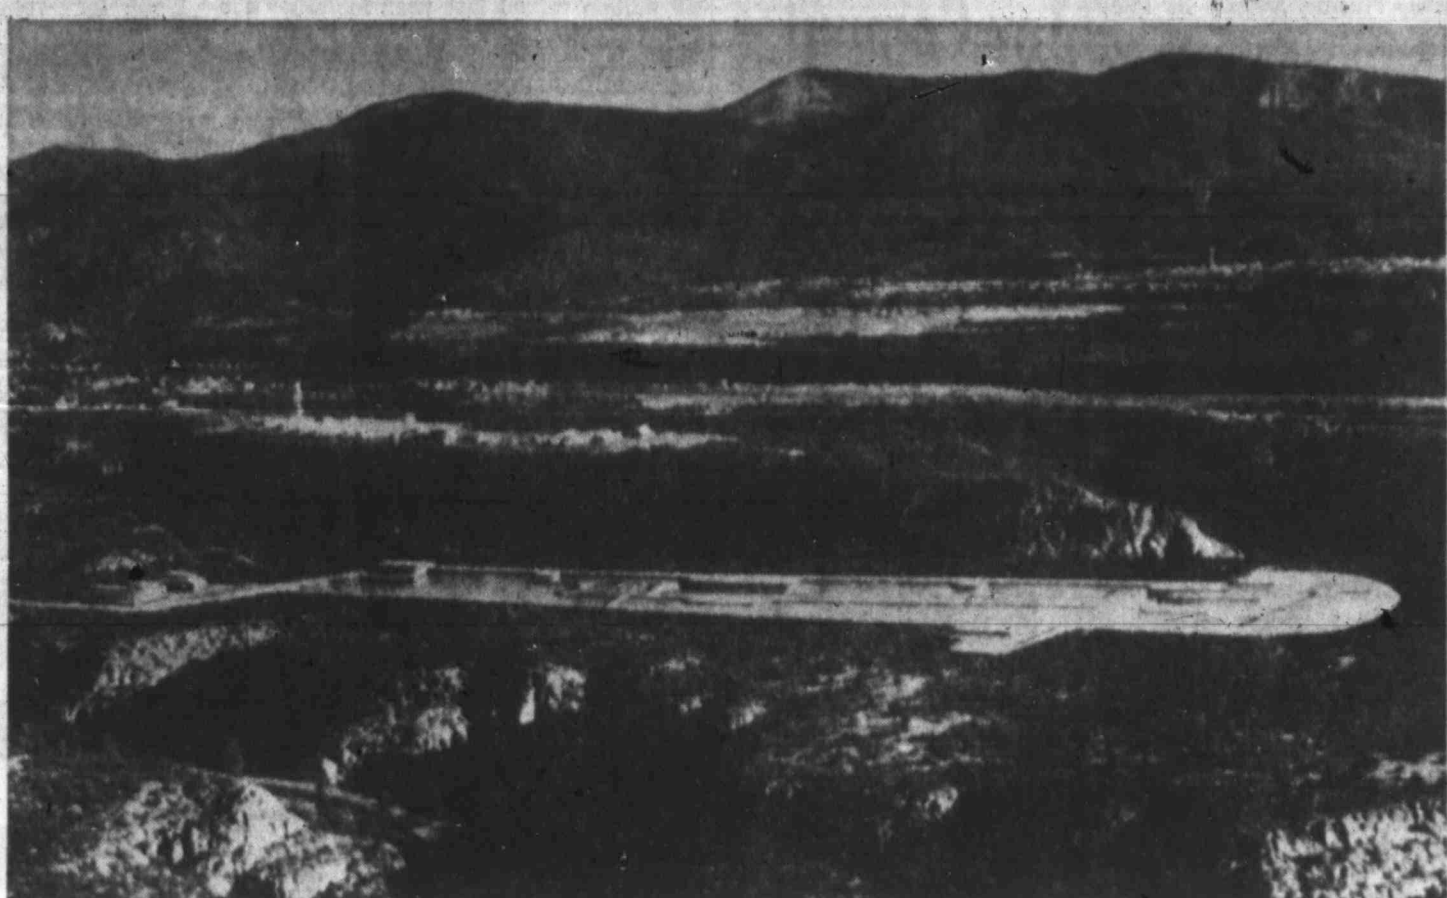

The weekly magazine "Stop" said Wednesday that it is rumored in Miss Loren's home town of Pozzuoli, near Naples that she has agreed to care for 18-month-old Ernesto Capasso. His parents were killed in a highway accident in Australia.

The rumors say Miss Loren will adopt Ernesto "or at least will raise him and educate him and love him as her own," the magazine reported. It said the baby would be taken to visit the actress in Switzerland and then would go to her villa at Marino, near Rome.

Miss Loren, 31, and her husband, producer Carlo Ponti, 53, are vacationing in Burgenstock, a Swiss resort area on Lake Lucerne. They were not available for comment.

$55 Million Mesa Facility

An artist's drawing of the proposed $55 million meson physics facility at Los Alamos, N.M. Scientific Laboratory is superimposed on an aerial photograph of the proposed site. Located atop a mesa or bluff, the main experimental area would stretch one-half mile. President Johnson asked Congress for more than $50 million for the meson facility which would be used to probe the secrets of the nucleus of the atom. Scientists say the facility will add significantly to national security and improved human health. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Heiress Will Ruled Valid

EL PASO (AP) — County Judge George Rodriguez ruled Wednesday that the contested will of oil heiress Ann Yates Oliver was valid. He admitted it to probate.

Two nephews and a niece contended Mrs. Oliver was mentally incompetent when she executed the will and said she was under influence when she bequeathed $300,000 to C. A. Freeze, a San Angelo accountant.

The will was executed Oct. 12, less than a month before Mrs. Oliver died.

Lawyer William Petcolas gave notice of appeal. The State National Bank of El Paso will continue as temporary administrator until the appeal is disposed of.

Robert H. Oliver, Mrs. Oliver's husband, and Mack Yates Jr. of Cherkoe, Tex., were named executors of the estate.

Dear Abby Word On Weekend Guests

DEAR ABBY: To guide other college boys when they are weekend guests, please tell them not to make the same mistakes our son's pal did last weekend. He opened the refrigerator door and helped himself to anything he wanted. Without waiting to be told where to sit, he scrambled into my husband's chair at the table.

He helped himself (generously) to my husband's bourbon and when, at midnight, I offered him coffee and sandwiches to indicate that the "bar" was closed, he mixed himself several more drinks. He wolf-whistled when he met me, and whacked me on the seat when he left.

MIDDLE-AGE MOM
IN AUGUSTA

DEAR MOM: I doubt if most college boys who are invited to the home of a "pal" for the weekend need a guide to proper behavior. Just tell your son not to bring home any more fun-loving, thirsty, ill-bred characters.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is all right to speak to your mother in the same tone she speaks to you? When she talks sharp or sarcastic to me and I answer her back in the same tone she slaps me. It's no wonder I don't have any friends. She scares them away.

Before anybody comes over they ask me, "Is your mother in a good mood?" Please tell me how to get along with a person everybody is afraid of. I have four more years to go before I will be 18 and I can leave. Thank you. SCARED OF MOM

DEAR SCARED: No, it's NOT all right to speak to your mother in the same tone she uses to speak to you. Mothers have problems children know nothing of, and being human they sometimes take it out on those nearest and dearest to them. (Perhaps she doesn't feel well.) When mothers are in a "bad mood" children should try to be even more respectful, obedient, and understanding.

DEAR ABBY: We just bought a brand new station wagon on the installment plan for a 7,000-mile vacation trip we plan to take. The couple next door want to go with us and said they would pay for all the gas. It seems to me that if people want to ride in an expensive

Opening lead: Four of ♠. The above hand provoked considerable controversy when it was dealt in a recent rubber bridge game, and the issue has been submitted by the disputants to this department for arbitration. It seems that North and South reached a contract of four spades, and South, the declarer, was set one trick on what he contended was a perfectly normal line of play.

West opened the four of clubs, dummy played the deuce and East put in the jack which won the trick. He cashed the ace and then led a third round, ruffed by South. The queen of spades was led for a finesse. West covered with the king and dummy played the ace. A spade was withheld and South put up the ten from his hand. When West showed out declarer's defeat was assured, for he still had to lose a spade and a diamond.

When the deal was concluded, North observed that his partner could have made the hand by finessing against East's trump holding. Observe that, after the first new car with air-conditioning, stereo, tinted glass and all those luxuries, they should be willing to pay more. They are no better or worse off financially than we are. What is fair? We don't want to be taken advantage of.

DEAR NEIGHBORS: It seems fair enough to me. But if you take a 7,000-mile vacation trip with people you suspect are trying to take advantage of you, it will be the longest 7,000-mile trip on record.

Klan Wizard Free On Bond

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP)—The wizard of Mississippi's White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and 11 men the FBI identifies as fellow Klansmen were free on $5,000 bonds today after being arrested for conspiring to "intimidate, threaten and coerce" a Negro businessman who died after a fire bomb attack.

Sam H. Bowers Jr., Klan chief, and the others surrendered to U.S. marshals here Wednesday after being indicted by a federal grand jury at Jackson. The White Knights describe themselves as "a Christian, militant organization disposed to the use of physical force against our enemies."

In a sealed indictment returned Monday, the grand jury charged the 12 men conspired to "intimidate, threaten and coerce Vernon Ferdinand Dahmer Sr. on account of his race and color for urging and aiding other Negro citizens to vote."

The indictment charged 10 of the 12 attempted to intimidate, threaten and coerce Dahmer "by setting fire to and burning the house and grocery store" of the Negro leader and "by firing guns at that time and place."

The 1965 Voting Rights Act, on which the indictment was based, provides a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $5,000 fine for each count.

Murder is not a federal offense. The State of Mississippi has made no move to prosecute anyone in the case.

Dahmer, 58, died Jan. 10, 1966, in a hospital hours after his rural home and grocery store were set afire. His wife and three children fled from the blazing house while he exchanged shots with the men from the front. At the time, four of his sons were serving with the armed forces.

spade trick is completed, South retains two honors in the suit in back of East's 9-8-5. When the four is led from dummy and East follows with the five, declarer can win the trick by merely covering with the six. If East chooses to split his sequence by putting in the eight, South tops this spot with an honor, crosses back to dummy, and picks up the nine, five next on a simple finesse.

Altho South did not dispute his partner's analysis, he claimed that it would have required a peek into his opponents' holding to warrant so unnatural a play in the trump suit. North disagreed, and this was his reasoning:

"Since South intends to finesse for the king of trumps, he must lead a spade honor from his hand; however, it is not essential that the card be the queen. Playing the ten will suit his purpose just as well, and may provide him with additional information about the distribution.

"When West covers the ten of spades with the king, South can deduce that it is a singleton for, if West has the king doubleton, the play of the king will sacrifice a trick for the defense if East holds the jack and one or two small spades. Once he has reached the conclusion that West has a singleton spade, the winning play in the suit becomes obvious."

"While there is much to be said for North's point of view and we are in basic agreement with his observations, perhaps one qualification is in order. Declarer should take into consideration the quality of his opponents before drawing an inference from their play. After all, a less experienced defender might err and cover an honor when he shouldn't.

Tax Computer Doesn't Make Same Mistake

WASHINGTON (AP)—The tax collector's computer can make an $80-million mistake—but apparently it won't make the same one twice.

The Internal Revenue Service admitted today its highly touted computer operation figured an $80 million refund last year for a large corporation simply because the company reversed its tax identification numbers.

It took humans to right the wrong in an audit. But the computer made up for it this year. It caught the same mistake by the same corporation before it punched out a refund order.

This year, for the first time, all tax returns are being checked fully by the computer, which already has processed 3.2 million individual returns and credited refunds worth $479 million.

ONE IN NINE
More than one in nine taxpayers who filed for refunds through last Saturday made mistakes in completing their forms, IRS said.

Errors were discovered both by computer and humans on more than $60,000 of the returns. Among them were $5,780 errors in arithmetic and 35,000 returns which listed the wrong Social Security number or none at all, IRS added.

It's the Social Security number or tax identification number in the case of persons and corporations without a Social Security number — which is important in the computer operation.

Here's what happened when the computer goofed as related by an IRS source:

A large corporation — IRS declined to name it — filed one return last year for its domestic operations and another for its overseas subsidiary. It pays no taxes on the subsidiary operations but must file a return.

Since the return of the foreign subsidiary listed the number of the domestic firm, the computer listed a refund check for the subsidiary of about $80 million, a figure IRS said isn't unusual for large corporations.

But the refund was large enough to demand a human audit and the mistake was discovered.

Refunds for both corporations and individuals above a certain amount automatically are audited by humans but IRS won't say what the cutoff is.

Sabin Probing Deadly Disease

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Dr. Albert Sabin and Mexican virologist Manuel Ramos Alvarez will soon disclose details of a mysterious new paralytic disease that strikes without warning and often kills quickly.

"Viruses have nothing to do with the disease and the cause is unknown," said Sabin, who developed the oral vaccine for polio. "The findings throw new light on a type of paralytic disease in children, and adults, too, that can be fatal."

Trick 'Em, Skin 'Em, Finally Cheat 'Em

By ED SYERS

A nowadays Texas explorer gains much, browsing some of our county and even old community histories — often better-researched and written than recognized. One such comes from the pen of Sagta Anna's Mrs. Leona Banister Bruce: "Trickham, Texas."

Today you bypass that way-side town — slatted graves midding one abandoned street — from Brady north on US 283 toward Coleman and Abilene. But it's one of our west's old ones; John Chisum early ranged his long-rail cattle (1854), set up a trail station kind of store. The town followed, and this vignette from Mrs. Bruce.

Chisum's early hands, with range's leathery humor, dubbed their cow camp store "Trick'em and Skin'em." The town grew, drew post office status, and Washington's dignified modification: "Trickham."

The post-war '70s saw a well regarded, former Texas Ranger become one of the community leaders, with gin, mill and general store; settlers were streaming west now.

One morning, recounts Mrs. Bruce, a covered wagon rolled to the store front. Its driver, looking to settle, called to the storekeeper on his board porch: "What's the name of this place?"

"Trick'em," he heard the straightfaced answer. "And who might you be?" he then asked. "I'm Cheat'em." The driver grunted, kept on west.

And Storekeeper M. R. Cheat-ham went back inside.

MAILBOX — SALLY SCULL: Victoria's Mrs. Lillian Anderson asks "can you tell me anything about Sally Scull, supposedly a gun-toting woman from Banquette (near Corpus Christi)?" (Note: Maybe South Texans will report more on this extraordinary lady who could ride with anybody. Born well-to-do, she seemed to marry trouble: first, the Taylor side of their Sutton feud; then bossing shoot-your-way-through Confederate cotton-wagonning, East Texas to Mexico; finally postwar horse-trading in then trigger-tense Goliad-Refugio country.)

CROSSWAYS WITH WORLD: Fort Worth's Mary Cook: "Re your Tombstone story, our Duffau (Erath Co.) Cemetery is very old. At the far edge is an unusual grave. The old man's name was Blair, and he passed away about 100 years ago. He had troubles with the world all the time and, in his own words, was 'crossways with the world.' He often said he wanted, when dead, to be buried crossways. "That's exactly what the townspeople did: crossways to marker and every other grave in the cemetery. This is true. I am a descendant of Mr. Blair."

Henderson's "No Name Please": "In the Jefferson (old riverport, above Marshall and rich with restored homes) cemetery is a strange grave. In the early days, two men were enemies in a blood feud, sworn to kill each other on sight. They met in the middle of the street and shot each other dead. They were buried, for reasons never explained, chained together in the same coffin. For a long time, their markers were two iron posts with a chain linking them together."

Eddie Pierson, Silvers Heels Addition, would like to know if anyone can enlighten him about three or more graves in a pasture south of Ross City.

The graves are near an intersection known once as Three-Way where the road from New Drumwright joined the road going north to Ross City and south to Sterling City. There was a wooden fence around some of the graves, but it has tumbled down as have the stones.

More Stars Being Sent To Vietnam

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Send us more stars," Gen. William C. Westmoreland has asked for Vietnam, and Hollywood is responding.

The air lift of celebrities to the war in Southeast Asia has been stepped up to the point that the volume almost reaches that of entertainers' trips in World War II. The Hollywood Overseas Committee, which books such tours, has announced these names for forthcoming trips:

NEW LIST
The list is in addition to those who have already visited Vietnam one or more times — Bob Hope, Robert Mitchum, Ann-Margret, John Wayne, etc., some of whom plan return trips. Mitchum is there now.

One of the prime movers in the recruiting of talent for Vietnam is George Chandler, a former Screen Actors Guild president and best known to the public as member of the "Lassie" cast in seasons past.

"We're getting many more stars to go now," said Chandler, "but General Westmoreland says to send more. We're trying to do that, and our committee is functioning much better, since we brought the heads of the leading agencies into it. They are getting the message to their clients."

"WHAT CAN I DO?"
"The best people we can send are entertainers like Danny Kaye, who are well-known and can do a great job of putting on a show. But we need lesser-known entertainers as well. General Westmoreland has advised us to send more of the non-entertainers, too."

"Some of them are reluctant to go. A fellow like Jim Garner says, 'What can I do? I can't sing or dance or tell jokes.' He can do a lot. A Bob Mitchum goes to Vietnam and shakes hands with the GI's and talks to them, and he gives them something to talk about and write home about."

Chandler said that the government pays for the transportation of the stars, who are given per diem payment of about $20. Many of them return it to the U.S.

LONELY KIDS
Do any actors refuse to go because of opposition to the Vietnam war?

"Only a very few," said Chandler. "They have told us, 'I won't go because I don't approve of the war.'"

"Our answer is: 'We don't like war, either. Nor do the boys who have to fight it; they'd much rather be elsewhere. But there are 400,000 of our young men in Vietnam, and a whole lot of them are lonely, homesick kids. We should do everything we can to make their lives happier.'"

"As Danny Kaye said: 'I made a deal with the State Department — I don't tell them how to run their business, and they don't tell me how to run mine.'"

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A very adverse day and evening for almost everything unless you realize the potential dangers. Drive and speak carefully and do nothing that can in any way upset or disturb those about you and with whom you want to get along in the days ahead. Guard for learning lessons, sporting, late, karate and like matters.

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19) You are somewhat bored and would like to jump into new and untried outlets haphazardly, but this would be very wrong. Make slight changes in present set-up and let things improve your efficiency.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20) Although you may feel that you are under pressure of all sorts, be sure to carry through with obligations that are strictly your own. Show close ties that you are devoted. Put greater value on their loyalty.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) Associates are in a nervous mood; so speak carefully or they turn into bitter enemies. Show a calm, cool manner and save the day. Prearrange on that civic work you have to do, since this is not a good time for some.

MOON CHILDREN: June 21 to July 21 If you do right, instead of putting it off, you find it gets done and you are not getting ahead as you should. Analyze situation well and you find that you are off par. Pay little heed, but smile indulgently.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) Giving most of yourself instead of support is much more for gifts, etc., to please others is what, since this will be entirely more cooperative. You feel you are not getting ahead as you should. Analyze situation well and you find that you are off par. Pay little heed, but smile indulgently.

VIRGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) Don't jump down the throats of those of home but be thoughtful instead and you restore harmony. There show your true devotion to those who count. Remember that actions speak louder than words.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Absolute care must be exercised in travel or there is much trouble following and your plans can certainly go awry. Take care you are not caught in your remarks. Temper harshness with kindness and courtesy.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Although you may feel that you are not as well off financially as you would wish, if you do stop being so active, you'll find this is not the case. Make that improvement to property that is sorely needed. Be thorough.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get out and show others that you are highly talented, but do so in a dignified way. By being thoughtful with good friends, you can advance socially. Evening requires you study whatever most interests you.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Important you maintain prestige in own area of activity, so don't risk some by some thoughtless remark or act. In fact, you can become more popular by some intelligent maneuvering. Be clever.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Show gratitude for backing given you by those in the background for some time. Rather blunt allies can give you a bad time. Take no needless action, since they are pretty much under pressure.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to March 20) This is not a good day to rely on their help-up for favors since he, or she, is not a very good mood or very busy. Await a better time. Forget being angry over one who has given you your letter's.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow he, or she, will be one of those fascinating people who understand the underlying reasons for certain problems and can do much to enlighten the matters quite easily. Be sure to give ethical and spiritual guidance early so that the energies will always be channeled in the right directions. Teach not to criticize others so much. A real boon can be in this amazing child.

A Devotional For The Day

"Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you."
(Luke 15:18, RSV)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, may we not worship our knowledge and power and achievements in the things temporal. Help us to put first Thy kingdom and Thy righteousness. Teach us to walk humbly with Thee; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

The Drive-In Ordinance

The city commission, reacting to persistent and urgent problems arising out of the gregariousness of young people, has adopted a drive-in ordinance designed to broaden powers of control upon loitering, improper disposal of refuse, prolonged parking, etc.

The ordinance is well-meaning, but it breaks ground in a new area of declaring a private property to be legally public area. Ostensibly, this opens the way for more stringent police powers.

This may give the impression that the problem is wholly one of disturbance. Actually, it is more one of congestion to the point of nuisance and of a free-flow of traffic. For instance, youngsters being youngsters, like to wheel into a drive-in place, crawl out and visit with the car in the next stall, then blithely drive away for an hour or so, leaving the first car parked in the customer space and blocking out a potential customer.

Of course, in the intense congregation of young people without supervision, there is always the possibility of some few (and very few at that) trouble-makers causing an upheaval—and there have been plenty of these.

This has led to calling in the police. As Chief Jay Banks pointed out, where the overwhelming majority of good kids have fallen down is in siding with the trouble-makers, not in taking part or resisting officers (although they have been known to boo.)

The explanation of the tendency to congregate is "there's no place to go." There may be some degree of truth in this, and perhaps some committee of the Chamber of Commerce or others might take an inventory of facilities and programs for youth. Maybe something additional needs to be provided; maybe what we have is a lot more than we imagine. And maybe it all needs to be assessed in light of resources and leadership. Although this is the same reaction of every generation, it won't hurt to inventory.

Modernizing State Government

An important thing for Texans to understand about Gov. Connally's proposals to modernize state government, and to increase its revenues to meet state responsibilities, is that this is not an isolated phenomenon. It is part of a sweeping nationwide trend.

All states' tax collections have, in the aggregate, nearly doubled in the past six years—and will nearly double again by 1975. In 33 of the 47 state legislatures in session this year, tax bills are pending which would raise state tax collections 10 per cent above the normal increment in "growth tax" revenues.

Meanwhile, the movement to modernize state governments is spreading. New York State will hold a constitutional convention in April. The new Democratic administration in Maine is pushing administrative reorganization. In several states, legislative reform is an urgent concern; a citizens advisory committee in Washington State just released what the National Municipal League calls "probably the most thorough study a nonpartisan group of citizens has ever made of a state's legislature."

A major value of our federal system—unfortunately not fully utilized—is that the states can profit from one another's experimentation, mistakes and achievements, and so can the federal government. The Texas legislature would do well to keep itself well-informed on what is happening in the way of state governmental reorganization and tax restructuring in other states. In so doing, we believe, it would find that Gov. Connally's program for this Texas legislative session is closely in tune with the times.

Federal Money, Federal Pressures

WASHINGTON — Maybe an "era of righteousness" has been inaugurated. Unfortunately, the limelight has been mistakenly focused on subsidies given to private organizations to protect national security. Very little is known by the public, however, about the huge subsidies that are distributed to all parts of the United States to protect the security of political parties and officeholders.

The sums involved in the cases that have recently been in the headlines are trivial in comparison with the billions of dollars that are flowing from the federal government to the states and cities, with no "watch-dog committee" to tell the public who is getting the money and who is really benefiting from it.

THERE ARE, of course, some cries of suspicion being voiced that federal money is being improperly used to control the whole system of education in America, which is supposed to be the responsibility of the states alone. Sen. Spessard L. Holland, Democrat of Florida, has urged that there be adopted a constitutional amendment designed to prevent federal control of public schools. It would declare that the right of each state to determine the subjects taught, the kind of educational facilities, and the qualifications of personnel could not be abridged, directly or indirectly, by the federal government. This proposal is being sponsored also by senators George Smathers, Democrat of Florida, and Sam J. Ervin Jr., Democrat of North Carolina, and Representative Robert Sikes, Democrat of Florida.

BUT EVEN A declaration through a constitutional amendment that the federal government shall not interfere in the educational processes would hardly be adequate. For the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare today insists that it doesn't use its power to intervene in the slightest in the handling of education by states, counties and cities. It maintains that it furnishes only "advice" and is concerned that federal funds shall not be given to those school boards which apparently are engaged in contravening the broad wishes of the federal government.

THE REAL crux of the whole problem is the right of federal officials to withhold public funds appropriated by Congress and to do so for whatever reasons the departments themselves may devise. The new constitutional amendment might not effectively interfere with the exercise of discretion by federal officials in disbursing funds to school systems.

FOR SOME time there have been members of Congress who urge that the business and professional affiliations of members of both houses should be disclosed. Codes of ethics have been proposed, but no machinery for pursuing any violations is mandatory. This is undoubtedly due to the political nature of Congress itself and the unwillingness of the leadership of a party to punish its own members unless, to be sure, some flagrant cases are publicly exposed.

PLENTY OF federal money, moreover, is going into projects in different parts of the country which are politically beneficial to senators and representatives of those same states. But there has never been any parallel to the present-day use of federal funds to control the action of states, counties and cities. The federal government has assumed the right to withhold public money and use its own judgment or discretion without disclosing the real motives for denial of the money.

High Court To Remain Liberal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Liberal justices dominate this Supreme Court and even if some of them retire in the next few years, so long as Lyndon B. Johnson remains President the court probably will remain liberal.

With his far-reaching liberal programs, some involving welfare in many ways, Johnson seems unlikely to jeopardize them by appointing conservatives to the high bench.

Justice Tom C. Clark said this week he would step down by the end of June. At age 67 he is very close to the average retirement age of justices — 67½ years — down through American history.

BUT THERE are four other justices 67 or older; Chief Justice Earl Warren, 75; and Justices Hugo Black, 81; William O. Douglas, 68; and John Marshall Harlan, 67.

If Warren, Black and Douglas were guided by the average retirement age, they'd be gone now. Their average age is 74. But there have been some notable exceptions to the average.

The best example is Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes who didn't quit until he was 90. As the history of the 96 men who have sat on the court shows, the age of a justice doesn't necessarily mean he is not a good justice simply because he is up in years.

SOME justices, including some of the best, weren't appointed until they were in their 60s. Holmes was 61, Louis D. Brandeis, 60, and Benjamin N. Cardozo, 62.

And these three chief justices were in their 60s when they were appointed to take charge: Warren, 62, William Howard Taft, 64, and Charles Evans Hughes, 68.

All these bits of arithmetic prove is that there is no mathematical formula for predicting when any justice figures he has had enough. Justice William Brennan is 60. Only three justices are under that age: Abe Fortas, 56, Potter Stewart, 52, and Byron R. White, 49.

THUS, while the average age of the present members is 63½ years, this court has had a continuity of outlook, starting with the 1954 decision outlawing public school segregation, that has made it the strongest in history and the most liberal.

Yet, only four of the present justices — Warren, Black, Douglas and Clark — were on the court at the time of the 1954 ruling. All four of them approved it.

Youth — or comparative youth — is no guarantee that a justice will be more liberal than his elders. The two youngest members of this court — White and Stewart — along with Harlan are the most conservative.

THE THREE oldest members — Warren, Black and Douglas — along with Brennan and Fortas make up the dominant liberal majority.

Hold Your Ears, Girls

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that career girls get tired of hearing:

"After all, she's wedded to her work."

"If you ask me, a woman's place still is in the home."

"What's a nice dame like you doing working in a sweatshop like this?"

"To be as tactful as possible about it, Joan, I don't think that dress is for you. In a job like yours, you don't want to look too young."

"CONGRATULATIONS, Joan. As the first girl in this firm ever to win her 25-year pin, you have every right to be proud of yourself."

"Sorry Miss, but we don't serve unescorted ladies at the bar. Would you care to sit at a table?"

"Let's all go Dutch."

"Yes, I admit you deserve the promotion, but you know how some of the men feel. They don't want to work for a woman."

"WHAT'LL you have for lunch, Ma'am — the same? Coffee and a peanut butter and jelly sandwich?"

"We're giving a shower for Rosemary. She's getting married to the head of her department next month."

"I do believe it's your first gray hair, Miss. Shall I tint it or pluck it for you as a souvenir?"

"I don't care whether she can type or not — she's still not my type."

"And, of course, after you've been with us for 40 years, you're entitled to the full pension."

"I LOVE my wife, but oh, you kid!"

"I'll handle this problem myself, Joan. I feel it needs a man's touch."

"For Pete's sake, why should a career gal expect to get the same pay as a man? He's got a family to support. All she usually has to support is a pet cat or a couple of goldfish."

"They ape everything we do. The next thing you know they'll start carrying brief cases and fond of the office."

"HEY, JOAN. It's my wife's birthday. Would you mind trotting out and buying a couple dozen roses for her? While you're at it, pick one out for yourself. I'll pay for it."

"They're all just marking time until they can catch themselves a husband."

"Gee, Joan, sometimes I forget you're a gal. I guess I tend to think of you as just another one of the fellows."

Why Her Husband Yells In His Sleep

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Could you enlighten me as to why my husband talks and sometimes yells in his sleep? He does it more as he gets older. His sleep is restless and broken. Physically he is in pretty good health for age 46.

He has a tendency to be a worrywart. Could nerves be involved? — MRS. G. L.

Yes, nerves could be responsible. Likewise, being a light sleeper, he has limited intervals of the deep phase of sleep. His subconscious mind remains at work, and since he is a worrier, unpleasant thoughts, events or hostile episodes can break through into his thoughts and cause nightmares.

Possibly a mild sedative might help him sleep more deeply. This need not be a barbiturate. Has he told his doctor about his problem?

Dear Dr. Molner: Do you have a booklet on these new buttons and bows they insert to prevent pregnancy? — MRS. E. J.

No booklet. And that's the first time I've heard of them called buttons and bows. But it's not a bad name. They come in a lot of different shapes and designs. Technically they are I.U.C.D.'s or intra-uterine contraceptive devices. They are not new, though. Similar ones were used hundreds of years ago. Exactly why they prevent pregnancy is still not understood.

The devices must be fitted and inserted by your physician, and then should be checked periodically to be sure they have not slipped out of place. They appear to work well for some women. Others don't like them or cannot tolerate them, and then abandon them. My best answer is to leave it up to your own physician who can keep track of whether I.U.C.D. may be satisfactory for you.

Dear Dr. Molner: Years ago I had syphilis and was treated for it, but tests are always positive. Does that mean I have the disease? — P. D.

Assuming that you had proper treatment, standard tests may remain positive although you are clinically cured—you are no longer ill, and cannot give the disease to anyone else. There are special tests which can be done to check on the usual procedures when they give positive results in spite of correct and adequate therapy. It is important to have a test of the spinal fluid as well as of the blood.

Dear Dr. Molner: I was much interested in the letter from Mrs. S. B. concerning age and cancer of the uterus.

I am 23 and have had a hysterectomy for the same thing, and feel very fortunate as my doctor feels that I am completely cured.

Had I waited until I was 30 to begin the smear tests, it would have been too late.

The Pap test is such a simple, painless procedure that I can't understand why every woman won't take 10 minutes once a year to have a smear. I did, and I was very, very lucky. — MRS. K. C.

Around The Rim

The Voice Of Youth

All but lost in the shuffle of activity at the City Commission meeting earlier this week was the appearance of four teenagers, giving their side of a new ordinance summarily approved by the commission.

TO MY KNOWLEDGE, it was the first time that teenagers have appeared before the commission to voice their side of a civic question—unheard by adult backers. Regardless how we may feel about their stand or beliefs, there can be little doubt the four lads were sincere in what they said and that they made their presentation in as fine a manner as any matter is ever brought before the commission.

Unfortunately, they were not given many answers nor reasons—at least not to the extent as they might have wanted. In a few weeks, city officials will spend considerable time in staging a mock city commission meeting for students in a Student-Government Day program, to acquaint them with city operations. But Tuesday night, there was an excellent opportunity for the youngsters to be in on the real thing, regarding a matter they feel strongly about.

THE MATTER of a law governing drive-in restaurant activity, insofar as it affected them, was not given an in-depth treatment from their side, to the extent, for instance, that an action governing a tax increase might be given to those who come to oppose it.

True, the commissioners cannot take the time during its regular meeting to conduct a classroom program in city government. But due to the lack of prior publicity, the ordinance on drive-in control was a pretty well-kept secret until this week.

IT WAS POINTED out that the ordinance is for the benefit of the drive-in operators, so perhaps the youngsters had no say-so in the matter in any case. But the drive-ins, first one and then another, have long been a place where young people gather—right or wrong. That some effort is necessary to control trouble in these areas may be in the best interests of all.

AT THE SAME time, when interested youngsters attempt to be heard at a public meeting, I suspect it is in our own best interests to listen, and maybe to take a bit of time to counsel with them. —V. GLENN COOTES

Johnson And The Detente

WASHINGTON — President Lyndon Johnson, perhaps because he wishes to outshine John Kennedy in all matters, is seeking a detente with the Soviet Union on a scale not publicly comprehended—and on a course that risks disaster in pursuit of chimerical gains.

IT SHOULD BE quickly noted, however, that Johnson may well halt—or be halted—somewhere short of the abyss. He does not move under the aura of worship that allowed Kennedy to make such a colossal blunder as the Bay of Pigs and be forgiven in time to perpetrate one of super-colossal dimensions in the Nuclear Test Ban Treaty. We have no greater safeguards today than Johnson's unpopularity, his credibility gap and his lack of control in the Senate. When Johnson gets on the wrong track, there are many dutiful hands to throw the switch.

THE WRONG track in Russian relations is the administration's purliness to certain implications of the Chinese revolution against Mao Tse-tung. Knowledgeable persons tell me that the over-throw of Chairman Mao is now in Russia's interest. It could well restore the Sino-Russian Axis in an order of magnitude greatly exceeding what it was in Stalin's time when neither of the Communist powers had nuclear capability.

MAO'S OVERTHROW is also in our interest to the extent that it probably would shorten and confine the Vietnam War, but in finding this much common cause with Russia, the President has over-reacted. He is pushing a series of measures which add up to incalculable risk. They can be enumerated:

1. — The negotiation to persuade the U.S.S.R. to halt deployment of its anti-ballistic-missile (ABM) system. Russia is well along and proceeding with construction, while we stand still. Worse, there is reason to believe that the enemy has effected a break-through in the ABM which makes our own system resemble a Model-T design. There is in the process of publication a technological study which holds that the Russian ABM is a "death-ray" device against incoming missiles. The enemy's ABM is called an "umbrella" of nuclear debris that would cause our incoming missiles to malfunction and disintegrate in flight.

2. — The "bridge-building" syndrome. This is a cluster of proposals that offer friendship to the Soviet bloc. One is the plan to set up consulates in American and Russian cities. Another is an expansion of trade behind the Iron Curtain. A third is non-nuclear space treaty. A fourth is nuclear non-proliferation treaty now in its fifth year of discussion at Geneva. Still another is the series of senseless agreements on Human Rights (political equality for women, the abolition of slavery and forced labor) which UN Ambassador Goldberg has lately urged upon the Foreign Relations Committee.

SEPARATELY, these matters may seem minor. In toto, as Sen. Hruska (R., Neb.) points out, they amount to a "fundamental shift in the basis of our foreign policy." And taken together with the hickering and procrastination over anti-missile defense, they far exceed in weakness the Bay of Pigs fiasco and in folly the Test Ban Treaty.

Luckily, the checks-and-balances of criticism and debate are in better working condition today than in the regrettable past.

How To Solve A Crime—Publicly

WASHINGTON — The New Orleans TV drama titled "Mr. District Attorney" has been playing nightly on all the news shows. The district attorney of New Orleans, Jim Garrison, keeps holding news conferences announcing that he has solved the Kennedy assassination. Since Garrison has produced no evidence or information to back up his news conferences, many publicity-hungry district attorneys have been angered by all the space Garrison is getting.

I RECEIVED a call the other day from the district attorney of Total Swamp, La., who told me that he had startling information concerning "another crime of the century," and I immediately flew out to see him.

"What is your startling information?" I asked.

"I can't reveal it at this time, but I believe everyone is going to be terribly surprised when I do."

"Well, can you tell me what kind of crime it was?"

"I'd rather not say until I've made my arrests. If I talked about it the people involved might get away."

"Can't you give me some clue?"

"ALL I CAN tell you is that I have a witness who will reveal all the details in due time."

"Where is this witness?" I asked.

"He's dead. The coroner said he died of natural causes, but I insist it was suicide."

"But what good is the witness if he's dead?"

"Ah, that's just the point. Why is my witness dead?"

"I REALLY don't know," I said. "Have you told the FBI what you know?"

"Why should I tell the FBI? They'll only take the glory away from me. I'm trying to make a name for myself, boy."

"I can see that. Let me ask you this. Why do you claim to know something nobody else knows about this startling crime?"

"Because I've solved the case. It's that simple."

"But if you solved the case, why don't you make the arrests?"

"I DON'T have the evidence. How can I make arrests if I don't have any evidence?"

"It beats me, and probably the Supreme Court, too."

"But I'm not defeated. The fact I don't have any evidence makes me even more certain I've solved the crime."

"How do you figure that?"

"If you have evidence some smart wise guy lawyer can disprove it. But if you don't have any evidence they can't lay a glove on you."

"Don't you think it's premature to make these startling revelations?"

"I SHOULD say no. Some of the leading businessmen in this town are giving me money to continue my investigation. It isn't going to be easy because I may have to go out on a lecture tour. Did you want to take my picture?"

"I'd like to very much. Are you wearing TV make-up?"

"Of course. You never can tell when CBS, ABC or NBC is going to show up," he replied.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

It is no surprise to learn that "quotations from Chairman Mao Tse-tung" is the No. 1 best seller in Red China, where it can be expected to exert a literally compelling influence. But the little red book jumped from third to first place on a best seller list in France. The demand for Mao's writings outside Red China is spurred by the curiosity of those who want to know more about what is going on there than is now known, which isn't much.

The quotations themselves are aphoristic, blunt and dogmatic. For instance: "We should support whatever the enemy opposes and oppose whatever the enemy supports." The book includes what is perhaps the most famous of Mao's sayings: "Political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

In Red China, the book is regarded as a combination of literature, almanac, amulet, protection and magic elixir. Some of the claims made for it would embarrass a snake oil salesman. It is said to be good for improving one's ping pong game, or for making tractors run better. And its more devoted readers say that reciting it will help cabbage grow.

Still exulting over their remarkable finish in the Western Conference race, perhaps a little more than coach Buddy Travis would like for them to, the HCJC Jayhawks square off with Christian College of the Southwest in the first round of the Region V Basketball tournament at Amarillo today. Game time is 4 p.m. The Hawks, 21-12 on the year, have reached the point of no return. They need three victories in the tournament to win a trip to the National Juco tournament at Hutchinson, Kan. # Mickey Works Flawlessly

The Great Experiment is off to an early start at the New York Yankees' spring training camp... and Mickey Mantle already is one up on Dr. Strangelove. Mantle, determined to make the grade as a first baseman after 15 seasons in the Yankee outfield, jumped the gun Wednesday at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and scooped up about 30 ground balls with the big mitt. He came through with a perfect fielding average, then scored with a quick quip when asked what type of first baseman's glove he was using. "It's a Dick Stuart model," replied the 35-year-old slugger without cracking a smile. The reference was to the journeyman first baseman, now with Los Angeles, whose defensive shortcomings earned him the nickname Dr. Strangelove. Mantle, who wasn't expected to begin working out at first base for several days, persuaded coach Frank Crosetti to tap grounders his way. "I've got to learn something," Mantle said. Afterward, he admitted being "a little uncomfortable out there, at first. I kept feeling that everybody in the stands was waiting for me to miss one. I want to make it. # Snook Heavy Cage Choice Over Sands

AUSTIN — Everyone but the die-hard basketball fans of the Mustangs was conceding the Mustangs' first round game to Snook in the State Class B tournament in Gregory Gym here today. The two teams were to clash at 10:10 this morning, with the winner booked to oppose Krum at 10:25 a.m. Friday. Snook has the playoff poise going with it and has won more games than any other team in the playoffs—46. Sands is making his first trip ever to the state tournament, after having won Region VI-VII honors at Big Spring last week. Arlen White's Mustangs rapped Anthony and Bronte in that order to win the trip to Austin. Whichever team wins the Sands-Snook encounter has its work cut out for it. Krum, with a 35-6 record, boasts a 6-4 player in Ricky Knight and two 6-3 boys in Jackie Standifer and Donnie Merryfield. Snook turned back the Waelder Wildcats, 51-35, in its regional competition last weekend, a fact that becomes all the more impressive because Waelder had one boy who stood 6-8 and another who is 6-4. Snook averages 5-9 in height but is very fast. Sands isn't very tall either—its tallest boy is only 6-1. The Mustangs, however, boast good rebounders in Leon Russell and Oren Lancaster and good speed themselves in boys like Alfonso Calvio and Lynn Maxwell. In the only other first round game in Class B today, Avoca was to play Kennard at 8:45 a.m. in the meet's opening game. Plainview Washington, a Negro school, was to oppose the survivor in that game Friday morning. Sands carries a 22-5 record on the floor. Sands had a rough time of it in District 71-B play, winning the crown in a sudden death playoff with Gail. After that, it was easy sailing for the Ponies, however. Regardless of how they fare at Austin, this has to be Sands' finest season in history.

Gun Club Slates 7:30 Conclave

An election of officers for the new year will be staged at a meeting of the Mesquite Gun Club, scheduled to start at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the Gay Hill school. Dealon Stanley is the current president of the organization. Action films on pheasant and quail hunting will be screened for the benefit of the membership by Byron Graves of the Flying G Ranch. Another item of business to be brought before the membership will be the shooting schedule for the next 12 months. Guests will be welcome at the meeting. Refreshments will be served.

New Champs Are Sure In Tourney

New champions will be crowned in the B and C divisions of the YMCA Handball Singles tournament, scheduled to take place this weekend. Roy New, who copped the B division, moves up to the A flight. Skipper Sabbato, the C flightist in 1966, becomes a B flight competitor under tournament rules. Back to defend his Class A crown will be Don Farley. In all, 29 persons have indicated they will take part in the meet, many of them from Webb AFB. Entry fee is $1. Nine trophies will be given away at the conclusion of the tournament Saturday night. Plans for a doubles tournament will probably be announced at a later date.

Springer Named Wildcat Coach

LITTLEFIELD—Andy Springer, one-time star sprinter for Abilene High School, has been named head track coach and assistant football mentor at Littlefield High School. Springer, who went to McMurry College after departing high school, has been out of coaching for a year.

Littlefield New Tahoka Mentor

TAHOKA—Jim Littlefield, an assistant here the past two years, has been named head football coach at Tahoka High School. He replaces Don Smith, who resigned recently to become head coach at Perryton. Littlefield is a 1955 graduate of Ranger High School and later took a degree from Texas A&M. He coached on the junior high level at San Angelo at one time.

Balmorhea, Gail Open Girls' Meet

Balmorhea and Borden County (Gail) will square off in the only first round game in the Region VI-B girls' basketball tournament here Friday evening in the HCJC gym. The two contingents square off at 7:30 p.m. The survivor meets Talpa-Centennial at 9:45 a.m. Saturday. The other semifinal game pits Forsan against Trent at 11:15 a.m. Saturday. Third place game takes place at 7 p.m. Saturday while the title and a trip to the State tournament at Austin go up for grabs at 8:30 p.m. Talpa-Centennial brings the best record here. The Ramettes have lost only once in 22 starts. Balmorhea is 22-5. Gail, which won the 71-B crown in a playoff with Flower Grove, has copped 21 of 23 starts. Forsan has been the busiest of all Regional teams, having grabbed 30 decisions in 36 starts. Trent is 25-6. Dr. Dawson DeViney of HCJC is director general of the tournament. His assistants are Anna Smith and Jerry Dudley. The same three officials who worked here last week will again be on hand. They are Charles Caraway, Bill Boston and Harmon L. King Jr., all of Lubbock. Joe E. Streun coaches the Balmorhea team, which has a 6-0 player in Sun Ann Magee, along with a 5-9 freshman named Linda Becker. H. K. Lund has his Gail team in the Regional tournament for the third straight year and four times in the last five. The Coyote squad is built around Jacquie Dennis, 5-4 senior; Debra Jones, 5-8 junior; and Sheryl Williams, 5-5 junior. Barney Popnoe is the Talpa coach. The Ramettes have good height in 5-10 Carol Lane and six-foot Charlotte Faubion. Don Stevens is in his first year as coach at Forsan, which has a history for championships. The Buffalo Queens don't have much height but they are quick and aggressive and have beaten some of the finest teams in the area along the way. Forsan recently defeated Coahoma, a Class A titlist, in two practice games. Ralph Newton is the Trent coach. The Gorillas have 5-10 Sheila Hammer (who is only a freshman), Glenna Riggan, Ann Riggan and Betty Sharp are among Trent's scoring threats.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Elisio Estrada, the 127-pound boxer from Torrence, Mexico, in West Texan Melton McMorries' stable, lost a close decision in a semi-windup in a New Orleans ring earlier this week to hard-punching Benny McCall. Estrada suffered a bloody nose in the seventh and hit the deck in the eighth. Elisio had McCall in trouble early in the fight, at which time he made good use of a left hook and a good right hand. McCall faked an injury in the fifth and came off the ropes to hurt Estrada. It was McCall's third victory in as many starts but, is now 16-2-1. The crowd rose to its feet to cheer Estrada and McCall at the end of the bout. Elisio could get a rematch on the strength of his showing. Any doubt that basketball is catching up to football as a spectator sport in West Texas was erased during the past season. Big Spring High School consistently drew good crowds when its district season came on. HCJC didn't always fill the house but it was hard to find a seat during the Jayhawks' important tests. The crowds that sat in on the Region VI-B boys' tournament here last weekend were fantastic. Late comers had to stand around the ends of the court. The success of the meet points up to the need for a larger fieldhouse here, which in itself would promote new interest in the roundball sport. At Odessa, fans started turning out in large numbers for the first time in history to watch the Odessa College Wranglers. When HCJC played over there recently, a capacity crowd was on hand. Officials at junior colleges in the Western Conference, incidentally, feel the need to recruit on a nationwide basis for a few years yet. The calibre of basketball played in the high schools of Texas simply isn't on a par with that seen in areas like Kentucky, New York, Indiana and Illinois. Quite probably, you could take an all-star team from the elite of the best AAAA and AAA districts out this way, give it the proper seasoning and it still couldn't compete with the best in the aforementioned states. We have our outstanding players, true, but not in the quantity to be found in other areas.

Time was when San Angelo Junior College and HCJC had the most spirited rivalry in this section but the San Angelo school has been a four-year institution a couple of years now. It must be conceded that the theory of good sportsmanship sometimes erodes when teams of the two schools meet.

Now HCJC and Odessa have developed a splendid rivalry. It's the sort of rivalry, too, that makes for better relationships. May it ever remain thus.

A publicist for Look magazine writes that sports headlines for the year 1967 probably will read something like this: "Hoboken, Erie and Bliss, Idaho, to join National League; Circuit Has 48 teams"; "Will Tonight's NCAAAA Meet See Magic 2-Minute Mile Barrier Cracked?"; "Celtics Cop Pro Hoop Play-Offs With Low Score 468-462 Win"; "Biff Glutski Quitting Pro Ranks: 'I'm Too Light,' Says 375-Pound QB"; "U.S.A., Israel, Egypt and Moon Advance in Davis Cup Tennis"; "Boxing Drops Feel-A-Vision, Too Many Viewers Getting Bruised, Says Commissioner."

Bob McCann, a seldom-used sub on the Arizona State basketball team, said it: "When the coach puts me in, it's Red Auerbach lighting his victory cigar."

The possibility of converting the old Prairie Theatre building into a golf shop for the use of Muny course players has been discussed. The building has thick stone walls and would be a much bigger facility than the pro shop now used. The sequence of holes on the golf course would have to be changed, in all probability, and some linksters would frown on the thought of walking so far to get to the back nine. However, if they play the entire 18 holes, they take the same number of steps, regardless of where they start.

Bobby Fullerton Leader In Conference Scoring

Bobby Fullerton of South Plains, who enjoyed a productive night for South Plains in a losing cause against HCJC Monday night, easily won scoring honors in the Western Conference basketball race with a total of 330 points and a 23.6-point average. In his 14 games, the South Plains freshman scored 134 field goals and added 62 gratis pitches. Runner-up in the race was James Meeks of Lubbock Christian College, who wound up with 301 points and a 21.5 mean. HCJC's top man in the race was Jack Hosley, who counted a total of 237 points for a 16.9 norm. Lee Leonard of the Hawks made the Top 20 with 226 points and a 16.1 average. The leaders:

Sloan, Bulls Upset 76ers In NBA Tilt

By The Associated Press. It was just as though Jerry Sloan never left. Sloan, a second-year pro with the Chicago Bulls who helped lead Evansville, Ind., to two straight NCAA College Division basketball championships, performed before the home folks again Tuesday night, and he didn't disappoint them. Sloan scored 22 points and grabbed 15 rebounds in leading the Bulls past the Philadelphia 76ers 129-122. In other games on the full National Basketball Association slate, Boston tapped San Francisco 127-125, Cincinnati held off Los Angeles 122-116, Baltimore beat St. Louis 122-112 and Detroit trounced New York 118-101. Chicago, which out rebounded the 76ers 72-46, went ahead to stay 82-80 on Sloan's lay-up with 2:45 left in the third period. John Havlicek poured through 27 of his 36 points and Don Nelson got 16 of his 29 in the second half for the Celtics against San Francisco at Boston. Havlicek hit five straight field goals as Boston moved to an 86-78 lead in the third period. Then after the Warriors moved to within two points, Nelson connected on four field goals and two free throws to put the game out of reach. Cincinnati, getting 53 points from Oscar Robertson, 22 from Happy Hairston and 20 from Jerry Lucas, blew a 17-point lead but held on for its home-court victory. Elgin Baylor led Los Angeles with 30 points and Gail Goodrich got 27. The Lakers played without Jerry West, who was in West Virginia because of the death of his father. Baltimore withstood a 42-point final quarter by visiting St. Louis for its victory. John Barnhill scored 27 points, Ray Scott 25 and rookie Jack Marin 24 for the winners. Zelmo Beaty got 24 for St. Louis. Tom Van Arsdale put in five straight baskets in the second quarter as the Pistons built up a 60-44 halftime lead at Detroit. Dave Bing led Detroit with 28 points. Willis Reed topped New York with 22.

Cassius In Love With Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay says he plans to train an extra week in Houston before going to New York where he will defend his title March 22 against Zora Folley. Earlier he had planned to arrive in New York about two weeks before the bout. "I am going to stay an extra week because I like it down here," Clay said. "I like it better and better. I like the weather, the layout of the city. It's a peaceful, quiet, clean place."

Bristow Shoots 2nd Hole-In-One

The dean of West Texas amateur golfers, Obie Bristow, got himself another hole-in-one Wednesday at the Big Spring Country Club. This one came on the 159-yard 12th hole while playing with Dr. Robert Johnson, Earl Reynolds and Son Powell. He swung a six-iron for the feat. It was the second ace Bristow had scored in his long links career and helped him score a warm 34 for the back nine. For the entire 18 holes, he pieced together an even par 71. The Country Club has had four aces since Jan. 1.

SUDDENLY WE'RE THE "IN" DRINK!

Now, we've always been "in" with a rather fuzzy group. But suddenly the whole country has discovered our rare old Sippin' Whiskey. OVERNIGHT, WE'RE A HIT! We're also way behind in our orders. The trouble is Ezra Brooks is so sippin' good, you buy it faster than we can deliver it. Next time, however, don't be caught short. Why not try doubling your order. Then you'll have MORE than enough for real sippin' pleasure later. But is that bad?

What Persuades?

Dr. Charles Goetzinger, professor of class in persuasion at Oregon State University, asks students why they walked out of class yesterday. The Black Bag, seated on desk at right, had been central figure in the class attended by newsmen who wondered what Black Bag was all about. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Black Bag Sparks Student Walkout

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — Friends of the Black Bag, routed in an experience with cameras' bright lights and crowds of newsmen, said they hoped that was the end of all the attention. The Black Bag is the student who has been attending Speech 113, a course in basic persuasion at Oregon State University. He has been sitting in his anonymous isolation and interest has grown around him. The reason for the bag has not been clear. His 20 classmates, asked to open the class to the press, agreed. Wednesday, the deluge came. Students, outnumbered by newsmen and cameramen, had to squeeze their way into the classroom. "I'm tired of trying to explain," said a student. Another said the name of the student in the black bag was nobody's business.

NOT A JOKE

The Black Bag, his bare feet giving a flash of white beneath his garb, said he couldn't see anything because of the lights. He sat in a far corner, slouched in a chair, his feet against a table support. Dr. Charles Goetzinger, speech instructor, asked how a class in persuasion could persuade people the Black Bag was not a joke. "I'm tired of trying to explain," said a student. Another said the name of the student in the black bag was nobody's business.

NO KNOWLEDGE

Dr. Goetzinger, who does know, says the whole affair was the student's idea. "Perhaps to show we try to persuade in terms of our own blindfolds. And maybe, he said, "we may have to realize we'll never convince the outside world" the Black Bag isn't a gimmick. About that time, Allan Hytowitz of Portland, said, "as a student seeking knowledge, I'm not getting it here today. I'm leaving and I wish you'd do the same."

LOADED GUN

He left. A coed said, "We are playing the fool," and joined him. Then another left. Dr. Goetzinger told them to reassemble in his office in the basement. Then nearly everyone left. In the basement office the class in persuasion tried to find out what persuaded the members to walk out.

Was Hytowitz's talk that persuasive? Not really, said Dr. Goetzinger. "The gun was loaded, he just pulled the trigger." Several students protested the walkout.

"We shouldn't have left," said the Black Bag. "We were responsible to those people." "We were guinea pigs under the lights," replied a student.

Four Seeking 3 Trustee Seats

LAMESA (SC) — Four candidates have filed for the three places open on the Lamesa Independent School Board. Incumbent John Watson has filed for re-election to the board while other outgoing trustees will not seek another term. They are Skeet Noret and Dr. John Paul Puckett. All three have served two terms.

Other candidates for the offices will be David Hughes, area farmer, Bob Crawley, owner and operator of a local irrigation supply company and Robert Dixie Kilgore, rancher.

Holdover school board members are J. D. Harris, Charles Bratcher, Bill Reid and Early Peitler.

East Texas Oil Output Rule Slated

AUSTIN (AP) — A Railroad Commission examiner should issue his recommendations on proposals to boost oil production in the five-county East Texas field within the month, a commission official says.

The examiner, Mac Coker, will submit his recommendations to the full three-man commission for a final decision, which could still be months away. "He should have his recommendations within the month," said Fred Young, the commission's legal counsel.

Coker received three days of testimony in November on a variety of proposals that proponents said would do two things: —Boost production in the field. —Raise output of proratable wells.

SHARE TOO BIG

Atlantic-Richfield and Superior Oil companies opened the case, claiming marginal wells got too big a share of the field's production and that the field did not get a proper cut of state output.

Under the marginal well law, most such wells in the field are allowed to produce up to 19.99 barrels a day every day in the month, despite monthly allowable, witnesses testified.

Young said several oil companies filed briefs before the Feb. 9 deadline, including General American, Cities Service, Mobil, Bryan Payne and L. C. Johnston, Pan American, U-Tex, P. G. Lake, Inc. and Superior.

Atlantic-Richfield asked that the hourly potential factor for proratable wells in the field be raised on a sliding scale when the Texas market demand factor increases. The factor, now 2.32 per cent, is applied to a well's hourly potential production in determining the well's allowable. Other figures used in determining the allowable are the monthly market demand factor and the number of days in a month.

ALTERNATE PROPOSALS Alternate proposals were offered by Cities Service, Mobil, Superior and Sun Oil companies.

General American, the Kilgore Chamber of Commerce and E. Bruce Street, former president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, were among opponents of the various plans.

Street and General American claimed the proposals were designed to give the companies that made them a higher share of the field's production.

The Kilgore Chamber of Commerce said the Superior and Atlantic-Richfield proposals discriminate against marginal well operators and would affect adversely local tax and bond structures.

Cops Hunt Duo Killer

GEORGE WEST (AP) — A search continued in South Texas today for a man wanted for questioning about the slayings of a Houston couple.

Bodies of Fred Davis, 72, and his wife Alvada, 59, were found Tuesday afternoon in their home adjacent to a motel-apartment complex they owned. Police said Davis was stabbed 20 times and Mrs. Davis nine times.

South Texas police were alerted after a car belonging to the couple was found wrecked near George West. The driver was believed to have fled on foot.

Sheriff Bob Reagan of Live Oak County said a farmer living 10 miles south of here saw a man fitting the wanted man's description during the afternoon. Reagan and 15 mounted men found tracks leading toward the Nueces River. George West is 110 miles from the Mexican border.

Houston detectives said no motives for the deaths had been established.

"A purse found in the house was open and dollar bills, clearly visible were not taken," said detective C. H. Walker. "However, a relative said Davis often had a sizable sum of money in his pockets and we found none."

ROTC Program For Two Years

COLLEGE STATION — Transfer students from junior and four-year colleges who miss the first two years of the ROTC program may qualify for a U.S. Army commission through a new two-year program at Texas A&M University and other institutions.

Applications must be made and processed in time for six-weeks summer camp at Fort Benning, beginning June 11. The camp provides equivalent training for the first two years of the ROTC program. It includes military history, courtesy, drill and marksmanship. Maj. Fenton is located in Room 208, Military Science Building.

Polio Crippled Doctor Delivers 3,500 Babies

DALLAS (AP) — A fever known later as polio left Dr. Jack Windham, now 84, unable to walk at the age of 14 months. Taking a little time to count, he figured yesterday, however, that in 60 years of medical practice he has delivered 3,500 babies — all but five in rural homes. He came from his home at Shelbyville, which is east of Flat Fork and west of Goober Hill in the east edge of Texas, for hospital treatment of his arthritis.

GOATS PULLED WAGON Windham recalled that it took him two years after the polio attack to learn to walk again. He still can't wriggle the toes on his right foot but gets around with a silver-headed cane.

Because his legs were too weak to carry him a mile to school, his father rigged a red wagon pulled by two goats for transportation.

"I credit those goats for my education," he said.

Later, as a young doctor, he often went to deliver babies in remote shacks dotting the Sabine River bottom. Since there were no roads, he simply found sturdy volunteers to carry him piggyback.

The white-haired physician estimates more than $50,000 in fees went uncollected.

He and Mrs. Windham live in a century-old house at Shelbyville and he still runs a drug store there.

"I've got a lot out of life," he mused. "If I had it to do over, I'd do it the same way."

Port Shouts 'We Love You' To Savannah

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's biggest and busiest port roared an unusual harbor salute Wednesday to the nuclear ship Savannah — neither hello nor goodbye, but "We love you!"

The salute, previously given only to vessels on their maiden voyage, or old-timers sadly headed for the scrapyard, expressed the waterfront's affection, and its hopes that the Savannah, the world's only atomic merchant vessel, will not be laid up for alleged economy reasons.

Watching from the wheelhouse and navigation bridge, Capt. Austin Cushman, the Savannah's new master, and Capt. Arnold Block, her immediate former master, were touched by the salute.

Cushman said, "I think the salute was very fitting. It's a good omen and an expression of confidence in the ship's future."

Charles Tiedemann, president of the Hoboken, N.J., Chamber of Commerce and assistant manager of the Bethlehem Shipyard there, read a resolution after the welcome which called the Savannah "the boldest and most imaginative concept of American technological ingenuity on the high seas since the days of our vaunted clipper ships a century ago."

The resolution also petitioned President Johnson, Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, the Maritime Administration, the Senate Commerce Committee, the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee and all New Jersey congressmen to "use their good offices to rescind any and all plans for the laying up of the nuclear ship Savannah" and restore its budget appropriation.

The ship is due to be laid up Aug. 20. Its proponents contend it will cost less — about $1.2 million — to operate her. The lay up at a special nuclear ship facility in Galveston would cost $1.5 million a year, they said.

Oxford Students Smoke Marijuana

OXFORD, England (AP) — About 500 of Oxford University's 10,000 students regularly smoke marijuana, a committee of tutors reported today.

It said investigations have shown this proportion of students at other British universities — five per cent — also take drugs.

Speck Judge Eases News-Coverage Bans Following Court Order

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — News- men had a slightly freer hand today in covering the trial of Richard Speck, the 25-year-old drifter accused of murdering eight student nurses.

The trial judge, Herbert C. Paschen, relaxed his news-coverage restrictions Wednesday, thus complying with an order issued earlier in the day by the Illinois Supreme Court.

Speck's trial, which began Feb. 20, is still in its jury-selection phase and 167 persons have been questioned for possible service.

The first panel of four jurors — two men and two women — was accepted only Wednesday. Two women also were tentatively approved as a start toward completing the second panel.

NEW RULES

Judge Paschen's new rules now permit newsmen to obtain transcripts of the proceedings at any time and allow reporting of all events which occur in open court. However, the names of the prospective jurors may not be published until they are either excused or sworn and sequestered.

Prior to the Supreme Court's order, newsmen were not permitted to use transcripts during jury selection. They also were banned from reporting questions and answers in the questioning of prospective jurors.

On the panel accepted Wednesday are a housewife with a teenage son, a retired contractor, a divorced mother of two young children and an ex-Marine who now is a factory supervisor.

NO FIXED OPINIONS

Under oath, all four said they have no fixed opinion against Speck. They also said they are not opposed to the death penalty. The prosecution is asking for capital punishment for Speck.

The members of the panel will be sequestered in a hotel until the trial ends but they will not be sworn until a full jury is selected.

Speck, who appeared to have recovered from a mild attack of gastritis, watched Wednesday's proceedings with apparent interest. He is accused of murdering the eight nurses last July in their Chicago townhouse.

The Supreme Court's order to ease news restrictions came on a five to one vote.

The dissenter, Justice Walter V. Schaefer, wrote in his opinion that he disagreed with both orders of the majority.

The defendant's right to a fair trial, he wrote, is the primary right involved.

"The right to a public trial," he said, "is a right guaranteed to the accused, not to the public."

The Supreme Court acted in response to a suit brought by the Tribune Co., publisher of the Chicago Tribune, which chal- lenged Judge Paschen's restric- tions on transcripts, jurors' names and making sketches in the courtroom.

The Supreme Court did not rule on the making of sketches, but set a hearing for oral argu- ments for March 13.

Newsmen remain prohibited from using still or television cameras or recording equip- ment in the courthouse.

Tijuana Brass Will Play At Public Dinner

The 'Tijuana Brass,' a popular musical group composed of Big Spring Senior High School Band members, will be featured at a Mexican supper Saturday sponsored by the Mothers' Club of the Immaculate Heart of Mary School.

The supper will be held in the cafeteria of the school which is located south of town, off the San Angelo Highway, and serving will be from 5 to 8 p.m. Preparing the supper will be members of the Mothers' Club which is headed by Mrs. Luis Cassilas. Members of the ways and means committee are in charge of arrangements. They are Mrs. Harry Dominique, Mrs. Royal Mills, Mrs. James Finfinger, Mrs. J. P. Williams, Mrs. Roy McGhee, Mrs. Dan Bustamante and Mrs. Israel Longoria. Mrs. Sylvester Sulak, program chairman, is responsible for entertainment.

Sister Francis Andre of the Missionary Sisters of the Immaculate Conception, is directing the school's fifth grade students in making decorations and posters for the event.

Party Held Wednesday

Mrs. Marcellous Weaver was honored with a baby gift coffee Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Pete Shannon, 1418 Tucson. Mrs. Jackie Touchstone was co-hostess.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with a white linen cloth centered with a miniature baby buggy and a white and blue cake. Crystal and silver appointments completed the decorations. Fifty attended.

Delegate Elected By Garden Club

Mrs. G. T. Hall was elected delegate to the state convention in Houston, May 1-4, at the Wednesday meeting of the Big Spring Garden Club in the home of Mrs. J. C. Pickle, 415 Hillside.

Mrs. Norman Read introduced the guest, Mrs. Florence Thomas of Mart, and Mrs. Garner McAdams presented the program. It was a film of the Mason Garden Club in Hill Country and showed the wild flowers blooming in spring.

Mrs. Hall presided and announced the flower show will be held April 22, and the district one convention to be held April 3-4 at the Ramada Inn.

Refreshments were served, and the next meeting on April 5 will be a pilgrimage.

Equipment Given By Grady P-TA

Mrs. Loy Cox presided and read a letter of appreciation for the purchase of playground equipment at the recent meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association in the Grady school.

Mrs. Marvin Standefer was elected delegate to the spring conference March 8 in Lamesa, and plans were made to purchase a plaque for the Inter-scholastic League winners.

Grover Springer and the Grady Boy Scouts brought the program, and Kelly Tate gave the history of the American flag. Awards were presented, and the Star Scout awards were given to Mike and Pat Springer. Twenty-five attended.

The group met in the home of Mrs. Louis Cerrone, 707 W. 13th, who worded prayer, and Mrs. John Knox led the Bible study. Mrs. W. S. Goodlett, chairman, reported on work done at West-side Center, and announced that help in arithmetic is needed by the children. Twelve attended. The next meeting will be March 14 at the church.

Guest Speaker Probes Problems Of Poverty

The third in a series of lessons on "Affluence and Poverty" was presented by Mrs. Thea Watts Monday evening for members of the Wesleyan Service Guild at First Methodist Church.

Guest speaker was the Rev. Harold Rucker, assistant pastor, who chose the topic, "The Challenge of Poverty to the Christian and the Practical Approach to It."

He noted that the effort to end poverty, people must first ask questions of themselves concerning their sincerity. He asked if they want to help out members of the Wesleyan Service Guild at First Methodist Church, are they respectful, are they helping the person see how to help themselves? He also pondered how one could help without hindering and how best to communicate with others in a Christian way. He concluded by saying people must answer the questions themselves using faith and Christian spirit to arrive at the answers.

The concluding program will be next Monday evening when a play, "Needs in Nutshells," will be given under the direction of Mrs. Ayra Cunningham. At that time, the missionary offering will be received.

A LOVELIER YOU

Your Age No Secret If Hands Look Old

By MARY SUE MILLER
Compared to the pampering the face receives, the attention given the hands amounts to neglect. Yet the hand complexion has fewer oil glands than the facial complexion. Consequently the skin on the hands dries out and ages much faster.

The drying process is hastened, of course, when the hands are exposed to harsh work and weather. And you just know they are!

To keep or restore their youthful appearance, they plainly require extra - special care. Let's consider some of the methods:

As a general toner - upper, "wash" your hands with lotion at bedtime. Apply a highly refined lanolin lotion for this purpose. Massage it in and, while hands are still dampish, encase them for the night in cosmetic gloves.

To control freckles and brown spots, be faithful to a skin bleach. Also wear a sun block or gloves outdoors - on sunny days to avoid darkening.

Cocoon ragged cuticles in cuticle oil, any time you have 10 minutes to spare. The oftener, the better.

Relieve prominent veins and tendons by placing elbows on chair arms and fingertips lightly on shoulders. Results are temporary, but the operation may be repeated as desired and it teaches needed relaxation. For cleansing use a superfatted soap. Thereafter apply glycerin - and - rose water lotion. (Glycerin is the original moisturizer.) Or massage with lemon juice, a move that renews the skin's protective acid mantle.

LOVELIER HANDS

Do you have a hand problem? Send today for "Lovelier Hands," a booklet that covers every step in a quest for hand beauty. It tells how to keep the skin and nails groomed; how to overcome weak nails, polish chips, discolored knuckles, prominent veins, wrinkles; how to use the hands with poised grace. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin.

Canyon Home Suits Terrain

By RHODA LEMONS

Go as far down the road as you can; the lemon-colored house on your left overlooks an expanse of canyon. This is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harroll G. Jones, 1504 Dayton.

to the walkway, and one side of the house is completely flanked by a deck. Floor to ceiling windows look out on the natural canyon, affording a lovely view. Inside, colors of gold and green, African birch paneling, and black and gold accessories provide a background for the attractive and charming Mrs. Jones.

Having recently remodeled their home by adding another master bedroom, dressing room and bath over a full-sized basement, Mrs. Jones has been busy refinishing furniture and sewing accessories for the rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones converted the original master bedroom into a large room for their two daughters, Glynn, 14, and Leigh, 11. The girls painted the walls white and planned the room decorations, while their parents painted and hung the basswood roll-ups and built and covered the blue and green printed cornice boards matching the king-size bedspread.

Having a workshop in the basement, which is vented for air conditioning and heat, Jones built his son, Warren, 10, a handsome bookcase and desk for his room. Warren usually accompanies his dad wherever he goes, and assists him in whatever project he can.

Mrs. Jones readily admits that, "I don't really enjoy everyday cooking." She enjoys cooking for small parties and for special occasions, but although several days a week, she does prepare three meals a day, her heart is not really in it. She enjoys home decorating and sewing for her daughters and just recently for herself. She makes at least half of her girls' clothes, and has a sewing room where she leaves her machine open at all times.

Mrs. Jones has domestic help one day a week, and has her ironing and general cleaning done. She tries to shop economically and wisely, but does not have a definite household or grocery budget. Her husband is opposed to installment buying, so they plan their expenditures in advance and save toward their purchase. Their newest appliance is a clothes dryer, of which she is "extremely" proud. She considers it her most valuable appliance as it saves her much time and energy.

In order that she might place the piano away from the living room wall, Mrs. Jones covered the back with matchstick bamboo. Both daughters have had piano lessons, and Warren is taking guitar lessons. Mrs. Jones is teaching herself to play the banjo. She says she really doesn't know why, except that, "I have always enjoyed the instrument."

"We almost always entertain informally, for we seem to enjoy people more in small groups," says Mrs. Jones. "We also love to just visit with friends."

Jones is an avid hunter and fisherman. Since he travels in his job, he doesn't go too far to enjoy his favorite sports. He is employed as a salesman for Stripling Supply Company, and he usually motors to outlying ranches to seek his quarry.

The Joneses have membership in the First Methodist Church, where Mrs. Jones teaches the fourth grade Sunday School class. They are members of the Big Spring Concert Association, and she is secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association. She just recently completed a stint working with the Girl Scouts.

"I think homemaking is one of the most rewarding experiences a woman can have," said Mrs. Jones. "I also feel that every young girl should be taught the art of cooking and sewing, and the love of doing work that makes others comfortable and happy."

MRS. HARROLL G. JONES

RECOMMENDED RECIPES

Mrs. Harroll G. Jones

GREEN ENCHILADAS WITH CHICKEN

1 frying chicken, or 3 cans boned chicken
2 cans cream of chicken soup
1 can chopped green chilies
1/4 lb. soft processed cheese
2 dozen tortillas
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup grated longhorn cheese

Boil a chicken until tender and remove from bone, or use canned boned chicken. Melt soft processed cheese in the soup, add chicken and green chilies. In a casserole, place a layer of tortillas, torn into fourths, then sprinkle with half of the onions and half of the grated longhorn cheese. Pour half of the soup mixture over the tortillas and then put another layer of quartered tortillas and the remaining cheese, onions and soup mixture. Bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes.

FRENCH APPLE PIE

Pastry for 9 inch one-crust pie
3/4 cup sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon
6 to 7 cups sliced apples
1 1/2 tps. butter

CRUMB TOPPING

1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup flour

Heat oven to 425 degrees. Mix sugar and cinnamon. Mix lightly through apples. Heap up in pastry-lined pie pan. Dot with butter. Mix ingredients for crumb topping and sprinkle on apples. Bake at 425 degrees for 20 minutes, then lower heat to 350 degrees and continue baking for 30 minutes.

QUAIL

20 quail, browned in oil
2 chopped green onions

1/2 cup sherry
1/2 bay leaf
1 pinch thyme

Combine last four ingredients in sauce pan and boil until reduced to one-fourth cup liquid. Set aside. Sauté one can chopped mushrooms in two tablespoons flour and stir in two cups chicken broth. Combine with the sherry mixture and pour over the browned quail and steam in the oven for two hours.

DOVE FILE' GUMBO

25 doves
3 chopped onions
3 stalks chopped celery
1 chopped green pepper
3/4 cup oil
5 qts. oil
Salt
Savor salt
Garlic salt
3 bay leaves
1 cup roux
3 tpsps. file'

Saute doves in oil until lightly browned, and then drop them into boiling water that has been seasoned with salt, savor salt, garlic salt and bay leaves. Boil slowly until almost tender, and green pepper in the same oil where the doves were browned.

Add the roux and the vegetables to the boiling doves. (Roux is made by browning in a heavy skillet, one cup flour in three-fourths cup oil, until it is the color of dark chocolate fudge.) Remove the bay leaves and add the file' just before serving, or put the file' (seasoning from sassafras root) on the table in a shaker, so that each person may add his own. Serve over rice in bowls. Chicken or shrimp may be used instead of dove.

RECLOSEABLE twist-top package keeps brown sugar

Soft!

Recloseable Easy to open. Easy to close — just twist the band.

Won't Dry Out Imperial Pure Cane Brown Sugar stays refinery-fresh to the last spoonful! Won't dry out after reclosing. Close tightly after using.

Airtight Keeps natural moisture and softness in. Keeps dry air out.

Compact Stands upright on pantry shelf. Holds 2 pounds Imperial Pure Cane Brown Sugar.

Add Fruit Bowl For Light Meal

For a merry summer supper put your best foot forward with a dish of nibbles and nuts.

NIBBLES AND NUTS
1/2 cup butter
1/2 tsp. salt
2 tpsps. seasoning salt
6 cups bite-size shredded rice biscuits
1/2 cup grated Romano cheese
Paprika
1 cup salted peanuts
Melt butter in a metal pan (about 7 by 11 by 2 inches); remove from heat; stir in salts. Add rice biscuits and mix with seasoned butter. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until top layer is lightly browned — about 5 minutes.

Turn over biscuits with a pancake turner and bake another 5 minutes or until browned. Sprinkle with cheese and paprika and turn over biscuits as you do so. Turn out in a single layer on waxed paper to cool. Mix with peanuts.

Store in tightly covered container.

Off-Beat Foods Encourage Child

A child who demands a hamburger and a custard dessert for breakfast has the right instincts.

This combination, with fruit or juice added, gives him just as good a selection of proteins, vitamins and minerals as a more conventional breakfast of juice or fruit, eggs or bacon, toast and milk.

Other off-beat breakfasts suggested by the trade organization promoting paper plates and cups include a grilled cheese and tomato sandwich and milk; a milkshake containing egg, orange juice and milk with sugar to taste; or a sandwich of left over steak served with tomato or orange juice.

Children who resist oatmeal may find it more to their taste if mother substitutes a scoop of ice cream for the usual milk or cream. Milk can be added to breakfasts in the form of junket.

Casserole Makes Poultry Partner

Corn meal casserole is a fine partner for poultry.

PARMESAN POLENTA
1 cup yellow corn meal
1 tsp. salt
1 cup cold and 3 cups boiling water
1-3 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 tpsps. butter

In a heavy medium saucepan, stir together the corn meal, salt and 1 cup cold water. Stir in the 3 cups boiling water. Cook and stir over low heat until thickened. Cover and cook, stirring often, until very thick — about 20 minutes. Turn into a buttered 8 by 8 by 2 inch heatproof glass or other baking dish; cool; cover and chill — overnight if you like. Sprinkle with Parmesan; dot with butter; bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven about 20 minutes. Serve at once in baking dish. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Garnish Chops With Parsley

Garnish lamb chops with broiled thin slices of sweet onion; add a sprinkling of minced parsley and a slice of cherry tomato. Festive for company!

Cauliflower Cooked In Skillet For Quick Meal

You may have panned cabbage; but have you ever given cauliflower similar treatment?

PANNED CAULIFLOWER
1 medium head cauliflower
1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup water
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tpsps. minced parsley

The cauliflower should weigh about 1 1/4 pounds without leaves. Separate into cauliflowers; wash and drain. Halve small flowerets and quarter large ones so part of buds are attached to part of stems; there should be about five cups. In a 10-inch skillet melt the butter. Toss the cauliflower in it; sprinkle with water and salt. Cover and boil gently for eight to 10 minutes or until tender, turning cauliflower over a few times; try to have stalk ends at bottom of pan. Liquid should be evaporated. Sprinkle with parsley. Makes four to six servings.

Bacon Filling Stuffs Celery

Looking for a versatile filling which can be kept on hand for sandwiches, cracker topping or celery stuffing? A bacon-cream cheese combination zipped with horseradish is just the answer for this purpose.

Bacon will crumble readily after it's cooked. It may be pan-fried or broiled until crisp. When using either method best results are obtained by not cooking the bacon too quickly.

CHEESE-BACON FILLING
12 slices bacon
2 pkgs. (3 ozs. each) cream cheese

1 tsp. prepared horseradish
1 tpsps. milk

Cook bacon until crisp. Crumble bacon. Combine cream cheese, horseradish and milk. Add bacon. Mix well. Use as 1 cup.

celery stuffing, sandwich filling or topping for crackers. Yield:

Lamesa Museum Group Sets, Formal Opening Plans

LAMESA (SC) — Officers and directors of the Dawson County Museum Association, with representatives of various civic and women's clubs, met Monday in the Pioneer Natural Gas Building to make plans for an art show in the museum Easter Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. and the three following Sundays during the same hours. Hosting the show will be members of the Dawson County Art Association and the Women's Study Club.

This will be the formal opening of the museum building since it was renovated. Museum officers and directors are now working toward accepting and collecting items of interest to this area. Any person having anything to contribute is asked to call Mrs. J. W. Dennis at 462-6342, curator, or Mrs. O. H. Sires, president.

Robert Dixie Kilgore was appointed by Mrs. Sires to be legal consultant on records and acceptance of items. Each item will be listed and filed. The donor will receive a receipt and if operation of the museum should cease, items may be reclaimed upon presentation of the receipt. Plans are also under way for accepting items for specified periods of time on a loan basis. Articles dating prior to 1917 are particularly needed.

Clubs agreeing to furnish specific rooms or areas are the Delphian Club, a bedroom; Women's Study Club, dining room; and the Council of Home Demonstration Ladies, a bath. Any club or organization wishing to furnish any room or part of the building are asked to contact Mrs. Dennis or Mrs. Sires.

The Dawson County Garden Club has been in charge of landscaping the museum grounds, and has received a $500 grant from Sears to finance the project.

Members of clubs who have made contributions to the museum restoration are automatically members of the association. Participating clubs are urged to use the building for meetings and any group desiring a guided tour may call a director or officer of the association.

Display cases for artifacts and documents are needed and anyone having information as to where the association might acquire these were asked to contact R. C. Lott or C. L. Houston on the properties committee. Anyone having old documents, photos, or items of historical interest should contact Mrs. U. S. Dalmont who will have charge of the natural history room. An educational room is also being considered by the directors and officers.

An office is being set up on the ground floor for records and a caretaker has been employed to care for the museum and grounds.

New officers of the Dawson County Museum Association are Mrs. Sires, president; Lott, vice president; Clyde Branon, treasurer; Mrs. Harry Bruner, recording secretary and Mrs. Stanley Applegate, corresponding secretary.

City-appointed directors are Houston, Branon, Bob Crawley, Guy Weekes, Mrs. Bobby Warren, Mrs. Bruner and Mrs. Applegate. Directors appointed by

Poster Contest Plans Announced By Little Theatre

Elementary school students have been invited to participate in the annual poster contest sponsored by the Big Spring Little Theatre to publicize its upcoming play for youngsters — "The Wizard of Oz."

The play will be staged in the municipal auditorium March 17-18, including a matinee performance March 18.

Posters are to be made prior to March 7 and will be picked up for judging by a local artist March 8. One entry per child is allowed, it must be entirely the child's work, and entries will not be returned. They must be between 8x11 inches and 11x14 inches.

Judging criteria will be on neatness, originality, and suitability to the Oz story, as well as good lettering, clarity and lack of clutter. Any art media may be used.

A grand prize of a $25 savings account will be given for the best over-all entry. First, second and third place winners in each grade level, 1-6, will receive prizes of $8, $5 and $2, respectively. Big Spring Savings and Loan Association and Hemphill-Wells Co. will make the awards.

Viramontes Quits

CANYON, Tex. (AP)—James B. Viramontes resigned Wednesday as basketball coach of West Texas State University and will become assistant professor of physical education and head of men's intramurals.

Contest Develops In City Race

LAMESA (SC)—Bob Oates has announced his candidacy for Place 5 on the city council, opposing Jake Lippard. Lippard has served two terms and will be seeking re-election.

Lloyd Cline will be seeking re-election for Place 4 on the council, and has no opposition. Councilmen whose terms do not expire are Douglas B. Black, Wendell Stranahan and Bernie Holt.

J. P. White will serve as election judge with Joe Spikes as assistant. Deadline for filing is March 3.

Texans Mark Independence Day

WASHINGTON — ON — THE BRAZOS, Tex. (AP) — Texans observed the 131st birthday of the state today in ceremonies here where the Texas Declaration of Independence was signed March 2, 1836.

The celebration at Washington-on-the-Brazos State Park included speeches, barbecue, bands and costumed train riders.

The observance meant a holiday from school for several area school districts.

Hill was the principal speaker at the 71-acre state park. RECONSTRUCTION PLANS Mrs. Jennie Morrow Decker, 96, of Houston, was expected to attend the ceremonies. She is a granddaughter of Sam Houston, hero of the Battle of San Jacinto in which Texas won its independence from Mexico. He also was the first president of the Republic of Texas.

Additional details of plans for a memorial museum and for reconstruction of Washington-on-the-Brazos as it existed when it served as the first capital of Texas were expected to be revealed by the Washington State Park Association.

REQUIREMENT MET

The association now has about $700,000 available for the museum and has announced plans to raise another $800,000 for the reconstruction project.

George Red, Houston lawyer and president of the association, delivered a check for $100,000 to Gov. John Connally Monday from Houston Endowment Inc., the philanthropic organization founded by the late Jesse H. Jones, Houston financier and publisher.

The organization made a similar gift for the museum last year. The second gift permits the association to meet a requirement set by the state legislature when it made a $300,000 appropriation for the museum in 1965. The appropriation was contingent on receipt of at least $200,000 in contributions from local or private sources.

War Declaration Passed Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has once more passed up an opportunity to declare war in Vietnam.

Although some senators have called U.S. actions in Vietnam illegal in the absence of a formal war declaration, most remained silent on that point Wednesday when the Senate voted 89 to 2 to provide $4.5 billion more for the fighting.

Parliamentary maneuvering by Senate Democratic Leader

Mike Mansfield forestalled the possibility the Senate would come to grips with the declaration of war issue through the authorization bill.

500,000 MARK
Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., had prepared amendments demanding a war declaration if U.S. troops in Vietnam passed the 500,000 mark or if U.S. bombing of North Vietnam continued.

But Mansfield's maneuvering forced a vote on his alternate amendment calling for negotiations to end the struggle and generally endorsing Johnson's policies. It passed 72 to 19.

Administration officials have long been felt to believe that a formal declaration of war would create obstacles for U.S. efforts to limit the war and gain a negotiated settlement.

AUTHORITY GIVEN?
The Constitution gives Congress the right to make a formal war declaration. But in the case of Vietnam, officials interpret congressional approval of the administration's Vietnam policy as sufficient authority to pursue the fighting.

As support for this reasoning the officials note the Senate in 1954 approved the Southeast Asian defense treaty 82 to 1. Then in August, 1964, the Senate and House by combined votes of 512 to 2 adopted a resolution asserting U.S. readiness to use armed force if necessary to help South Vietnam in defense of its freedom.

RED AGGRESSION
Congress approved in 1965 a $700 million appropriation asked by Johnson to "persist in our efforts to halt Communist aggression in South Vietnam."

Officials say the President's right to commit U.S. troops to Vietnam comes from constitutional provisions which make him the commander in chief of the armed forces. They argue that there have been more than 100 times when presidents have employed armed forces abroad without a war declaration.

Negro Teen Faces Murder Charge

HOUSTON (AP) — A murder charge has been lodged against Freddie Brazil, 17, a Negro, in the Feb. 22 fatal shooting of Eddie McKay at a downtown department store.

McKay, also 17, a white youth, was killed in a restroom while the opening day parade of the Houston Livestock Show jammed nearby streets. Witnesses said McKay was shot after a struggle with a group of boys. A .22 caliber pistol bullet hit him in the chest.

Hoffa Ordered To Enter Jail

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Frank W. Wilson has ordered James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, to appear here Tuesday morning to begin serving an eight-year prison term for jury tampering. Less than an hour before Wilson announced his decision Wednesday Hoffa designated Frank E. Fitzsimmons, general vice president of the union since last July, as his successor.

Wilson's move came after he denied Hoffa's request for continuance of his $75,000 bail pending disposition of a new trial motion. Attorneys for Hoffa, who took over the 1.8-million-member labor organization after Dave Beck, long time Teamsters president, was handed a 15-year sentence in 1958 for stealing union funds, said Wilson's order "more than likely" would be appealed.

'I DOUBT IT'
However, when asked if the legal maneuver would again delay the start of Hoffa's sentence, P. D. Maktos, an attorney of Washington replied: "I doubt it."

Hoffa, 54, who also was handed a $10,000 fine at the end of his trial here in 1964, would have to serve one-third of the eight-year term before becoming eligible for parole. And the federal Landrum-Griffin Act would prohibit him from holding further union office after his release.

Although Wilson did not refer to them, his bail ruling also meant that three of Hoffa's codefendants would have to begin their sentences.

They are Ewing King of Nashville, former president of Teamsters Local 327; Thomas Ewing Parks, 49, a Nashville funeral home employee; and Larry Campbell, 42, business agent of Hoffa's home Local 299 in Detroit. Each was sentenced to three years.

FREE ON BAIL
A fourth defendant, Nashville lawyer Z. T. Osborn, who was tried separately and given a 3½-year term and a $5,000 fine, was granted a hearing on a new trial motion Tuesday, and is free on bail.

All of the convictions grew out of Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial in Nashville. The conspiracy case, involving the alleged collection of more than $1 million from an employer in violation of the Taft-Hartley law, ended in a mistrial when the jury was unable to agree upon a verdict.

Wilson still has made no ruling on the pending new trial motion — Hoffa's fourth — which was filed here Tuesday, one day after the U.S. Supreme Court refused to reconsider its rejection last Dec. 12 of a Hoffa appeal.

The pending motion alleges "new evidence" that the Justice Department used wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping during the 1964 trial here, and is supported by 20 affidavits from persons who say they participated in it or knew it was going on.

"There's no showing that any of these defendants need to be present to expedite these matters (further appeals) and there's no showing that they won't lead to cumulative delays," said Justice Department attorney Theodore Gilinski in urging imposition of the prison sentences.

Appeals based on two other new trial motions, the second and third filed by Hoffa, are pending before the U.S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals. However, Judge Clifford O'Sullivan of the appellate court Tuesday refused to allow Hoffa's bail to stand pending their disposition.

FREEDOM FIGHT
Maktos indicated Wednesday that he expects an unfavorable ruling from the 6th Circuit Court on the appeals.

Wilson first ordered Hoffa to appear here for execution of the sentence next Monday, but delayed it until Tuesday after Maktos said the union leader needed time to "get his union affairs in order."

Hoffa said Wednesday he would fight to stay free and to keep the nation's largest union strong.

In a four-minute news conference at a Baltimore hotel, the short, stocky teamster's chief affirmed that Fitzsimmons, his long-time friend, would be in command of the union if he is jailed.

CRUNCHY BANANA TREAT
Makes colorful accompaniment

Stretch Entree With Fancy Fruit Fingers

Guests drop in at dinner time? And you planned to serve a simple ham butt or leftover chicken to the family? You can quickly elevate a simple family meal and stretch the entree a bit, if you have these staples in the kitchen. Corn flakes, bananas, peanut butter, and marmalade are all that is needed to make Crunchy Banana Fingers. They provide a colorful, flavorsome accompaniment to meat and poultry entrees. Yet they take so more than 20 minutes to prepare.

Spread peeled bananas with peanut butter - marmalade mixture, roll them in corn flake crumbs, and bake. The creamy soft banana centers, frosted with the tangy spread, need only the crispness of the breakfast cereal to complete the "fingers." Cereals are nutritional bargains, too. They are economical sources of food energy, protein, minerals, and the B vitamins.

CRUNCHY BANANA FINGERS
 1/2 cup thick orange marmalade
 1-3 cup smooth peanut butter
 3 bananas, peeled and cut in half, crosswise
 1 1/2 cups corn flakes, crushed to make 3/4 cup crumbs
 Combine orange marmalade and peanut butter; mix well. Spread bananas with mixture, then roll in corn flake crumbs. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Place in moderate oven (375 degrees) to heat through, about 15 minutes. Yield: Six.

Be An Elegant Hostess By Serving Appetizer

If you have a special occasion on your social calendar, such as an anniversary party, a wedding rehearsal, or a private party where you wish to shine as a hostess.

Try this easy to make, but beautiful to admire, appetizer. It can be made ahead of time, and unmolded on the top tier of a two-tier serving platter shortly before guests arrive.

PINK SHRIMP MOUSSE
 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 1/2 cup cold water
 1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese
 1 8-oz. bottle Thousand Island dressing
 1/2 tsp. horseradish
 1 tsp. lemon juice
 1/2 tsp. salt
 2 cups cooked, finely chopped shrimp
 1/4 cup sliced celery
 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
 1 pkg. toasted bread slices

Soften gelatin in cold water. Soften cream, cheese with spatula and gradually stir in bottled salad dressing; mix until well blended. Add gelatin mixture, horseradish, lemon juice and salt. Cut shrimp in small pieces, reserving a few whole shrimp for garnish. Fold in chopped shrimp, celery, and green pepper. Pour into one quart mold; chill until firm.

At serving time, turn mold out on platter, garnish with whole shrimp, surround base of mold with toasted bread slices.

Stretch Menus With New Sauce

Mushrooms stretch leftover beef in a savory sauce.

BEEF WITH MUSHROOMS
 1 tsp. flour
 3/4 cup vegetable cocktail juice (tomato base)
 1 tsp. dry onion - soup mix
 1/2 cup commercial sour cream
 1/2 tsp. each celery salt and sugar
 1 cup roast beef strips, at room temperature
 1 can (8 oz.) chopped mushrooms

In a medium skillet, gradually whisk the vegetable juice into the flour, keeping smooth. Add soup mix, sour cream, celery salt and sugar. Over low heat cook and stir constantly until thickened; add beef, drained mushrooms and 2 tablespoons of the mushroom liquid. Reheat. Makes 3 servings.

Ground Beef Takes On Glamorous Sauce

Budget-minded ground beef, made into individual meat loaves and served with a savory mushroom sauce, does indeed take on glamorous airs. For ease of shaping and to assure moist tenderness in cooking, evaporated milk is used to blend and bind the meat mixture. This double - rich milk performs a second role in this delectable combo, for it is the base of the mushroom sauce, so smooth and so good.

BEEF LEAVES WITH MUSHROOM SAUCE
 1 lb. ground beef
 1/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs
 1 tall can evaporated milk (1 2-3 cups), divided
 1 tsp. instant minced onion
 1 tsp. salt
 Dash of pepper
 6 strips uncooked bacon
 1 can (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms

combine ground beef, crumbs, 1/2 cup of the evaporated milk, onion, salt and pepper. Mix lightly but thoroughly; shape into six loaves about one inch in diameter. Wrap each with one strip bacon, securing bacon in place with a toothpick. Fry on all sides to desired doneness. Remove from pan and keep warm.

To make mushroom sauce, pour all but about one tablespoon drippings from pan. Drain mushrooms, reserving liquid and remaining evaporated milk, stirring to keep mixture smooth.

Cook and stir over medium heat until thickened. Add pepper to taste, if desired. Pour over beef loaves and serve immediately. Makes four to six servings.

Danes Present Cookie Delight

Two young American women, cookbook authors, brought this recipe back from Denmark.

GOLDEN COCONUT MACAROONS
 2 eggs
 2-3 cup sugar
 1/2 tsp. almond extract
 1 pkg. (8 oz.) shredded coconut (about 2 cups)

Beat eggs slightly in a mixing bowl. Add sugar, almond extract and coconut; stir to mix thoroughly. Drop mixture by heaping teaspoonfuls onto a well-greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate oven for 12 minutes or until cookies are lightly brown. Remove to a wire rack to cool. Makes about 3 dozen.

French Adaptation Makes Fish Recipe

Fish is delicious when prepared with the proper seasonings. Even cod, a popular seafood, can be made into a special dish. Here is a tempting adaptation of a prized French recipe. This version substitutes cod for burbot, a fish popular in France. The cream sauce that covers the fish during baking is superb. Try it for the Lenten season and it will become a favorite throughout the year.

Meringue Shells

Nice for ready-to-serve summer dessert: Make a batch of meringue shells and freezer-store. Serve them with ice cream and a fresh fruit sauce.

BAKED COD IN SEASONED SAUCE

(Makes 4 servings)
 1/2 cup finely chopped shallots or onions
 2 tbsps. chopped parsley
 2 pounds fresh, cleaned cod, cut into (4) one-inch thick steaks
 1/4 cup melted butter
 Salt to taste

Pepper to taste
 1/4 cup tomato paste
 1/4 cup lemon juice
 1 1/2 cups light cream
 Combine shallots and parsley. Spread on bottom of a shallow two-quart (11 1/2 x 7 1/2 x 1 1/2 inch) baking dish. Remove excess moisture from fish with absorbent paper. Brush fish with melted butter. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place under preheated broiler, four inches from source of heat. Broil 10 minutes, or until fish begins to brown. Remove from broiler. If broiling is done in oven, at this point reduce temperature to 350 degrees F. In bowl, combine tomato paste and lemon juice. Stir in cream. Pour over fish. Place in center of preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) and bake for 30 minutes, basting frequently with its own sauce. Serve hot.

County Airport Bill Goes To Committee

A bill proposing authorization of the Howard County Airport Authority, authored by Temple Dickson, Sweetwater, has been introduced in the House of Representatives and sent to the committee on counties. It is HB 661.

Should the bill pass, a petition signed by five per cent of the qualified tax paying voters of Howard County would bring about the calling of an election to create the authority. The agency would have the power to levy a tax of not more than 50 cents per $100 valuation.

Should the authority be approved at such an election, it would become a legal entity in the form of a board of seven directors. Three of these would be appointed by the Howard County Commissioners Court, three by the City Commissioners of Big Spring, and the other by the district judge of the county.

Once appointed, this board would elect its own officers. It would have power to hire and fire employees, acquire and sell land and airports, construct and maintain its own facilities, issue bonds based on taxes, sue and be sued, exercise the power of eminent domain and enter into legal contracts.

Hospital Auxiliary Begins New Project

MUENSTER, Tex. (AP)—The Muenster Hospital Auxiliary has completed payments on special hospital equipment purchased by the organization two years ago and has undertaken a new project. Two resuscitators, two masks and an adding machine were purchased for Muenster Memorial Hospital, and now the group plans to buy $15,000 worth of cardiac equipment. Its first gift for that project was $500 from Mrs. Werner Endres, in memory of her husband.

Reagan Wins Republican Applause Meter Contest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan Gov. George Romney, tabbed in some polls as the leading Republican contender for the presidency in 1968, gained only a standoff with Republican leaders at a $1-million fund-raising dinner.

Romney, a top prospect for the 1968 presidential nomination, was outshone on the platform at Wednesday night's GOP gala performance by Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Reagan, a prospective California favorite son candidate aloof from Romney's potential bid for the nomination, easily won the applause meter contest with his appearance.

BARRY STILL POPULAR
 Not far from behind with the audience at the $500-a-plate dinner was Barry Goldwater, the 1964 presidential nominee, who apparently is still personally popular with the Republicans despite his disastrous defeat by President Johnson.

Goldwater acidly observed offstage that Romney would have a chance for the 1968 nomination "if he returns to the Republican party."

This was a measure of Goldwater's chagrin at Romney's refusal to support him in the 1964 race.

While the Michigan governor continued to talk in vague terms of future positions on Vietnam, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon was his old, aggressive self on that issue.

a winning presidential campaign.

"WE WANT DIRKSEN"
 There was some speculation that Romney, a candidate of the GOP moderates, was angling for conservative support when he told Republican senators at a luncheon Wednesday that he's opposed to repeal of the law which permits states to ban the union shop.

Romney was said to have explained he couldn't advocate this publicly in Michigan, where the labor vote could be decisive. The audience greeted Romney with an ovation that exceeded applause given Romney when he arose to speak. Romney's quips kept the audience laughing.

Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen also drew laughter when he announced at the beginning of the evening's final speech that "I accept the nomination." He invited the audience to take up the chant "We want Dirksen!"

Special Fire Phone Jams Switchboard

NOCONA, Tex. (AP)—The abuse of a special fire telephone number here has caused an upset of the service.

Fire Chief J. W. Walker said unauthorized persons have learned the number and are dialing it each time there is a fire. The special number was set up for firemen to call to learn the location of fires.

Walker said the special switchboard has been flooded with calls when the fire siren sounds, preventing firemen from getting an answer to their calls and disrupting other local telephone service.

The chief said as many as 400 calls have jammed the switchboard following the sounding of the fire siren.

New Car Key Law Passed In Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—Cars left unattended on Dallas streets with keys in the ignition now can be impounded by a new City Ordinance. City councilmen noted that 42 per cent of all auto thefts involve cars in which keys were left or the ignition was unlocked.

Wins Probated Prison Term

A 10-year-probated sentence was leveled at Larry G. Wallace Wednesday by Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, when the former entered a plea of guilty to an indictment charging armed robbery.

Wallace and Donald L. Beckman, already under a like sentence, were indicted for holding up a man and his wife, taking money from the pair and leaving them tied to their own pickup truck.

Beckman had pleaded guilty earlier in the week. The 10-year probated sentence is the maximum penalty of this type possible.

Student Attitudes Slated For Study

AUSTIN (AP)—The University of Texas psychology department will study in the next several months the best way to teach large classes of college undergraduates.

Part of the project will assess intellectual changes and student attitudes toward a course. The effectiveness of teaching a freshman introductory psychology course by three different methods will be analyzed.

Death Record Set In Cooke County

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Cooke County's violent death toll for 1966 set a grim record.

A total of 25 persons died violent deaths in the county last year, the highest number for a one-year period since Gainesville Daily Register records started in 1937. Fifteen persons died in vehicle collisions—just one short of the all-time record of 16 set in 1961.
