

'TELL THE TRUTH' To Appear On TV

By SAM BLACKBURN

To tell the truth, the panel is likely to find it hard to believe that Maxwell Barr has won the junior steer championship of a major fat stock show for three successive years.

Regardless, that's what four experts will have to ponder when young Barr, 13-year-old Coahoma eighth grader, appears Thursday on the popular "To Tell the Truth."

Despite his youthful appearance, young Barr's head is crammed and packed with lore about livestock and how best to bring to the forefront (and the judge's eye) the best points of his steer. He's done it so long that, despite his own tender years, no other word fits the lad than to call him a veteran.

When he takes his seat at the table across the stage from four "experts" in the New York studios of Columbia Broadcasting System, the panelists will face the challenge of picking Maxwell from a group of three boys. As the moderator phrases it, "only one of the trio will be Maxwell and the other two are impostors."

MAXWELL BARR

Coahoma Eighth Grader

Maxwell, 13, is an eighth grader in the Coahoma Junior High School. His TV appearance is inspired by his remarkable achievement of scoring three junior grand championships at the San Antonio Livestock Show, in three successive years. He capped his third year a couple of weeks ago by not only winning the junior livestock championship, but by going on to win the grand championship of the entire show.

Maxwell leaves with Mr. and Mrs. James Barr, Vincent, his parents, for New York Wednesday at 6:07 a.m. On arrival in New York, he will be put through a "rehearsal program" and, on Thursday morning, he and two other boys, who will both pretend to be Barr, will attempt to fool a panel of four veteran television panelists. When the program will be aired over the network has not been announced.

Invited Him To Appear

Mrs. Barr said that Maxwell received a telegram Monday inviting him to appear on the show. He and his father will be guests of the network which will pick up the tab for the trip—air fare, hotel, board and other expenses while in New York.

Mrs. Barr said: "I wasn't included, but that didn't stop me—I just bought my own plane ticket and I'll be right there when Maxwell makes his national television debut."

Mark Barr, Maxwell's older brother and his constant partner in stock show activities for the past several years, will not be on hand. He will have to watch the show when it is telecast later on.

"I don't think Mark liked it very much," said his mother, "but he will have to stay here, take care of the ranch and go to school." He is a senior at the Coahoma High School.

The two boys are the grandsons of the late Ed J. Carpenter, former Howard County judge and later, state representative from this legislative district.

Brought Home $9,500

Maxwell's grand champion steer at the San Antonio show this year sold for more than $8,000 at the show auction sale. In all, the young expert brought back about $9,500 in prize money, sale cash and other rewards when he came home from the show.

This time, he gets the free trip to New York and a chance to pick up as much as $333.33, if he and his two companions fool the panel and the lad's identity is not guessed by the end of the show.

SOUTHFIELD, Mich. (AP) — The wife of blind Gerald Henke says she still loves her husband though he departed from her one year ago.

Henke, 30, a piano tuner who disappeared a year and three days ago, was found working at his trade in New York Monday.

Boston Train Crash Injures At Least 100

BOSTON (AP) — More than 100 persons were injured today when an elevated train slammed against the rear of another train halted at a station in Boston's historic Charlestown section.

No one was reported to be critically injured.

Massachusetts General Hospital said 55 persons were brought to its emergency department. A hospital spokesman said most of the injuries were cuts, strains and back injuries — "relatively minor."

41 TREATED

Boston City Hospital said 41 persons were treated there.

Several persons were not injured seriously enough to require hospital treatment.

The accident came during a heavy, wet snowstorm. A spokesman for the commuter line said the operator of the train that hit the waiting train applied brakes but "kept sliding."

20 AMBULANCES

At least 20 ambulances raced to the scene in city square, across the inner harbor from the old North Church where the lanterns signaled the start of Paul Revere's famous ride just before the Revolutionary War.

Ferdinand Strauss II, assistant director of the hospital, said most of the injured would be able to go home today after treatment. A few would be kept overnight, he said.

BLOODY KNEES

"There were people lying all over the place," said AP photographer J. Walker Green. "There must have been at least 11 stretcher cases."

Green said most of the injured were in the second car of the train which was moving.

One woman, her knees bloodied, waved off a stretcher bearer and said "take that man over there." The man was lying back against a seat, apparently hurt more seriously.

LANDED ON FLOOR

Some of the seats in the rear train were ripped out by the impact of falling passengers.

Robert Stanley, 20, of Medford, one of the injured passengers, said he was on the train that hit the waiting train.

"I landed on the floor with a bunch of people on top of me. Women were screaming. There were a lot of teenagers. When I got up, I found I had gone right through the seat, the metal was all bent."

Car Flip Kills Monahans Driver

MONAHANS, Tex. (AP)—A Monahans man was killed and another was injured as a car bringing them home from Kermit rolled off Texas 15 at a curve six miles north of here late Monday night.

William L. Johnson, 30, the driver, died. William Prater, also 30, was reported in fair condition with multiple cuts and bruises.

State police estimated the car was travelling more than 100 miles per hour. Both men were thrown from the vehicle.

Boycotting Pupils Plan Capital Hike

ORANGEBURG, S.C. (AP) — Boycotting students at South Carolina State College said today they will make a 42-mile hike to Columbia to march on the office of Gov. Robert E. McNair.

The students who have been boycotting classes since last Thursday, are protesting the dismissal of three classmates who led earlier demonstrations and are demanding more student freedom.

Isaac Williams of Charleston, presiding at a gathering of 300 students at the campus student center today, said he expects 800 students "and their friends and parents" to participate in the march to the capital city. No time for the march was set.

PROPOSALS NIXED

"We think we have the right to be heard and this may be the way to get that right," said Williams.

The students met Monday night and rejected for the second time several compromise proposals by the administration of the predominantly Negro college.

Williams, president of the senior class, had said earlier the

Teamsters' Boss Hoffa Begins Prison Sentence

Hoffa Surrenders

'It's A Very Unhappy Day'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa, fingerprinted and handcuffed, was whisked off to prison today to begin serving his eight-year federal jury tampering sentence.

The short, burly 54-year-old Hoffa had a weak smile and a brief interview claiming a "conspiracy" to put him behind bars, then made a last defiant spitting motion toward newsmen as he started by car for the Federal Penitentiary in Lewisburg, Pa.

STILL TOP MAN

Hoffa looked long and hard from the back seat, flanked by two marshals, as the car passed the big, plush marble Teamsters Union headquarters that was his seat of power for 10 years.

He still is president of the 1.8 million-member Teamsters, the world's largest union.

Hoffa was accompanied by U.S. Marshal Luke Moore and two deputy marshals in a car followed by another car containing two more deputies.

Hoffa, 54, after surrendering to Moore, spent a brief time in a federal cell block before being driven by car from the U.S. courthouse.

'CONSPIRACY' CLAIM

Hoffa left still claiming his 1964 conviction was a "conspiracy" in a 10-year federal effort to put him behind bars.

"I hope and trust that all those who are part of that conspiracy realize the fact that it isn't Hoffa. It's purely a question of an American citizen. If the government can do this to Hoffa, it can do it to any American citizen," said the short, burly union boss.

HANDCUFFED?

The second car was to be used in case of a mechanical breakdown in the first car, a Justice Department spokesman said. He said Hoffa should arrive at the prison about 2 p.m.

When he surrendered to Moore two hours earlier, Hoffa appeared pleasant and talked briefly with the crowd of 50 or more reporters gathered on the steps of the District of Columbia building.

STILL HOPING

But he told them, "It's a very unhappy day of my life."

As he departed for prison, Hoffa, still bearing the title of president of the 1.8 million-member Teamsters Union, the world's largest, expressed hope his attorneys eventually will win him a new trial.

"I pleaded innocent in Tennessee and in all my appeals I have charged that there has been wiretapping, eavesdropping and surveillance," he said. "They did everything they could unconstitutionally to place me in jail and they have done so temporarily, but my attorneys will appeal."

GOOD HEALTH

"I appeal to all members of organized labor to tell them that none of the courts or legislators understand your problems. Only you, who work with your hands know your problems."

"The organization I left behind is a strong one. And I hope to return to it. My health is good."

"I hope that everyone knows that this is not purely a question of getting Hoffa. It's a question for every citizen. If they can do this to a Hoffa, they can do it to every citizen. And I tell everyone to look out for his rights."

'I'M SORRY'

The schedule would put Hoffa in a cell at about noon.

"I'm sorry, I'm sorry," attorney Daniel Maher told Hoffa over the telephone after losing a bid in the U.S. Court of Appeals Monday to keep Hoffa free under $75,000 bond pending the outcome of new trial motions.

"Pretty miserable," was the way one loyal Hoffa aide described the mood in the Teamsters huge marble headquarters building near the U.S. Capitol. Some secretaries were in tears.

Hoffa reportedly maintained his grim philosophical acceptance of his fate. He didn't even bother to take his appeal for a writ of habeas corpus to the U.S. Supreme Court, which had already twice rejected his appeals.

Texas Sniper Gulped Drugs?

AUSTIN (AP) — Charles J. Whitman, the University of Texas sniper who slaughtered 16 persons last summer in a 12-hour murderous rampage, ate drugs "like candy" and passed some on to friends who studied with him, a lawyer said Monday.

Dean Davis of Austin, testifying before a legislative committee, said the drugs which Whitman always carried in a brief case were obtained from an unknown illegal source.

"Investigation has been able to document that Charles J. Whitman routinely used amphetamines," said Davis, counsel for the State Board of Pharmacy and Texas Pharmaceutical Association. "Whitman, it appears, was quite open and matter-of-fact about his drug usage."

NEVER WITHOUT

"He was never without the amphetamines and other pills which he carried in three bottles in his brief case."

"Investigations into numerous leads with respect to the source of the drugs, which Whitman seemed to always have available, has indicated that the amphetamines and barbiturates which he used came from sources other than legitimate ones . . ."

"All indications are that the source of Whitman's drugs were in the illicit channels of drug distribution."

FORGET BOTTLE?

Whitman was so concerned with drugs, Davis said, that it is thought he returned to the apartment where he had killed his mother five hours earlier just to pick up a forgotten bottle of pills.

Davis said Whitman's friends described his usage of amphetamines by saying "he ate them like candy." One quoted Whitman as saying, "I eat them like popcorn and they won't hurt you."

Davis said Whitman, 24, always had with him "amphetamines to induce insomnia, stimulate his activity; tranquilizers to calm the jittery nerves caused by the overuse of the amphetamines" and headache remedies "to alleviate headaches caused by the abuse of the first two drugs."

Hundreds Flee Floods, Snow Piles Up In East

By The Associated Press

A deluge of snow — as much as seven inches in six hours — staggered a heavily populated section of the East today.

Floods fed by downpours of rain drove hundreds from their homes in parts of West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Virginia. West Virginia counted one dead and two others missing and presumed dead.

Tornadoes killed two persons in Alabama during the wild, widespread March outburst. Within six hours seven inches of snow piled up in Boston and Bedford, Mass., and Peterborough, N.H.

ROADS COATED

Five-inch falls coated streets and roads in Albany, N.Y., and Scranton and Allentown, Pa. The Weather Bureau said six to 12 inches of snow would fall during the day over much of New York State and New England. Gale winds were expected along New England's coast.

Wind-driven snow lashed West Virginia, already beset by floods reaching from the northern panhandle area as far south as Williamson.

Snow ranging from five to eight inches was reported in much of the Ohio Valley in Pennsylvania and westward.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

Up to 15 inches of snow snapped off wires and tree limbs, closed schools and airports and clogged highways in Pennsylvania.

Evacuation continued through the night at Glenville, W.Va., as the Little Kanawha River continued to rise. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers at Wheeling, W.Va., said the Ohio River would crest at Wheeling Wednesday morning at 34 feet — two feet below flood stage.

At Weston, W.Va., National Guard units moved families from their threatened homes, while the Red Cross at Clarksburg — city of 30,000 — evacuated 70 families by mid-evening.

RAIN-FED WATERS

At Ripley, W.Va., fire department dispatcher Don Brubaker told newsmen: "Our rescue teams were using hip boots, but we had to go to boats when the waters of Mill Creek kept rising."

More than four inches of rain fell in 24 hours in West Virginia. The rain-fed waters of the Powell River overflowed into a two-mile strip of Big Stone Gap's residential area in Virginia. Operations to evacuate about 100 families were put into effect by the National Guard. The Miss Virginia sewing factory was reported moving out materials and two small business firms in the flooded area also were ready to move.

Mortars Kill Six Marines

SAIGON (AP) — Communist mortars hammered again at the big American guns just south of the demilitarized zone today with 500 shells in three attacks as they kept up pressure on U.S. Marines operating in the area.

The shelling of Camp Carroll, latest in a series of such attacks, killed six Marines and wounded 15 but damaged none of the powerful 175mm guns with which the Marines shell North Vietnam and the demilitarized zone, a U.S. spokesman said.

The Communist failure to hit the big guns was attributed to the elaborate defenses which the Americans on the plateau eight and a half miles south of the demilitarized zone have thrown up for the artillery.

14 YANKS DIE

Counter-mortar fire resulted in one secondary explosion in the hills from which the Communists were firing, a U.S. spokesman said.

U.S. spokesmen reported 14 Americans killed, 44 wounded and four missing in ground actions Monday and Tuesday, along with 61 Communist dead.

Two sizable ground clashes were reported. Several miles north of Camp Carroll a Marine patrol made contact with the Communists. Several companies of Marines were rushed up as reinforcements, and contact was maintained through the night, but the enemy — believed to be North Vietnamese troops — escaped this morning, a U.S. spokesman said.

HEAVY FIRE

In the other significant ground action, a U.S. 1st Cavalry Airborne company in Binh Dinh Province came under heavy automatic-weapons fire from an estimated company of Viet Cong and called in air and artillery strikes. The firefight continued all day, but the enemy broke off in the early evening. A preliminary report said seven Americans were killed and 17 Americans were wounded.

Bad weather again hampered attacks against North Vietnam Monday, with only 48 strike and armed reconnaissance missions reported. Six cargo boats were reported damaged 26 miles southeast of Thanh Hoa, and other targets included the Thanh Hoa railroad yard, the Loi Dong petroleum storage area, and communications lines and storage areas in the southern panhandle.

FOUR MISSING

Two U.S. Marine amtracs (armored track vehicles) were hit by Viet Cong 57mm recoilless-rifle fire nine miles south of Da Nang Monday while crossing a river, and one of the vehicles took a direct hit and sank.

A U.S. spokesman said the men riding on top were blown into the river but those inside the amtrac went down with it. Four Marines were reported missing and six wounded. The other amtrac was damaged.

The largest ground operation in progress. Junction City in War Zone C northwest of Saigon, made only light and sporadic contact, a spokesman said. He reported 11 enemy and one American killed and six Americans wounded.

THREE AIR RAIDS

B52 Stratofortresses made three raids against targets in South Vietnam Monday night and today, two of them in support of Operation Junction City and the other south of Quang Tri, on the northern coast.

Korean spokesmen announced the termination of Operation White Horse 1 in Khanh Hoa Province and said it accounted for 393 enemy killed and 300 crew-served and individual weapons seized. Korean casualties were reported light.

Pope Changes Music Rules

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI changed the rules for Roman Catholic church music today, opening the way to use of beat rhythms and jazz for sacred services.

The new regulations, issued to implement parts of the Vatican Council's 1963 decree on liturgy (public worship), are expected to revolutionize the music of the 2,000-year-old church. They go into effect on Pentecost Sunday, May 14.

The papal document calls for more singing in services, permits translation of Latin hymns into modern languages, recommends the use of instruments native to individual countries and cultures, and authorizes a period of wide experimentation to adapt modern musical forms and compositions to church use.

Beat music and jazz were not mentioned specifically. But there was no prohibition against them, and the document said new musical modes should be "held in honor, encouraged and used as the occasion demands."

The regulations were prepared by the Vatican's Congregation of Rites and a special liturgy commission named after the Ecumenical Council.

The Congregation of Rites in a declaration Jan. 4 protested against Masses "sometimes accompanied by music of a totally profane and worldly character, not worthy of a sacred action."

This was generally considered a condemnation of the "jazz Masses" with which some priests sought to appeal to modern youth, but the Vatican weekly L'Osservatore Della Domenica said March 1 that the church had not condemned all beat music. It expressed hope that such music could develop into a form fitting to religious rites.

The church's 61 national and regional conferences of bishops were given the task of putting the new rules into operation. They were told to set up liturgical commissions on both the national and diocesan levels, with musical experts outside the church to be consulted.

VICTORIA (AP) — A wildcat strike at Du Pont Chemical Co.'s big construction site near here has stopped all work, idling 1,500 workers.

Ten dissident workers, fired by a Du Pont subcontractor, have been picketing off and on since last week.

But Monday the other 1,500 workers honored the picket line. Du Pont and the subcontractor involved, B. F. Shaw Co., of Wilmington, Del., planned to go to court today to try to get an injunction against further picketing.

Community's Help Extended To Garrisons

A neighborly act was completed Sunday when a community's helping hand was formally extended to Airman I.C. Carl E. Garrison and his family.

This came at the morning worship of the Grace Baptist Church, where the Garrisons have been faithful members. The Rev. Roy Honea, pastor, handed to the Garrisons a check for $1,583.14, which had been given by scores of individuals and businesses as one practical way of saying "we feel for you."

The two daughters of the Garrison family, Beckie Sue, 11, and Vickie Ann, 13, students in Goliad Junior High School, were injured fatally on Feb. 3 when a car veered from the road and hit them as they waited to board a school bus.

While the Garrisons waited in despair at the Air Force hospital in San Antonio and later went to South Carolina to bury them, a spontaneous expression of sympathy got under way here.

The Grace Baptist Church graciously agreed to serve as the receiving agent, and each day the donors were acknowledged in The Herald. It was all on a purely voluntary basis.

While those in the community were taking a practical method of doing something to help with the expenses, men and officers in Airman Garrison's sphere of service at Webb AFB pooled their resources, too, with a result that they raised altogether something over $500. This was, as was the Sunday presentation, a touching expression of the Garrisons.

"When the full realization of the loss of our two beloved daughters struck our family, the grief almost destroyed us. The black mantle of despair was so horrible that we felt that life itself had stopped," Airman Garrison said on behalf of his family.

"Then we felt the pulse of a city. A city where many people have stated that the friendliness and love toward their fellow man is most unusual. My family can certainly attest to these attributes. The warmth of the people of Big Spring and Webb Air Force Base sustained us at a time when the traumatic experience of sudden death was almost more than we could stand.

"Words are most inadequate in expressing the deep emotion of our appreciation. Long after the material expressions of your love and sympathy are utilized our appreciation and love will remain.

"The glow of inner warmth generated by your thoughtfulness will remain forever in our hearts even as all of you will be remembered in our daily prayers."

Mark Twain Show TV Masterpiece?

By CYNTHIA LOWRY Associated Press TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hal Holbrook's one-man show is a theatrical masterpiece, tooled and refined to satin smoothness. For most of 90 minutes Monday night CBS transformed our television sets—almost to front-row theater seats and we watched and listened to a dramatic stimulation of a lecture by the celebrated author Mark Twain.

Holbrook looked exactly like pictures of the writer, so sophisticated was his makeup—the bushy mop of white hair, characteristic white suit, dropping mustache slightly yellowed by nicotine from the ever-present cigar, even folds of skin on neck and jaw and veined and knobby old man's hands.

"THIS WAS RIGHT" He had the voice of an old man, hoarse, strained and occasionally so low he could scarcely be understood. This was right, and so was the slight tremor of the head since the subject was supposed to be 70 years old.

The words, skillfully chosen from Twain's works also were right. There were liberal amounts of humor, a longish dramatic reading from Huck Finn, rueful reflections on the combative nature of man, thoughts of immortality and even a ghost story.

"Mark Twain Tonight" was one of those treats all too rare in network television.

CANNED GUFFAWS Curiously however, television's use of this performance developed for the theater was not completely satisfying. For one thing, it was taped before an audience whose laughter at times was as obtrusive as the canned guffaws inserted in routine comedies.

And because of the frequency that closeups were used, the living room viewer had a tendency to marvel over the actor's technical skills and the miracle of his makeup when he should have been relishing the wit and wisdom of a worldly old man whose biting opinions on subjects ranging from patriotism to congressmen were as contemporary as today's newspaper.

Nervous Headaches . . .

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.

To many people, excitement or any emotional disturbance will cause a headache. Fear, worry, overwork, loss of sleep or any other condition that saps the patient's vitality may result in a headache. In such cases the victim's reserve of vital energy is usually below par and the least deviation from the sufferer's normal life results in a headache.

Headaches may be located in different parts of the head, its location usually indicates the part of the body from which the headache originates. Other symptoms may confirm this reflex condition and a thorough spinal examination will reveal abnormalities or displacements of the spinal bones.

These displacements, by causing a pressure on the spinal nerves leading to the affected organs, interfere with the flow of vital energy necessary for their proper functioning, resulting in a headache. Irregularity of function must be traced to its source and corrected. Chiropractic corrects the cause! An example, here is a local businessman who suffered severe headaches frequently. Chiropractic found the cause in his spine and together with this suggestion were made to change some of his living habits. With this spinal correction his headaches are gone and with proper living habits they are staying gone and have for seven years.

JIMMY SMITH
Jimmy Smith
Is Commended

James Roland (Jimmy) Smith, hospital corpsman Third Class in the U.S. Navy and attached to the Marines fighting in Vietnam, has won a commendation and two Purple Hearts.

He was in the news early last autumn when he was exonerated by a court martial investigating the shooting of a Vietnamese national.

The commanding general of the Third Marine Division has commended him for his service in Vietnam from October to December, 1966, pointing out that Smith established an aid station and treated a large number of patients under adverse conditions. Also, the corpsman volunteered, without regard for his personal safety, in a medical Civic Action Program among local villagers.

His mother, Mrs. James M. Smith, Trona, Calif., said Jimmy Smith would be back in this country in July of this year. He is a member of the VFW Post 1950 at Trona and of the First Baptist Church there.

The family formerly lived here where Jimmy attended public schools.

Officers are continuing their investigation into the fire.

Big Spring was challenged today to provide adequate rehabilitation services for the area's growing number of crippled children by Bo Bowen, president of the Easter Seal Society of Howard County as she launched the 1967 Easter Seal Campaign.

"We can take our choice in Big Spring," she said. "We can either provide services when children are young and treatable to prepare them for independent lives, or ignore the problem and let them grow up to become dependent adults, relying upon our tax-supported programs to keep them in dependency."

The Easter Seal Campaign goal is to raise adequate funds to help support the present program at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. Last year 336 children and adults received treatments in the form of physical, and speech therapy at the center.

Miss Bowen explained that the number of crippled children is on the increase, in view of population growth, medical innovations which have saved many babies that would not have survived, and accidental injuries.

The Big Spring Association of Life Underwriters is conducting the campaign with Louis McKnight, president of the association, serving as general chairman.

M. A. Long is chairman for "Coffee Day" for the manpower division; Deen Booth is in charge of special projects; Mrs. Dwight McCann is in charge of the door-to-door campaign; and Walter Stroup is in charge of mailing Easter Seals.

Three activities being held this month in relation to the Easter campaign are an open house at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, the door-to-door campaign, and "Lily Day."

The 1967 campaign goal was announced as volunteers are starting the job of mailing 5,000 sheets of Easter Seals to residents of Big Spring.

"Easter Seals are for the crippled," Miss Bowen said. "We hope they will prompt generous giving in keeping with the Easter tradition. Every dollar we receive will help provide services for the handicapped, and get them started on the road to good lives."

The campaign will continue until Easter Sunday, March 26.

Negro Charged With Killing Teen Cousins

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — A youth just acquitted in the sniper shooting of another Rockford teenager was being held today, charged with murder in the execution-style slaying of two 14-year-old cousins.

Police arrested John Wesley Williams Jr., 17, son of a former sheriff's deputy, at his job Monday. Police said they believed others were involved in the double murder and questioned at least 10 of Williams' friends. No other arrests were made.

RIFLE SEIZED Sheriff Herbert Brown said police confiscated a .22 caliber rifle equipped with a telescopic sight and a homemade silencer in Williams' home. He said a 22-caliber pistol which Williams' father had given him one day before the slayings had not been found.

The rifle was sent to a state crime laboratory for comparative tests with the 22-caliber bullets fired into the heads and stomachs of the two boys.

Authorities said Ronald Johnson and Wayne Mullendore were lined up in a pavilion of Levings Park facing a concrete wall and shot down Thursday night.

ANONYMOUS TIP Police were directed to the bodies by an anonymous caller. After questioning Williams for six hours Monday, Brown announced that charges had been filed. At the same time, the victims were being buried in Willwood Cemetery.

In a tersely worded statement, the sheriff said that Williams had been charged, and added: "I appreciate that there will be no questions."

"I'm not trying to be facetious," Brown said. "I'm just being cautious."

GOOD CASE? Later he said, "We have a good case."

Williams had been charged with being the sniper who shot and wounded Nick Licari, 15, of Rockford, Nov. 5. He was acquitted of the charge Jan. 27.

Williams' wife, Linda, 16, told police she was with her husband between 7 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Thursday. Police theorized that the murders took place between 8 p.m. and 8:16 p.m., when the anonymous call was received.

HEARING SET Williams appeared in court Monday afternoon where the charges were read. He is being held in Winnebago County jail. Judge John Ghent of Circuit Court scheduled a preliminary hearing for Wednesday morning.

Williams is a Negro. The slain boys were white.

During his brief court appearance, Williams wore a black turban-like cloth wrapped around his head, a striped red and white shirt under a gray jacket and muddied buckled boots.

Observers said the turban-like wrapping is used by some youths to create a special hair style.

Principal Killed

TEMPLE (AP)—G. C. Meredith, principal of Dunbar High School here, was killed Monday when his car collided with a Santa Fe freight train.

He said the identity of the man who took the pumps has been established and that a warrant will be issued for him. The man is said to be out of town at this time.

Mouse Results In Damage Suit

A Forsan school boy, by his father, has sued a soft drink bottling company for $5,000 damages because a bottle of carbonated beverage which he bought from the school vending machine contained a dead mouse. He had sipped from the bottle, the petition alleges, before he noted the mouse.

The case is styled Freddie Willis by his father Stanley Willis against the Tri-City Dr. Pepper Bottling Co. The alleged incident occurred on Feb. 25.

Stolen Pumps Are Recovered

Sheriff A. N. Standard said that two water pumps valued at $350 each, stolen a week or so ago from a lease five miles southeast of Coahoma, have been recovered.

He said the identity of the man who took the pumps has been established and that a warrant will be issued for him. The man is said to be out of town at this time.

Williams is a Negro. The slain boys were white.

During his brief court appearance, Williams wore a black turban-like cloth wrapped around his head, a striped red and white shirt under a gray jacket and muddied buckled boots.

Observers said the turban-like wrapping is used by some youths to create a special hair style.

Big Spring Rates High In Vocational Training

(This is the second in a series of stories for Texas Education Week. You are urged to visit your schools this week. —Ed.)

Few if any high schools in West Texas, and few in all of Texas in the comprehensive type, can equal Big Spring in its terminal and vocational program.

In a sense, some of the regular academic subjects may be considered vocational. For instance, typing (which has been taught here for well over two score years), general business, bookkeeping, shorthand, secretarial training and business law may all be used directly in a vocation in the business field.

LONG TIME COURSE But course fields in the purely vocational area include two units of industrial cooperative training (Big Spring has had this program for over 30 years) and two units in distributive education, and one unit in vocational office education. Under these programs, the students spend the morning in school taking regular subjects needed for graduation or in material related to the job. Afternoons are spent on the job learning by doing.

Then there are several courses in trades. There are two years in metal work, which is a laboratory course with three hours a day in the shop. There also are similar three-hour lab courses in electric appliance repair, in building trade, and in auto mechanics.

Another long-time course is that of vocational agriculture which has three whole units, which includes two-hour lab courses each day.

Vocational homemaking (dating back 50 years here to domestic science) is a one-hour lab course which meets daily.

SPECIAL COURSE Occupational training, a two-hour lab course for job instruction, has been organized for young people with special needs. This has been one of the best programs for reaching pupils who might otherwise be left in the shuffle.

Still another division of the vocational program is the industrial arts. Included are two units of woodworking, two units of drafting. (The second unit of drafting may be two units of architectural drawing, and with a third unit available.)

Big Spring has been designated as an area vocational training center, and with the help of NDEA has received considerable financial support in plant and equipment. One entire building is devoted exclusively (the administrative offices are located here this year during construction) to vocational work. The facilities are second to none and the equipment, which is being increased as instructors map out needs, is being added systematically. The entire physical layout for the program is not approached in this area. The staff, according to John F. Smith, principal, is an exceptionally fine one.

WELCOME DIVIDEND Aside for what it may do for young people who want to step from high school into a job or to develop a special skill, the vocational program has produced one unexpected but welcome dividend. It has cut dropouts sharply, and it has had a wholesome effect on over-all discipline.

But the BSHS program does not stop with academic excellence for college-bound or students aiming at a graduation certificate, or those pointing to a vocation. There is a whole field of special services to undergird the program. More about this in the next article.

UCLA Solid Pick In Last Cage Ballot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The nation's college Coach-of-the-Year says his UCLA Bruins "could now beat any team in a series of games."

Coach John Wooden made that response after learning that his basketball squad was named No. 1 in The Associated Press' final major college basketball poll of the 1966-67 season.

Wooden added: "It's possible that other teams are also deserving, but certainly we rank with the very best. Our improvement has been consistent all year long."

"I am well aware that there are many fine teams which may be able to beat us on a given night, though."

The Bruins, unranked last season, were named the top team by all 30 sports writers and broadcasters participating in the poll. The squad boasts a 25-0 record.

Finishing second was Louisville, followed in order by Kansas, North Carolina, Princeton, Western Kentucky, Houston, Tennessee, Boston College and Texas Western.

The Bruins placed first in the final poll only once before. That was in 1964, when it compiled a regular season record of 28-0.

UCLA plows unbeaten through its regular campaign this year, it will become the sixth college squad in history to do so.

Along with the 1963-64 Bruins, the other unbeaten squads were Columbia in 1950-51, San Francisco in 1955-56, North Carolina in 1956-57 and Ohio State in 1960-61.

Defeated in postseason tournaments were Columbia and Ohio State.

The Bruins have one regular season game left, against the University of Southern California.

The year's final poll moved Kansas ahead one spot to third, switching places with North Carolina.

The final Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points in a 100-point basis:

- 1. UCLA (30) 200
- 2. Louisville 177
- 3. Kansas 172
- 4. North Carolina 171
- 5. Princeton 167
- 6. Western Kentucky 148
- 7. Houston 147
- 8. Tennessee 125
- 9. Boston College 121
- 10. Texas Western 81

Nebraska, 10-3, which plays at Colorado Saturday, crushed Oklahoma State 88-71 while Kansas State clipped Iowa State 81-68. Kansas State plays Kansas Saturday.

Indiana blew an 11-point lead and then came from behind on Butch Joyner's 27 points. The Hoosiers took the lead for good at 89-88 and Vern Payne and Bill Russell split four free throws and Joyner hit a three-point play to protect it.

Michigan State broke a 50-50 tie on Matt Aitch's three-point play and a basket by Lee Lafayette. Tom Kondla paced the Gophers with 27 points.

Indiana hosts Purdue and State entertains Northwestern Saturday. Should both fall, the winner of tonight's Iowa-Wisconsin match could make it a three-way tie.

In other games Monday night, Don Sider scored 42 points as Oklahoma stomped Missouri 90-75, spoiling Tiger Coach Bob Vanatta's final game; Pat Riley fired in 28 points and powered Kentucky past Alabama 110-78; Ohio State trounced visiting Illinois 100-79 despite 27 points by Dave Scholz; Washington beat Oregon 78-67 and Oregon State outlasted Washington State 51-40 in overtime.

Coach Allie Sherman of New York's National Football League club called Tarkenton "a fine pro quarterback whose ability, leadership and experience will be a great asset to our team."

The Giants said they had assumed Tarkenton's contract with the Vikings, which has a year to go.

Last month the quarterback told the Minnesota club that he wanted to play out his option for the purpose of aligning with another team. There had been reports of personality clashes with the Vikings' coach, Norman Van Brocklin. Van Brocklin subsequently resigned.

Indian Catchers Get Help From Cameras

The Cleveland Indians No. 1 catcher in spring training can't hit but not much gets by him — ah, it.

No. 1 is a television camera, whose job it is to catch mistakes made by players.

In two intrasquad games last weekend, No. 1 caught more mistakes than Joe Azcue, a catcher who can't hit, caught balls.

Azcue was having trouble holding on to certain pitches, and his mistakes showed up on television equipment.

So, Azcue is being given some personalized instruction by former catching stars Del Rice, a Cleveland coach, and Ray Mueller, an Indian scout.

There were no reports concerning television coming out of the St. Louis camp, but the Cardinals did get some apparent good news from a set of scales.

Julian Javier weighed in Monday at 167, prompting Manager Red Schoendienst to say the extra poundage would help Javier's effort to come back as the Indians' new instant replay television equipment.

Cardinals' regular second baseman, Javier, who has had his best seasons with the Cardinals when he weighed 185, reported to camp the past two seasons underweight. In 1965, he hit just .227 and last year .228.

The news out of the Baltimore Orioles' camp was good, providing your name isn't Mike.

Frank Robinson, the American League's Most Valuable Player last year, hit a single and home run and first baseman Boog Powell collected three hits in the Orioles' first intrasquad game.

But highly regarded rookie Mike Epstein was struck above the batting practice and Mike Fiore, another outfield candidate, was ordered to report to Ft. Bragg, N.C., today for active duty with the Army Reserves.

Of Epstein's injury, club physician Dr. Leonard Wallenstein said: "There is no bone damage, but it is unlikely that Epstein will be able to swing a bat until Friday. Mike has an ugly blood bruise near the elbow."

News out of the Boston Red Sox base also was good, if you were not trying out for center field with George Thayer, rookie Reggie Smith and Jose Tartabull.

In an intrasquad game, Thomas hit a two-run homer, Smith a three-run blast and Tartabull an inside-the-park homer with a man on.

Runnels Junior High succeeded in winning two of three matches from Goliad in girls' volleyball contests here Monday evening.

Goliad capped the ninth grade encounter, 15-1, 15-5, with Dyer, Dean and Patty Spier and Janice Cooper shining for Runnels.

On the eighth grade level, Runnels won, 15-3, 15-11. Belinda Gonzales and Ann Brown each had 12 points for Runnels in the matches. Clark and Henderson stood out for Goliad.

In seventh grade play, Runnels' margins of victory were 7-15, 15-12, 15-13.

Sylvia Rodriguez had 12 points and Raylene Oliver 10 in the Yearlings in the encounter while Ann and Ellison excelled for Goliad.

Ann Brown of Runnels was named to the all-star squad in the Kermit eighth grade tournament staged last weekend.

Runnels lost to East Pecos in the first round and to Lamesa, the ultimate winner, in consolation. The host school copped the crown by turning back East Pecos, the 1966 champion, in the finals.

Runnels will play host to Snyder Lamar in eighth and ninth grade games Thursday, with action due to start at 5:30 p.m.

Vols Edge Maroons To Get NCAA Spot

The Tennessee Volunteers, trying to extend their basketball season, almost overdid it.

Going to extremes to win their first Southeastern Conference title since 1943, the Vols muddled through three overtimes and barely missed a fourth before squeaking by Mississippi State 78-76 at Starkville Monday night.

Now, instead of being further delayed by a three-way playoff for the SEC crown, the Vols can move directly into the NCAA postseason tournament.

Kansas took a much shorter, although precarious, route into the tournament by holding off Colorado 66-59 at Lawrence in regulation time.

But while Tennessee and Kansas ended their conference races, the Big Ten competition stretched on and on.

Indiana and Michigan State each won and remained tied for first place, which will be decided by their final games Saturday, if then.

Each has 9-4 league marks after the Hoosiers staggered past last-place Michigan 96-90 at Bloomington, and the Spartans shook off host Minnesota 67-59.

Eighth-ranked Tennessee, which meets the winner of Saturday's Western Kentucky-Dayton game in the Midwest Regional March 17, needed two free throws by Bill Justus with six seconds left in the third extra period to get by Mississippi State.

State's Dave Williams almost kept it going, but his shot missed at the final buzzer.

The final game victory gave the Vols a 15-3 conference mark and avoided a three-way tie with Florida and Vanderbilt, each at 14-4 after Vandy dropped Louisiana State 75-66 at Nashville.

Third-ranked Kansas never trailed after breaking a 15-15 tie, but Colorado nipped at the heels of the Jayhawks the rest of the way as Pat Frink scored 27.

The victory gave Kansas its 20th conference title with a 12-1 mark and a 21-3 overall record that it will take against Saturday's Houston-New Mexico State victor in the Midwest Regional March 17.

Nebraska, 10-3, which plays at Colorado Saturday, crushed Oklahoma State 88-71 while Kansas State clipped Iowa State 81-68. Kansas State plays Kansas Saturday.

ALPINE — Jeff Fitch, smooth-working East Texas State University guard, heads the Lone Star Conference cage honor list determined by LSC coaches during a weekend meeting in Austin.

Fitch, a 6-1 senior from Rushville, N. Y., made the LSC first team for the third straight year, and his unanimous selection this year assured LSC "Player of the Year" honors for the flashy cager.

Howard Payne, league champion for the second straight year, dominated the LSC first team, contributing three of the players. Second-place Sam Houston, third-place Stephen F. Austin and fourth-place East Texas each took one of the remaining spots on the mythical first team.

HPC members of the team are seniors Tom Carter, 6-3, Hobbs, N. M., and Eddy Nelson, 6-2, Big Spring (former teammates at Howard County Junior College), and 6-6 Dan Smith, Denton. Smith and Fitch are the only repeaters from the 1965-66 LSC first team.

The other two first-team selections are freshmen — Stephen F. Austin's Surry Oliver, 6-6, Tullalaha, La., and Sam Houston's Calvin Oliver, 6-7, Brooklyn, N. Y. (They are not re-lated).

Two Federal Judgeship Posts Still Up In Air

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two federal judgeship vacancies in Texas confront President Johnson and Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., with an immediate problem.

A vacancy has existed in the Northern District since Oct. 1 when Judge Joe Dooley of Amarillo retired. He died in January.

The other vacancy is in the Eastern District where Chief Judge Joe Sheehy of Tyler died Feb. 23.

For weeks Yarborough has been receiving recommendations that various North and Northwest Texas lawyers be selected to succeed Dooley. The senator has declined to discuss his preference.

ABILENE PICKS

Among those recommended to Yarborough are Bryan Bradbury of Abilene, Earl Smith of San Angelo, Judge Max Boyer of Pampa, Judge Mary Robinson of Amarillo, Ralph Brock of Lubbock, J. Howard Johnson of Brownwood, and James Lumpkin of Amarillo.

Yarborough also has received a number of names to consider as the successor to Sheehy. The matter is still up in the air, because Sen. John Tower, South's jump to four spades after partner's rather innocuous single raise, may appear quite drastic with only 11 high card points, however, his holding is obviously worth much more than it appears at face value.

After spades have been raised, the seven card suit is considerably enhanced—one point is added for the fifth card and two each for the sixth and seventh. Added to the three points counted for the void, South's holding is worth 19. Partner has announced at least 7, so that the required 26 is accounted for.

West opened the jack of clubs, East put up the ace and returned the six. South played the queen, West covered with the king and continued with the ten. Declarer ruffed in dummy with the deuce of spades and East overruffed with the six. The defensive book was in and inasmuch as South could not avoid the loss of a diamond trick, he was obliged to concede defeat on the deal.

Declarer would have averted the overrun by trumping the third round of clubs with North's king of spades. However, in order to fulfill his contract, it is necessary subsequently, to lead a small trump to the ace, thereby dropping the lone queen — which is somewhat against the odds.

A more logical line of play involves the transfer of South's ruffing chores to the diamond suit. The possibility of an overrun is eliminated by discarding the eight of diamonds on the third club, permitting West to hold the trick.

It does not matter what West returns next, for South is now in position to cash the ace of diamonds and ruff his two remaining diamonds in dummy. Declarer reenters his hand by trumping hearts and when the ruffing process is completed, he draws trump. His losses on the deal consist of three club tricks.

Congress Should Curb LBJ's Draft Power?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman L. Mendel Rivers of the House Armed Services Committee says Congress should curb President Johnson's authority to set military draft procedures. Rivers' comment came after Johnson's message to Congress Monday asking an extension of the Selective Service law, and pledging sweeping changes in the draft to be accomplished by executive order.

Johnson's call for a national lottery to replace current selection of draftees by local boards drew fire from Rivers.

OPPOSES LOTTERY
"There will be no lottery if I have anything to say about it," the South Carolina Democrat said.

He indicated he'll push to have his committee amend the draft law to require the continuation of draft boards. The Armed Services Committee will open hearings in April on extending the law.

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, said he is taking immediate steps to put into effect reforms recommended by the President. But Johnson said many of the changes he proposed may not go into effect before 1969.

Johnson's message on the draft drew mixed comment from congressional leaders. Most appeared to favor his plan to draft 18-year-olds first, but few seemed pleased with the lottery proposal.

An exception was Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who earlier this year suggested the lottery concept and urged Johnson to put it into effect by executive order, rather than waiting for action by Congress.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said he thought the proposals "are in the interest of equal treatment, but that doesn't solve the problem."

Woman Assigned To Service In Vietnam

By JO BRIGHT

Perhaps the first woman in Howard County to be called to duty in Vietnam, Spec. 4 Anita Flores has a part call to March 10 at Travis Air Force Base, Calif. From which she will fly to Saigon for a tour of duty lasting at least a year.

Miss Flores, a 1965 graduate of Big Spring Senior High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Flores, 809 Lancaster. She has six sisters and one brother, none of whom are in military service.

"I volunteered for the Women's Army Corp several months after graduation," said Miss Flores. "I considered the Navy first, but since we had a local Army recruiting office, it was more convenient to join this branch.

Following eight weeks of basic training at Fort McClellan, Ala., she was transferred to Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio for OJT — On Job Training. Since that time she has been a clerk-typist in the Physical Medicine Service at Brooke General Hospital.

"Women's Army Corp duty in Vietnam is voluntary," continued Miss Flores. "However, to volunteer, you must be at least an E-4 in rank, have a year in service and working in a specialty job. I don't know where I will be based in Vietnam, but more than likely it will be with a hospital unit. There are five women who were stationed with me in San Antonio that are already serving there.

When Miss Flores was first notified, several months ago, that she had been accepted for the overseas duty, she attended briefings and was issued literature concerning the country and surrounding areas. Pamphlets described the people and their customs, and there were instructions as to how American military personnel should conduct themselves as "foreigners" in Vietnam. She was told to take only summer uniforms and lightweight clothing. Something extra was the regular GI fatigues (shirt and slacks) which were issued to her. Special immunizations were required, and she completed these recently at Webb Air Force Base while on the 23-day leave she was allowed before departure for her new station.

Miss Flores will join two other women at Travis Air Force Base for the flight to Hawaii. There will be a short layover there before they enplane for Saigon.

Miss Flores, who is 20 years old, feels she will gain immensely from the experience that lies before her.

"I not only will be helping my country, but I think it will teach me how to get along better with other people," she said.

The quiet little brunette had said it simply — but well. If everyone shared her desire, perhaps there would be no need for spending the next year of her life in a Vietnam jungle.

A LOVELIER YOU

Pretty Woman May Lose Out With Voice

By MARY SUE MILLER A girl or woman may be pleasing to the eyes but, if her voice vexes the ears, her appeal takes a sharp plunge. You cannot abide the sound of her, so you forego the sight of her.

Plainly anyone who desires a greater share of loveliness just might find it in vocal improvements. The first step is becoming voice-conscious. Most of us are totally unaware of how we sound. If you'd like to find out, take this little test:

Do people frequently ask you to repeat. If so, you must speak louder. It's done by reading — aloud and loud — for five minutes each day. This practice develops volume, so that you can easily make yourself heard. As a bonus, you sound more convincing and interesting.

Are you ever asked to pipe down? In that case, check your breathing. A piercing voice is the result of shallow breathing. Mellow tones originate in the diaphragm.

Are you sometimes requested to slow down? There's no reason why you should not speak as fast as you wish, providing what you say is distinct. To avoid mumbling concentrate on keeping the lips and jaw relaxed.

Do friends often inquire as to whether you have a cold? You wouldn't sound "coldish" when you're not, if your voice had enough resonance. The quality is developed by humming your favorite tune and then saying the letters M, N, and Ng. You've got it right when you feel a vibration in your nose.

Anyone for improvements?

Frost's Bread is that good?

(People know our bread is good—soft and fresh tasting. But what a surprise when they see it compared with milk! A out of 30 people said things like "I didn't know your bread was that good!")

Compare it to milk. Ounce for ounce, Frost's Bread has twice the protein, 60% of the calcium, 13% less fat, 50 times the iron, 30 times the niacin, 7 times the B<sub>1</sub> and 98% of the B<sub>2</sub> vitamin in milk.

A Devotional For The Day

God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. (John 3:16)

PRAYER: Dear Father, whose loving-kindness endures forever, empower us by Thy spirit that we may follow Thy path of charity in all that we think, say, and do. We pray in the name of Jesus Christ, the one Thou didst send to redeem us. Amen.

Rising Enrollments

The over-all rise in educational enrollment over the next decade — 12 per cent — will about equal the increase in national population. And the proportionate number of Americans in school in 1975-76 (three out of 10) will be about what it is now.

But, the U.S. Office of Education warns in its latest annual report of school data, that prospect cannot be viewed complacently because the impact will vary greatly at different levels. The data must be broken down to realize just what we are up against.

Because of a birth rate decline after 1961, the increase in grade school enrollments will be only a slight two per cent or less. The high school enrollments, however, will go up by 25 per cent. That indicates where public school districts, while trying to improve quality at both levels, will have to concentrate on quantity.

The phenomenal increase will be in college enrollments — expected to soar by an astonishing 49 per cent. That will require not only massive expansion of established colleges and universities but also creation of new higher educational institutions at an unprecedented rate.

Fortunately that has already been foreseen. The high post — World War

II birth rate made a surge in college enrollments in the coming decade inevitable. So have such trends as the increase in high school graduates going to college, the increase in college graduates taking advanced degrees, and the socio-economic changes in our technological society requiring a broadening variety of aid for collegiate training.

Congress foresaw this in its Higher Education Act of 1965. Gov. John Connally foresaw it in his program to reorganize, expand and better finance higher education in Texas. The only question now is whether the federal and state governments are aiming high enough.

The only ways to retard the college enrollment increases predicted by the U.S. Office of Education would be to run out of facilities, price higher education out of reach, fail to aid the qualified students that cannot meet existing costs, or arbitrarily restrict entrance by excessive requirements. But any of those would be against the public interest because the result would be also to retard social progress and economic development.

Higher education for all who can absorb it and constructively use it should be our national, and state, goal. It will cost a lot of money.

Doing It All Over Again

The Texas Legislature faces a difficult task in improving, on federal court advice, its 1965 reapportionment of the state's congressional districts.

The knottiest question is: How much practical variance from impossible absolute equality of population representation will the U.S. Supreme Court allow?

The U.S. Supreme Court has a perplexing problem. It must now set precedents to provide the nearest possible equality of population representation in the reapportionments that will have to be done immediately following the 1970 census. But legally, any redistricting done now must be based on the 1960 census. So, a redistricting done now with zero variance (if that were possible) under 1960 census figures would be unequal representation, because of the massive population growth and shifts over the past seven years.

This is a problem that the legislatures and the courts will simply have to live with for the next five years. For it will be 1971, following the 1970 census, before the best — intended reapportionment can be accomplished.

Holmes Alexander Morality And The CIA

WASHINGTON — There are the anti-Americans who are against every stand that is taken to oppose communism whether in the Congo, the Dominican Republic or Vietnam. And there are the semi-Americans who are always against internal protection whether by metropolitan police forces, by Congressional investigations of subversion or by CIA and FBI activities that require snooping or spying.

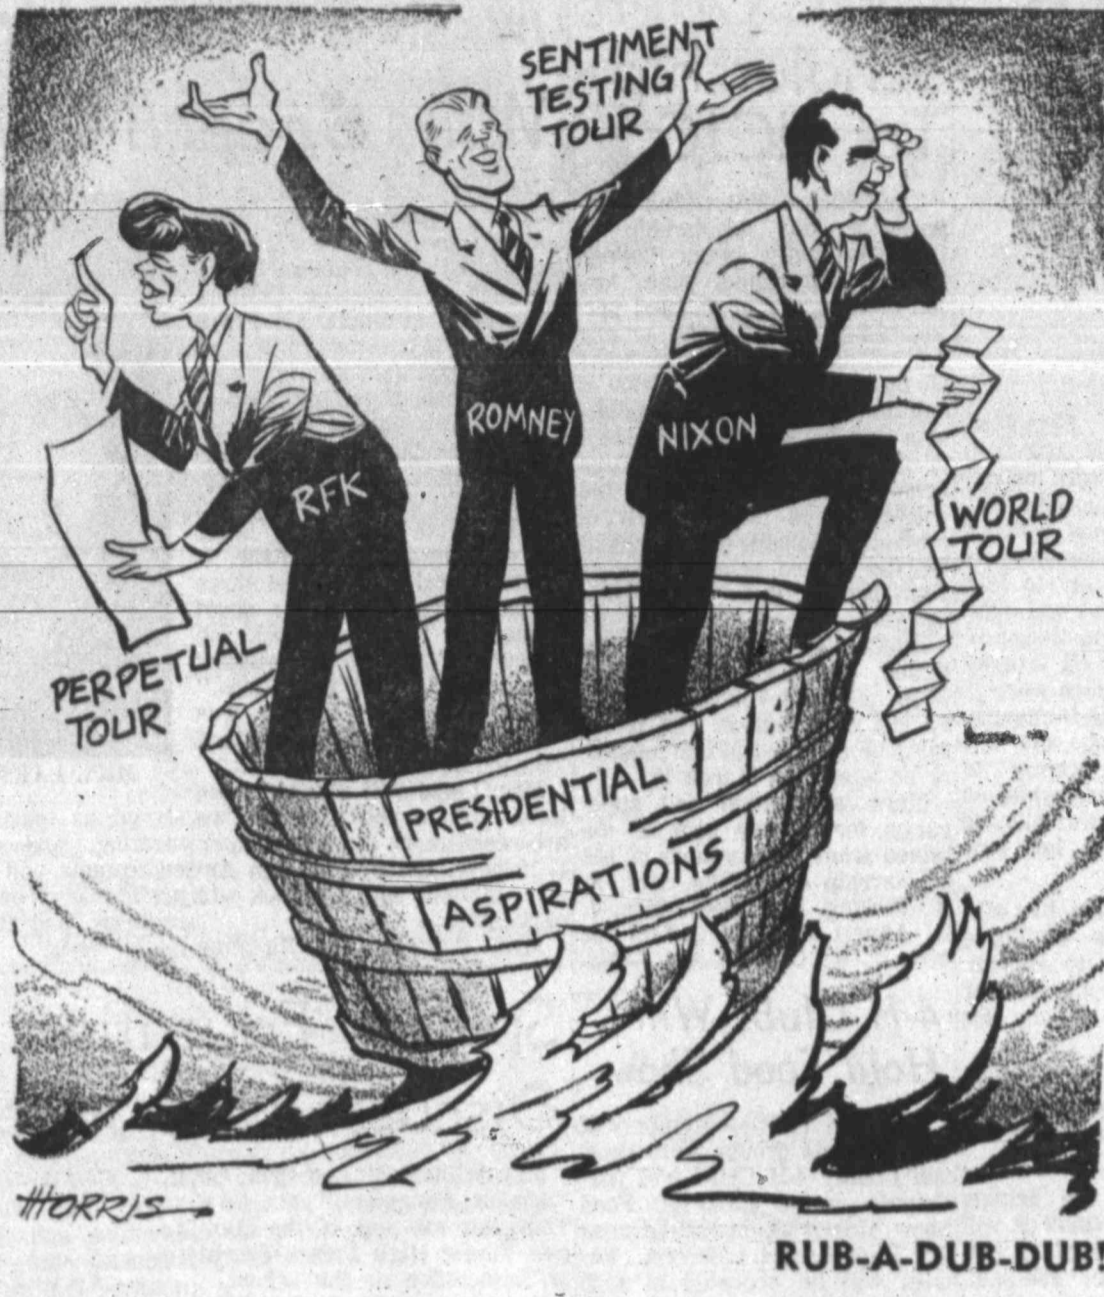

BUT the rest of us should not leave it to the semi-Americans to carry the torch of civil liberties when these are manifestly and flagrantly abused. The bleeding-hearts should not be allowed to get there first when an eavesdrop is planted in a hotel room to get the goods on some Bobby Baker. The right of privacy is about as sacred as any privilege we have in an open society. It doesn't belong any more to Otto Otepka and Sen. Dodd than to Baker and Congressman Powell. The conservatives, not the pseudo-liberals and semi-Americans, ought to be helping the President and Sen. Edward Long of Missouri in their efforts to find legislation that will

Billy Graham

I am a young person and I get tired of being a "scapegoat" for the older generation. For one thing, it is said that your young people today are pampered and spoiled, and that we are spend-thrifts. I doubt if we spend more than our parents did when they were young. Do you agree? D. F.

No, I do not! Your parents could not have spent more than young people today, because they didn't have it to spend. I don't think that young people are any worse today than they were when I was young, but when it comes to spending the youth of the 1960's are outspending any previous generation. For your information here's the latest report on what America's teenagers are spending. The total tab: 18 billion dollars. The average boys spends $15.10 a week. His expenditures are: for entertainment, $4.35; for gas, $3; for clothes, $2.90. Girls spend a bit less, $14.95 per week. Their main expense is clothing; second include cosmetics, $2.20, and entertainment is third, $1.95.

The danger of this free — spending is that our young people who, for the most part, are given this money by their parents, may face an economic situation in the future where such free — spending will be suddenly curtailed, and then they will feel frustrated and restricted. Personally, I think children enjoy spending money more if they earn it. When things come too easy, they are, as a rule, not appreciated or enjoyed.

James Marlow Why Reds Fail To Cool Down War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration looks baffled by the failure of the North Vietnamese to give some sign they will cool down their part of the war if the United States stops bombing them.

They have a good reason for sticking it out as long as they can, since their goal is to communize all Vietnam. They would have to make concessions and their supporters might lose heart if they stopped fighting to talk peace.

They may have another reason, just as valid to them, for yielding nothing: the hope that if they hang on long enough American politics and public opinion may force the Johnson administration to back down.

THEY KNOW American public opinion is divided. The anti-war hubbub here, in and out of Congress, is heard around the world. No wonder if the North Vietnamese believe, given time, the antiwar opinion will prevail.

Nor would it be a wonder if both political parties take on a more dove-like look as the American presidential election draws near if by then the antiwar feeling grows more intense here.

WHAT WOULD you think about your war chances if you were a North Vietnamese and saw or heard what follows in one day, one week, or a month? Two Democratic senators, Thomas J. McIntyre, N.H., and Robert C. Byrd, W.Va., solidly backed President Johnson's decision to use Navy guns against North Vietnam. But another Democrat, Sen. Joseph S. Clark, Pa., was unhappy.

He wanted Congress to make it necessary to declare war before continuing the bombing raids. He spoke three hours. But Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., was against the idea.

SUCH A declaration, he said, might bring into force treaties involving the Soviet Union, Red China, and others in the hostilities. At the same time he hit at Johnson for being too soft, saying he had been victimized by false peace rumors.

Another Southern Democrat, Sen. John L. McClellan, of Arkansas, wanted to see the bombing stepped up. But not Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat and constant critic of Johnson. He said you can't seek peace with bombs.

IN THE House 11 Democrats opposed the bombing. Michigan State University faculty members called for a halt to it.

Hal Boyle Wrong Questions Listed

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the surest ways to put your hoof in your mouth in this world is to ask the wrong questions.

Being inquisitive is a sign of intelligence. It reflects innate curiosity, the hallmark of learning. Who would want a child that didn't ask questions? But it is also a test of maturity to learn to know what question to ask, and where, and when.

SOME questions simply aren't worth asking because they are bound to lead to nothing but trouble.

Such as: "What if it is a one-way street, officer? I'm only going one way, ain't it?" "Are you asking for volunteers for this patrol, lieutenant?"

"Does it mean that I'll get more money back if I bet on a horse to win than if I bet on him to place or show?"

"WHY DON'T you try picking on someone your own size, you big bully?"

"Sez who?" "Who was the lady I saw you with last night — or was it your wife?"

"Harry, tell me the truth —

how do you really think I'd look in a miniskirt?"

"How many shares of this growth stock would I have to buy now to be able to retire in five years?"

"WHOSE turn is it to buy a round?" "Did the children behave today?"

"Would you mind telling me frankly what you think my future with the firm is, sir?" "How much do you really need?"

"What do you want a diamond engagement ring for, Myrtle? Wouldn't you just as soon have a good slave ring to wear in your nose?"

"LET'S DON'T break up the party now. Why don't we all go over to our house and keep it going?"

"You don't suggest that I go on a diet, do you, doctor?" "That's a swell idea, boss, but it'll take an awful lot of time. Whom do you have in mind to carry it out?"

"If it was good enough for my mother, why isn't it good enough for you?" "Shall we draw straws tonight to see who carries out the garbage?"

To Your Good Health Tinnitus, A Tinkling Sound In The Ears

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would you write about tinnitus? What causes this constant ringing in the head when brain tumor and ear conditions have been ruled out? Is there any medication that would reduce the sound? I presume it is an incurable condition. In three years I have become so accustomed to it that it doesn't bother me at all during the day but it is very uncomfortable in the silence of the night. I presume many people suffer from the same trouble. I am 65. — M. B. G.

You'd be surprised how many people have tinnitus — technically a tinkling sound in the ears, but the sounds vary so greatly (hissing, bubbling, clinking, rattling, and dozens of others) that if you put them all together they'd be a discordant symphony of rackets.

In your case you have already ruled out two of the dangerous causes. High blood pressure is another, and that already must have been considered by your doctor.

Among the lesser causes are wax, various drugs and medications, too much coffee or nicotine, some chemicals (quinine is one). Disorders of the inner ear (vestibular) can be a factor. And sometimes you just can't find any reason, but the noises are still present.

All of this, and more, is included in a booklet I prepared, "Ear Noises, Their Causes and Cures," which has proved very popular. Send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Molner, care of this newspaper, for a copy.

Your case, M.B.G., of not minding the noises in daytime but being annoyed at night is not unusual. The daytime sounds mask the tinnitus. A solution which has worked for many is to keep a clock with a rather loud tick near your bed, or if you have a radio or record player which will turn off automatically, leave it playing softly while you go to sleep. Such soporific sounds can take the place of daytime noise.

Dear Dr. Molner: My family has a close relative in the hospital with cancer and tuberculosis. We come in close contact with her nearly every day and she wants us to kiss her goodbye. How much danger is there of getting cancer ourselves? What precautions can we take? — MRS. A. G.

There is no danger of cancer from that. The TB is another matter. My advice, and I strongly urge you to follow it, is to talk to your relative's doctor, find out from him whether the TB is active, follow his instructions as to how much contact is permissible, and tell him of this relative's desire to be kissed.

We can see why she wishes it, but if she has active TB the doctor will impress upon her the fact that such kisses can transmit TB to you, her loved ones.

Dear Dr. Molner: Are atherosclerosis and angina pectoris the same thing? — C. C.

No. Angina is chest pain, usually a consequence of some damage to the heart. In some cases the damage may result from reduced circulation caused by atherosclerosis (clogging of arteries) so the two conditions may be related, but they are not the same.

What are ulcers? How should they be treated? What can you do to help rid yourself of ulcers and stay rid of them? For answers, read Dr. Molner's helpful booklet, "How To Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed." For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and hand-

Around The Rim Pioneer In A Tin Lizzie

The high interest in these compact gadgets called tape players for automobiles reminds me of a pioneering effort I made a long time ago somewhat in the same field.

IT WAS away back, if you can believe it, in the days when car radios had not been invented and when even the radio receivers in homes were bulky, screechy devices which sometimes sounded as if all of the demons of Hell had been released inside.

In those days, though, youngsters liked to ride around on country roads or on city streets in cars just as they do today.

I suppose we even had the same thing as drag races but we didn't call 'em that.

I REMEMBER how four of us fellows became hotly involved in a debate whether an Essex or a Hudson Super-Six was the faster car and decided to find out by running the two vehicles in a race over a stretch of un-paved country road.

I was a passenger in the Hudson. We took off from one end of the road, and the car I was in grabbed the lead, which we held for the two mile distance. When we reached the end of the run the driver applied his foot to the brake.

The brake went down, down and down until it was on the floorboard.

There was a right angle curve just ahead and the country lane was not wide. Somehow, my pal brought the careening car around the bend and it coasted to a halt half mile along the road. Shaken, we crawled out and, kneeling down on the dusty road, peered under the vehicle. THE REASON for our lack of brakes was evident. The brake pedal was supposed to put a pull on two slim brake rods which ran back to the rear brake drums. Our two brake rods were dragging sadly in the dust completely detached from the drums.

We proved our point but we did not accept a challenge for a rematch.

HOWEVER, this has nothing to do with my pioneering. I had a very fancy sports coupe with gorgeous red leather upholstery and the roughest rumble seat you ever saw.

I bought a portable phonograph, which in itself wasn't too common on the local scene. I built a sort of framework which attached to the car door much like the serving trays at drive-in restaurants. I mounted my phonograph on this.

On warm summer nights it was high sport to set the phonograph going and crawl along lonely roads and desolate streets with the latest recordings ringing out sharp and clear.

THEY WERE sharp all right. The early phonos had a lot of volume but a highly tinny tone. Anyway, when you think about it, the basic idea wasn't a lot different from the tape players that adorn the modern cars.

I'll bet we had just as much fun with our phonograph as the owner of one of those transistorized tape gadgets has today.

Sometimes I'll tell you children how I invented the game of miniature golf. Alas, I didn't know I had something that could be commercialized.

Marquis Childs India's Continuing Starvation

WASHINGTON — The arithmetic of India's hunger is written large on the Eastern sky. It is an old, old story, so old, so repetitive in the annals of man's inhumanity to man that there is today a sense of frustration and impatience at this latest replay.

If several million Indians die of starvation before a new crop can be harvested — and this seems probable at the present writing — the blame will be widely shared. The consequences of the political shock effect here and abroad are incalculable. It will be another massive blow for the second largest Asian nation posed as a model of democracy and freedom.

PRESIDENT Johnson made a deeply emotional commitment — no Indian would starve so long as America had wheat available. That commitment was reinforced when Mrs. Indira Gandhi visited Washington a year ago. The President was deeply touched by this frail, charming woman struggling to hold together a country of incredible diversity always in some area or another at the point of breakdown.

BUT AS WITH other emotional commitments, notably Vietnam, the hard facts of life have a way of catching up. The resolution the President is requesting from Congress authorizing an additional shipment of 3,000,000 tons of wheat to India is compared to the Gulf of Tonkin resolution in 1964 on the Vietnam war. It will take the President off the hook. The resolution, as the White House acknowledged, was unnecessary, since the Chief Executive already has authority to ship whatever amount of food he deems necessary. With the adoption of the resolution he can always say that the limits were set by Congress.

THE HARD reality is that both in Congress and among the rich nations in the consortium supplying aid to India patience has run out. While it is possible to show substantial gains in production out of the massive infusion of help over the past 15 years the painful truth is that per-capita income — hovering somewhere under $100 a year — has not increased.

What this means is that India has been producing more babies than food and consumer goods. At the same time a whole series of health measures — the virtual elimination of malaria — raised the average life expectancy by at least 15 years. The present annual rate of population increase is 12,000,000. Thousands of birth — control clinics are operating but the hour is late and the effort, expanded though it is, may still be too little.

THE WESTERN European powers and Japan, making up the consortium, are reluctant to sign for another commitment of many hundreds of millions of dollars a year for India and Pakistan. The World Bank is similarly skeptical of what future efforts can achieve.

A lot of the doubt goes back to the conviction that India has failed to push its own food production hard enough. In 1960-61 a drive for fertilizer plants was underwritten in large part by private American capital. The ambitious goal was to double India's food production with artificial fertilizer from plants such as have contributed to America's vastly increased growth in food.

NOT LONG after the plan was formulated a dispute arose over which plants should go into the private sector and which into the public and where. The Americans complained that the favorable sites were all assigned to the public sector. Whether this dispute was the cause or not — Jawaharlal Nehru, the leader of India's revolution, had a vision of a semi-socialist state — the fertilizer program never really got off the ground.

Art Buchwald Just A Matter Of Terms

WASHINGTON — It appears from what has been happening recently that the chances for a Vietnam peace settlement are getting dimmer all the time. While the United States and Hanoi both insist they're ready to sit down for unconditional talks, more conditions are being raised every day.

I wouldn't be surprised in the next few months if the public should be reading the following news dispatches:

"WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dean Rusk confirmed today that the United States was willing to discuss unconditional peace talks with North Vietnam at any time. But the secretary added Hanoi would have to make some gesture to show it was serious in seeking peace.

"When asked what kind of gesture would be required, Rusk replied, 'We are willing to accept any gesture. For example, if Ho Chi Minh would surrender his army to Martha Raye on the Bob Hope Chrysler TV Theater, we might be willing to sit down and talk.'

"HANOI — The North Vietnamese News Agency announced today that Hanoi was willing to meet with American officials to discuss a cease-fire in Vietnam. The only condition Hanoi laid down for the parley was that while the talks were going on Lady Bird Johnson would be required to personally replace every tree the Americans defoliated in the demilitarized zone.

"WASHINGTON — A White House spokesman said that its decision to sink all ships in the Haiphong Harbor last night was the latest attempt on the part of President Johnson to get peace talks under way. The spokesman reiterated President Johnson's pledge to meet with the aggressors anywhere, any time, providing the meetings were held at the L.B.J. ranch where, as an act of good faith, the North Vietnamese would have to eat Texas chili and drink six-shooter coffee."

"HANOI — Premier Pham Van Dong of North Vietnam told a Yemen newspaperman that he felt that peace talks could start at any time. He said his reason for optimism was that there was only one item standing in the way of talks, and that was Hanoi's demand that the United States scuttle the Seventh Fleet in the Gulf of Tonkin. He felt that once this condition was met, there would be no problem in reaching a settlement on the major issues of the day."

"HANOI — President Ho Chi Minh held out an olive branch today to the United States. He said that he could see no reason why some solution of the war could not be worked out which could save face for both countries.

"Ho's suggestion was that if the Americans agreed to pull all their forces out of South Vietnam, he would name a high school after Lyndon Baines Johnson in Hanoi."

"WASHINGTON — President Johnson said today the criticism of yesterday's invasion of North Vietnam by Nervous Nellies in Congress was hurting his efforts to find a peaceful solution to the Vietnam Problem. He denied the invasion had anything to do with his election in 1968. He said, 'I know there's peace out there somewhere, and I'm not leaving any stone unturned to find it.'"

Lodge Wants To Quit Job?

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge, the U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, has asked to be replaced within the next few months, but the White House is having difficulty finding a successor, the New York Times said today.

In a dispatch from Saigon, Times correspondent R. W. Apple Jr. said friends indicated Lodge would like to leave Saigon late this spring or early in the summer.

"It's all news to us," said a spokesman for the U.S. Embassy in Saigon. He refused to comment further.

Lodge was in Manila attending a meeting of U.S. ambassadors stationed in Asian countries.

There have been recurrent reports recently that Lodge would resign. When he returned to the United States in December to spend Christmas with his family and to report to President Johnson, he denied he was quitting.

The Times article quoted "informed sources" as saying President Johnson's search for a successor "has proved more difficult than expected... so the ambassador's departure date has not yet been set."

It said Lodge would like to remain until after South Vietnam's new constitution, now being written, has been put into effect because he considers it "a major step forward not only for South Vietnam but also for American policy."

Lodge, a 65-year-old Republican, was appointed ambassador to South Vietnam by President John F. Kennedy in August, 1963, and served until June, 1964. President Johnson appointed him again and he returned to Saigon on Aug. 19, 1965.

River Authority Will Buy Canal

WACO, Tex. (AP)—The Brazos River Authority has completed arrangements for the $4.75 million purchase of the American Canal Co., and will take over its operations at once, authority President W. E. Boger of Cleburne said Monday.

The authority thus got facilities including 39 miles of major canals, 40 miles of improved natural channels, 65 miles of lateral canals and a pump station on the Brazos River.

Boger said the purchase will have far reaching results in use of the Brazos' waters to meet growing needs of the Gulf Coast industrial complex.

Boger said the canal system provides the authority excellent facilities for delivering water to Brazoria, Galveston and Fort Bend counties.

The negotiations with American Canal Co., began in 1965 when Galveston and the Brazos River Authority began talks aimed at supplying the Isle City with municipal and industrial water from the Brazos.

Col. Walter J. Wells, Brazos River Authority general manager, said the system is located in the area south of Houston and runs laterally from the Brazos southeast toward Galveston.

Two Charged In Killing Of Baytown Car Dealer

BAYTOWN (AP) — Edward Mullane III, 27, a merchant seaman from Boston, was charged with murder late Monday night in the slaying of Thad A. Felton Jr., a Baytown automobile dealer.

A Baytown photographer and club operator, Herbert J. Carew, 51, was charged with conspiracy to commit murder.

Both complaints were filed before Justice of the Peace W. W. Brown.

EMPTY POCKETS

Felton, 58, was found dead Saturday beside a road in East Harris County. He had been shot twice in the head and run over by a car. His pockets were empty and his white Mustang was missing.

The Mustang was found near the Houston waterfront Sunday. Mullane was arrested and charged late that night with theft of the car.

He was held in lieu of $25,000 bond.

FOUR WITNESSES

Sheriff's deputies said four witnesses viewed Mullane in a lineup Monday and two identified him as the man they saw with Felton Saturday afternoon.

Officers said a waitress told them Felton came to a private club in Baytown where Carew is part owner Saturday and Mullane remarked: "Let him in. This is who I have been waiting for."

A 16-year-old girl who saw the white Mustang near the slaying scene Saturday identified Mullane as the driver.

investigators said.

WEIRD TWIST?

Deputy Sheriff Calvin Atkins said Mullane had made an oral statement about the case. Its contents were not revealed.

Deputies said Mullane led them Monday night to a pistol and a silver money clip with a Ford emblem.

Atkins indicated robbery was a secondary motive in the case, adding: "There might be a weird twist to this, but I can't say yet what it might be."

Mullane had been living with his father in Baytown but calls Boston home. Deputies said Mullane had served a five-year reformatory term in Boston for breaking and entering.

Leader At ISU

Donald R. Smith, 21, of Rockwell City, takes over tomorrow as president of the Iowa State University student body. Several members of the Iowa legislature and others were disturbed when Smith's election was announced recently. He is a senior, majoring in mechanical engineering. In his campaign, among other things, he said that if elected he would drag ISU, "kicking and screaming into the 20th century." (AP WIREPHOTO)

OFFICERS TOOK A LONG TIME TO MAKE A REPORT

On March 4, Sheriff Jess Slaughter dispatched a warrant to the sheriff of Los Angeles County, Calif., asking that officer to arrest a Big Spring man said to be in Los Angeles. The man was wanted to answer a felony theft charge in Howard County.

On March 4, Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter received a letter from the sheriff of Los Angeles, returning the warrant and advising Slaughter that the man cannot be found in that county.

Slaughter was not surprised. The man sought has been dead for a decade or longer.

The warrant was dispatched March 4, 1937.

The Los Angeles Sheriff's office didn't get around to returning it and making a report until March 4, 1967.

Where the long-lost document has been and how it happened that nothing was ever reported on the case, Slaughter doesn't know.

He's happy though that the situation has now been cleared up and is pleased to know that the suspect is apparently not in Los Angeles County.

He said that since he is no longer sheriff and because the defendant has long since died, it is not likely any further action will be taken.

Pupils Pick Corn Shocker

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Donald R. Smith, a bearded exponent of expanded campus freedom, takes office Wednesday as student body president at Iowa State University — until now a fairly placid and conventional sort of place.

A 21-year-old mechanical engineering major, Smith, who once thought highly of Barry Goldwater's politics, was elected on a platform pledged to quash regulations on student activities outside the classroom. He also called for cheaper textbooks and lower room rentals.

The conservative element has been alarmed both by Smith's beard — a comparative rarity among the academic young of the tall corn country — and his stated aims.

Smith, cribbing a quote from the late Adlai E. Stevenson, said he just wanted to drag ISU "kicking and screaming into the 20th century."

"With the students behind me, we can get things changed," he said.

Second Training Session Slated

The second session of the Cub Scout Leaders Training Session is to be at the Reddy Room of Texas Electric Service Co. at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday. It is imperative all attend. The subject will be "Planning a Cub Scout Program."

All untrained den mothers and cub masters are urged to attend since the training will be of great help to them in their work with their charges.

The next meeting of the session will be a divided one with the women and men in separate classes. The women will discuss how to plan a den meeting and den chief relationship. The men will study pack meetings and pack management.

Wildcat Pickets Idle GM Plant

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Early-morning picketing today idled a General Motors plant whose closing by a strike last month triggered layoffs of nearly 200,000 auto workers.

Local officials of the United Auto Workers joined company spokesmen in terming the work stoppage unauthorized and illegal. An international representative of the United Auto Workers, Tom C. Gibson, urged employees to return to work at the Fisher body plant here.

TWO INJURED

Pickets who prevented first shift union employees from entering the plant at 6 a.m. disappeared by mid-morning, but virtually all work remained halted at the plant.

The company began broadcasting announcements over local radio stations urging workers to return to their jobs.

Two union men were admitted to Mansfield General Hospital after an incident involving a station wagon occupied by plant security personnel.

Officers of Auto Workers Local 549 went into executive session, with reports they planned to call a meeting of union members later in the day.

FIVE SUSPENDED

The new picketing reportedly stemmed from reports that five men suspended during the early walkout were to be fired.

The plant personnel manager, Thomas Legacy, said the five men were still on suspension from the first walkout and no final determination on their status had been announced. Among the five is the crane operator whose suspension for refusing to load dies for shipment to another GM plant triggered the first walkout.

ILLEGAL WALKOUT

The company called the walkout "an illegal strike."

An eight-day strike at the plant ended last Feb. 22 when UAW President Walter P. Reuther ordered the men back to work. The strike resulted when workers protested the "farming out" of work to other GM plants.

During the strike here, GM laid off nearly 200,000 workers at other plants, saying that the Mansfield strike caused a part shortage. The Mansfield plant produces doors, floorboards and other items for all makes of GM automobiles.

Connally's Booze Bill In Trouble?

AUSTIN (AP) — A Fort Worth legislator's poll of the House Tax Committee shows Gov. John Connally's liquor by the drink bill may die without ever reaching the floor.

Rep. W. C. Sherman, who favors liquor by the drink, polled all 20 committee members, not counting Chairman Ben Atwell of Dallas.

Sherman said three members are for the bill, three undecided and 14 against.

Those against included eight who said "under no conditions would they vote for the bill," he said.

"Some said they might go for it if changes are made," he said.

It takes 11 votes to get the bill out of committee.

Woman Charged In Dope Deal

AUSTIN (AP) — Mrs. Anna Littles, 40, of Newark, N.J., has been indicted on charges of conspiracy in an alleged $2.5 million marijuana smuggling operation.

She became the 17th defendant in the case. The indictment, returned by a federal grand jury in Waco, was filed in federal court here Monday.

Government attorneys say the dope was smuggled into this country from Mexico over a four-year period for distribution in the New York-New Jersey area.

Judge Orders 17 To Appear
Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, has instructed Fern Cox, district court clerk, to prepare notices to 17 members of the current jury panel who failed to report when their names were called Monday and who had not advised the court of the reason they ignored the jury summons.

Judge Caton stated from the bench that each of the 17 missing jurors will be fined $25. The notices order them to appear and show cause why they are not in contempt of court.

The fines are in accordance with a policy set by the court last month when a panel called for jury duty on a criminal docket turned up extremely short.

The judge has stated that hereafter he proposes to fine all jury panel members who fail to report and neglect to provide the court with a valid reason for their absence.
