11,967 DEAD Cong Kills Civilians

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. officials say Viet Cong terrorists have killed 11,967 civilians and kidnapped 40,988 in the last nine years.

New sets of figures compiled by the U.S. mission in Vietnam reflect the enemy's terrorist activity since the beginning of 1958.

Both totals are well above figures compiled previously from fragmentary reports. U.S. officials cautioned that "none of these figures are entirely accurate, since in many cases no accurate figures were kept by local Vietnamese authorities."

On Low Side

"It is believed, however, that any error is on the low side."

A new method of reporting terrorist activity, starting in January, provides an idea of the focus and breadth of the enemy effort. Since Jan. 1, the reports say, 467 persons have been killed, 862 wounded, and 738 kidnapped by terrorist activity.

This year's figures include among the dead 33 hamlet and village chiefs, 31 government pacification cadre, 27 national policemen, 3 U.S. civilians, and nine Ho Chi Minh or Viet Cong defectors. The wounded include three hamlet chiefs, 35 pacification cadre, 29 national policemen, eight U.S. civilians, and two defectors.

Easter Sunrise Service

Personal impressions of the scenes of Christ's death, entombment and resurrection will be given next Sunday morning, as Big Springers join in their traditional sunrise Easter worship.

The service will be in the City Park amphitheatre, starting at the sunrise hour of 6:43.

One of four local ministers who has visited the Holy Land, and one to give a sermonette on Easter morning, will be Dr. Clyde Campbell, pastor of Hillcrest Baptist Church. Dr. Campbell's topic will be "I Saw Where Scripture Was Fulfilled."

The sunrise service will be highlighted by a special anthem to be given by the combined high school and Howard County Junior College choirs. A fanfare of trumpets and presentation of colors opens the worship, and Scripture reading will be by Dr. Milton Talbot.

Other ministers to give brief remarks will be the Rev. Melvin Montgomery, the Rev. James Puckett, and the Rev. D. M. Duke.

Reviewing the . . .

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

It appeared Saturday that once more our area had escaped a wintry thrust. Most fruit trees were in full bloom when forecasts called for a blast down to the mid-30's. But through Saturday it hadn't quite come off. Many now brace for an Easter snap, but there really isn't any such thing. (If it gets cold at Easter, go on and call it an Easter snap. If it doesn't, forget it.) Give us a couple more weeks of warm weather, and the mesquite may begin putting out a few leaves. That's regarded as the final harbinger of spring.

Our dramatics come with a rare sense of timing. The Little Theatre staged its child's production of the delightful "Wizard of Oz" during the weekend, and this afternoon the first of three showings of "Brigadoon" gets under way at HCJC (for students only), with public performances set for Monday and Tuesday evening.

Speaking of music, we missed a chance to host the regional high school choir contests because of delays in construction on the new high school auditorium. The site had to be shifted and some 2,000 singers went instead to Permian High in Odessa on Friday and Saturday.

SUCCEEDS IN STOCK MARKET WITHOUT REALLY TRYING Plan Failed, Only Made $2 Million

KINGS POINT, N.Y. (AP) — The story of Meshulam Riklis' $2-million killing on the stock market last week would make a good movie. And it could be called: "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

SCRATCHING HEADS
Riklis, 43, head of a billion-dollar complex of corporations, squeezed through one of the most profitable pieces of Wall Street — wheeler-dealership — in many months on the quick purchase and resale of 200,000 shares in Schenley Industries.

Riklis, reached at his home here Saturday, acknowledged he was the man about-whom Wall Street observers have been scratching their heads since Tuesday.

He admitted wryly that the whole transaction, profit and all, was mostly an accident — a funny thing that happened to him on the way to control of the large Schenley liquor empire. Founder of the Rapid-American Corp., Riklis said he had long wanted to gain control of Schenley, which for some time has been negotiating a possible merger with P. Lorillard Co., of tobacco fame.

Last Tuesday, Schenley stock suddenly dropped from an opening price of 61½ and Riklis stepped into the picture, buying 200,000 shares at $50 a share just before the market closed.

MIGHT BOG
He and others along Wall Street speculated at that point that the Schenley-Lorillard negotiations might bog down after the stock slump.

Instead, Schenley and Lorillard announced an agreement the next day, and a disappointed

Riklis told his investment bankers to sell the Schenley shares.

Riklis' disappointment turned to delight, however, when Schenley stock soared back up into the sixties Wednesday and Thursday, after news of the agreement. The result: a net profit of "just a little under $2,100,000," Riklis said.

"It's a nice little consolation prize," he added.
Riklis, born in Istanbul and raised in Israel, emigrated to the United States in 1947. He studied mathematics at Ohio State University and later taught Hebrew in Minneapolis.

SAVINGS
In the early 1950s, starting with savings of $25,000 and the backing of friends, Riklis began buying control of small firms and parlaying the investments into larger and larger companies.

Rapid-American's holdings today, including holdings of its subsidiaries, include such firms as B.V.D. Co., Best & Co., S. Klein Department Stores, Inc., Lerner Stores, National Shirt Shops, H. L. Green and McClellan's.

Mao Orders Strong Hand By Army Units

TOKYO (AP)—Mao Tse-tung has ordered the army to take a strong hand in Red China's industrial production and urged workers to cooperate with Maoist army units in their factories, Peking's New China News Agency reported Sunday.

EXTENDS CONTROL
The report followed others that the army has extended its control of Peking by taking over schools, municipal agencies and factories in the capital.

Dispatches Saturday from Japanese correspondents in Peking and Chinese broadcast reinforced convictions that the 2.5-million-man army had replaced the youthful Red Guards as Mao's chief instrument in his struggle against supporters of President Liu Shao-chi.

An NCNA broadcast Sunday said the Central Committee of the Chinese Communist party had decided the army "should make a great effort to help the civilians and should support their work in industrial production." It called on industrial workers to "cooperate effectively with the comrades from the people's liberation army."

LAGGING
Last month the Central Committee issued a call to farm workers urging maximum efforts to increase agricultural production, believed to be lagging because of the power struggle. Sunday's broadcast indicated industrial production too may have suffered.
The committee's latest call was disclosed after reports Saturday that the army had taken over both farms and factories in Anhwei, Kiangsi and Hupeh provinces and moved into other parts of southeast and south-central China.

TAKEOVERS
The army takeovers were described in mainland broadcasts and in dispatches of Peking correspondents for Japan Broadcasting Corp. and the Newspaper Yomiuri. Chinese Arrivals in Hong Kong told of bitter resistance to army units in southern Kwangtung Province.

Thief Gets Deadly Loot

LONDON (AP) — London Zoo warned today that if the thief who stole 26 snakes from the reptile house did it as a prank, "somebody will be playing a game of death."

Taken were 18 harmless sand boas, seven poisonous puff adders and a highly dangerous Gabon viper. Also stolen were three white sacks, one for each species.

The viper's bite is lethal, said a spokesman, because it contains two different serums affecting the nerves and the respiration simultaneously. The zoo has an antidote, but it must be administered within an hour.

Yeggs Take All His Coins

CENTERLINE, Mich. (AP) — For 20 years, James Buttermore recalls, he never spent a penny, saving 50,000 of them over two decades.

Saturday, his collection was gone.
While the Buttermores were away from home Friday night, someone took the pennies, along with hundreds of nickels, dimes, quarters, half-dollars and dollars he had collected.

The burglars used four large suitcases taken from closets to haul off the loot, police said.

President Guam-Bound Along 'Painful Course'

Ky Bringing Constitution To Meeting

SAIGON (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky is flying to the Guam conference Sunday with South Vietnam's new constitution, turned out by the Constituent Assembly 10 days ahead of schedule at his suggestion so he could show it to President Johnson.

UNANIMOUS
By unanimous vote of all the 102 deputies present, the assembly gave final approval Saturday to a draft providing for a blend of presidential and parliamentary forms of government, an independent judiciary and a two-house national legislature.

The 117-member assembly, elected last September, had been working toward a March 27 deadline for completion of the national charter, a basis for conversion of this war-racked nation from military to civilian rule. The junta has 30 days to offer amendments.

Flying from Guam, the conference site which is their regular base, B52 Stratofortresses dropped 30-ton bomb loads on suspected Communist holdings in three provinces of South Vietnam.

ATTACK
One attack by the eight-engine jets was made west of Da Nang, headquarters of the northernmost 1st Corps area, where such strikes have developed almost daily for more than two weeks.
U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops keep watch in that area against the possibility Hanoi regulars will try another invasion in force directly across the border demilitarized zone, such as was frustrated in heavy fighting last summer.

At sea, the destroyed Stoddard became the fourth U.S. warship to be hit by Communist gunfire in patrols off North Vietnam.

SOLE IN SIDE
A spokesman said the Stoddard took a 10 by 18-inch hole in the side above the waterline in silencing a coastal battery 75 miles north of the border Friday.

More Arrests Predicted In Garrison Investigation

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A smiling, confident Jim Garrison emerged from his guarded home Saturday, playfully kissed his children, and told a newsman there was no doubt that further arrests would be forthcoming in his Kennedy assassination investigation.

The 6-foot-6 district attorney, fresh from a courtroom victory that will make retired executive Clay L. Shaw the first man to go to trial in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, said:

INTRICATE
"This whole case is a very intricate thing. It will be some time before all arrests are made. But there is no doubt about that, O.K."

Then he rode off in a taxi.

McNamara Insists 'Deadly Strikeback'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has insisted anew that Soviet antimissile missiles cannot be effective and has said that despite them a U.S. strikeback would kill 120 million Russians.

And he added in testimony to Senate committees:
"It's very easy to change the pattern of targeting to raise that upwards."
The defense chief made these assessments when he testified in secret before the Armed Service and Appropriation committees in late January. Censored transcripts showed McNamara repeatedly parrying the critical questions of senators who feel the United States should start promptly the construction of Nike X antiballistic missile defenses.

Questioners noted that the Soviet Union already is building antimissile installations around Moscow and perhaps elsewhere. McNamara not only discounted the effectiveness of these but added that the Russians "have an absolute religious fanaticism on the subject of defense."

PROOF
He said proof of this can be found in their huge expenditures on ground to air missile defense against bomber attacks — installations which McNamara said now are obsolete or unneeded in a ballistic missile age.

He said this is based on Moscow's fear of a first blow by the United States despite this nation's tradition and policy of never striking first.

In the event of a Soviet nuclear attack on the United States, the retaliatory blow would be aimed at their people, McNamara made clear.
ALL AGREE
He put it this way: "I think we could all agree that if they struck us first, we are going to target our weapons against their society and destroy 120 million of them."

Later he added that this toll easily could be raised.
Explaining his making public of such estimates and other data on U.S. nuclear capability, McNamara said it is because "we want our people, our allies and the Soviets, to be under no misunderstanding as to our strength."

"It isn't enough for us to have the force. We must convince them we have it."

DIDN'T CONVINCED
It was obvious that McNamara didn't convince all the senators. Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, voiced his misgivings this way:

"The first nation that gets an effective antimissile and antisubmarine device is going to control the world. It is just that simple."

Junior Miss Titlist Named

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Arkansas's Rosemary Dunaway, a 17-year-old high school cheerleader from Little Rock, is America's 1967 Junior Miss.

The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Forrest Dunaway won the top award Saturday night, chosen from a field of 12 finalists.

First, second, third and fourth runnersup were: Minnesota's Susan Virginia of Wells, Texas' Barbara Specht of New Braunfels, Hawaii's Julie Fleece of Honolulu and Indiana's Sharon Gian of Plainfield.

All were in the running for some $30,000 in scholarships being awarded during the program at Mobile Auditorium.

Parleys With Governors Of 49 States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just before taking off Saturday night for his Guam strategy conference on Vietnam, President Johnson spoke of the "painful course" America must pursue in the Southeast Asian conflict.

"It is a painful course that we pursue to keep hope alive in that land where our commitment is tested," Johnson said.

"WE MUST"
"But pursue it we must," he added.

Johnson made these brief remarks about the war in a toast at a black-tie dinner for the nation's governors following a day-long conference with them on federal-state relations.

At 11:30 p.m. EST, the big presidential jetliner was set for takeoff on the 18-hour, 8,000-mile flight to Guam.

Johnson will spend two days on the tiny U.S. island in the western Pacific conferring with U.S. and South Vietnamese leaders. The main focus, administration officials said, would be on "the other war" — the effort to build a strong and democratic civilian society in South Vietnam that can withstand Red subversion.

NO SHOWDOWN
During the White House session with governors from 49 states and territories, Johnson avoided any showdown with Republican governors over Vietnam policy.

Michigan Gov. George W. Romney, a potential GOP presidential candidate next year, acknowledged that the Republican governors had a countermove prepared if Johnson had asked for a resolution supporting his Vietnam policy. The President received such endorsement from a similar bipartisan governors meeting a year ago.

But Romney said, "The President made it clear that he was not asking for any resolutions or the taking of any positions of that type here."

SUPPORT LBJ
New York's Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said he was against signing "a blank check." But, "as Americans we support the President in his efforts to defend the interests of this country," he said.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara spoke to the governors — and reportedly were warmly received.

They will be at the President's side in the discussions of the military war and "the other war" in Guam.

The spotlight is expected to focus too on the new shifts in the U.S. civilian command at Saigon and stepping up the non-military effort. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and his deputy, William Porter, are being replaced by Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Eugene Locke.

NO DECISION
The officials told newsmen they do not expect any major military decisions will be made or announced at the two-day western Pacific.
Johnson's trip was listed as the first visit by an American president to Guam while in office. Dwight D. Eisenhower stopped there on his Korean journey as president-elect in 1952.

River Of Milk

Fifty farmers in southern Minnesota dumped about 6,000 gallons of milk near Dodge Center Friday. Besides emptying the 200 cans shown here, the men unloaded tank trucks in background. They're members of National Farmers Organization who are trying to raise prices they receive by reducing the supply. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Milk Dumping Has Little Trade Effect

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Farmers Organization's milk withholding campaign apparently had little effect Saturday on the weekend trade.

Reports that supplies were near normal came from states and cities in the 25-state area staked out by the NFO in its drive to boost prices received by farmers by two cents a quart.

NO PROBLEMS
The Hawthorn-Mellody Farms, Chicago distributors, reported: "No problems. We're taking care of all our orders."

A sampling of retail stores there brought word that supplies were of normal size and customers were buying in normal amounts.

Scattered reports of dumping and draining came in on the third full day of the holdback aimed at increasing the prices paid to producers, now generally 8 to 10 cents a quart.

Oren Lee Staley, NFO president, called the next 96 hours crucial.

"We are just now getting into the heart of the holding action," he said at his Corning, Iowa, headquarters. "The next 96 hours will be crucial."

Staley said the NFO will meet Monday in several places with "important segments" of the dairy industry which asked for conferences. He did not identify them.

CONFERENCES
The NFO figures dairies now are using up stocks they had on hand.

Someone broke into a milk house on a farm in Athens County, Ohio, and opened a tank valve. Some men stopped a truck picking up milk from farms near Athens and forced the driver to drain the milk.

NFO members from counties in southern Georgia spilled 300 quarts of milk on a farm near Valdosta while spectators shouted.

GOING HUNGRY
"Look at those dirty men pouring out milk when all the poor folks are going hungry."

The Michigan Milk Producers Association said some of its members and tank truck drivers had been threatened.

Lt. Gov. William Milliken, in the absence of Gov. George Romney, issued a statement saying: "It is a criminal offense to stop or hinder the operation of any vehicle transporting farm or commercial products."

The NFO said the strike was highly effective in Michigan but dairies reported only a small drop in milk receipts.

ARRESTED
Two men were arrested while dumping milk from a tank truck on Main Street in Cuba City, Wis. The men — one of whom owned the truck — were charged with dumping on a public highway.

Milk receipts from producers were down 1 to 4 per cent in the St. Louis area but the retail business apparently was not affected.

Republicans Soft-Pedaling Differences Over Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leaders are soft-pedaling GOP differences over President Johnson's Vietnam policies that apparently run as deep as those Democrats air publicly almost daily.

When the GOP Policy Committee directed its staff last week to draft a study of Vietnam war policies, it was with the clear understanding that there would be no attempt to forge any party position on the issue.

The committee expects to have in about two weeks what Chairman Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, calls a "completely objective analysis."

The problem of Hickenlooper and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois at this point is to avoid advertising the same kind of party split that Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., have made clear exists among the Democrats. Although they can't prevent their colleagues' from embarking on individual excursions, Dirksen and Hickenlooper are not about to contribute to any public Republican ruckus on the issue.

HAWKS

Dirksen and Hickenlooper are classified as "hawks," as are a majority of the Senate's 36 Republicans.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York lately has swung away from this group to the stop-the-bombing side but Sen. Clifford

P. Case of New Jersey said he doubts this is the time to halt air strikes.

Sens. George D. Aiken of Vermont, dean of Republicans in the Senate, Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the assistant leader, John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon and Charles H. Percy of Illinois all are listed as "doves."

AT SEA

Veteran Senate Republicans who are likely to have places on the foreign policy drafting panel of the 1968 convention Platform Committee are at sea about the position their party's presidential candidate will take on Vietnam.

They know, of course, that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is taking a generally hawkish stand on the war while criticizing President Johnson's conduct of it. They have no clear idea where Gov. George Romney of Michigan finally will land.

The Republicans are desperately trying to woo youthful voters in 1968. Their young stars, like Hatfield, Percy and Sen. Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts are rejecting any hard line of military victory in Vietnam.

HCJC Keeps In Budget

Howard County Junior College is running well within its budget for the first six months of the fiscal year, according to the February financial statement.

Receipts of $24,130 for the month boosted income for the year to $595,872, leaving only $85,577 needed to reach budget estimates. Of this, $61,925 is due from the state, leaving plenty of cushion when summer tuition, etc. are considered.

General operating expense for the initial six months amounted to $37,234, leaving $19,673 unexpended from budget allocations; administrative expense $25,088, leaving $26,195 unexpended; instructional $195,480, leaving $206,307 unexpended; organized activities and public service $3,640 leaving $3,859 unexpended; library $12,794, leaving $16,832; plant maintenance $41,662, leaving $43,233; auxiliary activities $4,384, leaving $3,470; athletic $19,455, leaving $12,873; capital outlay $2,944, leaving $6,318. Disbursements for the period stood at $342,709, leaving an excess of $253,163 of income over expenses to date.

Bethel Baptist Bonds Are Prohibited In Texas

AUSTIN (AP)—Sale of Bethel Baptist University bonds has been prohibited in Texas.

Texas Securities Commissioner William King issued a cease and desist order Friday on grounds that financial statements issued by the Oklahoma school are "misleading, deceptive and false."

King held a one-day hearing. He took testimony and evidence that the school "has no significant assets" despite a financial statement listing assets of $14.4 million and liabilities of $307,000.

The school opened with 42 students in Coalgate, Okla., in October, 1965, and was down to 12 students when it closed in June, 1966, for lack of money. It operated under the name of National Technical College for a month, last fall in Decatur, Tex. It had four students and one teacher in Decatur.

The assets listed in the financial statement included $10.7 million in notes receivable, mortgages receivable and leasehold properties all due from a Harold V. Smith of Sherman Oaks, Calif. A commission investigator said Smith was not known at the address listed on his letterhead.

Five men have been indicted in Fort Worth in connection with sale of the bonds. They are Dr. O. V. Hayes, former pastor of the Grace Baptist Church in Oklahoma City; James S. Clary, Fort Worth roofing contractor; Olin A. Cole, who has operated several Fort Worth trade schools; Charles A. Lindsey, president of Bethel; and Andrew J. Rhoads, oilman from Bogata, Tex. It had

Poetic Memories, Lamesa Lad Poses Freakish Event

By ED SYRES

Seems to me, the thoughts of boys are the truest mirror of their grownups' world. So, here are two. First, hear Texian Robert Austin Gomer of Dallas, Ore., far from his boyhood home place in forested Sabine County, near Hemphill.

"Yes, I'd like to go tramping barefoot over the countryside there and see it as I used to—after winter, when the beeches are starting to leaf out and the azaleas and honeysuckle are in bloom . . . and wild violets along the creek bank and yellow jasmine . . . and the perch biting in the creek.

MAGNOLIAS-JASMINE

"I'd like to see it in May when the magnolias blend their fragrance along with beautiful cape jasmine. Also, huckleberries ripen in May; then, along in July, come peaches. Late August, ripening muskadmies, and September, chinquapins, and sugar cane's ready to start chewing. Bass (we used to call them trout) are striking.

"Then fall colors come to life in October and November. Hickory nuts start dropping from the trees . . . Digging sassafras roots and brewing tea in early spring. And of course, beech nuts in the fall.

"The water in the creek gets so clear and almost blue in the fall. There's winter huckleberries, then, and red haws and black haws. And, oh, I forgot! Persimmons and figs, too; boy, I ate them by the gallon. Figs on the market out here, phooey!

"I haven't eaten black eyed peas since I left East Texas. They don't have to be black eyes necessarily; speckled peas or field peas are good, too. Many's the time I've gone to the field, mid-summer or later, and picked a 24-lb. flour sack full. A plate of peas, a hunk of corn bread, pepper sauce on the peas, a hunk of onion and garden tomatoes. That's eating!

"Gee, it would be something to experience all that again. But as the raven in Poe's poem says—'Nevermore.'" Lamesa's Roy Cullison: "I'm a high school junior and for some time have collected accounts of possible attempts to communicate with us by extraterrestrials. I recently ran on an account concerning the once TV station KLEE of Houston.

FROM A BOY TODAY:

"It seems that on Sept. 14, 1953, the test pattern of KLEE was seen in England. A letter, mentioning the sightings, was sent by one of the English viewers. The letter went to the chief engineer of KPRC-TV; for, three years earlier, KPRC had bought out KLEE. The signal seen had been off the air three years. This was later explained as a kind of hoax done by somebody else.

"Yet in 1962, a Milwaukee lady received the same test pattern — KLEE's. It also included what she thought at the time was a melodrama in which a girl held captive screamed: 'Let me go! I'll tell the world what you plan doing!' The picture faded out and KLEE flashed on again, with the word, 'Help!' superimposed, flashing on and off again before the screen went black. The Milwaukee lady received it on a channel, not used in her area.

"I mention it because some of your readers may know similar experiences."

Note: I mention it because here's a long bridge between (two good boys, mirroring their times, and I think boys are truth.)

BLUEBONNETS

If rain were heavy as bluebonnet inquiries, you'd see their lovely pastel seas everywhere; but this year gives thin promise (if your area's blessed, let us know). Herewith, a preliminary roundup. Time: late March into April; best bets: Brenham, Yoakum, Cuero areas. Gonzalez claims the bluest, debated by Marlin, Belton and Ennis, north, and the Fredericksburg hill valleys, toward Llano, west.

'Sparkle Month' Will Call For A City-Wide Cleanup

Beginning April 24, it will be "Sparkle Month" in Big Spring. That's the period designated for an all-out effort to clean up, fix up, paint up, and generally rehabilitate all private property. The program got a push Friday from the Chamber of Commerce Health and Safety Committee, which will sponsor it, along with cooperation from the city and the schools.

The hope was voiced that the Spring effort will be better than ever before, to add another facet to the "Operation Sparkle" program which has been going on for a year.

This time direction will be toward the ordinary household-er, who will be asked to clear the trash, tidy up the place in general, and add paint and general improvements where needed and where the project can be handled now.

City trucks will be scheduled to assist in a major haul-off of trash, said Ernest Lillard, di-

Publicity matters were discussed, and the "Sparkle Month" idea will be put across through mass media, through cooperation with the schools, and other types communication. Representatives of builders and paint stores and similar merchandisers will be asked to help promote the project.

Hospital Gets Texas Scenes

Walls of the Big Spring State Hospital will be decorated soon with reproductions of colorful and picturesque paintings of Texas scenes.

During the past week, Humble Oil and Refining Company presented 54 of beautiful prints from originals by E.M. Schweitz, Bob Wygant, Mark Storm and Porfirio Salinas. These range from scenes in the Gulf of Mexico to the grandeur of El Capitan in the Guadalupe Mountains.

Various department heads selected the pictures which they thought would assist in the decor of their sections.

Frames will be constructed by patients in the workshop under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Hall and Frank Zalazar.

VICTORIA (AP)—Federal authorities held four men, two from Mexico, Saturday on charges of possessing what a customs agent said was $500,000 of heroin at retail prices.

The four were taken before U.S. Commissioner Flo Matlock and bonds set, but none was able to post a bond.

Those charged and the amount of their bonds were:

Kenneth Brown, 59, Houston, drugstore and ranch owner, $100,000.

Gilbert Bayer, 31, Houston, a Brown employe, $50,000.

Juan Guerra Guerrero, 28, an electrician of Reynosa, Mexico, $25,000.

Natural Causes Claimed Birch

DALLAS (AP)—Dr. Frank Corpaci said Saturday that an autopsy showed California-Texas multimillionaire A. Otis Birch died Wednesday of natural causes.

The autopsy was asked by his wife, the controversial Mrs. Pearl Choate Birch, who married the wealthy man last year when he was 95 and she was 59.

SERVICES HELD Birch was entombed in Dallas in private services Friday.

Dr. Corpaci said he called in a pathologist with whom he had worked in the past.

The death of Birch appears certain to set off a court fight between Mrs. Pearl Birch and the beneficiaries under a will by the first Mrs. Birch, Estelle. The estate has been estimated as high as $200 million. Mrs. Estelle Birch's will had been filed but not probated when Birch died.

Mrs. Pearl Birch said her husband had deeded virtually all his property to her while the first Mrs. Birch lived. A lawyer close to the case said these transfers probably will be contested, noting California and Texas community property laws.

Mrs. Pearl Birch, 205 pounds and 5 feet 11 inches, served a lengthy term for murder and was released in 1963. She went to California and became a practical nurse for the ailing Mr. and Mrs. Birch.

The first Mrs. Birch died Oct. 7. On Oct. 26, Mrs. Choate took the ailing multimillionaire to Altus, Okla., from their residence at Breckenridge, Tex., and they were married.

California relatives and institutions fought the marriage and Mrs. Pearl Choate's custody of the property but lost. Courts held that Birch remained an intelligent man despite his age and that the wedding was legal and approved by him.

FILED CASE Only hours after Birch's entombment, Dallas lawyers Eddie L. Davis and Tom M. Shaw filed an application to probate the will

Are yours up to the task?

You probably follow the practice of having regular dental and medical check-ups because you have learned that when you neglect to do so an ache or a pain warns of something being wrong.

Your eyes, on the other hand, seldom complain, even when neglected. Eyes do change... sometimes gradually, and sometimes more rapidly than can be imagined.

Professional eye care is more important today than ever, because work, study, hobbies and other seeing tasks require constant close-range vision from eyes that were created primarily for distant seeing.

Guard against eye disease, eyestrain, and poor vision with an annual professional eye examination by a T S O Doctor of Optometry.

RHEUMATIC FEVER IS ALWAYS DANGEROUS

It is now believed that rheumatic fever is caused by the same streptococcus germ which causes a strep throat. It can make a child or adult tired and have painful joints or abdominal tenderness.

More serious results occur. The illness inflames the heart's mitral valve. Scar tissue can form and permanent damage may result. Worse yet, a child does not grow out of this and can get rheumatic fever over and over again. Physicians know these dangers, but can protect you most if they are consulted about any sore throat as soon as possible.

Unions Must File Trustee Reports

DALLAS—It's annual reporting time for most of the labor organizations in this section that are subject to the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act, according to Merle Rider, area director of the labor department's office of labor-management and welfare-reporting.

"The law," he said, "requires a union to file its financial report within 90 days after the end of its fiscal year. About four out of five unions in this area close their books for the year on Dec. 31."

For any union that has not previously received its report forms by mail, such forms are available from his Dallas office in Room 105 at 1416 Commerce, he said. He estimated there are some 1,950 affected labor organizations in Texas, about 800 in Oklahoma, and around 225 in New Mexico.

No Illusions About Size Of Job To Be Done In Vietnam

By JAMES ROWE

(Corpus Christi Caller-Times staff writer for the Herald-Ex.)
SAIGON—A feeling of uneasiness and tension between the Communist world and ours is sensed in the offshore island of Quemoy off Taiwan, in the new territories of the Kowloon Peninsula and in the Portuguese possession of Macao. But the transition from an uneasy peace to outright war is evident soon after you land at Tan Son Nhut airport north of Saigon.

The menace is expressed by sand-bagged positions manned by either U.S. or South Vietnamese soldiers, both at the airport and along the route to the Park Hotel where this is written. There are strong points at intervals throughout this beleaguered city of 2.5 million.

During the first night I was suddenly fully awake, sitting bolt upright. At first I couldn't imagine why. Then I began to hear, at intervals, the "whump" of exploding mortar shells at a distance of some miles.

THE BEST

In the morning we were met at the headquarters by Brig. Gen. James Hollingsworth, commander of one of the division's three brigades. He led a briefing session by saying: "I want to dispel any notion that our soldiers here are inferior in any way. Sixty-five per cent of our soldiers are from Selective Service. These young men are the bravest, the smartest and the most courageous soldiers have known in 30 years of Army service."

"Big Red One" (First Division) has been operational in Vietnam since Oct. 7, 1965. Its mission, Col. Bob Sweitzer, specialist in the revolutionary development program (successor to the strategic hamlets plan), told us was two-fold: (1) Fighting the main force units of North Vietnam up to the Cambodian border to the west and northwest, and (2) carrying out a program to destroy the VC infrastructure in the hamlets, villages and provinces of the division's zone of operations.

NATIONAL INTERESTS

The United States is in Vietnam in the pursuit of its national interest, we were told. We are arrayed against forces hostile to us and directed externally. Vietnam has never been united—the French divided Indochina into the administrative provinces of Amman, Tonkin and Cochina.

The Vietnamese people have always been hostile to a central government—the division between the urban population (approximately four to five million) and the peasants (approximately 11 million) has always been a sharp one. The country is divided, too, by religion, with Catholics and a number of Buddhist sects vying for the souls of the people. Furthermore the country is divided ethnically with over a million Montagnards, and about 800,000 overseas Chinese, mixed in with the Tonkinese, Cochinese, and Ammanese.

"We are convinced that Hanoi controls the Viet Cong, providing the direction and the people who run the army, as well as political leadership," one official said. "This is a political war with violent overtones. You do not get a victory solely by military means. The overt aggression is being contained very well. We are making progress in the clandestine phase of the war conducted by 120,000 terrorist aggressors (the Viet Cong), but this has to be done by the (South) Vietnamese. The South Vietnamese have taken advantage of the opportunity we have given them (by our military presence) to begin the development of a political system. We will need a social revolution to turn the peasants from apathy, or passive acceptance of the VC, to positive allegiance to the government."

Lippard Retires From Race For Lamesa Council

LAMESA (SC) — Jake Lippard, incumbent, has asked that his name be stricken from the ballot for Place 5 in the forthcoming city council election.

Lippard, who has served on the council two terms, said his decision to run again was based on giving the council assurance of a candidate for Place 5. Bob Oates has filed for election to this place on the ballot. With the withdrawal of Lippard, there is no contest for any of the places. Dr. Douglas Black is the incumbent for Place 1; Bernie Holt, Place 2; Wendell Strahan, Place 3; Lloyd Cline, Place 4, and Bob Oates will be seeking election to Place 5.

A new mayor will be elected from the councilmen at the first meeting following the election. Dr. Black has served the city as mayor for the past two years.

Scoutmaster To Receive His Wood Badge Award

One of the most cherished awards open to Scout leadership will be presented at 7 p.m. Monday to Elton L. Carlile, scoutmaster of Troop 216, who has earned his Wood badge.

ELTON L. CARLILE

The ceremony will take place at a Court of Honor in the Baptist Temple, which sponsors the troop which Carlile leads. Newell Hughes, Midland, former commissioner of the Buffalo Trail Council and now on the executive board, will make the presentation. Hughes took his own Wood badge training at Gilwell Park, England, where the training award was originated by Lord Baden Powell, founder of Scouting.

The honor court also will be the occasion for a number of awards to boys. Tenderfoot investiture will be held for Rusty Hull, Kenny Campbell, David Tucker, Kenneth W. Barris and Robert C. Douglass.

Second class badges will go to David Tucker, Doug Ballard, Rusty Hull, and Keith Swim; first class badges to Gary Hale, Barry Armstrong, Jeff Talmadge, Mike Clark, Edgar Gresham, Mike Carroll, Barry McGonagill; Star to Albert Carlile; Life to Steven G. Smith and Tommy Porter.

Merit badges will go to Steve Yeats, Gene Lee, Jeff Talmadge, Gary Hale, Tommy Porter, Mike Carroll, Barry Armstrong, Albert Carlile. Those to receive three-year service stars are Fred Fielder, Allen Carlile, Tony Stewart, Larry Russell, Gene Lee, Randy Burchell, Steve Yeats, Rodney Hall, Ricky Simpson, Tommy Porter; two-year stars to Danny Ballard, Steve Smith, Albert Carlile and Gerry Bradley; one-year to Barry Armstrong, Edgar Gresham, Kenny Campbell, Jeff Talmadge, Barry McGonagill, Bruce Broughton, Mike Carroll, Mike Parker and Keith Swim.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Urges Seal Support, Wants Better Service

To the Editor:
I would like to take this opportunity to urge everyone to support the Easter Seal Campaign. Why? Because it is the process of getting a child or an adult up on his feet. It is made up of a lot of little things. A little hope, therapy — then one day a little child or an adult can walk who otherwise could not. Just a few favors from each of us — a few dollars — voluntary service — our love and our prayers can work miracles.

Our contributions to the Easter Seal Campaign helps our local Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, which is doing wonders for the crippled and handicapped of our community.
I know this to be true because I am using the facilities at our center. Won't you please help?
Sincerely,
Willard Hendrick

To the Editor:
I notice in the paper where garbage rates are being raised. I don't mind the extra 50 cents if the garbage detail would do its job properly.
The men jerk cans from the racks, scattering garbage all the way from the rack to the truck. They bang the can back on the rack, usually on top of the lid. They never put a lid back on the can, but it seems they try to knock it in the alley so they can run over it with the truck.
This type of treatment results in bad odors, messy alleys, bad flies, wasps and an invitation to loose dogs and cats in the neighborhood. I wonder why the sanitation officer couldn't check into this.

Springer Tells Of Free Trip

A Lenora 4-H Club member, Mike Springer, who was winner of the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative's free trip to Washington for his oratorical ability in 1966, spoke to the Gay Hill 4-H Club at its meeting last week. He told of his trip and showed slides of places he had visited.
It was of special interest to Martha Couch, president of the Gay Hill Club, as she is one of the 1967 winners and will leave in June on the same sort of tour.
The meeting was at the Bethel Baptist Church annex. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Virgil Little and Mrs. Milton Juneck. There were 20 club members and four adults in attendance.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What is wrong with me? I have been happily married for 15 years and we have three lovely children. Every night I dream about a certain man who is a good friend of my husband and mine. He is also married and has a nice family. Abby, I am so ashamed of myself I don't know what to do.

In these dreams he is kissing me and loving me, and we are carrying on something fierce. I don't know if we are married in these dreams or not, all I know is we just go right ahead like there was no right or wrong. Every time I see this man and his wife I feel so guilty I could die. His wife is such a nice person, and so is he, and my hand to God, he has never even looked sideways at me. What worries me is I seem to be enjoying these dreams. Please help me.

CAN'T WAIT TO RETIRE
DEAR ABBY: You need not feel guilty for what you do in your dreams. As long as you don't try to make your dreams come true (in this instance) there's nothing to be ashamed of.

DEAR ABBY: A lady signed GRANDMA wrote, complaining because she had grandsons in the service, but a fat, lazy, 22-year-old slob of a neighbor kid sat around doing nothing. He bragged that his hobbies were draft-dodging, eating, and sleeping, and said he keeps his blood pressure up on purpose so he can't pass the physical.

She said she wanted to know why fellows like this should be allowed to get away with this. You said there was probably a lot more wrong with the slob than he admitted, and he was probably covering up with his braggadocio talk, that if he were fit material for the service, they'd have a uniform on him faster than he could say "Vietnam."

Abby, I left the service a year ago, and I have this to say to Grandma: How safe would your grandsons be if they depended on this slob to sound the alarm in case of an attack? Would you want your grandsons to ride in an aircraft this fellow just repaired? No, Grandma, leave those irresponsible kids at home where they hurt no one but themselves. They don't belong in the military with decent, responsible men like your grandsons.

PAUL W. MARSH (SEATTLE)
DEAR ABBY: Will you please advise me as to the correct way to acknowledge appreciation to a pastor under these circumstances: The pastor gave much aid and comfort to the family of one who recently passed away. The deceased one had no connection with this pastor or his congregation, but he performed the burial services anyway. Thank you. KNOWS NOT
DEAR ABBY: Over the pastor a gift of money. (Pastors have bills to pay.) If he declines, ask him if you may make a contribution to one of the many "causes" related to his church.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Cultural Program Set, Choir Schedules Tour

By WINNIE UNGER
The American Association of University Women has programmed a night of cultural highlights Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Room of the Big Spring Savings and Loan Association building. Several painting members of the club will make up an art display, and a group of 15 a cappella singers from Mel Ivey's high school choir will offer "Alleluia" by Bach; "Since My Tears and Lamenting," Morley; "Set Me As a Seal Upon Thine Heart," Walton; and "My True Love Hath My Heart," Berger. The high school drama department will perform a scene from "The Importance of Being Earnest," directed by Dan Shockey. The club invited all interested persons to attend.

Big Spring Art Association Tuesday will hear guest speaker, Airman John Zimmerman, who will present a series of slides on an exhibit currently on display at the Birmingham (Mich.) Art Association gallery. The exhibit is in the optical illusion and pop art category and was done by both professional and amateur painters in that area. The club will meet at 7:30 p.m. at 1606 Lexington. Visitors are welcome.

"A Thousand Clowns," a comedy written by Herb Gardner, opens at Midland Theatre Center March 23. The plot involves the decision of a television writer to succumb to gainful employment and become an idle Bohemian. The writer takes with him a precocious 12-year-old nephew, object of much concern from the Child Welfare Bureau. Other performance dates are

Waterflood Project Planned In Mitchell

Efforts are being pressed to utilize producing interests in the sprawling Westbrook field of Mitchell County in order to clear the way for a major waterflood project.

By some estimates, this could cost over nine million dollars, but it would result in an estimated increased yield of 40,000,000 barrels of crude oil through secondary recovery.

A pilot project between four and five miles north of Interstate 20 has shown good results. Of Texas, Standard Oil of Texas and Union Texas Petroleum are joining in seeking to get all operators to pool their interests. If this is successful, then the operational details will be worked out and a construction program mapped. Robert F. Penner, Fina's project engineer, said there is no firm timetable but that it is hoped that this can be done by the end of summer.

Life Search For Good, Speaker Declares Here

How good is your life going to be?

It all depends on what your idea of "good" is, according to Edward C. Williams, C.S.B., Christian Science lecturer of Indianapolis, Ind.

Most people agree that "whatever satisfies is good," he said, "but satisfaction and peace cannot be purchased at the drugstore. Eventually mankind is compelled to look for a more permanent good... It is useless to seek good while disregarding God."

Williams, a recognized teacher and practitioner of Christian Science, spoke here under sponsorship of Christian Science Society here Friday evening.

Williams pointed out that "many teenagers and young people today are quietly standing against the world's pressure to conform. They choose rather to conform to God's law of liberty; not to popular examples of weakness."

"Prayer is essential," he said, "because through prayer, we discover what it means to be made in the image and likeness of the one God."

"The good that satisfies lies in understanding God," concluded Williams. The whole purpose of Jesus' ministry, he said, "was to show us what God is and how to know Him."

Admit Painting

Two teenage boys were taken to the police station Friday night and questioned concerning recent vandalism and painting incidents. After a brief discussion the youths admitted participating in some vandalism and sign painting. The boys were released.

staff, were in Colorado City to seek commitments from the Mitchell County Court for permanent roads to serve two of the proposed waterflood stations. This territory borders on the infamous Iatan flat, which is virtually impassable in rainy weather.

Water from the project would come from salt water wells. Standard has a 500-barrel well now which produces enough water from 900 feet for the pilot project. Possibly half a dozen wells, varying in depth from 400 to 1,300 feet, will be required to meet total demands.

The flooding plan is due to be on a pattern of injection wells at corners of every quarter section. This is an approximation in the early days spacing of wells was erratic.

STATION LOCATION

Three systems of lines would be required. One would be for the brine produced for flooding; another would be for injection; and a third would be for return of water produced incidentally with oil so that it could be reinjected. Stations would require 400-500 hp pumps to provide injection pressure.

If the area, which contains several hundred wells, can be utilized, Fina plans to set up its station for the south section of the project along the south line of section 33-32-1N, about 2 1/2 miles west of Westbrook and 1 1/2 miles north of Interstate 20. The Union Texas unit would have its station about a mile and a quarter to the west in section 31. The Fina representatives asked the Mitchell Commissioners Court to consider a road which would leave Interstate 20 and go north along the section line to a point between the two stations; also to extend lateral roads to the station points. An alternate route was suggested, as was a request to run a 12-inch pipeline under a farm-market road at the Morgan Creek crossing.

BASINS OLDEST FIELD
Standard likely would put its flooding station near the current pilot project, which is some three miles north of the proposed Fina station.

Engineers estimate that the secondary recovery project would prolong the life of the field another 20 years. Opened by the Underwriters No. 1 Morrison in 1920 — the first commercial producer in the Permian Basin — the Westbrook Field has steadily added wells over the years. Production is from the middle Clear Fork, and all the wells have virtually the same characteristics.

Loss Of Morality Called Greatest Danger To U.S.

"The gravest danger facing this country today is not the possibility we may lose the war in Vietnam nor is it the threat Russia may initiate a nuclear war against us," Rex P. Kyker, governor for the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis district told more than 200 Kiwanians and their wives here Friday night.

"We will win the war in Vietnam," he stated. "That I am sure of. We do not need to fear the Communists will drop an atomic bomb. They are afraid to do that. They know if they did, in minutes they would no longer exist on the face of the earth."

LOSE LIBERTIES
"If we lose our liberties and the blessings we hold as Americans, it will not be from either of these causes."
"Our gravest danger is the loss of morality we have developed and are developing. We are becoming an amoral nation and such a nation, with nothing solid upon which to believe, is doomed."

He was the guest speaker at a banquet at the Cosden Country Club attended by delegations from all but one of the nine Kiwanis clubs in Division 22, Big Spring, a member of the division, was host club. The Rev. V. Ward Jackson, Big Spring, is lieutenant governor for the division and was master of ceremonies.

ACC PROF
Kyker is a professor at Abilene Christian College. He and Mrs. Kyker are now making a pilgrimage to all of the Kiwanis divisions in the Texas-Oklahoma District. As far as could be determined, this is the first time a district governor has ever visited Big Spring.

Eight of the nine clubs were represented by their presidents and delegations of members and their wives. The clubs attending and their presidents were Big Spring, Bill Johnson; Andrews, Richard Tobias; Colorado City, John Russell; Lamesa, A. J. Hale; Midland (Downtown), Benton Riddle; Midland (Village), Don Hanks; Odessa, Jack McElmurry; and Snyder, Don Adams.

Monahans was the only club in the division which did not have a delegation at the meeting.

In addition to the club executives, a half dozen former lieutenant governors were also here.
Kyker stressed the need for staunch teaching of the basic principles of morality and decency in the home and cited the responsibility of parents for the lack of character in their children.

STATISTICS
He quoted statistics on the spread of suicide in the ranks of college students, asserting that the cause was the lack of some sound philosophy of life based on real comprehension of morality and moral obligations. The spread of drug addiction, the lax and passive attitude toward promiscuity, the refusal to intervene and to point the true way to a happy, successful life will ultimately bring about the collapse of the foundations of the American way of life, he warned.

Arnold Marshall, mayor of Big Spring, welcomed the visiting Kiwanians. Jack Hollis of Midland, past lieutenant governor, responded to the address of welcome for his own and other visiting clubs.
Bill Johnson asked the invocation and Roscoe Newell led the pledge of allegiance.

SINGERS
The Madrigal, a group of young singers from Rannels Junior High School, directed by Sammy Wall, provided music. Gifts were presented to the visiting governor and Mrs. Kyker.
The governor was given a standing ovation at the close of his speech.

and Goliad, and Saturday morning it was dedicated officially.
The tragedy was every bit as jolting as though it had happened at home. Floyd Shortes, 74, was injured fatally when a pickup left the road and overturned under an embankment on US 87 some four miles north of Water Valley Friday afternoon. His wife and son, Darrell, were hurt seriously.

Youths Hurt In Traffic Mishap
Three high school youths were taken to Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital after the car in which they were riding failed to make a curve on Scenic Mountain and barely missed a plunge down the mountain side.
Taken to the hospital by Alert Ambulance were Marcus Copeland, driver of the car, Jackie Thompson and Bobby Thompson. Mike Green, another occupant, was not injured and was taken home by Jack White, Texas Highway Patrolman, who investigated the accident. The other three youths were treated and released from the hospital later.

The mishap occurred Friday and the car came to rest on a ledge about three feet lower than the roadway around Scenic.

Floyd Shortes Killed In Highway Car Crash
Floyd O. Shortes, 74, 1900 Eleventh Place, was killed in an accident 3.5 miles north of Water Valley on US 87 in Coke County Friday afternoon. Seriously injured in the accident were Shortes' wife, 69, and the driver, Shortes' son, Darrell, 26, of Sterling City Route.

The Shortes' vehicle was traveling north on US 87, had just passed another auto going the same direction, when a stock trailer the pickup was pulling began to whip. A right tire blew out on the trailer, witnesses said, and both trailer and pickup skidded across the roadway and broke apart. The pickup plunged down an embankment and overturned 1 1/2 times, while the trailer turned upside down and skidded about 50 yards down the road across a small bridge, according to investigating Highway Patrolman Joe Willie, San Angelo.

The elder Mr. Shortes was taken to the Shannon Hospital in San Angelo where he died at 6:30 p.m., approximately three hours after the wreck. Mrs. Shortes sustained a broken hip, a broken ankle, and possible internal injuries. She is also a heart patient and was listed in serious condition. Their son, Darrell, driver of the pickup, was listed in fair condition with head injuries.

The elder Shortes' body was taken to Robert Massie Funeral Home in San Angelo, then transferred to Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home here, where arrangements are pending.
Mr. Shortes was born Feb. 3, 1893, in Wise County and moved to Howard County in 1908. He married Vera Castle Aug. 23, 1917, in Wise, and had farmed in the Knott Community in the northwest portion of Howard County until his retirement in January, 1967, at which time he moved to Big Spring.
Mr. Shortes is survived by his wife and a son, Darrell Shortes, both of Big Spring.
Other survivors include two other sons, James Shortes, stationed in Vietnam, and Johnny Shortes, Big Spring; a daughter, Mrs. Nina V. Riddle, Knott; three brothers, Ocie Shortes and Otis Shortes, both of Midland, and Elmer Shortes, Odessa; two sisters, Mrs. Lois Wagner, San Antonio, and Mrs. Effie Allred, Knott; and 13 grandchildren.
Mr. Shortes was a member of the Carl Street Church of Christ,

ISLAND PREPARES FOR PRESIDENT'S VISIT Tourist Facilities Are Sparse

AGANA, Guam (AP) — An Army captain's wife packed a suitcase, dusted off a dresser top and moved in with neighbors. Soldiers, sailors and Marines were armed with paint brushes. And at U.S. naval headquarters on Guam "off limits" signs went up for all but a few selected personnel.

FIRST VISIT
This was the scene on this 30-by-4-mile U.S. island in the Pacific Saturday as it prepared for the first visit of an American president. Yet only one sign was up and there were no decorative arches and bunting to welcome President Johnson Monday morning.

Officials here said this was not due to a lack of respect for the President but more likely a lack of experience in welcoming VIPs. They expected large turnouts, Monday, and Tuesday, when the President leaves.

The lone sign was put up by the Department of Public Works and it read: "Welcome to Guam, President and Mrs. Johnson."
It went up that way before it was announced in Washington that Mrs. Johnson would not make the trip.

The President is coming here for a conference on the Vietnam war with Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, and South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. Johnson is bringing Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, among others.

Guam is playing a role in the war. Eight-engine B52 bombers take off from here to bomb Communist positions in South Vietnam.

U.S. military families with few or no children are moving in with neighbors so such officials as Rusk, McNamara, Westmoreland, Ky and others will have places to stay. Guam lacks a hotel and other tourist facilities are sparse.

NAVY STEWARDS
U.S. Navy stewards will staff the houses to prepare breakfast for the guests and take care of their needs.

From the B52 ramps at Andersen Air Force Base on the northern end of the island to the Polaris submarine tender Proteus at a dock on the southern end, military personnel were putting new coats of paint on weather-beaten equipment.

Others readied a press center in a World War II Navy barracks area.
At noon, Marines cordoned off the residence of Rear Adm. Horace V. Bird, commander of U.S. naval forces in the Marianas. There was speculation Johnson would stay there or at the airbase.

MILITARY AIDE
Bird and Johnson will be renewing an old association. Bird served in 1961 as Vice President Johnson's military aide.
From Bird's long veranda on Nimitz hill, a cliff of black volcanic rock, Johnson will be able to look out over beaches and waterfront. He might even get a glimpse of a Soviet spy ship that plies outside the three-mile limit of territorial waters.

The vessel presumably watches the activities of Polaris submarines and the B52 take-offs. The Russians make little effort to disguise the vessel's electronic gear.

SPY SHIP
Officials do not seem to be bothered by the spy ship, although Guam is largely made up of military installations, fringed by palm trees and sandy beaches.
The southern half of the island is a lush jungle where some Guamanians say there may be one or two Japanese soldiers still holding out from World War II. The Japanese occupied Guam for nearly three years of the war.

After they were driven off, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz established his forward headquarters on the cliff now bearing his name.

Guam is a full U.S. territory. It was acquired from Spain by the United States in 1898, after 230 years of Spanish rule.

MILITARY
About 30,000 of the island's population are U.S. military personnel and their families. The other 40,000 are Guamanians — descendants of the Chamorros, of Polynesian and Indonesian stock.

The Guamanians live in villages scattered about the island. Many are expected to turn out to see President Johnson in Agana, the island's capital and main shopping center, which looks much like a town in the U.S. West.

Officials declared Monday and Tuesday as school holidays to give children an opportunity to see the President.

Choir Gets High Rating Saturday
A Sweepstakes rating was awarded the Big Spring High School a cappella choir when they received a first division in sight reading and a first class rating in concert in the regional Interscholastic League contests Friday and Saturday in Odessa.

A total of 45 choirs participated and a Sweepstakes rating was awarded to eight out of all the participants.
The girls' choir also participated in another division of contests for girls' choirs and they received a third division rating in sight reading and a second class rating in concert, which has been the best rating a girls' choir from Big Spring High School has received.

The event, which drew some 2,000 young singers from nearly three score schools, was to have been held in Big Spring this weekend. However, completion of the new auditorium at senior high has lagged substantially behind schedule, and the site had to be shifted to Odessa.

Ed Cherry is president of the Posse, L. B. Murphy is vice president, Adrian Porter is secretary, and Kenneth Williams is activity chairman. Parade marshals are J. O. Whitefield and Cecil Allred.

Joe Garrison, executive vice president of the National Association of Poses and Riding Clubs from Lubbock, was on hand Saturday at the Jack Lewis arena for the Sheriff's Posse junior and adult performance playday.

Main events included barrel racing, pole bending, flag races, and roping, and competition was conducted in three age groups: 14 and under, 15-19, and 20 and over. First and second place winners received rosettes and third through fifth place winners were given ribbons.

Some of the top winners were Terry Lewis, Kay Lynn Hankin of Stanton, Debby Anderson, Terry Soechting, Sherry Hankin of Stanton, Joe Grigg of Lamesa, and Tommy Porter.
Mrs. Don Stevens, Forsan, won the half a beef. Refreshments were sold, and organizers of the event were pleased with the large number of participants and interest in the activity.

Bandsmen Win 32 Medals

A total of 32 medals was collected by members of the Rannels Junior High School Band Saturday, at the ensemble and solo contest at Midland Lee High School, with each band member competing against others in Region 6 bands.

There were 13 members of the band participating in ensembles and 59 members in solos, all trying to get a rating of one. Participants are rated from a one to a five.
Including both ensembles and solo participants, there were 25 ones, 32 twos, nine threes, and five fours, with no one receiving the lowest, a five.

Those receiving a first class medal for solo were Daury Powell, Becky James, Steve Hughes, Keith Gum, Audon Saldivar, Gailan Smith.
Those receiving class one medals for ensemble were a cornet trio consisting of Gailan Smith, Keith Gum, and Audon Saldivar, and a clarinet quartet consisting of Steve Hughes, Becky James, Janie Molina, and Izell Johnson.

Don Turner is the band director at Rannels Junior High.

Police officer Paul Alexander recovered the stolen car of Chuck Atwell Friday, and with the help of police officers Jesse Bedwell and Jimmy McCaine, recovered another stolen automobile Friday with three teenage boys riding in it.

The car had been stolen in Odessa at 2:15 a.m. Friday and Alexander spotted the car at 3:30 a.m. the same day. The youths were held in the city jail until authorities from Odessa came for them and the car.

Just as Spike Dykes, new athletic director, appeared to have his high school coaching staff all set, Donald McDonald got a promotion when Texas A&I College at Kingsville tapped him out to be basketball coach. Based on his record here last season, none could argue but A&I made a good choice.

An unusual mishap claimed the life of 14-month-old Rosetta Laine Bryant, daughter of Airman T.C. and Mrs. Nathaniel R. Bryant. The child fell from a soft-drink case at a wash house at the apartments where they lived. She died instantly of a broken neck, apparently.

Two new Pennsylvanian wildcats were staked in the northern part of the area. One will be the Ruwwe and Reaves No. 1 Moates, and the other will be the Albritton No. 1 Scott. Both are near the Luther area.

Jarbet Inc. started work on the FM 700 project last week. However, it was announced that there will be no appreciable interference with traffic on Marcy for two or three months yet. That will be just in time for the (we hope, we hope) rainy season.

Someday we hope someone will be able to explain to our satisfaction what impels vandals to wantonly smash windows. Last weekend, 55 window panes were shattered on the back side of the Christian Day School.

Upcoming soon is the annual Jaycee Rattlesnake Roundup. Ray Fortson and Ray Dabney feel lower than a snake's belly about the whole thing. They had been hunting for a long time and had captured 24 of the critters, putting them in a covered barrel in an abandoned dugout. But someone stole them, and anyone who would do that will steal anything including grandma's snuff bucket.

The Big Spring Elks Lodge celebrated another important milestone in the order which has a history here stretching back over nearly half a century. Friday, on its 17th anniversary, it had a party opening the new lodge home at FM 700

Police Check Four Thefts

Four thefts and two vandalism were reported to the police Friday and early Saturday.
Morris Molpus, 1512 Alabama, reported five auto tapes were stolen from his car while he was in the Ritz Theatre. Bill Owens, 1818 Benton, reported a stereo and several tapes were stolen from his car while it was parked on the west end of the parking lot near the Montgomery Ward store in Highland South. The right front door glass was broken in the theft.

Joan Miles, 511 Lancaster, reported her billfold was stolen from under her mattress Friday night. Two other women were present when she hid her billfold. The billfold contained several credit cards, some money, and other papers.

Mrs. Dean Newsom, Star Route, Ackerly, reported the theft of a $12 money order from her car while it was parked at Copper's Hospital.

Bob Merrick, Farris Pontiac, 504 E. 3rd, reported the window had been broken on the west side of the building, but no entry was made. Bonnie Dickerson, 1008 E. 20th, advised someone had thrown a traffic sign in her yard.

Hotrodders were reported around Big Spring High School and the adjoining parking lot. Officers issued citations to the youngsters which ended the trouble.

Floyd Shortes Killed In Highway Car Crash
Floyd O. Shortes, 74, 1900 Eleventh Place, was killed in an accident 3.5 miles north of Water Valley on US 87 in Coke County Friday afternoon. Seriously injured in the accident were Shortes' wife, 69, and the driver, Shortes' son, Darrell, 26, of Sterling City Route.

The Shortes' vehicle was traveling north on US 87, had just passed another auto going the same direction, when a stock trailer the pickup was pulling began to whip. A right tire blew out on the trailer, witnesses said, and both trailer and pickup skidded across the roadway and broke apart. The pickup plunged down an embankment and overturned 1 1/2 times, while the trailer turned upside down and skidded about 50 yards down the road across a small bridge, according to investigating Highway Patrolman Joe Willie, San Angelo.

The elder Mr. Shortes was taken to the Shannon Hospital in San Angelo where he died at 6:30 p.m., approximately three hours after the wreck. Mrs. Shortes sustained a broken hip, a broken ankle, and possible internal injuries. She is also a heart patient and was listed in

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Mrs. Steffen Flies Solo, Trying To Beat Deadline

Mrs. Marge Steffen lost a strip off her skirt last Sunday. And she can blame it all on her husband, who is in Vietnam.

When T. Sgt. Frank D. Steffen left for Vietnam last July, he left strict orders with his wife.

"When I come home a year from now, and get off the airliner at Midland, I want you to come for me in an airplane and fly me back to Big Spring."

BEGAN LESSONS

With that, Mrs. Marge Steffen, being a dutiful wife, began making plans to take flying lessons. She was no stranger to flying, as Sgt. Steffen was a member of the Big Spring Flying Club and had received his private pilot's license shortly before getting his overseas assignment.

Problems cropped up and she didn't get started until January, flying first with Howard Loyd, Big Spring Aircraft owner, and then more recently with R. E. McClure.

Last Sunday, the big day came. After checking her on a few practice landings, McClure told her to stop at the side of the runway. With a few last minute instructions, he told her to make three landings, then he opened the door and stepped out, leaving her alone for the first time in the cockpit of the red and white bird in which he had built up 14 hours of dual instruction.

RACING AGAINST THE CALENDAR
Mrs. Marge Steffen, R. E. McClure, instructor

SOLO DAY

Solo day had arrived. She admits to only a fleeting hesitancy as she rolled the airplane onto the runway and made her first solo take-off and flew the standard pattern for a landing, then repeated the performance twice more.

"She did an excellent job," McClure said later. To commemorate the occasion in the traditional manner, McClure tore a section off her skirt to hang with many others on the bulletin board of the terminal building with the date clearly marked.

"I'm convinced flying is here to stay," Mrs. Steffen quipped. "Provided the weather stays good, I intend to complete all the requirements for my private pilot's license in time to give my husband the ride he ordered before he left."

MORE HOURS

With 14 more hours behind her, Mrs. Steffen will need at least 26 more hours to qualify for her license, as do all student pilots. Along the way, she will take a written test on which she must score at least 70; make several cross-country trips, both dual and solo; and become proficient in radio work, air maneuvers, safety procedures, etc.

When McClure, her instructor, is satisfied she has completed the requirements, he will recommend her to an FAA inspector, who will give her a "check-ride." If she passes this final hurdle, she will receive a private pilot's license.

Mrs. Steffen is secretary to

O. T. Brewster, manager of the Holiday Inn here. She and her husband are natives of Nebraska and came to Big Spring five years ago when he was assigned to Webb AFB in the maintenance section. They have a daughter 18 months old.

GETS ORDERS

Sgt. Steffen has received orders for his next assignment when he returns from Vietnam—Chanute AFB in Illinois. Although he might return in May, he is not due until July.

At any rate, his wife is determined he'll get a ride to Big Spring from Midland as an airplane passenger—with her as pilot.

Other pilots and students have been quite active during the past week.

Flying the aircraft of the Big Spring Flying Club were W. J. Rogers 3, Ben Faulkner, Glenn Lepard, E. F. Henderson 2, Bowman Roberts, 4, Roy Granberry, Ronnie Howard and Linda Faulkner.

Flying in the Big Spring Aircraft planes were Mrs. Steffen 4, Bill Murphy 5, Marshall Byerley 2, Joe Ewing 2, Jerry Jordan, Guy Talbot and Bob Herling.

Aloft in the Howard County Flying Club planes were Sam Dennis 3, Byron Grand, Joyce Green, Jo Polone 2, Donald Long and Joe Dawes 2.

Found Guilty Of Desecrating American Flag

CUMBOLA, Pa. (AP) — Edward Lorenc, a service station operator, has been convicted of desecrating the American flag by flying the flag of the Soviet Union above it at his station.

Lorenc was found guilty Friday by a Schuylkill County court jury. Sentencing was pending.

Lorenc told the court he hoisted the Soviet banner to call attention to what he termed "an injustice by the Blythe Township School Board in failing to pay a gas and oil bill" it owed him.

The Blythe school board recently merged with the St. Clair district which voted to pay the $2,279 bill if Lorenc would post a bond protecting the board for 10 years against a surcharge.

Lorenc said he prefers to place the money in an escrow account for seven years — the statute of limitations — and then take it out. If this isn't satisfactory to the board, he indicated he would post the bond at an estimated cost of $200.

School Heads At Lamesa Renamed

LAMESA (SC) — The Lamesa Independent School District trustees have voted for renewal of contracts of all school principals, along with the contracts of school business manager Ted Hughes, the administrative assistant, and all maintenance personnel.

A two-year contract was extended athletic director and head basketball coach, O. W. Pollis, and Donald Jay, head football coach at Lamesa High School.

Teachers' contracts will be reviewed by the board and passed on at the April board meeting.

Al Langford is principal of Lamesa High School; G. L. Trice, Lamesa Junior High School; Don Dingus, South Elementary; K. D. Smith, North Elementary; B. M. Turner, Central Elementary and O. W. Richardson, V. Z. Rogers Elementary.

A Husband Just Can't Brag About His Trysts

MILAN, Italy (AP)—The fact that a husband carries on extramarital affairs is no ground for legal separation in Italy—but a Milan court ruled Saturday that bragging about it to one's pals is.

A court here granted a woman a legal separation on the basis of "grave injury" resulting from her husband having "narrated his extrajugal adventures."

The woman, identified in court records only as 26-year-old C. D., requested separation

Car Tag Sales Running High

Motor tag sales have set a rapid pace in the office of Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector, thus far during the licensing period. Vehicles must have the new tags mounted and on display by the end of the month.

Sales this year have reached $194,694.78, more than $25,000 ahead of the total at this same time last year, when it was $169,658.68.

Mrs. LeFevre urged residents to stop by her office and get the new tags early, and escape the long lines that will be forming toward the end of the month.

New Code Aimed At High Interest, Repair Racket

AUSTIN (AP)—Fly-by-night, fast-moving home repair racketeers will get their wings clipped if Gov. John Connally's consumer credit code passes, sponsors say.

"These are the worst, cruelest abuses in the state, and victimize the old, the poor and the ignorant," says Regulatory Loan Commissioner Frank Miskell.

The code's first test comes in a House committee hearing Monday.

retailers would be limited in the time price differentials they could pay for installment purchases.

EXTRA CHARGE

The extra charge you pay a store for installment buying is not interest, Texas courts have held. Therefore, such "differentials" can exceed the 10 per cent constitutional limit on interest.

Connally's bill limits time-price differentials to $12 per $100 on unpaid balances of under $500; $10 per $100 for the next $500 and $8 for each additional $100.

In terms of interest, this amounts to about 22 per cent on unpaid balances on purchases of $500 or less.

"These are the approximate charges made now by legitimate merchants," Miskell said. "We feel the rates are within a range of reasonableness. In establishments that specialize in victimizing the consumer, rates are running 10, 50 or 100 times higher."

made for up to $8 per $100 add-on, with no ceiling on the amount of the loans.

Bear in mind that these are "add-on" rates. The rule of thumb for computing percentage interest on the unpaid balance is to multiply the add-on by about two.

Thus, experts say, the "regulated loan" maximum rate is really about 33 per cent and the "installment loan" upper rate is about 14 per cent a year.

An "alternative rate" section is provided for loans of $100 or less, which repeats Article 17B of the present Regulatory Loan Act. That section has been much criticized since it allows rates which, when computed on an annual basis, allow up to 320 per cent annual interest on small loans.

SMOOTH THUGS

Smooth thugs fast-talk homeowners into "improvements," which are not done or else are done in a shoddy manner, then quickly sell the paper to a finance company before the victim knows what has happened, he said.

"On the average, the interest runs from 50 to 150 per cent from the unscrupulous operators. They are under no licensing, no regulation, no disclosure, no examination nor investigation by any state agency," says Miskell. "It's a bunch of promoters who come into the state every winter and start promoting these people. When the weather gets warm, they move on north."

LEGAL THEFT

"It's the nearest thing to legalized theft. They are not subject to prosecution under any law now."

Miskell acknowledged that the operators might be prosecuted under the fraud laws, "but how do you catch them?"

The proposed consumer credit code has provoked plenty of controversy already. The House Banking Committee also will hear Lubbock Rep. Reed Quilliam's bill Monday to slash the interest rates finance companies can charge on loans of $100 or under.

LOAN RATES

The State Finance Commission wrote the code.

Connally's bill, sponsored by Rep. Randy Pendleton of Andrews, fixes a maximum rate of $8 per $100 per year on second mortgage loans—those used for major home repairs. Excessive brokerage charges, which Miskell says are common, would be outlawed, as would be deceptive trade practices.

The bill brings consumer lending by banks, credit unions and savings and loan associations under state regulation, along with the finance companies that Miskell has overseen since 1963.

LICENSES

The bill provides licensing for banks, credit unions and savings and loan associations that want to charge the maximum rates allowed in the bill. Those who choose to stay with lower rates up to 10 per cent a year may do so without a license.

A new agency, the Office of the Consumer Credit Commissioner, would be created—replacing the regulatory loan commissioner—to license and regulate lenders.

Two sections set out basic rates for loans, but the reasons for the differences are not apparent from the bill itself.

"Regulated loans" would have maximum "add-on" interest rates of $18 per $100 total—total—loan up to $300 and $8 per $100 between $300 and $2,500. To charge these rates, an institution would have to be licensed.

NO CEILING

"Installment loans" could be

BOTH PROVISIONS

Miskell says a bank, savings and loan or credit unions could charge interest rates under both the "regulated loans" and "installment loans" provision.

This means one customer might get a $300 loan for $54 a year and another would pay only $24.

DISCRIMINATION?

To some extent, yes, but Miskell says this will bring banks, savings and loans and credit unions into the small loan field now dominated by the finance companies. The goal, he says, is competition.

Miskell acknowledged that a customer with a good credit rating and income, solid, steady job and checking and savings accounts in a bank might get the lower rate, while one with a smaller income, only a checking account in the bank, and a less secure job might have to pay more.

ASSESS RISKS

"This gives institutions a chance to assess risks, and give preferential treatment to the better ones," Miskell says.

The bill also provides a $7.50 per $100 add-on for installment

Figures Bear Out Sluggish Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sluggishness in the economy is no longer a projection or a theory but a reality borne out fully by the government's own statistics.

This was predicted by President Johnson's economic advisers two months ago but their next prediction — an upturn later in the year — has run into some cold stares from Congress.

And recent events including a decline in three important economic thermometers certainly didn't help the administration's case for its proposed 6 per cent surtax to take effect July 1.

The surtax request is based on the projection of an economic upturn during the second half of 1967.

The government reported in the past week the second substantial drop in industrial output in as many months and a 2 per cent decline in retail sales during February. It also disclosed a 15.1 per cent decline in housing starts for the same month, disrupting the substantial gains of the three previous months.

The accelerated economic pace predicted for the second half of the year was described by the Senate-House Economic Committee as an uncertain basis for policy. But it urged Congress to remain flexible on the tax question.

Some members of the House Ways and Means Committee expressed doubt about the administration's economic projections but Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler stood by them.

The committee and later the House approved reinstatement of the 7 per cent investment tax credit requested only nine days ago by the President and the Senate set hearings this week.

Officials denied, however, any attempt to pump-prime the economy despite the request to restore the tax credit and the administration's announced plans to pour more than a billion dollars into the economy.

The economy, they said, is now able to absorb the spending deferred as an anti-inflationary move last fall but some officials conceded it would have a mild stimulus on the economy.

Stock Market Mounts One Of Its Best Rallies

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market last week mounted one of its best rallies of 1967 as the Dow Jones industrial average finally topped its previous closing high, made Feb. 8.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 4.5 to 223.8, its sharpest weekly gain since the week ended Jan. 21, when it rose 4.7.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 21.27 to 869.77. This topped the Feb. 8 closing high of 860.97 as well as the 866.26 on the morning of Feb. 9 before the market began a slide of this year's closing low of 836.64 on Feb. 27.

Volume this week was 53,209,390 shares compared with the record 56.7 million the previous week.

Of 1,593 issues traded, 819 advanced and 623 declined. Monday, the market was lower because, analysts said, it had risen too far and too fast the previous Friday session when there was an emotional blowoff triggered by President Johnson's request the 7 per cent investment tax credit be reinstated.

Blue chips came to life Thursday as large investors were drawn back into the market in a 12-million-share session.

Easier credit and the anticipation of more easing boosted most bond prices this week.

The exception was the new issue sector of the corporate market, which is under pressure from a heavy calendar.

Developments which produced reactions in the bond market this week included a statement by William McChesney Martin

Jr., Federal Reserve Board chairman, that the economy definitely was slowing; a rising trend of free reserves at Federal Reserve member banks; and bank rate cuts by the Netherlands and Britain.

This Event Won It For HCJC

Although HCJC's Jimmy Jasper is shown being nipped at the tape by Lubbock's Randy Allen in the mile relay of Saturday's five-way track and field meet here, the finish enabled the resident Jayhawks to cop the team title. A distant third in the event was Odessa and the Wranglers needed to beat HC to earn the crown. Lubbock was timed in 3:17.8. (Photo by Danny Valdes)

Jayhawks Nip Odessa In 5-Way Meet Here

By TOMMY HART
Lubbock Christian caught HCJC at the wire in the final event of the day, the mile relay, but the Jayhawks' second place finish proved good enough to provide them with the team championship in a five-way track and field meet here on a cloudy Saturday afternoon.
Red Lewis' Hawks finished with 46 points to 45 for runner-up Odessa. ACC was third with 42 points, followed by Lubbock Christian, with 19.

Texas Western's freshmen, only four in number, wound up dead last with nine points.
LCC, with six men out due to injuries, rallied the strength to win the mile relay in 3:17.8. Odessa trailed HCJC across the finish line by about three strides and thereby lost the meet.

Steerettes Win 2 Firsts In Colorado City Meet

COLORADO CITY — The Big Spring Steerettes swept first place finishes in both divisions of the Colorado City Girls' Volleyball Tournament held here Saturday. In the A bracket, Big Lake was runner-up, while Lamesa received consolation laurels.
Host Colorado City took second place in the B bracket, and Roscoe won the consolation prize.
The special sportsmanship trophy for the tournament went to Big Lake.

Glover Is First In 330 Sprint

SAN ANGELO — Goliad Junior High won a lone first place in the San Angelo Junior High School track and field meet here Saturday when the Mavericks' Danny Glover copped the 330-yard run on the eighth grade level in the time of 39.6.
In other eighth grade activity, Tony Dean of the Mavericks was third in the discus with a toss of 115 feet. Goliad's Dave Duncan was fourth in the broad jump while the Mavs' 1320-yard relay team of Ricky Davis, Walter Campbell, Dean and Glover was second in 2:48.3.

Frazier Standout In Salukis' Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Frazier touched off a Southern Illinois point explosion midway in the second half and the streaking Salukis crushed Marquette 71-56 Saturday for the National Invitation Tournament championship.
Bob Lloyd poured in 44 points, broke a tournament scoring record and led Rutgers to a 93-76 victory over Marshall in the game for third place.
Southern Illinois, the nation's No. 1 college-division team, overcame an 11-point halftime deficit and surged to its 19th straight victory in taking the NIT crown on its first trip to the 30-year-old postseason basketball classic.
Frazier, the Salukis' 6-foot-3 Little All-America, whose 21 points topped all scorers in the final game, hit a free throw and a jump shot with less than 13 minutes remaining and SIU, which had trailed 34-23 at the half, outscored the Warriors 24-4 in the next 6 1/2 minutes.
Moments after the game, Frazier, a junior, was voted the most valuable player in the

Cougars Edge SMU Ponies In Title Go

LAWRENCE, Kan.—The University of Houston advanced to the NCAA championship basketball tournament by defeating SMU, 83-75, here Saturday night in the Midwest Regional finals.
The smaller Mustangs tied the score at 71-71 with 3:31 to go in the game but Elvin Hayes led a great surge that enabled the Cougars to pull away again. Hayes wound up with 31 points while Mel Bell counted 11 for the winners.
Charley Beasley counted 18 for SMU while Dennis Holman accounted for 14.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Bob Lewis, whose clutch shooting put North Carolina into the finals, scored 31 points Saturday night and led the Tar Heels to a 96-80 victory over Boston College in the NCAA Eastern Regional basketball championships.
The Tar Heels, the No. 4 team in the nation, picked apart the zone defense of the Eagles to take a 71-64 lead with seven minutes remaining and then turned the game into a rout after Boston College shifted back to a man-to-man defense.

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Dayton's tourney-seasoned Flyers pumped in seven points in overtime to grab a 71-66 victory from unheralded Virginia Tech in the title game of the NCAA's Midwest Regional basketball tourney Saturday night.
The Flyers were led by Don May's 28 points and needed a strong finish to tie it at 64-64 at the end of regulation time.
They will face North Carolina, Eastern Regional champ, in the NCAA finals at Louisville next Friday.

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — Texas Western held off a late Wyoming rally Saturday night to win third place in the NCAA Western Regional basketball tourney, 69-67.
UCLA, the No. 1 ranked team, played University of Pacific for the regional title in the second game.
David Lattin, a 6-foot-7 senior, led the defending national champions with 34 points.

Bill Tooke of ACC edged Jasper in the century dash, winning in 9.5. Some observers said Tooke took advantage of a rolling start. Jasper was far back at the start but recovered so well he was also timed in 9.5.
Perhaps the biggest surprise of the day was furnished by Couch in the hurdles. Originally, he had not planned to be here but he entered two events and scored a total of eight points for HC. He changed his stride in the intermediates to win easily in the time of 55.1. Billy Harris of Odessa edged him out in the high hurdles.
Odessa copped first places in the discus throw, broad jump, high jump and high hurdles while ACC finished first in the pole vault, shot put, mile run, 100 and two mile. Lubbock CC earned blue ribbons in the 440-yard run as well as the mile relay while Texas Western's lone first place came in the half-mile.

Dan Sikes Is Leader By 3

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Hometown favorite Dan Sikes shot a birdie-studded 70 Saturday despite hot, gusty winds that baffled his challengers and grabbed a three stroke lead in the third round of the $100,000 Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament.
Trying for his first tournament title in two years, Jacksonville's only touring pro birdied five of the first eight holes in a blazing start on the par-72 Deerwood Club course of which he is a member.
Sikes faltered on the back nine, however, and lost half of an early six-stroke margin. The 36-year-old lawyer took a double-bogey six on the 10th hole when he drove into a lake on a costly gamble with the wind. He also bogeyed the 16th and 17th holes.
His 54-hole total of 206 was 10 strokes under par and three shots better than the 209 built

Mitchell Triumphs As BS Splits Two

By NATE MITCHELL
Jerry Ryan's circuit blast in the first inning with one aboard provided all the encouragement ace hurler Dave Mitchell needed here Saturday afternoon. Leading 1-0, the Steers went on to shut out the visiting Snyder Tigers, 3-0. The win evened the two-game series, with Snyder taking the opener, 7-4.
Fireballer Mitchell pitched a brilliant game, issuing only four safeties while fanning eleven. Except for the fifth inning, he was in control all the way. In the fifth, Mitchell walked pinch-hitter Dave McGinnis to load the sacks. With none away, a Tiger rally began to shape up. Bearing down, Mitchell struck out Harritt, who pinch-hit for Terry Holt. Then, after firing three fast strikes past Tiger hurler Bob Golden, Mitchell got Dal Foree to ground out to third to end the inning.

The victory, coupled with the earlier loss to the Tigers, left the Steers with a 4-3 record. Mitchell picked up his second win in as many starts on the year.
In the opener, three consecutive errors in the fourth inning by the Steers turned a 5-2 Tiger Spring lead into a 5-2 Tiger edge. The Tigers added two more runs in the fifth, holding the Steers 7-2 until the final stanza.

Starting off the Steer half of the seventh inning, Lonnie Clanton walked and Rocky Wooley struck out for one away. Then, Ryan bounced one over the fence for a ground rule double; scoring Clanton and holding at second. After Larry McMurtrey reached first via a miscue, Tony Martinez drove in Ryan for the second run of the rally, moving McMurtrey to second. Jess Zapata's single failed to score McMurtrey, who was called out on a close play at home plate. On a squeeze play, Bill Burchett was thrown out by the catcher to end the inning.

Ponies Move To Top Spot; Frogs Lose

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Southern Methodist pounded 20 hits, five of them by Donnie Denbow, to crush Rice 15-1 Saturday and take over first place in the Southwest Conference baseball race.
The Methodists scored in clusters, slamming across six runs in a wild fifth inning.
Meanwhile Bob Flint held Rice to four hits and it was the seventh inning before the Owls could score.
Southern Methodist ran its conference record to 3-1 and a half-game lead over Texas Christian and Baylor, who are tied for second with 2-1 records.

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Baylor capitalized on five Texas Christian errors to defeat the Frogs 5-3 Saturday and go into a virtual tie for first in the Southwest Conference baseball race.
Baylor brought its record to 2-1 while Texas Christian fell to the same mark. TCU was leading with an unbeaten record until Saturday.
Southern Methodist actually led on the basis of playing more games. The Methodists beat Rice 15-1 and compiled a record of 3-1.
Rich Hooper homered in the second inning for Texas Christian's first run but Baylor took the lead in the third with three unearned runs. Rusty Clark singled in Ricky Head, who had gotten on base on a two-base error. Ronnie Redmon then got on via an error. Bob Black reached first on a fielder's choice, Clark scored on a wild throw and Rod Robinson singled in the third run.

Rodrigues' Sports Car Well Known On Tracks

By NATE MITCHELL

Gary Rodrigues is an avid exponent of sportscar racing. He became a national driver in 1966. Currently, he holds the highest rating offered by the Sports Car Club of America (SCCA) in his division — "E" production.

While a student at the U.S. Air Force Academy, he'd fly home to Los Angeles on weekends and holidays—and any other time he could get away — for regional races. He has campaigned his red MGB throughout California, Arizona, Nevada, New Mexico and Utah, and has accumulated a number of victory trophies.

Currently a student pilot at Webb AFB, he still travels a great deal to attend races around the country. Now famous, his MGB is shipped by the sponsoring company to and from the events.

Having been interested in racing since the age of twelve, his enthusiasm for the sport is far from casual. On July 2, 1966, Gary married his high school sweetheart, and on July 9th, he took time out from their honeymoon to race his MGB at the Cotati Raceway.

In order for a driver to reach the national standing, he must first join a regional racing club. After several hours of testing, training and physical conditioning, he is issued a Novice Log Book. Then he is required to participate in one regional race before he is issued a license. Four additional races, all approved and sanctioned by the SCCA, round out the prerequisites. Gary's proficiency so impressed the local officials until they waived his fourth race and awarded him his regional permit ahead of schedule. Since that time, Gary Rodrigues has done a lot of racing.

Most recently he finished third at Willow Springs — near Edwards AFB, Calif. He finished first at Austin during the Aqua festival, and first again at the Continental Divide Raceway in Colorado. While campaigning in Utah a year ago, he had an unusual experience. In a six-lap race, traveling at speeds in excess of one hundred miles per hour and bumper-to-bumper, he crossed the checkered flag sixth, and unharmed. As he stepped from his car, a concession truck struck him, confining him to a hospital for more than a month.

Since he was big enough to pick up a wrench, Gary had spent a lot of time around the SCCA race track near Los Angeles. He'd picked up many valuable tips from the drivers of the day. By the time his father bought their first sports car — an Austin Healey — young Gary was raring to go. He actually became proficient with the car before he was able to get a driver's license. He made it known that his biggest dream was to have his own racing car. His dad promised that on Gary's 21st birthday, he would get one for him.

Gary's 21st birthday found him at the Air Force Academy. When the telephone rang in the Rodrigues home in Los Angeles at 3 a.m. that morning, his father was lethargic about responding. When Gary identified himself, he remembers his very next words as being, "I'm 21, dad, where's that sports car?"

They did a lot of "picking and choosing" before they decided to get the MGB. Of the eight production categories — A through H — the MGB holds its own in the seventh grouping, "E." Unlike the cars that compete at Indianapolis and Le Mans, cars in these categories are made to run on the street.

Such famous drivers as Dan Gurney, Phil Hill, and Cal Shelby started out in the same category — using the "street" sports cars. Gary Rodrigues, however, simply races for a hobby. "In this category," he told me, "there's hardly enough money for one to do it for a living."

Why does a person go to such lengths just for a hobby? How about the danger? Gary answers the question about danger with the experience at Utah. He answers the other way: "Driving a race car at maximum speed and getting through a corner just exactly right — just as perfectly as man and machine can effect the maneuver — is like an artist who spends many years trying to match the Mona Lisa's smile. Then when he finally matches it, with a flick of the brush, he says to the world, 'There, you pessimists, match that!'"

George Blanda Draws Release From Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The Houston Oilers said Saturday that five veterans, including quarterback George Blanda, have been given their outright releases.

The others are guard and center John Frongillo, flankerback Charley Hennigan, tackle Rich Michael and fullback John Henry Johnson.

Cornerback Bernie Parrish, a sixth player from last year's squad, said he is retiring from professional football.

ON FIRST LIST
Blanda, 39, Michael and Hennigan were on the original Oilers squad in 1960 when the American Football League began play.

Blanda led Houston to two league championships and three division titles and was the AFL's Player of the Year in 1961. The former Kentucky star holds virtually every passing record in the AFL and is still considered one of the all-time great place kickers.

Blanda, who spent 10 years with the Chicago Bears before becoming an Oiler, hit the 10-mile career mark in passing the first game of last season.

He completed his 17th year in pro football last year and equaled the all-time pro record for longevity by a quarterback, Y. A. Tittle of the San Francisco 49-ers and New York Giants also played 17 years before retiring in 1964.

Blanda was the Oiler starting quarterback since the team began competition until about mid-season last year when Don Trull and Jacky Lee began sharing the signal calling duties. Blanda was then used primarily as a place kicker.

"We are giving these players their releases now so they will have an opportunity to make a deal for themselves and possibly catch on with another club if they so desire," said Oiler General Manager Don Klosterman.

"All of these players still have some good football left but with our continued efforts to build a young winning ball club, we felt they just didn't fit into our plans." Blanda has been one of the truly outstanding quarterbacks and place kickers in pro football history. It was largely through Blanda's great play and leadership that the Oilers dominated the AFL in its infancy. Blanda's brilliant play sparked the Oilers to the top of the AFL the first three seasons and he is without a doubt one of the all-time great strategists to ever play the game.

GREAT COMPETITOR
Oiler head coach Wally Lemm called Blanda a "great competitor."

"In all my years of coaching," Lemm said, "Blanda is the greatest competitor I have ever been associated with. He was the master of every situation and was at his best when the going was the toughest."

Hennigan, a seven-year receiver from Northwest Louisiana, was a four-time all-AFL flankerback. In 1961, he caught 82 passes for a record setting 1,746 yards.

Mitt-Slingers Start State Meet Thursday

FORT WORTH (AP)—About 100 of Texas' top amateur fighters begin swinging for state Golden Gloves championships Thursday night.

Two defending champions and two previous titlists return. Defending are middleweight Ronny Wright of Fort Worth and light heavyweight Daryl Stark of Dallas.

Coming back after a year absence are Corpus Christi lightweight Jesse Avalos, the 1965 feather champion, and Odessa welterweight Zeke Sanchez, 1963 lightweight king.

Two added trophies are on the line this year. The light welter and light middle divisions are new to the Golden Gloves, having been adopted from the AAU format.

State champions will fight in the National AAU eliminations April 6 in San Diego. The national Golden Gloves tournament was held last month in Milwaukee—earlier than the Texas state meet because Fort Worth's Will Rogers Coliseum was not available at an earlier date.

Wright and Stark both fought in the National Gloves meet. Stark lost in the first round, Wright in the quarterfinals.

Houston's Jesse Valdez, who won the national light middle championship at Milwaukee and who has taken three straight state titles, will pass up the tournament because of a shoulder injury.

The draft has taken its toll of state champs, including featherweight Jimmy Artega of Fort Worth and lightweight Gilbert Avalos—Jesse's brother—of Corpus Christi.

An unusually good heavyweight field is expected. Tyler boasts of John Brink, who won the Tyler regional by knocking out defending state champion Joe Ramey, Dallas and Fort Worth also have hard-hitting heavies in Terry Daniels and Larry Jones.

Cities sending fighters to the state meet are Abilene, Austin, Brownwood, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Harlingen, Houston, Odessa, San Antonio, Tyler, and Wichita Falls.

Demand Is Heavy For Golf Ducats

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Greater Dallas Open Golf Tournament has sold $71,250 in advance tickets, the sponsors said Saturday.

The tournament April 17-23 will be at Oak Cliff Country Club.

The advance sales are nearly $5,000 ahead of last year and almost double the amount five years ago.

An advance sale of $100,000 for the $100,000 tournament has been set as the break-even figure.

The tournament is sponsored by the Salesmanship Club. Profits are for the Boys Camp at Hawkins.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Midland Gives Tugboat Help In Junior Highs

By TOMMY HART

Abilene High's Harold Wilder was District 2-AAAA's lowest paid coach, with a contract calling for an annual salary of $7,763, the past season but will likely get a raise in view of the fact that his Eagles went to the State tournament. The Abilene Cooper coach, Bill Villines, is making $8,260 but has been in the harness several years longer than Wilder. Coach L. L. (Red) Lewis, the HCJC track mentor, is making some progress in his campaign to have a Grass-Tex running surface installed in Memorial Stadium here.

TONY BUTLER

Odessa College will beat HCJC almost every time in head-to-head track struggles this spring, mainly because the Wranglers sadly outnumber the Hawks in most events. When the Texas Aggies dropped that 6-0 SWC baseball decision to TCU recently, they left an incredible 17 base runners stranded. The Midland school board has obviously decided to chug along with Tug — it approved sweeping changes in the junior high school athletic program suggested by the system's new director of athletics, Tugboat Jones. Nine more coaches will be hired over there to help in junior high athletics. On the high school level in Midland, head baseball coaches will be relieved of coaching in other sports. In a session here last week, the Chamber of Commerce Sports and Recreation Committee went on record as favoring (1) the hiring of a City Recreational Director; and (2) opening public school gymnasiums for a summer basketball program. Don McDonald, the departing Big Spring High School basketball mentor, once offered to play quarterback in the annual spring game at Texas A&M but the idea was vetoed by Ted Carley, the basketball mentor. McDonald, incidentally, hopes to talk HCJC's Bill Sinches into accepting a scholarship at A&I. He will build his team around a 6-8 returnee who led the Lone Star Conference in scoring last season.

Big Spring's Charley Johnson, now with the St. Louis Cardinals, holds the all-time NFL record for passes thrown in one season (423 in 1963) and ranks third in yards gained passing (3,280 that same year) behind Sonny Jurgensen of Philadelphia and Johnny Unitas of Baltimore. The Little League baseball program has now spread to 25 countries outside the United States. Doyle Parker, who'll probably coach the backs at the local high school, was an end when in college at Hardin-Simmons while another coach new to the system here, Gerald Loyd, was a linebacker on some of Lubbock High School's better teams. Time was when Big Spring was known as the Graveyard of Coaches but that distinction may have been passed on to Breckenridge and Temple. At Temple recently, Allen Winters was allowed to resign after meeting with the school board in a closed session. The Temple people haven't been satisfied since Les Cranfill left there. Marciano Rivas, the ring tiger managed by Martin County interests, and Jesus Pimentel have scored 74 knockouts between them. They meet April 13 in a Los Angeles ring. Gordon Wood, Brownwood's fine coach, should feel at home in West Texas—he was born in Moro, which is in Taylor County. You have to applaud the enthusiasm of the four new coaching aides on Spike Dykes' coaching staff here. They all accepted employment without taking the trouble to ask about the salary. Stanton golfers, which played on an old links with sand greens a few years ago, are hoping to build a new course, with enough water nearby to insure grass greens. Willie Shoemaker passed up a chance to ride at Sunland Park this weekend to start an extended vacation at Acapulco. Burie Pettit, the Lubbock scribe, says Coahoma's Tony Butler has the speed, strength and agility needed to become Texas Tech's next great fullback. Mike Higgins, who was on the Texas A&M golf team in 1963, is planning to join the pro golf tour. Another who has similar designs is Tommy Wrinkle, nephew of Big Spring's Winston Wrinkle.

Jones' Take Substantial

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — In this, the first year professional football rookies have not benefited immensely from the war between the two leagues, Michigan State's Clint Jones may be unique among the new men joining the pro ranks.

Jones, drafted second Tuesday by the Minnesota Vikings, who considered him the finest college running back available, negotiated his own contract because he wanted to eliminate the middle man — the agent who takes about 15 per cent when it's over.

"I'm happy, and I don't have to share the money I got with an agent," Jones said, after he and Vikings General Manager Jim Finks reached agreement Thursday.

Clay-Folley Battle May Attract 16,000

NEW YORK (AP) — In his usual atmosphere of personal crisis, heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay makes his seventh title defense within a year and his ninth in all Wednesday night when he takes on 34-year-old Zora Folley at Madison Square Garden.

The Army draft again seems to be closing in on the all-conquering 25-year-old champion.

But that's the way it was about a year ago and he's had six lucrative title defenses since.

Clay, who now bills himself from Houston, Tex., is a 5-1 favorite, with little betting reported, over the No. 1 contender, a scientific and cautious boxer, from Chandler, Ariz.

The 15-rounder will be telecast nationally but New York will be blacked out. Fight time is 9:30 p.m. CST.

HE'S GRATEFUL
"I'm grateful to the champion for giving me the chance," said Folley, a father of eight who is getting his first crack at the title. "I was No. 1 for years and never came close to getting a shot."

"I think I have a real good chance to win by either a knockout or a decision. I've got experience and he makes mistakes. I plan to take advantage of them."

"Zora is the best boxer among the contenders and deserves his chance," said Clay. "But I am the greatest and he'll go when I'm ready."

"Somewhere between the seventh and 11th round," predicted Angelo Dundee, Clay's trainer. Dundee usually has been close to the target.

Illinois Must Decide On Edict By Tuesday

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten faculty representatives Saturday gave the University of Illinois until next Tuesday to fire three coaches involved in the Illini's $21,000 slush fund scandal, or be indefinitely suspended from the conference.

The faculty representatives earlier in the day heard a three-hour final appeal by Dr. David Henry, Illinois president.

But in announcing the deadline for firing the coaches, the faculty men said Illinois "did not sufficiently show cause" under provisions of the Big Ten code why the three involved coaches should not be dismissed.

Dr. Henry, who has steadfastly backed the three coaches — head football Coach Pete Elliott, head basketball Coach Harry Combes and assistant basketball Coach Howie Braun — made a crisp "no comment" to newsmen as the faculty group's decision was announced.

The action was the final conference deliberation on the slush fund scandal which was exposed by Dr. Henry last December 16 upon information given by Mel Brewer, then assistant athletic director.

Marcus Plant, Michigan's faculty representative and also president of NCAA, made the announcement at a crowded news conference. Plant said: "Having weighed carefully the seriousness of the infractions involved and all of the information of record, including that furnished by the University of Illinois, the faculty representatives have decided that the University of Illinois did not sufficiently show cause under the provisions of the Big Ten Code."

TUESDAY AT 7:30 Coaches' Night Set By QBC

The Quarterback Club is calling a rare spring meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, at which time head coach Spike Dykes and his assistants will be formally introduced to local football buffs.

The meeting will take place in the High School Cafeteria.

Dykes arrived on the scene about three weeks ago. Four assistants have joined the staff since that time. They are Charley Bright, who comes here from Channelview; Don Fuqua and Doyle Parker, both with Dykes last year at Belton; and Gerald Loyd, who moves in from Bishop.

In charge of the meeting will be Jess Slaughter and Don Newsom, new co-captains of the QBC. Coffee and doughnuts will be served to the gathering.

The Quarterback Club is making plans for its most active season ever, timing its plans to get Dykes and his crew off to a booming start.

Wildcats First In WT Relays

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — Abilene Christian, shattering one relay record and equalling another, streaked to its third straight West Texas Relays championship Saturday.

The swift Wildcats, in a dramatic conclusion to a chilly, misty day, raced to a 3:08.0 in the mile relay to wipe out the 1966 record of 3:11.1 set by Texas.

The Christians earlier tied their own distance medley record of 9:56.8 and won the 880-yard relay in 1:25.4.

The mile relay mark was the lone university record to tumble as the Wildcats rang up 74 points to bury Baylor, 62, Texas, 41, and Houston, 40.

North Texas and Texas Tech tied for fifth with 22 points and Southern Methodist finished last with 21.

East Texas State, with whiz John Carlos contributing 12 points, high in the college division, turned back a surprise bid by McMurry for the collegiate crown.

The East Texans were deadlocked with McMurry going into the final event with 43 points apiece. But the Indians dropped the baton in the clutch showdown, the second such mishap by McMurry, and East Texas sped to victory and the championship.

Carlos, with a 46.8 split for the quarter-mile, led East Texas to a record-breaking 3:21.2 in the sprint medley and then anchored the winning Lion 880-yard relay team that tied the record of 1:25.2.

Carlos did a 21.1 split in the half-mile relay.

Carlos also won the 100-yard dash in 9.6 seconds, coming from behind to nip Sul Ross' Jacob Henry, and ran the third leg of the winning mile relay team in Clay will earn about $300,000 on his 50 per cent of the Garden receipts and a $150,000 guarantee from the ancillaries — television, radio, movies, etc.

Clay, or Muhammad Ali as he prefers, has been the busiest heavyweight king since Joe Louis in the late thirties and early forties.

Newman And McCullough Hurl Steers To Win

James Newman and Johnny McCullough combined to pitch the Big Spring Steers to a 2-0 victory over the Lubbock West-erners here Friday afternoon.

In 14 innings against Big Spring hurling now, the West-erners have yet to pick up an earned run.

Big Spring scored an un-earned run in the fourth when Dean Gilstrap doubled to mo- pinch runner Terry White from second base. White had advanced on a bobble.

Junior Meendoza powered a home run over the left field fence for the Steers in the fifth round.

Each team collected three blows but Big Spring hit when it counted. Roger Meester went all the way on the mound for Lubbock and hurled well enough to win half a dozen games.

Newman, tagged for only one safety in the five innings he worked, got credit for the victory. The first man to face him, Ken Thornburg, collected a single but was retired at second base on a perfect throw by R. J. Engliert.

Pinch hitter Moose Ryan had Big Spring's other hit, a single in the fifth.

Pinch hitters Terry Thompson and Sam Beebe connected safely for Lubbock in the seventh after two men had been retired but McCullough settled to fan the next batter.

Matson Sets Discus Mark

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Randy Matson's hand

was too sore to throw the shot Saturday, but the Texas A&M weight star broke the National Collegiate Athletic Association discus record with a toss of 200 feet 7 3/4 inches.

The world's shot put record-holder at 70 feet 7 3/4 inches had to forego the shot in a triangular meet with Rice and Louisiana State because of strained ligaments in the back of his hand.

But he said throwing the discus, which is done with a whirl, hadn't affected him.

Matson broke his own NCAA record of 199 feet 7 3/4 inches set

May 8, 1965 — the same day he broke the world record in the shot.

The world record in the discus is 213 feet 11 3/4 inches. The American record is 210 feet 6 inches.

Louisiana State won the meet with 58 points. Texas A&M was second with 57 and Rice last with 55.

Meet records broken included Matson's discus throw; 46.9 in the 440 by Conley Brown of Rice; 9.4 in the 100 and 20.9 in the 220 by Carl Hight of Louisiana State; the three-mile in 14:46.1 by John Heffner of A&M, and the mile relay in 3:11.2 by Rice's team of Mike Casey, Fred Cloud, John Moss and Brown.

SECOND BRUSH WITH DEATH IN HER BRIEF LIFE

Tiny Girl Rescued From Old Well

By LAWRENCE LEE VOTAW, Tex. (AP)—Two-year old Theresa Fregia laughed and chattered Saturday, safe after an army of men scurried with bare hands, sticks, draglines and a big drilling rig to free her from nine hours of imprisonment in the bottom of the old well behind her grandmother's house.

REMINDER

The crater they carved in the red clay of this Southeast Texas logging village gapes today as a reminder of the child's second close brush with death in her brief life.

Before dawn, a rescue expert vanished over the side of a crumbling parallel shaft and brought the sobbing Theresa to safety.

Doctors at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Beaumont, 70 miles away, said Theresa suffered only a few scratches on her abdomen and a bad scare.

"She's bright and cheerful, and she asked for breakfast at 7:30," a spokesman said.

CAR WRECK

In 1964, when she was three months old, Theresa was injured in the two-car smashup in which her father, Douglas, was killed. She was unconscious for weeks. Her mother, Opal Elaine Davis, 20, and Theresa's stepfather, Grady Davis, left the child Friday at the home of Mrs. Opal Allemang, her grandmother, while they visited Theresa's sick great-grandmother 35 miles away.

Theresa was in the care of an aunt, Patsy Allemang, 15, who left the bright, brown-eyed child playing on the back porch of the tin roofed house, and walked into the front yard to check up on another charge, Theresa's brother, Glenn, 9. That was at 5:30 p.m.

HOLLERING

When Patsy returned, she said, "I heard Theresa screaming and hollering. I heard her call 'Auntie' but I didn't know where she was."

Then Patsy noticed the cover was off the slender old well. Theresa had fallen 28 feet below, halting just inches above the water line. Patsy summoned Theresa's uncle, Curtis Allemang, 18, who was doing his homework in the house. He swiftly ripped out the top section of well pipe, one of seven segments 10 inches in diameter and four feet long. The well is 10 inches in diameter.

In minutes, the town turned out, joined shortly by rescue squadrons, sheriff's deputies, highway patrolmen, engineers and drillers from miles around.

STOOD BY

The Davises returned and stood beside the well.

Theresa called, "I'm cold, I'm cold. I want you to hold me."

While men scurried at the hard clay, a rope was dropped and Theresa's parents coaxed her to put both arms through the loop. She tried one arm, then the other, but not both, and she clung to the rope until the rescue.

Five hours after her plunge, a crane and dragline and a clam-digger earth-scooping machine had eaten away a 16-foot crater, exposing a shaky gray chimney of well pipe. But only three sections of the shaft were in sight, and the crater was fast becoming ing too deep to hold the equipment.

By midnight, the digging effort was almost at a standstill. Teams kept up a flow of oxygen down the well shaft. Neighbors held a sheet above the pipe's opening to keep out dirt.

WENT TO BED

By this time, Theresa's mother was in bed, being comforted by the child's grandmother. A neighbor, Mrs. Emma Rhodes, maintained the vigil.

The minutes crept by while rescuers waited for a giant drilling rig being brought from Houston, 60 miles to the southwest, by Layne Texas Co. Generators and engines hummed, drowning out anything Theresa might be saying. Spirits fell.

A sheriff's officer beamed a light down the shaft and peered a long while. He managed a smile for the relatives, then murmured to the rescuers, "I couldn't see her moving."

RESCUE SHAFT

At 1 a.m., the drilling rig arrived and swung into position beside the stack of well-pipe. For an hour, the operator, Gordon Kinder of Houston, gingerly brought up load after load of clay and tamped a tall steel guide pipe into place only inches from the flimsy well shaft.

Shortly before 2 a.m., the drill brought up a load of sand, and at 2:15, the rig was darkened by water. A tape measure gauged the final few inches of excavation.

The night was cold and there was no audible sign from Theresa, clad only in flimsy play-clothes. Mrs. Rhodes could see the child slipping lower. An occasional flutter of the hand the only sign of life.

MERCY CORPS

At 2:20 a.m., Ransom Bill Jr., 46, founder of Houston's Mercy Corps, clipped a rope to a leather harness and dropped into the rescue shaft.

He found himself in a four-foot chamber floored with what he called "quicksand." But the well pipe was exposed.

"They drilled it just perfectly," he said.

Above, Mrs. Rhodes called, "Theresa, stay still! Don't move!"

"Shovel!" Bill shouted up the shaft. With that tool, Bill cracked a chink in the well pipe.

Theresa's hand wriggled out. "Hammer!" Bill called, and a sledgehammer was lowered. Now he was on his knees to keep from sinking in the sand.

REACHED OUT

He smashed through the well pipe, and he and Theresa reached out for each other.

"That was the most wonderful feeling in the world," Bill said. "She grabbed me and she said, 'Daddy.' She fainted, just passed out."

As he was lifted, Theresa's arms locked around his neck, the walls of the rescue chamber collapsed.

At the top, Theresa opened her eyes wide at the lights, cameras and equipment. A cheer went up. Women lowered their hands from their faces. Strong-jawed law officers wiped away tears.

Mrs. Rhodes, teetering at the top of the crater, seized Theresa and said, "God, God, God." In a moment, the child was on a stretcher, a warm blanket tucked over her damp, clay-stained clothing.

In an hour, the crowd was gone, the lights were out and all that remained of the nine-hour battle were urns of coffee, cartons of doughnuts—and the gap-

What's the catch? There isn't any. That's the price of our new 1967 Volkswagen Deluxe Sedan. It includes the built-in heater-defroster, windshield washer, 2-speed windshield wipers, driver armrest and two back-up lights. There's one option that makes a lot of sense: matching leatherette upholstery for $30 extra. Of course, you'll have to buy license plates and pay local tax. And that's it. (Unless, of course, you count the cost of gas and oil it takes you to get here in your present car.)

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

I try not to be envious. I try awfully hard. But I am—every time somebody says they are going through the shots and passport routine for a trip to Europe. That's what Mrs. Loyd Wasson, Mrs. J. Y. Robb, Mrs. Vi Worby and Mrs. Cecil Guthrie are doing right now. They'll be off on April 7, flying from Houston to such places as Paris, Rome, Naples, Berlin, Bern, etc. London is not on their schedule, but Merle said they might cross the channel for a day or so. Hope they do. My sister, who travels extensively in planning such tours, says that is where the action is in Europe now—a real swinging place.

A little later, June, I think Mrs. Raymond Tollett is planning a tour of the Orient, and the entire Guthrie family just might decide to go to Berlin in September for the wedding of a friend who has visited with them here in Texas.

Hey, George Oldham. Happy Birthday! (He's the kind that didn't mind sharing the day with St. Patrick.) Helping George forget he's one year nearer Social Security were Mrs. Toots Mansfield, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Gage and Mrs. Harry Williamson who took him out to dinner.

A recent guest of Mrs. Rilla Webb and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Farrow was Flight Lt. Roy J. (Buzz) Davey of the Royal Air Force at Emsworth, England. He is a graduate of Webb, Class 33-F, and is back in the States for special training. Mrs. Webb heard from Hugh Butler McCauley of Houston the other day. He and his Barbara are touring his homeland, Ireland, in June. Hugh was active in community affairs while stationed at Webb. Other guests of Mrs. Webb were her daughter, Mrs. W. L. Walker of Levelland and her daughter, Diane.

Mrs. H. M. Rickabaugh is enjoying the frequent flights she makes with her pilot husband. They'll go this week to Fort Worth for the wedding of her niece, Peggy Dale Jones, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. Wayne Jones. Also attending the wedding will be a cousin, Mrs. Bob McEwen and her children, Diane and Scott. Diane will be a bridesmaid.

Hardy Price, an ex-Herald staffer, stopped to visit Saturday. He is with the Irving paper where Mrs. May Tom Ripps, daughter-in-law of ex-Big Springer, A. M. Ripps, is employed in the advertising department. Hardy says he is going later to the Grand Prairie Daily News as editor.

Don Anderson is due in from the Dallas area after Easter to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Anderson. Their other son, Don, is still with the airline in Libya. Another fellow who is still doing a lot of flying is Connie Edwards. Understand he was in London recently on a very interesting business deal.

Bill Burrell opened the San Angelo paper a couple of weeks ago and was surprised to see a picture of his cousin, Gordon Kay of Hollywood, whom he had lost track of years ago. Kay is a Republic Studios exec and was looking over San Angelo as a possible picture site.

Can't find my little note from Karen and Craig Skanchy, formerly of Webb, but they have a new daughter to keep little Jill company. Leaving Webb in another week will be the Gerry Greens. He is giving up Air Force life to fly for Pan-Am and they will be living in San Francisco, Calif.

Jazzy Yvette Gonzalez, pretty as ever, is here for the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gonzalez. She's attending Sacred Heart Dominican College in Houston. Her sister, Anna Marie, who attends Incarnate Word in San Antonio, will be here next week.

TIDBITS: Marvin Miller, who is out of town more than he is in, will be in Dallas with his daughters for Easter . . . Mrs. Sue Hipp, who saw "Sound of Music" in both London and San Francisco, says neither were better than the Midland production . . . Mrs. Arch Ratliff, who has been here with the Joe Gunnings, was to leave Saturday for her home in Houston . . . home from Methodist Hospital in Lubbock are Mrs. Morris Robertson and Dave Duncan. Believe Byron Noel is still there. While Mrs. Robertson was hospitalized there, her son, Reggie, entered Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital here after getting his nose smashed in football practice . . . Mary Kinney will transfer from her job at the local VA Hospital to one in Oklahoma following her upcoming marriage . . . Mrs. Ola Lee McMullen has been in Lubbock with her sister, Mrs. Bruce Murphy, who had surgery. The McMullens became grandparents for the third time the other day. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McMullen of Terrell named the baby Kyle Mark. It's deadline. Call me?

Miss Kinney Honored At Pre-Nuptial Party

Miss Mary Claire Kinney, Alma Gollnick, Mrs. J. O. Johnsen, Mrs. Paul Soidan and Mrs. Elvris McCrary. Miss Kinney wore a gold silk A-line shift and was presented a corsage of pink carnations as was her mother, Mrs. Leon Kinney, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. John Marbrook Sweeten Sr. of Rock Springs.

centerpiece was a mixed bouquet of tulips and carnations. On the register table was a bride doll with a nosegay of fresh flowers. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. E. Tatum of Rock Springs and Mrs. Benny Edwards of Corpus Christi.

Sleep To Patter Of Gentle Rain

If you're the sort of person who loves to fall asleep to the patter of a gentle rain, you'll be happy to hear that you can have rainfall no matter what the weather — electronically. For rain every night of the year, all you need is an electronic sleep-inducing pillow. A neon tube inside the pillow emits a pulse about 70 times a minute to duplicate the sound of rain. It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven.

Durable Walls Of Paneling, Tile

The trend in wall coverings is toward surfaces of a permanent carefree nature rather than those needing refinishing every six or 12 months. Paneling and ceramic tile are two of the most popular forms of permanent surfaces. A soapless detergent is the best all-around cleanser for ceramic tile. Heavy accumulations of grime or grease can be removed with common abrasive tools without fear of damaging real ceramic tile.

Sculptured Look Takes Furniture

Furniture that's contoured to fit human beings, two-dimensional domestic ceramic tile that has a new sophistication under the play of light and shadow and doors that are hand carved in the European tradition are the latest additions.

A LOVELIER YOU

Fashion Designers Think Young, 'Kicky'

By MARY SUE MILLER

In our time everyone thinks young, or wants to. Fashion designers are no exception. However, spring fashions, viewed as a whole, trend to some sophistication. This is not to say that kicky clothes have vanished from the scene. Indeed they come on strong—and kickier.

Rather, colors and silhouettes have more variety and finesse. One still sees pink with orange, but also cream with apricot. For every figure there is a flattering silhouette. And that's real news.

As an example take the A-line. It now slopes a little to a lot. And the variance allows for a becoming choice, whatever the figure problem. When the figure is tall and thin, the wide-A camouflages that fact. Narrowed, the A has a graceful effect on a short or full figure.

To match up other combos, just follow these guidelines: Ripply cage shapes in soft, sheer materials adapt to most figures. The slip beneath, though, must skim the figure if it is on either the lank or buxom side.

That gleam in designing eyes—fit with flare and bell—looks great unless the waistline is too thickly or snugly wrapped. Billowing from yokes, little girl silhouettes want for a willowy figure. But beware the yoke, unless the topside is slender.

The skimmy T-line and well-proportioned figures have an affinity. Striped with wide horizontals, however, a T cuts height and adds girth. In any case, it must skim; neither cling nor bag.

YOUR COLORS
In fashion, nothing makes you lovelier than color. It can enhance your skin, hair, eyes and figure; it can express your individuality and style. Great powers, those! To learn how to put them to work for you, read our leaflet, "Your Most Flattering Colors." To obtain a copy, send your request to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin.

Fashions For Men Are Wider, Bolder

Men's accessories are going from wide to wider. As they widen, they become brighter and bolder so that young men's belts, ties and tie bars, and watch straps are leaving their functional role for one of adornment. Gimmicks replace fashion. Whether this focus is attributed to Western, military, "mod," or other influences, the consensus of industry men's opinion reveals an ebbing to reasonable width.

Cling, Not Grip Is Stocking Tale

A new garterless stocking is on the way that will really stay up. Textile World says the holding band is made of a specially designed stretch fabric which tends to cling to rather than grip the leg.

The band, which is 10 1/2 to 11 1/2 inches above the knee, is not unduly tight and leaves no mark. The stockings don't bag and will return to their original shape after numerous washings.

Four Operas Slated At Dallas 'Met' Week

The Dallas season is the only southwestern appearance of the Metropolitan Opera, and is annually sponsored by the Dallas Grand Opera Association. All performances are given in the State Fair Music Hall.

Three of this year's four operas are new productions: Wagner's conception of "Lohengrin" designed by him for the new Metropolitan production, and staged by Peter Lehmann; "La Gioconda," directed by Margharita Wallmann; and Alfred Lunt's new version of "La Traviata." "La Gioconda" has never before been performed in Dallas.

In addition, this season is filled with the most glamorous names in the Met's current roster: Birgit Nilsson, Renata Tebaldi, Gabriella Tucci, Franco Corelli, Sandor Konya, James McCracken and others.

Opening the season will be "Lohengrin," at 8 p.m. on May 11. This was premiered at the Metropolitan Opera House on Dec. 8 with Sandor Konya as Lohengrin, John Macurdy as King Henry and Sherrill Milnes as the Officers.

Friday evening's opera, "La Gioconda," will have Renata Tebaldi in the title role, and Franco Corelli as Enzo Grimaldo. Rosalind Elias is Laura Adorno, Belen Amparan is La Cieca, with Cornel MacNeil as Barnaba and Ronaldo Gialotti as Alvise Badoero.

The Saturday afternoon matinee brings the unusual combination of Birgit Nilsson and Gabriella Tucci both in the same role, the former in the title role and the latter as Liu. James McCracken will be Calaf, with Frank Guarrera as Ping, Raymond Michalski as Timur and Andrea Velis as the Emperor.

For the closing opera of the season, the ever-popular "La Traviata" will be seen with the same Violetta and Alfredo, Anna Moffo and Bruno Prevedi, as premiered these roles when this new Alfred Lunt-directed opera was first performed by the Metropolitan in New York. Mario Sereni will be Germont. Sets and costumes by Cecil Beaton add much to the appearance of this 1966 production.

Social events during the opera season will include the annual Opera Ball on Friday evening at the Sheraton-Dallas Hotel following "La Gioconda," and a "Face of Dallas" tour with a gourmet luncheon.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MRS. R. D. FRERICHS

The Thrift Shop holds our special interest this week. It is one of the most far-reaching welfare projects at Webb AFB. This shop, sponsored jointly by the Officers Wives Club and the NCO Wives Club, serves the base in two ways. First, we consider it our responsibility to be of service to our customers, and second, we realize a small profit for our respective clubs' welfare funds. Merchandise is taken in the shop by either donation or on consignment. The shop retains 10 per cent of all profit on consignment sales and all profits realized from donations. The larger percentage of the profits realized is returned to base personnel. All profits, after expenses are divided equally between the two clubs, is then placed in their welfare funds.

Chairmen of the shop are Mrs. K. M. Cox from the OWC and Mrs. R. B. Foster from the NCO Wives Club. Sharing responsibility for the shop maintenance equally, these ladies depend heavily on volunteer assistance. A real mainstay this year has been Mrs. Bill Ward from the OWC. Mrs. R. J. Roller has served as shop chairman in the absence of Mrs. Foster and has donated over 150 working hours to the shop.

Because we do run a business, many volunteers are needed. Among the many who have been so helpful are Mrs. G. E. Franks, Mrs. M. W. Shareck, Mrs. Cletus Pajot, Mrs. Leo Gibson, and many faithful workers from the DCM, 3560th PTS, Medical, and the 3561st PTS groups.

The "Hi and Bye" coffee is Thursday at 10 in the Officers Open Mess. The wives of Class 65-E will be the host group and have planned an entertaining show of spring fashions which they will be modeling.

Don't forget the decoupage classes at the Service Club on March 21 and 22 at 1 p.m. For more information call Mrs. J. R. Porter at AM 3-1453.

This particular fun-filled event will begin at 9 p.m. in the ballroom of the Officers Open Mess. Come early and join in the fun. Mrs. Neil Hansen, Mrs. Gerry Green, and Mrs. Clifford Gallager honored Mrs. George McKenna at the Spanish Inn with a farewell dinner and memorable gifts.

The cake carried out the green and white color scheme, and a large bassinet held the gifts. About 15 guests enjoyed games and refreshments. Mrs. Harold Rhoden and Mrs. Ron Clark were cohostesses.

Mrs. Richard Flechsig and Mrs. Lawrence Erickson were honored at a farewell coffee given Friday at the home of Mrs. Bill Adams. Mrs. Don Lowe was cohostess. St. Patrick's Day set the color scheme and white daisies formed the table centerpiece.

The 4760th CCTS wives held their monthly coffee at the home of Mrs. F. J. Young who cohosted with Mrs. S. L. Wilson. The table was decorated in shades of purple and blue. Plans were made for the Spring Carnival, and some of the wives stayed on for a social afternoon of bridge.

International Wives Form Unique Alliance

By JO BRIGHT

A comparatively young organization, the International Wives Club, was larger and livelier than ever as its 25 members hosted a gay sixth anniversary celebration March 7 in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building. Among the many local residents who were guests for the occasion were Col. and Mrs. Chester J. Butcher of Webb Air Force Base. Mrs. Butcher is honorary president of the club which is built around a nucleus of women who were married to American servicemen stationed in their homelands. However, any foreign-born woman is eligible for membership.

The present membership comes from many nations and nationalities, but their new homeland is the common denominator that forms their fellowship. By banding together, they help each other adjust to the customs and culture of America. At the same time, they attempt to familiarize local citizens with their different homelands and have an impressive record of service to the community. The club has extended aid to the Howard County Rehabilitation Center and the Big Spring State Hospital as well as assisting with various fund drives and serving on committees. They have added charm to fashion shows and graciously appeared to speak before other clubs, to acquaint them with their native lands, despite an occasional language barrier.

The membership has fluctuated, usually due to military transfers, but the average membership is 25. Shown in pictures today are Mrs. Ronald Sinnott, Denmark; Mrs. Don Smerlis, Japan; Mrs. Al Valdes and Mrs. Danny Valdes, both of Cuba; Mrs. Irineo Bringas and Mrs. Elmo Acosta, both of the Philippines; Mrs. Leland Graves, Ireland; Mrs. Sam Mellinger, French Morocco; Mrs. B. D. Taylor and Mrs. Alex Koslowski, both of Germany; Mrs. Loren Hiniker and Mrs. Gerald Frederick, both of England; and Mrs. Bringas is president, Mrs. Graves is vice president and Mrs. Hinecker is treasurer.

Other members are Mrs. Donald Van Meter, Italy; Mrs. Eduardo Argaramas, Argentina; Mrs. Glen Burton, Germany; Mrs. Gerald Craft and Mrs. Ernest Pannell, both of Puerto Rico; Mrs. Patrick Cratty, France; Mrs. John Parks, Canada; Mrs. James Price, Mexico; Mrs. Troy Thomas, Scotland; and Mrs. Artemio Urdonio, Philippines.

In the six years that the club has been in existence, it has left an impressive mark on the local civic and cultural scene.

MRS. KENNETH M. SNEED

Wedding Solemnized In Irving Ceremony

Miss Diane Lanice Millson and Kenneth M. Sneed were united in marriage during a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church in Irving.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Millson of Midlothian, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris E. Sneed, 2303 Grace.

Double-ring rites were read by the Rev. Glenn O. Hilburn before an altar flanked with baskets of white flowers and candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white formal crepe gown designed in the Empress Josephine silhouette, with sequined scallops at the neckline of the Chantilly lace bodice. The lace mantle chapel train was outlined in scallops, and she wore a star-shell tiara of Alencon lace and pearls. Her bouffant, finger-tip veil was of silk illusion, and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Phyllis Riggs was the matron of honor, and Miss Lajuan Horton served as maid of honor. Those acting as bridesmaids were Miss Diane Stearman and Miss Margaret Millson, and Carol Ann Millson was the flower girl.

Charles Richardson was the best man. Mark Hitt served as ring bearer, and the altar tapers were lighted by Larry Millson and Charles Brown.

The couple will go to Oklahoma on their wedding trip, and will be at home in Big Spring. The bride is a graduate of Lawrence D. Bell High School and Ranger Junior College. The bridegroom graduated from Forsan High School and Howard County Junior College.

RECEPTION

A reception was held immediately following the wedding in Fellowship Hall at the church. Those in the receiving line were the bridal couple, the parents, and the feminine attendants. Miss Patsy Reilly of Hurst, presided at the guest register. Out-of-town guests were Mr.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

The recent news concerning the Elks Club moving into their new home on FM 700 brought back pleasant memories to many of us who grew up in Big Spring. The memories of the Elks' Christmas parties are some that none who attended them could ever forget. The late JOE FLOCK was almost always the 'host' and the guests were as many Big Spring youngsters as could come. Joe would always tell us that the party was given by the BPOE which stood for 'Best People On Earth.' For years I had no idea that it was not the meaning.

It seems that the morning party was on Christmas Day and we all were guests for a children's picture at the old Lyric Theater. We were all given Christmas stockings which year after year held the same things... an orange, an apple, some hard candy and perhaps some small toy. Although most of us had more of exactly the same thing at home, the Elks' oranges seemed to taste sweeter, were larger or more colorful. Anyway the anticipation of going to the party was so exciting it was almost unbearable. And there was always a jolly Santa Claus... and I never did know who he was... but I and all my friends thought he was the greatest... along with the Elks.

MR. and MRS. CLARENCE PERCY have been the weekend guests of MAJ. and MRS. DEWITT BUNN. The Percys are now making their home in San Antonio. They also visited her father, J. W. BRIGANCE, at Luther.

DR. and MRS. P. W. MALONE and MR. and MRS. K. H. MCGIBBON flew to Bloomington, Ind., Friday to be present for the presentation of a major opera performance at the University of Indiana where MARY FRANCES MALONE is a student. She played first harp in the orchestra for the performance.

MISS ROSA TIMMERMAN returned at mid-week from Austin where she attended the funeral for her mother.

We have guests today... the H. R. PICKLES from Lubbock and the PAUL RIXES from Odessa. They came over to bid adieu to our Gary who was up from Austin prior to leaving Wednesday for training at Fort Leonard Wood in Missouri.

The H. M. JARRATTS went visiting and found winter in Tennessee and Kentucky recently. While Dr. Jarratt attended the Christian Life Convention in Nashville, Mrs. Jarratt and her parents, the J. E. BAILEYS from Houston, decided to visit relatives in Fulton and Mayfield, Ky. On the way they realized that snow had fallen ahead of them and was about to fall on them. They thought if they were going to run into a snowstorm they would return to Nashville and avoid it. When they turned on the radio they found that there was three inches on the ground where they had been... so there was no place but forward to go. They spent some time in heavy snow before they got back to Texas Wednesday.

MRS. LLOYD WASSON HOSTESS

Hyperions Advised On Vietnam Involvement

Capt. Glenn E. Jones of Webb Air Force Base spoke on "Our Involvement in Vietnam" when he was a guest Friday afternoon of the 1948 Hyperion Club. Mrs. Lloyd Wasson, 800 Edwards, was hostess with Mrs. Zollie Boykin as cohostess. A dessert course was served to 20 members.

Capt. Jones, who was introduced by Mrs. Boykin, has completed two tours of duty in Vietnam. He was first there in an advisory capacity in 1961, and just recently was assigned to Webb after completing another year of duty in the war-torn country. During this time he had the opportunity to study closely and observe the habits of the Vietnamese people as well as learn their opinions in regard to the present conflict. He outlined the present situation, noting that it had its beginning many years ago and has now progressed to what he termed the 'third' phase. Capt. Jones emphasized that the Communist influence is great and the conflict one of urgent importance. His talk was followed by a question and answer period.

Mrs. Robert Stripling presided for the brief business session as Mrs. H. W. Smith was elected representative to the volunteer council at the Big Spring State Hospital. Members were reminded of the district meeting in Midland March 28-29.

The next meeting will be April 20 in the home of Mrs. Allen Hamilton with Mrs. John Hodges as cohostess.

Philatheas Hold Dinner Meeting

Mrs. Leo Gee brought the devotion at the Thursday evening dinner meeting of the Philatheas Sunday school class of First Methodist Church in the fellowship hall.

Members of Miss Twila Lomax's group served as hostesses. Mrs. L. B. Maulden presided and announced that the class has bought an electric range for the church kitchen.

Following the business session, Mrs. A. J. Finch was honored with a surprise gift shower. The next meeting will be a class birthday dinner on April 20.

MRS. RICHARD L. BROWN

Miss Linda Steagald Weds R. L. Brown

Miss Linda K. Steagald became the bride of Richard L. Brown at 7 o'clock Friday evening during a ceremony performed by the Rev. Byron Orand at the College Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Steagald, 965 E. 16th, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Welland W. Brown, 3200 Duke.

The altar scene was enhanced with a sunburst arrangement of gladioli flanked by emerald palms and white cathedral tapers in branched candelabra. The organist, Miss Brenda Reid, presented a prelude of nuptial selections and accompanied Mrs. Gorman Rainey as she sang "Whither Thou Goest" and the "Wedding Prayer."

WHITE GOWN

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal gown of white Chantilly lace with molded bodice, accented with a scalloped neckline, bouffant skirt and long sleeves ending in petal points over the hands. Her tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones anchored her shoulder-length veil of illusion.

The bridal bouquet was a white orchid nestled in feathered carnations and showered with picot streamers.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Thomas A. Grant who wore a street-length dress of turquoise brocade and carried a nosegay of pink rosebuds with feathered carnations.

Dan Brown, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, and ushers were C. A. Ross and Kenneth B. Clark.

RECEPTION

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception in the fellowship hall of the church. Their parents joined the bride and bridegroom in receiving

Woman's Forum Unit Explores Trends, Marketing And Buying

"Today's Woman Studies Fashion's Trends, Marketing and Buying" was the subject of a panel discussion held by the Woman's Forum Friday afternoon.

The women met in the home of Mrs. Merrill Creighton, 208 Washington, with Mrs. Lonnie Coker as cohostess, and those on the panel were Mrs. L. B. Mauldin, Mrs. Jack Smith, Mrs. Arnold Marshall and Mrs. Paul Kionka.

Mrs. Mauldin discussed the ingredients of a well-groomed look, noting that women should dress for the occasion, being careful not to over-dress. She stressed the importance of accessories and told how they could change one costume into several which could be used for various events.

Mrs. Kionka explained the marketing process, saying that retail buyers get trends almost a year before they go to market, and as a result, are purchasing garments during the opposite season of when they are worn.

Mrs. Smith showed the latest trends in women's fashions and said that Coco Chanel is still the dean of designers for women. She spoke briefly on fads such as the mini-skirt and told of new ideas in shoe design. In closing, she remarked that Dallas is the second largest market in the nation. In this area, she noted that Big Spring, Sweetwater and Abilene residents are more conservative in regard to purchases; Midland accepts new trends earlier.

Mrs. Mauldin presided and announced that the unit will join with other federated clubs in hosting a spring tea, April 13 from 2:30 until 4:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Clyde Angel. District federation officers will be invited.

Roll call was answered with interesting places in Texas, and new officers were elected. Mrs. Mauldin will serve another term as president, and her slate will include Mrs. W. N. Norred, vice president; Mrs. Kionka, recording secretary; Mrs. W. H. Bain, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Clyde Johnston, treasurer.

Mrs. Kionka will host the next meeting on April 21.

$500,000 Overpass Slated To Span This Traffic Heavy Crossing

FM 700 rebuilding program calls for four-lane structure on US 87 over FM 700 at the Gregg and FM 700 intersection south of town. Photograph shows the crossing from the top of the VA Hospital. (Photo by Sam Blackburn)

FM700 Work Begins Monday

FM 700 reconstruction is slated to start Monday.

Machinery and men are to move into the area near the First Baptist Church and begin initial work on a service road on the south side of the main highway.

This road will extend eastward to Goliad and will be completed before traffic is to be diverted from the present lands. The new road will be put into service in a detour capacity while crews begin building the four-lane highway to replace the present two lane road.

Jarbet Company of San Antonio has the $1,113,320 contract. The company has 330 working days to complete the job.

The highway is to be rebuilt from Goliad west to the National Guard Armory. At that point, a new route, taking the road north-west across the Edwards property to rejoin US 80 at the Sands Motel, will begin.

Included in the program is a half million dollar overpass on US 87 which will take traffic on that federal highway over the FM 700 route by a four-lane crossing. This overpass will cost about half a million dollars.

Joe Smoot, resident engineer for the Texas Highway Department, will be in charge of the project.

The total road rebuilding will represent an expenditure of at least $1,500,000. The county commissioners spent more than $200,000 acquiring right of way.

Carol Scaggs' Trial First On Week's Criminal Docket

Carol Ann Scaggs, charged with theft from the person, will be the first defendant to go to trial when Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, opens his jury criminal docket at 10 a.m. Monday.

Her case is one of nine felony matters announced ready for trial this week. The judge called the docket at 2 p.m. Friday, and of the 13 cases which had been tentatively set, all but four announced ready.

One defendant, William L. Nichols, charged with felony worthless check, failed to appear when his name was called.

Elizabeth V. Huckabee, charged with DWI second, said she had no attorney and John Burgess was named to appear for her. Burgess claimed the 10 day postponement permitted in such cases.

The state, Wayne Burns, district attorney, told the judge, was not ready in one of two DWI second indictments against John Wesley Legate and that case was passed. The second case, however, is set for No. 2 on the docket.

Two of the cases on the original docket have already been disposed of by pleas of guilty. These were DWI second complaints against Truman Nannie and Henry Clifford Vaughn.

Announcement was made Friday afternoon by Roger Brown, attorney for D. M. Rembert, charged with theft and with worthless check, that his client would enter a guilty plea later in the week.

Two other of the cases on the docket announced ready are identical DWI second charges against the same defendant — Alphonse Raymond Polasek. His cases are No. 8 and No. 9 in the list.

Third case slated for trial is a DWI second charge against Ellis Dyer.

W. E. Harris, indicted as an embezzler repeater, is No. 4, and James Alton Vaughn, indicted for worthless check over $50 and with being a repeater, is No. 5. Both of these are scheduled for trial Thursday. Also set for Thursday is a charge of theft against Bobby Gene Keith.

Victor Japan Brown, burglary, is No. 7 on the judge's list of cases to be called.

A jury panel of 140 has been notified to report at 10 a.m. Monday.

Announcement was made Friday afternoon by Roger Brown,

Big Spring: Transportation Center

Excerpted from "Big Spring" by Shine Philips

"East of Big Spring is the 'old road' that led to Colorado where most of the lumber came from. It was shipped to Colorado by train and then on out here by oxen trains with long wagons coupled together. It had to come over hills that it would be hard to make in even a modern car and then when they got the wagon on top, the hard part of it was to get the dumb oxen out of the way to let the wagon roll. One hill in particular is terribly steep and the old wagon ruts show that it must have been a dilly to try to steer some dumb oxen over, pulling a string of big-wheeled wagons. Often as many as sixteen yoke to two to four wagons, loaded with lumber, moved at the terrible speed of from three to ten miles a day. It was kind of like flying—the weather had a lot to do with it and if you haven't seen any West Texas steers — I'll tell you they are mighty 'tempermental.' The cowhands and wagon bosses carried the difference in the long whips they toted and their aim was mighty accurate. They could hit the rear of a steer twenty feet away and where it hurt most. These long whips were great 'persuaders', but a steer has only two gear shifts — one low and the other backward."

Eatin' Is Part Of The Fun

Mouth-watering table spreads, such as this late night buffet served in the Polynesian Club of the Matson liner Monterey, are a specialty of the many expert chefs aboard the South Pacific cruise ship. Texans making this 42-day jaunt in August will relish the exotic array of delicacies.

Both Leisure And Festivity Add To South Seas Cruise

Gala bon voyage festivities, deck sports, costume parties and dancing beneath the Southern Cross are just some of the highlights of the 42-day South Pacific cruise tour, sponsored by The Herald and other Texas papers.

The tour group will leave Texas August 15.

Tour members will be pampered, entertained, wine and dine aboard the Matson liner Monterey and in South Seas, New Zealand and Australian ports of call.

The Monterey, sailing from Los Angeles August 15, will visit Bora Bora, Tahiti, Rarotonga, Auckland, Sydney, Noumea, Suva, Niuafo'ou or "Tin Can Island," Pago Pago, Honolulu and Hilo, returning to San Francisco September 25.

HOLIDAY MOOD
The cruise starts joyously as passengers line the rails to toss multi-colored streamers to waving, shouting friends on the pier. The ship's orchestra sets the Polynesian holiday mood with lovely music of Hawaii and the South Seas.

As the mooring lines are let go, the ship's whistle blasts a resounding farewell. Tugs nudge the trim, white liner into the stream to head it full steam ahead for Bora Bora, the first port of call.

At sea, passengers will be entertained by complimentary bridge lessons, deck sports, movies, travel talks, free dance lessons and card games. Special high jinks are afforded by the traditional Equator-crossing ceremonies, both southbound and northbound.

FOOD DELICACIES
Dinner menus offer a choice of more than 70 items, including such exotics as kangaroo tail soup, mangoes, papayas, barbecued turkey legs, lamb curry with rice pilaf, beef stew bourguignonne, roast capon, veal scallopini and, of course, the old favorites—steak, roast beef and potatoes.

Afternoons are for deck chair lounging (no charge for deck chairs on Matson liners), movies, swimming or sun-bathing. Evenings feature special parties and dinners, bingo, "horse racing" (with wooden "ponies") and dancing. Costume contests bring out a bizarre and hilarious assortment of party clothes, limited only by passengers' imaginations. And, the captain hosts two champagne parties during the cruise. Details are available from The Herald.

A Devotional For The Day

Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. (Luke 23:34)
PRAYER: Our Father, we would accept Thine offer to total forgiveness. We ask for grace that we may forgive every one who mistreats us. In the spirit of Christ we ask. Amen.
(From the 'Upper Room')

The Urgent Need For Research

There seems to be an increasing amount of promotion of new varieties with a consistent quality factor as a means of helping solve the West Texas cotton riddle. The problem, as it is stated over and over, is to come up with a grade, staple and strength which will come nearer commanding a ready market. Their argument is that most of the current carry-over is in low grade, short staple cotton coming mostly from this area. Hence, it follows that the support will be reduced to discourage production of this inferior type — reduced to the point that it may not be profitable.

In this there is considerable merit. There is yet another factor which needs to be pushed, and that is research into soil and water conservation. Whatever else may influence the quality of West Texas dryland cotton, nothing excels that of water. Thus, means of holding water in the soil for crop availability is a critical matter, as is the preservation of the soil and its fertility. In this region of the Southwest, one of the greatest robbers of both soil and moisture is wind. Not only can it be destructive in erosion, but also it can act as a thirsty blotter as it moves across unprotected lands.

There is so much in this process that is a mystery that we have barely touched the hem of the garment when it comes to research. And in agriculture as in industry, medicine and other fields, basic research can pay great dividends.

The United States Experiment Station here is uniquely situated as a research center to work with field points in this towering problem. We hope that efforts to impress this need upon the Department of Agriculture will be pressed with vigor and dispatch.

Your Hand Really Helps

One of the outstanding rehabilitation centers in this region for children and adults suffering from physical and speech infirmities is located in Big Spring.

The Dora Roberts center is well designed and constructed for its intended purposes; it is exceptionally well equipped; it is excellently staffed. It is no small wonder that it has experienced a sharp upsurge in patient load, and that also is doing the most effective work in its history.

The center is a United Fund agency, but it by no means obtains enough from this source to continue its mission of help. Nor will fees from patients able to pay bridge the gap entirely.

That means that some local sources must be tapped to make sure the work of the center is not impeded. One of the best ways to help is by supporting the Easter Seal campaign. When you are asked to help, be assured that this is no run-of-the-mill project but one of our most humanitarian enterprises. When you give, it is as though you are reaching your hand out personally to support some youngster or crippled adult.

What The Russians Really Say

WASHINGTON—Perhaps the CIA hasn't on file the message that follows, but certainly an efficient intelligence agency in the midst of war must have an equivalent record of what the Soviet Union has recently been telling its avowed ally — the North Vietnamese government in Hanoi. It revealed, it doubtless would be discovered that the Russians had said:

"KEEP ON FIGHTING. Keep on demanding peace, and be sure to insist that the Americans stop the bombing and send their troops back home. The United States government is getting discouraged. The people are divided. A few days ago 2,400 college professors issued a statement demanding that the bombing be stopped. Sen. Robert Kennedy urges virtually the same thing, and they say he is running for President and can defeat Johnson.

"Don't worry about your casualties. You are inflicting greater damage on South Vietnam and on the Americans. Your mortar fire is excellent, and don't worry if you kill civilians, too. The Americans haven't been told much about this—they are being told instead that only their planes kill civilians.

"WE KNOW YOU need weapons and supplies, and we have sent you more in the first two months of this year than we did all last year—including larger mortars and rocket launchers. We're sending lots of it by ship, but most of it is going overland. The enemy will not dare to bomb us. They didn't bomb the supply lines north of the Yalu River in the Korean war, even though the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff recommended it.

"THE AMERICANS will soon tire of the war and try to wiggle out somehow, but don't forget — your terms must be unconditional surrender. The United States is begging us for peace. It is even trying to butter us up by a new consular treaty that gives us a chance to put more of our agents in American cities. And now we seem to have the Senate on our side, as the members are openly saying they do not want to offend us.

"It's true Premier Kosygin talked peace when he was in London, but some of the other leaders in the Kremlin reprimanded him a bit when he got back. Anyway, he gave the Americans the impression that, if they carry favor with us, they'll be better off and that maybe we'll end the war in Vietnam. But we have told the world that we haven't a thing to do with your policies and that you make your own decisions."

MEANWHILE, Secretary of State Dean Rusk speaks frankly to the American people and describes how utterly ineffective have been the efforts to get the North Vietnamese to a conference to discuss the ending of the war. He said last Sunday on the TV program "Issues and Answers" over the ABC network:

"Now when the other side insists that the cessation of bombing must be unconditional and permanent, we need to know what is going to happen. If we give a commitment that we will stop the bombing permanently, we need to know what is going to happen, and thus far no one—Mr. Kosygin, the Secretary General of the U.N., Hanoi, anyone—no one has been able to give us the slightest indication—I say 'able,' or perhaps willing—to give us the slightest indication as to what the result would be if we stopped the bombing."

BUT THE MYSTERY of it all is how the Soviet Union and, indeed, the Red Chinese get away with their outright aid to the enemy of the United States in Vietnam. Nor has the American government gone into the public forum to tell the world that the Soviet Union is deliberately preventing the war in Vietnam from coming to an end.

Bottle Sand

NEW YORK (AP) — Some 12 billion pounds of sand, such as that found along beaches, are used to make the 30 billion bottles and jars manufactured annually in the United States.

The Glass Container Manufacturers Institute says that the volume of sand used yearly by the industry would provide a one-inch layer on a 150-foot-wide beach stretching from Maine to Florida.

As to his being able to finish his story "of spiritual courage," I think he did it. His life, his clear-cut testimony was a story of spiritual courage. Evidently, he would have spoken of someone else's courage rather than his own, but the memory of this strong, gifted athlete, standing staunchly for God, in the midst of one of the world's toughest games, is more eloquent than anything he could have said about anyone else.

Don't call into question the God Branch Rickey served! Instead, seek the kind of spiritual courage he had, and the life you live will not end at the grave.

Tax Credit Primes Business Carburetor

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen may get a better tax break than they expected.

The House of Representatives approved during the week a liberalized version of President Johnson's request for restoration of the seven per cent business investment tax credit. And it provided for accelerated depreciation allowances.

It was estimated that the House bill, if passed by the Senate, would mean an additional saving of $400 million to $500 million for corporate taxpayers.

The House adopted a bill that generally would allow taxpayers to claim the investment tax credit for items ordered during the suspension period, which began last Oct. 10, but weren't delivered or placed in service until on or after the March 10 reinstatement date.

REACHES BACK

The bill also provides that a building started and partially completed during the suspension period still could be eligible in part for fast depreciation writeoff.

The tax credit, originally enacted in 1962, lets a business subtract from its otherwise final tax bill up to seven per cent of its new investment in equipment.

Accelerated depreciation, enacted in 1964, allows a business to deduct from taxable income larger amounts of its investment in buildings in the early years of their useful lives than in later years.

These tax breaks were suspended as a means of helping curb inflation when the economy was rolling along at boom pace.

Now that business has slowed, the administration feels that incentives for expansion are again needed.

MARTIN SUPPORTS

William McChesney Martin Jr., chairman of the Federal

SPOTTED PICTURE

- House adds accelerated depreciation to seven per cent credit
- Federal reserve chief says it will help pep economy
- Pickup seen as excessive inventories are worked off
- Housing turns down again, working force shows gain
- Automobile output increases, but sales continue off

Reserve Board, told Congress during the week that the economy was definitely slowing down "but I don't mean we're in a recession."

In an appearance before the House Banking Committee, he said the current levels of business inventories were the most troubling element in the economic picture.

He added that he foresaw a modest pickup in the economy after the excessive inventories are worked off.

The Commerce Department reported that the increase in business inventories slowed sharply in January. The $950-million rise in January brought stocks of manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers to $136.52 billion. The increase in December was $1.71 billion.

Martin told the committee he supported Johnson's proposals for restoration of the investment tax credit and enactment of a six per cent surcharge on income taxes. He said the tax increase will be necessary because of the anticipated $12-billion deficit in next year's federal budget.

HOUSING DECLINES

Housing starts declined sharply in February after rising for three consecutive months. The Commerce Department reported that private starts last month were at an annual rate of 1,089,000, down 5.1 per cent from 1,142,000 in January.

The Federal Reserve Board

reported that industrial production dropped substantially during February for the second straight month. The board's index fell to 155.9 per cent of the 1957-59 average from 158 per cent in January and 159 per cent in December.

Unemployment in mid-February held steady for the third successive month at 3.7 per cent of the labor force.

The jobless total increased to 3,183,000 from 3.16 million in January while total employment rose to 72,506,000 from 72.16 million.

OUTPUT UP, SALES OFF

Labor Department officials interpreted the stability of the unemployment rate as showing continued strength in economic activity.

Automobile production for the week was estimated at 163,700 passenger cars, up three per cent from 158,403 the previous week but down 18 per cent from 199,676 a year ago.

Car sales in the first 10 days of March fell 25 per cent to 193,825 from a record 256,004 a year earlier. Chrysler posted a sales gain of 6.8 per cent while General Motors was off 33.8 per cent and American Motors was off nine per cent.

Steel production during the week declined 2.5 per cent to 2,464,000 tons from 2,528,000 tons the previous week.

There are two kinds of literature that always serve to touch off the most glowing dreams of ordinary Americans.

One is the beautifully illustrated seed catalogues which tempt beyond all reason, simply by showing that anybody—but anybody—can produce the biggest tomatoes, the most edible carrots, the prize-winning roses and the most beautiful azaleas. One looks at the pictures, and one just can't resist the urge to respond to the call of Spring, all the while envisioning the ultimate yield—just as pretty as the catalogue showed.

THE OTHER KIND of literature is made up of the colorful brochures put out by the resort and travel people. I dare say that the most pleasurable trips anybody can make are those which wait in imagination while one sits in the living room and thumbs through the booklets which describe the exotic ports of call in far-away places.

TO MAKE a confession, I have already had my disillusionment and disappointment from the seed catalogues. Where the descriptions say the radish would be a giant six inches long, my radishes turn out to be scrubby little nubbins. Where the peach, in the picture, is full-blown, my peaches resemble small pieces of putty. No more failing for the excitement of the vegetable and flower people.

But now comes a new approach to the travel dreams.

Perhaps you noticed that The Herald, with some other newspapers, is helping to publicize a tour (sort of for Texans) to the South Pacific, come August.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT of this cruise brings the fine travel folder, and by the time you have finished reading this, you are prepared to mortgage everything, including the soul, to take the trip.

Shipboard life? Ah, the ultimate in sheer relaxation and pleasure! Big, comfy staterooms, plenty of public salons, gourmet food around the clock and at your beck and call. Mornings for any game you wish to play, afternoons for a delightful snooze on the deck, evenings for gala entertainment.

THE PORTS to be visited? Those places which evoke the magic of another world: Bora Bora, Papeete in Tahiti, Rarotonga, Noumea in New Caledonia, Suva in the Fiji Islands, Paganago, Samoa — all these plus a couple of stops in heavenly Hawaii.

The brochure actually says: "Slip away to paradise. Let Matson put the delights of far-away isles and the leisure of luxury beautifully within your grasp for the most rewarding days you have ever known."

SEE WHAT I mean? This touches off the dream, the desire, the longing, and the more you dream the more enchanting the cruise appears.

Not everybody grows big radishes, and not everybody makes a South Pacific cruise. But the visions are there. Praise be for the moments when one soars out beyond the realities and finds oneself in a new world of rapture.

Let's just skip the garden this year and go to the Southern seas. —BOB WHIPKEY

Marquis Childs Congress And Court Could Clash

WASHINGTON — The cloud over the capital can brew up one of those storms that now and then shake the system of divided powers to its roots. The Supreme Court and the House of Representatives are on a collision course promising a violent smash in the coming months.

The reason is Adam Clayton Powell who, whether on Blinn or in Harlem, is loving it all with the carefree abandon that is his trademark. He can count on a sequence of events putting him in the history books with Dred Scott, Dreyfus and the other symbols of political passion and prejudice. The sequence, as it looks now, is as follows:

POWELL WILL be overwhelmingly re-elected by his Harlem constituents, probably without contest, in the special election to fill the vacancy on April 11.

With his new credentials he will come back to the bar of the House that refused by a vote of 307 to 114 to seat him. If Rep. Emanuel Celler, who headed the committee that inquired into Powell's right to take his place, reads the temper of the House correctly the man from Harlem will again be denied his seat.

THEN THE Supreme Court will be called on to determine whether the House violated the rudimentary requirements set forth in the Constitution on eligibility. With House members angrily telling the Court to keep out of their business the two independent branches of government will hit head-on to the damage of all concerned.

There are, of course, exits. One would be if the House should decide to set up a standard of ethics by which committee chairmen and all House members would be judged. Powell could be seated pending a finding on how he measured up to the standard. It would be applied at the same time to other chairmen who have grossly abused their powers. This would de-fuse the hottest issue of all, which is the charge of discrimination because Powell is a Negro.

THE COURT also has a way out if it cares to take it. This is by following the doctrine of political questions — finding the Powell case to be one of those often sidestepped in the past because the matter up for decision was political rather than legal. This concept can be traced back to many landmark decisions, beginning with Marbury vs. Madison. In 1892 in a Michigan case the Court ruled it had no jurisdiction over how the state should choose its Presidential electors.

BUT A landmark out of the recent past stands in the way of evasive action by the Court. This is the historic decision reapportioning the state legislatures on a one-man, one-vote formula. The late Justice Felix Frankfurter in his strong dissent said the Court in that case was deciding a political rather than a legal question.

Powell's lawyers will cite the precedent of Julian Bond. Refused a seat by the Georgia Legislature after his election because of his strong anti-Vietnam war stand, the Supreme Court held that Bond, a Negro, had a right to his seat. In that case the Court could rely on the guarantee in the Constitution of the right of free speech.

IN ANOTHER time of grave stress and strain just after the Civil War the judiciary and the Congress had a confrontation like that threatening today. A bill was passed taking away the jurisdiction of the Court in the disputed case. The damage this sort of clash does to the independence of the separate branches of government is obvious. The frustrations that build up shake confidence in the workability of the system of independent tripartite powers. (Copyright, 1967, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Art Buchwald It's A Matter Of Meetings

WASHINGTON — The longer I live in Washington, the more impressed I am with how smoothly the government runs.

The other day I was in a government office waiting to take a friend to lunch. He had just come out of a meeting and seemed pleased with how well it had gone.

"What was the meeting about?" I asked.

"I'm not sure what you mean," he said.

"Why did you have the meeting?"

"WHAT A stupid question. What do you think we do in the government, just sit around and twiddle our thumbs?"

"I didn't mean that. What subject did you discuss at the meeting?"

"We discussed whether we should hold a conference or not."

"You had a meeting to discuss holding a conference?"

"Of course. And the consensus was that we should hold off on the conference until we meet again."

"Which, of course, will mean another meeting?"

"NOW YOU'VE got it," he said. "I don't mind telling you I was pretty scared, because Agnew had called a meeting for 10 o'clock and Evans had called another meeting for 10:30. Evans had no right to call the meeting without checking with Agnew, and when Agnew heard about it he got pretty damned mad. So Evans moved up his meeting until 11:30."

"Did anything happen at Agnew's meeting?"

"We discussed in general the groundwork for Evans' meeting."

"Then by the time you met with Evans you knew exactly what you were going to talk about?"

"WE NEVER got around to it because Wallaby, who had to make the major decision, was called to a meeting the secretary was holding at the same time. Zimmerman was furious because he felt that he should have been invited to the secretary's meeting, too, and he suspected Evans had called his meeting so Zimmerman wouldn't know about the other meeting."

"How did he find out about it?"

"Coates told him, rather maliciously I thought. He expressed surprise that Zimmerman was sitting with us when Wallaby was across the street."

"ZIMMERMAN SAID that he had met with the secretary earlier and the secretary's meeting was just to confirm what they had gone over earlier. But Thurston told me later that the secretary's secretary had told him not to mention the Wallaby meeting to Zimmerman."

"Did you ever find out what Wallaby's meeting with the secretary was about?"

"Coates said it had to do with a meeting the secretary is having in Washington next month. There was a conflict because several of the people the secretary wanted had scheduled a conference, and the secretary maintains there is no sense having the conference until they meet with him."

"YOU PEOPLE in government meet a lot, don't you?" I said.

"We have to."

"Why?"

"Because if someone calls up my secretary and asks for me, it looks so much better if she says 'I'm in a meeting. How would you feel if when you rang me up you found me in my office?'"

"I'd feel you were stealing the taxpayers' money."

"Exactly. Now let's go have lunch. I have to be back at 2 o'clock for a you-know-what."

Lost Bomb Tale Recapped

An intricately detailed account of the famous U.S. lost H-bomb incident of January, 1966, containing facts never before released to the public, has been published by McGraw-Hill: "One of Our H-Bombs is Missing," as told by Flora Lewis, veteran journalist and foreign correspondent.

"At 10:22 a.m. on Monday, Jan. 17, 1966, a refueling operation high over one of the most remote parts of Spain between a B-52 bomber carrying atomic weapons and a KC-135 fuel plane suddenly erupted and rained destruction on the small Spanish town of Palomares. Several U.S. airmen were killed outright, carbonized, in fact, nearly 800,000 pounds of equipment at an approximate cost of $11,000,000 were immediately plummeted to earth. Incredibly, no one on the ground was in the direct path of this destruction. However, the Air Force had what it calls a "Broken Arrow" and soon the whole world was to know about it." The accident, which was to become an international incident, was also to propel a medieval Spanish town into the atomic age.

LINKS THEM

Miss Lewis links together every segment of the Palomares incident, from beginning to end, with major and hitherto unknown facts about State Department and U.S. military operations, and fascinating details that bring the story to life. The author examines the reactions to the accident of a cross-section of the Palomares townspeople; from the best educated to the most ignorant and humble. Most are semi-literate, simple and hardworking farmers who cared little and knew practically nothing about the modern world and its advanced technology. Most had never even heard of the H-bomb and none, even the most educated of them, suspected that day that weapons giving off radioactive dust had been dumped on their soil.

At first, Miss Lewis reports, the Strategic Air Command and the Atomic Energy Commission were convinced that there was virtually no danger of radioactive contamination in the area—"We're in luck," they told one another. "The real gravity of the situation came to light when bomb number two (there were four bombs in all) was located on the land and found to be "broken" after its fall from six miles. The bomb had not been detonated for nuclear explosion, we are told, but the conventional explosive inside it, whose blast is the first stage of a nuclear explosion, had gone off, releasing clouds of plutonium dust which contaminated the air and soil of the surrounding area.

DIDN'T KNOW

The citizens of Palomares, so friendly and helpful to the Americans, were a long time in discovering this fact, due to the lack of official comment from the U.S. and Spanish governments and to the censorship of the Spanish press. The news leaked to them over foreign based radio stations and by means of foreign newspapers who were printing the details of the Air Force cleanup as rapidly as they could get hold of them and, where there was no concrete information, filling the gaps with wild speculations.

After much hesitation, the U.S. and Spanish governments were forced to admit that H-bombs had fallen in the area and that the nearby countryside was mildly contaminated. The panic that followed this announcement and the efforts on the part of the U.S. government to dispel the fear and remedy the damage done, as described by the author, show the thoroughness of the U.S. military when engaged in a top priority job. Among the measures taken to render the farmland around Palomares safe once more, was the transporting of 4,879 steel barrels of contaminated Palomares topsoil to a safe-burial in Aiken, S.C. In addition, the damaged vegetation was cleared away and the village given financial compensation for their lost crop. Unfortunately, the author comments, nothing could compensate for the loss of trust in the land which gave the people their livelihood.

Miss Lewis devotes the first half of her account to the accident and its aftermath as it was played out in Palomares, and she gives an account of the interplay among the various groups that were involved in the increasingly complicated Palomares situation: the United States and Spanish governments, the U.S. military and the peasants, and the U.S. Embassy in Madrid and headquarters in Washington. The author makes the reader familiar with each person who played a significant role in the Palomares story, from general to peasant.

'OUT OF SIGHT' Artist's concept of kooky car

Fancy Car Stars In Spy Film Spoof

You never know who or what will be popping up as a movie star. This is evidenced in the new spy-spoof "Out of Sight" Friday at the Ritz Theatre.

One of the biggest stars of the film, based upon interest and the number of inquiries received during the making of the production, is the fabulous $22,000 spy car, the ZZR. Especially created for the film by world-famous custom car maker George Barris, the automobile features twin V-8 engines as its motive power and a host of features for a specialized use.

The extra features are significant only in view of the fact they are used by a secret agent in the comedy. Included in the list of optional extras, most of which will never be available through your friendly auto dealer, are flame throwers in each of the four fenders, a parachute that disconnects and envelopes a trailing car, and a machine that squirts tar and feathers at any pursuer.

But what does the car look like? It's quite common, really. It has a nine foot hood, except the hood is missing and in its place sit two chrome laden engines. The metalflake-painted body is a replica of a Model T Ford. Just the thing to make an inconspicuous entrance.

Jonathan Daly, Karen Jensen, Robert Pine and Carole Shelley star in the zany feature.

Phil Gives Up Specs For Rome

It may be hard to imagine Phil Silvers — the famed Sargeant Bilko of TV — on stage without his horn-rimmed glasses. But that's the way he appears in his latest comedy—with Zero Mostel, Jack Gilford and Buster Keaton in the Melvin Frank motion picture production of Harold S. Prince's famous stage production "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," which opens today at the Ritz Theatre in Color by DeLuxe.

Mostly because Romans didn't wear glasses and that only because they weren't invented yet.

Otherwise, say those who have already seen the comedy triumph with its original stage music and lyrics by Stephen Sondheim to the Burt Shevelove-Larry Gelbart book directed by Larry Lester, he's the same old and still very, very funny old Phil Silvers, top banana of the top bananas and the gent who's been keeping 'em laughing since—oh well, since he was 13 years old.

A Brooklynite by birth, Phil broke into show business at 13 as a singer in the now-historic Gus Edwards Show which gave the world George Jessel, Walter Winchell and Eddie Cantor. When his voice cracked he became a vaudeville funny man—albeit a very young one—and remained one until vaudeville—well, until vaudeville was superseded by other forms of amusement.

He got into Broadway musicals and from there went to Hollywood where he made 23 pictures during the years between 1942 and 1945. This was followed during the war by USO work in which he toured with a skinny kid from Jersey City named Frank Sinatra. He re-

French Cast Signed Up For New Disney Comedy

In bringing the new French-flavored romantic comedy, "Monkeys, Go Home!" to the screen, Walt Disney insisted on authenticity in every department—even to a French-speaking cast.

Maurice Chevalier, one of France's most beloved stars, was imported to play Father Sylva, a kindly but whimsical village priest, and the attractive half-French, half-Mexican actress, Yvette Mimieux, was signed for the ingenue lead.

The rest of the players were assembled through a series of auditions and screen tests made in Paris. Conducted by the film's director, Andrew V. McLaglen, and Disney's co-producer, Ron Miller, these tests yielded some of France's top acting talents, including Bernard Winger, Clement Harari and Yvonne Constant, who thus made their Hollywood debut, collectively.

Winger, a tall, dark and handsome young veteran of stage and television, essays the role of Cartucc, a stormy young political leader and ardent admirer of lovely Miss Mimieux in the story.

Known to film circles abroad as the "French Peter Lorre" because of the villainous roles he has played on stage, screen and TV, Harari portrays a comic culprit, for a change, and is bound to get many of the biggest laughs in the Disney comedy.

The curvaceous Miss Constant is Yolande, a conniving femme fatale, a role ideally suited to her comedic talents. Primarily a musical-comedy performer, she has divided her time of late between night clubs, television and the stage, with equal success.

Other French actors prominent in the cast are Marcel Hillaire as the village mayor, Maurice Marsac as Fontanino, a cafe owner, and Peter Camlin as Francois, cabinet maker.

Positions Open

The U.S. Civil Service commission has announced that applications are being received for two positions in the Big Spring area. One is for refrigeration mechanic ($3.01 per hour) and evaporative cooling equipment repairer ($2.17-$2.67 per hour). Schools To Name Spelling Champions By April 4

By SAM BLACKBURN
Big Spring schools, which are planning to have champion spellers in the Howard County Fifth Annual Spelling Bee on April 15, have set April 4 as the deadline for each school to decide its representatives. Approximately 700 boys and girls checked out official spelling books used in these annual bees when the event was first announced. How many have practicing attorney. A third judge will be named in a few days. Any boy or girl who has not passed to the eighth grade and who will not be 16 before June 1 is eligible to try for the championship of his school and a chance at the county crown. Each school is allowed one champion and one alternate at the county bee, with the understanding that the alternate does not compete unless the champion fails to appear. Champion of the county wins a plaque inscribed with his name and an all expense paid trip to Lubbock to compete in the Regional Spelling Bee which will be April 29. He will be pitted against 23 other champions. Should he win the regional title, he gets a free trip to Washington, D.C., for a week and to try his hand in the National Spelling Bee. So far as can be determined, all of the public schools in Big Spring, with exception of the high school are to have champions. The two parochial schools in the city have also been invited to enter. Midway school in the Coahoma district has spellers trying for the title and For-san Junior High School has plans to have a speller on hand. Scott McLaughlin, who won the school title for Goliad last year and then took the county crown, is expected to make a stiff effort to repeat.
