'Love-In' Is Staged

By The Associated Press

Youth had its fling over the Easter weekend, mainly at several East and Gulf Coast resorts, to climax their holiday vacations. But it wasn't all rioting and arrests as the mod set staged a West Coast "Love-In" and a Manhattan "Be-In."

Police heaved sighs of relief Sunday as more than 40,000 collegians headed back to classes, leaving some beaches strewn with beer cans and other debris.

At Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the bulk of 30,000 college boys and girls began a mass exodus to various campuses. There were 500 in the young army of revelers arrested for drunkenness, rowdiness, loitering and interfering with police activities from Thursday through Sunday.

Van Bursts Into Flames

Early Sunday, 16 youths were arrested by Fort Lauderdale police after they pelted officers with firecrackers. A van taking them to jail burst into flames but the driver quickly opened the door and averted serious injury.

The visiting young people at Daytona Beach, Fla., found that local authorities eliminated seaside roistering with a ban on beer - drinking on the beach.

At Biloxi, Miss., an Easter Sunday rain put a damper on the rollicking activities of some 10,000 college students.

"It seems to have taken the cool out of them," a Biloxi policeman said.

'It's A Mess'

Before the rain, however 85 youths had been arrested on such charges as disorderly conduct, destroying property, drunken driving, interfering with highway traffic and indecent exposure.

Police Chief Louis Rosetti said, "It's a mess. They've been breaking windshields of cars, tearing up lawn chairs, and tearing down piers to build bonfires."

On Saturday, police cleared the beach of beer-swilling students as Rosetti announced: "We're not letting them camp on the beach."

Bottle Cuts Cop

At Ocean Drive Beach, S. C., several hundred students began rioting Saturday midnight. By the time the fracas was broken up at 2 a.m., a policeman had been cut by a broken bottle and some 150 students were in jail.

In Hollywood, Calif., early Sunday about 500 teenagers became unruly as they left the International Teen Fair. They were tossing bottles and rocks at passing cars when police closed in. Fifteen were arrested but there were no injuries and little property damage. Another 500 youths attending the affair took no part in the melee.

At Los Angeles, 4,500 bearded and miniskirted hippies gathered at Elysian Park Sunday for a "Love-In."

'Love Circles'

"Christ is here with us, baby," said Peter Bertram, who helped organize the encampment. "So is Buddha."

Sounds at the gathering included mainly bongo drums, bells, guitars, and group singing. Some recited poetry and made speeches. The only problem was the giant traffic jam around the park.

In New York's Central Park, 10,000 members of the beard-and-sandal crowd staged the city's first "Be-In," featuring love and "happenings."

The girls wore painted faces such as "love" printed across the forehead while a number of the boys were bare-chested and barefoot under sunny skies.

Some flew kites, others played marbles, a number slept, and an even greater number just watched. One group of about 1,000 demonstrated good fellowship about every 15 minutes or so by joining hands in a "love circle."

Hippies Halt Traffic

In San Francisco, the hippies staged an Easter "mill-in" and stopped traffic at the intersection of Haight and Ashbury streets.

It took police three hours to clear the area of the beard and sandal set. Sixteen arrests were made on charges such as failure to disperse, resisting arrest, malicious mischief, battery and disturbing the peace.

Some hippies sat down in the street. Swarms of others kept crossing the street at the corner, forcing autos to stop.

More than 2,000 Ohio University students dispersed peacefully Sunday night after several hours of demonstrations. Youngsters sat shouting and chanting on the lawn of President Vernon Alden's home. Many also sat down at the main downtown intersection in Athens, Ohio, blocking traffic. No damage or arrests resulted.

Law Officials To Implement Crime Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 500 law enforcement officials, judges, professors and state legislators will confer Tuesday and Wednesday on how to implement more than 200 recommendations made by the National Crime Commission.

It will be the first opportunity for a broad-based critique of the 352-page report, issued last month after more than 18 months of work by the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice.

The report contains thousands of statistics and adds recommendations on topics ranging from alcoholism to development of a national strategy to fight organized crime.

MORE CRIME

The commission believes one of its most important findings—the result of a survey of 10,000 representative American households—is that throughout the nation "there is far more crime than ever is reported."

It found there are more than twice as many aggravated assaults and larcenies of more than $50 as are reported, half again more robberies, and, in some areas, "only one-tenth of the total number of certain kinds of crime are reported to the police."

The recommendations call for changes in police operations, schools, prosecutors, employment agencies, social workers, prisons, housing authorities and probation and parole officers.

FREE COPIES

When the report was issued nearly 40,000 copies were distributed free to state legislators, mayors, police and court officials, news media, congressmen and others concerned with law enforcement.

An additional 10,000 were printed for sale to the public at $2.25 each. The government printing office reports that about 8,000 have been sold and that it has already made a second printing of 10,000.

James Vorenberg, a Harvard University law professor on leave to be executive director of the commission, said comments he has received so far "run 19 to 1 in favor of the report and its recommendations."

CRITICISM

But he added there has been "some minor criticism from the far left and perhaps a little stronger from the far right."

In the field of narcotics, for example, some critics have suggested that the United States adopt the British system of registering addicts and supplying them with whatever narcotics they need.

The commission recommended staff increases for the Bureau of Customs and Bureau of Narcotics and involuntary commitment of addicts.

But the commission believes that the emphasis should be taken off punishment and placed on treatment.

LATITUDE

There also have been suggestions that the commission should have recommended a change in the Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution to permit police wider latitude in questioning suspects.

The commission found, however, that while "every restriction that is placed on police procedures by the courts makes deterring or solving crimes more difficult it is also evident that police procedures must be controlled somehow."

A key court decision in questioning of suspects was the Miranda case. The Supreme Court ruled that interrogation in the isolated setting of a police station, without counsel, constitutes informal compulsion to confess.

2 Dirty Gunmen Tied To Murder Of Bishop Nabbed

DURANGO, Mexico (AP) — Two bearded and dirty gunmen sought in connection with the murder of a Roman Catholic bishop were captured today. Police identified them as Valente Arturo Santos Estebane, 28, and Baldomero Garcia Garcia, 26.

Three other persons still were sought for investigation in the slaying of Bishop Jose de la Solidad Torres Castaneda, 48, whose body was found Saturday night buried near the Durango-Mazatlan highway 21 days after he disappeared. The bishop was driving home from a Mass in a nearby town.

He had been beaten and strangled, police said. Santos and Garcia were caught while driving a rented car and two pistols were seized, the police added.

Flow Of Milk Is Shut Off In Tennessee

By The Associated Press

Dairy farmer pickets appeared outside some dairy plants today as the National Farmers Organization strove to dramatize its 25-state effort to raise producers' prices by withholding milk from the market.

Indianapolis processing plants were targets of some NFO members. Similar picketing occurred in other cities.

But, except in Tennessee where members of the Teamsters Union refused to truck dairy products and shut off the flow of milk to homes and stores in much of the state, the demonstrations appeared to be having little or minor initial effect.

GO SIGN

J. W. McKinsey, state NFO president for Indiana, said of the Indianapolis picketing, "Local groups asked to do it, and we told them to go ahead so long as they did it legally."

As the 13th day of the boycott began, the NFO claimed a major success in its campaign to increase by two cents a quart the price paid to farmers for their milk.

That was in Minnesota, where the NFO said 13 dairies handling 235 million pounds of milk yearly had signed contracts on NFO terms. In Wisconsin other signings were rumored, but not confirmed.

PICKETING LULL

Many of the states affected by the boycott reported a lull in picketing and acts of violence over the Easter weekend.

In Chicago the Pure Milk Association reported deliveries of milk to the city's wholesalers had been reduced by only 5 or 6 per cent and that milk supplies remained adequate in all stores. No price increases were reported. The association represents Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana farmers supplying milk to the Chicago market.

The situation was reversed in Nashville, Tenn., where the combined action by NFO pickets, Teamsters and members of the Meat Cutters Union forced processors to curtail operations, kept milk off store shelves and halted home deliveries. Nashville milk processors serve some 1.5 million residents of Middle Tennessee and south central Kentucky.

INJUNCTION

Lawyers for the Teamsters Union delayed the enforcement of an injunction against the milk withholding action in Chancery Court at Nashville by petitioning for a U.S. District Court order in their favor. A hearing on the motion was set for today.

NY Banks Cut Prime Rates

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's third-largest bank, First National City Bank of New York, reduced its prime interest rate to 5 1/4 per cent from 5 3/4 per cent today. Other large New York banks which had been charging 5 1/2 per cent promptly followed suit.

Shortly after First National City's terse announcement, Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co., Bankers Trust Co., Irving Trust Co. and Chemical Bank New York Trust Co. — all among the nation's largest — announced they were also reducing their prime rates.

The prime rate is the interest banks charge their biggest and most creditworthy customers. The reductions are effective immediately.

The move by the New York banks was expected to be followed by other large banks across the nation.

Last week Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York and Bank of America of San Francisco, the nation's largest, cut their rates from 5 1/2 per cent to 5 1/4 per cent.

Similar cuts have been made by smaller banks across the nation.

WHERE DRIVER OF CAR PERISHED IN EASTER WRECK
John Mitchell Morgan, 47, was at the wheel when his car rammed a tree

Oil Field Worker Killed In Easter Morning Wreck

John Mitchell Morgan, 47, Garden City oil field roustabout, was instantly killed early Easter Sunday when the car-which he is said to have been driving crashed into a tree, jumped a creek and smashed into a second-tree, six miles south of Big Spring on Ranch Road 33.

Morgan became a Howard County's second rural traffic fatality of the year and the second death to occur in one car accident.

Norman P. Christie, 29, also of Garden City, who was in the car with Morgan and was identified as its owner, sustained a broken jaw and other painful injuries in the crash. He was taken first to Malone-Hogan Foundation Hospital here, and later was removed to Parkview General Hospital in Midland. His condition is said to be satisfactory.

Highway patrol officers who investigated the wreck said that Morgan and Christie, in a 1961 model car, were traveling south.

After the car crashed into the first tree, it leaped across a creek 40 feet wide and rammed a second one. After the second impact, the car plowed on 25 additional feet before coming to a stop. It did not turn over but it was demolished.

The patrolman said that Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter ruled death by accident in the case.

The injured man was brought to Malone - Hogan hospital by private car, the patrol said, and the accident was not officially reported until around 2:30 a.m. The dead man was still in the car, but the patrol did not know if Christie had been thrown out before the vehicle came to a halt. The patrolman reported Christie said Morgan was driving.

Services for Morgan will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the First Baptist Church in Comanche. Burial will be in the Comanche Cemetery, with River - Welch Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Morgan was born May 5, 1919. He had lived in Garden City for about five months and was employed by the Economy Oil Field Service. His permanent residence is in Comanche.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. W. T. Hill, of Smyer; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Houston Morgan, Comanche; four brothers, Sam Houston Morgan Jr., San Angelo, Hollman Morgan, Fort Worth, Kenneth Morgan, Irving, Truman Morgan, Liberal, Kan.; three sisters, Mrs. Bob Morris, Fort Worth, Mrs. J. M. Fisher, Hamilton, and Mrs. Hazel Riddle, Fort Worth.

Sierra Leone's Military Rulers Ax New Chairman

FREETOWN, Sierra Leone (AP) — Sierra Leone's new military rulers fired their chairman today before he had a chance to take the job and chose Lt. Col. A. T. Juxon-Smith instead.

The National Reformation Council of eight young officers cabled their first choice, Lt. Col. Ambrose Genda, to remain at his post with Sierra Leone's U.N. delegation in New York. But Genda, 39, already had reached London on his way home.

BOARDS PLANE

As reports reached the British capital that he had been dropped as leader of the new ruling National Reformation Council in Sierra Leone, Col.

Genda boarded a plane and continued on his way.

London Airport officials said Col. Juxon-Smith was traveling with Genda as they boarded a British plane for Freetown, where it is due Tuesday.

After issuing a proclamation assuming wide powers, the council ordered all persons to turn in their weapons or face detention. The proclamation formalized the takeover, suspended Parliament and portions of the constitution which the council said were "inconsistent or in conflict" with the new government.

The council also ordered all former ministers to vacate their government houses and turn in their official cars.

Adult Panel Will Choose Youth Achievement Winner

A panel of adults familiar with most of the wholesome youth activities in the county will have the rather unenviable task, early next month, of naming the high school senior or junior (boy or girl) to receive the second annual Zale-Herald Youth Achievement Award.

This program, to give signal honor to a boy or girl who is a leader in school, church and community work, is now open for nominations.

These should be made right away, and the official entry blank appears in today's Herald on Page 7-A. Anyone may submit the youths' names, supporting the nomination with a report on his or her activities for public service.

Judges who will have to make the final selection will include the three principals of Big Spring, Coahoma and Forsan high schools; a minister; at least two public service association executives familiar with youth leadership; two women knowledgeable in young people's activities, and a representative of the Chamber of Commerce and the newspaper.

Winner of the Youth Achievement Award is to receive a handsome trophy and an engraved wrist watch from Zale's, and the presentation will be made at a special dinner honoring this young person (as well as all nominees), the winner's parents, and various community leaders.

Object of the program is to pay due recognition to those young people who do much volunteer work without, perhaps, getting sufficient public credit. Zale and Herald officials hope it can be regarded as one of the top honors that can come to a boy or girl in the county. It is open to members of the senior and junior classes in the county's three high schools.

Persons who want to help recognize these young people are urged to mail in the nomination blanks promptly.

Fishing Boats Trying To Sink Patches Of Oil

LAND'S END, England (AP) — The giant American tanker Torrey Canyon lay split in two on the Seven Stones reef today, spilling more oil toward the beaches of southwest England that already were being ruined. Huge seas during the night wrenched the 61,263-ton ship apart almost amidships. The two halves lay about 25 yards apart with the bow at an angle of 40 degrees to the stern section.

The stern appeared to be slipping slowly from the reef into deeper water. The whole of the after section was under water with only a funnel showing.

The forward section lay listing to port, with only the high bows clear of the onrushing waves.

TONS OF OIL

A sea of oil stretched to the horizon toward the Scilly Isles to the west. Near the English coast it broke up into long fingers surrounded by shimmering stretches where the film was thinner.

An armada of fishing boats pushed through the oil patches spraying detergent, trying to spread and sink the oil.

GULLS TRAPPED

More than 70 miles of coastline, from the Lizard to Newquay, have been polluted by the advancing oil. In places the oil slick is ten inches thick. Gales forecast today threatened to spread the black carpet to most of Britain's south coast.

One expert estimated more than 15,000 gulls, cormorants and other sea birds have died and another 30,000 were trapped, unable to fly because their wings were clogged with oil.

Nature lovers feared that some species may become extinct. A small army of bird lovers was mobilized to save as many as possible from the oil.

OYSTER BEDS

Men also worked around the clock trying to save rich oyster beds in river estuaries. Dredges moved more than 700,000 oysters into deep water from the Duchy of Cornwall oyster farm which is owned by Prince Charles and leased to a chain of fish stores.

The worst hit beaches on the Cornish Riviera were at Marazion and Prah Sands, where the sludge was up to 12 inches deep. Beaches at Godrevy, Portreath, Portlouth, St. Agnes and Perranporth also were affected. Oil was washed ashore at Newquay, Cornwall's leading resort, and the freshening gale threatened miles more of the holiday coastline.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson interrupted his vacation on the Scilly Islands for a meeting with five Cabinet ministers and warned that the government was "not prepared to wait indefinitely and see the ship break up on the rocks with all the damage that would cause."

Shortly after the tanker's back broke amidships and both her stern and bow were awash the British destroyer Delight went out at dawn to inspect the situation.

Burglar Steals Two Police Dogs

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Gus Crittenden's two crime deterrents were taken by a burglar who crawled through a window of his home, he told police Sunday.

The loot: a pair of German shepherds, also known as police dogs.

Thugs Steal Pants

DELMAR, Md. (AP) — The Rombro brothers lost their pants over the weekend — 3,828 pairs.

The work pants valued at $9,600 were pilfered from the Rombro Brothers, Inc., a work clothes company with a factory outlet at Delmar, on the Maryland-Delaware state line.

Police believe that thieves stole the pants after breaking in through a window.

Grant Announced

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Cooke County Junior College has received an $8,490 federal grant for improvement of undergraduate instruction. The grant was announced by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Washington, D.C. Money will be used to buy instructional equipment such as overhead projectors.

GENEVA (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey arrived at this center of world negotiations today with an argument he is expected to carry to the allied capitals of Europe: The urgent need for a treaty to curb the spread of nuclear weapons.

The vice president is making the first extended swing through Western Europe by a top administration official since late President John F. Kennedy's 1963 trip. He will discuss a variety of problems with foreign leaders and U.S. officials in six countries.

Humphrey's mission comes at a time of some friction in U.S.-European relations, partly due to U.S. efforts to seek agreement with the Soviet Union in such areas as nuclear nonproliferation.

U.S. officials said one of the chief aims of the vice president's trip is to assure European leaders the United States is not subordinating its European interests to a desire for East-West agreements. The nuclear negotiations have been recessed for six weeks to give the United States more time to try to convince its allies—particularly West Germany—to accept the proposed treaty.

U.S. officials note there have been increasing protectionist sounds coming from Congress.

Payment Accepted

PORT ARTHUR (AP) — The Port Arthur Commission has accepted payment of $2,479 for damages done to docks last Nov. 2 by the tanker Mobil Meridian. The sum was 60 per cent of the total settlement. At the time of the accident, the docks were operated by Sabine Towing and Transportation Co. but the property has since been acquired by the Port Arthur Navigation District.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MRS. R. D. FRERICHS

Family Services rates our special attention this week. It is an organization made up of volunteer Air Force wives. Its mission is to assist in alleviating emergencies and hardships for dependents of Air Force families at any time, particularly in the absence of the military member. Lt. A. H. Duerbig is the personal affairs officer in charge, and Mrs. H. E. Enoch is the coordinator with Mrs. E. R. Glass as her assistant. The two main committees are the office committee and special assistance committee. The office committee (Mrs. F. G. Pappas, chairman; Mrs. Omar Cashion, assistant chairman) provides clerical, typing and administrative support for the family services center. They are in charge of the loan closet where such items as coats, baby beds, ironing boards and most kitchen articles may be borrowed for a period of time. They have a list of off base houses for rent, available trailer space and baby sitters.

Under special assistance are the emergency, welcoming and publicity committees. The emergency committee (Mrs. O. H. Wormser, chairman; Mrs. John O'Donnell, cochairman) provides assistance to families when hardships result from unexpected illness, accidents or moving. This would include transportation, part-time child care and emergency shopping. The welcoming committee (Mrs. J. L. Gaskill, chairman; Mrs. D. M. Garrett, cochairman) contacts families as soon as possible after arrival to provide information about facilities and services available on base and in the adjoining community. The publicity committee (Mrs. M. J. Took, chairman; Mrs. E. Saska, cochairman) writes articles for the base newspaper and is in charge of advertising the dependents' orientation course.

One of the primary aims of the family services program is to assure that wives are informed on all matters affecting their security and welfare, as members of the Air Force family. The dependents' orientation course is designed to accomplish this objective.

Capt. and Mrs. Alan Hornbarger held a pre-dinner party in their home for the members of B flight. Special honorees were Capt. and Mrs. Ray Gardner who will soon leave for George AFB in California where he will fly the F4C Phantom jet. The group then gathered at the Brandin' Iron where B flight treated Capt. and Mrs. Gardner to a farewell dinner.

Dear Abby

It Was All In Fun

DEAR ABBY: There appeared in the BOSTON RECORD-AMERICAN a picture of President Johnson, dressed in his pajamas, bathrobe, and bedroom slippers, dropping a letter in the mailbox. The letter was addressed to DEAR ABBY.

Will you please print his letter and your answer?

Very truly yours,

MRS. I.A. (EVERETT, MASS.)

DEAR MRS. I.A.: That was no picture, lady—that was a cartoon! And it was drawn by a man named McNamara. Fred, that is.

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of a 15-year-old boy who has always been a good student, an outstanding athlete, and was never a problem. We want him to have a healthy interest in girls, but listen to this:

I found a note on his bureau from a neighbor girl who is his age, but a little too advanced for him, I fear. In her note she said he had made her feel "wanted" and "needed" and she wanted to show him how much she "loved" him, so would he come to where she would be baby-sitting on Friday night?

I don't mind telling you that his father and I are plenty worried because we think that is where he went last Friday night. How should this be handled?

HIS MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: You can't isolate your son from aggressive females who are "a little too advanced for him." But if you and your husband have a good parent-son relationship with him, you can alert the boy to the pitfalls of such a situation, and therefore make him better equal to handling them.

DEAR ABBY: I sent out 36 invitations to a cocktail party. There was a large RSVP on the invitation, which everyone who is over 12 years old should know means, PLEASE RESPOND.

Out of the 36 invitations, only 22 responded and 28 showed up. I don't know what happened to the rest.

After the party someone to whom I had sent an invitation, but neither responded nor showed up, claimed he didn't receive my invitation.

He said I should have KNOWN when he didn't respond one way or the other he didn't get it, and it was my place to call him up and find out why I hadn't heard from him.

Abby, when a person sends out RSVP invitations, is it her place to follow them up with telephone calls? If I am wrong I'll apologize.

BUGGED HOSTESS
DEAR BUGGED: Once in a blue moon an invitation will be lost in the mail, but it is not the hostess' place to follow up RSVP invitations, although in desperation some do. Failure to acknowledge RSVP invitations is inexcusable.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 99700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Big Talent Rush Is On

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The great talent rush is on. In something akin to the opening of the Oklahoma Territory, at least a dozen musical-variety shows have already begun a race to secure performers for the 1967-68 television season.

Two of the principal competitors are Nick Vanoff and William Harbach, who will be producing ABC's Hollywood Palace for the fifth year.

"I figured it up that there will be over 400 variety hours on the major networks next season," said the white-haired, urbane Harbach.

"So we've got to start lining up our talent early this time," added his partner. "Some seasons we began in August without knowing who will be on the shows. No more."

Vanoff and Harbach are gearing for new competition and a new time slot; after four successful years in the Saturday night spot, the Hollywood Palace is moving to Tuesday night at 10. The producers profess to be pleased.

"We managed to double the ABC rating in the time period," said Vanoff, "but it was always a struggle. We had to face 'Gunsmoke' and NBC's movie — and Saturday night is the traditional night for Americans to see movies."

"Also, we geared the show to an older audience, since we inherited the people who watched Lawrence Welk," added Harbach.

The Tuesday night spot will give the boys a chance to aim the show at the swingers as well as the rocking chair jockeys.

TEXANS AT WAR

Led Section Into Battle

By The Associated Press

"The whole company was getting shot up pretty bad," recalls Texan at war Larry Page, section leader on a helicopter supporting U.S. ground troops near An Khe.

It was Sept. 18, 1965, and a subsequent citation would commend Page, 26, for "exceptionally valorous actions."

Enemy gunfire that day cut short his one-year Vietnam tour by nearly 11 months.

Three times Page flew into a landing zone in a valley containing three Viet Cong battalions.

COURAGE

A letter accompanying the Air Medal for Heroism told how Page, on the first sweep, received light small arms fire from three sides.

"Later, on the second lift," it said, "he again demonstrated the same skill and courage by leading his section through heavy automatic weapons and small arms fire."

"Lt. Page completed this lift without the loss of a single man. On the third lift, with full knowledge that the Viet Cong fire had greatly increased in intensity and accuracy, he led his section into the severely defended area."

DIRECT HIT

Recalling that third lift, Page, now a captain, said:

"We made an approach down to 50 to 75 feet. But we were getting shot up so bad we went ahead and flew out. In the process of this pull out, I got wounded.

"The first round . . . hit me in the leg, right above the boottop. . . . It was a direct hit. It shattered both bones. The leg was broken and bleeding pretty badly."

"We got a tourniquet on it as soon as we got clear of the LZ fire."

The injury healed properly during six months at Brooke Army Hospital in San Antonio and the Pampa native, who calls Snyder home, was sent on to Ft. Wolters. He is a helicopter instructor there.

Pacification Plan Pushed

SAIGON (AP) — A major overhaul of the American effort to aid pacification of the Vietnamese countryside was under way today to further trim duplication and lack of coordination.

Some Vietnamese sources voiced concern over reported eagerness in Washington for quick results. The latest program to win over the peasantry to the government side is showing signs of progress after a series of defeats, and, the sources said, it could be damaged fatally by pressure for speed and rapid expansion.

The final form of the new American command structure in pacification is still being worked out in Washington, U.S. officials said. Sources said Robert W. Komer, a special assistant to President Johnson, will replace outgoing Deputy Ambassador William Porter as head of the civilian part of the pacification program. Komer has recently been concentrating on pacification problems.

Porter's nominal replacement in the embassy is Eugene Locke, a Texas oil man who was ambassador to Pakistan. Whether Locke will have a pacification role is not clear here. That probably will be announced after the current talks in Washington involving most of the new men in the top U.S. civilian slots in Saigon.

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge is being replaced by Ellsworth Bunker.

Komer is considered here a take-charge man who is well acquainted with pacification problems. He also is regarded as a man who demands quick results and has an abrasive personality.

542 Texans Die In Viet

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas adjutant general's department reports 542 Texans killed in Vietnam.

The department said reports from the Defense Department for the period through Sunday show 444 Texans killed in action, an increase of eight since the last report Friday.

There have been 98 reported dead of non-combat causes since 1961.

A casualty is listed from Texas as if his next of kin has a Texas address.

Newsman Says Life For Most Reds 'Hellish'

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Life for most North Koreans — except for top Communist party officials — is "hellish," says North Korean journalist Lee Soo-keun, 44, who defected Wednesday.

U.S. officers said Lee, vice president of North Korea's official Central News Agency, made a voluntary getaway at the truce village of Panmunjom by jumping into a sedan belonging to the U.N. Command, but North Korea charges he was In talks with newsmen since his escape, Lee said North Koreans "are starving and are leading a miserable life." He said they lack food, clothing and shoes and other necessities.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Can the teaching flexibility of a private school, the benefits of family participation and support by tax funds be combined to provide high quality public education.

Turtle Discovers Sub For Myrtle

DALLAS (AP) — Pirtle the turtle is a lot like some human beings: He's in love with himself.

Pirtle had a mate named Myrtle at the Roy Long family, but Myrtle passed on eight years ago.

Pirtle moped, then one day he found another turtle just like him living in the mirror-bright chrome on the bottom of the refrigerator. He tried all means to get around the chrome to the other turtle.

Mrs. Long bought Pirtle a mirror. He spends hours before it, clapping his front claws over his head. A book says that is the turtle way of wooing another turtle.

DEPLORABLE LEVEL
The group's leader, Stephen G. Cary, explained Sunday night in an interview that the group hopes to "lift achievement levels above the very deplorable level at which they are now in (city) schools."

"Also, we hope we can encourage white families who have left the area to come back to send their children to this school because of the very high level of education offered," Cary said.

PIPE DREAM?
What pipe dream is based on some very sound educational principles, said Cary.

He outlined these plans: First, the school would be staffed adequately to avoid the high pupil-teacher ratio of many city schools.

Teachers from private schools would be brought in to aid in the school.

PEWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — "It was a very inspiring service," said the Rev. LeRoy Andersen, of the brief, 15-minute ceremony Saturday in which Edmund Kurth, 35, Pewaukee, a Roman Catholic priest, and Shirley Weis, 34, a former nun, were wed.

The Rev. Mr. Andersen, pastor of Galilee Lutheran Church here, said only a small number of persons attended the service, but declined to say where or when the ceremony was held.

Kurth had said earlier he assumed the wedding would mean excommunication. He had been a Milwaukee Catholic high school teacher and a member of the Pallotine Fathers.

The bride, the former Sister Fredalene, had been working as a Chicago public school teacher.

BEAUMONT (AP) — Famed Dr. Albert Schweitzer regarded Beaumont as a very generous city, according to a letter the Beaumont Chamber of Commerce received from a Fort Worth woman.

Mrs. Harry Wallenberg wrote the chamber that she was with the famous medical humanitarian at his hospital in Lambarene, Africa shortly before his death.

"Learning I was from Texas," she wrote, "he took me to a thatched hut, opened the door with a flourish, and said proudly, 'From Texas! Sacks, sacks, sacks of rice!'"

Auto Deaths Mar Easter

Broadway Theater Gets Gussied Up

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway rolled out its best red carpet Sunday night to present the Tony awards for theater excellence and take its place among the national spectacles of the motion picture Academy Awards and television's Emmys.

As motion picture and theater star Lauren Bacall put it: "It's damn well about time."

The hour-long 21st annual Tony award presentation, televised nationally from the Schubert Theater by the American Broadcasting Co., was the best show on Broadway Sunday night — all other Broadway theaters were dark for the holiday.

'CABARET' SCORES
 The musical, "Cabaret," with eight prizes, and an English play, "The Homecoming," scooped up 12 of the 16 silver medallions.

Barbara Harris of "The Apple Tree" and Robert Preston of "I Do! I Do!" took the top awards for musical performances and Beryl Reid of "The Killing of Sister George" and Paul Rogers of "The Homecoming" took medallions as top stars in straight drama.

Tonys for supporting roles went to Joel Grey and Peg Murray, both of "Cabaret"; and to Marian Seldes of "A Delicate Balance" and Ian Holm of "The Homecoming" for supporting dramatic roles.

CARPET OUT
 Other awards to "Cabaret" went to producer Harold Prince, librettist Jose Masteroff, composer John Kander and lyricist Fred Ebb, sharing the medalion for the best musical; to Prince for his direction; to Kander and Ebb for the best score; to Patricia Zipprodt for costuming; Boris Aronson for scenic design, and Ronald Field, choreography.

"The Homecoming" took the Tony for the year's outstanding drama, shared by author Harold Pinter and producer Alexander H. Cohen, and for direction by Peter Hall.

Pilgrims Shiver In Snowy Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector (AP) — As Easter pilgrims shivered in snowy Jerusalem, Italians favoring birth control and divorce demonstrated in St. Peter's Square and Pope Paul VI urged the world Sunday to hope despite "menacing and gigantic problems."

Jerusalem's Easter weather was the worst in memory, and it kept all but about 500 of the thousands of pilgrims in the Holy City away from prayers at the marble tomb of Christ. The first snow on the holiday in decades led some pilgrims to exchange "Merry Christmases" instead of "Happy Easter."

Rail Merger Is Held Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court held up the merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads today.

Justice Tom C. Clark, announcing the 5-4 decision, said the merger should be delayed until the Interstate Commerce Commission determines the fate of smaller railroads.

Clark made it clear the court was not passing on the validity of the merger, the biggest corporate union in the history of American business.

Delay had been requested by the Justice Department and by nine other railroads.

The proposed $4-billion merger had been under study and discussion by the Interstate Commerce Commission for some 10 years. It approved the deal last April, saying the merger could "fall apart" by delay.

The three smaller railroads whose future is involved in the delay are the Erie-Lackawanna, the Delaware & Hudson and the Boston & Maine. They want to be included in a major rail system, saying they could not survive as independent carriers.

The Justice Department had asked that the merger be delayed until the three, referred to by U.S. Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall as "little orphans," get a home.

Clark said the court had given weight to ICC estimates that it can conclude in "a relatively short time" its proceedings in regard to inclusion of the three in the Norfolk & Western system.

Therefore, Clark said, sending the case back to the commission for further proceedings entails only "a very short delay."

Before nearly 250,000 persons jammed into St. Peter's Square in Rome, Pope Paul said that his own joy on the festive day of Christ's resurrection was dimmed by the world's troubles. But he urged men not to let their minds be saddened "at the futility of efforts towards good at the growing powers of darkness."

The Pope said he believed it was time for the Roman Catholic Church to take up social problems again and announced the publication Tuesday of an encyclical on social justice and an end to poverty and hunger. It will be the fifth encyclical of the Pope's 3½-year reign.

'YES TO PILL'
Pope Paul began the day by celebrating Mass in a poor suburb of Rome. In white vestments and a mitre, he also celebrated Mass on the steps of St. Peter's before giving his Easter message to the throng in the square.

The Pope touched on the Vietnam war and religious restrictions in Communist nations and elsewhere.

As the pontiff appeared to speak, about 30 persons near the front of the crowd unveiled banners reading, "yes to the pill," and "five million Italians want a family without hypocrisy and cruelty."

'U.S. WAR'
Others tried to tear down the banners and police hurried the demonstrators out of the crowd. The Roman Catholic Church forbids divorce and artificial methods of birth control.

In Vietnam, many American troops attended services in the field during a quiet Easter.

About 1,500 banner-bomb marchers turned out in West Berlin, the first time the Easter disarmament demonstrations that take place elsewhere in

School Absentees Now Total 47

Deadline for absentee voting in the school board elections is 5 p.m. Tuesday, Margaret Ray, chief deputy in the office of Pauline Petty, county clerk, warned today.

Absentee votes for the Big Spring Independent School District and the Howard County School Board elections are being accepted at the office of the county clerk. The election is Saturday, April 1.

So far, 47 electors have availed themselves of the absentee voting privilege. Two members of the Howard County School Board are to be elected. The incumbents are running unopposed. Two members are to be elected to the Big Spring board.

West Germany were held in the city. Some marchers carried signs against the "U.S. war" in Vietnam.

3,000 JAILED
In the United States, hundreds of thousands attended sunrise services in generally good weather. New York City's traditional Easter parade along Fifth Avenue was marked by many fur coats and relatively few frilly hats.

New York's temperatures were in the 50's but many among the 220,000 holiday strollers remembered the heavy snow and cold of last week. The reported record crowds.

parade included a few miniskirts, one on a bearded man, and a white poodle who wore a red jacket and white helmet and sat on a motorcycle.

Mexico City police arrested more than 3,000 pranksters who observed the Easter custom of drenching strollers and motorists with water. Thousands of persons returned to the Mexican capital late Sunday night after Holy Week vacations. Hundreds of government agencies, banks, stores and industries were closed at least three days during the week, and beach resorts reported record crowds.

Park Has Lots Of Traffic

Sunday's lazy spring weather, plus Easter, boosted traffic at Scenic Mountain State Park.

During the day, reported Burrell Cramer, park manager, 775 vehicles covered the mountain drive. This compared with 400 the previous Sunday.

There were numerous out-of-county cars Sunday visiting the park, and many families came out to hide Easter eggs in the park for youngsters. Traffic at the park has been above 100 cars per day for a long time, Cramer reported, and on weekends the figure jumps up.

Another form of traffic which doesn't show up on the vehicle counters is that of walkers. This figure jumps up, too. Yes. Approximately two-dozen hikers make the mountain trail every morning, and on weekends over 3,000 visitors.

A Devotional For The Day

Our Savior Christ Jesus . . . abolished death and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel. (I Timothy 1:10, RSV)

PRAYER: Glorious Savior, we cannot understand the miracle of Thy resurrection, but we believe it with all our hearts and minds. We humble ourselves in Thy presence, and rejoice that Thou art alive forevermore. In Thy name we offer our thanksgiving and praise. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Time For Reform

The closing of the office of the county superintendent here should focus attention anew on the need for an intelligent, objective overhaul of county government structure in Texas.

That the machinery manages to function as effectively and as economically as it does is a tribute to those who serve in offices and not to the system. It was designed to meet the needs of a rural setting when lines of communication and transportation were relatively primitive. All that has changed — but not the form of county government.

The functions of county government may be essentially grouped under five major categories — judicial, law enforcement, records, taxes and services. All the courts could be grouped under one section. In Howard County, the abolishing of the constable's post, the law enforcement is concentrated in one section. All record keeping such as those of the clerk, treasurer, could be combined. The tax department essentially performs an unique service, although there is some question that it might be combined with a records division.

Such things as roads, welfare, agriculture, education, library, airport, health unit could be grouped under a services division.

All of this would require coordination and cohesion, which would come only under some responsible administration. This could be done by a board or through an administrator responsible to a board.

But however it is done, there ought to be some more logical, effective means of organizing and assigning the work of county government. Considerable savings could be brought about while coordinating services. Even greater ones could be possible if consideration were given to combining some municipal and county functions, or even to rearranging county geographical boundaries.

The first step, however, is so formidable that the others might confuse the issue to the point of utter hopelessness. Nevertheless, all angles should be considered, and we hope that the governor or someone will someday have courage to face this matter with a sense of urgency and priority it warrants.

Better To Go Along

Under federal law, all states which do not exempt themselves will go on Daylight Saving Time from April 30 to Oct. 29. It is apparent that 45 states, including Texas neighbors, will be under DST.

Yet Texas has not settled the matter by killing a bill which would exempt the state and leave it in standard time during the summer-early fall season.

It seems to us that the groups which might be adversely affected are so small in comparison with the over-all picture that the state would be far better off going along under DST. Tourists, networks, transportation and so many other things are wrapped up that to be an exception would be to invite inconvenience if not chaos.

David Lawrence A Constitutional Convention

WASHINGTON — Efforts are being made by some members of Congress to block the calling of a national convention of the states of the union to amend the Constitution. But the reasons given are not persuasive and can be brushed aside by the courts.

It is claimed, for instance, by Sen. William Proxmire, Democrat of Wisconsin, that Congress must reject as illegal the petitions by 26 of the 32 state legislatures which have called for a constitutional convention. The argument is made that only six of the 32 states were apportioned constitutionally at the time they approved a resolution asking Congress to call a convention.

BUT THE Supreme Court of the United States was held, in the case of Texas vs. White, that acts arising out of an unlawful government would be considered valid. The Court said:

"Acts necessary to peace and good order among citizens . . . which would be valid if emanating from a lawful government, must be regarded, in general, as valid when proceeding from an actual, though unlawful government."

INDEED, if the legislatures of the states which have not been apportioned in accordance with recent court decisions were suddenly held to be unlawful, then the 25th amendment to the Constitution on presidential succession, adopted this year, would be invalid. At least 15 of the state legislatures which participated in the ratification of the 25th amendment would have to be declared illegal.

PERHAPS THE most widely publicized objection to the calling of the convention is one which claims that Congress need not obey the request of the state legislatures and that it can make certain requirements concerning the selection of the delegates and raise barriers. But the best rebuttal to this is to be found in "The Federalist No. 85," in which Alexander Hamilton discussed the same point. He declared that, whenever two thirds of the states concur in their requests for a constitutional convention, the national government has "no option upon the subject." He added:

"BY THE fifth article of the plan (the Constitution), the Congress will be obliged 'on the application of the legislatures of two thirds of the states to call a convention for proposing amendments, which shall be valid, to all intents and purposes, as part of the Constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three fourths of the states, or by conventions in three fourths thereof.'"

"The words of this article are peremptory. The Congress 'shall call a convention.' Nothing in this particular is left to the discretion of that body."

THE PRESSURE for the calling of a constitutional convention is increasing. Recent Supreme Court decisions interpreting the Constitution in a manner which has been widely disapproved are only in part responsible for the rise in public protests. The people are willing to have the lower house apportioned solely on the basis of population, but they want the right to use other factors in apportioning membership in the upper house so that each district — irrespective of population — will have an equal number of representatives in the State Senate.

CONGRESS EITHER will have to go along with public opinion and pass a single amendment on the subject or agree to call a constitutional convention in which other amendments can also be offered. It would seem to be more practical for Congress to meet public sentiment by adopting a new amendment that gives the states the same right of apportionment of their upper house that is given to the United States Senate in the Constitution itself.

$25,000 Position Through Want Ad

BOSTON (AP) — Boston's new director of public facilities landed the $25,000-a-year post after answering a "blind" classified ad in a newspaper. The ad called for an engineer with building construction experience. Malcolm E. Dudley, 42, of Marshfield replied to the Boston box number and got the job. He said he had no idea that the City of Boston had placed the ad.

'WE PACIFY THE POPULATION, EH COMRADE?'

James Marlow Convention Might Become Nightmare

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just two more states and there will be a mishmash unlike anything in 150 years.

Thirty-two state legislatures, just two short of a required two-thirds, have asked Congress to call a constitutional convention on the one man-one vote decision of the Supreme Court.

This would be the first such convention since 1787 if those other two states acted and Congress agreed. There's doubt it would. For just getting to do it, is all a big fuzzi now.

IN 1964 the court held that districts in both houses of state legislatures must be "substantially" equal in population. Only a few states met that standard then. The courts have ordered the rest to get in line. Under the court's thinking rural areas had long held more legislative seats than they were entitled to in proportion to the number held by the more densely populated cities. This became known as the one man-one vote decision.

IT ENCOUNTERED furious objections which, although one state after another has reapportioned its legislature, haven't disappeared. One of the most vocal objectors was, and is, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

This leader of the Senate Republicans tried twice, in 1965 and 1966, to get the Senate to approve a constitutional amendment undoing the court's ruling. Each time he lost by seven votes.

His amendment would let the people in a state decide whether they wanted to apportion one branch of their legislature on some basis besides population. This didn't work and something else was tried by the states themselves.

ALTHOUGH the court's decision wasn't made until 1964, it indicated what was coming as early as 1962 when it said legislatures' districts were subject to scrutiny by the federal courts. States took the hint. In 1963 some of them began petitioning Congress for the constitutional convention. The real petition rush began after the 1964 action. Until now 32 states have asked for the convention. They could take this road to circumvent the court because of Article 5 in the Constitution.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Prison is habit-forming. Three out of every four released convicts wind up behind bars again.

IF THE EARTH were to be divided equally among everyone alive, your fair share would amount to about 12½ acres.

The coldest community in the world is Oymyakon in Siberia, where a temperature of minus 96 degrees has been recorded. Because of its inclement climate Siberia, which is as large as the combined area of the United States and Mexico, has a population of only about 23½ million.

THE HOTTEST place in America is the Greenland Ranch in Death Valley, Calif. On July 10, 1913, the mercury there soared to a sizzling 134 degrees — in the shade!

Do you think of America's "Founding Fathers" as old men? The average age of the signers of the Declaration of Independence was 44.6 years, and the men in President George Washington's first Cabinet averaged only 39 years at the start of their term in office.

TOURISM has become one of the world's fastest growing industries. Last year about 116 million people traveled outside their home countries, and spent about $13½ billion.

To Your Good Health Arbitrary Age Limit For Blood Donors

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: I have been a blood donor for 13 years and have given 64 pints. I am now 60 and they say I cannot give any more. What is the reason, please? — H.M.E.

It is an arbitrary age limit adopted by the Red Cross and other blood banks; 60 is currently the top age. It used to be 50. Possibly in time it will be increased further, but I presume that certain precautions will be observed. The rule is for your own protection. Your blood is as good as ever, but as we grow older there is the possibility that taking a pint of blood could alter your blood pressure abruptly and perhaps cause some vascular trouble.

The fact that this wouldn't bother everyone at that age is beside the point. The rule was adopted in the interests of everybody, particularly those who might be unusually sensitive to a change in pressure. I bow to you, sir, for contributing 64 pints. You have certainly done your duty.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 66 and am losing my potency and sex drive. Can something be done about this? At what average age should a man slow down sexually? My doctor gave me some capsules, but they have not done the job so far. — J.C.S.

I doubt if it is possible to establish any average age for slowing down because such an enormous difference exists from one individual to another. Fatigue, nervous tension, mental attitude, and many other subtle factors have a considerable bearing.

As an indication of the range in individual differences, my mail alone contains letters complaining about lack of vigor in the 30's to one from a wife complaining that her husband was extremely active at nearly 80.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a son, 3, and am concerned because he has some very feminine ways. He has three sisters and two brothers, and as we are cramped for room they all sleep in the same room, the boys together and the girls together. Our doctor says he'll grow out of this, but what can I do to help him? — MRS. M. H.

I think you are judging him prematurely, at 3. He may be mimicking behavior of his sisters, but as he gets older the normal competitive influence of his brothers will take care of that.

If you are worried about his becoming a homosexual, forget it. This trait is found more in children who have overindulgent and overprotective parents, and don't have the healthy competition of being in a large family. My advice is to give the youngster a little more time to grow up and do not show your concern about his behavior.

I deleted your remarks about the playmate who sleeps with his mother. That is not a good thing and is often found in the background of a child who ultimately becomes a homosexual.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is TV (either black and white or colored) bad for the eyes if watched, say, for six hours at one sitting? — A.T.S.

It won't harm the eyes, but for a reasonable healthy person that is an awful lot of sitting, and some exercise might be in order, instead. Something more stimulating to your brain is another matter.

Emphysema can be controlled. To learn how to live with this serious lung disease, write to Dr. Molner in care of the Herald, requesting a copy of the booklet, "How to Control Emphysema," enclosing a long self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

Everybody Likes Postcards

What average American and his wife can trek to some storied vacation spot half way around the world and resist sending back an appropriately decorated card to their neighbors which reads:

"Wish you were here."

In reality, if they put their true feelings on such a message, it would probably read:

"Bet you wish you were here."

BE THAT as it may, the post card has been with us less than a hundred years and the Post Office Department has made it legal for the poor postman to be weighed down by such items for less time than that.

A man by the name of John P. Chariton of Philadelphia received a copyright on the post card as recently as 1861. That copyright was later transferred to another resident of the City of Brotherly Love, one H. Lipman, who printed and sold a card that had not been gussed up by a colored picture of Independence Hall or the Flatiron Building or Abraham Lincoln delivering the Gettysburg Address.

IT WASN'T until around 1869 that an Austrian, one Dr. Emmanuel Herrmann, spearheaded a movement to get the post office people in his nation to OK delivery of a post card, after contending that such an item would be ideal for carrying brief messages at small cost.

Within the memory of our older generation, it was possible to get the U.S. Postal Service to deliver such a message for a copper cent. Lamentably, such is no longer the case. The levy had quadrupled since then and the end is not yet in sight.

SINCE MAN began to walk upright, he has had an irresistible urge to put pictures on any convenient surface. His counterpart today hasn't changed. The picture post card manufacturers, of course, capitalize upon that yen. Today six large firms and numberless smaller ones in the United States bring forth nearly two billion post cards a year—about ten for every citizen.

PEOPLE GET inundated in them each Yuletide and vow to take some measures to stop the flow. Yet most of those same people betray their good intentions by indexing their incoming cards, then send out greetings to those received the following Christmas. The manufacturers live happily, secure in the knowledge that there is no happy medium about such practices, and go right on printing the things, knowing well the market is there.

Holmes Alexander New Team, New Tactics?

WASHINGTON — Nothing in foreign affairs quite pleased President Johnson so much as the record he made in the Dominican Republic — and now he is trying for a repeat performance in Vietnam.

He is taking a long bet that the same numbers and colors will fall in the roulette wheel. Even in gambling, this is a reckless play, but in diplomacy many will call it foolhardy.

MR. JOHNSON'S naming of Ellsworth Bunker, 72, as the new Ambassador to Saigon has distressed the anti-Communist hard-liners, especially since the appointment came just as the President was making a fighting speech on Vietnam in Nashville.

The President is said to admire Bunker as the envoy who handled the interim negotiations in the Dominican Republic and made possible the kind of results which Mr. Johnson would now like to see in Vietnam. These would include a free, honest, heavily participated election within the next few months, and the choice of a leader who is at least nominally independent of American influence, to warrant the phasing out of American forces.

SIGNIFICANTLY, another old Dominican hand of the Johnson regime is General Bruce Palmer Jr., of the Second Field Force in Vietnam, but formerly the commanding officer of U.S. forces in the Dominican Republic and mentioned as a successor for General Westmoreland. Palmer is Texas-born. So is Eugene Locke, the new deputy ambassador. The new "pacification" director is Robert Komer, a White House aide. It's plain to see that Mr. Johnson is sending his own team into the game.

THEORETICALLY, Bunker, Palmer, Locke and Komer are emblems of the "get-in, get-it-over-with, and-get-out!" policy which took place in the Dominican Republic. The President regards that action as a shining contrast to the non-action on Cuba which caused failure and disgrace at the Bay of Pigs and the subsequent arrival of Soviet missiles. The President, an interventionist who used troops in the Dominican Republic and a combat airlift in the Congo, would have a three-for-three record if he could manage some sort of token withdrawal from Vietnam as soon as the major military operations are over.

IT MAY BE that the wheel of fortune will spin as the President envisions it, but the informed feeling is that he may be playing with shadows rather than substance. There is very little valid comparison between the Dominican Republic, where the U.S. had had a long experience in politics, diplomacy and business investment, and the Republic of Vietnam, where we are still newcomers and have known only warfare. The Latin mind and the Asian mind are far apart.

THE SUMMATION has to be that Mr. Johnson has tentatively reconsidered the grinding logic which he expressed at Nashville in saying that America must "stay the course." He has decided, for some hidden reasons or occult insight, to play a hunch. Logic demands that we get the military victory first, as we are well able to do. Almost any routine replacement for Ambassador Lodge would have indicated that we intended no change until the fighting stops. But the injection of Mr. Bunker and the new Johnson team shows that the President is rushing the season and is gambling on shortening the struggle by other than military means.

Why, with things going so well, the President should start experimenting, is hard to say.

John Cunniff Business-Government Partnership

NEW YORK (AP) — Having returned to corporate life after two years as secretary of commerce, John T. Connor says he is now "an apostle of the creed that it is essential for government and business to work together."

Connor believes both share the same obligation to the public: They must satisfy it. And, as industry becomes more exposed to possible regulation and control, it must recognize that politics is part of the style of the times.

THE DAY is here, Connor said in an interview, "when each industry must have an appropriate representation in Washington, perhaps in the form of a trade organization, with knowledge of how Congress works."

Connor expressed his views less than two months after leaving government to become president of Allied Chemical Corp. It is his second corporate presidency. The first was with Merck & Co., a pharmaceutical firm.

Now, high in a skyscraper office, Connor reports that his Washington experience "broadened my horizons immeasurably."

"QUITE A FEW industries are not alert to the age," he found. "Politics is life, a reflection of the worries and concerns of people. You must be attentive to these needs, for they find expression through Congress."

This is the age of the active consumer, a time when gripes and problems are being focused on Washington as never before. And when Washington responds to these gripes it tends to prove that the American system works.

As Connor views it, many of the problems that now trouble several American industries, the automotive industry included, were isolated and minor when they first arrived in Washington as complaints.

government climate after viewing both sides at the highest levels, a new kind of corporate responsibility is demanded.

There is no question whatever, he said, that "you must identify with the public interest. It is simply good business to identify the corporate interest with the public interest."

TO ILLUSTRATE, the former commerce secretary chose the automotive industry—he has been a director of General Motors.

"There is no question that the automobile we will see 25 years from now will be a very different kind of vehicle," he said.

"Until recently, however, automotive executives would have poo-pooed any suggestion they might be forced by public attitudes to sell vehicles in 10 or 15 years powered by something other than the internal combustion engine."

Connor said, "One thing is clear. It will be a very changed industry." Changed by social and political forces.

Cable Is Kept In Good Repair

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Visitors to Cape Kennedy frequently see an old freighter berthed at Port Canaveral.

The ship does not carry ordinary cargo. Her holds contain huge coils of cable and tools to repair or replace sections of a 1,600-mile communications lifeline.

Stretched between the cape and Antigua, West Indies, the cable lies on the ocean floor. It links several downrange stations with the Cape's nerve center.

The 158-foot ship, operated by Pan American as prime contractor on the Eastern Test range, is skippered by Capt. J. B. Fitzpatrick. He has navigated the maze of islands, cays and treacherous reefs along the cable route through the Bahamas and Calcos Islands for the past seven years.

Three Copters Gunned Down By Communists

SAIGON (AP) — American airmen smashing deep into North Vietnam shot a Communist MIG17 from the skies Sunday while the ground war erupted with sharp fighting from the 17th Parallel to the Mekong Delta.

One U. S. jet went down over the North, but the pilot was saved. Communist ground gunners in the South downed three American helicopters and badly shot up four more.

A series of Red assaults and mortar barrages in the delta, including one attack on the U. S. airfield near Can Tho, brought out a blazing display of U. S. ground, sea and air power. The guerrilla attacks were met with fire from helicopter gunships, shots from river patrol boats and a rain of bullets from lumbering C47 transports mounting guns that can each spew 6,000 rounds a minute.

AIR BATTLE

The air battle over North Vietnam took place during a strike on the Son Tay Army supply point 23 miles west of Hanoi, the first time the installation has been reported bombed. It contains half a dozen ammunition bunkers and a string of barracks.

A flight of eight Soviet-designed MIGs jumped the U.S. raiders, and an Air Force F105 Thunderchief turned into the marauders and shot one down. It was the 38th MIG kill claimed by U.S. fliers in the war, in contrast to 10 U.S. planes shot down by North Vietnamese pilots.

The Thunderchief that went down over the North was hit by ground fire just above the demilitarized zone, the Air Force said. It was the 497th U.S. plane reported lost over the North. Hanoi radio claimed three U.S. planes were downed Sunday.

98 SORTIES

The Air Force spokesman said that despite continuing bad weather, U.S. pilots hit North Vietnam with 98 missions Sunday.

The fighting in the delta centered near Can Tho, 50 miles southwest of Saigon, and was another sign of the mounting war in that vital area, which grows much of the nation's rice and holds most of her people.

Supporting South Vietnamese troops, a flight of helicopters got caught in heavy ground fire in Vinh Long Province. Three were shot down, four were badly damaged. Two Americans were killed, two were missing and 12 were wounded. But South Vietnamese headquarters said 142 Viet Cong were killed in the action.

EERIE LIGHT

Late Sunday night the guerrillas struck again with 40 mortar rounds fired on the airfield west of Can Tho, causing no damage, officials reported, and a series of attacks on river outposts manned by South Vietnamese militia.

Flareships circled the Can Tho area throughout the night, casting an eerie light over the rice fields and isolated batties. A fleet of four small river patrol boats, each with three machine guns and a grenade launcher which can hurl 40 rounds per minute, swept up the Bassac River to help one embattled post.

HIT AND RUN

Overhead a twin-engine C47 transport with fast-firing guns poking out of its side circled and laid down streams of fire on the attacking guerrillas. Two other C47s circled another embattled post a few miles away.

In the hit and run manner of the delta war, the guerrillas pulled back by dawn. Near the demilitarized zone in the North, U.S. Marines were engaged in renewed battles on the gentle slopes of Con Thien mountain, which dominates the coastal sector of the zone. The day's fighting cost the Marines six dead and 28 wounded. A Navy helicopter from the carrier Princeton, on a medical evacuation flight, was shot down with no reported casualties.

MARINE DIES

Just to the west of this battle another Marine unit lost one dead and six wounded during a 200-round Communist mortar barrage. The Marines had just uncovered a series of more than 100 Communist bunkers just south of the demilitarized zone. In and around the zone the Reds have some 35,000 troops and have long been expected to make some offensive moves.

Scattered fighting also continued along the Cambodian border northwest of Saigon. Operation Junction City, the biggest U.S. ground sweep of the war which was begun Feb. 22, continued to probe for suspected Communist hideouts in war zone C. Five U.S. infantrymen died and seven more were wounded. The operation was supported again by B52 bombers from Guam, each carrying a 60,000-pound bomb load. They hit a suspected Red camp a dozen miles from the Cambodian frontier. Two other B52 raids hit suspected Red hideouts west of Da Nang and in coastal Binh Dinh Province.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A96 ♥10743 ♦76 ♣A952

East South West North

Pass Pass 1 ♦ Dbie.

Pass 1 ♥ Pass 2 ♥

Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four hearts. This is a good hand opposite a take-out double and partner's subsequent free bid indicates about 17 or 18 points which with your nine should produce a reasonable play for game.

The enunciated trump holding should not deter you since partner figures to have four very good hearts as part of his values.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠KQ1053 ♥AQJ42 ♦K5 ♣8

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♥ Pass 2 NT Pass

3 ♥ Pass 3 ♣ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Four no trump. The final destiny of this hand depends on the number of aces partner has.

His initial response marks him with possession of the king of hearts and almost assuredly either the ace or queen of diamonds. If he shows two aces then you can bid a slam in spades with the assurance that at worst it will depend on finding a spade honor either in partner's hand or with East.

Q. 3—Your partner opens with two diamonds and you hold:

♠J10864 ♥9642 ♦A ♣542

What is your response?

A.—Two no trump. A two spade bid is not acceptable, for the minimum biddable suit to justify a positive response to a two bid is five to the queen-jack.

Q. 4—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠5 ♥Q8 ♦KQJ643 ♣AK108

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♦ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

2 ♣ Pass 2 NT Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Four diamonds. Partner has shown a fairly good hand which evidently fits and the bulk of your strength should be shown at this point.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠J876 ♥52 ♦AK108 ♣854

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

Pass Pass - 1 ♥ 1 NT

Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two no trump. Your partner's one no trump overall should be shown the same respect that one gives an opening one no trump bid. You have a balanced hand with eight points, and the raise is indicated.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠7 ♥AKJ52 ♦AQ106 ♣942

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♥ Pass 1 ♣ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—A rebid of two hearts would not be good tactics. Remember, a rebiddable suit gives you the option to rebid it but places you under no obligation to do so. After all, partner can have a singleton heart and three or four diamonds. A bid of two diamonds is recommended.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠10742 ♥A10 ♦AJ1042 ♣A9

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♥ Pass 2 ♥ Pass

2 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Your trump support is adequate to assist a rebid suit, inasmuch as your hand represents the equivalent of a very sound opening bid, you should feel convinced that your side has a game, and the recommended procedure is contracting for game at this point by a bid of four hearts.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠J10954 ♥KQ ♦AQ983 ♣2

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

Pass 1 ♣ Dbie. Redble.

What do you bid now?

A.—When an opponent doubles your opening bid and partner rebid, the accepted practice is to pass the response around to your partner. In this case, however, we recommend a bid of two diamonds. With your unbalanced hand you are not the least bit interested in hearing a penalty double, and this is the most convenient time to describe the type of hand you hold.

Silk Industry King Missing

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — James Thompson, the American king of Thailand's silk industry, has been missing for more than 24 hours in the jungles of the Cameron highlands resort area, Malaysian police reported today.

Thompson, 61, is one of the best known Americans in Southeast Asia.

Visiting a friend in the Malaysian hill resort, Thompson went for a walk Sunday afternoon in the jungle. When he did not return after about three hours, a search was launched but the darkness hampered it.

At least 100 police, troops and civilian volunteers searched through the jungle today but found no trace of Thompson by evening.

Thompson headed an Office of Strategic Services team for Thailand during World War II and has lived in Bangkok ever since the Japanese surrender.

When he settled in Bangkok, the production of the brilliantly colored Thai silks by native cottage workers had died out. Thompson revived it, assembling designers to recreate and enlarge the color combinations and patterns, and training workers to produce the silks on home looms.

He brought his product to New York, interested fashion designers and home decorators and built up an international marketing and promotion organization. His silks are now one of Thailand's best known exports to the Western world.

Kansas City Firemen Plan Total Walkout

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Firemen are continuing with plans that will leave Kansas City virtually without fire protection by Tuesday morning. They are seeking higher wages and shorter hours.

Stanton Gladden, a battalion chief and president of the Fire Fighters Local 42, said two more men in each company would take sick leave today. About sixty reported sick Sunday in the first move toward a walkout.

THREATS

Gladden said all other men supporting the move will report they are sick Tuesday. In a similar dispute last summer only a handful of firemen opposed the union.

Mayor Ilius Davis said the city has a plan of action if the walkout becomes complete. He wouldn't disclose the details.

"We don't deal in threats," the mayor said. Last summer, at the city's request, the National Guard was called out to protect the fire stations, although firemen remained on duty during that dispute.

'BLACKMAIL'

The climax will come during the city election Tuesday, in which the 12-member city council and a mayor are elected.

Charles Shafer, attorney for the firemen's union, is a candidate for councilman, a post he formerly held. Gladden has accused the present council of failing to keep its promises. The union has urged defeat of the council majority in the election.

Mayor Davis, seeking re-election, said the "threat to stop fire protection, carried out would be an irresponsible and vicious attempt to blackmail the voters."

"I can't believe that most of the firemen would leave their fellow citizens unprotected in order to further the political ambitions of Gladden and Shafer," Davis said. Gladden said the stoppage was not an official strike or an action by the union.

"It's just a spontaneous action of the men," Gladden asserted. The firemen are demanding a 10-per cent wage increase and reduction of their work week from 56 hours to 50. There are about 850 firemen, and the average salary is $6,700 a year. They are on duty 24 hours and off 48 hours.

The council has offered a five-per cent cost of living wage increase to all city employees, but the firemen say that is not enough for them.

Gay Brewer Eyes Masters

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — "I think I can win the Masters — that's the one I really want," Gay Brewer said today after making a travesty of par in winning his second straight Pensacola Open Golf Tournament.

"I'm playing well. I feel I have a good chance at Augusta. I'm going all out for it."

Winning the Masters holds a special allure for the 35-year-old veteran from Middletown, Ohio, just as repeating in Pensacola enabled him to prove something to himself and others.

Last year Brewer backed into the Pensacola crown when the popular Doug Sanders, leading by four strokes, was disqualified after the third round for failing to sign his score card.

"Nobody spots me four strokes and beats me," a disgruntled Sanders remarked bitterly afterward — a comment said in haste for which he later was sorry.

WON SPECTACULARLY

Brewer took it to heart. "I'd have liked the chance to see whether I could have caught him or not — it's been done," Brewer said. "So I was really anxious to win this tournament this year." He won spectacularly.

Spewing birdies and eagles over the 6,380-yard par 72 Pensacola Country Club course, he scored a near-record 66-64-61-71 — 262 for a six-stroke victory over 36-year-old home pro Bob Keller of the nearby Eglin Air Force Base.

After firing 26 birdies and an eagle in the first three rounds to go 25 under par and increasing that to 29 under par through 66 holes, Brewer looked ready to catch Mike Souchak's all-time record of 257 for 72 holes, set on the Brackenridge course at San Antonio, Tex., in 1955.

RAINS CAME

But the rains came, Brewer bogeyed three of the finishing holes and he had to settle for a score of 26 under.

At the Masters last year, the pug-nosed midwesterner had the traditional green coat virtually in his closet when he came to the final hole needing only a par to win. He three-putted from 40 feet, missing a crucial seven-footer, and tied Jack Nicklaus and Tommy Jacobs at 288.

In the playoff, Nicklaus won with a 70. Tommy shot a 72 and Brewer skied to a 78.

Brewer, in scoring his first tournament victory since the same tournament a year ago, won $15,000. Keller grabbed $9,000, thanks to a fine trap recovery on the final hole, beating out Sanders, who won third money of $5,625. Keller shot 65 for 268, Sanders 64 for 269.

Then came Ken Still, 71 for 271, followed by a quartet at 272 — young Jim Colbert, George Archer, Bobby Nichols, Dan Sikks and Tommy Jacobs.

Other Laker players are Jim Barnes (center), Archie Clark (center foreground) and Walt Hazzard (42). ## Steers Finish Last In Meet

Big Spring captured a second place, a third, a fourth, and three fifth places in the San Angelo Relays held Saturday.

Claude Tucker, with a 39.8, was only one-tenth of a second off the pace set by Jim Wyatt, San Angelo, in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles. Joey Baker did a 40.9 for fifth place.

Kirby Horton heaved the shot 53-10 1/2, good enough for third place. Pete Rodriguez turned a 4:41.5 mile, which placed him fifth. He was 4.4 seconds off the third place spot.

Big Spring took fifth place in the mile relay with 3:51.5; and fifth in the spring medley relay with 1:33.

All of this amounted to 27 points, which left the Steers far behind Abilene Cooper and in last place with 16 points.

Canada-French Aces Set Pace

JACKSON HOLE, Wyo. (AP) — Canada's Nancy Greene and France's Jean-Claude Killy were toasted by more than 100 of the world's top skiers in this western Wyoming community Sunday night, capping three days of rugged competition for the World Cup for Skiing.

Miss Greene, a part 24-year-old member of the 1964 Canadian Olympic team faced the leader of the World Cup competition 22-year-old Marielle Goitschel of France.

On the men's side, Killy was striving to end his season on a victorious note and follow his giant slalom victory Saturday in the Wild West Classic with a win in the slalom.

Miss Greene had turned back Marielle in Saturday's giant slalom and needed a 25-point victory in the slalom to win the massive Crystal Cup in its first year.

She answered that challenge finishing second in the first run behind Florence Stourer of France while Miss Goitschel was close behind in third.

But in the second heat, Nancy, known as the Tiger to her teammates, flashed down the 1,250-foot course in 44.51 seconds, which was coupled with her first run time of 46.16 seconds for a 90.67 total.

Miss Goitschel recorded a 46.21 and a 44.53 for a 90.74 seconds total. In third was Miss Steurer with 93.02.

Meanwhile, Killy was having his trouble with the first run on the 72-gate, 1,875-foot course.

The usually wild Frenchman, who had taken his ninth consecutive victory the day before in the giant slalom, abandoned his style for a conservative race and finished sixth in a time of 62.46 while Australian veteran Karl Schranz was flashing to victory in 60.71.

Killy caught an edge approaching the midpoint on the 67-gate second course for the men and tumbled. He did not finish.

Peugeot Entry Wins Safari

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — The gruelling 3,000-mile 15th East African Safari was won today by a Peugeot fuel-injection 404 driven by Tanzanians Bert Shankland and Christopher Rothwell, last year's winners.

They roared to the finish at Jamburi Park here at about 7 a.m. with only 59 points lost in the hectic four-day marathon into both Tanzania and Uganda.

They promptly announced next year they would attempt the hat trick. If successful, they will be the first to win the Safari three times.

Only 10 points behind on the scorecard and almost certain to be second — though they arrived at the finish a few minutes ahead in the last lap — were Nairobi Rally ace Vic Preston and Robert Gerrish in a Ford Lotus Cortina.

Third was another Kenyan team, Peter Hughes and Robert Sydder, in a Ford Cortina GT, with only 84 points lost.

Fort Worth And Dallas Dominate GG Finals

FORT WORTH (AP)—Dallas and Fort Worth, traditional rivals, face a series of disputes tonight in the finals of the Texas Golden Gloves Boxing Tournament.

The two cities rank one and two in the team standings and representatives of the opposing squads clash in feature matches.

Fort Worth, through three nights of fighting, compiled 12 points with 12 victories and led Dallas by a single point. However, Dallas has five fighters left, Fort Worth only three.

Behind the leaders, it's Wichita Falls, 9 and 4, Corpus Christi, 9 and 2, and Odessa, 8 and 3.

Daryl Stark of Dallas seeks his second consecutive lightweight eight championship against Fort Worth's Mitchell Cagle.

On the other hand, it's Fort Worth's Ronny Wright who must get past James Helwig of Dallas to repeat as middleweight king.

Meanwhile, Fort Worth's Larry Jones, 200, and Tyler's John Brink, 218, clash for the heavyweight crown and Dallas' Joe Cokes challenges Willie Warren of Corpus Christi for the light-middleweight title.

Zeke Sanchez of Odessa, a 1963 state champ, faces Jeryl Welch of Wichita Falls for the welterweight trophy and Simon Rangel, Wichita Falls, takes on John Cole of Dallas in the lightweight final.

Another state champ, Jesse Avalos, the 1965 featherweight titlist, and Joe Louis Valdez, Houston, meet in the light-welter wrap-up.

Houston's Kenny Weldon tests Harlingen's Lorenzo Trujillo in the bantam semies, with Rudy Benitez of Odessa taking on Lupe Ochoa of San Antonio.

For the featherweights, it's Eloy Benitez of Abilene vs. Joe Ramirez of Dallas and Augustine Moreno of San Antonio vs. Doyle Raines of Odessa.

The winners will compose the Texas team that fights next month in the Nation AAU Tournament in San Diego.

This Could Be The Year For Sudden Sam McDowell

The verdict on Sam McDowell may not be final for a couple of months yet, but the Chicago Cubs think they see the jury coming in.

McDowell, of course, is the fireballing Cleveland left-hander who was supposed to make everybody forget about Sandy Koufax. He ran in' arm trouble last year and had a mediocre season.

But Sunday, with the opening of the major-league baseball season just a little more than two weeks away, McDowell went six innings against the Cubs at Scottsdale, Ariz., and gave up not so much as a single hit.

The Indians had a little trouble scoring themselves, but finally pushed across three earned runs in the eighth inning and added another in the ninth, then withstood a Chicago challenge and won 4-3.

WHIFFS SIX

In all, Sudden Sam struck out six and walked one in the Cleveland triumph. The Cubs' runs all came in the ninth, two of them on Ron Santo's two run homer in his first appearance since being spiked on March 17.

In other exhibition games Sunday, Baltimore beat Los Angeles 3-1, Kansas City edged Houston 5-4, California blanked San Francisco 5-0, Philadelphia outslugged Atlanta 10-9, the New York Yankees bounced Cincinnati 9-3, Pittsburgh and Washington tied 5-5 in 15 innings, the Chicago White Sox beat the New York Mets 4-3 in 10 innings, Minnesota blasted Boston 7-1 and St. Louis beat Detroit 6-2.

Cleveland's Dick Radatz set the Cubs down without a hit in the seventh, but Jim Stewart broke the spell in the eighth with a two-out pinch single off Vince Rono.

ASTROS FALL

Dave Johnson knocked in two runs for the Orioles with a double and two singles in the victory over the Dodgers at Vero Beach, Fla. Dave Duncan drove in two runs, one on a homer, for Kansas City as the Astros fell at Cocoa, Fla.

George Brunet set San Francisco down on two hits in six innings in the Angels' triumph at Palm Springs, Calif. Tom Satriano had three hits and two runs batted in for California.

Two balks by Charlie Vaughan sent in the tying and winning runs for Philadelphia at Clearwater, Fla. The Phillies blew a 7-2 lead before coming back for the victory.

Horace Clarke had four runs batted in and four hits for the Yankees at Tampa, Fla., and Lou Clinton homered for the Reds. Whitey Ford was the winning pitcher.

MARATHON

The Senators-Pirates game was called off at Pompano Beach, Fla., after four hours and 15 minutes because of darkness. Frank Howard had three runs batted in for the Senators and Matty Alou and Maury Wills each had four Pittsburgh seven innings in the Minnesota triumph at Orlando, Fla. Rico Petrocelli homered for the lone Sox run.

Ray Washburn doubled in a run and pitched five good innings for the Cardinals at Lakeland, Fla. Jerry Lumpe doubled in both Detroit runs.

Jim Kaat gave up five hits in

Steers To Open Tuesday Against Midland Lee

Boasting one of their best pre-season records, the Big Spring Steers open district competition Tuesday afternoon against Lee in Midland.

Coach Oakley Hagood was undecided today who will pitch the opener, but it will be either Jerry Ryan, David Mitchell or James Newman. All three won their games in the Andrews tournament, which the Steers sacked up Saturday night with a 3-2 victory over Snyder. In that tilt, Newman was nearly flawless, allowing only one hit, a single by David Cardenas in the fourth.

Besides winning the tournament, Big Spring looked better with its hitting. Except for the final game, the Steers were coming up with some fair totals in this department. The pitching, however, was the bright spot, and if Hagood gets this kind of performance in district play, the Steers may make the critics eat their words in picking them for seventh spot in the campaign.

Crucial Week In S'west Baseball

The Southwest — Conference baseball race moves toward the halfway mark this week and five games could change the standings or establish an outstanding favorite. The former seems most likely.

Southern Methodist, leading the race with 3-1, meets Texas A&M at Dallas Tuesday in the first conference test of the week and not much is due to happen in view of the lowly estate of the Aggies. Action picks up for the weekend, however, when Southern Methodist plays Rice two games; Texas Christian, the second place outfit with 2-1, takes on Texas, and Baylor tackles Texas A&M.

Baylor, Rice and Texas all are tied for second with 2-2 records and none of them can afford to lose any more and expect to figure in the championship.

However, only the Aggies are in real bad shape and they have not been mathematically eliminated. They are 0-3 and resting on the bottom.

Southern Methodist and Texas Christian didn't play any conference games last week but did make a tour into Louisiana for series with Louisiana State and Loyole. Each lost two and won two.

Only one conference game was played for the week and in that one Texas whipped Baylor 9-2 to not only prevent the Bears from going into a tie for first place but knocking them down into the triple tie for third.

The nonconference slate is heavy this week. Rice plays the most important games — inter-sectional clashes with Nebraska and Oklahoma State. Texas Christian plays two with Missouri. Missouri also has a pair scheduled with Texas A&M.

Injured Yanks Clinch Berth

VIENNA (AP) — Unbeaten Canada and Russia met today in the World Hockey Championships' showdown game while the battered U.S. team took a day off.

The Americans, laboring under a lengthy toll of injuries, clinched a berth in the 1968 Olympic Games with a 2-0 victory over Finland Sunday.

It was the second straight shutout for goalie Carl Wetzel of Detroit and assured the Americans of no worse than a tie for fifth place in this tournament. The top five teams here qualify for the Olympics.

Wetzel, who played a 0-0 tie against East Germany Saturday, kicked out 27 shots, despite a second period tumble that aggravated an old back injury.

Gerry Melnychuk of Minneapolis and Craig Falkman of St. Paul, Minn., scored the American goals.

Russia, with five straight victories, held a one-point edge over Canada, which had four victories and a tie before today's game.

Both teams have one game remaining after today's match.

FIVE STARTERS BACK UCLA May Have Dynasty Shaping In Basketball

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — John Wooden, coach of UCLA's NCAA national basketball champions, isn't sure what the word dynasty means but he may have one on his hands.

Led by giant Lew Alcindor and tiny Mike Warren, the Bruins wrapped up their third national title in four years Saturday night to cap a perfect 30-0 season.

And with all five starters returning, Wooden won't deny that UCLA may be back to claim the title next year.

"I've never been quite sure what the word dynasty means. I've never looked it up," Wooden said after the Bruins had squashed Dayton's game Flyers 79-64 in the championship game.

HOPE, HOPE

"But I do hope we can stay up there and be a power," he said. "We're certainly going to continue trying and I hope we'll be back next year, and the year following, and the year following and the year following.

"I never want us to do less than we did this year in order to get here," Wooden said.

Wooden denied that a basketball dynasty, at UCLA, if there is to be one, would be harmful to college basketball.

"I'd say the New York Yankee regime wasn't bad for baseball," Wooden said. "I think a winning team should give others incentive to build to the level of the best."

Don Donoher, the Dayton coach, agrees.

COLD SHOOTING

"When you see a team like this it makes you want to build toward it," he said.

The Flyers fell behind 20-4 as the game started and never really knew what hit them.

Dayton's biggest scoring threat, Don May hit only three of 12 baskets in the first half and the team hit only 23.8 per cent from the field. May wound up with 21 points but the Flyers team shooting only warmed up to 34 per cent.

Alcindor's mere presence was enough to intimidate Dayton, but he scored 20 points and nabbed 18 rebounds for good measure. Lucius Allen had 19 points and Warren 17.

SAME STORY

It was the third straight year in the playoffs for Dayton and the third time it had been eliminated by the No. 1 ranked team. The Flyers finished 25-6 this season.

Guy Lewis, whose Houston Cougars did only what was necessary to defeat North Carolina, 84-62 in the consolation game, also is optimistic about next season.

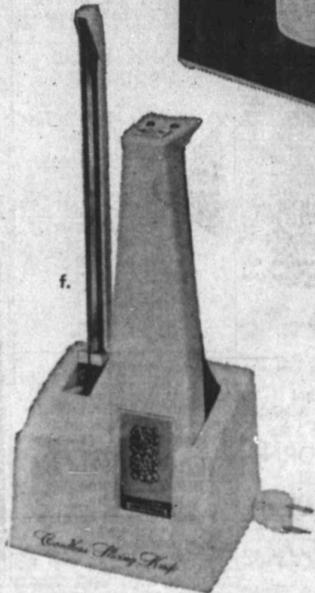

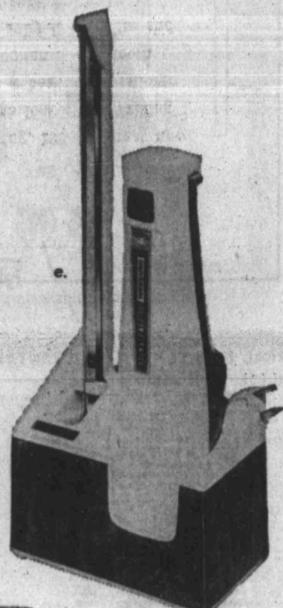

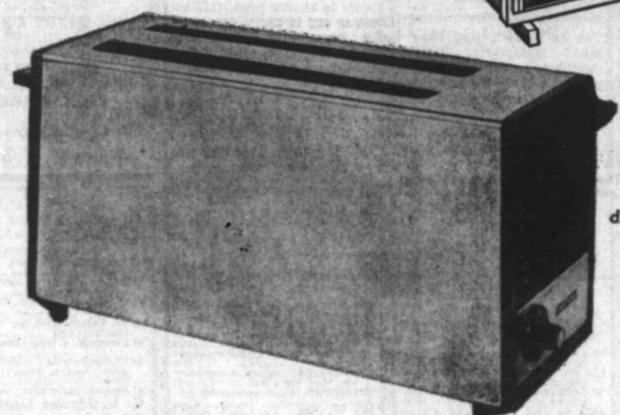

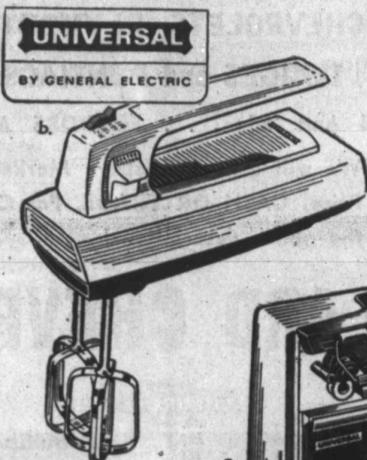

"We lose two starters, but I think that we can have a team just as good or better next season," Lewis said. "When you wind up your season with a win over the number three ranked team in the country, it's a pretty good indication."

Danish Trawler Crew Whips Sea

THORSHAVN, Faroe Islands (AP) — In a risky maneuver, the 22-man crew of the Danish trawler Nolsoyar Pall managed to shift cargo by hand and ward off disaster today in a raging Atlantic storm. But four crewmen who left the ship in a rubber raft were missing.

The 312-ton trawler was out of danger and headed for Thorshavn under her own power, accompanied by a West German trawler, the Danish naval command said. She had sent out distress signals Sunday night after she began to list in heavy seas.

SALT SHIFTED
Despite the high seas the crew decided to risk opening the hatches and undertake the task of shifting the salt cargo to put the trawler on even keel. Directing the operation was the trawler's captain, Ludvig Ryygstein, 38.

A Danish navy spokesman said the maneuver had succeeded. But despite a big air-sea search the four missing crewmen were not sighted. They had boarded a raft when the trawler appeared in danger of sinking. American and British planes participated in the search.

Davis said that three of the defendants who are slated for trial Tuesday have said they would plead guilty this afternoon or tomorrow. Two others, according to their attorney, will be in later in the week to plead guilty to the charges against them.
