

NEXT FALL

Davis To Guide UF

One of the city's young business executives will be at the helm for this fall's annual United Fund solicitation.

Harold Davis, executive vice president of Gamco Industries, Tuesday was given a round of applause when it was announced he would assume one of the major civic tasks of the year.

Members of the UF also named a new group of trustees, then the board was in session to elect officers. R. J. (Dick) Ream, who headed up the fund drive in 1966, was advanced to the presidency, succeeding M. R. (Frog) Koger. Mrs. Edna Womack was named vice president; Charles Dummam, treasurer and Willie Wharton, secretary.

Davis first came to Big Spring in 1947 to join the faculty of Howard County Junior College. He took leave for service during the Korean conflict, then later was at Texas Western (now University of Texas at El Paso) for a short time before returning here to join the Gamco organization.

He has been a worker in several United Fund campaigns; is a member of the American Business Club, which he has served as a director; is a member of the YMCA board; is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce sports and recreation committee; heads the current Businessmen's Olympics organization, and is an official in the Little League.

To help handle special matters in connection with the campaign and UF affairs, Ream named an executive committee consisting of John Currie, Lester Morton, Clyde McMahon Sr., M. R. Koger and R. W. Whippley.

The UF membership named a group of new trustees to rotate three-year terms. The board is expiring each year. New trustees are:

Joe Price, Les Caperton, Dr. W. A. Hunt, Charlie Merritt, Randall Polk, Harry Sawyer, Jerry Worthing, R. J. Ream, Harold Davis, Jim Baum, Don Thompson, Joe Pickle, H. W. Smith, Frosty Robison, Herb Keaton, Frank Hardesty and Clyde McMahon Jr.

Student Inherits Empire

VERNON, Tex. (AP) — A state judge ruled today that A. B. Wharton III, 19-year-old grandson of the founder of the vast Waggoner Ranch empire of North Texas, is the sole heir to the $45 million estate of Electra Waggoner.

"Bucky" Wharton is now a student at the University of the Americas in Mexico City. Dist. Judge Tom Davis' ruling means the young student will get the estate of his grandmother, Electra Waggoner, whose will controlled about half of the cattle and oil spread of the late W. T. Waggoner.

Huge Cattle Kingdom

Davis' ruling also held together the Waggoner empire, one of the largest cattle kingdoms in the nation.

Contests revolving around the will of Electra Waggoner had threatened to fragment the vast estate. The legal wrangle involved 24 attorneys for complaining parties when the will contest hearing opened last February.

Quarter Million Acres

A. B. Wharton Jr., was the beneficiary of the will of Electra Waggoner Wharton, daughter of the ranch founder. A. B. Wharton Jr., died in 1963 and subsequent litigation contesting the multi-million dollar estate filled four file folders in Davis' court.

Davis said the lone heir is "entitled to the principal and accumulated income of the Electra Waggoner Trust Estate." The estate comprises more than a quarter million acres in six counties with oil and expensive cattle and horse holdings.

Electra Died In 1925

Electra Waggoner died in 1925, leaving the trust as a lifetime estate to her sons, Tom Waggoner Wharton and A. B. (Buster) Wharton Jr. Tom Wharton died in 1928.

One person contesting the will was Rita Lorena Wharton, adopted daughter of Buster Wharton's son.

Some heirs claimed the original trust was illegal and invalid.

Some portions of the contest tried to remove directors of the various trusts. One director was former Secretary of the Navy Robert Anderson.

'Soap Operas' Are Replaced By Old Reruns

NEW YORK (AP) — Housewives looking forward to mid-afternoon television soap opera got a bit of a shock today when an old Jack Benny comedy appeared on their screens.

Unfamiliar names were assigned to replace the usual "Good Night, Beulah" or "That's the way the world was. . . ." on evening news shows. And watchers of the weekend Ed Sullivan show may get the feeling they've seen it before.

18,000 OUT

These are some of the changes on the three major television and radio networks resulting from a strike of some 18,000 personalities and newscasters belonging to the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists.

Neither ABC nor NBC was prepared to detail the changes they would make. Hugh Downs, instead of hosting the early morning Today show, picketed NBC headquarters in the rain.

CBS said it would have no problems in the mornings, because all except news shows are filmed or pretaped. News this morning normally anchored by Joseph Benti was handled by Arnold Zenker, manager of program administration for CBS news.

'I LOVE LUCY'

For its afternoon serials, running from noon to 4:30, a variety of replacements were scheduled. "Love of Life" gave way to reruns of "I Love Lucy," "Search for Tomorrow" and "The Guiding Light" are pretaped through Friday, but will then bow to reruns of Jack Benny comedy shows.

The audience participation shows "Password," "House Party," and "To Tell the Truth," are pretaped for the coming week, and would be rerun if the strike continued.

Reruns of half-hour dramas will replace "The Edge of Night" and "The Secret Storm."

If the strike lasts into the weekend, CBS plans reruns of old Ed Sullivan and Jackie Gleason shows. Its other night shows have been either filmed or pretaped.

Mother Shoots Three Children, Takes Her Life

DALLAS (AP) — A mother shot her three children and took her own life at a Northeast Dallas home today. One child was dead at the scene and the others suffered grave head injuries.

Neighbors of the Maurice E. Lee family awoke to the sound of several gunshots. One neighbor said he heard a child scream: "Don't, mother, Don't."

Mrs. Nell Lee was found dead in the bathroom. David Lee, about 12, was dead at the scene. Russell Lee, 13, and Rachael Lee, 14, were hospitalized in grave condition.

The girl, officers said, had been shot between the eyes.

Texas House Approves Bill For Four-Year Terms

Sen. Schwartz Starts Sunday Law Filibuster

AUSTIN (AP) — After turning down what one member whimsically called a "Lurleen amendment," the House approved Wednesday a proposed constitutional amendment giving governors four-year terms.

The vote was 104-44, including Speaker Ben Barnes' first vote of the session. Barnes first announced the vote was 105-44. A verification—also first of the session—was called for and Barnes announced the new result as 103-44, but newsmen noted the speaker's vote was not canvassed.

RAILROADED

In the Senate, as he promised, Sen. A. R. Schwartz, Galveston, launched his filibuster against a bill removing the emergency certificate provision from the state weekend closing law. That provision lets a customer buy items on both Saturday and Sunday if he certifies they are needed because of an emergency.

"This outrageous bill has been railroaded into the Senate. It has been railroaded out of committee, it has been railroaded onto the floor and it has been railroaded by the lieutenant governor to third reading without an opportunity to offer a single amendment to the bill," Schwartz said.

KEEPS TALKING

The lieutenant governor, in an attempt to save 30 seconds, three hours or three days, has tied up this Senate on House bill day for the third consecutive week and it will be tied up a little longer if I live a little longer."

Schwartz, talking on his amendment which would strike the enacting clause to the bill, resumed the filibuster he started last Wednesday.

Before approving the four-year term amendment, House members rejected a change that would have barred governors' wives from succeeding them.

'LURLEEN'

"This is a very serious amendment. I would refer to it possibly as the Lurleen amendment," said Rep. George Richardson, Fort Worth. He referred to Mrs. Lurleen Wallace's election to succeed her husband, George Wallace, as governor of Alabama.

He made a point of saying he was not aiming it at Mrs. John Connally.

"In the present situation, Nellie would probably be a pretty good governor," Richardson said.

FACES DEATH

The four-year terms proposal probably will die in a Senate Committee. The Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee reported a four-year terms amendment to the floor, but was sent back to committee when a senator complained that not all committee members had been given a chance to vote. No further committee action has been taken.

Schwartz' filibuster was quite a contrast to Tuesday when, amid celebrations honoring Sen. Bill Patman, Ganado, as governor-for-a-day, the House voted to accept daylight saving time. The four-year term proposal was debated and tentatively approved Tuesday. Senators had busy morning and afternoon sessions.

Two More Names Submitted For Youth Award

Two more names of outstanding youth leaders — Gary Don Newsom and Steve Stinson — were received today in the nominations for the Zale-Herald Youth Achievement Award.

The public is asked to submit names of junior or senior boys and girls in the county's three high schools—Big Spring, Coahoma and Forsan — and from the list a panel of judges will choose one to receive a trophy, an engraved watch, and top recognition for youth leadership.

A Herald nomination blank must be used, and one appears today in The Herald on Page 4-A.

Johnson Tells CIA To Slice Off Subsidies

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson ordered the Central Intelligence Agency today to begin cutting off all subsidies to private educational, philanthropic and cultural organizations.

Johnson also announced he is setting up a special committee—to include private citizens—to study ways in which the government can channel financial aid to such organizations in an open manner.

CONTROVERSY

The President acted after receiving a report from a three-man committee he appointed last month after a storm of controversy followed disclosure that the CIA was making secret subsidies to the National Students Association, certain labor unions and other groups.

The committee proposed, in a key finding, that "no federal agency shall provide any covert financial assistance or support, direct or indirect, to any of the nation's educational or private voluntary organizations."

Johnson said in a statement he accepts this policy.

DEC. 31 TARGET

The President also went along with another committee recommendation that where support has been given, "it will be terminated as quickly as possible without destroying valuable private organizations before they can seek new means of support."

The panel that studied the CIA subsidy setup told Johnson it believes subsidies could largely, and perhaps entirely, be ended by Dec. 31.

PUBLIC FUNDS

Johnson said: "I accept this committee's proposed statement of policy and am directing all agencies of the government to implement it fully."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk will serve as chairman of the new committee that will consider a recommendation "that the government should promptly develop and establish a public-private mechanism to provide public funds openly for overseas activities of organizations which are adjudged deserving, in the national interest, of public support."

FULL-LINE DEPARTMENT OPERATION

Penney Signs For Huge Store In Highland Shopping Center

J. C. Penney Company, Inc., has signed a lease to occupy a new, full-line department store in the Highland Shopping Center, it was announced today by J. A. Wells, Dallas, Penney district manager, and developers of the Center.

Architectural design work is now in the hands of the firm of Gary & Hohertz, and it is hoped that contract for construction can be let in about 60 days, said Kent Morgan, president of South Mountain, Inc., the landlord. Penney's plans to open the new store—which will be the largest in the city—in mid-1968, at which time the present downtown store will close. Penney has been in the Big Spring business community since 1931.

EAST END

The new facility will anchor the east end of the Highland-Center complex, opening onto the air-conditioned mall, and located between Furr's Cafeteria and the Piggly-Wiggly market.

It will contain 78,768 square feet of department store selling space, including a 4,526 square foot auto center, Wells said.

LARGEST

The Penney Company has been broadening its sales and services into full-line department stores, and the Big Spring location is the first in Texas outside metropolitan areas. "It is the largest store we have yet placed in a market the size of Big Spring," said Wells. "But we are making an investment in this community's future, feeling confident that it will continue bright. Big Spring has been good to us, and we feel this expansion is in line with our growth plans."

The Penney store will have a two-story front. It will contain 55,180 square feet on the first floor and a partial second floor totaling 19,214 square feet.

AUTO CENTER

The auto center will have five automobile service bays and will offer a full line of the company's Foremost brand of tires, batteries and auto accessories.

It is contemplated that the new operation will employ from 75 to 100 people—some four to five times more than the present store. Conventional lines long associated with the Penney store here will be expanded, said Wells, with emphasis on fashion items.

In addition, the new operation will contain such departments as:

NEW DEPARTMENTS

Greeting cards, stationery and office equipment; records and books; watches and fine jewelry; candy and tin foods; a smoke shop; toiletries; lamps and shades, pictures, mirrors; dinnerware, table glassware and silverware; a gift department; furniture and housewares and a "sleep shop"; outdoor furniture; small appliances, such as clocks, radios, phonographs, electronics, television sets and musical instruments; also washers, dryers, refrigerators and freezers and air conditioning equipment; athletic equipment, including fishing and boating items; toys; paint, wallpaper, lighting fixtures and hardware; and outdoor lawn and gardening items. In addition the auto center will be a full-line sales and service operation.

NEGOTIATIONS

Negotiations between Morgan and his associates—James Duncan, vice president and C. R. (Chub) Jones, secretary—and Penney officials have been carried on for many months. Morgan, Jones and Wells were joined in the announcement today by Paul Hathaway, local store manager.

Florida Voters Present GOP Governor Key Help

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Florida emerged today with the strongest two-party legislature in the once solidly Democratic South, giving its new Republican governor strong veto control.

The voters Tuesday abandoned century-old political traditions and gave Republicans strength they have never known in the court-ordered election of Florida's first one-man, one-vote legislature.

Republicans won 20 seats in the 48-member senate and 40 in the 119-member house.

Although only about one-third of the state's 2.5 million voters cast ballots, the electorate — with its first Republican governor in 94 years in office less than three months — gave the GOP a better than one-third minority in the legislative branch.

A two-thirds vote is needed in the Florida Legislature to override a veto.

Not since Reconstruction has the GOP held such leverage in a Southern state government.

Gov. Claude Kirk laid his political prestige on the line as he campaigned for Republican legislative candidates.

But many — including Kirk himself — expressed doubt that he had become sufficiently popular to pull into office as many Republicans as were elected.

Democrats outnumber Republicans on the registration books 4-1.

Kirk was elected last November on an anti-Johnson administration program that embraced no new taxes, all-out war on crime, opposition to rising food prices, and "normal" economic growth. It was the political upset of the century in Florida.

Kirk had called upon the voters in the legislative campaign to "show your dissatisfaction with the Johnson administration as you did in November."

Kirk's controversial "war on crime," which is being run by a private detective agency, was not an issue in any legislative race.

A federal court declared Florida's old apportionment unconstitutional because it was weighted toward rural votes. A new reapportionment — meeting the U.S. Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote dictum — was drawn by the court Feb. 13 and elections ordered to fill it.

FRB Chairman Is Redesignated

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has redesignated William McChesney Martin Jr., as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, the White House announced today.

The announcement ended lengthy speculation over whether Martin would be continued as chairman of the board. Martin's views at times have differed with those of the President, particularly on interest rates.

Evicted

Mrs. Edith Jane Welsh, who supposes she is at least 90, chats with policeman K. E. Carlie after she was evicted yesterday from her Houston apartment and the daughter with whom she lived vanished. The Salvation Army took her in and Harris County welfare workers say they will seek a home for her if necessary. She spent yesterday afternoon in her chair on the lawn, waiting. The little button on her sweater says "Erin go bragh!" (AP WIREPHOTO)

Daughter Refuses To Pay House Rent

HOUSTON (AP) — Edith Jane Welsh, who figures she must be 90, awoke this morning in a Salvation Army shelter, the refuge she accepted after her tidy world went to pieces. Constables knocked on her apartment door early Tuesday to deliver eviction papers for Mrs. Welsh and her daughter. The daughter shouted at them and displayed more than enough money for the two months' back rent she owed, they said. "But I won't pay it," the daughter told the deputies. "Evict us. Go ahead. I've been evicted four times from other places." By early afternoon the household contents were on the lawn. While constables were moving out the furniture and kitchen things, they said, the daughter waved a butcher knife at them and warned: "Don't dare touch my mother." Then the daughter was gone. Mrs. Welsh spent the sunny afternoon in a chair with a bottle of water beside her. Someone put a pillow behind her back and she covered her lap and knees with a blanket. She wore a scarf around her head. On the lapel of her sweater were a bright green ribbon and a round medal inscribed "Erin go bragh!" She kept up a smile for a student and a policeman who stopped to comfort her but she had trouble remembering the answers to their questions. The daughter didn't reappear. Finally, in late afternoon, officer K. E. Carlie and a county welfare worker gently explained that she would have to leave. The welfare office sought today to determine whether Mrs. Welsh receives social security or old age benefits. If her daughter does not want her, a home will be sought.

Publisher Knopf To Wed Novelist

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP) — An April wedding is planned by Mrs. Helen Hedrick, novelist and widow of an Oregon educator, and Alfred A. Knopf, the New York publisher. Announcing their engagement Tuesday, Mrs. Hedrick said she would marry the head of Alfred A. Knopf Inc., April 12 in Rio de Janeiro. She said she met Knopf, 74, when his firm published one of her novels, "The Blood Remembers," in the early 1940s. Mrs. Hedrick is believed to be in her 60s. They corresponded after his wife died last year. Her husband, E. H. Hedrick, died in 1963.

Officers Hunt Fat Kidnaper

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 100 police and 30 FBI agents are on one of the city's biggest man-hunts in years for the kidnaper of an 8-year-old daughter of an unemployed migrant from Loebe, Ky.

Black-haired Carrie Stephens, one of four children of Daniel Stephens, 41, and his wife Alice, 30, disappeared Monday night with a man who said he needed help in finding his dog.

He appeared while Carrie and five playmates were in front of the Stephens home in the uptown district, densely populated by migrants from rural sections of other states. He offered a dollar to any who could find his missing dog.

Three boys looked in one direction while Carrie and two girls went with the stranger in another. The girls told police the man finally grasped Carrie's arm and led her away.

Police artists, with the youngsters' help, made a sketch of the stranger and 7,500 copies were given to searchers. The composite was that of a portly man of about 40 years old, of medium height and wearing hornrim glasses, a three-quarter length tan coat, a red and white shirt and dark trousers.

The hunt by detectives, police, agents, friends and neighbors covered a two-mile radius. They pried into alleys, secluded basements and isolated areas in nearby Lincoln Park. City crews joined with police and dogs of the K9 corps in checking sewers. There was no trace of the girl or her clothing.

LT. GOV. SMITH SAYS: Criticism Is Certain Reward For Leadership

AUSTIN (AP) — "The price of leadership is high and the payments may last a lifetime," Lt. Gov. Preston Smith told the Texas Nursing Home Association Wednesday.

"The only certain reward is criticism from the sidelines," Smith said. "Who would want to put up with that? The answer is that someone must."

HIGH PRICE
"Someone with the proper endowments and credentials must pay the high cost of leadership or leadership will fall by default to the self-serving, the unqualified or the inept."

Smith said the United States and the world are "crying out for educated, soundly motivated leaders."

And a leader cannot lead only eight hours a day, he said. "In order to retain leadership, you must keep leading. We've all seen persons who got away to a great start and then tried to level off. Instead, they flattened out," he said.

SACRIFICES
"The American system demands dedicated leadership as well as responsible citizenship," Smith said. "Nowhere in the Declaration of Independence or the Constitution is there a promise that freedom will come easy, that liberty may be lived and happiness pursued in a constant state of physical comfort and mental serenity."

"The price of liberty is not only eternal vigilance, it is also the sacrifices of leadership."

Thugs Silence Alarm System

DALLAS (AP) — Burglars lifted $25,820 from two safes Tuesday and there wasn't a peep from the electrical alarm system.

The theft occurred in early morning at the office of the Dallas Teachers Credit Union.

A private patrol firm reported the burglar alarm was still in working order and there wasn't a clue to why it gave no signal at the opening of the back door.

Also a mystery was how the intruders snipped wires to the safes without setting off the alarm.

Credit union personnel reported the loss consisted of $3,400 cash and $22,420 in negotiable travelers' checks.

Alaska, Iowa May Petition For Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alaska and Iowa appear the states most likely to next petition for a U.S. constitutional convention aimed at overturning the Supreme Court's one-man-one-vote ruling.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., the leading congressional critic of the court's ruling that each house of a state legislature must be apportioned by population, contends that if two more states petition for a convention, Congress must call one.

By his count, 32 states already have petitioned. But other congressmen dispute Dirksen's count because the states' documents vary. Article V of the Constitution says Congress shall call a convention on application from the legislatures of two-thirds of the states, or 34 of the present 50.

NO CINCH

A petition from Alaska or Iowa is no sure thing.

In each, the House has approved a petition but the Senate has not acted. Observers in each state capital rate the possibility of favorable Senate action no better than 50-50.

An Associated Press survey indicates the issue is alive in four other states — Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

State Sen. Thomas Schweigert, a Republican, introduced a petition resolution in Michigan Friday. Gov. George Romney has taken no position on it. But Romney helped write a provision of the 1963 Michigan constitution which required area to be a factor in establishing state Senate districts.

TOSSED OUT

That provision was later thrown out in court and the Michigan Legislature was reappointed on a very strict one-man-one-vote basis. Democrats, who led the fight for one-man-one-vote, won overwhelming control in 1964 but Republicans have now narrowly recaptured the legislature. The outlook is uncertain, however, for Schweigert's proposal.

The New York Legislature is expected to consider such a petition this week. Observers rate the possibility of approval as unlikely.

GOP CONTROLS

A resolution sponsored by 23 of the 27 Republican senators was introduced in the Pennsylvania Senate March 14 and is now in a committee. Republicans control both branches of the legislature. The resolution likely will be adopted by the Senate, but it faces more opposition in the House. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer has endorsed it.

A vote on the issue tentatively is scheduled in the Wisconsin Senate April 4. In 1965, a similar resolution was approved by the Senate 16 to 15 but lost 51 to 48 in the Assembly.

An aide to Dirksen said if two more states approve petitions, the Republican leader proposes to move in the Senate that Congress call a convention.

DOUBLE LOSER

Dirksen contends that motion would not be subject to committee hearings. Dirksen has "vice lost in moves to have Congress initiate a constitutional convention to consider one-man-one-vote."

Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., among others, contends that petitions adopted by Washington and Wyoming in 1963 cannot properly be counted in Dirksen's tally of 32 states which have filed petitions.

Dear Abby

Dancing With A 1-Piece Band

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend is practically perfect. I mean, he really QUALIFIES! But he has one habit that drives me out of my mind. When we dance he sings along with the lyrics, he hums. It wouldn't be so bad if he could carry a tune, but I swear he's tone deaf. Moreover, he puts his head next to mine and my whole skull vibrates while he sings.

If I move my head away, he moves closer. I can't escape him. Don't tell me to quit going to dances with him because he'll ask someone else, and I don't want to lose him. ELLEN

DEAR ELLEN: Borrow one of those "horse collars" from a friend who has already collected on her whiplash injury, and wear it while dancing with your thrush. That will keep his head away from yours. And if you're able to keep up a running conversation he won't have time to sing.

DEAR ABBY: How can I tactfully handle a neighbor who asks my 10-year-old daughter questions that are none of her business? She has asked, "Where did your parents go last Saturday night when you had a sitter?"

Also, "Your mother has a new coat. Did your daddy strike an oil well?" She asked, "Are your folks invited to the Anderson wedding?" I never see this neighbor, as she is employed. I don't want to make a special trip to her home. Would it be proper for me to approach her 10-year-old daughter who plays with mine, and in a subtle way tell her I'd appreciate it if her mother didn't ask my child so many personal questions?

NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: Don't send any "subtle" messages via a 10-year-old. Instruct YOUR child to tell the inquiring neighbor respectfully, but emphatically, that she is not to ask such questions.

Don't Americans do this? Or am I the one who is wrong? O. O.

DEAR O. O.: I think your "old country" custom is charming and would like to see it become part of OUR culture. But Americans are no less friendly or thoughtful because their traditions are not yours. So don't be misled.

Red River Navigation Bill Passage Predicted

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Louisiana's two U.S. senators predicted Tuesday that this session of Congress will authorize navigation of the Red River from the Mississippi River to Daingerfield, Tex.

Sens. Russell Long and Allen Ellender, Democrats, predicted an early construction date for the project, bringing the 42nd annual convention of the Red River Valley Association to a close on an optimistic note.

Long revealed he has a commitment from presidential aide Marvin Watson of Daingerfield "that he will personally go with me to the Bureau of the Budget to find funds for the authorization" as soon as the governors of Texas and Oklahoma submit interim reports on the project. He said these reports are due next week.

Port Arthur News Publisher Dies

PORT ARTHUR (AP) — John R. Sadler, 66, publisher of the Port Arthur News, collapsed and died of an apparent heart attack Tuesday night.

He was stricken at a dinner in a neighboring town of Nederland.

His death closed a career in the newspaper business spanning nearly half a century. Only three weeks ago he saw a major dream realized with the opening of a new $500,000 plant for the News, an afternoon daily.

Sadler was a native of Bonham and returned to Texas from Muskogee, Okla., in 1925 to take a Port Arthur job as advertising salesman.

After promotions to advertising director and assistant publisher he became associate publisher of the News at the death of the late publisher Jimmy Day in 1949. Sadler was made publisher in 1956.

Survivors besides his wife are two sons, John R. Sadler Jr. of Port Arthur and James Sadler of Houston; a daughter, Mrs. William Wiley of Houston, and two brothers, L. R. Sadler of Corpus Christi and Hadie Sadler of Oklahoma City.

Funeral arrangements were being made today.

me to the Bureau of the Budget to find funds for the authorization" as soon as the governors of Texas and Oklahoma submit interim reports on the project. He said these reports are due next week.

BONDAGE

"I think Congress will authorize this project," Ellender said. "I think it will be in this session of Congress. I will do all I can to get it authorized."

Long said navigation would make it possible for cities such as Shreveport, Natchitoches and Alexandria to compete with the rest of the nation as far as freight rates are concerned.

"For many years, Shreveport and the others in the Red River Valley have been trapped," Long said. "We feel that it is time this city and the others like it be released from the bondage they have been under and be permitted to compete on even terms with any other city."

Two Texas GIs Killed In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two servicemen from Texas were listed by the Defense Department Tuesday as killed in action in Vietnam.

They were Army Spec. 4 Pedro I. Garcia, son of Mrs. Mary G. Garcia, 525 Pueblo St., Corpus Christi, and Navy Hospital Corpman J.C. Travis A. Simmons Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Travis A. Simmons Sr., 703 South Lorraine, Midland.

Freeway Collision Kills Gilmer Man

DALLAS (AP)—A collision on Stemmons Freeway in North Dallas killed Jack D. Jones, 41, of Gilmer and injured Gerald W. Case, 22, of Irving seriously Tuesday.

Police said Jones was driving south and Case was headed north when their cars met on Case's side of the divided roadway.

TEXANS AT WAR

'Baptism Of Fire' Comes Mighty Fast

By The Associated Press
A Texan at war from Wichita Falls got his "baptism of fire" in record time, an experience he describes as harrowing.

Capt. Thomas E. Martin, 33, a Texas A&M graduate, went to Vietnam in October, 1965, with the 68th Aviation Co., formed at Ft. Benning, Ga.

GREEN UNIT

"We all went over on a troop ship together," Martin recalled in an interview at Ft. Wolters in Mineral Wells, where he is an instructor pilot at the helicopter training center.

"Ten days later we flew on our first combat assault. All of us were green. . . The complete unit was green. . .

"At that time, it was some sort of record for being in the country and going on an assault mission.

"It was rather harrow. . . The first combat assault, nobody really knew what to expect. It was five combat assaults before we ever heard them shooting at us."

APPREHENSION

The noise coupled with the newness created feelings of apprehension, he said, but otherwise the unit got through that first assault without serious mishap.

Martin was unaware of enemy fire, he said, because "we were so occupied with providing suppressive fire for the troop-carrying aircraft and cover for the wingman."

He piloted a gunship. "Everything came out just fine. We took a couple of hits, nothing of any consequence. . . I guess that all goes under the baptism of fire heading."

There was dense early morning fog in places along the upper Texas coast for a second straight day as moist air continued to flow inland from the Gulf of Mexico.

Temperatures at dawn were mostly in the 50s to high 60s.

Top readings Tuesday ranged up to a sizzling 100 degrees at Presidio in the Big Bend of West Texas.

High marks elsewhere included Junction 97, Austin and Waco 96, Laredo and San Angelo 94, Wink 93 and San Antonio 92. The Austin and Waco temperatures were the highest on record for this early in the season.

Forecasts held out a hope for a little cooling along with showers or possible thunderstorms by late Thursday in parts of North Central and Northwest Texas, and it was due to stay windy in both areas.

More hot, dry weather was predicted across the rest of the state.

Will Rogers Sub To Bolster Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Will Rogers will be commissioned by the Navy Saturday, rounding out the 41-ship fleet of Polaris missile submarines started in the late 1950s.

Although numerically complete, the Polaris fleet faces a substantial program of remodeling. The Department of Defense plans to refit 31 of the subs to accommodate the Poseidon, a more up-to-date missile with a multiple warhead.

Horoscope Forecast

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening when most everyone can get very much out of time by saying and doing things that others expect though so much result is intended. So be sure you double check whatever you start to write or say and make sure it can cause no offense in any way to anyone else.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Be careful you do not burn back on tried and true friends and interests just to follow the new which could be quite worrisome. Keep promises to the letter instead. Show that you are a person who can be relied upon.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): You may resent others because you think they are trying to impose upon you, but be more friendly and all is fine. Intelligent handling of others is the key to success here. Be more concerned with increasing income.

GEAUNI (May 21 to June 21): Picking on associates could cause enmity between you so think how you can be more helpful, cooperative instead. Be sure you do not make changes in contracts right now. Think over how to improve some.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): You have made promises to others that you had better keep, and personal duties should also be handled without fail. Avoid trouble later on. Plan your work early and then carry through on schedule.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Have a smiling exterior and also try to pick an argument with others. Mole is unwise, so be comforting instead of antagonistic. Avoid going out for recreation that is altogether too expensive.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): The situation at home is quite explosive, so be sure you are of a conciliatory mood and avoid big trouble. Show care in going after your most vital aims. Tread quietly but in a positive fashion.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Much care must be exercised in driving or walking, handling silver, glass, etc., or there can be much breakage, loss. Some big project could also have to be postponed. Speaking too harshly to others could have dire results, also.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Take care you either spend too much to make a false impression on others, or spend too little and give the opposite impression, both of which are bad. Be more stable in monetary matters. Grow.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Stop complaining and carry through with obligations to the best of your ability or others will think you have the wrong intentions. Your health could be bettered. Wardrobe needs sprucing up as well.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 30): Although that war may seem dull and dreary, it must be done some time, so get it right away. Then you clear the decks for more important matters. Accept what you cannot avoid. Be sensible.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 31 to Feb. 19): A blunt and can certainly get under your skin if you permit, so keep busy and pay little attention — he, or she, is upset about something. Avoid the social for now. People are under disturbing influences.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): Show tact in carrying through with whatever will help you in your chosen career, especially anything that has to do with the public in general. Higher-ups is feeling rate. Don't disturb but keep busy at own duties.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow young person and you will teach your child to think before speaking, otherwise much trouble can be met throughout his lifetime if this best habit is not curbed. There is a fine, inquisitive mind here, though and good general training will equip your progeny for business or administrative work. The police force is fine, also.

Guild Chief Heston Grabs Western Role

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The president of the Screen Actors Guild sat down to lunch: three bites of a diet bar and a glass of skim milk.

"It is unfortunate but true," sighed Charlton Heston, "that if you are in the business of selling your face and figure on the movie screen, you must diet."

Heston is among the most disciplined of stars. He maintains a flat stomach in order to command fat salaries. He also conducts his personal and professional life in a most salutary way.

"What worries me," he said concernedly, "is that young actors have a reverence for some of the performers in our business and unreliable. They idolize the ones who have been guilty of unprofessional behavior, and I fear that they will believe that is the way to behave."

"WILL PENNY" Heston wore the attire of his latest costume epic; this time he is a Western gunslinger in "Will Penny." In buckskin or lein cloth he is a commanding presence. The casual visitor is able to understand how he was able to part the Red Sea and paint the Sistine Chapel ceiling in "The Ten Commandments" and "The Agony and The Ecstasy."

He is a man who is concerned about his profession, whether the issue is economics or professional behavior. On the latter subject, he told of the Guild's fining of a name actor $1,500 for his failure to perform a television script according to his contract.

The Guild president discussed other matters that concern actors.

WAGE FIGHT One of these is the studio tour. Some actors have been fretful about the burden of paying customers who are now pouring through studios. Should actors have more privacy at their work? Or should they be paid extra for being viewed like animals in a zoo? These matters are being discussed with producers.

Named Alternates BEAUMONT (AP) — Two South Park High School seniors have been named first alternate candidates to take entrance examinations at the U. S. Naval Academy and the U. S. Air Force Academy, it has been announced by Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex.

They are Ralph C. Woodward, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Woodward, and Michael L. McMichael, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Velasquez.

Judge Hearing Lands Case

Exceptions filed by the defendant in the case involving multi-million dollar lands in Gaines County were being considered this afternoon in the 118th District Court.

Judge Ralph Canton was hearing the motions filed by the attorneys for the trustees of the land which was willed to the Wheeling, W. Va., Catholic Diocese in 1903.

The case, styled Joseph Howard Hodges DD, bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Wheeling vs. Robert J. Riley Sr., Robert J. Riley Jr., and Arch W. Riley, was originally filed in Gaines County. It was moved here on Nov. 4, 1965, on a change of venue.

The land involved has been in the hands of trustees since it was bequeathed to the church in 1903 by Sara Tracy who lived in New York state. Since her death, the vast expanses of land have been proved oil rich and millions of dollars have been earned by the land.

Marcy P-TA Asks Safety Measures

A big delegation representing Marcy Elementary School requesting traffic safety measures in the school area, provided the highlight of the Big Spring City Commission meeting Tuesday.

Mrs. Glen Phillips, president of the P-TA, told commissioners there are 675 students attending the school, most of them live in Webb Village to which there is no walkway, two children were recently struck by a car while crossing Wason Road, and that a student patrol is being instituted.

She asked the commissioners to consider placing a flashing red light at the Wason Road-Connally intersection and the Wason Road - Air Base Road intersection; install curbs and sidewalks from the school property to the base entrance, charging the adjacent property owners; and employ an adult to control auto traffic at the crosswalks.

After considerable discussion, Mayor Arnold Marshall suggested that the matter be considered by the P-TA contact the property owners to see their feelings about paying for the sidewalk.

William Dawes, Marcy principal, pointed out that Wason Road handles high speed traffic which is heavy at times. Chief of Police Jay Banks agreed that speed is a problem in the area, "which is very hazardous." He said his department is taking steps to control it, and that the crosswalks are being changed to increase safety for the children.

Ernest Lillard, public works director, said there is a bad drainage problem in the area and that the entire street should be re-designed on some future program of improvements.

Commissioner Jimmy Morehead's motion to refer the problem to the traffic commission was approved.

Commissioners approved giving the county a 40 foot strip along the south side of Section 13, containing about 1.62 acres, for right-of-way so the county can extend the Country Club Road west to intersect with US 87.

J. T. Boney, 405 Sunset, and Wes Butler, 1308 Madison, appeared to protest the "junk car ordinance" which was given

Students Petition For Name Change

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Students at Texas Arts and Industries College here have petitioned to have the name changed simply to Texas A&I, as Texas A&M did recently. They said "arts and industries" makes the school sound like a technical college when it is outgrown that function. But keeping the initials would continue tradition.

Bids Requested For Work On Five Elementary Schools

Big Spring Independent School District board of trustees last night approved the bid of the Golden Light Company of Amarillo to supply kitchen equipment and machinery for the Runnels Junior High School cafeteria. The Amarillo firm was one of four bidders whose offers were considered. The base bid of the company was $29,350.

The board voted to delete one of the alternate proposals — a milkshake machine — and the final bid was $26,875.

The board also gave the architect the green light to seek bids at 2 p.m. April 25 for the renovation programs on five elementary schools in the city — final steps in the lengthy school-wide improvement program.

The combined total of money involved in the final five jobs is $214,000.

The Permian Basin District Dental Society will hold its annual meeting at the Veterans Administration Hospital here Saturday.

The program will be held in the recreation hall starting with a welcome address by Donald D. Van Meter, hospital director, at 10:15 a.m., followed by a lecture on the "Management of Oral Surgical Problems in General Practice," given by Dr. Phillip Earle Williams, diplomat and member of the American Board of Oral Surgeons.

Following lunch at 1 p.m., Dr. Earl Moore, associate professor of peridontology, at Baylor University, will give a lecture on "Periodontics for the General Practitioner."

From 4:30 p.m. until 6 p.m., the members may visit and talk with the consultants. A dinner at the Holiday Inn will be held at 6 p.m., followed by an address at 7 p.m. by Dr. Crawford McMurry, secretary of the Texas State Dental Society. The business meeting will get under way at 8 p.m.

Permian Basin District Dental Society officers include Dr. Jack E. Fielden, president; president-elect, Dr. Joe B. Warren; vice president, Dr. Floyd F. Beranck; secretary-treasurer, Dr. William F. Ammons, delegate; and Dr. Floyd F. Beranck, alternate.

Carlyn J. Guilliams, D.D.S., is the chief of the local Veterans Administration Hospital dental service, and Jack A. Tyson, D.D.S., is the staff dentist.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Weather Bureau said today winter wheat in what once was the "dust bowl" of the central and southern great plains continues short of moisture.

Two Absentees Cast At Forsan

FORSAN — Absentee voting closed Tuesday in the Forsan city and Forsan school elections to be held Saturday.

Only two absentee ballots were cast and both were in the school election.

Voting in the school election will be at the Forsan High School and at the Elbow Elementary School. The city election will be held at the Forsan High School.

There are nine candidates in the race for the two school memberships at stake. Only one incumbent is seeking re-election. He is R. V. Fryar.

The polls open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Candidates for the school board, in addition to Fryar, are Ray S. McKinnon, Harold R. Raney, B. W. Condon, Mrs. A. D. Barton, John Robertson, Garner Thixton, Charles (Rigger) Spurgin and Billy Kuykendall.

Two of three incumbent city councilmen, whose terms are expiring, are running for re-election. Only three candidates are in the field.

Joe B. Hoard and John B. Anderson are seeking re-election, and L. S. Camp is running for the seat now held by L. B. McElrath, who did not seek return to his post.

Young Airman Threatens Leap Off Denison Hotel

DENISON (AP) — For two hours a screaming, shivering young airman paced a rooftop ledge of the seven-story Hotel Denison today, threatening a leap to the ground 85 feet below.

Finally, after talking to a young woman with whom he had quarrelled, he was persuaded to step back to safety shortly before 3 a.m.

Police identified him as Airman 2.C. Richard Todd from Perrin Air Force Base, between Denison and Sherman. He was turned over to Perrin authorities.

"I HATE TO DO IT" City patrolmen were dispatched to the scene after a telephone caller told a dispatcher: "I've got to do it, and I hate to do it that way. I hate to do it to her."

Sensing something was wrong, the dispatcher traced the call to a phone in the hotel lobby. By the time officers arrived they found the young man had taken an elevator up, broken open a penthouse door and stepped onto the roof.

Firemen were summoned as he paced a cornice about three feet wide and on the outside of a fire wall.

A Perrin chaplain, a Denison minister, two policemen and an ambulance driver engaged the youth in conversation but seemed to make no headway in urging him to abandon the threat to jump.

Eddie Fawcett, the ambulance driver, talked soothingly and once gave the airman a cigarette — but was unable to get close enough for a try at forcible seizure.

Jury Has No Work To Do

There were six cases set for trial today in Howard County court. The jury was informed that five of the six defendants had either pleaded guilty or would plead guilty. The sixth did not appear. The jury will report again at 9 a.m. Thursday.

So far the jurors have found no work for them to do at this week's docket in county court. Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, said that the following pleas of guilty were entered in the court Wednesday morning:

Carmen Gonzales, carrying arms, $100 fine, costs, and four months probation.

Billy Wayne Womack, DWI, $50 fine, costs and three days in the county jail.

Auturo Cortez Islas, DWI, $50 fine, costs, and three months probation.

Many Cars Needing Tags

More than $50,000 worth of 1967 auto license plates were issued Monday and Tuesday of this week, but there are still hundreds of Howard County automobiles still wearing 1966 plates.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector, said her office collected $27,972 on Tuesday. On Monday the total was slightly more than $25,000. Deadline for getting 1967 plates is Friday at 5 p.m. in the office of the collector. She has substations operating at Newsom's and at Lewis' Five and Ten in the College Shopping Center.

The official deadline is midnight April 1. However April 1 this year falls on Saturday which cuts one day opportunity from the available time in which to acquire tags.

Shattered Tanker Awaits New Aerial Bomb Attacks

LAND'S END, England (AP) — British jets fired rockets into the supertanker Torrey Canyon again today, setting her shattered hull ablaze and covering the area with a huge pall of smoke.

The wreckage had been bombed Tuesday.

A huge slick of oil that poured out of the wrecked ship was still moving. A Navy spokesman said some of it had reached the French coast.

As the fight continued at sea to destroy the tanker and the oil, thousands of troops and civilian volunteers battled pollution along the beaches of Cornwall.

NAPALM BLASTS

All along the south coast of England local authorities set up emergency committees to deal with the oil, which threatens their lucrative summer vacation business.

Antisubmarine booms, neglected since World War II, were hastily erected at some ports and harbors to help keep out the floating oil.

As the afternoon wore on, wave after wave of bombers and fighters hit the tanker with high explosives and napalm bombs.

The objective is to blast open the oil bunkers remaining in the wreckage and then burn the oil before it can float in and add to the massive pollution wrecking England's southwest beaches and bringing death to birds and marine life in the area.

Royal Navy bombers scored more than 40 hits on and around the wreckage Tuesday, but the fire went out with the rising tide after 4½ hours.

There was no estimate of the amount of oil the fire consumed.

The huge tanker, which went aground on the Seven Stones Reef during a gale March 18, appeared to be nearly gone. Only part of the hull and the funnel were visible.

BIG SLICK

Her remaining oil was escaping into a big slick which continued to creep toward the Cornish coast, where 120 miles of once golden sands were gurgling with sludge or about to be polluted.

Other parts of the slick were surrounding the Scilly Isles, though some of it has been broken up into smaller patches.

A fleet of 40 ships went out this morning to continue spraying the oil patches with detergent.

Navy Minister Maurice Foley flew over the wreck in a helicopter before deciding whether to bomb it again in an attempt to burn more of the oil.

SMOKE PILLAR

Royal Navy Buccaneer bombers scored 23 direct hits with 1,000 bombs on the broken ship Tuesday, sending a pillar of smoke and flame 8,000 feet above the wreckage. Another 18 of the 1,000-pounders were dropped around the vessel.

Next came Hawker Hunter fighter-bombers, showering tank loads of aviation fuel and potassium chlorate incendiaries onto the huge oil slick.

About two hours after the first strike the flames died down and the planes were called in again. A second attack set the fires going again. By nightfall the flames had disappeared and a massive pall of smoke hung over the reef.

WILSON WATCHES

Prime Minister Harold Wilson, vacationing on the nearby Scilly Isles, was among thousands of Britons who watched as the bombers pounded the broken tanker.

Home Secretary Roy Jenkins said that when the bombers struck it as estimated that 12 million gallons of the Torrey Canyon's cargo of 35.8 million gallons of crude oil remained inside the shattered hull.

Jenkins said the main problem was getting oxygen into the hold to feed combustion.

He said the government decided Monday night to blow up the Torrey Canyon after it became evident she was beyond salvage and could not be towed out into the Atlantic to be sunk.

SHIP INSURED

It was reported earlier that the government delayed the bombing until the owners decided the ship was a total loss, since she was aground on the high seas and beyond the jurisdiction of British maritime law.

Jenkins said the government's action was ruled by the need to fight pollution of Britain's shores, and financial considerations were not taken into account. The ship was insured for $16.5 million.

Sheriff Checks Burning Of Car

Sheriff A. N. Standard said that his office is investigating the burning of a 1963 model sedan early today.

The car was destroyed by fire on the Rock House road at 1 a.m. Wednesday. The sheriff said there was no one around the car when it burned.

Texans Will Observe Daylight Saving Time

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas should join most other states in observing daylight saving time, the House voted Tuesday.
A 90-56 vote killed Beaumont Rep. Will Smith's bill to exempt the state from uniform daylight saving time—only the third time this session the House has killed a bill.
Thirty-six states at last count had indicated they would set the clock ahead an hour April 30 and leave it there until Oct. 29. New Mexico and Oklahoma have turned down bills that would have exempted them from daylight time. The Louisiana Legislature is not in session.

Lawmakers Pay Hike Measure Skips Hurdle

AUSTIN (AP) — It took a tie-breaking vote by the chairman to put the House Constitutional Amendments Committee on record Tuesday night in favor of a legislative pay raise to $8,400 a year.
The present salary, set by a 1960 constitutional amendment, is $4,500 a year.
After a lot of dickering over how much money to put in a proposed pay raise amendment, the committee voted 6-5 on $8,400. No other amount—$7,200, $7,800 or $9,600—that was mentioned did as well.
Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine, chairman, gave it a little thought, then voted to break the tie.

TWO PROPOSALS
The committee approved for floor consideration two proposed amendments to raise legislative pay. They should be considered as:
Phase 1: An amendment, to be submitted to the voters this November, that would let the legislature set its own salary, as Congress does.
Phase 2: If that fails, an amendment would be offered in November, 1968, setting salaries at $8,400 a year.

Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton was author of the second proposal, but after the committee had amended it he indicated that he would try to make some changes in it during floor debate. As he originally wrote it, the salary figure was left blank. Jamison said $8,400 was more than he intended to go in the blank.

CAN'T SELL
He also opposed the addition of one trip home a month for each legislator with the state paying 10 cents a mile.
"We are a part-time legislature. I can't sell that to the people back home at $700 a month," Jamison said.

And as for monthly paid trips home, "We would be better off staying down here and studying these bills. I don't think we should be encouraged to go home for the weekend," he said.
Rep. A. C. Atwood, Edinburg, who proposed the monthly paid trips, said they would help keep legislators in touch with their districts.

"A great deal of my time is taken up discussing legislation instead of business," Atwood said of his own trips home.
The committee also approved a proposed constitutional change setting the speaker's and lieutenant governor's pay at $15,000 a year. They now make the same as legislators except the lieutenant governor gets the same pay as the governor while serving as chief executive.

but failed last year to pass two exemption bills that were introduced.

COLD STUDENTS

Congress decreed nationwide daylight saving time from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October each year in the Uniform Time Act of 1966. But states were allowed to stay on standard time if their legislature specifically exempted them.

Smith appealed to nearly every emotional symbol in his plea for passage of his bill. Cheers, whistles and applause erupted when he brought the Texas flag into the debate.
There was concerned silence when he talked about rural school kids waiting in the cold, rainy dark of an October morning for the school bus.
And some may have wavered when he cited Texas spirit of independence or talked about Joshua making the sun stand still.

TEXAS INDEPENDENCE
But the votes against his bill already had been rounded up in weeks of behind the scenes work to keep Texas time conformity with the rest of the nation.
There was no clear pattern of votes. Rural members were found on both sides, as were big city votes. Speaker Ben Barnes' team of conservative floor leaders voted against each other.
Smith said he had enough votes to pass the bill when the legislature convened Jan. 10 but his support was worn away by intense pressure from television networks, railroads "and other groups from outside Texas."

RAILROADED?
"I don't know why the railroads are so interested in uniform time—they've just about stopped having passenger service in Texas," Smith said.
"Would you say they have railroaded this through?" punned Rep. John Traeger, Seguin.
Smith agreed.

He said he had started out opposing daylight time because the federal government was "trying to ram it down our throats," but had come to oppose it "as arbitrary, unnecessary and artificial."
"Not since the days of Joshua has man been able to make the sun stand still, and I don't think the ICC (Interstate Commerce Commission) or the Department of Transportation can do it either," Smith said.

Jackie Returns From Acapulco

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her two children are back home after an abbreviated vacation in Acapulco.
They returned Tuesday after she had apparently been disturbed by newsmen and photographers at the fashionable Mexican resort.
When they left for Acapulco March 17 the Kennedys had planned to stay about two weeks.
A tight security guard was provided on their arrival here.

Opening lead: Queen of ♠
Failure to capitalize on a favorable bit of distribution cost South his vulnerable game contract in spades.
West opened the queen of clubs and declarer permitted him to hold the trick. West observed that a continuation was not apt to be profitable, so he shifted to the ace of diamonds. East signaled for a come-on with the eight, and after winning the continuation with the king which completed his defensive book, he put North in by switching to a trump.
A club was ruffed by declarer and he returned to dummy with another spade. He led the ten of clubs next in the vague hope that the ace might fall, thereby establishing North's king for a discard. No honor came up, however, and South tried the heart finesse next. Dummy's jack of hearts held and the ace was cashed. When the king did not appear, declarer conceded himself to be down one.

Inasmuch as the heart finesse must succeed if South is to have any chance at all, he should mentally assign the king of hearts to West as well as the jack of clubs with which he is pretty well marked from his opening lead. By removing the ace of clubs from East's hand, South can transfer protection of that suit as well as the hearts to West—which, according to the principles of the "squeeze play," is a physical impossibility provided that the prescribed technique is utilized.
After drawing trump, it is suggested that declarer lead dummy's king of clubs. East is obliged to cover with the ace as South ruffs in his hand. He now proceeds to lead out all the rest of his spades. As the last trump is played, West is down to the jack of clubs and the K-10-3 of hearts. He must keep his club to protect against North's ten. However, when West gives up the small heart, South finesses dummy's jack, cashes the ace which drops the king and then his queen takes the final trick.

A Talent Scout

Margaret M. Conroy, chief talent scout for the Peace Corps, poses in her Washington office. She is one of the reasons why older men and women with needed experience are serving with the Peace Corps at fairly high wages. (AP WIRE-PICTO)

Peace Corps Lures More Older People

WASHINGTON (AP) — The public may think of Peace Corpsmen mostly as low-paid, college-age idealists. But there is opportunity to serve — at pretty fair wages — for older men and women with management know-how.

Take Dr. Stephen Dachi, chairman of a department at the University of Kentucky's College of Dentistry. He'll be going to South America July 1 to help direct the Peace Corps program in Colombia.

Dr. Dachi is one of 70 persons — chosen from 5,500 applicants — who'll be replacing Peace Corps staff personnel overseas in the next six months at salaries up to $23,000 a year.

HECTIC MONTHS

One of the reasons they're changing jobs is Margaret M. Conroy, an attractive 36-year-old former New Yorker who has been the Peace Corps' chief talent scout since Dec. 6.

"Things have really been hectic during these past few months," she said in an interview. "We've received 1,500 applications for jobs from people around the country. And we have about 4,000 applications from returning volunteers."

Miss Conroy, whose official title is director of the Peace Corps talent search, heads a staff of 11, including four interviewers.

Their job: Recruit people with the ability to administer Peace Corps programs.

Staff members serve as Foreign Service officers under a 30-month contract. Although a second 30-month tour is possible, staff members by design do not have career tenure as do civil service employees.

United Fund Balance Seen If Collections Hold Up

If pledges are collected as forecast, the United Fund of Big Spring and Howard County is due to end its current fiscal year (next October 31), with a balance of about $4,500, according to a report given to the annual membership meeting Tuesday.

Total pledges in the campaign last Fall amounted to $105,550.17, and $77,378.29 of this has been collected. Much of the balance is payable monthly through employe payroll deductions and other personal pledges.

The 14 participating agencies, through Feb. 28, had been paid $37,331, and are due a balance through the year of another $59,638.13.

Indicated total resources at the end of the year amount to $66,196.51, as against obligations of $61,706.54.

The organization ended its last fiscal year with a balance of $9,022. Total collected on pledges in 1965 was $82,714.14, agencies were paid $88,808.69, and there was campaign and office expense of $8,825.11.

Rabbit Drive Set Saturday

A rabbit drive will be held in Stanton Saturday at 8 a.m. until dark and on Sunday starting at 1 p.m. until dark on the Bernard Houston ranch, 12 miles south of Stanton and six miles southwest of Lomax.

A barbeque dinner will be served Saturday at noon and any hunter from Big Spring is invited to take part in the hunt. There will be no rifles or pistols allowed, only shotguns.

Enough Is Enough

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Enough is enough, believes Andrew Philip Jr. and when his wife added triplet girls to the family he drew the line.

With five other daughters, including two sets of twins, already at home, the 35-year-old husband decreed Tuesday: "This is it. No more children."

Pals Of SNCC Plan Boycott

HOUSTON (AP) — A group called Friends of SNCC promised an all-out boycott against classes at Texas Southern University today, but administrators at the primarily Negro school were hoping for a quiet day of mid-term exams.

Student and non-student sympathizers with The Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee moved against the school Tuesday, barring the doors to classroom buildings and the administration hall with chains, two-by-fours, drink machines, trash cans and their own bodies.

Before dispersing at mid-afternoon, they burned a letter from the dean of students, James B. Jones, and blocked traffic briefly by sitting down in the middle of a through-campus street.

Spokesmen for the group voiced several complaints. One concerned the school's refusal to approve on-campus meeting places for them. Another was over a decision to drop the teaching contract of Mack Jones, a government instructor who was their sponsor when they were accepted on campus. No violence occurred and no policemen were called in, although plainclothes intelligence operatives were present.

At its peak the crowd numbered approximately 400. The school has 6,000 students.

The Rev. F. D. Kirkpatrick, co-chairman of the group, said Dean Jones had promised to make a statement Tuesday morning on campus recognition for the group.

Dean Jones barred the FSNCC from campus last week, explaining the school could not be responsible for an organization with a high non-student membership.

After the dean failed to appear the demonstrators marched on the administration building and accepted a letter in which he said friends of SNCC must stay off campus, although he was willing to talk.

"Talk, talk, talk," the crowd chanted. "Burn it," they chanted, and Kirkpatrick did.

Few students chose to cross human barricades. Secretaries locked out of the administration building on their return from lunch asked those locked inside to hand their purses through the windows.

A news photographer's camera was knocked from his hand after a former student told him: "The FBI has enough pictures of me."

A Devotional For The Day

He is not here; for he is risen. (Matthew 28:6)
PRAYER: Dear God, my days have been filled with joy because I know that death has been conquered. Help me to make my life worthwhile to be lived forever. In the name of the living Redeemer. Amen.

Threat To Road System

Texas have taken pardonable pride in contending their state highway department is the best in the nation. Certainly it ranks as one of the best.

There are many contributing reasons, but the primary one is personnel — and that starts with the department's engineer, DeWitt C. Greer. Recognition and honors given him are national in scope, testifying to his character and unique ability. But D. C. Greer would be the first to point out that the success of the department is due to competent, devoted people throughout the department.

In year's past he built up an organization of exceptional engineers, administrators and technicians who knew their jobs, knew the needs of their areas, and who were committed to the task of building and maintaining a first class highway system.

Yet quietly but almost inexorably, this splendid organization is being threatened, and the reason is simple: Inadequate professional pay scales. Starting salaries offered by the department are well below those of the federal Bureau of Public Roads, and far below those of private business and industry. The flow of promising young engineers into the personnel pipeline has virtually stopped. The number of engineers assigned to districts and residencies is dwindling. The old heads, who made the system what it is today, are — alas — getting old to the point of retirement.

This is not a problem peculiar to the highway department, but the sheer weight of numbers of professional personnel required in this division of the state government brings the problem into sharp focus. Some way must be found to upgrade these positions and to supply these grades with pay scales that will be competitive. Perhaps, what is true for the highway department is applicable to other state professional positions, but it would be sheer folly to risk disunity of an organization, put together so superbly and painstakingly over the years, by a failure to face facts.

Utilizing Water

A magazine article about Santee, Calif., and utilization of its sewage effluent should be of interest to most communities.

Through a series of steps, Santee diverts the water into lakes which are of such purity that as many as 10,000 people at a time are said to use it for fishing, picnicking, boating and swimming.

The method is relatively inexpensive, and checks have been devised for virus as well as bacteria control.

This is a commendable project not alone from the point of solving the problem of pollution but equally so from the point of supplying delightful recreational facilities.

Holmes Alexander Togetherness In War On Snooping

WASHINGTON — Vance Packard, the best-selling author on American mores, is co-chairing the National Right to Privacy Committee which promises to make common cause among persons of good will across the political spectrum.

It's about time that a rally-round cause was found to attract conservatives, liberals and political neutrals. It has seemed to me a downright disgrace that persons of different ideological coloration so often show their loyalty to self-interest and association instead of to the principles that we all swear by.

YES, WE should stick to our friends when they come under attack for their opinions' sake, but it is a failure of public responsibility when a writer cannot be objective toward the eternal verities.

Haven't we recently seen the civil rights liberals excusing Adam Clayton Powell because he's Negro? And conservatives ducking the matter of Sen. Tom Dodd because he's a noted anti-Communist? In the case of the CIA's admitted corruption of students, church groups and labor organizations, haven't we seen lines of apologists forming to the left and right? Doesn't everybody know that the straight and narrow path of truth can not lead anywhere except to condemnation of a system that permits this use of the CIA?

BUT IT looks from here that the Right to Privacy may be a subject to make saints of us all. Author Packard's latest book, "The Naked Society," exposes widespread snooping by conservative-orientated Big Business and liberal-orientated Big Government. The other co-chairman is William Rickenbacker, senior editor of the right-wing "National Review." Also present, in spirit at least, is the far-left American Civil Liberties Union. A few years ago the Union offered to defend Rickenbacker when he defied the Census Bureau's order to stand and deliver personal information.

THE COCHAIRMAN say the committee will urge Congress not to appropriate funds for the National Data Bank, a computer that will store away facts about every citizen.

A second committee goal is to make the national census which falls in 1970 a voluntary questionnaire. Our Constitution in the Fourth Amendment protects the citizen from "unreasonable search." The committee challenges the government to show a good reason for its curiosity about vital statistics.

IT MAY BE that the Data Bank and the Census are not well-selected targets for the crusaders of the Right to Privacy. There are abuses far more flagrant than these, and the government ought not to be hog-tied in its pursuit of criminals, subversives and sociological knowledge.

All the same, it's good to find a healthy skepticism in this field and a rising indignation against snooping. If nothing else, the Right to Privacy is a phase of liberty on which most conservatives and liberals can agree. It is sacred ground for that reason alone.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

By international agreements, Outer Space is free of nuclear weapons. So is Antarctica. Latin America aspires to be next.

Agreement on the final text of the new Latin American treaty to make that whole part of the world a zone free of nuclear weapons came hard. Negotiations have been going on for three years.

Last week, however, the 21 governments represented formally agreed on the last bits of wording. The 21 include all the Latin American governments except Cuba, and two newly-independent Caribbean countries: Jamaica, and Trinidad-Tobago.

The five big nuclear powers, who are being asked to sign a protocol that they will respect the treaty's nuclear-free zone by keeping their nuclear weapons out of it, are all making difficulties. China won't sign because the idea came out of the United Nations.

Britain and France are making minor difficulties. Russia said in January it would go along if the other nuclear powers did. This includes China.

The United States position has been favorable in principle from the start, though not to the extent of accepting Cuba's suggestion that nuclear weapons be banned from the United States.

The powerhouses behind the final success in the prolonged negotiations was Alfonso Garcia Robles, deputy foreign minister of Mexico and president of the Commission for Latin American Denuclearization, the United Nations committee which did the drafting. With energy and tact, Garcia Robles steered the conference to success in stage 1; agreement on a final draft.

Now comes a still harder part: dickering with the reluctant whose adherence is desired; Cuba and the nuclear powers.

That's Truce Idea Called 'Amateurish'

WASHINGTON (AP) — There was a streak of unreality in the proposal by U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations, for restoring peace to Vietnam. The United States apparently told him so, but in a gentle way.

In short, a truce can be more complicated than he seems to imagine.

ORIGINALLY Thant, a mild Burmese Buddhist, proposed three steps to end the war: A halt to U.S. bombing of North Vietnam; scaled down fighting by all sides; negotiations among the parties involved, including the Viet Cong.

The United States position was this: It would not halt the bombing unless North Vietnam gave some indication it was willing to tone down its side of the war. The United States had had some bombing pauses with no response from Hanoi.

At the same time this country had expressed willingness to discuss or negotiate without prior condition.

BUT NORTH Vietnam took, and still does, the position that the way to restore peace is for the "United States to stop its aggression." So Thant's original proposal came to nothing.

Then Tuesday he unveiled his new proposal although it had somehow been leaked and was known before he addressed his Tuesday news conference. He made his new suggestion in one-two-three order.

There were the three proposals: a general stand-still truce, preliminary talks, and an international conference to return Vietnam to peace.

THE JOHNSON administration promptly announced it had been informed by Thant previously about his three new proposals and had answered him, saying the United States welcomed his suggestions and was consulting its allies.

But buried in the middle of the American answer was this paragraph: "The United States believes it would be desirable and contributory to serious negotiations if an effective cessation of hostilities, as the first element in the three-point proposal, could be promptly negotiated."

Phobophobia Is Widespread

NEW YORK (AP) — The world is going so well for many in these prosperous times that they are afraid they won't have anything left to worry about.

This is an idle fear. There is always something to be afraid of. In all his long history man has never run out of panic buttons to push.

If you are bored with your old fears, there are plenty of new ones to be had merely by looking around you and picking something else to dread.

Here, for example, is a handy guide that might help add zest to your fretting:

ARE YOU tired of being a bachelor or bachelorette? You are suffering from monophobia, the fear of being alone. On the other hand, if you dread marriage, what you have is merintophobia, the fear of being tied up.

If you feel you're in a rut and hate your job, chances are you've got both taphephobia, fear of being buried alive, and ergasophobia, the fear of work. And if the boss has been bawling you out for loafing, undoubtedly you also have onomatophobia, the fear of hearing certain words.

AND, OF course, when anybody sneezed in a crowded bus, the rest of his fellow travelers immediately became restless from aerophobia, the fear of air currents, and molysamophobia, the fear of contamination.

Since it is almost impossible to watch television very long without seeing a deodorant commercial, there probably isn't anybody over 10 years of age in America who isn't a victim of bromhidrophobia, the fear of body odors.

DO YOU find it impossible to cope with modern teenagers? Yep, you've got it — pedophobia, the fear of children.

Many teenagers themselves, of course, are afflicted by bibliophobia, the fear of books, and ideophobia, the fear of ideas. And nine out of ten of them are classical examples of basophobia, the fear of standing upright.

YES, THERE are plenty of fears for everybody. If you're afraid of disorder in your life, you have ataxiophobia. If you're afraid of disease, you're a nosophobia; if you're afraid of medicine, you're a pharmacophobia.

Fear God and you're a theophobia; fear the devil and you're a demonophobia; fear happiness itself and you're a cherophobia.

In the last extremity you can also come down with phobophobia, the fear of one's own fears. This is undoubtedly the most widespread fear of all.

Around The Rim First Class—Now And Then

My, how times do change! The mall brings an attractively colored folder, plus a sheet of "facts" and another of "features" concerning the University Inns, Inc. facility just off the campus at the University of Texas.

IT WILL have 22 stories, towering to 194 feet above the campus. There will be 11 student housing levels, one administration-recreation level, and 10 parking levels. Six high-speed electric elevators will serve the parking and living areas. Into this complex may be gathered 730 students and 420 cars. Dining rooms are capable of serving 2,200 meals per day, and the working force necessary to operate this facility will have a $22,000 per week payroll.

SOME OF THE advantages, according to the intelligence concerning this happy housing, are: being only a half block off campus; spacious recreation area with heated pool, Sauna baths, billiard table, ping pong and gymnasium; kitchenettes, (with refrigerator-freezer), colored television lounges, 24-hour automated snack bar, washing machines, dryers, ironing boards and hair dryers; individual desks, lamps and bulletin boards; daily mail service; inter-com to each room; built-in telephone outlets; qualified counselors (educational, social and cultural); specialty shop, barber and beauty salons.

THERE WILL be appointments such as stylish furniture, coordinated carpets, drapes, etc., combination bath-shower units, spacious individual closets, choice of four color schemes, and, just for good measure, a panoramic view.

The literature doesn't mention the price tag, but you know what they say—it takes just a little more to go first class.

I suppose that was what we were doing in my college days. Our dormitory was regarded as something out of the ordinary for that era. We had shower and toilet facilities between suites, and we had hot water, too. There was a heavy-duty oak table per student, plus a chest of drawers shared by each two students.

OUR HIGH SPEED elevators were two legs per man, moved at rapid clip which comes naturally after a few weeks of exercise in getting to the fifth floor. On descent, we learned to practically fall the five floors by adroitly bouncing at each landing. Our inter-com consisted of sticking your head out the window and bellowing back at an iron-lunged character in the courtyard. Our maid service came from a firm grip on the broom handle. Luxuries consisted of a sway-back mattress suspended on a wire net attached to the steel bed frame, plus a bonus of wonderful music of rain falling on a slate roof, or pigeons cooing under the eaves; and electric current on cloudy days.

IN OUR FIVE to seven-man suite, this cost us a solid $7.50 per month. We had no dining room, but Mom Lumpkin—as marvelous a cook as she was a lady—operated her boarding house next door for three square meals a day at $30 per month. For this we also had sing-songs around the piano, visits in the parlor, and fussing-over by a second mother.

But there were those who stayed in rooming houses on account of not being able to afford this luxury. Boys who came up from A&M or down from TCU envied us our facilities, and even those from the University's austere Little Campus thought we dwelled like kings. And I guess we did. —JOE PICKLE

David Lawrence Americans' Gifts To Education

WASHINGTON — Sometimes the American people read in the newspapers excerpts from a public statement by a prominent man, but they don't always learn the answer to criticisms he makes. A case in point is the recent report by McGeorge Bundy, president of the Ford Foundation and former special adviser to Presidents Kennedy and Johnson. Mr. Bundy criticized "the American rich, old and new," for their "relatively slow and feeble giving" to education.

Most people, however, do not have available the facts on the subject and are therefore unaware that in 1965 individuals and corporations donated more than 10 billion dollars to charity, and gave a substantial amount of it for educational purposes.

CONTRIBUTIONS FOR all causes the year 1965 totalled 11.3 billion dollars, according to the American Association of Fund-Raising Councils, Inc. Its report shows that foundations gave 1.125 billion, but corporations and individuals, including bequests through wills, donated a total of 10.175 billion dollars. A further breakdown of all the 1965 contributions reveals that 17 per cent—or 1.921 billion dollars—was given for education.

A SPECIAL survey was made by the Council for Financial Aid to Education, Inc., of contributions for the 1964-65 school year. Its report discloses that individuals gave 44.8 per cent and corporations, 14 per cent—or a total of 58.8 per cent. Foundations contributed 28.7 per cent. The remaining 12.5 per cent came from religious denominations and other sources.

There is nothing in any of the tabulations to indicate that either businesses or wealthy individuals have failed to contribute in a generous way to education in America. In fact, more money is being given for educational than for health purposes. Religion takes practically one-half of all the contributions made, and welfare gets about 13 per cent.

FUND-RAISING in the United States has been accelerated in recent years. Since 1954, the total giving has more than doubled—from 5.4 billion dollars in 1954 to 11.3 billion in 1965. During the same period, to be sure, the nation's output of goods and services—the gross national product—rose by 87 per cent. But total giving actually increased by 109.3 per cent—far more rapidly than did the gross national product.

IN THE COMING years, the federal government as well as the states will be increasing substantially their appropriations for education, but the public institutions will benefit most from such policies. Though some grants are being made to private institutions, barriers are raised in Congress whenever federal funds are proposed for universities or colleges or schools which are supported by religious denominations. This puts an even heavier burden on citizens of particular faiths which operate schools of their own.

THE FIGURES DO, however, indicate clearly that corporations and individuals connected with large and small businesses are contributing heavily to education and welfare causes. Mr. Bundy's remarks will come as a surprise indeed to the persons actually engaged in fund-raising throughout the United States who are collecting each year a huge proportion of their funds from persons of higher-than-average incomes.

Foundations set up by businessmen also are a substantial source of contributions and have served a useful purpose in America.

John Cuniff Lower Borrowing Costs Loom

NEW YORK (AP)—The drop in interest rates grows broader and, as the year wears on, will become noticeable in lower charges for small loans.

The latest activity is the final acceptance in the banking community of a 5½ per cent prime interest rate after a two-month tug of war. Banks that held out for a higher rate have, reluctantly, succumbed.

THE PRESSURE for lower rates is coming from several directions: as the avowed policy of the Johnson administration, as the obvious policy of the Federal Reserve, as a dictate of the slowing business expansion.

For a while some analysts believed that the balance of payments problem would keep domestic interest rates from sinking. Higher rates in Europe, they said, would drain dollars abroad.

Now rates are falling also in several foreign nations, and the United States, Britain, Italy, West Germany and France are pledged to work for easier borrowing costs. This threat to the balance of payments is lessening.

THE GREATEST resistance to lower rates came from some commercial bankers. Ordinarily when a rate is reduced by a large bank, as it was Jan. 26 by the Chase Manhattan, other banks quickly fall into line. A consensus did not develop this time. Instead, a heated dispute arose.

The split in rates amounted to only ¼ per cent, the difference between 5½ per cent that most banks held to until this week and 5¼ per cent, the rate fixed by Chase for its most credit-worthy customers.

SMALL AS THIS difference seemed to be it represented a basic dispute about the economy. Most banks felt the demand for loans dictated a 5¼ per cent or a 6 per cent interest charge.

Chastizing of Chase became commonplace. Whereas in most disputes bankers assume an icy but restrained disdain for opponents, the scorn here was heated and unreserved.

The main charge was that demand for loans did not call for a lowering of rates. Chase's move was premature, bankers said. It was politics, some others said—an attempt to court favor with the Johnson administration.

GRADUALLY, however, the arguments against lowering the rate began to unravel. Business conditions continued to slow and the Fed pursued its easier money policy. More and more banks fell to 5½ per cent.

Last week Morgan Guaranty Trust dropped to the Chase level followed quickly by the Bank of America, the nation's largest commercial bank. There was no question now: 5½ per cent would prevail.

It was now First National City Bank's move and all bankers knew it. First City is Chase's main New York rival. It alternates with Chase as the nation's second or third largest bank. And it was one of the sources of resistance to a lower rate.

AFTER HOLDING out for two months, First City did not rush to get in line. Good Friday offered a respite. And the weekend permitted two more days of inactivity.

On Monday morning First City finally dropped its rate and most of the remaining banks that had politely withheld their moves now fell into line.

In dropping the prime rate to 5¼ per cent some bankers still insist that Chase's move was premature. In the narrow sense perhaps it was. In a broader sense it was a stunning victory.

Merle Norman Protects Skin

West Texas weather can do damaging things to a woman's skin — but Merle Norman Cosmetics, 1010 Gregg, can bring new life into a woman's complexion.

Mrs. Anna Bell Stallings, owner-operator, has been with Merle Norman Cosmetics for 12 years, five of them in the same location on Gregg. Free one-hour demonstrations are available by appointment, and the Merle Norman slogan is "Try before you buy."

In just one hour, a woman can learn beauty secrets of generations of lovely women. Merle Norman cosmetics — real Princess stuff at Cinderella prices — combine the "know-how" of skin care and scientific cosmetic application to mean the difference between natural beauty and unattractiveness.

Merle Norman's "Three Steps to Beauty" are used by women the world over. Step one is Merle Norman's all purpose cold cream, balanced to remove both oil soluble and water soluble soil.

All purpose cold cream is every night beauty treatment. This fragrant pink cream floats away every bit of make-up and dirt as it softens and smooths your complexion . . . leaves it dewy and supple. When used with the Miracol treatment, all purpose cold cream prepares your skin for the beauty steps to follow. Just smooth it on your face and neck each night, then stroke it off gently with a tissue. Now your skin is gloriously clean, delicately soft. And you are ready for step two.

There is nothing like Miracol, the second step to beauty. This unique, revitalizing lotion peeps up skin tone, creates a clear, glowing, healthy complexion . . .

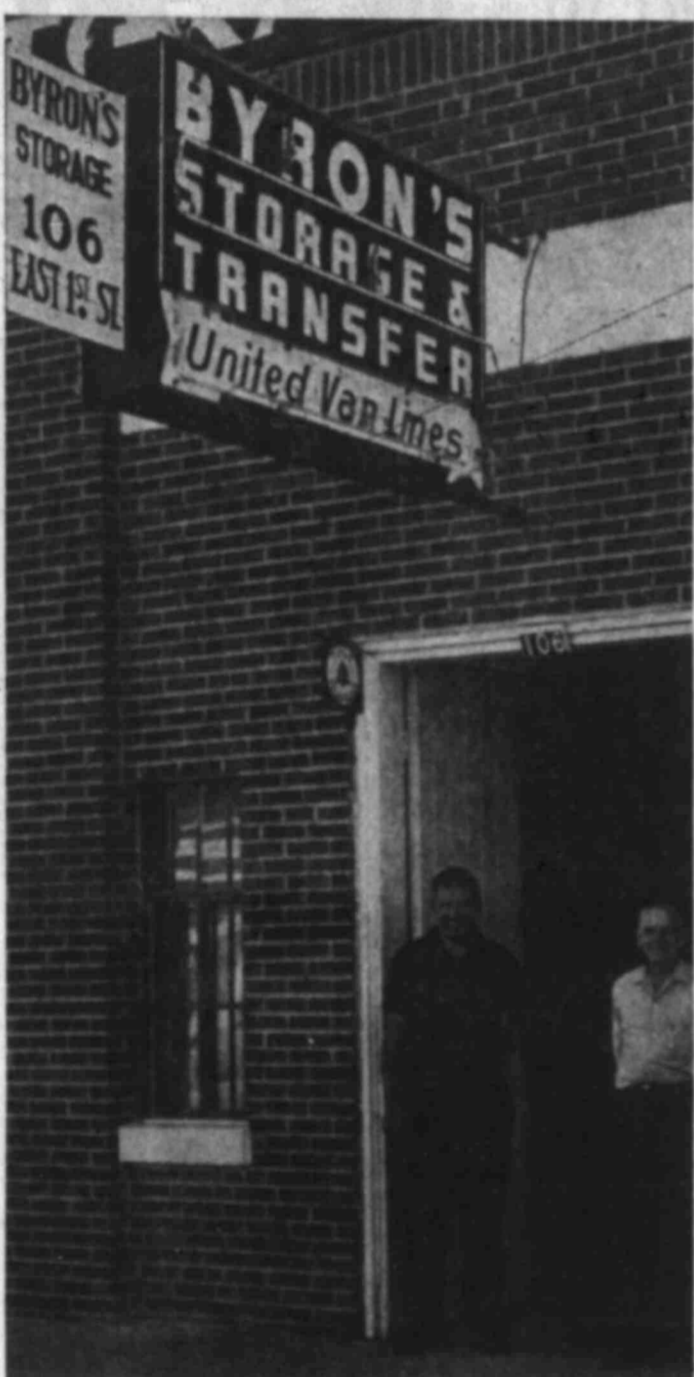

and keeps it that way. With Miracol, skin feels wonderfully alive and firm . . . looks totally refreshed and radiant. At least three times each week, apply Miracol to face and neck after cleansing with all purpose cold cream. Leave it on for 20 minutes, and enjoy the tingling feeling as it goes to work. Rinse Miracol away with cool water . . . and go on to step three.

Velvety powder base is your essential third step to beauty. Smooth it on immediately after using Miracol, even if headed for bed. It works while you sleep. Every morning, apply powder base as a flawless foundation for make-up . . . an invisible veil of beauty for skin. Powder base keeps complexion looking perfectly fresh all day long . . . works constantly to moisturize and protect your skin from weather and dirt. It is waterproof and porous . . . allows skin to "breathe." Powder base is available in a beautiful range of shades for every complexion tone. Squeeze Bunt Gives Steers 4-3 Victory

MIDLAND — Big Spring got off to a flying start in District 2-AAAA baseball play by edging Midland Lee, 4-3, here Tuesday afternoon.

Fine clutch pitching by Jerry Ryan and David Mitchell, together with a squeeze bunt executed by R. J. Englert with two out in the top half of the seventh inning, enabled the Steers to win their sixth straight game and run their season's record to 9-3.

Valek, Schmidt To Get Posts

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Jim Valek and Harv Schmidt, a pair of former University of Illinois star athletes, are expected to answer the call of Alma mater Wednesday.

Valek and Schmidt will be at a press conference scheduled for Wednesday (11:30 a.m. Est) when an announcement will be made to fill the head football and basketball coaching posts.

Valek will succeed Pete Elliott as football coach and Schmidt will fill the basketball position held by Harry Combes.

Elliott, Combes and assistant basketball coach Howie Braun recently resigned in the wake of the $21,000 slush fund scandal after the Big Ten ruled the three should be fired or Illinois face suspension from the conference.

(AP WIREPHOTO) JIM VALEK

Valek, 41, is a former Illinois grid captain who played end on the 1947 Rose Bowl championship team. Valek and Gene Vance, who officially becomes Illinois' athletic director April 1, coached at LaSalle-Peru III High School in the mid-1950s.

Valek was football coach and Vance, a member of Illinois' famed Whiz Kids basketball team in the 1940s, was basketball coach.

Valek went to Illinois as an assistant under Ray Elliott in 1958 and served one year under Elliott when Pete moved to Illinois from California in 1960.

Valek then shifted to Army under Dale Hall in 1961 and was retained at West Point when Paul Dietzel took the head job in 1961. When Dietzel went to South Carolina, Valek went along as offensive back-field coach.

Schmidt, 31, was captain and most valuable player on the 1957 Illinois basketball team. He has been serving as assistant to head coach Bob King at New Mexico for the last three years.

Schmidt, a product of Kankakee, Ill., started his coaching career at Davenport Iowa West and compiled a two-year record of 29-15 before shifting to Moline Ill. High School where he posted a 15-8 mark in the 1963-1964 campaign.

bunt, which pitcher Claude Stewart was not able to handle, enabled Gary Don Newsom to scoot home from third with what proved to be the winning run.

Newsom and Jesse Zapata had singled after two were out in the inning.

Mitchell came on the scene, succeeding Ryan, in the fourth inning and picked up his fourth win of the season. The two of them were tagged for five hits. Mitchell himself yielded only two blows, fanned three and did not yield a pass.

Zapata, Newsom, Dean Gilstrap and Englert were the hitting stars for Big Spring. Zapata wound up with three hits.

Newsom got two and crossed the plate twice. Gilstrap smashed a solo home run, his second hit of the game, in the sixth to give Big Spring a temporary 3-2 lead.

John Howell accepted the defeat for Midland, pitching 6 1/3 innings. Claude Stewart finished up on the mound for the Longhorns, who had two runners aboard when the inning ended.

Ronnie Smith tied the count for Lee in the bottom half of the first inning with a two-run round tripper after Newsom and Englert had scored for Big Spring.

The Longhorns loaded the bases in the fifth when Newsom, Zapata and Englert reached base, but couldn't score.

Mike Lambert tripled for Lee in the sixth and Tom Wooten went in to run for him. Wooten then tallied on a single by Smith (who thus drove in all three runs for Midland Lee).

The surging Longhorns return to competition Saturday in Odessa, at which time they will oppose the conference favorites, the Odessa Bronchos. Big Spring plays its first home conference game next Tuesday, meeting Abilene Cooper.

New Drill Field Is Authorized

The Big Spring school administration was given authority to go ahead with the expenditure of $4,627 to build a new practice field for football on Howard County Junior College land east of the television station.

The project has been discussed at length at earlier meetings. The original site had to be cancelled when it was found to conflict with the guy wires of the television transmitter antenna. Dirt work on the project is completed.

A four foot cyclone fence with two gates is to be placed around the field which is to be sodded and provided with irrigation facilities.

Eagles Win; Cougars Tip Odessa High

ODESSA — Abilene High turned back Odessa Permian, 8-7, in the first District 2-AAAA baseball encounter for both teams here Tuesday.

The game went into the ninth inning before two singles and a sacrifice gave the Eagles the win. Don Lightfoot counted the run, after advancing on the sacrifice. David Richardson brought him home with a one-baser.

Permian led, 7-5, going into the seventh but the Eagles rallied to tie the count on Charlie Krempin's single.

ABILENE — Abilene Cooper edged the District 2-AAAA favorite, 3-2, in the league opener for both teams here Tuesday.

The game was decided in the bottom half of the ninth when Mike Lundberg sacrificed home Dick Stromberg. Stromberg had opened the inning with a single and moved to third on an infield hit by Kevin Hine.

Cooper now has an over-all record of 6-4 while Odessa, which plays host to Big Spring Saturday, is 9-4 on the year.

Dee Lancaster clubbed a long home run for Odessa in the seventh to give the Bronchos a 2-1 lead but Odessa fell apart defensively in the bottom half of the round to enable the Cougars to tie the count.

The Cats collected a total of 10 hits off two Midland hurlers. The win was the seventh of the season for the Cats, compared to 10 defeats.

Ralph Jordan had three hits for the winners. Harold Wood, on the pitcher rubber for San Angelo, set the Bulldogs down with three hits.

Nelson Named To All-Stars

BROWNWOOD — All Lone Star Conference basketballers, Tom Carter, Dan Smith, and Eddie Nelson of Howard Payne College, have been named on the District IV NAIA team.

Carter, Hobbs, N. M., and Nelson, Big Spring, have completed their college cage careers, while Smith, Denton, is a junior.

Announcement was made by Paul Pierce, athletic director at Sam Houston State College and district NAIA chairman.

Umpire Warns Jay In Exhibition Go

Free agent Joey Jay hasn't drawn a pay check yet from the Philadelphia Phillies and that makes things somewhat difficult for Warren Giles, president of the National League.

Jay, in the Phillie camp on a loan-see, was involved in a bench incident in Tuesday's 9-7 loss to the New York Mets. He drew a warning from umpire Tom Gorman and that ordinarily calls for an automatic $50 fine.

NO PROBLEM

But if a player isn't under contract, how can he be fined? "That does present a problem," admitted Giles, who saw Jay fire two pitches behind Bob Shaw in the second inning after Shaw had bounced one off Clay Dalrymple's helmet an inning earlier. "I'll have to take that into consideration."

Not only isn't Jay under contract, but the way he's been pitching this spring, he's not likely to be offered one either. He's worked 15 innings in four games and allowed 21 earned runs as well as six home runs.

Jay gave up six runs on eight hits in five innings against the Mets and at this stage of training, a performance like that could seal a man's fate. And so, maybe Jay got a freebie in the dustier way Tuesday.

In other games, St. Louis dropped Los Angeles 3-1, Houston downed Pittsburgh 4-2, Kansas City edged the New York Yankees 5-4, San Francisco defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-1, Washington whipped Baltimore 5-2 and California stopped Cleveland 3-1.

Games between Atlanta and Detroit at Lakeland, Fla., Cincinnati and Minnesota at Orlando, Fla., and the Chicago White Sox and Boston at Winter Haven, Fla., were rained out.

WIN IN TENTH

The Mets pushed across two runs in the 10th inning against Ruben Gomez, who is attempting a comeback with the Phillies. Dick Groat had five straight hits for Philadelphia and Ken Boyer homered for New York.

Bob Gibson worked seven innings for the Cardinals as St. Louis beat Los Angeles. Gibson retired only one of the first six batters he faced, but allowed just two hits over his final six innings. Orlando Cepeda had three hits including a homer.

Webb Will Host CC Linksters

The Webb Golf Council announced this week that the annual Big Spring Country Club-Webb AFB Golf Tournament will be held Saturday. Tee off time is set for noon at Webb's golf course.

The participants will play in foursomes, two from Big Spring Country Club and two from Webb.

Prizes will be awarded following the buffet dinner at the end of the tournament. A trophy sponsored by Col. Chester J. Butcher, wing commander, will be presented to the winner of the challenge match. The winning team will hold the trophy until the following year's tournament.

Big Spring Country Club members should make reservations to play in the tourney by Thursday.

The Golf Council considers the course to be in excellent condition. The entire course has recently been fertilized and is watered often. The greens and fairways are in exceptionally good condition for this time of year. It is hoped that summer rules may be used for the tournament.

The council is hoping for a bigger and better tournament this year.

Aggies Bombard Mustangs, 10-5

Texas Christian was on top of the Southwest Conference baseball race today with a little help from the Texas Aggies.

While TCU practiced, the Aggies won their first game of the conference campaign Tuesday and it was over the erstwhile leader, Southern Methodist, 10-5.

This dropped SMU into second place with a 3-2 record and pushed TCU into the lead with 3-1.

Texas A&M shocked SMU with a five-run blast in the seventh inning. All the runs were unearned but they counted just the same.

Southern Methodist was leading 5-4 when the Aggies, led by Pat Rozydal's double that hammered in three runs, pulled what must be considered a major upset.

Dunk Shot Is Given Boot

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The National Basketball Committee has come up with a defense for the dunk shot—a rule prohibiting its use in college or high school games.

The rule makers outlawed the dunk shot at the closing session of their meeting Tuesday and also strengthened a rule already on the books to prohibit stalling tactics.

Although the dunk shot is a favorite among fans, players and some coaches, one of the rule makers believes the long-range response will be favorable.

"This has been a dramatic activity," said Clifford Fagan, secretary of the national policy-making group for amateur basketball in the United States and Canada.

"There might be some objection to prohibiting the dunk shot at first, but when they think about it and understand, I think everyone will feel that the change is good for the game," Fagan said.

Fagan said dunking the ball meant holding the ball above the basket and either dropping it or stuffing it through the net. He said the penalty for dunking will be loss of possession.

Fagan said the rule against dunking had no reference to any player but the new rule is certain to affect the style of 7-foot-13/2 Lew Alcindor, who led UCLA to the NCAA national championship with his dunk shots.

Lewis, Dillon Meet Officials

L. L. (Red) Lewis, track and field coach at Howard County Junior College, will serve as referee for the District 2-AAAA meet scheduled here Saturday, April 8.

Starter of the cinder show will be Spider Dillon of Lubbock, a former high school coach. Dillon is one of the better known starters in the state.

Finals in two field events (high jump and discus throw) will be held in the morning, along with preliminaries in five running events. The morning phase of the program gets underway at 10 a.m. and will end about 11:30 a.m.

Other finals begin at 2 p.m. and will continue until 4:30 p.m. Spike Dykes, Big Spring High School athletic director, will serve as director of the meet.

Pardee Finds Pro Ball More Fun After Layoff

By TOMMY HART

Jack Pardee took a year's sabbatical from professional football and found it much more fun when he again donned the linebacker's harness for the Los Angeles Rams than he did at any time in his previous association with the game.

The native of Christoval visited here Tuesday to represent his alma mater, Texas A&M, at the Big Spring A&M Club chinfest at the Cosden Country Club.

He took time to renew acquaintances with Big Spring High School coaches and watch local athletes go through off-season exercises. Pardee, who became a star in college although he played only six-man ball in high school, continues to work as a scout and a sort of goodwill man for his old school although he is now in pro ball for an indefinite period.

Accompanying Pardee here was John Hopkins, executive vice president of the Aggie Club.

Pardee's pleasant return to the pro ranks coincided with the piping-board of George Allen as head coach of the Rams. Allen didn't give the Los Angeles fans a championship but he didn't disappoint them either, with an 8-6 record. Few are those associated with the game who do not believe that the Rams are "comers" in the circuit.

Pardee, who looks deceptively small for a 227-pounder, made these observations about the play-for-pay business with which he is associated:

- Roman Gabriel, the LA quarterback, blossomed as a full-fledged star because Allen told him the job was his and no one else's.
- The finest quarterback in the league has to be Green Bay's Bart Starr, who threw only four interceptions all year. Starr came onto his own as a passer mainly because the Green Bay running backs like Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung were off their feed somewhat.
- The Dallas Cowboys are salty mainly because of the rugged defense coach Tom Landry has built.
- There have been rumors, which may have been started in San Francisco, that the 49ers would trade Ken Willard and John Brodie for the great Gale Sayers. Pardee hopes that isn't so, because LA and San Francisco are in the same division and he regards Sayers in a class by himself as a great ball carrier. ("We scored a touchdown on Chicago," Pardee recalled, "and Sayers came right back and ran it down our throats.")
- Los Angeles went on to win, 31-17, only to lose a later game to the Bears, 17-7. The Rams never quite stopped Sayers in either game.
- Coach Allie Sherman of the New York Giants took a big gamble in acquiring quarterback Fran Tarkenton for three future draft choices. Sherman's move was a calculated risk in that he is rebuilding for 1967, in the wake of disaster, rather than future seasons. Pardee respects Tarkenton's talents but doesn't put him in a class with the great ones plying the trade.
- The 49ers likely will let some other club have quarterback George Mira since acquiring Steve Spurrier in the draft. Mira has not yet proved he can play pro ball, although he is a crowd pleaser.
- Jim Taylor of Green Bay punishes one more than anyone else when carrying the ball, because he's prone to use his head as a battering ram. The great Jim Brown of Cleveland was not hard to bring down but made effective use of his arms and elbows. Sayers, with great power in his legs, simply "breaks tackles."
- Randy Matson, the A&M giant, will definitely give pro ball a try after the 1968 Olympics.

Pardee also thinks—that the Aggies' Edd Hargett is a pro prospect because of his fine passing arm, the Aggies' Mo Moorman was not consistently good last fall but should come onto his own this fall and Darrell Royal of the University of Texas worked harder than ever before in this year's recruiting wars and consequently came up with the greatest talent he's ever had at the Austin school.

The Pardee family continues to maintain its home in Bryan, which is next door to A&M.

At Los Angeles, Jack composed part of a bruising, thieving defense that complemented a "bread and butter" offense — not spectacular but always dangerous. Happily, he discovered he had lost none of his skills in the year's layoff. The LA defense last fall led the NFL in several categories, including fewest first downs allowed, lowest average gain per rush and fewest number of passes completed.

The line backer has a bad assignment when the other side has the ball and Pardee is regarded as one of the best.

Coffee Honors Karen Key

Mrs. K. H. McGibbon and her daughter, Miss Karen McGibbon, were hostesses for a coffee held Friday morning honoring Miss Karen Key, bride-elect of Tommy Gentry. The complimentary affair was held in the McGibbon home at 108 Cedar Road.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Joe Poni, Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, Mrs. Arthur Tamplin, Mrs. Jerry Kilgore and Mrs. Walter C. Moore and her daughter, Miss Nancy Moore.

Miss Key, attired in a yellow A-line dress, was presented a corsage of white gardenias. Her mother, Mrs. Charlene Key, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Thurman Gentry, received corsages of white irises. Joining in receiving guests were Mrs. Ora Johnson, the bride-elect's grandmother, and Miss Lillian Jordan, Gentry's aunt.

A white organdy and linen ap-pliqued cloth covered the refreshment table which was appointed with crystal and silver. Centering the table was an arrangement of white irises and gold chrysanthemums. Calling hours were from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and approximately 80 persons were included on the guest list.

The engaged couple plans to be married in June.

Preceptors Hear Talk

Oiva Knuutila, Finnish foreign exchange student at Big Spring Senior High School, was guest speaker at the Tuesday evening meeting of Preceptor Delta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Rayford Gillihan, Silver Heels Road, was hostess and Mrs. Darel Highley was co-hostess.

New officers were elected. They are Mrs. John Gary, president; Mrs. Perry Chandler, vice president; Mrs. Adrian Randle, secretary; Mrs. Harold Hall and Mrs. James Cape, city council representatives.

The next meeting will be April 11 in the home of Mrs. John Gary, 2516 E. 24th.

Couple Will Wed In Lamesa Rites

LAMESA (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Aten announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Pamela Jean, to Joe Weldon Cooley, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cooley of O'Donnell. The couple will be married in June.

Shows Mechanics Of Flower Arrangement

The mechanics of permanent flower arrangements were explained by Mrs. Travis Carlton, president of the Rosebud Garden Club, when the group met Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Walter Ross, Country Club Road. Mrs. W. L. Wilson Jr. was cohostess.

weight and styrofoam and tape as anchors for the flowers.

Mrs. Dale Smith reported on plans for the district convention here April 3-4 at Ramada Inn, and Mrs. Tip Anderson gave an account of the recent council meeting.

Refreshments were served, and Mrs. Tom Ross and Miss Betty Ross were guests. The next meeting will be April 25 with Mrs. Joe Myers, Mrs. Charles Sweeney and Mrs. Toots Mansfield as hostesses.

Two Give Program On Music

Mrs. Harry McMillan presided and presented the program at the model meeting of the Beta Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Jack Tayrien, 2717 Ann.

Mrs. Wally Franklin assisted with the program, "The Influence of Music on Our Lives." Plans were completed for the preferential tea to be held April 2 in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building.

Rushes attending were Mrs. Larry Stockton, Mrs. Bobby Hughes, Mrs. James Matheny, Mrs. Bill Phipps, Mrs. Dave Twitty and Mrs. Jim Ryals. Sixteen attended, and refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be April 10, with Mrs. James Murphy and Mrs. Billy McDaniel as cohostesses.

Marries

Mr. and Mrs. Ace Gillette, 604 Gollad, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Sandra Kay, to Jerald Lane Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Allison, 603 Gollad. The couple was married at 8 p.m. March 22, in the home of the bride's parents, with Walter Grice, Justice of the Peace, presiding. Mr. and Mrs. Gibson will reside at 608 Runnels.

TV Star Set To Appear At Pageant

Jane Morgan, of television, radio and supper club fame, will be the fashion commentator and a star for the 1967 Miss Wool Pageant, the first to be televised coast-to-coast. As many as 154 stations may carry the event.

Selection of Miss Morgan and the announcement of the color telecast for the pageant, which will be held in San Angelo, June 30, was made by Robert Corn, of Roswell, N.M., chairman of the pageant.

The 10th Miss Wool of America will be chosen from 20 finalists who come from throughout the entire continental United States.

The present Miss Wool of America is Barbara Elizabeth Petsel, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Last year, preview showings were given by 24 top designers, including Larry Aldrich, Ole G. Cassini, Adele Simpson, Evan-Picone, Harvey Berlin and others. They, and others, will present designs this year.

Miss Shirley Lee Presents Report From Convention

Miss Shirley Lee, Grand Lodge representative, reported on the convention held in Amarillo at the Tuesday meeting of the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge at IOOF hall.

Miss Lee announced that Mrs. L. A. Griffith was installed as ambassador of good will, and Earl Wilson was honored as district deputy grand marshal. Mrs. Wilson and Miss Lee were named to serve on state committees.

Mrs. Emmett Hull, noble grand, presided and announced that the lodge will entertain the Odd Fellows with a party April 4 in observance of IOOF anniversary month.

Members will provide cookies at the state hospital during April. Refreshments were served by Mrs. A. N. Standard, Mrs. B. A. Burns and Mrs. T. A. Melton.

Those appointed to the refreshment committee in April were Mrs. L. A. Griffith, Mrs. Earl Hughes, Mrs. Leon Cain, Mrs. Earley Sanders and Mrs. Wayne Moore. Thirty-three attended.

Faculty Ma'ams Elect President

Mrs. Paul Ausmus was elected president at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Faculty Ma'ams in the home of Mrs. Wayne Bonner, 2504 Larry. Mrs. Jack Dunn was cohostess. The officer's slate includes Mrs. Dunn, vice-president; Mrs. Gary Grant, secretary; Mrs. Don Shoemaker, treasurer; and Mrs. Leslie Lewis, reporter.

Mrs. Jerry Dudley presided, and introduced Mrs. Delle Suttle as a guest. Twenty-one attended.

The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of lilacs, daisies and larkspur. Crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Remove Cheese

Remove hard cheese from refrigerator about an hour before serving. Most cheeses taste better at room temperature.

Xi Mu Chapter Slates Founder's Banquet

Final plans were made for a Founder's Banquet during Monday evening's meeting of the Xi Mu Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. The annual affair will be held at Big Spring Country Club.

The Monday meeting was held in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company with Mrs. Truett Vines, Mrs. Wayne Clark and Mrs. Wade Bledsoe as cohostesses. Eighteen attended, and Mrs. Wade Choate presided as new officers were elected.

Mrs. Vines will head the slate as president this fall, and her officers will be Mrs. Chub Jones, vice president; Mrs. Roy Granbery, treasurer; Mrs. Kenneth Curry, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Don Bailey, recording secretary. Mrs. Vines, the current service chairman, reported that an Easter dress and accessories had been purchased for the chapter's "adopted" girl.

The next meeting will be held April 10 when a Coke party honoring new exemplars coming into the chapter will be held in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building.

Refreshments were served from a table where the cloth and centerpiece depicted a "Snoopy" theme.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

There was a time, years ago, when a farm family stayed fairly close to home except on the weekend when they closed up the house, after the morning chores were done, got all the children ready and took off for town to stay until time for milking. Not so now.

When the farmer and his helpers go to the field, the mama probably gets the children off to school and something going for lunch, and she then takes the family car and goes to her club meeting, a church meeting or just into town for shopping. The roads are fine, and this time of year there's not much to can or preserve, so she does a lot of little things that women like to do with other women.

Whatever the farmers' wives do in their spare time, they don't stay at home like those of years past did when the roads to their homes were just two ruts and there was only one car for transportation . . . and only the husband knew how to drive.

The farm homes are attractive, too. They have all the conveniences a town house has and almost all of the families keep their premises neat and pretty with grass and flowers . . . and vegetable gardens. It's nice on the farm in the spring . . . nice to see the tractors in the field and sounding so busy.

A pleasant surprise for MRS. H. H. HAYNES came Monday when a friend sent her an El Paso paper with a picture of her son, HALEY HAYNES, on the front page. Haley, an art major at Texas Western, was awarded first prize of $150 for hand and free form at the El Paso Museum of Art exhibit. His work was a 26-inch brown and white stoneware pot which was entered in the glaze category.

MR. and MRS. BOB WILSON have returned from an air trip to Cape Coral, Fla. The two vacationed from Thursday through Saturday.

BILL VAN CRUNK, former Big Spring resident, visited his mother, MRS. GUY SEVER-

LING, 700 W. 18th, and an aunt and uncle, MR. and MRS. WIL-LARD READ, 502 Edwards, over the weekend. Van Crunk was en route to Washington, D. C., from Los Angeles where he is associated with the TV Guide Publishing Co. He has been employed by the publishing company for 15 years. He was graduated from Big Spring High School with the class of 1944.

While we in Big Spring were feeling the pangs of parting with the T&P passenger trains, Seminole was rejoicing in gaining a certificate to construct and operate the Permian Basin Railroad. MRS. F. L. SNEED SR., who lived here years ago and is still interested in us, wrote consolations to us but wanted to let us know of Seminole's good fortune.

MRS. W. G. WILSON, back from an Easter trip to Texarkana, says the azaleas, camelias and pink and white dogwood are out-doing themselves in blooming in that area. While in Texarkana Mrs. Wilson attended the 50th wedding anniversary celebration of her cousins, MR. and MRS. E. R. MALCOLM. Incidentally, JOE MOSS is a nephew of the Malcolms.
