WEEPY NOTE

More Rain Forecast

March closed its tenure on a weepy note Friday. Heavy overcast and a drizzle which was more like a heavy mist brought a damp finale to the

Officially, the rain had measured .05 inch at the U.S. Experiment Station to 8 a.m. A little shower of some intensity, which hit unexpectedly in midevening Thursday, probably accounted for most of this measurable moisture.

Cooler Temperatures

The temperatures were much cooler than has been the rule of the past several days when all time highs for the dates were scored.

The forecast calls for even better chances of rain late today and tonight and some prospect for moisture Saturday. About 20 per cent probability of rains was posted by the Weather Bureau for the two days. Apparently the moisture here so far is about on a parity with that in all parts of the county.

Heavier Elsewhere

So far this area has not cashed in on the heavier rains which are said to be soaking ranchlands and farm fields in critically dry West Texas counties

Most of the state was cloudy and there was a little drizzle at a number of places.

Early morning temperatures dipped as low as 34 degrees at Dalhart, in the Panhandle and behind a weak cool front stretching from near Childress toward Presidio and into Mexico. Readings elsewhere ran as high as 73 at Corpus Christi.

Thunderstorms Blustered

Scattered showers and thunderstorms blustered along the frontal zone during the night and early morning. Weather Bureau detected the heaviest rains in an area 150 miles long by 50 miles wide between Andrews and Guthrie.

Up to 1.6 inches of rain drenched the area around Lamesa. Considerable hail accompanied it but there was no report of damage.

Unofficial Amounts

Unofficial amounts elsewhere included Seminole .75 inch and Andrews .25, while the official gauge measured .11 at Childress.

Scattered showers were expected to continue in Northwest Texas, with a few developing late in the day in areas east of the Pecos River.

City Has 22 Absentees

There have been 22 absentee votes cast in the Big Spring City Commission election through noon today, however Charles Smith, city secretary, said six other residents had picked up ballots and may cast them before the deadline today.

He said absentee ballots mailed to his office must have a postmark of today in order to be valid. The election will be held at four fire stations Tuesday, and seven candidates are seeking the two

Rail Strike Blocked

CHICAGO (AP)-A federal court issued today a temporary order restraining conductors and brakemen from going out on a nationwide railroad

Judge Richard B. Austin of the U.S. District Court issued the order at the request of the railroads

The Order of Railroad Conductors and Brakemen had called a walkout for 12:01 a.m. Saturday. The judge's order will last until April 10. A hearing on an injunction against the strike was scheduled for April 7.

Conductors To Obey?

James E. Wolfe, head of railroad management's team of negotiators, said: "We would expect the conductors to obey the court order."

Union leaders, captained by President Clyde F Lane, had announced Wednesday in Clear Rapids, Iowa, that the organization's 18,500 members would leave their jobs at a minute after midnight Saturday in a dispute over health and medical insur-

But Wolfe had stated before court action today that a strike had been prohibited automatically under the procedures invoked.

Consular Treaty Inked

WASHINGTON (AP)-President Johnson signed today without comment or fanfare the consular treaty with the Soviet Union

The agreement will not take full effect until it is ratified by the Soviet Union, an action that may be some months away.

New Savagery Of War Hikes Combat Losses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new savagery of the Vietnam war has propelled U.S. combat deaths to levels 66 per cent above last year's average weekly losses. Communist fatalities are reported up 80 per cent.

A study of Pentagon figures this year are averaging 160 a week, compared with 96 in 1966. Enemy dead the first 12 weeks of 1967 has averaged about 1,800, compared with about 1,000

Communist forces are suffering even greater casualties in proportion to their strength.

The military estimates the Communists have sustained 33,-000 wounded in addition to 22,000 dead thus far this year.

GUESSWORK Military spokesmen admit the count of enemy dead is far from precise, and at best a haphazard and sometimes extrapolated estimate of bodies found on the battlefield. The wounded count is pure guesswork. Nevertheless, officials believe the rough tally is useful in assessing the impact of the war on the enemy's force levels.

The toll of 55,000 amounts to nearly 20 per cent of the enemy's 1967 average strength of

By contrast the over-all U.S. casualties the first quarter of this year - 14,100 including 1,916 killed and 12,184 woundedrepresent 3.5 per cent of the 1967 average strength, 404,000. SAME RATE

If U.S. casualties continued at the same rate in relation to troop strength for the remainder of 1967, they would total for the year about 15.2 per cent of average strength.

Last year's 35,000 casualties represented about 12.7 per cent of the average U.S. troop strength during 1966.

Earlier this year, Ambassador to Vietnam Henry Cabot Lodge predicted that "the percentage of American casualties

DEADLY TEMPO The current deadly tempo of fighting was illustrated Thursday as the military command in Saigon announced the United States suffered a record 274 men killed in fighting last week. This compares with the Korean war's weekly average of 255 over 37 months.

At the current rate of losses, the United States could sustain 61,000 casualties this year, approaching Korea's first and most bloody 12 months of battle.

Projecting the first quarter's weekly averages of killed and wounded through 1967 escalates U.S. losses to 8,320 killed and 52,-780 wounded for the year. Korea's first year claimed 74,700 casualties - 21,000 killed and 53,700 wounded.

If this projection held true, the American commitment of life and limb in Southeast Asia since 1961 would surge by the end of this year to 104,482 casualties - 14,964 dead, 89,518

More Youth Nominations

More people are interested in seeing that youth leaders get recognition. More nominations came today for the Zale-Herald Youth Achievement Award, which will go to the top boy or girl senior or junior in any of the county's three high schools -Big Spring, Coahoma and For-

Latest nominees are Charles Macklin, a Big Spring senior, and Kathey Bryan, junior in the local school.

Anyone can nominate a boy or girl for this top community honor, but The Herald nomination form (on Page 7-A today) must be used. A supplementary letter is permissible.

A large trophy and engraved watch will be presented at a public banquet to the young person who, according to a panel of adult judges, best shows extraordinary leadership and contribution of time and talent in church, school and community

Names of some young people have been submitted numerous times. There is no rule against this, and nominations are completely open. However, sponsors of the contest point out that the Youth Achievement Award is not a "popularity contest," and will not be decided on number of so-called "votes." Judges will make their selection strictly on their opinion as to the youth making the greatest unselfish support passage" of a bill aimed at creating a regional four-year college district in the Midland-Odessa area. Bills authorizing creation of such districts are pending in both the House and Senate. Connally, in a March 30 letter to Rep. Ace Pickens of Odessa said: "Although your bill proposes that the entire cost of this four-year institution will be borne by the taxpayers in the West Texas counties included in the bill, it would nevertheless have an unquestioned impact on the education base and structure of the entire State of Texas.

MASTER PLAN This factor and all of the others which we discussed were considered by the coordinating board in the recent hearing it held on the request for a fourvear institution in the Midland-Odessa area. You know, of course, that the Coordinating Board concluded that in light of its work on the master plan for higher education, it could not during this present session of the Texas Legislature recommend favorable action on a four-year institution in your area. "But the Coordinating Board made it abundantly clear that the educational needs of that area would be thoroughly studied, reviewed and considered in conjunction with its planning. I am confident that all of these needs will be taken care of in the master plan that is ultimately devised.

HEADLINE NOTED Connally said he sent the letter because apparently there had been some misunderstanding from a conversation the governor had Wednesday with Pickens and Reps. Randy Pendleton of Andrews and Dick Slack of Pecos. Pendleton and Slack were sent copies of the letter.

Connally said that apparent misunderstanding was reflected

Johnson and Vice President Humphrey." The important thing, he said, is to insure the continuation of a Democratic administration in Washington.

Kennedy admitted there are "differences within the Democratic party." But he said "that is part of our strength." The chairmen are winding up two days of meetings today after giving President Johnson two standing ovations for an hourlong defense of his domestic and Vietnam policies.

GET TO WORK Johnson told the chairmen Thursday night "to get to work and make sure the people know where the credit belongs" for a record he termed unmatched in American history. But listeners reported the greatest applause came when Johnson talked about Vietnam.

They said he reported that, while in Guam last week, he asked the U.S. commander in Vietnam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, whether the United States could stop bombing North

"He said for every bomb we drop we blow up a truck with 500 rockets that can't fire shrapnel and steel into the hips of American boys," Johnson was quoted as saying. Secret Servicemen blocked reporters from a corridor outside the room in which he was speaking BIG SURPRISE

New York State Democrats dropped the biggest surprise into the two-day session, a followup to one earlier in the month for national committeemen and women, when they distributed invitations to breakfast today and passed the word Kennedy would appear.

The New York senator, a critic of Johnson's Vietnam policy, has pledged to campaign for Johnson next year and has indicated through aides he would sign an affidavit if necessary saying he is not a presidential candidate.

Kennedy aides were in evidence Thursday but said, they were only observers and took no active part in discussions between the chairmen and national committee officials.

Dynamite Blast Endangers Orange

ORANGE, Tex. (AP) - A dynamite blast heavily damaged a high-pressure 16-inch natural gas line just outside the Firestone Petrochemical Center on chemical row here Thursday.

"If that pipeline had exploded there wouldn't be enough funeral homes in the whole area to handle the bodies," Sheriff Chester A. Holts said.

A 600-pound per square inch ethylene gas line only three feet away from the blast area was endangered. Location of the explosion was a mystery for nearly 18 hours. Workers inside the Firestone facility reported hearing the blast about 2:30 a.m. Thursday, but the damaged pipeline was not located until 7 p.m.

ROY WATKINS JACK ALEXANDER School Patrons To Elect Area Trustees Saturday

Big Spring and surrounding areas join with other Texans Saturday in electing school

Voters in the Big Spring Independent School District will ballot at the Senior High School, Kate Morrison School, and Gay Hill School between the hours of 8 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Candidates are James (Jimmy) Felts and James Cape, incumbents, and Roy Watkins and Jack Alexander. The Big Spring Senior High voting box will be located on the east side of the building, easily accessible from the east parking lot by the door near the flag pole. Cape, a life underwriter, has been a resident of Big Spring

gram started." he said, "and would like to continue to see these things through to a conclusion. I appreciate the opportunity to serve during the past year, and I would like to have the chance to make whatever contribution I can during a full elective term. I believe that this is a responsible position and one to which a citizen ought to aspire to do what he can to help out children. I will pledge my best." Felts came to Howard County in 1946 and has been a technician with Reef Corporation for 14 years. He has been active in vouth work, including seven years as a unit leader in Scout-

"If the voters of the district should favor me with re-election. I will strive to work with other trustees to advance the educational opportunities, and determine the policies that will be of the best interest of our students, our schools and our community," he said. "I think that our educational program at the present time is the best in the history of our schools; however, we must continue to improve to match the progress in our nation. "The present expansion program in our schools is nearing completion. Since having been on the board of trustees prior ing, and served on the board at to the initial bond plans, I would,

BY CHARLES H. GOREN | reasoned that unless West held the ace of trumps, there was virtually no hope defeating the contract, East wished to retain his small trump for ruffing purposes.

-CHARLES H. GOREN

When the king of hearts did, in fact, win the trick, East was confronted with a new problem-how to get West in for the spade ruff? He must hold either the ace of diamonds or the ace of clubs in order to have a quick entry, and it was up to East to guess which suit offered the better prospect of hitting partner. He might just as well have flipped a coin, however, his decision finally, to lead a diamond, was based on a psychological consideration. He was not certain if West was aware of his desire to ruff a spade, and he felt that a diamond return was more apt to alert partner since it was a 'lead into North's strength, whereas the club shift would appear to be the more orthodox play. While East's reasoning may appear a bit specious to some, it met with a happy fate. West produced the ace of diamonds and he came back with another spade which his partner ruffed with the nine of hearts. West's ace trick. It was his desire to of trumps subsequently took obtain a spade ruff and he the setting trick.

To Voters of the Big Spring School District

Saturday you will choose two trustees for the Big Spring Independent School district, and I earnestly ask you to give me the honor of one of those places. For years I have been vitally concerned with our schools, and I have worked in behalf of them. Now, with the master plan which the community provided in its final phases, I feel that the time is right to offer my service in an official capacity.

My own career has involved working with management and personnel, I have come to appreciate the importance of mutual respect and communication. I also appreciate the complexity of education and the need for good professional people as a key approach in achieving educational excellence for all our children. I promise to do my best to work conscientiously at

MARCHING ORDERS GIVEN IN SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The marching orders of Christianity are contained in the International Sunday School lesson based on the first chapter of Acts, and specifically on Acts 1:1-11.

Center of the lesson is in the ascension of Christ and His commission to the disciples. Here is a clear-cut call to obedience - joyful obedience. Luke undoubtedly is continuing the account which he started in the synoptic Gospel bearing his name. He stresses the Holy Spirit. He recalled the things which Christ began and taught, and which continue (through the Holy Spirit). Luke is the only writer to give an account of the ascension. but to him is was a vital capstone. He establishes that Christ arose and spent 40 days among His followers because the fact of an empty tomb was not enough for their finite minds. Too, they must realize that God was seeking to establish a rule in the hearts of men, that this is done not as a belief in a creed but in a person -Angelic voices which were present to announce His birth were present also to proclaim His ascension and His eventual return. But Luke warns against obsession with the time, stressing instead the commission to spread the message at home, in the area, and "to the uttermost parts of the world." These are not isolated ministries, but part of the whole the command to "be witnesses" and the promise of power and authority for those who obey it.

A Devotional For The Day

If a man die, shall he live again? (Job 14:14) PRAYER: O God, we thank Thee for the great and living hope that is ours in Jesus Christ, the risen Lord. In that hope enable us by Thy grace to live, love, and serve. In His name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

An Odd Directive

An argument of substantial importance has been going on in Saigon between war correspondents and U.S. authorities, although it has received only scant notice in the United States. Now a reconciliation of sorts has been achieved.

The argument began when one reporter discovered the existence of a memorandum being circulated among top military and diplomatic officials. That memorandum authorized U.S. military police to detain, question and arrest U.S. civilian personnel in Vietnam. Furthermore, charges arising from such arrests could be tried by military courts - martial. Newsmen immediately interpreted this as a threat to their freedom of movement and, indirectly, to their freedom to report without interference from U.S. military authorities.

U.S. officials were embarrassed by the discovery of the memorandum.
When confronted by the fact they backed and filled and insisted that in any event trials of civilians in military courts would be a rare occurrence indeed.

point with this question: Is a U.S. civilian, carrying a valid passport in a country which he is permitted to visit by a valid visa, in an area where the U.S. has not declared war, is such a civilian subject to U.S. military control? No American official was willing to give a straightforward answer to that nettlesome question. For the newsmen were arguing in effect that the power of arrest and of trial of U.S. civilians in Vietnam resided solely with the government of Vietnam.

The question was quietly laid to rest when the U.S. Embassy "clarified" the membrandum by saying that the authority of U.S. military policemen to arrest and charge U.S. civilians for offenses punishable in military courts would not apply to American citizens in Vietnam in a private capacity, nor to American news correspondents. But the embassy spokesman did say that the memorandum did cover all Americans whose salaries were paid by the military or those employed by construction and engineering companies under contract to the U.S. government, and to American merchant seamen visiting here aboard ships For their part, newsmen made a bringing in U.S. government cargo.

Sen. Brook's New Position

One thesis concerning the stubborn refusal of North Vietnam to consider coming to the conference table is that Ho Chi Minh believes that there is a deep cleavage of opinion in the United States that time is on his side. If this is true, then the experience of Sen, Edward Brooke (R-Mass) should be revealing. A skeptic of U.S. Policy, Sen. Brooke went to Vietnam and based on his experiences there, he returned to align himself staunchly on the side of those who believe there is no alternative to continued military pressure so long as the aggressor persists in furnishing supplies and manpower to the Viet Cong. He said Ho Chi Minh had shown no indication of a willingness to negotiate, and this left no alternative but to continue In clear tones, he said that Ho Chi Minh makes a tragic mistake if he counts upon disunity in America to help him win the war. This is not something academic, for Sen. Brooke sought eagerly but vainly when in Cambodia to meet with some repre-sentative of North Vietnam—but he was snubbed. This helped convince a gentleman with dove inclinations, and he was bold enough to restate his po-

WASHINGTON - When the 90th Congress broke for its Easter vacation, it could claim only three ac-complishments worth noting—not one of which declared President Johnson to be the strong man of 1963-65.

The longest-fought bill was one floor-managed by Sen. Monroney (D., Okla.) on Congressional reorganization. It would have passed with little commotion except for an endless number of foolish amendments jaw-boned interminably by Sen. Joe Clark (D., Pa.). It was a measure which related entirely to the internal affairs of the lawmakers and which had nothing to do with the Great So-

THE MOST-reported bill was the Consular Treaty with Russia. It barely gained its necessary two-thirds majority for ratification in the Senate. This pact has been lying around for three years and would have remained in limbo except for the odd reversal of GOP Floor Leader Dirksen who withdrew his powerful opposition. Thus it was a Republican, not the Democratic president, who put it

THE THIRD action of any mem-orableness whatever was the voting of an additional $12.2 billion to continue the Vietnam War. This appropriation was a routine certainty and significantly, it did not carry any blank-check approval of the President's past, present and future war plans, as was true with the Gulf of Tonkin resolution. Congress is sup-

Billy Graham

I am afraid to die, and even afraid to live, but if I come to God because I have fear, isn't that the wrong motive? E. W.

I wouldn't say so. Fear is not a bad thing. In fact it is nature's built-in mechanism for our safety. Fear of fire keeps you from getting burnt. Fear of height may keep you from being careless when in high places, Fear of poverty causes you to work and save. Fear of an accident makes you drive carefully. Fear of sickness makes you guard your health. Just so, an awe of God may cause you to seek Him, and to come to terms with Him. As a matter of fact, faith in God is a cure for the fears that are negative and paralyze us. Over and over again our Lord said, "Fear not."

"Fear not I am with Thee."
"Fear not I have redeemed thee." "Thou shalt fear no evil for I am with thee."

"Fear not little flock." There are two kinds of fears: justi-fied and unjustified. Faith in God is a cure for unnecessary fear, The truth is: If we are not with God we have reason to fear, and the wise person will not live long in this kind of fear when God is waiting to forgive and redeem him. But the other day, in loud clear tones at a private press gathering, a national reporter blurted forth: "There's only one man who can possibly beat Johnson next year, and the Republicans haven't got sense enough to nominate him. I mean Nelson Rockefeller."

Shortly thereafter, a still - small voice out of the White House told a friend: "There's only one man who could give the President any trouble next year. He says he's taken himself out of the race, but don't you believe it. I mean Nelson Rockefeller."

IF YOU put things side by side, you get the diagram. Despite the oft-cited example of how President Truman stormed through to victory in 1948, that analogy is losing validity for 1968. As matters stand today, the Congress isn't "do little," but the President is, What's he got to show for the Great Society in the fourth month of this running year? The reason Rockefeller's name keeps coming up is that the New York governor has a new lease on political life, whereas the President seems to be living on the accomplishments he stashed away in the last half of the 88th Congress and the first half of the 89th.

ROCKEFELLER, by no means without international experience in both politics and business, is as staunch as Johnson is about Vietnam. If it comes to foreign policy, the governor is closer to Barry Goldwater and Richard Nixon than ever before, and seems to be drifting farther from George Romney as the clock ticks on.

The showdown is a long way off. But Republican president - makers are beginning to fear that Rockefeller might not be available when the time comes, and their Democratic counterparts are beginning to fear that he

It's all settled now. We're going on daylight saving time at the end of our clocks an hour. SO FAR SO good. Now when it comes to turning back the bed covers an hour earlier-these will be the times that try men's souls. There are those who suspect that the alarm clock makers and the coffee grinders have been at the bottom of this change all along. This may even create a boom in answering services for a call to awaken you, another to get you out of bed, and a third to make sure that you stay out.

April, and that means we'll turn up

IF YOU are a 7 o'clock riser, this means that you will be putting your feet on the floor at our present 6 a.m. That's not so bad, because it's all relative if you go to bed an hour earlier in the evening. The only trouble is that most of us base our bedtime more or less on time elapsed since sundown. Nevertheless, the big bonus in the earlier rising is that millions of people will, for the first time, realize that the sun comes up early in the morning. They may even be-come rabid boosters of sunrise beauty.

WHILE THE advanced start in the morning may have some difficulties at first, it shouldn't be insurmountable. The real adjustment will come later in the day-for instance the 10 o'clock coffee break at about the time when a lot of people have been used to settling down to work on a new day.

THE SHANK of the day, however, will separate the "ayes" from the "nays." Those who are garden enthusiasts will applaud the extra hour of sunlight in the evening. Long after they have been accustomed to retreating under the shades of night, they may chop weeds, cut grass, trim hedges, etc. This should be sheer joy for those who revel in the soil, but for those who are driven to this sort of work by exhuberant wives, it will be an extra hour of misery.

On the other hand, think how the fishermen will delight. They can get off at five and get in three, instead of two, hours of fishing. The same goes for golfers, and other outdoor sportsmen. But what about the fishing and golfing widows-how will they welcome this business.

FOR A TIME it may seem odd getting out of church with the sunball still in the sky, but then we'll become accustomed to that. On the otherhand, what's this going to do to the time-honored custom of courting, which somehow seldom reaches full flower until cloaked in the drapes of

This should be an interesting experience, and at this stage about all we can say is with the songster-"there'll be some changes made."

David Lawrence Collective Bargaining Faces Test

WASHINGTON - A wave of serious strikes is likely this year. All signs point to interruptions in work which will cost the nation plenty of money apart from the inconvenience and indirect damage to persons not involved in the disputes. Oddly enough, even though this threat to the economic stability of the nation has been intermittent for many years, nothing has been done by Congress, as the representative of the people, to provide a constructive al-

JAMES J. Reynolds, Undersecretary of Labor, made a significant observation a few days ago on the whole problem that faces the country. He

"This year, and particularly the next month to six weeks, will be a crucial testing ground for free collective bargaining as an institution in our 'society." Union agreements in rubber, trucking and railroads will come up for renewal in a few weeks. In September the three auto companies face strike threats. Major contracts involving 3.1 million workers will expire this year.

IT HAS long been conceded that workers have a right to organize unions. Large groups with the strike weapon in their hands, however, are able to disrupt the economic system by forcing higher prices which the public is sometimes unable to meet. Then demand declines and the result is unemployment among union workers in other industries as well. An examination of the collectivebargaining process, moreover, reveals that it has weaknesses which have gone unremedied.

REPEATED EFFORTS have been made in recent years to get legislative action on these problems. Compulsory arbitration has been advocated, but both labor and management have offered objections. The government has sometimes stepped in when the "public interest" has been threatened. Such action, however, has been limited to situations in which interruptions to transportation or electricpower facilities have been threatened. Existing laws provide for "coolingoff" periods and for "fact-finding boards," but these moves have come to be viewed as part of the gambling process. Final offers are not made until the government has used up its measures requiring the use of advisory or mediation tribunals.

PICKET LINES, established by one union, are respected by other labor groups, even though the latter have no connection with the dispute and have not attempted through their leaders to form a judgment as to whether the striking union is right in what it is doing. Present - day theory is that, when a picket line has been formed, it is as valid as if it had been authorized by a court order. Nor is there any method available by which the proposals of management and labor can be examined instantly as to their fairness and equity if a strike is threatened or called. Collective bargaining remains a form of collective bludgeoning, and the innocent bystander pays the penalty.

WHY ISN'T something done about it by Congress? The simple answer is that the labor unions, with 17 million members, control a majority of both houses by means of campaign contributions. The other 100 million persons of voting age have never banded themselves together to elect a Congress that will prescribe a system of collective bargaining to protect the rights and equity of all the citizens. Anti-Missile Argument Grows

WASHINGTON - In the great nuclear poker game the two principal players are being prodded by eager beavers. Table stakes in the present round are bigger than ever and whether the game goes to a showdown is the most important single decision in this year of decisions.

The President hopes that by negotiation with Moscow both nuclear giants will agree to foreswear installing antiballistic missile systems. The cost for each side will be not less than $30 billion and probably a great deal more. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is convinced that with each side raising the offensive ante as defense systems are installed the effort will be entirely wasted.

THE LATEST prodding comes from Dr. Harold M. Agnew, Weapons Division Leader, at the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory in New Mexico. This is where the nuclear age came to birth and a powerful team of scientists has worked ever since on more and more advanced weapons systems. Speaking at the recent Air Force Association convention in San Francisco and in a subsequent interview, Agnew urged an immediate go ahead with an ABM system.

AGNEW SAID he was speaking as a citizen rather than as leader of the Weapons Division. But, whether intended or not, his was the voice of a powerful scientific complex with a direct stake in the unceasing development of every potential weapon born in the laboratory. The familiar argument is that these scientific teams will be broken up if they are not allowed to work. After all, he said in a telephone conversation with this reporter, you can't mothball people.

INTERESTINGLY enough. Agnew chose to speak to the Air Force Association. In his warning in his farewell address against the unwarranted influence of the military-industrial complex, former President Eisenhower could well have had the association in mind. The governing body, the Council, is a tight, interlocking directorate of the highest officers in the Air Force and the aircraft industry. The industry largely underwrites the association.

THE POWER of the big defense contractors to influence the ABM decision is great. A recent advertisement by an investment analysis firm was headed "Nike X: $30 Billion for Whom?" It listed 28 companies with large defense contracts that "could profit handsomely" if a full-scale ABM system is installed. Fred Collins in the New Republic broke this down to show that companies on the list have 300 plants in 42 states and 172 Congressional districts, with a minimum of 1,000,000 employes. That adds up to a lot of political influence and particularly if a recession slows employment.

AFTER ALL, Agnew says, we've proved we can spend large amounts on the war in Southeast Asia, so why is such a sum any hindrance? But, as McNamara has made clear to Congressional committees, that is merely a down payment on a price tag that' will eventually be at least $40 billion. Already the political wrangling has begun over what cities to protect, with a bottomless pit opening up for the expenditure of incalculable bil-

Sober, knowledgeable men, Secretary McNamara among them, have looked into that pit. They see if the newest round in the nuclear race is not forestalled a garrison state and a spiralling threat of nuclear war. (Copyright, 1967, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship, It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his ewn sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Incidentally, I admire Jimmy Clark and I am interested in everything he does. When he brushes his teeth or rides his tricycle, or climbs the sliding board at the playground I admire his concentration and his careful workmanship. And when he cuddles into his Daddy's lap at bedtime or walks hand in hand with him up the church steps on Sunday he looks like an angel.

I think you have guessed it by now, haven't you? I'm Jimmy's mother - and a doting mother at that. I think Jimmy could accomplish just about anything . . . doctor, lawyer, merchant; why he might be President some day.

But whatever he becomes, I want him to be a good man; strong and true of character, firm in his principles. I want him to have God as his partner. That's why I go to church every Sunday and take Jimmy. It's the best insurance I know for a happy and fulfilled life.

WEEPY NOTE

More Rain Forecast

March closed its tenure on a weepy note Friday. Heavy overcast and a drizzle which was more like a heavy mist brought a damp finale to the

Officially, the rain had measured .05 inch at the U.S. Experiment Station to 8 a.m. A little shower of some intensity, which hit unexpectedly in midevening Thursday, probably accounted for most of this measurable moisture.

Cooler Temperatures

The temperatures were much cooler than has been the rule of the past several days when all time highs for the dates were scored.

The forecast calls for even better chances of rain late today and tonight and some prospect for moisture Saturday. About 20 per cent probability of rains was posted

by the Weather Bureau for the two days. Apparently the moisture here so far is about on a parity with that in all parts of the county.

Heavier Elsewhere

So far this area has not cashed in on the heavier rains which are said to be soaking ranchlands and farm fields in critically dry West Texas counties

Most of the state was cloudy and there was a lit-tle drizzle at a number of places.

Early morning temperatures dipped as low as 34 degrees at Dalhart, in the Panhandle and behind a weak cool front stretching from near Childress toward Presidio and into Mexico. Readings elsewhere ran as high as 73 at Corpus Christi.

Thunderstorms Blustered

Scattered showers and thunderstorms blustered along the frontal zone during the night and early morning. Weather Bureau detected the heaviest rains in an area 150 miles long by 50 miles wide between Andrews and Guthrie.

Up to 1.6 inches of rain drenched the area around Lamesa. Considerable hail accompanied it but there was no report of damage.

Unofficial Amounts

Unofficial amounts elsewhere included Seminole .75 inch and Andrews .25, while the official gauge measured .11 at Childress.

Scattered showers were expected to continue in Northwest Texas, with a few developing late in the day in areas east of the Pecos River.

City Has 22 Absentees

There have been 22 absentee votes cast in the Big Spring City Commission election through noon today, however Charles Smith, city secretary, said six other residents had picked up ballots and may cast them before the deadline today.

He said absentee ballots mailed to his office must have a postmark of today in order to be valid. The election will be held at four fire stations Tuesday, and seven candidates are seeking the two

The Order of Railroad Conductors and Brakemen had called a walkout for 12:01 a.m. Saturday. The judge's order will last until April 10. A hearing on an injunction against the strike was scheduled for April 7.

Conductors To Obey?

James E, Wolfe, head of railroad management's team of negotiators, said: "We would expect the conductors to obey the court order."

Union leaders, captained by President Clyde F. Lane, had announced Wednesday in Clear Rapids, Iowa, that the organization's 18,500 members would leave their jobs at a minute after midnight Saturday in a dispute over health and medical insur-

Consular Treaty Inked

WASHINGTON (AP)-President Johnson signed today without comment or fanfare the consular treaty with the Soviet Union.

The agreement will not take full effect until it is ratified by the Soviet Union, an action that may be some months away.

New Savagery Of War Hikes Combat Losses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new savagery of the Vietnam war has propelled U.S. combat deaths to levels 66 per cent above last year's average week-ly losses. Communist fatalities are reported up 80 per cent.

A study of Pentagon figures this year are averaging 160 a week, compared with 96 in 1966. Enemy dead the first 12 weeks of 1967 has averaged about 1,800, compared with about 1,000 last year.

Communist forces are suffering even greater casualties in proportion to their strength.

The military estimates the Communists have sustained 33,-000 wounded in addition to 22,000 dead thus far this year. GUESSWORK

Military spokesmen admit the count of enemy dead is far from precise, and at best a haphazard and sometimes extrapolated estimate of bodies found on the battlefield. The wounded count is pure guesswork. Nev-ertheless, officials believe the rough tally is useful in assessing the impact of the war on the enemy's force levels.

The toll of 55,000 amounts to nearly 20 per cent of the enemy's 1967 average strength of

By contrast the over-all U.S. casualties the first quarter of this year — 14,100 including 1,916 killed and 12,184 wounded represent 3.5 per cent of the 1967 average strength, 404,000. SAME RATE

If U.S. casualties continued at the same rate in relation to troop strength for the remainder of 1967, they would total for the year about 15.2 per cent of average strength.

Last year's 35,000 casualties represented about 12.7 per cent of the average U.S. troop strength during 1966.

Earlier this year, Ambassador to Vietnam Henry Cabot Lodge predicted that "the percentage of American casualties will start declining. DEADLY TEMPO

The current deadly tempo of fighting was illustrated Thursday as the military command in Saigon announced the United States suffered a record 274 men killed in fighting last week. This compares with the Korean war's weekly average of 255 over 37 months.

At the current rate of losses, the United States could sustain 61,000 casualties this year, approaching Korea's first and most bloody 12 months of battle.

Projecting the first quarter's weekly averages of killed and wounded through 1967 escalates U.S. losses to 8,320 killed and 52,-780 wounded for the year. Korea's first year claimed 74,700 casualties - 21,000 killed and

53,700 wounded. If this projection held true, the American commitment of life and limb in Southeast Asia since 1961 would surge by the end of this year to 104,482 casualties - 14,964 dead, 89,518

More Youth Nominations

More people are interested in seeing that youth leaders get recognition. More nominations came today for the Zale-Herald Youth Achievement Award. which will go to the top boy or girl senior or junior in any of the county's three high schools -Big Spring, Coahoma and For-

Latest nominees are Charles Macklin, a Big Spring senior, and Kathey Bryan, junior in the local school.

Anyone can nominate a boy or girl for this top community honor, but The Herald nomination form (on Page 7-A today) must be used. A supplementary letter is permissible.

A large trophy and engraved watch will be presented at a public banquet to the young person who, according to a panel of adult judges, best shows extraordinary leadership and con-tribution of time and talent in church, school and community

Names of some young people have been submitted numerous times. There is no rule against this, and nominations are completely open. However, sponsors of the contest point out that the Youth Achievement Award is not a "popularity contest," and will not be decided on number of so-called "votes." Judges will make their selection strictly on their opinion as to the youth making the greatest unselfish

To Back LBJ, Humphrey Gov. Connally Nixes Permian College Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally has told three West Texas legislators he "cannot support passage" of a bill aimed at creating a regional four-year college district in the Midland-Odessa area.

Bills authorizing creation of such districts are pending in both the House and Senate.

Connally, in a March 30 letter to Rep. Ace Pickens of Odessa said: "Although your bill proposes that the entire cost of this four-year institution will be borne by the taxpayers in the West Texas counties included in the bill, it would nevertheless have an unquestioned impact on the education base and structure of the entire State of Texas.

MASTER PLAN "This factor and all of the others which we discussed were considered by the coordinating board in the recent hearing it held on the request for a fouryear institution in the Midland-Odessa area. You know, of course, that the Coordinating Board concluded that in ligh of its work on the master plan for higher education, it could not during this present session of the Texas Legislature recommend favorable action on a four-year institution in your area. "But the Coordinating Board made it abundantly clear that the educational needs of that area would be thoroughly studied, reviewed and considered in conjunction with its planning. I am confident that all of these needs will be taken care of in the master plan that is ultimately devised.

HEADLINE NOTED Connally said he sent the letter because apparently there had been some misunderstanding from a conversation the governor had Wednesday with Pickens and Reps. Randy Pendleton of Andrews and Dick Slack of Pecos. Pendleton and Slack were sent copies of the letter.

misunderstanding was reflected (See COLLEGE, Pg. 6-A, Col. 1)

State Chiefs Give Johnson Two Ovations

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., appealed today for Democratic unity behind President Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to insure a Democratic victory in the 1968 elec-

"I know that all of you are going to work for them as I am going to work for them in 1968." Kennedy told a breakfast meeting of Democratic state chairmen and vice chairmen, sponsored by the New York State Democratic Committee. BROTHERS

He said, "We are brothers together, we can work together." Then he added that "we have a strong team in President Johnson and Vice President Humphrey." The important thing, he said, is to insure the continuation of a Democratic administration in Washington.

Kennedy admitted there are "differences within the Democratic party." But he said "that is part of our strength."

The chairmen are winding up two days of meetings today after giving President Johnson two standing ovations for an hourlong defense of his domestic and

GET TO WORK Johnson told the chairmen Thursday night "to get to work and make sure the people know where the credit belongs" for a record he termed unmatched in American history. But listeners reported the greatest applause came when Johnson talked about Vietnam.

They said he reported that, while in Guam last week, he asked the U.S. commander in Vietnam, Gen. William C. West-G moreland, whether the United States could stop bombing North Vietnam.

"He said for every bomb we drop we blow up a truck with 500 rockets that can't fire shrapnel and steel into the hips of American boys," Johnson was quoted as saying. Secret Servicemen blocked reporters from a corridor outside the room in which he was speaking. BIG SURPRISE

New York State Democrats dropped the biggest surprise into the two-day session, a followup to one earlier in the month for national committeemen and women, when they distributed invitations to breakfast today and passed the word Kennedy would appear.

The New York senator, a critic of Johnson's Vietnam policy, has pledged to campaign for Johnson next year and has indicated through aides he would sign an affidavit if necessary saying he is not a presidential candidate:

Kennedy aides were in evidence Thursday but said they were only observers and took no active part in discussions between the chairmen and national committee officials.

School Patrons To Elect Area Trustees Saturday

Big Spring and surrounding areas join with other Texans Saturday in electing school

Voters in the Big Spring Independent School District will balot at the Senior High School, Kate Morrison School, and Gay Hill School between the hours of 8 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Candidates are James (Jimmy) Felts and James Cape, incumbents, and Roy Watkins and Jack Alexander.

The Big Spring Senior High voting box will be located on the east side of the building, easily accessible from the east parking lot by the door near the flag pole.

Cape, a life underwriter, has been a resident of Big Spring since 1953, was formerly a state director and local officer of the Jaycees, headed the Howard and has worked on numerous community projects. "We have an ambitious program started," he said, "and would like to continue to see these things through to a conclusion. I appreciate the opportunity to serve during the past year, and I would like to have the chance to make whatever contribution I can during a full elective term. I believe that this is a responsible position and one to which a citizen ought to aspire to do what he can to help out children. I will pledge my best." Felts came to Howard County in 1946 and has been a technician with Reef Corporation for 14 years. He has been active in youth work, including seven years as a unit leader in Scouting, and served on the board at

County Rehabilitation Center, Gay Hill before it was annexed like to follow this important by the Big Spring district. He was named to the local board in 1962, then was re-elected in

> "If the voters of the district should favor me with re-electjon, I will strive to work with other trustees to advance the educational opportunities, and determine the policies that will be of the best interest of our students, our schools and our community," he said, "I think that our educational program at the present time is the best in the history of our schools; however, we must continue to improve to match the progress in our nation. "The present expansion program in our schools is nearing completion. Since having been on the board of trustees prior to the initial bond plans, I would step through to the end. I feel that my past seven years experience as a school board nember will be of benefit in the future. I seek re-election with no obligations or commitments to any persons, groups or political affiliations.

ORANGE, Tex. (AP) - A dynamite blast heavily damaged a high-pressure 16-inch natural gas line just outside the Firestone Petrochemical Center on chemical row here Thursday.

"If that pipeline had exploded there wouldn't be enough funeral homes in the whole area to handle the bodies," Sheriff Chester

A. Holts said. A 600-pound per square inch ethylene gas line only three feet away from the blast area was endangered. Location of the explosion was a mystery for neary 18 hours. Workers inside the Firestone facility reported hearing the plast about 2:30 a.m. Thursday, but the damaged pipeline was not located until 7 p.m.

PREDICTION

PREDICTION

If the House finally passes the bill, it will return to the Senate for action on the Nugent amendment. Murray predicted the Senate would reject the change, requiring a conference committee to work out the difference.

The bill provides for the Water Rights Commission to settle water rights within all or part of a river basin on its own motion or on petition of the water development board or of 10 or more water users in the basin.

To Voters of the Big Spring School District

Saturday you will choose two trustees for the Big Spring Independent School district, and I earnestly ask you to give me the honor of one of those places. For years I have been vitally concerned with our schools, and I have worked in behalf of them. Now, with the master plan which the community provided in its final phases, I feel that the time is right to offer my service in an official capacity. My own career has involved working with management and personnel. I have come to appreciate the importance of mutual respect and communication. I also appreciate the complexity of education and the need for good professional people as a key approach in achieving educational excellence for all our children.

I promise to do my best to work conscientiously at job.

I am asking your support Saturday as a trustee of the Big Spring Independent School

My close associates and other friends know that I am no axe-grinder, but that I am interested in a level-headed, fair and intelligent course in bringing our children constantly better schools.

I am proud of what our people have done to provide buildings and equipment, and I am grateful to the good teachers and administrators who dedicate their lives to doing this job.

My wife and I have had four children go through Big Spring schools and have two still in the system. For this and other reasons, I have a deep interest in the welfare of our schools and respectfully ask that you allow me to serve them

Men and women of many occupational skills and Christian commitment are sought by the Methodist Board of Missions in 1967 to carry out a wide variety of tasks in the mission of the church. MARCHING ORDERS GIVEN IN SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The marching orders of Christianity are contained in the International Sunday School lesson based on the first chapter of Acts, and specifically on Acts 1:1-11.

Center of the lesson is in the ascension of Christ and His commission to the disciples. Here is a clear-cut call to obedience - joyful obedience. Luke undoubtedly is continuing the account which he started in the synoptic Gospel bearing his name. He stresses the Holy Spirit. He recalled the things which Christ began and taught, and which continue (through the Holy Spirit). Luke is the only writer to give an account of the ascension, but to him is was a vital capstone.

He establishes that Christ arose and spent 40 days among His followers because the fact of an empty tomb was not enough for their finite minds. Too, they must realize that God was seeking to establish a rule in the hearts of men, that this is done not as a belief in a creed but in a person -

Angelic voices which were present to announce His birth were present also to proclaim His ascension and His eventual return. But Luke warns against obsession with the time, stressing instead the commission to spread the message at home, in the area, and "to the uttermost parts of the world." These are not isolated ministries, but part of the whole the command to "be witnesses" and the promise of power and authority for those who obey it.

. An Odd Directive

An argument of substantial importance has been going on in Saigon between war correspondents and U.S. authorities, although it has received only scant notice in the United States. Now a reconciliation of sorts has been achieved

The argument began when one reporter discovered the existence of a memorandum being circulated among top military and diplomatic officials: That memorandum authorized U.S. military police to detain, question and arrest U.S. civilian personnel in Vietnam. Furthermore, charges arising from such arrests could be tried by military courts - martial. Newsmen immediately interpreted this as a threat to their freedom of movement and, indirectly, to their freedom to report without interference from U.S. military authorities.

U.S. officials were embarrassed by the discovery of the memorandum. When confronted by the fact they backed and filled and insisted that in any event trials of civilians in military courts would be a rare occur-

For their part, newsmen made a point with this question: Is a U.S. civilian, carrying a valid passport in a country which he is permitted to visit by a valid visa, in an area where the U.S. has not declared war, is such a civilian subject to U.S. military control? No American official was willing to give a straightforward answer to that nettlesome question. For the newsmen were arguing in effect that the power of arrest and of trial of U.S. civilians in Vietnam resided solely with the government of Vietnam.

The question was quietly laid to rest when the U.S. Embassy "clarified" the memorandum by saying that the authority of U.S. military policemen to arrest and charge U.S. civilians for offenses punishable in military courts would not apply to American citizens in Vietnam in a private capacity, nor to American news correspondents. But the embassy spokesman did say that the memorandum did cover all Americans whose salaries were paid by the military or those employed by construction and engineering companies under contract to the U.S. government, and to American merchant seamen visiting here aboard ships bringing in U.S. government cargo.

Sen. Brook's New Position

One thesis concerning the stubborn refusal of North Vietnam to consider coming to the conference table is that Ho Chi Minh believes that there is a deep cleavage of opinion in the United States that time is on his side.

If this is true, then the experience of Sen. Edward Brooke (R-Mass) should be revealing. A skeptic of U.S. Policy, Sen. Brooke went to Vietnam and based on his experiences there, he returned to align himself staunchly on the side of those who believe there is no alternative to continued military pressure so long as the aggressor persists in furnishing supplies and manpower to the Viet Cong. He said Ho Chi Minh had shown no indication of a willingness to negotiate, and this left no alternative but to continue.

In clear tones, he said that Ho Chi Minh makes a tragic mistake if he counts upon disunity in America to help him win the war. This is not something academic, for Sen. Brooke sought eagerly but vainly when in Cambodia to meet with some representative of North Vietnam-but he was snubbed. This helped convince a gentleman with dove inclinations, and he was bold enough to restate his po-

Holmes Alexander Rockefeller The Man To Beat LBJ?

WASHINGTON - When the 90th Congress broke for its Easter vacation, it could claim only three ac-complishments worth noting—not one of which declared President Johnson to be the strong man of 1963-65.

The longest-fought bill was one floor-managed by Sen. Monroney (D., Okla.) on Congressional reorganization. It would have passed with little commotion except for an end-less number of foolish amendments jaw-boned interminably by Sen. Joe Clark (D., Pa.). It was a measure which related entirely to the internal affairs of the lawmakers and which had nothing to do with the Great Society.

THE MOST-reported bill was the Consular Treaty with Russia. It barely gained its necessary two-thirds majority for ratification in the Senate. This pact has been lying around for three years and would have remained in limbo except for the odd reversal of GOP Floor Leader Dirksen who withdrew his powerful opposition. Thus it was a Republican, not the Democratic president, who put it

THE THIRD action of any mem-orableness whatever was the voting of an additional $12.2 billion to continue the Vietnam War. This appropriation was a routine certainty and, significantly, it did not carry any blank-check approval of the Presi-dent's past, present and future war plans, as was true with the Gulf of Tonkin resolution. Congress is sup-

Billy Graham

I am afraid to die, and even afraid to live, but if I come to God because I have fear, isn't that the wrong motive? E.W.

I wouldn't say so. Fear is not a bad thing. In fact it is nature's built-in mechanism for our safety. Fear of fire keeps you from getting burnt. Fear of height may keep you from being careless when in high places. Fear of poverty causes you to work and save. Fear of an accident makes you drive carefully. Fear of sickness makes you guard your health. Just so, an awe of God may cause you to seek Him, and to come to terms with Him. As a matter of fact, faith in God is a cure for the fears that are negative and paralyze us. Over and over again our Lord said, "Fear not."

"Fear not I am with Thee."
"Fear not I have redeemed thee." "Thou shalt fear no evil for I am with thee."

"Fear not little flock." There are two kinds of fears; justified and unjustified. Faith in God is a cure for unnecessary fear, Th trith is: If we are not with God we have reason to fear, and the wise person will not live long in this kind of fear when God is waiting to forgive and redeem him. Solomon said, "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom."

porting the President in Vietnam, but with an uncertain trumpet which occasionally gives off sour notes of im-lation. The season of perilous predictions and lunatic laments lies far ahead. But the other day, in loud clear tones at a private press gathering, a national reporter blurted forth: "There's only one man who can possibly beat Johnson next year, and the Republicans haven't got sense enough to nominate him. I mean Nelson Rockefeller."

Shortly thereafter, a still - small voice out of the White House told a friend: "There's only one man who could give the President any trouble next year. He says he's taken himself out of the race, but don't you believe it. I mean Nelson Rockefeller."

IF YOU put things side by side, you get the diagram. Despite the oft-cited example of how President Truman stormed through to victory in 1948, that analogy is losing validity for 1968. As matters stand today, the Congress isn't "do little," but the President is. What's he got to show for the Great Society in the fourth month of this running year? The reason Rockefeller's name keeps coming up is that the New York governor has a new lease on political life, whereas the President seems to be living on the accomplishments he stashed away in the last half of the 88th Congress and the first half of the 89th.

ROCKEFELLER, by no means without international experience in both politics and business, is as staunch as Johnson is about Vietnam. If it comes to foreign policy, the governor is closer to Barry Goldwater and Richard Nixon than ever before, and seems to be drifting farther from George Romney as the clock ticks on.

The showdown is a long way off. But Republican president - makers are beginning to fear that Rockefeller might not be available when the time comes, and their Democratic counterparts are beginning to fear that he

No Gate Crashers

NEW HYDE PARK, N.Y. On past experience, the railroad's signal engineers felt some driver would put the new fiber glass arm to the test in short order. But there hadn't been a gate accident at this station in the first three months after the experimental gate was installed.

Around The Rim

There'll Be Some Changes Made

It's all settled now. We're going on daylight saving time at the end of April, and that means we'll turn up our clocks an hour.

SO FAR SO good. Now when it comes to turning back the bed covers an hour earlier-these will be the times that try men's souls. There are those who suspect that the alarm clock makers and the coffee grinders have been at the bottom of this change all along. This may even create a boom in answering services for a call to awaken you, another to get you out of bed, and a third to make sure that you stay out.

IF YOU are a 7 o'clock riser, this means that you will be putting your feet on the floor at our present 6 a.m. That's not so bad, because it's all relative if you go to bed an hour earlier in the evening. The only trouble is that most of us base our bedtime more or less on time elapsed since sundown. Nevertheless, the big bonus in the earlier rising is that millions of people will, for the first time, realize that the sun comes up early in the morning. They may even become rabid boosters of sunrise beauty.

WHILE THE advanced start in the morning may have some difficulties at first, it shouldn't be insurmountable. The real adjustment will come later in the day-for instance the 10 o'clock coffee break at about the time when a lot of people have been used to settling down to work on a

THE SHANK of the day, however, will separate the "ayes" from the "nays." Those who are garden enthusiasts will applaud the extra hour of sunlight in the evening. Long after they have been accustomed to retreating under the shades of night, they may chop weeds, cut grass, trim hedges, etc. This should be sheer joy for those who revel in the soil, but for those who are driven to this sort of work by exhuberant wives, it will be an extra hour of misery.

On the other hand, think how the fishermen will delight. They can get off at five and get in three, instead of two, hours of fishing. The same goes for golfers, and other outdoor sportsmen. But what about the fishing and golfing widows—how will they welcome this business.

FOR A TIME it may seem odd getting out of church with the sunball still in the sky, but then we'll become accustomed to that. On the otherhand, what's this going to do to the time-honored custom of courting, which somehow seldom reaches full flower until cloaked in the drapes of

Collective Bargaining Faces Test

WASHINGTON - A wave of serious strikes is likely this year. All signs point to interruptions in work which will cost the nation plenty of money apart from the inconvenience and indirect damage to persons not

Union agreements in rubber, trucking and railroads will come up for renewal in a few weeks. In September the three auto companies face concentrate on being a house-maria Valente, one of Europe's volving 3.1 million workers will expire this year.

IT HAS long been conceded that workers have a right to organize unions. Large groups with the strike weapon in their hands, however, are able to disrupt the economic system by forcing higher prices which the public is sometimes unable to meet. Then demand declines and the result is unemployment among union workers in other industries as well.

An examination of the collectivebargaining process, moreover, reveals that it has weaknesses which have gone unremedied.

pulsory arbitration has been advocat-

REPEATED EFFORTS have been made in recent years to get legislative action on these problems. Com-

ed, but both labor and management have offered objections. The government has sometimes stepped in when the "public interest" has been threatened. Such action, however, has been limited to situations in which interruptions to transportation or electricpower facilities have been threatened. Existing laws provide for "coolingoff" periods and for "fact-finding boards," but these moves have come to be viewed as part of the gambling process. Final offers are not made until the government has used up its measures requiring the use of advisory or mediation tribunals.

PICKET LINES, established by one union, are respected by other labor groups, even though the latter have no connection with the dispute and have not attempted through their leaders to form a judgment as to whether the striking union is right in what it is doing.

Present - day theory is that, when a picket line has been formed, it is valid as if it had been authorized by a court order. Nor is there any method available by which the proposals of management and labor can be examined instantly as to their fairness and equity if a strike is threatened or called. Collective bargaining remains a form of collective bludgeoning, and the innocent bystander pays the penalty.

WHY ISN'T something done about it by Congress? The simple answer is that the labor unions, with 17 million members, control a majority of both houses by means of campaign contributions. The other 100 million persons of voting age have never banded themselves together to elect a Congress that will prescribe a system of collective bargaining to protect the rights and equity of all the citizens. Anti-Missile Argument Grows

WASHINGTON - In the great nuclear poker game the two principal players are being prodded by eager beavers. Table stakes in the present round are bigger than ever and whether the game goes to a showdown is the most important single decision in this year of decisions.

The President hopes that by negotiation with Moscow both nuclear giants will agree to foreswear installing antiballistic missile systems. The cost for each side will be not less than $30 billion and probably a great deal more. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is convinced that with each side raising the offensive ante as defense systems are installed the effort will be entirely wasted.

THE LATEST prodding comes from Dr. Harold M. Agnew, Weapons Division Leader, at the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory in New Mexico. This is where the nuclear age came to birth and a powerful team of scientists has worked ever since on more and more advanced weapons systems. Speaking at the recent Air Force Association convention in San Francisco and in a subsequent interview, Agnew urged an immediate go ahead with an ABM system.

AGNEW SAID he was speaking as a citizen rather than as leader of the Weapons Division. But, whether intended or not, his was the voice of a powerful scientific complex with a direct stake in the unceasing 'development of every potential weapon born in the laboratory. The familiar argument is that these scientific teams will be broken up if they are not allowed to work. After all, he said in a telephone conversation with this reporter, you can't mothball people.

INTERESTINGLY enough, Agnew chose to speak to the Air Force Association. In his warning in his farewell address against the unwarranted influence of the military-industrial complex, former President Eisenhower could well have had the association in mind. The governing body, the Council, is a tight, interlocking directorate of the highest officers in the Air Force and the aircraft industry. The industry largely underwrites the association

THE POWER of the big defense contractors to influence the ABM decision is great. A recent advertisement by an investment analysis firm was headed "Nike X: $30 Billion for" Whom?" It listed 28 companies with large defense contracts that "could profit handsomely" if a full-scale ABM system is installed. Fred Collins in the New Republic broke this down to show that companies on the list have 300 plants in 42 states and 172 Congressional districts, with a minimum of 1,000,000 employes. That adds up to a lot of political influence and particularly if a recession slows employment.

AFTER ALL, Agnew says, we've proved we can spend large amounts on the war in Southeast Asia, so why is such a sum any hindrance? But, as McNamara has made clear to Congressional committees, that is merely a down payment on a price tag that will eventually be at least $40 billion. Already the political wrangling has begun over what cities to protect, with a bottomless pit opening up for the expenditure of incalculable bil-

Sober, knowledgeable men, Secretary McNamara among them, have looked into that pit. They see if the newest round in the nuclear race is not forestalled a garrison state and a spiralling threat of nuclear war. (Copyright, 1967, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

ALL FOR THE CHURCH The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship, It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his ewn sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily. When Jimmy Clark crowned the tiny church with the steeple it touched

Incidentally, I admire Jimmy Clark and I am interested in everything he does. When he brushes his teeth or rides his tricycle, or climbs the sliding board at the playground I admire his concentration and his careful workmanship. And when he cuddles into his Daddy's lap at bedtime or walks hand in hand with him up the church steps on Sunday he looks like an angel.

I think you have guessed it by now, haven't you? I'm Jimmy's mother - and a doting mother at that. I think Jimmy could accomplish just about anything . . . doctor, lawyer, merchant; why he might be President some day.

But whatever he becomes, I want him to be a good man; strong and true of character, firm in his principles. I want him to have God as his partner. That's why I go to church every Sunday and take Jimmy. It's the best insurance I know for a happy and fulfilled life.
