

NEW TRUSTEES Alexander, Watkins Winners

In what apparently was a record turnout, voters of the Big Spring Independent School District Saturday decreed a change in the makeup of the board of trustees. Jack Alexander and Roy Watkins, both seeking office for the first time, emerged as top two men in a four-man race, besting the incumbents, James Cape and Jimmy Felts.

Alexander led the ticket with 1,048 votes, Watkins had 981, Cape 608 and Felts 585. The total vote in the three boxes — at Big Spring High School, Kate Morrison School and at Gay Hill — was 1,824, including absentee ballots. A check of records indicated this may have been the largest vote in a school trustee race. The total a year ago was 1,157. There were three write-in votes.

Alexander, a resident of the city since 1949, is sales representative in the asphalt division of American Petroleum. Watkins, who came here in 1953, is an employee of Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, and served for eight years as president of Local 826 of the IUOE.

WATKINS

Felts has been a member of the board since 1962, having served on the board at Gay Hill before that school was annexed to the Big Spring district. Cape was appointed to the board a little over a year ago, was seeking his first elective term.

The new members will be sworn in at the next meeting of the board, following official canvass of returns. Holdover members of the board are Joe Moss, president; Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper and Dr. Carl Marcum, whose terms expire a year hence; and Jerrie Currie and Grant Boardman, elected last year for three-year terms.

The vote by boxes:

	Alexander	Watkins	Cape	Felts
Big Spring	633	768	546	335
K. Morrison	98	97	30	9
Gay Hill	10	12	15	23
Absentee	107	104	17	18
Totals	1048	981	608	585

Reviewing the . . . Big Spring Week with Joe Pickle

A stepped-up pace on the construction front appeared to be shaping on the basis of news of the past week. The biggest item was an announcement by J. C. Penney Company of plans for a new store in Highland Center. This project, calling for 78,768 square feet of floor space (55,180 in a first floor, plus 4,526 in an automotive center, and 19,124 in the second floor), may be up for bids within 60 days or so. This will make it the largest single merchantile unit in the city.

Snake Victim

Bill Ransberger, veteran snake handler from Sweetwater, lies in his bed at Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital after a rattler bit him Saturday morning at the Rattlesnake Roundup. His condition is not serious and he planned to visit the snake show today in a wheelchair. The bandage on his leg covers the bite. More pictures on Page 6-A. (Photo by Frank Brandon)

Rattlers Bite Two, Hunt Ends Today

The rattlesnakes were making an attempt at getting the score even Saturday, when two men were bitten during the Rattlesnake Roundup sponsored by the Big Spring Jaycees. Neither man was in serious condition late Saturday.

Meanwhile, snake hunters were not having much luck finding snakes Saturday. Only 66 pounds were turned in, compared with about 1,000 pounds Friday.

22 HUNTING
However, the Jaycees reported 22 registered hunters are scouring the hillsides in an effort to bring in more poundage before the roundup ends at 5 p.m. today. The Pet-A-Zoo, location of the annual hunt, will open at noon today and there are hundreds of the snakes on display in the pits.

Jaycees estimated 1,000 persons visited the roundup grounds Saturday and more are expected today. Bill Ransberger, Sweetwater snake handler who was to conduct demonstrations Saturday and today, was bitten by one of the deadly vipers Saturday morning while getting ready to begin his part of the show.

FIRST AID
Jackie Geron, Ransberger's son-in-law, was in the pit with him at the time, and immediately administered first aid. A 3 1/2 foot rattler struck Ransberger in the calf of the leg above his protective boot. An alert ambulance took Ransberger to Malone and Hogan Clinic, where anti-venom serum was given. The clinic, as well as Ransberger, had a large supply of serum on hand in the event of such an emergency. Doctors said Ransberger would be allowed to visit the snake roundup grounds today in

Five Perish In Train Accident

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — Five persons perished and 205 were injured Saturday when a crowded passenger train smashed into a stalled truck at an unattended grade crossing near here. Twenty-five of the injured were reported in serious condition. Two coaches plunged 15 feet into the Onosalo River, one landing upside down, the other upright. The river was shallow, however and neither went under water. A third car dangled from a bridge over the river.

County Trustees Are Relected

J. D. Gilmore, Forsan, and H. H. Rutherford, Big Spring, were returned to the Howard County board of school trustees Saturday. Both were unopposed. Rutherford, with only one precinct and the absenteee rarer from, polled 33 votes. Gilmore, with a good part of Big Spring in his box, plus Forsan and Coahoma, got 676 votes. Gilmore polled 106 at Forsan, 119 at Coahoma and 451 in Big Spring. The Kate Morrison Box in Big Spring accounted for most of Rutherford's total.

3-Way Tie At Klondike

KLONDIKE (SC) — A second election seems in prospect to determine who will be trustees for the Klondike school district, since Saturday's voting ended in a three-way tie, with two places to be filled. Sixty-eight votes were cast.

Doy Ferguson, Bob Mitchell and T. R. O'Brien all came out with 34 votes, while Marion Phillips trailed with 20. There were 11 write-in votes, 10 for L. D. Freeman and one for Joe O'Brien.

T. R. O'Brien is an incumbent. Another, R. S. Spraberry, did not run this year.

Enemy Losses Are Pegged At 581

SAIGON (AP) — A detachment of 900 U.S. infantrymen — outnumbered more than two to one — hurled back Viet Cong human wave assaults with air and artillery help Saturday in a War Zone C battle that left 581 of the enemy dead on the field.

BUNKER FOUND
Exposed by the retreat of the Red Survivors, who carried away some of their casualties, was a log and concrete bunker complex 65 miles north of Saigon believed to have been a high Communist headquarters.

American losses in a preliminary four-hour encounter Friday and in the savage show-down fight, launched by a reinforced Communist regiment of about 2,500 men with a mortar attack before dawn, were officially listed as 16 men killed and 71 wounded.

NAPALM USED
Flames of napalm strikes that licked to within 45 feet of some of the GIs helped to turn the tide for the third American victory within two weeks over major elements of the Viet Cong's 9th Division. The jellied gasoline seared Viet Cong riflemen who had penetrated one section of the American perimeter.

Destruction of the 10,000-man 9th Division is a prime aim of Operation Junction City, a massive drive launched Feb. 22, and American figures indicate that, for all practical purposes, this has been accomplished.

COSTLY FIGHT
Three regimental attacks within two weeks on American units in War Zone C jungles, all bloodily frustrated, are estimated to have cost the division more than 5,000 men — 1,488 known dead and 3,720 others considered killed or wounded. American officers figure a ratio of 2.5 enemy hit and removed to every one found dead.

By U.S. standards the enemy division, with at least 50 per cent losses, would lack combat effectiveness until it recruits and trains the men to replace the casualties.

ANTAGONISTS
The antagonists Saturday were elements of the U.S. 11th Infantry Division and the Viet Cong's 271st Regiment, which was beefed up by some troops from the 70th Regiment.

Fighter-bombers and field guns worked over the routes by which the Communists might escape into Cambodia, four miles away. B32 Stratofortresses from Guam, each capable of carrying 30 tons of explosives, struck at a point only a half-mile from the battlefield.

Far to the north, U.S. Marines reported they killed 37 North Vietnamese regulars in a series of fights Friday below the border demilitarized zone.

AIR WAR
In the air war, American pilots flew 101 missions over North Vietnam Friday. The day was marked by the downing of the 499th plane, officially announced as lost over North Vietnam.

An Air Force F105 Thunderchief fell victim to Communist ground fire 50 miles northwest of Vinh. With other planes providing cover, a helicopter rescued the pilot.

A spokesman announced that 2,039 aircraft have now been lost from all causes in the war. Combat, accidents and malfunctions have accounted for 499 planes and 5 helicopters in North Vietnam; 767 planes and 768 helicopters in South Vietnam.

Ohioans Hold Wanted Man

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gordon Novel, wanted in New Orleans in connection with the probe of President John F. Kennedy's assassination, was arrested Saturday in suburban Gahanna.

Gahanna Mayor Paul Van Auken said Novel, 29, a former New Orleans night club operator, was seized on a street in that small community, on a warrant issued by Louisiana authorities.

"It was a matter of recognition," Van Auken said in explaining that his office received word that Novel might be in Gahanna. He would not say from where that word came.

Novel was booked at Columbus City Prison to await action by Louisiana authorities. "He'll likely fight extradition," Van Auken said.

YOUNG BOY COMPLETELY RECOVERED

Leukemia Cure Is Nearing

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — A Texarkana oilman and medical philanthropist announced Saturday that a Dallas research institute had made a significant breakthrough in the search for a cure for leukemia (blood cancer).

J. K. Wadley said the new approach, developed under the direction of Dr. Joseph M. Hill, director of the J. K. and Susie L. Wadley Research Institute, Dallas, Tex., had been tried on a nine-year-old boy with a "very advanced type of leukemia."

RECOVERED
Wadley said the boy, who had been a "terminal case" with only weeks to live, had recovered after the treatment.

He said the treatment works "by starving the malignant cells to death by what Dr. Hill calls, 'amino acid depletion therapy.'"

Wadley, who was 90 Saturday, said of the patient: "The glands in his neck were swollen to a size almost that of a grapefruit, and his spleen and stomach were also of the same size. Several days after the first treatment, photographs showed his neck and abdomen back to normal and his leukemia cells practically eliminated. "Subsequent results showed all leukemia cells destroyed. Without further treatment, his whole condition is back to normal and the boy is feeling fine.

Wadley making the announcement at a luncheon celebrating his birthday, continued:

"Dr. Hill will not say that it is a cure for cancer, and neither would any other scientist; but the results from this treatment are so fantastic that I do not know what could be classified as a cure if this is not one."

COINCIDENTALLY
He said the announcement coincidentally came as Newsweek Magazine in its April 3 issue described a treatment being developed by Dr. L. J. Old of New York's Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research. Wadley said Dr. Old was working on the same method for attacking cancer cells selectively without doing harm to other body cells.

"We have done what the Newsweek article said would take a long time to do," Wadley said. "We have successfully tested the new approach on a human being."

FEELING FINE
Wadley said the recovered leukemia victim, 9-year-old Frankie Hayes of Dallas, is "feeling fine." The boy, son of Frank A. Hayes of Dallas, now leads a normal life and is an avid baseball fan.

Wadley said the foundation's research took the same approach outlined by Newsweek in its story on Dr. Old.

He said the article says the treatment is "based on the finding that some types of cancer cells are parasites. These tumors, Dr. Old notes, lead the amino acid L-asparagine to grow. They obtain the substance through the body fluids from normal cells, which contain this L-asparagine but don't require it for their own use."

WITH DOGS
"Working with dogs, Dr. Old and his colleagues found that injections of L-asparagine, an enzyme that destroys the amino acid, shrank the tumor without destroying normal cells."

Wadley said that, prior to the testing on the boy, Dr. Hill had conducted the program with mice and other animals.

"The product used in this treatment is very expensive and the initial cost to date has been more than $75,000. The cost of the treatment for this particular patient has been around $15,000 and the product . . . will not be in quantity until such amounts can be manufactured."

He said Dr. Hill was setting up equipment to manufacture more of the product.

Beef, Beans Barbecue Held For Envoys

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President and Mrs. Johnson gave 29 Latin-American envoys a beef, beans and beer barbecue Saturday under the live oak trees along the river at the LBJ Ranch.

This was a highlight of the weekend stay in Texas for the diplomats from 21 countries. The Johnsons flew them down from Washington Friday night.

Saturday, they had them brought out from San Antonio by bus for an old-fashioned ranch-style interlude.

After a tour of the pastures and a look at 40 white Hereford cattle on the other side of the Pedernales River, the guests sat down at small tables covered with red and white checked tablecloths.

There were other edibles and potables besides the beans and beef and beer — such as six-gun coffee and 1,000 sourdough biscuits.

LIVELY MUSIC
Marimba and Mariachi bands supplied a continuous background of lively music through loudspeakers set up on bales of hay.

Spring flowers in pottery bowls on the tables, and more in baskets in the trees, rocked in a strong wind coming down from the Texas hills. Mrs. Johnson had a new hairdo held down by a net.

The big nonedible event of the barbecue was a "fandangle," an amateur talent show emphasizing the frontier in pioneer days in song and dance. The cast of 53 was from Albany, a West Texas town of 2,100. Ranchers, ranchhands, business and professional people, oil executives, housewives and students, staged the show and brought along a stagecoach and a six-mule team, a buckboard, a covered wagon and some cayuses.

RED BANDANNA
As a memento, each of the guests got red bandanna kerchiefs with a white clasp in the form of a map of Texas with the words "The LBJ Ranch" spread across it in red.

While reporters and photographers were on hand for a short time at the start of the ranchland activities, there was no evidence that the President presented ten gallon hats to the visiting dignitaries — some of whom had indicated in advance that they didn't think warmly of the idea of having their picture taken in the hats.

Grower Official Stresses Need For Strong Stands

LUBBOCK — There are at least four good reasons why cotton producers in 1967 will want to use every tool at their command to get a uniform stand of strong, healthy seedlings from first plantings, according to Donald A. Johnson, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers.

There is an unusually short supply of good certified planting seed this year, and growers who fail to get or retain an acceptable stand from first plantings will in many instances be forced to replant with less desirable seed.

Second, because of weather conditions in 1966, vigor of available planting seed is far below average this year.

Third, increased discounts in the government loan schedule on lower quality cottons will at least in many instances mean lower prices to the farmer, increasing the relative importance of additional production costs incurred by replanting.

Fourth, the reduction in cotton carryover and increases in world consumption levels indicate a much stronger demand and better prices for quality lint this year.

Board To Meet March Of Dimes

The board of the Howard Glasscock Counties Chapter of the National Foundation for Birth Defects will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the First National Bank to elect officers for the new year, according to Wade Choate, chairman. All members are urged to be on hand.

Dear Abby Those TV Commercials

DEAR ABBY: May I say something about the idiocy of television commercials, especially those directed to the American housewife?

Do the "ad" people really believe we are impressed by flying detergent boxes, witches and wands, dishwashing powders and lotions that turn into birds, flying in and out of the windows and all over the house?

The one that irks me particularly is the filthy little boy who enters his mother's immaculate kitchen to be greeted by a loving smile and a "powerful" detergent. Mother cuts the kid's shirt in half with a shiny scissors, washes one half the shirt in "Brand X" and the other half in the sponsor's hallowed product. Then the kid skips out of the kitchen wearing the same shirt mother just cut in half! It is an insult to the intelligence of the American woman. Does this rub anybody else the wrong way?

DEAR NAUSEATED: I must. But keep your set on for even more nauseating commercials which promise to combat nausea!

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and go steady with a great guy who is 17 and goes to a nearby school. My boy friend (I'll call him Steve) is sweet, and I trust him with all my heart. We have gone together for six months, and he has never tried anything wrong, even when I wished he would.

The 1967 construction program at General Dynamics-Fort Worth—including an $8 million, two-story engineering and office building with 12 acres of floor space—will increase the division's total floor area by almost 1.5 million square feet.

The expansion program was disclosed today by General Dynamics President Roger Lewis of New York, here for groundbreaking at the engineering and administration building.

Gov. John Connally, Texas congressional leaders, Fort Worth officials and civic leaders and Air Force representatives were expected to attend the 3 p.m. ceremonies.

Only Three Cases Ready

Only three out of 22 cases on the 118th District Court docket, set to open Monday, were announced ready when Judge Ralph Caton sounded the docket Friday afternoon.

Four of the cases were announced settled. Four were passed by the judge and six were passed at the request of either the defendant or the plaintiffs.

First case slated for trial at 10 a.m. Monday is Hazel Parker vs. Mitchell McNeese et al. This is a suit involving damages growing out of a collision.

The second case is Freddie W. White vs. Victor McCrea et al. This is a suit on a note.

The third and final case on the docket is a compensation matter styled W. A. Patterson vs. Industrial Underwriters Insurance Company.

A jury panel is to report to the court at 10 a.m. Monday and the court expects to go to trial with the No. 1 case at that hour.

TINY GAIL, THE PIG, WORKS AT MAKING A HOG OF HERSELF
Dixie Coleman, her young owner, takes care of 1 1/4-pound Porker

Dixie Keeps Pig Indoors At Home

By SAM BLACKBURN
Dixie Coleman, like the fellow in the old Irish song, keeps her pig in the parlor.

And everybody is happy about the whole thing, including Dixie's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Coleman, 3217 Drexel.

Also including the pig, Gail, who is, all things considered, a remarkable and genteel lady porker.

TINY
Gail, who was exactly one month old March 22, now tips the scales at a hefty one pound and four ounces. On Feb. 22, when she was born, Gail weighed in at less than five ounces.

Taking the gain achieved by Gail in the first month of her piggy life as an average, she will be eight years old before she can reach 100 pounds. And as every pig knows, 100 pounds isn't very big for a pig.

She sleeps in a cardboard box in the corner of the Coleman living room. She runs at large during the day, trotting around very briskly over the house and following Dixie wherever the 14-year-old girl goes.

Dixie feeds Gail baby formula and Gail loves it.

RUNT
"When she was born," Dixie explains, "she was one of two runts in a litter of 10 on a farm near town. The other runt, which was about Gail's size, died. The farmer who owned the sow was going to destroy Gail. He figured she wouldn't live."

Mother, Son Are Still Hospitalized

Mrs. Vera Shortes and her son, Darrell Shortes, are both still in Shannon Hospital at San Angelo undergoing continuing treatment and X-rays. They were critically injured in an auto accident March 17. Although their condition is some better, both are still having pain, relatives said, and are under intensive care.

"Mr. Bill Green, who is a friend of mine and knows how I like animals, asked the farmer if he could have the runt and give it to me."

When Gail arrived at the Coleman home, Dixie said she wasn't "much bigger than a good-sized mouse."

Experts shook their heads. Gail, they told Dixie, would survive about three days and then die.

Dixie was not perturbed. She got a bottle and tiny nipple. She mixed some infant formula and started giving Gail food.

"The second day I had her," said Dixie, "she was able to wobble around on her little legs."

THRIVING
Since then, Gail (who is named, Dixie says, for "my best friend") has been steadily thriving. She is unperturbed by reports that her eight surviving brothers and sisters on the farm now weigh nine pounds each.

Two things Gail doesn't care for—the out of doors and dirt. "She's about the nicest, cleanest pet I ever had," Dixie says.

Home Stretch Rough For Automobile Registering

More than any recent year, car owners waited until the last minute to register their cars, Zerah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector, said Saturday.

Friday was the hardest day she could remember in her tenure of office. Long lines of car owners — many of them with special problems pertaining to registrations — extended well into the courthouse lobby. This was despite yeoman service at Newsom's Food Store and Lewis' Variety Store, which between them must have handled over 800 automobiles licenses.

Mrs. LeFevre said Saturday that there was no final check on the day's receipts. Although the office closed at 5 p.m. Friday, it was not until 9 p.m. that accounts were balanced. She said that the day's receipts would exceed $75,000.

Saturday, Mrs. LeFevre kept the office open, waiting only on the counter. This meant that she did not have time to total accounts. Newsom's also registered passenger cars during Saturday.

Registration problems were compounded Friday by more than 100 applications for car titles. Mrs. LeFevre expressed thanks to the firms which helped with the registration and reminded the public that these businesses do this without any remuneration whatsoever as an accommodation to the public. Starting soon after lunch Friday, the tax offices began to fill with car owners who had suddenly realized that the deadline for getting 1967 plates had arrived.

The line of waiting customers spilled out into the corridor on the first floor of the courthouse and seemed to remain undiminished as the afternoon wore on, even though nearly a dozen deputies were busy in the offices handling the applications.

Effective at midnight Saturday, 1966 plates became invalid and motor vehicles which do not have 1967 tags were no longer legally permitted to operate on the highways.

A penalty can be assessed against the buyer who shows up Monday or later seeking to make amends for not getting his plates on time.

Any peace officer has the power to arrest any driver who is seen operating a vehicle on the streets or highways after midnight Saturday with an out of date tag and to impound his car.

The only way to avoid the penalty and possible arrest is to leave the car parked until 1967 plates are attached. By making an affidavit, in which the motorist swears he has not used his car since the deadline, he can buy his license plates for the regular fee.

Organizations Are Separate But Share Common Goal

The Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center and the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults share a common goal, but they are separate organizations, Jim Thompson, director of the center, explained. He said there has been some misunderstandings and confusion about the relationship of the two organizations.

The two separate organizations each has its own board of directors, and both serve the crippled children and adults of Howard County.

The Easter Seal Society organized and founded the local rehabilitation center, Thompson said. It became necessary for the center to become a separate organization in order to participate in the United Fund, because the National Easter Seal Society By-Laws require its local affiliated societies to conduct their own fund raising and public information campaigns.

The center remains affiliated with the Easter Seal Society for many advantages, he added. The Easter Seal Society keeps the center informed on the latest trends in the field of rehabilitation; it conducts seminars and work shops for the professional staff members; it helps plan, develop and carry out treatment programs.

The annual Easter Seal campaign is conducted by the Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Howard County and not by the center, he emphasized. However, the Easter Seal money benefits the center. Money raised through this campaign is used primarily to buy braces, crutches, wheelchairs, corrective shoes, transportation to various places for medical consultations, medical examinations, etc., for crippled children and adults.

Although some of these children and adults are patients receiving treatments at the center, some are not. This money is not provided through the United Fund.

At the present time, Easter Seal money is used to pay the salary of a swimming instructor, Thompson said, so that children who are mentally retarded, emotionally disturbed and physically handicapped might learn to swim. The Easter Seal Society has agreed to underwrite any expenses that might be incurred through the proposed crippled children's clinic to be held at the center. This is a clinic in which an orthopedic specialist will examine crippled children and help to determine appropriate treatment.

The cost of rehabilitation is high, he said. The costs for a crippled child is more than most could afford. The cost of orthopedic corrective shoes is about $20, a short leg brace is about $50, long leg braces with a pelvic band is about $220. A wheelchair costs from $150 to $350. A growing child outgrows those shoes and braces in a matter of months and they must be replaced. Many crippled children require physical therapy and/or speech therapy over a period of years. A conservative cost of these treatments would be about $500 a year. There are sometimes medical and surgical costs in addition to these other expenses, he said.

Last year, the center gave 336 crippled children and adults a total of 6,615 treatments at a cost of $22,156.34. This is an average of $33.66 per treatment. At a private rehabilitation center, the cost would be about $10 per treatment which would require a budget of about $60,000 a year for 6,000 treatments.

"This year the center has a budget of $27,817 and the United Fund share is $9,473," Thompson said. "We anticipate that another $12,000 will come from patients who are able to pay. This leaves $6,344 that must come from donations. The center is also understaffed. The average treatment load for one therapist is about 3,700 treatments per year.

"Last year our center gave 6,615 treatments in physical and speech therapy. We only have one full-time physical therapist, plus a part-time physical and speech therapist, who each work about 10 hours a week at the center. If additional money was available for the center, then other needed professional therapists could be employed."

"Some voluntary health organizations spend all of their money on research; others on treatments," Thompson explained. "The Easter Seal Society spends its money on treatments of local patients. About 77 per cent of the Easter Seal Society money stays in this county."

New Manager Arrives For Ward Store

New manager of the Montgomery Ward store in Big Spring is N. H. (Johnny) Rough, who assumed duties Saturday. He is replacing George True, manager here since November, 1964, who is being sent to Ward's zone office in Fort Worth as advertising and promotion manager for an area covering parts of three states.

Rough comes here from Lincoln, Neb., where he was merchandise manager for a Ward operation. A veteran of 17 years with the company, he started with Wards in Amarillo, and has worked in the Brownwood store. He has been manager of units in Washington and Iowa City, Iowa.

A Missourian by birth, Rough was married to a West Texas girl in Amarillo. They have three children, Johnny, 13; Frankie, 11; and a daughter, Tami, 7. The family will join Rough here as soon as he finds suitable housing.

Rough is a member of the Elks Club, and said he enjoys hunting and golfing. Mrs. Rough is a bridge enthusiast, and has worked with newcomer clubs.

"We are happy to be coming back to Texas," said Rough, "and we look forward to living and working in Big Spring."

Kiwanians To Entertain Webb Class

Big Spring Kiwanis Club will entertain the 70 members of Class 65-F at Webb AFB Thursday night. The celebration will take the form of a dinner at the Downtown Tea Room at 7:30 p.m.

Cullen Aiken, Odessa public relations man and widely popular after dinner speaker, will be the entertainer for the evening.

All Kiwanians are asked to attend and bring their wives. All members of the class who are married are also invited to bring their wives.

Bill Johnson, president of the club, estimated more than 150 would be on hand.

The club will forego its regular meeting next Thursday noon and attendance at the ladies night will be listed as a regular session.

The Kiwanians entertain certain classes of Webb jet pilot trainees each year. Other organizations in town also cooperate in this program.

Dinner will be served buffet style, Johnson said.

YMCA Members At Conference

Seven Hi-Y and Tri-Y members of the Big Spring YMCA are attending the West Texas District Hi-Y Spring Conference at Lake Brownwood this weekend. Those attending are Gayle Coleman, Ann Robinson and Kay Statter of the Tri-Hi-Y. Boys are Jimmy Ream, Cliff Cook, Bill Schwarzenbach, and Bill Henry of the Hi-Y.

Bill Henry and Kay Statter were to speak on the topic of "Double Standards" Saturday morning. Henry was a candidate for president and Schwarzenbach for second vice president. Kay Statter is completing her term of office as district chaplain.

Accompanying the girls as advisor was Miss Mary Sue Warner, and the boys' advisor is Curt Mullins.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Recalls Incident When Locomotive Was Filmed

To the Editor: In regard to the article about the railroad and the train picture in last Sunday's paper, I would like to tell you the story about the picture.

The picture was made by Doug Perry, I believe. Anyway I was with him when he made this picture near the stock yard crossing east of town. He sold one of the other pictures to the Southwestern Railway Journal, also to the B of LE Journal.

The picture in the paper was taken on either the 14th or 16th of April, 1940. The engineer in all of the pictures was S. H. La Londe, my father; the fireman was Billy Price, and the conductor was Lou Griffin.

The locomotive is not a 900 class engine but a Pacific type locomotive, that is a 4-6-2 type. A T&P 900 was a Mountain type engine and was a 4-8-2 type. This was the Sunshine Special, eastbound. It was Engine 717.

I am most grateful you ran it. One of the others was a bit more picturesque, but this picture is very true to life, because the fireman was sanding out the flues in preparation for "winding her up" as they were a little late.

As ever,
RALPH LA LONDE

Dear Sir:

Concerning the issue of liquor-by-the-drink: I believe that alcohol is a terrible threat to our nation. Every effort should be made to protect people from its threat. Everyone knows the headache caused by alcohol and the lives it takes each year and the effect it has on innocent little children. But we are all guilty before God if we stand by and do nothing about this matter. I would like to urge all Christians to take a stand against this issue of liquor-by-the-drink. The Bible written under inspiration of God teaches that, "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise."

Bond Sales Run Ahead

Howard County and District 4 are running ahead of quotas in sales of United States Savings bonds through two months.

Sales in February aggregated $95,544, which boosted to $248,414 the sales this year. This is 18 per cent of the 1967 quota of $1,400,000, said Larson Lloyd, district chairman.

The Howard County total was $58,070 for February and $124,941 for the year for 18 per cent. Robert Currie is county sales chairman.

Other counties, February sales (year's total) and per cent of quota show: Andrews $5,854 ($20,366) 23; Dawson $6,279 ($13,633) 10; Gaines $2,235 ($7,653) 9; Martin $6,020 ($11,166) 37; Mitchell $9,660 ($48,172) 28; Scurry $9,766 ($22,483) 13; totals $95,544 ($248) 18. Area I sales amounted to $1,063,187 for February, making $2,265,790, or 15 per cent, for the year. State sales of $29,451,247 for the year is 16 per cent of quota.

SUNDAY A more romantic attitude is necessary in S.M. MOON CHILDREN (June 23 to July 21) You are earnestly interested in your goals and accomplishments, but await the evening before doing so, since they are busy during day. Handle own affairs quietly. Be very much on the practical side. LEO (July 23 to Aug. 21) Avoid high prices early in day since they are out in a good mood, but later you find they are very busy. Make up your mind to handle business and government matters without fail. Be highly efficient. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you are careful with associates during day and your position more of them, so take it easy and tonight all is fine. Be careful not to lose your temper. Be on the sunny side of life. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) Although you may have to work hard about you, if you desire right in your mind, you will get it. CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 to Jan. 20) Although you are desirous of amusement, diversion during day, get busy with duties ahead of you. Then be complimentary with mate. Evening can be rather with business and family. AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Fundamental affairs need more attention and study from you during day and you find your position more of them. Some home problem may take until evening to resolve nicely. Be understanding. PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Work, drive carefully during day so that you can go ahead with plans for a good time in P.M. Be very careful in making out reports during day. Errors could be very costly. Partners give you more support. IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he, or she, will be one of those very interesting young people who can pick out flaws and errors, whether in writings or other matters, and this is a most unusual ability that can be used to great advantage throughout the lifetime. The early future can be a most serious one, but later it lightens and the personality becomes very pleasing to all. A government connection would be fine. Village Raided BOMBAY, India (AP) — About 100 raiders attacked a village in Andhra Pradesh State, police in Hyderabad said Saturday, killing two persons and injuring 14. The raiders escaped with cash and ornaments. GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening to start the week right by getting right into the more financial or business obligations that are yours and to make them more sensible for your future but the early part of the day finds some difficulties present in being economical, but by mid-afternoon this clears up and you produce fine results. ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Concentrate on the most practical matters of hand during day and then think out in P.M. how to become more prosperous. Be sure to get that indebtedness handled early. Stop procrastinating or you get into trouble. TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) That feeling of limitation can be overcome by planning how to improve conditions about you sensibly. Make sure to improve appearance as well. Evening is very good for the social and the cultural. GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Although you feel pretty held down in P.M., you can carry on much better in the afternoon and tonight plan how to get all working nicely in the days ahead. GT&W Had Big Ambitions And Colorful Nicknames

By ED SVERS

This is about a small, forgotten railroad; and maybe a little more.

First, the railroad. For years, Lubbock's C. W. Medlock—down State 199 for Fort Worth—paralleled for a time, north of Graham, a lonely, empty stretch of railroad. As gradually it decayed to the bare ridge of roadbed, even cross ties gone, he wondered increasingly what it was and where it once dreamed of heading. He asked OBT.

Swamped with mail on the shortline Gulf, Texas and Western, I've learned that railroaders and train-watchers save their ticket stubs with an intensity second only to unreconstructed Confederates. From Tyler to Bonham to Seymour and Wichita Falls and most points between, the GT&W (and any other little line) still lives.

As group spokesman, let's hear vital statistics from Fort Worth rail executive C. M. Powell. He helped lay the line, 40 miles, Jackboro to Olney, 1909; 24 miles, Jackboro to Salesville—connection with Weatherford, Mineral Wells and Northwestern Railroad, 1912-13. The line originally was to reach from the Gulf Coast to Albuquerque, N. M. (and all points west!). Thus, Gulf, Texas and Western. By 1942, it was out of business—too little freight and too many trucks. In the interim it had run small mixed trains, finally a little "Doodlebug" motor car that got you from Seymour to Mineral Wells and back . . . in just one day!

GET TICKET AND WALK But the thing you all told me, indirectly, was that those, old high iron men were all magnificent dreamers . . . and their countrymen, magnificent "show-me's." A railroader could sweat a mile of track, look over the horizon and see our continent laced with GT&W!

"Gulf Texas and Western?" Nosir! "Getcha Ticket and Walk!" All the time they prided it for their country that it opened. When they got off proudly at Seymour, as its Mrs. A. K. Boyd reports, GT&W had changed to "Get Your Tub and Wash!"

And that ultimate connection to Mineral Wells? That tied in houses. We'd like to visit them on vacation. My father knew of one, when a boy, on the highway between Mt. Pleasant and Linden (Deep Northeast). College Station's Doyle Permenter: "In a hull session here, we discussed a 'haunted spring' near Stephenville. Didn't OBT carry a story on this?" (Note: This is Erath County's grim 'Headless Ghost,' who Indian-haunts near Alexander, close to Stephenville. Legend said nobody could spend the night there and keep his sanity, but last spring, five Boy Scouts made it . . . with only minor shock to their scoutmaster.)

Write OBT, care of The Herald, or to Ingram, Texas 78025. For personal reply, please enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Shaping Plans For Area Trail Drive

Reel W. McFarland is starting early on his three-day trail ride over the Labor Day weekend.

He wants horsemen to put the dates Sept. 2-3-4 on their calendars now. The first day of the event, he hopes riders will go to Ackerly and return. The following day a riding and outing at Moss Creek Lake is scheduled, and on Labor Day activities will center around a ride to the "big spring" site and through Scenic Mountain State Park. A $10 fee is projected to cover costs, and those interested can contact McFarland at Box 231, Big Spring.

Master Of Cruise Ship Extends Warm 'la Orana'

Capt. Malcolm R. Peters, his first command, the freighter Malama, was bombed by enemy planes near Tahiti in 1942. The captain and his officers and crew were captured and spent 3½ years as war prisoners in Japan and China.

TOOK COMMAND After the war, Capt. Peters served as master of various Matson freighters until 1956, when he sailed as observer on the maiden voyage of the Mariposa, sister ship of the Monterey, preparatory to taking command on the second cruise.

Three years later, Capt. Peters was transferred to the Monterey, where, except for 18 months' shore duty in 1960-'61, he has served continuously. Capt. Peters prefers sea duty to shoreside service and particularly enjoys being master of a passenger ship because, as he says, "I like people." He has made many hundreds of friends among passengers who have sailed with him through the years. His Christmas card list is probably the longest in the maritime industry.

The stocky skipper makes it a point to meet everybody aboard his ship and his champagne parties, one southbound and one northbound, are highlights of each cruise. So you can look forward to meeting one of the Pacific's most colorful master mariners if you join the cruise next summer.

The Texas group will jet to Los Angeles Aug. 15 to sail at 10 p.m. for Bora-Bora, Tahiti, Rarotonga, New Zealand, Australia, New Caledonia, Fiji, Niuafo'ou (better known as "Tin Can Island"), Samoa, Honolulu and Hilo, Hawaii. The Hilo call is added for this cruise.

Capt. Peters, a sally, amiable seafarer with more than 40 years' seagoing experience, started to sea as deck boy on Alaska ships out of Seattle. He started sailing for Matson Lines in 1930 as third officer on the old steamer Wilhelmina.

Missing Girl Is Unharmed, Found In Man's Apartment

CHICAGO (AP) — Carrie Stephens, 8, object of an intensive search since she disappeared from her North Side neighborhood Monday, was found apparently unharmed Saturday in an apartment about a mile from home.

A one-armed man, police said, was found with the girl in the apartment and was in custody for questioning.

Carrie was taken immediately from the apartment at 5436 N. Winthrop Ave. to Swedish Covenant Hospital for an examination.

Detective George Ruckrich said that the girl appeared to be tired but otherwise unharmed. "She is shaken, but not hysterical," he said.

At the hospital, an official said that Carrie was hungry when she was brought in by police of a special task force.

The search which covered a broad area of the city's North Side for six days focused suddenly Saturday on the Winthrop Avenue building after a policeman received a tip that the girl might be there.

Sgt. Gerald Connors said that the man found with Carrie had worn black-rimmed glasses and a three-quarter-length coat. He had offered the youngsters a dollar, they said, to help him find a lost dog.

Rockefeller-Percy Vows Are Repeated

CHICAGO (AP) — Pretty mother, Emily Guyer, 68, of Altadena, Calif., died apparently of a heart attack in a hospital in suburban Evanston.

Before the 4 p.m. double-ring service, the carillon of the cathedral-like chapel sent music echoing across the campus on Chicago's South Side.

The marriage took place in the Rockefeller Memorial Chapel at the University of Chicago — an institution to which the bridegroom's great-grandfather contributed $35 million and where the bride's father worked his way through school.

It had been planned originally as a simple affair for the daughter of Sen. and Mrs. Charles H. Percy, and an heir to some of the millions of the oil fortune founded by the first John D. Rockefeller.

But it took on the pomp and color of nuptials involving royal families.

The joy of a wedding counterbalanced the sorrow occasioned by the unsolved slaying in September of the bride's twin sister, Valerie, in the family home in suburban Kenilworth.

But the gloom of sudden death clouded the marriage day's happiness. Sharon's step-grandfather was two months ill. He was 53.

Mr. Little was born Nov. 28, 1913, in Runnels County. He spent his boyhood at Crew and moved to Crane in 1934 and to this area in 1935. He was married to Bernice Whetsel Dec. 24, 1938, in Big Spring. He was a member of the Trinity Baptist Church and the Masonic Lodge (Garden City No. 971).

Funeral will be held Monday at 3 p.m. in the Trinity Baptist Church, with the Rev. Claude Craven officiating, assisted by the Rev. Ray Bullock of Garden City. Burial will be in the City Cemetery with Masonic graveside rites under direction of River-Weich Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Doyleene Rainey, Dallas; four sisters, Mrs. Tillie Cook, Fort Stockton, Mrs. Ina Jeffries, Coleman, Mrs. Mary Herrington, Andrews, Mrs. Estelene Sowers, Enid, Okla.

Funeral services were held Saturday at 2 p.m. in the River-Weich Funeral Chapel for John D. McKinnon, 76, Garden City Route, who died at 1:45 a.m. Friday in a local hospital. He had been in failing health for several years. Rev. Mack Alexander, Central Baptist Church of Elbow Community, officiated, and burial was in the Masonic section of the City Cemetery.

Priest Fails Lie Test On Bomb Threats

BRENNHAM, Tex. (AP) — Washington County Sheriff Johnny Schulte said Saturday an Episcopal priest flunked a lie detector test on acid and bomb threats against Brenham children, but the priest said the test was rigged and vowed to swear his innocence at the altar Sunday.

The Rev. J. H. Frazer, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Brenham, is the minister who alleged in his church bulletin that a bawdy house was operating wide open near this town in Southeast Texas.

The ministerial alliance appointed Frazer and three other ministers to seek action, and after a grand jury probe began, anonymous calls were received threatening an explosion at the school or acid thrown in the faces of grand jurors' children.

Friday, Schulte asked Frazer and his fellow clergymen on the committee to submit to lie detector tests administered by the Department of Public Safety in Houston. "They started this," Schulte explained.

Saturday, Schulte said that three of the four — the Rev. Robert Gilpin, Methodist; the Rev. Dan Zimmerman, and the Rev. Robert Pinnig, Lutherans — had passed the tests, but that Frazer had not.

"The questions that tipped him had to be the ones relating to the calls," Schulte said.

Frazer said, "I am convinced the test was rigged," and accused Schulte of harassing him to cover up the investigation.

The priest said he had tried to have the bawdy house closed down for the past three years, and he suggested that Schulte take a polygraph test to establish how long he had known of the operation and whether or not he had received payments from its operators. Schulte agreed to submit to such a test.

Frazer said he would swear his innocence from the altar at Sunday morning's services in Brenham's St. Peter's Episcopal Church. He also said that he intended to file a complaint with the FBI charging violation of his civil rights. His lawyer is former assistant U.S. Atty. Gerald Mize of Houston.

A district court injunction issued last week forbade a Brenham woman to use her house for immoral purposes.

Last Wednesday, the electrical shop of grand juror Charles M. Hurst was destroyed by fire and Hurst was committed to a state mental hospital by his wife, two doctors and the county judge. Hurst admitted setting the fire, but denied making any of the threatening calls, police said.

Hunt Backs JC Proposals

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, is optimistic over prospects for increased financial aid for public junior colleges.

He will be in Austin this evening and Monday in support of proposals which would give junior colleges a better shake in the higher education picture. He also will be doing some work toward a proposed vocational educational center for the college.

Junior colleges got a substantial boost last week when Sen. A. M. Akin Jr., chairman of a finance sub-committee, reported out a measure that will boost support from $26.2 million for the current biennium to $49 million. However, individual colleges won't be increased by that percentage because there are five new colleges to share in the total.

Currently HCJC is getting $247,700 per year, and under the new proposal it would get $324,730. This is based on a formula of $500 for the first 350 full-time equivalents, plus $450 for each over 350. In addition, a fund of $2,392,000 would be set up for use in the second year of the biennium to aid colleges which grow faster than anticipated.

There is still a possibility that may be passed to recompense districts such as HCJC for sharp gains during the current biennium. The Senate voted out such a measure, and it would mean $42,900 to HCJC if the House were to concur and the governor sign.

HHH Talks With Pope
VATICAN CITY (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Pope Paul VI spent 30 minutes together Saturday discussing the Vietnam war and chances of ending it.

They talked in the Pope's studio while more than 100 Italian police kept watch in the square outside.

Anti-American demonstrations have flared twice since the vice president arrived in Italy from Germany Thursday night on his European tour. But demonstrators stayed away from the Vatican and from a brief wreath laying ceremony by Humphrey in Rome before the audience.

The Pope and the vice president were alone during their talk, except a papal interpreter from the Vatican Secretariat of State, the Rev. Msgr. Paul Marcinkus of the Chicago archdiocese.

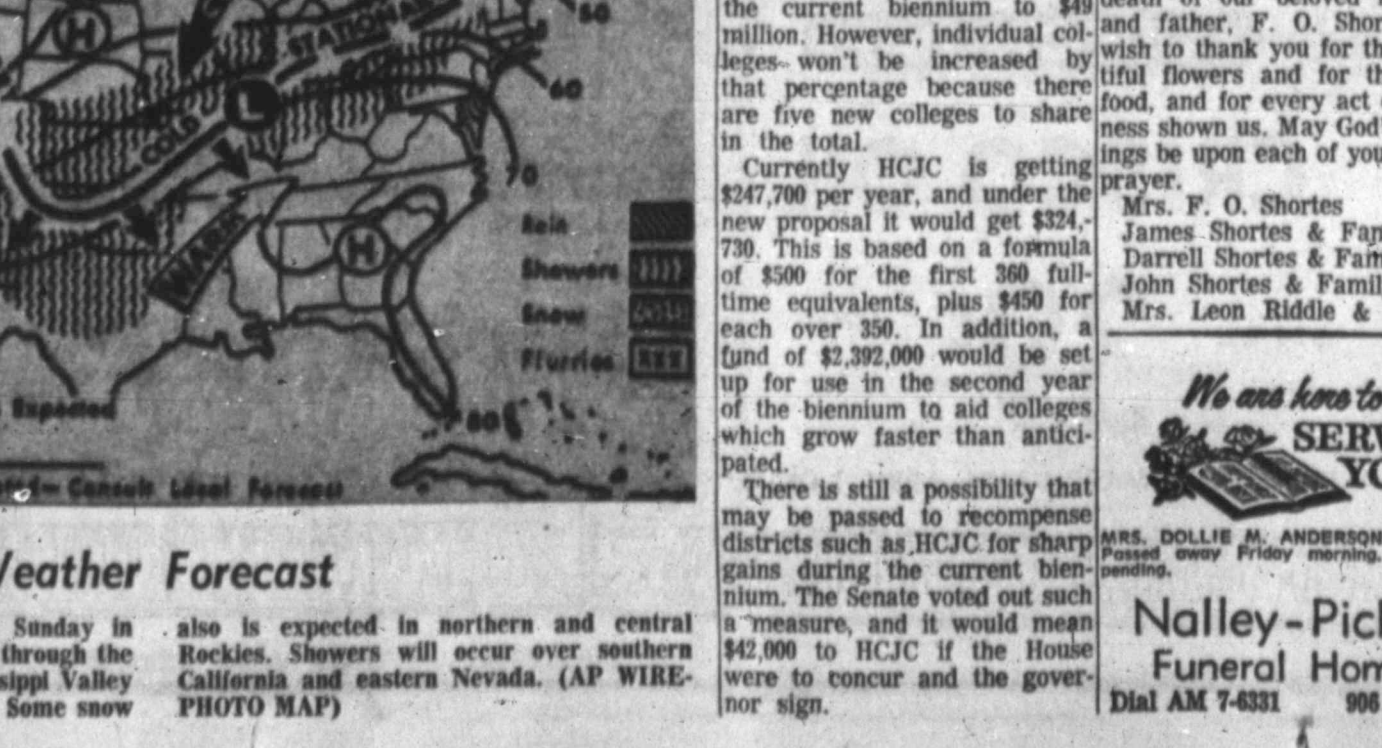

"The question of world peace, especially the ever more intense study for speeding up a truce and settling the conflict in Vietnam, were the special themes," a Vatican communique said.

Humphrey gave the pontiff two U.S. government booklets in English, one outlining American efforts to bring the Vietnam war to the negotiating table and the other detailing American social development projects in South Vietnam.

Mrs. Humphrey and three vice-presidential aides were brought into the papal studio to meet Pope Paul afterward.

"It was a wonderful visit, marvelous," exclaimed Humphrey as he went into St. Peter's to see the art masterpieces there.

New Army Recruiter Assumes Duties Here

Big Spring's new U.S. Army recruiter is so enthusiastic about his job that he has signed up his two step-sons.

Sgt. Joe A. Welch closed out nearly four years of service in charge of the Snyder station by signing Dennis Kennedy, the youngest of two step-sons, as his last recruit there. Dennis, a senior in Snyder High School, will report June. His brother, Danny Kennedy, also signed by Sgt. Welch, is now on duty in Vietnam and is due for rotation in August.

The Army recruiting station here will be in the Reagan Building at 207 1/2 W. 4th, and hours will be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 8 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturdays. The office number is AM 7-8940, and Sgt. Welch will accept collect calls from anyone interested in becoming a recruit.

He will succeed Sgt. Ray

Woolverton, who recently retired upon his return from a tour of duty in Vietnam. Sgt. Woolverton acquired the Pizza Hut here.

Sgt. Welch is married to the former Alma Kennedy, Snyder, and they have a daughter, Louise, 15, who is entering Runnels Junior High. They will be at home at 3239 Drexel. The family attends the Baptist church, and Sgt. Welch is active in the VFW.

Wallace Says Not An Issue

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Former Gov. George Wallace says his wife's threat to defy a federal court's integration order "is not a white against Negro matter," but Negro leaders apparently don't feel that way.

Wallace said in a television interview Friday:

"We would be just as involved if there were no segregation issue at all. This is a question of whether the education of our children is going to be determined by federal judges or the people of Alabama."

The former governor's comments came after Gov. Lurleen Wallace asked the legislature for power to take over the schools as a means of resisting the order by a three-judge court in Montgomery last week.

SGT. JOE A. WELCH

DESIGNATES CANCER CONTROL MONTH Mayor Arnold Marshall signs proclamation

Cancer Drive Gets Started

Big Spring enters into its annual Cancer Crusade month, with an extensive organization set up to handle both educational aspects and a fund-raising effort.

Special emphasis is being placed this year, said Mrs. Donald Van Meter, president of the Howard County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, on cancer's warning signals.

These simple warnings could mean cancer, often cancer when it is very early and most curable.

Mrs. Van Meter said the decision to place new emphasis on the warning signals "grew out of the fact that too many people do not know the early signs that could mean cancer."

Plans for the April Crusade, she said call for every family in Big Spring to receive a list of the warning signals, most of them to be distributed in person by volunteer workers in the Society. The list of warning signals will be designed so that they can be detached and pasted in the family medicine cabinet.

For this and other work, some 300 volunteers will be sought to handle the month's program in the city.

Crusade chairman is Mrs. Joe A. Moss, who already has lined up leaders in various divisions of the undertaking.

An advance gift solicitation already has been conducted under the leadership of R. L. Tollett. John Burgess heads the business gift division; the house-to-house canvass will be directed by Mrs. Ralph Caton and Mrs. Bob Galbraith; Dee Jon Davis is chairman for legacy matters for those who wish to leave bequests to the Cancer Society; and Mrs. M. M. Edwards is in charge of memorial gifts.

Mrs. Caton and Mrs. Galbraith announced that there will be a meeting Tuesday morning for all district captains in the house-to-house contacts. This will be a training session conducted by Jim Glenn of Midland, district representative for the American Cancer Society. It will be in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association at 9:45 a.m., and the co-chairmen are asking full attendance.

APRIL 18

The door-to-door Crusade will be on the evening of Tuesday, April 18.

The Crusade solicitation goal is $8,000, said Mrs. Van Meter, and she said there is every expectation that people will respond generously so that this can be met easily.

President Johnson has designated April as cancer control month; and Mayor Arnold Marshall has issued a local proclamation calling attention to the need to step up the war on cancer and asking for the public's full participation.

CHAMBER WEEK

Work Program Here Outlined

Although no formal observance is planned, members in the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce are taking note of National Chamber of Commerce Week beginning today, in an effort to point out the work of this community booster.

Dr. Lee O. Rogers is the 1967 president of the chamber, with George Zachariah as vice president and Clyde Hollingsworth as treasurer. John Currie, immediate past president, Clyde McMahon Sr., and Horace Garrett round out the members of the executive committee.

The program of work outlined by these leaders for 1967, through its many committees, includes securing a community, civic and cultural center or coliseum; enlarging the scope of the U.S. Experiment station; establishing a community open-staff hospital; creating more jobs by attracting new firms and industry and expanding existing firms and industry; expanding and upgrading the Howard County Airport; developing the original "big spring" as a tourist attraction; expanding the "Operation Sparkle" program; insuring continued progress in educational institutions; establishing a child welfare program; and assisting Webb AFB in its programs.

Directors assisting in pursu-

Ex-officio members include Adolph Swartz, president of Downtown, Inc.; Col. Chester J. Butcher, Webb's wing commander; the Jaycee president and Ambassador's Club president.

One of the unique examples of community promotion is conducted by the Ambassador's Club, dubbed the "Red Coats" for the striking apparel they display when acting as official hosts for the city, or carrying the city's colors to other areas. These men also act as local ambassadors, taking the program of work to local residents and enrolling them as members. The current list of ambassadors include Bob Bradbury, Jeff Brown, Roger Brown, James

Davis Pleased With Docket

Dee Jon Davis, county attorney is pleased with the results of last week's criminal docket in Howard County Court, even though not a single jury trial was held during the week.

Twenty-six defendants entered pleas of guilty, he said. About 75 to 80 per cent of these pleas were for the offense of DWI. Davis said that the pleas of guilty have sharply reduced the backlog of DWI cases on the county court docket.

He said that warrants have been issued in three cases for the arrest of defendants who did not show up when their names were called.

Only one case was dismissed and this was dismissed to clear the way for the county attorney to refile against the defendant, Davis said.

Other cases called were passed for the term on the motion of defendants' attorneys. The current Howard County Court term is now at an end and a new term will start this month. Davis said that Lee Porter, county judge, has not set any criminal dockets so far for April.

Porter said he was planning to call up a number of pending tax suits in an effort to clear the docket of these cases.

A Vote For GEORGE J. ZACHARIAH

for CITY COMMISSIONER TUESDAY, APRIL 4

Is a vote for...

- 1. Experienced and responsible leadership in City affairs. This is especially important when the City's budget is more than $2,700,000 for the fiscal year—a situation that calls for business background and familiarity with municipal operations.
- 2. A dedicated and unbiased voice for all segments that make up the City, with an interest in promoting its progress. This can be accomplished only by a City Commission working in harmony toward its planned purpose.

At Stanton Meeting

In attendance at the annual meeting of the Western Production Credit Association in Stanton Saturday were E. G. Branch (left), who was awarded a 20-year service pin; Maj. Glenn E. Jones, who addressed the gathering on his experiences in Vietnam; and J. W. Broughton, director for Howard County.

Production Credit Has Annual Meet At Stanton

STANTON — Some 300 persons gathered here today for the 33rd annual meeting of the Western Production Credit Association, attending to business matters, enjoying a noon barbecue, and giving rapt attention to a report from an Air Force officer returned from Vietnam.

Following the stockholders meeting during the morning, directors met after lunch and elected E. G. Branch of Rankin, president. He was elevated from the vice presidency, and the current president, Jim Franklin of Stanton, was named vice president. David K. Workman,

Stanton, was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

RE-ELECTED
Members had re-elected two members of the board of directors, J. W. Broughton of Howard County and A. C. Teinert of Midland County. Holdover board members are Franklin, Branch and George Clark of Crane County.

The two top officers were recognized for long work with the association, a 20-year service pin going to Branch, and a 15-year pin to Franklin. Presentations were made by Judge Bryan Harris of Glasscock County. Highlight of the morning session was a relating of experiences in Vietnam by Maj. Glenn E. Jones of Webb Air Force Base, Big Spring. Maj. Jones held the crowd in close attention as he told of the situation in the Far East, and was bombarded with questions at the conclusion of his speech.

REPORT
Members received a financial report showing the association to have $2,435,506.17 in assets. Items include: loans and interest, $1,739,089.47; cash in bank, $25,251.42; U.S. government bonds and interest, $436,033.66; Class B capital stock, FICB, $132,730; equity in allocated-legal reserve, FICB, $35,635.47; land and building, less depreciation, $39,839.46; furniture and fixtures, less depreciation, $3,469.93; other assets, $3,456.76.

Listed under liabilities: loans discounted and interest payable — FICB, $1,475,955.93; notes payable, FICB, $231,959.18; reserve account, $88,959.25; Class A capital stock, $65,740; Class B capital stock, $19,630; surplus and unapplied earnings, $368,230.63.

Drops Dead At Bride's Feet

MANILA (AP) — Ramon Cusi, 65, had just said "I do" when he dropped at the feet of his bride, dead of a heart attack.

The bride, Esperanza Manapat, 45, shrieked and fainted. The Manila Chronicle said the bride was marrying for the first time and the bridegroom for the second.

Waives Visas

MANILA (AP) — President Ferdinand E. Marcos has ordered a waiver of visa requirements for veterans of the World War II Bataan and Corregidor fighting and their families who will visit the Philippines for the 25th anniversary observances of the fall of those famed battle sites to the Japanese.

Connally Has Only Two Wins In Hand

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally's side of the scoreboard looks pretty bare right now, but the governor points out that he still has several turns at bat.

Several legislators have protested, at least one publicly, that the governor and his lieutenants are putting on too much pressure to push through the administration program in this regular session.

ARM TWISTING
"Brazen arm twisting and political intimidations . . . behind the scenes," claimed Rep. Ed J. Harris, Galveston, the past week.

"That's not true," Connally replied. However, there was no doubt in anyone's mind that Connally, with the support of Speaker Ben Barnes, is mounting an all-out legislative offensive for the 57 remaining days of the session.

Actually there are only 31 normal working days left, if the legislature sticks to the long Thursday to Monday weekend adjournments that have been voted so far.

ONLY TWO
After 83 days of the 60th Legislature, Connally can claim final passage of only two of the 78 Senate and House measures introduced as part of the governor's program.

Six others have passed either the Senate or House but not both. Eleven others have received committee approval and are awaiting debate in either the Senate or House.

The other administration measures are still in the hands of Senate or House committees — some being reworked by subcommittees but most not yet set for public hearing. Connally has admitted defeat for at least six proposals.

Barnes said Friday he would make a special effort the coming week to get House committee approval of the package of eight bills that make up Connally's traffic safety program. The only such measures with committee approval now would require motorcyclists to wear helmets and let the State Health Department study the medical aspects of traffic safety.

The key measures on the program — setting up a statewide safety program, a wholesale revision of driver licensing and sterner vehicle inspections — are still in Senate and House committees.

GIVING UP
Connally indicated Thursday he was giving up on controversial proposed constitutional amendments that would let urban counties levy taxes throughout their areas and would permit reorganization of the county courthouse structure which presently consists largely of elected officials.

The two administration measures to reach final enactment are the local option city sales tax bill and the creation of a permanent Texas Fine Arts Commission.

Nearing final enactment is a crucial water control bill that would let the state reassess and reassign water rights. It still requires at least another vote in the House and Senate.

PENDING
Connally bills that have passed the House and are pending in the Senate include one setting up a state planning and coordination office, a measure to give the governor and other elected statewide officials four-year terms, a proposal to let the legislature meet annually instead of every two years, a plan to issue $75 million in park development bonds, and a bill to outlaw eavesdropping.

Leading the list of Connally bills still deep in committee is his highly controversial plan to legalize sale of liquor-by-the-drink, then tax the cocktails. Connally said Friday he has not given up on the bill and still hopes to get debate action this session.

GOP Calls For Demo Converts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Republicans called Saturday for a drive to bring young Democrats into their fold in an effort to reclaim the big-city vote that has gone regularly against them in recent elections.

National Chairman Ray C. Bliss told a news conference. "We welcome any Democratic converts to our cause."

"Converts are crusaders," he said. "They are aggressive and deep believers, the kind of workers we need to win."

He and Dist. Atty. Arlen Specter of Philadelphia spoke in connection with the first of three workshop meetings of big city and metropolitan county party chairmen. Specter, a candidate for mayor of Philadelphia, said at a separate news conference the way for the Republicans to win in metropolitan areas is to enlist Democrats — particularly young ones — as candidates on their ticket. He noted that the Republican municipal election ticket has other former Democrats running with him.

Specter said his election as district attorney by a 37-vote margin in 1965, a year after GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater had lost the city by around 400,000, demonstrated that if the Republicans offer "constructive, progressive, liberal policies and candidates, they can win."

"We need Democrats, particularly young people," he said. "Republicans must get into the mainstream and come up with solutions for the problems of the big cities. The Republicans aren't going to win in the big cities with outmoded programs."

Bliss reported that 102 chairmen or their representatives in the metropolitan areas had turned out for the workshop sessions. He said a similar meeting will be held in Salt Lake City, April 14-15, and the third in St. Louis, Mo., April 29.

New Mental Outpatient Angle Urged

A new approach to broadening the out-patient clinic services at Big Spring State Hospital has been suggested by Dr. Desmond McCann, director.

A proposed community mental health plan has been turned down by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Howard, Mitchell, Scurry and Dawson counties had met all requirements, but the department changed its direction toward research.

Since 51 per cent of the patients served by the out-patient clinic at BSSH, it would not be practical to maintain facilities outside of the present clinic for Howard County, Dr. McCann pointed out. He suggested that community mental health boards in each area could hire a full-time case worker to screen patients who come to the BSSH clinic. Then the hospital could provide a consultant psychiatrist or psychologist to go into the community once or twice a week, depending on the patient load. Funds are available for such consultants, he said.

Later, thought can be given about approaches to community mental health programs for the area, he said. One might be initiating a comprehensive community mental health project, which is more elaborate than the original plan and which would require more community support.

Academy Has 11 Graduates

Eleven rookie policemen, including three on the Big Spring force, graduated Friday in ceremonies closing the eighth session of the Southwestern Academy for Law Enforcement, held on the Howard County Junior College Campus.

Dr. Dawson DeViney, of the college faculty, presented certificates to the graduates, who completed 160 hours of work in one month. Lewis Berry, editor of "Texas Lawman" and executive secretary of the Texas Sheriff's Association, was speaker for the graduation.

The ninth session of the Academy will start Sept. 18. Chief of Police Jay Banks said, and the advisory board decided it should be extended to six weeks, as most participants have work assignments in addition to the heavy load of instruction.

The advisory board includes police chiefs, mayors and city managers of West Texas cities.

The two administration measures to reach final enactment are the local option city sales tax bill and the creation of a permanent Texas Fine Arts Commission.

Nearing final enactment is a crucial water control bill that would let the state reassess and reassign water rights. It still requires at least another vote in the House and Senate.

Dental Seminar Personalities

Among those figuring in the annual dental symposium of the Permian Basin Dental Society here Saturday at the VA Hospital were Dr. Jack E. Fielden, president; Dr. Earle Williams, Dallas; Dr. Calvin Williams,

Symposium Brings 35 Area Dentists Here Saturday

Thirty-five area dentists were brought up to date Saturday on latest developments and techniques in two fields of dentistry at the annual dental symposium at the Veterans Administration Hospital. Dr. Calvin Williams, chief of dental service, and Dr. Jack A. Tyson, staff dentist, together with Dr. H. C. Ernsting, chief of staff, hosted the affair.

Dentists from Odessa to Abilene and Big Spring to San Antonio took part.

Welcomed by Donald Van Meter, hospital director who expressed the VA's desire to be of assistance to organized dentistry, the dentists got down to business with Dr. Earle Williams, widely known Dallas oral surgeon, as clinician. Dr. Williams, a diplomate and member of the American Board of Oral Surgeons, discussed "Problems in Oral Surgery for the General Practitioner."

Following lunch at the hospital dining room, dentists heard Dr. Earl Moore, Dallas, professor of periodontology at Baylor University, conduct the study on "Periodontology for the General Practitioner."

The evening address, following dinner at the Holiday Inn, was given by Dr. Crawford McMurtry, secretary of the Texas State Dental Society. Wives of the dentists attended this after-

Former Cuban Officer Visits Friends Here

Major Pedro Diaz Lanz, who served with Fidel Castro in the hills before his successful revolution in Cuba and later denounced the dictator as a Communist, was a guest in Big Spring Friday and Saturday.

The Cuban was a visitor in the Deryl Johnston home, and spoke informally to a group of about 40 Friday night, as well as to interested visitors Saturday. He now makes his home in Amarillo.

The major was commander in chief of Castro's Rebel Air Force, then of the Cuban Air Force when Castro won control Jan. 1, 1959. He was the first ranking officer to denounce communism (June 29, 1959) and then named Castro a Communist in his letter of resignation directed to President Manuel Urrutia.

After being warned that his life was in danger by friends, he and his wife escaped Cuba in a sailboat, arriving in Miami July 4, 1959. He was denounced by Cuban radio as a traitor. On July 14, 1959 he appeared before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, repealing his charges against Castro.

He states the CIA asked him not to inform Americans about the true nature of Castro. In October, he dropped leaflets over Havana warning Cubans of Castro. He states several Cubans were killed by Castro's gunners in trying to bring down Lanz' B-25s. Then, he said, he was jailed and threatened with extradition when he returned to Florida.

Major Lanz said he warned the president of certain failure in the Bay of Pigs invasion due to Communist infiltration, but received no reply. He states he gave the administration information concerning Russian troops appearing in Cuba, as well as missiles, and these were denied only to be admitted later.

Prior to his military service, the major was a pilot instructor, an airline pilot for Q Airways, then an executive pilot for Moa Bay Mining Co.

Indian Guides Display Wares

Braves of the Big Spring Nation of "Y" Indian Guides converged on the YMCA Thursday night to show their wares. Tribes displayed their tribal properties costumes, and crafts at the annual stunt night. Climaxing the event was the presentation of a stunt or Indian dance by each tribe.

The Crow tribe took blue coup feathers as first places in totems, tom-toms, and invitations while the Tejas took them in coup sticks, and property box for the first-year tribes.

Braves of the Comanche tribe took blue coups for each display except the tom-tom, which was taken by the Sioux for second-year tribes. Longhouse Chief (Big Bear); Dr. Charles Warren, presided over the events. Don Farley, Olen Graves, and Don Weeks served as judges with the chief.

Burglary Listed

One burglary was reported to police Saturday morning. Dub Bryant Auction Building, 1008 E. 3rd, was burglarized Friday night and one gun was taken from the building. Also, 40 cents was taken from the soft drink machine.

ling training potential on this phase. The Church of the Nazarene is due to proceed on a $34,750 youth activities building on the basis of bids last week. This structure will have a half gymnasium, plus classrooms, kitchen, and auxiliary rooms.

Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School district gave clearance to plans and specifications for renovations and additions to five schools. These will involve expenditures aggregating nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

One building project which has been finished — the Sacred Heart Youth Center — is observing open house from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. today. You'll be thrilled at the character and scope of this plant and with its potential.

Word was received last week from Rep. Omar Burleson and from Sen. Ralph Yarborough that a grant of $285,852 had been approved for local schools, $214,389 cleared for immediate payment. This is the federal impact payment (under Public Law 874) under which the government makes a grant in lieu of taxes to contribute to cost of children.

There were several long-time residents who slipped away, including two who died at age 87. One was Charlie Robinson, who with his twin, Walter, came here in 1890 and figured prominently in the history of the Midway area; and S. P. Jones, who came here in 1928 to establish a lumber business; he operated for almost two score years while also making a contribution to his community's development.

This isn't exactly news — but the mesquites say it's spring. Actually, these wary natives began coming out a week ago. The acacia is also putting on leaves, and if the hackberry sprouts, that will about make it unanimous.

March, which came in calm enough, went out pleasantly enough. A good part of the last day was given over to mist and drizzle. Added to a few sprinkles of the night before, this made March one of our wetter ones — at least in the vicinity of Big Spring. On the strength of this, and a 94-degree maximum wildflowers were already appearing.

The United Fund has a capable leader for its annual campaign in the autumn. Harold Davis, vice-president of GAMCO, has accepted the assignment. Another — good word from the annual meeting was that collections are holding up well and may leave the UF with a balance after all. Dick Ream was named president, Mrs. O. S. Womack vice president.

Whether it was the end of the month and pay day, or whether it was the moisture, or whether it was the deadline for buying car license tags — something made Friday a mighty heavy day for traffic. During the afternoon the business section looked like Dollar Day at Christmas.

There is a good possibility that the City of Stanton and the Colorado River Municipal Water District will formalize a water contract soon, subject to approval of Stanton voters. City representatives and district officials are known to be in virtual agreement on terms.

The City of Big Spring experienced the traditional turnout for its public hearing on the budget. Exactly none showed up, except for the reporters and officials. This must mean that the $2,729,185 fiscal guide has universal approbation.

Speaking of the city — it's turn in the election limelight comes Tuesday. Saturday brought a brisk turnout in the school trustee election, and the city council race is expected to generate considerable interest.

Army Private I.C. Roy L.

Jones, 20, son of Mrs. Grace E. Jones, 1101 N. Saff Antonio, Big Spring, is participating in "Operation Junction City," the largest military operation to date in Vietnam.

The operation was launched on the theory that national Viet Cong political and military headquarters might be located in the area along the Cambodian border. Meeting little VC resistance, the operation has been successful in the confiscation of large quantities of food and arms.

Pvt. Jones, whose father, William H. Jones, lives at 714 Pease, Sweetwater, is a rifleman in Company C, 3d Battalion of the 4th Infantry Division's 22nd Infantry. His wife, Annie, lives at 1115 W. 15th St., Clifton.

A former resident of Big Spring, Horace (Hoss) Wayne Clark, 19-year-old son of Mrs. Lillian Clark Jackson, and the grandson of Mrs. H. G. West, both of Big Spring, returned home—not to Big Spring—but to the West Texas Boys Ranch where he made his home for 11 years.

"Hoss," as Clark is affectionately known to the boys and staff, returned to the ranch as Marine Private I.C. but ended up being called "Hoss" anyway. Clark returned "home" to the ranch to spend his recent furlough, after he enlisted in the Marine Corps last summer.

Clark completed his boot training at MCRD San Diego, Calif., and was promoted to PFC. He was a squad leader while in an infantry Training Regiment at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Clark reported to Camp Lejeune, N.C., Nov. 22, where he attended Engineers Training School. Since he is near completion of his engineering training, he expects to be shipped overseas, possibly to Vietnam.

The staff and the boys gave "Hoss" a going away and a birthday party combined.

Spec. 4 David G. Tubb, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Tubb, Jonesboro Road, has been commended for achievement and for his cooperative efforts by his commanding officer and by the military in a citation issued to him.

Tubb, a three year veteran of the US Army, is now serving as a dentist assistant with the troops in Vietnam.

The citation points out his work at soothing patients and helping in the proper administration of dental services has been of exceptional importance. He has also, the citation relates, been most ingenious in devising needed laboratory equipment from available materials and in improving the facilities with which he has to work.

In addition, the citation continues, young Tubb has devoted himself to a concentrated study of the Vietnamese language and has become so competent a linguist that he is in great demand as an interpreter in questioning Viet Cong prisoners.

Young Tubb was born here Jan. 1, 1948. His father works for the Big Spring Post Office. Tubb attended the city schools and graduated from high school. He has been nearly a year in Vietnam.

Matson, Ryon Shine In Texas Relays

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Mighty Randy Matson of Texas A&M scored a great double—a collegiate record of 201 feet 1 inch in the discus and a 68 feet 8 inches shot put—Jim Ryon of Kansas led his team to a world's sprint medley record and Texas Southern won four relays in the finest Texas Relays of them all.

The big track and field carnival was climaxed Saturday with two records and a tie added to 11 and a tie of Friday night. Ryon did 1:48.1 in the half-mile to push Kansas to a world's record of 3:15.2 in the sprint medley Friday night. Saturday he ripped off a 4:04.9 mile in an effort to pull his team to a four-mile relay record but failed because Gene McClain, third man on the team, slumped to a 4:17.4.

Matson set a Texas Relays shot put record of 68-8 Saturday, falling by more than two feet of reaching his world's record of 70 feet 7 1/4 inches.

Matson was picked as outstanding performer of the meet. Texas Southern didn't figure in a record but it won more relays than any other school, all with good time. It was picked as outstanding team. Arnoldo Bristol of Texas Southern shattered one of the oldest records in the books when he did the 120-yard high hurdles in 13.8 without a favoring wind.

Stockton And Archer In Tie At Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Dave Stockton shot 10 holes in a third round 65 Saturday to tie George Archer for the lead at 199 in the $125,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

Archer, the 36-hole leader, shot 68 in a head-to-head battle with his fellow Californian that ended with each 14-under-par and two strokes under the old GGO record for the three-quarter mark.

A Greensboro record gallery of about 20,000 swarmed over the Sedgefield Country Club course in 84-degree temperature to see the two West Coast youngsters steal the play from their more celebrated rivals.

Going into Sunday's final 18 holes and the battle for $25,000 top money they were six strokes ahead of their nearest rivals—Arnold Palmer, Doug Sanders and Johnny Pott.

Stockton began the day three shots back of Archer and had to catch him three times before making it stick at the 16th hole. Stockton shot the 36-35 course, 7,000 yards, in 33-32 and Archer made it in 34-34.

Stockton drew even at the par three 16th where Archer was trapped and took a bogey and Stockton got his par.

Summer Track Program Would Help Other Sports Locally

By TOMMY HART

If the local schools are ever to field the champions in the various sports the local athletic buffs covet, there is need to firm up a summer recreational program, especially in track . . . Most cities of this size have such a project . . . Coaches who toil with boys all year in school usually can be retained to work in such capacities during the summer months . . . So much depends in football, for instance, on the ability of boys to fire out from stationary positions . . . A boy's speed in the first ten to 15 steps he takes in football is so much more important than his ability to cover 100 yards in ten seconds flat or the 220 in 22.5 . . . Nowhere does a boy learn the art of starting as well as he does in track . . . A well rounded track program can benefit all sports here . . . The United States Golf Association, after conducting a study on it, says Oklahoma ranks No. 1 in the nation in top-rate amateurs in proportion to golfing population, followed closely by Kansas . . . No decision has been made but, quite probably, Charley Bright will coach B team basketball here next season . . . Charley was a team mentor at Channelview last season but he was brought here primarily as a football coach . . . You can erase one worry about the 1968 Olympic Games: The Mexican Pigeon Fanciers Association has promised to turn loose 10,000 pigeons for the opening of the games, which will beat the old record by 2,000 birds . . . That $58,000 Zora Folley earned in his recent bout with Cassius Clay wasn't as much as he expected to receive but it was still his biggest payday . . . Clay received for $260,000 . . . The live gate was trimmed by a snowstorm that raged outside . . . That District 2-AAAA track and field meet here next Saturday likely could go down to the final event before a team champion is determined, although San Angelo would have been heavily favored had sprinter Carl Johnson not been hurt . . . Jim (Boom-Boom) Baum, the local radio pitchman, says a fellow can be 100 per cent stupid and not know it—if he's single . . . First baseman Jerry Ryan and outfielder R. J. Englert were the Big Spring players named to the all-star team at the conclusion of last week's Andrews Baseball tournament . . . Others selected include Amador Tijerina, Lameza, second base; Dreak Jones, San Angelo, third base; Terry Holt, Snyder, shortstop; Steve Brannon, Andrews, left fielder; Tim Galoway, Dumas, center fielder; Ralph Jordan, San Angelo, catcher; Doug Ham, Andrews, left-handed pitcher; and Loy Hampton, Artesia, righthanded pitcher . . . What is so unusual about the star spangled squad is that no Big Spring hurler rated the elite group, although Steer pitching dominated the series . . . The tournament committee could have named either Ryan, David Mitchell or James Newman as an all-star flinger and not gone wrong . . . Tony Taroni of Our Town has made inquiries to the State Golden Gloves committee (specifically George Kellum of Fort Worth) about staging a district tournament here . . . If Big Spring shapes up a boxing team, however, chances are it will wind up competing in the annual tournament at Odessa . . . Big Spring likely will open its 1967-68 basketball season against Andrews and efforts may be made to get the Steers in the annual Caprock tournament at Lubbock . . . Craig Wood shot an 88 in the first round of the 1936 Master Golf tournament, then toured the layout in 67 the second day—a difference of 21 strokes . . . In the 1942 Masters playoff, Byron Nelson gained five strokes on Ben Hogan in 11 holes, although Bantam Ben played the holes in one-under par . . . Adolph Rupp recently admitted his greatest disappointment was not being able to figure out a way for Kentucky to topple Texas Western in last year's NCAA basketball finals . . . Coahoma's Mike Mosley recently ran a 49.8 leg on the University of Texas' freshman mile relay team and was clocked in 1:53.4 while placing third in an 880 event . . . The American League is said to again have a better crop of rookies in spring baseball camps this spring than the National League and appears to again be catching up to the older circuit in all-around ability.

Abilene, San Angelo 2-4A Track Choices

Some of the state's finest track and field talent will go on parade here next Saturday, when Big Spring again plays host to the District 2-AAAA meet. Abilene High and San Angelo are strong favorites to fight it out for the team championship while Odessa Permian, Odessa High and Abilene Cooper will all score heavily. This is a rebuilding year for Big Spring, Midland and Midland Lee, although Lee's David Cooper will be a favorite in the high jump. Big Spring was scheduled to host the show a year ago but begged off because it was then in the midst of its building program. The morning session Saturday gets under way at 10 a.m. in Memorial Stadium and will continue until shortly before noon. Finals will be held in the high jump and the discus throw before the teams break for lunch. All other finals are scheduled for the afternoon, with the first field events (shot put, broad jump and pole vault) due to begin at 2 p.m. and the first running event (the sprint relay) at 2:30 p.m. First and second place finishers in each event will qualify for regional two weeks down the line.

Bruce Alford, Ex-Purple Star, Signs Bear Pact

CHICAGO (AP) — Bruce Alford, who missed only two extra point kicks in 98 attempts in a football career extending from a junior high school in Fort Worth through Texas Christian, has signed a contract with the Chicago Bears, the National Football League team said Saturday. Alford, who once kicked 63 consecutive extra points in competition, was the Bears' fifth round draft choice. He is credited with winning six games for TCU with his kicking. In 1965 he set a Southwest Conference record of four field goals in one game, hitting 19, 27, 41 and 31-yard attempts in a 25-10 victory over Texas. Last year he accounted for

ACC To Face Greyhounds

PORTALES — A nine-game football schedule — including seven repeaters from last year — has been released for the 1967 season at Eastern New Mexico University.

With a new hand at the helm, the Greyhounds will be shooting for a record better than the 2-7 worksheet they turned in a year ago. Howard White, until recently an assistant coach at the University of California, Berkeley, has taken over responsibilities as head football coach for Eastern.

Tentative dates for spring training at the University are April 11 to May 13, White has indicated. The former assistant coach at New Mexico State and West Texas State Universities is currently involved in an extensive recruiting program.

Holdover teams from the 1966 season which appear on the new list are Sul Ross State, Alpine, Texas; Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff; Central Oklahoma, Edmond; Western New Mexico University, Silver City; Colorado State, Greeley; Southwestern Oklahoma State, Weatherford; and Northwestern Oklahoma, Alva.

Newcomers this year are Abilene Christian College, and Arkansas A&M College. The schedule: Sept. 16—Sul Ross at Alpine, Sept. 23—Northern Arizona at Flagstaff, Sept. 30—Central Oklahoma State at Portales, Oct. 7—Western New Mexico at Portales, Oct. 14—Colorado State at Greeley, Colo., Oct. 21—ACC at Abilene, Oct. 28—Southwestern Oklahoma at Weatherford, Okla., Nov. 4—Arkansas A&M at Portales, Nov. 11—Northwestern Oklahoma at

Teen-Age Slates Sign-Up Dates

The Big Spring Teen-Age Baseball Association will have two sign-up periods for prospective players in the two leagues, the first one scheduled for Saturday, April 8, and the second one Saturday, April 15.

Both rituals will be held in the YMCA building. Boys 13 to 16 years of age, inclusive, are eligible to play in the Sophomore and Hi-Junior circuits, which play under Teen-Age Association auspices.

On each of the appointed days, the sign-up hours are from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Fifteen-year-old boys moving from the Sophomore to the Hi-Junior circuit must register again. Each boy must bring with him his birth certificate and he should be accompanied by at least one of his parents.

Insurance fee for each boy this year will be $5. League officials say the fee should be paid at the time the boy registers. Sophomore league tryouts (for boys in the 13-14 age bracket) will be conducted April 17-18-19. Hi-Junior trials (for boys 15-16) are slated April 20-21.

All tryouts will be held at the Teen-Age parks located just off Northeast Twelfth Street. Boys must participate in at least 50 per cent of the tryouts in order to be eligible for regular season play.

New president of the association is Jack Armstrong, who has helped with Little League ball in the past. He succeeds Alfred Ham.

Green Starts Free Lessons

Wives of members of the Big Spring Country Club are eligible to take free golf lessons from Jerry Green, club pro, each Tuesday morning through the month of April.

The first session starts at 10 a.m. Tuesday and will extend for about 90 minutes. The course ordinarily has good response and a large enrollment is anticipated this year.

The tournament committee at the country club, which has Dr. B. Broadrick as its chairman, will likely meet within the next couple of weeks to pinpoint dates for the Amateur Partnership Tournament.

The tournament probably will be held the first week in June. It replaces the Big Spring Open, which has been staged here the past four years.

Drabowsky Pranks Kept Victims Edgy

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — While Frank Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles was on his way to becoming the Most Valuable Player last season, he gave Moe Drabowsky an idea that helped the Oriole relief pitcher become the Most Valuable Prankster. Drabowsky, a native of Poland who is a serious-minded stockbroker in the offseason, started his bid for MVP honors with a series of telephone conversations in Kansas City late in May.

In the first phone-call, made from the Oriole bullpen to the Athletics' bullpen, he impersonated A's Manager Al Dark and told Coach Bobby Hofman to get Lew Krausse warmed up.

Drabowsky called minutes later to tell Krausse to sit down, and when he called a third time the A's finally caught on.

Two nights later, the Oriole called again, this time impersonating A's owner Charley Finley, and asked Hofman to explain the Krausse warm-up incident. Hofman spent five minutes giving all of the details, before finally realizing it was Moe again.

That series of calls put Drabowsky ahead in impromptu practical joking, but it was his mastery of the planned prank, with an assist from Robinson, that wrapped up the MVP award for the 31-year-old right-hander.

When asked about his extra curricular talents, Drabowsky was reluctant to take more than a small share of the credit for his successes last year. "There was an element of luck involved," he said.

But pressed a little harder, he delightfully recalled his piece de resistance — the snake episode. "Frank Robinson would carry this little attache case on our road trips, and we always wondered what he had in it," Drabowsky began, an impish grin spreading over his face as he anticipated the fun all over again.

"We finally opened it one day while we were on a bus and found a huge rubber snake. We dangled it and bounced it around. Luis Aparicio, Charley Lau and Camilo Carreon were petrified. They scampered up to the front of the bus.

"Afterward, even when they knew it was rubber, they jumped about four feet when we put it near them. This went on for several weeks. Then one day we decided it would be nice to substitute a live snake for the rubber one.

The Orioles were in Kansas City at the time, playing the series in which they clinched the American League pennant, and Drabowsky and fellow pitcher Frank Bertina went to a pet shop to buy a snake. The shop, however, had none available.

"It was just as well," Drabowsky explained. "One snake there would have cost us $12, but when we got to California, the day after we clinched, we bought four snakes for $10.

"On the way to the ball park, I took out a four foot gopher snake and draped it around my neck, its head in my right hand and its tail in my left hand.

"There was a car on our right waiting for the light to change, and when the driver saw the snake stick his head out the window with his tongue flicking out he rolled up the window real fast."

Lancaster, Priddy Lead Broncs To Win

ODESSA — Dee Lancaster and Gary Priddy teamed up to lead the Odessa Bronchos to an 11-6 District 2-AAAA baseball victory over the Big Spring Steers here Saturday.

The defeat ended a six-game winning streak for the Longhorns and evened their conference record at 1-1. Big Spring plays its first home district game at 4 p.m. Tuesday, at which time it tangles with Abilene Cooper.

Big Spring sent four pitchers to the mound in a vain attempt to stop the aroused Bronchos. James Newman started on the mound for the Longhorns but had trouble with his control and was succeeded in the third by David Mitchell, who accepted the loss. Lonnie Clanton came on in the fifth for the Bronchos while Johnny McCullough reported for duty in the sixth.

The Longhorns outhit the Bronchos, 11-6, and had numerous chances to break the game wide open but couldn't quite pull it off.

Priddy drove out a sixth inning home run for the Red Hosses, after smashing a double in the third that produced three runs. Lancaster banged a fifth inning double and a sixth inning triple to help the Odessa cause.

Big Spring's hitting was fairly uniform, although R. J. Engert had two safeties for the Big Springers. Jesse Zapata, Moose Ryan and Tony Martinez clouted two-basers for the visitors.

Big Spring took a 2-0 lead in the third when Ryan drove in Zapata and Bill Burgett with his double but Priddy's two-bagger cleaned the sacks and propelled Odessa into the lead in the last half of the round. The Steers came back to tie it in the fourth when Tony Martinez doubled and raced in on Newman's single.

The Bronchos sent three runs across the plate in the fifth when Edward Pierce, Lancaster and Gilbert Vasquez counted and the Odessans sewed it up with a five-run sixth highlighted by Lancaster's triple and Priddy's four master.

The Longhorns loaded the sacks in the seventh but only Dean Gilstrap counted in that canto.

Vasquez came on in the fourth inning to spell starting hurler Jerry Sharp and received credit for the win.

The win was the first in two conference starts for Odessa, which was the pre-season favorite to take it all.

Local Netters Are Beaten

ABILENE — Big Spring entries in the annual Abilene Invitational Tennis tournament were all sidelined Friday, although Scott Porter did win his first match in B Boys' Singles.

Porter defeated Bob Tate, 6-2, 6-2, before yielding to David Jones, 6-0, 6-1.

In A Boys' Singles, Mike Warren of Big Spring yielded to Steve Buck, 6-3, 6-2.

Russ McEwen and Craig Frank, Big Spring, were defeated in A Boys' Doubles by Joe Jopling and Wayne Johnson, 6-2, 6-0.

In B Boys' Doubles, the tandem of Bill Humphreys and Bill Wilson turned back Big Spring's Richard Macklin and Tim Childress, 7-5, 6-3.

Shirley Turner kayoed Carol McCombs, Big Spring, in A Girls' Singles, 6-1, 6-0.

Colette Tooke, Big Spring, lost to Dixie Childress in B Girls' Singles, 7-5, 6-0.

Big Spring succeeded in winning two of three matches in a dual meet with Sweetwater Thursday.

Tim Childress turned back the Mustangs' Dennis Smile, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4, in one singles team. Colette Tooke of Big Spring outlasted Marsha Hendricks, Sweetwater, in a girls' setto, 3-6, 6-4, 12-10.

Sweetwater's Dowdy Zimmerman lashed Mike Warren, Big Spring, in the third struggle, 6-3, 7-9, 6-1.

The Steers will host Sweetwater in a dual meet here Tuesday, then serve as hosts in the District 2-AAAA meet Friday and Saturday.

Oilers Book Kansas City, Dallas At Home This Fall

HOUSTON (AP) — The American Football League Houston Oilers announced Saturday pre-season games in Rice Stadium with the Kansas City Chiefs and the National Football League Dallas Cowboys.

The Oilers will open their pre-season dates against the Chiefs at 8 p.m., Saturday, Aug. 5. The AFL champion Chiefs defeated Houston 49-23 in their sole encounter in the 1966 season and lead the teams' series 9-5, including the 1962 20-17 championship decision.

The Cowboys game will be played at 8 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 2 to close the Oilers' pre-season slate.

Don Diosterman, general manager of the Oilers, said Saturday the team will train this year on the campus of Schreiner Institute in Kerrville in the Texas Hill Country.

Last year, the Oilers trained at home, and coach Wally Lemm complained about the humidity and the general attitude of his players.

This year, Lemm plans to take between 70 and 75 men to Kerrville. Last season, more than 100 clogged the workout area.

The Oilers will work in Kerrville for six weeks. The coaching staff will pitch camp July 7, rookies will arrive July 11 and sapping the players physically.

Playing Under Royal Was Thrill To Jim

By NATE MITCHELL

In 1955, James Shillingburg graduated from Kermit High School. As a senior, he ran up an impressive record as a football player — winning All-State Guard honors as a finalist to his grid years at the West Texas school. The 5-foot-10, 205-pounder was also an honor student and student body president.

"Shilly" had taken to the gridiron early-back in the sixth grade when tackle football was a going thing in elementary schools. Except for his junior year in high school, when he played tackle, Shilly played nothing but guard. Up on the line — nose-to-nose — with some of West Texas' best linemen, Shilly made such an impression at that position that schools from as far away as Dartmouth offered him scholarships.

Under grid mentor T. "Max" Jones, an outstanding Texas grid alumnus, Shilly's team managed a 26-4 win-loss record over a three year high school period, but never won the district crown. "The competition was pretty stiff," he recalls, "and good gridsters were plentiful. Jim Bob Butler, the Crane star, and Jimmy Spears from Seminole are a couple of these."

Upon graduation from high school, Jim Shillingburg's doorbell and telephone stayed busy. Scouts, coaches, and other grid enthusiasts were anxious to get his name on the dotted line. Oklahoma grid coach Bud Wilkinson singled him out as his number one choice of the year. Meanwhile, Shilly had narrowed his choice of schools down to either Oklahoma Southern Methodist, or Rice.

Rice was the first of the three schools he visited, and the mere lack of air-conditioned dormitories cost Rice a fine ball player.

Later, when he visited the Texas Relays, Shilly got his first look at the University of Texas and decided then to look no further.

Ed Price was grid mentor at Texas when Shilly arrived, but later was succeeded by Darrell Royal. Of 81 members of his frosh squad, only 14 were around to play as seniors. Shillingburg was one of these.

Today, he has the highest regards for coach Royal — not only as a coach, but as a man. "There just aren't enough kind words in the language to describe what a fine man Darrell

SHILLINGBURG IN HEYDAY
Jim now resident here

Royal is," Shilly told me. Shilly graduated from Texas in 1960 and became a junior high school football coach at Lubbock. Later, he moved up to assistant grid mentor at Monterey. After a year at Monterey, he decided to try another line of work. Today, he is a graduation supplies salesman and travels throughout the West Texas area. He makes his home at 2302 Alabama street here.

"This is a highly rewarding occupation — especially since I know many of my clients from my college and coaching days," he says.

Shillingburg has no single "biggest thrill" in the game of football. He has three of these pieces of nostalgia. He jokingly refers to these as "fun," "heartbreaking," and "hustling" big moments in the game.

The 'fun' thrill came in 1957 when the Longhorns edged Texas A&M, 9-7. This was coach Royal's first year as head coach. The cross body block thrown by Shilly knocked out both he and his adversary, but the win more than compensated for the inconvenience, he feels.

The 'heartbreaking' part came that same year when Rice, led by Buddy Dial, shelacked Texas, 34-7. "They caught us napping," Shilly told me, "and ran away with the game." Adding insult to injury, coach Royal threatened to make the entire team walk back to Austin. (He didn't).

The 'hustling' thrill came in 1958 when Texas squeaked by Oklahoma, 15-14 — the first Texas victory over arch-rival OU since 1952. (Texas kept the winning string going until last season when OU prevailed, 18-9).

Today Jim Shillingburg looks much like the lad who carved quite a niche in football history at Kermit and Texas (he was second team All-America as a college senior).

"I could never have put into it as much as I've gotten out of it," he says reflectively.

Vet Joe Nuxhall Quits For Broadcasting Job

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Pitcher Joe Nuxhall announced his retirement from the Cincinnati Reds Saturday, 23 years after he became the youngest player ever to appear in a major league baseball game.

Nuxhall, who will be 39 on July 30, was only 15 years old when he pitched two-thirds of an inning for Cincinnati on June 10, 1944. He had to get permission from his mother and high school principal for his 1944 debut.

With tears in his eyes, Nuxhall told a news conference he's retiring to join the Reds' play-by-play broadcasting team. He also will become associated with the Cincinnati brewery which sponsors the radio broadcasts.

"I always gave the game everything I had. I'm sorry my record is not better, but I'm proud of it," said Nuxhall, who has mellowed from a hot-tempered youngster into a genial elder statesman of baseball.

His lifetime record in an up-and-down career shows 135 victories, 117 defeats. His 130 victories for the Reds makes him the sixth winningest pitcher for the club.

Manager Dave Bristol said "it's tough to see a guy like Joe go." Nuxhall had a chance to become the team's fifth starter this year, Bristol added.

Nuxhall did not become the outstanding pitcher which many persons thought he would, but he had his moments of glory.

In 1955, he led the National League in shutouts with five, and his 17-12 record that year was tops among left-handers. In 1962, nearly forgotten after some lean years, Nuxhall amazed everyone with a great comeback.

After being traded in 1961, the Reds got him back near the end of the 1962 season and Nuxhall won five games while losing none, achieving a 2.45 earned run average, his best ever. Nuxhall had become the target of Boo Birds in Cincinnati in 1960 when he won only one game, while losing eight. When he was recalled in 1962, the fans exclaimed, "not him again," and some thought it was a publicity stunt.

But it wasn't. Nuxhall won 46 and lost 28 for the Reds in writing his comeback. He was 6-8 last year. In his first nine years with the Reds, 1953-60, his record was 84-81.

May, Epstein Could Be Leading Rookies

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Lee May of the Cincinnati Reds and Mike Epstein of the Baltimore Orioles appear to be the favorite in the Rookie of the Year contests although Epstein may wind up a late scratch because of the power-loaded Oriole line-up.

The 1967 crop is heavy on outfielders with a smattering of infielders and pitchers and only a few promising catchers.

May has been engaged in a tenuous struggle with Tony Perez for first base, a contest that Cincinnati Manager Dave Bristol likes to call the Battle of Florida. Both have been hitting the ball with power. Unfortunately for Bristol, both are right-handed hitters.

HARD TO IGNORE
It appears difficult for the Reds to overlook May's booming home run production during his five years in the minors. Lee made a good impression last spring but was shipped to Buffalo after he failed in seven trips as a pinch hitter. He hit .316 at Buffalo but his 18 homers were below his normal level. At 23, May (not to be confused with the older Lee Maye, formerly of Houston) should now be ready.

Epstein, who bombed International League pitching for 23 homers and 102 RBI while batting .309 for Rochester last season, presents Manager Hank Bauer with a problem. Big Mike, a 6-foot-4, 230-pounder, is a first baseman but the world champions have a good one in Boog Powell, a proven big league slugger.

Bauer sees the 23-year old Epstein to the outfield to learn a new position. Now all Epstein has to do is out Curt Blefary, the 1965 Rookie of the Year, who hit 23 homers last season.

The Orioles may be forced to trade Epstein or Blefary in order to get pitching help for their sore-armed staff.

Even if the Orioles do find a spot for Epstein, he figures to get real competition for rookie honors from such as Reggie Smith of the Boston Red Sox and Bill Robinson of the New York Yankees. Both were in the International League with Epstein last year.

Smith, a switch-hitting center fielder, won the batting title with .320. He has the speed, great arm and power to become a favorite at Fenway Park.

YANKS DEAL ACE
The Yanks shocked many by trading Clete Boyer to the Braves for Robinson, a phenom with Atlanta's Richmond farm where he hit .312 with 20 homers and 79 RBI. An accident in winter ball that required surgery to remove bone chips handicapped Robinson's throwing in the early spring games but he has been swishing that bat.

Steve Whitaker, another Yankee, would be a top candidate if he hadn't come up late last season and appeared at bat 114 times.

Under the rules a rookie is a man with not more than 45 days on a big league roster between an out-of-season day (the 31st day of the regular season) and Sept. 1 and has not exceeded 90 at bats or 45 innings pitched.

Walt (No Neck) Williams of the Chicago White Sox, acquired from the St. Louis chain in the John Romano deal, got off slowly because of a fractured right wrist suffered in winter ball when hit by a pitch. However, Eddie Stanky counts on Williams' bat, .330 at Tulsa, to put some zing in the Sox attack.

Perhaps the best catching prospect is Duane Josephson of the Sox, a .324 hitter at Indianapolis and definitely a catcher of the future.

PHOEBUS FIGURES
Epstein has competition on the Orioles from Tom Phoebus, a righthanded pitcher with a 13-9 record at Rochester, who gets a good chance because of the crippled Oriole staff. Mark Belanger, a rangy shortstop of the Mary Marion type, comes up from Rochester as a glove man and will stick as a utility infielder.

Hank Allen, an older brother of the Phillies' Richie, is making a strong bid for center field with the Washington Senators. Allen was a sensation in Hawaii last year where he hit 23 homers and knocked in 88 runs.

Gus Gil, a Cincinnati farmhand for seven years, seems headed for the second base job with the Cleveland Indians. In the early games there were many nice things said about outfielder Rich Scheinbaum, also of the Indians. The California Angels may have pitching help from Jorge Rubio of the Seattle farm.

Rick Monday, the collegian the Kansas City A's paid $104,000, will get a shot at center when he comes out of the Marines April 10.

Al Dark is giving first baseman-outfielder Ramon Webster, who hit 20 homers and batted .282 for Vancouver, a chance to make his ball club.

Minnesota has some good looking youngsters in third baseman Ron Clark, second baseman Rod Carew, first baseman Rich Reese and 20-game winning pitcher Jim Ollom up from Denver.

Detroit is banking on veterans with pitcher George Korince from Montgomery a possible addition. In addition to Robinson, the Yanks like the looks of flame-thrower Stan Bahnsen, a 22-year-old right-hander.

ROOKIE AT 2B
Boston is giving Mike Andrews a chance to make second base. Mike showed power despite a .267 season under Manager Dick Williams at Toronto last year. Pitcher Bill Rohr, 14-10 at Toronto, is regarded as a top prospect by Williams. Joe Coleman Jr., son of the former major league pitcher, will get his chance to work for Washington where infielder

Tim Cullen has been stirring up some excitement.

If May can beat Perez out of that first base job in Cincinnati, his main competition for National League rookie honors may come from outfielder Frank Johnson of the Giants. Johnson hit .308 for Phoenix last season. Included were 15 homers and 77 RBIs.

The sleeper of the spring is Gary Nolan, an 18-year-old right-handed pitcher of the Reds, who struck out 21 men in the first 15 innings he worked and allowed only four runs.

Don Wilson, an 18-6 performer for Amarillo in the Texas League, figures to fit into Grady Hatton's Houston starting rotation. Aaron Pointer, who finished strong with the Astros after a good year at Oklahoma City, has been the starting left fielder all spring.

Gene Michael, the ex-Pirate who was traded to Los Angeles in the Matur Wills transaction, appears ready to take over for the Dodgers at shortstop. Gene spent some time with the Pirates last year but was at bat only 33 times. The Dodgers' newest pitching hope, Alan Foster, is in service. Jim Campanella, son of the Dodgers' chief scout, is competing for a reserve catching job.

The Mets are counting on Tom Seaver, who had a 12-12 record in Jacksonville of the International League in his only year as a pro. He cost the Mets $50,000 when they drew his name out of a hat after Commissioner Eckert disallowed his signing with the Braves. Don Bosch, the Mets' center field hope from the Pirate organization, has been slow to find the range both at bat and in the field.

Leo Durocher has been toying with the idea of making left-handed Rich Nye, a 22-year-old pitcher, a regular starter. The Cubs will have John Boccabella at first base but he has been up and down so many times that he no longer is a rookie.

The best bet among the rookies to crack the Pittsburgh roster is Frank Shellenback, a lefty relief pitcher from the Columbus farm although everybody in the Pirate camp regards Bob Robertson, currently a third baseman, as one of the best power hitting prospects to come along in years. Robertson isn't quite ready.

St. Louis counts on a 23-year-old rookie, Dick Hughes, to help the pitching staff. Hughes has been knocking around the Cards' farm system for years but now appears ready. The Phillies are sticking with experience this year.

Odessa Prize Money Is Increased To $30,000

ODESSA — Prize money for the 19th Annual Odessa Pro-Am has been increased to $30,000, with the first-place winner taking a $7,500 share.

This larger purse was announced Saturday by the tournament committee.

Previously, the invitational tournament had reached $20,000, with $5,000 going to the winner.

The event is scheduled for Thursday through Sunday, July 13th-16th, at the Odessa Country Club. The field of 100 is to include 30 qualifying teams plus special invitations to play. These will be sent to the 10 low finishers in the 1966 Texas PGA, low 30's and ties from the previous Odessa Pro-Am, and others.

Gypsy Joe Harris Shades Cokes In Garden Scrap

NEW YORK (AP) — Gypsy Joe Harris is a clown. And he can fight too, as he showed in beating welterweight champion Curtis Cokes in a non-title 10-rounder Friday night.

But the unbeaten 22-year-old Philadelphia oddball is not another Henry Armstrong or Beau Jack or Kid Gavilan as his admirers claimed. Not yet, anyway. Give the long-armed gnome time and he may be up with them.

The brawny, 5-foot-5½ comes made a lot of unorthodox moves, spinning like a top at times, and he apparently befuddled the seasoned, 29-year-old champion from Dallas, Tex., through the first half of the fight. In the second half, Gypsy Joe clowned more and fought less.

Cokes showed some fast hands and firepower in the last half, especially in the final two blazing rounds when they stood toe-to-toe and slugged away.

For Cokes it was the old story of too little and too late, and the unanimous decision went to Harris who wound up an 8-5 favorite at fight time.

The slender, 5-foot-9 champion earned $9,000 for his Madison Square Garden debut and suffered his first defeat in two years. His record is 43-0-3. He also got a strenuous workout for his title defense against France's Francois Pavilla in Dallas May 19.

Harris, 17-0 in 28 months of pro fighting, collected about $5,000 from the gate of $25,000 paid by 7,000, including a big Philadelphia group.

Ex-Olympian Gains Fame As Artist

WAYNESBORO, Va. (AP) — by his success in a relatively new career as an artist. Excellence is a habit with 78-year-old Ralph C. Craig, a two-time Olympic gold medalist for winner, but even he is surprised 200-meter dashes. That was the year of Jim Thorpe's triumphs. Thirty-six years later — a record for an intervening span of years for participation — Craig was a member of the American Olympic yachting team.

Cardinals Launch Season At Home With Odessans

The Teenage Baseball park will be the scene of a 2:30 p.m. baseball game today between the Big Spring Cardinals and the Odessa Angels.

As a hunter, his knowledge of dogs has led to his selection as a judge of dog shows and field trials of national prominence.

The contest opens the season for both clubs. Others who will open for the Red Birds are Benny Marquez, left field; Pano Rodriguez, third base; Joe Castenhead, shortstop; Diego Olague, second base; Mingo Rubio, center field; Joe Gonzalez, right field; Abel Ramirez, catcher; and Manuel Olague, first base.

Craig spent 23 years as a businessman and 23 more in government service, but he has been a sportsman and athlete all his life. And it was the latter that led to the career of artist.

Hatton Sees Los Angeles As NL Contender Again

HOUSTON — There has probably never been a National League Championship team commanding as little respect from fans and writers for a repeat performance as the 1967 edition of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

His art is that of producing sporting prints in colors — some call them outlandish — with camera, knowledge of sports and darkroom experimentation. For subject matter he turns to the sports he knows best — track and field, sailing, and hunting.

Almost universally, the Dodgers are picked not to win the 1967 flag. However, there are many baseball men who feel the so-called experts are selling the Dodgers short.

He became a photographer out of necessity. When he retired in 1958, he intended to be a freelance writer about sports events and figured he could buy photographs to illustrate his stories.

Here is what others are saying about the 1967 Dodgers: Grady Hatton, manager, Houston Astros — "I think they will score more runs, I feel that Drysdale will rise to the occasion and become a big winner, and I think their pride will carry them to a lot of victories. I look for them to be in the thick of the pennant race all season."

Soon, however, he found the kind of pictures available failed to convey the mood he had in mind. He bought an inexpensive camera and breathed down photographers' necks in their dark rooms.

Gil Hodges, manager Washington Senators — "You can never undersell or underestimate a Dodger ball club. I remember fans and experts doing that when I was still with the ball club but we usually found a way to surprise them."

He learned the necessary techniques rapidly and soon was selling photo-essays to national magazines.

Ralph Houk, manager of the Yankees — "We could use a player like Dick Schofield who we sold to the Dodgers last September. He can play regularly or give you insurance at short, second or third. Now, we find ourselves looking for a player or just like him."

As of right now: Twelve of his prints have been ordered for hanging in the Olympic House at Canada's Expo 67.

Sal Maglie, coach of the Boston Red Sox — "My old roommate, Don Drysdale, is a great com-

The Swedish Olympic Committee wants four prints for its newly refurbished 1912 Olympic Stadium, where he won his two gold medals.

The King of Sweden wants a print. The University of Michigan, which recently presented him an Athlete of the Era award, wants an entire one-man show. Craig already has had seven such one-man shows.

What accounts for his success? An innate artistic sense, an analytical mind and a willingness to experiment are major factors.

"I am trying to evoke an emotional reaction by capturing the essence of the sport I photograph," he says. In doing so, he sometimes comes up with lavender skies and purple people.

You will be able to form your own opinion this weekend in the Astrodome when the Dodgers meet the Houston Astros Friday and Saturday nights and Sunday afternoon.

Ara Endorses Grid Playoff

DETROIT (AP) — Notre Dame football coach Ara Parseghian said Friday Notre Dame is willing to lift its longstanding ban on post-season games to determine a national collegiate champion.

Parseghian told an audience at the University of Notre Dame Night dinner in Detroit under what conditions his team would play in a deciding game.

"I'd like to see a committee formed of selected athletic directors, football coaches and writers," said Parseghian. "At the end of the season, they'd meet and decide if two teams are close enough to being No. 1 to have a playoff."

A strong demand for such a playoff arose at the end of last season, when Notre Dame and Michigan State played to a 10-10 standstill. But Notre Dame ended the season a few points ahead of Michigan State in the football polls.

SIDESHOW ATTRACTIONS at Webb's Spring Carnival will be the boys on the beach and the girls for whom they flex their muscles. The evening's entertainment will include a bathing suit review by Swartz and Elmo Wasson's Men's Store in which period suits and modern models will vie for attention. The "gent" is Capt. James M. Fitzsimmons, standing between Mrs. M. G. Mullanax and Mrs. Roger C. Blume. Seated are Mrs. J. W. Stewart and Mrs. C. E. Anderson.

"REAL SWINGERS!" say the carnival barkers about these little ladies who will test your gim at the benefit Spring Carnival slated April 8 by the Officers Wives Club in the Officers Open Mess at Webb Air Force Base. The pretty volunteers are Mrs. William A. Griffith, Mrs. F. G. Pappas, Mrs. C. D. Burnfield and Mrs. Fred Richards. The barkers, who will urge one and all to "toss the garter" are Capt. Alton Sissell and Lt. Orvin H. Rambo. The booth will be sponsored by Class 67-H.

DRUMMING UP BUSINESS will be the parade through Webb Village Friday evening where costumed party-goers will provide fun for the children. The marchers are, from left, Mrs. William D. R. Lund and Mrs. R. M. Staples, OWC special activities chairmen; Mrs. T. C. Isaacson and Mrs. John C. Hussey, ways and means chairmen; and Lt. James Von Beckman. On Saturday, a buffet will be served at 6:30, and booths for the benefit carnival will open at 7:30 p.m.

DOING DECORATIONS turns into quite a chore, but by Saturday the Officers Open Mess will have taken on a carnival air. Providing the festive atmosphere are Capt. Earl Glass, Mrs. W. F. Weaver III and Mrs. Jerry L. Dilley. Playing the clown is Lt. John C. Hussey. The OWC members are from Class 68-E.

COMPETITION WILL BE KEEN when colonels' wives compete in a tricycle race for charity. Volunteering a chariot is Mrs. R. G. Piland, OWC first vice president; and ready to try their luck are Mrs. George E. Franks, Mrs. Chester J. Butcher and Mrs. Gregory H. Perron. Mrs. S. G. Flowers Jr., OWC president, was unable to be present for the picture.

MRS. ARTHUR R. HERNANDEZ JR. (Brookshow Studios)

Wedding Solemnized In Home Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Linda Yvonne Salame and Arthur R. Hernandez Jr. was solemnized in a double ring ceremony Friday evening in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Salame, 809 N. Runnels.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davila of San Angelo.

The Rev. Julian Vigil, pastor of the Mexican Baptist Mission, read the nuptial rites before an improvised altar adorned with white carnations and an arch of greenery flanked by baskets of greenery.

Miss Alicia Acosta played traditional wedding selections on the organ as the bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding, Miss Salame chose a street-length candlelight silk linen sheath, designed with high-rising Empire bodice and trumpet sleeves of crocheted Irish lace. She wore a shoulder-length bouffant veil attached to an organza petal cap, and carried a white Bible topped with an orchid corsage showered with streamers.

Mrs. Gregory Charies served her sister as matron of honor. She wore an Empire styled sleeveless dress of yellow bonded crepe, and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Gregory Charies of Fort Worth was best man.

For traveling on their wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, Mrs. Hernandez chose a two-piece navy blue and white knit suit with white lizard accessories. She wore an orchid corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The couple will be at home in San Angelo, where the bride-

Will Honor Volunteers

Volunteers at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center will be honored Thursday evening with a banquet at Big Spring Country Club.

Mrs. Roy Granbery is president of the auxiliary which now has over 15 members who assist at the center.

The banquet will be open to the public at $2 per person, and tickets may be obtained from the center or any volunteer. R. W. Whipkey will serve as master of ceremonies, and the AB Club is assisting with arrangements.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Said is something that I, as a West Texan, have had more than I care for because most that I've got to know about firsthand is the type that blows when the wind comes out of the west and becomes the housewife's dilemma. I've never known to like it. But when sand comes in the enormous amounts that is found at the Monahans State Park it turns out to be fun, so I'm told.

For years the park has been attractive to people for the simple reason that it is just one big sand hill after another. Now hundreds of people flock there on weekends to go 'sand surfing.' The riders use a small size surf board and go flying down the dunes. My informant says the place looks like a happy an' hill... with surfers all over the place. Some pitch their tents at the top of the hill to provide a shade between slides.

So if you can't go to the good water surfing spots, and the snow ski areas are about gone with the season, perhaps you can join the crowd for using that inexhaustible supply of sand that has made the park famous. And this doesn't melt or go out with the tide.

MR. and MRS. ROY LASSITER are in Wink today to attend a reception that will honor their niece, MRS. KATHRYN BARTON, who has been chosen "Woman of the Year" by Wink's Upsilon Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. Barton is well known in Big Spring, having finished high school here in 1941. She married FRANK BARTON who also graduated from Big Spring High School and whose mother, MRS. R. J. BARTON, still lives here. He is superintendent of schools at Wink. The sorority will honor Mrs. Barton this afternoon at the Wink School cafeteria from 2 until 4 p.m.

The couple has a son, Jimmy, who is a student at Texas Tech.

When MRS. JIM ZACK goes to Millageville, Ga., the latter part of the week, she is going laden with pretties that she has made recently. She will visit a sister and has some pieces of her latest art work with her. She is now using attractive Swedish designs on various articles and they come up pretty.

The Zacks plan to be in Dallas this week for market before she continues on to Georgia.

Congratulations to MR. and MRS. ANGY GLENN whose

Orientation Class Set

The American Red Cross will conduct an orientation class for volunteers April 12 and 13, it was announced this week by Louie D. Jenkins Jr., field director at Webb Air Force Base. Persons completing the class will serve as volunteers in the various hospital clinics.

Presently 24 volunteers are working in the pediatric section, on the wards, in the clinic and the records section. Jenkins explained that volunteers first receive the orientation course; then they serve with more experienced volunteers. After they have completed the minimum requirements for service, they are capped as Gray Ladies.

Volunteers who wish to attend the orientation class will have free nursery care for their children and are to bring a sack lunch for the first day's class.

children are honoring them today on their fiftieth wedding anniversary at a reception at the Cosden Country Club.

In case you wonder why so many people waited until March 31 to get their tags for their automobiles... March 31 was pay day and that little item adds up to being important because you can't use your credit card.

MR. and MRS. ROY PERCIEFIELD are back home at last, after living for the past 30 years in California and Nevada. They laughingly said they knew they were home when they ran into a hard sandstorm near Brownfield.

Heels Are Higher

Brown and white are big colors for spring. Heels are higher, while skirts stay above the knees. So say the Italian fashion group. Palazzo pajamas are flopping out and racing in are Tahitian type printed sarong skirts.

Engaged

The engagement of Miss Frieda Sue Schulz to Roger Lynn Tate is being announced by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Vada Schulz, San Antonio. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Tate of Tarzan, formerly of Big Spring. He is presently a missionary in Sao Paulo, Brazil. The wedding is planned for late June in the Harlandale Church of Christ.

By MRS. R. D. FRERICHS

Teen and pre-teen social activities take place in the Youth Center building which contains a 60-foot game and ballroom, a combination TV room and lounge, and a terrace equipped with picnic tables and a fireplace. Adjacent to the Center are a playground, outdoor basketball and tennis courts, and the Little League ball field. The director of base youth activities is Miriam M. Russell, assisted by S. Sgt. Harry Myers, NCOIC, Airman 3.C. Van Jagers, and any number of paid and volunteer assistants, instructors, troop leaders and coaches, without whom, as Mrs. Russell says, "we could not survive!"

The varied activities include teen dances, holiday parties, pool and table tennis tournaments, dancing classes for smaller children, archery and ceramics classes, Little League baseball, tennis and golf classes in the summer, a swim program which ranges from beginners to senior life-saving, and the base-wide Junior Olympics. On the Saturday before Easter, three separate egg hunts were held for kiddies from two to 12, during which hundreds of eggs and 96 quarts of chocolate milk found their way into Easter baskets and small tumblers. Prize eggs could be redeemed for picture books, key chains, pens, and even live baby ducks, and over 250 boys and girls attended. Events on the April calendar include a teen dance with the Tech Raiders, spring archery and ceramics classes, and a Father-Son Pool Tournament.

The April OWC luncheon will be April 6 at 12:30 p.m., sponsored by the 3561st PTS Wives. They encourage everyone to join them for an "Afternoon — Italian Style." The candidates for OWC offices will be introduced, with elections to be held at the May luncheon. Call Mrs. J. O. Teague, AM 3-6930, or Mrs. R. G. Mucho, AM 7-2215, by noon Tuesday, April 4, for reservations.

The April 8 Spring Carnival is definitely taking shape. It will feature dancing with Al Hernandez, booths and games, costumes and prizes, and feature shows of "bathing beauties." Come out and join us at 7:30 p.m. at the Officers Open Mess for an evening of fun.

Bluebonnet Trail Gets Underway In April

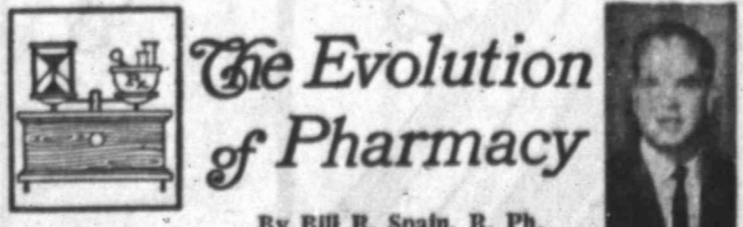

The Highland Lakes of Central Texas will stage a "glam!" Open House when the 1967 "Bluebonnet Trail" gets underway April 15. This colorful nature pageant continues through April 23rd with a full schedule of planned activities of historical, cultural, scenic, and recreational interest.

Chairman of the annual event is Col. Ray Beggs (Ret.), of Buchanan Dam.

Bluebonnets are likely to be anywhere along the circuitous route throughout the seven-lakes Highland Lakes chain. Visitors are urged to write for a free brochure that indicates the vantage points for best viewing Texas' official flower at the height of its season. Copies are available at the Chambers of Commerce of Lampasas, Burnet, Buchanan Dam, Llano, Kingsland and Marble Falls.

The Bluebonnet Brochure includes a comprehensive map of the area, as well as a variety of unique sites to visit, and a schedule of specific events. There are directions for finding these places and a brief history of such points of interest as the Santa Fe Railway Depot in Lampasas, Black's Fort, Enchanted Rock, and Pack-saddle Mountain. For a free copy, write P.O. Box 1967, Austin, Tex.

The best approach to any subject, I am told, is to start at the beginning and finish at the end . . . Of course the end of this interesting story (hopefully) will never come . . . The beginning could probably never be discerned specifically by myself or in fact historians . . . The actual practice of filling prescriptions was originally handled at the same time that the medicine was prescribed by the physician . . . In fact he filled his own prescriptions . . . Exactly when the prescriptions were assigned to a specialist is a little hazy . . . However we will try our best . . . Somewhere along the way we all have a boss or someone to whom we have to answer, in our daily activities. You are our boss . . . we like it that way . . . There is one limit, however, to how much you can tell us to do. The Federal Drug Administration and your doctor tell us what to put in your prescriptions and how often they may be refilled . . . Aside from that we are waiting for your next order . . . We like it that way . . .

Preston L. Mealers Will Live In Odessa

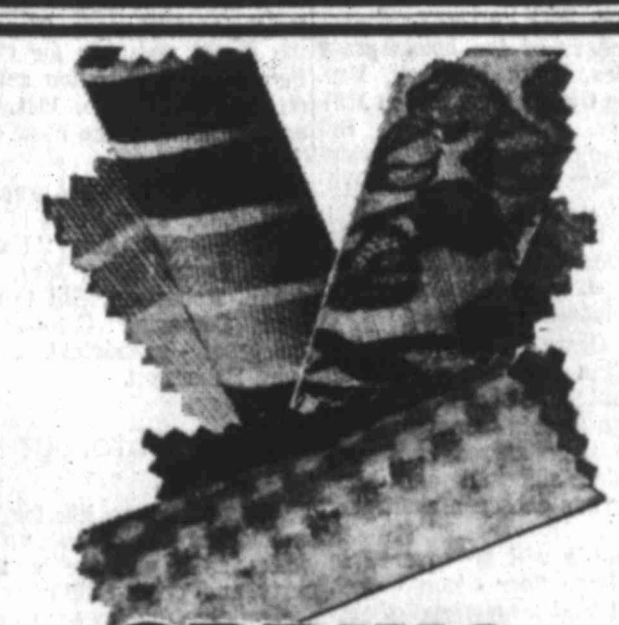

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Leon Mealer are residing at 819 W. 19th, Odessa, following their marriage March 25 at the Belmont Baptist Church in Odessa. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zane H. Gray, 1007 W. 24th, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Mealer, 709 E. 15th. The Rev. Bill Hogue officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar graced with greenery and white carnations flanked by seven-branched candelabra. Wedding selections were played by Mrs. Harlan D. Hall, organist, and Mrs. Charles Odum, sister of the bridegroom, sang "More," and "I Love You Truly." Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white satin appliqued with Alencon lace re-embroidered with bridal pearls and clusters of beads on the molded bodice. The neckline was scooped, and the long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists. Lace appliques enhanced the bodice. Inverted side pleats accented the controlled bell skirt which extended into a chapel train. A veil of silk illusion fell in tiers from an Alencon lace crown accented by pearl appliques. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid atop a small Bible. Miss Karen Gray, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She chose a yellow satin dress with matching lace jacket and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Her headpiece was of yellow satin and tulle. Miss Janice Treadway and Miss Ellen Dart were bridesmaids. They wore dresses designed identically to that of the maid of honor. Gary Lee of Odessa was best man. Ushers were Jack Span, Gary Williams and Don Jones, all of Odessa. Alter tapers were lighted by Bobby Mealer, Ricky of the bridegroom, and Ricky Shortes of Odessa. For traveling on a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride chose a mint green suit with matching hat and floral bag. The bride is a graduate of Odessa High School and is employed by the Keystone Headler's Service. The bridegroom graduated from Odessa High School and is attending Odessa Junior College. He is employed by the Kimbell Company.

Porcelain Processing Highlights HD Agenda

Mrs. Delaine Crawford, Howard County home demonstration agent, will conduct programs within the next few weeks on "Porcelainized Flowers" and HD clubs throughout the county will participate in the sessions.

The programs, compiled by Mrs. J. F. Skalicky and Mrs. Crawford, will deal with the methods used, the type of flowers needed and the proper containers for displaying arrangements.

A few decorative objects are desirable in every home, but their selection and use should be made with care. Plants and flower arrangements can add interest but should not be overdone, as only a few are needed in a room.

Flower arrangements should be in proportion to the piece of furniture on which it is placed. For example, a small, low arrangement looks well on a coffee table or under a window, and a tall display might be used on a table in the entrance hall or on a low table or chest in the foyer.

Fresh, cut flowers are usually the most preferred arrangements but they are not always available nor practical. This is why the permanent or artificial arrangements have become so widely accepted. There are some rules to remember in the selection of this type arrangement, and they should be observed.

The type of arrangement and the place selected for its best advantage should be considered early. This will influence the selection of flowers that are appropriate in color, type and the number needed in the arrangement. The container should be simple in design and of a color that will be suitable with the flowers. The container should not detract from the arrangement.

The next meeting will be a salad luncheon at 9 a.m., April 11, in the home of Mrs. D. W. Griffith, 1709 E. 17th. Porcelainization of flowers will comprise the program.

LEES CLUB
Mrs. Zula Rhodes of the Elbow HD Club reviewed the book, "Hound Dog Man," at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Lees HD Club in the home of Mrs. J. L. Overton.

Mrs. Overton brought the devotion, and roll call was answered with "The Flowers I Have Planted." Mrs. E. B. Low announced that work is almost completed on the roadside park being made more attractive club members.

Refreshments were served to five members and Mrs. Rhodes, a guest. The next meeting will be at the HD Club house, April 11, with Mrs. J. J. Overton as hostess.

When news breaks anywhere in the far flung combat areas of Vietnam, you can pinpoint the exact places involved if you have this comprehensive and detailed new Hammond map, offered for sale now as a public service.

Families of boys in Vietnam will want it to hang on their wall, as will every intelligent newspaper reader who wants to keep in touch with the explosive situation in southeast Asia.

Printed in handsome full color on heavy paper of high quality, this 21x29 inch map folds compactly to fit in a handbag, desk drawer or glove compartment.

Da Nang, Hue, Chu Lai and hundreds of other places are shown, including major air bases, United States marine and army landings, roads, railroads, mountain passes, falls and rapids, rivers and other topographical features that help you understand the strategy of the fighting.

Besides the large detail map embracing North and South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia, there are smaller maps showing elevations, Communist dominated countries, and the continent of Asia as a whole; also an economic map of southeast Asia spelling out the agricultural, industrial and power resources of individual countries. Another "extra" is a chronology of events since World War II. An atlas type index lists and locates cities, towns and physical features in North and South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

The map is produced by C. S. Hammond & Company, a leading organization in its field. Get your copy today.

MRS. JOHN C. IRWIN

Rings Penney Register Last Time Saturday

By JO BRIGHT
Mrs. John C. (Nola) Irwin rang up her last sale for J. C. Penney Company Saturday.

Taking a last check to see that everything was in order she could also look back on 29 years of service with the company — and look forward to some leisurely days of retirement.

Mrs. Irwin, head saleslady in the women's ready-to-wear department began her long association with the company in 1948 at Brownwood where she had left Howard Payne College to be married. When she and her husband moved to Big Spring in 1949 she continued work with the store here which was managed by Crawford Norman, who has since retired. For several years she managed the department handling hose, bags, lingerie and jewelry.

It was in 1954 that she moved to the "balcony" as department head and buyer for the women's ready-to-wear.

"I like to sell good merchandise," said Mrs. Irwin, and that she did. During the next 13 years, Mrs. Irwin rang the register to the tune of several million dollars, according to Paul Hathaway, the present store manager.

"Mrs. Irwin's work in improving the department and increasing sales had a lot to do with our being able to start work on the new store here," said Hathaway.

Mrs. Irwin's "balcony" was remodeled in 1961 in order to accommodate much more merchandise. It now carries women's clothing in a size range from one petite junior to 24½ misses.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin reside at 111 E. 17th, and he is employed with the T&P Railway. They have one son, William E. Irwin who is married and lives in Dallas where he is associated with Texas Instruments. Their granddaughter, Jayne, is two years old and a great source of pleasure for her grandmother.

Mrs. Irwin is a member of the First Baptist Church where she has taught and been active in the Bykota Sunday school class for 12 years. At one time, before work became her hobby, she was a member of the Alpha Delphian Study Club.

Now that she will have more time than ever before to use as she pleases, Mrs. Irwin plans to develop her talents by resuming piano and voice lessons and doing a lot of sewing.

First, however, she hopes to take a long-awaited trip to San Francisco, Calif., to visit an old friend, Mrs. Lola McNeill.

Saturday, Mrs. Irwin was the guest of honor as coffee was served informally in the upstairs offices. However, it was not "goodbye." She plans to continue her association with the store — as a customer.

Homemakers Cheer Drop In Food Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — Food prices dropped again this week, with ham and eggs leading the list.

Pork supplies have been running nearly one-third larger than a year ago.

Supermarket pork prices are far lower than a year ago, and likely to remain so until summer.

Demand for eggs slowed after the Easter holiday. Prices also are expected to stay low until summer.

There are about five per cent more hens in the country, and they are working harder. But they don't like hot weather, which is why egg prices will probably go up when summer arrives.

There also are larger supplies this spring of beef, turkeys and chickens.

Too, there also is slightly more milk, despite the spilt milk across the land.

Milk production started picking up in December, and March through July are the seasonally heavy production months.

Supplies of southern strawberries are increasing, and prices are dropping.

End Of Measles

Common measles could be eradicated in the U.S. in 1967, reports Dr. William H. Stewart, the U.S. Surgeon General. This hopeful tone results from the successful use of vaccines against measles, the employment of which brought the disease to a 21-year low in 1966.

Youth Center Is Product Of All Pulling Together

"I saw the kids sitting around here of a night, and so I said, 'Have you nothing else to do than sit here a wasting your time?'"

And as the Rev. James Delaney describes the germ of the idea that led the Sacred Heart Youth Center, "we first saw the necessity, then we had to sell the idea."

Then he began hammering the thesis that "our people can do this."

foreman for the contractor, and he became foreman on this job, using labor that members donated. He had the help of several skilled craftsmen who also gave their services — Pete Paradez who did the cabinets; Marcus Correa, who laid the ceramic tile; Ysa Mendoza and Juan Flores, who poured and finished the concrete. It is estimated that from $20,000 to $30,000 of labor was given by members.

Until he was assigned in a last-minute switch, Rev. James Delaney had only the vaguest notion about Texas.

Attorneys, with his help, kept pecking away until they located all the heirs who had an interest in the property, and fortunately all were alive and signed the deeds. The city cooperated by closing an unopened alley.

NEARLY ALL CLEAR

Today, with the task virtually complete and less than $15,000 owing on the facility (half of that as an advance by the diocese), Rev. Delaney is taking a back seat. The church will see to it that there is money for utilities, insurance and operation.

MIRACLE ON N. AYLFFORD

Center Is Exceptional Plant

Some call it the "Miracle of N. 6th and Aylford." Others call it "the most wonderful thing that ever happened," and some call it a dream come true.

The Sacred Heart Youth Center is all of these, and more. There's no telling what it can mean.

The plant, with $60,000 invested and in reality is valued at $80,000 to $90,000, will have its doors open to the public from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday. The Rev. James Delaney, pastor of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, hopes that everyone in the Big Spring area will share in the joy of this occasion.

The remainder of the south wing is given over to an assembly-study area which may be used by smaller groups. This can accommodate more than 50 around tables, or easily 100 in an ordinary meeting. This portion has its own entrance, as does the game room and the auditorium. Interior doors can be locked to make any one of the three major areas independent of the others.

No Incumbents, Unique Situation For City Race

There will be no incumbents in the Big Spring City Commission election Tuesday, a rather unique situation. Only once in the past 24 years have voters gone to the polls in a city election with no incumbents on the ballot. That was in 1959, when there were two seats on the commission to be filled and six candidates were in the race. Tom South and Paul Kasch were the victors when 931 residents cast votes.

However, in the years when two commissioners were elected, the average total vote has been 943. On the other hand, one of these years — 1961 — had a total vote of 2,165 the highest ever chalked up in a city election. The average total vote in years when three commissioners were elected was 1,104. The average vote in all the past 24 years is 1,023, but this average climbs to 1,205 for the last 10 years.

two years five; in three years four; in four years three; and in two years only two. Residents generally favor the incumbents, when they are seeking re-election. Since 1943, 46 incumbents have been listed on the ballot and 37 of them were returned to office. Only nine failed to keep their seats after having served. There has been only one woman since 1943 (prior to this year) appearing on the ballot, and she placed fifth in the field of eight candidates in 1964, which saw all three incumbents returned to office.

POOREST TURNOUT
The poorest voter turnout of the past 24 years was in 1944, when only 54 persons marked ballots, returning three incumbents to office. With the exception of 1941 when only 343 voted and 1965 when a mere 211 cast ballots, at least 694 or more have voted in each of the other years. Although write-in votes are usually negligible, in 1960 two candidates received more than 100 votes in this manner and three others were given large support. However, the total of all write-in votes that year, if given to a single candidate, would not have changed the results.

SMALL TURNOUT
Based on a similar race, the turnout in Tuesday's election will not be unduly large. There have been 11 years in the past 24 when the total count went higher than 1,000 votes, and on six of these occasions, incumbents lost their seats.

MOST CANDIDATES
The most candidates in a race for this period has been eight, and it has occurred on three occasions, 1964, 1960, and 1954. On two other occasions, there have been seven, the same number as this year. In eight years there were six; in

Election To Name Two New Members

Big Spring voters Tuesday will name two new members to the Big Spring City Commission, filling the seats being vacated by John Stanley and Chester Cathey, who are not seeking re-election.

Seven candidates have offered for the vacancies—George Zachariah, Tony Taroni, Roy Granbery, Garner McAdams, Mary Thomas, L. A. Hillbrunner, and Fred Lonsford.

Residents may vote at any one of four fire stations, Central, 18th at Main, 11th and Birdwell, or Northside. Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Holdover commissioners include Mayor Arnold Marshall, Walter Stroup and Jimmy Morehead.

Mock Jury Can't Find Decision

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A mock trial by Yale law students of Lee Harvey Oswald on a charge that he assassinated President John F. Kennedy in Dallas ended Saturday with the jury deadlocked.

The trial, presided over by New York lawyer Jacob Fuchsberg, lasted over six hours. The jury split 6-6.

IT'S THE WILD ONE!

Just 2 More Days! Watch For Wards Circular In Tues. Paper.

A city grows up on the prairie.

"When I look off toward Signal Mountain or out to the prairies and remember how it used to be—the bald, open stretches reached for mile on mile. The herds of antelope, the wild burros, the coyotes, the rattlesnakes and the wolves were the principal part of the scenery. I remember how Big Spring used to be—a sleepy little cowtown, which sprawled up and down both sides of the railroad track, surrounded by a prairie wilderness with no cotton, grain, oil or anything in fact but cattle—and not enough of them unless it rained. I look at it now—a modern city with skyscrapers, fine homes, stores, office buildings and even some trees we planted that are doing pretty well—it makes me feel good. It makes me feel like I had a real part in the building of America."

A Devotional For The Day

When his followers saw what was coming, they said, "Lord, shall we use our swords?" (Luke 22:49, NEB)
PRAYER: Lord, give Thy servants courage to bear witness to Thee today amid the difficulties of a changing order. May our witness further the growth of Thy kingdom. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Cause For Rejoicing

The entire community should rejoice in the completion and activation of the Sacred Heart Youth Center, which this afternoon observes open house.

This is a facility in which all can take pride, and especially those who will be served by it. It is first class; it is tastefully appointed; and it is something that will challenge the people to preserve as well as to use.

The splendid physical factors notwithstanding, the most wonderful thing about the center is that it has been done by the people whom it will service. Out of the pride, confidence, cooperation and the know-how generated by this project, we hope that citizens in this part of the community will be encouraged to tackle other problems so that difficulties will be overcome and opportunities broadened.

Meanwhile, the center — which is open to all youth — stands as a firm, positive alternate to doing nothing. Now youngsters have a place to which they can go for wholesome, creative activity. It will, we predict, make a lot of difference.

Worth Serious Study

Speaker Ben Barnes has suggested a legislative look at a measure which would permit media to publish, without fear of libel, names of juveniles who are second offenders, and the names of their parents.

A number of people constantly ask: "Why don't you carry the names of juveniles who get in trouble with the law?" The reason is simple: The law does not permit the publication of the names of juvenile offenders.

The theory behind the statutes, which makes acts of juvenile crime or delinquency civil actions and not privileged for publication insofar as names are concerned, is noble. Many youngsters are caught in a web of circumstance that draws them into an offense against society; some others are not aware of the consequences of their acts until brought before the bar of justice. Confronted with the reality of the situation, they are determined not to ever be caught in such a mess again. So then, why subject them to the white light of publicity and perhaps inflict an emotional scar?

Most everyone will go along with this premise. But is the young offender who learns nothing from a first brush with the law entitled to this same consideration? And if he comes back again and again, is it not indicative that he has found the cloak of anonymity an ally of regulations which seem to put him beyond the pale of the law?

It may be argued that those who become repeaters are contemptuous of authority and of public regard and would not mind (might even relish) publicity. But this may not carry over to parents whose responsibility it is to raise up a child in the way it should go.

Mr. Barnes proposal is worth serious study and perhaps action. It just might help.

The Powell Issue Again

WASHINGTON — The American people are being asked to accept the theory that Adam Clayton Powell has been penalized just because he is a Negro. Not only have many demonstrations been staged by his supporters, but there are signs that some members of Congress are becoming worried over the possible loss of Negro support in their districts unless they reverse themselves and vote to seat the Harlem representative if he should be re-elected next month.

THE FACT IS that, hitherto at least, Congress has not chosen to exclude or expel any members by reason of race. There are lots of persons who are beginning to believe that the excuse of racial discrimination being offered today is merely a means of covering up wrongdoing. In answer to the charge frequently heard that no white man has been punished, it is being pointed out now that there have been other cases in history, notable among them being that of John Francis Fitzgerald, grandfather of the late President Kennedy.

MR. FITZGERALD had previously served three terms in the House of Representatives and later had been mayor of Boston for six years. He was again elected to the House in November, 1918, and began serving in March, 1919. Congress, however, appointed a committee to investigate his election, and in October, 1919, voted to unseat him. The charge was that he had been illegally elected. In the committee report it was asserted that he owed his victory to "the fraudulent votes of the liquor dealers, bartenders, and city jobholders illegally registered . . . and in the padded returns of alleged residents in the cheap lodging houses" of the city.

DESPITE THE popularity of "Hon. Fitz," as he was known in Boston, the verdict called for his exclusion from Congress.

The charges against Adam Clayton Powell center on his misuse of public funds after being duly elected, and the question before the people of his district now is whether they will disregard what he has done and elect him again anyhow.

There are two segments of opinion in Congress. One group prefers to admit Powell and then administer punishment for his misuse of funds by requiring him to pay the money back to the government. Another faction feels that the judgment made a few weeks ago should be upheld and that the language of the resolution—which says that Powell shall not be admitted to the 90th Congress—should apply also in the event he is re-elected next month.

IF POWELL were not nationally known and a prominent figure in the civil rights movement, the tendency of many members of Congress, irrespective of party, would be to deal with the question on its merits. But the fear of a "backlash" from the Negro vote in other parts of the country has arisen. On the other hand, consideration has to be given to the votes of many people who resent what they believe will be a form of racial discrimination if Powell is seated because of his race.

Members of Congress listen carefully to the voice of public opinion in their districts. They will be anxious to learn whether the people will be satisfied if Powell is admitted and the punishment suggested heretofore is meted out, or whether the people want to have the Harlem congressman excluded altogether.

Billy Graham

You sing "Blessed Assurance," but I really wonder if all Christians are certain about their faith. I know a few who don't seem to be too sure.

G. J. People who rely on feeling, passing emotions, and any other ground except Christ and His unfailing word naturally are unsure, for the things they depend on are uncertain.

The person who trusts in Christ can sing, "On Christ the solid Rock I stand; all other ground is sinking sand." Their certainty is sure because Christ is sure and steadfast. True, even a committed Christian may be uncertain about his worthiness, and his meriting eternal life, but when one has ventured his all on Jesus Christ, he can sing without reservations, "Blessed Assurance, Jesus is mine."

A trusting Christian looks at life with all its contradictions and definitely decides that the Christian stance makes more sense than anything else. Even trouble drives them closer to their Lord, for having found the comfort of faith, they could find solace and strength in nothing less. Like Columbus, they say, "Despite the threatening storms, 'Sail on,' for they know that the Light that illuminated them thus far, will safely lead them on. I have observed 'saints' to the very end, and I have never seen one who had any regrets.

Martin Appointment Seen As Dollar Boost

SLOWER, BRIGHTER

- Martin symbol of dollar integrity at home and abroad
- Bankers cut rates, perceive a period of adjustment
- Mounting inventories are most troublesome spot
- Construction revival is one of brighter pictures
- Automobile output gains sharply, still under 1966 pace

NEW YORK (AP) — The controversial money master, William McChesney Martin, was redesignated by President Johnson this week as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

Martin, a staunch guardian of the board's status as an independent agency, has not always agreed with Johnson on monetary policies. But his reappointment to serve as chairman until Jan. 30, 1970, indicates their views have come closer together.

Retention of Martin, 60, was hailed by the financial and business community, which considers him a symbol of the dollar's integrity at home and abroad.

SOME CRITICS But some Democratic members of Congress were critical of Johnson's action. Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., said he hoped it "does not mean a continuance of the repetitive cycle of high interest rates and tight money which has three times brought recession to our national economy."

At the same time that he redesignated Martin as chairman, Johnson let be known his decision to, at the end of April, retire Charles N. Shepardson, one of the seven-man board's most conservative members and a frequent ally of Martin.

Indications were that Shepardson's successor would be someone more in tune with Johnson's economic views. Financial sources recalled that the board voted in December, 1965, to follow Martin's advice and raise the system's discount rate — the interest charged to member banks — to 4½ per cent, a move Johnson opposed at the time, by a 4-3 margin with Shepardson siding with the majority.

In recent months the board has eased interest rates as the economy slowed. Last week Martin told the Senate Finance Committee he expects a business upturn in the last half of 1967 and advocated enactment of the six per cent income tax surcharge proposed by Johnson.

Most major commercial banks fell into line during the week with a 5½ per cent prime rate — the interest charged the biggest and most credit-worthy borrowers.

The move started to spread last week when Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York cut its rate to 5½ per cent from 5¾ per cent. The surge came after First National City Bank of New York went to 5½ per cent last Monday.

The trend to a lower rate began late last January when Chase Manhattan Bank of New York cut to 5½ per cent from six per cent. But only a few banks followed then. Two leading bankers expressed belief that a recession could be avoided although many economic indicators are lagging. "It is only natural in an economy such as ours that we should encounter periods of adjustment," said George Chamberlain, chairman of Chase Manhattan.

SLOWER RATE "This does not mean we are in the midst of or headed toward or going down the road to recession as some have suggested. It simply means that we will grow at a somewhat slower rate this year than we have in the past few years."

Dr. Roy L. Reiersen, senior vice president and chief economist of Bankers Trust Co. of

New York, said that although business conditions have deteriorated further in recent weeks, the chances are "better than even" that the economy can avoid a full-fledged recession.

The most troublesome factor in the present business situation is the sustained rapid growth of business inventories, he said.

PESKY INVENTORIES Reiersen said that if it should turn out that inventories are continuing to pile up in volume "the danger of a cyclical contraction will undeniably loom larger." Even so, he added, "Forces are at work which should moderate prospective declines in some sectors of the economy and impart strength to others."

He mentioned reversal of credit restraint, increasing savings by consumers and higher defense spending.

Construction contract awards in February climbed to their highest point since last September, rising sharply from January's depressed level.

F. W. Dodge Co., a construction and marketing information concern, reported that construction contract value in February rose to $3,300,014,000, up 13 per cent from January but down eight per cent from February. Automobile production was stepped up during the week to an estimated 163,900 passenger cars from 133,291 the previous week, when plants closed on Good Friday, but was down from 195,024 a year ago.

To Your Good Health

Maybe She Needs Fresh Air

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Your column has been very helpful to me. Now may I share a suggestion?

I noticed that my sinus problems were greatest when I was spending a great deal of time driving. I finally noted that the heater and fan were operating with the windows all tightly closed.

The excess air had no place to go so it became compressed and irritated the sinuses. Does this make sense? Since then I have always made sure that a vent is open and I have had no more sinus problems. — MRS. C. C.

Thank you for your helpful suggestion but I strongly suspect that the reason for its success is a bit different. I cannot agree that air in the car could become compressed to a degree that would make any difference. However, hot, dry air, forced by the fan, can create a dryness of the nasal membranes that can be decidedly irritating. Thus keeping a vent open can make a world of difference, as it did in your case. I am sure others will benefit.

There are other reasons, sometimes more urgent, for seeing that a car or other vent is open, or the windows rolled down a bit. It is a safeguard against a leaky exhaust which can fill a car with a dangerous amount of carbon monoxide before you know it.

It also prevents icing of windows and windshield, or fogging which can occur in humid weather.

And while I'm on the subject of safety — how about your seat belt? Do you use it every time you drive?

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 76, broke my hip six years ago, and always carry a cane. Which side should I carry it on? I now carry it on the left, although it was the right hip that was broken. — MISS A. G.

I gather that someone is trying to tell you that there's a right side and wrong side. Well, there isn't. Carry the cane on the side that gives you the most support and sense of security and balance.

Dear Dr. Molner: Does chocolate milk have the same nutrition as white milk? What is the difference if any? I am 12. — M.T.

No difference except that the chocolate adds a few calories.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would you comment on the suitability of homemade and commercial sauerkraut and of potato pancakes and other pancakes for late middle-aged or elderly people, about once every two or three weeks? This question interests many. — M.A.P.

I can't see that there is room for any argument. Cabbage and potatoes are valuable foods, and how they are cooked is a matter of taste.

There's too much emphasis on the idea that some particular food is "good for you" (or the reverse). Folks with ulcers or diverticulitis or other intestinal complaints must choose bland diets; those with edema or some forms of heart trouble often must follow a low-salt diet; some have to avoid certain foods because they are allergic to them.

But aside from such broad necessities, most folks are best off when they eat what they like.

Around The Rim

Those Rich Folks In The Diner

Young'uns these days may lie in a sunny meadow, scan the skies and dream dreams of their own conquest as they watch the jets stream over, leaving white contrails against the bright blue.

And I suppose the dreams would be not unlike those of us who, many years ago, stood on rough railway platforms and stared in awe at the big "limited" or "special" trains thundered through.

THE DEMISE of passenger service on the old TeePee has been pretty well chronicled, and there's no point in dredging up again all the nostalgia about how the iron horse won the West, and how towns thrived at well-spaced distances to suit the operation of the railroad.

It's no joke, although easily made into one, about how the big event of the day for many a hamlet was when the train came through. In some places without a stop, in others with a brief pause to throw off or take on a bag of mail, and perhaps let a lone passenger alight or embark.

WHAT USED to touch off dreams among some country tykes like me was the sight of the sheer opulence of the Pullman cars and the diner.

Ah, the diner! Say the train pulled into town along about the evening's dusk. The locomotive huffed by, spewing its steam; then the mail cars, where men seemed to be busy as beavers; then the chair cars, all lighted, with their inmates' noses pressed against the windows, exchanging examining looks with the natives on the platform.

THE PULLMANS had a much more mysterious air of distinction, because the shades were drawn, and one could imagine behind them rode princes and princesses and maybe presidents and plutocrats to destinations of enchantment.

But in the midst of the Pullmans was the diner; and here again there was light; soft light from elaborate chandeliers that made the snowy table cloths and the napery fairly gleam. Each table had its special bottle of spring water; shining silver was there, along with a vase of flowers.

JACKETED WAITERS could be seen, carrying trays on hands uplifted high, and bowing ceremoniously to serve the opulent (they had to be opulent) people who partook of the delicacies on that evening's menu.

The diners, so obviously bent upon enjoyment of their meal, never glanced out, as did the folk up in the chair cars. They went about their own affairs, with probably a feeling of disdain toward the bumpkins who were on the outside looking in.

THAT PORTLY MAN with the great gold watch chain across his waistcoat: Where was he going? The beautiful high-gowned lady, now through her meal and delicately using a finger bowl: Whither bound?

Only to a magic destination, surely. If there was anything to prompt a kid to make a wish, it was the gliding by of the ornate diner, with its air of comfort, service and richness. One of these days, he promised himself, he, too, would travel in such high style.

PERHAPS NO MORE. He must look up to jets. And then he has to imagine the wonder of it all. He can't see it, like his forefathers once did on a station platform. — BOB WHIPKEY

WASHINGTON — The uproar in Alaska over the Soviet fishing trawlers is the outraged cry of a state that is still a ward of the federal government. It is part pride, part a feeling of lonely neglect in the frozen North, part a reflection of the narrow margin of the economy.

ALASKA HAS 26,000 miles of coastline and 250,000 people. Obviously, the Coast Guard cannot keep Soviet, Japanese and Canadian fishing vessels out of the 12-mile fishing limit on this far expense. Only occasionally does a spotter plane pick up an intruder and then if a Coast Guard ship is near enough the offender is caught and hauled into port.

That happened with two Soviet trawlers. The captain in the first instance was fined $5,000, which his government finally paid. But in the view of the Alaskan delegation in Congress that was no more than a slap on the wrist, since the law passed last year provides penalties of a year in jail, a $10,000 fine and seizure of the ship and the catch.

THE SECOND violator, Capt. Leonid M. Kuschchenko, was fined $10,000. For the Alaskans this was merely more of the same appeasement. What fed their wrath was the fact that on board his ship were cases of Alaskan shrimp marked for export. Sens. E. L. (Bob) Bartlett and Ernest Gruening promptly served notice on Secretary of State Dean Rusk that they would take to the Senate floor when the Easter recess is ended to denounce the State Department for recommending this craven conduct.

THIS IS AN embarrassment for Rusk in view of the effort to ease tensions with the Soviet Union in a variety of moves. Through the consular treaty, the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, an expansion of East-West trade and other bridge-building steps, the hope is to achieve a relationship with Moscow that can eventually bring a joint effort for settlement of the Vietnam conflict.

So far as can be determined the Soviet government has had no part in these violations. The trawler captain, in all probability under the compulsion of a quota system set by the bureaucracy in Moscow, simply goes where the fish are. And when it comes to crab and shrimp they are pretty much within the 12-mile limit.

WHILE WITH intensive prospecting oil may be catching up, fishing is for Alaska still the No. 1 industry. It is a source of livelihood for perhaps half the population. And this applies with special force to the roughly one-third of the 250,000 who are Eskimos, Indians and Aleuts.

Alaska is our own underdeveloped country, and so long as it is underdeveloped quarrels such as that over the Soviet fishing vessels will have an emotional impact far beyond their economic importance.

IN ALL THIS is a kind of anarchy that should be subject to international law. The danger is real that overfishing with factory-like trawlers is destroying in many areas a fundamental resource. (Copyright, 1967, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Let's Keep Ky Out Of This One

WASHINGTON — The administration is still mad at the press coverage given to President Johnson's much publicized trip to Guam, and well they might be. A great deal of the news coming out of the conference had to do with South Vietnam Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's statements, rather than with what President Johnson had to say, and since President Johnson hadn't even been invited until the last minute, it was only natural that the Johnson people would be upset.

The rumor is that President Johnson has no intention of allowing Premier Ky to upstage him again. We can just imagine what will happen the next time the President decides to go anywhere.

"Mr. President, it's Marshal Ky on the phone."

"DOGGONIT, he's probably found out about my trip to Punta del Este in Uruguay next month. Hello, Marshal, how are you? . . . Yes, Ah got home fine . . . Yes, it was a wonderful trip. It was good seeing you at Guam . . . Ah was glad you could make it . . . No, Ah didn't mind you talking to the press at all . . . Yes, they ran your picture in all the papers . . . Ah'll send you the clips . . . What can Ah do for you, Marshal? . . . You heard about my trip to Punta del Este and you were wondering if you could come along? . . . Well, Ah don't know, Marshal . . . My meeting down there isn't going to have much to do with Vietnam . . . What's that you say? It doesn't matter?"

"YOU'D LIKE to come anyway? . . . Gosh, Marshal, Ah sure would like to have you come, because you add so much to a conference, but Ah'm meeting with the leaders of all the South American countries and they might not understand you showing up there . . . You won't say anything? You'll just observe? . . . That's what you said before you came to Guam. . . . No, Ah'm not mad about your coming to Guam. Ah don't care what the papers wrote . . . Heck, it wouldn't have been the same without you . . . Of course Ah want to see you soon. Ah was just telling Dean Rusk yesterday, 'Ah wonder when we'll see our little friend and partner again.' But Ah feel, as he does, that we should hold off on another meeting for a while, just so that everyone can digest this one.

"YOU SAY YOU still want to come to Punta del Este? . . . You'd like to raise the question again about our bombing Hanol? . . . Ah really don't think that's the place to raise it, Marshal . . . You see, we have problems in South America that have nothing to do with Vietnam . . . Now, Marshal, don't feel that way . . . Ah assure you that you won't lose face with your people if you're not invited to Punta del Este.

"NATURALLY we consider you a full partner and ally, but that's got nothing to do with your being invited to an Alliance for Progress conference in South America . . . Ah understand that, Marshal. We're aware that you're just a little country and we're a big country, and you shouldn't feel that we're going to sell you out just because you are not invited to every conference the United States attends . . . What's that? Ah didn't tell you about the Punta del Este conference at Guam because it hadn't occurred to me you'd be interested in it . . . How can you say Ah was holding out on you? . . . Ah tell you what. As soon as Ah get back from Uruguay Ah'll call you and let you know what happened. Fine, fine. The same to you, Marshal. And give my best to your pacification program."

THE PRESIDENT hangs up. "Whew, that was close. Oh, Marvin, tell the CIA if Premier Ky starts making any inquiries about flights to South America, Ah want to be the first to know about it." (Copyright, 1967, The Washington Post Co.)

'THE CORRUPT ONES' Elke Sommer, Robert Stack

Suspense Thriller Opening At Ritz

The Technicolor suspense-thriller, "The Corrupt Ones," is a spectacle of explosive action, wrapped in sex, mystery and intrigue. The film opens today at the Ritz Theatre.

Robert Stack, Elke Sommer and Nancy Kwan star in the adventure-drama, filmed on location in Macao, the Portuguese colony appended to the Southeast mainland of China; in Hong Kong and in West Berlin.

Centering on the frantic search for a buried treasure, the screenplay, by Brian Clemens, is based on an original story by Ladislav Fodor.

Seventeen unusual sets backstop the intriguing actual locations used in filming "The Corrupt Ones." Included are an Oriental palace, appointed with Ming Dynasty art; an inferno-like nightclub, on two levels; a 100-foot-long gambling boat; crumbling catacombs and the twisting streets and wharfs of Macao.

The cast of "The Corrupt Ones" is international. In addition to Stack, who is American; Miss Sommer, German; and Miss Kwan, Chinese - English, it features Christian Marquand, French; Werner Peters, German; and Marisa Merini, Italian.

Georges Garvarentz composed the musical score for "The Corrupt Ones." The title song, with lyrics by Buddy Kaye, is sung by Dusty Springfield.

Song Writers Provided Happy Tune For Disney

The world is ripe for a new stirring and catchy marching song. And Walt Disney's engrossing drama, "Follow Me, Boys!" starring Fred MacMurray, Vera Miles, Lillian Gish and Charlie Ruggles, has one in its toe-tapping tune composed by the Academy Award - winning team of Richard M. and Robert B. Sherman, who penned the melodies for "Mary Poppins."

The new march, also called "Follow Me, Boys!" sets a lively pace when Fred MacMurray, playing piper to a peppy lot of small-town juveniles, gets them to pay attention and left-right it just as he had done as a soldier in World War I.

This piece for the feet with a beat could well turn out to have the irresistible public appeal that brought tunes to the top like "76 Thombones" or "The Happy Wanderer" or "Marching Along Together." Critics who have listened to it feel this is true.

"Follow Me, Boys!" is the 122nd number that the Shermans have composed for Disney movies and television shows, beginning with their first film assignment, "The Strummin' Song" written for Annette to warble in the TV show, "The Horsemasters," on "Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color" NBC series. The boys also wrote their first big hit, "Tall Paul," that Annette helped make a best selling record.

Disney was so pleased with their work that he set them to writing a ditty for Hayley Mills in "The Parent Trap." Their novelty rock 'n' roll number, "Let's Get Together," was a phenomenal success, and the boys found a steady home at the Disney Studio.

Their latest efforts, that have that "Mary Poppins" winning aura about them, are for the new Disney musical comedy, "The Happiest Millionaire," and will be sung and danced to by no less a cast than Fred MacMurray, Tommy Steele, Greer Garson and Geraldine Page.

'EASY COME, EASY GO' Elvis Presley, Dodi Marshall

First Role As Star With Elvis

There doesn't seem to be any doubt that the next stop for Dodi Marshall, who co-stars with Elvis Presley in "Easy Come, Easy Go," in Technicolor opening Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre, is stardom. "Easy Come, Easy Go" is only her second picture. Her first found her playing the small but memorable role of "the sexiest girl in the world" in "Spinout," also with Elvis. Now she's co-starred. And where else can a girl go but up.

Dodi isn't shy about it either. "I want to be a star," she says, "and I see no reason to conceal it. I want to get to the top of my profession and it's more than just an expression of ego. I have the desire and some of the qualifications and I hope I can acquire the others."

"I wanted to be a movie star way back when I was a kid," the British-born, Philadelphia-raised beauty laughed. "All the little girls I knew wanted to be movie stars. But they quit and I didn't."

Stardom does seem to have been a governing force in Dodi's life. In New York, she took drama lessons by day and singing lessons at night. She put in two years singing in the chorus of "Oliver" on Broadway. She made the gruelling rounds of the little nothing clubs in New York before she made an impression on the more sophisticated audiences. And she wasn't afraid to go out on the road with a couple of shows.

When she moved to Hollywood, she won her role in "Spinout" over 200 other aspirants by making producer Joe Pasternak believe she really was the sexiest girl in the whole world.

When the final scene of that picture called for her to play drums, she refused to fake it. She practiced eight hours a day until she actually could play drums.

She'll probably achieve her ambition. She knows that today her name on a marquee isn't going to sell any tickets. But she is convinced that tomorrow, it will. What's more, she is able to convince others that this is inevitable.

Caine Not Worried About Typecasting

Michael Caine doesn't care how many times he has to play Harry Palmer, the spy character he introduced in "The Ipcress File" and which he repeats in "Funeral in Berlin," in Technicolor and Panavision opening Sunday at the Jet Drive-in.

"I love the character," Caine noted. "And no matter how many times I play Harry Palmer, he's my safety valve. He's the chap who keeps me from being typecast."

"It's just the opposite of what happened to Sean Connery. He played James Bond in his regular style, without any special makeup or costume and that's who he is off screen, too. He had to grow a Clark Gable moustache and do a picture like 'The Hill' to get away from the Bond image."

"But, it's different with me," Caine explained. "I put on eyeglasses and a rumpled suit and I'm Harry Palmer. However, unless I put on those glasses and that suit, I'm Michael Caine. I don't have Sean's problems. My big star character doesn't look like me, he only resembles me. Sean's big star character is Sean. He's stuck with it."

Caine laughed. "There are times when I feel like Superman," he chuckled, "only in reverse."

"I put on the glasses and the suit and I become a working class guy. I take off the glasses and dress according to the role and I become any character I get a chance to play and they don't remind anyone of Harry Palmer."

"For an actor who's spent his whole career trying to become established, trying to get an identity, you couldn't ask for better luck than that. I've gotten my identity and I'm not trapped by it the way so many actors are."

First School Champion Named In Spelling Bee

Kevin Calley, 12-year-old Forsan sixth grader, is first school champion in the Fifth Annual Howard County Spelling Bee to be announced. Young Calley won his title last week noosing out 15-20 classmates, including boys and girls from the sixth, seventh and eighth grades of the Forsan Junior High School.

Mrs. Darlene Eggen, spelling teacher at the Forsan school, has acted as coordinator for the spelling bee championship activities.

Calley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Calley of Chalk. He won his title by spelling "dandelion," which had been missed by 14-year-old James Barnett, eighth grade champion, and then, to clinch his title, Kevin spelled "deceive."

Both he and Barnett, who now becomes the alternate for the school, had eliminated Kay Walraven, 13, a seventh grader who came up third in the elimination to determine the title. Kay, the daughter of Mrs. Norma Walraven, 4012 Vickey, had faltered on the word "courageous."

Barnett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Barnett, 4101 Parkway. Appearance of young Calley at the Howard County Spelling Bee on April 15 will mark the first Forsan delegate in the contest in two years. The school had champions at earlier bees.

Mrs. Eggen said that young Kevin is an able speller and will be capable of making a good showing for himself when he matches his talents against the champions from the schools of Big Spring, Midway and the parochial schools in the city.

Stallings' Gilt Wins Pig Match

Gary Stallings' Sears Foundation gilt will be entered in the district competition at Sweetwater Saturday as the best pig from this county, Paul Gross, county agent, said today.

Stallings' entry was awarded first place by Ed Seay, who judged the gilts at a brief show held in the Howard County fair barn Thursday afternoon.

Bill Parmenter, who has the only Sears boar in the county, will show his pig in that division at Sweetwater.

The winner in the gilt and in the boar division at the district show will receive a cash prize of $30.

In the local show, Phil Parmenter showed the second place gilt; Stephen Ray, third; Mike Bridges, fourth, and Brenda Thompson, fifth.

Capt. Hill Transferred

Capt. Henry C. Hill left Webb AFB Saturday for a Pacific Air Force assignment. Following a leave, the captain will receive additional survival and combat training before reporting to his new duty station early in August.

Capt. Hill came to Webb in 1963 from Tyndall AFB, Fla. He was an instructor pilot in the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron, and then was assigned as a training officer in the 3561st Student Squadron, the position he has held since that time. He has remained active as a behind-the-lines IP in T-37s throughout his Webb tour. He is scheduled for promotion to major July 1.

A native of Milam County, Capt. Hill graduated from Texas A&M in 1956. He entered the Air Force in August, 1956 and began his pilot training in T-34s and T-28s at Spence AB, Moultrie, Ga., and received his wings at Webb in November, 1957. He completed squadron officers' school in 1962.

His other duty stations have included: Limestone, Maine and Itazuke AB, Japan. Active in community affairs, he was named as outstanding Jaycee of the year by the local organization at their "Bosses Night" banquet in 1965. Early this year he was selected outstanding young man of the year at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet. Recently, the captain was selected for inclusion in the Outstanding Young Men of America publication for 1967.

He has served as a local and state Jaycee director, and is immediate past area governor of Toastmasters District 44. Capt. Hill has been a member of the base - community council, a United Fund director, and is past president of the Big Spring A&M Club. He has been a member of Air Force Association.

Deadline Extended For Selecting School Champs

By SAM BLACKBURN
Big Spring elementary and junior high schools have been given three extra days to determine their spelling bee champions, Keith Swim, spelling bee coordinator, said Saturday.

The champions of the schools will compete here April 15 in the Fifth Annual Howard County Spelling Bee, sponsored by the Big Spring Herald.

It had been announced earlier the schools in the city would have to have selected their champions by April 4. Due to the long Easter holiday this past month, it has been requested by the principals that the date be extended to April 7.

Meantime, Forsan has selected its champion. He is Kevin Calley, 12-year-old sixth grader.

Announcement was also made Saturday that the three judges who are to preside at the bee have been appointed. They are Col. George Franks of Webb AFB; Roger Brown, attorney and former state legislator, and Bill Johnson, president of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club.

Mrs. O. T. Brewster, with the Big Spring High School faculty, is to be the official pronouncer. She served in that role in the 1966 spelling bee.

The bee will be held in the Howard County Junior College science building lecture room starting at 10 a.m. April 15.

The winner will be presented with a plaque inscribed with his name and the recital of his accomplishment. He will win a free trip to Lubbock April 29 and the right to compete in the regional spelling bee. Should he win this bee, he gets an all-expense trip to Washington in June and a chance at the national title. At Lubbock, the champion will spell against the
