

South Texas Smashups Help Hike State's Violent Toll To 40

By The Associated Press
Two separate traffic accidents in South Texas that killed 13 persons sent the state's violent death toll soaring to one of the highest totals in weeks.

An Associated Press count from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday showed 40 violent deaths, 27 in traffic.

A smashup between two automobiles near Taft in South Texas killed seven persons, including five young San Antonio residents and a couple from Taft, which is in the Corpus Christi area of South Texas.

Gunmen Gulp, Flee In Hurry
PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Two men walked into a small neighborhood grocery store in Pittsburgh's Beltzhoover section Sunday and approached Margaret Kubisiak, 61, alone behind the counter.

"Do you wish to be waited on?" asked Mrs. Kubisiak. One man pulled out a pistol. "No," he said, "I want money." "No," replied Mrs. Kubisiak. "I'm not fooling," he said. "Neither am I." "I've got a gun." "So do I," she said, and pointed a tear-gas pellet gun at the man. He and his companion left. "I don't care for that type," said Mrs. Kubisiak later.

Hometown Honors Ex-Wood Seller
WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Army Spec. 6 Lawrence Joel, who grew up in Winston-Salem selling firewood to slum area housewives, was honored by his hometown with a parade Saturday.

An estimated 30,000 persons turned out to watch the Medal of Honor winner in a parade of high school bands, units from Ft. Bragg and reserve outfits. The Negro soldier wore around his neck the nation's highest honor for bravery in combat which he won for treating wounded comrades when Viet Cong attacked his unit Nov. 8, 1965.

HEAD-ON CRASH
An automobile and a small van-type vehicle crashed head-on on a farm road at Kirbyville in Southeast Texas, north of Beaumont, killing five Orange residents and approaching Margareta Kubisiak, 61, alone behind the counter.

The dead at Kirbyville included William B. Atkinson, 30, the van driver; Essie L. Berry, 46; Betty Atkinson, 29; Thomas Atkinson, 1; James Howe, 6, all of Orange, and Robert Wayne Johnson, 29, of Kirbyville, who was a passenger in the car.

Judging Team Wins First

By EUNICE STEPHENSON
STANTON — Members of the FFA Range Judging Team won first place in the Sul Ross College Judging Contest April 1 at Alpine. The team, consisting of Donnie Jones, Claude Straub, Gayland Pittman, and David Adkins, is their second consecutive win. Donnie Jones was named high individual for the contest and received a plaque and a watch. Claude Straub was third high individual. Jimmy Louder ranked fourth high out of a group of 80. The wool judging team placed sixth at Marfa and also at the Sul Ross contest.

Last week was National FHA Week. In order to celebrate this week Monday through Friday each FHA girl wore something to explain a little more about the Future Homemakers program. Monday the girls wore tags shaped as apples with the project "Good Health — A Valuable Asset" written on them. Tuesday was "Stay in School," and the girls wore little diplomas with the name of the project on them. Wednesday paper money was worn with "Make Your Money Behave" as the project. Thursday was designated as "Good Family Relations Through Communications" and girls wore tags shaped as telephones. Friday was color day and small red and white ribbons were worn.

Tuesday the drama class went to Post to enter the Interscholastic League Contest. Five teams were entered from Post, Denver City, Freriship, Slaton and Stanton. Stanton placed third with the play "The Purple Doorknob." The cast consisted of Beverly Clements, Sherry Vest and Eunice Stephenson. Becky Long, Alma Mashburn and Anna Thompson also attended. Mr. Don Youngblood was the sponsor.

DECKHAND MISSING
Paul Levi Chessir, 23, and Howard Homer Hart, 43, were killed Saturday east of Freeport on Texas 332 in the collision of three cars.

GIRL ASSAULTED
The dead were Lorenzo Garcia, 44, and his wife, Audella Pena Garcia, both of Taft; and five San Antonio youths in the second car. James Dear Keoughan, 20; David Arthur Rocks, 21; Louis A. Williams, 19; Roberta Knoeller, 18, and Gloria Ann Draper, 18.

Review Board Recommends Big Overhaul Of Apollo Spacecraft

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's man-to-the-moon program faced further delay today to allow time to overcome workmanship and management deficiencies revealed in a blue-ribbon board's final report on the spacecraft fire that killed three U.S. astronauts.

The eight-man board which spent seven weeks in an exhaustive investigation of the Apollo 1 tragedy said it uncovered "many deficiencies in design and engineering, manufacture and quality control."

TAKE TIME
The report recommended a major overhaul of Apollo spacecraft, including a quick-escape hatch, fewer combustible items inside the moonship, and a review of components in Apollo electrical, communications and life-support systems.

House and Senate Space Committee members said the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and its contractors should take time to correct the ills.

"These deficiencies must be catalogued and corrected and an electrical arc is a band of must not be repeated," said Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., chairman of the Senate Aeronautics and Space Science Committee.

CARELESSNESS
Rep. Olin E. Teague, D-Tex., whose subcommittee on NASA oversight begins its own Apollo 1 investigation today, said "there were all kinds of carelessness, and some of it was unbelievable."

The Apollo 1 board-of-review said in its final report released Sunday that a bruised or broken wire most likely sparked the blaze that killed Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee in a launch pad test Jan. 27.

While "no single ignition source could be conclusively identified," the report said the probable cause was either an electrical arc or short circuit in "DC (direct current) wiring ... providing power to environmental control system instrumentation."

POORLY DESIGNED
An electrical arc is a band of sparks between two closely placed electrical sources, such as open ends of a broken or bruised wire.

In its 3,000-page final report, the board said the fire is believed to have started in the left-hand equipment bay, beneath Grissom's couch, where the suspected wiring was located.

The board, headed by Dr. Floyd L. Thompson of NASA's Langley Research Center, said it found numerous examples of spacecraft wiring which had been poorly designed and installed in Apollo 1.

PHOTO RELEASED
The board released a picture showing a wrench socket that had been inadvertently left wedged among several cables in the area where the fire is believed to have started. The board did not link the socket to the blaze, however.

It also said no evidence was discovered that suggested sabotage.

"Deficiencies in design, manufacture, installation, rework and quality control existed in the electrical wiring," the board said.

Components in the life-supporting environmental control system — which provided the astronauts with oxygen — "had a history of many removals and of technical difficulties," the board observed.

HAZARD
Deficiencies in these spacecraft systems "created a hazardous condition and their continuation would imperil any future Apollo operations," the report stated.

Conditions cited by the board which contributed to the fire included a sealed cabin pressurized with 100 per cent oxygen, extensive distribution of combustible materials, vulnerable wiring carrying spacecraft power, and vulnerable plumbing carrying a combustible and corrosive coolant.

The board also cited inadequate provisions for the crew to escape, and inadequate provisions for rescue or medical assistance on the launch pad.

POWER-FAILURE
Re-creating the tragedy, the board said instruments disclosed a momentary power failure at 6:30:55 p.m. — nine seconds before the first cry of fire — and said an electrical arc may have been created at this time, shooting sparks into combustible material beneath Grissom's couch.

In an interpretation of a tape recording of the astronauts' voices — released for the first time in the report — the first alert came from Grissom. "Hey!" or "Fire!" listeners believed Grissom said.

Two seconds later, there was an unclear word such as "I've" or "We've," believed spoken by Chaffee. The remainder of Chaffee's report is clear and reads: "got a fire in the cockpit."

"LET'S GET OUT"
Then came a 6.8-second period of no transmission, followed by a 13-second garbled tape interpreted in several ways:

"They're fighting a bad fire. Let's get out... Open 'er up! We've got a bad fire. Let's get out... We're burning up. I'm reporting a bad fire... I'm getting out."

Seventeen seconds after the initial report, communications from Apollo 1 ended.

The official cause of death was listed as "asphyxia due to inhalation of toxic gases due to fire," specifically carbon monoxide. Burns were a "contributory cause," the board's medical panel said.

"It may be concluded that death occurred rapidly and that unconsciousness preceded death by some increment of time," the panel added.

Grissom was unable to do one of his first duties in such an emergency, push a handle to depressurize the cabin, the board said, because flames had engulfed the area of the handle.

Depressurization takes 20 seconds, however, and would not have saved the astronauts even if Grissom had thrown the switch, the board said.

Flames swept swiftly through the cabin, licking up nylon netting, padding and adhesive fasteners throughout the craft.

INTENSE HEAT
It burned into plumbing carrying highly combustible alcohol in Apollo 1's cooling system, building up heat so intense the spacecraft's pressure seal burst.

The review board said consideration should be given to using an air-like atmosphere during ground tests, but made no recommendation to change present-plans to use a pure oxygen atmosphere in space, where the fire hazard is much less.

The space agency already has started building a new type of hatch that can be opened in two seconds. The Apollo 1 crew could not have opened the hatch in less than 90 seconds.

SLOPPY WORK
Witnesses appearing in the board's investigation told of instances of sloppy workmanship and poor management within NASA; North American Aviation, Inc., prime spacecraft contractor, and subcontractors.

The board's report said established requirements were not followed prior to certain tests, noncertified equipment was installed in the spacecraft, and discrepancies existed between North American and NASA regarding inclusion and positioning of flammable materials.

"Every effort must be made to insure the maximum clarification and understanding of the responsibilities of all the organizations involved," the review board report concluded, "the objective being a fully coordinated and efficient program."

Auto Deaths Up

AUSTIN (AP)—Auto accidents have killed 712 persons in Texas this year, compared to 680 at the same time last year, state police said Saturday.

A total of 590 fatal accidents have occurred in 1967, an increase of 16.

Canadian Poet Dies

TORONTO (AP) — Wilson Macdonald, considered by some critics as Canada's greatest poet, died Saturday in a Toronto hospital. He was 85. He wrote and published many volumes of poetry. The Wilson Macdonald Poetry Society was named for him.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

Sec. B Big Spring, Texas, Mon., April 10, 1967 Sec. B

Senators Renew Tax Break Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leaders renew this week their attempt to win passage of the bill urgently sought by President Johnson to restore key business tax incentives.

But, after a week's acrimonious debate, they still have not solved their major problem — how to defeat a rider which would aid election campaign financing.

Neither Senate nor House planned much business today because of the baseball season opener between the Washington Senators and New York Yankees.

The campaign financing plan, endorsed by Johnson when it was enacted last year, could make available $30 million each in federal funds to the Democratic and Republican parties in 1968. Each income taxpayer could divert $1 to the fund.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., joined by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and most Republican senators, is leading a fight to kill the plan by an amendment to the tax bill.

Gore insists he has the votes. The plan's backers appeared to be conceding this with a series of delaying moves to prevent any tests of strength last week.

NO COMMITMENTS

Sen. Russell B. Long, chief sponsor of the plan, said there was a possibility of votes this week but made no commitments.

Those fighting the repeal move were understood to be placing their hopes on pressure from businessmen for a shelving of the repealer because it was blocking quick action on the tax bill.

The incentives to be restored by the tax measure include the 7 per cent investment credit on machinery and equipment, and accelerated depreciation on income-producing buildings.

Democratic leaders said they might put aside the tax bill to take up an Appalachian development bill which is ready for debate.

TRUTH TEST

The Senate Banking Committee opens public hearings Thursday on another controversial piece of legislation — the truth-in-lending bill.

The House Ways and Means Committee continues Tuesday its hearings on the bill to increase Social Security benefits and taxes.

Scheduled for introduction today is the administration's request for $2.06 billion to continue its antipoverty program.

An Associated Press survey reaching 53 of the 59 freshman House Republicans shows the antipoverty program and other Johnson domestic proposals could face trouble. All but three of the 59 replaced Democrats — most of whom had favored Johnson's programs, some of which narrowly passed.

Wild Weather Dots Texas; Twister Hits

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms swept North Central Texas ahead of a sluggish cold front today in the wake of a wild afternoon and night of severe weather in the Vernon area in which a tornado was sighted.

Mr. and Mrs. Audrey K. Coker, who live north of Vernon said the twister tore the tin roof off their barn and hurled it 200 feet.

"It was close enough that we didn't make it to the cellar," said Mrs. Coker. "Nobody got hurt."

Mrs. Coker said the tornado hit about 3:30 p.m. Sunday and heavy rain pounded the area. Coker estimated about two inches of rain soaked the ground.

Mrs. Coker said the tornado brushed by their home and "tore a screen door off."

The front stretched across Texas from near Lake Texoma to the New Mexico border near Hobbs. The Weather Bureau said the front should move in the eastern sector, but remain stationary in West Texas.

The forecast called for thundershowers today and tonight over north and West Texas with cooler readings along the Red River and continued warm elsewhere.

Radar was picking up thundershowers early today in the Wichita Falls area stretching all the way to Ardmore, Okla.

No general relief was in sight for the deepening Texas drought. However, a five-day forecast indicates the state may get some needed moisture, particularly in North Central, Northeast, and Southeast Texas.

Presidio again was the state and the nation's hotspot Sunday with 99 degrees as the summer-like heat wave continued.

Hayden Eyes Senate Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — When friends ask Sen. Carl Hayden, who will be 90 next October, if he plans to run for a new Senate term next year the Arizona Democrat's answer is: "Why not?"

Hayden, who first came to Congress in 1912 and has served longer than any man in history, said in an interview that while he can't foresee future events, he knows of no reason to retire.

"A lot of my friends are telling me I ought to run again and I say, why not?" he said.

Hayden said that if he decides to bid for an eighth six-year elective term, he expects former Sen. Barry Goldwater to be his Republican opponent.

"Barry wants to come back to the Senate very much and I expect he will run," Hayden said.

HOT AND COLD

Since his defeat for the presidency in 1964, Goldwater has blown hot and cold about the idea of opposing Hayden, a longtime family friend. He first indicated that he wouldn't do it but lately has swung around to the position that he will.

Goldwater carried Arizona against President Johnson in 1964 by about 4,700 out of 480,000 votes. But few local politicians are willing to bet that he can defeat Hayden, despite the latter's age and sometimes uncertain health.

In the past, Goldwater has tried to discourage local Republicans from entering candidates against the veteran Democrat. The friendship of their families, dating back to pioneer days, has remained warm despite political differences.

Since he read in a Cleveland, Ohio, newspaper in 1912 a statement by then President William Howard Taft about the probability that Arizona would become a state, Hayden has been a champion votegetter.

BREAK HELPS

He recalled that he laid down the newspaper and said to his wife, "I believe I'll go home and run for Congress." Her reply was: "that's awfully presumptuous of you."

Arizona was admitted to the Union on Feb. 14, 1912 and Hayden was elected to the 62nd Congress. He was re-elected to seven succeeding Congresses and served from Feb. 19, 1912, to March 3, 1927. He was elected to the Senate in 1926 for the term beginning March 4, 1927.

When he took his place in the Senate March 4, 1927, Hayden was assigned within a week to the Appropriations Committee. Few fledgling senators get such a break and Hayden made the most of it.

As a member and long-time chairman of that powerful committee Hayden has seen to it that Arizona got its good share of the federal projects it needed for a place in the sun.

Will Arizona voters remember this, if he runs again? They always have in the past.

It Must Be Spring

Despite temperatures in the forties, college students from the Boston area romped in the cool waters of the Frog Pond on Boston Common in what they called a "Love In."

crowd of some 700 gathered to observe the demonstration that was not protesting anything. The young people explained they were just trying to say "we want to love people."

Ex-Rio Chief Faces 90 Raps

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Juscelino Kubitschek, president from 1956 to 1961, returned to Brazil Sunday after three years' self-imposed exile to face about 90 charges of corruption.

He left in 1964 after the military government of former President Humberto Castello Branco stripped him of his political rights for 10 years. He was then a senator and considered a candidate for the presidency again.

A representative of Kubitschek said 90 per cent of the charges against him were "totally unfounded" and the rest are "easily answerable." The former president had been living in Portugal and New York.

'Virginia Woolf' To Grab Awards?

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The 39th annual Academy Award contest approached its climax tonight with "A Man for All Seasons" and "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" as the favorites to win.

Although "Virginia Woolf" scored 13 nominations, "A Man for All Seasons" appeared to have a slight edge to dominate the ceremonies at Santa Monica Civic Auditorium. The pageant of Sir Thomas More's martyrdom was nominated in eight categories.

Television broadcast depended on settlement of the performers' strike against the TV networks.

Although negotiators announced a tentative agreement in the performers' strike against the television networks early today, TV broadcast depended on ratification of the agreement.

2,500 GUESTS A source close to the union said: "Indications are that the Oscars on ABC-TV will be permitted to go if the tentative strike settlement is approved by the AFTRA national board. If it does not approve it, the strike will go on, but the Oscar show will not."

A continuation of the strike would reduce the audience from an anticipated 70 million TV viewers to 2,500 guests at Santa Monica Civic Auditorium.

DROPOUT The contest for best actor seemed almost neck-and-neck between Richard Burton of "Virginia Woolf" and Paul Scofield of "A Man for All Seasons" with the latter favored. Scofield came here from England for tonight's affair; Burton remained on a film location at Nice, France.

Burton's costar, Elizabeth Taylor, appeared to have a good chance to win her second Oscar. She was a last-minute dropout for the ceremonies, declining to leave her husband. Her principal competition, Lynn Redgrave ("Georgy Girl"), arrived from New York where she is appearing in "Black Comedy." She is a house guest of her sister, Vanessa, nominated for "Morgan."

"ALFIE" Nearly all the acting contenders except Burton, Miss Taylor and Michael Caine ("Alfie") are expected to be in the audience for the ceremonies.

The cast of the extravaganza rehearsed with television cameras through the weekend on a waiver from the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists.

Rodeo Parade Contest Set

The Big Spring Rodeo Association is offering a total of $100 in prizes ($50 for first; $30 for second; and $20 for third place winners) in the Rodeo Parade Float Contest, to be staged June 21, at 4 p.m.

"Rodeos are the last frontier of the 'Old West' era type of sport and entertainment, and we are making a special effort to maintain that heritage," said Malcolm Patterson, parade marshal.

One of the most important ingredients of a successful rodeo season is a big and colorful parade, and all clubs and organizations in Howard County are invited to enter to make it a community event.

All local organizations are urged to enter some type of float, preferably with a "Western flavor." No entry fee is required.

Tickets On Sale

The Altrusa Club Golden Anniversary dinner, slated Tuesday evening at Big Spring Country Club, is open to the public. Tickets may be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce offices or Hemphill-Wells Company.
