Election Contest Suit To Be Heard This Week

The much debated question of whether Ray Nichols or Winston Wrinkle should be County Commissioner Precinct No. 2 will probably be settled by the end of this week.

Judge Austin McCloud, 32nd Judicial District, will be in Howard County Wednesday and Thursday to preside over the election contest brought by Wrinkle, the Republican candidate for the commission post in last November's election.

DISQUALIFIED
Judge McCloud of Colorado

City, is sitting in the case for Judge Ralph M. Caton, 118th District Court, who disqualified himself from hearing the contest.

The suit stems from the outcome of the election in which Nichols, the Democratic incumbent, was opposed by Wrinkle, the Republican nominee.

In the returns as certified by the county commissioners court, Nichols won by eight votes.

In the vote canvass, a check of the votes cast in election Box No. 2 — the major center of contention in the current con-

Nichols was the victor, he will be relieved of the bond and allowed to continue in his seat at the commissioners court for the three and three-quarters years remaining of his new term.

Should Wrinkle be found to be the duly elected commissioner, he can recover from Nichols all salaries and compensation that the latter has received since Jan. 1. And Wrinkle would then take his seat at the commission table — the first Republican County Commissioner in the history of this county.

No More Interest Due For Postal Savings

Effective next Thursday, 81 local men and women who have U.S. Postal Savings Certificates against accounts in the Big Spring Post Office, will no longer be paid any interest on their money. The 81 depositors have $2,846 on account in the post office, according to Frank Hardesty, postmaster.

As of April 27, a year ago, the postal savings program was discontinued and the postal authorities began a campaign to close out all existing accounts. No more deposits were accepted after that date by the local post office. Certificates with anniversary dates reached since last April 26 have now earned their final interest payments.

Hardesty said that on June 30, all remaining funds in the postal savings program will be turned over to the U.S. Treasury to be held in trust until the funds are liquidated. As of this time, the U.S. Post Office department has more than $900,000,000 in funds of the obsolete program. Congress discontinued the savings program March 23, 1966.

Extradition Papers Faulty

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The office of Gov. James A. Rhodes Friday said it will return Gordon Novel's extradition papers to Louisiana because "there are certain technicalities which do not comply with the law."

John McElroy, administrative assistant to Rhodes, said the papers would be returned with a request that certain technical defects be corrected. He did not elaborate.

Novel, who was arrested in suburban Gahanna April 1, is wanted as a material witness in New Orleans in Dist. Atty. James Garrison's investigation into the Kennedy assassination.

Novel is charged specifically with conspiracy to commit burglary at Houma, La.

Miss Wool Finalists Selected

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—Fifteen finalists have been selected in the 16th annual Miss Wool of Texas and will vie for the title in Dallas, May 26-29.

The Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association sponsors the pageant, this year in conjunction with the annual fall-winter apparel market in Dallas.

Seventy girls entered the contest. The reigning queen, Patricia Vincent of San Antonio, will represent Texas in the 1967 Miss Wool of America pageant June 30 in San Angelo.

SPELLING BEE

Champ Goes To Regional Meet

David Roberson, Howard County's 1967 spelling champion, has just one more week to cram in preparation for his appearance in the Regional Spelling Bee at Lubbock, Saturday.

Roberson will test his skill as a speller against the talent of champions from 21 other West Texas counties.

DAVID ROBESON
Spelling Champ

Young Roberson, 13, is in the seventh grade at Goliad Junior High School and is the son of Capt. and Mrs. John H. Roberson, 4006 Dixon.

He won his right to try for the regional title April 15 by defeating 18 school champions in the Howard County Spelling Bee.

At Lubbock, if he wins, he will get a free trip to Washington, D. C., in June and a chance to try for the National Spelling Bee Championship. A large number of other important prizes await the top spellers at the national.

A victory at Lubbock would also give David a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica, a copy of the Encyclopedia Americana, a Paper-Mate Capri pencil and pen set, and possession for one year of a special revolving plaque awarded annually to the champion at the regional level.

Should he wind up in second place, he will get a cash prize of $20. Third place is worth $15, fourth $10 and fifth $5. Each of the spellers at Lubbock, who places in second through the sixth place, will receive copies of the Lincoln Library of Essential Information.

David is a veteran at spelling. He was the Marcy champion last year, and moving on to Goliad, repeated again — displacing Scott McLaughlin who had been county title holder in 1966.

David was born in Long Island, N. Y. He is the oldest child of the Robersons. His father is an instructor pilot at Webb AFB and the family has lived here 3 1/2 years. David has four brothers and a sister, all younger than himself.

He is an avid reader, a good student in school, and he also makes model airplanes. In addition to his other interests, he is an expert marksman and only a week ago won third place in a rifle shoot against tough competition.

He and his family will go to Lubbock next Saturday.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day when you'd best restily live the Golden Rule or you can get yourself into considerable difficulty and be obliged to retract much of what you have done. Otherwise, you might cause a separation from those you really make the most to you. Be charming.
ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Be careful you do not fall into a trap or promise you have made or put an argument. Show that you are ready to be depended upon. Show gentility in personal matters and avoid trouble that could be avoided.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): You have many duties to perform today, but are not to throw them off on the heavy shoulders of others by being careless. Be more diplomatic and you get assistance. Improve your health by right treatments. Associate with those individuals who are truly your firm friends and be happy.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Kin desire you to carry through with what they have in mind. It would be a good idea as it would avoid strife. An argument could prove to be very serious. Make this a happy day and evening.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Get busy planning ways which you can increase income, but don't be demanding with others or expect what they have to bring. Be more economical. Even though you feel you can afford extravagance, it is not merely right, however, you feel rather tired. Be content, collect and do not complain.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Plan to try to rid yourself of personal peculiarities that are very annoying. Don't argue with loved one over an emotional matter. Fight fire with fire. Think and know that actions speak louder.SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Try not to burden others with your problems, now, since they are already loaded down with their own. Be more self-reliant. Take your own medicine with much enthusiasm and it is easy, all works out fine.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Take all precaution not to oppose a powerful individual today, since you can expect no aid from others in such case. Act circumspectly so that others have nothing to talk about. Think before you speak.AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Your ideas are not very practical right now, so stick to whatever is orthodox and more workable in the past; this includes religion. Don't argue with a "cold" contact over some point at which you do not agree.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): Your feelings are very accurate and true right now, so be careful or you get yourself into a good deal of trouble. Show friends you are thoughtful and heavy with their affection. Give mate some love and attention.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY: he, or she, will be one of those...enthusiasm youngsters who feels he has to cover the favor of others early to gain things, but could be going after the wrong ones and get into trouble. Dear Abby
Forget Reluctant Lover

DEAR ABBY: I am 50 years old and have had my eye on this married man of 45 for more than five years. I have been married 24 years and my children are grown and married.

My husband works nights and I get tired looking at the four walls practically all the time. About three years ago I called up this man to come and see me when I'm all alone. He's real nice looking and dresses up so nice and talks sweet, too. Well, at first he seemed to like me, and he'd come over about three times a week. Then all of a sudden he always had an excuse why he couldn't make it. He works at a garage and he would tell the guys to tell me he wasn't there when I called.

I finally got so mad at him I called up his wife and told her all about us. She said, "You aren't the first one and you won't be the last" and hung up on me.

I just can't forget this man, Abby. How can I get him back? CRAZY FOR HIM
 DEAR CRAZY: You can't, so you had better try to forget him. And quit calling him! You long as he didn't object to her wearing glasses she shouldn't have bothered with contacts. Her "sudden vanity" made him suspicious. Well, may I say that contact lenses are not worn only as a cosmetic aid? They act as a "girdle" to the eye and keep the vision from worsening as quickly as it would have without lenses. Before I got my contacts I had my glasses' prescription changed three times in 18 months.

I've been wearing contacts for nearly five years and I haven't had the prescription changed once! And my vision is far better now than it ever was with glasses.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Bobble Helps Giants Shade Braves, 6-5

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Shortstop Denis Menke bobbed Willie McCovey's bases-loaded grounder in the ninth inning, giving the San Francisco Giants a 6-5 victory over Atlanta Saturday that snapped the Braves' winning string at five games.

Menke's decisive error followed a wild pitch by reliever Jay Ritchie that allowed the tying run to score.

Jesus Alou led off the Giants' ninth with a single off Clay Carroll, the fourth Atlanta pitcher, and pinch hitter Billy Sorrell sacrificed. Carroll hit Tom Haller with a pitch and walked Norm Siebern, loading the bases. Ritchie came on and retired Tito Fuentes before wild-pitching the tying run across with Ken Henderson at bat. Henderson then walked, refilling the bases and bringing up McCovey, who had belted a grand-slam homer in the eighth. Cleve Boyer's two-run homer off reliever Lindy McDaniel in the top of the ninth had given the Braves a 5-4 lead.

The players are Danny Abbott, Jim Williamson, Jim Graham, Dickie Johnston and Glen Booher.

DeVincenzo Overtakes Brewer With Hot 64

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) - Roberto DeVincenzo, a gay caballero of the pampas, used wet greens for a sensational iron and putting performance Saturday, and a six-under-par 64 shot him into the lead by a stroke in the $100,000 Greater Dallas Open Golf Tournament.

DeVincenzo, defending champion here, had 134 for 36 holes, replacing the first round leader, Gay Brewer of Dallas, the Masters champion, who took a 71 for 135. Bob Goaly fired a 66 and also had 135. The aging but vigorous visitor from the Argentine, winning more tournaments than any man in golf and in more countries, said the greens on the 6,777-yard Oak Cliff Country Club course, still wet from the rain that caused postponement of the second round Friday, were to his liking.

He needed only 28 putts as he banged them in from four to 12 feet on seven holes. He had one bogey when he was in a creek at the 10th hole.

Belfary hit a bases-empty homer in the seventh inning and capped the Orioles' four-run eighth with a two-run blast.

Snyder, replacing slumping Paul Blair, smacked a two-run homer in the third inning off loser John Odom.

Held, starting for injured Dave Johnson, cleared the bases with a fifth-inning double after a walk to Belfary forced in the first run of the inning.

Frank Robinson also hit a solo homer for the Orioles and John Powell lashed a two-run single.

DELIVERS BIG BALL 71-5 1/2 AT A&M

Randy Matson Breaks Own Mark In Shot Put

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) - Randy Matson broke his own world record when he put the shot 71 feet 5 1/2 inches here Saturday in a triangular field meet between Texas A&M, Baylor and Texas Tech.

The huge Aggie set his previous mark of 70 feet, 7 1/2 inches here in 1965 during a Southwest Conference track and field meet.

The throw came on the day the university had proclaimed "Randy Matson Day" with mayors of both College Station and nearby Bryan participating.

Matson tore to shambles the onetime shotput goal of 60 feet. In his last 77 meets, he has surpassed 60 feet, and in 31 of those appearances, he has thrown 60 feet or better. He has bettered 70 feet six times.

This was his last home appearance in a track and field meet. Matson is 6 feet 6 1/2 inches and weighs 263 pounds.

Authorities already were seeking an official record designation for the 70 feet 7 1/2 inches he threw the shot in Dallas in February in an indoor meet. He used an outdoor shot for that throw.

After Saturday's effort, Matson said, "I experienced more pressure going into this meet than at any time since the Olympics." The reason was that the day had been dedicated to him and a comparatively good crowd of 2,000 already had turned out for the first event of the meet.

In practice throws, he reached 68 and 69 feet and said "I really didn't feel that good or that strong" to better a record, although he said he felt fine. He said he has felt better in previous warmups.

GYMNASTIC STAR ON THE RINGS
Big Spring's Bill Hembree

Local Man Genuine Gymnastics Champ

By NATE MITCHELL

If you were to ask the first ten sports buffs to pass a street corner a question about the sport of gymnastics, perhaps two of these would know (or care) enough about this sport to discuss it intelligently. Of these varied replies, the most common would be, "Well, gymnastics is a fine sport. I like to watch it, but . . ."

Unlike football, baseball, basketball — any of the "ball" sports; swimming, tennis, and track — field contests, gymnastics isn't yet exactly a household word in American sports. Perhaps the greatest drawback is the consensus that it is either too difficult to master, or too easy. Thus, All-American gridsters become thrust into the immortality of sportsdom, while their peers in gymnastics are afforded only a "no-hum" type of recognition.

When Bill Hembree enrolled at Baylor University nine years ago, he, too, was unaware of what the sport of gymnastics was all about. It was after he'd seen a demonstration by the school's gymnastics coach, Gene Kirkins, that Bill Hembree became interested in the sport.

LONG PRACTICE
Immediately, Bill went to work. He spent an average of four hours per day; six days each week—working out and practicing. Of the six events which comprise the Olympics standards of the sport — rings, parallel bars, side horse, long horse vault, horizontal bars, and free exercise—Bill went on to become best with the rings and parallel bars.

At Baylor, Hembree found that gymnastics wasn't the most popular sport on the campus. Hardly anyone seemed interested in it. The school had no organized team, and the job of getting gymnasts out for a practice session was a difficult one. To make matters worse, the coach soon departed for greener pastures, and Bill's career in the sport seemed almost aborted. He managed to win a few meets, but he still had not reached his peak.

It wasn't until he arrived at the University of Texas for his post-graduate work that his career got the "shot in the arm" it needed. Coached by Jamile Ashmore, a student of the great Tom Maloney of West Point, and Gold Medal winner in the Pan-American Games, Coach Ashmore's guidance got Bill's morale off the ground and his confidence sky-high. "I learned more from Jamile Ashmore in one year than all of the other time combined," Bill recalled. "I'd say conservatively that he improved me 300 per cent."

Later, Ashmore tried to persuade Bill to be one of the U.S.'s representatives in the Pan American Games, but other commitments prevented this. With the exception of 1962, Hembree dominated the Southwestern AAU championships in his specialties — rings and parallel bars — from 1961 to 1966. Over that same span of years, he ran up an impressive record at the Gulf AAU Championships.

CLAIMED FIRSTS
In 1961, he copped first on the parallel bars at the SW AAU meet, and two years later took first on rings there, and later first on rings, parallel bars, and all-around at the Gulf AAU meet.

In 1964 he had a busy season, grabbing firsts on rings, long horse vault, and all-around at SW AAU; then firsts on rings, high bar and side horse at the Gulf meet.

He managed first place in ishes again on rings at the SW AAU get-together in 1965, and that same year took post positions on rings and all-around at the Gulf title trials.

Rounding out his competing in the two regional championship meets in 1966, Bill captured firsts on rings and parallel bars at both the SW and Gulf meets, and top prize for the all-around event at the Gulf meet.

Also in 1966, he swept five out of six firsts at the Midland YMCA Invitational Meet and first on the parallel bars at the Southern USGF championships.

To round out his collegiate career, he was awarded the Most Valuable Gymnast trophy

REFLECTIVE MOOD
Bill Hembree

from the University of Texas for 1965-66.

MUST BE VERSATILE
In order to compete in the Olympics and other international meets, the gymnast must be proficient in all six phases of gymnastics. Unfortunately, most American gymnasts are specialists — mastering only one or two of the six. "If we were allowed to compete as specialists," Bill Hembree says, "we'd dominate the sport every year." Currently there are roughly a half dozen top all-around gymnasts in the U.S. Penn State's Cohn and Isabel; New Mexico's Mitchell; and UCLA's Sakimoto, who represented the U.S. in the 1964 Olympics, are some of these.

Of the lot, Hembree gives the nod to Sakimoto: "The kid came in 20th at the Olympics — his first international competitions. Considering he'd been at it for only a short time, that's quite an achievement."

Recently, Bill and another Big Spring, Pete Bauer, competed at a gymnastic meet at Odessa. There were four colleges participating, and each boasted a team of ten to twelve participants. At meet's end, Hembree and Bauer had amassed more total points than the colleges of Sam Houston, Abilene Christian, Odessa, and Eastern New Mexico combined.

The first place trophy for that meet is currently on display at the local YMCA — of which everyone is very proud.

Many Stables Seek Space At Ruidoso

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N. M. — A. C. Kemp, Ruidoso Downs Racing Secretary, states that over a hundred stables from throughout the nation have already made application for stall space at Ruidoso Downs for the 1967 season. The stable area gates, Kemp says, opened to horsemen last Thursday.

Some 50 major stables will be arriving from Sunland Park as its 10th season of racing closes on May 14th.

The Ruidoso Downs official, considered one of the best racing secretaries in the country for quarter horses and Thoroughbreds alike, declares that the list of trainers asking for stall reservations, is expected to reach beyond the 175 mark with last season's leading trainer, Bob Arnett, scheduling room for some 30 head of his top contenders.

Another potent stable heading to Ruidoso Downs is that of Paul Smith. Paul has a vast following of fans and his 40 head of good runners will surely score him among the list of top trainers for the 1967 season. Paul Smith was third ranking trainer at Ruidoso Downs during the 1966 meet.

Crack stable chiefs making early reservations at Ruidoso Downs are John McCaslin, second leading trainer for 1966, Joe Welch, Ted Wells, Joe Bassett, Bailey Bond and Clayton Toliver, to name but a few.

Ruidoso Downs opens its gates to 49 days of summer racing on May 27th, continuing every Friday, Saturday, Sunday and holiday through Labor Day. Post time will be 1:30 p.m.

All-Star Cager Houston Bound

HOUSTON (AP) — University of Houston basketball coach Guy Lewis signed Bob Hall, all-star player from Houston Bellaire High School, to a grant-in-aid Saturday.

Lewis said "Without a doubt, Bob is the most outstanding basketball player in the State of Texas."

He said the 6-foot-9, 215-pound Hall is "the finest forward prospect to come along in years."

Hall led Bellaire to its second straight Zone I title and a berth in the 9-AAAA playoffs last season. He was second in the city in over-all scoring with 824 points and made 27.5 points average per game.

HCJC Hawks Finish Second To Odessa

HOBBS, N. M. — Howard County Junior College finished second to Odessa College in a six-way track and field meet here Friday night, scoring 72 points to 95 for the pace-setting Wranglers.

Cisco was a distant third with 51 points while Lubbock Christian wound up fourth with 37.

HCJC captured first places in both the 100 and 200, 440-yard dash and the high hurdles.

Jimmy Jasper, star sprinter for HCJC, copped the 100 in 9.8 but pulled up lame in the 200 and had to quit. The blue ribbon in that event was won by Jasper's teammate, Linwood Wright, who was timed in 21.5. Claude Couch of HC won the high hurdles in 15 seconds flat while Bob Lindsey of the Jayhawks earned a first place in the quarter mile run with a 47.5 clocking.

Odessa turned in its best clocking of the year in the mile relay, winning in 3:13.8. Calvin Edwards (48.4), Mike Perry (48.5), Billy Harris (48.9) and Shayne Slovack (48.0) had legs on the team.

Cisco finished one step behind in the event.

Oliva Robbed Of First Four-Master By Tovar

DETROIT (AP) — What appeared to be Tony Oliva's first home run of the season turned out to be a 400-foot sniggle in a wacky kind of baseball play that would have warmed the heart of Babe Herman.

Minnesota and Detroit were locked in a scoreless tie in the Twins' half of the third inning

Cats To Open With Lions

ABILENE — A nine-game football schedule has been approved for Abilene Christian College in 1967, athletic director A. B. Morris announced Monday.

The Wildcats open the season Sept. 16 with traditional rival East Texas State in Commerce. One new opponent is on the slate, Eastern New Mexico of Portales Oct. 28 with the game set for Abilene.

Aside from Eastern New Mexico ACC has three games in Abilene's P. E. Shotwell Stadium. The Wildcats play McMurry Sept. 30, Lamar Tech Oct. 14 and Trinity on Homecoming Nov. 11.

The Schedule:
Sept. 16—East Texas State, Commerce (7:30)
Sept. 23—Howard Payne, Brownwood (8:30)
Sept. 30—McMurry, Abilene (7:30, ACC host)
Oct. 7—Open
Oct. 14—Lamar Tech, Abilene (7:30)
Oct. 21—Arkansas State, Jonesboro, Ark. (8:30)
Oct. 28—Eastern New Mexico, Abilene
Nov. 4—University of Texas at Arlington (12:30)
Nov. 11—Trinity University, Abilene (Homecoming, 7:30)
Nov. 18—Angelo State, San Angelo (7:30)

Friday night. Cesar Tovar was on first when Oliva ripped into one of Denny McLain's fast balls.

Detroit right fielder Al Kaline took off after the ball.

Oliva rounded first, his eyes on the ball, which landed in the second deck for an apparent home run.

First base umpire John Stevens suddenly threw up his right hand, thumb up. Oliva was out for passing Tovar, still riveted to first base.

"The first base coach Jim Lemon told me to tag," said Tovar, a native of Caracas, Venezuela. "I tag, I wait . . ."

When Oliva ran by, Tovar said "I yell at him, 'Don't pass me.'"

But it was too late. Oliva was out, credited with a single and an RBI by the official scorer. Because the ball was hit out of the park, Tovar's run counted, Stevens said.

"I didn't see Tovar," said Oliva. "I was watching the ball. I figured he would be between first and second. If Kaline caught it, he couldn't advance. If it hit the fence, he could have scored."

"Babe Herman, the old Brooklyn Dodger outfielder, did it around 1930 or 1931," said Detroit coach Tony Cuccinello. "I was with Cuccinello at the time."

Herman, who once was involved in a famous play where three Dodgers wound up on third base, had a long career of baseball wackiness, much of it exaggerated legend.

Two Twins Fined For Zany Ball

DETROIT (AP) — Two Minnesota Twins players were fined as a result of the 12-4 loss to Detroit Friday night. Manager Sam Mele said Saturday.

The players were not identified but were reported to be Cesar Tovar, as a result of his base running on the nullified Tony Oliva homer, and pitcher Jim Odom, who failed to cover home after a wild pitch in the sixth inning, enabling a Tiger to score.

Mele held club house sessions during a seventh inning rain recess and after the game.

Mele was quoted as saying, "We've got to stop that stuff right now."

LaGrasta Eyeing Eagles, Cougars As 2-4A Threats

By TOMMY HART

The local JayCees have plans to bring in a "name" professional football player to serve as a starter for the first annual invitational golf tournament May 27-28 . . . Despite reports to the contrary, nothing will be done about improving the high school baseball field here until after April 25, when the school board sees if it has enough money left over from building projects for use in improving athletic facilities . . . It is generally conceded that Charley Spieker, the Angelo State College athlete, decided to take the Ozona coaching offer over other bids extended him because (1) his wife was offered a job in the school system, too, and (2) his family will reside in housing furnished by the schools . . . Naaman Nickell, the Odessa sports editor, leaves shortly for newspaper employment in Galveston . . . The New York Yankees have permanently "retired" more uniform numbers than any other club in baseball—Babe Ruth's No. 3, Lou Gehrig's No. 4 and Joe DiMaggio's No. 5 . . . The Los Angeles Dodgers don't subscribe to the Yanks' theory—they've never taken a number permanently out of circulation . . . One of the two lucky Big Q players who picked up a handsome $5,676.90 for his handicapping efforts at Sunland Park last Sunday was stunned by the huge payoff . . . He thought he had won only $567.80 and told the cashier she had given him too much money . . . Coleman Sets Lubbock Date

LUBBOCK — Frank Junell, long-time Lubbock resident now living in San Angelo, will be master of ceremonies of the Red Raider Club All-Sports Banquet for Texas Tech athletes here May 9, Loyd Lanotte, club president, announced Saturday.

Junell served as master of ceremonies at the Quarterback Club luncheons on Mondays while he was a banker here.

A. M. (Tonto) Coleman, Southeastern Conference commissioner, is principal speaker for the banquet honoring Texas Tech athletes in all sports. Coleman, a native of Roscoe, coached at Abilene Christian College before joining the University of Florida staff. He was at Georgia Tech when named SEC commissioner.

Especially honored at the banquet will be conference champions, all-conference players, and the recipients of the Pete Cawthon and Dell Morgan awards to outstanding footballers.

Dean Killion will direct the Court Jesters in musical entertainment.

Lanotte emphasized that the banquet is open to the public, and that all members of the family should enjoy the event, slated to begin at 6:30 p.m., May 9, in the Lubbock Coliseum.

Top Linksters To Miss Open

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Only two of the top 10 Professional Golf Association money winners for the year are expected to tee up for the $100,000 Texas Open starting Thursday.

Frank Beard, winner here two years ago, and Bob Goaly were the only two members of golf's golden circle to commit themselves to the weekend to the 40th playing of the tournament.

Both Beard, ranked ninth in earnings, and Goaly, 10th-ranked, have won tournaments on the tour this year. Beard won the Tournament of Champions a week ago and Goaly took the San Diego Open.

One other tournament winner, Azalea open champion Randy Glover, has also signed to play in the Texas Open.

Six other players in the top 20 in official money rankings also have made Texas Open plans.

These include Harold Henning, the South African who won the championship here last year, Bert Yancey, Ken Still, Al Geiberger, former champion Bruce Crampton, and Chuck Courtney.

Officials here said Henning may have trouble retaining his championship here because of an injury. The South African

Center Plans On Children's Clinic

A quarterly clinic for crippled children has been approved by directors of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, and the first one will be held May 27.

Dr. Thurston Dean, Midland orthopedic surgeon, will donate his service as clinician. All children are eligible to go through the clinic as well as those under treatment at the center. One of the objectives of the clinic is for the doctor to evaluate the disabilities of the children in order to suggest type of treatment at the center. Dr. Dean will work out details with the center's medical advisory committee.

Under consideration by the advisory committee also is a proposed language disability clinic. This would be designed to take children of ordinary intelligence with reading or speaking difficulties, and by a team method attempt to discover the cause of the difficulty.

The board in its Friday meeting approved the purchase of an electric stimulator for use in therapy, and an X-ray viewer. The center has been approved for two young workers under the work-study program through H.C.J.C. They will serve as swimming instructor and as an orderly, said Jim Thompson, therapist.

Some sharp increase in treatments have been noted during the first half of the year. Those for physical therapy increased from 2,338 for the period to 2,881. Speech therapy declined from 452 to 358, but the overall total was up from 2,810 to 3,239. How to handle this increasing volume becomes a double problem because the board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Vernon Peterson as a therapist effective May 15. Her husband is being transferred to Perrin AFB at Sherman.

During the first half of the fiscal year, the center performed services valued at $14,376, but $7,374 of this is represented in patients unable to pay. The center's swimming program is progressing well with 49 youngsters taking a total of 304 lessons.

Wedding Solemnized In Catholic Church

Miss Bernarda Rocha became the bride of Doroteo Alviar Jr. Saturday morning before an altar graced with twin arrangements of white gladioli at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church. The Rev. James Delaney officiated at the double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Demetrio Rocha, Midway Road, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Doroteo Alviar Sr. of Brownsville. Traditional wedding selections were played on the organ by Johnny Arguello. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal gown of lace and imported organza, designed with a slim-domed silhouette featuring an Empire bodice with Sabrina neckline. Her diamond-shaped train was attached at the shoulder, and her shoulder-length bouffant veil fell from a white petal headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with white streamers in love knots. Mrs. Caledonia Salazar served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jimmy Marin, Miss Frances Silva of Nashville and Mrs. Ray Molina. The bridal attendants chose dresses of aqua, pink, yellow and lime. They were designed of silk crepe featuring Empire bodices, scoop necklines and cap sleeves. Satin bows were tied at the waist and they wore matching hats with veils. They carried long-stemmed sweetheart rose bouquets. Junior bridesmaids were Flora Salazar and Mary Chavez. They wore mint green sheath crepe dresses over lace, with matching hats and veils. Celedonia Salazar was best man. Ushers included Jimmy Marin, Lupe Rocha, brother of the bride, and Ray Molina. For a wedding trip to Brownsville, the bride chose a white lace shift with pink bow trim. The couple will be at home at 407 1/2 E. 8th. The bride attended Big Spring Senior High School and is employed as a nurse's aide at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital. The bridegroom graduated from Brownsville High School and attended Texas Southwest College in Brownsville. He is presently associated with the Veterans Administration Hospital, and was formerly stationed at Webb Air Force Base.

Engaged

Announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Karen Ann, to Rufus Don Rowland, are Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Landrum, 3221 Cornell. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Rowland, Silver Heels. The couple will be married June 2.

From Runnels Junior High School were Debra Tate and Ede Zollinger, accompanied by Mrs. C. W. Willbanks; and from Goliad Junior High School were Regina Hamby, Barbara McAlister and Joan Robertson, accompanied by Mrs. Jack Alexander. Miss Shaw received the state degree, and Miss Mackin and Miss Robertson sang in the state choir.

AMERICAN FAVORITE

Greeks Called Carnation 'Flower Of The Gods'

If your favorite flower is the carnation, you're in good company. The carnation is one of many flowers that dates back to ancient Greek mythology, when gods and goddesses walked the earth and mingled with mere mortals. But the carnation was special among all the flowers, for it was the favorite of the chief of gods, Zeus. The Greeks had a name for it. They called the flower Dianthus, or "divine flower." In England, the carnation once was known as the gillyflower, until Elizabethans described its color — carnation, or deep red. The label has remained to embrace more than 1,300 different varieties available today. The carnation first came to North America over one hundred years ago. Ohio claimed the scarlet carnation as its state flower, and florists' delivery shops report that carnations, which bloom all through the year, are among the favorite blossoms of all Americans.

One reason for the carnation's popularity is its ability to blend with any decor. Arrangements of carnations alone or mixed with other blooms will complement both traditional and modern decorating schemes, say FTD florists. The carnation also is the flower most likely to be selected for a boutonniere or corsage.

In the language of flowers, carnations speak sweet sentiments. Red varieties express admiration. White carnations mean pure and ardent love, and yellow blooms carry a hint of jealousy.

From ancient times to modern, the carnation is an all-time favorite in flowery phrases.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MRS. R. D. FRERICHS Lake Mesquite Recreation Area is located on the base about a mile from the south end of the runway, just west of the golf course. It includes the pavilion, lake, picnic area and playground equipment; and as one might guess from all the picnics, parties, ballgames, etc., the area seldom sees a dull moment. Inside the pavilion there is one large and one small room, containing couches and chairs. There is a kitchen, with a stove and refrigerator, as well as a large cabinet area. It has central heat and air conditioning, and sliding doors open out into the patio area. There we find barbecue pits and tables in specially-constructed shelters; a lighted, hard surfaced area for dancing, volleyball, basketball, and other outdoor sports. Just south of the pavilion is the ball diamond. On the east side of the pavilion is Mesquite Lake which is stocked with catfish, bass and crappie. Fishing is permitted, but no live minnows may be used. While mothers and dads enjoy themselves, the playground equipment provides many hours of self-entertainment for the kiddies.

This area is available to all Webb AFB military personnel for private and group parties, dances, etc. The pavilion must be reserved, and a small service fee is charged. Incidentally, this provides an excellent place for "airplane watching" when visiting moms and dads, sisters and brothers want to see the "pilot in the family" in his working environment.

DCM held its monthly coffee April 19 in the home of Mrs. Gregory Perron. Fourteen members attended in addition to two tiny new arrivals who, it seems, were yet too young for nursery care at the tender age of a few weeks. Those attending were delighted by the little ones and enjoyed witnessing feedings, burpings, and all the niceties that go with new babies. Mrs. D. C. Palodona was welcomed into the group.

Don't forget the "Hi and Bye" Coffee this Thursday at 10 a.m. at the Officers Open Mess. If you missed the introduction of candidates for OWC offices at the last luncheon, this will be an opportunity to meet them.

A farewell brunch was given by Mrs. Wallace E. Lowman, Mrs. Eustace M. Bunn and Mrs. O. E. Howard Wednesday morning at the Officers Open Mess for Mrs. Jay Green, who is departing shortly with her husband for his new assignment at Siskiyou Air Force Station in California. Mrs. Green was presented with a beautiful serving platter featuring a silver base.

Class 68-A, Section IV, enjoyed an informal party Friday evening in the Patio Room of Holiday Inn. The T-38 instructor pilots and their wives were invited, and the group enjoyed entertainment and music by "Just Us Four."

The DCO monthly coffee was held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. M. Pido. Mrs. Ed Henningson was cohostess. A farewell silver charm was presented to Mrs. Ralph Rohatsch and a silver nut dish to Mrs. Tim Thomas. Welcomed into the group was Mrs. Terry Isaacson, Mrs. Tim Boe and Mrs. Richard Trickett. Class 68-A held its monthly

Banquet To Highlight 'Secretaries Week'

The 16th annual observance of Secretaries Week, April 23-29, is being highlighted by the commemoration of the 25th anniversary year of its sponsor, the National Secretaries Association (International). It was announced today by Mrs. Herbert R. Heath, president of the Big Spring Chapter.

The National Secretaries Association, in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Commerce, originated Secretaries Week to bring recognition to all secretaries for the vital role they play in business, industry, education, government and the professions.

"Secretaries Week also serves to remind secretaries of their responsibilities to their employers and to their profession," said Mrs. Heath "and to highlight the need for continuing education in order to keep up with a fast-moving, technological world."

As the world's largest organization of businesswomen in one profession, with its 25,500 members, NSA is concerned with upgrading the standards of the secretarial profession and seeing that they are met by trained, skilled, conscientious secretaries.

The NSA uses its Certified Professional Secretary program to gain these objectives. Secretaries who use the CPS after their names have passed a difficult six-part, two-day examination covering business administration, secretarial accounting, secretarial law, secretarial procedures, skills, and human relations. The local chapter has three secretaries who have earned their CPS. They are Mrs. Camille Patterson, Miss Marguerite Cooper, and Mrs. S. Gorman. Mrs. Paterson and Miss Cooper are charter members of the Big Spring Chapter.

MRS. H. R. HEATH

Secretaries Week activities include the regular monthly chapter meeting on Tuesday and the 6th annual Bosses Night banquet on Saturday. The banquet will be held at 7 p.m. at Holiday Inn with Robert W. Whipple, Herald publisher, as master of ceremonies. Guest speaker will be W. J. Mewhorter, vice president of the First National Bank in Midland.

The Big Spring chapter, which has 16 members, received its charter in May of 1957. In addition to Mrs. Patterson and Miss Cooper, Mrs. Bob Asbury is a charter member.

ASK ANY WORLD TRAVELER

Girl Watching Travel Agents Are Professional Know-It-Alls

Oenologists are world travelers. So are gourmets, gamblers, geologists and girl-watchers.

For however specialized the travelers' interests — or meager their budgets — the travel agent's job is to get them where they want to go. As a practicing oenologist might testify the travel agent is the specialist on specialists — the "know-it-all" of world travel.

Some of the 2,200 members of the American Society of Travel Agents (ASTA), for example, have been known to travel 20,000 or more miles each year just to keep up to date with new hotel and resort accommodations, the quality of restaurants, the courtesy of customs officials, the convenience of transportation facilities. It is just another way for the "know-it-alls" of world travel to provide the public with up-to-the-minute professional service.

Girl-watchers are easy to please. As any travel agent knows there is London, Paris, Tokyo or Stockholm. Or, for the budget conscious bachelor there are even the steps of the New York Public Library on a warm Autumn day. Girls are everywhere and in the era of the mini-skirt girl - watching has flourished.

Gourmets are harder to satisfy, however, with good restaurants apparently scarcer than pretty girls. Every nation has its own distinctive cuisine and their major cities will usually boast many fine restaurants. But what about the provinces? Finding good food and hotels in out of the way places isn't always easy. But whether the traveler is in Athens, Oslo, Khartoum or Ankara, it's the travel agent's job to locate the best restaurants, satisfying the gourmets delight in superb food, or the average traveler's desire for an honest meal at a reasonable price.

Sahara wastes, a rock-strewn New England hillside, or the vaulting reaches of the Grand Canyon might appeal to a geologist. Even a tour of the white-wastes of the Antarctic can be arranged for those who dare the unusual, and who can resist the lure of sun-drenched beaches.

Travel agents have even been known to arrange a trip across the Alps — by elephant — for a tourist who wanted to emulate Hannibal. Thomas Cook & Sons, the world's oldest travel agency, who arranged the elephant ride, once also negotiated a peace treaty with Bedouin chiefs to insure safe passage through the Arabian deserts for a group of travelers, and another time had to smuggle food into a besieged city to feed tourists on a "Cook's Tour."

For a gambler there is roulette or chemin-de-fer in Monaco or London, or the slot machines in Las Vegas. While the travel agent can't guarantee that you'll win, he can make sure you have a return trip ticket just in case.

Then there are philologists, philanthropists, and philatelists, and those who just simply want to get - away - from - it - all. The travel agent can and does, serve each of them, whether they travel by air, sea, or rail, or in any combination. He can find a baby sitter in Brussels, pabulum in Argentina, a ski lodge in Morocco, or a multilingual guide for a trip down the Amazon. It isn't always easy but it's his job and he's good at it. Ask anyone who travels, even an oenologist.

The oenologist? Oh yes, he's an expert in the art of wine making!

MISS MARGUERITE COOPER

Miss Marguerite Cooper, secretary to R. W. Thompson, vice president of pipe line and supply at Cosden Oil and Chemical Company, is in her 22nd year of "doing business at the same old stand."

Miss Cooper first saw her name go on the Cosden payroll on Oct. 23, 1945, and she has worked for the company continuously since that date. She joined the stenographic pool when it was organized and was supervisor until 1954 when she became secretary to M. M. Miller, a senior vice president at that time. When Petrofina acquired the Cosden assets in 1963, she transferred to the position she still holds with Thompson.

Miss Cooper resides at 2900 Merrily with her only sister, Mrs. Francys Plowman. Daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cooper, she was born in Colorado City and reared in West Texas. A graduate of Big Spring High School, she attended Howard Payne College in Brownwood, majoring in business administration, and has taken 24 hours at Howard County Junior College.

Beginning her professional career as a bookkeeper in 1939, Miss Cooper recalls that she earned $1 per day at that time. In 1942, she went to work for the Big Spring Bombardier School (at a more attractive salary) and remained there until her association with Cosden three years later. In 1964, she passed her Certified Professional Secretary examination and is justly proud of the accomplishment. Her plans now are to take some "fun" courses at HCJC which may include conversational Spanish and psychology.

Miss Cooper, a charter member of the Desk and Derrick Club, has held all offices except that of president and is currently scrapbook chairman. She is treasurer of the local National Secretaries Association and a "not very active" member of Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284.

She is affiliated with the East Fourth Baptist Church where she taught and served as associate superintendent in the 7-8 year primary department for 17 years. Active in all phases of church work, she is now associate general secretary for the Sunday school.

Miss Cooper spends her leisure time reading, watching TV, or cooking. She is learning bridge and plans to take music lessons, garden, travel and do volunteer work — when there is time.

Sue Knox Is 'Wool' Finalist

Sue Knox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Knox Jr., 1313 Lexington, will be among 15 of Texas' loveliest young women who have been selected as finalists for the 16th annual Miss Wool of Texas pageant and contest, scheduled for May 29 in Dallas.

Plans Told

Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Ray Chapman of Sulphur Springs, formerly of Coahoma, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Patricia Kaye, to Gary Lane Odum. Miss Kaye is the granddaughter of Mrs. A. K. Turner and the late A. K. Turner Sr. of Coahoma, and the prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Odum of Sulphur Springs. Wedding vows will be exchanged by the couple June 1.

by the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association, through the cooperation of Texas Fashion Creators Association. In addition, four alternates were named for the event which will be held in the Great Hall at Dallas' famed Apparel Mart, during the annual Fall-Winter apparel market.

A special screening committee, working with an avalanche of 70 applications from young women from all parts of the state, praised the caliber of this year's entries.

Basic requirements for entry in the contest were a minimum height of 5 ft. 6 inches, completion of at least one year in an accredited university or college, aged between 18 and 25 and the ability to wear a size 10 dress, suit or coat.

From the 15 finalists, a panel of three judges (to be announced later) will select one as Miss Wool of Texas-elect. She will assume her title on July 1, and will spend the next year touring the state of Texas modeling Texas fashions of wool and mohair.

In June, 1968, she will represent Texas in the Miss Wool of America contest, held annually in San Angelo. The reigning Miss Wool of Texas, Patricia Vincent of San Antonio, was selected in a similar pageant in Dallas last year. She will represent her native state in the 1967 Miss Wool of America pageant to be held June 30 in San Angelo.

A LOVELIER YOU

Mini-Mize Knees If Your Hemline's High

By MARY SUE MILLER
Fashions for summer are on a "mini" kick — mini-pants, mini-bathing suits, mini-dresses. What next? Mini-knees, but of course!

If you've put off trimming the needy knees, it is not too late. But you must begin today. Or summer will be over before you get effective results. These are the trimmers:

1. Sit toward edge of straight chair with feet and legs touching. Raise knees until feet are six inches off floor. Pressing knees together, swing legs from knee joints to left and then to right — like a pedulum. Without stopping repeat 10 times. Relax and continue for 10 more counts, working for fast, rhythmical action.
2. Stand erect, center all weight on right heel and "dig" it into floor until toes turn upward. Holding position, slowly draw kneecaps up for five counts; then slowly relax knees and take pressure off heel by rolling weight through foot. Gift left side same workout. Alternating, repeat three times.
3. Kneel on carpeted floor.

Quick Clean Shoes

Use a moistened soapy scouring pad for easy quick cleaning of the white rubber on your school children's sneakers. If rubber happens to be extra soiled or stained, dip in cleansing powder.

with back erect; squat on heels and raise arms overhead. Simultaneously raise hips three inches, bend forward from hip joints and salaam — touch palms of hands to floor, arms fully extended. By reversing actions, return to starting position. Repeat slowly, 10 times.

LEGLINE TRIMMERS

If your individual problem is heavy legs, send for my new leaflet, "Legline Trimmers," which contains spot reducing exercises, that will meet your individual needs, whether for thighs, knees, calves or ankles, or for contouring your entire legline. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover handling.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

On those rare days when the wind doesn't blow and the sand stays low, the gentle breezes brings the aroma of the delicately-scented Chinaberry blossoms which are at their fullest right now here in Big Spring. There are not as many of this particular type of tree as in the old-time Big Spring when the natives didn't especially pick out the trees for their yards, they just put in the ground something that might grow to make a shade. And the Chinaberry tree did that... and it still does when you find one. Granted that when the berries form, ripen, then fall to the ground they are fairly undesirable, but when the trees are first in bloom, the aroma is delightful.

And now almost everywhere one goes there is honeysuckle. All the way from a single shoot to a full hedge, most yards have some of the vine. And now the sweetness of the bloom fills the air. No one ever gets tired of the odor of the honeysuckle or the Chinaberry. If you don't have any of either it's time you found one or the other. They sure make life seem sweeter.

Joe Shafer presided and appointed a committee to present names of artists available for a concert to be held in the fall at the Friday meeting of the Piano Teacher's Forum in the home of Mrs. Ann Gibson Houser, 103 Cedar Road. This was the final meeting of the club year.

Those named to the committee were Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, chairman; Mrs. Chester Barnes and Mrs. Fred Beckham. Only one artist will be selected, and the concert time has been changed from a spring presentation to a fall date.

More Possibilities

Decorative mirrors of medium size, so popular behind lamp tables in pairs above the sofa, have many other possibilities around the home. For instance, they make unusual serving trays.

Betrothed

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Harvelyn Adams to Ronnie William Ward is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Adams, No. 10 Highland Heather. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ward, Route One. The ceremony will be solemnized June 10 in the First Presbyterian Church chapel, and Dr. R. Gage Lloyd will officiate.

Make It Effective

When hanging a very small picture in your home, hang it low over an appropriate piece of furniture, else its effect will be lost.

HD Groups Host Tea, Hear Guest Speaker

Bob Williams of the Educational Division of the Texas Highway Department was guest speaker at the county-wide tea held jointly Wednesday afternoon by the Howard County home demonstration clubs. The group met in the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building.

In his talk, Williams discussed Gov. John Connally's recommendations for bringing Texas up to the standards held at a national level for the prevention of accidents.

"Federal standards for driver safety must be met or exceeded on the state level," said Williams, "or the state will lose $25,000,000 annually from federal funds and aid."

He cited the need for more schools to incorporate drivers' educational programs in the curriculum, noting that only about 30 per cent of Texas students are receiving this education which is financed through the schools and the state.

Williams said that in 1966 insurance companies paid out over $400,000,000. The rates are still climbing, and the responsibility for safe driving rests with the individual.

Mrs. W. L. Eggleston introduced the guest speaker. She was assisted on the program by Mrs. Stewart Dickson and Mrs. Ralph White.

The refreshment table was laid with a pink cloth and centered with a pink and white floral arrangement. Mrs. Alton Underwood and Mrs. Francis Zant presided at the crystal and silver service.

Forty attended.

LOMAX CLUB

Mrs. Richard Posey brought the program on flower porcelainizing at the Thursday evening meeting of the Lomax HD club in the home of Mrs. Cecil Long.

Mrs. Posey demonstrated and discussed the technique used in this method of flower preserving, and displayed six arrangements which she had made. She was assisted by Mrs. Leroy Finley, a guest.

Mrs. James Moore presided, and Mrs. Ervin Bridge gave the council report. Mrs. Neil Fryar announced the tour the club will hold during October in conjunction with other area HD clubs at the Highland Center mall. Refreshments were served to 15.

ELBOW CLUB

Mrs. A. L. Newton was introduced as a new member at the Thursday afternoon meeting of the Elbow HD club in the home of Mrs. W. F. Harrell, 4305 Connally.

Mrs. Denver Yates and Mrs. L. L. Phemister gave a demonstration on flower arranging and porcelainizing. Mrs. W. A. Allen presided and announced a garage sale will be held May 12-13 at the home of Mrs. Harrell.

Nine members and one guest, Mrs. D. W. Roberson, attended. The next meeting will be in the HD agent's office.

COLLEGE PARK CLUB

Mrs. Jesse Crane Jr. presided and appointed new committee chairmen at the Tuesday morning meeting of the College Park HD club at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building.

Mrs. Larry Barnard was named yearbook chairman; Mrs. Stewart Dickson, safety chairman; and Mrs. James Shelton and Mrs. Paul Bruns, social chairmen.

Mrs. Conard Miller and Mrs. James Shelton reported on their visit on behalf of the club to Mary's Nursing Home. Mrs. John Dinges was introduced as a new member.

Mrs. Guy Cook presented the program on flower arranging, and plans were completed to attend the furniture refinishing course to be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. May 10, 17, 24, at the HC agent's office. Mrs. Delaine Crawford will conduct the course.

Hostesses were Mrs. Jack Gaskill and Mrs. Larry Kemper. Refreshments were served from a table covered with a mint green cloth and centered with an arrangement of green zinnias. Appointments of crystal and silver completed the setting.

Enlarged Zoo Opens Barnyard Inn Here Today

Big Spring and area residents are being invited to visit the enlarged and improved Big Spring Pet-A-Zoo today, when the new Barnyard Inn will formally open.

A. D. Blount, after three months of planning and work, has added the distinctive concession stand in addition to a large "contact area," in which small children can mingle with barnyard animals.

POND, STREAM
All of this has been constructed in front of the indoor zoo building, and includes a large pond and running stream. In the Barnyard Inn area, Blount has installed two children's rides—six live ponies, and a sky ride, in which children may swing through the air on various cut-out animals.

In the 60 by 150 foot contact area, children may see sheep, goats, chickens, ducks, birds, and even a sandhill crane. In addition, there are numerous caged animals, including some pigs.

At the 38 by 60 foot concession stand, visitors may refresh themselves with watermelon, slushes, soft drinks, hot dogs, and ice cream. There is seating inside, as well as some picnic tables outside, protected by a vast sunshade.

COME BACK
"We particularly want residents who have visited the zoo before to come back, and see what we have been able to do," Blount pointed out.

Delbert Hutchings will be on hand Sunday to give rattlesnake handling demonstrations in the pit inside the building.

Also, visitors will get to see Tina, tiny six-month-old chimpanzee, that Blount recently received in a trade for his lion.

Inside the building, there is still the big tiger, bears, a rabbit pen, numerous monkeys, birds and other animals.

"We are still working towards more improvements and additions," he pointed out, "including a new roof for the building with skylights; new air conditioning system; snake house (herpetarium); show arena for lions, chimps, etc.; more contact areas for children, and a paved parking area."

With this in mind, Blount invited residents to have a part in helping the zoo expand and improve, for all to enjoy. He pointed out that many visitors to the Pet-A-Zoo were attracted to the city because of this unique indoor facility, and that it is a real tourist attraction.

Organist Due For Recital Here Today

Dr. Kent Hill, professor of organ at Texas Tech, will be in Big Spring today and will present the final organ recital in this year's series at the First Methodist Church.

Kent Hill began his organ study at the age of 12 and held his first organ position at the age of 14. In 1957, he received his bachelor of music degree from Oberlin Conservatory, where he studied with Richard Hudson and Leo Holden. In 1958, Dr. Hill placed second in the National Young Organists' Competition held in Houston during the National AGO Convention there.

In 1959, he was awarded a Fulbright Scholarship for study in Denmark, and there studied organ with Dr. Aksel Anderson of the Royal Danish Conservatory and musicology with Dr. Henrik Glahn of the University of Copenhagen. In 1960, he received a three-year National Defense Education Act Fellowship for doctoral study in church music at the Eastman School of Music, where he studied organ with David Craighead.

In 1963, upon completion of his residence at Eastman, Dr. Hill was appointed to the music faculty at Texas Tech College, where he is presently assistant professor of music. At the 1966 commencement of the University of Rochester, he was awarded the degree of doctor of musical arts in church music. Dr. Hill serves as parish organist at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Lubbock.

As a performer, Dr. Hill has played recitals on both sides of the Atlantic, including performances on two trips to Sweden, Denmark, and Germany. In this country, he has been heard in recital in major cities of New York, Ohio, Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Texas.

The church organist urges all interested residents to attend. For the layman, the program includes some preludes on familiar hymn tunes.

Wildcatters Double Drills

AUSTIN (AP) — Oil wildcatters more than doubled their weekly average in the state during the past week, drilling 10 wells, the Railroad Commission said Saturday.

The average number of wildcat wells for a week had been about four.

The past week's activity raised the total number of wildcat oil wells for the year to 68, compared to 138 a year ago.

Three wildcat oil wells were in the Midland district, two each in the Houston, Kilgore and Wichita Falls Districts and one in the Corpus Christi district.

The commission said six wildcat gas wells were drilled, raising the yearly total to 113, compared to 67 a year ago. Three of the wildcat wells were in the Houston district and three in the San Antonio district.

There were 142 oil well completions in the state during the week, pushing the yearly total to 2,001, compared to 2,353 a year ago, the commission said. There were 31 gas well completions, raising the total for the year to 523, compared to 623 a year ago.

A Devotional For The Day

He knoweth the way that I take: when he hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold. (Job 23:10)

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, how unworthy we are to come into Thy presence! We are grateful for all the mercies shown to us. Help us to be obedient by strengthening us in our love for Thee; through Christ our Lord. Amen.
(From the 'Upper Room')

We Need It

Just around the corner is the month of May—a month set aside for community cleanup.

The weather, including high winds, has contributed to the disarray in many quarters of the city. Trash is almost everywhere.

If there was ever a time when we need to pitch in wholeheartedly — every one of us — and do a thorough job on tidying up our town, that time is now.

As usual, the city will cooperate in trash removal. But we hope that you won't do as usual—wait until the truck drives by to get the fever to clean up. Why not start in this week so that when May does roll around you will have the jump on the campaign.

How About Our Share?

The Texas Highway Department's new brochure, "Texas Visitor Industry Report 1966," should convince even the most skeptical and the most lackadaisical that tourism is one of the state's major industries. Moreover, it's one of its industries with the brightest future.

The volume abounds with statistical information, some more startling than that 12,236,000 out-of-state visitors came into Texas and spent over one billion dollars while here.

The average of $8.80 per person per day was up 9 cents for the year. The average party spent $25.52 per day while in the state.

Of the total, over 14 million came by automobile. Based on THD estimates of 2.9 persons per party, this would mean 4,700,000 automobiles with an average of over 1,100 miles driven on the Texas visit. Gasoline tax alone approaches $20 million on that. The department estimates are for retail sales of $723,847 generated by the visitors.

The U.S. Department of Commerce says that a community which can induce 12 tourist parties to spend the day in its area every day the year around has added the equivalent of an industrial payroll of $100,000 annually.

What are we doing to induce tourists to spend part of their time in Texas in our community and area? With the HemisFair opening in 1968, the volume should be stepped up substantially. Do we have anything in the mill to make it convenient and desirable for visitors to stop here?

How Do You Smoke A Banana?

WASHINGTON — It's very hard to be a parent of a teenager these days. You have to keep on your toes all the time. Just the other morning I walked into the kitchen and I caught my son taking a banana out of the fruit bowl.

"What are you doing with that banana?" I shouted.

"I'm going to cut it up and put it on my cereal," he replied.

"A likely story," I said. "You weren't going to smoke it, were you?"

"Smoke the cereal?"

"NO, SMOKE the banana, smart aleck. I read all about you kids going around smoking bananas behind your parents' backs for kicks."

He became very interested. "How do you smoke a banana?" he wanted to know.

"You don't smoke the banana. You smoke the skin."

He looked at me in amazement. "What have you been smoking?"

"Now don't try to be smart with me," I said. "You know very well what I'm talking about. You take the skin and scrape it out and then make a paste out of it and then you bake it and then you smoke it."

"What for?"

"SO YOU'LL have hallucinations, that's what for. First it was marijuana. Then it was LSD and now it's bananas. Don't you kids have any shame?"

"Look, all I want to do is have breakfast. I'll eat the fruit and you can keep the skin if it bugs you that much."

"How do I know you didn't scrape off the skin before I came in?" I said.

"Search me," he yelled.

Just then my wife walked in to find out what the commotion was all about.

"I caught him eating a banana," I said.

"Well, what's wrong with that?" she demanded.

"DON'T YOU read the newspaper? Kids all over the country are smoking bananas so they can take trips."

"Take trips where?"

"Wherever bananas will take them."

My wife looked scared. "Are you feeling all right?"

"Why does everyone think I'm crazy because I don't want my kids to smoke bananas?" I cried.

"Well, if you feel that strongly about it," she said, "I won't buy any bananas again."

"SURE, AND then they'll sneak up to the fruit store and buy them behind our backs. At least this way we know they're getting good quality bananas."

"Why don't we let him smoke a banana in front of us to get it out of his system?" my wife suggested.

"I don't want to smoke a banana," my son yelled. "In fact I don't even want to eat my corn flakes."

"That's a good idea. We'll all smoke bananas together and that way we'll know what the kids are experiencing. You're lucky you have modern parents."

I STARTED scraping out the skins and making a paste. Then I baked it and then I chopped it up and passed out three pipes.

The three of us sat around the floor of the living room and started to puff.

In about 10 minutes I asked my son what he saw.

"I see Mom getting green."

"That's no hallucination," my wife said.

"You don't look so good yourself," my son added.

"Maybe I didn't bake it long enough," I said.

Five minutes later we all retired to our respective washrooms. This was the "trip" that everyone was talking about.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

As Wolf Von Eckardt writes in Harper's Magazine, "all air transportation is in a state of crisis," and that aspect which perhaps is increasing most rapidly in confusion and congestion involves airport ground facilities.

Airport passenger accommodations during rush hours, when two planes may be taking off or landing every 20 seconds, are beginning to resemble New York subways in discomfort and inconvenience.

What they will be like in five years when airline passenger traffic is expected to double, nobody likes to think. Within that time "jumbo" or "stretched" jet passenger aircraft will be dumping 300, 400 or more passengers from a single plane atop the other passenger traffic milling about in waiting and ticketing areas.

Plainly, if getting to the airport and boarding a plane during morning and evening high-traffic periods is not to become an exhausting nightmare, somebody needs to act quickly.

But who? Today, among the cities, airlines, airport authorities, local and federal governments, there is no agency responsible for planning or coordinating airport development. William Downes, Chicago's aviation commissioner, suggests an Aviation Planning Commission be set up in the new Department of Transportation, to be responsible for aviation's role in national transportation policy. We question the wisdom of still more Federal intervention, but something must be done soon if the airport problem is to get off the dead center it is on now.

All this is not without its irony. For if the airport turmoil continues to churn aimlessly, it might serve to revive the vanishing long-haul passenger train.

After Sluggish Opening, Business Outlook Better

SUNNIER SIDE UP

- Second quarter may be slow, then trend is due upward
- Personal spending in March at record $613.1 billion rate
- Housing and construction up, but under year ago
- GNP gains $5 billion, but reflects mostly higher prices
- Economic advisors say worst over; stock market rises

NEW YORK (AP) — A series of sunny economic reports flowed out of Washington this week. If they seemed a little rosy, it may be because it has been a chilly year so far on the business front.

The chief White House economic adviser, Gardner Ackley, conceded the first quarter was a bit more sluggish than President Johnson anticipated when he proposed a tax increase to take effect July 1.

"The second quarter will remain relatively slow," Ackley said. "But we still expect a strong recovery of demand later this year."

Chances of a tax increase on July 1 are out the window. It was indicated this week. But federal officials haven't abandoned an increase.

Ackley said business conditions hadn't changed enough to eliminate the need for a six per cent surcharge on corporate and personal income taxes.

WORST OVER

Walter W. Heller, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers under President Eisenhower, said the worst of the business adjustment was over, and that the nation's economy would be operating at full speed by winter — necessitating a tax increase to keep it in balance.

But if the economy doesn't accelerate, a tax increase could be postponed, reduced, cancelled or limited to corporations, Heller said.

In Washington, the Commerce Department pointed to a possible upturn; a rise in personal spending in March to a record annual rate of $613.1 billion.

The government marshaled other sunny March figures. They indicated record retail sales of $26.5 billion for the month — when Easter was two weeks earlier than last year.

Housing starts rose 1.7 per cent from February. But they still were almost 25 per cent lower than a year ago.

CONSTRUCTION UP

Construction spending rose to an annual rate of $73.3 billion. That is higher than February, but eight per cent lower than last year, and figures indicate the gain was all in public construction.

Machine tool orders were slightly higher than in February. But they were down sharply from March, 1966.

The value of all goods and services produced in the country rose $5 billion during the first quarter, but that reflected price increases rather than gains in output.

MORE PLANT SPENDING

From a private survey by McGraw-Hill Inc. came a forecast that industry would spend $64 billion on new plants and equipment this year, up from $60.6 billion in 1966.

Meanwhile, steel production is running 4.7 per cent lower than last year, and auto production has fallen from 3,698,528 vehicles to 2,360,647 since Jan. 1.

The drop was emphasized by an announcement from Chrysler Corp. that its first quarter earnings plunged 71 per cent lower than a year ago.

Lynn Townsend, Chrysler chairman, blamed the slump mainly on restrictive government monetary policies, along with "the steady barrage of publicity about auto safety."

Giant DuPont, B. F. Goodrich, Reynolds Metals, International Nickel, Corn Products and Unifroyal also reported lower earnings. So did the Columbia Broadcasting System, American Telephone & Telegraph said the company's earnings this year wouldn't meet last year's 10 per cent gain.

The stock market, however, took the news in its stride and rose.

There were these other business developments during the week:

McDonnell Co. and the financially troubled Douglas Aircraft agreed to merge, becoming McDonnell-Douglas Corp.

Seven Arts Productions offered to buy Warners Bros. Pictures for more than $66 million and Indian Head Inc. agreed to acquire Obe-Nester Glass Co. for an exchange of stock or cash payment that could exceed $35 million.

Hunt Foods, headed by financier Norton Simon, agreed to sell to Pittsburgh Steel some of its Wheeling Steel holdings.

CENTER ON COMPACTS

The Federal Reserve Board denied Allied Bankshares authority to acquire control of two of Virginia's largest banks, Virginia National Bank of Norfolk and the Central National Bank of Richmond.

Trouble-plagued American Motors said it would suspend production of its bigger Rebel and Ambassador cars for two weeks and double the output of its compact Rambler American within 30 days — reflecting sales increases for the smaller car since prices were cut in February.

Lights In The North

LONDON, Ky. (AP) — A neighbor telephoned Martin Dyché and suggested he look outside. "The Northern Lights are the most brilliant I've ever seen."

Dyché hurried outside and noticed the terrific glow that lit the sky. After checking, he learned the glow came from floodlights being used to mark the opening of a new golf driving range.

Around The Rim

That Light Bulb Burned Out Again

The government, not surprisingly, has come up with a finding that many people may have suspected all along.

It has found that the life of the electric light bulb is too short. Those of us who have fallen off stools while trying to reach a ceiling fixture, and who have cut fingers in removing worn-out bulbs, could have made a similar report.

OF COURSE, the government has to make it official. So official that a special subcommittee was established, probably a couple of years ago, to make an examination in depth.

The committee issued its findings some time ago, in the nature of a 70 page, jam-packed, fine-printed pamphlet that reviewed the situation, it seems, back to the time that Edison perfected the device.

The first sentence in the committee's report says: "Electric light bulbs burn out too fast." Now you're going, brothers.

THE COMMITTEE begins, then, to get a bit technical, and says that there is inverse relationship between the light output (lumens), and the time the bulb will burn. In bulb design, the gentlemen tell us, to achieve both increased lumen output and longer life, you must use more electric power. "There is no such thing," says the committee, "as the perfect incandescent electric light bulb that will give the largest amount of power, burn for an extended period, and use little electric power."

Efficient bulb design calls for proper balance between these three factors, and, says the committee, there ain't no such animal available to the average U.S. home.

THE GOVERNMENT experts report that since Edison did his first work, there have been many improvements in bulb design and in efficiency—yet not one improvement has ever been made toward increasing bulb life.

On the contrary, its time has been growing shorter. The standard 100-watt bulb was designed in 1908 to burn 100 hours. This was increased to 1,000 hours in 1910. But in 1933, the bulb industry made some changes and the 100-watt bulb was reduced from 1,000 to 750 hours, where it remains today. The makers were going for better light (more lumens the committee puts it) rather than for longevity.

THE INVESTIGATING committee claims that it had instituted in the government a new bulb policy, and through the use of a specially selected series of "extended service" and 130-volt bulbs in 120-volt circuits, a saving estimated at $2 million annually has been achieved in federal government lighting costs.

No telling where the $2 million went, but it was saved. And all the time I thought LBJ had done it by turning out the lights in the White House. I never saw him quoted on this, but he may have said one night, "Bird, that dad-blamed light in the hall has gone out again. Couldn't we find some longer-life bulbs?"

And that started the whole inquiry.

WELL, SOME of the big manufacturers of light bulbs told their side of the story, and they suggested that if bulb life were increased, prices might go up; that the consumer's electric bill might even be appreciably increased.

This puts us back to a well-accepted premise: You get what you pay for. And now a federal committee has confirmed it. —BOB WHIPKEY

Pressure Hurting N. Vietnamese

WASHINGTON — The Vietnam war is heading toward a climax that could lead either to an early armistice or an intensification of the conflict.

Although the North Vietnamese government has rejected a Canadian proposal based on Premier Ky's plan that a buffer zone be established as a preliminary to peace talks, the United States has given its support to the idea. Washington has further suggested that the Communist troops and the South Vietnamese forces, respectively, withdraw ten miles from either side of the demilitarized zone so that peace negotiations can be conducted promptly.

THE NEGATIVE attitude of the Hanoi government could be motivated by an attempt to get a better deal or possibly to elicit some kind of statement about the future bombing policy of the American military forces. It is becoming clear, however, that the fighting isn't going to be stopped by merely a promise of the allies to refrain from bombing, and that this is more likely to be accomplished by the establishment of a buffer zone, with mutual pledges to respect the boundaries.

The discussion comes at an appropriate moment because the North Vietnamese have placed two or three divisions in battle positions along or in the demilitarized zone and have mobilized other divisions to the west in Laos. This would seem to indicate that a major attack had been planned.

SECRETARY RUSK, in his TV appearance last Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press," referred to the fact that there are several approaches to the problem which involve efforts by U. Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations, as well as by the Canadian government to move the negotiations forward toward an armistice. When Mr. Rusk was asked whether the United States would stop the bombing if given an assurance by Hanoi that there would be peace talks, he answered:

"WELL, I THINK we need to know, for example, what those three divisions that are poised in the demilitarized zone are going to do if we stop the bombing. Are they going to attack our Marines that are six miles away? No one has been able to give us the slightest whisper that if we had stopped the bombing those divisions would not move against our Marines . . ."

"We have asked for some reciprocal action on the other side of a military character."

SECRETARY RUSK plainly reflected a confidence that the military situation, on the whole, is satisfactory from the viewpoint of South Vietnam. He said that the kind of war that involves large units in fixed battle clearly is not likely as far as the other side is concerned. He added that some very favorable signs indicate "we are making headway on the military side."

The inference being drawn from these comments is that the United States and its allies believe they have virtually checkmated the North Vietnamese military units. These forces would be bombed very heavily and would suffer a severe defeat if they moved against the armies in the South. There would then be little chance of the Communists' getting as good a result as might emerge from a negotiation that brought a standstill or Korean-type of armistice.

THE TRUTH is that the American military pressure is hurting. The North Vietnamese are confronted now with a hard choice — taking serious losses in conventional-war fighting or accepting a strongly guarded buffer zone that would prevent further infiltration or the supplying of Communist guerrilla units in the south. Certainly there are indications that some decisive steps are in the offing. (Copyright, 1967, Publishers Newspaper Syndicate)

Dissent Being Punished?

WASHINGTON — Both the White House and the Department of Justice decline to say what J. Edgar Hoover and the Federal Bureau of Investigation may have reported to the President on "anti-war activity." But if a recent incident that occurred in Pittsburgh is a reflection of what is beginning to happen around the country, there is reason to fear a revival of the Red scare, the Red raids and the McCarthyist hysteria following the two world wars.

HERE, AS checked out with James M. Carter, an attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union who entered the case, is what happened.

David Dellinger, speaking in Clapp Hall at the University of Pittsburgh, expressed to students and others the strong anti-war views of his small publication Liberation.

After his talk, Dellinger and many of his audience went to a party in the apartment of Frank Goldsmith, a research associate for the United Steelworkers Union. Most of the guests were young people deeply concerned over the Vietnam war. Shortly after Dellinger had left the party at about 12:30 a.m., Pittsburgh police raided it.

THEY HAD A warrant which, it developed later, had been issued 12 hours earlier. It charged Goldsmith with illegal possession of marijuana. When this charge could not be substantiated, cold tablets found in his bathroom medicine chest were cited as illegal drugs, although they had been issued on a doctor's prescription. Guests were searched, and several who had tranquilizers were threatened with a similar charge.

The police took down from the wall a poster bearing a picture of Mao

Tse-tung. They wanted to know who this was. A guest jokingly remarked that it was Ho Chi Minh before he went on a diet. When the picture was produced in magistrate's court, it was identified as a picture of Ho.

GOLDSMITH and 32 others were taken in patrol cars to the police station. The guests were charged with being present in a disorderly house. They were held from about 3 a.m. to between 6 and 7 a.m., when they posted bond.

Subsequently all the charges were dropped. But they were dropped in such a way that suit for false arrest would be hard to bring.

THOSE CLOSE to the case strongly suspect that the police action was related to the interest of the FBI in Dellinger and the anti-war faction on the university campus. Both the Department of Justice and the FBI say that the FBI had no connection whatsoever with the Pittsburgh incident. More recently, an estimated 75 police showed up at a campus peace rally and observers had the impression they were waiting for trouble to break out so they could move in.

If this is the trend in certain areas, in marked contrast to the sober way the authorities behaved during the massive demonstration in New York, we are in for trouble. There is no denying that inflamed feeling on both sides of the war issue presents the Johnson Administration with a painful dilemma.

PERHAPS THE Pittsburgh case were simply overzealous. But to many of the students carried off in patrol cars it seemed that dissent itself was being punished by the most brutal—and unconstitutional—police methods. (Copyright, 1967, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Depression, A Problem That Can Be Cured

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have had a serious operation and for several months it has left me deeply depressed. What causes this depression and will I recover from it in the near future?

I have cried an ocean of tears and it has caused my loved ones much unhappiness. — H.M.P.

The exact cause of severe depression is not always clear — which is another way of saying that a good deal of the time we just don't know. Fortunately quite a bit has been learned about combatting it.

There are several types of depression, none pleasant but some more readily corrected than others. I will not try to say what type yours is other than to venture a guess that, having come on rather abruptly at the time of your operation, it probably will yield to treatment more easily than other types.

Many small clues, including your sleeping and waking habits, will help a physician decide how best to treat you. Merely telling a person who is in the grip of continuing depression to cheer up does no good at all. He'd like to — but he can't.

In recent years a group of drugs known as psychia energizers have been put to use, and have produced astonishingly good results with many patients. They aren't "pep pills." Rather, they give an emotional lift.

Originally they were used by psychiatrists, but now are employed by general physicians, internists and others. One complaint voiced by specialists was that some physicians were over-cautious in the use of these drugs and did not give quantities which would bring desired results.

Well, caution is a wise trait for any doctor, but now that more information is generally available on the psychic energizers, successful treatment is becoming more prevalent.

These continuing depressions are distinctly a matter of health. Tell your doctor exactly how you feel and behave. If he does not happen to feel sufficiently familiar with the energizers, he can refer you to a psychiatrist or some other physician.

In fact, it is not a bad idea to have a psychiatrist take part at least, to the extent of identifying the type of depression involved. In serious cases a psychiatrist (and sometimes hospitalization) may be necessary.

To learn of the many factors that can be involved in the treatment of hiatal hernia, which concerns the esophagus, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of his booklet, "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It," enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner answers readers' questions in his column whenever possible.

Don Crockett To Head '67-'68 BSBS Council

By ANDREA McCAIN
Don Crockett was elected president of the 1967-68 student council in elections held last week. Bobby Polk and Candy Marcum were chosen first and second vice presidents. Jill Lewis and Ann Garrett will compete in a run-off election for secretary.

Cheerleaders for the varsity team will be Sonja Whittington, Karla Wadsworth and Sue Clark, seniors; and Treonne Reagan and Roe Lynn Bunch, juniors.

The first Spring Festival was held last night at BSBS. The festival was sponsored by the student council. Different booths were conducted by different clubs and organizations on the patio.

Booths were open 6-8 p.m. The Senior Sideshow was held 8-9 p.m. with Steve Compton serving as master of ceremonies.

The Spring Festival Queen was to be crowned by the class raising the most money at the dance climaxing the night's activities at 9 p.m. teacher at BSBS. Sue Fannin was student director and Cindy Dittich was in charge of props. Cast members were Charles Macklin, Steve Compton, Theresa Conner, Martha Jordan, Jan Cole, Janet Perry, Dennis Brewer and Don Crockett.

The play was recently performed for a one-act play contest in Odessa where Charles Macklin was named to the all star cast and Steve Compton received honorable mention.

Several BSBS students were in Odessa yesterday for the Regional UIL contest. Robert Strain appeared in the ready writing contest; Lynn Green and Martha Jordan, journalism; Kirby Horton, Claude Tucker and Joe Baker, sports events. Members of the golf team were in the regional playoffs also.

The a cappella choir will be giving a home concert in the HCJC auditorium Tuesday night. Admission will be $1 per person and the concert will start at 8 p.m.

The choir will leave Big Spring Wednesday, April 26, and journey to Albuquerque, N. M., where they will present a concert at the University of New Mexico.

They will then travel to Las Vegas, N. M., and present a concert at the New Mexico Highland University. They will return to Big Spring Sunday.

NHS OFFICERS
The National Honor Society elected Tom Wood to serve as president of the organization in 1967-68.

Richard Macklin was elected vice president; Annette Fitzhugh, secretary; Ann Garret, treasurer; and Linda Lee Lile, chaplain.

A run-off will be held at the May meeting between Linda Massey and Martha Jordan for reporter.

Eight girls will journey to the state OEA convention in San Antonio for VOE students Thursday through Saturday.

Student Senate Sponsors Frontier Days At HCJC

By JEAN FANNIN
Students will return to the Old West Wednesday through Friday in celebration of Frontier Days at HCJC.

An assembly will be held Wednesday during activity period with Jerry Peurifoy, senate president, and Dal Herring, journalism teacher, in charge of proceedings.

Prizes will be awarded for the "best beard" and most appropriate costumes.

A "paper-shredding party" will be held Thursday afternoon to tear up newspaper for the hayride slated Friday evening.

Students not dressed in accordance with the rules of Frontier Days will be locked up Friday for "indecent exposure."

HAYRIDE
A hayride to Moss Creek and a barbecue will climax Frontier Days activities Friday evening.

ROMANCE... AND A BENT STRAW

When you're in high school and going steady, two can often live as cheaply as one. But who's thinking of economics?

What is important is that when Karen and Dave want to look into each other's eyes — while sharing a milkshake — something just has to give. Karen's straw, of course!

Through the dreamy days of this budding romance they've been learning that lesson over and over. They know how to adjust to each other's moods ... and cares ... and ambitions ... and hopes.

Have they learned the greater lesson — the one that is taught in our churches, and in those homes where religion is real? Have they learned reverence for the spiritual and moral principles on which the sacred institution of marriage rests?

Fleeting romances can endure for a while on bent straws. But honest, blossoming, maturing love demands of a boy and girl convictions that do not bend.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Warsaw's Battle Recreated In Film

In the post-war days of the late forties, Russian builders moved into war-devastated Warsaw to begin work on the construction of a new 'Culture Palace,' the gift of the Soviet Union to the Polish people. The squat grey-stone memorial looked down on the second 'destruction' of this city, which haunted the conscience of the world, during filming of scenes for 'The Night of the Generals,' now at the Ritz Theatre, filmed in Panavision and Technicolor.

In the shadow of its sober dome, beetle-like armored cars and German panzer tanks roared through the narrow cobbled streets. From pillboxes and behind barricades, blank-faced storm troopers watched as houses after house toppled over into the town square amid rubble and flames. After a silence of 20 years, the sidewalks were once again echoing the sinister tramp of German 'jackboots'—with a difference—this time they were being worn by young Polish actors and the destruction, vivid though its reconstruction appears as for the purposes of the film.

"The Night of the Generals," whose plot is set in the dark days of the Nazi occupation era, was filmed in Warsaw and Paris, and it stars Peter O'Toole, Omar Sharif, Tom Courtenay, Donald Pleasence, Joanna Pettet and Philippe Noiret.

The reprisals of the Nazis in Warsaw, including the mining of numerous buildings, play an essential part in the film. To realistically reconstruct the events of this era, an entire town square, consisting of houses and shops, was built by the film crew in the center of the city—only to be subsequently mined with explosive charges and blown up for the purpose of shooting.

"Almost horrifyingly real," was the verdict of Polish bystanders, many of whom were war survivors who had brought their children to give them a glimpse of the city's history. Ace special effects expert Bob MacDonald spent over two months working exclusively on the delicate preparations necessary for the scene.

The reprints of the Nazis in Warsaw, including the mining of numerous buildings, play an essential part in the film. To realistically reconstruct the events of this era, an entire town square, consisting of houses and shops, was built by the film crew in the center of the city—only to be subsequently mined with explosive charges and blown up for the purpose of shooting.

Children's Play

Mrs. Hartman (Kristine Willis) believing the little white girl being held captive by the Indians is her long lost daughter, Regina (Jo Boldin), pleads for the child to recognize her. This is one of the highlights of the National Children's Theatre production of "Regina, the Iroquois Captive," a true story of life in America in 1749, which will be presented by Washington P-TA at 4 p.m. in the City Auditorium Monday.

THE ARTS

Open House Features Regional Exhibit

By JOYCE MERRICK
Big Spring Art Association holds open house from noon to 5:30 p.m. today in the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building where the Region 18 TFAA Citation Exhibit will be on display. An awards ceremony will be held at 4 p.m. There are over 200 paintings registered in the collection from a wide area, including Midland, Odessa, Sweetwater and San Angelo.

One of the year's concert highlights will come to Midland Tuesday when the Midland-Odessa Symphony Orchestra and Chorale along with the Texas Tech choir and four soloists, performs, Verdi's "Requiem." The four soloists will be headed by Metropolitan Opera's Irene Jordan. Others are Willa Stewart, Ray Samuelsen and Don Jones.

The Hardin-Simmons University Theater will be named in honor of a Dallas couple, Mr. and Mrs. Van Calvin Ellis, May 5, the opening night of the school's spring drama production, "Lamp at Midnight."

The theater will be called the "Van Ellis Theater." Dates for the production are May 5-6, 12-13. The Ellis' and a host of friends will be among guests at the opening night performance, a play about Galileo by Barrie Stavis. A plaque, bearing the inscription of the theater name, will be placed at the entrance.

To discover and encourage talented young musicians, the Eastman School of Music will hold its first auditions for pianists in Dallas May 11-12. Auditions are reserved for pianists interested in careers in performance, teaching or accompaniment and those who plan to major in applied music. High school juniors and seniors will be given preference.

Edward H. Easley, Eastman School of Music, 26 Gibbs St., Rochester, N. Y. 14606, has the information.

The high school a cappella choir will present its annual concert tour program Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the HCJC Auditorium. Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. Choir Boosters will be admitted free with membership cards.

The choir leaves Wednesday morning on a five day tour to the campuses of the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque, Highlands University at Las Vegas, and the College of Santa Fe.

Friends of the Howard County Library will meet Thursday, at 7:30 p.m. in the county library. Officers will be elected

Harrison Plays Pope

Rex Harrison, who avoids being type-cast, is once again portraying a character named Julius in "The Agony and the Ecstasy." He recently received acclamation for his interpretation of Julius Caesar in "Cleopatra."

In his new picture, opening tonight at the Jet Theatre, Harrison will be seen as the Renaissance Pope Julius II, another man of monumental accomplishments. And, like Caesar, he was a warrior and a temporal ruler of state. Despite these basic similarities, the two powerful men of history were disparate personalities and therefore suited to Harrison's requirements.

Relaxing between sequences of pageantry and piety that were filmed in an exact duplicate of the Sistine Chapel, Rex Harrison spoke about his understanding of the second Julius. "Few people recall that several centuries ago the function of the Pope was quite different than it is today," he explained. "If Julius had not battled his adversaries—notably the army of Francis I of France—there is a distinct possibility that the Papacy would not exist as it does today in the Vatican City. Chances were that the French king might have crowned himself or his puppet as Pope, after deposing Julius," Rex observed.

"I think it should be carefully noted," Harrison added with authority, "that the screen version of Irving Stone's best seller is a good deal more than the book in some ways, yet covering much less than the novel in terms of years. Remember, Michelangelo lived just two weeks less than 90 years. It would be impossible to cope with all that in a single film."

The CinemaScope Deluxe Color attraction gives a broader image of what his remarkable period of creativity—the Renaissance—was like, with an insight into the multi-faceted personalities and politics of the times. Charlton Heston appears opposite Harrison in the role of Michelangelo, the artistic genius who painted the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel under the prodigal of Julius. Diane Cilento, nominated for an Academy Award for her role in "Tom Jones," shares honors as the Confessio de' Medici.

The collection is arranged according to themes, and it is wide open for the browser. You can dip into it at any point, and be rewarded.

This isn't all show business, either, what with author T. S. Eliot, attorney Joseph Welch, assorted governors and politicians, writers, editors, columnists, corporation executives and even obscure kibbitzers turning up in these pages.

In one respect, this collection serves as an enticing peak into the lively arts through a long era of American public life; that explains why Groucho's letters have been acquired by the Library of Congress.

In another respect, it is a reminder that comic wit need not be bitter, stinging or nasty; that it need not be dirty or vulgar. Groucho made the grade by being genuinely funny—the operative word is "genuinely."

Groucho's Letters

By The Associated Press
Groucho Marx of the famous—and that is the right word—Marx Brothers had such a long, long career in the entertainment business that few Americans above kindergarten age can have missed him. And who would want to miss him? Vaudeville, night clubs, movies, radio, Broadway, television—he had star billing all the way.

This book is at least twice as good as it might have been because it contains letters written to Groucho as well as those he wrote, and there is a lively interplay.

The interesting thing is that the whole celebrity world represented in this collection has been on its mettle in sending off missives to him. His epidemic wit turned epidemic by inspiring his friends and acquaintances to turn a cool phrase.

Tahiti Combines Flavor Of Paris And Polynesia

Papeete, the lively, pulsating capital of Tahiti, will be jumping as it always does on "boat day," when the Matson liner Monterey arrives for two days on The Herald-sponsored cruise tour in August.

The bustle and excitement of this colorful French-owned Pacific crossroads may surprise Monterey passengers visiting the tranquil isle, but the port of Papeete is anything but tranquil.

HEAVY TRAFFIC
The whole town seems to turn out to greet the ship. Passengers step down the gangway to be crowned with coronas, fragrant halos of flowers, bestowed by pretty, barefooted vahines who say "ja orana, ja orana," welcome, welcome.

Traffic is heavy with motorbikes, scooters, small cars, bicycles, taxis and "les trucks," the wooden-sided buses, beloved by local residents. The main street, Quai Bir Hakeim, a short walk from the pier, teems with vehicles and people.

The narrow streets are lined with balconied buildings and fascinating shops featuring souvenirs, curios, fabrics, jewelry and French perfume. The dress-making shop of Marie Ah You, for instance, features the latest Paris imports.

A distinctly Parisian touch also is provided by the Valma Cafe, with its sidewalk tables where you can sip rum punch and coffee and watch people and the activity on the waterfront.

MAGIC SIGHTS
But it is in the 120-mile drive around the island that the Polynesian magic of Tahiti comes through: Blue lagoons enclosed by coral reefs, coconut and vanilla plantations, groves of frangipani trees, here and there an elegant villa and garden, ancient caves where Tahitians buried their dead, fern-dripping grottoes and tumbling waterfalls.

NIGHT LIFE
Half way around the island, you come upon Point Venus with its monument to the visit of Capt. James Cook in 1769. The black sand beach invites you in for a swim. Nearby is the tomb of Tahiti's last monarch, King Pomare V. Such a dedicated imbibor of spirits was Pomare that his people adorned his tomb with a replica of a Benedictine bottle.

Back in town the most talked-about "night life" in the Pacific unfolds as darkness falls. Most famous night spot is Quinn's Tahitian Hut, a big, barn-like building decorated with bamboo and thatch, where islanders and visitors, alike, go to "live it up" or to watch Tahitian dancing, to say the least, is fast, exciting and uninhibited.

Quinn's and the other places close at midnight and the celebrators stream out to the Lafayette, outside city limits, where the merrymaking goes on, and on, and on . . .

LEAVE AUG. 15
It is easy to see why this port has been called "Paris with bare feet." Passengers will find it one of the most intriguing places to be visited on the six-week cruise.

The Monterey will sail August 15 from Los Angeles to Bora Bora, Papeete, Rarotonga, Auckland, Sydney, Noumea, Niuafo'ou ("Tin Can Island"), Pago Pago, Honolulu and Hilo, Hawaii. The Hilo call has been added especially for this cruise. Information and reservations are available from The Herald.

A Look At A Storied Isle

Incomparable sight is this view of Moorea—the original "Bali Hai"—from the island of Tahiti, 12 miles distant. Tahitian fisherman paddles his outrigger canoe toward coral reef which surrounds Tahiti, enjoying late afternoon serene seas. Both Tahiti and Moorea are included on The Herald-sponsored South Pacific cruise aboard the Matson liner Monterey leaving Los Angeles Aug. 15.

Regional Port Vote Slated

FORT WORTH (AP)—Commissioners courts in Tarrant and Dallas counties are expected to call an election for June 6 for voters in the two counties to decide if a bi-county regional airport authority shall be created.

Petitions seeking the election have been delivered to the county clerk's offices in both counties.

More than 15,000 persons signed petitions in Tarrant County. Approximately 36,000 signed a similar petition in Dallas County.

Those circulating the petitions said no organized opposition was found to the plan which calls for building a regional airport southeast of Grapevine.

Selected Queen

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Miss Monique van den Boeynants, daughter of the Belgian prime minister, was selected queen of this year's Norfolk Azalea Festival.
