Several phone calls to Washington later, the FBI carted the reading material off and the plane left for Paris. . . .

Locked Out Of Car

Their movements between New York and Washington, including an incident in which they locked themselves out of their own car, were under constant FBI surveillance and received wide publicity after the story was leaked to news media. . . .

There was a question at first whether the documents were part of a publicity stunt for Deighton's book, but a spokesman for its publisher, G. P. Putnam and Sons, said the package "wasn't from our company." . . .

HHH Stresses Peace

AUSTIN (AP) — America has undertaken a role no nation ever undertook before, "seeking peace for mankind," Vice President Hubert Humphrey told the legislature today. . . .

World Not Same

"The world of 1967 is not the same as the world of 1941," he said. "And that is precisely the point I believe needs to be far better understood, both by our own people and by others in the world." . . .

We Shall Prevail

"Where peace has its enemies, we shall meet them and we shall prevail." Humphrey reiterated that America's commitment in Vietnam is "to protect the peace and to prevent the success of aggression." . . .

Maj. Oxley Killed In Viet Action

Maj. James E. Oxley, former operations officer at Webb AFB, was killed in action Saturday over South Vietnam.

Mrs. Oxley received word late Saturday of his death, and today a confirming telegram came. He was pilot of a B-57 on a strafing run when it was hit. . . .

The body will be returned to Fort Sam Houston where it will be interred with full military honors.

Surviving are his wife and four children, James Dale, 16, Linda Jean, 14, Gary Stephen, 13, and Beverley Anne, 12. They reside at 2501 Rebecca.

Maj. Oxley was a member of the First Baptist Church here and was a Mason and a Shriner. He was born in Kansas City, Mo., and was reared in Arizona where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Oxley, reside at Winslow.

A veteran Air Force pilot, Maj. Oxley had been stationed at San Antonio, three times at Denver, had flown 44 missions before being hit during the Korean campaign, spent three years in Germany, was stationed at Laredo and served two years as exchange officer with the U.S. Navy at Pensacola, Fla., before being assigned to Webb AFB as operations officer in June, 1964. . . .

Kremlin Space Traveler Plummets To His Death Capsule Crashes During Landing

Cosmonaut With Family

MOSCOW (AP) — Cosmonaut Vladimir Komarov plummeted to death from a height of more than four miles when his spacecraft Soyuz 1 tried to land today, the government announced. . . .

It was the first time either of the two space powers has reported the death of an astronaut on an operation. Moscow radio said ropes of the parachute meant to ease the landing twisted, and the ship hit with great force, killing the 40-year-old veteran cosmonaut. . . .

TWISTED CHUTE Tass news agency said the spaceship had passed safely through the most difficult braking stretch in the dense layer of the atmosphere. . . .

However, when the main cupola of the parachute opened at an altitude of seven kilometers — 4.3 miles — the straps of the parachute, according to preliminary reports, got twisted and the spaceship descended at a great speed which resulted in Komarov's death. . . .

SECOND VENTURE Komarov, 40, on his second space venture, rode Soyuz into orbit Sunday amid speculation another would be sent up for an attempt to rendezvous. . . .

The first firm intimation that something might have gone wrong came when the government newspaper Izvestia delayed its Monday evening edition without explanation. . . .

The official announcement said Komarov had completed all missions successfully before the accident. . . .

HERO'S BURIAL He will be given a hero's burial in Red Square. . . .

Komarov's death raised speculation whether the Soviet race to the moon with the United States would be hampered. The fiery death of three U.S. astronauts in an Apollo space capsule on the launching pad of Cape Kennedy Jan. 27 has set back the American program. . . .

The veteran Komarov, a colonel, was the pilot of the Voskhod 1, the first three-man spacecraft to go aloft in October, 1964. He was the first Russian to go into space twice. . . .

BLACK TRIM During a television broadcast the screen was occupied by a portrait — trimmed in black — of the cosmonaut in uniform. . . .

This was the same photograph which — without the black trim — was carried in special editions of Soviet newspapers Sunday when the Soyuz flight was hailed as a triumph. . . .

Soviet news media said the cosmonaut died today but did not give the exact time of the accident nor where this had taken place. . . .

UNCONFIRMED It had been predicted in unconfirmed reports that the Soyuz 1 flight would last up to a week. The death announcement indicated it was meant to end today and everything went all right until the last moments. . . .

There had been speculation that a linkup of Komarov with a second spaceship would be a step toward an orbiting space platform that eventually would be used to rocket a manned capsule to the moon. . . .

Komarov was awarded posthumously the title of hero of the Soviet Union with gold star, this country's highest award. The announcement said a statue in his honor will be erected. . . .

MOURNFUL MUSIC After approximately 10-minute broadcasts, the radio played mournful music and the television screen showed the Soviet space monument and flag. . . .

Tass said the official announcement was made "with great sorrow" by the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party, the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet and the Council of Ministers. . . .

It referred to Komarov as "one of the first space explorers and talented tested of space-ships, member of the Communist party, flier-cosmonaut and hero of the Soviet Union." . . .

Tass said the Central Committee, the Presidium and the Council of Ministers "have expressed deep condolences to the family of the deceased." . . .

SECRET TRIP He and his wife had two children, a 15-year-old son and a 9-year-old daughter. Mrs. Komarov said earlier (See KREMLIN, P. 6-A, C. 7)

Westmoreland Warns Protests To Cost Lives

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland warned today that antiwar protests in the United States "inevitably will cost lives" by encouraging a battered Communist enemy to push his aggression in Vietnam. . . .

"The magnificent men and women I command in Vietnam have earned the unified support of the American people," Westmoreland said. . . .

The four-star general gave his warning and unity appeal in a speech prepared for The Associated Press annual meeting. . . .

The AP members met at the Waldorf-Astoria in the same city where opponents of U.S. involvement in Vietnam staged a massive demonstration nine days ago. . . .

FULL OF FIGHT Reviewing progress of the war, Westmoreland said "the military picture is favorable," but the enemy still is full of fight despite "staggering combat losses." . . .

"The end is not in sight," said the Army general who leads 439,000 American soldiers, Marines, Air Force men and sailors in Vietnam. . . .

"I foresee, in the months ahead, some of the bitterest fighting of the war." "But I have confidence in our battlefield capability. And I am confident of the support we and our allies will continue to receive from our President and from the Congress." . . .

MORE TROOPS Sens. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., and Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., both called at the AP meeting for more combat troops in Vietnam from other Asian nations. . . .

But while Byrd, a strong supporter of President Johnson's Vietnam policies, asked for increased bombing of the North, Percy, a critic of present policies, said previous escalation hardened the enemy's will to resist, increased casualties and alienated world opinion. . . .

It was evident that Westmoreland is concerned that antiwar protests have given the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong enemy "hope that he can win politically that which he cannot accomplish militarily." . . .

SUCCESS SIGNS Associates said this was the main point Westmoreland sought to get across to the American people through his speech to the AP meeting. . . .

Westmoreland put it this way: "I am mindful that the military war in South Vietnam is, from the enemy's point of view, only part of a protracted and carefully coordinated attack, waged in the international arena. . . .

"Regrettably, I see signs of enemy success in that world arena which he cannot match on the battlefield. . . .

"He does not understand that American democracy is founded on debate, and he sees every protest as evidence of crumbling morale and diminishing resolve. . . .

BRAVE ALLIES "Thus, discouraged by repeated military defeats but encouraged by what he believes to be popular opposition to our effort in Vietnam, he is determined to continue his aggression from the North. . . .

"This, inevitably, will cost lives — American, Vietnamese, and those of our other brave allies." . . .

Westmoreland's speech said nothing about any need for additional U.S. forces in Vietnam. The current buildup goal calls for about 470,000 American troops in Vietnam by the end of this year, but Westmoreland reported to want another 100,000. . . .

Chicago Firms Call Lockout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Incomplete returns in voting by Teamsters Union members on a new national contract with the trucking industry were running against acceptance of the agreement today. . . .

Although an official tally was not expected from the union's national headquarters here until later in the day, unofficial totals from some two dozen locals in all parts of the country early this morning had 16,000 voting against the contract and 10,000 in favor of acceptance. . . .

SPOT CHECK Teamsters locals in the Chicago area are refusing to be bound by the national contract. . . .

A spot check indicated that most trucking firms in the five associations stopped operations at midnight Sunday night, the announced starting time for the lockout. . . .

FIRST TIME There was no immediate indication from the union's top officers, spokesmen for the employers or federal officials as to what the next step would be if the national contract were rejected. . . .

Its terms were put together in Washington amid indications that the United States might be about to experience its first nationwide trucking strike. When tentative agreement was announced early April 12, federal mediators halted the development as "a real case of collective bargaining." . . .

Firemen Forced To Swim To Fire

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — To get water to a burning pier, two firemen had to swim. . . .

Firemen Larry Korchak and George Myers, stationed aboard a fireboat, donned diving gear Sunday to swim with hoses beneath the pier and fight flames sweeping a warehouse, drydock and workroom at the Colonial yacht anchorage. . . .

The feat was credited with preventing major damage. . . .

NO COMMENT Only his family and lawyers can visit Hoffa. Catching a glimpse of this labor titan at prison work is just as elusive. . . .

Warden Jacob J. Parker officially declines comment on Hoffa. . . .

"We don't single out any man," the warden says. "The only special effort we make is to treat every one exactly the same. . . .

"We recognize no big shots." But a source inside the prison had this observation of Hoffa now serving an eight-year jury tampering sentence. . . .

LOOKS GOOD "He looks good and is very cheerful. He seems to be making the best of his prison life. He makes friends very easily with other inmates, seems very popular and well-liked. Other men seek him out and he talks to all who greet him. . . .

"He's a good mixer, jovial." Known for his quick temper and sharp tongue, Hoffa reportedly has displayed restraint in his first 49 days behind bars. . . .

OBEDIENT "He accepts the authority, doesn't question it," says the insider who has seen Hoffa at work. "He does what he is told, and cheerfully. He even does more than is expected, does his best in everything, and asks no favors. . . .

In jail, everyone physically able works a 40-hour week. Hoffa is now in the clothing room—sorting, stacking and issuing clothing to fellow inmates. Each prisoner gets four sets of clothing within a week of arrival. Hoffa also takes in dirty laundry, and occasionally sews up mattress covers to replace ripped ones. . . .

NO, NO His prison job is temporarily classified as general maintenance, requiring no special skills. A shortage of classification case workers has delayed a permanent assignment. . . .

Does Hoffa, when he returns to the privacy of his cell at night, still run his union? Absolutely not, says the warden, emphasizing, "Men can't conduct outside business here." . . .

SMART MEN But one ex-convict—whom Parker admitted knew the ropes—says smart men, like Hoffa, can do almost anything they want through their attorney who has visiting privileges at least three days a week. . . .

"When they say Hoffa can't do any business, that's absurd," says the former inmate. "He'll do it through his lawyers." . . .

This could mean that Hoffa slipped out some suggestions concerning the nationwide Teamsters negotiations for a new contract. Hoffa is still getting part of his $100,000-a-year salary as international head of the independent union in the form of a $40,000 annual payment to his wife. . . .

14 CENTS AN HOUR All he can spend though in the prison commissary is $15 a month. As a new inmate, in his job, he earns the minimum of $5.60 a month, or 14 cents an hour. If he moves to better jobs, his pay could increase to as much as $25 a month. . . .

Hoffa, 54, still is undergoing some physical, psychological and ability tests for final classification. Inmates all wear loose-fitting blue-gray twill trousers and a medium-blue shirt. . . .

An inmate's family can see him for a total of three hours a month—and Hoffa's wife and children have been here to see him several times. His lawyers also have visited him but no one will say how often. Hoffa has received hundreds of letters since his March 7 arrival, reportedly more than any other inmate since the prison opened in 1932. Many bear such envelope messages as "To a great guy," and "Keep fighting." . . .

HHH Ignores Peace Pickets

AUSTIN (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey ignored chanting, yelling peace picketers today as he told Texas legislators that the United States has sought peace as no nation ever has before. . . .

The vice president was greeted on the steps of Texas' pink granite Capitol by a crowd of about 50 demonstrators waving signs and singing to the tune of several guitars. . . .

"Humphrey is a sellout, we shall not be moved," sang the group, who said they represented the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) just suspended by the University of Texas for its demonstrations. . . .

"Hey, hey, what do you say, how many kids have you killed today?" they shouted. . . .

Another small group of students waved signs reading "We Support the War in Vietnam" and "Fight for Freedom." . . .

The vice president, with Gov. John Connally, waved cheerily to a group of applauding state employees and ignored both groups of demonstrators. . . .

Earlier a crowd of about 250 applauded on his arrival at the municipal airport. . . .

In the crowded House chamber, closely guarded by Secret Service and state and local police in plain clothes, Humphrey told Texas senators and representatives that America has undertaken a role no nation ever undertook before, "Seeking peace for mankind." . . .

Humphrey was in Texas for a quick, 10-hour visit, going later today to Houston. . . .

Money Bill Debate Due

AUSTIN (AP) — A one-year general appropriation bill leaving about $30 million to $35 million in unspent funds for a teacher pay raise will be debated in the House next Monday or Tuesday, Speaker Ben Barnes said today. . . .

Barnes said the bill was sent to the printer over the weekend and needs just a few changes and corrections before being laid on members' desks, "at least by Tuesday afternoon." . . .

"I don't anticipate it will take more than a day to pass it," he told a news conference. . . .

Much of the conference was devoted to discussion of Gov. John Connally's plan for appropriations a year at a time. . . .

President Expresses America's Sorrow

BONN, Germany (AP) — President Johnson today expressed America's sorrow at the death of former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and invited Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger to visit him at Christmas or any other time.

The President told reporters afterward that he and Kiesinger had reviewed recent contacts between American and West German officials, including Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's recent trip.

He added that Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler would be ready to talk with West German leaders.

AVAILABLE

"I wanted to assure the new government that our people would be available at their request," he said.

Kiesinger has been chancellor since Dec. 1. He has not since visited the United States.

Johnson told reporters he reminded Kiesinger that on several occasions West German chancellors had come to see him during Christmas week. He added that he would be "very happy to see him in the United States at Christmas, or at any other time."

GOLD DRAIN

Johnson also said he and Kiesinger had agreed to meet again Wednesday "to exchange views on several problems of mutual interest."

A spokesman for the West German government said today's talk, which lasted nearly 90 minutes, gave the two men a chance to lay down the topics they will discuss Wednesday. Neither Johnson nor the German spokesman said anything about the nature of the topics. But Johnson's allusion to Fowler indicated he had financial problems on his mind, such as the continuing drain on American gold stocks.

COURTESY CALLS

His talk with Kiesinger was second of the day. He had called on the chancellor and on President Heinrich Lübke, for what a White House spokesman called "pure courtesy calls."

Johnson expressed to Lübke and Kiesinger American sorrow and his own personal sense of loss at the death of Adenauer. His 40-minute conversation with Lübke also ranged over German-American relations and mutual security questions which have arisen since the end of World War II. Lübke also told Johnson that during his recent Asian tour he had found understanding for the American position in Vietnam.

GREAT LOSS

Johnson told the West German president that Adenauer's death was not only a loss to the German people but to the entire free world. He said he had had many exchanges of views with Adenauer and that he had profited from all of them.

Johnson also expressed respect for the German people and for their fortitude in rebuilding Germany after World War II. He said as vice president and later as president he had worked with three West German chancellors and that he appreciated the good relations between the two countries.

APPOINTMENTS

Johnson arrived Sunday night from Washington. His schedule today also included lunch with U.S. Ambassador George C. Mc-

Ghee and top members of his staff and a call on Adenauer's family.

He also had an appointment with ex-Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, who lost his job last November after Johnson insisted on West German fulfillment of promises to buy enough arms in the United States to offset the cost of foreign exchange of maintaining U.S. troops in Germany.

East Texas Forest Target Is Tripled

NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (AP)—A goal of 70 million acres of tree farms—more than triple the total area of East Texas—has been set by the forest industry to meet the nation's wood needs.

Lacy H. Hunt, Texas Forests Industrial Committee chairman, said private woodland owners must provide 86 per cent more wood by the year 2,000 to meet the demand.

King Sponsors Viet Project

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King says he is sponsoring a "Vietnam summer" project aimed at halting "one of the most bloody, futile wars in U.S. history."

He described the project Sunday as a "most necessary program that may well determine the destiny of our nation," and said "we must go all out to build a powerful peace bloc."

King made the announcement at a news conference with Dr. Benjamin Spock, and Robert Scheer, editor of Ramparts magazine.

The program will parallel the 1964 civil rights movement, said Chester Hartman, assistant professor of Harvard's Department of City Planning and acting executive director of the Vietnam Summer Project in Cambridge.

He said 10,000 volunteers will be sought to conduct the nationwide program. They will be trained by a staff of 200, most of them "experienced civil rights and peace organizers."

Hartman said the project will include sponsoring referendums in municipal elections asking an end to the war, boycotting suppliers of war goods, conducting anti-draft activities, and asking congressmen to hold public hearings on Vietnam.

King and the other leaders were greeted by cheers, applause and sign-carrying opponents of the peace movement.

Judging Date For Knott Set

KNOTT — Knott will find out soon after May 9 if it is a winner in the Texas Electric Service Company's community improvement project.

Announcement has been made that the judges who will decide whether Knott or Fluvanna, in Scurry County, will win the cash prize for this extension district, will visit both communities, May 9.

Knott and Fluvanna are the only communities in the competition.

The judges will be in Fluvanna at 9 a.m. and will be in Knott around 2 p.m. the same day.

Knott citizens have put in a busy year carrying out an assortment of improvement projects in their community.

The judges are to be Bill Braden, area information officer for the extension service; Mrs. Juanette Gentry, Garza County home demonstration agent; Mrs. Aubrey Russell and Bill Gunter, the two district extension agents for this district.

GOP GALS BATTLE Pilot Predicts Federation Win

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gladys O'Donnell predicts she'll be a 2 to 1 winner in the race for the presidency of the 500,000-member National Federation of Republican Women.

A veteran of GOP politics, Mrs. O'Donnell, a Long Beach, Calif., businesswoman and air race pilot is running as head of a "unity team" ticket — the official slate of the federation's nominating committee.

She says she may have to concede her home state but otherwise "it looks extremely good" now to beat Phyllis Schlafly for the presidency.

CAMPAIGN WRITER
Mrs. Schlafly, 43, Alton, Ill., author of the 1964 campaign booklet "A Choice Not an Echo" and now federation first vice president, plans to make a floor fight at the federation's May 5-6 convention here. There are 4,649 eligible delegate votes.

Mrs. Schlafly also claims victory and was campaigning last week as a delegate and speaker at the Daughters of the American Revolution's congress, while Mrs. O'Donnell has been speech-making in the South.

FIRST TIME
The two contenders appeared for the first time on the same speaking circuit last Thursday at the Georgia Federation of Republican Women in a bid for that state's 94 delegates. But they didn't even meet while circulating at an hour-long reception.

The issue between the two is mainly a matter of degree of conservative Republicanism. Mrs. O'Donnell has been described as a moderate conservative, Mrs. Schlafly as far right.

"I'm just a plain, uncomplicated Republican," Mrs. O'Donnell said in a telephone interview. She contended "we must accommodate the complete spectrum of Republican thinking and maintain a climate in which all Republicans can be comfortable and feel welcome. This is the only road to victory."

Mrs. O'Donnell thinks the big issue in politics today — "the one on which the next election may be won" — is Vietnam. In a credo she is distributing, she declares "there is no substitute for victory" and she calls U.S.-Vietnam policy "terribly mismanaged."

Nearly 5 feet 8, with short reddish-blond hair, blue eyes and a soft voice, Mrs. O'Donnell is a widow with five grandchildren. A native of Whittier, Calif., she runs a crude oil business. A former Powder Puff Derby women's air race winner,

Mercury Dips To Freezing In Panhandle

By The Associated Press
Chilly weather spilled southward from the nation's midsection to cool northern areas of Texas today, dropping temperatures as low as 30 at Dalhart.

South Texas remained summery. Brownsville cooled only to 78 degrees for an overnight low.

The weather calmed in all sections of the state after nearly a week of violent thunderstorms which lasted into Sunday over parts of Central Texas.

VICIOUS WINDS
Vicious winds unroofed a lumber yard, broke power lines, damaged some homes and toppled trees at Burnet. The roof also blew off a barn 12 miles north of Georgetown.

Destructive hail battered orchards and fields around Hamilton for a second straight day, and hail stones the size of golf balls damaged roof tops, trees and shrubbery in Austin. Deputy Sheriff Glen Turnbow reported hail as big as hen eggs pounded an area east of Belton.

Despite the noticeable chill, the Panhandle escaped a hard freeze which had been expected. Forecasts had promised readings down to 25 degrees.

COOLER AIR
Besides the Dalhart reading, Amarillo and Perryton recorded 33 degrees, Lubbock 35 and El Paso and Childress 39. Wichita Falls' 41 was two degrees below the previous record for April 24, set in 1944.

The temperatures dropped behind a cold front which entered the state Sunday and kept on moving southward. Weather Bureau observers expected its forward edge to stall during the day along a line from Lufkin eastward through San Antonio, Junction and Wink.

Forecasts called for cooler air to spread over southern areas of the state Tuesday while the northern sector warms a bit and scattered showers crank up. Thermometers soared to Sunday afternoon highs of 101 degrees at Alice and McAllen. Most other points registered highs in the 80s and 90s.

Two Killed When Truck Hits Cow, Veers Into House

ALVORD, Tex. (AP)—A large truck, disabled after hitting a cow, veered through a fence and into the house of John Marshall early today, killing Marshall, 74, and one man in the truck.

Richard Henry Rogers of Fort Worth was the second victim. A second person in the truck, whom police could not identify, was in satisfactory condition at a Bridgeport hospital. Officers did not know which was the driver.

Investigators said the truck apparently hit a cow one mile south of Alvord on US 81-287, jamming the truck's bumper against its front wheels. The careening truck plunged through the bedroom of Marshall's house. Alvord is in Wise County 12 miles northwest of Decatur.

Demos Fear War Impact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many congressional Democrats fear if the Vietnam war is no nearer an end in 1968 than it appears now voter dissatisfaction will make it difficult for them and President Johnson to win reelection.

But others believe even if no clear advance toward peace is made, the voters will not take it out on them and will support the President.

An Associated Press canvass turned up 102 Democrats who said they believe that if the conflict shows no signs of being resolved Johnson's chances of being re-elected will be diminished.

Thirty members of the House and Senate felt that the war would not damage Johnson's political position and 39 declined to speculate. There are 311 Democrats in Congress.

Senators and House members whose seats will be at stake next year felt they had a generally better chance than the President of surviving any protest vote. Eighty-eight said the war won't affect their chances of reelection but 55 admitted it would be tougher for them to hold office if the war grinds on without any letup in sight.

Some thought the Republican presidential candidate is likely to wind up supporting Johnson's Vietnam policy but Rep. Ray J. Madden, D-Ind., was not one of these.

"The Republican party cannot win on local issues in this country," Madden said, "so they are now going to base their campaign on the Vietnam war. But if the Democratic party will come out on the issues of the last presidential election and campaign on those issues, we'll win."

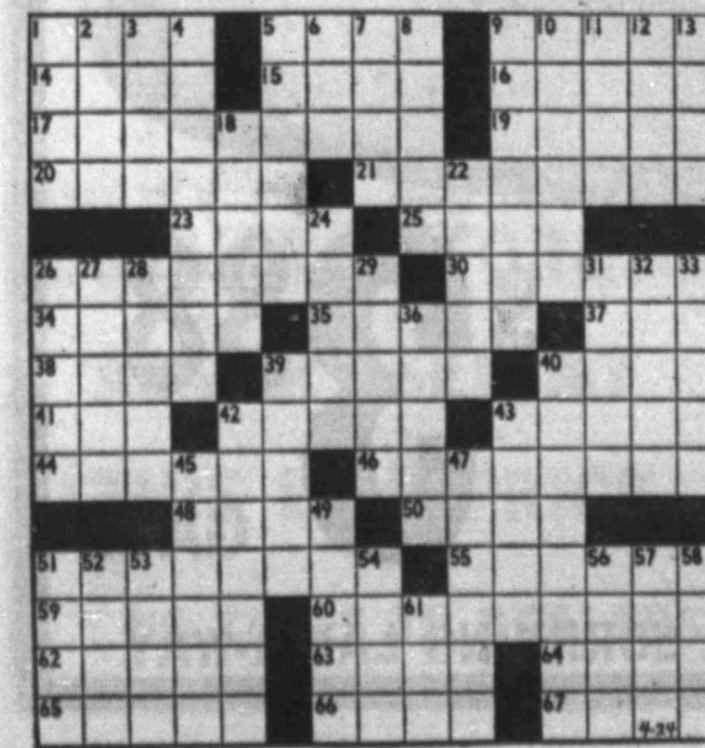

Rep. Tom Bevil, D-Ala., noted that Republican leaders had said the war would not be a campaign issue, but he still thinks it will. He added it could have adverse effects on Johnson's chances.

Rep. Kenneth J. Gray, D-Ill., said he thinks a strong opponent would have a chance of defeating Johnson if there is no end of the fighting in sight. He didn't name such an opponent, but he said he thinks Johnson could beat either former Vice President Richard M. Nixon or Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill.

Little 'Soldier' Makes Believe Amid Store Damage

Survivors Of Twisters Prepare To Bury Dead

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavy, wet snowflakes fell amid the debris Sunday as residents of tornado-ravaged northern Illinois communities cleared the rubble, patched their homes and prepared to bury their dead.

The snowstorm, heaviest on record so late in the spring in Chicago, hampered cleanup operations in Oak Lawn, Belvidere and Lake Zurich. These areas were hardest hit by twisters that rampaged across the top of the state and into Michigan Friday, killing 53, injuring hundreds and causing damage estimated as high as $50 million.

Four inches of snow fell on hundreds of workers at Belvidere.

SADNESS

A spirit of optimism, tempered by sadness, prevailed. Hubert Kay stood in front of his ruined house and said: "The ones with dead, they're the ones. It took us 2 1/2 years to build this house. The wind tore it down in two minutes. But you can build a house back again."

Funeral services for many of the victims were planned for today and Tuesday. Most schools in the Oak Lawn area planned to hold classes today, but those in Belvidere will remain closed until Wednesday while pupils help with the cleanup and attend funerals of their classmates.

Father Wins Appeals Suit In Son's Death

The father of a young man shot to death as he worked at his job is entitled to compensation under Texas compensation laws, the Texas Court of Civil Appeals has ruled in a case tried here.

The appeals court has affirmed the judgment and findings of Ralph Caton, judge of the 118th District Court, in the case of M. A. Hampton vs. Travellers Insurance Co.

In this case, Judge Caton gave Hampton a judgment against the insurance company in the sum of $11,030 for compensation in the death of his son, Tony, and $500 allowance for funeral expenses.

The case is regarded as of legal importance since there are very few cases on file in Texas courts which deal with the issues and circumstances in such incidents.

Tony Hampton, son of the plaintiff in the case, was an employe of Pinkie's Liquor Store on the Lamesa Highway March 16, 1966.

That night, as he and Wayne Patterson, a fellow employe were closing up the establishment and leaving by the rear door, William Patterson, a cousin of the latter employe, shot and killed both Hampton and Wayne Patterson as they emerged from the store.

The slayer was later ruled insane and is now in the State Hospital for the Criminally Insane at Rusk. Testimony in the case showed he was not acquainted with Tony and had

Mrs. James B. Drake, who has been a deputy tax collector assigned to the automobile tax office for the past two years, has resigned, it was announced by Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector. She said that Mrs. Drake's resignation is effective May 1. Mrs. LeFevre said that she regretted to see the deputy leave and praised her work in the office. Mrs. Drake has no plans to seek other employment. She intends, she said, to devote herself to being a housewife.

CLAIMS STATIONS

The Small Business Administration set up emergency claims stations today in Oak Lawn, Belvidere and Lake Zurich to process loan applications from owners of storm-damaged property.

Thomas Gause, regional director of the SBA, said 650 homes in Lake, Boone and Cook counties were destroyed by the tornadoes, 450 received major damage, and 900 were damaged lightly.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., toured the stricken areas Sunday. "The tragedy of broken families is beyond description," he said, "but the strength of spirit under adversity was inspiring to behold."

Relatively few persons have had to set up housekeeping in Red Cross shelters. "Evidently, almost everyone had family or friends to go to, even Friday night," said Grace Fossetti, a Red Cross coordinator at Belvidere.

One hundred twenty-seven persons injured in the tornadoes remained in hospitals in the no quarrel with him in any manner.

Hampton sued for compensation on the grounds his son was killed while working at his job and through no fault of his own. His death, the father argued, was an accident.

Judge Caton ruled for Hampton and ordered the insurance company to pay Hampton $35 a week for 350 weeks ($11,030.00) and $500 to help with funeral expenses.

The company appealed and the higher court has now affirmed the judgment of the lower court.

Powell Not Part-Negro?

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Adam Clayton Powell, estranged wife of the ousted and re-elected Harlem congressman, says her husband once told her he wasn't really part-Negro, but she doesn't know whether it was "just another of his stories."

Mrs. Powell, who in a Ladies' Home Journal article charges Powell with countless "stories" about his relations with other women, says he told her before their marriage that he was "not really a Negro."

Powell has said publicly a number of times — apparently with tongue in cheek — that he wouldn't be surprised if there weren't a drop of Negro blood in his veins.

Yvette Powell, a Puerto Rican, the clergyman's politician's third wife, wrote in the article:

"According to his official history, three of his grandparents were white; the fourth, the man from whom he gets the name Powell, was a Negro and a former slave."

"In truth, he told me, he was not related by blood to his grandfather Powell, and was the son of a white man; but he was legally adopted by grandfather Powell and was reared as a Negro."

Mrs. Powell quoted the congressman, who is ruddy-skinned, with aquiline features and slightly wavy hair, as saying that "The world thinks I'm a Negro son of a Negro father and calls me a Negro, and that's all right with me."

RAIL STRIKE LOOMS Collective Bargaining Falls Flat On Its Face?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation is on the verge of a nationwide railroad strike because "collective bargaining has fallen flat on its face," say the secretaries of labor and transportation.

The warning from Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Secretary of Transportation Alan S. Boyd came Sunday after a special mediation board in the contract dispute between railroad management and six shop-craft unions announced "a complete impasse" in negotiations.

FINAL APPEAL

The breakdown came only one day after President Johnson issued "one final appeal" to the parties to settle.

The threatened strike could begin May 3, expiration date of a special congressional provision which had moved back an earlier April 13 strike deadline. Charles Fahy, chairman of the three-man mediation board, said both sides have rejected the board's settlement recommendation.

The unions want a 6.5 per cent wage increase, management has offered 5 per cent and the board recommended 6 per cent. The workers now average $2.90 an hour. Earlier the railroads had accepted the board proposal.

IT'S A SHAME

Wirtz and Boyd said in a statement, "It is a shame for democracy to be put on trial over so small a disagreement."

Johnson said Saturday "the matter is one of dollars and cents alone, and the real differences between the parties are not great."

But the railroads' chief negotiator, J. E. Wolfe, said there were "matters of principle" involved and that Johnson had been misled.

Fahy said after separate meetings, joint meetings with mediators and a joint session without mediators that "the parties are on call."

Wirtz and Boyd said, "We will keep trying to find the answer to this case but there should be no illusions about the critical seriousness of the prospects."

The unions represent 137,000 workers.

Chill Wind Whips County Area

A chill east wind, which whipped into town some hours before dawn today, reminded Big Springers that summer is not yet here and that it can still get cool.

The official low for the night was 46 degrees, and at 8 a.m. the mercury was only two degrees above the minimum.

High on Sunday, which was rated as a beautiful day, was 82.

The forecast for today calls for a continuance of the same sort of weather, with a warming trend, accompanied by possible thundershowers, on tap tonight.

U. S. Planes Stage First MIG Airfield Attacks

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force and Navy planes made their first attack of the Vietnam war today on MIG jet airfields in North Vietnam, while some 20,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops made a massive assault on three Communist jungle redoubts in War Zone C.

A U.S. command spokesman said U.S. Air Force F4C Phantoms hit one North Vietnamese airfield at Hoa Lac, 19 miles west of Hanoi, while Navy A4s and A6s hit a second jet field at Kep, 37 miles northeast of Hanoi.

Pilots reported both missions were successful, U.S. headquarters said, but there was no report of the damage.

91 ENEMY DEAD

Elsewhere in the ground war, U.S. Marine and Army infantrymen clashed repeatedly with scattered enemy forces in South Vietnam's threatened northern provinces. The U.S. command reported a total of 91 enemy dead.

In the Communist C Zone

north of Saigon, helicopter-borne troops fanned out through the bomb-scarred, defoliated countryside behind thick smoke-screens laid by other helicopters.

As the advancing ground troops uncovered supply caches and stubborn guerrillas, heavy tanks of three armored squadrons crashed wide lanes in the jungle and mowed down clearings for future helicopter assaults.

FOUR BRIGADES

The operation, named Manhattan, put about four brigades of American troops and a regiment of Vietnamese into the field, plus supporting armor, artillery and aviation battalions.

The American units were deployed on both sides of the Saigon River about 30 miles north-west of Saigon, with troops from the 25th Division along the southern sector and 1st Infantry Division troops on the north.

Three Vietnamese battalions were moving overland northwest from Ben Cat through the Ben Suc region cleared in January during Operation Cedar Falls.

SNIPER FIRES

Contact was reported light, though some U.S. tanks blew up on land mines, sniper fire was encountered and a Vietnamese unit engaged a small enemy force outside Ben Cat.

The object of the large move is to sweep through supply areas reportedly restocked by logistics companies of the Viet Cong 9th Division that was hit badly during the recent Operation Junction City deeper in War Zone C.

The new escalation in the air war came after a week of unusually heavy MIG activity in which U.S. fliers claimed to have shot down two of the Communist jets and said they probably got five others. The loss of one U.S. plane to MIGs also was reported.

CLASH FEARS

Advocates of an intensified war against the North Vietnamese have long advocated attacking the MIG fields around Hanoi, contending while the number of U.S. planes lost to MIGs has not been high, their presence has often reduced the efficiency of American attacks.

Strategists who opposed attacking the fields argued that the effect would merely be to drive them north of the Chinese border to fields in Red China, and the result might be a clash between U.S. and Chinese forces if attacking Red planes were pursued north of the border.

NO REPORT

Spokesmen said there was no report of how many aircraft were hit or how many were on the fields when the attacks were made.

Fighting erupted at widely scattered points in the five-province, 1st Corps area leading to North Vietnam. U.S. and Vietnamese warplanes supported ground actions inside the country, and American fliers flew 96 strike missions Sunday against North Vietnam.

FOUR RAIDS

Strategic Air Command B52 bombers made four raids today, including one in the demilitarized zone that edged over into North Vietnam.

Most of the focus of the war again centered on the northern area just below the buffer zone, where more than 8,000 American Army troops have been moved to help take pressure off Marine units.

It also was disclosed today that a Marine task force made a major amphibious landing Saturday in that region to begin a search-and-destroy drive near the old imperial capital of Hue. No contact was reported so far in the operation, called Beacon Star.

MILL MAILED

Headquarters spokesmen said that in the most significant ground contact, troops of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division engaged an enemy force of unknown size and called in artillery and air strikes in support. When the fighting died down, 50 enemy dead were reported counted. There was no report of U.S. casualties.

Air strikes into North Vietnam Sunday included the 11th raid on the Thai Nguyen steel mill 38 miles north of Hanoi. Pilots reported direct hits on an open-hearth furnace and said smoke was rising 3,000 to 4,000 feet in the air after the attack.

Asked what was left of the plant after the repeated attacks and after extensive destruction reported previously, an officer replied that the plant apparently still offered worthwhile targets. He said the complex covers eight square miles.

Other targets hit in the North by Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps pilots included a surface-to-air-missile site, trucks, bridges, storage areas and water traffic.

Reserve Officers Sets Annual Meet At Houston

An impressive array of military speakers is on tap for the Texas State convention of the Reserve Officers Association of the United States, to be held May 5-6 at Houston's Sheraton Lincoln Hotel, according to Lt. Col. Charles Westbrook, USAF, Pasadena, program chairman. Business sessions will open at 9 a.m. Saturday, with Houston's Mayor Louie Welch as official welcomer.

Morning section meetings will have the following speakers: Army — Col. Robert D. Offer, deputy commander, Eighth US Army Corps, Austin; Maj. Gen. Horace B. Hanson, USAF, Washington, National ROA president; Navy — Capt. J. E. Peek, USNR, assistant chief of staff for Naval Reserve Training, Eighth Naval District, New Orleans; Capt. John C. Allman, USN, commander of Naval Training Center, Houston; Air Force — Col. Lester C. Hess, deputy assistant chief of staff for Reserve Forces, Headquarters USAF, Washington; and Lt. Col. Sherman S. Reed, Reserve Affairs Officer, Headquarters Command, Bolling AFB, Wash.

Noon luncheon speaker will be Astronaut (Lt. Col.) Thomas J. Borgstrom, USAF, Manned Spacecraft Center (NASA) Houston. Commander Jack Penman, USNR, a Houston attorney, is new incoming president of the Houston chapter, ROA, hosting the fete.

Now Possible To Shrink Hemorrhoids Without Surgery Stop Itch - Relieve Pain

... Except In Unusually Severe Or Persistent Cases.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a substance with the ability, in most cases — to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain without surgery except in unusually severe or persistent cases.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H® — the only formula containing Bio-Dyne®. Preparation H also helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Supreme Court To Hear U.S.-Texas Oil Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court said today it will hear new arguments and try to settle a dispute between the federal government and Texas over oil-rich submerged land in the Gulf of Mexico.

Three Hurt In Car Crash

A two-car collision at Third and Gregg late Saturday night sent three persons to the Webb AFB hospital, but only one remained and will not be dismissed until late in the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Bishop, 105 E. 13th, occupants of one of the vehicles, and Frankie J. Schalk, Webb AFB, occupant of the other vehicle were all taken to Webb AFB Hospital but only Bishop remained there today. Bishop's wife and Schalk were treated and released over the weekend.

Douglas Sadler, Railroader

Douglas C. Sadler, 76, died suddenly at 11 p.m. Saturday in a local hospital.

Texas from allowing private companies to bid for drilling rights in the Gulf.

The Justice Department had asked the court to replace the temporary restraining order with a preliminary injunction. This the court refused to do, noting that Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin had advised the court that "Texas does not intend to lease any of the converted area pending determination of this controversy."

As to the larger issue, the dispute over the submerged land, the court directed the Justice Department to present its views in legal papers by July 25 and directed Texas to reply by Sept. 25. The court will not be in session at that point and presumably will announce when it will hear the case after its return in October.

The order noted that Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justice Tom Clark took no part in consideration of the case. The dispute is an old one. In 1953 the federal submerged land act granted the Gulf states of Texas, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama title to submerged lands up to 3 1/2 miles from their coastline—and up to 10 1/2 miles if they could prove historic title.

In 1960 the Supreme Court held that the government is entitled to all the lands, minerals and other natural resources underlying the Gulf more than 3 1/2 miles seaward from the coast lines of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama and more than 10 1/2 miles seaward from the coast lines of Texas and Florida.

The states were enjoined by the court "from interfering with the rights of the United States in such lands, minerals and resources."

The problem facing the court is where Texas' coastline is to be fixed. The Justice Department claims it should be set at Texas' coastline in 1845, the year the state joined the union. This would not include artificial harbor works or jetties in Sabine Pass, off Port Arthur, or Galveston harbor.

Texas claims the proper baseline from which to measure the state's grant under the 1953 congressional act is from the outermost permanent harbor works. U.S. Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall said the jetties extend the original coastline a mile or more.

The temporary restraining order was issued after the Justice

Department told the court prospective drilling is more than 16,000 acres of submerged land is involved in the U.S.-Texas dispute.

Small Groups Map Violence?

NEW YORK (AP)—A civil rights leader warns that small extremist groups seem to be planning racial violence in New York this summer and would spread trouble to nine major cities.

Eugene Callender, executive director of the New York Urban League, said Sunday that while he did not want to be an alarmist "there seems to be a real plan underfoot" to bring violence to New York's streets.

"There are some small groups, small cells of groups that are talking about the possibility of violence," he warned. Some young men in Negro communities, he said, are wearing buttons stating: "The bread is rising."

If violence breaks out here, or in Los Angeles, Cleveland, St. Louis, Baltimore, Chicago, Philadelphia, Nashville, Atlanta or Newark, it would spread to the others, Callender said.

"There are obviously links between cities. I know this to be a fact. Many of the extremist groups in our community have relationships with groups in other communities," he said on the CBS radio program, "Let's Find Out."

The only solution, Callender said, is to pump anti-poverty funds into programs that would get jobs.

The warning of potentially explosive problems in 10 cities across the country was similar to ones made on separate occasions last week by Dr. Martin Luther King and Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y.

Meanwhile, on WCBS-TV's "Newsmakers," Rep. Emanuel Celler predicted Congress would pass no civil rights legislation this year or in the immediate future.

Busy Week Ahead For Girls In Annual Beauty Contest

Thirty-seven young ladies are in for a busy week as they prepare for the annual Miss Big Spring Pageant which comes up Saturday evening at the Municipal Auditorium.

The sponsoring Jaycees have a tight schedule arranged, starting with the first rehearsal at 7:30 p.m. today in the auditorium. Tuesday there will be another rehearsal at the same time and place, followed by a dance for the girls and their guests.

Wednesday brings up a noon television show for the seniors, followed by a rehearsal at the auditorium. Seniors will bring their talent props to this session.

The Thursday rehearsal moves a notch nearer the real things with all girls bringing their heels. Seniors again will bring their talent props.

Dress rehearsal comes up Friday at the auditorium. The entries are to bring their heels, evening gowns, and swim suits to compare with pageant dress.

Saturday at 10:30 a.m. the young ladies will be featured in a downtown parade, which originates at Seventh and Johnson. At noon they will be spotlighted at the judges' luncheon.

Sue Frazier, last year's Miss Big Spring, will be here to crown her successor, and Susan K. Logan, the reigning Miss Texas, also will come here for the pageant. She has an afternoon engagement opening Six Flags Over Texas and will be flown here for the special appearance. She will be honored at a reception immediately after the pageant.

The "junk car" ordinance, which has led to lengthy commission discussions during the past several months and has been attacked by several residents, has been rewritten and will be given a hearing. As prepared for the commission, it will not be read at three successive meetings of the commission, but will be effective immediately.

In other business, Franklin D. Gainax asks the commission for a permit for on-premise consumption of beer at the "Mayrick Lounge," located at 3417 US 80 west.

A new ordinance, calling for the regulation of private detectives, investigators and night-watchmen will be considered. It provides for a license for such operations; demands a bond of $20,000; sets forth requirements for persons operating such a business; and provides penalties for violators.

Other routine matters include consideration of the recommendations of the parks and recreation board, fourth and final reading of the annexation ordinance of the service station west of town, and second reading of the zoning change for the lot at Nineteenth and Scurry, from Zone R (retail) to Zone C (commercial).

Claims will be presented by Elmo Wasson and Oscar Glickman, for flood damages caused by a broken city water line on Main Street downtown. Wasson asks $664.34 and Glickman asks $391.62.

Marie Rowland, real estate agent, in a letter is appealing the planning and zoning commission ruling against a zone change for the lot at the Main and FM 700 intersection. It was requested that the lot be changed from Zone IF-2 (one family residence) to Zone R (retail) for expansion of the trailer renting firm. The zoning board denied the request.

An amended ordinance that could make the prohibition against Sunday sales of beer, wine and ale track state law will be considered. As the present ordinance stands, it is contrary to state law, and thus not enforceable.

AMERICAN LEGION

Seminole Man Heads District

Billy Bond of Seminole was elected the new 19th District commander of the American Legion, during the weekend convention here. Mrs. Ellis Schmidt of Slaton was elected president of the Auxiliary.

BILLY BOND

Delegates from 15 American Legion posts in the district attended the parley, held in the Settles Hotel. There were 126 registered, according to Ellis Schmidt, of Slaton, district commander.

George Zachariah, mayor pro-tem and past commander of the Howard County post, welcomed the delegates to Big Spring, with C. G. McKinzie, of Lubbock, giving the response.

Meade F. Griffin, associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court, was the speaker, outlining the history of the Legion and the part it has played in helping shape a better America. He is a veteran of both World Wars and a charter member of the Legion when it was organized at the close of World War I.

Business sessions were held Saturday and Sunday, with time out for delegates to attend church services. The annual ball was held in the Settles Ballroom Saturday evening, with a large attendance.

Other district officers elected included McKinzie, vice commander; Carl Knappe, Big Spring, sergeant at arms; Clarence E. Cone, Brownfield, historian.

A resolution, placing Knappe, a past commander of the local post as a candidate for the department's sergeant at arms post, was passed unanimously.

Bond is a two-term past post commander and immediate past district vice commander. He is the first veteran of the Korean War to be elected commander of the 19th District.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Atlantic Richfield Co. reported today net income of $32,526,000 for three months ended March 31. This compared to $30,083,000 last year.

Speculation began immediately that something had happened to prevent the reported plans from being carried out. Observers here considered it possible that a second launching would still take place, but later.

There was also speculation that Soyuz 1 was simply a test flight of the new ship and it would be brought down soon without any spectacular maneuvers with another spaceship.

Soyuz 1, sent up Sunday, was the first Soviet manned satellite into space in 25 months. The last one was on March 18, 1965, when Alexei Leonov took the first walk in space.

Much of the long pause in the Soviet manned space program was believed due to the development of a new and more advanced spacecraft, presumably Soyuz 1.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, quoted Komarov as saying the Soyuz "differs considerably from our previous machines" but did not say how. It is believed bigger and heavier.

Three theft reports were made to police late Saturday night and Sunday.

Florence Randall, 1063 Aylford, reported she had parked her car behind Dave's Cafe on Bell Street and had left her purse in the car. When she returned, the purse containing $30 was gone.

Mrs. Joe Herbert, 1904 Dixie, reported parts had been removed from her car.

Paul Alexander, 1300 Montmouth, reported an auto stereo, 22 tapes and four wire hubcaps had been taken from his car during the weekend. Total loss was estimated at $300.

James Cadzow, 2007 Rannels, reported sugar had been poured into his gas tank and crankcase while it was parked at the Red Barn Restaurant.

Bids for alterations, additions and rehabilitation on five city school plans will be opened by the Big Spring Independent School District Board at 2 p.m. Tuesday afternoon.

The bids will involve work on Boydston, Bauer, Cedar Crest, College Heights and Gollard schools.

Bids on the clearance of structures and materials from the old football and baseball field just north of the high school grounds will be opened at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

At the regular meeting of the board Tuesday night at 7 p.m. the bids for these projects will be considered and acted upon by the members.

Forecasts Trends In Furniture

Forecasts of trends in home furnishings were given by Jack Watkins of the Good House-keeping Shop when he was guest speaker Friday afternoon at the meeting of the Woman's Forum.

Mrs. Paul Kionka, 1610 Pennsylvania, was hostess, and Mrs. Knox Chadd was cohostess. The speaker was introduced by the president, Mrs. L. B. Maulden. Watkins pointed out that decorating for homes in this part of the country differs from what it would be in a more metropolitan area. Here it is more relaxed, he said, but homes and rooms should still show the personality of the resident rather than the decorator. He noted that a great deal more attention is being paid now to color than in other years but stressed that it should not be overdone, nor should accessories, or a room would appear "too busy." The psychology of color is being considered now more than ever to blend with the desired mood or atmosphere of the home.

Watkins observed that there are more than 11,000 furniture manufacturers in the United States at this time but only a few are relatively well-known. Twenty years ago, the three main furniture types were American Modern, Duncan Phyfe and French Provincial. Now there are varying degrees of all three. The Mediterranean style includes Italian, French and Spanish, while the French is either ornate or provincial. Still in popular use are the Early American or Contemporary Modern furnishings.

Furniture is usually purchased to provide from 10 to 40 years of use, said Watkins, who predicted that by 1980, the most popular will be mahogany or other dark woods. Painted or marble-accented furniture has its place, he continued, but should be used sparingly. He concluded by saying that nothing takes the place of wool carpeting.

During the business session, Mrs. Ennis Cochran, a guest, expressed appreciation for the forum's continued support of the state hospital's Buck-A-Month project and said there is a need for washable good clothing for both men and women patients.

Mrs. Maulden and Mrs. W. N. Norred reported on the recent district convention in Midland. Refreshments were served, and the next meeting was scheduled with Mrs. Marshall Cauley as hostess.

Girl Scout Banquet Held Friday

Fathers were introduced by their daughters and proficiency badges were awarded at the Father-Daughter Banquet of Girl Scout Troop 131 Friday evening at Furr's Cafeteria.

Mrs. Bob Rybolt is troop leader, assisted by her husband. Special recognition was given Mrs. Donald Barber, cookie chairman; Mrs. Herman Smith, troop committee chairman; and Mrs. Ben Daugherty, substitute leader.

Donna Barber was honored for selling the most cookies, and proficiency badges went to Kay Daugherty, Susan Smith, Wannah Rybolt, Cheri Horn, Leigh Roark, Connie Gomez, Amy Barbee, and Diane Kester.

Junior Auxiliary Sees Fall-Out Film

W. D. Berry, Howard County Civil Defense director, was guest speaker and showed a film on nuclear fall-out at the Wednesday meeting of the American Legion Junior Auxiliary at the Legion Post.

Berry told that nuclear fall-out is determined by radiation meters and discussed the standards required for a shelter to prevent radiation burns. A question and answer period followed the program.

American Legion members and the Legion Auxiliary were guests. Refreshments were served by the girls to approximately 25.

Mary Jane Club Hosts Open House

COAHOMA (SC) — Final plans were made at the Thursday meeting of the Mary Jane Club in the home of Mrs. Donald Duke to assist with the open house at Coahoma High School Sunday.

Members served as hostesses. Mrs. Harold Fraser presided and announced that arrangements have been made to transport a child from Coahoma to the Rehabilitation Center in Big Spring. The refreshment table was covered with a white cloth with pottery and silver appointments. Eleven attended.

Garden Council Show Judges Award Top Honors To Five

When the Big Spring Council of Garden Club's standard flower show was opened to the public Saturday afternoon five local women had top-ranking awards to add to their collections, and many others had ribbons attesting to their first wins in a major show.

"Through the Years" was presented at Highland Center with the Sweepstakes Award in horticulture going to Mrs. Adrian Randle. In this division, Mrs. Randle took an Award of Merit with her roses, as did Mrs. W. D. Caldwell. Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow received the Award of Merit with irises.

In the artistic division, Mrs. Jesse R. Crane Jr. took the Sweepstakes Award, and Mrs. Guy T. Cook won the Tri-Color Award. Mrs. Dale Smith won both the Award of Distinction and the Creativity Award.

Judges for the show were Mrs. J. D. Dillard, Mrs. R. L. Grubb, Mrs. Fred Girdly, Mrs. B. E. Russell, Mrs. Jimmy L. Olson, Mrs. William E. Steele, Mrs. Raymond Monkress, Mrs. W. O. Parks and Mrs. E. W. Cowden, all of Midland; and Mrs. Ray Bearden, Mrs. J. L. Smith and Mrs. John Banta, all of Lamesa.

Member clubs of the council, all of which participated in the show, are Big Spring Garden Club, Planters Garden Club, Rosebud Garden Club, Spaders Garden Club, Four O'Clock Garden Club and After Five Garden Club.

Mrs. Guy Cook was general chairman for the show, and Mrs. James Bruce Frazier was co-chairman. The show theme followed the anniversaries of life.

East Texas Crash Swells Death Toll

By The Associated Press

Four men and a woman died in a single highway crash during a weekend which saw Texas count 33 violent deaths.

The state toll included 19 traffic fatalities during the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

A head-on collision on US 80 about 1:15 a.m. Sunday was the worst accident. It happened 1.5 miles west of Big Sandy, in East Texas, and involved a pickup truck and a car.

State police listed the dead in the Big Sandy crash as Kenneth R. Strickland, 19, and his sister, Ellen Bullard, 22, of Tyler, occupants of the pickup; and Billy Gene Walker, 24, and William C. Grissom, 31, of Springhill, La., and Donald J. Lane, 28, of Shreveport, La., in the automobile.

Flag Burning Hearings Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time in 40 years, a House subcommittee is going to have hearings on proposals to make it a federal crime to burn or otherwise desecrate the U.S. flag.

If the bill gets through the Judiciary Committee, it is likely to sail right through the House where there is widespread resentment against burning of a flag and draft cards at recent peace demonstrations in New York.

For years, Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., has bottled up such bills in the committee on the ground that all 50 states have similar laws which make federal legislation unnecessary. Last year, some 150 of the necessary 218 members signed a discharge petition in an unsuccessful effort to bring a bill to the House floor.

Last week, Celler agreed during questioning by Rules Committee members on his congressional redistricting bill to schedule hearings on the flag bill.

"We can't afford to have flags burned," said Rep. Byron G. Rogers, D-Colo., whose subcommittee will hold hearings starting May 8. He agreed, however, that the principal question before the subcommittee will be the adequacy of state laws. Committee aides said records show no hearings on such measures since 1927.

Most of the bills are similar to one introduced initially this year by the House Democratic whip, Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana.

It provides imprisonment up to one year and a fine up to $1,000 for any person who "publicly mutilates, defaces, defiles, decries, tramples upon or casts contempt, either by word or act, upon any flag, standard, colors, or ensign of the United States."

Life Saving Courses Slated

Life saving courses will begin Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at the YMCA for both junior and senior divisions.

A qualification examination will be given the first evening to determine if the applicant is an advanced swimmer and familiar with basic strokes required.

Fee for the course will be $1.50 for Y members to cover the cost of the card and patch. Non-members are welcome and the fee for them is $10.

One of the highlights will be the presentation of an award to the outstanding Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y senior member. Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr., who gives the plaques, will make the presentation to the boy and girl picked by a selection committee.

Y Clubs To Install Officers

Officers of all Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs will have a joint installation in special ceremonies set for 8 p.m. today at the YMCA.

One of the highlights will be the presentation of an award to the outstanding Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y senior member. Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr., who gives the plaques, will make the presentation to the boy and girl picked by a selection committee.

Twisters Roam Around Nation

By The Associated Press

A new wave of damaging tornadoes, a belt of thunderstorms, a record-shattering snow storm, giant hail and plunging temperatures brought a crazy-quilt pattern to the nation's weather map today.

While towns in the Chicago area struggled to free themselves from the wreckage of tornadoes that killed 52 persons

Friday, other twisters injured at least 13 persons in southern Missouri Sunday.

Four tornadoes hit points in Georgia. Others touched down in Tennessee, Alabama and Arkansas. A funnel cloud was sighted near Fresno, Calif., for the second day in a row.

A series of violent thunderstorms ranged across Tennessee. They culminated at Chattanooga where nearly an inch of rain fell in a few minutes, then up to a foot of hail the size of baseballs dropped on the city's streets.

The streets flooded. The rising water and piles of hail stones stopped traffic. Small fires broke out when hail broke electric signs. Earlier small hail hit church goers in midmorning. Storm warnings were lifted, then reissued as fresh storms rolled in from the west.

A tornado hit the east side of Memphis. Another touched ground at nearby Bartlett. A car containing a woman and child was thrown into a field. Both were injured. The roof and part of the walls of a Baptist church were torn off as 125 pa-risoners worshipped inside.

Tornadoes, thunderstorms and large hail raked across Georgia. Huge chunks of ice formed piles more than a foot deep in parts of Savannah on the Atlantic Coast. The hail shattered double-strength glass in several greenhouses at a nursery and caused an estimated $100,000 damage.

Most of the injuries in Missouri were caused when a tornado

Ex-Administrator Of Suez Canal Dies

PARIS (AP) — S. Pinckney Tuck, former U.S. ambassador to several South American nations and one-time administrator of the Suez Canal, died Saturday after a long illness. He was 75. Tuck, a descendant of Chief Justice John Marshall of the U.S. Supreme Court, entered the diplomatic corps in 1913. He became minister to Egypt in 1944.

Rubber Strike Talks Resume

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A strike by 50,000 United Rubber Workers continued today with negotiations being resumed between the URW and the only member of the industry's big four not struck—Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

The Goodyear talks were in Cincinnati, which also will be the site of further negotiations Wednesday with Uniroyal, Inc. B. F. Goodrich Co. will resume talks in Columbus and Firestone negotiations will be resumed in Cleveland the same day.

The strike against the three firms began as two-year contracts expired at midnight last Thursday. A major stumbling block was believed to be a union demand for full employment earnings for workers laid off.

So far the strike has affected 21,670 workers at 16 Uniroyal plants, 17,585 at 11 Firestone plants and 10,930 at nine Goodrich plants.

A Devotional For The Day

"I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you." (Matthew 5:44, RSV)

PRAYER: O Christ, who didst pray for Thine enemies as they were nailing Thee to the cross, grant us a greater measure of Thy spirit. Help us to love our fellowmen that we, too, may return good for evil. In Thy name we ask. Amen.

Maybe A Hopeful Start

With three Washington conferences this week devoted to the obsessive crisis of Southeast Asia, the recent inter-American presidential conference has quickly faded from public attention. But its significance, which may have to await a decade for accurate appraisal, should be realistically pondered in the capitals of the Americas.

The conference's revelations were perhaps more significant than its achievements. Of the latter, the only one of any consequence was tentative general agreement to work gradually toward a Latin American common market.

The discussions of the region's massive and pressing problems — underdevelopment, swelling populations, capital shortage, explosive urbanization, social reform barriers, educational lag, corruption and classism, trade weaknesses — were hardly revelations. After six years' experience with the Alliance for Progress, all this is frustratingly well known. The significant revelations were, for us and for Latin Americans alike, more in the performances of the heads of state themselves.

Argentina's stonemason Onganía, Brazil's lackluster Costa e Silva, Para-guary's complacent Stoessner and Bolivia's absent Barrientos symbolized the futurelessness of military-bolstered status quos. Ecuador's Arosemena typified the U.S.-baiting, aid-grabbing, do-nothing type of civilian regime that is as unpromising as "benevolent" military dictatorships.

The hopes for dynamic democratic evolution in Latin America were personalized in Peru's Belaunde and Chile's Frei, especially Frei. The Chilean president directed his appeal to Latin Americans, not to Washington, stressing self-help, regional cooperation, involvement of the people in national progress, the imperative for principled politics, the responsibilities of leadership, and the need for less rhetoric and more constructive action.

Finally, President Johnson's performance revealed, here and there, significant shifts in U.S. inter-American policy. The performance was somewhat groping, but in the right direction and with creditable motives.

If the Punta del Este conference achieved nothing more than a region-wide stimulus to clearer thinking and more genuine concern for Latin America's problems and the course of inter-American relations, it was valuable.

Needs Changing

Texas lags far behind most other states in state aid to cities. For direct grants in aid, Texas cities now must look wholly to the federal government. State aid they must seek indirectly, as in — for the most important example — in-city state highway spending.

The reason for this disadvantaged position of Texas cities is an 1876 state constitutional provision that stemmed from Reconstruction era corruption and dissipation of state funds. It is Sec. 51, Art. III, which says, "The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public moneys to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever" except for grants of aid "in cases of public calamity."

The state constitutionally can make grants to all other political subdivisions — counties, school and special districts, river authorities, regional planning commissions — but not to city governments, which are municipal corporations. It is a curious, archaic and unfair obstacle to state-city cooperation. It should be removed and there is no reason for that.

regional revision and broader reorganization of Texas local government and state-local relations.

A constitutional amendment proposal (SJR 38) by Sen. Henry C. Grover of Houston would add to Sec. 51, Art. III, a provision that "The Legislature may grant aid to municipal corporations for governmental purposes under such regulations and limitations as may be deemed by the Legislature as expedient." That is a simple, timely, sound amendment, that will be increasingly needed in the years ahead, and the Legislature should submit it to the people.

Insurance Loan Repayments Sought

NEW YORK (AP) — Life insurance companies are now using their ingenuity to encourage repayment of some of those millions lent on policies last year at the height of the tight money market.

New England Mutual, for instance, is mailing cards to borrowers suggesting that the company be authorized to withdraw a certain amount each month from the borrower's checking account.

NORTHWESTERN Life and Mutual of New York also have formal programs to recapture some of the money that drained from their coffers last year. Several companies, including Equitable, are considering special repayment plans.

The purpose is twofold: — To bring back to the insurance companies funds they can use for other, perhaps more profitable, investments.

— To encourage borrowers to protect

I am a salesman on the road and get very lonely at night. Before I became a Christian I had "friends" along the way. Now my nights are lonely and miserable. Have you a solution? D.W.

You make living the Christian life seem a little grim, but I know you don't mean it this way. Yours is a good and honest question.

You say before you became a Christian you had many "friends" along the way. You are not suggesting that it is impossible for a Christian to meet friends too, are you? There is not a village or town where there are not dedicated Christians ready to extend a hand of fellowship and friendship to a like-minded person. I remember when I sold brushes as a young man, that instead of looking up the "fast" crowd, we would seek out Christian fellowship, and we always found it. My suggestion to you would be, when you feel lonely on the road, to seek out a church and get acquainted with believers in that area. The "friends" you found before your conversion did not come to you — you had to seek them out some place. Personally, I have found genuine Christians to be the friendliest people in the world. I remember when I was converted, the devil told me that I wouldn't have any friends. But the truth is: I never knew the meaning of friendship until I became a Christian. Now, I count them by the thousands around the world.

Percy's War Solution Confusing

WASHINGTON (AP)—It looks like President Johnson is going to get it every which way.

Alabama's former governor, George C. Wallace, the South's outstanding segregationist, is thinking of heading a third-party ticket in the 1968 presidential race and believes, if he does, it would hurt the Democrats more than the Republicans.

At the other extreme Dr. Martin Luther King, the civil rights apostle, is now busy trying to join the civil rights and antiwar-in-Vietnam movements into an antiwar bloc that will try to pressure Johnson into seeking peace.

KING talked at a news conference at Cambridge, Mass., where a pamphlet, distributed at the conference, said, "We aim at more than changing a vote or two in Congress. We seek to defeat Lyndon Johnson and his war."

On the CBS television program, "Face the Nation," Charles H. Percy who took his seat last January as a senator from Illinois, wasn't satisfied with the way Johnson is handling the war although Percy's solution sounded confusing.

IN JUST about three months Percy has shot up to such prominence among Republicans that he is being mentioned as a possible candidate for his party against Johnson next year.

He said the United States should press for more participation by its Asian allies in the war and should not take "no" for an answer.

"There ought to be a limit," he explained, "where we say: This is how far we'll go and no farther unless you provide the support and help from Asia itself that can keep the effort going."

"SUPPOSE the answer is no?" he was asked.

"I don't think that's an acceptable answer," Percy said. But that really wasn't answering the question. And then, while urging a limitation on the American effort, he insisted the United States should not reduce or withdraw its present forces in Vietnam.

But if the allies won't do any more, and if the United States shouldn't go further if the allies won't do any more, but the United States should not reduce its forces, what should it do to win, since it hasn't won yet?

HE ALSO suggested the bombing of North Vietnam be limited rather than expanded. He said escalating the bombing decreases the chances for peace but he favors a continuance of the bombing.

Earlier this month King was saying that getting the civil rights and antiwar movements to work together to end the war was not a "fusion" of the two forces but only a "coalition," which happens to mean "fusion."

He is "fusing" them now, or trying to.

Are You A Dreamer?

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Prosperity hasn't brought leisure to all. One out of every five U.S. breadwinners still works 49 or more hours a week. Among those in the upper income level — above $10,000 a year — one of every four claims he works 60 or more hours a week.

ARE YOU a dreamer? You may think you're not, but the chances are that at least 20 per cent of the time you are asleep you are dreaming, whether you remember your dreams or not.

It is difficult for the average person to stay more than a minute under water. But the whale, although he ordinarily doesn't remain submerged more than 10 minutes, can do so for two hours.

DESPITE the prevalence of doctors, the last U.S. Census Bureau's listing of occupations reported America still has 308 midwives. But in male fields of employment there has been a steady decline in the number of farmers, miners and butlers.

We're a nation on the go.

Hives, Swelling, And What We Eat

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: My wife has periods of swelling of her tongue, lips, cheeks and eyes. Is this an allergy or could this be hives? She is very nervous before this happens. Could it be nervousness? — M. O.

Dear Doctor: Ever since I can remember I have a sore tongue if I eat citrus fruit, strawberries, cherries, their juices or tomato juice, pickles, etc. or walnuts.

I am wondering if it is lack of a vitamin that causes it. — M.E.S.

Hives are usually the result of allergy. Hence asking whether the swelling of tongue and face is allergy or hives is essentially the same question.

Allergy can manifest itself in many ways: Hay fever, various forms of dermatitis, swelling, some digestive problems, are common results of allergy. The manifestations can be different from one individual to another. The foods, dust, pollen or other materials that cause the allergy also differ. What bothers one person doesn't bother another.

It is not unusual for nervous tension to trigger an attack in a person subject to allergic outbreaks.

Thus in M.O.'s case I would certainly be observant as to whether eating certain foods, or contact with other materials, precedes these attacks of swelling. It might be wise, also, to discuss with your physician whether some antihistamine preparation might be tried, since this drug allays allergies to some degree and also might ease nervous tension when it begins to build up. I do not say it WILL do so, but it might be worth trying.

In the case of M.E.S. it is unusual but not unknown for a person to be allergic to so many things, and some individuals are extremely sensitive to citrus fruits — while, of course, most of us thrive on them.

An allergy is not the result of a vitamin deficiency. The first line of defense in all allergies, is to avoid the things which cause trouble. In this particular instance, since the principal sources of Vitamin C all cause trouble, Vitamin C can be taken in tablet form to make up for the lack.

Dear Dr. Molner: I know that coffee is not recommended for

Around The Rim How Long Do You Keep Your Car?

This and that: Average ownership of a new car in this country is four years four months, according to the Automobile Manufacturers' Association. That means that most of us don't have to share ownership with the loan company for something like 16 months, after which we get the urge and go back in debt.

YOU'VE GOT TO admire the candor of that young buck in Newcastle, England, who recently inserted this ad in the "personal" section of a college student newspaper there: John Jeffries wishes it widely known that he is engaged and would like to apologize to all the girls he has strung along in the past.

Why does a man build a fence around his property? Is it because he likes to embrace with his eye the land he owns? Or is it because he values his privacy? What ever the reason, and you can start a lively debate by throwing out the question, I know the number of fences built in Big Spring in the past 20 years far exceeds the rate of population growth.

YOU CAN BUY anything from a vending machine these days but a divorce certificate and maybe it's just a question of time until Juarez, Mexico, introduces that idea. The machines are getting better, too, at rejecting bogus coins.

Now that Texas has adopted daylight saving time, some people are bound to have trouble deciding how to change their time pieces. This memory prompter should help: Spring forward, fall back.

AN ENGLISH journalist is seeking some new swear words. He says the least attractive feature of English profanity is its dreary repetitiveness. Most practitioners have a vocabulary of no more than a dozen curse words, which are employed over and over again. Swearing in such languages as Arabic or Spanish is much more imaginative and varied, he points out.

One of the most sensible gifts given by a city council to a retiring person I've heard about recently is a grave plot.

The donee expressed deep gratitude, pointing out that three of his friends were buried nearby.

Congress Bucks The Constitution

WASHINGTON — Within the last few days certain senators in their speeches have come up with the amazing idea that the Constitution doesn't really mean what it says and that a constitutional convention cannot be called to consider amendments unless Congress first examines those proposals and agrees to permit such a convention to be held.

THIS WOULD be a defiance of the Constitution itself. The document says plainly that Congress, "on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the several states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments." The Constitution doesn't say that Congress "may" call a convention, but declares explicitly that it "shall" call a convention. The provision is mandatory and not discretionary. It doesn't matter if different states give one or more reasons. The simple fact remains that the states merely present their "application" for a constitutional convention, and Congress is obligated to honor it.

RECENT STATEMENTS by senators, however, assert that Congress need not call a convention if it thinks the kind of amendments proposed are going to be unpalatable. These same senators are contending that Congress may refuse to call such a convention "for any reason" the resolutions passed by the legislatures "appear to be invalid."

This would make Congress virtually a judicial body, substituting for the Supreme Court of the United States, which usually passes on the validity of state and federal actions. It now is argued that Congress has the authority to decide whether the state legislatures are properly constituted and whether they have a right to ask for a constitutional amendment on certain subjects.

THE ARGUMENT is being offered that, since 32 states have passed resolutions asking for a national constitutional convention — and two more are shortly going to make the necessary two thirds — it is the function of Congress to examine these resolutions and pass on their validity.

The Supreme Court of the United States itself has jurisdiction over any disputes that arise in interpreting the Constitution, but no case has ever arisen in which Congress, though specifically obligated by the Constitution to take a certain action, has refused to do so.

IF IT WERE possible for Congress to pass on the composition of state legislatures and to tell them whether they were properly apportioned, then all the acts of these legislatures would be jeopardized. Some of the legislatures, for instance, are considered to have been improperly apportioned, yet they voted for the constitutional amendment which provides a procedure for the handling of presidential disability and succession. If state legislatures are held to be illegal and their resolutions are questioned, this means that any amendments already embodied in the Constitution could be defunct on the ground that they are unlawful.

THE EXERCISE of the right of a state to participate in a national convention and to "propose" constitutional amendments is not a final step. The delegates of the states in a constitutional convention may propose an amendment, but the final ratification must be by three-fourths of the states. Whenever amendments have been proposed at a constitutional convention and ratified by three-fourths of the legislatures, the Supreme Court can review these actions and determine whether in each case the state legislature was properly composed and whether enough states have participated in a legitimate ratification process.

Two Books Recommended

WASHINGTON — Book-writing friends can send a columnist back to school—and a good thing, too. If journalism is anything, it's a running battle against one's own ignorance.

"RFK: The Man Who Would Be President," by Ralph De Toledano, is what could be called a preventive campaign biography. I judge it'll do to keep Sen. Bob Kennedy out of the White House. "Facing the Brink," by Edward Weintal and Charles Bartlett could be subtitled "An Autopsy of Diplomacy." I think it may be the best American handbook ever written on international crisis-facing.

COLUMNIST De Toledano, as it happens, is, as I am, an habitué of the National Press Club and a fellow-traveler in the conservative cause. I had dreaded this book. In conversations, Ralph had frankly expressed his contempt of Bob Kennedy, who is a former U.S. Attorney General and junior senator from New York State. I had, I think, known Bobby as long as Ralph had, and my opinion was not as low as Ralph's. It bothered me that a preconceived biography should be undertaken, especially since Ralph didn't consider it the obligation of scholarship to interview Bobby who was available at the Senate Office Building which I visit almost daily.

BUT I WAS wrong in this prejudgment of Ralph's book. He didn't have to visit Bob Kennedy. It would have been a quixotic exercise. Ralph knew Bob as of old, in the days when RFK was a staffer on Capitol Hill. The twig was already bent. The attorney general and the U.S. senator (D., N.Y.) was no different from the campaign promoter of his older brother (Jack), his younger brother (Ted) and himself (Bob). The same gamesmanship, or oneupmanship, was ever-present. The Kennedys were invariably out for the Kennedys. At no time were they in there fighting for America — the rest of us.

RALPH'S BIOGRAPHY of RFK, although a preventive attack, is not a hatchet job. Anybody who likes Bob Kennedy (as I do) will not fall back in shudders of foul play. You and I might not like our own privacy invaded, ed, but none of us could complain of that if we'd already made ourselves public figures.

If you live in Washington, as I do, you get to know its denizens. Edward Weintal (of Newsweek) is a new acquaintance, but Charles Bartlett (a competing columnist) is one of long-standing and personal regard. They have written one heck of a book, but as Shakespeare said, there's such a thing as "caviar to the general"—rich food to those who don't have the taste or digestion for it.

IF YOU'RE like me, you'll need a second and third reading of "Facing the Brink." Most of its 11 chapters deal with events in which I participated as an eager-beaver scribe. For example, I was there, Charlie, at the Hungarian refugee exodus, the building of the Berlin Wall, the pre- and post-revolutionary period in Cuba, the Florida gathering of Cuban patriots and the advisory phase in Vietnam, and I have been alone in the famous Oval Office with Presidents Kennedy and Johnson.

BUT, I'LL ADMIT, my indoctrination is shallow compared with the first-hand knowledge of Weintal and Bartlett. I was educated by their book, and anybody who reads this review had better improve his information by buying the volume.

Here are two volumes well-researched, written by men of prejudice, by an author who is a rampant conservative and by co-authors who are "a la mode" liberals, provide public education at the market price. Despite all yammer to the contrary, there is no excuse for Americans to walk around ignorant about the personalities and issues of our day.

Grandma And Grandpa Getting Independent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Grandma and grandpa are getting more independent all the time.

There's a marked trend for older Americans to maintain their own homes, the Census Bureau reports.

Take a look at what happened in a 15-year span. The Census people say "about 9.5 million households in the United States in 1965 consisted of a household head living alone or sharing his home with persons not related to him. In two-thirds of these households, the head was 55 years old or over.

MIGRATION

"The number of households of this type in 1965 was double the number for 1950."

The vast migration from rural areas to cities has had much to do with this trend, in the view of Don Hummel, assistant secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

"Down on the farm in the old days," he says, "Grandpa and Grandma often lived with the younger generations, and were an economic asset to them. They could help raise the grandchildren, do the cooking and chores. But there's not much room or role for the senior citizens when the younger folks live in a small apartment."

FULL OF VIM

Homes for senior citizens are proliferating the nation over. And HUD has many a role in this trend — from FHA-insured mortgages for luxury cooperatives to subsidizing $30-a-month apartments for the poor.

Meet a couple of oldsters who enjoy such housing in the nation's capital:

—Mrs. John H. Knapp, great-granddaughter of Chief Justice John Marshall and cousin of Gen. George C. Marshall. She's a Navy widow, and at 78 she's full of vim and meets life with a merry chuckle.

—Guy Stokes, retired plasterer's helper. At 82 he's tall, straight and full of humor. His proudest boast is that in the last two years he has learned to read and write.

QUIET BEEHIVE

Mrs. Knapp's home for her mellow years is the old Roosevelt Hotel which has been rehabilitated under FHA mortgage insurance.

Here the prices, including rent, breakfast and dinner, range from $185 a month for a small room with private bath to $400 a month quarters for two people — living room, bedroom, dining area, kitchen and bath. There is weekly maid service and linen is supplied.

Many retired, semiretired, or in some cases still-working teachers, writers, artists, musicians and government workers live at the Roosevelt, and it's a sort of quiet beehive. Things going on range from a millinery class to a travel club, from checkers to shuffleboard.

YOU BET

"Do I like it?" says Mrs. Knapp. "You bet, or I wouldn't stay."

It is not from lack of relatives that Mrs. Knapp lives on her own. With a laugh, she says: "I've got so much posterity I don't know what to do — 14 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren." She loves them all, of course, but still and all she likes living independently.

As a Navy wife Mrs. Knapp moved countless times, but she has always carried with her a treasured possession, a table on which her great-grandfather, Justice Marshall, signed state papers. It was on this table that Mrs. Knapp put down her head and cried when her husband, Capt. Knapp, went down in the heavy cruiser Houston in the battle of the Java Sea in 1942.

PUBLIC HOUSING

On a hill not far from the Roosevelt, Guy Stokes lives in a new, 10-story modernistic building for the elderly. It has pleasing balconies cantilevered out from the apartments. This is called Garfield Terrace and is public housing, built and owned by the National Capital Housing Authority.

To get in, a single person must have income of less than $3,200 and a couple less than $3,500. Rents on the 225 bedroom-living room-kitchen-bath apartments are graded according to income. They range from $30 to $60 a month, or in some cases a bit higher.

GAY ROOM

Here a person in a wheelchair can ride from top floor to ground on gently sloping ramps. Thresholds are low and stumble-proof, each bath has several grab bars, electric outlets are 2½ feet off the floor to go easy on creaky joints. Kitchen cabinets are low on the wall.

In a bright, gay community room staffed by the District of Columbia recreation and education departments, Stokes sat poring over books in which he has been learning the three R's. Proudly showing his signature, he said:

"It's great not to have to call on somebody to witness my X." Born in Prince George County, Virginia, 82 years ago, Stokes says he was too busy on the farm, and later as a plasterer's helper, to learn reading and writing.

Federal aid to housing for the elderly falls into several categories, including:

—Low-rent public housing.

—Direct loans to nonprofit corporations, "consumer cooperatives and certain public agencies for housing for elderly persons of moderate incomes.

"I try to put as many of the

Togo's Chief Shot By Honor Guard

LOME, Togo (AP) — One of President Etienne Eyadema's honor guards took a shot at him today, wounding the chief of state in the left hand.

"He wasn't a very good shot," Eyadema said afterward, "he couldn't even kill me from five meters away."

The guard, immediately overpowered, tried to assassinate Eyadema to avenge the imprisonment of Emmanuel Bodjolle, former Togolese army chief of staff, government sources said. The guard was related to Bodjolle.

The attempt took place in front of the presidential palace.

Eyadema's car drove up and the honor guard presented arms. As the president got out of his car, the suspect leveled his rifle and shot.

Eyadema, a lieutenant colonel and army chief of staff, took power last Jan. 13 in a bloodless coup, ousting President Nicolas Grunitzky.

Net was a record $31 million, up from $24.4 million last year. Consolidation Coal properties accounted for $4.9 million of the 1967 total.

Gainesville Group To Push Watershed

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A group met in Gainesville recently and agreed to do in three years what it has been unable to do in the past 15 years.

The group, meeting to decide the fate of Elm Fork Watershed, agreed to secure easements to 10 detention reservoir sites within the next three years. The meeting was called after federal officials threatened to cancel funds for construction because the watershed was inactive.

Elm Fork Watershed was opened in 1951, and originally was scheduled to be completed in 1956. A total of 51 dams were proposed and 41 of them have been constructed.

Vote Lists Point Out Imbalance

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A study of Cooke County's certified voter lists for the past four years points out the imbalance of the county's voting strength. Lists disclose that almost three-fourths of all county votes are concentrated in Gainesville's five wards. For 1967, Gainesville counts 72 per cent of all qualified voters in the county.

The four Cooke County precincts are out of balance also, with Precinct 1 having 46 per cent of the total qualified vote. It includes one-half of the City of Gainesville.

Mansfield Called 'A Goddess Of Lust'

TRALEE, Ireland (AP) — Jayne Mansfield's Irish cabaret debut was canceled Sunday night after the Roman Catholic bishop of County Kerry, the Most Rev. Denis Moynihan, urged the faithful to stay home.

Miss Mansfield had been scheduled to appear at Tralee's Mount Brandon Hotel.

The dean of Kerry, Msgr. John Lane, said business interests were setting Miss Mansfield up as "a goddess of lust."

New York Batterymen Sparkle In Bosox Defeat

Success will never spoil the Boston Red Sox. Not with Elston Howard and Al Downing around to divide the job.

The New York batterymen sparkled in relief roles Sunday — Howard with a decisive pinch-hit doubled and Downing with a near-perfect pitching performance — as the Yankees came from behind to stun the Red Sox 7-5.

Howard, whose two-out single in the ninth inning ruined Boston rookie Bill Ruhl's no-hit bid 10 days ago, capped a five-run go-ahead rally in the fifth with his two-run double — the Yankees' first extra-base hit in seven games.

ONE HIT

Downing came out of the bullpen with New York trailing 5-1 in the fourth and allowed just one hit the rest of the way for his second victory in two relief appearances — both against Boston. The little left-hander blanked the Red Sox over the final five innings in last Sunday's 18-inning marathon, won by the Yankees 7-6.

In other American League action, California moved into first place by sweeping a doubleheader from Cleveland, 9-6 in 12 innings and 2-1; Baltimore split a twin bill with Kansas City, winning the opener 5-2 before bowing 8-7. Minnesota topped Detroit 4-2 and Washington whipped Chicago 5-1.

The Angels completed their sweep at Cleveland with an unearned run in the ninth inning of the nightcap, pinch runner Marcelino Lopez scoring on third baseman Max Alvis' wild throw to the plate. Reliever Jack Kralick was charged with the loss, his second setback of the afternoon.

HOMERS

Kralick departed with the score tied 6-6, two on and one out in the 12th inning of the opener. Bobby Knoop, Jose Cardenal and Paul Schaal then raked Dick Radatz for run-scoring singles. Jimmie Hall had singled home the tying run for California in the seventh.

Successive homers by the Robinson boys, Frank and Brooks, paced the Orioles to their first-game victory over Kansas City. Steve Barber was the winner, with relief help from Moe Drabowsky and Stu Miller.

Pitcher Jack Aker's run-scoring single off Miller climaxed a four-run KC rally in the eighth inning of the nightcap that wiped out a 7-4 Oriole edge. Frank Robinson hit his second homer of the two bill for Baltimore.

Zoilo Versalles lashed a two-run triple in the ninth, lifting the Twins past Detroit after Norm Cash's homer had pulled the Tigers even in the eighth.

Belinsky Is Bright Spot

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Astros go against the Cincinnati Reds tonight trailing a chain of seven defeats in a row, the last brightened for Houston only by Bo Belinsky's five innings of one-hit scoreless pitching in relief.

DERBY PROSPECTS

Afraid He'll Get In The Way

NEW YORK (AP)—Eleandro Herrero of Puerto Rico, co-owner of Dawn Glory, considered the prospects of Damascus and Successor and decided:

"I want no part of them in the Kentucky Derby. My horse might get in the way."

"He's one whale of a horse," Herrero said of Damascus after he had scored a six-length victory in the $112,400 Wood Memorial at Aqueduct last Saturday.

"And there is another one whale of a horse down in Kentucky." That was a reference to Successor, from Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wheatley Stable, who goes Thursday in the Blue

One Run For Mets

Ron Swoboda of the Mets collides with Philadelphia catcher Clay Dalrymple as he scores from third in sixth inning of Sunday's opener at Shea Stadium. Jerry Croe bunted and pitcher Chris Short threw to

Dalrymple who dropped the ball in the collision. Inning saw Mets score five runs, but they lost both ends of the doubleheader, 19-4, and 3-1. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Pirates Find Cubs, Mets Tough Openers

By The Associated Press
The Pittsburgh Pirates discovered that Chicago left them cold and are happily leaving town a little ahead of schedule, no doubt relieved that neither the Cubs nor the Mets appear on their schedule for a while. In their first nine games, the Pirates, everybody's preseason favorites to win the National League pennant, have faced only New York and Chicago, the tallenders last season.

37-degree weather and rookie Norm Gigon's homer accounted for three Chicago runs. The Cubs scored four unearned runs in the fourth inning, with Adolfo Phillips singling home two of them.

Elsewhere in the National League, Philadelphia won a pair from New York 10-6 and 3-1, Cincinnati took Houston 5-3, Los Angeles bombed St. Louis 9-3 and a doubleheader between Atlanta and San Francisco was rained out.

Don Clendenon and Roberto Clemente hit homers for the Pirates, but Cub starter Ferguson Jenkins settled down to his second victory, striking out 10. The Pirates now move on to a series with front-running Philadelphia and St. Louis, hoping to fare better than they did against the doormats.

PHILS PULL UP
Rich Allen hit a pair of home runs, one in each of the Phillies' victories and Dick Ellsworth gave just seven hits to the Mets in his first appearance of the season in the nightcap. Phil Linz' two-run double in the eighth inning of the first game put the Phils ahead for good.

Milt Pappas held off the Astros, though he needed late-inning help from Ted Abernathy. Ron Fairly drove in five runs for the Dodgers with a double and the club's first homer of the season. Claude Oster kept the Cards in tow on 10 hits, picking up his second victory in three outings. Lou Brock continued his torrid hitting pace with three hits for the Cardinals.

Steen Holds Visitors To Three Hits

Ronnie Steen set the Colorado City Indians down with three hits and one unearned run here Sunday to stake the Sacred Heart Cardinals to a 13-1 victory. This boosted the Cardinal record to a respectable 5-1 standing.

The Cards bunched five hits—four of them consecutively—to push over four runs in the third and settled the issue. Rodriguez added frosting to the cake by belting one out of the park with D. Olague and Guzman aboard.

Jo Ann Prentice came in third with 221. She pulled within three shots of Miss Whitworth after the first nine but bogeyed four of the last five holes to post a 75 final round.

Hopkins And Gregg Win

W. R. Hopkins, Midland, teamed with H. L. Gregg, Big Spring, to capture the M u n y partnership tournament here Sunday by a stroke. They fired a low ball of 59.

Four other pairs split second, third and fourth place money by posting 60's.

They were Dexter Pate and David Mayberry, Ken Griffin and Ronnie Clanton, Tom King and Skinner King, and Bob Rogers and Chubby Moser.

Twenty-seven teams entered the meet, which was played in balmy weather.

Australian Is Houston Champ

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—John Newcombe of Australia today held the men's singles title in the River Oaks Invitational Tennis Tournament. He became the seventh foreign victor in as many years by defeating countrymen Tony Roche, 6-2, 7-5, 6-3.

Rafael Osuna of Mexico and Ronnie Barnes of Brazil rallied to defeat Vicente Zarazua and Ed Guell of the University of Corpus Christi, 5-7, 6-2, 10-8, 6-4, for the doubles championship.

Knott-Ackerly Loop To Organize
KNOTT — Parents and boys interested in a Pee Wee, Little League and Pony League for the Knott-Ackerly areas are urged to attend a meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Knott community center.

The boys will sign up and teams will be selected, and parents will meet to elect officers and firm plans for the season. Boys 7-9 will be in the Pee Wee loop; 9-12 Little League, and those up to 15 will be in the Pony League.

Kathy Sacks Up Raleigh Crown
RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Tall Kathy Whitworth fired a one-under-par 71 Sunday to win the Under-Ladies Invitational Golf Tourney.

Miss Whitworth, who started the final round tied with Susie Maxwell, wound up with a 54-hole total of 215. Miss Maxwell finished with 220 to take second place.

Yancey Concentrates on Putting, Leads At Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—Bert Yancey, with the idea that the most important thing in golf is to get the ball in the hole, fired a four-under-par 66 to take a one-stroke lead in the $100,000 Greater Dallas Open Tournament. Then he lectured on putting.

"A lot of players are afraid to try to be good putters," he told the press room Sunday after he had slammed into first place at 54 holes with 203-seven under par.

"They want to be known as hitters and neglect putting. I believe that since putting is the most important thing in golf, one should concentrate on that. I practice a lot."

Yancey had just toured the 6,777-yard Oak Cliff Country Club course in 26 putts and included 25, 50, 40 and 15-yard birdie putts in his collection.

Illustrating his observation that hitting the ball wasn't as important as most folks thought, he was spraying his tee shots and irons.

That caused bogeys on the first and ninth holes when he drove into the roughs. But his sensational putting, made up for it.

Warriors Rally For Victory Over 76ers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Tom Meschery was warming up before the fifth game of the National Basketball Association championship series Sunday between the Philadelphia 76ers and the San Francisco Warriors. He spotted a big sign reading: 76ers, World Champions.

The five-year Warrior veteran exclaimed to no one in particular, "We're going to spoil their champagne party."

The Warriors, fired by the determined Meschery, rallied from a 13-point deficit in the final period to beat the 76ers 117-109 and extend the best-of-seven series to at least a sixth game in San Francisco tonight.

It was the first time the Warriors have won here since March 16, 1965.

DOWN 13 POINTS
Philadelphia led 96-84 as the final quarter began. "Chet Walker, who led the Eastern champions with 25 points, converted a free throw and the Warriors trailed by 13.

It looked all over but the drinking of the champagne, then on ice in the 76ers' dressing room.

But Meschery, who had scored but six points in the first three quarters, reeled off seven straight points. Nate Thurmond, the 6-foot-6 San Francisco center, added three more and it was 97-94.

Hal Greer and Wilt Chamberlain scored for Philadelphia to make it 101-94, but Meschery hit for two baskets and Jim King added a field goal to slim the 76ers' lead to one point.

COSTLY BEEF
San Francisco finally tied it at 102 on a long one-hander by Ricky Barry, who led the Warriors with 36 points.

Luke Jackson fouled Thurmond and Greer protested so vehemently he was tagged with a technical foul. Barry made the technical and Thurmond sank one of his two free throws to give San Francisco a lead it never relinquished.

The Warriors outscored a shaken Philadelphia team 10-4 in the final two minutes.

The City Softball League resumes play at 7 p.m. today with Chapman meeting the City of Big Spring. At 8:45 p.m. Moron's meets Webb in a game that will match teams that won their first games.

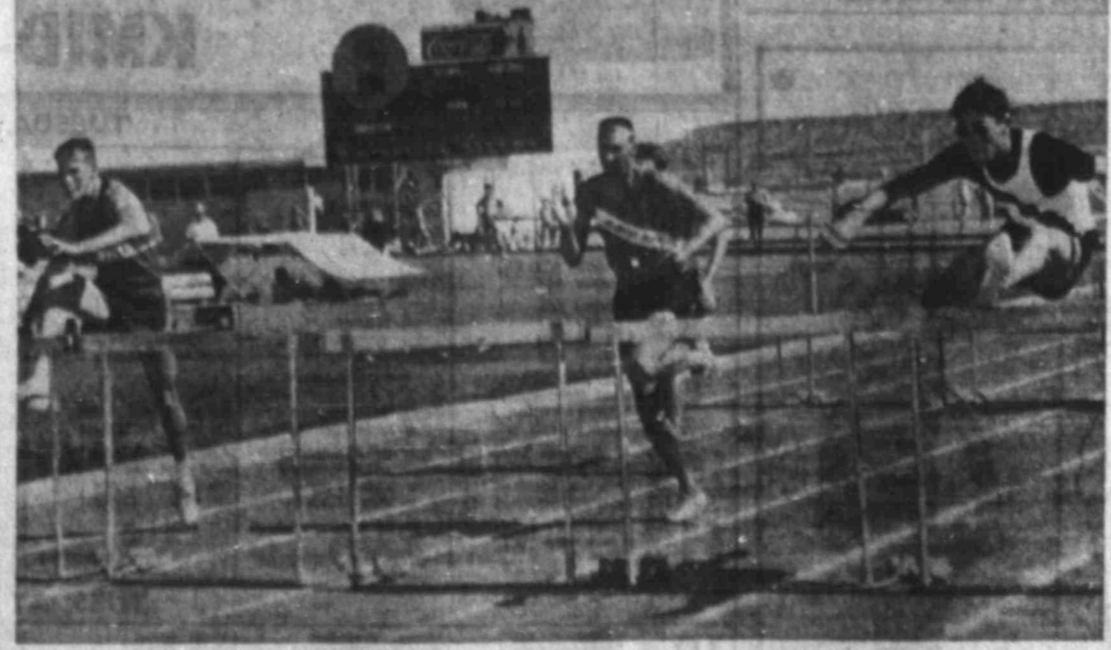

Drivers Place At Amarillo
Two Big Spring drivers won trophies at the Amarillo Dragway races Sunday. Approximately 500 cars were entered in the event, some coming from Kansas, Colorado and California.

Travis Anderson won the trophy for N-stock automatic Rambler '66; Bill Moore, driving Harold Bell's '66 Corvette, captured the class trophy in B sports, then went on to win street eliminator runner-up money.

Steers To Meet Odessa Here
The Big Spring Steers entertain Odessa High, a contender for the title, in a 2-AAAA baseball game here Tuesday.

After a good start, the Steers faltered, then during the past week have bounced back with a 3-5 district record. Odessa has won five while losing three.

The Steers won last Friday by clipping Midland Lee on the three-hit pitching of David Mitchell. Timely hitting, something the Steers had been lacking, propelled them to victory and made the over-all record 11-10. This is more games than the Steers won last season.

Champs' Only First Place

Larry Holladay of Fort Hancock (in black) is shown winning the high hurdles in the Region VI-B track and field meet here Saturday in the time of 15.1. It was the only first place captured by the Mustangs as they won team honors in the meet. Gary Williams of Robert Lee, running in the lane next to Holladay, wound up third. (Photo by Danny Valdes)

Bearded Monarch Hails Disneyland

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For Haile Selassie I, emperor of Ethiopia, a first visit to Disneyland brought outcries of delight. "Charming! Charming!" the bearded monarch said. "I want to come back here and spend a week with all my great-grandchildren." Selassie spent two hours at the family entertainment center in suburban Anaheim shortly after his arrival Sunday from Bermuda by jetliner.

REALLY AREN'T FLOWERS

Wild Looking Car, But Don't Water It

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — "There grows that car again" — that may be the saying of the week at Texas Woman's University.

You have to see the car to believe it; then you have to see it again.

Dozens of gaily colored flowers, butterflies and bees decorate a car owned by Rita Barnard, a sophomore art major from San Antonio.

PLEASE DON'T
Recently she parked her little Opel next to a tulip bed and quipped to a gardener, "Please don't water it."

The car is the prize creation of two design classes taught by Paul Roseland, assistant professor of art, who used the car decorations as a class exercise.

"I was trying to show my students that there aren't any rules in art," said Roseland. "You can do anything. You can personalize your car with a painting or a polar bear rug if you want."

SELF-CONSCIOUS
The paintings, which completely surround the car, were done by 40 students and took approximately 200 man hours. The finished product, which Rita christened "Mal Mal" — Japanese for sister — is painted in bright pink, red, orange, yellow and green sign paint — the iridescent type.

"Color is the most obvious design element," said Roseland. "Only after first impressions do you look at details."

"Many persons learn not to see things because they take colors for granted."

"It was a real happening," he said. "We started with the taller students on the top of the car and went from there."

Miss Barnard says she's glad she donated her car for the project.

"I was self-conscious at first when driving it," the blonde art major admitted, "but now I just laugh when people look at me."

TOO NEW!
Rita was so proud of her car that she decided to share it's beauty. She entered it in the antique car parade during the opening of University Drive.

Unfortunately, the judges didn't see the car as suitable and disqualified it from competition. "Too new," they said.

During the parade, however, Miss Barnard's flower-spangled car created a "happening" of its own. One car's driver became so intent upon gazing at Rita's movable garden that he rammed into a car ahead of him.

But Rita believes it's all been worth it. "Everyone talks to me now," she said, "right out of the blue."

"People ask me if I want to sell it but I don't think I will," Roseland said this was the first such class design project he has conducted.

'Cannonball' Train Engineer Expires

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Avery Warner, the railroad engineer who turned the throttle of the "Cannonball Express" over to Casey Jones at the start of the latter's ride to death, died Saturday, 67 years after the legendary accident. He was 93.

Warner brought the Illinois Central train into Memphis station. Jones took over and died when his locomotive crashed into a freight train at Vaughn, Miss.

Dear Abby

Complaint Is A Little Late

MON APR 24 DEAR ABBY . . .
DEAR ABBY: Even though we've been married 40 years, I still am embarrassed about the language Hal uses. Profanity is his second language. We go out a lot socially, and it is humiliating for me. Every other word is a cuss word. It's as natural for Hal as breathing, and I doubt that he is even aware of it half the time. Fortunately we don't have any children to imitate him. Old friends are used to it, but when we are with new acquaintances for the first time, they look at me as if to ask, "Is that husband of yours a mental case?" HAL'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: If you've been humiliated for 40 years and are only now wondering what to do about it, if there's a mental case in your family I'm not so sure it's your husband.

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday a woman called me on the phone and invited me to a farewell party she was giving for her son. I have never met the woman, but her son is a good friend of my son's. She boldly told me to bring enough bologna for 20 people!

Do you think an invited guest should be expected to bring refreshments? She said she was not asking relatives to bring anything as she didn't think it would be right. I was also told that "everyone" was pitching in toward a going-away present for her son, so I shouldn't bring him a gift. I wonder if I should go to this party? Is this the way a mother gives her son a farewell party?

FLABBERGASTED
DEAR FLABBERGASTED: The mother is not giving a party—she's organizing one. Ask your son if his friendship with the guest of honor is worth all that "baloney."

DEAR ABBY: I read your column in Stars and Stripes and it sure amazes me the way some folks bug you with their penny ante problems. Like the guy whose wife wears brush rollers in her hair when she goes to bed. And that couple who just bought a new air conditioned station wagon with stereo, tinted glass and fancy accessories and planned to go on a 7,000-mile vacation trip with it. Their neighbors wanted to go along and just put in the gas. The big problem was, shouldn't they pay for more than just the gas? O, brother! I wish we had those problems over here.

We just got through walking for 32 days. And for 23 of those days it rained day and night.

Please print this, Abby. It might make your readers realize how small their problems are. JADED IN VIETNAM

DEAR READERS: You are out of this world! Shortly after publishing GI Joe King's plea for mail to cheer up his lonely buddies in Thailand, I received the following cable:

"Please Abby, no more mail. I am swamped with more letters than I can possibly distribute to guys in Southeast Asia. Wish I could personally thank everyone. Also financially impossible as mail out of Thailand is not free. Please tell our readers how much we appreciate their tremendous generosity. Airman 2.C. JOSEPH W. KING

DEAR JOE: My readers only wanted to cheer up a lonely GI regardless of where he's stationed, so I have asked the Chicago Tribune-New York News Syndicate to negotiate with the armed forces in Thailand, and hopefully all the undistributed mail will be delivered to our lonely soldiers in Vietnam. Any objections? ABBY

Surveyor 3 Scans Venus

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Sitting in the cold shadow of an eclipse, Surveyor 3 turned its camera from the moon toward the earth today and sent pictures resembling a bright diamond ring.

It was the first eclipse photographed by an American craft on the moon.

Spokesmen at the jet propulsion laboratory reported the robot explorer's camera working well as the earth lined up between the sun and the moon. The earth's quarter-million mile shadow dropped the lunar temperature from 200 degrees F. to about 155 degrees below zero, scientists said.

Scientists did not explain why the thin circle of light created by the earth's disc was brighter at one point to give it the appearance of a ring with a mounted stone. Some photographs of eclipses taken from the earth have a similar appearance.

Scientists indicated that Surveyor's promising work might change their plans to stop for a few days its picture taking and scratching of barren lunar soil.

During the eclipse scientists controlling the 620-pound, shovel-equipped explorer gathered information to compute later the drop in temperature of the moon's surface and the spacecraft's skin.

In addition to the eclipsed sun, Surveyor scanned some stars and the planet Venus. Evaluators plan to study the pictures to get a more accurate idea of the craft's position and posture on the moon.

Shotgun Death

CORSICANA, Tex. (AP) — Michael Ross Butler, 13, died late Sunday of an accidental shotgun wound suffered at his home Saturday.
