ROCKVILLE CENTRE, N. Y. (AP)—Linda Pressman and Kathy Topper—not yet in their teens—have found a way to make children's parties pay.

"We spend about three or four days preparing for a party," Linda explained. "We make puppets and we write scripts for the puppet shows and we set up other games for the children."

Kathy also had some earlier experience in helping her mother conduct parties for her seven sisters and brothers. She went right along with Linda when the business idea was suggested.

Seven Students Shot On Campus

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Seven students demonstrating on the campus of Southern University suffered superficial wounds today when struck by ricocheting 30-30-caliber rifle bullets and flying bits of asphalt pavement.

The Easton Baton Rouge Parish sheriff's office took a Negro night watchman into custody after the 8 a.m. shooting.

THREE SHOTS were fired downward into asphalt. The students were wounded by fragmenting bullets and asphalt.

Southern University is a predominantly Negro institution north of Baton Rouge. It was the scene of a student boycott Monday following a dispute over several grievances, including the university's refusal to hire two white instructors on a full-time basis.

Teachers' Pay Increase Funds Left In Kitty

AUSTIN (AP)—A one-year general appropriation bill, spending $449.3 million from the general revenue fund and leaving $34.8 million available for such purposes as a teacher pay raise was approved today by the House Appropriations Committee.

$2.3 BILLION

THE BILL provides for spending $2.3 billion from all funds. It goes to the House floor for debate next Monday or Tuesday.

Rep. George Hinson of Mineola said he would request a hearing "as soon as we can get it" on the Texas State Teachers Association teacher pay raise bill, which would cost more than twice the governor's 5 per cent, $25 million pay increase measure.

THE BILL covers the fiscal year starting Sept. 1, 1967. The governor said he will call a special session next year to appropriate for the 1968-69 fiscal year.

JUNIOR COLLEGES

Grandmother Should Always Look Lovely

By MARY SUE MILLER

A grandmother writes: My granddaughter is being married in early June. A formal church wedding at four o'clock. What should I wear? I'm a young grandmother, at least in spirit. I would rather wear a short than a long dress, silk rather than lace. Must I wear a hat? I want to do the child proud.

The answer: A granddaughter's wedding is a time for a grandmother to be herself. No rule states that she must wear the "lavender and old lace" of bygone days, nor yet the latest whimsy. Her costume, as always, should reflect her personality.

There are only a few proprieties to be observed: Hats are mandatory. And gloves, of course. As for dress lengths, short costumes are preferred for daytime weddings. A late-day springtime ceremony calls for an afternoon costume, with attractiveness depending on subtle color and handsome material, rather than on fussiness. Much in favor is the pale crepe dress-with-jacket. Silky garden-flower print dresses are charming, too. And, now that laces have a crisp, ageless look, they are worthy of consideration in both costumes and dresses, in both pale and deep shades.

Literature Presented By BSP

Mrs. Jerry Rich presented the program, "The Printed Word in Your Life," at the Monday meeting of Beta Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, in the home of Mrs. John Turner, 2714 Ann. Mrs. Don Statham reported on the game party April 19 at Bennett House. Those assisting her were Mrs. Weidlow Low, Mrs. Les Caperton and Mrs. James Matheny.

The choice of a hat should not prove difficult. Simple, wide-brim straws are perfect toppers for crepes and prints. Top lace with a small hat of chiffon or other sheer. Add very delicate pumps, gloves and purse.

The word will get around. "Grandmother never looked lovelier." KNOWS NO AGE Some women age before their time; some retain their youthful beauty and charm. Why? The secrets of non-stop attractiveness are revealed in "Beauty Knows No Age." Advice covers ways to a youthful figure, skin and hair; to flattering make-up, hairstyles and fashions. 'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Most of us enjoy looking at long-ago school pictures even if we still live in the same town or city where we finished our high school years, but it's more fun to see the likenesses of friends with one who has been away for years.

Such was our pleasure Monday evening when we spent some time with the former RHODA STEWART who completed high school here in 1934. In town for business with officials of Cosden Oil and Chemical, the former Big Spring girl is now vice president and purchasing agent for Marbon, a subsidiary of Borg-Warner, reminiscend with a classmate, MRS. ELEANOR MATHENY.

From a "folder" which belonged to CHARLES HERRING, and that served as the yearbook of that year, the two viewed the pictures and brought up to date the whereabouts of many of the group. Asked about were DOROTHY DUBLIN GARRETT, MODESTA GOOD SIMPSON, VIRGINIA CUSHING HOLMES, RUTH WILLIAMS, ALTA MARY STALCUP DENTON, E. P. DRIVER, MORRIS PATTERSON, CECIL FRENCH, ALTA MAE GAGE BETTLE, VELMA SCOTT, VIAMA SANDERS, and many others. In fact, they just about covered the entire class with only a few left whose whereabouts weren't known.

It's been a long time since the Stewarts lived here in the big stone house at 1300 Lancaster. The visitor took a drive yesterday to look at her old home and was surprised to find only the steps remaining. The house was torn down several years ago. Miss Stewart now lives in Parkersburg, W. Va. She was accompanied here by a business associate, FRED KNIGHT.

Until Saturday I hadn't heard of GLEN GUILKEY for years. The former Herald advertising manager is now living in Monroe, La., where he is associated with an advertising firm. Guests of the ROY REEDERS over the weekend were MR. and MRS. FOWLER FAUBION who live in Fort Worth. They are former Big Spring residents and visit here at least once each year.

MR. and MRS. KENNETH R. POLO of Texarkana are the

Cincy Reds Firm Up Hold On Top Spot

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Unsinkable Ted Abernathy has his submarine ball on target again and the Cincinnati Reds are sailing a steady course in the early National League race. Abernathy torpedoes the skidding Houston Astros with 1-2-3 innings of clutch relief pitching Monday night, protecting a 3-1 victory that ran Cincinnati's winning streak to five games.

The veteran reliever, who throws with an unorthodox underhand motion, rescued winner Sammy Ellis in the eighth inning and registered his fifth save of the young season. He has appeared in eight of the Reds' 13 starts.

"I'm sure glad he's on my team," slugger Deron Johnson said after the Reds drafted Abernathy from Atlanta's Richmond farm club during the winter. "It takes years to learn to hit a curve that goes down, and then you run into a guy like Abernathy who throws me that goes up."

Abernathy, who set an all-time record of 84 appearances — all in relief — and finished with a 2.58 earned run average two years ago while with the Chicago Cubs, slipped to a 4.55 ERA in 58 games for the Cubs and Braves last season.

Atlanta, seeking to protect its younger pitchers from the draft, placed the 34-year-old right-hander on the Richmond roster. The Reds, desperate for relief pitching, grabbed him.

Abernathy's strong finish against the Astros, who have dropped eight in a row, and Tony Perez' three-run homer lifted the Reds into the league lead.

St. Louis dropped a 6-5 decision to Los Angeles in 13 innings and fell into a second-place tie with the Philadelphia Phillies. The Dodgers-Cards struggle was the only other game played in the NL.

In the lone American League contest, Boston scored three runs on Ken Harrelson's eighth-inning error for a 7-4 victory over Washington.

Abernathy came out of the bullpen with one out in the eighth after Jim Wynn and Ed Mathews touched Ellis for successive singles. The submariner retired Rusty Staub and John Bateman on fly balls, choking off the threat. He walked Aaron Pointer with one out in the ninth but got pinch hitter Chuck Harrison to rap into a game-ending double play.

Perez connected following a walk and Johnson's single in the fourth. It was his second homer of the season — both off Houston's Dave Giusti.

The Astros scored in the sixth on singles by Jim Wynn, Mathews and Staub.

Hank Aaron

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:
TED WILLIAMS, former baseball great:
"I think Hank Aaron is a great ball player, but I am a little distressed when I read where he was happy with his season last year, and the club was happy and the fans were happy. He got 44 homers, but his average was .279. When my average would start dropping down to .250, I was anything but happy, and I would be out studying myself and working my way out of a rut."

JUAN MARICHAL, ace of the San Francisco pitching staff, when asked why his right arm is bigger than his left:
"It's not from pitching. It's from picking up checks in restaurants."

STAN MUSIAL, former outfielder for the St. Louis Cardinals:

"Once, when the Giants were based in New York, owner Horace Stoneham took me out to dinner and wept a little bit because his club wasn't doing too good. I tried to comfort him, telling him everything would be all right, that the Giants would start winning again. The next day I hit five home runs and the Giants didn't start winning. Then there was that night in San Francisco I'll never forget. Bill O'Dell, a southpaw, was scheduled to pitch the next day for the Giants and I knew I'd sit that one out because I wasn't being used much in those days against lefties. So, Horace asked me up to his house and we socialized a little. In fact, I think we overdrank quite a bit and when I got to the park the next day I wasn't seeing too good. And to help matters along, just dandy I had to play. I was swinging pretty bad, trying to push everything into right field. Did, too—five for five and the Giants lost again."

ROBERTO de VICENZO, the Argentine golfer:
"After I scored a win at Dallas last year, a lady came up to me with a tragic story about her daughter who she said had leukemia and asked for some money. I gave it to her. Later, an amigo came along and angrily said to me, 'What did you do that for? Her daughter doesn't have leukemia.' I looked at him and said, 'She doesn't? That's the best news I ever heard in my life.'"

MAURY WHITE, Des Moines writer:
"Lew Alcindor, who worked in Los Angeles for a movie company last summer, will spend this summer with the Office of Economic Opportunity, teaching athletic skills in various cities around the nation. Show 'em how to grow seven feet tall!"

MELVIN ROBERTSON, former Stanton mentor, now defensive coach for the University of Houston:

"When Cliff Larson (defensive tackle) of our team gets mean, there's nobody on the team that can handle him. He just stays too friendly. And sophomore linebacker Glenn Graef is a tough nut. He'll look you up to hit you."

JOE BLACK, former relief pitcher for the old Brooklyn Dodgers:

"I feel sorry for Walt Alston. He hasn't had nearly as good a club in recent years as when we were all playing in Brooklyn, but he still managed to win. Last season it was Koufax's arm and Willis' speed that did it and now they're both gone. Walter is going to have to make his pitching staff understand psychologically that there's no Koufax to come in every fourth day. They're going to have to be the stoppers. And he's got to figure out how to play the guys he traded for, like Bob Bailey, Gene Michael and Ron Hunt. I like the Pirates to win."

Miller Barber Is Given New Car For Hole-In-1

DALLAS (AP)—Miller Barber shot in his career. One at Seattle paid him $10,000. Open Golf Tournament Monday.

But the former Air Force lieutenant, who has been on the PGA tour for more than eight years, did eight times better than that with a hole-in-one. He received a Mercury Cougar, valued at $4,000, for the feat.

Barber has been cashing in on the aces, five of which he has shot in his career. He came closest to one in the Buick Open at Flint, Mich., and picked up $15,000. He was only about three feet away from the cup.

Barber in his eight and one-third years on the tour has won almost a fifth more with the aces, five of which he has shot in his career.

Gets Champagne

Philadelphia 76ers coach Alex Hannum has champagne poured over his head by players in dressing room of the Cow Palace, after winning the National Basketball Association championship Monday night. Philadelphia won the sixth game of the best-of-seven series by winning, 125-122, over the San Francisco Warriors. Hal Greer stands over Hannum. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Alex Says 76ers 'Best Team Ever'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"This is the greatest team in the history of professional basketball," declares Coach Alex Hannum of his Philadelphia 76ers, the champions of the National Basketball Association. "They established a won-loss record for regular season play, beat the Boston Celtics in the Eastern playoffs and defeated San Francisco's Warriors twice on their own court."

By a 125-122 margin, the 76ers beat the Warriors on Monday night to capture the final playoffs, four games to two. Superiority at the free throw line and rugged play by Wilt Chamberlain did it.

The 7-foot 1-inch Most Valuable Player of the NBA capped his performance when he loomed in front of the Warriors' Rick Barry and forced an off-line shot when the San Francisco Warriors trailed by one point with 15 seconds to play. Stars of the 76ers were many a team where the players picked each other up and where a 12-point deficit late in the third quarter of the final game was more than made up. Overall, Philadelphia hit 41 times from the free throw line while the Warriors notched only 22 free throws.

stanza when the 76ers surged back.

Still the big man was Chamberlain with 24 points, 23 rebounds and a non-statistical job of forcing and blocking Warrior shots. Winners of 68 while losing only 13 during the regular season, the Philadelphians were hard pressed in this playoff.

Going in with a 3-2 margin in games, the 76ers trailed 94-82 with four minutes, 39 seconds remaining in the third period. As Chamberlain put it, "I'd rather be a little behind because then we don't become complacent."

Coach Bill Sharman of San Francisco, admitting his club has great potential with its many young players, added, "You have to look to the 76ers for the next few years. They will be tough to beat."
