In Middle East Poisonous Brew Boils

By The Associated Press

A poisonous stew is bubbling once again in the Middle East. It has all the ingredients necessary for an accidental explosion which could present the world with a new and dangerous crisis.

Should the explosion come, it probably would result from accident or miscalculation.

But some of the Arabs may be tempting fate. Syria vows to continue sending fedayeen-commando infiltrators "to destroy and burn" in Israel, an enterprise which could provoke the Israelis into a massive reprisal.

Difficult Spot

That would put Gamal Abdel Nasser on a difficult spot, and perhaps war then would be unavoidable.

This is the situation in brief: Nasser's Egyptian troops are reported streaming toward the Israeli frontier in support of Syria, on the grounds of alleged Israeli troop concentrations on the Syrian border. Egyptian and Syrian forces are on an "alert" against what they claim is a military threat from Israel. The United Nations peacekeeping force in the Gaza Strip has been warned to get out of range, according to the Cairo newspaper Al Ahram, which usually speaks for Nasser.

Explosion Point

There is another potential explosion point, far to the south on the border between Saudi Arabia and strife-ridden Yemen. This is a case of Arab against Arab. Nasser is engaged in an acrimonious feud with Kings Faisal of Saudi Arabia and Hussein of Jordan, Israel's neighbor to the east. Egyptian planes are reported to have bombed two Saudi towns on the Yemen border as a warning to the Saudi king against sending military help to Yemeni royalists fighting the Cairo-backed republicans in Yemen.

Nasser has more than 40,000 troops in Yemen supporting the republican regime. He has committed many of the planes he acquired from the Russians to the support of the Yemeni revolutionaries. An eruption on the Israeli frontier would give him an awkward second front. This is one reason why diplomats tend to look on Nasser's hostile gestures as more political than military.

Fragile Kingdom

Neither of the Arab kings—Hussein of Jordan and Faisal of Saudi Arabia—has much love for Nasser or Syria's Socialist government. But both are required by the pressure of Arab opposition to Zionism to make a show of unity toward any confrontation between Arabs and Israel. Without such a show, both crowns would be in peril.

The fragile kingdom of Jordan, with the longest Arab frontier with Israel, nervously jumped into the act with an announcement that an Israeli aggression anywhere would be considered a thrust against all Arabs. Yet despite the professed hatred of all Arabs for Israel, Nasser and the Syrians can bank on little help from either Jordan or Saudi Arabia.

'Liberation' Acts

But any safety valves are not dependable in so complex and volatile a situation. The Arabs may find themselves in the position of having to back up words with deeds.

The Supreme Arab Defense Council has been meeting regularly this spring to deal with military plans and raise money for the so-called Palestine Liberation Organization. Saudi Arabia and Jordan have shunned the meetings.

The council reportedly decided that the organization, armed and financed by the council, would become the spearhead of a "liberation" movement to wipe out Israel, free to act on its own without prior orders from the council.

Arabian Dreams

The notion of wiping out Israel may be just a figment of Arab dreams. But should commando attacks become intolerable to Israel, her reaction could create an enormously difficult international situation in an oil-rich area which is important to the economy of Western Europe.

As Arab propaganda frequently notes, the U.S. 6th Fleet still is in the Mediterranean. Once again—as in 1958—it could become involved in a situation productive of an international storm, with the Soviet Union again making plays a big part in the over-all picture of burgeoning trouble. Nasser purports now to control the southern entrance of the Red Sea by virtue of his intervention. There is an implied threat in this to Israeli shipping. It is yet another explosion point. Israeli Prime Minister Levi Eshkol last week said that "no matter who the aggressors might be," Israel will repay any moves to interfere with shipping to and from Israel in the Red Sea.

Church Job

Among the job offers coming in to Pat Ward, the one-time "eall girl of the century," was one from a minister who thinks she can work to keep youngsters off the path to temptation and trouble. The Rev. Harald Eredesen, pastor of the First Reformed Church of Mt. Vernon, N.Y., asked Miss Ward if she would work at the church this summer. She had appeared on television saying she needed a job desperately. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Ten Will Set Spending Tab

AUSTIN (AP) — Ten men, presumably opening their traditionally closed doors, will set the tab for state government spending next year.

That was settled Wednesday when senators ignored the wishes of Gov. John Connally and Speaker Ben Barnes by voting, 21-9, to reject House changes in the Senate's one-year general appropriations bill.

Instead, as Lt. Gov. Preston Smith has wanted all along, a 10-man conference committee was named to work out a compromise between the Senate's $437.6 million spending bill and the $448.4 million measure passed by the House Tuesday.

FIRST MEETING

The conference committee planned today to hold its first meeting at 1:30 p.m. The meeting was to be open to news media.

Smith helped his own cause with a quick gavel, touching off a flurry of angry speeches by a few senators.

"This Senate has not been permitted to act for itself, to work for itself," said Sen. Jack Strong, Longview.

Strong made a special speech after Smith quickly ruled out of order the Longview senator's attempts to instruct the conference committee to limit its discussions solely to differences in the two money bills and to keep certain items in the final bill.

POWER ABUSE

Just as quickly, Smith denied an appeal of his ruling.

Ill with what doctors have diagnosed recently as rheumatoid arthritis, Strong spoke from a wheelchair. His face was flushed.

When he finished, Sen. A. R. Schwartz, Galveston, jumped up to protest Smith's ruling.

"We have seen the culmination of the abuse of power," said Schwartz, who has been at odds with Smith several times during the session. "We have a right to be heard, a right to expect common decency from the chair . . . What appalls me is that 31 members of the Senate will let one man rule the Senate with a weak gavel and an iron hand."

DICTATORSHIP

"Who will be recognized? Anybody who will get down on their hands and knees and crawl for that recognition. The legislative process barely works now—it won't work with anarchy, with the dictatorship of the chair (Smith)."

As Schwartz spoke, he never looked at Smith who was seated at the front of the Senate, but the Galveston senator continually pointed a finger in Smith's direction.

Calm Prevails As 'Get Tough' Plan Invoked

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Texas Southern University administrators invoked a "get tough" policy and calm prevailed on the campus today after rioting in which a policeman was fatally shot and four other persons were wounded.

Of the 488 students arrested during the four-hour conflict early Wednesday, five were charged with rioting and their bonds fixed at $10,000 each. Conviction on the felony charge carries a penalty of four to 40 years in prison.

Most of the others taken into custody were released late in the day. Authorities said other complaints may be filed.

CAMPUS CRUISERS

Patrolmen in unmarked cars cruised the campus today without incident. Other officers stayed at a command post nearby.

About 100 policemen stormed into dormitories at the predominantly Negro state school, largest of its kind in Texas, to reach snipers firing on them early Wednesday. Officers estimated more than 3,000 shots were exchanged.

Sheriff's officers said 16 students were treated at the county jail for minor injuries, mostly cuts and bruises.

FIRE BOMBS

Lewis R. Kuba, 24, a rookie patrolman, died about seven hours after he was shot between the eyes as he and fellow officers advanced on a dormitory from which students were shooting and tossing crude fire bombs.

Police said a preliminary ballistic examination indicated the bullet that struck Kuba hit another object first.

Authorities said they found a .22-caliber pistol and an automatic shotgun in the two men's dormitories after the shooting ceased.

The Rev. W. D. Sallsbury, Roman Catholic chaplain at TSU for eight years, asserted that police, in searching for weapons in dormitories after the rioting, had destroyed personal property.

DOUBLE VOICE

Mayor Louie Welch and Dist. Atty. Carol Vance expressed doubt that this occurred.

"I am sure the police searched the rooms very carefully but I find it hard to believe there was any wanton destruction of property," Welch said.

Police and administrators of the 4,500-student institution sought to pinpoint reasons for the outbreak, which started in brick and bottle throwing at passing motorists Tuesday night and flared into the gun battle after midnight.

NO CONTROL

Mayor Louie Welch said the events proved that the school administration "has absolutely no control over its students."

University officials expressed shock and said the campus is plagued with outside agitators.

"Once we find the students who participated in the violence we will get rid of them," said the Rev. Marvin Griffin of Waco, chairman of the school's board of trustees.

"But a great number of outsiders have caused many of the incidents at the campus. We may use more campus police, as empowered by the legislature."

STEPS TAKEN

The trustees held a four-hour meeting and announced, "Steps have been taken to separate from the university any student who is not here for the purpose of acquiring quality education and who is involved in such occurrences as happened Tuesday night."

Dean of students James Jones said any students found possessing weapons in the dormitories will be expelled.

TWIO WOUNDED

The wounded were Policemen Robert G. Blaylock, 31, and Alan Dale Dugger, 32, and students Morris English, 22, and David Herndon, 17.

Blaylock was hit in a thigh. Dugger was treated for a neck wound. English suffered a back wound. Herndon, shot in one arm, was treated and dismissed.

Woman Newspaper Leader, Mrs. Bernard Hanks, Dies

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Eva May Hanks, whose lifetime spanned a gradual leap from semi-clostered girlhood to a career as forceful newspaper executive, died Wednesday night. She was 82.

She was president of the Reporter Publishing Co., which publishes the Abilene Reporter-News, and a partner with Houston Harte of San Angelo in the Harte-Hanks group of Texas newspapers.

Death came at Hendrick Memorial Hospital. She was taken there Tuesday night, weakened by hemorrhaging, and blood transfusions could not save her.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Friday at the First Baptist Church in Abilene, with Dr. James Flammig, pastor, officiating. Interment will follow in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

ACTIVE ROLE

Mrs. Hanks took an active role in management of the newspaper properties after her husband, Bernard Hanks, died in 1948.

Her efforts also won recognition elsewhere. In 1955 the Veterans of Foreign Wars honored

Mrs. Hanks as the outstanding newspaper publisher in the state, citing the Reporter-News for singular community service.

Besides the Abilene Reporter-News and San Angelo Standard-Times, owned independently by the partners, the Harte-Hanks newspapers are the San Antonio Express and Evening News, Corpus Christi Caller-Times, Big Spring Herald, Marshall News - Messenger, Paris News, Denison Herald, Greenville Herald - Banner, Commerce Journal, Corsicana Sun and semi-weekly Light, and Huntsville Item.

NO DATING

Mrs. Hanks, the former Eva May Hollis, was a daughter of a pioneer physician who imposed stern rules for the early life of his girls. One rule forbade a formal social date until they finished schooling here at Simmons College, now Hardin-Simmons University.

Not until she received a degree from Simmons in 1902 did she have her first date. It was with Bernard Hanks, son of Abilene's Baptist minister in those days.

They were married Nov. 14, 1906, at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Hollis.

CLIMAX OF WEEK Cotton Parade Scheduled Friday

Climax of Howard County's observance of Cotton Week occurs Friday, when a parade will be staged to help emphasize the far-reaching effects on the economy of a strong cotton industry.

AT 4 P.M.

The review will start promptly at 4 p.m., said Conard Miller, who has handled arrangements. He predicted that, with all the many units to be entered by Agribusiness companies and organizations, the parade will be three-quarters of a mile or more in length.

It will start officially at First and Main Streets, go northward to Sixth, turn westward for one block to Scurry, and proceed northward back to First, point of dispersal.

Both the Goliad and Runnels Junior High bands will add music for the review, which also will feature winners in the week's Sew-It-Yourself-With-

Cotton contests: Miss Big Spring and Miss South Plains Maid of Cotton.

Lineup for the parade is like this:

Webb Air Force Base color guard, South Plains Maid of Cotton, Goliad band, YMCA twirling group, Miss Big Spring, Driver Truck & Implement entries, Soil Conservation Service float, Walker Implement, float with dress revue winners, Taylor Implement, Farm Bureau queen, Howco Tractor & Supply, Kimbell Feed Mills, U.S. Experiment Station, Poxey Tractor Co., 4-H Club float, Clay's Farm Center, Future Farmers of America float, Runnels band.

Theme of the parade principally is to show the wide distribution of business and organizational enterprises which have to do with the planting, raising, harvesting and processing of cotton and its products.

Leathernecks Try To Hunt Down Blasters

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Marines moved out in search of the North Vietnamese below the demilitarized zone again today after another night of deadly bombardment that killed 11 Americans and wounded 41.

For an hour before dawn Communist guns, mortars and rockets rained more than 300 rounds on Dong Ha, Gio Linh, Camp Carroll and Cam Lo, four of the Marine outposts just below the division between North and South Vietnam.

The U.S. Command said the 11 Americans killed and 41 wounded were at Dong Ha. It said "no damage or casualties were reported" at the other three points. An earlier dispatch from Dong Ha had reported five killed and 38 wounded at that post.

At dawn Marine companies struck out from the nearby post at Con Thien in a new attempt to hunt down the Red forces they have been battling in the northernmost part of South Vietnam for weeks. There was suspicion that the North Vietnamese were preparing for some dramatic show of force in honor of Ho Chi Minh's 77th birthday Friday, and the Marines were determined to blunt any such attack.

HARD FIGHTING

The heavy nightly shelling and hard fighting in the Marine sector was reflected in weekly casualty figures announced today. The U.S. Command said 253 Americans and 1,362 enemy were killed last week. The American toll was slightly less than the 274 killed the week before, a record for the year. The enemy toll, while no record, was slightly more than the 1,903 the previous week.

The heaviest damage in the predawn bombardment came from big 140 mm rockets, one of the heaviest weapons in the Communist arsenal. The Reds unloaded 150 of these rockets on the 3rd Marine Division base at Dong Ha.

CAMP AFIRE

Although the daily communique reported only minor damage to the camp, AP Correspondent George Esper, who was injured when he dove for cover during the shelling, said the command post at the center of the camp was burning furiously after the shelling. One shell hit the quarters of Brig. Gen. Ike Ryan, the assistant division commander, but he was elsewhere.

Throughout the shelling, American artillery pieces and mortars continually hurled counter fire at the Red guns dug deep into jungle lairs to the north.

OUT IN FORCE

U.S. warplanes were also out in force blasting Red artillery positions in the buffer zone and to the north. Pilots reported destroying or damaging 11 artillery positions and silencing 15 anti-aircraft batteries inside the demilitarized zone or just north of it.

Thugs Steal $1 Million

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Police and troops manned barriers across roads leading out of northern Portugal today to try to bottle up thieves who stole $1 million Wednesday from a branch of the Bank of Portugal at the coastal resort of Figueira da Foz.

Search efforts were hampered by a break in communications with the resort, 120 miles north of Lisbon. The robbers cut the main telephone and telegraph lines.

All airports were alerted to watch for a four-seat single-engine plane stolen from an airport at the nearby town of Coimbra about half an hour after the robbery.

The holdup was staged by a band of youthful looking gunmen wearing dark glasses and what appeared to be false mustaches.

Surveyor Warm Up Expected

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 3 will be allowed to warm up from the freezing two-week lunar night before it is reactivated, scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory say.

The sun rose on the moon today, but since Surveyor is resting in a crater, the sun will "have to be pretty high before the spacecraft's electronics will operate," a spokesman said.

Surveyor 3 landed on the moon April 19. It returned 8,300 photographs to earth before being shut down May 3 for the lunar night, when temperatures dropped as low as 255 degrees below zero.

Meanwhile, Lunar Orbiter 4 continued to circle the moon, taking pictures which will enable scientists to map 97 per cent of the moon surface.

AFTER 40 YEARS The 'Lone Eagle' Still Active

Forty years ago, on May 20, 1927, Charles A. Lindbergh, in his plane, the Spirit of St. Louis, became the first aviator to fly solo, non-stop across the Atlantic. The trip, from Curtiss Field, Long Island, New York, to Le Bourget Airport near Paris took 33½ hours, and made Lindbergh a national hero, affectionately called "Lucky Lindy" and "the Lone Eagle."

After the kidnaping and murder of his young son, Lindbergh largely retreated from public life. He continues to lead an active life, but guards the anonymity he now has achieved.

Ready To Go

Charles Lindbergh, former air mail pilot, stands by his plane, the Spirit of St. Louis, just before beginning his historic, 33½-hour-in-the-air flight from Curtiss Field, N.Y., to Le Bourget Airport, France, the first solo crossing of the Atlantic from west to east.

Enroute

The Spirit of St. Louis takes off and Lindbergh recalls, "The wheels leave the ground — full flying speed — the controls taut, alive, straining. Now I have to make it — there's no alternative, it'll be close but the margin has shifted to my side." When he arrived in France, Lindbergh said, "Well, I made it."

Victim

Curly haired Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., shortly before he was kidnaped March 1, 1932, from his parents' home at Hopewell, N.J. On May 12, the body of the 19-month-old baby was found in a shallow grave five miles away. Four years later, April 3, 1936, Bruno Richard Hauptmann was executed for the crime.

RFK Sponsors Nicotine Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Sens. Robert F. Kennedy of New York and Warren G. Magnuson of Washington, are co-sponsoring a bill to force manufacturers to detail tar and nicotine content on cigarette packages and in their advertising.

Kennedy also wants the Federal Communications Commission to prevent or limit cigarette ads on television and radio. And if that doesn't work, he proposes a law to ban all such ads from the air for a year.

This would be an experiment, Kennedy said, to see if a drop in smoking would result. He said there seemed to be less smoking in Great Britain, where cigarette ads have been banned from the air since 1965.

Speaker

Charles A. Lindbergh went before major radio network microphones in Washington Sept. 15, 1939, to urge Americans to keep out of the war in Europe.

Promoted

Charles A. Lindbergh, left, takes the oath for his new rank, brigadier general, from Army Secretary Harold Talbott at the Pentagon on April 7, 1954.

Firm To Pay Opera Costs

NEW YORK (AP) — Eastern Air Lines has promised the Metropolitan Opera $500,000 to cover the cost of a new production of Wagner's dramatic four-opera cycle "Der Ring des Niebelungen."

"We feel we owe something to the communities we serve and who support us," Floyd D. Hall, president of Eastern, explained Wednesday in announcing "the largest single ongoing commitment" his company has made to a non-business cause.

The Met last put on one of the operas in 1962 with sets and costumes designed in 1948. The "Ring" operas are seldom performed in this country because they require strong voices, large casts and normally, elaborate sets and costumes.

Rudolf Bing, general manager of the Met, hailed the gift as perhaps ushering in increased corporate support of the arts. The operas "Die Walkure," "Das Rheingold," "Siegfried" and "Gottterdammerung" will be introduced one at a time in the next four seasons, so that by 1970-71 the Met will have the complete cycle.

Commie Official Elected Premier

BELGRADE (AP) — The Yugoslav Parliament today elected Mika Spiljak, a prominent Communist party official, as premier for a four-year term under a routine rotation system.

Spiljak, 53, who fought with President Tito's partisans against the Nazi occupation army in World War II, is a member of the ruling presidium of the Yugoslav Communist party.

He succeeds Petar Stambolic, Serbian Communist leader who had the post for the past four years.

He said extraterrestrial life may be elusive, or subtle. It may be beyond the range of our early instruments. But, "if it is there, we will find it."

Temperatures Head Upward

By The Associated Press
Temperatures headed upward as brisk south breezes fanned most of Texas today.

Effects of the latest cool spell had just about disappeared but the Weather Bureau saw pros- pects for another little drop in temperatures by Friday after- noon in the Panhandle and ad- jacent areas of North Central Texas.

Forecasts also offered hope for scattered showers Friday along the Red River and here and there across southern areas of the state.

Early morning temperatures were generally in the 50s to low 70s. Top marks Wednesday ranged up to 98 degrees at Presidio, El Paso and Wichita Falls recorded 92s, Childress 91 and Wink 90.

problems of adolescence. On a boy's 15th birthday — which some parents claim is a disease not an age — an Eton housemaster sees the following as a sensible letter he would write to a boy's mother:

"The affectionate small boy whom you thought you had lost will return to you as a charming young man — well-groomed in appearance and with delightful manners. He will have been worth waiting for. Meanwhile, we are both of us in for one hell of a time."

DO NOT DESPAIR

"Perhaps you have already started to wonder where you have gone wrong, and what you have done amiss to deserve his newfound anger.

"You, who have shown him most affection, will seem to be the butt for his most barbed and unkindly remarks. That is be- cause you are still the most im- portant woman in his life and the most convenient target for his burgeoning masculine ag- gressiveness.

"Do not despair. Ride out the storm. Be firm but affectionate. At this moment when he seems to need you least he in fact needs you most."

COMFORT

"Do not worry too much about his wearing apparel or the length of his hair. Comfort your- self with the knowledge that his present moods are transitory." Then in a final paragraph which parents all over the world could cherish, the housemaster says:

"If you do this and stand firm as a rock in the midst of his temptuous life, the small boy whom you thought you had lost will return to you as a charming young man — well-groomed in appearance and with delightful manners. He will have been worth waiting for. Meanwhile, we are both of us in for one hell of a time."

Society Editor Faces Nightmare

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Thomas Bain and Joyce Ann Bain are getting married here Saturday. The wedding party and guest list promises to be a society reporter's nightmare.

Not only is a Bain marrying a Bain, but the preacher's name is Bain. Bain is also the name of the organist, best man, maid of honor, two bridesmaids and the flower girl. To make matters worse, 50 Bains from each fami- ly are invited for the troth- plighting.

Both Bain families are from southside Virginia, but they have not been able to trace any connecting relationship.

Doctors quit smoking

CHICAGO — According to a recent survey, 52% of Ameri- can doctors do not smoke. Many quit recently due, ac- cording to the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, to the con- clusive evidence linking cigar- ettes and lung cancer.

Many doctors gave up smok- ing without straining their will power thanks to a new tablet which helps to progressively eliminate the need for nicotine and, as a result, the desire to smoke. Less than 2% of the 150,000 people who tried this tablet reported they still smoke!

Smokers interested in receiv- ing information (free) about this new tablet are invited to contact directly the Anti-To- bacco Center of America, Dept. 1011-H-1, 366 Fifth Ave- nue, New York 1, New York. It is sufficient to send your name and address. Just a post- card will do.

Have A Special Fijian Drink

"Pause that refreshes" Fijian style, finds native chief passing ceremonial "kava" bowl to American visitor to drink. Kava, which looks like muddy water, is made from crushed roots of yaqona bush, a species of pepper plant. It's considered rude not to finish the entire cupful. Best way to do it is close your eyes, forget you're drinking and gulp it quickly!

Fiji A British Jewel Among Islands Of South Pacific

Cosmopolitan is the word for the British Crown Colony of Fiji.

A visit to Suva will be one of the highlights of The Herald-sponsored South Pacific cruise of the Matson liner Mariposa in July.

Suva, with its "melting pot" population of 49,000, is the largest city on the island of Viti Levu, main island of the Fiji group.

Mariposa passengers will receive a royal welcome from the famed Fiji Police Band in their white serrated skirt-like sulus and colorful jackets. There is no greeting quite like it in any other port in the world.

MARKETPLACE
In the bustling marketplace you see Indian women in saris, Britishers in white shirts and shorts, Fijian women in flowing print dresses, Chinese girls in slit skirts, Fijian men in sulus and multi-colored blouses and Indians in turbans and saris. Throw in a mixture of Tongans, Samoans, Tahitians, Cook Islanders, Solomon Islanders, sailors from all over the world and tourists—and that's why "cosmopolitan" is the word for Fiji. You'll feel right at home with the "official" language, which is English.

Suva, aside from its unique population mix, is a typical South Seas island, with abundant palms, greenery, blue lagoons, coral reefs and villages with thatched-roofed houses.

"KAVA" BREAKS

However, Fiji's customs make it distinctly different. Fijians don't take coffee breaks; they take "kava breaks." Kava, which looks like muddy water, is made from crushed roots of the yaqona bush, a species of pepper plant. It is a cultivated bush, not a wild one. The taste for it must be cultivated, too.

Another fascinating custom is fire-walking by natives from the nearby island of Beqa (pronounced Beng-ga). This tribal tradition of walking bare-footed on red hot rocks still baffles medical experts. How do they do it? Monterey passengers will see 50 Fijians from Beqa do the "hot foot" routine.

They'll also see the startling "meke wesi," a native war dance performed with long, lethal-looking spears. Witnessing the centuries-old meke wesi, accompanied by native drums and chanting, is a hair-raising experience.

GOOD SHOPPING
Shopping in Suva is good. British woolsens are available, as are such souvenir items as carved forks and combs, "kava" bowls, tapa cloth, giant clam shells and tortoise shell jewelry.

Fiji also has big game fishing, a relatively new tourist attraction.

The Mariposa will sail from Los Angeles July 24 for Bora Bora, Tahiti, Rarotonga, Auckland, Sydney, Noumea, Suva, Niuafo'ou (better known as "Tinian Island"), Pago Pago, Honolulu and Hilo, Hawaii.

Information and reservations are available from Trimble, Baldrige Travel Service, 523 W. Beauregard, San Angelo.

Group Will Organize To Bring West Texas Water

Water, Inc., a non-profit corporation which will work toward the importation of water to the High Plains and adjacent areas for use in agriculture, industry, cities and recreation, will be organized at a public meeting in Lubbock May 24.

The meeting will begin at 2 p.m. in the Koko Palace, 5291 Avenue Q. All who have a stake in maintaining and expanding the area's economy are invited to attend.

A charter and by-laws for the new organization have been drawn up and speakers arranged for the meeting by the organizing committee, made up of leaders in business and agriculture throughout the area.

DIRECTORS, OFFICERS

The charter and by-laws will be presented for approval to those present at the May 24 meeting, after which directors will be elected. Directors are expected to get together and elect officers immediately following the general meeting.

The objective of Water, Inc., will be to lay the groundwork for the development of water importation projects capable of transporting large quantities of water from the Mississippi River system to West Texas.

A group of authorities on the subject of water will be on hand to bring the group up-to-date on studies that have been made and work that has been done toward importing water.

SPEAKERS

Speakers will be Marvin Nichols, of the Freese, Nichols and Endress engineering firm, Fort Worth; Joe G. Moore, executive director of the Texas Water Development Board, Austin; Leon Hill, district director of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, Amarillo; General W. T. Bradley, division engineer, South-west Division U.S. Corps of Engineers, Dallas; and Charles Verner, president of the First National Bank, Lubbock.

Verner's address will discuss the economic impact that imported water will have on the area. Each of the other speakers will outline what his particular agency has done and can be expected to do to help the area realize the objective of Water, Inc.

R. C. Godwin of Hereford, who is handling public information for the organizing committee, said, "All people interested in the economic development of their localities are urged to attend, and it is hoped that each locality in the area will be represented."

Rain Torrents Dent Drouth

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — South Florida has received torrents of rain after a two-month drouth that has killed animals and greenery and led to the burning of more than 100,000 acres of forest.

The dried Everglades National Park, South Miami and Coral Gables got more than four inches of rain Wednesday, Fort Lauderdale, Key West, Pompano Beach, West Palm Beach and Fort Myers all drew measurable amounts though less than one inch.

"I think you can say that the drouth is over," said U.S. weather forecaster Joe Pelissier. "We shouldn't go back to a dry pattern but it will probably be clear for a day or so. We should be getting some more rain sometime next week." While fire watchers took their first rest in weeks, emergency electric crews rushed to restore power in sections blacked out by the storm. Phone companies patched storm-loosened lines and police began untangling dozens of accidents caused by slippery streets.

Everglades rangers said the rain in the park eased the fire hazard but was not enough to replenish dried-up waterholes for birds and animals. The drouth killed thousands of fish in the Everglades, robbing food from all the wildlife except the buzzards.

Vet Actor Dies

Nixon Running Behind Johnson

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Vice-President Richard M. Nixon has overtaken Michigan Gov. George Romney as the favorite for the Republican presidential nomination, according to the results of a Louis Harris poll.

But with Nixon's running behind President Johnson by a 45 per cent to 55 per cent margin, indications are that Republicans and independents are looking beyond the current GOP front-runners, the report said.

Notably, the poll showed a rise in popular support for Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Rhodesia Bids To Bridge Gap

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rhodesia offered to send 5,000 troops to Vietnam in an attempt by Prime Minister Ian Smith to restore relations with the United States, Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., said Wednesday.

He said he received the offer in a telegram from the Rhodesian Cabinet and that a similar telegram had been sent to the U.S. government.

State Department officials would not comment.

Thurmond disclosed the Rhodesian proposal at a "peace with Rhodesia" banquet which organizers said would start a campaign to change U.S. policy on Rhodesia, "from hostility to friendliness."

"Rhodesia is willing to make available, immediately, up to 5,000 troops," Thurmond said. The United States does not recognize the White Smith regime and observes United Nations economic sanctions against Rhodesia.

"The troop commitment is an attempt by Smith to bridge the gap between the United States and Rhodesia," Thurmond said.

"Is the United States willing to help Smith bridge this gap?" the senator asked.

"In this day of building bridges, mostly to the Communist world, let us help Ian Smith build a bridge between Rhodesia and the United States."

Fed Reserve Chief Speaks Bluntly Again

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — William McChesney Martin, a man whose conscience and long memory impels him to say what intelligent men know should be said but fear to hear, has spoken bluntly again.

Once again Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, has warned the stock market community of "disquieting" similarities between large-scale speculation now and certain conditions that preceded the 1929 crash.

SPECULATING

Typically, Martin expressed his concern at a celebration that, judging from the program, was intended to be a gala rather than critical affair. It was the observance of the New York Stock Exchange's 175th anniversary.

Martin has made similar statements before that have offended the establishment. He has been accused of too much caution by some, of too much bluntness by others. But even those who disagree have been seen applauding later.

Martin's concern now is with investment companies — mutual funds, pension funds, big portfolios. Many of these "institutions" are now openly speculating rather than investing. Their in-out trading is causing wide price changes.

'POISONOUS'

"In effect, they set a target on a growth stock, attain that target, unload, and then seek other opportunities for quick capital gains," he told the brokers and others assembled.

Some of this "poisonous" activity, Martin feels, may have results similar to pooling, now outlawed, which preceded the big crash.

Pooling was rigging. Several traders created deceptive activity in a stock, planted bullish rumors, otherwise encouraged buying, and then sold out at big profits.

BUYING POWER

Funds by their great buying power, can quite legitimately have a big effect on prices. If several funds buy the same stock, as they often do, this power is multiplied. The biggest danger, though, is that they might sell together — as they do.

Such selling has occurred often in the past year. In one instance one-quarter of a firm's shares were sold in a few hours at a loss of $19 a share. And another company considered delisting its stock to avoid such action by funds.

Curiously, this problem has been discussed and studied but never brought to a decision. The Securities and Exchange Commission barely dealt with the situation in its recent studies.

Manuel F. Cohen, SEC chairman, concedes "institutional concentration" has an effect. But what, he asks?

WRIST TAP

"Until we know more than we do now, we will be handicapped in reaching intelligent judgments about developing situations promptly enough to take effective action in the public interest," he explained at a security forum.

The New York Stock Exchange recognizes the situation but has done little more than tap a finger or tap a wrist. Its annual report for 1966 contains this admonition from Keith F. Funston, president: "For their part, some institutions probably will want to give more thought to the effect their transactions have on the companies in which they invest and on the rank and file of stockholders."

Missing Boys Leads Fading

HANNIBAL, Mo. (AP) — With clues to the whereabouts of three missing boys in Hannibal exhausted and hope for their safe return almost nonexistent, weary searchers have virtually discontinued their efforts.

A final effort to find Billy Hoag, 11, Joey Hoag, 13, and Craig Dowell, 14, proved fruitless when a massive power shovel stripped tons of earth and stone from the road bed of US 79 with no results.

Mayor Harry Musgrove admitted after the excavation, "We'll have to announce that all leads have been exhausted." Rescue workers from all over the nation poured through the virtually infinite caverns and passages beneath the Midwest town, hoping to find the boys, missing since the evening of May 10.

The youths were seen entering Murphy's Cave. Another report had them spotted in an area known as "Lover's Leap." Throughout the search there was speculation that the boys might have entered some hole later covered up by construction work on the highway.

Dear Abby

Get Your Doctor's Advice

DEAR ABBY: My wife is 37 and is expecting her fourth child. We have two sons, 11 and 16, and a daughter, 12. My problem is something I hesitate to even discuss with her doctor, but the time is drawing near and I can't put it off any longer. My wife wants our children to witness the birth of her baby. She says our daughter should see what it is like to bring a life into the world, and it won't hurt the boys either.

I told her I didn't think the hospital would allow it, but she said if they didn't, she'd arrange to have her baby at home because she wants our children to learn the facts of life as they really are. Have you or any of your readers ever heard of anything like this? Maybe I am wrong, but I can't go along with it. What should I do?

HER HUSBAND

DEAR HUSBAND: Ask your wife to tell her doctor about her plan and let HIM handle it. I am sure he will agree with you. With ideas such as this, I'm surprised your wife would start with the "birth." Why not the "conception?" It's preposterous.

DEAR ABBY: I was recently released from a mental hospital where I spent a year and a half. Now that I am out, my friends are driving me (if you will excuse the expression) "crazy" carefully avoiding every reference relating to mental illness.

If someone slips and says "nuts" or "crazy" he becomes so embarrassed, he embarrasses ME. Abby, I know I have been ill, and when others treat me as though I don't know where I've been, I feel as though maybe I should be back there again.

Here's a big thanks to a friend who recently said of me in the presence of other friends, "Oh, don't listen to her — she's crazy as a loon!" It made me feel that he really thought I was all right or he wouldn't have said it. I hope you print this for what it's worth.

OUT BUT NOT REALLY "IN"
DEAR OUT: If your experience left you with absolutely no sensitivity to remarks relating to mental illness, you are indeed an exception. However, I would not advise anyone to use the expression "crazy as a loon" or anything resembling it in the presence of one who had just spent a year and a half in a mental hospital.

DEAR ABBY: I recently borrowed a glass flower vase from a friend. When I went to her house to return it she wasn't home, but her neighbor volunteered to see that she got it, so I left it with this neighbor.

Well, the neighbor's little boy accidentally knocked it over and broke it. It can be replaced, but it is rather expensive, so I told this neighbor that I thought she should pay half and I would pay half, but she said she was only trying to do me a favor and she didn't see why she should pay anything. Who is responsible in this case?

NEVER BORROW
DEAR NEVER: You are.

New Films Are Nuder Than Ever

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Movies are nuder than ever, and no one knows exactly where the trend will end.

Until five years ago, the major film companies did not even allow nudes to be seen on the screen; harem dancers were decorously supplied with rhinestones.

All that has changed. The new film era of exposed skin was heralded a decade ago by Brigitte Bardot, whose cauterizing in-and-out-of-towels attracted the interest of audiences everywhere.

European film maker, notably the uninhibited Swedes, saw the value of stripping their stars. American producers, still wedded to the puritan tradition, held the line. The production code decreed: "Complete nudity, in fact or in silhouette, is never permitted, nor shall there be any licentious notice by characters in the film of suggested nudity."

Three years ago this decade began facing a strong challenge. The cause celebre was "The Pawnbroker," which was certainly not a girly film. Bare-breasted women were shown as evidence of the depravity of a Nazi concentration camp.

The sponsors of "The Pawnbroker" would not remove the nude scenes, and the film received a condemned rating from the Catholic Legion of Decency, which has now been superseded by the National Catholic Office for Motion Pictures.

"The Pawnbroker" was at first denied, then granted a production code seal after certain revisions were made. The nudity remained. Such have been the changes in the code administration since then that "The Pawnbroker" would doubtless be passed without question today.

The advent of Jack Valenti as president of the Motion Picture Association brought a much less specific code which eliminated the prohibition against nudity. American companies are now releasing many films that display female breasts and back-sides of both sexes.

Villa Hurls Cat Victory

Elias Villa spurred the Optimist Cats to a 3-1 victory over the Hull and Phillips Indians in the Texas Little League play here Wednesday night, setting the losers down with two hits while fanning 17.

The Cats, who are now tied for the top spot with a 5-2 record, collected five blows off Gary Christensen, the losing flinger.

A two-run outbreak in the fourth nailed down the win for the Cats. Villa, Johnny Rodriguez and John Person scored the runs for the Felines while Sammy Rodriguez counted for the Indians in the first inning. Felix Morales, Danny Diaz, Villo, Rodriguez and Person connected safely for the Cats while Oscar Robles and Arthur Olague were the only Indians who solved Villa's slants for hits.

The defeat was the third of the season for the Indians, compared to four wins.

Beman Makes Pro Start This Week

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The top names intact, the $115,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament opens today, signaling the official end of Deane Beman's amateur golf reign.

DEANE BEMAN

Beman, 29, currently America's finest amateur, scheduled his professional debut over the 7,132-yard, Colonial Country Club course.

The tournament also marked the renewal of the friendly rivalry between Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, runner-up last week at New Orleans.

The presence of Ben Hogan, 54, attracted an unusual amount of attention, due to impressive showing at the Masters and the Houston Champions. He seeks his sixth Colonial championship.

Frank Beard, the current sensation, and George Knudsen, cessor, now a millionaire. An insurance executive, Beman decided the time was ripe to make the move.

"From a practical standpoint, I really believe if I didn't go in now, I never would... It is something I really wanted to do."

The transition from amateur to professional competition, he said, will probably be a smooth one, perhaps because he has played in 11 open and nine Masters tournaments.

"I might be wrong," he said. "But I don't think my attitude will change at all. I've always worked pretty hard and wanted to win just as bad."

He is limited by the PGA tournament committee to playing in three tournaments until he completes a two-week PGA training school next fall. He plans then to move onto the tour in dead seriousness. "I wouldn't do it any other way," he said. "I couldn't do it half-way."

Torre And McCarver Stump For Catchers

Probably the guy on whom an extra-inning baseball game is toughest is the poor catcher going up and down behind the plate, wearing all that heavy gear. So Joe Torre and Tim McCarver, a couple of receivers, decided they'd rather not stick around for more than the regulation nine innings. Torre, Atlanta's All-Star catcher, cracked a leadoff homer in the bottom of the ninth, lifting the Braves to a 4-3 victory over the New York Mets Wednesday night and McCarver came off the St. Louis bench and socked a leadoff homer in the ninth for a 3-2 triumph over Philadelphia.

For Torre it was home run No. 9 this season, tying him for the major league lead with teammate Hank Aaron, who had a two-run shot against the Mets earlier.

McCarver's pinch-hit shot was his third of the year and raised his batting average to .318.

In other games Wednesday, San Francisco topped Chicago 4-2, Cincinnati took Pittsburgh 3-1 and Los Angeles rapped Houston 7-0.

Aaron's two-run shot in the sixth inning had tied it for the Braves against young Tom Seaver, who helped his own cause by driving two New York runs with three straight hits.

Then Torre's leadoff shot in the ninth ended it. Left-handed hitting McCarver was on the bench against southpaw Chris Short, who cruised through the first five innings, retiring 15 straight batters. But when right-hander Dick Farrell came on in relief, McCarver batted for John Romano opening the bottom of the ninth.

His shot into the right-field seats gave the Cards their victory. Tito Fuentes ripped a two-out two-run double in the sixth inning that carried the Giants past the Cubs. Fuentes connected against loser Curt Simmons following two walks.

Mike McCormick won his fourth for the Giants with late-inning help from Frank Linzy. It was San Francisco's sixth victory in the last seven games.

The first-place Reds won their fifth straight with Tony Perez driving in two runs and Sammy Ellis going all the way for his fourth victory.

Ellis gave up nine scattered hits and was nicked for a run in the second but held the Pirates off the rest of the way.

The Dodgers ran up a quick seven-run lead against Houston and it was more than enough for Don Sutton, who won his first game after four straight losses.

Wes Parker homered for Los Angeles and three Dodger runs crossed the plate in the third on a bases-loaded throwing error by Sonny Jackson. Mike Cuellar was the loser.

Argonauts Trade For Thornton

TORONTO (AP) — In a trade regarded as one of the most vital in recent Canadian Football League transactions, the Toronto Argonauts have obtained Dick Thornton from the Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

Thornton, a quarterback, is a former Northwestern University star. The Argonauts gave up Bill Van Burkleo, a quarterback-halfback, Vic Janule and Chip Barrett in the deal.

IN WALKER CUP English Poised For Challenge SANDWICH, England (AP) — John Jacobs, Britain's pre-eminent golf teacher has sounded a warning to the United States: American domination of the Walker Cup matches is nearing an end. "We're learning and we're catching up," said Jacobs, a former Ryder Cup player and the man the English professionals seek out when their game goes sour. And Joe Carr, the British captain, said the Americans "look extremely good, but I think we are even money to win." Carr, 45, a three-time British amateur champion, had been listed as non-playing captain, but changed his mind Wednesday. "I will play," Carr said after an excellent practice round. He has outplayed all other members of the British squad in the early trials for the Friday-Saturday competition on the 6,748-yard, par 70 Royal St. George course on Pegwell Bay. Carr guided the British to a tie two years ago in the United States. The United States has won the Cup 18 times and lost only once, in 1938. The 1965 match was the only tie. The matches are held every two years, matching the best amateurs of each country in a hotly contested two-days of nerves, worry and energy. The matches involve four foursomes Friday morning followed by eight singles in the afternoon. The same program will be repeated Saturday. The manner in which the 10-man teams will be paired will be decided by a draw today. Britain's legal bookmakers have the United States a 2-1 favorite. The U.S. team is led by non-playing captain Jess Sweeter of Washington, D. C. Playing members are Don Allen, Rochester, N.Y.; Marty Fleckman, Port Arthur, Tex.; Bill Campbell, Huntington, W. Va.; Ron Cerrudo, San Rafael, Calif.; Bob Dickson, Muskogee, Okla.; Jim Grant, San Francisco; A. Downing Gray, Pensacola, Fla.; Jack Lewis, Florence, S.C.; Bob Murphy, Gainesville, Fla.; and Ed Tutwiler, Indianapolis.

Ex-Waco Grid Great Dies In Sleep At Age Of 62

WACO, Tex. (AP)—John Drew (Boody) Johnson, who gained a claim in the 1920s as the greatest high school football player in Texas history, died in his sleep today. He was 62.

The man who carried Waco High School to its first athletic fame but who never could star in college because of an injured leg was found dead in his bed by his wife at 5:30 a.m.

He had been ill for some time, suffering from high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries and emphysema.

Johnson was in the purchasing department of Baylor University, his alma mater. He operated a tailoring and cleaning business for 29 years prior to going with Baylor 10 years ago.

For many years after finishing at Baylor, Johnson was a football official. But it was three years—1921-22-23—at Waco High School under famed coach Paul Tyson that marked him for immortality in football.

He led Waco to an undefeated, untied, unscored record in 1921, to the state championship in 1922 and to the state finals in 1923. He was a great runner, gaining as much as 300 yards and scoring 30 yards in a single game, but he won his greatest fame as a dropkicker. He could dropkick field goals from the 50-yard line, and once had one for 55 yards.

Mitchell Bell Blanks Stars

Mitchell Bell mesmerized the Stars in hurling the Cabots to a 4-0 American Little League victory here Wednesday night.

The win was the first for the Cabots in six starts while the Stars are now 3-3.

Bell limited the Stars to four hits, two of them by Dick Conley.

The Cabots collected eight safeties off Mitt Rogers and Mike Parker. Sharing hitting laurels for the rejuvenated Cabots were Jackie Barber and Scott Carlisle, who each banged

O's, Sox Near Mark In Round Trippers

By The Associated Press

Boog Powell is building up a following as a philosopher. "Just swing, that's my philosophy," the Baltimore first baseman said Wednesday night. "But swing hard in case you hit it."

Well, the boys were swinging hard in the Oriole-Boston game, and they were hitting it.

Ten home runs sailed out of Fenway Park—seven by Baltimore and three by the hometown Red Sox—in the game won 12-8 by the Orioles.

The 10 homers were one shy of the major league record for two teams in a game; Baltimore's four blasts in the seventh were one short of the mark for homers by a team in one inning and the total of five in the seventh tied the record for homers by two teams in an inning.

In all, there were 21 homers hit in the American League Wednesday night, with five coming in Cleveland's 8-7 victory over the New York Yankees.

Detroit crushed Washington 8-1. California topped Kansas City 7-3 and the Chicago White Sox edged Minnesota 5-4 in other AL action.

There was a stiff wind blowing out generally from home plate in Fenway, but hitters on both clubs thought the homers were hit well enough to be homers there regardless of the wind.

However, Baltimore's Brooks Robinson thought the wind did affect the pitchers psychologically.

"With the wind blowing out like that," he said, "a pitcher can't make any mistakes."

The trouble started in the very first inning when Paul Blair of the Orioles hit a solo homer and Boston's Don Demeter connected with two on.

Brooks Robinson homered with none on in the second and teammate Frank Robinson did the same in the fourth. Carl Yastrzemski belted a two-run blast in the Boston fifth.

Then came the wild seventh. Andy Etchebarren hit a three-

Record Book Endangered

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—The record book may be in for a major revision and North Texas sprinters and hurdlers are picked to edge Drake and new member Memphis State for the team crown in the 57th Missouri Valley Conference track meet starting Friday night.

Only a few of the meet records appear safe. The league's first 17-foot pole vault, 7-foot high jump and 60-foot shot put are possibilities.

Wichita's Fred Burton has cleared 16-9 1/4 and twice came very close to a 17-foot vault. Cincinnati's Cornelius Lindsey has high jumped 6-10. Wichita's Tom Holliday has improved more than four feet this season to 48-3 3/4 and is after 60 with the shot.

North Texas has sprinters Oscar Howard, with a wind-aided 14.4 in the 100 and a legal 9.5, and Doyle Magee with a 21.1 in the 220 and a 46.9 quarter.

The meet records are 9-4.211 around one curve and 46.9.

Drake's Dennis Hunt has a 1:51.1 half mile, compared to the meet mark of 1:51.9, but Hunt will be doubling 40 minutes earlier in the mile, where he has run 4:10.7 and a relay 4:06.9.

The meet mark is 4:10.3. For this reason, Cincy's Chuck Roberts, with a best of 1:52.5, is the 880 pick. Drake's Elliott Evans also will attempt the mile-880 track.

Louis Smith of North Texas has a 14.6 in the high hurdles, well under his meet mark of 14.4. Smith also has a 9.7 in the 100, but the two events are back to back and it's doubtful he'll run both.

Drake's Dave Compton has a 9:06.7 two-mile. The meet mark is 9:05.

In the 440 hurdles, the meet mark of 54.5 by Drake's Dave Carlson has been exceeded by Randy Carleton of Memphis State at 53.5, Smith at 53.5 and Carlson himself at 53.9.

Others who have exceeded meet marks are Robbie Nichols of Tulsa with a 175-1 discus throw and the NTS mile relay team with a 3:12.5.

The Associated Press form chart shows North Texas 64 points, Drake 54, Memphis State 53, Wichita 26, Cincy 22, Tulsa 20, Louisville 12—half of these by basketball. All-American Westley Unsell in the shot and discus—and Bradley 4.

Prelims start at 7 p.m. Friday and the finals at 1:30 Saturday.

Wichita is the defending champ in track. Wichita coach Fritz Snodgrass is retiring at the end of a 41-year coaching career, 11 at Wichita.

North Texas is a strong favorite to repeat as champion in golf and tennis.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Elisio Estrada, the young bantamweight being managed by Martin County's Melton McMorris, gets a chance to improve upon his 19-3-1 record in Los Angeles tonight when he climbs in the ring with tough Frankie Crawford.

Estrada figures to give away a few pounds and a lot of experience to Crawford, who is the eighth-ranked featherweight in the world, but he can move ahead quickly by winning over Crawford.

The bout, which will be held in the Olympic Auditorium, is down for ten rounds but doesn't figure to go that far.

Estrada gained a lot of confidence recently by taking out Benny McCoy in New Orleans and is in demand all over the country. The fight was arranged on short notice but Estrada is in good shape and figures to be ready.

MORE SPORTS
ON PAGE 11-A

Harrison Stepler, a 6-3 guard who led Moberly, Mo., to the National JC basketball championship last season, likely will sign with the University of Iowa.

Stepler is quick and strong on defense, handles the ball extremely well and quarterbacks a team well.

More and more, Big Ten schools are turning to junior colleges for athletic talent. The University of Houston is also in the bidding for Stepler.

The California news gazettes soft-pedal the fact that Clarence Johnson of the University of California, perhaps the most promising high jumper in the world, was recruited out of San Antonio, Texas.

Johnson cleared 7-3 1/4 in a recent meet. No athlete in the civilized world has done as well since 1967 started its run.

Johnson's entry in the meet was considered remarkable because (1) he had had a broken tooth extracted the previous day and the raw roots of the molar were still exposed and (2) he ran a 49.5 quarter-mile immediately afterwards for the good of his team. His mouth was jammed with cotton to cushion the shock for his sore gums at the time.

Johnson's tremendous leap was only a half-inch off John Thomas' National collegiate record.

Israelis Remain Calm As War Fever Builds Up Among Neighbors

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — The Israeli army announced today that it has taken "suitable steps" to counter the movement of Egyptian troops into the Sinai Desert on Israel's southern border.

An Israeli army spokesman announced: "Following the move of considerable Egyptian army forces into the Sinai Peninsula, which has increased tension in the area, the Israeli army has taken suitable steps."

The spokesman did not elaborate, and no further information was immediately available. But it was assumed that Israeli forces had reinforced the southern frontier.

Israelis in general remained calm as Syria and the United Arab Republic moved troops up to the borders in preparation for the Israeli attack they claim is coming.

"Why should we get excited?" asked one Israeli taxi driver. "It has happened dozens of times."

Israeli leaders were watching developments closely, but the Jewish nation generally believes the troop movements are merely for Arab propaganda. The Israelis doubt that Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, with 50,000 of his frontier troops tied down in Yemen, is ready for a second front.

SURROUNDED Except for its western border on the Mediterranean, Israel is surrounded by Arab nations — Lebanon on the north, Syria on the northeast, Jordan on the east and the United Arab Republic on the southwest.

Jordan said Wednesday its armed forces have been put in a state of alert and Lebanon's foreign minister, George Hakim, said his country stood by Syria against any Israeli aggression. He said it was the United Nations' responsibility to stop such an attack.

Other Arab countries also have declared their support for Syria, and Iraq said it was prepared to extend every possible assistance.

In no Arab capital, though, has there been official urging for an aggressive war against Israel. The implication has been that Israel would have to strike first.

Observers in Beirut, Lebanon, felt a stray shot fired somewhere along the armistice lines could touch off a war. They discounted reported Israeli belief that Egypt and Syria were making their military preparations to boost their Socialist regimes internally.

If this was the intention, they would not have gone so far as to create conditions where a false step could lead to major warfare.

In a dispute over border farmland, Syria and Israel last month fought one of their sharpest battles since the Israelis won their nation's territory in the Palestine War of 1948.

Airmen Get Scholarships

Two Webb AFB airmen recently received scholarships from Howard County Junior College. Airman 3-C Leroy Allen and Airman 3-C Lee E. Almon won awards for showing the greatest improvement in a special typewriting and military correspondence course.

The course, given by the Webb education office, was taught by Mrs. Dean Box, chairman of the business department at the college. There were eight graduates completing the course.

In addition to Allen and Almon, the other graduates were Airman 2-C Donald A. Barker, Airman 3-C Robert H. Bledsoe, Airman 1-C J. W. Cline, Airman 2-C Tony R. Hodge, Airman 3-C Persijs Raskums and Airman 3-C Rodney C. Spargo.

Jimmy R. Smith, of the base education office, presented the certificates. B. M. Keese, registrar at the college, gave a brief talk on the importance of improving skill.

Kremlin Fires Two Satellites

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union put up two more unmanned satellites Wednesday, Cosmos 159 in a cigar-shaped orbit ranging from 236 to 37,655 miles above the earth and Cosmos-160 into a conventional orbit from 88 to 127 miles up.

The announcement said Cosmos 159 had an angle of 51 degrees, 50 minutes to the equator. This is approximately the route followed by Soviet Sputniks in the first stages of orbital launches to the moon, and there was speculation that 159 was a test of a type of "parking orbit" to be used in future moon launches.

Attorney Dies

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — Michael Gabriel Luddy, 74, an attorney in Los Angeles, Sioux Falls, S.D., and Thompsonville, Conn., for 50 years, died Wednesday of cancer. He was born in Bridgeport, Conn.

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — The headlines pretty well tell the story.

"Odessa Jailed After Stabbing in Beer Joint" and "Court Alleges Hotel is Bawdy House" and "Police Raid Local Club."

"They speak of Odessa's lusty, roaring boom town days, when Permian Basin oil brought wealth but also "drinking, dancing and brawling" to this West Texas city.

"Those wild days of the early 1950s are remembered by many but missed by few, especially lawmen.

'FLOATING POPULATION'

"Fights were a dime a dozen back then," says Sheriff A. M. (Slim) Gabriel. "Law enforcement just didn't have enough help."

A row of Eighth Street honky-tonks such as the "Tivoli," the "Nip & Sip" and the "Eighth Street Drive In" make the more notorious nightspots of today look tame in comparison.

Dist. Judge George Keltion, then county attorney, says much of the boisterous spirit of the times was brought on by a "floating population" of people here today and gone tomorrow.

Many were oil field workers and confidence men out to get their money.

MUGGING

"We used to have more fights at those clubs on Eighth Street in one night than we do now at all our clubs all week long," the sheriff said.

The city had some 30,000 residents then compared to about 90,000 now.

"I remember two old boys who fought so long," Sheriff Gabriel said, "that they had to sit down and rest twice before they finished."

He said mugging and rolling

Free Asian Voice To Beam Programs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bob Friend fired a strike in his first political outing.

The former Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher won the Republican nomination for Allegheny County controller in Tuesday's primary.

But another sports figure, former National League umpire Vinnie Smith got called out in the Democratic bid for the same post.

were common then.

EX-CONS

"A bunch of ex-cons would come in, sit at a table and just wait until the place closed to go outside and rob a departing customer."

He said all three clubs were located in one block of Eighth Street, making traffic jams such that "you couldn't even get down the street at night."

"I remember the big deal back then," the sheriff went on, "was stacks of beer on the center stripe of the street. The place would look like a battle-ground."

One old-timer says the chief pastime at the crest of the petroleum boom was simply "drinking, dancing and brawling."

HONKY-TONKS

The three noisiest Eighth Street honky-tonks were eventually closed down. But others around the city continued to whoop it up for several years before the boom died.

Police Chief Jess Cariker took over the job in late 1932. He had been a special investigator for the Dallas district attorney's office.

He beefed up the force and revamped procedures, such as cutting work weeks from 60 hours to 48. Eventually the department grew able to contain the lawbreaking.

"There was still a lot going on," the chief said, "but we were catching more."

Four Philippine Policemen Killed

MANILA (AP) — Four Philippine policemen and three Communist Huk terrorists were killed today after the Huks opened fire on a patrol that was searching for them in a Batan village, constabulary headquarters said.

A spokesman said the death toll was the biggest this year in clashes between Huks and government patrols.

The Philippine Senate Committee on National Defense and Security reported last week that the Huks now command "the obedience of considerable masses" in central Luzon, the Philippines' main island. Batan, a province, is in southern Luzon.

MRS. AURIEL LA FOND

Mrs. Auriel La Fond Bakes For Pleasure

By RHODA LEMONS

Blonde, deeply-tanned Mrs. Auriel La Fond typifies the modern homemaker who thoroughly enjoys doing her household tasks and yet has other outside interests and pursuits.

The La Fondes reside at Apartment No. 14, Ponderosa Apartments, 1425 E. 6th. They have no children, but they do have a dog, Maroon, who has made his home with them for five years.

La Fond is employed as vice president at Math-Masters, a subsidiary of Gamco, Inc. According to his wife, he is the outdoor cook when the couple entertains with a barbecue, but he leaves the day-by-day cooking to her.

"My favorite household appliance is the food freezer," said Mrs. La Fond. "I thoroughly enjoy using it for baking ahead and for preparing meals in advance," she continued. "Also, I have always in the past canned and frozen vegetables and fruits so that we can enjoy these foods all year long."

Originally from upper Michigan, the La Fondes moved here from Ann Arbor, where they lived eight years. Although they enjoy apartment dwelling, they plan to purchase a home when they find one that suits their needs and desires.

Mrs. La Fond confesses that she enjoys baking more than any other thing she does at home. "I get real pleasure and satisfaction from kneading the dough and preparing hot breads and pastries," she said. Mrs. La Fond does not bake breads regularly, however, because she feels it is fattening. She said that she really is a "binge baker" and does it by mood. She does bake cookies, cakes and pastries often, but she usually halves the recipe for just the two of them.

"I shop just once each week, occasionally picking up bread and milk between shopping forays," said Mrs. La Fond. She admits that she seldom shops for specialities, nor does she especially look for bargains. She feels that with planned menus and wise shopping habits, healthful, nutritious meals can be served without too much budgeting.

Mrs. La Fond does all her own work including her ironing. She has a theory that the home should be cleaned thoroughly once each week, and other than picking up should not be "worried about" the rest of the time.

Mrs. La Fond joins his wife for lunch, usually soup and sandwiches. They have a hearty breakfast, and dinner is served promptly at 6 p.m. Immediately following dinner, they take a leisurely walk for a distance of about one mile. Sometimes they join friends in their stroll, or they go alone as often as the weather permits.

A sports enthusiast, Mrs. La Fond enjoys swimming in the apartment pool and walking more than any other sports. She also bowls, and takes Sunday afternoon rides with her husband on his motor bike. They usually don't take long trips, but ride to Scenic Mountain or the airport.

Mrs. La Fond is presently taking two daytime courses at Howard County Junior College. She is studying shorthand and sophomore English. She has been employed as secretary with school systems in the past, and enjoys working with young people.

She does volunteer work at the Dora Robert's Rehabilitation Center and assists the patients in getting ready for therapy. She is an avid bridge player and with her husband plays regularly with a Couple's club. They have membership in the Wednesday Night Dance Club and the Cotillon Club.

The La Fondes enjoy entertaining. They prefer groups of six to eight and usually serve buffet-style meals because of a limited space.

"Our main purpose when we entertain is to make everyone feel as much at home as possible," said gracious Mrs. La Fond. Their informal type parties tend to make the guests feel at home, and often they assist their hosts with the serving.

Mrs. La Fond knits, mostly socks for her husband. Her next project is going to be a ruana, a cape-type wrap.

Salmon Is Healthful

At that time when your family is hungry, but for something a little different, try cooking with salmon. Salmon is nutritious, delicious and body-building. Canned salmon is plentiful supply and is being featured in many retail outlets throughout the country. It is a protein rich food and may be served in many varied ways which are easy to prepare. The following recipe is an example:

SALMONBURGERS

- 1 lb. can salmon
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1/4 cup butter or other fat, melted
- 1-3 cup salmon liquid
- 1-3 cup dry bread crumbs
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1/4 cup chopped parsley
- 1 tsp. powdered mustard
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 cup dry bread crumbs
- 6 round buttered buns
- Lemon wedges

Drain salmon, reserving liquid. Flake salmon. Cook onion in butter until tender. Add salmon liquid, crumbs, egg, parsley, mustard, salt, and salmon. Mix well. Shape into six cakes and roll in crumbs. Place cakes in a heavy frying pan which contains about one-eighth inch of fat, hot but not smoking. Fry at moderate heat. When cakes are brown on one side, turn carefully and brown the other side. Cooking time approximately five to eight minutes. Drain on absorbent paper. Place cakes in buns. Serve with lemon wedges. Serves six.

CHATEAUBRIAND FLAMBE' Brings new sophistication to your cooking

Flame Chateaubriand For Elegant Parties

Serving Chateaubriand, with or without the flaming, will bring new sophistication to your entertaining. Often listed on fine restaurant menus as Chateaubriand, it is a boneless roast of beef that makes more than one serving. It may serve two or many more depending upon the size of the roast used. Recommended here is the rib eye of beef which is the large meaty section removed from a standing rib roast. The roast may be cut to weigh from three to eight or nine pounds. Because this lean, tender, juicy roast is boneless with little or no fat, you can plan on three servings to each pound purchased.

CHATEAUBRIAND FLAMBE'

- Beef Rib Eye, four to six inches in diameter
- Coarsely ground black pepper
- Salt
- Orange or lemon extract
- Rub pepper and salt into surface of roast. Place on rack in open pan. Roast in hot oven (400 degrees) for one to 1 1/2 hours for rare beef. Add 30 minutes to bring to medium doneness. Remove from oven and let stand 10 to 15 minutes. Place on serving platter. Spoon extract over roast and flame. Slice on diagonal about 1/4 to 1/2 inch thick. Serve with juices from platter.
- Brush with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle with cinnamon sugar. Roll as for jelly roll and cut into one-inch slices. Nestle sliced cut side into orange mixture. Bake in 450-degree oven 20 to 25 minutes.
- Another breakfast treat is this orange sauce for Canadian-Style Bacon. Place 1/4 inch thick slices of Canadian-style bacon in a greased baking dish. Top each slice of bacon with a thin slice of sweet onion and a thick slice of fresh orange. Top with another 1/4 inch thick slice of Canadian-style bacon.
- Bake in a slow oven about 30 minutes. Prepare a sauce to serve with the hot bacon by combining sugar, cornstarch and orange juice. Simmer until thickened. Stir in grated orange rind and fresh orange sections.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

You can use clear fruit-flavored gelatin as a glaze for open fresh fruit pies. Arrange the fruit in the baked pie shell, then top it with a thin layer of the gelatin mixture. Be sure to chill the pie until the topping sets.

If you are using instant vanilla pudding as a custard sauce, and the pudding gets too firm after chilling, just beat it up with a rotary (hand or electric) beater.

You can add extra flavor to canned stewed tomatoes by slowly heating them with a bay leaf, a few whole cloves and whole allspice.

When you're making French dressing for sliced tomatoes, try using tarragon vinegar with the salad oil.

Want a quick barbecue sauce in which to simmer frankfurters? Add a little brown sugar and vinegar to chili sauce.

Flavor a cream sauce with tarragon and serve with steamed salmon.

Add grated lemon or orange rind to cream-style cottage cheese to serve with a summery fresh fruit salad.

Weight-watcher's "Saladwich": slices of tomato filled with egg salad.

When you are making refrigerator ice cream using whipped cream, beat the cream only until it forms soft peaks—that means peaks that tip over slightly. Overbeating the cream will cut down the volume of the finished product.

If you use your electric mixer when adding the dry ingredients (such as flour and leavening) to a cake batter, use low speed. Overbeating the batter is likely to cause tunnels in the finished cake.

Use your rubber spatula to level cake batter after you have turned it into the pan.

The old-fashioned stone jar with a cover is a good place to store soft cookies. To keep moisture in the cookies, old-time cooks used to add a slice of bread to the jar.

When summer weather wilts crisp cookies, put them in a 300-degree oven for a short time to re-crisp them.

Ever team split pea soup with cream of celery soup?

Cook thin strips of onion and green pepper in butter in a skillet. Add seasoned lightly beaten eggs and cook the combination as you would if you were preparing plain scrambled eggs.

Quick lunch: flake a can of tuna fish and add it to a bowl of salad greens; toss the mixture with French dressing. Hard-cooked eggs (sliced or quartered) are another good addition to this salad.

Equal parts of commercial sour cream and mayonnaise seasoned with minced fresh herbs make an excellent salad dressing for sliced ripe tomatoes served on lettuce.

CHEESE CRUST VELVET PIE Come over for pie and coffee

Treat Your Guests To Luscious New Dessert

That friendly American invitation for pie and coffee calls for Cheesy Crust Velvet Pie, a luscious new treat. The chiffon type filling is a flavor blend of zesty lemon and subtle apple, and the secret of success is the rich cheese crust. It's made of crushed inch-square cheese crackers mixed with sugar and spicy cinnamon—so simple, yet so elegant. For a perky finish, border the pie with additional crackers standing on end. Here's how to make the pie of the season:

- CHEESE CRUST VELVET PIE
- 1 1/4 cups fine cheese cracker crumbs
- 3 tbsps. sugar
- 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
- 6 tbsps. melted butter or margarine
- Cheese crackers
- 2-3 cup apple juice
- 1 pkg. lemon flavored gelatin dessert, 3 ounces
- 1 can apple sauce, 8 1/2 ounces
- 1 cup heavy cream
- Crush crackers, between waxed paper, with rolling pin into fine crumbs (or, crush in electric blender); mix with sugar and cinnamon. Add melted butter or margarine and blend well. Press mixture firmly over bottom and sides of nine-inch pie plate, bringing crumbs evenly up to rim. Press whole crackers around top side to

Breakfast Boost With Eggs, Ham

Here's something different to do with scrambled eggs for a first meal of the day: cream a (3 oz.) package of cream cheese (3 oz.), then add slowly a cup of scalded milk. Season with salt and pepper. Add 6 eggs which have been beaten slightly. Melt lard or drippings in frying-pan, then add 1 cup cubed left-over ham or luncheon meat to cook with the eggs. Cook slowly stirring until eggs are set. This ham and egg breakfast dish is delightful served with toasted English muffin, cinnamon buns or toast.

Serve Good Nutritious Breakfast

Your family needs a good breakfast.

And in the hurry and scurry of early morning hours, you need all the help you can get to provide your family with the nutrition they need to start the day.

That's why you'll find frozen orange juice such a big help. Merely open the can, mix with water and it's ready! The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports orange juice and orange juice concentrate packed this season ran well above the previous season's pack.

You'll have an opportunity to use orange juice in a variety of ways other than as a beverage. While USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports such a plentiful supply, please the family with this broiled orange juice French toast.

For six slices of bread, combine 4 eggs, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup sugar, 3/4 cup single strength orange juice and 1/4 cup melted butter. Dip bread into mixture and arrange single layer on an oiled baking sheet. Broil three to four minutes or until brown on first side, turn, broil second side and serve piping hot. Serve with maple syrup and butter.

For upside-down orange biscuits combine 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine, 1/2 cup thawed orange juice, 3/4 cup sugar and 2 teaspoons grated orange rind. Boil two minutes and pour into a greased, round nine-inch baking pan. Prepare your favorite biscuit dough and roll out to 1/4 inch thickness.

Brush with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle with cinnamon sugar. Roll as for jelly roll and cut into one-inch slices. Nestle sliced cut side into orange mixture. Bake in 450-degree oven 20 to 25 minutes.

Another breakfast treat is this orange sauce for Canadian-Style Bacon. Place 1/4 inch thick slices of Canadian-style bacon in a greased baking dish. Top each slice of bacon with a thin slice of sweet onion and a thick slice of fresh orange. Top with another 1/4 inch thick slice of Canadian-style bacon.

Bake in a slow oven about 30 minutes. Prepare a sauce to serve with the hot bacon by combining sugar, cornstarch and orange juice. Simmer until thickened. Stir in grated orange rind and fresh orange sections. Orange Hot Bread is delightfully tantalizing mealtime treat. Simply use thawed orange juice as the liquid when mixing up your favorite biscuit dough, muffin batter, waffle or pancake batter. Be sure to provide enough for seconds.

Macaroni is usually the lowest cost ingredient in a casserole

RECOMMENDED RECIPES

Used By Mrs. Auriel La Fond

UPPER MICHIGAN PASTIES

- 3 cups flour
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 cup shortening
- About 6 tbsps. cold water
- Mix flour and salt together, cut in shortening with a pastry blender and sprinkle with cold water. Gather dough together and divide into four sections. Roll out each section to eight-inch circle. Place in pie plate, fill one-half of dough with meat filling and overlap the other half of dough and seal. Prick with fork. Lift carefully from pie plate and place pasty on greased cookie sheet. Repeat with remaining dough. Bake pasties at 400 degrees for approximately one hour. If dough becomes too brown, reduce temperature slightly.
- When I take the pasties from the oven, I find that if I grease them slightly and cover with a towel, this prevents the crust from becoming hard. You can place wax paper on them directly, then the towel.

- MEAT FILLING FOR PASTIES
- 1 lb. ground round steak, diced
- 4 small potatoes, diced
- 3 stalks of celery, diced
- 3 medium carrots, diced
- 2 1/2 cup onions, diced
- 1 tsp. pepper
- 2 tps. salt
- 2 tps. fresh parsley
- Combine the above ingredients and mix well. Sprinkle mixture with a few drops of water. Place mixture on one-half side of rolled out dough and overlap.

- CANDY BAR COOKIES
- 3/4 cup butter or margarine
- 3/4 cup sifted powdered sugar
- 2 tpsps. evaporated milk
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 2 cups sifted flour
- Cream first five ingredients

- together. Add flour, mixing thoroughly. Chill dough for easier handling. Roll out dough, one-half at a time, on floured surface. Cut with a cookie cutter, 3 1/2 by 1 1/2 inch rectangles, place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 325 degrees for 12 to 16 minutes until lightly browned. Cool. Spread with one teaspoon filling on each (first caramel, then chocolate). Decorate with pecan half, if desired.

- CARAMEL FILLING
- Combine, in top of double boiler, 28 light-colored candy caramels and one-fourth cup evaporated milk. Heat until caramels melt, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat; add one-fourth cup butter or margarine, one cup sifted powdered sugar and one cup pecans, chopped.
- CHOCOLATE ICING
- Melt one cup semi-sweet chocolate morsels with one-third cup evaporated milk over low heat. Remove from heat. Stir in two tablespoons butter, one teaspoon vanilla and one-half cup sifted powdered sugar.

- LUNCHEON RING
- 1 pkg. active dry yeast
- 1/4 cup lukewarm water
- 2 tpsps. sugar
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup milk, scalded
- 3 to 3 1/2 cups flour
- 1 egg
- Sesame seed
- Soften yeast in warm water. Combine in large mixing bowl sugar, salt, shortening and milk. Cool to lukewarm. Stir in egg and yeast. Gradually add flour to form a stiff dough. Knead on floured surface until smooth and satiny. Place in greased bowl, turning dough to grease all sides. Cover; let rise in warm place until light and doubled (about 45 minutes to one hour). Roll out dough to a 12x9-inch rectangle. Spread with filling.

- Starting with 12 inch side, roll up jelly-roll-fashion. Place on greased cookie sheet, bring ends together forming a ring, with scissors make cuts one-half inch apart to within one-half inch of inside of ring. Turn each slice on its side, cut-side up.

- Brush dough with reserved egg mixture and sprinkle generously with sesame seed. Cover; let rise in warm place until doubled, 45-60 minutes. Bake at 350 for about 30 minutes. Yield 10-inch round loaf.

- CHEESE 'N HAM FILLING
- 1 egg
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tpsps. dry mustard
- 1/4 tsp. monosodium glutamate
- 1 cup finely chopped ham (cooked)
- 3/4 cup shredded cheddar cheese
- 1/4 cup chopped green onions

Mrs. Medders Smiles After Testifying Nearly Seven Hours

SHERMAN (AP) — Margaret Medders — sometimes tearful, sometimes laughing — met her creditors Wednesday and left them with little more information than her avowedly illiterate husband furnished last month.

Mrs. Medders, 45, broke into sobs twice during brisk questioning by the creditors but smiled wanly at the end of the long day as she left on the arm of her spouse.

She testified nearly seven hours in the federal bankruptcy court of Joe Huffstutter, U.S. referee.

BIG DEBTS

A hearing was held on by two petitions for involuntary bankruptcy, filed Feb. 23 by three firms in nearby Gainesville and four Dallas businesses. They alleged unpaid debts exceeding $50,000.

As her husband, Ernest, did earlier, Mrs. Medders acknowledged debts of about $1.94 million owed the Poor Sisters of St. Francis in Mishawaka, Ind., plus others totaling $1 million.

Medders repeatedly told the court at an April 7 hearing that he had a third grade education, could not read or write and often signed his name to documents he could not identify.

NO MORE MONEY

His wife, unable to attend the previous hearing because of what her doctor called "severe mental depression," said Wednesday she signed checks and "papers" repeatedly on the advice of bankers and creditors.

Actually, Mrs. Medders disclosed little about what plunged the couple's Colonial Acres

Farm into bankruptcy. It is a 1,400-acre spread of prize Angus cattle, trophy-winning Appaloosa horses and oil wells.

"We just didn't have any more money," she told one lawyer.

BANKS BLAMED

She blamed banks and salesmen for part of the financial trouble besetting the ranch, the site a year ago of lavish parties attended by this area's socially elite and politically powerful.

Mrs. Medders in effect admitted, but never gave any precise sum, to borrowing the $1.94 million from the Poor Sisters of St. Francis.

Concerning other debts, the Jellico, Tenn., high school graduate had other answers.

HOMESTEAD

Banks, she asserted misrepresented papers which she signed without reading, leaving encumbrances against cattle, land and even the 185-acre tract she and her husband, 55, claim as their homestead.

The homestead property includes a palatial six-bedroom, three-den colonial-style home; an exhibition barn she valued at $175,000, a giant swimming pool, two cattle barns, a horse barn and a 125-acre irrigation system, plus a large peach orchard.

"LONG-TERM LOAN"

The blue and white-clad mistress of Colonial Acres Farms said she and her husband were searching frantically for a $100,000 loan to pay their immediate debts and a "long-term loan" to tide the ranch over when they reached the end of their rope.

Mrs. Medders testified that she and her husband were told by counsel that he was an heir to the fabled Pelham Humphrey estate, owner of the vast Spindletop oil field near Beaumont and she had no reason to doubt this.

She testified that the couple borrowed $500 from the Poor Sisters and of monthly payments the religious order made to the borrowers, she related.

"PARTY BARN"

Mrs. Medders said in reply to lawyers' questions that she and her husband also spent large sums in buying "the best breeding stock we could find."

Medders gave parties as recently as the last Christmas season with name bands — Jan Garber, Wayne King and Guy Lombardo — furnishing the music.

Garber was at their so-called "party barn" three times in 1966.

She said that of $330,000 owed the Neiman-Marcus specialty store in Dallas, a total of $237,000 in merchandise had been by the firm.

POSSESSED VIRTUALLY UNSEEN

These items included a $85,000 diamond necklace, an $87,000 diamond ring, a $75,000 black willow mink coat, she said, and $10,000 worth of other merchandise never was delivered to her home.

New Paper Debut Set

NEW YORK (AP) — A three-penny afternoon newspaper covering New York City will make its debut here May 29 "unless we run into a flaw," its editor says.

His announcement came as union leaders revealed Wednesday that they have been contacted by the Daily News about their attitude toward the possibility of its setting up a new paper, or extending its present morning editions.

Frank Walosin, editor of Wayne Today, a New Jersey afternoon daily, said a pilot copy of the new paper, to be printed in New Jersey, would be prepared early next week. It would compete with the New York Post, left alone in the city's afternoon field by the death of the World Journal Tribune.

Walosin said the 24-page tabloid was considering a beginning press run of a half-million copies.

MOST IMPORTANT
 Of all the factors in aggressive seeking of industry, leadership is the most important, said Clark and others on the panel. At the luncheon at the Settles, he drew an analogy between Big Spring and a football stadium and a college team. There must be thousands of enthusiastic players, he said, but only 33 men make the squad and only 11 play. Even so, a lot depends on the quarterback — the ball handler. The coaches (governments, chamber administrators, etc.) can help, "but they never carry the ball," Clark said of Big Spring — as he said he could of most any other city — that it needs quarterbacking.

"In going after industry," he said, "a city needs to get over the idea that there's a place for you . . . It's we; not they."

Make use of Texas Employment Services in labor and other surveys, urged Gruhkey. Sixty per cent of first inquiries about locations ask about labor availability, Howard County, he said, has 13,750 in its civilian work force. Counting schools, government and the air base, one in five works for government; 20 per cent in retail-wholesale; 8.8 in manufacturing.

CUT ABOVE
 Big Spring is a cut above most in quality of personnel, for it has 12.3 per cent professional, 10.2 managerial, 20.9 clerical, 7.9 sales, 10.5 services, 15.2 skilled labor, 13.1 semi-skilled and 9.1 unskilled.

In this connection, Castillon pointed out that Big Spring ranks sixth in the state in the amount of educating under the Manpower Development Training Act — behind only Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio, Baytown and Lubbock.

No city needs to work alone, asserted Rainwater, who urged that Big Spring make use of its allies — the utilities, transportation companies, banks, larger industries, WEGC, TIC, present industries.

"Every town of any size is trying to get industry," he said. "Some communities are desperate. You need all the help you can get. Get your package ready and tell the truth."

SITES VITAL
 Sites are vital, said Raburn, because of "all the factors, land is the only thing a prospect can see directly." The community needs to have all information available about its primary site or sites and alternate sites — who owns it, the price, transportation, utilities, zoning, soil conditions, whether it is available on a firm offer or option. There also should be an inventory of existing buildings; site and area maps with regional orientation.

Tips for a community profile were outlined by Heath, who listed 19 factors dealing with location, climate, transportation, utilities, education, churches, recreation, cultural attractions, government, taxes, labor supplies, etc. All this should be put together concisely, attractively.

GO FIRST CLASS
 "You are going to need to go first class if you want first class results," he advised. "Prospective industries are fed up with platitudes and sugar-coated bull."

But where do you look for prospects? Clark had something to say to this: Home-grown industries which have a potential for growth and expansion (80 per cent of Texas' new industry last year was from this source); find somebody with an idea and put them with those who have know-how and money; use allies (such as utilities, TIC and others); check the Texas Manufacturing Industry constantly and concentrate on prospects; encourage people in the community to furnish tips on industrial contacts.

The intensive one-day seminar held at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association was sponsored by the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce industrial committee and the Industrial Foundation headed by Bill Crooker. Approximately 50 local leaders took part.

A Devotional For The Day

Quench not the Spirit. (I Thessalonians 5:19)
 PRAYER: Dear Father, we thank Thee for the gift of the Holy Spirit. We pray that we may have always an open mind and heart to receive His word and wisdom, grace to obey, and Thy guidance and blessing in all phases of our lives. Help us to manifest the fruits of the Spirit. For Jesus' sake, Amen.

(From the "Upper Room")

Compromise But Practical

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has sensibly resolved the issue of whether U.S. Office of Information materials — our foreign propaganda — should be available within this country.

The issue was raised by CBS President Frank Stanton, USA advisory committee chairman, who urged domestic distribution with the argument that the American people should know how the American story is being told abroad. Stanton's proposal was immediately challenged on the objection that a democratic government should not propagandize its own citizens.

The Senate committee approved a compromise that seems to us to meet both the pro and con arguments. It would refuse to authorize domestic distribution of U.S. Information Agency materials. But it would direct the USA to maintain a complete file in the English language of all printed, filmed and broadcast materials sent abroad, and that file would be open to public inspection. That would mean that Congress, the press, scholars and any others interested could check the general nature of specific details of the USA effort.

That compromise should afford an adequate popular check on the government's foreign information programs without subjecting the public to propagandizing by the government. Congress would do well to follow the Senate committee's recommendation.

Wanted: Less Delay In Justice

The great 19th Century English statesman, William Ewart Gladstone, is credited with the maxim that "justice delayed is justice denied." That may be exaggeration; but surely the greater the time lapse between offense and trial, the less assurance there is of a fair trial.

That is recognized in the U.S. Constitution Bill of Rights' Article VI which requires "a speedy and public trial." Similarly the Texas Constitution Bill of Rights Section 10 requires "a speedy public trial" in all criminal prosecutions.

That principle is pointed up in the report of the task force on courts of the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice. That study found that nationally the time lapse between arrest and trial in felonies now usually ranges from eight to 12 months, with another 10 to 18 months between sentencing and disposition of appeal. The President's commission recommends as a model timetable that all cases should be tried within four months and appeals completed in another five months.

The commission, of course, has no authority to prescribe such a timetable for justice in either federal or state courts. Congress could provide the means for the federal judiciary to overcome delays in that jurisdiction and compel those courts to meet a "speedy" trial standard. Accelerating justice in the state courts is primarily a matter for the state legislatures — to reorganize state judiciaries, by state constitutional amendment where necessary, and to provide funds for court systems sufficient to handle increasing case loads with dispatch. That naturally involves the issue in politics.

However, the states should not ignore this possibility, if not probability; the U.S. Supreme Court has, and at any time may use, the power to interpret the federal constitutional requirement for "speedy" trials, which could be applied to the states through the 14th Amendment. That court has already severely limited the time a detained or arrested person can be held for interrogation; it can with the same legal logic — and with added specific constitutional authority — limit the time lapse between arrest and trial and between conviction and appeal. And if it should — as well it may in view of the national crime commission's recommendations — the states would have no choice but hastily to comply at great expense and in high confusion. The best course for the states is to act now to speed up their machinery of justice on their own initiative.

The States Will Take Action

WASHINGTON — Twenty-five times in our history, the Constitution has been amended. Each of the 25 Amendments has been proposed by the Congress and ratified by the states. This process conforms with a clause in the Constitution's Article V, which reads: "The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose Amendments to this Constitution . . ."

BUT THIS SAME Article V has another clause under which the states themselves may initiate or propose an Amendment. The clause is a continuation of the sentence quoted above and reads: ". . . or, on the application of Legislatures of two-thirds of the several states, (Congress) shall call a Convention for proposing Amendments . . ."

It is under this second clause that 32 states of the necessary 34 (two-thirds of the 50) have already acted to call a Convention. Each of the 32 legislative applications is addressed to the same point — apportionment of the state legislature. Each, that is, is a protest against the 1964 Supreme Court ruling called "one man, one vote."

IT WAS THAT ruling, of course, which took away from the states the right to apportion one of its legislative houses by some other standard than population. There are many states where geography or local custom or historic precedent seem more important to the people than a nose-count does. Most important of all, however, is the right of any state to make this decision on its own, rather than take orders from the Judiciary branch of the central government.

LAST WEEK two senators, Everett Dirksen (R., Ill.) and Roman Hruska (R., Neb.) brought the matter to the Senate floor. Dirksen has failed in the recent past on close vote to launch an amendment to nullify the one-man, one-vote ruling.

It was the foresen possibility of a non-responsive Congress, said Hruska, that caused the Founding Fathers to extend the right of proposing amendments to the states. The question has been raised: Does the Constitution compel the Congress to do what two-thirds or more of the states request?

HUSKA WENT to the best possible authority to find his answer. He dug into the deathless Federalist Papers and found where Alexander Hamilton, in Federalist No. 85, had dealt with the subject of whether or not Congress could balk at an amendment which the states demanded. Hamilton wrote: "By the fifth article (the Constitution's Article V) of the plan, the Congress will be obligated . . . to call a Convention for proposing Amendments . . . The words of this article are preemptory. The Congress 'shall call a Convention.' Nothing in this particular is left to the discretion of that body."

NATURALLY, there will be many tricks and dodges on the part of the Socialists, Centralists and other liberals who do not trust the people to govern themselves. They wish to hang on to the one-man, one-vote ruling, not because it is democratic, but because it is dictatorial — the voice of the central government, spoken by the Supreme Court.

Within another month, there will almost certainly be 34 or more states with legislative requests on the dotted line. The only way that Congress can decently avoid calling a Convention is to write the amendment itself — and give it back to the states for ratification.

Billy Graham

I believe that God can forgive sins completely. It is the wish to be forgiven all that is necessary? P.Y.

No, it is not enough! Just wishing you have forgiveness will not bring it any more than a wish to be well will cure you without a physician. Life is not quite that simple, as you already must know.

God has made the way of salvation simple, but He has not made it silly. Indeed, Christ has made it possible for you to be saved apart from "deeds of righteousness," and it is all of grace, and yet saving faith must be appropriated properly. You have sins, and they cannot be forgiven unless they are repented of — and repentance, to admit you have been wrong — is not easy. You must "receive Christ," and when you do this, you in essence confess that you are unable to save yourself, and this is not easy. It injures the pride. Then, you must confess Christ openly, and this is not easy. Jesus said: "If ye confess me before men, I will confess you before my Father which is in heaven."

If a simple "wish" to be forgiven is all that was needed, then I suppose all men would be saved. But to receive Christ requires repentance, faith and confession, and these are not at all easy — you must turn from sin, and believe in Christ.

Who's Kidding Whom?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ho Chi Minh no-doubt has had to endure the same thing that plagues President Johnson, the hawks and doves swooping around him daily, but now the North Vietnamese leader has some additional troubles.

He's caught between the Red Chinese and 16 U.S. senators.

For 21 years he has been fighting outsiders; first the French and now the Americans, without any sign of letting up. He has the backing of the Soviets and Red China which could be pretty comfortable support.

CHINA'S premier, Chou En-lai, has just been quoted as saying in an interview he would be glad to send hordes of Chinese troops into North Vietnam to help them. Apparently he hasn't asked.

Ho has a good reason for not asking, so long as he thinks he can get by on his own. Up till now the United States has been willing to limit the fighting to South Vietnam.

IT HAS put no troops in North Vietnam although it has bombed the North on selective basis. But if the Red Chinese moved into the North, the United States would have to go North to stop them.

That would turn North Vietnam into a slaughter-house. The bombing would be broadened and the country would probably wind up a wasteland.

BUT SIMON Malley, a U.S. newspaper working for African papers, said Chou told him Chinese "volunteers" would pour into North Vietnam under certain conditions, apparently whether Ho wanted them or not.

Malley, in a series of articles distributed by the Chicago Daily News, said Chou declared the "volunteers" invaded the North and China thought her security endangered, or if Ho agreed to a settlement which China didn't like.

THIS CONFRONTS Ho with a goulish thought — that if he ever reaches the point where he wishes to quit, he may suddenly find his country turned into a battlefield he didn't want or couldn't imagine.

He remembers what happened in North Korea — since the same could happen in North Vietnam — when the Red Chinese sent their "volunteers" into that war to fight the Americans.

What Is A Wife Worth?

By CHRISTOPHER MINICLIER
 NEW YORK (AP) — What is a wife worth?

"She is priceless," many a happily married man might respond.

A survey released Tuesday, attempts to be a bit more exact. If your wife is an average American housewife she is worth $8,300 a year, based on a wage survey of 12 occupational roles she fulfills.

AN AWESOME thing for her to keep in mind when she asks for a new fur coat.

However, if her husband is an ambassador she is worth more — not because she works longer hours or fulfills more roles, but because the extra job she does assume pays more.

These conclusions are drawn in an article appearing in the first edition of Envoy, a new monthly magazine published in New York for the diplomatic and consular community.

ENVOY ENLISTED the aid of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. economists, the Chase Manhattan Bank and the Restaurant & Hotelmen's Agency to compile a table of hours worked in different tasks and wages which would be paid for these tasks.

The average American housewife served 44.5 hours a week as a cook, 17.5 hours as a housekeeper and lesser periods as a dietitian, food buyer, dishwasher, laundress, seamstress, practical nurse, maintenance man, gardener and chauffeur, the study said.

HER HIGHEST salaried roles are dietitian, seamstress and cook at $2.50 an hour each. But she works only 15.6 hours a week at these tasks. Her major role is nursemaid, 44.5 hours out of a 99.6-hour work week, pays only $1.25 an hour.

The survey concluded that a housewife does not serve as a compensable hostess.

TURNING to the ambassador's wife, the survey deleted the roles of dishwasher, laundress, seamstress, maintenance man, gardener and chauffeur — on the theory the ambassador's wife would have domestic help. It was assumed she would do a substantial amount of entertaining — rated at 12 hours a week at $3.57 an hour for a hostess.

The survey concluded that the ambassador's wife worked only 92.2 hours a week, but earned $3,700 a year, thanks largely to her hostess role.

THE LEAST-VALUED woman in the survey was the diplomatic attaché's wife. Assigned a hostess salary of only $2.15 an hour and deprived of the payrolls of dishwasher, laundress and seamstress, she would earn only $8,000 a year for 94.5 hours a week.

The survey noted that education, common sense, and discretion were among the less financially measurable, but vital attributes of any wife.

A Word About Washing To Control Acne

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a typical teenager with a broken-out complexion. It has been improving a little, and I hope this is because of the special care I give it.

My mother says I wash my face too often, however, and irritates it. I wash it three or four times a day with a medicated soap.

Is she right? In the last few months my face has become an ugly flaming red. — B.Z.

Both you and your mother could be right.

The improvement could be due to the frequent washing, which is an essential part of controlling acne. But your mother may also be right, not because of the amount of washing but because of the constant use of medicated soap.

Adolescent acne results because of excessive secretion of skin oils. These clog the pores which become swollen, irritated and infected. Thus washing away excess skin oils is an essential part of controlling acne. This is explained in my booklet, "Acne, the Teenage Problem," which will be sent to anyone in return for 20 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Infectious hepatitis is caused by a virus; toxic hepatitis by a poison of some kind. The term "hepatitis" means inflammation of the liver.

Important rules in recovering from toxic hepatitis are: Staying away from whatever poisonous material caused the attack — and staying away from any other substance which puts a strain on the liver, including alcohol; a balanced diet; plenty of rest.

The possible poisons which attack the liver are too numerous to list, but for practical purposes, stay away from concentrated fumes from anything which carries a warning that it should be used only where ventilation is ample: airplane glue, dry-cleaning fluids and spot removers, or other volatile solvents.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is, and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

Temporary Paving

The city has completed a new surface treatment for North Sixth, from San Antonio to the Lakeview School area, that is the next best thing to permanent paving. All except one block of this street is "stabilized" and then given a "sealcoat," which provides a relatively well-paved street, but unfortunately has a life of only about five years.

THIS STREET was originally opened when the school district closed Kate Morrison School and transferred the students to Lakeview. The first stabilization has since washed away.

The new treatment was first tried here about five years ago, Ernest Lillard, public works director, said, and it is holding up relatively well. There are several examples of it around the city.

PERHAPS THE best part of it is the low cost. Lillard estimates this at 65 cents per square yard; or about $1,200 for a standard city block. This compares with about $2,700 for permanent paving. The former has a life expectancy of about five years, the latter about 25 years. Neither costs includes curb and gutter.

With so low a cost, I challenged him to provide such paving on all dirt streets, which would be within the reach of all householders. For instance, estimating about 12 property owners to the block, the cost for the less-permanent paving would be only $100 per lot, provided the city paid the cost of intersections.

BUT LILLARD pointed out that the job would have to be done again in about five years, and over a 25 year period, the cost of the property owner would be much higher than if he purchased permanent paving in the first place.

This type paving could be made to last longer, however. Lillard said that if curb and gutter is installed at the same time, to keep heavy water runoff away, the stabilized-sealcoat treatment would last much longer. But this has a drawback too.

CURB AND gutter, he estimated, would cost about $1.25 per foot, which would double the cost of the street program. That puts the whole program right back where we started.

"We are using this method in areas that need some treatment to prevent heavy wash-outs," he said, "and where property owners have not petitioned for permanent paving. We feel the investment is returned in maintenance savings following infrequent, heavy rains."

"BUT WHERE possible, we encourage residents to participate in permanent paving as the best buy for improvements."

Lillard should know. He has had a part in all the paving done under the Master Plan program, which included $250,000 in city participation alone.

Red China's Threats Not Real

WASHINGTON — Fears that Red China may increase its participation in the Vietnam conflict and bring on World War III are being expressed in a speculative way in Congress.

Such warnings are being interpreted as part of the movement to persuade the United States to suspend bombing and accept the enemy's conditions for peace in Vietnam.

But the words of C. K. Yen, vice president of the Nationalist Chinese government on Formosa, who spoke recently at a luncheon at the National Press Club, are pertinent. He said:

"CONDITIONS on the mainland are such that Peiping simply cannot afford to involve itself in an all-out war with the United States."

What many of the proponents of de-escalation of the Vietnam war overlook, moreover, is that Red China has more reasons now for avoiding a war with the United States than ever before. A sizable army of Chinese Nationalist well-trained and eager to return to China, is in readiness on Formosa. It could, within a brief time, start a counter-revolution on the mainland which would be immediately assisted by millions of Chinese who are tired of the Communist regime in Peiping.

IF THE RED Chinese should enter the war with any substantial number of troops, the restraint which the American government has been applying to Formosa for several years now, to prevent any major conflict in the Far East, would be automatically removed.

The Soviet Union might not come to the aid of Peiping, as he did in Korea, should there be an outbreak of war between Red China and the United States. The people of Russia are by no means eager to help the Red Chinese these days. The Moscow government would be taking chances, too, if it risked enlargement of any conflict which might arise between the United States and Red China.

THE REVOLUTION going on today inside Red China is also a factor that can hardly be ignored. For it was the outbreak of World War I which gave the Russian people the chance to overthrow the Czar. If the Peiping government became embroiled in a conflict with the United States, the revolutionaries in China might take charge.

The tactics of the Communists in Peiping and Moscow today are based upon a propaganda war, through which it is hoped to frighten the United States into surrendering in Vietnam.

INSIDE RUSSIA, however, the demand is for a better standard of living, and inside Red China the turmoil which has been going on for several months is intensifying.

The United States has, of course, been told repeatedly that it must not bomb North Vietnam for fear of Chinese or Russian intervention. But the bombings have persisted for many months now and, while there has been an increase in the amount of supplies and equipment furnished to Vietnam by both Red China and the Soviet Union, no armies or large numbers of "volunteers" are being sent to the war zone.

IT IS STILL the policy of both Russia and Red China to make trouble for the United States and cause the Vietnam war to be more and more costly. But there is no indication that the Russian people or the Chinese people on the mainland want to make any sacrifice of their own lives to help North Vietnam.

New Campaign Techniques

WASHINGTON — In politics it is not how you play the game, but who attacks you that counts. Witness the latest tour of George Wallace. Wallace has been touring the North for the past few weeks and has been getting far more television and newspaper coverage than any husband of the governor of Alabama deserves.

It isn't what he's saying that's attracting the attention (he's been using the same speech in every town) but the fact that he's being picketed, heckled and in some places even shaken up by hostile crowds.

THESE SCENES, which are made for television, have provided Wallace with far more exposure than he ever hoped to get and have given every politician a new type of campaign to work for in the future.

In 1968 a politician and his staff will be talking something like this: "Well, chief, we've got everything lined up for you on your Midwest tour. They'll be throwing tomatoes at you in Columbus, there will be a sit-in in Toledo, they'll walk out on you at Ann Arbor and they'll overturn your car in Detroit."

"Wonderful, McNally. It sounds like a great tour. By the way, we seemed to be awfully short on hecklers in Pittsburgh. As a matter of fact I was afraid I'd have to finish my speech."

"SORRY ABOUT that, chief. We had about 100 hecklers all lined up but the police wouldn't let them into the building. I explained to the police captain that you couldn't start speaking without them, but he just laughed at me."

"Well, let's see that the police get the word from here on out. Now, as I supposed to be shoved in Cleveland and mauled in Louisville, or shoved in Louisville and mauled in Cleveland?"

"WE THINK it would be better if you were mauled in Cleveland. We've arranged it for them to set fire to your car in Grand Rapids and then if this were immediately followed by mauling in Cleveland, you'd make both the Huntley-Brinkley and Cronkite shows the same night."

"Okay, but see that my suit gets torn this time. I looked awfully clean after that riot in Lincoln, Neb."

"Don't worry, chief. Listen, we have a surprise lined up for you at Harvard next month."

"What is it?"

"ALL THE students and faculty are going to walk out on you."

"What's so special about that?"

"During the Yale-Harvard football game?"

"Hey, that isn't bad. I'll be the only one left in the stadium. If that doesn't get me on the tube, nothing will. Are you still planning to have a bomb threat when I speak at Vassar?"

"Bomb threats don't seem to mean anything any more, chief. We've got to give them the real thing."

"Okay, but let's not overdo it."

WHAT OTHERS SAY

County Commissioner Arley Guess, questioned about the adequacy of the Tom Green County Jail, said he did not want "to get involved in any controversy." We're afraid he fell far short of this goal.

Guess, commenting on the inability of this newspaper to gain access to the jail, said, "If the Standard-Times is allowed to go in there, they would be looking for something bad to write about. I don't think the newspaper should be putting out bad things in the public."

The function of a newspaper or any news media, as we define it, is to speak the truth. If the truth is good, excellent. If the truth is bad, it is not the fault of the news media. Bad truths are subject to correction, but only when they are known. If a newspaper rejected the publication of the bad truths it discovers, the public would be deprived of the knowledge upon which it must depend to govern itself.

Actually, we need conduct no argument. The U.S. Constitution's first amendment adequately settled the question at this nation's birth.

Cashing In On Junk Autos

By DR. LEONARD REIFFEL

We may be on our way to getting rid of all these junk automobiles.

The U.S. Bureau of Mines recently announced it will start a demonstration program on a junk automobile disposal method. The result may be a boost for the government's beautification program — goodness knows junkyards are not pretty places — and a boon for the steel industry as well.

It's been estimated that there are 20 to 40 million junk cars in this country. The problem is what to do with them. The answer, the bureau thinks, is to play a rather neat trick: It involves taking some very abundant and relatively low grade iron ore called taconite ore and upgrading it, with the help of junk steel, to a more valuable material called magnetite.

Taconite is mined in the Mesabi range in Minnesota. This material is not too good as a starting point for blast furnaces making steel, but the bureau has shown that a quantity of this crushed ore can be mixed with auto scrap and then heated. In the process, some of the oxygen leaves the low grade ore and gets all wrapped up chemically with the steel of the automobile, and the result is that both the steel and low grade ore become magnetite.

One can then use magnets to recover the magnetite that has been formed (magnetite is magnetic, while the low grade ore is not.)

The magnetite is an excellent feed material to make steel. In fact, it's so desirable that the scrap metal in junk cars is actually worth less than the magnetite itself as it is mined out of the ground.

This means that the whole process could be carried out without increasing the cost of steel one iota. At the same time, we stand a good chance — if it all works right — of getting rid of those 20 to 40 million junk cars, not to mention saving a lot of our hard-to-find high grade iron ore.

One of the basic barriers, in the implementation of this whole process is the question of just how one takes title to a junk car. The legal complications of getting possession of a junk car so you can chop it up and convert it to magnetite seem to be, at this moment, almost insurmountable in many parts of the country.

A bill that would make it much easier to de-title abandoned and junk cars is being prepared for submission to Congress.

Surely we will have to work on many such methods for putting junk back through our manufacturing processes. Sooner or later the time will come when mankind will reprocess precious materials-time and time again. Such procedures will be inevitably forced on many industries and products as the cheaper or more convenient sources of raw material near the earth's surface are used up.

If this is what lies ahead, we might just as well get used to the procedure by starting with junked and abandoned cars.

Italian Develops 'Instant Buildings'

NEW YORK (AP) — Rome wasn't built in a day but perhaps it could have been with the "instant buildings" demonstrated here Tuesday by an Italian architect.

A 15-foot-high experimental igloo-shaped concrete building went up on the Columbia University campus in exactly 90 minutes.

Dante Bini, a 34-year-old Italian architect who developed the method in 1964, wants to license United States builders to apply it in constructing houses, apartments, schools and churches.

He has been putting his "Bishells," as he calls the domes, all over Italy the past two years.

How he builds them was shown Tuesday to thousands of students at Columbia.

Workers Win Bigger Raises

WASHINGTON (AP) — Workers are winning bigger raises than a year ago despite the first drop in real economic output since 1961 and a big sag in corporate profits, government figures show.

The Commerce Department said Wednesday night that revised figures show the increase in Gross National Product for the first quarter of the year was more than offset by rising prices.

Earlier figures had shown the increase was exactly offset by rising prices. But figures updated at midsummer could again alter the first-quarter picture, said one source.

Gross National Product, the value of all goods and services produced in the economy — rose by $4.4 billion during the first quarter to an annual rate of $78.7 billion. Taking rising prices into consideration, however, it declined by about one-tenth of one per cent from the fourth-quarter 1966 level.

The median raise was 14.5 cent an hour, indicating the middle-ground wage for workers covered went from about $2.90 to $3.04 an hour.

The Commerce Department also said corporate profits during the first quarter dropped to $7.3 billion before taxes, at an annual rate. Down $4.5 billion, this was the steepest quarterly drop since the third quarter of 1959.

The Labor Department said 917,000 workers for whom new contracts have been negotiated in the first quarter won average 5 per cent wage boosts. Such increases averaged 3.9 per cent a year ago.

 The bidding:
 South West North East
 1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass
 4 ♠ Pass Pass Pass
 Opening lead: King of ♠
 South subjected himself to a needless guess in playing his four spade contract, and when he encountered a stout defense which gave away nothing, he floundered—and then made a fatal misstep.
 West opened the king of hearts which held the first trick. He continued with a small heart and declarer ruffed away East's ace.
 South drew three rounds of trumps and then led a diamond. West followed with the five, dummy put up the queen and East played the three—without a noticeable pause. A club was led from dummy and declarer finessed the queen. West won the trick with the king and returned another heart which South ruffed.
 The ace of clubs was cashed and another diamond led. West followed suit with the nine and declarer went into an agonizing huddle. West might hold either the jack or the ace of diamonds. If it is the jack, then the correct play is to finesse dummy's ten. On the other hand, if West has the ace, then declarer must go up with the king.

South eventually chose to play the king of diamonds from dummy and East won the trick with the ace. A heart was returned and declarer at the end was obliged to surrender the setting trick to West's jack of diamonds.

Some may be of the opinion that South should have played the diamond suit differently. It is our contention, however, that he need not have subjected himself to any guess-work on the deal. There is a surefire method for preserving his contract against any eventuality.
 After trumps are drawn and before the diamond suit is touched, it is suggested that declarer play the ace and queen of clubs from his hand. Altho a trick will be surrendered to the king thereby, North's jack becomes established for a discard. When South regains the lead he plays a diamond to the queen. East may take the ace, if he chooses, however, the king of diamonds provides a late entry to dummy so that declarer can discard his remaining diamond on the jack of clubs.
 South's losers on the deal are restricted to one trick in each side suit.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — In whispers and shouts, with sweeping gestures, Russian poet Andrei Voznesensky has recited some of his poems before an audience that included Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

The widow of President Kennedy, accompanied by his one-time special assistant, Theodore Sorensen, sat beside Soviet U.N. Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko at the recital offered Wednesday night by the U.N. Russian Book Club.

Voznesensky recited in Russian and an American poet, William J. Smith, gave an English version.
