Hundreds of Big Spring School and Goliad Junior High School youngsters in the YMCA lay afternoon to watch the climax of the local observance of National Cotton Week — a parade that emphasized the importance of cotton to the economy of this area.

The Webb AFB color guard set the pace for the colorful parade, that was complete with beauties, bands, and huge pieces of equipment used to cultivate cotton.

Kay Hayden, the South Plains Maid of Cotton, had a place of honor in the long line, as did Dona Yater, the Farm Bureau Queen, riding on a float that carried the theme: "Farm Bureau, the Voice of Agriculture."

Other beauties on floats were Miss Big Spring, Darlene Leifeste, and Junior Miss Big Spring, Robbie Smart.

Providing the music were the bands of Runnels Junior High

Medicare To Be Explained

A program of special interest to families with individuals of 65 years of age or more will be held today at 2 p.m. in the Big Spring State Hospital auditorium.

How medicare, extended care and other programs might offer nursing home or other services to geriatric patients at the hospital will be outlined.

Among those on the program are Ervin Fisher, district manager for Social Security, who will speak on medicare; Coy Burn, area representative for the Texas Department of Public Welfare; Bruce Frazier, operator of Bennett House; Dr. Frankie E. Williams, acting clinic director for the Big Spring State Hospital; and Carl Mangum, case worker at BSSH.

Following the program there will be a tour of the hospital.

Allied Students Host Barbecue

Allied students and personnel at Webb AFB entertained like native West Texans Friday night when they hosted Big Spring and Webb AFB couples at a western barbecue dinner.

Maj. Nasr Jimean, ranking officer among the Jordanian troops, expressed his appreciation for the tremendous response to the invitations and for the warmth with which the community had received the airmen and officers from Jordan.

In turn, Col. Chester J. Butcher emphasized the importance of genuine friendliness between the allied military guests at the base and the community.

"These men are and will be among the leaders in their country," he declared. "It is impossible to underestimate the impact of real hospitality upon the continuing comradeship of the nations."

The Jordanians went "western," every member of the contingent adorning himself with a red bandana handkerchief which became a trademark of the early cowboys of West Texas. Col. Butcher and his staff, as indeed did many other base and townspeople, blossomed in full western regalia, including cowboy boots, roll brim hats, gaily-colored shirts.

Several hundred were served heaping plates of barbecue, chuck wagon beans, potato salad, and all the other trimmings. Most of the time at the air base pavilion was spent in getting better acquainted and unburied visiting.

The Tijuana Brass from Big Spring High School played selections during the serving hours.

'Marry Us' Ad Nets Phone Calls

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — A new university rule requiring unmarried undergraduates under 25 years of age to live in university housing prompted this ad in the University of Oklahoma's student newspaper: "Escape from university housing. Marry us."

Mike Metrick, 19, and Don Serkin, 20, said they placed the ad as a dare and had no intention of getting married — but they have gotten quite a few phone calls.

NURSING HOME WEEK

Bennett House Observes Open House Here Today

In observance of National and Texas Nursing Home Week, Bennett House is observing open house between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. today at Ninth and Goliad.

There will be conducted tours to various areas of the complex which has 200 beds in two main buildings, plus auxiliary facilities.

900 HOMES

It is affiliated with the Texas Nursing Home Association which has 535 members. The state today has 900 licensed nursing homes with 45,400 beds.

Importance of nursing homes is increasing steadily. Today 855,000 Texans are 65 years of older. By 1980, it is estimated that this figure will grow to 1,141,000. So dealing with the geriatric angle alone, the nursing homes have their work cut out for them.

But this is by no means the only field of service, as visitors at Bennett House will learn today. Bruce Frazier, head of the local facility, said he hoped that the plant could be enlarged until certain areas can be devoted to specific service such as geriatrics, rehabilitation, dom-iliary, veterans, psychiatric, treatment, etc.

STILL NO. 1

Bennett House was opened here in August, 1964, and resident No. 1 is still No. 1. He is Shine Philips, who largely inspired Frazier to tackle a job that most people said could not be done. Philips had to go out of the city to secure adequate nursing home care, and Frazier, who once worked for the venerable druggist, wanted something at home where senior citizens could be taken care of.

From the 100-bed start (another building was almost completed at the time but was not activated until 1965), Bennett House has grown rapidly. Today it has 200 beds in service, a staff of 140 (of which 80 are on nursing service and the balance spread between registered nurses and supervisors, house-keeping, dietetic service, engineering, custodial service, administration and transportation).

NEW UNITS

New units have been added, including one which houses a laboratory, dental clinic, laundry and shop. Another includes a new X-ray department, plus a therapy (greenhouse) department. There are a number of patients from the home who are transported to the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center for physiotherapy.

Medicare, extended care and other programs have lived demands for services of the home, and today about 20 per cent of the load is from this source.

Since opening, Bennett House has been a home for 557 guests, and these have come from all most every part of the nation, including one from as far as Washington State. Many guests have been flown here. The residents range from children to the aged.

OFFER STOCK

Because this is such a community institution, Frazier is planning to offer stock (it has been a family corporation until now), first to employees and later to the public. The home here is one of the three largest in the state, and if plans materialize, it may be the largest.

20 Cows Charge To Their Deaths

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Some 300 cows stampeded onto Highway 92 between here and Winter Haven Friday and at least 20 charged to their deaths in front of oncoming automobiles.

"Seven cows were killed by the first car that plowed into them," said Polk County Deputy Sheriff Andy Pierce.

The Florida Highway Patrol said there had been nine separate accidents but apparently no motorists were injured.

Most cows were rounded up shortly after daylight, Pierce said.

Pierce said 144 yearling cattle broke from a pen at Cattle-men's Livestock Auction Market near here.

"They charged out, knocking down fences and releasing cows from other pastures," Pierce said. "There were about 300 cows loose all together."

Tourists May See Fiji Fire Walkers

Special exhibitions of fire-walking and stone-fishing, rarely witnessed by South Seas visitors, will be available to passengers on the South Pacific cruise tour, sponsored by The Herald, this summer.

The unique attractions will be featured on shore excursions—the stone-fishing at Bora Bora; fire-walking at Suva, Fiji—during the 42-day South Seas cruise of the Matson liner Mariposa, which sails from Los Angeles Harbor July 24.

The ancient Polynesian custom of tying stones to ropes, then whipping the stones on the surface of the lagoon to scare fish into nets will be demonstrated by natives of Bora Bora. It is a centuries-old scene as the fish are guided toward shore onto the beach.

The unforgettable sight of 50 Fiji tribesmen walking barefooted over red hot stones will be presented in Suva. These Fiji-ans from the nearby island of Beqa take two days to prepare for their feat, which has mystified doctors and scientists.

The special events are part of the Matson Mariner Club Cruise program, specially arranged for this cruise. The Mariner Club, as many know, is comprised of steamship travelers who have made more than one voyage on a Matson South Pacific or Hawaii liner.

There will be tours from Tahiti to Moorea, to New Zealand's Waitomo Caves and the famed Glow Worm Grotto, a day-long tour of Sydney, and a visit to Noumea's world famous aquarium.

The Mariposa will make a special call at Hilo, Hawaii, on this cruise. There will be a "Big Island" tour to Hawaii National Park and the Kalapana black sand beach, with lunch in Hilo, America's "orchid capital."

The 21,000-ton liner will visit Bora Bora, Tahiti, Rarotonga, Auckland, Sydney, Noumea, Suva, Niuafo'ou (better known as "Tin Can Island"), Pago Pago, Honolulu and Hilo.

Details and reservations are available from The Trimble-Baldridge Travel Service, 523 W. Beauregard, San Angelo.

The Money Hungry Kid

DEAR ABBY: We have a problem in our family that is growing worse. Our son is 11 years old and he is the most money-hungry kid I have ever seen. All this boy thinks about is money. When I ask him to do a simple chore, such as emptying the trash, he says, "How much is it worth to you?"

If he lends a friend a dollar, he charges him outrageous "interest." He carries his lunch to school, sells it to the highest bidder, buys himself a bottle of milk for lunch, and pockets the difference. His father and I are pleased that our son respects money, but we think he is overdoing it. What should we do?

DEAR WORRIED: An excessive preoccupation with ANYTHING, be it money, food, sex or what-have-you, is a symptom of an unhealthy personality. Children usually mirror their parents' attitudes, so perhaps without knowing it you have had more to do with shaping the boy's values than you think.

If you and your husband can't cure his "money-hunger" with reason and patient example, perhaps a psychiatrist can help him. (You'll probably have to pay the kid to go, but it could be worth it.)

DEAR ABBY: My sister eloped last January and my parents and I are going to visit her and her husband next weekend.

I have never met my brother-in-law. Would it be proper for me to kiss him? Or should I just shake hands? WONDERING: DEAR WONDERING: If you are a fellow, just shake hands. If you're a girl, a sisterly kiss would be in order.

DEAR ABBY: I am only 15, but I learned a lesson I will never forget. When my parents used to tell me they "worried" when I did not come home when I said I would, I thought they were silly. Well, now that I got a taste of my own medicine, I don't think they're so silly anymore.

Last Saturday night my folks went out and said they'd be home around midnight. Well, it got to be one o'clock in the morning, then two, then three, and they still weren't home. Abby, I nearly went out of my mind imagining they were both dead in a ditch somewhere with the car on top of them.

Finally, at 4 a.m., they came home. It seems they ran into some old friends and were just sitting around their apartment talking over old times. They did not bother to call me because they didn't think I'd worry. Believe me, I will NEVER give them the kind of night they gave me.

Difference Between Something And Nothing

There can be a lot of difference between some sort of barrier and none at all when it comes to wind erosion. The picture at left shows how a small vegetative barrier trapped drifts of snow (the principle works with soil) and held it off a field. At right, this picture taken on an unprotected area of the USDA Experiment Station here shows what happens when a field has nothing but cotton stalks to protect it. (USDA Photos)

Barriers, Mulches Protect Fields From Wind Blasts

This is the second article concerning research conducted by the USDA, Big Spring Experiment Station, on barriers and mulches for protecting the soil against wind erosion.

Wind erosion can be controlled by using a barrier or surface mulch to protect the soil and young plants against the abrasive action of wind. Past research shows that residues can remove up to 99 per cent of the direct wind force on the soil surface. The reduction depends on the type and amount of residue and if the residue is standing or lying flat. Often crop residues are artificially placed on the bare soil, and if well anchored, can effectively control wind erosion.

have all been used to protect the soil against wind erosion. The material used has been dictated by the location and the materials on hand.

ON TAIWAN

The straw rows and bamboo barriers were used primarily in the coastal regions of Taiwan. In England, earthen banks two feet high protect the soil about 50 feet downwind from wind erosion. These localities are fortunate that they can use a barrier-type system in protecting their soils against wind erosion.

In the Southern Great Plains, the erosive winds can occur from nearly any direction. This reduces the effectiveness of a barrier system to protect the soil against wind erosion. Even through the barriers may not afford complete protection, they will give young cotton seedlings some protection as they emerge. In this respect, the barriers do have a place in certain areas of West Texas.

LOCAL TESTS

The use of grass, sudan-grass and sorghum as barriers has been tested at the USDA,

Big Spring Field Station. The research was conducted to determine the spacing necessary to reduce moisture competition between the barriers and cotton. Basically, this research has shown that if one row is left blank between the cotton and the barrier, there will be no moisture competition between the cotton and the barrier. The station is actively engaged in experiments on additional crop barriers and gin trash mulches to reduce wind erosion and conserve soil moisture.

The next article will be on tillage methods to reduce wind erosion.

Summer Plans Announced For Webb Youth Center

Summer events at the Webb Youth Center have been announced by Mrs. Miriam M. Russell, base youth director. The program will begin in mid-June, with activities offered for boys and girls from 6 to 18. Registration will be held at the Youth Center June 5-7 from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The following classes will be offered:

Swimming instruction is given under the supervision of a certified Red Cross Water Safety instructor. Students are tested at the end of two weeks, and cards are awarded to those who pass the skill tests.

First session June 19-30. Beginners and advanced beginners only. Minimum age is six.

Second session July 10-21. Beginners and advanced beginners. Minimum age is six. Newcomers to Webb may register for this session. Children who pass the beginner course in June may register for advanced beginner at a special registration which will be announced in early July. At that time, five-year-olds will be accepted, if the classes are not filled.

Third session Aug. 7-18. Intermediate swimming, junior and senior lifesaving. Children who have passed advanced beginner course are eligible for intermediate. Minimum age for junior lifesaving is 12; for senior life saving, it is 16.

Classes are taught weekdays between 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., for 45 minutes daily for two weeks. Registration fees are $3 per child or $5 for two or more children.

Archery — Classes will meet on Saturday mornings for 10 weeks beginning July 15. Fee of $5 covers instructor's salary, equipment, and awards.

Tennis — Classes will meet twice weekly for 10 lessons, beginning the week of June 12. Ages 10-18. Fee is $5 and all equipment is furnished, but use of personal rackets is encouraged. Tennis fundamentals, such as stance, serve, forehand and backhand strokes, are taught. Court courtesy is emphasized. Course concludes with a tournament and awards.

Golf — Classes begin Monday, June 12 at 9 a.m. at the Webb golf course. Instructor is Charles Brantley, Webb golf pro, for ages 10 and up. All equipment is furnished. There is a tournament and awards. Fee is $5.

Handicrafts — Instruction is offered twice weekly for boys and girls from 6 to 10 at the Youth Center. Fee of $5 for 10 lessons includes all materials.

Projects include copper tooling, mosaics, braiding and lacing, and feltcraft.

Sketch class — Instruction in charcoal and pastel sketching is offered twice weekly to boys and girls ages 10 and up. Fundamentals of painting and design will be taught in a workshop atmosphere. Field trips will be made to nearby points of interest for sketching. Fee of $5 includes basic materials. It begins July 11 with Mrs. Miriam Russell instructing.

Ceramics — Once weekly for 10 lessons, beginning July 12 for boys and girls 8 and up. Instruction in pouring molds, cleaning greenware, application of glazes, and so on. Fee of $5 includes instruction and supplies with instructor Airman 2.C. Greg Conner.

Junior First Aid — Class will be taught by a certified Red Cross instructor, and certificates will be issued to those who satisfactorily complete the course. Ages 12-18 and no fee.

Pre Teen Bowling League — Summer bowling for 10-12 year olds. Saturday mornings from 9 until noon and cost is 20 cents a line. Tournament will be played, and 12-year-olds will have priority for openings in the Fall Teen League.

Junior Olympics — Week-long series of events in track, physical fitness, swimming and bowling will be held July 17-26. Boys and girls from 8 to 16, and separate registration for the olympics will be held during the week of July 10.

Social Activities — Youth Center will be open daily during the summer months from 1-5 p.m. and 7 until 10 p.m. A Teen Spring Formal will be held May 27, with music by the "Continental;" a Shipwreck Dance is scheduled for June 24, featuring the "Raiders;" there will be a July luau at the pool, and a "Fire Dance" in August. Pre-teen time is held at the center each Saturday afternoon, and Friday evening splash parties for that age group are planned. Social activities are open to youngsters and their guests.

Santiago's Murder Trial To Begin Here Monday

The state has cast the shadow of the electric chair over the trial this week of Narciso Santiago, 21-year-old airman, charged with murder with malice.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, in accordance with the requirements of the new criminal code, has notified Santiago and his attorney, George Thomas, that the death penalty would be asked in the trial. The case is set for Monday.

VENIRE CALLED

A special venire of 200 men and women has been drawn for duty in the trial, but how many will be on hand when Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, calls the case to the bar at 10 a.m., is uncertain. A large number have reported they will be out of town and others have already claimed exemptions allowed by law.

Santiago, who is at liberty on bond, is charged with shooting Sgt. M. T. Gore, 31, to death on the night of April 26, 1966. The incident occurred a few hundred feet outside the main gate at Webb AFB. The slayer of the sergeant was concealed in the back of Gore's car.

Gore, who was accompanied by Mrs. Jean Morton, died of three bullet wounds.

Mrs. Morton was wounded, but has since recovered. She will be the state's star witness in the drive to send the young Puerto Rican to death.

Santiago was found guilty earlier this year of assault with intent to murder in the wounding of Mrs. Morton, and his punishment was set at 10 years imprisonment. This conviction is currently on appeal.

Burns said Friday the state is ready to go to trial with the murder charge. He said he had no word from the defense that Santiago would not be ready for trial.

The testimony, it was said, will probably track closely that heard in the trial of Santiago for the shooting of Mrs. Morton.

IDENTIFIED HIM

Mrs. Morton, shot in the head and in the arm, identified Santiago as the man who wounded her on the night of April 26. She said the gunman leaped from the back of Gore's car, after seven shots had been fired, and fled into the night.

ROBERT BEENE

Beene Wins A&M Honors

COLLEGE STATION — Robert A. Beene, Big Spring, was honored Friday as an outstanding senior in Texas A&M University's College of Engineering.

Beene, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Beene, 2308 Brent Drive, is an electrical engineering major with a 2.71 grade point ratio on a 3.0 scale.

Engineering Dean Fred J. Benson presented plaques to Beene and three other engineering seniors during ceremonies in the School of Architecture. Winners were chosen from 785 seniors in 10 departments and the School of Architecture.

A cadet colonel, Beene is deputy commander of A&M's 3,000-man Corps of Cadets. He has won the Chicago Tribune Award for Military Merit, Houston Chamber of Commerce Military Affairs Award, and the Daughters of the American Revolution Award.

Beene is operations officer of the Ross Volunteers, honors drill unit at A&M. He is senior class representative to the Memorial Student Center Council, a member of the Student Senate and Town Hall.

A distinguished student for five semesters, Beene is listed in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. He is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Tau Beta Pi, Phi Eta Sigma and Eta Kappa Nu.

Beene is a member of the Society of American Military Engineers and the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers.

Union Men Seek Damages

Three business agents and registered-union organizers of the International Union of Operating Engineers AFL-CIO, have filed suit for $1,500,000 damages against the Odessa American, a daily newspaper published in Odessa. The case was filed Friday afternoon in 118th District Court by Edwards and Brackett, Lubbock attorneys.

The plaintiffs are Frank Parker, C. E. Gressett and Kenneth Powell. All are listed as residents of Big Spring.

The suit dates back to the alleged publication in the Odessa American of an editorial on May 26, 1966. In addition to the newspaper, editor Olin Ashley is named as a co-defendant.

The editorial, the plaintiffs allege, criticized them unfairly in their efforts, then under way in the Permian Basin "Oil Patch" in Howard and Ector Counties, to organize the roughnecks and drillers.

As a result of the editorial, the plaintiffs allege their usefulness and purposes have been jeopardized and that the damage caused by this has hurt them $500,000.

In addition they ask that the newspaper and its owners pay them $1,000,000 exemplary damages.

Here's Good Way To Get Gunned

DETROIT (AP) — A man wearing a dark suit, black turtleneck sweater, sunglasses and wide-brimmed hat toted a sub-machine gun into a Detroit Bank and Trust branch office.

Another fellow sat grimly at the wheel of a big, black car parked out front.

A passer-by called police. Officers and FBI agents swarmed to the scene.

"We're only acting!" David McLaughlin yelled frantically, his sub-machine gun clattering to the floor.

"I can't think of a better way to get killed," a policeman said. An advertising agency, using the bank as a set, had failed to notify police that they would be filming a phony bank holdup.

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL First Mr. Faver Held Own Forts Against Apaches

By ED SYERS
Near ghost-mining Shafter, under Big Bend's mountains toward Presidio, you can find traces of three rock and adobe forts, unique in our last century's west.

Within brief radius of today's Shafter, he built three spring-fed forts: El Morita (Mulberry), Cibola (Buffalo), and Cienega (for its mountain-base marsh). His ranch centered the Apacheria's gun-muzzle about the time the U.S. Eighth fought its way up Limpia Canyon, 80 miles north, to spike in Fort Davis.

Big Dam Begins To Take Shape

Gradually, the big dam across the Colorado River above Robert Lee is taking shape. Structural work for the massive spillway (left), is under way as workmen place reinforcing steel for the base of the huge concrete morning glory which will tower about 150 feet above this foundation and piers. This part alone will cost $2.5 million and will require over 60,000 cubic yards of concrete. Above right, equipment moves along the beginning slope of the dam. As dumps and scrapers bring in earth to raise the top of the dam, others bring in a 10-inch gravel blanket and a two-foot thick cover of rock rip-rap to protect the upslope of the dam. Below right, a rugged loader bites into the earth and spews about 50 cubic yards per minute into the belly dumps. The dam project is about 15 per cent toward completion, according to O. H. Ivie, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District. Within 14 months the contractor hopes to begin closure of the dam in order that the dam can begin backing up a lake that will contain 488,000 acre-feet at capacity. By that time 11 million cubic yards of dirt and rock will have been moved. (Photos by Joe Pickle)

Cosden Men Hold Posts In Institute

Robert Boadle and Wayne Vaughn, both of the Cosden Oil and Chemical Co., have been named vice-chairman and director, respectively, of the Permian Section of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. The engineers' monthly meeting will be held Monday, at the Holiday Inn in Odessa, with a social hour at 6:30 p.m. and dinner at 7:30 p.m.

Following the business meeting, T. E. Workman, presently manager of Process Plant Sales, Gulf Coast Region, for Foster Wheeler, will give an address entitled "Types of Contracts Employed in Engineering Construction." Before his present association, he was a project manager for Union Carbide, an advisor to the South Korean government for development of their chemical industry, and general sales manager for Catalytic Construction Company.

Other new officers for the coming year besides Boadle and Vaughn include: John Mills, chairman, El Paso Products Co., Odessa; Larry Goodwin, secretary, Rexall Chemical Co., Odessa; Thomas E. Tollett, Treasurer, General Tire and Rubber Co., Odessa; Charles R. Perry, director, Sivalis Tanks, Inc., Odessa; Art Laengrich, director, Elcor Chemical Co., Midland.

Anyone interested in attending this meeting should make reservations by noon Monday, and may contact Leon Randolph, Cosden Oil and Chemical Co., AM 3-7661.

Officials Hunt 'Missing' Land

BOSTON (AP) — Officials are looking for 30 acres of "missing" land at Logan International Airport.

Two state representatives have told a legislative committee that the Massachusetts Air National Guard should have 45 acres at the airport, but occupies only 15.

Rep. Michael A. D'Avolio, D-Boston, and Rep. Ralph E. Sirianni Jr., D-Winthrop, said they tried for 10 days to find out what happened to the land.

Sirianni said part of a motel, airplane hangars, roads and other facilities now stand on property he thinks belongs to the state, not to the Massachusetts Port Authority.

MEN IN SERVICE

Marcus Sweatt was promoted recently to Spec. 5 and transferred to the main hospital in Mental Hygiene Consultation Service, U.S. Army Hospital at Ft. Campbell, Ky. He also is scoutmaster of the Special Education school's troop on base. Spec. Sweatt has been at Ft. Campbell since December, 1965, after completing basic at Ft. Polk, La., and special training at Brooks Medical Center in San Antonio. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sweatt, 3308 Drexel.

MARCUS SWEATT

Dal H. Renshaw, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Renshaw, 607 Colgate, Big Spring, graduated May 9 as an aviator from the Army Aviation School at Ft. Rucker, Ala., and was commissioned a warrant officer. During the 20-week course, he was taught various fire techniques and tactical maneuvers for helicopters supporting ground troops in Vietnam. He also received instruction in helicopter maintenance and survival techniques.

Fireman Apprentice Kenneth I. Wilkins, USN, son of Mrs. Margie Wilkins, 90 Knott Route, Big Spring, has returned to Newport, R.I., after seven months in the Western Pacific aboard the destroyer USS Charles P. Cecil. During her deployment, Cecil spent over four months operating in the South China Sea and Gulf of Tonkin, primarily with the fast attack carrier striking forces. She also provided naval gun fire support for Marine and allied units operating in the coastal areas of South Vietnam.

Fireman Michael P. Calhoun, USN, son of Mrs. Gary M. Calhoun, 1702 Main, Big Spring, is off the coast of Vietnam aboard the destroyer USS Fechteler, helping to provide gunner support for a landing force of Marines operating ashore 20 miles south of the Demilitarized Zone. The force is made up of Leathernecks of the Second Battalion, Third Marine Regiment. Code-named "Beacon Star," the landing is a search and destroy operation northwest of the city of Hue.

Joseph D. Parker, son of Mrs. Mattie M. Parker, 1409 N. 11th St., Lamesa, has been promoted to airman first class in the U.S. Air Force. A communications specialist at England AFB, La., he is a member of the Air Force Communications Service which has units deployed worldwide to provide communications and air traffic control for USAF operations. The airman, a 1959 graduate of Lamesa High School, attended Lubbock Christian College and West Texas State University, Canyon.

Army Pvt. I.C. Douglas D. Drummond's unit, the 541st Transportation Company, was recently presented a meritorious unit commendation at An Khe, Vietnam. Pvt. Drummond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Coner S. Drummond, 743 Elm St., Colorado City, is a truck driver in the company.

The citation reads in part: "The members of this unit demonstrated extraordinary determination, fortitude and proficiency in providing unexcelled transportation support to the 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile) near An Khe."

Interior Communications Electrician 3.C. Rufus A. Davis, USN, son of Wilbern Davis, 811 Ohio, Big Spring, took part in a celebration as a crewman aboard the Seventh Fleet anti-submarine support aircraft carrier USS Bennington.

A task force of U.S. ships has been visiting the "down under" continent of Australia commemorating the battle of the Coral Sea, where, 25 years ago, U.S. and Australian navies turned back a Japanese invasion armada that planned to occupy Port Moresby and then invade Australia. The battle took place in the Coral Sea in May of 1942 as a Japanese fleet pushed hard for control of Australia and the many islands in that southerly area. Despite heavy losses for American and Australian forces, the air-sea attack was stopped and that part of the world remained free and strong.

Pollution Control Patent Given Free To The Public

In another move in its continuing support of the nation's conservation programs, Gulf Oil Corp. has dedicated to the public a patent on an industrial pollution control process.

Gulf has filed a disclaimer in the U.S. Patent Office in patent number 2785120. Under this patent, Gulf has been granted four claims covering a process for phenol recovery and crude oil desalting. The disclaimer makes the patented process freely available for use by any interested party without fee or license.

Phenol is the chemical name for carbolic acid. It is an important base material for many synthetic resins and industrial chemicals. It is produced in minor quantities in some petroleum refining processes, and the refiner's problem is to remove it from the process water which is to be discharged into rivers or streams in the refinery neighborhood.

The Gulf patent provides a relatively inexpensive way to transfer the phenol from the process water back to the crude petroleum prior to its processing and conversion into salable products in the refining process. At the same time, the patented procedure transfers the inorganic salts from the crude oil to the process water. These salts are removed by standard desalting equipment, and clean water is discharged.

The invention was developed for Gulf by Richard J. Metcalf, an employe since 1935. He applied for the patent in 1952.

You're Invited Open House Today

In observance of National and Texas Nursing Home Week, we are observing open house today.

Many did not get to be with us at our opening, and this will afford an excellent opportunity for you to visit.

Because of exceptional interest in extended care for the elderly citizens, there will be on hand during the afternoon representatives from various agencies to explain medicare, aid from the Texas extended care program, and other sources.

Most of all, we want you to see what a modern nursing home can offer to people of all ages.

AFL May Add Tenth Franchise This Week

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Expansion of the American Football League to 10 teams in 1968, possibly by adding Cincinnati, and selection of the Super Bowl site will be the main topics of discussion Tuesday when the two major pro football leagues meet.

Although both the National Football League and the AFL will meet at the same hotel, no joint sessions are planned. However, the joint merger committee that worked out plans for the leagues to join by 1970, undoubtedly will hold.

The blueprint for expansion calls for the AFL to add its 10th franchise for the 1968 season with two additional franchises con-

TKO'S PAVILLA Cokes Is Ready For Gypsy Joe

DALLAS (AP) — Curtis Cokes, who successfully defended his world's welterweight championship against Frenchman Francis Pavilla, then said he had an agreement to fight Gypsy Joe Harris in July "if the money is right."

Cokes beat Pavilla on a technical knockout in the 10th round Friday night but the finish was confusing since the referee Pat Riley said he actually awarded the verdict to Cokes because a Pavilla backer leaped into the ring and not because Pavilla was in no condition to continue.

But there was no question of Cokes' superiority and Riley was of the opinion that Cokes would have won anyway had the fight gone on.

Moreover, the fight was a financial bust with only 2,870 persons paying $23,100 — about $40,000 less than the cost of staging it — and leaving Ken-

Touring Golfers Trying For Positions In Open

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Fifty-two pros and 22 amateurs, including more than a dozen players on the PGA tour, will post National Open local qualifying scores Monday at Dallas Athletic Club Country Club.

They will be seeking 21 places in sectional qualifying June 5-6.

From sectional qualifying comes the field for the National Open at Springfield, N. J., June 15-18.

Al Bessellink, Charles Coody, Rocky Thompson, George Knudson, Allan Henning, Randy Glover, Howe Johnson, Homero Blancas, Terry Dill and Joe Campbell are among the tour golfers firing rounds of 36 holes.

These golfers will post scores: Henderson, Tex. — Frank White.

Sherman, Tex. — A. J. H. Acklin — Read Omohundro.

Fort Hood, Tex. — Robert Joe Payne, Ron Ranich, Orville Moody.

Wichita Falls — Rufus King, Rocky Thompson, Bill Garrett.

Fort Worth — Charles R. Houts, Jack Montgomery, Doug Hig-

United Opens Soccer Play This Week

NEW YORK (AP) — The United Soccer Association, blessed by soccer's international ruling body and buoyed by unusually large exhibition crowds, opens its brief season Friday when Cleveland plays at Washington.

Thus the United States for the first time has two big, heavily financed soccer leagues going full blast. The other is the National Professional Soccer League, which started April 16 and will continue through Aug. 27.

The USA, however, because it is using foreign teams intact, must close down July 9. Their teams have commitments back home. Next year things will be different, and the USA like the NPSL will sign individual players and play a full season.

"I think the public wants entertainment," says Dick Walsh, the 41-year-old USA commissioner, who was formerly vice president of the Los Angeles Dodgers of the National Baseball League.

"I think they want to see a good performance by good athletes in good condition. Soccer is the easiest of all games to understand. Fundamentally, it is a lot like hockey or basketball with the same basic plays.

"The owners have gone into this with their eyes open. They know what it takes to build from the ground floor. They probably will take a hard look at where they stand at the end of three years."

The USA has the official approval of the United States Soccer Football Association which in turn is affiliated with the worldwide ruling body of all sports, the Federation Internationale de Football Associations.

The Orange Bowl, due to have a capacity of 75,000 by November, is given a good chance to land the prize, probably for Sunday, Jan. 14, 1968. The Miami Dolphins of the AFL play their home games there, and the stadium also is the site of the Playoff Bowl between NFL runner-up teams, tentatively set for Sunday, Jan. 7.

The AFL regular season ends Dec. 24 and the NFL Dec. 17. However, the NFL has divisional playoffs Dec. 23 and Dec. 24 leading up to a Dec. 31 title game. The AFL title game also will be played Dec. 31.

A management consultant firm which has been making a survey of pro football since February will make a report on its findings and its recommendations for implementing the merger.

Cards Upend Braves, 8-5

The Gage Cardinals defeated the Newsom Braves, 8-5, in a National Little League baseball game here Friday. The Cards are now 2-6, while the Braves sport a 3-5 win-loss record.

Big inning for the Red Birds was the fourth when they copped five runs off five hits to go ahead in the contest, 5-2. The Braves struck back for two runs in the fifth and another in the sixth, but failed to overtake the Cards.

In a losing effort, Tom Coates, John dwell and Mark Taylor socked doubles for the Braves. George Jones received the win, while Dalton Lewis was credited with the loss.

APARTMENTS ARE APROPOS

MODES OF LIVING vary and today, all over the country, a mobile society seeks homes that personify the changing times. Locally, more and more apartments are being built to accommodate busy families who find the conveniences suitable to their style of life. Here, at Coronado Hills Apartments, Mrs. M. M.

Edwards is shown on her terrace where indoor-outdoor carpeting forms the green tuft and the area is shielded by white latticed wood. The fabric on the white wrought-iron furniture is sparked with nasturdium and contrasts with garden plants of petunias, geraniums, acuba, aralia, gardenias and Japanese yew.

THE FRENCH PERIOD is prominent in decor for Mrs. Edwards' apartment in which she has utilized furnishings brought from her ranch home. The carpet is antique gold and wall covering in the card area, shown above, is white silk. Double doors at the right lead to a compact kitchen, and all lavatories are set in marble with gold fixtures. The downstairs powder room features a partition of crystal beads which falls from ceiling to floor.

FEMININE ELEGANCE sets the tone for furnishings in the living and dining areas of Mrs. Edwards' home. The room is draped with printed silk and sheer panels, and accent colors are gold, forest green and nasturdium. Oil paintings are by Paldeak, Caylor, Garossa, Salvi and William Bauer. Serving as a stair rail to the upper floor is a gold silk rope with large tassels at both ends.

SEEKING SIMPLICITY OF LINE is Mrs. Allen R. Hamilton who is shown in her contemporary home at the Coronado Hills Apartments. The focal point in the living area is the hand painted Coromandel screen made in Hong Kong which covers one wall. Carpets and walls are in martini beige, and accent colors are martini beige, aqua and melon. All lavatories are in marble and gold, and the upstairs den features a wall covered in Tuscan orange felt where pictures of Dr. Hamilton's quarter horses and trophies are placed.

INDOOR-OUTDOOR CARPETING, which can be hosed off, makes practical grass on Mrs. Hamilton's terrace where Japanese garden atmosphere has been created with stone and an oriental lantern accented with marigolds, sedums, hawthorne, magnolia, bamboo, pine and rosemary. The furniture is white wrought-iron with covers in turquoise and green print.

SERENITY SEEMS THE WORD for the effect achieved by Mrs. Hamilton in the master bedroom where the jade in a bedspread is repeated in a jade and white oriental screen. The drapery is patterned with bamboo and birds, and the walnut console at left holds jade tapers in crystal holders. Lamps are in jade and gold, and tempora prints over the bed are by Gina.

MRS. WILLIAM B. CROOKER

Mrs. William B. Crooker, the former Joyce Glenn, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Glenn, 108 Jefferson, and was born in Breckenridge. Her elementary school years were spent in Sweetwater, and the family moved to Big Spring in 1938. After graduating from Big Spring High School, she attended Amarillo Junior College and Texas Tech before returning here to accept a job as secretary to the supply officer at what was then the Big Spring Bombardier School.

It was at the military base that she met her husband, a bombardier cadet, who was a native of New York. They were married in August, 1945, upon his liberation as a German prisoner of war. For the next three years, she worked as secretary to D. J. Martini, a labor relations counselor for Banker Securities Corporation in Philadelphia, Penn., while her husband finished his education at the University of Pennsylvania.

The couple returned to Big Spring and, in 1953, she resumed her civil service career as a secretary in the Office of Special Investigations. In 1961, she became court reporter for Webb Air Force Base, a position she has held since that time. Her supervisor is Lt. Col. William C. Knopke, the Staff Judge Advocate.

Mr. and Mrs. Crooker reside at 2802 Parkway, and he is associated with the Joe Pond Insurance Agency. They are parents of Dori and Billy Crooker and Mrs. Richard L. Robertson, and are members of St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Crooker says her greatest joy and hobby is her grandson, Richard L. Robertson Jr., and leisure time is used for sewing and reading.

Men Speak On Women, Morals, Marriage

By JOY MILLER, AP Women's Editor

American men, they'd have you believe, cherish one ambition in regard to American women: To fall into their arms without falling into their hands.

"They have been pampered, spoiled, given most of the worldly things prior to maturing," says a Kansas City business man, divorced a year ago and given to bitter pronouncements about the opposite sex. "Therefore, they expect more, demand more, than the women of less bountiful societies — although they smell better and bathe of tener."

"They are domineering and outlandishly spoiled. I sometimes think woman suffrage was a mistake," says a young Anchorage, Alaska, newsman who insists he is happily married.

And so it goes with two-thirds of those questioned in a nationwide Associated Press sampling of male opinion.

A majority of the men agreed that American women's good looks and good grooming are the nicest things about them, that women are entitled to equal legal and civil rights—although a goodly number thought they are just too pushy about it—and that the chief cause of the high divorce rate is too-young marriages.

They vociferously applauded miniskirts, although many a husband added "but not on my wife!"

They rejected the double standard of morality for men and women, often with a reference to "what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

Yet they contended that a certain amount of skirt-chasing is normal for the married man.

Are today's women as good wives and mothers and homemakers as those of the last generation? There were takers on both sides of the question.

Perhaps 80 per cent of the husbands said their marriages are happy. Even when they fulminated most vehemently against women they hastened to point out that their wives are an exception.

Sometimes it's difficult to decide if the men were talking tongue in cheek, suffer from an Oedipal hangup or had been mortally wounded by The Woman. Bachelors and particularly the divorced men, could be venomous.

"A woman's place is in the home. She should be allowed to go out with her husband on rare social occasions — baptisms, funerals. And at all times she should walk two steps behind him." A California bachelor lawyer, 36.

"American women should be beaten regularly and made to feel subservient, then they'll feel feminine. Now they have all the sensitivity of a rock." A divorced Detroit lawyer, 29, who says he is newly in love.

Women, though, had a loyal minority following.

A young Kansas farmer: "If you want a woman to be a servant you should marry an Oriental, a Nordic or a southern European. The American woman has it all over them."

A 62-year-old Fairbanks, Alaska, miner who has been married 41 years to the same woman: "As far as American women are concerned, I love 'em all."

"Women round out life and make it full," said a Louisville businessman and widower. "Otherwise, we would just have half a life."

A New York State employe spoke for a lot of men when he said he appreciated most about women: "Sex and the American woman's ability to make the most of her looks even when she is downright homely."

Also mentioned were her companionship, sense of humor, frankness, good taste, planning ability, intelligence and education.

"When you're really in need they rise to the occasion to help you," commented an Atlanta bachelor.

What don't they like about women?

"The least appealing thing is their independent, sometimes holier-than-thou attitude and their agonizing ability to make men appear so damn foolish," said a recently divorced man.

Then there was their perfume — "They douse themselves," their chewing gum — "Their jaws are always moving," their conformism, their faddism, their "total preoccupation with appearance," their "over-improvement on nature, they look like painted savages," their gossiping and their insistence on keeping up with the Joneses.

Most women are out for the dollar," said a Miami office manager, 63 and long married. "They don't have the homemaking capabilities their mothers had, nor do they pursue it."

Some men thought women are good wives and mothers but let the homemaking slip because they're working outside the home. "In these changing times you need two incomes in a family," said one man.

"I think my wife compares more than favorably with my mother," said a Hollywood movie writer — producer who has been married 25 years. "She's a better cook and knows more about child psychology and matters of health and hygiene. She's a great deal more self-sufficient."

Ah, but are they as moral? "They are completely immoral and always were," said a recently divorced man. "The only difference is that they are a little bolder about it today."

But an Episcopal minister of Overland, Mo., married and the father of five, decided: "In her way the woman in the United States today is more moral than her mother. Today's women are not prudish, but they have done some thinking about what morality is."

Although most men thought a little skirt-chasing is normal for married men, they were skittish about how far it should go.

"Just because you're on a diet doesn't mean you can't look at the menu," a married hopeful said cannily.

But a Buffalo citizen summed it up this way: "I believe most men brag and pretend they are skirt-chasers when they aren't. Skirt-chasing is too time-consuming and costly for the average man. He would rather sit at home, sip a beer and watch a baseball game on TV."

Most men also would give women equal civil and legal rights and equal pay for equal work.

Yet a Kansas City business man, married and the father of three children, said: "They should be more concerned with being more feminine than worry about equal rights. They should learn to take care of their man instead of worrying whether they are going to get the same pay."

A majority of the men who voted enthusiastically for miniskirts, even for their wives, explained that it depends on their figures, of course.

A West Coast bachelor put it: "I think they enhance a woman's legs. If she has bad legs she shouldn't wear them. On a girl, they are delectable because, like a barbed wire fence, they protect the property but don't obscure the view."

Mindful of the tender sensibilities of women, a 26-year-old unmarried luncheon proprietor in Springfield, Mass., was indignant:

"In certain situations they (miniskirts) are great. But this topsless thing is going too far. There were always places you could go to see a girl stripped. But bringing it out in front of other women, I just don't think that's right."

Park Hill Hosts Pre-School Day

A pre-school day program was held at the Park Hill Elementary School Friday for children entering first grade in September. Mrs. Rogers Hefley, first grade teacher, spoke on the Readiness program, and demonstrated the different methods of teaching. Mrs. Perry Mathis, school nurse, explained the immunization required by the school, and Miss Mary Foreman, elementary counselor, discussed the guidance program. Refreshments were served.

1905 Hyperion Club Has Holiday Inn Luncheon

The last meeting of the year for the 1905 Hyperion Club was a luncheon Thursday at the Holiday Inn with Mrs. Norman Read and Mrs. J. D. Elliott serving as hostesses and 19 members attending.

Mrs. J. C. Pickle, retiring president, installed the slate which will serve for the next two years. It includes Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr., president; Mrs. Horace Reagan, vice president; Mrs. Rogers Hefley, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Elliott, treasurer; Mrs. Ben Johnson, recording secretary; and Mrs. O. T. Brewster, parliamentarian. Mrs. Stripling announced her working committees and chairmen.

Roll call was answered with the subject, "Happiness is having the right tool," and Mrs. Earl Ezzell presented the program, "Gadgets — Today and Tomorrow." She was introduced by Mrs. R. J. Ream, retiring vice president.

The U-shaped table was covered with white linen and accented with a large arrangement of yellow and blue asters and two smaller identical arrangements.

HD Clubs Learn Tips On Wardrobe Care

County Home Demonstration Clubs held various meetings during the week to learn ideas on wardrobe planning, conservation and to view slides of European countries and customs. Delegate nominees were selected and two new officers were named.

COLLEGE PARK CLUB—Mrs. Delaine Crawford, HD agent, brought the program on "Wardrobe Planning" at the Tuesday morning meeting of the College Park HD Club at the Cosden Country Club.

Mrs. Crawford pointed out the best way to start a wardrobe is like anything else, where you are, with what you have. She suggested cleaning out closets and giving away those articles not worn in over a year. Mrs. Crawford demonstrated 25 different costumes by combining a blouse, skirt, slacks, shorts, sweater and shell.

Roll call was answered with "The most useless thing in my purse." Mrs. Robert S. Roberts was introduced as a guest. The resignation of Mrs. Charles Rich was accepted, and Mrs. James Shelton was elected to serve as treasurer. Mrs. Larry Kemper was named parliamentarian.

New committee chairmen introduced were Mrs. Thomas McMichen, ways and means; Mrs. Brad Book, hospitality and welcoming; Mrs. R. Durant, school health; Mrs. Maurice Took, spiritual development; Mrs. Joseph Wicczorek, historian - parliamentarian; Mrs. Louis Greenleaf, telephone; Mrs. Luis Casillas, reporter; Mrs. Raymond Sulak, publicity.

Mrs. Martinez presented a gift of appreciation to Mrs. Casillas, the outgoing president, and Rev. Beazley expressed appreciation to the group. He announced that the seventh and eighth grades will be discontinued next year.

A pot luck supper was served to the 55 attending, and during the meal, music was provided by "The Gents," pupils at the school. Richard Martinez, Frank Martinez and Keith Took all played guitars, and Matt Holten was the drummer.

Plans were completed to use the meeting time in July for creative activities, which each member bringing her current project of work.

Fourteen members and three guests attended. Guests were Mrs. Pauline Hamlin, Mrs. Mary Ann Morton and Miss Hamlin.

COAHOMA CLUB—Mrs. Dick Cramer hosted the Coahoma HD Club meeting Wednesday in her home in Coahoma. Mrs. Charles Parrish presided and Mrs. Delaine Crawford brought the program, "Wardrobe Planning."

Mrs. A. C. Hale was nominated delegate to the Texas Home Demonstration Association meeting to be held in Fort Worth in September. Refreshments were served to five.

ELBOW CLUB—Mrs. C. P. Sherman gave the program, "Conserving Our Natural Resources," at the Thursday morning meeting of the Elbow HD Club in her home, 2300 Gregg.

Miss Kenning Weds Chester A. Cain III

The wedding of Miss Karen Sue Kenning and Airman I.C. Chester A. Cain III was solemnized at 8 o'clock Friday evening in the Trinity Lutheran Church.

Parents of the couple are the Rev. and Mrs. Donald Kenning, 2405 Allendale, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Cain II of Whitewright.

The bride's father performed the double ring ceremony before an altar graced with basket arrangements of yellow chrysanthemums and greenery and wedding palms. Miss Lynn Puckett, organist, accompanied Mrs. Kenning as she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was attired in a formal Empire gown of bridal satin and lace with bodice and bell sleeves of lace. Her tiered veil of illusion was held by a pill box hat, and she carried yellow chrysanthemums and streamers atop a white Bible.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Roy W. Howell. She wore a yellow satin Empire gown with bell sleeves and carried a nosegay of yellow chrysanthemums and greenery.

The best man was Airman I.C. William McCutcheon, and Airman L. C. Darrall Mair and Airman 2.C. Lindsey Berrier served as ushers. All are stationed at Webb Air Force Base.

The reception was held in the fellowship hall at the church where refreshments were served from a table covered with beige linen and appointed with crystal and silver. The three-tiered white wedding cake was decorated with yellow roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom, and those serving were Mrs. Viola Winebrenner of Fonda, Iowa, and the bride's sister, Miss Sheryl Kenning.

Airman and Mrs. Cain plan to make their home at 110 Eleventh Place. She attended Big Spring Senior High School and the Childers and Reeves School of Hairdressing and Cosmetology. In high school she was active in the Future Homemakers of America, French Club, Radio Club and Courtesters. At present, she is employed at the College Park Beauty Salon.

Refreshments were served from a table appointed with crystal and silver and accented with an arrangement of magnolias and azaleas.

Pianists Perform Friday Evening

Karen and Lynette Coffee, piano pupils of Mrs. Louis Heinze, played Friday evening in the home of their grandmother, Mrs. John A. Coffee, 513 Edwards.

The two performed a varied repertoire of 10 pieces taken from the classical and romantic periods as well as contemporary music by American composers.

Following the musical program, the students were presented awards from the National Piano Playing auditions and membership pins in the organization.

Refreshments were served from a table appointed with crystal and silver and accented with an arrangement of magnolias and azaleas.

Club Holds Installation And Supper

The Rev. Francis J. Beazley, OMI, installed new officers for the Immaculate Heart of Mary Mothers' Club at 7:30 p.m., Thursday in the parish hall at the church.

The officers are Mrs. Frank Martinez, president; Mrs. Sylvester Sulak, vice president; Mrs. John Rodriguez, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Pistone, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. J. P. Williams, treasurer.

New committee chairmen introduced were Mrs. Thomas McMichen, ways and means; Mrs. Brad Book, hospitality and welcoming; Mrs. R. Durant, school health; Mrs. Maurice Took, spiritual development; Mrs. Joseph Wicczorek, historian - parliamentarian; Mrs. Louis Greenleaf, telephone; Mrs. Luis Casillas, reporter; Mrs. Raymond Sulak, publicity.

Mrs. Martinez presented a gift of appreciation to Mrs. Casillas, the outgoing president, and Rev. Beazley expressed appreciation to the group. He announced that the seventh and eighth grades will be discontinued next year.

A pot luck supper was served to the 55 attending, and during the meal, music was provided by "The Gents," pupils at the school. Richard Martinez, Frank Martinez and Keith Took all played guitars, and Matt Holten was the drummer.

Students To Play In Piano Recital

Students of Mrs. A. E. Hyden will be presented in a piano recital at the Howard County Junior College Auditorium at 4 p.m. this afternoon.

Those on the program include Chris Simpson, Kent Brashears, Maridean Margolis, Brooke Bodin, Beverly Pearce, June Ann Stocks, Teresa Stewart, Jan Earhart, Pamela Little, Linda Little, Peggy Rihard, John Rihard, Rebecca Howell, Lynda McWhirt, Deanna McWhirt, Lisa Parks, Luan Carlton, Lana Crittendon, Grace Buechler, Temple McDaniel, Roy Lee Osborne, Sheri Lewis, Teresa Wickline, Barbara Dirks, Kianna Williams and Helen Ewing.

Miss Tindol Honored At Pre-Nuptial Party

Miss Doris Jean Tindol, bride-elect of Airman I.C. Michael J. Smith, was honored with a pre-nuptial shower Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Blue Room at Cosden Country Club. Miss Tindol and Smith plan to be married June 30.

Hostesses for the complimentary affair were Mrs. Joe Tom Draper, Mrs. Homer Lucas and Mrs. R. V. Cobb. They presented the honoree with an electric mixer.

The refreshment table was covered with an ecru lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of mint green flowers. Appointments were of crystal and silver, and approximately 35 guests were served.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Asa W. Tindol of Big Spring and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Smith of Fort Worth.

'Miss Wool, Of America' To Feature Entertainment Stars

Donald O'Connor, star of stage, screen, and television, has been named co-star with Jane Morgan for the first nationally telecast "Miss Wool of America Pageant."

The "Miss Wool of America Pageant" will be held in San Angelo, Texas, June 30, and will be telecast in color coast-to-coast.

O'Connor, a veteran of twenty years in the entertainment field, stars in many movies and is appearing on most variety television shows. Known as America's best "song and dance man," O'Connor received wide acclaim for his stage performance in the summer stock production of "Little Men."

His co-star for the "Miss Wool of America Pageant," Jane Morgan, of television, radio and supper club fame, will be the official fashion commentator for the Pageant.

The nation's top fashion designers take advantage of the Miss Wool of America Pageant to introduce the twenty top looks for the fall season.

AT SAN ANGELO
The 1967 Miss Wool of America Pageant will be the tenth consecutive Pageant to be held in San Angelo. It is considered to be one of the top pageant and fashion shows in the country and will be telecast for the first time, in color.

The present Miss Wool of America is Barbara Petzel of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. During her year's reign, she has made appearances on behalf of the wool industry throughout the United States, Mexico and New Zealand.

Bride-Elect Has Party

Miss Nadine Honeycutt, bride-elect of Edward McHugh Jr., was the honoree at a pre-nuptial shower held this week in the Salem Baptist Church annex. Calling hours were from 7 to 9 p.m., and over 100 guests attended.

Parents of the engaged couple, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Honeycutt of Coahoma and Mr. and Mrs. Edward McHugh Sr. of Abilene. Miss Honeycutt and her fiancé plan to be married June 4 in the Salem Baptist Church.

Seventeen women members of the church and Mrs. Rod Tiller were hostesses, and Miss Terry Edens and Miss Patsy Edens served refreshments. The table was covered with an ecru lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of blue and white carnations from which extended streamers inscribed with the couple's names.

successor are now being chosen by regional contests throughout the United States.

The twenty finalists from these regional contests will meet in San Angelo on June 22 to begin a week of rehearsals for the climactic crowning of Miss Wool of America, 1967, on June 30.

JUDGES

Three well-known Texans have been named as judges for the 16th annual Miss Wool of America pageant and contest to be held in Dallas on May 29. Bobbie Wygant, hostess of WBAP-TV's "Dateline" program; Clifton Wilhite, president of Texas Fashion Creators Association; and Crawford Haynes, advertising and sales promotion manager of Dillard's in Austin, will compose the panel to select a new Miss Wool of Texas.

Mrs. Wygant, chosen as one of the top ten women in Broadcasting in the United States, was the only delegate from Texas to the first Asian-American Women Broadasters' Conference held in Honolulu, Hawaii, in 1966.

In broadcasting for more than half of her life, she also is hostess for "The World of Bobbie Wygant" on WBAP radio in Fort Worth.

Wilhite, founder and owner of Clifton Wilhite Company, Dallas, is an ex-basketball player whose firm makes cocktail dresses and formal wear. Wilhite was the leading scorer for SMU in 1935 when he played forward on the Mustang's Southwest Conference championship quintet. After graduation from college, he went into coaching both in Oklahoma and in Texas. He founded his own firm in 1953 and became president of Texas Fashion Creators Association this year.

Crawford Haynes, the third judge and another native Texan, has a distinguished career in advertising and sales promotion. Formerly advertising manager for two large department stores in Waco, he joined Dillard's in 1963. In 1961, he was recognized by the National Retail Merchants' Association with a Gold Award. He was recognized in Who's Who in Advertising in 1963.

Fran Long To Exhibit Paintings

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

One would think 'Twiggy' shapes were something new what with all the talk and publicity about that 'no-shape' shape. But for years there have been girls and women with no shape. . . this is just the first time that a body with absolutely no curves at all has created a stir.

There are those among us with no natural curve in their derriere (and other prominent places about the body) who have very deftly overcome these oversights of nature by purchasing undergarments padded in the right places. And I must say the effort is well rewarded. . . they present a much more feminine picture than does Twiggy even if it doesn't earn as much money. The padded ones even look like women should. . . and I believe men like the looks of them better.

MR. and MRS. H. S. McKNIGHT of Henderson are the guests of their son and his family, MR. and MRS. LOUIS McKNIGHT, Mark and Melody.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Don Anderson, Mrs. Tom McAdams, Mrs. D. J. Sheppard and Mrs. Gene Crenshaw.

The honoree was presented with a pink carnation corsage, as were her mother, Mrs. Norma Walraveva, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. H. J. Holland Sr. of Lubbock.

The refreshment table was laid with a white floor-length organdy cloth over white satin, and was decorated with tiny rosebuds. The centerpiece was large white wedding bells surrounded by pink roses, and tied with pink satin ribbons, embellished with "Sherry and Cap" Crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Those presiding at the refreshment table were Miss Vicki Holland, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Robert Wilson, Miss Kay Wiraven, sister of the bride, registered guests.

The hostess' gift to the bride was an electric percolator. Approximately 50 attended.

Newcomer Club Has Bridge Play

Sixteen players attended the Couple's Bridge session held by the Newcomer's Club this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Arrington, 2510 Cindy. Mrs. Ray Daniel won high, Mrs. H. D. Steinhour was second, and Mrs. Dave Twitty took the special prize. Refreshments were served and the next morning bridge session scheduled for May 24 in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

Hyperions Tell Slate For Fall

The Big Spring Country Club luncheon which was the final meeting of the season for the 1948 Hyperion Club.

Mrs. J. C. Greenhaw of Leonora introduced Mrs. Glen L. Brown of Stanton, a guest, who installed the slate of officers for the fall.

A Devotional For The Day

They were amazed and wondered, saying, "are not all these who are speaking Galileans? And how is it that we hear, each of us in his own native language?" (Acts 2:7-8, RSV)

PRAYER: Our Father, may the Holy Spirit so dwell in each one of us that we may speak by word and deed to any man in need of Thee. Use us, we pray, to show others how all men are drawn together in Thee. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Key To Community Progress

No one seriously expected that the Texas Industrial Commission industrial symposium would be the stimulus for instant smokestacks and payrolls. Most of those who are conversant with problems did not look for any great avalanche of enlightenment. But they did anticipate — and receive — a well-organized restatement of basic principles for any phase of community growth as well as getting new industry.

It may well be that the most significant value of the meeting held here last week will express itself in community invigoration — if it is to express itself at all. Harry Clark, director of TIC, and his team did a good service in laying this truth on the line tactfully but succinctly and clearly. The team did not say so, but there was perhaps a veiled hint that one of our impediments has been complacency. Our community has been favored by so many factors that it may not have felt the competitive urge to the degree many others have out of sheer necessity.

This, and practically everything else, tied into the keynote of the symposium — leadership. Clark defined this as individuals in a community who are willing to give up $1 worth of money and effort now in the hope of reaping $2 tomorrow. And he stressed that word "hope." In his analogy of a community and a football game, he wrapped it up in the observation that what is urgently needed is more quarterbacks — more people willing to put the ball into play.

Clark may have been hitting painfully near the truth, for of more than 150 individuals specifically invited (and urged) to take time out from their businesses to spend this one day learning how to gather ammunition and how to zero in on a program of community action, only about 50 bothered to show up for part of it. Probably not over half of that group took it all in.

There was, however, one heartening development. A good percentage of the faithful were younger men. It could be that part of what passes here for complacency is weariness; and if so, that means that it is time for the old team to bring on a new one. This is where the old heads have a tremendous opportunity of service, for they can deliberately involve younger men in these programs of community betterment and community action. You can't win the pennant with just rookies, but you'll be in the cellar next season if you don't bring on a good crop.

Open-Ended Era

The passing of Mrs. Bernard Hanks, who succeeded her late husband in the direction of her own paper and the creation of a group of others, is not the end of an era. Indeed, to hint this would be the cruelest possible wound to inflict upon the memory of her and Mr. Hanks.

She was motivated by a keen sense of responsibility which the publication of a newspaper should involve. To be sure the newspaper ought to make a reasonable amount of money; but it first should make a city where people are happier and healthier, more enlightened and more gainfully employed. The era to which she belonged and committed herself was an open-ended one.

International Dialogue

WASHINGTON — The transatlantic television dialogue last Monday night, in which Sen. Robert F. Kennedy (D-N.Y.) and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California participated, was an extemporaneous affair that has caused a lot of comment. Many of those who did see it are telling their friends they missed something, and are suggesting that it should be repeated at an hour early enough for more people to view it.

WHAT IMPRESSED those who watched the telecast was that Sen. Kennedy and Gov. Reagan really were not debating with one another but were replying to questions from overseas. The answers, however, did happen to differ on some of the provocative questions asked concerning the Vietnam War.

The program, which is called "Town Meeting of the World," was a discussion by way of one of the communications satellites between Europe and the United States. Students from several universities in Great Britain were assembled in the British Broadcasting Company studio in London. They came not only from England but from Europe, Africa and Asia. Charles Collingwood of the Columbia Broadcasting System, who presided, offered no comments of his own but merely saw to it that the questions were answered by either the New York senator or the California govern-nor or both.

ONE OF THE students wanted to know if the effect of the anti-Vietnam war demonstrations in the United States might actually be to prolong the war rather than to shorten it. Sen. Kennedy said that, even if all the protests were ended, the war in Vietnam would continue and that, while the Hanoi government gets some encouragement from the protests, he does not think that is why the war is continuing or why the casualties are growing.

Gov. Reagan, on the other hand, said he is definitely convinced the demonstrations are prolonging the war and giving the enemy encouragement to continue to hold out in the hope that division in America will bring peace without defeat for North Vietnam.

THE DISCUSSION turned at one point to the question of draft dodging. Gov. Reagan said that, while he defends the right of dissent and recognizes the principles held by conscientious objectors, he does not feel that these justify violations of the laws governing military service.

A significant colloquy occurred on the subject of whether the "national liberation front" should be at the peace table. Sen. Kennedy expressed the view that it ought to be represented because it is the "political arm" of those providing most of the forces in South Vietnam. Gov. Reagan disagreed, declaring that the Viet Cong is a "rebellious force fighting against the duly authorized government of its own nation" and that negotiations to end the war should be between North and South Vietnam and not with any factions operating in the South. He said:

"I DON'T THINK you can have a rebel force that is engaged in criminal activity having the distinction of sitting at the (peace) table as one of the representatives."

A long dissertation ensued on what had happened inside Vietnam, beginning in 1954, and both Gov. Reagan and Sen. Kennedy sought to straighten out some of the misconceptions and erroneous statements which were apparent in the questioning by the foreign students.

UNFORTUNATELY, many people in foreign countries do not have television sets and aren't able to get such explanations of the American viewpoint. This lack of communication is one of the reasons why criticism of United States policy has gone unanswered in many countries. Since improvement in the relations between the peoples of the world is based upon an understanding of the policies of governments, these television dialogues should prove useful in helping at least some of the critics in the rest of the world to understand the unselfish position of the United States in trying to help the weaker nations maintain their right of self-determination and independence.

Tariff Cut Has Some Industry On Anxious Seat

NEW YORK (AP) — American businessmen and consumers wondered this past week what the results of the Kennedy Round tariff agreements would mean for them.

It may be as long as 10 weeks before they find out—but there were some hints.

The tariff-cutting agreements were reached by the United States and 52 other nations after four years of negotiations in Geneva.

The reductions affect about 60,000 items and more than $40 billion annually in world trade. The United States has 6,300 products and $15 billion to $18 billion in trade involved.

Only a few items such as carpets, watches, glass, lead, zinc and petroleum products won't be affected.

SUBSTANTIAL CUTS

The tariff reductions were reported to average 33 to 35 per cent, generally spread over four years.

The negotiations were called the Kennedy Round because Congress granted U.S. authority to participate during the administration of President John F. Kennedy.

President Johnson must sign the trade package by June 30, when his tariff-cutting authority expires. It will take until then to assemble the proposed new tariff schedule.

While details weren't generally available, executives of some industries apparently knew enough about what was agreed upon to express objections immediately.

The criticism came mainly from the chemical, steel and textile industries.

Their principal objections were that the United States did not succeed in having other countries remove nontariff barriers that hamper American export sales.

BARRIERS STILL UP?

These barriers include border taxes, import licensing requirements, quotas and other restrictions.

LEVELLING OFF

- Chemical, textile, steel makers are apprehensive
- Business reports 5.5 per cent first quarter profit drop
- Personal income, however, at record $614 billion rate
- Durable goods, housing starts show slight increase
- Automobile and steel production are fairly steady gain was the smallest since October 1965.

The Commerce Department said the April slowing in income reflected reductions not only in manufacturing but in the distribution industries and in transfer of payments which consist mainly of Social Security and veterans benefits.

Durable goods ordering in April edged up one-half of one per cent from March but shipments fell 2.4 per cent, the Commerce Department reported.

The gain in orders to $22.2 billion resulted from downward revision in the March total to $22.1 billion from the previously estimated $22.2 billion.

Housing starts in April inched up 0.9 per cent to an annual rate of 1,171,000 units from 1,161,000 in March.

Automobile production last week was estimated at 173,800 passenger cars, off one per cent from 175,585 the previous week and 11 per cent from 194,296 a year earlier.

Car sales in the first 10 days of May gained 17 per cent from a year earlier on the basis of daily selling rate. Total units sold showed an even sharper increase, but there were nine selling days in the period this year and eight last year. Dealers sold 253,949 cars against 193,269 a year earlier.

Steel production in the week ended May 13 increased 0.1 per cent to 2,403,000 tons from 2,401,000 tons the previous week.

John P. Roche, president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, said the steel industry couldn't improve its export position unless nontariff barriers were removed.

An American Textile Manufacturers Institute spokesman said the effects of the agreement on the domestic industry would be unfavorable "based on the virtual tripling of imports into this country since the Kennedy Round talks began."

In other news, the Commerce Department reported that corporate profits in the first quarter of the year declined by the largest amount for any quarter in about eight years.

Pretax profits fell 5.5 per cent to an annual rate of $77.3 billion from $81.8 billion in the 1966 fourth quarter and 6.5 per cent from $82.8 billion a year earlier.

After-tax profits were at an annual rate of $45.3 billion, down from $48.1 billion in the previous quarter and from $48.7 billion a year earlier.

Personal income in April rose $1.4 billion to a record annual rate of $614.1 billion but the

The Navy Made A Few Slips

Armed Forces Day has been with us again, and as far as I can tell, the local segment of the Air Force performed its tasks smoothly and efficiently.

Smart organization, that Air Force. Undoubtedly, by this time, the good old U.S. Navy runs a taut ship, too; it always says it does.

But there was a time, back in that late great unpleasantness, when a very, very junior lieutenant whose natural bent was toward the civilian life wondered if the Navy knew its right mind.

NO CRITICISM; it was just in the war days, things were SNAFU (if you don't remember World War II jargon, "situation normal, all fouled up.")

A group of us, who really were too old to be of any use, learned this pretty early.

We were sent to what was grandiosely called an Officers' Indoctrination School, but in reality was a pretty miserable sort of boot camp, and got kicked around by old salts whose attitude quickly turned from curiosity to anger to complete despair.

TURNED OUT that most of the men in this cadre were sort of desk-bound people. There were several teachers, some junior executives, a sprinkling of salesmen and a few lawyers.

It became obvious to the Navy that here was a group of nondescripts whose talents were going to be hard to fit into the business of winning a war.

There was, of course, the customary action for this sort of dilemma: Give all the yardbirds with stripes on their sleeves aptitude tests.

WE TOOK 'EM, and turned out nobody had any aptitude, except for wanting to go home. This led to the next military course-of-action: personal interviews.

My time came, and an officer who had a fairly good office but not much rank, and wanting to get the heck out of there himself, fielded the questions.

He started by asking where I would like to be assigned. He was thinking of the South Pacific or the coast of France, and was a little startled when I said, "Texas, if you don't mind, sir."

"WE AREN'T fighting any wars in Texas—at this time, that is," he responded gruffly, and that was that.

Next he elicited from me the record that I had been a country newspaperman, and fairly versed in such operations as pecking on a typewriter, and knowing how to read type in its natural upside-down state.

"Well, we're looking for a man to send to an organization in Florida which needs somebody to handle history work and some public relations," he said.

THERE WAS NO great fuss to be raised about this. I was dismissed to wonder what was next.

He next interviewed a buddy, a book salesman who knew only that newspapers had sports pages. The salesman thought he would make a good fire-control officer on some ship of the line.

You can have your guesses. The salesman got sent to the writing job in Florida, and was miserable forever afterward.

ME? OH, I got sent to a radio operators school. Me, who never knew quite sure how to plug in a set, much less tune one.

This is the way the Navy kept its ship taut, or claimed it did. Just between you and me, I knew of a few slovenly moments. —BOB WHIPKEY

A Guide For Vietnam Arguments

WASHINGTON—One of the dangers of the Vietnam war is that it is putting a terrible strain on everyone's tolerance for each other. While the super patriots attack the antibombers and the draft dodgers lie down in front of the vice president and Congressman Hebert of Louisiana calls for the abolition of the First Amendment, President Johnson reveals at a party that he told his daughter some months ago, "Your daddy may go down in history as the man who started World War III."

No wonder everyone's temper is getting short.

SINCE THE DISCUSSIONS are heating up in bars and living rooms, and as a timesaver, I have prepared standard arguments for both doves and hawks. All they have to do is fill in the blanks.

Hawk: "I say we should bomb ----- and give those dirty little ----- something to really think about."

Dove: "The bombing hasn't done any good. ----- testified last week that every time we've had a peace feeler, we've followed it up with a bombing. The Vietnam ----- is a ----- revolution and we should get the ----- out."

Hawk: "We haven't even started to bomb the ----- out of the ----- and the ----- even the ----- if they intervene."

Dove: "But that would lead to world war -----"

Hawk: "If we don't show the ----- where we stand, we will have World War -----. If we had any brains we would have used ----- weapons long ago."

Dove: "What about the ----- convention and the ----- treaty and the ----- pact? Doesn't that mean anything to you?"

Hawk: "Yeh, well, what about the ----- agreements and the ----- commitment and the ----- Doctrine. You don't think we're going to squirm out of those?"

Dove: "Do you know the Vietnamese don't give a damn if ----- or ----- rule their country. They just want you to get out."

Hawk: "Says you. We wouldn't be there if the ----- hadn't asked us to come in. ----- is a great leader and he'll make a good president."

DOVE: "That's what they said about Premier ----- until they shot him. ----- is a little ----- dictator and he even said he admired Adolf Hitler."

Hawk: "Well, that's still better than admiring Josef Stalin. I say we should unleash the ----- Fleet and the ----- Air Force and the ----- Corps and pulverize the ----- Bomb 'em back to the Stone Age. It will give these ----- niks and ----- burners in this country something to yell about."

DOVE: "That shows how ignorant you are. The more you -----, the more the people -----. You're not going to get ----- to give in. He says he'll go back to the caves."

Hawk: "You know what our trouble is? We haven't ----- enough. We're afraid of ----- opinion. Well, I say ----- opinion. No one gives a good ----- about the U.S.A."

Deficits—Public And Private

WASHINGTON — Urbane, suave, charming, these are some of the adjectives applied to the Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. (Joe) Fowler. They do him less than justice.

FOR WHEN he goes to Capitol Hill to explain the administration's financing, his performance resembles in kind if not in character that of Daniel in the lion's den. Besides the angry, frustrated, hungry members of a Senate or House committee he knows that at the same time the White House is looking over his shoulder and noting every word he says.

Fowler is from day to day the front man on the skirmish line. He may carry in his knapsack detailed plans of the battle over taxes, inflation, debt. But, if he does, these plans are kept a deep, dark secret from members of Congress.

THE PLAIN truth is that the President and his Secretary of the Treasury are caught in a cruel vise. The President is believed to be edging up in his own retreat-and-advance fashion on another grim decision. That is to bring the troop total for Vietnam up to the 600,000 level that Gen. William C. Westmoreland considers essential. It now stands at 440,000.

In the estimate of Sen. John Stennis of the Armed Services Committee, who knows as much about these matters as anyone on the Hill, this will add $3 billion to $5 billion a year to the cost of the Vietnam war. That would send the deficit for the fiscal year beginning on June 30 up to an astronomical figure unless Congress adopts the six per cent tax surcharge the President has requested and makes it effective not later than Oct. 1.

EVEN WITH the six per cent added tax it is likely to be a whopping figure. In December the President was put on notice in a memorandum from William McChesney Martin Jr., chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, that without new taxes the deficit in fiscal 1968 would be in the order of $15 billion. And that did not take into account the big increases in war spending that have come with escalation in the first months of this year.

BANDYING ABOUT such huge figures some put the '68 deficit as high as $25 billion — gives the Democrats the cold chills. Imagine going to the electorate with that kind of reputation for free spending!

If, of course, the President were to put the Westmoreland request on the line and call up the additional forces there could be no question about the need for more taxes. However unhappy members of Congress facing reelection next year might be, the two things would be linked together as right and patriotic.

MEMBERS OF the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee are told only what they think we need to know from one week to the next, they complain. At one briefing for House members recently Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara did his customary highly articulate presentation with elaborate charts. One chart showed the troop increase in Vietnam up to June 30. The figure was 440,000. Later they asked for estimates beyond June 1—these were classified.

THE SALARY of a Cabinet officer is $35,000 a year. Taxes, and Cabinet officers have no business deductions, cut this back to $26,000. In expensive Washington with a position to maintain that does scarcely more than meet the cost of official living.

Grossly overworked and grossly underpaid in comparison with salaries for comparable positions in private business, that is the job description for the men at the top. Not long ago Fowler was sounded out for a private post paying several times his official salary with perquisites making it even more attractive. But he is entangled not only in the tax and debt morass but also in an effort to work out a new international monetary system. The answer was no.

Sensitivity To Synthetic Fabrics

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain why synthetic fabrics irritate my skin — bring a rash, itch or twitchy feeling?

Is there any way to overcome this? Don't condemn me to cotton and wool when all the attractive fashions are synthetic.

Are many people so affected or am I a freak? Is it an increasing condition? Are there any safe synthetics now? —MRS. A.S.H.

Don't blame me for "condemning" you to cotton and wool. What about silk and linen?

You evidently are allergic to the synthetics, and while I seldom hear of anyone who seems to be sensitive to all of them, there are quite a few people sensitive to one or more of them.

Asking whether there are "any safe synthetics" is something I can't answer. For most people they are all safe; allergy is strictly an individual matter.

things you know are irritating to you.

It is possible that medication, possibly of the antihistamine type, might help you, but you ought to be guided by a specialist in this field. In a word, if I had your problem, I'd go to an allergist. If he can't solve the whole problem, he can ease it.

Daar Dr. Molner: I am under a doctor's care for arthritis in both knees. I am 35 and the mother of three. We love camping and spend most of the summer near a river. We have a trailer. Must we give it up?

Also last year I had polyps removed from both sides of my nose. My doctor's words were, "Once you have polyps they keep coming back. They're a real nuisance."

I am worried. What symptoms do I look for? I never even knew I had them. They were discovered in a routine check-up. Someone told me now that I've let them "fool around with my nose," I've had it. Do they become cancerous?—W.L.C.

tolerate camping. I doubt that you need give it up. So ask your doctor.

Don't worry so much about the polyps. It is true that some people tend to have them and others don't. They may or may not recur. In the nose, they do NOT tend to become cancerous. The principal symptom that you could detect would be clogging of the nose or interference in breathing. So I wouldn't look for trouble, and if more polyps do appear, they can be readily removed.

Don't take chances with "kidney trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. Read Dr. Molner's booklet, "Your Kidneys — Facts You Need to Know About Them."

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

County Agent Announces Camp Opening In June

STANTON (SC) — Mrs. Mildred Eiland, County Agent, announced the camp opening for 4-H girls, June 20-22, at St. Lawrence at the Tuesday meeting of the Martin County Home Demonstration Council. Girls eligible to attend camp must reside in Martin, Ector, Midland and Glasscock counties.

Mrs. Eiland told of another camp for Martin County boys, girls and their parents at LBJ Lake. This camp will be opened July 15-17.

DIVERTICULOSIS IS VERY COMMON

Very briefly, Diverticulosis is a condition where outpouchings, similar to the blisters caused by "stone bruises" on automobile tires, swell out along the intestines. Often they cause no bother. Many people have them with no problem.

Sometimes one or more of them becomes irritated and inflamed. An infection results which requires prompt medical attention. This is called Diverticulitis. Constant pain, often accompanied by nausea, vomiting, chills and fever are among symptoms. For any intestinal discomfort not promptly relieved a physician should be consulted. We can fill his prescriptions.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound and dispense yours?

Float Features Contest Winners

Winners in the Howard County "Sew It Yourself With Cotton" contest modeled their garments in Coahoma Thursday and showed them to the public during Friday's downtown parade. Standing on the cotton bales are Julia Williams and Jill Willbanks, and below are Ede Zollinger, Kathy Shaw, Kay Hayden, Maid of Cotton; and Mrs. Jimmy Pope.

Contest Closes With Winners 'On Parade'

Five top winners in the "Sew It Yourself With Cotton" contest showed the results of their talents as they modeled their winning garments on a float in Friday's National Cotton Week parade.

The winners were chosen during Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium at Coahoma High School where the welcome was extended by Mrs. Delaine Crawford, Howard County home demonstration agent. During the modeling, Mrs. Dean Forrest served as commentator, and Elaine Webb was pianist. At intermissions, music was provided by the Coahoma Border Brass.

Winners in Division One (Children's clothing up to 12 years made by an adult or student) were Mrs. W. H. Williams, first; Mrs. Mary Anne Hartin, second; and Mrs. William V. Keenan Jr., third.

In Division Two (Children's clothing up to 12 years made by girl modeling the garment) winners were Jill Willbanks, first; and Leslie Long, second. Taking top places in Division Three (Sub-Deb ages 12-15 made by girl modeling the garment) were Ede Zollinger, first; Toni Jones, second; Naomi Galon, third; and Mary Ellen Hedges, fourth.

The Division Four (Senior ages 16-19 made by girl modeling the garment) winners were Kathy Shaw, first; Carolyn Crawford, second; and Gaylia Williams, third.

The final category was Division Five (adult above 20 years made by woman modeling the garment) and winners were Mrs. Jimmy Pope, first; Mrs. G. A. Darden, second; and Mrs. Ted Hicks, third.

The event was sponsored by the Agricultural Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and the sewing contest committee was composed of Mrs. Crawford, chairman; Mrs. Paul Allen, Mrs. Jack Alexander, Mrs. W. F. Martin, Mrs. C. W. Willbanks, Mrs. Wilbur Cunningham, Mrs. W. S. Goggett, Mrs. M. S. Knowles, Mrs. Walter Wheat, Mrs. Maxine Patton, Mrs. Lujan Renshaw and Mrs. Jo Bright.

Judges were Mrs. Florence Lenox, Mrs. Iva Lou Ashley, Mrs. James Eiland, Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin, Miss Helen Willard, Mrs. John Hamilton, Mrs. Glenn Allen, Mrs. John Annen, and Mrs. Jack Alexander. Prizes were presented by Mrs. Walter Wheat.

In Division One, Julia Williams modeled the winning garment which was of all-cotton brocade in yellow and white. The long line bodice with jewel neckline and short sleeves topped a hip-swinger skirt, and the hem was edged with white lace.

In Division Two, Jill Willbanks modeled her winning garment, a hot pink shift with tiny white polka dots. The dress was trimmed in white bias binding, and had a matching scarf of pink trimmed in white.

In Division Three, Ede Zollinger showed the shift she had sewn from olive green cotton homespun. It was fashioned with bell sleeves trimmed in wide matching braid accented in bright orange.

In Division Four, the winner, Kathy Shaw, modeled a crystal white, all-cotton Chantilly needlepoint shift. The dress was designed with short sleeves and round neckline accented with white buttons. The front and back skirt panels formed pleats giving easy fullness at the hemline.

Honored With Party Series

Miss Karen McGibbon, bride-elect of Earl C. Smith Jr. of Fort Worth has been honored with a series of pre-nuptial affairs in Dallas during the past week.

Miss McGibbon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, 108 Cedar Road, and her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Smith Sr. of Fort Worth.

Mrs. George Smith, 10455 Strait Lane, was hostess for a coffee in her home which was attended by 40 guests. She was assisted by her daughter, Miss Carol Ann Smith, a sorority sister of Miss McGibbon.

The second event was a luncheon for 15 guests which was held at the Dallas Country Club and hosted by Mrs. C. S. Busacker and her daughter, Mrs. Marshall Edwards.

Miss Rodgers To Marry In June

The announcement is being made by Mr. and Mrs. John F. Rodgers, Gail Rd., of the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Linda Rodgers, and Jerry Wesley Morris, son of Mrs. Lucille Cox, 3015 Osborn Road, Greensboro, N.C., and the late John Morris.

Miss Rodgers and Morris have scheduled their wedding for June 9 in the sanctuary of the Church of God, Fourth and Galveston. The Rev. Bob Bohannon, pastor, will officiate.

Woman's Forum Ends Year's Work Friday

Members of the Woman's Forum concluded their year's work at a meeting held Friday in the home of Mrs. Marshall Cauley with Mrs. Wayne Vaughn as cohostess.

During the business session, Mrs. L. B. Maulden asked that members offer recipes for the cook book being planned by the federated clubwomen to finance the visit of a special guest. Those in the local club who would like to submit recipes may bring them to Mrs. Maulden who will send them to the proper chairman. The president also asked for ideas concerning community improvement and made an appeal for members to attend the May 22 meeting concerning a Child Welfare program for Big Spring. The meeting will be held in the Howard County Commissioners Court at 11 a.m.

Members were encouraged to assist in action for the Safe Driving Bill and were complimented on their work with the Buck-A-Month Club and the Christmas party at the Big Spring State Hospital as well as their contributions at the West Side Youth Center.

Mrs. Charles Sweeney conducted the installation ceremony for the 1967-68 officers who are Mrs. Maulden, president; Mrs. W. N. Norred, vice president; Mrs. Paul Kionka, secretary; Mrs. W. N. Bains, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Clyde Johnston, treasurer.

In appreciation for her services during the past year, Mrs. Maulden was presented an engraved silver relish dish.

Appointive officers for the coming year are parliamentarian, Mrs. Cecil McDonald; historian, Mrs. Marshall Cauley; reporter, Mrs. T. H. McCann; year book, Mrs. Norred, Mrs. Max Fitzhugh, Mrs. Cauley and Mrs. Kionka; hospitality, Mrs. Merrill Creighton, Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. and Mrs. Charles Harwell; telephone, Mrs. Bert Shive, Mrs. Jack Johnson, and Mrs. Knox Chadd; project, Mrs. D. D. Dyer and Mrs. Vaughn; safety, Mrs. Jack Y. Smith. Mrs. Norred and Mrs. Cauley will serve as representatives to the council at the state hospital.

Sixteen attended.

Camp Boothe Oaks Takes Scouts June 11

Girl Scout Camp Boothe Oaks, Sweetwater, will open its doors to campers June 11. The camp is situated in a large grove of oak trees eight miles southwest of Sweetwater off State Highway 70.

Girls attending the camp will participate in a wide range of activities including swimming, campcraft, nature study, stargazing, arts, crafts, songs and games. Campers will decide upon themes for all camp events such as "Come to the Fair," "International Day" or "Christmas in July."

Girl Scout camping as an integral part of the Girl Scout program has the following objectives:

- To promote the physical, mental and spiritual well-being of every girl and leader.
- To develop resourcefulness, initiative, self-reliance, and recognition of the worth and dignity of each individual.
- To provide opportunities for practice in democratic living.
- To develop a sense of responsibility, equalities, leadership, and an awareness of the capacities of all people.
- To provide inner satisfaction, a sense of awe and wonder, and a deep enjoyment for both girl and leader.
- To provide a sense of accomplishment.
- To stimulate each girl's awareness of the scope of the natural world.
- To develop the individual's sense of responsibility to conserve the natural world.

Camp session dates are: Session I — June 11-June 22; Session II — June 25-July 1; Session III — July 2-July 13; and Session IV — July 16-July 22.

Any adult over 21 years of age wishing to serve on the camp staff, contact Mrs. Rose Stubbs, Camp Director, OR 3-7868, P.O. Box 2922, Abilene, Tex., 79604.

There are positions open for a camp nurse and for unit leaders.

BIG SPRING HERALD

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, MAY 21, 1967

1967 Bride-Groom Section

1967 Bride and Groom — Dana Rosene and 2nd Lt. Carl Baker

Representative of the young couples who march down the aisle for the traditional June wedding are the winsome Dana Lou and the stalwart Air Force Officer, Carl. Following their marriage on June 9, they'll face the same problems as other young couples of their generation who decide on matrimony. And, like other couples, they must also shop before setting up homemaking, and plan ahead for the future years together. Come with them as they tour your Big Spring establishments to see and inspect the many items which a bride and groom need for their wedding and their first-home; and others which they hope to incorporate into their plans for the future. We hope their shopping tour as shown on the following pages will be of interest and help to every prospective bride and groom—and to every couple still planning ahead.

A BANKING HOME is found by CARL AND DANA at SECURITY STATE BANK . . . 15th and South Gregg Streets where IVANELLE MARR explains the many banking services provided by SECURITY STATE BANK. The young couple decided on what information they desired printed on the personalized checks as they open a joint checking account—getting their financial future "off on the right foot." They know that monthly bills and other expenses of maintaining their home will best be paid by check on SECURITY STATE BANK checks. When the time arrives, they can avail themselves of other SECURITY STATE services, such as personal loans, auto loans, safe deposit boxes, trust services, etc. Good banking connections are a wise choice this young couple is making.

Guided by manager Travis Starr, Dana and Carl take a "cook's tour" of the appliance department of Zale's Jewelers. This exciting department at Zale's is well stocked with utensils and appliances to make any bride's dream of a kitchen come true! Dana is being shown a marvel of convenience, an automatic can opener while Carl is gently reminding her of the neatly pressed shirts that are a must in military life. Mr. Starr also pointed out to the prospective bride and groom the wide array of helpful appliances shown on the shelves of this display that included toasters, waffle irons, manicure sets, toothbrushes, portable radios and many other items. For your own wedding, or for a gift, it pays to shop the appliance department at Zale's for quality gifts.

Dana and Carl are amazed that in a Bryant Air Conditioning unit, a quiet, dependable gas flame does the major cooling job. And the gas flame simply doesn't wear out . . . which assures you of many years of peak efficiency in the cooling of your entire home . . . and gas is the modern, economical fuel which will keep your operating costs surprisingly low. Mr. Bill Tidwell of Pioneer Natural Gas Co. says housewives love complete home air conditioning with gas because it makes their housework so much easier with dust and dirt shut out and with air constantly filtered, furniture, drapes, walls, rugs and clothes stay clean longer. With gas air conditioning you will be feeling "full of pep" at the end of the day instead of hot and tired. And what a boon to most allergy sufferers with a reduction of pollen in the air they breathe. The entire family will be delighted with gas air conditioning and the new cool, healthful comfort it will bring. You owe it to yourself and your family to get the facts.

This was the start of it all . . . Dana and Carl found that Zale's Jewelers could offer them the very finest quality in their diamond selection. Travis Starr, manager of Zale's presents the extremely large selections of diamonds which any prospective bride and groom would be happy to choose from. Dana and Carl have found also that the fine diamonds from Zale's always assures the purchaser of extra size, utmost perfection in fine cutting quality, the shining-brilliance of crystal clear color, outstanding flawless clarity and the latest in high fashion designing. If this big event is coming up in your life, you'll find as Dana and Carl did, a lifetime of beauty and quality at Zale's, Third at Main in Downtown Big Spring.

IT'S THAT FISHER'S APPEAL . . . Dana shops for sportswear at Fisher's . . . from their fabulous collection, and is shown "at home or for the beach wear" by Mrs. Ruth Conway. Dana likes gay colors and patterns for the tops and nylon stretch pants that are so comfortable and aren't much of a problem to care for. She also chooses sleeveless shells and stretch shorts for the hot summer to come. Dana enjoyed her shopping trip to Fisher's in the friendly atmosphere and pleasant surroundings. Fisher's other shopping services include layaway and charge accounts and a wonderful selection of famous name brands to choose from. You will find two convenient locations, 1901 Gregg in The Village and 1107 11th Place, The Casual Shop.

OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCE, convenience, and beauty describe this General Electric Mobile Maid Dishwasher. Dana & Carl find out how to get rid forever of hand dishwashing . . . the most monotonous, hand-scalding, glass chipping, dish-breaking, never-ending thankless job in the world. With the Mobile Maid Dishwasher you'll never hand rinse or scrape a dish again. G.E.'s Soft Food Waster Disposer liquefies soft food and washes it away. Just tilt off large or hard food scraps . . . And this G.E. Dishwasher does the rest to clean the dishes. They also found out that this Dishwasher is easily rolled right to the table for easy loading. There is a special cycle for crystal and one for the heavy duty job of cleaning pots and pans as well as the regular daily load cycle. WHEAT FURNITURE AND APPLIANCE CO. also pointed out that any purchase of appliances or furniture could be charged.

Dana and Carl chose for living room furniture a new collection of modern, designed to appeal to young individualists, "Style House Image '70", an exclusive Montgomery Ward design. Mr. Max Alexander, Home Furnishings Manager, Montgomery Ward is showing this suite to Dana and Carl. The suite consists of sofa and chair . . . in a wide choice of coordinated fabrics . . . go-together prints, stripes, plaids and solids. Image '70 is daring in concept with slim graceful lines that are smart and trim. The sculptured bases and wood trim accent the linear look—they're solid elm with an oil walnut finish.

AT BARNES PELLETIER SHOES . . . Dana is faced with a thought-provoking decision. There are so many elegant styles to complement her well-turned ankle! After due consideration she makes a canny choice, a shoe that would complement any bride's foot. Lou Wolfson, store manager at BARNES PELLETIER SHOES points out that he has in stock a shoe for any occasion, for the bride, the trip or just leisure summer wear. Comfort, design and construction of the shoe is of utmost importance to you. Careful attention of proper fitting is stressed at BARNES PELLETIER. Shop this friendly store for all your foot fashion needs. Use your Barnes Pelletier account.

From PRAGER'S, Carl is shown selecting just the right suit in a dark tone that is correct for the start of the honeymoon. A. J. Prager, owner, is helping Lt. Baker in his selection and will personally see that the suit has just the right fit that will keep looking its handsome best all summer long. Carl knows that Prager's is just the place to look for all his clothing with that "just-right" look so in demand. While shopping at Prager's, he was shown a large selection of slacks, sport jackets, formal wear and sports clothes that are appropriate for a well-dressed young man. As you wear clothing from Prager's you will realize that the perfect dress for any occasion comes from here.

HERE, GARY LEVERETT POINTS OUT TO DANA & CARL some of the unusual items to be found in GIBSON DISCOUNT CENTER'S "TIKI HUT". This interesting department features items for the patio, both indoor and outdoor parties, and all the ingredients for modern fun living. The "TIKI HUT" is only one of many departments at GIBSON'S that would be of interest to young couples starting out in housekeeping. GIBSON'S housewares department carries a large assortment of attractive and useful items for the home and the soft line department offers one of the finest selection of towels, wash cloths and bed clothes you might hope to find anywhere.

IT'S THE MOST UNUSUAL . . . That Dana found at Thelma's for her honeymoon trip . . . a Mini skirt culotte suit, a white shell and jacket that matches the skirt and to complete the suit is a broad brimmed hat to protect her from the sun. And a carry all bag to match the ensemble. Mrs. Margie Baker is most helpful in choosing the most flattering fashions for her customers. While shopping always include Thelma's in your shopping tour. They have the most outstanding selection of blouses, knit dresses and lovely cool cotton dresses, too. Try on their swimwear, slacks and suit to complete your fashionable wardrobe. Sizes for the petite and misses. THELMA'S DRESS SHOP is noted for their "Champagne Fashions For The Working Girl's Budget." Shop Thelma's friendly, convenient shop located at 1018 Johnson Street.

THIS LUXURIOUS MEDALLION ELECTRIC HOME, an exclusive listing of HOME Real Estate Company, was one of the homes shown to Dana Rosene and Carl Baker for their selection. Lee Hans of HOME Real Estate, prepares to show this refrigerated air conditioned 3 bedroom, 2 1/2 bath brick home at 1608 Osage. This beautiful home has formal tile entry, large paneled den with fireplace, well planned kitchen, separate utility room. This home is fully carpeted and draped, has covered patio, double garage with electric eye door, well landscaped lawn, sprinkling system and curbed flower beds, offering a sweeping view of Scenic Mountain. HOME Real Estate Company, owned and managed by Realtor Jeff Brown, invites you to come by their office in the Permian Building downtown and pre-select your new HOME from the color photos they now have on display of their many listings.

City Club and J&K Shoe Store . . . names that mean quality in footwear for Carl. Here, store owner Billy Hembree is showing Carl a popular long wing brogue in the smart olive color while Dana offers advice. While shopping J&K, Carl and Dana were shown the complete line of footwear for men and women and were impressed with the wide selections available in sport and dress shoes. Mr. Hembree also displayed several smart styles in straw bags for summer along with the latest hosiery values. Whether a happy event like a wedding is in your future, you can depend on J&K to have just the proper shoes, bags and accessories in the colors and styles you want. Whatever your needs in reliable footwear, come to J&K and shop in cool comfort for shoes that fit not only your foot but your wallet too!

LINGERIE . . . in a rainbow of color! Dana finds sheer delight in the high fashion lingerie and lounge wear at CAUDILL'S DRESS SHOP. Mrs. Mary Dunn presents an exquisite white nylon peignoir with lavish lace trim, available with matching gown for Dana's trousseau. Dana will have her complete wardrobe of lingerie coordinated with beautiful fabrics and colors. Caudill's Dress Shop's complete lingerie department offers famous name lines in sleepwear, lounge wear, slippers, girdles and bras at Highland Center. They invite you, too, to visit the courteous personnel and inspect the full line of inner coordinates. So, take the hint from Dana—you'll be glad you did. Shop Caudill's fashion store for swimwear, sportswear, dresses and suits.

DANA AND CARL CHOSE BLUM'S JEWELERS for their table settings. Pauline Blum, bridal consultant at BLUM'S JEWELERS shows Dana & Carl one of the 200 patterns of China to select from. Dana has chosen the pattern of Platinum Band by Franciscan. To complement her China, Dana has chosen Platinum Band Crystal by Lotus and Lace Point Sterling Silver by Lunt. While at BLUM'S, Dana & Carl discovered the most complete bridal service in Big Spring. At BLUM'S you can find your diamond rings with matching band by Artcarved. BLUM'S JEWELERS take special pride to have been appointed authorized dealer for all nationally advertised brands of China, Pottery, Sterling, Watches and many more too numerous to mention. BLUM'S entire personnel is experienced and trained to assist you with your selections.

CARL AND DANA, LIKE MANY MARRIED OR SOON TO BE MARRIED COUPLES . . . find the need for financial assistance in buying or building a new home. Pictured here is Mr. Charles Bell, executive vice president of First Federal Savings & Loan Association discussing a new home plan with them. Mr. Bell has pointed out that for many years FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION has offered the convenience of personalized service, welcomed the opportunity to assist couples in purchasing homes and strive to promote home ownership for all Big Springers. Mr. Bell assured Dana and Carl that FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION will provide any help available. 5th and Main Streets

Riviera, a name that implies so much . . . to many it represents a way of life on the shores of the Mediterranean, leisurely and luxurious . . . but to Dana Rosene and Carl Baker, like most Westerners, it means only one thing . . . the finest convertible furniture manufactured today. Here the couple relax on a Riviera Convertible Sofa, while Frank Gibson, manager of Big Spring Furniture, explains that it is longer and lower, assuring comfortable sitting height . . . by day, and by night for complete sleeping relaxation . . . at bed height. Perfectly balanced innerspring mattress with no "center sag". Buoyant, resilient under cushion spring construction for posture perfect sleep. The problem of completely furnishing a new home or apartment in any decor or price range can be solved easily at Big Spring Furniture . . . and of course budget terms are available. Come in soon and make those dreams a reality.

Since the kitchen is the focal point of activities for the lady of the house, the many automatic and beneficial features of the electric range, makes it her biggest helper. The electric range is clean and aids the homemaker in her efforts because electricity has no fuel grime, soot or soil to deposit on the utensils, walls or curtains. An added delight to the homemaker who would have a spick-and-span kitchen is the self-cleaning oven. Greasy films and spill-overs disappear like magic from the entire inside of the oven when set for self-cleaning. Accurate pushbutton or dial temperature controls and precise even heat elements eliminate pot-watching and the danger of burns or boil-overs. The surface units help maintain a cool atmosphere in the kitchen by heating only the pan not the air around it. For only pennies a day, it is possible to cook electrically the modern flameless way. See Texas Electric display kitchen.

One of the major investments for newlyweds is dependable transportation, here Dana and Carl look at a 1967 Cadillac at Jack Lewis Buick and Cadillac, 403 Scurry, where better cars are sold. This car is equipped with all the modern conveniences available to the public. Dana was amazed at the easy-touch steering, and ease of maneuverability in city driving. Carl was impressed with the minimum repair and upkeep of this Sedan DeVille, and at the safety features built in the car, plus its roadability in both city and open road driving. Jack Lewis Buick and Cadillac services what they sell with factory trained mechanics — this adds security of thousands of trouble-free happy miles. Why don't you take this dollar-saving advice and stop by Jack Lewis Buick and Cadillac and trade with the tradingest dealer in West Texas.

GOOCH BLUE RIBBON MEATS ARE GUARANTEED, so says Smitty of HULL & PHILLIPS FOOD STORES. Dana & Carl discovered the convenience of shopping with hometown boys. Items are easily found and the selection is great, at either of the HULL & PHILLIPS FOOD STORES. While shopping here, Dana & Carl found the personnel to be very friendly and ready to assist at any time. After leaving the meat counter, they found produce that was as fresh as if it had just been brought in out of the garden. That HULL & PHILLIPS strives to bring their customers the best of everything was learned by the couple during their shopping tour of the store.

TERRY CARTER of CARTER'S FURNITURE . . . 100 to 110 Runnels, discusses the advantage of EARLY AMERICAN LIVING ROOM FURNITURE, even in a small room arrangement. DANA examines a roll-top desk in solid rock maple from Carter's wide selection of Tell City Furniture. CARL, reclines on one of a pair of patchwork rocking love seats from Carter's BROYHILL Premier living room furniture. The love seat has coil-spring construction, with Scotch-gard treated upholstery. It comes with arm covers and is self-decked. The cushions are latex foam rubber-5-L-cushions. The coffee table is from TELL CITY'S solid rock maple collection. This particular one has a Formica top which makes it very practical for use in living room or den. The Early American accent pieces shown includes the solid maple pole lamp with amber glass shades. Matching table lamps are available from the PRESTIGE collection. The wall shelf-bookcase is also of solid maple by BUTLER.

DANA and CARL, in selecting furniture for their future home, made it a point to visit this MASTER BEDROOM vignette at CARTER'S FURNITURE . . . 100 to 110 Runnels. JIM MATHENY shows them bedroom furniture from BROYHILL'S Premier Spanish Classic Collection of bedroom, dining room and living room pieces. In Spanish Classic rugged oak it is masterfully crafted into bold proportions. Drawer fronts of solid oak are gracefully shaped on all edges. Intricate carvings decorate doors and drawer fronts as a handsome medallion in bold relief. The blend of massive proportions and intricately detailed carvings representative of Spanish classic design. These elements are enhanced by a deep rich nut brown finish. The KING SIZE MATTRESS and spring is made by SEALY. This one is extra firm, innerspring Carter's carry a complete selection of Sealy mattresses and box springs in all sizes.

DANA & CARL ARE STARTING OFF RIGHT, by discussing a savings plan with Mr. Jack Worsham of BIG SPRING SAVINGS ASSOCIATION. Mr. Worsham points out that their savings are insured up to $15,000. At BIG SPRING SAVINGS ASSOCIATION Dana and Carl are always assured of friendly, courteous, and prompt service. Mr. Worsham has told them that everyone at BIG SPRING SAVINGS ASSOCIATION is well qualified to serve them any way, from opening an account to adding to the account for the security any married couple should have.

THE PLANNING OF WEDDING FLOWERS . . . To Many brides is an overwhelming project, but not at QUIGLEY'S FLORAL SHOP, 1512 S. Gregg Street. DANA recognized this well known fact when she chose QUIGLEY'S FLORAL SHOP to plan her wedding decorations. JOHN QUIGLEY is shown advising and helping from the first planning stages to that final flower-studded moment at the church and reception; and will handle every flower detail. QUIGLEY'S FLORAL SHOP is proud of being able to supply, with vast knowledge and experience, all these floral services at the most reasonable prices. Next time you have an occasion to order flowers, no matter what the occasion, be sure . . . call QUIGLEY'S FLORAL SHOP, 1512 S. Gregg Street . . . AM 7-7441.

Dana Rosene and Carl Baker visit the Linen Department at Hemphill Wells . . . Where they found a delightful collection of blankets, bedspreads, sheets and towels, color coordinated perfectly. Mrs. Paul Eslinger is showing them sheets and towels from Fieldcrest's Queens Garden coordinated bedroom and bath collection.

Both Dana and Carl agree that Hemphill Wells is the place to shop for your household linens.

Dana Rosene finds sheer delight in the Lingerie and Foundations Department at Hemphill-Wells Co. Mrs. Marvin Stewart presents Olga's exquisite "bluemist" Antron empire style gown and matching peignoir lavished with white nylon lace . . . by Olga. Hemphill Wells complete lingerie and foundations department offers many famous brand name lines in sleepwear, slips, bras, girdles, boudoir slippers and robes in beautiful coordinated fabrics and colors. Hemphill's invites you too, to visit the courteous personnel and inspect the full line of lingerie coordinates.

This is the one I want, Dana told Carl while Charles Dunnam, cashier at the friendly First National Bank was showing them a selection of personalized checks for their first joint account. Mr. Dunnam also enumerated the many conveniences that are offered to any newly wed couple at First National, including loans for a new car, safety deposit boxes for holding their treasured documents, checking accounts and savings accounts. When you need a financial friend, you too can look to Big Spring's First National Bank where they always have time for you. If you need financial counsel or any of the various banking services, pay a visit to First National where you always find a warm and friendly greeting.

From Zack's, Dana selected this stunning going away outfit as shown her by Mrs. Sam Mellinger. It is a beautiful dress with matching full length coat in navy blue trimmed with yellow and in the popular new hopsacking material, designed by Howard Wolf. The future Mrs. Baker is also looking at a jacket while making up her mind which style to pick. Dana knows that Zack's always features a wonderful selection of fine dressy and sports-loving clothes that will assure her of being in perfect taste regardless of which Air Force Base she and her husband may be stationed. Zack's, located at Main and Sixth, has been a leader in the fashion field for many years and Dana knows her selection will always be correct. Zack's invites you to come in and see their selections at any time.
