Pentagon Plans

Goodby To 36th?

By The Associated Press

Should the Pentagon carry through its plans to reorganize the National Guard and the Army Reserve, the names of two noted Texas divisions will disappear into what the Army calls sharper and more-combat-ready outfits.

One of these will be the fabled 36th Infantry Division of World Wars I and II and the other the 49th Armored Division, organized after the last worldwide conflict and the first National Guard armored division.

Brig. Gen. James E. Rose, Texas' assistant adjutant general, said, however, that the actual guard strength in Texas will be increased from 17,225 to 17,499 under the proposed reorganization. A congressional fight may develop over the Pentagon's proposal.

Revolution Roots

The 36th claims its roots go back to the Texas revolution against Mexico in 1836.

But its first formal organization was 1917 in World War I.

The division, beefed up by soldiers from other states, landed in France in July, 1918.

It went over the top in the Chalon-sur-Marne sector and in 14 days suffered 5,000 casualties. It helped in freeing Rheims, St. Mihiel and the Meuse-Argonne.

The division was pulled out for regrouping, but the armistice took place before it returned to battle.

The World War II campaign training began in 1940, more than a year before the United States entered the war.

Bloodiest Battle

The division is credited with spearheading the Allied drive up the boot of Italy. It landed at Salerno, below Naples, in what looked like a walk-away and then turned into one of the war's bloodiest battles.

Later it was a part of the beachhead at Anzio where it appeared stopped for four months. A unit of the 36th, in a night action, infiltrated the German lines, got behind the enemy and started the Axis power on a retreat.

The action opened the road to Rome and the collapse of Italy as an Axis partner.

Still later, the division hit the beaches of southern France and after 32 days of fighting reached the foothills of the Vosges Mountains, 300 miles north.

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

The big news of the week was weather, and the biggest part of this was the 12,000-acre-foot increase at Lake J. B. Thomas — equivalent to about two months supply in the summer. Had the rains been general, the story would have been tremendous. As it was, most moisture was confined to a strip about 10 miles wide, ranging from south of Lamesa to north of Ackerly and rain-bowing down into northern Howard County and back up to Lake Thomas. The southwest quarter of Howard County may be able to plant in the sandy areas. Farms in the northeast third will be able to plant, too. For the rest, it's the same old story — missed chances.

Both the Big Spring Independent School District and Howard County Junior College trustees last week passed on the full state pay raise to teachers. The school district, with its large faculty will distribute well over a quarter million additional money; the junior college, (with a couple of new posts) around $50,000.

A regional project for elderly citizens was announced for the volunteer service of the Big Spring State Hospital. Total amount of the program was pegged at $161,000 for three years — but the cash

Aftermath Of Roxbury Riot

A street in the Roxbury section of Boston littered with broken glass and merchandise after Friday night's riot touched off by demonstrators protesting the eviction from a city welfare building. At least 24 policemen, one firefighter and 18 civilians were injured. Thirty-three men and women were arrested. (AP WIRE-PHOTO)

Sniper Guns Boston Fireman During Riot

BOSTON (AP) — A Boston fireman was shot and wounded Saturday night in the Grove Hall Square section of Boston, as a new wave of rioting broke out.

Police reported the fireman apparently was shot by a sniper shooting from a rooftop.

The fireman, identified as Lt. Joseph Donovan, was shot in the right wrist.

He was the leader of a crew responding to one of several false alarms in the area.

The shooting came a couple of hours after darkness fell and officials again had moved in squads of helmeted police, armed with riot guns to stem a new wave of looting and window smashing.

In a 12-hour racial disturbance Friday and in the early morning hours Saturday, rioters smashed windows and looted dozens of stores, setting fires which burned out several of them.

TRAFFIC BLOCKED

Traffic was blocked off in busy Blue Hill Avenue which runs through the dominantly Negro section across one of the principal routes between Boston's downtown shopping area and the residential areas and suburbs to the southwest of the city.

Police officials had a force of 1,900 men standing by for possible outbreaks Saturday night. More than 1,000 were engaged Friday night at the height of the outburst when they battled an estimated 1,000 rioters hurling bricks and bottles at them and any passersby.

Estimates of the number injured ran as high as 75. Forty-four persons were arrested, including three civil rights leaders.

Damage was estimated unofficially at $500,000.

Police Commissioner Edmund F. McNamara canceled days off for all city policemen and kept a large detail in the Roxbury section.

The area was calm during the day. The weather was hot and muggy.

DISRESPECT

Mayor John F. Collins called the outburst "the worst manifestation of disrespect for the rights of others that this city has ever seen."

Collins had praise for the police work, but the Rev. Virgil Wood, a Negro Baptist minister, said "war was declared on the black people by the police force."

"In all likelihood," The Rev. Mr. Wood said, "this will happen again unless the whole attitude of the administration changes."

'PEACE VIGIL'

The Rev. Vernon E. Carter, a

Negro Lutheran pastor, urged residents of the inner city and the suburbs to join him in a "peace vigil" to "make our communities a safe haven of healthy citizenship."

After the riot subsided, a 15-block stretch of Blue Hill Avenue in Roxbury's Grove Hill area was littered with shattered glass, empty whisky bottles, beer cans and debris from burned and looted stores.

The riot was triggered by a "sit-in" Friday by a group of Roxbury mothers demanding changes in the city's welfare program. The mothers wanted a meeting with the city welfare director, Daniel J. Cronin at the Grove Hall welfare office.

NEWS BRIEFS

Crash Kills 88

PERPIGNAN, France (AP) — A chartered DC4 carrying British tourists to Spain's Costa Brava crashed Saturday night in the foothills of the Pyrenees.

The French news agency announced the plane crash on Mont Canigou killed all 88 persons aboard.

The agency said there were 83 passengers and five crew members aboard the plane.

A spokesman at the airport in Perpignan said the plane had taken off earlier from Manston Airport in England.

The plane crashed on the slopes of Mont Canigou, which lies about 12 miles north of the French-Spanish frontier.

The mountain is 9,140 feet high.

The Costa Brava is an area of Spain's Mediterranean coast between Barcelona and the French border, highly popular with tourists.

Police said residents near the crash scene reported hearing a plane flying at low altitude and then a violent explosion.

Estes Still Shrewd Trader

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — Billie Sol Estes demonstrated after two years in prison that he is still a shrewd trader.

He swapped out with the prosecution and showed this profit: Disposition — of all criminal charges brought by the state without adding a day to the time he's already serving behind bars.

Still only 42, the black haired promoter once considered a youngful genius of farm finance returned to public view in a trim gray business suit and wearing his familiar horn rimmed spectacles.

Although no longer free, he was able before and after a 45-minute hearing to smile and exchange brief greetings with friends. Once more his wife, four of their children and two brothers of Estes were front row spectators.

Flag Burning Ban Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House of Representatives probably will mark the 190th anniversary of Flag Day on June 14 by passing legislation to make desecration of the American flag a federal crime.

Rep. Bryon G. Rogers, D-Colo., confirmed this in an interview Saturday. He is chairman of a House Judiciary subcommittee considering legislation against flag desecration.

The House has named a four-member committee, including some strong advocates of bills against flag desecration, to plan an appropriate celebration of Flag Day.

But passage of the legislation is not expected to be an official part of their program.

Although all states already have laws against flag desecration, many congressmen have expressed sentiment for a federal statute in the wake of a flag-burning incident during an anti-war demonstration in New York in April.

'Mean Ham' Charge Denied

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Negro shipping clerk in Watts denies he is the amateur radio operator who is jamming calls to the United States from wounded servicemen on a ship off Vietnam.

James Brantley, 39, who has a son in the Army in Korea, accused other ham operators of deliberately trying to link him to the jamming because "he is a Negro."

"I don't know where this interference is coming from. I've heard it myself, when I wasn't on the air. I think other operators are trying to make it look like it's me doing it," Brantley said Friday.

Southern California hams filed complaints against Brantley with the FCC after hearing his call letters on the frequencies being hammed.

Israel Issues Blunt Threat On Gulf Block

U.N. Efforts To Cool War Fever Fails

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. efforts to ease the Middle East crisis ran into new difficulties Saturday when Israel and the Arab countries exchanged bitter charges and Israel laid down a blunt warning that it "is determined to take its stand on the Gulf of Aqaba."

The exchanges took place in an unusual Saturday session of the U.N. Security Council after it had shelved until Monday or Tuesday plans to vote on rival resolutions aimed at cooling the crisis.

DEADLOCK

Members of the 15-nation council remained tightly deadlocked on U.S. and Egyptian proposals. Consultations continued on a compromise plan offered by India, but no agreement was in sight.

Joining in the behind-the-scenes talks was British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who stopped at U.N. headquarters en route from Washington to London. Wilson, active in efforts to keep the Gulf of Aqaba open to international shipping, had lunch with Secretary-General U Thant and later conferred with the Security Council president, Ambassador Hans R. Tabor of Denmark.

DOUBT

French Ambassador Roger Seydoux proposed that the council address to the Middle East countries a simple appeal to avoid inflammatory action. He expressed doubt that agreement could be reached on any resolutions so far proposed and that they should not be pressed to a vote.

"Such a show of powerlessness, deplorable in itself," he said, "could incite the parties here present to continue along a path or undertake projects that would risk leading to the worst."

Israeli Ambassador Gideon Rafael led off the council debate by declaring that "nothing less than complete noninterference with free and innocent passage is acceptable to the government of Israel."

TOTAL WAR

Rafael compared the line followed by Egypt on closing the Gulf of Aqaba to the line used by the Nazis in 1939 when they belittled the significance of the blockade of Danzig.

"Severing this artery is an act as grave as an attempt to truncate part of our territory," he said.

Speakers from Syria, Morocco and Saudi Arabia were equally firm in backing Egypt's right to close the Gulf of Aqaba. All blamed Israel for the current crisis.

Saudi Arabia's Ghassan S. Al-Rachach declared that if the situation leads to war, "it will be total war."

DEL RIO MAN JAILED

Texas School Chief Beaten

MIDLAND (AP) — The chairman of the Texas Board of Education suffered a severe beating in his motel room Friday night and officers arrested a young man Saturday.

The chairman, W. W. Jackson, 71, of San Antonio, sustained severe facial injuries and possible serious damage to one eye.

He was placed in a hospital and is expected to remain there during the weekend.

Midland Meeting

He was in Midland for a meeting of the education board.

Charged with aggravated assault was Lester Payne, 20, of Del Rio, whose family has been in a long dispute with the education board and others.

Officers arrested him in a cafe. Payne, with his father, Floyd, 51, picketed throughout Friday at the motel where the education board met Saturday.

Floored, Kicked

Police Chief Harold Wallace said Jackson was beaten when he entered his motel room after attending a reception given for the board. Wallace said the chairman was knocked to the floor and kicked.

The Payne family has contended children should be able to change schools without paying tuition.

Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar, in a letter to Floyd Payne, said that the facts as he knows them are that Payne is a resident of the San Felipe Independent School District and that his children have not been denied attendance in the San Felipe schools.

Tuition Tiff

Edgar said that Texas law gives the Del Rio School District the right to charge tuition for out-of-district pupils and that he could not accept jurisdiction in the complaint.

Payne has been before the board several times. The Air Force at Del Rio, where the base is within the San Felipe district, signed a contract with the Del Rio schools to educate servicemen's children.

Payne contends that he has the same right to have his children taken from the San Felipe district to Del Rio without having to pay tuition.

Door Guards

Neither of the Paynes appeared at the Saturday hearing, the door of which was guarded by officers. The board unanimously refused to intervene with the Del Rio district's decision about the Payne children.

Israel's Hero Claims No Aid Needed To Whip Arabs

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Defense Minister Moshe Dayan — Israel's hero of the 1956 Suez war — contended Saturday that Israeli soldiers could beat the Arabs in war without help from U.S., British or other foreign troops.

POLITICAL POWER

At the same time, Israel bluntly declared it will make its stand on the Gulf of Aqaba, which Egypt has proclaimed to be closed to Israeli shipping. That declaration was made in debate in the U.N. Security Council in New York where Israelis and Arabs exchanged bitter charges.

The Security Council postponed until next week any voting on peace proposals before it.

In Jerusalem, the Israeli government disclosed that Prime Minister Levi Eshkol has appealed to the Soviet Union to use its "great political power" and join other nations in an effort to bring about permanent peace in the Middle East. Eshkol's message to Premier Alexei N. Kosygin was delivered to the Soviet ambassador in Jerusalem on Thursday.

SOVIETS SHADOW

AP correspondent Bob Horton reported from the U.S. 6th Fleet aircraft carrier America that a second Soviet warship has begun shadowing the fleet in the Mediterranean. The new vessel on the scene is a guided missile destroyer, No. 381.

Marines, Planes, Artillery Lash Communist Regiment

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines mopping up after a bloody, two-day battle in coastal Quang Tin Province reported Sunday that 474 Communist soldiers were killed.

The battle tapered off Saturday and Marines reported their own casualties as 54 killed and 120 wounded.

While the raging Marine battle for the ridge line died down Saturday, the air war over North Vietnam intensified. U.S. fighter-bomber pilots shot down two Communist regiments — perhaps more than 2,000 men — scattered over a ridge line 13 miles northwest of Tam Ky broke contact with the Marines Saturday afternoon.

NAPALM BOMBS

Three bloodied companies of Marines, reinforced by other

Marine units, moved Saturday morning into a hamlet that had been blasted with napalm bombs, rockets and artillery, but found only two wounded Marines near the tree line on the edge of the hamlet.

The two MIGs downed Saturday were shot down by a flight of U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief fighter-bombers from the 88th Tactical Fighter Wing at Korat Air Force Base in Thailand.

DOGFIGHT

The Thunderchiefs took on three MIGs in a dogfight east-northeast of Hanoi. There was no announcement of any American planes being downed.

The latest MIG kills brought to 74 the number of Communist planes downed in aerial combat over North Vietnam. MIG interceptors have shot down 20 American warplanes.

Credited with the latest kills were Maj. Ralph L. Kuster, 35, of St. Louis, and Capt. Larry D. Wiggins, 33, of Houston, Tex. It was the first MIG kill for each.

U.S. warplanes in raids Saturday struck at railroad yards, sidings and bridges deep in North Vietnam.

RAILS RIPPED

Pilots reported inflicting moderate to severe damage on warehouses, storage areas and rail lines in the Bac Giang railroad yards 27 miles northeast of Hanoi.

Other Air Force pilots reported heavily damaging a bypass railroad bridge 27 miles north-east of Haiphong.

Big Enrollment For VBS

Over 300 had been enrolled through Friday for the daily Vacation Bible School at Trinity Baptist Church, according to Rev. Claude Craven, and he is expecting more than 500 total enrollment with an average daily attendance of about 450. The summer program begins Monday and continues through the week, meeting from 9 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. each day. Pre-registration was held last week. (Photo by Frank Brandon)

Moorer New Naval Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — A World War II flying hero who likes to interview unhappy enlisted men is to become chief of naval operations.

President Johnson confirmed Saturday that he is nominating Alabama-born Adm. Thomas Hinman Moorer to succeed Adm. David L. McDonald, a 60-year-old Georgian, is retiring July 31.

This is the first change in the makeup of the Joint Chiefs he has held since April, 1965.

FAVORS YOUNG

Moorer, 55, now is commander of the Atlantic Fleet, commander in chief, Atlantic, and supreme allied commander, Atlantic, under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, posts he has held since April, 1965.

Vice Adm. Ephraim Paul Holmes will succeed Moorer in these commands.

Moorer, a tall, humorous man, became known for his people-to-people approach after he took command of the Pacific Fleet in mid-1964 as the youngest full admiral in the Navy.

About every 10 days he would send a message to the captain of a Pacific Fleet vessel coming into Pearl Harbor, requesting the skipper to find a volunteer for an interview. Moorer favored young sailors who were planning to leave the service.

SHOT DOWN

The men interviewed were encouraged to air their gripes fully and frankly—and no reports on their views were sent back to their commanding officers.

"I know they come in scared to death," Moorer once told a newsman. "But it only takes about 10 minutes to get them talking."

The son of a dentist, Moorer calls Eufaula, Ala., home. He entered the Naval Academy at 17 and graduated in 1933.

A combat flier, he was shot down in February, 1942, off Australia. He was rescued by a ship only to have the vessel sunk by the Japanese later the same day. But later he met the Japanese flier who shot him down and now has the pilot's sword.

Summer School Starts

At College, High School

After a week's respite, summer school starts this week.

Monday will be registration day at Howard County Junior College, where classes will start Tuesday.

Summer school for high school students will have its sign-up at 9 a.m. Monday in the high school cafeteria.

HCJC will offer courses in chemistry, biology, physics, math, English, Spanish, history, psychology, music, speech, economics and government. In addition, a course in art (drawing and painting) will be offered the first six weeks. During the second six weeks, starting July 17, there will be a course in choral directing. There will be lab courses in chemistry, physics, biology and Spanish, as well as private voice lessons.

Most of these courses will be offered in night sections, too, as the demand warrants. The day classes are 1½ hours long and are Monday through Friday; evening classes are 2½ hours long, and are held on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday.

On His Mower

KINSTON, N.C. (AP) — Keith Williams, 56, of Kinston has been fined $100 and has lost his driver's license after he was convicted of driving drunk on a lawnmower.

State Highway Patrolman V. H. Heath testified Friday that he saw Williams driving his riding mower along US-258 Saturday night with no lights in heavy traffic.

Explains Value Of Social Security Plan

Does the average worker get his money's worth for his Social Security contributions? "Yes," said Erven Fisher, Social Security district manager in Big Spring. Young workers can be sure, too, that the Social Security benefits payable to them and their dependents in the future will be substantially increased by the time they qualify for payment.

The Social Security program is financed in such a way that benefits can be more than kept up to date with rising prices—without an increase in contribution rates, Fisher said. Because the Social Security tax is a percentage of payroll, income to the program rises more than benefit obligations as wage levels go up, he explained.

In an expanding economy, rising wages produce more income for the Social Security system and make it possible to increase benefits more than enough to offset any increases in prices. It is necessary only to make increases from time to time in the ceiling on the amount of earnings that is subject to the tax (and which counts toward the individual's future benefit payments).

But even future improvements in benefit levels, Fisher said, the average young worker will get retirement, survivors, and disability insurance protection under Social Security worth 20 to 25 per cent more than he will pay in Social Security tax contributions over a 40-45 year working lifetime—even if you count accumulated interest on those contributions.

At the upper extreme—the young man who starts work in 1973 or later, when the maximum contribution rate for old age, survivors and disability insurance goes into effect, and who has earnings at or above the maximum annual amount subject to the Social Security tax, will no more than just about pay for the value of his protection.

People already at work, Fisher noted, get more protection for their tax contributions than those who will be going to work under Social Security in the future.

Under Social Security, as under practically all private pension plans, he pointed out, the employer's contribution is not earmarked for the benefit of a particular employee.

New Volunteer Program Outlined

Louis McKnight, chairman of the volunteer council to the Big Spring State Hospital, outlined the scheduled expansion program of volunteer services Saturday.

"Transportation and coordinated programs for Dawson, Martin, Scurry, Borden, Mitchell and Howard counties will be offered as a result of the grant by the Governor's Committee on Aging," he said.

Funds available through this agency of the Older Americans Act will be approximately $21,000 per year for three years. The funds will provide supplies, personnel and a vehicle to implement the program within the six county area. Regional offices established in Snyder, Colorado City and Lamesa will be provided by the local communities and Big Spring State Hospital will provide the fourth office, consultants, additional supplies, and personnel. The total value of the grant to the communities through the committee funds, facilities provided by the three counties, and Big Spring State Hospital participation is approximately $161,000.

Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent of Big Spring State Hospital, said "This grant for increased volunteer services to the hospital is a fine beginning to provide more mental health services to remote areas and particularly to the aged who find it difficult to seek such facilities."

Baptists Urge World Peace

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Southern Baptists approved a statement urging world peace Friday; then closed their annual convention with a call for more laymen to become involved in church affairs.

The statement on world peace drew only minor comment from the floor as it was approved quickly by the 15,000 messengers (delegates).

The only dissent came from the Rev. Rufus Sprayberry of Mineral Wells, Tex., who unsuccessfully offered an amendment to make the statement apply specifically to Vietnam.

Two proposals calling for all-out war in Vietnam had been rejected earlier.

Minor Wrecks Dot Blotter

A flurry of minor car accidents dotted the police blotter Friday. No injuries or major damage was reported.

Location of the wrecks, and drivers involved, were: Highway and Shopping Center 1-0-t, Cheryl Ann Ulrich, 1606 Lexington, and Walter Lee Rinker, 2110 Healy; 1000 block of Eleventh Place, Donna K. Bohannon, 614 Linda Lane, and Travis Earl Brackeen, 3915 Dixon; Wesson Road at park entrance, Juanita Newsom Adams, 2007 Johnson, and Delores Recla, 105 NW 9th; Third at Benton, Frederick D. Storm Works Over Lake's Buildings

Thursday evening's storm worked havoc around the Lake Thomas shores, particularly on the south side.

R. A. Schooling, lake superintendent, described it as "the worst hailstorm I ever saw." Multiplied thousands of dollars of damage was inflicted as hail battered roofs, screens and windows. There were some spots on the northside which managed to escape the most severe part of the hail storm.

O. H. Ivie, general manager for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, said that foliage was completely shucked from trees, and in many instances bark was beaten partially off the trees.

"The trees and brush look like November after a frost," he said. Ivie expressed the fear that many of the trees the district had placed around the shore in the general vicinity of Lake Thomas Lodge, would not survive the beating.

Hail was golf ball size and piled up in drifts like snow. The ground was spotted with birds killed in the trees. Included were four pet goslings.

At the dam, the Snyder pump station lost 30 windows, but four miles upstream at the Big Spring - Odessa station, 97 windows were shattered. The storm, which hit at 8 p.m. Thursday, moved in from the northeast and left 37 to four inches of rain. Several hundred cabins and homes had heavy roof damage.

Lake Gains Four Billions

Lake J. B. Thomas, which supplies the Colorado River Municipal Water District, had reached elevation 2240.10 Saturday afternoon. This represented an increase of 2.69 feet in the lake level, or a volume of 12,000 acre-feet. This approximates four billion gallons of water.

The flow, which came from the runoff generated by a narrow storm which moved across the south watershed from Ackery to the lake, had dwindled to about .01 of a foot per hour.

This was the first increase the lake had received since last Sept. 15, and it put the lake level back to where it was at the end of March.

The Texas Electric Service Company's Lake Colorado City was at elevation 2963.70, an increase of 1.5 of a foot. The lake received 1.11 inches of rain, Champion Creek, to the south-east, had 1.50 of rain but its level remained at 2968.60.

Army Captain Dismissed For Refusal To Train Men

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Capt. Howard B. Levy, the Army doctor who refused to train Vietnam-bound Green Beret medics, was dismissed from the Army today and sentenced to three years in prison for disloyalty and disobedience.

The 30-year-old dermatologist, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., stood with hands clasped behind him, facing the 10-member court-martial board as the sentence was read.

Levy exhibited no emotion as he returned to his seat. The sentence included dismissal from the Army, forfeiture of all pay and allowances and three years at hard labor. Chief defense attorney Charles Morgan Jr., of the American Civil Liberties Union, requested that Levy be granted bail or parole while the verdict was appealed. But the law officer, Col. Earl V. Brown, said neither he nor the tribunal had authority under the law to grant the request. Brown told the court-martial board that it could submit a motion for clemency, if desired, to the commanding officer at Fort Jackson, Maj. Gen. Gines Perez.

The tribunal convicted Levy Friday of disobeying an order to train Special Forces medics in his dermatology clinic and with making disloyal statements opposing U.S. policy in Vietnam. The tribunal took 2 hours and 20 minutes to agree on the penalty. Levy could have received up to eight years.

Legislature Met Pressing Challenges, Dickson Says

A general report on the 60th governmental units such as legislative service in this area than in any other.

"Generally speaking, I feel that this Legislature was a hard-working and capable one, although the pace is necessarily a hectic one and some bad laws were passed and some good bills were passed. Naturally, the problems of legislation become more and more complex. Hence, more than 2,500 bills and resolutions were introduced this session and about 800 became law. They ranged from proposed laws to protect the horned toad and the terrapin to advocated revision of Texas' regulatory provisions of the stock exchange. I personally found my work load increased tremendously. For a time I was receiving 50 to 60 letters a day relating to parliamentary procedure and liquor bills, and answering all of this with one secretary made things a little difficult."

Record Water Use Reported

Big Springers are turning on their faucets for record high usage thus far in 1967, according to Ernest Lillard, public works director.

In four of the first five months of the year, new records have been posted in water usage by city patrons. In addition, for the total used during the first five months of the year, the city has a new record of usage.

The prolonged spring drought is blamed for the high figures, Lillard said. Many residents have kept their faucets running in an effort to nurture lawns and gardens, thirsty for lack of rain.

So far this year, city customers have used 783,613,000 gallons of water, over 170,000,000 gallons higher than last year, when 612,272,000 gallons were used in the same period, and more than 100,000,000 gallons more than the previous record high year of 1962.

January started off the year with a record, when 143,279,000 gallons were used, compared with the previous high of 104,708,000 gallons in 1964. February missed posting a record, when only 99,771,000 gallons were measured.

The record set in March was 135,478,000 gallons, compared with the previous high of 134,075,000 gallons rung up in 1963. April record usage was 186,555,000 gallons, compared with the previous high of 174,679,000 gallons in 1964.

May's record usage was 248,530,000 gallons, which bested the standing 1962 record of 224,790,000 gallons. This new mark was 95 million gallons more than was used during 1966.

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—Houston and Beaumont investors will build a 12-story office building in Midland connecting with an existing building.

The two structures will be joined at upper levels by a series of flying bridges, said Mark Lee of Houston and officials of Rogers Bros. Investments of Beaumont.

Mobil Oil Co., which now occupies three stories of the existing 201 Wall Building, also will take several floors of the new Wall Towers building. Other oil companies and satellite firms will occupy the rest of the space.

Extra Loads

City crews find the clean-up campaign during May to be one of the largest in many years. R. V. (Skeet) Forsyth, sanitation department superintendent, said his crews picked up 634 special loads during the month.

Water District Sales Climb

Except for the July peaks, the Colorado River Municipal Water District delivered more water in May than for any other month on record.

The 1,346,335,512 gallons produced was exceeded only by the past four Julys, which have averaged right at a billion and a half gallons. The month's total was 300 million gallons more than May, 1966, and virtually all of it was additional water taken by member cities, said Paschal Odom, assistant general manager.

The total of the three towns was 972,996,900 gallons, or 45 per cent more than the 672,371,300 for May last year. Odessa used 549,910,000 gallons, up 52.30 per cent over May, 1966. Big Spring took 334,494,000, up 37.79 per cent. Snyder used 88,922,900, up 29.26 per cent.

Oil companies required 373,338,612 gallons, which is eight million or 2.36 per cent, more than for May a year ago.

The percentage gain for May, counting both member cities and the oil companies, was 29.71.

For the first five months of the year, CRMWD production has aggregated 5,162,073,268 gallons, which is 737,000,000 gallons more than the same period in 1966. This represents an increase of 17.18 per cent for the year.

In the face of this increased demand, an increase of 12,000 acre-feet, or nearly four billion gallons, in the Lake Thomas level was welcomed last week.

Church Choir Class Planned

A class for church choir directors is one of two courses to be offered by the music department at Howard County Junior College during the summer. The other is a music literature course, required of music majors in most senior colleges.

Van C. Hale, chairman of the department, will be instructor for the courses, as well as teaching private voice - on an arranged schedule.

He said the literature course is a survey study of the important literature of all the major music periods and will be offered from 8:30-10 a.m., Monday through Friday.

The choir classes is designed for lay church choir directors, and deals with the problems of rehearsal techniques, sight reading, selecting music, recruiting membership, congregational singing, and other practical problems.

No specific background is required, Hale said, and all interested persons are invited to enroll. The class will meet each Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evening, from 7-9 p.m.

Registration for summer classes at HCJC is Monday, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. and from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Borden Road Work Planned

Improved development of FM 1785, from the intersection with FM 669 for 4.8 miles east in Borden County, was announced Friday by the Texas Highway Department for the 1967 farm to market road program.

The project will include grading, structures and paving, according to District Engineer J. C. Roberts, Abilene, who estimated cost of the work at $95,000. The work will be under the supervision of Joe H. Smoot, resident engineer in Big Spring.

The work is part of 849.3 miles of Texas Farm and Ranch to Market Roads earmarked for development in the new program. The program lists 228 projects in 166 counties, totaling 623 miles. Estimated cost is $24.6 million.

The additional mileage brings designated Farm and Ranch to Market Roads in Texas to 38.7 thousand miles. This is greater than the entire State-maintained highway mileage of many other states.

'Nerve Center' Of Luxury Cruise Ship

Wheelhouse aboard the Matson liner Mariposa is an immaculate and efficient "nerve center" for shipboard operations. Short range radar scope is in left foreground and adjacent to it is control panel for Sperry Gyrofans, which electronically adjust to eliminate 90 per cent of sea roll.

YMCA Launches Its Program

Webb Sergeant Is Commended

T. Sgt. Carl L. Reed of the 3560th USAF Hospital at Webb AFB, received the Air Force Commendation Medal last week. His citation stated he distinguished himself by meritorious service as assistant non-commissioned officer in charge of dental service, 355th Tactical Dispensary, Southeast Asia from February, 1966 to February, 1967.

During this period, he helped establish a base dental service. He is presently the non-commissioned officer in charge of the dental clinic at Webb.

Three Released On County Bonds

Three individuals were released on bonds filed in County Court Friday.

Jo Kinsle made $1,000 bond on a misdemeanor charge alleging misappropriation of funds from a beauty shop. R. L. Dennis posted $500 bond on a worthless check charge, and Bertie William Condon posted $500 bond on a DWI charge.

Vessel's Rock 'n Roll Curbed By Stabilizers

The Matson liner Mariposa, soon to be South Seas vacation headquarters for Texas travelers on The Herald-sponsored 42-day South Pacific cruise tour, has many built-in comfort features sure to please all passengers.

Especially first-time voyagers who may be a bit apprehensive about the motion of a big liner at sea.

The 21,000-ton Mariposa and her sister ship Monterey were the first Pacific passenger vessels equipped with Sperry Gyrofans, electronically controlled stabilizers, which virtually eliminate the ship's roll.

The Mariposa will sail July 24 from Los Angeles harbor to the South Seas, New Zealand and Australia.

BIG FINS

It is smooth sailing in any seas with the stabilizing influence of the 72-ton Gyrofans, which extend like airplane wings 14 feet from each side of the midships hull below the water line.

The "fins" are controlled by a gyroscopic "brain" on the bridge, which measures rate, speed and angle of the seas, automatically enabling the fins to head off any roll or pitch. The fins retract neatly into the hull when not in use.

The Gyrofans were built for Sperry Gyroscope Company by Newport News (Va.) Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company. The tapering blades of the fins are seven feet wide and two feet thick at the center.

SAFETY DEVICES

The Mariposa is equipped with the latest Coast Guard approved navigation and safety devices, including radar and loran, radio direction finders

COSTLY MISHAP

Three occupants in the car shown above were injured in a two-car crash near Big Spring Saturday

Snyder Highway Crash Injures Four Persons

A two-vehicle accident that occurred 2 1/2 miles northeast of Big Spring on the Snyder highway shortly after 5:30 p.m. Saturday sent four people to the hospital but none was believed seriously injured.

Barry Lewis Barnett, 24, his wife and two-year-old daughter were occupants of a 1957 Chevrolet sedan involved in a collision with a 1964 Ford pickup driven by Robert George Lloyd, 64, of Rt. 1, Big Spring.

The mishap was investigated by Texas Highway Patrolmen Jack White and Jimmy Parks.

Damage to the Chevrolet was estimated at about $400 while the pickup's damage was figured at between $700 and $800. No charges had been filed in connection with the accident late Saturday.

The Barnett family formerly resided in Hutchins, Tex. They apparently had been on an outing to Lake J. B. Thomas.

Lloyd was taken to the Cowper Clinic for examination but was up and about late Saturday.

A spokesman for the Eagle said the purchase price was not announced. Details of the sale remain to be worked out, the spokesman said.

Harte-Hanks Newspapers publishes the Abilene Reporter-News, Big Spring Herald, Corpus Christi Caller and Times, Denison Herald, Greenville Herald-Banner, Marshall News-Sessenger, Paris News, San Angelo Standard-Times and San Antonio Express-News.

THE WEEK

outlay is only $21,000 per year for the period. The rest is represented in services and other aid which institutions and cooperating communities will give.

Parents are urged to enter their children in the summer recreation learn-to-swim program which begins Monday morning and continues through the week. Also, they are encouraged to enroll the children for the fun clubs which continue through June and July. The city schools, United Fund and YMCA make these fine programs available to all youngsters six and over.

Narciso Santiago, on trial a week ago for murder, got a jolting verdict a week ago today. The jury found him guilty and fixed the sentence at life imprisonment.

June is shaping up as a fruitful month, more ways than one. Within the past two days, the county clerk has issued 12 marriage licenses. Maybe this shouldn't be in the same paragraph, but the hospitals last week reported about 30 births. At that rate, we'd add 15,000 to our population every decade.

The Texas Liquor Control Board offices for District 9 are being moved to Odessa, but at least one agent will remain. Big Spring was chosen as the site over 30 years ago when it became the first wet county in the area. During a dry spell here, several distributors, shifted to newly wet Ector County, which has had a rapid population growth. Hence, over half the case load of the district now is around Odessa.

The city welcomes Lt. Col.

Jack E. Bailey as the new commander of the 47601 Training Squadron, the successor of the former 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron, which was led by Lt. Col. M. W. Shaker Jr., who has been assigned to Syracuse, N.Y.

A salute goes to Jan Campbell, whose 95.55-point average made her the ranking student among the 270 graduates from Big Spring High School last week. Close behind was Burma McCarta with 95.18 average for four years. Kenneth Hamby was the ranking boy with 92.55. Mighty enviable records — makes us wish we were that smart.

In the same vein, a few oldsters are always looking for the bad news from the younger generation — and they look until they find it. But they miss items like the one about 50 young people signing up to donate their services as volunteers at the Veterans Administration Hospital. And there are many mothers lending a helping hand in other areas.

Howard County has a new auditor. Mrs. Virginia Black was sworn in last week, the first woman to hold this position. She succeeds Edgar Phillips, who is entering private practice of accounting.

One thing this dry weather is doing is whetting the thirst of Big Spring. During May, we used nearly 40 per cent more water than for the same month a year ago (which managed to have some showers in it). All over the area served by the Colorado River Municipal Water District, the demand for water has jumped.

Johnson Says Demos Ready To Take Heat

NEW YORK (AP)—President Johnson rolled through a wheel of political talks here Saturday, blasting Republicans, getting all-out endorsement from Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and vowing that the United States "is determined to preserve the territorial integrity of the nations involved" in the Middle East crisis.

Kennedy said that in 1964 Johnson "won the greatest popular victory of modern times, and with our help he will do it again in 1968."

Johnson, in town for a triple-header round of Democratic fund-raising dinners, was loudly applauded on his Middle East remarks. He spoke out in a community which has a large percentage of supporters of Israel in its stance against a United Arab world.

Chanting demonstrators, their numbers growing quickly during the evening to about 1,500, followed the President as he went from one dinner to the other. They shouted, "hell no, we won't go!" and other protests against the war in Vietnam.

KENNEDY PRAISE

Kennedy, who hasn't always seen eye to eye with Johnson, was to have introduced him at the first affair — a dinner of the Democratic State Committee. But he had flown in from England where he attended a funeral, and got to the hall while Johnson was in the windup of his talk.

Then Kennedy launched into a talk of his own, telling the Democrats that Johnson "has sought consensus, but he never shrank from controversy."

Vice President Hubert Humphrey, here for the dinners, also was praised by Kennedy.

PROTESTS

Following the state committee dinner at the American Hotel, Johnson went across town to the Waldorf-Astoria for a $1,000-a-plate dinner of the President's Club and another sponsored by the younger associates of the President's Club.

The aim was to plunk dollars more than a million of them into the party coffers.

Johnson left by a side entrance of the Americana, and didn't see the 500 demonstrators who had massed on Seventh Avenue.

They followed him across town, their numbers growing as they shouted protests against the war in Vietnam.

Johnson didn't get into that. But he did throw in some added remarks about the Middle East. The major theme, in volume at least, was on domestic affairs.

FIGHT PROMISE

Johnson said Republicans have proclaimed loudly that they are going to fight every inch of the way promised Democratic programs for schools, cities, health and the aged.

"They are out to cut those programs," he said. "But I'll tell you something here tonight. Before we're finished they're going to know they've been in a fight."

Two Twisters Spin In Dumas

By The Associated Press

Vicious weather erupted in the Texas Panhandle Saturday night, breaking a day's spell of quiet conditions across the state. Two tornadoes danced through the desolate country around Dumas and a deluge isolated the tiny community of Spade in a ring of water.

More than four inches of rain fell in Lamb and Bailey counties along the western edge of the Panhandle. It was still raining at a late hour Saturday night.

Spade, a small town nine miles east of Littlefield, was completely closed to automobile traffic by high water. Numerous farm roads were closed because of the deluge.

Two twisters whirled near Dumas around 9:30 p.m. Saturday, but did little damage. The Dumas Police Department said more than 2.5 inches of rain fell in 90 minutes during the sudden storm.

Pleasant, clear and mild weather was the rule for the rest of the state Saturday, with daytime light showers reported along the Big Bend Country and in Far West Texas.

Death Takes Lord Tedder

BANSTEAD, England (AP)—Lord Tedder, 76, who was Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chief assistant during the Allied invasion of Europe in World War II, died at his Surrey home Saturday.

The marshal of the Royal Air Force had been in bad health for some time. He was a pioneer in the strategy of coordinating land, sea and air power that helped force victory over Nazi forces in Europe and in the Mediterranean.

A wiry little man, he was perhaps the shyest of the top war leaders and because of this was relatively little known to the general public. But his country raised him to the peerage; his university selected him as its chancellor; and the Royal Air Force bestowed its highest rank on him.

Lyndon' If It's A Boy

AUSTIN (AP)—President Johnson's first grandchild will almost certainly be named Lyndon if it is a boy, says the Austin American.

Luci Johnson Nugent, 3 1/2 months pregnant, and her husband Pat, have chosen a boy's name and are keeping it a secret, the newspaper said Friday.

However, Pat has said he isn't eager for a baby boy to be junior, so it is almost certain that the boy will be named Lyndon, the paper said.

"Everybody else is naming their baby Lyndon, why shouldn't they?" the paper quoted an unnamed friend of the couple as saying.

Luci, 19, is expecting the baby to be born June 17.

Smith To Attend Visual Seminar

Dr. Harold G. Smith, local optometrist, will attend the three-day optometric educational seminar in Odessa, which starts today, on child development and the visual process. Dr. John Streff and Dr. Richard Apell, of the Gesell Institute of Child Development, will conduct the program.

The program is designed to help understand the significance of vision in a child's early life, as he learns to read and adjust to the demands of other school life, Smith said. Early diagnosis and timely guidance of visual difficulties are important, he said.

GIRL, GUNMAN HURT Druggist Linked To Bank Shooting

DALLAS (AP)—Police filed charges of attempted robbery Saturday against a 59-year-old Dallas druggist in a mystery-shrouded apparent extortion attempt that left a teenage bystander and a gunman critically wounded after shots sprayed around a downtown drive-in bank.

The gunman was brought down by pistol fire from Officer C. W. Clark, who was directing traffic for the bank as an extra job. Pittman was hit in the chest.

Officer Clark said the gunman threatened him and also threatened to shoot the girl again before Clark's bullets brought him down.

MONDAY HEARING

Three hours later the 59-year-old druggist was brought to police headquarters and held. He was questioned about attempted robbery. Fritz said the druggist denied any complaints against him.

Capt. Fritz said Pittman told investigators he had been hired to harass the doctor. Fritz said he would not reveal other details of the case.

Justice of the Peace Joe B. Brown Jr. advised Pittman of his rights in accordance with the Texas Criminal Code. Another justice told the druggist his rights.

A hearing for the druggist has been set for 11:30 a.m. Monday before Dist. Judge A. D. "Jim" Bowie.

DOCTOR ABDUCTED

Homicide detectives said the accused druggist was Eulian Duval of Dallas.

The explosion of gunfire between the gunman and police broke out during the lunch hour Friday after the physician was abducted and forced to drive his captor to the downtown bank.

Miss Adams was in critical condition Saturday.

Police Capt. Will Fritz said Pittman served two terms in the Texas penitentiary for burglary and automobile theft in 1963 and 1964.

NEGRO MEMBER OF SCHOOL BOARD Draws Sentence

HOUSTON (AP)—A jury meted out a 10-year probation sentence Saturday to Asberry B. Butler, a Negro member of the Houston School Board, for felony theft.

The all-white jury convicted Butler, an attorney, Friday and spent an hour Saturday determining the sentence.

Butler, 33, was charged with obtaining $750 from American Guaranty and Liability Co. on a personal injury claim for an occurred.

Prosecutors said no injury occurred.

Testifying for the state, Joe L. Stevenson, 30 said he had sustained no injuries and had not solicited Butler's help.

Last year, Butler was convicted in the same court of charges of subornation of perjury and his six-year probation sentence is being appealed.

The president of the school board, J. W. McCullough Jr., said he knows of no effort to remove Butler from the board.

HELP CALL

When the doctor and his passenger arrived at the drive-in area of the bank, the doctor leaped from the car and called for officers' help.

In the gunbattle, Miss Adams, who was on a sidewalk beside the bank, suffered severe abdominal wounds. Police said the gunman's second bullet hit her.

Texas Tech's Cotton Program Funds Okayed

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—The board of directors of Texas Tech appropriated more than a half million dollars Saturday to expand and intensify Tech's cotton research program.

The work will be done by Tech's textile research department, whose Textile Research Laboratory was renamed the Textile Research Center.

EXCITING TASKS

Dr. John Brandford, dean of Tech's School of Engineering, called the research project "one of the most exciting and challenging assignments given the school of engineering in some time."

President Grover E. Murray told the board that Dr. Byron Abernethy, a key figure in the century voted against Tech by the American Association of University Professors, had declined faculty reinstatement and the case is closed.

The Association had voted to lift the censure at its spring convention and one of the conditions was that Tech offer Abernethy, a consultant on management-labor problems, reinstatement. The cases of the other dismissed faculty members had been settled previously.

RULE RELAXED

In another policy change the board voted to allow women students 21 years old and older permission to live off campus. They have been required to live on the campus.

The board also voted to purchase the home of the school's president from the Texas Tech Foundation.

Roy Furr, board chairman, reported that the committee appointed to seek a new name for Texas Tech had taken no action the problem.

Woman Cleaned Her Own Room

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—When a woman with a Kansas City, Mo., address checked out of a motel in East St. Louis, Ill., the maids found they didn't have much to clean up.

Gone were a portable television set with its stand and remote control unit, two double-size bed spreads, four sheets, four pillow cases, two mattress pads, two linen blankets and a bathroom light fixture.

U.S. Denies Soviet Ship Bombing Rap

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States declared Saturday that it is not true, as charged by the Soviets, that U.S. warplanes bombed the Russian ship Turkistan some 50 miles northeast of Haiphong.

The Defense Department said a thorough investigation has been conducted under the supervision of Adm. Ulysses S. G. Sharp, the Pacific commander in chief. It added:

NO EVIDENCE

"The conclusion of the investigation is that no U.S. aircraft bombed or strafed the Soviet ship. There is absolutely no evidence to confirm the Soviet allegations."

The department speculated that the ship was struck by North Vietnamese anti-aircraft fire.

The State Department called in the Soviet embassy's charge d'affaires, Yuri N. Cherniakov, and rejected the Russian protest lodged in Moscow Friday.

The U.S. note also appealed to Moscow again to use its influence to bring peace in Vietnam.

RED VERSION

The Russians said Friday that two U.S. jets bombed the Turkistan in a North Vietnamese harbor, killing one crewman and injuring six. Moscow's protest said that in event of a recurrence, the Soviet Union "will be compelled to take appropriate measures to insure the safety of its ships."

The Pentagon statement said that it was known that the Soviet ship was anchored in the harbor at Cam Pha and the aircraft crews were cautioned to avoid the ship.

The Russian version was that a bomb hit the water about 100 yards from the Turkistan and the aircraft described as American made several strafing runs over the ship.

Valley Rally Raps Rangers

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP)—An estimated 150 persons gathered Saturday night to hear members of a fledgling farm labor union assail the Texas Rangers as "the Texas Gestapo."

David Lopez, a national representative of the AFL-CIO, served as master of ceremonies over the protest rally, viewed by almost as many newsmen as protesters.

Two television networks were represented and one of the speakers was called back to tell her story a second time for the benefit of a TV crew.

The Texas Rangers were not present, but a carload of Department of Public Safety (DPS) intelligence agents sat just across the street from a pickup truck used as the speaker's stand.

'POLITICAL FIG'

Lopez set the theme of the rally when he said, "Homer Garrison (director of the DPS) is the biggest liar in this state with the exception of Texas Ranger Capt. A. Y. Alee."

Lopez mentioned Gov. John Connally and the crowd chanted: "Political Fig."

"We shall not engage in any violence, despite the provocation and beatings we have received at the hands of the Texas Rangers," Lopez said.

Lopez, who did most of the talking, accused the Rangers of taking sides with growers in the Starr County labor dispute.

Speaking of the Rangers, Lopez said, "the first thing they did when they came here was to drive into La Casita Farms and come out with a crate of melons."

"Justice in this state shouldn't be for sale for a crate of melons," Lopez said.

Construction Remains Slow

The city issued 25 building permits during May with a construction value of $202,960.50, according to Tom Newton, building inspector.

The figures pushed the total permits for the year to 133 for a value of nearly a million dollars—$948,833.50.

There were no permits for new residences or new business houses during the month. Bulk of the permits were for additions, totaling $114,125, on eight issued. Remodeling took another big bite of the total, $84,850 for six permits.

A year ago in May, Newton issued 50 permits, for construction valued at $367,585. Through that month, the 1966 totals were 186 permits for construction valued at $1,677,933.

Captain Wins Commendation

Capt. Allen L. Fox of the 3560th USAF Hospital at Webb AFB, received the Air Force Commendation Medal last week. He distinguished himself as an AC-47 pilot with the 4th Air Commando Squadron, Southeast Asia, from March to July, 1966.

Since arriving at Webb in November, 1966, Capt. Fox has also been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross with one oak leaf cluster and the first through the seventh oak leaf clusters to the Air Medal.

The Distinguished Flying Cross was received for operations against enemy water craft in Southeast Asia. He received the first oak leaf cluster to the DFC for destroying an enemy convoy of 13 trucks.

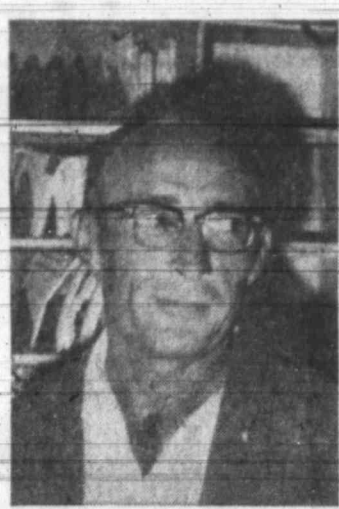

Prior to serving in Vietnam, the captain was stationed at Mather AFB, Calif. He is presently assigned to the physiological training unit at Webb.

Postal 'Subs' Learn Their Trade The Hard Way

Three of the postal employees above are designated on the pay roll as "subs." This means they are learning the ropes and will ultimately qualify as regulars. Roy Zeigler is a six months veteran at the post office and can now carry three routes; Wayne Johnson has had 16 months as a sub and has learned many of the routines. Bob Sisson, seven months on job, rates about like Johnson in experience and qualifications. Floyd Howell, who is now a "regular" has just attained that rating, having served out his tenure as a "sub." He is now routeman for Highland South, Park Hill and Coronado Apartments as well as Western Hills and Wasson additions. He has worked 5½ years to reach his present post. (Photos by Sam Blackburn)

Substitutes Fill Vital Role In Post Office Work

One of the more important workers around a post office, such as the one in Big Spring, is classified as a "sub"—a substitute.

Most patrons of the post office do not know how many jobs a substitute at a post office is called upon to perform. Being a sub doesn't mean the worker is employed only part of the time. It simply means that he is not a "regular," but he must stand by to take over when a regular carrier cannot complete his rounds in eight hours or when any other irregularity arises.

PROBATION

A substitute is on a probationary schedule for a year after he goes to work at the post office. He must be careful in that probationary year to do his chores accurately, efficiently and to the best of his abilities. During that year, he will do almost every job that is in the category of the post office. This gives him a comprehensive knowledge of all phases of how the post office functions.

All regulars were once subs and usually held the rating from three to five years. The sub cannot become a regular until such position opens at the office.

His range of work is described as "murder" by his fellows. He unloads the parcel post carts — four each morning — then dumps the 50-75 pound sacks of packages on an unloading ramp. They are then sorted out for distribution by the score of routes which serve Big Spring, and on the six rural routes which operate out of the local office.

SPLIT SHIFTS

He works split shifts most of the time and never knows from one day to the next what his working hours will be. He never knows for sure what day he will be off.

One of the sub's big worries is the problem of the hidden mail box.

This may sound like a small thing to a person not connected with the postal service, but it isn't funny to the sub who climbs to the patron's front porch and suddenly finds there is no mail box where it is expected.

He may find it hidden in a clump of bushes at the side of the house. Or he may hunt and hunt until in despair he decides to knock on the door and find where the box may be. He raps until knuckles are red and discovers the patron is not home. He has no alternative but to tuck the letters back in his mail bag and plan to deliver them on the morrow.

IN BUSHES

As he leaves, stumbling through the shrubbery on his way to the next house, he notes something bright red half hidden in the maze of leaves or an evergreen. Sure enough — when he investigates — there's the lost mail box, sticking partially out of a juniper.

The next house has no mail box but the sub finds a neat slot in the front door and he sticks his mail into this slot. At the next house, he finds no box or slot and raises his hand to knock. The woman of the house opens the door and he stands, embarrassed, with his hand raised in mid-air.

He must be able to drive a mailster — one of those three-wheel scooter cars; carry routes when the regular is ill or on vacation, work inside the post office when there's extra mail to be handled. There are many chores awaiting the sub and the regulars and the superintendent of the mail can always find something for an idle sub's hands to do.

Crowell Heads Ownership Of Big Spring Printing Co.

Bob Crowell, Snyder, has become president and general manager of the Big Spring Printing Company, following sale of the concern. He already has assumed direction of the company and will be establishing his home here immediately.

Crowell heads new ownership of the Big Spring Printing Company, with Herbert Feather, formerly of Big Spring and now a Snyder publisher, as vice president, and Dillard Pope, Snyder, secretary-treasurer. The three purchased all the interests in the company from R. W. Whiskey and Harold Canning.

Crowell for the past 12 years has been manager of the Feather Printing Company in Snyder.

He has been active in virtually all phases of community work in Snyder since going there in 1953 to be the manager of the Chamber of Commerce. He is a past president of the Kiwanis Club there and has served as charge lay leader of the First Methodist Church and as associate lay leader in the Big Spring district.

A native of Cameron, where he graduated from high school, Crowell attended the University of Texas briefly, served in the Navy with the Seabees until 1946. He was with the Soil Conservation Service until 1948 when he entered Chamber of Commerce work at Floydada. In 1950 he assumed management of the Littlefield Chamber, going to a similar post in Snyder in 1953.

He is married to the former Florene Pfluger of Pflugerville, and they have three children, Bill, who is an electrical engineer with Texas Instruments in Dallas; Steve, a junior at the University of Texas; and Barbara, who completed high school last week and will be entering the university.

Camper's Guide Is In Demand

Vacation season's opening has created the annual demand for the Campers' Guide, published each year by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Tourist Development Department.

This handy guide lists almost 100 towns in West Texas with camping facilities. It describes the facilities and gives locations. Each listing is keyed to indicate the availability of such important (to the camper) items as water, electricity, rest rooms, shower, picnic tables, swimming, fishing, hunting and wood.

Thousands of tourists have taken to the camper sites as a more economical method of stretching their vacation dollar, according to surveys made by National Park and State Park authorities. Copies of the 1967 Campers' Guide are available at no cost at each of the Chamber of Commerce offices listed in the guide and at the WTCC office in Abilene.

She Got Flags, At No Cost

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A patriotic seventh-grader thought her school should have American flags in the rooms, so she saved up $15 to buy some.

Mary Jane Edwards, 12, took the money to Mayor J. Bracken Lee, who then contacted a Veterans of Foreign Wars post—which provided 36 flags for the school and returned Mary Jane's money.

Second Issue Of WTCC Magazine Out Last Week

The second issue of the new magazine published by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce went to members last week. "This Is West Texas" for June-July covers some of the most colorful of West Texas attractions.

Features in the current issue include a cover picture in four colors of the beautiful Highland Lakes country with a picture of the Lake LBJ shoreline. Industry is spotlighted with a story on the Mooney Aircraft Company of Kerrville. A visit in story and pictures is described to the fabulously beautiful Caverns of Sonora. Scenic Palo Duro Canyon and its Panhandle Heritage Theatre are given a full treatment in this issue. Also included are stories on the Albany Fandangle, the Littlefield "Operation Sparkle," Armon G. Carter Museum of Western Art, and other features of interest to West Texans.

Damascus Turns It On To Capture Belmont

NEW YORK (AP) — Damascus, winner of the Preakness, turned on the power in the last one-quarter mile Saturday and won the 99th running of the $148,700 Belmont Stakes as Kentucky Derby hero, Proud Clarion, wound up fourth in the field of nine.

Never far off the pace in the 1 1/2-mile third leg of the Triple Crown, the son of Sword Dancer-Kerala moved to the lead at the head of the stretch, assumed command with one-eighth of a mile to go and carried the white and red-dotted silks of Mrs. Edith Bancroft across the finish line with a winning margin of 2 1/2 lengths.

Canada's Cool Reception, who had taken the lead midway of the back stretch, held on for runner-up honors, one-half length in front of the fast-closing Gentleman James. It was another length back to the struggling Proud Clarion.

Bill Shoemaker sent Damascus over the trying distance in 2:28 4/5 to pick up the winners' purse of $104,950 and send the Kentucky-bred's bank account to $365,410 for 1967.

The time compared to the track record of 2:26 1/5.

The victory was the fifth in seven starts for the Frank Whiteley, Jr.-trained colt this year. He was second in one and third in another race.

As the odds-on favorite, Damascus paid $3.60, $2.60 and $2.40. Cool Reception, ridden by Johnny Sellers, paid $4.20 and $3.60 while Gentleman James with Jimmy Nichols aboard, returned $7.00 to show.

Cool Reception, who had by-passed the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, carried the silks of two Toronto sisters, Mrs. William J. Seitz and Mrs. Vincent Reid.

The heavily campaigned Gentleman James, who could do no better than seventh in the Derby and didn't start in the Preakness, represented two national polo-players of note — owner Michael Phipps and trainer Del Carroll.

Back of the first four, in order, came Favorable Turn; Reason to Hail, failing to get a piece of the purse for the first time in eight straight races; Gaylord's Feather; Blasting Charge; and Prinkiko.

Nehoc's Bullet was scratched earlier in the day. Each of the 3-year-olds carried 126 pounds.

In coming within two-fifths of a second of the time clocked by his sire in winning the 1959 Belmont, Damascus ran a well-calculated race under the guidance of Shoemaker, who posted his fourth Belmont triumph. He won on Gallant Man in 1957, Sword Dancer in 1959 and on Jaipur in 1962.

Reds Rally In Ninth To Decision Braves

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pitcher Mel Queen beat Denis Menke's throw to the plate on a bases-loaded grounder by Pete Rose in the ninth inning, lifting the National League-leading Cincinnati Reds to an 8-7 victory over the Atlanta Braves Saturday.

It was the 13th one-run contest for the Reds in their last 14 starts.

Queen, who pitched the final 6 1/3 innings in relief, led off the ninth with a single and beat the throw to second on a sacrifice bunt by pinch hitter Chico Ruiz. Rico Arta and Joe Torre, Atlanta, 282 002 001-7 12 0 Cincinnati 040 030 001-8 15 1

Jim Bunning Hurls Phils To Victory Over Astros

HOUSTON (AP) — Rich Allen doubled in a run and then stole home in the first inning as the Philadelphia Phillies won their fifth straight game with a 4-2 victory over the Houston Astros here Saturday night.

Jim Bunning, squaring his record at 5-5, held the Astros to seven hits, fanned six and walked only one.

Larry Dierker, the loser and now 5-3, gave up only one hit after the first. Tony Gonzalez opened the game with a triple and John Briggs and Allen followed with doubles for two runs before Allen, taking third on an infield out, stole home. The Phillies added an unearned run in the eighth.

The Astros got a run in the second on Jim Landis' single and Bob Aspromonte's triple. Landis' single drove home Ed Mathews from second with the final Houston run in the sixth.

Sooner Bob Dickson Wins British Amateur

FORMBY, England (AP) — Bob Dickson, playing his last round of golf before beginning a six-month hitch in the U.S. Army, broke open a tight match in the last eight holes Saturday and edged Walker Cup teammate Ron Cerrudo 2 and 1 for the British Amateur Golf Championship.

Playing in the first all-American final since Deane Beman defeated Bill Hyndman in 1959, Dickson and Cerrudo battled evenly through the first 27 holes at Formby's course.

But Dickson, who lost the U.S. National Amateur crown two years ago because he had an extra club in his bag, suddenly exploded with a rash of birdies, winning the 28th, 29th and 30th holes of the 36-hole final and taking what proved to be an insurmountable lead.

The 23-year-old Oklahoman, however, won't have much time to sit around and savor his victory in the fast and friendly match played before a sparse crowd of about 500.

"Just when I'm playing the best golf of my life and just as I've had the most important victory of my life, I've got to hang up my clubs," said Dickson, who must report to the Army at El Paso, Tex., Monday.

"For at least the next six months, it'll be rifles and boots instead of birdies and eagles."

Dickson had one eagle in the final, but it was his string of birdies near the end that prevented Cerrudo from winning.

After squaring the match at the 27th hole of the 6,854-yard course, the 22-year-old Cerrudo three-putted on the 28th while Dickson started his birdie string with a 4 for one-hole lead.

Dickson, from Muskogee, Okla., then dropped a 30-footer on the 29th and a four-foot putt on the 30th for two more birdies and a three-hole lead.

But Cerrudo, a public relations man from San Rafael, Calif., rallied and won the next two holes with birdies of his own.

With the skies overcast as they were when the match began, the American youngsters halved the 33rd before Dickson broke loose for another birdie, on an eight-foot putt, at the 34th and went 2-up. That left it up to Cerrudo, who had to win the next hole to keep the match going. But the best he could do was match Dickson's par 4, making the 36th and final hole superfluous.

Orioles Cop 3-2 Verdict

BALTIMORE (AP) — Paul Blair's infield hit with two out in the 11th inning scored pinch runner Mark Belanger from third, giving the Baltimore Orioles a 3-2 victory over Washington Saturday night.

Blair delivered the winning run off relief pitcher Bob Priddy after a two-base error by reliever Darold Knowles and a passed ball by catcher Paul Casanova opened the gates.

Andy Etchebarren reached second on Knowles' error and look third on the passed ball. One out later, Belanger ran for Etchebarren and Luis Aparicio drew an intentional walk, then stole second. After Boog Powell struck out, Priddy replaced Knowles and gave up the tie-breaking hit.

Pete Richert, the left-hander obtained in a trade with the Senators last Monday, made his first start for Baltimore and held his old teammates to four hits, including solo homers by Ken Harrelson and Casanova, before leaving for a pinch hitter in the eighth.

Cubs Deflate Cards, 7-5

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Billy Williams capped a five-run uprising with a three-run homer in the fifth inning helping the Chicago Cubs to a 7-5 victory over the second-place St. Louis Cardinals Saturday night before a crowd of 46,670 on Wat Night.

Chicago's offense exploded in the fifth, scoring six runs on Williams' homer, two on a double by Dick Johnson and a triple by Ron Santo.

St. Louis manager Red Schoendienst pulled the starters after the fifth inning. The Cardinals' offense was limited to one run in the sixth and two in the seventh.

Giants Divide Two With New Yorkers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants and New York Mets split a doubleheader Saturday night, with the Giants winning the first game and the Mets taking the second.

Run-scoring doubles by Johnny Lewis and Tommy Davis in the 11th inning and the three-hit pitching of Bob Shaw gave the New York Mets a 2-1 victory in the first game.

Shaw pitched six innings and struck out six batters. He gave up a home run to Tom Haller in the 11th.

The Mets' offense was held to one run in the second game. Bobby Bonds singled off Bob Bolin with two out in the 11th and stole second before Lewis and Davis lashed successive doubles, giving New York a 2-0 margin. Bolin had allowed only four hits over the first 10 innings.

The second game was in sharp contrast to the opener, in which each club collected 13 hits.

Willie Mays' 54th career homer keyed a seven-run Giant rally in the fifth inning, helping Marichal coast to his 19th lifetime victory over the Mets with a 1-0 loss. Marichal, 9-4, struck out eight and was helped by three double plays.

Quarry Gets Big Chance In Bout With Patterson

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson perhaps expressed it best when he said "It should be an interesting fight."

He referred to his 10-round bout Friday night in Memorial Coliseum with young Jerry Quarry of suburban Bellflower.

The engagement, which will not be televised is set for the huge, 90,000-plus stadium.

Most boxing people think the thing could end with whoever gets in the first solid punch.

Quarry, only 21, has scored 13 knockouts, most of them with his left hook, in winning 23 engagements. He has lost but one. Last year old Eddie Machen taught him the rudiments of boxing and won a one-sided decision.

Patterson, of course, is no stranger to the mat of a ring. But in all his years he has lost but four fights, all by knockouts—to Ingemar Johansson, twice to Sonny Liston and once to Cassius Clay.

Patterson is 32 but says, "I feel better, even stronger than when I was, say, 28. Fighting is my business. It is also about the only hobby I have, aside from flying my airplane."

Dave Hill Leads Memphis Play By Five Strokes

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Dave Hill, a man trying to regain his confidence, widened his lead to five strokes in the third round of the $100,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament Saturday.

Recovering from two consecutive bogeys on the front side, Hill shot a two-under-par 68 for a 54-hole total of 199.

He gained one stroke when Gary Player, who trailed by four at the mid-way point, bogeyed the last hole after a bad drive and a third shot into a sand trap.

Player's 69 gave him a 204, one stroke ahead of Dan Sikes, who fired a 66 and two in front of Labron Harris and defending champion Bert Yancey. Harris had a 67 and Yancey a 68.

"I'm trying to regain my confidence," Hill said. "I couldn't get it all back if I won the next seven tournaments. But I feel better about my game because of my putting stroke and my fitness around the greens."

Hill, who last won a tournament in 1963, has led here all the way.

Three Ex-Champs Bid For Berths

NEW YORK (AP)—Three former Open champions—Cary Middlecoff, Tommy Bolt and Ed Furgol—and the inevitable Sam Snead will be among the 536 qualifiers who will attempt to qualify Monday and Tuesday for the 67th National Open Golf Championship.

The Open is scheduled June 15-18 over the Baltusrol course in Springfield, N.J. Trials will be held at 14 centers to fill the 123 remaining spots in the 150-man championship field.

Twenty-seven are exempt from qualifying, including the past five champions, Jack Nicklaus; Julius Boros; Ken Venturi; Gary Player and Bill Casper; the PGA titleholder, Al Geiberger; top finishers in the 1966 Open and leaders in the PGA money winning list.

Ben Hogan, Arnold Palmer, Gay Brewer, Frank Beard and Gene Littler are among the better known golfers who get free entry into the starting field.

Ed Furgol, the lame-armed wonder who won the Open at Baltusrol in 1954, will be among those attempting to qualify in the New York Metropolitan district Monday. Trials will be held at Whiteley Hills and Meadow Brook on Long Island.

One hundred sixteen players—including 26 amateurs—will try for 21 places in the New York tests. Also in the field will be former PGA champions Doug Ford and Jim Turnesa; Walker Cup players Ron Cerrudo, Marty Fleckman and Jim Grant and such well known tour performers as Tom Nieporte, Jerry Pittman, Paul Harney and Billy Farrell.

The heaviest action will be at Memphis, Tenn., where most of the tour golfers competed this weekend, and at Detroit, where a large group of top professionals will seek berths. Twenty-three places are available for 47 competitors at Memphis Monday, 24 for 68 at Detroit on Tuesday.

Middlecoff and Bolt are among those playing at Memphis, along with former PG champions Lionel and Jay Herbert; former British Open king Bob Charles and tourists Dave Ragan, Charles Coody, Lou Graham, Randy Glover, Tommy Jacobs, Tommy Aaron, Dan Sikes and Johnny Pott.

Snead, who has been a runner-up four times but never a winner of the Open, will try at Detroit. Kel Nagle of Australia, 1960 British Open winner and runner-up to Gary Player in the U.S. Open two years ago, is also in the Detroit field, as are PGA winners Walter Burkemo and Bob Rosburg and tour regulars Tom Weiskopf, Coble LeGrange and Rex Baxter.

The 36-hole trials Monday will be staged at Denver, Colo., Chicago, Kansas City, New York, Cincinnati, Portland, Ore., and Memphis. On Tuesday, the tests will be staged at Los Angeles, Atlanta, Detroit, Pittsburgh and Dallas, Tex.

Big Turnout Looms For Partnership

Quite obviously, the first annual Big Spring Open Amateur Partnership Golf tournament scheduled at the Country Club next weekend is not going to want for entries. Earlier this week, an estimated 75 persons had indicated they would compete in the two-day event which starts Saturday, and meet officials are holding out hopes that as many as 100 teams will enter.

is $12.50 per player while those in the True Amateur division pay $7.50 each for the privilege. Among tandems which have already filed notices of entry in the Open flight are: Marvin and Bobby Wright, Jackie Thomas and Ronnie Broadrick, Weldon Bryant and Ted Hull, Sam Thurman and Dickie Cloud, Tommy Wilkerson and Rick Terry, Robb Smith and Joe Sharrack, Ted Gross and Spot Cockrell, Mike Weaver and Mike Hall, Dr. Robert Johnson and Jack Wallace, Jack Cook and Gil Jones.

In the True Amateur class, the following twosomes have entered: Jack Lee and Edgar Phillips, Paul Jenkins and Jim Jenkins, Mark Slate and Wally Slate, Joe Gunning and George Grimes, Dexter Pate and David Maberry, Don Womack and Winston Winkle.

Junior Tourney Is Set At Munny

In response to a suggestion made by the West Texas chapter of the PGA, pro J. B. Wetzel has scheduled a one-day golf tournament at the Municipal course here Tuesday, June 20, for junior linksters.

Areas, if they meet age specifications, are eligible to enter. Wetzel said at least 26 players are needed to insure the success of the meet. Interest in golf among the junior players is at its zenith here, now that school is out.

The entries will compete in one of three age brackets—those embracing 12-13, 14-15 and 16-17-18 age groups. A champion will be declared in each bracket and he will automatically become eligible for a Tournament of Champions, site and time of which will be announced later.

Entry fee will be $2 per player. Play will be medal over 18 holes and no handicaps will be used. Winners will be determined in event of ties, in "sudden death" playoffs.

All entries must be on file with Wetzel no later than Monday, June 19. Trophies valued at $52 have been ordered for champions in each division and will shortly be on display in the Munny clubhouse. The West Texas PGA chapter is paying for the awards.

Local Boys Help TWC

By TOMMY HART

Big Spring's Jaycees estimate they lost $300 on their projected invitational golf tournament, which was scrubbed on the eve before play was to begin because of a shortage of entries.

BOB BLUMM

Murry Bowden, who quarterbacked the Snyder Tigers against Big Spring last fall, had the highest scholastic rating of any boy in his senior class this spring. Ohio State University, which in the past has recruited its football teams almost exclusively within the borders of the Buckeye State, now is conducting an all-out campaign for talent in other commonwealths.

Leo Durocher, who always had a lot of influence with Mays, has probably been talking to Willie. Bobby Blumm, the former Big Spring, recently won the 16th annual Lamesa Invitational Golf Tournament, beating Jay Fullingham, 2 and 1, in the finals.

Three Big Spring natives—tackle Thurman (Big Daddy) Randle, strong safety Charley West and right corner back Joe Jaure—were running first string in Texas Western College's spring football drills.

Joe Jaure is only a sophomore-to-be while the other two will be playing out their string this fall. West, incidentally, tied for first place nationally in pass interceptions last fall when he grabbed 11 enemy heaves.

Once Champ, Furgol Seeks Open Berth

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Ed Furgol, winner of the 1954 U.S. Open golf championship despite a withered left arm, would like to repeat here June 15-18 but would also be happy just to qualify for the coming tournament.

"This Open is something to look forward to, not only because it was at Baltusrol that I won the big one but because this one would give me 22 straight Opens in which I've participated," the 50-year-old Furgol explained.

"I will try to qualify Monday on Long Island but two rounds in one day may leave me pooped. 'I've played only four rounds of golf in the last two months because since April I've been busy as a golf director in the Catskills where we have 45 holes.'"

Furgol pocketed $6,000 for that Open and went down in golfing history as a man who played two fairways to gain a triumph which was hailed by the handicapped everywhere.

George Scott Leads Sox To Win Over Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — George Scott drove in two runs with a homer and single, leading the Boston Red Sox to a 6-2 victory over Cleveland Saturday.

Scott whacked a bases-empty homer leading off the second inning and drove in Mike Andrews with a single in the third, starting a three-run rally.

Winning pitcher Dennis Bennett scored Joe Foy on a sacrifice fly in the second after Scott's fourth homer.

Andrews opened the third with a single, moved up when Indians' starter Gary Bell hit Tony Conigliaro with a pitch and scored on Scott's single to left.

Conigliaro and Scott scored when Chuck Hinton misjudged Rico Petrocelli's liner to center. Petrocelli got credit for an RBI on a sacrifice fly.

Fast Ball, Hitting Eye Make For Versatility

By NATE MITCHELL

When Ray Phillippe graduated from high school in Ardmore, Okla., in 1962, he was presented the school's Best All-Around Athlete award.

As a baseball player, he usually pitched, but often took the field as a catcher. His ability on the ball diamond so impressed his coach that he was permitted to play varsity as a freshman.

Several offers Upon graduation, several colleges offered him scholarships, but he chose East Central State College in Ada, Okla., due to its more liberal scholarship provisions.

When he first broke into high school baseball back at Ardmore, Phillippe had tried out as an infielder, where he alternated between first and third base.

As a senior, his ability to win his own games with the bat was evidenced by his .332 batting average. That year he became one of the few hurlers in the sport to win the mace title in collegiate baseball.

During the summer break between his junior and senior years at ECSC, he and a squad of baseballers took on the regionally renowned Arlington Cardinals—a crack semi-pro Texas team which had finished third in the state the previous year.

JIM RYUN

Albuquerque Hosts Track, Field Elite

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)

New Mexico long has been a proving ground for U.S. space and military arsenals—nuclear blasting, lunar module testing and missile firings of all sorts.

In not such secretive surroundings, New Mexico serves Friday and Saturday as a track and field proving ground for the NCAA championships June 15-17 at Provo, Utah.

The nation's best collegians are expected in Albuquerque for the United States Track and Field Federation meet—in the final weekend to qualify for the NCAA championships.

Eight men's finals are scheduled Friday night with preliminaries in most other events. Finals will be held in the hammer throw, javelin, long jump, shot put, 440-yard intermediate hurdle, 220, 880, six-mile run and 3,000-meter steeplechase.

Women's finals Friday night include the high jump, long jump, 80-meter hurdles, 220 and 440. All other finals are slated Saturday night.

Included in early entries are world record holders Tommie Smith of San Jose State and Jim Ryun of Kansas and Southern California's Bob Segren, who holds the world indoor pole vault record.

Ryun returns to defend his USTFF title in the 880 and mile but will probably enter only one of the events, meet director Hugh Hackett, New Mexico track coach, says.

In last year's USTFF, Ryun broke the world 880 record in 1:44.9. The record failed to win international approval because the meet was not AAU sanctioned. Hackett said negotiations for an AAU sanction were being worked out.

Smith set world records two weeks ago at San Jose in the 440 in 44.8 and in the 400 meters in 44.5. He also holds the 220 records of 20.0 around a curve and 19.5 on the straightaway.

Hackett said about 500 athletes will be in Albuquerque for the meet at University Stadium, which has an altitude of 4,100 feet—similar to Mexico City's 7,800-foot heights. There has been some concern about the altitude at Mexico City for the 1968 Olympic Games affecting performers.

Yankees Bomb Felines, 17-2

First sacker Kelly Guinn erupted for four hits in as many trips to the plate to pace the Yankees to a 17-2 slugfest over the Wildcats in National Little League diamond action here Friday. All told, the Bombers collected 14 hits to six for the Felines.

Scoreboard table showing Yankees 17, Wildcats 2. Includes player statistics for Guinn, Smith, and others.

Big Bats Spark Colts' Rout

Brent Burrows, Mike Treadaway and Wayne Dickens connected for roundtrippers as the Colts routed the Jets, 17-4, in American Little League play here Friday.

Session Is Set

Junior bowlers, those in the seventh through 12th grades, are being asked to attend an organizational meeting at the Bowl-A-Rama at 3 p.m. Thursday. A summer circuit will be formed at the time.

Carew, Nolan Bidding For Rookie Honors

NEW YORK (AP)—Rod Carew, the Minnesota Twins' second baseman and pitchers Gary Nolan of Cincinnati and Tom Seaver of the New York Mets are among the leading candidates in the Rookie of the Year race after the first quarter of the major league season.

Perhaps the ultimate winner still is to move up from the minors like Jim Nash in 1966. At this time a year ago, Nash still was toiling on the Kansas City A's farm at Mobile, where his 7-4 record gave little hint of a 12-1 performance in the majors.

Carew, only 21, has jumped to the Twins from Wilson, N.C. of the Class A Carolina League to become a regular in his fourth year of pro ball. Born in Gatun, Panama, Carew now calls Brooklyn his home.

NEARING TOP Going into June, Carew was fifth among the American League batters at .320 and only 27 points behind Al Kaline of Detroit, the leader. The 6-foot, 170-pounder already has 49 hits.

RICK MONDAY

Nolan was 4-1 and Seaver 4-3 through May. Nolan is the 19-year-old right-hander who forced his way onto the Cincinnati roster by a sensational performance in the exhibition games.

Seaver, the poised 22-year-old from Southern California, is the man Commissioner William Eckert picked out of a hat for the Mets after three clubs bid $50,000 for his services.

St. Louis has a candidate in 29-year-old Dick Hughes, who pitched a perfect game for seven innings May 30 at Cincinnati, only to lose the game 2-1. The experienced right-hander had pitched a two-hitter against Atlanta in his last previous start.

No rookies are playing regularly in the National League although Gary Sutherland, a shortstop by trade, has been used both at that post and in left field by the Phillies against left-handed pitchers.

In addition to Carew, starting rookies in the American League include Mike Andrews, Boston second baseman; Reggie Smith, Boston center fielder; Rick Monday, Kansas City center fielder, and Tim Cullen, Washington second baseman.

Baltimore's Larry Haney has been doing a great deal of the catching for the world champs. Gus Gil started out as Cleveland's regular second baseman but Pedro Gonzalez has taken over.

FEW REGULARS Kansas City shuffles the lineup so often that few are regulars Monday, who has four homers, is a fixture in center field. Ramon Webster plays both first base and left field more or less regularly and Sal Bando, recently recalled from Vancouver, is the third baseman against some pitching.

The New York Yankees use Bill Robinson, who came to them in the Clete Boyer deal with Atlanta, as the right fielder against southpaws. Hank Allen patrols center on a part time basis at Washington. Minnesota gave Ron Clark a shot at third base while Rick Rollins was injured.

Talons Decision Foe By 9-7 Tab

The Talons retained their hold on first place in International Little League standings by defeating the Starlighters, 9-7, here Friday night.

Scoreboard table showing Talons 9, Starlighters 7. Includes player statistics for Reagan, Felts, and others.

Reagan Is First In Rifle Match

In competition conducted by the Mesquite Gun Club in light varmint class rifle last Sunday, Horace Reagan finished first with a score of 250 and 21 bulls-eye.

Second was Jimmy Felts, with a score of 249 and 20 x's while David Barr was third, with 248 and 18 x's.

Yanks Get First Choice In Free Agent Draft

NEW YORK (AP)—The 20 major league baseball teams will be seeking to obtain a prospect with the potential of a Rick Monday or a Gary Nolan in the annual free agent draft starting Tuesday.

Monday, Kansas City outfielder; Nolan, Cincinnati's 18-year-old right-handed pitching sensation; plus pitchers Tom Seaver of the New York Mets, Ken Holtzman of the Chicago Cubs and Joe Coleman of Washington are among those who graduated to the big leagues after being acquired as free agent selections. The draft was initiated in 1965.

The New York Yankees, because of their last-place finish in the American League last season, will have first choice, and the Cubs, the NL's cellar team in 1966, will have the No. 2 pick this time. The rest of the teams will also select in reverse order of the 1966 final standings.

The draft, scheduled to run two days, will include the regular phase featuring amateur players not previously chosen, the secondary phase centered on the choosing of players previously selected but not signed by the selecting clubs and the draft of American Legion players.

Under an agreement reached with the colleges last December, no player in a four-year college under 21 years of age may be selected in the regular draft until he has graduated.

Some People Say Our Little Car Is Too Funny For Words SO WE TALK FIGURES

Ever stop to figure out just how much money it takes to operate a car for a month? Most people just add the monthly payments, guess at the gasoline cost and leave it at that. But let's go a step further. Let's compare a Volkswagen purchased new in 1964 against a popular Domestic model purchased new at the same time. Both cars are now three years old and have 50,000 miles.

	1964 Volkswagen	MONTHLY COST	1964 Domestic	MONTHLY COST
List price new	$1735.00		$3360.00
Current NADA book value	$1100.00		$1285.00
Three year depreciation	$635.00	17.69	$2075.00	57.64
Finance charges at 6%	$312.30	8.67	$624.80	17.36
Monthly payments		45.77		93.33
Insurance	$112.00	3.12	$260.00	7.22
Gasoline 1667 GALS	$500.10	13.89
Gasoline 3571 GALS			$1178.43	32.73
Tires VW TIRES USUALLY LAST 50,000 MILES		-0-	$250.00	6.95
Tires 2 SETS ONE EVERY 25,000 MILES
Oil CHANGE EVERY 3,000 NO FILTER-3 QTS.	$19.44	.54
Oil CHANGE EVERY 2,000 4 FILTERS-5 QTS.			$143.00	3.97
License plates	$16.71	.46	$69.00	1.92
Anti-Freeze		-0-	$9.00	.25
TOTAL	$1595.55	$90.04	$4609.23	$221.37

Oh! By the way... we forgot to mention radiators, hoses, water pumps, and such things as four spark plugs instead of eight. And one other thing. A Volkswagen is still only $1735. That other car is a little higher, which is alright, if you can afford it.

Miss Suzanne Cook Weds Coye Conner Jr. Saturday

MRS. MARCUS A. PEARCE

The candlelit sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church was the setting Saturday evening for the formal ceremony which united in marriage Miss Suzanne Cook and Coye Conner Jr. The double ring ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Perry B. Cotham, minister of the 14th and Main Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Cook, 1706 Harvard, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Coye Conner Sr., 2406 Ridgeway, Garland.

At the altar, tall crescent candelabra holding cathedral tapers flanked a large sunburst arrangement of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and majestic daisies. On either side were emerald fern trees in graduated heights. The bridal aisle was lighted with pew candelabra holding votive candles and tied in smilax and satin.

Nuptial selections were played by Mrs. Leslie Green at the organ. She accompanied Mrs. Harold Talbot as she sang "More," and Mrs. Talbot was joined by Lester Morton in singing "Thanks Be To God." At the close of the ceremony, Morton sang "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt on a white prie-dieu.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a white formal-length gown designed with an Empire bodice and elbow-length sleeves of Chantilly lace, a scalloped neckline and A-line silk organza skirt. Scattered appliques of lace accented the skirt front, and soft pleats at the back waist fell to a chapel train. Her headpiece, a Chantilly lace pillbox trimmed with pearls and topped with a cluster of organza flowers and petals, held her train-length veil of English silk illusion. In her shoe she wore a sixpence, a gift from the flower girl. Atop a white Bible, she carried a cascade arrangement of stephanotis and white orchids.

The bridegroom, both of Garden City, wore ushers.

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a tangerine suit with moss green accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet. The couple will reside in Kilteen where the bridegroom is stationed with the United States Army at Fort Hood.

The bride attended Big Spring Senior High School where she was a member of the National Honor Society, girl's choir and the annual staff. Pfc. Pearce attended Garden City High School.

RECEPTION

The couple was honored with a reception immediately following the ceremony.

In the fellowship hall, the refreshment table was covered with a tangerine satin cloth overlaid with white lace. Centering the table was the bride's bouquet flanked by candelabra holding tangerine spiraled candles. Appointments were of crystal and silver. The three-tiered cake was decorated with roses and topped with bridal figurines.

The bridegroom's sister, Miss Debbie Pearce, presided at the guest register, and members of the house party were Mrs. Ulysses Hall, Mrs. Donald Wood, Mrs. G. C. Broughton, Miss Gay Nell Taylor, Miss Phyllis Gressett and Miss Shirley Simunovic.

Centering the table was a spiral candelabra holding tall white tapers and based in gardenias, white carnations and chrysanthemums interspersed with smilax.

Wedding Performed In Church Of Christ

The marriage of Miss Betty Dennis and Jimmy C. Nelson was solemnized Saturday evening in the Marcy Drive Church of Christ. Wendell Huddleston, minister, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Elbert Dennis, 2100 Grace, and the bridegroom makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Spinks, Big Spring.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a street-length two-piece dress of nylon and white lace. It was designed with an empire bodice, scoop neckline, and featured a white lace jacket. She carried a bouquet of white roses and white carnations.

Plans Set

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lecroy, 1300 Wood, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carolyn Kay, to John Ross Burnett. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Burnett, of Oklahoma City, Okla. The couple will marry July 7 in the home of the bride's parents, with the Rev. Lloyd Hair of Lorraine serving as officiant.

Mrs. Gene Wylie of Little Rock, Ark., formerly of Big Spring, served as matron of honor. Mrs. Wylie was attired in an empire line street-length dress of yellow pique and white linen. She wore white accessories and a yellow Dior-bow as a headpiece. Her corsage was of yellow carnations.

Billy Nelson, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The couple left on a wedding trip to Padre Island and Corpus Christi, and the bride wore a rayon and silk two-piece dress with gored skirt and white calf accessories. The couple will be at home at 2100 Grace.

Mrs. Nelson is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School, and is employed by Chevrolet in the bookkeeping department. The bridegroom attended Spur High School and was discharged from the United States Navy in 1964. He is presently employed by Seth Lacy Electric Company.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davidson, 4103 Connally. Those in the receiving line were the bride couple, the bride's father, Mr. and Mrs. Spinks and the bride attendants. The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth over pink linen. Crystal and silver appointments were used, and a three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. Don Ringener presided at the guest register. Others in the house party were Mrs. Bill Davidson, Mrs. Spinks, Mrs. Bill Akridge and Mrs. Ray Smith.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

If there's a great jump in the water consumption in our town it will probably be due to the fact that the college fellows are bringing home the laundry to mama. More than likely it's been since Easter that most of them have been saving their money by saving up their bed-sheets, etc., because it's a lot easier and cheaper to bring it home for a grand cleaning. And most mothers don't mind it a bit. It's so nice to have them home again.

Grandchildren of MRS. ALTIE B. HOOSER are here to spend the summer with her. They are CONNIE, ALTIE and VIRGIL DUNBAR who live in Biloxi, Miss.

MR. and MRS. GRANVILLE GLENN have returned from a vacation trip to Minneapolis, Minn., where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. DEWIE STEVENSON, and their children, Patti and Christy. Over the Memorial Day holiday the families drove to northern Minnesota and spent some time at a number of the beautiful lakes. The Glenns also attended a baseball game between the Twins and the Chicago White Sox. Incidentally, the Stevensons recently were in Los Angeles for the oil meeting and visited a number of their former associates of Cosden Oil and Chemical who were also attending the meeting. The Glenns returned here Wednesday.

MR. and MRS. PAUL SLEDGE left Saturday for Houston where he will undergo surgery next Friday. They will be staying at Surrey House, 8330 South Main, Houston.

MRS. RUBY PHILLIPS plans to leave soon for Los Angeles, Calif., where she will visit her son, DOUG, and his wife. Doug will be transferred soon to Anchorage, Alaska, by the oil company for which he works. Mrs. Phillips will also visit her sisters during her California visit.

The latest addition to the CHARLES WEBB family in Bloomington, Ind., is MALCOLM MCGIBBON, the third son who was born to Dr. and Mrs. Webb on May 25. The child is the grandson of MR. and MRS. K. H. MCGIBBON.

Happy people are the JIM ZACKS whose son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. BOB LEWIS, and their son, Kevin, are moving back here from Dallas. He is to be associated with KBST.

MR. and MRS. CHARLES DUNNAM are expected to return here today from Galveston where their third child was born on May 26 at John Sealey Hospital. He has been named Clark and weighed 4 pounds, 9 1/2 ounces. They will have to leave him at the hospital for a while before they can bring him home to be with his brother, Craig, 7, and sister, Jill, 4. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Dunnam, Gail Rt.

MR. and MRS. RICHARD TEMPLETON and their family are visiting at the Lake LBJ home of former residents, DR. and MRS. ED SWIFT, Mark Unger, accompanied them as far as Kingsland and then went to Marble Falls where he will spend several weeks with an aunt and uncle.

At a party for Webb officers and their wives Thursday the JIMMIE BEALES were having fun seeing all their long time friends and making new ones among the military. The Beales were up here from their vacation home at Port Mansfield and plan to go on to Los Angeles to visit a daughter. They probably won't be back at Port Mansfield until August.

MRS. HOUSTON PARKER attended a special graduation at Lubbock Monterey High School recently when her two grandsons, George Hethcoat and Bill Clements, were among the 600 graduates. After her Lubbock visit Mrs. Parker spent some time in Amarillo where she said it rained every day, and then went on to Hereford before returning here Thursday.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MRS. D. N. KERLEY

Class 68-F got together for a picnic on Tuesday at the pavilion. It was a cooperative affair, with the bachelors providing the hot dogs and buns and the wives bringing the potato salad and baked beans. Some of the gals even baked cakes! The IP's and their wives were invited, and there was dancing to recorded music.

Mrs. S. G. Flowers Jr. of the 3560 PTS reports that Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Hansen and their family visited them over the weekend. Maj. and Mrs. E. G. Taft also made the trip to the Flowers' home. The get-together brought three families stationed in Taiwan together for a reunion.

Some of the gals stationed here with their husbands have figured out a trick to beat the heat and have a good time in one grand slam (pardon the pun!). Once a month they get together and play bridge.

The regular monthly bridge is held on the third Thursday of each month at the Officers Open Mess. The sessions begin at 1-p.m. and are usually held in the Fireplace Room (air-conditioned for the season, of course!). You are asked to bring your own partner and to arrive 15 minutes before play actually begins. Some non-bridgers like to get in a little Mah Jong, and these sessions are at the same time and place as the bridge games.

Prizes awarded are high, second, third, low, and slam. There is also "travel" prizes. All prizes are cash, with the exception of the attendance prize. The play is in 30-minute progressions with a five minute warning bell. They are six-hand progressions and north-south moves.

Refreshments are in the form of coffee, soft drinks, nuts and mints.

All this fun and games is yours by simply calling Carol Lang at AM-7-7829 or Betty Hornbarger at AM-3-6467. It's the perfect answer for those of us who won't be leaving the old homestead for the summer.

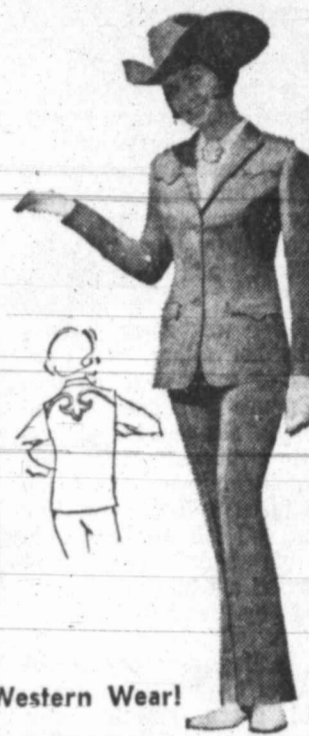

Choose Colors In Ceramic Compass

A compass can help you navigate your way through the thousand color combinations available in domestic ceramic tile and select the right one for your bath, says the Tile Council of America. Use the compass to decide whether your bath is on the north or south side of the house, likely to get little or much sunshine. If it's on the north, select warm colors like yellow, gold or orange; if on the south, cool blues and greens.

Candlelight Wedding Service Solemnized Saturday Evening

The sanctuary of the First Methodist Church was the setting of the candlelight wedding Saturday evening of Miss Brenda Kay Reid and Pfc. Charles Michael Crouch of the United States Army.

Dr. Lloyd Hamilton of Lubbock read the double ring ceremony before an altar illuminated by wedding tapers in tall candelabra entwined with boxwood foliage. Baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums, accented by palms, completed the scene.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse P. Reid, 1609 Vines, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Crouch of Barstow.

C. Allison Salley of Midland served as organist, and played "Chorale In E," and Brahms' selections. For the processional, "Trumpet Tune In C," was presented with a descant on the horn by Tommy Bacus—of Shreveport, La. Danny Johnson sang "A Wedding Benediction," and Miss Karen Elrod sang "Song of Ruth" and "Set Me A Seal," as a duet with Johnson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white lace and crepe, designed with a slim crepe skirt and fitted Empire bodice. The long sleeves were trimmed in re-embroidered lace, and the neckline was scalloped. The removable Watteau train of lace edged in crepe, was secured at the shoulders with flat bows. Her shoulder-length mantilla veil was of lace and tulle appliqued with lace flowers. She carried a cascade bouquet of miniature chrysanthemums centered with a white orchid and showered with satin ribbon.

Miss Donna Reid, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She chose a floor-length dress of mint green brocade satin, fashioned with a scooped neckline and Empire waist. A pleated train was attached to a large bow, and she wore a mint green tulle headdress, gathered around a cabbage rose. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white pompon chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids were Miss Candy Bacus of Shreveport, La., Miss Lynn Christensen and Miss Sherri Goode of Barstow. They wore dresses fashioned identically to the maid's of honor, and carried yellow and white chrysanthemum bouquets.

Paul Crouch of Barstow, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Keith Jones of Silver, Johnny Hummel, Barstow; Paul Brown, Snyder; and Hollis Webb. Groomsmen were Smitty Smith of Stanton, Basil Thompson and Larry Merrifield, Lubbock.

Flower girl was Donna Elaine Cribbs of Abilene. Brent Pearce was the ring bearer. Altar taper lighters were Mrs. Jim Walker and Scott Jones of Silver.

The couple plans a wedding trip along the East Coast. The bridegroom is en route to a new assignment at Fort Bragg, N.C. For traveling, the bride chose a mint green silk suit and white accessories. She wore the orchid from her bouquet.

LT. MAZY HAS PARTICIPATED IN EIGHT 'SAVES'

Big Springer Helps Bring 'Em Home

There are many phases in the air arm of the U.S. Seventh Fleet deployed in Vietnam waters. The "Hollygreens" of Heavy Attack Squadron Four (VAH-4) Detachment "C," flying the all-weather A3B "Skywarrior" from the USS Kitty Hawk, represent one of them.

The long range Skywarrior, built in 1955, is the Navy's largest carrier based aircraft and is capable of high and low altitude bombing, mine laying and photo-reconnaissance. Early in the Vietnam conflict the A3B was used for bombing, but in 1962, to meet existing requirements, a minor conversion provided the Skywarrior with a refueling capacity. Conceivably the aircraft could take off from the carrier on an air combat strike, deliver its ordinance on target and prior to returning to the water borne airfield, assume the role of a tanker and refuel other strike aircraft, making it one of the most versatile planes flying.

This unique strike-tanker aircraft carries a crew of three: a pilot, a bombardier-navigator, who also handles the tanking phase; and a crewman-navigator, whose job is similar to that of an engineer on a commercial airliner.

Texas Navyman, Lt. (Junior grade) Donald O. Mazy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Travis O. Mazy, 1514 Sunset, Big Spring, one of the bombardier-navigators, has logged over 1,200 hours of flight time and over 200 combat missions in which he participated in at least eight "saves."

This is Lt. Mazy's second deployment with Kitty Hawk since he reported to the squadron in March, 1964. Since entering the service in 1963 he has earned the National Defense Medal, Navy Unit Citation and Silver Star, eight Air Medals, Vietnam Service Medal and the Vietnam Campaign Medal.

The importance of the tanking phase of air operations is shown by the number of "saves" credited to the squadron. In each save, planes returning from combat missions against enemy forces over North Vietnam may find themselves too low on fuel to reach the "Hawk" and radio for help. The A3B, patiently waiting at a predesignated point somewhere between the carrier and the target, rushes to the rescue at over 600-miles-per-hour, and refueling them in mid-air, sends the pilot safely on his way. This refueling plane can tank any type Navy jet flying.

Flying from the Kitty Hawk during its 1965-66 cruise, VAH-4 Det "C" pilots were credited with saving 15 U.S. aircraft six pilots, 18 flight crew members and 102 enlisted specialists. The squadron, home-based at Whidbey Island, Wash., has three other detachments on at-

to take off during air strike operations and is relieved in mid-air following each strike. Thus by rotating planes, a tanker remains in the air at all times during a combat operations cycle, a cycle sometimes lasting as long as 12 hours.

Task Force 77, under the command of Rear Adm. David C. Richardson, has been assigned this dangerous and difficult mission of interdiction. To accomplish this, the admiral has under his command five attack carriers, one anti-submarine warfare carrier, and 25 support ships, including missile-cruisers and destroyers.

"There are over 400 aircraft in the Task Force, including the most modern jets, whose pilots rely on the tankers to provide them with that little extra margin of safety that can mean the difference between life and death. From each mission's lift-off to its completion, the tanker crews of Heavy Attack Squadron Four stand ready to give a lifesaving hand wherever and whenever called upon — an asset to our attack carrier strike force here in the Gulf of Tonkin," commended Adm. Richardson.

A Devotional For The Day

O come, let us worship and bow down: let us kneel before the Lord our maker. (Psalm 95:6)
PRAYER: We praise Thee, our Father, for Thine infinite goodness and love, for salvation through Christ, our Savior. We worship Thee in the joy of being Thy children. In the name of our Redeemer we pray as He taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven... Amen."

To Be Remembered

After five years as commanding officer of the hospital at Webb AFB, Lt. Col. Mount E. Frantz is returning from the Air Force Active in community affairs. He will be missed and remembered.
Col. Frantz may be remembered in the months ahead as one of the moving spirits in persuading the Air Force and then the Department of Defense that the base needs a modern hospital. The fact that this has DOD clearance for planning and may be up

Value Is In Participation

For many years local agencies have pooled their resources to stretch dollars and make them more effective in a summer recreation program.
Participating in the effort are the United Fund, the City of Big Spring, the YMCA and the Big Spring Independent School District. See a score of adult personnel works with the youngsters in offering a program that is both fun and creative, both safe and sensible.
The prime purpose of this program is to reach children, primarily those of elementary age. The value of the dollars invested increases in proportion to the number of children who

The Crisis And The Commercials

WASHINGTON — No matter how critical the world situation is, you can always count on television commercials to relieve the tension. I have been watching almost every TV newscast during the crucial Middle East situation, and I've begun to wonder how a newspaper would look if the advertisements were interspersed with news stories, as they are on TV. Probably something like this:
NASSER THREATENS TO DESTROY ISRAEL
CAIRO — President Nasser threatened today to drive Israel into the sea. We'll give you the details following this message:
SAFeway ANNOUNCES FANTASTIC HOLIDAY SALES. Fresh corn, 6 ears, 39 cents. Potato chips, twin package, 49 cents. Fresh bread, four loaves, $1. Tomato sauce, 2.8-oz. cans, 29 cents. Fryer parts sale: breasts or drumsticks, 59 cents lb.; thighs or legs, 83 cents lb. Paper plates, package of 15, 49 cents.
Nasser said in a news conference that Israel was the aggressor and he was ready to go to war at any time. He also warned that if the United States gave any support to Israel he would bar the United States from the Suez Canal.
U.S. DIPLOMATIC sources called for restraint on both sides and said they would support a Big Four conference to resolve the dispute. But before going into details on that story, let's see what the Zombar Discount House is featuring for its weekend sales:
COLOR TV consoles, your choice, $388. AIR conditioners, 5,000 BTU, $125. Portable fans, $4.99. Tape recorders, $68.
Credit given to anyone who has a job. OPEN UNTIL MIDNIGHT DURING THIS FANTASTIC SALE.

I don't go to church although I know I should. How can I make myself go to church on Sundays?
K. J.
For one thing, you are thinking of church attendance as a cold duty. "How can I make myself go to church?"
Imagine a golfer saying, "I just can't make myself go to the golf course!" Or a musician saying, "I just can't make myself sit down at the piano!" The golfer plays golf because he enjoys it, and the good musician plays music because he has music in him.
The Christian goes to church because Christ lives in him, and he finds his greatest joy in serving Christ, and in fellowship with other Christians.
It is only when we discover the joy of serving Christ that church attendance becomes a privilege instead of a duty.
I pity the person who feels that he has to go to church. I can think of nothing more miserable than "having" to attend a baseball game, if you have no interest in the game, or "having" to go to a concert if music bores you, unless it is "having" to go to church, if your heart isn't in it.
I believe that Christian conversion will change all this. I recall that there was a time when church bored me. But since Christ came into my heart, I find more excitement in seeing Christ at work in His church, than in any other activity.

Inventory Build-Up Worries Economists

NEW YORK (AP) — A sharp increase in the accumulation of business inventories aroused some concern this past week.
Some economists interpreted the rise as a reflection of a decline in sales.
The Commerce Department reported that inventories climbed $611 million in April to a total of $80,000,000.
This gain was the largest since January and was twice the increase registered in March. From last September through January the amount of inventories went up about $1 billion a month.
The slower pace of increase in February and March had encouraged economists to believe that the inventory adjustment was proceeding satisfactorily, paving the way for an increase in future sales.
Government economists were disappointed that the process of working off excess stocks apparently was interrupted in April, but they said they did not find the figures alarming.
The troublesome element, in their opinion, was that the ratio of inventories to sales rose to 1.82 months supply in April from 1.78 in March and 1.62 in April, 1966. The latest figure was the highest since the 1960-61 recession.
The incentives are the tax credit for investment in capital equipment and two methods of accelerated depreciation. They were suspended last Sept. 10 as part of the administration's attempt to restrain inflation. They are being restored to help stimulate the currently sluggish economy.
MARKET DIPS
The stock market on Wednesday took its worst tumble since last fall. Brokers attributed the slump to investors' anxiety over the Middle East crisis. The Associated Press 60-stock average fell 5.3 points to 316.8, its biggest loss since last Aug. 29. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks dropped 12.42 points to 822.56, its steepest setback since last Oct. 3.
On Thursday the Dow Jones average regained the exact

A PIVOT OF American diplomacy in the Mideast has been Hussein. The extent to which Jordanian forces should be armed, as a counterweight against Egypt and despite the growing concern of Israel, engaged officialdom here in endless discussion. Was it too much? Too little? Was not this a major contribution to the arms race in the impoverished nations in that part of the world?
The Hussein card is apparently now worthless. The King had no choice but to run to Cairo — if he was to save his throne, not to mention his life, in the face of Nasser's tightening grip on Arab passions.
THE ERRORS of the past, compounded a thousand times, had their origin in the illusion that Nasser could be bought off, or more accurately, bought off cheaply. For the big oil interests, the Greek tanker owners, the whole complex of exploitation in the Mideast, it was better not to cause trouble over the Suez Canal.
THE TOTAL OF American aid that went into Egypt looks large in the light of what is happening. From the beginning of the AID program during the decade ending in June 30, 1966, it was $1,133 billion. Of this more than $900 million was in food that supplied 28 per cent of all Egyptians with the essentials to sustain life.
It has long been academic whether in abruptly withdrawing a previous commitment to help build the Aswan

To Your Good Health Perhaps There's A Time To Break Dishes

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: I am writing at the request of my husband.
When he got home from work today he saw a couple of broken dishes and asked what happened. I told him, and he said I should be ashamed to tell it.
I threw them against the wall because of a violent temper brought on by things my daughter had been doing all morning long. She is four.
As mad as I got, I figured it was better to retire to the kitchen and get it out of my system instead of whipping her.
My husband says he would just like to see what answer you would have for someone who would do such a thing, and not be able to handle a 4-year-old child better.
I am 45, he is 48, she is an only child. She goes everywhere I go. We have only been separated, for any length of time, the two times I was in the hospital, the three times she has been, and about a dozen times for social affairs. Please, I would appreciate an answer.
MRS. Z.

child in anger. Hope they weren't your best china.
Does your husband know that there's a very famous tourist attraction (and used by the home folks, too) in Copenhagen? It's a little carnival - type booth in the Tivoli Gardens. Been there for years.
It's just a big rack which they keep filled with cheap crockery, and for a small sum you get several baseballs (they look like baseballs, anyway) and you see how many dishes you can smash.
Folks let off all kinds of steam that way.
Now it's a good thing not to lose your temper, but in actuality I know that everybody has to blow up sometimes. Just don't have too low a boiling point.
I wonder if your husband ever stopped to think what it can be like, so constantly in company with your little girl? Even though you love her very much, it can be wearing.
My suggestion is that you set aside enough money to have a baby sitter one afternoon a week. It will give you a chance to get out and do things you like to do. Both you and your

Around The Rim

We Can Watch, But Can't Pat

Linus in the comic strip Peanuts lately took up bird-patting. This struck me as being sort of wonderful, as I would like to pat birds.
Bird-patting is even better than bird-watching, and the latter I have attempted to do, because it fits well with my inclination not to over-exercise. When bird-watching gets strenuous, I quit it.
TROUBLE IS around the house, there have not been too many birds to watch. I recognize two species of birds: one is a sparrow and the other is not.
We have, on occasion, made the motions of trying to get birds come settle down around the homestead. You know, going through the business of setting up a bird bath, and distributing bread crumbs and the kind of seeds birds are supposed to like.
WHAT HAS happened, in the main, is that sparrows dominate the place, and sparrows are not much to watch. Oh, occasionally, a saucy cardinal has appeared, doing his vocal rehearsals from the top of a nearby pole or from the limb of a large tree. And the busy mockingbird appears, too, giving out the full symphonic treatment just to show what he can do.
These have been scarce this year, as have other unknown types, but we at least got a scissortail family. And they're the little fellers I've been watching, although I'll never get to pat 'em.
A PAIR OF scissortails set up housekeeping in a big photinia bush in our back yard, and in recent days, it is obvious that a family has been produced. Papa and Mama Scissortail — leave us just call them Egbert and Elvira — have been inordinately busy.

Each late afternoon (and perhaps at other times) they go into their domestic routine, which is the simple matter of finding enough bits of food to fill the open maws which are in the nest.
THEY WOULD seem — unless the ornithologists advise to the contrary — to run a shuttle system in and out of that bush. Egbert will dart out, disappear over the roof of the house, and in a minute or so re-appear, with a bit of an insect or some edible the little ones will take in his bill. He first lights on the phone line, taking a close survey to see if there are enemies about. Then he flashes into the bush, sometimes by the front door (on top of the shrub), sometimes by the back door (scuttling in from underneath).
HE NO SOONER hits home than Elvira has zipped out and is on her way to the banquet grounds. She, too, is back shortly, with another morsel for the younguns. In and out they go, back and forth, never returning home without a goodie in their beaks, always on the alert for intruders, always getting to the nest. Their evening feeding time goes on for a couple of hours, until Egbert and Elvira either are exhausted, or the kids have had their fill, have been burped and put to sleep.
IT IS inevitable that Egbert and Elvira, along with the brood, if all live, will be disappearing before long. Then it probably will be back to watching sparrows. But in the meantime, we have had our scissortail friends, and I just wish I could pat 'em.

Time To Tell The Russian People

WASHINGTON — The Soviet government holds in its hands — as it did in 1939 — the cards that, if again played wrong, could bring on another world war. The "Voice of America" ought to be telling the tens of millions of people in the Soviet Union that a second miscalculation could mean a death and misery for vast numbers of them.
TODAY THE men in the Kremlin have been lining up once more behind a dictator and an aggressor government. In August, 1939, the Moscow regime signed a ten-year nonaggression pact with Hitler, thus freeing him from a military threat on his Eastern border and enabling him to attack Poland and overrun Western Europe. But less than two years later the Nazi dictator turned against the Soviet Union anyhow and sent an army to invade Russia.
Have the people of the Soviet Union forgotten that the United States came to their rescue and that, before the war was won, several million Russians had been killed? The Soviet leaders profess to be interested in human freedom, but it may be asked, why do they line up with dictators like Nasser who have no sense of responsibility for the maintenance of peace in the world?
THE POINTS at issue in the Middle East are not unresolvable. Whether a nation has a right to cut off the passage of unarmed ships through territorial and nonterritorial waters is a legalistic question that can be settled by disinterested tribunals, either the Court of International Justice or an arbitration organization especially created for the purpose.
It is not the blocking of the Gulf of Arabia which is menacing world peace, but the ambitions of Nasser and his allies to conquer a neighboring country.

THE UNITED Nations was organized for the express purpose of dealing with such controversies. Adequate machinery of mediation to cool off inflamed public opinion was devised. But its effectiveness depends on whether common sense and good judgment will emerge among the embittered contestants.
More important than the speeches and statements being made by those who express themselves on the current issue at the U.N. is the influence of the peoples back home. In every country there is a natural aversion to war but, with a controlled press and radio in the Soviet Union, the government's point of view is the only one heard. This is why penetration by the "Voice of America" is today more than ever necessary to prevent a big war.
COMMUNIST imperialism is the major enemy of peace today, and it is fed by dictatorships, large and small. When the world is in an unsettled condition, they have their biggest opportunity to foment trouble and bring on the little wars which eventually can develop into a world war.
THE PEOPLE of the Soviet Union can prevent a war, and it is to be hoped that they have not forgotten that, without American aid, they, too, might have been conquered 25 years ago and might have become a colony ruled by a foreign dictatorship.

Nasser's Big Gamble

WASHINGTON — Whatever the final outcome of the Mideast crisis President Gamal Abdel Nasser, the reckless gambler, has immeasurably strengthened his position in the Arab world. The best evidence of this was the dramatic flight of King Hussein to Cairo to embrace the enemy who had spent large sums in propaganda and on the terrorist underground to bring about Hussein's destruction.
A PIVOT OF American diplomacy in the Mideast has been Hussein. The extent to which Jordanian forces should be armed, as a counterweight against Egypt and despite the growing concern of Israel, engaged officialdom here in endless discussion. Was it too much? Too little? Was not this a major contribution to the arms race in the impoverished nations in that part of the world?
The Hussein card is apparently now worthless. The King had no choice but to run to Cairo — if he was to save his throne, not to mention his life, in the face of Nasser's tightening grip on Arab passions.
THE ERRORS of the past, compounded a thousand times, had their origin in the illusion that Nasser could be bought off, or more accurately, bought off cheaply. For the big oil interests, the Greek tanker owners, the whole complex of exploitation in the Mideast, it was better not to cause trouble over the Suez Canal.
THE TOTAL OF American aid that went into Egypt looks large in the light of what is happening. From the beginning of the AID program during the decade ending in June 30, 1966, it was $1,133 billion. Of this more than $900 million was in food that supplied 28 per cent of all Egyptians with the essentials to sustain life.
It has long been academic whether in abruptly withdrawing a previous commitment to help build the Aswan

Dam the Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, who really formulated American foreign policy, made Nasser's implacable hostility inevitable. In any event, the Soviet Union stepped in with the help essential to proceed with the great project on the Nile.
EVEN MORE important is the fact that in recent years Moscow has been feeding Nasser's power complex by providing the most advanced weapons. The Egyptian Air Force is said to have the SU-7s, in effect the MIG-23, superior to anything in the Israeli Air Force. Soviet tanks are equal, if not superior, to tanks Israel has. When American aid was stopped a year ago again the Soviets stepped in with a barter deal to furnish grain to make up the deficit.
Nasser has been a clever gambler. He flirted with Red China. He put Egyptian Communists in jail. But through it all he cultivated Moscow's support with the implied promise that at an appropriate moment he would cause the West the greatest possible trouble.
ON ISRAEL he is implacable. This is the enemy that must in some way or another be forced back to the pre-1948 status; the Palestinian refugees supported in United Nations camps returned to their homeland.
As a bold gambler Nasser must know how long the odds are as he engages in foreign adventure while most of his people continue to live in poverty with overcrowding in the strip of arable land along the Nile reaching almost unmanageable proportions. The memory of other zealous and revolutionary who have gone down under similar circumstances — Ben Bella in Algeria, Sukarno in Indonesia, Nkrumah in Ghana — must concern him. In this latest gamble he has risked not only his own future but the future of the whole area and more besides.

Museum Comes Alive, Also Subdivision On A Peak

By ED SYRES

The road signs into Fort Worth call its new Heritage Hall, dead center downtown, an "Action Museum," because even your youngsters can literally walk into the simple strength of their forebears' world, become part of it and measure it to theirs.

Experience Heritage Hall soon. The welcome invites you to "journey backward in time" to what put you here. Most museums overwhelm; this one makes you participate: down a trail like a carnival's hall of mirrors, beside people like you except they're Comanche or Tonkawa or Pioneer. You can stop by any of the true diorama, as though from hilltop overlook, press a button.

Then they speak to you: you're part of them — from the Indian praying for his deer-arrow to go straight, to the jarring covered wagon and its sweating father-driver, hunting hope for his family; from the stark Bible-and-rifle cabin to railroad's arrival for a city. In between, you see buffalo live and die, you see the exactitude of a saddle-beat cowpoke lighting a Durham beside a chuck wagon so real you can smell its cookfire and the sage around.

"How can you put it in words?" asked Curator Hendrick Langerak, a Hollander - American who assembled your western heritage for you here. In OBT's space, I can't.

No more than you or I can compute the formula for determination and faith.

But for every soul who searches whence and why, I can say: "Go see it. It's you."

WHAT'S PAST?

One of OBT's happiest things is the warmth of your mail, but occasionally comes a cold wind. Here's a chilly gust from Houston's "Realist":

"You keep throwing up the past like it's important. You want to go back to McKinley? What's in . . . all this trivia for today's world?" (Note: Would you settle for the calendar break between years B.C. and A.D.?)

We had a query about landbooms that bustled, particularly in Presidio-Brewster's mountain counties of West Texas. Well, here's a real topper from Alpine Avalanche's editor-publisher James W. Glasscock:

PROGRESS CITY

"Yes, there was a Progress City subdivision laid out atop 6,521-foot Santiago Peak (you can see its far-distant square loom from his town) 40 or 50 years ago. Many lots were sold to non-residents (far as New England) by unscrupulous land promoters.

"After many complaints, the county's Commissioner's Court voided the subdivision.

"One purchaser who was driven to the mountain was asked if he'd been on his lot. He answered succinctly: "No, but I leaned against it."

Mailbox: (Write OBT, care of 'The Herald, or Ingram, Texas 78025. For personal reply, please enclose stamped, addressed envelope.)

Victoria's R. W. Shook: "DeWitt County (Victoria-ways) also had a Dutch windmill (that's the big-wheeled kind I didn't figure for Texas). Shortly after 1869, the year of a major Guadalupe flood, Arthur Burns' water-powered mill was destroyed, and John Kieth built a wind-driven mill. This was on the old Burns Station or Irish Creek Settlement, begun 1825."

To hand, same mail, from Lubbock's Mrs. Emily J. Johnson: "I am home again, feeling fine, had a glorious visit with 'Mrs. Jones' (Steinheimer's Treasure legend)." If you want to reach this treasure-dedicated lady, I'll send your name and purpose along. But, believe me, she's real and she's still digging.

Stuck For A Vacation Spot? Try Vietnam

By KENNETH L. WHITING
SAIGON (AP) — Having trouble deciding where to take your vacation this year? How about Vietnam?

No kidding. Officials classify some 46,000 of last year's visitors as "tourists" and they have high hopes of increasing that figure in 1967.

They tout big game hunting, attractive beaches and ancient shrines. No mention is made of the war.

One government brochure put it this way: "With its sophisticated, temperate climate, resorts in the highland country, its white beaches, its ancient imperial city, its vast hunting reserves and its numerous other attractions, Vietnam is rapidly becoming a 'must see' for thousands of foreign tourists."

Despite more than 20 years of combat, terrorism, economic instability and other difficulties the Saigon government is doing its best to welcome vacationers. There are 14 travel bureaus in Saigon. National Tourist Director Tranba Thach visited Seattle late in April to sing the praises of South Vietnam at a meeting of the Pacific Region Tourist Federation.

Few of the 428,000 American troops regard their tours in Vietnam as a holiday, but some of their parents and relatives spend vacations here visiting them. They help swell tourists' figures.

The tourist will notice something unusual even before his plane lands in Saigon. Passenger jets plummet steeply into Tan Son Nhut Airport — among the world's busiest — to avoid Viet Cong ground fire.

After a one-hour wait in a hot arrival hall during customs and immigration procedures, the vacationer is ready to sample the delights of Saigon. It is no longer the quiet and beautiful city that once laid claim to the title "Paris of the Orient."

But one tourist brochure insists: "Saigon's attractiveness is enhanced by its boulevards, shaded by tall, exotic trees, and its public parks. Its busy river front is picturesque and ocean liners travel 40 miles up river to reach the docks."

Trees are falling fast along Cong Ly Boulevard to widen the main road from the airport for military traffic. The river is picturesque with patrolling gun-boats, floating garbage and rusty freighters. Ocean shipping from the South China Sea is regularly fired upon by Communist guerrillas as it navigates the twisting channel.

Sights to see in Saigon include an assortment of French colonial buildings, Buddhist shrines, the new Doi Lap (Independence) palace, the Chinese section of Cholon, the Botanical Gardens, National Museum and beautiful Vietnamese girls in their traditional "ao dai," silk pantaloons under a long silk tunic split on both sides.

Souvenir seekers can acquire multi-colored china elephants or dragons in several sizes, lacquer, ivory carvings, or an antique breeding in elephant leather for $20. Those with a taste for the garish may want a black nylon jacket lettered "fighter by day, lover by night. Drunkard by choice — Vietnam 1967."

English has spread rapidly in South Vietnam. The male tourist may be pleased to be hailed in his own language by pedicab drivers: "Hey you! Take number one!"

Gourmets will be disappointed. The once superb French cuisine has deteriorated. Those with a yen to sample Vietnamese food should be warned about "noodle nam," the pungent fermented fish sauce. It tastes better than it smells largely because it is impossible to taste worse.

Visitors might like a pre-dinner drink at the Continental Palace Hotel where Graham Greene wrote scenes for "The Quiet American." The hotel terrace is now a favorite gathering spot of American civilian construction workers. Few are quiet.

Rooftop restaurants in the Caravelle and Majestic hotels are popular dining spots. They for the war. During the meal artillery often booms from the suburbs, parachute flares drift out over the airport and gunship helicopters fire on the other side of the river. Night life is limited by the curfew, 11 p.m. for American soldiers and midnight for all others.

Most tourists don't get outside the capital. Many roads still are not secure. For those interested, the Tourist Bureau suggests visits to the vegetable-growing spa of Dalat in the central highlands, the "hunting paradise" of Ban Me Thuot and the old imperial city of Hue.

Dalat is reached on Air Vietnam — about $13 roundtrip — or provide a relaxing ringside seat from Saigon on Highway 20. Air passage is recommended for speed and because the Viet Cong usually have a tax road block mounted on Route 20.

Elephant and tiger hunting, once popular in the highlands, has been interrupted by strictly human warfare. The GI newspaper Stars and Stripes occasionally carries a photo of a smiling American soldier posing with a tiger he killed. Civilian safaris are scarce.

Huge features the old royal palace, which was designed along the lines of the imperial Chinese palace in Peking, sampan rides along the Perfume River, teen-age girls reputed to be the prettiest in Vietnam, and the remains of the United States Information Service office which was burned down in anti-American rioting a year ago.

READY WITH TRAINING FACILITY

Believes Racing Is Coming

By MIKE COCHRAN
By The Associated Press
QUANAH, Tex. (AP) — William E. Burford feels the day will come, perhaps soon, when Texas will legalize parimutuel horse race betting. And he says he's ready.

"Very definitely, we think it's coming," said Burford, 51, a founder and owner of an ultra-modern horse breeding and training facility at Quanah.

STALLION STATION
Burford opened the ranch as the B Bar J last year, then leased it to noted horseman Walter Merrick. The North Texas spread is now called the Southwestern Stallion Station.

It was previously reported that the original holders of the ranch had lost possession of it. In fact, Burford had leased the ranch to a second party and retained ownership.

Burford, who makes his home in nearby Vernon, said he and a partner, built the $600,000 ranch amid speculation that parimutuel racing was imminent in Texas.

"We thought it was coming when we were building the farm," he said. "It's pretty timely right now. You know they're coming up with a referendum (next spring)."

VALUABLE
A public initiative and subsequent legislative action on the parimutuel issue would make the ranch, already equipped with a regulation race track, a "real valuable" property, Burford said.

He said some observers feel that "Texas will become the second largest racing state, next to New York."

Burford said he had been told that many of the leading eastern racing farms are poised to move into the state once the parimutuel issue wins legislative approval.

In the beginning, he said, he felt the eastern interests would be interested in a facility such as the B Bar J; they would not want to spend time building a farm from scratch.

But he is not sure now just what he will do with the gleaming red and white facility. He bought out his partner last year and sold the B Bar J stock.

LEASE
Merrick's lease still has more than four years to run, at about $45,000 a year, said Burford.

"I don't know if I'll operate it or not," he said, adding that the decision might depend on Merrick's continued interest in the facility.

"I think there will always be a demand for the ranch. . . . It is not an ostentatious thing. . . . It's nice, it's pretty and it's functional," he said.

Should the parimutuel question be resolved favorably, Burford said, he might construct a hotel and other buildings at the farm, and put in a grandstand at the track.

"I've got some pictures and some plans of some developments for that front area," he said.

He mentioned, too, the possibility of staging a fair at the ranch, with racing spread over six weekends.

INVESTMENTS
A Lubbock native and a Texas Tech graduate, Burford said he derives his living now "basically from the investment business." He spent several years in banking circles, serving for a time as president of the Texas Bank and Trust in Wichita Falls.

But, he said, "I've always liked the horse business."

"I've never seen a ranch like the Southwestern Stallion Station—one with the facilities and the look," he said.

Burford said architect D. Keith Downing of Wichita Falls visited horse farms in Kentucky and tracks and farms in Ireland before laying out the facility on Burford's 600 acres.

The picturesque setting includes a breeding and veterinary barn, a track barn with stables, a mare motel and courtyard, a number of individual paddocks, an office building, a ranch headquarters, a hospitality room, the race track and living quarters.

SET THE PACE
At the outset, Burford said, he wanted to design and build a horse breeding and training ranch "that will set the pace anywhere in the country."

He thinks his farm did just that.

Texan Still Fighting For Release In Mexico

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP) — A Texan held in prison here for over seven years has launched what he calls "an all-out campaign" to obtain freedom from his tiny cell from where he once waited for a Mexican firing squad to march across the courtyard.

DYKES SIMMONS
Dykes Askew Simmons Jr., 38, a former dragline operator from Fort Worth, is the only American ever convicted of murder in Mexico. He said he is going to take his "right and just cause to the American people themselves."

Simmons was convicted in 1959 of murder in connection with the slayings Oct. 12, 1959, of three children of a prominent Monterrey physician. One of the children lived for several days after the shooting near Sabinas Hidalgo, 80 miles south of Laredo. She gave a description of the assailant to Mexican police. Simmons entered Mexico at Laredo the same day of the shootings but contends the girl described another man and a different automobile.

DEATH TERM
Simmons twice has been assessed the death term and a Mexican court has offered to commute the sentence to 25 years. This Simmons has refused, asserting that he would "prefer the firing squad" to the prison term.

The gray-haired Texan maintains he is innocent and said he has been offered his "freedom" in return for a "confession." He swore he would not leave the cell until he is exonerated. Simmons, his wife and lawyers all blame a lack of interest by U.S. diplomats for his long stay.

"I have tried to get justice for 7 1/2 years," Simmons told a Texas reporter recently.

"Everything I've done, all the documents I've collected, all the defenses I've been able to muster, I've done it locked up right here without even a window to look out of."

SENDING ADS
Simmons said he was sending prepared "advertisements" to newspapers in Texas and other states, hoping that he can "talk editors into running them in their newspapers throughout the United States."

In the advertisement, Simmons appeals for a contribution of $1 and asks persons to write government officials about his predicament.

He said his health is "failing fast." "Rats, which Simmons says are as "big as cats," are abundant in the small cell in the Nuevo Leon Prison.

His wife, Beatrice, brings him food each day. Mrs. Simmons said the prison's sewer lines are open ditches. She said convicts often contract serious diseases. She married the Texas man while he was under the death sentence.

Simmons said he felt the campaign is one of the few avenues he has as an alternative to spending 28 more years in prison.

"If the guy in the street won't do that for me, I don't know how I can go on much longer," he said.

Desert Nomad Gets Letters

Wheelbarrow, Tex., the desert nomad and homespun philosopher, is shown with some of the letters and packages he received in response to an Associated Press story published April 3. WHEELBARROW TEX GETS MAIL

Casual Philosopher

By CLIFF McADAMS
SARATOGA SPRING, Calif. (AP) — On a recent morning, a "fixture" in Death Valley—Wheelbarrow Tex—appeared at the post office at Furnace Creek and approached a clerk.

"Any mail?" he asked.

"You must be kiddin'," the clerk replied. "Who'd write to you?"

JUST CHECKING
"Just checkin'," said Tex. "I was passin' through so decided to stop. Well, I'll see you again. I got to get movin'."

"Wait!" said the clerk. "I thought you knew."

"He produced more letters than I ever saw," said a beaming Tex, a few days later. "There were hundreds, it seemed—and addressed to me. To Wheelbarrow Tex."

"I couldn't believe it. I wondered why. But a few minutes later I had the answer."

People were responding to a story distributed by The Associated Press about Wheelbarrow Tex—the desert nomad, who likes people and likes to get letters.

From throughout America, and from foreign countries, from people in all walks of life and in all age groups, there were letters and cards, occasionally a package.

All of the people were interested in Tex—the man who had said: "All people are important. People are nice. There is good all around us."

GATHERING ITEMS
Tex has been living in the desert for years. And for the past four years he has pushed a wheelbarrow, gathered up items for possible sale, greeted the visitors to the Death Valley region and talked his philosophy.

Additionally, he has led a tour of some mines—"to give the people a touch of the West as it used to be."

He seldom received letters and existed on pittances from appreciative visitors.

"But there's more to living than striving for money. There's wealth in doing good, in making people happy. And that's what I do—or what I try to do."

And people believed—and returned some "wealth."

In addition to the letters, Tex received in the mail some cash, and stamps, clothes, shoes, thermometers, pedometers, ties, maps, tracts and religious medals.

A Canadian youngster sent a handful of pennies; a Georgia youth sent a stick of gum; a man from California sent a pocket radio, and Bibles arrived from throughout the country.

YOUNGSTERS
Especially welcomed by the desert nomad were the letters from youngsters.

Teachers gave assignments to write to Tex, and whole classes took part. Some drew pictures.

Questions were numerous:

What do you eat? How do you sleep? How hot is the desert? Do you play any games? How much do you charge for a tour of the mines? Do you like little kids? Why aren't you married? Do you cook your eggs in the morning sun?

Humorous to Tex was this fifth-grade rhetoric: "What do you eat? I have a sister and a brother."

MAKES DEAL
An adult wrote: "I'd like to make a deal. I have a gold-finding machine that you carry around and hold in your hand, and when the loop passes over a big gold nugget the machine goes B-I-Z-Z. Then you stop and dig it out and put it in a sack and hunt for another."

"Sounds easy, don't you think? Well, nope, it isn't. I ain't found a nugget yet."

"But I was thinkin' the other day, maybe there in Death Valley, there might be just a few. If they're kickin' around, just drop me a line and I'll be right out."

Said a man from Arkansas—obviously confused by the name "Wheelbarrow Tex":

"I got out some maps and tried to find Wheelbarrow—but it wasn't there. At least, not in Texas. Where do you live?"

Interestingly, perhaps, out of some 2,000, not a letter was "crankish." And most gave praise for an "admirable philosophy."

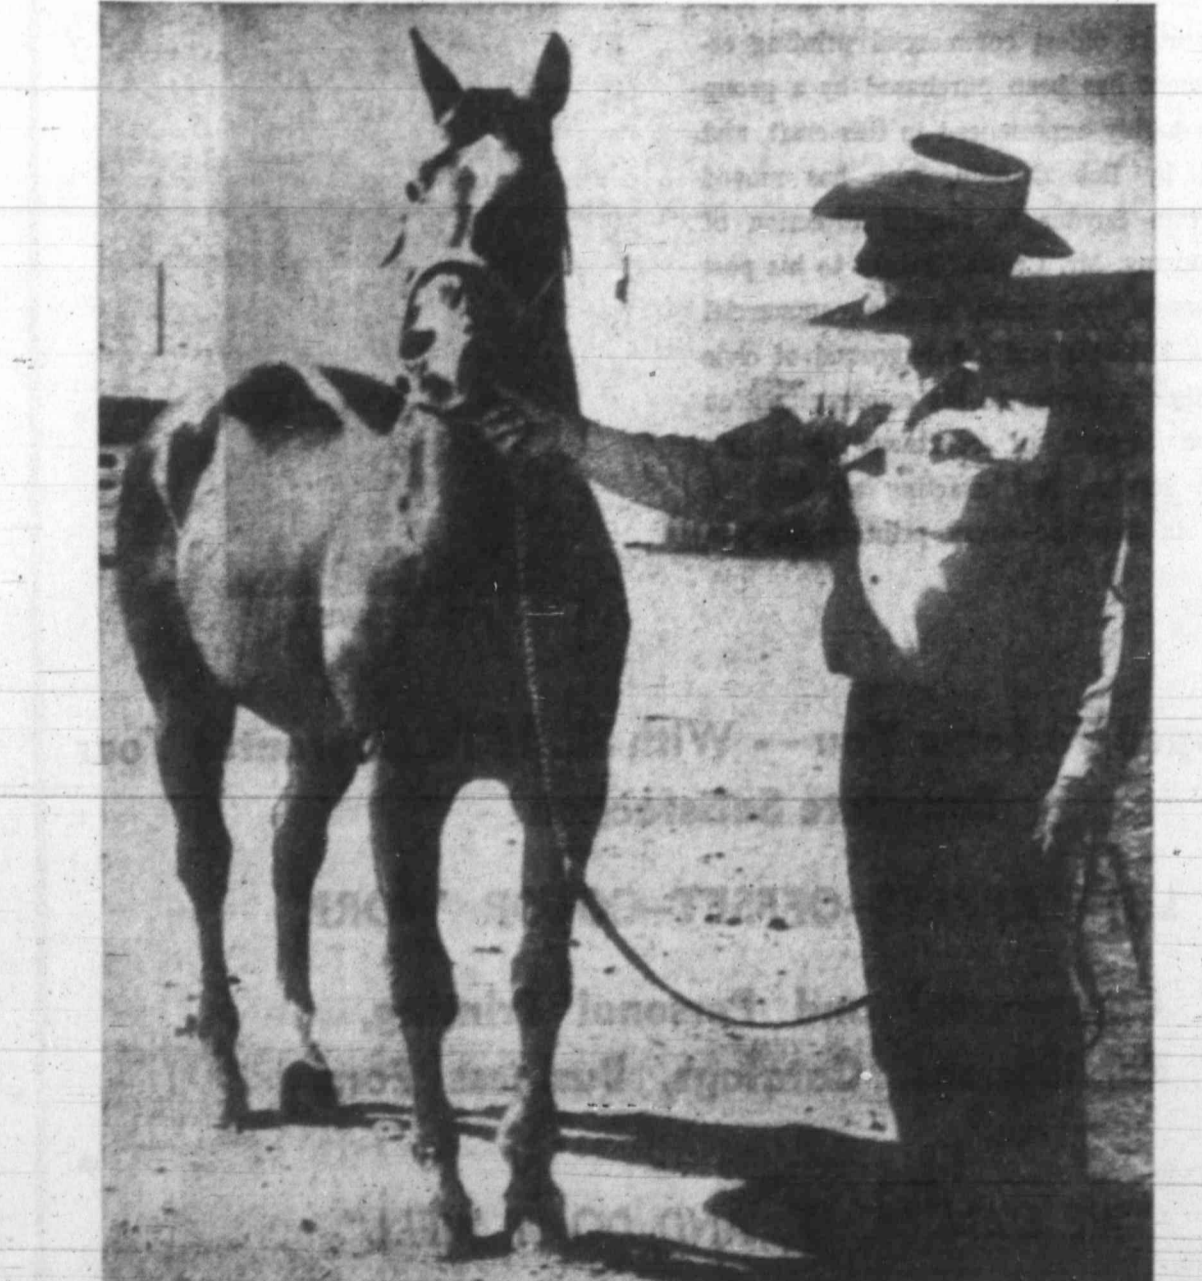

WHAT'S NEXT?
What's next in the life of Wheelbarrow Tex?

"I'll answer these letters. I don't know just how, but I'll do it in time. The main thing now is to thank these people."

Then, a few minutes later: "Maybe you could help—and all of those papers—and tell the folks thanks. And tell 'em I'm real!"

A number of the writers were not too sure that Tex was "real."

No gimmick, of course, Old Wheelbarrow Tex is definitely real.

Disney Spoof Due At Jet

Walt Disney's "The Adventures of Bullwhip Griffin," a light-hearted spoof of the gold rush days in California, starring Roddy McDowall, Suzanne Pleshette and Karl Malden, will be further lightened by the songs of Bob and Dick Sherman, the talented, much-awarded Disney writers who made history with their work on "Mary Poppins."

For the happy Western, Bob and Dick penned three original songs, recalling the hustle and bustle that was San Francisco during the mid-Nineteenth century rush to the gold fields. The Sherman brothers, who won two Academy Awards each for best song — "Chim Chim Cheree" — and the musical score for "Mary Poppins" set the songs of Mother Lode days to the honky-tonk sound of the saloon piano.

Beautiful co-star Suzanne Pleshette sings "Girls of San Francisco" and "Whoever You Are" while the lovelies of the dance hall, joined by more than one canary-voiced miner, sing "California Gold."

In color by Technicolor, "The Adventures of Bullwhip Griffin" was directed by James Neilson. Bill Anderson co-produced with Walt Disney.

'KHARTOUM' Charlton Heston and Laurence Olivier

'Chinese' Gordon's Epic Defense Told

General Charles Gordon's epic defense of the city of Khartoum, in 1884, has been made into a motion picture of epic proportions. In Technicolor and Ultra Panavision, "Khartoum" opens tonight at the Jet Theatre direct from its reserved seat presentation and now at continuous performances and popular prices.

Starring Charlton Heston, Laurence Olivier, Richard Johnson and Ralph Richardson, the spectacular was designed to dramatize both the personal mystique of one of England's least-understood soldiers and the broad sweep of his ethical and physical conflict with the fanatical religious leader of 100,000 dervishes who laid siege to Khartoum.

From intimate scenes in the cabinet room at 10 Downing Street to spectacular panoramas of huge armies clashing—the film recounts events leading

Oil Company Sponsors For Aid To Orchestra, Choral

By WINNIE UNGER
The El Paso Products Company of Odessa has received one of Esquire Magazine's "Business in the Arts Awards" for its support of the Midland-Odessa Symphony Orchestra and Choral. The company's president, W. D. Noel, and his wife contribute $1,500 toward writing expenses for the annual National Young Artists Competition. Of the 20 companies in the nation winning the awards, El Paso Products Company is the only one located west of the Mississippi, excepting one in Hawaii. The other 18 are headquartered in the major cultural centers in the East.

Young folks who want to learn a lot about producing plays or acting in them will have a wonderful chance for intensive training this summer. Dan Shockey, high school drama and speech department head, is offering an eight weeks course (tuition $15) with five sessions from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday. Just about every basic phase of play production will be in the curriculum. There will be some study—and a whole lot of actually doing while shaping up two plays during the session. Registration time is June 5.

Seven entertainment events are programmed by the Student Union at Texas Tech, beginning June 21-Aug. 16. These programs are open to the public at no charge, and will be held in the Union's Coronado Room beginning at 8 p.m. on the respective nights.

Opening the series June 21 will be Ballet Concepts, six dancers from major ballet companies in dramatic, contemporary, classical and humorous ballet.

June 28 will bring the Amsterdam Baroque Trio with Frank Bowen, flutist and instructor on the Texas Tech faculty. Other artists include Anneke Uittenbosch, harpsichordist, and Veronika Hampe, viola da gamba.

July 8 features the Porgy and Bess Singers, Lucia Harkins, Lavern Hutcherson and Avon Long, in a concert of show music and spirituals.

Juki Arkin, Israeli-born mime, takes the stage July 26. Aug. 2 brings Philip Hanson in a one-man show. He becomes dozens of characters, all vitally alive, with his evocative voice and gifts of theater.

Folk singer Kay Britten is booked for Aug. 16. She grew up in England and has a particular interest in songs of the British Isles, though she includes songs in several languages in her repertoire.

The Dallas Museum of Fine Arts received an addition to its art collection when Mr. and Mrs. Cecil H. Green gave a 4th century B.C. Greek sculpture. The sculpture is a life-sized marble figure of a young man, a god or hero, minus the head and extremities. The classic Greek figure has been placed on permanent display in the museum's northwest wing.

It is an action-loaded story of a group of five men who capture an impregnable horse-drawn steel fortress on wheels carrying half-a-million in gold. The bullion, morally theirs, had been brutally wrested from the plotters by Bruce Cabot and a gang of half-a-hundred armed thugs.

Others in the recovery scheme, which in its execution involves some of the screen's most spectacular action and dramatic suspense, are Howard Keel, Robert Walker and Keenan Wynn. Each has a specialty needed for the plan, and each enhances the drama as he participates in the dangerous and complicated mission.

Burt Kennedy directed the screenplay based on his novel "Badman," to highlight the engrossing story. The telling calls upon the talents of Wayne and Douglas, and takes advantage of the abilities of the other co-stars. Marvin Schwartz, as the producer, brought all the elements together including the staging of the action in a picturesque area of Mexico that has never before been used for films, and the inclusion of a musical score that perfectly supports every visual mood.

Dimitri Tiomkin wrote the music and with Ned Washington composed "The Ballad of the War Wagon," which is sung by Ed Ames, while the titles are on the screen. Tiomkin and Washington won one of their Academy Awards in connection with another great western, "High Noon," and Tiomkin does his fifth picture starring John Wayne with his music for "The War Wagon." Currently one of the nation's top recording stars, Ames has another platter hit in his rendition of "The Ballad of the War Wagon."

Herbicide Eliminates Weeds, And Will Not Harm Fish

Fish Cycle Explained

Extension Wildlife Conservation Specialist Wallace G. Klussman explains the cycle for producing a good supply of fish. Klussman also demonstrated the use of diuron, a herbicide, for controlling algae and pond weeds on the Aubrey Stokes ranch near Gail.

Stock With Fish Wanted To Eat

GAIL — Farm and ranch ponds should be stocked with the species of fish that an individual wants to catch, Wallace E. Klussman, Texas A&M University extension wildlife conservationist, said here last weekend.

It is no longer necessary to stock blue gill or sun fish in a bass pond in order to produce sizable bass, he pointed out. Bass will do as well alone as when stocked with blue gill or catfish. Catfish won't develop as well though when stocked with bass since bass feed on young catfish.

Klussman recommended stocking small ponds with catfish since they do well in small areas and are very productive. Furthermore, they are good eaters. The specialist emphasized the importance of stocking a pond with just one size of a particular kind of fish. If the size varies too much, the larger fish will feed on the smaller ones. This is especially true with bass.

The amount of fish produced by a pond depends primarily on its surface area and its fertility level. A pond should produce a good supply of fish from one to three years after stocking.

During his discussion on stocking rates, Klussman stressed the importance of not overstocking ponds. This can be a deterring factor from the start and most of the fish will never fully develop.

With regards to feeding fish, the specialist pointed out that there are now a number of specially prepared fish feeds on the market but that regular fertilizer or feed grains also are good sources of food.

Construction Lags In Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas construction, pulled down primarily by a decline in homebuilding, dropped 14 per cent from March to April, a University of Texas researcher reported Saturday.

Dr. Francis B. May, professor of business statistics and consultant to the University of Texas Business Research department, said April construction lagged behind a year ago by 7 per cent.

"Although homebuilding comprises more than half the total value of all authorized construction in good years, its value dropped below two per cent of the total during the January-April period this year," the report said.

It said "the overriding factor causing the decline in total residential building authorization for the first four months of the year was the decline in residential building permits issued. They were 11 per cent below the level of the first four months of 1966. A decline of 12 per cent in permits for one-family dwellings was the major cause."

Dear Abby

No Bull, No Heifer

DEAR ABBY: Our 15-year-old, 6-foot, 200-pound son got a girl from a neighboring farm into trouble. She is also 15. We gave him strict orders to stay away from her, but it seems he didn't. Her people claim it's our fault.

I talked with a judge in the city, and he said there is a law that says if a man owns a bull he is responsible for keeping the bull locked up. And if the bull gets loose and goes into a neighbor's pasture and breeds his dairy heifers, the owners of the heifers can't sue for damages because they should have kept their heifers locked up. My friend, the judge, says the same law applies to people. Have we a case?

OHIO FARMER DEAR FARMER: A man's son is not a bull, neither is his neighbor's daughter a heifer. I can't practice law, but I think your friend, the judge, gave you a bum steer.

DEAR ABBY: I am only the grandmother, but I want to know if I have to sit around and keep my mouth shut when my son-in-law abuses my four-year-old grandson until it about tears my heart out?

I wouldn't mind if the kid had it coming, but his father watches him like a hawk, just waiting to pounce on him for any little thing.

Practice Mission Planned By AF

FORT WORTH (AP) — Carswell Air Force Base plans an eight-hour practice wartime mission exercise Friday under simulated enemy nuclear attack conditions.

Col. Ralph Holland, 7th Bomb Wing commander, said base sirens will be used to "warn" of various simulated wartime emergency situations.

The base will be closed to the public except for emergency use and the entire exercise will be confined to the Air Force facility.

refuses to voluntarily see a doctor, you should report him to your local police or sheriff. He needs desperately to have his head examined. And so should your daughter if she puts up with it.

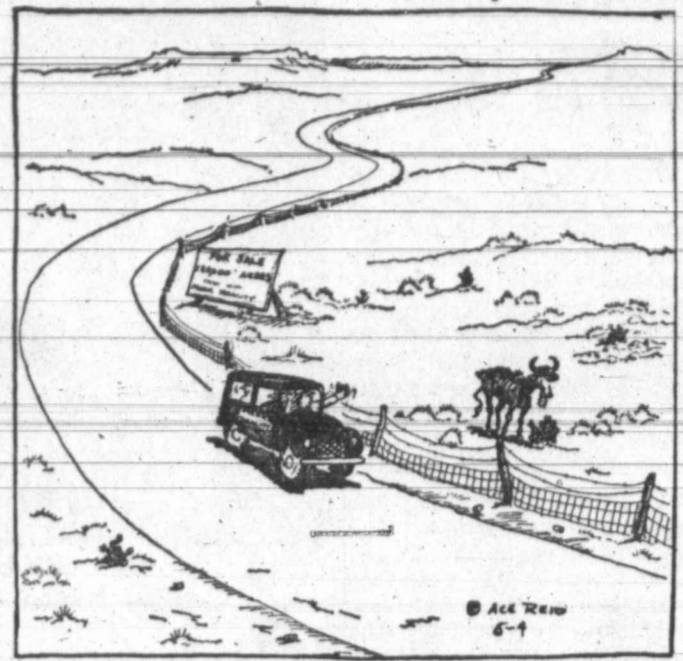

DEAR ABBY: Recently one of my mother's friends told my mother that she saw me smoking. It was true; she did see me. When my mother asked me about it, I lied and told her I wasn't. My mother believed me. Now she isn't speaking to her friend because she thinks her friend lied about me.

I feel just awful, Abby. How can I get my mother and her friend back together again and get them both to trust me?

DEAR ABBY: Tell your mother you lied, and don't worry about being "tricked." You will show more character for having reconsidered and wanting to set the record straight than to perpetuate the lie for fear of losing face.
