Almost Killed Marriage Vow Fails

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—A young Mexican couple came to Jerusalem to fulfill their vows to marry in the Holy City. Instead they almost got killed by the bullets and bombs of the Arab-Israeli war.

"We were machine-gunned by planes, bullets whizzed past, bombs exploded so near we were covered in dust," said Eliza Guzman, a 38-year-old bookseller from Mexico City. "We were lucky to get out unscathed."

"We have looked forward to our marriage in Jerusalem for such a long time," said his petite bride, Guadalupe Morande. "We came all this way, and then

Harrowing Journey

They saw Roman Catholic Patriarch Alberto Goir only long enough for him to absolve them from their vow to solemnize their civil marriage a year ago with a religious ceremony in Jerusalem.

Mrs. Guzman was still wearing her black lace wedding dress when she and her husband arrived in Amman Tuesday after a harrowing trip from Jerusalem.

"We were still at the patriarchate when fighting broke all around us," Guzman said.

Fortunately, some good nuns escorted us to our hotel outside the Old City.

Planes Attack Convoys

"An American television correspondent was fatally wounded by a bullet while standing in the lobby of the hotel minutes after we arrived," He was Ted Yates of NBC.

During a lull in the firing Monday night, the couple took a car for Amman.

"We were only a few miles from Jerusalem when we were forced to stop when we came across a line of burning military trucks in the road," Guzman said. "Before we realized what was happening a soldier shouted to us to take cover as Israeli planes were still attacking the convoys."

"We jumped from our car and ran into the fields for cover as jet planes roared low overhead, splintering the roadway with bullets. Some of the bullets fell a few feet from us."

Pinned Against Wall

The couple spent the night in Jericho after driving for 30 miles without lights, then made their way to Amman early the next morning.

Oswald Quinn, a white-haired American tourist from Sacramento, Calif., traveled to Amman in the car with the Mexican couple.

"You should have seen it in Jerusalem," Quinn said. "I was pinned standing against the wall near the hotel while machine gun bullets kicked up the dust less than four feet from me."

Jordan Seeks Cease-Fire; Israeli Tanks Near Canal

LBJ Reviews War Situation With Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson reviewed the Mideast war situation with congressional leaders of both parties today as Jordan offered openly to negotiate a cease-fire, in line with a United Nations resolution and a public appeal from Johnson.

U.S. diplomats, meanwhile, worked for quick acceptance of the U.N. proposal by the other Arab belligerents and an accommodation between them and the Israelis who had set up conditions for agreement on their side.

Jordan's move had been unofficially reported Tuesday night, even in advance of the U.S. call.

NEXT STEP?

Amman's confirmation came through almost simultaneously with announcement of a breakfast session between Johnson and the congressional leaders.

Robert H. Fleming, deputy press secretary at the White House, said the principal subject of discussion was pending legislation to head off a railroad strike, but added without detail: "There was a review of the Middle East situation."

At the Capitol, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said the next step in the Middle East depends on the reaction of the combatant nations to the call for a cease-fire.

U.S. WAITS

He told newsmen the government is waiting to see the effect before deciding what to do next.

Johnson's diplomatic leverage with Arab states was sinking fast, however, as one after another lined up to follow Egypt in formally breaking relations with the United States.

This left to the Soviets and others still in good standing in the Arab camp to exert influence there in behalf of the unanimous U.N. call—while Washington struggled with arrangements to evacuate thousands of Americans from the tinderbox Middle East.

GOAL PEACE

Immediately after the Security Council okayed the cease-fire appeal agreed on by the Soviet Union and the United States, Johnson went on nationwide radio and television Tuesday night to hail this "hopeful path away from danger in the Middle East."

"We hope the parties directly concerned will promptly act upon it," the President said in a brief statement.

"We believe a cease-fire is the necessary 'first step,' in the words of the resolution itself—a first step toward what we all must hope will be a new time of settled peace and progress for all the peoples of the Middle East.

FEELERS

"It is toward this end that we shall now strive," Jordan, hard hit on the battlefield, was reported to have put out its cease-fire feelers but the State Department and the Jordanian Embassy in Washington each refused to confirm or deny the reports from diplomatic sources. Reportedly the move came before the Security Council action.

Building Bids Opening Thursday

Bids for the new United States post office building in Big Spring will be opened at 3 p.m. Thursday by the General Services Administration.

R. W. Miller, chief of the design and plans section of GSA, said that considerable interest had been shown in the job.

Plans for the structure, developed by Olen L. Puckett, Big Spring architect, call for a structure which will occupy a major portion of half a block. Previously, GSA had purchased an entire block between Fifth and Sixth Streets and between Main and Rumlens Streets.

Soviet Union Seeking Cease-Fire Deadline

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council was called into a hurried emergency session at the request of the Soviet Union today to consider further action to halt the Middle East war.

The meeting was scheduled for 12:30 p.m., approximately 90 minutes after the request from Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko was received by the council's president, Ambassador Hans R. Tabor of Denmark.

The council was awaiting responses from Israel and the Arab nations to its unanimous call for an immediate cease-fire issued Tuesday after a sudden Soviet retreat on the issue.

Israel immediately gave conditional acceptance to the cease-fire, and U.N. Secretary-General U Thant sent cables to all the belligerent governments seeking confirmation of the Israeli position and acceptances from the Arab nations.

TRUCE BID

Cairo Radio declared, however, that the Arab countries are determined to continue the war despite the council's truce call.

The Arab response was complicated by the stiff conditions Israel set. But their replies were expected soon because the war news showed them losing, and Cairo and Amman broadcast announcements of the council's resolution. Diplomatic sources in Washington said Jordan had asked the United States to arrange a cease-fire.

The council adopted the resolution by vote of all its 15 members Tuesday night about 40 hours after the outbreak of fighting.

CEASE-FIRE

The resolution called on "the governments concerned as a first step to take forthwith all measures for an immediate cease-fire and for cessation of all military activities in the area."

A deadlock in the council was broken after two days of private consultations when Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko dropped his insistence that the resolution call for withdrawal of the fighting forces to their pre-war positions and agreed with U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg that it should seek only a cease-fire.

FIRST STEP

Fedorenko, blaming Israel for the war, told the council the cease-fire resolution was the least it could do at present but was only a first step. He said his government wants immediate withdrawal of "the forces of the aggressor" — meaning Israel — behind the 1949 armistice lines and "the council must take an immediate decision" for such withdrawal.

Goldberg declared that the resolution was "precisely the action which my delegation has been urging since we met to consider the outbreak of hostilities." He said it was the duty of all the nations at war to comply fully and promptly and of every U.N. member to put "the full weight of its influence" behind compliance.

WELCOME PLEA

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said "Israel welcomes the appeal for a cease-fire as formulated in this resolution." But he said its implementation "depends on an absolute and sincere acceptance and cooperation of the other parties," which he said had yet to clarify their intention.

Eban said "the situation to be constructed after the cease-fire must depend upon the acceptance of Israel's statehood" by the Arab countries, "peaceful settlement of disputes" and, from outside powers, "a balanced distribution of their friendship among the states of the Middle East."

BEHAVE WISELY

In a reference to Arab military losses, he said he was hopeful a new system of interstate relationships might come to pass because "nations do behave wisely once they have exhausted all other alternatives."

"I have just come from Jerusalem to tell the Security Council that Israel by her independent effort and sacrifice has passed from serious danger to successful resistance," he declared.

Army Captures Old Jerusalem

BULLETIN
TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Israel claimed today complete defeat of Egypt and control of a wide Arab sector from the west bank of the Jordan River to the Suez Canal.

By The Associated Press
Israeli forces, apparently running roughshod over the Egyptian army, announced today the capture of the strategic Sharm el Sheikh heights overlooking the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba—in effect breaking Gamal Abdel Nasser's blockade.

They reported also an advance to a point 20 miles from the Suez Canal.

On the northern front, Jordan sought a cease-fire as an echo to the Israelis' capture of Old Jerusalem.

Later Jordan announced it was continuing to fight because of what it called continuing aggression by Israel.

The U.N. Security Council was called into session on an emergency basis at Soviet request.

TWIN ADVANCES
The twin Israeli advances in Egypt placed their armies almost at the identical points they won during the 1956 war with Egypt.

Egyptian occupation of Sharm el Sheikh was the flashpoint of this war, now in its third day. At the head of the Gulf of Aqaba lies Elath.

To reach Sharm el Sheikh, Israeli forces had to race more than 125 miles down the Sinai Peninsula.

20 MILES TO GO
Cairo radio reported an announcement by the Egyptian High Command that forces at Sharm el Sheikh "have rejoined our main forces in the defensive positions in Sinai."

An Israeli army spokesman in Tel Aviv said an armored column bearing along Egypt's coast had overrun Rumana in an advance of more than 100 miles since the drive began two days ago. This not only put the Israelis 20 miles from the Suez Canal but they were in a position to move on Port Said, at the head of the canal 30 miles to the northwest.

RESISTANCE
Jordan's government in Amman reported the decision to seek a cease-fire with Israel was made after consultation with the Arab joint command, which Egypt maintained they would continue the fight.

Tuesday night the U.N. Security Council unanimously requested that all parties cease fire. It made no stipulations on disposition of territory that has changed hands this week. Israel told the council that Gamal Abdel Nasser's threat to annihilate Israel "now lies in ruins," and that Israel has passed "from serious danger to successful resistance."

TANKS ROLLING
Cairo admitted today that its troops had fallen back before the Israeli drive toward the canal, but there was no indication of the extent of the withdrawal.

Israel's radio said two tank columns were racing toward the canal along two paved highways—the main road through the Sinai Desert and Egypt's coastal road farther north.

Israel claimed to have captured Jabel Levi, 70 miles inside Egypt on the main road in a drive on the Egyptian air base at Bir Gifgafa, about 55 miles west of the canal. This would put the Israelis about 70 miles from Suez.

HAND FIGHTING
Hand to hand fighting between Israelis and Jordanians was reported in Bethlehem, Jesus' birthplace, 10 miles southwest of Jerusalem.

Damascus radio asserted that Syrian forces on the northern front had invaded Israel and were advancing on Nazareth, where Jesus grew up.

PLEDGE FIGHT
Israeli forces at last official report were about 43 miles inside Sinai, a third to half the distance from the Suez Canal.

Cairo Radio in an earlier broadcast flouted the Security Council action, declaring that the Arab countries were determined to fight on despite the call for a cease-fire. But Jordan, even before the council acted, was reported asking the U.S. government to arrange a truce.

Saudi Arabia, the Middle East's second biggest oil producer, has decided to cut off oil sales at once to "the countries that are helping Israel in its aggression." Beirut Radio reported. This presumably was aimed at the United States and Britain, accused by the Arab countries of aiding Israel.

HALT OIL

Iraq, Kuwait and Algeria halted the sale of oil to the western powers Tuesday.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant cabled the Security Council's cease-fire appeal to all the belligerents shortly after the 15-nation council approved it unanimously Tuesday night. Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban told the council his government welcomed the appeal but said the Arabs must accept Israel's existence as a state and its right to use the Gulf of Aqaba, its only direct route to the Red Sea and its oil supply in Iran.

LESSON

Cairo radio responded to the council's appeal with a new call for all-out war against the Jews, declaring: "Teach the Israelis a lesson—drive them out of the Holy Land." But diplomatic sources in Washington said Jordan had asked the United States to arrange for an immediate cease-fire.

U.S. military sources in Washington said Israeli armored columns have moved so swiftly they may reach their key objectives before a cease-fire can take effect. The sources said it was possible the Israelis could clinch victory over Egypt in less than the 100 hours it took the Jewish state in 1956. That conflict became known as the 100-hour war.

Middle East At A Glance

By The Associated Press

TEL AVIV — An army spokesman announces Israeli forces have captured Sharm el Sheikh, the Egyptian fortress at the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba, and seized Rumana, about 20 miles from Port Said at the canal's Mediterranean entrance. The capture of Sharm el Sheikh in effect breaks President Gamal Abdel Nasser's blockade of the gulf to Israeli shipping.

AMMAN — Jordan agrees to negotiate a cease-fire with Israel. This break in the Arab front follows a declaration from Radio Cairo that the Arab nations were determined to fight on despite the U.N. Security Council's call for a truce. Jordan had just reported that its troops were mounting a counter-offensive west of the River Jordan.

JERUSALEM — Israel announces capture of the walled Old City of Jerusalem and three more towns in western Jordan—Nablus, Ramallah and Tubas. Jews get access to the Walling Wall, promised them in the 1949 armistice agreement but denied them by the Jordanians.

CAIRO — The Egyptian High Command acknowledges Sinai reverses, saying: "We have evacuated some of our positions on the first line for regroupment." It claims eight Israeli planes shot down.

BEIRUT — Saudi Arabia and Libya are reported joining the Arab oil squeeze, cutting off sales to the United States and Britain on the ground they are helping Israel in the war. Beirut and Cairo radios announce these decisions, taken despite denials by British and American authorities of involvement.

DAMASCUS — Security forces disperse about 150 demonstrators marching outside the U.S. Embassy as diplomats within burned secret papers preparatory to leaving Syria. British officials also are pulling out.

VATICAN CITY — Pope Paul VI pleads for acceptance of the U.N. Security Council's call for a truce, urging at a general audience: "Let combat be suspended."

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

When you want that degree bad enough, you can get it. MRS. FRED D. WHITE, 1200 Michael, proved this when she got her bachelor of arts degree with a major in English and minor in French last week at Texas Tech. This probably pleased her mother, as much as it did her husband, for her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, was for many years on the English staff at Howard County Junior College.

Sharon's husband, Fred, a member of the post office staff, has encouraged her to get that degree. She started out as a student in HCJC in 1961 and continued until the summer of 1963 when their daughter, Melinda, was born. She took some courses at night until she accumulated enough hours for certificate and taught at Sands, going to East Texas State University the summer of 1964 and Tech the summer of 1965 and 1966. Then, with her goal in sight, she resigned and entered Tech full-time last fall and polished off with an 18-hour load (including two-night classes) her final semester in order to graduate. Her next immediate project is their second baby, due in November. Her ultimate project is to return to teaching—in Big Spring.

MR. and MRS. JOHN RAY JR. got to wet a hook over the weekend, going to Lake Phantom Hill near Abilene. They were joined there by MR. and MRS. WESLEY ROGERS, Texarkana, former Big Spring residents.

Back for a visit here last week were MR. and MRS. W. P. (CHOP) VAN PELT, McAllen; who spent the week with his parents, MR. and MRS. P. P. VAN PELT, 705 E. 15th. Chop, who was a star lineman on the Steer football team many years ago, teaches and helps with coaching at McAllen.

MR. and MRS. GARLAND LAND of 605 E. 18th, had as their weekend guests MR. and MRS. FRANK L. VIGUS SR., Waco. The Viguses attended the wedding of Airman 2.C. Frank L. Vigus to Miss Terry Charlene Land at Webb AFB Saturday. The Lands also had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. J. J.

Hall and Jimmy, and Mrs. Robert Stipe, all of Ira.

The home of MR. and MRS. JOHN RAY SR., 509 E. 7th, was graced by several visitors during last weekend, among them MRS. J. G. SNOWDEN, Georgetown; MRS. RONNIE HOOVER and KAREN, Austin; JACK ANDERSON, Elgin; and MR. and MRS. BILLY RAY SNOWDEN and children of Abilene.

MAJ. JOE K. CARTER JR. writes from his post in Southeast Asia where he has been stationed with the 388th Tactical Fighter Wing that he had a near miss on his hope for reassignment at Webb AFB. However, he did get the post of staff judge advocate at Goodfellow AFB in San Angelo. He has been keeping up with hometown news through The Herald and made one last plea to end his tour on a happy note—"Just arrange for one more article advising that there has been lots of rain and that Lake Thomas is full..." He will stop to visit friends here en route to his new station.

MR. and MRS. TOM SNOWDEN, 1406 Grafa, went to Kerrville to meet their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Zanate and daughter, Pam, of Texas City. Accompanying them were MR. and MRS. PAT PATTERSON.

TAYLOR SMITH has returned to Waco and school at Baylor University after having spent a week here with his parents, MR. and MRS. VERNON SMITH, 2801 Cactus. A house guest at the Smiths during the week has been BECKY KENNEDY, Houston.

PAMELA STEPHENS left Tuesday morning by plane for a four-week visit with her grandparents in Florence, Ala. This was Pamela's first plane trip, and it was a birthday present from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stephens.

The refreshment table was laid with a flounced white net cloth over pale yellow satin. Pale yellow tapers in crystal candelabra and the matron's of honor bouquet centered the table. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Those in the house party were Miss Sheryl Muse, who presided at the guest register; Miss Wynelle Collins, Miss Lanelle Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Herbie Smith.

Tiny Texas Turnout Expected Voters Will Decide 20 New Amendments

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally's urgent plea for a new Constitution got only half-way through the 60th Legislature, but lawmakers did vote for 20 new amendments to the overgrown 1876 document.

Texas voters will decide on six amendments Nov. 11, 1967—Veterans' Day—and on 14 more at the 1968 general election. Eight of the 20 amendments deal with special groups, such as legislators and state employees, eight more give local governments new powers or duties and only four apply to all Texans or large segments of the public.

IMPORTANT ITEM

Since the voters ratified the Constitution in 1876, the document has been amended 178 times, an average of about twice a year.

Connally obviously had in mind the size and detail of the Constitution when he told the Legislature Jan. 18 that constitutional revision was the most important item in his program. "Let us recognize that we need for a new Constitution based upon the fact that our present charter restricts and withholds necessary and needed powers for our state and its local units of government to meet the demands of our people," he said.

VACANCIES

But leaders in both houses rejected his request for legislation calling a constitutional convention. The House approved a resolution setting up a 25-member commission to recommend either a new constitution or major revisions of the old one. The full Senate never acted on the issue, which was opposed by several Senate leaders.

The speaker, governor, lieutenant governor and Supreme Court chief justice all may appoint commission members. They must act by July 14, or commission members already appointed will fill the vacancies. The commission must make its recommendations to the 1968 Legislature, which can reject them or send them to the voters in either original or amended form.

HOUSE OKAY

Connally's top-priority constitutional amendment, annual budget sessions of the Legislature, was approved by the House but never came to a vote in the Senate.

The governor started a precedent, anyway, of one-year budgets, with special called sessions to appropriate funds for years when there is no regular session.

The 20 amendments submitted to the voters by the 1967 regular session are no record—27 were submitted by the lawmakers in 1965.

Submission of six amendments on Veterans' Day, a Saturday, had one clear aim: to give the best possible chance to an amendment reviving the veterans' land program with $200 million in new authority to issue bonds to finance low-cost land purchases for the veterans.

PARK BONDS

Voters in 1963 and 1965 failed to approve similar amendments.

The 1967 general election comes just four days before the special Veterans' Day election, but with no major political contests, the turnout is expected to be small. This usually is an unfavorable condition for constitutional amendments.

Another major amendment of statewide importance also will be submitted Veterans' Day. Recommended by Connally, it allows the state to issue up to

Shot Wounds Prove Fatal

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Harold Leatherwood, 28, of Grand Prairie died Tuesday night of wounds suffered in a May 15 shooting at Kerrville.

He was brought to Santa Rosa Medical Center here after being shot in the abdomen during what officers described as a fight over a woman.

Texas Rangers arrested George "Bud" Tarver, 35, of Ingram, and charged him with assault with intent to murder. He was taken into custody near Bandera.

Philanthropist Dies

NEWTON, Mass. (AP) — Nathan Schwartz, 78, nationally known philanthropist and business leader, died Tuesday. Schwartz, who was treasurer of Allied Container Corp., was one of the founders of the Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York City. He was born in Russia.

LOCAL BILLS

Three more affect local governments, allowing counties to pay medical expenses for deputy sheriffs injured in line of duty, authorizing counties of 500,000 or more to put all but special road money in one general fund, and allowing political subdivisions located within hospital districts to operate community mental health and mental retardation centers.

The other Veterans' Day amendment allows certain state and federal posts—a measure designed mainly to allow certain educators to serve on federal advisory boards.

To most voters, the amendment with the greatest personal impact is Senate Joint Resolution 32, which abolishes all but a dime of the 47 cents per $100 valuation state property tax by Dec. 31, 1976. The 10-cent tax for college buildings would remain.

That amendment, repealing more than $40 million a year revenue source, is on the 1968 general election ballot.

One other proposal of statewide importance is up for decision the same day. It raises the maximum amount the state can spend for public welfare payments from $60 to $75 million.

Several propositions affecting local governments will be decided in November, 1968, including one allowing local governments to issue bonds to build factories to attract industry.

Another amendment enables the local governments power to exempt from property taxation industrial equipment installed to eliminate or abate air and water pollution.

TAX REFUNDS

Other local amendments allow tobacco dealers in Texarkana to receive cigarette tax refunds to enable them to compete with dealers in Texarkana, Ark., where the tax is three cents lower; permit El Paso and Tarrant counties to consolidate certain city-county functions and give Dallas County power to issue road construction bonds.

Legislators approved two amendments that benefit themselves.

One would raise their salaries from $4,800 to $5,400 a year—a change many say is long overdue because of an increasing legislative workload and the prospect of annual budget sessions.

CROSSFIRE

Another allows legislators to assume new government posts on Jan. 1 of odd-numbered years, although their successors will not be sworn in until the Legislature convenes a few days later.

Propositions raising the salaries of the lieutenant governor and speaker to $18,000 a year were in the works but got caught in the political crossfire between Speaker Ben Barnes and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith.

House members were ready to give final approval to the measure (HJR14) setting the speaker's pay, but the measure was pulled down at the last minute.

Senators never acted on the House proposal (HJR6) raising the lieutenant governor's salary.

PUBLIC PRINTING

"The speaker did not want to pass HJR14 'til they passed HJR 64, which they never did. Ben decided not to bring it up," said Rep. John Traeger, Seguin, sponsor of both measures.

Several other amendments of limited scope and interest also will be on the 1968 ballot. These included measures exempting goods in temporary storage from property taxes; broadening the kinds of securities in which the permanent University of Texas fund may be invested; removing the requirement that the governor, secretary of state and comptroller approve all stationery and public printing purchases; provide that teacher retirement contributions be based on a teacher's full salary; and broadening the investments of the state employees retirement system.

Rail Strike Threat Faces Senate Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposal to sidetrack a threatened nationwide rail strike steams toward Senate debate with Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield expressing hope the measure will be in House hands by Thursday.

Mansfield called for a morning debate on the bill and put aside another measure — an congressional re-structuring — originally slated to occupy the Senate today.

Mansfield said he felt the Senate had to dispose of the rail plan this week because the Senate is expected to devote most of next week to debating a resolution to censure Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn.

TWO EXTENSIONS

Congress already has voted two extensions of the no strike—no lockout period in the dispute between six shopcraft unions and railroads handling about 16 per cent of the nation's rail traffic.

The present extension runs out June 18.

The administration contends that with a war on in Vietnam, a nationwide rail stop would be a disaster.

Johnson's bill would extend the no strike-no lockout period another 90 days during which intensive mediation efforts would take place under a special five-man board he would name.

FAIR TERMS

But if no settlement were reached in this time, the board could make its own determination of fair terms and order these into effect until Jan. 1, 1969.

The unions labeled the plan compulsory arbitration in hearings on the bill and urged Congress to reject it. Administration officials insisted it varied from compulsory arbitration in several ways.

The railroads said they would go along with the proposal as the only apparently feasible way to avoid a strike at this time.

Sensitors who supported the union's position tried unsuccessfully to amend the bill in the Labor Committee and said they expected to renew their efforts in the floor debate.

PUBLIC HEARING

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., lost narrowly in committee on a proposal to add a provision impounding the railroads' profits for the seizure period.

Yarborough said he was trying to find a way to "balance the scale" and not put all the pressure on the unions under the bill.

The unions contended that under the President's proposal they would lose the right to strike, would be forced to accept a government-decreed settlement of terms and undoubtedly would have to take lower pay scales than they could win with their own economic strength.

The Senate committee approved the measure 14 to 2 Tuesday after rejecting all major amendments.

The House Commerce Committee scheduled its final public hearings on the legislation for today.

Voters In Dallas Suburbs Defeat Regional Airport

By The Associated Press.

Stunned leaders in Dallas and Tarrant Counties looked for new ways today to advance the concept of a regional airport authority which was unexpectedly rejected by Dallas County voters Tuesday.

The proposal, which had no organized opposition, carried by nearly a 3 to 1 margin in Tarrant County but lost by 2,360 votes in more populous Dallas County.

Approval of both counties was needed. Creation of the board would have been the first step toward realization of a $250 million space-age airport midway between Fort Worth and Dallas. The target date for completion was 1972.

'TERRIBLE'

Mayor Erik Jonsson of Dallas said he was "deeply disappointed" at the outcome.

"Terrible!" commented Fort Worth's Mayor DeWitt McKinley.

Final, unofficial tabulations of the vote showed:

Tarrant County — 25,160 for the proposal and 8,747 against.

Dallas County — 24,125 for and 26,385 against.

The airport authority, which would have had the power of taxation, was the object of a massive campaign, directed by prominent figures and supported

TWO BLOCKS

"I feel that probably a lot of the against-voting was due to improper education by people in the area to the issue," he said.

"The people said we just don't want any more taxes. I think recent proposed tax increases had some effect on it."

On election day, Dallas officials came out with a tentative city capital improvement program totaling about $167.4 million.

The ballot containing the airport authority issue had on it that a tax of 75 cents per $100 evaluation could be assessed. This was required by legislative enactment of the statute authorizing a vote on an airport authority.

PORT ESSENTIAL

It was speculated that these two things could have reacted to the detriment of the proposal in Dallas County.

DEAR ABBY: Nearly six months ago a group of us men were lunching together at our club when a man (I'll call him Mr. Duck Hunter) said, "I've had a fantastic season and have some ducks put away for all of you."

Months passed and no duck dinner. Finally Mr. Duck Hunter asked me if I'd ever been invited to Mr. Big Shot's for that duck dinner. I told him I hadn't. Then he said he had sent 12 ducks to Mr. Big Shot's house per promise.

My question: Shouldn't someone ask Mr. Big Shot what happened to the ducks? And if so, who should ask?

DEAR DUCK LOVER: Yes, Mr. Duck Hunter should ask him. Either the idea of the duck dinner was just ducky with everybody except Mr. Big Shot's wife, or the birds ended up in the craws of Mr. Big Shot and all the Little Shots.

In any case, let this be a lesson to you. A bird in the hand is worth two in somebody else's freezer, so next time someone offers you a gift, don't let a go-between fowl you up.

Heart Disease Grant Awarded

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Kirklyn M. Kerr, instructor in veterinary pathology at Texas A&M University's College of Veterinary Medicine, has been awarded a $34,753 Health, Education and Welfare grant for a research project related to heart disease.

The research on the role of mycoplasma in heart disease will last three years.

"We hope we will be able to relate some points of the research to rheumatic fever," Dr. Kerr explained. "Exact causes of rheumatic fever have not been determined. With mycoplasma, which is known to cause heart disease in animals, we hope to show some relationship to the process of rheumatic fever."

Dr. Kerr defined mycoplasma as a micro-organism which falls between bacteria and viruses.

'Jose Jimenez' Sets Record

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

LAS VEGAS, Neb. (AP) — "At least I set a record. I'm the first man in history to sink an entire network."

That was rueful humor of Bill Dana as he discussed the demise of "The Las Vegas Show," which he headed for 26 programs. The two-hour nightly variety show came to an end last week when the United Network folded operations for lack of cash.

"The Las Vegas Show" was the first attraction of a proposed fourth network headed by former ABC boss Oliver Treyz. It turned out to be the last attraction as well.

"This appears to be the definite case of the operation was a success, but the patient died," said Dana in a post-mortem interview.

"I can only ascribe the failure of the enterprise to the consummate naïvete on the part of the backers. The whole thing went against all principles of sound fiscal policy. Even if you open a candy store, you should have enough capitalization to last more than three or four weeks."

United Network folded after a month of operation, and its passing was lamented by those who welcomed its promise as competition to the monolithic programming of the Big Three. Dana feels the failure could have been avoided.

"If they had blown the whistle earlier, I think the whole operation could have been saved," said the comedian whose portrayal of Jose Jimenez has overshadowed his other accomplishments as writer—the Steve Allen show—and producer—the Milton Berle show.

Ruby Predicted 'False Evidence'

DALLAS (AP) — Jack Ruby predicted before his death that he would be linked by "false evidence" to a conspiracy to assassinate President Kennedy, a former guard says.

"Jack told me that after his death there would be evidence of a conspiracy brought out that would link him with the assassination," Norman Hooten testified Tuesday in a Probate Court hearing.

"This will not be true," he said Ruby insisted.

The prediction was made public on the same day that newspapers published a report that Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison of New Orleans had termed Ruby a conspirator.

'CONSPIRATOR'

Garrison, in a document filed Monday, said Ruby and Lee Harvey Oswald met with another "conspirator" shortly before the Dallas assassination.

Hooten, who is attempting to have Probate Judge Ted Robertson accept as valid a will Ruby wrote in jail, said Ruby was always rational during their many conversations.

Hooten said Ruby once told him, "If I'm ever turned loose, I won't live three days after I hit the streets."

The former deputy is the beneficiary of a watch, a ring and a suit under the document opposed by the Ruby family. Robertson has accepted a will signed in 1950, leaving Ruby's estate to two sisters and nephew.

SPY SUSPECT

Hooten's lawyers tried to prove Tuesday that Ruby was sane when the document was written. Hooten denied that he ever heard Ruby tell of the slaughter of Jews, screams in the jail or plots to kill his family.

Ruby did suspect that another guard was "a spy or an agent," Hooten said.

In an effort to show Ruby's bargaining powers, Hooten's lawyers questioned him about trades with other prisoners. He saw Ruby trade a peanut candy bar and a cheese cracker to a prisoner for a book, Hooten said.

ON TOP

"Jack certainly came out on top in that," he added.

On cross examination, lawyer Phil Burleson pointed out the prisoner was one of his clients who had been in solitary confinement and shackled hand and feet because of suicidal tendencies.

Hooten said he took cuff links from Ruby and has notes from him and a letter to a Doris Warner, who could not be located.

Dr. Louis West, called by the parties opposed to the Hooten will or codicil, said he examined Ruby six times in 1964 and 1965 and decided that he was psychotic and had paranoid delusions. Dr. West is head of the department of psychiatry at the University of Oklahoma and a member of several national advisory councils.

Storms Rake Two Sections

By The Associated Press

Stormy weather, with tornadoes, strong winds, heavy rain and hail, raked central and western sections of the nation early today and Tuesday night.

The storm belt extended across scattered sections from Idaho to Illinois and south to Texas. Heavy rain fell in Florida earlier, and the Weather Bureau said the state's worst drought in 25 years was broken.

Tornadoes writhed in Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, South Dakota and Nebraska. No injuries were reported.

Half a dozen twisters were sighted in Nebraska and heavy rain and hail hit many areas in the state. Six to seven inches of rain drenched Verdugo, 60 miles southwest of Norfolk, and three to four inches doused the Hamlet area in Southwestern Nebraska. Hail pelted near Scottsbluff, damaging sugar beets, and a windstorm swept North Platte, downing some 100 power lines and uprooting trees.

A severe thunderstorm watch was in effect during the early morning hours for parts of extreme east Nebraska, west Iowa and extreme southwest Minnesota. Thunderstorms diminished in most of the Rocky Mountain region, the Great Lakes and in Florida.

During the night showers splashed areas from Washington and Nevada to West Texas and the Midwest, along the central Gulf Coast and in northern New England.

Wind gusts were clocked at 72 m.p.h. at Garden City, Kan., and up to 54 m.p.h. at El Paso. The mercury reached 90 degrees Tuesday in the arid Southwest and from Central and West Texas as northward to South Dakota. Skies were generally clear today in the Southwest desert region, interior sections of the northern Atlantic states.

Drowns Under Pier

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Troy Glenn Wernette, 17, of Corpus Christi drowned Tuesday at Padre Island. Witnesses said the youth was trying to retrieve a fishhook from under a pier.

HOUSEWIFE CLAIMS: 'Obscenity Makes Register Jingle'

AUSTIN (AP) — "Obscenity makes the cash register jingle," a San Antonio housewife told a legislative committee.

The same was said more than once about liquor and racetrack gambling.

Those were a few of the morality issues legislators looked at during the recent session and, for the most part, left alone.

Gov. John Connally's support lifted the liquor bottle out of the familiar brown bag but, in the closing days, the bag was closed again, leaving liquor-by-the-drink just a pleasant thought to drinking men.

BETTER RUN

Horse race betting got a better run.

Pari-mutuel betting on horses, outlawed in Texas since the 1930s, dangled on the Senate calendar for three months after clearing a committee 6-5. A House committee finally approved a similar proposal May 1, but neither the Senate nor the House voted directly on the issue.

Lawmakers want to know what the voters think about betting on horses. By a 20-11 vote in the Senate and 79-62 margin in the House, legislators approved a bill putting the pari-mutuel issue on primary ballots in 1968.

DEAD BILL

Connally, who spoke out for liquor-by-the-drink, waited until May 25, four days before the legislature quit, to admit the measure was dead. The House sponsors, Reps. John Field and Dick McKissack of Dallas, said the bill will be tried again in future sessions.

Mrs. Margie Montag of San Antonio, who pleaded with a House committee to curb obscenity, said that many books "tell our children that if you haven't tried abnormal sex, for Heaven's sake get with it." She testified on four bills, three of which would have removed the immunity motion pictures now have from the state's obscenity laws.

The bills passed the House but died in the Senate.

NO ACTION

Movie classification boards to preview films for young persons as "suitable" or "not suitable" was a topic which never got out of committee. An automatic rule put the measure in subcommittee, and that is where it remained when the legislature adjourned May 29.

Also left in subcommittee were proposals to prohibit mixed-sex massages and to protect male, as well as female, employees from immoral influences where they work.

Publicized student use of LSD, a hallucinatory drug, was the moving force behind a bill finally passed which provided maximum penalties of 10 years for pushing or manufacturing the drug and one year and a $1,000 fine for using LSD (lysergic acid diethylamide).

LIQUOR CUREFW

The legislature also passed a bill changing liquor store hours — to 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. Package stores now operate from 9 a.m. until 10 p.m.

Texas' liquor curfew was automatically extended, until 2 a.m. every day of the week, in counties with a population of 300,000 or more. In smaller counties, commissioners courts or city councils would have to approve the new curfew. The present curfew is midnight six days a week and 1 a.m. on Sundays.

The measure also will permit bars to open and beer to be sold beginning at noon on Sundays, instead of 1 p.m.

Truck Upset Kills Driver, Frees Cattle

ALICE, Tex. (AP) — A double-decked cattle truck overturned on Main Street in this South Texas town before dawn today, killing the driver and a number of the animals it carried.

The crash freed other cattle to roam the streets. Police were trying to round them up.

Milton Weidner of Blanco, the trucker, was killed instantly. It took workmen more than an hour to extricate the body. He was driving for the E. B. Little Trucking Co. of San Antonio.

Officers said the big truck skidded as it was leaving a US 281 overpass, hit a gas station sign, felled two electric light poles and upset.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening, after a couple of very good days, to make sure you sidestep any tensions whatever that arise since you, as well as others, are apt to break promises made or to feel under such tensions that you can do what puts you way behind the eightball. Keeping cool, calm, poised, controlled emotions such as:

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Be extremely careful in motion for there is bound to be trouble. Don't start an argument with another because you have some suspicion that is unfounded. Be sure of facts. Get on the beam and all.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You are apt to be foolish or extravagant with your money today, so put on your thinking cap; take it easy. Be more economical instead. Impress others with your good judgment, and be more serious with others.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Don't be forceful with others just because you feel frustrated. Be very tactful instead. Light entertainment is excellent for you. However, be sure that you are of a cheerful attitude with others.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Show that you are dignified and responsible instead of going off on some silly tangent, as you are tempted to do. Be occupied with helping one who is in real trouble. Show your generosity and kindness.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Instead of showing that you are a creature of mood, be dignified in social matters. Handle personal matters wisely and you avoid getting in to difficulty of one sort or another. Be prompt in business affairs.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Avoid acting in such a way that you irritate those around you and those with whom you do business. Worried matters need special handling. Fight now. Show that you can be most diplomatic.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Making drastic changes where your routine work is concerned would be most unwise, since you are pretty much inexperienced in whatever is new. However, you can study into new avenues of expression. Be sure.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) You want others to take business and other changes that are strictly your own responsibility and this would be most unwise. Backbite loyalty. Some idea he, or she, has could be most profitable.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can come to a fine understanding with some big personalities if you listen to what they have to suggest instead of forcing own ideas on them. Clear up quickly some business affairs that is vital. Be clever about it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You need steady hands and calm exterior for the work you now have to do, so take a little time to relax before you get into it. Over work can put you back considerably where your health is concerned. Be stable.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Instead of running off on some tangent or other, show close ties that you are devoted and loyal. Although you think you are the tops in your own line of endeavor, you really need more practical experience. Get it.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) A more modern mood, generally, is necessary especially in finances if you want to really please kin. Get down to basics. Give serious consideration to several deals and you find out where you have made mistakes.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow he or she will be one of those highly sensitive youngsters who early requires more rest than others and should avoid places and people in the outside world who like to argue and fight. Then the child becomes a successful one, since the use of the hands is very good as well as having a nimble, clever mind.

Debt Ceiling Hike Pressed By Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats are stressing uncertainties raised by the Middle East war as they press for House acceptance of a $29 billion boost in the national debt ceiling — biggest proposed single jump since World War II.

Republicans have called for defeat of the proposed new $365-billion borrowing limit, saying congressional rejection would force President Johnson to trim his budget.

As the House debate opened today on the debt ceiling measure, GOP leaders also saw defeat of the administration measure as a way to force Johnson to present the tax hike proposal he has mentioned but hasn't submitted to Congress.

SLUGGISH PACE

The economy's sluggish pace and the House Ways and Means Committee's heavy work schedule were cited by government officials as causing the delay in presentation of Johnson's proposed six per cent surtax on private and corporate income.

But sources said the request for a tax boost will be sent to Congress in plenty of time for the Ways and Means Committee — originator in Congress of all tax legislation — to consider it.

The Israeli-Arab fighting was mentioned repeatedly Tuesday as the House Rules Committee debated, and then cleared for action today, the bill setting the new ceiling.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the Ways and Means Committee argued a $29-billion deficit is possible, though not likely, on the basis of Vietnam costs and fiscal possibilities.

Son Of FDR Loses Race

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Elliott Roosevelt was out of office today as mayor of Miami Beach after losing a runoff race to Jay Dermer.

Dermer, 37, untested politically prior to a May 16 primary in which he placed second in a five-man field, smashed Roosevelt's bid for re-election.

Roosevelt, 56, son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, had said before the election that his political ambitions were limited to Miami Beach.

With machine ballots in all 25 precincts counted, Dermer had 10,364 votes to 8,289 for Roosevelt. Election officials said less than 600 absentee ballots remained to be tabulated.

The son of a restaurant owner, Dermer is president of the Miami Beach Bar Association. He had been given only a slight chance to win Tuesday's election.

Roosevelt's administration, Dermer charged, was pitted by bickering and fighting that spoiled its effectiveness.

Dermer trailed Roosevelt by almost 2,000 votes in the May 16 primary that trimmed the field in Miami Beach's nonpartisan election.

Roosevelt was elected mayor in 1965 when he defeated incumbent Melvin Richard, a veteran of 16 years in the city's political life.

7-Numeral Calling is coming to Big Spring

"AM" telephone number prefix to become "26"; last five digits won't change

ALL Big Spring telephone numbers will be changed from two letters and five numerals to seven numerals, effective with the issuance of a new telephone directory in July.

The prefix, "AM," will be changed to "26"—actually the same in dialing. The last five digits of each telephone number will remain the same. For example, "AM 7-7491" will become "267-7491."

Easy to Use, Fewer Errors

Big Spring will be one of the first Southwestern Bell cities in Texas to conform with the new nationwide numbering plan of all-numeral telephone numbers.

This type of numbering is common in many other parts of the nation.

Experience in other cities where all numeral telephone numbers have been introduced has indicated that such numbers are easy to use, and that fewer mistakes are made in dialing them.

Numbers in New Directory

The new numbers will be contained in the new July telephone directory.

Since "AM" and "26" are the same on the dial, customers may continue to use stationery and other printed material bearing the "AM" numbers. However, they will want to remember to use the new "26" numbers in reordering such material.

WE believe that you will find this new up-to-date numbering system simple and more trouble-free to use. And Big Spring, as in the past, will continue to be in the forefront of telephone progress.

A Devotional For The Day

We ... worship God in the spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus. (Philippians 3:3)

PRAYER: O God, to whom belong glory and majesty, dominion and power, we worship Thee. Incline our minds to thankfulness, our hearts to love, and our hands to serve, in Jesus' name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Not Exactly Behind Us

Full employment may be a palatable prospect but hardly a realistic one. It is rather surprising to hear a professional economist of such distinguished repute as Dr. William H. Shaw, assistant secretary of commerce for economic affairs, cheerfully proclaim that the economic strain of the Vietnam war, mainly imposed by the 1965-66 rapid buildup, "is now behind us." Even sharper skepticism must greet this rosy appraisal.

"We have demonstrated that we can conduct a large-scale military operation and at the same time continue to improve our standard of living, provide the essential national services and make progress against poverty. We are indeed fortunate."

We would indeed be fortunate if such were the case. But Dr. Shaw's pronouncement comes during a postwar recession that is busy slashing aid programs for our deteriorating cities, skimping on urgently needed public works, cutting back help to the poor in urban ghettos and depressed rural areas, eyeing a hefty tax increase in the face of a soaring

Encouraging Start

While it came as something of a surprise, the $18,000 appropriation for improvements at the scenic Mountain State Park is certainly welcome.

Many times that amount could be spent to advantage in refurbishing and expanding park facilities, but this is a good start. If we could just continue on that every year, soon there would be pronounced upgrading of the park.

The park, almost orphaned except for work by the state highway department in maintaining the scenic drive, has far more traffic than a majority of the state parks. Even counting an average of three to a car (many stations use a factor of five), the park enjoys one of the best traffic records. While it does not have a lake and fishing, as do some, it nevertheless does have the advantage of proximity to the city as well as being handy to US 80 and US 87. Despite limited accommodations, it is popular with campers as well as with casual drivers.

It has many natural features, among them possible sites of artifacts, markings from dim ages past, a rich history on the Comanche trail, and being located within gunshot of the site of the historic "big spring." Thus, we applaud this concrete expression of renewed interest on the part of the state.

Holmes Alexander The Decline Of A Great Office

WASHINGTON — Attorney General Ramsey Clark, who won't turn 40 until Dec. 18, wears a title that commenced in the reign of British King Edward IV (b. 1442-d. 1483).

Much responsibility, then and now, goes with the office, for in Anglo-American law and custom the attorney general "sues" for justice as the lawyer of the state. He should be, by the very definition of his rank, a wise and experienced prosecutor.

THE FIRST attorney general in the glorious tradition of English justice was pre-Columbus, but by the time of Queen Elizabeth I the New World was being civilized by laws and letters of the Old Lord Coke, most famous of the Elizabethan attorneys general, set the court ritual in which the chief national officer of the law was announced (in Latin): "Now comes the attorney general (by name) who prosecutes on behalf of our lady, the Queen." Elizabeth wisely substituted "veritate" (truth) for "domina regina" (queen), and under later authority the word "justitia" (justice) became permanent usage. Thus today the Latin motto on the seal of the Department of Justice reads: "Qui Pro Domina Justitia Sequitur. He who prosecutes for Lady Justice."

THE TITLE of attorney general was proudly taken over when the United States separated from the British

Billy Graham

Please explain predestination. I am a Christian and know that Jesus is my Savior. Does this mean that I was predestined to be saved?

M.B.

The Bible says: "The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is longsuffering to usward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance." (II Peter 3:9)

Unfortunately God has no power over the will of man. That is to say: He cannot save a person against his will, but at the same time, HE IS NOT WILLING THAT ANY SHOULD PERISH. He has made it possible for all men to be saved. But the Bible indicates that salvation depends upon man's willingness to be saved. It would be a kind of tyranny if God saved people against their will.

But His heart embraces all men, and in the word "whosoever will may come," is the universal invitation, with no one excluded. Were you predestined to be saved? Since, it is His will and desire that everyone be saved—in that sense you were of the elect. But this does not imply that if a person is lost, that God ordained it so. It is because that person was not willing to place himself within the scope of God's redemption, by yielding his will. The Bible indicates that God will do everything short of coercion to redeem people. But even He cannot save them against their will.

Biblical War Danger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Mideast war is a bridge between two worlds, the ancient world and the one we know, for it is linked to both and in a very real sense is like a chapter out of the Bible.

Over 3,000 years ago the wandering Hebrews saw Palestine, called the land of Canaan then, wanted it, fought the Canaanites for it, and conquered them, making it their homeland.

LATER UNDER their hero King David, they subdued the neighboring Philistines, too. Today the Jews have another hero against the enemy, Gen. Moshe Dayan.

Under his leadership in the brief war of 1956 the Israelis smashed through Egypt to the Suez Canal, although they later withdrew.

NOW ONCE again in the crisis with Egypt last week Dayan was brought in by popular demand as defense minister and a few days later the war began with the Israelis once more smashing through the Egyptians.

In Dayan's day, as in David's, the basic issue was real estate, the strip of land called Palestine from which the Jews had been dispersed by the Romans about 1,900 years ago.

They had been wanderers until 1948 when, with the blessing of the United Nations, they were allowed once more to call Palestine their home, or at least a part of it, and set up their own government there under the name Israel.

THE ARABS have never accepted this intrusion into their particular world of the Middle East with the creation of the Jewish state. Although the Moslem and Jewish religions became a towering factor in the Jewish-Arab relations, it was Palestine itself which remained the central issue.

In this sense the war is a continuation of the past and is not an ideological war like the one in Vietnam where the United States is fighting against Communist domination of the country.

But where the Mideast war

Hal Boyle Turn Daydreams Into Reality

NEW YORK (AP) — "What'll it do?" children often ask on a rainy day.

They are in a funk. Their powers of invention and imagination have deserted them, leaving them desperately bored.

Growups, too, sometimes find themselves in the same plight. Monotony turns their lives into one long, rainy day, and they don't quite know what to do with themselves.

This is ironically sad, for, of course, there are many wonderful things worth doing if they'd just turn on their brain power and think a bit. Why not, for example, take a vacation and try to make a few of the forgotten daydreams of their youth come true?

HERE IS a guide list of possible goals, built around the mental escapes of many an office swivel chair daydreamer:

Buy an ugly, discarded thoroughbred foal with a group of pals and see if you can't turn him into a Kentucky Derby winner.

Take up karate and see what happens, after a month of training, when you try to break a brick with the side of your hand.

Write Lyndon Johnson and ask him point-blank either to invite you to a White House dinner or declare publicly that you are a social disaster area.

To Your Good Health Proper Pulse Rate And How It Varies

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is a normal pulse rate? How much does it vary with increased or decreased activity? Does it vary much in individuals?—In youth and middle age?—G. W.

If you'll rephrase the question to make it "average pulse rate" instead of normal, I can answer.

The average for an adult is in the 70's or low 80's (in very small children it is much higher).

For an adult, a pulse rate in the 50's or low 60's can be quite normal, and so can one in the high 80's. A great deal depends on the person's makeup. If someone with a normally slow pulse developed a rapid one, it would be a warning that needed investigation.

Pulse rate, in that respect, is very much like blood pressure. Just knowing a reading without knowing anything else about the individual doesn't mean a great deal of anything — unless, of course, the figure is sky high or fantastically low.

That's why I take a dim view of these do-it-yourself kits for taking your own blood pressure. Unless you know what the readings mean, and how to interpret any changes, about all you accomplish is finding something to worry about, without doing any good.

Pulse rate may increase after eating and customarily decreases during sleep. Excitement, fright or such emotions can make your heart go pitty-pat—meaning that the pulse rate rises, of course.

The result of exercise is variable. The rate may rise to the 90's or even 100 or more after exercise, depending on how vigorous it is, but it should return to pre-exercise level within about two to four minutes of rest.

A person who is chronically anxious may have a rapid pulse rate without any physical reason. Anger, too, can increase the rate.

Except for the very young, there is no predictable variation in pulse rate due to age.

Illnesses of various sorts can, of course, affect the pulse rate. Those associated with fever, thyroid and other glandular disorders; anemia; and heart and lung diseases frequently bring a rapid pulse rate. And certain heart disorders can cause an unduly low pulse.

Counting your own pulse usually gives a rate faster than if someone else takes it.

To learn of new treatment for this cruel and painful disease, write for Dr. Molner's booklet, "Gout — The Modern Way to Stop It." To receive a copy, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim Marvelous Medicines

One day I looked up, and there it was on the top shelf, big as life: "Tanlac." This took me back to the days when W. T. Strange, a budding young architect here, extolled the virtue of this nostrum with such eloquence that he became "Tanlac" Strange.

SO I ASKED Joe Heddleston, who has this among his collection of old medicines, about this wonderful tonic. It turned out to be a relative newcomer—having reached its pinnacle about three to four decades ago. In its prime it enjoyed all the glories attributed later to Haifaol, etc.

But when it comes to medicines—well, Tanlac wasn't really in it compared with a number of others in the Heddleston collection. Among them are the specifics, which were about as specific as a scattergun. For instance, one of them was good for catarrh, chronic diarrhea, gonorrhea and indolent ulcers, among other ailments. Perhaps a column can be devoted to the specifics alone one of these days.

CAMPETRODIN was good for swelling and inflammation of the glands, joints, and tissues, "especially valuable as an embrocation in Pharyngitis... and in absorbing boils and carbuncles." Dr. B. F. Sherman's Pricklyash Bitters with buchu, button snake, senna, and sodium acetate was extolled as a delightful approach to quelling "irregulars in the stomach and bowels." It also was a "stimulant to the stomach."

Among the early wonders for banishing muscular aches and pains, and assorted ailments, was Merrell's Penetrating Oil, good for "toothache, lame back and stiff joints." DeWitt's Golden Liniment was "a soothing application for man or beast," which makes you wonder if truth in adver-

David Lawrence Moscow Has Key To Middle East

WASHINGTON — This is the time when it's necessary to read carefully between the lines to make up one's mind as to whether there is going to be a big war or a limited war.

Certain things give the impression that the Arabian countries and Israel are about to fight to a suicidal finish for both sides. But other signs are emerging that the genius in diplomacy with the best "face-saving" device to offer may perform a service in preventing more widespread hostilities.

LIGHT ON the subject was shed by the significant phrasing of a United Press International dispatch from London which evidently was based on some conversations with diplomats from either the Soviet Union or the Communist countries of Eastern Europe. It reads in part as follows:

"Russia was reported today to have hinted to its Syrian and Egyptian allies they must not expect direct Soviet support if they start a 'holy war' for extermination of Israel. There was no official confirmation of these reports. But diplomatic circles gave them credence in the light of Kremlin indications to the West that Russia does not want war in the Middle East."

"MOSCOW IS bent on all-out backing of the Arabs against what is termed in the Communist-Arab jargon 'American - promoted Israeli aggression' and was believed ready to pour more arms into Syria and the United Arab Republic, if need be. But Moscow appeared unwilling to become a direct party to Arab aggression in the event of a so-called 'holy war' triggered by Arab elements and aimed at Israel's extermination."

John Cuniff World Needs Middle East Oil

NEW YORK (AP) — Oil now accounts for half the volume of all international seaborne trade, and so the Arab-Israeli war and the Suez Canal closing have their immediate effect on world business as well as diplomacy.

The situation is far different, however, from that of 1956, when the canal also was closed and the pipeline flow blocked.

OVER A SHORT period of time, the world is less vulnerable to a shut-off in supply because oil now is produced in areas thought barren a decade or so ago.

But over a long period the tremendous increase in world demand may offset this. Without question the world needs the oil of the Middle East, where the largest reserves are situated and the greatest production increases are being made.

THERE IS another aspect to the problem, though. The Middle East is equally dependent on oil — the export of it. In the event of a general stoppage of the oil flow, the critical question is this: Who can hold out longer, the supplier or the user? It is one of the few factors similar to 1956.

The biggest changes in the past decade are in the increased demand, from both developed and underdeveloped nations, in transportation and in the discovery and exploitation of reserve oil on all continents.

AS A RESULT, Western Europe actually gets a smaller percentage of

Stop Signs Recommended

New traffic stop signs will be blossoming out in the next few weeks, if the recommendations of the Big Spring Traffic Commission are followed.

Tuesday afternoon, the commission called for a stop sign at Thirteenth and Runnels, to stop traffic on Thirteenth, Sherman Smith, who lives near the intersection, told the commission that something is needed at the corner, due to several "near - wrecks" recently.

Ernest Lillard, public works director, said traffic counts were made at the intersection for four days, and indicated traffic is heaviest in the afternoons, with 125 to 84 cars passing through on both streets. Traffic favors Runnels, he said, about 3-2.

Don Crockett made the motion for the stop sign, with Coy Nalley making the second, and all members present favoring the sign.

Lillard also recommended stop signs be placed favoring the newly paved streets on the North Side. These include Northwest Fifth, from Main to San Antonio; North Ayford, from Fifth to the Lamesa Highway; North San Antonio, from Fifth to IS 20.

All these should be through streets, he said, and he recommended traffic crossing them should be stopped. The commission agreed, on a motion by George Weeks and second by Paul Soldan.

Monahans Death Case Reversed

AUSTIN (AP) — The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed and remanded today the murder conviction of Delbert Winston of Monahans because the trial court judge assessed his punishment.

Jones was convicted of killing Martha Garcia Nov. 19, 1965, "with an instrument and weapon, the exact kind and character to the grand jury unknown."

The state had made known its intention to seek the death penalty. After the jury convicted Jones of murder with malice, Jones' lawyer consulted with his client and the district attorney and agreed to let the judge assess punishment.

Others bidding for the lift were Commercial Body Corp. of San Antonio, $9,265.00; McCabe-Powers Body Co. of St. Louis, Mo., $8,753.70; Utility Equipment Co. of Oklahoma City, $8,942.85.

BIG SPRING BUSINESS REVIEW

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 7, 1967

Spacious Lanes Offered At Bowl-A-Rama

Twenty-four lanes, a free nursery, a grill, and private lessons are just a few of the many offerings of the Bowl-A-Rama.

Friendly Atmosphere Provided For Bowling

The attractive, friendly atmosphere and helpful personnel at the Bowl-A-Rama, located on US 80 east, are a winning combination as the 1,000-odd people who bowl there each week can testify.

Quality service and equipment in the modernized plant are two of Bowl-A-Rama's many features. Keith Henderson, manager of the bowling lanes, invites all Big Spring residents to come into the relaxing atmosphere, for individual bowling or for extra fun, party bowling.

Not only does Bowl-A-Rama provide the most modern lanes around — shoes and bowling balls are also available to rent for a small fee. Brunswick is the type of well-known bowling equipment that Bowl-A-Rama specializes in, Henderson said.

If you're hungry before you bowl, or perhaps after an exciting bout, stop by Bowl-A-Rama's spacious grill, where a variety of sandwiches and beverages, plus all types of snacks await you.

And, for mothers who like to bowl with their friends, or for families that like to bowl together, as a group, a popular feature of the Bowl-A-Rama is the free nursery, compliments of Bobby Layne and Tommy Krueger Jr., owners.

Don't know how to bowl? That is never a problem — everyone can, and should, learn to bowl for healthful relaxation, the bowling experts say. Private lessons are available, and interested persons may call Henderson at AM 7-7484 to receive additional information.

Concrete Work Is Made Easy By Clyde McMahon

Thinking of putting in a concrete drive or possibly adding a room to the back of your home? The Clyde McMahon Concrete Co., 605 N. Benton, has all the tools needed for "doing it yourself."

Huge mixing hoppers have been set up on the lot where trucks just back under the chutes and load in a hurry. These provide the proper mixture for all kinds of jobs, including foundations, bridges, culverts, sidewalks, driveways, curbs and gutters, street pavement and anything else needed for building with concrete.

The firm features White-man finishing machines and tools to complete the work on the poured concrete. Rotary blades finish off the mixture to the proper surface far differently from when it was done with trowels or a piece of "two by four."

McMahon's also handles Ever-ready brick saws and blades, expansion-joint material, wire mesh for reinforcement, steel rods, Richmond snap ties, Remington stud drivers for driving studs of nails into concrete, wheel barrows for brick, tile or concrete, vibrators for setting and eliminating air pockets in concrete pourings, and all types of small tools for concrete or mason work.

The plant, located on the Snyder Highway just north of Big Spring, is open daily from 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. except on Saturday, when hours are 7 a.m. to noon. There is a competent staff of employees to help customers with all types of service.

Special emphasis on the introductory flight lesson by Big Spring Aircraft, Inc. is part of a concerted nationwide "Discover the Sport of Flying" program which has been launched by Piper Aircraft Corporation to give non-flyers an opportunity to try flying. Big Spring Aircraft is a Piper dealer.

The aircraft used in the program is a far cry from the familiar Piper Cub. Known to many as the new Piper Cherokee is a sleek all-metal, two or four passenger airplane with many advanced features to add safety and ease to flying. It has modern low wing design which permits a wide, super stable landing gear and lower center of gravity. It has a tricycle landing gear... two main wheels and a large steerable nose wheel... which helps eliminate the old-fashioned "ground loop" and do much to simplify take-offs and landings.

The special introductory flight lesson offered by Big Spring Aircraft carries a price of just five dollars, considerably less than the actual value of dual flight instruction involved if it were charged at normal rates. Lessons are offered at the local airport seven days a week, right up to sunset.

Lloyd reports a noticeable surge in interest in local flying and that it is matching the national trend which has seen the yearly rate of new student pilots starts double in just five years.

Special Flight Lesson Offered At Airport

A special introductory flight lesson tailored to show the non-flyer the rudiments of flight is being offered by Big Spring Aircraft, Inc. located at Howard County Airport.

John H. Loyd, manager of Big Spring Aircraft, Inc. said the special introductory flight was designed to let people who have never flown an airplane see what it's like to handle the controls of a modern airplane.

Loyd said the special flight includes a pre-flight indoctrination on the controls and their functions. During the flight itself, the "first-flight" is put in the left-hand seat of the Piper Cherokee, the pilot's seat, with a government-rated flight instructor sitting alongside with dual controls.

After take-off, the instructor shows the effect of the controls on the flight of the airplane — wheel back to climb, wheel forward to descend, wheel to the left to bank to the left, to the right to go to the right.

"Within several minutes we find the average person can be handling the airplane straight and level with ease and confidence," Loyd reports. "Making gentle turns also comes quickly."

Stock Market Trade Heavy

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued higher early this afternoon and hopes for an end to the Arab-Israeli war. Trading was fairly heavy. The market surged higher from the start but trimmed its gains by mid-day.

Gainers outnumbered losers by about five to one as trading continued in the afternoon, trimming the ample six-to-one ratio of the early morning.

The continued Israeli military successes were a stimulant to market prices, making it less and less likely that the United States would be involved in the crisis. As the session wore on, however, the impetus of this news began to wane away as the investment community began to anticipate the difficulties of arranging a real peace.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.92 at 868.63.

In the first half hour the average was up 9.13 points. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 2.0 at 321.6 with industrials up 3.6, rails up 1.8 and utilities off 4.

The international oils continued to advance.

Lorillard and Ogden Corp. advanced more than a point as they took their places among the most active issues of the day.

Colorful Club Due For Rodeo

Precision riding at its colorful best will be a feature of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo, Charlie Creighton, president, announced Wednesday.

The Santa Rosa Palomino Club of 42 riders here for the parade and for an appearance in the western extravaganza.

The Santa Rosa club dates its history back to 1949 with 29 riders. Four years later it began developing a pattern of precision riding drills and has achieved national prominence in this field.

Besides having been in a number of states, ranging from New Mexico and Colorado to Oklahoma, the Santa Rosa Club appeared on national television in 1964 when it participated in the Cotton Bowl parade.

Members use matching brides, breast collars, flags, shirts, etc., and all ride patched golden Palomino horses. Small wonder that last April it was named the outstanding riding club in the nation.

Science And You How About Hibernation?

By DR. LEONARD REIFFEL
 Hibernation is still a fascinating mystery to a lot of people, including physiologists and other scientists. As a result, a good deal of research is being conducted on the subject and it's not hard to see why.

Imagine what would happen if a man could hibernate. We might, for example, develop methods for living hundreds of years. In principle at least, some people could go to sleep during the cold winter and wake up only for the pleasant spring and summer seasons.

Perhaps more practically, the national space agency is interested in hibernation because it might be a key to helping astronauts stand the boredom of very long trips into the outer reaches of our solar system, say, to Jupiter, or beyond.

In some of the latest work on hibernation, chemicals from hibernating ground squirrels have been used to make cats, who don't ordinarily hibernate, go into a deep state of hibernation. The technique is as interesting as it is simple. Basically, all that is done is to form an extract of substances from a hibernating squirrel's brain. This material is then injected into a cat. One squirrel can furnish enough of this strange material to send a cat into a deep winter sleep for something like two days. During the hibernation period, the cat's blood flow is drastically reduced, its body temperature is lowered, and all the normal processes of life are radically slowed down.

These effects are characteristic of hibernation. The nature of the substance in the squirrel brain has not yet been determined in detail, but there is little doubt that it can be isolated sooner or later. Thus, some day, it is conceivable that we may be injecting

Sun And Fun In Texas Helps Ease Tax Burden

By GARTH JONES, Associated Press Writer

Winter-weary tourists seeking sun and fun in Texas may seem a far step from the state's financial situation but they actually play a part in Gov. John Connally's plans for a 1968 special legislative session.

How much the tourists spend in Texas this year and a part of next year may play a large part in determining new tax needs at the special session.

BANNER YEAR — There is considerable proof that Connally put off the special session until 1968, probably after the May primaries, in hopes the state's revenue prospects would improve. A special session this fall might have been better for his political image but the money outlook was not as good.

The Texas tourist season is just starting but there is every prospect of its surpassing the banner totals of 1966. Connally and everyone else look for something special in tourist revenues in 1968, with San Antonio's HemisFair, the Olympic Games in Mexico City, and maybe even a national political convention in Houston.

$86 MILLION — In 1966, Texas received more than $86 million in direct taxes from out-of-state visitors who spent more than $1 billion on lodging, gasoline, souvenirs, and other items. This tourist spending compares to only $440 million spent in 1961.

The 1966 out-of-state spending was 18.1 per cent more than 1965. Tourist experts see no reason why the same increase cannot be expected for 1967—and perhaps even more for 1968.

The average spending per day by persons visiting Texas in 1966 was $8.50, a total of 93 cents more than the average person spent in 1965. The average party—and tourist travel in families and groups — spent more than $25.52 a day from money earned somewhere else but spent in Texas.

NEW EFFORTS — Just in recent years has Texas been gathering statistics on its tourist trade and spending some money to improve it.

In 1966 the Highway Department found that 14.1 million persons from out-of-state traveled to Texas by car and spent $723.5 million. For the same period the Texas Tourist Council, a privately financed concern of travel-related businesses, estimated more than 3 million persons visited the state by commercial carriers and spent $356 million.

New and special efforts are being made to improve these figures — and tax revenue — for 1967 and 1968.

VACATION GUIDE — More than one million persons saw the Texas travel exhibit that appeared in major shows throughout the nation and Canada last year. A special contest is underway for out-of-state tourists, offering an expense paid trip to Texas as the grand prize. Readers of 34 million merchandise stamp catalogs will find the State Fair of Texas in glorious color on the cover.

And for the Texans who might be thinking of going to some other state for a vacation, the Texas Tourist Development Agency has just published a special vacation guide. It features 12 detailed vacation trips within the state, where the tourist spending, and tax money, will be just as welcome from the natives as from the visitors from across the border.

JFK Half Dollars Gift Surprises Nun

SAN ANGELO (AP) — When Sister Placidia wound up the 1967 spring term as a teacher in Holy Angels Catholic School here, her students and their parents presented her with a surprise gift—a money tree loaded with Kennedy half dollars.

Prompting the gift was the nun's impending journey to her home town, Waxford, Ireland. That Irish town is just a short distance from the late President's home, and his relatives there are friends of Sister Placidia.

Brush Battle Being Waged In Vietnam

By PEGGY SIMPSON Associated Press Writer

Man's most potent herbicides have been treed from killing mesquite trees and brush in the United States to defoliating Viet Cong hangouts in Vietnam.

For decades, agricultural scientists have led the fight against the range-devouring mesquite and scrub oak brush. Now the weed control specialists have taken the fight to Vietnam, bent on exposing the Viet Cong guerrillas by withering away their dense foliage in the same manner as the mesquite was withered through chemicals.

CONG HIDEOUTS

In mid-February, the government committed itself to more intensive defoliation efforts by ordering from U. S. chemical firms as much of the potent herbicides as could be produced.

"These work real well on the thickets of Vietnam," said Dr. Rupert Palmer, an agronomist specializing in weed control at Texas A&M University in College Station.

"A plane sprays the liquid on the brush where the Viet Cong hide. You use about 5 or 10 gallons of water per acre mixed with enough of the chemical to kill the plants—about one or one and one-half pounds of the active chemical per acre," Palmer said.

NOT AVAILABLE

The Defense Department in Washington said 5 million gallons of the chemical 24-D were sent to Vietnam through the fiscal year ending June 30.

In addition, there are the chemicals 24-D and a new Dow Chemical product which reportedly merges the brush-killing characteristics of all other herbicides, named Tordon.

The result of the government call-up of such herbicides has been to virtually eliminate the domestic supply of them.

"I tried to buy a gallon of 24-D to kill the mesquite in my pasture and I couldn't—the store said it was all being sent to Vietnam," said one surprised rancher.

WILL BE WORSE

The Texas Department of Agriculture said the pinch on Texas brush battlers was slight this spring compared to what it will be next year, when foliage emerges and spraying conditions are ideal, if the supplies are still tight.

"Mesquite shades the land and takes water and all nutrients from the soil and in addition isn't very desirable as food for livestock," Palmer said, compared to a lush growth of grass which could be planted if the mesquite was removed.

"One dose of one of these herbicides will usually kill a mesquite or a large oak tree forever," he said, but, particularly with the mesquite trees, the regrowth from germinating seeds is ruthfully rapid.

FEW COMPLAINTS

Palmer said he had heard few complaints about current shortages of brush-killing chemicals. He predicted the spraying of Vietnam would be completed before the home situation became critical.

Retailers, however, said they had lost thousands of dollars in sales.

H. A. "Red" Ford of the Agricultural Chemical Co. of Dallas said he had held back a dribbling of supplies for regular customers "but we just don't get any more in. People lived a long time without it, before World War II, and I guess they'll have to again. Before this they used bulldozers to chain out the mesquites so the grass could grow."

"SORRY"

O. G. Otwell, sales manager for Chipman Chemical Co. in Houston, a wholesaler, said he had to write "sorry, we're all out" notes to retailers who had ordered several thousand gallons of 24-D that were taken by the government when it moved wholesaler to the market.

Charles McMillin, district sales manager for Armour Agricultural Chemical Co. in Dallas, said "We've lost as much as 10,000 gallons in sales or about $50,000 worth."

"We'll just do without and hope we can get it later," said McMillin.

"But I think everyone understands that if the diversion helps the situation over there, we all are willing to wait."

Ranger Chief Says His Men Needed In Rio

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP)—"When the outside agitators get out of here, there won't be any need for the Rangers," Capt. A. Y. Allee of the Texas Ranger force told three state senators Tuesday.

The veteran peace officer and Starr County Judge M. J. Rodriguez met with the legislators and newsmen.

Sens. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas, Don Kenard of Fort Worth and A. R. Schwartz of Galveston also talked with officials of the United Farm Workers and a lawyer for La Casita Farms, one of the employers with whom the union seeks a contract covering its members.

Rangers, sent here at the request of local authorities, have made 65 arrests since the harvest of melons started in Starr County. Union spokesmen said picketing and other union activities were being intensified in their year-old campaign because the melons are highly perishable.

MASS ARRESTS

"The people of Starr County are glad to have us here," said Allee, a Ranger for 35 years.

He was asked about mass arrests at Mission, where pickets appeared as a freight train was started to leave with a trainload of melons.

"I don't think they (the union members) have the right to picket the train," Allee said.

Schwartz had said before the conference that "we want to find out why nobody gets tried."

Mauzy observed that while court records indicate about 100 arrests since union activities began a year ago, only 12 persons have been tried.

"The prosecution is ready and the court is ready," Dr. Rodriguez said.

PACKING RIFLE

He told the legislators that a case was continued recently because union lawyer Jim McKeithan of Mission left the Valley for military reserve duty.

Rangers and sheriff's deputies found Agdaleno Dimas packing a rifle last Thursday night when they went to arrest him on misdemeanor charges. Allee informed the senators.

A McAllen physician, Dr. Ramiro Casso, said Dimas required hospital treatment for a brain concussion and other injuries after his release from jail.

"I haven't hurt anyone and I don't intend to," Allee said.

Crusader Jet Lost Despite Fighting Lull

SAIGON (AP)—The U.S. Command reported today that fighting in Vietnam had slackened to its lowest level this year with only scattered ground skirmishes and relatively few air strikes against North Vietnam.

Despite the lull, losses were sustained in small fights and a Navy Crusader jet was lost to ground fire over the Communist North. The pilot parachuted and was picked up in the Tonkin Gulf only 18 minutes after he splashed down. It was the 57th U.S. combat plane reported lost in North Vietnam.

RAILS RAID

Officers denied that the lull in the war was due in any way to the fighting in the Middle East, but it appeared that neither side viewed this as a propitious moment for any dramatic moves.

American warplanes penetrated into the heavily fortified heartland of North Vietnam again Tuesday, raiding rail lines leading from Hanoi to Red China. Only 88 missions were flown, compared with about 125 on recent normal days.

NO CONTACT

The U.S. Command reported that not since the first of the year had there been a comparable lull in the ground war. For the past four days the U.S. military communique has said, "No significant contact with the enemy was reported."

U.S. officers volunteered no reason for the lapse in significant ground fighting. They said, however, that intelligence indicated the Communist forces have evidently been girding for battle in three areas—the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam, the central highlands and the Mekong Delta south of Saigon.

Light contacts were reported in all three areas Tuesday, but there was no developing pattern.

SAMPANS SHELLED

Along the demilitarized zone, the cruiser Boston shelled Communist storage areas and then moved south to catch an evident supply Red attempt to move supplies across the Ben Hai River, which bisects the zone.

The cruiser reported wreaking havoc among a fleet of 25 sampans crossing the river.

In the air war, U.S. headquarters reported jets again plied three rail lines leading north from Hanoi—one to the northwest up the Red River delta, one to the northeast and one short spur running 40 miles north into the Thai Nguyen industrial complex.

There was no report of any dogfights with Communist MIGs, although raids into this area nearly always bring the Red jets into the sky.

Lad Wages New Leukemia Fight

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Little Frankie Hayes' new battle with leukemia goes on today although it was once believed he had been cured of the fatal blood disease.

The administrator at Bristol Hospital, J. R. Self, said the 9-year-old boy was in good condition. Young Hayes has been hospitalized since May 18.

The Wadley Research Institute had been treating the boy with the drug L-asparaginase and had announced that he possibly was cured.

Dust Swirls Near Lubbock

By The Associated Press

Showers died down and violent winds blew in the Panhandle Plains sector of West Texas early today as a new Pacific front approached through New Mexico.

Dust swirled high in the sky around Lubbock, lowering visibility to one mile for a time.

The Weather Bureau at Amarillo reported unofficial estimates of wind velocity up to 75 miles per hour—minimum hurricane force—around Dimmitt in Castro County. Authorities there had no word of any damage.

Dalhart measured .61 inch of rain. About one-half inch fell around Hereford and Muleshoe, and there were traces at Amarillo and Midland. Mushy hall accompanied the Hereford shower.

Skies were clear in most other sections of the state as moderate winds blew from the south.

Forecasters expected the cool front to push into Texas by evening and a fresh round of thunderstorms was promised over the northwest section. Occasional showers were predicted in other areas.

Continued warm weather was in prospect throughout the state. Top temperatures Tuesday ranged up to 98 degrees at Presidio in the Big Bend country. Chidress recorded 96, El Paso and Wink 95, and Wichita Falls 94.

Workmen Rescue 16 In Salt Mine

GRAND SALINE, Tex. (AP)—Sixteen salt miners emerged safe and smiling Tuesday from nine tense hours trapped 700 feet underground, after an accident in the elevator shaft left a heavy drill suspended high above them.

The Morton Salt Co. miners were alerted to the emergency at 10 a.m. when a six-foot square, 10-foot-high drill being lowered by a freight elevator tilted and wedged itself across the shaft.

During fruitless efforts to right the equipment, the cable attaching the drill to the bottom of the remote-controlled elevator snapped.

HOLES CUT

As the miners held their breath and took cover, the drill crunched through one supporting crossbar and then stopped, dangling 610 feet above the mine floor.

For the next eight hours, the miners left work along the 12-mile maze of tunnels through the great salt domes to cluster in protected areas within yelling distance of the mine superintendent, Ray Rucker, near the elevator shaft.

Up above, three repairmen cut holes in the floor of the elevator and lowered it to just above the jammed drill, then labored to secure it to the elevator and jostle it gingerly free of the shaft walls.

NERVOUS RELATIVES

The mooning was completed at 6 p.m.

During the next hour the men watched the cautious downward slide of the elevator, unloaded the drill when it touched bottom, and in two shifts rode the elevator to daylight and their nervous relatives.

Rucker, the mine superintendent and a veteran of the West Virginia coal mines, said the men were cheerful.

JOKES REPEATED

"They knew the danger involved, that the equipment might fall and tear out the elevator shaft, but after the mechanism was once tied back to the elevator, we all relaxed," he said.

"Time goes awfully slow down there and there wasn't much we could do but pitch washers and tell all the jokes we knew," he said.

J. A. Brumbaugh, the plant manager from neighboring Mineola, said there never was any danger to the men.

He said in an emergency the miners could have been evacuated, one by one, through a shaft usually used only for rock salt, but through telephone conversations he decided to keep the men below so they could unload the drill once it was latched up again and lowered.

Spanish - American Raiders Hunt Called Off By Troops

CANJILON, N.M. (AP)—National Guard troops called off today their search for a band of Spanish-American fugitives in the rugged northern New Mexico mountains.

State Police Chief Joe Black said 25 of his officers would remain in the area, but the nearly 400 National Guard troops and other officers were being sent home.

FUGITIVES FLEE

The some 30 fugitives fled into the Carson National Forest near Canjilon Monday after raiding a rural courthouse, wounding two officers and holding several persons hostage.

Black said he believed some of the group's leaders still were hiding in the forested hills and canyons, but that others might have slipped through police lines.

GUNFIRE

The Spanish-Americans raided the Rio Arriba County courthouse at Tierra Amarilla Monday, with their gunfire critically wounding two officers. The group was tracked by state police, deputies and National Guardsmen into the Carson National Forest east of Canjilon.

After the arrest Tuesday of one well-known member of the group, Gerry Noll of Albuquerque, State Police Chief Joe Black said it was believed the fugitives might be making their way south toward the Rio Arriba County community of Coyote.

Noll, who was under federal indictment for assaulting federal officers and conversion of government property, was arrested south of Canjilon in Navajo Canyon.

SHOWDOWN THREAT

The Spanish-Americans group contends its members are heirs to vast regions of the southwest under old Spanish land grants. They took over a campground in the Carson Forest last October for about four days to press these claims.

Their leader, Reyes Tijerina, had threatened a showdown force at Coyote last Saturday but 11 of his lieutenants were arrested the previous night and no incidents occurred.

SURGERY

Both officers remained in critical condition. State policeman Nick Sais must undergo surgery for a chest wound. Jailer Elugio Salazar is hospitalized with head and shoulder wounds.

Some 50 persons, termed by police "sympathizers" to the group, were rounded up Monday and kept for 24 hours in a barbed wire livestock pen guarded by National Guardsmen.

They were released, Black said, because some of them did not have food and because "they no longer posed a threat."

Among those in the pen was Tijerina's son, Reyes Jr., in his 20s.

The National Guard units were equipped with two M42 tanks but there was no 40mm ammunition for their guns. Adj. Gen. John P. Jolly said he would not use the ammunition if he had it, that the tanks were only to "prove that we mean business."

The guardsmen were armed with rifles. Jolly said he had orders "to shoot to kill, if necessary."

Gospel Meet Opens Friday

With the West Texas Regional Convention of the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship just days away, J. D. Crawford, convention chairman, reported that he expected "a real outpouring of God's Spirit upon the meeting."

The three-day meeting, beginning Friday, is open to everyone.

"Hearts of men and women are suddenly bursting aflame with a new and unusual dedication to God," Crawford added, "and with a compelling desire to witness to the lost, and the power to do so."

Crawford emphasized that the convention was for the purpose of "allowing dedicated men and women to witness to the power of God in their lives." He named a few of these as the Rev. James H. Brown, Presbyterian minister from Pennsylvania, Dr. Derek Prince, Chicago, Ill., Rep. Ellis, Tulsa, Okla., Jerry Jensen of Los Angeles, Calif., John Mendenhall, the Rev. and Mrs. J. Samuel Phillips, Lubbock, R. Milton Stolz, Dallas, Ted Beckett, Irving, Don Hurley, Denver, Colo., and Bob Buess, Southern Baptist minister from Houston.

Crawford said that Buess, for 20 years a Southern Baptist minister, would be speaking in one of the main services, being held in the Scharbauer Hotel in Midland.
