

Crewmen Claim: Israeli Planes Deliberately Attacked Ship

VALLETTA, Malta (AP) — Crewmen of the U.S. Navy communications ship Liberty have testified that they believe Israeli planes and torpedo boats deliberately attacked the vessel off Israel's coast June 8, a responsible source said Saturday.

The source said the crewmen based their belief on the intensity of the attack and also testified before a Navy inquiry board that the Israelis had plenty of time to identify the Liberty.

Thirty-Four Killed

Thirty-four men on the Liberty were killed, 25 of them in a hold struck by a torpedo. Seventy-five were wounded. The Navy board is holding closed sessions on the attack aboard the vessel while it is being repaired in a Malta drydock.

Israeli officials have apologized for the attack and have said it was made in error. The U.S. government has protested the incident but has accepted the apology.

No Flag Charge Denied

Israeli sources have said the Liberty was flying no flag. Defense Department officials in Washington have denied this. Some have speculated that Israeli officers, unfamiliar with the Liberty's design, may have thought it was an Egyptian ship masquerading under American colors.

The Washington officials declined comment Saturday on the reported testimony of the Liberty's crewmen.

Remarkable Accuracy

A converted freighter, the Liberty bristles with radio antennae but has only four 50-caliber machine guns aboard. Its announced task was to keep up communications with U.S. embassies in the Middle East during the Israeli-Arab conflict but military men say the ship was no doubt also ordered to monitor military radio messages of both sides.

"We were flying the Stars and Stripes and it's absolutely impossible that they shouldn't know who we were," a survivor said of Israeli planes that had kept the Liberty under surveillance before the strafing. "This was a deliberate and planned attack and the remarkable thing about it was the accuracy of their fire."

Three Torpedoes Fired

Some off-duty crewmen were sunbathing when the Israeli jets swooped down. The Liberty took 81 hits from aircraft rockets and cannon, mostly on the bridge.

Then Israeli boats fired at least three torpedoes. One missed, one was shot up by the Liberty's gun crews and one blew a huge hole in the vessel's side, most of it below the waterline.

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

Well, whaddya know! It's rodeo time again. The big show, which started back in 1932 and has been held ever since except for a brief lapse during World War II, kicks off with the breath-taking grand entry Wednesday evening. In the rodeo bowl there isn't a bad seat in the house—and there won't be a bad show, either. Hitch up and ride out.

We've tried everything else to draw a soaking rain, so maybe the rodeo is the last resort. We had a good chance last Sunday (with a storm that generated more volts of electricity than drops of water) and again Monday when a storm swung mainly above the Colorado River. There were plenty of clouds—just clouds. We fast approach a moment of truth for fields and pastures, and if we don't get rain—well, we'll just wait until we do.

One major blessing from the early-week storm pattern was the inflow (from the cloudburst above Snyder) into Lake J. B. Thomas. The lake level (See THE WEEK, Page 6-A, Col. 1)

First H-Bomb Is Exploded By Red China

TOKYO (AP) — Red China announced it successfully exploded its first hydrogen bomb Saturday. It said this deals a telling blow at the "nuclear blackmail" policy of the United States and the Soviet Union.

The explosion was reported set off "over the western region" of the mainland, which evidently meant at or near Lop Nor, the atomic research center in remote Sinkiang Province.

The test was the sixth in an atomic series launched Oct. 16, 1964, with the explosion of a device that Western experts said had the force of 20,000 tons of TNT, about the power of the bomb a U.S. plane dropped over Hiroshima, Japan, Aug. 6, 1945.

NO SURPRISE

The most powerful of the previous explosions—rated at the equivalent of 300,000 tons or more of TNT—was the fifth, Dec. 28, 1966.

The hydrogen bomb announcement created no great surprise in Tokyo, which is especially sensitive to nuclear weapons development around the world, or in Washington, which is trying to limit the spread of such weapons.

A Japanese government source said explosion of the bomb "would not affect the nuclear balance between East and West." He added, however, that it could be broken when China completes development of nuclear weapons to be used with long-range missiles.

FRESH CHECKS

American officials, closely following China's five previous tests, had concluded the Chinese were moving toward the hydrogen bomb development.

The Atomic Energy Commission in Washington began fresh atmospheric checks through its worldwide monitoring system to determine the nature and size of the device.

"We have no reason to question that Peking has exploded its first hydrogen bomb," a commission spokesman said.

The White House, Pentagon and State Department had no comment.

TESTS OPPOSED

At the United Nations, Secretary-General U Thant said "any explosion of an atomic or a hydrogen bomb by any country anywhere is to be regretted in the context of the General Assembly resolutions on the matter." These resolutions oppose such tests.

The broadcast announcement from China, which is not a U.N. member, came at the adjournment of the first session of an emergency meeting of the General Assembly on the Middle East crisis.

The hydrogen bomb test, the New China News Agency said in an English-language dispatch monitored in Tokyo, "marks the entry of the development of China's nuclear weapons into an entirely new stage."

MAO VICTORY

The agency said Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung expressed belief in June, 1958, that it would be entirely possible for China to "make some atomic bombs and hydrogen bombs in 10 years' time."

'Go-Go' Not Fast Enough

FORT WALTON BEACH, Fla. (AP)—"Go Go" dancer Norma Jean O'Neal decided it was time to go Friday night when police raided the Kitty Kat Korner.

As a result, late theater goers were startled to see the 18-year-old Miss O'Neal, wearing only tight, pasties and a fish net, sprinting down Main Street. In close pursuit were a score of Okaloosa County sheriff's deputies and state beverage agents.

Miss O'Neal, who dances better than she runs, was caught after a one-block chase and returned to the club in handcuffs. She and fellow dancer Lana Kay Coleman, 19, were charged with disorderly conduct and were taken to jail.

A deputy at the jail said the girls, both from Dallas, Tex., were being held on $300 bond each. He also said they had been given their clothes.

Plainclothes police watched the show for several minutes before identifying themselves. They said Miss O'Neal escaped when she suddenly broke for the door and darted into the street.

One officer who asked not to be identified said the girls were "good dancers."

Premier Kosygin Hears Plea For Mideast Peace

LBJ Prepares For Possible Summit Meet

CAMP DAVID, Md. (AP) — President Johnson, spending the weekend at this mountaintop hideaway, prepared Saturday for an indirect-but-public debate with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and a possible meeting with the Soviet chief.

With Johnson at this presidential retreat 70 miles from the White House was Prime Minister Harold Holt of Australia, a previously scheduled weekend guest.

Johnson told a small group of newsmen he would not foreclose the possibility that he and Holt in their talks Saturday and Sunday would discuss a possible presidential meeting with Kosygin.

NOT ON AGENDA

"I wouldn't want to foreclose discussing going to the moon," he said. But he added that the prospect of a meeting with Kosygin isn't on the agenda for his talks with Holt.

At the brief session with newsmen on the sun-drenched patio at Camp David, the chief executive was noncommittal on other questions. He said he has no more knowledge of Kosygin's plans than the reporters do.

Johnson has scheduled for Monday morning a speech, to be broadcast by radio and television, which administration sources said in advance would contain a major statement of U.S. policy on the Middle East.

MAXIMUM AIRING

At the U.N. General Assembly emergency session reconvening in New York an hour later on Monday, Kosygin is slated to follow U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg with the Soviet keynote address on the crisis.

Thus the clashing U.S. and Soviet views on the Middle East were headed for maximum airing—with Johnson to get in the first word in the capital and Goldberg to follow him at New York.

Just when and where Johnson and Kosygin would meet face to face for the first U.S.-Soviet summit parley in six years was still an open question, assuming they do meet.

"That's an iffy question," Johnson told a reporter who inquired about the site if he and Kosygin do meet.

Administration sources assumed from diplomatic soundings with the Russians that Kosygin would accept Johnson's invitation to meet sometime during the Soviet leader's stay in this country. Kosygin is expected to remain through next weekend.

But no specific date has been set up, the sources said—and both the Russian and American sides appeared cautious in maneuvering toward a summit parley.

Kosygin, who wants to woo Arab support from his U.N. appearance, presumably does not wish to seem too cozy with the President of the nation whom the Arabs accuse of siding with Israel.

Demo Party Pays Debt

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Democratic officials said Saturday that the Friday night party for $1,000-a-year members of the President's Club wiped out the national party debt for the first time in 25 years.

"We know we made more than $1 million but we don't know exactly how much," said State Democratic Chairman Will Davis. "We'll get an exact total Tuesday when we count all the receipts."

Davis said President Johnson informed the crowd of about 1,600, to the tune of much shouting and cheering, that the second annual Presidential Ball of the Southwest erased National Democratic Party debts for the first time in a quarter of a century. All proceeds of the party, which included sizable delegations from Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and New Mexico, went to the national party because the President's Club is a national organization, Davis said.

Kosygin Arrives At United Nations

Kosygin's Daughter Likes A Good Laugh

MOSCOW (AP) — An elegantly dressed brunette who speaks English well and has been described as "an extremely nice person" is accompanying Premier Alexei N. Kosygin as his hostess in New York.

A daughter of Soviet communism, she has already charmed the Anglican bishop of Coventry Cathedral in England. Now, those who know her say she can be expected to charm persons she meets on her first trip to the United States.

ONLY CHILD

Mrs. Ludmila Alexeyevna Gvishiani, 38, the only child of Kosygin and his late wife, impresses most foreigners who meet her. She makes conversation easily in English. A friendly, informal manner permits her to laugh and be more relaxed than the stolid Soviet officials around her father—who does not relax publicly very often.

Mrs. Gvishiani lives in Moscow behind the screen of anonymity which protects Soviet officials, only rarely appearing on official occasions. The private life of Kremlin leaders and their families is kept very private.

SCHOLARLY LOOK

She is variously reported to work in the archives of the Soviet Foreign Ministry or in some other archives. When she puts on her glasses for reading, Mrs. Gvishiani assumes the properly scholarly look for such a job.

At the Tashkent conference between India and Pakistan in January, 1966, she was one of her father's chief secretarial aides as Kosygin pulled off a diplomatic triumph of negotiation. Recently, she played a large part in arranging a British-Soviet historical exhibit in London.

Ludmila was born Sept. 4, 1928, to Alexei and Klavdiya Kosygin at a time when the future premier was an instructor of factory management in Siberia.

WEDS STUDENT

Much of her childhood was spent in Leningrad. By the time she was ready for college her father had become a deputy premier in Moscow under Premier Joseph V. Stalin.

A darkly handsome young technical student from the south Soviet mountain region of Georgia—Stalin's home territory—entered her life, and Ludmila married Dzerzen M. Gvishiani. In 1948, their son, named Alexei for his grandfather, was born.

Gvishiani is now a deputy chairman of the State Committee for Science and Technology, which comes directly under Kosygin's control.

SHY AT FIRST

Foreigners who have dealt with Gvishiani think he got this important job more on merit than family connections. He has impressed people as a bright example of the technical experts whom Kosygin uses to run the country.

Mrs. Gvishiani combined a job with the role of housewife, the way most Russian women do, until her mother's fatal illness with cancer thrust her into public duties. Whether she still works between trips is not publicly known.

Last December she accompanied Kosygin on an official visit to France.

Reports from Paris indicated the French people found her a pleasant visitor, a bit behind the latest French styles in clothing but nonetheless impressively attractive.

In February she went with her father to Britain.

"At first she acted shy and didn't want to speak English," one Englishman said. "But then she began trying and it was very charming English. She was perfectly capable of holding her own in conversation."

Police Sick In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Authorities urged Detroit's 4,700-man police force to end a rash of sick calls Saturday as the sick toll mounted to 449 in a continuing feud with the city administration over failure to raise wages.

Meanwhile, Mayor Jerome Cavanagh cancelled plans to attend the 34th U.S. Conference of Mayors which opened at Honolulu, Hawaii, this weekend. Cavanagh aides said he would stay in Detroit until the police dispute subsides, possibly leaving for Honolulu by Monday. He is president of the conference.

RANKS DWINDLING

Fallout Shelter Proves Too Much

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—The lure of privacy and comfort was dwindling the ranks of the 750 adventurous volunteers, mostly Georgians, spending the weekend in the Civil Defense's largest simulated fallout shelter study.

The continuous noise, lack of space or privacy and sleeping on concrete floors proved too much for 63 volunteers. They left in the first 15 hours of the federal psychological experiment.

'IT'S TOO NOISY'

Once a volunteer leaves, he cannot re-enter. The shelterees, whose ages range from 6 months to 79 years, entered the bare, three-story building in downtown Athens late Friday to be locked in and observed for two days, under emergency conditions as if under nuclear attack.

Some of the reasons given for leaving were, "The floor is too hard," or "It's too noisy." John Hammes, CD research director at the University of Georgia, and a psychology professor, said, "This doesn't mean 63 people wanted to leave."

'LET'S GO'

"A father or mother will say, 'I'm tired of it, let's go.' When they leave they take their family group with them. Of the 63, probably 10 or 15 wanted to go," Hammes said.

CD experts peeked continuously at the volunteers through one-way mirrors to gain a working knowledge of the problems of group shelter living. The news media, while not allowed to take part in the experiment, could also observe through the mirrors during allotted hours.

CROSSWORD PUZZLES

Men and women lay on air mattresses jammed next to their neighbors on the concrete floor Saturday. Some read, others played cards or worked crossword puzzles.

Children ran about shouting and playing with toys, coloring books or reading comics. A baby crawled about on a blanket while her mother combed out older children's hair.

CD observers made constant checks of the temperature in the building to make certain it wasn't too hot. It averaged from 70 to 80 degrees during the day and somewhat cooler at night. There were fans in each of the eight rooms and some persons opened windows. Many of the windows were darkened but there were plenty of ceiling lights.

WATER RATION

CD officials said they were pleased with the emerging leadership. A handbook which the volunteers found in the building gave instructions on how to organize themselves. The CD also had supplies of food, sanitation and ventilation kits.

"If they execute tasks as they are supposed to, there is enough to keep everyone busy," said Hammes. "There are security watches to be made, ventilation watches and supplies to be distributed."

Water was carefully rationed. There were volunteers lined up to get water and the usual ration was about a quart each a day.

Soviets Save Ammunition For Monday

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin showed up unexpectedly at the opening of the emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly Saturday and heard a U.S. pledge to join all member countries in finding a just solution to the Middle East crisis.

Kosygin listened intently to U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg plead also for an end to hot words and propaganda diatribes.

But neither Kosygin nor any other member of the Soviet delegation said a word in reply — obviously saving their ammunition for the start of the debate on Monday.

BRIEF SESSION

The opening session was brief — lasting only 43 minutes — and there was not a big dispute over adoption of the agenda, as some had anticipated.

Kosygin showed up at the 122-nation assembly a little more than five hours after his arrival at Kennedy International Airport from Paris and a talk with French President Charles de Gaulle.

Most delegates had expected the Soviet leader to delay his appearance until Monday, when both he and Goldberg will deliver major policy speeches on how to deal with the aftermath of the Arab-Israeli war.

BIG FOUR RUMOR

Other speakers listed for Monday are Israel and Egypt. Abdul Rahman Pazhwak of Afghanistan, the assembly president, in his opening speech called for a summit conference to deal with the situation.

Talk of a Big Four summit conference persisted, and also of a meeting between Kosygin and President Johnson, but there was no definite word relating to either development.

Asked by a reporter if he would meet Johnson, the Soviet leader replied that he did not know.

Johnson was understood to be awaiting the tone of the Kosygin speech to the assembly before making any decision on a meeting with the Soviet leader.

PRIVATE TALKS

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was expected to arrive late Sunday to begin a round of private talks with foreign ministers who will attend the assembly.

A U.N. spokesman said 10 prime ministers — nine from Communist countries — one deputy prime minister and 18 foreign ministers have said they will be on hand.

The Soviet Union was expected to press the assembly to adopt a resolution seeking to condemn Israel as an aggressor, and demand a withdrawal to positions held before the war started.

Goldberg took the rostrum in the big blue and gold assembly hall before formal adoption of the agenda to declare that the United States considered that every proposal that had been before the Security Council was now before the assembly.

"I wish to make it explicitly clear that the United States is participating in this session on the explicit understanding that everything, every problem and every proposal that was before the Security Council in its proceedings on the crisis in the Near East is now before the General Assembly," he declared.

A U.S. resolution in the council — threatened by Soviet veto — called for direct negotiations between Israel and the Arabs in an effort to produce lasting peace in the Middle East.

Goldberg said there were press reports from Paris quoting Kosygin as saying he was going to New York with the sole aim of finding a peaceful solution to the Middle East crisis.

"If that is indeed his sole aim, and it is shared by others, he will find the United States prepared, as I explicitly stated in the Security Council, ready to consider all proposals with an open mind and fervent desire for peace in this trouble area, for a just and equitable solution to the grave problems which confront us," Goldberg added.

Water District Sales Jump

Sharply increased demands by member cities for water have increased revenues of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, the monthly financial statement shows.

For May the revenues amounted to $131,887, compared with $119,271 a year ago. Oil company revenues, however, were down along with miscellaneous sources with the result that the May total of $229,047 compared to $217,278 for the same month in 1966. For the first five months, the district revenues have aggregated $1,096,334, up from $1,069,934 a year ago.

Operating expenses for the month stood at $72,087, making $354,341 for the five-month period, which is substantially above the $329,766 for the same time last year. This left $156,957 for transfer in May to the net revenue fund for debt service. For the year these transfers have amounted to $354,341, about a thousand dollars more than last year.

Water sales recorded for May payment amounted to 1,083,295,000, well above the 928,717,000 gallons in May, 1966. For the five months 4,653,958,960 gallons have been sold, compared with 4,994,924,000 for the same time in 1966. Nearly all the water—or 4,527,194,000 gallons, came from Lake J. B. Thomas during May.

Honors Institute Strikes Enthusiastic Response

Thirty-eight young men and women are getting their intellectual teeth in the Honors Institute, a voluntary enrichment program at Big Spring High School.

After one week, Mrs. O. T. Brewster, who is conducting the program, is delighted with the response.

This year's institute is dealing with the humanities, and Mrs. Brewster is striving to help the young students develop the processes and techniques for creative reading. This gets into word meanings, their meanings within a sentence structure, and other means of quickly getting at what an author is trying to say. There is some outside reading, but most of it is directed toward development of the perceptive skills.

There will be a number of speakers during the course, among them Van Hale, head of the music department at Howland County Junior College, who will deal with the humanities as expressed through music; Ed Pellman of GAMCO, who will deal with man and his problems, particularly the technological ones; and the Rev. Leo K. Gee, on man and his moral values.

The institute is divided into two groups meeting in the journalism room of Big Spring High School. One group meets from 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. and the other from 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon. This is a non-credit course.

Drama Group Shapes Play

The summer drama program offered by Dan Shockey, head of the Big Spring High School drama department, is striking enthusiasm.

Seventeen young people have signed for the intensive instruction in various phases of drama, and they will shape up two plays during the next month and a half.

The first will be Mary Chase's delightful "Harvey," the story of the six-foot rabbit puka of Elwood P. Dowd, played by Steve Compton. His flutery sister, Vetta Louise Simmons, will be played by Diana Landrum. Big Springers will have an opportunity to see this as a feature presentation of the Starlight Special, a week of varied entertainments arranged by the Chamber of Commerce cultural affairs committee during July. The play date is July 10.

Currently, Shockey is working with the young people on acting techniques. Other work will include rehearsals, staging, costume, scenery design, props, makeup, directing, etc.

A second play, in a more serious vein, will be shaped for production in late July.

Young Nugents 'Just Waiting'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — There were no signs of the stork Saturday—the day Luci Johnson Nugent calculated her first baby was due.

Grandmother-to-be Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson went back to the LBJ Ranch at Johnson City, Tex., 65 miles away, and the young Nugents were "just waiting" as Luci put it.

Luci's obstetrician, whose identity is considered a family secret, sent word that the presidential grandchild could come any time.

His best advice, relayed to waiting newsmen in Austin, was that they should get plenty of sleep.

Luci was gay and glowing, looking pretty and obviously in fine spirits as she made a public appearance Friday night at a Democratic President's Club fund raising dinner here for some 1,500 donors of $1,000 or more.

She danced and stayed just until midnight. There was a moment when she tripped while walking—but it appeared to cause no problem.

Mrs. Johnson stayed overnight Friday with the Nugents and they all had a late Saturday breakfast before the First Lady headed back to the ranch, where a spokesman said she had household matters to attend to.

"I don't know when she will be back," a spokesman added.

A few items of minor interest were set straight for the record Saturday in response to queries: Luci and Pat have talked about a name for their baby but have not yet come to a decision. Mrs. Johnson has never expressed any preference for either a boy or a girl—the family just wants the new baby fine and healthy.

And, after the baby is born, Luci and Pat plan a quiet summer and a return in the fall to some classes at the University of Texas, which is not far from their fashionable new Austin home.

And Luci says it's not true—as some have reported—that Pat put her on a $200 maternity clothes budget.

Cong Troops Pay Dearly For Ambush

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong troops, still seeking to wipe out some sizable American unit for the prestige such a victory would bring Communist arms, paid dearly Saturday for an ambush on a U.S. infantry battalion in War Zone D.

A spokesman for the U.S. 1st Infantry Division said 31 Americans and "by an initial body count," 196 of the enemy were killed in a three-hour battle at a jungle clearing 50 miles north of Saigon.

Of the 600 or so Americans involved, 113 were wounded. There was no estimate of the wounded among the Viet Cong, who finally fled under a pounding from U.S. jet planes and artillery.

ROCKET ATTACKS

A plane crash took the lives of 34 persons at An Khe, in the central highlands 240 miles northeast of Saigon. The U.S. Command said an Air Force C130 transport, attempting to abort a take-off, exploded and burned. It reported there were 22 survivors.

Elsewhere the Communists unleashed mortar and rocket attacks on a South Vietnamese military hospital and three other U.S. and Vietnamese positions in the central highlands, an area where allied officers expect the next Big Red offensive effort.

SEVEN UNLUCKY

The explosions wounded seven Green Beret men of the U.S. Special Forces. Government casualties were called light.

Farther north, artillery and air strikes were reported to have killed 48 Communists in a mountain pass leading into a plain called Elephant Valley.

Troopers of the 1st Brigade, U.S. 101st Airborne Division, skirmished with North Vietnamese regulars southwest of Quang Ngai City. Spokesmen said three Americans and eight of the enemy were killed.

PILOT RESCUED

Air operations Friday included pre-dawn attacks on the Bac Giang power plant, 23 miles north of Hanoi, and a Communist storage area 34 miles north of Haiphong. The pilots were unable to determine the results because of darkness.

Among 111 missions, other fliers said they destroyed a surface to air missile site 41 miles north of Vinh, setting off two secondary explosions.

North Vietnamese ground gunners shot down a U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief. The pilot was rescued. The plane was the 586th announced as lost over North Vietnam.

COW POKES

"Now that oughta git the point across!"

Go West, Bright Briton

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A machinists' migration is in motion today from Britain to Baltimore. It's just a small part of a growing "blue-collar exodus" to America that has become a major worry to European industry.

Nearly 50 top machinists whose skills are unobtainable in the U.S. labor market have been recruited from London, Liverpool and Manchester by a single American firm, the Koppers Co. Inc.

More than 30 have arrived so far to help staff Koppers' four metalworking plants in the Baltimore area. They brought enough wives and children to increase Baltimore's population by about 70.

'Telly Sets'

They report that they like the new jobs, the pay, the housing, and the price of American cars, petrol and "telly" sets.

In England the departures stir unhappiness. There and in other countries of Western Europe industry is fretting not only about the much-publicized "brain drain" of scientists and engineers but also about the rising outflow of top-notch blue-collar workers to American firms.

RULES RELAXED

In Washington, the Labor Department said it is now certifying foreign workers for entry at the rate of about 8,500 a year. Nine and one-half per cent — about 800 — are in the higher-skilled classification.

As the pool of available skilled men shrinks and then almost dries up entirely in American industrial cities after 65 years of boom, the department in January eased the entry rules for 80 skilled and semi-skilled occupations, mostly in the blue-collar group. The list includes machinists, arc welders, cabinet makers, draftsmen, millwrights, tool and die makers and structural steel workers.

In the London Times, an officer of the Amalgamated Engineering Union in Birmingham West complained recently that the trend was "bound to denude" British trade unions.

Most of the new Koppers recruits have decided already: They are here to stay. They estimate they are 30 to 50 per cent better off financially than in England, all things considered. The wage here averages about $120 a week but is brought substantially higher in most cases by overtime.

PEOPLE STARE

The wives report that food and doctor bills cost more, clothes cost less considering quality, motorists are more polite, strangers are more friendly, and women's dress is more conservative.

"I wore a miniskirt to the supermarket," said pert, brunette Carole Stock of Liverpool. "I was embarrassed. People stared at me."

The men find the working pace faster than in English shops. Some dislike night work; few British firms work extra shifts. But most enjoy the faster pace as well as the overtime hours.

SOCIAL SAVVY

Koppers is impressed with the average level of competence, education and social savvy of its new people, and well pleased generally with what may be the largest and best-planned mass recruitment of skilled manpower by an American firm.

Key executives and a Baltimore real estate expert made trips to England. They threaded their way through miles of red tape, held group meetings in London, Liverpool and Manchester with 130 prospective recruits and their families. They showed pamphlets and pictures and even shopped English stores so they could provide price comparisons in pounds, shillings and pence. They discussed American taxes, housing costs, food, clothing, cars and television.

PIED PIPER

Pied Piper of the drive was Douglas MacNab, manager of industrial relations for Koppers' metal products division.

MacNab had decided to try importing because that was his last hope of finding enough machinists — short of pirating them from some other company.

MacNab asked and obtained

Labor Department clearance to import up to 125 men. The department's basic requirement, in giving the certification, was that there be no American workers "able, willing, qualified and available" at the time and place needed.

LARGE QUOTA

Where do foreign workers go? A Labor Department sampling showed the greatest numbers headed for Michigan, New York, California and Illinois; in that order. Heavy contingents, the department said, also aimed for Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Rhode Island and Maryland.

Koppers chose to go after Englishmen for several reasons, said MacNab. There is no language barrier; they use the same measurements — thousands of an inch, for instance, instead of millimeters — in their work. And the British immigration quota is large.

Gail's New Post Office Building In Service

Attractive new structure houses the Gail Post Office. It is located across the street west of the Borden County Courthouse. The new post office replaces a small wooden structure, half a block away, which has served as the post office for over a quarter of a century. On the recent visit to Borden County by a bus load of business and professional men from Big Spring, Gail residents proudly took their guests on a tour of the new post office. (Photo by Sam Blackburn)

Ranger Intimidation Hit In Civil Rights Report

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — An official civil rights committee accused Texas Rangers today of harassing and intimidating Rio Grande Valley farm workers on strike in Starr County and aggravating "an already tense situation."

The report also requested a re-examination by the U.S. secretary of state, secretary of Labor and attorney general of policies which permit Mexican citizens to cross the border daily and work in the fields of Texas. The report, presented by Mrs. Harold H. Young of Odessa, chairman of the Texas Advisory Committee, listed these claims: Physical and verbal abuse by Texas Rangers and Starr County law enforcement officials.

The criticism came in a report by an advisory committee to the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights. The report, presented at a meeting sponsored by the right's commission in San Antonio,

Price Daniel Assigned To New Federal Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has yet another Texas working for him. Price Daniel, one-time U.S. senator and former governor of Texas, was named Friday as a consultant to the President in the field of federal-state relations.

The appointment was announced by former Florida governor Farris Bryant, director of the Office of Emergency Planning, whose duties include liaison between state and federal governments.

Bryant said Daniel would work mainly in the area of promoting partnership between various forms of government. Daniel has practiced law at Austin and Liberty, his home, since he left the governorship. His quarter-century political career began in 1939 with election to the state legislature. He was elected attorney general in 1946, and went to the U.S. Senate in 1952.

He was elected governor in 1956 and held that post until defeated by John Connally in 1962.

Man Convicted

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A federal district court jury Friday convicted John Melton, 40, of Dallas on three counts of transporting women across a state line for immoral purposes. U.S. Dist. Judge Luther Bohannon set June 28 for sentencing after saying: "This is about as ugly a case as I believe I've had the displeasure of trying."

Court Cases Show A Gain During Year

There were 17 more cases of all kinds on file in the 118th District Court on May 31 than on May 1, Fern Cox, district court clerk, reported.

The month saw the month open with 1,043 cases in the files. When May ended there were 1,060 cases on hand.

Divorce petitions increased nine for the month. Twenty-seven new petitions were filed in May. The court granted 12 divorce decrees and dismissed six. The total on hand May 31 was 231.

Annulments remained unchanged. Four were on file when May began and that same number remained on the docket when the month ended.

One tax case was dismissed to bring the prevailing total to 307. All other civil suits totaled 485 when the month closed which was just three more than on May 1. Eighteen new suits were filed during the period; the court tried and handled nine and dismissed six.

One jury criminal case was tried in May, four others were heard by the court and eight pending indictments were dismissed. Total criminal cases now on file is 33. Fifteen new indictments were placed in the file during the month.

Mo-Pac Buying Freight Cars

ST. LOUIS — The Missouri Pacific System is ordering an additional 1,030 new freight cars at a cost of more than $18,000,000 as part of its 1967 capital improvement program, Downing B. Jenks, president, has announced.

These new cars are being purchased as a result of restoration of the seven per cent investment tax credit by Congress, he said. Their purchase will help stimulate the national economy as well as enable Mo-Pac to further modernize and expand its freight car fleet to improve service to shippers in the 12-state area it serves, he added.

"This brings MoPac's equipment expenditures this year to more than $48,000,000 for 2,268 new freight cars and 20 locomotives, and the rebuilding of 1,800 freight cars, Jenks pointed out. The road has purchased more than 13,800 new freight cars and 328 locomotives since 1961 at a cost of more than $270,000,000 as part of a continuous program of heavy expenditures for new rolling equipment, Jenks said.

Encouragement of farm workers to cross picket lines. To many persons of Mexican descent, the report said, "the Texas Rangers are a symbol of oppression; their appearance in Starr County only served to aggravate an already tense situation."

New Rates Due On Auto Insurance

AUSTIN (AP) — First effects of the new auto insurance penalty plan will be seen Tuesday in rates recommended by the staff of the State Insurance Board.

The board will hold its annual hearing on auto insurance rates for the year beginning Aug. 1 Tuesday morning and will probably issue its decision about two weeks later.

Auto rate experts claimed Friday it was too early to say what sort of rate changes—up or down—might be in prospect. "We are still in the process of running our calculations," said Willis McVey, assistant casualty actuary.

NO BIG CHANGE

"We wouldn't want to give out anything before the hearing. We will have some recommendations that differ from the board staff's and our board hasn't approved our figures yet," said J. D. Squibb, general manager of the Automobile Insurance Office.

One informed source predicted "no radical change up or down" in rates, and said the probable boost in liability rates would not be as great as the 20.7 per cent increase in 1965.

"This thing has a tendency to level out a little bit," the source said.

Last year, liability rates increased an average 10.6 per cent statewide.

PENALTIES

This year's rates probably will show some effects of the penalty plan created last year, although Squibb predicted the effects "can't be very great."

The plan provides penalty points for speeding, causing accidents, driving while drunk, hit-and-run driving, driving without a license, moving traffic violations which caused a driver's license to be suspended or revoked, murder or aggravated assault by motor vehicle or any other driving offense punishable as a felony.

Penalty points can be assigned for violations after Aug. 1, 1966, and can be used to raise drivers' insurance premiums as of Aug. 1, 1967. One point can be assigned for the second and subsequent speeding conviction since Aug. 1, 1966.

SPEEDING COSTLY

Squibb said that since penalty offenses other than speeding are relatively uncommon, "percentage-wise, only speeding will have much effect."

Rates will be set according to territories, and an insurance board expert said the extent to which bad drivers will be penalized will depend on how well traffic laws are enforced in each territory.

The source said there is some chance of reductions for drivers with good records the past year in some rating territories.

Squibb said that instead of the 26 territories used in the past, the board will set rates for 40 territories.

Ninth Postal Substation Put In Operation Here

Big Spring has now added its ninth postal substation. The latest sub-post office was officially put into operation Friday afternoon in the Lewis 5-and-10 store, located in the Hull & Phillips market building on Lamesa Drive.

Frank Hardesty, postmaster, and Weldon Bryant, assistant postmaster, formally installed Mrs. Dorothy Hedgecoth as "postmistress" for the new sub-post office.

The sub-station will sell stamps, handle mail and parcels, issue money orders, and carry on all of the functions normally available at the post office downtown.

This is the first substation opened on the north side of town. Mrs. Jim Lewis, wife of the store owner, said that the demand for postal services has been heavy at the store and that she anticipated a heavy use of the station.

For the time being, Mrs. Hedgecoth will carry on her postal duties at the checking stand in the store. Later, perhaps, a special area will be partitioned off in the store for the station's use.

Hardesty said that the nine stations are located at Hemp-hill-Wells store, on Main Street; Edwards Heights, on South Gregg; Wackers, Eleventh Place Shopping Center; Kwikee Store, 3100 Parkway; Key Rexall Drug Highland South Shopping Center; Webb AFB; Sand Springs, Rural Station; Veal-moor rural station; and the new station at 511 Lamesa Drive.

Emergency Tillage Can Reduce Loss Of Soil

This is the final article concerning research, conducted by the USDA, Big Spring Experiment Station, on barriers and mulches for protecting the soil against wind erosion.

In previous articles the tremendous erosive forces present in wind erosion storms has been demonstrated. In West Texas, we see and feel soil being carried by the wind. But while we are aware of wind erosion, control involves careful planning months in advance of anticipated droughts.

The barrier systems mentioned in previous articles are a means of planned wind erosion control practices. Putting the most erodible areas into grass or high residue crops is the best method for controlling the erosion against wind erosion. As the vegetative cover or residue becomes depleted, it is necessary for farmers to use emergency tillage practices as a last resort.

KENNY MAC SHEPPARD

Sheppard Now On Choir Job

Kenny Mac Sheppard will replace Mel Ivey as choral director for the Big Spring High School. He was employed by school trustees Tuesday.

Sheppard has taught at Crockett Junior High in Odessa for the last two years. The choir from his school made first divisions in concert singing and one student made first division in sight singing.

He holds a bachelor of music degree from Hardin - Simmons University, where he sang in the H-SU Concert Choir. Sheppard was a baritone soloist in the choir's presentation of Mendelssohn's "Elijah" and Faure's "Requiem."

While in Odessa, he sang with the Midland-Odessa Symphony Chorale.

Sheppard's contract is for 10 months and he is to report for duty Aug. 1.

To be most effective, these emergency tillage practices should be initiated before the soil starts blowing, because as the soil starts to erode the abrasive action of blowing soil increases the erodibility of the soil surface and more drastic tillage methods are required to prevent further erosion.

RAIN CAN ACCELERATE
If farmers fail to protect their soil against wind erosion they will lose the organic matter and soil nutrients from their soil. A cloddy soil can become highly erodible after a small rain melts the clods down and leaves the fine sandy particles on the soil surface. These small particles are easily moved by the wind and through their abrasive action can cause an entire field to blow.

Emergency tillage practices are the least effective on sandy soils because few clods are brought to the surface regardless of the tillage tool used. Ideally, the emergency tillage practices should be at right angles to the prevailing wind, but in West Texas the wind can come from nearly any direction. Generally, the initial practice is to chisel on 40 to 60-inch spacings so large acreages can be covered quickly. The object of chiseling is to bring clods to the surface to reduce or prevent further erosion; however, this is a short-lived practice and if wind erosion continues, the entire field must be listed at sufficient depths to produce a rough surface.

Research has been conducted on various chemicals that bind the soil particles together or create a continuous film of non-erodible material. In tests at the USDA, Big Spring Field Station, Kriklion was very effective in binding soil particles together and prevented the soil surface from flaking down and running together during a rain storm.

PAY INCREASES BIGGEST FACTOR

JC Budget For New Year Goes Past Million Mark

The 1967-68 budget of Howard County Junior College, approved by trustees last week subject to a public hearing Aug. 15, represents a 20 per cent increase in the total.

This will, however, not affect the local tax picture because most of the increase is in state support for increased staff pay and in reimbursed funds for expenditures in the expanded vocational - technical program.

This may be the last year, however, that the college will get without a tax increase or without revenue from some other source, warned Dr. W. A. Hunt, college president.

OVER A MILLION

Total of the budget, with a transfer item washed out, is $1,114,069 compared with $923,029 this year. Thus, it may be seen that the budget for the college has passed the million dollar mark for the first time since it was opened in 1946.

However, $158,000 of the amount is in the Student Housing System Revenue Fund, which is supported entirely out of the revenues of the dormitory, bookstore, cafeteria, etc. generate. (The same can be said for this year's budget by deducting $152,000 revenues for the SHSRF.)

PAYROLL

The lion's share of the $191,040 increase in the budget is in payroll. This figure for the new budget is $599,394 as compared with $492,875 currently, an increase of $106,509, or 21.6 per cent. The faculty was given an increase after state support was boosted, but this amounted to about 10 per cent; the difference in the increase is represented in new instructors, principally in the enlarged vocational - technical department.

This is the comparison on the payroll:

	1966-67	1967-68
Administrative	$41,746	$42,234
Instr. (acad.)	380,051	404,521
Instruction (Voc)	69,300	69,300
Library	19,112	27,112
Plant-grounds	38,378	43,379
Auxiliary help	620	620
Total General	480,107	537,166
Housing	12,788	12,218
Grand total	598,959	616,458

Where is most of the additional funds coming from to support the budget? About $5,500 will working with Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. to find materials that might be used as a last effort to control wind erosion in isolated areas. Most chemical treatments would be economically feasible only in stabilizing small areas to prevent their cancerous growth. When used in this respect, chemicals may have a place in agriculture. To control wind erosion in a community, county, or area scale requires community action, because soil blowing in one uncontrolled area can often spread to carefully managed farms and ruin them.

Something can be done about reducing wind erosion damage, and through continued research the tremendous spring dusts may cease to plague the Plains.

come from local (current and delinquent) tax collections; about $10,500 from fees and tuition; $1,500 miscellaneous; $66,000 in state support; $2,000 matching equipment fund; $97,029 in state and federal salary reimbursements for vocational-technical instruction and specialized equipment; and around $6,000 for the SHSRF.

SOURCES

In rough approximates, one-third of the budget (or $356,000) will come from local taxes; about one-third (or $313,650) will come from state appropriations; about one-fifth from student housing revenues; about one-tenth from vocational - technical reimbursements; and the remainder from fees and tuition.

Aside from salaries and the Water Usage

Water consumption Thursday totaled 8,327,000 gallons, as compared to 7,439,000 at the same time last year. This brings the cumulative total through June 15 to 108,852,000 gallons, 1,630,000 less than the amount treated last year at that time.

new vocational-technical division, the only operational increase of note will be in utilities. The outlay of $32,600 is $11,340 more (or 54.5 per cent) than for the current year. Electricity will about double, gas come up about 50 per cent; water the same. Two new buildings are responsible for the utility jump. They are completely air conditioned.

SCHOLARSHIPS

The budget includes $17,074 for athletic scholarships compared with $16,084 this year. Dr. Hunt observed that some help from private sources is urgently needed in this field, because on an austere budget, the college might not be able to do as much as it is now doing.

By divisions in the general fund, the budget proposal (with current figures in parentheses) are shown:

DIVISIONS

Educational and general $52,272 ($51,284); general operating expense $61,392 ($56,908); academic instruction $423,490 ($401,788); technical - vocational instruction $130,689 (none charged to this for the current year); organized activities $150 ($500); public services $7,000 ($7,000); library $37,402 ($39,142); plant-grounds maintenance and operation $103,301 ($81,896); athletics $42,224 ($40,184); capital outlay $3,932 ($1,454); contingency $2,488 ($1,807); Total for general fund - $864,344 ($681,450); also debt service $91,725 ($89,168), making a total of general and debt service of $956,069 ($770,618). In addition, the SHSRF is set up for $158,000 ($152,411), all supported by the revenue it generates. This makes a grand total of all funds $1,114,496 ($923,029).

Accompanied by two associates, Cannon visited with Webb officials and Richard G. Bortner, Federal Aviation Administration Air Traffic representative at WAFB.

Cannon is on a field trip and departed Webb to visit FAA facilities in San Angelo and Midland.

Returning From Tour

They are among 85 students on a Government-in-Action Youth Tour sponsored by the rural electric cooperatives of Texas. The schedule calls for the group, traveling by chartered bus, to return to Dallas Tuesday, after two weeks away from home. Louisiana's Long Placing Demo Whip Job In Jeopardy

WASHINGTON (AP) — By his abrasive defense of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., against charges, Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., appears to have clouded his future in the Senate's Democratic leadership.

No colleague wants to be quoted publicly on Long's erratic, arm-waving efforts to convince the Senate that Dodd has done nothing wrong and nothing worse than some of his colleagues in the double billing of the Senate and private sources for travel expenses and in using testimonial dinner funds to pay personal bills.

But in the cloak rooms and in the cases around the chamber there is a shaking of heads and general agreement that the Louisiana senator has damaged his standing with the establishment to the extent that his future in the job of majority whip, or assistant leader, is in jeopardy.

QUIT THREAT

Another possible aftermath of the Senate vote was underscored Saturday when Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said he will resign from the Ethics Committee if the Senate refuses to censure Dodd for using for personal purposes funds raised at testimonial dinners.

McCarthy said in an interview that such a vote would lead him to feel that the committee's months of work had gone down the drain.

"In that case I would feel that the Senate was not very serious about the matter of ethical conduct of its members. I couldn't justify continued service on it, in the light of my responsibilities to my other committees and the general work of the Senate," McCarthy added.

JUDGMENT ATTACK

There have been hints that repudiation of the committee's findings in its first investigative case might not be limited to a single resignation.

On the eve of the debate Sen.

Son Of County Rancher Snares Roping Crown

Johnny Middleton, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Middleton, Howard County rancher, is the new state roping champion, high school division.

He won the title and the right to compete in the national high school rodeo later this summer in Elko, Nev., at Hallettsville Saturday night. His time for three calves at the Texas High School championship rodeo was 16, 12.7 and 14.3.

His victory was over 130 ropers from all over Texas.

He will be back home today. Candy Middleton, sister of Johnny, won first go round in pole bending at the state meet. Johnny has been roping for about five years.

Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, the vice chairman of the committee, said that even any major alteration of the pending resolution "would be an attack on our committee and its judgment."

Told of McCarthy's threat to resign from the committee, the Senate majority leader, Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., commented to a reporter, "I assume the committee feels it is on trial in this matter."

HANDS OFF

Mansfield said he hopes the Senate can reach a vote on the Dodd matter by Tuesday or Wednesday. He said he expects Dodd and Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., of the Ethics Committee to wind up the debate.

Long was elected to his assistant leadership post last January with strong Southern support and with President Johnson keeping hands off.

But a Southern senator, who voted for Long at that time, said that if there was a vote today, he fears the Louisiana would be dumped.

SUFFER IN SILENCE

By tradition, Long's tenure lasts throughout the 90th Congress and he would not face a challenge to continue in the leadership until the beginning of the 91st Congress in January, 1969. There could be a move next January to replace him, but it is not likely to materialize.

"We'll just have to suffer in it if he will let us have any silence until the next Congress, hence," a Democratic senator said.

The irritation against Long seems to run deep. He aroused some bitterness among his colleagues by his on-again off-again tactics when he tied up the Senate for seven weeks earlier in unsuccessful efforts to save the income tax checkoff method of financing presidential campaigns.

RESENTMENT

The assistant leader's rough handling of his colleagues then and during the Dodd debate apparently has aroused the kind of resentment that takes a long time to wear off. Whether this will subside in 18 months may depend on his actions in that period.

The most asked question among his peers is, "What's Russell up to?" None of his colleagues has come up with any satisfactory answer for his flamboyant defense of Dodd.

The generally accepted view is that Long has nurtured for years a resentment of the Senate's treatment of his father, the late Huey Long. He is said to feel that colleagues of an earlier day treated his father as an outcast.

"EVERY MAN A KING"

In any event, the elder Long made such an impression on the depression-ridden voters of his day that his "share the wealth" and "every man a king" proposals made Franklin D. Roosevelt politically uneasy about the prospect of having to deal with the Louisiana senator as an opponent in 1936.

Huey Long was the underdog in those days. He generated wide public appeal on that basis. Russell Long, by contrast, is for Dodd, who has said he can't live on his $30,000-a-year salary and carry out his duties as a senator.

If he had presented a quiet, orderly defense of Dodd, there probably would have been a great deal of admiration in the Senate for Long's efforts to help a fellow senator in distress. But the majority verdict of those willing to discuss the matter even privately is that Long has hurt, rather than helped Dodd by his melodramatic tactics.

C-City Rodeo Honors Posted

COLORADO CITY—Ed Workman, Mineral Wells, won the over-all bareback bronc riding honors of the annual Colorado City Rodeo which closed here last night.

Sidney Johnson of Snyder was second and Billy McCleson, Fort Worth, third. Arlis Baze, Midland, with a 9.9 time won the over-all title for calf roping. Bob Johnson, Eldorado, with 10.3 was second and Bob Kelly, Stanton, 10.6 placed third.

About 300 attended the performance Saturday night. Attendance has been disappointing to the Western Riding Club and the Colorado City Jaycees, sponsors of the show.

Incomplete Saturday night results showed Sidney Johnson taking first and David Edwards, Odessa, second in bareback bronc riding; Baze won first in calf roping; Kelly, second and Dennis Hill, Breckenridge, third.

Girl's barrel racing: Terry Lewis, Big Spring, first with 20.2; three way tie at 20.4 for second; Cheryl Wesley, Willadoro; Debbie Moore, Hamlin, and Terry Lewis, (second-ride); Jean Moore, Hamlin, third.

In team roping Terry Mauldin and Truman Mauldin, of Sylvestre, were leading with 20 flat; Handley Driver of Big Spring and Melvin Foster, Sterling City, second with 21.1 and Roy Wallace and Eudice, both of Midland, 21.6, third.

These were not final times, however, as a number of teams were yet to ride at the time they were posted.

Hot Spring Exit Slated

A patchwork of showers dampened the northeast Texas Saturday and forecasters predicted a showery, hot exit weekend for 1967's blustery spring.

Saturday's heaviest rainfall was in a cloud system extending from the Waco area in Central Texas to Tyler in East Texas and north to the Red River country.

There was no reported turbulence but conditions were good for it, as a cool front in the Panhandle collided with the hot, moist air from southern regions. Afternoon readings in the Panhandle were in the 80s, while temperatures soared elsewhere.

Forecasters called for increased thunderstorms in the Panhandle Sunday, with rain showers possible for every section of the state. Most of the rain would be of little consequence and widely scattered, the Western Bureau said.

Three waterspouts lurched out of a thunderhead east and southeast of Galveston Saturday but did no damage.

Summer makes its entry at 9:23 p.m. Wednesday.

Presidio had 55 inches of rain Saturday but still led the state in maximum temperatures with 102 degrees. The coolest maximum was 81 at Dalhart, which had 21 inches of rain.

Amarillo had 32 inches of rain and Galveston 18 in the 24 hours ended at 6 p.m. Saturday.

Thugs Scale Fence, Grab Copper Wire

Two hundred pounds of used copper wire, a half-inch power drill, 50 feet of extension cord, wire cutters and other assorted tools were taken from the Caldwell Electric Co. yard on East Highway 80 Thursday night or early Friday, the sheriff's office was informed.

The thieves, sheriff's deputies said, gained entrance by climbing a tall fence.

Red Carpet Unrolled For Visiting Louisiana Boy Scouts

Big Spring Ambassadors and former mayor George Zachariah turned out Saturday afternoon to extend West Texas greetings to a bus load of Boy Scouts from the Istrouma Area Council, Baton Rouge, La. The Scouts spent the night here at Webb AFB en route to Camp Philmont. There were 36 boys and three adult leaders on the bus. Zachariah struck up an acquaintance with one of the Scouts who turned out to be the son of the former Miss Dottie Lawrence. Miss Lawrence and Zachariah grew up in the same Baton Rouge neighborhood. The Scout, Kenneth Stubbs, is shown beside Zachariah in the photograph above. (Photo by Frank Brandon)

Arab Ministers Map Oil Embargo

KUWAIT (AP) — An emergency meeting of Arab nation foreign ministers ended unexpectedly early Sunday without announcement of an agreed Arab policy to continue the struggle against Israel. There appeared to be no unanimous position on an oil embargo against the United States and Britain.

The foreign ministers had been expected to continue their meeting through Sunday, but they broke up the closed-door session at 2 a.m. after six hours and said they would resume the meeting in New York.

None would comment on why the meeting ended prematurely. A brief communiqué said the ministers discussed "the present situation in the Middle East after the Israeli aggression against the Arab states," and that the oil producing countries "firmly stood by their previous decision to cut off the oil."

But the communiqué did not explain what oil would be cut off and from whom.

When the meeting opened Saturday, Kuwait's foreign minister said Israel attacked the Arabs "to cause a setback in Arab preparations for revenge and for the recovery of Arab Palestine."

Sheikh Sabah el Ahmad el Jaber was named chairman of the two-day meeting called by Kuwait to plan joint action against Israel and its supposed allies.

The foreign minister told the opening meeting at the Kuwait government's ornate Peace Palace that Israel sought to destroy Arab morale in the lightning six-day Middle East war.

Following Jaber's statement, the conference went into closed session to seek agreement on how to carry out an oil embargo and other boycott measures against Britain and the United States. Several Arab leaders have demanded such moves in retaliation for alleged American and British aid to Israel.

The meeting was called by the Emir of Kuwait, Sheikh Sabah el Salem el Sabah. The foreign ministers may also try to hammer out a common strategy for the U.N. General Assembly meeting.

Qualified sources said the closed-door meeting will also consider a proposal that Arab nations withdraw their bank deposits and investments from Britain—a step they believe could seriously affect Britain's currency reserves.

Topless Girls Net Big Boos

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — A crowd of 300 gathered at Maurice Stockton's South Padre Island Drive filling station Saturday after he announced he would have two topless girls on duty.

But when Stockton, who earlier had said he would recruit topless dancers from bars and nightclubs, presented his two new attendants Saturday morning the crowd booted.

The spectators were obviously disappointed with Stockton's topless 3-year-old daughter, Terri, and her equally topless 3-year-old friend, Donna Lynn Nichols.

When he announced his plans Friday, Stockton said "This is just to protest the indecency and immorality around us and to get the people of Corpus Christi riled up."

"I've accomplished my purpose," Stockton told the spectators, many of whom had brought their cameras. "Just look around you. You will see parents with little kids who came to see a show."

Continuing with his lecture Stockton said he got disgusted Friday when his 10-year-old son came home with a magazine "full of naked women and got a big kick out of it."

By that time most of the crowd had left.

Ex-Sheriff Clears Up Name Muddle

Miller Harris, former Sheriff, points out that a woman listed on the county criminal docket as Mrs. E. V. Miller Harris, 45, of 202 West Second, is not to be confused with himself or his family. He says the woman's name should have been listed on the complaint as Mrs. E. V. Marlin Harris. The woman entered a guilty plea to a DWI complaint last Tuesday in the Howard County court.

Grover To Speak To GOP Meeting

Slate Sen. Henry C. Grover, Houston, will speak to the Howard County Republican Party July 7 in Big Spring.

His speech will center about the fiscal condition of the State of Texas and what he terms "great confusion in Austin as to just how much money will be available during the next year and how much will have to be raised in new taxation."

Sen. Grover was elected to the Texas House of Representatives three times as a conservative democrat, switching tickets in 1966 to win a seat in the Senate as a Republican.

A native Texan, he holds a B.A. degree from the University of St. Thomas, a M.A. from the University of Houston and has done advanced study at the University of Texas.

Car-Train Crash Kills Valley Man

MALLEN, Tex. (AP) — A car-train collision at MalLEN in the Lower Rio Grande Valley Saturday afternoon took the life of Alexander Wright, 58, of MalLEN.

He was an employee of a furniture company. His auto and the locomotive of a Missouri-Pacific freight train collided.

Babysitter, Tots Escape From Death

A baby sitter and her two tiny charges had an almost miraculous escape from death or injury at 10:30 p.m. Saturday when the car in which they were riding crashed into a laundry building at 3105 West 80.

The woman, driving the car, was identified as Mrs. Knight and her two young charges were little girls 5 and 2 years old respectively.

The car was going east on US 80. The woman and children were en route from her home to a store.

For some reason, the vehicle left the paving, ranged across the slab and crashed into the west side of the Hill Laundry Room.

It penetrated deeply enough into the room to jam counters and machinery against the opposite wall. The windshield of the car was shattered. One tire burned out, skidding, after the impact had stalled forward progress of the car.

Police were still investigating the case at 11 p.m.

THE WEEK

picked up 2.5, making a rise of five feet within the past fortnight. This represents 23,800 acre-feet, or about four or five months supply.

The week was not one without tragedy and violence. E. O. Worthan, who had been hurt in a motorcycle mishap here May 31, died, becoming the county's seventh traffic victim. West of Stanton, Mrs. S. F. Britton was killed on IS 20, a road which had almost killed her son a few years ago. Betty Jean Crosby, 25, Dallas, also died. At Lamesa Richard Barrera, 20, his brother, Joe Barrera, 17, and Raul M. Alvarado, 20, were shot fatally, and Eugene Garcia, 17, was charged with murder.

Webb AFB had another first last week—the first Marine to report for jet pilot training. He was 2nd Lt. James R. Bohig, who will be joined by two others as members of Class 68-H. Another unusual happening at Webb was the visit of Maj. Gen. Robert F. Worley, deputy chief of staff (operations) for TAC, who was the dining-in speaker.

Lt. Gen. Fred M. Dean, who was the second man to command Webb, will be a speaker at the Air Force Association, and several from here may be on hand to hear him.

Howard County Junior College got the good news of a $7,666 grant for purchase of books for the new library. This, with funds appropriated by the college, will push the library to past 20,000 volumes and above Southern Association requirements. College trustees adopted a budget of $1,114,000, subject to the Aug. 15 public hearing. Of this, $158,000 is in the student housing division, which generated its own revenue.

Things were happening on the music front. Trustees elected

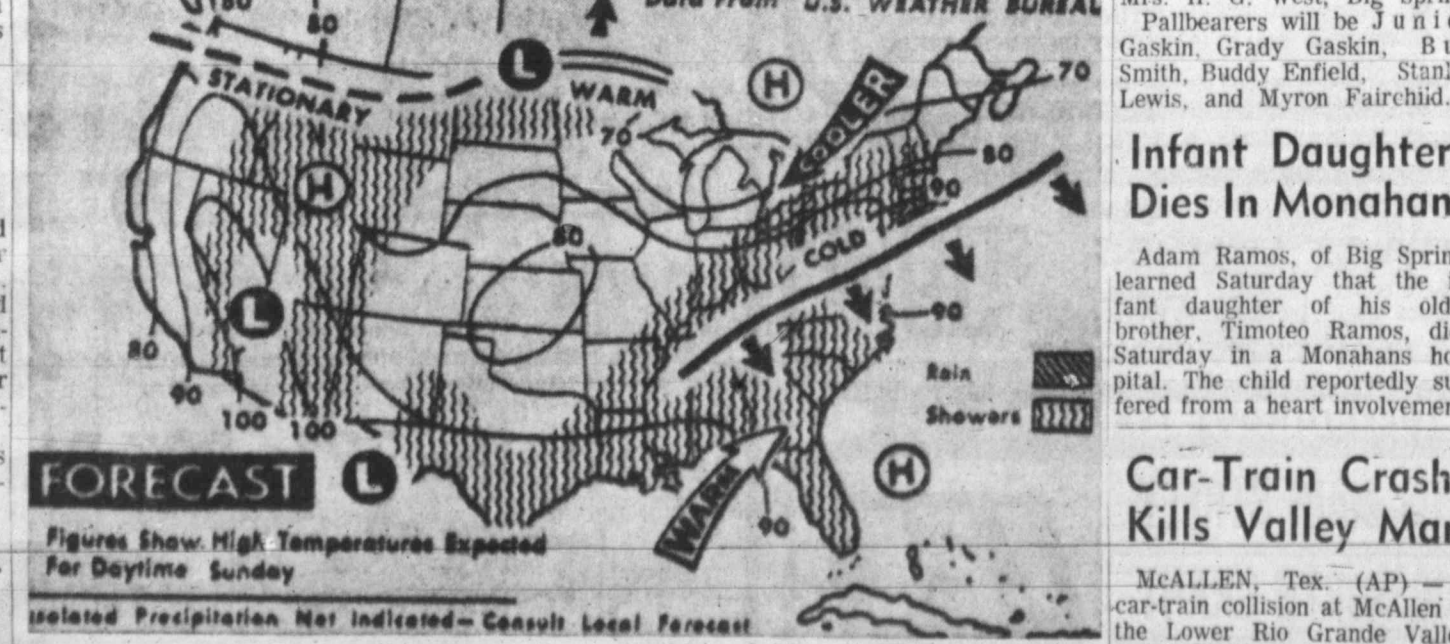

Kenny Mac Sheppard to succeed Mel Ivie as director of the Big Spring High School choir program, and the new director lost no time getting on the job. The board also ordered uniforms in the amount of $14,366, to outfit up to 225 band members.

The master plan supported by over five million dollars of bonds moved a peg nearer the end with letting of two contracts last week by the school board. One was for additions to the administration building (Hamnack Bros., Lubbock, $56,400), and the other for a new field house (Plains Steel Buildings, Lubbock, $26,716).

The Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center board last week adopted a $37,329 budget, which is dependent in part upon obtaining nearly $16,000 from the United Fund. So far this year, the center is running 15 per cent ahead on number of treatments, and it has added a quarterly clinic for crippled children.

A suggestion made here a couple of months ago at an industrial seminar has been put into action. The Chamber of Commerce announced that men had been assigned as specialists in the field of sites, taxes, insurance, transportation, finance, utilities, and manpower. Each will master his subject in order to provide instant answers to any inquiries.

About 50 representatives of oil companies turned up Wednesday for the board of equalization on oil and utility values. The formulae, however, appeared to be satisfactory to them, leaving only the roll to be calculated. Best guesses are that it won't be sharply different from this year because while some areas have lost, some have gained.

Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms are forecast for the Atlantic states, the Ohio and Tennessee valleys and the Gulf states Sunday. Isolated thundershowers are expected in the northern and southern Plains and the Rockies. It will be cooler in the Ohio and Tennessee valleys. (AP WIRE-PHOTO MAP)

Top Rodeo Riders Due Here

A number of the leading professional rodeo cowboys are planning on having a try at a share of the $6,500 purse and pot at the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo this week. From top left are Tex Martin, Meridian; Bill Kornell, Clarksville; Ronnie Vowman, Durant, Okla.; from lower left, Clifton Smith, Tell; Jim Bob Altizer, Del Rio; and Myrtis Dightman, Houston. Altizer has a wide lead in world championship calf roping this season; Dightman is locked for the lead in steer riding.

Traditional Rodeo Due Wednesday

Parades, square dancing, riding exhibitions and most of all a touch of the rugged action that makes rodeoing the great Western sport, all come to Big Spring this week.

WEDNESDAY

The 34th annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo kicks off Wednesday evening for a four-night stand.

With two of the nation's current leaders in the Rodeo Cowboy Association world's championship race due to participate, the action shapes up as one of the best in years. They will be gunning for a slice of the $6,500 purse.

Jim Bob Altizer, 34, who once came from Del Rio as a tiny lad with his dad to the Big Spring show in its early days, plans to be back for a whack at the calf roping honors. Altizer, commanding a healthy lead in the roping event so far this year with $12,604 winnings, was the world champion in 1959 and has finished out of the top 10 only twice since 1953. Experts rate him as the most consistent roper of his generation. Myrtis Dightman, 33, Houston, the first Negro cowboy in rodeo's history to challenge for a national riding title, is due to be on hand. The veteran of eight years on the circuit is head-to-head with Bill Stanton, Amboy, Wash., for the 1967 bull-riding lead.

OTHERS

Among other cowboys planning to compete here include Ronnie Bowman, Durant, Okla.; Clifton Smith, Tell cowboy; Tex Martin, Meridian; Bill Kornell, Clarksville; and Myrtis Dightman, Houston.

Kornell, 23, was the youngest bull rider ever crowned champion when he won that title in 1963 at 19.

Smith, 33, aptly nick-named "Rattler" because of his speed with the manila, cattle rancher from Tell, is having one of his best seasons in calf roping. He currently ranks seventh in national charts with a total $5,640 won so far this season.

As one of some 530 such cowboy contests approved annually by the professional Rodeo Cowboys Association, competition in the Big Spring's rodeo arena is conducted under nationally recognized rules.

Plains Cotton Value High

LUBBOCK — Gross value to farmers from 2,122,770 acres of cotton allotments in the 23 counties surrounding Lubbock and represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. came to $257,922,510 in 1966.

This is the figure arrived at by John J. Seibert, Area Extension Farm Management Specialist, working with the PCG staff. It includes producer income from lint, seed, and both price support and acreage diversion payments under last year's cotton program.

In calculating lint value, Seibert used quality statistics published for each of the High Plains counties each year by PCG. Per-bale prices for lint, on a 500-pound basis, ranged from $72.76 to $91.62 or from a little over 14.5 cents to 18.3 cents a pound.

Total lint value of the 1,293,700 bales (500 pounds gross weight) in the area was $149,885,258.

To that figure the value of cotton seed added another $33,375,000 based on an average of 800 pounds of seed per bale at $65 per ton.

Government payments finished out gross cotton income with another $108,037,252 in the 23 counties. In this figure were included $68,897,682 of price support payments and $39,275,560 of payments for diverted (Pep) Driver, rodeo secretary. Last year's rodeo competition here saw Louis Espinosa, a California cowboy, now living in Indianapolis, Ind., walk off with top money laurels. Espinosa hit the winner's circle in both bareback bronc riding and bull riding for a total $676.

Other event winners here last year were Guy Weeks, Abilene, saddle bronc riding; Sonny Davis, Kenna, N. M., calf roping; and C. R. Boucher, Burkburnett, steer wrestling.

Altizer, who was 1959's national calf roping champion, jumped into an early lead this spring for the 1967 crown and will head into action here with $12,604 already in the bank in his bid for this year's championship.

A gala parade with a dozen or more riding groups, around 150 entrants in the rodeo, scores of pleasure riders, five floats and other units, is scheduled to move through the downtown section at 4 p.m. Wednesday.

BARBECUE

This will be followed by the traditional barbecue, staged by the Kiwanis Club at the City Park (they've sold out the past two years) and a barbecue for visiting riding groups at the arena. The curtain goes up in the big rodeo bowl at 8 p.m., said Charlie Creighton, president.

Coahoma Sets City Election

COAHOMA — Voters of Coahoma will go to the polls Tuesday to name a successor for Ted Fowler as a member of the city council.

Candidates for the term which ends next April will be Herschel Fowler, Tommy McFarland and C. C. Harrison.

Polls will open at the City Hall at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. Judge for the special election will be Norma Grant.

Boy's Death In Army Draws Complaint

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — An Army spokesman says dental treatment given a Texas deputy sheriff's son, who died Wednesday at nearby Ft. Gordon, Ga., "was in accordance with accepted medical practice."

Sheriff's Deputy Eddie Vela of Bexar County, Tex., lodged a complaint with a Congressman over the medical treatment given his son, Spec. 4 Eddie Vela Jr., who died after a wisdom tooth was extracted. Vela said his son died of a gum infection.

"He was in perfect health until he went to the base hospital to get a dental bridge," the deputy declared. "The dentist told him a wisdom tooth was impacted and Eddie Jr. agreed to have it extracted. Afterwards, the gum became infected and he made three trips back to the hospital. All they gave him were aspirin tablets," Vela said.

IN BARRACKS

The deputy said after the Red Cross notified him June 9 that his son was in critical condition, he and his wife went to Ft. Gordon and found their son being cared for in his barracks. He said that he and Mrs. Vela had to perform nursing duties until their son's death.

"We were glad to do it," Vela said, "but we couldn't understand how a boy-afame with infection should have been left in a place like that."

Details of Vela's complaint were given to Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex.

INFECTION

Maj. Wallace Hitchcock, Ft. Gordon public relations officer, said the soldier, a veteran of the Vietnam war due for discharge in September, died of an infection in the blood-stream. Wisdom teeth, he said, were extracted by an Army oral Surgeon May 26.

Hitchcock's statement said: "On May 31, he (Vela) complained of pain in the area of extraction. However, an examination evidenced no infection. On June 1, he was examined and found to have pain and swelling and was started on antibiotic therapy.

"Since there was no improvement in his condition on June 2, he was hospitalized to regulate his antibiotic, dietary and fluid intake. During the entire time of his confinement at the hospital, Vela was under constant care of doctors and nurses. Vela's treatment at the Ft. Gordon hospital was in accordance with accepted medical practice in cases of this type."

Texota Acquiring Lipan Oil Stock

SAN ANGELO — Lipan Oil Co. has informed its shareholders of the approval by its directors of an agreement with Texota Oil Co., Houston, for Lipan to sell its assets to Texota for $2,030 share of common stock of Texota and assumption by Texota of Lipan's liabilities. Lipan's shareholders will receive one share of Texota for each 14 shares of Lipan stock under the agreement.

Clifton Thomas, president of Lipan, advised that the agreement will be submitted for approval by its shareholders at a special meeting called for July 25.

Lipan's assets consist of interests in 49 producing wells located in West and Central Texas and about 7,500 non-developed leasehold acres. Texota is to assume Lipan's operations and its offices in San Angelo along with present personnel.

Dear Abby

It's A Way Of Life

DEAR ABBY: Why do people who write to you say: "Mary is a good Christian woman?" Or "John is a good Christian man?" I am a good woman, too, but I am not a Christian. I'm Jewish. To be a good person, do you have to be a Christian?

DEAR JEWISH: No. "Christian" when used to describe the virtues of a person, does not necessarily refer to his religious beliefs, but rather to his way of life. One who lives according to the teachings of Christ, need not be Christian. No Jew should take offense. After all, wasn't Jesus a Jew?

DEAR ABBY: I doubt if there is much that would astonish you, but this might be a first. I've never written to an advice columnist before, but you are my last hope, and I have nothing to lose.

My husband was in the service overseas and I was with him. Nearly two years ago, without my knowledge, he volunteered for civilian duty (AID) in Vietnam.

He quietly departed from our post overseas, leaving me with insufficient funds by any standards. My allotment checks stopped for over 10 weeks, so I remained where he had been stationed, got a job and supported myself. He ignored me completely, and all efforts to reach him failed. After a year I decided to return to the United States and take legal action.

As my husband figured, he was out of my reach. Legal papers sent to the Embassy in Saigon for service on him were not served. In desperation a friend (lawyer in Washington, D. C.) contacted the State Department. He received and sent me a copy of a final divorce decree, issued in California in January of 1967.

I had never received any notice that I was being divorced. The entire action was done by publication in a California newspaper at a time when I was still overseas on my husband's official orders, and my whereabouts well known to my husband.

The lawyers here cannot understand how a senior state department officer can walk out on his wife, get a divorce without her knowledge, and avoid legal action.

I am 45 and have always conducted myself properly. What would you do? PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: With all due respect to your lawyer friend, if I were you I would get another lawyer.

DEAR ABBY: We have been married 15 years, are still in our 30s, and are still in love. But there is one thing bothering me. My husband never wears a necktie. In fact, he doesn't even own one.

No matter where we go, to parties, weddings, funerals, he leaves his dress shirt unbuttoned at the top. It embarrasses me to see his Adam's apple bobbing up and down when he talks.

I have never said anything, hoping he would be uncomfortable being the only one there without a tie, but it doesn't seem to bother him. Is this worth fighting about?

DEAR WIFE: Your husband is lucky he hasn't had you on his neck for 15 years. Why fight? Let your husband know that if he doesn't care how he's dressed, you do. Going tieless shows a lack of respect for the occasion. (Could he have a mental block? Perhaps someone in his family was hanged?)

Crash Kills Six Youths

NEWARK, Ark., (AP) — Six youths were killed late Friday night when a freight train struck the car they were in, dragging it an estimated half mile in this small north Arkansas town of 700, state police said.

State trooper Noel Baldrige said the bodies of three were found in the car and the others either on or alongside the track. The train, a Missouri Pacific railroad freight, ran over one of the victims, officers said.

The victims were Terry Self, 15, of Orange, Tex., and Paul Dale Milligan, 14, Jack Lindsey, 15, David McClain, 14, Kelly Mitchell Hackworth, 15, and Meredith Ann Koontz, 12, all of Newark.

Miss Self was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Self of Orange, formerly of Newark.

Baldrige said the youths were in the Hackworth family car. He said the driver had not been determined.

Posse Needing Trophy Case

Being consistently successful, and outstanding can sometimes pose problems and some of these problems are a little novel, to say the least.

Consider the Howard County Sheriff's Posse. It has a problem. Last week, the posse rode in the rodeo parade at Lamesa and in competition with 12 similar groups, was awarded second place trophy.

The posse lost first place to Lea County Riders and Martin County came in third at the Dawson County show.

This victory in itself was not so important. It's simply that the Howard County Sheriff's Posse has been bringing home trophies about three out of every four times they ride in a parade for several years. For instance, they have acquired three new trophies already this season.

And stacked up, in growing volume are many other trophies won over the years. These are now stacked on top of filing cases in the office of Sheriff A. N. Standard at the courthouse.

Civil Deputy Sheriff Ed F. Cherry is president of the Howard County Sheriff's posse. He gestured at the tangled array of trophies.

"Look at those things," said Cherry. "We keep adding to 'em. Where are we to put 'em?" What the Howard County sheriff's riders would like to have, he said, is a suitable trophy case in which they could display their loving cups and plaques.

They would like to have this showcase placed in the corridor of the courthouse where the public could see the awards.

Cherry said he had broached the matter to the county commissioners court, but the court saw no way to provide a cabinet.

"Now we are going to ask for help—from the public," said Cherry. "We believe there are many friends of the posse who feel our efforts are beneficial, publicity-wise, to the town. Perhaps these friends would be willing to make a small donation to a fund to build a display case such as we need."

He needs a case sufficient for the needs of the posse could be provided for about $150.

Anyone who is willing to donate to the fund is asked to contact either Cherry, Lloyd Murphy, vice president; Adrian Porter, the secretary; or J. O. Whitefield, the parade marshal.

When enough money has been raised a case will be bought. The posse owns about two dozen trophies now. Each year it makes from eight to 10 rides. The way things have been going, the rides this season will add half a dozen or more new trophies to the list.

The posse also is seeking additional members. There are 30 members at present. The riders furnish their own horses and equipment.

"It's a lot of fun," said Cherry, "and we'd be happy to welcome anyone who wants to become a member."

A DOUBLE-BOGEY IN THE MAKING FOR ARNOLD PALMER. Second round leader had trouble on par 3 hole

PALMER, NICKLAUS, CASPER STROKE BACK

Amazing Fleckman Regains Lead In Open

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Marty Fleckman, a shy, 23-year-old amateur from Port Arthur, Tex., came on with a rush while the game's big three eyed each other like wary cats and grabbed a one-stroke lead over Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Bill Casper Saturday in the third round of the National Open Golf Championship.

He was the only man in the elite field under par for three trips over the sweltering, 7,015 yard Baltusrol course, which plays to a par 70.

The defending champion, Casper, playing it cool and cozy, surged to a three-stroke lead at one stage but ran into a rash of three straight bogeys starting at the 15th hole and dragged home with a 71 for 210.

He was tied at that figure, even par, with Palmer and Nicklaus, the two heavyweights of golf, who were paired with each other in a dream bracketing at the end of the 66-man line-up.

Palmer, his face showing grim determination, bogeyed the first hole and knocked his tee shot in the water at the short fourth. He didn't get a birdie until the 18th, finishing with a 73.

Nicklaus, the Golden Giant who has been harassed by a nagging slump, went 16 holes also without a birdie but finished with a pair of fours on the back breaking par 5 17th and 18th for a 72.

Fleckman is seeking to become the first amateur to win the open since Johnny Goodman did it in 1933, and he may have the shots and temperament to do the trick.

Fleckman started with a bogey at the first, where he drove into the rough, and took a double bogey at the second, where his tee shot went into the rough and his second flew 20 yards over the green, landing in some twigs and leaves.

WILL PALMER'S WORDS COME BACK TO HAUNT HIM?

Port Arthur Youth First Am To Lead Since 1933

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Marty Fleckman, the straight-shooting amateur from Texas, galloped into the U.S. Open lead while the bogey man was catching up with Billy Casper, and with Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus playing each other instead of the golf course.

"I've got everything to gain and nothing to lose," the 23-year-old Fleckman said Saturday after he birdied two of the last three holes for a third-round 69 and a one-under-par 209 total.

He takes a one-stroke lead into Sunday's final round over golfdom's ruling triumvirate — Palmer, Nicklaus and defending champion Casper. Fleckman is the first amateur to lead after three rounds since Johnny Goodman in 1933, and Goodman was the last amateur to win it.

"Everybody's human," Fleckman said when told of Palmer's statement that he didn't think an amateur could win the Open. "Anybody can win anything if they want to and have the game to do it," Fleckman said.

"The main thing today was that I hit the irons very well. It was the best I've felt in the tournament from driver on down to putter.

"After I bogeyed the first hole and double-bogeyed the second I said to myself, 'Let's get 'em back,' and I did."

Fleckman is paired with Casper in Sunday's final round at 3:19 p.m. EDT. Palmer and Nicklaus tee off 11 minutes earlier.

"We both watched each other too much today," said Nicklaus, who shot a 72. "At the eighth hole I said to Arnie, 'Let's stop playing each other and start playing the course.' But I'd still rather be paired with him."

Palmer agreed. "That happens sometimes," he admitted, "but I don't think it will happen tomorrow."

With a wry grin, Palmer recalled his statement about amateurs and the Open.

Bob Savage Will Coach Football Another Year

By TOMMY HART

A. J. Foyt says he probably won't race at Le Mans again, despite his recent victory there, because of the dangers involved.

He's determined to be the first man in history to win at Indianapolis four times, however. Bruce Cotton, who teamed with Bill Merritt to cop the recent Big Spring Open Amateur Partnership Golf tournament, performed on Odessa College's National Juco championship team in 1965 and is now majoring in Pre-Law Business at Arizona State University.

DAVID McWILLIAMS

Although now a resident of Midland, he and Merritt grew up together in Pecos, where both helped the high school team win district and regional honors. Bruce once shot Pecos' par 72 course in 68 strokes and posted a sizzling 28 on the par 34 nine-hole course at Cloudcroft, N.M. He was born in Phoenix but has resided in Texas 13 years. He won both the Marfa Invitational and the Pecos City championships two years ago. Merritt copped the Pecos Invitational earlier this year. He's majoring in Business Management at TCU. His father works for the Pecos Valley Southern Railroad. There were at least 17 cities in three states represented in the Open Amateur Partnership here, in addition to Big Spring. Much is at stake in that rumored revolt of touring golfers from the PGA, including the $240,000 in TV money the organization has already accepted for rights to the 1967 PGA tournament. Quartermiller Shayne Slovacek of Odessa College is going to the University of Oklahoma on a scholarship arrangement while weight-tosser Teddy Stewart of the same school is bound for the University of Alabama. A radio network to carry Ruidoso Downs news now embraces 25 Southwestern stations, some as far away as Tulsa and Fort Worth. The search is still going on for a Big Spring High School swim coach. The job was vacated by Bill Lewis recently. Big Spring likely won't stage a summer track meet before 1968, although the local athletes will stay busy elsewhere. Dave Bristol, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, says that one of the things he likes about managing in the majors is the fact that every city in the National League has a radio station that plays country music.

R. S. Higgins, newly added as a public school coach here, was employed by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service before beginning his teaching career. Bob Savage who attended public schools here prior to World War II, has signed for another year of coaching football at East High School in Des Moines, Iowa, where his teams have won 119 games, lost only 39 and tied five in 20 years. Savage had planned to quit but decided against it. One of his girls is in college at Iowa State Teachers, another with her husband in Fort Hood at Killeen, Tex., while a third is working for the telephone company in Des Moines. Savage has guided East football teams to nine City and eight Big Six championships in his tenure there. The Des Moines board of education permits a man to coach only one sport, so Savage had to choose between football and baseball. When he quits football, he'll go back to teaching baseball. For his many friends here, Bob's mailing address is 1523 Royer, Des Moines, Iowa 50316. David McWilliams, Abilene High's fine young football coach, piled up 377 minutes of playing time for the University of Texas during the 1963 season, more than any other performer on the squad. Jess Zapata, all-district outfielder for Big Spring the past spring, has both German and Indian blood running through his veins. His grandfather on his mother's side came from Deutschland. Jesse has high hopes of signing a professional baseball contract that would insure his going to college. Rey Navarette, the former Steer full-back, recently arrived in Vietnam for a tour of duty. Jim Baum, the resident rhetorician with the rosette physiognomy, refused to worry when told that the first two hours he works each day goes to pay his taxes. He points out that that's the part which includes his coffee break. Boom-Boom also says that his partner in the Great Conspiracy, Foghorn Bell, won't admit he's henpecked because he smokes a big cigar while doing the dishes.

Williams unloaded his 11th homer in the first inning after Don Kessinger walked. Savage connected for his third homer with none on in the fourth.

Yanks Edged By 1-0 Tab

CHICAGO (AP) — Rookie Walt Williams' ground-rule double into the left field corner broke a scoreless pitching duel between unbeaten Joel Horlen and Fritz Peterson Saturday and gave the Chicago White Sox a 1-0 victory over the New York Yankees.

Williams' smash, which a fan intercepted at life box seat railing, scored Al Weis, who had beaten out an infield single, advanced to second on Charlie Smith's hurried throw, and moved to third on an infield out by pinch hitter Smokey Burgess.

Horlen, who was lifted for Burgess, struck out seven and held the Yankees to four hits in his eight inning stint. Hoyt Wilhelm pitched the ninth to protect Horlen's eighth victory.

Ken Berry's 20-game hitting streak was snapped by Peterson, who yielded only four hits but suffered his sixth loss without a victory.

Pickett Departs For Lefty Meet

Bud Pickett of 3002 Navajo leaves this weekend to take part in the Texas Left-Handed Golfers' tournament at Seguin for the 17th time.

The meet takes place at the plush Chaparral Country Club and extends through next Saturday.

Pickett dedicates a week of which he says is the finest of his kind in the Southwest. Seguin civic officials go all out to make the linksters who swing from the portside feel at home.

The week's activity starts with a pro-am Monday. Barbecues, breakfasts, water ski shows and dinner by the lake — they're all a part of the package entertainment planned for the gathering of lefties.

Wives of the players are not left out of the entertainment, either. Sight-seeing trips to nearby scenic areas, a coffee, a dinner-dance, a style show and a fish fry are among things scheduled for the women. Mrs. Pickett plans to go along and take part in most of those events.

Jack Wilkerson has been the most consistent winner of the tournament and will probably be back to try and defend his laurels. Fred Blackmar, J. C. Thorp and Allan Mitchell are among other multiple winners of the event.

Stuart Chancellor of Midland, a former National Left-Handers' champion, never won the event but finished as runnerup to Wilkerson in 1961.

The tournament has been held continuously at Seguin since 1946. Houston, Dallas, Mineral Wells and Fort Worth were previous hosts.

The tournament has been held every year since 1938, with the exception of a four-year lapse during World War II.

Rebels Overtake Angels, 6-3

The Rebels struck back in their half of the second inning with four runs, then picked up two more in the fifth to defeat the Angels 6-3 in Sophomore League baseball here Friday.

The Angels had picked up two runs in the first inning for a short-lived, early lead.

Both teams collected nine safeties in the game which was won by hurler Dave Engert. The loss was charged to Scott McLaughlin.

The Big Spring Independent School district trustees were advised Tuesday by superintendent Sam Anderson that Texas Education Agency, TEFNE had asked for permission to carry such broadcasts. Anderson pointed out the policy has been for the board to alternate from year to year the designation of either KBST or KBYG as official broadcaster.

Yastrzemski's third-inning double, following two-out singles by Reggie Smith and Mike Andrews, staked Lonborg to a 3-0 lead.

An Australian, Jack Valli, persuaded the Americans to form a team, and they took in a few Australians who work for the U.S. Navy. Hundreds of Exmouth's population of 3,000 Americans and Australians turned out to see Navy defeat.

In reserves will be Tony (The Terrible) Fierro, Joe (Killer) Cadenhead, Dizzy (Wild Man) Wood, and Nico (Panther) Pardez.

Players are not allowed to run with the ball unless they bounce it every 10 yards, which is quite an art considering the shape of the ball.

Long accurate kicking and high marking (catching) are features of the game, which is played at breakneck speed, the ball moving from one end of the ground to the other in a matter of seconds.

Goals and points are scored, not touchdowns. The goal posts are tall posts with shorter one-point posts on either side. One goal is worth six points in deciding the winner.

No tripping is allowed in Australian Rules, and to tackle a player, his opponent must grab him around the waist or hips. No player can be tackled unless he has the ball in his possession.

Head instructor for the camp this summer will be a pair of former major leaguers, Bobby Bragan and Fred (Fip) Marberry. Bragan will teach the players to hit and catch and Marberry will instruct in pitching.

Head instructor for the camp is Bill McElduff, a former professional player who is now coaching at Palo Duro High School in Amarillo. McElduff, who is starting his sixth season as head of the permanent staff, will be assisted by Tom Fee of Kansas, Louis Mexia of Sam Houston State, Steve Friedman of Southwestern University, Dick Rawdon of Colgate and the University of Louisville, and others who will be added to the staff later.

Early Finish To Trial Of Clay Is Expected

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Confident Cassius Clay, unbeaten when he was heavyweight boxing champion, begins another big fight Monday in federal court. He is charged with violating the Universal Military Training and Service Act.

Conviction could mean five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Both sides predict a brief trial.

The former heavyweight champion of the world claims he is a black Muslim minister and should be exempt from the draft. He also contends draft boards are stacked with white members and therefore discriminate against Negroes.

Clay, who has won 29 straight fights including 23 by knockouts, was stripped of his heavyweight crown moments after he refused to take the oath as a draftee last April 28.

Ten days later he was indicted. He pleaded innocent and made $5,000 bond.

His original trial date was set for June 5. He got a two week delay. The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court rejected appeals for a delay until August.

Clay, a descendant of a runaway Kentucky slave, calls himself Muhammad Ali. He says he preaches 90 per cent of the time and boxes 10 per cent.

"If justice prevails, if my constitutional rights are upheld, I will be forced to go neither to the Army nor to jail," Clay said when he refused to be inducted. "In the end I am confident that justice will come my way for the truth must eventually prevail."

A jury will hear the evidence in U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Ingraham's courtroom which is expected to be filled.

Both sides say the primary issue is whether a draft board was justified in classifying Clay IA or should it have exempted him from military service, thus recognizing his claim to being a true Muslim minister.

Hayden Covington and Quinn Hodges, Clay's lawyers, have filed numerous civil actions challenging the structure of the draft system.

During pre-trial hearings, U.S. Atty. Morton Susman, the chief prosecutor, accused Covington of "trying to put the entire selective service system on trial."

"This trial should be over Monday night or Tuesday morning," said Hodges. "There will be a few witnesses. Some testifying he (Clay) is a minister, others testifying he is not—because we're not going outside the draft board records."

Susman said testimony from the government's four witnesses (selective service officials) will require less than two hours.

RETURNING A SMASH Paul played in a net hotbed

Pres Paul Seeks Net Competition

By NATE MITCHELL

Playing tennis was always a natural pastime for Preston Paul. Having received a tennis racket while still a toddler, "Pres" Paul wasted no time in learning what that particular piece of athletic equipment was designed for. And, being a resident of the West Coast, where ideal tennis weather prevails the year-round, he was always able to find other enthusiasts of the sport on hand with which to play.

PRESTON PAULL

A resident of Santa Rosa, near San Francisco, Pres began playing organized tennis as a high school sophomore. Cementing a position on the net squad his initial season out, he held it for the next three years and racked up enough renown in the immediate Northern California area to get into Santa Rosa Junior College on a netter's scholarship.

At SRJC, Paul soon learned that the higher one goes in sports, the tougher the competition. His first year there, he copped the league singles crown, while his doubles mate helped him sew up the doubles title for the loop. That year the league championship tournament was being held at Santa Rosa Juco and Paul and his teammates went all out to impress the home folk.

Despite their enthusiasm, however, they bowed out of the tourney at the hands of a better team of netters who subsequently wound up runners-up to the league titlists.

Culminating his career at SRJC the following year, Paul again took home the singles title for the loop and his same partner aided in copping the doubles crown. As a doubles pair, they were ranked fourth in Northern California and eighth in the state.

After having qualified for and entered the state meet, the runner-up team dropped them out of the competition. Thus, for two consecutive years in JC, Paul and Company put up a noble showing in the race for net finalists, only to get nudged at the wire.

After JC, Paul entered San Francisco State College and tied down the No. 3 slot on the net team his first term there. At SFSC, Paul played behind Bob Cisco, ranked 31st in the U.S. That same year, Cisco copped the singles laurels, but Paul and his doubles partner rallied to win doubles honors.

To further accentuate the finessness with the racquets, Paul and partner were titleholders of the Far Western Doubles cham-ionships for 1965.

During Paul's senior year at SFSC, he played anywhere from No. 5 to No. 2 on the squad, nailing down the No. 2 slot by season's end. Bob Cisco was back, still ranked anywhere from 30th to 32nd — depending on which rating you read—and seemingly at his peak.

Definitely the tougher of the teams fielded during Paul's tenure, the 1966 tennis team lost only three matches all year. The University of California, ranked 12th; Stanford, ranked 15th, and San Jose State, ranked 16th were the only schools fielding teams capable of turning back the keyed up SFSC net squad.

Paul feels that his biggest moment in the game of tennis came during his senior term in college. Minor illnesses had sidelined nearly half of the net squad when they travelled to northern California to play a tough Davis team. Odds were that SFSC would get the thrashing of its history, but Paul and Company went on to wax Davis, 7-2, and bring home the largest trophy.

Currently stationed at Webb AFB in the accounting section, Paul plays little tennis these days, but looks forward to a time when he can return to the nets. He is able to find sandlot competition, but maintains, "In order to be a top tennis player, one must have good competition."

"There's a lot of good tennis competition in Texas," he concludes, "especially in the Dallas area. Now, it's just a matter of my being able to get over there for some of the meets."

style meet is scheduled to get under way at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

A total of 25 boys in three age groups have already entered the one-day event, including seven in the 12-13 age bracket, eight in the 14-15 classification and ten in the 16-17-18 classification.

Included among those whose names are already on file are two boys from Lamesa, three from Sweetwater and one from Loraine and Midland.

Boys from anywhere in West Texas are eligible to compete. Prizes will include trophies for both the winner and runner-up of each division.

The winners become eligible to take part in a Tournament of Champions, which has not yet been set. Several of the entries here plan to play in junior meets all over West Texas.

The 16-17-18 age group has the largest number of entries, with ten already committed to play. Three of those are from out-of-town.

The tournament, as are others like it, will be sponsored by the West Texas chapter of the PGA. The chapter is putting up the money for the awards.

Registration fee is $2, Wetsel said.

Orioles Blank Red Sox, 4-0

The Sophomore League Orioles shut out the Red Sox, 4-0, here Friday behind the three-hit pitching of Moses Flores. The Song Birds got on the scoreboard in the fourth inning when Tom Brewer smashed a two-run homer off losing pitcher, Johnny Sevy, who had thrown a perfect game up to that point.

Making each blow count, the Birds managed a run per hit, as Hank Haro and Oscar Delbosque joined Brewer in hitting safely.

Cougars Seek Fourth Straight Golf Title

SHAWNEE - ON Delaware, spectacular in the country. Pa. (AP) - Houston, winner of three straight NCAA golf championships, defends its title next week at Fred Waring's Shawnee Inn course hard by the Delaware River in the picturesque Pocono Mountains.

Some 250 collegians will test the 7,000-yard par 72 course, which includes a hole listed by Golf Digest as one of the most fields. Competition starts June 20 with an East-West rivalry. The team and medal competition open the next day and run through June 24.

Expected to challenge the perennial winners from Houston are San Jose State, runner-up last year; Louisiana State, Brigham Young, Oklahoma State, Florida, Southern California and Eastern champion Penn State.

The individual winner is expected to come from among eight top flight collegiate golfers, headed by Jack Lewis of Wake Forest and John Miller of Brigham Young.

Lewis, a sophomore, was a member of this year's Walker Cup team, which defeated the British in England and also played in the British Amateur. Miller, low amateur in the 1966 U.S. Open in San Francisco in which he wound up eighth, gave his Skyline Conference team a good shot at both team and individual honors.

Other standard contenders include Houston's Hal Underwood; B. R. McClendon, Louisiana State's three-time Southeastern Conference champion; Kemp Richardson of Southern California; Dennis Turk and Ross Randall of San Jose State; Charley McDowell of Princeton and Dave Muraskin, a Rutgers sophomore. McDowell is an Ivy League stickout, while Muraskin won the 1967 Metropolitan collegiate championship.

In addition to Underwood, Houston has a star sophomore, Bob Barbarossa, who as a freshman won the Intercollegiate Invitational first year division crown. He came back this year to win the varsity event against some of college golf's best.

Florida's hopes ride with Steve Melynk, a 220-pounder who can really powder a golf ball. A Georgian, Melynk shot a 65 and recorded a four round total of 281 in winning the Coral Gables intercollegiate. Frank Guise and John Geiger led Penn State to its Eastern title, sharing individual honors with two round totals of 139 each.

It should be interesting to see whether the NCAA tournament can turn up another Jack Nicklaus, Phil Rogers, Joe Campbell, Tom Nieporte or Bob Murphy, all previous winners, who have gone on to golf fame.

Local Boys Win Awards In Kegling Tournament

Three Big Spring youths prospered in the Texas State Bowling Proprietors Association's seventh annual Scholarship tournament at Oak Hill Bowling Lanes and Bowlerama of Texas in San Antonio last weekend.

They are Terry White, who finished third in Senior A Boys singles competition; and Joey Pate and Jim Griffin, who teamed for a first place finish in Senior A Boys doubles activity.

Each won a trophy. In addition, Pate won a $200 scholarship by finishing second in the Boys' Handicap Division with a six-game score of 1180, making use of only a 30-pin handicap.

The leader in that phase of competition was Tony Woolum of El Paso Burges High School, with a score of 1182. Woolum made use of a 76-pin handicap and earned a $300 scholarship.

Young Pate intends to validate his scholarship offer at Howard County Junior College this fall.

Joey and Griffin teamed up to score a 1339 in doubles competition, beating out runners-up John Purdy and Mando Contreras of San Marcos by 45 pins.

Finishing ahead of White in Senior A Boys singles activity were Jimmy Tyler of Austin, who had a score of 728; and Pat O'Leary of El Paso, who finished with a 717. White settled for a 681.

By beating Pate with the aid of his handicap, Woolum won an all-expenses paid trip to the BPAA All-America Youth Bowling Championships scheduled in Washington, D.C., July 28-31, where he will compete for scholarships. The total awards there amount to $21,000.

McCarty Pitches No-Hit Contest

The Church softball league's first no-hitter of the season was pitched by Bobby McCarty of Baptist Temple Tuesday night.

McCarty led his team to a 9-0 victory over Crestview Baptist with his performance.

Willie Crawford Batting Leader

Willie Crawford, Albuquerque outfielder, rapped 14 hits in 26 times at the plate and zoomed into first place in Texas League batting last week.

He made the stay of Bull Watson, Amarillo first baseman, short—just one week. Watson was not only dislodged from the lead but fell down to third. He continued out front in runs, however, with 51, and still sets the pace in runs batted in with 41.

Crawford boosted himself to 366 for a 16-point lead over Sonny Kopacz, the Austin first baseman. Crawford added 33 weeks to his average with last week's hot stick work.

Nate Colbert of Amarillo has the most total bases with 129 as a result of his 17 home runs that also lead the league.

Gregg Is Named

DALLAS (AP) — Guion Gregg, Dallas business man and vice president of the Ex-Students Association of Texas Tech, has been named president of the North Texas chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

Northwood Books Athletic Schedule

CEDAR HILL, Tex. (AP) — A new college in the Texas athletic scene announced the schedule for its first competition Saturday.

Northwood of Texas will field a basketball team this fall and it has a 21-game schedule lined up. It will play such teams as Texas Wesleyan, Tarleton State, LeTourneau, Midwestern, Fort Worth Christian, Dallas Baptist, Mesquite Christian College of the Southwest, Bethany Nazarene of Oklahoma City, East Texas Baptist, St. Edward's and Austin College.

It is a member of the NAIA and plans competition in all the sports—football, baseball, track, tennis and golf.

Forrester Named Assistant Pro

LUBBOCK — Al Forrester of Hobbs, N.M., has been named assistant golf pro at the Meadowbrook Golf Course here.

Forrester has served as head pro at the municipal course in Hobbs since 1965. He previously has worked at courses in Jalisco, N.M., Amarillo and Plainview. Jay McClure is head pro at Meadowbrook. Calvin Garrett is another assistant here.

Many Big Names Entered In Open At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fourteen men have won nine of 22 tournaments this year lead a field of 144 into the $103,500 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament Thursday at Aurora Country Club.

Julius Boros, who has captured three 1967 tournaments, and Arnold Palmer, who won two this year, have finished in the money in all four previous Cleveland Opens. Palmer won the initial one in 1963 in a playoff.

This year's Masters champion, Gay Brewer, and Frank Beard, a slim Kentuckian who birdied the 72nd hole at Las Vegas and Houston to beat out Palmer, are the other double winners in the field at Aurora.

First prize is $20,700, but the dollar inducement is enhanced because the event is the second of four qualifiers for a $125,000, small-field tournament Oct. 5-8 at St. Andrews Old Course in Scotland. The 6,611-yard, par-70 Aurora Course is a more exacting layout than the sites of the four previous Cleveland Opens. Trees tight along the

Maxwell To Try For PGA Spot

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Thirty-six Texas pros will post qualifying scores for the National PGA-golf tournament here Monday and Tuesday.

Three places in the national tournament at Denver July 20 will be up for grabs.

Billy Maxwell, one of the touring pros, will post his score here. Others in the field include Earl Stewart and Shelley Mayfield of Dallas, Buster Cupit of Longview and Gene Mitchell Jr., the Texas PGA champion.

There will be 18 holes Monday and 18 Tuesday over the 7,169-yard par 71 Pecan Valley course.

Knott Community Toils Harder On New Projects

KNOTT — Even though the contest which inspired initial activities in the field has now ended, the residents of Knott are pushing ahead with community improvements at a pace faster than the one maintained in the competitive period. Light standards are being installed this week and finishing steps taken on the Knott Riding Club arena. At a meeting of the community group last week, it was announced Ackerly Roping Club had made a donation of important materials from its arena and that these will do much toward providing the Knott riders with a good arena of their own east of the community building. The Knott Riding Club recently held a campout, and 50 parents and children took part. The group will ride Wednesday in the Big Spring rodeo parade. When the arena is completed the club plans to widen its field of activities program to interest all ages. A skating area for the youngsters is being completed. When the old shops building of the Knott school, just north of the old gym, was razed and moved to Ackerly, care was taken to avoid damaging the concrete floor. This heavy slab is ideal for roller skating. Jerry Roman and Robert Brown have been designated to set up a workday to put a railing around the skating area. Henry Sample has been named to supervise installation of a bathroom in the Community Center. Quentin Airheart and Richard Parker will see that a refrigerator is installed.

MR. AND MRS. STEPHEN ROE CLINE

Say Vows In Home Services

Miss Toni Lynn Campbell became the bride of Stephen Roe Cline during a double ring ceremony held at 6 o'clock Saturday evening in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wendell Campbell, 4009 Dixon. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cline, Knott Route.

The Rev. Roy Honea, pastor of Grace Baptist Church, served as officiant for the nuptial rites, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Her bridal attire was a street-length dress of white satin overlaid with Chantilly lace. The dress featured a jewel neckline and long, belled sleeves of lace, and the squared neckline was enhanced with a bow which topped gathers at the back of the dress. Her veiled pillbox was accented with pearls and iridescents, and her shoulder corsage was of blue orchids.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Nena Hart, who wore a sleeveless pink Chantilly lace dress fashioned with ruffled neckline. Her corsage was of pink and white carnations.

Rick Denton served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception with Miss Robbie Cline, sister of the bridegroom, presiding at the guest register. Other members of the house party were Mrs. Ronnie Payne, Mrs. Belton Brunson, Mrs. Lin Wallace, Mrs. Esther Lee McNutt and Mrs. Fred Lonsford.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white lace cloth and appointed with crystal and silver. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white carnations, and the tiered wedding cake was decorated with pink roses.

Following a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will be at home at 204 E. 22nd.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cline attended Big Spring Senior High School. She participated in the Vocational Office Education program and was a member of the Shorthand Club and Order of the Rainbow for Girls. Cline was a member of the Future Farmers of America and the Auto Mechanics Club. He is employed by the Phillips 66 Station on S. Gregg.

Date Set

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Todd, Gall Route, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Dixie, to Virgil O. Blackwell of Wichita Falls. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Blackwell of Ranger. The couple will marry Aug. 5 in the Trinity Baptist Church with the Rev. Claude Craven serving as officiant.

R. H. Weaver Gives Information On Wills

R. H. Weaver, local attorney, spoke on the subject, "Wills," at the Thursday luncheon meeting of the Big Spring Credit Women's Club at Hotel Settles. Weaver stressed the need for each individual to make a legitimate will. He said that many people do not make provisions because they feel that they do not have enough property to justify the making of a will.

"These are the people most in need of a will," said Weaver. He further explained that small estates are easily depleted by legal fees and taxes, which could be avoided if a legitimate will were made.

"There are three types of wills authorized in the state of Texas. There is the oral will or deathbed statement made in front of three witnesses, there is the will written in a person's own handwriting, and there is the conventional type written by a competent attorney in the presence of three persons, who will sign the will as witnesses."

Mrs. Lloyd Wooten won the capsule prize, and 19 attended. Plans were made for a backyard party July 25 at the home of Mrs. Jessie Lee Townsend, 1701 Scurry. The next meeting will be July 6.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

June seems to be standing true to the tradition that this sixth-month-of-the-year is the month of brides. In our little city there have already been many of the JP type (those who stand before the peace justice), the "at-home" ceremony where just the parents are present, the little larger one that comes under the category of "just a small wedding" and then the really big ones with six or seven and even more attendants.

MRS. WALTER MOORE, who is a mother of a bride-elect, received from a friend recently a clipping of a column by Jennifer Marrs that has a tongue-in-cheek description of the "small wedding." The columnist apparently had just been through the ordeal and promptly advised presenting the couple with $500, best wishes and a ladder.

Summing up the seemingly thousands of small details and the hundreds of friends and relatives that one just must ask takes the small wedding out of that category and puts it in the "small wedding with lots of people" class.

After the plans, parties, ceremony and reception are tucked away, back at the church stand two weary parents, symbols of the old tradition according to Mrs. Marrs. They are something old—their feeling after the whole thing is over; something new—a son; something blue—their feelings inside since they lost their little girl; and something borrowed—money for the wedding.

RICKY and ROBERT WHITE have returned to their home in Abilene after spending a week here in the home of their uncle and aunt, MR. and MRS. T. J. PROCTOR.

MR. and MRS. JOHN HAMP-TON have returned to Port Arthur after visiting their cousins, MR. and MRS. M. A. HAMP-TON, 1503 Tucson. They would have liked to have transported some of our breezes back to their home town.

Recent guests in the home of MR. and MRS. R. E. McCLURE SR. were their grandchildren, MARY LYN and STEVE McCLURE and their mother and new sister, MRS. JOE CLARK, and four-month-old Amy Lee. They all live in Albuquerque, N. M., where Mary Lyn has just graduated from high school.

One of the friskiest parting gifts given to COL. MOUNT FRANTZ from his Webb AFB Hospital group was a pretty white baby poodle whose registered name will be Mademoiselle Petite Georgette. Mrs. Frantz was taking the pretty pup around with her Thursday prior to their Friday departure for Bryan where they will make their home.

Some people stay away a long time on vacation trips but don't cover much territory and others stay a week and go 3,000 miles. Such was the case last week when MRS. KENT MORGAN, MR. and MRS. FRANK-LIN WILLIAMSON and MR. and MRS. DENNIS WINTER-ROWD took a quick trip to Acapulco, Monterrey, Mexico City, Salsalito and Texico. They also spent some time in Ruidoso, N. M., which all goes to prove you don't have to stay so long at one place to have a good trip.

The W. A. CARTERS have spent the week in Bermuda and plan to return here Monday.

The western states have lured the JACK McGEES who are vacationing in Las Vegas, Nev., and will also spend some time in Albuquerque and Santa Fe, N. M., before returning here.

When the LUTHER BEANS go to Goldsboro, S. C., next month to visit their daughter's family, CAPT. and MRS. JAY BAKER and their little son, they will be just three doors separated from some of our former Webb residents. They are COL. and MRS. B. F. MEACHAM who were stationed here six years before leaving last year for the new station. Capt. Baker flies with the Meacham's son, Lt. Richard Meacham.

Weekend guests of MRS. TOM CROFTS and her mother, MRS. FRED CROSLAND, are MR. and MRS. DAVID ARNOLD of Dallas.

Mrs. J. S. Sims Hosts Luncheon

Mrs. J. L. Terry won guest high score at the Friday luncheon meeting of the Rook Club at the Holiday Inn. Mrs. J. S. Sims hosted the luncheon.

Mrs. W. D. McDonald won high score. Eleven members and two guests, Mrs. Terry and Mrs. Tom G. Adams, attended. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Felton Smith, 810 Runnels.

cia were in Odessa Saturday evening for the wedding of Miss Lilia Martinez, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Radames Martinez.

James Ray and family plan to vacation next week at Possum Kingdom.

Bob Cartile, who will be vacationing next week, plans to attend a church encampment near San Antonio.

The Dell McGuire's expect to enjoy their vacation next week in Fort Worth and at Six Flags over Texas.

Houston will attract the vacationing J. M. Daltons.

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary will hold an election of officers Monday at 8 p.m. in the Legion Home. Delegates to the department convention July 27-30 in Dallas will also be named. Mrs. Byron Hill will serve as hostess.

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Constance Ann Hine to Alrman 2. C. Terry Dale Stout, is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Harmon Hine, 1412 Tucson. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Stout of McAllen. The couple will marry July 15 at Webb Air Force Base chapel, with Chaplain (Capt.) Gregory R. Feller officiating.

Formal wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Sharon Kaye Barton and Clifton Kip Derrick Friday evening in Midway Baptist Church in Lamesa.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Paris A. Barton, father of the bride, and the Rev. H. Lou Barton of Irondale, Mo. An arch of greenery formed the altar background and flanking the arch were seven-branched candelabra and candle trees. White satin marked family pews, and the couple knelt on a white satin prie-dieu during the singing of "The Wedding Prayer" by Mrs. Arlie Williams.

Miss Brenda Meeks was organist, and Mrs. David Gibson was pianist. They accompanied James Kinman as he sang "Because" and "O Promise Me." The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Barton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Derrick of Lamesa.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white taffeta and lace. The slender Empire sheath was fashioned with lace bodice, scalloped neckline and petal point sleeves. Home Demonstration Clubs Study Fabrics, Plan Float

Members of county home demonstration clubs convened throughout the week to complete plans for a float in the rodeo parade and select programs for the forthcoming year. Programs were presented by 4-H club members, and information concerning wash and wear fabrics was heard by one group.

For the program on fabric care, the following information was provided by Texas A&M University at College Station. Durable-press fabrics reduce the work required to keep the family well-groomed, according to Rhea Boyle, extension clothing specialist with Texas A&M University. This is her advice:

Proper laundry methods help retain the easy-care features of these fabrics. Launder before fabrics are heavily soiled and as soon as possible after soiling. Turn garments inside out to help reduce "frosting" or wear on creases. Launder in the coolest water that will remove soil. If warm or hot water is used, then rinse in cool water before machine spinning or hand wringing.

For less wrinkling, dry in small loads, about half the dryer capacity. Dry at normal heat unless your dryer has a setting for "wash-wear," or permanent press. At the end of the dryer cycle, let the clothes continue to tumble for a cool-down period of five to ten minutes after the heat is off.

As soon as the dryer stops, remove garments and hang or fold. If you have no dryer, shorten the final spin in the washing machine by advancing the dial, or remove the garments while dripping wet and hang on rustproof hangers. If touch-up pressing is needed, use the iron at the low setting.

Only Remaining Student Of Original Knott School

By SAM BLACKBURN

A mesquite tree in the middle of a plowed field, a few lonely graves nearby and the nearest house nearly a mile away—this is the location of the first public school ever to operate in the Knott community.

Mrs. Garland Nichols, who lives in the house closest to the old school site, attended school there in 1908 and has the distinction of being the community's true pioneer of the Knott school history.

NO DESKS

"The school was a small frame building," she said. "We had no desks—only home-made benches.

"There was a water barrel near the front door and only one dipper served all of the youngsters who were thirsty."

She remembers that the first teacher in the school was a man named Coates.

"I remember he had a wife and four little daughters," says Mrs. Nichols. "and the family lived in a tent which Mr. Coates put up on the school ground a short distance from the school building." The records show his pay was $40 a month.

The school was a part of the county public school system. He taught all of the grades from the primer through the seventh grade. It was years later that Knott had its first high school.

LOT OF KIDS

"There were a lot of kids in that first school," she said.

"There were little houses scattered all over this area and every little house had a bunch of boys and girls.

"Every bench was always full as I remember it."

Mrs. Nichols and her husband, J. G. Nichols, have eight children, all of whom attended the schools at Knott. They now have grandchildren, some of whom were in the school before it was eliminated by consolidation with the Ackerly district in 1959.

The first school in what was to become the Knott community, was a private school, it is said, called "Light school." This was established prior to 1906. It was several miles south of the area now called Knott.

When a promoter named Knott, who developed and sold the farm lands in the area, appeared on the scene he decided the four acre tract where the original Knott public school was built, to the community. The land, according to Nichols, is still owned by the district.

IN 1919

Mrs. Nichols said that the first building was used as late as 1919. Oliver Nichols attended school there in that year.

The old site is about three miles south and west of the site of the Knott post office and of the now unused Knott school building, put out of business with the consolidation. The Nichols say there were several other school buildings in the area in the interval from 1906 through 1959. One was located near what is now called West Knott.

Mrs. Nichols did not graduate from any high school, she said.

"I married when I was 16," she points out, "and that brought an end to my school career."

ACTIVE

Mrs. Nichols is an active worker in the Knott school alumni association and will be singled out for special honors next Saturday night at the 15th annual homecoming rally for Knott students.

Apparently she is the only surviving pupil who was in the original Knott school when it was first started nearly 60 years ago.

Homecoming Set For Knott Exes

Preparations are being made for at least 250 former students of the Knott public school to attend the 15th annual Knott Homecoming Saturday, June 24.

Last year's reunion drew that many and Newell Tate, Tarzan, who is the president of the Alumni Association, said that advance information is that an even larger turnout is possible this year.

IN SCHOOL

The reunion will be held in the school building at Knott.

This year will pay special honor to the graduating classes of 1927, 1937, 1947 and 1957. The Knott school, which was established in 1906, disappeared in 1959 when it was consolidated with the Ackerly school district.

Knott youngsters now attend grade school in Ackerly and the Sands High School.

Tate said that registration of the grads and former students started at 3 p.m. A program and business meeting is slated for 4:30 p.m.

New officers will be elected. In addition to President Tate, who is a 1947 graduate of Knott High School, other officers are Mrs. Claude Morrison, Big Spring, vice president; Mrs. Johnny Shortes, Big Spring, secretary; and W. A. Burchell Jr., Big Spring, treasurer.

CLIMAX

The climax of the reunion will be the supper which is slated for 6 p.m.

All Knott exes within a radius of 50 miles of the school are urged to bring old-fashioned "spread" dinners. The association has arranged for plenty of bread, plates, forks, spoons, coffee and tea. Former students who live in the area are asked to bring covered dishes of any foods they may wish to prepare.

URGED TO ATTEND

Tate urged all former Knott students to make a special effort to attend.

"We want this to be the biggest reunion," he said, "we have had in the 15 years we have held these events."

Biologists Snare Pregnant Lobsters

BOSTON (AP) — Canada is trying again this summer to get a colony of New England lobsters started in waters off Vancouver Island in the Pacific Ocean.

Marine biologists have rounded up 130 pregnant lobsters at the hatchery on Martha's Vineyard island and transported them to Vancouver in cartons.

So far Canada has spent about $250,000 on the project but has had little success.

Paving Work Starts For YMCA Area

Work has started on the paving of a two-block stretch of Owens Street, between Eighth and Tenth, between the YMCA building and the high school athletic area.

The project was brought about through a cooperative effort between the schools and the city after the YMCA had requested the improvement. It provided its share of the paving cost by virtue of a gift from the Dora Roberts Foundation, which had specified that a part of its $40,000 grant to the Y could go for such capital improvement.

The street will be 36 feet wide. Surfacing also will be laid around the corner of Eighth and Owens, to provide access to the YMCA parking area.

Dub Caldwell is doing the work, under a special arrangement worked out with the city and the schools. Both public agencies have cooperated in establishing lines and setting grades for the improvement, so that both the YMCA and the athletic area may be served, as well as the general public.

Tech Reports A New Record

LUBBOCK — A summertime record of 7,060 students registered at Texas Tech for the first half of the 1967 summer session, Asst. Registrar Evelyn Clewell reported today.

Miss Clewell said enrollment was up 145 over last year's previous high of 6,915 at the end of the session's fourth class day. Miss Clewell said this year's enrollment figure was 2.1 per cent ahead of last summer's total according to the unaudited figures.

City's Overnight Park Is Popular

More favorable comments have probably been received concerning the overnight camping facilities of the City Park than any other city undertaking in recent years.

"In all my years as city manager I have received more favorable comments about these facilities than just about anything I've been connected with in public service," said Larry Crow, city manager.

From personal visits to the area and large numbers of letters and postcards he has received the three summers the site has been provided, he has met or heard from people from as far away as Alaska, Maryland, Oregon and Florida, as well as other parts of Texas.

"The important thing is that these people are friends of Big Spring and good advertising in their home states," Crow said, adding that he had a lot of friends judging from the numbers of letters and conversations.

He explained that these people who stop and stay in our town trade with local merchants and are an economic help to the community. He estimated the original cost of providing the area at less than $5,000—a bargain price for good public relations.

Shoot To Kill Orders Issued

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "I had orders to shoot to kill anyone trying to flee Cuba," says a gunman on a Cuban coast guard torpedo boat who himself eluded Fidel Castro's patrols and came into exile by boat.

"I never obeyed that order," continued the refugee, Pedro Mayea Cazola, 26, "in the three years I was a gunman. But many others did."

More than 12,000 Cubans have reached the United States by boat since 1959, when Castro seized power. How many others died in the attempt is unknown.

City To Change Its Name Again?

TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES, N.M. (AP) —

For at least the fourth time, residents of this central New Mexico city will vote Aug. 18 on whether to change the name of their community.

In 1950 Ralph Edwards was looking for a city to change its name to commemorate his Truth or Consequences radio show. On March 31, 1950, residents of Hot Springs, N.M., voted by a 3-1 margin to do so. A legal technicality forced another vote later that year and the margin was cut to 2-1.

A Devotional For The Day

Seek the Lord, and his strength; seek his face evermore. (Psalm 105:4)
PRAYER: Our Father, teach us to pray in order that we may be given strength for the work in Thy kingdom. Grant us strength sufficient to make our lives useful to Thee and to our fellowmen. We ask in the name of the living Savior. Amen.

Give The Rodeo Your Support

This week Big Spring comes to the oldest continuous community venture—the 34th annual Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo.

It ranks as not only one of the oldest in all of Texas, but it also ranks as one of the best. As a testimony of the quality of men who have come up through the years as young contestants breaking in on circuit that included Big Spring is Jim Bob Allizer, the current leader for championship honors in calf roping. Another certain to be in the stands is Toots Mansfield, a Big Spring man who seven times held the record as the roping champion and now one of the local show's directors.

This year's producer, Tommy Steiner, is no stranger here, for in years past he has staged some outstanding shows. He has arranged a number of unusual and lively specialty acts for variety, and his string of stock is rated as among the toughest on tour today.

Certainly all of this points to a good show, but it can be only to the extent that our people support this venerable institution at the gate. Aside from the financial end, good crowds are important because they stimulate performers to do even better than their best. We urge you to go at least once—and more if possible—for the sheer enjoyment of it, and for the perpetuation of a colorful institution.

The A-OK Kids

Summer can be a lost season, a sort of drag, but not so with a legion of our young people. The good kinds, the overwhelming majority, are undertaking constructive things.

At the Big Spring State Hospital and the Veterans Administration Hospital they are serving as junior volunteers in an extraordinary mission of mercy. Many of them work harder at it than if they were paid.

Nearly two score are enrolled in the high school Honors Institute on the humanities, eagerly mastering skills of creative reading and the joy of exploring through literature.

A score of others are taking intensive training in drama, learning more about many phases of this form of the arts.

A large number are going off to band schools, and before the summer is out they will be engaged in volunteer study here and in intensive practice prior to the reopening of school.

A number of others will be going to publications workshops and to other specialized symposiums. Several will be (or have been) delegates to state youth legislative projects.

Hundreds of others are engaged in the Citywide Recreation Program or the YMCA summer activities. And nearly 1,000 are wrapped up in the Little League; Sophomore and Teenage baseball leagues, as well as in softball play.

Don't worry about these youngsters. They're A-OK.

The Movie Based On History

WASHINGTON — There is no doubt that a movie will be made on the recent Israeli-Arab war. Two producers have already submitted titles. Darryl Zanuck wants to call his "The Shortest Day," and Otto Preminger would title his "Son of Exodus."

A third company is also thinking about a film called "One-Eyed Moshe," but the reason they can't go into production is that they're having script trouble.

When the screen writer submitted his story outline to the producer, the producer called him in and angrily said, "What kind of a nut do you think I am? The public will never believe the Israelis took Egypt, Jordan and Syria in four days."

"I KNOW IT sounded silly when I wrote it, chief, but it's based on fact. We can't fool with history."
"Who says we can't?" John Wayne, Kirk Douglas and Gregory Peck couldn't take Egypt, Jordan and Syria in four days. Where's the conflict?"

"Well, I've tried to weave a fictitious story in there. You see, we have a one-eyed general played by Sammy Davis Jr., of course, and his driver, an Israeli sergeant, played by Frank Sinatra. The picture starts off in Tel Aviv with the general telling his driver to take him to the front. In the next shot we see them in Gaza. This is before the titles."

"THEY'VE TAKEN Gaza and we haven't even had the titles yet? You must be out of your mind."

Billy Graham

If a Christian, contemplating suicide, would ask God in advance to forgive him, would God do so?
H.B.L.
Since suicide, the killing of one's self is intentional murder, we could hardly expect God to grant advance forgiveness for a sin which should be, and could be avoided.

Forgiveness is always predicated upon repentance, and one could hardly be repentant about something one was about to do.

Barring mental illness, I know of no reason why a Christian should contemplate suicide. True, a Christian does not fear death, but he says with Paul: "For me to live is Christ; to die is gain." He is not afraid to face up to life, for he has resources which stand him in good stead, regardless of the circumstances.

Could it be that you are a victim of a malignancy which is terminal in nature? This is the reason for many suicides: the fear of pain, and the fear of being a burden upon others. But the Christian unfettered by mental illness sees this type of affliction as an opportunity to demonstrate the adequacy of Christ in crisis. One of the most radiant Christians I know has a malignancy which is inoperable and terminal. However, she has not yielded one iota to despair, but her joyful acceptance of her fate is a benediction and testimony to all who come in contact with her. Just to know her is a sermon; just to know her, is to know that Christ is adequate in every circumstance.

Sinners Help

Trotter recalls the time a pastor inserted a notice in the church bulletin. He asked for "God-loving folks to help clean up the church."

The notice was repeated twice but nothing happened.

Finally, the pastor put up this one: "I asked God-loving people to help clean up the church. No one responded. I am now asking the sinners to come and help."

MIDDLE EAST FISHERMAN

Slowly, It's Looking Better

SLIGHT, BUT UPWARD

- Mid-East oil flow resumes, but U.S.-Britain embargoed
- Auto output up slightly for week, down for the year
- Retail sales gain about four per cent, durable goods are up
- Rails rally with heavy purchases of rolling stock
- Construction weaker, but residential being moved

NEW YORK (AP) — Oil began to flow again in the Middle East this past week, and a fast return to normalcy in the troubled area was hoped for by U.S. business and financial leaders.

Saudi Arabia, largest oil source in the Arab world, was the first to return to full production. Tankers again began steaming to various world ports with cargoes of oil. They could not go to the United States or Britain, however, because of an embargo imposed by most of the Arab nations.

But the embargo was not expected to affect the United States, which produces most of its own oil. It could be troublesome, though, for Western Europe which depends on Middle Eastern and North African oil for 80 per cent of its imports.

Most of the Western countries, however, are reported to have reserve supplies for about two months or more.

SUEZ QUESTION
Reopening of the Suez Canal was a question mark. Egypt claims the canal was closed by vessels sunk during the Arab-Israeli war and says it has no idea how long it will take to reopen the vital waterway.

The closing has dislocated ocean shipping and shipping rates are being forced upward. Some shippers are reported to have chartered ocean tankers at 50 per cent increased rates.

In other news of the week, U.S. automobile production was estimated at 174,396 units, up slightly from the 173,410 cars built in the previous week but down six per cent from the 186,291 in the year-ago week.

The auto industry said its early June sales ran four per cent ahead of the year earlier, totaling 247,989 cars. During the June 1-10 period, Ford Motor Co. said its retail deliveries were 20.7 per cent over 1966 and Chrysler Corp. had a 1.5 per cent gain. General Motors Corp., however, said its sales were down 2.7 per cent and earlier. Spending on new housing rose two per cent from the March level, it said, but public construction of all kinds dropped slightly.

RAISES SIGHTS
Heading into the final weeks of production of 1967 models, the industry has set a target of 929,000 more cars before the model year ends. Most of these cars are to be built during the last three weeks of July, with the last '67 scheduled to come off the Ford lines early in August.

In a talk to the Automotive Presidents of New York, Chrysler predicted 1967 would be the third-best sales year in industry history with total sales of about 8.3 million units.

The Commerce Department reported during the week that retail sales totaled $25.1 billion in April, or about four per cent above April, 1966. Compared with March, the gain was about one per cent.

Durable goods sales decreased slightly from March but were two per cent over April, 1966. Nondurable goods gained one per cent over March and five per cent over 1966.

The automotive group was up two per cent, compared with March and apparel sales were up 10 per cent. However, there was six per cent drop in lumber, building, hardware and farm equipment.

BUILDING SLOWER
The department also reported construction spending slowed further in April although spending on new housing increased. It said that at a $71.9-billion seasonally adjusted annual rate, outlays were down two per cent from March and down more than eight per cent from a year ago. Spending on new housing rose two per cent from the March level, it said, but public construction of all kinds dropped slightly.

Although prospective home buyers are finding mortgage money easier to secure, the cost of new homes continues to increase. Government figures show mortgage interest rates have dipped from last year's seven per cent to 6½ or 6¼ per cent, but the number of new homes up for sale stood at 185,000 March 31, compared with 219,000 a year earlier.

The government's restoration of the seven per cent investment tax credit was cited for a spurt in rail equipment buying. Orders totaling nearly $100 million for new rolling stock were announced by six railroads and other railroads indicated they planned to increase car purchases. Before restoration of the tax credit, rail equipment orders this year had been running 75 per cent behind 1966.

What Others Say

Tass reports that the Russians have crossed a radish and a cabbage, coming up with a plant with a radish root and succulent leaves.

If it tastes anything like we imagine, maybe it ought to be brought to the attention of a group of U.S. negotiators now working with the Soviets. It would be a fine target for a non-proliferation treaty.

WALL STREET JOURNAL

To Your Good Health

More Ways Than One To Keep A House Moist

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband has had asthma since he was 25. He is now 58. We have always lived in a house with oil steam heat, but now intend to move to a smaller one which has hot water heat.

We were told that hot water heat is bad for anyone with asthma, but that oil steam is moist so my husband can breathe better. We are not taking the house unless we hear from you first. — MRS. P.M.B.

I'm afraid there's a good deal of misunderstanding about which kinds of heat are "dry" and which are "moist."

The kind of fuel makes no difference. The type of furnace MAY make a difference.

Any kind of heating system is bound to cause some evaporation. The warmer you keep the house, the dryer it is bound to become.

With a hot air heating system, a water tank is built into the furnace and, if you keep it filled, the warm air rising from the furnace will carry some moisture with it.

Keeping some moisture in the air is more comfortable for everyone, but it can, indeed, make an even greater difference to a patient with asthma or some other respiratory problems such as emphysema.

Whether hot water or steam will be drier depends on precisely what kind of system of piping is in use. If it is a "closed" system, with the hot water (or steam) being piped to the radiators and then flowing back to the furnace with none of the water escaping, either type of fuel will provide equally dry heat.

If the steam system is one with escape valves on the radiators, enough moisture may be pushed into the air to make a difference in the humidity.

However, my suggestion would be not to worry too much about the type of heating system. If the house is too dry, then you can get humidifiers. These are trays which can be fitted on top of radiators and kept filled with water. The evaporation keeps the air moist.

Some people use other kinds of containers around the house for the same purpose — decorative crocks, pitchers, large vases. But remember that the surface area of water, not the depth, is what governs the amount of evaporation. Thus flat trays are best. Plants (which have to be kept moist) also help. And the tightness of the house itself makes a difference. A tightly sealed house gradually dries out and little moisture can get in from outdoors.

Even running an inch of water in the bathtub will add a great deal of moisture to a dry house.

Electrically operated humidifiers are available.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading the booklet "The Way to Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Changes Over 50 Years

If you think things don't change, just happen on an old newspaper.

A issue of The Herald (it was Big Springs Herald then) of August 18, 1916, has turned up. Bill Ballard was wrecking the old Lamar Smith home at 602 Main and came across the yellowed, brittle copy, and brought it in.

There will be more about its contents, but one circumstance to be noted is that, after a half-century, businesses still operating under the same name are nearly all gone.

THE HERALD remains, but of course under a different ownership. The First National Bank is listed in the 1916 issue, but its ownership has changed, too. These were the only business enterprises I could find which still function today, although I could have overlooked some.

If you've been around long enough, you might find a touch of nostalgia in some of the advertising firms.

THE COMPTON Garage was selling the Overland car for $635, while Stokes-Hughes was listing a Ford five-passenger touring car for $360. F. F. Gary had some Red Seal gingham for 12½ cents per yard, and men's fine shoes at $6. And there was a big J. & W. Fisher ad offering Hart Schaffner and Marx suits for men, marked down from $12.50 to $9.40.

The Union Bakery had something real new — California raisin bread. The Union Barber Shop at 119 Main was changing its name to the C-T-Y Barber Shop. The Gem Barber Shop had "bathrooms in connection."

RIX FURNITURE & Undertaking Company had Harmony Talking Machines, plus six records, for just $4.85, and one lot of fumed oak dining chairs was going at $1.35 each.

There was also Winters Furniture & Undertaking Company, as well as the Sanitary Bedding Shop. J. D. Biles had a "druggist" ad, and Piland & Deats were confectioners, with "fountain and parlor service the best."

POOL BROTHERS grocery was boasting that your orders by phone "are as faithfully and promptly filled as those given in person." Cook & James Grocery had an ad, too. And so did the Jones Brothers, with staple and fancy items — "country produce bought and sold."

Well, the list runs on and on. W. P. Bonner was advertising summer goods at a saving. W. J. Garrett had ladies and gents' furnishings, as well as dry goods and notions.

W. R. DAWES was a piano dealer, J. M. Morgan a contractor. Drs. Ellington and Harbinger made up a dental partnership, and Dr. E. H. Happel had his professional card in the paper, too. Attorneys listed were James T. Brooks and Clyde E. Thomas. Fred S. Molt was a veterinarian.

The Academy of Our Lady of Mercy at Stanton made its bid for students: "A boarding and day school for the practical and refined education of young ladies and little girls." Expression and needlework were included in the curriculum.

AND MRS. DELLA K. Agnell, the grand lady who could do it again this fall if she wanted to, announced that on the following Sept. 11, she would offer first grade work for children under scholastic age, at her home, 601 Jack Street.

She, with some others mentioned, are still with us. But the business picture has changed, no? —BOB WHIPKEY

Cease-Fire Doesn't Mean Much

WASHINGTON — A "cease-fire" doesn't always bring peace, and this time more fighting could ensue.

The Israelis have unequivocally stated that they wish to negotiate directly with the Arab governments only and will not accept mediation from the outside. This is the traditional position of the victor, but it doesn't guarantee that the vanquished will remain quiescent. Efforts to gain allies and to bring the Soviet Union and other countries into the fray will be pursued by the Arab nations. A dictated "peace" doesn't remove the threat of more war. It merely marks the beginning of a build-up to get revenge.

MEANWHILE, the United Nations is preoccupied with accusations and counteraccusations as well as palpable maneuvers on the part of the Communist governments to get some propaganda advantage out of the adoption of a resolution of condemnation by the General Assembly. Obviously a partisanly phrased declaration will not gain the vote of the United States.

Also, if the smaller nations which have hitherto responded to Communist influence come out in the open now and line themselves up with the Soviets, it can only hurt their prestige in the long run, particularly inside the United States. For it is beginning to be apparent that American foreign-aid appropriations will be examined far more carefully in the future than they have been in the past.

THE UNITED STATES itself is trying to steer a tactful course, and will avoid becoming involved in any threats of military action to preserve peace in the Middle East.

As long as Israel demands direct negotiations for peace, the Arab governments are bound to refrain from making any agreement, because they will expect to get better terms through a United Nations intervention. It may well be that the Israeli government is at present only talking for effect when it says it will insist on a dictated peace through direct negotiations.

The London Times gives this warning:

"THE DANGEROUS lesson the Arabs are liable to draw from last week's war is that piling up armaments for a conventional war is no use. Victory went to the Israelis partly because they struck first. The Arabs will try to get into a position from which they can do the same in their turn. This will take time, and will turn their thoughts more than ever towards missiles, with or without nuclear warheads. Both sides are likely to plan in terms of preemptive strikes."

"Unless the Israelis think they can batter the Arabs into submission every five or ten years they will have to dilute their present resolution with magnanimity."

THE SOVIETS have an opportunity to cooperate in the making of a real peace in the Middle East. If, however, they persist in their charges and accusations, this will merely exacerbate feelings and worsen rather than improve their relations with the United States.

There are so many obstacles and so many barriers toward the making of peace between Israel and the Arab countries that no good cause will be served by a continuance of Soviet partisanship. What is necessary is that both the United States and the Soviet governments lend their influence toward an impartial settlement to be devised by the diplomatic representatives of the major powers in the United Nations.

The Antiquated State Department

WASHINGTON — In the nit-picking swastikaesque Rep. H. R. Gross is in a class by himself. He proved again the other day that he has no real contenders in this important Congressional category.

The distinguished Representative from the great State of Iowa, as Congressional parlance has it, was combing over the list of "specialists" sent by the State Department to various countries as examples of America's culture and intellect. He came upon an item that sent him charging into action with his customary zeal. The State Department had spent $586 plus $362 sending Chief Justice Earl Warren and his wife to four South American countries. That added up to $948, said the gentleman from Iowa, for a junket to South America for the Chief Justice and Mrs. Warren.

IN FACT, this was little more than the $16-per-day allowance for persons traveling for the government. With the dignity and at the same time the human warmth that is so much a part of his temperament, the Chief Justice talked with judges, legal groups and government officials in each country he visited. His press conferences were widely attended and he undertook to correct false impressions about problems of integration and the law in this country.

Mrs. Warren talked to women's organizations about volunteer social work undertaken by American women. It was altogether the kind of success in furthering understanding and friendship that is the goal of the cultural affairs program.

IF GROSS has any rival it is one with a great deal more power and authority — Rep. John J. Rooney of Brooklyn, N.Y., who as chairman of an Appropriations subcommittee uses not a fine-tooth comb but a meat cleaver on the State Department. Reflecting the hardening attitudes and the tensions building up over the Vietnam war as well as the increasingly conservative temper of Congress, Rooney has been riding herd on the specialists program.

DID A PHYSICIAN sign a protest petition on Vietnam? Did a political scientist speak critically of Vietnam policy? The record of the hearings on the program shows Rooney belaboring Assistant Secretary Charles Frankel for permitting anyone with a dissenting view to be given a grant.

Frankel is backing a proposed semi-government - semi-private council that would run the cultural affairs program after the pattern of the British council. This would take it out from under the surveillance of the nit-pickers. With men of stature on the council the program would have independence.

IT WOULD ALSO end the opportunity for minor patronage that is one consequence of the Congressional game of cowboys and Indians, with the State Department invariably on the losing side. Rooney has his own people in the department who are only too eager to do his bidding. Secretary of State Dean Rusk's permanent injunction is: "Get along with Congress." This means appeasement of the Rooneys, a series of Munichs that tend to shackle the department.

UNDER SECRETARY Nicholas Katzenbach was put in reportedly to do a thorough and long-needed reorganization of the lumbering elephantine bureaucracy that has grown up on the past two decades. He finds himself shackled, as a $500,000 request to start on the surgery was thrown out of the budget.

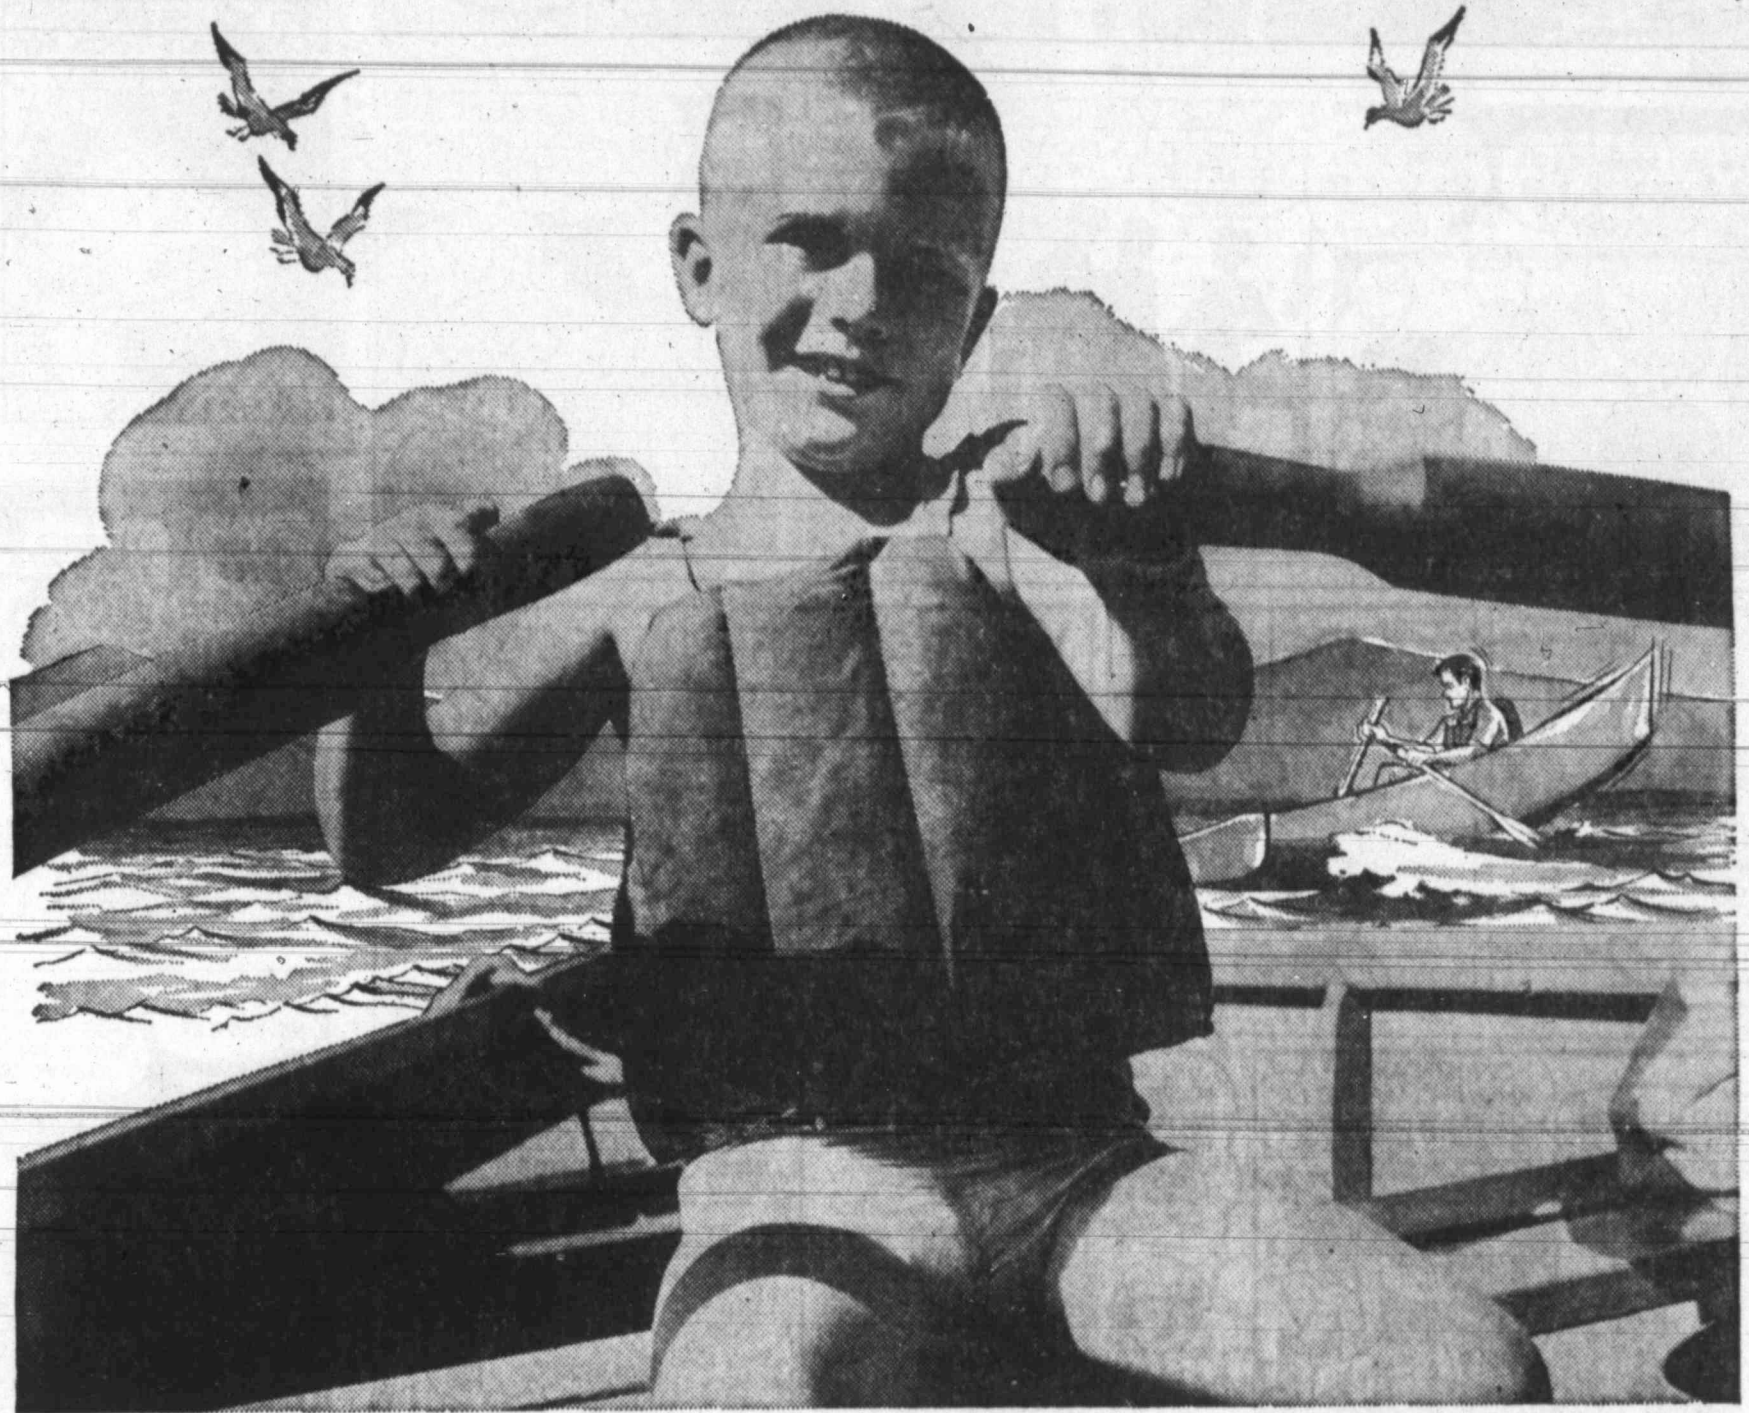

The disorganization, the lack of focus and direction, are all the more conspicuous in light of the dismal post-mortems on the Middle East war. And as of now there is no overhaul in sight.

ON AN EVEN KEEL

Young Stan learned to row this summer. It was hard work but he didn't complain about the blisters. He was a captain in control of his ship, and very proud of his new position!

Being in control is often hard work, even for adults. Many people wish they could control their tempers, or perhaps curtail bad habits, but they fail to find within themselves the strength of will that would help them.

When problems are too big for us, that's the time to ask God for assistance. We are His children and He knows all our weaknesses. Through church attendance and prayer, we can be guided to a more serene approach to daily life. We will find His presence a constant support as we begin to take pride in our new possession . . . self control.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .

. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sophia Loren Featured In Showing

NEW YORK (AP) — The movies have become art. The first exhibition devoted to an actor or actress to hang in the Museum of Modern Art opened and then made a 25-city tour.

It is photographs, entitled "The Career of an Actress: Sophia Loren." The Parke - Bernet Galleries, with 20th Century-Fox, exhibited 40 pieces of art seen in the film comedy, "How To Steal a Million." Parke-Bernet charged $25 each to see the exhibit one evening, as a benefit for the Lincoln Center Fund for Education and Creative Artistic Advancement. Fox hired Salvatore Dali to do a painting for the movie, "Fantastic Voyage," and MGM hired painter Robert Peak to design sets for the movie, "Un Grand Prix." There's a "Dr. Zhivago" exhibit at the National Design Center on East 53rd Street. Twenty-two Sophia Loren movies are represented in the Museum of Modern Art's show, starting with "Aida," in which the voice was that of Renata Tebaldi, in 1954, through "A Countess from Hong Kong," directed by Charlie Chaplin. She has made 56 movies, 11 of them from 1950 through 1952, under the same Sofia Lazzara.

'An American Dream' To Open At Jet Wednesday

"An American Dream," which opens Wednesday at the Jet Theatre, is the chronicle of an ex-war hero whose plans are subverted by his attraction to beautiful women.

Stephen Rojack, played by handsome Stuart Whitman, whose performance in "The Mark" thrust him into the forefront as one of Hollywood's finest actors, is the man in question. Having risen to a position of prominence as a muck-raking television commentator, he is determined to have his own way regardless of whoever or whatever may be in his way.

Three-time Academy Award nominee Eleanor Parker brings all of her acting skill to bear in the difficult role of Rojack's tempestuous, rough-living wife, Deborah. Although the Rojacks are separated, Deborah heatedly refuses to grant Stephen a divorce, which he has come to her apartment to seek agreement on.

Following a stormy romantic interlude with Deborah's sultry German maid, Ruta, portrayed by Susan Denberg, Rojack returns to find his wife waiting, bottle in hand, to renew the argument.

During the ensuing fierce battle, Rojack pushes his wife to her death on the street 30 floors below. With his career now in jeopardy, he seeks consolation from Cherry, a gangster's girl. Janet Leigh, most recently on the screen as Paul Newman's wife in "Hombre," concentrates her talents on the pivotal part of the torrid nightclub singer associates after Rojack's neck because of his revelations show. Although she professes to love him, Cherry turns Rojack over to her vindictive friends. The result is a face-to-face gun duel to the death.

"An American Dream" was directed by Robert Gist, one of Hollywood's top television directors. Since he turned to directing, Gist has accumulated such credits as "Naked City," "Route 66," "Dr. Kildare," "The Defenders," "The Untouchables," and 18 episodes of "Blake Edwards' Peter Gunn" series. Gist is also an appeared in stage, on television and in motion pictures. His films include "Strangers on a Train" and "The Naked and Dead."

Prominent co-starring roles in "An American Dream" are played by Barry Sullivan, Lloyd Nolan, Murray Hamilton, J. D. Cannon, Susan Denberg, Les Crane and Warren Stevens.

109th Homicide For Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston recorded its 109th homicide Saturday, compared with 87 at this time last year.

Just after midnight, a 43-year-old man was gunned down, police said, after he threatened a woman.

Elvis Presley Returns To Screen In Comedy

Diamond smugglers, an assassination plot, romance with a glamorous screen newcomer, comedy situations and eye-filling production numbers add up in Elvis Presley's latest hit, "Double Trouble."

While his new vehicle affords America's most popular singing star ample opportunity to belt out nine catchy songs in the inimitable Presley style, the story sees him in more of a straight acting role than that of any of his previous films.

Elvis' new screen sweetheart is Annette Day, a red-haired, blue-eyed teenager who was discovered working in her father's antique shop in London and who had never acted prior to her debut opposite Presley.

In "Double Trouble" Elvis is seen as Guy Lambert, heading a musical act at a London night club, where one of his fans, Jill Conway (Miss Day) falls head-over-heels in love with him. Others in leading roles are John Williams as Jill's scheming guardian, Yvonne Romain as a mysterious woman who has her own reasons for pursuing Guy, the Wierie Bros. as a trio of hilarious detectives, Chips Rafferty and Norman Rossington, the last two playing as bungling and preposterous a pair of jewel smugglers as have ever baffled Scotland Yard!

Determined to break up the romance between Guy and Jill, her guardian packs her off to a school in Brussels, Belgium, not realizing that Guy has a singing engagement there. And from the moment they meet again on the boat crossing the English Channel, the lovers find themselves engulfed in an unrelenting series of adventures and predicaments which are as hilarious as they are suspenseful. The elaborately laid intrigue, involving abductors, murderers, spies and counterespies in which Guy and Jill barely evade a number of traps to liquidate them, comes to a dizzy end, no thanks to Belgian police inspector De Groot (Leon Askin) and his trio of hapless detectives, and the story concludes with a howlingly funny surprise climax.

"Double Trouble," filmed in Panavision and color, has been sumptuously staged with a variety of both exterior and interior scenes. A highlight sequence is a brilliant masked carnival at which Presley dances a spirited fandango.

Other of the film's musical interludes feature such songs as "Baby, If You Give Me All Your Love," "Could I Fall in Love," "Long-Legged Girl with Short Dress On," "City at Night," "Old MacDonald," "I Love Only One Girl," "There's So Much World to See," "It Won't Be Long" and the title tune.

Churches To Start Drive-In Theater

The Rev. R.K. Lark, pastor of the Oakland Beach Union church, plans to start the theater in conjunction with St. Paul's evangelical Lutheran church. The Rev. Mr. Lark said religious movies would be shown weekends on a small outdoor screen at St. Paul's church beginning June 25. Brief sermons also are planned.

'The Happening' Debuts At Ritz

Action scenes on the screen, normally noted for grunts and groans, now have a new element—rhythm. Originator of this new technique is Elliot Silverstein, director of "The Happening," filmed on location in Miami Beach and starring Anthony Quinn in Technicolor at the Ritz Theatre.

In the "silent" film days, it was fairly common practice to have muted violins playing dreamy, inspirational music before a romantic scene. Now Silverstein has adopted, and adapted, that idea, using a lively, bouncy tune, played off-stage, to give "rhythm" and "flow" to scenes which already have the vitality and impact of action.

"The Happening" centers around Anthony Quinn, a Miami Beach mobster, who engineers a $3,000,000 caper with the help of four young partners-in-crime. The four are played by George Maharis, Michael Parks, Robert Walker and newcomer Faye Dunaway. Martha Hyer also stars, with Oscar Homolka, Jack Kruschon and Milton Berle as Fred co-starred.

In several key sequences, Silverstein rehearsed the cast to a toe-tapping, finger-snapping, shoulder-shrugging recording. And, as most of the action scenes by their very nature carried no dialogue, Silverstein was able to film while the pace-setting music was being played off-stage, to achieve a flow and tempo in scenes which by their content, have a violent jumpiness.

Silverstein's off-beat approach to the western comedy hit, "Cat Ballou," which won Lee Marvin his Academy Award, was praised by audiences who may not even have been aware that all the editing, the cuts, the fadeouts and dissolves of the film came with a timed regularity, like one wave following inexorably after another. En passant, it should be noted, Silverstein did not rehearse that horse to music.

School Buses Now Have Their Own Permanent 'Home'

Part of the expansion and improvement program of the Big Spring Independent School District included the construction of a fenced-in area for the storage of the fleet of school buses operated by the schools. This facility, located just east of FM 700 across from the city sewage disposal plant on Lover's Lane, is now complete. It includes workshops, a fuel supply area, storage buildings and ample room for the parking of buses. In the past, the buses have been subjected to considerable vandalism due to the lack of protective facilities where they were kept. (Photo by Sam Blackburn)

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL

Old Timers Took Their Drama Too Seriously

By ED SYERS

Believing that we gauge our "progress" by periodic backward hearings on how Great Granddad met life, I find a little moral in this story. It relates that our old-timers, unlike us, weren't much for spectatorship; if concerned them directly, they dealt themselves in.

Sinton's Joe Martin (who never saw a mule who didn't look like he thought he was thinking) takes you back a half century when the choppy hills around Strawn and Thurber, west of Fort Worth toward Ranger, boomed lustily to coal mining early this century, and to the fast buck, redevy, and to earthiness that was typical of a minetown. Let Joe tell it:

"For entertainment outside saloons, there'd be small tent shows come to town for a week. They'd put on plays with songs and dances between acts. Here's one play they didn't figure.

"There was an old farmer and four grown sons who came to town week-ends to drink and stir up excitement. The old man drove two mules to a wagon, followed by his sons on horseback, followed by a great bunch of hound dogs in the dust behind. They rode in that way to see this show at Strawn — all, up on the front seat, skunk drunk.

INTECESSOR

Now, on the stage, the hero had to leave on a trip. Then entered the mean villain. He scared the heroine and threatened her bodily harm if she did not go away with him. This set all wrong with the oldest son (call him Joe). Joe ran outside to the old man's wagon, grabbed a singletree off the rig, rushed back and jumped on the stage.

"No low-down skunk," shouted Joe, "will bother a lady like that. Not while I'm around!" He made for the villain with his singletree. The crowd went wild and urged the young man on. But the local constable was in the tent and leaped on stage with drawn pistol. He had to face down the old man, sons, dogs and all.

"There was quite a commotion ending that show right there. The constable put the family in jail. And maybe Joe spoke the last words in that night's show.

"He just couldn't figure a constable who wouldn't help him rescue a lady in trouble."

Not international, this moral; but personal. Too bad, these days when we line a bridge to watch a woman drown or be cut down under our apartment windows, there isn't a Joe.

ARMORED GHOST

(Write OBT, care of The Herald, or Ingram, Texas 78025. For personal reply, please enclose stamped, addressed envelope.) Arlington's B. D. Sandoval: "... would like information about the Peters Ranch at Los Fresnos, near Brownsville. The story is that a man on horseback in Spanish armor is sometimes seen at night. It is also said there is buried treasure and that some has already been found." (Note: On Allan Dale and WOA's "Talk of San Antonio," I swung at a similar question recently. What about a ghost conquistador on sunken - treasure guard at eerie Lake Espantosa (Terror Lake near Carrizo Springs. Any help?)

Edna's Doyle McKey: "... on occurrence of sea gulls as far inland as North Texas. You were right about 'sea gulls' not being found there, but 'gulls' are. The Franklin's Gull, not a sea gull at all, frequents grassland so much it is called the 'Prairie Dove.' It breeds in potholes on the northern prairies and is a common migrant throughout the Great Plains, including North Texas ... the same species that saved the Mormons from locusts, I believe.

"A very similar bird is the Laughing Gull, the black-headed gull so common along the beaches of Texas. This bird is strictly coastal and does not fly inland when storms approach. A good book on bird identification is Peterson's 'Guide to the Birds of Texas.'"

WHERE WAS WIGWAM

Okay, here's Muskogee, Oklahoma's able searcher A. F. Von Blon Jr., again; he keeps sending interesting questions: "There's a movement in Oklahoma to locate Sam Houston's 'Wigwam' (he called his 1829-32 Cherokee Trading Post by that name). Two sites are claimed as where he lived prior to coming to Texas. Muskogee Times - Democrat columnist Phil Harris seeks information from Texas for leads as to where Houston lived with the Indians. Houston's Indian wife (Tianna Rogers) is buried in the U.S. National Cemetery at Fort Gibson, Okla."

And San Angelo's K.F. "You called John Wesley Hardin the West's fastest gun. Have you forgotten King Fisher?" (Note: No, just waiting for details from those of you who've studied him.)

Merry Month Has Discordant Note

June may be the merry month of romance and marriages, but it is shaping up as the month of divorces as well in Howard County.

Records of the Howard County District Court clerk show that of 15 suits filed on the civil docket of the 118th District court from June 7 through Wednesday, 13 were divorce cases.

For the entire month, 19 of the 28 civil suits filed to date have been divorce petitions.
