Pinch Coming Oil Due To Be Short

NEW YORK (AP) — Western Europe faces a growing threat of an oil shortage as production remains curtailed in the troubled Middle East and tankers cannot use the Suez Canal.

The situation is not yet critical because Western Europe had a three-month supply of oil on hand or in transit when the war between Israel and the Arab nations broke out early this month.

An oil industry source here said although production of oil by Arab countries is less than half of normal, the biggest problem is a tanker shortage.

Longer Trip

With the Suez Canal closed by vessels sunk during the brief war, tankers have to make the much longer trip around the southern tip of Africa. J. Cordell Moore, assistant secretary of the Interior, estimated this week that oil shipments from the Middle East to Europe are running less than 30 per cent of normal.

Britain is likely to feel the pinch more sharply than other European countries because the Arab nations have banned shipments to it. Britain normally gets about two-thirds of its crude oil from Arab countries.

Britain, the United States and West Germany were accused by the Arab countries of aiding Israel in the war.

80 Pct. Of Supply

Western Europe in 1966 consumed 8.5 million barrels of oil daily, about 80 per cent of it obtained from the Middle East and North Africa.

Production of oil has been resumed in Kuwait and Saudi Arabia, the biggest producers in the Middle East, since the end of hostilities. But because of unavailability of tankers Kuwait is producing only about one million barrels daily, down from a normal 2.4 million, and Saudi Arabia less than two million barrels daily, off from a normal 2.7 million.

The Iraq Petroleum Co. resumed exports from its Mediterranean terminal at Beirut, Lebanon, Wednesday. Deliveries were restricted to France and Turkey.

Libya Shut Down

Libya, whose normal production of 1.4 million barrels daily went directly to Europe, continued to be shut down.

The Arab ban on oil shipments to the United States poses no supply problem for this country. Only 400,000 barrels of the normal U.S. daily consumption of 12 million barrels came from the Middle East.

It was estimated that the United States and Venezuela could increase their oil exports by 1.5 million barrels a day to replace Middle East supplies partially.

Allowable Increased

Texas and Louisiana already have increased their allowable production by 764,551 barrels a day.

The Interior Department approved Wednesday an emergency oil lift plan to help Europe. The plan drawn up by the government and 21 American oil companies with foreign operations must be acted on by the Justice Department and the Office of Emergency Planning.

It would permit the oil companies to cooperate in helping meet European oil needs without laying themselves open to antitrust prosecution.

The companies would be permitted to pool shipping facilities and, if necessary, increase production and divert supplies from this hemisphere.

Slain Woman Found?

PROSPECT, Ore. (AP) — The body of a woman believed to have been murdered in March was found Thursday by the Oregon state police near Prospect—about 15 miles south of Crater Lake National Park.

Officers from the Medford District of the state police, accompanied by a sheriff and a local policeman from Alabama, dug up the body near a logging road.

The body is thought to be that of 27-year-old Mary Driggs Harris, also known as Mary Ann Driggs, of Sherman, Tex.

An investigator from the Dallas, Tex., district attorney's office, H. H. Davis, reported several weeks ago that Mrs. Driggs had been slain in Oregon and buried near Crater Lake.

Roving Negro Gangs Clash With Police

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Twelve persons were wounded with shotgun pellets, 18 others injured and more than 100 arrested as roving Negro youths rioted in this city's shabby East Side for a third successive night.

Four hundred helmeted police, armed with shotguns and tear gas moved in quickly to disperse crowds. Again and again, clusters collected and were broken up. Each time a police van carted defiant Negroes to headquarters for bookings on mostly minor charges.

LOOTING, SMASHING

Newsmen described Thursday night's disorders as sporadic, despite the violence; more subdued than Wednesday when large gangs rampaged through the predominantly Negro area, looting, smashing and burning.

The subtle difference was in the attitude of the police, newsmen said. "They were on the offensive," a veteran reporter added.

The neighboring city of Niagara Falls also was affected for a second successive night. At least four persons were arrested and a policeman was struck by a thrown rock.

Police moved quickly into the troubled area, however, and quelled the disturbance by 3 a.m. today.

150 FIRES

Bands of Negroes in their late teens and early 20s caused the disorder in Buffalo Thursday night. On Tuesday and Wednesday nights, many of those who took to the streets were children, not yet 13.

Police estimated that about 1,000 Negroes—some carrying rocks and others armed with knives—roamed the streets of the mile-square area with the heaviest concentration in the Jefferson-Ferry-Madison avenues section.

In three nights of rioting, the fire department estimated that about 150 fires had been set deliberately, many of them with home-made gasoline bombs. At least 20 fires, most of them minor, were touched off Thursday night.

GAS BOMBS

Firemen said two gasoline bombs had been used to destroy a two-story frame house occupied by Alice McClure and her five children.

Police reported that looting did not pose a serious problem Thursday night, as it had on Wednesday, when scores of business places were ransacked. They arrested almost anyone who failed to move along when ordered to do so.

Of this city's 1,300-member police force, 500 were on duty. Four hundred policemen were concentrated in the slum area. Some plainclothes detectives also were ordered into uniform. As in the previous two nights, the rioters roamed the streets in gangs of various size, milling about and harassing motorists. They quickly slipped away when police arrived.

BLOCKS REMOVED

The outbreak began slowly, growing in intensity between 10:30 p.m. Thursday and 2 a.m. today. By 4 a.m. quiet prevailed. Roadblocks around the Negro community were removed.

Police estimated that fewer than 20 business establishments had been entered. They reported, however, that windows of almost two dozen stores had been smashed.

Garbage littered sections of the riot-torn area. About midnight a garbage truck and a plow removed debris that had been scattered in the downtown area.

Freight Train Cars Derailed; Driver Killed

CORSICANA (AP) — Eighteen cars of a Burlington and Rock Island freight train were derailed Thursday night in a crash which killed a truck driver 1.8 miles south of Corsicana.

The victim was Homer D. Scott, 48, of Richland, a community near here. Train crewmen escaped injury.

Highway patrolmen blocked off the area for a mile around the accident scene after a derailed car containing ammonium phosphate broke open. Four diesel locomotive units left the track after hitting the truck, which carried a load of rock, and 18 cars then went off. A highway patrolman at the scene estimated the loss might top $2 million.

Navy Jets Hit An Oil Depot Near Haiphong

SAIGON (AP) — American warplanes chopped up portions of a MIG airfield west of Hanoi and blasted two supply targets on the outskirts of Haiphong Thursday.

U.S. headquarters reported pilots flew 152 missions over North Vietnam, the heaviest directed at supply facilities ringing North Vietnam's capital and its major port city.

Ground fighting in the South amounted to only scattered skirmishes.

The military actions were far overshadowed by the surprise withdrawal of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky from the presidential election race and his agreement to run for vice president on the ticket of his chief military rival, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, now the titular chief of state.

Kosygin Wings Toward Paris

HAVANA (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin left Cuba today after talks with Prime Minister Fidel Castro and will stop over in Paris Saturday to confer with President Charles de Gaulle.

Castro gave Kosygin a big sendoff with bands, and a 21-gun salute. Thousands of Cubans lined the road to the airport.

This was in contrast to Kosygin's arrival Monday, when the ceremonies were subdued.

An unofficial source said Kosygin's talks with Castro had achieved "good results" because both men reached a "plain understanding."

No details of the talks were available, although one topic presumably was Castro's desire for armed revolution in Latin-American countries where the Soviet Union is trying to build influence and trade relations.

Kosygin spent most of Thursday visiting Pinar del Rio Province in western Cuba, home of one of Castro's pet agricultural projects at Guane.

He ended the day with a Soviet reception in Castro's honor. Kosygin arrived in Cuba Monday from New York, where he addressed the emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly on the Middle East crisis. He also met twice with President Johnson during his nine-day visit to the United States.

General Assembly Nears Israeli Withdrawal Vote

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly approached a showdown today on whether any call for Israeli troops to leave captured Arab lands should depend on the Arabs finally declaring peace with Israel.

Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon have held that, despite their armistice agreements with Israel in 1949, the year the Jewish nation was formed by war, they remain in a state of war with her. Egypt has used this to justify keeping Israeli shipping out of the Suez Canal.

The showdown involves two rival resolutions. One introduced by 15 nonaligned nations calls for an immediate Israeli withdrawal from Egypt, Jordan and Syria, and asks that only after withdrawal should the Security Council consider "questions pertaining to the situation in the area."

Latin-American and Western delegations intended to submit a resolution today to have the assembly call for the withdrawal of troops and the renunciation of Arab belligerency, provide for a U.N. representative or mediator to help with a settlement and ask the Security Council to work on further problems.

Each side claimed privately that its resolution could receive the two-thirds vote needed for adoption.

But promotion of the Latin-American draft was considered to have undermined the non-aligned resolution, while Israel's annexation of Jerusalem's Old City, captured from Jordan in the war, appeared to have hurt chances for the Latin-American draft. Some diplomats speculated that neither would pass.

In Thursday's debate, speakers for Peru, Malaysia, Cyprus, Kuwait, Greece and Malta all objected to Israel's merging of the Israeli and Jordanian sectors of Jerusalem, Luis Demerutino Tinoco of Costa Rica called it "an act of arrogance."

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban stressed Israel's policy remained "the preservation of the unity of Jerusalem." He said at a news conference, though, that it would keep the holy places open to all faiths and wanted to negotiate with religious leaders about their interest in those places.

Israel circulated an official statement of Premier Levi Eshkol that until Israel's Arab neighbors abandon their policy of belligerency, "We will not relinquish the areas that are now under our control."

The nonaligned group and the Latin-American group drafted their own resolutions because three proposals already pending all seemed unlikely to pass.

The Soviet Union, which called for the present emergency session, wanted the assembly to condemn "Israel's aggressive activities" and demand immediate troop withdrawals. The United States wanted negotiated arrangements for both withdrawal and a durable peace.

Albania's resolution was similar to the Soviet proposal, but added condemnation for what it called "direct participation in this Israeli aggression" by the United States and Britain.

U.S. GENERAL GIGS REDS

Antimissile Defense Production Stressed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top U.S. military officers do not believe Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin has completely slammed the door on an antimissile limitations pact — but they say the United States has dickered with the Soviets over the issue long enough.

"We can't keep on delaying indefinitely," a ranking general said in an interview. National security requires that the United States begin production of an antimissile defense, he said.

Until now, the officer added, the Joint Chiefs of Staff has felt it acceptable and proper that the United States try to persuade the Soviets against continuing a costly defense weapons race.

TIME MARCHES ON
"Talks were sensible," he said. "But time has marched on and an affirmative decision to deploy antimissiles should be made in the near future."

The officer allowed the interview on condition that he not be named.

His reaction—plus similar statements from influential congressmen—followed Kosygin's televised comments in New York Sunday which lent no optimism to prospects for a curb on antiballistic missile, or so-called ABM systems.

Kosygin said any U.S.-Soviet discussions should center on the whole area of offensive and defensive armament. "Because, after all," he said, "the antimissile system is not a weapon of aggression, of attack; it is a defensive system."

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said Kosygin's remarks dashed cold water on prospects for an ABM moratorium, and declared the administration should "get off dead center and get going on a thin defense."

Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee, was quoted Thursday as saying those who hold out hopes for an ABM agreement with the Soviets perpetrate a cruel hoax on the American people.

While the general felt Kosygin's remarks should not be construed as a flat rejection of an ABM pact, he noted they were "not encouraging to the conduct of future talks."

FIRST STEP

Furthermore, he said, administration efforts for an ABM ban since last November have been unsuccessful — private overtures to the Soviets have yielded no positive results.

As a result, he said, the United States should proceed in developing the missile batteries and radars that make up the Nike X system, the American counterpart to the Soviet ABM.

Illustrating the military's feeling of urgency about the problem, the officer said the Joint Chiefs of Staff would be willing to accept a so-called thin, $3-billion to $5-billion version of Nike X as a first step toward getting a full antimissile network for the country.

Thai Jetliner Dips Into Bay During Squall

HONG KONG (AP)—A Thai International Airways Caravelle jet with 58 Americans among its passengers crashed into Hong Kong harbor during a squall today and 24 of the 80 persons aboard were reported killed.

The U.S. consulate said many of the Americans were from Sacramento, Calif. A spokesman was unable to confirm a report that a touring group from Sacramento State College boarded the plane at Taipei, Formosa.

Airport officials said their count listed six known dead, 18 missing and presumed dead, and 56 survivors. Several of the survivors were reported in serious to critical condition.

The 73 passengers listed had boarded at Tokyo, Osaka, and Taipei. Thai Airways withheld the passenger list but airport officials said there were 36 adults, six children, and a baby in arms aboard, plus several crew members.

NO NAMES
Thai Airways said in Bangkok that 58 Americans were among the passengers. It gave no names. It reported all members of the crew were safe.

The pilot was a Dane, the other crew members Thais.

Airport officials who saw the crash and passengers interviewed later said the plane appeared to be coming in for a normal landing at Hong Kong's Kai Tak Airport when it suddenly plummeted into the harbor about 250 yards from the end of the runway. The runway extends about a mile into Kowloon Bay, a part of the harbor.

FIERCE RAIN
One airport official said a sudden, fierce rain squall may have caused the crash. He commented: "The plane appeared to be making a good approach when a very heavy rain squall suddenly hit. The plane just seemed to drop into the bay."

A passenger, Dr. Stanley Spector of St. Louis, said "Everything seemed to be normal, a routine landing, and then suddenly there were three very heavy bumps and water began pouring into the cabin."

DIVERS SEARCH
Part of the plane's fuselage still was above water. Divers went into the submerged section and also began searching the harbor bottom near the wreckage.

The plane crashed only a few hundred yards from where a huge four-jet C130 Hercules troop transport plane crashed on takeoff into Kowloon Bay Aug. 24, 1966, killing 58 U.S. Marines who had just completed a week's rest and relaxation visit to Hong Kong.

LONG, LONG DAY FOR JOE

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Ramirez, 19, drove to the courthouse Thursday to fight a traffic ticket.

As the case was about to be called he realized his parking meter was running out. He asked the judge for time.

Granted, Joe raced out and started across the street when a policeman grabbed him for jaywalking. He gave Joe a ticket and a long, long lecture.

So long was the lecture that a meter maid got to his car before Joe did. She gave him a ticket and ignored his plea.

When he got back to court the judge had gone to lunch. Joe fed the meter diligently until his honor returned.

"With my luck I knew the verdict before the judge pronounced it—'Guilty, $5 or one day in jail,'" Joe said.

Joe went to pay the fine and found only $2 in his wallet. The clerk let him go on his promise to pay.

When Joe got home to Jericho, Long Island, he found a letter.

"Greetings," it said, report for induction in the U.S. Army July 20.

Jurors Can't Agree In Medders' Case

GAINESVILLE (AP) — The future of Ernest Medders and his wife Margaret was about as clouded as ever today after a mistrial was declared in their four-day trial on charges of selling mortgaged cattle with intent to defraud.

Judge W. C. "Bill" Boyd declared the mistrial Thursday after the jury reported at 6:05 p.m. that it was deadlocked 9-3 and that no juror intended to change his vote.

An unidentified juror said the vote was 9-3 for conviction, which would have carried a 2-5 year prison term, but Jury Foreman R. C. Brooks did not confirm whether the vote was for conviction or acquittal.

NEW TRIAL?
Jack Gray and John Sullivan, Denton attorneys representing the Medderses, expressed disappointment over the trial's outcome. "I believe we presented the evidence to gain an acquittal for our clients whom I am convinced are innocent," Gray said.

County Atty. Bill Sullivan, who conducted his first big trial singlehandedly, said he had not decided whether to seek a new trial.

"I don't quarrel with the jury," the 27-year-old prosecutor said, "but I would have been very happy to have had a decision."

NOT NERVOUS
Medders, smiling, said he would let his attorneys speak for him. Mrs. Medders, dressed in a cotton brocade white dress, merely smiled and waved at newsmen as they drove away from the Cooke County courthouse to their Colonial Acres Farm at nearby Muenster.

Medders, dressed in his usual ranch suit and alligator, high heeled boots, had said while he awaited the jury's verdict that he was not nervous about the outcome.

A day and a half was taken up for selection of the jury, and testimony began Tuesday afternoon.

BANK PERMISSION
Gray and Sullivan attempted to show that their clients attempted no fraud.

The indictment accused them of selling cattle, mortgaged to the National Bank of Commerce of Memphis, Tenn., without seeking a release from the bank.

Defense attorneys brought out in questioning witnesses that the bank had given permission to sell one-third interest in Red Comanche, a prize Red Angus bull, to James S. Melton of Arlington, Va.

They contended that such permission also was given to sell the Black Angus herd at Colonial Acres Farm last April 21. They brought out in cross-examination that at least one officer of the National Bank of Commerce had agreed to the dispersal sale and had discussed financing it for the Medders couple.

READ RECORD
Principal witness was Wayne Pyeatt, executive vice president of the Memphis bank.

Gray, who contended the Medders' assets were far greater than any debt they owed the bank, said the testimony of Pyeatt, a state witness, negated "all charges against the couple."

He reviewed Pyeatt's testimony and asked the jury to read the record if any member had any question of the defendant's innocence.

"They are not charged with being poor managers of their property," Gray said. "They are charged with using trickery and deceit." He said Pyeatt testified he gave the pair permission to sell the interest in the bull and use the money as they saw fit.

'CREDIBLE WITNESS'
This act, the defense attorney said, constituted a release of the lien. He asked the jury to read the jury's charge which instructed the eight-man, four-woman panel to acquit if there was a lien release.

Sullivan contended that the intent to defraud was premeditated. He said Mrs. Medders' testimony Wednesday gave no indication of her being a "credible witness."

"If we could believe her testimony," the slim young attorney said, "then we could believe the aurora borealis was a flashlight in the hands of an Eskimo."

The Medders In Court

Ernest and Margaret Medders are shown in court at Gainesville, Tex., where they were on trial accused of selling mortgaged cattle in an attempt to defraud. After three hours of deliberation the jury reported it was deadlocked and that no juror intended to change his vote. Judge W. C. Boyd declared a mistrial. (AP Wirephoto)

Kansan Is After World's Nonstop Talking Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Desmond Slattery is after the world's nonstop talking record.

After giving a peck to the Blarney Stone, the Kansas-born Slattery flew here from Ireland Thursday.

He started gabbing on the plane. "He wouldn't stop," said a dazed airline stewardess. "He just went on and on and on."

Newsmen at the airport got their questions in edgewise. "Are you a good listener?" "Ordinarily I am. That's why I am such a good talker."

Slattery is after a record of five days and 13 hours held by another Irishman, Vincent Sheehan of Limerick. He gets two hours a day to sleep, three 25-minute breaks to eat plus 10 minutes off each hour.

South's carelessness at the opening gun proved fatal to his four spade contract. A deliberate examination of the combined holdings would have revealed that the hand was safe against virtually any distribution, provided that East was kept out of the lead. Declarer should have planned his campaign accordingly.

West opened the jack of hearts which was covered in turn by the queen, king and ace. Declarer led a club to North's ace in order to try the spade finesse, which lost to West's king. There was a temptation for the latter to cash the ten of hearts and then make a neutral exit, in the hope that he might score subsequent tricks with both the king and queen of diamonds.

A moment's reflection, however, convinced West that a passive course would not succeed even if South did have length in diamonds. Declarer would not have opened the club suit unless he had the king. It, therefore, becomes routine for him to strip out the hearts and clubs, before he leads the jack of diamonds from dummy. When West goes in with the queen of that suit, he will be forced to surrender a trick on the return.

West decided to risk giving his opponent an overtrick, in an effort to get East in to make a play for him. At trick three, he returned the five of hearts. East covered dummy's six with the seven and was somewhat surprised to hold the trick. He recovered his composure in time to come back with a diamond. South played the four and West won the trick with the queen. The latter now exited with a trump and waited to score the setting trick later with the king of diamonds.

Declarer was admittedly the victim of unfavorable distribution as well as a sparkling defense. He could have wrapped up the deal, however, by permitting West to hold the first trick with the jack of hearts. The latter will presumably continue the suit, however, East never gets in. After trumps are drawn, South cashes three clubs and then leads the jack of diamonds from dummy. West is in with the queen, and whatever he returns presents declarer with his 10th trick.

Parts Of West Texas Soaked By Downpours

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms dumped brief deluges of rain and occasional hail into parts of West Texas late Thursday and early today, while scattered showers peppered central and eastern sections of the state.

Streets filled with water in the west and northeast parts of El Paso as a sudden downpour spread southward from New Mexico, stalling traffic and threatening to flood some homes.

STORE FRONTS FOLD

Several hours later, however, police reported it was unnecessary to evacuate any homes, as they had feared for a time. Winds up to 50 miles per hour blew in some store fronts.

El Paso's official rainfall measurement was .63 but there were estimates of more than twice that much in some neighborhoods. Light hail accompanied the storm.

Moisture amounts elsewhere rain as high as 3.11 inches on the Cope Ranch 40 miles west of San Angelo.

RODEO DELAYED

As the El Paso storm moved toward the southeast, an unofficial two inches of rain was reported at Fort Hancock.

Moisture amounts at other points earlier included about two inches at Ballinger, forcing postponement of the World Championship Junior Rodeo; Sanderson 1.15; Big Lake and Presidio one. San Angelo .78 and Midland .52.

In North Texas, a severe thunderstorm pounded Denton County but there was no word of serious damage.

Showers and thunderstorms developed as a cool front moved deeper into the state from across the South Plains before stalling by early today along a line from near Wichita Falls to an area south of San Angelo and westward through the Davis Mountains.

ISOLATED SHOWERS

Temperatures edged down into the 60s at some Panhandle points behind the front but held in the 80s overnight in deep South Texas.

Top readings Thursday afternoon ran as high as 103 degrees at Cotulla. Laredo and Waco recorded 101 and Alice and Austin 100.

Forecasts promised another round of thunderstorms by evening in the Panhandle. Isolated showers were expected over the southern half of the state while other parts in the northern half were due clearing skies by Saturday.

Maj. Rader Retires Today

Maj. Robert L. Rader, Chief Services Division, retires today after 25 years of service. Retirement ceremonies were held at 5 p.m. at wing headquarters.

Maj. Rader came to Webb in September, 1962, following a tour in Yokota, Japan. A native of Fairborn, Ohio, he attended the University of Wisconsin and the University of Dayton, where he received his B.A. degree in education.

The major received a direct commission on June 28, 1942. During WW II he spent over two years in the European Theater. Other assignments include duty at Rome, N.Y.; Charleston, S.C.; Dayton, Ohio; Iceland, and finally, Big Spring.

Maj. Rader married the former Helen B. Smith of Dayton, Ohio. They have two daughters, Dianne and Susan, and they reside at 60 Chanute.

Shortly, Maj. Rader plans to move to the Dallas-Ft. Worth area, where he will begin his second career in the teaching profession. Friends of the Raders were invited to the retirement ceremony.

News Organizations Fail To Refute Warren Findings

NEW YORK (AP) — The Warren Report and the critics who threw its findings into doubt have come under the searching inquiry of three major news organizations within the past two weeks.

The Associated Press and the Columbia Broadcasting System examined in detail the report and its critics, and reached similar conclusions.

That despite shortcomings of the Warren Report nothing has been uncovered to refute its finding that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone — in view of no evidence to the contrary — in killing President John F. Kennedy.

TRUTH TEST

The AP's findings were contained in a 20,000-word report released last Sunday. The CBS inquiry was broadcast this week in four one-hour parts Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

In addition, the National Broadcasting Co. said in a one-hour program June 19 that the conspiracy case of New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison was based on testimony that did not pass a lie detector test and that Garrison's staff had threatened and offered inducements to potential witnesses, Garrison denied any threats or inducements.

Not long after the seven members of the Warren Commission issued their report Sept. 24, 1964, doubts began to overtake it. A barrage of books and articles hammered away at it until polls showed most Americans had come to suspect its conclusion.

SAME BEDROCK

But in its study The AP said the "critics have produced little in the way of new evidence. What they have done is use what the commission provides in its 26 volumes of testimony and exhibits — but to different conclusions. The critics' case rests on the same bedrock as the commission's—the Warren Report.

"They have sat in judgment of the Warren Commission and found it wanting," The AP said. "But they are not judges. They have been prosecutors, making a case. Where fact has served them, they have used it."

EXAMPLES

The AP also cited examples of conclusions reached by the critics that contradict the testimony on which they are based. The AP report was written by Bernard Gavzer and Sid Moody after several months of interviews and study.

CBS said it found "that most objections to the report — and certainly all objections that go to the heart of the report — vanish when they are exposed to the light of honest inquiry."

RIFLE TESTS

The network said its own tests significantly weaken a major contention of the critics — that Oswald couldn't have fired the Mannlicher-Carcano rifle fast enough to get off three shots within 5.6 seconds. The commission had concluded on the basis of an amateur motion picture of the assassination that this was the time span.

CBS said it demonstrated that three shots could be fired from such a rifle at a moving target within that time span.

An analysis of the film also suggests, CBS said, that the shot Texas Gov. John Connally said he heard was the first shot — and it missed. If this was the case, Oswald had additional time to fire the rifle.

Walker Libel Bid Dismissed

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — A federal judge dismissed Thursday a $2-million libel suit filed by former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker against the Pulitzer Publishing Co., publisher of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Roy Harper said he was guided by the U.S. Supreme Court's June 12 decision voiding a $500,000 libel judgment against The Associated Press.

Both suits were filed as a result of dispatches about Walker's activities on the University of Mississippi campus in 1962. Walker was present when rioting broke out in the wake of the admission of a Negro, James H. Meredith, to the university.

The Supreme Court, in reversing the judgment against The Associated Press, said there was not "the slightest hint of a severe departure from accepted publishing standards in the way The Associated Press reported Walker's activities."

In dismissing the suit against the St. Louis newspaper, Judge Harper said the Post-Dispatch "in an effort to inform the public as soon as possible, relied on news releases published by reputable national news sources. This they had every right to do, and in so doing they cannot be held guilty of actual malice in failing to further investigate the truth or falsity of facts supplied concerning an incident which occurred many miles away."

Sourpuss with false teeth now laughs loudest

"Because of terrible yellow denture stains and bad breath, I always held back from smiling. Everyone called me 'sourpuss.' One DENTUR-KLEEN FOAMING tablet made the difference. All stain and offending food particles were foamed away. My false teeth have never looked so clean and white, felt so fresh, thanks to foaming DENTUR-KLEEN."

Bandleader Plans To Leave 'Tonight'

NEW YORK (AP) — Bandleader Milton DeLugg plans to leave the Johnny Carson "Tonight" show Oct. 6 to engage in movie work, according to a National Broadcasting Co. spokesman.

DeLugg's contract was due to be renegotiated, the spokesman said Thursday, but the bandleader chose instead to pursue his film plans.

NBC said several replacements were being considered including trumpet player "Doc" Severinson.

A Devotional For The Day

"Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man has nowhere to lay his head." (Luke 9:58, RSV)

PRAYER: Dear Savior, we bless Thee that Thou hast suffered loneliness and persecution on earth because of Thy love for us. We offer our lives to Thee without making any conditions. We rejoice in the living hope of a blessed home with Thee in heaven. We pray in Thy name. Amen. (From the 'Upper Room')

What Diet Can Do

Japan has changed dramatically since 1940, passing through the bitterness of utter defeat and devastation to wonders of industrial and business rebirth. But one of the most striking changes has occurred in the physique of boys and girls, at ages 14 and 12 respectively, the period when the fastest growth in weight and height is registered.

During the past 25 years the average height of girls has increased slightly more than 3.9 inches and the height of boys has increased by slightly less than 4.7 inches.

Dr. Toshio Oiso, director of the National Institute of Nutrition, reported that this astonishing increase in average height for the population as a whole can be attributed to better nutrition. A school lunch program, initiated in elementary and junior high schools throughout the country after World War II, has been the major factor in this growth rate, Oiso said.

This raises the interesting possibility that the Japanese, with balanced diets, may within a generation or two approximate the heights of Europeans and Americans. Never before has the need for nutritional balance been demonstrated more dramatically.

Reality Overrides Wishing

The infirmities of summity as a way of international life have again been exposed. Great hopes and great expectations have been raised momentarily and then dashed.

President Lyndon B. Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin met twice at the summit, first on Friday of last week and then on Sunday. What the two men said in private has not been revealed in any detail. The most that was said was that they had had a frank exchange of views and had agreed to keep in touch.

For three days many Americans must have hoped, against their better judgment, that something spectacular and far reaching would come from the meeting. At the center of their thoughts was the cruel, prolonged and inconclusive war in Vietnam.

Could the famed Johnson touch of shrewdness and persuasiveness be brought to bear successfully on the friendly Kosygin? Americans asked themselves. Apparently not. For Kosygin, unlike Johnson, was but a representative of a ruling Presidium, a committee chairman who could not be sure he could carry his committee with him.

The fault of summity lies not in the exchange of opinions, the face-to-face test of wills and personalities. These can be useful. Rather the fault lies in the unwarranted hopes that are raised and then unsatisfied. But then, a sign of maturity may be that down deep, most people now realize this.

Contradictions In National Defense

WASHINGTON — Born of war and grown great by conquest, driven by a sense of Manifest Destiny, the USA has paradoxically been ruled by a moral restraint — the detestation of militarism.

The Constitution makes the President commander-in-chief of the nation's armed forces, but until centralizing power was asserted by Presidents Jackson and Lincoln, there was thought to be independent authority in the States. The early governors, often military men by profession, experience and necessity, commanded troops of their own with the implicit right to use them against tyrannical incursions by the Federal government.

NOT ONLY were presidents discouraged from shoving the States around, but presidents were also inhibited from leaping into foreign wars by being required to go to Congress for permission. Despite the fact that our early history was an almost unbroken series of conflict, against the European powers at sea and against the Indians and Mexicans by land, Americans persisted in thinking of the nation as peace-minded and remained distrustful of the military mind.

IT IS LOGICAL to believe that this national double-think, this psychological rift between the dream-world and the actualities, had much to do with making the cabinet posts for military affairs almost uninhabitable.

IT IS A wonder that more men haven't cracked up under the contra-

Billy Graham

I have a friend who has taken up spiritism. He claims to communicate with the dead, and seems very excited about this kind of religion. What I want to know is this: Is it right, according to the Bible, to practice spiritism?

The Basis of spiritism is the age-old belief in the separate existences of the body and soul, of which definite manifestations are found in the superstitions and beliefs of primitive peoples. The practices of modern spiritism were not found in the New Testament, and Christians generally, consider such practices either demonic, fraud, or as a kind of psychic entertainment. Men of science have made extensive investigations, and the general attitude of science is one of doubt, though there are certain manifestations for which no scientific explanation has been offered.

With the interest in extra-sensory perception there seems to be a revival of interest in spiritism, but evangelical Christians continue to dismiss spiritism as a "doctrine of devils," if not outright sham. In either case, I would not recommend it as a teaching that induces peace of heart and mind. While the "supernatural" invariably holds an interest for us all, the Bible says, "A wicked and perverse generation seek for a sign," and it pronounces a blessing upon those who "having not seen, in whom, though ye see Him not, yet believing ye rejoice with joy."

LBJ Keeps His 'Cool' In Hot Weather

WASHINGTON (AP) — This was a nebulous month, and for no one more than President Johnson. June was full of hazy beginnings and nothing fully settled, neither war nor peace. But by month's end Johnson seemed positively perky.

June was his nimble month, one of his best ones. He hopped around, looking good, sounding good, feeling good. Yet, there was little positive to point to. If the results are good, they're in the future.

WHAT HE did was keep his cool in hot weather. He was subtle and supple.

The temperature went up early when the Israelis flattened their pugnacious Arab neighbors and took chunks of their land. Ordinarily, this might have been the end of trouble in the Middle East for some time. There was nothing ordinary about June. Anything but.

THERE IS no peace. Before the war the Arabs talked of blasting Israel to smithereens. Now they can't even take back their own land and have to ask the United Nations to get it back for them.

As part of their surge the Israelis absorbed all of Jerusalem. Everybody knew this. But this week they did it formally. It was greeted as an outrage. Even the Johnson administration said this was a hasty action it couldn't approve.

THIS WAS Johnson's first rebuke to Israel. Until then he hadn't rebuked either side although the Arabs thought he was cozy with Israel, and it angered them. In this case standing aloof was his technique. He didn't want to see Israel squashed. But he didn't want to lose the favor of the Arabs, either. He couldn't afford to. The Soviet Union was after it. And there's a limit on how much of the world the United States can afford to antagonize. Red China was already lost although that had its origin in the days of his predecessors.

WHEN THE war began to bubble, and when it boiled, Johnson tried to stand back, be a pacifier, and kept the "hot line" to Moscow busy, breathing peace. The Soviets breathed back. This was the biggest moment of the month: When the two giants assured each other they wouldn't barge into the little war to make it large. They let it stay little, which also angered the Arabs since the Soviet Union had promised to help them. Getting over this hump alone showed brains on both sides. It was enough to lift Johnson's spirit, and it obviously did.

WHILE THE Arabs still glared at him Johnson had King Hussein of Jordan to the White House. Apparently he had been one Arab who never wanted any part of the war but signed up with the other Arabs, knowing if he didn't he might be out.

Oddly now, after the war that splattered his tiny kingdom and left it wrecked, Hussein looks amply safe.

If Johnson and Hussein accomplished anything, it hasn't been revealed. But the day after their meeting this government made $2 million available to the United Nations for care of Arab war refugees.

Just in case anyone thought Hussein put the bite on Johnson, his administration made it clear he made the decision on the relief money the day before Hussein arrived here.

Simple Sex System?

NEW YORK (AP) — Science has been working for a long time on a simple system for foretelling the sex of a baby before birth.

What it should be working on is the problem of how to tell at a glance the sex of a baby after it grows up. This is far more important today in an era when the sexes look so much alike, dress so much alike, and talk so much alike.

FOR NO matter how much a girl may act like one of the boys, she really doesn't altogether enjoy being mistaken for one. And, of course, if you mistake a guy for a gal, you may not only wind up covered with confusion — you may be covered with blood from a punch on the nose.

But a careful person can usually find a way out of any predicament. Here are a few hints that may help you determine the gender of people you meet, when you don't feel it's polite to come right out and ask them:

IF IT CAN sing "The Star-Spangled Banner" all the way through without its voice going falsetto, it's female. If it tries to hum the high notes, it's male. Does it give a belly laugh when someone in a group at a cocktail party tells a naughty story? That's a young man. Does it look mystified and pretend it doesn't see the point? That's a young lady.

WHEN IT picks up an infant, does it immediately cuddle it to its bosom? That's the mama. When it picks up an infant, does it gingerly keep the kid at arms' length to see if it's wet? That's the papa.

Ask it its age. If it tells you, you can be sure it's a man. If it demurs prettily, or changes the subject quickly, it's a woman.

DOES IT always cry at a sad movie? That's a milady. Does it always cry when it is dealt a bad hand at poker? That's a milord.

Does it read a column such as this and exclaim, "How silly?" That's a woman. But if it reads this column and feels it now knows more about the difference between the sexes, that's a man.

Men are always willing to learn anything they can on the subject; women feel they already know everything they need to know.

Don't Give Iron Supplements 'Just Because'

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: Our oldest girl is 11 and perhaps will be starting her menstrual cycle soon. My husband wants me to get iron tablets for her at this time. He believes she needs iron when her cycle begins.

I, in turn, think it is a natural body function and do not think she needs iron tablets. She is a normal, healthy child.

Does she need the tablets or not? — MRS. J.G.

As you say, menstruation is a normal function, and a normal body does not need any special dosing or medication.

Only about an ounce to an ounce and a half of blood is lost with the average period. (It seems like more, of course.) This is not enough to disturb the iron content of the blood. Thus, I do not think she needs iron as a preventive measure. Of course, if periods are excessively heavy or prolonged, and particularly if she shows any pallor of skin or membranes, that is another matter.

It is time to have a physician check her blood for iron deficiency (hemoglobin determination). That is time enough to let the doctor judge, on the basis of findings, whether medication is advisable.

I simply would not give iron to the youngster "just because." Give it only if there is proved need.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been having migraine headaches all my life. I am 45. I just had a complete hysterectomy. Will I still get these headaches? Someone told me that with everything removed, I would not get them. — MRS. W.D.

Habitual migraines quite often become less severe or less frequent at about your age, but this also occurs in women who do not have that surgery.

If the headaches persist (or for younger readers who are still having frequent migraine headaches) I beg to point out that a great deal can be done to prevent or minimize migraines. There's a whole section on this special type of headache in my booklet, "How to Tame Headaches." It will be sent in return for 20 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Send your request to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper.

Not much can be done about a migraine once it starts. The important thing is to take suitable medication and adopt other helpful measures before the headache strikes.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading the booklet "The Way To Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Poor Man's Poor Richard

The saying, "What goes up is sure to come down," isn't true of anything that ascends to a great altitude, and many are beginning to fear the cost of living has reached this point of no return.

A SURVEY shows that women spend 85 per cent of the consumer dollar. Men and children spend the remaining 15 per cent.

Kosygin Has His Own Troubles

WASHINGTON — The gloomy view of the Johnson - Kosygin summit is easy to come by. But to consider the reaction around the world and here at home if they had failed to meet is to appreciate what the very fact that they came together can mean for the future.

President Johnson, by general consensus, handled the whole matter with skill and aplomb. It was impossible for him to go to New York for a variety of reasons, and Glassboro was a happy compromise.

LOST SIGHT of in the atmosphere of cordiality generated at Glassboro were the enormous difficulties Premier Kosygin faces in the Communist world. In agreeing to the meeting at all he put himself out on a long limb. He could hardly have said less than he did at his press conference. By repeating the same hard line on Vietnam and the Arab-Israeli quarrel Kosygin at least postponed the perilous decisions he must make in the near future.

REPORTS FROM various quarters indicate how deeply the Communist camp is split. In France the newly strengthened Communist party is finding it all but impossible to hold to a pro-Arab and anti-Israel line. Sentiment in France in general is strongly pro Israel and many prominent Communists have Jewish backgrounds. Premier de Gaulle's denunciation of Israel as the aggressor complicates the Communist position, since the party is violently anti-Gaullist.

IN POLAND, Czechoslovakia and Hungary the disaffection is submerged, but reports indicate that nevertheless it exists. For more than 20 years Communist propaganda has attacked Fascism and linked Fascism with genocide and the death camps not only for the Jews but for Poles, Russians and other Slavic peoples.

Soviet Uses Cuba As A Threat

WASHINGTON — What they need in Moscow is a few "public relations" men to keep the Kremlin from making such a colossal mistake as it did in ordering Premier Kosygin to visit Fidel Castro, head of the dictatorship in Cuba.

FOR JUST as thoughts were turning toward a peaceful relationship between the Soviet Union and the United States, the Premier's special trip to Havana reminds the American people of the bases established in Cuba in 1962. From territory only 90 miles away, missiles with nuclear warheads could be launched to kill millions of Americans in the southeastern section of this country. The Kosygin-Castro conference also focuses attention on the guerrilla activities being constantly instigated in various Latin-American countries by the Communist controlled regime in Cuba.

RECENT REPORTS indicate that, while there have been some differences between Havana and Moscow, Cuba is still the principal base of the Communist apparatus in this hemisphere. This is a blatant defiance of the Monroe Doctrine.

The United Press International, in a dispatch from London on Tuesday, attributed to "authoritative diplomatic sources" there this explanation of why Premier Kosygin went to Havana:

"The Mideast crisis and the demand for more Soviet aid from the Arab countries has heightened the Cuban problem for Moscow, which has been 'keeping' Cuba at the rate of some one million dollars a day . . .

"THE TIMING of Kosygin's trip is significant, in that it comes on the eve of the so-called Latin-American solidarity conference due to open in Havana, July 28. It is being organized by the Latin-American solidarity organization of some 27 revolutionary Latin-American movements. "Current plans envisage the setting up of Castro-type guerrilla groups in Latin-American countries with armed insurrection as one of the key objectives."

COINCIDENTALLY, a special commission of the Organization of American States has just finished an investigation of charges by Venezuela that Communist Cuba is responsible for aggressive activities on its soil. The OAS findings are expected to substantiate the Venezuelan claim. Ha-

The campaign to destroy Israel, proclaimed by President Gamal Abdel Nasser in terms of extermination of the Israeli people, is hard to sanction against the background of the insistent theme of Fascist genocide.

WHILE KOSYGIN was in New York President Nikolai Podgorny was in Cairo assessing what can be saved out of the wreckage. If Nasser can survive, then he will be shored up. In the hard decision the Politburo must make in Moscow Nasser is expendable not today or tomorrow but in the months ahead.

At home Kosygin is in trouble to a degree that can only be surmised. What is not generally known is that Moscow, as the Arab disaster began to unfold, renewed the jamming of the broadcasts of the Voice of America and the British Broadcasting Corporation. Ever since the suspension of the jamming four years ago these had been coming through and were widely listened to.

THE HIGH command apparently decided it was too much to let the public know that anywhere from a billion to two billion dollars of war materiel supplied by the Soviet Union was being destroyed on the Sinai desert. Such a total waste hardly squared with the repeated pledges out of the Kremlin to raise the level of living for the average citizen in the 50th year of the Russian Revolution.

In light of all this the surprising thing is that Kosygin was willing to go to Glassboro and meet with the President. He unquestionably has his own hard liners to contend with in the Politburo and in the military command. How much maneuverability he has to take advantage of in the exchange of the two men had is anyone's guess. The answer is not likely to be forthcoming for some time. ### National YMCA Council Publishes Book By Hardy

James M. Hardy, director of research and planning for the National Council of the Young Men's Christian Association, has published a book, "Focus on the Family."

Hardy, known here to his many friends as Bobo, was for many years the general secretary of the Big Spring YMCA. He began his career with the association here where he was reared. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Hardy.

A review of his book is contained in the current issue of Family Life. Here are some highlights:

Summer Is Good Time To Guard Against Big Six

The Big Six may not be listed as football teams this fall, but the game they play could be a deadly one for your child, or put him on the sidelines for the season.

When it comes to childhood diseases, the Big Six are diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, polio, smallpox and measles. Immunizations for all of them are available year-round for school-age children, unable to afford them, at the City-County Health Unit, 201 Lancaster.

Mrs. Elizabeth Puckett, county health nurse, said the immunization clinic is held every Tuesday from 9-11 a.m. and 1-4 p.m.

"The program is for all medically indigent people," said Mrs. Puckett. "The last two weeks of August begin our 'rush' season, although we average about 100 immunizations each week during the year."

Earlier this summer, 180 children enrolled in the Head Start program were immunized by clinic personnel.

She urged parents to immunize their children, especially because the summer days bring more health hazards and exposure to communicable disease.

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A Saturnian influence is making you get serious about your life. You are organized that you can express your self as you like the most and with the most amount of opposition from anyone else. Make a point also to get into the specifics of bringing some interest that is important to you more up to date so you can get the most out of your life.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You can find more modern ways of handling material affairs so that you have greater success and are more satisfied. Contact that advisor you trust. Excellent ideas can be given you that you should follow quickly.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your best bet is contacting that somewhat smallish friend or relative who has some personal ideas getting advice, support, etc. Get backing from other individuals as well. Be sure you are discreet, precise.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Paying attention to minute details will bring the right results now and the days ahead can become more successful. Do not confide in others so much otherwise they can stir your nerves. Be sensible.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Good pals can now give you an introduction to one who can be of great assistance to you in the days ahead. This can be a friend or a business partner. Show that you are thinking very clearly.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Tasks of a civic nature are best means for advancing at this time, but be sure you are accurate and precise. Make the payments that bring your credit up where it should be. Stop being so obstinate.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Some new plan you have in mind could open new avenues of expression and success to you. Get into the study that is necessary for you to have greater understanding. Don't be lazy.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Others get all about responsibilities, but it is best that you be stable and carry through voluntarily. Don't let a detour in your life affect your determination.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Find out what partners want from you and show that you can and will cooperate most intelligently. Any dissension now could result in serious severance of connections. Don't jeopardize what is really a fine thing.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be more enthusiastic about finishing some work you are doing some time ago and that is really important to you. Then take the treatments that improve your vitality, increase it. Stop sitting around so much.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Do whatever will increase happiness in the future is fine, so get busy with that plan you have in mind. Get your friends to cooperate with you. Out tonight to amusements you like with consent.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You need to give basic matters more time, though you may want to increase more successfully from now on. Bid yourself fundamental structure. Do so quickly.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Ideal Saturday to get that shopping done and run other errands for which you have had little time before this. You can come to an understanding easily with persons in business or the professions. Keep busy.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow... he or she, will be one of those very slow, deliberate young people who will even get on your nerves, so be sure you teach early to come to decisions quickly, even if some mistakes must be made sometimes, and then there can be success here throughout the lifetime instead of failure. Teach to persevere as well.

Parcel Limit Is Increased

Mailers will be able to send 25-pound parcels between first class post offices which are 150 miles or more apart starting Saturday, Frank Hardesty, postmaster, reminded patrons today. The present weight limit is 20 pounds, he said.

This is the first of five increases scheduled to take effect annually until 1971, when a 40-pound, 84-inch maximum size will be authorized between all first class offices. Size limitations are now 72 inches in combined girth and length.

The next increase, on July 1, 1968, will raise the weight limit to 30 pounds. On July 1, 1969, the weight limit will be increased from 30 to 40 pounds; on July 1, 1970, the size will be increased to 78 inches; and on July 1, 1971, the size is scheduled to be increased to 84 inches.

Hardesty also reminded mailers that parcels weighing up to 40 pounds can be mailed between first class post offices less than 150 miles apart. Packages addressed to and from second, third, and fourth class post offices, Alaska, and Hawaii are not affected by the increase in size and weight provisions of the Public Law 89-573, which became effective Jan. 15, he said. Parcel post mailings to and from these offices remain at 70 pounds and 100 inches.

LEES AWARDED $100 PRIZE FOR EFFORT Oliver Werst, Mrs. E. B. Low and Conrad Miller at Community Sign

Lees Community Given Prize For State Award

LEES — A check for $100, awarded the Lees community for its victory in the Texas Community Program this year, was formally presented to Mrs. E. B. Low here Thursday evening.

The check's presentation was marked by an ice cream supper at the Lee Community Building. Mrs. Low is president of the Lees HD Club, sponsor of the community improvement program.

Presentation of the prize was made by Conrad Miller, with the Texas Electric Service Co. and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service jointly conducting this community improvement projects. Lees took first honors with a roadside - community park which was built on the Garden City Highway at the store. The prize was for what was classified first place in Division 1 in the state wide competition.

Mrs. Low made a short report on the work that her club has done in the community improvement field. Oliver Werst, Glasscock County agent, also spoke on the effectiveness of the program when applied locally.

In addition to Lees residents at the ice cream supper, numerous guests from Garden City, Big Spring, Snyder, Lomax and Forsan were on hand.

ENTERTAINS GRANDSON LBJ Bids Farewell To Favorite Uncle

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — President Johnson bid a final farewell to a favorite uncle Thursday and then flew to his nearby ranch for his first long visit with his only grandson.

The President, Mrs. Johnson, their daughter Luci and her husband, Pat Nugent, attended the funeral services here for Huffman Baines, the 83-year-old brother of the President's late mother.

Afterward, the Johnsons and the Nugents flew to the LBJ Ranch, where the President was to entertain his grandson, born eight days ago. The President saw him only briefly at an Austin hospital last weekend.

Johnson and the first lady sat with the grieving Baines family during the services. They had flown into Randolph Air Force Base and motored to the funeral home chapel here. Luci and Pat arrived a few minutes earlier.

CHAPEL JAMMED The chapel which normally seats about 350 was jammed. But few of the mourners got a glimpse of the First Family.

The Johnsons and Nugents sat with Baines' widow, sister and son in an alcove at one side of the flower-banked chapel, shielded by a partition from most of the crowd.

Streets near the chapel were lined with people, many wearing the bright and brief costume of the tourist. The crowd surged toward the presidential car as it arrived at the chapel.

Dr. John D. Barbee, minister of the Park Hills Baptist Church, conducted the services. He praised Baines as a "giant" who "fought his battles unafraid and possessed of a total and complete courage."

PHONE PIONEER The minister recalled that a number of years ago, after Johnson suffered a heart attack, Baines came to him and asked "Would you kneel here and pray for my nephew?"

Attendance of that nephew at the services marked the stature of Baines, Dr. Barbee said. "With as little fanfare as possible, the man who possesses the most power in the world came," the minister said, "but he came not as the President, Dr. Barbee said, "but as the nephew of Uncle Huff."

Baines, a Texas pioneer in telephone communications, died Monday at a rest-home here. He had been under treatment at the home since last September after breaking a hip the month before. The Johnsons visited him while he was in a hospital here last August. Before his injury, Baines visited the President several times at the White House and at the ranch.

THINK IT'S HOT? YOU OUGHT TO HAVE BEEN HERE IN 1907

If you think it has been hot this summer, ask your grandfather how it was 60 years ago to date, June 30, 1907. He will tell you, wiping his brow, that the mercury reached 117 in Big Spring that day. That wasn't the only hot day in June, 1907. The day before, June 29, the temperature reached 113 degrees, and on June 28, it reached the 112 degree mark. That sounds awfully hot to West Texans, but on the first day of June that year, the temperature was 50 degrees. The weather was just as crazy 60 years ago as it is today. The year 1907 holds another first in temperatures, for in May of that year, the minimum temperature was 31 degrees, an all-time low for May in Big Spring. June was a scorcher in 1907; the rest of the summer wasn't quite so bad. In July, the mercury rose to 107 and in August to 105. The 110-117 degree temperatures sound mighty hot, but remember, 60 years ago, the people had to endure it without air-conditioned houses and air-conditioned cars.

Police Short Course Ends

Two weeks of in-service training on criminal law and procedure for employees of the city police department ends today with 50 having enrolled.

The class was sponsored by Texas A&M University police training division. Instructors were Roland Howerton and Wallace Beasley, the latter co-ordinator of the police training program.

"Every member of our department attended one of the two daily shifts," said Jay Banks, chief of police. Members of the Colorado City and Snyder department, participated as well as the juvenile officers and members of the liquor control board.

Banks said this was part of the constant training given members of the police department. In the past, sessions have been held on such topics as traffic, criminal investigation and theft.

Quiet Tug-Of-War Goes On Over Jayne's Funeral

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The once-beautiful body of buxom Jayne Mansfield, victim of a violent highway collision, lay today in the white-tiled morgue here as a quiet tug-of-war over her funeral developed.

Matt Cimber, estranged third husband of the 34-year-old actress, rushed here after her death Thursday and said he would plan the funeral.

Husband No. 2, movie musician Mickey Hargitay, said here. He went first to the bedside of their three children — injured when the car carrying Miss Mansfield rammed the rear of a big truck east of the city.

PRIVATE RITES Hargitay said his former wife's mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Peers of Dallas, Tex., also had come here about Miss Mansfield's funeral.

He said it would be private but declined to elaborate. One funeral home said: "We're waiting further word from the mother."

Dr. Nicholas Chetta, Orleans Parish coroner, ordered his staff not to release Miss Mansfield's body without his approval. Also killed in the 2:25 a.m.

wreck 34 miles from the heart of New Orleans were Miss Mansfield's latest love interest, attorney Samuel S. Brody, 48, of Los Angeles, and the chauffeur of the car, Ronald Harrison, 20, of Mississippi City, Miss.

"HE UNDERSTOOD" Mickey Hargitay Jr., 5, was told by his father that his mother "had a date with God."

"He is a smart boy," said Hargitay, his eyes flooded with tears and his voice choked with emotion. "He understood."

In Hollywood, Hargitay's manager, Ross Christena, said she was to return to Biloxi later Thursday and was to entertain Seabees today at the Navy mobile construction battalion training center at Gulfport, Miss.

The children, Mickey Jr.; Zoltan, 6, and Marie, 3, remained today in Ochsner Foundation Hospital.

Hargitay, their father, said he would take them back to California when they were released from the hospital.

Miss Mansfield had two other children, a daughter, Jayne Marie Mansfield, 16, from her first marriage, and a 1-year-old son, Antonio Cimber.

Tax Hearing Traffic Light

Approximately 40 fewer taxpayers showed up to protest tax assessments this year than last year at the equalization board sessions, members of the board said today.

The two-day session of the boards for the county, school and city ended Thursday afternoon. Friday, the school equalization board members were in session with oil and gas company representatives on tax values on this type of property.

There were 83 applicants for interviews listed to appear before the two boards on Wednesday and Thursday. In most cases the protesters were afforded some relief, board spokesmen said. Where valuations were held to be out of line a downward cut was made on the records. There were no increases made.

The school committee's session with the oil and gas companies will close the book on equalization sessions for the current year. The tax rolls will be prepared based on the figures as shown in the records as of this date.

Blue Chips Jog Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Selective improvement by blue chips jugged the stock market slightly into plus territory early this afternoon.

In advance of a long weekend, which may be stretched to four days by some Wall Streeters, the usual preweekend caution was obvious, but the market seemed to be at a crossroads, anyway.

Most gains and losses were fractional, some going to a point or so.

The exchange will be open for business on Monday but closed Tuesday for the July 4 holiday.

To the market's other concerns was added news of sharp import cuts by the Kennedy Round tariff agreement. Some spokesmen for affected businesses were already beginning to voice complaints.

Hammond spoke for the information service which has 156 insurance companies as clients.

He said DPS records show Tom Green, Nueces (Corpus Christi), El Paso, Harris (Houston) and Bexar (San Antonio) grant the most stay orders, with Tom Green "maintaining the all-time record for several years now in granting these injunctions against DPS."

He said more than 479 stay orders were issued in Tom Green County, Hammond said. A Harris County judge has stated he gets stay orders in bundles and signs them that way.

"In counties where stay orders are issued without the slightest attempt to enforce DPS regulations, some lawyers are getting fat and rich on this legal-wheeling. Many attorneys charge up to $250 to keep an individual's license 'alive' and some lawyers have so much business that they are mimeographing stay order forms," Hammond said.

In Houston, he said, one man's license was finally suspended after 32 traffic violations—the final one involving a fatality.

Hammond said DPS records show that 312 stay orders are pending in Harris County, 258 in El Paso, 242 in Bexar and 211 in Nueces.

Other counties, and their totals of stay orders, include Wichita (Wichita Falls), 80; Jefferson (Beaumont) Port Arthur, 36; Lubbock 24, Dallas 8, McLennan (Waco) 5 and Tarrant (Fort Worth) 1.

Few Counties Skirting Law

AUSTIN (AP) — A few Texas counties, especially Tom Green (San Angelo), are skirting the law by allowing their judges to delay drivers license suspensions by the Department of Public Safety, an insurance researcher asserted Thursday.

Darby Hammond, executive director of the Southwestern Insurance Information Service, said stay orders against the department, prohibiting it from removing licenses and vehicles from the highways for traffic violations, are common.

More than 6,000 persons are without liability insurance or enough money or assets to pay damages for an accident, he said, "but these drivers are safe — with their judge-signed stay orders in their pockets."

Hammond spoke for the information service which has 156 insurance companies as clients.

Congressmen Take Recess, Leaving Work Unfinished

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is off today on its third formal recess of the year, leaving the Capitol empty except for the usual hordes of tourists — and a massive backlog of unfinished work.

When Congress reassembles after a 10-day July 4th vacation, it will face enough problems to keep it busy for several months — and the likelihood of attempts to sidetrack some controversial issues until the next session beginning in January.

ELECTION REFORMS
Among unfinished business is legislation dealing with rioting, Social Security, a possible railroad strike, poverty, crime education, civil rights, foreign aid, appropriations, congressional redistricting, election law reforms and possibly taxes.

Some of them are well along on the road to final action. Others haven't even taken their first legislative step.

Action has been completed on a new military draft law, extension of the Teachers Corps and some other higher education programs, a $12.2-billion emergency appropriation to finance the Vietnam war and Senate ratification of the Soviet consular and outer space treaties.

USUAL FUSS
Two nonlegislative acts, one in each branch, highlighted the first six months of the session.

The Senate censured Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., for converting campaign funds to his personal use. The House refused to seat Adam Clayton Powell, a Harlem Democrat, after a special committee accused him of misusing public funds.

As usual, party leaders in the House, where most of the action has been to date, disagreed on the showing of Congress.

'RUDDERLESS SHIP'
Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said, "We have made a number of excellent accomplishments" and "a lot of important bills will be acted upon in the next few months."

Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan took a different view.

He credited "the few constructive things that were done" to heavy GOP House gains in last year's elections.

Congress, Ford added, "has churned about like a rudderless ship."

Democrats outnumber Republicans in the House 247 to 186 despite a GOP gain of 47 seats last November.

REMAP ACTION
Legislatively the House was ahead of the Senate when the latest recess started.

It has passed 11 appropriation

Dear Abby The Overzealous Mother

DEAR ABBY: After 12 years of marriage and two children, I learned that my husband had a girl friend. She's a divorcee and nothing special by anybody's standards. He admitted that it had been going on for two years. Abby, we had a good marriage and a good sex life, so that wasn't it.

I divorced him, loving him and hating him at the same time. Our divorce has been final for over a year, and he has not married the other woman. What's stopping him? He's free now.

My question? Why would a married man fool around and risk losing a wife who loved him, and children who idolized him, and then not jump at the chance to marry the woman who caused it all?

NO NAME
DEAR NO NAME: Probably because he didn't ever really want her for a steady diet. Only an appetizer. Some married men are fascinated with "playing house." They enjoy dreaming, planning, and verbalizing with somebody else, secure in the knowledge that it will never materialize, since they're safely married. But when circum-

Science And You Tool Kit For Moon-Men

By DR. LEONARD REIFFEL
Someday — perhaps only two years hence — astronauts are going to be walking around on the surface of the moon. Their purpose, among other things, will be to gather as many interesting geological and rock samples as they can.

This will not be an easy task. Out on the lunar surface in a spacesuit — in one-sixth normal gravity, with the dangerous vacuum of space just outside, with the sun blazing down on one side, with numbing cold in every shadow — just picking up an object becomes a project. Tools, however, can help.

The tool kit for the astronauts must be designed to make optimum use of the limited time available on the lunar surface. It's quite obvious if you are going to collect samples of rock that you will need a hammer. A big, interesting rock that is too big to bring back to Earth in one piece can at least be chipped so a sample can be returned. Clearly, a specially-designed geological hammer of just the right weight and shape will be going along to the moon.

One peculiar requirement of the spacesuit is that the astronaut must not be asked to kneel too much. The moon's surface is very hot. If he were to kneel frequently, his knees would get too warm. Too much heat could become quite dangerous because it would overload his environmental control system — the gadgetry he carries around with him to keep him cool and well-supplied with air. To avoid frequent kneeling, the astronaut will have a set of tongs to pick things off the lunar surface.

A hand lens will be in the tool kit to aid in examining different rocks. Under a little magnification, the explorer will be able to see whether one rock or another is the best one to bring back. He will also have a scriber for marking samples and a brush to remove dust so he can get a better look at the surface of rocks.

These tools are typical of those geologists use on the Earth's surface — somewhat modified, to be sure — because of the limitations of the spacesuit.

Another gadget, not so typical of techniques used on Earth, will be used along with a stereo camera to record the exact angles of surfaces in the lunar scene. This and related equipment will allow the lunar explorers to make measurements of how far they are away from the landing craft. A number of other devices such as a sample bag holder and walking aid will also be provided.

The real concern with all of these tools is to make equipment that is extremely easy for the astronauts to use. Inside a spacesuit a man doesn't have much mobility; furthermore, he must wear very heavy gloves which makes manipulating delicate equipment difficult.

Beyond all of this is the tyranny of the very limited time on the lunar surface that the first missions will allow. It's very likely that we'll have less than six hours of working time on the first landing. They'll be six very crowded hours, but proper design of the astronauts' tool kit can help make them exceptionally fruitful.

A LOVELIER YOU

Good Figure Ruined By Poor Carriage

By MARY SUE MILLER
Coltish little girls are said to be at the "awkward age." But the description fits many a big girl, too.

Few women actually give thought to their grace-ability. All the emphasis is on figure control. Yet graceful carriage enhances every sort of figure. The plump woman looks slimmer when her movements are willowy. Awkwardly carried, the ideal figure appears secondary.

The point comes clear whenever you observe a group of women in bathing suits. Just let a Venus sit down on the ground with a thud; you don't notice her lovely figure, only her ludicrous actions. In the same situation, a heavy woman sinks to sit on heels. 3. Flaring arms sidewise at shoulder level and extend right leg to side, so that big toe touches floor. 4. Stretching in waist, try to touch right foot with both hands. 5. By reversing actions, return to starting position. 6. Repeat, extending left leg. 7. Alternating, perform 10 times.

Work daily and in seven days you'll begin to get results that do a swimsuit proud.

LAZY GIRL'S EXERCISES
Here's an effortless way to trim off heavy spots. All you do is lie down or sit down, and flex your muscles. If that's for you, send for "Lazy Girl's Exercises." Based on the isometric principle of exercise, routines trim head-to-toe figure. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 15 cents in coin.

Clinical Pastor

Chaplain Gives Up A Long Pastorate For New Place

Rev. Lee Butler gave up a 15-year pastorate a year ago to become the chaplain at the Big Spring State Hospital. He assumed duties of chaplain at the hospital here following a year of graduate study at the Institute of Religion, Texas Medical Center, in Houston. "I have been interested in chaplaincy work for about 20 years, Rev. Butler said, "and a year ago, I left the pastorate to get my certificate to be able to serve as a chaplain." Rev. Butler's duties here include planning and coordinating regular worship services for the patients.

Part of the chaplain's job is to make personal contacts with the patients, relatives of the patients, staff members and employees. This involves pastoral and personal counseling, as well as group counseling. As a representative to the community, Rev. Butler is involved in speaking to local organizations and churches on the work of the hospital and the promotion of better mental health. He also conducts orientation courses for local clergy and other interested persons.

Rev. Butler received his B.A. degree from Grand Canyon College, Phoenix, Ariz., and his bachelor of divinity from Burton Seminary in Colorado. This past year, he graduated from the Institute of Religion in the field of clinical pastoral education. Prior to his position in the hospital, he pastored churches in Houston, Crane and Iraan, and other towns in this area. Rev. Butler and his wife, Molly, have three children: two sons, Terry, 11, Tommy, 16, and Mrs. Janie Strader of Houston.

THRUST STARTS WITH TRUTH SALVATION IS OPEN TO ALL

Out of the church at Antioch in northern Syria came a great thrust that was to start the missionary movement around the world. How this came about is the subject of the uniform Sunday school lesson (Acts 13:1-3, 42-49). Barnabas, who so wisely encouraged the spiritual growth at Antioch, where "they were first called Christians," was aided there by Saul (who in today's lesson moves bodily upon his ministry to the Gentiles and takes on the appropriate Roman name of Paul), together with Niger and Ucius, two preachers from northern Africa, and Manaen, a convert who was probably a former member of the court of Herod to tetrarch. With this remarkable leadership, the church flourished, and under the superior leadership of the Holy Spirit, Saul and Barnabas were ordained to a special ministry. The missionary pair sailed from Seleucia, the seaport which served Antioch, landed on Cyprus and preached the entire length of the islands and made their way to Paphos. Here Paul preached in the synagogue, as he invariably did, but got mixed reactions. While many of Paul's fellow Jews believed, others were wroth, so Paul and Barnabas held a separate service the following sabbath. It was so well attended it seemed the whole city had come. The Gentiles, including many who were proselytes to Judaism because of its mono-theism and morality offered great relief to paganism, were overjoyed to hear that personal salvation through Christ was available to them. The Holy Spirit had "ordained," or more nearly, made them ready for this. The missionary thrust was on.

Polk Will Take Special Course At Princeton

The Rev. and Mrs. Robert Polk of the First Baptist Church are en route to Princeton, N. J., where he will be enrolled at the Institute of Theology at Princeton Theological Seminary July 3-7. From Princeton, they will travel to New York City where Rev. Polk will attend a minister's conference at the Union Theological Seminary July 10-14. While there he will study pastoral counseling under Dr. Wayne Oates of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary who is guest professor at the Union Seminary this summer. Rev. and Mrs. Polk will return to Big Spring July 16.

Training Held For Evangelism

Enthusiasm and compassion were demonstrated during the three sessions of intensive evangelistic training which were concluded Wednesday night at Baptist Temple church for approximately 500 Baptist men and women from Big Spring and surrounding communities. The institute was conducted in preparation for the Big Spring Baptist Encounter Crusade to be held Aug. 6-11 in the City Park Amphitheatre. Dr. O. Byron Richardson, the Crusade coordinator and evangelist, spoke Wednesday on "The Tragedy of an Unsaved Soul." The message was followed by over 200 laymen gathering at the altar for prayer in behalf of the unsaved of this area. The institute challenged that any person who has had a personal experience with Jesus Christ as a Saviour can bear witness of it to someone else at least three times each day before the Crusade opens Aug. 6.

New Pastor, Director Of Music At West S. Baptist

West Side Baptist Church's new leadership — the Rev. Jerry Bob Taylor as pastor and Ralph Harris as music director — has assumed its duties. Rev. Taylor's family will come here Aug. 1 to join him. He entered the ministry in a devious way and over numerous obstacles. Reared in Brownwood where he completed high school and eventually was graduated from Howard Payne College, he first began his career as a draftsman at Midland for Sunray DX. As a member of the Terminal Baptist Church, he felt the call to preach. He was ordained in 1958, but he got sidetracked when he had spinal surgery. Later he served as pastor at Midkiff, an oilfield community and put in a year at Hardin-Simmons University before he resigned his Midkiff charge to re-enter Howard Payne. He was called to pastor the Salt Creek church near Brownwood while completing his degree last year. He came here from that church. His wife is the former Laverne Crawford, Brady, whom he met at Howard Payne, and they have two children, Stephen, 10, and Lori, 4. Harris is associated here with Texas Electric Service but also has been called to special service. A native of Iowa Park, he graduated from Grand Prairie High School and attended Arlington State before serving five years, including 14 months in Korea, in the U.S. Marines. He went to work with TESCO, resigned to do missionary work in Alaska for 3 1/2 years, then came back to TESCO at Fort Worth and thence to Big Spring. He and Mrs. Barris, the former Jean Holder, were married in Grand-Prairie in 1952 and have two children, Becky, 14, and Kenny, 11. They reside at 416

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .

. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Have you ever taken her measure?

— from base to torch: 151' 1"

— from heel to top of head: 111' 1"

length of hand: 16' 5"

index finger: 8' 0"

finger nail: 13" x 10"

But these are the dimensions of a statue only. The dimensions of liberty are greater.

And one of these is faith in God!

The desire to worship faithfully and freely according to the dictates of one's own conscience inspired the birth of our Nation.

And to this day, every hymn, every prayer, every act of reverence and service and sacrifice which flows from our hearts toward God . . .

Spear Carriers Are Leaders At Montreal

MONTREAL (AP) — It figured. Golf's touring pros took one look at the short, flat, waterless Montreal Municipal Course, rubbed their hands in glee and privately predicted they'd take it apart.

They did. But who would have figured that the chief destroyers would be Laurie Hammer, Roger Ginsberg, Steve Reid and Dave Stockton?

The established pros had difficulties ranging from mild (Jack Nicklaus) to severe (Arnold Palmer and Gary Player) while the new breed continued the tradition of domination in the Canadian Open Golf Tournament.

Hammer, 24, a big blond, All-American-boy type from Sarasota, Fla., established the first-round lead with a five-under-par 66. He had five birdies and no bogeys.

Ginsberg, 28, who has yet to win on the tour, and Reid, 30, a part-time performer on the pro circuit, tied for second with veteran Art Wall, all at 67.

Sharing the next position at 68 were Dave Stockton, 25, who scored his first tournament victory earlier this year, and vet Gardner Dickinson.

In retrospect, it really isn't too surprising. In six of the last 12 years this tournament has been won by rookie pros, unknowns or amateurs.

Doug Sanders won as an amateur, Arnold Palmer, Jacky Cupit and Wes Ellis were among the pros gaining their first victory here.

But Hammer may be the longest shot of them all. In 1 1/2 years on the tour he has won about $2,100—including pro-am events in all. His best finish has been a tie for 16th.

But he played with the aplomb of a veteran Thursday, calmly carving out his 66 and then relaxing and letting the rest of them shoot at it.

"I guess I played pretty well," said the lanky youngster, who is sponsored by his father, a retired, dairy man from Illinois. "I only missed one green. You've got to play well when you're that good."

"Sure, I've been pretty discouraged at times—I only won $16 in 1966. I've never really thought of quitting, but my dad and I kind of put a time limit of two years on it."

Then he flashed that big smile and added:

"But we might have to extend it now."

Nicklaus, who said he played "a half sloppy round," was one of five tied at 69. The others were Labron Harris, Hugh Royer, Billy Casper and Argentine Veteran Roberto DeVicenzo, who missed a hole in one by a foot.

Local Fems Enter Ballinger Meet

The Big Spring Sluggers are one of eight teams entered in the eighth annual-Ballinger Women's Softball Tournament, which gets under way tonight and continues through Saturday.

Other contingents which will compete will represent Big Lake, Brownwood, Hamlin, Snyder, San Angelo, Stephenville and Ballinger.

Palmer and Player were not among them

Palmer and Player were not among them. Palmer, with Nicklaus the co-favorite, took a one-over 72 on "the worst driving I've done in a long time."

Player, who had practice rounds of 66 and 65, struggled with a 75.

Entry Deadline For Club Tournament Is 6 p. m.

Entries will be accepted until 6 p. m. today for the annual Club Championship Golf Tournament scheduled to start Saturday at the Big Spring Country Club. Mike Hall is the defending title in the meet and will again be in the field. Hall defeated Daryle Hohertz in the finals of last year's tournament.

Hall ranks as one of the favorites in this year's tournament, along with Robb Smith, Mike Weaver, Ronnie Broadrick, Hohertz, Harold Hall, Jack Cook and Ted Gross.

Those firing for medal honors Saturday must hole out all putts, it has been emphasized.

The minimax system will be used to assign all players to flights, according to pro Jerry Green.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Gate receipts from athletic contests involving the local high schools in endeavors other than football last year amounted to $4,089.60, with the Steer basketball team accounting for most of the receipts.

Cash income from Steer cage contests here totaled $3,098 while the junior highs added another $473.10 to the intake. The Steer baseball fund added $513.50 worth of business through the turnstiles.

Total athletic receipts for the school year of 1966-67 came to $31,213.88.

The scoreboard operator at local high school football games is paid at the rate of $12.50 a game.

One round of match play is scheduled Saturday, another Sunday and two Tuesday. No competition is booked for Monday.

List of entries mounted to 64 this morning, with indications it would top 80. Last year, the field consisted of 72 players.

Green said he would probably have his biggest problem assigning spots in the President's or First Flight, since the number of three handicap players may exceed 16—the number ordinarily assigned to each in each flight.

If such problems arise, the flight limit may be increased to 32—in which case an extra day would be needed to complete play.

Merchandise awards will be given to winners, runners-up and consolation round winners in each flight.

The course has benefitted from rainfall totaling 1.3 inches since last Sunday and is in its best shape of the year.

Pairings for the three-day event will be drawn up tonight. Entry fee is a modest $5 per player.

Colts blank Cabots, 6-0

The Colts clobbered the Cabots, 6-0, in an American Little League contest here Thursday night.

The Colts thus ran their season's record to 10-9 while the Cabots are currently 7-13.

Wayne Dickens and Johnny Tonn divided time on the mound for the Colts, with Dickens getting credit for the win after having worked the first six innings.

The only hit the Cabots got was by third baseman Rick Lloyd.

Brent Burrow and Mike Tredaway each collected two safeties for the Colts while Scott Egan drove out a home run with two on in the fourth for the winners.

In the wake of Jack Nicklaus' dramatic charge in the National Open at Springfield, N.J., recently, columnist Jimmy Cannon of New York says that the game no longer belongs to Arnold Palmer, that Nicklaus now is the uncontested king of the sport.

"It is Nicklaus' game now, as it once was Palmer's and before that Ben Hogan's and Bobby Jones," Cannon wrote. "... It was more than a great golfer getting his second Open in his seventh year as a professional after winning every other important tournament in the world. It was a big man taking over. Jack Nicklaus was pushing Arnie Palmer out of history. The first to shake Nicklaus' hand was Palmer. It could have been good-bye. One's in. The other's moving out."

"There can't be two such as these at the same time. It has to be one or the other, this guy going, the other one coming."

"This is the age of Nicklaus in golf. It started Sunday. There is Cassius Clay in the fight racket, and no one's close. There hasn't been a stickout in football since Jimmy Brown turned actor. Some kid will come up. But if there is more than one, then they must go up against each other. True greatness is lonely. One was Bill Russell but this is Wilt Chamberlain's year. It is Willie Mays in baseball and Bobby Hull in hockey. The great pitchers sit around and discuss Sandy Koufax with the wonder of men talking about some one who was great in their father's time. And he is not yet gone a season."

"The buffs act as if Palmer can't lose. Even some of the people who know most about golf feel that way. They wait for him to get going and gamble his way into championships with his poised recklessness. But Palmer can't make it work for him anymore. He doesn't get up on the last lap in the big tournaments."

"Jack made a sort of shambles of it," Palmer said afterwards. "It seems I'm getting into the habit of finishing second."

"It was said for laughs, but this has to disturb him. He is a tough man and he once dominated this game."

"They were head-and-head Sunday, Nicklaus and Palmer, playing together. There seemed to be a change in Nicklaus. It was as if he knew how Palmer shocks some of the guys he plays with. He walks down the fairway as if he just bought the joint and was looking over his property. He strides as if the golf course is the immense lawn of his mansion. But Nicklaus kept up with him. This was his turn."

Emory Bellard, the former San Angelo coach who is now on the University of Texas staff, says his 1965 tackle, Randy Stout, is the finest blocker he ever coached. Stout, who weighed in at 245 pounds last fall, has an unusual knack for blitzing out of his position and getting in front of an intended tackler.

Stout, who'll appear in the All-Star game in San Antonio in August, will be playing under Bellard at Texas again this fall.

Most of the Ladies' PGA Golf tournaments are confined to the smaller and middle-sized cities because the feds do not draw well in metropolises like New York.

There is a possibility, however, that the golfing girls will include a stop at Chicago on their tour. If the plan materializes, it would be the highlight of their tour.

City Shaded By Optimists In City Loop

It wasn't exactly an All-Star night for Bob Gibson and Don Drysdale, both of whom were chosen for the National League team shortly before taking their regular pitching turns Thursday night.

Gibson, the over-powering St. Louis right-hander, was manhandled for nine runs in less than one inning as San Francisco scored 11 first-inning runs and walloped the Cardinals 12-4.

Drysdale suffered a similar fate against Cincinnati, lasting into the second inning and allowing six runs on seven hits as the Reds bombed Los Angeles 14-0.

Elswhere in the National League, Jim Bunning, who wasn't picked for the All-Star staff looked more the part, shutting out New York on three hits as Philadelphia nipped the Mets 1-0, and Chicago moved within 1 1/2 games of first place by toppling Pittsburgh 4-3. Houston's game at Atlanta was rained out. The first eight Giants to bat

It wasn't quite as bad for Drysdale against the Reds. He was charged with six of the runs as the Reds charged to an 11-0 lead in the first three innings.

Tony Perez, Don Pavletich and Deron Johnson each slammed home runs and drove in three runs apiece as Cincinnati raked four Dodger pitchers for 18 hits.

Milt Pappas hurled a five-hitter, and breezed to his eighth victory.

Bunning was almost untouchable against the Mets—the team he pitched a perfect game against three years ago this month.

Two of New York's three hits were infield rollers and only five Mets reached base against the Philadelphia ace, who squared his record at 8-8.

Despite the big bulge, San Francisco starter Joe Gibbon failed to retire a batter, allowing four straight hits. Bob Bolin came on and got credit for the victory.

Mundell's Home Run Is Difference In Contest

The airtight pitching of Danny Davis, coupled with the timely distance hitting of Steve Mundell, propelled the Comets past the Talons, 4-1, in a battle for the championship of the International Little League here Thursday night.

The two teams had deadlocked in regular season play with 12-3 records.

Davis parceled out four hits to the Talons, fanned seven and did not walk a batter.

Butch Shook had put the Talons ahead, 1-0, by scoring an unearned run in the second.

The Comets erupted for all their runs in the fifth, however, and it was a two-on home run by Steve Mundell that turned the trick. The ball sailed over the left field fence.

Donnell Robinson had opened the inning by reaching base on a walk. James Lacy had followed with a double that sent Robinson to third. Landon Soles singled to plate Robinson with the tying run before Mundell stepped to the plate.

Donnie Cockrell, one of the hottest batters in the league in recent weeks, lashed two blows for the Comets. He was the only player in the game to get more than one safety.

Mundell's dramatic blow came with two outs. Each team made an error in the contest.

LBJ Acts Like '64 Campaigner

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson is beginning to act again like the hard-driving campaigner of 1964—but with a difference. He isn't giving much advance notice of his travels.

This naturally has a decided effect on the kind of reception he's been getting. Big crowds of the kind politicians seek when in the middle of a real campaign don't turn out unless there is advance publicity.

Johnson was greeted by a few thousand people in Philadelphia Thursday when he went there en route to his Texas ranch, to tour some antipoverty facilities. Had there been a campaign-style buildup of advance publicity, the number might have been in the tens of thousands.

SECURITY ISSUE
But the President did not permit a public announcement of his Philadelphia trip until he was on his way. Since the flying time between Washington and the City of Brotherly Love is less than 30 minutes, it perhaps is remarkable that anyone turned out in the Negro slum area he visited.

Texas Crash Kills Two, Injures Four

PADUCAH, Tex. (AP) — Two motorists died and four others suffered injuries as a car and a pickup truck collided 12.8 miles south of here in King County Thursday night.

State police said Charles DeWayne Jones, 28, of Childress was making a sharp right turn in his pickup on an approach to a US 83 bridge when the car driven by Ralph L. Evans, 38, of Denver, Colo., veered to the wrong side of the road.

The injured are Barbara Jean Rowland, 23, of Paducah; Shandra Rowland, 4; Clois Rowland, 2, and Terry Jones, 3. Attendants said Shandra Rowland was in critical condition, while the others were in fair condition.

portedly bulked large in the White House decision to avoid advance publicity. In addition the President is known to prefer to keep his schedule very flexible. This allows him to back out on tentatively planned forays at the last minute, if he deems that wise, without being accused of changing his mind.

TUB-THUMPING OUT
But that policy raises the question of whether Johnson intends to mount an election campaign in 1968 minus the kind of advance tub-thumping that turns out big crowds.

That Johnson at this point is poised to seek re-election seems plain enough. In other appearances within the past week, in Los Angeles and Baltimore, he stopped just short of announcing his candidacy while delivering campaign-style orations.

Official announcements of the Los Angeles and Baltimore trips also were withheld almost until the last moment. When White House newsmen were told Tuesday about the Baltimore appearance, they were informed simultaneously their bus would be leaving for Baltimore in 15 minutes.

ST. LOUIS TIP
Another possible Johnson trip is in the offing for Saturday. After several days of rumors press secretary George Christian acknowledged Thursday that the President has been invited to address a one-day conference of Democratic governors in St. Louis. Christian said the bid was under consideration.

After flying here Thursday afternoon, the Johnsons attended funeral services for 83-year-old Huffman Baines, an uncle of the President who died Monday. Then they proceeded to their LBJ Ranch, some 75 miles northwest, for a July 4th holiday stay.

Spending the night with them at the ranch was their 9-day-old grandson, Patrick Lyndon Nugent, and his parents, Patrick J. and Luci Nugent.

Luci, 19, looked as svelte as ever following her confinement.

Dallas Prisoner Claims Killing

DALLAS (AP) — Investigators said a prisoner in the Dallas County jail told Thursday of killing an unidentified man and dumping the body in Lake Brownwood last December.

Brown County Sheriff Joe Townsend, who came here in the investigation, said his deputies will search the lake near Brownwood.

Townsend quoted the 22-year-old prisoner as saying the slain man gave him a ride in a pickup truck and he shot his benefactor with a pistol.

The sheriff said a watch believed to have belonged to the slain man was found Thursday in Brownwood.

Houston Drowning

HOUSTON (AP) — James Golden, 34, drowned Thursday in the San Jacinto River about 200 yards north of US 90 in Northeast Harris County. Officers said he tried to swim the river with two older brothers.

Senators Transfer Valley Labor Hearing To Edinburg

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — Three U.S. senators moved here today for the second day of hearings on problems of migratory farm workers.

Most of the testimony they heard at Rio Grande City the day before dealt with the 13-month old Starr County labor dispute. Similar recitals were expected in the Hidalgo County Courthouse today.

Sen. Harrison Williams, D-N.J., Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., listened Thursday to what union members, law enforcement officials and Lower Rio Grande Valley farm leaders had to say.

JOINS TRIO
Sen. Paul Fannin, R-Ariz., joined the other three senators as testimony began at Edinburg today. The former Arizona governor was delayed in Washington.

Kennedy asked most of the questions as principals in the dispute presented their viewpoints on proposed legislation.

Williams, chairman of the subcommittee, closed Thursday's session by saying he felt that leaders of the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee "have every right to come down here and organize."

Marvin Schwarz, president of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Shippers and Growers Association, Mike Frost, a Texas Farm Bureau official, and Marjorie Stites, wife of a Valley grower, told the senators they did not feel that proposals to include farm workers under jurisdiction of the National Labor Relations Board would improve conditions for the workers.

NOT FACTORY
They argued that such legislation would force many growers out of business.

Frost said collective bargaining for farm workers "would establish union leaders as virtual dictators over farmers" and "there is no way to make collective bargaining work in agriculture."

"A farm is not a factory and cannot be operated in a similar manner," Schwarz declared. He predicted farm workers would lose many jobs if the workers were allowed union elections and representation.

Starr County Atty. Randall Nye said he favors collective bargaining as one method of settling disputes between growers and the unions.

TRIALS BOOKED
Nye also said he would begin trials soon in 133 cases of misdemeanor charges resulting from union activities. He said he had delayed the trials until the community atmosphere was less strained.

Deputy Sheriff Raul Pena told the senators that Texas Rangers were needed to help police the area because "we have so many outsiders."

"Is the owner of La Casita Farms the outsider?" Kennedy asked, referring to one of the county's biggest growers of melons and vegetables.

La Casita has continued operations despite a strike by the union in support of demands for a $1.25 minimum hourly wage and a contract covering the workers.

"We try to enforce the law the best we can," Pena said when asked about union claims that local officers had sided with the growers.

Ky To Seek No. 2 Spot

SAIGON (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who has led South Vietnam's military government for two years, withdrew from the race for the presidency today to seek the No. 2 spot on a ticket headed by Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu.

The decision came after three days of tense meetings of the powerful Armed Forces Council during which the competition between Ky and Thieu, who both had been running for the presidency, reached a climax.

Ky has gone from being the No. 1 presidential candidate to No. 2 man on someone else's ticket, making it apparent he lost a great deal of power in the last three days.

MIDNIGHT DEADLINE
Thieu, on the other hand, has now gained the top spot. The fact that he and Ky will no longer be competing for the 600,000 votes of the armed forces makes him virtually unbeatable.

The Thieu-Ky combination also eliminates the possibility that their competition would split the military, a fear the United States has been expressing since Ky and Thieu both decided to run for president.

The Thieu-Ky ticket was expected to register by midnight tonight, the registration deadline.

CARETAKER GOVERNMENT
Reports said the Armed Forces Council had heated discussions of the Ky and Thieu candidacies. Sources said the council had decided to name a caretaker government to run South Vietnam while Ky and Thieu campaigned.

But now that the two men are on the same ticket, it was not clear if there would still be a caretaker government. The decision to run together came after the decision to form a caretaker government.

To add to the confusion, former Premier Duong Van Minh now in exile in Thailand, registered today for the Sept. 3 presidential election. Minh, a major general who ran South Vietnam for several months after the downfall of Ngo Dinh Diem in late 1963, was made ambassador at large in 1964 after other generals turned him out of office.

SECURITY REASONS
Minh's vice-presidential running mate, lawyer Tran Ngoc Lieng, a former minister of welfare under Ky, said Minh would return to South Vietnam Saturday or Sunday.

So far, all indications are that the Armed Forces Council would not permit Minh to re-enter South Vietnam. It issued a statement Thursday night saying he could not come back for security reasons.

Ky is a Buddhist from North Vietnam and Thieu is a Roman Catholic from central Vietnam in a country where religion and regional differences figure importantly in politics.

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — The second trumpeter swan of the week has been hatched at Mesker Zoo.

Frank Thompson, zoo director, said the second rare swan hatched Thursday. Another hatched Monday, shortly after its parents abandoned a marshy nest. A third baby swan was found dead.

Birth of trumpeters in captivity is rare. Only zoos at Great Bend, Kan., and Philadelphia have reported trumpeter births.

The birds are under strict government regulation for fear they may become extinct.
