Boom Looms

Tax Plans Polished

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indications grew today that the administration is putting finishing touches on its plans for a tax increase.

Government economists, armed with a late string of statistics, contended the economy is strong, buoyant and moving toward the boom they predicted last January.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler and Undersecretary Joseph M. Barr huddled late Thursday with Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee in Mills' office. And Fowler is expected to remain available this weekend for any possible high level conference on taxes.

Bad News Due In 10 Days

One source said a formal tax bill could be sent to Congress within 10 days.

President Johnson proposed a 6 per cent surtax on income taxes last January to help pay for the Vietnam war, hold down interest rates and stem inflationary pressure from the boom economists said was coming.

Johnson has not sent a formal tax message or tax legislation to Congress but at a news conference this week he reaffirmed his intention to do so. He said the 6 per cent rate he proposed in January could be adjusted—presumably upward—but no decision has been made.

6 Per Cent Increase?

It's been known, however, that alternatives ranging from 6 to 10 per cent have been submitted to the White House. But one source says he still expects the rate to be 6 per cent, at least for individuals.

Government officials are convinced the economy eventually will bear out their request for the tax hike. They said the June figures — completed Thursday by the Commerce Department and showing personal income took its biggest jump since last January—offer some proof of this.

The administration reportedly will seek an effective date for the tax increase of Sept. 1 or Oct. 1. Economists consider Jan. 1 too late.

Retail Sales Soar

To bolster their thesis of a strong and buoyant economy, government officials point to: —Retail sales, which although up only slightly, set their fourth straight monthly record during June.

—A gain in gross national product—the value of all goods and services produced in the economy—of $9 billion during the second quarter following the winter doldrums. They expect much larger increases during the third and fourth quarters.

—A slowdown in the accumulation of inventories which prompted one economist to say the adjustment is close to being over.

—A continuing, although small, increase in new housing starts during June and a 4 per cent jump in new building permits.

Sheriff To Greet Adam

NEW YORK (AP)—Deposed Congressman Adam Clayton Powell was en route to New York today to begin an attempt to appeal a criminal contempt of court citation against him.

It was learned that Powell, due to arrive at Kennedy Airport at 11:32 a.m., will be met at the airport by the New York County sheriff, who will place him under technical arrest. A Powell confidant said Powell would not be detained.

The arrangement was worked out with the courts by Robert L. Carter, chief legal counsel of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and Henry Williams, Powell's Harlem lawyer.

The lawyers will go into State Supreme Court today and seek an application for a stay of court order requiring his arrest. They also seek an order to appeal the contempt citation.

Pentagon Still Seeks Floating 'Warehouses'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some people called them "fiddles." The maritime industry called them "floating Edsels." Finally Congress called the whole thing off.

But the Pentagon served notice Thursday it will fight to restore its programs to build a fleet of fast deployment logistics ships — FDLs — to achieve a jump in rapid military reaction capabilities.

FDLs are swift, massive ships which under designs drawn earlier this year would roam the high seas crammed with 10,000 tons of military supplies, including tanks and trucks, ready to rush to any potential trouble spot.

CHANGE OF HEART

On foreign shores the supplies would be unified with Army troops airlifted to the scene by the Air Force's new CSA supersonic transports.

The Pentagon envisioned 30 of the 848-foot, 40,000-ton floating armories to work jointly with a fleet of more than 50 CSAs. Last year Congress authorized $67 million to build the first two, and the Pentagon came back with a fiscal 1968 request for $233 million more for the next five.

But with an unexpected change of heart that stunned the Pentagon, the Senate Armed Services' defense subcommittee in March turned thumbs down on the program — and recommended pulling back the $67 million, which hadn't been spent.

FIRM SELECTED

"A serious prop-em," declared Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. He reportedly rushed by limousine to the Capitol immediately after the Senate panel's rejection for a discussion with Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.

McNamara failed to change many — if any — minds, but the Navy and the Pentagon continued despite congressional reaction with an evaluation of design and construction proposals from three companies.

Thursday McNamara, in an unusual announcement, said Litton Systems Inc. of Culver City, Calif., had been picked to receive the multimillion dollar FDL construction contract — if Congress could be persuaded to change its mind next year. The specific cost would be negotiated with Litton; in case the company's price were too high, the project would be up for open bidding.

MAJOR COMPLAINTS

Observers viewed McNamara's move as official pronouncement that the Pentagon isn't quitting on its seaborne warehouse program.

The Pentagon faces two major complaints in defending FDLs.

Russell has charged that having speedy, arms-laden ships merely will allow the United States to get involved faster in more foreign disputes.

The maritime industry has opposed the FDL program on grounds private shipping would suffer economically.

To Russell's criticism, McNamara says the rapid response of FDLs will help deter small wars. And when they occur, he said, FDLs would help stop them quickly with fewer casualties, by enabling the United States to get superior forces on the scene more rapidly than now is possible.

Furthermore, he says, FDLs won't compete with private companies in point-to-point shipping — and the Pentagon is willing to accept a legal prohibition to that effect.

PERCY TAKES WRONG DOOR

SHERBORNE, England (AP) — Percy, the racing pigeon, left by the wrong door when the inmates of his loft were released for their daily flight and flew into the jaws of a terrier.

Minus a feather or two, he made a quick getaway into another home Thursday, where the housewife was doing the family wash. She screamed, and Percy nosed into the washing machine.

Round and round went Percy and the wash. But the bird managed to keep his head above water.

He was retrieved, halder, cleaner and mostly unharmed to dry out in the sun.

380 Commie Soldiers Die In Savage Battles

U.S. Carrier Pilots Blast Three MIGs

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese and South Korean troops reported killing 380 Communist soldiers in two savage battles Friday while, over North Vietnam, American carrier pilots blasted three MIGs from the sky and probably downed a fourth.

The aerial action was the first significant dogfight over the North in six weeks.

South Vietnamese headquarters said an elite airborne battalion killed 240 enemy soldiers in northernmost Quang Tri Province along the coastal plain in a fight with what was evidently a Communist battalion of about 500 men. The Communists were reported to have abandoned 89 weapons on the field.

LOSSES LIGHT

About 100 miles to the south in coastal Binh Dinh Province, troopers of South Korea's White Horse Division overran jungle headquarters of the Viet Cong's 95th Regiment and reported killing 140 guerrillas. They captured 70 weapons.

The Koreans were still in pursuit of scattered guerrilla forces at last report. They said their losses were light.

The South Vietnamese did not announce their casualties.

Heavy Communist weapons losses in both fights indicated clear-cut victories for the allies.

U.S. Command announced two American coastal amphibious assaults to seek out Communist units which have avoided battle for 11 days. The landings were in the Mekong delta and just below the demilitarized zone.

Two American Crusader jets were shot up in the air battle 20 miles north of Haiphong but made it safely back to the carrier Bon Homme Richard in the Tonkin Gulf 130 miles off the North Vietnamese coast.

AIR BATTLE

It was the first big air battle since the North Vietnamese virtually grounded their air force six weeks ago after losing five jets within three days. Eight MIGs came out last Wednesday but fled when fired on by Air Force pilots.

The Navy Crusader pilots were flying cover ahead of other jets coming in to attack a fuel dump when about eight MIGs "popped up out of the clouds."

For the next seven minutes the opposing fliers—each group numbered about eight planes—criss-crossed the skies with rockets and cannon fire.

The American pilots reported that they saw three of the MIG pilots eject from stricken planes. They believed a fourth pilot also ejected but this claim remained a "probable" pending evaluation of gun films aboard the Bon Homme Richard.

The MIGs were felled by heat-seeking Sidewinder missiles and 20mm cannon fire from the Crusaders. Two of the Crusaders flew back to the carrier with gaping holes evidently caused by the MIGs' 20mm cannon, but none of the American pilots was hit.

The Navy fliers credited with kills were Cmdr. Marion "Red" Isaacks of Redding and San Diego, Calif., Lt. Cmdr. Robert Kirkwood, Fall River, Mass., and Lt. Cmdr. Ray Hubbard Jr. of Poway, Calif. Lt. (J.G.) Philip W. Dempewolf of Bellevue, Iowa, was credited with a probable.

KILL CREDIT

It was the first such credit for all the pilots except Hubbard who now has one confirmed kill and two MIGs damaged.

Despite the battle overhead, other Skyhawk pilots from the Bon Homme Richard pressed ahead with their raid on the fuel dump at Ta Xa. There was no immediate assessment of damage nor any announcement of planes downed.

In the ground war, the U.S. Command announced that an American Marine battalion of about 1,000 men went ashore from assault boats about 20 miles below the 17th Parallel between North and South Vietnam, while a similar U.S. Army force was landed in the Mekong Delta paddyfields of Long An Province about 20 miles south-east of Saigon.

Police Clear Street

Helmeted Minneapolis police, armed with shotguns, pass blazing grocery store on Plymouth Ave. in north Minneapolis late Thursday night as they begin to clear crowd of unruly Negro youths in a second night of violence in this predominantly Negro area.

Fire bombs were thrown and minor looting was reported. The police marched shoulder-to-shoulder down a three-block-long section to clear path for firefighters and halt looting. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Arabs Resist Red Pressure

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union was reported trying to persuade Arab nations today to accept a U.S.-supported compromise linking the withdrawal of Israeli occupation forces with the end of the Arabs' 19-year-old state of war against Israel. But the Arabs, led by Syria and Algeria, were reported adamantly resisting the Soviet pressure.

The 122-nation General Assembly, seeking agreement on a resolution before it ends its five-week emergency session on the Middle East crisis, was to meet this afternoon. Some diplomats expected another quick adjournment until Saturday or Monday to give the compromise efforts more time.

DRAFT CHANGE

East European sources said the Russians were attempting to reach a compromise on the basis of a modification of the Latin-American resolution they rejected earlier. It called for Israel to pull its troops out of Egypt, Jordan and Syria if the Arabs ended their state of belligerency, and informed sources said the revised draft preserved the principle of reciprocity.

Despite the reported Soviet reversal and the Arabs' dependence on the Russians to make up their losses in the June 5-10 war, diplomats said Algeria and Syria were holding out for an assembly demand for unconditional withdrawal of Israeli forces. This along with the Latin-American resolution failed on July 4, to muster the two-thirds majority necessary for approval.

COINCIDENCE?

Two fires destroyed lumber storage sheds at firms some distance from Plymouth Avenue. Efforts in the Plymouth area were delayed about 45 minutes when a report came in that a Bennett Lumber Co. warehouse was aflame.

District Fire Chief Robert Hannon said he could not say whether the Bennett fire was started to divert attention from the Plymouth area.

"It's a helluva coincidence, I'd say that," Hannon said. The third large fire destroyed a grocery store on Plymouth Avenue.

FOUR FIRES

Firemen answered four calls in 37 minutes to fight fires in supermarkets, garages and cafes near Plymouth.

The director of a North Side youth center asked area residents to meet at City Hall Monday

Fire Bombing, Looting Flares In Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Firemen fought more than 30 fires as fire bombing, window smashing and looting broke out again in a Negro section of Minneapolis early today. Two Negroes were wounded.

It was the second straight night of disturbances in the Plymouth Avenue area, two miles from downtown. Police said more than 25 persons, mostly Negroes, were arrested.

More than 300 firemen and the city's entire complement of fire-fighting apparatus were used at three major fires and 30 smaller ones.

Pickets Halt Steel Plant

CHESTERTON, Ind. (AP) — The dispute centered around job advancement in a roll mill of the sprawling Bethlehem Steel Corp. plant near here erupted into a work stoppage today.

Officials of Local 6787 of the United Steel Workers refused to comment, but union members told newsmen the stoppage resulted from complaints in the 8-inch roll mill about job advancement.

The workers said men with seniority were being sidestepped by new men. The company issued a terse statement and would not venture beyond the statement.

It said in part that "the work stoppage was in violation of a no-strike provision of the agreement" between the company and the union.

The pickets paced outside the plant entrances. Union construction workers honored the line.

AMPLE TIME FOR BRIDE

Presidential Secretary's Hubby Lands $26,000 Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—Young Simon Francis McHugh, who was a presidential secretary and landed a $26,000 seat on the Subversive Activities Control Board, could have ample time for lingering lunches with his bride.

For the five-man board-born 17 years ago during this country's anti-Communist upheaval—today has virtually nothing to do.

McHugh, 29, came on the job — what there is of it—Monday, 11 months after his marriage to Victoria McCammon, then one of President Johnson's favorite secretaries. He previously had been a $17,500 civil servant in the Small Business Administration.

PLUSH POSITION

Thursday, McHugh landed on the front page of the Wall Street Journal in a story that said rather flatly McHugh had been appointed to the plush job because of the marriage—and with the help of some greased skids through the Senate confirmation.

McHugh was unavailable for comment about the story. The White House press secretary, George Christian, called it a hatchet job and commented that "certainly the President's knowledge of an appointee is an important factor."

SOLO SIMMERS

The incident provoked one member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, Sen. Gordon L. Allott, R-Colo., to label the McHugh appointment "an outrage and a disgrace." As a taxpayer, Allott said, he was burned up.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the confirmation to the five-year term was handled routinely, with no pressure from the White House to speed or assure success.

TEAPOT TEMPEST

But teapot tempest or not, the McHugh story focused attention on a board that has become something of an anachronism and has borne out former President Harry S. Truman's prophecy that the Communist registration law would be unenforceable.

The board was supposed to name Communists and their organizations. These were expected then to register as such with the attorney general.

It named quite a few—4 individuals, two dozen fronts, one "action" group—the party itself—and one "infiltrated" group.

But nobody ever has registered. And the courts have pulled virtually all the teeth from the McCarran Act, which created the board.

ISNT BACKBREAKING

Today, there's only one case pending—and even that is stalled in the courts at least until autumn.

But the five men continue to hold offices that pay them a total of $130,000 a year. The board, with an authorized strength of 17 persons and an annual budget just under $300,000, sits two blocks from the White House.

John S. Patterson, an Illinois Republican who joined the board last September, acknowledged that the board's work pace isn't backbreaking.

"This is a deterrent type of job," he told a newsmen. "It's a fire department-type operation, and we're waiting for a fire to break out."

Calf Tour Set Saturday

Rains have not altered plans for the annual 4-H Club calf tour set for Saturday. Paul Gross, county farm agent, said today.

"In fact," he said, "the rains may provide cooler weather and more pleasant travelling conditions. They may help us get out the big crowd we would like to have on this trip."

The tour sets out at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow from the courthouse, and will return at 4 p.m.

Purpose of the tour is to give the young club members, who are feeding calves for competition in stock shows this fall and spring to show off their animals.

There are 30 steers being fed by the 10 boys and girls who are entered in the steer program.

Gross said that the schedule calls for three stops on the morning round and the remainder Saturday afternoon.

The tour will be interrupted at noon for a luncheon to be served at the City Park. All of those who make the trip are invited to have lunch.

The first stop of the tour is set for 10 a.m. Saturday at the home of Robert O'Daniel. At 10:30 a.m. the animals being fed by Marty and Iva Jo Brooks will be visited.

Robert Haney's animals are next on the agenda and after the visit there, the tour makes its way to the park for the luncheon.

Starting out on the afternoon leg of the trip, the tourists call on Linda and Steve Foster at 1:30 p.m. At 2 p.m., the visitors will be in Vincent at the home of Mark and Maxwell Barr.

Dolores Lankford's steers will be seen at her father's ranch on the Howard-Borden County line at 2:45 p.m.

Final stop will be at Mike McClain's and after the visit there, the tour comes back to Big Spring.

On these tours the custom is for each of the hosts to join on the trip as soon as the visitors have had an opportunity to see their animals.

WTCC Against Importing Egyptian Type Cotton

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has taken a firm stand against the importation of Egyptian type cotton to the United States. George Hall, Abilene, member of the board of directors of the WTCC, appeared at the hearing of the House Agriculture Committee in Washington and presented the regional chamber's position.

Hall pointed out to the House committee that the U.S. has been purchasing over 50 per cent of its extra-long staple cotton from Egypt, which recently broke diplomatic relations with the U.S. He stated, "It seems absurd to continue spending good currency for commodities we can produce in this country."

Extra long - staple cotton is grown in West Texas, but acreage is restricted severely, according to Hall. This area could produce much more of the desired cotton if restrictions were removed and importations from Egypt eliminated.

The five reasons for recommendation of the elimination of quotas for Egyptian cotton were:

It will help agricultural economy in this country; will not hurt or compete with upland cotton; will improve our balance of payment problem; will encourage a better seed-breeding and quality improvement in extra-long staple cotton; there is no more logic for importing over 50 per cent of extra-long staple cotton than there is for other agricultural commodities.

Aero Club Has 18 Signed Up

STANTON (SC) — The Stanton Aero Club, Inc. has signed 18 persons for flight training, according to Jake Hodges, secretary-treasurer elect. After some of these make solo flights the membership drive will open for membership. The club has purchased a two-place Cessna 150 plane for use in training. Election of officers was held at the Peter's Airfield, one mile northwest of Stanton. Richard Lewis was elected president; George Glyn, vice president; Jake Hodges, secretary-treasurer; Benny Welch, reservation officer; and Floyd McArthur, temporary maintenance officer.

City Slickers Rate Second With 'Queens'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — There may be more virtue to living down on the farm than meets the city-dweller's eye.

Girls seem to think so, anyway.

Some of the 10 finalists in the Texas Future Farmers of America (FFA) Sweetheart contest had this to say about farm boys:

—They make better dates than city slickers.

—They have higher moral values.

—They're more responsible.

—They're not ashamed to talk about God and nature's simple beauty.

NOT 'HICKS'

The new sweetheart was to be named today in the closing session of the state FFA's 29th annual convention. New state officers also were to be named, as well as the winner of the public-speaking contest.

"Boys in the FFA are decent," said one finalist. "I used to think they were just hicks until I began to see how worthwhile their lives are."

"Perhaps some of the boys' attitudes have something to do with how the girls feel."

RUSH REJECTED

"I want to live out in the country where you can be alone and nobody rushes you," said FFA delegate George Shirley of Wilmer-Hutchins.

Wayne Foster of Arlington, asked if he planned to live in a city, replied: "Not if I can help it."

More than 4,500 high school FFA boys from all over Texas attended the three-day convention in the Dallas Memorial Auditorium.

Thursday, national FFA President Gary Swan of Jaspers, N.Y., told the delegates that agriculture was the "strength of America."

HARSH WORDS

"I cannot believe we will ever satisfy ourselves with working in mass production, making only a part of something when we have never seen a whole," Swan said.

Coahoman At Training School

Reuben C. McCowen, a Coahoma fireman, has been attending the 28th annual Texas Firemen's Training School at Texas A&M University this week.

He was among 2,200 firemen that are participating in the six-day training school, representing 565 cities and 29 states and several foreign countries. Included are men who work in fire prevention and control for municipalities, industries and armed services.

Henry D. Smith, chief of the training school, said that the greatest benefit that could be gained from the school was the reduction in fire losses through more efficient methods of fire fighting learned during the training.

The school began Sunday and will end today.

Dear Abby Just Tell Him Off

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I decided after many years to refurnish our home. I am now in the midst of it and am quite pleased with the results so far, but I've encountered a problem.

My decorator makes uncalled for advances toward me when he comes to my home and also at his shop when no one is around. He is a very unattractive, middle-aged family man.

I prefer not to change decorators at this point, but I am getting tired of ducking and dodging and avoiding his pinches and pats. Please don't advise me to put him in his place as it won't work. And don't suggest I report him to his boss, as he owns the studio.

VALLEY CLIENT

DEAR CLIENT: For you to go on ducking, dodging, and using fancy footwork to escape the clutches of this self-styled Casanova-type merchant is ludicrous. Stop playing games and tell him to keep his mind on his business or you will take your business elsewhere. I guarantee you from that time on you won't have any trouble with him.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter (I'll call her Nellie) is 24 and plans to marry a "handyman." He makes his living from jobs provided by relatives—stacking grocery shelves, running errands, etc.

TRINITY RIVER BRIDGES AXED

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee Thursday refused to provide federal funds to finance building high-level bridges over the Trinity River in Texas.

The committee deleted $1,790,000 from a public works appropriations bill which had been budgeted for helping Texas build five high bridges over the river.

It approved $1,035,000 for other phases of bridge work. High-level bridges would be needed if a navigational channel is built on the Trinity.

The committee approved $167,000 in design funds for high bridges in connection with Texas 105, Texas 31 and Interstate 635 but disallowed $1,746,000 asked to start building the three bridges.

The committee also disallowed $44,000 sought for the design work on the Interstate 45 bridge noting that the contract award is not scheduled until August, 1968.

It approved $68,000 to continue construction of the U.S. 190 bridge over the Livingston Reservoir.

Death Accidental

LINDALE, Tex. (AP)—A gun carried by a companion accidentally discharged Thursday, killing Ricky Ponder, 13, of Lindale. Justice of the Peace Jack Johnson of Lindale ruled the death accidental.

He is pouty, sullen, discourteous, and egotistical. He attended college but flunked out.

Nellie is the private secretary to an executive and draws a good salary. She has over $6,000 saved, is intelligent, nice looking, and well-liked. She could have her pick of many nice young men, but what she sees in this dud we will never know.

Our pastor tried to talk some sense into her head, but he got nowhere. She says she "loves" him. How can we keep her from making the biggest mistake in her life by going through with this marriage?

WORRIED PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: You can't. So don't try. "Love" with some people is a mental illness which doesn't respond to logic. If this is a "mistake" she will have to make it and learn the hard way. Let's hope her "handyman," with Nellie's help, turns out better than you think he will.

DEAR ABBY: We have recently become friendly with a couple who are strict vegetarians. They are very quiet about it, and don't try to talk other people into it, which we respect and admire.

When we entertain at home and include our vegetarian friends, we always have plenty of vegetables and fruits along with meat and fish for those who are not vegetarians. We've never made an issue of it, but this is the way our vegetarian friends seem more comfortable.

Well, we came in for a great deal of criticism from a CLERGYMAN, mind you. He said when vegetarians are guests, the host should serve NO meat or fish as vegetarians would be offended at the sight of others eating it. Are we wrong?

WILLING TO LEARN

DEAR WILLING: After checking this out with the authorities (some of my best friends are vegetarians) they unanimously agree that they PREFER their hosts to serve normally, and let each guest select what he wishes.

Sputnik Magazine Hardly Ball Of Fire In America

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Sputnik, not the satellite but the Soviet English-language magazine that is supposed to give Reader's Digest a run around the world, is hardly a ball of fire in the United States after seven months.

Its American distributor says he is satisfied that the magazine is now available in almost every state, "wherever they want it," and that college towns seem to be receiving it with more than common interest.

NOT CATCHING ON
He concedes, however, that "it's not catching on like wildfire," and he comments that at the present time, "we'd like to see if we can consolidate our circulation."

The handsome, Digest-size, multicolored, 50-cent, 248-page July edition, for example, will have a U.S. distribution of less than 25,000 copies. The Reader's Digest sells 17.2 million copies domestically.

But Sputnik, launched last January as a condensation of the best in Soviet newspapers and magazines, was never meant to give that kind of competition in the United States. Abroad it might be a different matter, for Sputnik lists 60 countries in which it is distributed.

25,000 COPIES
Nevertheless, it will have to travel like the satellite it was named after to catch up with the Digest's foreign circulation of 10.7 million copies in several languages. Sputnik originally was printed in English, Russian and Japanese, but more languages will be added.

In the United States, Eastern News Distribution, Inc., which supplies newsstands across the nation, reports that of the 25,000 copies now distributed some are:

returned by dealers, "but the Reader's Digest has some returns too."

"We're not doing much promotion," a spokesman said, "and you really can't launch a magazine until you promote it. In the past we did some, but now we want to see how the results hold up."

GOAL IN SIGHT
The editors reportedly hoped for a circulation of 50,000 in the United States, a small goal that still seems within sight. Many times more Americans, however, have seen Sputnik satellites in the skies than Sputnik

Texas Storms Slacking Off

By The Associated Press

Texas weather calmed today. It also turned warmer. Violent thunderstorms slacked off after raging through several sections of the state the past few nights. There were still occasional showers, however, in parts of North Central Texas and near the coast.

A pleasant spell of unusual July coolness in northern areas of Texas appeared at end. Overnight readings stayed up again, and thinning clouds were expected to let the mercury climb during the day.

Sample temperatures near dawn ranged from 64 degrees at Dalhart in the Panhandle up to 79 at Brownsville on the southern tip of the state.

Top marks Thursday failed to reach 100—a rare circumstance for this time of year. Laredo was the warmest spot with a high of 96 degrees and Alpine the coolest with a maximum of 74.

magazines on the newsstands. Its sales generally are restricted to downtown stores rather than corner newsstands or suburban variety stores.

As for doing business with the Russians, the distributor says, "It's easy to deal with them." The contract is based on the number of magazines distributed and, he says, he isn't losing money.

FINNISH ADS
"We're in business. We couldn't stay in this and take a loss. We're compensated for our services."

For the publisher, Novosti Press Agency, it may be a different matter. Even the barest expenses could not be met on the $12,000 or so return from present circulation. Just a few years ago one American magazine, the old Coronet, went broke with a circulation of three million and lots more ads.

The current issue of Sputnik has only eight full-page advertisements, four from Finnish companies—the magazine is printed there—and four from Soviet industries: lumber, cameras, fur coats and textiles.

Rio Solon To Resign

AUSTIN (AP) — State Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville, a member of the legislature since 1953, will resign his seat to take the job of executive director of the state Judicial Qualifications Commission.

Chairman Spurgeon E. Bell of Houston announced Pipkin's appointment Thursday, and said he would assume his duties as head of the commission Sept. 1.

Pipkin, 59, is vice chairman of the House Appropriations Committee. He was educated at Texas A&I and the University of Texas. After a career as a teacher, football coach, Brownsville High School principal and dean of Texas Southmost College, he was admitted to the bar in 1957 and took up private law practice. He has served in the House since 1953.

The commission was created by the voters in 1965. It administers a program of compulsory retirement of district and appellate judges at age 75. The commission also is authorized to recommend to the state Supreme Court involuntary retirement for misconduct or permanent disability.

Medicare Pays $130 Million

During its first year the new federal medicare program paid out more than $130,000,000 for the care of people age 65 and over in Texas, according to Wayman Register, Social Security regional assistant commissioner in Dallas. About $100,000,000 of this amount was paid to the 548 hospitals which participate and the remainder was mostly for doctors' services.

Register said that there are 895,500 people over 65 in the state who are eligible for the hospital insurance and this group produced 300,000 hospital admissions.

While there was an increase in hospital use by older people, Register said that the increase has been within "reasonable limits," noting that overall, the program has increased total hospital occupancy rates by no more than 5 per cent, he said.

Stock Exchange To Stay In NY?

NEW YORK (AP) — City officials and representatives of the New York Stock Exchange have reached a tentative agreement to keep the exchange in the city while reducing the impact of the stock transfer tax, the New York Times said today.

When the controversial tax was increased last year the exchange canceled its option on a new site in Lower Manhattan and threatened to move to New Jersey.

The tentative proposal would require state and city approval of two contemplated changes in the tax and formal agreement from the exchange's board of governors.

The pact would halve the tax over a five-year period for persons living outside the city and action by individuals or institutions wherever they are, the Times said.

Brave Muscovites Hike Hems A Bit

MOSCOW (AP) — It's the greatest East-West confrontation since Glassboro: miniskirts vs. Muscovites.

And the Russians are taking the hard line. One old woman in Gorky Park took a switch to an American girl and lashed the backs of her bare knees.

Around the Intourist hotels, the foreign currency shops and the International Film Festival, Russians ogle the most scantily most gaudily clad girls ever seen off the stage of the Bolshoi Ballet.

Miss Texas Contest Set

The state finals to select Texas' entry in the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City Sept. 9, will be held in Fort Worth at Will Rogers Auditorium, July 26-29.

Sharon Kay Ritchie, Miss America of 1956, is television hostess. Betty Lynn Buckley, Miss Fort Worth 1966 and runner-up to Miss Texas 1966, and Susan Kay Logan, the reigning Miss Texas, will appear as special guests. Theme of this show is "Texas, Our Texas" with 63 contestants, winners of local beauty and talent contests throughout Texas, who will be presented in elaborate musical productions.

A total of $3,500 will be distributed in scholarships to the contestants. Miss Texas wins $1,000; the first runner-up wins $500; and other scholarships are given to the next three runners-up, the five semi-finalists and Miss Congeniality.

In addition to the cash scholarship, Miss Texas wins a Toni fashion award, the use of an automobile during her reign, a complete year-round wardrobe, luggage, a jewelry case and a complete course in modeling and charm. The Miss Texas Pageant, Inc., a non-profit civic organization, sponsors the state finals competition. Texas is one of 20 state contests selecting a Miss America entry.

The most coveted prize for Miss Texas is the opportunity to compete in the Miss America Pageant with a $10,000 scholarship. During her year's reign Miss America usually earns over $75,000. KTVT will originate the live, full-color coverage of the Miss Texas Pageant for the 20-station Miss Texas Network on Saturday, July 29.

Big Bell Mystery

TURKEY, N.C. (AP) — A 400-pound bell hoisted to the top of the new Wilson Chapel Church in this tiny rural community last week is missing.

A crane was used to put the 70-year-old bell in place in the 35-foot-high steeple. How it was removed is a mystery.

Duplin County Deputy George Merritt says residents have posted an $50 reward for return of the bell.

British, American, Scandinavian and German tourists.

All winter Moscow heard rumors of just how mini the miniskirt had become in the fabled, distant West. A few brave Russians raised hems a scandalous inch above the knee.

But by spring the average dress still amply covered the usually ample Russian kneecap.

Now they're seeing the real thing—6 to 10 inches above the knee. And the psychedelic colors seem as surprising as the brevity in the drab Moscow setting.

One girl at a film festival party wore a crocheted, see-through "dress" of bathing-suit proportions over a body-stocking. Even the movie stars, not to mention people from the comparatively sophisticated Soviet cultural scene, were shocked.

TUG-OF-WAR

Less sophisticated, less worldly Muscovites are not taking this invasion calmly.

The babushka—the word means grandmother but applies to any little old Russian woman—in Gorky Park was not alone.

An Australian girl and another babushka were seen in a tug-of-war all the way across a broad, busy street. The old woman was trying to pull the girl's hem down to her knees and the girl was frantically trying to escape.

Will the secretive Russians, who rejected Western "open skies" and disarmament inspection plans, yield to inspection of the upper legs?

Some of the younger tourists from such Communist countries as Poland and Czechoslovakia are wearing minis. Russian girls are envious—and experimenting.

Youth Feted At FFA Meet

A number of Big Spring area youths have been honored this week at the 39th Annual Texas FFA Convention in Dallas.

The list includes: Marlon Snell, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Snell, Ackerly, Area II Star Lone Star Farmer; Randall Ralph Drennan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Drennan, Welch, winner, Tenneco Chemicals scholarship; Arlie Eicke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seaborn Eicke, Snyder, Area II's Star Greenhand; Louis L. Birdwell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Birdwell Sr., O'Donnell, nominee for Star American farmer; Neil McMorries, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil McMorries, Tarzan, state winner of FFA Proficiency in Crop Farming; Buddy Shanks, Stanton, was a public speaking contestant.

Jacque Lynn Alexander, Lamesa, 18-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jack W. Alexander, was the 1966 Lamesa FFA Sweetheart. She was then chosen Sweetheart of the Mesa District and of Area II.

Drennan's Tenneco scholarship is for $500 to be used in the study of agriculture.

Dblc. Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Seven of ♣
West doubled South into a game contract, and his opponent emerged from the deal unscathed when West found himself subjected to a series of end plays.

The double of South's two spade overcall meets with our approval, since West can expect to take book in his own hand, and partner may be counted on for a trick or two by virtue of his response at the two level. East, however, does not have sound defensive values and should refuse to stand for the double. Since his response was distributional in nature, discretion recommends a retreat to three clubs.

West opened the seven of clubs against two spades doubled, and East played the jack, which forced out declarer's ace. South led the eight of diamonds, and West put up the ace. East began an echo by following to the trick with the nine, and West got out with a diamond.

South was in again with the jack, and, in order to further restrict his opponent's escape channels, he led back the jack of spades. West put up the queen and found the return anything but pleasant. A spade lead would cost him a trump trick and a diamond play would provide the declarer with two sluffs. West, therefore, cashed the ace of hearts and continued with the eight.

South was in with the king of hearts, and he led back the nine of spades. West played the ten and exited with the deuce of hearts which was his only remaining safe exit.

The ace and another spade now applied the finishing touch. West was down to nothing but diamonds, and, after winning the king of spades, he was obliged to put South in the dummy with the king of diamonds, and the latter was able to discard the ten of clubs.

In all, declarer lost three spades, one heart, and one diamond. West could not have defeated the contract by ducking the first diamond lead and saving his ace to kill declarer's jack. South will subject his opponent to the same series of end plays and eventually force West to lead away from the ace of hearts.

A Devotional For The Day

(Abraham) looked forward to the city which has foundations, whose builder and maker is God. (Hebrews 11:10, RSV)
PRAYER: Grant us this day, eternal Father a clear vision that we may see those things which are of Thee. Give us firm faith and strength that the work of our hands and the investment of our lives may abide in Thy praise. In Jesus' name. Amen.
 (From the 'Upper Room')

Loans Require Supervision

The bright hopes held by President Kennedy for the Alliance for Progress program in Latin America have now dimmed. They have come a cropper on the unwillingness of Latin American governments to accept supervision of their projects.
 Latin American leaders apparently thought that the $1 billion a year economic development program would bring funds into their countries to be spent as they pleased. They have been irked when they discovered otherwise.
 Otto Aresomena Gomez, president of Ecuador, seemed to express the general disenchantment when he said: "A system of loans... has been established under conditions which with truth and frankness I must describe as unacceptable. We cannot tolerate that the development of Latin America should be pursued on the basis of a system that would establish demands beyond our possibilities and implemented through exasperating procedures."

 The trouble with Aresomena and others is that they do not understand the appropriation process in the American Congress. Every member must weigh the effect of appropriating money for his district as against appropriating it for a foreign country. The result of mismanagement and waste in some foreign aid programs has been to make congressmen wary. Now they demand certain criteria for projects and require local governments to contribute to them so that both responsibility in spending and involvement in the plans can be assured.
 The days of Uncle Sam as Santa Claus are not quite over. But it is to be hoped those days are numbered.

Key To Reaching The Goal

Trustees of the United Fund have approved a budget of $116,000 for the 1967 campaign. This is about 10 per cent above the final amount raised in last year's effort.
 It is considerably less than the 15 agencies had asked from UF to finance their operations of service and of healing and welfare. The budget committee faced a formidable task in trying to come to some equitable division. It is not a question of cutting out fat but of trying to apply a realistic figure over the most urgent needs.
 The new budget certainly presents a formidable challenge.
 It is not an impossible one.
 Latest estimates indicate that Big Spring and Howard County last year had net earnings, after personal income taxes, of nearly $90,000,000. If this is correct, then the United Fund is asking only .13 of one per cent of that amount. Consider that one per cent of income is suggested for executives and major donors to the UF, then this factor is modest for most anyone.

 A good start was made last year toward broadening the base of support for the United Fund. We earnestly hope this can be extended this year, and that more people can be induced to accept a fair share. This is the key to reaching the budget this year—and in any year.

Marquis Childs The Need For Urban Development

WASHINGTON — A Band-Aid on a cancer. In the rare moments when he allows himself the luxury of despair, that is how Vice President Hubert Humphrey describes the administration's urban development program.
 As one city after another—Newark, Buffalo, Tampa—blow up in riots, a sense of helplessness prevails. No one can predict where it will break out next. But almost every city in the country is vulnerable as the discontents fester in the hard core of the Negro ghettos among the jobless, the reckless, the criminal, the drug addicts, the isolated and the deeply affected who feel they have nothing to lose by pulling down the whole structure of law and order.
 AT THE SAME TIME, the white middle class is more and more antagonized, resistant to any change. With economy as a corollary of a tax increase, together with the rising cost of the Vietnam war, the money for city programs gets pared down. Humphrey's is almost the only voice still raised to say that only a massive dramatic program capturing the imagination of the public can begin to cure the sickness of the cities.

 The vice president has spent a lot of time seeing at first hand the slums that spawn revolt. Recently he became concerned over the fate of Lawndale, a community in Chicago of about 18,000 families. It was once fairly well balanced between blacks and whites, with a sense of community identity making for coherence and stability. Some 30 business firms, large and small, were part of the community.
 TODAY LAWDALE is almost entirely black. The white families have moved to the suburbs. Along with the whites have gone most of the business firms. The three or four remaining, including Sears and Roebuck, by far the biggest, would like to stay. But the steady deterioration of the environment must be checked if they are to continue to operate.
 The other day executives of the firms that have stayed came to put a plan before Humphrey. At present Lawndale has one high school, one park and no hospital, although a hospital is under construction. Their plan calls for a related system of parks and recreation areas to give the community green and open spaces that would relieve the drab monotony of rundown streets. New and modern schools would be built. Shopping malls would replace dreary store fronts.
 IT IS AN exciting and imaginative plan. There was just one big catch: The public cost, leaving out the private investment the firms remaining in Lawndale would put into new plants and offices, is $240 million.
 That is more than half again the $150 million the House of Representatives has appropriated for supplemental grants under the Model Cities program.
 THE PRESIDENT asked for $400 million for the current fiscal year, plus $75 million for urban renewal. The Senate may go higher, and the conference committee may in the end come closer to the amount the White House wants, but it will still be only a drop in the vast bucket of need.
 There are 50 — a hundred — Lawndales in the country. Each one is in effect a prison completely isolated from the white communities around it. Each one could absorb the total sum likely to come out of Congress for making over the cities.
 PLANS THERE ARE aplenty. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy has put forward a suggestion for rehabilitating 400,000 slum units and bringing new industry into the ghetto. Sen. Charles Percy has a plan to draw private business into low-cost housing, with a variety of government incentives, to make over the slums.
 But plans are of little value if the Congress will not appropriate the money and if local communities are not aware of the desperate need for action.

Billy Graham

What I would like to know is: who created evil? This has bothered me for a long time. If God created it, then why does he hold man responsible for sinning? Please answer. P.L.
 God elected to make men free. In the midst of the garden He put the tree of good and evil (not likely an apple tree), and told man he was free to eat, but that the consequences of choosing evil instead of good would be tragic. The presence of evil is evidence of God's sovereignty, and His reaction to man's wrong choices. If God condoned evil, if He winked at sin, and if there was no punishment for it, then the uniqueness of man's free spirit would not exist. Hell is an extension of man's rebellion and his alienation from God.
 Freedom of choice carries with it a fearful responsibility. Every day we see people suffering for thoughtless and irresponsible choices. God doesn't make them sin, He simply has given them the power to go against the grain of the universe, if they so choose. But this doesn't mean that God is pleased by these evil choices. On the other hand, they are repugnant to Him, because they cause man to drift from his true goals and destiny. Anything that mars His crowning creation, man, causes God to grieve.
 The Bible says, "It is not his will that any should perish," but He can't keep man from doing wrong, nor can He remove the suffering that comes through wrong doing — for He has made man a responsible person... however He provided a wonderful remedy. The Cross of Christ! Man can now be forgiven.

James Marlow No Cure For Presidential Bug

WASHINGTON (AP)—There's no telling where the presidential bug will bite but once it bites deeply there is practically no cure.
 Richard M. Nixon, the former vice president who once ruled himself out of politics, is thinking of trying for the presidency in 1968.

more than once. So was Rockefeller.
 IN ITS August issue Esquire describes Stassen, now a Philadelphia lawyer, as a heavy-built, lumbering man who keeps giving politicians of both parties, including President Johnson, his ideas in endless letters and is deeply grateful for any recognition, even from a stranger on the street.

Hal Boyle Things Men Like About Gals

NEW YORK (AP) — "Dear Pavement Plato:
 "Everybody has been knocking women lately, as if to be one were almost against the law.
 "All we hear every day is how bad we are. We are accused of pampering ourselves, heckling our husbands, and spoiling our children.
 "Surely we aren't altogether bad. We must have some nice qualities. Why doesn't someone tell us what they like about us for a change? That might even inspire us to try to be better.
 Modern Eve"

A baseball they can give a man a vast feeling of superiority.
 IT IS amazing how many things they can keep cooking on a kitchen stove and still manage to get them all done at the same time.
 When you take one of them to a restaurant, she can give you sound advice on whether it is better to eat the cantaloupe a la mode with a fork or a spoon.
 If your child gets a runny nose, your wife will generally wipe it rather than ask you to. You simply can't beat them for many small chores like this around the house.

NOT A bad idea, Eve. Woman must have some good qualities or she wouldn't have managed to remain the apple of man's eye since the Garden of Eden.
 But what are they? It's hard to say. What one man finds appealing in a woman another man may find upsets his digestion.
 However, at the risk of being regarded as a traitor in some quarters, here are some of the things I like about women:

A HOMELY man becomes bitter and full of secret self-pity about his homeliness, but a homely woman is always sure that there is something beautiful about her. And this is true.
 Woman is a wiser animal than man. As a man becomes more knowledgeable through experience, he comes to distrust his instincts. A woman rarely does. She retains a blind faith in her instinctual wisdom, which she calls intuition, and there are occasions in life when this gift of nature is a better guide than the precepts taught by experience.
 When it comes to getting a button sewed on, there is nothing like a dame.
 Finally, there is nothing finer to come home to and see, shining in warm loveliness across a candlelit dinner table, than a woman.
 Well, there I've said it. Those are a few of the things men like about women.

To Your Good Health What A Pap Test Does, And How

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
 Dear Dr. Molner: Exactly what is the Pap test and what does it prove? Can a person still have cancer after the test? How often should a woman in her 40's have it? My test was negative but I do not feel satisfied. Am I right or wrong? —MRS. M. J. D.
 Probably wrong, within certain limitations.
 The Pap test (an abbreviation for Papanicolaou, the name of the doctor who originated it), consists of scraping a little of the moisture from the cervix, or neck of the uterus. This always contains cells from that mucous surface.
 This smear, or sample, is placed on a microscope slide and stained with a special type of tissue stain. This causes the individual cells to show up clearly under the microscope.
 Now it is one of the characteristics of cancer that the cells, besides dividing at an abnormally fast rate, also are abnormal in size and shape. In fact, it is this abnormality of the cells which is the basis for the most positive of all tests for cancer, the biopsy, in which tissue is removed surgically to obtain the cells.

 The cervix is particularly vulnerable to cancer. It customarily starts on the surface. Therefore if cancer is starting there, and since a cancer sheds cells in large numbers, the abnormal cells show up readily with the Pap test. Among other things, the cancerous cells accept the stain more readily than healthy cells.
 For these reasons, the Pap test is very likely to detect cancer if it is present. Furthermore, it can detect it at its very earliest stages before there is a lump, or erosion, or any other visible sign. Discovered at this early stage, the cure rate is very high, because the tiny cancer can be removed before it has had time to spread.
 The test is not 100 per cent accurate, but it rates in the high 90's. If the test, properly carried out, fails to detect a cancer, the obvious explanation is that the particular smear did not happen to contain the cancer cells — but it is unlikely that such cells will be absent at the next test.
 In the other direction, the Pap test occasionally gives a "false positive." This, while hard on the patient's nerves, leads to no great harm; a regular biopsy then pins matters down to a definite yes or no.

 A Pap test every six months is wise for all women in their 40's. Many experts, and a growing number of practitioners, feel that it should start at age 30, and it is not a waste of time in the 20's because cancer of the cervix, although not common, is found that young. Some authorities have said that if all women began having the test in their 20's and 30's, death from cancer of the cervix would almost disappear.
 "You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is, and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.
 Dr. Molner is happy to receive readers' questions, and whenever possible uses them in his column. However, due to the great volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets he cannot answer letters individually.

Around The Rim The Penultimate

There is a brand of engine oil that will increase your gasoline mileage by seven per cent. An overdrive that will boost it 20 per cent. An air injector on the carburetor that will give up to 31 per cent more miles.
 A SPECIAL brand of gasoline will go six per cent farther.

Some trick goo that you pour into the gas will make it last 12 per cent longer.
 A set of tires with patented treads will give you nine per cent more miles per gallon. A special head on the engine will turn up 15 per cent better mileage.

I know all this is true because I have been studying the ads in new and old magazines.
 SO WHAT I am planning to do is equip my old sedan with these wiggles, pour in one final tank of gasoline—and wear it.
 From now on I'll ride free. Can't miss.
 Just add up those percentages. They total 100, or perpetual motion. Fact is, there's a variety of spark plugs on sale that make each gallon of gas last 10 per cent longer.

THESE I shall not buy, because after I'd driven a while my gas tank would start to overflow and I'd be a fire hazard.
 This research into methods of economical motoring I undertook after reading an advertisement about the horrendous things in the innards of my car happening constantly.

THERE'S AN engine there, all right, but it spends most of its time distilling acid to eat holes in itself. I've got to get a special oil to combat this acidity because, as the ad pointed out: "It's not friction, but acid action that causes 90 per cent of engine wear!"

 I was convinced until I'd leafed through 15 pages of the same magazine, where another oil company published another eye-opener. This ad said: "Don't ever forget it's friction that wears out motors." Gad.

WHAT I'D LIKE is an oil that simply is greasy, but I suppose that's asking a good deal. Anyway, I may not even have a sedan in my front yard; it may already have atomized itself.
 This is because of the amazing new engines the ad writers have invented. I doubt, myself, that they're entirely practical.

One brand of car now runs on thunderbolts, one on fireballs, another on rockets, a fourth on Mustangs and a fifth on gold comets. Still another is jet-powered, while a British import gets its go from a mysterious something known as XK-120, which gives it a cruising speed of more than 100 miles an hour.

I DON'T want to cruise at 100 miles an hour.
 Nor am I capable of contending with stars, planets, balls of fire, or angry horses under the wheels. This is no more. The power now proceeds through sensational new and improved ultramatics, meromatics, hydromatics, electromatics, touchomatics, power glands and oriflows.
 Oops. Correction: Those oriflows are shock absorbers; what I meant was dynafloors.

SOMEBODY once said there'd always be an advertising man.
 I'm not so sure of this.
 I may have to run him down.

David Lawrence Party Split On Rail Strike Vote

WASHINGTON — The Democratic party, which has a substantial majority in both houses of Congress, failed on Monday to support President Johnson, the party leader, in his request for legislation to stop a crippling strike on the nation's railroads. Only by the help of the Republican party was the country saved from the disastrous consequences of delay in delivery of the mails for the entire country and a slowdown in the movement of supplies to the troops in Vietnam.

THE VOTE in the Senate was 69 in favor of the President's bill and 20 against. But only 37 Democrats voted for it, and the 45 votes which would have constituted a majority of those present would have been impossible without the aid of at least eight Republicans. Actually, 32 of the 36 Republican senators supported the measure as 19 Democrats deserted their party, and eight didn't vote at all.

THE SAME situation occurred in the House of Representatives, where 218 votes constitutes a majority. Although the Democrats held 247 seats, 103 of them voted against the President's bill and 23 didn't vote, leaving only 121 Democrats in favor of it. This, of course, was not enough for a majority. Fortunately, 123 Republicans came to the rescue of the President's proposal to stop the strike, making a final vote of 24 in behalf of the measure and 148 opposed.

MANY PEOPLE will wonder why the Democratic party was split on the issue and, indeed, why even 46 Republicans in the House and Senate voted against the legislation to stop the railroad strike. The answer is that several of the members of Congress come from districts where there is strong union pressure and large sums are contributed in the campaigns by unions to help elect members of Congress. The Democratic party in the Main has received financial help from the Labor-union groups.

THE FUNDAMENTAL point of opposition to the legislation just passed is that the government will be imposing compulsory arbitration in a labor dispute by means of a presidential commission. Yet there was no other way out, since mediation talks have been going on for more than a year without a settlement. Congress had hoped that, by extending the no-strike period first for 20 days and then for 47 days, a settlement might somehow be worked out. But for the last 75 days, Congress itself has delayed any action on the President's recommendations.

AS LONG AS the measure was bottled up in a committee in which a few members sympathetic to the unions could prevent the enactment of legislation, a stalemate was inevitable. Finally on Monday no committee was able to block action any longer, because the bill, after being passed by the Senate, had to be voted on at once by the entire House without any further steps by any committee.

A BIPARTISAN majority, therefore, saved the nation from the loss of many millions of dollars and further discomforts and inconveniences arising out of the delay in delivery of the mails and the interruption in the transportation of persons and property on the railroads.

Holmes Alexander The Bureau That Came To Dinner

WASHINGTON — "I eschew that word 'permanent,'" said Sargent Shriver, the Poverty czar, meaning he hoped nobody would believe that his Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) was like the Man Who Came to Dinner — and stayed and stayed.
 For this wrap-up column on Shriver, I had intended a personal interview at which he would answer to some of the terrible things I've been writing about him. But the Senate Labor subcommittee saved me the trouble. Senators Javits (R., N.Y.) and Clark (D., Pa.) invited Shriver to explain why the OEO should not be abolished and its functions spread among the HEW and Labor Departments and others. He complied to their request with the zeal of a bureaucrat reaching for the bacon.

THE USA, said Shriver, had made a great moral leap forward in founding a government agency that was exclusively the advocate of the poor. In founding the OEO, America had officially thrown its arm around the shoulder of the "most disadvantaged minority in the country," the fifth of the nation which had the least lobby, the least drag, the least political power. "It would be a regressive step to disband this one agency that speaks for the poor," he said.
 AS A SINGLE-MINDED organization, the OEO was good at thinking up new programs and at "intervening at crucial moments in the lives of the poor." Thus Head Start (for preschool kids) and Upward Bound (for teenagers) were innovations and interventions at crucial moments in human careers. Such departments as Labor and HEW couldn't be expected to provide think shops of that capacity.
 SHRIVER VIGOROUSLY shook off a suggestion of Javits that the OEO had been established only for the purpose of fixing attention on Poverty and then of turning over the work to the executive departments. He was equally vehement in denying that OEO would become a permanent fixture in the Federal bureaucracy. Shriver said that poverty could be eliminated from the American society in a matter of 10 or 20 years, at which point OEO would fold its tents and steal away.

 It was a forceful presentation. Shriver is a matchless persuader and peerless organizer. But he was protesting too much about the impermanence of the OEO. He was bragging when he spoke of abolishing poverty from the face of America.

IT'S ALMOST a case of now or never if Congress is to dismantle the Office of Economic Opportunity and to spread the good works among the appropriate departments. Another year or two will find OEO deeply entrenched, and will find the poor so heavily subsidized that it won't pay to be self-sufficient.
 A decade from now some poverty czar, other than Shriver, will have come to dinner — and come to stay for the largest banquet of poison ever spread.

Helping Hands

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) — Mrs. Faye Haller glanced out her front window to see a man pushing her automobile down the street after asking a woman pedestrian to give him a hand. Police called by Mrs. Haller caught up with the straining pair after they had gone a half block. The woman was not held.

Red Errors Big Surprise

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Western diplomats are not as surprised by the Soviet Union's failure to win the diplomatic battle at the United Nations over the Middle East as by the string of blunders that caused the Russians to lose the skirmishes as well as the war itself.

No one can recall a time when the Kremlin got into so many untenable positions and suffered so many rebuffs in any similar two-month period.

TOUCH LOST

This raises some questions whether Soviet diplomats suddenly lost their touch, and if so who was to blame for the step-by-step lapses.

There has been widespread speculation that Nikolai T. Fedorenko was the central figure and that he may be replaced, but it would be an oversimplification to pin the whole on Moscow's delegate to the U.N.

At least part of the trouble can be traced to top-level officials in Moscow. Some of it stemmed from faulty intelligence and some from diplomatic necessity which required the Soviet Union to take losing positions.

PEACE DOCTRINE

Most U.N. officials don't think Fedorenko initiated the idea of the emergency session of the General Assembly, overriding the long-held Soviet doctrine that peacekeeping matters should be handled by the Security Council.

Since 1950 the Soviet Union had insisted that the "uniting for peace" procedure for calling emergency assembly sessions was illegal, but that is the way the current session was convened. This procedure was first proposed by the United States.

Stanton Rotary Sets Installation

STANTON (SC) — Dr. Jack Rogers, Odessa, will be the installing officer and give the program when the Stanton Rotary Club meets Monday night at 7:30 p.m. at Cap Rock Auditorium for installation of officers and "Ladies Night."

Officers to be installed are Doyle Corder, president; Bill Vaughn, vice president; Arthur Wilson, secretary; treasurer; Owen Kelly, sergeant of arms. Directors are Stanley Wheeler, Dr. Jack Woodrow, Arthur Wilson, John Rankin and Albert Johnson.

Bob Mize gave the program at the Wednesday meeting.

Quakers Plan New Shipment To Red Viet

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An American Quaker organization which recently transported a cargo of medical supplies to North Vietnam in defiance of the U. S. government today made known it will try to make another shipment soon.

"It's a matter of conscience," said Lawrence Scott, 58, the white-haired leader of the project. "When people are being bombed and are bleeding, it's a religious right and duty to help them, whoever they are."

Despite a tightening web of federal pressures and roadblocks, the undeterred task group is going ahead with its planning, gathering funds, screening volunteers, awaiting a go-ahead from the North Vietnam Red Cross.

NEW BOAT CREW

"We're lining up a new boat crew," Scott said. The sponsoring unit, of which he is executive secretary, is called simply, "A Quaker Action Group," to indicate it is only one of various Quaker approaches to the situation.

It operates from a scuffed three-room office on the second floor of the old, red-brick 12th Street Quaker Meeting House in midtown Philadelphia, in an atmosphere of informal improvisation of cluttered mail, peace posters, ringing telephones and anticipation.

'I'M EXCITED'

"I'm excited," said a tow-headed college boy when asked how he felt as a potential recruit for the intended new voyage into Haiphong. He's among about 40 who have offered their services for the outlawed mission, aimed at helping civilian war casualties.

It still is contingent on approval from North Vietnam, Scott said, adding that arrangements are being made through correspondence handled from abroad, to avoid government interception. However, the sailing date is expected to be in late August.

Scott said the organization has chartered for a year's use the 50-foot U. S. ketch, Phoenix, which carried an initial $10,000 medical shipment to Haiphong last March. The crewmen on that voyage were ordered deprived of their passports.

LOYAL AMERICAN

In Washington Thursday, officials of the U. S. Treasury Department said it had recommended to the Justice Department prosecution of those crew members under the assets control provisions of the Trading with the Enemy Act.

The Justice Department said the case is under review. Conviction would carry a maximum penalty of 10 years in jail and a $10,000 fine.

"We don't feel that what we're doing is unpatriotic, even though it may be illegal," said Sam Legg of Baltimore, an adviser on the project.

"Essentially, patriotism is doing what's good for the country and the world, and I don't see how this humanitarian effort to relieve suffering can be anything else but that. I consider myself a loyal American as I break some American laws."

Sterling Man Moves Up In TSGRA Association

STERLING CITY — Worth Durham, rancher-lawyer, is due to be elevated to the presidency of The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association at its annual convention in San Antonio Monday through Wednesday. He currently is first vice president.

He operates 10 sections of ranchland in Sterling County, raising Rambouillet sheep and commercial Hereford cattle.

Reared in Sterling City, he earned his law degree from the University of Texas in 1936 and opened a law practice in San Angelo. During World War II he served as an intelligence officer in the South Pacific. After the war, he returned to his home town of Sterling City and opened a law office. Since 1946 he has served as Sterling County attorney.

Long a director in the bank at Sterling City, he was elected vice president in 1964.

Durham is married to the former Mary Jo Jance, and they have a daughter, Mrs. Betsy Arp, 20, and two sons, David, 23, and Drew, 18.

Among topics certain to be discussed at the San Antonio meeting are range conditions, mohair prices (at their lowest level since before the Korean War), legislation affecting the ranch industry. Howard Der-

Cong Defectors Total 18,807

SAIGON (AP) — A total of 423 Viet Cong defectors to the government last week under the Open Arms program.

They brought to 18,807 the number of defectors since the first of the year. During the equivalent period last year, 10,523 defectors turned themselves in.

Last week's total, which was 4 above the previous week's, included 313 military personnel, 97 political workers and 13 persons from other Viet Cong elements.

Attempt To Stop Truck Is Fatal

BROWNWOOD (AP) — Steve Masey of Bangs tried to stop a moving truck Thursday on Texas 377 about 20 miles south of Brownwood. The truck ran over and killed Masey.

Highway Agency To Accept Bids

AUSTIN (AP) — An 85-mile stretch of Interstate 35W from Denton will be either completed or under construction after the Highway Department lets the contract for a 2.3-mile project this month.

The project includes the interchange of Interstate 35, 35E and 35W at Denton and extends from Lover's Lane to Interstate 35 at Denton.

The department will accept bids on 61 projects at its July 25-26 letting, covering 418 miles and costing an estimated $39.3 million.

U.S. Withdrawing Old Silver Coins

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government quietly is withdrawing from circulation some of the old dimes and quarters containing 90 per cent silver.

They could be pumped back in during the Christmas shopping rush this year.

Officials say they have no plans to recall the 90 per cent silver coins in the wake of a Treasury Department decision to free the price of silver from its four-year level of $1.29 an ounce.

They described the new move as a contingency to handle any emergencies which might occur late this year or during 1968.

No announcement of the withdrawal into a coin stockpile has been made but officials said it's been going on for some time.

No announcement of the withdrawal into a coin stockpile has been made but officials said it's been going on for some time.

Officials say they have no plans to recall the 90 per cent silver coins in the wake of a Treasury Department decision to free the price of silver from its four-year level of $1.29 an ounce.

They described the new move as a contingency to handle any emergencies which might occur late this year or during 1968.

Glue Pot Surgery

—By DR. LEONARD REIFFEL

How would you like to be glued instead of stitched together during your next operation? Bragging about the stitches or showing friends the scar is a standard indoor sport for the recuperating patient, and it's an ancient game at that. Back even as far as 600 B.C. surgeons in India were recommending various kinds of stitching and suturing materials.

Obviously, sewing is rather old-fashioned. There ought to be a more modern approach. We can glue practically anything to anything these days, so why not just glue a man's liver back together after an operation?

The problem is what kind of glue to use inside the human body. A proper glue would have to be fairly rapid in action. It would have to be non-toxic and non-irritating. It would have to be very compatible with living tissue and the fluids in the body. It would also have to be reasonably flexible. An adhesive meeting all these requirements is not easy to find.

"MCA," one which comes close, has been in use for some time. It has several drawbacks, however. First of all, it's brittle. It also has a very annoying habit of glowing not only human tissue together but also bonding very rapidly to surgical instruments and gloves.

In view of these disadvantages, research people are looking for improved glues. A new concoction based on gelatin (the same stuff that makes those pretty not-so-fattening desserts) looks promising. "GRP," as it's called, has been used to glue heart walls together in experimental animals and to seal leaks and control bleeding in the lung, liver and kidney, and it even works in the large blood vessels near the heart. If these extremely promising results are repeated in humans, this glue will probably find its way very quickly into surgical practice. It is not to be expected that one glue will solve all problems; more likely a whole range of body glues will have to be developed. Nevertheless, artistic sewing techniques of today's surgeons may be a thing of the past.

Pearl Harbor Air Commander Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Lewis H. Breerton who commanded the U.S. Air Force in the Philippines on Pearl Harbor Day, died Thursday at 77. Many persons held Breerton responsible for the destruction of the U.S. planes but Breerton, who with Gen. Billy Mitchell was credited for originating dive bomber tactics, said he had asked permission of superior officers to strike at Japanese bases and was refused.

SHOULD THE INDUSTRIES OWNED BY CHURCHES PAY TAXES?

Curb On Church Tax Exemptions Proposed

By STERLING F. GREEN WASHINGTON (AP) — The government shortly will ask Congress to curb the tax exemptions that permit churches and charities to buy up going firms to be operated in competition with taxpaying businesses.

WAVE The wave of church purchases of unrelated businesses—such as the acquisition of the Real Form Girdle Co., Brooklyn, by the Cathedral of Tomorrow of Akron, Ohio—has raised alarms at the U.S. Treasury and among small business organizations.

SENTIMENT There are stirrings of sentiment among some religious groups in favor of voluntary tax contributions by churches, probably at lower rates than the regular levy.

FAILED A similar tax-tightening proposal failed last year. The new one, said a Treasury spokesman, will be modified in some respects.

MOST It takes most of the earnings—say 80 per cent—of the business as rent, on which it is not taxed.

EXEMPT To the charity or church, income from interest, dividends or royalties are in the tax-exempt category along with rentals received.

COMPLEX Take, for example, Texas. Texas laws are pretty complex, based on local option, even by precincts.

AVOIDANCE Otherwise, said their minority opinion: "The tax avoidance routes opened by the court's opinion will surely result in large-scale ownership of private businesses by tax-exempt organizations."

POWER Other tax privileges could help churches amass formidable economic power, authorities have pointed out. For instance, the accumulation of investment wealth is not interrupted by inheritance taxes, for churches do not die.

REPORTING "How Firm a Foundation" was the headline used by the monthly Protestant magazine "Church and State" in reporting the 1965 purchase of Brooklyn's Real Form Girdle Co. by the nondenominational Cathedral of Tomorrow in Akron.

AMUSED He proceeded with a hint of amused testiness: "I don't think that doctrine has ever been carefully reflected on. Most Roman Catholics live their lives out without reference to papal infallibility.

FINEST The exempt buildings include most of the city's finest, newest and largest structures. There are seminaries, colleges, academies, the motherhouses of several religious orders.

CENTERS "And there's something else. Dubuque is an industrial city, but its history remembers us it won't be for the tractors produced or the hogs slaughtered.

WYOMING Wyoming gave permission to bars to stay open from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. Sundays.

TEXAS HAS A SYSTEM OF COMPLEX LOCAL OPTIONS

Nation Blanketed By Crazy Quilt Of Liquor Laws

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY CHICAGO (AP) — A fellow who goes out to get a drink in a strange town is apt to get confused—and maybe not a drink.

STATE-OWNED Bottled liquor is sold in state-owned stores in 16 states and in private stores in the others. Sales are limited to package goods only in North Carolina, Utah, Virginia, West Virginia, Arkansas, Kansas, Oklahoma, South Carolina and Tennessee.

FORBIDDEN A study made in 1962 by the Distilled Spirits Institute showed: 15 states had some liquorless counties and, for the United States as a whole, 749 counties forbade liquor and 2,529 did not.

BROWN BAG Texas is another brown bag state. At a late count, about 115 of the 254 counties were totally dry. In the wet oases store-bought liquor can be conveyed in a paper sack to a restaurant or night club.

READY The Treasury's plan is nearly ready. It would tax the income which charities, churches and other exempt organizations receive from property bought or improved with borrowed money.

QUIET MAN IS NO STRANGER TO CONTROVERSY

Episcopal Bishop Keeps 'Em Stirred

By JACK SCHREIBMAN SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bishop C. Kilmer Myers, a quiet man with a background stretching from Hell's Kitchen to Nob Hill, is no stranger to controversy.

CHIEF This time it's his appeal that Christianity unite under the Pope as "chief pastor."

SMILE A warm smile spread over Pike's face last September when a convention at Grace Cathedral elected Myers, 51, to succeed him.

IMPORTANT It is especially important when the worker suffers permanent disability. If a man loses an arm or the arm is permanently disabled, for example, he is entitled to 200 weeks at $35 a week, or a total of $7,000.

TOO LATE But it was too late. The bill died in the crush of last-minute legislation.

Forms Shape Spillway; Note Workman (Arrow) And Dam In Background

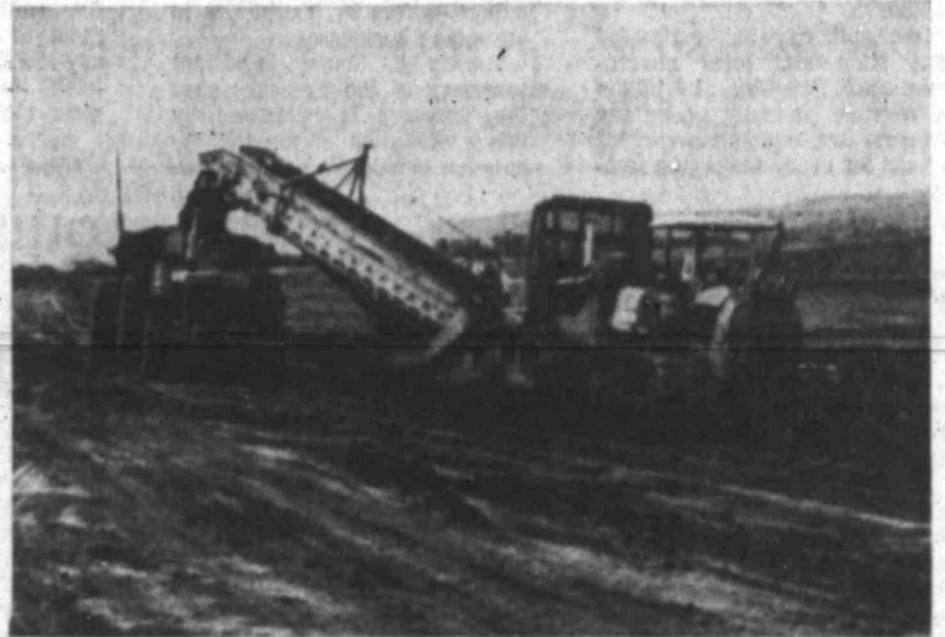

Damming The Colorado

The Colorado River Municipal Water District is past the quarter pole in damming the Colorado above Robert Lee. Latest estimates on the job that will eventually impound as much water as 488,000 acre-feet of water is 28.15 per cent toward completion. Dirt work is further along with 2,600,000 yards of embankment installed, 717,000 yards of core trench excavated and backfilled with 552,000 yards of select material. The spillway, however, is only 8.1 per cent.

The contractor, Clement Bros., Nickory, N.C., has earned $2,278,000 on the $8,713,000 contract. This includes about a quarter of a million which has gone to the spillway sub-contractor.

There now are some 180 men at work on the job of building a four-mile-long dam across the river. They move from half to three-quarters of a million cubic yards of earth each month. So far, some 17,000 cubic yards of rock rip rap has been placed to protect the face of the dam.

The district has acquired right of way for relocating eight miles of State Highway 158 (Sterling City-Robert Lee) around the south end of the dam. It is moving to acquire the last 6,000 acres of land in the basin area within a month, said O. H. Ivie, general manager.

Loader Fills Belly Dumps At Yard Per Second

East View Shows 28-Ft. Tube Diameter

Vital Item

By JOE PICKLE

One of the most vital—and most expensive—elements in the Colorado River Municipal Water District's dam on the Colorado River above Robert Lee is the spillway. Within a week, one of the most massive pours of concrete in the entire job will be undertaken.

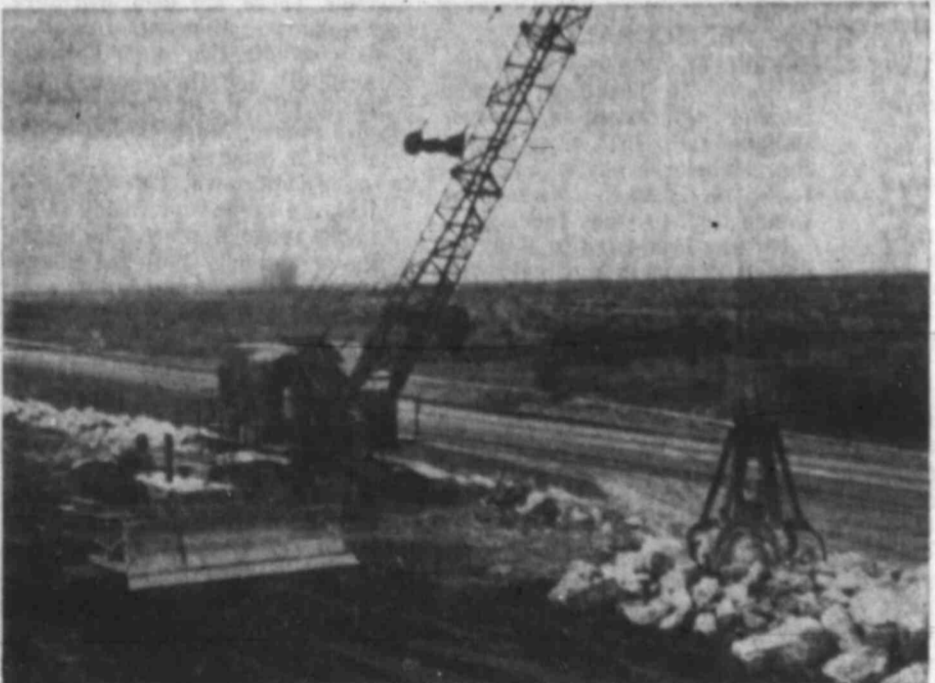

The huge 28-ft. diameter conduit is being formed from a vertical to a horizontal position—and this vast sweep must be made in one continuous pour to avoid cracks or seams in this critical curve. This will represent nearly 2,400 cubic yards of concrete poured around the clock for days. The total spillway yardage is 70,000.

Huge wooden wheels form the inside of the tube, which will continue upward to a height of 150 feet from its base. Walls of this conduit which will spill the overflow of the lake are 6½ feet thick.

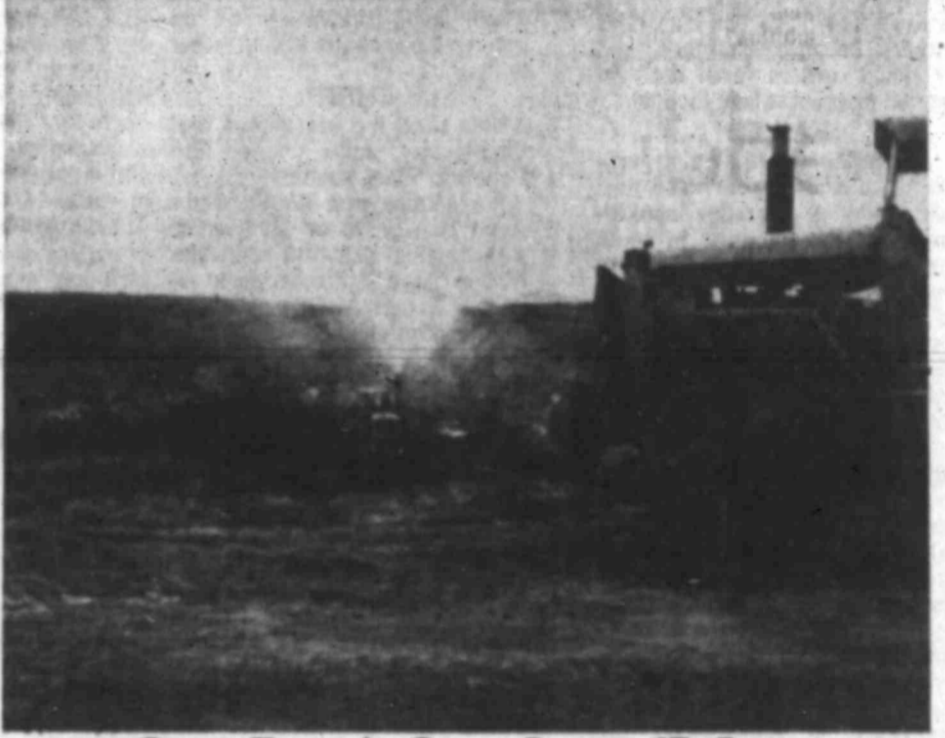

As the tube rises into its vertical position, it will flare into a morning glory, much like the bell of a bass horn, that will be 66 feet wide. Gates will sit on top of this to control the top 20 feet of overflow. The conduit continues under the dam 850 feet to empty into a stilling basin.

The stilling basin, which is taking shape with one of the wing walls already in place, will have an eight foot concrete floor. Walls will be 58 feet high, 2½ feet wide at the bottom and 1½ feet wide at the top. This rugged concrete box is required to still the turbulence of the overflow water before it goes back into the channel.

The spillway part of the project will cost $2,500,000.

Wedding Trip Follows Ceremony In Crane

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Neal Earp are on a wedding trip to Carlsbad, N. M., following their marriage Tuesday evening in the First Christian Church in Crane.

The bride is the former Miss Diana Lynn Thackeray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thackeray of Crane. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Cecil Earp, 1218 Harding, and the late Mr. Earp.

The Rev. Don Merryman performed the double ring service before an altar banked with potted palms and an archway entwined with greenery and blue tapers in branched candelabra flanked the altar.

Miss Laura Morgan and Gene Keithley sang "Whither Thou Goest" accompanied by Mrs. Gene Keithley of Derby, Kan., at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of Chantilly lace, designed with fitted bodice, bateau neckline and elbow-length sleeves. The bodice, hemline and chapel train were scalloped and encrusted with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations surrounded by stephanotis and lilies of the valley atop a white Bible.

Miss Christine Earp of Big Spring, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Miss Colleen Thackeray, sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid. They were attired in identical sheath dresses of blue satin and carried single white carnations with blue streamers.

Joe Earhart of Brownwood was best man. Ushers were Tommy Earp of Big Spring, brother of the bridegroom, and Joel Smith.

Margery Thackeray, sister of the bride, served as ring bearer. Altar tapers were lighted by Miss Crys Thackeray and Miss Linda Thackeray, sisters of the bride. All wore similar dresses of pale blue satin.

For traveling, the bride chose a blue flowered shift with white accessories and a corsage from her bouquet. The couple will be at home at 406 W. 12th, Crane.

SCHOOLS

Mrs. Earp is a graduate of Crane High School where she was active in the choir and Drama Club, and she was sweetheart of the Crane Lions Club. The bridegroom graduated from Big Spring Senior High School and attended Howard County Junior College. He is employed by the E&E Automotive Service in Crane.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the fellowship hall. Those in the receiving line were the bride and bridegroom, her parents, his mother and the feminine attendants.

The refreshment table was covered with a white satin cloth overlaid with blue net, and the three-tiered wedding cake was topped with double wedding rings and a miniature bridal couple. Crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Miss Linda Thackeray presided at the guest register. Others in the house party were Miss Sue Evans, Miss Barbara Moore, Mrs. Ronnie Spradling, Miss Sue Asker and Mrs. F. R. Yanney.

Out-of-town guests attended from Big Spring, Brownwood, Odessa, Midland and Derby, Kan.

REHEARSAL DINNER

Mrs. Cecil Earp honored the couple and their attendants at a rehearsal dinner Monday evening at the Bools and Siroin Restaurant. Twenty-seven attended.

Methodist Units Continue Study

Two circles of Wesley Methodist Church met Tuesday morning.

Mrs. George Sutton and Mrs. E. A. Guinn led the program on the Book of Galatians when the Martha Foster Circle met in the home of Mrs. D. L. Milner, 2207 Main.

Mrs. Janie Cofer presided, and Mrs. Milner led prayer. Refreshments were served to eight members and a guest, Rebecca Milner. The next meeting will be July 25 in the home of Mrs. J. B. Hollis, 108 Air Base Road. Members of the Lalla Baird Circle met in the home of Miss Helen Ewing, 707 E. 15th, with Mrs. W. D. Lovelace leading the Bible study.

Mrs. Alta King presided and led prayer which was followed with a devotion by Miss Ewing. Mrs. King announced that the circle will take its "adopted" girl at the state hospital to lunch Thursday. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. J. C. Ray, 1010 Sycamore.

Ann Gibbs Is Honoree At Coffee

Miss Ann Gibbs, bride-elect of James Riley Dallas of Charleston, Ill., was honored with a bridal coffee on Tuesday from 10 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. L. B. Edwards, 2703 Crestline. The guest list included 375.

Miss Gibbs wore a gold silk gored sheath with a white daisy corsage as she received guests with her mother, Mrs. Gilbert Gibbs, and her grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Gibbs. Both wore white daisy and mum corsages.

The dining and receiving rooms were decorated in multi-colored flowers done in tiers. The table was laid with a white silk or ganza cloth with a deep ruffle, draped around the top and caught with nosegays of lily of the valley, wedding bells and rings.

Pale yellow swirled tapers in triple candelabra flanked the centerpiece of Sweetheart roses, mums, carnations and status arranged as a cone-shaped tree. The tree was placed on a silver base and circled with similar miniature bouquets, and silver appointments completed the setting.

At the register table was a silver container holding large rose hibiscus. Miss Linda A. Hall, who will serve as maid of honor in the forthcoming wedding, registered guests, and those who poured were Miss Cynthia Pond, Miss Karen McGibbon and Miss Jan Stroup.

Also, receiving guests were the cohostesses, Mrs. R. H. Boylin, Mrs. Ward Hall, Mrs. Rogers Hefley, Mrs. Lulu King, Mrs. Kelley Lawrence Sr., Mrs. Kelley Lawrence II of Houston, and Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Joe Pond, Mrs. D. S. Riley, Mrs. Dan Conley, Mrs. John Dibrell, Mrs. T. B. McGinnis, Mrs. Travis Carlton, Mrs. J. H. Farmer, Mrs. Jimmie Anderson, Mrs. John B. Anderson, Mrs. Walter Stroup, Mrs. Carl Coleman, Mrs. James B. Frazier, Mrs. J. C. McWhorter, Mrs. Avery Falkner, Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, Mrs. Arch Carson, Mrs. Ann Houser, Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin, Miss Mary Lee Dibrell, Miss Molly Goodman, Miss Penny Frazier and Miss Charlotte Shive.

IN PRE-NUPTIAL SERIES

Two Parties Hosted For Karen McGibbon

Complimentary pre-nuptial affairs are continuing this week for Miss Karen McGibbon, bride-elect of Earl Clifton Smith Jr. of Fort Worth. Miss McGibbon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, 108 Cedar.

The Big Spring Country Club was the scene of a luncheon honoring Miss McGibbon, and hostesses were Mrs. Donald D. Van Meter and Mrs. George E. Franks. Sixteen close friends attended.

Lodge Observes Birthday Month

The honoree and her mother received white carnation corsages, and the hostess' gift to Miss McGibbon was a silver tray.

White linen covered the luncheon table, and the center arrangement was of white Shasta daisies and greenery.

APRON SHOWER

On Tuesday, the bride-elect was honored with an apron shower and rice bag party in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Zack Gray, 1305 Pennsylvania. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Gray's daughters, Linda and Robbie, and Mrs. J. B. Knox and her daughter, Sue. Guests were close friends of Miss McGibbon and their mothers.

The honoree was attired in a black and white printed linen dress, and her corsage was of yellow and white daisies centered with a gladiol blossom. Mrs. McGibbon was presented an identical corsage.

The refreshment table was laid with a pink cloth overlaid with coral net and centered with an arrangement of yellow daisies interspersed with gladioli. Miss Knox and Linda Gray attended the crystal punch service.

Robbie Gray presided at the guest register table which was accented with a placement of wedding bells and flowers in the honoree's chosen colors. Twenty attended.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. W. N. Wood, Mrs. Logan Grider, Mrs. I. O. Collins and Mrs. Alva Porch. Mrs. Hill presided and announced that members will serve refreshments at the Veterans Administration Hospital Monday morning.

Twenty-five attended, and 36 visits to the sick were reported.

Churches Join Chorus For Peace

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The churches are generating a swelling chorus in behalf of peace in Vietnam, many of them calling for a halt to the American bombing of North Vietnam.

Those urging an end to the bombardment range from Pope Paul VI to a growing succession of Protestant denominational conventions, in addition to the interdenominational National Council and World Council of Churches.

However, some communions have voiced support of U.S. policy in the war.

Others have appealed for renewed efforts at negotiations. Several have asked a stop by both sides to troop build-ups. Some have simply raised an anxious question mark.

It is a gnawing issue at meetings of governing bodies of the churches which assert a responsibility to reinforce the moral stance of the nation.

The subject also has caused sharp debate and keen friction in many religious bodies, including the withdrawal of at least one Jewish congregation from its national organization.

From several religious quarters, including the Methodist Council of Bishops, have come calls for a world summit meeting of religious leaders to join their influence in seeking to end the Southeast Asia conflict.

If it continues much longer, predicts the Rev. Dr. John C. Bennett, president of New York's Union Theological Seminary, "we shall have the greatest conflict between the churches and our government that we have ever had in time of war."

However, the war also produced sharp differences between churches, and in them. American Roman Catholic bishops have cited these differences, saying the U.S. position could be reasonably justified, but adding their "plea for peace."

The big Southern Baptist convention last month backed continued U.S. military efforts in Vietnam until "an honorable and just peace" could be established.

Earlier, the Standing Conference of Eastern Orthodox Bishops expressed support for American policy in the war, saying it "is directed against the spreading of totalitarian, atheistic ideology and is justified as such."

However, numerous other denominations, in conventions this spring and early summer, have criticized conduct of the war.

The United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. voiced "deep misgivings at the policy of military escalation" and said, "It appears that the immediate need is an alternative to the bombing of North Vietnam."

The American Baptist Convention urged the United States to "stop the bombing" and asked both sides to halt "the build-up of troops" in the south.

Smith Will Lead Singing For Encounter Crusade

Fritz Smith, for many years education and music director in Texas Baptist churches, is now following a call into the field of music in evangelism, will lead the singing for the Encounter Crusade here Aug. 6-11.

Smith resigned as minister of music at the First Baptist Church in San Antonio to devote himself to the field of evangelism. He has worked with numerous churches and groups in the intervening year and a half.

Prior to that he directed music for the General Baptist Convention of Texas state meeting in 1964, for the state evangelism conference for two years, state Brotherhood convention, and other major groups. He also directed music for the foreign mission board crusade in Japan, for the home mission board crusade in Alaska, and directed music for both the Gloria and Ridgecrest assemblies.

A native of Arkadelphia, Ark., he is the grandson of a pioneer Baptist minister. He served in the U.S. Navy air arm for two years, and while working as a traveling salesman, he felt the call to a Christian vocation in 1947. He returned to college and was graduated from Baylor University with a BA in 1950, then took his bachelor of sacred music and master of religious education in May, 1954.

"I believe there is a place for sane, sensible, sacred music in evangelistic crusades. I do not believe an evangelistic singer must resort to gadgets, gimmicks, or gimmicks to accomplish his goal," he said.

He works almost exclusively with the revival choir, and in the encounter crusade, he is due to have 150 voices from the 20 sponsoring Baptist churches of the city and area.

Baptists Give A Big Hand For Missions

DALLAS — Texas Baptists through almost 4,000 churches have given more than $6,000,000 to missions since the first of the year, R. A. Springer, treasurer of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, has announced.

Springer also announced that gifts for the month of June totaled $1,044,122.99 to exceed the monthly budget by $25,372.99.

Springer said $6,303,305.18 was given through the Cooperative Program from January through June, 1967, compared to the $6,029,405.80 given during the same period in 1966. The 1967 total represents an increase of $273,899.38 over the past year. The June gifts brought Cooperative Program giving for the six months period to $190,805.18 more than the budgeted $6,112,500.

The Cooperative Program, the missionary arm of Texas Baptists, is a unified budget plan for undersigned receipts. Designated mission gifts for the January through May period reached $3,954,161.36 compared to $3,938,950.15 for the same period in 1966.

Laymen To Hear Dr. Fred Moseley

Dr. Fred B. Moseley, assistant executive secretary - treasurer of the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board, will pinpoint the challenge of pioneer missions when he speaks to Baptist laymen of this area, July 29.

He heads a list of speakers for the annual Brotherhood rally at the Permian Basin Baptist Encampment north of Stanton on State Highway 137. Others include Wimpy Smith, Dallas, state Brotherhood secretary, and Harold Reeves, Fort Worth, radio and television commission.

Dr. H. M. Jarratt, Big Spring, president, said he is expecting a large turnout of Baptist laymen for activities starting at 1:30 p.m. Business sessions begin at 3 p.m., with Smith highlighting the program with a report on the needs along the Rio Grande River where Baptists this summer began a mobile medical-dental ministry along with volunteers in Bible school and other mission work. Reeves will discuss the radio and television ministry of Southern Baptists.

Dr. Moseley, a native of Mississippi, formerly was executive secretary of the Oregon-Washington General Convention, and prior to that secretary of the department of city missions for the home mission board. He also was associate executive secretary of the Louisiana Baptist Convention and held pastorates in Mississippi, Alabama, and Louisiana.

Lanny Allen, Lamesa, and Doyce Edwards, Westbrook, will be in charge of music, and Glyn Smith, Colorado City, Mickey Warlick, Midland, M. A. Smith, Colorado City, John Rankin, Stanton, and Wayland Holt, Snyder, will have parts in the meeting. Laymen from the Big Spring, Gaines - Andrews - Yoakum, Lamesa, Midland, Odessa, and the Mitchell-Scurry Associations are due for the rally.

Ecumenical Adding

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — Even the computer has gone ecumenical here.

At Grace Lutheran Church, an automatic printer produced individual letters to members at the rate of 600 lines a minute, with a Baptist serving as processing manager, a Roman Catholic as programmer, a United Church member as key puncher and a Gospel Church member as computer operator.

Clergy Losing

BETHANY, W. Va. (AP) — The "image of the pastor" has fallen to a low ebb, the Rev. Dr. Forrest L. Richeson, president elect of the Christian (Disciples) Churches, said in a Bethany College lecture series here.

"The American clergyman has lost prestige," he said, citing as one reason the pressure on ministers "for numerical success and visible results." Also, "he is often handicapped by laymen in the church who do not want the church to change and who fear anything new or different."

Clergy Shortage

LONDON (AP)—The Church of England faces a shortage of about 3,000 clergymen by the end of 1968, its yearbook reports.

Honored
Rev. C. C. Beck, pastor of Mt. Zion Baptist Church on College Avenue in Colorado City, was largely instrumental in the building of the church five years ago. He was honored at an appreciation dinner in Colorado City Thursday.

DIVINE GUIDANCE LEADS UNERRINGLY AT RIGHT TIME

The Christian teaching that divine guidance always leads unerringly, though it may not be understood at the time, is the subject of today's lesson (Acts 15:36-41; 16:6-12a).

Paul and Barnabas, who were the first missionaries of the early church, were planning another missionary journey. Barnabas wanted to take John Mark, but Paul refused since the boy had returned from the first trip without completing the work.

Barnabas insisted on John Mark's going, so Paul and Barnabas split up, Paul taking Silas with him and Barnabas taking John Mark.

Many expressed their sorrow and concern for the split, but regardless of such opinions, they were "driven back to the conviction that God's will was worked out as a result of the quarrel and separation. . . . For now two missionary parties were formed, and doubtless more was accomplished as a result."

Paul and Silas encountered great opposition to the teachings of Christ in Asia, and they traveled to many cities only to be forbidden the right to speak to the people about Christianity.

Paul's experience could be compared to a man who, while walking down a corridor, finds a "Do Not Enter" sign on every door, a door appears at the end of the hall and he walks through it.

God's lesson to Paul was that he should not try to force doors open, but to wait for an open one.

A vision appeared to Paul, telling him to go to Macedonia in Europe and leave the Asian field behind.

Paul had been frustrated in Asia although he tried many ways to spread Christ's message. It was God, however, who opened the right door when it was time.

Where There Was Nothing...

THE CHURCH FOR ALL — ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake; (2) For his children's sake; (3) For the sake of his community and nation; (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Pictures are made by fools like me. But it took an architect-friend to help me appreciate this one.

"I'm always impressed," he said, "when someone puts beauty and meaning where otherwise there would have been nothing. That's what God did when he made this tree!"

Photographers like to pretend they're philosophers. So I titled my picture Where There Was Nothing...

Next Sunday my architect-friend invited me to church. A bit overwhelmed by this sudden solicitude for my long-neglected spiritual welfare, I went. And there a remarkable discovery awaited me!

It is a drab expanse of broad, flat years which I call my life. And only God seems able to put beauty and meaning where otherwise there was nothing. Every Sunday a new truth grips me. Every Sunday I discover a new tree!

Hail The Home State Hero

Dave Hill, playing out of nearby Evergreen, Colo., acknowledges the cheers of the gallery after he dropped a long birdie putt on the 18th green at Columbine Country Club in Denver yesterday to take a one-stroke lead in the National PGA tournament. He blazed around the back nine in 31, five under par for a 66. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Home Pro Shows The Stars How It's Done At Denver

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Good-looking Dave Hill, a professional golfer who once managed to record 178 strokes for one round of golf—well, that's the way it came out on his card and he signed it—was in far better circumstances today.

Hill, 30, from the little mountain resort town of Evergreen, 30 miles from Denver, led such heroes of the game as Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper into the second round of the $150,000 Professional Golfers Association Championship.

Hill got a six-under par 66 Thursday, a record for the site of this 49th PGA title romp, the 7,436-yard, par 36-36-72 Columbine Country Club course.

Nicklaus, the U.S. Open champion, banged out five birdies and then an eagle in a seven-hole span and finished with a 67.

Palmer, seeking his first PGA championship, shot a 70 and was tied with Mike Souchak, now only an occasional tournament performer; Bob Goalby; Don Massengale; Tommy Aaron and lesser known Richard Bassett of Upper Montclair, N.J.

Casper, reporting his clubs had been damaged during a recent Oriental tour, fell back to 75, while defending champion Al Geiberger had a 73.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

With Nate Mitchell (pitch-hitting for Tommy Hart) ... Seems like only yesterday that Floyd Patterson met Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson in an elimination boxing match to determine which of the two fighters would meet then light-heavyweight Archie Moore for the heavyweight title. This elimination had become necessary when heavy champ Rocky Marciano retired undefeated April 27, 1956.

As it turned out, Floyd had little trouble disposing of the simpleton who was parading around the world as a pugilist, and had often convinced me that he was more of a mental case than anything else. (Indian war dances, all-vegetable diet, unorthodox training tactics — the whole bit.)

On that cool evening of Nov. 20, 1956, when Patterson, an upstart at only 21, had become brash enough to enter the squared circle with ageless, perennial Archie Moore — even then a legend in his own time — many boxing buffs felt that the young Olympic Gold Medal heavyweight would get his brains beat out.

Referee Frank Sikora counted Moore out in the fifth round, catapulting young Floyd to a throne which ultimately earned for the easy-going New Yorker more than $7 million. Patterson lost the crown to Swede Ingemar Johansson three years later, then recaptured it the following year to become the only heavy in the business to regain the coveted crown.

As talk of the eight-man elimination tournament continues, one feels that no matter who the victor will ultimately become, "boxing just ain't what it used to be." Many of the top contenders — either of whom could conceivably grab the title if the time were right — aren't exactly what Jack Dempsey, Joe Louis, Joe Wolcott, Rocky Marciano or under-rated Floyd Patterson were in their times.

Now that young Joe Frazier has wiped out Canada's George Chuvalo (TKO, 4th round), only three other pairings are without resolve, i.e., Mildenberger vs. Spencer, Terrell vs. Ellis, Patterson vs. Bonavena.

Ideally, only the better two of the eight men will reach the finals and the champion will be determined therefrom. With the fight game the way it is nowadays, however, we'll just have to wait, keep our fingers crossed, and hope for the best.

Billie Jean Moffitt King, 23, the chubby California housewife, is now the No. 1-ranked woman tennis player in the world. This is due, largely, to her great success at Wimbledon, earlier this month, where she capped laurels in the singles, doubles and mixed doubles events.

Perry Jones, dean of U.S. tennis coaches, rates Miss Moffitt among the all-time greats, thusly: Behind Helen Wills Moody, net great of the '20's and '30's, but ahead of Doris Hart and even par with 1953 grand slam winner Maureen Connolly, who collected the Australian, Wimbledon, French and U.S. singles championships.

Noticably missing among Jones' comparisons was Negro net ace Althea Gibson, who won virtually every net meet in which she was allowed to participate in the last decade.

At the U.S.-British Commonwealth Games at Los Angeles earlier this month, American men trounced the visitors 254-170, while our ladies bowed to the tourists 125-102.

A couple of the better events saw long-winded Jim Ryun outshine Kenya's Kipchoge Keino by 25 yards in his record-shattering 3:33.1 clocking in the 1,500-meter run. The other was when the U.S. 400-meter relay team equaled the world mark of 39.0 seconds, behind the swift feet of Earl McCulloch, Jerry Bright, Ron Copeland and Texas Southern's Jim Hines.

Church Softball Playoff Delayed

A most unusual thing happened to the church softball league playoffs Thursday evening — the field was too wet to play.

A late afternoon shower left the field with about three inches of water around home plate. James Kinman, league commissioner, said the playoffs would begin at 7 p.m. today, if field conditions permit with College Baptist facing West Side Baptist in the opener, followed by Salem Baptist against Crestview Baptist. Playoffs will continue into next week.

Fleckman Joins Irwin On Bench Of Trans Miss

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Such favorites as Marty Fleckman of Port Arthur, amateur sensation of the last National Open, and Hale Irwin Jr. of Boulder, Colo., the NCAA champion, are on the sidelines today as the Trans - Mississippi Golf Tournament moved toward its semifinals.

Sixteen players remain and two rounds today will cut them to four.

Irwin went out in the first round Wednesday and Thursday. Fleckman, one of the heaviest favorites, took the count before the sub-par shooting of Jim Rheim, a Tulane student from Chula Vista, Calif.

Rheim beat Fleckman 2 up.

The Missouri State amateur champion, Tom Watson, 17, of Kansas City, also lost Thursday. Stanley Glasscock of San Antonio beat him 2 up. Both players battled a heavy rain for the last eight holes of their match.

Ron Cerrudo, the second-place finisher in the British Amateur, and Lee McDowell, the Texas state champion, won their matches and moved into position as the general favorites in the tournament.

Cerrudo, of San Rafael, Calif., defeated Lester Lundell of Austin, Tex., 8 and 7 while McDowell slipped past Gregg Pitzer of Los Angeles 1 up.

Heat May Be Problem

WINNIPEG (AP)—The heat was still the hot subject of conversation here today as plane-loads of athletes and officials joined the swelling population in the Pan-American village.

A drop of a few points in the temperature Thursday and the prospects of another dip of a few more points for the opening ceremonies of the fifth Pan-American Games Sunday made for happier talk.

The thermometer hit 91 degrees at 5 p.m. Thursday, three degrees than it was at the same time Wednesday when a Winnipeg record for the date was set.

The weatherman said the Saturday and Sunday highs might not top 85.

Many of the athletes, who had been complaining about the heat and swarming mosquitoes in the village, held off practice sessions until after dinner. Daylight doesn't end in this city, 60 miles north of the U.S. border, until about 10:30 p.m.

Officials in the village had the grounds sprayed Wednesday and Thursday nights.

The Yankees, with a huge squad of 399 athletes, didn't expect to have their full team in until the end of the week.

Hager, Argue Clash For Title

DALLAS (AP)—The championship will be decided today in the Texas Junior Girls Golf Tournament with medalist Nancy Hager of Dallas clashing with Houston champion Judy Argue.

Miss Hager reached the finals Thursday when she defeated Kathy Hutson of Lubbock 5 and 3.

Miss Argue got there with a 2 and 1 victory over Debbie McClung of Dallas.

Annual Swimming Meet Drawing Record Field

The fourth annual All-Trophy Invitational Swimming and Diving meet was scheduled to begin its activities at 4 p.m. today with the diving events.

The swimming competition will follow at 8 a.m. Saturday at the City Park Swimming Pool.

Over 350 swimmers and divers have entered, Mrs. Betty Duncan, clerk of the meet, said.

"Presently 319 swimmers and 35 divers have registered for the two-day meet," she said. "However, we expect more to register for the diving events." Persons interested in entering the open division of the meet still have time to register. Full details may be obtained by calling Mrs. Duncan at 267-2449.

FOURTEEN CITIES

Sponsored jointly by the Big Spring Aquatic Club, the City of Big Spring and the Big Spring YMCA, the meet has attracted top swimmers and divers across the state.

Participants from 14 Texas cities are registered for the swimming and diving events.

The cities who are sending participants include Abilene, Andrews, Pampa, Amarillo, Midland, San Angelo, Sweetwater, Lubbock, Fort Worth (Panther's Boys Club) Houston (Dad's Club), Burford Club of Arlington, Odessa, Snyder and Big Spring.

as officials for the meet, with Jack Cathey serving as meet director.

Other officials include: Jack Tayrien, referee; Pete Cook, starter; Spike Dykes, chief judge; and James Tidwell, chief timer.

Also Mrs. Betty Duncan, clerk; Jim Baum, announcer; D. R. Bunn, publicity; Mrs. E. C. Bell, advertising; Katie Cathey, ready bench judge; Capt. and Mrs. Peter Vermaire, stroke judges; J. R. Bizzell, concessionaire; J. W. Dickens, awards; and Buzz McLean, chief diving judge.

Ten diving events including the one and three meter diving and 76 swimming events will challenge the participants for the trophy.

SWIM EVENTS

The swimming events have been divided into five age groups; 10 and under, 11 and 12, 13 and 14, 15 through 17, and an open division, 12 and over.

HAPPY HURLER Astros' Don Wilson

Astros Sink Mets, 7-0

NEW YORK (AP)—Don Wilson was figuring on a shutout, not a one-hitter. But Houston's outstanding rookie pitcher wasn't aware that he had shattered a club record established by one of baseball's great right-handers, Robin Roberts.

"I had no idea I had done it," Wilson said Thursday night after extending his consecutive scoreless-inning streak to 25 in the Astros' 7-0 victory over the New York Mets.

Brandt Hits Better When Teammate Wilson Hurling

By The Associated Press

Jackie Brandt already knows it is easier to hit for teammate Don Wilson than against him, and the rest of the National League hitters are quickly learning it, too.

Wilson, a rookie right-hander who pitched a no-hitter a month ago and a three-hitter 11 days ago, cut down New York on two hits Thursday night as the Houston Astros belted the Mets 7-0.

It was his third straight victory and while he has discouraged opposing hitters, his pitching has brought out the best in Brandt. The veteran reserve outfielder, hitting only .237, had six hits in 11 at bats with his only triple and homer and eight of his 10 runs batted in during those games.

"I don't know what it is, but I use do well when he's pitching," Brandt said.

Brandt drove in four runs Thursday night with a sacrifice fly and the homer and added a double.

League-leading St. Louis unleashed Julian Javier, Orlando Cepeda and Bob Tolson, who each homered, and whipped Cincinnati 7-3.

Pat Jarvis snapped the Chicago Cubs' five-game winning streak with a four-hitter that lifted Atlanta to a 2-1 victory, and Gaylord Perry broke his own six-game losing string by pitching San Francisco to a 6-1 triumph over Pittsburgh.

Oliver's first hit helped the Phillies to a four-run second inning against Claude Osteen, and his homer made it 6-0 in the third. Bobby Wine belted his first homer of the season in the fifth with two on as Larry Jackson, 7-9, breezed.

Javier slammed a three-run shot, Cepeda a two-run blow and Tolson a solo homer as the Cardinals hammered Mel Queen and Don Nottebart and increased their lead to two games over the Cubs.

The Cubs played their game under protest when Ernie Banks hit a short fly to left-center field in the sixth inning with the bases loaded and Glenn Beckert, trying to score from third, was tagged out at the plate after bouncing off catcher Joe Torre. Cub manager Leo Durocher claimed Torre blocked the plate before he had the ball, thereby interfering with the runner.

Bristol Given New Contract

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dave Bristol has a new two-year contract to keep managing the Cincinnati Reds through the 1969 season.

Bristol's rehiring was announced by Francis L. Dale, at the news conference Thursday.

The terms of the contract were not disclosed, but the 34-year-old North Carolina resident probably will make around $40,000 a year.

Kap To Coach Dallas Tornado

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Tornados of the United Soccer Association will be coached by Bob Kap, who played and coached in Yugoslavia and Hungary before escaping from the latter country to live in Canada.

McAuliffe Keeps Tigers In Race With Hot Bat

By The Associated Press

Dick McAuliffe wasn't rated much of a slugger when he joined Detroit six years ago. But his current distance hitting is keeping the Tigers within striking distance of the lead in the tight American League pennant race.

The 27-year-old second baseman rapped out his 17th homer and a triple Thursday night in leading Detroit to an 8-4 victory over Washington. The triumph left the Tigers in fifth place, but only three games behind the Cleveland Indians and the New York Yankees 4 1/2 while the Boston Red Sox, the only other one scheduled, was postponed because of rain with the Red Sox leading 2-0 in the bottom of the third.

McAuliffe, a 5-foot-11, 175-pound left-handed batter, had only 24 homers in 497 minor league games covering five seasons before moving up to Detroit as a regular in 1961.

Dick found the home run range in 1964, slamming 24, added 15 the following year and hit 23 in 1966. He appears well on his way toward his big league high this season and is tied for fifth place in the homer derby with the Yankees' Mickey Mantle.

Cliff Quits After Loss To Belkin

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—The quarter-final victory Thursday was especially sweet for the 22-year-old Belkin since it was his second in two weeks over Richey, a rival since their days as junior players.

"He wants to beat me in the worst way, and I want to beat him," said Belkin after the 7-9, 6-2, 6-3, 6-1 victory that put him into the semifinals opposite Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., a 6-4, 6-4, 3-6, 6-0 winner over top-seeded foreigner, Ray Ruffels of Australia.

Arthur Ashe, the nation's ranking player and top-seeded in the tournament, met Australia's John Cooper in quarter-finals today while unseeded George Seewagen of New York faced Ron Barnes of Brazil.

Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., the world's ranking player, moved a step nearer a possible championship showdown with Cliff's sister, Nancy, by downing eight-seeded Kathy Harter of Seal Beach, Calif., 6-1, 7-5.

Mrs. King will meet doubles partner, Rosemary Casals of San Francisco, a 4-6, 6-0, 6-3 winner over Australia's Karen Krantzke, in the semifinals. Miss Casals is seeded third.

Second-seeded Miss Richey, seeking a fifth straight title, won easily over fifth-seeded Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich., 6-0, 6-1 and moved into a semifinal berth opposite top-seeded foreigner, Kerly Melville of Australia, a 6-4, 4-6, 6-1 winner over Tory Ann Fretz of Los Angeles.

Cliff Quits After Loss To Belkin

The 20-year-old Richey, apparently mentally exhausted, announced after the match that he was pulling out of the doubles competition where he was teamed with fellow Davis Cupper Arthur Ashe and heading home.

Central Air Conditioning Units Unique, Economical

Completely new air conditioning systems, featuring unique cylindrical outdoor units for use in central cooling of homes were unveiled to about 90 air conditioning specialists from Texas and New Mexico July 7. The meeting was sponsored by Carrier Corporation and the local-based distributor.

Roy Hester, president of Hester's Sheet Metal, Snyder Highway, said that the cylindrical outdoor units and matching indoor components developed by Carrier Air Conditioning Company set a new standard in equipment appearance and make high-quality systems available at the new low in Carrier price levels.

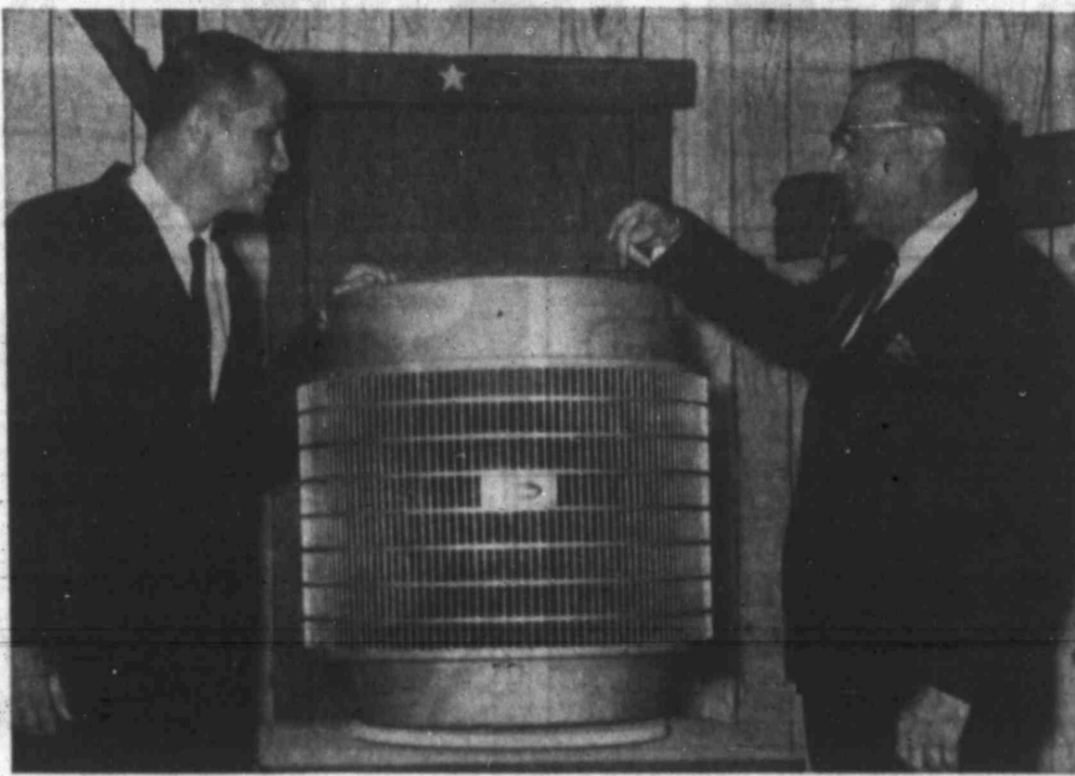

"The familiar rectangular box usually installed behind a centrally air conditioned house is passing from the scene," Hester said. "The styling and design of these new outdoor cooling units will permit new freedom in locating them."

He said that the new equipment will lower the installed cost of Carrier central air conditioning by as much as 20 per cent in smaller homes having adequately sized ductwork and furnaces.

Hester said that all outdoor units feature top air discharge to release heat and sound upward, and have special sound-dampening motor mountings, insulation and fans. The cylindrical units are being marketed in two models, a standard line of five sizes from 18,000 to 48,000 Btu's of cooling capacity, and a deluxe model in four sizes from 24,000 to 48,000 Btu's.

Circular design has made the units more compact, attractive and easier to service, Hester said. It has also reduced manufacturing and installation time and labor. All units have pre-charged tubing and special fool-proof, brass couplings for fast connection to new indoor cooling coils which can be installed in upflow, downflow or horizontal furnaces.

A new fan-coil unit, designed for use with the new outdoor circular cooling units, also was introduced to the air conditioning specialists. It can be equipped with an accessory electric resistance heating coil to provide an all electric, year-round climate control system for houses and apartments, Hester said.

Revolutionary Idea

Hester's Sheet Metal is the area Carrier dealer, and through reports he has found that Texas residents buy more air conditioning than any other state.

Texas continues to lead the nation in both number and per cent of homes having air conditioning, Hester said. He said that 1.7 million, or about 54 per cent, of Texas families now live in houses and apartments having either central refrigerated systems or room units, based on new Carrier Air Conditioning Company reports. Hester also said that nearly one-third of the homes are centrally cooled, which also tops all other states.

He noted that both the number and per cent of Texas homes with air conditioning have doubled in the past five years. Nationally, about 2.6 million room units and 650,000 central residential systems were purchased last year, Hester said. Of these totals, it is estimated that 1.7 million families obtained some type of cooling in their homes for the first time.

The Carrier reports also showed that more than 16 million, or 27 per cent, of the nation's homes now have some type of air conditioning. Included are nearly 4.3 million homes with central systems.

The top 10 states which have some form of air conditioning, are: Texas—1,700,000 air conditioned homes; New York—1,432,000; California—1,136,000; Illinois—1,046,000; Florida—922,000; Pennsylvania—802,000; New Jersey—727,000; Missouri—596,000; Louisiana—522,000; Ohio—514,000.

Texas leads in air conditioned homes, and Hester's Sheet Metal has Carrier Air Conditioners to offer Big Spring residents for a more comfortable summer. For air conditioning needs, contact Hester's Sheet Metal on the Snyder Highway by calling 263-3196.

Agency Provides A Service To Assist The Businessman

Every employer, at one time or another, has to make a decision regarding his personnel needs. The owner of a business or the personnel manager is faced with many decisions — what type of person is needed, what skills they must possess, how much they should be paid, etc.

The easiest way to assure the selection of the best personnel available is to interview and hire through the Big Spring Employment Agency.

The services of the Big Spring Employment Agency is free to the employer, and their services actually save the employer time, money and headaches. By using the agency's technical services, the owner or manager is free to solve other problems confronting the business.

The Big Spring agency is a private employment agency, and is differentiated from state or federal employment offices in that it is not involved in unemployment compensation, but devotes full time to counseling, interviewing, testing, and filling job placements.

From its beginning in 1961, the Big Spring Employment Agency has lived by the creed that every local employer has the right to demand the best qualified person who can be hired, considering the availability of applicants, the requirements of the job, and the salary to be offered.

To assure Big Spring employers the best job applicants available, many hours of hard work go on behind the scenes at the Big Spring Employment Agency, from the time an employer calls in a job opening until it is successfully filled. Job applicants are pre-screened so that employers will not have to waste time interviewing applicants who are not qualified for their particular job openings.

When a business hires through the agency, it has a confidential service. Fewer people are rejected because the employers see fewer applicants; every business is reminded that rejected applicants do not help its public relations. Also, an employer will find that when he hires through a private employment agency, there is less job turn-over for him.

Applicants who have made an investment in a professional service to locate a job rarely quit in haste. Also, better employees result many times as many highly qualified job applicants prefer to use the services of a private employment agency to protect their own identity.

Advertising costs are eliminated when hiring is done through the Big Spring Employment Agency. They do the advertising for applicants for the employer because it is a part of their business procedure.

In the field of office skills, the Big Spring Employment Agency carries on an extensive testing program. For example, if an employer wanted to hire a secretary, applicants interviewed through the agency would have gone through a testing program. The applicant would have been given a short-hand test, typing tests on both manual and electric typewriters, verbal, numerical and clerical aptitude tests. Also most applicants are exposed to personnel tests designed and created for testing adults in business and industrial situations.

The employment counselors and the employer may successfully refer to these tests results as a selection instrument in hiring applicants and also as an indicator of future possibilities.

The Big Spring Employment Agency is an affiliated member of the National Personnel Associates, Inc., an international recruiting organization of over 120 agencies throughout the northern hemisphere. Many technical personnel working today in Big Spring jobs were hired through NPA.

Call the Big Spring Employment Agency the next time you must hire a new employee. They will help you in every way they can and without obligation. If you are an applicant looking for a job change, register tomorrow. The Big Spring Employment Agency's offices are located in the Permian Building, and are open 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Their telephone number is 267-5335.

Girl Guerrillas Sometimes Use Sex As Combat Weapon

SAIGON (AP)—The number of women in the Viet Cong guerrilla forces has increased greatly. In some areas of South Vietnam half the combat ranks are female fighters.

This word comes from the Viet Cong's top woman commander, Nguyen Thi Dinh, who intimates that sometimes the girl guerrillas use sex as a combat weapon.

The Dinh woman is deputy commander of the South Vietnam Liberation Armed Forces, which means she is the No. 2 commander of the Viet Cong guerrillas. She is also head of the South Vietnam Liberation Women's Association.

TRAPS ENEMY
Her report on women in the Viet Cong's "anti-American national struggle" was broadcast over the Liberation Front radio.

"Our women owe their combat achievements to their intelligence and courage," she said. "Moreover, they know how to develop and make good use of all their special capabilities and conditions to satisfactorily fulfill their combat duties and trap the enemy through his own reactionary nature."

"At the same time, they are fully aware of the psychology of women and the common tendency of the enemy to indulge in the company of the opposite sex."

BAR GALS
"Our women have created favorable conditions to investigate the enemy situation, locate and capture him, and detect his weaknesses in order to administer him unexpected blows."

The Dinh woman had not said so, but the Viet Cong have long been suspected of using bar girls in Saigon and elsewhere as intelligence agents.

Of women's combat role, she said:

"At present, more and more women in the south are joining the liberation armed forces, especially the guerrilla forces."

"In many areas, the number of women in the ranks of the guerrilla forces has increased greatly. For example, in many villages of Phu Yen Province, half of the guerrillas are women."

MODERN SKILLS
"In addition to their complete skill in the use of all ordinary weapons, they have also familiarized themselves with more modern weapons in killing more and more enemy every day."

"In some places, female guerrillas have been organized into cells, squads, platoons, under the separate and independent leadership of the women themselves or under joint and efficient leadership with their fighting male comrades."

COMBAT HAMLET
"Within one cell, a woman was in charge of commanding the entire front of a combat hamlet."

"The techniques of fighting of the women have progressed no less than those of the men. They know how to harass, ambush, concentrate, fight against armored vehicles, shoot aircraft, and, in many instances, are capable of shock actions, assaults and attacks against the enemy."

TEXANS AT WAR
Sunshine fun for GI's at pool-side in Vietnam is not complete without hand grenades against the snakes, sandbags against the mosquitos, and barbed wire against the Communists.

So says Spec. 4 Berynald Vela of San Antonio, who spent most of his Vietnam tour of duty as a lifeguard at the 1st Cavalry Division's improvised swim pool near An Khê.

"GOOD EATING"
"About once a week we would toss a few grenades into the pool to clear the water of snakes," says Vela. "Once in a while the explosion would cause a good-size catfish to float to the surface. They were very good eating."

Vela, now with the 2nd Armored Division at Ft. Hood, says the site selected for the swimming area was a spot near the mouth of a mountain stream where very clean water flowed.

SANDBAGS PROTECT
"The swimming area of the stream was about 250 meters long and we were kept working day and night filling sandbags which were used to reinforce the banks on both sides of the pool."

"Without the sandbags, the banks would have been washed away by the monsoon rains."

One engineer unit cleared, leveled the area around the pool. A barbed wire perimeter was laid and the area was lighted. Guards walked the perimeter.

Vela spent three months as a lifeguard, three months as an infantryman patrolling the Central Highlands, and then it was back to the pool.

DEATH JET PROBE ENDS
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A federal board of inquiry ended its probe of a Delta Air Lines crash that killed 19 persons here last March after hearing testimony that the DC3 jetliner sideslipped to the ground when its wingflaps were dropped too sharply.

Robert B. Harris, supervisor of stability and control for the aerodynamics section of Douglas Aircraft Co., testified Thursday the flight recorder showed the aircraft was carrying its wingflaps down at 30 degrees at the time.

He said the flaps should not have been lowered that much until landing was assured. The jet crashed about 1,500 feet from the airport runway.

Harris emphasized that the flaps should have been kept at a 25-degree position until the pilot was committed to land.

The two-day probe by the National Transportation Safety Board ended after the testimony of Harris, who said the flight recorder indicated the plane was sideslipping when he pilot averted into the voice tape recorder. "Can't hold it, Bud!"

The pilot was Capt. James W. Morton, 47, of Covington, La., a student being instructed on the training flight by Capt. Maurice E. "Bud" Watson, 45, of suburban Harahan.

The four-engine turbojet, with two inboard engines shut off in a training exercise, went down, killing six fliers on board and 13 persons on the ground.

The big jet sliced through a home, demolished another residence, and ploughed a fiery block-long path into the rear of the Hilton Inn. Nine school girls from Juda, Wis., were killed in the motel.

Lynda Bird Sips Tea With Queen
LONDON (AP)—Lynda Bird Johnson has met Queen Elizabeth II over a cup of tea.

The occasion was an invitation-only garden party for 8,000 persons at Buckingham Palace Thursday.

While her American Secret Service guard stood by in morning coat and Ascot topper, the 23-year-old daughter of President Johnson chatted briefly with the queen and sipped a cup of tea.

Miss Johnson came with American Ambassador David Bruce and Mrs. Bruce, her hosts on a three-week private visit to London.

"A typical representative of the movement of political struggles of the women in the south has been heroine Nguyen Thi U, mother of six, who has resourcefully fought the enemy by every means imaginable."

"The women's Phan Thi Huynh guerrilla squad has fought more than 200 battles and often been based in combat villages to repel battalions of enemy troops."

"In addition to their achievements in direct fighting, women have participated in combat assistance as front laborers, ration porters, nurses for the wounded and so forth. Many women have carried a load of 40 to 50 pounds of rations, ammunition and medicine up and down the rivers and mountains, day and night."

TEXANS AT WAR
Grenades Helped Provide Pool Fun

By The Associated Press
Sunshine fun for GI's at pool-side in Vietnam is not complete without hand grenades against the snakes, sandbags against the mosquitos, and barbed wire against the Communists.

So says Spec. 4 Berynald Vela of San Antonio, who spent most of his Vietnam tour of duty as a lifeguard at the 1st Cavalry Division's improvised swim pool near An Khê.

"GOOD EATING"
"About once a week we would toss a few grenades into the pool to clear the water of snakes," says Vela. "Once in a while the explosion would cause a good-size catfish to float to the surface. They were very good eating."

Vela, now with the 2nd Armored Division at Ft. Hood, says the site selected for the swimming area was a spot near the mouth of a mountain stream where very clean water flowed.

SANDBAGS PROTECT
"The swimming area of the stream was about 250 meters long and we were kept working day and night filling sandbags which were used to reinforce the banks on both sides of the pool."

"Without the sandbags, the banks would have been washed away by the monsoon rains."

One engineer unit cleared, leveled the area around the pool. A barbed wire perimeter was laid and the area was lighted. Guards walked the perimeter.

Vela spent three months as a lifeguard, three months as an infantryman patrolling the Central Highlands, and then it was back to the pool.

DEATH JET PROBE ENDS
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A federal board of inquiry ended its probe of a Delta Air Lines crash that killed 19 persons here last March after hearing testimony that the DC3 jetliner sideslipped to the ground when its wingflaps were dropped too sharply.

Robert B. Harris, supervisor of stability and control for the aerodynamics section of Douglas Aircraft Co., testified Thursday the flight recorder showed the aircraft was carrying its wingflaps down at 30 degrees at the time.

He said the flaps should not have been lowered that much until landing was assured. The jet crashed about 1,500 feet from the airport runway.

Harris emphasized that the flaps should have been kept at a 25-degree position until the pilot was committed to land.

The two-day probe by the National Transportation Safety Board ended after the testimony of Harris, who said the flight recorder indicated the plane was sideslipping when he pilot averted into the voice tape recorder. "Can't hold it, Bud!"

More Signs Going Up
Signs pointing out individual tourist attractions in the immediate area have started springing up all over West Texas, according to the Tourist Development Department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Three-color, 4 by 5 foot signs are being erected near the city limits of many area towns, each sign bearing a distinctive symbol signifying "This is West Texas." Listed are special tourist attractions of the city, as well as the local chamber of commerce telephone number, which can be called for more details.

These signs are the third phase of the tourist development program of the regional chamber. The first was the magazine devoted to the attractions of West Texas and called "This is West Texas." The second phase was the displaying of 100 billboards throughout the 132-county area showing the parks, lakes, museums, etc. for the tourist to visit while in West Texas.

Mounted on 12-foot steel poles, these signs are weatherproof and attractive. They have been ordered and are being erected in the following towns at this time: Alpine, Baird, Breckenridge, Cisco, Farwell, Fort Stockton, Jacksboro, Marathon, Mason, Miami, Olney, Pecos, Post, Quanah, San Saba, Seymour, Stephenville, Sonora and Wellington. Other cities have indicated they are ordering from two to seven of the signs for erection within the next few weeks.

CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS TOSS SNEAKY PITCHES
WASHINGTON (AP)—The annual congressional baseball game hasn't even been played and already Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona, manager-pitcher for the Democrats, has lodged a protest.

Udall said Thursday he has received reports that Republicans have been practicing for Wednesday's contest at D.C. Stadium.

"This is another of the typically devious and unsportsmanlike tactics of the GOP," he charged.

Rep. Silvio O. Conte of Massachusetts, veteran manager of the Republicans, wouldn't say whether the charge was true. But he described some of the pitches Rep. Robert H. Michel of Illinois planned to throw at the Democrats.

"There is the Johnson credibility gap ball," Conte said. "It appears to be something more than it really is."

Another pitch up Michel's sleeve, Conte continued, is "the McNamara escalator which approaches the batter knee high and rapidly rises out of sight."

But Udall said he would enter the game prepared with several pitches of his own.

"There's the Romney fade-away," he warned. "This is a pitch which starts out in a sharp upward trajectory, appears to change position several times on the way to the plate, but ends up dropping sharply to the turf."

Expo Building Gifts Puzzle
MONTREAL (AP)—The United States gave its bubble-shaped Expo '67 pavilion to Montreal Thursday, and at least 10 other countries plan to do the same, but it's anybody's guess what the city will do with the showplaces after the fair closes in three months.

Whatever appears in the fair's place-suggestions include a giant university, an international research and development center and an international meeting site — officials say it will cost plenty of money to prepare the buildings for the rigors of Canadian winter.

Officially the site is leased to Expo until Dec. 31, 1969, when it reverts to the city. The city gets St. Helen's Island and man-made Notre Dame Island. The National Harbors Board gets Cite du Havre, the extension of mainland Montreal on which Expo's administration and several exhibition buildings are located.

Expo is essentially a summer fair, and one Expo source estimated it would cost $150 million to winterize all its buildings.

The future of Expo after closing day is in the hands of a committee representing the three governments financing the world's fair. Besides Montreal, the Canadian government is assuming half the fair's expected $137 million deficit and Quebec province is assuming 37.5 percent.

Warm Air Spreading
By The Associated Press
Summer winds blew from the Rocky Mountains to the Appalachians early today, spreading warm air and some rainfall across the nation.

The belt of warm air caused temperatures to rise in the Great Plains and unblocked extended periods of stationary rain in scattered areas.

Readings were in the 60s and 70s in the Midwest, South and along the Atlantic Seaboard with a dip into the 50s in the Pacific Northwest and the normal highs of 80s and 90s in the deserts.

Richmond, Va., received 2 inches of rain in two hours and Keosauqua in Southeastern Iowa 4 inches Thursday evening.

Light showers fell in various parts of the nation from Texas and Mississippi as far northeast as New England.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 51 at Sexton Summit, Ore., to 100 at Blythe, Calif.

Radio Bid Filed
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communications Commission says it has received an application from Jack R. Reeves, Earl M. Jones and William A. Reeves for a permit to operate a radio station on 1530 kilocycles, 1,000 watts power, at New Boston, Tex. The group is known as the New Boston Broadcasting Co.

Car Crash Cancels Flight Marks Bid
WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—Aviatric Jerrie Mock has canceled her planned assault on more world flight records after being injured in an auto accident.

The Columbus housewife, who became the only woman to fly solo around the world in a single-engine plane in 1964, was listed in satisfactory condition in Fayette County Hospital today.

She suffered a broken rib, broken collar bone, cuts and possible internal injuries Thursday when her car went out of control and crashed on rain slick Interstate 71.

Mrs. Mock had planned to try for numerous speed and altitude records this fall in a new plane, but it will be "some time before she can do that now," her husband said.

Boulder Comes Between Couple
REEDPORT, Ore. (AP)—Something came between a Fairview, Okla., man and his wife while they were vacationing in Oregon—a 200-pound rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Winter, both in their 50s, were driving along the Pacific Ocean near Reedport Wednesday when the boulder fell down a steep embankment, crashed through the top and windshield of their car, and landed between them on the front seat. Winter suffered a scratched hand. His wife suffered from shock. Policeman Darrell Jolley Jr. said, "If they'd been sawtyweds, one of them would certainly have been killed."

Figures Boost Tax Hike Hopes
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's argument for an income tax surcharge has received another boost from Commerce Department figures showing personal income during June advanced to a record annual rate of $27.9 billion.

The June figure, paced by rising wages and salaries, represents a monthly advance of $1.7 billion, the biggest jump since January's $4.4-billion advance. Personal income has continued to rise throughout the economic sluggishness of the first half of 1967.

'Elbow Grease' Pollution Key?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — States will have to use more "elbow grease" in enforcing water pollution standards, the federal government will, delegates of the Southern Conference of the Council of State Governments were told.

A. E. Paessler, executive secretary of the Virginia Water Pollution Control Board, occasionally spoke disparagingly Thursday of the federal government's actions in water control.

But he also pointed out that federal goading has been necessary to get states to do things they earlier thought impossible to do in the time allotted them. The states were given from Oct. 2, 1965, to June 30, 1967, to adopt the standards. Now the federal government is reviewing each state's plans.

"It's astounding that 48 states have met the deadline and made plans to use the standards for water pollution control," he said.

Mission Is Nightmare Of Anxiety, Hunger

Editor's Note: Some of the most dangerous work of the Vietnam war is conducted by small teams of men who maneuver into enemy territory to gather information. Free-lance photographer Brian Clery, 26, of Chicago, joined such a unit on a mission near the embattled demilitarized zone.

By BRIAN CLERY
ALONG THE DMZ, Vietnam (AP)—Our tiny band of men pressed against the rocky ground as big guns of the United States and the North Vietnamese duelled overhead.

White-orange flashes of American 175mm artillery split the night on the south side of the demilitarized zone. Answering fire from rockets and artillery lit the north side.

TANGLED THICKET
The seven-man U.S. Marine patrol I was with had been sent to pinpoint hidden enemy gun positions in and around the DMZ so planes and long-range guns could go after them.

We had sliced through tangled thicket between the Marine forward base at Con Thien, one mile south of the DMZ, and the enemy positions.

We had expected to return after three days, but heavy ground fighting broke out between us and Con Thien. We were ordered to continue our mission.

We had sneaked within 200 yards of one North Vietnamese army 140mm rocket position and within 400 yards of artillery pieces.

FOOD GONE
Our team directed artillery and air strikes that set off secondary explosions at two enemy gun positions and silenced the rocket unit.

But at the end of three days our food was gone, water was nearly gone, and we had enemy soldiers virtually on all sides of us. We could hear them talking as we huddled in the underbrush and elephant grass.

Our mission became a nightmare of tension, anxiety and hunger.

The fourth day dawned peacefully with monkeys and flying squirrels leaping from branches overhead.

We lay sweating in the humid thicket, waiting for orders. Hours passed and the afternoon temperature rose to 100. No one spoke.

'HIT IT'
Suddenly, Sgt. Frank de Moss of Montreal, Canada, broke the silence with a whispered cry: "Incoming! Incoming! Hit it!"

Every man sprawled flat. Enemy bullets sprayed trees above us and we heard hand grenades crashing through the brush.

The grenades were duds and the bullet fire moved on. "They don't know our exact position," said De Moss, the team leader. "Stay quiet. They're trying to feel us out."

We stuck to the spot until later that afternoon, then slipped away. After dark we coiled into a tight perimeter in which two men always stayed awake. De Moss again broke the silence: "Gimme a knife—quick!"

SNAKES ALIVE
He slapped the blade at a six-foot vine snake. We peered into the trees and they seemed to be crawling with dangling poisonous green snakes.

We moved as if a North Vietnamese regiment were on top of us.

The fifth day was filled with thoughts of food. We had only vitamin tablets. There was no fruit, no small animals. Catching birds was hopeless because we had to be so cautious about noise.

All the men were in top shape and young—De Moss, at 21, was the oldest; the others were 18, 19 and 20—but the heat and lack of food were taking a toll.

SLOW MOTION
Anderson got better, but now he and the rest—Cpl. Jim Mays of Ventura, Calif.; Lance Cpl. Art Loeder of Magnolia, N.J.; Lance Cpl. Ed Delezen of Pensacola, Fla.; Pfc. J. J. Fink of Teaneck, N.J., and myself—were feeling the strain.

The 70 pounds of gear each carried, including grenades, rifle, ammunition, canteens, mines was weighing like boulders.

We moved as if in slow motion or under water. Still we continued to hunt the enemy gun positions. We stayed off all paths, trails and stream beds and cut our way through the tangled undergrowth. Because of noise the lead man had to cut each vine carefully. It took an hour sometimes to move 100 yards.

In daylight we spread out so you could barely keep an eye on the man in front of you. At night we moved by holding to the man ahead.

FLASHLIGHTS FLICKER
The fifth night we were near a stream bed and could hear North Vietnamese troops clambering over rocks. We saw flashlights flicker occasionally.

Waves of hunger mingled with the anxiety. We got word to stay another day.

The sixth day, our third without food, was dreamlike. Some of the initial hunger pangs had subsided, but we were weak. It was brutally hot. We did not move far. We knew the enemy troops were scattered everywhere.

That night every bush and tree seemed to be alive. Sleep came fitfully, if at all. Three men talked in their sleep and had to be shaken awake.

But we got good news. A helicopter would pick us up next morning.

FIRE NEEDED
We started early for the pre-selected landing zone. At 9:30 a.m. the helicopter engines could be heard. Two jet fighters streaked over and two gunship helicopters swirled around to

U.S. Circuit Court Chief Steps Down

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Elmber P. Tuttle, chief judge of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals since 1960, has stepped down as the court's leader at the mandatory age of 70.

Judge John R. Brown, 58, of Houston, Tex., will take over the position. Brown was appointed to the appellate bench in 1955.

Although Tuttle has relinquished his chief judgeship, he will remain on the court and will participate in its work. There is no mandatory retirement age for federal judges, but chief justices must give up that post at age 70.

Tuttle, a resident of Atlanta, Ga., since graduating from Cornell law school in 1923, was named to the court in 1954 by President Eisenhower.

He is a former Georgia Republican chairman. At the time of his appointment to the bench, he was general counsel for the Treasury Department.

Both Tuttle and Brown have voted consistently with the majority of the court in the many landmark civil rights cases.

The 5th Circuit, in an overwhelming number of cases, has overruled more conservative district courts in suits dealing with desegregation of schools and public facilities.

The 5th circuit handles appeals from federal courts in Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and the Canal Zone.

Kiwanis Told Of Boys' Club

Steps which have been taken so far in the organization of the Big Spring Boys Club were outlined briefly by Bert Andries, a leader in the movement, for the Big Spring Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Andries then screened an official color film released by the Boy's Clubs of America and depicting the operations pursued and the ends sought by the organization.

He told the Kiwanians that the city had given the organization here a "big boost" by giving it a long term lease on the Northside Park and Swimming Pool. A temporary building to house operations is being sought and will be announced soon.

Meantime, other steps designed to get the organization off the ground are being pushed.

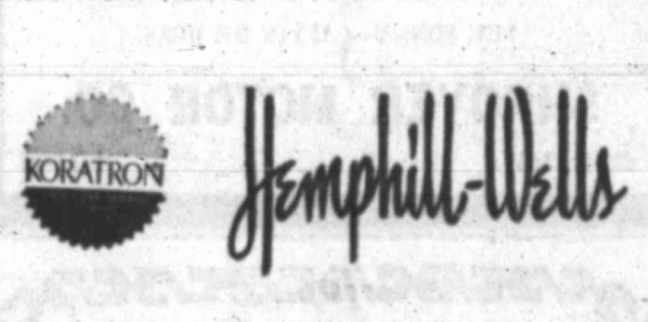

He said the effort to get a Boy's Club going here have been worked on by a group of interested people for more than a year. On two or three occasions, he said, the sponsors thought that the movement was on its way only to find that the effort was stalled.

Bill Johnson, Kiwanis president, announced that an inter-club meeting with Colorado City had been held this week, and that Jack Alexander, a local Kiwanian, was on the program at the Colorado City meeting.

Bob Crowell, formerly of Snyder, now located in Big Spring was introduced as a transfer member from the Snyder Kiwanis Club.

South Texas Teen Is Electrocutted

WIMBERLY, Tex. (AP)—Toby Lee Chittum, 19, was electrocuted and Nathan Morris, 15, both of Wimberly, was burned on both hands and one toe Thursday while putting up a television antenna.

The details of the accident were sketchy. Morris was in a San Marcos hospital.

Chittum's father, Sgt. I.C. Raymond Chittum, was in a Vietnam.

Wimberly is 16 miles northwest of San Marcos in South Texas.

Horoscope Forecast —CARROLL RIGHTER
GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are under some pretty good ideas now to get some new ideas this Saturday and you should make a success of your long-range plans that are of first moment and importance to you, but seek them out of new places and make a point to drive carefully to some sites where you need a dramatic leader.
ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Listen to what a new friend or very aggressive one has to suggest for your advancement and you become more careful. Treat more kindly so that you have more affection than in the past. Show that you have been led.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A little quiet talk with a prominent person of a social gathering could give you favors that are most worthwhile. Be sure you buy new mechanics that will make your work lighter, better. Be wise.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Some research work in the company of a good friend can bring interesting results. You can be unexpectedly inspired over something. This free day can be a most productive one for you. Keep calm, collect all of times.
SCORPIO CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Getting some responsibility discharged whether of a financial or personal nature, is very wise now. Be careful, have right method. Be extremely wise in handling some problem with the one you love.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Sitting down to some new site with an associate and talking over how your joint relationship can be improved can bring about some excellent results. You can also come to a meeting of minds with one who has been inimitable. Be kind.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have to hit on a far better plan for doing your work in conjunction with one you like, if you are to get the results you desire. Make future more successful. Make progress with those fine talents you have.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Find some hobby that both you and associate can enjoy during spare time; this could also prove to be remunerative. Show loved one how truly devoted you are. Stop being the strong, uncommunicative type.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Ideal day to busy yourself of whatever kin expects you to do and please them highly. See to it that everything is sparkling clean and in fine order. Do some entertaining in the early evening.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Out to see those persons you would like to see in the days ahead. Discuss plans in a specific, intelligent way. Get hobbies perfected after they will receive tension now building up within you.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Sit down and discuss with those living under your roof just how you can have more harmony and security in the days ahead. Much success can be realized from a concerted course of action. Be clever.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You are thinking very clearly today and can be very articulate in putting your ideas across with the right people. Be positive in going after personal aims. Then you meet with true success.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You get an inspiring idea that should be immediately discussed with associates. Make plans to put it in operation as quickly as possible. Others can be reached by telephone. Or run out to see them for backing.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow . . . he, or she, will be one of those latent - loaded, imaginative youngsters who always seems to have an audience ground to strut for, impress with dramatic ways. The best outlet here is the stage. The best of acting, working with the public in general in one way or another, or in dramatic school would be best here.
