In Austin Antiwar Chief Slain

AUSTIN (AP) — Gunfire killed George Vizard, a leader in antiwar and other protest movements, Sunday at a drive-in food store where he clerked. Although individuals working with peace organizations asserted it was a political assassination, police said armed robbery was the motive. They estimated $300 to $400 was missing from the store's safe.

Body Found In Vault

Vizard, 23, had opened the place for business about 7 a.m. Detectives said a customer discovered no one was on duty, searched and found the body inside a walk-in freezer vault around 8 a.m.

The store attendant was shot twice. One bullet entered his chest and the other struck an arm.

Vizard, a former University of Texas student, had been active as a member of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) in demonstrations against the war in Vietnam.

He drew a $15 fine for disturbing the peace at the Texas Capitol while Secretary of State Dean Rusk was a visitor last winter, and he still awaited trial on a charge of using abusive language in April when Vice President Hubert Humphrey came here to address the Legislature.

Protest March Proposed

Members of the United Texas Organizations for Peace adjourned a Dallas meeting after learning Vizard had been slain and a number came to Austin. He had been expected at the Dallas sessions but for unexplained reasons did not appear there.

Some speakers proposed a protest march on the Capitol but others prevailed in planning quiet eulogies to Vizard in a city park.

"I personally think one of us has been shot by John Birch!" declared an unidentified young man among about 150 persons—both university students and non-students—in the course of an hour-long meeting at the university YMCA building in Austin.

Widow Makes Plea

Vizard's blonde widow quickly urged, "Please consider very carefully anything you do and not hurt the movement George loves so much."

Clad in a man's blue denim shirt, white slacks and blue sneakers, Mrs. Vizard added, "His death possibly has a political meaning. The other possibility is that it could have been some punk kid with a gun who got scared trying to stick up the store."

She said the funeral service would be held Tuesday morning.

Two Cases Connected?

City detectives at first said the fact that about $60 was left in a cash register left the question of a motive for the shooting open. After further investigation, however, one reported the safe had been looted and "we know it was armed robbery."

A stick-up man took about $90 from another Austin drive-in food store approximately an hour earlier, police learned. An officer said it appeared likely the two cases were connected.

Next Move Not Clear

SAN JUAN, P. R. (AP) — Supporters of commonwealth government in Puerto Rico today had the vote of confidence they wanted from island voters, but their next move wasn't clear.

In a victory statement Sunday night, former Gov. Luis Munoz Marin said there were no immediate plans to request any additional powers from the U.S. Congress.

Elated, Munoz hailed the outcome as proof that Puerto Ricans support commonwealth "as the only political form that is fully adapted to the needs of Puerto Rico."

Commonwealth received 425,981 votes, 60.5 per cent of the total; statehood received 273,315 votes, or 39.5 per cent, and independence received 4,204, six-tenths of one per cent.

Most independence groups boycotted the plebiscite.

Pre-election forecasts had said commonwealth would need at least 60 per cent for a clearcut victory.

The victory was seen as a personal triumph for Munoz, 69, four-time governor of the island and chief architect of the commonwealth link with the United States in 1952.

Johnson Dispatches Troops To Help Halt Detroit Riots

Five Killed, 1,000 Injured

DETROIT (AP) — President Johnson ordered federal troops into the Detroit area today to stand by to help quell two days of wild Negro rioting that has claimed five lives, injured hundreds and left many parts of the city a smoldering ruin.

Johnson announced dispatch of the troops less than two hours after Gov. George Romney and Mayor Jerome P. Cavanaugh wired a plea for help.

At the same time, the President ordered former Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus Vance to nearby Selfridge Air Force base where he is to determine the situation and whether to send the troops into the smoke-shrouded, debris-littered city.

'EAGLES' ALERTED

Johnson did not say where the troops were coming from but it was known that elements of the 101st Airborne, the crack "Screaming Eagles" division of World War II fame, and the 8th Army at Chicago had been alerted.

The 101st is stationed at Ft. Campbell, Ky., and is the division that went to Little Rock, Ark., for the riots that came with the desegregation of Little Rock Central High School almost 19 years ago.

The troops were due at Selfridge, about 20 miles northeast of Detroit, by nightfall.

The final decision on whether to send the troops into the beleaguered city lies with Johnson, but he vowed every needed assistance.

SNIPER FIRE

The regular troops would join more than 7,000 Michigan National Guardsmen, city and suburban police, and state police troopers who have braved sniper fire, fire bombs and missiles in trying to halt the violence.

In announcing his plea for federal help, Romney told newsmen experience had shown that the second night of racial violence "usually was worse than the first."

"Without help, the situation could become uncontrollable," he told newsmen.

The latest deaths were that of a Negro looter, shot down in a supermarket by a Negro guard, and that of an elderly Negro found burned to death in an alley on the city's East Side.

FIRE-BOMBING

The latter was the first death reported on the East Side, almost a dozen miles from where the rioting, looting and fire-bombing erupted early Sunday and took its heaviest toll in property damage and injuries.

Of the five dead only two were Negroes, the looter shot today and the East Side fire death.

The discovery of the body dramatically underlined the unique quality of Detroit's racial explosion — that it knows no bounds and is showering sparks of unrest over vast and not necessarily attached areas.

Most recent riots, like those Newark, Harlem, Rochester, N.Y., and the Watts section of Los Angeles were confined to Negro ghetto areas.

FEW SLUMS

There are no such places in Detroit although there are predominantly Negro sections. However, few of these are slums, including areas of the fiercest rioting.

The call for federal help came after Romney and Cavanaugh braved sniper fire to tour the stricken area that stretches seven miles outward from the downtown area.

On their return, Cavanaugh told newsmen the riots had been temporarily contained.

"But the looting and arson continues," said the mayor, "and I am concerned about what seems to be a carnival atmosphere."

Cavanaugh commented after touring the hardest hit sections of the near West Side and Northwest Side along with Gov. George Romney.

FIRES RAGE

They rode in an armored personnel carrier of the Michigan National Guard and were accompanied by heavily armed police and Guardsmen. There was sporadic sniper fire as they rode but none appeared directed at their armored cavalcade.

As the mayor and governor toured, fires still raged out of control in widely separated areas, but streets were deserted save for bayonet armed Guardsmen backed up by tanks and city and state police.

In the wake of 24 hours of terror and looting, many people apparently took the day off today and stayed out of the city.

BANKS CLOSED

Movie houses, bars, liquor stores, service stations and many other businesses connected with leisure were ordered closed Sunday night.

Many banks did not open. Schools were closed in much of (See DETROIT, P. 4-A, Col. 6)

Louisiana Negroes End Protest March

FRANKLINTON, La. (AP) — A Negro protest march, heavily guarded, ended here today after an uneventful 21-mile overnight walk from Bogalusa. The leader told the weary crowd that the march showed that such demonstrations no longer pack enough civil rights punch.

"We marched last year, and what he hell did it get us?" cried Lincolyn Lynch, associate national director of the Congress of Racial Equality. "Are we going to march year after year, until all these kids with us get bigger and bigger? Hell no."

NEW MOVEMENT
"There is a new movement," Lynch told the some 150 Negroes. "Some call it a movement of revolution, some call it Black Power, some call it black revolution. It is the same damn thing."

Lynch spoke from the steps of the parish county courthouse, telling the hushed Negroes lined up before him that "many of you are going to be asked to kill for freedom and you better be ready to."

WHITES WATCH
About 50 whites watched silently as the marchers held their climactic rally at the front of the courthouse.

The column started 290 strong Sunday afternoon. It dwindled to 125 at the Bogalusa city limits, to 45 during the night. Newcomers at dawn swelled the ranks.

The marchers were protected by city, state and parish authorities.

Appellate Court Upholds Condemnation Suit Finding

Ralph Gossett, James D. Gossett, and Elmer Tarbox have lost their appeal from a Howard County court jury finding in the condemnation of 2.9 acres of land needed for the current rebuilding of FM 700.

The appellate court Friday rejected the contentions of the landowners who protested the findings of the county court jury which awarded them $103,560 for their land. The original value pegged on the land by the special commissioners was $114,503. The owners had contended that they were damaged around $200,000 by the taking of the tract.

The condemnation was filed against the Tarbox - Gossett property at the corner of US 87 and FM 700—a particular tract of 2.9 acres of a three acre plot.

The landowners, rejecting the offer of the special commission, took the case to the county court. A jury there heard the evidence and fixed damages and value at $103,560 which was $10,642 under the original award.

The appeal was based on four major contentions.

OVERRULED
The landowners insisted the county had no jurisdiction to condemn the land, inasmuch as it is in the city limits. Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, and Gil

Jones, special attorney who appeared for the county, received a copy of the appeals court findings today. This first contention was overruled.

The landowners also protested that County Judge Lee Porter was disqualified to appoint commissioners to appraise the land and sit in the trial of the case because of his position as a member of the Howard County Commissioners Court. The appeals court dismissed this contention and said there was no showing that the judge had "any interest in the case other than as a taxpayer and as a member of the county commissioners court."

The landowners also hold title to a second tract south of that involved in this lawsuit, comprising 2.33 acres and an additional tract of 12 acres—all a part of the original piece of land.

Shotgun Injures Kill Dallas Teen

DALLAS (AP) — Charles Cring, 18, died today of injuries suffered Sunday when he was beaten on the head with the butt of a shotgun. Police questioned a teen-ager.

A lawsuit still pending on one corner of the 2.33 acres. The landowners argued the court here erred in not permitting evidence and judgment for damages to the 2.33 acres and the other land. This was also overruled by the appeals court.

FINAL
The final major complaint in the appeal was that the evidence was insufficient to justify the $103,560 verdict returned by the jury. The court of appeals held this was not well founded. It affirmed the findings of the lower court.

The landowners have the right to file a motion for rehearing of the appeal and this could likely by the next step. There still remains the trial of the suit over the damages to the 2.33 acres of land.

The landowners charged they had purchased the land with a plan to build a shopping center on it and that the reconstruction of FM 700 across the north end of the plot damages the entire area.

ATTORNEYS
H. P. Kucera and Ed Gossett, both of Dallas, and Bill H. Eysen, Big Spring, appeared for the landowners in the hearing in county court here.

The land has been taken over by the state and the road is being built through it at this time.

U.S. Troops Smash Red Viet Company

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese army patrolling the southern half of the demilitarized zone killed 25 North Vietnamese regulars Sunday about a mile inside the once-neutral area, a South Vietnamese spokesman said today.

Elsewhere, U.S. 4th Division Infantry with massive artillery support wiped out a North Vietnamese company in the central highlands near Pleiku, killing 124 of an estimated 150 enemy soldiers.

RAIL LINKS HIT

American pilots attacking North Vietnam struck north of Hanoi at the vital rail links with Red China. They reported no meetings with enemy MIGs and no losses to ground fire.

U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops first invaded the demilitarized zone in mid-May for a massive sweep of positions the Communists had in the southern half of the zone. After a running series of battles, the Americans and South Vietnamese withdrew. Since then, American troops have been back only once, but the South Vietnamese have made several patrols in and out of the zone, their headquarters disclosed today. The spokesman implied this was a regular thing and further patrolling in the zone could be expected.

22 YANKS DIE

The U.S. Command said 22 Americans were killed and 39 wounded in the action west of Pleiku and that eight enemy prisoners were taken. Most of the American losses occurred in a heavy enemy mortar and rocket barrage at the start of the four-hour engagement in the steaming jungle.

As an infantry patrol came into heavy initial contact, 4th Division artillerymen began a rain of 3,320 shells on the North Vietnamese.

120 MISSIONS

Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots flew 120 missions Sunday over North Vietnam despite spotty weather.

Puerto Ricans Hurl Bottles At Cops, Loot Shops

NEW YORK (AP) — Puerto Ricans spilling from crowded tenements spread violence through Spanish Harlem again early today, bottle-bombing police from streets and rooftops and looting stores from the edges of high-rise white neighborhoods to Negro Harlem.

More than 1,000 helmeted officers struggled for a second night to return calm to the Spanish-speaking area, cajoling crowds and moving them with their nightsticks at first, while avoiding arrests.

SUSPECTED SNIPER
Then officers fired a volley of about 15 shots at a suspected sniper atop a building, and cleared street corners with their nightsticks flailing.

A police official reported that the block on Third Avenue between 107th and 108th Streets, usually throbbing with Latin music, was "destroyed" and that "the only thing we can do is stop the looting."

Three policemen and one fireman were injured.

The disturbance did not cross into the smart, virtually all-white upper East Side or central Harlem with its enormous Negro population, the scene of racial rioting in 1964.

After six hours of incidents, the glass-littered streets were nearly deserted and the major part of the extra force was withdrawn. Police still cruised streets and men were stationed at many intersections. They reported only four arrests.

STORES OPEN
This morning when the area was quiet again, Mayor John V. Lindsay drove through and found conditions "virtually normal."

On the 30-minute tour, Lindsay saw some 40 broken store windows but most shopkeepers opened their stores as usual.

The renewed violence in "El Barrio," Spanish for "The Neighborhood" came late Sunday night as Puerto Rican leaders discussed with Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary a similar five-hour outbreak Saturday.

Lindsay had worked out a short-lived truce with community spokesmen after the first night's trouble.

But Puerto Ricans charged the city had gone back on its word by sending the riot-trained Tactical Patrol Force into the area again Sunday. The special elite corps consists of six-footers specially trained for such disturbances. They were rushed back to the scene when the first bottles began to fly shortly after 11 p.m. Sunday.

As the disturbance worsened, bars were ordered closed and all of Manhattan's patrolmen held over for extended duty. An entire workshift—about 500 men—from the Bronx were brought into the area, and police in the city's three other boroughs were frozen on duty for a while.

Police patrolling the mile-long stretch of street found protective grilles work torn from shops, their windows broken and display cases looted. The looters seemed to aim particularly at supermarkets, clothing and furniture stores.

The police commissioner called the trouble "a major disturbance," but said it had not reached the proportions of a riot.

FALSE RUMOR
Lindsay had come to the riot scene early Sunday morning and was able to converse calmly with the crowds. He told them that they had been misled by a false rumor that a white patrolman shot and killed a Puerto Rican in a dice game.

Lindsay said the Puerto Rican, Renaldo Rodriguez, had attempted to stab one of two off-duty officers and that the officer fired in self defense. The officers said they had come upon Rodriguez as he stood over another Puerto Rican brandishing a knife. Rodriguez had a record of eight previous arrests.

Lindsay met again with community leaders Sunday to hear their complaints about police brutality. An assistant was telling a group of Puerto Ricans that the city had "no intention of bringing in the TPF" at this time when violence broke out again Sunday night.

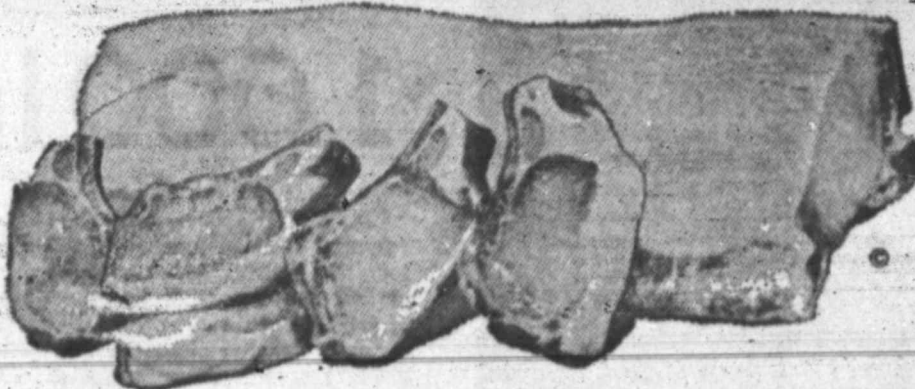

Spanish Harlem extends roughly from 96th Street and the East River west to Fifth Avenue and north to the Harlem River which divides the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx.

Rubber Pact Is Ratified

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A three-year contract with the B. F. Goodrich Co. was ratified Sunday by United Rubber Workers in Akron and Woodburn, Ind.

A spokesman for URW Local 5 here said the standing vote was "about 3,000 for and 25 against."

Kenon Cecil, vice president of Local 715 at Woodburn, said the contract was ratified by a solid majority on a standing vote of about 700 members.

A company spokesman said many of the Woodburn plant's 800 employees would not return to their jobs for several days. Goodrich employees here already have resumed work. The company also has plants in Marietta, Ohio; Clarksville, Tenn.; Oaks, Pa.; Miami, Okla.; Riverside, N.J.; Tuscaloosa, Ala.; and Los Angeles.

URW locals here and in Waco, Tex., have ratified a similar contract with the General Tire & Rubber Co.

The union also has reached a tentative agreement with the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., but URW locals, representing Firestone employees have not held ratification votes.

Contracts with the three companies are basically the same, calling for a 43-cent hourly wage increase over the three years, plus 10 cents an hour for skilled workers. The top hourly rate is now $3.88.

The settlements also provide 80 per cent of normal pay in supplemental benefits for laid off workers, more vacation, an improved pension plan and increased company-paid life insurance.

Meanwhile, talks continued at Cincinnati in an effort to reach a settlement between the URW and the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and Uniroyal, Inc. The two companies employ about 43,000 of the 71,000 URW members.

Greek Pop Fans Are Disappointed

DELPHI, Greece (AP)—Greek pop fans waited for eight hours at this ancient town Sunday to see the Beatles, but they barely got a glimpse.

"That's not very polite of them not to have stopped," said one boy, who had traveled four hours from Athens to see the British group.

The Beatles were to attend an English-language performance of Aeschylus' tragedy, "Agamemnon." But as they drove up to the site of the famed Delphi Oracle, drummer Ringo Starr hopped from a car and shouted, "There are many people here."

With that, the foursome pulled away, leaving behind some 50 disappointed fans.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Monday, July 24, 1967 3-A war-crippled Egypt to struggle against Israel, but Nasser says the door is still open for a political settlement.

In a broadcast speech Sunday night, Nasser said he had "no objection to conferring with the Americans" on restoring peace to the Middle East and had instructed Egypt's United Nations delegation "to meet with the Americans if feasible."

CLAIM DROPPED
Nasser's speech, his first in six weeks, was considered surprisingly restrained in tone.

LONG STRUGGLE
Observers believed the mildness reflected a willingness to cooperate with any country that would help push the Israelis out of occupied Arab territory.

Minor Mishaps
Two traffic mishaps reported during the weekend resulted in minor damage. Third and Main was the scene of an accident between Bobbie Gene Brumley, Gall Rt., and Bernice B. Shiflet, 2507 Rebecca. The Webb Air Security Guard reported two signs knocked down. A one-way sign on Airport and Abilene and a stop sign at Airport and FM 700 were apparently run over by an automobile.

Attorney Named
State Bar president Thomas M. Phillips of Houston has named Big Spring attorney Jack N. Little to the bar's committee to improve justice court justice. Little's appointment is for one year.

for Arab solidarity. He said they have the choice of "unconditional submission or to struggle on and the masses choose to struggle."

"If it comes to war, he said, we are less determined than the people of Vietnam," but admitted the struggle would be long and very hard.

To strengthen Egypt for this eventuality, Nasser said, "We shall ask for fresh sacrifices." Acknowledging that the Arabs' defeat was "bigger than expected," he said his new austerity budget would "help us withstand economic pressures."

Calf Tour Was Successful

Paul Gross, county agent, said that the calf tour Saturday proved one of the best in several years.

More than 75 were on the trip. Stops were made at the homes of all of the boys and girls in the 4-H Clubs who are feeding calves for shows this fall and winter.

In addition to a large number of local people, he said that representatives from Lubbock, Gaines, Martin, Coleman, Garza and Shackelford counties attended.

The tour moved on schedule and the visitors dined at the City Park at noon.

He said the quality of the calves being fed this year is high and that the young feeders appear to be doing an excellent job of preparing their stock.

Minister Abba Eban said he feared recent Soviet military aid to the vanquished Arabs would lead to a "break in the shaky cease-fire."

Inspector Sees County Jail

A federal jail inspector has completed a periodic check of the Howard County jail and has given the establishment an A-1 rating, Sheriff A. N. Standard said.

The inspector suggested one change in jail procedure which Standard said he would adopt.

This deals with the handling of mail to the prisoners and mail written by them to persons outside. It is the practice, as in all jails, such mail is opened and read by the officials before being passed beyond the office of the sheriff.

The inspector suggested that it would be advisable to inform each prisoner of the operation and by use of a stamp, indicate on his jail card (with his signature attached) that he agreed to such inspection of personal mail.

This deals with the handling of mail to the prisoners and mail written by them to persons outside. It is the practice, as in all jails, such mail is opened and read by the officials before being passed beyond the office of the sheriff.

The inspector suggested that it would be advisable to inform each prisoner of the operation and by use of a stamp, indicate on his jail card (with his signature attached) that he agreed to such inspection of personal mail.

Trucks Collide Near Coahoma

An empty cattle truck, traveling east, collided with a refrigerator truck early Monday on IS 20, one mile west of the city limits of Coahoma, the sheriff's office reported.

The sheriff's office was told that the fruit truck, en route to South Carolina, was halted at the shoulder while the driver checked his tires. The cattle truck, empty, was en route to Mexico. The driver was blinded by the morning sun and did not see the parked truck. Both vehicles were extensively damaged, but no one was injured.

In Tel Aviv, Israel's minister of labor, Yigal Allon, said his country would have to establish its own arms industry because foreign powers could not be relied on for a continuous supply of weapons and parts.

Police Cars Are Delivered

Delivery of nine police cars, costing slightly over $23,000, was made at intervals last week by Bob Brock Ford Co. to the city, according to assistant city manager Roy Anderson.

Payment of a new sanitation truck costing $5,797 and a traffic signal truck listed at $2,516 was also made by the city since the two vehicles have been delivered to companies for fitting special equipment. Anderson said the sanitation truck is in San Antonio and he expected it to arrive in 10 days. The traffic signal truck is being fitted with a utility body and lift bucket in Arlington. Delivery should be within three weeks, he said.

The new police cars have many safety features, including power disc brakes and power steering, according to Jay Banks, chief of police.

Anderson said 10 vehicles traded in on the new cars had a value listed at $4,900.

Committees Making Plans

Mrs. David Elrod, of the Child Study Club committee working on the child welfare program, will speak to the Business and Professional Women's Club today at 7:30 p.m. Meeting in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. Mrs. Elrod will explain the plans of the committee.

Members of the committee and the Chamber of Commerce public health and safety committee met last Thursday to make plans. The committees will meet again Thursday to continue work on the welfare plan.

Also meeting Thursday was the chamber's agricultural committee: Bill Fryrear, manager of the U.S. Field Station, reported that through contacts with Washington, more interest has been shown in making the U.S. Field Station a five-state regional research and scientific center for sandy land soil.

The group voted to make one award to the person with the first bale of cotton. A $500 award will be presented to the owner of the first bale, replacing the previous $300 award for the first bale and $200 for the second bale to be grown and ginned in Howard County.

Vaccination Day Set At Coahoma

COAHOMA — Dr. Joe Neff, Big Spring veterinarian, will be at the Coahoma fire station from 1 to 5 p.m. Thursday, July 27, to administer rabies vaccine to dogs and other animals owned by Coahomans. It was announced at the city hall today.

The vaccination is required under a city ordinance and all owners of pets are urged to take their pets to the fire station and have them protected against rabies. The regular fee for vaccination will be charged.

There have been some incidents dealing with possibly rabid animals and the Coahoma city officials plan to enforce the vaccination ordinance.

The fire station adjoins the city hall.

Jerry Jones Jr., Pollard Chevrolet Co., kept awards in the family as his model received trophies for the best built out-of-town entry and best interior design. David Bryan won a trophy for the best brakes, representing State National Bank.

Three other contestants from Big Spring were Tony Stewart, Texas Electric Service Co.; Gene Lee, State Farm Insurance; Edgar Gresham, Big Spring Savings and Loan Association. Clady Bryan represented Big Spring in the Queen contest.

Copter Pact Is Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee charges the Army with questionable awarding of a helicopter contract and says the Navy and Air Force should at least temporarily take on the research and development of Army aircraft.

The Armed Services subcommittee mentioned interservice jealousies, close personal relationships between Army and industry representatives, and lavish entertainment as it attacked awarding of the contract to Hughes Tool Co.

It also said in the report released Sunday after a 10-month probe that Hughes might lose $40 million on the deal. "Personal feelings and interservice jealousies played an overriding part in the formative stages of this procurement and directed it on a course which eventually led to the Hughes Tool Co.," said the report from the subcommittee headed by Rep. Porter Hardy Jr., D-Va.

"The existence of close personal relationships between the Army and industry representatives resulted in departures from established procurement procedures and placed the Army in the position of having many of its decisions suspect."

Overtaxed firemen, forced by lack of manpower and the danger of snipers, were forced to let many fires go unchecked. Whole blocks in widely separated sections of the West and Northwest Side burned on into the day.

More than 1,000 people were arrested, some of them whites who joined the looting as the day and night of rioting wore on.

"The tunnel and bridge to Canada, however, which lies across the day."

Five thefts reported to police during the weekend are under investigation today. An early morning theft today at Jiffy Car Wash, 807 W. 4th, was discovered by a police officer. Missing was one small transistor radio.

Garland Griffith, 716 Hillside, said tools on the front seat of his car, when it was stolen, were still missing when officers recovered the auto. A tachometer valued at $15 was taken from the car of Greg Shepherd, 1509 E. 17th, while parked at the Northside ball park.

Two pounds of bacon — value $1.78 — were taken from Saver Grocery, 311 NW 4th, by a shoplifter apprehended by city police. Kimmie J. Long, 1700 Settles St., reported that $120 in $20 bills was taken from his clothing while he was swimming at Moss Creek Lake. Police later found the billfold minus the greenbacks.

Mrs. A. H. Bugg, member of a family prominent in earlier-day business life in Big Spring, died early Monday in Amarillo at age 81. She had been in failing health for over a year.

In 1919 she and her late husband, Almur H. Bugg, settled on a ranch in what is now the northwest edge of Big Spring and lived there for 42 years. Mr. Bugg helped establish the Bugg Brothers Grocery Store in 1934, and in 1937 he established a meat packing plant on the Andrews Highway.

He sold a part of his land for the site of the Big Spring State Hospital, and moved to a ranch in Tucumcari, N. M. Mr. Bugg died Jan. 28, 1956. Mrs. Bugg returned to live in the ranch home here until 1961, when the new route for Interstate 20 took a portion of the land, and the meat packing plant was demolished to make way for this construction. When the family moved to the area, it was all ranchland. Mrs. Bugg moved to Amarillo six years ago.

She was born Feb. 10, 1886, in Coleman County and moved with her parents to Sterling County in 1898. She and Mr. Bugg were married in 1905 and homesteaded ranch property in Reeves County before coming here.

Survivors include three sisters, Mrs. Lila Davis, Sunset, Mrs. Beesie Weatherly, Terrell, Okla., Mrs. Hazel Dukes, El Paso; three brothers, Arthur Shortes, and Millard Shortes, both of Big Spring; two aunts, Mrs. J. W. Walker and Mrs. Mae Shortes, both of Big Spring.

Detroit Riots

the city. The two major universities—Wayne State and the University of Detroit—called off classes.

Cavanagh and Romney said they expected at least 8,000 Guardsmen in the city by early afternoon to join the 1,000 city, suburban and State police already here.

CHANGES MIND
Poised to beef up these forces was a division of regular Army troops, alerted Sunday night.

Romney earlier today asked for the federal troops, then changed his mind "because of the situation elsewhere in the country."

It was an apparent reference to a weekend of racial unrest that saw flareups in Birmingham, Ala., New York's Harlem and Rochester, N.Y.

As Cavanagh and Romney toured, smoke still rose from the blocks-long sections, torched by looters in an area that extended from the swank shops of downtown to slums up to seven miles from center of the city.

The entire riot area is predominantly Negro. Negroes make up about 30 per cent of the city's 1.7 million people.

TRUPOUS READY
In Romney's earlier call for federal help, he said troops of the 5th Army at Chicago would be in the city by early afternoon.

Major Bill Dansby, public relations officer for the Michigan National Guard, said later that 5th Army officers were expected in Detroit later this morning to review the situation.

Dansby said, however, that if federal troops are brought to the city they probably would come from the 161st Airborne Division at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Thousands of Negroes rampaged through the nation's fifth largest city Sunday and today, defying a massive array of police and National Guardmen as they turned miles of homes and businesses into a wasteland of fire and looting.

At least three people were dead and scores hospitalized as dawn broke over a city that Gov. Romney said "looked like it had been bombed."

As day broke, mobs evaporated and the littered streets appeared deserted. Isolated shots rang out throughout the area, however, and the occasional breaking of glass and nearby constant ringing of burglar alarms could be heard.

City Fire Chief Charles Quinlan issued a list of statistics he said makes the rioting "probably the most expensive from a damage standpoint in the history of the nation."

FLAMES UNCHECKED
Quinlan's list included: the three dead, plus 450 injured, eight by gunfire, but apparently none critically; more than 1,000 stores looted; 200 fires; more than $100 million property damage.

Overtaxed firemen, forced by lack of manpower and the danger of snipers, were forced to let many fires go unchecked. Whole blocks in widely separated sections of the West and Northwest Side burned on into the day.

More than 1,000 people were arrested, some of them whites who joined the looting as the day and night of rioting wore on.

Dons From Texas Paired In Playoff For PGA Title

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — It was an all-Texas extra act finale today as Don January and Don Massengale squared off in an 18-hole playoff for the rich PGA Golf Championship.

January, who learned to play golf on the sand greens of his native Jacksboro, Tex., finished in a tie at 281, seven strokes under par for the regular 72 holes.

When it was all over, and the two tall Texans emerged to play it off for the $25,000 and $15,000 awaiting the winner and runner-up, U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus, with a last round 71, and Dan Sikes, 73, were tied at 282.

Defending champion Al Geiberger, 70, and Julius Boro, 68, were tied at 283, while mired at 287, after a disappointing 74, was Arnold Palmer.

Cokes-Harris' Dallas Bout Still In Doubt For Tonight

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Some say they will, more say they won't, and there might not even be a showdown at noon (CDT) as anticipated on whether world's welterweight champion Curtis Cokes puts his title on the line against Gypsy Joe Harris tonight.

Hayles naturally won't pay it since he contends he already has overpaid Cokes under a contract that says $35,000 or 40 per cent and the Pavilla fight took in only about $23,000, Hayles claims to have paid Cokes $15,000. Forty per cent would be $9,200.

weight, Reddish says his fighter was seven pounds over the 149-pound limit. Whether Cokes would have trouble making it isn't known since he has kept himself away from everybody since Friday.

Noon is when weigh-in ceremonies are scheduled and promoter Kenneth Hayles of the Greater Dallas Sports Association expects Harris and Cokes to be there although Cokes hasn't said he would be and Harris' manager reported pressure to prevent bringing his boy to Dallas.

Hayles said he talked with Willie Reddish, Harris' manager, at Philadelphia Sunday night and Reddish said one caller had even impersonated Hayles and told him not to come. "But I told Reddish he had a contract with me to have Harris here and he promised he would arrive at 11:10 a.m.," said Hayles.

But if the two should show and be weighed and one or both are over the limit, it apparently would be up to Cokes whether he wanted to fight a non-title affair.

Underwood's Birdie Wins Trans-Miss

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Hal Underwood, 21-year-old red-head from Del Rio, Tex., who narrowly missed defeat in earlier rounds, won the Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament Sunday, defeating Larry Hinson of Douglas, Ga. 3 and 2 in the final match.

Underwood, a star of the University of Houston golf team, shot his way to a three-hole advantage in the first half of his 36-hole match with Hinson, only to see the Georgian battle back to a tie after the 24th hole. The Texan then won the next two holes with a birdie and a par, took the 33rd hole with a par and then led the match by hanging a 40-foot chip shot on the lip of the 34th hole for a birdie.

"This is the biggest tournament I've ever won," the University of Houston senior told newsmen.

Underwood said his putting was good all day and won the match for him.

The Texan was almost eliminated Saturday in his semifinal round with Ron Schmedemann of Manhattan, Kan. Underwood was six down at one point in the 36-hole match, but battled back to win the final hole 1 up. Underwood's second round match went to the third playoff hole before he managed to win.

A total 181 golfers teed off in the tournament last Monday, when the first of two qualification rounds were held. The 64 low qualifiers started match elimination play on Wednesday.

Contests Begin In Pan Am Games

WINNIPEG (AP) — Competition opened in 10 sports today as 2,400 athletes from 28 countries began their struggle for gold medals in the fifth Pan-American Games.

Only one gold medal was to be decided today, in free pistol shooting, and that was expected to be a tossup between the United States and host Canada.

Cuba and the United States had their first confrontation of the games tonight in the baseball opener at the nearby city of Carman.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Jim Wynn had a home run record and Rusty Staub held his National League batting lead today but otherwise the Houston Astros had little to cheer about after Sunday's doubleheader with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Wynn's two home runs in the first game bettered Houston's season mark of 24 set by Roman Mejias in 1964. His second homer, his 25th of the year, drove in three runs and provided the winning margin.

Staub rapped four hits, including a pair of doubles in the opener, in six at bats to raise his average to .358. His closest pursuer, Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh, went 4 for 8 and dropped to .353.

Infelders Sweep Cards Back Into Top Position

The St. Louis Cardinals got just one twin killing from two double play combinations today but Red Schoendienst couldn't have asked for more.

Manager Schoendienst platooned the second base-shortstop positions in Sunday's doubleheader against Atlanta and neither the Julian Javier-Ed Bressoud team nor the Phil Gagliano-Dal Maxville tandem could turn over a double play.

Gene Burrow—Owner Gene's AUTOMOTIVE SERVICE 511 Gregg Specializing In Mercury—Lincoln—Comet Service On All Makes Complete Air Conditioning Service. Tuneup—Brake, Engine And Transmission. 267-5254 Nights 267-6025

But all four infielders played key roles in a 3-1, 7-3 sweep that carried the Cardinals back into sole possession of the National League lead.

Javier's fifth inning homer, after a walk to Bressoud, decided the opener and Maxville's seventh inning single delivered the go-ahead run in the nightcap after Gagliano homered in the fifth for a 3-3 tie.

The double victory sent St. Louis one game ahead of the Chicago Cubs, who dropped their doubleheader opener to San Francisco 5-2 before rebounding for a 6-3 victory over the Giants. Pittsburgh split a pair with Houston, bombing the Astros 15-2 after an 8-5 first-game loss; Cincinnati nipped Philadelphia 2-1 and the New York Mets trimmed Los Angeles 4-1 in other games.

Javier's two-run homer gave left-hander Steve Carlton a 3-0 lead in the opener at St. Louis but he needed relief help from Rob Willis in the eighth after Felipe Alou homered.

Alou led off the nightcap with another homer and right-hander Ed Rakow retired the Cards in order until the fifth while nursing a 3-0 lead. Then Tim McCarver drew a walk, Mike Shannon blasted a two-run homer and Gagliano followed with his second homer of the season, tying the score.

Maxville broke the deadlock in the seventh with his hit to left after a single by Shannon and Gagliano's sacrifice bunt. Willis, who hurled two more shut-out innings for his second save of the day, doubled across two runs as the Cards wrapped it up with a four-run eighth inning burst.

Two Tragedies Take 8 Texans

By The Associated Press
Texas counted 37 violent deaths during the weekend, including 20 persons killed in traffic accidents.
Two tragedies each claimed four lives—a highway crash near Paris and a residential fire in Sherman.

Also recorded between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday were eight drownings and half a dozen fatalities from other causes.

PARIS SMASH UP

A collision 10 miles north of Paris on US 271 about 11:30 p.m. Sunday killed Larry Bradford, 19, of Blossom, Tex., and Tommy Kelly, 24, Stanley C. Frierson, 33, and Betty Lou Jefferson, 27, all of Paris.

The Sherman blaze in a two-story home took the lives Saturday of Nancy Nell Smith, 29, and her children—John, 10, Steven, 8, Suzanne, 5, and Julia, 4.

DALLAS DROWNING

These were among the others dying violently:
A car struck and killed Cornelius A. Van Altena, 53, crewman of a Dutch freighter, on a Houston street shortly before midnight Sunday. Another sailor suffered injuries.

Charles E. Brown, 21, of Dallas drowned in North Lake, in Northwest Dallas County, while swimming ashore Sunday night from a stalled boat. Two companions made it safely.

A Denison man was killed Sunday when his car, traveling north in a southbound traffic lane, struck a bridge railing. He was David Earl Kirkpatrick, 27. Witnesses said the bridge railing pushed his body into the auto's rear trunk.

SHOT TO DEATH

Robert J. Casanova, 30, and Mrs. Charlene Walker, 25, were shot to death Sunday in the Houston suburb of Pasadena. Neighbors found the bodies in Miss Walker's new apartment soon after hearing shots. There was no immediate inquest verdict.

Two young girls drowned in the Lower Rio Grande Valley Sunday. Near Los Indios, Maria Blanca Estrella, 13, of San Bonito was pronounced dead after her body was pulled from the Rio Grande.

GIRL MISSING

Maria Dolores Rodriguez, 8, was still listed as missing because her body had not been recovered from the river. Both girls were the daughters of Mrs.

Texans Blast Red Targets

SAIGON (AP) — Texans were in the thick of the air fight Saturday as Air Force pilots continued strafing and bombing North Vietnamese positions.
A Robstown man, 1st Lt. William R. Parr, 25, was among the strike pilots that destroyed or damaged 18 fortified positions in a strike about 300 miles north of Saigon.

Maj. Eugene L. Weidel, 37, of Beaumont turned in an effective job as he flew his 100th mission against a supply and storage area 18 miles northwest of Dong Hoi.

One of Parr's companions on the strike far to the north of Saigon said: "The target was on a small island in a river delta and the FAC—forward air controller—had been picking up intense ground fire from the area."

"Parr dropped part of his ordnance on the camp, causing the largest of our secondary explosions. Smoke and dust rose to more than 400 feet."

The Robstown pilot's group set off three secondary explosions and started a big fire in its strike.
Weidel, commenting on his 100th mission, said: "The storage supplies were out in the open."

In The Valley

Bill Denny looks at the cave-in site over an abandoned lead and zinc mine area where his house collapsed early Saturday at Picher, Okla. Electricity lines were not broken and his lights remained on after he climbed out of the depression of more than 30 feet. Also relatively undamaged by their appearance in the picture were three cars. (AP WIRE-PHOTO)

Connally Hopes To Bag Leopard

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Texas Gov. John Connally is in Africa and hopes to bag a leopard during his one-month safari.
Connally arrived in Nairobi Sunday but the safari was delayed for two days because of bush fires. While here he was a guest of film star William Holden at the Mount Kenya Safari Club.

On his arrival Connally said he had left his family and state problems in Texas, adding "I have been planning this thing seven months now and after pushing through all our necessary legislation in June I hope I won't be disturbed too often."
The Democratic governor said his visit to East Africa is "strictly unofficial" and that he has no plans to meet with political leaders. But he said if the opportunity arose for him to meet the presidents of Kenya or Tanzania "I would be greatly honored."

RADIO DISCS TOO POPULAR?

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Disc jockeys at Sarasota radio station WKXY were wondering Sunday if the records they play might be too popular.

Before dawn Sunday, burglars entered the station. They ignored thousands of records in the library, but took 150 discs that are on the station's current play list.

Young Negro Gunned Down

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A young Negro was shot to death early today by police who said he was running from the scene of a downtown break-in and ignored warnings to "halt."

Police said the dead man was about 20.
Patrolmen Wade Hunley and Bob Hunley said both fired at the fleeing man.

The death occurred about 10 hours before a previously announced civil rights march, sponsored by a Nashville college and Youth Division of the NAACP, was scheduled to begin on the courthouse and state capitol.

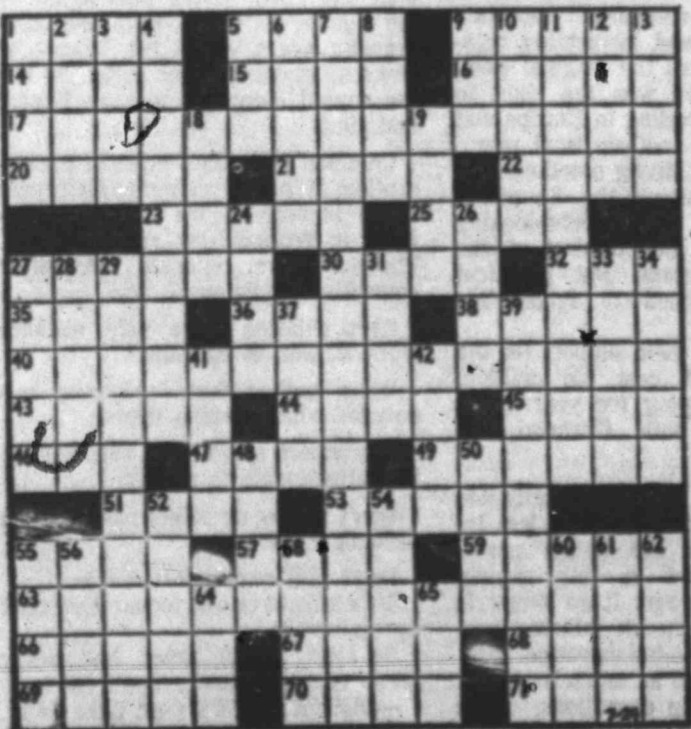

The demonstration was announced last week as a peaceful protest march against some policies of Nashville and the handling by state officials of reported shortages in the accounts at Tennessee A&I State University.

The march was the first organized civil rights protest by Negroes and the shooting was the first shooting incident involving police and Negroes since student rioting in Nashville's Negro college section early in April.

A Devotional For The Day

Though I walk in the midst of trouble, thou wilt revive me. (Psalm 138:7)

PRAYER: Loving heavenly Father, we thank Thee for Thy goodness to us in the past. Be with us today. We beseech Thee to meet our need and forgive our sins of thought, word, and deed. In the name of Christ, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

(From the "Upper Room")

Broad But Still Good

Ford Motor Co. officials probably have little difficulty restraining any enthusiasm over the prospect of a set-to with Ralph Nader. They have probably been satisfied with Nader directing his main criticism against General Motors.

Any uneasiness at Ford arises from a request Nader has made to inspect the correspondence between the National Traffic Safety Bureau and Ford about calling back Cougar cars to the factory. Under the freedom of information act passed by Congress that became effective July 4 that correspondence presumably is open to public inspection.

Ford is not alone. The American Consumers Union would like to read the opinions given by government agencies on the quality of such products as hearing aids, light bulbs and automobile tires. One member of Congress reportedly believes that the new law will permit him to look at X-rays taken at the autopsy of President John F. Kennedy.

The freedom of information law is obviously quite a bit broader than many people suspected. It will not just open more records for inspection by the press to inform the public. It will open records for fishing expeditions by anyone who is curious enough to pay a fee for file-searching.

The over-all effect of the law is certain to be wholesome, though. The bureaucracy will no longer be able to hide its blunders from the public on the human, but no longer legal, grounds that they want to keep them secret.

Second Thoughts

One of the unexpected prizes captured by Israel during its six-day blitz of the Arabs was six Soviet SA-2B missiles, intact with launching ramps, electronic equipment, radar, computers and guidance system. The SA-2B is reported to be the basic defense system against aircraft in the Soviet Union.

Presumably by now United States technicians have been permitted to inspect the captured surface-to-air missiles and accompanying launch and guidance gear. This would permit the United States to prepare countermeasures to outwit the system. This might be exceptionally valuable to our Air Force in its bombing campaign in North Vietnam, where SA-2Bs are reportedly in place.

Russian military experts must be having second thoughts on the subject of rearming their Arab friends, particularly with the latest technical advances in weaponry.

David Lawrence A Formula For Major Strikes

WASHINGTON — It may be confidently predicted that there will not be a nationwide railroad strike again. The formula which has just been put into effect by an act of Congress has been called "compulsory arbitration." But it does not really become so unless collective bargaining processes have been fully utilized and until a board of experienced labor and business mediators — appointed by the President — has endeavored to bring both sides together. It is only when no agreement is reached between the parties themselves that the terms of settlement proposed by the independent commission become final and binding.

LAST WEEK'S action by Congress, therefore, is a definitive step forward. Up to now, the labor unions have assumed that they could threaten a strike and invite presidential intercession in the hope of getting more favorable terms than seemed possible by their own negotiations.

Just three years ago, Mr. Johnson tried a different tack. As one veteran negotiator at that time put it, the President "took personal charge of the actual negotiations, and kept them right in the White House." But the same negotiator added:

"NOW, THIS means that when the next big dispute develops, the industry and union will expect Mr. Johnson to take over the job of mediating it. They will be afraid to work out their own agreement if they think he may call them in for White House peace-making."

THIS IS precisely what has developed during the current dispute. The labor side seemed sure that, even if the President threatened compulsory arbitration, Congress would back it. After three boards had worked almost a year on negotiations, Mr. Johnson submitted, on May 4, a recommendation to Congress which contained a threat of compulsory arbitration. The Senate passed the bill, but the House eliminated the portion that would have assured a final resolution.

In Job 24:22 it says: "No man is sure of life." However, you say we can be sure of eternal life. Isn't this a contradiction? R. F. Job, of course, is speaking of temporal life. He is not speaking of everlasting life here at all. However, a great lesson can be taken from this text. If no man can be sure of temporal life, then we should not set our affections upon things here one earth. Jesus said, "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth." The Apostle Paul said: "This is not our resting place." Life may slip from our grasp in a moment.

Another lesson we can learn is to make the most of life while it lasts. The Bible indicates that we are to be up and doing. The night may shut down in the twinkling of an eye. The Bible admonishes that we are to redeem the time.

However, concerning eternal life, the Bible says in I John 5:15: "These things are written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God that ye may know that ye have eternal life." All the way through, the Bible indicates that you can be absolutely certain of your everlasting home.

ducts as hearing aids, light bulbs and automobile tires. One member of Congress reportedly believes that the new law will permit him to look at X-rays taken at the autopsy of President John F. Kennedy.

The freedom of information law is obviously quite a bit broader than many people suspected. It will not just open more records for inspection by the press to inform the public. It will open records for fishing expeditions by anyone who is curious enough to pay a fee for file-searching.

The over-all effect of the law is certain to be wholesome, though. The bureaucracy will no longer be able to hide its blunders from the public on the human, but no longer legal, grounds that they want to keep them secret.

lution of the dispute. The case had dragged on through all last year in anticipation of presidential intercession and more favorable terms than collective bargaining could achieve.

THE BIG QUESTION now is what steps will be taken to deal with nationwide disputes before they become full-fledged strikes. More attention undoubtedly will have to be given to measures that will forestall work stoppages which damage the public interest. Except in wartime, Congress has rarely interfered with strikes, no matter how far-reaching their effects happened to be. The legislation just enacted applies only to the railroads and for a specified period of time.

Will Congress eventually give the President authority to intervene in the same way before any serious strike is called and to proclaim that the terms set by an independent board must be accepted and that no strike will be permitted?

Everyone agrees that air pollution is a hazard, but not many understand the cost of cleaning up the aerial sewers. The Mobil Oil Corporation has just published a "Primer on Air Pollution" which dramatically outlines the dilemma.

First, the automobile. Sixty-five per cent of the noxious fumes from a car come out the exhaust pipe. To turn poisonous monoxide into harmless carbon dioxide may require afterburners, so far an expensive device.

"Blow-by" — fumes that escape through the crankcase — have accounted for about 20 per cent of auto pollution. These are now well controlled in the new cars. But another 15 per cent of fumes comes from evaporating gasoline emanating from hot carburetors. This may require a shielded fuel system.

Industrial plants are the No. 2 offender. Natural gas emits little pollution. But smoke from fuel oils and coals that are high in sulfur content combines with moisture in the air to produce a sulfuric acid smog that eats paint, pits stone and is hard on human lungs.

It would cost 50 cents a ton to lower three per cent sulfur coal to two per cent. It would cost 50 cents a barrel to reduce 2½ per cent sulfur heavy fuel oil down to one per cent. We burn about 650 million barrels of heavy fuel in the United States yearly. The cost of reducing the sulfur in oil, alone, would thus be $325 million a year.

The sad fact is that it is cheap to pollute, but vastly expensive to clean up.

UNION LABOR will, of course, oppose any measures that could weaken its right to strike. The argument is that employers will refuse to make concessions when they know the government will intervene. The damage to the public interest has been growing as unions have insisted upon industry-wide action instead of selective strikes. This type of collective bargaining in a big industry is a form of monopoly, and someday Congress may decide to prohibit it as a violation of the antitrust laws. For certainly a uniform settlement fixes the costs for all companies within an industry and indirectly tends to fix prices.

Dear Dr. Molner: What causes keratosis? Should they be removed? Is there danger of their becoming cancerous?

I have removed four by using a cuticle file to rub off the scale. They kept getting smaller and finally disappeared. After six months they have not returned. The skin is clear. I have applied alcohol after rubbing them.

Is this practice dangerous from the standpoint of their becoming cancerous? — MRS. H.E.D.

A keratosis is a localized thickening of the skin. It usually occurs in an area that has been much exposed to the sun and wind, as face and hands, but can occur at times virtually anywhere.

One type, known as senile keratosis, occurs in aging skin, a result of exposure or some other irritative factor plus changes in the skin which come with aging. Do not let the word "senile" mislead you, however. They develop in middle age as well as in later years.

James Marlow They're Living In A Dream World

WASHINGTON (AP)—Almost 1,000 Negroes at the Black Power conference in Newark, N.J.—some of them in African-type clothing, earrings and sandals—wound up going beyond the kind of white prejudice which has made them bitter.

They adopted a series of resolutions setting up their own brand of antiwhite prejudice as a way of life. They even approved religious bigotry. Christianity was called a white religion.

AND ONE resolution said: "Every black church and all religious institutions that do not join the black revolution shall be boycotted, ostracized, criticized, publicized and rejected by the black community."

The delegates called for a study of the possibility of splitting the United States into two nations—one white, one black. The basic tone of the conference was separatist.

But there was a huge fallacy in this, which the delegates didn't face up to.

THE CONFERENCE was held to see if Negroes of varying views could decide what "Black Power" meant and how it could be put into action. The words were first used by Stokely Carmichael in 1966 in Mississippi.

But he wasn't any help to the conference in explaining what he meant by the phrase in the first place. He never has exactly explained it. And while the conference struggled over it he was in England preaching the "Black Power" gospel.

ONE BRITISH newspaper, the London Daily Sketch, called on the government to prosecute or deport him. The paper quoted him as telling an audience in England: "It is time to let the whites know we are going to take over. If they don't like it, we will stamp them out—using violence and other means necessary."

Not all Negro organizations—for example, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People—were officially represented at the conference.

ONLY A week ago at its national convention the NAACP condemned the Newark riots—although blaming the city administration for not doing enough to meet the "grave social ills of the Negro community"—and called upon all "law-abiding citizens of both races to act promptly and sternly to put down such violence."

The Newark conference adopted a resolution against the Army draft of Negroes for service in Vietnam and one calling for a guaranteed annual income, with a threat of "massive efforts to disrupt the economy" if it is not granted.

THIS IS where the fallacy shows up. If, instead of an interdependent society, the Newark delegates want Negroes to have separate lives, how totally separate do they want them?

They could hardly want it total even though they want to explore the possibility of separate nations.

For instance: One resolution called for selective buying to force job upgrading and a nationwide "buy black" move.

BUT IF whites adopted the same attitude to shut out Negroes—for instance, refusing to employ them—what would the delegates propose as an answer to it? They didn't go into that. They ignored that side of the problem.

Holmes Alexander Fear Of The Supreme Court

WASHINGTON — Some countries fear their military or their secret police — but America '67 fears its Supreme Court.

How can you tell that black-robed elite are going to do next? Spring more criminals? Abolish more protections? Throw down more altars? Rewrite more laws? Chew more clauses out of the Constitution? Maybe, as a former vice president once said, the American people are too dumb to understand, but I wouldn't bet on that. I would bet that the outcropping of evidence at the top in testimony before the U.S. Senate — says something about a swelling concern among the people themselves.

AT THIS WRITING the Senate Judiciary Committee is getting such testimony in two separate hearings. The main body is examining the nomination of Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall to be an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. The uneasiness that the senators feel about Marshall is not — as the liberal press insinuates — that he belongs to a minority group. The uneasiness lies in his attitude.

THE HULKING, chain-smoking Baltimore barrister is a left-leaning tower of judicial nihilism. He has been a know-nothing before the committee when asked about his beliefs in the Constitutional restraints. It doesn't matter that he'll be the only colored man on the Supreme Court. It matters a lot that he'll tip the court's balance still more precariously in the bias that has made it fearsome to the American people.

THERE'S THE judiciary subcommittee under Sen. Birch Bayh (D. Ind.) which is studying Constitutional amendments. You might think that such a subcommittee is an unlikely place to detect fear of the Supreme Court, but the outcropping is there just the same. Bayh's panel is examining proposals on what to do about the electoral college. There are these four options:

WE CAN LEAVE the electoral college system alone, despite the proof that its winner-take-all method does not reflect minority votes within the states and sometimes produces presidents with less than a majority of the popular vote. We can adopt an amendment whereby it's winner-take-all within each congressional district instead of within each state. Or we can cut it still finer and adopt a method whereby the presidential electoral vote is divided proportionally, down to a tiny fraction, between the leading national candidates. Finally, we can throw baby, bathtub and bathwater out the window, and begin all over again with a popular election which would radically alter the nature of the republic, since the chief magistrate would no longer be chosen, as his title now implies, by the states.

ALL THESE proposals are in the hopper. All have distinguished sponsors. But a close reading of the most cogent testimony shows that the only strong argument for changing the present system, which has served as well, is fear of the Supreme Court. It is fear that those black-robed meddlers are going to lay hands on the electoral college, as they did upon the public schools, the public worship, the state legislatures, the House of Representatives and much else. Someday, some fool decision about one-man-one-vote will come down from the Supreme Court and outlaw the electoral college. Someday in November, we'll wake up to a presidential crisis. The court will have found a national election invalid, and the country will be without a president.

THAT'S THE fear, and the argument is that we, the people, had better change the system before those crazy justices gum up the works, as they're probably capable of doing.

John Cunniff Ship's Future Provokes Storm

NEW YORK (AP)—The proposed retirement of the nuclear ship Savannah has provoked almost as much criticism and dissension as the threatened scrapping 139 years ago of Old Ironsides.

Old Ironsides, a frigate whose stout oak timbers repulsed British cannon in the War of 1812, inspired a poetic defense by Oliver Wendell Holmes and was saved. Today it is berthed in Boston.

THE SAVANNAH, launched eight years ago as a symbol of how ships in the future might be powered, inspired congressional debate in which the language was less beautiful and maybe less effective. But the Savannah is still alive, at least.

The status of the 22,000-ton cargo and passenger vessel still is in doubt, but on July 19, two days before its birthday, the Maritime Administration delivered a one-year reprieve from an August retirement.

The handsome white ship, which runs under a federal subsidy to a private shipping company, is viewed by critics as a white elephant with a $5-million-a-year deficit.

SAVANNAH defenders maintain that knowledge and inspiration rather than profit was the original goal, and so they have won the right to keep the ship traveling to Europe and the Far East for another fiscal year.

There are also strong emotional arguments for keeping the Savannah alive. To some, the peaceful-looking ship symbolizes the taming of the once rampant atom. But practical people are inclined to ignore this view.

The waning of their support for the Savannah, which cost $55 million, has been developing for years. The arguments are both financial and technological.

THE ATOMIC Energy Commission, an original supporter, is now less interested because the ship's power plant is outdated in this rapidly changing nuclear age. It no longer is a vital source of atomic information.

The Maritime Administration feels that it has learned as much as it can about nuclear ship operations, which was one of the original purposes in launching the Savannah in 1959.

The financial argument maintains that the ship cost the federal government millions of dollars a year, even though the ship's operators claim revenue last year exceeded operating costs.

THE OPERATORS counter with the other side of the financial argument. To tie up the ship temporarily, they claim, would cost millions. And to put it in mothballs might cost as much as $9 million.

Regardless of their stand, many Americans seem to view the Savannah as an emblem. They are touched by the symbolic beauty of this peaceful white ship piercing the black storm. But at what price?

Next year, at about the same time, the arguments reopen.

The roar of the power mower sounds loud and clear in the land again as the annual battle to keep the fast-growing grass within the bounds of neatness starts all over again. So has the annual campaign to save fingers and toes.

Common sense is needed in the operation of power mowers. Last year 90,000 persons in the U.S. were injured in grass-cutting accidents. . . . Therefore, we reiterate the safety council's suggestion:

Keep children at a safe distance from mower in operation.

Wear leather shoes and keep legs covered while running mower.

Disconnect spark plug before making adjustments to mower.

Don't unclog or refuel mower when running or hot.

Don't pull mower backwards.

Mow hills back and forth rather than up and down.

Be alert at all times and never leave running mower unattended.

Moisture amounts ran as high as 2.90 inches at Galveston, and Houston measured 2.31. There also was some shower activity in the area between Wichita Falls, Gainesville, Waco, Corsicana and Breckenridge. Corsicana's 1.06 was the only measurable amount reported. Top temperatures Sunday afternoon hit 104 degrees at Cotulla, 101 at Laredo and 100 at Alice, Presidio and Wink. Rain held the highs to 81 at Galveston and 82 at Houston. Forecasts promised a few lonely showers in most areas of the state again by evening and continued heat, except for a little cooling by midweek in northern portions. Overnight temperatures ranged from a low of 63 at Alpine to a minimum of 80 degrees at Palacios. Alpine had 29 inches of rain in the 24 hours ended at 7 a.m. today.

The amount of the settlement was not disclosed. The court trial in the civil suit had been scheduled for next Wednesday. A. E. Fritchard, attorney for Navy Capt. and Mrs. Charles F. Earthquake Victims

Turkish soldiers guard residents of Adapazari who left their homes and went to sleep in the public gardens following the series of earthquakes that rocked western Turkey over the weekend. Adapazari, a city of 100,000, was believed to be the hardest hit. (AP WIRE- PHOTO via cable from Istanbul)

Americans Escape Quake In Turkey

ADAPAZARI, Turkey (AP)—Turkish officials say 86 bodies have been recovered so far from the earthquake that rocked western and central Turkey Saturday. At least 110 were injured, half of them critically and officials said the death toll could run into the hundreds. Workers dug through rubble in Adapazari and 456 other villages and towns, seeking persons in the ruins.

POPE TO VISIT

The U.S. Consulate in Istanbul checked American personnel and reported none killed or injured. President Cevdet Sunay and Premier Suleyman Demirel, who will meet Pope Paul VI in Istanbul Tuesday, drove from Ankara to Adapazari, a city of 110,000.

The Pope, who will arrive in Istanbul Tuesday primarily to visit Orthodox Patriarch Athenagoras I, cabled a message of sorrow to Sunay. HOMES DESTROYED The first severe tremor in the early evening Saturday destroyed nearly 1,000 homes in an area extending southeast from the Sea of Marmara. But most of the Turks were sitting in cafes or private gardens. Experts said the total death might have been above 1,000 had the quake struck in the middle of the night. Earth tremors shook Istanbul and western and central Anatolia Sunday but they caused no more damage. It was the second major earthquake to stun Turkey in less than a year's time. On Aug. 19, 1964, 2,500 persons were estimated to have died in quakes that rocked eastern Turkey.

Political Backing Public Homes Key?

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Richard W. O'Neill, a member of the President's Commission on Urban Problems says public housing could be vastly improved with stronger political backing. "We don't have any trouble getting $2 billion for a plant that can't land in any airport in the United States, and we could house all the poor in decent homes if we had political sanction," he says.

Science And You Hope For Aging Males

—By DR. LEONARD REIFFEL

Some British physicians are at work on a new technique that may be of passing interest to a few American males. The people I have in mind are those rare fellows who are or would like to be interested in the opposite sex but just aren't the men they once were. The British have been experimenting for some years now on the use of testosterone implants in the male. Testosterone is a male sex hormone and, as one grows older, one's natural supply tends to decrease.

Recognizing this situation, the physicians began to implant supplies of testosterone in the hips of aging men. The supply is designed to last for 200 days and consists of 20 tiny cylindrical containers. Each one of the cylinders contains testosterone and the total of 20 contains 4,000 milligrams. A normal male consumes the material at the rate of 20 milligrams per day. This technique has been used now with 600 men in Britain and the physician in charge states that 99 per cent have been helped enormously.

Most of the patients are over 55, although some are as young as 40. The oldest, who is 80, has had some 38 implants and, as the doctor puts it, "he's as fit as a fiddle."

These experiments started in a serious way in the 1960's when the doctor decided, after using much smaller doses of testosterone without much effect to try really large doses. These produced results. Potency apparently is increased and the British researchers claim that the mental depression which often accompanies a reduction in male hormone production has disappeared from almost all the patients.

The question arises whether men in the United States can receive these implants. The answer at present is no. The implants are not being manufactured here. It is important to note that not all MD's agree on the wisdom of heavy use of testosterone. Serious questions about side effects and actual benefits are still being debated. Nevertheless, the British physician in charge of the implant study envisions a day when male sex hormone levels will be checked in clinics and, where necessary, implants will be prescribed on a perfectly routine basis.

'Black Power' Resolutions Antiwhite, Anti-Christian

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Black Power, for one year an unclear rallying cry shouted at civil rights rallies and scrawled on walls during riots, has taken on meaning distinctly opposed to present American society. The first national conference on the once cloudy concept produced a string of resolutions Sunday that would, in effect, set up a black-oriented society distinctly antiwhite, anti-Christian and antidraft in tone. With almost every faction of the Negro community represented at the start of the four-day meeting, it was clear at the final session Sunday that the militant separatists had won. "BLACK REVOLUTION" One enthusiastically supported resolution called for "starting a national dialogue on the desirability of partitioning the United States into two separate nations, one white and one black."

The nearly 1,000 delegates, many in Africa-derived clothes, cheered every proposal for black-oriented financial, educational, employment and law enforcement institutions, including paramilitary training for black youth. Some termed it the start of "the black revolution." A deep distrust of white society was evident as the delegates cheered through proposals to set up permanent contacts with African nations, independent, black-controlled political parties or voting blocs, and gear the products of Negro artists and professionals more closely to "the needs of black people." "WHITE MAN'S CREATION" Speakers who used the word "Negro" were shouted down. "The Negro is a white man's creation," one man shouted. Most of the dozens of resolutions put great stress on the troubled history of Negroes—the unwilling removal in chains from Africa, the systematic breaking up of Negro families by white slaveowners, the segregation that once sanctioned wholesale lynchings and still exists in schools, housing and jobs. They included: —A demand that black athletes stay out of both the 1968 Olympic games in Mexico City and out of professional boxing until "Minister Muhammad Ali"—Cassius Clay—is returned his heavyweight title. —A boycott of "every black church and all religious institutions that do not join the black revolution." Christianity was termed "a white religion that has taken the diamonds and minerals of the world in exchange for the Bible—a bad deal." —A black militia to train black families in all aspects of self defense and racial survival, and a school for black political organizers. —A "black university," a "black national holiday," a refusal to accept birth control programs and a national antidraft movement. "Our position is hell no, we won't go," shouted one workshop chairman. Consumer education programs, a nationwide "buy black" policy, and selective buying campaigns to force upgrading in local communities were also adopted, along with plans for black credit unions and black bonds to finance small home and business loans. The conference had earlier gone on record as supporting Negro violence as "the right of an oppressed people to revolt."

The conference censured every congressman who voted to unseat Adam Powell, a New York Negro, then almost booped promise to show up at the con-his son off the platform when ference. Powell is subject to ar-young Powell tried to explain rest in New York on a criminal why his father had not kept his contempt charge.

A LOVELIER YOU

Eyes Tell Story, So Make It Good One

By MARY SUE MILLER

A Lovelier writes: My eyebrows, once black, are now salt-and-pepper. I would like to cover or blend in the white strands. After reading in your column that pressed powder brush-ons convincingly darken pale blond eyebrows, I wonder if the cosmetic would work for me. If so, will you please advise me about the color to use and the application method?

Brow brush-ons are especially formulated to provide a subtle, clinging film of color and an entirely natural finish. Consequently, use is ideal for blending salt-and-pepper eyebrows. The shade wanted in this instance is either charcoal or very dark brown. To make deft applications, there's need for an eyebrow comb and a stiff, wedge-shaped brush. The latter comes with most brush-ons or is readily obtainable.

As for the application method: 1. Groom and shape brows with a conventional eyebrow brush. 2. Begin coloring - only the white strands. Start with the innermost and color each in turn, this way: Single one out with your comb and then stroke on the color with the wedge brush, working outward from the root end. 3. After coloring all white strands, tidy brow with comb. And with the lightest possible stroke, brush the brow's outermost surface. It's a painstaking job, but worth every effort. KNOWS NO AGE Some women age before their time; some retain their youthful beauty and charm. Why? The secrets of non-stop attractiveness are revealed in "Beauty Knows No Age."
