In Abilene Patrolman Indicted

ABILENE (AP)—A Taylor County grand jury deliberated only a few minutes Thursday before returning a murder-with-malice indictment against Highway Patrolman Alfred P. White.

White had been charged previously in the slaying July 14 of his wife, Joyce, 38.

The highway patrolman told officers that his wife was killed by two Negro intruders who waited for them in their home when they returned about 11 p.m. after a movie.

Claims Wife Screamed

Dozens of police, including many of White's superior officers from the Department of Public Safety in Austin, attended Mrs. White's funeral. White returned to Austin with them and was charged there a week ago with murder.

Previously, he had told officers of his wife entering a bedroom, turning on the lights and screaming. He ran to her aid, he said, and was himself beaten. Lengths of pipe, wrapped with tape, were used in the beatings, officers said. Local police at first theorized that the Whites surprised two burglars when they entered their home.

The grand jury opened its hearings into the charges against the patrolman Thursday morning and returned its indictment about 5:15 p.m.

Mystery Witness

Among those who testified before the grand jury was Mrs. Joan White, a waitress and wife of a Dyess Air Force Base technical sergeant.

Billed as a mystery witness, the waitress, mother of three children, filed suit for divorce on July 24, charging her husband, T. Sgt. Thomas J. White, with mental cruelty. A custody and child support hearing was set for July 31.

Other witnesses during the seven hours the jury was in session included Texas Ranger Capt. Frank Probst and the Rev. Bob Rich, and Abilene police detective Duain Pyburn. Capt. Probst testified for about an hour.

Held Without Bond

The Rev. Mr. Rich, pastor of the Belmont Baptist Church which the patrolman and his wife attended, was in the grand jury chamber about 12 minutes.

Two Rangers expected to testify before the grand jury were not called. They were Sgt. John Wood and Ranger Sid Merchant.

Dist. Judge J. R. Black told grand jurors Thursday morning that they had been called earlier than normal because of the murder charge against Patrolman White. "He is entitled to know whether he will be tried or not," the judge said.

White had been held in the Taylor County Jail without bond since his arrest.

Judge Black said he would consider bond for the patrolman when he is arraigned within the next 10 days.

Pickle Packers Pileup

REDGRANITE, Wis. (AP) — The invasion has begun at Redgranite, whose familiarity with packing pickles may prove priceless in handling a weekend traffic pileup.

A high school reunion originally planned for a comfortable 1,000 guests gets formally under way tonight as the village of 588 residents begins registering visitors who, one homecoming organizer now predicts, will number 15,000 by Sunday afternoon. Up to 10,000 was a more frequently mentioned guess, but no less frightening to the village.

Cucumbers Crisis

Even the scheduled arrival Saturday of 20 farm trucks carrying cucumbers has become something of a crisis. The human arrivals began earlier in the week with alumni from California, Oregon and Florida.

"I don't know where they are going to put 10,000 people or more, or their cars and trailers," Robert C. Schramek remarked with the expression of a man contemplating Armageddon.

Schramek is the manager of Redgranite's chief employer, a pickle packing plant whose 500 employees from throughout the area are deep into their busiest period of the cucumber season.

Space Scarce

Space on the hamlet's four and a half miles of newly paved streets will be at a premium. Schramek can afford to shut down operations for only one day—Sunday, "and I'm expecting a fleet of 20 cucumber trucks for unloading Saturday when I'm not sure I'll even be able to drive to work."

U.S. Marines Invade DMZ Zone Again

SAIGON (AP)—The U.S. Marines invaded the southern half of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam today for the second time in the war. Their targets were the North Vietnamese mortar and artillery positions which have been shelling Leatherneck posts just south of the zone.

The U.S. Command also announced another dogfight over North Vietnam with a MIG21 probably shot down and seven U.S. plane losses over the North which had not been revealed before.

GUN TARGETS

Men of the 9th Marine Regiment moved into the demilitarized zone before dawn just north of Con Thien, the Leatherneck outpost 10 miles from the South China Sea where a Red barrage killed 2 Marines and wounded 12 Thursday night.

There was no immediate report that the Marines had encountered any enemy opposition.

It was the first American penetration into the three-mile-wide southern half of the zone since May 31. The Marines and South Vietnamese troops had invaded the southern sector for the first time on May 18 to root out North Vietnamese gun posts. The allied force withdrew after 13 days.

DOGFIGHT

U.S. Command said since then the Communists have again begun digging in artillery and mortars.

The latest dogfight took place Thursday when a pair of MIG21s tried to jump an Air Force reconnaissance flight north of Hanoi but were attacked by a pair of Air Force Phantoms flying escort.

The MIG's dived with the Phantoms in pursuit and one Phantom pilot fired a Sidewinder missile. The missile was right on the MIG's tail when the Red disappeared into a cloudbank, the pilots said. The Air Force scored it as the 11th probable MIG kill of the war.

CREWMEN MISSING

The plane losses announced today brought the total number U.S. combat planes reported lost over the north to 624. The rate of losses over the north is now running at slightly more than one plane daily.

U.S. Command said the latest jet downed was an Air Force Phantom Wednesday, with both crewmen listed as missing.

No details were given on the other losses but it was understood they were downed during the past week.

Air strikes against North Vietnam continued undiminished Thursday. U.S. headquarters said 150 missions were flown, mostly against supply lines between the Hanoi-Haiphong area and the 17th parallel border with South Vietnam. But one Air Force group hit the rail line connecting Hanoi with the industrial area of Thai Nguyen 49 miles above the capital.

BRIEF FORAY

The Marine penetration of the demilitarized zone was the most significant ground action reported although the U.S. Command said scattered contacts were made throughout the nation and 35 major infantry operations were in progress.

Presumably the Marine operation will be a brief foray into the zone. However, a military spokesman would say only that the Marines were in the zone for "the destruction of neutralization of enemy artillery and mortar positions south of the Ben Hai River."

Detroit Mayor Caught In Crossfire, Not Hurt

Civil Disorder Cools Across United States

By The Associated Press

Civil disorder throughout the nation abated in intensity today, but Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, touring his strife-torn city, was caught in crossfire as snipers and police and National Guardsmen exchanged shots.

The mayor was unhurt and apparently calm from the only incident of significance during the quietest night since last Sunday. The Detroit death toll went to 39—four more than perished in the Watts area of Los Angeles in 1965.

PRAYER DAY

President Johnson proclaimed this Sunday a national day of prayer for racial peace.

The President, addressing the nation on television and radio Thursday night, named an 11-member commission to search out the causes of the summer rioting and suggest ways to avoid it in the future.

"We have endured a week such as no nation should live through: a time of violence and tragedy," Johnson said. "The violence must be stopped; quickly, finally and permanently."

GOP GIGGED

Henceforth all National Guard units will be given intensified riot control training, he said, to better enable them to deal with the outbreaks.

Johnson also took the occasion to hit back at GOP critics who have blamed him for the rioting, citing the defeat of the anti-riot bill last week by a largely Republican House majority vote.

Saying the legislation would have helped root out "conditions that breed despair and violence," he spent millions to protect baby calves from worms, can surely afford to show the same concern for baby boys and girls.

TEAR GAS ACTION

Gangs of young Negroes rampaged through the business districts of Albany, Poughkeepsie and Peekskill, N.Y., Thursday night, smashing windows and taunting passers-by, but the outbreaks were of relatively short duration.

National Guardsmen were brought into Lorain, Ohio, early today as a precautionary measure while other troops remained on the alert in Toledo. Guardsmen also stood watch in South Bend, Ind., and Cambridge, Md.

Police in Waterbury, Conn., issued small pressurized cans of tear gas to help root groups of rock-throwing and looting Negroes on the city's North End early today. At least one Negro was reported shot and 15 were arrested.

PHOENIX CURFEW

New York was quiet again Thursday night, and in Phoenix, Ariz., a curfew appeared to have brought an abrupt halt to two nights of violence.

In Philadelphia, Mayor James H.J. Tate invoked a 117-year-old law placing the city under a

LBJ To Meet With Racial Commission

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will meet Saturday with his newly-created advisory commission assigned to search for causes of race rioting, and to find ways to avoid urban blowups in the future.

The White House said today Johnson will meet with the 11-member commission in the Cabinet Room at 11:30 a.m. EDT.

In advance of the White House announcement Sen. Fred Harris, D-Okla., a member of the commission, reported he had received notice of the session.

TRAGIC RIOTS

Harris commented that "the President made an excellent and forceful address" when he spoke to the nation Thursday night on the situation.

"I agree with him that, first, lawlessness and violence cannot be tolerated or condoned in our society," Harris said. The senator added that he also agreed with Johnson that "despite these tragic riots, we must work with urgency to make equality of opportunity real for all Americans."

TOUGH TALK

Harris said the President had given the commission "a difficult job which must be done."

The Special Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders includes leaders of government, labor, business, law enforcement and civil rights.

Pay Hike For Webb Workers

Wage increases that could run to a total of $150,000 to $200,000 per year were announced from Washington today for non-supervisory categories of civilian workers at Webb Air Force Base. It is estimated that some 500 people will be affected.

The increases run as high as 4.16 per cent.

Action was taken by the Wage Board in Washington, and the increases are effective after the pay period of Aug. 2, which means they will be reflected in checks of Aug. 19.

The Washington dispatch said those non-supervisory employees under the Wage Board receive 11.03 cents, or 3.73 per cent, increase; leader types receive 12.1 cents per hour or 3.5 per cent; foremen receive 16.7 cents or 4.16 per cent. Representative amounts are shown in the following Wage Board classifications:

W-2, $2.44 per hour; W-5, $2.70 per hour; W-10, $3.25 per hour; W-11, $3.49 per hour; W-13, $3.73 per hour; F-7, $8,507.20 per year.

Annual Reunion Expecting Noon Rush To Boost Crowd

Despite ideal weather, the attendance early today at the 43rd annual reunion of Howard and Glascock counties old settlers at City Park was lagging. As noon approached, the mountain of barbecue which has been slowly roasting through Thursday night appeared to become larger and larger.

NOON RUSH

It was thought possible that a noon-time rush might swell the turnout to the usual throng, however, and Jess Slaughter, president of the association, said he was hopeful a big crowd would be on hand for the dinner.

The oldest person to register to 10 a.m. was Mrs. J. M. Morgan who is 95. She attends all of the reunions and takes a close interest in the activities.

The apparent earliest settler on hand was A. L. Sapes, who came to the area in 1892. None of the other record registrations which have marked other reunions had developed. Slaughter and his co-workers were operating four registration tables which was moving the enrollment of guests with smoother efficiency than in the past.

DINNER

The dinner was served at noon, and Charlie Merritt, cook employed to take care of the barbecue, said everything was in readiness at 11 a.m.

Light showers Thursday morning and again Thursday evening had watered down the dust at the park. A thin blanket of clouds moved in at mid-morning and reduced the searing heat of the sun. Although the day had started out like a record breaker, with an 80 degree reading as early as 8 a.m., it was comfortable and pleasant in the park. A cool breeze whipped through the pavilion.

Sam Roberts' Western Band, with the renowned Texas Shorty, world champion fiddler, was featured. The band will play for tonight's dance at the park.

PRIZES

Friday afternoon, prizes were awarded to the oldest settler present, the visitor who attended the reunion from the greatest distance; and the oldest married couple.

Old timers commented on the remarkable good luck of the reunion in the selection of annual dates when no rain fell. The records show that the heaviest rainfall ever to be recorded in this county in any July 28 was in 1934 — the first year the reunion was held. The rain that date was .39 which, even if the reunion was on that date, was probably not enough to halt proceedings. The reunions are held on the last Friday in July of each year.

One feature of the afternoon which appeals to the audience is the old fiddler's contest with cash prizes for first, second, and third place.

Ed Fisher, former president of the Howard County Historical society, spoke on the work and achievements of the pioneers. The Rev. Elra Phillips paid tribute to the pioneers who have died.

Hail Dots West Texas

By The Associated Press

Hail and heavy rains pounded isolated portions of West Texas early today but most portions of the state wilted under summer's hottest weather. No general respite was in sight.

The Weather Bureau said hail and rains of 3 inches hit areas southwest of Brownfield and south of Lamesa. One-half inch of moisture cooled things off 6 miles south of Seminole.

Midland registered .35 inches and Amarillo caught .58. Aside from clouds in Southwest Texas, skies were generally clear. Moderate south winds fanned much of the state.

Top readings Wednesday afternoon ranged from 107 degrees at Presidio in the Big Bend Country down to 85 at Galveston on the coast. Cotulla recorded 104, Wink 103, Laredo and Wichita Falls 102, and Alice, Del Rio and Waco 101.

LOT OF BIRTHDAYS

Sam Couble and Mrs. J. M. Morgan will make a good race for the title of the oldest attending the reunion. He is 93, she is 95.

'Catfish' Cole Crash Victim

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — James "Catfish" Cole, convicted of inciting a riot while leader of the North Carolina Ku Klux Klan in 1958 was killed in a traffic accident near Greensboro Thursday night.

Paul Louis LeClair, 40, of Greensboro, identified as the driver, also died when the auto went out of control and overturned down an embankment south of Greensboro. The highway patrol listed high speed as the cause of the accident.

Cole, 44, whose home was Kinston where his estranged wife and their two adopted children live, had in the last few months regained some of his influence in the Klan.

His popularity reached a low ebb after his conviction on charge of inciting a riot when Lumbee Indians routed a Klan rally near Maxton in 1958. He served an 18-month prison sentence.

Just two weeks ago Cole was arrested in connection with a cross burning during a Klan rally near the Greensboro home of the Rev. Frank Williams, the first Negro to move to the all-white neighborhood. Cole was free on bond.

After his release from prison in 1960, Cole organized his own Klan group separate from the United Klans of America, Inc., which has J. Robert Jones of Granite Quarry as its North Carolina grand dragon.

In late March of this year, Cole said he was moving to Greensboro and shortly thereafter was admitted to a United Klans klavern there. Jones objected and ordered him expelled along with the Rev. George Dorsett, Klan chaplain, and Clyde Webster, another Greensboro Klansman.

The dispute had not been resolved.

Injured Infantryman Captured And Rescued

ALONG THE CAMBODIAN BORDER, Vietnam (AP) — Andrew York bit desperately into the crude ropes binding his wrists, tearing at the stands with his teeth and unmindful of the blood the rough fibers drew.

Minutes earlier the slim, 19-year-old infantryman from the 4th Infantry Division was being carried into captivity by North Vietnamese soldiers who had overwhelmed his platoon in the rain forest along the border between Vietnam and Cambodia.

LEGS SHATTERED

Both of York's legs had been shattered by a mortar round as he was firing his machine gun at the dozen brown-clad Vietnamese rushing at him through elephant grass. He fainted. When he came to, the roar of battle was stilled, his wrists were tied to his belt, and his Communist captors stood around him. Two of them grabbed his arms, two others his feet, and York—from the little town of Chelsea, Maine, married on May 5 to his child hood sweetheart and sent to Vietnam a week later—was on his way to captivity.

But the battle last Sunday was by no means over.

SET SILENT

Circling overhead in a helicopter was the battalion commander, Lt. Col. Thomas P. Lynch of Spokane, Wash., who called for silence on the busy radio net so he could hear the last man on the platoon's radio set.

"Charger (the battalion commander's code name), everyone else is dead," the voice said. There were some mumbled words about home and mother. Then "Charger, I'm dying." The set went silent.

Lynch assumed everyone in the platoon was killed. Numerous North Vietnamese could be seen below. He ordered in artillery barrages on top of them.

NUMB WITH PAIN
York, numb with pain, was being carried into the jungle as the first rounds came in. The two Vietnamese carrying his legs were killed in the first blast. The men at his shoulders dropped him to the ground.

"I realized they were our shells," York said later at a hospital. "I was sure the Communists would kill me then, what had they to lose? And if they didn't, then our artillery would get me. I thought I was dead for sure. All I could do was pray, and you better believe I was praying."

STARTS CHEWING
The barrage ended quickly. York was alone beside the two dead men who had been carrying his legs. He tugged painfully at his belt and pulled his wrists free so he could get his teeth to the ropes. Then he started chewing feverishly.

The North Vietnamese battalion that had overwhelmed the 30-man platoon—killing 18 of the Americans—had reached the company perimeter where another 30 Americans were lying in foxholes.

TEXAN LEADS

Commanded by Capt. William C. Pratt of Edinburg, Tex., they were soon under rocket and machine gun attack from the shadowy figures at the edge of the clearing.

The big American guns to the rear slammed shell after shell at the enemy, a total of 6,682 in three hours.

U.S. Air Force bombers roared in as the artillery lifted briefly, searing the jungle and grassy clearings with napalm and heavy bombs. Armed helicopters slashed at trails with their machine guns.

HEAVY TOLL

One of Capt. Pratt's platoons fought its way back to the company perimeter. Then Capt. Neill D. Bule of Wisner, La., burst across the clearing with 120 men.

From then on, it became "a mechanical process," Lynch said, "a complete destruction and neutralization of the area" with heavy gunfire.

A total of 170 Communists were killed; 19 Americans were dead.

Alive amid the destruction were Pfc. York and 10 others in his platoon, all wounded. York had managed to bite through his ropes, had dragged his mangled legs through the jungle to join up with some of his buddies, and gave a weak, painful cheer as the rescue troops arrived.

Bands Of Negroes Brick Motorists

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Small bands of Negroes, some marching in formation and chanting "black power, soul brother," roamed downtown Thursday night and early today, smashing windows and looting.

Police patrols, armed with riot guns, drove them from the business district and then moved into two Negro areas.

Heavy rain contributed to the dispersal of the Negroes, who earlier had taunted police and heaved bricks and bottles at passing motorists.

Ten persons were injured, none serious.

Police said about 20 arrests were made. No shots were fired. The incident was the first serious outbreak of racial vandalism in this city of 130,000.

Science And You
Mice And Radiation

—By DR. LEONARD REIFFEL

One of the most serious questions resulting from the development of nuclear weapons and all the related activities is the matter of radiation fallout and its possible effects on human heredity. Very reasonably, there has been and continues to be concern about the damaging effect of radiation on the human race and its genetic architecture. Some aspects of the question have been settled. Many, however, take time to resolve and even now are still in doubt.

One of the main sources of information about what radiation is likely to do to the heredity patterns of mankind is a series of very extensive experiments with fruitflies. Fruitflies are often used for genetic experiments because they go through one generation to another very rapidly. Scientists can thereby study effects over many generations without waiting impossibly long times.

With this in mind, researchers at Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory, one of the most important laboratories in the development of atomic nuclear weapons, started radiation experiments with mice nine years ago. Mice, being mammals, are a little closer to people than fruitflies. Results have now been reported on some 44 generations of mice. Each generation of these mice has been subjected to about 2,000 Roentgens of X-rays. Two thousand Roentgens—the Roentgen unit simply a particular way of measuring quantity of radiation—is about 5,000 times the normal amount of radiation that people or mice get here on Earth.

One interesting result is that the mice seemed to be remarkably resistant to radiation effects. It is true that the irradiated mice consistently gave birth to smaller litters than the non-irradiated ones. Sterility was about two per cent higher in the irradiated mice than in mice that were not irradiated. On the other hand, a decreased life expectancy, which had been anticipated, has not been observed in the irradiated mice.

After some 30 generations, irradiated mice were still equal in their willingness to perform tasks at any time in their life span. In many cases, the X-rayed mice even seemed to be better at their jobs than the non-irradiated mice. This is not to suggest that anyone would want to irradiate human beings to improve their performance, but it is the apparent result obtained in one long-term test with mice.

Over the 44 generations, only one visible change in the structure of the mice appeared. One line developed in which the mice were almost completely without fur. Strangely enough, this mutation developed in the mice that had not been irradiated!

Insurance Men Examine Ruins In Riot Cities

NEW YORK (AP) — Insurance men are poking through blackened ruins and smashed storefronts in riot-scattered cities across the country to prepare for damage claims totaling millions of dollars.

Property damage in Detroit alone is estimated at $200 million.

"It's going to be high, there's no question on that," says a spokesman for the Insurance Information Institute in New York.

The General Adjustment Bureau, Inc., says it has sent additional insurance adjusters into the Detroit area but adds that "we anticipate it will be several days before our people will be allowed to enter and make surveys of the more seriously damaged areas."

ADDITIONAL ADJUSTERS
The bureau sends additional men into heavily damaged areas to help regular insurance company adjusters speed up claims procedures.

The adjusters went to Newark, N.J., after that city was ripped by riots two weeks ago. The Newark riots caused an estimated $15 million in property damage.

No complete accounting has been made of the property damage in the current widespread racial violence and probably won't be for months. One estimate puts the nationwide total of homes destroyed or damaged at 428 and the number of businesses at nearly 4,000. That does not include buildings in riot-torn neighborhoods that officials have not yet entered.

INSURRECTION?
A question arose after the riots in the Watts area of Los Angeles in 1965 as to whether insurance policies covered property damage inflicted during the battling.

The City of Los Angeles, which is self-insured, has denied all property damage claims, of which nearly 1,000 have been filed, on grounds that it is not responsible for rioting. Some officials said the riots were an insurrection. The same description has been made by some in the Detroit and Newark troubles.

Most property insurance policies do not cover damages caused by war or insurrection, but do give financial protection against riots.

INSURED PERIL
The Insurance Brokers Association of California held that the Watts riots fell within the insurance definition of civil commotion and thus were an insured peril.

"We paid $44 million as a result of the Watts riots," says the institute spokesman.

William Shumake, a special assistant in New Jersey's State Department of Banking and Insurance, said this week that insurance companies would be required to pay for riot damage claims.

Shumake said that although the Newark trouble had been called a "criminal insurrection" this "is not being used as a defense by any company we know of nor will it be permitted to be used."

POWER TO ACT
A question also arose as to whether the riots would lead to insurance policy cancellations and rate increases.

Horace J. Bryant, New Jersey's deputy commissioner of banking and insurance, said the state would not tolerate "wholesale terminations of insurance contracts and refusal to renew policies." Bryant added, "If a company terminates a policy, or refuses to renew, tell us. We have the power to act."

The Insurance Institute spokesman said that no wholesale cancellation of policies was contemplated and that fire insurance rates would not be affected immediately, although they could in the future.

Dear Abby

The Male Attitude

DEAR ABBY: I was talking with my boy friend and the subject of "men friends" came up. He said there was no such thing as "men friends." That they all had only one thing in mind, and there wasn't a man alive (married or single) who would care to be with a woman just for the sake of conversation and companionship.

We got into quite a heated argument over this as I have quite a few male acquaintances whom I consider "friends" and nothing more. What is your opinion, Abby? I would also like the opinions of your men readers as I want to know if they think the way my boy friend does.

DEAR DIANE: Tell your boy friend to speak for himself and not to implicate every other male in the world. Furthermore, if my "boy friend" ever made such a statement, I wouldn't trust him out of my sight.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married a short while. Last month we went to visit his mother in another state. I found his mother to be very unclean about herself, and her house was filthy. She even talks dirty.

—Abby: I don't mean to be unkind about his mother, but I have never experienced anything quite like it. My husband is a very clean person. He must take after his father who is dead. When we got home I told my husband I would never go to his mother's again unless she cleaned up her house. It honestly wasn't fit for pigs. He admitted the house was a mess and so was his mother, but he thinks I am being unreasonable. Tell me your opinion of this, please.

DEAR NO PIG: Your husband could ask his mother to clean up her house, but if she is personally unclean, and talks dirty there is little he can do about that. I think you are within your rights, however, to refuse to stay in a house that isn't "fit for pigs."

DEAR ABBY: I have a big problem, which you will probably consider both immature and stupid. I am a normal girl of 16 with both satisfactory looks and personality. My problem is when I like a boy, and go after him, if I get him I don't like him anymore. He usually has asked me to go steady by that time and I say yes because I hate to hurt his feelings, but I always end up breaking up with him and hurting him anyhow.

On the other hand, if I don't get him, I like him so much I get jealous if I see him with another girl, but I know if I were to get him I would only end up hating him. Please, Abby, give me advice, not a sermon.

DEAR PERPLEXED: The only "advice" I can give you is to admit that you enjoy the "chase" more than the prize. It is a kind of immaturity which some people never outgrow. But I hope you will because there can be little happiness for the girl who wants a man only until she wins him. And consider, too the innocent victims along the way.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Georgia Solon Believes Riots Communist Plot

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Georgia congressman says he believes the current series of riots in American cities is a Communist plan to provide this country with another war front.

Rep. Maston O'Neal, says he thinks it is part of an effort to get President Johnson to remove American armed forces from Vietnam.

"I definitely believe these are Communist inspired riots," he said.

Rioters should be treated just as drastically by troops as they would treat an enemy in war, he said, "because this is war."

O'Neal said he looks for the rioting to take on two new aspects:

1. Riots will move out of Negro areas into other parts of the cities.

2. Riots will come in so many cities at the same time that the government will be hard-pressed to find troops and National Guard sufficient to repress them.

Phone Calls Taunt 'Good Samaritans'

DETROIT (AP) — A white family of "good samaritans" who took a Negro family into their home after they were displaced by the Detroit riots has become the object of threatening phone calls.

"I never expected that," said a white housewife who told of the calls as she squinted into the brilliant late afternoon sun on the porch of her neat red brick house, looking over a well-trimmed green lawn.

The white family was one of many who had opened their doors to refugees of the costliest riot in the United States seen in recent history.

'VERY SAD'

"It made me sad—very sad," said the woman. "I thought we could set an example."

A Negro woman on welfare and her four children had arrived Wednesday—and decided to leave Thursday.

"She didn't leave because of the threats," the white woman said. "They didn't start coming until after the family had decided to leave."

The woman and her husband, who works as a plant manager for a large public utility and is acting chairman of his church's human relations committee, have five grown children of their own, two of whom still live in the house on a quiet, tree-lined street on the far Northwest Side.

HAPPY TO LEAVE

They asked to remain anonymous because of the threatening calls they have received.

Thursday the woman frowned as she said: "What puzzles me is how anxious the children were to leave. How happy they were when their mother said she had to get back into the city."

"I guess they just weren't comfortable," she shrugged.

"Oh, I could understand the mother's point of view. She said she had to get back to the city soon or she would be last on the list to get any benefits which she so desperately needed."

There was no indication of how many displaced Negro families chose to move into houses in all-white areas. Most preferred to move in with friends within the severely devastated areas of the city, the Human Resources Committee spokesman said.

And police across the Detroit River in Canada said thousands of refugees showed up in Windsor as border restrictions were eased.

Envoys Wrap Up Thai Visit

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor and Clark Clifford, President Johnson's special two-man mission to Asia, conferred with Premier Thanom Kittikachorn for 2½ hours today on developments in the Vietnam war.

The presidential envoys, wrapping up their two-day visit to Thailand, are going to Australia next. They planned to leave for Canberra by special Air Force jet late tonight.

Taylor, a former U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, and Clifford, chairman of the federal Intelligence Advisory Board, reportedly discussed a planned summit meeting of the Vietnam war allies and an increase in allied troop strength.

Foreign Minister Thanom Khoman, in a brief session with newsmen, predicted concrete action would result from the visit, but declined to go into detail.

A decision as to troops, "must wait until exhaustive studies have been made," he said. As to another summit conference, he said: "It will come, but it is not a matter of urgency."

The site of such a meeting is "secondary," he said.

In Manila the decision to drop the Philippines from the itinerary of Taylor and Clifford aroused speculation that opposition by President Ferdinand E. Marcos' administration forced the cancellation.

There were indications that the presence of the two Americans might have proved an embarrassment to Marcos at a time when he is fighting to maintain the Philippines' 2,000-man commitment to the war.

Manila newspapers suggested the government had not been happy about the scheduled visit.

Taylor and Clifford are to visit New Zealand and South Korea next week. A dispatch from Auckland said two New Zealand groups opposed to the war planned to stage protests on the grounds of Parliament.

Panel Cuts Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Vietnam war and domestic rioting are cited in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for its sharp cutback in President Johnson's foreign aid proposals.

Committee Chairman J. W. Fulbright said he and other members who voted to cut $736.8 million from the measure feared domestic programs — some aimed at quelling riot-inducing conditions — were suffering because of Vietnam and other U.S. commitments overseas.

The President asked $3.46 billion in foreign aid authorizations for the fiscal year which began July 1.

The 20 per cent committee reduction includes $205 million cut from the military aid section, which Johnson set at $596 million.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, who led the move to cut back the arms program, said the changes could lead to a cutoff of U.S. military aid in programs and countries where "it ought not to have been started in the first place."

A parade of administration spokesmen, led by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, appeared before the committee this week to plead for approval of the program as submitted by the President.

The bidding:

Opening lead: Jack of ♠

When South overcalled East's opening one spade bid with two clubs, North did not exercise good judgment in offering his partner a direct raise. Holding balanced distribution and a stopper in spades, he should have bid two no trump. If he intends to try for game, a nine trick contract may be more readily within reach.

West opened the jack of spades and South played the ten from dummy. The normal procedure would be to put up the king, for by forcing out the ace, declarer establishes two stoppers for himself, the ten and the queen.

There were other considerations, however, that influenced South. He observed that, if he could pick up the king of clubs, nine tricks would become available to him provided that the defense let him in at the opening gun. Observe that, if East ducks the jack of spades, declarer can overtake his king of diamonds with dummy's ace to finesse East's king of clubs, and thereby score six club tricks, two diamonds, and one spade.

There was an additional factor behind declarer's play from the dummy. By providing East with an inducement to follow with a small card at trick one, South would avert a heart shift by the opposition which might prove most discomforting.

Unfortunately for the declarer, the same set of conclusions were available to East—as soon as he analyzed the reason for dummy's unorthodox play at trick one. It appeared to him that his opponent was unduly anxious to obtain the lead without delay. Furthermore, East was aware that his king of clubs was exposed to imminent capture, and that South might well be in position to run off with nine tricks.

Expedience clearly pointed to prompt and decisive action by the defense. East accordingly put up the ace of spades and shifted to the ace of hearts. West signalled encouragingly with the eight and East continued with the jack. The defense rattled off three more heart tricks to send South down to defeat, before he had time to launch his own campaign.

Anderson To Get Award

School superintendent Sam Anderson has been named one of eight recipients of a Distinguished Service Award presented by the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association of Texas.

Selection of the awards was made by the directors of the agriculture association, basing judgment on the individual's outstanding contributions to the agriculture, education and rural youth, according to E. A. Roquemore, president of the association.

Roquemore said the awards will be presented during the state conference in Dallas, Aug. 7-11. Anderson, however, is scheduled to attend the World Conference of Organizations of the Teaching Professions in Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 2-9. He is presently on a three-week educational tour of several European countries which will conclude in Canada. Anderson is attending the Canadian world conference as president of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Roddy Peoples, the Voice of Southwest Agriculture for two radio stations in Midland and San Angelo, was also selected for the award.

Cluck Resigns Forsan Post, Goes To Van Vleck

Bill Cluck, principal of Forsan High School, has resigned to accept the elementary principal's post at Van Vleck.

The Forsan school board met in special session Tuesday evening to accept his resignation, as well as that of Darlene Eggen, a teacher who is entering the real estate business; and Elmer G. Patton Jr., school board member who is moving to Burkburnett.

Ross J. Callihan was named to fill Patton's unexpired term on the board, which continues through 1969.

Cluck is a graduate of Baylor University and earned his masters degree at the University of Oklahoma in 1959. He taught seven years at Grapevine and four years at Celina.

He came to Forsan as a junior high principal, and helped plan a reorganization program for the Forsan schools. He helped plan and implement the new building projects that are nearing completion at Elbow and at Forsan, and last year was named principal of the high school.

His wife, Dorothy, was employed as a dental technician in Big Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Cluck, along with their children, Beverly, Mike, Mitch and Carl Lou, will move to Van Vleck in the near future.

Slice In British Forces Endorsed

LONDON (AP) — Despite abstentions by dissenting Laborites, the House of Commons Thursday night endorsed the Labor government's long-range plan to pull British forces out of Southeast Asia in the next decade.

The new defense policy will cut all British forces by one-fifth, halve forces in Singapore and Malaysia by the early 1970s and close down Southeast Asia bases by the mid-1970s. It was approved 297-230, short of Labor's full-strength 96-vote margin.

Two Employees Claim Voting Notice Marked

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — Two employees of Starr Produce Co. testified at a National Labor Relations Board hearing Friday a union election notice was defaced. Their testimony conflicted with that of management witnesses.

The National Labor Relations Board hearing is on a disputed union election at the Rio Grande City produce firm. The hearing was expected to end today.

14-14 TIE

The election, held April 13, was the first of its kind ever held in Starr County. It wound up a 14-14 tie. There were three challenged ballots.

Leaders of the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, AFL-CIO, seek to represent the packing shed employees, claimed that a company supervisor was used as a poll watcher, a deputy sheriff was present in the voting area and that the company fired two men because of union activities.

'NO' COLUMN

Testimony Thursday concerned notices posted at the firm to tell employees of the pending election. Humberto Garcia, assistant manager of Starr Produce, had testified that he placed the notices in prominent places and checked twice daily to see that they remained intact.

Union representatives David Lopez and Eugene Nelson claimed the posters, which contained a sample ballot, said someone had marked an "X" with a pencil in the "no" column of the sample ballot.

BALLOTS CHECKED

Scott Toothaker, a McAllen lawyer representing Starr Produce, testified Thursday he checked the ballots several times on the day of the election and that on all of his checks he found no markings on the ballot. He said his last check was made about 10 minutes before the polls opened at 2 p.m. on April 13. He said about two minutes later Nelson and Lopez told an NLRB official the ballots had been defaced.

Mrs. Angelica Garza and Mrs. Andrea Gutierrez, employees of Starr Produce, said the ballots were defaced before election day.

Harry Andrews, a company foreman, testified he always handed out the paychecks. Both Mrs. Garza and Mrs. Gutierrez, said Pancho Gutierrez, described as a "pusher," handed out the checks each week.

'Little Baby'

A contender for becoming this season's sex symbol is Czech actress Olinka Berova, 21, who will star in "The Vengeance of She." Olinka, whose name means "Little Baby," was suggested for the role because of her resemblance to Ursula Andress, star of "She," who was too expensive for the sequel. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Czech Starlet Stops Traffic

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

LONDON (AP) — The cheekbones are high, the hair blonde and unruly, the shoulders wide, and the bust ample—37 inches by the studio's claim, 36 by her own account.

She has all the attributes for being the season's sex symbol, and the European picture magazines are reacting accordingly. They have been featuring photographs of the erstwhile successor to Ursula Andress and Raquel Welch.

TRUE TEST

The unusual aspect of the new contender is that she is a Czech. Olinka Berova is her name, and her official biography points out that Olinka means "Little Baby." The document adds: "The true test of a 'stunner' is the look she gets in the street. Olinka stops the whole traffic!"

Well, it's conceivable. But the real Olinka Berova is rather bored with the sex build-up and would like to skip it. That's not likely, not when she is starring as "She" in "The Vengeance of She."

"SHE" SEQUEL

Miss Berova is further evidence of the amazing vigor of the tiny film industry of Communist Czechoslovakia. The nation's films have been applauded by critics and film-festival judges in various parts of the world. This outburst of talent caught the attention of one of America's big agencies, G.A.C., which arranged to represent the Czechs in dealings with producers of the West.

A new star was sought for a sequel to "She." Miss Andress, who had played the title role, was by now too expensive. G.A.C. suggested Miss Berova because of her resemblance to Miss Andress. The producers, Hammer-Seven Arts, were in hearty agreement.

'I HAVEN'T'

Olinka Berova is 21, miniskirted ("We wear them in Prague, too") and speaks English with an engaging accent. "When did you learn to speak English?" "I haven't!" She is an accidental actress.

"After I finish school, I was 18 and I do not know what to do," she related. "There was this director who saw me and wanted me to appear in his film. I did not want to. But he keeps after me for six months, and finally he says, 'Now you must say yes or no.' I say yes."

The first film was called "We Were Ten." It was followed by "Lemonade Joe," which won second prize at the San Sebastian Film Festival and brought Miss Berova international attention. She has appeared in 10 films, including the German-made "Gold Miners of Arkansas" and the Austrian "Count Bobby from the Wild West."

Miss Berova was born and educated in Prague, where her father works in the Ministry of Heavy Metals. She is earning $20,000 for "The Vengeance of She." A modest sum by Hollywood standards, but substantial for a Czech actress.

Eight-Week Strike Ends

DALLAS (AP) — Safeway Stores and striking retail clerks announced the end Thursday of an eight-week strike at 22 Safeway grocery stores in 10 Texas cities.

Federal Mediator Walter White said both sides agreed to a wage settlement and pickets went down Thursday morning. The terms of the agreement were not disclosed, pending a vote by some 120 Safeway Workers.

The retail Clerks International Union, AFL-CIO, went on strike June 1 at the Safeway stores in Texarkana, Lufkin, Mount Pleasant, Mineola, Wichita Falls, Waco, Bonham, Denison, McKinney and Tyler. At issue were lower wages paid in the so-called "country stores" in comparison with those paid union members at Safeway operations in Dallas and Fort Worth.

Both Safeway and union officials said the strike settlement was a fair one, White said. He said the proposed settlement would be put to an immediate vote in the 10 cities involved.

CRMWD Will Seek Bids In November For Pipeline

Bids for construction of a 33-mile section of pipeline from Big Spring to the Martin County pump station will be asked in November, directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District were informed Thursday.

Prospects are that this section will be 36-inch diameter line, said S. W. Freese, Fort Worth, engineer for the district. Putting this line in first will enable the district to serve Midland water in 1969, if supplies are ample and if Midland wishes delivery before the contract date of 1970. Freese said this might depend in a measure upon Midland's plans for a filtration plant. If this facility will be ready prior to 1970, the district can quickly let the section of line from Martin County to Midland in short order.

Construction of the Big Spring-Martin County leg will give the district greater flexibility because it has a 33-inch line from Lake J. B. Thomas to Big Spring, but 27-inch line from Big Spring to the Martin County station. From the Martin County point to Odessa the district has 27-inch and 33-inch supply lines.

Approval was given for the purchase of equipment needed for clearing the Robert Lee lake basin. This will amount to $76, 566, according to estimates, including $68,516 for two heavy-duty tractors. The tractors will be utilized in operations after the 10,000-acre clearing project has been completed.

Directors authorized posting $323,000 with the Coke County Court to meet the award of a jury of view commission in condemnation proceedings for 2,618 acres in feet and 482 acres flood easement from Mr. and Mrs. Tom Steph and Mrs. Gwen Tucker, who have given notice of appeal of the award. Posting the amount will enable the district to proceed with clearing operations prior to final settlement of the matter if needs be.

Freese told the directors that the district faces an expensive operation in reducing salt water pollution on the Colorado River in northern Mitchell County. Indications are now that in addition to a channel dam, side storage of as much as 2,500 acre-feet may be needed to handle the initial flow (flush) of the river.

Once the new flow on the river fell below 500 ppm, big lift pumps to the side storage would shut off and the flow go down the river into the Robert Lee Lake. He felt that the district could effectively reduce salt concentrations below 135 ppm, which would be entirely satisfactory, but that the water could be mixed with that from Lake J. B. Thomas and cut the chlorides to a negligible figure. The project may exceed a million dollars in cost, he said.

Directors authorized O. H. Ivie, general manager, to begin buying pipeline right-of-way. They also approved expenditure of $7,500 for repairing a break in the Bull Creek diversion levee. Rains a month ago carried out a section containing 20,000 cubic yards of material. Ivie said that no reason for the break was found, but it could have been from a cracking of the soils during a long period of drought.

A September letting on relocation of 7½ miles of SH 158 (Sterling City - Robert Lee) highway may be in the offing, Ivie said. Highway officials, however, said that the letting might come a month later, but that the southeast end would be built first to permit diversion of traffic around the dam now under construction.

Contracts to furnish Humble Oil & Refining Company with water for flooding the IAB field and for construction of mounts and other facilities for putting wells in the dry in the basin were approved.

NYC Quota Here Raised To 65

Increases in both the weekly work load and the Howard County allotment for the Neighborhood Youth Corps project were announced today by Roy Anderson, local director of the project. In a meeting with Larry Smith, area director of the federal work program with headquarters in Snyder, Anderson learned enrollees in the program could now work a 40-hour week rather than the 28-hour week previously set for the summer program. Anderson said he had received no word if the 15-hour week effective during the regular school sessions would be increased.

Tracksters Await Turn At Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Canada (AP)—The sizzling Pan-American swimming pool which cooked up five world records in two days cooled off today in a comparative lull before the United States, already burdened by gold medals, sends its powerful track team into action Saturday.

On Wednesday world swimming records were set by the USA's Mark Spitz in the 200-meter backstroke and by Miss Tanner in the women's 200-meter backstroke.
Other gold medals were won Thursday by Charlie Hickcox, Phoenix, Ariz., in the 100-meter backstroke and Doug Russell, Midland, Tex., in the 200-meter individual medley relay, both in Pan-Am record times.
The U. S. basketball team maintained a 115-point average Thursday in crushing Panama 122-73 for a 3-0 record. Mexico, in another grouping, kept headed towards a possible title playoff with the Americans by edging Brazil 66-64, also for a 3-0 record.

The U. S. baseball team maintained a chance to meet Cuba in next week's title playoff by outlasting Canada 14-10 for a 3-1 mark. Meanwhile, defending champion Cuba fattened its record to 3-0 by shutting out Puerto Rico, 3-0.

That's also when Head Coach Dutch Warmdam loses his Yank track and field team for an expected near sweep of gold medals in a weeklong 24-event program.
Three world swim marks were set Thursday night and two Wednesday night.
As expected, the fifth Pan-Am Games have been no-contest for Uncle Sam's huge athletic squad which has accounted for 28 gold medals out of 34 since the 20-sport carnival began Monday.

Thursday, for instance, the United States won every one of 18 finals contested except the women's 100-meter backstroke which went to the incredible Miss Tanner in a world record time of 1:07.3 and the two-lap cycle sprint won by Roger Gibson of Trinidad-Tobago.
The big U. S. gold medal grab Thursday also included two world record swimming performances, a sweep of seven individual wrestling titles, team and individual rapid fire pistol shooting crowns, the men's individual sabre titles, and men's gymnastics team and individual all-around victories.

The world aquatic marks came as 14-year-old Debby Meyer of Sacramento, Calif., slashed more than five seconds off the former world women's 400 meter free style record with a 4:32.4, and Ken Walsh, ex-Michigan State star, posted an 82.4 clocking for 100 meters as a leadoff man for the winning U. S. 400-meter free style relay

Although he is out of coaching and involved in an endeavor that demands an equally large share of his waking hours, Mike Harris of the local YMCA staff is planning to sit in on part of the sessions of next month's annual Texas Six and Eight Man Coaching Association school in Midland.

It would be hard for any of Mike's critics, if such a species existed, to say he was forced out of coaching. Harris' Paint Rock teams were beaten only once in two seasons and last fall the school was 12-0.
Harris has lectured at the coaching clinic in the past and this year will have three of his former players in the six-man All-star contest - end Gary Fowler and Paint Rock's celebrated Touchdown Twins, David Holubec and Jerry Horvack.

Holubec is bound for the University of Texas on probably the first athletic scholarship ever offered to a six-man player by the Austin school. David also has a knack for putting the weights a great distance in track and, quite likely, will concentrate on that sport in the spring.
Harris says that the trio didn't require much coaching, that they are natural athletes and reported to fall drills in excellent physical condition.

Hatton Given Pact Renewal

HOUSTON (AP) - Houston Astros Manager Grady Hatton, with a new one-year contract in his pocket, says his team has a lot of bright spots despite its current last place position in the National League.
Roy Hofheinz, owner of the Astros, announced Thursday Hatton's contract as field manager had been renewed. He also announced the appointment of H. B. "Spec" Richardson as general manager.
The announcements ended speculation that Hatton might be replaced by Harry Walker, who was fired recently as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Doug Russell Is Standout

WINNIPEG, Canada (AP) - Doug Russell of Midland, a University of Texas at Arlington swimmer, led the charge of the Texans in the Pan American Games Thursday.
Russell set a Pan American record in winning the 200-meter individual medley in 2:13.3. He beat the favorite, Bill Utey of St. Petersburg, Fla., by one meter.
Another top showing was that turned in by Ed Teague of San Antonio, who finished third in the rapid fire pistol event only because of gun trouble.
Maj. Williams McMillan of Camp Pendleton, Calif., who won the gold medal with 581 points, said Teague should have won it. "He missed a target because of gun trouble," pointed out McMillan.
When his weapon misfired on the first string of shots in the final six-second sequence, it cost him a possible 10 points. Otherwise he would have won the event by eight points had it not occurred.
Anyway he helped the U.S. team to first place with 2,307 points.
Patsy Rippey of Odessa, Tex., and Janie Albert won their way to the finals of women's tennis doubles. They beat Patricia Montano and Elena Subirats of Mexico 6-3, 5-7, 6-3 in the semifinals. They play Eugenia Guzman and Ana Maria Icaza of Ecuador for the championship.

Veteran Julius Boros Is Co-Leader At Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—The sharply honed veteran Julius Boros, with three tournament titles in the bag this year, eyed the Minnesota Golf Classic as another good possibility to today after an opening-round 70.
Boros tied with two lesser lights on the pro circuit in Thursday's first round over the tough Hazeltine golf course, which plays 7,229 yards with par 72.
They were Ray Floyd of St. Andrews, Ill., who won the Minnesota tournament two years ago and Dick Lotz, Hayward, Calif.
Only five others broke par in Thursday's opening round, and five others were even with it.
Missing from the tourney were such stars as Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer. But

Jansen Vows New Surge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - "We start a winning streak tonight," vowed Giants pitching coach Larry Jansen. San Francisco dropped its 10th game in the last 14, 8-3 to Philadelphia Thursday, and fell eight games behind the National League leading St. Louis.
The Giants' bullpen has taken a beating in that stretch - 30 relievers called to the mound for a total of 44 pitchers.
The former pitching star of the Giants said, "We lost 11 straight when I was pitching and won the pennant."
He recalled that that was in 1951.

Amarillo Sonics Leading Circuit By 4 1/2 Lengths

Amarillo played its 100th game Thursday night, and that left only 40 to go with the Sonics boasting a lead of 4½ games in the Texas League.
The race might well end like that. Three clubs are playing better than .500 baseball and the other three are close to it.
Amarillo, winning its fourth straight after losing six in a row, edged Austin 3-1. Now the Sonics lead for Little Rock to play the slumping Arkansas Travelers.
Second-place El Paso held the pace, whamming Arkansas 8-4, while Dallas-Fort Worth moved to a 1½-game lead over central

Bears Decision College Stars

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) - The College All-Stars and the Chicago Bears paraded in a 1967 football preview Thursday and both teams passed their tests with top grades.
The All-Stars, who will meet the professional champion Green Bay Packers in football's midsummer classic Aug. 4 in Chicago's Soldier Field, proved themselves capable of the task.
The Bears won 23-22 on Bruce Alford's 30-yard field goal on the last play of the practice game.
"This is one of the greatest All-Star squads I've ever seen," said Bear owner-coach George Halas after the game.

Fillies Seek Major Purse At Monmouth

By The Associated Press
The fillies and mares of thoroughbred racing will slice up the richest purses on the American turf Saturday, with the 2-year-olds going for the $100,000 guaranteed Sorority at Monmouth Park and the older equine gals for the $100,000-added Delaware Handicap at Delaware Park.
In their first fling at really big money, seven or eight juvenile misses were expected to be entered today for the six-furlong Sorority.
The stick-out in the Sorority is Ogden Phipps' well-named Queen of the Stage. She'll be ridden by Braulio Baexa.
With not more than six or seven opposing the flashy Queen of the Stage, first place would be worth about $60,000. The C.T. Chenery entry of Gay Mateida and Syrian Sea, both stakes winners trained by Casey Hayes, figures to be the second choice.
Mrs. Ethel J. Jacobs' Straight Deal, topweighted under 125 pounds, heads a probable field of nine in the 1¼-mile Delaware Handicap. She'll be ridden by Bobby Ussery in a race that shapes up as a wide open affair.
Pending release of the entries and the status of Mac's Sparkler, the second starting highlight is expected to be Indian Sunlight under 119 pounds. Swinging Mood, one of last year's big stakes winners but lightly raced this season, gets in with 117 as does Polately.
Aquaduct, where the runners will perform on the last day before moving to Saratoga Springs, N.Y., for four weeks, and Arlington Park each will feature $50,000-added races on the grass.
Arlington offers the 1 1/16-mile Citation Handicap with the undefeated Argentine import, Forli, scheduled to carry top-weight of 128 pounds.
War Censor, a strong candidate for turf course honors this year of four stakes victories, is the likely starting highweight under 128 pounds in the 1¼-mile Tidal Handicap at Aqueduct.

Morgan Adding Punch To Houston Attack

By The Associated Press
Houston's dynamic duo, about the only thing that has kept the Astros from falling through the bottom of the National League this season, is showing signs of becoming a threesome.

Joe Morgan, now genuinely out of the hitting slump that plagued him through the early part of the season, won a game for the Astros with a run-scoring single in the bottom of the ninth for the second straight time as Houston trimmed Pittsburgh 5-4 Thursday night.

"Look at my roomie," Jim Wynn said when it was over, "taking all the glory."

"You don't want me in the act?" answered Morgan. "You and Rusty Staub have been taking all the glory all year. It's about time you leave a little room for me."

Staub, leading the league in hitting at .338—he went three-for-four Thursday—and Wynn, tops in runs batted in with 76, have been doing most of Houston's heavy hitting till Morgan's renaissance. But despite their best efforts the club is mired in the cellar, 18 games off the pace.

In other National League games, Atlanta beat Cincinnati 4-1, Philadelphia bounced San Francisco 8-3 and Los Angeles edged New York 7-6 in 11 innings.

Morgan, batting as low as .063 at one point in the early going, is now pounding the ball at a .295 clip and is riding an 11-game hitting streak.

Wednesday against Philadelphia, he singled in the winning run in the ninth and Thursday, after Ron Davis tied the game with a run-scoring single, Morgan came up with the winner.

The Braves got all their runs in the first inning, with Hank Aaron and Felipe Alou hitting homers that drove Sammy Ellis from the mound before he could get anybody out. Ken Johnson, 10-4, was the winner.

Billy Cowan and Bobby Wine hit homers in Philadelphia's five-run third inning and Richie Allen got his third homer in as many days in the first. John Bozzer went the distance to win his third game.

Jack Fisher, the sixth Mets' pitcher wild-pitched Nate Oliver in with the winning run after the Mets had tied the score with a run in the ninth. Both teams scored three times in the eighth inning of the 3-hour, 50-minute contest.

Rallye Is Set Here Sunday

Persons who would like to pit their driving and timing skills against other car enthusiasts are eligible to enter a rallye scheduled by the Mesquite Rallye Association for Sunday.

Point of departure will be the Deep Rock Service Station, 700 W. 3rd. Registration will get under way at 12 noon and the first car will depart at 1:30 p.m.

Trophies will be awarded to owners of vehicles finishing first, second and third. The course covers 100 to 130 miles of what has been described as "fascinating and frustrating fun." It's easy for the driver to get lost unless he tends to his knitting.

Texans Shade Andrews, 2-1

ANDREWS — District 3 will be represented in the Little League playoffs by a Big Spring contingent.

Just which one will be determined at 8 o'clock here tonight, at which time the Big Spring Texans square off with the Big Spring Nationals.

The Texans made sure of their place in the finals by topping the Andrews Nationals in a thrill-packed encounter Thursday night, 2-1.

The Nationals had advanced earlier at the expense of the Big Spring Internationals, 12-4.

Quite likely, Elias Villa will hurl for the Texans tonight while the Nationals will lead with Gary Goswick.

Left fielder Daniel Madrid clubbed a solo home run for Andrews in the second but Gilbert Gomez and Tom Gonzales teamed up to tie the count for Big Spring in their half of the round with successive hits.

The game rocked along until the fifth, when James Person reached base on a walk for the Texans. Chris Duron followed with a single that advanced Person to second.

Person eventually scored from third on a wild pitch.

Gonzales, who went all the way on the mound for Big Spring, yielded only two hits and fanned eight. Outside of Madrid, only Jim Leach hit safely against Gonzales.

Gomez paced the Texans at bat with two safeties. The Big Springers played errorless ball afield. Andrews committed two blunders.

Winner of tonight's game squares off with the survivor in the Lubbock district the night of July 31.

NEW PRO BUDDY HUGHES
Arrives few days early

Hughes Arrives To Take Post

By TOMMY HART
It showered at the Big Spring Country Club Thursday.

The quarter of an inch of moisture that fell was coincidental with the arrival of Charles (Buddy) Hughes, 29, who has been hired to replace Jerry Green as head golf pro of the 300-member course.

The rain over the 18-hole layout (which can always use a drink of water), may have been a good omen. Hughes has made a favorable impression on all who have met him, and there's nothing like getting off to a good start.

He conceded it would take him several days to "take hold" here but he arrived early to tackle the job—he wasn't due until Aug. 1.

He and Mrs. Hughes, the former Helen Marie Stone, are making their home at 2000 Morrison and plan to join the College Baptist Church.

They have one child, Julie Ann, age 9, living at home. She'll be in the fourth grade this fall. Charles Edward, the older of the Hughes' two children, has been in Vietnam serving with the U.S. Marines the past six months.

Buddy hopes to continue the fine work carried on among junior golfers by his immediate predecessor and to offer enduring encouragement to the women who play the game.

He hopes to stay busy as a teaching pro, too, he said.

Hughes came here from Lorenzo, where he served as pro of a nine-hole course that has about 150 members. One of the players there is Jim Fulington, who teamed with Eddie Jones to win the Big Spring Open here several years ago.

When Buddy arrived at Lorenzo to assume his duties 2 1/2 years ago, Lorenzo did not have a pro—one of the members was running the shop.

He decided to apply for the local position after reading about the club's need for a pro in an area newspaper and after conferring with some of his friends about making a change.

Hughes has dedicated much of his life since the age of nine either to golf or the Armed Forces. He has served two hitches with the Medical branch of the Army, having been recalled in 1950 during the Korean crisis. His service tentures were at San Antonio and Fort Lewis, Wash.

He started caddyng at the old Parkdell course in his native Dallas at the age of nine. He was an assistant pro at Dallas Lakewood from 1953 through much of 1954 and again briefly in 1960 and served under Maurice Hudson at Northwood in 1955-56. He also was head pro at the Dickinson course near Houston for 2 1/2 years before going to Lorenzo.

Buddy won't admit to a golfing game equal to that of the touring pros—a working pro rarely can find the time to sharpen his game. He says he shoots in the middle 70's but has scored as low as 65 and has scored three aces in such places as Dallas Tennyson, San Antonio Willow Springs and Dickinson.

West Texans Take Honors

FORT WORTH (AP) — A couple of West Texas beauties, both musicians, shared the spotlight as the Miss Texas Pageant swung into its final phase of preliminary competition tonight.

Miss West Texas—Martha Lon Whiddon, a jazz drummer from Odessa—won swimsuit honors Thursday night while Miss Denton—Ann Estelle Patterson of Snyder, a classical oboist—took the talent laurels.

The two joined Miss Dallas, Jeannie Wilson, and Miss Baylor University, Mary Lois Summers, as preliminary winners in the annual pageant. Judges will pick a successor Saturday night to the reigning Miss Texas, Susan Kay Logan.

DAZZLING FIGURE
A hit in the opening night talent competition, Miss Whiddon, 19, impressed the judges with her 36-24-36 figure in a dazzling white swimsuit. She stands 5-foot-7 and weighs 125 pounds.

Miss Patterson, 20, won attention with an oboe solo, beginning with a classical interpretation of the popular song "Stranger in Paradise" and concluding with an upbeat version of the same theme.

OBOE PRO
Miss Patterson attends North Texas State, where she is a senior music major concentrating on oboe and also a saxophonist in the "4 o'clock Lab Band," one of the famed Leon Breeden jazz groups.

"I play the sax but oboe's my instrument," she smiled. Miss Patterson said she hopes to attend Eastman School of Music or Yale to prepare for teaching on the college level.

A 112-pounder, she said she dreaded the swimsuit competition tonight: "I've been working on the oboe 10 years, but I haven't been walking around in a bathing suit!"

KNEES KNOCK
Concerning the swimsuit competition, Miss Whiddon admitted that "this is what we all dread the most... you feel like you're so bare." She added, "You shouldn't quote me on all this... I was trying to keep my knees from knocking together!"

She confessed to being nervous while playing the drums but said, "every time I play I feel like a new person..."

A sophomore at the University of Arkansas, Miss Whiddon was named "Miss Astro" in a four-state contest this year and is working in the public relations office this summer of the Houston Sports Association.

The "Miss Astro" baseball title brought her a three-year scholarship to the Southwest Conference school of her choice. She chose Arkansas because her grandparents live there.

BRITISH STEEL NATIONALIZED
LONDON (AP)—Britain's major steel companies came under government ownership today facing hard times at home and fierce competition abroad.

Nationalization of 14 companies producing 90 per cent of Britain's steel was completed without fanfare after long political argument between Conservative and Labor parties. Parliament passed the nationalization bill last winter.

The new organization, to be called the British Steel Corporation, is one of the world's largest industrial groups. Its plants are valued at $3.92 billion and its annual sales at more than $2.5 billion. It has more than 270,000 employees.

This is the second time British steel has been nationalized. The first postwar Labor government took over all 92 iron and steel companies in 1951. The Conservatives turned them back to private hands.

Postal Increase Hearing Slated
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Post Office Committee is due to consider next week legislation that would hike postage rates on first class letters and post cards to six cents an ounce.

The measure, approved by a House Post Office subcommittee Thursday, also would increase air mail letter and air mail post card rates to 10 cents.

Present rate for first class letters is five cents an ounce, for post cards four cents, air mail letters eight cents and air mail post cards six cents.

Says Spending Cuts Would Offset Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford says deep cuts in federal spending on space, public works and foreign aid would offset any need for a tax hike this year.

The cuts can be made in defense as well as nondefense spending, Ford said, in reiterating his opposition to the six per cent income tax surcharge proposed by President Johnson.

Here are Ford's responses to questions from The Associated Press:

Q. How much reduction would have to be made to stave off a tax hike?

A. The Congress and the President, working together, can surely achieve whatever spending cutbacks are necessary to match the revenue which might be obtained through a tax increase.

SURTAX PLAN
To date, the only definite surtax figure we have heard from the President is six per cent. The administration has estimated the revenue from imposition of a six per cent surtax on income taxes at $4.5 billion to $5 billion.

I feel certain that federal spending can be cut sufficiently to offset the President's demand for additional revenue in that amount.

Q. In what areas would you propose reductions? What specific programs?

A. The House has already cut presidential appropriation requests by $3.47 billion. Additional cuts will be made in the remaining appropriation bills. If the Senate will act accordingly, the Congress can reach the $4.5 billion to $5 billion goal I cited.

MOON TARGET
I believe the space, public works, foreign aid and military construction programs and non-Vietnam defense items can stand substantial cuts. There is nothing sacred about the man-to-the-moon timetable, and many public works projects could be deferred at least a year without harm.

Q. Could reductions be made in defense spending without impairing the war effort?

A. There is no question in my mind that defense spending for fiscal year 1968 can and should be cut. The House voted reductions of $1.22 billion in defense appropriations bills. The Defense Department could, on its own initiative, achieve further reductions without hurting the war effort.

Poison Gas Use Rapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has condemned the reported use of poison gas in Yemen as "inhuman and entirely contrary to the laws of nations."

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey also said Thursday the United States would support any international action dealing with the problem.

But he declined to confirm that the United States is satisfied with charges that Egyptian troops used the poisonous gas in supporting the Yemeni Republic regime in the five-year-old civil war.

"We continue to be deeply disturbed by Yemeni reports on the use of poisonous gas against civilians in the Yemen war, reports that hundreds had been killed and many others gravely affected," McCloskey told a news conference.

Brothers Are United Here

By RHODA LEMONS
Two brothers who have not seen each other in 32 years were re-united Wednesday morning in Big Spring. They are two charming Danes, Svend Nielsen of Copenhagen, Denmark, and Knud Nielsen, 802 E. 14th, formerly of Copenhagen. Svend spent nine hours in flight from Copenhagen to New York, and 53 hours on the bus from New York to Big Spring. He explained that he had heard much about Big Spring and Texas from his brother's letters and from reading, but it is different from what he had expected.

He is proud of his homeland and said that he would never want to live elsewhere, but he would like to have time to completely tour the United States and see everything possible while here. He must be in New York on Aug. 12 to emplane for Denmark. His brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Knud Nielsen, plan to take him to as many places as possible in the few weeks he will remain with them.

Attendants Honored At Luncheon

A bridesmaid's luncheon, honoring feminine attendants at the recent wedding of Miss Kay Dyer and Samuel Cohn, was held in the home of Mrs. L. T. King, 1603 Osage. Joining Mrs. King as hostesses were her daughters, Mrs. Joe Liberty of Midland and Miss Sara King. Twelve guests attended and were seated at three tables, each centered with a miniature bridesmaid placed on a pedestal in a gold, fluted container circled with pink flowers. Gold flatware and amber crystal completed the settings.

The four bridesmaids were Miss Mary Sue Franklin, Houston; Miss Christy Moore, El Dorado; Miss Regina Cohn, Beckley, W. Va.; and Mrs. Robert Wilson. Attending from out of town were Mrs. Mary Cohn of Beckley and Mrs. B. R. Keller of Houston.

They have made their home here for the past 12 years while Seay was an agriculture teacher at Big Spring Senior High School. Mrs. Seay has been employed as attendance clerk at the school and has held membership in a P-TA unit and Xi Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Approximately 30 guests attended between the hours of 9 a.m. and 12 o'clock noon. Coffee and pastries were served from a table covered with beige linen and centered with an arrangement of yellow daisies in a bronze container. Silver and china appointments were used.

WARTIME
Svend Nielsen left Denmark in 1926 and returned in 1938 after traveling to several countries. By this time, the war had started and he could not get his family out of their conquered country. He served in the underground during the war years until Denmark was liberated. He is employed by a brush manufacturing company and lives in Copenhagen.

He is married and has three children, a son, Ingolf, 24; a daughter, Kristen, 15; and Lief, seven, his youngest son. They have remained with their mother in Copenhagen.

He explained that his company doubles the amount of money that the worker puts into a vacation fund, and that all employees are granted two-week vacations in summer and one week in winter. He has saved and planned for this trip for a long while and to date has enjoyed all of it.

He describes his homeland as the "most beautiful place in the world." He stated that there is not a mountain in Denmark, and that Copenhagen has a population of over 1,000,000 persons. It is one of the free seaports in the world, and ships may dock there for an indefinite time and not pay a toll. He pointed out that Denmark is a dairy country, and has large fishing industries. Hunting and fishing and many types of water sports are available there, but the winters are severe. Nielsen said that if the wind comes from Russia or the east, the temperature will get down to 30 degrees below freezing, but if the wind blows from the south, the winters will be milder.

NO SMOG
Svend Nielsen described his homeland as most beautiful during June and said there is no smog or dust. He did admit to a great deal of fog, however, and the annual rainfall averages between 30 and 40 inches.

Many of the homes in Denmark are well over 100 years old, and some have walls two feet thick. His own home is of more recent architecture, and similar to many in the United States.

German and English are required courses in the schools with French and Spanish as optional languages. Both brothers speak fluent English with a delightful accent, but Svend reverted to his native tongue when in a difficult situation. His brother served as interpreter at these times.

The Niensens have planned an extended trip to other states and in Texas, but for right now the brothers are pleased to be together again to reminisce about old times and older countries.

The New School Budget

The local school system is in the throes of working out its financial program for a new year, and even before that period starts, the word has been issued that more money will be required for next year.

There is nothing simple about meeting the ever-expanding educational needs under present tax sources, and trustees are to be commended for making a conscientious study and arriving at some reductions. Even so, an anticipated balance of some $41,000 on a budget of over $4,000,000 is not a comfortable situation.

Reductions made by trustees—and the administration before that—seem to be in order, although there would appear to be inequities in individual cases. The Herald feels that the athletic budget is growing disproportionately, although it quickly recognizes the need for a strong physical education program to go with every other facet of education.

The simple sum of the matter is that such factors as a community's growth; increasing student load; expanding curriculum; the pressing need to stay abreast of state standards; and the additional burdens placed on the district by state action—all these are expensive.

In the last analysis, the bill has to be paid by the local taxpayer, regardless of state and federal areas of aid. "Good schools" constitute a byword, and are essential. Willingness to foot the bill, on the part of many citizens, is another.

The community is in no enviable position, and must be prepared to accept this. There still remains a public hearing on the school budget, to be held August 15 at 7:30 p.m., and this is where John Q. Citizen—if he really is interested—can appear, ask for information, and speak his piece.

Use Seat Belt—All The Time!

Everyone knows that the time to fasten the old seat belt is when you're traveling far on the highway. This, like a lot of other things that "everyone knows," is highly questionable. There is growing evidence that the time to fasten that seat belt is when you're driving in town.

This view has just been further reinforced by an expert, William Haddon Jr. In testimony before a House appropriations subcommittee, the national auto safety director suggested that wearing a seat belt is even more important in city driving than on the open road. It is so important, he testified, that if everyone wore seat belts in town we could "essentially eliminate" serious injury and death in crashes at normal city speeds—that is, under 45 miles per hour.

Obviously it does not follow that fastening seat belts when on the highway is any less important than before. The central point to be made is that these protective devices should be routinely used, no matter where one is driving. Their value, and especially the value of the shoulder harness which gets around the "jackknifing" problem, has been proved beyond doubt.

The real difficulty now, as Haddon's testimony made clear, is that few people customarily fasten their protective harnesses. Figures are hard to come by, but indications are that only about 30 per cent of drivers and passengers use the belts. That figure may be rather high, judging by casual observation.

Requiring people to drive with seat belts fastened would not be easy. It may come to that, however, if both the accident toll and public awareness of the problem keep rising. It is folly for us not to make optimum use of equipment that could substantially reduce the number of traffic fatalities.

David Lawrence The Absence Of Punishment

WASHINGTON — Fear of punishment has long been a natural deterrent to crime, but the gradual decline in the chances of detection or of imprisonment is the main cause of the breakdown today of law and order in America.

Mobs of looters and pillagers have swept cities across the land, but they never would have taken the risk against officers of the law if the police had not been deprived of one of the principal weapons of law enforcement — a readiness to act quickly in arresting and, if necessary, subduing a lawbreaker.

LOCAL POLICE who are trained to pull no punches when they see anyone engaged in violence have become hesitant to act. Indeed, they are accused of "brutality" when they do their duty. That's why National Guardsmen — and, in the latest case, federal troops — were mobilized in desperation only after a city was first ravaged by a lawless minority.

While the wrongdoers are by no means of one race or color, they have a common instinct — to take advantage of the confusion to begin looting.

WHAT HAS started it all? Members of Congress, in their speeches this week, place the blame on various things, including the ease with which guns can be bought by mail and the identity of the purchasers hidden. For several years now, moreover, the nation has been misled into thinking that "demonstrations" and "marches" are merely the exercise of freedom of speech. Although the Supreme Court has again and again in past decades affirmed the principle that a public utterance which incites to crime is not immune from prosecution, the instances nowadays in which individuals who made inflammatory talks were arrested and punished are rare indeed.

THE PRESENT Supreme Court must share some of the blame. It has interfered with the normal processes of crime detection, and it has made it possible for murderers to be liberated on technicalities after the police have interrogated them earnestly in order to elicit confessions. Also, the high court has nullified many state court decisions against persons convicted of trespass and disorderly conduct.

CRITICISMS on this point and on other factors which have reduced the effectiveness of local police are not confined to enraged citizens in a stricken community. Several prominent jurists have themselves spoken out along the same line. Thus, Charles E. Whittaker, formerly an associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, wrote an article a few months ago entitled "The Effects of Planned, Mass Disobedience of Our Laws," which was printed in the "FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin." It reads in part as follows:

"WHILE ALL of our crime is not due to any one cause, it can hardly be denied that a large part of our current rash and rapid spread of lawlessness has derived from planned and organized mass disrespect for, and defiance of, the law and the courts, induced by the irresponsible and inflammatory preachments of some self-appointed leaders of minority groups 'to obey the good laws, but to violate the bad ones' — which, of course, simply advocates violation of the laws they do not like, or, in other words, the taking of the law into their own hands . . .

"THE REMEDY is as plain as the threat. It is simply to insist that our governments, state and federal, re-assume and discharge their 'first duty' of protecting the people against lawless invasions upon their persons and property by the impartial and vigorous enforcement of our criminal laws and by the swift, certain and substantial punishment thereunder of all persons whose conduct violates those laws."

Billy Graham

How does one get saving faith? As to my personal salvation, I can't believe that it is true, even though I believe in God, Jesus and heaven.

H.L. If Satan can keep you from appropriating "saving faith" in Christ, he will have succeeded in hindering you from the most important thing in life — the thing for which you were born.

The basis of saving faith is in something beyond ourselves. The Bible says, "Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God." So, according to the Word of God itself, faith is our own opinions or rationalizations, or feelings, but based on what God has said. Now lay hold on this verse: "As many as received Him (Christ) to them gave He the power to be the sons of God, even to them that believed on His name."

There is something to the your faith to. It has been an anchor for millions who were tossed about on a sea of uncertainty. Saving faith leads us to Christ and an encounter with Him. Anything else is imitation and sham.

'FIRST, WE MUST CORRECT HIS ENVIRONMENT'

James Marlow LBJ Trapped By Racial Storm

WASHINGTON (AP) — These years to President Johnson. The sun was shining, or he thought so. Then the storm broke and he was standing in the midst of thunder and lightning.

It was just a little over two years ago—in June, 1965—that he told the graduating class of Howard University here: "Our earth is the home of revolution."

as klansmen in sheets and man with a sheet on his back and a mask on his face.

He said at that time: "A rioter with a Molotov cocktail in his hands is not fighting for civil rights any more than a klansman with a sheet on his back and a mask on his face."

"THEY ARE both more or less what the law declared them: lawbreakers."

Hal Boyle Fat Tax Plan Pushed

NEW YORK (AP) — Should the government pay fat people to lose weight?

Why not?

At first glance the proposal may sound ridiculous, but if all factors are considered, it makes at least as much sense as many other government support programs.

IF UNCLE SAM is willing to pay a farmer an allotment to reduce his acreage under cultivation, why shouldn't he be equally willing to hand a little cash to tubby city dwellers as an incentive to hold down their production of fat?

Such a program is fundamentally sound because all concerned would profit, including the government itself.

How? Well, let's see.

LET US FIRST examine a typical fatty case today. Sam Slugg, a middle-aged breadwinner with a wife and two kids, a $12,000 annual income, and 40 pounds of excess body weight.

"Sam," his doctor warns him, "you've got to take off those 40 pounds or you're going to die 10 years early. It's as simple as that."

"OKAY," SAYS SAM, whose conscience already has been bothering him because he knows that fat is unattractive and un-American. "I'll go on a diet."

He does go on a diet and begins to count his calories like a miser. He even joins a gym club to get more exercise. The first few pounds evaporate like morning dew under a hot sun.

Then Sam runs into a few hard facts that every dieter learns:

That losing weight is hard, lonely, grueling work.

IN TIME, discouraged by hunger pangs and the lack of any evident reward, Sam relapses into his old pattern.

Just as the doctor promised, Sam dies 10 years early, and soon his family is on government relief.

Ah, but what a different end to the story if an alert government, wise to the true financial situation, should enter the picture.

Here's what happens:

An agent from the U.S. Internal Revenue Service phones Sam:

"SAM, YOUR DOCTOR tells you've got to drop 40 pounds or you'll be off our tax rolls 10 years early. We don't want that to happen because in 10 years we figure to collect maybe $30,000 from you.

"So here's our deal. We'll give you a $1,000 cash bonus the day you can show us you've lost those 40 pounds, and we'll pay you $100 a month in cash for every month that you stay at that level."

Sam quickly fasts away the 40 pounds and has so much energy he doubles his salary, which makes the tax people as happy as it does him.

To Your Good Health 'Pops' His Ears And Hears Better

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: About two years ago I began having trouble hearing. I had several examinations and was told I should get a hearing aid.

However, I noted that every time I "popped" my ears by holding my nose and blowing hard, I could hear fine. I talked to several doctors but only one said he might recommend surgery, but he wants to make another examination first. What do you think? A.H.

There are different causes of hearing loss. One is damage to, or degeneration of, the auditory nerves, and since these must carry all sound impulses to the brain, there is little we can do for such a case except provide louder sounds to start with — hence hearing aids.

If the Eustachian tubes are clogged, pressure building up against the eardrum can limit its vibrations, and hence the sound, and thus impair your hearing. A long, rapid drop in an elevator, or in an unpurged airplane, can "make your ears clog up." What is happening is that it takes a little time for the tiny tubes to equalize the pressure. A cold in the head, and its inflammation, can interfere.

linkage of tiny bones. Infection or injury prevents these from moving freely, sound is not carried as efficiently as it should be. For this, certain surgical techniques have been devised and in suitable cases are remarkably successful.

Still another cause of hearing impairment exists. There is a tiny canal, the Eustachian tube, in each ear, leading from inside the ear drum to the throat. The purpose is to keep the air pressure approximately equal on each side of the ear drum.

Why? Well, take a drum. If you pumped up the air pressure inside the drum, the drum head would not vibrate freely, hence would not give as strong a sound.

Around The Rim Paste-Pot Pearls

A. J. Vaughn, 606 Scurry, brings me back a letter opener from San Saba which is supposed to bring me good luck. After revealing the following letters—I'll need it.

DEAR PASTE-POT MAN:
How come June has only 30 days?

May
Because it has only 31 nights, and you just have to make it come out even.

DEAR PASTE-POT MAN:
How do you regard very low cut necklines?

Elka
I look down on them.

DEAR PASTE-POT MAN:
Do you know people who talk so much you get hoarse just listening to them?

Mae
Yes. And I also know a man who calls his wife Pegasus because although she is not an immortal horse, she is an eternal nag.

DEAR PASTE-POT MAN:
Who said "It is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all?"

Velma Pancaque
Tommy Manville.
DEAR PASTE-POT MAN:
Are you writing any 'new songs'?

Beatles
I'm working on one entitled: "My Plates Cost Only a Dollar, and That's Why I Have Buck Teeth."

DEAR PASTE-POT MAN:
Do you also write books?

Joe Brandt
Yes. My most successful was "Ten Thousand Ways to Cheat on Your Income Tax." I wrote it during a vacation at Leavenworth.

DEAR PASTE-POT MAN:
What is the source of the quotation "The stag at eve had drunk his fill?"

Glen

A beer commercial.

I saw the shortest miniskirt in my experience Thursday. My aged eyes estimated it reached eight inches from the knees of a girl in her upper teens walking near the Big Spring Herald. It was so terrible I almost walked into the side of a taxi.

The miniskirt fad allows some mothers to wear their young daughters' clothes. They're sort of hand-me-ups.

The trouble with today's housewife is she's so busy pushing buttons she has no time to sew any on.

Nowadays there are just two kinds of people—skinny ones who tell you how fat they used to be, and fat ones who tell you how skinny they're gonna be.

Just about the time your income reaches the point where food prices don't matter, calories do.

Some people boast about getting up early, as though that were a virtue, and spend the day resting on their laurels.

There are two schools of thought on misery. One is "Misery loves company." The other is "Misery is company."

One thing's certain — it's easier to give up smoking than it is to give up talking about it later.

A woman standing too close to me in a downtown drug store told a daughter about seven years old: "I've told you a million times not to exaggerate!"

Also overheard: "No, he's not dense. He just doesn't clutter up his mind with essential facts."

—WALT FINLEY

Holmes Alexander Wirtz And The Uranium Scare

WASHINGTON — It wasn't a very crowded theater in which Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz shouted "Fire!" And there is some reason to believe that he thought he'd smelled smoke. But he did start a small panic, which might have become a big one. He did play the demagog, whatever his intentions.

The audience was limited because, although nuclear energy is a spicy subject, uranium - mining discussions are about as exciting as shredded wheat.

THE SECRETARY'S language on first release and shortly afterwards was flammable while, the yarns were technical and intricate, not easily readable.

This was Wirtz: "... unmistakable evidence of a high incidence of lung cancer among uranium miners . . . 98 have died . . . another 250 to 1,000 . . . incurably afflicted . . . over two-thirds of the approximately 2,500 underground uranium miners are working under conditions that triple their prospects of dying from lung cancer . . . The ultimate question here is whether an economic enterprise is to be required to satisfy the human values or whether these values are to be compromised . . ."

THIS IS THE story: Uranium puts off radon gas, which emits solid particles called radon daughters, and these in concentration will cause lung cancer. The standard of measurement for this concentration, known as "work level" (W.L.), is a weighted factor of intensity and time of exposure.

When uranium mining began to boom, just after World War II, the effects of its radiation were little known and less considered by industry, unions and government. Miners were exposed to as much as 1,500 W.L. in some of the "dogholes," or small mines, although this was exceptional.

BUT AS LARGE companies got into the act, as state and federal inspectors came around, technology dramatically reduced the radiation. Wirtz says the concentration averaged 10 W.L. in 1947, 7 W.L. in 1957, 2 W.L. in 1967.

BUT THE impressive record of improvement did not impress Secretary Wirtz. Neither was he impressed by an informal agreement between industry and government to work toward a goal of 1 W.L. throughout all underground mines. On May 5, Wirtz set his own standard at 0.3, a figure he had picked up from a minority report in the Public Health Service. The Secretary issued a directive that all underground mines must comply, must prove their compliance by instrumentation, or lose their government contracts.

THERE WAS a stormy playback in Washington, and Wirtz last week had apparently retreated from his 0.3 standard to the generally accepted one of 1 W.L. But the matter is now academic only if a Cabinet officer is allowed to shout "Fire!" in a moment of frenzy.

Much doubt exists about the cancer statistics that he cited. No doubt exists that his 0.3 standard was absurdly unrealistic. His directive, if enforced, would have closed every underground mine in the country without any provable effect upon cancer control.

Marquis Childs Every City Has Detroit's Problems

WASHINGTON — If it can happen in Detroit, it can happen anywhere. The feeling is growing that objective causes — poverty, slums, joblessness — have less to do with racial violence than deep-seated frustration and hostility.

Great efforts on the part of many people over a long period of years had gone into preventing an explosion in Detroit, as this reporter learned during several days there last week. No one said, "It can't happen here." But since the violent clash in 1943 by white southerners and Negroes, attracted by high pay in wartime jobs, there had been only minor episodes.

AT MANY LEVELS a great deal of work went into trying to create a climate of racial harmony and understanding. More than in any other segment of the economy, the motor industry, thanks to the combined efforts of the United Auto Workers and the big companies, has advanced toward equality of job opportunity. The UAW is integrated from top to bottom, with Negroes holding important office in the union.

This has contributed to the creation of a Negro middle class. But, as most observers agreed, the Negro, having achieved middle-class status, sought to divorce himself from the slums. He wanted to break out of what Mayor Jerome Cavanagh described recently as the "white noise" of suburbs strangling the city.

THE OBJECTIVE conditions for revolt were present in Detroit, with its slums matching those anywhere in overcrowding, filth and degradation. Crime in the streets had become the cry of a crusader demanding Mayor Cavanagh's recall, and a tragic consequence of the holocaust was a hardening of white attitudes.

The crusader is Councilwoman Mary

V. Beck. She is one of a growing number of militant women setting out in the fashion of Louise Hicks in Boston to stop the tide of change threatening the accepted patterns of the past.

IN AN OPEN letter announcing the circulation of petitions for Cavanagh's recall, Miss Beck hit the most sensitive of all political nerves: "No woman or child appears to be safe on the streets, or in their homes, or any business place." Civil and religious leaders promptly spoke out to oppose the recall movement, calling it racially motivated.

Negroes are responsible for a lot of the crime, police Commissioner Ray Girardin said, but Negroes are just as concerned about crime as the Police Department. He noted that 55 per cent of the victims of crime in Detroit are themselves Negroes.

IN ONE DEGREE or another Detroit's problems are those in every city in the country. High on the list is a well-trained, adequately paid police force, with rapid integration in recognition of the fact that more than 30 per cent of the city is now Negro.

After half a day presiding as chairman over the recent Conference of Mayors, Cavanagh flew back to Detroit because of an outbreak of what was called "blue flu" — policemen reporting sick in protest over pay.

"WE'D BETTER be ready to ante up a lot more than the customary pay increase," the Detroit News said in an editorial underscoring the need for a professional, highly trained force.

This is the vicious circle that the rioters, if they have any purpose at all beyond wanton destruction, seem bent on breaking through.

Booklets Out For Encounter Crusade

About 90 per cent of the 10,000 copies of "Good News for Modern Man" have been distributed, according to Rev. James Puckett, general chairman of the Encounter Crusade, which will be held here Aug. 6-11, sponsored by 20 area Baptist churches.

The books also include information about the upcoming crusade, which is to be held in the amphitheatre of City Park, followed by individual revivals in the participating churches.

Recipients of some of the booklets might be a bit confused, Rev. Puckett said, as they list the crusade for Irving, Tex. and give other dates. Some 250 of the booklets, previously prepared for the Irving meetings, were mistakenly included in the local shipment, he said, and urged residents who received them to keep in mind the local times, places, and dates. The printing error was not discovered, he added, until the books had been distributed.

Dr. O. Byron Richardson will be the evangelist for the series of special meetings here. He has listed these topics for his messages each evening:

Sunday (Aug. 6) "A life with divine protection"; Monday, "Voices from hell"; Tuesday, "Who cares if a sinner dies and goes to hell?"; Wednesday, "Life's great question"; Thursday, "Gone with the wind"; Friday, "The Saviour, our sacrifice for sin."

Residents distributing the booklets this week were trained in a special personal evangelism institute held in June. This portion of the crusade work is being under the direction of Rev. Dan Sanford, pastor of Phillips Memorial Baptist Church.

A special effort will be made during the crusade to reach Webb AFB personnel, with a Bill Graham film, "The Heart Is A Rebel" to be shown Aug. 3-5 at the base. Buses will be provided to bring Webb personnel to the crusade, and Dr. Richardson will speak at the NCO Club, at a meeting of officers, and at the base chapel Sunday morning, Aug. 6.

Services each night will start at 8 p.m.

Baptists Have A New Pastor

East Fourth Baptist Church welcomed its new pastor, Jack Boyett, to the pulpit July 16, following a four months pastoral vacancy.

Boyett came to Big Spring from Canyon, where he served as the pastor of Calvary Baptist Church four years.

He graduated from West Texas State University in Canyon, with a degree in psychology. During his pastorate there, he worked in the graduate school for psychology.

"Teaching is exciting," Boyett said, "but I have found that teaching psychology is not nearly as exciting as teaching the story of Christ."

"I came to fill the pastorate of East Fourth Baptist Church by accident," he said. "I was preaching the sermon at the service in Palo Duro Canyon this past Easter, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hatler from Big Spring were present for the service. When they returned home, they suggested my name to the nominating committee, and here I am."

Boyett and his wife, Tiva, are the parents of two sons, Robert, 12, and Timothy, 4. They make their home at 710 Tulane.

FAITH IN CHRIST IS ONLY WAY, SO PAUL TELLS JAILER

Salvation comes only through vital faith in Christ, and Paul pronounces this Christian truth while in prison. To the jailer who asked what he had to do to be saved, Paul answered, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved."

The individual's response to the gospel is the topic of Sunday's International Sunday School lesson and is taken from the chapter centered around Paul's answer to the jailer concerning salvation (Acts 16:12b-34).

Paul and Silas, faithful servants of Christ, were at Philippi on a mission tour when they were faced with four individual responses one can give to the word of Christ.

"Everyone who hears the gospel must respond to it. There are differing responses to the proclamation of truth, but there will be response, positive or negative."

Paul and Silas were confronted by a business woman of the day, Lydia, a seller of cloth, and she listened eagerly to Paul's words, and the Lord "opened her heart" and she accepted the truth. The first response was willing acceptance.

The second response to the gospel came when Paul and Silas encountered a demented slave girl. She had fallen into the hands of crafty businessmen who were making capital of her illness and were using her fortune-telling abilities for gain. She recognized Paul and Silas as messengers of God and followed them, proclaiming their message to the people. The missionaries were concerned about this advertisement, and they, by a miracle of God, commanded the spirit that possessed her "to come out of her." They could not save her, but they had to keep her from hindering their work.

The third reaction was the reaction of the demon-possessed girl's masters. They, too, were confronted with the gospel, as her restoration of mind destroyed their means of business. They were too concerned with money, and their hostility toward the missionaries sent the two Christians to prison.

But Paul and Silas were faithful to God and by their faith, they brought their jailer to salvation.

Salvation is an individual response; its nature is indicative of a varying response. The Christian witness, then, has no guarantee that all who hear of his faith will want salvation. What he is sure of is that his job is to be faithful.

Grooms Will Return Sunday

Dr. Jordan Grooms will preach for both morning services at First Methodist Church Sunday. Dr. Grooms was pastor of the church for eight years and is presently district superintendent of the Brownfield district. Services will be at 8:30 a.m. and 10:55 a.m.

Miss Oma Gee, sister of Rev. Leo Gee, will speak for the 6 p.m. service Sunday. She is an ordained deaconess in the Methodist church and is serving as a missionary to the Navajo Indians in New Mexico. She is assistant superintendent and counselor for the Methodist Indian Mission School serving hundreds of students from the reservation. Miss Gee has spent considerable time on the reservation in the homes of the Indian students.

"She will be sharing the needs and hopes of the Navajos and challenging us in ways we can help," Rev. Gee said.

School Needs To Be Talked

Rev. B. A. Hyatt, Lubbock, will preach at the Goliad Assembly of God Sunday evening on the needs of the Southwestern Assemblies of God College in Waxahachie.

To meet with the rising costs, $1,000,000 has been proposed to supplement the school. The present enrollment of 545 students is expected to double within the next three years. The funds, which are being sought, will be used to remodel the administration building, construct a multi-purpose building, including dormitory and cafeteria facilities, and an apartment building for married students.

The school is located on a 73 acre campus and operated by seven districts of the assemblies of God Church. The regions encompassed by the seven districts includes Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana.

World Service Sending Aid

NEW YORK — Church World Service this month will send several more shipments of Middle East refugee supplies which total 380,000 pounds. The shipment leaving New York for Ashdod, Israel, on July 31 will include 300,000 pounds of flour and 10,800 pounds of canned beef.

The cargoes are part of a $1 million CWS appeal for cash, food, medicine, clothing and other relief goods for war refugees in the Middle East currently being subscribed by U.S. Protestant and Orthodox church members.

Another CWS shipment of 60,000 pounds of rice will leave Houston early in August to supplement initial CWS emergency supplies. In transit to Ashdod are 400,000 pounds of clothing sent from a CWS supply depot in Athens, Greece. CWS also purchased 1,000 blankets already consigned to Israel from Maryland.

CWS' first emergency shipment was sent from New York on June 23 and contained 20,000 pounds of food, clothing and tents which will be distributed from Amman, Jordan. The mercy flight included 2,000 pounds of powdered milk donated by CROP, community appeal of CWS.

Emergency supplies are distributed to war refugees not receiving aid in the United Nations Relief and Work Agency (UNWRA) refugee camps. Distribution is being handled for CWS by the Near East Christian Council Committee on Refugee Work.

"Our aid primarily goes to their home towns and who receive no other help," said Mr. Livingston Lomas, service director for the CWS Middle East Department.

"They are destitute and have no way to earn a living. We hope to sustain these villagers so they can rebuild their lives once conditions improve," explained Mr. Lomas.

An advance of $100,000 was sent by CWS to the World Council of Churches which is conducting a world-wide appeal for $2-million worth of aid for the Middle East's refugees. The WCC has established a base in Ashdod to assist war victims behind the Israeli military line. The base is supervised by the Division of Inter-Church Aid, Refugee and World Service of the WCC.

Seminary Cut Being Urged

TORONTO (AP) — Urging a consolidation of seminaries in Canada to overcome wasteful duplications and substandard libraries teaching personnel and salaries, an Anglican theologian says the country's 23 seminaries should be cut to five.

The Rev. C. E. Fielding, of Trinity College, says none of the existing institutions is large enough to provide adequate education for future clergymen. Each consolidated seminary, he adds, should be linked with a major university.

Problem Of Water Explained For Club

The problem of water, its lack, and the wisest use of what the area has, is the field to which the U.S. Experiment Station personnel devote most of their study.

Big Spring Kiwanians heard some of the alarming statistics that research has brought forth on the extreme scarcity of water in this area and of the tremendous need to utilize the supply to the best possible advantage.

The speakers were Bill Fryrear and Dr. Paul Koshi of the station staff. Fryrear discussed the problem as it applies primarily to the farmer, while Dr. Koshi, a range scientist, devoted his comments to the matter of moisture and pasture lands.

Paul Gross, Howard County farm agent, was the program chairman and presented the two speakers.

He also reported on crop conditions in general. The recent tour of the county, he said, to inspect the 4-H Club calves which are now on feed gave him an excellent opportunity to see just how crops appeared.

As a rule, he said, there is little cotton and what cotton there is will mature very late. Many areas are completely out of the picture, cotton-wise, particularly in the northwest section. He estimated that from 55 to 60 percent of the cotton acreage has been planted. The final official figures will be known after Aug. 15, he said, when the cotton growers make their reports to the Agricultural Stabilization Committee.

The drought has gravely damaged farmers, Gross told the club members, but the condition will not be as it was in the drought-ridden 1950s.

Checks from the government, he said, will do a lot to keep the impact of a bad cotton production year from causing the trouble it did on that other occasion.

Bill Johnson, president of the club, announced that the directors will select delegates to the fall district Kiwanis convention. The Oklahoma-Texas district meeting is to be held in Tulsa, Okla.

He said the directors meeting would be at Coker's at 6 p.m. on Aug. 1.

Rio Migrant Funds Okayed

AUSTIN (AP)— Texas Employment Commission (TEC) officials said Thursday that a $1.5 million move to relocate Rio Grande Valley migrant workers in Dallas, Beaumont and Houston areas is an extension of original plans to find jobs for farm workers displaced mostly by mechanization.

Rep. Eligio de la Garza, D-Tex., said the Labor Department has approved a $320,000 pilot project to finance moving about 1,000 workers and their families to the Fort Worth-Dallas, Houston and Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange areas. The program will be administered by the TEC.

TEC officials said about 750 workers will get five weeks of classroom training in McAllen, Harlingen and Rio Grande City in preparation for aircraft assembly jobs at the Ling-Temco-Vought aircraft plant in Grand Prairie. Federal funds will be used for the classroom training and to relocate the workers and their families in the Grand Prairie area. Then the workers will go on the LTV payroll for another eight weeks of on-the-job training.

JOB TRAINING

De la Garza said the Labor and Health, Education and Welfare Departments would pay $643,519 toward the job training while LTV would pay out $566,400 in wages during the training period.

TEC officials said the relocation funds also would be used to relocate about 250 other workers trained in the Valley who want to move to other parts of the state where jobs are available. The officials said most shortages of trained labor exist presently in Houston and Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange areas.

The relocation program is an expansion of a retraining program that has been underway for some time, said George Spears Jr., associate administrator of the TEC.

'STOOP' LABOR

More than 200,000 migrant workers, who live mostly in the Valley and South Texas, have gone to other states or other parts of Texas in previous years for seasonal farm work. State and federal officials estimate this labor migration will dwindle to a few hundred in a few years as farm work becomes increasingly mechanized.

The training schools in the Valley were set up by federal and state agencies to give the displaced workers some other means of making a living other than "stoop" labor in the fields.

Spears said the new relocation project is needed because the Valley, home of most of the workers, does not provide job opportunities in industrial plants that exist in other parts of the state.

Mrs. Tshombe Is Optimistic

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Moise Tshombe says she believes she will be "very successful" in her efforts to save her husband who is threatened with extradition from Algeria to the Congo where he faces a death sentence.

She petitioned the director of the United Nations Division of Human Rights Thursday asking that the U.N. order Algeria to free her husband, former premier of the Congo.

Mrs. Tshombe expressed her optimism later in the day at a news conference.

In the Congo, Tshombe has been sentenced to death, in absentia, for actions against the government.

Texas Election Law Meet Booked

AUSTIN (AP) — Secretary of State John Hill called Thursday for an Oct. 27 conference on recent election law changes, including newly authorized electronic voting machines.

"We hope to develop a state-wide, non-partisan register, inform yourself and vote" education program," he said.

Hill becomes chief election officer of the state Aug. 28 by the election law amendments passed by the legislature.

Return From FFA Parley

STANTON (SC) — Nolan Parker, instructor, and five Stanton FFA members have returned from Dallas where they attended the state convention. Those going with Parker were Buddy Shanks, David Adkins, Jimmy Jones, Claud Straub, and Jimmy Louder. The chapter was awarded the Superior Chapter Award, the highest award given by the state association.

Shanks entered the finals in public speaking and won fourth place in his division. He was a member of the Stanton graduating class in May.

Divers Map Oil Check

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Transportation Alan Boyd said Thursday that Coast Guard divers will try to determine whether there is oil in sunken tanker ships which could pollute Atlantic Coast beaches.

He said the first check will be made of the tanker Gulftrade, which lies 12 miles east of Barnegat Light, N.J. in about 100 feet of water. Boyd said that ship was chosen at the suggestion of Rep. James Howard, R-N.J., a member of a House Rivers and Harbors subcommittee.

The diving operations are part of a water pollution study directed ted this spring by President Johnson. Boyd said about 100 tankers were sunk off American shores during World War II and many are close enough to shore to cause pollution damage if there is still oil in the hulks and if it came out suddenly.

The pilot project is to begin soon and be completed by the start of the hurricane season in September.

Daughter Of Reagan Is Granted Divorce
