Children Rescued Landslide Kills Dad

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—The father of four children has been killed while climbing a mountain with them high in the Oregon Cascades.

The children waited through Friday night until early Saturday morning to be rescued, and his wife waited at a ranger station miles away without knowing his condition.

One Son Injured

The Lane County sheriff's office said a ground party found J. George Schultz of Sacramento, Calif., dead and one son injured.

A helicopter flew the body and the children to Eugene, Ore., Saturday where the injured boy, Robert G., 11, was reported in fair condition with a gash on his head and an ankle injury.

The other children were Marie, 10, Paul, 8, and Tommy, 7.

A brother of Schultz, Robert J. Schultz of Corvallis, said he was with the family, which was climbing along a glacier on the 10,470-foot middle peak of the Three Sisters mountain group in Central Oregon. He said a landslide knocked the others 200 feet down a glacier and into some rocks.

Gunman Robs Bank

TROUP, Tex. (AP)—A short-statured young man, his pistol hidden in a black arm sling, robbed the First National Bank of Troup of $5,200 Saturday.

N. H. Jarvis, president of the bank, said the money taken was in bills of $20, $50, $100 and some of smaller denomination.

Pulls Pistol From Sling

Jarvis said 15 or 20 customers were in the bank when the robbery occurred about 30 minutes before the regular Saturday noon closing time.

"None of them knew what was going on until it was all over," Jarvis said. The robber was described as about 20 to 24 years old and about 5 feet and 4 inches tall.

The gunman walked to the window of vacation relief cashier, Mrs. Billie Campbell, and told her he wanted "all of the big money." He pulled a pistol from the sling which bound his right arm.

Crasher Guns Texan?

HOUSTON (AP)—John Clayton Hinds, 29, was shot to death early Saturday as he stood talking with friends on the balcony of a garden apartment.

The IBM representative was felled by one of five shots fired from the dark courtyard. The large-caliber bullet wounded him under the left armpit. He staggered into the apartment of Carl Stewart, the next-door neighbor whose party Hinds was attending.

He was dead before reaching a hospital. Detectives B. G. Lott and W. G. Eickenhorst said they were looking for a party crasher turned away by men in the group a few minutes before the shooting.

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

It may still seem like mid-summer to you, but a great deal of special information in The Herald today points up the fact that the opening of another school term is just four weeks away. It'll be tough scratching to have most of the New High school facilities ready for the term. Howard County Junior College will be launching its new year with two new buildings.

Actually it was mid-summer, with top temperature readings of 102 on one day, but one of those "fronts" later came in, and we had a cool 88-maximum by the end of the week. Nope, no rain.

The oil business has its brighter aspects, though. There have been general increases in the price paid for crude in West Texas, with Cosen this past week announcing a five-cent rise for the price of sweet crude, of which it processes some 8,000 barrels per day. The same advance had been posted for sour crude, of which the local refinery uses 35,000 barrels a day.

Things were huzzing around town by the end of the week. The city played host Friday and Saturday to the West Texas Press Association, meeting for the 37th year, and the registration was (See THE WEEK, Page 4-A, Col. 1)

Junior Rodeo Calf Roping Champs Picked

Rugged animals and numerous entries slowed down the final performance of the 22nd annual Howard County Junior Rodeo Saturday.

As a result, the all-round champions and several of the event winners had not been determined at 11 p.m.

However, the calf roping champions in all age brackets had been decided. In the age group 12 and under, Roy Cooper of Eunice, N.M., won the silver buckle.

In the 13-15 age group Robert Crenshaw of Big Spring, last year's world champion roper, took the calf roping championship. Paul Petska of Carlsbad, N.M., won the buckle in the 16-19 age group.

The only other championship determined by 11 p.m. was the girls' barrel race in the 12 and under age group. The champion is Lisa Jo Mann of Hobbs, N.M.

A crowd of about 2,500 people saw the last performance of the three-night show.

The only unpleasant incident Saturday night occurred in the first event when Mike Newman of Abilene broke his right arm when he was thrown in the bareback bronc riding event.

SAIGON (AP)—The U.S. Air Force acknowledged for the first time Sunday that American fighter-bombers are attacking suspected North Vietnamese infiltration routes in Laos.

NEWS BRIEFS

Gunsights Stopped

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A Negro civilian at an air base, the last man in the chain of command, stopped seven telescopic rifle sights from being sent to a war on poverty organization for unexplained uses, he confirmed Saturday.

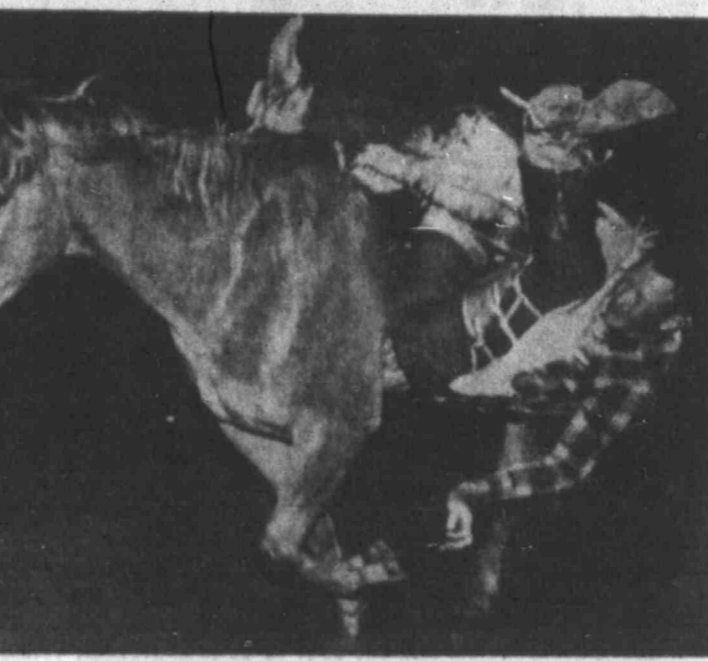

The civilian at Kelly Air Force Base here is Lester Washington, who said the requisition for the sights was in proper form after going from Houston, Tex., to Washington to Fort Worth, Tex., and being approved everywhere until it reached him.

NOT SUITABLE ITEM
Washington said in an interview he turned down the order, not on technical grounds but "based on another factor." He refused to describe this other factor, however, pending a conference Monday with the commanding officer of the base.

However, he said Friday night that "I didn't think it was a suitable item for this type of organization."

"Quite a bit has been said already and I want to leave it at that," said Washington.

He is a supervisor of redistribution at Kelly, sending material to other agencies and programs.

Mitchell Hospital District Approved

COLORADO CITY (AP)—Voters in three of Mitchell County's precincts voted to form the Colorado City Hospital District Saturday, 1,138 to 80.

The fourth precinct, which includes Loraine, was not involved since a private hospital is operated by Dr. Bruce Johnson.

The district directors have announced that they will canvass the results within ten days and declare the hospital district in operation. First tax bills will be sent out with county tax notices shortly after Oct. 1. The tax rate will be figured at 30 cents on each $100 of valuation, using the county valuation.

EXPANSION FUNDS
Director J. W. Randle has said that the 30 cents tax rate will produce a surplus of approximately $300,000 in five years, which can be used for expansion or modernization of the existing plant.

A small part of the present hospital—which the district will purchase from the city of Colorado City—was built in 1927, by the hospital's founder, Dr. C. L. Root Sr. One wing of the hospital was built shortly after World War II, but the major portion of the hospital-nursing home complex has been built within the past five years.

The entire plant has been appraised at $465,000, but was purchased by the city of Colorado City in December, 1966, for $365,000.

55 EMPLOYEES
The city was not eager to enter the hospital business but was told by Rob-Reily, chairman of a hospital committee. "We don't care how you do it. We just want you to do it. We want a hospital."

The statement came after the announcement of the proposed closing of the hospital by owner Root. The date he had set for closing the hospital was Oct. 15, 1966.

The hospital had been operated by the Root family for 49 years.

"I made the decision to close with deep reluctance," Root said, "both because it would (See HOSPITAL, P. 6-A, C. 5)

DISGUST, OUTRAGE
The sights were ordered by the Houston War on Poverty program, the agency for which is the Harris County Community Action Association.

A spokesman for the Houston poverty agency said the sights probably were for use in "optical experiments."

The Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington issued a formal statement saying the order "may have been a forgery or hoax" and pointed out that the sights were not provided, no money was allotted and an investigation is being made.

The Houston organization sought to locate the vacationing employee who ordered the sights.

Houston Police Chief Herman B. Short said the incident left him with "such a feeling of disgust and outrage."

He added, "I don't know how these things fit in with the poverty program."

Sheriff's Wife Killed

SELMER, Tenn. (AP)—The attractive blonde wife of McNairy County Sheriff Buford Pusser was shot to death Saturday while riding on a trouble call with her husband. "So he wouldn't be out alone."

Pusser, 29, one of Tennessee's youngest sheriffs who had been the target of four earlier attacks on his life, was wounded in the chin during the ambush on a lonely country road.

Constable T.W. Burks said Pusser's 33-year-old wife, Pauline, had frequently accompanied the sheriff on late night calls because of the previous threats.

The sheriff and his wife were riding in a radio-equipped police car answering a call to quell a "disturbance" on New Hope Road, a rural thoroughfare near the Mississippi State line. Officers said their car was badly shot up.

Investigators said they found 14 spent rounds of .30 caliber carbine ammunition scattered in the roadway.

Warren Jones, an agent for the Tennessee Bureau of Criminal Identification, said 11 shots apparently entered the car from the driver's side, perhaps fired from a roadside thicket.

Pusser was taken to a Memphis hospital 91 miles west of here where his condition was described as fair. He said he could not identify his assailant.

Ben Pusser, an uncle who sped to Memphis to be at the wounded man's bedside, said, "They've been out to get him a long time."

By "they," he said he meant "the bootlegging and criminal element along the state line."

Big Spring Funds Asked
Texas regents agree on a contract for establishment and operation of the institute.

Other projects given priority include boiler improvements at Denton, $97,508; air condition of a building at Terrell, $388,539; a recreation building at Abilene, $290,459; boiler improvements at Big Spring, $19,329; water system improvements at Rusk, $150,378 and a rehabilitation building at Greenville, $397,828.

Vote Rig Raps By Lawmakers Called Unfair

SAIGON (AP)—Premier Nguyen Cao Ky said Saturday U.S. congressmen are unfairly accusing him of rigging the election. He said they should come and see for themselves.

"People stay a thousand miles away from Vietnam and then talk about me," Ky said during a trip in the Mekong Delta. "They should come, look, see and then afterwards have their own ideas."

DUE TO WIN

Ky is the vice presidential candidate on the ruling military junta's ticket headed by Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu. Thieu and Ky are expected to win the Sept. 3 election.

"I hope the senators and congressmen come out here," Ky said, "particularly Fulbright, Mansfield, Morse and all the so-called opposition."

He referred to Sens. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.; Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Wayne Morse, D-Ore.

INVITE NIXED

Senate leaders rejected Friday an invitation by Thieu to send observers to the election.

Mansfield, the Democratic leader, said any guarantee of fairness is up to the South Vietnamese government. Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said Congress would be open to election-rigging charges if it sent observers.

Accusations concerning the conduct of the Vietnamese political campaign developed after the 10 civilian candidates, flying in a government plane, missed their first scheduled public appearance last Sunday because of a mixup in landing fields near Quang Tri City.

U.S. Planes Attack Hanoi

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. war planes attacked the Hanoi area Saturday for the second successive day, and Communist ground fire downed two American planes.

Air Force pilots also reported seven engagements with Communist MIG17 interceptors over Hanoi.

Saturday's raid near Hanoi was on a railroad and highway bridge crossing the Des Rapides Canal five miles northeast of the center of the city. U.S. Air Force pilots said their bombs hit the center and northeast sections of the bridge, but heavy Communist defenses, bomb dust and clouds prevented an exact damage assessment.

PILOTS CAPTURED

Communist sources said Saturday's attacks near Hanoi comprised six raids over a 17-hour period and they claimed that more than 100 of the city's residents were killed or wounded.

Radio Hanoi declared seven U.S. planes were shot down and several pilots captured. The official Soviet news agency Tass, reporting the civilian casualties in a North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry dispatch, said the U.S. planes bombed and strafed the Long-Bien bridge spanning the Red River.

KEY LINK

The reference was to the local name for the mile-long bridge between Hanoi and the Gia Lam suburban district that has been known since French colonial days as the Doumer Bridge. U.S. Air Force pilots bombed the bridge for the first time Friday and said they cut the center span.

The Doumer railroad-highway bridge provides a key transportation link between Hanoi and Red China.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP)—A pre-dawn collision of a Montreal-bound passenger train Saturday "couldn't have come at a worse time," but most of the 300 passengers escaped injury. Two were killed, 12 persons required hospital care and others were cut or bruised.

A Delaware & Hudson Railroad spokesman said the carrier's Montreal Limited, taking many of the passengers to Montreal's Expo '67, struck the side of a 100-car, southbound D & H freight about five miles south of this racing and resort city.

The cause of the collision was not determined, the spokesman said.

BAD TIME
But, he added, "it couldn't have come at a worse time, since the passenger train carries its heaviest load of the week to Montreal on that run."

One of those killed was Kristian Jensen, 65, of Bergen, Norway, a businessman traveling to Montreal with his son, Alto, who was not injured.

Also killed was Sidney Kirsch, 49, of New York City.

Police declined to estimate the number of injured. Unofficial estimates ranging up to 40 could not be confirmed.

MINOR MIRACLE
Saratoga Hospital reported 19 persons taken there. Six were admitted, five in satisfactory condition and the other, a nun, in fair condition.

Teacher Pay Hikes Push Budget Up

Tuesday night school board trustees and administrative officials will explain the 1968 school year budget set at $4,467,700. Public hearing is set for 7:30 Tuesday in the board room. The new budget represents an increase of $341,240 over the current year total of $4,126,460. It allows a year-end balance of $41,915 in the general fund.

PAY HIKES
Major increases called for are teacher pay hikes, previously approved by the trustees in line with the legislative action that gave school teachers a five per cent salary raise. Over 330 teachers were given the entire salary increase when local trustees voted in June to maintain the local increment of $50 above state minimum.

Of the expenditures, instructional expense accounts for 65 per cent of the total, $2,871,187, compared with $2,674,459, last year. Other accounts, with previous budget figures in parentheses, call for:

Administration and business, $167,854 ($166,936); attendance service, $19,354 ($17,461); health service, $27,069 ($24,811); pupil transportation, $56,339 ($62,931); operation of plant, $27,482 ($25,495); maintenance of plant, $192,384 ($171,786); fixed charges, $177,001 ($118,908); student body activities, $114,618 ($54,171); community services, $9,532 ($7,000); capital outlay, $139,973 ($189,962); debt services, $484,505 ($412,157).

ADMINISTRATIVE
Raises for 15 of the 17 persons on the administrative payroll are recommended in the budget along with a cut of $1,500 available funds for part-time help. Those in line for a 7 1/2 per cent salary hike are the tax assessor - collector, assistant tax assessor - collector, tax office clerk, an accountant and four secretarial and clerical employees. Administration secretaries and a multilith operator will also receive a pay raise.

Don Green, assistant business manager, will receive a $1,000 raise over his present contract of $8,500 yearly. Business manager Don Crockett will receive an additional $750 over his $13,000 salary and Noel Reed, director of personnel, $500 over his $11,500 wage.

Contracted salaries for the forthcoming year total $11,550. Other expenses for office supplies, travel and car allowances, legal aid and printing and publishing add up to $27,300.

INSTRUCTION
By far the largest division moneywise is that for instructional expense. Salaries for district teachers and principals total $2,724,860. Of this figure, $1,115,749 will be spent for salaries of the 11 elementary school principals. Three secondary principals will earn $36,414 and two assistants at the high school, $20,378.

Elementary teachers numbering 172 will receive $1,108,577. Salaries for 59 junior high teachers amount to $577,012, while 85 senior high teachers will be paid $520,185. Most other positions — including librarians, vocational teachers and clerical help — are also listed for a pay raise. Materials and supplies for district schools, travel and car allowances for principals and instructional staffs, along with numerous other expenses account for the remaining $146,327 in the instructional expense division.

EXCEPTIONS
Most of the totals run close to those of the current year budget, with occasional exceptions where the junior high and high school allotments are listed. Since the district is operating for the first time this fall on a four year high school program, most of the budget figures for the two junior highs are reduced in proportion to the amount of students who will be enrolled in the high school. Figures for the high school show an increase to adjust to the larger number of students.

There are a few exceptions to this rule, however, such as the choral department at Gollad and Rannels. Although both operated on a budget of $300 this year, Gollad has a budget of $500 and Rannels one for $400 in the coming year. School trustees were told both departments wanted to build up the music library and improve the department with these funds. The band figure of $400 at both schools will remain the same even though only seventh and eighth graders will be participating.

SERVICES
The attendance service is budgeted for $19,354, while the health service will receive $27,069 in the proposed budget. Student transportation will cost $56,339, of which $29,165 will go for salaries of 19 regular drivers, two head start drivers and a mechanic. Maintenance of the 12 buses will run to $5,800 and insurance to $1,874. Other expenses — gas, oil, parts and outside-repairs — will cost $19,500, bringing the total to $56,339.

Plant operation — estimated at $274,483 for the 1968 school year — is largely a guessing job since water, electricity and heat bills could vary below or above the proposed figure. The allotment is $45,988 above that of the current year, because of the new high school plant and other recently constructed school facilities will require higher operating costs.

Seven custodians — six additional at the high school and one for the system — were added to the 39 positions. All 46 will receive a five per cent raise, bringing the salary allotment to $170,983. Other estimated costs are: heat, $19,000; water, $12,000; electricity, $68,500; telephone and telegraph, $10,000; custodian supplies, $17,000.

GUESSWORK
Another division involving a lot of guesswork is plant maintenance, budgeted for $132,384 in 1968. This includes a five per cent raise for 18 of the 19 employees, three of whom were added this year. Salaries total $100,384, while supplies will cost $31,000 and roof repair, $1,000.

Fixed charges of $127,001 include $99,051 for OASI retirement, $27,700 for property insurance, and $250 for the fidelity bond premium.

Student body activities total $114,618, of which $34,897 is set aside for coaching salaries and another $11,500 for the athletic pool rental of $1,000 and an allotment of $1,250 for the summer tennis program started this year are also included in the division.

Items in the community services section represent an increase of almost $3,000 over the current figure of $7,000. Totaling $9,532, the difference is largely in salaries for adult education classes, $6,032 in the proposed budget compared to the $3,500 in the current one.

CAPITAL OUTLAY
Total capital outlay anticipated is $139,973, a drop of $30,889 from the present budget. Major items include an $11,057 payment to the Barr building used now for administrative offices; $35,000 for an accounting computer for the business office; $14,550 for senior high band uniforms; $20,000 for funds to match National Defense Education Act grants. Paving of the parking lot across from the senior high school auditorium should cost $4,000, while moving portable buildings will run to $2,000.

Other items in capital outlay include: furniture and equipment for the administration and business office, $5,500; superintendent's car, $1,200; service contracts on equipment at the high school, $4,216; furniture and equipment for 11 elementary schools, $6,952; secondary school bands, $8,109; commercial equipment for high school, $4,314; maintenance and refrigeration equipment, $5,600; vocational office practice, $2,334.

Expenditures in the interest and sinking fund will total $484,505.

Lad Takes Shots After Rat Bite

A 14-shot rabies series were begun Friday for Terry Lynn Dudash, 6, 1510 Oriole after the youngster was bitten by a field rat Thursday night while playing at a relative's house, 19 miles south of Stanton.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Dudash, brought the boy to Medical Arts Hospital where doctors administered an antibiotic. Friday a veterinarian advised proceeding with the rabies shots as a safety precaution, since the rat was killed and torn apart by dogs and no longer of use for medical tests.

Terry was bitten on the finger as he reached down to touch or pick up the rat he and some playmates had cornered near a well.

Disease Report Hits High Mark

Some 253 communicable diseases have been reported in Big Spring during the last week, Mrs. Elizabeth Puckett, county health nurse, said. This number represents a high for weekly disease reports for the summer. There were 82 cases of gastro enteritis, 49 cases of tonsillitis, 45 cases of upper respiratory diseases and 34 cases of diarrhea reported.

Others reported were: flu, 4; gonorrhea, 3; mumps, 3; virus, 20; strep throat, 8; pink eye, 2; impetigo, 18; bronchitis, 8; infectious hepatitis, 4.

Judge Austin McCloud of Colorado City has been sitting in for Judge Caton in a few matters which had to be handled in the latter's absence. As a general rule, however, the court has been at a complete standstill.

The judge will find a small mountain of new cases piled up for his consideration when he returns. Filings have been heavier than usual for August, Fern Cox, district court clerk, said, in the two weeks the court has been inoperative.

Trail Ride Is Being Firmed

A three-day trail ride event, to begin Sept. 2 and end on Sept. 3, will be attempted here, Reel W. McFarland, sponsor, has announced. He can be contacted at P.O. Box 231, Big Spring.

McFarland said that the first day's travel will be north to Wackerly. The group will leave at 7 a.m. and will travel over a loop which will bring the riders back to Big Spring, late that date.

All riders, he said, are to bring sack lunches which can be attached to their saddles. The second ride Sunday, Sept. 3, will set out at 2 p.m. for a ride to Moss Creek and back.

Judge Due Back On Bench Monday

Judge Ralph Caton, who has been on a two-week vacation, will be back in his office, Monday and 118th District Court, which has been on more or less of a standby position, will go back into operation.

The judge will find a small mountain of new cases piled up for his consideration when he returns. Filings have been heavier than usual for August, Fern Cox, district court clerk, said, in the two weeks the court has been inoperative.

Big Springer Aided Rescue During Forrestal Tragedy

By BECKY STARK
Ensign Don Puckett, Big Springer, was where the action was two weeks ago as he witnessed the explosions and chain of fires which took 134 lives on the 76,000 ton carrier USS Forrestal.

Puckett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Puckett, 2604 Apache, observed the day's events from his station on the destroyer USS Rupertus, plane guard for the carrier.

According to a letter from Puckett, a man lost overboard at 3 a.m. that Saturday died before rescuers could reach him — an accident which more or less previewed the coming events. It was not until 8 o'clock that Puckett reported for duty on the bridge, observing from this vantage point routine operations on the nearby carrier.

"The Forrestal was going to launch a large strike, around 11 o'clock that morning," said Puckett. By 10:30 o'clock the deck was crowded with armed aircraft. Without warning about 20 minutes later, fire erupted on the left rear portion of the flight deck and a man jumped from the deck into the water. It was evident that the armed planes and the men who manned them were in grave danger.

Only two minutes later Puckett sighted the initial fire, the rear portion of the Forrestal seemed to be torn apart by successive explosions as 250-750 pound bombs were touched off and the carrier was engulfed in flames and smoke.

"With each explosion, equipment, planes and personnel were sent hurtling into the air," he wrote. His ship went to aid the carrier firefighting teams, but smoke was too much for destroyer personnel as they approached within 30 feet of the massive holocaust. According to Puckett, all but four or five pilots were able to get clear while the fire, raging at full force, reached down to the third deck — living space for personnel.

"Our captain ordered us to concentrate our fire-fighting on a gun-mount magazine and the hangar deck. Fortunately, our efforts paid off and we were able to help contain the fire at these points. The heroism displayed by the damage control parties aboard the Forrestal was indescribable."

Two hours later, the destroyer pulled away to search the waters for survivors and usable equipment, assuming control over all surface craft throughout the night. About 47 men were fished out from the Gulf of Tonkin's waters during this operation, according to Puckett. Puckett is a 1966 graduate of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis and is expected home on leave in December.

New Generation Of Hula Hoop Twirlers Coming Up?
Terri Lynn Dean, 4, is too young to remember the epidemic of hula hooping which swept the country a few years ago. The young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Dean, 1518 Vines, however, finds the latest model hula hoop (these gadgets make a sound when they go whirling around and around) enticing. She tried on a couple of the new hoops for size at a local store last week. They were too big, she decided, so she merely used them as a sort of frame to have her picture taken. Dealers say that the new hoops are beginning to catch on. One store reported it had already sold six dozen and anticipated a sales buildup now that a heavy advertising campaign is being waged to boost the devices. (Photo by Sam Blackburn)

Churches Will Follow Up On Crusade With Revivals

Following up on the Encounter Crusade which terminated Friday evening at the City Park Amphitheater, many Baptist congregations will continue revivals in their own churches this week. During the six-day meeting led by Dr. O. Byron Richardson, Dallas, director of revival evangelism for the Texas General Baptist Convention, there were 233 decisions, including 40 professions of faith. Seven others were for special service, and 196 came forward for rededication. Attendance for the six services was estimated to aggregate 18,000. Fritz Smith, San Antonio, served as the Crusade music director, working with a choir that sometimes amounted to 180 voices.

THE WEEK

about as high as it has ever been. The newspapermen brought their families so that wives and youngsters could relax while the menfolk were talking shop.

It was another big success for the Junior Rodeo, too. There were more entries that a regularly-timed program could accommodate, and the first night's crowd was estimated at 3,000. The young people put on quite a show. Incidentally, Howard County's Johnnie Middleton rates fourth among junior ropers in the nation, having won that ranking in the National High School Rodeo championships in Elko, Nev.

The city of Big Spring has moved with another important development of the waterworks system. Projects totaling about $460,000 will involve some new storage reservoirs, a new clearwell storage at the filtration plant; several booster pumps and larger lines. It should mean better service, particularly at peak times, for several areas of the city.

Meanwhile, work moves right along on the CRMWD's Robert Lee reservoir, which is almost one-third complete. The district is moving to clear brush out of the basin area, and plans are developing for the required relocation of a state highway.

The Encounter Crusade, a joint evangelistic undertaking by nearly a score of churches, with thousands hearing Dr. Byron O. Richardson. The various churches will be following up in this effort.

County and city just haven't hit it off on a joint program for rural fire protection, and the county now asks to have a contract between the two agencies terminated. The matter came to a crisis after the truck used for rural fire calls was demolished and four firemen injured. The county indicates it will try to work out its own program.

Paymaster Oil Mill Company has purchased the Flarvie's cotton gin from G. W. Broughton and J. O. McCrary. It's one of the modern, high-speed plants in the county.

General excellence awards for members of the West Texas Press Association were presented Saturday during the WTPA convention. Left to right are Melvin Young, general manager of the Hereford Brand, given top rank in the semi-weekly category; Dolores Hamilton of Kress, who accepted a plaque for the Earth News-Sun, best in towns under 3,000; and Frank Baker, general manager of the Fort Stockton Pioneer, tops in towns of over 3,000.

Community Service Award

Bob Weddle, left, publisher of the Menard News, is recipient of the 1967 community service award, presented at the West Texas Press Association convention here Saturday. He receives the plaque from Don Wooten, Abilene, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which annually makes this citation, and which hosted a breakfast for convention delegates. Weddle has led in a campaign for a county hospital, and worked for restoration of Mission San Saba and Fort McKavett as historic sites.

CITATION

A citation for public service went to Bob Weddle, publisher of the Menard News, for his leadership in many activities for the improvement of his community. Weddle, among other things, has been a dominant voice for the restoration of historic sites in his area—Mission San Saba and Fort McKavett; and he has led in a community effort to create a new county hospital in Menard. The judging committee said: "It appears that Bob Weddle's hand has been in almost every movement to help improve his town, his county and his area."

Small Towns Are Worth Saving, Press Is Told

"Small towns are worth saving," Maxie Davie, area development department of Fort Worth's Community Public Service Company, told a large opening crowd at the WTPA convention Friday afternoon at the Ramada Inn. They offer a lot of advantages and may contribute to the social salvation of the country, he told visiting editors. But they are not without their problems. One of them is dearth of leadership, which is frequently present but undeveloped or unutilized, he said in interpreting results of a West Texas Chamber of Commerce small town task force.

Hubby Discovers Strangled Wife

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The body of an attractive, brunette secretary, apparently strangled to death, was found Friday night by her husband stretched across the bed of a downtown Dallas hotel suite. Mrs. Carol Jane Black, 29, had last been seen about 12 hours earlier when she left to work for a man at the hotel who had identified himself as an executive of a Seattle, Wash., aircraft firm.

Over 400 students attended the workshop, several from out-of-state. The award was presented by Charles Dolan, of Taylor Publishing Co., Dallas.

Landowners Lose Appeal Bid, High Court Next

The Texas Court of Civil Appeals in Eastland Friday denied a motion for rehearing filed by Ralph Gossett and his fellow landowners against the State of Texas and Howard County. Gossett and his associates had appealed the findings of a Howard County jury which had awarded them $103,800 for a 2.9 acre tract of land at the intersection of US 87 and FM 700. The land was needed as right of way in the rebuilding of the latter road. The owners had claimed the land was worth $200,000. They refused the offer of a special appraiser's commission of $114,503 and had appealed to the county court. The appeals court refused the appeal. The landowners then filed a motion for rehearing last week. This was turned down Friday. The decision of the court closes the door at the appellate court to the landowners, but it does clear the way for them to carry their fight to the Texas Supreme Court. They have 30 days, attorneys say, to file in the higher court. Meantime, the land involved is now a part of the over-all construction program on FM 700. The money — $114,503 — has already been taken by the landowners. Outcome of litigation is of special importance in that, if the Supreme Court goes along with the appeals court, the landowners will have to refund about $10,000 to the county.

Body Discovered In Roadside Canal

GIBSON, La. (AP) — The body of Thomas W. Ray, 34, of Beaumont was discovered in a car pulled from a roadside canal filled with 30 feet of water near here Saturday. Tire skidmarks on the highway and a damaged bridge apparently were reported by a passing motorist earlier, resulting in a divers' search for the vehicle.

op positive attitudes toward change and to seek ways constantly to upgrade content of their products. Practically all the changes in newspapering have been mechanical during the past century, but an awesome era of change lies ahead, he said. Hudson also called for a revival of enthusiasm and excitement within the profession.

For the second time in the history of the association, Arthur LeFevre Jr., Houston, was unable to attend, and in his absence Frank Pruitt, Abilene, member of the memorial committee, read tributes to the newspaper people and their relatives, who had died during the past year. The convention adopted a resolution of appreciation and commendation for Mrs. Mahood, who for a decade has served as the secretary-treasurer of WTPA.

Introduced were Roy McQueen, David Snyder, Brenda Greene, and Margaret Lawrence, WTPA scholarship winners. A plaque, and an attaché case, went to Craig, as he retired from office.

The association approved a resolution declaring that American fighting men are not forgotten and that they have the solid support in serving their country in Asia. Another resolution contained a stinging rebuke for race riots, declaring them to be criminal flaunting of law and order, provoked often by treasonable declarations. Law enforcement agencies and all others coping with these civil upheavals were commended, and given support.

PEOPLE TO PEOPLE

Col. Butcher welcomed the WTPA to Webb AFB and then conducted the tour of base facilities. Lt. Col. Jack Bailey, who returned this year from a second tour in Vietnam, projected films of an orphanage for boys maintained solely by GI's who give their time to work with boys as they did to build the plant. Today there are some 45 similar orphanages scattered throughout Vietnam, and Col. Bailey said this little-known fact of the war was people-to-people contact at its best. A strange by-product of this expression of love and concern is that the Viet Cong avoided breaches of security around the orphanage areas.

Committee reports were given by Nieman, scholarship, and George Baker, Fort Stockton, presented the new winner, Margaret Lawrence; by Bob Hamilton, Littlefield, who pegged membership at 109; E. B. Harris Jr., Graham, who reported on financial affairs; and Gene Snyder, on resolutions, which included thanks to sponsors; and Mike West, Big Lake, nominations.

'Fatman' Seeking Directed Verdict

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The trial of the Kennedy assassination probe's self-styled "fatman" on a perjury charge adjourned Saturday with the judge pondering a defense motion for a directed verdict of acquittal. Criminal Dist. Court Judge Frank J. Shea said he would rule Sunday, at the start of a scheduled Sabbath session. Defendant Dean Andrews, 44, walked out smiling.

Crowd Cheers When Trapped Teen Rescued

LENORE, W. Va. (AP) — Bruised, scratched and mud-covered Leonard Boyce was pulled from a caved-in water well Saturday after being trapped for almost 24 hours.

The 15-year-old youth had a bluish complexion and was very stiff, rescue workers said. But he was conscious when placed on a stretcher and rushed to a hospital in Williamson, about 15 miles from here near the West Virginia-Kentucky border.

MUD-CAKED BODY

A crowd of about 200 persons watched silently as the rescue operations were carried on. They cheered and applauded when the boy's mud-caked body was raised and placed on a stretcher. The boy said nothing audible when he reached ground level, but looked around slowly and smiled just slightly.

Made A Hog Of Himself

There's some kind of a moral to the story of Gale if you want to bother with figuring it out.

Gale, in case you don't remember, was publicized last April, as the "runt" of a large litter of pigs and when born weighed only five ounces. According to the experts, Gale should be dead. Dixie Coleman, 14-year-old pig expert, saved Gale from death.

It was estimated then that Gale, if she maintained the rate of growth she displayed from the date of her birth to the time she was a month old, would need at least eight years to reach 100 pounds.

Gale had different ideas. Today she weighs 120 pounds and is getting heavier and heavier as each day passes.

How does she do it? — simple, she just makes a hog of herself, according to Dixie.

Gale is still Dixie's pet. Until she got too big and piggy, she was kept at the Coleman residence, 3217 Drexel. Now she lives with Dixie's other pigs, sheep and horses in a pen on the east end of Second Street.

If Gale keeps up her current rate of growth, instead of reaching 100 pounds at the age of eight years, Gale, if she lives that long, would weigh nearly a ton. Dixie doesn't think her pet will make it to that age.

So one assumes the moral is — you can build yourself up from even the littlest and poorest sort of a start if you'll only make a hog of yourself.

Look What Happens When You Make Hog Of Yourself

Consider the plight of Gale, shown above with her young mistress, Dixie Coleman. "runt" and weighed only one pound, four ounces at one month old. Now she weighs 120 pounds. (Photo by Sam Blackburn)

Tiny Insects Go After Boll Worms

By SAM BLACKBURN
STANTON—Last spring, Gerald W. Hanson, former county agent and now operator of the Stanton Chemical and Seed Co. store here, did a thriving business selling gallons of ladybugs to Martin County cotton farmers.

He's still selling ladybugs—so far this season he has sold 180 to 200 gallons of the little crawlers.

SALE

He is also doing a good brisk business in the sale of microscopic trichogramma. There's no estimating how many million of these tiny insects he has caused to be distributed over hundreds of Martin County's flourishing irrigated cotton fields.

Like the ladybugs, the trichogramma is a natural enemy of the cotton boll worm. Unlike the ladybug, though, the trichogramma relies on the cotton boll worm moth to provide incubation systems for the trichogramma eggs.

Have you ever seen a trichogramma? Likely not. If you have even had the chance, you'd have to have good eyes to see him (or her) if one was placed before you. Actually the trichogramma is a miniature wasp so small that it takes 30,000 to cover a square inch.

EGGS

The trichogramma must reproduce by stinging and ovipositing in the eggs of insects of the order Lepidoptera. The cotton boll worm is one of a host of harmful insects which are of the Lepidoptera. What happens is that the trichogramma hunts out the eggs of the moth, which produces the cotton boll worm. It lays its own egg in the cotton boll worm egg. The baby tricho, when it hatches, eats the host egg. Result no cotton boll worm from the egg and more trichogramma.

A corporation known as Gothard Inc., at Canutillo, Tex., produces the tiny wasps by the multimillion. A farmer decides he wants to attack his cotton boll worm with the beneficial insect. He contacts Hanson.

Hanson determines the number of acres to be treated and calls Willard McLean, who lives in Midland.

PLANE CHUTE

McLean loads up his airplane with a cargo of small parcels which roughly resemble saltshakers. His plane is rigged with a short chute. He goes to the farm where the trichogramma are to be released and, flying over the cotton, releases the trichogramma by shaking the tiny insects out of the chute.

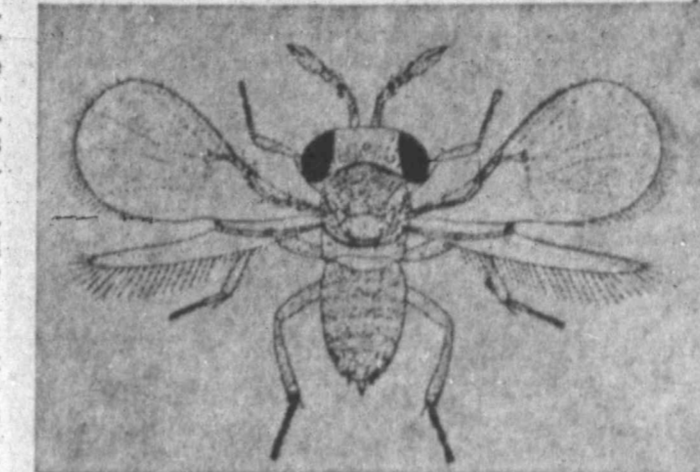

News Ed Takes Law Into His Own Hands

PARIS, Tex. (AP)—A Paris newspaper editor took the law into his own hands Thursday with effective results.

Mrs. Bill Thompson reported their 1967 model auto had been stolen from a downtown parking place and a police alert was sounded.

Thompson, managing editor of the Paris News, driving from his home in another car to pick up his wife at the police station, spotted the stolen car being gassed up at a service station.

Thompson blocked the station drive with the car he was driving, grabbed the keys from the stolen vehicle, and held the surprised driver for police.

MEET MR. MICROSCOPIC TRICHOGRAMMA
Little fellow can be real friend to cotton farmer

As soon as they alight in the cotton, they begin hunting for cotton boll worm eggs.

The farmer pays 75 cents an acre for the treatment.

Hanson said that some of the farmers who have adopted the plan so far in Martin County include, Bernard Houston, Leo Turner, Richard Lewis, S. F. Britton, I. C. Graham, Bobby Kelly and others.

"There's a little oddity about the trichogramma," Hanson points out. "Nature has provided the little insect with a canny knowledge that if his kind is to survive, some cotton boll worms must also be allowed to hatch, to become moths and lay eggs."

"If this doesn't happen the trichogramma will have no place to lay his own eggs. So he does not puncture all of the boll worm eggs he finds. He leaves a few to become moths to produce eggs for next season."

NOT NEW

The program is now a new one nor is it unproven, Hanson said. In the southwestern part of the United States the little wasps have been successfully employed for a number of years.

The U.S.S.R. used the trichogramma on a million acres of farm land in the Ukraine on widely varied crops. The Reds were highly pleased with the insect control effect achieved.

Hanson noted that always someone asks:

"Suppose we use these on our farm and some of get into the house? What happens?"

Hanson replies that should this happen and if the houseowner doesn't kill them with insecticides, the trichogramma will seek out the eggs of the Lepidopterous tineds (clothes moths to you) in the clothes closets and by laying its eggs in the moth egg, parasitize them.

NOT A PEST

Hanson adds that the tests have shown the trichogramma can never become a pest insect. They do not harm other insects that the lepidoptera.

"One thing is important," said Hanson. "If the farmer wants to make use of these little wasps, the proper time is when he sees cotton boll worm moths flitting about his cotton. After the moth has disappeared it is too late for the trichogramma to get in his good work."

Martin Crop Due To Water Wells

STANTON — "If there are any fields of dryland cotton in this county, I sure don't know where they are," Billy Reagar, Martin County Agricultural agent, said Friday.

"We have about 20,000 acres of cotton land under irrigation. This is all planted and looking real good."

IRRIGATED

"We have about 55,000 acres of all kinds devoted to cotton which means that only about a third of our total acreage has any crop on it this year, and that's all on our irrigated farms."

He added that Howard County isn't the only West Texas county hit hard by the lack of fall and spring rains. Martin County, if it wasn't fortunate enough to have considerable land where good wells are found, would be in worse shape, he feels, than even in Howard County.

Last year, Reagar said the fields of the county yielded about a bale and a half to the acre average. The crop was about 75,000 bales. This year, the cotton will have to come 100 per cent off irrigated farms.

Few of the Martin County farmers, he said, even bothered to seed in their dryland cotton acreage. "There wasn't any use," said the agent, "We just haven't had enough moisture to make it go."

SEEDED

In the last 10 or 12 days, Reagar added, a large number of farmers have seeded their cotton fields with sudan and other cover crops. The rains of late July gave them enough moisture to get this done. The seeds have sprouted and the fields look temporarily good, Reagar reported, but he said that more rain has to come, and come soon, if the growth is to be retained.

Some bugs have shown up in the irrigated fields but so far little need for poison warfare has developed.

Dear Abby

Tell 'Shookie-Poo'

DEAR ABBY: Recently a "thank you" letter came in the mail for my husband of 39 years. Perhaps I shouldn't have opened it, as it was addressed to him alone, but I'm so used to opening all the mail that comes to the house, I never gave it a second thought.

It was from a high school girl graduate, thanking "Dear Shookie-Poo" for the portable TV set!

Now I should say that's a rather expensive gift for a high school girl to get from a man whose wife has never even heard of her, wouldn't you? It was signed with lots of love and a whole string of "X's." And then her name.

Should I ring up the girl's mother and ask her if she knows that her daughter has a 64-year-old admirer by the name of "Shookie-Poo?"

SNOOKIE-POO'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Don't ring up anybody. Confront "Shookie-Poo" with the evidence and ask him to explain his generosity and also his interest in a high school girl. If he doesn't make sense to you, look into the situation with a doctor on one side and a lawyer on the other. He may need the counsel of both.

DEAR ABBY: My problem concerns grandparents. It is a fact that a mother and her daughter are much closer than a mother and her son, but why should the grandchildren suffer? Must it always be the daughter's children who receive the big surprises, and the pleasure of spending the night and going out to dine with the grandparents? Our children are as well behaved and quiet as the other grandchildren, so that can not be the reason they are slighted.

Adults can take oversights in their stride, but it is difficult to explain these things to children. My husband and I have never had words over this, but believe me, it's been hard for me to keep silent. Have you a solution for this problem? Unfortunately my own parents are dead.

A MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Perhaps it's time you had a few words with your husband about it. Don't whine, complain or blame him for the slights committed by his parents. But do point out the unfairness of it, and ask him to speak to his parents about it. There are many grandparents who lean over backwards to treat all their grandchildren with equal generosity. Too bad you didn't draw that kind.

DEAR ABBY: My wife works just to have something to do. I get home from my job about an hour before she does, so I do the marketing and get the dinner started.

We eat together, but she is always in such a rush to get through and clear the table. I am constantly getting up to retrieve a spoon, or the sugar or cream pitcher. Before I've finished my coffee, she's yelling from the kitchen, "Want another cup," meaning she wants to wash the coffee pot.

The object of all this rushing is so she can stretch out and spend the evening on the living room couch.

Will you break a rule and give me clearance to belt her?

MARRIED 20 YEARS

DEAR MARRIED: First tell her you'd like the pleasure of her company for a leisurely dinner. If she still insists on giving you the rush act, ask Old Speedy to please leave everything on the table, and the coffee pot intact, but don't belt her. She's apt to belt you back.

Static Month For District

Statistically speaking, July was a static sort of month in the office of Dist. Court Clerk Fern Cox. The month began with a total of 1,005 cases on file in the court; it wound up with a total of 1,010 on hand.

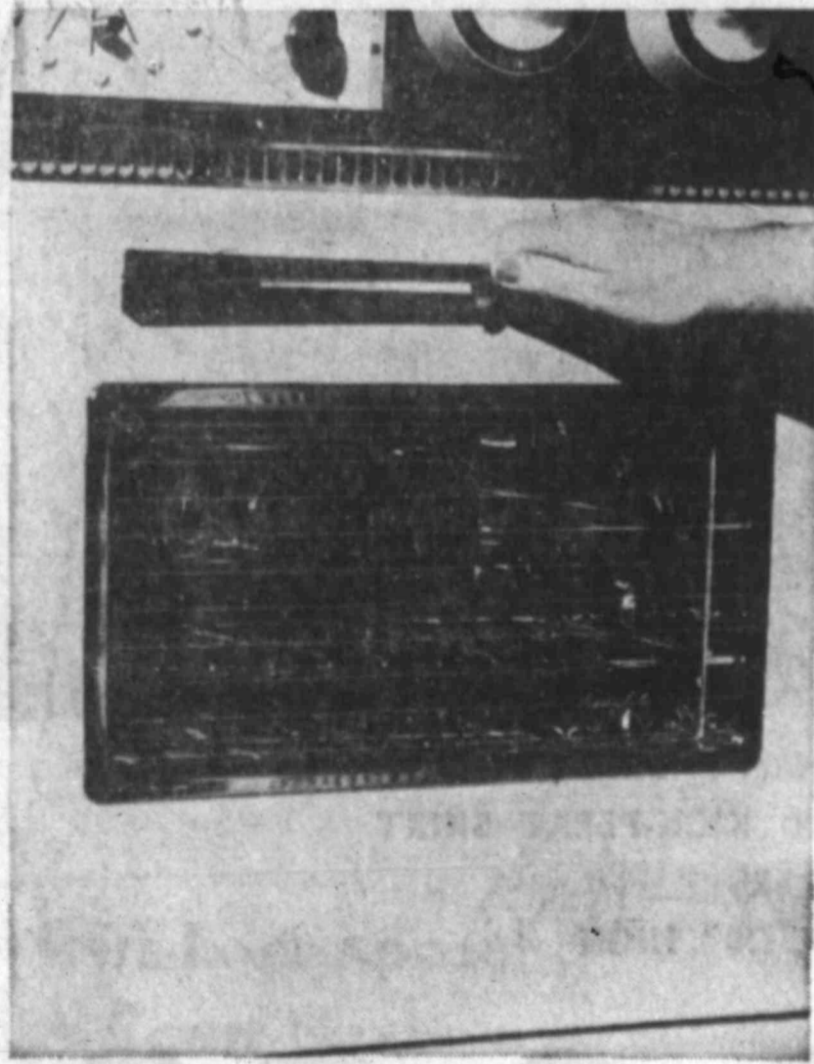

Fifty-six pending cases were disposed of during the month and 60 new cases were filed. Twenty-six new divorce petitions were placed on the books. Twenty-one petitions were granted by the court, and three were dismissed. Total on file July 31 was 179.

Two new annulments were filed and one of the petitions granted. The month ended with three of these cases on the books.

Tax suits remained unchanged as they have for months at 307. Thirty-three new civil suits other than divorce, annulment and tax actions were filed in July and 24 were disposed of. The total at the end of the month was 491 up nine for the month.

Criminal cases totalled 37 when the month began, and 39 when it ended. Six were tried as non-jury matters and one was dismissed.

What's behind the closed door?

Clean GAS Cooking.

No way around it, broiling-creates smoke. But there is a way to keep it out of your kitchen. Close the broiler door and let the GAS flame consume the smoke. Closed-door broiling is just one of many reasons why GAS cooking is cleaner and cooler.

They Figure Large In Steer Plans

The four linemen pictured here are going to have to come through in a big way if the Big Spring Steers are going to prosper in the 1967 football wars. From the left, they are center Bob Purser, guard Chuck Smith, tackle Jerry (Moose) Ryan and guard Gary Newsom. Texans Shade Penn All-Stars, 45 To 14

Worst Loss For Crackers

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Passing for and against gave Texas a smashing 45-14 victory over Pennsylvania Saturday night as the Lone Star Staters made it three in a row in the Big 33 football game.

The passing of Bill Montgomery of Carrollton Turner, Gary Mullins of San Angelo and Steve Stuart of Nederland levelled the Coal Crackers with the worst defeat of them all.

Texas also cashed in on a recovered fumble for a touchdown and three times intercepted passes to set up scores. Randy Cooper of Dallas Woodrow Wilson kicked five extra points and a 33-yard field goal.

A crowd of 24,000 groaned at the power, speed and finesse of the Texans, again coached by old pro Bobby Layne, who had fashioned a glittering defense to go with a whirlwind offense.

Thus Texas leads the series three games to one. It lost the first one in 1964 12-6 but won in 1965 28-10 and last year 34-2.

The Texans led 16-0 at the half as the result of two touchdowns and a field goal in the second period.

The first Texas touchdown was sensational. It was a 55-yard pass play from Mullins to Steve Worster, the mighty man of Bridge City.

The next Texas score came when Bill Ateasis of Houston Jones recovered a fumble on the Pennsylvania five and Cooper circled left end for a touchdown.

Next Cooper booted his field goal and the Texans seemed to have the game in the bag at the half.

Bob Allison Blow Propels Minnesota Past Chicago

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Bob Allison belted a three-run homer to cap a four-run Minnesota uprising in the seventh inning Saturday which carried the Twins to a 6-2 victory over American League leader Chicago.

The Chicago pulled the surging Twins who have won four of five games, within a half game of the White Sox.

Allison, on a hitting rampage with nine hits in 15 times at bat, slammed a pitch from Hoyt Wilhelm 390 feet to left-center as the Twins paraded four unearned runs across the plate in the inning.

Chicago got runs off winner Jim Kaat, 5-11, in the first and fourth and touched Kaat for nine hits, but could do no more damage. Rocky Colavito singled home a run in the first and Ron Hansen drove in the run in the fourth with a single.

The largest crowd ever to watch a regular-season game in Metropolitan Stadium cheered the Twins' victory. The paid total was $39,228 with 8,414 youngsters swelling the house to 47,643.

Earlier in the tournament the Big Spring club had beaten the Waco Merchants, 2-1, and the Olney Cement team, 4-0, in that order.

Big Spring was to have played the Wichita Spudgers at 10 p.m. Saturday night.

Charger Ace Eager For Shot At NFL

ESCONDIDO, Calif. (AP) — Lance Alworth, whose wife forced him to his knees this summer, is ready to give the same treatment to the National Football League.

Alworth's private war, which also is the American League's public war, begins next Sunday when San Diego clashes with the Detroit Lions, the first of three NFL teams the Chargers face in pre-season play.

"I've looked forward to playing NFL teams for a long time," said the premier pass receiver of the AFL. "It's going to be a lot of fun."

Alworth didn't have much fun during the off-season when his wife grabbed hold of his left hand. He fractured the left wrist last year, and it still isn't completely healed.

"My wrist was so weak," Alworth related, "that my wife could grab my left hand and squeeze it and force me to my knees. I stayed away from her after she did it a few times."

There's no keeping Alworth away from the NFL, however. The 27-year-old flanker was the No. 1 draft choice of the San Francisco 49ers in 1961 but chose instead to sign with the Chargers. He's never regretted it.

loss to Denver, they might declare all-out war."

Alworth is so intensely concerned about the competition that it can hurt him. For example, he told about an incident during the Chargers game against Oakland a week ago.

"We were in the huddle when they announced the score of the Detroit-Denver game," he said. "I wanted to hear it so badly that I didn't even hear the play John (quarterback John Hadl) was calling. I wound up going to the wrong side."

Alworth, who's preparing for his sixth season, sees only one basic difference between the style of play in the two leagues — the type of defense they employ.

"The teams in the NFL generally line up in a 4-3 with a man-to-man pass coverage," he explained. "We don't see much of that. Instead we see a combination of many things, particularly zone coverage on one side and man-to-man on the other."

"Our teams used to give their defense away, but they disguise it better now. The backs stay where they're supposed to more than they used to."

MASTER RECEIVER Nevertheless, Alworth still has little difficulty scouting around, in between and past defenders to catch more than his share of passes.

He grabbed a league-high of 73 last season—despite playing with a fractured left wrist and a right hand that had a hairline fracture.

He suffered the injuries on successive weeks during the exhibition schedule. The first week his right hand ran into someone's shoulder pads and the second he fell on his wrist.

He was supposed to keep a cast on the wrist for eight to 12 weeks, but it came off after only five days.

"I couldn't play with it on, and I wanted to play," Alworth explained.

"My hands were weak all season. The left one still is. The wrist is just about halfway healed now. It would have healed completely by now, but I haven't kept it stationary. It hurts, but it doesn't bother me. I don't think about it."

Alabama Streak Best In College Ranks

By BOB HOOBING Written For The Associated Press Alabama will be trying to shatter a college football trend this fall—by extending its 17-game winning streak.

Since Oklahoma put together a record 47 straight, 1953 through 1957, sizeable streaks have been almost as scarce as 19-yard penalties. Arkansas had the best shot, reaching 22 before Louisiana State upset the Porkers 14-7 in the 1966 Cotton Bowl game.

The next best efforts were 19 apiece by LSU (1957-59; ended by Tennessee, 14-13) and Alabama (1961-62; ended by Georgia Tech, 7-6).

Most coaches today feel competition is too tough for a club to make it through one season unscathed much less to link a chain of consecutive triumphs over several campaigns. Look how the Poll Bowl 10-10 draw by Notre Dame and Michigan State last November killed promising bids for both sides.

But fine talent, dedication and maestro Bear Bryant put Alabama in good position to defy the rule. The way the Tide has been playing in recent years it had to be ruled a serious threat to join the circle of all-time streak authors.

"Bama," which hasn't been beaten since Georgia turned the trick in the 1965 opener, 18-17, has won 'em all since the 7-7 tie with Tennessee including an impressive pair of post-season decisions over Nebraska.

From a five-point conquest of Texas until a fourth-down fourth quarter gamble by Notre Dame paid off with a 7-0 victory, Oklahoma fashioned a string unmatched in major college gridiron history.

Washington was unbeaten in 61 games under Gil Dobie from 1908 to 1916. However, the Huskies actually won 39 in a row, good for second place in the all-time ratings. Only once in that victory string did a rival—Oregon—manage to score in double figures.

Yale reached the 37 mark twice to be foiled both times by Princeton. In the first span, 1887-89, the Elis outscored the combined opposition 1,670 points to 33.

Pennsylvania fashioned streaks of 34 and 30 before the turn of the century. Pittsburgh won 33 straight in the World War I era while Oklahoma previewed its record performance with a 31-game string (1949-51). The latter started after a 20-17 loss to Santa Clara and was ended by Kentucky and Babe Parilli, 13-7, in the Sugar Bowl.

Michigan's famed point-a-minute clubs, directed by Fielding (Hurry Up) Yost at the turn of the century, won 29 straight in the 1901-03 span ended by a 6-6 deadlock with Minnesota. Following the game the Wolverines won another 26 in a row.

Shira Is Faced With Big Job At Mississippi State

By BOB HARTLEY STATE COLLEGE, Miss.—Mississippi State has a brand new coaching staff, headed by Charlie Shira, longtime defensive chief at Texas under Darrell Royal.

Shira inherited a team that won two and lost eight games last season. A lack of depth, below average team speed, coupled with a rugged schedule, face Shira in his first campaign as a head coach.

The Bulldogs have discarded the "I" formation and installed the wing-T. The basic defense will be an eight-man front.

While there are 35 returning lettermen from last year, plus another held out in 1966 after a knee operation, Shira feels State does not have the personnel to play platoon football. Plans call for two teams, who will play both ways, with perhaps a sprinkling of specialists.

Center-linebacker D. D. Lewis, an All-Southeastern Conference selection last year and pre-season All-American, heads the list of returning veterans. Lewis is the State captain for 1967.

Don Saget (6-4, 217), last year's No. 1 quarterback with nearly 1,000 yards in total offense, has been shifted to end, a position he played as a sophomore in 1965, setting two school pass receiving records and tying another.

FOR 1968 OLYMPIC GAMES

Results Showing In Mexico Drive To Build Facilities

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The dirt is flying fast these days on construction for the 1968 Olympics after a long delay that gave some foreigners a few gray hairs.

Common sights are hundreds of laborers in a bucket brigade passing cement at the 29 buildings taking shape at the Olympic Village, or a brawny youth with a sledge pounding out old cement seats at the nearby Olympic Stadium at the university.

A trim woman engineer can be admired directing hundreds of other laborers as she scans her blueprints at the sites of the gymnasium and the swimming pool.

Some of the methods may appear primitive but they work. A worker earning thirty pesos ($2.40) daily is stamping down fresh dirt with a thirty-pound wooden block attached to a pole.

The big sports palace and the velodrome are beginning to resemble the plastic models, now with hundreds of workers digging, hammering, carrying, pushing and sweating.

The construction is now on a 24-hour basis when the daily rain permits. Floodlights are mounted at all construction sites and an atmosphere of determination and no-nonsense is immediately evident. The rainy season stops in September.

There was a delay at the site of the Olympic Village when digging unearthed evidence of an ancient civilization, perhaps the oldest in the hemisphere.

The government continued work, however, by building around the find of an ancient temple.

Some workmen are operating a small black market by selling passers-by the shards of ancient pottery they found. Guards protect most of the archeological finds, however.

Many wives of the workmen have set up tortilla stands on the construction grounds. Their youngsters also help with the cooking.

A few postcard and souvenir vendors already are hawking their wares to passing tourists although the Games are not scheduled until Oct. 12, 1968.

The International Olympic Committee, in an Iran meeting three months ago, criticized the delay in Mexican construction. They might be breathing easier today to see the present work pace.

The site for the Olympic Village, for example, was untouched grass land when ground was broken last May. Now it's a jungle of rising steel girders and foundation pits.

Pedro Ramirez Vasquez, president of the Mexican Olympic Organizing Committee, is considered a magician architect here for erecting the giant Aztec Stadium, completed one year ago, and the anthropological museum in breath-taking speed. He's obviously using the same methods now.

"I wish you wouldn't say how fast everything is going," one official said privately. "I think Sr. Ramirez Vasquez wants to surprise the president (Gustavo Diaz Ordaz) when it's all ready before schedule."

Indians Lose To Andrews At Odessa

ANDREWS — Andrews broke from the starting gate with a four-run inning and went on to defeat the McMahon Indians of Big Spring in fourth round play of the State Hi-Junior Teen-Age Baseball tournament here Saturday morning, 10-2.

The loss ousted Big Spring from the eight-team meet. The Indians had managed to survive the third round Friday with a sparkling 1-0 victory over Houston and thus finished with a 2-2 tournament record.

Lynn Taylor and Jerrell Patrick led the ten-hit attack for Andrews with three blows each. Tom Wood started on the mound for Big Spring while Jody Flores finished.

Big Spring collected five hits off Andrews pitching. Ricky Peurifoy, Joe Martinez, Johnny Rutherford, Johnny Hedges and Jeff Thomas connected safely for the Tribe.

Benito Rubio got the Big Springers' lone run in the second after walking. In the Friday Big Spring-Houston thriller, Rocky Wooley counted Big Spring's lone run in the first after walking.

Thomas Ham hurried brilliantly for Big Spring in the contest, yielding only two hits to Houston. The Indians collected three blows in the game—one each by Thomas, Hedges and Ham.

The game ended the season for the Indians.

Seniors Glenn Hunter, Gerald Graves, Kerry Campbell, Carl Webb, Bennie Lamb and Jim Ty Maddox will be filling varsity positions this season. Also, juniors Leslie Ellis, Kenney Key, Keaton Grubbs, Mike Garrett and Sammy Majors will move up to the first team.

Since five of his eight lettermen are backs, coach Nix anticipates a strong backfield. He has mixed emotions about his line, however, which will be green and inexperienced—except for Sammy Parham.

Parham, the only varsity offensive lineman up front, is rated by Nix as one of the best in the district. In the backfield, Dan Steakley and Lindsey are expected to beef up that area with Parker calling the signals.

Lindsey jumped from 136 a year ago to his current 175 pounds with no apparent loss in speed.

Davis, Koonce Lead Mets To 6-1 Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Davis hit two home runs and Cal Koonce in his first start for New York, limited Pittsburgh to six hits Saturday as the Mets beat the Pirates 6-1.

It was the fourth triumph for the Mets in their last five games.

Davis led off the fourth with a homer that put the Mets ahead 2-1 and came back with a two-run shot in the fifth inning when New York scored three unearned runs.

With two out and Jerry Grote on second, Bill Mazeroski let a grounder by Bob Johnson get through him and Grote scored. Davis then hit his 16th homer of the season into the left field bullpen.

Koonce, acquired early this week from the Chicago Cubs, allowed the only Pirates' run in the first inning when Willie Stargell doubled in Roberto Clemente, who had singled.

Cleon Jones singled in a run for the Mets in the second inning and Ron Swoboda drove in one with a single in the seventh.

Good Backfield Ups C-C District Hopes

COLORADO CITY — Working under Nix in high school will be coaches Doug Chitsey, Buddy Everett, Caddo Mathews, Joe Paty and Dell Riley. Also aiding with the workouts are junior high men-coaches, Ron Anders and Cullen Davis — recent graduates of Abilene Christian College.

The Wolves will have their first intra-squad scrap on Saturday, Aug. 19, the end of the initial week of practice. They will scrimmage San Angelo-Lake View here Tuesday, Aug. 22.

Colorado City will meet El Dorado in San Angelo for another practice game on Sept. 1. A poll taken at the Texas Coaches' School last week gave the nod to Winters to lead the district this year, with Colorado City tying Stamford for the runner-up slot.

However, Texas Football Magazine, a granddaddy forecasting publication, picks Anson to grab the first position—its first in nearly a decade.

The magazine picks Colorado City to finish behind Winters this season in third place.

Cass Clay Plans To Marry Soon

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Deposed heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay said Saturday he plans to be married again soon.

Clay, who was divorced by his first wife, told newsmen the wedding will be in Chicago, probably later this month. He said he will make a formal announcement soon disclosing the name of his bride in Chicago.

Clay arrived in Los Angeles to preside as grand marshal Sunday of the Watts Festival Parade which climaxes a week of cultural activities in the Negro district hit by riots two years ago.

East All-Stars Roll Over West By 45-22 Count

MIDLAND — Coach Jim Coleman's East squad trimmed the West 45-22 in the 22nd annual All-Star Six-Man Football game at Memorial Stadium here Friday.

Sparked by Carbon's Ronnie Hughes and James Baize of Turnerville, the East led in every period — boasting a 31-14 halftime advantage.

Along with an outstanding defensive showing, Hughes scored seven points on a nine-yard run to put the East out front in the opening period.

Baird scored three of the winners' touchdowns on runs of 15, 17 and 21 yards.

David Holubec, the Paint Rock standout headed for University of Texas, scored the West's first TD in the second quarter. The West's other two touchdowns came on a 33-yard scamper by quarterback Abby Galan of Christoval, and Water Valley's Barney Cisco with a five yard jaunt.

Riot Hints Won't Stop Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Plans went ahead Saturday to hold Wednesday night's lightweight title bout between champion Carlos Ortiz and Ismael Laguna as scheduled despite police concern over a possible riot.

The fight is slated for Shea Stadium.

"The fight will go on and we will have an orderly bout," Harry Markson, director of the sponsoring Madison Square Garden Corporation, said. "We have enough private police to insure security."

In the past 21 months there have been three riots in Madison Square Garden after bouts involving defeats by Puerto Rican boxers. Ortiz is from Puerto Rico, Laguna from Panama.

Nelson Is Named Coaching Aide

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Ted Nelson, former Texas A&M track star, was named assistant coach of his alma mater Saturday.

Nelson, who set a national 440-yard scholastic record while at Andrews and hung up a Southwest Conference record of 46.6 at A&M, has been a teacher and assistant football and track coach at Bryan High School for the past year. He also played football at Andrews and one season at A&M.

He will coach the Aggie cross-country team next fall and will assist head track coach Charley Thomas.

Cardinals May Turn To Jim Hart At QB

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — Coach Charley Winner of the St. Louis Cardinals spent the summer looking for a No. 2 quarterback and now finds himself in a position of having to land both a No. 1 and No. 2 signal-caller for the 1967 season.

Veteran quarterback Charley Johnson has been ordered to active duty with the U.S. Army for two years, with directions to report Aug. 22.

The Cards had a 6-1 record when Johnson was hurt in a 1966 game with the New York Giants Nov. 6. They finished 8-5-1 for fourth place after losing four of their last five games.

Jim Hart, a second year man from Southern Illinois who played briefly in one game as a rookie, had been slated for the No. 2 spot. Winner also has been looking at Vidal Carlin of North Texas State and Tim Van Galder of Iowa State.

Except for the quarterback situation, Winner believes the Cardinals are improved in most other categories.

"Last year I was new and the players were new to me," he said. "Now we start out with more confidence, all knowing the same system."

"We are starting out with three objectives. We want to fill the quarterback spots. We want our offense to jell because we were not satisfied with the way it controlled the ball last year. And we want to do something about our punting."

Winner is starting the season with Johnny Roland, the 1966 rookie of the year, at fullback and Prentice Gault at halfback. Many believe that Roland eventually will shift to fullback and

Roy Shivers, a fine outside runner from Utah State, will take over at half. Shivers didn't get too much work last year except on the kick return teams. Willie Crenshaw is running

Wetsel To Get 'A' Rating

Just over a year ago, J. B. Wetsel, golf pro at the municipal course here, attended the national Professional Golfers Association business school in San Antonio. This was one of four such schools in the U.S. each year.

While there, J. B. toiled as a lecturer on golf club repair and, of the 86 students from far away as Canada, the most renowned of the lot was a burly Ohioan named Jack Nicklaus.

Attendance at the PGA school counts as one of the required five years a pro must record in the business before applying for his Class A PGA membership. Wetsel will apply for his Class A certificate next month.

J. B. came to Big Spring from Sweetwater where he had held a similar position for two years. Just prior to his turning pro and assuming the Sweetwater post, he'd won the men's open division of the Abilene city championship.

As an amateur, Wetsel played an average of 18 holes four to five days each week. With the busy schedule at the Muni course here, he's lucky if he gets in nine holes each week. This infrequency on the links has not seemed to affect his skill, however, since he shot a scizzing 64 here a year ago to the local golf great Bobby Wright's course record.

For the feat, J. B. recorded nine birdies and nine pars.

More than 10 million people crowd America's 9,000 golf courses annually — an average of one course per 26,000 players — and this keeps the pros constantly on the go. Here, while catering to more than 100 linksters daily, J. B. puts in between 14 and 15 hours per day, seven days each week. His wife, Jean, is a big help and, according to him, "can actually run the place as well as I."

Last year, the local course hosted 17 different tournaments — including the Grand Champion, the City Open and the Pro-Am events. Although the figure will most probably fall below this mark this year, J. B. assured me that a record number of enthusiasts will have teed off there by year's end.

"Being a golf course professional is an interesting and fascinating business," Wetsel told me. "Our job is to teach, promote and generally supervise the golf played on our courses."

The Wetsels' son, Jimmy, has chosen a similar line of work. Currently, he is second assistant pro at the Colonial Country Club at Fort Worth.

"Before turning professional, I played the game for over 25 years," J. B. concluded, "so I guess you could say that I'm somewhat attached to the sport."

Ryun Defeats Keyna's Keino In Mile Event
LONDON (AP) — America's Jim Ryun defeated Kipchoge Keino of Kenya over the one mile today for the second time in five weeks, but was well above his world record.

Ryun's time was 3:56.0. His record is 3:51.1. A 30,000 crowd at London's White City Stadium was keyed up for a world record. But all hopes of that disappeared with a slow first lap in which Ryun, from Wichita, Kan., and Keino stayed at the back of the pack.

Keino clocked 3:57.4, well outside his best time of 3:53.4, set on this track a year ago.

Alan Simpson of Britain finished third in 4:00.4 and John Wheaton of Britain was fourth in 4:01.2.

David Mungai, Keino's teammate from Kenya, finished fifth in 4:01.9. The crowd was the biggest to watch a track and field meet at the White City Stadium for 10 years. The fans turned out in the hope of seeing Ryun or Keino smash the 3:50 barrier.

The mile featured a dual meet between track and field teams of the United States and Britain. The Kenyans competed as guests.

In addition to the mile, the Americans won the opening six events, finishing 1-2 in the discus.

The discus was won by Gary Carlson of Los Angeles with a heave of 198-foot 7 inches. Bill Neville of Washington, D.C., was second with 18-4.

Other U.S. triumphs were scored in the 10,000 meters, Van Nelson of Minneapolis, in 28:48.2; the 10,000 meters walk, Ron Laird of Pomona, Calif., in 45:10.4; Javelin, Frank Covelli of Long Beach, Calif., 245-6; 400 meters, Vince Matthews, New York, 45.7; and the 400 meter hurdles, Ron Whitney, Modesto, Calif., 50.9.

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Abb Curtis who served four decades as an official or supervisor of officials in football, will be recognized at a testimonial dinner Saturday night, Aug. 19.

The fete will be sponsored by the Southwest Football Officials Association, which is holding its annual meeting here Saturday and Sunday.

The two-day session opens Saturday morning and closes at noon Sunday with the completion of the rules and manual examination.

Burns McKinney of Midland, veteran Southwest Conference official, is president of the association. He will preside at the business meeting and is one of nine officials who will participate in the group discussion.

Frank Broyles, coach of Arkansas, will lead the rules interpretation for officials and other Southwest Conference head coaches at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The dinner for Curtis, who requires Aug. 31 after supervising conference officials for 18 years, will be at 7 p.m.

Prior to his administrative work Curtis served as a conference game official for two decades and was generally recognized as one of the most respected in the profession. He officiated in the Cotton Bowl on numerous occasions and also worked in the Rose Bowl and Sugar Bowl.

Winning Club Can Be Entertaining, Too

FORT WORTH (AP)—"I want to have an exciting football team, one that will win and be entertaining," says Texas Christian's new football coach, Fred Taylor.

"And if you win, you're pretty entertaining."

Taylor's comments were contained in a brochure outlining the Horned Frogs' prospects on the eve of his first season as head coach.

The tall, drawing, no-nonsense Texan succeeded Abe Martin as coach after Martin was stricken late last season with a heart attack. Abe, at season's end, resigned to devote full time to his duties as athletic director.

"The 1966 squad had a disappointing season in many ways, and naturally lost some confidence," Taylor said in the brochure, compiled by sports information director Jim Brock.

"I have tried to get this group thinking about how they are going to beat people—not thinking how they are going to keep getting beat."

The Frogs dropped eight of 10 contests last year, beating only Texas Tech and Baylor. They scored a total of only 55 points behind an offense that contributed a mere five touchdowns.

Taylor spent much of the spring working with the offense, which featured variations of the "I" and "winged-T" formations.

"We want a good straight-ahead offense," said Taylor. "Our running game looked pretty good this spring."

Good backs, he said, "are definitely our strength," adding, "if we were as strong everywhere as in our offensive backfield, our problems would be less."

Taylor's stable of backs include Ross Montgomery and Steve Landon, who shared time at running back, and Kenny Post and Norman Bulsich, who alternated at fullback in 1966.

The wingback post belongs now to Leslie Brown, No. 2 last year.

The question mark, a carry over from last year, comes at quarterback, where senior P. D. Shabay, a two-year letterman, has the starting nod. He is backed up by sophomore Dan Carter and junior Larry Peel.

Shabay guided the Frogs through much of the 1966 season.

Alexander Added To Stamford Staff
STAMFORD — Arlon Alexander is one of three new coaches recently named to the high school coaching staff here. The others are Alvis Jackson and Robert E. Swafford.

A Midland University graduate, Alexander comes here from Childress, where he coached one year. Prior to his Childress job, he had coached at both Goree and Seymour.

Hockey Returning To Fort Worth
FORT WORTH (AP)—Professional hockey returns to Fort Worth Oct. 11 when the Fort Worth Wings play the Houston Apollos in their Central League season opener.

The contest in Will Rogers Coliseum will be the first of 35 home dates for the Wings, farm club of the Detroit Red Wings. The Coliseum is undergoing a $195,000 remodeling program for the debut here in 17 years.

The Wings, coached by Fern Flaman, a 15-year veteran of the National Hockey League, begin training in Detroit next month.

In addition to Fort Worth and Houston, other Central League teams are at Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Kansas City, Omaha, Memphis and Dallas.

but failed to ignite what appeared to be a potentially explosive offense.

Peel and Rick Bridges also took a whirl at the task and neither enjoyed any great success. Bridges was a spring training casualty. He quit.

Carter had a fine year as a freshman, breaking several Wog passing records on a team coached at the time by Taylo Shabay's most glaring weakness has been his passing, and Taylor hopes Carter can fill this void.

Senior E. A. Gresham, a 6-4, 215-pounder, will anchor the offensive line at center after two years as defensive signal-caller from a linebacker post.

County Budget, Fire Plans To Be Studied

Howard County Commissioners are scheduled to give the 1968 Howard County budget a second look Monday at the regular meeting of the court.

It is also probable the commissioners will resume discussion of what solution may be found for the problem of rural fire protection in the county. Both matters are of an urgent nature.

The budget must be checked and some final decision reached on any items which need adjusting. The public hearing on the budget is set for Sept. 11, which means that official advertising of the date must begin immediately.

At the initial consideration of the budget last week, only a few minor changes were made in the original draft, according to Virginia Black, county auditor.

All requests by departments and officials for salary adjustments for subordinates were overruled and stricken from the budget.

Lee Porter, county judge, said that the amount of money which will be available for the county's needs will not permit any salary increases at this time.

The problem of rural fire protection is soon to become acute. The county commissioners have asked city officials to cancel the contract under which the Big Spring Fire Department has been dispatching trucks and firemen on rural runs with the county contributing $7,500 a year to the operation of the department.

Recently a fire truck on a run to a rural grass fire call was involved in an accident. The truck was extensively damaged and four firemen were hurt.

The county, under its contract, assumed all responsibility for damages which occurred while the truck was on the rural run. After the mishap, the county discovered that it cannot get insurance on the truck (which was bought with county funds) as long as the title is in the hands of the city, and that compensation liability insurance is not possible on firemen because the county does not pay their salaries.

As a result the county asks to be relieved of its contract. A solution must be found to deal with rural fires.

The commissioners are said to have tentatively discussed some alternate plans, but have not agreed to what step to take.

Forsan District Predicts Record Enrollment—434

Forsan schools are expecting a record enrollment of 434 students when classes begin Aug. 28, an increase of 22 students over last year's total enrollment of 412.

Students will be attending classes in new, air conditioned facilities this fall. New shop facilities will be ready when the doors open with a new program of instruction. A language laboratory has also been added for further instruction in speech, reading, spelling, and foreign languages, and can accommodate 25 students.

With the acoustical sliding doors dividing the new auditorium into three sections, the science program has undergone a change in curriculum. The auditorium can be divided into three classrooms for lectures and television and projector slide instruction and new science laboratories have been built for biology, chemistry, and physics.

A new home economics department has been added to the school, including a formal living room, dining area, and a combination cooking and sewing laboratory. There will be two gas ovens, two electric ovens, and one built in oven for cooking classes. A fitting room with storage facilities has also been added to the department.

A wing of five windowless and air-conditioned classrooms has been added to the elementary school at Elbow.

The faculty will report for a pre-school orientation workshop Aug. 24-25. Classes will begin Aug. 28 under a tentative budget set at $348,537 for the 1967-68 school year. Students pre-registered last spring, including the ones who will begin the first grade this fall. However, new students who have not registered, will register on the first day of classes, Aug. 28. First graders, who have not pre-registered, must present their birth certificates and vaccination records upon registration.

Classes will be dismissed for Labor Day Sept. 4. Thanksgiving holidays will be Nov. 23-24. Dec. 21 will mark the last day of classes before the Christmas holidays. They will resume classes Jan. 2.

The spring holidays will be observed April 15-16 this year and the school year will end with high school baccalaureate May 19, and graduation May 24.

Three new teachers have been added to the teaching staff: Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Hartin, elementary school teachers, and Mrs. Kay Ellen Rutledge, junior high school English teacher. There are two vacancies to fill before Aug. 28, a junior high school math teacher and high school band director.

The school system will operate 19 bus routes this school year, the same as was operated last year. Any changes in the routes will be made after the first two school days.

The two cafeterias, the elementary school cafeteria at Elbow, and the cafeteria serving the junior high school and senior high students will begin serving meals the first day of class, Aug. 28.

In the Forsan school district, grades 1-4 attend Elbow Elementary School, and grades 5-12 attend Forsan.

Registration Begins At Farrar's

Registration for the fall term at Farrar Private School, 1200 Runnels, is open by appointment until the quota for the three classes offered is full, according to school officials.

Due to an increase in students, the school is offering for the first time both a morning and afternoon kindergarten class in addition to the first grade class. All three groups are limited to 20 children each.

Work at the school is correlated with courses offered in public schools to ease the transition when students go into the second grade.

Orientalists Meet

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Scholars from as far away as Outer Mongolia gathered in Ann Arbor today for the 27th Congress of Orientalists.

The conference, which opens Sunday at the University of Michigan and will meet through the week, is being held in the United States for the first time.

Very Early Call Silences Booms

SEEKONK, Mass. (AP) — Rodman S. Barney could sleep through the booms that came every 20 minutes or so from a device he installed in his cornfield to keep away crows—but his neighbors couldn't. So one morning, very early, Barney's neighbors called him on the telephone and got him out of bed. He then started turning off the device at night.

Head Start Program Submitted For Approval

Head Start will begin its second nine-month program Sept. 5, provided that the regional office approves the budget in time.

The Big Spring Independent School District asked for $151,034 for the program, but approval has not been received as yet, Keith Swim, director, said.

but teachers have been informed that the program cannot begin its activities until the federal funds are approved.

The total budget for the pre-school is set at $193,275, 80 per cent allocated by the federal government, ($151,034) and 20 per cent by the local school district.

The program is set up for the enrollment of 200 students. "The enrollment will be on a first come, first served basis," Swim said, "However, the children must meet certain government qualifications to be eligible for participation in Head Start."

There will be little change in the program, Swim added. Regional office reports have shown that it will cut $300-$400 from an in-service program the district wanted to initiate this year. Also, it suggested that the project should include more volunteer aides in the classrooms, and indicated that it would not approve funds for playground equipment.

Reports also showed that the director would be allocated a five per cent salary increase, and that the funds would include a substantial sum to meet the teacher pay-rise scale.

The Big Spring ISD is furnishing the Kate Morrison building for the project. Ten teachers, more than 10 aides, a secretary, a custodian, two bus drivers, a nurse, three cafeteria women and a director will carry on the Head Start program by providing initial medical, cultural, social and educational background for kindergarten-aged children. The age qualification for the program is five years on or before Sept. 1, 1967.

The program is designed to provide pre-school education to children living in a highly concentrated area of low income families.

Sterling Co. Dates Fixed

Classes will begin in the Sterling City Schools Sept. 1, with registration of senior high students, Aug. 28-29. Elementary students will register the first day of class.

Teachers will meet for in-service training, Aug. 28-31.

The tentative budget for the 1967-68 school year has been set at $205,000, and includes a staff of 20 teachers, and an expected enrollment of 250. The enrollment figure is approximately the same as it was last year.

There are two openings remaining for teachers in the schools. One is a chemistry teacher and sixth or seventh grade teacher.

Cafeterias will begin serving lunches the first day of classes. There is no school bus program for the area students, but families living farther than two miles from the schools, are paid mileage for student transportation.

Private School Is Open For Registration

Registration for the Big Spring Christian Day School, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Omer A. Williams, is open at any time for children of kindergarten and first grade age.

The school, located on Wesson Road across from the City Park, was designed to meet the demands of parents who want pre-school training for their children. Also, children whose birthdays fall between Sept. 1 and Dec. 1 can enter the first grade Sept. 1.

The school was established by Mr. and Mrs. Gene Combs 14 years ago to stress Christian principles, not doctrines, and prepare children for public school.

To accommodate working mothers, the school provides transportation for children to day care centers or baby sitters at the end of the day.

CLASSES CONSUME most of a young man's time during the school year, but along with the scholastic achievement is the personal growth which is encouraged by organizations both within and outside the school. Steve Tidwell, center back, was shopping for a fall wardrobe when he paused to hear accounts of the recent state DeMaloy convention from four members of the Leon P. Moffett Chapter. They are Danny Porter, Coleman Nalls Jr., Joe Moss and Ray Worsham.

who are receiving instruction from Bradley. The entire band has been rehearsing nightly for the past week in preparation for the band's performance Sept. 8 at the first football game of the season.

COLLEGE GIRLS need a lot of things that aren't readily available on campus, and Kay Price, 19, a sophomore journalism major at Texas Tech, wonders if having her own hair dryer might be a smart idea. Helping her decide on a model is younger sister, Kim, 5, who won't need such an accessory this year at Jack and Jill Kindergarten. The girls are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Price.

THERE'S SOMETHING VERY SPECIAL about being a high school senior. The final year of college preparation is a time for seeing efforts rewarded with recognition from fellow students and faculty members. Here, four mem-

Miss Phyllis Anne Long, who is engaged to be married to Clinton Miller on Sept. 2, was honored with an informal coffee Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Joyce Harmon, 403 Edwards Blvd. Calling hours were from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m., and 40 were included on the guest list.

Assisting the hostess were her daughter, Kenda, and her son, Harvey.

Receiving guests with Miss Long were her mother, Mrs. Elmer Jay Long, her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Clyde Miller, and her grandmother, Mrs. Charlie Barker. All are of Stanton.

Decorations carried out the bride-elect's chosen colors of lime green and avocado. White linen covered the refreshment table which was centered with an arrangement of white daisies, fresh limes, avocados and grapes. Silver tea and coffee services were used, and napkins featured a daisy design.

Scout Leader Course Held In Sweetwater

Mrs. Anita Bassett, wife of Maj. Gen. H. H. Bassett, USAF (Ret.) was guest instructor for the West Texas Girl Scout Council during the past week. She held a two-day training course at the First Presbyterian Church in Sweetwater.

Miss Beth Nowotny, executive director of the West Texas Girl Scout Council, assisted Mrs. Bassett in training troop organizers, troop consultants, neighborhood chairmen and volunteer trainers.

Mrs. James H. Van Pelt and Mrs. Henry Thames of Big Spring attended the sessions. There were 16 enrolled for the training program, and plans were formulated to institute a Leader's Training Design program that will replace the training sessions of the past.

The new program, expected to become effective next year, would allow the leader to take as much time as one year or as little time as five weeks to complete a course of study at home. In the past the course has been offered one day a week for five weeks. Instructions, information and packets could be exchanged by the leaders and would provide an opportunity for those desiring further study to do so.

A pilot program for the new course will be held in October at Abilene.

Mrs. Bassett has been active in Girl Scouting for the past 24 years. Her first experience with Scout training began when she served as assistant leader of an intermediate group in Virginia. At the end of World War II, she started the first Girl Scout troop for American girls in Germany.

When the Bassetts returned to Virginia, she began working with the senior Girl Scouts, and was advisor to the senior planning board. She has served terms as day camp committee chairman and as chairman of the established camp committee.

Mrs. Bassett has directed camps in Pennsylvania and in Taiwan. While in Taiwan she served as neighborhood and district chairman and trainer of day-camp directors.

She is presently serving as a member of the San Antonio board, and is a voting delegate of the National Council and advisor to a senior Girl Scout troop. She is an American Red Cross first aid instructor, water safety instructor and serves as a National Field Volunteer.

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Big Spring has had the pleasure this weekend of hosting a fine group of West Texas Press Association members and we hope they have enjoyed being here as much as we have pleased in their company. They are a group that gets to be almost like members of the family. We have been with them on numerous occasions and all of them have been pleasant and rewarding. Most of the members are hard-working weekly newspaper editors who, along with their wife, hit that Thursday press time every week. We love them all and have enjoyed having them in Big Spring.

"Although the visit was short, we made every minute count," said MRS. CLYDE CANTRELL, who, with her husband and daughter, Cathy, who live on Route One, had her brother and his family here over the weekend. MR. and MRS. DAYLE PARKES and their children, Chris, Debbie, Steven and Sheri whose home is in San Jose, Calif., have been guests of the Cantrells.

MRS. EDWARD CRUZ is looking forward to the arrival of Aug. 21 - that is the day her husband, M. SGT. CRUZ, is to return home from a year's tour of duty at Udorn AFB in Thailand. He is to be reassigned to Webb AFB with the 350th Pilot Training Wing where he is to report for duty Oct. 1. Between the time he gets home and reports for duty again he and Mrs. Cruz plan an extended vacation leaving Aug. 25 with her brother-in-law and sister, MR. and MRS. CHESTER C. JAYNES of Lubbock for Los Angeles, Calif., where they will visit the Jaynes' daughter and her family, the B. N. ELLISES. They will also visit Disneyland, Marineland and San Diego. They also plan to spend some time in Brownsville with Sgt. Cruz' relatives.

Mrs. Cruz' mother, MRS. J. E. EDGAR, who has spent the past five weeks here with her daughter, has returned to her home in Lubbock.

There are no words so dear to the people who work on a publication, in our case, newspaper, than those of good friends and readers who say they like what it puts out. Each year MRS. M. W. PEMBERTON, the former VALMA GILMORE, says some kind words when she renews her subscription to be sent to 8457 Grenoble St., Sunland, Calif., 90140. And those few words mean a lot and we're happy for friends who remember us when they must leave us.

MR. and MRS. HAROLD CANNING and Barry left Friday for Miami, Fla., where they will visit his parents.

MRS. AUDREY JOHNSON, who moved from Big Spring seven years ago to make her home in San Diego, Calif., is the houseguest of MR. and MRS. C. E. PRATHER while here to see other friends and relatives. During her month's stay in Texas, Mrs. Johnson plans to spend some time in Fort Worth and Tyler before returning to California.

MRS. E. E. BRYANT and her sister, MRS. MELVIN BOATMAN of Monahan, have had a wonderful week entertaining four cousins, two of whom they had never seen before. Mrs. Zack Myers of Nashville, Tenn., got the trip together for the women who included Mrs. Virginia Drenden and her daughter, Becky, also of Nashville.

Mrs. Sidney Clements of Brookfield, Ill.; and Mrs. Henry Olson of Miami, Fla. Mrs. Clements and Mrs. Olson were both after Mrs. Bryant left Tennessee.

The group met in Nashville, and on the way to Mrs. Bryant's home here they visited relatives in Arkansas, stopped in Dallas to see Becky's sister, and in Eastland to see Mrs. Bryant's sister, Mrs. Walter Gann, and members of her family. In Abilene they spent some time with other cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Skelton.

When the group left Tuesday they were en route to Harlingen where they will visit an aunt before returning to Tennessee.

MR. and MRS. E. B. COMPTON couldn't stand it any longer so they flew down to Houston Friday to see their little granddaughter, ALICIA ANN, the daughter of MR. and MRS. BENNIE COMPTON. They returned Monday firmly convinced that the baby is as pretty as her parents said she was when she was born July 19.

MRS. HOWARD LEE is planning to leave today for her home in Seattle, Wash., after spending a week with her sisters, MISS WINNIE DELL and MISS LILLIAN RHOTON. During her visit here the three went to Tyler to visit another sister, MRS. J. P. HAMILTON, and her family. Mrs. Lee is the former Mildred Louise Rhoton and Mrs. Hamilton is the youngest sister, Dorothy.

Styles Come Back

Give a basic style time enough away from the scene and it'll come back. Take the men's double-breasted jacket. It's everywhere, including summer evening jackets. Look for it in such as red linen-weave, with shawl collar piped in black. Watch also for bold stripes on white background on the masculine scene.

Farewells Are Said At Dinner

Mrs. Morris Farrow was presented a farewell gift at the Thursday dinner meeting of the Past Matron's Gavel Club, Laura B. Hart Chapter No. 1019, Order of the Eastern Star. The group met at the Holiday Inn.

Mrs. Farrow is moving with her family to Gilmer. Hostesses were Mrs. Bill Greise and Mrs. Ollie McDaniel, who brought the devotion. Mrs. Ode Green worded the opening prayer.

Mrs. John Puckett presided and introduced Mrs. Lloyd Duncan, junior past president, as a new member. Mrs. Richard Mitchell announced that six cards to the sick were mailed, and Mrs. McDaniel was named card chairman for the month.

The next meeting will be Sept. 14 with Mrs. Gordon Hughes and Mrs. M. C. Lawrence as hostesses. Fourteen attended.

Wedding Performed In Lutheran Church

Miss Shyrlee Joy Ward became the bride of James Phillip Reid in a double ring ceremony held Saturday evening at St. Paul Lutheran Church.

The Rev. D. V. Hafemann of Midland performed the service before an altar accented with large baskets of white gladioli in black wrought iron stands. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Ward and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dale Reid, all of Coahoma.

Mrs. Frank Long was organist. Miss Connie Hadley and Tom Hadley sang the benediction, "The Lord's Prayer," and Miss Hadley sang "O Perfect Love."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a formal gown of white lace over satin designed with a fitted bodice and waistline. The long lace sleeves tapered to points over the hands, and her white sleeveless coat of bridal satin was fashioned with an open front and formed a train in the back. Flat satin bows accented the shoulders of the coat, and her veil of fingertip illusion fell from a petal point pearl tiara. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli interspersed with English ivy.

Miss Rebecca Ward of Graham was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Cynthia Ward and Miss Laura Ward of Coahoma, sisters of the bride. They wore identical dresses of mini green cotton with matching chiffon bell sleeves. They carried nosegays of white Frenched carnations with English ivy.

The bride is a senior student at Coahoma High School, and the bridegroom is a graduate of Coahoma High School and is presently attending Howard County Junior College.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the parish hall. Those greeting guests were the bridal couple, parents, and feminine attendants. The refreshment table was laid with a green cloth with net overlay and centered with the bouquets of the bridal attendants. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with green confection roses.

Miss Cynthia Clevenger of Coahoma presided at the guest register. Others in the house party were Miss Pat Edens; Mrs. H. L. Barnett, Wichita Falls; Mrs. Dan Farmer, Abilene; Mrs. Wesley Wright, Midland; and Mrs. Kenneth Furlong of Coahoma.

Barnett, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Squires, Monahans; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lane and family, Colorado City; Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Thompson and children, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Jull Reid, Stanton; and Mrs. Ruff Everett and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Everett, all of Ozona.

Miss Rita Henderson Marries Max W. Richards Thursday

Miss Rita Sue Henderson and Max Weldon Richards exchanged wedding vows Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anson Henderson in Westbrook. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Richards of Lamesa.

The Rev. Lynward Harrison, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Coahoma, read the double ring service as the couple stood before an archway entwined with greenery and centered with a wedding bell. Basket arrangements of white gladioli flanked the archway, and the couple knelt on a white satin prie-dieu for the benediction. Wedding selections were played as background music throughout the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a street-length dress of Chantilly lace over taffeta, designed with satin French cuffs and batteau neckline tied in the back with a satin bow. She carried a bouquet of white roses and white carnations, and her elbow-length veil was lace petals accented with pearls.

Miss Shirley Nowell was the maid of honor. She wore an A-line dress of blue satin fashioned with bell sleeves and her veil of illusion fell from a Dior bow. She carried a long-stemmed white carnation trimmed with satin streamers.

Johnny Irons of Lamesa was best man, and Delbert Richards was ring bearer.

WEDDING TRIP

The couple left on a wedding trip to Carlsbad, N. M. For traveling, Mrs. Richards chose a three piece blue linen suit with black patent accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet. They will make their home at 1205 Johnson St., Big Spring.

The bride is a graduate of Westbrook High School and attended Howard County Junior College. She is a graduate of Vaital Reeves School of Hairdressing and Cosmetology, and is employed by the Bon-Ette

Retirement Occasion Of Brothers Reunion

A happy reunion is taking place this weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell B. Baird, 504 Highland Drive. His brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baird, San Antonio, are here, and the two couples are planning days filled with visiting and fishing at nearby spots such as Lake Colorado City and Lake Champion. The two brothers recently retired at about the same time after years of service with their respective companies. Elmer was long associated with Southern Pacific Railway Company, and Lowell Baird retired June 30 from Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, and Lowell Baird retired June 30 from Cosden Oil & Chemical Company after a 37 1/2-year tenure during which he never missed a day because of illness. Capitalizing on his good health, he decided to retire early and travel at will.

Lowell Baird began his Cosden employment Feb. 16, 1930, as a sample jerker in the laboratory, eventually becoming lab foreman. The Loraine, native played shortstop on the lab team, and he still enjoys watching ball games.

He was sent to Graham in 1939 as assistant superintendent for Cosden's small refinery manned by about three dozen versatile employees. After a three-year stint in the U.S. Army Air Corps, he returned and was superintendent of the Graham facility until it shut down in 1946.

Cosden moved Baird to Sweetwater to supervise the building of its first terminal. This experience stood him in good stead in helping to plan two subsequent terminals at Abilene and Orme. Meanwhile, Cosden had begun a new venture at Big Spring refinery — the asphalt plant. Baird became its foreman in 1949. Three years later he transferred back into sales, directing lubrication sales. He continued in this phase of the business with American Petrofina in May, 1963, and returned to the Cosden roster in February, 1966, in a supervisory capacity at the asphalt plant.

Baird has many friends among the personnel as well as among the jobbers and station operators with whom he has visited on his sales trips throughout the Southwest and the broader marketing territory of Fina.

Good health is one blessing he appreciates. Another is his wife, the former Allene Bass, who grew up in Coahoma. They were married in Lovington, N. M., on March 7, 1932. Her hobby of painting has recently yielded to an electric organ. Baird enjoys the yard work as she gardens, and the two find much to occupy their time at their new home. They thoroughly enjoy travel, and expect to do much of it as the mood moves them.

Gardeners Materials

Using plant materials that litter a garden, four members of the Planters Garden Club made dried arrangements during Wednesday's meeting at the home of Mrs. E. O. Sanderson, 819 W. 7th.

The program demonstrated how litter could be made into a thing of beauty, and prizes were given to the creators, Mrs. J. W. Trantham, Mrs. Roy Seiler, Mrs. Frank Wilson and Mrs. J. A. Andrews.

Mrs. Wilson, president, introduced Mrs. Seiler as a guest, and six members attended. They were served a salad luncheon from a table covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a dried arrangement.

The next meeting will be Sept. 13 in the home of Mrs. Andrews at 1603 Jennings.

Complimented At Luncheon

A luncheon held Saturday in the Patio Room of the Holiday Inn honored Miss Bettye Carolyn Conger, bride-elect of Robert Que Meason Jr. of Childress.

Hostesses for the complimentary affair were Mrs. Frank Knapp, Mrs. C. B. Long, Mrs. Hamlin Elrod and Mrs. Corene Shortes.

The honoree was attired in an aqua knit shift and was presented a corsage of miniature kitchen gadgets. Her mother, Mrs. Bill Conger Jr. was given a corsage of yellow daisies. The prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. R. Q. Meason Sr. of Childress, was unable to attend.

The bride-elect's chosen colors of yellow and white were used in the decorations. The table centerpiece was a three-tiered yellow net "wedding cake" covered with double ruffles and topped with a cluster of white daisies. The cake was placed on a reflector which was edged in yellow net ruffles and English ivy and yellow daisies formed a runner down the white cloth.

The guest register and a recipe box were placed on a small table covered with yellow net, and each guest presented the honoree with three favorite recipes. A small flower arrangement in a white hobnail fluted vase centered the table and was presented to the bride-elect, as was the hostess' gift of an electric can opener.

The couple will marry Aug. 28.

WEBB WINDSOCK

MRS. W. F. HOADLEY
Once each month, a group of Webb officers' wives spends an evening at the state hospital brightening the lives of a dozen adolescent patients. There is a birthday celebration for each patient, plus many holiday parties.

Mrs. J. L. O'Donnell, OWC welfare chairman, allocates funds to provide refreshments and entertainment. Mrs. Eugene N. Bellevue, a former social worker, is the OWC state hospital chairman. Her job is to coordinate the OWC-sponsored activities with the hospital's volunteer program.

Recently, Mrs. C. C. Nieland, chairman of the Webb Thrift Shop, donated many articles of clothing to help prepare these teenagers for fall classes. Now Mrs. Bellevue hopes to open a "cosmetic bar" for boys and girls, and would appreciate receiving any toilet articles at her home, 38-B Chanute. If you're moving, why not donate your aerosol hair spray, deodorant and shave cream to a worthy cause?

BARBECUES
Many Webbits are taking advantage of this warm, clear Texas weather to entertain informally in their back yards. Last weekend, Maj. and Mrs. M. E. Griesking hosted a barbecue at their home. Invited guests were members of Tiger Element of the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. J. H. Van Pelt entertained Maj. and Mrs. M. J. Took, and Maj. and Mrs. Glenn B. Shaffer with a steak barbecue Friday evening. Many in our midst have recently returned from their summer travels with interesting tales to relate about the sights they've seen. Maj. and Mrs. J. M. Fitzsimmons traveled to Rochester, N.Y., and "Expo '67."

1st Lt. and Mrs. Gary L. Weishaar are back at Webb following a honeymoon trip which took them to Colorado Springs and Denver, Colo., and Cheyenne, Wyo. In Saint Louis, Mo., they visited with numerous relatives and friends.

The 3561st PTS welcomed back Capt. and Mrs. R. M. Foley. Capt. Foley recently completed Squadron Officer School in Montgomery, Ala.

Capt. and Mrs. Norman A. Little traveled to East Texas last weekend to christen their new sailboat in one of the many lakes in that region.

1st Lt. and Mrs. John C. Hussey have returned from leave. They enjoyed visiting with his parents and family in the Chicago area.

GO FISHING
Residents of many different states have come to Texas to visit with friends and family at Webb AFB. Mrs. Ross Fohair of Tampa, Fla., is visiting her parents, Col. and Mrs. George E. Franks. This weekend, they

Local Women Tour AF Language School

Three Big Spring women were the guests Monday of the English Language School at Lackland AFB in San Antonio. The three, Mrs. J. R. Ream, Mrs. Charles H. Hundley and Mrs. Don Womack, are all active in assisting Webb pilot training students from foreign countries in learning American customs.

The tour was arranged to familiarize the women with the language school which is attended by most foreign students before their arrival at Webb and technical schools at other military installations.

The tour began with a general briefing by Lt. Col. Everette W. Rayburn, commandant of ELS. During his presentation he praised the work of Big Spring women who assist in the school's effort to show foreign students the American way of life. After lunch a comprehensive tour of classrooms was conducted by ELS personnel.

The ELS, the only one of its kind in the U.S., has given English instruction to 19,000 students from approximately 60 nations. More than 600 students from 35 countries are presently enrolled.

As a rule students are introduced to English by 40 ELS representatives located in foreign countries which send students to Lackland.

When they reach the school their instruction is continued by approximately 80 civilian instructors for eight weeks of general English, followed by seven weeks of technical language which corresponds to the career field of each student. Some students are trained as instructors. These return to their home countries to teach English.

The second objective is to "familiarize foreign military personnel with customs of the U.S. armed forces." The third is to give them "a general orientation on the culture and customs of the United States."

which is sufficiently high to enable them to complete the technical schools most students attend subsequent to ELS instruction.

The first is "to provide foreign military personnel with English language proficiency"

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SECTION D

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, AUGUST 13, 1967

SECTION D

A view of the new four-block long high school building reveals a portion of the new look in Big Spring educational circles. PREDICTING INCREASE OF MORE THAN 750

Enrollment Of 8,000 Expected

The expected enrollment of the Big Spring Independent School District for the coming year is 8,016. It is a 764 increase over last year's peak of 7,252, Noel Reed, director of personnel services, said.

Enrollment for secondary schools is estimated at 3,358 students, with Senior High, 2,068 (including 9th through 12th grades); Goliad Junior High, 711; Runnels Junior High, 610. The elementary schools expect 4,481 students, and Special Education, 226.

Registration will be Sept. 1 and students will begin classes Sept. 5.

Beginning first graders are required to present certain information upon registration, Sept. 1.

The students must present their birth certificates and immunization cards signed by a physician. Immunizations required include small pox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, and polio.

School nurses will contact other students' parents as immunizations are needed.

Pre-registration for new students to the Big Spring school district will be Tuesday, Lynn Hise, assistant superintendent of instruction, said.

The students who will register on this date are all elementary and special education students new to the district or who lived in a different attendance area last year.

First graders who did not pre-register last spring will also register Tuesday. Parents are requested to bring immunization records and birth certificates.

Secondary students who have not registered are asked to register in the principal's office of the school they will attend as soon as possible.

Jan. 22	Second semester begins
March 8	District IV, ISTA, pupil holiday
March 22	Third grade reporting ends
April 11, 12, 15	Spring holidays
May 30	Last day of classes
May 31	Grades, record day
June 1	Report card distribution

A date for junior and senior high students to pick up their schedules has not been set. When a date has been established, the students will be notified, Hise said.

The bus schedule for area children has seen only two changes, leaving the rest of the schedule the same as it was last spring.

With the completion of Moss Elementary School, the bus which transported the children in the district to Park Hill Elementary, has been cancelled from the program. Also, a bus will transport Boydston students to Park Hill, because construction has eliminated classroom space at Boydston.

Six classrooms at Boydston have been converted into a library, cafeteria and offices, and has caused a shortage in teaching facilities.

"Essentially all other bus routes will remain the same," Don Green, assistant business manager, said. "There are two areas where overcrowded buses may present some problems, and we may have to add a bus to those routes. However, the routes will be the same as they were last year for the first few days of classes."

Qualifies For Federal Grants

The Big Spring Independent School District has qualified for several federal grants, including Title II, Title III, and Title V, according to Keith Swim, director of special programs.

Under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, Title II is set up to improve libraries. Last year the allocation totaled $18,000 and will be approximately the same for the 1967-68 school year. The funds were used exclusively last year for library books in the district school libraries.

Title III provides for a media center which is temporarily based in Midland. It was established for providing aids in education by film libraries, audio-visual aids, surveys, etc. This is the first year that this clause of the act has been enacted within the area.

Harold Talbot, of Big Spring, is a member of the executive board of the media center.

Title V, which is included in the education act, gives an improved state department of education by providing administrative counselors for school districts in the state.

FIVE PER CENT GROWTH PATTERN

HCJC Anticipates 1,100

Enrollment at Howard County Junior College is expected to surpass last fall's enrollment of 979 by 121 students, hiking the enrollment to 1,100.

"Each year the enrollment increased about five per cent," B. M. Keese, registrar said. "I have been here about 12 years, and the enrollment has increased at about that rate every year. There has never been a drastic change in the trend of enrollment," he said.

"Only two years have we dropped below the enrollment of the year before," he said. "Once was last year. The enrollment was 979 in the fall semester. The previous year, the enrollment reached 1,026."

WAR SITUATION

"The Vietnamese situation last September was one reason for the decreased enrollment," Keese explained. "Although many of the part-time students at Webb Air Force Base were not ordered to Vietnam, at the time they were not sure, so they did not register for classes." The Webb contribution to the enrollment of HCJC averages about 200 students a semester.

Four new faculty members have been named to the college staff to teach English, music, and the new technical-vocational program.

Mrs. Anita Booth will become a new freshman English teacher. She comes to HCJC from the Philippine Islands where she has taught for nine years. She received her B.S. degree from the University of Philippines and her M.S. degree from North Texas State University.

MUSIC DEPT.
John Stanley will join the music department as an instructor. He received his B.A. degree from Baylor University and his master's from Sam Houston State Teacher's College.

Norman Edward Backs and Maj. Dallas L. Nash are joining the college staff as instructors for the new technical-vocational division, with an electronic data processing technology curriculum.

Backs comes to Big Spring from Midland, and he received his B.S. and M.S. from North Texas State University.

Nash comes to HCJC from Abilene High School where he taught for three years. He set up a data processing course in that school. He is a retired Air Force major, and was in charge of the systems analysis and design team at Aerospace Center at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

PHYSICAL TRAINING
Wanda Ferguson has joined the physical training department, and has come to HCJC from Tascosa High School in Amarillo. She is replacing Mrs. Juanita Sheppard.

A technical-vocational division including electronic data processing technology will be offered for the first time this fall. Under the direction of Marshall R. Box.

The electronic data processing technology curriculum is designed as a two-year program to equip the student for employment as a computer programmer in business. Experiences on electronic data processing equipment will be supplemented with technical information and study designed to give the student an understanding of his civic re-

Sands District Expects Fewer Students Enrolled

Sands School at Ackerly will begin school Aug. 28 with an expected decrease in enrollment. The projected enrollment totals 375 students, less than last year's enrollment of 391, according to M. B. Maxwell, superintendent.

Classes will begin Aug. 28 with in-service training for teachers, Aug. 23-25. Students have pre-registered, but new students and beginning students will be registered the first day of classes.

Beginning students are required to present birth certificates and immunization records upon registration.

One new faculty member, Mrs. Ruth Floyd, has been added to the teaching staff. She will teach junior high English. One vacancy for a math teacher still remains to be filled.

Renovations of the plant during the summer months included new ceilings and lighting for the elementary school classrooms and senior high school hallways. New lockers were also installed in the senior high.

Buses for area students will be in operation the first day of classes and will operate the same routes as they did the past school year. The cafeteria will also begin serving lunch the first day of classes.

responsibilities and the occupational skill necessary for today's society."

Beginning freshmen planning attend HCJC are required to have their high school transcripts sent to the Registrar's Office, and fill out the necessary application forms before actual registration. Also test scores from the SAT or ACT tests are required upon registration.

Students living out of town may obtain applications by writing the college, Keese said. The new science building and the new library will be open for the first time this fall for a long semester. They have been in use for the summer sessions this past summer. The old science wing has been renovated for additional classroom area and is ready for use.

NOW IS THE TIME TO CHECK THE LIGHT YOUR CHILDREN USE FOR HOME STUDY

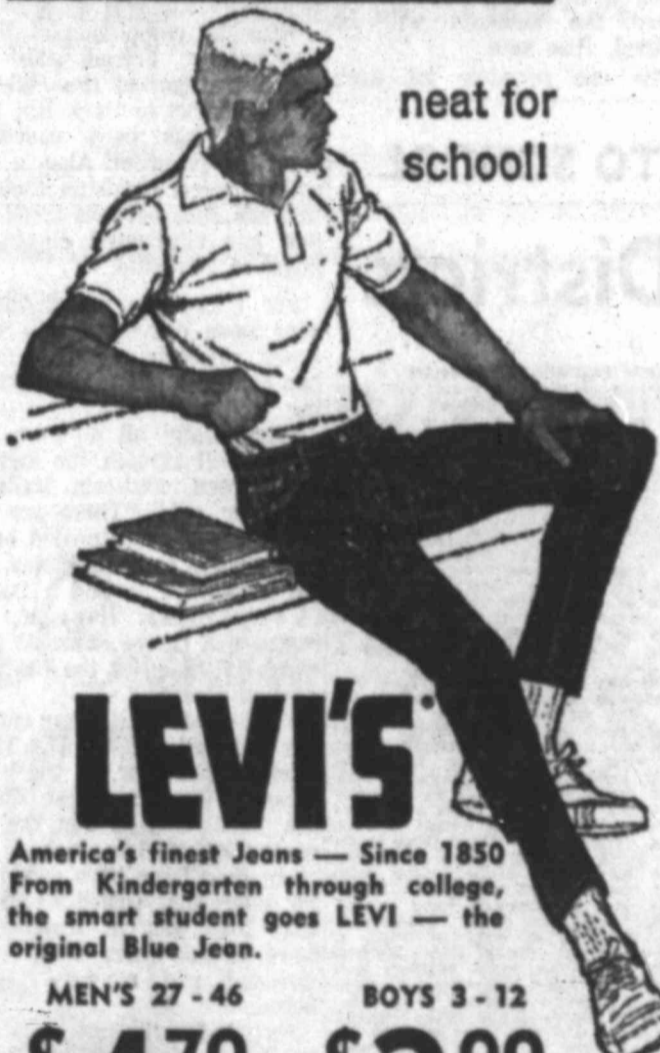

Even children who pass the eye chart test with ease need special light for home study. Reading and other close visual tasks require plenty of good light to make seeing easier and to prevent eyestrain and fatigue. For best light from a table lamp, use at least 150-watt illumination. The lamp should be tall enough to spread light evenly over the work area and properly shaded to shield the light source from the eyes. A diffusing bowl is recommended to soften the light and prevent glare. Check your children's study light now. Better light means better sight and better grades.

Star-Gazing Added To Curriculum Here

By BECKY STARK

Stars, satellites and planets will make daylight appearances this fall in Big Spring when the newly installed high school planetarium goes into full operation, serving 11 grades, Howard County Junior College and special adult classes.

Actual cost of the planetarium center is not available from the school business office, since the construction cost of the room is not itemized but included in total construction cost of the dining room wing—$707,664. Equipment will cost the school district $39,628 and seating, $3,997.

Funds provided by the 1964 school bond program and grants from the National Defense Education Act will half the expense of the equipment. The 73 semi-reclining seats, set at a fixed angle of 30 degrees in a circular pattern below the 30 foot diameter dome, are being paid for with bond money.

ARTIFICIAL SKY

With this special learning center, an artificial sky complete with images of the sun, moon, planets and stars can be projected on a hemispherical dome. Through mechanical and electrical means, the apparatus can be revolved to show spectators the principal motions of the heavenly bodies.

In an hour or so, a class could witness motions which can only be seen in the skies by years of watching. When years are compressed into minutes, the planets can be seen chasing one another about the sky, advancing and regressing just as they do slowly in nature.

DOUBLE UP

"Since the seating capacity of the planetarium center is 73," said John Smith, principal of Big Spring High School, "There will be times when more than one class can meet at the same hour." He explained that the chamber was designed to double as a large group instructional area when the planetarium is not in use, making the dome an ideal surface for motion pictures, slides and overhead projection. Such a design permits the instructor to shift lessons from the domed sky to the demonstration desk for a different perspective.

Present plans call for all grades in the Big Spring Independent School District — with the exception of seventh grade students — to participate in at least one session at the planetarium during the year.

FOR OTHERS

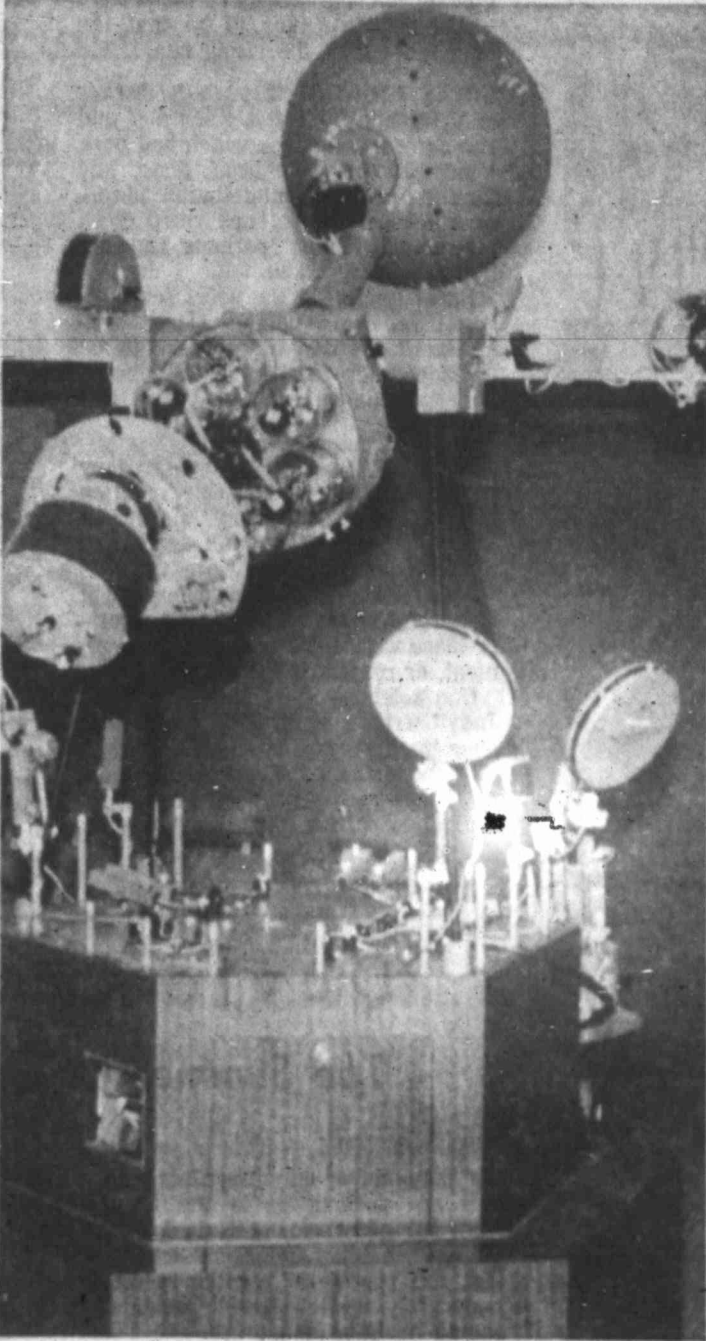

"In addition to our school district, it is also planned that adjacent public schools, parochial schools and the junior college will have access to the center on request," said Smith.

Adult evening sessions will be open to all residents of Howard County on both a fee and non-fee basis, depending on the program offered.

During this first semester of operation, Smith said four daily periods are reserved for the use of the planetarium. Estimating 60 students meeting for each class, the average daily attendance of the planetarium should approach the neighborhood of 240 student hours. Extra sessions for adults, junior college students and public and private groups are not included in the estimate.

NO SPECIAL COURSE

Curriculum will be based on a grade-on-grade approach, presenting consecutive lessons in each grade to avoid repetition and maintain consistency. No special course in descriptive astronomy is planned at any grade level; instead, the center will supplement lesson plans of teachers in a number of subjects directly or indirectly concerned with astronomy or other physical sciences.

Included in a listing of subjects for elementary classes are the earth's position in space and its relationship to other celestial objects, day and night, seasons, the solar system, climates and weather and the earth in orbit. Junior high students will study the history of science, stars and energy, the changing universe, earth reference systems, time, reasons for seasons and the moon and tides. Upon reaching high school level courses, pupils will learn of star chemistry, motion, Kepler's laws, mythology, concepts of geography, physics and the physical sciences.

TEACHER TRAINING

"In-service training for the teachers is planned to reinforce the astronomy and physical geography background of each one in the system," said Sam Anderson, superintendent of schools. From this plan, he hopes team teaching efforts will be formulated so at least one teacher from each subject area

Lamesa Has A New Chief

Alvin R. Cannady has recently begun his duties as superintendent of schools at Lamesa, replacing Abe Holder.

Fifteen other new faces have been added to the teaching staff, but there are still some vacancies to be filled before the school opens its doors Aug. 31.

Positions for eight elementary school teachers, a junior high band director, senior high choral music director, junior high girls' physical education teacher, and a high school French and Spanish teacher, are still available.

The proposed budget for the school year has been set at $1,648,804 with an expected enrollment of 3,500 students. The budget for federal school programs has been tentatively set at $105,000.

Registration will be Aug. 29-30 with classes beginning Aug. 31. Teachers will meet for an in-service training period Aug. 28.

The 147 teachers in the system, along with the administration and special counselors are planning a study program for this year to improve the schools on all levels.

They will consider non-graded elementary school programs stressing independent study and flexible scheduling for junior and senior high schools.

"If the studies show favorable results this year, we may initiate the new programs in the fall, 1968," Cannady said.

Bus routes will be the same as they were last year and will operate the first day of classes. Also the cafeterias will begin serving meals the first day.

'DIVORCE AMERICAN STYLE'
Dick Van Dyke and Debbie Reynolds

Van Dyke Starred In Divorce Comedy

Dick Van Dyke is recognized as one of Hollywood's more solid citizens, a man whose family, church and activities in behalf of youth are of primary importance to him. Naturally, Van Dyke is perfectly cast as the beleaguered husband in "Divorce American Style," now at the Ritz Theatre in Technicolor with Debbie Reynolds, Jason Robards, Jean Simmons and Van Johnson also starred.

"Divorce American Style" is a romantic comedy — about a man going through a painful divorce situation and separation from both his children and his money. He also is the marital target of another divorcee. "Divorce American Style" is based, as Van Dyke points out, on what might normally be a sad or even tragic set of circumstances in the comedy manner most employed by the Chaplin.

Lloyd, Keaton and Laurel and Hardy hits of the past. Dick Van Dyke today is a household name. Star of his own television show, one of the most popular in the history of that medium, he became equally well known to film audiences with his first picture, "Bye Bye Birdie," in which he re-created his equally successful Broadway stage performance. Subsequently, "Mary Poppins" heightened his film fame, and insured his popularity. One of filmdom's most important comedians, Van Dyke also has a background of service in the Air Force, and a record of success in night clubs and radio.

Co-starred in "Divorce American Style" are Joe Flynn, Shelley Berman, Martin Gabel, Lee Grant, Pat Collins and Tom Bosley.

Novel Route For New Art

By NADEANE WALKER
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Pictures that jump out of their frames to become three-dimensional painting-frames that have grown a "foot" so they can sit on the floor for a new perspective: techniques borrowed straight from industry for vacuum-formed pictures in clear and colored plastic.

These are just a few of the novel directions modern art is taking in London.

For a lot of experimental art is being produced here at the moment. With an eager flock of artists breaking new ground in half a dozen directions, two major trends are merging. One of them might be loosely grouped under "art toys," the other turns to technology for effect. But to sell its home-produced, avant-garde art, London galleries have to look to American and other foreign collectors. This is true even at the gallery reputed to sell more modern paintings than any other in England — Waddington's in Cork Street.

Leslie Waddington, the young man who runs it, says, "Business is booming, I'm doing better on middle-brow stuff than ever before — but far worse on avant-garde work. I'm having to compromise, and some of our good young avant-garde painters just won't survive."

Around the corner in New Bond Street is the Kasmin Gallery, surely London's most avant-garde. Director John Kasmin is not compromising; he is not selling, either.

"I don't even bother to price in pounds any more," he says. Kasmin, who includes a dozen American artists in his large stable, insists that "The modern artists are very productive, and there is an enthusiastic audience for their work. But sales to the English are negligible."

Neither Kasmin nor Waddington will advise "investment buying."

Is public taste at fault? Yes, and no, say the gallery directors. As Leslie Waddington puts it, "Those who could afford it have been forced into caution by the government, and younger collectors who would like to buy haven't got the money to spend."

Thanks to a lively export trade, chiefly with America, the experiments go on. Gordon House is one of the pioneers of vacuum-formed or machine-molded pictures, made by the same method as chocolate box trays.

ledge at the bottom. They can be hung (when the ledge becomes a shelf) or stand on the floor.

Artist Richard Smith will shortly be bringing out abstract-shape PVC tents, 12 feet high, as garden sculpture. He seems to be obsessed with adventure playground equipment, for some of his huge triangular works on view at the Kasmin look like children's slides. It is hard to call them paintings, for they are one solid bright color, with a silver chute-ledge cutting diagonally across. Others have just one corner bent over.

Francis Bacon, the current lion of the London art scene, is the painter all the galleries would love to have under contract.

The Marlborough New Art is the lucky gallery, and it has been drawing the crowds for the new Bacon exhibition. A pudgy, pale little man of nocturnal habits, he paints figures that look as if they had been whirled in a centrifuge.

Bacon's stripes — flesh technique strikes a lot of people as unpleasant, which explains a television critic's comment that "thousands of galleries would like to own a Bacon. Maybe a thousand galleries in the world could afford one; but probably not more than 20 directors could get a Bacon purchase by their boards."

Followed a brief career on the New York stage, a hitch in the Army and then his famed production partnership with Burt Lancaster.

Among the pictures produced by this combination were "Vera Cruz," "Marty," "Trapeze," "The Bachelor Party," "Sweet Smell of Success," "Run Silent, Run Deep" and "Take a Giant Step."

Since then, Hecht has produced on his own "Taras Bulba," "Wild and Wonderful," "Flight From Ashiya" and "Cat Ballou."

"The Way West" is one of those prodigies called a multimillion-dollar production. It had to be — it was made practically foot by foot over the famous Oregon Trail west which not only broke the far west open to American settlers but which was for 15 years the very life stream of the continent. The film is Hecht's most ambitious undertaking to date.

'The Way West' To Open At Ritz

Varied is the word for the output of film producer Harold Hecht.

From the unpretentious Academy Award winner "Marty," to the spectacular "Vera Cruz," to the prize-winning "Separate Tables" and the Oscar-winning "Cat Ballou," Hecht's pictures may be said to have run the entire gamut of motion picture production.

He has thus far never tackled large-scale historic spectacle in the heroic manner. But he remedies that in his "The Way West," Panavision and Color by DeLuxe which opens today at the Ritz Theatre.

It's based on the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel by A. B. Guthrie Jr., and it stars Kirk Douglas, Robert Mitchum and Richard Widmark. It co-stars Lola Albright, Michael Witney and Stubby Kaye and, among other things, it introduces two gorgeous newcomers to the screen, Sally Field and Katherine Justice.

Which gives you an idea of its size.

A native of New York's Yorkville section, Harold decided at 16 that his life's work lay in show business. This meant study at the American Laboratory Theatre for five years where, among other things, he learned to dance well enough to appear at the Metropolitan Opera House and with Martha Graham, Mordkin and others. It was as special assistant to his dancing teacher Richard Boleslavsky that he came to Hollywood, where he was mainly in charge of dance routines for many a famous film musical.

Alan Jones' pictures aim at "a new perspective on floors" by incorporating a standing

'FAHRENHEIT 451'
Julie Christie and Oskar Werner

Science Fiction Novel Interpreted On Screen

Combining the talents of the Best Actress Oscar winner, a Best Actor Academy Award nominee with a critically acclaimed "New Wave" director, Ray Bradbury's best-selling novel, "Fahrenheit 451" has been called one of the year's most exciting films. In Technicolor, it opens tonight at the Jet Theatre.

Playing dual roles, one as the wife of fireman Oskar Werner, and another as a school teacher who gets him interested in the books he is ordered to burn, is Julie Christie, awarded the coveted Oscar for her portrayal of the leading character in "Darling," "Fahrenheit 451" marks her fourth motion picture. Before "Darling," she appeared briefly in "Billy Liar," and just prior to her current assignment, she played the part of Lara in "Dr. Zhivago."

Werner, who portrays a fireman in a society of the future in "Fahrenheit 451," has appeared on the European stage and in films for more than 20 years during which time he earned a reputation in the theatre there comparable to that of Laurence Olivier. His role as the doctor in "Ship of Fools," brought him one of five nominations for best actor by members of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. Previously he played the steel-nerved German opposite number to Richard Burton in "The Spy Who Came In From The Cold."

Portraying Werner's superior in "Fahrenheit 451" is Cyril Cusack, himself winner of many awards for acting, who last was seen as Richard Burton's boss in "The Spy Who Came In From The Cold."

Ray Bradbury's book, first published in 1953 and now in its eighth printing, is one of the most successful of the author's 14 books and plays. The title is derived from the temperature at which paper burns and is reduced to ashes.

Francois Truffaut, one of the leaders of the "New Wave" movement of directors, not only directed "Fahrenheit 451" but also collaborated on writing the screenplay. Four years before he started production, he decided he wanted to make a film of the science-fiction thriller and he negotiated with Bradbury for the rights. By now, Truffaut's reputation has been established with such films as "400 Blows," "Jules and Jim" and "Love at Twenty." Bradbury gave him "carte blanche" on the screen adaptation of his story.

The keynote of Truffaut's treatment of what he describes as "a fable set in the electronic age and its society in the future," is realism, engendering audience participation in fear-some, provocative events that could happen anywhere, anytime.

Garden City Dates Fixed

GARDEN CITY — School will begin here at 8:30 a.m. Aug. 28, Supt. Roy Thruston has announced.

A program is being arranged for the assembly of pupils in all grades. Afterwards, the pupils will go to their class rooms for enrollment, assignments and to receive their books.

The buses will operate the first day on regular routes and on the same schedule as last year. The cafeteria will not begin service until Tuesday, Aug. 29. Meal costs will continue at 30 cents for youngsters, grades one through six; 40 cents for those in grades seven through 12. Teachers pay a higher rate.

The district will operate eight buses, one of them a new 16-passenger carry-all.

The staff is intact and has been for several weeks, said Thruston. Teachers will be presented at the opening assembly.

During the summer the school has done considerable work on the plant, reroofing all school buildings, shops, and teacher-ages, painting many units and effecting minor repairs.

Stanton To Try New Experiment

When Stanton schools dismiss for the Christmas holidays, students will not be faced with final exams which are usually scheduled for mid-January.

This year, the school system is experimenting with a new idea — ending the fall semester before the Christmas holidays, and beginning the new one Jan. 2 when the students return.

"This is only a temporary schedule," Russell McMeans, superintendent, said. "If it works, we will operate on the schedule indefinitely, but if it doesn't work as well as the old way, we'll change."

Registration for the expected 900 students will be Aug. 25 and classes will begin Aug. 28. In-service training for teachers will be Aug. 24. First graders are required to bring birth certificates and immunization records during registration.

Included in the 50 members of the faculty are five new teachers. Vaughn Thomas has been employed as the new basketball coach, and J. R. Dillard has been named the new senior high principal. The senior high has also employed Ruth Love, physical education teacher, and Joe Cruse, English teacher. Charles Rhodes has joined the staff of the junior high as coach.

Two vacancies remain to be filled before Aug. 23. They are a librarian and English teacher for the senior high.

The budget for the 1967-68 school year has been tentatively set at $495,819, considerably higher than last year's, McMeans said.

Two new programs have been added to the curriculum for this fall. Biology II has been added in the senior high curriculum and special education has been included in the elementary school.

The five bus routes serving area students will be operating the first day of classes and the schedule has not been changed. Also, the cafeterias will be serving meals Aug. 28.

Coahoma To Add Spanish

Coahoma High School will be including Spanish in its curriculum this fall after dropping it from the program last year, W. A. Wilson, said.

Enrollment expectations — top 1,000 students for the coming year, following a peak enrollment of 993 students in the 1966-67 school year.

Registration has tentatively been set for Aug. 24; all beginning students are required to bring birth certificates and immunization records for registration.

Classes will begin Aug. 29 with in-service training the previous day.

The students will not attend school Labor Day, Sept. 4, and will dismiss for Thanksgiving Nov. 23, 24. The Christmas holidays will begin Dec. 29 following classes and classes will resume Jan. 2.

Buses will run the first day on the same schedule as they did last year, and the cafeteria will be serving lunch the first day of classes. This year, however, credit will not be extended to any student.

Federal Program Funds Reduced For New Year

The allocation for Title I, an education aid program, has been cut for the coming school year.

The program, passed under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, has been funded $100,444 for the Big Spring District. Last year the district received $109,856 for the federal program.

"Because of the cut in the budget, and the teacher salary increase, several aspects of the program have been deleted," Keith Swim, director of special programs, said.

The provisions stricken from the program include a building program, two of three reading groups and some welfare money used for medical and dental expenses.

Title I will provide aid for four area schools. The program was set up to improve health and nutrition through use of a nurse, through medical aid, free lunches, and promote interest in wide reading and improved study habits.

Free lunches for those who qualify will be served to students at Bauer, Cedar Crest, Lakeview and Runnels.

Qualification for free lunches is based on a family income—number of dependents ratio set up by the government.

Last year, $10,000 was allotted for free lunches, and this year $24,000 has been designated for the free lunch program. This represents approximately 25 per cent of the budget, and is another reason some parts of the program have been deleted, Swim said.

Included in this year's program, are: an additional librarian at Cedar Crest, one librarian and three full-time aides for Cedar Crest, Bauer and Lakeview, and a full-time elementary counselor which will be on itinerate program, serving the three elementary schools.

The funds also provide for the salaries and travel expenses of a full-time nurse, full-time counselor, and a part-time director.

C-City Adds 7 Teachers

Approximately 1,725 students will be entering Colorado City schools the first day of classes, Aug. 30.

This estimate is a slight decrease from the peak enrollment figure last year, totalling 1,750.

High school students pre-registered last spring for the fall semester, but final registration for senior students will be Aug. 14. Junior students will register Aug. 15, and sophomore and eighth grade students, Aug. 16. Students who will be in the ninth and seventh grades will register Aug. 17, and Aug. 24-25 will mark the registration dates for new students and elementary students, grades 1-6. First graders are required to present birth certificates and immunization records at registration.

Seven new teachers have been added to the staff. Frank Brownfield will teach vocational agriculture, Ron Anders, junior high physical education and coach; Cullen Roy Davis, Texas history and coach; Mrs. Cullen Roy Davis, first grade; Mrs. June Ellis, speech and hearing therapist; Linda Miller, senior high Spanish; and Katherine Wilson, girls' physical education.

The budget, which has been set at $1,131,000, is tentative, and is based on a school system of 98 teachers.

Cafeterias will be open to students the first day of classes and the 18 bus routes will be in operation the first day. Their schedules have not been changed since last year.
