TOTAL OF 21 Sand Springs To Have A Voting Box

There will be 21 voting boxes in Howard County in 1968.

Box No. 21 will be identified as Sand Springs. The actual voting place is yet to be designated, but it has been suggested that it be located either in the Midway school gym or at one of the churches in the community.

Petition Circulated

Sand Springs citizens, who have been voting at Coahoma, (Pct. No. 9) for years, initiated the effort to have their own voting place. They circulated a petition which was signed by more than 100 residents of the area. This petition was laid before the Howard County Commissioners Court Monday.

The commissioners told the petitioners they were agreeable to the proposal and felt that the request was well founded. However, because the Sand Springs area is in County Commissioner R. C. Nichols' district and because he was out of town, official action was delayed until Aug. 21.

Deadline Date

Last Monday was the official date on which the commissioners are required by law to officially designate the county's voting places for the year ahead. Due to the absence of Nichols, the court recessed its session until next Monday.

Lee Porter, county judge, said that with the exception of the addition of No. 21 to the list of voting precincts, and with the slight correction of lines on another precinct, the voting boxes will probably be kept as they are.

The new Sand Springs voting box will be put in service in elections of 1968. Voters in that area will continue to vote at City Hall in Coahoma the remainder of 1967.

Up To 500 Voters

It is estimated between 400 and 500 voters are residents of the proposed new voting precinct.

Porter said that boundaries for the new box will probably be officially stated at the meeting Monday.

The total registered voters now in the Coahoma precinct is 843. How many voters are involved in the Sand Springs portion of the Coahoma district will have to be determined after the official boundaries are established.

Showers Brush County

The showers that swept the county early today measured only a trace throughout most of the county, however Moss Creek Lake reported a whopping three inches in a brisk fall.

In the same area, Chalk received .61 inch, and Forsan had reports of more than .5 inch at mid-morning.

City Has .11 Inch

Big Spring was on the edge of the heaviest rains, reporting .11 inch at the U.S. Experiment Station and .22 at Texas Electric Service Co. switching station.

Elbow reported .5 inch, and that report concluded the measurable amount of rain in Howard County.

In the northwest corner of the county, the Ackery, Vealmoor, and Knott areas reported no rain at all. Fairview and Vincent reported a trace.

Lomax in the southwest part of the county also received a trace.

Boycott By Farmers?

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The militant National Farmers Organization has given the nation's food processors an ultimatum: Increase prices for farm products or face an all-out market boycott by farmers that could "shut down the agricultural plant of America."

More than 35,000 NFO members shouted their approval of the plan and adopted the slogan, "No prices, no production," at a meeting Wednesday.

No deadline for the desired price boosts was set, but NFO President Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., indicated that the board of directors will not hesitate to order the all-commodity boycott if market conditions fail to improve.

"The NFO is serving notice that farmers can no longer accept the low farm prices we are receiving," he said.

"Every processor has some time to decide whether he wants to pay the prices and sign the purchase contracts or push the American farmer into waging the economic battle we are willing to fight."

Trouble Spot

Helmeted police, armed with nightsticks and tear gas, close off a two-block area in a Negro district of Syracuse Wednesday night after roving bands of Negro teenagers smashed windows and looted stores in scattered parts of the city. A patrolman struck in the head by a thrown object was the only injury reported. Twenty-eight persons were arrested during the seven-hour outbreak in a city that has seen little racial strife. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Roaming Negroes Simmering Down

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—This Central New York State city had its first real racial disturbance Wednesday night and early today.

While the vandalism and looting by roaming bands of motoring Negroes simmered down after the arrest of 30 persons, mostly Negroes, all police leaves were cancelled until further notice, and Mayor William Walsh cut short his own holiday.

POLICE BRUTALITY
Speculation on possible causes of the outbreak ranged from the recent alleged abuse of an 11-year-old Negro girl to assertions of police brutality.

But no official cause was pinpointed. Police said they believed the eruption had not been organized.

The chief action was window-smashing in Negro neighborhoods. A few fires were set, including two that wrecked a dry-cleaning establishment and a two-story, frame home, apparently as a result of gasoline-soaked rags.

The white owner of a sporting goods store reported nine pistols and revolvers, plus ammunition, stolen.

Patrolman Patrick Ahern, struck on the head by a thrown object, was the only person reported injured. He was not hurt seriously, police said.

Police said the vandalism erupted about 10 p.m. when about 50 Negroes crowded into a liquor store near Syracuse University and pulled bottles from shelves and smashed them on the floor.

A Negro reportedly hurled a rock through the store window as they left and others joined in, pelting windows of other stores as they fled.

Police said that when they

Detroit Cop Bound Over

DETROIT (AP)—One of two Detroit policemen charged with first-degree murder in the shooting of two Negro youths during last month's riot was bound over today for trial.

Judge Robert E. DeMascio of Recorder's Criminal Court ruled Patrolman Ronald August must stand trial in the death of Aubrey Pollard, 19.

Patrolman Robert Paille was released.

Paille had been charged in the death of Fred Temple, 18.

Testimony in the three-day preliminary examination of the two white policemen focused on the activities of August at the Algiers Motel the morning of July 26, when three Negro youths were shot to death.

PROBE CONTINUES
The death of Carl Cooper, 17, still is under investigation.

The prosecution could start criminal proceedings against Paille again, Assistant Prosecutor Avery Weiswasser said. He did not indicate if he would seek new charges against Paille.

"I cannot logically conclude that there is any evidence in the record that would support the prosecutor's theory," DeMascio commented.

The prosecuting attorney insisted Wednesday that it was not the function of a pretrial judge to determine whether the evidence was strong enough to try a man, but only to determine if a crime had been committed.

The hearing ended Wednesday following the reading of a statement police said was taken from August six days after the slayings of three Negro youths at the Algiers Motel.

Racial Scene At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON—The House on Wednesday overwhelmingly passed a bill making it a federal crime to harm or interfere with persons trying to exercise their civil rights, and extended the protection to include police and firemen working in riot areas.

NEW ORLEANS — The civil rights march by Louisiana Negroes from Bogalusa to Baton Rouge, beset by increasing violence, marked time today. A. Z. Young, leader of the marchers—who have varied from 6 to 100—said they would do "a little re-planning" before starting out again Friday. State police drove back about 75 whites who attacked the marchers Wednesday at Walker.

ATLANTA, Ga. — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., said in an interview that racial conflict in America is moving toward a critical crossroads of new gains for Negroes or violent insurrection. King, an advocate of non-violent tactics, said he considers his plan for mass civil disobedience a last resort.

Verdict Pending In Shooting Death

Willard Monroe Taylor, 42, a truck driver employed by Turner Bros. of Big Spring, was shot and instantly killed at 4:15 p.m. Wednesday. The shooting occurred at the home of Mrs. Wilma Taylor, former wife of the dead man, who lives on the east edge of Sand Springs.

GUN FOUND
Officers said that Taylor had been shot one time back of the left ear. His body was found on the floor of an entry hall at the house. A .22 calibre pistol was found under the body, with one discharged shell in the cylinder.

Walter Grice, justice of the peace, conducted an inquest but has not officially ruled on the cause of death. Sheriff A. N. Standard, Deputies Lindy Oldfield and Sam Roberts investigated the shooting.

Funeral is set for 10 o'clock Saturday morning in the Nalley-Pickie Rosewood Chapel. Interment will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Sheriff Standard said that Mrs. Taylor told him her former husband came to the house about 4:10 p.m. She said he frequently visited the place to see his children.

Yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Taylor, Mike Taylor, 17, and Debra Taylor, 15, were at the house. Two younger sons, Douglas and David, were at a neighbors house. Mike was asleep, Mrs. Taylor said, and she and Debra were in the living room of the house.

SHORT VISIT
She told the sheriff her husband stayed only a few minutes. He said she told her he intended to kill himself, but Standard said the woman told him Taylor had often made such threats and that she did not pay any attention.

He stepped out of the living room, Mrs. Taylor told officers, into the entry hall. He was not in sight of Mrs. Taylor or Debra when they heard a shot. They found the body on the floor, half inside the hall and half outside on the porch.

Mr. Taylor was born Dec. 6, 1924 in Henderson County and came to Big Spring from Henderson County in 1941.

SURVIVORS
He is survived by his former wife, Mrs. Wilma Taylor, Sand Springs; four sons, Mike Darrell Taylor, Douglas Brian Taylor, Scott Taylor and David Kent Taylor, all of Sand Springs; one daughter, Debra Sue Taylor, Sand Springs; his mother, Mrs. Julia Taylor, Big Spring; three brothers, Elmo Taylor, Big Spring, Woodrow Taylor, Las Vegas, Nev., E. J. Taylor, Marietta, Ohio, a half-brother, Albert Grant, Big Spring; two sisters, Mrs. Lucille Hamilton, Vallejo, Calif., Mrs. Bob Custer, Big Spring.

Current Texas Oil Allowable Not Increased

Alaska's Flood Toll Increasing

Chairman Says Crude Stocks Rise Sharply

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — The brown flood waters of the Chena River receded today, but at a pace so slow that the city's 15,000 evacuees were not expected to begin returning to their damaged homes and businesses before Saturday. Only a tiny fraction of them carried flood insurance, officials said.

The bodies of four more victims were found Wednesday, disaster headquarters and state police reported, bringing Alaska's flood death total to seven. Two bodies were discovered in the city and two more in Tok, a river community on the Alaska Highway.

CHILD DIES
Police conducting a house-to-house search earlier reported three deaths including that of a young child.

The victims were not identified and the cause of death was not given.

About 95 per cent of Fairbanks' buildings were affected by the flood, but an insurance executive estimated just two per cent of the community's property owners had flood insurance. The situation prompted calls for immediate federal rehabilitation funds and low cost loans to businessmen and homeowners.

$200 MILLION
"It's much more than I expected it to be," said Creath Tooley, western regional director of the President's Office of Emergency Planning, who toured the city of 30,000 by boat and helicopter Wednesday.

"You just don't expect to see a town inundated such as this."

Damage was placed at about $200 million.

Gov. Walter Hickel, calling for Fairbanks to be designated a federal disaster area, said he thought Saturday would be the earliest time residents could return to their homes—if rain holds off.

CLOUDY SKIES
Cloudy skies settled a love the city today and the Weather Bureau forecast a few light showers. "If those clouds drop more rain we could be right back in trouble," said Mayor H. A. Boucher.

The danger of uncontrolled fire, which had officials on edge Wednesday after five buildings burned in the downtown area, tapered off with no additional fires reported today.

The Chena, sent on a rampage by more than 5 1/2 inches of rain during four days, was down about six inches from Tuesday's high point when up to nine feet of muddy water rushed into the business district.

At peak flow, Geological Survey engineers said, the river was pouring through Fairbanks at a rate of 15-billion gallons a day—enough to supply the city of New York with water for about two weeks.

AID PLEA
Hickel, with Tooley at his side, told newsmen that state and local governments were nearing the limits of their financial ability to cope with the disaster.

"I would think," Hickel said, "that under the circumstances it would be only natural for federal aid to be forthcoming."

Hickel and Boucher both stressed the need for a quick and massive effort to complete reconstruction and repair before the arrival of winter weather, in which temperatures of 40 below zero have been recorded here.

DEEP IN DEBT
Hickel said he had given some consideration to a special session of the legislature to meet problems of the disaster, but he said no decision had been made as yet.

"If we find it necessary to call the legislature into special session to meet the situation here, we wouldn't hesitate to call one," Hickel said.

One of the hardest-hit areas embraced the site of the Alaska-67 exposition, showplace of Alaska's purchase centennial this year.

A-67, deep in debt from higher than expected construction costs and lagging attendance, was virtually covered by flood waters. Only a few high spots on the 42-acre exposition grounds escaped the torrents of dirty water.

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission set the September oil production allowable factor at 54 per cent of potential, the same as August.

The September percentage figure will permit maximum production of 4,075,231 barrels daily, the same as the current allowable.

WELLS PUMPING
Commission Chairman Jim Langdon said crude oil stocks in the nation have risen sharply in the past three or four days, eliminating any need to further increase the allowable.

"What's happening is there is a time lag in response to increased allowables," Langdon told newsmen. "Wells have really been responding in the past few days."

Announcement of the September allowable factor followed a 20-minute speech by Elmer Patman of the Superior Oil Co., who made the same argument he did at the July hearing: 2.5 million barrels a day of the allowable are "paper allowable." The industry is "under producing" by 30 per cent, he said, and it cannot do better.

Patman said the American people did not know that this country is dependent on foreign oil.

IMPORTS
"What's wrong with telling the people that except for imports into this country, there would be gasoline rationing in 30 days? What's wrong with telling the truth?" Patman said.

Not all of this country's oil has been found, Patman said, although there may not be any giant fields yet undiscovered.

The Bureau of Mines forecast of September demand for Texas crude was 3,525,000 barrels a day, up 25,000 from August demand. Nominations from major oil purchasers totaled 3,406,541 barrels a day, an increase of 383,941 over August.

TOP BUYERS
The allowable factor rose from 33.8 per cent in May to 55.9 in June, 42.9 in July and 54 in August.

Major purchasers' nominations for September, in percentage of potential and barrels per day:

54.0—Atlantic Richfield Co., 100,000.
50.0—Pure Oil Co., 66,330.
48.0—Sun Oil Co., 132,778.
45.0—Gulf Oil Corp., 230,800.

Other major purchasers, who did not set a percentage factor on their nominations, expressed their nominations in barrels per day only. They were:

Humble Oil and Refining Co., 695,000; Mobil Oil Corp., 316,500; Pan American Petroleum Corp., 305,000; Texaco, 250,000; Shell Oil Co., 158,500; Phillips Petroleum Co., 127,500; Sinclair Refining Co., 117,500; Standard Oil Co. of Texas, 57,500; Cities Service Oil Co., 50,000; Continental Oil Co., 41,000.

Coast Guard Rescues Two

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Coast Guard said today two men have been rescued and the body of a third has been found in the search for seven men missing in two separate helicopter crashes in the Gulf of Mexico.

The accidents occurred within 100 miles of each other in bad weather Tuesday and Wednesday.

The coast guard identified those rescued as Wayne Eharb, 25, of Noble, La., a passenger, and Davis Aylsworth, pilot, of a Petroleum Helicopters Inc. aircraft. Their condition was not known.

A short time later, a Coast Guard amphibian plane from Mobile spotted a body in the water near the spot where the survivors were rescued and notified the cutter Point Lookout which retrieved the body.

FIVE VOCATIONAL SHOPS

Students Learn By Doing

By REBECCA STARK
Learning to do by doing is the aim of five vocational training shops entering their second year in new quarters at Big Spring Senior High School. Four of them — commonly called the "day trades" — including building trades, metal trades, auto mechanics and electrical trades. The fifth, vocational agriculture, operates on a similar program.

Construction of the north wing to the high school plant and addition of new equipment in the shops cost $467,716, half of which is refunded with state money and the remainder charged to the bond funds.

The "day trades" courses run two years with three hours of classwork daily for an average class of 15-20 students, according to John Smith, high school principal. A boy can learn skills useful in industry and obtaining a job if college is not included in future plans. The program is three years old, first started in the Center Point School three years ago.

Students work on faculty and student cars, for cost plus 30 per cent on parts. No charge is made for labor. If outside work is done for others, list price is charged, according to Mathis. The shop is operated on a $300 budget.

Leon Taylor, metal trades instructor, estimates that $55,000 in equipment is housed in the shop — the most expensively furnished of the five. The department operated on a $1,400 budget last year. Designed to cover three areas of metal work, two are presently taught — machine shop and welding. "Eventually we hope to go into sheet metal work," said Taylor.

Some of the more interesting and time consuming work is done by building trades starting to John Smith, high school principal. A boy can learn skills useful in industry and obtaining a job if college is not included in future plans. The program is three years old, first started in the Center Point School three years ago.

Students registered for metal trades are required to obtain an accident policy, available to students for $5, according to Smith.

Don Crockett, school district business manager, explained that the shop had a $4,000 budget, yet had never used it because the students had worked on construction for the school. Only $255 was spent last year for job materials. Should students build a house for this year's project, Crockett said it would be sold when completed to reimburse depleted funds.

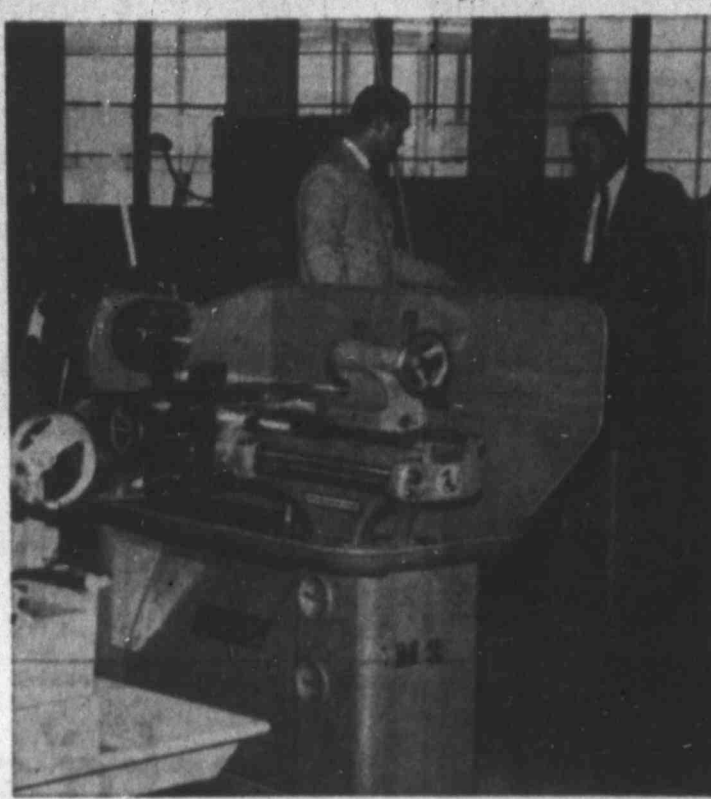

Taking a full - size motor apart and putting it back together again is no game for the boys will usually show a little profit.

"In agriculture we're not trying to put every student back on the farm and ranch, which would be impossible, but attempting to prepare the kids to go into one of the related fields," he said. Land furnished by the Texas Electric Service Company is the site of a school feeding barn which students may use to care for their home project.

Liability insurance is furnished by the Chamber of Commerce, the school maintains water and electricity bills and the boys keep the facilities in repair in lieu of rent, according to Vines. The program operates on a $300 budget.

Washing machines, audio visual equipment and appliances from small to large are repaired in the electrical appliance shop, said instructor E. Y.

Buckner. Some work for the public and businesses is done, although repairing school equipment accounts for the majority of work. A $300 budget is allowed the class.

Classroom lectures, woodwork and welding instruction, supervised home projects and field trips typify the vocational agriculture course, says Truett Vines, instructor.

"As far as shop work is concerned, we stick to the practical application. Anything that can be used on the ranch or farm made from wood — other than cabinet work — can be made here," said Vines. The home project each boy is in charge of is financed by the individual, although Vines said

Meat Imports Drop Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Declines in meat imports during recent weeks are lessening the pressures for congressional action to clamp a tighter lid on competitive foreign supplies.

Several bills have been introduced in Congress to allow less meat to come in than under present law. They have been supported by a number of livestock organizations, but opposed by some meat processors.

Latest figures show imports of meat subject to possible controls declined 31 per cent in June from the same month a year ago. This reversed an earlier trend which showed imports during the January-May period were up 11 per cent from a year earlier.

As a consequence, total imports for the first half of this year were virtually unchanged from the year earlier level of 377 million pounds. Undoubtedly, low cattle prices in this country have discouraged imports.

Under existing law, imports of meats subject to controls would have to reach 995 million pounds this year before import quotas could be established. Agriculture Department officials now expect imports for the full year to be no higher than last year's 824 million pounds.

Civil Rights Bill Sails To Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has overwhelmingly passed a bill making it a federal crime to harm or interfere with persons trying to exercise their civil rights, and extended the protection to include police and firemen working in riot areas.

But the bill, largely the same as a portion of the 1966 civil rights bill which died in the Senate, may be killed there again.

POLICE PROTECTION
The amendment providing federal protection for police and firemen was supported by members angered by this summer's city riots, in which several police officers and firefighters were injured. Some were killed.

But the bill, largely the same as a portion of the 1966 civil rights bill which died in the Senate, may face a similar fate.

ZERO CHANCE
Senate sources rated the bill's chances of clearing the full Judiciary Committee as zero. They said an attempt might be made to bypass the committee and put the House-passed version on the floor for debate, but forecast a Southern filibuster if that tactic was used.

In the House, a majority of both parties supported the bill, which sailed through Wednesday 328 to 93 after a series of relatively minor amendments were adopted and two major ones were turned back.

VOTE ACTION
The bill would make it a federal crime for a person to interfere with, injure or intimidate, or threaten to injure or intimidate anyone because of his race, color, religion, national origin or political affiliation and because he is or has been engaging in certain protected activities.

These include voting, attending public schools, using public accommodations and public facilities, serving on state and local juries and participating in federally assisted programs.

Penalties would be up to one year and a $1,000 fine, except that serious bodily injury could bring up to 10 years and $10,000 and death could result in life imprisonment.

LETTER READ
The most serious limitation adopted to the civil rights bill appeared to be one proposed by the Justice Department and offered by Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee.

It requires that the punishable acts must be committed both because of race, color, religion, political affiliation or national origin and because the victim is or has been engaging in the protected activities.

DON CROCKETT INSPECTS TRIBUTE TO HIS FAMOUS COUSIN
Big Spring man is related to noted Davy Crockett, hero of the Alamo. Inset shows enlarged picture of the stamp which goes on sale here on Friday.

Davy Crockett, With Kin Here, Appears On Stamp

By SAM BLACKBURN
Not everyone is fortunate enough to have a cousin of sufficient historic importance to impel the U.S. Post Office Department to issue a special 5-cent commemorative stamp to mark that cousin's 151st birthday.

So it is quite natural that Don Crockett, business manager of the Big Spring Independent School District, finds such a matter of interest and gets a sort of cousinly kick out of admiring advance copies of the commemorative stamp. The stamp honors Davy Crockett.

SIXTH COUSIN
"My folk checked out the family tree," said Don. "They found that David Crockett is my sixth cousin."

Don added that if any of his immediate kin ever met the celebrated frontiersman it could have been his great grandfather. The Don Crockett forebears were Tennesseans, just like the redoubtable Davy, but after all, it's been 131 years since that bloody March 6 when Davy perished at the Alamo massacre.

Nevertheless, the Post Office Department is issuing a special five-cent commemorative stamp to celebrate Davy's 151st birthday. The new stamp, appropriately, was placed on sale first in San Antonio today—the site of the Alamo where Crockett perished.

Tomorrow — Friday — you can buy the stamps at the Big Spring Post office. The office has 20,000 copies on hand, according to Frank Hardesty, postmaster, and if the supply runs short, it can be replenished limitlessly.

10 MILLION
The post office department printed 10,000,000 copies of the stamp.

The stamp shows Davy with his long barreled rifle, "Old Betsy" of his arm. He stands before a background of pines. Davy is clad in traditional fringed buckskin and wears his storied coonskin cap. The stamp is printed in black and green and bears the legend "United States 5c postage Davy Crockett."

Davy came to Texas just in time to get himself killed at the Alamo. He arrived in February of 1836, and the massacre by the Mexicans under Santa Anna took his and the lives of the other Alamo defenders on March 6. Davy was right at 50 years old at the time, which was a right peart age for a frontiersman.

Don said that the earliest member of his branch of the Crockett family to come to Texas was a great uncle, W. B. Crockett, who showed up in Mitchell County in the early 1880's. This man became a leader in the area. He served as a county judge of Mitchell County, and also was in the legislature. If any of Don's ancestors had a nodding acquaintance with the great Davy, before he headed west, it was possibly W. B. Crockett's father.

ONE OTHER
There is only one other Crockett family in the city according to the telephone directory.

This is the Clayton A. Crockett's of 2007 Morrison. This Crockett is a truck driver for Steere Freight lines. Mrs. Crockett said that her husband was also a distant cousin of the famous frontiersman, but she was not certain how close or how remote the kinship was. Crockett was out of town. However, she said, he was interested in the tribute being paid the late Davy.

If the Clayton A. Crocketts and the Donald E. Crocketts, are related, neither family knows just how. Collectors are expected to give the post office a brisk rush when the new stamps appear.

They have especial historic and sentimental value to Texans, because of the role Davy played in the Texas War of Independence in 1836.

Factory Exec Dies

OAK BROOK, Ill. (AP) — Maurice O. Gillett, 56, vice president and factory manager of the spring division of Borg-Warner Corp., died Wednesday.

Congressman Raps Rat Law Backers

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Negro congressman told an angry Harlem delegation—visiting Capitol Hill to demand a rat eradication law—to transform its frustrations into political action.

"I'm as sick and tired of this crap as anyone," Rep. John Conyers Jr., D-Mich., told the group from New York City's Negro slum section Wednesday.

BILL SIDETRACKED
"I know you're mad at everyone including me and that's your privilege—but it's about time that black, mad, angry, frustrated America begins to turn this into some political channels," Conyers added.

The Harlem group joined another from the Brownsville section of Brooklyn to meet informally Wednesday with some New York City congressmen and Conyers to demand reversal of House action that sidetracked the $40 million, administration-backed rat control program.

RACIAL UNREST
Chief spokesman for the 80-member delegation was Jesse Gray, a trim, articulate Negro.

Gray, asserting that rats in slum homes are one of the root causes of racial unrest, said: "If Congress can't address itself to killing rats we're in a sad sack it, this nation."

Rep. Frank J. Brasco, the Brooklyn Democrat who arranged the meeting and who intervened on at least two occasions to soothe tense situations, said the House action was supported by Southern Democrats and by 79 per cent of the Republican membership.

Gray was chief catalyst of an Aug. 7 demonstration by a Harlem group in the House chamber in protest of that body's refusal to consider the rat control bill. The demonstrators ended by tangling with Capitol Hill police.

RAT FIGURES
"Once you start killing rats," he told the congressmen, "you'll get into the rotten buildings and see for yourself what causes riots."

Meanwhile Wednesday, the Department of Housing and Urban Development said about 14,000 persons are bitten annually by rats in nine of the nation's largest cities.

Undersecretary Robert C. Wood wrote Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, that "23 per cent of rat bites occur on the head—and that a very large percentage of those bitten are babies lying in their cribs."

Gross had asked President Johnson to cite figures backing up his claim that thousands of children are bitten and disfigured by rats each year.

PRISON LIFE RESPITE

Wives Or Fiancese Join Cons At Camp

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Sweden is experimenting with vacations for prisoners. This is part of a liberal correctional system which authorities believe is the right road despite escapes and repeaters.

"Our purpose is to try to make them better citizens, to socialize them," says Clas Amilon, director at the National Correctional Administration.

Following this concept, nine prisoners spent three weeks this summer at a camp where they were allowed to play badminton, row on the lake or wander down to the nearby village for a pack of cigarettes. Their wives or fiancées could live with them at the camp.

SHORT SENTENCES

Amilon was happy with the results and looks forward to more vacations for more prisoners.

Vacations aren't the only form of respite from prison life. Two-day furloughs are permitted on a liberal basis. A prisoner usually becomes eligible after serving 10 months of his term. Most prisoners never reach the 10-month period. During 1966 one-third of the 9,641 convicts admitted served sentences under two months.

On occasion the sentences are short by the standards of other countries. A 29-year-old man with a previous record of assault and robbery was recently sentenced to 16 months for an assault that led to the victim's death.

"OPEN" INSTITUTIONS

Work is fundamental to the Swedish prison system. Some prisoners are housed in "open" institutions.

"An open institution," explains Amilon, "is an institution without walls, from which you can escape if you want. There are guards but they are unarmed. The escape possibilities are numerous."

Despite all the liberality the escape rate in 1966 was 9.2 per cent, but a large number of these were prisoners who did not return from furloughs, or returned late.

Special research is being done on this question, Amilon said, and research is needed on the problem of recidivism—those convicted a second time.

Most North-South partnerships reached a slam contract when the above hand was dealt in a recent tournament. The success or failure of their endeavor usually hinged on which player became the declarer.

The maximum North-South result was obtained at the table where the bidding proceeded as described in the above diagram. North opened the bidding with one no trump, and South made a game forcing jump response of three spades. When his partner raised to game, South made a move toward slam by cue bidding the ace of diamonds. Observe that his bidding had an original valuation of 15 points. After the suit is supported, the hand revalues to 18 points, counting one point for the fifth spade and two for the sixth.

North's call of five no trump was well chosen. By carrying the level past five spades, he is accepting the invitation and thereby committing the hand to slam. His rebid of no trump suggests the desirability of making North the declarer, to protect his hand from being led thru. South, holding three worthless hearts, was alerted to the potential danger in leaving West on opening lead, and he proceeded to six no trump.

East was unable to attack the hearts without establishing North's king and since the latter had 12 top tricks in the other three suits, the no trump slam was easily fulfilled. At the tables where North and South bid six spades, an opening heart lead enabled the defenders to cash out the first three tricks.

At one table, where North and South stopped at four spades, even this modest game undertaking proved to be beyond their means. West opened the ten of hearts and held the first trick when dummy played the deuce and East followed with the six. The eight of hearts was led next and South made the unfortunate choice of putting up North's king. East played the ace and continued the suit. West overtaking the jack with the queen. A fourth round of hearts now supplied the finishing touch, for East ruffed in with the ten of spades to force out declarer's queen, and thereby establish a trump trick for West.

RATTLESNAKE VICTIM ON ROAD TO RECOVERY. Tricia Jackson, 8, probably owes life to her mother's prompt action

Hasty Action Probably Saves Little Girl's Life

By SAM BLACKBURN
A tourniquet properly and promptly applied by a mother who did not panic in the face of a terrifying experience, and prompt delivery of 8-year-old Tricia Jackson to the Cooper Hospital and Clinic has saved the little girl much suffering — and possibly her life.

Tricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wayne Jackson Sr., was bitten on the right ankle late Monday afternoon by a 3-foot rattlesnake. Today she is on her way to recovery from her injury.

"My leg hurts," is all that little Tricia has to say about her mishap. The foot and ankle are not as badly swollen as is often the case in snake bites. She is being given anti-venom serum and while she is in considerable distress for a while, she was doing well Thursday, her doctor said.

Dear Abby She's A Little Late

DEAR ABBY: I am 58. My husband is 71 and retired. We have been married for 26 years. He has always been a kind and generous man, but Abby, I know that what I feel in my heart for him is pity, gratitude, and habit — not true love.

We have very little in common. I am a college graduate and former school teacher while he never went beyond fifth grade in grammar school. His only interests are home-cooked meals, sports and shoot'em-up westerns on television. He is so childish and dull.

Living with him underfoot all day is getting to be more than I can tolerate. We have no children who survived beyond infancy. I am lonely, bored and frustrated.

Would you advise divorce this late in life? He has money, and I know I could get a good settlement. No name or city, please. I'm sure he doesn't know what's in my mind.

"MRS. X"

DEAR MRS. X: After 26 years of marriage to this "kind and generous man" I think he is deserving of more loyalty and consideration than you exhibit. And what makes you, at 58, think all you have to do is divorce him and your life would be transformed into an exciting, gay, and fulfilling one? You supply the answers. But be honest with yourself, then act accordingly.

Industrial Output Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The output of the nation's mines, mills and factories increased during July for the first time in seven months, the Federal Reserve board said Wednesday.

Its index of industrial production rose one full point, the Board said, to a July level of 156.3 per cent of the 1957-59 base. The gain followed five declines within the last six months. The index remained stable during March.

The upturn, indicating renewed economic activity, could provide added strength to the administration's arguments for a 10 per cent tax surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes.

The index had been a major weak link among the economic indicators the administration hoped to cite to prove its prediction of a strong economic advance during the second half of this year.

Science And You

Air Traffic Safety

—By DR. LEONARD REIFFEL

Everybody is aware of the increasing tempo of air travel in the United States and, for that matter, everywhere in the world. We're building more and more airports. Many of them are flying commercial routes, but there are also more small planes — private planes and those operated by industrial corporations.

Airplane traffic is bound to increase as our population increases and, by the 1980's, could become extremely dense. Unfortunately, the more planes there are the greater are the chances for mid-air collisions. And the chance of collision goes up much faster than the increase in the number of planes flying.

The heavy air traffic of the future also means other potential complications. Present-day gate and air traffic facilities will be badly overtaxed almost everywhere. This is, in fact, one of several arguments in favor of building the Jumbo Jets which are now being planned and which can hold up to nearly 1,000 passengers. With such huge planes, fewer will be needed. Congestion, both at airports and en route, will be reduced.

But even with jumbo planes to cut down on the number of flights, more must be done. Electronic traffic systems, for instance, will have to be developed, and there is a clear need for some kind of collision avoidance system to be carried within the planes themselves. Versions of such systems at ready exist. One type is built into a cubic foot of electronics and has already demonstrated its life-saving qualities in experiments. The device keeps a continuous electronic watch for danger in all directions. If another suitably-equipped airplane is within 60 seconds flying time, or 1 1/2 miles, and is approaching on a near-collision course, a beeper suddenly goes off in the pilot's compartment of both airplanes. A simple indicator then tells each pilot precisely which way to go: up, down, or hold a level course. This avoids the possibility that both pilots might move in the same direction and avoid one collision only to get into another.

The big problem with such systems is cost. If they can be made economically enough they will surely begin to show up not only in commercial aircraft but also in private airplanes.

Obviously, it's in everyone's best interest that superb methods for collision avoidance be developed. Consider just one example of the catastrophic dimensions of an aircraft collision: the Grand Canyon accident that killed 128 persons in 1960. Not only were many lives lost, but that one collision is still in the courts and more than $100 million in claims have been paid. It's quite clear that there is real justification, economic and otherwise, for investing money in research on electronic safety systems for today and tomorrow.

2-AAAA's Coaching Fraternity

Pictured here are the head football coaches of the eight schools in District 2-AAAA, who gathered at the Big Spring Country Club Wednesday for the annual summer session of the executive committee.

Cage Schedule Could Be Divided In 1968

A mail vote will be taken among principals in District 2-AAAA schools to determine if conference basketball teams will play a split season in 1968 for the purpose of determining a champion and a playoff representative.

Cage Play In 2-4A Won't Begin Until January 2

The 1967-68 District 2-AAAA basketball schedule will differ from last year's program to the extent that the clubs will wait until after the Christmas holidays to begin their league wars and the games that ordinarily would lead off first and second round play will be tacked onto the ends of the round-robins.

Bishops Urge Bombing Halt

By The Associated Press

Four Roman Catholic bishops have urged that the United States abandon its bombing of North Vietnam and name a time and a place for peace negotiations with all parties including the Viet Cong.

The appeal, which endorsed the national Negotiation Now! campaign also called for support of internationally supervised free elections in South Vietnam, and reaffirmation of a U.S. offer of a billion-dollar economic development program through the United Nations.

Announcing their support for the program Wednesday were the Most Rev. Paul J. Hallinan, archbishop of Atlanta, Ga.; the Most Rev. John J. Dougherty, president of Seton Hall University, South Orange, N.J.; the Most Rev. Victor J. Reed, bishop of the Oklahoma City-Tulsa, Okla. Diocese, and the Most Rev. James P. Shannon, auxiliary bishop of St. Paul, Minn.

KIDNAPING MISTAKE? Second Thoughts About Tshombe

ALGIERS (AP) — Both the Algerian and Congolese governments seem to be having second thoughts about extraditing Moise Tshombe to the Congo to face the death penalty.

Algeria's Col. Houari Boumedienne is in no hurry to hand Tshombe over to Congo President Joseph D. Mobutu despite the Algerian Supreme Court's July 21 decision recommending extradition.

Tshombe, 47, former Katanga separatist leader, and former premier of the Congo, was kidnapped on a flight over the Mediterranean and brought to Algeria June 30. He had been convicted in absentia of treason and conspiracy against the Mobutu regime.

Algerian officials and the government-controlled press have repeatedly hinted that the Boumedienne government may set up an international revolutionary tribunal to try Tshombe in Algeria for "crimes against Africa."

These hints imply that Algeria does not regard the Mobutu regime as sufficiently revolutionary to be trusted to deal with Tshombe in true revolutionary fashion.

BIG RISK

Once Tshombe is extradited, Algeria would no longer have any control over what happens to him. A free pardon pronounced following his extradition would be regarded as a grave offense to Algeria's revolutionary dignity—a risk President Boumedienne may not be willing to take.

Diplomatic sources said Mobutu has refused to make the political concessions which might have persuaded Algeria to extradite Tshombe without delay.

Such concessions reportedly included a Congolese break with Israel, a disengagement from U.S. influence and an amnesty for Congolese leftist leaders in exile, including Antoine Gizenga, head of the short-lived Congolese People's Republic in Stanleyville, now Kisangani.

Mobutu's refusal was apparently delivered to the Algerians late in July. Since then, the attitude of both governments has undergone a noticeable change.

Diplomatic sources said Mobutu now recognizes that Tshombe's kidnaping was a political mistake.

In his first reaction to Tshombe's capture, Mobutu believed the former premier would be handed over to him within hours. He told diplomats he intended to have Tshombe executed quickly and without further trial—but not in public.

Diplomatic sources in Kinshasa says Mobutu now realizes that an execution of Tshombe—who still has a substantial following—could create more problems than it would solve.

The course the Algerians seem likely to take is to keep Tshombe locked up in some secret place almost indefinitely—like ex-President Ahmed ben Bella, held without trial or charge since he was overthrown in a military coup led by Boumedienne more than two years ago.

Showers Play Tag In Texas

By The Associated Press

Severe thunderstorms drenched the Port Arthur area with 3 inches of rain and caused numerous power disruptions early today as scattered rains continued to dot Texas.

Lightning caused brief power blackouts in several cities and suburbs around Port Arthur but there were no reports of wind or flood damage.

Scattered storms in Central and North Texas brought welcome moisture to a number of points. East Sweden had 2.50 inches, Seymour 1.93, an area northeast of Brady 1.60, Noodle 1.30, Rotan 1 inch, and lesser amounts at a number of other cities and towns.

Among the points receiving additional rain was Freeport, which was drenched by a 4-inch downpour only the day before.

Radar indicated the mass of showers extended 40 miles offshore into the Gulf of Mexico and was pushing inland.

There also were quite a few small showers in the area between Amarillo and Lubbock, and from east of Midland to near Big Spring and San Angelo.

Most points, however, received hardly enough rain to measure.

Early morning temperatures sagged to 57 degrees at Dalhart, 61 at Amarillo and 64 at Lubbock. At the same hour the mercury stood at 79 in Corpus Christi and 80 in Brownsville.

These readings compared with top marks Wednesday afternoon of 99 at Cotulla, 98 at Alice and McAllen and 97 at Del Rio, Laredo and Wichita Falls.

Aside from a little warming due the Panhandle, forecasts called for little change anywhere in the state.

Mt. Etna Erupts After Earth Shocks

MESSINA, Sicily (AP) — Mt. Etna burst into a new eruption today 24 hours after 37 earth shocks were registered in this nearby city which was destroyed in 1908 by an earthquake.

Molten rock was fired hundreds of feet into the air in the new eruption. Lava began pouring from a vent on the volcano's northeast slope where there have been frequent eruptions during the past two years.

LAUGHING MATTER

SPEED CHECKED BY RADAR

"It's a state law. You have to keep your mouth shut so that the radar can operate."

Suits Slow Land Deal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The proposed acquisition of Kern County Land Co. in California by Tenneco, Inc., of Houston now has been bracketed by both state and federal lawsuits.

George Conley and Wayne Peters of Midland, Tex., and the CMC Corp. of Delaware sued in U.S. District Court here Wednesday seeking $105 million damages. The same plaintiffs earlier obtained from Texas District Judge Perry Pickett at Midland Aug. 8 a temporary restraining order blocking the proposed $500 million merger.

Pickett had scheduled arguments today on whether to make the temporary order permanent.

Conley and Peters each own 200 shares of Kern stock. CMC owns 1,000. They allege that Kern County Land Co. directors, in proposing the merger, did not disclose all the facts to stockholders.

Their lawyer, Charles Moore, said the plaintiffs arrived at the $108 million figure by multiplying the number of KCL shares by $35.

The value of Kern's holdings never has been disclosed, he said, but a recent survey made for the company showed its land was valued at $140 for each two-fifths of an acre, the amount of land represented by each share of stock.

Hearings Could Develop Into A Flank Attack On Vietnam Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate hearings on the proper role of Congress and the White House in foreign affairs could develop into a flank attack on U.S. policy in Vietnam.

Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach defends the Johnson administration against assertions it has overstepped its constitutional role in directing foreign policy.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., denied he intended his Senate Foreign Relations Committee's hearings to become a forum in which to press his long-time opposition to Vietnam question of congressional authority in world affairs.

POLICY PAPER

He said the United States might not have intervened in Vietnam had congressional approval been required at the outset.

The State Department already has issued a policy paper declaring President Johnson has both constitutional and legislative authorization for the steps he has ordered in Vietnam.

It says the President, as Commander in Chief, has constitutional power to deploy American forces, and reports this has been done at least 125 times in U.S. history without declarations of war.

It also cites the so-called Gulf of Tonkin Resolution adopted by Congress on Aug. 7, 1964, approving and supporting Johnson's measures to repel armed attack on U.S. forces and to prevent further aggression.

But historian Ruhl J. Bartlett of Tufts University told the Foreign Relations Committee Wednesday the President has no authority to send U.S. troops abroad without the approval of Congress.

He criticized the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution as a vaguely worded grant of broad powers.

Bartlett said it could be read as congressional authorization for almost any step in the Vietnam area, including an invasion of Communist China "to prevent further aggression."

YARBOROUGH WORRIED

On the Senate floor, Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., said he was worried about published hints of a possible invasion of North Vietnam.

"This step is where I get off," said Yarborough, who has not criticized administration policy.

"Any land invasion of North Vietnam would be in my opinion an utterly indefensible step. It would be escalation gone mad."

Chairman Earle G. Wheeler of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told the Senate preparedness subcommittee that U.S. aims in Vietnam do not include the conquest of the North.

"Moreover, an expansion of the war—geographically or in number of participants—is considered contrary to United States interest," Gen. Wheeler said. President Johnson recently approved addition of 45,000 to 50,000 men to U.S. troop strength in Vietnam by next year.

SAVING LIVES

Wheeler said U.S. bombing of the Communist North "is achieving its objectives and is saving American and allied lives in South Vietnam."

Johnson cracked back Wednesday at one criticism by some of his Vietnam policy foes. He declared his confidence in the effort to hold free elections in South Vietnam and said "this effort ought to be welcomed and encouraged."

Some critics have attacked the way the ruling South Vietnamese military has administered the elections.

Johnson said the military leaders have pledged to support the outcome of the elections and added: "I take that pledge most seriously." He spoke at a ceremony honoring five U.S. government employees for service in Vietnam.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Yard Table Makes Breakfast Dinette

Dear Heloise:

We needed a breakfast dinette set, but couldn't decide what style to buy until my husband came up with this idea:

A redwood picnic set! They can be bought in many sizes and shapes, but we settled for a round table with an umbrella hole in the middle, and four curved benches.

We put three coats of a good mar-proof varnish on it which made it almost indestructible, and also toned down the color of the wood.

But listen to this part! He put a plug (which stands about two inches above the table top) — in the umbrella hole — and mounted a turntable on it. This made a nice Lazy Susan for condiments, napkins holders, etc.

Wasn't my husband a brain? This idea could also be adapted to color schemes by putting laminated plastic on the table top, but we preferred the natural look of the wood.

And by the way, I was so excited about letting you know about this idea, I neglected to mention that this was very inexpensive.

Besides, if we tire of it, we can just move it outdoors...

Kathryn Martin

Dear Heloise: I have a suggestion for mothers who have difficulty removing fruit stains from their children's clothing:

Immediately stretch the stained spot over a bowl and pour boiling water through the stain. Do this BEFORE you have tried any other method.

This process has removed all types of fruit stains from me for more years than I care to admit. Janet Curtis

Dear Heloise: I put foot powder in my shoes and when I tried shaking it from the can, I always ended up getting some on the outside of the shoe and some on the floor, making an extra clean-up job for me.

Today I had the idea of putting the powder in a little plastic squirt bottle.

Now all I have to do is just squirt a little in each shoe. Works much better than the can with all those holes because that squirt tube hits where it's directed every time. Eve Saraf

Dear Heloise: I didn't have enough material for pockets on an apron I was cross-stitching. Then I thought of that wonderful nylon net. I used double thicknesses for the pockets and put them on with cross-stitch. My, did it look pretty! Mrs. W. Waters

Dear Heloise: Here's how to save time when cooking, and you have to add a little water to simmering meat, etc.

Just take the lid which is already in your hand and run a little water in it, then pour it back into the pan.

A lazy cook's trick that saves an extra cup to wash! Mrs. W. Schlig

Dear Heloise: Odds and ends of sewing material can be stored easily and kept clean. Just roll the material around an empty cardboard tube from aluminum foil or wax paper. Then wrap it in clear plastic wrap.

Easy to store and easy to see! Sure makes for a neat sewing closet. Car, Sunn

Dear Heloise: If you happen to like carrot cake, but just hate the thought of grating the carrots, try using the junior baby food carrots.

The cake will be much more moist and not half as much work to make. M. K.

Dear Heloise: Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

A LOVELIER YOU

'Picture Yourself' As Pretty In Snapshots

By MARY SUE MILLER

A Lovely Writes: I am totally unphotogenic and it's not just my face. Snapshots of me in a bikini shattered my last illusion. I am quite slim, but the pictures make me out heavy and awkward. What do those fashion models know that I should learn?

The Answer: Professional fashion models have to be downright skinny. The camera adds pounds to the figure. It is otherwise all too truthful. The less-than-graceful pose is faithfully reproduced.

Those rather courageous Op poses, seen in fashion pictures, come off because the models train with dancers or exercise experts. That way, Op becomes Art. You can't fake it and probably don't want to.

All most of us ask is a snap that preserves a pleasant memory. It can be yours if only you follow these classic Do's and Don'ts:

Prior to shooting, DO tidy your hair. Any sort of pumple is magnified in filming. During takes DON'T slump; pull up tall. And DO turn your hips at a slight angle to the camera and then square your shoulders. It's the slimming pose. DON'T let your hands and feet steal the scene — get one hand out of sight and keep your feet fairly close. DO hold your head high and tilt it slightly to one side. DON'T stare, giggle or get caught eating. DO smile with your eyes. It's going to be a terrific picture.

WINNING MANNERS To open a door on increased poise and popularity, send for our booklet, "Winning Manners." Topics included are: Introductions, Invitations, Hostess, You — The Guest, Dating Manners, Formal Dances, Travel Tips and Tipping, Small Points, like when to wear a hat or check your coat. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope.

Golden Opportunity To Make Money?

NEW YORK (AP) — There's gold in them thar silver certificates!

In silver dollars, too. And even certain nickels are worth more than 5 cents.

Dealers are advertising their willingness to pay from 25 to 30 per cent over the face value of $1, $5 and $10 silver certificates.

When trading in silver dollars begins on the New York Mercantile Exchange Monday, the asking price for a 60-pound sack bulging with 1,000 unrecirculated cartwheels is expected to be about $2,000.

And one dealer says he's collecting nickels minted from 1942 through 1945 because they contain enough silver and copper to make them worth more than 5 cents.

PAY PREMIUMS

The law of supply and demand is responsible for the current ferment in silver.

Certain coins always have been worth more than their face value because they were scarce and because a collector was willing to pay a premium for them to fill holes in his collection.

Silver coins—dimes, quarters, halves, dollars—command a premium for their value to collectors rather than their metallic value.

This was because the U.S. Treasury for years had held the price of American silver at $1.29 an ounce, an artificial ceiling that ignored the law of supply and demand.

GROWING DEMAND
The formula worked, however, even though silver consumption in recent years began outstripping production. In 1966, silver consumption in the

Annette Couch Among Winners

Annette Couch, young 4-H clubber from the Luther community, won a blue ribbon at Lubbock in the district 4-H Record book competition.

Due to a typographical error, Miss Couch's name was omitted from the published list of winners.

Because Miss Couch is a junior member, her victory does not include the right to compete in the state.

United States for industrial purposes amounted to a record of about 150 million ounces, an increase of 9 1/2 per cent over 1965.

Despite this growing demand for silver by such industries as the photographic, sterling ware, electronics and electrical, the government held the price, but the pressure was getting heavy.

As the demand for silver continued to outstrip supply, the Treasury finally abandoned its $1.29 an ounce silver price in mid-July. The price of an ounce of silver since has soared as high as $1.82.

NO MELTING BAN

That's why dealers can afford to pay a premium.

Silver certificates can be exchanged for the metal at a rate of $1.29 an ounce. Every such dollar certificate brings a packet containing about 0.77 of an ounce of silver, which, if sold at the $1.82 market price, is worth about $1.40. If the dealer pays $1.30 for the silver certificate his profit is 10 cents on a dollar.

Although melting silver coins is prohibited by the federal government, some dealers say there is no ban on the melting of nickels.

Which is why the "Jefferson" nickel minted from 1942 through 1945 is in demand. Nickels from this period contain 35 per cent silver, 56 per cent copper and 9 per cent manganese. The coins contain more silver than other five-cent pieces because nickel was scarce during World War II and the government reduced the nickel content of the coins.

Assuming a dealer paid $300 for a bag of 4,000 of the World War II nickels which would

Beauty Tells About Contest

A brief report on her adventures as Miss Big Spring at the state contest in Fort Worth was given Wednesday to the Downtown Lions by Darlene Leifste. It was, she said, an experience every girl ought to have.

Jimmy Ray Smith, president, reported on the party the club gave last weekend for Class 68-H at the City Park. He also distributed his list of committee appointments for the year.

have a face value of $200—and melted them down, he could, going by recent copper and silver prices, make a profit of about $100 a bag.

COIN TRADES

The 1,000-coin bags traded at the exchange will contain only coins minted in large quantities between 1880 and 1923. The coins will be in two grades, circulated and unrecirculated.

Trading will be allowed only two hours daily and the person who buys a bag of silver dollars must deposit his entire bid within 24 hours.

Some 856 million silver dollars have been struck by the government. About 32 million of these have been melted down by the government, about 1 million are used each year by jewelry manufacturers and many have been lost, leaving an estimated 480 million available for trading dealers say.

The government also is holding about 3 million unrecirculated silver dollars because it has been unable to decide whether to melt them or circulate them.

Made with fresh orange juice

Winning Recipe Has Different Frosting

Harlequin Cake a l'Orange was the top prize winner in a recent contest. Bake it now with reconstituted frozen orange juice concentrate and packaged rind, using the luscious fresh fruit when it is in season later in the fall.

HARLEQUIN CAKE L'ORANGE

1 1/4 cups orange juice, divided
1/2 cup nonfat dry milk
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups sugar
3 eggs
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
2 1/2 tps. baking powder
1/2 tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. almond extract
3 tps. grated orange rind
2 squares (2 ozs.) unsweetened chocolate, melted
2 tps. sugar

Combine 1 cup of the orange juice with nonfat dry milk. Mix well and reserve. Cream butter; gradually add 1 1/2 cups sugar and cream until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Add to creamed mixture alternately with orange juice mixture beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Mix well. Stir in almond extract. Divide batter in half. To one half add grated rind. Blend melted chocolate with other half and then stir in remaining 1/2 cup orange juice and remaining 2 tablespoons sugar. Drop the two batters alternately by tablespoonfuls into two well greased and floured 9-inch layer cake pans. Pull knife carefully through batter once in wide zig-zag pattern to give marbled effect. Bake in 350 degree oven, 25 to 30 minutes. Cool for 10 minutes; then turn out of pan and finish cooling on racks. Frost with Orange Frosting and drizzle with Chocolate Glaze.

YIELD: One nine-inch layer cake.

ORANGE FROSTING AND CHOCOLATE GLAZE

1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
1/4 tsp. salt
3 tps. grated orange rind
1 lb. (about 4 cups) sifted confectioners' sugar
1/2 tps. milk or cream
1/2 absp. orange juice
1 square (1 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
1 tsp. butter or margarine

Combine butter, salt, rind, and part of sugar; blend well. Add remaining sugar alternately with milk and orange juice until right consistency to spread, beating after each addition until smooth. Fill and frost layers. Melt chocolate and butter together; drizzle over edge and sides of cake. Garnish with thin orange slices, mint, and cherries, if desired.

Savory Recipe To Serve At Luncheon

If you like to use time-saving pantryshelf shrimp, you may enjoy trying this savory recipe.

SLIGHTLY CURRIED SHRIMP

2 tps. each butter and flour
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. celery salt
1/2 tsp. curry powder, paprika and Worcestershire sauce
2 tps. chili sauce
1 1/2 cups milk
2 cans (each 4 1/2 ozs.) deveined shrimp, drained and rinsed

In a one-quart saucepan over low heat melt the butter; whisk in the flour, salt, celery salt, curry powder, paprika, Worcestershire and chili sauce. Add the milk; over moderately low heat cook and stir until thickened and bubbly. Add shrimp and reheat but do not boil.

Serve with rice, peanuts and chutney. Makes four servings. (Make up the shrimp dish at least an hour before serving, cover and allow to stand off heat so flavors will blend. Reheat gently at serving time.)

Tart Lemons And Limes Make Refreshing Drink

Summertime need not be the time for your appetite and spirits to droop.

Not when two of nature's best pick-me-ups, lemons and limes, are around.

The tart, tangy taste of lemons and limes is just made for the hot summer days when something cool really hits the spot. You'll find the gang around your house will go for the snappy taste of drinks made from them.

For the next party try something different. Combine 3/4 cup of sugar and 3 cups of water. Boil for 5 minutes and let cool. Add 1 cup of grapefruit juice, 1/4 cup lemon juice and 1 1/2 cups lime juice. Stir until well blended, chill thoroughly, and you have a tempting drink called an Appetizer Delight. You will be known as the "hostess with the mostest."

Summer and parties go together and no party is complete without guest - pleasing punch. The next time you entertain, try Fruit Punch. For this you will need 2 small cans lemon juice, 1 No. 2 can grapefruit juice, 1 No. 2 can orange juice and 1 1/2 oz. can pineapple juice. Also 2 1/2 lbs. sugar made into syrup (use 2 1/2 cups water), 1 small bottle almond extract, food coloring, and 1 1/2 gallons of water.

Boil 2 1/2 cups water and 2 1/2 pounds sugar to make a syrup. Chill. Combine fruit juices, extract, syrup and food coloring. Add coloring to give desired shade. What a hit it will make with your guests.

Here's an idea combining lime and a summer favorite, cantaloup - Lime Dressing on Cantaloup Salad. This concentrated lime juice. Whip 3/4 cup heavy cream and liquidified non-fat dried milk or evaporated milk until fluffy and firm. Add 1/4 cup (4 tablespoons) lime juice to whipped topping, 1 tablespoon at a time, whipping after each addition. Yield: 3/4 cup.

Serve atop a combo of chilled cantaloup balls and chunks of fresh pears. Makes a delicious duet.

For a different slant on an old American favorite, lemon pie, try Creamy Lemon Cheese Pie. You will need 1/4 cup fresh lemon juice, three 3-oz. pkgs. cream cheese, 2 beaten eggs and 1/2 cup sugar. For the topping you will need 1 tablespoon grated lemon peel, 1 tablespoon sugar and 1 cup sour cream.

Mix lemon juice and cream cheese together. Add beaten eggs and sugar; beat until fluffy. Pour into vanilla wafer crust and bake at 350 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. Remove from oven and let cool for 5 minutes. To prepare topping, mix lemon peel, sugar and sour cream. Spread over pie. Return to oven and bake 10 minutes longer. Chill in refrigerator at least 5 hours before serving. This lemon pie will be a big hit with your family.

Now is the time to enjoy tart lemons and limes. With their distinctive and refreshing flavors they lend themselves to many dishes and beverages, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Their bright colors make them true appetite stimulators, for they add an unusual note of gay eye-appeal to your fare. And what better way to get your supply of important vitamin C?

Both lemons and limes are in abundant supply at area markets, reports USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service. So put them on their August shopping lists.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Like to do double-duty cooking? Bake extra potatoes when you are serving them at a meal. Next day, peel and dice the spuds and mix them with a medium white sauce; top with grated cheddar cheese.

Brown rice takes longer to cook than white rice - the former usually needs forty-five minutes of simmering after it is added to boiling water.

Please your small fry! Use a doughnut cutter when you are cutting out cookies from rolled dough; bake both the rings and the "holes." Give the youngsters the small cookies, a bowl of frosting, sprinkles and raisins or peanuts and let them go to work.

Both varieties of mint - peppermint and spearmint - come dried. Use peppermint to give a fillip to cooked peas; add the spearmint to a green cabbage salad. But remember that a little of this herb goes a long way.

Salting steak before it is pan-fried or broiled is frowned upon nowadays by many cooks; add the salt after the cooking.

Chopped chives do wonders for a plain lettuce salad.

Like the flavor of tarragon? Add a little of this herb to creamed chicken.

When fresh dill is available, add it to fish chowder and to potato salad.

When you are simmering a chicken in water so as to have broth, add a sprig of thyme along with the usual slice of onion, celery leaves and parsley.

If you store salad and cooking oils in the refrigerator to prevent rancidity, don't worry if the oils solidify and become cloudy. If you allow them to stand at room temperature for a short while, they'll clear again.

White bread loaves, made with yeast and baked in 9 by 5 by 3 inch loaf pans, are usually baked in a hot (400 degrees) oven for 40 minutes.

Elegant Corn Bread

Corn bread baked in molds is pretty enough for a party and can be used in a variety of ways. Serve this fluted bread for outdoor cookouts and for company menus. The family will appreciate having a little extra attention, too, and this hot bread is easy to prepare.

Luncheon Of Shrimp

Few salads are more appealing on a hot summer day than those made with freshly cooked and cooled shrimp.

SHRIMP BOATS WITH LEMON SAIS

4 cups cooked cleaned shrimp
1 cup diced celery
4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1-3 cup sliced green onions
1-4 cup chopped dill pickle
1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
2 tps. chili sauce
2 tps. horseradish
1 tsp. salt
2 pkgs. brown-and-serve club rolls melted butter
lettuce leaves

Cut up shrimp reserving a few large shrimp for garnish. Combine shrimp, celery, eggs, onions and dill pickle. In small bowl cream mayonnaise and add chili sauce, horseradish and salt; blend until smooth. Add to mixture and toss lightly; chill. Bake brown-and-serve rolls according to package directions. Cut a slice off the top of the roll and scoop out the inside. Brush with melted butter. Line roll "boat" with lettuce; round with shrimp salad. Trim with whole shrimp and "sails" of lemon slices and parsley. Makes 12 shrimp boats.

Snyder Resident Recalls Naming Of Fort Phantom

By ED SYERS

Recently, OBT contemplated the ghostly ruin of Fort Phantom Hill, above Abilene, and origin of its name (sometimes suggested, for miraged hills, not there). Snyder's Mrs. Wayne Boren, Scurry County historical surveyor, sends copy of a 1908 article by Mrs. Emma Johnson Elkins, to set the record straight:

"I came with my parents to Fort Phantom Hill in 1852 (age four)," said Mrs. Elkins, "and remained until the post's abandonment in 1854. My father was ordnance sergeant. I remember distinctly particulars of the statements as to how it came by its singular name, all of which were erroneous. (The name) was finally settled around a campfire. Many names had been suggested, all disproved.

"On a bright moonlight night, a group of officers and men were encamped a short distance from the new post when one of the party, seeing a tall white figure on the hill — probably an Indian with a white blanket — exclaimed: 'A ghost!' Another said: 'A phantom on the hill!' Said one of the officers, 'We'll call the fort 'Phantom Hill.'" This name was unanimously adopted."

GENTRY'S MILL

On the quietly pastoral side is another search for wayside Gentry's Mill, near Hamilton.

Tolar's A. C. Stevens and Leander's W. J. Kruger pinpoint it, northwest on the Lamkin road. Signs of the old mill remain as does the long unused school house, on a nearby hillside. A small store, service station and Gentry's Mill Baptist Church are on the present highway, a mile west . . . Tyler's Mrs. Fay Richards reports that her sister, Miss Leo McGlothlin of Comanche, taught school there . . . Ballinger's J. A. Patterson has minutes of Hamilton Co. Baptist Association showing

Cisco Collision Victims Listed

CISCO, Tex. (AP) — A highway collision involving a butane truck and two automobiles near Cisco Wednesday killed three persons and injured two others.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bowden and Mrs. Mary L. Bussel, all about 70 and all residents of Vera, a small town 15 miles from Cisco, were killed. Injured were R.E. Blacklock and Mrs. Betty Clark, 20, both of Cisco.

US 183 was closed for a short time as a precautionary measure but the butane truck did not explode.

GENERAL TENDENCIES. Until sundown you are under good stars to add some modern and attractive touch to your possessions and to get others to see your friendly qualities, but the evening finds an argumentative condition, giving them to be very exasperated and cause quite a lot of discord and unhappiness, as the self-control.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A good comrade assists you in gaining some vital personal gains during the day, but do not pick an argument with your mate in p.m. Social affairs are best handled during the day, also. Avoid the extravagant tonight.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You can easily get in touch with bigwigs today and get backing for your big plans, but avoid the public eye tonight. A.M. is best time for civic participation. Take it easy tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can start a new adventure if you get an early start and persevere, so that tonight you can count your blessings. Plan any trip you want to take early. Get into backing of work as well.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You find an easier way to handle responsibilities now as well as how to come to a better understanding with loved one. Do your work well, but do not get heavy in a.m. Be modest, calm.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Do everything you can to assist a good partner who appreciates your abilities. Do not confide in others during the evening. Ideal day to show your finest talents, where you can commercialize on them.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) A more modern system is recommended if you are to get your work done efficiently and you are recommended by respected by co-workers. Fix wardrobe tonight. You have good luck during day, but don't try to push it far tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) You have an opportunity to help an ally, so be very willing to do it, and you will still have time to enjoy that hobby in p.m. Find out what others are planning. But do so secretly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) Doing whatever will increase harmony of home is wise now and you avoid a big battle tonight. Go after whatever special plans is yours and you have every chance of being successful in it. Take it easy p.m.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't be afraid to state your ideas energetically with partners and if you will sleep on them in p.m. Day hours are fine for much constructive activity. However, it is best to rest in the evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 21) Be most enthusiastic about financial matters during day and add to abundance, but be sure to be economical in fun tonight. One who is an expert in business gives excellent ideas. Be more modern in your approach.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 22 to Feb. 19) You have a fine opportunity to state your aims very clearly to others and also be charming in a social way. Do not have important decisions for the evening. You could get into difficulty with business then.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) During day you can accomplish almost anything you desire, so get busy early and then take it easy in p.m. An experienced person gives you the data you want. Study it well during spare time tonight.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow . . . he or she will be one of those interesting young persons who will have every desire to get ahead along lines that are ultra-modern, so stand the education along such lines. Teach early to control the temper so that the fine talents here can be expressed to the fullest and be most successful. Send to some new college.

44 members of the church in 1900.

And Austin's Hal Eustace adds a less pastoral note: "I do know this. Some members of the Gentry family became expert in use of slingshots. For many years, in that area, slingshots were called 'Gentry Pistols'."

DEATHLESS OUTLAWS

Ralls' Willis Dismukes: "Many times, my father told of being present at the hanging of (gunfighter) Bill Longley. He, G. A. Dismukes, then of Giddings, and another young man of 16, stole through the barrier, raised the blindfold over Bill's eyes to see if it were he, and (identified him). Only conclusion I can draw is that Bill Longley was hanged (as history says) in Giddings on Oct. 11, 1878."

Brownfield's Mrs. Glen Math-

is: "I have heard that the outlaw Sam Bass' real name was Basskit, that he shortened it. True or hearsay?" (Note: Not uncommon was or is the alias; but this cuts a new notch for me. 'Bass' reads his Round Rock tombstone, once visited by his midwest sister. OBT's taught me enough, however, that I won't be surprised if we hear from the Basskit family.)

BURIED WHERE?

McAllen's point - riding, regular OBT'railer Paul T. Vickers: "Godley, a small town between Cleburne and Weatherford on Texas 171, shows tourists a hole in the ground dug by a religious (man) who said he was going to buy the Devil there. Incidentally, sophisticated travelers say Godley has the best drinking water between the arctic circle and the equator."

Chamizal Land Transfer Eyed

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP)—Mayor Armando Gonzalez Soto says he wants 630 acres of land which will be ceded to Mexico under the Chamizal Treaty to become part of this border city.

Under present plans, the land is to become federal property of Mexico.

Gonzalez Soto said Wednesday he has started negotiations for an audience with President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz. He wants to present a petition to incorporate the land as part of the municipality of Juarez.

Under the Chamizal agreement, Mexico will receive 630 acres and the United States 193 acres. For the city of El Paso, Tex., this means a net loss of 437 acres.

Gonzalez Soto said he has received official confirmation that Oct. 23 is the date for a visit of Diaz Ordaz and President Johnson to Juarez and El Paso for official transfer of the Chamizal section.

Revenues, Expenses Both Increased By CRMWD

Both revenues and expenses were up for the Colorado River Municipal Water District during the first seven months of the year.

The monthly operating statistics show revenues of $237,978 during July, making $1,579,760 for the seven-month period. Last year, the first seven months yielded $1,535,664 in revenues.

Operating expenses in July were $70,658, making $510,451 through July, whereas a year ago the operating expenses were $459,378. More than half of this, or $27,000, is in increased power costs due to more pumpage. Other increased costs are $10,000 in administration, principally to bond handling charges for the new $30,000,000 revenue bond issue last year; also $9,000 more in maintenance costs, and $5,000 in higher operation costs, exclusive of power.

So far this year the district has been able to transfer $1,069,278 to debt service, as compared with $1,076,286 for the same period last year.

Water billed to customers by the district during July amounted to 1,217,990,000 gallons. This made 7,218,283,000 for the first seven months, well ahead of the 6,331,209,000 for the same period a year ago. Bulk of the increased production this year has been to the member cities of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder. The three have used about 500 million gallons more during the initial seven months.

Snafu Draftee Wins Release

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—A Pennsylvania National Guardsman drafted into the Army by mistake and due for release today is described by his top sergeant as "a very good soldier."

Pfc. Leslie Brown, 23, was ordered released from the Army Tuesday after complaints by the congressman were investigated by the Pentagon.

"He could have been a goof-off since he was expecting to be released and he knew it," said Sgt. David Hill said Wednesday, "but he wasn't. He did a great job."

Ft. Bragg officials said Brown was being discharged around noon today and planned to drive home to Oreland, Pa.

In an interview, Brown said he should receive some compensation for the five months he served on active duty because of a paperwork mixup. He indicated he wants a day's credit with the National Guard for every day he served on active duty, thus eliminating any additional drills.

Beaumont Plant Expansion Slated

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Good-year Tire and Rubber Co. announced Wednesday a $4 million expansion and modernization program that will boost production of polyisoprene and polybutadiene synthetic rubber at its Beaumont, Tex., plant by more than 20 per cent.

The Beaumont plant's capacity is already the world's largest for production of these two types of synthetic rubber and the new expansion will be the third in four years.

A Goodyear official said the plant's production of the synthetic rubber will be boosted to 60,000 long tons annually.

Two Texas GIs Die In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Texas Army men were listed by the Defense Department Wednesday among nine victims of hostile action in the Vietnam War.

The Texans were Warrant Officer Leonard E. Easley of Brady and Cpl. Lonnie J. Ducote Jr. of Corpus Christi.

Shooting Sparks Houston Flames

HOUSTON (AP)—A series of fires and a flurry of looting broke out on Houston's south side Wednesday night after a Negro was shot in the leg by a white service station operator near a prosperous Negro area.

Police said 15 persons were arrested and eight fires extinguished. The disturbances continued intermittently over a six-hour period. Police said most of those arrested carried weapons.

TEST

"The community had a test last night, but people in general did not want to get involved," said Mayor Louie Welch.

Officials said today there had been no disturbances since about 4:30 a.m.

Police chief Herman Short said the fires were deliberately set. Police reported a bottle fire bomb was thrown at a patrol car but no damage resulted. An officer also reported hearing gun shots.

LEG WOUND

"We know of Molotov cocktails being thrown and the resulting fires," Short said.

At least 10 fires broke out. Most were extinguished quickly. Police quoted Rule Scott, 48, manager of the station, as saying he shot a man in the leg after the man tried to rob him.

Leon Perry Jr., 26, a Negro, was arrested and charged with robbery by assault. He was treated at a hospital for a .32 caliber bullet wound in the left leg.

The service station where the shooting occurred and a nearby supermarket burst into flames. A drug store in the area was looted.

Minutes after the service station shooting a crowd estimated at 150 persons gathered at the station and began throwing rocks. Then the station began burning.

About an hour later a supermarket five blocks away caught fire. Looters knocked out a window of a nearby drug store and carried out bottles of liquor. The fires were extinguished shortly after they began.

T-TA's Change In Service Protested

A strong protest against a change in flight pattern and type of aircraft proposed by Trans-Texas Airways will be sent to T-TA by the aviation committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The committee, in session Wednesday, was advised that the airline proposes, on Sept. 1, to change both equipment and routing on its morning east-bound flight from here to Dallas.

The T-TA program is to replace the Convair 600 (turbo-prop) with the old DC-3, and to route the Big Spring-Dallas flight via Brownwood rather than Abilene.

CC committee members were quick to point out that the morning eastbound flight is the heaviest used of all T-TA services here, and that a deterioration in service is bound to result in fewer boardings. T-TA has steadily made gains in business out of Big Spring.

The other three flights serving Big Spring will not be affected, said Dean Berry, local T-TA agent.

The Chamber group will direct its protest to R. E. (Dick) McKaughan, Houston, T-TA president. McKaughan was here just last July 11 to speak to a group of civic leaders and public officials and said then that his line had no intention of curtailing services, but would upgrade these and hoped to continue in that direction.

Berry said the flight via Brownwood on the DC-3 would take about 20 minutes longer than the present schedule. The later arrival time in Dallas, local committee members pointed out, would mean missing some flight connections, principally early morning service to Houston.

The Convair 600 plane which has been on the schedule through here is being re-routed to serve San Angelo from Dallas, via Abilene.

The aviation committee Wednesday also voted to plan hospitality arrangements for an over-night stop here Oct. 10 of flyers taking part in the annual All-Texas Air Tour. Big Spring was an overnight host to this group in 1964. The tour could attract from 50 to 100 planes into Howard County Airport for the stopover.

The committee proposes to handle transportation and entertainment courtesies for the visitors.

Mobs Battle In Shanghai

HONG KONG (AP) — An anti-Communist Hong Kong newspaper said today pitched fighting between supporters and foes of Chairman Mao Tse-tung was frequent in Shanghai, Red China's biggest city.

Sing Tao Jih Pao, quoting visitors from Shanghai, said anti-Maoists seemed to have regained their strength in the port city, where Maoists earlier had claimed victory over Mao's enemy, President Liu Shao-chi.

The paper quoted one visitor as saying, "Rail and highway traffic in rural Shanghai has ground to a halt as the two rival gangs commandeer railway trains and trucks at will."

"It took me 18 days to travel from Shanghai to Canton. I travelled by bus, train, truck and boat."

The paper said other arrivals reported a showdown between the factions was imminent.

"Most of the people in Shanghai are staying home to avoid trouble as thousands of Red Guards and anti-Maoists roam the street," the paper quoted another visitor as saying.

"Fighting between the two factions took place daily in Shanghai. They use sharpened steel rods as their weapons but occasionally gun shots were heard."

"It is impossible to know the number of casualties but the toll is believed to be high," the visitor added.

Some European visitors also said Shanghai appeared to be in a state of confusion.

They said mobs roamed streets at night with crowbars, sticks and stones. They said they did not see any fighting.

Ex-Canal Zone Governor Dies

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Brig. Gen. Francis Kosler Newcomer, 77, a retired Army officer who served as governor of the Panama Canal Zone during the 1940s, died Wednesday.

He had entered Brooks Army Medical Center here June 15. Death followed a lengthy illness.

A native of Bryon, Ill., Newcomer was graduated from the U.S. Military Academy in 1913 and served with the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe during World War I.

A graduate of the U.S. Engineering School in Washington, he held a number of assignments with the Corps of Engineers between World Wars I and II as well as serving as an instructor at West Point.

During 1943 and 1944 he was the chief engineer in the China-Burma India Theater.

From 1944 to 1948 Newcomer was governor of the Panama Canal Zone and later was president of the Panama Canal Railroad Co.

He was married to Mary Brunot Roberts in 1914. They had three children, Rebecca, Francis K. and Thomas Roberts Newcomer.

Saturn 5 Rocket Launch Delayed

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The need for a new safety device on the second stage has forced another postponement in space agency plans to move the first Saturn 5 rocket to a launch pad.

Officials announced Wednesday that the move had been delayed about a week, until around Aug. 28. That puts the launch date off until at least mid-October.

The rocket, like that which will one day boost American astronauts toward the moon, is undergoing tests in an assembly building. Believed to be the most powerful rocket ever built, it is to be fired on an unmanned test that will evaluate all three stages and an Apollo spacecraft.

MRS. VERNON KENT

Canning Is Favorite Pastime In Retirement

By RHODA LEMONS

Although Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Kent, Route Two, eat very lightly in their retirement years, they have enough food, both canned and frozen, in their home to supply a large family for several months.

"I just love to can things and work with foods," said Mrs. Kent, "for I have to stay busy and make my time count. And, make her time count, she does: She has at least 150 jars of assorted canned goods on hand and a freezer full of other items.

She has a variety of peas, including black-eyed, shells and snaps, and creamed. She has green beans, corn, okra and a variety of juices all canned and ready for use, and in jellies and jams she has a good supply of apricots, peaches and plums, along with blackberries and figs.

Mrs. Kent said that her husband grows a lot of produce on their five-acre plot of land, and he assists her with gathering and preparing some of the foods.

A home demonstration club member for many years, and past president of the Center Point HD Club, Mrs. Kent feels that her club-work has furthered her interest in canning and making her home more attractive.

When the Kents moved to their home six miles northeast of town, Mrs. Kent thought the kitchen needed to be remodelled and modernized.

She moved a door, added a divider, had more cabinets built and installed a double sink along with a large counterbar. Now everything in her kitchen is just "a step" away.

Some of Mrs. Kent's culinary secrets include blanching vegetables three minutes in boiling water before storing in plastic bags in the freezer to insure a "fresh from the garden taste," and always cooking frozen foods in boiling water so that none of the flavor is lost.

Mrs. Kent prepares many meals in a pressure pan, and gave a hint for cooked cabbage for those who like the vegetable but find it hard to digest. She uses her pressure pan and after slicing the cabbage in one-inch strips, adds one-third cup of water in the bottom of the pan, the cabbage, and three tablespoons of margarine with salt and pepper to taste. She serves it immediately, as air tends to darken cabbage.

Mrs. Kent bakes each week, and one of her specialties is a pound cake that is light and delicious. She cooks the cake in a 50-year-old pan that originally belonged to her mother.

The Kents are justifiably proud of their semi-rural home. They have worked hard to modernize and make it comfortable, and Mrs. Kent has added personal touches of her own. She has done a large tapestry painting in soft colors, and has made other items which she has given to friends and relatives.

One particularly attractive gift was the bottom of an old hot water heater on which she bolted wrought-iron fillings and antiqued gold. She added a quilted purple velvet pillow which she made and gave it to one of her daughters for her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent enjoy activities together. They are active in the North Birdwell Lane Methodist Church, Rebekah Lodge and Eastern Star.

Mrs. Kent has four children and one step-daughter. They are Stanton Johnson; Mrs. Sterling Benningfield, Kermit; Mrs. B. L. Mason; Howard Johnson, Odessa; and Mrs. Alvin Smith. She has 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

A Devotional For The Day

"Pass no judgment, and you will not be judged. For as you judge others, so will yourselves be judged." Matthew 7:1-2, NEB

PRAYER: O God, let the mirror of Thy Word reveal me to myself. May the Holy Spirit remind me how I look. Teach me to look to Christ as my example and live in His spirit rather than being critical of what others look like. In Jesus' name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Congress' Short Week

Rep. Jake Pickle of Austin recently voiced an old complaint of western congressmen against their eastern colleagues' "T-to-T Club." That is the group of members whose districts are within easy commuting distance of the capital who, with House and Senate leadership connivance, get tacit consent that no serious business will be done on the floors of Congress except on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays so they can take four-day weekends mending political fences, doing private business, and being with family and friends at home.

Even if this three-day work week does not apply to most committee activity, where most of Congress' actual work is done, it nevertheless seriously drags out congressional sessions. This is the session that President Johnson last fall thought might be finished up by early summer, but now it is likely to run to late in the fall. Three of the 15 regular appropriations bills have yet to be passed for the fiscal year that is already over a month old. And Congress in late summer still has much major legislation to complete — the President's tax bill, foreign aid, the anti-poverty program extension, the anti-crime bill, just to mention a few of top importance.

Pickle's point is glaringly underlined by Congress' delay on the Johnson anti-crime bill. During the worst of the recent urban rioting, the House broke off debate on that bill on a Thursday to resume the following Tuesday. With time running out in the nation's crisis of violence, so did Congress.

Now, New History

The new math and the new physics are now so much a part of modern high school curricula that they can be regarded as old hat. Now teachers at the Princeton University's Secondary School History Institute are developing a "new history" which also emphasizes ways of thinking rather than facts alone.

The Princeton group seeks to remove from high school history classes the bland, colorless textbooks which in many respects conflict with what students see and experience. Financed by a grant from the National Defense Education Act, seminars are being held this summer for 36 teachers.

In contrast to the old history books which generally assume that the future will be better than the past, the seminars show that most students realize that in this age of nuclear warfare such an assumption is doubtful. Students are led to reach their own conclusions based not only on critical reading and discussion, but on their own personal experiences and observations.

The "new history" is long overdue. It is time that history, like math, caught up to the modern pace of knowledge. The Princeton experiment is a good start.

David Lawrence

Surtax On Capital Gains

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's proposal of a surcharge on income taxes doesn't specifically mention "capital gains," but it has been revealed that they will be included just the same. This means that many people who have been thinking of selling their farms, their land or any other property on which they have a gain will hesitate to do so until the planned removal of the surcharge becomes effective on July 1, 1969. The capital gain of the sale of one's own home is not taxed when the proceeds are applied under certain circumstances to the purchase of another home, but all other profits from the sale of real estate are subject to the tax.

PERSONS WHO have owned a piece of land or stock in a corporation that has gone up steadily in value over a period of years normally have to pay a maximum of 25 per cent on their gain when they sell it, but now the rate would increase to 27.5 per cent for individuals in the higher income brackets. There also would be an increase of at least one to two per cent in 1968 on capital gains obtained by persons with incomes between 10,000 dollars and 30,000 dollars a year.

THE EFFECT of all this on real-estate transactions throughout the United States is likely to be felt at once, because sales already consummated since Jan. 1, 1967, will be taxable at a higher rate if Congress passes the new law in October.

The administration's bill has hitherto been considered to be a tax surcharge on the present tax receipts from earnings and other sources of income, and it has not been generally realized that capital gains are actually included. Such transactions, however, will be subject to the extra tax if sales are made in the period between Jan. 1, 1967, and June 30, 1969. Wherever the citizen, therefore, can postpone the sale of his property until mid-1969, he will save a maximum of 2.5 per cent on his capital gain.

THE ARGUMENT being made against the new proposal is that a tax is being levied not on actual income but on a piece of property that has risen in value over a period of many years and is in the nature of savings. Certainly a tax on money saved in a bank is hardly in a class with a tax on earned income. The new plan constitutes an additional tax on principal after the customary 25 per cent levy on capital gains has been deducted.

It is estimated that for the year 1968 the income-tax liability of corporations and individuals will go up by 9.5-billion dollars under the new proposal. If to this is added the projected increase of 1.6 billion dollars in social security taxes, the total federal tax liabilities for corporations and individuals will rise by about 11.5 billion dollars.

MANY MEMBERS of Congress are hearing from their constituents concerning the surcharge as the latter learn more and more about it. There is a noticeable opposition in both the House and the Senate, but the administration insists the money is needed to cut down the deficit, though it is conceded that the new receipts alone will not accomplish the purpose.

THE PRINCIPAL criticism in Congress against the surtax is that it isn't necessary because many billions could be cut off domestic expenditures without seriously impairing the long-range objectives of the social-reform projects. If, of course, the Vietnam war should come to an early ending, there would be a demand for the immediate removal of the surtax, especially since reduced government spending for defense programs would have a big impact on the economy. Don't Put 'Em Up

Billy Graham

My prayers are not always answered when I pray in times of need. Is it because I have done something wrong that God does not hear me?

J.S. True prayer is not a spasmodic, stop-gap measure. It is a day by day communication with God. I heard of a lady whose house was damaged by a hurricane. She told a minister that she prayed that her house would not be harmed, but that the Lord didn't answer her prayer. "Are you a Christian?" asked the minister. "No," said the lady. Then the minister said, "I guess the Lord was just too busy taking care of his regular customers."

Constant, true prayer, brings to us the assurance of God's guidance, and those who pray right never feel forsaken in times of crisis. My suggestion to you would be that you live a life of regular communion with God — then He won't seem so far away when you meet a frightening emergency.

TYRONE, N.M. (AP) — Days of the wild west were relived when two masked horsemen halted their mounts on the new Burro Mountain-Tyrone spur railroad line. They were attempting to slow a train which carried a passenger car.

The horsemen fired their guns into the air and one of them boarded the passenger car and accosted the startled passengers.

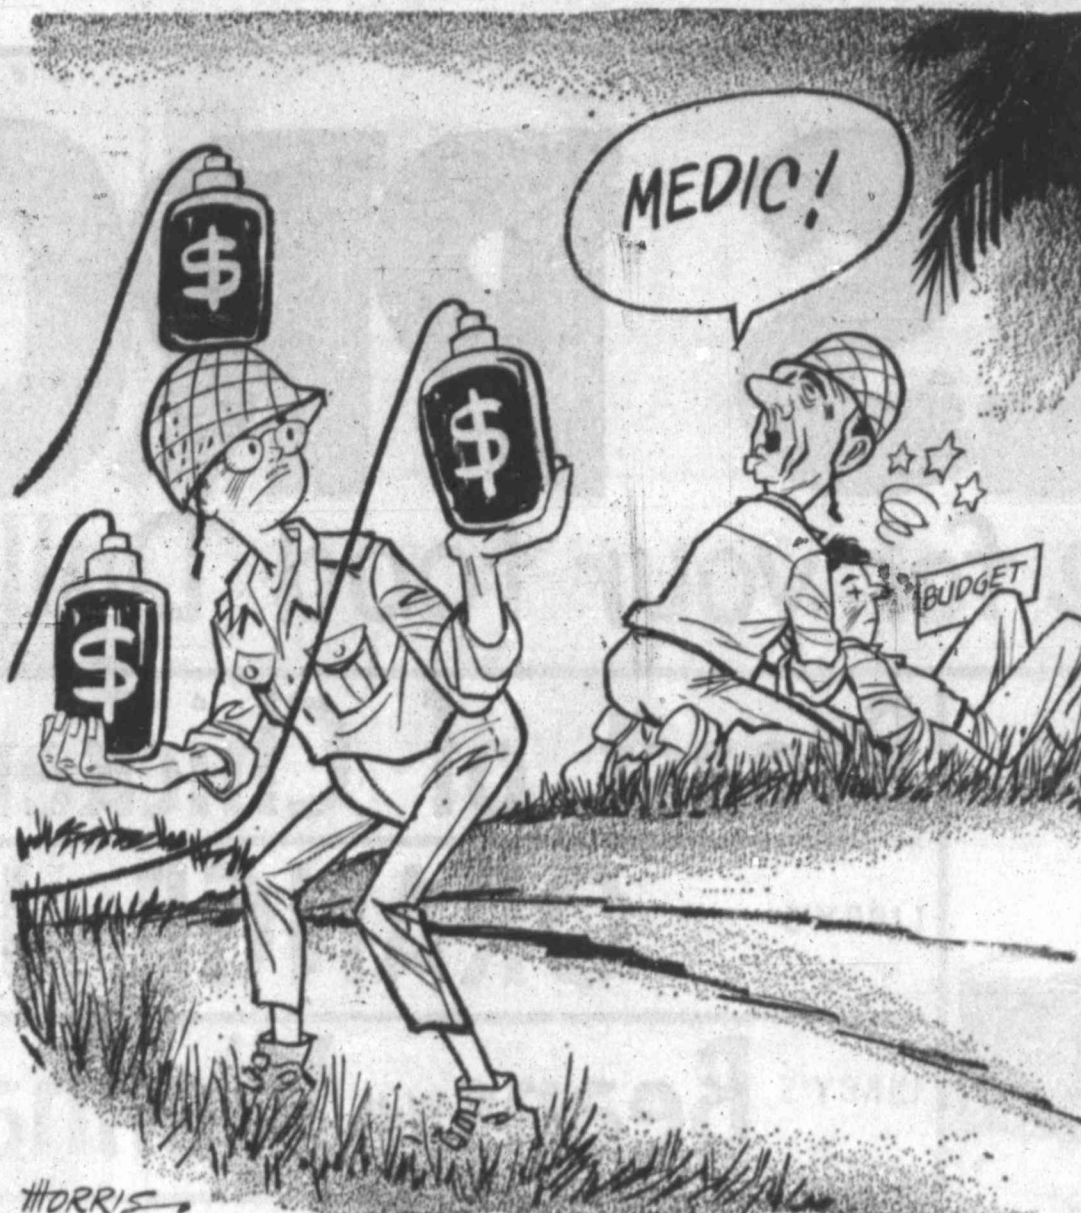

The gunman strode up to Bernard Ponnosa, of New York City, general traffic manager for Phelps Dodge. Instead of demanding the man's watch and other valuables, he extended a scroll which read:

"Welcome to Grant County." Phelps Dodge owns the spur right-of-way. Last March it completed construction of an 11½-mile line connecting with the main Santa Fe Railway line into Grant County with Tyrone. At Tyrone, Phelps Dodge is in the process of reopening a copper mine as an open pit operation at an estimated $100 million cost.

The mounted gunmen were area ranchers Jack Hamilton and Jerry Billings. They said they thought up the holdup scheme "on the spur of the moment."

WAR CASUALTY

James Marlow Justice Black Still Switching

WASHINGTON (AP) — Not all his fellow senators liked the idea of seeing Hugo Black on the Supreme Court. And 30 years ago today, when the Senate approved his appointment, the vote was 63 to 16. It was a symbolic split.

There has been divided opinion about him since, with some switchers. He has done some switching himself since President Franklin D. Roosevelt named him to the court.

IN HIS public years he has been called a lot of things: racist, bigot, absolutist, activist, liberal, radical. Perhaps his greatest contribution has been concern for individual freedom and being a goad to the other eight justices.

Black did some switching before ever reaching the court. He joined the Ku Klux Klan for two years at the start of his political career—perhaps he thought it was a good way to get votes—but quit just before he ran successfully for the Senate in 1926. This came back to haunt him.

HE WAS different times at different times in the Senate. One writer, Daniel Berman, points out Black fought against an anti-lynching bill but denounced violence against Negroes.

He alienated the Klan by backing a Catholic, Al Smith for president in 1928. He became a shining liberal and ultra-New Dealer, helped author the wage-hour law, backed Roosevelt on his court-packing plan.

Black's complicity was questioned as soon as Roosevelt picked him for the court. But the biggest storm of his life broke with the news he had been a Klansman. Liberals screamed in pain, although he later became a liberal darling, and he called Oct. 4, 1937, the day he took his seat on the court, "Black Monday."

In his years on the bench he has been an individualist. He dissented 16 times from the majority opinions in his first year as a justice.

HIS CONCERN for the individual showed up early, too. Over his protest the court in 1942 decided a state doesn't have to provide a lawyer for a man on trial who is too poor to hire one. By 1963 the court had come around to Black's thinking and reversed itself.

He also showed the long view in 1941 when he dissented from the majority opinion upholding an injunction against peaceful picketing. By the mid-1960s the court was throwing out one conviction after another of Negroes jailed for picketing and sit-ins.

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that people get tired of reading on vacation postcards: "Having wonderful time. Don't you wish you were?"

"Drove from 5 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. today - and made 687½ miles. Pretty good, eh? More tomorrow."

"Well, here we are at Expo 67, the big fair in Montreal, Canada. There must be an awful lot of tourists here from Paris, as a surprising number of people we talked to had French accents."

"IN TAOS, MYRTLE found just the kind of silver Indian necklace that your wife asked her to look out for. Get ready for a shock, pal. It's costing you $237.50. They're cheaper by the dozen, but I thought that one was all you'd want."

"This is the first time Clara and I have visited Niagara Falls since our wedding 24 years ago. The water looks pretty much the same, as I remember it."

"Had two flat tires today. More tomorrow."

"SUE STILL INSISTS there was a funny smell in the house like leaking gas when we left. Would you mind going by and checking up? But be careful opening the door — a spark might blow up the whole joint."

"Sorry you can't be with us to see this beautiful, awe-inspiring scenery. But Malcolm is making hundreds and hundreds of color slides, and we'll show them all to you just as soon as we return home. That's a promise!"

"EVERYWHERE a tourist goes today he gets yipped. Some motels sell you postcards for a nickel apiece, but this one cost a dime. It shows an interesting view of a shopping center outside Dubuque. The hamburgers we ate there weren't half bad, but — no catsup. C'est la guerre!"

"No wonder they say travel is broadening. Did you know that the Washington monument—see other side—is 555 feet, 5½ inches tall and weighs 81,120 tons? My wife said it made her feel humble just to stand next to it."

"... and the bass were biting so fast that we finally decided, to keep the boat from sinking, to throw back all those weighing under five pounds."

"AS A SOUVENIR, Fred I got you a handkerchief pillow filled with pine needles and a swell picture of an Indian encampment embroidered on one side and that well-known painting, 'The Last Supper,' on the other side, which makes it ideal for the home. The trouble is that the pine needles stick in your ears when you sleep on it, but it still should make a swell conversation piece for your guest room."

"Too tired tonight to tell you all the wonders we saw today. More tomorrow."

WASHINGTON — All my life I've been told you can't buy happiness and I must say I used to believe it. But lately I've changed my mind.

Money can buy happiness and usually does.

Take my friends, the Schmicks. They're poor, honest, hard-working people. All they have is each other and they're miserable.

Then take my friends, the Smugs — he's a banker, she inherited money from her father. They live on Park Ave. in the winter and Westhampton in the summer, unless they go abroad. Everything they do costs money, and you won't find two happier people anywhere.

THE SCHMICKS live in a small apartment in Brooklyn in the winter, and they vacation in the same small apartment in Brooklyn in the summer. When they really get desperate, they go to Far Rockaway for a swim.

Once Schmick said to me, "We may not have all the comforts and pleasures of the rich, but do you think that makes us unhappy? You bet your sweet life it does."

The Smugs, on the other hand, wouldn't have it any other way.

SMUG TOLD ME one night when he had a few drinks too many, "You know, when I was young I was in love with a poor girl who worked as a secretary. I was poor, too, and we were going to get married. Then I met my wife, who was rich, so I decided to marry her. You know something? I bumped into that poor girl a few weeks ago and she had gone all to pieces. It takes money for a woman to keep looking young. I was sure glad I married the rich girl."

THE SMUGS ARE not happy all the time. Sometimes they fight and then Mrs. Smug flies off to California to visit friends. But the Schmicks

Around The Rim

The Sad Saga Of Scurry

Although nothing much is ever done about it, the clarion call goes out on occasion for more tourist attractions. In the worry over the "big spring," the lakes, the parks, etc., perhaps we have been overlooking a sure-fire stopper — a real landmark.

I REFER of course to Scurry Street. Once a major highway through this area, it was doubtless one of the first streets that was ever paved. With that distinction, it also is perhaps the only street to be paved then and never touched again, except for an occasional spot of asphalt in the deeper holes.

WHERE ELSE could we find a major thoroughfare — that by traffic count serves more vehicles than any other non-highway street in a growing city — is not even included in a regular maintenance program? In 1966, voters put their endorsement on a $250,000 paving participation program, to pay the city's share of new paving. Many short streets leading onto Scurry were paved, but not a nickle was spent on Scurry itself.

So much for its historic interest and recent history.

TOURISTS might find it of more than passing curiosity that a modern growing city would have a major thoroughfare with weeds growing in the right of way. Not at the roadside, but in that section of the road that is paved in most other cities. And this within 10 blocks of the center of the city.

To be sure, the city passed an ordinance outlawing such weed growth on private lots, but apparently the law doesn't extend to the right of way of streets — at least on Scurry Street.

THE MORE casual tourist might enjoy "running the rapids," as it were, if he arrives in our city on one of those rare days we have a sprinkle. For Scurry Street was designed in the days when they didn't think it was ever going to rain again, and so it collects water in some areas. So much water, in fact, that it can easily drown out even modern vehicles.

And if the tourist might feel wont to display his driving skill, he might see if he can drive in any block, from corner to corner, missing all the chug-holes. Pursuing the matter, we might make awards for the successful ones, a reasonable safe gamble, as even the old-timers can't pull off such a superior show of skill.

MORE SERIOUSLY, the long neglect of Scurry Street will probably be ended with the next phase of the city's Master Plan. City officials have drawing board plans for solving this serious problem. Hopefully, our present method of planning will prevent any street in the future from becoming so derelict.

The Fulbright Position

WASHINGTON — There aren't any flies on Bill Fulbright. We would be minus a national asset if by some unlikely chance the Arkansas Senator should lose his seat in next year's election.

One of the debits of the Vietnam War is that Fulbright finds himself grouped by association with the trashiest rabble we've got — the peace-and-poverty rioters who have a common leadership and a common purpose. But Fulbright doesn't belong in that company, isn't by any stretch an anti-American, couldn't be more of a conservative if he wore a copy of the Constitution around his neck for a collar.

IT'S THE crazy confusion of warfare (we sometimes shoot down our own planes, don't we?) that brings Fulbright under conservative fire. The other day he got up in the Senate and offered a resolution to restore the separation of powers in our tripartite government.

HE WAS talking Constitutional action, Conservative action, turn back the clock, return to the 19th century. I didn't notice that Barry Goldwater was mentioned, but the late Robert Taft was off-quoted and highly extolled in the debate. Franklin Roosevelt was excoriated for edging us into war by his 1940 deals of sending troops to Iceland and trading our Navy destroyers to Britain. The hateful names of Yalta, Tehran and Potsdam were held up to scorn, and the Bay of Pigs and the Missile Crisis of '62 were given as horrible examples of one-man statesmanship.

FULBRIGHT'S RESOLUTION was to redefine the misused term "national commitment." It was to reaffirm the duty of the Senate to participate in treaties and declarations of war. The way things have been going, the Secretary of State warns against "aggression" in some faraway place, or the vice president sings out for the protection of "democracy" as a m on g some loincloth savages, or the President sends American troops to mingle in other people's civil wars, and we have a state of undeclared war.

IT IS A PET theory of Fulbright's that by giving foreign aid we undertake military support of the recipient country, whether or not its fate is of any concern to the USA. Like all ardent men, the senator has his moments as an extremist, but we other extremists ought to be somewhat charitable about that. He has said that "every" revolution has some communism in it these days, and that we should not be anti-revolutionists just because we're anti-communists. This is the not so much the appeaser speaking in Fulbright as it is the isolationist. More than anything, it is the fundamentalist who believes that Presidents and their advisors since Franklin Roosevelt have been treating the Constitution like a scrap of paper and treating Congress like a handy rubber stamp for executive decisions after they've become irrevocable.

FULBRIGHT HAS no boss stirring up the peace-mongers in time of conflict. A more cautious man would not risk so much misunderstanding and malediction. But it should be said for him that time is a factor in all equations. The Vietnam War of 1964-65 is not the same war that we have today, and not the war that we have predicted to end long before this.

Fulbright is saying we must take the vow of "Never Again" when it comes to joining wars before Congress and the people approve. It's hard to fault him for that. (Distributed by McLaughlin Syndicate, Inc.)

You Can Buy Happiness

Money can buy happiness and usually does.

It takes money for a woman to keep looking young. I was sure glad I married the rich girl."

THE SMUGS ARE not happy all the time. Sometimes they fight and then Mrs. Smug flies off to California to visit friends. But the Schmicks fight, too. Only when they get into a quarrel, Mrs. Schmick has no place to go, so they yell at each other until the police come. Last year the Schmicks were fined $30 for disturbing the peace.

The Smugs entertain a lot of important and influential people who accept their invitations because the Smugs are rich. The Schmicks can only afford to entertain relatives they don't like, who complain afterward about the food and liquor.

When it comes to children, the Smugs and Schmicks also differ.

SMUG TOLD ME, "We have two children. We've given them the best of everything. Private schools, riding lessons, tennis lessons, catered parties — we've bought everything for them that money will buy and they're smart, happy, contented children."

Schmick, on the other hand, told me, "We haven't been able to give our children anything but love and devotion — and they hate us."

Smug told me, "I've tried to impress on the children the importance of being rich and the great benefits that can be derived from having money. They know exactly what I'm talking about and they respect me for my wisdom"

SCHMICK SAID, "I tell my kids money isn't everything. There are some values in life that are much more important, such as love, friendship and family. And you know what they do? They go around the neighborhood and tell everyone, 'Our pop is nuts.'"

GLASKOW, Ky. (AP) — Walter Curd, a veteran political leader in Warren County, sometimes finds it hard to step out of character.

He was listening to a basketball game on the radio and his team moved ahead. Curd let out a shout. Someone asked what happened.

"Why," shouted Curd, "it's Allen County by one vote."

12-B Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., Aug. 17, 1967
War Casualties Reflecting Lull

SAIGON (AP) — American combat casualties in the Vietnam war last week dropped to their lowest number since last January, reflecting a lull in major, sustained ground fighting, the U.S. Command announced today.
It said 82 Americans were killed and 748 wounded. But a new series of small, fierce scattered skirmishes that could develop into something bigger was reported by U.S. Marines routing out Communist troops in hills west of the coastal plain of Tam Ky, about 350 miles northeast of Saigon.

LOW TOLL
In the air war over North Vietnam, bad weather limited U.S. pilots to a below average 111 missions Wednesday.
Heavy clouds hung over the Hanoi-Haiphong area and air strikes were concentrated in the southern panhandle stretching from south of Hanoi to the 17th parallel that divides North and South Vietnam.
The command said 1,043 Communist soldiers were killed last week, the lowest figure this year.
The toll of American dead last week was the lowest since the week ending last Jan. 7 when 67 U.S. soldiers were killed. The wounded toll was the lowest since the 716 in the week ending Jan. 21. The over-all toll of 830 killed and wounded last week was the lowest since Jan. 7 when 546 casualties were reported.

Last week's toll compares with 146 Americans killed and 1,064 wounded the previous week, slightly below this year's weekly average.
Records showed 12,497 Americans have died in combat in Vietnam from Jan. 1, 1961, through Saturday, while another 78,630 U.S. troops have been wounded.

The U.S. Command said that with the exception of one significant engagement, contacts last week were generally light and scattered and on a small unit level throughout South Vietnam last week.
REDS REGROUPING?
The lull in major sustained ground fighting has been evident since early last month. There have been exceptions, when Communist forces ambushed U.S. units, inflicted heavy casualties, then pulled out quickly. Some military strategists believe the Communists are resupplying and regrouping during the lull.

The South Vietnamese armed forces announced losses of 283 dead and 683 wounded last week, above their average. Their high casualties stemmed largely from isolated actions.
The South Vietnamese also announced 62 men missing. Their casualties were up from the previous week's 220 dead, 545 wounded and 49 missing.

FIERCE CLASHES
In ground fighting near Tam Ky, U.S. Marines reported killing 67 Communist troops in four fierce clashes all within one-half mile of each other since Wednesday.
The four clashes were part of the Marine's Operation Cochine, launched last week. A U.S. spokesman said over-all Marine casualties for three of the four clashes since Wednesday were five dead and 23 wounded.

A company from the 9th Marine Regiment located a small enemy equipment and munitions cache in a fortified area 1.8 miles southwest of the Marine outpost of Con Thien, just below the demilitarized zone.
The complex said to be about a month old, included 40 to 50 bunkers along a trenchline. Marines said it contained an assortment of ammunition, including recoilless rifle shells and 102mm rockets. Eleven enemy bodies were reported found in graves.

South Vietnamese military headquarters reported two more Viet Cong attacks, both apparently aimed at disrupting the country's presidential elections Sept. 3.
Just south of Saigon, the Viet Cong attacked with small arms as a U.S. Navy minesweeper on the Long Tau River, the main shipping channel to Saigon shot back.
U.S. B52 bombers kept trying today to destroy hidden enemy camps in the A Shau Valley after Army engineers spent 45 days ripping out a huge Viet Cong tunnel and bunker system in the An Lao Valley.

Shaw Case Still Drags

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The pre-trial legal fight in the case against Clay L. Shaw, accused of conspiring to murder President John F. Kennedy, was far from over today—despite the judge's complaints.
"These motions have dragged on for four months," Criminal Dist. Court Judge Edward Haggerty Jr. said Wednesday in urging both the defense and prosecution to move faster.
Haggerty said trial could begin late next month. However, the defense still had several moves to make in its strategy.
Shaw's lawyers have until Aug. 30 to file a supplementary motion to quash the Orleans Parish grand jury indictment against him. Then the state has until Sept. 6 to answer. The
