

Raid Repeated 'Choochoo' Is Saved

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Chattanooga raiders have succeeded, at least for a time, in saving their famous "choo-choo" by repeating a raid that was a hanging offense the first time it was tried.

Federal guerrillas were hanged during the Civil War for trying to abscond with the locomotive "General" but the Chattanooga mayor, City Commission and a host of pistol-packing policemen had better luck Tuesday in blocking the engine's return to Georgia.

Officials Explode

A court hearing today will determine the permanence of their victory. Chancellor Ray Brock will consider a motion by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad asking him to rescind his injunction which sidetracked the contested engine.

The raiding party, armed with Brock's order, headed off the General just as it was being moved through the L&N yards to a new home at Kennesaw, Ga.

Georgia officials exploded in rage.

'Chattanooga Choochoo'

Kennesaw Mayor James Adams hurried north, declaring he would get "that damned train" Chattanooga was just as angry.

The General appears on the official seal of Chattanooga, and local patriots claim it is the original "Chattanooga Choo-choo." After retirement in 1890 the engine was enshrined in the city's Union Station.

In the Great Locomotive Chase of 1862 the General was seized at Kennesaw, then called Big Shanty, and recaptured at Ringgold, Ga., a Chattanooga suburb.

The L&N took the General from its shrine six years ago and refurbished it for Civil War centennial festivities. Now the railroad has decided to give the engine to the state of Georgia for new enshrinement at Kennesaw.

'Texas' Nobs Yankees

Kennesaw claims the engine since it was stolen from there 105 years ago, and the L&N agreed. But Chattanooga says returning the General to Georgia after all these years would be about like giving America back to the Indians because of a prior claim.

A band of union raiders commanded by James J. Andrews of Ohio stole the General in April, 1862, with designs of escaping to the north, destroying track and burning bridges behind them.

However, Confederates pursuing in the "Texas," another wood-burning locomotive, caught up to the Yankees when the General ran out of steam and fuel at Ringgold.

The raiders were eventually captured and Andrews and many of the others were hanged.

Wolcott Hearing Held

GEORGETOWN, Tex. (AP) — James Wolcott, 16, appeared before County Judge Sam Stone today at a hearing that could determine whether he can be bound over to a grand jury in the slaying of his parents and sister.

The youth was handcuffed and expressionless as Sheriff Henry Matysek escorted him into the Williamson County courthouse.

Wolcott wore a striped dress shirt and dark trousers without a belt.

Healthy Boost For Fund

Fourteen individuals, classes and clubs—one of the largest number for a single day—gave the High School Bible Class fund a healthy boost today. Together they contributed $175, which pushed the amount so far given to $2,537.

Included in the group was another service club, the Breakfast Optimists, plus several Sunday School classes, and some individuals who have helped through the years.

The formal appeal will be brought to a close at the end of this week, so those who can help are urged to mail or bring their gifts to The Herald as soon as possible.

White Youths Seek Ouster Of Rev. Groppi

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — About 400 youths from the virtually all-white South Side marched on the brick mansion of the Roman Catholic archbishop of Milwaukee Tuesday night in a demand for a Church crackdown on a white priest leading Negro open housing marches.

The South Side was the scene of violence Monday night as rocks and bottles cut short a Negro march led by the Rev. James E. Groppi, assistant pastor at St. Boniface church.

'CLOSED HOUSING'

Father Groppi again led an open housing march Tuesday night but stayed away from the South Side where police estimated 3,500 whites were awaiting his return.

It was the city's 16th straight night of open housing demonstrations.

Before Father Groppi's march had taken to the streets, white marchers, describing themselves as "closed housing" advocates, moved out of the South Side to the residence of Archbishop William E. Cousins.

They carried a black cardboard coffin bearing the inscription, "Father Groppi rest in hell," and, "God is white."

A delegation of the marchers was admitted to the archbishop's residence. The archbishop had no comment on what was said.

RECALL BID

However, Harry Lange, 27, a bearded and tattooed Navy veteran, said the archbishop told the delegation that "a committee of priests was taking up matters with Father Groppi."

"We asked him to recall Father Groppi, to get him out of Milwaukee," Lange said.

The archbishop has consistently refused to take any disciplinary steps against the priest.

After the conference, the white youths marched back to the South Side where the sidewalks along 16th Street were lined with people awaiting the civil rights demonstrators.

"We have no knowledge of any march at this time," police told the group. After sporadic rock and bottle throwing at officers, police ordered the streets cleared, and the people left without serious incident.

Anti-Maoists Attack Reds

HONG KONG (AP) — Thousands of opponents of Mao Tse-tung attacked Red Guards celebrating in the Canton stadium Tuesday, arrivals from the Chinese mainland said today.

One visitor said more than 30,000 persons were involved in the clash and that gunfire echoed throughout the city for several hours until the Chinese army intervened.

It was not known how many casualties occurred.

Visitors said anti-Maoists have been hijacking government-owned river boats at Kongmoon, near the Portuguese colony of Macao and holding them as bargaining weapons with the Red Guards. The boats were reported laden with food bound for Macao and Hong Kong.

Republicans Eye 3-Man Parlay For Nomination

Romney's Erratic Race Disappoints

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eastern Republican moderates are playing a cautious three-man parlay for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination as they await further soundings on the performance of Michigan Gov. George Romney.

Disappointed by Romney's sometimes erratic course on major issues such as Vietnam, influential individuals in the Eastern power structure are keeping lines open so they could transfer their allegiance speedily to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller or Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois.

BIG BLOOPER

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., an influential member of this group, said in an interview that nobody is giving up on Romney at this point. But he conceded that the Michigan governor still has to prove he can arouse the kind of public support needed to win presidential primaries and go into the 1968 convention as a leading contender.

Most of the moderates think Romney's statement that he was "brainwashed" by Johnson administration officials on a 1965 visit to Vietnam was a blow-over blooper.

TOO EARLY

Rockefeller said in New York Tuesday it was too early to tell whether it had affected Romney's chances for the nomination. But he observed that the governor "has gone on the offensive."

In a New York speech Tuesday, Richard M. Nixon alluded to the brainwashing issue as he declared he had no complaint about the briefings he received during his nine visits to Vietnam. This, however, was the extent of his comment.

On the conservative side of the Republican spectrum, California Gov. Ronald Reagan told a Sacramento news conference that perhaps Romney had "expressed a concern that all Americans have about foreign policy."

NOT INTERESTED?

Reagan, who advocated Tuesday a sharp escalation to win the war as quickly as possible, was less charitable about Romney's previous statement that the United States made a mistake in getting involved in Vietnam. He said it is "pretty tragic if we begin arguing about that" after years of fighting.

The California governor said he is "just not interested" in becoming a vice presidential candidate on a ticket headed by Rockefeller. Such a ticket has been discussed widely among moderates as a possibility if Romney stumbles into more political thickets.

IMAGE FEAR

In the moderate camp, there is the feeling that Romney is too ebullient and that, as one supporter put it, "He talks in public like we talk in private." Because of this some of his backers fear he may be creating the kind of confusing image Barry Goldwater presented in 1964.

The Michigan governor has been advised by his friends to lay down a statement of his position on each major issue and stick to it. They got him to outline his views on Vietnam in a Hartford, Conn., speech last April but he clouded this up with conflicting statements in the months that followed.

'SNOW JOB'

As an indication he may be taking this advice to heart, Romney tried to get back to his Hartford stance at a news conference here last week when he explained that in saying he was "brainwashed" he was referring to an "LBJ snow job" and not the usual meaning.

His moderate supporters think Romney may have something going for him in his town of big-city ghettos. But they have told him to avoid formal news conferences and to maintain silence on Vietnam for a while.

Generally, his backers think Romney may surprise his critics in next spring's presidential primaries. They regard his home contacts with the voters, his handshaking ability and his nonstop campaigning as major assets.

CITY LIMELIGHT

They would be happy if, in these endeavors, he would just avoid off-the-cuff observations on important issues.

Romney wings out of Washington today to continue his coast-to-coast look at urban problems after a visit to a Columbia, Md., model city, a tour of a boys' training school and a talk with FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Anti Groppi Marchers

Milwaukee's South Side residents carry simulated coffins as they march to North Side of city for rally at residence of Roman Catholic Archbishop William Cousins last night. They are protesting activities of Father James Groppi, the white priest who has led Negro open housing demonstrations the last 16 consecutive nights. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Hippie Invasion Creates Cop, Medical Problems

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Whatever the hippie life does for its believers, it is not healthy.

Dr. David Smith, who operates a free medical clinic in the Haight-Ashbury district, said today that upper respiratory infection is almost universal among the sandal set "and there's an awful lot of hepatitis and venereal disease."

Smith, who also heads the drug abuse screening unit at San Francisco General Hospital and teaches at the University of California Medical Center, also talked about the drug use incidence.

"Here the figure is 100 per cent," he said. "I haven't seen a kid in the clinic who hasn't used drugs, and most are using them right now."

"We are seeing an awful lot of Meth (methamphetamine, a stimulant) problems now," he continued, noting the clinic has been seeing 10 to 20 Meth cases daily, "mostly young kids who are hallucinating, very paranoid and suffering from malnutrition and sleep deprivation."

Of 20 Meth patients, the physician estimates that five are suffering toxic psychoses, so disturbed that they should commit themselves to a mental hospital for long-term therapy, "but usually don't."

COLD CLIMATE

Part of the upper respiratory infection problems undoubtedly result from San Francisco's chilly summer weather and the

Blue Chips Spark Stock Mart Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market surged ahead today in its best rally in weeks. Trading was heavy.

Gains outnumbered losses by almost 3 to 1. The ticker tape ran late.

Wall Streeters said the rush to buy apparently was due in large measure to fear of inflation plus their belief that Congress may be reluctant to enact a tax boost effective in the 1968 presidential election year.

The advance spread from the glamor stocks in the office equipment and electronics fields to the blue chips.

fog, which also must have contributed towards keeping the hippie population down.

"The cold climate (in Haight-Ashbury), particularly during July and August, discourage the hippies from remaining," says Police Chief Thomas Cahill who had worried publicly over a prediction that some 100,000 hippies would invade the city for a "summer of love."

Both the chief and Mayor John F. Shelley appealed publicly to parents to keep their kids home and the Board of Supervisors passed a resolution yanking the welcome mat and pointing out San Francisco doesn't have the facilities for such an influx.

COMMUNAL PADS

Despite city protests, some hippies did sleep in Golden Gate Park, as well as in the streets and in crowded communal pads.

The newly arrived hippie who crawled behind a clump of rhododendron bushes for some postmidnight shut-eye learned that the park's hidden sprinkler system was turned on at daybreak.

Wet and cold, he would head for a gasoline station across the street from the park—and find the restroom door locked.

Just how many hippies came and how many are here now may never be known since they wander and are not easily counted. However, city officials and resident hippies agree that about as many have moved out as arrived each week during the summer. With schools reopening, the population is dropping now.

Thunderous Duels Rage

SAIGON (AP) — Thunderous artillery and mortar duels between U.S. Marine and Communist gunners raged today across the demilitarized line dividing Vietnam.

Military reports said six Marines were killed and 109 wounded in the steady gunfire and Communist probes during the past 24 hours. Some South Vietnamese troops were also casualties but their number was not announced.

The bunkered fortress of Con Thien, the key to Marine defenses below the demilitarized zone, threw back an attack by 150 North Vietnamese regulars just before dawn.

Bodies Of Loyds Being Sent Here

The remains of the Howard Loyd family will be returned here tonight. The five members of the family were killed while on vacation in Mexico when their airplane fell Aug. 27 on the icy slopes of Popocatepetl, an extinct volcano that rises to 17,500 feet.

REMAINS

The remains were being flown today from Mexico City to Dallas, and a River-Welch Funeral Home coach will meet the American Airlines flight at 9:05 p.m. today.

Funeral will be held for the family at 10 a.m. Friday in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church, with the Rev. Francis Beazley, pastor, officiating. Burial will follow in the City Cemetery, under the direction of River-Welch Funeral Home.

The bodies of the family—including Howard Loyd, Mrs. Ida Bell Loyd, and their sons, Don, Wayne, and Darrell — were taken from the wreckage of their Piper Comanche Monday, and identification was confirmed Tuesday.

The Loyds and the John C. Polone family of four, left here Aug. 19 for a week's vacation in Mexico, which included Mexico City and Acapulco. The two planes left the latter city at mid-morning Aug. 27, and except for brief radio communications, were never heard from again.

The Polone craft was seen to crash on the dormant volcano Ixtaccihuatl, 17 miles from where the Loyd plane was found. The remains of the family were returned here a few days later for funeral. Search continued for the Loyd plane until it was found by an alpine team Monday.

Members of the rescue team said both wings had been sheared from the airplane, apparently by projecting rock, before it slammed into a cliff face. The bodies were virtually unrecognizable, according to Mexican reports, and there were no papers found.

Howard Loyd was born in Garden City, May 28, 1915. He learned to fly before the war, at the Big Spring field located where Webb AFB now stands. Following World War II, he was an instructor for Cecil Hamilton's flying school.

In recent years, he had been manager of the Howard County Airport and part-owner of Big Spring Aircraft, fixed base operator here. He had more than 8,000 hours flying experience, and held commercial, instrument, and instructor's flying licenses. He was also the inspector here for checking out new pilots for the Federal Aviation Administration.

SURVIVORS

He is survived by two uncles, A. R. Carter, Big Spring, Henry Carter, Wilson, Okla.; three aunts, Mrs. Lessie Ardton, Fort Worth, Mrs. Eddie Cook, Portales, N. M., Mrs. Omico Jones, Electra.

Mrs. Loyd was born Ida Belle Gibson on Dec. 10, 1924, in Martin County. She is survived by one brother, Bill Gibson, Midland; and four sisters, Mrs. Dudley Anderson, Stanton, Mrs. Alvin Roberts, Midland, Mrs. A. L. Snodgrass, Stanton, and Mrs. Hoyt Bland, Post.

Damp And Cold

A long-haired hippie sits on a fog shrouded bench in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park. The cold damp climate during July and August discouraged many of the hippies from remaining. City officials and resident hippies agree that about as many of the cultists moved out as arrived each week. With the end of summer and the start of school terms, the hippie population has dropped. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Science And You Moon's Changing Face

—By DR. LEONARD REIFFEL

There have now been a number of soft landings on the moon. Two successful Lunas were sent by the Russians have sent back pictures and other data, and our Surveyor shots have supplied a large number of superb pictures and valuable information about the mechanical properties of the lunar surface. The pictures are extremely important to lunar scientists, and each set that comes in teaches us more about the geology of the moon and the processes that have shaped its surface and even its interior.

One of the more critical questions that has to be asked about the moon, vis-a-vis a manned landing, is how hard is it? The question was partially answered by the first Russian soft landing and by our first Surveyor, and each new landing gives us more assurance that the moon is hard enough to support a landing craft. It is also clear that if the astronaut is properly equipped he shouldn't have too much trouble walking on the lunar surface—at least in areas similar to those in which Surveyors have landed.

But a question which always remains, even after several successful soft landings, is how uniformly hard is the moon? In other words, is it possible for the moon to be quite hard in the places where the landings have taken place and yet, some miles to one side or the other, to be dangerously soft?

Because we've had a number of successful soft landings the probability is getting pretty low that the moon has areas where astronauts would sink in. Nevertheless, caution is going to have to be the watchword.

One of the devices the first astronauts will be taking along on their first trips to the moon is a so-called "geologist's staff." This is basically a pole with which a man can poke the ground ahead to make sure it is hard enough to support his weight. The staff also becomes a handy device for mounting a camera and other basic surveying equipment.

The pictures that have come back from the Russian and American soft-landers have greatly changed our ideas of the processes that have shaped the moon. It has become obvious that significant erosion of the moon is taking place. Material is moving around all over its surface—not, of course, with the speed of a snowstorm, but in terms of geological time the moon is a very dynamic place. Material is washing down in river-like streams from the mountains. Craters are forming and disappearing. There is now good evidence that volcanoes have been active on the moon and volcanic activity may still be going on. Great cracks have opened in the lunar surface from time to time and then gradually filled up with drifting sand-like material.

With all of this action on what we once thought of a "dead" body, it is understandable that the astronauts will want to tread carefully, especially during the more ambitious exploration missions which will follow the first manned landings.

Federal Funds Are Granted For LBJ Park

AUSTIN (AP)—The controversial Lyndon B. Johnson State Park has been granted $160,000 in federal funds for landscaping, layout and development.

Announcement of the $0-50 matching grant was made Tuesday by U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., and U. S. Reps. J. J. Pickle, Austin, and O. C. Fisher, San Angelo, both Democrats.

The grant comes from the land and water conservation fund, which gets its revenue mainly from federal recreation charges to such federal recreation areas as national parks and forests.

According to the announcement, the grant will help finance construction of picnic tables, walking trails, a visitor's center, restrooms, roads, parking facilities and water, sewer and electrical systems. It also will help pay the cost of design layout, site preparation, reforestation, landscaping, fencing, signs and markers.

Present facilities are limited to a small area of the 269-acre park, where there are portable picnic tables and large wire enclosures in which buffalo, deer and Longhorn cattle graze over several acres.

State funds never have been earmarked for the park, but the state auditor reported in May that Parks and Wildlife Department records showed $144,445 had been spent to buy 239.4 acres. The money was raised privately, and donors' names have not been made public.

The park is across the Pedernales river from President Johnson's LBJ ranch about 65 miles west of here.

Abandoned Dynamite Put To Torch By Expert Team

STANTON—So the man set fire to the dynamite and that's all there was to it.

However, it must be borne in mind that the man who set the fire burning knew his business. If John Doe had set the fire, chances are they'd be wondering what became of poor old John.

Dan Saunders, sheriff, tells the story.

His brother, O. E. Saunders, rents some grass land on the Murphy Baxter ranch, 25 miles south of here in Midland County. Sunday a bird hunter came across a full case of dynamite, half hidden in the tall grass. It had been there for sometime.

The bird hunter went "way around and reported it to O. E. Saunders. O. E. went "way around, too. He called Brother Dan.

Dan, with the wisdom of years, called Webb AFB and was referred to a group of men they have there called the demolition squad. He described the dynamite.

"Do not touch," warned the demolition expert. "We are on our way."

"They were here in nothing flat," marvelled Dan.

The experts said that the dynamite was 60 proof and that, because it had weathered as long as it had, the "juice" had melted out and formed a thick viscous semiliquid on the bottom of the case. That was TNT, the experts grimly told Saunders.

"It's right at its most dangerous point," said the Webb men.

The explosive was just a short distance from a highway so Sheriff Saunders blocked off the newspapers." When the demolition man took a match out of his pocket.

"What are you going to do when you light that paper?" asked Sheriff Saunders.

"Run as fast and far as I can," said the Webb expert. So he lit his fuse and they all ran.

"The fuse set the paper afire," said Saunders. "The paper ignited the dynamite. The dynamite burned like tinder. There was no explosion. In a little while, it was all over."

He said he was deeply grateful to the Webb demolition men.

"They certainly know their business," he commented admiringly.

Delegate Reports On Capitol Tour For Lion's Club

STANTON (SPL)—Lions Club members got a report on David Adkins' trip to Washington, D. C., in the Government-in-Action tour sponsored by electric cooperatives.

David had been chosen as one of two delegates by the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative by reason of a top essay. He projected colored slides made during the trip and gave his impressions of the tour and what it meant to him.

Next week Hal Adams, Midland, a past district governor, will be in charge of the program for the club when it meets at noon Tuesday at the Belvue Restaurant. Adams will show the film, "Sight," which explains one of the special projects that Lions Clubs engage in.

At Tuesday's meeting, presided over by Tom Ed. Angel, Lawrence Adkins, Lomax, and Jimmy Conners, a teacher and member of the coaching staff, were guests. Eighteen attended.

Seven Youth Clubs Started At Y Monday

Four Tri-Hi-Y Clubs (girls) and three Hi-Y Clubs (boys) were started Monday evening at the YMCA. Curtis Mullins, general secretary, said he was hopeful of organizing a fourth Hi-Y club, this one for freshman boys.

Election of officers will come after the clubs have functioned briefly and members have come to know one another. Every boy and girl in high school is urged to be at the Y Monday at 8 p.m. to take part in the clubs, said Mullins.

The first project that the clubs will undertake is to prepare for the youth-in-government project. This entails conceiving a subject for legislation, then developing a bill to implement it.

Mrs. Dexter Pate, the former Cathy Johnson, will be in charge of the club program this year, and she is in need of additional volunteers to serve as club advisors, particularly for boys' clubs. Any person who will give time to help young people is urged to contact the Y.

Extension Of Seminary Here Being Studied

A survey is being conducted in the Big Spring area to determine the possibility of starting a Seminary Extension department here. Efforts are being made to learn if local Southern Baptist ministers would be willing to teach one night a week and what type of courses would be most in demand.

"It may be possible to offer courses such as principles of religious teaching. If enough local area Sunday school teachers are interested," said Bill Myers, minister of music education at Baptist Temple Church and registrar for the poll.

Seminary Extension Centers are planned and supervised by five theological seminaries of the Southern Baptist Convention. Teachers must have at least a master's degree or its equivalent and be approved by Southern Baptist agencies.

Interested persons should contact Myers or a local Southern Baptist pastor for more information.

West was not optimistic regarding the prospects of establishing one of his suits in defending against South's three no trump contract. In an attempt to do something for his partner, he opened the nine of hearts—which proved to be an effective choice. The four was played from dummy and East signaled encouragingly by following with the seven. Declarer won the trick with the king.

Inasmuch as there was no quick entry to dummy, South cashed the ace of clubs in the vague hope that the king might drop. When only small cards appeared, he continued with another club and East was in with the king. The latter returned a small heart away from the ace to permit his partner to retain a card in the suit with which to reach East later in the play.

North was in with the jack of hearts and declarer proceeded to cash three club tricks, on which East discarded one diamond and two spades while West parted with two diamonds and one spade. South had only eight top tricks at this point and in an attempt to develop the ninth, he led the jack of diamonds for a finesse. West won the trick with the king and a heart return was taken by East's ace. The latter proceeded to cash his long hearts to send the declarer down to defeat.

South missed an opportunity to cinch his contract at the opening gun. Inasmuch as he wishes to be in dummy for the club finesse, he should put up the jack of hearts when that suit is led. If the jack wins, he can lead the queen of clubs next.

If East covers the jack of hearts with the ace and another club, putting East in with the king. The latter can clear the heart suit by leading a third round, but when the diamond finesse loses to West subsequently, the latter is unable to put East in since he has no more hearts and the defense is limited to three tricks on the deal—one diamond, one heart, and one club.

Dear Abby

No Tips Required

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl in my early twenties who works in an office with several older women.

The other women carry their lunches and eat them at their desks. I prefer to go out for lunch every day to get away from the office for a change of scenery. I don't do anything special. I just walk around for the exercise and window shop.

My problem is that several of the women in the office ask me to stop at the department store which is just around the corner, or the drug store, next door, to pick up something for them. It's no trouble for me, and I enjoy doing these errands as it gives me something to do.

When I get back to the office I always find money on my desk for having done these errands. Abby, I do not like taking their money, but they insist. How can I have my way about this? I have even gone so far as to say that in the future I will not do their errands for them if they insist on paying me, but when I come back, there is always money on my desk. What should I do? Sign me "ERRAND GIRL."

DEAR GIRL: If you continue to accept the money — though under the strongest verbal protest — they have a right to assume that you don't really mind taking it — no matter what you say.

DEAR ABBY: I wonder just how many people wrote in to tell you that your Spanish was beautiful. But why did you reply in Spanish to a reader who wrote to you from Brazil?

In Brazil they speak Portuguese, not Spanish. If it makes you feel any better, 99 out of 100 Americans make the same mistake. BORN IN BRAZIL.

DEAR BORN: I quit counting after 1,000. Believe it or not.

Pike Growth Good In Panhandle Lake

CLARENDON, Tex. (AP) — Northern Pike, experimentally released five months ago in Greenbelt Reservoir, 66 miles west of Amarillo, have grown to 10 inches.

Game Warden Carl Carter said 150,000 tiny Northern Pike were released in early April in hopes they would prey on the high shad and carp population in the lake. Early reports indicate that survival and growth are good in the cool Panhandle lake.

Labor Leader Moved Coal To Protect Members' Jobs

By HOUSTON HARTE

IN THE GULF, NEW ORLEANS TO PANAMA — We sailed from New Orleans at 5 p.m. one evening, and were in the Mississippi until a little after midnight. Two pilots were required to take the Gulf Merchant into the Gulf. One took the ship down stream until it widened out at the sea. The other took the boat safely into the Gulf.

The approximately 140 miles the Mississippi flows through lower Louisiana has undergone amazing development during the last decade or two. Oil and gas wells are visible on each side of the river and sulphur mines are spotted down to the Gulf. Cheap gas provides the heat for the water which is pumped into the sulphur formation and brought out laden with sulphur. It is piped to settling basins where the sulphur settles and is allowed to dry. It is perhaps one of the cheapest mining processes.

Heaps of coal piled along the river demonstrate one of the late John L. Lewis' ingenious projects. The discovery of gas and the laying of the longline gas distribution systems caused the late president of the United Mine Worker's Union to demonstrate how he could save jobs for his men.

Lewis interested mine owners in Kentucky fields in a scheme of supplying gas to a large Florida electric utility company. Lewis was interested in keeping the utility using coal. He made concessions to the coal companies to modernize their plants. He overcame the reluctance of the electric power producers to sign long term contracts for coal. One obstacle was the fact that the utility company needed an average of 15,000 tons of coal a day and that the Missouri and Mississippi rivers usually were frozen over or packed with ice for weeks every year.

Lewis bought land near the Mississippi, stored great piles of coal where the stream was always open. The coal companies powdered the coal in Louisiana, sent it by a belt to a ship's hold, shipped it to Florida and stored the powdered coal where it flowed by gravity to the boiler fires. Automation and mechanized operation could compete with gas and oil. A wise labor leader worked out the whole transaction and saved the jobs of his union members for years to come. The great coal piles which you can see from a boat on the Mississippi are a monument to John L. Lewis' ability to take care of his men.

side or do not exist. There are no hills through the Mississippi delta and you are told the soil perhaps is the most productive on the North American continent. Even at this season the Mississippi was running bank full. Actually it appeared to be but a foot or two below the crops in the fields on each side of the river. Overflows must come often. Agriculture anywhere is a hazardous business.

Brazosport Area Junior College Plans Activated

FREEPORT, Tex. (AP) — Preliminaries of establishing a junior college to serve communities in the Brazosport area are moving forward rapidly.

Freeport, Clute and Lake Jackson are the largest cities in the Brazosport junior college district.

The junior college district was created in 1948 but plans to activate it came only last year when it was learned that it might be abolished by the Texas Coordinating Board for Colleges and Universities. The college district coincides with the independent school district.

Last July 15, citizens voted to authorize the Brazosport school district board to levy a tax not to exceed 35 cents for the junior college operation and this year a vote is expected on bonds to buy a 150-acre site and start construction.

Dr. Raleigh Jackson, school district superintendent, was named interim president of the college by the nine-member college board which the school district set up.

The regents also hired Dr. C. Colvert of the University of Texas as consultant. Colvert estimated the college could open in 1969 with an enrollment of 800.

Reagan Asks Escalation

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan called Tuesday for a sharp escalation of the Vietnam war "to win the war as quickly as possible."

The Republican governor — a possible contender for the GOP presidential nomination — also told a news conference "I am just not interested" in being the vice presidential candidate in a Republican ticket headed by New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Reagan was questioned about the war at his last Capitol news conference before beginning on Sept. 28 a series of speeches outside California in which he is expected to discuss Vietnam and domestic issues.

He said the United States had stepped up its war effort too gradually, without winning. A reporter asked if he favored a "sharp escalation."

"Yes," replied Reagan, "to win the war as quickly as possible."

He said the United States should use its "full technology" to win the war, and repeated his belief that the "enemy should still be frightened that we might use" atomic weapons.

But he said he was not advocating the use of nuclear weapons in Vietnam and added he did not believe they were needed to win the war.

State Solons Net More Pay, Work Harder

CHICAGO (AP) — State legislators are working harder these days than ever before — and in most cases, drawing better pay. An Associated Press survey focused on changes in the last 10 years shows:

In some of the bigger states legislating is becoming pretty much a full-time career, with incomes ranging up to $21,000. Pay or fringe benefits, or both, have risen in 31 states.

But in some states lawmaking still is a part-time job at token pay.

Legislatures in 24 states now meet in annual sessions instead of on the old every-other-year schedule. Several are moving toward annual sessions.

SPECIAL SESSION
Most states have had series of special sessions in the last 10 years — as many as 15 in California, 11 in Mississippi, Maryland and Louisiana, and 10 in Florida.

This year sessions set records by running 217 calendar days in California, 175 days in Iowa, 157 in Oregon, 149 in North Carolina and 119 in South Carolina.

The work volume also is increasing.

In the session in Massachusetts, for example, more than 5,100 bills have been filed in the House and more than 1,300 in the Senate.

There are many reasons for the heavier work load — such fundamental issues as reapportionment and the ceaseless scratching for more money to meet spiraling costs of government, school systems and road networks.

$18,000 A YEAR
New York legislators receive $18,000 a year — $15,000 plus a $3,000 expense allowance.

California's assemblymen and senators have a salary of $16,000 a year. They also get $25 a day for expenses while the legislature is meeting. Figuring this year's session that ran 217 days by the calendar — and deducting for some recesses — each drew approximately $21,000.

The Michigan scale is a $12,500 salary plus $2,500 for expenses.

A Devotional For The Day

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me: (Psalm 23:4)
PRAYER: Our Father, be Thou the center of our lives and draw us nearer unto Thee by faith and love. Grant us faith to believe that if we turn to Thee and trust in Thee we shall not be left unaided. We pray in Christ's name. Amen.
 (From the 'Upper Room')

Tragic Turns

One of the great tragedies of this sad summer of rioting and violence is that there have been no voices among the minority groups to speak with force and eloquence enough to counteract the extremists and hate-mongers. Consequently, these warped individuals have found enough following to inflict grievous scars upon the body of progress toward equal rights.

It would be a greater tragedy, however, to react to this by failing to recognize the great underlying tides. Not so many years ago, many people would brush off the first rumblings by saying that "they" don't really want to change things. But a new generation does want a different shake, and to ignore this and seek to brush troubles away by saying that hotheads, preachers of violence and even subversives are at the root of it all is sheer folly.

Those who stir up strife and destruction must be dealt with within and without the minority community.

Law and order must be respected and practiced. But by the same token, this would be but backing up a greater flood of wrath if something is not done with a sense of urgency toward pinpointing not only the causes of seething unrest, but also toward making a start toward attacking these causes.

Among millions who once accepted their lot with resignation and fatalism is today a spark of hope. Sometime it burns with cynicism and resentment, but it burns nevertheless. It will continue to burn more brightly for there is no other logical course for it in a democracy. The challenge is to let it shed light and not spread fire. Thus, wise and sober minds from majority and minority will do well to shape this in the form of opportunity. Every man ought to have opportunity to accomplish all that he is capable of accomplishing. No man owes him neither less nor more.

To Run Or Not To Run

Gov. John Connally may not be agonizing over a decision to run or not to run for another term. But political and family problems are mixed up in the process of decision-making.

His decision has certainly not been made any easier by reports from Washington. He has been told on what must be considered good authority that Sen. Ralph Yarborough has made up his mind to run for governor of Texas if Connally does not run. It would be a free ride, in the sense that he would not be jeopardizing his Senate seat, since his term will not expire until early January, 1971.

There is more than a suggestion that Connally would like to retire to private life and favor House Speaker Ben Barnes as his successor. But could Barnes beat Sen. Yarborough? And if he runs against Preston Smith, an avowed candidate, he risks a split in the conservative ranks. The governor indeed has enough to think about.

Holmes Alexander Farewell To A Winner

CLAYTON, Mo. — She is a Southern gal at heart, St. Louis is, and for a long while she is going to wear the invisible rue of mourning for Dick Amberg. She loved him, and he loved her back. It was a platonic affair that became the talk of the town, and a legend that took on storybook quality, a little bit bigger and better than life, yet ringing so true that every anecdote which people told after the funeral added to the beauty of the tale.

Louis the way Grant took Richmond. He did it with a gentle genius, entirely defying definition by making the Globe-Democrat the hometown newspaper, turning the tables on the Post-Dispatch, which is three generations deep in a Pulitzer ownership.

The Post-Dispatch has the prestige and profundity of a national establishment, but the Globe-Democrat is for the folks. There is the barely perceptible hue of envy in the Post-Dispatch editorial which bade farewell to Amberg, and you could sense, at the huge funeral in the Central Presbyterian Church, that the governor, the mayor, the Congressmen, the commissioners were there for admiration of a winner as well as love for a friend.

HE WAS Richard H. Amberg, publisher of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, which has a very active competitor in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, but as was remarked as we left the graveside, "Dick was really editor of both papers." This is to say he was so far ahead in ideas and activities that the rival paper could do nothing except follow his leadership.

THE MINISTER, J. Layton Mauze Jr., D.D., preached a eulogy which was a literary masterpiece in its balanced phrase. An epicurean choice of words very seldom is the laudatory address worthy of a hero, but this one was perfect in tone and taste, a fit tribute for the earner of 13 medals and citations and the holder of Douglas MacArthur's friendship.

The most quotable line was a double entry: "In a day when multitudes think it's wrong to be right, Dick was mostly right."

A THOROUGHGOING Republican, Amberg couldn't see anybody except Richard Nixon for the GOP nomination. What a pity that he didn't live to see Nixon nominated and elected, as he confidently expected!

For myself, I left the graveside half inclined to send the former vice president a telegram: "The next one for Dick Amberg."

No man, no party, no philosophy, could have a better inspiration.

The unanimous report said all the military leaders who had testified stated that closing or neutralizing or isolating the port of Haiphong was "the single most important thing which could be done in North Vietnam from a military standpoint."

The subcommittee itself called for an immediate increase in bombing all important military targets in North Vietnam, even if it risks war with Red China. "What is needed now," the report said, "is the hard decision to do whatever is necessary, take the risks that have to be taken, and apply the best monument, of course, stands above him, the newspaper that he rescued from doldrums where it was floundering 12 years ago, totally out-classed by its competition and being chewed to ribbons by the Labor boys. Twelve years? Yes, this was Dick Amberg's incredibly brief incumbency. It's amazing that he became the 43-year-old publisher only as far back as 1955, for he died Sunday before Labor Day, with the reputation that requires most men a lifetime to achieve.

ling of the first and second fingers, and part of the third, that being the area served by the nerve.

The condition may result from injury or a variety of other causes — it is sometimes seen with the menopause, or with low thyroid states, among others.

It can, obviously, to some extent resemble disorders of the neck, spine, or presence of a cervical rib which I discussed yesterday. (With disorders originating in the neck, the symptoms usually are exaggerated at night.)

Neck disorders generally affect more than just the appropriate fingers for carpal-tunnel syndrome.

In any event, a simple test for carpal - tunnel syndrome, as differentiated from neck spine pressures, is to bend the wrist forward as far as it will go and hold it there for 60 seconds. If it is carpal-tunnel, the symptoms (numbness, tingling) will be reproduced.

Finding out the cause in a particular case is the important thing; one gets into trouble by assuming that because the last case treated was from such-and-such a cause, the next one

A friend of mine is, I believe, very sensitive in religious matters. I think he's too careful and believes he has sinned when really he has not.

Three cheers for your friend! Most of us are not sensitive enough to the voice of conscience, and the Spirit of God.

Great care should be taken in spiritual matters, for they are concerned with eternity. Most people today consider the material side of their lives, and neglect the spiritual — thinking it irrelevant. Thank God for at least one who is extremely careful about his relationship with God.

Jesus said, "Straight is the gate and narrow is the way that leads to life, and few there be that find it." We should all fear that we might not be counted in that "few" who find the way.

NEW DELHI (AP) — The Delhi Golf Club has a rule that "the ball must be played from where the monkey drops it."

"This is because we have made, out of necessity, the monkey an unofficial partner in our games," a club member told a reporter.

Monkeys abound in and around the golf club and take delight in chasing golf balls and tossing them around.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara apparently changed their minds under pressure about stepping up the bombing in North Vietnam.

The story goes like this: McNamara went before a Senate subcommittee with a long—it took a full newspaper page to print—and detailed explanation of why bombing the ports in the North could not by itself win or shorten the war.

Hal Boyle He Gets The Job Done, Any Job

By WICK TEMPLE
 HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Every city in America should have a man like Walter Marshall.

You know, the kind of guy who forgets about accumulating money and turns to the thankless jobs that put a city on wheels; the guy whose personality gets into the foundations of a town.

talent from all over the country. The result is standing room only virtually every night of the summer. Walter and Doris are always in the wings, though there is no cash in it for them.

When John F. Kennedy came to Helena campaigning in 1960, Walter had the job of driving him back to the airport. "You've got to see our theater, Jack," he said, and promptly drove there.

WALTER MARSHALL is a chunky, zestful little man who finds more than 24 hours in a day. He isn't a mayor or a civic club president, although he could be, and he could be well-to-do from his livelihood, which is selling advertising in Helena.

But many years ago, Walter decided how much time he would give to making money, and how much to nonpaying work. The nonpaying variety turned out to be more fun.

SEEMS the dogs liked the senator and spent most of the trip licking the back of his neck. A couple of years later, Kennedy came back as president. When he stepped off the plane he spotted Walter in the welcoming committee and said:

"HELLO, WALTER. Do you still have those damned dogs?"

The Montana Centennial Commission sent a special train around the country to promote the state. Walter went, of course. They wound up in Washington, needing a big splash to get the promotion going. Everyone else was trying to figure an angle when up to the depot drove Walter with a fleet of black limousines, hauling two cases of champagne and virtually every secretary in the White House.

"THIS WOULD BE a rational Soviet objective, particularly if it involved—as it probably would—a substantial increase in the Communist position in the Arab countries."

"OUR OFFENSIVE weapons are second to none—but it has been our announced and continuing policy for generations never to strike first. Today — in effect — we are asking the American people to be prepared to accept near nuclear annihilation because of our strategy calls for absorbing the first nuclear strike."

To Your Good Health Cause Of 'Three-Finger Numbness'

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
 Yesterday I was discussing pain, numbness and tingling which can result from pressure on a nerve root in the neck.

The condition may result from injury or a variety of other causes — it is sometimes seen with the menopause, or with low thyroid states, among others.

It is beside the point that the problem I was discussing at the time did not have the characteristics of carpal-tunnel syndrome; that's what the secretary had, so I was supposed to assume that it was the other reader's problem, too!

Bony changes in the neck are a common cause of such troubles, but as I remarked yesterday, it is never safe to jump to conclusions. In every case, you have to find the point at which pressure is exerted on the nerve, and then find a suitable way to remove the pressure.

Carpal-tunnel syndrome represents pressure on the median nerve as it passes through the wrist—usually a scarring or thickening of the sheath surrounding the nerve there.

This particular ailment is featured by numbness and tingling of the first and second fingers, and part of the third, that being the area served by the nerve.

The condition may result from injury or a variety of other causes — it is sometimes seen with the menopause, or with low thyroid states, among others.

It can, obviously, to some extent resemble disorders of the neck, spine, or presence of a cervical rib which I discussed yesterday. (With disorders originating in the neck, the symptoms usually are exaggerated at night.)

Neck disorders generally affect more than just the appropriate fingers for carpal-tunnel syndrome.

In any event, a simple test for carpal - tunnel syndrome, as differentiated from neck spine pressures, is to bend the wrist forward as far as it will go and hold it there for 60 seconds. If it is carpal-tunnel, the symptoms (numbness, tingling) will be reproduced.

Finding out the cause in a particular case is the important thing; one gets into trouble by assuming that because the last case treated was from such-and-such a cause, the next one will necessarily be from the same cause.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any test to see if a woman is a carrier of hemophilia? My mother is a carrier and my brother was a hemophiliac. They say the daughter of a normal man and a woman who is a carrier has a 50-50 chance of being a carrier.

I have one daughter and am quite concerned whether I am a carrier as I plan to have another child. — Mrs. C.B.

Occasionally a carrier may bleed excessively after, say, a tooth extraction, and occasionally certain tests for bleeding, such as coagulation time or prothrombin time, may be abnormal, but these are not specific tests for a carrier of the trait. There is no reliable way to know for certain until a son is born.

Are you having a gall bladder problem? To find out how the gall bladder works and what types of trouble to look for send for Dr. Molner's booklet, "You And Your Gall Bladder." Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover the cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

The Perpetual Gremlins

Like the common cold, there is no cure for the typographical error, or for its kindred gremlin, the misworded phrase. They are always cropping up, even in the best of circles. So long as people put words together and print them, there will be a fresh crop of misuses. Here are a few from the latest harvest.

The Spokesman - Review noted: "He was active until shortly after his death." Must have had quite a bit of momentum.

and matching long mits that came to points over her hands, and carried a bridegroom . . ." according to the Washington (Ind.) Daily Times.

Said the Dallas News: "The special delivery messenger for the post office was indicted for allegedly sealing two letters which had been entrusted to him."

SAID THE Bangor (Me.) Daily News: "Her sister, Mary, married the painter John Blank and occasionally exhibits herself." Oh please tell us that Mary paints pictures.

The UPI reported that "The American folk singer was charged with carless driving."

"He said he would refuse to take the oath for induction . . ." said the Dayton Journal-Herald.

Commenting on a star-chamber session, the Janesville (Wis.) Gazette reported: "In a move to escape public scrutiny during the delicate consideration of Blank's replacement, the city fathers held a rump session."

AND THE Roseville (Calif.) Press Tribune said that "He has indicated he would show the double killing was premeditated."

To add zip to a special concoction, the Buffalo Courier Express gave these directions: "A drop or two of tobacco sauce will perk up mayonnaise."

THIS BIT of helpful advice from the Madison (Ga.) Madisonian: "Notice of undelivered copies should be mailed in."

More nearly from the typo realm, including occasional misplaced lines, are these:

"The marriage will be columnized Sunday," said the Dallas (Mo.) Democrat.

"The bride wore a white silk sari she had picked up on one of her tours for the U.S. fruitcake which the bride's mother had brought from Cleveland," noted the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"SHE WORE a blue satin headpiece

"It will carry the polluting sewage far out to sea or to huge disposal plants," explained the Atlanta Journal.

"CONGRESS is likely to pass a sloop-gill bill extending . . . copyrights," said the Beaumont Enterprise.

And the Los Angeles Times had this bit of intelligence: "Ferrie's body was discovered with a sheep pulled over his head."

Perhaps this item in a Denver Post television schedule will come under the head of how's that again: "World series. Third game in the series. Teams to be announced."

Run that by just once more, please. —JOE PICKLE

David Lawrence Deterrent To A Nuclear War

WASHINGTON—Most people do not understand the problems involved in trying to avert a nuclear war. They have assumed that America is strong enough to deter any country from making such an attack. But it is not so simple. There are developments which indicate that the United States will have to do far more than has been planned to protect the American people against a "surprise attack."

TWO SPEECHES made over the weekend tell a significant story. One was delivered in London by Professor William Polk, director of the Center for Middle East Studies at the University of Chicago. The other was given by Sen. John O. Pastore, Democrat of Rhode Island, who is chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy. Their statements shed new light on the risks and perils of nuclear war despite the negotiations going on now for the signing of a treaty to prevent more countries from making weapons of the nuclear type.

lore at the ceremony launching a new nuclear submarine. He declared the Senate Joint Committee on Atomic Energy will soon start hearings to consider a program of expansion of both Polaris submarines and nuclear-attack submarines. He stressed that another senate committee soon would take up the question of an anti-ballistic-missile system. He added:

"THERE IS LITTLE doubt that the Polaris submarine represents our most formidable deterrent to an all-out war . . ."

The Soviet Union's offensive nuclear striking power is increasing in comparison to our own—while at the same time they are deploying one and probably two anti-ballistic-missile systems to defend their country—which we are not doing—I repeat—we are not doing . . ."

"We cannot live in a world of atomic energy and discount completely the possibility of 'surprise attack' on our nation . . ."

PROFESSOR POLK pinpoints a potentially dangerous situation in the Middle East. He says that either Russia or Red China may endeavor to set up nuclear missile bases in Egypt. This might, incidentally, explain why the Soviets have been investing so many millions of dollars in giving arms to Egypt. Most people have interest in Egypt. Professor Polk declares that a Soviet medium-range-missile base, established in Egypt, could be used as a threat to force the U.S. Sixth Fleet and Polaris submarine units from the Mediterranean. He says:

"DEVELOPMENT OF an ABM system is, I repeat, extremely expensive but, indeed, necessary. In this kind of a world, the alternatives are few. The security of our country—the ultimate in its defense—deserves the highest additional priority. An affluent America—with so much to lose—must not face this mortal challenge cheaply."

base with the NSA," said Helmer. He fortified his own group, the Male Secretaries of America, and helped it grow to 315 members.

ALTHOUGH THE girls remind everyone that the equality provisions of the Civil Rights Act do not apply to their association, they recognized the pressures of the times. They changed their attitude and their bylaws this year.

Bucky Helmer again applied and was invited this month to Kansas City, the national headquarters. In fact, the girls paid his way there. They baked him a cake and decorated it to say "NSA welcomes Bucky Helmer to membership."

Lenore Forti, president, duly noted that history was being made. "Perhaps secretarial historians will record that Bucky Helmer is symbolic of the Biblical Joshua for whom the walls of Jericho went tumbling down," she said.

HELMER RESPONDED in the only way a humble male could respond. "I am deeply grateful," he said. "I guess it is everybody's dream to be first at something."

He could hardly fail to reflect on history himself. Once the dark offices of the late 19th century were all male, to the spittoons on the floor and the tobacco stains on the walls.

Now that he has cracked the NSA barrier, Helmer's Male Secretaries of America must consider what to do with their own group, which was formed to educate and interest men in the advantages of secretarial careers.

John Cunniff Humble Male Cracks NSA Barrier

NEW YORK (AP) — The handwriting was on the wall, clear and unmistakable in this age of legislated equality, so the girls of the National Secretaries Association finally agreed to admit their first male associate.

"This is a clean break with one of the basic precepts set down by the founders 25 years ago," announced the association, which now has more than 25,000 members, all but one of them female.

BUT THE REAL story is the odyssey of C. J. "Bucky" Helmer Jr., who fought a long, lonely battle against the forces of discrimination by sex, a battle some men concede is uneven on a one-to-one basis. But 25,000 to one makes Helmer a hero.

Now that accord has been reached, "some members will have to try to adjust," said Helmer, an employe of the New York State Electric & Gas Corp., Binghamton, N.Y.

"I'll be active but no more so than any other active member," he said.

USING WISDOM acquired as the only male in a secretarial class of 90, and as the only man in a family that includes his wife and 5-year-old daughter, Helmer emphasized:

"I don't want to give the impression I want to take over, so I won't press for office."

Bucky Helmer's battle was not an easy one. In 1964, when he was in his early 20s, he applied but found the NSA had no provisions for admitting men. All their brochures referred to she and her—never to he or him or his.

"Back in 1964, I couldn't get to first

Bride-Elect Is Party Honoree

Miss Wanda Williamson, bride-elect of Lewis Moss, was honored recently with a pre-nuptial shower in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

The seven hostesses were Mrs. Jesse Moore, Mrs. James Norman Sr., Mrs. A. C. Jones, Mrs. Wayne Stewart, Mrs. Howard Reed, Mrs. Jimmy Norman and Mrs. Lawrence Whisenunt.

The couple plans to be married Sept. 30 in the Phillips Memorial Baptist Church.

The honoree was presented a corsage of white carnations as were her mother, Mrs. Gordon Williamson, and her fiancée's mother, Mrs. Harold Moss. Also, the hostesses gave Miss Williamson a sauce pan.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with white lace over blue linen and centered with a blue and white floral arrangement.

Approximately 40 guests attended.

Area Residents Visit, Take Trips

FORSAN (SC) — Mrs. W. H. Redwine of Colorado City recently visited in the David Redwine home.

Guests of the P. P. Howards are the Charles Howards of Big Lake and Mrs. George Abec Andrews.

Cecil Klahr of Big Lake has returned home following a visit with his father, F. J. Klahr.

Chief Glenn O'Neal of Washington, D. C., was a recent guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Oglesby.

Mrs. Mary Archer spent the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Jones in Stanton.

The Roy Klahrs and Mrs. Sylvia Angles visited the Phil L. Moores Sunday in Kermit.

The L. W. Moores, Midland were Sunday guests of the J. P. Kubeckas.

Mr. and Mrs. James Craig Robert Lee, visited recently with Mrs. Vera Harris and with his mother, Mrs. Jim Craig, a patient at Cowper Clinic and Hospital.

Airman J. C. Joyce Bennett of Lackland Air Force Base spent four days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cowley. Airman Bennett is a former resident here and is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Monroy.

Child Care Reviewed

Mrs. Morris Rhodes reviewed the book, "The Absolute, Complete Book on Child Care," by Eleanor Golden Smith at the Tuesday meeting of the Jaycee-Ettes. Mrs. Delbert Donelson, 2703 Lynn, hosted the meeting, and Mrs. Henry C. Hill was co-hostess.

The book deals with child care from the ages of "one through 40" and offers satirical timely tips for parents.

Mrs. Melvin Fryar presided and announced plans for collecting shoes for the Salvation Army with Mrs. Hank Hill in charge. A donation was made to the Bible fund.

Mrs. Fryar, Mrs. Joe Crump and Mrs. Charles Butts will serve refreshments at the Veterans Administration Hospital during the month and a hayride will be held Sept. 23 honoring Webb Air Force Base wives.

Refreshments were served to 10 attending.

Return From Trip

STANTON (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Ory have returned from Fort Richardson, Anchorage, Alaska, where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Capt. and Mrs. Burley Polk and family.

Talk Urges Better Use Of Senses

More sensitive use of the five senses, sight, hearing, smell taste and touch, were urged by Mrs. Horace Rankin who presented the program Monday for 10 members of Xi Mu Chapter Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Truett Vines, 1421 Hilltop Road, was hostess and Mrs. Jack Tayrien was cohostess.

Mrs. Vines presided, and Mrs. Harry McMillan distributed yearbooks. A project concerning the use of trading stamps was announced.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a lace cloth and centered with yellow mums and a black key symbolizing the theme, "Turning the Key to Happiness." Mrs. Ernest Rapalee and Mrs. Jerry Spence will be hostesses on Sept. 25.

History Of Social Security Probed

Erven Fisher, Social Security district manager, gave a brief history on the development of the Social Security Act at the Monday meeting of the Conoco Wives Club in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

Fisher specified individual benefits under medicare and told the members that the first year's hospitalization under medicare benefits cost nationally $2.5 billion.

Mrs. Kenneth Campbell and Mrs. D. W. Robertson were hostesses, and ten attended. The next meeting will be Oct. 3, with Mrs. Ennis Cochran, volunteer coordinator at the Big Spring State Hospital, as guest speaker.

Pioneer Sewing Club Hosts Meet

Coates, N. Birdwell Lane. The couple was married in the sanctuary of the Airport Baptist Church, with the Rev. Lee Jones serving as officiant.

IN CALIFORNIA

R. R. McEwen Marries Mrs. Bertie Sheridan

Friends here have received announcement of the marriage in California on Aug. 25, of R. R. McEwen Sr. and Mrs. Bertie E. Sheridan.

Mr. McEwen, for some 20 years operator of an automobile dealership here and prominent in business and civic affairs, has resided for a number of years at La Jolla, Calif., following his retirement from active business in Big Spring. His first wife, Lillian, died about two years ago.

Mrs. Sheridan, widowed for 10 years, had been a resident of Eureka, Calif., and a close friend of the McEwens.

The McEwens are now at home at 925 Havenhurst Drive, La Jolla, Calif. They plan a trip to Texas later in the fall.

Members Will Receive Flowers

Plans were made to send flowers to four charter members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen during the Friday evening meeting when Mrs. T. A. Underhill presided.

Receiving the bouquets will be Mrs. Pearl Smith, Mrs. W. E. Clay, Mrs. Rosie Taylor and Mrs. Stella Tyson.

Hair Coloring Ways Offer Much Variety

By MARY SUE MILLER

The variety of hair coloring products has multiplied in the last years to a degree where a choice can be perplexing. Even the terms used to describe products and processes have undergone changes. The aim here is to cue in those with prime significance.

Temporary coloring — These shampoo out. Some are ready-mixed and contained in self-applier bottles. Others, capsules and powders, are dissolved in water. These are applied after a shampoo to partly dried hair. Still another type combines shampoo and color. The mission is to give more character and sparkle to the natural shade and to blend in gray.

Semi-permanent colors — In this category are color shampoos and after-shampoo rinses. The color lasts from four to six weeks and fades so gradually that retouching is unnecessary.

Permanent tints—Here there are several processes: A one-step process with pre-gauged color and developers, sometimes contained in kits and sometimes in shampoo combos; used to somewhat lighten or darken the hair. A two-step process, whereby the hair is stripped of color via lighteners (bleaches) and then tinted a pale shade via a toner.

Miscellaneous — Hair color sprays and crayons for streaking and emergency touch-ups. Drabbers—rinses for softening harsh, brassy tones. Conditioners, shampoos, sprays made expressly for the care of tinted hair.

Housing May Be Moved To Kent Area

Federal Housing Authority representatives, together with a delegation from Culberson County, Tuesday afternoon inspected 35 houses in the Monticello Addition to see if it would be practical to move them to solve a potential housing problem.

The Culberson group is working with the Eclor Chemical Corp. in the development of a sulphur plant, probably somewhere near Kent. Housing for part of an estimated 200 construction workers is needed.

The FHA has some 200 houses in its inventory here, nearly half the number in the Monticello area. These houses are of frame construction with siding and could be moved.

The proposed sulphur operation is envisioned as a $26,000,000 project, which would require three daily shifts of 10 workers each. A railroad spur to connect with the Southern Pacific west of Kent has been assured. The schedule calls for start of construction sometime in January and reach a peak by July.

FHA officials, conferring with the Culberson delegation first Tuesday morning in Odessa and then coming to Big Spring, were Glenn Bailey, regional director, and Sam Counts, properties man, together with Bill Durham, underwriter.

City officials today are looking toward a plan to develop the original "big spring" site, in an effort to have it accessible for the stream of tourists expected through here next year going to the HemisFair at San Antonio.

During the Tuesday evening meeting, the city commission approved acceptance of a 15.49 acre tract from the Cosden Pension trust, which includes the old site. A token fee of $10, plus an agreement by the city to develop the site, with roads and fences, was approved. The Cosden trustees must now give final approval.

Several years ago, city planner Marvin Springer met with local residents and outlined a plan to develop the site. This would include paved walkways as well as a paved road through the City Park to the spring.

Mayor Arnold Marshall named a committee of Dr. Lee Rogers, R. W. Thompson, Mrs. Donald Van Meter, Mrs. J. E. Hogan, Carroll Davidson, Robert W. Whipkey, George McAllister, Edith Gay and Larry Crow to make plans for developing the site. He asked the commissioners to add more names to the list within the next few days.

City Manager Crow indicated this group had met with Springer previously and is enthusiastic about getting the site developed. At the same time, he pointed out there is probably not time to get the site completely developed by next spring. Springer is due back to Big Spring to discuss these plans further.

Crow suggested that the commission break its custom of passing around the annual audit among the city's accountants, and retain one firm to make the check of the city's books each year. Commissioner George Zachariah's motion, however, was to follow the precedent of other years, changing auditors each two years, giving the work to George Thornburn for the upcoming year. It was approved.

Tommie's Place, 401 NW 4th, was due third reading for an ordinance which would permit, was turned down when Tommie Lee Hutchison, the applicant, told commissioners he would not be serving food. Commissioner Jimmy Morehead's motion to deny the third reading was approved.

City participation in a Child Welfare Unit was given approval, on Zachariah's motion, provided state participation is obtained, the county pays half of the local cost, and there is money available. Previously, the county approved the unit, provided it has the money available, the city participates in half the local cost, and that the state not participate in the local program.

Charles Weeg, Mrs. David Elrod and Mrs. Josh Burnett made the request to the commissioners, stating the need for such a unit. Crow said the city has no available money now and the city has a critical financial problem for at least the next two years.

City Attorney Tom Huckaby was asked about the legal aspects of city participation, and advised that the city could participate, but has no obligation to do so. He said the county is charged by the legislature to handle welfare, and by law, county officials will control any welfare agency.

City Accepts Terms For Obtaining Spring Site

1. Set its next meeting for Sept. 25, Monday, so that commissioners can attend the dedication banquet in Austin for D. C. Greer, State Highway Department official, on Tuesday.

2. Gave authorization to advertise for bids to buy a new air compressor, to replace an outmoded one.

3. Denied the claim of Mrs. Helen Cates, 1415 Sycamore, for $98.50 damages to her home when a sewer line backed up.

4. Approved a resolution to assess property owners on US 87, between FM 700 and Big Spring Draw, for curb and gutter costs of the new paving.

5. Asked Crow to contact members of various city boards with expiring terms to see if they have the necessary papers ready to begin annexation procedures on several areas on the outskirts of the city.

The Big Spring State Hospital has requested annexation, as has the Big Spring Independent School District for its bus barns on the east edge of the city.

The parking program is working unusually well as far as students are concerned, although board members questioned the situation for faculty parking.

Jerry Currie pointed out the cars appeared to have no definite parking pattern and were parked at all angles. Supt. Sam Anderson said cables and signs are not yet up on employe lots, but he expects the situation to improve once they are installed.

Meanwhile, trustees were in general agreement that the closed campus policy is working better than was at first hoped. Anderson pointed out that details had not yet arrived for the high school parking. When they do, it should speed up traffic, he said.

Other problems still facing the administration include a delay in shipment of library tables and chairs, as well as a transfer of portable buildings to Moss, Marcy and Cedar Crest to relieve overloaded conditions.

BY REBECCA NUGENT
Four years ago today Danny Valdes, 1603 Robin, became a naturalized citizen of the United States. Monday, his wife, Norma, followed suit as she received her citizenship papers along with 24 others in the federal district court at Abilene.

The formal ceremonies marked both a beginning and an end for the Valdes family—bringing to a close 11 years of preparation for citizenship and at the same time certifying them as an all-American family.

Daughter Leana, 8, automatically became a citizen when she was born here. It was not so easy for her parents. A road involving technicalities, years of waiting and months of study was in store for Mr. and Mrs. Valdes when they came to Big Spring in 1957.

Their story actually began six years earlier when he arrived to play with the Big Spring Broncos, a professional baseball team. His six-month contract expired and he returned to Cuba to enroll at the University of Havana. Following graduation he married his wife Oct. 16, 1956, and returned to Big Spring the next year. Here he was employed by Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. as a multihit operator and company photographer.

Within months he applied for residence papers, initiating a five-year wait before he could become a citizen. In 1962 he realized his ambition after passing an examination over federal and state government as well as oral and written English proficiency tests.

High School Problems Gradually Smoothing Out

Despite the problems expected on an opening day of school, High School Principal John Smith reported everything is going smoothly and students and faculty have responded well to the new building and closed campus policy.

Smith answered complaints of a shortage of food and time during lunch periods at the high school by explaining that adjusting to the new facilities with new personnel had created a slight problem the first day of school.

"Since that time we've reached the point that two of the three lunch hours are running smoothly and the third is rapidly catching up," said Smith.

The parking program is working unusually well as far as students are concerned, although board members questioned the situation for faculty parking.

Jerry Currie pointed out the cars appeared to have no definite parking pattern and were parked at all angles. Supt. Sam Anderson said cables and signs are not yet up on employe lots, but he expects the situation to improve once they are installed.

Meanwhile, trustees were in general agreement that the closed campus policy is working better than was at first hoped. Anderson pointed out that details had not yet arrived for the high school parking. When they do, it should speed up traffic, he said.

Other problems still facing the administration include a delay in shipment of library tables and chairs, as well as a transfer of portable buildings to Moss, Marcy and Cedar Crest to relieve overloaded conditions.

BY REBECCA NUGENT
Four years ago today Danny Valdes, 1603 Robin, became a naturalized citizen of the United States. Monday, his wife, Norma, followed suit as she received her citizenship papers along with 24 others in the federal district court at Abilene.

The formal ceremonies marked both a beginning and an end for the Valdes family—bringing to a close 11 years of preparation for citizenship and at the same time certifying them as an all-American family.

Daughter Leana, 8, automatically became a citizen when she was born here. It was not so easy for her parents. A road involving technicalities, years of waiting and months of study was in store for Mr. and Mrs. Valdes when they came to Big Spring in 1957.

Their story actually began six years earlier when he arrived to play with the Big Spring Broncos, a professional baseball team. His six-month contract expired and he returned to Cuba to enroll at the University of Havana. Following graduation he married his wife Oct. 16, 1956, and returned to Big Spring the next year. Here he was employed by Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. as a multihit operator and company photographer.

Within months he applied for residence papers, initiating a five-year wait before he could become a citizen. In 1962 he realized his ambition after passing an examination over federal and state government as well as oral and written English proficiency tests.

When his wife decided last spring to officially apply, her efforts became a family affair. She spent hours at the library poring up on Texas history, American and state government, and practicing her English. At night her husband served as a one-man reviewing board quizzing her over the day's lessons. An oral examination in early August administered by immigration officials was the last step before Monday's official oath.

The future now holds responsibilities, duties and rights coupled with citizenship of which she plans to take full advantage. Her most exciting moment will be casting her first vote, a right she has long missed since coming from Cuba.

"Compared to the dictatorial form of government we had under Batista, and now under Castro, the freedoms offered here seem almost unlimited," said Mrs. Valdes.

Trustees OK Tax Roll, New Budget

Approval of the 1967-68 tax roll and authorization for receipt of early payments beginning Friday headed the agenda of a relatively routine meeting of school trustees Tuesday night.

The tax roll reflects a total of $1,861,484 which would yield $1,861,484 on the basis of 100 per cent collection. Don Crockett, business manager, told board members. He added that the year's budget had been set up on an estimated tax roll of only $1,800,000. The increased valuation would lead to an increase in school tax funds available.

Divided into four sections, the value of property, with the corresponding school tax at $1.70 per $100 valuation in parentheses, are: oil utilities, $38,307,360 ($618,755); personal property, $9,963,017 ($169,371); acreage, $12,125,769 ($206,137); all additions, $51,013,042 ($867,220).

In other business, board members granted approval of an amended budget for 1968-67, incorporated the Title I program into the regular budget, and okayed the proposed cafeteria budget.

The amended budget, said Crockett, incorporates changes approved by the board during the last year, reflecting receipts and expenditures for local maintenance funds, Title I and II programs, Head Start and the building fund.

Inclusion of the Title I program as a separate item was also approved. Supt. Sam Anderson said the district was assured of $180,444 for the program, slightly less than the $109,000 granted last year.

Along the same line, trustees voted to approve the cafeteria budget although Anderson said there is a possibility it may be amended throughout the year because of an enlarged operation and the many unknown factors involved.

A two-year contract with Pritchard and Abbott, evaluation engineers, was okayed by trustees following a presentation by the firm's representative, Earl Bruce. The appraisal firm has been employed by the school district since 1955.

Possibilities of open house for the newly completed school structures, the high school in particular, was presented by Anderson. He pointed out to trustees that American Education Week in November might be a feasible time. Theme for the special week is "How Good Is Your Child's School?"

Three minor traffic accidents were reported to police Tuesday. A three-car collision at 1230 W. 3rd involved a car driven by Everett Wayne Lomax, Lomax, and the parked cars of Carl Young, 700 E. 15th, and W. U. Laurens, 503 W. 7th. Fifteenth and Gregg was scene of a mishap between Herman Wilemon, Route 1, and Ethel Mathies, 1811 Nolan. The Burger Chef parking lot, 2401 Gregg, was scene of an accident involving a car driven by Winona Taylor, 710 E. 13th, and the parked car of Edwin W. Bacaus, Lubbock.

ALL-AMERICAN FAMILY AFTER 11 YEARS

Mrs. Valdes Wins U. S. Citizenship

Daughter Leana, 8, automatically became a citizen when she was born here. It was not so easy for her parents. A road involving technicalities, years of waiting and months of study was in store for Mr. and Mrs. Valdes when they came to Big Spring in 1957.

The formal ceremonies marked both a beginning and an end for the Valdes family—bringing to a close 11 years of preparation for citizenship and at the same time certifying them as an all-American family.

Junior ROTC Program May Be Added To Curriculum

Big Spring's entry into the program of interest and enthusiasm of those involved, he added.

Junior ROTC boys wear uniforms to school one or two days each week and to certain functions.

On completion of the three-year course in high school, the student going on to college receives credit for one year of college ROTC, while one enlisting in the Air Force goes in as an Airman 3.C. instead of a regular enlistee.

Deadline for entering the program is Nov. 1. There was general agreement among trustees to take a survey of high school boys for an indication of the interest in the program in Big Spring.

To enter the program, individual schools must meet certain requirements, which were pointed out by Supt. Sam Anderson.

"Basically, it must be a school with at least 500 boys, age 14-18, enrolled. Secondly, it must be in full compliance with the federal government's desegregation policy and willing to set the ROTC program up on a three-year basis," said Anderson.

He explained that 96 class hours annually are required for credit, considerably less than the state education agency requirement. Big Spring can meet the requirements, yet the success of the program depends to a great extent on interest and enthusiasm of those involved, he added.

The program has its advantages and disadvantages, Anderson said. Should a boy enroll in the program, he is required also to take physical education, another elective which may prevent him from taking some other courses advisable if going on to college. In addition, the government sets the program up as a three-year course, but the state only grants credit for one year.

"From the standpoint of finance, we have no real problem," said Anderson. "Summer and winter uniforms are furnished by the Air Force, while shoes and socks are not. The local schools must supply a classroom and acceptable storage for uniforms."

He added that the instruction staff would present little problem because of the intention to use retired Air Force personnel. Salary paid the officers or NCO's is the difference between their retired salary and active duty pay. The school pays half of the difference and the government the other 50 per cent.

Three other schools in Texas have operated the program, although one terminated it this year, when it failed to register the required 100 boys in the program, he said.

Smallest Cotton Year Here Since The Drouth

Howard County has the smallest cotton acreage this year since the drouth years of 1952 and 1953.

Gabe Hammack, manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today that cotton farmers have certified they have only 27,079 acres in cotton this year. This means that 46,557 acres allotted to the crop and for the most part planted, have been abandoned as hopeless.

Hammack said that the ASC office is writing checks as rapidly as possible to compensate the cotton growers under the crop support plan for the acres which they have had to abandon due to the dry weather.

The average payment per acre, Hammack said, is about $30. The total payment to farmers for their crop loss will run nearly $1,400,000 for the county.

There are 765 cotton farms in Howard County.

The total cotton allotment for the 1967 crop year was 72,346. Failure of rains and spring moisture resulted in many areas having no crop at all. As a result, when the deadline of Aug. 15 rolled around, only 27,079 acres remained.

What cotton there is in the county is extremely scattered. Fairly good cotton is shown in the Lomax-Elbow, Coahoma, Vincent, and Luther areas. However, the observers are pessimistic as to the possible production.

The county has only about 1,500 acres of irrigated cotton. This, as might be expected, looks good and will produce some cotton.

The prospects are the total crop this year will be under 12,000 bales—a far cry from the bumper year of 1966.

Docket Is Whittled

Bond forfeitures and guilty pleas continued Tuesday to whittle down the lengthy criminal docket which Lee Porter, county judge, has under way this week in Howard County Court.

However, the jury which reported Monday afternoon and again Tuesday afternoon, found nothing to do. It was told to be back in court today.

Dee Jon Davis, county attorney, said the bonds of Douglas Smith, worthless check, and Lin Wallace, worthless check, were forfeited when the two men failed to show up in court.

Another defendant, Don E. Reid, worthless check, was reported in jail in Lubbock. A hold order was placed on him.

C. A. Easley, also charged in a second case as Archer Easley, is in Dawson County before the grand jury. He is charged with writing worthless checks.

Cleo Lane Thomas pleaded guilty to a charge of DWI and paid a fine of $50, costs in the case, and was placed on three months probation.

Robert Mesker, accused of carrying a spear, pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $100 and costs.

Jessie Edwards, charged with writing a worthless check, pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs.

Fred Henry Williams, simple assault, pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs.

May Need Knife

Doctors Watch Mrs. Wallace

HOUSTON (AP) — Gov. Lurleen Wallace of Alabama has undergone her first radiotherapy treatment designed to destroy any traces of cancerous material that might have been missed in an operation last July.

Doctors at M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute removed a malignant tumor and a section of her colon last July 10 in her second cancer operation.

She returned to the hospital Monday for six weeks of radiotherapy treatments. She has requested to be an outpatient this time and she and her husband, former Alabama Gov. George Wallace, have rented a suite in a luxury apartment-hotel near the hospital.

Doctors will watch closely for the first few days whether side effects of the radiation will require her to be hospitalized during the course of the treatments. If not, she may return to Alabama on weekends, a hospital spokesman said.

WATER MILL, N.Y. (AP) — Lt. Richard Warren Pershing, grandson of the late General of the Armies John J. Pershing, is engaged to Shirley Hildreth Gay, a member of the Vogue magazine editorial staff.

The engagement was made known Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. Philip Dumaresque Gay of Water Mill. Pershing is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Pershing of New York and Southampton.

Pilot Hunts Lost Missile

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP) — The Army is using a civilian airplane to search the northern Mexico mountains for pieces of a lost Pershing missile believed to have crossed the Rio Grande border.

The surface-to-surface missile launched from near Blanding, Utah, Tuesday overshoot its target on this southern New Mexico missile range and disappeared.

Range spokesmen said officials of Chihuahua state in Mexico approved a search by a civilian airplane under contract to the missile range. The airplane was in the air several hours late Tuesday, without success.

A range spokesman said radar indicated the second stage with its nonexplosive nose cone disappeared in mountains about 140 miles southeast of Juarez, Mexico, and about 20 miles south of the U.S. border near Van Horn, Tex.

The missile was launched by 7th Army troops stationed in Europe who return to the United States for practice firings.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A very good day and evening for whatever has to do with imaginary matters already a part of your life but that need some up-to-date touch so that you can become a force in the current world by assuming the responsibility for getting persons together who have any power to unite them in a new course of action.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You have some new ideas in mind and can get the cooperation of friends and associates for mutual benefits. This can be a very fine chance for real success in the days ahead. Be enthusiastic.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Get in touch early with one who has influence over your affairs and discuss some good idea you have in mind, particularly regarding a civic affair. Become more popular. Show that you are entering an ambitious.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Bigging gives you fine ideas, but see if you can't expand on them yourself. You can become far more successful. One who is an expert can give you information that brings you much nerve and satisfaction.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Concentrate on some clever angle that will persuade one of whom you are very fond to help you carry through with your ideas. Keep busy of handling responsibilities of every nature. Be thorough.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Look to clever associates to carry through with some joint project in a most unusual and successful way. Many situations come up that permit you to make an excellent impression on others. Be happy tonight.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Analyze your tasks early and then do whatever is most vital, releasing the unimportant to a better time and day. Do nothing to jeopardize understanding with fellow workers. Be cooperative instead.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Plan recreation for the p.m., but make sure you invite the right persons to join you either at home or elsewhere. Be sure you get some of those talents to work also, during day. Be successful with them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) You know just what to do to bring greater harmony into your home life. Be get busy and put such ideas to work. Have no fear in handling problems that are really serious. Live a more ideal life.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23) Certain friends will favor you from you and you should quickly acquiesce. Get busy later with letter writing, shopping, visiting, etc. Don't waste a moment of this precious day and evening. Get much recreation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 20) If you think big you get big results and satisfy that desire to be really affluent. Some unusual pleasure may be quite excessive, but infinitely worthwhile. Make this a very happy day, p.m.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Discuss with admirers what you most would like to have from them and then do something thoughtful in return. Show that you are a sociable person. Get out to group meetings that you really like.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) It is up to you to assist persons in dire need and you share in blessings for your self. Plan for evening's entertainment early. If you go to the theatre, be sure you get ahead socially.

LE-YOU-CHILD IS BORN tomorrow. He, she, or she will be one of those interesting young people who will be very fascinated with the social and humane. Start the education along lines that mean service to others for the right jobs, host or hostess work in public and mercantile places, etc. Socialize, schooling is best here.

Drifting Snow Clogs Passes

By The Associated Press

Cold air swept out of the Northern and Central Rockies into the Plains today, triggering thunderstorms from Kansas to the Upper Mississippi Valley.

Hazardous driving warnings were up through the night for the higher mountain passes of Wyoming, where strong gusty winds caused local areas of blowing and drifting snow.

Frost warnings were posted Tuesday night for parts of Montana, Wyoming and Idaho. The cold air was expected to overspread the entire Rocky Mountain region and the Great Plains by tonight.

Thunderstorms set off by the advancing cold front produced hail during a storm at Plainville in North Central Kansas during the night.

Thunder showers damped parts of Florida and the Middle Gulf Coast. Elsewhere across the South, partly cloudy skies were the rule.

Free Rides Urged In Large Cities

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) Lawrence L. Walters, professor of transportation at Indiana University, told a state transportation study committee recently that it might be more economical in large cities to operate transit systems free and "haul people just like we do the garbage."

He said he based this opinion on the high cost of building free-

HOME REAL ESTATE

Large Listing Available

Now entering its fourth year of service, Home Real Estate Company is more anxious than ever to sell, find or trade your home for you.

Located in Room 103 of the Permian Building, Home Real Estate Company usually has well over 100 homes for sale in all price ranges.

Jeff Brown is the Realtor Broker, and the sales staff also includes Marie Price, Lee Hans and Sue Brown. One of the staff is available at all times to serve your needs.

The prospective buyer may arrange by appointment to view almost any home of his choice day or night, after work, or on weekends. A few choice rentals are also maintained for those who don't want to buy. A variety of financing plans is offered, including conventional, FHA, or VA. Home Real Estate handles FHA and VA repossessed homes, too. If sufficient local financing does not seem available when you decide to purchase, one of the company's mortgage loan contacts throughout the state may be able to help you.

If you want to build a new home, Home Real Estate has choice lots available, and works on a cooperative basis with several architects and builders. As a buyer, this allows you to compare material and workmanship of different craftsmen, and to select a builder of your choice on a competitive bid basis.

If a home is for sale, Home Real Estate knows that the owner has found that selling his home himself is no easy undertaking. Selling a home means attracting the right "prospects"—people who are ready, willing and able to buy, not just curious to see what the inside of a house looks like. The owner can attempt to make the sale himself, or have someone else handle the difficult negotiations. The best way to market a home is the professional way through a Realtor. Just as you go to a doctor or a lawyer for specialized work, a Realtor knows how to sell homes, and is the man to see.

A Realtor is not just another licensed Real Estate Broker. All Realtors are brokers, but not all sales people or brokers are Realtors. The entire staff of Home Real Estate are Realtors, members through the Texas Real Estate Association and National Association of Real Estate Boards, by virtue of their being active members of the Big Spring Board of Realtors. A Realtor subscribes to a strict code of ethics, and assures you moral as well as legal protection when transacting business. Realtor Jeff Brown served as last year's president of the local board.

If someone tries to sell his own home, it is commonly conceded he may price it far above its market value because of sentimental attachments, expenditures made through the years or failure to recognize that houses no longer command scarcity prices.

Or perhaps friends have given their opinion on what the house is worth. Is it the advice of experts? Are they familiar with the current real estate market trends in buying? A house, once it has remained on the market for months because of over pricing frequently becomes a "white elephant." Potential buyers wonder what's wrong with it. Only too frequently it is finally sold for a much lower figure than it would have brought originally, had it been priced right and listed with a Realtor.

On the other hand, an owner may underprice his home because he's unfamiliar with the market. "For Sale By Owner" signs are frequently checked by speculators who are anxious to pick up a profit on a bargain. The staff of Home Real Estate encourages home owners to consider "trading-up" if they are going to continue living in Big Spring and want a different home. Many times the owner can realize a large equity he has in his home by trading with another home owner.

If the owner is moving to another town, Home Real Estate through its connections with the Texas Real Estate Association and the National Association of Real Estate Boards may be able to find someone who is moving to Big Spring from that town and arrange an exchange, giving the customer the protection of dealing with an ethical individual not total strangers. If planning to sell your home, give Home Real Estate 30 to 60 days notice, so they'll be able to handle the job properly.

See Permian For Insurance

Home Real Estate also offers complete insurance service to cover home, car or personal needs. Permian Insurance Agency sells two things every adult should have — protection and service.

The agency operates on the theory that when a prospect buys either products or service, he must be made to feel he is getting something for his money.

The people at Permian believe most policy holders do not know what policies they buy or do. Such information is provided by the Permian agency at no extra cost. Jeff Brown, agent, takes time to sit down with a prospect to learn the needs of the insured, whether he has too much insurance or not enough and at the same time explain the benefits of policies offered by the company and what form of coverage is available.

All types of insurance are offered by Permian. The agency has several stock companies from which to choose and most claims are handled locally by qualified adjusters who are neither biased in their opinions nor indebted to insurance companies for their jobs.

Top Quality Fisk Offered By Phillips

Ted Phillips, owner and operator for 28 years of the Phillips Tire Co., 311 Johnson, has been placing his knowledge of tires and a tremendous service effort behind every top quality Fisk tire he sells.

The Fisk tire, known as the Fisk Premier, is the safety tire of superior durability. Engineered with four piles of powerful, pressure-cooked nylon, the Fisk Premier has proved new high speed safety. The tire has new highway control and was tested in corner, tracking, lane changing, passing and parking. This recently-proved control has been attributed to the wrap-around sureness on curves.

Another superior tire is the "X" tire. It is the most versatile passenger tire and is designed not only for the tire connoisseur and rally enthusiast, but will perform as well for the average driver who owns a compact, sports or foreign car.

The Michelin "X" tire, the first radial cord tire to be placed on the market, was developed by Michelin 15 years ago and constantly perfected since that time.

In a Michelin "X" tire, sidewalls and tread area work independently from each other: the radial ply carcass flexes easily to reduce generation of heat, rolling resistance and fuel consumption; the three layers of steel cords brace the tread to ensure full contact with the road and eliminate tread distortion. That's why "X" tires grip better and last longer.

Bulldogs Have Best Group In 5 Years

Garland Braun, who headed the corps of scouts that watched Plainview in both a scrimmage and in last week's game against Littlefield, told a super-sized gathering of football fans at Tuesday night's meeting of the Quarterback Club that the Bulldogs have their best material in five years and were putting it to good use.

"The Bulldogs are quick," Braun said. "Every back in the starting lineup may be close to being a ten-second man."

The Big Spring coaching aide added that if the Big Spring players expected to have a romp when the two teams meet here Friday night the Steers likely will get the surprise of their lives.

Braun also reminded the gathering of more than 100 people, who met in the cafeteria at the high school, that Plainview is still ranked by that 86-6 defeat suffered by a Bulldog team at the hands of Big Spring several years ago and that coach Don Williams of Plainview hasn't let his team and his town forget it.

Especially poisonous in the Plainview secondary, according to Braun, is Joe Don Martin, a 155-pounder who wears No. 21 on his jersey. Martin is both quick and fast, hits the trap and counter without wasting any time and is capable of going all the way every time he handles the ball. He is also a fine pass receiver.

In Tommy McGee, the Bulldogs have a good field general who is dangerous in an open field and who has a fondness for running both the bootleg and sprintout plays. McGee is a left-handed thrower, a fact that may complicate matters for Steer scouts.

In an earlier scrimmage against Amarillo High School, Plainview looked sluggish but they took an entirely different attitude against Littlefield last week, a development that earned the respect of both Braun and other members of the Steer scouting staff.

Coach Spike Dykes gave a progress report on both the health of the Steers and their attitude in workouts.

Dykes said that the Steers were "sloppy" in their play execution against Lamesa last week but added that that was probably his fault.

"I was coaching the backs," he said, with a smile.

Spike had lavish praise for the defensive effort and the attitude of his players and added that the parents present should feel immensely proud of their sons.

"I've never worked with better ones," he said.

Dykes also said that some members of the alternate unit were playing so well that they were threatening to bench some of the regulars.

Some of the boys who came in for lavish praise from the coach included Johnny Hedges ("he doesn't want to move over and make room for anybody"), Mike Gartin ("a fine blocker all night against Lamesa"), Rocky Wooley, Steve Russell, Lonnie Clanton, Emmitt Miller, Flea Newsum, Steve Riordan, Snake Tucker, R. J. Englert, Greg Lewis, Curtis Barnes, Bob Pursler, Mike Irons, Chuck Smith and Joey Baker.

The play in the Lamesa game which got the biggest reaction, when it was screened for the benefit of club members last night, occurred when Tucker handed the ball off to Englert on a third quarter 78-yard punt return.

Tucker circled the field, running about ten yards farther than Englert down field before setting up a terrific block at the ten to spring R. J. for the Steers' final TD. Following that maneuver, Tucker leaped up to grab Englert in unbridled glee.

Brief reports on football activities on ninth grade and junior high levels were offered by coaches.

The meeting was in charge of QBC co-captains Don Newsum and Jess Slaughter.

Both ninth grade football teams see action here Thursday evening in Memorial Stadium on the HCJC campus — the Toros at 6 p.m. and the Brahmas at 7:30.

Those attending the game are advised to sit in the east stands and park their cars accordingly.

The high school band will be working out its routines for Friday night's varsity game here between Plainview and Big Spring, using the parking lot on the west side of the stadium.

For that reason, the parking lot will be closed to automobiles and no entrances on the west side of the stadium will be opened.

But there are some high quality sophomores and up from the week but added that that was probably his fault.

Ex-Big Springers Loom Large In Lion Plans

COMMERCE — Coach Ernest Hawkins of East Texas State will be counting on some Big Spring people here Saturday night when the Lions open their 50th football season against Abilene Christian College.

Benny Kirkland and Tim Smith will be in the ETSU starting lineup and Berry King and Gary Rogers will be back up men.

Kirkland, a 180-pound junior with one letter, will carry the biggest responsibility as the starting quarterback. An adequate passer and better than average runner, the former all-District 2-AAA quarterback accounted for 62 yards a game in total offense last year and scored 36 points. He was the number one quarterback during most of ETSU's drive for the 1966 Lone Star Conference championship.

Kirkland had perhaps his best performance in a ETSU uniform in a scrimmage Saturday. He ran 18 yards for one touchdown and threw nine yards for another. He completed six of 10 passes for 129 yards, and coach Hawkins said, "I couldn't ask for much more."

The Lion coaches are predicting an all-star year for Tim Smith at defensive tackle. The junior, who played his freshman ball at Texas Tech, got an all-LSC honorable mention last year and is the only returning letterman in the line of ETSU's 2-7 pro-type defense. In 1966, he made 15 tackles and assisted in 49 others.

Coaches respect Smith's courage. He often has to encounter the blocking of Sam Walton to get to a passer.

Smith is 6-1 and 195 pounds and Walton, one of the top prospects in the country, is 6-6 and 274 pounds.

King, a 5-10, 189-pound sophomore, was moved from wingback to fullback this season. He played his last year of high school ball for Big Spring in 1965.

Rogers, a 6-1, 195-pound freshman, will probably see action as a defensive back, although he was a quarterback in high school.

Smith is 6-1 and 195 pounds and Walton, one of the top prospects in the country, is 6-6 and 274 pounds.

Some schools go to great pains to make members of the press feel at home at their athletic contests. Others couldn't seem to care less.

One of those which doesn't even provide working facilities for newsmen is Colorado City, where officials suggest that members of the fourth estate find their own seats in the stands and write their stories as best they can.

This business of covering a football game for a newspaper is distracting enough, even from within an isolated coop. Under conditions that Colorado City imposes upon the ink-stained wretches, it is next to impossible.

Porkers Relying On Ronny South

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The only thing Arkansas has real concern about is offense which has relegated the Razorbacks to no better than a runner-up spot in the Southwest Conference football race.

If Arkansas' opponents would study the record, that may be to the advantage of the Razorbacks.

In 1964 Arkansas was picked to finish third and won the title; in 1965 it was placed second and won again, and in 1966 it was picked for first and finished second.

The 1967 season is more or less wrapped up in Ronny South, who was redshirted last year after lettering the previous two seasons. South will be the quarterback and because he is a talented passer, it would seem likely that Arkansas won't accentuate the running game as before when its quarterbacks leaned toward the ground.

But Coach Frank Broyles says there'll be no letup in running because that's "the best way to win."

He seems to have the men to make the running game go, too, although it will be a sophomore and a redshirt supplementing David Dickey, who had a great season as a sophomore. The newcomers are Russ Cody, a red-shirt soph, and Mike Hendren, both causing Broyles' eyes to glow.

There are 21 lettermen, two of whom are kicking specialists only, and that's the least experience Arkansas has put on the field in a long time. It means there will be eight sophomores among the first 22 and there will be more soph starters than ever before.

But there are some high quality sophomores and up from the week but added that that was probably his fault.

"I was coaching the backs," he said, with a smile.

Spike had lavish praise for the defensive effort and the attitude of his players and added that the parents present should feel immensely proud of their sons.

"I've never worked with better ones," he said.

Lonborg On Mound As Red Sox Win

By The Associated Press
Zollo Versalles and Jerry Lumpe never stopped running but Jim Lonborg was the only one who really got where he was going.

The base running of Minnesota's Versalles and Detroit's Lumpe played key roles in the Twins' 5-4 loss to Washington and the Tigers' 6-4 triumph over Baltimore Tuesday night.

And Lonborg achieved a pre-season goal when he won his 20th game, pitching Boston to a 3-1 victory over Kansas City and a share of the American League lead with the Twins.

Fourth-place Chicago meanwhile, suffered a jolt to its mean hopes when Cleveland swept a two-night doubleheader 4-3 and 7-1. That left the White Sox three games behind Minnesota and Boston. Detroit is one game back in second place and all four teams have 16 games left to play.

In the only other American League games played Tuesday night, California and New York split a doubleheader, the Angels taking the first game 2-1 in 12 innings and the Yankees capturing the nightcap, 2-1.

Home runs by Fred Valentine and Frank Howard keyed the Senators' victory over Minnesota and it was Howard who cut down Versalles trying to stretch a double into a triple with Washington leading 4-1 in the seventh inning. The Twins rallied for two runs in the inning after the play.

When Howard hit his 34th homer in the eighth, it gave Washington the cushion it needed to stand off a ninth-inning Minnesota rally.

Lumpe beat out an infield hit on a close play opening the fifth inning against the Orioles and before the inning was over the Tigers had rallied for two runs, tying the game. Al Kaline's two-run homer in the next inning won it for Detroit.

The Orioles jolted 20-game winner Earl Wilson with early home runs by Luis Aparicio and Dave Johnson.

Lonborg became the majors' second 20-game winner when he bested the A's. He drove in the tie-breaking run with an eighth-inning triple and then scored an insurance run on Mike Andrews' fly ball.

Reggie Smith homered for the Red Sox and Bert Campaneris for the Athletics.

Cleveland jolted the White Sox with Luis Tiant's four-hitner completing the sweep after Bob Allen's clutch relief pitching had saved the opener.

Home runs by Max Alvis and Vern Fuller backed Tiant, who retired the first 12 batters he faced before Pete Ward reached him for a homer, accounting for Chicago's only run.

Allen struck out pinch hitters Tom McCraw and Wayne Causey, leaving the tying and lead runs stranded in the eighth inning of the opener.

Larry Brown cracked a two-run double and Chuck Hinton drove in one run and scored another as the Indians grabbed an early lead and clung to it.

Roger Repoz drove in California's winning run against the Yankees with a sacrifice fly in the 12th inning of the opener but New York came back behind Fritz Peterson to take the nightcap.

Reds Smash Bucs, 15-7

By The Associated Press

The Cincinnati Reds may be going down for the count, but they're still swinging from the heels.

While the pennant-bound St. Louis Cardinals continued their National League stretch drive Tuesday night with a 6-0 victory over Philadelphia, the third-place Reds punched out 23 hits and flattened Pittsburgh 15-7 for their fourth straight victory.

"Just getting by, that's all," chuckled Vada Pinson, who cracked three hits, including a two-run homer, in the pitchers' nightmare at Cincinnati.

Despite their hit parade, the Reds still trail the Cardinals by 11 games and are one-half length behind runner-up San Francisco with 16 games to play.

The Giants whipped Los Angeles 4-2; Atlanta edged the New York Mets 4-3 and Houston topped the Chicago Cubs 5-4 in 12 innings in other NL games.

The Reds jumped Pittsburgh ace Bob Veale for four runs and six hits in the first inning, then rocked reliever John Geinar for five runs and six more hits in the next two innings before completing the assault against Billy O'Dell and Dennis Ribart.

Pete Rose hit a three-run homer and scored four times; Tony Perez lashed a single, double and triple, good for four RBI. Leo Cardenas went 4-for-4; Tommy Helms and Lee May stroked three hits apiece and winning pitcher Don Lee got into the act with a pair of singles.

The Reds' 23 hits fell nine short of the NL record set in 1901 by the New York Giants. The two-team total of 39 hits was 12 less than the nine-inning mark established by the Phillies and Cubs in 1922.

Bob Gibson, making his second start for St. Louis after being sidelined 1 1/2 months with a broken right leg, collaborated with Larry Jaster for a five-hit shutout against the Phillies.

Gibson blanked the Phils for 6 1-3 innings in registering his 12th victory of the season and Jaster pitched hitless ball the rest of the way. Dal Maxvill drove in two runs for the Cards with a double and single.

Ray Sadecki handcuffed the Dodgers on four hits, struck out 12 and didn't allow a runner past first base until the ninth when Wes Parker's double and Lou Johnson's two-out homer ruined the shutout bid. Johnson's homer ended a string of 30 scoreless innings for the Dodgers.

Hank Aaron's sacrifice fly and Joe Torre's run-scoring single overcame a 3-2 deficit in the ninth inning as the Braves snapped a five-game losing string. Aaron also drilled his 36th homer while Ron Swoboda knocked in all three Met runs with a homer and single.

WESTBROOK — Coach Sam Scroggins is seeking basketball games for Dec. 12 and Dec. 19 in order to complete Westbrook High School's 1967-68 schedule. Scroggins said the Wildcats would be willing to play either at home or on the road those two nights.

Lions To Accept Boxing Applicants This Week

Applications for participation in an amateur boxing program under the aegis of the Downtown Lions Club will be accepted here through midnight Friday, officials of the club have revealed.

F. D. (Red) Williams, one of the Lions. In addition, there is a possibility the service organization would sponsor a Golden Gloves or TAAF-type tournament sometime during the winter, Williams said.

If enough interest is shown in the program, matches with teams in other communities will be arranged, according to Those who would like to enroll in the boxing program should fill out the following form.

Meeting The Youngsters

President and Mrs. Johnson meet youngsters yesterday at White House lawn carnival they hosted for children and grandchildren of top Washington officials. Mr. Johnson holds his dog Yuki. Nearly 600 youngsters partook of the games, rides and food. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Kids, Elders Enjoy White House Fair

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every one had fun at the White House Country Fair. The President, smiling broadly, introduced his dog, "Yuki," to the kids who swarmed around him as he toured the first carnival ever set up on the grounds of the executive mansion.

The First Lady rode sidwaddle on a palomino carousel horse, soared 42 feet high on a ferris wheel and handed out autographs. Lynda Bird Johnson and her fiancé, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, kissed atop the ferris wheel.

COTTON CANDY
Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey drove a 1922 Ford around the White House south driveway. In just two hours, about 600 youngsters aged 6 to 18—children and grandchildren of top Washington officials—gobbled up several hundred hot dogs, 950 boxes of popcorn, 820 frozen custards, 700 pink and purple cones of cotton candy, 600 jelly drinks and gallons of soft drinks.

They rode in six antique cars and a miniature plane around the driveways and rode eight ponies around the petunia and geranium-lined fountain. The White House South Lawn took on the atmosphere of a carnival midway, with striped tents, fortune tellers, games of skill, bingo, sack races and dance contests. White House staff, wives of officials and husbands pressed into service to cater to the crowd wore carnival style red and white striped vests and red straw hats.

They doled out prizes of records, toys and stuffed animals. The 50-member Marine Band blared music from a stage, with competition from across the lawn where the nine member "Nightcaps," a group of college students from Maryland appealed to the teen-age dance crowd.

Lynda Johnson turned out in a caramel-colored cowgirl coulotte outfit in mid-high mini-length, with matching cowgirl hat. She tried out all the rides and games of skill.

Robb, her fiancé of three days, was surrounded by reporters and photographers when he appeared in semiformal daytime military uniform as a White House social aide.

Texas Baptist Leaders Draft Record Budget

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Executive board members of the Baptist General Convention of Texas approved a record $12.8 million budget for 1968 Tuesday and set aside $5,000 for a campaign against legalizing race track gambling in the state.

The budget will be considered for final approval at the BGCT's annual sessions, set this year in Lubbock on Oct. 31-Nov. 2.

In another highlight of Tuesday's session, Dr. T. A. Patterson, administrator of the BGCT, lost a fight to have the executive board approve a recommendation that the 10 Baptist schools in Texas not seek to encourage churches to play them in their budgets.

DONATIONS
Patterson said the schools should receive church contributions only through the Baptist Cooperative Program.

Howard Bennett, president of East Texas Baptist College, argued against Patterson's proposal and the board amended the recommendation.

The budget calls for an increase of $575,000 in spending in the next fiscal year.

Dr. Jimmy Allen, secretary of the Christian Life Commission, said Texas Baptists hope to assist in forming a citizens committee to defeat race track gambling. The referendum will be held in Texas in May, 1968.

AUSTIN MEET
Allen said it may be necessary to request additional funds for the campaign. A statewide consultation of church men will be held in Austin Sept. 29.

In other action, the board: —Approved a proposal that a special committee be appointed to assume the management and responsibility of the convention's Church Loan Board. W.M. Shambarger, pastor of First Baptist Church of Tyler and chairman of the executive board, will make the appointment. The request came from the church loan board and Dr. A. B. White, executive vice president. White said criticism has been leveled against the loan association's operation and establishment of the committee will enable "the truth to come to light."

HEMISFAIR FUNDS
—Elected Cecil A. Ray, 44, director of the Stewardship Division of the State Mission Commission of the BGCT. Ray, who has served as secretary of the cooperative program and church finance department, for the last six years, will succeed O. D. Martin, 68, who is retiring.

—Approved the acceptance of the El Paso Good Will Center in El Paso as a gift from the Home Mission Board of the SBC. For many years, it was pointed out, the El Paso Baptist Association, the BGCT and the Home Mission Board have carried on a program at the center. The BGCT has plans to sell the property and purchase new property.

—Authorized an expenditure of $25,000 to $35,000 to cooperate with other Baptist groups in the sponsorship of an exhibit at the HemisFair in San Antonio beginning next April.

—Approved a request from officials at Howard Payne College that they be permitted to borrow $50,000 in connection with improvements at the Douglas MacArthur Academy of Freedom.

Blonde Charged In Daughter's Death Posts Bond

NEW YORK (AP) — Alice Crimmins is free today on $25,000 bond furnished by her family after being arraigned on a charge she strangled her 4-year-old daughter two years ago.

The shapely strawberry blonde was arrested, booked arraigned and released—all within five hours—Tuesday after an investigation into the mysterious deaths of her two children that lasted two years.

Queens Dist. Atty. Thomas Mackell said a man is still being sought in the case but added: "We don't know his identity and we have not questioned Mrs. Crimmins about him."

The children, Alice Marie, 4, and Edmund Jr., 5, disappeared from their Queens home on July 14, 1965. A few hours after they were reported missing the girl was found, strangled, in a weed-covered lot.

Not until five days later was the boy's body found and it was then so decomposed that medical examiners could not ascertain the cause of death.

Mrs. Crimmins was specifically charged with first-degree murder of Alice in the indictment handed up by a grand jury Monday night. Authorities said the boy's death was still under investigation.

An anonymous letter from a woman—later identified—led to the indictment but she was not publicly named.

Mrs. Crimmins, 29, pleaded innocent to the murder charge.

'Sound Of Music' To Play At Ritz

Winning a rating as the most popular film of all times, "The Sound of Music" is coming to the Ritz Theatre in Big Spring for an extended run. It will open Wednesday, Sept. 20.

It is, of course, the film version of Rodgers & Hammerstein's stage musical. A tuneful, heart-warming story, it is based on the true story of the Von Trapp family singers, one of the world's best known concert groups in the era immediately preceding World War II.

The picture won five Academy Awards, including best picture and best direction.

The star is the vivacious Julie Andrews, who started her climb to fame in the U.S. in the original Broadway "My Fair Lady." She plays the role of Maria, the tomboyish postulant of an Austrian abbey who becomes a governess in the home of a widowed naval captain with seven children, and brings a new life of love into the home. Christopher Plummer, the distinguished Broadway and London actor, plays Captain Von Trapp and Eleanor Parker plays the lovely Baroness Elsa who wants to marry him. Richard Haydn plays Max, the family friend whose skill as an impresario leads the family into the world of music. The beloved Broadway and television actress Peggy Wood makes one of her infrequent film appearances as the Mother Abbess.

Richard Wise directed the production. On stage, "The Sound of Music" captivated audiences around the world with its warm, romantic story and its lulling score. In bringing it to the screen, Wise enhanced these qualities with sweep and scope and DeLuxe Color, to provide a new and exciting musical treat—then took his cast to Salzburg, Austria, to film his story.
