

Problems At Panama Canal; Water And Maintenance

By HOUSTON HARTE
PANAMA CITY — The problems facing the Panama Canal, while not as critical as those of construction days, remain formidable. They are summarized as three:

- Water
- Capacity
- Maintenance and protection

Water in a land that has from 100 to 160 inches of rainfall a year does not seem to present a problem, but the locks of the Panama Canal consume 52 million gallons of water every time a ship passes through the canal.

During the month of July an average of 62 ships transited the canal a day. The use of this water is a problem for the Canal Company during the three months dry season between Dec. 15 and March 15 each year.

SHIPS WAIT
 The average draft of the present ships that transit the canal is between 30 and 37 feet. By the middle of the dry season Lake Gatun, the principal source of water, has gone down an average of five to seven feet. This means the canal has to turn away customers who require a draft of 30 feet or more. This effects the 30 shipping companies with large boats which regularly use the canal. Dependability is one of the essentials of a waterway. The canal's success requires it serve its regular customers.

Gatun Lake at its regular depth of 85 feet covers an area of 163 square miles. It is 20 miles wide and 31 miles long. At the time it was built it was the largest man-made lake in the world. The increase in use of the canal, a change in the rainfall in the area may make it necessary to increase the height of the Gatun Dam, pump water from the Chagres River below where the overflow from the locks runs to the sea or build another auxiliary lake such as Madden Lake, to store

New Israel Bond Drive Announced

NEW YORK (AP) — Louis H. Boyar, chairman of the Israel Bond Organization, announced Sunday a new $500 million State of Israel bond drive.

Boyar said the sharp increase of bond sales following the June Arab-Israeli war completely exhausted the bond supply of the $400 million drive inaugurated in March, 1964.

Chichester Plans Journey With Wife

BUCKLER'S HARD, England (AP) — Sir Francis Chichester celebrated his 66th birthday Sunday night by bringing his yacht Gipsy Moth IV to her home moorings on the Beaulieu River. He was greeted by some 5,000 persons.

Chichester said his next voyage will be "a nice comfortable trip round the world with my wife"—but not in Gipsy Moth which he sailed solo around the world with only one stop.

Archbishop Mum On Gaming Plans

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Rt. Rev. Arthur Michael Ramsey, archbishop of Canterbury and spiritual leader of the Church of England, arrived Sunday to preach a sermon in the shadow of the garish row of hotels and casinos on what is known as The Strip.

Dr. Ramsey, 62, told a news conference that Las Vegas is "very much of a holiday center... And it is a place of great spiritual opportunity. When people are away from their homes and their work they become very conscious of their own spiritual troubles."

The prelate of the Anglican Church said he had no official plans to tour the city's gambling halls but "what I do with my own time is my concern, now, isn't it?"

Maintenance of the canal is a daily chore. Slides are a real hazard. Rainfall is frickle. It comes down in torrents or, like West Texas, it does not come at all. The canal was closed for six months in the fall of 1915 the first year it was opened. The Canal Company learned from this unfortunate slide to look for weak places and anticipate what might happen.

BELOW SEA LEVEL
 At Contractors' Hill on the Continental Divide the bluffs through which the canal is cut are 312 feet above sea level. From this height the canal cut goes 40 feet below sea level. In 1954, only 13 years ago, a gap appeared on a hill side. It steadily widened and the company set to work moving the dirt and rock to the opposite side of the hill. This reduced Contractors Hill from its original elevation of 415 feet above sea level to 315 feet. But it eliminated the danger of a serious landslide.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
Q. 1— Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠A75 ♥109632 ♦K83 ♣76
 The bidding has proceeded:
 West North East South
 1 ♣ Double Pass 1 ♥
 Pass 2 ♥ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
 A.—This hand constitutes a good holding opposite a take-out double inasmuch as you might have been forced to respond with little or nothing. Partner should, therefore, be offered a positive increment to carry on, and a rebid of three hearts by you at this point will serve to convey the message.

Q. 2— Partner opens with two diamonds and you hold:
 ♠10752 ♥KJ85 ♦K3 ♣A10
What is your response?
 A.—Three diamonds. This hand obviously will be played in slam, and in order to lay the foundation for the bidding campaign, the trump suit should be accepted. On the next round you will show the club ace. A grand slam is a strong probability.

Q. 3— Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠QJ7 ♥K1062 ♦K943 ♣65
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South
 1 ♥ 3 ♣ ?
What do you bid?
 A.—Three hearts. It is true that your hand does not measure up to the requirements for a double raise. But this is not a double raise in the true sense of the word. Partner must realize that your action may have been taken under pressure. We would not consider it good practice to be taken out of the picture.

Q. 4— Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠KQ96 ♥KQJ975 ♦82 ♣5
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1 ♥ Pass 2 ♣ Pass
 2 ♥ Pass 2 ♣ Pass
 3 ♣ Pass 4 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
 A.—Four hearts. This is preferable to returning to spades. Partner has already ascertained that you have four spades, and you should allow for the possibility that his two spade bid was of an exploratory nature. If partner's spade bid was on the level and he cannot stand hearts, he can return to the higher ranking suit.

Q. 5— As South, vulnerable, you hold:
 ♠AK965 ♥AQJ5 ♦7 ♣442
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1 ♣ Pass 3 ♦ Pass
 3 ♥ Pass 3 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
 A.—Five spades. Partner's jump shift has announced that he has at least 19 points in support of spades. You know, therefore, that you have the material for a slam. However, to allow for the highly improbable case in which partner has two losing clubs, you bid five spades and partner, with second round control of clubs, will proceed to slam.

Q. 6— Partner opens with one spade and you hold:
 ♠108753 ♥62 ♦75 ♣AQ106
What is your response?
 A.—A plain old fashioned raise to two spades is clearly indicated. The possession of a fifth spade should not induce you to take any drastic action, like a jump to four spades, for which there is no real occasion. This is a mediocre hand and nature should be permitted to take its course.

Q. 7— As South, vulnerable, you hold:
 ♠K975432 ♥10963 ♦A ♣9
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 Pass Pass 1 ♥ Pass
 2 ♣ Pass 3 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
 A.—With the splendid fit already established, sight must not be lost of slam possibilities, despite the fact that you have only two high cards. The proper call is four diamonds, denoting possession of the ace. If partner merely returns to four spades, you may decide to quit but, if he makes so bold as to show the ace of clubs, failure on your part to bid a slam would betray a timid streak of huge proportions.

Q. 8— Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠Q64 ♥AJ95 ♦10975 ♣Q10
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South
 1 ♣ 1 NT ?
What do you bid?
 A.—You should double for penalties. If partner's hand is unsuitable defensively, he need not start for the double. Even if he has a mediocre hand counting only 13 points, your nine brings the total to at least 22, which is more points than the opponents can muster.

American Journalist Says Viet Peace Bid 'Cancelled'

Says Peace Bids Scuttled

Harry S. Ashmore, left, Pulitzer Prize-winning former editor of the Arkansas Gazette, and editor William C. Baggs of the Miami, Fla., News, visited Hanoi, North Vietnam, last January. Writing in a recent magazine article, Ashmore now says a promising chance for peace talks on the war in Vietnam was personally scuttled by President Johnson. (AP WIREPHOTO)

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — An American journalist who visited Hanoi says a promising chance for peace talks on the war in Vietnam was personally scuttled by President Johnson.

Harry S. Ashmore, Pulitzer Prize-winning former editor of the Arkansas Gazette, visited Hanoi last January with Editor William C. Baggs of the Miami, Fla., News.

Ashmore said he and Baggs visited with Ho Chi Minh for two hours, and found the North Vietnamese premier "deliberately conciliatory and . . . Ho seemed prepared to consider a specific proposal based on a formula for mutual de-escalation."

HO RESPONSE
"Ho had understood," Ashmore said, "that we would report our conversation to the State Department, and expected some response, since he had made arrangements to have any further message sent directly to him."

The response to Ho Chi Minh's attitude, Ashmore said, was a letter drafted by himself and Baggs in collaboration with William P. Bundy, assistant secretary of state for East Asian and Pacific affairs.

Ashmore said the letter reduced U.S. demands to "some reciprocal restraint" as a condition for a bombing halt prior to negotiations.

Despite this, President Johnson dispatched an uncompromising personal message to Ho Chi Minh, dated three days before the Ashmore-Baggs letter, Ashmore said.

State Department officials, including Bundy, declined to comment.

EXPOSURE RAP
Johnson's letter, Ashmore said, set forth "the most stringent demands yet made for advance assurance that Hanoi would halt all infiltration of troops to the South."

Thus, Ashmore said, Johnson "effectively and brutally cancelled" the peace effort, nullifying the letter that was sent last Feb. 5.

Ashmore's charges were contained in an article in the first issue of Center Magazine, a new publication of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions in Santa Barbara, of which Ashmore is now executive vice president.

In Miami, Baggs said, "The events Ashmore recorded are precisely correct as I recall them. There's lots more that he hasn't said. I'm going to say something this week. I may get into what he said and what he didn't say."

Baggs added, "The existing authorities, the White House and the State Department, asked us to lie doggo in the weeds and we did. They asked us to have a minimum public exposure."

Mustang Grapevine Runs Wild

FT. BELKNAP, Tex. (AP) — What many tourists consider one of the wonders of the great Southwest is the 35-year-old mustang grapevine which covers an arbor at Ft. Belknap, three miles south of Newcastle.

It measures larger than most Young County native trees. The 20 grapevine trunks are 8 to 10 feet tall.

Early Spanish missionaries brought the grape to America and Spaniards introduced it to the Southwest. The vine requires little care.

The Cox Grape Arbor, as it is known as Ft. Belknap, historic old Army post, was started 30 years ago by the late Burl W. Cox, a farmer in the community. He planted grape cuttings he got from Jack County.

Cox planted the cuttings in rows, and the vines soon entwined around wooden fences he built.

In the 1940's, the trunks had grown to such proportions that a heavy metal structure was needed to hold the weight. Government welding classes built the present metal structure.

Sul Ross Students Using Candlelight

ALPINE — Sul Ross State College's 2,000 administrators, faculty, and students returned to the Dark Ages this week and no one is certain when they'll be back.

The trouble started Tuesday, Sept. 12, at 10:45 a.m. when all the power at the smallest state supported school in Texas suddenly quit. Power failures are not out of the ordinary. But this is not an ordinary power failure. Friday afternoon, this story was written by the light from a kerosene lamp.

It is not an ordinary power failure in another way also—it is fickle. Some offices have power, some do not. The office of the president, Dr. Norman McNeil and his secretary's outer office does.

My office is even more unique. It does not have lights, but does have current in wall plugs. My secretary has lights, but no plug power.

The administration building, science building, and library were hit, but the dormitories, cafeteria, and gymnasium were not.

The basement of the administration building, which gets little outside light, is used for classrooms and teachers offices. Many teachers have begun teaching and studying by candlelight.

But the problems do not cease here. All typewriters in the offices are electric, as are the copying machines. The presses in the print shop are electric also. Thus, news in the form of releases is nearly impossible to get out.

To make matters worse, the stamping machine in the college post office is — you guessed it — electric.

The trouble is in the main line which feeds the college. Unfortunately, the main line is completely underground and the exact location of the trouble has not been pin-pointed.

West Texas Utilities, which serves Sul Ross with power, has been digging since Tuesday in gardens, lawns, and everything else trying to find the problem.

Saturday, the Sul Ross Lobos met Eastern New Mexico in the season opening football game, and it was a night game. But the power at Sul Ross's Jackson Field held out.

Meanwhile, as darkness descends on the small West Texas town of Alpine, Sul Ross officials are happy about one thing — September's electric bill will be lower.

Returns To Angelo After Retirement

SAN ANGELO (AP) — Dr. Kate Adele Hill, for many years a top staff member of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service staff in College Station, has returned to her childhood home town of San Angelo after retirement.

A former president of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Dr. Hill has lived in Bryan since retiring from the extension service and has worked with the Brazos Valley Literacy Council. She is the author of several published works and has another book due off the presses soon.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early day finds you able to quickly place an arrangement to be made with much vitality but as the day wears on, it becomes heavier and heavier and you are sure that you do make a special effort to carry through with essential duties and then get plenty of rest.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Getting obligations out of the way early in the week so that you can later get out to pleasurable recreation with persons you like. Get more rest than you usually do. You need to build up your energy.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Show ingenuity in ridding yourself of certain anxieties that have been bothering you greatly, and then try to help others as well. Don't be forgetful with anyone. Exports are not ready yet to give you advice you need.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Concentrate upon how to get a good job to go along with the ideas early in the a.m. Carry through well and avoid social matters later. You may not be certain of certain matters yet, so don't jump headlong into them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Any allies you have should be convinced that you will hold up your end of any bargain do more than your share of work. Take treatments that will improve your health. Then you accomplish much more.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are feeling so strong you want to kick your weight in wildcats, but conserve this energy for your emergencies that may come up later. It could be tough on you in a way, otherwise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Be very calm with kin or otherwise. Be some serious arguments coming up. Show patience. Angling is a practical way in business is all right, but take care someone does not trip you up when you least expect it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Certain besetting situations arise in your business efforts, but there may be a little bug here and there, so take it easy, be thorough. Avoid talks with partner until later in the day. Keep busy.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Get busy with whatever brings you added income in a.m. so that you can get rid of bills later in the day that suddenly crop up. Try not to be extravagant in any way. Put in economy measures.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow he, or she, will be one of those fascinating youngsters who, early in life, will spend much time figuring out how to get others to follow through on whatever his, or her, desires are, but later all this cunning will show, and retaliation comes stealing that it has to be a one-and-done business for best results. Then success.

Father Of Ten Still In Tree

MANILA (AP) — A 48-year-old Filipino farmer climbed a 60-foot coconut tree seven weeks ago, claiming somebody was out to kill him. He is still up there.

Quirino Berja, a father of 10, is sheltered by a plastic sheet and palm fronds and lives on food provided by friends and hauled up by rope.

Relatives have climbed the tree to try to persuade Berja to come down and newsmen tried Sunday, but Berja shouted: "I don't know you... I'm not coming down... They'll kill me."

Neighbors near Binalonan, 100 miles north of Manila, said Berja's fears stem from the death of his 29-year-old son under mysterious circumstances. Two men were arrested in connection with the case but later were freed on bail.

Kosygin Is Sick

Output Of Budene To Be Increased

BEAUMONT (AP) — The production of Budene, or Tufsyn, used to improve wearing qualities of tires, will be increased 20 per cent by Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. when a proposed expansion of the Beaumont plant is completed, according to H.R. Sontag, plant manager.

Goodyear began manufacturing the product here late in 1961 and production has increased steadily since.

Kitchen Cupboards Pose Big Problem

SAN ANGELO (AP) — Mrs. Andrea Alemazkoo—a San Angelo girl who married an Iranian engineer and now lives in Tehran—says finding an apartment with kitchen cupboards has proved to be the greatest inconvenience she encountered in the Persian country.

Here for a visit, Mrs. Alemazkoo said she and her husband hunted for weeks for an apartment with cabinets. "Most we looked at had just a tiny cupboard because refrigeration and canned goods are relatively new items, and people were used to shopping every day."

Manhole Suit Filed
DALLAS (AP) — Clarence M. Bryant has sued Dallas for $2,475 because he fell into an open manhole. His suit says he suffered numerous injuries.

Roping Contest Planned Saturday

COLORADO CITY (SC) — A roping contest for Mitchell County ropers will be held Saturday night at 8 p.m. in the Western Riding Club Arena at Colorado City.

An Elmer Pickens saddle will be the prize, according to Mrs. Charles Wood of Colorado City, riding club secretary. Entrants must have been a member of the club and a resident of the county for six months prior to the contest, Mrs. Wood said.

Contestants will meet before the roping to decide on disbursements of entry fees, she said.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

Sec. B Big Spring, Texas, Mon., Sept. 18, 1967 Sec. B

Nixon Steps Up Campaign Pace

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is stepping up the pace of his campaign for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination...

MUST WIN

Nixon said in an Associated Press interview, "I have to be dramatically effective in the primaries. If I can't demonstrate the ability to win, I've had it."

Wife Of Vet Editor Dies

DENISON, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Claud Easterly, wife of the veteran editor and vice president of the Denison Herald, Inc., died about midnight Sunday at a Denison hospital.

She was the former Ruth Davis and the couple married here in 1931.

Mrs. Easterly was a past worthy matron of the Order of the Eastern Star and was active also in the Waples Memorial Methodist Church.

The funeral service was tentatively set for 3:30 p.m. Tuesday at that church.

Survivors besides her husband include a son, David Easterly, a University of Texas graduate student and part-time employee of the Austin American-Statesman, and a granddaughter.

Friends recalled that Easterly, at the time they were to be married, was assigned as a reporter to cover the so-called Red River bridge war in 1931, when Gov. Ross Sterling called out the Texas Rangers and Gov. William E. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray arrayed his Oklahoma militia at the opposite end of the span.

Easterly took time out for the wedding ceremony but still managed to cover the event, staying with the news story until the issue was settled. Then the newlyweds took a delayed honeymoon.

organizations in four states which have presidential primaries. His staff members think he's sure to win in New Hampshire, Wisconsin and Nebraska, but may have a hard time in Oregon.

Despite the new organizations, sponsored by the Nixon for President Committee of Washington, Nixon has not formally announced whether he is in the running.

He said he will do that—one way or the other—between Dec. 1 and Feb. 1, adding, "I might put my foot in my mouth between then and now and knock myself out of the race."

Nixon now is concentrating on broad issues of foreign affairs while consulting with "the best brains in the country on domestic affairs."

In the interview, he warned fellow contenders for the nomination not to run on a platform of "peace at any price" in Vietnam.

"The candidate might win," he said, "but the Republican president would soon have another war on his hands."

He called for greater use of sea and air power in the conflict and charged that frustration is growing because "people don't believe what the administration says about Vietnam."

West Texas Power Pro India Bound CHILDRESS, Tex. (AP) — A rural electrification expert from West Texas leaves for India this week to help set up pilot projects designed to bring electric power to some 100,000 villages of that Asian nation.

Roy A. Yarbrough of Childress, manager of the Gate City Electric Cooperative, is to be manager of an eight-member U.S. team which will help establish five pilot cooperatives in India.

They will be similar to consumer-owned rural electric systems in the United States which now serve more than 20 million rural Americans.

Yarbrough will serve mainly in the state of Gujarat on India's west coast. He is an organization specialist.

The team will operate under a non-profit contract between the Agency for International Development and the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

'Maya' Film For Children

By CYNTHIA LOWRY Associated Press TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Network television's debutante season ended over the weekend with the introduction of three programs—a comedy series with possibilities, a children's adventure series and a private eye series.

The NBC comedy "Accidental Family" on Friday had Jerry Van Dyke playing a carefree nightclub entertainer in Las Vegas enjoying a bachelor existence until he is unexpectedly confronted with custody of the 6-year-old son he has not seen for three years.

The opening show was concerned with the reunion of the unprepared parent with a sad boy who feels he is not wanted. There were a lot of starts on plots to be made in that initial half hour so there was not much time left for comedy.

PRETTY DIVORCEE Van Dyke, the widower, had to get the child onto a distant ranch—he will commute to work by plane—and meet with his ranch manager who conveniently is a pretty divorcee with a young daughter. And a start was made on a break-through in the relationship of father and son.

The father role is something of a throwback to old situation comedies when daddies were inept dopes. This one apparently knows nothing about the world outside of nightclubs and poker parlors. Nevertheless there are indications that the series may build into something warm and pleasant. And, like "Family Affair," the youngsters, may be the real stars of the show. "Maya" on NBC Saturday was strictly for children. It is the improbable story of a 15-year-old American boy who learns, on arriving in India, that his father is presumed to have been killed on a tiger hunt. The boy runs away from the U.S. consul's office to try to find him. He escapes pursuers and teams up with an orphaned Indian boy and his elephant, Maya, both also on the lam.

PAINFUL FIGHT Filmed entirely in India, there were some beautiful and interesting shots of the country, cities, villages and inside the walls of a maharajah's palace. But the chase scenes were much too long and there was a long, painful fight between Maya and a man-eating tiger.

Jay North plays the American and Sajid Khan is the Indian, neither having very demanding roles from an acting standpoint. The format is escape entertainment for kids, but it could have a better, tighter and more interesting show if cut in half to 30 minutes.

"Mannix" on CBS Saturday, was a simple, uncomplicated adventure story, full of fights and chases with the central character a private super detective. Mike Connors plays an operative who is quick with his fists and smart with his deductions.

The first episode had him called upon to solve the kidnapping for ransom of an gangster's daughter. After a lot of physical action, Mannix decided it was a fake snatch—but he was far behind members of the sophisticated television audience who have seen something very similar on television numerous times before.

Old Hotel Improved

OZONA, Tex. (AP) — The Crockett Hotel, one of Ozona's oldest landmark buildings, has undergone a complete renovation by its new owner, J. B. Miller. Built in the 1890s, the old hotel now has for the first time central heating and air conditioning, plus an all-new interior which boasts 18 rooms with tile baths and television.

Last Thursday's deluge did nothing to dampen the high spirits of 26 DeMolays, members of the Leon P. Moffitt Chapter, who were guests for a fabulous chicken dinner hosted by Mrs. Gloria Strom Ezzell and Mrs. Carl Strom in the Strom home at 501 Westover. It was first class all the way, from Frank serving in his white jacket to the gleaming, copper-appointed table.

After dinner, the group had the run of the house but was drawn to the game room for ping pong, pool, bridge and listening to Easy's records and radio station set-up. Know what impressed some of the boys most? Mrs. Ezzell's golf trophies!

Mrs. John Hogan has flown to Palo Alto, Calif., to see her pretty daughter, Mrs. Janet Brigan, and her children, Hank and Jana. Janet is working on her master's degree at Stanford. Dr. Hogan will be going in the opposite direction—Chicago—to attend a medical convention.

There have been so many beautiful weddings and receptions this season, and contributing to many of them was the talent of Mrs. Danny (Norma) Valdes, who makes beautiful things for such affairs. Mrs. Joyce Coates, who will be teaching a ceramics class at the YMCA, recently surprised Danny and Norma with the gift of an exquisite statue (which she made) of St. Francis.

Gadabout Mrs. B. B. Badger is leaving for Fort Stockton Tuesday with her sister, Miss Margaret Crosby of Austin, and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hooper of Seguin. Ora and Margaret were born at Fort Stockton, and the old hotel which has been turned into a museum will have a "Crosby Room" to which the women will contribute. They'll look around Big Bend before returning home. (Pepe will stay with Swatzy.)

Several of the coffee customers at Hotel Settles let their brew get cold the other morning while watching Mr. and Mrs. Sam Peters open the big box which their son, Spec, 5 Donald Peters, mailed while on his R and R leave in Japan. What I liked most were the rich fabrics which Mrs. Peters will soon turn into cocktail costumes, so remember to tell her how pretty she looks in the "blue roses."

Speaking of coffee, I notice that nice young man, Tom Henry, who used to share his paper with us earlybirds at Toby's, is now principal at Cedar Crest Elementary School. They are real proud of him over there, so the gals may turn that into the workingest P-TA in town.

Bubbly Mrs. D. F. Bigony had a grand time on vacation. She and her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Pierson of Lubbock, visited in Portales with the Willis Slatens and in Muleshoe with the Finley Piersons. Frosting on the cake was when she won an original water color painting at the sidewalk sale and festival at Lubbock's Municipal Garden and Art Center.

Other travelers who are back to the old routine are the W. L. Egglestons and the Roy Browns who joined forces for a fun week at Lake Hamilton near Hot Springs. No — I asked — they didn't fish at all, just soaked up the pretty country, pottery plant, observation tower, etc.

Five Stanton Chapters Announce New BSP Presidents For Fall

STANTON (SC) — New presidents for five Beta Sigma Phi chapters have been named this week. They are Mrs. Bob Bryan, Rho Xi; Mrs. John Roueche, Preceptor Mu; Mrs. R. O. Anderson, Mu Lambda; Mrs. John McIntyre, Xi Theta Nu; and Mrs. Russell McMeans, Xi Epsilon Delta. The Big Spring State Hospital has been adopted by some of the chapters as a service project, and the Rho Xi Chapter will conduct the Heart Fund Drive on Feb. 18. An Oct. 28 banquet at Holiday Inn in Midland will be hosted by Xi Theta Nu with Mrs. John McIntyre as mistress of ceremonies. Members will present original songs, poems and skits.

The Melvin Newtons have enjoyed having her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Harrison of Las Cruces here for a visit. The New Mexico residents also spent a lot of time in the home of her mother, Mrs. J. T. McGee, and they caught up on the family news.

The Al Valdes family were in Dallas to see ex-Big Springers, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Graupera, and in Houston as guests of ex-Webbites, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Drinnen. Drinnen is with NASA now, and they may be back here for a few days in November. That lively leprechaun, the Rev. Robert McDermott, who put so much love into St. Thomas Catholic Church, is in Ireland now but his home base is still Bridgeport, Conn. Tell me for sure, is that Auriel LaFond I've seen — in business attire — flying around town on a cycle? He looks like an ad for one of those things you're supposed to meet the nicest people on.

Didn't know the Jack Magees had moved downstairs out at the Ponderosa till I talked to her the other day. Her upstairs neighbor, Mrs. Kent Morgan, and Mrs. Chub Jones had a fine trip to Expo '67, and more recently, Mrs. Morgan was in Ruidoso helping her son, Emmett, take care of guests at their Villa Inn during the last big rush — they were missed on the college page, but Robert Beene is working on a master's at Purdue University, and his sister, Nancy, is a senior at the University of Texas. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Beene.

Deadline — and our thought for the day is "experience is what makes you wonder how it got the reputation of being the best teacher." Call me?

Press In Crease

An aerosol spray that makes possible the installation of creases in durable press fabrics at home is now being introduced nationally. Homemakers can make a durable press garment with hems, pleats, cuffs and seams that stay pressed. It's easy to use: spray lightly, let dry, sew, press in the new crease.

Calorie Costs Are Not Comparable

If all foods were purchased in terms of calories — the unit measure that shows how much energy a food supplies — cost comparisons would be surprising. Calories are supplied by fats, proteins and carbohydrates — whether they come from meats, dairy products, cereals and breads, vegetables and fruits, beverages, or sweets. The sugar carbohydrates produce energy faster than any other food nutrient. Eighteen calories in each teaspoon.

Dear Abby
Not Worth The Worry

DEAR ABBY: Mike and I have been married for eight years and have three children. The other night Mike came home and told me that the men at work were having a stag party for a co-worker who is getting married. This party, he said, was to be held at a club that features topless go-go girls. Mike said he really didn't care to go, but all the other guys in his department were going, and he didn't know how to get out of it.

I was against it from the start, but Mike promised if I let him go he wouldn't look at the girls.

Well, I let him go, and when he came home he said he had kept his promise. Abby, I have been miserable ever since. Just knowing that Mike was in the same room with all those topless go-go girls dancing all around makes me want to cry. Do you think Mike really kept his promise? And how can I get over this terrible sick feeling?

MIKE'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Whether Mike kept his promise or not is between Mike and his conscience. And you can get over that "terrible sick feeling" by refusing to dwell on it.

DEAR ABBY: How come the educated girls of this generation are supposed to be so smart.

Mercenaries Get Chance To Escape

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — A white mercenary band that has been holding out against the Congolese army in Bukavu, the Congo, is being offered a chance to escape, Zambian President Kenneth Kaunda says.

Kaunda said at a news conference Sunday that last week's African summit meeting in Kinshasa agreed to give the mercenaries a chance to go back to Europe.

But if the mercenaries turn down the offer, Kaunda said, other African nations will join the Congo in running them down. He added that a group such as the Red Cross could supervise the free passage.

The mercenaries, under Col. Jean Schramme, began scrapping with President Joseph-D. Mobutu's forces 2 1/2 months ago.

Victim Of Grizzly Suing Government

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP) — A 21-year-old youth mauled by a grizzly bear in 1965 is suing the federal government for $75,000 damages in a claim believed to be the first of its kind to go before the courts.

Fred Sturdy suffered face and skull fractures, torn thigh muscles and cuts after the grizzly attacked him in Jasper National Park.

Scientific studies are beginning to show just how dangerous motorcycle riding can be. It's obvious to anyone who lives in an urban area that motorcycle riding is becoming more popular. In 1965, there were something over a million and a quarter of them — about one-third more than the preceding year. The number actually doubled in the first five years of this decade, and the outlook is for no fewer than five million on the road by 1970. Five million is an awful lot of motorcycles.

As a lot of people would guess intuitively, motorcycling creates new kinds of safety problems. The death rate is twice as high as in auto accidents. A National Safety Council report showed a 41 per cent increase in motorcycles — an appalling number, considering the relatively small number of cycles on the road.

One of the important things about the safety aspects of motorcycling is that 20 per cent of the dead and injured were riding motorcycles for the first or second time. No less than 70 per cent of those involved had either rented or borrowed the vehicles.

The message here is pretty obvious — people who are unskilled in cycle riding have a frightening chance of being in an accident.

Another grim statistic is that head injuries account for almost all of the motorcycle fatalities. The head of the rider is obviously positioned to receive the full force of impact when a cycle is in a collision because the occupant is often catapulted right over the handlebars. In Minnesota and Oregon it was found that some 90 per cent of all motorcycle accidents involved injury to the legs, but that fatalities were invariably caused by injuries to the head.

This is why safety experts constantly admonish cyclists to wear crash helmets. Various studies show that crash helmets ought to reduce the death rate from motorcycle collisions by 30 to 40 per cent. In the next decade, this could mean saving 3,000 to 4,000 people a year.

On the other hand, helmets are a mixed blessing. Some people argue that wearing crash helmets reduces the peripheral vision of the cyclist so that he's more likely to get into an accident. Furthermore, adding goggles can increase rather than decrease the hazard because the goggles tend to fog up in bad weather.

It's apparent that motorcycle safety deserves a lot more scientific attention and analysis.

Appaloosa Show Scheduled At C-C

COLORADO CITY (SC) — The Western Riding Club of Colorado City has scheduled its Second Annual Appaloosa Horse show, for Saturday at the Western Riding Club Arena, on the west edge of Colorado City, according to Mrs. Charles Wood, show secretary.

All horses must have Appaloosa characteristics, Mrs. Wood said, and must be registered in order to be eligible to show. Don Smith of Talpa will judge the horses, and Leo Thompson of Colorado City will be arena director.

Halter classes will be held for stallions, mares, and geldings and performance classes are scheduled in the following events, junior and senior reining, western pleasure, cutting and roping.

An all-age barrel race will be held. Three youth classes are scheduled in the barrel and stake races, and western pleasure riding. Ribbons and trophies will be awarded.

Red Party Seeks Usage Of Letters

MOSCOW (AP) — The Communist party wants "a fuller usage in the press" of letters complaining about the shortcomings of Soviet life, calling them "an important expression of public opinion."

"It is necessary also to expose and submit to criticism persons who assume slanderous inventions in their letters," a party decision said.

Russians were promised faster action on their complaints.
