

Canadian Film Producer Slain

WHITESBURG, Ky. (AP) — A prominent Canadian film producer was shot to death Wednesday as he and a four-man production crew filmed scenes of poverty in this mountainous eastern Kentucky area.

Hugh O'Connor died soon after being hit with a .38-caliber slug in his chest. Hobart Ison, 69, of the Jeremiah community, was charged with murder. A hearing was set for this afternoon.

LANDLORD
The 46-year-old Montreal native was on leave from the Canadian National Film Board to produce a film on "All Walks of Life in the United States" for Francis Thompson, Inc., a New York City firm that specializes in educational documentaries.

Ison owns a cluster of houses at a coal mine camp about five miles north of here on Ky Route 7. It was this cluster of shacks that the crew was filming when O'Connor was shot to death.

The four members of O'Connor's crew told this story to state and county authorities: They stopped to take pictures of some people beside the road.

THREE SHOTS
After 40 minutes of picture-taking, when they were winding up their session, a car drove up and a man whom they had never seen jumped out, yelling, "Get off my property!"

The crew members and O'Connor began gathering their gear when the man fired two shots above them.

As the crew was putting the equipment into their car across the road, the man fired a third

Divers Find Coins Blanket

LONDON (AP) — Divers have found a sunken blanket of gold and silver coins believed to be part of a $2.8-million treasure that disappeared into the Atlantic's grayness with three ships of Admiral Sir Cloudesley Shovell's Mediterranean fleet in 1707.

Fortune-hunters had been searching for it ever since. A private expedition, supported by a Royal Navy unit, hauled up 1,500 gold and silver guineas, crowns and pieces of eight and pieces of about 100 feet of water off the Scilly Islands, some 25 miles from England's extreme southwestern tip.

"This is only a fraction of what is down there," a diver said.

The first coins discovered were English, French and Portuguese, none carrying a date later than 1707.

Diver Geoffrey Upton, 34, told of finding the treasure: "It was a very dark and uninviting hole. The only way to get through it was to take off my breathing set, push it through first and swim after it. It led to a deeper gulch and suddenly I saw a carpet of silver coins stretching in front of me."

The hunt centered on the area where Shovell's flagship, The Association, and her sister ships, The Eagle and The Romney, dashed against rocks and sank.

Some naval historians have estimated the fleet carried bullion chests and plate worth a million pounds—$2.8 million—more.

Shovell's fleet was lost on its voyage home from a successful naval engagement with France off the coast of Spain.

Moving

James R. Johnson, chief accountant of the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, will complete 13 years service at the local facility this week when he transfers to the Veterans Administration Hospital at Tucson, Ariz., as assistant chief of the Fiscal Division. A native of Alabama, Johnson began his VA career at the Montgomery, Alabama Regional Office shortly after serving with the U.S. Navy in World War II. The Johnsons have made their home at Sterling City Road and have two children: Diane, a 1966 graduate of Big Spring Senior High School, who will attend business college in Tucson, and Fred, a sophomore at Big Spring High School.

Music's The Thing In Ritz Feature

You'll be sorry if you don't take in "Sound of Music," which opened Wednesday at the Ritz; but it's the sort of film you'll have to see to appreciate how much you would have missed.

From the time the production begins with a majestic, almost awesome sweep of its Alpine setting, there is never a moment that photography is less than spectacular.

But this is merely window dressing for the music's the thing. He who doesn't go away from the show humming or whistling "Climb Every Mountain," "Sound of Music," and a dozen other catchy tunes needs to have his pulse checked.

Although some critics have sought to plaster it with the charge that it is cornball, "Sound of Music" comes through tenderly as a breath of air fresh from the mountains. It's a great family picture and in welcome relief to the welter of beach stories and go-go films.

Julie Andrews is superb as the novice whose calling really lay outside in love and music, and none ever faulted her for her mastery of the contemporary song. Christopher Plummer is convincing, too, in what could have been a stuffy role. There are a number of others who excel, but the Von Trapp children prove a delight.

Those who have seen the stage production when it was on its historic run in New York rated it as great, but they concede that the film makes it almost overpowering. Just notice how the pre-show conversation suddenly is overwhelmed by the breath-taking panoramas. Then add a liberal dose of Rodgers and Hammerstein's wizardry in music and lyrics, and Crouse and Lindsay on the book, and you have a wonderful evening. —JP

Mr. O'Connor was largely responsible for production of the multiple-screen films, which have drawn multitudes to the pavilion. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Ford's New Torino Series

Elegance of an expensive car is featured in this intermediate priced car by Ford. All new styling and rich, nylon-faced tone fabrics highlight the interior.

AT BOB BROCK'S FRIDAY

Comfort, Styling, Power Featured In Ford Line

The new Fords—featuring 45 models in five series—go on display Friday at Bob Brock Ford Inc., 500 W. 4th, featuring new design and styling, great variety of power and comfort options, plus many new safety features.

The new Torino series, in the Fairlane series, is redesigned and offers the fastback body style for the first time. It features the elegance of an expensive car in the intermediate price range.

SERIES

The Ford Company's 1968 cars are featured in 21 models of the Ford series: 14 models of the Fairlane series; four in the Falcon series; three in the Mustang series; and there are three Thunderbirds.

The Torino models include a hardtop, four door sedan, station wagon, convertible, fastback hardtop. A complete range of engines, from the standard 302 cubic inch V8 in the GT to the 200 cubic inch six in the Fairlane series are offered, but Ford's biggest 427 cubic inch V8 is optional.

A long list of standard and optional safety features are offered for all Ford cars, including emergency flashers, positive lock doors, power disc brakes, two speed, or variable speed windshield wipers, energy absorbing steering column, steering wheel, armrests, and door handles; padded windshield pillars, and many others.

The Thunderbird continues to be the styling leader in its field.

featuring luxury equipment and a luxury ride, in a choice of three smart models, the two door hardtop, two door landau and four door landau.

FUN CAR

The Ford Mustang, fun car of the line, is loaded with features in three models, proving it to be one of the most popular of today's cars. Greater performance is offered in a bigger engine option.

The Falcon series too has styling refinements, as well as new interior upholstery. Optional increased power options are available.

A host of new mechanical and safety features, and two new engine options are packed into the offerings of the Ford line. It is substantially altered in appearance, and includes three additional models this year.

The addition of a Galaxie 500 two-door hardtop with a formal roof line and two Custom 300 Ranch Wagons builds the total of new models. One of the wagons is a six-passenger model; the other, a 10-passenger with dual facing rear seats.

New sheet metal below the window line gives the new Ford a longer, lower profile. Three separate roof treatments distinguish the hardtop models, which include a new fastback version of the XL and Galaxie 500. The new die-cast grille in the LTD, XL and Country Squire models has horizontal head lights with retractable doors.

EMISSION SYSTEM

Ford's "improved combustion

system" is standard on all models, equipped with the Cruise-O-Matic transmission. Ford's Thermactor Emission Control System is standard on all models equipped with a manual transmission. Both systems are designed to reduce the emission of hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide in the engine exhaust.

A 302-cubic-inch V-8 engine replaces the 289 as the basic V-8 engine in the Ford line. The high performance powerplant is a hydraulic valve version of Ford's famous 427 cubic inch engine, rated at 390 horsepower, which is available only with a Cruise-O-Matic transmission.

Safety features on all 1968 Fords include a new energy-absorbing steering column that compresses under heavy impact; a redesigned instrument panel offering improved injury protection; a dual hydraulic brake system, and squeeze-type inside door handles.

OPTIONS

A number of new options are available for Ford buyers in 1968, including an AM-FM stereo radio that produces true stereophonic sound through two front-door-mounted speakers. An automatic load leveler and a rear window defogger have appeal for the driver who seeks maximum comfort and convenience. Available on all Ford models are Ford's new front disc-rear drum, power-assisted brakes which provide improved cooling characteristics and better braking action.

Hurricane Slows Oil Allowable

AUSTIN (AP)—With an eye on Hurricane Beulah, The Texas Railroad Commission postponed setting the October oil production allowable Wednesday until it can see what the storm does to refining capacity on the Gulf Coast.

Commission Chairman Jim C. Langdon indicated the commission would set the allowable next Monday or Tuesday.

The commission slashed the allowable at a special statewide hearing Sept. 7 from 54 per cent to 46.7 per cent, saying the improving Middle East situation had cut the demand for United States oil.

The U.S. Bureau of Mines forecast of October demand for Texas crude was 3,105,000 barrels daily, a decrease of 195,000 barrels from September. Nominations from major oil purchasers totaled 3,076,376 barrels daily, a decrease of 336,152 barrels a day.

The amended September factor was made retroactive to Sept. 1, giving producers a 44.9 per cent maximum allowable for the remaining 23 days of the month. The 54 per cent factor—set at the August hearing—for the first seven days of September made the average percentage for the entire month 46.7.

HIGHEST MARK

The August factor also was 54 per cent, the highest ever permitted since the allowable factor system was inaugurated in January, 1963.

The factor was 33.8 per cent in May and June before the outbreak of the Middle East War. The June factor was amended to 35.9 per cent after the brief conflict. In July, the factor was

'Where Are We?'

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—The delegation of students marched out onto the field to face the pair of military helicopters that had settled there.

"Can we help you?" they asked.

"Yes," one of the pilots said. "Where are we?"

He explained that the two U.S. Army troop-carrying craft had taken off from nearby Norton Air Force Base Monday en route to Stockton, Calif., but turned back because of clouds over the mountains.

Then, he said, they couldn't find the base again.

The Catholic high school's principal, the Rev. Robert J. Magler, telephoned the airbase, and the pilots were instructed to follow a road to the base, which was nearby.

Steer Cagers In 3 Meets

The Big Spring Steers, who start basketball workouts next month under their new coach, Kirby Pugh, will compete in tournaments at Odessa, Snyder and Lubbock before New Year's Day.

The Longhorns will be in Odessa Dec. 1-3, in Snyder Dec. 9-9 and in the Cap Rock meet at Lubbock Dec. 27-29-29.

The Canyon Reef tournament at Snyder will be held in the new Scurry County Coliseum and will be sponsored by the Snyder Quarterback Club.

The Scurry County commissioners have already purchased a new hardwood court for the basketball games.

Other teams entered at Snyder beside Big Spring include Brownfield, Seminole, Brownwood, Fort Stockton, Phillips, Crane and the host school.

Big Spring defeated Snyder, 67-59, in the finals of last year's Canyon Reef tournament.

Three members of the 1966-67

Big Names Are On Hand For Thunderbird Meet

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — Armed with a new putter and an aching back, Mason Rudolph sets out today in defense of his Thunderbird Classic Golf Championship, his only tour triumph in the last three years.

The 33-year-old Tennessean headed for a doctor and a hot tub, immediately after completing Wednesday's pro-amateur event. He was several strokes above par and said he picked up his ball on a couple of holes.

"It's a dull ache," Rudolph said, flexing his torso and gripping the base of his spine. "It started during the Philadelphia Golf Classic last weekend."
 Rudolph tied for third at Philadelphia and picked up $6,160.

A new putting stroke and an Arnold Palmer-model putter have given Rudolph some nice paychecks of late after a slow start.

He won $4,937.50 in the Thunderbird Classic with his old "blue goose" mallet putter then switched to the Palmer model and won a pro-am event in Dalton, Ga., shooting a 32 over the final nine holes. Then came Philadelphia, which brought his

BECAUSE COOKIE REFUSES TO CRUMBLE

Carlton Effort All For Naught

By The Associated Press
 Steve Carlton pitched a crack-jack of a game but he got beat by a Cookie.
 Carlton, who has contributed 14 victories to St. Louis' pennant push this season, set a season's strizz-out high Wednesday night, fanning 16 Philadelphia batters. But he came away a 3-1 loser, mainly because of Cookie Rojas.

CARLTON

Rojas drove in the Phillies' tie-breaking run with a fourth-inning single and then scored an insurance run after doubling in the seventh as Philadelphia survived Carlton's strikeout pitch for the victory.

Elsewhere in the National League, San Francisco topped Chicago 5-1, Los Angeles edged New York 4-3, Cincinnati pounded Atlanta 9-4 and Houston nipped Pittsburgh 5-4.

Chris Short bested Carlton on a four-hitter and struck out nine. The two-team total of 25 strikeouts fell one short of the major league record set by Philadelphia and Pittsburgh in 1965. And except for an enthusiastic fan, the record might have been broken.

"I knew I was striking out a lot of batters," said Carlton,

"but I didn't know how many. Then someone at the end of the seventh yelled from the stands that I had struck out 15. From that point I kind of lost my concentration. I began throwing bad pitches."

Carlton, 14-9, struck out only one man in the final two innings after the fan shouted at him. Ed Spiezio homered for the Cardinals.

Gaylord Perry won his fifth straight game on a seven-hitter and evened his record at 15-15.

Miners' Game Is Cancelled

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — President Robert D. Clark Wednesday night canceled San Jose State College's football game Saturday night here with the University of Texas, El Paso.

After a meeting with other school administrators, President Clark announced that "in view of disturbing threats from outside our college community to the peaceful conduct of Saturday night's game, I have after consultation with the director of athletics ordered cancellation of the game."

"I consider the action necessary to protect our students, their parents and friends from the possibility of violence in Spartan Stadium."

Charges of racial discrimination in virtually all aspects of campus life have been made by Harry Edwards, a Negro faculty member and former Spartan basketball and track star.

Clark did not name any off-campus person or group who might be planning to invade the stadium Saturday night. During Wednesday's public hearing on the discrimination charges, Athletic Director Robert Bronzan said his department had not discriminated against Negroes.

Football Coach Harry Anderson said the 11 Negro members of the Spartan squad had told him voluntarily they were "completely satisfied" with conditions.

In addition, the Stanton girls have six open dates on their 1967-68 schedule and would like to book both A and B contests for those dates. The Buffalo Queens will play any foe in Class AA or below.

Fans Brave Rain To Meet Champs
 ST. LOUIS (AP) — About 1,000 fans jammed Lambert Municipal Airport early today to greet the homecoming St. Louis Cardinals despite a driving rainstorm and a three-day wait since the Cardinals clinched the National League pennant.

The crowd overflowed the west concourse of the terminal chanting, "We want Cha Cha," until slugging first baseman Orlando Cepeda appeared. A group of six policemen had to convoy Cepeda through the crowd while fans grabbed at him, hugged him and slapped him on the back.

Cardinals Manager Red Schoendienst was the first man off the plane and he held an impromptu news conference with reporters in the rain.

The "Red Head" shrugged off all questions about the American League race. He said he didn't care who won as long as somebody wins without a playoff.

Cepeda was unconcerned about a playoff. As he pushed his way through the crowd he said, "I don't think any team can beat us. The rest wouldn't hurt us."

Speedsters In Big Test

NEW YORK (AP) — Can a 9.1 sprinter beat a 9.2 defender on a pass pattern? Cotton Bowl fans may get the answer Sunday in the expected Bob Hayes-Henry Carr matchup in the Dallas-New York Giants football game.

The prospect of a foot race between Hayes, the "World's Fastest Human" in his days at Florida A&M and the Olympics, and Carr, the 1964 Olympic 200-meter champ, is an alluring sidelight to Sunday's game.

Of the 26 first-round draft choices the top performers in last Sunday's pro games were Mel Farr of the Detroit Lions and Bob Griese of the Miami Dolphins.

Farr, signed out of UCLA by the Lions, ran for 95 yards against the tough Green Bay defense. Griese, called upon unexpectedly when John Stofa was injured, led Miami to victory over Denver with 12 of 19 pass completions for 193 yards and two touchdowns, a fine debut for the Purdue flash.

Bubba Smith, the giant defensive lineman from Michigan State, missed Baltimore's opener because of an injury. Bubba was the No. 1 pick in the draft on the rights the Colts got from New Orleans for Gary Cuzzo.

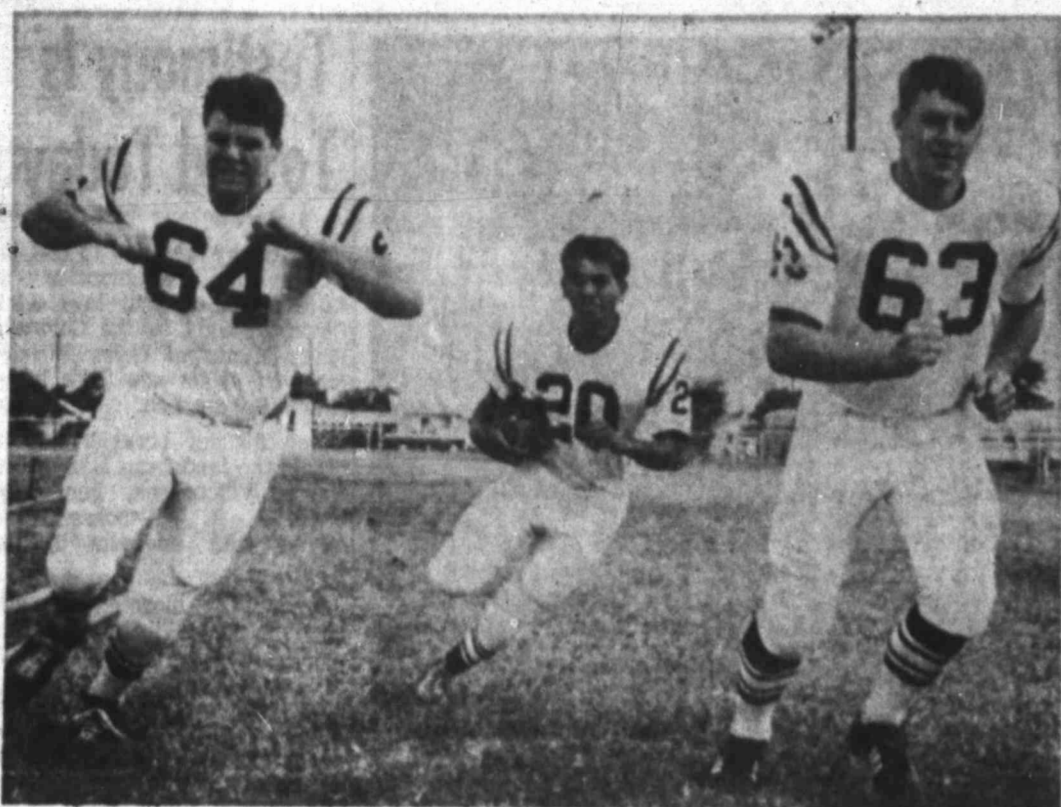

Steve Spurrier, the Heisman Trophy winner, was used as a punter by the San Francisco 49ers who started John Brodie and relieved with George Mira against Minnesota.

George Webster, Michigan State linebacker, is a regular with the Houston Oilers and a highly respected prospect.

Floyd Little of Syracuse is a starting running back at Denver.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

The Big Spring Steers probably set a record of some sort against Lamesa here in the first football game of the season when they returned five enemy punts for an average of 49 yards.

The longest runback in the game was for 78 yards and a touchdown (by R. J. Englert). The shortest two were for 38 yards each.

Ernest Hawkins, the Lamesa native who has been head coach at East Texas State University the past three seasons, was one of the few athletes to win five grid letters at Texas Tech.

Wartime eligibility gave him the extra year in football. Hawkins relishes the chance to work with quarterbacks and his No. One player for that position now is Big Spring's Benny Kirkland.

Benny, who is East Texas' only experienced quarterback returning, had his best game last season against Texas A&I when he passed for yardage totaling 151 yards. East Texas won the game, 25-24. Benny figured in 169 plays a year ago and figures to be much busier this time around.

Probably the biggest blunder committed by NFL teams since last season occurred when Minnesota traded Fran Tarkenton to the New York Giants.

Pete Creasey, who refereed the Big Spring-Lamesa game, when penalties totaling 276 yards were stepped off against the two teams, will be back to work the ball in the Steer-Midland contest Oct. 12.

Had the townspeople of Slippery Rock, Pa., chosen to go by the Indian title given the community, 'Weschchochoponka,' rather than the name they selected, no one out of the immediate area would have heard of the college football team there, in all probability.

Slippery Rock College has been called Soapy Stone on occasions.

There's more to Volkswagen economy than 27 mpg.

It's only the beginning. Volkswagens take miles, not quarts, at oil changes. And average 40,000 miles to a set of tires. You can skip the expense of anti-freeze and broken water hoses, too. VWs are air-cooled. Then there's something you may not give much thought to right away. Depreciation. Give it some thought. VWs don't change every year like domestic cars. So you can sell a 2-year-old Volkswagen for more money than some domestic cars that cost more new. Even if you kept it as long as 5 years, you'd still sell it for more than you'd get for that domestic car. So anybody who tells you how much money VWs save you on gas isn't telling you the whole truth.

Trunk Yields Three Infants

NEW YORK (AP) — An old trunk found in the basement of a Manhattan apartment house has yielded the bodies of three mummified infants, one of whom may have been dead for 47 years.

The bizarre and unusual case came to light when the trunk was opened Wednesday night. Dr. Paul Herman, assistant medical examiner, set an autopsy examination of the infants today to determine how they died.

The discovery was made when John Hartnett, superintendent of the building on West 181st Street in the Washington Heights section advised tenants to clear a basement storage area of unwanted items.

Hartnett told police he found one trunk with the name Anne Solomon on it. It was opened in the presence of Jacob Solomon, 67, whose wife Anne died in 1954 at the age of 48.

Inside the children were found lying side by side—swaddled in cloth and with newspapers wrapped on the outside. Dr. Herman described the bodies as "well kept."

One of the papers was an edition of the defunct Evening Sun dated Jan. 20, 1920. Another was the defunct Evening World dated March 4, 1922 and the third was the old Evening Journal of Oct. 17, 1923.

Solomon told police his wife had been previously married in 1933 but that he had no knowledge of her having given birth to any children.

Open House At C-C Post Office

COLORADO CITY (SC)—The Colorado City Post Office held its first open house in more than 30 years Monday, with about 200 of its patrons visiting the office.

The occasion was Postal Service Day and visitors were given a look at the inner workings of the mail system.

"All postal functions were proceeding normally," according to postmaster A. M. Morris, "with off duty employees available to conduct groups of postal patrons on tours of the office and to explain questions on postal procedures."

The Colorado City office was established in 1881 as Colorado, Texas—the "City" was added in 1939. In 1935, the present building was completed and an "open house" was held.

Science And You Cows And Heart Trouble

—By DR. LEONARD REIFFEL

It's popular today to blame many types of heart trouble on the amount of saturated fats in the diet, especially in highly civilized countries like the United States. A large number of diets have been put forward to control hardening of the arteries and heart attacks by reducing the amount of saturated fat intake.

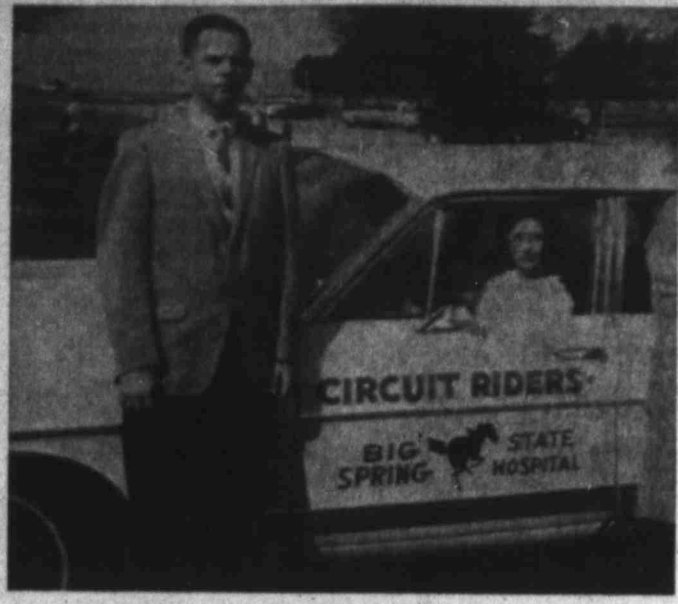

Unfortunately, many of these diets are rather difficult to stay with, especially because many of the tastiest foods are loaded with animal fats and animal fats are highly saturated.

But a new technique is now under study which may make life a lot easier. Something like 35 to 40 per cent of the saturated fat in the American diet comes from dairy and cattle products — cheeses, milk, beef and so on. These products are very high in saturated fats. If there were some way of reducing the amount of fat saturation in these materials, we might have a route to a low saturated fat diet.

There are interesting signs that this might be possible. It has been found that special diets can be used to reduce the amount of saturated fat produced by beef animals. It is also possible, by infusing unsaturated fats into a cow's bloodstream, to radically decrease the saturation of fats in the cow's milk. Even in human beings, it is possible to raise the amount of unsaturated fat in mother's milk from 5 to 45 per cent just by feeding the mother a proper diet. Obviously, playing tricks like adding unsaturated fats to the bloodstreams of cows would hardly be a practical way of mass-producing foods that were less prone to produce heart disease. But other approaches just might be feasible.

Recently it has been found that fat saturation — that is, addition of hydrogen — takes place in the rumen, one of the organs associated with milk production in the cow. The process is carried out by an army of resident microbes which add the hydrogen to the unsaturated fat molecules supplied by the normal diet of the cow. Conceivably, one might change the microbe population in cow's rumen to favor organisms that do not hydrogenate or saturate fats.

If this could be done econom-

FIRST GROUP ARRIVES Greeted by Louis McKnight, Mrs. Truman Bennett

C-City Women Are First In Hospital Program

Eight women from Colorado City, representing the first group of volunteers in the circuit rider program, arrived Wednesday at Big Spring State Hospital to work with patients. They were greeted by Louis McKnight, chairman of the circuit rider council for the state hospital, and introduced to the program's headquarters in the fashion shop building.

Arrangements for a party given by the volunteers for some of the patients were made by Mrs. Truman Bennett, circuit rider program specialist, and her staff members, Mrs. Rube Baker and Mrs. Betty Duncan. Following the party, volunteers met with psychologist Lowell Graban to discuss situations presented at the party. Graban, Walter Widger, chief of social services, and Mary Cochran, volunteer coordinator, are serving as consultants to the program.

Volunteers from Colorado City are Mrs. Nina Farmer, Mrs. Ethel Hardegre, Mrs. Jewell Richter, Mrs. Jim Jones, Mrs. Effie Copeland, Mrs. E. T. Strain, Mrs. Alma Grant and Mrs. Roxie Whitten.

Eventually circuit rider offices will be in operation at Lamesa, Snyder and the state hospital, in addition to the one in Colorado City.

Senior citizens will man the regional offices under the direction of Mrs. Bennett. These offices will serve as referral centers providing information on mental health. This work will be directed toward geriatrics.

Just as he was preparing to start receiving testimony on the proposal by Mid-America Pipeline Co. of Tulsa, Okla., Wednesday, Commission Chairman Dick Witt was served with an order requested by six railroads and signed by U.S. District Court Judge Roy Stephenson to halt the proceedings.

Judge Stephenson set a hearing Sept. 23 on the railroads' motion for a preliminary injunction.

Mid-America wants to run the pipeline 850 miles from Borger, Tex., to bring fertilizer to be produced at a plant now under construction by Hill Chemicals, Inc., of Dallas to several Iowa distribution points.

Mid-America announced last month it had signed a 20-year contract with Hill Chemicals to cover movement of anhydrous ammonia from the Borger plant.

Its application asked the Iowa commission for authority to construct nearly 275 miles of pipelines in 15 western and northern Iowa counties. It also asked the right of eminent domain to condemn land and acquire easements for the pipeline.

Romney Takes Aim At City Violence

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Gov. George Romney, continuing his tour of big cities, says he's "absolutely indifferent" to any adverse political consequences resulting from his display of concern for those living in slum neighborhoods.

The Michigan governor, who faced two racial confrontations Wednesday, told a Milwaukee news conference racial problems and city violence are this country's major problem.

Romney arrived in Milwaukee on his tour of urban areas. But there were no plans for him to meet the Rev. James E. Groppi, who has been leading demonstrations for an open housing ordinance. Father Groppi left Milwaukee Wednesday for an appearance in Washington before the President's Commission on Civil Disturbances. Milwaukee Mayor Henry Maier decided to give a speech out of town so will not be available for any conference with the governor of Michigan.

BARRED Romney, an undeclared candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, was barred Wednesday from entering a private welfare organization in a Puerto Rican neighborhood in Chicago—and then faced some tough questioning from Negro militants who wanted to know what he would do for them if he was ever elected president.

"We don't want any double talk," a young Negro told Romney in the store front headquarters of West Side organization.

The Negro militants had questioned Romney as to whether his Mormon religion made him anti-Negro, and Romney told them they should judge a man by his deeds.

In the headquarters, Romney was told by a young Negro "this is serious business. People are losing their lives over this racial foolishness."

SIGNS DENOUNCE A few minutes before his entrance into the Negro neighborhood, the Michigan governor had a sidewalk confrontation in a Puerto Rican neighborhood with the youthful director of a private social welfare organization, who refused to let Romney enter the door.

Romney had understood that he would be welcome at the Casa Central outpost but was greeted with a sign saying "We do not welcome politicians that called out National Guard on poor people."

When newsmen traveling with Romney arrived, the Casa Central director, Luis Cuza, 25, had printed up statements denouncing Romney for having met the "demands of the poor" with "banks and machine guns."

A Romney aide said that as late as 10 o'clock the previous night Cuza had expressed willingness to welcome Romney and to show the governor his programs.

Round-Up For Sunday School

The annual fall Sunday school round-up at the Church of the Nazarene will begin at 6:30 today with a hay-ride for the youth of the church, beginning at the church and going around Scenic Mountain.

The barbecue supper will begin at 7 o'clock at the church grounds, furnished by the Sunday school of the church. A program will follow, which will include the third practice session of the Scenic Mountain Boys, playing and singing.

At the round-up, Travis Walker, superintendent of the school, will promote the little doggies from one corral to another, according to their ages and class, for the coming year.

This will also begin the annual fall round-up of new enrollment for the Sunday school. The present enrollment is 138 with an average attendance of 123. The goal this fall is to reach 275.

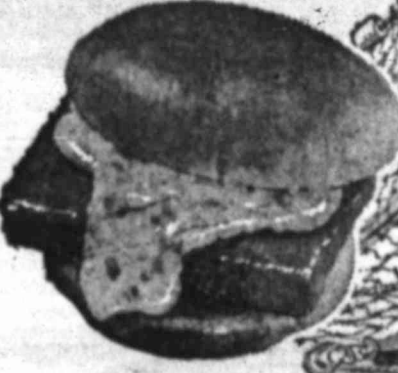

Those who are not attending nor enrolled in any Sunday school in Big Spring are invited to attend and become a part of this growing Sunday school.

New Waves Of 52s Strike Rocket Sites

SAIGON (AP) — Continued North Vietnamese shelling across South Vietnam's northern border killed six more Marines and wounded 41, and U.S. forces went after the Red gunners with B52s, Marine fighters and big Navy guns today.

While the battle of artillery, mortars and bombs raged around the U.S. Marine outpost at Con Thien, just below the demilitarized zone, men of the Queen's Cobra Regiment of Thailand began arriving to fight around the Saigon area.

Soviet-built 152mm guns as far as 15 miles away.

The B52 attacks today were aimed at suspected Communist troop concentrations, rocket positions, bunkers and trench networks with 2.5 miles of Con Thien, both to the west and to the north in the DMZ. The B52s have hit the DMZ 67 times since mid-August.

Marine fighter-bombers, which flew 20 missions, and the U.S. destroyer Morton, firing from the coast.

In Saigon, the first 1,200 of 2,500 troops sent by Thailand arrived and moved to a base 20 miles east of Saigon to fight guerrillas while shielding South Vietnamese pacification teams.

South Vietnam now has six nations aiding it with ground troops—the United States, Thailand, South Korea, Australia, New Zealand and the Philippines.

The casualty figures of 236 U.S. dead and 1,774 wounded were about average for the last six months. They indicated the two-month summer lull in ground fighting is over, although big engagements were lacking.

ARTILLERY DUELS
Aside from the artillery dueling across the border, ground action included scattered Communist mortar attacks—usually aimed at isolated outposts—and a mortar barrage of 60 rounds at an artillery and mortar base of the 9th U.S. Infantry Division in the Ho Bo Woods about 35 miles northwest of Saigon.

Three Americans were wounded, a number of South Vietnamese troops were hit and some short rounds fell into a nearby village, killing two civilians and wounding 10.

The foul weather which hampered the attack on Red guns near the border, a forerunner of the northeast monsoon season due in two or three weeks, limited the air war on North Vietnam to 91 missions Wednesday. All were in the southern panhandle between Hanoi and the border.

POLITICS
In South Vietnamese politics, the U.S. Embassy in Saigon has received a letter from four defeated South Vietnamese presidential candidates demanding that "the U.S. government stop intervening in Vietnamese internal affairs."

Lawyer Truong Dinh Dzu, who ran second in the election, Assembly Chairman Phan Khac Suu, who ran third, and also-rans Nguyen Hoa Hiep and Vu Hong Khanh signed the letter to Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker. Bunker did not comment immediately.

The letter claimed that the United States had intervened "with the aim of legitimizing the rigged and undemocratic Sept. 3 election. It apparently referred to the 22 election observers sent by President Johnson and to statements by Bunker that the election was run "fairly and freely."

Brutal Beulah Not Biggest

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Beulah is not the biggest or the most violent storm ever to blow in off the tropic seas, but when her rampage finally ends she'll be listed as one of the great ones of history.

In sheer size, only two others have surpassed her. These were the great New England hurricane of 1938, which killed 600 persons, and Hurricane Carla, 1961 killer of 34 which vented most of her wrath on Texas and Louisiana.

In brutal windpower, however, Beulah probably has been surpassed several times.

Forecasters usually judge a hurricane's intensity on central barometric pressures, and by far the lowest ever recorded was 26.35 inches in a hurricane that struck the Florida Keys on Labor Day, 1935.

This was a small storm, with hurricane force winds reaching out only 35 miles from the center. But, to do the damage it did, engineers estimated winds of 200 to 250 miles an hour would have been required.

Possibly, when she reached maximum intensity over the Gulf of Mexico during Tuesday night, Beulah's top winds wound up to 175 m.p.h. or greater.

But in 1955, the top winds of Hurricane Janet were estimated stronger than 200 m.p.h. an anemometer at Chetumal, Mexico registered 175 before it blew away and the wind rose steadily thereafter.

Opening lead: Queen of ♠
A dummy reversal uncovered a vital trick for South, the declarer at six hearts, and thereby eliminated the necessity to take what would have been a losing finesse.

South has 25 points including high cards and distribution plus two good suits, and once his partner gave a positive response to his demand opening bid of two hearts, he was determined to reach a slam. When he learned that the partnership was missing an ace, he signed off at six hearts.

West opened the queen of diamonds, the deuce was played from dummy, East signaled with the eight and South dropped the ten. West continued with the jack of diamonds and declarer ruffed. There appeared little more to the play than to draw trumps and eventually take the spade finesse.

The finesse offers only a 50-50 chance for success, however, and South uncovered a method that would improve his odds to better than two to one. All he required was a three-two division in trumps.

At trick three the nine of hearts was overtaken by North's ten to ruff another diamond with the jack. The queen of hearts was then topped by the king and dummy's king of diamonds was trumped with the ace.

A club was led to the jack and North's eight of hearts drew the last trump as South discarded the queen of spades. Declarer's ace of spades and his high clubs took the rest of the tricks. In all, South made three trumps in dummy, three ruffs in his own hand, one spade, and five clubs.

Tent Dress Hurts Maternity Fashion

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The tent dress was responsible for the worst maternity fashion season in 30 years, a Philadelphia maker of dresses for mothers-to-be says.

"Our volume dropped 25 to 30 per cent last season," says dress firm executive Albert Nipon.

The reason: With tents already in their wardrobes, expecting mothers didn't feel the need for special clothes and stayed away from maternity departments.

Anti-Johnson Plans Mapped

NEW YORK (AP) — A group of New York Democrats opposed to President Johnson's Vietnam policy and to cuts in funds for the antipoverty program has revealed plans to run anti-Johnson candidates for delegates to the party's national convention next year.

Television executive Gerald Rowe said Wednesday that the group aims to convince Johnson that he cannot win re-election and should drop out of the race.

National convention delegates will be chosen in district primaries here next June.

Rowe, vice president for advertising of the National Broadcasting Co. television network, and others who attended the organization meeting at Rowe's home Tuesday night said the group does not seek to substitute New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy for Johnson as the presidential candidate.

Dear Abby

Patient Must Help

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem which I can't TALK about, but I can write about.

I have been going to a psychiatrist regularly because I know I need the kind of help he can give me, but my problem is I just can't bring myself to tell him what is really bothering me.

I talk freely about everything else, but I can't tell him what is REALLY on my mind.

I don't want to quit, but there isn't any sense in my going every week and spending all that money if I don't get right down to my REAL problem. Yet, I can't say the words. Can you help me?

DEAR GUTLESS: If you went to the doctor with a severe pain in the leg or stomach and refused to tell the doctor where the pain was, eventually he might be able to locate your trouble and treat it. But you could save yourself and the doctor a lot of time by giving him a clue. That's the way it is with psychotherapy.

A psychiatrist is shockproof. He has heard everything, and he makes no moral judgments. His office is the place to dump your resentments, hostilities and bitterness. So keep going, and keep talking. (P.S. If, as you say, you can "write about it"—write to him.)

DEAR ABBY: I have a girl friend who is overweight. She has a pretty face and a nice personality, but she's fat, which keeps her from being popular.

She feels bad about it and is always dieting, but she'll take off five pounds and put back six.

She's my best friend, Abby, and we go everywhere together. Now she tells me she doesn't want to go around with me any more because I'm thin and when we are together people always compare our sizes which makes her look even fatter than she is.

The world is full of people of all shapes and sizes. I say live and let live. What should I do?

DEAR HURT: Tell your girl friend that if she hopes to look thinner by going around with girls who are even fatter than she is, her chances for popularity are pretty slim.

DEAR ABBY: Last week my husband and I went to a wedding. In the evening we were seated at a table for eight people. Among them was a young couple we had met that afternoon. The girl was very attractive. My husband asked her to dance, but the girl's husband didn't ask me to dance, so I just sat there.

After a while my husband asked this same attractive girl for another dance. Again I sat! He didn't ask her out of courtesy because there were other ladies at our table whom my husband didn't ask to dance at all.

Oh, yes, my husband danced with me three times, but I still was hurt. He thinks I'm jealous. What do you think? HURT

DEAR HURT: If you are jealous, I think you have a right to be. Your husband shouldn't have asked the girl for a second dance since you sat during the first.

Dollies' Darling Selected

LONDON (AP) — An international advertising agency announced today that the London dollies of 1967 would rather look like model Jean Shrimpton than Jacqueline Kennedy.

In a list of 12 entries, however, Mrs. Kennedy ran a strong second, far ahead of Elizabeth Taylor.

The agency said that last month its operatives carried out a sidewalk poll along the Strand, one of London's busiest thoroughfares.

Ninety-one girls were stopped and asked to look at a list of lovelies. They were then asked this question: "Looking at this list of personalities and then thinking about their clothes, their way of dressing and their hair, which one would you prefer to look like?"

After compiling the results the agency said: "They give a rough idea of the ideal of the 1967 London girl, who surprisingly enough, appears to envy the maturity of the prehippy generation."

Miss Shrimpton is Britain's leading model.

After Miss Shrimpton and Mrs. Kennedy, those polled picked actress Hayley Mills, clothes designer Mary Quant, singer Marianne Faithfull and Miss Taylor. Twiggy, the string-bean model, was ninth on the list of 11.

DEAR BOSS:

Fall Is Due Saturday

DEAR BOSS:

Fall falls on us Saturday and I am concerned that some of the readers may miss out on the event.

You see we still have Daylight Savings Time, Boss, and that means that the calendars and almanacs, which were printed before the new time was voted, show regular or garden variety Central Time.

In case you've forgotten, Boss, autumn takes over officially at 11:38 a.m. (Central Standard Time) Saturday. This would mean 12:58 p.m., I figure, in Daylight Savings Time.

Fall continues to rule the weather until 7:17 a.m. (CST) Dec. 22. That's when winter moves in.

I was out in the yard, Boss, looking at the skies and wondering why the scientists keep on arguing that the equinoxes have no effect on weather. The clouds parted long enough for me to snap a picture of the moon. A genuine, entirely full, harvest moon. As golden as in the poems and as spectacular as you might wish.

Then the clouds, whipped up I suppose by that Beulah hurricane, covered up the moon. Getting back to fall's debut, Boss. As you are well aware, we have two seasons ushered in by equinoxes and two by solstices.

Saturday we are in the heart of the autumnal equinox. Your Latin will inform you that equinox literally means "equal night"—which is to say, that the daylight and nighttime intervals are equal.

Actually, they're not, Boss. It will be seven days before that happy equality is noted by the charts. On Sept. 27, I am told, the sun will show up at 6:37 a.m. CST and set at 6:37 p.m. CST. According to our information, the sun shows up Friday at 6:33 a.m. and stays up until 6:44 p.m.

Spring is noted by the arrival of the vernal equinox; summer by the summer solstice; winter by the winter solstice.

A solstice ain't like an equinox, Boss.

An equinox is when the sun's center crosses the equator and hence makes a day and night equal. This event occurs on March 23 and Sept. 23, the dictionary says.

A solstice, on the other hand, is a point in the ecliptic when the sun is farthest from the equator. This point is north and south respectively on June 22 and on Dec. 22.

There's a persistent belief that stormy weather goes along with the equinoxes. I believe this is true, Boss, even though I have read repeatedly in the big books there is no truth in the old belief.

Look at what's happening

Random Roadside 'Breath Tests' Due

LONDON (AP) — British police will start random roadside "breath tests" next month to nab drunken drivers, and are expected to conduct up to two million "breathalyzer" tests in a year.

Refusal to take the breath test will make drivers liable to a fine of $140. Along with those who take the test, those who refuse the test may still be convicted of drunken driving. And that can cost $280 plus four months in jail.

about us now, Boss. If it wasn't the approach of the equinox, what caused that 4.11 inch rain we had and what's stirring up all the other stormy weather making the headlines?

Anyway Boss, it's fall. Before you know it it will be winter. And Christmas is just 79 days away.

Equinoctially yours,
SAM BLACKBURN

Leaning Tower Of Silage Folds

PROMISE CITY, Iowa (AP)—Bob Lockridge's leaning tower of silage has toppled.

"I've got bricks and hay all over," says Lockridge, who watched his brand-new, seven-story silo tip more and more each day since Sept. 12.

The silo, one of the largest in the area, contained 800 tons of hay when it finally tumbled into a $10,000 ruin.

"The contractor told me even before it fell that he would build me another one," Lockridge said. The old one lasted four months.

Patrolmen Kill Thirty Invaders

CADILLAC, Mich. (AP) — Armed with 12-gauge shotguns, patrolmen drive around the city in the dead of night, checking areas where invaders have been reported.

"The patrol got seven in one night," Lt. Willard Irwin said. "They've killed about 30 or 40 this fall."

The invaders are skunks.

The patrol has been under way for 10 years but Irwin said there are more skunks this year.

Irwin said he believes the skunks come in out of the dry woods to dig in lawns for food and will leave "as soon as the snow flies."

40-Day Voyage Nets Camel Bonus

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A consignment of 26 camels left Australia for an animal compound at Thousand Oaks, Calif. When it arrived there were 27 camels. A baby had been born on the 40-day voyage.

A LOVELIER YOU Brown Looks Good With Gray Tresses

By MARY SUE MILLER
A Lovely writes: I have gray hair and would like to have a brown costume. The color looks so new, and in deep tones, very elegant. I have been told, however, that gray-haired women should never wear brown, as it muddies the skin and hair. Is that true?

The answer: There's not an ounce of truth in the idea that gray hair and brown fashions won't mix. Time was when the notion had some merit. That's when laundry blue and rice powder were all a woman had to offset possible yellowing from wearing brown shades. Of course, if a woman owned a natural mink coat or a sable jacket, she wore it and never stopped to question its flattery.

With the vast store of modern cosmetics at their disposal, the gray-haired can wear almost any color that strikes their fancy. In the case of the gray-haired lovely who craves to wear brown, these are the complimentary cosmetics to use:

1. A silver, pewter, or steel rinse on the hair. Constant use of such rinses keep the hair a true shade — unyellowed and shimmering.
 2. Beige foundation, well-laced with pink undertones. Applications give the skin a youthful warmth, and defeat any sort of sallowness. For more of the same, add a quick dusting of translucent beige or mauve face powder.
 3. New deep coral and red lipsticks are a perfect finish. Those with a high gloss are perfect.

BUYING TIPS Stop That Ironing!

BY GENEVIEVE SMITH WOOD

By GENEVIEVE S. WOOD
Thanks to improvements in finishes for both fabrics and garments after they are made, good grooming is easier to achieve with new fall merchandise.

Durable press garments are everywhere—for the six-month-old baby on up. They are especially important in school and college wardrobes. You'll find this durable press finish on fabrics of man-made fibers and their many combinations, on cottons, and on wool. It is a finish that is a great work-saver for the homemaker, for such garments now can repeatedly be machine washed and tumble dried then worn without any ironing at all.

If you've been discouraged in the past when you had to do anything from a touch-up to an honest-to-goodness ironing on garments labeled durable press (there are many trade names for this finish, all built on the idea of a permanent press), now you can take heart.

Several new processes are being used. The most outstanding improvement is the result of processing the garment after it is made. Several processes are applied to the fabric but new methods insure better results.

These new methods insure pleats that stay put, shapes that hold, and seams that do not pucker.

When you buy a durable press garment, there's one precaution that you will be wise to take: Check the hang tag to find out whether the dress can be lengthened. Garments processed after they are made are durably shaped and set, hence they can be shortened but cannot be let out or lengthened. When this is the case the hang tag will say that the hem cannot be lengthened.

Checking quality—Of course, when you buy you will check such quality features as shrinkage. Fully preshrunk means that the residual shrinkage is not more than 1 per cent, which is so small that it makes no difference in fit. If a garment has a residual shrinkage of 5 per cent or more, look to the size and style to see that it can be worn comfortably after laundering.

Fast color is a must in making a good buy. If the ornaments—bead, piping, lace, buttons and the like—are not color

Nigeria's Federal Troops Enter Reb Capital Of Benin

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigerian federal troops occupied today the capital of the Republic of Benin, a day-old, self-proclaimed nation that rebelled Wednesday to fight the Lagos government alongside breakaway Biafra.

Lagos forces, greeted by crowds waving palm fronds, entered Benin City and seized a main square, a British government report from the scene said. Firing was heard east of the capital area.

MAJOR WIN

The federal government's advance came only 12 hours after Benin's declaration of independence and was regarded as a major victory in its 10-week civil war with Biafra, the rebellious Eastern state, and the Midwest.

Biafrans took the Midwest region in August and installed Maj. Albert O. Okonkwo, a U.S.-trained physician married to an American, as administrator. Okonkwo issued Benin's independence statement, then disappeared from sight Wednesday.

commissioner in Benin, reported that, crowds cheered the federal contingent as it reached King's Square in the heart of the city. No British or foreign nationals were hurt, he said.

Friction among the nation's major tribal groups lay at the bottom of the Biafra and Benin rebellions. Thousands of Ibo tribesmen living in the Biafra-controlled North were slain in months of upheavals last year and Ibo leaders in the East—the Biafran region—charged unfair treatment by Lagos. The Midwest has 500,000 Ibo.

City Looks Like Battlefield

PORT ISABEL, Tex. (AP) — Hurricane Beulah and Port Isabel fought a fierce, costly struggle early Wednesday as the hurricane stormed ashore with winds estimated at close to 140 miles per hour. Beulah won the battle. The city looked like a battlefield when it was first viewed late Wednesday by newsmen who braved gale force winds and blinding rain.

Two Garrison Pals Pledge More Money

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Two principal contributors to the private fund that finances Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's inquiry into the Kennedy assassination vow they'll keep putting up the money as long as they believe he has a case. "We're in hopes that it's a short-term deal," said Willard E. Robertson, a wealthy New Orleans civic leader, "but we're not going to disband until Mr. Garrison's case is proved or disproved."

SECRECY FUNDS
Robertson referred to Truth and Consequences of New Orleans, Inc., an organization of 50 businessmen which has been backing Garrison since the district attorney's undercover investigation became public knowledge last February.

At that time, Garrison said he couldn't maintain the secrecy he needed if public funds were used in the probe. Such expenditures would be a matter of public record.

Garrison disputes the verdict issued by the Warren Commission after its official investigation of the murder of President John F. Kennedy, shot in Dallas, Tex., on Nov. 22, 1963. The commission ruled that Kennedy was killed by a rifle bullet fired by Lee Harvey Oswald, and concluded that Oswald acted alone.

EVIDENCE
Garrison says he has evidence that a group of conspirators based in New Orleans was responsible for the assassination, that Oswald played only a minor part in that conspiracy, and that Oswald did not fire the fatal bullet. And, he says, he knows who did.

In the 10 months since the district attorney began his investigation, charges have been filed against one man. Garrison obtained a grand jury indictment charging Clay L. Shaw, a retired New Orleans businessman, with conspiracy. Shaw pleaded innocent, and is free on bond while awaiting trial.

IT HELPS
Robertson, who is chairman of Truth and Consequences, said last June 9 that the organization had donated $9,418 to Garrison's probe, and that all but $380 had been spent. This month, he said Garrison's expenditures had totaled "a little over $10,000, but not much more."

"He's not a big spender," said Robertson. The money, he said, comes in regular donations from the 50 members of Truth and Consequences. "Everyone gives what he can, and it all helps."

CD Workshop Set In Austin

Five directors and staff personnel from Big Spring will be in Austin Wednesday for a Civil Defense workshop, according to W. D. Berry, director of the Big Spring-Howard County Department of Civil Defense.

Attending are Jack Denson, assistant director of the local group; Sgt. Norman Newell, Webb Air Force Base; Leo Hull, assistant chief of police; George Zachariah, city commissioner, and Berry.

"The session is being held for those persons participating in a test of the new increased Readiness Information System," said Berry. He added that Big Spring and Howard County comprised one of a select group of local governments invited to participate in the test run. It will precede the annual Civil Defense exercise scheduled for the last week in October and first week in November.

Pioneer Given Rate Increase

With Tulsa, Friona and Muleshoe voicing approval Tuesday, all 51 towns in Pioneer Natural Gas Company's West Texas distribution division have now completed favorable action on the company's request for a gas rate increase, according to a company announcement. Earlier in the week Canyon, Hereford, Dimmitt and Ralls adopted the increase rate structure.

The new rate will be placed in effect in all 51 towns about the middle of November. Even with the increase, said company spokesmen, rates will still be among the lowest in the state.

The cities and towns served by Pioneer's West Texas Distribution Division are in the area from Canyon and Hereford on the north to Midland and Odessa on the south.

An estimated 50 per cent of the coastal city's businesses were destroyed and all but a few were damaged by the powerful storm as it sought and after spending almost two weeks churning in the Caribbean and the Gulf of Mexico. Trailer houses were almost all either overturned or splintered by the hurricane's winds.

At least four persons "rode out the storm here. Two of them stayed in a small, ancient trailer and two others spent the night in an appliance store.

"Hell yes," was the answer Wednesday when a newsman asked the trailer residents if they were all right. They wouldn't leave the safe confines of the flimsy trailer to discuss their ordeal. Gale force winds and blinding rain kept the reporter from pursuing the issue. None of the fishing town's numerous service stations remained intact. Gasoline pumps were yanked from concrete anchors, lubrication and car wash rooms were flattened, and cold drink and cigarette machines were scattered around driveways.

One of about two or three business places that suffered only minor damage ironically had no boards or masking tape on the windows. The owners apparently fled in the face of

Rape, Robbery Charges Filed

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Gus L. Lanier filed rape and robbery charges Wednesday against Johnnie Kizze, 25, of Huntsville.

Kizze was held without bond in the Walker County jail. He is accused of attacking a 22-year-old woman on a farm road near here Sunday night.

Two Huntsville officers arrested Kizze on the highway after the woman drove home and informed her parents.

the storm without taking time for safety precautions.

Only the ancient Port Isabel lighthouse, which has seen many killer storms in its 115 years of dominating the Port Isabel landscape, and a new bank escaped untouched.

DEEP WATER
A curio shop was flattened, the building housing the Port Isabel Press was damaged and the roof was torn off of the Queen Isabella Motor Hotel, the town's largest and most deluxe lodging place.

Water ran too deep for automobile traffic on many streets and others were impassable because they are not paved.

Visibility was limited to about 250 feet Wednesday afternoon and a driving rain hid nearby dirt-lined South Padre Island from view.

All residents of the island were ordered to leave early Tuesday when hurricane warning flags were hoisted. No reports were available as to how much damage the hurricane caused.

The Queen Isabella Causeway that links Port Isabel and the island was to remain closed until hurricane warnings were removed and tides recede to normal levels.

New Yorkers In Final Welcome For A Queen

Blue-Ribbon Viet Panel Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A blue-ribbon U.S. commission should be set up to help determine whether the performance of the newly elected South Vietnamese government merits continuation of the American military effort there, Sen. Jacob K. Javits said today.

The future of the U.S. commitment in Vietnam, the New York Republican said, will be determined in large part by the ability of the new government to gain popular support, institute reforms and take over many activities now performed by Americans.

Javits said the commission's reports could bridge "the alleged credibility gap which contributes so much to the divisiveness, bitterness and confusions surrounding the Vietnam issue."

His proposal was in the form of a joint resolution calling for creation of a 21-member commission.

The President would name 11 members and designate the chairman. The vice president would name five senators and the House speaker, five representatives.

Effects Of UAW-Ford Strike Increase

I Know A Secret

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson leans over to hear a whispered greeting from an elderly well-wisher in Watertown, S.D., Wednesday where the nation's first lady began a five-state tour of rural America. The four-day Midwest tour will visit government property, beautification and welfare programs. (AP WIREPHOTO)

DETROIT (AP) — Economic side effects of the United Auto Workers strike against Ford Motor Co. are mounting, and the diagnosis is that they'll get much worse.

Already hundreds of jobs in supplier factories and in transportation have vanished, along with 160,000 in Ford plants across the country.

As the strike enters its third week today, industrial spokesmen say that henceforth for the walkout's duration layoffs elsewhere likely will be accelerated.

SIX MORE WEEKS

And there was a prediction Wednesday from Ken Bannon, chief of the union's Ford negotiating team, that the strike has at least six more weeks to run.

Bannon, expressing hope he was too pessimistic, estimated it will be another month "before the pieces start falling together" in negotiations of a new contract between Ford and the UAW. Then, he predicted, it will take another two weeks to fit all the pieces together.

Ford was struck at midnight Sept. 6 as three-year contracts ran out there and at Chrysler and General Motors. The UAW chose Ford as its target, hoping to use whatever it wins there as the pattern for subsequent settlements at Chrysler and GM, in that order.

AMBITIOUS LIST

The UAW struck in support of what it calls its "longest and most ambitious list of demands" in history, and it was over economic issues, including a demand for guaranteed annual income, that negotiations begun in July finally foundered.

Since the walkout, Ford and UAW negotiators have not returned to economic issues and are not expected to before next week, at the earliest.

While striking Ford, the union kept its members working without contracts in GM and Chrysler plants, which together employ almost 500,000.

STRIKE PAY

The UAW international executive board gathered in Detroit today to recommend a strike-supporting increase in union dues paid by UAW members still working. A special convention of the union is set for Oct. 8 in Detroit to act on the recommendation.

Meanwhile workers in the 25-state Ford empire began collecting strike benefits ranging from $20 to $30 weekly, depending on family size, compared with what the company says was an average weekly gross paycheck of $155.83 last year.

PINCH

Bannon, who is the UAW's Ford department director, was among those shifting to a strike benefit income status. Normally he makes $19,250 a year, but as a family man he draws the top strike benefit: $30 a week.

Industrialists say the pinch of the strike would have been greater already, but while ordering shipments held up, Ford has not yet notified suppliers to hold up on manufacture of components for 1968 models, which go on display in dealer showrooms Friday.

Vendors calling on Ford have dwindled, and some express amazement that Ford has not yet ordered a stop on previously placed orders.

Pentagon Gun Probe Pushed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid a duel of words over gun control legislation, Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan proposed today a Senate investigation of Pentagon policy toward the National Rifle Association.

The Republican asked the Senate Armed Services Committee to find out why the NRA has become "the exclusive sales agent" for surplus Army rifles.

His request coincided with initial Senate committee action on President Johnson's hotly contested firearms control bill.

TINY MARGIN

That measure, bitterly opposed by the NRA, was approved Wednesday by the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee.

The 5 to 4 decision was only a preliminary skirmish in the gun control battle, which will be waged later in the full Judiciary Committee and in the Senate itself.

The Johnson bill would bar interstate mail-order firearms sales, along with over-the-counter handgun sales to out-of-state purchasers. It also would bar importation of military surplus handguns and required licensing of all firearms dealers, importers and manufacturers.

SURPLUS RIFLES

The inquiry Griffin seeks does not involve the firearms control issue. It stems from the report of some 400 Detroit policemen that they are joining the NRA so they can purchase surplus carbine rifles for possible riot control use.

"Only the NRA and its affiliated units are eligible to purchase surplus arms and ammunition," Griffin complained. "In effect, the government has made the National Rifle Association its exclusive sales agent for surplus rifles."

"I see no reason why law enforcement agencies should be required to go through the NRA to fulfill a defense function," he said.

State and local law enforcement agencies should be permitted to purchase directly the Pentagon's surplus weapons, Griffin said.

Candidate Unfolds Unusual Platform

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A candidate for sheriff bases his campaign on an unusual platform—do away with the job.

"I would hope that I would be the last sheriff of San Francisco," says David Johnson, 41, field representative for the Bay Area Urban League.

Johnson would turn over county jails to the State Department of Corrections. Since running the jails is one of the sheriff's main jobs, Johnson figures there wouldn't be much else to do.

Baptists Change Meeting Sites

NASHVILLE — The Southern Baptist Convention will meet in Houston in 1968 instead of New Orleans, according to action by the executive committee of the convention.

The committee has voted to switch the 1968 and 1969 meeting sites. Previously the 1968 convention had been scheduled in New Orleans and the 1969 convention would have been held in Houston.

The action was taken when it became apparent that construction of the new Rivergate Convention Hall in New Orleans would not be completed in time for the convention to be held in New Orleans next year.

LBJ Scores Slum Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has handed President Johnson a big victory by approving two of his major programs for improving living conditions for slum dwellers.

It voted 62 to 25 to give the President $537 million for the model cities program and 59 to 31 to allow him the full $40 million of contract authority he asked for rent subsidies. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen persuaded 16 other GOP senators to support the rent subsidies bill.

The allotments were riveted Wednesday into a $1.4-billion omnibus money bill on which the Senate is expected to complete action today.

The $537 million for model cities is $300 million more than the House allowed and substantially all the administration said it needs for this new program.

The total includes the full $400 million authorized for special grants to cities this year, plus $12 million in planning money and $125 million in special urban renewal funds for use in the model city areas.

Johnson asked for another $125 million in special urban renewal money—a total of $250 million—but the bill's managers said other urban renewal funds were available from which the deficiency could be made up.

The administration devised the model cities program, first authorized by Congress last year, to give special aid to cities so they can clean up much of their slum areas.

The cities would present comprehensive plans on housing and social services to try to qualify for the special grants. Many have applied and selections are expected to be announced soon.

The $40 million in annual contract authority for rent subsidies for low-income families is designed to make possible the financing of 44,500 new housing units.

Buy Meat Of Quality For Roast

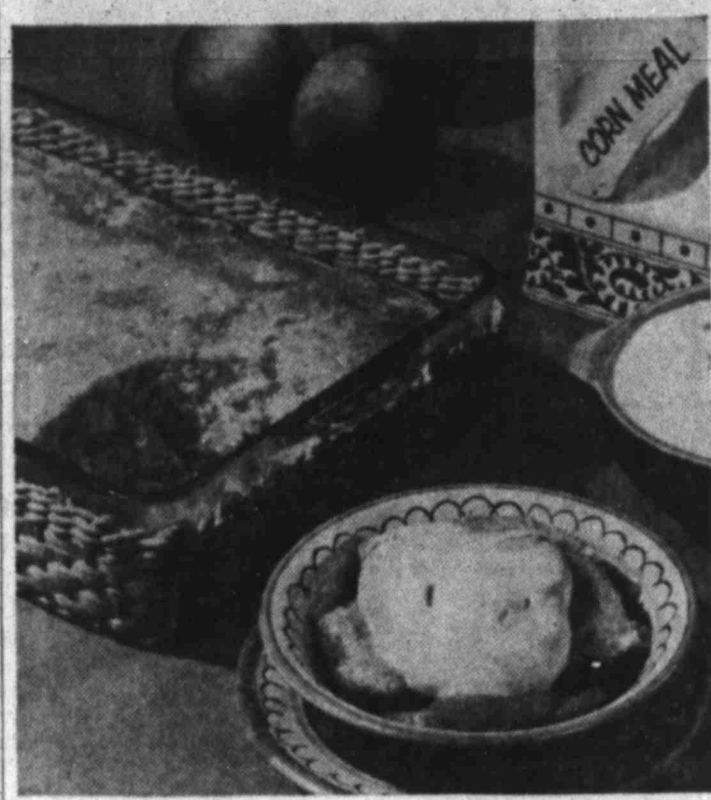

A new bride just back from the honeymoon may be confused about what meat cut to purchase when the groom asks her to prepare a pot-roast.

A number of different cuts are available, including sirloin tip, rolled rump, blade or arm. The first two are from the hind-quarter while the latter come from the chuck section.

Neither the sirloin tip nor rolled rump will have bones to complicate carving for the couple. When they are high quality, cook by dry heat method (roasting). Otherwise, they should be cooked by braising or a moist heat method, thus giving what we call a pot-roast.

POT-ROAST CAPRICE
 3 to 4-lb. beef sirloin tip, rump, blade or arm pot-roast
 2 tbsps. lard or drippings
 2 1/2 tps. salt
 1/4 tsp. pepper
 1/2 cup water
 1/2 cup apple juice
 2 whole onions
 4 whole cloves
 1 1/2 cups dried prunes

Brown meat in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Add water, apple juice, onions and whole cloves. Cover tightly and simmer two hours. Add prunes and continue cooking one to 1 1/2 hours or until meat is tender and prunes are done. Remove meat, prunes and onions and thicken liquid for gravy.

All-Season Delight

Fresh peaches and a cornmeal topping combine to make a delicious cobbler appropriate to serve at brunch.

Hearty Cobbler Makes Tasty Brunch Meal

Brunch, a meal for all seasons, often needs a lift. This peach cobbler may fill the bill. Although cobblers do not ordinarily appear on brunch menus, this one is appropriate because it is not overly sweet and its hearty topping includes white corn meal.

A technique tip: follow directions and have the peach base bubbling hot before spooning the batter over it. Otherwise the batter may not cook completely wherever it touches the peaches.

PEACH BRUNCH COBBLER
 5 cups sliced fresh peaches (about 2 1/2 lbs.)
 1 tsp. lemon juice
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind
 1/4 tsp. ginger
 1 cup sifted regular flour
 1/2 cup enriched white corn meal
 1/4 cup sugar
 2 tps. baking powder
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 1/4 tsp. salt
 1 egg, beaten
 3/4 cup milk

Into a 7x11x2-inch baking dish turn the peaches; sprinkle with lemon juice. Mix 1/2 cup sugar, lemon rind and ginger; sprinkle evenly over peaches. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven about five minutes. Shortly before you do this, in a medium mixing bowl, sift together flour, corn meal, 1/4 cup sugar, baking powder and salt. Cut in butter until particles are fine. Add egg and milk; stir until blended. Pour batter over bubbling hot

PANTRY PICK-UPS

When a recipe calls for a "small" head of cabbage, you'll probably be safe in using a cabbage that weighs about one pound.

If you plan to use bacon drippings, make sure you cook the bacon at low heat so that the drippings will be white-looking and have the mildest possible flavor.

An old-fashioned ricer is a good investment because it usually lasts a lifetime. It's excellent for ricing hard-cooked eggs and boiled or baked potatoes.

To concoct a tartar sauce that tastes especially delicious with fish or seafood, add plenty of drained capers to the mayonnaise preparation. If you like large-size capers, look for jars of them in the section of a good market that is stocked with Spanish-style foods. Regular bottled capers, available in all large food markets, are small-size.

Regular spoonbread made with cornmeal is delicious, but so is the variety of spoonbread that is made with cooked hominy grits.

If you are using round steak for Beef Stroganoff, make sure that you simmer the beef until it is extremely tender. When Stroganoff is made from very tender beefsteak that is usually broiled, quick cooking is the rule.

Any kind of leftover cooked meat or poultry may be used in a stuffing for baked green peppers.

A thick batter, to which whole-kernel corn is added is often used for deep-fat fried corn fritters; to vary this dish, omit the corn and use chopped cooked shrimp.

Lots of minced canned pimiento is an excellent addition to creamed shrimp or crabmeat.

Ever add strips of leftover cooked ham to that macaroni-and-cheese dish? Along with a tossed green salad and a plate of sliced tomatoes, this makes a satisfying main course for lunch.

Roll cooked asparagus stalks in thin rectangles of cooked ham; wrap in foil and warm in a moderate oven. Serve the asparagus-ham rolls on a buttered toast with a piping-hot tangy cheese sauce. Garnish with slices of ripe-red tomato.

Try Pork Tenderloin Broiled

Sometimes good things come in small packages, you may have heard. This is certainly true of pork tenderloin which weighs a pound or less.

This most tender and boneless section of the pork loin has often been roasted whole; it's been cut in patties and braised or two have been fashioned together with stuffing and baked.

Now, it can come to the table broiled after being cooked on an outside grill or in the range. It's delectable when treated to a brush-on sauce during the cooking for the pork takes easily to apricot nectar, ginger, soy sauce and lime juice.

This cut, the loin section, is cooked to an internal temperature of 170 degrees whether it is just the tenderloin or whole roast. That's well-done for pork loin or tenderloin. And that's necessary for developing its flavor fully.

PORK TENDERLOIN

2 or 3 lbs. pork tenderloin
 1 tbs. ground ginger
 1/4 cup brown sugar
 1 can (12 oz.) apricot nectar
 1-3 cup soy sauce
 1 tsp. lime juice, if desired

Mix ground ginger and sugar. Add apricot nectar, soy sauce and lime juice and mix well. Place tenderloins on grill and cook slowly. Broil on one side about five minutes, turn and brush with mixture. Broil second side five minutes, turn and brush with mixture. Continue broiling, turning occasionally and brushing with mixture until done, allowing 25 to 30 minutes total cooking time. Makes six to eight servings.

Bake Seed Cake For Coffee Klatch

Try this unusual cake next time you have a coffee klatch.

POPPY SEED CAKE

3 tps. poppy seed
 1/4 cup milk
 1 cup sifted regular flour
 1 tsp. baking powder
 Pinch of salt
 1/4 cup butter
 1/4 cup sugar
 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Soak poppy seed in milk for three hours. On waxed paper, sift flour with baking powder and salt. In a large mixing bowl cream butter and sugar. Stir in the sifted dry ingredients in about four additions, alternately with the milk and poppy seed mixture, only until smooth after each addition. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into a round 8-inch layer cake pan that has been buttered and floured. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 25 minutes. Turn out on a wire rack to cool.

Serve with whipped cream and sliced fresh peaches.

Meat Loaf Made New Pork Way

When the family wants a change from regular meat loaf, plan on making one with veal and pork.

Veal is delicately flavored. It is well used with pork which has a slightly more pronounced flavor. Bacon will add even more flavor to these two meats.

This recipe can be used in several different ways. Bake in a loaf pan or ring mold or shape and place on a rack in a shallow pan as you would a roast since that's what meat loaf really is. For an even shorter cooking time, make it in patties as suggested in the variation.

VEAL LOAF

1 1/2 lbs. ground veal
 1/2 lb. ground pork
 1/2 cup coarse dry bread crumbs
 1/2 cup evaporated milk
 2 eggs, slightly beaten
 2 tps. lemon juice
 1 tsp. salt
 1 tsp. celery salt
 1/4 tsp. pepper
 2 slices bacon
 2 slices veal, pork, bread crumbs, milk, eggs, lemon juice and seasonings. Pack into a greased 8x5-inch loaf pan. Dice bacon and place on top of loaf. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 hours. Makes six to eight servings.

VARIATIONS

Bake in a greased 1 1/2 quart ring mold in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for one hour.

Shape meat mixture into eight patties. Use 16 slices of bacon instead of two. Do not across the other to form eight chops. Lay bacon slices one across. Place a meat patty on the center of each cross. Shape bacon slices around patties. Place patties on a rack in an open roasting pan so that the 40 to 45 minutes.

MRS. CHARLES C. HALTOM

Colonel's Wife Tells Of Life In England

By RHODA LEMONS

From a foggy morning in London, England, just six weeks ago, to fall weather in West Texas amounts to quite a change for Mrs. Charles C. Haltom, who resides at No. 60 Chautau, Webb Air Force Base.

Mrs. Haltom is the wife of Lt. Col. Haltom, Director of Service Division at Webb AFB. They have three children. Mrs. George Ulrich of Milwaukee, Wis., Mrs. Harland Hinkle of Alexandria, Va., and Robert Charles, a freshman at Texas A&M University. Also, they have three grandchildren, Kent Ulrich, two, and Cheryl and Jenny Hinkle, two and three respectively.

While stationed in England, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Haltom made their home near Liverpool, but spent the last year in London. Mrs. Haltom fell in love with the English people, the countryside and the history and culture of the English nation.

She found marketing a delightful experience. In the suburban towns were market places filled with vegetables and fruits, the butcher shop, where one could have meat cut exactly as desired and get in a little gossip on the side, and the chemist's shop or the drugstore. According to Mrs. Haltom, the people were very friendly and neighborly, and she found that they lived at a much slower pace than the average American family. Prices on vegetables are cheaper there than they are here and they are larger and more flavorful, according to Mrs. Haltom.

"Another marvelous custom of the English people is their tea hour," said Mrs. Haltom. It seems that no matter how hurried the day or how pressing the circumstances, they take time for a leisurely tea served with delicious tidbit cookies, or chimes ring out simultaneously from their large collection. They have one clock, heavily-carved, which features a brass face and Westminster and Whittington chimes; another made of satin wood made around 1799; a Welsh clock from 1859 that features a resounding bong; and a small clock made in the 1790's with Cambridge and Whittington chimes.

One of Mrs. Haltom's pleasant memories is the time she and her husband attended a "high tea." They dressed in formal clothes at noon and following a formal reception, were served tiny, thin, cucumber sandwiches, biscuits and "delicious tea." They were then invited to play whist, followed by dinner which was often interrupted for toasts to the ladies, to the men and to the queen. Following dinner, there was a dance featuring a "caller" similar to the square dance caller and after the dance, tea was served again. Coffee was also served, which the English drink as half coffee and half milk.

Mrs. Haltom is glad to be in West Texas and in Big Spring in particular, but she feels that a part of her will always remain in England, which after all, is the "mother country" to the United States.

Inscribed on the latter are these words, "The Rose Brass of Eldesbrough, AD 1412. What I spent, I have had. What I gave, I have; What I refused, I am being punished for; What I kept, I have lost."

Sometimes the brass-rubbing was done on the walls of the church, in the tombs, or even on the floor. Mrs. Haltom hopes to hold an exhibition and display her works at a later date.

Clocks are another interest of the Haltoms, and beautiful bells with delicious tidbit cookies, or chimes ring out simultane-

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL

This Scalphunter Was Not A Myth

By ED SYERS
Some weeks ago, we trailed what seems Texas' grimmest scalphunter, a former Kentuckian, Jeff Turner, a man driven with a vengeance goal from an even hundred Indians. OBT conceded this fearful career could be legend or fact; the frontier was big also with stories.

Scalphunter Turner was a fact, says Plains' Russell B. Jones, quoting from his grandfather Hillary Bedford's "Texas Indian Troubles." Bedford, in Texas at 1850, said the Bigfoot Wallace account was true, then described the man as Bigfoot saw him, trailing together from Lavaca country into an Indian fight. Said Wallace:

"I saw a man riding rapidly on our trail . . . tall, well-built, in buckskin shirt, leggings and a conkskin cap. He had an old-fashioned flint and steel Kentucky rifle, a tomahawk and scalping knife in his belt. His hair was matted and hung around his shoulders in long rolls.

"His eyes peered out from them, bright as two mesquite coals. I have seen all sorts of eyes, panther's, wolves', cata-mounts' and Mexican lions', but I never saw eyes that glittered like this man's." Wallace shortly learned the man was not after stolen horses, but scalps; also, what lay behind those eyes was a 10-year memory of his massacred wife and children.

SCALPS SATISFY
"When I am compelled to go a long time without taking a scalp," the hunter said, "I am more like a crazy man than sane . . . I have 46 of them hanging in my camp. I shan't be satisfied unless I can take a hundred before I die. I will, too, sure as my name is Jeff Turner."

In the fight that followed, Wallace's men recovered their stolen horses; Turner took five scalps and "became quite sociable after the fight, once laughing outright. Thereafter, I never saw him smile again."

In fact, Wallace never again saw the man at all, but heard reports in the settlements that Turner had been through with more scalps, then moved west. Bigfoot, and writer Bedford, (whose book is in reprint now, Abbottsford Pub., Pasadena) figured the Comanche finally caught him napping. There, the old story doesn't necessarily agree, except indirectly.

One account has him crouched in a cave near Fort Phantom Hill, where the Comanches missed him. But a dark-stirring rattlesnake den didn't. And just two scalps to go.

OLD RIP
Brownwood's Mrs. Herbert Reed: "You asked about the horned load, 'Old Rip.' My husband saw the cornerstone of the old Eastland County Courthouse opened and saw 'Old Rip' lifted out, apparently dead, after being entombed 31 years. When the air struck him, he moved and showed other signs of life. He died not long afterward and was placed in an open little casket, glass-topped, lined with red velvet. He still is on display in the lobby of Eastland's Courthouse."

Before he turned outlaw, Sam Bass loved to match his fleet Denton Mare against any comers. His story gives the little racer much early day fame, then drops her. What happened to the Denton Mare, was asked recently; and Fort Worth's Mrs. Paula Rippey Reed gives the question sharper focus. She's finishing a book she believes completest yet on Outlaw Bass, has a "searched everywhere," finds no trace of probably the last thing Bass really loved.

Austin's U.T. student Patty L.: "What is the story of Austin's tall light towers? A senior friend says they are fairly recent additions to the city. I'm a freshman, recently moved to Texas. (Note: Those towers gave 'freshman moonlight' far back as when I was on campus. Maybe an even older grad will tell your senior friend their story.)

Write OBT, care of The Herald, or Ingram, Texas 78025. For personal reply, please enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Neighbors Squawk Jails Bird Lover

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Cooped up five days in jail for feeding pigeons, 70-year-old Mabel Steed is leaving her nest.

"We're going to move out. I'll sell or give the house away and we'll go to Palm Springs," she chirped Tuesday when she was freed.

Mrs. Steed was convicted of contempt of court for ignoring a court order not to feed the birds around her house. Neighbors squawked that their numbers created a public nuisance.

Mrs. Steed crowed: "I have fed pigeons all my life and I don't intend to quit now."
