Staged from MacDill AFB, Fla., the maneuver included air drop and landing assaults near Ft. Carson, Colo.; Ft. Hood, Tex.; Ft. Huachuca, Ariz.; and Cannon AFB, N. M., under simulated attack by mock aggressor guerrilla forces. The wing was cited for accomplishing an extensive aerial photo mapping survey and related geodetic missions well ahead of schedule and at cost savings.

Capt. Willie E. Einsel has arrived for duty at Ohio State University, where he is assistant professor of aerospace studies. He previously served with the 390th Air Commando Squadron in Saigon, Vietnam.

Giant Recovery Project Launched By Red Cross

The gigantic task of recovery and rehabilitation of the flood area of South Texas is getting under way, even as emergency relief measures continue, and what could be one of the most costly disaster relief operations in its history is facing the American Red Cross.

The organization is appealing for special contributions to local chapters, or to United Fund campaigns where the Red Cross is a participating agency, as in Big Spring.

Red Cross area offices have been staffed in Harlingen, Raymondville and Corpus Christi to provide long-range recovery help many tens of thousands of disaster sufferers will need to get back on their feet. Additional area offices will be opened as needed. Red Cross disaster headquarters have moved from Houston to Corpus Christi.

Estimates now are that 135,000 people have been affected, and the cost to Red Cross will run into multi-millions of dollars. The agency has been designated as the official disaster relief agency, with state and federal officials urging contributions to it.

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL

How Long For Wood To Petrify?

By ED SYERS

"Let's get the petrified facts straight," challenges Yoakum's A. Williams, regarding just how long it takes to turn wood to rock. Science said some of our petrified trees counted birthdays in the millions, OBT didn't argue. Not so with this South Texan; he's known it done in seven years.

"A neighbor of ours decided to make a razor hone," relates Williams. "He cut and split a young hickory tree, whittled a piece six by one by one and one-half inches. He dropped it in his water well. It floated about four years, then sank."

"Three years later, he hired a man to go down in the well and clean out. The hickory stick had turned to rock—as fine a razor hone as can be had: been in use by the family some 73 years."

AND DENTON MARE

While setting the rock record straight, Friend Williams forks right into Sam Bass' saddle, up on the Denton Mare, which mount has raced here before. One lady hunted her, believing her folks had bought the little racer from Sam before he died. A historian, long searching the outlaw's record, said there was no trace of what happened to Bass' favorite horse.

"The mare went down in the gunfire at Round Rock," asserts Williams, "the same as Sam. His career was not over a number of years, as some think." (Note: Right indeed is the brevity of Bass' career. An ex-cowhand, he was racing his Denton Mare on North Texas tracks in 1874; was dead in abortive Round Rock bank hold-up, July 21, 1878, having outlived for keeps, little over a year. But fate of the mare, in OBT's corner, yet remains uncertain without additional help.)

ZEB PIKE SALVO

Recently, OBT carried a salute to intrepid Zebulon Pike's early (1806-07) reconnaissance of now U.S. Southwest and Texas, noted that his history-making trail could be better marked. Observes Cincinnati, Ohio's Froome Barbour: "With all his works, his greatest was trail-blazing... Texas, (a feat) which to date has never been recognized by Texans. Could it be that he wasn't reared in Texas... but New Jersey? (Note: For a land whose Alamo counted defending flags of 18 states and seven nations and whose San Jacinto Twin Sister cannon came from Cincinnati, Texas knows its first pioneers came from far... just as your city's first log fort was Virginian George Rogers Clark's. We'll yet salute New Jersey's gallant Zebulon Pike.)"

Honeysuckle Plans Placate Dallasites

DALLAS (AP) — Some Dallas homeowners seemingly would rather have their homes flooded than look at a blank concrete wall erected to contain the floods. The city placated the homeowners by promising to plant honeysuckle and ivy to cover the retaining wall.

Dear Abby Use Your Head—And Attorney

DEAR ABBY: I've been married 13 years and have three children. My husband has asked me for a divorce, and he has gone to room at his girl friend's house. He wants to take the children there for weekends. Do you think I should let them go? He came to get them for the day and he had this girl in the car with him. What do you think of flaunting that girl in front of me and the children?

He has asked me for a "peaceful" divorce. He doesn't want me to mention her in the divorce and he's asked me to go easy on him when I ask for alimony and support money. He also expects me to help with the bills, but he still wants to claim the children as exemptions on his taxes. I've worked all the years we were married. He worked only part of it. He's unemployed right now. What advice can you give? Two heads are better than one.

NEEDS HELP
DEAR NEEDS: Two heads ARE better than one, provided they aren't on the same person. Don't allow your children to weekend with their father and his girl friend. Tell the boob there ain't no Santa Claus, and let your lawyer work out the best financial arrangements possible.

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion on mouth-to-mouth kissing. My husband and his mother kiss each other on the mouth and sometimes it is so mushy, you would think they were sweethearts, not mother and son. Not only that, but my husband kisses our children on the mouth—even our 14-year-old son!

I wouldn't think of kissing our children on the mouth, Abby. I kiss them on the cheek and teach them to return my kisses the same way. I think this communicates enough affection between parent and child. Who is right, my husband or me? We have had some hot arguments over this.

INQUIRING
DEAR INQUIRING: I vote for you. All mouth-to-mouth kissing is somewhat hazardous from a hygienic point of view. But a kiss between lovers somehow justifies that risk.

DEAR ABBY: I am desperate and actually sick from worrying about something you will probably think is a trivial matter.

My son will have his ninth birthday soon, and I have decided against giving him a birthday party this year for the simple reason that I do not

Compensation Suit Upheld For $13,100

M. A. Hampton, father of Tony Hampton, shot to death March 16, 1966, is entitled to receive $13,100 from Travelers Insurance Co. as compensation allowance for his son's death.

The Texas Supreme Court so held Wednesday in a unique case, originating in 118th District Court in Howard County.

The district court here ruled that the insurance company should pay the compensation claimed by Hampton. The case was appealed to the civil court of appeals. Here again the finding of Judge Ralph Caton in 118th District Court was upheld. The insurance company carried the matter to the Supreme Court and Wednesday the court sustained the findings of the two subordinate tribunals.

It affirmed in full the findings of the 118th District Court and the 11th Court of Civil Appeals in Eastland.

Tony Hampton was killed March 16, 1966, by William T. Patterson as he was walking out the back door of Pinkies, Inc. in Big Spring with Wayne Patterson, who also was killed.

Both the victims worked at the firm and were locking up when the incident occurred.

William Patterson later was found guilty of the crime but insane. It was shown that he meant to kill his cousin because of an old grudge and did not even know Hampton, who died because he was there with Wayne Patterson.

Thus, when the elder Hampton sought $13,100 in compensation, the board and three courts ruled it should be paid because Hampton was in the course of his employment and was killed because employment caused him to be doing what he was doing,

Did You Forget Your Red Pants?

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Wallace White, secretary of the Kansas State Fair, asks with an impish grin: "Did you forget your pants at the fair?"

Among other items that have turned up in lost and found following the close of the fair are shoes, socks, a pair of white spats, a pipe, and more than a half dozen wallets.

The pants? White describes them as red pette-pants with a fringe on the bottom.

Swiss Official Dies

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Michael Hack, 65, Swiss consul to Atlanta since 1956, died Wednesday of cancer. Hack, a native of Basel, Switzerland, was president of the architectural firm of Hack & Associates. He had worked as an architect in Great Britain, Germany, France, Egypt and Palestine.

Voter List Up To 620

Howard County now has 620 residents who are properly qualified to vote in elections of 1968.

That many have registered since Monday, according to Zilah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector. Registration opened Monday and will end Jan. 31.

All persons who plan to vote in Texas elections next year must register with the tax assessor between now and Jan. 31. This applies to persons who are past the age of 60 even though these voters may live in rural areas. In the past these voters have not been required to register.

Mrs. LeFevre said that several difficulties have developed in regard to mailed applications for registration.

She points out that it is most important that the applicant fill in properly the designated blanks on the application forms the year of his birth and likewise the year he came to Texas and to Howard County. She also pointed out it is important that applicants remember to sign their applications.

When applications are received improperly filled out, the office has to send them back to the applicant and this causes delay and additional work in registering the voter.

Mrs. LeFevre said that tax payments have been good so far this week.

Bandit Buzzes Broke Woman

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A Toledo woman was stopped near the city's downtown area Wednesday by a man who demanded her money.

She replied that she didn't have any. The man searched her pockets and found out she was telling the truth, she told police.

He kissed her, said "I'm sorry" and departed.

Beer Experiment

WHEELING, W.Va. (AP) — Wheeling College is experimenting with allowing the sale and consumption of beer on campus, and is the only college in West Virginia doing so.

The Rev. William McGroarty, dean of the college, said Wednesday there "is a long-standing accepted tradition that college students do drink beer."

House Should Do Cutting

Congress has no business defaulting in its responsibility to cut expenditures as well as dealing with taxes, Rep. Omar Burleson said today in his weekly news letter.

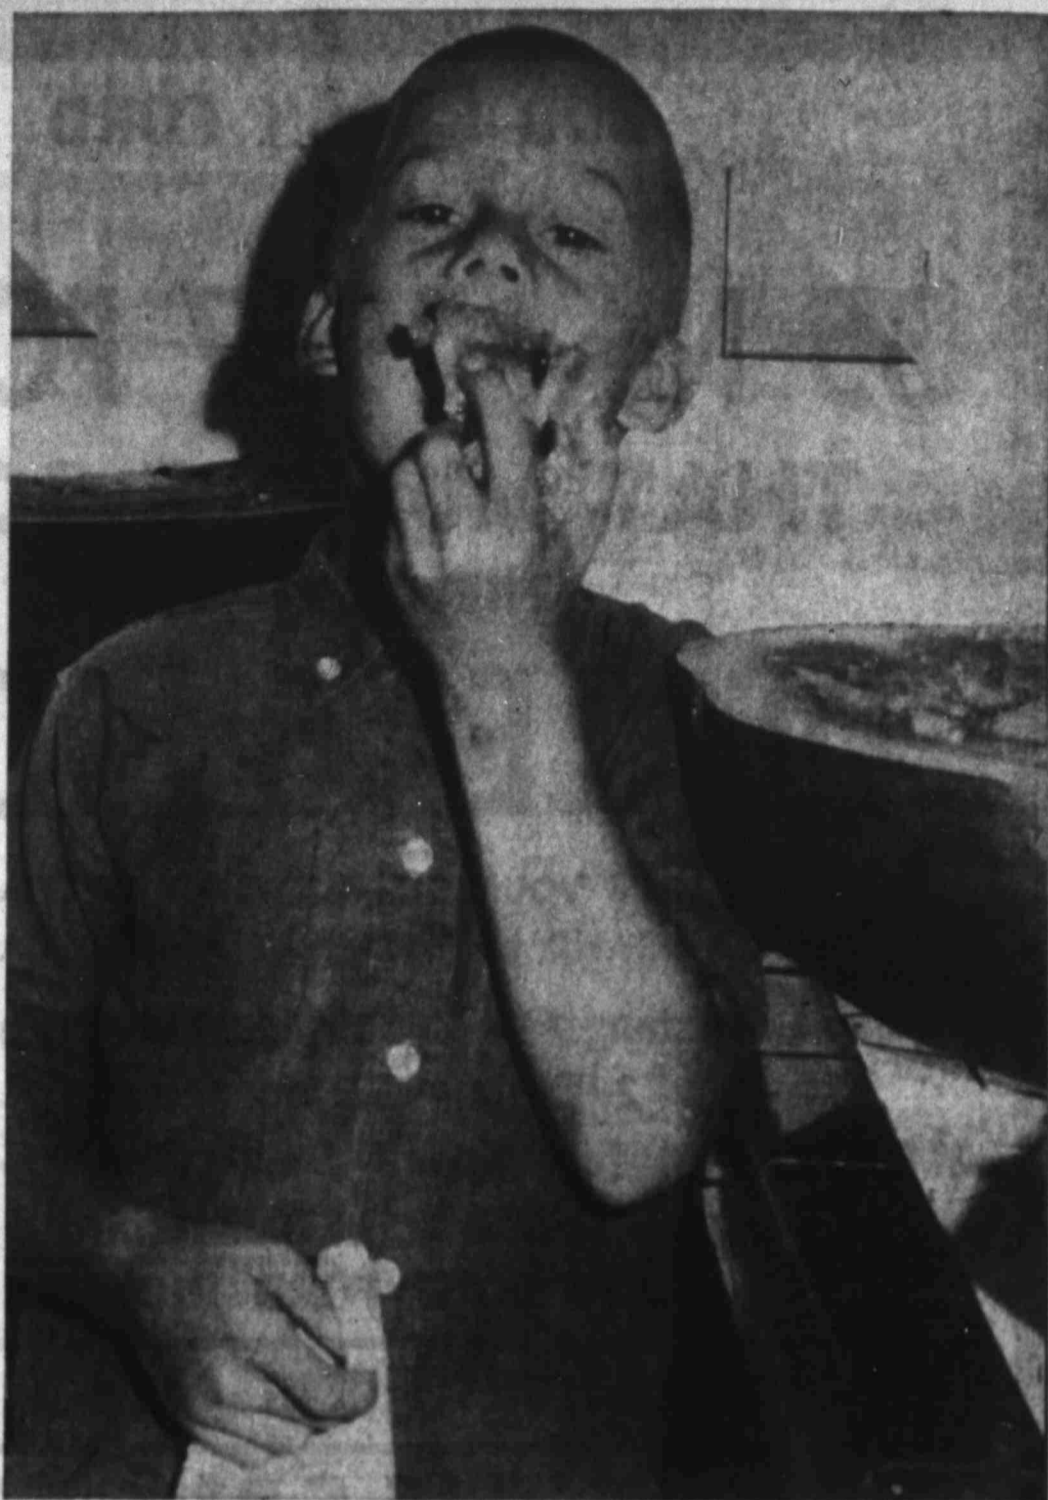

Noting that a proposal to extend the fiscal year "was rejected on the basis of proposals by the Republicans that five per cent of the 1967-68 appropriations be cut by the president before such authorization was granted," Rep. Burleson observed that "the House cannot delegate these powers. Neither should it delegate authority to reduce expenditures from appropriations already made, although it is conceded that the President, under law, can withhold funds appropriated."

"The President does not and should not have this responsibility placed on him. The purse strings belong in the Congress." He added that he felt that "if taxes are to be raised (as the President has recommended in his 10 per cent surcharge), at least a comparable sum should be cut from all expenditures, excluding defense and interest on the public debt, but including our own salaries and all others, for the temporary period for which the tax increase is effective."

Is There Any Other Way To Enjoy Watermelon?

Billy Thompson, 8, has realized that the 1967 watermelon season is just about ended. He probably thinks that the reserve supply his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Thompson of Sand Springs, have on hand won't last too long. Therefore the wise thing to do is get in a little solid watermelon eatin' while the opportunity is still open. That's what he was doing in his mother's kitchen when the photographer dropped by. Nor did he stop feasting simply because his picture was being taken.

Violence Continues In Haulers Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — State government and industrial leaders intensified their efforts today to end the destructive strike of independent steel haulers in eight states.

But violence continued Wednesday night in troubled spots on Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana highways.

The president of Wheeling Steel Corp., Donald C. Duval, asked Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes and West Virginia Gov. Hulett C. Smith to intervene in the strike which he said has reached "costly and critical proportions."

"In behalf of our employees, our customers and our shareholders, I earnestly urge that you exert the maximum powers of your office to bring this dispute to termination," Duval told the governors.

Smith, reacting to another plea, said he would send West Virginia's commissioner of labor to Pittsburgh next week. Gov. Roger D. Branigan said Indiana would be represented by Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer. Shafer has asked representatives of the eight affected states—Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana, Michigan, Kentucky, Illinois, New York and Pennsylvania—to get together on finding a solution to the violence-ridden wildcat strike.

PROTECTION
Shafer had placed units of the Pennsylvania National Guard on standby alert Tuesday when violence threatened to spread on the state's highways. The guardsmen spent the night waiting at armories, but were sent home in the morning.

State police patrols were beefed up. Troopers went on 16-hour work days. Extra cruisers patrolled western Pennsylvania and officials said additional troopers might be brought in from eastern Pennsylvania. Pittsburgh police escorted a 16-truck convoy into the city.

In Michigan, Gov. George Romney said state police would give closer protection to truckers.

TWO INJURED

On the Pennsylvania Turnpike, a shot was fired at a rig, an object hurled from a passing car smashed the windshield of another truck and a car forced a tractor-trailer off the road. State police said the violence "seems to be stepping up."

A headquarters for the striking truckers at Alumbank, Pa., was dynamited. No one was injured.

Two independent truck drivers were injured when they tried to block loaded trucks from leaving U.S. Steel Corp.'s Morrisville, Pa., works. They were hospitalized.

TRUCKS HIT

Five rigs, four of them hauling steel, were shot at today on the Indiana toll road near Portage, state police said. Two trucks were hit. No one was injured.

The strikers, drivers who own their rigs, want an increase in their cut of the steel hauling fee. They get 73 per cent now, but want 79 per cent. They also want a penalty payment for waiting in a mill to get their truck loaded—$15 an hour after the first two hours.

Bandits Bind Five Persons; Loot Estate

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Five armed men, wearing cloth masks and gloves, escaped with $334,000 in rare coins, jewels and cash from the palatial Willis Harrington duPont estate on Biscayne Bay early today, police said.

The five men bound duPont, his wife, their 4-year-old child and the butler and his wife during their two-hour looting of the huge estate which contains nine bedrooms and 19 bathrooms.

An elaborate burglar alarm system was not connected when the bandits hit. Lt. Eugene Gunn said. Gunn said he was unaware of earlier reports that the burglar detection system included closed circuit television.

The bandits put the five occupants of the house into an upstairs bedroom and cut the telephone line in the room while they rummaged the house.

Gunn said the rare coin collection, worth an estimated one-half million dollars, contained 6,000 miscellaneous rare coins. Also taken were 1,000 silver dollars, five watches worth $5,000, some of Mrs. duPont's jewelry and an undetermined amount of cash.

The five men fled in duPont's 1967 Cadillac convertible which was found abandoned a short time later at a nearby church.

DuPont is the son of the late Lamont duPont, president of the E.I. duPont de Nemours and Co., Wilmington, Del. In 1962 he married Miren K. de Anezola of Bilbao, Spain.

He holds ranching, aviation and citrus interests in Florida.

Clean Shades To Insure Durability

If you keep window shades clean, they will last a lot longer.

You'll find that the better cotton fabric shades are treated so they can be easily wiped clean with mild soap and water.

Dust or vacuum shades at regular intervals and spot clean with a damp cloth. For a complete cleaning job, place the shade on a flat surface and wash section by section.

Use a sudsy cloth or sponge and as little water as possible. Avoid letting water run onto other sections, as this may cause streaks. Damp rinse each section separately and wipe dry before going on to the next.

When you've finished, hang the shade up at the window, pulling it down full length, until completely dry. To "iron" out any wrinkles, roll the shade to top of window and leave overnight.

Faded Chilean Town Shares In 'Operation Handshake'

By HOUSTON HARTE
 IQUIQUE, Chile — This city, once the most prosperous in Chile, is still a progressive desert town on the border line between Chile and Peru. Pronounced "Eekeyky" it had a boom at the beginning of the century, 1906 - 1918, as the world's largest producer of nitrate.

During the first world war the nitrate boom was like an early day oil boom in West Texas. Then the Germans developed a method of producing synthetic nitrate and Iquique fell flat on its face. Left now as a relic of the great old days is the Spanish Club and the "opera house." Caruso sang in the opera house and the Russian dancer, Anna Pavlova, danced here. Today these events are memories of past prominence.

It is hard to believe that these great artists made this stop when they were in their prime. The townspeople will never forget it. Last night one of the bands of the U.S. Marine Corps arrived here for two free concerts.

The city square faces the Spanish Club, on one side, and the Opera House on another.

Here the Marines gave their concerts. The band arrived in a Marine DC3 in the middle of the morning. After lunch it played a concert at the high school. Last night it played in the square to thousands of eager citizens.

Tax Increase Proposal Hits Tight Defense

By JOHN CUNIFF
 AP Business News Analyst
 NEW YORK (AP) — The administration's tax increase proposal, which pre-season reports indicated would display a hard-driving offense, apparently has run headlong into a line of stiffening taxpayer defense.

Mail to congressmen reportedly is running heavily for holding down taxes, and so, by a 20-5 vote, the House Ways and Means Committee has voted to lay aside the measure. Spending cuts come first, it said.

The offensive coach in the White House now may have to devise some new plays if the game is to be won. Early indications, however, are that none are forthcoming.

Speaking here this week, Charles Zwick, assistant director of the Budget Bureau, indicated the administration would resist cuts that threatened to undermine its domestic programs.

The results of this impasse, if it persists, could be very dangerous to the economy, for the signals of rapid expansion seem to be flashing from many directions.

There is no such thing as a stalemate in this "game." Somehow, revenue must be raised or spending cut. A decision must be made or, it is generally agreed, inflation threatens.

Inflation for a short while can seem like a good thing. Most people might be taking home bigger pay checks and the disillusionment sets in only with the realization that prices are higher, too.

This stiffening taxpayer defense against spending is not an isolated reaction. In recent years municipal bond issues and school budgets have been turned down by voters.

Clearly, voters are concerned about what they feel is an absence of old-fashioned American thrift on every level of government from their own local affairs to Washington.

They have watched their Social Security taxes rise. They have watched their state legislatures this year add close to $2.5 billion in taxes, according to the Tax Foundation, a nonprofit research organization.

MORE TAXES
 New sales taxes make every shopping trip a reminder that life is expensive. Nine states this year raised gasoline taxes, 10 states raised tobacco taxes, four raised alcohol taxes and seven states added really transfer taxes.

band being stoned when it attempted to give a free concert a few nights before Cartagena, Colombia, a university town about 90 miles on the Caribbean side from the Panama Canal.

CHEERS
 There was nothing but cheers for the performance in the plaza at Iquique. Several Marines with excellent voices sang popular songs in both Spanish and English. One Marine called a pretty little Iquiquean girl to the platform where she did a spirited Spanish dance. The crowd extended a block down each of the five avenues which ended at the plaza. Although the populace saw and heard with difficulty at the extremity of the crowd, the act got a wonderful reception. Caruso would have been pleased had he received such unanimous plaudits when he sang here.

This, we can assume, is a part of "Operation Handshake," our effort to help South America, which I am not certain is appreciated. It may be our help is resented. We seem to have failed to recognize one of the facts of personal everyday life: The one person who will never forgive you is the man for whom you have done a favor, for which the recipient knows he will never be able to repay. This seems to be a situation where goodwill is last and for which you can never be forgiven. Your observation may be different from mine, but personally I can find no exception in my own experience.

CLUBS
 Iquique appears to have been the seat of many clubs organized by the new inhabitants in the nitrate boom days between 1906 and 1918. Clubs seemed to have been formed by nationalities so that persons coming here for the get-rich-quick money could have some association among the newcomers.

There was an English Club, a German Club, a French Club and the predominant Spanish Club. On the main piazza the Spanish Club secured a lot, built an imposing two story building and flourished as the big club of Iquique. Its building was to be a little Alhambra. Today no one I have talked to knows how it keeps going and who keeps it up.

The paintings which adorn its wide walls made the voyage around "the Horn." Its furniture is ornate and heavily carved. The imposing stairway leading to the club meeting room and the banquet hall attracts each visitor's attention. It is operating at full blast.

There is a long bar near the center of the room. A stranger is greeted by a scowl by any visitor who orders anything but Pisco Sour — a drink some foreigners concocted 50 years ago for which the going price in most South American bars is $1.25.

It is not priced in dollars, but whether it is escudos, pesos or soles, it all adds up to the same price. Apparently it is made of a mixture of grape brandy (a native product), cocoa, lime juice and a severe mixing by an electric blender or a big shaking up in an old shaker.

Not being a connoisseur of the bartenders art and having tasted them when they were either sweet or sour, flat or exhilarating, I can only say it is not the finest drink the world offers. From observation I would guess it represents 75 per cent of the drinks served in South America.

NATIVES' COST
 I have not been able to find the price the natives pay for this $1.25 drink, but from the local consumption I would guess the charge was about 35 cents. This is but one of the ways we help South America solve the exchange problem.

Two Join TEC Staff

Two new employees have recently joined the staff of the Texas Employment Commission here. Leon Kinney, office manager, has announced.

One began work in August. He is Bryan L. Webb, who comes to Big Spring from Hobbs, N.M. He is a graduate of Texas A&M University and had been employed by a department store in Hobbs until he came to Big Spring.

Webb is unmarried. He is a member of the Baptist church. His home is in Winters.

The newest employee is Joe R. Wallis, who began work this week. He comes from Sweetwater. Wallis is married and has three children. He and his wife are Baptists. He is a native of Coleman County and is a graduate of Howard County Junior College. He has worked for a number of firms before becoming associated with the TEC.

Both he and Webb are to be classified as interviewers. They will replace Jack Hatch, veteran aide at the Big Spring TEC. Hatch is now in the El Paso TEC office as a statistician.

cloudy or smog-covered land. The sun has shown but a day or two during the two weeks we have traveled this area. Once you get above 3,000 feet altitude you are in the southern sun, but under this it is just like those aggravating cloudy days we have in West Texas when we know no rain will come because the sun will burn the clouds off by 9:30 a.m. Here the clouds hang on but no rain comes.

Happy Celebrates 60th Birthday

HAPPY, Tex. (AP) — This Swisher County town celebrated its 60th birthday Aug. 26. The celebration included a barbecue, skydiving exhibition, baseball game, pony express and bicycle races, parade, art exhibit and western dance.

Happy was moved from its original location, two miles east of the present site, when the Santa Fe railroad was extended south from Amarillo soon after the town was founded. The town got its name from Happy Draw, so called by early-day cowboys seeking grass and water for their stock.

Drug-Taking Tips Trigger Hassle

LEEDS, England (AP) — Controversy broke today over a doctor who told British university students that drug-taking is "an essential and not necessarily blameworthy activity."

Dr. Ronald Still, medical officer at Leeds University, said, "Besides considering the legality of their actions, students should assure themselves that whatever drugs they use would be a valuable addition to their total well-being, without entailing the risks of crippling addiction."

In London, a spokesman of the British Medical Association told newsmen "This is a most extraordinary thing for a medical officer to say. It goes against medical advice and could be exceedingly dangerous."

Thorough Thieves Thwart Television

SILVERTON, Tex. (AP) — At least the thieves were thorough. Someone took a color television set from the Randall Eddleman home but overlooked a black and white set. Then a short time later, thieves entered and took that, too.

The Eddlemans can't listen to the radio, either. The thieves walked off with that instrument.

Beer Plant Pact Let

FORT WORTH (AP) — A $2.5 million contract was awarded Wednesday to Cadenhead Construction Co. of Fort Worth for construction and expansion of the Miller Brewing Co.'s plant here.

The plant, which will be about twice the size of the existing facility, formerly the property of Carling Brewing Co., will have a capacity of a million barrels of beer per year, an official said.

The construction program will include a new five story brew house which will replace the continuous brewing process installed by the previous owners.

Full production of Miller's products is expected by the spring of 1969.

When fully operational, the Fort Worth plant will serve Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana and Kansas through 91 Miller distributors.

"The plant here will be an extension of our company's product facilities in Milwaukee," a spokesman said, "where sales have increased 85 per cent in the last 10 years."

Court Plans Are Revealed

Fall activity schedule for the 118th District Court will be set in action the week of Oct. 16.

Judge Ralph Caton said today he has scheduled five weeks of civil jury dockets for the period Oct. 16 through Dec. 1.

In the same period, he said, a criminal docket will be set up and the Howard County grand jury will meet for the term Oct. 24.

The first civil docket is to open Oct. 16, when a jury panel will be called. The other civil jury dockets are set for Oct. 30, Nov. 13, Nov. 27 and Dec. 1.

In four of the five dockets, the cases will be called Friday before the Monday opening of the docket. Hour of the docket calls is 2 p.m. However, docket call for the Nov. 27 docket will be Nov. 20 at 2 p.m. This is because the courthouse will be closed Nov. 26 and 27 for Thanksgiving holidays.

2 Grandmothers Discover Truth

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Two grandmothers, patients in the same room at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, discovered they have been bragging about identical youngsters without knowing it.

Mrs. Flora Rice, 74, and Mrs. Will Bowman, 84, talked glowingly of a great-grandson and a great-granddaughter.

The next day, Mrs. Bowman's son came calling and pointed out that Mrs. Rice's granddaughter, Clara, was married to his mother's grandson, David.

The two grandmothers who only met briefly several years ago at the wedding reception, had not seen each other until the hospital visit.

Dale Carnegie Alumni Meet Here Friday

Dr. O. Sherman Carlson of Corpus Christi, governor, will preside at the Division 12 annual fall leadership conference of the Dale Carnegie Alumni Association which begins here Friday afternoon in the Settles Hotel.

Bailey Messner, Division 12 Councillor, will respond to the welcome to be given by Carroll Davidson, manager of the Chamber of Commerce. Saturday morning's keynote speaker will be Wayman Cooper, governor-elect.

Presiding at the workshop session will be Herb Franklin, district governor; Jo Ann Carlson, deputy governor of the eastern area; Felix Wylie, deputy governor of the western area and George Miller, Beaumont.

Dan Urbanek, international councillor, will be master of ceremonies at the awards banquet where trophies will be given for the three best workshops and the "spark plug award" will be given the person contributing the most to the meeting. Bill Haney, educational director of International, will be the banquet speaker and Jane Cyva will present the awards.

Dr. Carlson graduated from the University of Pittsburgh Medical School in 1942 and spent from 1943 to 1946 in the Fourth Armored Division as battalion surgeon in the European Theater of Operations. Prior to moving to Corpus Christi, he practiced medicine in his home town, Bradford, Pa.

Carlson has served as vice president of the Board of Directors of YMCA and the Emblem Club. He is a charter member of the Run-for-your-Life Club and has run over 1200 miles. He is past president of Knife and Fork Club and at present is serving on the Board of Directors of Knife and Fork International. ### 'Penthouse' Film Sick, Obscene?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How brutal can a film be? The test of man's inhumanity to the movie goer will soon be made with a new Paramount release called "Penthouse."

The British-made film has been raising the hackles of previewers in Europe and America. Some claim it to be a masterpiece, some call it an atrocity. No one seems neutral. All this delights Peter Collinson, who wrote "Penthouse" and directed it at a cost of $100,000. He has attended previews of the film in various parts of the world and was in Hollywood for a two-day visit, his first to America.

CHEERS

"In Berlin the audience was with the picture all the way," he reported, "and when I came on the stage, they rose in a body and cheered me. In Paris and New York it was a different story. At about one-third of the way through the picture, we start getting walkouts. People leave the theater muttering that the film is black, sick and obscene. In an audience of a thousand, usually 20 or 30 leave."

"Penthouse" concerns a married man having an adulterous affair in a London apartment. Posing as meter readers, two thugs enter and commit all kinds of indignities against the illicit pair.

BACKSTREET

Britain's censor John Trevelyan read the original play and decreed that a film version could not be approved.

"But I went ahead and made it anyway," said Collinson, a quiet-spoken, tallish man of 28 with a mod shock of blond hair. "After Trevelyan saw it, he did a remarkable thing. He said he would approve the film if I could get a major company to release it. He didn't want it shown in cheap exploitation theaters."

Loan Firms Nix Upheld

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court upheld Wednesday the denial of applications for two savings and loan institutions in LaGrange, Fayette County.

James O. Gerst, former state savings and loan commissioner, turned down South Central Savings and Loan Association's application for a branch office and an application by L. W. Stolz Jr. and nine others for the proposed Fayette County Savings and Loan Association.

A Travis County trial court reversed Gerst's rulings, but its decision was reversed by the Austin Court of Civil Appeals.

The Supreme Court upheld the appeals court, saying it could find no reversible error. The high court did not write an opinion.

Texas-Exes To Meet Friday

AUSTIN — Chancellor Harry Ransom and vice chancellor Norman Hackerman of the University of Texas' System will speak Friday to a gathering of Texas-Exes attending a two-day conference for UT alumni club officers. Purpose of the conference is to inform alumni leaders of university activities and Ex-Students' Association programs. Alumni officers who are to attend the meeting include John Burgess and Paul D. Meek of Big Spring.

Education Center Ceremonies Booked

DALLAS (AP) — Dedication ceremonies are set for 11 a.m. Friday for the $450,000 Joe and Edith T. Long Memorial Education Center at the Wadley Institute of Molecular Medicine. Mrs. Long, of Longview, contributed $500,000 to enable Wadley to begin plans for the new institutes two years ago.

Island War Vet Top Recruiter

PORT ARTHUR (AP) — First Sgt. Lewis A. Ewing, the Marine recruiter in Port Arthur, has been named top nationwide individual producer for the Marine Corps Recruiting for the fiscal year 1967. Ewing has been the Port Arthur recruiter since the station was activated in July, 1966. He is a veteran of Island warfare in the Pacific during World War II and the Korean War.

Death Penalty Is Affirmed

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas court of criminal appeals has affirmed the conviction and death penalty assessed Jesse Ellison by a Falls County jury for robbing a female liquor clerk at knifepoint. Testimony at Ellison's trial showed he entered the rural liquor store on Feb. 18, 1966, and took $340. The clerk, Thula Hill, testified Ellison held a knife to her and said: "Just one stab is all it will take to kill you." Ellison alleged six errors of law were committed at his trial, including admission of testimony and evidence that after the robbery he had allegedly taken Mrs. Hill to a spot 5 miles from Temple and raped her twice.

Lions Told Of Club's Camp For Crippled Kids

The work of the Lions League of Texas Crippled Children's camp was detailed for the Downtown Lions Club Wednesday at the Settles by W. A. Wilson, Coahoma, one of the directors of the state camp at Kerrville.

The film told the story of a young girl's trip to the camp and her two weeks of participa-

The counselor and aide staff in its numerous activities, exceptionally large to help the youngsters have as nearly normal experience as possible. The camp was built by the Lions Clubs of Texas, and is financed by them, Wilson explained. In addition, the facilities are used during the winter for training of the blind.

Not only can the children attending not pay, but their transportation to and from the camp usually is supplied by the clubs in their home town. Lions Clubs, in this area and all over the state, are constantly seeking applications for the summer camp.

Fort Worth Sales Tax Vote Looms

FORT WORTH (AP) — A city councilman has raised the possibility of a city sales tax election here.

Councilman Watt Kimble Jr. said he would seek such an election as soon as he has figures to show how much revenue the tax would produce.

Kemble said he would like the council to "commit itself" to reducing the city's property tax rate if the figures justify a sales tax election. Fourteen Texas cities, including Austin and El Paso, have approved a one-cent city sales tax, viewed here as a means of reducing ad valorem property taxes.

Science And You

India And Atomic Energy

—By DR. LEONARD REIFFEL

India is attempting to move into a new era in its atomic energy programs. Recent announcements by the Indian Atomic Energy Commission reveal plans to spend almost $2 million in construction of atomic energy plants and resources in the next year. This isn't much money by U. S. standards, but what India plans to spend it on is significant.

One of the biggest projects they're undertaking is the development of a new experimental nuclear reactor. It will produce 10 million watts of power and will be of the so-called fast breeder type. This is perhaps the most advanced reactor type yet conceived — even in the United States we're still in the early stages of our own fast breeder program.

Fast breeder reactors make or "breed" more fuel than they actually consume. You can see the tremendous long-run importance of such an ability.

The Indian government has also committed itself to the development of several new state-owned companies. One of them will be concerned with the building of electronic equipment. Its products will include digital computers and electronic instruments for detecting radiation. Another will be a state-owned processing plant for uranium fuel. This facility will be coupled with a uranium mining operation which is already producing 1,000 tons of uranium daily.

Clearly, the Indians mean business. Their basic aim is to become self-sufficient in nuclear power. A complex of three additional plants is being set up in Hyderabad, India. One of these is a uranium oxide plant which will produce 125 tons of purified uranium chemicals very suitable for use as nuclear fuel. A ceramic plant will be used to build fuel elements out of the uranium oxide. This combination will put the Indians in the high temperature reactor business, since they are also going to build a 50-ton capacity zirconium plant. Zirconium is a rather weird metal, the use of which was pioneered by the United States. It is primarily used for surrounding the fuel of the reactors to avoid corrosion, and hence it is a very important element in the building of a big nuclear power program.

Even beyond all of these energetic activities, India has started on the development of a 200-ton capacity heavy water plant. Heavy water is a key to a big, long-term and self-sufficient nuclear energy program.

All of these facilities will no doubt play a vital role in supplying electrical power for Indian industrial development over the next decades. One can be sure, however, that Indian planners have not lost sight of another, more ominous, use for the expanded capability. If India elects to produce its own atomic and hydrogen bombs in response to the threat posed by China's nuclear armaments, these plants could be of key importance.

Parents Texas Rule Reversed

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court has reversed its historic decision in 1935 denying the right of parents to recover damages for the death of a child before birth.

Mr. and Mrs. Santiago M. Leal of San Antonio sued C. C. Pitts Sand and Gravel, Inc., for the wrongful death of their baby as a result of a collision between the plaintiff's car and a truck allegedly owned by the defendant.

Mrs. Leal was "six or seven months" pregnant at the time of the accident. The child was born alive but died two days later from injuries allegedly sustained in the collision.

The trial court dismissed the case because the Texas rule, set in the 1935 case, did not recognize a cause of action for prenatal injuries. The Court of Civil Appeals affirmed the trial court for the same reason.

Since 1935, however, there has been an "impressive contemporary trend" in American courts toward recognizing the right of recovery in such cases, Associate Justice Zolzie Steakley said in Wednesday's landmark opinion.

In overruling the 1935 decision the court declined to decide whether the new rule applies only to cases where the baby is born alive or where "the fetus is viable at the time of the injury." Those questions were not before the court in the Leal case, the court said.

The Leal case was reversed and remanded to the trial court for further proceedings.

MRS. L. D. GRICE

Working Mother Has Help From Husband

By RHODA LEMONS

Mrs. L. D. Grice is a working wife and mother who spends most of her leisure time with her husband and children. She is mainly interested in whatever activities in which they are engaged. Most things done at home, even chores, are shared by the entire family.

The Grice family lives at 2706 E. 24th. Mrs. Grice is employed as secretary at the International Union of Operating Engineers, and Grice is associated with the Reef Corporation leading terminal in Sands Springs. Their children are Greg, 16, a sophomore at Big Spring Senior High School, and twins, Kin and Kit, 11, sixth grade students at Kentwood Elementary.

Mrs. Grice shops the newspaper specials whenever possible, but admits that often she must stop at the store in the evenings to purchase extra items. Her family likes to eat by mood, and this makes planning a week's menu in advance difficult to do. However Mrs. Grice often prepares casseroles in advance, and her family enjoys this type of meal.

Her family eats a light breakfast, and the children have lunch at school. Grice is a shift worker, and when he is home during the day, prepares lunch for himself and his wife. Mrs. Grice says that her husband is a very "capable and imaginative" cook, and when he doubles as chef, the table is set with the most attractive dishes, a linen cloth and, perhaps, a fresh flower arrangement. According to Mrs. Grice, he thinks that food tastes much better if served in attractive surroundings.

Mrs. Grice admits that her husband is more painstaking with meals than she is, but that he absolutely refuses to clean the kitchen after his efforts. Perhaps, it is for this reason that Mrs. Grice lists her dishwasher as her favorite household appliance. She feels that it has saved her hours of drudgery in the kitchen.

Although Grice is the official yardman in the household, Mrs. Grice loves to plant flowers and landscape the whole area. They usually work together in the yard, and the children join in the labor.

They are avid sports fans and attend all the Little League games and the football games. They enjoy drives to neighboring towns for dinner and per-

Treat Your Guests To Hot Rolls

Looking for two meats which can be served easily?

Veal round steak or cutlets, as they're called sometimes, can be rolled with "boiled" ham slices to make a novel combination for a luncheon you might be planning now that fall has arrived.

Beef round steak can easily be cut into five or six servings, but veal, being smaller by one-third to one-half, cuts more readily into three pieces. The natural dividing lines between the muscles can be used as a cutting guide.

VEAL AND HAM ROLLS

2 lbs. veal cutlets, cut 1/4 inch thick
6 slices "boiled" ham
3 tbsps. lard or drippings
1/2 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed mushroom soup
1/2 cup milk
1/4 tsp. marjoram

Cut meat into six pieces. Place a slice of ham on each piece of veal and roll like a jelly roll. Fasten with a wooden pick or tie with string. Brown rolls in lard or drippings.

Pour off drippings. Season. Mix the soup, milk and marjoram together. Pour over rolls. Cover tightly and cook slowly 45 minutes or until tender. Thicken sauce, if necessary, and serve with veal rolls. Makes six servings.

Facts And Figures Denote Population

America has increased in population by one-third since 1937. Meat output has doubled. The average person now eats 45 pounds more meat than in 1937. Each increase of a million people requires livestock expansion. Translated into realistic figures, this means 172,000 more beef cattle, 25,400 more dairy cattle and 433,000 more hogs are needed to meet today's consumption rate.

NUTRITIOUS AND FILLING 'Keep Your Cool' with this meal

Make A Pretty Summer Meal To Serve On The Back Patio

Here is a pretty summer supper hot from the broiler to be served on the porch or patio. Delicate pink lean cooked ham is rolled with slices of golden cheese and centered on the heat-proof tray. Spooned around the ham are cooked buttered green lima beans.

Instant mashed potatoes pushed from a tablespoon form the ruffled collar around the edge. The entire supper of meat and cheese, potatoes, and vegetable is popped under the broiler just long enough to melt the cheese and brown the potatoes lightly.

BROILED HAM-CHEESE TRAY

8 slices cooked ham
8 slices pasteurized process American cheese
2 pkgs. (10 oz. each) frozen lima beans
1/2 tps. dill weed
4 tps. butter or margarine
1 packet instant mashed potatoes (about 2 cupsful reconstituted)

Paprika
Remove cheese from refrigerator to bring to room temperature. Cook lima beans as directed on the package adding the dill weed to the salted water used for cooking. Drain and add butter. Place a slice of cheese on each slice of ham. Roll each and fasten with a wooden pick. Arrange ham rolls in center of heat-proof platter. Spoon drained lima beans around ham rolls. Prepare potatoes as directed on package. Using a tablespoon measure, spoon mashed potatoes around the edge of the platter. Brush potatoes lightly with milk and sprinkle with paprika. Place platter under broiler or in very hot oven to brown potatoes lightly and melt the cheese. Yield: four servings.

FOR WEIGHT WATCHERS New dessert tastes heavenly

New Method Of Serving A Mix

A new way to use a convenient coffee cake mix.

SOUR CREAM COFFEECAKE

1 pkg. (10 1/2 oz.) coffee cake mix
1 tbs. instant coffee powder
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup commercial sour cream

Put coffee powder, unbeaten egg and milk into large bag of mix. Squeeze upper part of bag to force out air. Close top of bag by holding tightly between thumb and index finger. With bag resting on table, mix by working bag vigorously with fingers. (Mix about 40 seconds or until egg is completely blended.) Squeeze bag to empty batter into special foil pan in package; do not grease pan. Dot sour cream over batter; sprinkle with topping in smaller bag. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven about 25 minutes. Open corner folds of pan for easy cutting and serving. Makes eight servings.

New Homemade Dessert Has Low Caloric Count

For those who like to serve delectable homemade desserts "made from scratch," but who just can't find the time, take a look at this unusual recipe. Home economists for the non-dairy creamer have come up with an exceptionally easy, no-cook way to make that great dessert classic, Lemon Bavarian Cream... and it's delicious.

Welcome news to dieters is the fact that with the help of this powdered creamer and non-caloric sweetener, the dessert costs considerably fewer calories than when made with calorie-laden heavy whipping cream. A total of 109 calories has been slashed from each serving.

NO-COOK LEMON BAVARIAN CREAM (Calorie-Trimmed)

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
4 eggs, separated
1/2 cup non-dairy creamer
1 1/2 tps. liquid sugar substitute

1 tbs. lemon rind
1-3 cup lemon juice
Soak gelatin in cold water; dissolve in boiling water. Beat egg yolks; add non-dairy creamer, sugar substitute, lemon rind and juice. Blend in dissolved gelatin. Chill until slightly thickened; then whip until foamy. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold into gelatin. Spoon into a lightly oiled six-cup mold; chill until set. Makes eight servings. (Contains 82 calories.)

Makes Tasty Dip

For a flavorful dip to use with crackers or potato chips, make Blue Cottage Cheese Dip. In a mixing bowl combine 1/2 cup crumbled Blue cheese, 2 cups cottage cheese and 2 teaspoons grated onion; beat until fairly smooth. Makes 2 cups.

Wage Earner Can Provide Better

In just two years, the amount of time required to bring home the bacon has declined five percent. To explain that another way, the purchasing power of increased incomes has more than offset food price changes. This does not apply to farm income which has not yet moved back to where it was in 1949.

QUICK PIZZA

4 English muffins
4 slices mozzarella cheese, or swiss
4 tps. tomato sauce
4 tps. salad oil
Salt and pepper
Parmesan cheese, optional

Split English muffins in half and toast. On each half make layers of the following: one slice mozzarella cheese, one tablespoon tomato sauce, one tablespoon salad oil, salt and pepper. Sprinkle with parmesan cheese. Bake five to 10 minutes in 450 degree oven.

FRESH ORANGE CAKE

1/2 cup butter
1 cup sugar
3 egg yolks
3 egg whites
1 cup sour milk

Grated rind of 2 oranges
2 cups flour, unsifted
1 tsp. baking powder
1/2 lb. walnuts, chopped
1 large pkg. dates, chopped

Cream butter. Add sugar gradually, then egg yolks. Dissolve soda in milk. Add baking powder and orange rind to flour. Add milk and egg whites to butter mixture. Add flour mixture, then dates and nuts. Pour in tube pan. Bake 50 minutes at 375 degrees.

ICING

1/2 cup sugar
Juice from 2 oranges
Dissolve sugar in orange juice, pour over cake while still hot in pan. Cool before removing from pan.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Sugar cookies look pretty with a dot of red currant jelly in the center. Add the jelly garnish just before serving.

You can use a package of condensed mincemeat, prepared according to package directions, as the filling for a sponge-cake roll. As the filling is prepared, and before using, add some grated lemon rind and lemon juice.

When you use condensed celery or mushroom soup as a sauce for meatballs you might like to dilute the soup with a little dry vermouth.

Puree sweetened frozen raspberries (defrosted) in the blender, then strain to remove seeds. Use the raspberry "sauce" with vanilla ice cream and sliced fresh peaches to concoct Peach Melba. Good enough for company!

Delicious compote for summertime: sliced fresh peaches combined with sliced ripe bananas and balls of cantaloupe.

Too Many Cooks Spoiling Soup?

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Dr. Leon H. Keyserling, economist and lawyer, says present welfare programs won't help many poor people because "too many cooks are spoiling the soup."

Keyserling, an economic adviser to the president during Harry S. Truman's administration, told the Missouri Association for Social Work:

"The welfare program is inefficient and useless and the whole present program degrading and bankrupt. There should be one program, by the federal government with a guaranteed income, through work or no work."

Doctor Looking For A Ride To His State Hospital Job

By SAM BLACKBURN

"He's 10 feet tall," is the way some of his fellow workers describe him.

"That man is an inspiration to all of us," said others.

They are talking about Dr. Roger Buck ("You're right — a lot of my friends do call me Buck Rogers,") who is unit physician at Unit 10, Big Spring State Hospital.

Dr. Buck lives in Midland. He commutes from his home at 1602 McClintic, Midland, to the Big Spring State Hospital five days a week.

This poses a problem for the good doctor. For others just driving 80 miles a day to and from a job would be an annoyance; to Dr. Buck the difficulty is that he needs to ride with other people.

For Dr. Buck is blind. Four years ago on Labor Day, as he played a hot set of tennis, his eyesight failed him.

"It was as if someone had pulled a heavy veil across my face," he said.

He is a victim of an optic malady called detached retina. He has spent many months in hospitals all over the country where some hope was held out that some part of his eyesight might be saved or restored.

Now he doesn't think there is anything left.

"They talk of laser beams and other modern trends," he says, "but I doubt if they would help in my case."

So Dr. Buck, a practicing physician and specialist in Midland since 1952, suddenly deprived of his eyes, calmly turned to the task of rehabilitating himself so that he could go ahead with his profession.

In the opinion of his friends, he has accomplished wonders. He is back at his beloved "doctoring." His patients and the nurses at the hospital regard him as "the best."

His problem is to find some way to get to and from his home.

"I came to Big Spring in March, 1956," he said. "Friends have helped. My wife brings me over and comes after me most of the time."

"I would like to find some way to get a ride daily with someone who comes to this city from Midland and goes back on a daily schedule. I can board the car in Midland at any place of my host's convenience. My hours here are variable—if my driver had to go back to Midland at 4:30 p.m. I can usually go or if he has to leave later, that's fine with me. I will be happy to share expense."

He rode for a while to and

BEING BLIND NO HANDICAP
Dr. Roger Buck termed "Inspiration" to his fellow hospital workers from Midland with a group of electricians who were employed on the Big Spring High School job.

"That's over now," he says. "My wife has been my chauffeur most of the time since."

His work here dates back to Aug. 1. Prior to that he was attached to the outpatient clinic.

When his eyes failed, he enrolled in institutions where he speedily mastered braille and he has a braille typewriter. He corresponds with his daughter, who is at Trinity University, by braille — she has learned the art to help her father.

He utilizes two tape recorders — one to dictate for his own professional needs — case histories.

"My wife and other kind people read for me," he explains. "They use this recorder. I can keep up with things that way."

He has a library of "talking book" records — including the complete Bible. "Wonderful," is his enthusiastic description of this device.

His work at the hospital, he says, is not really work.

"Everyone is so helpful and it is so pleasant," he says. "Ed Fisher, public relations man for the hospital, says 'Dr. Buck is the finest thing that's happened to us in a long, long time."

Dr. Buck is a graduate of Williams College in Massachusetts. He is the third generation Buck to finish school at that venerable institution.

His right hand "man" at the hospital is Mrs. Winifred Day, RN. This gray-haired lady is constantly at hand to help Dr. Buck with his work and to do all she can to keep the doctor happy. The last task is not too difficult. "Doctor" is just a naturally happy man.

Friends here say that in addition to proficiency in tennis, prior to his blindness, he was an enthusiastic vocalist and took part in many musical events at Midland. He still likes to sing.

His wife is a long time "gray lady" worker and hospitals are as familiar to her as they are to her sprightly husband.

They have four children, three of whom are married and one is now in college.

All Dr. Buck wants is a chance to ride to and from Midland, five days a week. Friends here and in Midland are trying to help him solve this problem.

Anyone who can lend a hand is asked to contact him at 267-8216.

San Angelo School Offices Renovated

SAN ANGELO (AP) — All administrative offices for the San Angelo School System have been consolidated under one roof — in what has been the city's oldest school building. Built in 1884, the structure contains stones from Tom Green County's first courthouse, located in the now-defunct town of Ben Ficklen, which was destroyed in an 1882 flood.

For the past several years the building has been used as a junior high. Its interior has been renovated and modernized.

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist University has begun a $42,900 search for the special-
