Derailment, Fire Force Evacuation

DANBURY, Tex. (AP) — A Missouri Pacific freight train derailed in this South Texas town early Saturday, forcing evacuation of 1,500 persons while firemen for miles around fought an alcohol and rice-fed blaze.

DANGER

There was danger for a time of explosions or escaping gas from cars carrying naphtha and chlorine.

A Missouri-Pacific spokesman said the derailment was caused by a faulty axle, or journal, on one of the cars involved.

The 164-car train was on the main line linking the Texas Coastal petrochemical complex with the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Missouri-Pacific said the line would be cleared of debris sometime Sunday. The burning rice still smoldered late in the day.

HEAVY LOSS

The owners of the rice dryer which was hit by the flaming wreckage and itself set on fire estimated their loss at some $620,000. The rice in the dryer was worth $320,000 the estimate said, figured at $8 per barrel. The loss to the dryer itself, a facility where excess moisture is taken from recently harvested rice, was estimated at $300,000. Danbury is 70 miles south of Houston in Brazoria County.

Police barricades went up on Texas 35 for a time. Most of the town's citizens were awakened by the derailment. The danger of an explosion forced evacuation until shortly before noon, when all but those living near the fire scene were allowed to return to their homes.

TOTAL LOSS

There was no estimate of damage but the big rice dryer was reported a total loss.

The fire began, officials said, when a car carrying wood alcohol ruptured. The alcohol spread a line of flame down the train and into the rice processing plant.

Twenty-five cars were derailed. Some stacked up three deep in a tangled mess against the rice dryer.

There were no leaks or explosions in the tankers carrying the chlorine and naphtha.

Some 200 firemen, including special chemical firefighting teams from the Monsanto and Dow Chemical Co. plants, battled the blaze.

WATER TRUCKED

Water had to be trucked in from nearby towns for a time.

Fire Chief W. R. Wollam was treated and released at a hospital after suffering nausea from the acrid smoke and fumes. There were no other reports of injuries.

Six Found Asphyxiated

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP) — Six members of a Davenport family—including four children—were found asphyxiated in their beds Saturday, apparently the result of a blocked furnace vent. Police said newspapers and a bedspread were found stuffed into the ventilating unit of the home furnace, causing carbon monoxide fumes to circulate through the house.

CHECKING

Detectives and gas company experts were checking the home in an attempt to learn whether foul play was involved.

The dead, all members of the Roger Feisner family, were found in their beds by police officers, who had broken into the house. The Feisners, on a trip to Grand Junction, Colo., had alerted neighbors because they had been unable to get someone to answer the telephone at home. The deadly fumes suffocated the four Feisner children—James, 18, Jean, 17, John, 14, and Joan, 13; their grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Cotton, 91, who lived with the Feisners; and an aunt, Mrs. Ruth Whitmore, 81, of Waterloo, Iowa. A neighbor peered through the window, saw one of the bodies and called police.

ABSENT

Police Lt. J. O. Iverson said the six apparently died late Thursday or early Friday. The children were absent from school Friday.

Hands Across The Border

Presidents Lyndon B. Johnson of the United States and Diaz Ordaz of Mexico shake hands across the border of their countries at a marker on the International Bridge Saturday. They unveiled the marker in ceremonies in which Mexico acquired territory formerly owned by the U.S. A reflection of President Johnson appears in the polished surface of the marker.

Investigation Of Riots Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Public hearings will start Wednesday in a full-scale investigation ordered by the Senate last summer into riots and other civil disorders.

FOCUS

The Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations announced Saturday its initial set of hearings, extending over the next three weeks, will focus on "a group of cities which show a cross-section of riot activity."

The cities were selected on the basis of reports from investigators the subcommittee has had working in riot-hit cities since the Senate authorized the investigation last Aug. 11.

The hearing will begin with testimony about a riot May 17 at Texas Southern University in Houston, the state's largest Negro college. One policeman was killed and three other persons wounded.

Riots that occurred in Nashville, Tenn.; Plainfield and Newark, N.J.; and Detroit and other Michigan cities also will be examined in the first set of hearings.

LARGEST

Of all the riots that swept the country last summer, the ones in Newark and Detroit were the largest and most destructive.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., the subcommittee chairman, said in a statement "the hearings initially will be concerned with the immediate or precipitating causes of the riots."

The subcommittee said that since January, 1965, about 140 cities have suffered outbreaks of violence and that approximately 80 of these cities had over 100 occurrences which can be classified as major civil disorders.

He said the subcommittee also will try to ascertain the effects of inflammatory speeches by agitators, the role of mass news media, the adequacy of federal poverty programs, and the effectiveness of city officials in handling riots.

Thousands Cheer Two Presidents

El Chamizal Treaty Signed In Good Will

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP)—Mexico and the United States ended in pageantry and with glowing good will Saturday a dispute that erupted over a bit of border brush country and lasted more than a century.

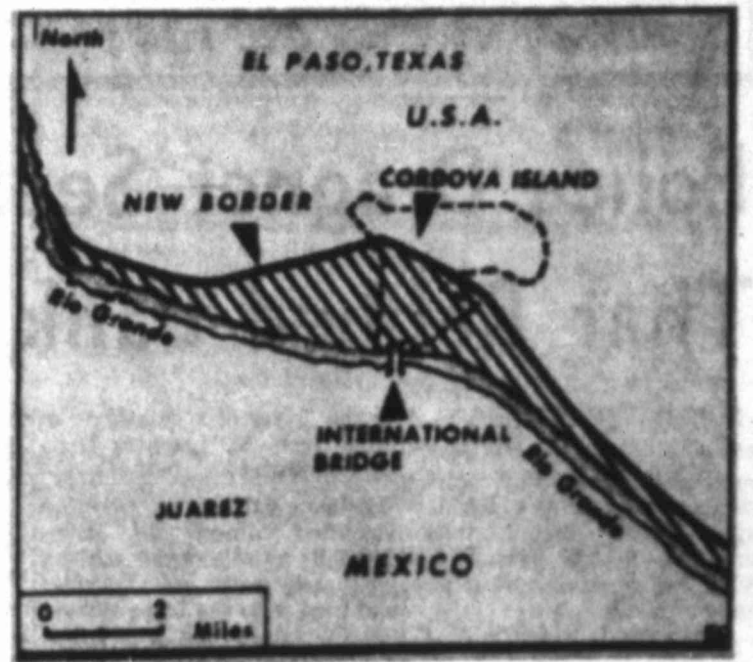

President Johnson and President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz of Mexico sat at desks before a monument on Mexican soil commemorating the settlement to sign proclamations which said the structure "will stand forever as a symbol of good will between our two nations—and as a sign to the world of what men can accomplish when they approach their differences in a spirit of compromise and mutual respect."

The row over a bit of border land called El Chamizal, "The Thicket," grew from a shift in the channel of the Rio Grande that carried a section of Mexico north of the existing boundary. Saturday, the presidents of the neighbor nations sealed a settlement in which their countries traded several small tracts with a net gain of 437 acres for Mexico.

FAILED

This is less than one square mile. But presidents through the years had failed to reach an agreement over the tract.

The actual settlement was reached by the predecessors of Johnson and Diaz Ordaz in 1963

Boundary Settled

when the late John F. Kennedy and Adolfo Lopez Mateos concluded an agreement.

In the interval, the United States spent millions to move its citizens out of the area that now reverts to Mexico.

The actual restoration of this territory took place at midnight when the iron fence along the old border was snipped with loud jubilation.

The two presidents were not on hand for that. They flew in from Washington

Saturday morning on Johnson's plane, to neighboring El Paso, Tex.

Citizens of both El Paso and Juarez turned out by the tens of thousands.

Juarez citizens came in far larger throngs and filled the air with "Vivas," confetti in chunks and the music of mariachi bands. The two presidents rode side by side in an open car, with their Secret Service agents making little attempt to keep people from rushing into the streets to grasp the hands of the two chief executives.

In his speech at the Chamizal monument in advance of the proclamation signing, Johnson emphasized that the border settlement was a proud achievement.

"Let this monument, and this place, stand as testimony to the world of what two nations, working together, can accomplish," Johnson said.

He said that too many times the world has seen disputed boundaries changed through force and that Chamizal, stands as a shining example of how such matters should be settled.

The President, in what appeared to be a palpable reference to Vietnam, told his audience of Mexicans and Americans that:

"Our concern and our commitments are not always easy to uphold. But we cannot abandon them simply because the price is high or the going is rough." This confirmation of his stand on Vietnam appeared to be an effort to cultivate a bit of increased Mexican sentiment on behalf of U.S. policy.

FITTED IN

The words fitted in with something Johnson said earlier when he and Diaz Ordaz dropped in for half an hour on a session of U. S. and Mexican officials who have been conferring two days on mutual problems.

That was at the El Paso Airport Hotel, where Johnson remarked that:

"No President has done anything worthwhile without controversy. I'd rather be controversial than complacent."

Before getting to the treaty ceremony, Johnson took Diaz Ordaz to a hotel near International Airport where a conference on the problems of Mexican-Americans was in progress.

In his remarks to the conferees, Johnson noted the change "in your lives — in all our lives — since I taught Mexican-American children in a Cotulla, Tex., school nearly 40 years ago."

After sketching the obstacles faced and progress achieved by Americans of Mexican descent since that time, the U.S. President said:

"A lesser people might have despaired and given up a long time ago. But your people didn't. They believed they were full-fledged citizens of the greatest nation on earth even if others didn't always treat them as such."

Did You Forget?
 If you set your clock back one hour before retiring Saturday, you don't have the problem of A. W. Peterson, Minneapolis, Minn., who has 150 clocks. He will spend most of today setting all of them back an hour, as the nation returned to standard time early this morning.

Horse Gifts
 TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The Emir of Kuwait sent the Shah of Iran and Empress Farah the biggest gift for their coronation and Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi sent the smallest, but both were horses.
 A room in the Squadabad Summer Palace glittered like a treasure museum Saturday as the Shah inspected 351 of the 411 gifts that have arrived from around the world.
 The ruler of Kuwait sent two live black Arabian stallions and Mrs. Gandhi sent a tiny gold model of a horse studded with rubies and diamonds.

Beulah's Bill
 CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — An American Red Cross spokesman said Saturday that expenditures by the organization resulting from Hurricane Beulah will amount to more than $4 million.
 Edward Brandhorst, disaster services director for the Red Cross operation, said $2,787,626 already had been spent on aid to 18,910 South Texas families.
 The organization still has 265 volunteers and 283 staff specialists working long hours to complete the Red Cross job, Brandhorst reported. He estimated the work should be completed within the next 30 days.

Daylight Savings Time ended at 2 o'clock this morning. In case you're one of those who somehow manage to miss major signals like Gabriel's horn, then turn your clock back one hour. Otherwise, you might be early for church today. Gee whiz! That would shake the preacher.

Big Spring High School is stepping up the pace of plans for the first Homecoming in years. This happy event is set for Nov. 10-11, with a parade and football game the first evening, and a big get-together in the new high school cafeteria the following evening. Several other groups like the band, the former pep squad, etc., are having gatherings, too. The following day, open house will be held at the high school.

The United Fund made some significant advances during the week and had around $72,000 from the current appeal. This will be a crucial week in the bid for reaching the $116,000 goal because several major divisions have set this as a target for completing their work.

SAIGON (AP) — Radio Hanoi said U.S. jets struck the Hanoi area again Saturday in the campaign that Ho Chi Minh complains is intended to "destroy everything and exterminate everybody" in North Vietnam.

Battle operations in South Vietnam's hard-pressed 1st Corps Area shared attention with the air war as the Communist station broadcast a declaration that five American planes were shot down over the capital and some of the pilots were captured.

The U.S. Command announced troops of the 1st Air Cavalry and American Divisions killed 131 North Vietnamese regulars at a cost of 19 dead and 75 wounded in a series of fights Friday in the Tam Ky and Hoi An sectors south of Da Nang.

Further north, Communist gunners fired about 170 shells at Con Thien and other forward Marine outposts below the demilitarized zone, killing seven Marines and wounding 41. The rate of Communist fire was considerably above the recent level of a few dozen rounds daily, though Marine fighter-bombers hammered at enemy fortifications and bunkers just north of the DMZ. Pilots said they destroyed or damaged 46 of these installations.

Communist mortars set six barracks ablaze in a South Vietnamese army post at Ban Me Thuot, a provincial capital in the central highlands 156 miles northeast of Saigon. Government sources said military casualties were light, but five dependents were killed and three wounded.

The pace of the air war over the North, stepped up last Tuesday with the first attack on the Phuc Yen MIG base, was reflected in American statistics on the toll in planes: 14 U.S. jets shot down from Sunday through Friday, 27 MIGs destroyed or damaged.

Some of the felled American planes were two-seaters and, in all, 15 fliers were lost over six days.

The heaviest American loss over the North for any seven-day period was 16 planes and 24 fliers last Aug. 21-27.

The announced aim of the air campaign is to curb the southward flow of Red troops and war supplies from North Vietnam.

Ho Chi Minh, who has rejected every American overture toward peace talks, challenged this with a declaration in the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda that the United States intends to destroy everything and exterminate everybody in the country.

The wispy-bearded president wrote a five-column article, mainly in praise of the Bolshevik revolution. The Russians, now estimated to be shipping him more than $1 billion in supplies annually, are celebrating the 50th anniversary of that revolution Nov. 7.

GARDEN CITY INVESTMENT CLUB

Students Trying It For Real

By JOE PICKLE

GARDEN CITY — Some of them cleaned up in make believe; now they're going to try it for real.

Two years ago Jerry Gibbs, principal of the high school, decided to spice up an economics and general business course by giving his students $10,000 in fictitious capital and turning them loose on the stock market.

HARVEST One youngster made $100,000 in less than nine months. Another reaped a harvest of $21,000. Still another lost $500 before he recouped and gained an additional $200. But generally, students average breaking out about even.

Recently, some of the students came to Winnie Stewart, their general business teacher, and to Pat Bullock, economics instructor, as well as Gibbs and said: "Hey, how about us putting in some real money?"

This resulted in the Students Investors Club, which has a maximum of $10 invested capital per head, and at this rate a starting capital of $100. Charter members are Tony Chandler, Buddy Henricks, Bobby Halfmann, Ronnie Hirt, Melvin Robinson, David Hillger, Gene Pruett, Floyd Hayden, David Hoelscher and Pat Bullock, the instructor.

ADULTS Roy Thruston, superintendent, John Bullock, and Mrs. Joyce Bergstrom are adult charter members. Others are being invited, but it's strictly a student operation as the elders may help principally with additional capital. Adults may vote but they can't hold an office. Charter members may buy out other charter members and increase voting power (one dollar invested equals one vote). In setting up the club, students cited the purpose succinctly: "Money."

A field trip is due soon to Midland to visit a brokerage firm and learn about the mechanics of buying and selling, commissions, fees, etc. Area bankers and brokers have eagerly encouraged the students.

Not only has this program struck a spark with a number of constituents in Glasscock County, but it has attracted fan mail from elsewhere. One San Angelo accountant, with a firm of CPAs, wrote that although he was a BBA graduate of a major university, "I have yet to receive the practical knowledge of the stock market that your students are receiving in Garden City High."

AS STUDENT When Gibbs came up with the idea originally he was a student in North Texas State University and outlined the operation as part of a course he was taking. The professor had kind words, so Gibbs decided to try it when he began to teach. He had more in mind than stimulating interest, for periodically students are called to make a statement of condition, asked for weekly closing prices, where they stand, how the market has fluctuated, their appraisal of trends, and scores of other things.

This keeps them watching the stock market in their daily papers. Of course, they get a good indoctrination in the market before they are turned loose to invest funny money.

With experience and some real money as assets, they are going to have a bona fide try at it on the big board.

Regents Want Report On 'Revolution'

AUSTIN (AP) — University of Texas regents said Saturday they are "deeply concerned" over a bearded, 27-year-old assistant philosophy professor's reported call for revolution at an anti-war demonstration last week.

They referred the case of Larry Caroline, who spoke to a crowd of about 850 on the Capitol grounds last Saturday afternoon, to the administration for investigation and a report "as soon as possible."

Dr. Norman Hackerman, new president of the Austin campus of the university system, said he plans to talk soon with Caroline and Philosophy Department Chairman John Silber.

Caroline, who joined the faculty in September, was at the board's meeting but did not speak. He said he has not talked to the regents or the administration about his speech.

He was quoted as saying at the peace rally, "We can't change the American society one thing at a time—the whole bloody mess has to go. What America needs is a revolution. You don't get a revolution by marching in a parade."

After the rally, he amplified his utterance for newsmen, saying, "I don't know what kind of revolution. If I had the answer, I would have given it to them. But it is not evolutionary. It may not have to be bloody."

Chrysler Is Next Target Of Auto Workers Union

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers, with a newly negotiated Ford Motor Co. contract in its pocket, headed for Chrysler Saturday for round two of the auto labor talks.

A brief UAW announcement at noon ended days of speculation as to whether Chrysler or General Motors would be the next stop on UAW President Walter Reuther's contract seeking tour.

UAW spokesmen said only that the union's international executive board had "decided that the union will bargain to conclusion on a new contract with Chrysler Corp." Behind those few words, it was obvious that Reuther had made the decision to obtain a Chrysler contract next and then turn his full attention to his longtime favorite adversary, General Motors.

Even as the UAW picked Chrysler as its next target, the union was striving to get Ford local plant issues settled so that company could get back into auto production Monday.

Ford's assembly lines have been down since a strike was called at the plants of the nation's second largest auto firm at midnight, Sept. 8.

The national contract between Ford and the UAW was ratified by the majority of the 100,000 Ford workers last Wednesday but local plant problems still have to be settled before the Ford assembly lines can roll again.

As of midmorning Saturday, Ford said 22 of its 101 UAW Ford locals were still trying to work out agreement on a host of local issues.

Workers at one plant, for example, asked for company relief on the problem of traffic congestion at shift time; another asked that workers on the early shift be paid a day earlier than they are now.

The Chrysler bargaining team met with UAW representatives within two hours after the union designation of Chrysler as the next target.

It was expected that ground rules for next week's negotiations would be worked out and that UAW President Reuther would lead the UAW team in an all-out effort to obtain the same benefits for Chrysler workers that were won for Ford workers.

The Chrysler bargaining team met with UAW representatives within two hours after the union designation of Chrysler as the next target.

It was expected that ground rules for next week's negotiations would be worked out and that UAW President Reuther would lead the UAW team in an all-out effort to obtain the same benefits for Chrysler workers that were won for Ford workers.

As of midmorning Saturday, Ford said 22 of its 101 UAW Ford locals were still trying to work out agreement on a host of local issues.

Workers at one plant, for example, asked for company relief

on the problem of traffic congestion at shift time; another asked that workers on the early shift be paid a day earlier than they are now.

Honor Grad At Webb

2nd Lt. Richard S. Castle receives the ATC Commander's Trophy, at a Dining-in held by Webb AFB's graduating class 68-C Friday night. Making the presentation is Brig. Gen. Ernest T. Cragg, deputy chief of staff, Operations, ATC. Lieutenant Castle also was given the Academic Training Award and the Flying Training Award.

Officer Wins Silver Star

Capt. Ronald W. Sager of the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron at Webb Air Force Base (right) receives the nation's fourth highest military award, the Silver Star, in ceremonies held Saturday at the Base graduated class 68-C. The award was presented by Brig. Gen. Ernest T. Cragg, deputy commander for Operations on the Air Training Command staff.

Silver Star To Captain; Other Awards Presented

Five Webb officers received medals during the wing parade and review on the flight line at Webb AFB Saturday. The awards were presented after members of graduating class 68-C had received their wings and certificates of aeronautical rating.

The Silver Star, the nation's fourth highest award for valor, was presented to Capt. Ronald W. Sager, 3560th Pilot Training Squadron, Captain Sager also received the First Oak Leaf Cluster to the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Col. Chandler B. Estes received the Legion of Merit for service in Turkey. Colonel Estes will shortly assume duties as Air Base Group Commander.

First Lt. George W. Niece, 3561st Pilot Training Squadron,

Course Will Be Offered In Motorcycle Driving Safety

Montgomery Ward has announced it will offer to local citizens a motorcycle driver education course developed with the cooperation of the National Safety Council and the Big Spring Police Department. The course will be similar to the driver education courses offered by many schools, and will be free of charge.

Wards will supply a Riverside cycle for use in the course, an instructor's guide and student handbook. Qualified instructors will be Sgt. D. W. Day and Patrolman Jim Wells, Big Spring Police Department. Maintenance for the machine will be taken care of by the company.

FOR SAFETY

"Wards developed this program, with the Safety Council, because of the growing interest in motorcycling as a sport," said John Rough, Wards local manager. "As part of our expanding community service, we are offering this motorcycle driver education course to help maintain cycle safety on the streets and highways. If our course can be influential in avoiding one accident or saving one life in a community it is worth the effort," he added.

The course is divided into two parts, a classroom segment and field exercises.

The classroom sessions will deal with learning the machine and its parts, proper maintenance and safety inspections, protective apparel and safe riding tips.

FIELD EXERCISES

The second half of the course will consist of several field exercise sessions where the students will be taught how to ride the machine, and perform basic maneuvers.

During the field exercises students will be taught the fundamentals of motorcycling. They will get "on the bike" training and practice in straight starts and stops, steering around rubber cones, turning, and left and right circles.

Safety will be of prime importance in the course. Points that will be emphasized will be:

- Don't cut in between lanes of traffic!
- If you can't see ahead, don't pass!
- Have a rear view mirror on each side!
- Use caution crossing tracks and manhole covers!
- Always give other motor vehicles the right of way!
- Do not travel close to curbs or parked vehicles!
- Do not pass cars stopped at intersections!
- Keep alert and keep your distance!

As part of the course, short safety quizzes will be given the students. In addition the instructor will grade each student on his field exercises, cycle safety check, knowledge of signals, safety starting engine, acceleration smoothness, use of controls, skill in changing directions, keeping feet on cycle, braking and mounting and dismounting.

Upon satisfactory completion of the course students will be awarded a certificate of achievement.

rating, were on the flight line. A wing parade and review was also held.

Brig. Gen. Ernest T. Cragg, deputy chief of staff for Operations, Air Training Command, spoke at Friday evening's Dining-In honoring the graduates. At this affair, awards to graduates were announced, and three of four went to Lt. Richard S. Castle. He also was one of four class officers receiving letters as outstanding graduates.

Lieutenant Castle was awarded the ATC Commander's Trophy, the Academic Training Award and the Flying Training Award. He will enter pilot instructor training for T-38s when he leaves Webb.

Named for the Officer Training Award was Samuel A. Hodnett Jr. Second Lieutenants Wayne L. Schultz and Phillip A. Miller were named with Lieutenants Castle and Hodnett as outstanding graduates.

The graduating officers, their aircraft, major command and base assignments follow:

Vocational Club Attends Meeting

James Cogdell, advisor, and officers of ICT Chapter 15, of Big Spring High School, attended the annual Vocational Industrial Clubs of America leadership conference held in Snyder Oct. 21.

Officers of this chapter are Ignacia Mendoza, president; Butch Caldwell, vice president; Suzanne Fisher, secretary; Gwen Clark, treasurer; Suzanne Harrison, reporter; Robert Aaron, parliamentarian; and Raymond Hatnback, sergeant at arms.

The purpose of this conference was to enable the district officers to conduct a training program for chapter officers to develop leadership qualities and to review the duties and responsibilities of the individual officers in guiding their clubs. They were under the supervision of staff members from the Texas Education Agency.

Adult Education Classes To Get Started Nov. 9

Dates for registration and opening day classes for an adult basic education course supervised by the Big Spring Independent School District were announced Friday by Keith Swin, program director.

Beginning Nov. 9 at Bauer Elementary, the classes will meet twice a week for three hours each night over a 20-week period. Registration for new students is Nov. 7 from 7-10 p.m. Students enrolled in the program when it was sponsored a 1965 may register from 7-11 a.m. Nov. 2.

Swim said anyone over 17 years of age with no more than an eighth grade education is eligible. The course is free and all necessary materials will be furnished. Reading, social studies and arithmetic will be emphasized throughout the program.

Teachers from Big Spring, Colorado City, Lamesa, and other near-by communities will attend an in-service training program Nov. 1 and 2 at Bauer. Those from Big Spring are Lynn Houston, Loyce Phillips, Leonia Cantu, Essie Person, Gerald Wilson and Paul Chappell.

Training will be under the direction of Don Hale, San Angelo public schools; Donna Church, Fort Stockton; L. T. Johnston, Texas Education Agency in Denton; S. M. Anderson, school superintendent.

In coordination with the local program, one is being conducted at Big Spring State Hospital for approximately 65 students. Supervising this program is Bob von Rosenberg, head of the hospital's improvement program. Consultants for 14 teachers are Mrs. Star Warford and David King.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC:

Due to the rising cost of labor and the scarcity of licensed plumbers in this area, an increase in the price of service calls has become a necessity. Effective Nov. first, 1967 a minimum price of $7.00 will be charged for all service calls.

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL

Saga Of Walking Sailors; Crossed Texas In 1569

By ED SYERS
As suggested here by a re-searching student recently, most of us place the Anglo in Texas scarcely before 1800; nearly three centuries after Cabeza de Vaca, in ordeal, fled its Indians to Spain's Mexico and safety. However, one little known account puts English wanderers across our land, close indeed on the Spanish heels.

De Vaca's 1528-36 struggling journey, it suggests, preceded by just 40 years a saga as incredible: three English seamen walking from Mexico, across Texas, and on to Canada, beginning late summer of 1568.

SURVIVORS

These were David Ingram, Richard Browne and Richard Twide, sailors under sea-raiding Elizabethan Captains Hawkins and Drake, whose little fleet was trapped and mauled by Spain in Vera Cruz harbor. With some ships lost, Drake and Hawkins fought clear; but Hawkins' vessel, deck-jammed with survivors, had to land over-100 men on the long beach north of today's Tampico. Most walked for the Spanish settlement and straight out of history; some headed north. Three made it; and Ingram, back in London, some believe they bent north-would record sketchily what they saw.

Up the barren coast, they reached the Rio Grande in November and, grateful for land and climate that showed no winter, gave the great stream its one English name — "River of May . . . where the country is most excellent, fertile and pleasant."

Clinging to the coast, they pushed north, through today's ranch brush. They passed close by the sites of today's Kingsville and Corpus Christi, where some believe they bent northeast on the Indian trail that would, one day, lay Spain's road from Presidio La Bahia (Goliad) to her Nacogdoches missions; then across the Sabine, holding deep South through the Creek and Cherokee confederacies and up the Atlantic coast, finally and incredibly to be found stumbling into New Brunswick's 1569 Canadian summer.

Across Texas, they had found land "large and fayre as may be seen, being plaine as a board." They'd examined and fed from "sweete trees," one being the palm, with "hayres on the leaves thereof, which reach to the ground, whereof the Indians doe make ropes and cords . . . the which tree, if you picke with your knife, about two foote from the roote, it will yeelde a wine . . . most excellent . . . but will distemper both head and body if you drinke too much . . ."

The sailors three also saw "tempests and other strange monstrous things . . . furicanos and turnados," and they learned to eat cactus pear and berries unknown to them. Their journey, recorded by Queen Elizabeth's examiners, reappeared in a rare 1859 study of English explorations by Richard Hakluyt the Younger; this book discovered and preserved in limited edition (see libraries only) by Dallas' late scientist-scholar E. L. DeGolyer.

Now this is the story, on history's record with England's court; and who'd argue with history. Yet you think of indomitable Cabeza de Vaca, struggling south and west round Big Bend's mountains. From San Antonio area to Mexico City, two years!

But these sailors — even discounting swollen rivers and uncounting trail, blizzard, sun and search for food; plus necessarily-extended 'visits' with a score of Indian nations on the way . . . well they made good something like 4,000 miles in roughly 350 days.

Which isn't to say sailormen are long on tall talk. Just tall on long walk.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Not A Real 'Friend'

DEAR ABBY: A few years ago, a man who was employed in our retail business left us to open up his own shop in competition with us. No particular ill will was involved here, but naturally we were not overjoyed, as we felt we had taught him the business. Our business continues to do well, and this man has done very well, also.

A friend of ours is constantly pointing out our competitor's ads in the newspapers, and he seems to delight in discussing how "well" this man is doing. We are bewildered and somewhat hurt. Are we too touchy? Or is such talk in poor taste?

We surely wouldn't run down a competitor, but we find it hard to applaud his success considering the background. How should this be handled?

BEWILDERED

DEAR BEWILDERED: A real "friend" avoids subjects that could be irritating. To deliberately bring up a subject that stings is mischievous. The Chinese put it this way, "Never speak of a rope in the home of one whose relative has been hanged." If I were you, I'd denote that "friend" to a nodding acquaintance.

DEAR ABBY: I am 22, earn my own living, and live at home. I'm practically engaged to a very fine young man named Bruce. He is 26, has a steady job and he also lives at home, not far from me.

Abby, I don't know whether Bruce's mother is going through "the change" or what, but she is impossible. She will call up here at midnight and say, "SEND BRUCE HOME!" And bang goes the receiver.

Bruce is not a child, and he knows when to go home. There are other people in this house: my parents and younger brothers and sisters, and they don't appreciate being disturbed at that hour.

We took the telephone off the hook one night, and she got the busy signal so she WALKED OVER HERE and made Bruce take her home. How can this problem be solved?

BRUCE'S GIRL

DEAR GIRL: Marry Bruce.

DEAR ABBY: Am I being silly and childish, or is my husband at fault?

There is this young woman in our crowd who is peppy and cute and is always playing up to the men. At a party, she's the first to say, "Let's sit by somebody else's husband." Or when we get into a car, she'll plunk herself down next to somebody else's husband, and his wife has to pair up with hers.

Now, Abby, I want to sit by my own husband, and I don't like all this switching around.

Once when my husband and I were dancing together, this woman danced by with her husband and tried to change partners. I said, "No, this is OUR song. We requested it." My husband got angry with me and said I was rude. We have three children and a good marriage, Abby, and I don't want to take any chances with it.

If I am wrong, please tell me. If I am right, I need some support.

LIKES MY OWN

DEAR LIKES: The switcheroo game your cute and peppy friend is playing can lead to "splitville." Hang on to your own husband. I'm with you all the way.

Just Complete Your Calls, Is Plea To UF Volunteers

The same old problem — incomplete working of prospect cards — confronted the United Fund of Big Spring and Howard County, as leaders hoped to press for a successful conclusion of the campaign this week.

The drive had reached 62 per cent of its $116,121.49 goal with $71,865.52 reported as of Friday. Even so, reports were in on less than a third of the assigned cards.

Harold Davis, campaign chairman, said Saturday: "We can do this job just as every good citizen wants it done, if all our volunteers will just determine to complete their calls."

A major gift came into the campaign Saturday with a check for $500 from the Big Spring Wholesale Beer Distributors Association, a group which uniformly carries its share in the civic undertaking.

There was progress in several areas. R. L. Tollett, chairman of out-of-town gifts and Harry Sawyer, head of the big gifts division, reported their assignments are nearing completion. The latter division has reported on 166 cards and has 32 yet to complete.

Respiratory Ills Top Week's List

According to the weekly report of the Howard County Health Unit 61 people had upper respiratory problems this past week and led the list of reported diseases. Gastroenteritis and tonsillitis each had 47 cases reported.

Thirty people had diarrhea and 25 cases of flu were reported. There were 17 virus cases, 13 impetigo and nine bronchitis. Four strep throats were reported and one case each of mumps, lobar pneumonia, measles and mononucleosis.

Les Caperton, special gifts chairman, said his workers have completed 159 cards and have 209 on which to report. Some 500 cards for rural-resident solicitation will be mailed out this week, according to Bill Read, Coahoma, chairman.

Maj. Paul L. Bradden and Boyd McCoy, chairmen for the solicitation at Webb Air Force Base, have reported $7,223.04, with some work yet to be done. The employee division hopes to make its final report by Nov. 15, said Don Womack, chairman.

Since she was the state winner last year, Kathy will not receive the state award (a wrist-watch) but her record will be submitted for sectional and national consideration.

Mission Speaker Cancels Visit

The scheduled appearance here of the Rev. Jim O. McClain Sr., representative for the Church of God world missions department, has been cancelled. The Rev. Bob Bohannon, pastor of the Galveston Street Church of God said Saturday that Rev. McClain, who was to have been at the church Wednesday, was called back to national headquarters in Cleveland, Tenn.

Training Vital, Declares Speaker

Eleven men from seven cities were certified Friday noon as graduates of the current session of the Southwestern Law Enforcement Academy at Howard County Junior College.

Wallace Beasley, Austin, head of the training and standards division of the Texas Law Enforcement Commission, urged them to "take advantage of every police training program you can." He encouraged the men to continue individual study, to raise personal and departmental standards, and to enforce the spirit of the law as well as the letter. This carries to laws with which they may not agree, he said, and selective or lazy law enforcement will lead to anarchy.

"Good people don't have to worry about policemen," he declared. "One of the troubles today is that not enough bad people are suffering judgment."

Approximately 50 people, including police chiefs, city officials and wives of the graduates attended the luncheon in honor of the 11 men.

Kathy Shaw Repeater In State Dairy Food Contest

Kathy Shaw, a freshman at Abilene Christian College and a native of Howard County, has been designated state winner in the 1967 4-H dairy foods program. This is the second year she has won this award, according to a state 4-H Club announcement from Texas A&M University.

Since she was the state winner last year, Kathy will not receive the state award (a wrist-watch) but her record will be submitted for sectional and national consideration.

Carnation Company, sponsor of the contest, will also provide 18 trips to National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, on a sectional basis. Six $500 scholarships will be awarded to a national blue award group selected from among the sectional winners.

Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Shaw, 2709

The 14th annual Industrial Development Conference will be held here Nov. 8, according to Don Wooten, Abilene, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the event. All sessions will be at the Cosden Country Club.

Featured in the 1967 conference will be discussions of natural resources of West Texas, processing of agricultural products technical training possibilities and state and regional economic development programs.

The conference gets underway at 9 a.m., Nov. 8 with Wilson Guest, Sweetwater, chairman of the WTCC industrial committee, presiding.

R. W. Whipkey, Big Spring director of the WTCC, will give the address of welcome and the Rev. Dan Sebesta, pastor of Big Spring's St. Paul Presbyterian Church, will give the invocation.

James F. Ray, coordinator of the division of planning in the office of Gov. John B. Connally, will speak on "State and Regional Economic Development Programs."

"Natural Resources of West Texas" is the subject for Dr. Stanley Arlingst, associate director of the Bureau of Business Research, Austin.

At the luncheon Dr. Grover Murray, president of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, will discuss "Agricultural Products Processing Potentials."

The afternoon session will be given with a talk by Dr. Frank J. Konecny, assistant director of James Connally Technical Institute, Waco, on "A Look at Technical Training Possibilities."

Final speaker will be John Ben Sheppard, Odessa, chairman of the Small Town Economic Progress (STEP) Program for the WTCC. Sheppard will have an important announcement, it is reported by Wooten, concerning civic development by towns of less than 12,000 population.

The annual industrial conference is one of the largest of any of the WTCC meetings held each year. The "workshop" format has been eliminated this year so that all registrants will be able to participate in the entire program, according to Guest.

Rebecca, Big Spring, The Gold Star girl is a member of the Big Spring 4-H Club and has been in 4-H for nine years. She has completed at least one demonstration in dairy foods each year and four out of the past five years ('67 included) has been first place winner in the milk group of the district food show. She holds many awards on the county and district levels not only in dairy foods but also in clothing, dress revues, achievements, leadership and nutrition.

The 18-year-old is currently vice president of her 4-H Club past president and past member of the county council. She has also served on the district Gold Star banquet committee.

"Kathy has been an outstanding 4-H Club member. She does excellent project work, always trying to improve upon what she has done before," said Mrs. Catherine Crawford, county home demonstration agent.

Kathy is majoring in home economics in college and credits 4-H training and experience as influencing her decision.

Sammy Jones Will Represent Area

Sammy Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Jones, has been announced as the Lone Star district's representative from the Buffalo Trail Council to report to Gov. John Connally next February.

Annually this council, as do others in the state, name boys who make a formal accounting of Scouting's stewardship during the past year. The report is an activity of national Boy Scout Week.

Sammy is an Eagle Scout, and he also holds the God and Country Award. He has been cited for junior leadership training and has headed the council's Order of Arrow (camping fraternity) lodge.

Four Pleas Of Guilty Heard

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Judge Austin McCulloch accepted four pleas of guilty Friday in 32nd District Court, and fined Suddie Bob Joyner 50, Grand Saline, $50 and sentenced him to six months in jail on a DWI charge.

The other three received terms in the state penitentiary. Lofton Pope Luncford, 54, Odessa, pleaded guilty of driving while intoxicated and was sentenced to two years.

Richard Johnson, 50, Roscoe, pleaded guilty to burglarizing an automobile and received a two-year sentence.

Guadalupe Pequesno, 21, Colorado City, was sentenced to three years on charges of forgery and burglary.

man, Ann Garrett, clerk, and Mrs. Marilyn French as advisor.

Jack Cathey ran as a governor nominee and Pam Rowland as clerk of the House. Henry also served as chairman of the elections committee with Pat Weaver and Bruce Hutto as this city's representatives.

Jeanie Johnson and Ann Heith served as reporters for the conference.

The judicial section had two youth attorney teams from Big Spring. Team A included Ellen Gossett and Linda Oxley, while Team B was composed of Glena Jones and Becky Jenkins.

Eleven adults accompanied the delegates to the Abilene conference. The Big Spring "Y" had 51 participating in the legislative section and 36 in the judicial.

The Youth and Government program is a training program promoted and developed through the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs of the YMCA under the auspices of the Southwest Area Council of YMCAs. It is an educational method of learning about the government processes and provides opportunities to high school youth to study public issues, debate them, write legislation, and participate in a youth legislature.

Many local citizens, attorneys, judges, law enforcement officers, teachers, and others have given of their time to help the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y members to learn of the American democratic processes.

The district conference will be followed by the annual Hi-Y Legislature in the state capital, Dec. 7-10.

Ceremonial Will Spotlight Burns

SAN ANGELO — Shriners from the Suez Temple district are turning their normally routine Fall Ceremonial here Friday and Saturday into an effort to direct attention to one of the most ambitious projects of the national organization.

Members this year are emphasizing the importance of adequate support for the new Shriners Burns Institute in Galveston, one of three hospitals in the nation devoted specifically to the treatment and study of burns among children.

Dr. Duane L. Larson, chief surgeon at the Galveston facility, will speak to the Tom Green County Medical Association and other guest doctors Saturday noon at El Patio Motel.

Dr. Larson was named chief surgeon of the Shriner Burns

Institute in 1966. He formerly served as instructor and assistant professor of plastic and reconstructive surgery at the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston.

The Shriners burns hospital idea was formally adopted in 1962 to supplement 19 Shriners Crippled Children hospitals now in operation.

The regular Fall Ceremonial will be launched at 10 a.m. Friday with registration.

An event-packed first day will include an outing at the San Angelo Bobcat-Odessa High Broncho football game. The two day's activity will climax with a Saturday midnight breakfast at the Goodfellow Officers Club.

Approximately 1,000 members and their wives from 12 West Texas cities are expected to attend.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas' Bill Bradley, a so-so passer in the past, stunned Rice Saturday night with a pinpoint aerial performance and the Longhorns crushed the Owls 28-6 in a Southwest Conference football game. Texas' victory bumped Rice out of the conference lead, and put the Longhorns in a good spot to make a run for the title with a conference record of two triumphs and one loss. The Owls fell to 1-1.

Bradley set a career record for himself with 12 completions for 215 yards, the most yards gained in the air for Texas since Darrell Royal took over as coach in 1957. Sophomore James Street, subbing for Bradley, added 23 yards passing for a team total of 238.

Bradley, a triple threat junior, had the most luck throwing to sophomore Randy Peschel, who grabbed six for 126 yards.

Bradley also ran for two touchdowns, from the Rice nine and two yard lines, and backed Rice up several times with his lofty punts.

Texas scored first on a 73-yard drive in the first quarter, with record-breaking tailback Chris Gilbert slashing over from the seven after a clearing block by Ted Koy. Rob Layne's extra point kick was wide, and he also was wide after Texas' second touchdown in the first quarter, keeping the pressure on the Longhorns for a while.

Rice struck swiftly for its only score, in the first quarter, moving 66 yards in just over two minutes. Macon Hughes, a sophomore who had run only four times all year, tore away from six Texas tacklers and raced in for the Owls' lone touchdown from 19 yards out. Frank Pustka's extra point attempt rocked the left goal post but fell away, no good.

Rice threatened Texas' goal line repeatedly, but was thwarted by fumbles and four pass interceptions. Ronnie Ehrig grabbed two Rice passes, and Mack McKinney and Tom Campbell each intercepted one.

The Longhorns' defensive line, made up mostly of underclassmen, harassed Rice quarterbacks Robert Hailey and Pascual Piedford in the second half, and Loyd Wainscott tore through once to throw Piedford for a safety.

Gilbert, held fairly well by the Owls, pushed his Longhorn career record to more than a mile rushing in just more than one and a half seasons. The 175-pound junior ran for 76 yards on 22 carries, giving him a total of 1,776.

Taking identical 6-1 records into the final junior varsity home football game of the season, the visiting Midland Lee Rebels JV's clipped the Big Spring Shorthorns by a 21-6 score here Saturday.

After a scoreless first period which exhibited strong indications that the game would be one of a defensive deadlock, Ross Graham commenced to prove that he was the meanest Rebel of them all.

The Rebels started a rally with just under two minutes left in the first half — taking over on downs at their own 36 when the 'Horns missed on a fourth and three play.

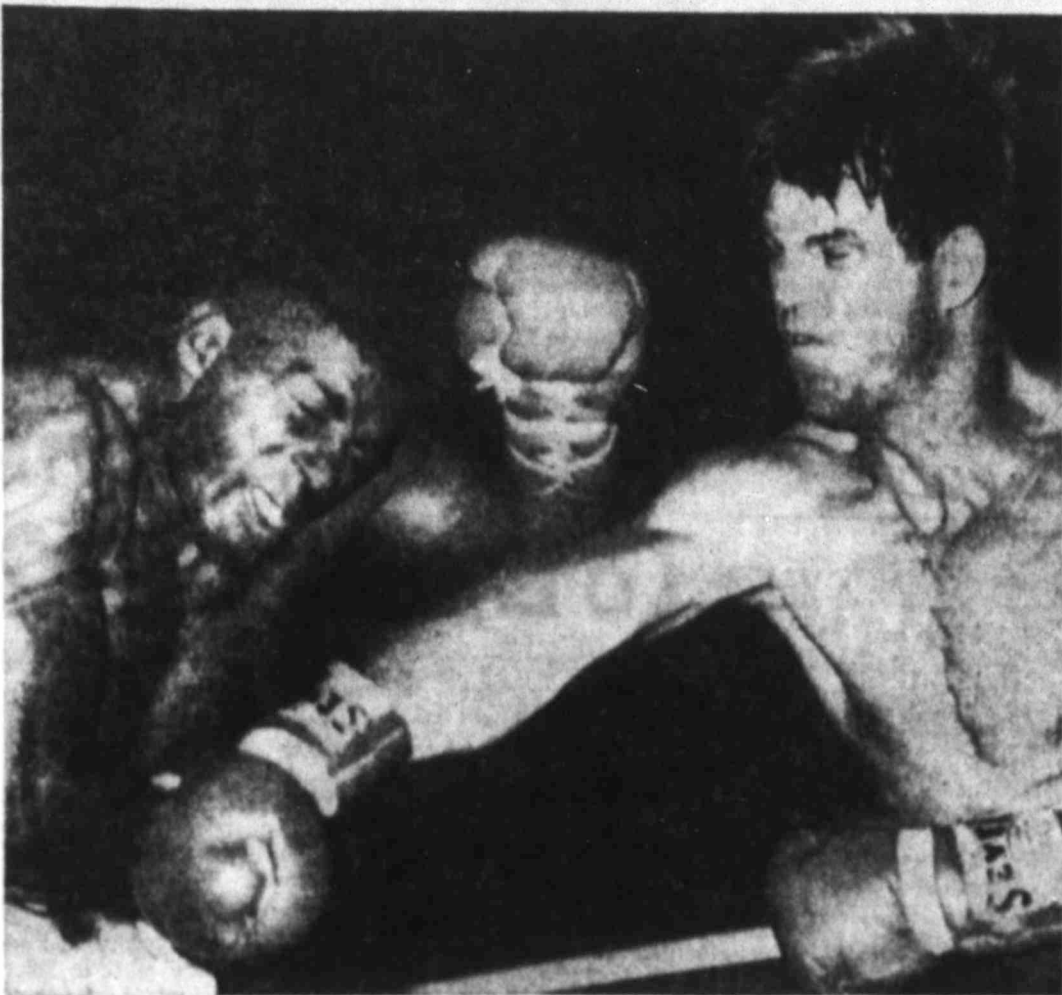

Touchdown. Graham's kick was good and just 15 seconds after the Big Spring score, the Midland Rebels had counted again.

Graham began his one-man show at this point, needing the Horn offense into a frenzy. Before the final whistle, he had recovered two fumbles, intercepted four passes and blitzed the Shorthorn QB twice.

Terry Webb took over the signal sounding chores from Turner midway in the fourth quarter and kept up just enough momentum to keep the 'skin and run out the clock.

The Shorthorns travel to Abilene next Saturday for a 1:30 p.m. appointment with Cooper's Junior Varsity squad.

Coach Charlie Bright recognized Steve Russell, Herman Evans, Roy Anderson and Jimmy Jones as outstanding offensive participants for the locals.

KNOCKDOWN PUNCH BY WINNER JERRY QUARRY
 Floyd Patterson starts down in second round

JERRY QUARRY ENTERS TOURNAMENT SEMIFINALS

Ex-Champ Loses Split Decision

LOS ANGELES (AP)—California's Jerry Quarry bounced former two-time champion Floyd Patterson out of the world heavyweight boxing eliminations Saturday by winning a split and controversial 12-round decision.

The 32-year-old Patterson was floored for mandatory eight counts in the second and fourth rounds before losing to the popular bomber from nearby Bellflower.

Referee Vern Bybee from San Francisco, who was brought down as an outsider to officiate, scored the fight a draw with each fighter receiving six points.

Bybee was overruled, however, when judges Lee Grossman and Joey Olmos gave it to Quarry 7-4.

The Associated Press had it 6-4.

The nationally televised re-match — the two fought a 16-round draw in Los Angeles on June 9 — drew a disappointing crowd in the Olympic Auditorium of well less than its 10,000 capacity.

Neither fighter was visibly marked but it was a vicious fight in which three times neither would back away when the bell sounded and it took heroic efforts by the referee to separate them.

Quarry dumped Patterson in the second round with a right to the side of the jaw. Patterson went backwards to the seat of his pants and bounced up quickly. The mandatory eight count was tolled off.

In the fourth, Quarry, a dangerous young man with either hand, unleashed a volley of blows and it appeared a solid right to the body caused the most damage and Patterson's second downfall. Floyd was up again quickly.

Patterson, from New York, weighed 195 and Quarry 193 at fight time.

Midway in the fight, Quarry, much the stronger and a takeover fighter for this one up to this point, was well ahead. But Patterson began to find the range with his rights and lefts, concentrating almost entirely on the head.

Jack Nicklaus Triumphs In Sahara Invitational

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Big Jack Nicklaus needed a lucky break on the final hole where his ball was one-half inch inside of bounds to win the $100,000 Sahara Invitational Golf Tournament Saturday with a final round 71 and a 72-hole total of 270.

That gave him NICKLAUS a one-stroke victory over young Steve Spray of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, who wound up with 71 and 72.

Nicklaus hooked his tee shot on the final hole and it required a close check by officials to determine that the ball was in bounds.

He then hit his second shot into a trap and took a bogey 5 on the hole. Nicklaus posted rounds of 68-69-62 and 71 for his victory which was worth $20,000.

Spray after rounds of 69-64-67 before his even par finishing round, earned $12,000, the highest of his career.

Spray, who hadn't lived up to his name with only two bogeys and one double bogey in the first three rounds, carded four bogeys on the 7,069-yard, par 35-71 Paradise Valley course on a beautiful sunny day.

In third place at 276 was Hugh Royer of Columbus, Ga., who had a 68 final round.

For the 27-year-old Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, it was his third Sahara triumph and fifth PGA tournament victory of the year. His $20,000 prize raised his 1967 money total to $188,998 and enabled him to wrest the leadership in the currency chase over Arnold Palmer.

Palmer finished with a disappointing 72 and finished low in the pack with 294.

Spray's best previous effort was a tie for sixth at Atlanta last month.

DALLAS (AP) — Mike Leininger gouged 126 yards out of the Southern Methodist line and scored two touchdowns while the defense got the other and prevented two more as Texas Tech won 21-7 Saturday night and stayed in the Southwest Conference football race.

The loss virtually eliminated Southern Methodist which now has a 1-2 record in conference play compared to 2-1 for Tech.

Denton Fix gathered in a Mike Livingston pass and ran it back 19 yards for the third Texas Tech touchdown. It was the fourth pass interception of the game by Tech and three of them were big plays. James Moylan tipped a Livingston pass to the hands of teammate Larry Alford in the first period to prevent a probable SMU touchdown.

Ed Mooney intercepted one in the second period to choke off another Methodist threat.

Southern Methodist threw away its chance to climb back into the game in the third period, with the score 14-7 favoring Tech, the Methodists got to the Tech 6. But Livingston lost the ball on a fumble on the Tech 18.

Moylan, who was a defensive standout of the night, had batted down a Livingston pass just before the fumble, then he fell on the ball when Livingston dropped it to end the Methodists' last hopes.

A crowd of 34,000 watched the 177-pound Leininger batter the despairing Methodist line 23 times for the most yards he ever made in one game.

Interceptions Helpful As Aggies Rip Baylor

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — An alert Texas A&M defense intercepted six Baylor throws and turned two of them into touchdowns for the Aggies' third consecutive Southwest Conference football victory 21-3 Saturday.

Ross Brupbacher stole one aerial in the end zone, stopped another Baylor scoring thrust on fourth down by breaking up a pass in the end zone and Ivan Jones' theft started a second scoring drive.

Ironically, Baylor's only points — a 41-yard field goal by Terry Cozby on the last play of the first half — was set up by an interference call against Brupbacher while teammate Tommy Maxwell was picking off another Baylor pass.

The Aggies moved 80 yards — actually 90 because of two penalties — in nine plays for a first quarter touchdown, climaxed by Ed Hargett's 13-yard pass to Bob Long. Larry Stegert accounted for 47 yards on five carries and Hargett passed for 43 on three completions during the drive.

A Hargett-to-Long pass of five yards gave the Aggies a 14-0 lead with 40 seconds remaining in the first half. Jones' interception of Kenny Stockdale's first passing effort and 17 yards return gave the Aggies the scoring opportunity from the Baylor 32.

Stegert and Hargett advanced the Aggies to the Baylor five where on fourth down Hargett, surrounded by three tacklers, flipped a second scoring pass to Long, who caught the ball while on his knees in the end zone.

Brupbacher, who had two pass interceptions along with Jones, had a 96-yard touchdown run with Baylor quarterback Alvin's pass nullified in the third quarter when an Aggie was charged with clipping on the Bears' 25.

Wolfpack Stays Among Unbeaten

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — Quarterback Jim Donnan threw two touchdown passes as unbeaten North Carolina State bombed Duke 28-7 Saturday before a record crowd of 44,000, including scouts from three major bowls.

State, ranked fifth nationally in The Associated Press poll, scored two touchdowns in the first period, one in the second and another in the fourth in posting its seventh consecutive victory.

Scouts from the Sugar, Orange and Gator bowls saw the Wolfpack's tough defense hold Atlantic Coast Conference rival Duke to only 57 yards rushing. An NCAA regulation forbids the bowls from signing teams for post-season games prior to Nov. 22.

Razorbacks Roar By Foe, 28-7

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — David Dickey, who moves from wingback to tailback in Arkansas' goal-line offense, scored three touchdowns from in close as the Razorbacks defeated Kansas State 28-7 Saturday night.

Dickey scored twice from the one and once from the two. His three touchdowns gave him eight for the year.

Larry Watkins went three yards with 7 seconds left for the final Arkansas touchdown.

Sooners Win Over Tigers

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Oklahoma kept its Big Eight football record perfect by whipping Missouri 7-0 Saturday on some big last half defensive plays by Middle Guard Granville Liggins Tackle John Titsworth and Safety Steve Barrett.

Oklahoma struck suddenly late in the second period, then had to fight for its life in the last half.

The victory gave Oklahoma a 4-1 record, and 2-0 in league play. Missouri is 4-2 but 1-2 in the conference.

Titsworth stopped Missouri Quarterback Gary Kombrink for a three-yard loss on third down in the third period, at the Oklahoma 27, then deflected a pass and intercepted it at the Sooner 37, killing Missouri's last threat with 8:44 left.

Cougars Lose To Ole Miss

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi's fired up Rebels rose to defensive heights Saturday and stymied ninth-ranked Houston's potent offense, whipping the Cougars 14-13.

A missed extra point kick by Houston's Ken Hebert in the fourth quarter kept the Cougars from salvaging a tie.

Classy Cooper KO's Longhorns, 56-12

By TOMMY HART
Abilene Cooper hardly broke a sweat here Friday night while inflicting total defeat upon Big Spring. Final score was 56-12. There have been worse mismatches in history — like Los Angeles and the Dallas Cowboys, Eisenhower and Stevenson, Robin Hood and the Sheriff of Nottingham — but Cooper never let the Steers and the crowd of 8,000 forget who was boss.

RUN UP YARDS
Cooper's statistics read like a stock market report when the trading is heavy — 514 total yards gained. Scrubs played much of the second half for the mighty Cougars.
Big Spring will recover and go on to better things. The Steers did have the satisfaction of becoming the only District 2-AAAA team to score two touchdowns on Cooper and neither score was a gift. The Longhorns have cause to be grateful for other reasons, among them the fact that they will not again have to face the Cougars' great quarterback, Jack Mildren. No one within recent memory dominates a game as does Cooper's No. 14.

Cooper scored eight touchdowns, some of which were the result of Big Spring mistakes but the most of which were earned. In addition, the Cougars managed a safety.
ENGLERT ROMPS
Big Spring got on the board early in the game when R. J. Englert ran back a kickoff 95 yards, one of the longest in the school's history. He benefitted from some crisp blocking about the 40, somehow managed to keep his feet in a sprint up the backbone of the gridiron and roared on in.

Jack Mildren (14), Abilene Cooper's great quarterback, finds himself sandwiched between two Big Spring tacklers in the above picture. The tackler at the left is Snake Tucker. Others coming up to help include Gary Don Newsom (61), Chuck Smith (80), and Mike Irons (76). Cooper won the District 2-AAAA encounter, 56-12.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Ref Erred, Says Prexy

By TOMMY HART
Midland spies say that Odessa High, now prone to put the ball into the air more, is the most improved football team in District 2-AAAA and would prove a major problem for any foe.
The Bronchos had grave injury problems early in the season but are again healthy.
Dick Stovall, president of the Abilene Football Officials Association, said the arbiters in the Abilene - Big Spring game erred in giving the Steers possession of the ball when Abilene intercepted the ball on Big Spring's drive for its third touchdown, that the key to the entire ruling is 'final possession of the ball'. . . . The officials gave the ball back to Big Spring on the play after off-setting infractions occurred. . . . Arbiters in the contest realized they were wrong almost immediately and told both head coaches as much after the game ended. . . . The rule was deemed unfair, according to Stovall, because it enabled a club to regain possession of the ball by fouling after the other team had fouled, thus making the penalties off-setting. . . . Clipping was legal in football when Big Spring's Obie Bristow started playing the game at Pryor, Okla., half a century ago. . . . Obie, who attended a class reunion at Pryor this weekend, recalls that a full-blooded Indian on the team, the late Jesse Mays, didn't clearly understand the stratagem and, when told to 'hit somebody,' deliberately clipped the referee on one play. . . . Maury Willis has told intimates he hopes to manage the Los Angeles Dodgers when Walter Alston calls it quits. . . . Gil Hodges is apt to get the job, those on the inside insist. . . . Most of the credit for Oakland's successes in the AFL go to the Raiders' front four, of which Big Spring's Danny Birdwell is a member. . . . Birdwell, Ike Lassister, Tom Keating and Ben Davidson nailed Buffalo's Jackie Kemp 11 times for losses totaling 96 yards in a recent winning effort.

GREG LEWIS

Ralph Blount, son of the former Big Spring, R. E. (Peppy) Blount, now plays strong-side end for the Longview Lobo football team. . . . The Lobos recently played Tyler Lee High School. . . . Performing for that club at strong end is Gregg Nance, son of another ex-Big Spring Steer, Winslet Nance. . . . Longview won the game, 21-0. . . . Peppy, now game official in the American Football League as well as being a practicing attorney in Longview, writes that Gregg Nance is, by far, the best end and receiver on the Tyler team. . . . Peppy's own son, Ralph, second leading scorer on the Longview team, is a chip off the old block in that he stands 6-4 and weighs 200. . . . Peppy insists the boy is better than his 'old man' ever was, adding that Ralph gets his athletic talent from his mother's side of the family. . . . Peppy frequently flies to the West Coast to work football games. . . . When the plane's captain announces they're over Big Spring, Peppy says he never fails to think about the city, its people and the wonderful times he had here. . . . Big Spring's Charley Johnson passed unsuccessfully three times when he was pressed into action in the final three minutes of play by the St. Louis Cardinals against Philadelphia last week. . . . Charley, now in the Armed Forces, joins the Cards only on weekends. . . . A volleyball clinic will be held at Howard County Junior College Dec. 16. . . . One of the most pleasant surprises on the Big Spring football team has been junior linebacker Greg Lewis, an outstanding member of the Steers' defensive unit. . . . Greg didn't figure very strongly in plans when the season began but he has earned his spurs in a big way. . . . The light standards are up at the new junior high football field here but the gridiron won't be pressed into use until 1968. . . . Houston will have four Class AAAA districts in 1968. . . . Probably the most overrated man in football is Ernie Ladd of Kansas City, who looks awesome but who can't recoil fast enough to stem the flow of a play his way. . . . It was, of course, Big Spring's Mike Irons and not Jerry Ryan who shifted to center on offense against Abilene High recently, and Mike did a superlative job under the most trying of circumstances.

Englert's score came with 5:06 left in Round One after Mildren had put Cooper ahead on a one-yard plunge at the end of a 69-yard march. John Villareal added the PAT on a kick.
The Longhorns did a good job of fighting off the Cougars until the second period but Cooper banked 28 points in that round to salt away the verdict.
A screen pass from Mildren to halfback Randy Allen, good for 23 yards, produced the Abilene team's second TD with 9:23 to go in the round. Villareal again converted.
A pass from Mildren to end Jon Harrison, good for 12 yards, produced the visitors' third touchdown and Villareal booted the conversion try to make it 21-6.
There was still 4:46 left in the round when Cooper went back downfield to kick, time enough for the Cougars to get two more touchdowns.
Fullback Charley Buchanan got one at the end of a 63-yard drive with a three-yard plunge, after which Villareal converted, and Harrison intercepted a pass and roared 53 yards for the other one with only 51 seconds left in the period. Villareal again made good on his try for point.
Cooper drove 38 yards in six plays without losing possession of the ball, fullback Richard Richburg ultimately blowing over from the two. Villareal made it 42-6 by bisecting the uprights with his kick.
Bill Harrington recovered a Big Spring fumble on the Cooper 46 to set the stage for the Cougars' next thrust. Two plays later, Allen broke loose on a 46-yard run to make it 48-6.
GET GOING AGAIN
Undaunted, the Steers hooked up on a 40-yard pass play for its second TD. Burchett sought out Joey Baker with a 20-yard aerial and Baker coolly lateraled off to halfback Roy Lee Warren, who maneuvered the other 20 for the score. That made it 48-12 and the third period ended shortly thereafter.
Early in the fourth, Mark Ebanks trapped Burchett in the end zone for a Cooper safety, after which Baker punted the ball from his own 20.
Reserve quarterback Andy Duvall picked off a Burchett pass at the Cooper 38 and returned it to Big Spring's 42 late in the game, opening the door again for the guests.
Duvall himself got the score on a keeper from the four with 1:05 remaining in a march that required only four plays.
This Cooper ball club can hurt you in so many ways, a point they proved time and again Friday night. How do you beat it? Washington could help if it would only pass a law. Otherwise, there doesn't appear much chance anybody can match them touchdown for touchdown.

Rebels Nudge Broncos, 22-15

ODESSA — Midland Lee overcame a one-point deficit here Friday night in the third quarter as they snatched a 22-15 victory over Odessa High in District 2-4A competition.
The Bronchos, who could only pick up 38 yards rushing for the night, scored first as David Taylor passed to Steve Gatlin for the TD. Mike Womble kicked the PAT to send the score to 7-0 at the outset of the second quarter.
Midland came back in the second canto as George Deffenbaugh blasted 38 yards over right tackle for a 6-point marker. However, the PAT failed and the Rebels marched into the dressing room with a one-point deficit on their hands.
The Midlanders did something about it as soon as they hit the field for the second half. On a pass covering 30 yards, Gregg Frazier found Sonny Rector in the open. Rector raced across the double stripe to put the Rebels ahead. Bill Sparkman then scored the PAT around right end.
The teams swapped fourth quarter scoring plays as Frazier again found Rector in the open, this time for 10 steps and a TD. Frazier then returned to hit Mark McIntosh for the points after. Odessa countered the score on a one-yard jaunt by Ronnie Pebbles, and a PAT loss from Taylor to Gatlin.

Decides To Run

Bill Burchett of Big Spring decides to run with the ball after making as if to pass in the Friday night Steer-Abilene Cooper game here. Blocking for Burchett is Chuck Smith (80). Cooper won, 56-12.

Bearcats, Ponies Play To Deadlock, 20 To 20

GARDEN CITY — Two charged-up District 3 eight-man football teams, Garden City and Sands, fought to a 20-20 deadlock here Friday night.
The deadlock didn't badly dent Garden City's hopes for a first place finish in the race but did damage Sands' hopes, since the Ponies had earlier lost to Sterling City.
The game ended with Sands on Garden City's one-foot line and the Mustangs devoid of time outs. It took a dramatic saving tackle of Ronnie Taylor by the Kats' John Wyckoff to keep Sands from going in. Taylor had taken a pass from Lance Hopper, the play covering 19 yards.
Garden City, which now has a 3-1 over-all record and was making its first start in league play, scored first in the opening round when Ronnie Hirt passed to Wyckoff for 20 yards. The Kats failed to convert.
Sands went ahead in the second when Kynn Maxwell traveled six yards across the double stripes and Hopper passed to Claude Fryar for the two extra points.
Garden City got another TD before the half ended, however, when Hirt made connections with Tony Chandler on a 19-yard pass and went to the dressing room with a 12-8 edge.
In the third, Maxwell scored again for Sands on a six-yard run and the Mustangs led, 14-12.
Later in the third, Chandler climaxed a 35-yard drive for Garden City by going over from the one. The touchdown was set up on a Hirt-to-Wyckoff pass that covered 44 yards. Hirt then passed to Wyckoff for two points to put Garden City ahead, 20-14.
Sands got the tying score in the fourth on Maxwell's one-yard plunge. Maxwell then tried to run for the point on a dive play but was met by a host of tacklers short of the goal.
Hirt intercepted a third quarter pass on his own 20 that stopped one Sands drive. In the fourth, the Bearcats drove to Sands' 35, where Maxwell picked off a pass thrown by Hirt and changed the flow of play in Sands' favor.
Garden City hosts Gail next Friday while Sands will test Bula in a non-conference game at home.
Score by quarters:
Garden City . . . 6 6 8 0-20
Sands 0 8 6 6-20

Moss Lake To Be Treated For Rough Fish Nov. 2

A Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission team headed by B. J. (Bill) Follis of San Angelo will descend upon Moss Creek Lake six miles east of Big Spring Thursday morning to reduce the population of shad, carp and other rough fish.
Follis and his co-workers, operating from barges, will spray a mixture known as powdered Rotoenoe into the water. The chemical does not poison the fish but rather cuts off their supply of oxygen for a while.
The mixture has proved to be less toxic to game fish, Follis said. The commission will keep a close watch on the lake's fish population, however, and will restock it with game fish like channel cat and bass if it is needed.
Fishermen are invited to be on hand and gather the fish which surface by using either dip nets or their hands.
Boats will not be allowed in the vicinity of the fish kill during the operation, which should require from three to four hours, Follis said. Some game fish might be sacrificed in the kill but generally they are not affected by the chemical.
They Rupard, manager of the lake, said that such a kill is long overdue at the lake and he was delighted that the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission had offered to take the lead.
"This will definitely make fishing better at the lake," Rupard said. "We estimated that the fishermen are now taking only about 1.5 pounds of fish for each man-hour put in and that is not enough."

Tornadoes Claim 2nd Win In Row

SAN ANGELO — In a wild foray which saw eight fumbles lost, the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes moved to their second straight victory, defeating the hapless Lake View Chiefs, 6-3.
The crazy event began when the officials, the players, and the coaches forgot the toss of the coin at midfield. Then Coach Fagan Mullins forgot to join his team after the trip to the dressing room.
Lake View lost five fumbles, but Lamesa had three miscues of its own.
The lone TD came on a 45-yard pass from quarterback Terry Kinard to Lynn Pierce. Even the TD had its funny moments as the pass bounced off three Chiefs before falling into the hands of Pierce.
The only other scoring in the comedy of errors came on spectacular 45-yard field goal by Lake View's Reggie Williams in the third quarter.

Cats Decision Eagles, 19-14

ABILENE — San Angelo's Angry Orange returned to their block-buster style of 1966 as they snapped a three-game losing streak with a 19-14 victory over the Eagles here Friday night.
The victory was their first of the 1967 District 2-4A campaign.
The Bobcats raced to a 7-0 lead as soon as they obtained possession of the ball in the first quarter. Quarterback Mike Phelps, who did another outstanding job of negotiating the Orange's offense, went the final 23 steps of the 60 yard drive. Abilene recovered a Bobcat fumble at the Orange's 32-yard line and called their even five plays later as Bill Catlett smashed over from the one. The Eagles then moved into the lead for the one and only time in the night as Catlett swept the right side for a two point conversion.
San Angelo wasted no time as it captured the lead on the ensuing series of plays with a 78-yard drive. Mike Ingram put the tally on the board with a five-yard power play. The conversion attempt failed. The other lone Bobcat marker came on the second half kickoff as the Orange went 64 yards on the ground for an insurance score.
The Eagles scored their final TD of the evening in the late stages of the game on a drive covering 52 steps. However, Angelo controlled the ball for the remainder of the game as the Bobcats held on to defeat the Eagles, 19-14.

Haskell Shocks Hamlin, 14-7

HASKELL — The Haskell Indians raised a big scalping party here Friday night as they defeated previously unbeaten Hamlin, 14-7.
The victory stretched the Indian win string to eight. Haskell scored once in each of the first periods, but Hamlin was limited to only a second quarter score.

SLATON — Bad breaks, fumbles and the lack of pass defense proved to be the villain as the sporadic Slaton Tigers mated the visiting Stanton Buffaloes 21-0 here Friday night.

Stanton's forward wall discouraged most of the Felines' running game — holding triple threat Rich Washington to his worst rushing game of the season — but left something to be desired when it came to plugging up the secondary on passes.

HARD TO RUN

The Bisons received the opening kick and found running against Slaton's mammoth line virtually impossible. Three times with the ball, the Buffs had muddled a mere four yards and decided to kick. Starting quarterback, Pat Hall's kick from the Buff 19 went straight up and came almost straight down — into the arms of a shocked Doyle Ehrhidge who was all alone on the left side just six paces away.

Ehrhidge embraced the ball and jaunted 25 yards to the double stripes without a single Bison within yelling distance. When Truett Johnson's kick split the uprights for the PAT, only 1:45 had elapsed in the game.

After having started senior Pat Hall at the signal-calling job, Coach Bryan Boyd alternated quarterbacks — replacing Hall with recuperating David Jones — as a Bison surge erupted following Slaton's kick off.

With Bert Decker leading the thrusts, the Buffs drove from their 20 to the enemy 23 before a Stanton bobble left the ball free and Tiger Buddy Pettigrew gladly pounced on it.

Unable to move, the Felines returned the ball to their guests after three downs, and the guests followed suit after three. It became a "after you" series for the remainder of the opening segment, but Buff defender Thurm Brown became complacent in the second quarter and watched helplessly as Slaton QB Jim Williams put a perfect pass into the hands of end Larry Allison at the Bison three-yard line.

Washington stabbed off tackle for the payoff thrust with 7:55 left in the period before the intermission and Johnson's kick seemed tailor-made sailing through the goal posts. The fact that half of the Buff line bolted off-side didn't bother the senior place kicker.

Stanton took over at its 25-yard stripe, but relinquished the pigskin in three plays. After Slaton used up its three attempts to get ten yards, Williams gambled on fourth and three at the Bison 21. Frankie Arguello broke through to smother Williams who had Allison three steps behind Brown again — in the end zone.

After two more exchanges, Slaton was going from the Buff 43 with 1:44 showing on the clock. After Washington got off his second best spurt of the night — to the Bison 32 — Williams caught Brown napping again, but the emotional fans aroused him in time to intercept at the 11 and stop another possible Feline score. Slaton took a 14-0 edge into the skull practice quarters at the intermission.

Place kicker Jack Madison got off a beautiful kick to crack open the third segment. Staunch Bison ground defense — aided by a 15-yard fine — had the home team kicking three downs later. Williams' fourth down bobble angled out of bounds at his 43 — giving the Stanton team excellent field position.

Decker tore 13 yards to the 30 for a first down and a face mask infraction by his grappler yielded 15 more paces. After a stab to the 12, the Buffs' hopes dwindled as Larry Allison snared another Stanton fumble and doused the drive. With Don Burns leading the defense, the Buffs held Williams' kick sailed straight up, came down about five yards out, then took a Stanton bounce and wound up two yards behind the original line of scrimmage at the Tiger 35. The Bisons failed to take advantage of the break.

Early in the final period, David Jones hit Brown at the enemy 34 on a fourth down play, but the sheer anxiety and the biting cold caused the youngster to drop the ball.

FIERRO THROWS TOUCHDOWN PASS

Huskers Whip TCU, 29-0

Nebraska	TCU
First downs	20
Rushing yardage	211
Passing yardage	156
Return yardage	142
Passes	17-23-26-3
Punts	6-26-11-42
Fumbles lost	2-0-0
Yards penalized	60-34

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Nebraska converted two stolen passes and a fumble into touchdowns Saturday and sophomore Frank Patrick guided the Cornhuskers to a 29-0 victory over Texas Christian.

Patrick threw a pair of touchdown passes and linebacker Ken Gaddes sped 39 yards for a third score as the defending Big 8 champions took their fourth verdict in six games.

No. 2 quarterback Al Fierro of Big Spring tossed a 46-yard scoring pass in the fading seconds to Buster Yannon.

The loss was the fifth straight for the hapless Christians and their eighth consecutive setback going back into the grim 1966 campaign.

The Southwest Conference club has failed to score a touchdown in its home stadium since it installed a sparkling new clock last year.

Nebraska brought the nation's No. 1 defense into the contest but it was a tossup to determine whether the Cornhuskers' effectiveness or TCU's defectiveness prevented a Frog score.

The Christians had two or three scoring opportunities but fumbles and other offensive miscues doomed their flirtations with the enemy goal.

The Cornhuskers turned a fumble and pass interception into two quick touchdowns, both on Patrick's passes, and led 13-0 before eight minutes had expired in the contest.

The score was not altered until Bill Bomberger kicked a 23-yard field goal with 12 seconds left in the first half.

TCU fullback Kenny Post fumbled and Mike Wynn recovered for Nebraska on the Frog 19 from where Patrick guided the visitors in for the first score.

Dogies Nose Out Forsan B Team

FORSAN — The Big Spring Sophomores won their second game in three days by turning back the Forsan B team, 14-6, here Saturday morning.

The squad was split for the two contests and only 15 boys made the trip to Forsan.

Mike Hudson counted Big Spring's first touchdown on a 15-yard run around right end at the end of a 60-yard drive in the opening period. The Dogies tried to pass for the two extra points but missed connections.

Forsan scored when Bobby Betterton blocked a Big Spring punt in the third period and Gary Irwin fell on it in the end zone.

With six minutes to go in the fourth, Hudson got the winning TD on a two-yard run at the end of a 50-yard march.

Highlight of that drive came when Ricky Peurifoy passed 30 yards to right end Steve Tidwell. Following the touchdown, Peurifoy added the two extra points on a run.

Big Spring got to Forsan's one in the first but a penalty set it back and powered its way to the Buffs' ten in the second but was stopped.

Tidwell came up with three interceptions playing at a defensive halfback spot and had a fourth period touchdown pass from Peurifoy called back. He was also outstanding on offense.

Right guard Mike Herron, quarterback Gary Hughes, right tackle Tom Beltz, Peurifoy and Hudson were other outstanding boys for Big Spring. On defensive, other standouts included corner back Benny Marquez and middle linebacker Danny Clayton.

What's wrong with a Chevy having a VW guarantee?

This car has passed our 16-point safety and performance test.

If a car's good enough to pass the VW 16-point safety and performance test it's good enough. It gets our 100% guarantee that we'll repair or replace all major mechanical parts* for 30 days or 1000 miles, whichever comes first. We'd do the same for any make trade-in. Even an Edsel. Provided nothing's wrong with it.

Are you willing to go as low as $1793 for a new VW?

We don't sell status. Just a car. One that gets about 27 mpg, averages 40,000 miles on a set of tires, and hardly uses oil between changes. Of course, the fact that it's practical is no secret. And everybody is going to know that you're saving money. But that's the price you pay for Volkswagen.

Permian Tips 'Dogs, 19-14

MIDLAND — Two Midland fumbles set up touchdowns for Odessa Permian here Friday night as the Panthers edged the Bulldogs by a 19-14 count in District 2-AAAA action.

Permian jumped off to a quick start on a 37-yard scoring aerial by William Stewart to Tommy Stewart in the initial stanza of play. Roger McGraw booted the PAT.

Midland had trouble moving the ball during the hard-fought ball game. However, they were able to put a sustained drive together in the second period to come back and tie the score at 7-7 when quarterback Paul Lyons scored from the three yard stripe.

The Panthers were able to carry a 13-7 advantage into the dressing room at the half by virtue of Travis Wright's one-yard trip to paydirt. The PAT failed.

Wright scored what proved to be the winning TD in the third period when he plunged in from the two. A pass attempt for two points was futile.

Raiders In Showdown With San Diegoans

By The Associated Press

There's an old fashioned frontier showdown shaping up in the American Football League's Western Division Sunday with two of the best pass slingers around standing eyeball to eyeball.

Unbeaten San Diego, riding the strong right arm of battle-hardened John Hadl, places its slender one-half game Western lead on the line against Oakland's ambitious Raiders and Daryle Lamonica.

The winner will hold the edge in the West with defending champion Kansas City fading fast and Denver out of the picture.

The Charger-Raider battle highlights Sunday's AFL schedule. Other matchups have New York, the Eastern leader, facing Boston, Houston hoisting Buffalo and Denver at Kansas City. Miami has a bye.

In the National League, Baltimore plays at Washington, Cleveland visits New York, Dallas is at Philadelphia, Detroit visits San Francisco, Los Angeles faces Chicago, Atlanta hosts Minnesota, and Pittsburgh is at New Orleans. On Monday, Green Bay plays a night game at St. Louis.

Hadl passed for 345 yards, connecting on 15 of 34 attempts against Denver in the Chargers' 38-21 victory last week. Lance Alworth caught five of the passes for 142 yards.

The Broncos picked off two of the first three passes Hadl threw but none after that as the former Kansas ace steadied himself and piloted the Chargers to their fifth victory in six starts. They have one tie.

"I don't worry about Hadl," said Coach Sid Gillman. "He can have a shaky start and still come back with a great game. His mistakes don't stagger me anymore. He knows and I know that he's not going to have a bad game."

Lamonica gunned Oakland's

48-14 rout of Boston, completing 15 of 37 passes for 250 yards and four touchdowns. It gave the Raiders a 5-1 record and kept them one-half game back of San Diego.

The victory climaxed the traditionally tough three-game road swing for Oakland, which opened with a loss in New York but was followed by victories in Buffalo and Boston.

Boston was unbeaten in three games before running into Oakland and Lamonica. Now the Patriots must face another hot quarterback in New York's Joe Namath.

Namath worked only the first half of New York's 33-14 victory over Miami last week and still completed 13 of 15 passes for 199 yards and two touchdowns. He finished with a string of 12 straight completions, three short of the record set by Kansas City's Len Dawson earlier this season.

Dan Steakley Leads Wolves

ANSON — Dan Steakley. A name which is still rolling off the tongues of everyone following his one-man show as the Colorado City Wolves scored a come-from-behind 19-6 victory over Anson here Friday night.

The fabulous Steakley scored all three of the Wolves TD's and rushed for a spectacular 244 yards and a 6.4 yard average.

Anson opened the scoring in the first quarter on a 41-yard pass play. The attempted PAT kick was no good. Cee-City had no trouble moving the ball in the first half, until it got down inside the opponent's 20.

Taking the ensuing second half kickoff, the Wolves set off on a trip to gold dust. Steakley scored from the two, but the score was knotted 6-6 when the PAT attempt went awry. Steakley scored again in the same period, going 43 three-footers for the score. Benny Lamb's PAT kick was good.

Steakley scored again as he hit from the one on a dive play. The win was the first for the Wolves in league play.

Packer-Card Tilt Highlights Play

By The Associated Press

Bart Starr, Green Bay's old pro, and Jim Hart, the baby-faced St. Louis Cardinal quarterback, will meet Monday night in the big game of a full weekend of eight National Football League games.

Starr returned to the Packer line-up last Sunday in time to snap the defending champions out of their offensive slump with a 49-21 victory over the New York Giants. Hart, who appears to be getting better each week, rattled the Philadelphia defense in a 48-14 victory.

LEAD BY TWO
With Starr at the controls, the Packers, 4-1-1, are overwhelming favorites to sweep to the Central Division title in the Western Conference. They lead second-place Detroit by two full games.

Hart, coming through admirably after Charley Johnson was called into service, has the Cards, 4-2, tied with Cleveland for the Century Division lead in the Eastern Conference.

The Packer-Card game at St. Louis will be seen on network television, CBS Monday night, one of two night games to be seen during regular season.

Cleveland, 4-2, starts on a three-game road trip by visiting

New York to take on the free-scoring Giants, 3-3, who have revived under the direction of Fran Tarkenton.

Leroy Kelly and Ernie Green will pressure the Giants' questionable defense but the Tarkenton-to-Homer Jones combination gives New York a strong air arm. The Giants trail the Browns and Cards by only one game in the Century Division but they have not beaten Cleveland since 1963. Their finale in 1966 was a wild 49-40 game.

Dallas, 5-1, sporting a two-game lead in the Capitol Division of the East, can open up more ground at Philadelphia, 3-3. Don Meredith is due to return as the Cowboys' quarterback after missing two games due to rib injuries. The Eagles have lost two straight and are still smarting from the defeat by the Cards.

COLTS ON ROAD

The Baltimore Colts, 4-0-2, only unbeaten team in the NFL, go to Washington to play the Redskins, 2-3-2. Each team has played two straight ties, the Colts with Chicago and Minnesota and the Redskins with Atlanta and Los Angeles.

Baltimore has beaten the Redskins 15 straight, including eight pre-season games. They won the Aug. 31 exhibition at Washington 33-17. Each will be missing a top receiver, Raymond Berry of the Colts and Charley Taylor of the Skins, both injured.

The George Allen-George Halas feud will be renewed at Chicago when former Bear assistant coach Allen brings his Los Angeles Rams, 3-1-2, in to meet Halas' Bears, 2-4. The Rams won their first three but lost to San Francisco and tied two more.

Stumbling Eagles Clash With Cowboys At Home

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys, riding high in the Capitol Division of the National Football League, seek to widen their lead Sunday in a game with the stumbling Philadelphia Eagles.

And with Don Meredith, their ace quarterback, in the lineup after missing a couple of games with rib injuries and pneumonia, the offense is expected to pick up although there is some worry about the defense.

Two secondary men, Mel Renfro, who has missed three games at free safety, and Phil Clark, the rookie who has been replacing him, are still on the doubtful list due to injuries and Philadelphia, featuring Norm Snead, is one of the better passing teams in the league.

The teams will be reaching the half-way mark in the schedule, with Dallas boasting a two game lead over the field. The Cowboys have won five out of six while Philadelphia and Washington are two games back in a tie for second and winless New Orleans is last.

It is a must for Philadelphia, which has lost its last two games after being tied with Dallas for the Capitol lead.

Coach Tom Landry of the Cowboys, who figures Dallas has run out of ways to win games in view of three squeakers, says his offense must balance his defense in order to get in the position of being able to win under its own power rather than cashing in on the mistakes of the opposition.

He also says Philadelphia has the personnel and overall ability to beat anybody despite its previous showing.

A crowd of 60,000 is due for the 12:35 p.m. (CST) kickoff.

"THE GREAT PUMPKIN may even now be searching for the most deserving pumpkin patch in the world, and these youngsters are willing to take their chances with this one that 'grows' on Gregg Street. Choosing the fattest ones for carving funny jack-o-lanterns are Mrs. J. W. Tipton and her children, Jimmy, Steve and Diane.

DELIGHTED LAUGHTER bursts from little Julie Dudley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dudley, as she shows her trick-or-treat costume. She's a "flower-child" whose only connection with hippies is her LSD sign—and that means "Little Sweet Darling." Decorating her goodie basket are butterflies and bows.

"MY, YOU LOOK SCARY," says Lynn Schoedel, a freshman at Big Spring Senior High School, as she helps her younger brother, Ken, try on his monster suit during a trial run for the big night. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Schoedel.

"Goblins And Goodies"

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, OCT. 29, 1967

Halloween Motif Used By OWC

Lighted pumpkins, life-sized scarecrows and hay bales comprised the decorations at the Hi and Bye coffee Thursday in the Officers' Open Mess at Webb Air Force Base. Members of the Officers' Wives Club were guests and the affair was sponsored by Class 69-02.

Halloween hats were presented as attendance prizes. Winners were Mrs. W. H. Terry, Mrs. W. P. McClarney, Mrs. G. E. Franks, Mrs. R. D. Frerichs and Mrs. A. P. Keith.

Those welcomed as new members were Mrs. A. H. Duerbig, Mrs. R. M. Burroughs, Mrs. E. Hart, Mrs. Jack Niemotka, Mrs. F. A. Burrell and Mrs. G. W. Niece. Farewells were said to Mrs. A. P. Keith and Mrs. C. R. Gallanger. Guests of the OWC were Mrs. W. A. Keith, Mrs. Bookie Harnig and Miss R. Tingle.

Betrothed

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Marilyn Ann Newsom, daughter of Mrs. R. L. Newsom, 1600 Donley, and the late Mr. Newsom, is being announced by the bride-elect's mother. The prospective bridegroom is Dicky T. Beard, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Beard of Slaton. The couple plans to be married Feb. 23 in the Westside Baptist Church with the Rev. Jerry Bob Taylor officiating.

Ester Circle Sees Film On Faith

Mrs. Marvin Dixon continued the study, "Encounter of Faith," and showed the film, "From an Upper Room to a Crowded Street," at the Tuesday meeting of the Ester Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Kentwood Methodist Church. The group met in the home of Mrs. Bill Bodin, 2607 Larry.

Mrs. Raymond Hamby brought the devotion, "God, the Sovereign Lord of All History," and Mrs. Bill Hudson spoke on Buddhism. The next meeting will be Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Hamby, 2701 E. 25th.

Alpha Chi Holds Pin Ceremony

Mrs. Jackie Touchstone, president, conducted the pin ritual at the Thursday meeting of the Alpha Chi Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha at Furr's Cafeteria.

Jewel pins were presented to Mrs. Johnny Zitterhoff and Mrs. Rubin Reavis. Pledge pins were given to Mrs. Robert Coe and Mrs. J. D. Robertson.

To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. Alton C. Goodrich, 3207 Seaboard, Midland, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Karen Beth, to David Michael Worley of Lubbock. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Worley of Austin, formerly of Big Spring. The couple will marry at 8 p.m. Nov. 25 in the Golf Course Road Church of Christ in Midland.

Altrusans Hear Talk

Roger Brown, local attorney, spoke on wills and their importance at the Thursday luncheon meeting of the Altrusa Club at Coker's Restaurant.

He discussed types of wills including the holographic, or the will written by hand without witnesses; the certification of wills before a notary public; and the primary purpose of making a will as a means of disposing of private property in a manner requested by the deceased property owner.

He noted that names on wills may not legally be scratched out and other names inserted, and he discussed the probate of wills as giving the federal and state governments a method of taxation.

Mrs. Homer Petty presided, and 20 attended.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Turning that old clock back won't make any difference to me... I've been making an hour here and there on my snoozing anyway. My trouble is that I sleep best after the alarm goes off. Whatever time the bell rings seems to be just thirty minutes or so before the time that my mind can come to and stay that way. I may wake up bright and clear but one look at the clock and I want to go to sleep again, and I generally do. Several mornings of this and you've just about made up for the time change if you haven't been abiding by the Daylight Saving Time for hitting the sack. But it's all over for the winter so we can go back to our old ways again.

MRS. BRANDON CURRY has returned from a three-week stay in Fayetteville, N.C., where she visited her daughter and family, MR. and MRS. FRANK TURNER, John and Tim. While Mrs. Turner, a teacher and the children were in school, Mrs. Curry availed herself of the opportunity to drive about the countryside and visit antique shops and other places of historical interest. In Fayetteville there is a stone square that Mrs. Curry had never inquired about before this visit. This time she asked and found that it was the square from which slaves were once auctioned. She also watched the bundling of tobacco and visited the curing barns.

Mrs. Curry flew to Fayetteville Oct. 2 and returned Wednesday night.

Have you noticed the flowers in the street planter in front of Swartz' at Third and Runnels? The seasonal flowers make a most attractive planter and the idea would be a good one for the streets where the planters are placed. This one has chrysanthemums, among other plants, and is very pretty. Wouldn't flowers be pretty for spring, summer and fall each year. Canadians cities with their hanging baskets on the lamp posts wouldn't have too much on us.

MR. and MRS. ALFRED COLLINS are out from Burnet to attend the Homecoming festivities at Coahoma and to visit relatives there and with their daughter and her family here. MR. and MRS. AUBREY ARMISTEAD and their children.

Lunched with MRS. DONALD LESTER recently and learned that her mother, MRS. WILMA CLARK, is employed in Dallas but is in New York at present. She has been spending weekends in New Jersey where her son, George, lives.

SGT. and MRS. MARION RIVES and their family are in Brownfield this weekend for an amateur radio convention which Sgt. Rives and his daughter, Debbie, attended.

MR. and MRS. J. C. THOMAS and Charles are expected home this evening from Austin where they visited their son, Jimmy, a law student at the University of Texas. They also attended the Rice-Texas football game.

TERRY McDANIEL, who is stationed at Ft. Hood, has spent the weekend with his parents, MR. and MRS. HANK McDANIEL, and other relatives.

MRS. DOROTHY MEYERS of Orange, Calif., has been here the past week visiting her father, DR. E. O. ELLINGTON, and Mrs. Ellington.

MRS. LARRY FOURNIQUET is home after spending the past two weeks in Denver, Colo., attending a course in computer programming.

Dental Assistants See Film Thursday

Dr. Gordon Smith of Midland was guest speaker and showed a film on dental radiography at the Thursday meeting of the Permian Basin Dental Assistant's Society. The group met in the Holiday Inn at Midland.

Those attending from Big Spring were Mrs. Marvin Callahan, Mrs. Robert Smart, Mrs. Charles Wilson and Mrs. Mae Steele. Area towns represented were Odessa, Midland, Lamesa and Big Spring.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 30 in Big Spring.

Operation Of Appliances Seen By Home Demonstration Club

Programs on small appliances and economical living were presented during the week at home demonstration club meetings held throughout the county. Committee appointments were made and reports were heard concerning charitable and civic projects. Thanksgiving and Christmas parties were planned by some groups.

KNOTT CLUB

Mrs. Walter L. Wheat, home economist for Texas Electric Service Company, presented the program on small appliances at the Tuesday meeting of the Knott Home Demonstration Club. The group met in the home of Mrs. N. A. Jones.

Mrs. Wheat demonstrated the use and care of an electric skillet, griddle, knife and blender and told the group the best method of using each appliance.

Mrs. Joe Myers, incoming president, announced her committee and leader appointments for the coming year. They are Mrs. Joe Gaskins, home management; Mrs. Robert Brown, clothing; Mrs. W. C. Fryar, foods; Mrs. Emmett Grantham, reporter; Mrs. Billy Gaskins, exhibit; Mrs. Emmett Grantham, family life; Mrs. N. A. Jones, safety; Mrs. E. J. Hollis, citizenship; Mrs. Joe Gaskins and Mrs. Robert Brown, 4-H; Mrs. O. B. Gaskins, recreation and personal service; and Mrs. Billy Gaskins, yearbook and health.

Plans were made to operate a booth at the Halloween carnival Oct. 29 at the Knott Community Center, and Mrs. Billy Gaskins filled out county committee reports. Mrs. Don Carlisle brought the devotion, and Mrs. E. J. Hollis was accepted as a new member. Guests were Mrs. Don Carlisle and Mrs. Max Moore. The president announced that the club will host the Howard County HD council Nov. 6 at the county HD agent's office. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Charles Rhodes, 1206 Dixie.

CENTER POINT CLUB

Members planned a Thanksgiving dinner at 1 p.m., Nov. 26, at Furr's Cafeteria during the Tuesday meeting of the Center Point HD Club in the home of Mrs. Alden Ryan, Gail Route.

The hostess brought the devotion, "More Kindness To Others," and annual council reports were completed. Members donated clothing to be presented to the Salvation Army in December.

Mrs. W. L. Eggleston presided and introduced a guest, Mrs. Walter Barth of Darby, Pa. Plans were completed for a Christmas party to be held at the Calico Kitchen in December with Mrs. K. L. Click as hostess. A knitting class will begin at 6 p.m., Nov. 30, at the Hobby Center, and members were urged to work at the state hospital during the months of November and December.

The president asked each member to bring a Christmas gift for the patients at the Bennett House at the next meeting, Nov. 14, in the home of Mrs. L. J. Davidson, Gail Route.

LEES CLUB

Mrs. E. B. Low presided and

TOPS Club Holds Therapy Night

Mrs. Jim Bob Roberts presided and directed therapy at the Thursday meeting of the TOPS Plate Pushers in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room. Mrs. L. O. Free led in prayer, and Mrs. Darwin Stahl showed slides of a previous meeting. Anyone interested in the club is requested to call Mrs. Roberts at 891-5565.

brought the program at the Tuesday meeting of the Lees HD Club in the Lees Club House. Mrs. J. L. Overton served as hostess.

The program presented the topic, "What Should Be Known About Venereal Disease," and Mrs. Low stressed that more films and programs should be given on the subject.

Mrs. V. E. Phillips gave the council report, and Mrs. Low brought the yearbook report. A donation was made to the state hospital chapel fund.

The refreshment table was laid with a Halloween cloth and centered with a large pumpkin.

Gifts made by Mrs. Overton were displayed. The next meeting will be Nov. 18, in the home of Mrs. E. B. Low.

LUTHER CLUB

Mrs. M. S. Bryant and Mrs. Webb Nix presented the program, "Eat Well For Less," at the Thursday meeting of the Luther HD Club in the home of Mrs. Regis Fleckenstein.

Mrs. John Couch was presented the traveling prize, and ten members and one guest, Miss Juanita Hamlin, attended. The next meeting will be Nov. 9 with Mrs. Ed Simpson as hostess.

MR. AND MRS. JOE R. WALLIS, BROOKS, KATHI AND STEVE

Newcomers Look At Opportunities Ahead

By RHODA LEMONS

Mr. and Mrs. Joe R. Wallis, 1301 Mt. Vernon, have made their home in Big Spring for three weeks, and so far they have found this "one of the friendliest" places they have ever lived.

Wallis is employed as an interviewer for the Texas Employment Commission. He is working under a probationary term for six months, and then may be subject to transfer. This is a new position for Wallis, and he is enthusiastic about the benefits of the job to his home-life. His former employment left him almost no time to be with his family, and he is particularly enjoying regular working hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallis have three children. They are Steve, 9, Brooks, 6, and Kathi, 23 months. They formerly lived in Sweetwater but are originally from Colorado City.

Although the Wallises have lived here such a short while, they are anticipating joining a Baptist church. They are also interested in Scouting, Little League and the Parent-Teacher Association. Their sons are fourth and first grade students at Washington Place. Wallis is in a six-month training period. He spends approximately four hours a day learning procedures and policies of the Texas Employment agency,

Improve Home By Painting Inside

There's nothing so flat as a flat wall. But take texture, add it to a wall, and you've literally added a new dimension. Color is one way to give a wall character. The use of accessories is another. But the modern — and permanent — way to invest a wall with dramatic interest is by giving it depth. It is a simple matter to add texture to a wall. V-grooved and straight hardboard paneling, both vertical and horizontal, are two popular ways of doing this.

Among the newest trends in this direction are walls with burlap, wicker, basket weave and louver patterns. This can be achieved by using factory-embossed hardboard, permanently textured during the manufacturing process.

and the other four hours are dedicated in the main to "finding jobs for people and people for jobs." According to Wallis, he averages talking to about 12 people each day in assisting them with finding employment.

Mrs. Wallis' hobby is sewing and baking and decorating unusual cakes for parties and receptions. She makes any family anniversary or birthday a special occasion with her baking productions, and still receives orders for cakes from friends and relatives in Colorado City.

She sews almost her entire wardrobe and is adept at many variations of the same pattern. She also sews for her daughter. The Wallises are still in the midst of getting everything straight at home, and Mrs. Wallis is hanging drapes and doing all the usual things done by a wife and mother when a new home is being established.

Their main interests include the children's activities and working with church youth groups. They are eagerly anticipating becoming an integral part of the community, whether they remain here for a short time or permanently.

Park Superintendent Shows Indian Signs

Burl Cramer, superintendent of the Big Spring State Park, conducted members of the Junior Woman's Forum on a tour of Senic Mountain Thursday afternoon. The group met in the home of Mrs. Morris Rhodes, 1711 Alabama, with Mrs. Fred Simpson as cohostess.

Cramer showed the group signs and markings that he believes were made by the early Spanish explorers and Indian markings denoting an Indian burial ground. He also told the group that some ancient markings indicate a perpetual spring of water at the site of the old big spring.

Mrs. Wayne Henry presided during the business session, and Mrs. Bob Dunson reported on her visit to the Community House sponsored by the state hospital.

Mrs. Rhodes, Mrs. Dunson and Mrs. Henry discussed their trip to the district board meeting, Oct. 14, in Andrews. The Western District convention will be held March 29-30 in El Paso.

Mrs. Niles Rough, 2503 Ann, will host the next club meeting.

Annual Baptist WMU Meet Held

WESTBROOK (SC) — Attending the annual Woman's Missionary Union meeting at the First Baptist Church in Colorado City Thursday were Mrs. C. E. Ranne, Mrs. Hoyt Roberts, Mrs. L. B. Edwards, Mrs. Floyd Rice and children.

Mrs. Curtis Clemmer of Colorado City and Mrs. Alta Clemmer of Westbrook were in Odesa Monday.

Mrs. L. B. Edwards was hostess to the J.O.Y. Sunday school class of First Baptist Church Monday in her home. Mr. W. C. Hutchins, teacher, brought the devotion, and Mrs. Edwards led prayer and presided. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Troy Lankford will host the November meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Yarbrough are in Albuquerque, N. M., where he is a patient in the Veterans Administration Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bryant visited with them over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pope visited recently in Andrews and Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Rees visited Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Dorn Jr. in Coahoma recently, and Mrs. H. L. Jamison of Colorado City visited Monday in the Rees home.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lankford were visitors in Midland, Pecos and Mentone during the week.

New Book Published On Roses

The American Rose Society has announced a new publication for the home gardener. The "Handbook For Selecting Roses" offers a wealth of information on all roses currently available in the United States. The handbook is the result of continuous expansion of the society's "Guide for Buying Roses."

The new booklet describes more than 1,000 roses including height of plant, color, horticultural classification and the valuable American Rose Society rating. Each rose is assigned a national rating based on a 10 point scale. These ratings are obtained through an annual survey of the 17,000 American Rose Society members who report on roses they are currently growing.

This handy pocket-size booklet may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped, standard size envelope, and 10 cents in coin to the American Rose Society, Dept. B., 4048 Roselea Place, Columbus, Ohio, 43214.

Performing Friday evening were T. Sgt. Joseph Rawdon, Mrs. Myrel Loughry, Mrs. W. E. Nelson, S. Sgt. Matthew Mooney, Roy Zeigler, T. Sgt. Austin Rogers, Mrs. Matthew Mooney, Mrs. Frank Peralta and George Bustamente.

'Hellzapoppin' Held At Webb On Friday

A variety show, "Hellzapoppin," was presented Friday evening by members of the NCO Wives' Club and NCO Club at Webb Air Force Base. The show was directed by Mrs. Matthew Mooney, NCO Club president.

The cast was dressed in costume, and S. Sgt. Alfonso Montgomery served as master of ceremonies. S. Sgt. Matthew Mooney portrayed "Jake, the Fiddler," and the scrubwoman performing a dance pantomime was Mrs. Mooney.

Attired in mustache and hillbilly garb was T. Sgt. Marty Beiningen, who was assisted by Mrs. William Wheeler, wearing a sunbonnet, as they portrayed "Maw and Paw on the Farm." Mrs. Frank Peralta and George Bustamente did a version of the Mexican hat dance, and "Jake, the Fiddler" was continually interrupted by various members of the club and by Mrs. Roy Zeigler who acted as an "enthusiastic gardener."

Mrs. Myrel Loughry, dressed in Arabian attire, performed a dance accompanied by T. Sgt. Joseph Rawdon. Mrs. William Nelson did a satirical dance, "Lovely Hula Hands," as "Freda Goes Hawaii," accompanied by the Country Squires.

Concluding the program, Mrs. Howard Enoch and Sgt. and Mrs. Mooney performed as "The Apple Sisters" singing and dancing to the song, "You Are My Sunshine."

Members who worked backstage were Mrs. Charles Bamberger, Mrs. Enoch, Mrs. Robert Foster, Mrs. Calvin Hall, Mrs. Marvin Holland, Mrs. Al Ramirez, Mrs. George Ryder, Mrs. Edwin Scheig, and Mrs. D. E. Thornbrough.

Janice Lee Stevenson Weds D. B. Roberts

The wedding of Miss Janice Lee Stevenson and Pfc. Doyle Benjamin Roberts was solemnized Saturday afternoon in the sanctuary of the First Church of God with the Rev. V. Ward Jackson performing the double ring ceremony.

The couple stood before a seven-branched candelabrum entwined with fern and flanked by large white baskets of flowers and fern. Wedding selections were played by Mrs. Paul Chapell, organist, and Miss Vicki Justis of Odessa sang "Oh, Perfect Love" and "I Love You Truly."

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Stevenson, 2519 E. 25th, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Roberts, 613 Steakley.

WHITE SATIN

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white satin overlaid with Chantilly lace. The molded bodice was styled with rounded neckline, petal point sleeves and a satin bow at the Empire waistline. A satin train fell from the shoulders, and the three-tiered veil of illusion was attached to a beaded satin pill box.

The bridal bouquet was of Frenched white carnations and was carried atop a white Bible and showered with picot streamers.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Judy Annette Stevenson, and the bridesmaid was Miss Doris Ann Davis of Paducah. Their satin sheaths were in shades of pink and topped with chiffon tents banded with satin at the collar and cuffs. They wore matching headpieces of chiffon roses with tulle veils and carried long-stemmed red roses.

The bridegroom's brother, Dale Roberts, was best man, and Tommy Clinton of Odessa was groomsman. The ushers were Charles Clinton of Clarendon and Airman I. C. James of Nelmis of Webb Air Force Base.

Mary Elizabeth Jackson, the flower girl, was dressed identically to the other feminine attendants and carried a basket of rose petals. The ring bearer was James Herbert Jackson.

Both the bride and bridegroom graduated from Big Spring Senior High School and attended Howard County Junior College. She has been employed as a nursing assistant at Big Spring State Hospital and he was associated by Harding Well Service before entering the Army. They will reside in Killeen where he is stationed at Fort Hood.

RECEPTION

The bridegroom's sister, Miss Elizabeth Ann Roberts, registered guests at a reception which followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts were joined by their parents and the honor attendants in receiving guests.

White linen covered the refreshment table, and appointments were of crystal and silver. Accenting the table was an arrangement of white carnations and the white, three-tiered wedding cake which was topped with bridal figurines. Miss Belinda Ann Ellis and Mrs. Steven Stoakes served.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Ellison, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Blair and Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Wood, all of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. H. U. Cook of Conroe, the bride's grandparents; Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Quimby, Kermit; Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Cook, Bartlesville, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Doyle C. Clinton, Alberta, Canada; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Clinton, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Max Thomas, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Roberts, Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Berle D. Clinton, Clarendon; M. M. Clinton, Stanton; and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Crosby, Maljamar, N.M.

For the wedding trip, Mrs. Roberts chose a cranberry wool, A-line sheath with raglan sleeves. Her accessories were black, and she wore the corsage from her bouquet.

BSP Banquet Held In Midland Saturday

STANTON (SC) — The Holiday Inn in Midland was the scene Saturday evening of a formal pledge banquet for Beta Sigma Phi chapters in Stanton. The Xi Theta Nu chapter was the host group, with Mrs. John McIntyre, president, giving the welcoming address.

Mrs. Nolan Simpson was mistress of ceremonies. The invocation was a song by Mrs. Billy Reagor, and the introduction of pledges was made by presidents of the chapters. They were Mrs. McIntyre, Mrs. R. O. Anderson, Mrs. Russell McMeans, Mrs. John Roueche and Mrs. Bob Bryan. Mrs. Anderson extended the welcome, with response by Mrs. Jor Cruse.

Mrs. Ellis W. Britton read an original poem describing the meaning of BSP, and Mrs. Homer Schwalbe presented a poem on friendship. A song about BSP, with lyrics composed by Mrs. James Jones, was performed by Mrs. Reagor with accompaniment by Mrs. Nolan Sorreis, pianist. The Preceptor Mu members presented a skit detailing the history of the chapter.

The host chapter decorated tables with candles in various colors, and the year's theme, "Turn the Key," was carried out with large styrofoam keys as the centerpiece. Favors were key chains, and the attendance

BUYING TIPS FOR HOMEMAKERS

Get Best Shoes For Money

By GENEVIEVE S. WOOD

When you go shoe shopping nowadays you're likely to come face to face with a number of strange terms, whether it's men's, women's, children's or infants' footwear you are seeking. These terms apply to the man-made materials now widely used. Don't for a moment think they are the "imitation leather"—smooth, airtight, and growing stiff after a short span of service—that you may have bought accidentally a few years ago.

The materials used today are the products of leading manufacturers, who have launched them after long, careful research. They are identified, and the manufacturers stand back of them. Shoe soles of man-made materials have been used for many years, and these are augmented by new ones that represent advances. These sole and upper materials bear many different registered trademarks.

FOR UPPERS

One of the most popular of the man-made materials for uppers is a vinyl coating on a woven fabric. The patent leather finish is especially popular for girls' and women's shoe uppers, and it is used in many beautiful colors.

This product also is used in a dull finish and in patterns such as paisley, prints, reptile skin designs and so on. It is resistant to cracking, chipping and peeling, and is easy to clean.

It appears under a half dozen trade names, among them Wisp, Capella, and Pattina.

Incidentally, if you buy real leather footwear in a patent leather finish, you can be pretty sure that this finish will not crack, check or peel as it once did, for today's finish has achieved new durability.

One of the most widely used of the new products this season is called Corfam. It is smooth, sueded, or patent-like in its finishes, and is used in shoes from the moderate price bracket on up. It also is to be found in different pattern effects, such as tweed and herringbone. This product is resistant to scuffing, and in itself is water- and soil-resistant.

LEATHER TERMS

Leather also is processed and finished in many different ways. Some of the terms that are important are:

Top grain—The high quality leather used in better footwear. It is the top layer of the hide, in which the grain or hair follicles create a small, interesting pattern.

Suede—The under or flesh side of leather, buffed or sueded to produce a soft surface. Once it was used in footwear for the winter season, but today it is popular the year round. It should be cleaned by brushing with a wire brush.

Cordovan—Formerly a smooth leather made from horsehide, used for men's shoes. Today it is also applied to smooth leather made from cowhide.

Split leather—Leather after the top layer of the hide has been removed. This inner layer is split into two layers, and is much used in lightweight uppers.

Kidskin—A fine, soft, extremely soft pliable leather, used mostly in women's shoes.

FOR LONGER WEAR

There are many new constructions in today's shoes. The popularity of the many fabric shoes for boys and girls and for casual wear in general, has led to the blending of cotton with nylon, dacron and other long-wearing fibers for longer service.

Stitching is often of nylon thread for greater resistance to abrasion.

Cushioned soles, made of various forms of rubber, cork and other man-made materials, are generally used with such fabric shoes. Some of these materials are impervious, so eyelets are inserted in the instep for ventilation. This makes for more comfort, of course.

Authorities in the footwear industry forecast a continuing increase in the use of man-made materials in footwear. They assert that these are not a substitute for leather but a supplement to it.

Pecan Sales To Finance Project

Mrs. Horace Rankin presided and announced the sale of pecans as a fund-raising project at the Thursday meeting of the Progressive Woman's Forum. Proceeds will provide a scholarship at Howard County Junior College.

The group met in the home of Mrs. Donald Priddy, 2515 Ann. Refreshments were served from a table covered with white damask cloth and centered with a mass arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums.

Nuptials Set

The engagement of Alice Nann Coker to William Davis (Dub) Hale was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse L. Coker of Fredericksburg at a buffet-dinner party held Oct. 21 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dewayne Estep of Wichita Falls. Hale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Marcus Hale of Electra. The bride-elect graduated from Big Spring Senior High School and is attending Midwestern University. The wedding has been scheduled for Dec. 23.

Park Hill P-TA To Host Supper

The Park Hill Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a Halloween carnival and spaghetti supper at the school Monday. Serving will be from 5:30 until 7:45 p.m., and the carnival events will be from 6 to 9 p.m. Tickets for the supper are 75 cents.

Gardeners Participate In San Angelo Meet

Mrs. G. T. Hall, president of Big Spring Garden Club, and Mrs. J. B. Knox, a delegate, were in San Angelo Wednesday to attend the state board meeting of the Garden Clubs of Texas. The three-day meeting began Tuesday at the Cactus Hotel.

The women attended a general assembly Wednesday morning where it was noted that gardeners make up the largest organized women's clubs in the world.

Russell L. Willis, manager of the San Angelo Chamber of Commerce, was guest speaker at the luncheon and chose the topic, "Wake Up — It is Tomorrow."

"It is not the duration of a life, but its donation, that is important," said Willis. He stressed that everyone should select a cause and work for it in order to make their time on earth worthwhile. In closing, he complimented the group on the work it had done to further good gardening practices and beautify the state. In the afternoon, delegates toured landscaped areas in the city and were honored at a tea and reception held in the officer's quarters at the old fort. The quarters have been converted into a garden center by the city's Garden Club Council.

It was announced that the 40th anniversary year of the Garden Clubs of Texas will be observed at a meeting March 26-28 in Corpus Christi, and the 1968 fall board meeting is slated at Tyler.

Ginger Culpepper To Be Married

The approaching marriage of Miss Ginger Lee Culpepper to Eddie Dean Waddill is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald D. Culpepper, 209 Main, Coahoma.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Waddill, 2102 Johnson.

The couple plans to marry Nov. 25 at the Coahoma Baptist Church, with the Rev. Gary Culpepper, brother of the bride-elect, serving as officiant.

Miss Culpepper is attending Coahoma High School, and the prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School. He is now attending Draughon's Business College in Abilene.

R ALL DRUGS EVENTUALLY LOSE THEIR POTENCY

Exposure to heat, dampness, or the sun can do quick damage. Medicines given by a dropper are subject to contamination each time the dropper is re-inserted into the bottle.

Follow these general rules. Most opened liquids should be destroyed after a few weeks. Ointments last about six months and tablets and capsules about one year. Any medicine that changes color, develops a sediment or appears to have a mold should be carefully destroyed. Do not throw discarded medicines in the trash can to tempt children. Empty contents first.

Couple Recites Vows In St. Thomas Church

MRS. NATIVIDAD CHAVEZ (Curley's Studio)

Miss Dionicia Tovar and Natividad Chavez were united in marriage Saturday morning at St. Thomas Catholic Church. The altar was graced with baskets of white gladioli and pom-pom chrysanthemums, and the couple stood beneath an arch of greenery.

Father Leo St. John performed the double ring ceremony, and Mrs. Ed Settles was organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Tovar Sr., Lamesa Hwy., and the bridegroom is the son of Rafael Chavez of Big Spring and the late Mrs. Chavez.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white satin gown overlaid with Chantilly lace. The dress was designed with an Empire bodice and A-line skirt, and her cathedral train was attached at the shoulder. Her shoulder-length veil was of lace, and she carried a nosegay of white carnations tied with satin streamers.

Mrs. Esequiel Valles was matron of honor, and Miss Anita Porras of Odessa served as maid of honor. Both attendants wore white satin dresses with white accessories and carried gold chrysanthemum nosegays. Bridesmaids were Miss Isabel Molina, Mrs. Emilio Molina, Mrs. Fidel Saldivar, Mrs. Jose Rivera, Miss Angie Flores, Miss Teresa Rocha, Mrs. Trine Arsiaga, Mrs. Orlando Tercero, Mrs. Francisco Rubio, Mrs. Jose Lopez, Mrs. Juan Galitan and Mrs. Eleno Paradez, Miss Manuela Montanez and Miss Maria Robles.

All were attired in emerald green satin floor-length dresses with green lace trim over the bodice and bell-shaped sleeves. They wore matching sleeveless coats and circular hats made of green satin and net. They carried gold chrysanthemum nosegays.

Esequiel Valles was best man. Felipe Dominguez, Telesforo Fierro, Irineo Carrasco and Paulo Abundes served as ushers.

Groomsmen were Fidel Saldivar, Guadalupe Rocha, Emilio Molina, Jose Rivera, Ismael Rubio, Catarino Sotelo, Trine Arsiaga, Orlando Tercero, Francisco Rubio, Jose Lopez, Juan Galitan and Eleno Paradez.

Those serving as train-bearers were Olga Podhirny and Elias Chavez Jr. Altar tapers were lighted by Arthur Arsiaga, Manuel Arsiaga and Richard Flores.

The couple left on a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination. For traveling, the bride chose a gold two-piece suit with black accessories and a corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will be at home at 208 NE 10th.

The bride attended Big Spring Senior High School, and the bridegroom attended school in Valley View.

Immediately following the ceremony, a luncheon reception was held honoring the couple in the fellowship hall. Joining them in the receiving line were her parents, his father and the feminine attendants.

The buffet table was laid with a white lace cloth and centered with the three-tiered white wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Despite Drouth, Few Spots Promising Bumper Yields

By SAM BLACKBURN

Last year Howard County farmers were almost embarrassed if their dryland cotton was producing less than a bale to the acre — for some boasted two bales or more to the acre.

This year most of them are proud to have a stand of bumblebee cotton.

C. V. Hewitt, whose place is two miles west of Elbow, is the exception to the rule this year. He has some of the best dryland and irrigated cotton to be found anywhere.

He has a field of about 50 acres of irrigated cotton near his residence which promises to turn out from two to two and a half bales to the acre. His farm is in a limited area where good water is found. He has four wells on the place, one of which is capable of producing 500 gallons a minute. Another will do 250 gallons and the other 100 gallons per minute. Because water comes from a depth of only 62 feet, this is economical production.

His dryland cotton, while not as good as his irrigated fields, is loaded heavily with bolls and promises to turn out better than a bale an acre. Some of the dryland plants look as flourishing as cotton in the irrigated fields.

He said his particular area had two or three good rains at the right time which accounts for the better cotton. A mile or two miles from his place the picture is not as good.

Cotton farmers are not happy with the crop, as might be expected. Last year's phenomenal production was offset by the relatively low price paid for the staple.

This year Hewitt summed it up:

"I haven't got enough acres of cotton and the price I will get for what I have will be so low I won't make much money."

A few strippers have gone into action, but most are held back awaiting a killing frost. While a late frost would help cotton, it would to grain crops do even more good.

When the frost hits and the leaves are gone, the harvest will get in full swing without delay. The 27,000 acres will not take too much time to strip and the gins are certain not to be overloaded with work.

Paul Gross, county agent, feels that a third of a bale per acre average, will be the best that the county can hope for. That would mean 9,000 to 10,000 bales. Grain fields are yielding somewhat better than expected.

REALLY TALL COTTON

C. V. Hewitt has field good for at least two bales an acre

Boll Weevils Found In Number Of County Fields

The 1967 cotton harvest is full of unusual things.

Despite the generally bleak picture, there are small pockets in Howard County which promise exceptional yields.

Although the lowest temperature reported so far is 39 degrees, there are some low areas, particularly in the southwest quarter of the county, where Jack Frost has nipped the top of cotton plants.

And although this is not boll weevil country, farmers are finding these costly pests in such numbers that they fear this damaging creature has come to stay.

Apparently the weevils have done little damage this season. The probability that they will survive the winter and thus reappear next year in greater strength is worrying all concerned with the cotton industry in this area.

C. V. Hewitt, who farms west of Elbow, has found numerous weevils, and so have several other farmers in the southwest quadrant.

Paul Gross, Howard County agent, said that weevils have been reported this year in most parts of the county. The weevil is especially destructive because it penetrates into bolls and ruins them. Moreover, it is an extremely hard pest to kill or control.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. D BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1967 SEC. D

Area Librarians To Be Here Saturday

District III of the Texas Library Association, an organization involving all libraries in the cities, schools and towns in 36 West Texas counties, will hold its annual fall conference here Saturday.

More than 100 will attend, according to Mrs. Opal McDaniel, Howard County librarian, and chairman of District III. All sessions will be in the library building at Howard County Junior College.

A feature of the meeting will be the organization of a trustees association — an organization of friends of libraries on the same level as the District III librarians.

A number of officials associated with the state library will be in attendance.

Registration opens at 9:30 a.m. in the HCJC library. The general session convenes at 10 a.m. with Kenneth Roach, HCJC librarian, presiding. County Judge Lee Porter will ask the invocation. Mayor Arnold Marshall and Dr. Anthony Hunt, HCJC president, will welcome the visitors.

Miss Elizabeth Karle, Houston, field consultant for the Texas Library, will bring official greetings from that agency.

Mrs. Louie Reifel, Houston, district planning chairman, will deliver greetings from the Texas Library Association.

Travis Tyre, Lubbock, will discuss the president's hearing on libraries. Paul Medley, Abilene, will speak on "An Opportunity in Film Cooperative."

Mrs. Cieta Faye Fryar, Big Spring, will report for the registration committee; Victor Jeffers, San Angelo, for membership; Mrs. Geneva Dix, Brownwood, for the nominating committee.

Election of new officers will conclude the morning business session.

At 11 a.m. Marvin Stone, with the Dallas Public Library system, will conduct a cooperative book selection demonstration. He will be assisted by Miss Thelma Andrews, Abilene; Mrs. Dix, Miss Callie Millikin, Abilene; Victor Jeffers and Miss Marie Haney, Abilene.

Lunch will be at Furr's Cafeteria followed by a musical feature presented by the HCJC music department. A concluding event will be a book review by Mrs. Clyde Angel of Big Spring.

Midland's Gem Show Set Saturday

Rocks, minerals, working displays and prizes will be attractions of the fifth annual Midland Gem and Mineral Society Rock Show in the National Guard Armory, located on North Lamesa Road in Midland. Showtime on Saturday will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sunday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Nine rock dealers, both displaying and selling, will have gems and minerals from many parts of the United States and foreign countries.

Members of the club will maintain working exhibits throughout the show displaying various phases of the lapidary hobby, rock cutting, polishing, faceting and silversmithing. A lecture on fluorescent rocks will be held each hour. Mrs. Walton M. Cates is show chairman.

Only One Has Voted Absentee

No additional absentee votes have been cast in the Nov. 11 state election on amendments to the state constitution. The total has stood at one vote in the county clerk's office since the day after the absentee voting began.

Deadline is three days before the election. Any person who will not be in the county on election day or persons who are physically unable to go to the polls, are entitled to ballot by absentee.

Job Well Done

S. M. Anderson, superintendent of the Big Spring schools, has completed his year of service as president of the Texas State Teachers Association. It is an honor for this community to have its chief educational executive officer singled out as the top man among the state's teaching force. It is all the more honor because of the exceptional year of achievement which has unfolded under Mr. Anderson's leadership. There were many solid professional advances, not the least of which was a substantial pay raise for teachers. But on other fronts Mr. Anderson was busy in bulwarking standards and other programs which will bring strength to Texas schools. All this was accomplished in the face of a tremendous job here in directing the local system and in climaxing the most ambitious building program in the district's history. Sam Anderson deserves congratulations for a job well done.

Who Really Benefits

Another session of the Southwestern Law Enforcement Academy has been concluded at Howard County Junior College, and several West Texas towns will have better law enforcement because of it. The academy results from the cooperation of the college, the Texas Law Enforcement Commission, Texas A&M University and the Big Spring Police Department. It has provided basic information and skills to beginning (and even more-seasoned) officers. It has exposed men to learning and doubtless has created a thirst for more professional knowledge. In this respect, it is but a beginning for upgrading the abilities and performance of the men who complete the course. As society grows more complex, education becomes increasingly imperative. Nowhere is truer than in law enforcement where it is a hard fight with a short stick at best. Yet, those bent on educating themselves for this career cannot help but be more efficient, more understanding, more effective and prouder officers. Thus, if the academy benefits them, it benefits the community more.

The Effects Of Inflation

WASHINGTON — Many people do not seem to know the true meaning of the word "inflation." But they are certainly feeling the effects of it. The latest figures released by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics tell a story that has a far-reaching significance.

The "average city family of four," for instance, now needs an income of at least $9,191 dollars a year to maintain a moderate standard of living. The figure varies in the 39 metropolitan areas surveyed. Thus, in New York City, the sum necessary for a family of four is 10,293 dollars a year, while in Austin, Texas, it amounts to 8,088 dollars. The study accentuates the fact that family expenses in general have gone up 40 per cent since 1951 and approximately 16 per cent since 1959 as a result of price increases alone.

HOW DID this happen? Most people have been unaware of the economic forces that have steadily pushed prices higher. Labor unions have been demanding increases in income for members. Employers agree to new wage scales — or undergo costly strikes — and to offset the added expenditures, they feel compelled to raise prices.

On the whole, the national economy has been pressed on all sides for several years now. The cost of living has steadily risen, as wages and prices have broken previous records. UNFORTUNATELY, politics has had much to do with the failure to restrain inflation. Administrations have been tempted to attract votes by increasing expenditures for special projects throughout the country. But not enough tax money has been collected to prevent the huge deficits. While the Vietnam war has substantially increased the federal budget, some inflation would have occurred even without the expenses of the war in Southeast Asia. This is because the deficits were considerable in size even before the Vietnam war was expanded.

THE ECONOMIC history of the United States shows that, in periods of recession or depression, prices have fallen and unemployment has been widespread. So long as government spending continues on a larger and larger scale, it has been assumed that a depression could be avoided. But as the deficits in the federal treasury have mounted to unprecedented peacetime heights, fears of an economic setback have been repeatedly expressed by observers who are familiar with what happened in the 1920's and 1930's, when the economic mechanism of the country steadily weakened and a loss of confidence resulted.

THE DEPRECIATION in the purchasing power of the dollar has produced many changes in the wage scales. Auto workers today, as well as steel workers, are getting around 10,000 dollars a year, including "fringe" benefits paid by employers. While this has been regarded heretofore as a high wage, the new government study indicates that it is not as much out of line as many people had believed. In the unorganized fields of employment, wage rates have not been increased to any such extent, and this is where the hardship is heaviest. Retired groups, too, feel the pinch of inflation.

THE LATEST figures on the cost of living of a "family of four" will not come as a surprise to the many millions in that category or to people generally. The big question is whether the situation can be remedied, particularly by governmental action. It is politically unpopular to enact wage and price-control laws, but in previous war periods this method has finally become necessary.

Sooner or later, the facts about the family budget may cause both houses of Congress to see that the only way to avoid a serious recession is to pass wage and price-control laws to stabilize the economy. This might well have been done two years ago.

Billy Graham

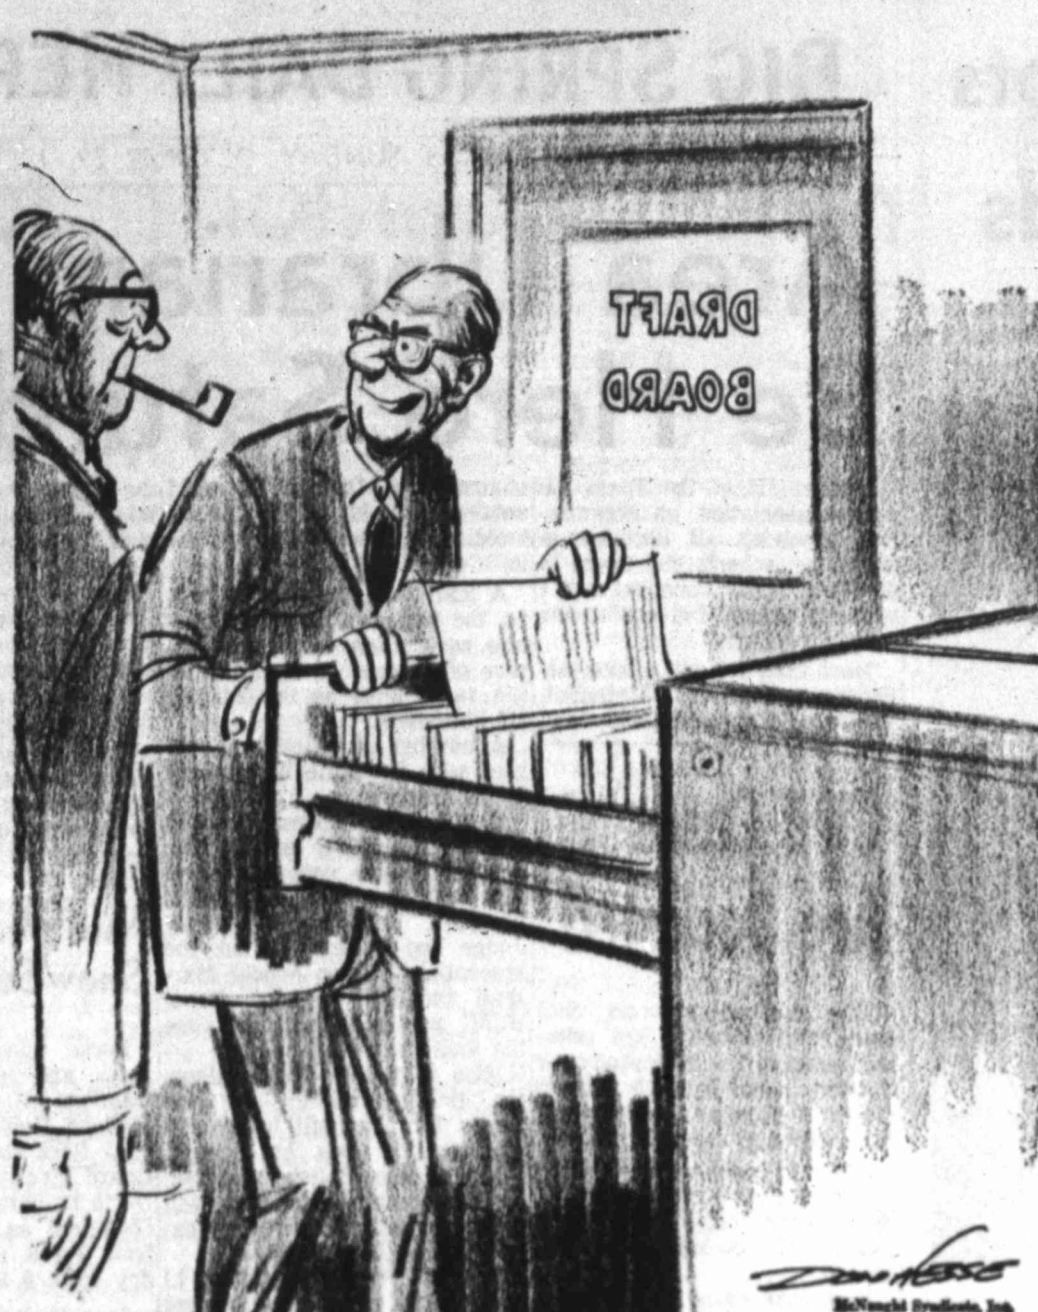

What can a person do who has sinned against people no longer living? I am remorseful about the past and all the mean things I have done, but I can't ask forgiveness, for the people I've wronged have passed away.

Since you can't communicate with those who have passed away, you must turn your attention to making sure that you do not increase your guilt by harming those now living. A good place to begin is to ask God to forgive you for the past mistakes, and pray that he will give you a Christlike spirit in dealing with those now alive. We are all, by nature, contentious, touchy, wrathful, and irritable. These are symptoms of our fallen nature, and are normal expressions of Adam's race. But the Bible says, "In Adam all men die, but in Jesus Christ shall all be made alive again." Read in Galatians 3 about the works of the flesh and you will see the normal characteristics of the average man. But in the 22nd verse we read of the fruit of the Spirit where life is lived in fellowship with Christ where wrath becomes peace, where strife becomes gentleness, and where hatred becomes love. This is what is important for you: for your heart to become the residence of God's Spirit, so that all the negative attitudes may be replaced with the positive graces of Christ. No amount of resolution can change your nature. Only Christ can do this. The Bible says, "If any man be in Christ he is a new creature, old things have passed away, behold all things become new."

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The British Post Office, which handles the telephone system in Britain, is having a rugged time trying to improve the service. Thousands more people have wanted phones than timel estimators expected. The postwar equipment, worn out with long service, is being slowly replaced. In general service is bad. Former Postmaster General Marples, Conservative MP, steps forward to advocate handing Britain's telephone system over to private enterprise. He knows how well the American system works, which is not government-owned, though federal and state regulatory bodies largely determine the price of phone calls. One cannot imagine a Labor government countenancing any such transfer. But it is rather salutary, at a time when Labor has renationalized the steel industry and is talking about "buying into" some other industries, to have one expert recognize that efficiency may lie in an entirely different direction.

Price Increases Said Fodder For Tax Surcharge

NEW YORK (AP) — As Ford Motor Co. prepared to get strike-idled production lines rolling again this past week, its major competitors both announced improved third-quarter sales and earnings.

United Auto Workers Union members approved a new three-year contract with Ford which calls for immediate wage hikes of 20 cents an hour for production workers and 50 cents an hour for skilled tradesmen. The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics says autoworkers now are paid $3.41 an hour.

Wages are to be increased three per cent in each of the contract's remaining two years. The contract also provides for a guaranteed annual income.

Although ratification of the contract ended the strike that started Sept. 6, a quick return by Ford to full production may be hampered by unresolved disputes at the local level, several of them at key stamping plants.

General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp., which still must hammer out new contracts with the UAW, turned in their latest earnings reports this past week.

Chrysler said its net income for the three months ended Sept. 30 was $26.8 million, or 38 cents a share, compared with $5.5 million, or 14 cents a share, in the 1966 quarter. It said consolidated world-wide sales for the period were $1.3 billion and $1.1 billion respectively.

GM said its net income for the quarter was $14 million, or 31 cents a share, compared with $10 million, or 34 cents a share, a year earlier. Sales were $3.3 billion and $3.3 billion respectively.

The Ford strike was blamed by the automakers for a decline in new car sales in mid-October. They said 228,381 new cars were sold in the Oct. 11-20 period,

MOSTLY UP

- Auto earnings show gain as Ford readies for resumption
- Price index said to be outstripping payroll gains
- Government offers highest interest rate in 46 years
- Oil companies show gains, but steel is down
- Durable goods orders decline for third straight month compared with 268,986 a year earlier.

PRICES SOAR
Meanwhile, the government said living costs continued to outstrip record pay gains for most Americans in September.

Arthur M. Ross, Bureau of Labor Statistics commissioner, said the September rise of two tenths of one per cent in consumer prices was the smallest for the month since March, but that it capped six months of price hikes. He said the six-month increase hit an annual rate greater than that in 1966— and 1968 set a 15-year high.

Ross said the rise in consumer prices and in the cost of industrial raw materials "corroborate the need for a tax increase."

President Johnson has asked for a 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes, contending it is needed to cool off an overheating economy. Congress, however, has balked at giving him the tax hike, holding the government first must cut spending.

INTEREST RATE UP
In other developments: The U.S. Treasury offered to pay 5 1/2 per cent—the highest interest rate on a government security in 46 years—to sell $1.5 billion of seven-year notes. It also offered $10.7 billion in 15-month notes at 5 1/2 per cent interest.

The money raised will be used mainly to pay off maturing securities. Oil companies generally reported sharply higher third-quarter earnings while several leading steel firms were down for the quarter. Among the oil companies reporting improvement were Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, Gulf Oil Corp., and Mobil Oil Corp. Steel companies reporting declines included Bethlehem Steel Corp., Republic Steel Corp., and Armco Steel Corp.

TRADE SURPLUS SHRINKS
The Commerce Department reported the U.S. trade surplus declined during September to $416.7 million as imports rose faster than exports. Imports climbed to $2,214,900,000. Exports rose to $2,631,600,000.

The department also reported new factory orders for durable goods declined in September for the third straight month, falling 3.2 per cent to $22.6 billion. International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. and Sheraton Corp. of America announced that ITT had agreed in principle to acquire Sheraton. The agreement involves an exchange of stock valued at about $190 million.

Steel production last week was 2,575,000 tons, up 3.1 per cent from 2,498,000 tons the previous week.

Around The Rim

Tricking-Or-Treating Is Nicer

'Tis the time of spooks and goblins and, principally, trick-or-treaters.

For better or for worse, this trick-or-treat business came into popularity after I passed the age of Halloween observance. Kids of my age certainly would have tried it, since we were always hungry, but Halloween was celebrated in a different way.

IT WENT THROUGH stages, according to age, in fact. I can remember, and many of you do, too, when the little ones on a Halloween were kept at home for such things as apple-bobbing and corn-popping. Don't know why getting one's head dunked had to be associated with Halloween, but it was.

THEN, WHEN KIDS advanced a couple of years, the principal devilry was playing something I believe was called ticktack. It consisted of hooking to the window screen of a house in the neighborhood, a bent pin which had been passed through a tin-can lid to get the amplifying effect, then rubbing the string with resin. As an urchin hid behind a hedge and practiced this manner of fiddling, an unearthly noise was set up at the window, designed to frighten the occupants out, in the belief the Martians were coming.

SURELY THE neighbors were ready for this sound attack, but never to my memory did they buy us off with refreshments. They chased us off with walking canes, or such.

When my gang reached what might be called the age of destruction, there were a few traditional pranks for Halloween. One was to remove the iron gate from anybody's fence—and nearly everyone had fences and iron gates—and hang this item atop a telephone pole a block or so away.

ANOTHER, which required cooperative effort, was to uproot any given Chick Sales which happened to perch precariously—and many of them did—at the edge of an alley. When this happened, the owner didn't come out with a walking cane; he threatened mayhem with a shotgun. It's a good thing kids were fast.

STILL ANOTHER big effort on Halloween was to manage to get a young calf, or a goat, into the office of the principal of the school. This was accomplished with annual regularity, and was (so the perpetrators thought) just about the most hilarious thing that could take place for a whole year. There is no record that I know of, that gives a principal's reaction; it must be assumed that the patient soul expected this sort of thing, just as surely as Halloween came around.

THE WORD "delinquent" wasn't used in those days; neither was the word "juvenile." Some of us in the neighborhood simply were branded as young hellions, and that was enough.

Adults always have paid, on Halloween. In the times I mention, they had to search for the missing gate, or be missing a place to take the Sears catalogue the next morning, or repair broken-down shrubs. Nowadays, they pay with sweets, and it must be admitted that trick-or-treating is a nicer way to observe Halloween, if less exciting.

The Help We Sent The Chinese

WASHINGTON — "To him who is in fear everything rustles."

Those words from Sophocles were quoted by Sen. Brien McMahon 20 years ago on the second anniversary of the destruction of Hiroshima by the first atomic bomb. Out of his broad knowledge of the atom in both its destructive and its peaceful uses, he was warning of the danger growing in the atmosphere of suspicion and distrust.

FEAR AND suspicion at the beginning of the atomic era led to the McCarthyist witch hunts of the early '50s. Because of the signs of a similar fear today, generated by the nuclear might of Red China and exploited to the same political ends, it may be helpful to recall the consequences of that earlier epidemic of something like panic fear.

McMahon did not live to see how close to the mark his warning was. Scientists of the status of J. Robert Oppenheimer, who had contributed as much as any single individual to the development of atomic fission, were hounded out of government on suspicion of association with communism or Communist sympathizers.

WHILE THE total effect of this was incalculable, there was a dramatic example which in its far-reaching consequences for America's security can hardly be exaggerated. That is the account of how one of the most distinguished mathematical physicists, Tsien Hsue-shen, was driven out of this country and back to his native China. He is thought to be the greatest single contributor to Peking's astonishingly swift development of nuclear weapons.

Tsien had come to this country in 1935 on a scholarship to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he took a master's degree. The following year he went to the California Institute of Technology earning a Ph.D. in aerodynamics and quickly demonstrating his genius in his chosen field. Tsien as teacher and researcher at Cal Tech contributed to pioneer beginnings in rocketry and jet propulsion.

DEDICATED TO his work, he has said he wanted to stay in the United States and become an American citizen. Then on the basis of a copy of an alleged Communist party membership card in Tsien's name, the Immigration and Naturalization Service and the FBI began a series of charges that went on for five years. Tsien repeatedly denied under oath that he had ever been a member of the party although he said he had attended meetings with fellow Cal Tech scientists where Marxist principles were discussed.

At the end of five years and a series of court actions, partly aimed at holding him in this country under constant surveillance, he was allowed to depart. He returned to China by way of Hong Kong. He went almost at once to nuclear research and weapons center at Lop Nor, according to intelligence reports.

ANOTHER BRILLIANT Chinese physicist, Chao Ching-yao, who had also been a leader in aerodynamic research at Cal Tech, preceded Tsien in returning to his homeland. The authorities had no allegedly incriminating document to restrain Chao. Tsien and Chao are believed to have teamed up at Lop Nor. How much time they saved the Chinese — measurable in years rather than months — in achieving hydrogen fusion and long-range rockets American scientists can only guess.

One Man Is Playing It Safe

Pierre Bernheim
16 Avenue Hoche
Paris, France
My Dear Pierre,

Forgive me for not writing sooner, but as you know there is a war going on in the United States and I have been in my fallout shelter for several months.

Without giving away secrets, here is the military situation in the United States at the moment.

THE PENTAGON is still in the hands of the government. An assault last weekend by members of the 51st Light Peace Brigade, known as the Fighting Doves, supported by the 33rd Flower Battalion, failed and was repulsed by members of the 82nd Airborne Division of the U.S. Army. There was heavy fighting in the north parking lot, and suicide units of the SDS (Students for a Democratic Society) managed to get to the steps of the building before they were turned back.

Gen. Norman Mailer of the 22nd Heavy Obscenity Corps was captured as were 600 other Militant Peace Commandos.

THE ATTACK started with a barrage of curse words followed by an assault across the demilitarized zone with clubs, pop bottles and tomatoes. In fierce hand-to-hand combat the loyal government troops held their ground, and by evening Army spokesmen were able to announce that the Pentagon was safe, at least for the moment.

But while it turned out to be a military victory for the government, neutral observers here believe that President Johnson's pacification program in the United States is failing.

IN ORDER to win the war in the United States, Mr. Johnson has to win the hearts and minds of the American people. This he is failing to do, and there is considerable speculation that his regime may be overthrown by November, 1968.

While the President still has support in Washington, D.C., (his wife, Sen. Everett Dirksen and his future son-in-law) it's very hard to find it in the countryside. There has been fighting in Madison, Wis., Boston, Mass., Oakland, Calif., and Brooklyn, N. Y.

THE MILITARY is dissatisfied with the civilian control of the situation and would like to wipe out the peace resisters once and for all. They want to bomb Harvard, Yale, the University of Michigan, the University of Wisconsin and the University of California at Berkeley, but these targets, for political reasons, are still off limits.

The military men claim they can't win the war if the peace marchers continue to use the Dr. Benjamin Spock Trail.

SO YOU SEE, my dear Pierre, the situation in the United States is quite serious, and some experts predict it will go on for 20 years. I know you are worried for our safety, but please be assured we are taking all precautions.

We sleep in the fallout shelter, and Helene only goes out in the morning to buy bread and milk. I fly the French flag from my automobile to show everyone I am neutral, and, if worse comes to worse, the embassy has assured us a cruiser will be sent to evacuate us. Thank God I kept my French passport.

Your cher ami,
Francis

Welcome To Big Spring Webb's New Pilot Training Class 69-03

All Big Spring joins in a hearty West Texas welcome to the new class at Webb Air Force Base. While they are citizens of our city for the next year, it is our hope that they will find a helpful, cheerful and hospitable atmosphere. We hope the new students can become acquainted with our town, and find a "home" here. They are asked to drop in and see us at any time and let us extend, in person, the hand of welcome.

A "HOSPITALITY GIFT" For New STUDENT PILOTS

If the Webb student pilot or his wife will call within the next 10 days at the store or service establishment whose name appears with his under his picture (bringing this page with him for identification), he will be given a "welcome gift" by that firm. There is no obligation, and we simply ask that the visit be for getting acquainted. Be our guest!

Teachers Attend TSSA Meeting

By SARA BLEDSOE
ACKERLY — The teachers at Sands attended the Texas Small Schools Association at Howard County Junior College Monday, Oct. 23. The meeting was held from 7 to 9 p.m. The teachers divided into sections during the meeting.

The Future Homemakers at Sands will take a trip to Six Flags, Nov. 4. They will leave about 1 or 2 a.m., and will be back sometime that night. The FFA boys have been selling boxes of fruit the past few weeks. The sale ended Friday, Oct. 27. Every boy who sold five boxes or more will get to go to Six Flags when the FFA girls go. The boxes contained either 60 to 80 oranges or 32 to 40 grapefruit, or the fruit could be mixed. Each box sold for $4.95.

Future Homemakers Will Sponsor Mexican Supper

By BONNIE GLENN
GARDEN CITY — The FHA will have a Mexican supper at the Halloween carnival Monday night, Mrs. Joyce Bergstrom, sponsor, announced that the supper will be served from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Adults plates are $1 and children's plates are 50 cents. Along with the supper, the FHA will sponsor the food booth. The money received from these two events will go in the fund for a new dining room suite for the Home Economics Department.

Time Short For Getting Petitions

Judge Lee Porter said Friday that he had hopes the committee members working to obtain the necessary signatures on a petition asking the county commissioners court to call an airport election would have their work done before the end of this week.

Deadline for the petitions to reach the county commissioners court and be approved is Nov. 6. Before the commissioners can say if the signatures are sufficient, each of the names must be checked to prove the signer's qualification as an elector eligible to vote on the proposal.

This, he said, will take several days and if the election is authorized and called for Dec. 11, the scheduled date, it is imperative that the petitions reach the commissioners well ahead of the deadline date of Nov. 6.

The petitions are being circulated by the Chamber of Commerce aviation committee and other groups. Voters will decide if they want an Airport Authority created and if they will approve a bond issue for improvement of the Howard County airport.

Lomax Planning For A Carnival

LOMAX — The Halloween celebration, which is to be staged at the Lomax Community House Monday night, is not a "party" as was mistakenly reported. The 4-H Club members, who are sponsoring the event, announced the celebration is to be a "carnival."

"We will have all sorts of games," said a spokesman, "and there will be a lot of special attractions. We want everyone to come. The doors open at 7:30 p.m."

He added, as an afterthought: "We are trying to raise money — you can't raise money with a party, but sometimes you can with a carnival."

This individual combat training is given every Marine after his graduation from recruit training. Taught by combat experienced non-commissioned officers of the infantry training regiment here, it prepares the young Leatherneck to become part of the Marine air-ground combat team.

From this course, he is scheduled to go on to more advanced training before being assigned to his permanent unit.

Marine Pvt. I.C. Nathan Williams, husband of the former Miss Sarah B. Loller of 210 NE Ninth St., Big Spring, is serving with the First Marine Aircraft Wing in the Republic of Vietnam.

In addition to attacking enemy personnel and installations, aircraft of the First Marine Aircraft Wing airlift troops to battle zones, evacuate personnel, fly resupply missions, and provide close air support for U.S. Marine and allied ground forces engaged in combat operations.

The unit is also engaged in a civic action program designed to assist the Vietnamese people in completing self-help projects, such as the building of wells, culverts, small bridges and schools.

1st Lt. Nolan C. Voight, son of Edgar E. Voight of 2925 Pecan, New Braunfels, recently dealt the North Vietnamese a two-fisted blow.

Lt. Voight participated in an F-4 Phantom strike against a military storage area inside enemy territory and then pounded cargo vessels collected on the coast.

The fighter-bomber pilots dropped their weapons on their first target, also destroying four fortifications in the complex, then moved over coastal waters to severely damage five 50-foot vessels with cannonfire and rockets.

Lt. Voight is assigned to the 366th Tactical Fighter Wing at Da Nang.

A graduate of New Braunfels Senior High School, he attended San Antonio Junior College and Southwest Texas State College. The lieutenant received his B.A. degree in 1964 from the University of Texas and was commissioned there upon completion of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

His wife, Sherry, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Alton of 2609 Rebecca Drive, Big Spring.

Fireman Raymond C. Rich, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman L. Rich of Coahoma, has completed his third "on-the-line" period off the coast of North Vietnam aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Constellation.

The 33-day line period came on the heels of a previous 36-day tour in the Gulf of Tonkin. The Constellation, in port at Subic Bay in the Philippines for only five days, was called upon to replace the fire-damaged USS Forrestal.

SUNDAY
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A beautiful day and evening for you to show this is a Sunday when you are willing to serve and to do for others, especially those less fortunate than yourself, and to plan the coming week wisely that you can be much more successful. Get everything about you in ship-and-son order. Mend clothing.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You are full of energy and should now be of assistance to those who are less fortunate than yourself. Anything you want to do goes very nicely for you now. Be very cooperative with others.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) If you do whatever will delight those you love, you find that you have a glorious time yourself on well. Plan the day early. Get in touch with friends early enough so that all goes beautifully.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Find out in a.m. what kind of day you make it easier to carry through with clarity and make everything very harmonious around you. Evening is a fine time for having friends in. Have a happy time.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) After attending services of your church, get out and visit most good people, relatives, make business contacts, enjoyable, during work week. Make out a list of things you enjoy some hobby later.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Raise your thoughts to ways and means for having a far greater abundance in the world. Study your property well and see how to make improvements that are necessary. Add to the world.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you make your plans early, you can do a truly heavy time. Socializing brings new and interesting friends within your orbit. This leads to more success in the future.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Being sure to keep promises, make it most important as well as carrying through with whatever brings your development. Deep concentration at odd moments helps you to realize your goals. This can be most helpful in certain decisions you must make.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Make these arrangements early for a group meeting when you are able to think very clearly and objectively. Do whatever you can to improve the lot of an and one of your kind. Share up blessings for yourself.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Go visiting around to places where you can meet individuals who will be able to give you the backing you need for some promising project of yours. Make plans for civic work later on. Let this help necessary opportunities for advancement and be sure they are on a lofty plane. Talk over your ideas with any you want on an outside. Be specific in stating aims and plans into detail.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study into new opportunities for advancement and be sure they are on a lofty plane. Talk over your ideas with any you want on an outside. Be specific in stating aims and plans into detail.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Some deep meditation can reveal the answers to problematical affairs or show you how to make your endeavors more profitable. Help others as well. Out with more in a.m. for the type of fun you both enjoy.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) A fine day to sit down with partners and talk over what your mutual plans are. Find out what your relative position really is. Get their ideas. The most powerful of them will go along with you if you are diplomatic.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY — He, or she, can be most successful in some line of endeavor where patience and working laboriously with details are prerequisites. Teach early not to lose sight of the main objective. Then the child can become very successful. Make sure to build up delicate health of an early age for best results. Music study is fine, also.

MONDAY
GENERAL TENDENCIES: You can get in a bit and unnecessary argument with others now if you try to make them do what you want or if you are not aware of what they expect from their relationship with you. So sit back and watch others without letting any animosity express itself.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You and associates could get into a big argument over some plan that is not real, but avoid talk and stick to your own job. Don't argue about other things, either. Keep cool, calm and collected.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Don't be fearful with another ever doing some particular job which is greatly much your own responsibility, too. Avoid some serious argument. Exercise care in all that you do or say.

SEATTLE (AP) — The Cleveland High School Boys' Club plans to turn its Halloween night trick into a treat for U.S. troops in Vietnam. That's the night it's starting a week-long drive to collect soap for servicemen.

Open Letter To The Residents Of Big Spring

In the last three years, my family and I have worked very hard to provide and operate a zoo (Pet-A-Zoo) in Big Spring, for the benefit of all. I started out in the belief that a zoo could be operated at a profit, but I have since found out the hard way this cannot be done—at least here.

In most cases, a zoo is operated by a City or Society, that underwrites some of the expense in order to provide the community with an educational experience for children and as a tourist attraction. In fact, I first undertook to organize the Pet-A-Zoo along these lines, by forming a zoological society to direct and operate the zoo which would be owned by the City of Big Spring. I talked with members of many of our civic clubs, who all listened and agreed with me that it would be a good thing, but few had the time or interest to devote to it.

To me, the site of the original "big spring" is an ideal place for a zoo. The natural "gullies" and rock formations make an ideal place for a zoo and botanical garden—something no other city in West Texas has. A small "petting zoo" for children in this area, including a building for animal shows, would make an ideal attraction. As the late Mr. Horace Garrett used to tell me, "special attractions will keep people coming back."

Within the next few weeks, I must make a decision on whether to continue keeping my animals or sell them—the latter thought is distressing to our entire family. My pet shop, kennels, and dog shipping crate business have helped me offset the operating deficit, and I plan to continue this phase of the business, even if I am forced to close the zoo.

With planning at the spring site getting seriously under way, I would like to see a zoo included and would keep my animals long enough for them to be used, if this is in the foreseeable future. I certainly think it would be an additional asset to our "big spring" development, our community, and our city.

The reaction of the residents of Big Spring to this letter might sway a decision. I urge you to give it your earnest consideration for the future of a zoo in Big Spring.

I feel that Big Spring is at crossroad, our population is at a standstill. If we are to grow and keep our young people at home we need as many diversified attractions as possible. Serious consideration should be given to the advantages offered by the natural terrain of this site.

How can money be raised to get this project under way—by donations, by bond issue or what have you.

The potentials for future growth of our city is here. What do we do, push it or let it die?

Sincerely,
A. D. BLOUNT

is not the right day to get into that social adventure that is so enticing. Wait a better time. Don't feel that you have to spend a great deal of time of money for fun. Show kindness, thoughtfulness to all.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Be sure to control your temper at home even though you could really irritate them. Try to understand their ideas more. Then you find you can bring harmony into your life that will stand the test of time.

Sellers And Wife Starred In New Comedy, 'The Bobo'

Peter Sellers has played roles as diverse as that of a duchess and a Pakistani doctor. But his zaniest role to date is that of a singing matador in the comedy, "The Bobo," which also stars Sellers' beautiful wife, Britt Ekland. The Technicolor comedy opens today at the Ritz Theater.

Born in Southsea, England, Sellers comes from a show business family. His father, William Sellers, was a musician, his mother, Agnes Marks, a variety artist, and he had eight uncles who were stage producers. His grandmother introduced the theatrical form of revue to Britain, at the turn of the century, with such shows as "Splash Me" and "Have a Dip." Sellers' family also goes back to the 18th Century bare-fist champion of England, Daniel Mendoza, and Victorian Prime Minister Benjamin Disraeli.

Sellers began his acting career doing impressions at camp shows while serving with the Royal Air Force in India during World War II. He later joined Ralph Reader's "Gang Show," touring the Middle East. Discharged, he decided to try the professional theater and finally got a job at London's Windmill Theater.

A first-class mimic, Sellers obtained his first assignment on radio by telephoning BBC producer Roy Speer, using the "borrowed" voices of two well-established performers to recommend him. In 1949, he broadcasted the first performance of "The Goon Show," which subsequently ran for seven years. Progress was rapid after that. Sellers often appeared at the London Palladium, where he gave a Royal Command Variety Performance in 1954. On British television, Sellers originated and starred in a brilliant series of comedy programs including "The Idiot Weekly," "A Show Called Fred," "Son of Fred" and "Yes, It's the Cathode Ray Tube Show."

His first films were "Up the Creek," "Tom Thumb" and "The Mouse That Roared." In 1959 Sellers starred in "I'm All Right Jack" and, with Spike Mulligan, made an 11-minute short, "The Running, Jumping and Standing Still Film," which won four international festival awards. In 1960 came "Two Way Stretch" and "The Millionaire" with Sophia Loren. He later made an LP album with Miss Loren called "Peter and Sophia," which won a Silver Disc Award in Britain. He also starred in and directed the film, "Mr. Topaz." Then, in 1962, Sellers won the British Best Actor Award for his performance in "Waltz of the Toreadors." Since then he has completed 11 films.

'THE BOBO' Peter Sellers and Britt Ekland

Caller Didn't Leave A Name

HAMBURG, N.Y. (AP)—Byron F. Whitford received a telephone call at his home from a solicitor asking for a $27 contribution for an advertisement in a fire prevention week booklet.

"Has this been cleared by the Hamburg Volunteer Fire Department?" Whitford asked the caller.
"Oh, yes," was the reply.
"Well, that's funny," Whitford said. "I'm the fire chief, and I don't know a thing about it."
"Oops, 'Scuse me," came a mumbled voice from the other end of the line before it went dead.

Mojave Got Rich On Coburn Film

The sleepy California desert town of Mojave, once the site of a fabulous gold mine in 1860, went completely "Hollywood" during filming of the comedy, Western "Waterhole No. 3," opening Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre. It was the most excitement the area had seen since the 1932 earthquake.

In addition to the many Mojave natives, including local Indians, who appeared in the Technicolor film, the amount of cash spent in the town was reminiscent of the boom days of the gold rush. Costs averaged $25,000 a day for the more than 100 people connected with "Waterhole No. 3." If you're not good at arithmetic, that's $2,500 an hour for each ten-hour working day, or $1.67 a minute for each minute the company was there.

Buses and cars needed when the company moved to and from the "Waterhole No. 3" shooting locations cut into the budget to the tune of $6,500 weekly. But other means of transportation were equally expensive. A herd of horses had to be rented from a local rancher for the film's cavalry scenes.

If the horse actually worked, its owner received $25 daily, but if it merely stood around waiting, the price dropped to a mere $12.50. In all, the entire herd of four-legged "actors" picked up over $2,500 a week which isn't hay.

James Coburn, who stars in "Waterhole No. 3" as a smooth-talking adventurer involved in the theft of a fortune in gold bullion, was the main cause of all the excitement in Mojave.

The range for this group is from rich liturgical settings to lively madrigals and contemporary music.

The 26-voice unit was founded in 1946 at Denton by George Bragg, who is still one of two directors (with Luis Berber, who formerly directed Mexico's boys' choir). In 1956 it was moved to Fort Worth and renamed the Texas Boys Choir.

Talent comes from families living in the Fort Worth-Dallas area and is selected on the basis of auditions twice a year. Usually a boy sings with the group for two seasons before joining the concert choir.

Everywhere the choir has appeared, it has won spontaneous acclaim. The concert board selected it as the program to bring down the final series curtain because of the certainty that it would leave the membership delighted.

Other programs in the series are Tom Ewell in the hilarious farce, "The Impossible Years," Tuesday; Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, Dec. 12; Mikko Yamane, Jan. 19. Memberships ($9 adults, $4 students) may be had by calling Mrs. Donald Van Meter or Mrs. E. H. Boullion Jr.

Memoirs, Autobiographies Dominate Fall Book Scene

By MILES A. SMITH
AP Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP)— People telling the stories of their own lives and people telling about other people dominate the autumn book publishing scene.

In other words, there is a strong flow of autobiographies, memoirs and biographies coming up between now and December, not to mention the big art books and "furniture books" that always arrive at the gift trade.

On the fiction side, the fall lists include novels by Isaac Bashevis Singer, William Golding, Peter De Vries, William Styron, John O'Hara and others, and there is a full complement of espionage, suspense and cold war novels.

The one newly published book that has received the most fanfare of the season is Svetlana Alliluyeva's memoir "Twenty Letters to a Friend" (Harper), written four years ago in Russia and now appearing all over the Western world, giving the reader an account of the tribulations suffered by Stalin's daughter.

The Russian dictator is the subject of "Stalin: An Appraisal of the Man and His Influence" by Leon Trotsky (Stein and Day), a new edition of a work that has been out of print in English-speaking countries for some time.

In the diplomatic field an important item will be George F. Kennan's "Memoirs, 1925-1950" (Little, Brown), detailing the early part of his career. Among the items on the political front there will be Dick Schaap's "R.F.K." (New American Library), described by the publisher as a candid, "heavily illustrated biography of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, and two volumes on the late Adlai E. Stevenson. One is a biography titled "The Politics of Honor" (Putnam) by Kenneth S. Davies, and the other is "Adlai Stevenson, a Study in Values" (Harper) by Herbert J. Muller, which concentrates on the subject's public life.

The world of business and industry is represented by such books as "Rickenbacker" (Prentice-Hall), the autobiography of Edward V. Rickenbacker, and "Bashful Billionaire" by Albert B. Gerber, which publisher Lyle Stuart describes as an unauthorized biography of Howard Hughes.

The lives of several cultural figures are being delineated this fall. Artist William Zorach's autobiography is called "Art Is My Life" (World); "Alexander the Woolcott" is a biography of the critic and author by Edwin P. Hoyt (Abelard - Schuman);

"Challapin: An Autobiography as told to Maxim Gorky" is from Stein and Day, and "North Toward Home" by the editor Willie Morris is from Houghton, Mifflin.

Other cultural figures, of earlier times, are portrayed in "Auguste Rodin" (Viking) by Robert Descharnes and Jean-Francois Chabrun, which illustrates the sculptor's works; Brian Reade's "Aubrey Beardsley" (Viking), a combination biography and critical work; and Henri Troyat's "Tolstoy" (Doubleday).

Among history's personalities included in the fall parade are the explorer "Columbus" by Bjorn Landstrom (MacMillan) and the explorer "Captain James Cook" by Alan Villiers (Scribner); "Josephine" by Andre Castelot (Harper), which is a life of Napoleon's empress, and "Catherine, the Queen," by Mary M. Luke, the story of Catherine of Aragon.

Now a look at the fall fiction. Singer's "The Manor" (Farrar, Straus), is set in 19th Century Poland, and is the first part of a trilogy.

Golding's new book is "The Pyramid" (Harcourt, Brace), a three-part story set in contemporary England. De Vries' comic novel "The Vale of Laughter" (Little, Brown) is about a compulsive clown, Joe Sandwich, who tries to meet life as a jokester. Styron's "The Confessions of Nat Turner" (Random) is based on the history of a real-life leader of a slave rebellion.

O'Hara's new novel, "The Instrument" (Random) is concerned with a young playwright and has two settings—Broadway and a small Vermont town.

Thomas Berger's "Killing Time" (Dial) is listed by the publisher as a serio-comic novel concerned with several murders.

"Benji Boone" (Dial) is a first novel by the critic and author Maurice Dobler, dealing with a boy's search for his actor-father in the early part of the 19th Century. The department of espionage, cold war and suspense finds the popular author Leon Uris coming aboard with a novel called "Topaz" (McGraw-Hill).

Boys' Choir To Close The Concert Series

When the current series of the Big Spring Concert Association ends next February, it is due to be on one of the most melodic notes in years.

This will be the occasion (Feb. 29) of the appearance of the Texas Boys Choir, one of the leading boys choirs extant today.

The choir is "in no way second to the little Vienna singers and probably excels them in versatility and naturalness," noted Het Vrije Bok, Amsterdam. "America can be proud of having a choir that can sustain a comparison with the best choirs of Europe," said Algemeen Dagblad, Rotterdam, of the young Texans. These are but a few of the notices given by critics on their tour of Europe, where they are doing recordings in historic cathedral settings in Rome and other points.

The range for this group is from rich liturgical settings to lively madrigals and contemporary music.

The 26-voice unit was founded in 1946 at Denton by George Bragg, who is still one of two directors (with Luis Berber, who formerly directed Mexico's boys' choir). In 1956 it was moved to Fort Worth and renamed the Texas Boys Choir.

The Evolution of Pharmacy
By Bill R. Spain, R. Ph.

Superstition and quackery were common with the ancient Chinese even though they did develop a serum for smallpox at a very early period and used mercury for medicinal purposes. They believed and classified all diseases either "hot" or "cold" and their various prescriptions would be administered either "hot" or "cold" dependent upon the patient's temperature. The gathering and filling of their prescriptions was done in the same manner. Just a mention this week for the ladies. We have a complete line of "allerceme" hypodermic cosmetics. These very fine cosmetics are priced sensibly at our usual low discount level. For accurate inexpensive prescription service, it's...

Fun Replaces Terror For Annual Festival

By SAM BLACKBURN
Next Tuesday night if you are a maiden and concerned as to who is to be your husband, there's a way — according to old Scotch Halloween custom — for you to find out the name of the lucky fellow.

Here's how wee Bobby Burns recorded it should be done:

"Take a candle and go alone to a looking glass; eat an apple before it, and some traditions say you should comb your hair all the time; the face of your conjugal companion to be, will be seen in the glass, as if peeping over your shoulder."

Mr. Burns was a great authority on Halloween, particularly as it was observed in Scotland. His justly famous poem titled "Halloween," is filled with dozens of ancient traditions and beliefs about the day.

The Scots of Burns' day seemed to be deeply engrossed in finding out who they were to marry, and whether their married life would be happy. There is no mention of trick or treat and the traditional devilry and vandalism which is commonly associated with the day.

DEEP PAST

Halloween goes deep into the past of man. Undoubtedly it had its origin in pagan times.

When Christianity came along, the good Fathers (as they usually did) elected to adapt as many of the ancient customs to the new belief as possible, without perpetuating paganism itself.

Oct. 31, Halloween (also Hallows' Eve) is the night before All Saints Day on Nov. 1. The religious emphasis, which the founders had in mind, has become pretty well washed out by the adoption of the more ancient and eerie aspects of the night. These fantastic and weird customs are deep-rooted in ancient times and trace to devil worship and to the faith of early people in superstition.

Oct. 31 is a night when ghosts are free to roam at will, when devils and imps run rampant. It is the big night of the year for witches, wizards and all of the other evil denizens of the outer darkness.

The vandalism which goes with the day originated from the deep-seated belief of people in earlier times that spirits of evil were their enemies and on this one big night these forces were free to wreak havoc on mortals. They toppled buildings, burned haystacks, caused cows to cease giving milk, ran poor horses to death, and blighted fields of grain.

FORESTALL

There were certain things that a poor harassed person could do to forestall the evil, and these spells had to be performed in strict accordance with ancient tradition. If they were so performed, the witches, wizards, hobgoblins and ghouls could be forestalled and their devilment averted.

Today, the day has lost its impact on the older people. Superstition is not dead, to be sure. There are still persons who devoutly believe in evil spirits, in witchcraft and in spells. But by and large, enlightenment has stripped these terrors of their power.

Halloween now is a night for the very young.

Garbed as fantastic little monsters, ranging in design from witches and ghosts to such farfetched variations as Superman and Mickey Mouse, this is their night. That's why the doorbell at your house will doubtless jangle many times next Tuesday evening. And when you open the door, you will be faced with a horde of diminutive devils, imps and witches.

This invading army will demand, in high piping treble: "Trick or treat!"

GOODIES

You are expected to have a supply of candies, fruits, or other "treats" to bribe your particular army of invading ghosts. Otherwise you are to assume that evil will befall you.

Just what the young invaders have in mind with their vague threat of "trick" is not known, but they use the threat with complete confidence. The kids in their fantastic garbs, their demand for tribute and your paying of that tribute — all are an reenactment of an ancient rite.

However, in the old form, the spooks and goblins were not little kids (at least not in the imaginations and minds of their prey). They were very real to the people of the time and the tribute they received from their victims was a ransom to save the victim from some dire disaster.

District To Take Civic Leaders On Tour Of Site

More than 160 business and civic leaders in half a dozen West Texas towns, which are actual or potential water customers, will be guests of the Colorado River Municipal Water District for a tour of the new dam at Robert Lee.

Charles Perry, Odessa, president of the district, said that four chartered buses would transport the guests from Odessa, Midland and Stanton, Big Spring, Snyder and possibly other points. The date is Monday, Nov. 13.

Directors — four each from Odessa, Big Spring, and Snyder — together with O. H. Ivie, general manager, and other CRMWD officials will be hosts to the group.

Schedules call for the buses to leave their respective cities in time to arrive at the dam site above Robert Lee about 10:30 a.m. Ivie and other district supervisors will board buses and give descriptions of the construction of the nine-million dollar dam. This will include sections of core trench, the embankment section of the dam, the gravel and rock-rip-protective face on the upstream side of the dam, the concrete spillway costing $2.75 million, the emergency spillway excavation, highway relocation, brush clearing in the basin, and other items.

At noon, the Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang will serve lunch to the visitors. The tour will be continued for a brief time before buses return to their starting points.

In the dam, land, highway relocation and other projects, the district is investing around $11 million dollars to impound a 488,000 acre-foot lake. Perry said directors felt that leaders in the various cities are entitled to see what is being done to provide this area of West Texas with an ample water supply.
