Slain

The nude body of this pretty 17-year-old girl, Maxine Ruth Cummings, was found yesterday.

Teenage Girl Found Slain

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Three persons were being questioned Tuesday night in the slaying of a 17-year-old Oklahoma City high school senior.

Maxine Ruth Cummings, a student at Southwestern College, was found Tuesday afternoon slain in the bathroom of her parents' fashionable southwest Oklahoma City home. Officers said her throat had been cut "from ear to ear" and she had been stabbed nine times in the chest.

An autopsy was being performed to determine whether she had been raped.

Safety Awards Given At Webb

Capt. David R. Philp, aviation physiological training unit, and Airman I. C. Donald L. Dent, T-38 Talon flight line maintenance section, were recently awarded the TO Promote Safety (TOPS) Performance award.

Assigned to Webb since July 1966, Capt. Philp has instructed every student pilot currently on base and the majority of instructor pilots in a number of areas vital to flight safety.

Airman Dent was recipient of the TOPS award for an act of alertness which prevented an aircraft accident. While performing a routine turn around inspection on a T-38 Talon, Airman Dent noticed that the right wing had either shifted or had been working up and down on the fuselage. Further investigation revealed a loose wing spar attach bolt, which could have caused a serious accident.

GARY, Ind. (AP)—Gary's mayoral election, scheduled to be held next Tuesday, now centers largely on a single issue—the Democratic candidate, Richard Gordon Hatcher, is a Negro.

"The vote is polarized on that point," said the incumbent, Democratic Mayor A. Martin Katz.

"The issues being talked about are not the real issue," said Mrs. Phyllis Spencer, a Negro assistant city attorney. "It's a question of color."

PURGE CHARGE

Hatcher's Republican opponent is Joseph B. Radigan, a partner in his family's furniture business.

Tuesday Hatcher asked a federal court in Hammond, Ind., to postpone the election on the ground that registration frauds had been perpetrated. In his petition, he said more than 5,000 Negroes were purged from voter rolls, while 4,000 fictitious whites have been registered. He named as defendants John Krupa, the Lake County Democratic chairman, and other party organizations.

UGLY OVERTONES

Ugly overtones pervade the atmosphere in Gary, a steel-producing community of 180,000, on the eve of the election.

In addition to the charges of registration-fraud, predictions of election day violence have been voiced. A highly placed city official who asked not to be identified said, "Some of the merchants downtown are scared of what may happen if Hatcher loses."

Hatcher, 34, is a soft-spoken lawyer.

He has been a deputy prosecutor in Lake County Criminal City Council, and then its president.

CRIME FIGHTER

He sponsored an open housing law and a political observer in Gary said, "He was death on crime as a prosecutor and a councilman."

In the Democratic primary last spring, Mayor Katz sought the nomination for a second term. There was a third candidate, Bernard Konrad. Hatcher received 20,000 votes to 16,000 for Katz and 13,000 for Konrad.

Almost immediately, Krupa began opposing Hatcher.

He says he told Hatcher, "Some day we'll elect a Negro mayor of Gary but you are not the right man."

In a conversation with this reporter, Krupa said, "He's been wheeling and dealing with characters whose patriotism is questionable. He's a militant Negro who scares people."

MACHINE MIXED
Krupa has used the word "subversives" to describe some of Hatcher's supporters. He does not identify them. He also claims Hatcher "advocates Black Power."

Hatcher attributes Krupa's opposition to him to the fact that, "I ran as an independent for the city council. I haven't joined the machine. I'm certain that's a big part of it."

As for the accusation of being an extremist, Hatcher said, "I've already said I deplore violence and I'm opposed to extremists on both the right and the left."

Foreman Promoted To Road Chief

J. D. Nixon, 50, a 17-year veteran with the road and bridge department of Howard County, has been promoted to head the road department by action of three of the Howard County Commissioners.

Nixon will replace Billy Paul Thomas, road superintendent who is leaving the department today to take a job with the Uvalde Rock Asphalt Co., of San Antonio.

Nixon, whose home is in Coahoma, began work with the department in 1951. He was classified a road foreman on the payroll when the commission elevated him.

He is to be paid $500 a month, compared with the $410 he is being paid.

Ray Nichols, county commissioner from the Coahoma district, moved that Nixon be made head of the department to replace Thomas. The motion was seconded by Billy Tune, Joe Hayden, commissioner from Commissioner Precinct 3, was not present. The vote was unanimous.

Nichols said that Nixon has been acting as Thomas' right hand man since the assistant road superintendent's office fell vacant some time ago. Nichols said that the Coahoma man is "one of the ablest maintenance men and construction men the department has."

He said that Nixon has had no technical training in drafting or engineering, but has a practical knowledge of road building.

There was no comment from any of the commissioners whether the appointment was on a permanent basis or as a stop-gap action until some other appointment could be made.

Nichols said that so far, no one has been hired to replace Nixon on the department crew.

Team Gives Base Excellent Rating

Webb AFB received a straight-line excellent rating from the Air Training Command Standardization and Evaluation team after its annual visit last week. Five major areas were evaluated. These included individual evaluation of students and instructor pilots, base stand-eval program, flying training program, academics and officer training plus the primary training phase. All five categories received an excellent rating.

Webb received one of the only two straight-line excellent ratings that have been given by Air Training Command this year.

Reporters Weekly Pay To Hit $250

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times unit of the newspaper guild of New York, AFL-CIO, has announced that the top minimum pay for reporters, photographers and advertising salesmen will go to $250 a week at the start of the third year of a tentative new three-year contract.

For the highest paid classification of employees represented by the guild—including columnists, departmental editors and various managerial employees—the top minimum will go to $275 at the same time.

Dies Marker Dedication Set

COLORADO CITY — (SC) — Mitchell County's Historical Committee will dedicate a historical marker Sunday at 4 p.m. at 305 Hickory Street, according to Mrs. Witt Hines, committee chairman.

It will mark the birthplace of Martin Dies Jr., former congressman, born here Nov. 5, 1900, while his father was an attorney in Colorado City. Congressman Dies served from 1931 to 1945 and from 1953 to 1959.

As chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, he became famous as the target for Communist abuse and vilification. He is now an attorney at Lufkin, Tex.

The residence later became the home of the G. W. Plasters, pioneer ranching family and is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hardegree, who live in it. Charles C. Thompson, local banker, will serve as master of ceremonies for the presentation. Mrs. W. H. Boney will give a history of the Dies family, and Irvin Plaster will unveil the marker.

State Officials Visit Hospital

Dr. Gary Miller and Cotton Kirkin, deputy commissioners of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation from Austin, were visitors at the Big Spring State Hospital Tuesday.

Dr. Miller, director of hospital development, and Kirkin, supervisor of grant projects, spent Tuesday morning conferring with Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent, and Dr. Frankie Williams, clinical director at the state hospital.

Tuesday afternoon Dr. Miller spoke to staff members of the hospital in the Allred Auditorium on hospital improvements.

No Escape Chance, Says Dazed Bride

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A 19-year-old bride held captive for 44 hours by an ex-boyfriend says they both slept briefly on the bedroom floor, but there was no chance for her to escape.

Still weak and dazed from a bullet wound in the chest, Lida Caldwell talked with two University Heights policemen Tuesday at Doctors Hospital, where she was reported in satisfactory condition.

BULLET IN HEART

She was shot shortly after noon Monday by Robert Batch, 23, ending an ordeal that began when she and her husband returned Saturday afternoon from their wedding in Detroit. Batch killed himself with a bullet in the heart.

Donald J. Stehlik, University Heights police chief, said Mrs. Caldwell told him that she pushed down on the gun just as Batch fired the bullet that grazed her heart.

LIFE SAVER

"That undoubtedly saved her life," the chief said. "Batch had the gun pointed at her chest."

Mrs. Caldwell also talked by telephone Tuesday with her husband Charles, 18, who is recovering from a gunshot wound of the cheek in St. Vincent Charity Hospital.

He was shot by Batch, who was waiting for the young couple.

Proposed Burning Oil Ban Hit

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' major oil and gas associations find fault with a proposal by the Texas Air Control Board to prohibit outdoor burning of spilled oil or hydrocarbon wastes in metropolitan areas.

The Texas Manufacturers Association and the Texas Chemical Council joined with oil and gas men Tuesday in objecting to the proposed air control regulation.

HARDSHIP

The regulation which they opposed said oil "spilled or lost from pipeline breaks" and "waste hydrocarbons products from oil exploration, development, or production operations, oil produced in testing an oil well, and paraffin" may be burned outdoors, but "the location of the burning must be outside a defined standard metropolitan statistical area."

MONEY WASTED

Pentagon Urged To 'Think Small'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y. "It's a sick system," echoed Chairman Porter Hardy Jr., D-Va., of the Armed Services subcommittee exploring procurement practices.

One of the main troubles, readily admitted Defense Department witnesses, is that the people doing the buying in the "small purchase" units don't know what they're buying or what it should cost.

"SICK DAY"

"This is a sick day," said

rules or regulations issued pertaining to pollution control, where it concerns the oil and gas industry."

PROTECTION

The Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association said, "We believe it is extremely important to give the regulated party the latitude of making a judgment as to whether or not the outdoor burning is reasonably necessary for the protection of life and property."

"It would be regrettable to see a regulation making it unlawful for any of us to take such action. For instance, a hypothetical butane leak in a line might in time threaten an inhabited area but it might be safely lighted to prevent such a threat from occurring."

Also, Mid-Continent said: "We assume the board will be reasonable in giving consideration to hardship cases or situations in which unwarranted economic penalty would result by virtue of the location of the unrequested exception being in a sparsely populated section of a standard metropolitan statistical area with good atmospheric ventilation."

POLICE POWER

The West Central Texas Oil & Gas Association asked the board to remove the metropolitan restriction. "This county-wide condition would automatically outlaw the burning of hydrocarbon waste products, even in isolated areas in Taylor, Jones and Tom Green counties," said R. John Catlett, chairman of the association's air pollution committee.

He added, "We do not produce oil to burn, but there are certain times and certain conditions under which there are waste materials which have to be disposed of by burning in connection with exploration, development and production of hydrocarbons."

Seibels is apparently the first Republican to hold office in Birmingham. Political observers can't remember any other.

Enrollment Still Low

Figures released today by the Big Spring Independent School District reflect a slight increase in last week's enrollment over the previous week's total. According to the report, 7,619 students were enrolled compared to 7,606 the previous week. Last year 7,689 were registered at approximately the same time.

The senior high total increased 24 students to 2,068 due to a correction, according to the six-week report.

Other schools reported the following total, with gain or loss from the previous week indicated in parentheses: Airport 438 (minus 10); Bauer 486 (minus 3); Boydston (no change); Cedar Crest 241 (plus 3); College Heights 413 (no change); Gay Hill 99 (no change); Kentwood 256 (plus 2); Lakeview 216 (no change); Marcy 795 (no change); Moss 196 (minus 3); Park Hill 341 (plus 1); Washington 482 (plus 3); Goliad 679 (minus 7); Runnels 586 (plus 1); Special Education 146 (plus 2).

"We've never spent much time pricing items in this area," agreed Col. Stanley Allen, director of procurement for the San Antonio Air Materiel Area. "It's a matter of emphasis and manpower."

But subcommittee members indicated they viewed it as a matter of wasting taxpayer money, noting that the couplings for which the government paid $46.75 each were listed in the company's catalog at $18.75.

"We had no knowledge there was a catalog available," said Col. Allen.

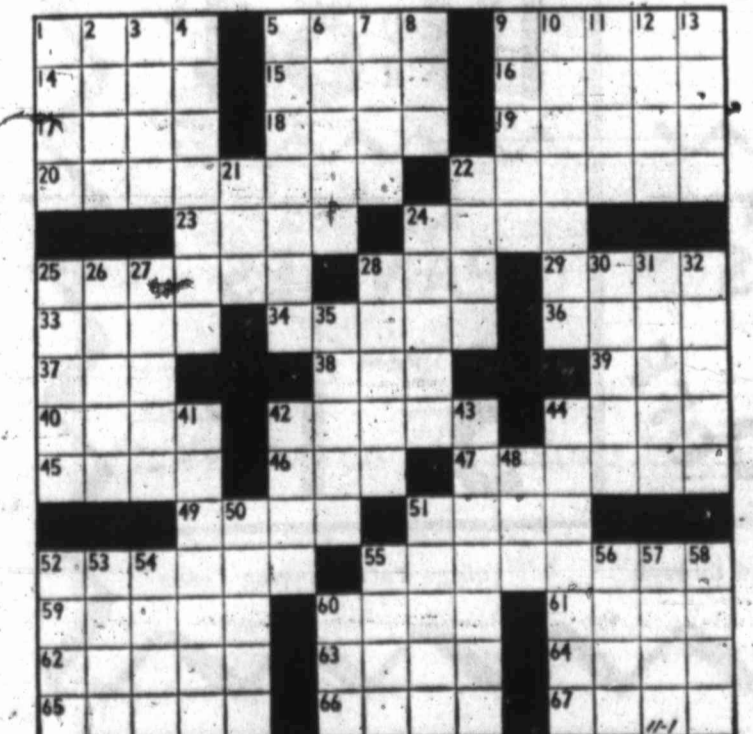

"What did you do to look for another source?" asked Pike. "In essence," replied the colonel, "nothing."

Adorning the hearing room was a display board with examples of other purchases by the government: A plastic dial listing at $1.62 for which $275 was paid; a 50-cent shaft for which $25.55 was paid, and a $23 wrench for which $123 was paid.

East And West

Traditional cheongsam (left) and miniskirt get together on Hong Kong sidewalk. Both will be shown Oct. 30-Nov. 3 as the Federation of Hong Kong Industries holds its first "Festival of Fashion."

Rebekahs' Program Cancelled

The cancellation of the Nov. 3 family night was announced by Mrs. Alton Allen during the Tuesday meeting of John A. Kes Rebekah Lodge No. 153. The cancellation is due to a conflict in the guest speaker's schedule.

"The group met in the IOOF Hall where seven visits to the sick were reported by the 18 attending. Mrs. Jones Lamar reported that the initiation service for Mrs. B. J. Petty will be held at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, and the degree team was requested to report at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Earl Wilson Named President

Mrs. Earl Wilson was named president of the West Texas IOOF and Rebekah Association at the Oct. 28 meeting in Pecos, it was announced at the Tuesday meeting of the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284. The group met in the IOOF Hall.

Those receiving certificates for unwritten work were Mrs. Leon Grider, Mrs. C. D. Herring and Mrs. E. V. Cockerham. Mrs. A. F. Hill, noble grand, appointed her November refreshment committee. Members are Mrs. Emmett Hill, Mrs. A. G. Hall, Mrs. Jewel Fields and Mrs. Nannie Adkins.

A. F. Gilliland, drill team captain, announced that initiation will be held at the next meeting, and a salad supper will be served. Mrs. Hill received the friendship gift.

Eighteen attended, and 29 visits to the sick were made.

Donald Van Meters Host Theater Party

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Van Meter were hosts Tuesday evening for an after-theater party honoring board members of the Big Spring Concert Association and their husbands and wives.

The affair was held in the Van Meter home, on the grounds of the Veterans Administration Hospital, immediately following the association's first presentation of the season, the play, "The Impossible Years," starring Tom Ewell.

Mrs. Van Meter was attired in a gold wool a-line skimmer side-buttoned at the Empire waist and styled with rounded neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves.

A round coffee table in the living room held a bronze and yellow mass arrangement of large chrysanthemums, fall leaves, cattails and wheat. The dining room refreshment table was covered with a floor-length gold hurlap cloth and was appointed with a crystal punch service and silver hors d'oeuvre trays. Another table, in the den, was laid with a large serape and held a second punch service. Both tables were accented with orange pottery filled with large Mexican paper flowers. At the base were chicken figurines made of colored grains.

Showings In Italy End Today

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Italian spring and summer fashion showings ended today with an exciting grand finale by the country's knitwear houses.

Color schemes were clear cut. Style lines were terse, fastpaced and snappy.

Stars of the show were long belted pullovers worn over a little skirt or culottes.

The knitwear caused the most excitement of the three-day fashion event which also included the ready-to-wear ranges of the couture houses and boutique styles.

The nonknit trends pointed to demure, proper lines in a bow to the ladies beyond the teens, and a revival of navy and white.

Mrs. Bob Bryan Gets Essay Prize

New pledges are Mrs. Bobby Sale, Mrs. Tommy Newman, Mrs. Joe Cruse, Mrs. Ira Clark and Mrs. Dorothy Olson. Mrs. Doris Stephenson was re-instated, and Miss Marilyn Payne is a new transferee.

HD Club Tours Cosden Refinery

Mrs. Alton Underwood, 601 E. 16th, hosted the meeting of the City Home Demonstration Club Friday prior to a tour of Cosden Oil and Chemical Company refinery.

J. M. Hill, assistant personnel manager, conducted the tour and described products made at Cosden including jet fuel, raw gasoline and the petro-chemical complex which produces polystyrene that can be made into furniture, automobiles and hundreds of other items.

Hill said that Cosden employs 586 persons and makes products that go into making many other articles.

Mrs. Jan Huff, Mrs. C. G. Miller and Mrs. Al James were introduced as new members, and refreshments were served at the plant to 17.

To Teach Book For YWA Group

STANTON (SC) — Mrs. Irvin Graham will teach the book, "So Sure of Tomorrow," when the Young Women's Auxiliary of First Baptist Church meets the next two Wednesdays at the church. The foreign mission programs will begin at 7 p.m. and are under the direction of Mrs. Clyde Parnell, YWA counselor. On Nov. 8, the Mary Stamps Circle will serve an African supper and tables will feature an African motif. Jane Hodges, president, will introduce the speaker, and Cindy Davis will be pianist.

Study Of Africa Held By WMS

Mrs. E. O. Sanderson brought the mission study on Africa entitled, "Arrows to Atoms," at the Tuesday meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Westside Baptist Church. The group met at the church, and 11 attended.

Circle Members Hear Program

Miss Helen Ewing led prayer, and members repeated Bible verses to open the Tuesday morning meeting of the Lalla Baird Circle of Wesley Methodist Church. The program, "Modern Woman's Search For Personal Identity," was given by Mrs. W. D. Lovelace, Miss Ewing, Mrs. E. R. Cawthron and Mrs. S. L. Thurman. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lovelace.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

'Swabby' Tells How To Fold Dungarees

Dear Heloise: I happen to be what we call "in-the-Navy."

Why we Swabs read your column, I'll never know! But when you hit port and do pick it up you'd be surprised how much we can use, not only in port stations but on board ship.

Here's a hint we use on board ship, that some of your mothers might be able to utilize:

When we wash and dry our dungarees, instead of ironing them, we lay them out flat on our bunks and smooth them with our hands.

Then fold 'em across at the knees so that the bottom of the legs touch about where the pockets start.

All you have to do next is to give it about a two-inch fold over at the knee again, then start rolling and roll the dungarees from the knee up to the top of the waistband.

This will give you a nice tight roll that is easily stored. Since we don't have much closet space, we put these in stacks. By the time we get ready to wear them, they have ironed themselves! Seaman.

Now, gals, I didn't believe this until I tried it. I did and it absolutely works.

The blue jean manufacturers tell us that a blue jean should be folded the way they come when you purchase them. They say that jeans are not supposed to have a crease down the front at all.

But it certainly doesn't take the patience of Job to use this seaman's method. I think we mothers would save ourselves many hours by using this.

Whether you fold them with a crease in the knees or sideways like the manufacturer suggests, makes no difference. This sailor's method works in both instances.

I say, "Three cheers for the Navy." And thanks, "Mister Seaman." Heloise.

Dear Heloise: As most teenagers like to hang things on the wall in their rooms, I have a suggestion of how to save those walls from the numerous marks left by tape, tacks, etc.

Find a sheet of thick wallpaper, material or wrapping paper as large as you like and possibly in a color to go with the room. Then thumb tack it to the wall and have them tape their pictures to this.

Saves many marred places on the wall and can always be replaced with a fresh sheet when this one becomes soiled or torn. Susan Newell

Saves the price of a bulletin board, too! Heloise

Dear Heloise: My sons all hate to wrap gifts, so I begin early to cover all size boxes with Christmas wrapping paper.

Throughout the year we hoard all bows that come on gifts. When Christmas comes, all they have to do is find the right size box, tape it closed and stick on a bow. A Heloise Addict

Dear Heloise: After having considerable trouble getting a layer cake out of the pans in one piece, this is what I did:

Cut extra tabs (two to four) on the edges of the waxed paper I lined the pans with. The tabs extended up the sides of the pans.

After the cake was baked, I gently pulled on the tabs and the cake came right out all in one piece. And when it was turned over onto the rack, the paper came off easily.

I have no more trouble since I've been using this method. Mrs. Bethany Nelson

LETTER OF THOUGHT

Dear Heloise: If only I could wish and have a wish come true, it would be that I could pick up the phone and say — "Daddy, my kids are driving me crazy. HOW did you stand US?" New Mother

Ester Circle Hears Program On Faith

Members of the Ester Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Kentwood Methodist Church met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Raymond Hamby, 2701 E. 25th.

Mrs. Marvin Dixon brought another in a series of lessons, "Encounter of Faith," and Mrs. Kenneth Born spoke on "Hinduism." Mrs. Bill Bodin, Mrs. Don Campbell and Mrs. Tommy Franklin enacted a play, "The Convert."

Mrs. Marvin Roark, a guest, worded the closing prayer. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Don Campbell, 2700 Larry.

A LOVELIER YOU Don't Cling To 'Look' If It's Had Its Day

By MARY SUE MILLER

There's a saying among professional make-up people that makes sense for non-professionals. It goes like this: A woman does not have to be the first to adopt a new beauty fashion, but she must not be the last to discard an outmoded one.

If you completely ignored beauty trends you would come to look bizarre — like a character from a bygone era. As an example, consider the teen who persists in wearing ghorstly white lipstick. She's not turned on, for sure, to the new glossy pastel shades that are setting the lips of her friends aglow.

Now consider the women still wearing blobs of neon-bright eye shadow. The look is aging because it's passe. For several reasons the trend in eye make-up has favored delicate, translucent shades.

As of today both lass and lady might benefit from this check list of turned-off beauty trends:

- Masky powder base
- Floury powder
- Theatrical eye make-up
- Anemic lipstick shades
- Teased towers of hair

EYES OF YOUTH
You are not lost to youthfulness

beauty because of dark circles, puffiness, or wrinkles around the eyes. These problems can be brought under control by proper skin care, cosmetic applications, health habits and facial expressions. Methods are detailed in my leaflet, "The Eyes of Youth." Car Title Clinic To Be Held Here Saturday

More than 200 car dealers, their clerks who handle car titles, along with tax assessors and their deputies from 19 West Texas counties will be in Big Spring Saturday for an important workshop on how car titles are to be processed in the year ahead.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector, said the conference is being arranged by the state highway department and the state comptroller's office. She has made arrangements for the group to meet at the new high school cafeteria.

Several officials from the highway department and from the comptroller's office will be on hand to discuss new procedures in title handling and registration brought on by the adoption of a new computer system in the state office.

The system requires a new type of title and different methods of handling. Further, it is pointed out that registration fees for Texas cars will be changed in 1968. Several changes are in the mill, but one major innovation is that no title will be issued for less than $5.

There have been lower title fees in the past. Other registration fees will be different from the fees of the current year or for years prior to this.

Willie Beyer, district supervisor, with offices in Lubbock; Gene Davis, investigator out of the Lubbock office; and Walter Nelson, with the state comptroller, will be some of the officials who will attend and lead the discussion.

The workshop opens at 9 a.m. with registration, coffee and doughnuts. It will continue through noon with luncheon to be served at the cafeteria.

Mrs. LeFevre said that from the responses she has received, apparently all of the counties are to send delegates to the workshop.

HARSH WORDS LEVELLED AT STATE AGENCY

Baptists Want TLCB Investigated

LUBBOCK (AP) — Ministers and laymen of the Baptist General Convention of Texas leveled harsh words Tuesday night at the Texas Liquor Control Board.

They called for "a sweeping investigation" of the state board and accepted recommendations from the church's Christian Life Commission, which reported:

"We see no reason to anticipate fair and effective enforcement of any sort of liquor control in this state with the performance of the present agency."

About 4,000 persons were present for the first session of Baptists' 82nd meeting.

The messengers (delegates) likewise appealed for every member of the denomination to register as a voter in anticipation of a referendum next year on legalizing race track betting.

Tests for drunk drivers and private clubs serving liquor were other targets of the Baptists.

Dr. Jimmy R. Allen submitted the report of the Christian Life Commission as its secretary.

The proposals had been endorsed earlier in the day at a special session of the 192-member executive board.

Allen, as spokesman for the Christian Life Commission, said the state was thrown into unnecessary confusion and division this year by what he termed the "shortsighted suggestion" for new liquor-by-the drink legislation.

"In our opposition to legalizing liquor by the drink, Texas Baptists do not offer negative criticism without a positive plan of action," Allen said.

The Baptist Public Affairs

Committee also called for a "workable, chemical test law for the conviction of drinking drivers with implied consent to the test by operating a motor vehicle upon the public highways of the state."

The messengers approved a commission's recommendation for a re-valuation of the entire private club system in Texas.

The Rev. Stanley Wilkes of Calvary Baptist Church in Dallas offered the amendment, which carried.

The "Committee of One Hundred" report is the result of a year's work by the group appointed last year as "an evaluation group" for all Texas Baptist denominational activities.

The commission also called for a "new commitment" by local churches to a "thorough job of alcohol education."

Also during the opening session Tuesday night in Lubbock's Municipal Coliseum, a motion to discuss the controversial "Committee of One Hundred" report on Thursday was amended to allow discussion Wednesday afternoon.

How About A Fourth Voice?

A survey is being shaped to get opinion of students, faculty and ex-students of Texas Tech on whether a name change is desired for that institution, and if so, what name is preferred.

There is considerable feeling, although not unanimous by any stretch of the imagination, that "university" somehow be worked into the official title of the school. Thus, many potential combinations evolve, a couple of them to preserve the familiar double T monogram of Texas Tech. Others would abandon this altogether, and one would go a step further by calling it the University of the Southwest.

Violence Can't Be Tolerated

It should be evident by now to the advocates and instigators of protest demonstrations that exceed legal bounds, that violence is self-defeating as a means of changing governmental policy in a democratic society.

Short of the actual overthrow of constituted government, a ridiculously remote possibility in a nation with the power this one has at its disposal, civil disobedience or policy-protesting violence is self-defeating on several counts: It erodes the moral base of the dissenters or protesters, for violence is intrinsically immoral. It dissipates public sympathy for even a just cause because of fear of the consequences of a breakdown in law and order. And it has the opposite effect intended on official policy, because sympathetic politicians become apprehensive at being associated with mob action and unsympathetic politicians seize upon the disorder as justification for their positions.

The urban slum riots of last summer shocked the nation, but certainly did not better the slum-dwellers' plight. The official reaction—popular-

All have their pros and cons, and perhaps a scientific opinion survey is the best way to get at it. There is one glaring weakness in all of this, however, and that is that the survey is confined solely to the Tech family. The people of Texas—not just those who have or have had a teaching or student relationship with Tech—own and finance Texas Tech and therefore have more than a passing interest in it. This is particularly true in West Texas where multiplied thousands who either attended no college or some other college still regard Tech as the area's major school. They ought to have a voice, too.

ly supported for good or ill—was to strengthen the counter forces for maintaining law and order and to delay and curtail previously expanding urban-improvement and anti-poverty programs.

The attack on the Pentagon probably strengthened the military influence on the Johnson administration's Vietnam policy. And it has made the task of the advocates of de-escalation and negotiation more difficult; the dissenting senators were the first to recognize that.

The truth is that democracy cannot tolerate violence, a free society cannot function when law and order break down, and self-rule is negated by any form of coercion or intimidation. Thus violence, however righteous the professed cause, must be self-defeating because of freedom's instinct for survival. A free and powerful people can be persuaded to improve their society, or to change their nation's course, but they cannot be forced to do so. When violence looms, it is the weak and wronged who are fated to suffer most.

Holmes Alexander Uncle Sugar Is Being Swindled

WASHINGTON — We never had a humorist from Mark Twain to Art Buchwald who didn't succeed by speaking true words in the guise of jest.

So it is with two legislative humorists — call them verbal stylists, if you like — Senators Russell Long and Everett Dirksen. On the floor or in committee hearings, these Scaramoche characters often stop the show with funny faces and droll humor — but the comedy they provide is no more than greasepaint-thick. They shouldn't be laughed off as mere entertainers.

LONG (D., LA.) and Dirksen (R., Ill.) have teamed up to write some protectionism into the porous and utopian U.S. trade policy. Not since Pancho Villa has a foreigner militarily-raided the American mainland, but offshore raiders in another guise keep looting the American economy of millions of dollars and thousands of jobs.

It is done by the most part by chicanery and with bland internationalist smiles. Sure, we have low tariffs agreements all over the world, and this year we completed the so-called Kennedy Round at Geneva for further reduction of import duties in scores

Billy Graham

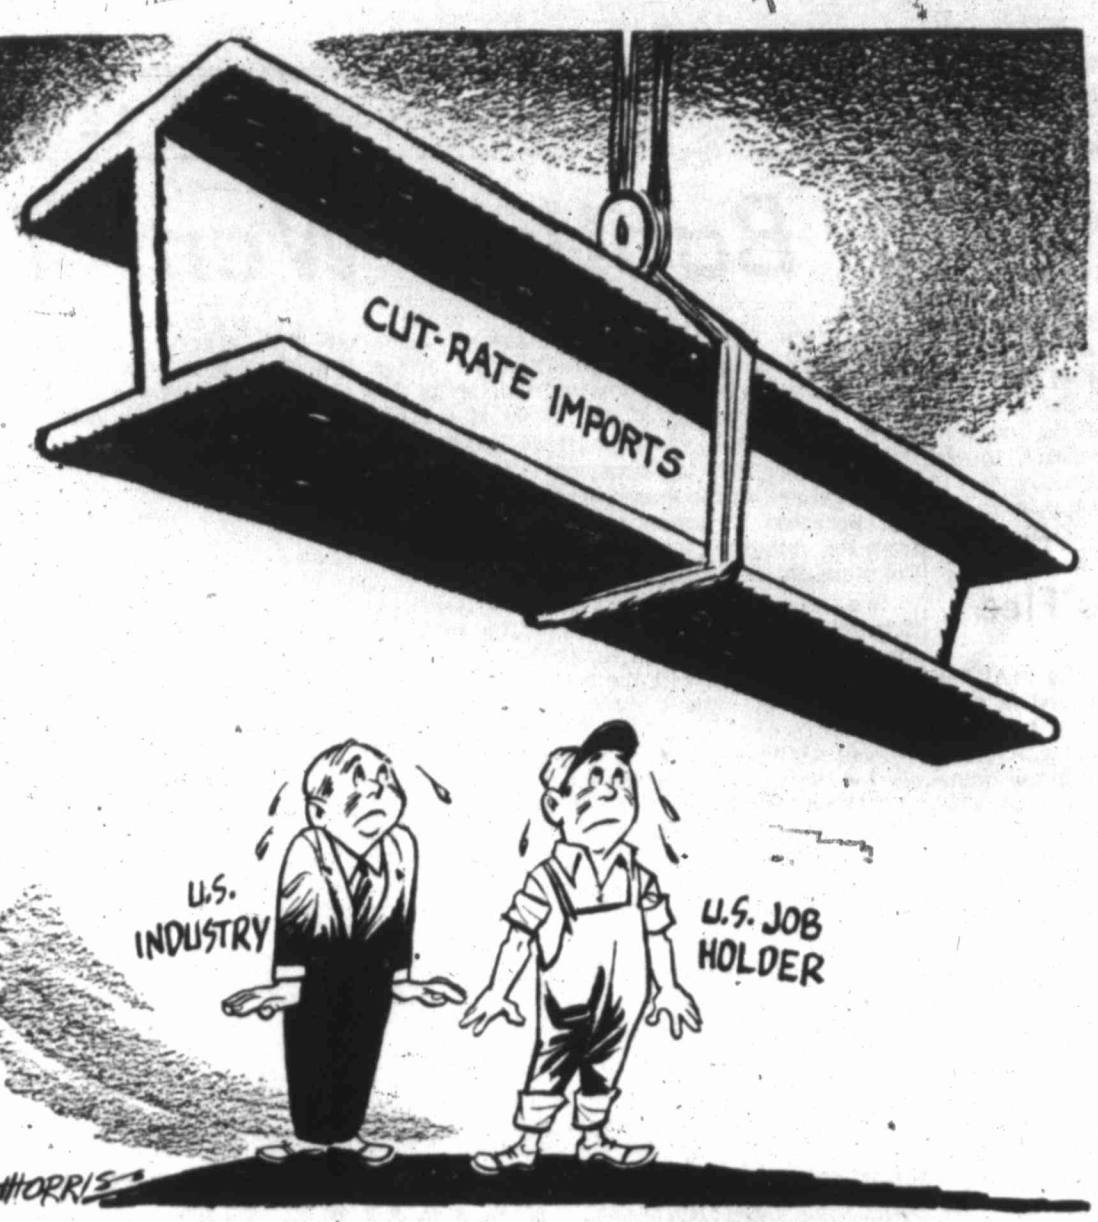

My life is so humdrum and monotonous, that I sometimes feel like giving up. I go to work every morning, go through the same motions, day after day, and feel that I am not accomplishing anything. How does one get out of a rut?

R. A.

Any kind of work can become monotonous if we let it. A wise man named Goethe once said: "It is not doing the thing which we like to do, but liking to do the things we have to do, that makes life blessed." You say you have "not accomplished anything," but if you have been faithful in your job, as your letter indicates, you must have accomplished a great deal, and brought a great deal of profit to your employer and yourself.

Dr. Charles Mayo once said: "There is no fun like work. To be without work is to be without life, for it is work which creates interest in life."

When God told man that he would "eat his bread in the sweat of his brow," He made him a partner with himself, for Jesus said, "My father worketh hitherto, and I work." It is though honest, toiled character is built, that security is built up for a "Rainy day", and that we all become like God in the sense that through our efforts things are created, and the world is made better. Don't work grudgingly, but gratefully; not as a machine, but as a man created in God's image.

HEAVY, HEAVY HANGS

James Marlow Wild War Horse Spurs Unhappiness

WASHINGTON (AP) — That loud noise in the Senate is from the barn door that slammed when the horse trotted away.

In this case the barn door was the overwhelming approval given the President—in the Tonkin Gulf resolution of 1964—to use whatever force he thought necessary to stop Communist aggression in Southeast Asia. The vote was 88 to 2.

Hal Boyle Middle Age Gossip

NEW YORK (AP) — Middle age is that period of life when—

The faces in your high school yearbook begin to look hauntingly unfamiliar—including your own.

You no longer open an envelope with the idea that it might possibly contain something for nothing.

IT ISN'T as easy as it used to be to beat a nimble-footed old lady to an empty taxicab.

IF YOU casually encounter someone you used to know, you tell him how well he looks and congratulate yourself secretly because you haven't aged so much as he.

You never buy anything without first inspecting its price tag in the hope that it has been reduced.

The mail brings more and more invitations to do things you don't want to do and to go places where you don't want to be.

YOU HAVE pretty well figured out whom you would lend money to in an emergency — and how much.

Your hairline isn't receding so much as your forehead is getting nobler looking.

It is easier to wear something that doesn't quite fit you than it is to go through the bother of taking it back to the store and having it exchanged.

Anything that leaves you feeling too darned tired is hardly worth doing.

THERE ARE a lot more people who say "sir" to you than holler, "Hi!" You are slowly becoming accustomed to this difference in greeting.

The tougher the sport being played, the more you enjoy being an innocent spectator.

Although you sense a slight slowdown in your physical prowess, morally you are getting so much stronger that about half the time you can whip temptation with one arm tied behind you. Sin has acquired a resistible personality.

EVERY COCKTAIL party you attend reminds you of at least three others you can remember at which you made a fool of yourself.

You have a wistful desire to gossip about other people less and help them more.

When you go to church, you find yourself nodding in agreement with the preacher before he has even reached the verb in the sentence he is saying. After all, you know there's a lot of truth in what he has in mind.

NO LONGER do you retain youth's careless way of taking nature for granted. Each tree and bird and flower assumes its own individuality, and you are at least dimly thankful that each is there.

Yep, that's middle age. Middle age is what you make it — and what it makes of you.

To Your Good Health When Tongue-Tie Needs Clipping

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Cur son was born six weeks early and tongue-tied, although we didn't realize it until the doctor let it slip. The doctor said the cord wouldn't have to be clipped and it shouldn't interfere with his talking or eating.

When we mentioned it to friends they said he would stutter and be unable to talk right later in life. We are so confused we don't know what to believe. — Mrs. D. H.

This condition should be watched for the first year, since some change can occur with growth of the mouth structures. It used to be believed that the cord should be clipped when it was detected, but in more recent years it has become apparent that this is not always so. Sometimes there is enough growth so clipping is not required. Therefore, follow your doctor's advice rather than being worried by what others say. If clipping is necessary, it can be done later.

If the tongue can be protruded to touch the lips, or moved sideways to touch the corners of the mouth, surgery is not necessary. An infant will move his tongue to these areas if they are touched with an object such as a spoon or cotton applicator.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any danger in eating too many eggs? My mother used six dozen eggs last week in her cooking and for meals. I understand that eggs are high in cholesterol and that too much cholesterol can cause heart trouble, gall stones, etc. Is that true? Are we in any danger? — S. B.

Six dozen eggs for how many people? It is true that eggs contain cholesterol, but so do many other foods. In fact, some cholesterol is necessary for health. The exact relationship of cholesterol to hardening of the arteries (and hence heart or other trouble) is still the subject of intense study and it probably will be some time before we have positive answers.

Personally I see no harm in having eggs in moderate quantities — an egg a day or even two, seems to me to present no peril. I would, however, certainly be cautious beyond that, and not make continued and heavy daily use of eggs. One or two I wouldn't consider heavy use. Half a dozen a day, or any such number, would seem to me to be unwise.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been keeping company with a man for about a year now. He has asked me to marry him, but now I have found that he has been taking psychiatric treatment at a clinic here.

My mother and dad and son said to marry this man because he has a lot of money; that is, his dad has a business. I could leave him after I married him and received a lot of money. Do you think this would be a safe marriage? — Mrs. E. L. S.

"Psychiatric treatments" is as vague as saying he has been having "medical treatments" for something. This man, may have been getting psychiatric help for some relatively minor or even trivial emotional problem. Or he may have some serious personality disorder. You have given me nothing to go on.

There's one thing, though — I hope the man has sense enough not to marry some mercenary person who figures she can get a lot of money from him and then walk out.

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for your copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim Winterizing The Hard Way

Now that early gales from the north have stabbed us, we are barraged by warnings or appeals that our automobiles must be winterized.

What this all boils down to is keeping the car from freezing up or having a battery which will fire it up.

THE YOUNGER generation can't imagine it otherwise, but it wasn't so very long ago that the business of winterizing your car just didn't exist. You faced the issue when it came.

When a blue norther whipped in cold enough to freeze the horns off a Billy goat, it generally signalled a time to get back in the habit of walking. Most cars just plain froze up.

THERE WAS NO such thing as permanent anti-freeze. Indeed, there was very little of what passed as anti-freeze, except alcohol, and it quickly boiled and vaporized. Most of the time you couldn't get it, and if you could, you couldn't afford it.

So what to do? The low-sack was the original winterizer. Several of these were usually fastened over the radiator to impede circulation of the cold air over the fins and tubes. Sometimes they were draped over and around the cylinder block, too.

A REFINEMENT of this was a piece of cardboard fastened over the radiator. One inventive company put shutters on the front of the radiator. You pulled a lever when you went out in the morning and this closed in the motor; when it warmed up, you could open the shutter and let the air flow through.

GETTING THE CAR started was something else again. Before the advent of the self-starter, a strong right arm furnished the power for firing up the car. On a cold morning, this was more apt to warm up the cranker than to start the car. To ease matters, a rear wheel usually was jacked up. Once the car started, the wheel revolved like nobody's business. It could be disengaged by the clutch, but most often the car was simply rocked from the jack, and off she went.

Pouring hot water over the manifold, or burning newspapers under it had a helpful effect. One of the best things — something reserved for the more elite or affluent — was a hot-shot battery which could be attached to give a hotter spark for that cold gasoline.

THE MOST disconcerting of all the tasks of winterizing the car was the nightly ritual of draining the motor. Then, as now, engineers managed to put those drain cocks at the most inaccessible spots. When you did reach the petcock, it was too hot to touch or else it was nearly frozen. Half the time sediment had stopped the cock and you had to get a match stick and jab it until the spigot was opened. Of course you got a handful of either hot or terribly cold, rusty trouble. Next morning it was all to do over — fill the radiator, tie on the gunny sacks, jack the wheel, turn the crank for all you were worth, pray for a spitter, shove the car off the jack and prepare to turn blue as you whipped through the icy air. — JOE PICKLE

David Lawrence An Unfair Tax On Growth

WASHINGTON — Congress under the Constitution is not permitted to pass any law that abridges freedom of speech or freedom of the press. Demonstrators in large numbers exercised their freedom of speech a week ago around government buildings here and were given protection by federal, state and local authorities. Some members of Congress, however, seem to have forgotten that freedom of the press is also guaranteed by the First Amendment. For instance, the House of Representatives has passed and there is under consideration in the Senate a proposal to put a special charge on mailings of publication above 500,000 copies.

John Cunniff Secretary's Chief Problem

NEW YORK (AP) — After all these years of taking her boss' dictation and typing his letters, the secretary's chief problem with the executive seems to be one of communication.

"They don't achieve understanding of how each can help the other," said Dr. Donald Roark, vice president of a chemical company and dean of the Institute for Certifying Secretaries. "They need a spirit of cooperation."

ROARK'S INSTITUTE is attempting to do for secretaries what a similar institute has done for accountants, that is, establish professional goals and standards that must be tested in an examination. So far, 3,901 secretaries have qualified.

If communication were improved, Roark feels, the executive would get a lot more satisfaction, and perhaps higher pay from her job, and the firm and its customers would consequently benefit also.

"MOST OF US in management do not know how a secretary can be used," Roark said in an interview. Most executives, he indicated, give their secretaries routine tasks based on manual skills such as shorthand and typing.

To do this is to downgrade a secretary's skills to those of simple manual dexterity, Roark believes, which is the same thing as saying an engineer is a man who works with his hands. Secretaries have brains, ambition and various other assets that can be used.

"I BELIEVE the secretarial profession is in a period of transition from manual skills to an emphasis on mental skills," Roark said. "A secretary should be the extension of the executive for whom she works."

As such, he said, one of her principal functions is to handle the office in the absence of the executive, to compose some of his letters without being dictated to, to give instructions to employees, to make travel arrangements.

IF THIS IS THE case, the role of the professional secretary would seem to be approaching that of the executive himself. This produces the distinct possibility that more men will enter secretarial ranks. Eight already have become CPS's.

THE CPS examination, which is given each year on the first Friday and Saturday in May by the National Secretaries Association, based in Kansas City, is no snap.

THE FIRST SECTION of 125 minutes tests the secretary's personal adjustment and human relations, her ability to deal with typical situations involving superiors, colleagues and subordinates.

Following that comes 60 minutes of business law, 105 minutes of business administration, 2 1/2 hours of accounting and tax problems, more than two hours of dictation and transcription and finally 75 minutes of secretarial procedures.

Magic Failed

NAGPUR, India (AP) — A sadhu (Hindu holy man) arrested for being in alleged possession of 80 bottles of illicit liquor sought his release through snake magic but failed.

A policeman standing on duty near the sadhu's cell was bitten by a snake. The sadhu claimed credit for this and threatened to call for more snakes unless he was immediately freed.

The police officer accepted the challenge but no more snakes appeared. The sadhu and the snake bite remedy remain in custody.

Texas Tech Name Swap Poll Pushed

Texas Tech — or Texas Tech-name change, those who are neutral or have no opinion, and those who think a name change would be a disadvantage.

For those who see an advantage, there are several names suggested, namely Texas Tech, Texas State University, Texas State University, Texas State University and Technology, Texas State University of Arts, Science and Technology, and University of the Southwest.

There would be a similar breakdown by those who are neutral or have no opinion about a name change.

The survey is to be pushed at the suggestion of the Tech board of directors in hopes of having some recommendation when the special session of the Texas legislature is held in 1968.

Maltese Crosses Solve Problems

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — This western Oregon city and a neighboring town, Springfield, seemed to have solved the problem of what to do about persons who are unable to come to the door when trick or treaters ring the bell.

For 21 years invalids, elderly persons and lumber mill workers who sleep in the evenings have put orange and black maltese crosses in their windows.

A publicity campaign in the area's schools has taught children that the cross means: "Please, no trick or treat."

The idea was thought up by the late J. S. Pruett, a professor at the University of Oregon.

'It's No Fun' — Father Understands

WAR PRISONER

Col. Bolt is now stationed at Langley AFB, Va., where he is Tactical Air Command's assistant deputy chief of staff for plans. Son Jerry recently visited his family, reaching home on his 25th birthday, Oct. 3, after 10 months in Southeast Asia.

"It's no fun, getting shot at," said the youngster.

'Greatest Middle Linebacker'

Atlanta Falcons' Coach Norb Hecker, left, says Tommy Nobis, right, 'is the greatest middle linebacker in football.' The 238-pound Texan was named The Associated Press Defensive Player of the Week for his play in Sunday's 21-20 Falcon win over Minnesota.

Fast Thinking Is Payoff For Ex Steer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Hulking linebacker Tommy Nobis is doing "a lot more thinking" on the field this year, and it's beginning to pay off for him and the Atlanta Falcons.

Richardson Is Top Gainer In League

DALLAS (AP) — Texas A&M quarterback Edd Hargett produced the most offensive yards of any player in the Southwest Conference football race.

Hawkins Has No Illusions About Job

BALTIMORE (AP) — Alex Hawkins has become a starter at end on the Baltimore Colts. But the old hawk has no illusions of grandeur.

Houston Cougars Are Picked Over Georgia

NEW YORK (AP) — The time for traditional games is approaching and it also appears traditional that a forecast can be made on only about three-fourths of the games.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Much emphasis is placed on junior high school football everywhere, and for good reason, but it's next to impossible to reason how a team or an individual is going to turn out by judging it or him down in the grades.

With Tommy Hart

They say that Tom Yawkey, owner of the Boston Red Sox, was grievously disappointed when his former great outfielder, Ted Williams, elected not to put in an appearance in the last World Series.
