Election Day Is Deadly, Marcos Assured Of Control

MANILA (AP) — President Ferdinand E. Marcos appeared assured today of the control of the Philippine Senate needed to provide firm ground for his 1969 re-election campaign.

With more than half the votes in Tuesday's off-year elections counted, Marcos' Nacionalista party was ahead in six of the eight Senate races. The president needed that many more seats in the 24-member Senate to assure passage of the economic programs on which he expects to campaign.

Ex-Gov. Benigno Aquino, an outspoken Liberal party critic of Marcos, led all senatorial vote-getters, however.

Mrs. Magnolia Antonio, an independent riding a wave of sympathy, also seemed certain of election. She substituted for her husband who died in a helicopter crash less than 24 hours before balloting started.

Nacionalistas also ran up substantial leads in provincial and municipal elections. In 65 governorship races, they were ahead in 41. Liberals led in 13 and independents in three.

Manila gave the Liberals their only other major victory. Mayor Antonio Villegas, a critic of Marcos, with anti-American leanings, trounced the president's handpicked candidate, Pablo Ocampo, by 50,000 votes.

The traditional violence that surrounds Philippine politics brought death to 60 persons since the start of campaigning early this year, the national police reported. Despite nine election-day killings, the police called the balloting "generally peaceful." The Philippine News Service reported 107 political killings for the year and said more than 30 persons were slain on election day.

Bobby May Change Tune Over Support For LBJ

By The Associated Press

Sen Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who has endorsed President Johnson for re-election, says he may have more to say on the subject if Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., becomes a candidate for the White House.

Kennedy said in a television interview Tuesday he thinks McCarthy will receive some support if he makes the plunge.

McCarthy hasn't announced any specific plans but there are reports he'll enter several primaries against Johnson or Johnson stand-in candidates.

The unhappiness Kennedy spoke of was apparent in Johnson's own Lone Star State where the Dissenting Democrats of Texas announced a program of events to display their antiwar sentiment.

The group plans to schedule a series of antiwar speeches, with actor Robert Vaughn of television's "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." delivering the first one in Austin next February.

In Hollywood, Fla., the Young Democrats opened their convention with Vietnam shaping up as a big issue. At least two candidates for president of the organization identify themselves as strong proponents of peace in Vietnam. Several resolutions on the war are due to come up for votes.

On the Republican side peace appeared to be settling in San Mateo County, Calif., where Shirley Temple Black lost a hard-fought primary battle for Congress to Paul N. McCloskey on Tuesday.

Mrs. Black, the child film star of the 30s, promised McCloskey her support in the general election.

Gov. Ronald Reagan, who like Mrs. Black favors a tougher U.S. stance in Vietnam, also congratulated McCloskey, an opponent of the war.

Responding to a reporter's suggestion that Reagan is seeking the GOP presidential nomination despite his denials, McCloskey said: "I agree with his position that he shouldn't run for the Republican nomination for president."

Former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, a possible third-party candidate for president, told a Cincinnati audience his forays on the campaign trail already have political leaders worried.

"This is not a movement of politicians, this is a movement of the grass roots and I tell you, in 1968 a lot of politicians are going to get run over," Wallace declared.

As in other recent appearances, Wallace was heckled but there were no serious incidents.

Opening lead: Three of ♠
South's devious course during the auction laid the ground work for a disastrous swing in the above deal.

North opened the bidding in third seat with one no trump, holding 16 high card points. South chose to use the two club convention which requires partner to show a four-card major suit if he has one. Our preference would have been to proceed directly to three no trump inasmuch as the responder has the required 10 points, a balanced hand, and a high honor in the short suit. Observe that, if South has a worthless doubleton in spades, it would be proper to explore for a suit contract first.

When North rebid two diamonds denying a major, South should surely have proceeded without further ado to three no trump. Instead, he made a game forcing jump to three hearts and at this point West entered the proceedings with a penalty double.

North was obliged to pass, for he could hardly be expected to go back to no trump with no stopper in spades. South now found himself trapped by his own guessing game, and thinking that West had perhaps miscalculated, he elected to shoot it out at three hearts.

With the six-nothing division in trumps, South had no chance to succeed. West opened his singleton diamond, however, a subsequent shift to spades held declarer to seven tricks and East-West scored a 300 point profit on the deal.

If the hand is played in three no trump, North can take nine tricks. The count is: four diamonds, three clubs, one spade, and one heart.

Contract Awarded For Credit Union

Contract has been awarded to J. D. Jones Construction Company of Big Spring for the new home of the Webb AFB Federal Credit Union. The structure will cost $74,195.

A work order is due to be issued soon by Gary & Hobertz, architects, and construction of the steel-type building should begin by Dec. 1.

The building, located between the base chapel and the BX, will have a brick front with the uplifted hands insignia of the credit union set in blue tile against a white background. The premises will be landscaped, and there will be parking on two sides.

The 4,329 square feet of floor space will be divided into a reception room, individual loan interview offices; private offices for the manager, the office manager and loan supervisor; a counter for three tellers; a meeting room for the board of directors; an employees lounge; rest rooms; a large accounting and storage room. Wall coverings will be in a vinyl material. Flooring will be asbestos tile on concrete slab, except for the private offices, which will be carpeted.

Webb AFB Federal Credit Union has assets of approximately $5 1/2 million, and loans of about $4 1/4 million. A working force of 16, headed by Wade Choate, manager, is necessary to service the accounts. President of the credit union is Gilbert E. Webb.

Car Fire Alert

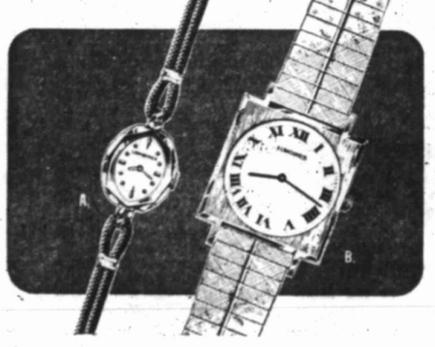

Firemen answered a call Thursday at 8:20 a.m. to Shroyer Motor Co., 424 E. 3rd, to put out a car fire caused by a flooded carburetor. Only the wiring of the car was damaged.

Vandals Scatter First Aid Items

Vandals struck at College Heights School Wednesday night. Entry was made through a window and papers and first aid supplies were scattered over the floor of a fourth grade room. Nothing was taken from the school.

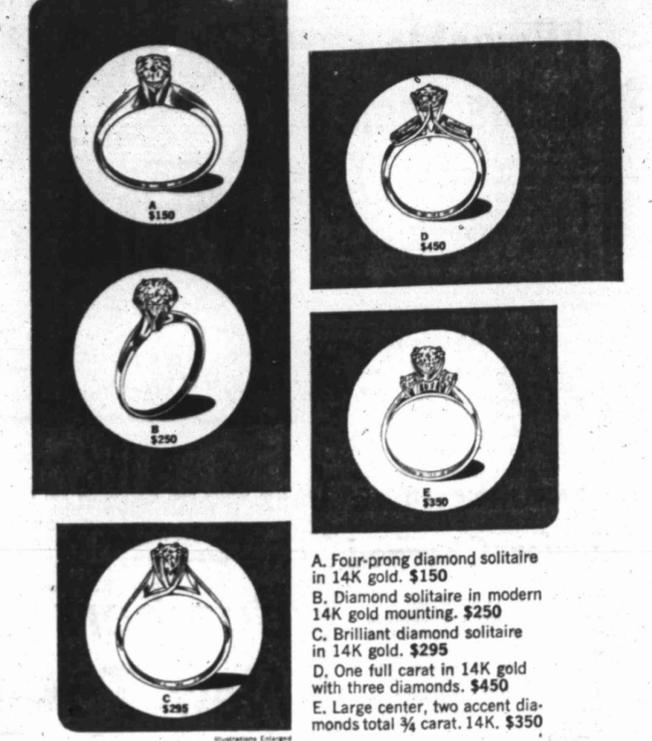

Police are also investigating two thefts that were reported Wednesday. A stereo and 12 tapes were stolen from the parked car of Arvil J. Henry, 1423 E. 6th, while in the parking lot of the Ritz Theatre. Mrs. R. G. Bortner, 2704 Central, reported the theft of a straw bag containing valuable papers and a rain coat from her car parked at the Medical Arts Hospital.

Houston Judge To Speak To Eagles, Guests Here

Judge William M. "Bill" Hatten, Court of Domestic Relations No. 2, Houston, will be special guest and speaker at the banquet Big Spring Aerie No. 3188, Fraternal Order of Eagles, is hosting here Saturday night.

Kidney Transplant Patients Critical

DALLAS (AP) — Doctors at Parkland Hospital Wednesday transplanted a kidney from a Dallas woman to her 32-year-old brother and both were listed in critical condition today.

The transplant was from Mrs. Frances Ruth Tears, 38, to James Lee Ables, a Fort Worth insurance underwriter.

A Parkland spokesman said the transplanted kidney was functioning and Ables was "progressing satisfactorily." All patients undergoing such "major" surgery are automatically carried by hospitals as in critical condition.

Judges and others connected with law-enforcement in the county and the area.

The banquet is to be in the Settles Hotel at 6 p.m., followed by a ball. All peace officers in every branch of law enforcement are being invited, according to W. N. Cochran, secretary, as well as their wives.

The feature of the banquet of special interest to the Eagles' guests will be explanation of the program which the order has initiated to insure college education for the children of peace officer members killed in the line of duty.

The plan applies to firemen as well as the police, deputy sheriffs, and state and federal law officials.

Judge Hatten is a long time member of the Eagles and a leader in the program which the order is fostering relative to the children of peace officers. He will explain the plan in detail as a part of his talk and will also speak on the growing need for more respect for law.

Hatten is a native of Houston.

He has been an attorney since 1935 and was first appointed judge of the court at Houston in January, 1954, by Governor Connally. That same year he was elected to continue in his post.

He has been a leader in Houston affairs and in many state programs and is in high demand as a speaker.

This will be his second visit here, but on the other occasion he spoke only to members of the Eagles Lodge. He will go from Big Spring to Midland for a speaking engagement there.

Administration Claiming Victory For Antipoverty

WASHINGTON (AP) — An antipoverty bill cut by $460 million has cleared the House and both the budget-cutters and administration supporters claim a victory.

Republicans succeeded in cutting the money total well below President Johnson's request but the pared-down version—with all its controversial programs intact—then sailed through 283 to 129, the biggest margin in its three-year history.

As it passed the House Wednesday night after a long, frequently raucous session, the bill would extend the Office of Economic Opportunity's programs for one year at an authorized spending level of $1.6 billion.

That's the amount the OEO had last year. Johnson had asked for $2.06 billion to expand the antipoverty program this year.

The Senate has already authorized $2.25 billion and a compromise agreement will now have to be worked out.

After three frustrating days in which they were defeated on every major attempt to cut funds and revise the program, the Republicans scored on their final thrust just before passage.

Their motion to cut back to $1.6 billion was approved 227 to 190, with 148 Republicans and 79 Democrats, mostly from the South, supporting it. Opposing the slash were 162 Democrats and 28 Republicans.

On final passage, 186 Democrats and 97 Republicans voted for the bill and 50 Democrats and 79 Republicans against it. The entire top leadership of the Republican party either voted or was paired against the bill.

The bill's supporters shrugged off the cut in funds as a small price to pay for keeping alive a program that at one time appeared doomed.

The coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats that rewrote major administration education and crime control bills earlier in the year had made a complete revision of the antipoverty program its main goal.

When the summer's riots

soured many former supporters of the program the House leadership laid the bill aside and even considered dropping it for this year to keep it from being chewed up.

A surge of support for the program from the cities and from national and civil leaders produced a gradual change in attitude.

A deft move by Democrats on the Educational and Labor Committee quieted much of the opposition among their Southern colleagues. The panel wrote in an amendment that would put Community Action agencies under state or local governments. Most now are nonprofit agencies.

The OEO opposed the move and so did several so-called liberal Democrats. But throughout three days of voting Southern Democrats helped hold the bill intact against 50 or so amendments.

When they deserted to support the money cut, they left behind a bill the administration was glad to get.

Glenn Critical Of Space Cuts

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Former astronaut John Glenn says cutbacks in the United States space budget will not affect the Apollo program to land a man on the moon before the end of the decade but could hurt future programs.

Glenn, 46, criticized the cutbacks in an interview Wednesday at the annual meeting of the National Soft Drink Association.

"There are many places where there could be cutbacks rather than cutting back something that takes so many years to get momentum going," he said.

DeVaney Out As President

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Farm Bureau wound up its annual convention Wednesday by re-electing its board of directors, who in turn elected Sidney Dean of Victoria as bureau president.

The bureau passed resolutions supporting Americans fighting in Vietnam, calling for higher tariffs on agricultural products, opposing any increase in the federal minimum wage or its extension to other groups and asking for legislation prohibiting "the public interest" labor strikes in agriculture during a critical period of production or harvesting.

Dean, a farmer and cattleman with more than 2,000 acres under cultivation, succeeds C. H. DeVaney of Coahoma, who had served since 1962.

M. P. "Mike" Frost of McAllen was named vice president, succeeding Dean, and Steve Lilly of Nacogdoches was named secretary-treasurer, succeeding Frost.

In other resolutions, the bureau recommended "strong action" by the Federal Communications Commission to stop the communications media, especially TV newsmen, from portraying law and law enforcement officials as oppressors of the poor.

"Vigorously" opposed the proposed repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act, which bans closed union shops.

Prior to being elected Farm Bureau president in 1962, DeVaney had been active in Bureau affairs for many years. He had a long tenure as director from District 6, and then served as a state vice president.

While he maintained legal residence in Coahoma, where the family has farming interests, DeVaney and Mrs. DeVaney have made their home in Waco for the past five years.

Copper, Steel Firms Map Price Jumps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders in the steel and copper industries plan price increases as the government reports a second straight monthly drop in the nation's industrial output.

As the price hikes were being announced Wednesday, Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board urged Congress to enact a tax hike to stem inflation. President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge appears all but dead for this session of Congress.

MORE WOES

Martin said disruptive forces already are at work on the economy.

Adding to the economy's woes were continued scattered strikes in the auto industry.

U. S. Steel announced it will hike prices of most types of wire and various materials for railroads by less than 3 per cent, effective Nov. 27. The nation's biggest steelmaker said the products involved represent about 3 per cent of its total shipments.

The increase is the latest in a series of steel industry price boosts this year. The items involved account for more than 25 per cent of industry shipments.

OIL DRAGS

Phelps Dodge Copper Products Corp., said meanwhile it will increase prices of its full range of tube products about four cents a pound beginning Friday.

The copper industry has been hit by a strike of miners since July 15. Phelps Dodge said its boost will "partially compensate for the cost of obtaining copper" from other sources.

The Federal Reserve Board, announcing the decline in industrial output, blamed strikes and a 6 per cent drop in oil production resulting from an improved supply from the Middle East.

The board's index of industrial production dropped five-tenths of one point in October to 156.2 per cent of the 1957-58 base period. The index slipped 1.5 points in September, largely because of strikes—the biggest at Ford Motor Co.—and the curtailed oil production.

FIRST TIME
This marked the first time since the economic slowdown last February and March that the index dropped in two straight months.

Martin, speaking before the few index was announced, said strikes have clouded the economy's basic strength.

A similar argument was made by the President's Council of Economic Advisers. Chairman Gardner Ackley predicted last week the index would make an unexciting showing and cited the strikes as a factor.

Last week, the government reported a 4.1 per cent unemployment rate—the highest in two years, and a 2 per cent drop in retail sales during October.

The Ford strike was listed as a factor in the sales drop.

Crime Called No. 1 Problem

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — "Crime is our No. 1 problem" and people are "apathetic about it even though it is costing us an estimated $27 billion a year," retired Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark said Wednesday night.

He appealed to the Texas Parent-Teacher Association for "a great national crusade" to remedy the situation.

Clark, pursuing a favorite theme, referred to rioting in various cities as "a horrible example" of how respect for law and order has declined.

"If there are laws that should be changed, injustices remedied or discriminations removed, let us resolve to change them through legal and peaceable means," he said in referring to the riots.

"If there are inequalities being borne, let us see to it they are removed to the end that every man has an equal opportunity not only to an education but to follow a calling and enjoy the fruits of his endeavor."

Steel Workers President Trying To Avoid Layoffs

WASHINGTON (AP) — I. W. Abel, craggy-faced president of the United Steel Workers Union, is under considerable fire in trying to steer his big union past the twin shoals of a major strike or mass layoffs next year.

The center of the controversy is a no-strike plan being discussed with the steel industry at a time when labor militancy and strikes across the nation are at a 15-year high.

"There is a big element of steel union leadership that believes it is nonsensical to give up the right to strike," said one labor source outside Abel's union.

ABEL ANGRY
Steel Workers Union aides say Abel is angry at being accused of copying up to the steel industry—the main issue on which Abel ousted David J. McDonald from the union presidency in a 1965 election.

Abel, who guided the Steel Workers to major contract gains without a strike later the same year, is reportedly undergoing his first major internal union struggle over the no-strike discussions.

The plan, which would submit major contract issues to voluntary but binding arbitration in the event of a bargaining deadlock, is far from approved and the current debate could kill it.

DILEMMA
Steel buyers usually build up large inventories before labor negotiations and the result often has been mass layoffs even when there is no strike.

Abel's dilemma, sources say, is trying to balance off the potential losses from a strike against the effects of later layoffs on about 450,000 basic steel workers.

Top steel industry officials, including chief industry negotiator R. Conrad Cooper and U. S. Steel Chairman Roger Blough, have warned against the effect of greater steel imports that would hurt domestic producers.

In the event of a strike, or a rapid buildup of inventories, many producers are likely to turn to foreign markets if they can't buy enough steel in this country.

The industry, reportedly with union help, is asking Congress to impose quotas on steel imports and Cooper has backed the proposed no-strike plan as a boon to both union and industry.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Inspector William Garlington handed this assignment to the police auto theft division: Find a car with the license number UJP 927.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A toy trunk with an automatic lid that could not be opened from the inside has led to the deaths of two small sisters.

OFF BEATEN TRAIL

Missing Saddle Of An Alamo Hero

By ED SYERS
By its nature — a question here, an answer there — OBT's stories often come in fragments: we've fitted pieces into pictures, however hazy, ranging from gun fighters' fates to those of horned toads to cattle trails routes. We found that Mexico's Hero of Cinco de Mayo — General Ignacio Zaragoza (he beat the French at decisive Puebla) — was Texan-born.

We've traced Santa Anna's legendary gold vest and wooden leg; and we've trailed the strange guess that assassin John Wilkes Booth escaped to Texas. Doing this, you and I know that often we explore hearsay, tall talk and legend, sometimes into grim corners. Like this:

Quite some time back, we turned up the possibility that William Barret Travis' saddle, blanket and bridle, made it all the way to San Jacinto, then disappeared again. Here it is, once more, somewhat closer, from Normandy's Clifford O. Lawrence (Box 47):
"Some time ago you ran a story that my great grandfather Joseph Lawrence shot a man during the rout following San Jacinto; and it developed that this soldier was dragging the saddle, saddle blanket and bridle of William Barret Travis.

"You concluded with the question: 'What could have happened to them?'"

"Since this was published, I have read (what may help explain it). It is taken from the newspaper Texas Telegraph and Register, May 27, 1837.

"A reward will be paid for delivery to me (John Rice Jones) on Bailey's Prairie, Brazoria County, of one slave named Joe, belonging to the estate of the late William Barret Travis. Joe took off with a (Mexican soldier), two horses, saddles and bridles. He was in the Alamo with Travis when it was taken and was the only man from the colonies not put to death (sic). Joe is 25 years old, about five feet six or seven inches... and of good countenance. Forty dollars reward will be paid for Joe and $10 for (his captor)."

"In the face of the foregoing, I sure do believe that great Grandpappy Lawrence was entitled to the $10. I am still looking for the saddle, bridle and I will let you know."

LARISSA FADES
Well known is that Trinity University is an excellent Presbyterian school, growing with San Antonio. Less generally known is its long journey there, brought to light with a recent query on Old Larissa, an East Texan pioneer giant in education.

Larissa today is a redland, rutted ghost, weed-taken north of Jacksonville. And here, from Garden City's E. B. Thompson, is what happened. Chartered in 1855, Larissa shortly boasted one of the South's finest educational institutions: science to languages to philosophy. Teaching astronomy, for example, Larissa boasted a telescope triple the power of Yale's. But then came Civil War's crossroads. With many like institutions, Larissa faded, became in 1870, Trinity University on a hilltop in today's tiny Tehuacana near Waco. By 1895, the school moved again to Waco. In 1942, Trinity lodged in San Antonio. Which leaves two observations. Ghost Larissa reminds that you can transplant learning; its seed is people, not buildings. But, just to be routine about things, OBT has not yet discovered what happened to that great telescope in the moving.

Wichita Falls' J. M. H.: "Winter coming... reminds of the man at the South Pole who said: 'Lord! It must be cold in Amarillo tonight!'" would like to see some cold weather stories... Beeville's "Voter": "your big plug for State Parks... I think you were policking to spend money, with an election coming up." (Note: Just reporting, having camped them, that we've done a good job with them. A camper, by nature, is no big spender.)

HUNTS FARM MUSEUM
Big Spring's Bill Birrell asks whether Texas has any museum similar to that of Pennsylvania's "Rough and Tumble Engineers," at Kinmer, near Lancaster. "Here you see such pioneer farm equipment as a hand cradle, drop head reaper, a 'groundhog' thresher powered by a horse treadmill. Later in history, you find improved threshers, powered by sweep-long cross-shaped arms circled by up to 12 oxen; finally steam tractors and horse-steered, self-propelled engines.

"Purpose of the Rough and Tumblers is to keep in running condition the engines and farm machines invented by our fore-

Estes Estate Battle Rages

EL PASO (AP) — Billie Sol Estes was arrested April 29, 1962, but the court fight over his paper financial kingdom continues.

Federal Judge Ernest Guinn overruled Wednesday a bankruptcy referee's ruling that threw out a $9 million claim by the Internal Revenue Service against Estes' estate.

Referee Malcolm McGregor ruled in July to disallow the federal claim against the bankruptcy estate.

Anthony's Anniversary Marked By Sales Event

Members of the C. R. Anthony Store family here are wishing their founder, Charles Ross Anthony, happy birthday Friday with a "sell-a-bration." Refreshments will be served at the store during the day when special values will be offered. This will be in keeping with original policies of the founder of thrifty prices, dependable quality and fashion, and friendly service.

The son of Tennessee tenant farmers, Anthony was orphaned at 13. He had been working in fields since he was seven. He split rails and grubbed sassafras until he accumulated $24 at Sandstone, Minn., serving and caught the Home Seekers

Special to Indian Territory near what is now Holdenville, Okla. His total wealth on arrival was one nickel.
A natural-born salesman, he sold himself to a widow who operated a general store and got a job. When she decided to sell the business, she wanted him to buy it. With a little cash and a $6,000 bank loan, C. R. Anthony, at 18, was in business for himself.
The first year he cleared his indebtedness, but the next year the floods came and he was nearly wiped out when he granted credit until the financial strain was too great. He didn't

Forsan Seeks FHA Loan

Forsan has filed an application with the Farmers Home Administration for a loan to construct a sewer system in the town and to extend the present water system. The amount is around $100,000.

Delbert Donelson, county supervisor, said Forsan is one of a large number of Texas communities and individuals who have availed themselves of the loan opportunity offered by the FHA. There were about 75,000 Texas farm people and rural residents who benefited from such loans and grants in the past year.

Texas led the nation in total activity, advancing $23,275,870 in loans and grants to develop or improve 139 water or waste disposal systems during 1967.

The Texas projects, which are spread throughout 97 counties, were financed with $22,304,600 in loans and more than $971,270 in grants.

The rural water and waste disposal systems are organized through local initiative by town governments, other public bodies, or private nonprofit associations formed by prospective users in communities of less than 5,000 population.

These systems are becoming a major force in improving rural living conditions and rural economic opportunities.

Many of the communities helped by FHA were dependent upon wells, cisterns, springs and water hauled in by truck or on aged, inadequate septic tanks until FHA made available their financial assistance.

Most of the Sunday morning worship of the First Baptist Church will be given to music featuring the Baylor University choir, the Rev. R. F. Polk, pastor, said today.

"Everyone, and particularly those not worshipping elsewhere, is invited to hear this outstanding choir," said the pastor.

The choir, organized in 1958 under Dr. Ewell Porter, conductor, has sung at the Southern Baptist Convention, state and national music education meetings, and in Carnegie Hall where it won critical acclaim from Howard Kline, reviewer for the New York Times.

Next spring it is to appear in Atlanta, Ga., in the Jones Hall of Performing Arts in Houston, and the HemisFair in San Antonio.

The United States urged the council Wednesday to reach an accord calling for Israeli withdrawal from captured Arab lands but also supporting Israel's insistence on "secure and recognized" boundaries.

"Only the parties themselves can make peace," added U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg.

The council did reach a decision on Portugal, condemning the Lisbon government for permitting foreign mercenaries to use Portuguese Angola for an abortive invasion of the Congo.

Portugal has denied any knowledge of mercenary operations from Angola and its U.N. delegate, Francisco Bonifacio de Miranda, called the condemnation "gratuitous and baseless."

But Soviet representative Platon Morozov, said the resolution did not go far enough because it did not call on Portugal's fellow members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to respect U.N. charter provisions barring interference in the internal affairs of another state.

In the Middle East debate, Britain's Lord Caradon complained that the Security Council has been bogged down for weeks by "dreadful and damaging delays and persistent and frustrating disagreements."

The council may consider as many as four separate Arab-Israeli peace plans. A U.S. plan and an India-Mali-Nigeria proposal are formally before the council, Argentina and Brazil are ready to introduce another and Britain is reported working on a separate draft.

Lucky Leaf 4-H Club will meet in December but will join with the other county clubs in the annual 4-H Club Christmas party.

This was decided by the club at a recent meeting. In January, the club members are asked to bring their cameras to the meeting.

Photography is a major project of this new Big Spring group. Mike Alexander is junior leader for the photography project. Anyone interested in joining the club or in the project can get information from the Extension Service office in the court-house.

Two new members have been added to the club roster—Mary Pritz and Phoebe Thompson.

Sato Pleased With Pull-Out Promises

WASHINGTON (AP)—Japan's Prime Minister Eisaku Sato departed for New York today, pleased with the outcome of his two-day policy talks with President Johnson.

Sato received a promise the United States will return the Bonin Islands, including the World War II battleground of Iwo Jima, to Japan within a year.

But the 66-year-old Japanese leader was unable to win a timetable promise from President Johnson for a similar return of strategic Okinawa to Japanese control.

The key American defense base is only 350 miles from the Chinese mainland.

Sato flies to New York today for meetings with U.N. Secretary General U Thant after two days of hard bargaining sessions with Johnson over Okinawa, a politically explosive issue in Japan.

Expectations have been building up in Japan for months that the United States would yield control of Okinawa while maintaining American use of military bases there for the security of Japan and the non-Communist countries of east Asia.

Instead, Johnson and Sato worked out an agreement to establish an advisory committee to the U.S. military high commissioner of the Ryukyu Islands. The committee composed of high-level American, Japanese and Okinawan officials will meet with Lt. Gen. Ferdinand Unger, the high commissioner.

Their job will be to lessen the economic and social differences between the 950,000 Okinawans and the 100 million Japanese. A communique issued by the President and prime minister following their two-day meeting said the United States would retain military facilities in the Bonin Islands.

A Polar nuclear submarine base reportedly is maintained at Chichi Jima, largest of the Bonins.

Japan also agreed to gradually take over responsibility for defense of the Bonins, some 750 miles south-southeast of Tokyo.

Current Army regulations regarding promotion and retention in the Reserve and the Guard provide that all officers must measure up to the same professional standards set for active Army officers by meeting branch and specialty education requirements for their rank and length of service.

Those who fail to attain the prescribed level of military education in accordance with the regulations are eliminated from the service. The only way to meet the professional qualifications is through a continuing process of military education, which is what the two classes are designed to provide.

The course requires 24 reserve sessions and two weeks of active summer duty. Student officers maintain their current Reserve of Guard assignment while attached to the school, and receive retirement points as well as military academic credit.

The dean of Southwest Conference band directors, Lt. Col. E. Adams, has been organizing the band, designing drills and maintaining its military conception since 1946.

In fielding the Aggie Band going on 22 years and sending it through 168 football game half-time performances, Col. Adams has directed a boy and his father as Aggie band members.

James T. Allen of Gonzales, a freshman baritone player of the 1967-68 band, and his father, Maj. Paul A. Allen Jr., have been Aggie bandmen under "the Colonel," as Adams is known to his musicians.

Former player's son Bob Haltom, cornet player who calls Bryan home, is the son of Air Force Col. Charles Haltom, now stationed at Big Spring. The elder Haltom played in the 1937 S. F. Austin High (Bryan) band, of which Adams was director.

Haltom traveled over much of Europe and the U.S., being in a service family. He felt enrolling at A&M was natural after 1967 graduation from Central High in London.

"I've been an Aggie since I was seven or eight years old," the freshman said. "I read a lot about the Aggie band in old yearbooks, the Battalion, Review and newspapers. I saw the band on film and TV, and also wanted to study veterinary medicine so A&M was my only logical choice."

Col. Haltom, 46, is a training wing executive officer at Webb AFB. He attended A&M three years then joined the Army as a flying cadet in 1941. He was a 1937 Bryan High graduate.

Bob lists his grandmother's home at 608 South Logan, Bryan, as his home. He has two uncles who attended A&M. Bart Haltom is a former Aggie golf letterman and professional.

Suspect Raps Identification

Carroll Trantham, under indictment for robbery by assault in connection with a holdup at the Vernon's Liquor Store on April 16, 1966, has attacked the method employed by investigating officers under which state witnesses identified him as the robber.

A hearing on this motion is slated for Friday in 118th District Court, provided a civil case now on trial can be completed in time to permit the hearing. Trantham was identified by two employees of the store, it was said, but Trantham alleges the identification procedure was not in accordance with the law.

He asks that the testimony of John Bingham and Mrs. Elmer Bolte be stricken from the trial when his case is called up.

Trantham has been on trial on one occasion but about half way through the hearing the defense moved for a mistrial and the motion was upheld by Judge Ralph Caton.

The case has been set on numerous criminal dockets since, but has not as yet been brought up for trial.

Organized in 1966, the precision team utilizes a CT-114 Tutor as its craft. This is somewhat similar to Webb's T-37, except it has a higher elevator on the tail. Perhaps it approaches more closely the E-37, now in use by U.S. forces in Vietnam.

The aviation committee of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce will meet Friday, Nov. 17, at 5 p.m. in the Chamber conference room to formulate plans for the presentation to the general public of the facts regarding the benefit to Big Spring and Howard County under the operation of an Airport Authority.

The election for the adoption of the Howard County Airport Authority and the issuance of bonds for such operation has been set for Dec. 16. Connie Edwards is chairman of the committee and will preside.

Tension Eased On Cyprus, Greek Troops Pull Back

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Tension eased on Cyprus today as Greek Cypriot troops withdrew at sunrise from two villages they overran in the most serious outbreak of communal fighting in nearly two years.

The government forces also released to U.N. peacekeeping troops about 250 Turkish Cypriot men who had been rounded up in a house-to-house search Wednesday after eight hours of fighting.

The U.N. troops took control of the villages and prepared to return the men home.

In Ankara, Turkey's Cabinet met through the night, its armed forces were placed on the alert and Turkey's airports were closed to civilian traffic for several hours.

But the Greek Cypriot backdown appeared to ease the threat of retaliation from Turkey, 40 miles north of Cyprus, and the Turkish airports reopened.

U.N. sources in Nicosia said medical teams from the U.N. peace force found 23 Turkish Cypriot bodies in the two villages 40 miles south of Nicosia, Turkish Kophinou and Greek Turkish Ayios Theodoros.

Greek Cypriot officers on the scene told newsmen only one of their soldiers was killed.

U.N. headquarters in Nicosia said the total number of casualties had not been established, but seven wounded Turkish Cypriot civilians had been evacuated to Nicosia.

Turkish President Cevdet Sunay broke off a tour of Turkey's eastern provinces to hurry back to Ankara. Gen. Cemal Tural, chief of the Turkish general staff, met twice during the night with the Cabinet. One of the commanders told newsmen the armed forces had been put on the alert and might intervene in Cyprus "if necessary."

Turkish Premier Suleyman Demirel said the Cabinet would inform the Parliament later today about the situation on Cyprus. In answer to newsmen's queries, he did not say the crisis had lessened but noted that Greek Cypriot troops had pulled back.

Aerobic Team Displays Skill For Webb Folk

Led by Wing Comdr. O. D. Philip of Sidney, B. C., the Canadian AF Aerobic team put down at Webb AFB briefly Wednesday.

The dean of Southwest Conference band directors, Lt. Col. E. Adams, has been organizing the band, designing drills and maintaining its military conception since 1946.

In fielding the Aggie Band going on 22 years and sending it through 168 football game half-time performances, Col. Adams has directed a boy and his father as Aggie band members.

James T. Allen of Gonzales, a freshman baritone player of the 1967-68 band, and his father, Maj. Paul A. Allen Jr., have been Aggie bandmen under "the Colonel," as Adams is known to his musicians.

Former player's son Bob Haltom, cornet player who calls Bryan home, is the son of Air Force Col. Charles Haltom, now stationed at Big Spring. The elder Haltom played in the 1937 S. F. Austin High (Bryan) band, of which Adams was director.

Haltom traveled over much of Europe and the U.S., being in a service family. He felt enrolling at A&M was natural after 1967 graduation from Central High in London.

"I've been an Aggie since I was seven or eight years old," the freshman said. "I read a lot about the Aggie band in old yearbooks, the Battalion, Review and newspapers. I saw the band on film and TV, and also wanted to study veterinary medicine so A&M was my only logical choice."

Col. Haltom, 46, is a training wing executive officer at Webb AFB. He attended A&M three years then joined the Army as a flying cadet in 1941. He was a 1937 Bryan High graduate.

Bob lists his grandmother's home at 608 South Logan, Bryan, as his home. He has two uncles who attended A&M. Bart Haltom is a former Aggie golf letterman and professional.

Frozen Bodies Idea Thaws Out

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A spokesman for the American Cemetery Association said Tuesday "somebody's pulling somebody's leg" with experimentation in freezing human bodies for possible later restoration to life.

The association's executive vice president, Jim Worley, told the 500 delegates at the group's annual meeting that there is "no scientific basis" to the idea that frozen bodies could be brought back to life.

He referred to reports of attempts to freeze bodies, with plans to try reviving them in the future when cures for fatal illnesses may be discovered.

Construction Index Shows Varied Totals

AUSTIN (AP) — The seasonally adjusted index of construction in September in Texas dropped to barely half of August's 245.8 reading, but still was 16 per cent above September a year ago, the Bureau of Business Research says.

September's figure was 127.1, lowest of the year except for January's 106.6.

The August figure was abnormally high because of a boom in non-residential construction permits in Houston and Dallas, the bureau said.

The total value of residential construction permits issued during September was $2 per cent ahead of September, 1966, but dropped 21 per cent from August, 1967.

Valuations of permits for residential dwellings in September declined from August in every category.

Residential valuations were down 24 per cent and multiple family dwellings were down 30 per cent.

The nine-month period from January through September compares favorably with the corresponding period for the preceding year in one-family dwellings in standard metropolitan statistical areas. The valuation was up 12 per cent and the number of units rose 11 per cent.

Standard metropolitan statistical areas in which there has been a substantial increase in the number of apartment-dwelling permits in 1967 are Abilene, Amarillo, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Galveston-Texas City, Houston, San Antonio, San Antonio, Texarkana, Waco and Wichita Falls. The largest decline occurred in Odessa, which had a valuation drop of 97 per cent and a 95 per cent decrease in the number of units.

Thomas Cited For Defense

By The Associated Press
Emmitt Thomas didn't let one miss discourage him. And it didn't take him long to make up for his lapse.
Thomas, filling in at defensive cornerback for the injured Willie Mitchell, intercepted two passes, returning one 57 yards for a touchdown, recovered a fumble and broke up six other passes, helping Kansas City to a 33-10 victory over Boston last Sunday.

His performance made Thomas the Associated Press choice as American Football League Defensive Player of the Week.
"It was," said the second-year pro from little Bishop College, "the most satisfying football game I ever played."

The satisfaction came partly from reversing a blunder and scoring his TD. It happened in the second period with Kansas City leading 17-10.

Boston's Babe Parilli passed for Bob Cappadonna but laid the ball into Thomas' hands instead. But with a clear field in front of him, Thomas dropped the ball.

Celtics Assume Top Spot In Cage League

By The Associated Press
The Boston Celtics had just taken over first place in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division, but Player-Coach Bill Russell had a problem.
He didn't know where his car was.
Following the Celtics' 113-110 victory over San Francisco in snow-clogged Boston Wednesday night, Russell stood in his club's dressing room and said: "The first thing I want to do is find my car. I don't know where it is."
But during most of the game, the second of a doubleheader at Boston Garden, Russell knew where his car was. He was in it, and it was in a mammoth traffic snarl caused by the storm.
He finally abandoned it, caught a ride with a policeman and arrived at the Garden with just a few minutes remaining in the game. He didn't bother changing into his uniform.
In Russell's absence, General Manager Red Auerbach, who guided the Celtics to eight straight NBA titles and earned 1,037 victories before turning the coaching job over to the star center last season, stepped into the breach.
Detroit beat Philadelphia 123-120, San Diego topped New York 122-108 in the first game at Boston before only 2,645 fans, and Los Angeles turned back Chicago 124-115.
Bailey Howell's 27 points led Boston, which boosted its record to 11-2 compared to Philadelphia's 11-3.
Detroit fell behind by 18 points in the second quarter but then, led by the shooting of Dave Bing, roared back to overtake Philadelphia and end a 16-game losing streak against the 76ers.
Bing poured through 40 points, including 16 in the final period.
Dave Gambee scored 15 points in the final quarter when San Diego outscored New York 41-24 as the new Rockets picked up their third victory in 17 games.
Gambee finished with 24, high for the game. Dick Barnett was high for the Knickerbockers with 17.
Jerry West made his first start of the season for Los Angeles after being sidelined with a leg injury and helped spark the Lakers to their victory over Chicago. West scored 17 points and contributed eight assists.
Flynn Robinson of the Bulls topped the scorers with 34 points, a career high. Archie Clark led the Lakers, who had seven players in double figures, with 24.

Eight Turkeys Offered As Prizes In Tourney

Eight turkeys will be the prizes Big Spring Golf Association members will be shooting for in a links tournament at the Mundy course this weekend.
Entry fee will be $2 per person. Those who have paid 1968 membership fees can take part in the Saturday and Sunday event, provided they have played five 18-hole rounds in order to establish their handicaps.
Two turkeys will be offered to low scorers in each of two flights (A and B). Golfers will make use of full handicaps in all instances.
In addition, birds will go to the two top entries in a long driving contest, as well as to the two entries using the least number of strokes in a putting contest.
Golfers can play 18 holes either Saturday and Sunday

Lengthy Jump Shot Changes Game Around

By The Associated Press
It wasn't as long as Jerry Harkness' record 92-foot heave Monday night, but the New Jersey Americans found Mel Nowell's 30-foot jump shot every bit as satisfying.
Nowell's jumper, which counted for three points, came with six seconds left and gave the Americans a 108-108 tie in regulation time with the New Orleans Buccaneers in their American Basketball Association game at Teaneck, N.J., Wednesday night. The Americans went on to whip the Western Division leaders 123-114 in overtime.
Harkness' record shot came as the final buzzer sounded in Dallas and gave the Indiana Pacers a one-point victory over the Chapparals. The Pacers, the Eastern Division leaders, made it two straight by whipping the Oakland Oaks Wednesday at Indianapolis 119-110.
Dallas, playing at home, lost to the Anaheim Amigos 116-105 in the other ABA game scheduled Wednesday.
Nowell's heave climaxed a last quarter rally by the Americans in which they erased a 14-point deficit. A layup by John Austin and two free throws by Tony Jackson broke a 112-112 tie in the extra period and put the Americans ahead for good.
Lavern Tart, unable to play at Pittsburgh Tuesday because of a Pennsylvania common pleas court injunction, was back in action for Oakland Wednesday, but his 25 points wasn't enough to pull the Oaks through against Indiana.

A last-quarter rally, led by Les Selvaige, gave Anaheim its victory over Dallas. Selvaige, the league leader in three-point goals, hit three of them in the winning rally and finished high for the Amigos with 24 points. John Beasley topped Dallas with 26.
Greg Jones of Plains won scoring honors in the District 5-A football season just completed with a total of 168 points.
Jones, who beat runner-up Cliff Thomas of Tahoka by 30 points, is probably one of the top scorers in the entire state.

Jones was also the top scorer in district games with 84 points.

Elijah Pitts Is Out For Season

NEW YORK (AP) — Elijah Pitts, Green Bay halfback, is out for the season, having been placed on the "reserved as injured" list of the National Football League.
If the Packers should try to reactivate Pitts prior to the end of the season, including postseason play, Pitts could be claimed by any other NFL club on non-recallable waivers.
However, Vince Lombardi of the Packers, fully conversant with the rules, "would not be likely to risk such a valuable property."
Pitts suffered a torn Achilles tendon in a Nov. 5 game with Baltimore. His place has been taken by Donny Anderson, the bonus sophomore from Texas Tech who scored four touchdowns last Sunday against Cleveland.

Batley May Go

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Twins Wednesday asked waivers on veteran catcher Earl Batley for the purpose of giving him his unconditional release.

Yankees Still Top Gate Attraction In Circuit

BOSTON (AP) — Win or lose, the New York Yankees still are the top drawing card on the road in the American League.
Despite a ninth-place finish this season, the Yankees drew 1,364,783 fans away from home, helping the league to a record attendance of 11,336,923.
A league spokesman said Wednesday that according to records available the Yankees topped the circuit in road attendance for the 18th straight year.
Six other clubs topped the one million mark, also setting a league mark for the most teams surpassing that mark in road attendance.
Minnesota drew 1,325,806 to rank No. 2. The Chicago White Sox were a better drawing card away from home, attracting 1,277,404 fans on the road compared with just 985,364 at home.
The Boston Red Sox showed the biggest gain in road attendance as they leaped from a ninth-place finish in 1966 to the pennant. The Red Sox drew 1,171,888 fans on the road, 383,153 more than last year.
Baltimore's 1966 champions attracted 1,145,275 fans on the road, and Detroit, 1,139,121. The Washington Senators passed the million mark on the road for the first time, helping to attract 1,077,131.
Other road figures were Cleveland 995,665; California 971,836 and Kansas City 835,214. Boston, Chicago, California, Detroit, Kansas City, Minnesota and Washington all drew more fans away from home than in 1966.

Reach End Of Trail Friday

All-Purpose Kick Specialist Gone

NEW YORK (AP) — The old-style all-purpose kicker who handled the punting, field goal work and kickoffs has all but disappeared from the scene in pro football.
Sam Baker of the Philadelphia Eagles and Danny Villanueva of the Dallas Cowboys are the only men who do the triple job. In fact, they are the only players who handle both the punting and field goal work regularly.
Villanueva lost his job during the training season while he was recuperating from an operation but he now has taken over again. Harold Deters, the rookie field goal specialist, was placed on the taxi squad. Baker normally shares some of the punting with King Hill but the No. 2

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Lubbock High dropped El Paso Irvin and El Paso Burges in order to add Big Spring and Odessa Ector to its 1968 football schedule. The Westerners come here Oct. 4 for a game.
Lubbock Monterey, which will open at home against Big Spring Sept. 13, will also meet Wichita Falls Ricks for the first time next fall. Odessa Permian and El Paso Coronado have been dropped from the Monterey schedule.
The three Lubbock schools (Lubbock High, Monterey and Coronado) have only nine games scheduled at this time but will round out their programs Nov. 14 by playing the teams which finish just opposite them in the other zone of District 4A-AAA.

Truman Nix faces a major rebuilding job at Colorado City next season—15 of his first 26 boys this year graduate in May.
Golfer Jack Nicklaus says he's getting a jet plane and it will take $80,000 a year just to operate it.
Stanton will open its 1968 football season with Tahoka at home the night of Sept. 13.

Bob Milburn, the San Angelo scribe, says that Bobcat football Coach Dan LaGrasta even approached Massillon, Ohio, trying to line up a football game for next Nov. 15. Massillon, a perennial powerhouse where Paul Brown once coached, quits along about that time of year because of the weather.
Breckenridge offered to play San Angelo the third Friday in November but the Buckies' bid was turned down. The Bucks were once the best drawing cards in the state but LaGrasta wants to schedule some team in the Bobcats' own classification.

Prize money which will be offered on the PGA golf tour in 1968 will hit $5 million, up a half million from this year.
Any day now, you can read accounts on the first of the collegiate All-America teams for 1968 (the AP teams are usually announced early in December).
Quite probably, the consensus All-America backfield will include Gary Beban of UCLA, quarterback; O. J. Simpson, USC, and Leroy Keyes, Purdue, halfbacks; and Larry Conka, Syracuse, fullback.

The University of Texas has had no fewer than two dozen head football coaches since it started playing the game in 1894 and Darrell Royal, the current mentor, has already won more games than any of his predecessors.
His teams have also lost more than any Texas team except those under Dana X. Bible and Ed Price.

Western Junior College Conference basketball players on this year's roster hail from at least ten states, in addition to Texas.
The schools have recruited talent from as far away as Washington, D.C., New York and Oakland, Calif.

Starting quarterback for the Dallas Highland Park football team this season is Kyle Rote Jr., whose father was quite a back for SMU.
The senior Rote now resides in New York, where he does radio and TV work.

Nine Texans, including Big Spring's Jerry Dunlap, are members of this fall's New Mexico State University football squad. A dozen other states are included on the team.
The team boasts nearly 50 per cent more Texans than natives of New Mexico.

Court Cases Total 1,043

Activity in the 118th District Court in October was just enough to keep the statistics on an even keel, according to Fern Cox, district court clerk.

When the month opened there were 1,039 cases of all sorts on file in the court. When November was ushered in, the total was 1,043.

The increase, such as it was, stems from minor increases in the total number of divorce cases and criminal indictments on hand at the end of the period.

Thirty new divorce suits were filed in October and there were 190 on hand when the month began. Twenty-three divorces were handled by the court during the month, four were dismissed to leave the month-end total at 193. One new annulment case was filed. None was disposed of during the month. Tax cases remained unchanged with 307 on file.

Thirteen new cases in the civil category other than divorce were filed. There were 506 such suits on hand when the month began. Ten were disposed of by the court and nine were dismissed. This left the total at 500.

There were 34 criminal cases on file when October opened. Nine new cases were filed. One was tried before the court and two were dismissed. Forty indictments were on hand when the month ended.

Disagrees

Dr. Josiah Thompson, 32, a philosophy professor teaching at Haverford College says the Warren Commission was wrong in ruling that Lee Harvey Oswald was the lone killer of President Kennedy.

Critic Builds Case For Three Assassins

NEW YORK (AP) — A new critic of the Warren report claims that three gunmen in three different locations fired a total of four shots in the assassination of President Kennedy. Josiah Thompson, a philosophy professor turned investigator, disputes the Warren Commission finding that Lee Harvey Oswald was the lone killer of the President. Writing in the Dec. 2 issue of the Saturday Evening Post, Thompson says he based his conclusion on detailed analyses of the pictures of the assassination and testimony of certain witnesses.

NOT SOLVED

In a statement, William A. Emerson Jr., the magazine's editor, said, "With painstaking care and formidable logic Thompson demolishes the Warren report by building a case for three assassins."

In an editorial accompanying the Thompson article, the Post said: "We declare once again that we believe the Kennedy mystery has not been solved, that the case is not closed."

Thompson, 32, who teaches at Haverford College, is a graduate of Yale University and Navy veteran. The article was excerpted from his book "Six Seconds in Dallas" to be published Nov. 27 by Bernard Geis Associates.

Thompson said his "new evidence does not prove that the assassination was a conspiracy. Nor does it prove Oswald's innocence. It shows that the question of Oswald's guilt must remain—four years after the event—still unanswered."

In his "reconstruction," Thompson argues Kennedy was hit by the first and third shots fired at the presidential motorcade. He believes they probably came from the Texas School Book Depository but were not necessarily fired by Oswald.

Thompson claims the second shot came from a building to the rear of the motorcade—most probably the Dallas County Records building—and was the bullet that wounded Gov. John Connally.

BEHIND FENCE

Commenting on the Thompson thesis Wednesday, Gov. Connally disputed the fourth shot theory. "I still contend there were three shots fired. I don't believe there was more than one assassin," he said.

Almost immediately after the third shot hit Kennedy in the head, Thompson claims a fourth shot also struck the President's head. He believes this shot was fired from behind a fence to the right and in front of the motorcade.

In part, Thompson based his conclusions on a study of an amateur movie filmed during the assassination by Abraham Zapruder, a spectator. The film was also central to the Warren Commission findings.

Thompson draws his theory of three assassins from interpretation of the facts of timing of the frames of the Zapruder film, but he does not speculate on who the gunmen were.

Maybe He'll Get It Next Time

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A jail prisoner has failed in his effort to have a judge order the sheriff to provide him with a birthday cake with candles and one song, "Happy Birthday."

A communications delay was blamed. John P. Shinnors, charged with possession of narcotics, asked for a writ of mandamus in a petition to the court. The request, couched in legal language, was hand-lettered in pencil.

Judge Tom Bergin of Hennepin County District Court said, however, the petition wasn't delivered to him until after Shinnors' 31st birthday had passed. "If he is in the custody of the Hennepin County sheriff on Nov. 13, 1968, I will provide him with a cake with 32 candles on it," the judge said.

Hot Cargo Stacks Up Texas Traffic

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Johnny Harrison of Fort Worth, Tex., driver of a moving van, was on his way out of town with some hot cargo—and he didn't know it.

Harrison was flagged down on Interstate 10 by another motorist who spotted flames and smoke surging from the rear of Harrison's van. Firemen were called to the scene and put out the blaze before it consumed the trailer. Interstate 10 was blocked for miles by the operation.

Sniper's Dad Mailed Death Threat Letter

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Cape Kennedy engineer who claimed to be a high school pal of Texas lower sniper Charles Whitman III was indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury on charges he mailed a death threat note to Whitman's father.

"I promise you—God strike me dead—that I will kill you dead on Christmas Day at exactly 3 a.m., 1968," the letter said, according to the indictment handed down in Miami.

The sender, identified as Richard Prostrozy, 25, of Orlando, accused the elder Whitman of being "the real killer of Charlie and the other people that died," said authorities.

"Charlie," Whitman's son, was killed by police Aug. 1, 1966, after officers said he had slain his mother and wife and had climbed to the top of the tower at the University of Texas and killed 14 other persons with rifle fire.

Although Asst. U. S. Atty. Donald Bierman said a warrant would be issued Wednesday for Prostrozy's arrest, federal authorities in Orlando said none had been served.

Orlando lawyer Norman Burke said that if the engineer becomes his client, Prostrozy will come forward for arrest at the "proper time." Burke said he had not yet taken Prostrozy as a client.

The elder Whitman said he recalled Prostrozy, but only by name. "I know he was one of my son's classmates" at St. Amos, at West Palm Beach Catholic High School.

Crime Syndicate Tipper Missing

FORT LEE, N.J. (AP) — Ralph Wagner, the 34-year-old ex-cellmate of Joseph Valachi and reputed Cosa Nostra boss Vito Genovese has been missing since Oct. 19, police report.

According to federal authorities, it was Wagner who tipped off Valachi that Genovese planned to have him killed, when the three shared a cell in a federal penitentiary in Atlanta, Ga.

WRONG MAN

It was this tip, authorities said, that resulted in Valachi's bludgeoning to death a fellow inmate—the wrong man—in an attempt to save his own life, and to Valachi's subsequent appearance before a Senate committee in 1963.

During the hearings, Valachi told senators that he had received word he had been marked for death by Genovese, who did not like the way he had been acting.

Wagner, who had served a total of 15 years in prison on narcotics, assault and robbery convictions, was believed to have been a muscleman and enforcer for Valachi in the 1950s.

BIG CARS

When Valachi started telling the Senate committee about the Cosa Nostra crime syndicate, Wagner was taken from the cell he had shared with Genovese and Valachi and placed in isolation from other inmates.

To members of the organized crime syndicate—unhappy at their sudden and unwelcome attraction of public attention through Valachi's disclosures—the implication was that Wagner tipped off Valachi.

Authorities said however that he subsequently appeared to have gotten back in with the mob.

Shortly after he was released from the penitentiary and returned to his father's home, here, they said, he began to wear flashy clothing and drive big cars—without a known source of income. He was reported missing by his father on Oct. 29.

'New' Car Deal Triggers Suit

A Big Spring man, acting for himself and his minor son, has filed a damage action against a Midland motor car dealer, alleging the dealer sold the youth a used automobile and pretended the car was new.

The case filed in 118th District Court on Wednesday is styled R. P. Beard for himself and his son, Dicky Beard, against Bob Rogers, doing business as Rogers Ford Sales, Midland.

In February, 1967, Beard recites in his petition, Dicky bought a car from the defendant firm and was assured it was a 1967 model, entirely new. The plaintiff alleges this was not true; that the car was a used automobile. His son, he says, paid full new car price. He relates there is a $900 difference in the value of a new car of the make purchased and a car of the same name used. He sues for $900 plus $2,000 punitive damages.

Says Prescription Profits Dip More Than 10 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — "In this high-risk industry," says a spokesman for prescription drug makers, "a high rate of profit is essential to attract the capital and other resources necessary to achieve further breakthroughs in medical progress."

But C. Joseph Stetler, president of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association, said although the industry's profits are above average, drug prices are going down while other prices are going up.

PRICES DECLINE
He told a Senate Small Business Subcommittee investigating drug pricing that the Labor Department's consumer price index shows retail prescription drug prices have declined more than 10 per cent in the last 10 years.

Stetler said "Only one out of about 6,000 compounds tested by drug companies turns out to be a marketable product, and even then it can reach the market only after years of animal and clinical testing.

"In addition," he said, "a competitor's new or improved product for treatment of the same disease can appear at any moment to overshadow or make obsolete a profitable product perfected at great cost."

His comments came in prepared testimony.

Gardening 'Pen Pals' Enjoy First Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Trantham, 1319 Stadium, are entertaining guests this week...

MRS. J. W. TRANTHAM, MRS. FRED SHOREY

The visitors are Mr. and Mrs. Fred N. Shorey of Rochester, N. H., and Mrs. Mary Jones of Boston, Mass., and the visit was arranged after a series of "pen pal" letters...

It was December, 1962, when Mrs. Trantham wrote to the magazine, which carries a regular section of letters from readers, and asked for suggestions on making aprons as gifts.

The correspondence became a regular and rewarding interest for both women as they became acquainted with each other and their geographical locations in the exchange of ideas and materials typical to their respective regions.

From New Hampshire, Mrs. Shorey sent pussy willows with catkins on the stems, maple and beech leaves, iron weed and sprays of horse chestnuts. In utilizing several of these things, Mrs. Trantham created an arrangement which won second place in a council flower show last spring.

HINTS FROM HELOISE Sensible Care For 'Permanent Press'

Dear Folks: Here is some information I received recently from the United States Department of Agriculture on a subject I know will interest most of you...

"These garments carry 'no iron' labels and it is important to know how to take care of them. 'Avoid getting fabric very soiled. Some synthetic fibers used in durable press items absorb and hold on to oily soil, thus it's best to wash often and avoid soil build-up.'

"Treat heavily soiled areas or grease spots by rubbing in a detergent paste or liquid detergent before washing. Test first on an inconspicuous area and make sure that all items treated this way resist fading. If color is fast, let the detergent remain on the fabric for 10 to 15 minutes. On color-sensitive fabrics, remove greasy soil with a dry-cleaning solution, then wash by hand with a mild soap or detergent. Wash and rinse quickly, roll loosely in a towel and hang to dry."

"Wash in small loads and use the right laundry products. Bleaching yellows some fabrics. Read and follow manufacturer's directions. Fabric softeners reduce static electricity, make garments feel softer and often help prevent wrinkling. 'Warm or cool water and short wash, rinse and spin cycles are important. The heat and tumbling action of an automatic dryer relaxes fibers and removes wrinkles that occur during wearing and washing. Turn the heat off for the last 10 minutes of the drying cycle. As soon as the tumbling stops, remove and hang garments and curtains.'"

"U.S. Dept. of Agriculture This permanent press is marvelous, we all agree, if it's properly cared for. So let's listen to the experts, gals. They've tested it for us and should know the answers. Love, Heloise"

Dear Heloise: Nearly everyone has an old

New Backing For Insulated Drapes

The new aero-cellular acrylic finish or backing applied to drapery fabrics may be drycleaned or wetcleaned depending on the manufacturer's instructions. So says the National Institute of Drycleaning. Two distinct finishes are being used. One can be drycleaned in either solvent or perchlorethylene, the solvents drycleaners commonly use. The second can be drycleaned only in petroleum-based solvent. The manufacturer is sewing into every drapery a panel that gives instruction on which method to use.

According to the manufacturer, the acrylic coating actually becomes a part of the fabric. It serves as a lining and in addition as the finish.

Draperies so finished dampen outside noises effectively without distorting inside sounds. The finish insulates against cold wintry drafts—keeps rooms warmer in winter. It defies the sun's heat—keeps rooms cooler in the summer.

It gives more depth and dimension to the surface of the drapery for a much more luxurious appearance. It assures privacy, making the drapery almost completely opaque.

Drapery fabric with this finish, says the manufacturer, is guaranteed against sun rot and fading for two years.

A LOVELIER YOU

More Glitter Shines In Winter Dresses

By MARY SUE MILLER

Douse the street lights. A lovely's own sparkle will light her way of a winter's night. With more glitter than ever, evening accessories light up like fireworks. Elaborate flower necklaces and earrings are luminous with huge pretend gems. Belts are paved with glittering stones. The evening purse twinkles with jet, beads or sequins. Sandals wear light-struck heels.

But the most appealing shimmer of all is found in make-up for after-dark wear. It more than holds its own with the dazzling accessories. And that's as it should be, or your face might be outdazzled.

"Shimmer" cosmetics for evening offer greatly heightened sparkle this season. Foundations, powders, blushers, eye make-up and lipsticks are saturated with light and sheen. Some have silver, gold or pearl mined into them to supply the glint.

Although it hardly seems necessary, the voltage can be increased by a few quick tricks. Apply eye oil stick to the lids before cream shadow, and up goes the shine. Ice lipstick with over-under gloss. For instant glister, follow the hairline with a wisp stick.

So doing, you'd shine like a good deed in a naughty world. Or in a fog. Or in a blackout. Why not have the fun?

LAZY EXERCISES

Here's an effortless way to trim off heavy spots. All you do is lie down or sit down, and flex your muscles. If that's for you, send for "Lazy Girl's Exercises." Based on the isometric principle of exercise, routines trim head-to-toe figure. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 15 cents in coin.

Associate Pastor Talks On Theological Ideas

The Rev. John Wagner, associate pastor of First Methodist Church, spoke on "Changing Theological Concepts" and divided it into three topics, "Existentialism," "Voices for a World Come of Age," and "Martin Buber, a Modern Bridge Between Judaism and Christianity," at the Monday meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild.

Rev. Wagner described existentialism as a protest against all forms of rationalism assuming that reality can be understood exclusively or even primarily by intellectual means. He explored "modern day signs that the world has come of age in its thinking in relation to such problems as civil rights, the aged and the poor, as well as making advances in scientific fields."

Rev. Wagner discussed the modern bridge between Christianity and Judaism and told of the purposes of recognizing basic points of unity in the Hebrew Torah and the Christian Bible. He stressed the close bond between Judaism and Christianity because of this mutual heritage.

Miss Helen Willard, program chairman, introduced the speaker. Mrs. W. D. McDonald announced that the guild will serve dinner to the Salvation Army

MRS. ROSCOE CONE

Family Will Gather To Observe Thanksgiving

By RHODA LEMONS

Thanksgiving means many things to different persons, but to most it is a time of family gatherings, good food, autumnal weather, football games and a moment of contemplation or gratitude for the joys in life.

The Roscoe Cones of 2609 Carol will have such a Thanksgiving. The day will be marred to some extent for them because their son and daughter-in-law, E-S and Mrs. John Cone of San Diego, Calif., will not be home for the first time on the holiday. Cone is serving in the Navy and will leave in January for Vietnam.

However, all the other children will be home including their other son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cone and baby, Kristi Lynn; and their daughters, Cathy and Carole. Dan and Cathy are both students at Texas Tech and Carole is a sixth-grader at Kentwood Elementary School.

Other relatives and friends will join the family celebration, and Mrs. Cone usually serves 18 to 20 guests at the Thanksgiving dinner. Preparations for the day usually begin at least a week in advance. Mrs. Cone cleans her home thoroughly, so that she can spend the days before the occasion in the kitchen preparing the food.

She plans a menu which usually includes turkey, dressing, giblet gravy, green beans, cranberry sauce, a relish dish loaded with olives, pickles, tomatoes and onions, hot rolls and a variety of desserts. The desserts most often served are pecan and pumpkin pies and German chocolate cake. She does all her baking before the final day and freezes it, with the exception of the pumpkin pie. She makes the pie shell and mixes the pumpkin early, but bakes it on the day she intends to serve it as she feels that it becomes too "runny" if put in the freezer. Mrs. Cone arises early on Thanksgiving morning and has let her 18 to 20 pound turkey thaw the night before. She rubs the cavity with salt and puts margarine on the outside of the bird. She roasts the turkey in a slow oven until tender and then adds the dressing around the bird. She saves the giblets for gravy and browns the hot rolls. She has cooked the green beans, and with family members setting the table, the meal is prepared.

Following dinner and relaxation, the family usually sets up tables for bridge, and they have dessert and coffee during play.

Cone is the local State Farm Insurance agent, and Mrs. Cone assists him with secretarial duties three days a week. He is an avid fisherman, and Mrs. Cone enjoys cooking his catch. They usually have the freezer stocked with a variety of fish. Mrs. Cone most often fries the fish in deep fat, and she has found that if she takes the electric fryer outside on the picnic table, there will be no fish odor in the house.

Cathy is a home economics major in college, and she will be assisting her mother with preparations over the holidays. She will also do some of the family sewing, as she is an accomplished seamstress and has made her college wardrobe along with school clothes for her younger sister.

Mrs. Cone was born and reared in the north, but seems proud now to declare herself a Texan. She particularly emphasized that she finds the stuffing for turkey much more delicious made with corn bread than with light bread dressing, which is the custom there.

This Cake Roll Good At Brunch

Try this delicious recipe for a holiday brunch — your guests will love it.

COFFECAKE ROLL
 1/4 cup milk, scalded
 1/4 cup butter, soft
 1/4 cup sugar
 1/4 tsp. salt
 1/4 cup warm water
 1 package active dry yeast
 1 egg, beaten until thick
 2 1/4 cups (about) unsifted regular flour

Walnut Filling (see below)
 Into the scalded milk, off heat, stir the butter, sugar and salt; cool to lukewarm. In a large mixing bowl, dissolve the yeast in the water; stir in lukewarm milk mixture, egg and one cup of the flour; beat until smooth.

With a spoon, then your hand, work in enough more flour to have dough come away from sides of bowl. Cover bowl tightly with transparent plastic wrap. Let rise in warm place until doubled — about one hour.

Punch down. Turn out on prepared pastry cloth; roll out to a 14 by 10 inch rectangle. Spread with Walnut Filling; roll up tightly; seal edge well by pinching to dough; seal ends by folding over several times and pinching. Place seam side down on buttered cookie sheet and let rise in warm place until doubled — about 30 minutes.

Bake at 350 degrees until brown — about 45 minutes.

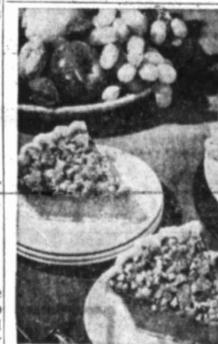

Walnut Filling: In a one-cup saucepan mix together 1/2 cup finely grated walnuts, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, grated rind of one orange (two teaspoons) and 3/4 cup milk. Boil gently for 10 minutes, stirring often; continue boiling, stirring constantly, for five minutes or until mixture is reduced to about 3/4 cup. Cool before using.

Cranberry Salad Adds Zesty Taste

Team cranberries with orange and apple for delicious flavor.

CRANBERRY COMPOTE
 2 cups cranberries
 1 large apple, pared and diced in 1/4-inch cubes (1 1/2 cups)
 1 medium orange, peeled and diced in 1/4-inch cubes
 1 cup sugar
 1/4 cup water

In a medium saucepan over moderately low heat stir together all the ingredients until sugar dissolves; bring to simmering. Cover and simmer for five minutes. (Cranberries should stay whole.) Cool, cover a nd chill. Makes about 3 cups. Serve as turkey accompaniment.

FRUIT OF THE GOURD 'Pompons' make tasty pies

Pilgrim 'Receipt' Made More Festive And Easy

When the Indians taught our Pilgrim fathers how to grow "pompons," little did they realize that Pilgrim homemakers would turn this fruit of the gourd family into pumpkin pie!

This all-American favorite is still made in the manner of those early "receipts"—but its preparation is streamlined ease. Modern-day pumpkin comes cooked, pureed and neatly packed, ready to use at the twist of a can opener. Equally important for perfect pumpkin pie is the richness that pours from a can of evaporated milk to make the smooth custard-like filling. A noteworthy and festive addition is the crunchy praline topping.

PRALINE PUMPKIN PIE
 2 eggs
 1 can (1 lb.) pumpkin
 3/4 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1 1/2 tps. pumpkin pie spice
 1 tall can evaporated milk (1-2-3 cups)
 9-inch unbaked pastry shell
 2 tps. butter
 1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
 1-3 cup chopped pecans

In a medium size mixing bowl beat eggs slightly. Stir in pumpkin, 3/4 cup brown sugar, salt, spice and evaporated milk, blending well. Pour into pastry shell. Bake in preheated hot oven (425 degrees F.) 15 minutes; reduce temperature to moderate (350 degrees) and

A Beautifully Browned Turkey Serves As Thanksgiving Theme

Preparing and serving Thanksgiving dinner centers around the beautifully browned turkey. Menu arrangements include checking the roasting time schedules which accompany the bird so as to know when it should go into the oven. Most homemakers will choose the open pan method of cookery because the final bird comes to the table at its picture pretty best. A loose tent of foil should be placed over the turkey at the beginning of the roasting time. This allows heat circulation and promotes even browning.

The best known bird in the USA is cleaned and quick frozen at the peak of freshness. It can be identified because major leg tendons are pulled and the drumsticks are tucked into a slit of skin at the base of the body cavity. When it is time to stuff the turkey, the drumsticks can be removed from the tuck. After the bird is stuffed, the legs are slipped back into place.

Frozen turkeys which are ready to stuff should be thawed before stuffing and roasting. The refrigerator is the most satisfactory place for thawing a turkey and ample time should be allowed. For example, allow one to two days for an eight to 11 pound turkey and two to three days for an 11 to 18 pound bird. To speed up thawing, the turkey, still in the wrapper, can be placed in a pan of lukewarm water.

The accompaniments should be as attractive as the turkey. Pumpkin, spice and everything nice go into the sweet potato balls served with this beautifully browned bird.

Preparation for Roasting: Free legs and tail from tucked position. Remove neck from main cavity. Rinse turkey and drain. Stuff neck and body cavities lightly (about 3/4 cup stuffing per pound purchased weight). Return tail and legs to tucked position. Skewer neck skin to back.

Co Cook Neck and Giblets: Simmer in salted water until tender, about 1/2 hour for the liver and 2 to 2 1/2 hours for neck, heart, and gizzard.

Two Ways To Roast: Use uncovered pan for attractive turkey to carve at table. Use covered pan to shorten roasting time though bird will be less attractive. (If portable electric roaster is used, follow manufacturer's directions and time schedule.)

Uncovered Pan Method: Place turkey, breast side up on a rack in shallow open pan. Use no water or cover. Spoon melted

Time For Gratitude

Thanksgiving brings family and friends together to enjoy a festive meal and exchange the latest news. The bountiful table may be in grandmother's dining room or in a small apartment of the newly married. Whatever the location, it is an exciting moment when the turkey appears for carving.

fat over turkey. Lay loose tent of foil over breast and thighs, or cover with several thicknesses of cheesecloth. Remove foil toward end of roasting if further browning is necessary.

Roast in slow oven (325 degrees). Use chart as a guide for length of roasting time.

Approximate roasting time in uncovered pan at 325 degrees for 8 to 11 pounds — 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 hours; 11 to 14 pounds — 5 1/2 to 6 hours; 14 to 18 pounds — 6 to 6 1/2 hours.

Covered Pan Method: Place turkey breast side up on a rack in a roaster. Use no water. Cover. Remove cover toward end of roasting if further browning is necessary.

Roast in moderate oven (350 degrees). Use chart as a guide for length of roasting time. Dark enameled roasters were used for roasting times. If a shiny light roasting pan is used, it may be necessary to increase time as much as one hour.

Approximate roasting time in covered pan at 350 degrees for 8 to 11 pounds — 2 1/2 to 3 hours; 11 to 14 pounds — 3 to 3 1/2 hours; 14 to 18 pounds — 3 1/2 to 4 hours.

Tests for Doneness: Differences in ovens, pans, shape and starting temperature of turkeys may cause variations in length of roasting time. Use the following tests to determine doneness:

Protect thumb and forefinger with paper or cloth. Pinch thickest portion of drumstick. Meat should feel soft. Insert roast meat thermometer into thigh muscle next to body cavity. Temperature should be about 185 degrees.

To Store: When the turkey has been roasted, serve within 1/2 hour. After service, remove the remaining stuffing and store the stuffing and the turkey separately in the refrigerator.

Cut Cauliflowers Into Small Sizes

When you are serving raw flowerets of cauliflower on an appetizer tray or in a salad, cut the flowerets so they are quite small.

If they are cut large, just too much munching is necessary.

And it's easy to make a good dip for a raw vegetable appetizer by combining mayonnaise, chili sauce and celery seed.

To give the dip extra zip, you may want to add cayenne pepper.

FBI, Justice Department At Odds Over 'Strike Force'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI and its parent agency, the Justice Department, are at odds over the department's new "strike force" concept for fighting organized crime.

As a result, the FBI has refused to join fully the new anti-crime force—practically the only civilian federal investigative agency to decline full participation.

'STRIKE FORCES'

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark made public the new concept earlier this week in a New York speech when he announced the department will set up several "strike forces" to probe organized crime in selected areas.

The decision was based on a highly successful operation during the past year in Buffalo, N.Y., which resulted in 14 indictments affecting 31 defendants.

Under the strike force concept, seven federal investigative agencies work together on an intensive drive against organized crime in a selected area for a year or two.

FBI PASSIVE

Although Justice Department officials refused to discuss the disagreement, it is known they feel their job would be much easier if the FBI participated fully in the new technique.

FBI participation so far has been passive. It has not assigned agents to work on the strike forces but has made available its vast intelligence sources.

Technically, at least, the attorney general could order FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to assign agents to the strike force, but Clark is said to be reluctant to do so. Although the FBI is part of the Justice Department it operates practically as an autonomous agency.

LOMERS

Insiders familiar with FBI operations say the bureau's opposition to participating fully in the plan is based on three premises:

—The FBI traditionally likes to work alone and take the credit—or the blame—alone.

—The FBI over the years has sought to keep separate the investigating and prosecuting functions of the Justice Department. The bureau does the investigating; the department does the prosecuting.

—The bureau is not convinced that the intensive work of the strike forces—spread possibly over an 18-month or two-year period—would be lasting. It feels that once a drive is completed the target area may slip back under control of the local crime syndicate branch. Department officials are known to feel, however, that the key to a successful fight against organized crime is continual surveillance.

Cones Net Profits For Texas Pickers

LEESVILLE, La. (AP) — A bumper crop of long-leaf pine cones in the Vernon Ranger District of the Kisatchie National Forest netted $10,574.25 for the pickers.

During a two-day period 14,099 bushels were gathered and the U.S. Forest Service paid 75 cents per bushel.

Six-Billion Spending Cut Is Predicted By Mahon

WASHINGTON—Rep. George Mahon predicted today that Congress this session will reduce the President's request for funds in excess of six billion dollars.

Mahon reported that the present Congress has devoted a great majority of its time to the "battle of the budget." In his capacity as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, Mahon has been in the thick of the spending battle since the President submitted his budget in January.

He pointed out that during the past two years Congress has approved many new and expensive programs—too many, according to Mahon. He thinks the present Congress deserves credit rather than criticism for its decision not to embark on extensive additional ventures in government programs. A number of programs have been renewed and some have been expanded, but on the whole Mahon feels this Congress can be characterized as a money-minded Congress.

Appropriations approved by the Congress this fiscal year will be less than were provided last fiscal year. This is good, Mahon indicated, but he cautioned that spending will be higher than last year. This results from the current expenditure of large carryover funds for the war in Vietnam. Mahon said that while the end is apparently in sight on money bills, the final adjournment date is still unpredictable.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19): You may have to rest awhile and organize your work, while before you can deliver it with vim and vigor. Co-workers will cooperate more if you treat them fairly. Take that into your shoulder.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20): Showing that you will go to some lengths to help others gain their aims is wise. Change your methods, some- what if you wear more harmonious relations of home. Show that you have your interests at heart.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow: No, or she will be an interesting child who will be interested in many things, more so than most others, and it would be wise for you to encour- age this trait by having all sorts of literature about earth, to give vent to all the imagination and physical sense in this chart. Says Young Moms Should Shun LSD

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A University of California pediatrician says he's not sure LSD is responsible for birth defects but he has noticed an increased frequency of low-weight babies born to LSD-using mothers. Dr. Melvin M. Grumbach of the university's San Francisco Medical Center advised young women not to take the risk. It will be years before scientists are sure whether LSD causes birth defects, Grumbach said.

No Speeches At GOP Meeting

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — A trek will be played Dec. 7 on Republican party leaders in- cluding seven Los Angeles area congressmen. They won't be permitted to make a speech at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner at the Palladium. The program will include songs by Pat Boone and Howard Keel and dancing—but no speeches—a spokesman says.

Dear Abby

Better Be Sure

DEAR ABBY: The teacher called me for a conference because of an essay my daughter had written as part of a class assignment. It was entitled "My Father," and it went like this: "My father is the worst father in the whole world. I am ashamed of him. He left us when we were small and my mother had to work to feed us. I hate him."

Abby, my daughter was four years old when her father left us, and she hasn't mentioned him in all these years. She is a moody child but I think it is just her nature. My other children seem happier and better adjusted.

Well, this teacher suggested I take my daughter to a psychia- trist. I don't believe too much in psychiatry. I went to one after my husband left me, and many hundreds of dollars later all I got out of him was the sage advice that I should "ad- just" to the situation and make the best of it.

I don't want an emotionally disturbed child on my hands, but I can't afford to pay a psychia- trist just because a teacher says she thinks my child needs one. What should I do?

CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: Ask your family doctor for his recom- mendations, after telling him the background. Far better to investigate psychiatric help for your daughter and be told she doesn't need it than not to seek it when she does.

FORLORN
DEAR FORLORN: Have your parents asked for your help with their problem? I'll bet they haven't, because when two peo- ple agree that they've had "enough" of each other, as far as they're concerned, there's no problem.

The only problem I see here is yours. It's the inability to solve a non-existing problem be- tween your parents.

DEAR ABBY: DE re that late- working husband who made a habit of worrying his wife be- cause he was ashamed to say to his boss, "Excuse me, I have to call my wife and let her know I'll be late."

Most bosses admire and re- spect an employee who shows that kind of consideration for his wife. In fact, that is one of the qualities a boss looks for when he considers a man for promotion. How do I know? I am a boss. PRESIDENT OF A BIG CORPORATION WITH A BIG NAME, IN "BIG D."

Texan Makes It Back To College 'In High Style'

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Elie Lam, prominent Wichita Falls businessman, dropped out of college in 1926 so he could go back his senior year "in high style, Model A and all."

Lam made it back to school —40 years later. He won his bachelor's degree, is at work on his master's degree, and is teaching two freshmen history courses at Midwestern University.

The former automobile dealer hopes his example will inspire other adults to return to col- lege. "During a span like those 40 years before I returned to col- lege," said Lam, "the average man fills in many a form and always there is that line that reads, 'college attended—degree obtained.' Always in my frustra- tion I had to write the word 'none' in that blank."

Lam attended Hardin Sim- mons University in Abilene from 1923 to 1926. For nine years sitting in 1957 he served as a member of the H-SU board of trustees. In 1966 he received his degree in business admin- istration from H-SU after tak- ing night classes at Midwestern.

A Devotional For The Day

The fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace. (James 3:18)

PRAYER: Our Father, we come to Thee to ask Thy mercy upon the world so full of tribulation. We regret that in spite of the love that Christ has shown to us, the world still has misunderstandings and wars. Help us to work in the spirit of reconciliation to bring peace on earth. We ask for Thy strength and wisdom. In Jesus' name. Amen.

A City Sales Tax

Big Spring voters will decide on Dec. 16 whether the city should levy a one per cent sales tax. It is important for them to understand what is involved.

The Herald hopes to present in the intervening days, as a public service, a complete presentation of factors involved, so that the people may have the fullest information.

Meanwhile, our conviction is that future stability and growth of Big Spring — at about the fairest proportionate cost now available — calls for the sales tax. Too long have all Texas municipalities been tied down to one major source of revenue, the ad valorem property tax.

It is reasonable to predict that within a couple of years, with more services required and costs going up, the City of Big Spring would be faced with an ad valorem tax increase.

With the sales levy, the City Commission has announced it can, this next year, reduce the current levy by 10 cents on the $100 valuation, bringing it to $1.40. There should be reason to believe that this figure can be held down for years to come, with perhaps other reductions.

The commissioners also have said that they would earmark 50 per cent of increased revenue to a capital improvement fund, and we regard this as most important. It would mean that the city could handle such projects as street paving, park development, sidewalk around schools, plus any number of other public works that a modern city must have, on a "pay as you go basis." In other words, further bonded obligation could be forestalled.

There remains other revenue whereby the city, without the budgetary strain which it has experienced in the past, could meet salary requirements to maintain stable, competent employment, and to make headway with operational improvements.

It is estimated that the one per cent city sales tax would provide, in round figures, $250,000 per year, equivalent to 41 cents on the city property tax rate. The penny seems a sounder method to meet municipal needs. Citizens of most Texas cities which have held elections take this view, and we feel that this great majority of voters has not been wrong.

Around The Rim

Dreaming, And Doing The Impossible

The easy facility which an attorney explains some hopeless mass of contract verbiage has always been a source of amazement for me. Time and again I have witnessed a most complex document reduced to a sentence or so, in order that those signing could understand what it was all about.

THE ENGINEERS, for my money, can join this same fraternity in being able to work the impossible. I have long harbored the suspicion this might be true, and I was convinced Monday. Probably anyone would have seen the giant dam and spillway being built to trap the waters of the Colorado River near Robert Lee.

The concept of piling up a mound of dirt to stop the river flow is simple enough. To successfully accomplish the feat is another thing. To begin with, a haphazard pile of dirt won't stay there and hold the water. It might be washed away, or it would probably let the water leak through.

SO THE ENGINEERS have figured out ways to use an underground dam of clay to stop seepage; a rock wall to prevent severe washing away of the dam face; and compaction to insure the dirt will stay where it is piled up. More, they have figured out how to do this in volume — more than a 100 feet high and four and a half miles long.

EVEN AT THAT, the dam might still be washed away if the rains fell hard enough at a given time. But the engineers have an answer for that one as well — a gigantic concrete pipe, called a spillway. At will, operators of the reservoir can turn loose as much or as little water as they choose. If the water appears to be getting high enough to cause damage to the vast earthworks, they can open a gate, and let the water go. This huge complex structure, although designed to do its job exactly, is not merely the product of a bunch of numbers on paper. A scale model was built to be sure it would work, once the terrific expense was put down. (A huge emergency spillway at one end of the dam would take care of any volume of excess.)

THE STRUCTURE is now being put in place, and it dwarfs the swarms of workmen bringing it into reality. When completed, a truck will be able to drive within it. Most important, it is the final safety valve on a multi-million dollar insurance policy for our drinking water.

And all of it is possible because some pretty smart folks know what all those squiggles on those blueprints mean — more important, they know how to put them there.

A New Trend — Clean Books

WASHINGTON — Newsweek magazine has just done a cover story on the "Permissive Society." The article, illustrated with a nude Jane Fonda, deals with the great strides that have been made in the last few years with respect to sex in films, songs, fashions and, of course, books.

Since you can't shock Americans any more with sex, a new school of writing is now in the making and I interviewed its leader, Malcolm McMorris. He is the author of the first anti-pornographic novel, "A Kiss on the Cheek."

"MALCOLM, I have read your book from cover to cover and didn't find one obscene word. Did you have a reason for eliminating all the dirty words or were you just trying to shock your readers?"

"Some reviewers have accused me of the latter, but the truth of the matter is my characters had no reason to curse and, therefore, I had no reason to put obscene words in their mouths."

"Malcolm, in your book the title 'A Kiss on the Cheek' is apparently taken from a scene on page 157 where the mother kisses her 8-year-old son on the cheek. This is the only kiss in the book. Why?"

"EVERY WRITER has to deal with life, and that kiss was necessary for the development of the story. I didn't just throw it in for the heck of it."

"I'm not criticizing you for putting the kiss in. I'm criticizing you because there is absolutely no sex in the book at all. Do you think it's fair for people to pay $5.95 and not have at least one really hot love scene somewhere in your novel?"

"All I can do is refer you to the Supreme Court decision of 1943 which says that you can publish a book without a love scene in it, providing it has some social value."

"SO YOU JUSTIFY your lack of love scenes in the book on the grounds that it has social value?"

"Yes. Some dirty-minded people have accused me of writing a clean book for money. Well, I say, who is to judge whether a book is clean or not? Sure, there are clean passages in it, but you have to have those if you're going to deal with reality."

"IN YOUR BOOK the husband doesn't even commit adultery. Don't you think that's going a bit far?"

"Not in the context of the story. If you take it out of context, certainly it might sound that way. But the husband happens to be in love with his wife and that's why people have said it's a clean book. There are a lot of cleaner books in drugstores now, so I don't know why my book should have been singled out."

"YET YOUR NOVEL seems to be some sort of a breakthrough, and there is fear that other writers might start copying you, particularly if you prove there's money to be made in writing a clean book."

"That's not my problem. If I didn't do it, somebody else would have. Society is changing all the time. It's true that the clean novel is considered avant-garde at the moment, but that doesn't mean it's wrong. Someday there will be so many clean books on the market that no one will be shocked any more."

Russia Scores Another First

WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary McNamara's affected unconcern about the Russian Space bomb which will probably orbit in 1968 is not matched in other places around this town.

I have found some startling opinions while canvassing at the National Aeronautics and Space Council, at the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee, at the Senate Aeronautical and Space Sciences Committee, at the Military Applications Committee of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee and elsewhere. They run as follows:

THE SOVIET Fractional Orbital Bombardment System (FOBS) could be called a Polaris-system in Near Space. FOBS has three characteristics of a nuclear-armed sub. First, it is mobile and not readily detectable. Second, it carries about the same nuclear payload as a sub, one to three megatons of explosive, which is ideal for destroying a city without the "overkill" of larger land-based ICBMs. Finally, it has all the properties of sneak or surprise attack. And in the pre-attack period, it is the perfect instrument for psychological warfare, blackmail, and suspended terror.

ORBITING AT altitudes of 100 miles, and lower, FOBS presents a similar but more sophisticated Missile Crisis. Like the one we had in 1962, this one represents a Russian invasion of the Western Hemisphere with mass-destruction weapons, and it will occur at about the same distance from our shores as Cuba is.

The Russians have scored, in prospect, another historical "first." FOBS extends military force into the element of Space, giving the Russians another dimension to complement their forces on land and sea, in the air and in the environment of revolutionary propaganda and action. FOBS is, of course, an offensive weapon, but our counter-action potential is all defensive.

OUR RECONNAISSANCE satellites (government officials) are primarily call them "observation" satellites have been monitoring FOBS for the past year. But these defenses are passive ones.

It is true that we could put a similar weapon in orbit over Russian cities, but this won't happen unless we make a drastic change in policy. The USA, said an official, "never starts a war," and so we have no use for sneak-attack weapons. He added that if we were certain that the Russians were at 15 minutes minus H-hour, we would make a preemptive attack with planes, subs and land-based missiles.

THIS SITUATION might arise during a confrontation, such as we had over Cuba, and it would take a President with extraordinarily steady nerves and a resolute mind to call the Russian bluff with a FOBS whizzing overhead.

The Administration, which has known about FOBS for more than a year, has accepted the situation with an air of resignation that surpasses all understanding. But several Congressional chairmen having the same knowledge though no direct responsibility, are the ones most likely to move into action and force a reversal of our wait-and-see policy.

ONE HIGHLY REGARDED Senate Chairman, hitherto silent, is saying (staff members who gather his data) that we must hurry to "militarize Space." If defensive weapons won't do it, he says, then we must go to offensive weapons like FOBS — and do it soon.

Enthusiastic Bid

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Paul A. Lohmeyer visited an animal show and came home with a Hampshire lamb in the back seat of his car.

"I guess I just got excited. Everybody was bidding, so I started bidding," he said. "It was a charming little animal."

So for 27 cents a pound, Lohmeyer, president of a jewelry store, got a 107-pound lamb.

Lohmeyer figured the supply of grass in the back yard of his home would meet the lamb's demands temporarily. What then?

"I don't have the slightest idea," he said, "but I just couldn't eat that lamb."

'I CAN'T HEAR A WORD YOU'RE SAYING'

James Marlow

War Critics Don't Dent LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — The anti-Vietnam war critics and demonstrators annoy President Johnson but they don't put a dent in him.

Their hopes for peace face a bleak future at least until the 1968 elections, unless somehow the war ends before then. Nothing of the kind is in sight.

Recent and not so recent statements by Johnson and top men around him in fighting this war show grim determination to keep on fighting it.

FOR INSTANCE, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, looking beyond Vietnam, said months ago this country would be involved in Asia until the end of the century.

Last May in Look magazine he said the American interest "in the Far Pacific is precisely what our interest was in the late '40's and '50's in Europe."

In the same issue of the magazine Secretary of State Dean Rusk predicted it will be "useful for some time to come for American power to be able to control every wave of the Pacific, if necessary."

AND THIS week Johnson showed his unbending determination to go on with the war. The Machinist, a labor magazine, quoted him as saying: "I may wind up with a poll of one per cent before it's over with."

Recent public opinion polls showed his popularity, and public confidence in him at a new low.

He said, "We can't end it (the war) with honor by surrender. We can't end it with honor by negotiations because the enemy will not negotiate with us." Until there are negotiations, he said, "It is going to be tough but we are just going to have to stand up and take it."

AT A WHITE House dinner Tuesday night, Johnson illustrated his will to go on by quoting from President Abraham Lincoln in the depths of the Civil War: "Let us . . . dare to do our duty as we understand it."

Nor is there any softening in the administration's position about continuing the bombing of North Vietnam.

In the past year Johnson and Rusk have said repeatedly that despite previous pauses in the air raids the United States cannot now "stop half the war."

THEIR CONDITION for halting the bombing is, and has been, some reciprocal action by North Vietnam to scale down its own military operations.

Postponed Pleasures

NEW YORK (AP) — Now and then life wears a mask of tiresome sameness.

Everyday actions become irksome by their repetition. "I'm bored with it all," the soul exclaims inwardly in shallow self-pity.

It helps at such times to put life in perspective by drawing up a list of possible adventures that might make the world more exciting. You may never perform these postponed pleasures, but it is fun to consider them.

FOR EXAMPLE, now in the shady side of 50, I find that, for one reason or another, I have yet to—Build a cofferdam or paint a flagpole.

Hold a ladder for a fireman while he rescues a kitten stranded in a tree.

Find a buried treasure.

Prove to my wife's satisfaction that the longest distance between two points is the shortest way home.

Catch a mouse in a trap.

Come in first in the rat race.

Inherit fame or money.

TELL A JOKE to a group of five people without at least three of them informing me later that they had heard it before.

Discover any kind of food that tastes better after its calories have been removed.

Reach up and find my brow is wet with honest sweat.

Get a callus on my finger

from counting the cash in my wallet.

Shame the devil by telling the truth.

Con a widow out of her mite.

WIN A GAME of stud poker aboard a Mississippi river steamboat.

Wear a police press card in my hand, and those reporter fellows do in the movies.

Have any newspaper stop its presses and tear open the front page for any story I ever covered.

Feather a love nest.

Tattoo an eagle or a girl's name in living color on my forearm.

Wrestle a boa constrictor.

Keep a psychiatrist on the edge of his seat listening with awe to the tale of my troubles.

DANCE a dithyramb, the boogaloo, or a blith strathspey.

Make a secret rendezvous with any member of a ruling European royal family.

Ghost the memoirs of Santa Claus under the title, "It Ain't the Sliding Down of Chimneys, It's the Climbing Back Up That Makes a Saint So Tired."

Bored? How can any man be, when the world is so full of interesting chores still left undone?

Now that I've given you my list, it's your turn to give me yours. But are you sure that you don't have something else better to do?

To Your Good Health

A Transfusion—But Not Of Blood

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: I have a friend whose religious beliefs forbid taking blood in transfusions. She was taken to a hospital because of hemorrhaging.

I asked what she would have done if a transfusion had been ordered to save her life, and she replied, "They have something else they can give you in place of blood."

Is this so? Is there anything which replaces blood completely? — Mrs. J. M.

What she says is true in part, but there is nothing which can replace blood entirely. Her reference evidently was to solutions containing salt, sugar (glucose) or sometimes other materials, and the so-called "plasma expanders" which are introduced into a vein to combat shock.

In cases of shock from loss of blood, merely the addition of fluid by transfusion, to increase the total volume in the circulatory system, is helpful. The use of plasma (that is, the fluid portion of blood, with most of the solid particles removed) is well known.

A glucose solution is given to provide nourishment (in the form of sugar) when a patient is unable to take nourishment by mouth.

Saline (salt) solutions, sometimes with other materials added, are often given to maintain the proper mineral balance in the body, as well as to keep adequate moisture in the system, as can be necessary if a patient is unconscious or unable to drink.

However, whole blood also contains many other components, red cells for transporting oxygen, white cells to combat infection and remove waste materials, platelets and other particles which are necessary for making the blood clot, albumin and other ingredients.

Thus for some purposes non-organic solutions may be used, but for other purposes there is no substitute for whole blood. This obviously poses a medical problem if a person's religious beliefs prohibit whole blood.

Dear Dr. Molner: Do two or three cigarettes daily do much harm to one's health? I am a college student, very active in sports, but like to smoke. I never smoke more than three or four a day. I need some honest advice. — T.B.N.

No, if you can keep it limited to three a day. But if you can do so, you are lucky. That's the trouble with cigarettes—the subtle, gradual impulse to smoke more. For that reason you'd be smarter to quit now when it would be relatively easy.

Rocket Plane Plunge Poses Major Mystery

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — "I'm in a spin . . . I'm in a spin . . . I'm in a spin . . ."

Those words from the calm-voiced pilot of an X15 rocket plane that plunged into the desert from an altitude of more than 50 miles Wednesday left investigators with a mystery.

Air Force Maj. Michael J. Adams went down to his death with the plane. Adams reported control troubles, but officials say that alone wasn't enough to cause the crash.

DEADLY DELAY

A National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said Adams may have delayed pulling his ejection mechanism in a last-ditch effort to gain control. That delay may have cost him his life.

Adams may have tried to eject from the craft and been unable to, but the spokesman said there is no indication this happened.

"There was apparently some kind of control malfunction as the pilot attempted to pull out of his descent," a NASA spokesman said.

"Pull it up . . . get some G on it, Mike," ground controllers told Adams seconds before he crashed. "Mike, do you read? Pull it up!"

Adams had reported control problems with the plane's dampers—devices to reduce oscillation as the craft is controlled. Then radar trackers showed he had regained control—but only for a very few seconds.

The NASA spokesman said there could be "any number of reasons" why Adams failed to eject after he lost control of the X15 the second time. "He could have blacked out . . . maybe the Gs (the powerful force, several times that of gravity, caused by change in speed or direction) got to them."

The problem with the dampers could have recurred, he said.

Dogs Will Guard Orange Bowl Blitz

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Some of the fanciest runs the Orange Bowl will ever see are expected to take place about half an hour after the next game ends.

Plagued with teams of vandals who blitz the refreshment stands after football games, Miami police announced Wednesday they would counter with a defense of police dogs.

Police said a warning system has been worked out where fans will be told they won't be bitten if they clear the stadium within 30 minutes after the game ends.

said, "but that alone wouldn't have been enough to cause the crash. There had to be something else, perhaps a major malfunction, perhaps not."

After flights investigating maneuverability in space X15s descend from high altitude on a glide path about 30 degrees below horizontal. The stubby ships come down pancake style as they enter denser atmosphere, where the pilot switches from automatic to manual control.

UNLUCKY ELEVEN

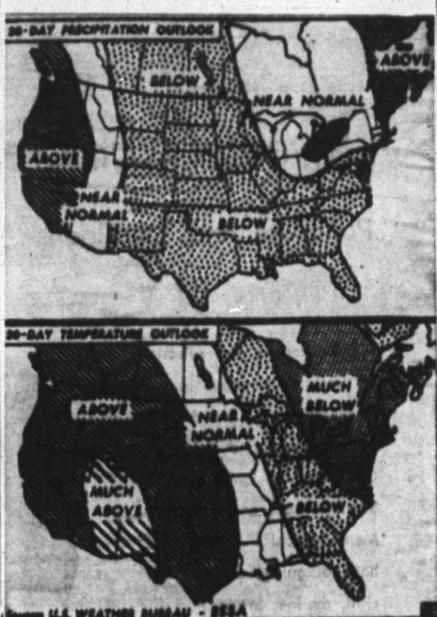

Adams' ship, one of three, crashed in the Mojave Desert north of Edwards AFB near the mining town of Johannesburg.

Adams, who lived at the base with his wife and three children, was on his 11th flight. The craft was dropped from the belly of a B52 at 10:30 a.m. and shot to about 265,000 feet on a routine research flight.

The X15 burns its 10 tons of fuel in about 85 seconds as it accelerates. Then the ship noses over and begins the long dive to earth.

As it enters denser atmosphere the pilot begins to pull the craft out of its dive and begins a glide to a landing. This is where Adams ran into trouble.

A NASA-Air Force board has been appointed to investigate the crash.

Two Southerners Squabble Over Tax-Dodging Groups

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two white-haired Southerners, both lawyers and seasoned public men, addressed each other at the Capitol Hill hearing in the politest of tones and with expressions of personal regard. But the things they said!

Rep. Wright Patman, 74, to Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler—"It is very seldom that anyone in the Treasury Department, let alone the secretary himself, shows enough interest in the massive problem of tax-dodging vis-à-vis foundations to travel all the way to the Hill!"

UNINFORMED

Fowler, 59, to Patman—"That comment could only come from one most uninformed."

Patman—"All I can say is I hope the Treasury is not dead, but I have not detected any promising signs of life."

Fowler, after remarking Congress has had Treasury recommendations for revising foundation laws for two years—"One could say that Congress is dead. It wouldn't advance the dialogue."

The Small Business subcommittee Patman heads, and before which Fowler appeared, is investigating Americans Building Constitutionally (ABC) of Barrington, Ill., which provides information on setting up foundations intended to be tax-free.

BUNGLING

But the Patman-Fowler questions and answers Wednesday hit the main subject only occasionally, and bounced off in various directions.

Patman, who contends ABC is a factory teaching high-income people how to dodge taxes, delivered his East Texas-flavored sermonettes in a flat schoolmaster voice. Fowler kept his Virginia accents disciplined, but

Connally Says War Cuts LBJ Backing

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Texas Gov. John Connally told a $25-a-plate fund-raising dinner Wednesday night the Johnson administration has lost popularity because "leaders have always lost some popularity in time of war."

Connally addressed some 5,000 persons at a party-sponsored gathering.

not quite so emotionless.

Patman: "The United States Treasury has distinguished itself by indifference, indolence and bungling."

"We would not now be plagued by the ABC if the Treasury had been on its toes instead of its back."

"The Treasury has traditionally treated the foundation tycoons with great sympathy and understanding."

FUNDS ASKED

Fowler: "Your remarks . . . again are a reflection of complete ignorance of what is going on."

"Looking at the role these foundations play, it seems to us the proper course is prompt and effective action to correct abuses rather than to try to destroy them as institutions."

"We could use a great deal more manpower and achieve a higher state of perfection. We have appealed to Congress for the funds."

As he left, the secretary thanked the chairman for finishing his questioning at a single session and promised, "The commissioner of Internal Revenue will be here to entertain you tomorrow."

The Same Man?

Left is man suspected by the West German government of being Heinrich Mueller, the last chief of the Nazi Gestapo. At right is Gestapo Chief Mueller.

Police Arrest Gestapo Chief?

PANAMA (AP) — Panamanian and West German police are investigating a graying, shabby peddler arrested on suspicion that he is Heinrich Mueller, Hitler's last Gestapo chief and Adolf Eichmann's boss.

The mystery man claimed he was a 61-year-old U.S. citizen, Francis Willard Keith, born in Webb City, Mo., but Panamanian authorities said his German-accented English was barely intelligible.

FINGERPRINTS
His fingerprints were flown to West Berlin for comparison with those of Mueller, who was reported alive in Hitler's bunker just before the fall of the Nazis in 1945.

A West Berlin newspaper, the Berliner Morgenpost, said the city prosecutor showed 12 pictures taken of the man in Panama in 1966 to Mueller's divorced wife and she exclaimed: "For God's sake, it is him."

Prosecutor Gerhard Spletzer said later he had been in Munich Wednesday to see Mrs. Sophie Mueller but that he could not confirm the report.

Mrs. Mueller was not immediately available for comment. The chief of Panama's Department of Investigations, Hector Valdes, said there was a strong resemblance between the man arrested Tuesday and photographs of Mueller but his department had failed to connect the two.

"I don't believe he is the man," Valdes told a reporter.

West Germany's Justice Ministry said the suspect was identified as Mueller by a Belgian informant who also said a Belgian graphologist had confirmed the suspect's handwriting was that of the former lieutenant general in Heinrich Himmler's SS Elite Guard.

'HOT TRAIL'
Newsmen who viewed the suspect at a news conference Wednesday night saw a man apparently in his 60s with several days growth of stubble. He sat silent in the glare of television lights, wearing a light gray coat and faded brown trousers. When a reporter handed him a microphone, he gave it to Valdes who did not permit questions.

Mueller was believed dead by many Germans, but last week the West German Central Office for Nazi Crimes said it had uncovered a new "hot trail" to him. It came from Simon Wiesenthal, the Viennese Nazi hunter who directed Israeli agents to Eichmann in Argentina.

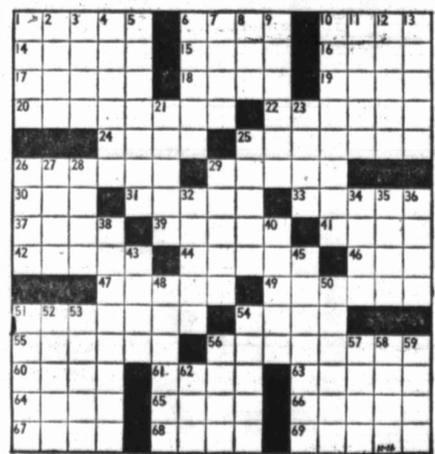

'HALF CRAZY'
Valdes said he personally arrested the man in a Panama City restaurant and described him as a peddler of ties, honey and liquor who had lived in Panama for eight or ten years.

In London, Dr. Gerhart Riegner, secretary-general of the World Jewish Congress, said Mueller was a leading participant in the 1942 Wannsee conference which planned the annihilation of Europe's Jews.

'Androcles And The Lion' Called Big Disappointment

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Not all of George Bernard Shaw's witty commentaries translate as comfortably into a musical form as "My Fair Lady"—not even when the music is written by Richard Rodgers.

NBC's adaptation of "Androcles and the Lion" arrived Wednesday night having lost somewhere along the way the bite and sly satire of the Irish playwright. The score, alas, was one of Rodgers' minor efforts. What came through in the 90 minutes was the familiar tale of a small timid tailor of ancient Rome, one of the Christians, whose love of animals gave him courage to pull a thorn from the paw of a lion.

OLD PAL
Captured by Roman soldiers, Androcles is placed in the arena with other Christians to be fed to the lions for the sport of Caesar and the populace. Of course, the lion turns out to be his old friend and his life is spared.

Norman Wisdom played Androcles in broad comedy style, even occasionally dropping into cockney baby-talk when speaking to his lion. Ed Ames had a song or two in his part of the giant who worried about his conscience. Inga Swenson appeared as a Christian girl who attracted a Roman captain—just enough for a couple of songs with him.

AMUSING BIT
Noel Coward as Caesar appeared at the end of the show and had one amusing number, "The Emperor's Thumb," which he delivered with considerable style.

But at no point did there seem to be a comfortable fit of story and music. Ancient Rome and the ordeals of early Christians combined with musical comedy like oil and water. Perhaps Rodgers' best number was a sort of hymn, "Follow in Our Footsteps," but, in the name of humor, even this one had the name changed at one point to "Feed Them to the Lions."

The show was a disappointment. Later on ABC, there was a slick attention holding adaptation of "Dial M for Murder." It is a dandy suspense story to start with and was done in good British whodunit style.

NBC will drop "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." now in its fourth season, after the Jan. 22 show. The replacement will be a variety series starring the comedy team of Rowan and Martin. The canceled show's ratings have been very low this season and its departure was expected.

NBC also confirmed officially that "Maya" will be replaced by "The Saint," in early March. The British action series did well as a summer replacement. "Accidental Family," the first series to go on Jan. 12—will be replaced by an evening edition of the morning game show, "Hollywood Squares."

ABC has announced the postponement of its Debbie Reynolds special, scheduled for next Sunday. Like Carol Channing's show, it was taped after the strike of union technicians against the network and under an agreement not to broadcast if the strike were still on. It will be replaced by a repeat of a cartoon show, "Alice in Wonderland, or What's a Nice Kid Like You? Doing in a Place Like This."

Recommended tonight: "Popendipity," ABC, 9-10 EST, Variety show with comedian Flip Wilson.
