NEAR BROWNWOOD Plane Crash Kills Mayor

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — J. G. Ghormley Jr., 46, mayor of the Fort Worth suburb of Edgely Village, died Saturday when his P51 Mustang, a World War II pursuit plane, crashed a half mile south of the Brownwood Airport runway.

He was general manager of the Cottrell Co., a manufacturer of printing presses.

Ralph Rubenkoenig of Fort Worth, the plant manager of the company, had flown Ghormley, his close friend, to Brownwood Friday to pick up the Mustang. By takeoff time, it was too late for Rubenkoenig to return to Fort Worth before dark in his Cessna.

Both men then returned to Fort Worth in the Mustang, and then doubled back to Brownwood Saturday to collect the Cessna.

Ghormley was practicing takeoffs and landings. The plane stalled and crashed on the third landing. It buried its nose in the ground, nosed over, caught fire and the gasoline tank exploded.

AREN'T LIKELY Cease-Fires

SAIGON (AP) — The allies aren't likely to go along with three-day cease-fires at Christmas and New Year's and a seven-day halt for Tet which the Communists announced Saturday.

There is no doubt shorter cease-fires, running one day at Christmas and New Year and perhaps 48 hours at Tet, the lunar new year, will be observed by the allies.

Such truces have been the rule in recent years, though repeatedly marked by bloody incidents, and President Nguyen Van Thieu said Nov. 11 they probably would be observed again this time.

But South Vietnamese and American officials are unanimous in saying the three-day and seven-day truces announced by the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front would give the Communists too much of an opportunity to move supplies and men into the South and to regroup their troops.

Soviet Flags Burned

NEW YORK (AP)—A crowd of about 2,000 Ukrainian demonstrators burned Soviet flags near the Russian mission to the United States Saturday.

Several were injured as police pushed them back from the building in midtown Manhattan.

More than 100 patrolmen, including some 20 mounted police, used nightsticks to move the demonstrators.

They had marched through midtown Manhattan to the Soviet mission after a rally in Madison Square Garden.

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

Big Spring has joined the parade of cities which will seek a decision on a city sales tax in December. The rush is due to the law which would delay collections until the third quarter if a referendum is delayed until January. Lamesa will vote on the matter Dec. 12, Colorado City Dec. 15, and Big Spring Dec. 16. City commissioners here promised a 10-cent cut in the ad valorem rate and earmarking of $100,000 per year for capital improvements if the tax is approved.

Usually collisions result in injuries and fatalities, but one-car exceptions can produce tragic exceptions. Mrs. Omega Dixon Johnson was killed when a car left the Andrews highway 3.9 west and overturned. R. E. Bennett was hurt seriously.

Violence erupted on the northern slopes a week ago today when a shooting claimed the life of Thomas Carreno, 31, and left Frank Maholly Jr., 25, critically wounded. Charged with murder and assault to murder with bonds set at $8,500 was Issmael Valdez.

The Webb AFB hospital project, together with a sprinkler system and data processing building, moved up the peg one more notch last week. The

Romney Introduces Family Members

Gov. George Romney presents members of his family to party leaders and workers after announcing that he will seek the 1968 Republican presidential nomination. From left: daughter, Mrs. Lynn Keenan; son Scott Romney and his wife, Ronna; son-in-law Dr. Bruce Robinson and daughter Jane Robinson; and Mrs. Romney, missing son, Mitt, is in France.

Romney Says He Wants To Lead U.S. Out Of Viet

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney, pledging his efforts to build this nation into one "worthy of God's blessing" and to lead it out of the Vietnam War, Saturday declared himself a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

ROCKY SUPPORT

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, a Romney backer, greeted the news reaffirming his fullest support for Romney as the man who most nearly would be "a moderate, able, winning candidate in 1968."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, described by Romney as likely to be his toughest contestant for the GOP nomination, called Romney a formidable candidate who has "an excellent record of service as governor" and is "an effective and energetic campaigner."

Romney became the first major figure in either party to announce aspirations for the highest political office in the land his parents fled more than half a century ago because of attacks against their Mormon religion.

FOUR PRIMARIES

He said he would enter at least four presidential primaries — New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Oregon.

Flanked by his attractive wife, Lenore, the 60-year-old three-term governor told a news conference in clear, emphatic tones, "I have decided to fight for and win the Republican nomination and election as president of the United States."

The announcement came in an 11-minute speech, which attacked President Johnson and was filled with declarations of moral duty typical of the devout Mormon.

It was made in Detroit's Veterans Memorial building where — in the same room — Romney launched his political career as a gubernatorial candidate less than six years ago.

HOUSING FITCH

Romney wasted no time in getting into action. After his announcement, which followed a breakfast meeting with 600 Republicans from Michigan, Romney returned to the meeting and made a strong pitch for an open housing law in Michigan.

Then he hurried into the first acknowledged campaign strategy meeting with top aides from Lansing and Washington, where campaign offices have been humming for months.

"The richest nation on earth is in a fiscal mess," Romney said in his announcement. "We are mired in an Asian land war which drains our resources and sacrifices our young men with no end in sight. We are becoming a house divided."

"The crime rate mounts and over half the major crimes are committed by teenagers," he added. "We have begun to see acceptance of irresponsibility as a way of life. There is a growing aimlessness and flabbiness in our American life."

LEADERSHIP

A Republican president is needed, Romney said, "to build a new America," and leadership is needed to "again elevate religion and morality to their position of paramount importance." Romney told scores of newsmen after his announcement that the No. 1 plank in his campaign platform will be "leadership and the re-establishment of truth and morality in America."

He also said he would remain in office as governor while campaigning.

Painting President Johnson as a man who, regardless of his intentions, is creating increasing government control over American lives, Romney said many of the nation's ills result from "unfulfilled promises, false optimism, and lack of candor."

Defending his open housing proposals, which are in jeopardy in the Michigan Legislature because GOP lawmakers fear voter disapproval if they vote for the bills, Romney asked Republicans at the meeting after the announcement if they meant what they said in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Troops Hammering Commie Regulars

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. air cavalrymen and South Vietnamese troops hammered at Hanoi regulars on two ridges in the Dak To sector Saturday, pursuing a drive that American commanders believe has upset plans for a major Communist offensive.

American jet squadrons apparently hit again at North Vietnam in the effort to cut Red supply lines. Though there was no immediate announcement by the U.S. command, Radio Hanoi said one strike centered at Hai Phong, the frequently raided port city.

CLAIM

The Communists broadcast a claim they shot down eight planes.

Capture of two key heights Friday in the Dak To sector, fronting on the Laotian frontier 270 miles north of Saigon, freed combat units for pressure at other points the Communists had laboriously entrenched and supplied over a period of weeks. "They were well prepared for this fight," said Col. Richard

Johnson, "and we have preempted them in the first round by forcing them to fight where we wanted to and not where they had planned to fight."

Johnson commands the U.S. 4th Infantry Division's 1st Brigade, one of the major units in an allied force totaling about 10,000 men that is pitted against perhaps 8,000 North Vietnamese in that area of the central highlands.

HEAVY CONTACT

A battalion of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division battled North Vietnamese troops on the flank of a mountain nine miles west of Dak To. A spokesman said the contact was heavy.

Government rangers and paratroopers fought for high ground nine miles northeast of Dak To.

The U.S. Command in Saigon said 764 North Vietnamese troops had been killed and 12 captured through Friday in the operations that flared Nov. 3. American losses were put at 136 dead and 600 wounded.

IN PRIMARIES

Kennedy Will Not Campaign For LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., has no present intention of campaigning either for President Johnson or the latter's possible opponent, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., in 1968 presidential primaries.

Kennedy, who has announced he will support a Johnson-Humphrey ticket for re-election, has made it clear to friends he feels this commitment to campaign for the President applies only after Johnson's renomination.

PLAYS IT 'COOL'

At the same time, he will avoid repudiation of McCarthy's views on Vietnam, which are essentially similar to his own. But he expects to stand aside while the Minnesota senator follows the path of primary contests.

The New York senator said recently he would have something more to say about his commitment if and when McCarthy officially enters the contest. But he has told his associates not to expect any startling pronouncement.

The guessing among them is that he will say it's a free country in which men are at liberty to oppose each other in the primaries but will avoid any specific endorsement of either.

FRUSTRATIONS

In the judgment of the Kennedy camp, McCarthy will have to provide something more than Vietnam dissent to make a respectable showing. The thing he will have to meld with are frustrations with the President's domestic programs.

Veteran Local School Leader Dies In Dallas

Blankenship Rites To Be On Monday

Death came Saturday in Dallas to W. C. Blankenship who, as superintendent of Big Spring schools for 28 years, made as large a contribution to local education as any man in the city's history.

Known fondly far and wide as "Supe," Mr. Blankenship suffered a heart attack three weeks ago, and since was stricken by a series of others; his condition had been critical for some days. However, he had been removed Thursday from a hospital to the home of his son, W. C. Jr., where he suffered a quick, fatal stroke about noon Saturday. He was 70.

RITES MONDAY

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Monday, at the Lamar and Smith Funeral Home, 800 West Jefferson, Dallas, with Dr. Harold H. Morgan, pastor of Cliff Temple Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Dallas. Five brothers and one brother-in-law, Tom Beasley, formerly of Big Spring, will be pallbearers.

Mr. Blankenship was born Jan. 8, 1897, in Hill County, and attended public schools there. He later attended North Texas State Teachers College (now NTSU) in Denton, where he received his BA degree.

Besides the widow, there are four children: Mrs. Joyce Boswell, Little Rock, Mrs. Ann Clark, Oxen Hill, Md.; W. C. Blankenship Jr., Dallas, and Mrs. Sue Harwell, Cloudford, N.M.; and eight grandchildren.

Also surviving are the five brothers, Floyd Blankenship of Lorenzo, Alton of Denton, J. D. of Big Lake, Victor of Dallas and Wilden of Hereford; five sisters, Mrs. Leon Copeland, Lohn; Mrs. Brittle Bledsoe and Mrs. Ernest Exom, Lubbock; Mrs. J. L. Waller, Cleburne, and Mrs. Jack Long, Dallas. Two sisters preceded him in death.

He had served 44 years in the educational field, and became superintendent in Big Spring in 1928.

Even after his retirement as superintendent in 1956, Mr. Blankenship retained the title of superintendent emeritus, and continued actively in the school system as principal and supervisor until he reached maximum retirement age in 1962.

MOVED TO DALLAS

He continued until recently to reside in Big Spring, and never lost interest in the schools, their teachers and the students. Members of his family said that even during his last days, he was "re-living" the experiences as leader of the local education system.

He and Mrs. Blankenship determined just a few months ago that they should move to Dallas to be nearer their children.

"Supe" had the affection of literally generations of pupils, many of whom remained through difficult times under his administration.

STORY OF SCHOOLS

The story of his career, literally, is that of the Big Spring public school system. He headed it in the dark times of the depression, in the difficult days of World War II, and during trying days of rapid growth.

During his tenure, the school census almost quadrupled, and also the teaching staff; curriculum offerings were doubled, various new departments and services added; value of plant increased more than five-fold; thousands of Big Spring's young people marched by through the years to receive their diplomas.

TROUBLES

Mr. Blankenship had his trying times. For instance, in 1936, the district, faced with financial problems, turned down the opportunity to levy a permissive $1.50 rate; and on the heels of this voters approved (with no additional taxes) $65,000 in bonds (See Blankenship, P. 6-A, C. 6)

Pound Devalued, All Banks Closed

LONDON (AP) — The British government has devalued the pound, imposed drastic new credit restrictions and sought a billion-dollar loan from the International Monetary Fund to stave off bankruptcy.

The treasury announced Saturday night the momentous decision to cut the value of the pound from $2.80 to $2.40. This amounts to 14.3 per cent.

TRADE SAGS

Led by the United States, the world's big banking nations announced one by one they would not follow suit, thus at least initially permitting the devaluation to work its full effect in stimulating Britain's sagging export trade.

The government's emergency action came after weeks of attacks on the pound that had sent it to its lowest level in years. It was the result of an agreement patiently worked out in tough bargaining with top banking nations.

All British banks and stock exchanges were ordered closed Monday while arrangements for the new exchange rate were worked out.

CREDIT

In Washington, the British embassy reported an application to the International Monetary Fund for $1.4 billion in standby credit that Britain could draw on to cover balance of payments requirements as they arise.

An embassy aide said that in addition to imposing strict credit restraints, the fiscal package accompanying devaluation of the pound includes increased taxes, strict enforcement of existing wage and income controls and additional restraints on installment credit.

The government rebate now given exporters of certain products will be dropped, the embassy said, because the lowered value of the pound should make British goods proportionately cheaper in terms of foreign currencies.

1949 CRISIS

The pound was last devalued in 1949, going from $4.03 to $2.80, in the depth of a postwar economic crisis.

The first foreign reaction Saturday night came from Stockholm where the Swedish National Bank said it will not follow Britain by devaluing the Swedish crown. One pound from now on equals 12.4157 Swedish crowns.

A British government statement said steps will be taken to protect the nation's poor from hardship resulting from the devaluation.

This island kingdom imports much of its food and most of the raw materials used by its factories, and the price of these imports will go up by the same percentage as the devaluation — roughly 14.3 per cent. Export prices should go down by the same amount.

PACKAGE

The devaluation obviously was part of a package worked out by international bankers in the past week of hectic negotiations.

The government also announced a formal application to the International Monetary Fund for an immediate credit of $1.4 billion and said it has "assured" that this application will receive prompt and sympathetic consideration.

Vote Reform Chances Fade

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chances are waning that Congress will complete an application on election-reform legislation, and the political infighting is increasing over who is to blame.

Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., chief Republican sponsor of a bipartisan measure before the House Administration Committee, said Democratic absenteeism is responsible for its repeated inability to muster a quorum.

The committee plans to try again Monday, but Chairman Omar Burleson, D-Tex., said he is not optimistic.

Burleson agreed with Goodell that some committee members "are not entirely happy with the bill and are not cooperating too well." He added this has been a greater problem with Democrats than Republicans.

But Rep. Lucien Nedetz, D-Mich., said Republican absenteeism frequently has been over 50 per cent. And Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., said "there's no calculated absenteeism."

If a quorum of the 25-member committee shows up, Goodell said that the panel's 11 Republicans plus Burleson and Rep. Robert T. Ashmore, D-S.C., chief Democratic sponsor, could combine to approve the pending measure.

Rangerettes Will Spice Thanksgiving

KILGORE, Tex. (AP)—Throngs in New York and millions on national television will see an extra Thanksgiving Day dish—the Kilgore College Rangerettes, accompanied by the Ranger Band.

The internationally known precision drill and dance troupe will be featured performers in the Turkey Day parade, a 40-block, spectacular which launches the Christmas season.

Miss Gussie Neil Davis, originator and director of the Rangerettes, and band director Wallace Read are putting their performers through rehearsals for starting roles. They will be in the HemisFair '68 portion of the parade, bringing before the public the San Antonio fair opening next spring.

The 119 collegians and staff shove off Tuesday from Dallas Love Field at 8:30 a.m. to give them time to sight-see and rehearse in New York.

The groups were in New York once before to appear on the Ed Sullivan television show.

They will fly home Thursday night.

West Texas Ranges In Good Condition

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Texas this week is in relatively good shape agriculturally. Rains have helped pastures and nippy weather has halted growth on late crops.

John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said the only areas still a little short on moisture are parts of the Panhandle, East Texas and the southeast.

Livestock are faring well. Some feeding has been reported, but rains have invigorated native pastures and spurred temporary pastures. Ranchers in many areas are busy with deer hunters.

District agents summed things up like this: Moisture is generally short, while harvesting is speeding up because of a recent freeze in the Panhandle. The grain sorghum crop is about 90 per cent harvested. Sugar beets, lettuce and carrot harvesting goes on.

In the Lubbock region, damp weather has slowed some harvesting. A general freeze stopped all growth and boosted cotton and castor bean harvesting. The sorghum crop is about done.

FROST NEEDED Rains varying up to 4 inches has put moisture in fine shape in most of the Vernon area. Grain is growing well and offering some grazing. Cotton, guar and grain sorghum harvesting is under way. Heavier frost is needed to defoliate cotton.

Moisture is generally adequate in North Central Texas with rains ranging up to 5 inches. Wheat planting is 55 to 100 per cent completed and early grains are providing good grazing. The cotton harvest is nearly complete, pecans are 30 to 90 per cent harvested, and peanuts are 60 to 90 per cent in.

In Northeast Texas, adequate moisture has put cattle in good condition, although pastures are average to below. Stock marketing has slowed in some counties.

Moisture in Deep East Texas varies from very short to adequate. In general, pastures need rain, although cattle are in good condition. Marketing is heavy and feeding has started. Harvesting is mostly finished.

Moisture in South Central Texas is adequate to surplus. This has delayed plowing; peanut and hay harvesting; and flax and grain planting. Pastures are average to above, where the armyworms did not hit. Livestock are fair to excellent.

Along the upper Gulf Coast, rains put all counties in good shape except Grimes, which is still dry. Pastures are good in all counties except Orange and Washington. Cotton is almost harvested and corn is out of the fields. Soybean harvesting in Matagorda County is just starting. Other counties are almost through. Some rice counties are into a second cutting. Oats are being planted for winter grazing where fields are dry enough.

Moisture in the Rio Grande Valley ranges from adequate to excessive. Wet fields continue to plague farmers. There is light vegetable harvesting in the Winter Garden. Vegetable planting is generally at a standstill. Pastures are fine, and cattle are in good flesh.

General Holiday Will Be Observed

Thanksgiving Day, as is historic in Big Spring, will be a general holiday.

No other holiday of the year, with the possible exception of Christmas, is so generally observed.

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce said Friday it did not believe very many establishments would be open Thursday.

For some workers, the Thursday holiday will be the beginning of a long weekend. These are persons employed in places which will not resume operations until Monday of next week.

The Howard County courthouse will be one such establishment. Most of the offices—not all—will be closed Thursday and Friday. This will give the clerks and deputies a four-day vacation.

City, state, federal and most private businesses, however, go back on routine Friday.

Webb AFB will be on holiday status Thursday.

The major local observance down completely with no operations outside in evidence. Inside, a skeleton crew will care for incoming and outgoing mail. No deliveries will be made.

Banks will be closed.

The major local observance of the day will be the Union Thanksgiving Services at the Webb AFB chapel at 10 a.m. This service, sponsored by the Big Spring Pastor's Association, will feature an address by Ed C. Keefe, Oklahoma City

'Mayor' Dabney Marks Birthday In Hospital

George W. Dabney, who held the title of mayor of Big Spring longer than any other individual, will celebrate his 80th birthday Monday—this time in a hospital bed.

He is confined to his room (991) at Malone and Hogan Hospital. Many friends, however, are sending him greetings on the occasion of his birthday.

"Mayor" Dabney was born in Trenton, Tenn. Nov. 20, 1887 and came to Texas not long after the turn of the century. He settled in Monahans and went to work for the T&P railroad.

When Toyah (where he had moved) organized in 1910, he was elected an alderman and secretary, serving until 1916. In the meantime he worked for a bank and mercantile establishment before returning to the T&P in 1920. Enmeshed in his town's affairs, he once served (1927-30) both as city alderman and school board president at the same time.

When he transferred to Big Spring as ticket agent in 1931, he had one resolve—not to mess any more with politics. One day in 1945, however, he suddenly decided to file for city commissioner and was elected. Every time he ran for re-election over the next 14 years he led the ticket.

At the turn of this decade, he retired and devoted much of his time to the Security State Bank where he was first named president and later chairman of the board. Mr. Dabney has been one of the leaders of the First Christian Church since moving here. He and Mrs. Dabney have seven children.

Busy Months Ahead, Big Projects Are Scheduled

The Colorado River Municipal Water District faces another busy two months, and no small amount of the activity will be looking toward next summer and toward completion of the Robert Lee dam project.

Dec. 21 has been fixed as the date for receiving bids on 33 miles of 36-inch concrete steel cylinder pipe or steel pipe from Big Spring to the Martin County pump station, said O. H. Ivie, general manager. This job may cost in excess of $3,000,000.

The right of way for most of this project has been obtained, Ivie reported, with two or three more contacts this week able to clear it all. Ivie said that the district has encountered an unusually fine spirit of cooperation on this route.

A meeting of the board of directors is likely in early December, possibly Dec. 7, to consider plans for two major items—mounds for a dozer and a half producing oil wells within the Robert Lee basin, and big pumps capable of lifting millions of gallons per day from the flush flow of the Colorado River. These pumps would be part of a diversion works project designed to intercept the mineralized flow of the river and divert it into side storage. Once the mineral content of water following rises declined to a certain point, the water would flow downstream to the new lake. The district has had contacts about purchasing the diverted water for repressuring, and some decisions on this may be made in January.

Also due for consideration in January will be the annual rates for member cities and other customers; the ordering of pumps for the main pump station at Robert Lee; awarding the diversion pump and the mound contracts.

Within the next two months the district may decide on the location of a diversion site, likely in Mitchell somewhere above Colorado City.

Ivie pointed out that early lettings on the mound construction contracts and on the foundations for the main pump station are tied to the scheduled beginning of the dam closure Aug. 1, 1968. The mounds are designed to put the well heads of the oil producers "in the dry" when the lake is filled. Similarly, the foundation work on the pump station needs to be complete before water is impounded.

Meanwhile, the district's brush clearing operations also are being pressed with an eye on the calendar.

The Big Spring-Martin County leg of the pipeline is being let first because it will add flexibility to the supply system. Currently, a 27-inch section connects Big Spring and the Martin County station, but from the station to Odessa there are parallel lines of 27-inch and 33-inch diameter. A second line would enable the district to deliver more Lake J. B. Thomas water to the west end in event 1968 runoff should add substantially to Lake Thomas supplies. It could conceivably shove forward the time that one or both of a Midland or Stanton would begin taking water from the district.

No date has been set for seeking bids on the long section of pipeline from Big Spring to Robert Lee. Officials are considering asking for bids on this by sections.

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL

Lady Fired A Cannon For Austin's Capital

By ED SYERS

Recently we hunted famous Texas women; and perhaps pioneer wife Angelina Belle Eberly was only extraordinary. Ah it seemed she did, one bleak December night in 1842 Austin was to fire a cannon up Congress Avenue at some wagoners' loading records from the land office building.

What she may have done was to hold Texas' capital in Austin instead of Houston.

You recall our early seats of government — shifting faster than a linebacker with a leaky defense: San Felipe, Washington-on-the-Brazos, Harrisburg, Galveston, Velasco, Columbia, Houston. By 1840, the shaky Republic selected northwestern Austin; and many a man, sage as Sam Houston, knew that sag-walled outpost was too frontier-remote.

Also Sam was not too keen on fiery Mirabeau Lamar, to whom he'd relinquished the presidency and from whom he'd taken it back. Houston was for U.S. annexation; Lamar saw a Texas-to-the-Pacific, and had launched the ill-planned, ill-fated Santa Fe Expedition that now brought Mexico retaliation. A capital in Austin was Lamar's choice.

Twice, this year of 1842, Mexico's troops had seized San Antonio—March and September—the last time driven back at the Battle of Salado. President Sam knew there was nothing above San Antonio to check the capture of the outpost capital; he had convened his Texan Congress in his namesake town, where colonists were numerous round the coast. But how do you convene a congress when the state papers are elsewhere? Which gets us to Mrs. Angelina Eberly and her cannon. She was an Austinite, into the Old Colony from Tennessee, early as 1822; and from her downtown Eberly House was just as determined as other frontier folk that her town, population 800, would remain the capital.

ON THE SLY
With hard winter, 1842, Houston detached a small Ranger troop under Capt. Thomas I. Smith and Eli Chandler. Slip into Austin, get the archives, get back to Washington-on-the-Brazos, then maybe Houston. But whatever, no bloodshed! Now, archives to most of us are musty things for historians. But these were the living documents that carried the shot-by-shot record of the little Republic's birth. Eluding capture, they'd been hauled by wagon and mule, lost in the mud, partly burned; but they were still what made Texas, Texas. You just don't assemble Congress in Houston without them. Another attack could take Austin and the records, too. Better move them! Also, Houston might just stay the capital. So off the troopers cantered.

Into Austin, late on the cold night of Dec. 30, 1842, they rode. Eberly House (close by Sixth Street's downtown center today) was one place you would have stayed. It was also where redoubtable, Angelina Belle, in her 40's, stayed wakeful late at night. Lots of wagons were around. Lots of quiet riders who looked ready to leave again! Outside in the night, she saw them, loading the records, across the street. She did what an extraordinary woman would have done.

She rushed to Congress Avenue where a small cannon stood guard. She touched it off with one salvo in the general direction of the busy wagons. They moved out rapidly, near-loaded. No fighting — according to their orders.

SHOT ROUSED TOWN
But Mrs. Eberly's cannon roused her town. Its riders were saddled shortly and in pursuit. At old Kenney's Fort, near today's Round Rock, they overtook Capt. Smith. He turned over the archives; and back to Austin they went, boxed to stay. Within two years, the Texan Congress followed them. Austin, not Houston, remained capital.

Now this is what we all skim in history, each reading: because who wants to study something called "The Archives War"? I think I'd have added "featuring Angie's Artillery," for maybe nowadays kids would have read more... and would understand more.

But they didn't. So we skip the Archives War, and Angelina Eberly isn't famous. Well, I'll take an extraordinary woman any day.

Dear Abby

Boy With No Manners

DEAR ABBY: Don't you think a girl's steady boy friend (almost her fiance) should be allowed to come to dinner at her house as often as he wants to? Mother has set a limit of three times a week.

I say Leo should be welcome here every night as we plan to marry as soon as one of us gets out of school and gets a job.

Daddy has gotten very hateful about it and calls Leo a free-loader behind his back. He says any boy who will accept a dinner invitation more than once a week without inviting the girl out, even for a hotdog, is a bum. Leo isn't a bum. He just doesn't have the money to take me out so the only time I get to see him is when I invite him here for dinner. He used to drop by to study every evening and he'd stay on for dinner.

But never more than five nights a week.

How can I get my parents to make Leo welcome any time?

LEO'S STEADY
DEAR STEADY: Leo may be your "steady" but he hardly qualifies as a "fiance." I think three times a week is plenty. And if you see Leo only when he's feeding his face at your table, maybe three times a week is too much.

DEAR ABBY: I am in the sixth grade and I hate my teacher. If Miss K catches a girl with her skirt rolled up at the top to make it shorter, she makes her unroll it, and tells her if she catches her with her skirt rolled up again she will call her mother.

Abby, a girl can come to school with a real, real, short mini-skirt, like eight inches above the knees, and Miss K doesn't say a thing, but the girls with their skirts rolled up get the Dickens. I don't think this is fair, do you?

HATES MISS K
DEAR HATE: Girls who wear mini-skirts to school obviously do so with their mothers' knowledge and approval. But if a girl's skirt is rolled up, she's probably showing more leg than her mother sent her to school showing.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I live in a very nice new apartment building where most of the tenants socialize with each other. We're not newly-weds. The average is 30.

Well, last summer a new craze hit this building. All the women went on diets. Now, I'm all for it, when it's done sensibly, but about six of these women, my wife included, have gone off the deep end. No cock-tails, no sweets. Nothing but eggs, meat, and cottage cheese.

I will admit, they do look better, but it hasn't improved their dispositions any. My wife has lost 25 pounds since July; (I call her "The Twiggy of Menopause Manor.")

My problem? How can I get a decent meal around here?

HUNGRY
DEAR HUNGRY: What do you weigh? If you're just right, be a good guy and satisfy your craving when your wife isn't around. Otherwise, do yourself a favor, and join her in meat, eggs, and cottage cheese.

Carr Says Voters Urging Him To Run

AUSTIN (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr said Saturday that Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., should resign from the Senate if he runs for governor next year.

Carr, defeated last year when he tried to unseat Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., said Yarborough would have an unfair advantage over other candidates if he remains in the Senate while running for governor.

Carr, who said he is considering a race for governor himself, said a law is needed to prevent persons from running for office while still holding a Senate seat.

PATRONAGE

Yarborough has been mentioned as a possible candidate for governor. He said, soon after Gov. John Connally decided against a fourth term race, that he would announce his decision after Congress adjourns. Re-elected in 1964, Yarborough's term expires in January, 1971.

"A U.S. senator has control of vast areas of patronage and power, as well as the key votes on issues that control much of our day-to-day living. He can threaten the voters with his senatorial power; if they do not support him for governor, he can retaliate down the line as their senator," Carr said in a statement.

"Texas has passed legislation which prevents some of our much less potent political office holders from having this unfair advantage—such as county officials who are prevented from running for one office while holding another. If such an advantage is considered dangerous at this level, think how much more potential abuse is inherent in the power and advantage held by a U.S. senator."

Since Connally withdrew, Carr said he has received many letters, telegrams and telephone calls urging him to run for governor. He said he hopes to decide "in the near future."

Sander Stolen

Police are investigating a theft reported Saturday morning by Vergil Fraser, Coahoma, at 2600 Eleventh Place, where he was retilling a bathroom. While he was working, someone entered the kitchen and stole an electric sander.

ANSWERS TO SOME QUESTIONS

About A City Sales Tax

Big Spring citizens on Dec. 16 will vote on whether their city shall institute a one-cent sales tax for city revenue. Here is the first of a series of articles which attempt to answer various facets of the proposal. It is suggested that this column might be clipped and used as reference in any discussion of the proposition.

Other elements will appear in subsequent issues of The Herald. Meanwhile, if you have specific questions, you may direct them to the editor of The Herald and an attempt will be made to give the correct answer.

Q. How much is the proposed municipal sales tax?

A. A penny on a dollar's worth of certain purchases. It is a one per cent limited sales and use tax on certain items sold at retail, and follows exactly the taxable items and exempt items now included in the state levy. All state and city sales taxes may be deducted on your federal income tax return.

Q. Can the City of Big Spring increase the sales tax percentage?

A. No, the one per cent tax is set by Texas law and cannot be increased.

Q. What are some of the items exempt?

A. Again, the state exemptions are followed. In the main, excluded are food products which are not prepared for eating, prescription medicines and prescription eyeglasses and various prosthetic devices; also automobiles and farm machinery, tobacco, alcoholic beverages, gasoline, telephone and telegraph, water, meals served by hospitals to patients, meals sold by churches, and many others.

Q. When would the city sales tax take effect?

A. If approved, it would become effective April 1, 1968. Revenues for this second quarter of the year would not come back to the city (from the state) until after next June 30.

Q. How would the city tax affect the merchant?

A. It does not change his present procedure one bit. Instead of reporting the present two-cent tax total to the state comptroller, he would report on a three-cent collection. All returns are made to the comptroller, as of now; this agency in return will remit back to the city.

Q. How much revenue would the penny tax produce each year?

A. It is estimated from Big Spring retail sales, that this would be about $250,000 annually.

Q. Would this affect the present ad valorem tax?

A. Yes, the city administration has announced that it will reduce the present city ad valorem tax by 10 cents on the $100 valuation this next year, if the sales tax revenue is made available.

Q. What about the use of the revenue?

A. The city administration has said it will earmark 50 per cent of increased revenues for permanent capital improvements. Heretofore, such money was available only when improvement bonds (with an accompanying tax) were voted. The city feels that it can accomplish many improvements on a pay-as-you-go basis, and be prepared to handle worthwhile projects as they are needed.

Q. What about the other money?

A. This has not been spelled out, and probably cannot be pinpointed to the last dollar. The fact is that Big Spring, as any other public agency, must be prepared to meet the people's requirements, in police and fire protection, to maintain competent personnel as the people demand, and to meet the rising cost of doing business, in meeting payrolls, buying equipment and supplies, paying insurance and all similar type of obligations.

Q. Is the additional revenue needed?

A. It is possible that the City of Big Spring could "get by" one more year at the present ad valorem tax rate. After that, an increase might be necessary. It certainly would be if the city keeps pace with normal improvements, stays competitive in employing adequate and competent personnel. Recent budgets have contained no "leeway" to meet capital improvement requirements.

United Fund Meet Called

The workers of the Metropolitan and Special Gifts division of the United Fund will hold a special meeting Monday in the conference room of the Chamber of Commerce at 5:15 p.m. according to Harold Davis, general chairman.

All captains are urged to attend the meeting and make a report. All individual workers who have not completed their cards are asked to bring the cards to the meeting. There will be a short clean-up campaign to bring these two divisions to a close. Davis said he believed the drive would reach its goal of $116,121.69 if the workers would complete their cards.

MoPac Suggests Probe Of UP

ST. LOUIS —The Missouri Pacific Railroad today requested a sweeping investigation to determine whether the Union Pacific Railroad is exercising control over the Illinois Central Railroad without the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and intends to extend that control to the Gulf, Mobile & Ohio and the Frisco railroads.

The request for the investigation was triggered by the recent announcement of a proposed merger by the Illinois Central and GM&O railroads, and the purchase by both roads of a substantial block of Frisco stock, the Missouri Pacific said.

In a petition filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Missouri Pacific pointed out that Union Pacific owns 24.20 per cent of Illinois Central Industries, which in turn owns 92 per cent of outstanding stock of the Illinois Central Railroad.

THE WEEK

Senate voted out the full amount ($2,296,000), the same as the House. Conferees are not expected to alter this.

Another sizable building project was wrapped up last week with letting of a contract to J. D. Jones Construction for $74,195 for a new home for the Webb AFB Credit Union. The attractive structure will have a handy location just south of wing headquarters and between the base chapel and BX.

Speaking of construction, a major job will be shaping up for this vicinity in January. The Colorado River Municipal Water District will open bids Dec. 21 on 33 miles of 36-inch pipeline from Big Spring to central Martin County. This looks like a $3,000,000 job, of which most will be in pipe cost.

Security State Bank last week doubled its capital, had a 1-1 stock split, then revalued the stock (par $20 rather than $100) so that stockholders get five shares for one. The bank now has $200,000 in capital stock, $600,000 in paid in and accumulated surplus.

The United Fund is heading down the home stretch, and it's an uphill one. One thing which will help more than almost anything is for the scores of workers who took cards and then failed to report to mark off Monday and complete their cards and turn them in by 5 p.m. Harold Davis, general chairman, emphasized that the cards are needed then, worked or unworked. The fund is at nearly $98,000, or about 86 per cent of the target.

Howard County Junior College trustees took a significant step toward its plans for a vocational school plant, authorizing working drawings. Trustees want to have final plans waiting if and when college facilities act funds are available. Previously, the Dora Roberts Foundation had given $200,000 toward this project. The next six months should tell the tale on this.

Last Sunday morning, someone stole bundles of Herald's put out for certain routes, then scattered them over US 87 South. We always look for circulation, but this is ridiculous.

An unique project got the green light from school trustees last week — the construction of a residence. This will be done by boys in the building trades as a class project. It has the blessing of building crafts who are interested in young hands coming on to bolster the ranks. These lads already have some experience in improvements at Bauer school. Now they are going to see if they can swim by plunging into the water.

An evaluation team from the Texas Education Agency checked schools here for three days last week, and a report is due in a few weeks. While some roses may come in the bouquet, it will be surprising if a thorn is not raised on the question of libraries. The district has provided better facilities and knows it needs more volumes, perhaps more personnel.

You can't bat much better than seven for seven. That's how many Big Spring High's choral department entered in all-regional tryouts and how many landed all-regional choir berths. Three (Danny Thompson, Beth Hayworth, Stephanie Sokolewicz) will be eligible for all-state tryouts here Jan. 12. Incidentally, circle that date — you don't want to miss that 170-voice choir. By the way, the Choir boosters lost their president — Capt. Don Neal, who has been a good worker, has received orders for Vietnam.

Big Spring business and professional men, along with those from four other cities, had an eye-opener last week when they toured the Robert Lee dam project as guests of the Colorado River Municipal Water District. Statistics don't mean much until you stand in front of a man-made mountain or shrink to peanut-size beside a massive spillway structure.

Albert Smith, who has been active in behalf of the Salvation Army for several years, will be chairman of the advisory board next year. Another old friend, Dr. P. D. O'Brien, will come here from Houston to speak to the advisory board at a annual meeting Dec. 8.

After five years, C. H. DeVaney, Coahoma, is out as president of the Texas Farm Bureau. For many years he was a district director, then a vice president for the bureau before he was made president in 1962. There is no word here on his plans.

The Big Spring Steers ended the season on a low note. It started out like a high, clear one at San Angelo, and suddenly the Steers couldn't believe how well they were doing. When they finally regained their poise and pride, it was much, much too late. Ah well, there's always next year.

Auto Bangs Rail, Pole

Seven minor accidents were reported to the police Friday. Roger Atkinson, 310 Jones, and Juan Para, 505 NW 7th, were in collision at Ninth and Goliad.

Ila Hogan, 1310 Stadium, was involved in an accident with a parked car belonging to Douglas Cotter in the Piggly Wiggly parking lot. Neika Ikeler, Sands Motel, and Billie Baldock, and 15 20 overpass.

Old San Angelo Hwy., were in collision at Fourth and Gregg. Lorain V. Warren Jr., 2903 Navajo, and Steve Clyde Bynum, 4203 Wasson Road, were in an accident at Parkway and Wasson Road. Don Sherman Rasberry, 107 W. 10th, JoAnn Allen, 805 Dallas, were in collision at Seventh and Main.

Malcolm Q. Stephens, 1605 Robin, and John Everett Tibbets, 2401 Scurry, were involved in an accident at Eleventh and Gregg. A car driven by Arthur Ray Fenton, Baird, struck a guard rail, stop sign and telephone pole at the Birdwell Lane and 15 20 overpass.

Look at this '68 "youngmobile" from Oldsmobile.

Wouldn't it look great in your driveway?

This new Cutlass S has a way of making things look younger. Even driveways. That's because of all the young ideas we built into it. A bigger 350-cubic-inch V-8, for instance. (Or, if you prefer, an Action-Line 6.) And a taut coil spring suspension that makes it easy to cut and turn in tight places. And you can order a whole carfull of young-it-up accessories like bucket seats, stick-shift or stereo. But if you think Cutlass S is young all over, don't forget that it is Olds all over, too. Olds quality, Olds engineering and the new GM safety features are all standard.

Young Demos Elect LBJ Backer Prexy

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Vice president Hubert H. Humphrey Saturday outlined "a coalition of retreat" in America and said "the retreaters will have trouble settling on one presidential candidate who will suit their divergent views of the world."

'IDEALISTIC PEOPLE' Humphrey made the remarks in a speech before the national convention of the Young Democratic Clubs of America which had hours before shouted approval for a resolution "suggesting" that President Johnson consider a bombing pause in Vietnam.

In a news conference Friday, Johnson said proponents of the bombing pause were "idealistic people" but served only "to mislead and confuse and weaken our position."

However, Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey who was at the convention, said "what they say here is important. I think the young Democrats are clearly in support of the President."

A former Bailey aide, R. Spencer Oliver, 30, of Bowie, Md., was elected president of the Young Democrats' national organization later Saturday. Oliver, who resigned as Bailey's administrative assistant to seek the job, supports President Johnson.

The only other nominee for the post, Thomas Sullivan, 35, of Boston, withdrew. At the general convention session, called at midnight and lasting until after 4 a.m., a spirited call for the re-election of Johnson received a standing ovation that outlasted any other demonstration of the four-day meeting.

In his 3,000-word speech, Humphrey said, "The coalition of retreat on foreign policy, is nonpartisan; it runs from far right to far left, and its objectives are not homogeneous."

Connally said he opposed the Dallas motorcade "fearing not violence but embarrassment." "I was afraid of rude signs or that the crowds might be hostile, or what is almost as bad, apathetic or sullen."

CHANUTE AFB, Ill. (AP) — The pilot of a crippled Air National Guard transport carrying Gov. William L. Guy of North Dakota executed an emergency landing at Chanute Air Force Base Saturday.

Lt. Col. Alexander P. MacDonald of the National Guard brought the C54 into the base with one of its four engines jammed. The craft touched down on a runway half covered with foam.

Air Force spokesman said there were no injuries. The governor and his wife boarded the plane in Springfield. He was attending ceremonies with Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner and Prime Minister Eisaku Sato of Japan.

The plane developed engine trouble in the vicinity of Moline. The engine caught fire and dropped into a cornfield 3 1/2 miles southwest of Atkinson, Ill. The fire also damaged the landing gear. The pilot flew to a Peoria airport and circled for more than an hour before deciding to fly to the Air Force base near Rantoul.

COUNT SHOWS Texas Voters Back Officers

By The Associated Press Texas voters have demonstrated that they want a better break for their law enforcement officers. This was shown Saturday in final Texas Election Bureau tabulations on the constitutional amendments vote of a week ago.

Leading all the issues was the one which will permit counties to pay the medical bills for their law enforcement officers injured while on duty and to continue their salaries during recuperation.

The amendment led all the others in votes with 178,336 to 94,242. However, the issue is only permissive and counties are not required to pay the medical bills and salaries unless they desire to do so.

TINY MARGIN Closest vote was the one calling for combining all the special funds of counties into one fund. The margin was 1,641 votes by the final count of 136,357 to 134,716. Robert L. Johnson, chief of the non-profit, unofficial vote counting Election Bureau, said only 300 to 350 votes had not been reported.

Johnston said it appeared highly unlikely that the official canvass of the votes will overturn the result on the county funds amendment. The highest number of votes on any issue was 274,453, meaning that less than 10 per cent of the electorate took the trouble to ballot a week ago.

The largest total vote was on the veterans land bonds, with 160,117 for and 114,336 against. The issue permits the state to sell $200 million in bonds and to lend the money to veterans for purchase of land at low interest rates and long terms. The proposal was defeated on two other occasions. It revived a program which began after World War II for which funds had been expended.

PARK BONDS The final unofficial count on the other proposals: To permit counties which have hospital districts to expend money for various mental health services, thereby permitting them to participate in more federal funds: For 167,604, against 101,745. For issuance of $75 million in state bonds to expand and improve the park system: For 148,472, against 122,744. To allow certain state officers and employees to serve on boards outside their departments, thereby relieving the necessity of hiring outside consultants and giving the state more influence on federal boards: For 137,598, against 129,548.

Although the figures reported Saturday were somewhat larger than a week ago, the question of whether the amendments won was settled when the Election Bureau stopped counting for the night a week ago.

Survivors include his wife, two sons, James E. Webb, Midland, and Jerry Webb, Stanton; seven sisters, Mrs. Flossie Gaskins, Artesia, N.M., Mrs. Mamie Forman, Lenora, Mrs. Lillie Hardard, Stanton, Mrs. Pearl Hardy, Hobbs, N.M., Miss Ora Webb, Mrs. Rose Edieson and Mrs. Inez Luce, all three of Midland; three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

CHANGES WORK WITH DFS
Jack White, vet patrolman, becomes education officer

Patrolman Takes Different Post

Howard County has lost one of its veteran highway patrolmen, but has gained a safety education service officer. And the vacancy on the patrol will be filled come Dec. 1.

Jack White, who has been a highway patrolman in Howard County for nearly nine years (ever since he completed patrol training), has made what he terms a "lateral change" in jobs.

"I am leaving the highway patrol," he explains, "to take up safety education work. You can't call it a promotion since the pay is the same, but it is a different line of work."

White will serve nine counties in the Big Spring area—Howard, Martin, Sterling, Glasscock, Borden, Dawson, Scurry, Mitchell and Reagan. He will continue to make Big Spring his home.

Puzzle of Friday, November 17, Solved

Kennel Club To Elect Officers In December

The Big Spring Kennel Club nominating committee presented a slate of officers Thursday for the annual Christmas meeting to be held Dec. 21. Nominees are Bill Tubb, president; Jon Matthews, vice president; Kay Sevey, secretary; Don Grisewood, treasurer; Ben Jernigan, training director; Carroll Cannon and Dorothy Linn, board members.

An all day collection will be made for the Scrap Metal Drive and club members will pick up any type or size of metal anyone wishes to donate. Contributions may be made by calling 267-5276. Funds raised by this project will be used for the proposed AKC Licensed Point Show.

Additional plans were made for a forthcoming Tooty Clinic. This service will be available to the general public in an effort to prevent stolen or stray dogs from being permanently lost. A small fee will be charged and all money will go into the show fund.

Awards were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Bill W. Tubb for a Collie, Warhaven's Virginia Wood C.D. and a Sealyham Terrier, Rinkestone's Elfreda C.D., both of whom completed the third leg of their Obedience Title at the Oklahoma City Kennel Club Show Nov. 4. These dogs were trained and handled to their titles by Ricky Tubb and Mary K. Tubb. Freda is the only Sealyham Terrier to earn a CD this year in the United States. A third dog owned by the Tubbs completed the Companion Dog Degree this fall. He is Ch. Warhaven's Eighth Day, C.D., and was trained by the youngest daughter, Paje.

A plaque for completion of the Companion Dog Degree went to Ben Jernigan for the German Shepherd, Sissy le Rue, who placed in the ribbons at several of the shows. She was second in Novice A at the San Antonio Kennel Club Show over 25 entries.

It was announced that Mike, a German Shepherd owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Boland and Rene Le Bey, a Standard Poodle owned by Don Grisewood, completed the Companion

TTA Seeking Denver Route

HOUSTON — TTA has been recommended for a grant of authority to fly into Denver. TTA President R. E. "Dick" McKaughan announced Saturday.

"Word has been received from Washington that the Bureau of Operating Rights has recommended to examiner Ross I. Newman in the reopened Pacific Northwest-Southwest Service Case that TTA should add Denver to its system," McKaughan said.

TTA has been active in several route case investigations this year, and has been a participant in the Reopened Pacific Northwest-Southwest Service Case for six months, says McKaughan. Other participating airlines in this case are Frontier, Braniff International, Continental, United, TWA, and West Coast.

The Bureau states the routes have been recommended for TTA because this airline can provide efficient service, and the routes "will serve to reduce subsidy . . . and will introduce competition into previous single-carrier markets."

The last route case giving TTA additional territory was awarded on October 11, 1963. On that date the CAB granted TTA authority in the Southwestern Area Local Service Case and the airline began serving 13 new cities in the states of Texas and New Mexico, as well as granting service authority between Houston and Austin and nonstop authority between Houston and Dallas.

Currently, TTA serves 65 cities in Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana, and the international points of Tampico, Veracruz and Monterrey, Mexico.

Greater Need Puckett Says

There is an even greater need in these days to celebrate Thanksgiving Day and stress the debt that mankind owes God for His many blessings than ever before in the history of this country, the Rev. James Puckett, Temple Baptist Church, told the Big Spring Kiwanis Club Thursday.

He pointed to the growing movement which proclaims that God is dead and warned that the spread of this philosophy is undermining the nation's morale and morality.

He rapped the ruling of the Supreme Court, which bans types of prayer in the schools and cited one instance where a simple little verse of appreciation to providence was ordered stopped by the courts in one state.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Urges Support To Keep Indoor Zoo Open Here

TO THE EDITOR,
I am in the Far East and I received a letter from my 11-year-old son, Steve, stating that he heard that the Pet - A - Zoo was going to close due to lack of financial support. He said that he was going to write the Big Spring paper and ask the people of Big Spring not to let the zoo close. He also asked if I would send a letter.

Our family has a personal reason for wanting to see the zoo continue. We were stationed at Webb AFB for over six years. During these assignments, we became active in the community and met many wonderful people, some of which will always be life-long friends. Three of our five children were born in Big Spring and the other two spent over half of their lives there. It was through their interest that we became involved in the development of a zoo. Many a Sunday afternoon we would stop by Mr. A. D. Blount's Pet Shop to see the few animals he had. As interest picked up, Mr. Blount procured more animals until he had a small wild life show.

To make a long story short, you may recall the many presentations that Capt. White, Mr. Blount and myself made to the many service clubs, women clubs, city manager, parks and recreation board, etc., attempting to create interest and community support for a children's zoo. There were many individuals interested and spoke to others in our behalf, but this was not enough. But, there were those, in prominent business leadership positions, that felt a children's zoo would be a wonderful thing for Big Spring. Through their time, money and effort, and faith that the people of Big Spring would get behind them they developed a small indoor - outdoor zoo now called Pet-A-Zoo.

But, things began to deteriorate as soon as the tourist season ended, and Mr. Blount was unable to cover the operating expenses, including just the feeding of the animals. All of which simply means that he is going to have to close the zoo unless the people of Big Spring do something in the near future.

With the proper guidance, management, and financial support, this little zoo could be developed into a renowned tourist attraction, which in turn, would bring many outside dollars to the community. But, even this is not the most important contribution of a children's zoo. Granted, the outside dollars are helpful in covering overhead costs, but the enjoyment that our children derive from such a facility make it worth working towards acceptance as a community-supported facility, rather than let it close. I'm sure, were you to take a vote amongst the "Little People" in Big Spring, you would also find that a large majority of their parents would side with them, and be in favor of doing something now to prevent the zoo from closing. Besides, don't you think it is time to do something "Big" to put Big Spring back on the map, as each year the "Spring" seems to get less and less.

Plane Plunge Injures Two

JUNCTION, Tex. (AP) — Two residents of Mesquite, an East Dallas suburb, were injured Saturday when their small plane plunged into rugged country four miles south of Junction.

Robert Gardner, 34, was seriously injured. Michael Stafford, 23, was hospitalized with less serious injuries, police said.

The aircraft, a Cessna 172, left Dallas' White Rock Airport Saturday morning and made a refueling stop at Hamilton shortly before the crash landing.

Heart Seizure Beds Ex-Resident

Barton was born here and graduated from Big Spring High School.

His mother, Mrs. J. R. Barton, lives at 405 State. His father, the late R. J. Barton, worked for Cosden.

Johnson Proud Of Son-In-Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is warmly welcoming his new son-in-law, Marine Capt. Charles Robb into the family as a golfing companion and a good man for his daughter, Lynda.

He has made it known that he's very pleased for Lynda and the whole family. He thinks Lynda has worked hard, been dedicated and conscientious and is entitled to the reward of a good husband, a good companion and a good man. And that's how the President rates Robb.

Like any other father, the President has told friends he hates to see Lynda get married and have her handsome young husband go off soon to war duty in Vietnam. Robb is due to leave around mid-February about two months after the Dec. 9 White House wedding.

Along with Mrs. Johnson, the President has expressed concern and pride and prayers for Robb. He feels it's because of men like Robb that America can have peace with honor.

The President acknowledges he's aware that Robb will have his problems being married to the daughter of the commander in chief of the Nation's Armed Forces.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)

The President believes his whole family often has to lean over backwards not to take special favors and can't even change an order in a restaurant without being criticized.

His girls cope with it, the President has pointed out, and he thinks the young men will, too.

Watching Robb on duty as a White House social aide, on the golf course and riding horses at the LBJ Texas ranch, Johnson has rated him ideal—an all-American boy and has said he wouldn't change a thing about the 28-year-old boy from Milwaukee, Wis. He thinks Robb plays a good game of golf, too.

And his addition to the Johnson family makes it three women and three men. The President thinks that gives him a 50-50 chance for the first time, plus maybe an edge soon with grandson, Patrick Lyndon Nugent.

The President, who walked down the church aisle with Luci 27 months ago, feels that any father gets a little catch in his throat when that moment comes.

By TOMMY HART
SAN ANGELO — San Angelo added a new chapter to a story of a jinx by hacking down Big Spring, 42-16, in the final District 2 - AAAA game for both teams here Friday night.

It was a game of blown opportunities and defenses that often sagged and sometimes collapsed for Big Spring. The Orange struck for four touchdowns in as many minutes on opposite sides of the intermission to salt away the verdict. The Bobcats built up a 35-0 advantage before the listless Steers could untrack.

This must be one of the poorest San Angelo clubs in a decade but Friday night they played with a verve and cunning that completely subjugated the Longhorns — whose season apparently ran a week too long.

HAD FAIR SEASONS
San Angelo thus ended its season with a 6-4 record. Big Spring didn't fare badly over the year. Statistics in the game belie the score. The Longhorns moved the ball in the first and fourth periods. They dominated play through the first 12 minutes and should have had at least two more touchdowns.

San Angelo began its first scoring drive from its own 27-yard line late in the opening period when Dwain Childress picked off a Steer pass.

Big Spring earlier had driven to the Cat seven, only to yield the ball on downs.

After Childress' interception, San Angelo used 14 plays to eat up the yardage, halfback Mike Ingram ultimately legging it over from the one with 7:09 to go in the round. Steve Carnes converted, just as he did after every other San Angelo TD.

At that time one touchdown didn't seem like much of a hurdle to overcome but the problem was to get infinitely more complex for Big Spring before the half ended.

The Felines drove 80 yards in eight plays, with quarterback Mike Phelps doing yeoman service in the march, for their second tally. Phelps fled around right end for the final ten yards.

with just 45 seconds left in the period. A 25-yard run by Mark Dove and some expert probing for Big Spring weaknesses in the line kept the offensive alive.

FUMBLES ON FIRST
Big Spring took the following kickoff but fumbled on the first play and Louis Washington made the recovery for the Cats at the Steer 47.

An eight yard pass to Jerre Sykes and a 38-yard bomb to Ingram moved the ball down to the one, from where Ingram reaped for the score as time was running out. Carnes' conversion made it 21-0 at half time.

Washington recovered another Big Spring fumble at the Steer 21 to set the stage for San Angelo's fourth touchdown. B.111 Rich got a first down at the

The Cats got their fifth touchdown moments later when Sykes flagged down a Big Spring pass on the Steer 31 and ran untouched for goal dust. Carnes' boot made it 35-0.

The San Angelo coaches saw fit to flood the game with substitutes.

Big Spring seemed intent on going in for its first TD near the end of the third but Thomas Washington intercepted a Steer aerial on the goal line and wasn't arrested until he got to Big Spring's 14. He broke into the clear but simply ran out of gas.

Michigan State got its touchdown in the third period on Bill Feraco's one-yard sneak at the end of an 80-yard drive.

From that point, Big Spring checked for a score, getting it 3:58 deep in Round Four when fullback Doug Robinson barreled off tackle from the two.

The passing combination of Billy Burchett - to - Joey Baker sparked in the drive, accounting for 55 of the 94 yards gained.

Roy Lee Warren took a pitch and went wide for the two points, to make it 35-8.

Big Spring scored again with 2:28 left in the game when Burchett passed up the middle to Baker for 16 yards on a fourth down play. Baker took the ball about the one and pushed on in.

STERLING CITY — Sterling City won the right to represent District 3 in the eight-man play-off wars by playing a 14-14 standstill with the Garden City Bearkats here Friday night.

Garden City had earlier played a 20-20 tie with Sands, which deprived it of a first place tie in the standings. Sterling had edged Sands several weeks ago, 8-6. It was that close down to the wire.

Garden City thus finished with a 7-1-2 over-all record and stood at 2-0-2 in conference. Sterling City now is 7-2-1 and 3-0-1 in league play.

Sterling City scored first in the opening period when Gary Foster raced 65 yards on what started out as a sweep. Foster cut back and went right up the backbone of the gridiron.

The Bearkats had earlier stopped Sterling on the two. Robert Hillger, back to play defense only for Garden City, caused a Sterling ball carrier to be jarred loose from the ball and Tony Chandler recovered the errant ball in the end zones.

Garden City then moved the ball from the 15 to its own 35, from which point it punted, and Sterling scored the first play after the punt.

In the second, Garden City pulled even on a 14-yard pass from Ronnie Hirt to Chandler, which came at the end of a 60-yard drive.

Later in the quarter, Garden City attempted a field goal from the 20 but missed.

No scoring resulted in the third but Sterling City went back in front in the fourth when Phil Cole plunged one yard.

Cole's TD came at the end of a 41-yard drive, set in motion when the Kats tried for a first down on a fourth down play and missed by six inches.

After Cole's TD, Foster ran across the PAT's.

Garden City scored with about three minutes remaining by driving 60 yards. A fourth down pass from Hirt to Ranger Lange, good for four yards, kept the drive alive in midfield.

A pass from Hirt to Chandler produced the score on an 11-yard play.

Erratic Lions Test Baltimore Eleven

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The erratic Detroit Lions test Sunday the unbeaten Baltimore Colts who need five more victories to complete the first undefeated season in the National Football League since 1942.

Despite a chronic sore elbow, John Unitas has moved the Colts, 7-0-2, into the lead in both total offense and passing in their drive toward the Western Conference title. Unitas takes a streak of 12 completions into Sunday's game, needing but two to set a record.

Detroit, 3-4-2, is first in rushing offense and second in defense but the attack has been inconsistent. After routing San Francisco, the Lions lost to Chicago and were tied by Minnesota.

All of the teams are involved in an eight-game program Sunday, but four will be back again for their second game in five days Thursday in Thanksgiving Day pairings of Los Angeles at Detroit and St. Louis at Dallas. Green Bay, 6-2-1, which reeled from its loss to the Colts by bombing Cleveland, 55-7, last week, is at home to the San Francisco 49ers, 5-4, who have gone into a three-game losing tailspin.

The Los Angeles Rams, 6-1-2, moving toward December dates with Green Bay and Baltimore, go to Atlanta, 1-7-1, for the first of two with the Falcons in three weeks. Atlanta was manhandled by the Colts last week.

Washington, 3-4-2, and Dallas, 7-2, are ready for another wild one in the Cotton Bowl. Their last four games have been settled by a total of 10 points.

When they met Oct. 8, Dallas won 17-14 on a Don Meredith pass to Dan Reeves with 10 seconds to go. With a three-game lead and five to go, the Cowboys just about have the Capitol Division of the Eastern Conference all locked up.

St. Louis, 5-3-1, the Century Division leader, plays at Chicago, 4-5, where the Bears found new punch last week in Larry Rakestraw, an ex-taxi quarterback. The Bears beat the Cards in pre-season 42-14 and expect to give Jim Hart the big rush again.

Cleveland, 5-4, shocked by the Packers last week, returns home to take on Minnesota, 2-5-2, a team that is beginning to jell. These two teams have met only once previously, in 1965 when the Vikings won. Loss of Ernie Green and Erich Barnes are blows to Browns.

Mistakes Cost Brady In Game

COMMANCHE — Errors, errors, errors — ask Brady about 'em. Because of eight mistakes, the Bulldogs were dropped in a bi-district clash by Granbury here Friday night to the tune of 31-8. The Bulldogs lost the ball on four fumbles and four pass interceptions, and Granbury took advantage.

Brady, champion of district 8-AA, ended the season with a 10-1 record, while Granbury, a winner of 7-AA, holds a 9-1 mark.

Boilermakers Decision Michigan State, 21-7

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Purdue's Leroy Keyes, national scoring leader, caught a pass for one touchdown and threw for another Saturday in a 21-7 football victory over once mighty Michigan State.

The twisting, turning Purdue halfback picked up 193 yards on the ground in 24 carries in helping keep the Boilermakers unbeaten in Big Ten Conference play.

Keyes' touchdown gave him a Big Ten season record of 15, rubbing out his own mark set a week ago. He has scored 19 in all games.

Purdue, beaten only by Notre Dame and Michigan State last year en route to the Rose Bowl, finished its vengeance business for the year with a convincing victory.

The Boilermakers—and Keyes—scored two touchdowns in the first quarter. Keyes passed 12 yards to end Jim Beirne for the first touchdown and then caught a 20-yarder from Mike Phipps for the second.

Perry Williams, the big Purdue fullback who ground out precious short gains all afternoon, rammed over the Spartan goal in the second quarter from eight yards out for the last Boilermaker touchdown.

Bob Baltzell kicked all three

LORLAINE — The Loraine Bulldogs came out on the long end of a 36-26 scoring battle here Friday night to assure themselves of a second place finish in District 4-B action.

Bowls Employ Many Tactics

NEW YORK (AP)—The Orange Bowl at Miami has no sectional ties and goes for "the two best teams we can get," with an eye on pleasing winter visitors and the national television audience.

The Sugar Bowl at New Orleans leans toward a top team in the Southeastern Conference, although there is no formal commitment, and tries for an opponent that offers an inter-sectional flavor.

SOFT-SELL

The Cotton Bowl at Dallas goes for the soft-sell, is less promotion minded than either Miami or New Orleans and attempts to match the Southwest Conference champion, to which it is bound as host, with the champion of another major conference. It is significant that in the last 10 years the Cotton Bowl

BS Open Will Be Resumed

By TOMMY HART

The West Texas Chapter of the PGA has granted the Country Club here permission to resume the Big Spring Open, a 36-hole event which is usually held the second weekend in June—now that pro Buddy Hughes has the pro shop concessions . . . The 1968 event will likely be preceded by a pro-am, one of two scheduled at the course next year . . . Hughes also wants to stage an am-am sometime during the year in order to generate interest in the club and the game among linksters throughout the area . . . Morgan Hampton of Abilene and Charley Bruce, Snyder, are two West Texas pros who retired from their positions recently . . . William DeFreeze, who led Hobbs, N.M., to a basketball victory over Big Spring a couple of years ago, is now a starter with the Lubbock Christian College team . . . Ray Still and Carl Love are other standouts on that Chaparral club . . . Men hired as freshman coaches at such schools as SMU and Baylor, in reality, are recruiters and spend much of their time on the road watching high school talent . . . They get precious little time to coach and, for that reason, freshman programs at such schools suffer . . . Most varsity head coaches will tell you that what talent comes their way had their best and more thorough coaching on the high school level . . . When the NFL and the AFL are merged in 1970, the Dallas Cowboys and the Houston Oilers likely will be placed in the same division . . . Carl Yastrzemski, the Boston Red Sox slugger, has been charging $1,700 to deliver a ten-minute speech at banquets . . . So far, he has fulfilled or agreed to appear at 17 such engagements . . . Bob Lankford, the Houston Oilers scout, says that Alabama's Kenny Stabler is the best college quarterback in the nation—UCLA's Gary Beban notwithstanding . . . Lankford is impressed by Stabler's height (6-2), his ability to get the ball away in a hurry and his strength . . . For dropback passing, Lankford likes Dewey Warren of Tennessee.

Buddy Hughes

SMU appears to be very interested in Lonnie Clanton, the Big Spring halfback who likely will undergo knee surgery in the near future . . . By 1968, football teams may have to get the ball away within 20 seconds of each down instead of the present 25 seconds . . . McLennan Community College of Waco, which met HJC at Hillsboro Saturday night, is fielding a basketball team for the first time in history . . . Its coach is James Burroughs, who resigned at Waco Richfield High to take the position . . . The Richfield post was filled by Doyle Edmiston, the former Stanford mentor . . . Big Spring's Charley Johnson likely faces a fight for his job, when he returns to full-time duty with the St. Louis Cardinals . . . His successor, young Jim Hart, says a pro passer doesn't need a lengthy apprenticeship . . . "It doesn't take five years to stick the ball on a receiver's number," is the way Hart puts it . . . The University of Oklahoma opens its 1968 football season against a couple of real toughies—Notre Dame and North Carolina State . . . Big Spring and Snyder won't be playing each other in football next fall for the first time in 17 years . . . Bud Carson, new head football coach at Georgia Tech, finds his relations with the press badly strained because he won't allow any of his players to be quoted . . . Carson isn't winning with Tech's old consistency, either, so he may not hang around too long . . . Not long after he attended the District 2-AAAA executive meeting here, Floyd Manry, superintendent of schools in Odessa, broke his arm in a hunting accident . . . He and Supt. Blacky Wadzeck of San Angelo lined up a hunting date while here . . . Coaches and some players betray much impatience with fans sometimes because the populace doesn't learn the game of football better . . . If they did, a lot of the romance might go out of it for them . . . Some buffs don't even know how many men line up in front but they love to see a ball carrier go for a long gain or a passer connect on the bomb . . . Odessa High now hasn't won in football since it beat Big Spring the ninth game of the 1966 season . . . Those tremendous crowds the New Orleans Saints of the NFL have been playing to at home are a little deceptive—the club sold family ducats at economy rates.

The assorted other bowls—Liberty, Bluebonnet, Tangerine, Hula, Camelia, etc.—must fight for the leavings although they frequently turn up with top-flight games matching the majors. The bigger bowls have the money and the first picks.

This is the setting when the big grab begins at noon (local time) Monday under an embargo placed on the colleges by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

START MONDAY

The NCAA has ruled that colleges cannot receive or accept bowl bids until noon on the Monday after the third Saturday in November—in this case, Nov. 20—or the Monday before playing their final game.

That doesn't mean the bowls haven't already made up their minds, probably made contact and got an unwritten agreement. This is something that even the powerful NCAA cannot enforce.

"We start scouting for bowl material in the spring games," said Jack Baldwin, a mortgage broker who is chairman of the Orange Bowl committee. "We have a seven-man committee, plus a wife president and president, making nine altogether. We try to have at least two men in the field every week."

Baldwin said, with no commitments, it is Miami's aim to get the two best possible teams and present a game with national title overtones.

The Orange Bowl is expected to land Tennessee, No. 2, and Oklahoma, No. 7. In recent years the Miami promoters have had such games as Alabama-Texas and Alabama-Nebraska.

HOPE FOR EAST

Sam Cozenswet, president of the Midwinter Sports Association in New Orleans, said his committee begins scouting the second and third weeks of the season and makes adjustments as the campaign progresses.

"In the last 20 years I don't think there have been more than two or three that we didn't have a Southeastern team," he said. "But we prefer an inter-sectional game and we would like to see the East get stronger because of the great population in that area."

Thus, Penn State and Army are high currently in New Orleans' deliberations. Alabama may be one of the teams.

The Cotton Bowl works closely with the Southwest Conference, which qualifies its champion automatically for the game.

Busy Receiver

Busiest man on the field at San Angelo Friday night perhaps was Big Spring's Joey Baker, who was quarterbacked by Bill Burchett's favorite receiver on pass patterns. Baker, shown here being tackled by Gary Cruse-Downer, scored one of Big Spring's touchdowns in the 42-16 loss inflicted onto the Steers.

Jets Face 'Six Hours Of Ball' In Bowl Bid

The New York Jets seem to have Jim Nance's number and Al Atkinson, who anchors their defense at middle linebacker, is playing a little digit game of his own.

Nance, who set an American Football League rushing record with 1,458 yards gained last season, and is No. 1 again this year, remains just another runner to the Jet defense. He managed just 56 yards in 16 carries the first time they met this season and averaged less than 69 yards per game in their two meetings last year.

Atkinson, whose job it will be to plug the middle against Nance's power runs when the Jets, 6-2-1 and first in the East, visit Boston, 3-6, Sunday, is thinking about numbers too.

"We have," he smiles, "just six more hours of football to get into the Super Bowl." That breaks down to five regular season games and the AFL title tilt.

If the Jets beat the Patriots, it will give them a 1½-game edge over idle Houston, 5-3-1, in the East. New York is the only Eastern team which never has won a division title.

Elsewhere Sunday, Kansas City, 6-3, faces another showdown game in the West against San Diego, 6-11-1. Oakland, 7-1, the Western leader, hosts Miami, 1-7, and Denver, 1-9 is at Buffalo, 3-6.

In the National League, Detroit is at Baltimore, Los Angeles plays at Atlanta, Cleveland hosts Minnesota, Philadelphia is at home against New Orleans, Pittsburgh at New York, St. Louis visits Chicago, San Francisco goes to Green Bay and Dallas entertains Washington.

The Jets expect the usual Patriot blitz but Coach Weeb Ewbank feels his club and quarterback Joe Namath can cope with it.

"We like for 'em to blitz," says Ewbank. "Joe can react to it. He has the quick release to beat it."

Cooper Cougars Upend Abilene

ABILENE—It took just eight minutes for the Cooper Cougars to prove to District 2-4A fans that their undefeated season and district championship title was no fluke.

The Cougars, playing an all-important game against cross-town rival Abilene High, exploded for 26 big points in the second frame of play and coasted into the Class AAAA playoffs with a 33-6 victory.

The second half was much like the first, except the Cougars played ball control and shut down the scoring machine. The only break of happiness for the Eagles came on a one yard plunge by Bill Catlett in the third period.

The Cougars now meet El Paso Burges in Bi-district in Abilene Friday night at 8:00 p.m.

The defensive squads got their work in the first quarter with neither team threatening seriously. After an exchange of four punts, John Villarreal, the Cougars' kicking specialist, started the scoring with a field goal from the 26, and gave Cooper a 3-0 lead with 7:30 left in the second quarter.

The fabulous Jack Mildren-to-Jon Harrison combination, that has worked so outstandingly all year, clicked on a 35 yarder. Villarreal's kick was true. The Cougs roared back with 4:06 remaining in the same cant and scored another tally on a one-yarder by Kenny Stephens. The Cougars added another two

By NATE MITCHELL
ACKERLY—The stampeding Sands Mustangs closed out the season with a bang here Friday night as they quenched the flames of the Flower Grove Dragons, 66-22.

The clash—biggest offensive effort by the Pones during the campaign—etched three school records. For the first time in history, a field goal was kicked successfully, and the Mustangs played their final game as an 8-man squad; will move up to 11-man football next season. Also, the 7-2-1 season was the best on record for the Ackerly school.

Neither squad got rolling offensively in the first period, with fine defensive efforts by both teams over-shadowing all else.

The Pones cracked open the second period with a first down at the Firebreathers' 37. After Alfonso Calvio ripped left end and Newcomer was ready again, Larry Newcomer swept left end untouched—scoring the first of four touchdowns for the night.

Lance Hopper's pass to Ron Taylor for the conversion was good, putting Sands out front to stay.

The Dragons relinquished the ball four plays later on downs and Newcomer was ready again. After breaking left the senior halfback reversed his field and roared 51 yards for another TD. Again the Hopper-Taylor pass combination clicked for the PAT.

In a generous mood, Coach Maxie Fly's Reptiles—gambling on long fourth down plays—donated the ball again less than four minutes later. Calvio set up the next score with a 20 yard jaunt, but Hopper's aerial to Kynn Maxwell for 10 yards to the pay-off pitch. Claude Fryar took the Hopper missile for the PAT and a 24-0 intermission edge.

The Red Hosess took the second half kickoff and drove home in a hurry, with Hopper hitting Fryar from eight yards out. Fryar's kick for the point after tally was blocked.

Getting mauled virtually every time he dropped back to pass, Dragon quarterback Jim Walker's woes continued as Calvio picked off one of his passes at the Dragon 20. Newcomer exploded up the middle for eight steps and his third TD. Joe Grigg—later to set a record with his field goal—missed the extra point kick.

Trailing 36-0, Flower Grove finally hit the scoreboard late in the third quarter when Walker sent Gregg Gonzalez to paydirt from the 16 yard stripe. Not knocking a good thing, Walker dispatched the successful PAT via the same courier—reducing the Dragon deficit to 36-8.

Replacing Hopper at the offensive helm, fresh signal caller Steve Herm closed out the period with a 12 yard TD toss to Fryar, but the kick failed again.

Herm, playing with an entire fresh rear guard, sent Johnny Pough in from five yards out early in the fourth period. This time, Fryar effected the kick—swelling the home team's edge to 53-8.

A minute later, Grigg made history with his 27 yard field goal, as Pones' head mentor Jim Blake experimented for next season.

Down a thousand times but never out, Jim Walker rolled out for a 15 yard Dragon TD, then hit Maxie Fly for the PAT. Dissatisfied with the 53-16 count, Herm stepped back and unleashed a 26 yard bomb to Fryar for Sands' seventh touchdown. As Fryar's PAT boot went wide, less than two minutes remained in the fracas.

Rebels Nudge 'Dogs, 10-8

MIDLAND — A record crowd of 15,000 saw the Lee Rebels squeeze a 10-8 victory over the Bulldogs to gain its first victory in the seven-year rivalry between the two hometown teams. The entire game was an outstanding performance by both defensive squads, with the only scoring coming in the final canto. Lee quarterback Gregg Frazier started the scoreboard lights to blinking with a 20-yard field goal three minutes deep in the fourth. With three minutes remaining, Frazier hit halfback Frank McIntosh with a scoring aerial for the game's first TD. Frazier kicked the PAT. The Bulldogs finally made the scoring column when Larry Pipkins found himself in scoring land with the ball with 1:49 remaining in the seasonal finale. Pipkin then added the final two points.

Gorillas Humble Jayton, 20 To 6

JAYTON — A scoreless first quarter tie was shattered by the three touchdown performance of Trent's Larry Hellums as the Gorillas humbled Jayton 20-6 here Friday night. Hellums scored on runs of three and 25 yards and caught a 30 yard TD aerial, plus a PAT, to round out a successful year for Trent.

Texas, Aggies Could Decide Bowl Berth

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The oldest football series in the Southwest or most any other section for that matter goes on for the 74th time here Thursday and it never was more important.

Texas meets Texas A&M and although it has been 10 years since the Aggies won one, rivalry is just as fierce and the crowd will jam Kyle Field, which now seats 52,000, as usual. The way the Southwest Conference race is to finish and the team that plays in the Cotton Bowl can be determined.

But it wouldn't matter even if last place was to be decided, this would be the game of the year. To illustrate the great rivalry and the unpredictable features of this colorful game, Texas' greatest team—the national champions of 1963—had to come from behind with a passing flurry to eke out 15-13. And that was the Aggie team that won only two games all season. A&M followers claimed an official's ruling kept them from winning that one. The game was first played in 1894 and was the initial inter-collegiate contest of the Southwest. Over the years it has been skipped six times but it was played twice a year for six years, so the series comes out even—73 games in 73 years. It has survived five wars—the Spanish-American War, World War I, the Korean War and now Viet Nam. It once was suspended three years because of hostilities all right, but it was because of fistcuffs, not guns. In 1911 there were many fights when the game was played at Houston and relations were severed for 1912, 1913 and 1914. They were resumed when the Aggie coach was changed. Once the game was so important coaches were fired because of losing it. Once the coaches left following a tie.

Permian Rips Odessa, 40-0

ODESSA — Cross-town rival Odessa High was buried in a barrage of scores here Friday night as the Permian Panthers piled up 40 points in the annual grudge match and a District 2-4A finale. Permian emerged from the contest with a sparkling 9-1 slate with the only loss to Abilene Cooper. However, Odessa suffered its worst season ever, winding up with an 0-9-1 stand-

McKinnon Is Super But Forsan Loses

By DARWIN McBETH
FORSAN — Quarterback Clayton McKinnon put on a one man offensive show for hometown fans, but to no avail as the Roby Lions drubbed Forsan 36-30 here Friday night in a District 4-B finale for both squads. McKinnon had a hand in every score for the Buffaloes as he threw four TD aerials and ran for the other tally. Roby combated the spectacular passing performance with its own explosive offense. The Lions moved the ball at will as they rolled to a 30-18 halftime lead and then fought off a comeback bid by Forsan late in the ball game. Lion fans got the first taste of victory when quarterback Jacky Knox winged a 29-yarder that went for six on the first play from scrimmage. Bobby Moore, who had an outstanding offensive game, garnered the pass at the 10-yard stripe and outran the Forsan defenders.

Joey Whitfill added the PAT with a scamper around end. Roby's offensive squad exploded again late in the initial period with Moore getting the final two to cap an 88-yard scoring drive. Forsan counted its first TD effort on a 53-yard sneak pass. McKinnon hit Terry Wooten with a simple jump pass, but Wooten after it seemed he was stopped lateraled to halfback Steve Parks who ran the final 45 yards to paydirt. The PAT failed. The offensive battle continued as the teams traded touchdown efforts twice. Roby's scores came on a 29-yard run by Knox and a scamper from the six by Whitfill. Both PAT attempts for two points were successful. Forsan fell farther behind when they failed to convert on the points after on touchdowns scored by McKinnon and Johnny Dolan. McKinnon plunged one yard for the first tally and combined with Dolan on a 59-yard aerial for another six. Roby's lone TD in the final two cantos, came on a spectacular run by Knox, going 51 three-footers to glory-dust. Trying desperately to pull even, Forsan was limited to only one marker in each of the final two periods. The McKinnon-Dolan combination worked on each of the counters, connecting for 30- and 7-yard TD strikes. The Buffaloes regained control of the ball late in the game at their 22-stripe, but couldn't score when Larry Daniel picked off McKinnon's final throw of the night. For Oscar Boeker's charges, the loss gave them a 2-4 slate for the district schedule, and a fifth place finish. Roby finished on the bottom rung, ringing up a 1-5 record.

"Total Farm Home"

The Joe Mac Gaskins family of the Knott Community spent many years dreaming of the day they could build their "Dream Home," and their dream began to take reality as they started the actual plans for their house. It was their goal to have a home which would take care of their needs and interests as a "total" farm family. Mr. and Mrs. Gaskins are a second generation Extension-related family. Mrs. Gaskins is a member of the Knott Home Demonstration Club, and Gaskins utilizes information from the Agricultural Agents in his farm management practices. Both serve as adult leaders for youth in project work in the Knott 4-H Club. It was probably natural for them to seek Extension assistance in developing plans for their home.

...selves, but for their three active children, Kelly, Kayla and Van.

The Home Demonstration Agent, Mrs. Delaine Crawford, worked with Mrs. Gaskins providing information and ideas that might be used in the home.

First, the house in general was discussed and extension publications were reviewed to assist in making wise decisions on heating and cooling systems, floor coverings, etc. Adequate storage for the family of five was one of the priorities that was set.

Mrs. Laura Russell, Extension Housing and Home Furnishings Specialist of Denton, studied the floor plan and the time spent in planning resulted in very few changes being made during construction.

The Gaskins family is proud of the new home, and are holding open house today 2 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to attend and tour this "total" farm home.

RED BRICK WITH WELCOMING LIGHT

A JET-BLACK KEROSENE STOVE holds a thriving rubber plant in the entrance of the Joe Mac Gaskin home at Knott. It's lighted by translucent glass and covered with terrazo. The living room to the left is carpeted in gold to blend with the brocade divan, and drapery fabric and lining are on separate rods to draw independently.

Photos By Frank Brandon

THERE ARE THREE bathrooms for the family of five, and each is extra spacious. The bath for the master bedroom, and that used by Kayla, are equipped with tubs, oval basins and dressing table areas. The Gaskin boys, Kelly Joe and Van Martin, use the back bath which has a glassed-in shower. Colors blend with the rest of the house.

THE SPACIOUS DEN of the Gaskin home is decorated in brown tones with accents of orange, gold and green. There are walnut tables and roomy leather chairs that face a large brick fireplace, and built-in shelves provide book space for winter reading.

MUCH SEWING IS done by Mrs. Gaskin and her daughter, so tucked neatly into the space of a large closet is the complete sewing area where pegboard holds garments and notions. Shelving on each side, holds fabrics, patterns and many other items that a seamstress needs close at hand. Folding doors seal off the space when not in use.

THE HEART OF THE HOME is the kitchen and dining area where storage area has been planned to avoid any unusable space. The living area in the home is measured at 2,384 square feet which does not include a two-car garage and porches. Soon, red pyracantha will be planted around the driveway, as well as a cypress windbreak.

THE MASTER BEDROOM is furnished with 18-year-old limed oak furniture that has been refinished with a walnut stain, wood sealer and wax. The quilted spread is moss and mauve, while accents are bright blue.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN POLISCHTAK

Polischtaks Have 150 Rooms To Keep Clean

By JO BRIGHT
Mr. and Mrs. John Polischtak, 200 E. 3rd, are still shaking hands and introducing themselves to their neighbors — but their new home is completely in order—all 150 rooms.

Like any other couple who are settling in new quarters, the Polischtaks have looked in every crack, cranny and closet, examined the heating and investigated the plumbing. Their 14-story residence has passed inspection, and Polischtak thinks he's made a fine choice in accepting the management of the Settles Hotel.

The new manager comes to his present association with a professional background marked by its diversity.

DIVERSITY
Examples of his former experience includes management of a 500 seating capacity supper club (which also featured outside catering), management of hotel and dining facilities of one 50 room hotel and one 110 room hotel on separate occasions, director of food and beverage in a large Los Angeles hotel and manager of a large new office and apartment complex in Canada.

His past responsibilities were the Oaks Supper Club, Minnesota City, Minn.; Venetian Hotel, Venice, Fla.; Sabine Hotel, Port Arthur; Hacienda International, El Segundo, Calif.; and Pacific Palisades, Vancouver, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Polischtak were both born in Winnipeg, Canada, where he attended St. Paul College and she was a student at St. Mary's College. They were married at Winnipeg in 1939 and operated their own business until 1950 when they moved to Winona, Minn., where he headed a supper club and catering business. After 10 years, they were transferred to Florida, and the other moves followed as he became familiar with all phases of hotel and restaurant operation through schooling and experience.

EMERGENCY
An interesting sidelight in his career was the course he took through Texas A&M University as a "shelter management instructor." Polischtak was joined by 29 other men in setting up emergency quarters in an old bank building in Port Arthur where they remained for several days with no lights, nothing but blankets to sleep on and only crackers and water for food. They communicated with the "outside" by walkie-talkie.

The hotel Settles has been equipped to serve as a disaster shelter, and would accommodate approximately 1,100 persons. Store rooms on each floor are provided with tins of crackers and metal containers of water which are checked periodically and kept ready for emergency use.

Anxious to feel at home in their community, the Polischtaks are meeting friends through the Elks Club, and she has joined the Cactus Chapter of the American Business Women's Association.

Always Fashionable Pearls Are Constant

While fashions tend to move seasonally from one end of the scale to the other there is one fashion accessory that remains constant—cultured pearls. They may be worn as a necklace high around the throat, or swing loosely as a rope well below the waistline, but they remain stylish

Food Will Be Given To Children

WESTBROOK (SC) — "Missionaries Among Animists in the Caribbean" was the Royal Service program presented when members of the Woman's Missionary Union met Tuesday in the Baptist Church. The Rev. L. B. Edwards was in charge of the program with Mrs. Homer Rice, Mrs. Paul Byrd, Mrs. C. E. Ranne, Mrs. Hoyt Roberts and Mrs. Altis Clemmer assisting.

Mrs. Ranne presided and the group agreed to have a planned visitation program each first and third Thursdays, with Mrs. Roberts, mission in action chairman in charge of the program. Those attending the WMU leadership course at Calvary Baptist Church were Mrs. Ranne, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. L. B. Edwards and Mrs. Gerald Rollins.

It was announced a box will be placed at the church for anyone who wishes to contribute to the "Kans for Kids" to be sent to a children's home in Beville for Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Floyd Rice led the call to prayer. Eleven attended, and the Rev. Edwards pronounced the benediction.

Those in the receiving line will be the honoree, the hostess, her mother, Mrs. Earl Moore of Fort Worth, and Mrs. M. A. Porter.

Rows Of Ruffles On 'Gambler' Blouses

Frilly and feminine are riverboat gambler style blouses with rows of ruffles peeking out over a fancy vest. After being washed, and hung to drip dry these Dacron blouses need only finger pressing—pinching and stretching with thumbs and first fingers along the deep ruffles.

Council Has Meeting At Cosden Club

Mrs. Herman Jones of Big Spring presented the program, "Curtain Going Up," on theatre techniques during the luncheon session of the all-day workshop and meeting Saturday of the Toastmistress Council meeting. The event was held at the Cosden Country Club.

Members from Midland, San Angelo and Lubbock attended. Mrs. A. L. Howard of Lubbock, council president, presided and was assisted by Mrs. Richard Shaver, 703 Highland, council vice president.

Workshops began at 10 a.m. and the morning subject was "Program Potpourri," and included lexicology, table topics and themes for the year.

During the afternoon sessions, Mrs. Lowell Grabau and Mrs. Shaver gave a dramatic skit, "Lillie Toastmistress." Approximately 30 attended.

Visit A. Clemmers

WESTBROOK (SC) — Sunday guests in the Altis Clemmer home were Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Robinson and daughters of Lamesa and Mrs. Dale Merritt and daughter of Sweetwater.

Contributions Made By 1948 Hyperions

The 1948 Hyperion Club held its Thursday meeting in the home of Mrs. H. W. Smith, 712 Dallas, where Mrs. C. C. Jones was cohostess. Refreshments were served to 17 members and two guests from a table accented with Thanksgiving decorations.

Mrs. R. J. Ream reported on the state federation project of constructing an international friendship pavilion and garden in Brownsville which will fly flags of both the United States and Mexico. The state legislature has appropriated $125,000 for the project, and federated clubs are to match this amount. The '48 Hyperions will participate in the project.

A letter of appreciation from the state hospital was read thanking the club for its contribution to the "Buck-of-the-Month" club. Also, the club will contribute funds to decorate a students room at the Texas Federation Clubhouse in Austin, furnish a food basket for a needy family, assist with state hospital Christmas party and send funds to assist the host town for the Western District convention. The group will send a memorial gift to Austin as a tribute to Mrs. George White, a deceased member of the club. Her name will be entered in the Golden Book at the state hospital.

"Wool" Entries Due Monday

Entries in the "Miss Wool" contest must be turned into the Big Spring High School Home-making Department, Room 109, by 9 a.m. Monday. Judging of the contestants will be that day, and the garments will be judged at 4 p.m. Tuesday, in the cafeteria.

Garments may be picked up Monday in Room 109, or they may be left in the building, and the contestants will be allowed to dress in Room 111 at the school.

Mrs. Harold Talbot, program leader, introduced Walton Morrison who showed slides and gave commentary on the recent two-month tour of the world taken by Mr. and Mrs. Morrison. The couple sailed to Honolulu, Hawaii, aboard the S. S. Lurline where they attended the American Bar Association convention before continuing the rest of their trip by air.

The tour included stops in Japan, Hong Kong, Thailand, India, Singapore, Lebanon, Switzerland, Spain and Portugal.

The next meeting will be Dec. 21 in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Wesson for the program, "The Meaning of Christmas."

MRS. JAMES C. GIDDINGS

Wedding Solemnized In Catholic Church

The wedding of Miss Karen Ann Mallouf and James C. Giddings was solemnized at 7 o'clock Saturday evening in the sanctuary of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church.

Following a honeymoon trip to an undisclosed destination, Mr. and Mrs. Giddings will be at home at 208 E. Starr, Apt. 5, Nacogdoches.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Mallouf of Coleman, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Giddings of Coushatta, La.

Two large bouquets of white Frenched carnations were placed on the altar, and the double ring nuptials were performed by the Rev. Francis Beazley, with Mrs. J. E. Settles serving as organist. She accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Harold Talbot, as she sang "Our Father" and "Ave Maria."

A friend of the bride, R. L. Singletary, gave her in marriage. Her formal wedding gown was of white brocade and fashioned with fitted bodice, squared neckline and sleeves that tapered to petal points. The train swept from a sleeveless Empire coat accented at the back with a row of small buttons and a large bow. A white circlet anchored her finger-tip-length veil of illusion, and she carried a bouquet of white Frenched carnations centered with purple-throated orchids.

Miss Melita Singletary attended the bride as maid of honor. She was attired in an ice-blue peau de soie Empire dress with round neckline and Empire waist. The sleeveless gown featured a rolled collar, long sleeves and a layer of chiffon over the peau de soie sheath. She wore matching slippers and a veiled headpiece and carried white Frenched carnations tied with blue satin streamers.

L. Larry Snyder of Webb AFB was best man.

RECEPTION
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Hartman Hooser, 1800 Brent, was the scene of a reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Giddings. Receiving guests with them were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Singletary, Maj. and Mrs. R. M. Croccheck of Wilmington, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Scott of Bossier City, La., Mrs. Jetta Silvie of Coushatta and Miss Singletary. Miss Marsha Mallouf of Abilene, sister of the bride, presided at the guest register.

Members of the house party were Miss Beverly Hooser, Miss Renee Cox, Mrs. W. E. Miller and Mrs. Jack Cox.

White organdy over a blue cloth covered the refreshment table which was appointed with silver and crystal. The cloth was accented with wedding bells, ruffles and streamers, and the blue and white floral centerpiece was flanked by blue candles in crystal holders. A miniature bride and groom topped the tiered wedding cake.

SCHOOL
Mrs. Giddings is a graduate of Coleman High School and the School for Medical Record Technicians of Abilene. She has been employed as medical record librarian at Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital. Giddings, a graduate of Coushatta High School, was formerly manager of McCrory's Dept. Store here and now manages the McCrory's store in Nacogdoches where he is a member of the Jaycees.

For traveling, the bride chose a deep purple wool tent dress with beige accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

Following the rehearsal Friday evening, the wedding party was served refreshments at Coker's Restaurant, and gifts were presented to the attendants.

Make Gowns 'Flow' With Good Posture

By MARY SUE MILLER

Evening fashions, from the skim-fit falls of sequins to the floats of gossamer silks, are designed to move and flow gracefully with the body. But the action has to be initiated by the body. If you wish an evening dress to do you justice, you must look to your carriage.

You cannot stand in a heap or stiff as a rod; you cannot walk like a man or skitter like a mouse and get a dress to flow. It will move but awkwardly, just like its wearer. What a twosome!

In all fairness, it must be said that evening clothes by their nature magnify posture flaws. Any of them can be softened, however, by practicing these rules of extra good carriage:

Stand as though you were drawn upward by a cord — head out of shoulders, waist out of hips, feet "off" the floor.

Walk as though you were airborne. Make your steps light, even and rhythmic.

So that your arms appear wand-like, rather than stick-like, let them fall relaxed at your sides. Or clasp the hands, palms up, at waist level and extend the elbows out to the sides. (There are many other poses of the hands, but those two make a good beginning.)

When you carry a purse, avoid clutching or dangling it. Carry it in the palm of your hand, or grasp the frame, or rest the chain on your wrist.

Fifty ways to ideal skin and natural make-up for young adults — ages 13 to 19 — are detailed in my booklet, "Model Tips for Teens." Advice covers corrective skin care; how to use make-up to accent good points and play down problems; fashion model make-up tricks. For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 25 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

MRS. KENNETH L. CHRANE

Wedding Rites Held In Dallas

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon M. Marchant, 1808 Alabama, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Dale Frances, and Kenneth Lewis Chrane, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Chrane, 1502 Eleventh Place.

The couple exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony held Sept. 30 in the First Baptist Church in Dallas with Dr. W. A. Criswell serving as officiant.

Mrs. Chrane's wedding dress was of white crepe, fashioned with long sleeves and accented with sequins on the collar and cuffs. Her corsage was of white orchids, and she placed birth-date pennies in her shoe.

The couple was attended by Miss Brenda Hale and Tim Benefield, both of Dallas.

The bride, a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School, is a student in the College of Nursing at Texas Women's University at Denton. In high school, she participated in the Latin Club, Radio Club and the band which she served as treasurer. She was named to the All-State Orchestra and twice placed first in the University Interscholastic League solo contests. At one time, she was drum major and named Band Sweetheart.

Chrane was also graduated from Big Spring Senior High School where he was junior class president, named in "Who's Who" and a football letterman for two years. He attended Kansas State University for one year on a football scholarship and is now a pre-med student at North Texas State University. He is employed by Braniff Airlines in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Chrane are at home at 812 Ewing, Apt. 205, Dallas.

Use Bead Bleach For Delicate Care

When laundering cotton and linen household articles, a chlorine-type bleach is required, but this is not to be confused with other bleaches developed mainly for delicate fibers. One product, perfect for laundering cotton as well as nylons and Dacron, is a dry bleach in bead form. Add it to the wash water along with the detergent.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

If all the glamorous ways to make dressing for the Thanksgiving turkey were at my command, I would still choose the kind made with cornbread and hamburger buns.

There are those cooks who make a mixture of a small amount of bread, ground chuck and raisins, others who like either prunes or apricots added to the basic ingredients that don't include cornbread, but that's not for me and my family. We like southern cornbread dressing seasoned with onions and sage or just good rich dressing with oysters. I have heard of a farm woman who seasoned with garlic . . . everything she cooked, including the dressing for her Thanksgiving festive bird. We wouldn't like that any better than we'd like dressing seasoned with sausage. We don't put nuts in ours, either . . . just make it plain and lots of it.

MR. and MRS. TED POINDEXTER and their three children are planning to spend the holidays in Baird as guests of his parents.

The ROY TIDWELLS are planning on a big Thanksgiving with their children and grandchildren home. Expected to arrive here Wednesday evening or early Thursday are MRS. BUDDY COSBY and her children, Cindy and Steve. Mr. Cosby, who is an agent for President Johnson, will have to remain in Johnson City while the President is vacationing there. Others who will be here are MR. and MRS. GARY TIDWELL with Janie and Jana from their home in Houston. Gary has recently returned from Israel where he went as a selected news photographer from station KPRC. The party he traveled with also spent time in London, Paris and other interesting cities of Europe.

There are prospects for another Dr. Thomas in Big Spring. NANCY JANE THOMAS, daughter of DR. and MRS. CLYDE THOMAS, called her parents Thursday night to pass up the good news that she has been accepted in the University of Texas Medical School in Galveston, her father's medical alma mater.

When North Texas State University celebrated homecoming last week it honored all the graduates dating back to the beginning of the school. MR. and MRS. W. F. TAYLOR were in the 30-year group and were feted through the weekend. The school is special to the Taylors as it was here they met while students. Mrs. Taylor has two sisters and a brother who were students there in 1900 when the then teacher's college became a state school; another sister received a degree from there in 1948. The tradition is continuing as two of the Taylor grandchildren, children of the Wayland Taylors of O'Donnell, are now students there.

Included in the more than 40 old timers at the reunion was Mrs. Rosa Penn who received one of the first diplomas offered in 1896 from the school. The oldsters led the parade, and at the luncheon that honored them, each received a certificate making them members of the Golden Eagle Club which was organized at the luncheon.

MRS. OVA MAE EDWARDS and MR. and MRS. SONNY EDWARDS of Ruidoso, N. M., were expected this weekend to visit in the homes of the TOOTS MANSFIELDS, and MR. and MRS. TRAVIS REED.

In Lubbock Saturday for the Tech-Baylor game were LYNN CAULEY, RICHARD ETHUN, MIKE HOTEN and TAYLOR JONES. Also there with us were MRS. CHESTER MATHENY, DAVID PICKLE and CHRIS PROCTOR.

MRS. W. T. BARBER has been in Fort Worth with her newest grandson, MARK DOUGLAS, who was born Nov. 7 to MR. and MRS. DONALD CLOUD. Mrs. Cloud is the former Fan Barber.

MR. and MRS. W. O. WEBSTER, parents of MRS. ROBERT DEMING, left Monday to continue their trip to Ohio where they will spend Thanksgiving. They plan to return here the following Sunday for a longer visit with Chaplain and Mrs. Deming and the children before returning to their home in Riverside, Calif.

A note from MRS. W. C. BLANKENSHIP, now living in Dallas, says that at the writing Mr. Blankenship was much better after having suffered six coronary occlusions.

MRS. ALTON UNDERWOOD is in Abilene with her mother who recently sustained a broken hip in a fall.

Who's coming for Thanksgiving? Give me a ring at The Herald in the morning or at home, 263-2542, in the afternoon.

Marriage Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Soidan, 1806 Donley, are announcing the Nov. 5 marriage of their daughter, Kathleen Dianne, to Michael James Tedesco. Mrs. Tedesco has been a teacher for two years in the El Paso Public Schools, and her husband has just completed a tour of duty with the Armed Services. The couple will reside in Troy, N.Y.

MRS. MARK WALTON JR.

Big Spring gained two devoted church workers and the Texas Education Agency acquired a good secretary when Mrs. Mark Walton Jr. accompanied her husband when he was transferred to Webb Air Force Base. The couple was married June 26, 1964, in Cordele, Ga., where he was a salesman for Liberty National Life Insurance Company before joining the Air Force. He is now a jet mechanic on the flight line, and the couple reside at 1301 Johnson.

Mrs. Walton is the former Celia Worthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil A. Worthy of Americus, Ga. She was born in Brunswick, Ga., and reared in Cordale where she graduated from Crisp County High School. Due to an excellent program, she received all her secretarial training at the high school, and after graduating, took a job as secretary at Harris Press and Shear Corporation in Cordale. She resigned to accompany her husband to Texas.

In her job with the Vocational Education Division of the Texas Education Agency, Mrs. Walton is responsible for typing letters and reports, filing, mimeographing, keeping records and ordering supplies.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton devote much time to activities at the Baptist Temple where they have a junior class in the Training Union and she is a Sunday school class president and director of the Young Woman's Association. Once a month they meet with the Better Homes Club, sponsored by the church, for dinner and to hear a speaker discuss various phases of home life.

Pretty Mrs. Walton says she likes to be with friends and meet new people—and for leisure pleasure—to sing and play tennis.

MRS. BILLY MICHAEL LOGSDON

Miss Bonar Weds B. Michael Logsdon

Miss Vicky Ann Bonar became the bride of Billy Michael Logsdon Saturday evening at the Crestview Baptist Church. The Rev. J. W. Arnett, pastor, read the double ring ceremony as the couple exchanged vows before an altar illuminated by branched candelabra holding cathedral tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Bonar, 1300 Harding, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Logsdon, 203 N. 5th, Coahoma.

Traditional wedding selections were played on the organ by Mrs. Bill Scott, who accompanied Don Karns and Buster Griggs as they sang "Because" and "Whither Thou Goest."

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Jimmy Cross of Lubbock. She was attended in a formal gown of white peau de soie over white satin.

The Chantilly lace bodice was designed with a Basque waistline and long sleeves forming petal points over the hands. White bands of lace outlined the full skirt, and a large bow was placed at the hemline. Her cathedral train cascaded from a chapel veil trimmed with scalloped lace. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and yellow rose buds entwined with English ivy atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Wayne Stewart served as matron of honor, and Miss Christene Earp was the bridesmaid. They wore identical street-length dresses of pale yellow satin, trimmed with a bow at the waistline, and yellow satin headpieces.

Charles Dykes of Coahoma, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Ricky Don Logsdon and Rodney Logsdon.

Rhonda Cross served as train-bearer, and Melinde Cross was the flower girl. Jimmy Doyle Cross Jr. was ring bearer. All are of Lubbock.

WEDDING TRIP

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride chose a three-piece pale green wool suit, with black patent accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will be at home in Coahoma.

SCHOOLS

The bride is a graduate of Glenwood Spring High School, Glenwood Springs, Colo., where she was a member of the band. She was a member of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, and is now attending a beauty college. The bridegroom graduated from Coahoma High School and is employed at the Welcome Well Service in Coahoma.

A reception was held in fellowship hall, and receiving guests were the bridal couple, her mother, Mrs. Jimmy Cross of Lubbock and Mrs. Don Karns.

The refreshment table was laid with a white lace cloth centered with white tapers tied with yellow ribbons and an arrangement of yellow and white carnations. Miniature white Bibles and wedding rings decorated the table top. The three-tiered wedding cake was trimmed with confection doves, roses and wedding bells and topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Mrs. Gene Cross, grandmother of the bride, presided at the guest register. Members of the house party were Mrs. Charles Buzbee, Mrs. Tenna Stone of Kilgore, Mrs. Dorothy Earp and Mrs. Arnett.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shubert, Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hart, Jefferson; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Logsdon, Colorado City; Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Harrison, Ralls; L. G. Logsdon, Sulphur Springs; Mr. and Mrs. George Gregory, Mesquite; and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry T. Rice of El Paso.

Mothers Meet For Breakfast

Mrs. Vera Audrain, a new member of the Gold Star Mothers, served as hostess at a breakfast for the group Thursday in the home of Mrs. D. C. Pyle, 701 Bell.

The table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of blue carnations. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Mrs. Felton Smith presided, and Mrs. Rilla Webb was elected chaplain. Mrs. Harry Lees reported that coffee and cake were served to 75 patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital. Christmas gifts will be given to the patients by club members who will decorate a tree at their next meeting, Dec. 21, at the VA Hospital.

Eight members and one guest, Mrs. Pyle, attended.

BUYING TIPS FOR THE HOMEMAKER

Winter Weather Will Spur Search For Best Blankets

By GENEVIEVE SMITH WOOD

The blankets you will be looking at for the winter season are not what blankets used to be. They are so different that some erstwhile standards for judging quality on the basis of weight and fiber content will have to be scrapped.

In the first place, most of today's blankets are lighter in weight. Time was when winter blankets of wool ran around 4 to 4 1/2 pounds, but no more.

Man-made fibers, open cellular weaves that trap more warm air from the body, plus automatic blankets and central heating, combine to make heavy weights unnecessary.

Among man-made fibers the acrylics — orlon, acrilan, and creslan for the most part — soft and wool-like with excellent durability and warmth retention, are playing leading roles.

Nylon also is used in blends, and so is the old standby wool. Virgin all-wool blankets are still the standard of blanket value.

Don't assume that because a blanket is a blend that may use all or part man-made fibers, it won't give you good service. These fibers are used today because they do give good service. They are lofty and warm, durable, beautiful and washable. They also are reasonable in price.

ELECTRONIC

Something else new are blankets that have not been woven and then napped. Instead they are electronically constructed with nylon fibers on a thin core of cellular man-made material. These and others of the new blankets no longer have the familiar lofty nap. Instead their surface is soft and velvety — almost fur-like.

Something else new are blankets woven with two different faces or surfaces, one side napped as usual, the other resembling a wool fabric such as whipcord or tweed. These blankets are designed to be used as bedspreads if you wish. For this reason some are bound on all four sides.

Since their introduction into this country several years ago the cellular weave blanket — generally referred to as the thermo weave or thermo blanket — has become very popular. Since homemakers who bought the all cotton thermo weave blankets found them to be attractive bedspreads, these particular blankets now are often made with fringe on all four sides. In addition to solid colors, they also may be found in printed designs.

CELLULAR

The cotton cellular blankets are extremely versatile. They are good covering for fall and spring, and also can be used as supplementary blankets for really cold weather.

This type of blanket also is made in many fibers and blends that have napped surface. When you buy, check for fast color and also look to be sure you are getting a durable binding. Check the shrinkage as well. There is a wide price range in these blankets, and some are made for promotions.

Still another advance in blanket manufacture that you'll see this fall is the treatment of the fibers to resist "pilling" (forming tiny balls on the surface) and shedding. This finish appears under various trade names.

GENEROUS SIZE

Much of the warmth and comfort of a blanket depends on getting one that is generous in size. A standard length bed-needs a blanket 90 inches long to assure a good tuck-in. Double bed blankets are 80 inches wide, one inch narrower than the standard 81x108-inch sheet. The twin width is generally 66 or 72 inches.

Bindings are still a good indication of quality. Nylon bindings are especially long lived.

Today you also have nylon velvet, which also wears well.

Washing directions vary from blanket to blanket, but in general they can be machine washed in water of moderate temperature. Be sure to save the instructions that come with your blankets . . . follow them implicitly.

SHE KNOWS

Peggy Has Unique Santa Claus

By SAM BLACKBURN
Peggy Tindol, unlike the fabled Virginia so widely quoted, doesn't go around asking "Is there a Santa Claus?"
Peggy, a slender 11-year-old Coahoma fifth grader, doesn't have to ask. She knows there's a Santa and she hears from him in a most tangible way many times a year.

ALREADY HEARD
Peggy, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Tindol, 401 North College, Coahoma, has already heard this season from her personal Santa — the message taking the form of a big beautiful doll. This doll, which now joins Peggy's family of dolls, brings the total to 26. And every solitary one of 'em has been the gift of this same friend whom Peggy first met at the ripe age of two years—which is to say a friend she met nine years ago.

Her Santa is Jasper N. Cross, Big Spring Cross is maintenance and handy man for the Cowper Hospital and Clinic—a post he has held continuously for over 25 years.

His role as Peggy's personal Santa began when the little Coahoma girl was in the hospital in 1958 with a case of bronchial pneumonia.

"I would see Mr. Cross come into my room to fix things and clean-up," said Peggy, "and I got to talking to him. I don't know why, but I called him George—although I knew that wasn't his name. 'George,' I would say, 'let me help you.'"

START
One day while Peggy was recuperating, in walked Cross with a fabulous monkey doll which held a baby monkey doll in its arms. That was the start of a continued train of dolls

SANTA CLAUS COMES OFTEN AND EARLY FOR PEGGY TINDOL
Friend of Coahoma lass always remembers her with pretty doll which have found their way to Peggy's house ever since.

Today, the doll population in Peggy's home is 26—all gifts to her from Cross. Naturally, it is easy to figure that the dolls are not presented only on Christmas. They show up on all seasons of the year. Valentine Day, Easter, Peggy's birthday and, every now and then, on days which have no outstanding significance, here comes a new doll for Peggy. In between, gifts of candy, pretty Valentines and other presents show up.

CAREFUL
Peggy is a thoughtful little lady and takes the very best possible care of her doll family. She is so careful with them that it is difficult to tell the latest doll (which showed up just a few days ago) from the dolls that were sent when the practice began years ago.

The newest doll is a big, blue-eyed baby with blond curls and fancy updo hair style.

As usual, Cross sends his Christmas gift well ahead of the day. Asked by Mrs. Tindol why this is his custom, he succinctly replied:

"I may not be around Christmas."

Peggy and Mrs. Tindol see Cross from time to time. When the family is in Big Spring, they usually drop by the Cowper Hospital and have a little visit with Peggy's friend.

NOT SURPRISED
At the hospital, no one is surprised at the fact Cross never sends his little friend an unattractive doll.

Truett Thomas, manager of the hospital, and a friend of Cross, said:

"Jasper is never so happy as when he is giving some person he likes a present. He never gives a poor present—they are all the best to be found."

This may explain his early delivery of Peggy's Christmas dolls. Cross has a good chance to select the particular doll he wants from the stores before the choice has been diminished by shoppers.

So Peggy is one little girl that never goes around asking whether or not there is a Santa Claus.

She knows.

Plans Announced For Union Service

Edward C. Keefe, Oklahoma City, past president of Kiwanis International and currently president of the Oklahoma Independent College Foundation, will be guest speaker at Big Spring's Community Thanksgiving Service Thursday at 10 a.m. The services, sponsored by the Big Spring Pastor's Association, will be in the Webb AFB Chapel.

SPEAKER

Keefe is nationally known as a speaker on inspirational topics and the Rev. V. Ward Jackson, member of the Big Spring governor for the Kiwanis Club Division 22, said that the community is most fortunate in having the Oklahoman here as its speaker.

The services are open to the public and an appeal to all Big Springers to hear Keefe has been sounded. Kiwanians will serve as ushers at the chapel.

The Rev. Homer Rich, president of the Pastor's Association, is chairman for the day.

A highlight of the services will be selections by the Big Spring the First Christian Church. Col. George Franks of Webb AFB will deliver the address of welcome.

The high school choir will then sing "Come, Ye Thankful People, Come," which will be followed by the reading of the presidential Thanksgiving Day proclamation by Mayor Arnold Marshall.

Chaplain Clark O. Hitt, of Veterans Administration Hospital, will read the scripture. The Rev. James Puckett, of Temple Baptist Church, will deliver the prayer of Thanksgiving.

Joe Dunn, with the Howard County Farm Bureau, will direct the congregational hymn, "We Gather Together."

The Rev. Rich will deliver the offertory prayer. The offering for the services will be used by the Pastors' Association to help community projects—one of the principal ones being the Bible classes in the high school.

The choir will present "Now Thank We All Our God," and the Rev. Jackson will introduce Keefe.

CLOSING

Closing hymn will be "America the Beautiful," followed by the benediction to be pronounced by Wing Chaplain Robert Deming, Webb AFB.

The organ postlude will be by Mrs. Jonell Roberts, Webb AFB chapel organist.

Keefe will be special guest of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club at 7:30 a.m. Thursday at a breakfast for Kiwanians and their wives at Cowden Country Club.

Christmas Party Slated Dec. 7 In Westside Park

Christmas for the kids who live in the vicinity of the Westside Park will come Dec. 7, it was announced by Bill Johnson, president of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club, Thursday.

Each December the Kiwanians stage a Christmas party for youngsters from needy families in the area. Don Lovelady is chairman of this year's committee on arrangements. He has provided each Kiwanian with the name, sex and age of three youngsters invited to the party.

The club member is asked to buy three gifts. The price limit for each is $2, and it is specified the present be a toy or game.

The Kiwanians will have lunch with their young guests at the Community Club Building. Sandwiches, cookies and cold drinks will form the menu, which wives of Kiwanians will prepare.

Santa Claus will show up after lunch and the Christmas tree, which will be loaded with gifts, will become the center of attention.

Usually bags of fruit and candy supplement the special gifts for each child. The guests are selected by social workers who know the families in the area.

Maj. James L. Anthony, provided close air support for allied troops during recent ground fighting west of Pleiku in Vietnam. The 33-year-old U.S. Air Force major demonstrated how close, close air support can be when he flew his F-100 Super Sabre from Phan Rang Air Base to assist his allies in the central Vietnamese highlands.

It was Maj. Anthony's 53rd combat mission and the 10,000th mission recorded for the 615th Tactical Fighter Squadron since the unit arrived in Vietnam last year.

The major received his commission in 1955 through the aviation cadet program. His wife, Mary, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Stratton, 710 E. 17th St., Big Spring.

S. Sgt. James H. Williams Jr. has received the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at McGuire AFB, N.J. Sgt. Williams was decorated for meritorious service as an aircraft pneumatic repairman at Bien Hoa AB, Vietnam. He is now at McGuire in a unit of the Military Airlift Command.

The sergeant, a 1960 graduate of Easton, Pa., High School, attended Howard County Junior College. His wife Edith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N.E. Roll, 1200 Harding St., Big Spring.

fantrymen who came ashore at Chu Lai, completing an 11,000-mile trip which began at Ft. Hood, in early October.

The Brigade has joined the newly formed Americal Division which is operating in the northern part of the country. They are now undergoing combat orientation with the division. Pvt. Smith, a medical aidman, is assigned to the Brigade's 9th Support Battalion.

Army Pvt. I.C. Milton A. King, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland A. King, 1902 Robin St., Big Spring, arrived in Vietnam Oct. 22 with his unit, the 503rd Infantry's 3rd Battalion.

The battalion, which was formed at Ft. Bragg, N.C., has joined the 173rd Airborne Brigade near An Khe. Prior to ar-iving in the country, the paratroopers received intensive training in helicopter assaults, weapons firing and field maneuvers. Pvt. King is a rifleman in the battalion's Company A.

Marine Pvt. Thomas L. Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Bailey, Route One, Big Spring, completed two weeks of training under simulated combat conditions in the fundamentals of day and night patrolling, employment of infantry weapons, survival methods and assault tactics at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Even a minor sore throat can be extremely dangerous to a child if neglected. It might be one of the early symptoms of rheumatic fever and this disease causes more deaths than polio did before Dr. Salk.

The cause of rheumatic fever is the streptococcus germ which can be easily identified by your physician. The diagnosis must be as soon as possible. Beginning symptoms are the innocent looking minor sore throat, a feeling of fatigue and mild joint pains. Don't wait for the severe stages when the sore throat develops with a high fever, sore neck glands, red and swollen joints. By this time irreparable damage may have been done to the heart.

Cleared in biggest cash robbery

Two Acquitted In Record Heist

BOSTON (AP) — Mrs. Patricia Diaferio, 32, and the mother of four, and John J. Kelley, stood acquitted today of charges of taking part in the biggest cash robbery in U.S. history, the theft of $1.5 million from a U.S. mail truck in Plymouth.

The defendants stood solemnly as the verdict was returned at 4:09 p.m., Friday slightly more than an hour after the 11-man, 1-woman jury was given the case after 10 days of testimony.

Mrs. Diaferio, a Boston resident, burst into tears when jury foreman Louis Alpert of Weston announced the acquittals. Kelley, of Watertown, broke into a huge grin.

"You could say I was just a little bit delighted," he said when he walked out of the courtroom.

JURY 'WONDERFUL'
Mrs. Diaferio hugged her lawyer, Joseph J. Balliro, as they walked down the hall and said, "I think he's a doll."

"We knew all along what the jury would do," said her husband, Santos. "The jury was just wonderful, just wonderful."

The prosecution charged that Mrs. Diaferio was the woman who stood at a makeshift barricade at an exit ramp on Route 3 and helped divert northbound traffic off the highway so the truck could be robbed undisturbed about four miles up the road on Aug. 14, 1962.

The barricade was erected just as the mail truck traveled in rural countryside carrying cash mailed by Cape Cod banks to the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston.

The thieves bound and gagged the two-man crew on the truck and then drove it to a remote part of Route 128 in nearby Randolph.

Several witnesses identified Mrs. Diaferio as a big-bosomed blonde they saw at the barricade.

But H. Angus Perry, a pilot for Northeast Airlines, conceded he might have been mistaken in his estimate of bust size when Balliro had Mrs. Diaferio wear a light blue sweater and stand sideways in front of the witness stand.

"Does she have a big bosom?" Balliro asked. "No," replied the witness.

Thirteen witnesses testified for the government. Defense lawyers F. Lee Bailey and Balliro rested their case without calling any witnesses.

Judge Charles E. Wyzanski,

Welfare Group Sees TB Film

Mrs. Florence Reilly, Volunteer Coordinator at McKnight State TB Hospital at Sanatorium, was speaker at the monthly luncheon meeting of the Big Spring Health and Welfare Group held Friday at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

She presented a case history film of an actual tuberculosis patient, from the discovery of the disease in a high school senior until her release from the hospital in less than a year's time as a physically well individual with plans for a nursing career. The film was made at McKnight where the patient was hospitalized.

Maj. Maurice Took, Webb AFB, president of Howard County TB Association, stated that the sale of TB Seals enables the association to carry on a continuing TB program in the county. In the period from February through June of this year 4,061 persons were tested for TB, and of these 3,672 were school children. As a follow-up of the tests, 119 X-rays were made. The association hires a TB testing nurse who works in all the schools of the county making TB tests and following up the test if there is any evidence of active TB germs.

Maj. Took presented Mrs. Reilly with a check for the Christmas fund at McKnight State TB Hospital. He urged everyone to send in contributions for the TB Seals that have been received through the mail.

Housing May Halt Training

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Move of several hundred workers from the Lower Rio Grande Valley to Dallas may be delayed by a housing shortage, state officials said Friday.

The workers from South Texas were to be moved to Dallas for training jobs at Ling-Temco-Vought.

H. D. Crisler, manager of the Texas Employment Commission office in Grand Prairie—site of the LTV plant—said, "It could squelch the whole program if we just could not place these people in housing."

"We are not at that point yet," he added, "but it is conceivable."

Sixty Mexican-American workers have moved to Dallas since the LTV training program was begun last month. The firm seeks to relieve a current labor shortage by recruiting in the Valley where manpower is abundant although untrained.

Taxpayers Shine, But Voters Lag

Howard County taxpayers have pushed close to payment of their total 1967 tax bill with 10 weeks left in which to meet their obligation.

Howard County voters, however, have not made so good a showing in registration for 1968.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor, said Friday that through Nov. 17, her office had registered only 3,970 voters. This is about a third of the qualified electors in the county who need only to register (there is no fee) to be eligible to vote in 1968 elections. Less than 1,000 have qualified in the past two weeks.

Deadline for registration is Jan. 31, 1968.

Meantime, Mrs. LeFevre said that taxpayers of the county have already paid in $1,103,188 in 1967 taxes. The total collection, if every taxpayer paid off the bill against his property, would be $1,319,213. This means that only $216,025 taxes remains to be collected. However, since it is historic that only about 96 per cent of the total tax is paid annually, the year end total is nearer than the $1,103,188 figure reflects.

Mrs. LeFevre said that the three per cent discount allowed taxpayers is responsible for the heavy payment in October. Tax payments in November carry a two per cent and December payments a one per cent discount. January taxes, last month of the pay period, are without discount.

Pay TV Future Still Up In Air

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The future of pay television is still up in the air, a federal communications commissioner says.

"So far I only know of another commissioner and myself who favor it and I can't even speculate on what my colleagues are going to do," Kenneth A. Cox said Friday at a conference of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Cox, one of seven commissioners, voiced his approval of editorializing on television and radio programs, noting that broadcasting can be "an instrument for social reform and public enlightenment."

SWITCH GRASS EXPERIMENTS LAUNCHED HERE
Dr. Wayne McCully, Texas A&M, left and Dr. Paul Koshi, Big Spring

Six-Year Study To Check On Switch Grass Species

A study of native grasses, particularly the switch grass species, to run from 1968 through 1973 at the U.S. Experiment Station here, in cooperation with the Texas A&M College, was set up last week.

Dr. Wayne McCully, associate professor of range management, Texas A&M, was in town to confer with Bill Fryrear, station director, and Dr. Paul T. Koshi of the station staff.

Fryrear said that the switch grasses are native to this area. There are several species. Some of these varieties have been planted in adjoining plots at the station and the variations in the plots are readily noted.

The station will run tests on the grass, measuring the water requirements it has to have to flourish, and determining other factors which contribute to its growth and value.

Dr. McCully also will run tests on the species to determine nutritional values and other factors.

The object is to find the best native grasses to be used in re-seeding pasture lands. The feed value of the grass is important.

The studies also will include comparisons on the impact of water, or lack of it, on growth of different varieties. The nutritional values will parallel these studies. Other kinds of grasses will be checked, too.

How much corn in a cornfield?

Bobby was raised in the city. It wasn't until recently that he had ever set foot in a cornfield. Oh, he'd seen hundreds of cornfields from the window of a speeding car. And, shopping with Mother at the market, he'd seen the golden ears peeping through their green jackets. But when we visited the Stoner's farm Bobby actually set foot in a cornfield. And Bobby looked at our host as though he were a millionaire. "Gosh, Mr. Stoner," he said, "God sure gave you a lot of corn." The other day we had a note from the Stoners inviting us to have Thanksgiving dinner with them. "Please bring Bobby along," they wrote. "He helped us appreciate just how much corn there is in a cornfield—and where it comes from."

'LUV'
Peter Falk, Jack Lemmon and Elaine May

Bungler Winds Up With All Marbles

Peter Falk was Jack Lemmon's partner in massive skulduggery, in "The Great Race." Now, in "Luv," the release at the Ritz Theatre in Panavision and Eastman color, Lemmon is Falk's hapless victim, a "born loser" who unhappily winds up with Falk's wife, his home and, ultimately, his girl friend. He bungles his way through life, a sitting duck for the kind of sharpie whom Falk portrays.

In "Luv," Falk is a Wall Street broker, with a sideline in "antiques," who finds life to be a plump and succulent oyster. There is only one flaw in his self-satisfied existence: his intellectual wife. He prefers a beautiful, blonde and thoroughly feminine young gym teacher. A born schemer, Falk plots to introduce his wife to his old college friend, now a despairing derelict, and pushes them into falling in love. Lemmon, of course, is Falk's bewildered successor. Elaine May costars as the wife and Nina Wayne as the gym teacher, Falk's girl friend.

Falk's acting style is considered a combination of fierceness and gentleness reminiscent of the late John Garfield. He was nominated for Academy Awards for his acting in both "Murder, Inc." and "Pocketful of Miracles," and television, too, has recognized Falk's thespic skill. He walked off with an Emmy for the best performance of the year with his work in "The Price of Tomatoes," on The Dick Powell Show, and his own television show, "Trials of O'Brien," won him additional acclaim.

THE ARTS

HCJC Players Staging Show

By WINNIE UNGER

Howard County Junior College's production, "Pygmalion," by G. Bernard Shaw, received a warm reception from its audience when it opened Friday night. The young actors, wearing what looked like authentic early-1900 clothing, put enthusiasm and finesse into their characterizations.

The stage props were simple but effective cyclorama arrangements of flats depicting the columns, windows, fireplace, and the famous bathtub scene sported an old-fashioned tub, gaily painted, on wheels. Two more performances are scheduled Monday and Tuesday, 8 p.m., in the college auditorium.

A new organization to supplement cultural activity in this area has recently been born in Odessa. The Permian Civic Ballet Company, approved by the Midland-Odessa Symphony, is naming committees and by-laws with an aim to promoting a community dance troupe and seasonal programs to include sketches and scenes from famous ballets, large spectaculars, and facilities for instruction.

The next meeting of the ballet group will be at 5 p.m. Dec. 3 in Rodeo Hall at Terminal and is open to all interested people.

John R. Vincent, director of Midland's Museum of the Southwest, will conduct a workshop at the museum Monday at 7 p.m. It will cover aspects of painting not included in the usual college art courses such as cleaning and repairing, minor restoration of art works, and how to prepare, stretch-and-frame canvases to promote durability.

The workshop will be informal with time for questions, and is offered to interested artists free of charge.

The museum yesterday opened an exhibit of photographs by Todd Webb depicting the architectural styles of Texas homes in the 19th century. Also on display are three-dimensional models and authentic building tools that were typical of the specific period and which illustrates the evolution and diversity of construction techniques. The exhibit will continue through Dec. 23.

Today is opening day in Lubbock at the West Texas Museum Art Gallery on the Tech campus for a two-man exhibit of paintings by Loyce Easley and Jan Herring, New Mexico painters. Mrs. Herring is particularly well known for her portrayal of youngsters in flat, glowing colors combined with eloquent fluid lines.

A coffee to enable guests to meet the artists is scheduled from 2-5 p.m. This collection is well worth a drive over to see. It will remain on display through Dec. 10.

Texas Tech's Opera Theater has slated "Lil Abner" for performances Dec. 1-2 in Lubbock Municipal Auditorium. Admission to the popular musical comedy is $1.25 for students and $2 for the general public.

Dallas Civic Opera will bring its season to a close over the Thanksgiving holiday weekend with a triple bill of opera and ballet.

Called "Gala 3," the trio will include Cimarosa's brief 18th century opera buffa "Maestro di Cappella," the ballet "Faerie Queen" set to the music of Henry Purcell, and Puccini's tragic one-act opera "Suor Angelica."

Tickets are from $2 to $15 and are on sale at the DCO box office, 1310 Main. There will be two evening performances in State Fair Music Hall Wednesday, Nov. 22, and Saturday, Nov. 25.

Lewis Directs, Produces, Helps Write, And Stars

Jerry Lewis doesn't mind being known as "The Big Mouth," the title of the release in which he is starred at the Ritz Theatre in Eastman color. At the height of his powers, Lewis is the producer and director, as well as co-writer, of "The Big Mouth."

He plays a bookkeeper with a passion for fishing who suddenly finds himself pursued by two rival underworld mobs and sundry other characters... all because he inadvertently hooked and reeled in a frogman with a knowledge of smuggled diamonds. The role is tailor-made to the Lewis image, and to Lewis' insistence that movie-making should show closely to basic cinematic fundamentals in which the picture is more important than the words, action more vital than dialogue.

Thus, when it comes to movie talk, the success of his own comedies is proof positive that Jerry Lewis knows whereof he speaks.

In a shrewd observation about

"Three on a Couch," Lewis' first comedy, a commentator from Life Magazine wrote:

"In a day when movie makers are self-consciously seeking the old-time Hollywood zanies and bringing in overblown nothing—Lewis comes closer than anyone to realizing the lost ideal. As both director and star he demonstrates admirable economy, a sense of precisely where the laughs are and a fine feel for comic rhythm—when to relax the pace, when to pour it on."

With the emphasis on action, often wildly impertinent, it's small wonder that Lewis is popular with both adults and children. As Lewis once summed it up to a magazine writer: "I get paid for doing what children are punished for... in doing this, I help the audience to get rid of its hostility quotient."

That's how Jerry Lewis uses psychology in the interests of art. His cheekiness, his impudence in puncturing the balloon of pretension—lie at the heart of the Lewis' comic appeal.

Millions Star In 'Voyage'

"Fantastic Voyage," in a sense, involves a cast of millions — corpuscles, both red and white; antibodies, cells, platelets, reticular fibers, leukocytes — a sort of Corps de Capillary dancing lyrically, sometimes stormily, and often dangerously in the 100,000 miles of inland waterways which comprise man's arterial system.

However, "Fantastic Voyage" is not an illustrated lecture on anatomy. This CinemaScope-DeLuxe color production, which opens Wednesday at the Jet Theatre, is a serious, always suspenseful and remarkable artistic motion picture milestone. Produced by Saul David and directed by Richard Fleischer, its human stars are Stephen Boyd, Raquel Welch, Edmond O'Brien, Donald Pleasence, Arthur O'Connell, William Redfield and Arthur Kennedy.

Surfing Industry Continues Growth

Between the sea and the shores lies the world of Cowabunga. During the filming of the comedy, "Don't Make Waves," Tony Curtis, Claudia Cardinale and Sharon Tate discovered that it is a world to itself with a language all its own.

It is the realm of the surfers and it's growing faster than Southern California, with the surfboard industry now selling 1,200 of its products a month, at $125 apiece and up.

Surfing began in Polynesia, first with tree trunks, then with planks for surfboards. It caught on along the California coast as a minor pastime in the '20's and in the last 10 years has not only become a major participation sport along America's entire Pacific seaboard but has spread to Mexico, Peru, Canada, France, Spain, the British Isles and Japan.

"Cowabunga" is the Tarzan cry of the surfer exultantly riding a comb. Corresponding to the "Geronimo!" of the parashutist, the word is believed to be of Polynesian origin but none of the surfers can tell you what it means.

"Hot-doggers" are what surfers call the experts, those able to come in on a big one standing up. "Don't Make Waves," starring Raquel Welch, Tony Curtis and Claudia Cardinale, opens today at the Jet.

Outlaw's Life Story Told

William T. Christian, the first outlaw of the Southwest to carry the nickname of "Black Jack", was born in northern Texas in 1871 near Fort Griffin. Christian's outlawry occurred in three territories of the Old West: Oklahoma, Arizona and New Mexico.

Called "Black Jack" because of his swarthy complexion, Christian committed robberies in the Oklahoma Territory and escaped from the county jail in Oklahoma City on June 30, 1895. Fleeing to New Mexico, he organized a bandit gang called the High Fives and committed many depredations, holding up post offices, stagecoaches and trains. He and his gang attempted to rob the bank at Nogales, Arizona Territory, in August of 1896. At last, in April of 1897, Will Christian was gunned down by lawmen just outside of Clifton, Arizona Territory.

The life and crimes of William T. Christian has recently been biographed in a book called "Black Jack Christian, Outlaw," published by The Press Of The Territorial in Santa Fe, N.M.
