Cabbage Held Up By Wreck

PRESIDIO, Tex. (AP) — The cabbage crop from this far West Texas area was being put in refrigerated cars today while workmen prepared to remove a derailed Santa Fe freight train which blocks the main rail line to the north.

A wrecker hook unit was dispatched from Amarillo to clear the wreckage after the Santa Fe freight was derailed by a boulder that rolled down into a rail cut Sunday. The lead engine of the train derailed and overturned when it hit the boulder. Two other diesel units and six freight cars also derailed.

Gene Tipton, Santa Fe agent at Presidio, said damage probably would exceed $100,000. The track probably would not be cleared until Wednesday at the earliest, Tipton said. Three San Angelo men were injured, none seriously, in the accident, which happened 18 miles northeast of Presidio in mountainous terrain.

Absentee Voting

Absentee voting for the Dec. 16 city sales tax election begins Monday and will continue through Dec. 13, according to City Secretary Charles Smith.

Ballots which are mailed must be postmarked Dec. 13 at a point outside Howard County and received in the morning mail of the 14th, said Smith. Residents may vote at City Hall until 5 p.m. Dec. 13.

"To vote in the election, persons must be qualified voters and have lived in the city limits of Big Spring for at least six months prior to the election," he said. Webb Air Force Base personnel, who meet the requirements, are eligible to vote.

MANY NEEDED

Toy Drive

Toys — and plenty of them — are needed by local firemen for the 1967 toy drive.

"The drive started Thursday and not many toys have been donated," said Fire Chief H. V. Crocker. "The way it's going we're not going to have any toys—garage sales are being used to sell many of those formerly given to us for repair."

Bicycles, dolls, wagons and tricycles are favorite items of children each year and will be repaired by firemen for distribution near Christmas, said Crocker.

All six city fire stations are collection points for the drive, although Crocker said pickups would be made if local residents would call 267-6083.

Norther A' Brewing

By The Associated Press

Moist air billowing warmly over Texas from the Gulf of Mexico held back a mild cool front today, but another and stronger surge of refrigerated air was on the way.

Snow flurries and temperatures down to 30 degrees were predicted by tonight in the Texas Panhandle.

A Pacific front pushed into the state Monday and was shoved backward by the inflowing warmth. By this morning its forward edge was at a standstill along the Red River and angling northward from near Wichita Falls into the west edge of the Oklahoma Panhandle.

Temperatures remained mild for this time of year in most areas.

Weather Bureau observers looked for more noticeable cooling over much of the northern half of the state tonight, however, with the arrival of cold Canadian air, still showing southward in Colorado this morning.

Forecasts called for much lower temperatures by Wednesday in northern sections of the state and less severe chilling in the south with widely scattered showers in some areas.

Gusty winds kicked up a little dust in places Monday across West Texas while light showers played out in the central and southern parts of the state.

New Phase Of War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland declared today the United States is about to enter a new phase of the Vietnam war in which "the end begins to come into view."

Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, predicted no target date for the end of the conflict, but he said already "the enemy's hopes are bankrupt."

His remarks came in a speech prepared for a National Press Club luncheon here.

RACE WITH DEATH

Serum For Child

JASPER, Tex. (AP)—Sheriff's deputies and state patrolmen, driving at speeds topping 100 miles per hour, won a 145-mile race with death today by shuttling diphtheria serum to a gravely ill child.

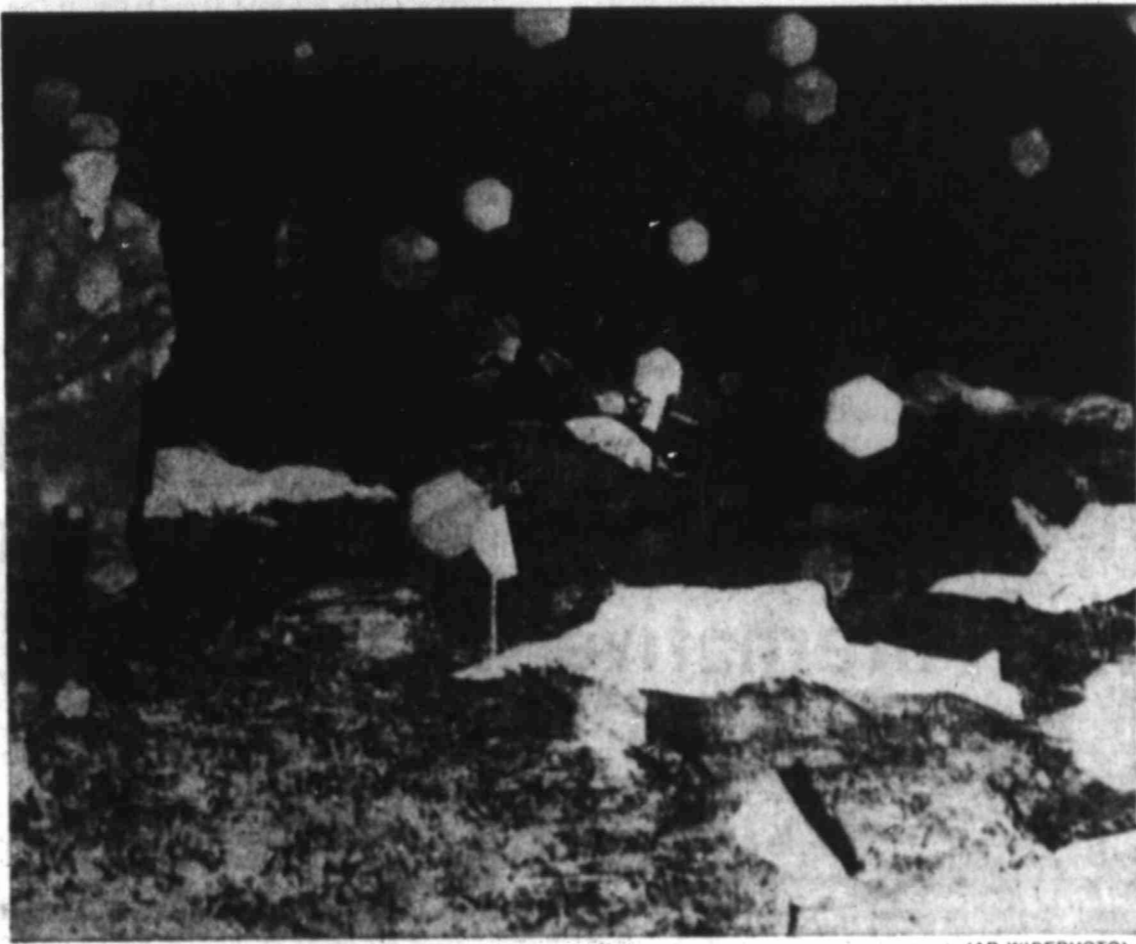

Dr. Lee Popejoy requested the serum Monday night, and peace officers relayed it from Galveston's John Sealy Hospital to Jasper in Southeast Texas in one hour and 45 minutes.

A nurse at Dickinson Memorial Hospital here said the antitoxin was administered quickly and "we believe the little girl is going to be all right."

The patient is a 3-year-old girl from the Weirgate community near Jasper. The hospital withheld her name.

Traveling on roads slick from drizzling rain, Deputy Sheriff I. E. Hubbard of Jasper drove the last 75 miles from Beaumont in 45 minutes, arriving at 1:45 a.m.

Dr. Tim Covington, pharmacy resident at the Galveston hospital, packed two vials of the diphtheria serum in ice at the telephoned request of Dr. Popejoy in Jasper.

Israelis Lose Two Jets Along Jordan

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli jet fighter-bombers attacked Jordanian positions on the east bank of the Jordan River today for the first time since the Arab-Israeli war in June.

Jordan claimed two Israeli planes were shot down and said the pilot of the first one bailed out and was killed. It did not say how.

ADMITS

Israel admitted the loss of one of its French Mysteres and said the pilot bailed out over Jordanian territory.

The Israeli Army also announced that one Israeli was killed and one wounded by Jordanian shelling. It claimed six Jordanian tanks and one armored car destroyed.

Amman Radio said the Jordanians lost only one military vehicle and there were no casualties to Jordanian personnel. It claimed Israeli tanks and other equipment were set ablaze, two Israeli gun positions were destroyed and most of their personnel were killed.

Amman said King Hussein, now in London, was in constant telephone contact with his brother, Crown Prince Hassan, until the fighting stopped, and that Jordan's delegate to the United Nations had been instructed to inform U.N. members of the battle.

The Israelis said their air force went into action after the Jordanians moved tanks up to the cease-fire line and opened up across the river on a wide front.

CALLED IN

The Jordanians charged that the Israelis began the attack with artillery and tank fire, then called in their planes when Jordanian positions returned the fire.

It was the fourth consecutive day of firing across the river.

An Israeli spokesman said Jordanian tanks opened fire at 8:45 a.m. (1:45 a.m. EST) a few miles south of the Umm-Shart Bridge, at a point where Israeli and Jordanian gunners duelled for two hours Monday.

"Israeli forces returned the fire to silence the source of the enemy shelling," the spokesman continued. "The enemy fire did not stop, so the air force was called in."

The Jordanian communique said the Israeli attack was concentrated in the area of the Al-Lenby Bridge, 10 miles north of the Dead Sea and about 200 miles west of Amman, the Jordanian capital.

STOPPED

The Israeli spokesman said the firing stopped at 10:55 a.m. (3:55 a.m. EST) and "the sector is quiet for the moment."

A Jordanian communique said the Israeli attack was concentrated in the area of the Al-Lenby Bridge, 10 miles north of the Dead Sea and about 200 miles west of Amman, the Jordanian capital.

If and when the two houses approve the bill, it goes to the President for action.

Casualties Mount In Costly Battle

SAIGON (AP) — While U.S. planes and artillery pounded dug-in North Vietnamese gunners, helicopter crews removed today the last of 140 American paratroopers wounded since Sunday in bitter fighting on the slopes of Hill 875.

BRUTAL

Associated Press correspondent Peter Arnett reported one of the most brutal fights of the war under way as men of the 173rd Airborne Brigade attempted to take the remaining enemy bunkers on the hill in the central highlands 14 miles southwest of Dak To.

Short of food and water, the paratroopers battled stiff enemy fire as they continued their push to the summit. They used flame-throwers against the enemy's intricate bunker system.

U.S. jets pounded the entire area, attempting to keep to a schedule of one strike every 15 minutes. U.S. artillery gunners fill in the gaps.

Maj. Gen. William R. Peers said he felt the paratroopers would be on the summit of the hill late tonight.

U.S. casualties have mounted to at least 239 dead and 822 wounded during the 19 days of fighting around the Dak To Valley.

Although the North Vietnamese repeatedly drove off medical helicopters, five wounded men were lifted out Monday night. U.S. crewmen sped in and out of a clearing cut in the jungle growth and removed all the rest in a two-hour period today.

COSTLY

This was the second most costly battle of the Viet Nam war for American forces.

Webb Projects Still In Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House conference committee has agreed on a $2,093,362,000 appropriation for construction work at military bases in the United States and abroad.

The compromise bill, subject to final votes in the House and Senate, is $844 million under the amount budgeted by President Johnson, $39 million under the total approved by the House in October and $6 million under the Senate version adopted earlier this month.

Included in the final version of the bill is $2,296,000 for Webb AFB.

The major item is $2,121,000 for a hospital facility to replace the 25-year-old rambling frame structure at the base. Other construction items for the base are $55,000 for a data processing plant and $120,000 for automatic sprinkler systems for fire protection.

If and when the two houses approve the bill, it goes to the President for action.

Plane Crash Toll At 64

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A team of federal investigators went to work today trying to determine why a TWA jet passenger plane crashed while approaching the Greater Cincinnati Airport Monday night, apparently killing 64 of 82 persons aboard.

"We counted up all our passengers again, and now find there were 75 passengers and seven crew members," said TWA District Manager A. B. Krueger. "There are 18 survivors."

"That leaves 64 persons not accounted for. I don't want to say they are all dead, but I don't have much hope for finding any more survivors," Krueger added.

Six of the survivors were reported in serious or critical condition in various area hospitals.

The debris-strewn crash scene is in an orchard about 1.5 miles north of the airport and not far from the spot where an American Airlines passenger plane crashed in 1965 killing 58 of 62 persons aboard.

Greater Cincinnati Airport is built south of the edge of a plateau above the Ohio River. The American Airlines plane smashed against the hillside 30 feet below the edge of the plateau. The TWA plane that crashed Monday night came down a few hundred yards past the edge, in plain sight of the runway lights.

FIRE

Woodrow McKay, chief tower controller at the airport, said "a pretty good fire broke out" after the plane hit.

Mrs. Maude Cuneo of Hebron, Ky., said she saw a "great ball of fire," that it looked to her as though the plane had "exploded in the air."

The airplane was Trans World Air Lines Convair 880 bound from Los Angeles to Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and Boston. It was about two hours late, TWA said, because a faulty door of another plane caused passengers to be shifted in Los Angeles to the one that crashed.

Dense smoke hung over the area and debris covered the ground at the scene of the crash. Light snow fell sporadically as ambulances hauled bodies away from the orchard.

Same Destinations

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — They came from different directions just two years and 12 days apart, but their destinations were the same—flames, death and destruction.

CLOSE BY

It was within a few hundred yards from where 64 persons died in an airline crash Monday night that 58 others met death Nov. 8, 1965.

Both were headed toward the Greater Cincinnati Airport, just across the Ohio River in northern Kentucky, when they met disaster.

Monday night's TWA Convair 880 jet had come from the west and had turned south to land, clearing a hill that rises from the river bottom to landing level.

Two years ago, an American Airlines Boeing 707 jet had come from the east, turned to its left and never cleared the hill. It plowed into a wooded area, killing 58 of the 62 people aboard.

Both crashes were at night, Monday night's in light snow, the earlier one in light rain. The Civil Aeronautics Board, nearly a year after the American crash, blamed human error for the accident, saying its crew apparently was trying to get on the ground before heavier rain set in.

PREOCCUPIED

"Both pilots became preoccupied in maintaining visual contact with the runway, resulting in inattention to, and improper monitoring of, the altitude reference instruments," the CAB said.

Visual contact apparently never was lost by the crew of the TWA jet. It was over the crest of the hill and headed for the runway when it dropped into an orchard.

Floodlights illuminated the area.

Among the first at the scene was Capt. Paul Dickmann, commander of the Hebron, Ky., life squad.

RUNNING

"We were running across the field past a man and when we went on there was a man carrying a child from the burning wreckage of the plane," Dickmann said.

He said both men were badly hurt but told him to go on and help the others.

Dickmann said a survivor told him he thought it was just a hard landing at first but then "the ceiling collapsed on my wife and then the plane burst into flames."

McKay said the plane was making a routine instrument approach. An airport spokesman said there had been no indication from the pilot of any trouble.

The cause of the crash was not determined.

A part of the tail of the plane was about all that remained of the jet.

The accident came just two weeks after another TWA plane crashed at the airport when it failed to make its takeoff. One woman died afterward but her death was not connected directly with the plane crash.

Pilots, Hijacked Airplane Expected Back From Cuba

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — The owner of a plane which was hijacked at gunpoint and flown to Havana says, "The Cubans can have the plane . . . as long as I get my two boys back."

The pilot, J.V. Raymond, 35, of Pompano Beach radioed that a passenger pulled a gun on him Monday over South Florida.

MESSAGE

"There is a man aboard with a gun and he intends to take this plane to Havana . . . and that's exactly what he's going to do," Raymond told the Federal Aviation Agency in Miami.

He described the hijacker as Russian but George Nesmith, owner of the Crescent Air Taxi Service plane, said the man's nationality was not determined.

Monday night a spokesman for the Swiss Embassy in Havana said Raymond and the copilot, Jeff White, 22, of Miami, were unharmed and probably would return to the United States today. Earlier Havana Radio had announced that White, who got out of the U.S. Coast Guard three weeks ago, and Raymond would be released as soon as the necessary paper work was completed.

The newscast, monitored in Miami, made no mention of the incident until almost six hours after the plane touched down in Cuba.

Cuban security cars and a van came on the runway as the Piper Apache 23 landed after the two-hour flight.

"They'll probably shake the boys and the plane down real good," said Nesmith.

CALLED OFF

Two fighter jets armed with air-to-air missiles flew from Homestead Air Force Base and caught up with the plane when the hijack message was received but backed off when the hijacker took the radio and warned he would kill White and Raymond if he would kill interceptors were not called off.

The thin blond passenger, between 25 and 30 years old, gave his name as Felix S. Mariasy when he rented the plane. He was picked up in a helicopter in Miami, flown to Hollywood and was supposedly debarking on a trip to Bimini when he pulled the gun. He had told Nesmith he wanted to go to Bimini to pick up his wife.

Drive Given A Big Boost

The big gifts division gave the United Fund drive a nice boost and the campaign has reached $99,287.25 of its $116,121.69 goal.

The report by divisions includes: out of town $10,483.50, big gifts $34,628, special gifts $6,110.50, employee $33,394.92, Webb AFB $12,509.83, metropolitan $2,064, and area $96.50.

Division leaders and team captains, meeting Monday at the Chamber of Commerce, assigned all unworked cards of the metropolitan and special gifts division. A special effort will be made this week to complete these calls.

Harold Davis, campaign chairman, said that if these calls yield a fair-share gift, the goal of the drive can be reached.

Six Apollo Astros Snare Key Roles For Moonflight

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Six astronauts, including two who never have ridden a rocket, today held key roles in two forthcoming space rehearsals for America's flight to the moon.

The space agency Monday named three-man crews for the first manned flights atop the Saturn 5 rocket, whose triumphant test journey Nov. 9 gave the moon program the impetus it needed.

Early in 1969 Air Force Col. Frank Borman, 39, will command the second manned trip aboard a Saturn 5, joined by Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Collins, 37, and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders, 34. Borman commanded Gemini 7 in 1965. Collins rode Gemini 10 in 1966. Anders is a space rookie.

Once in space the men are to act out vital steps in the moon-flight scenario. McDivitt's team is to carry out first manned space testing of the Apollo command craft, its service section and the moonlanding lunar module.

YOUNG YANKS TURN UP IN MOSCOW Deserters Blast U. S. Actions

MOSCOW (AP) — Four U.S. sailors who deserted the carrier Intrepid in Japan told the carrier public today that a majority of American servicemen do not want to fight in Vietnam.

They deserted in protest against U.S. policy in Vietnam. They are Richard D. Bailey, 19, of Jacksonville, Fla.; John Michael Barilla, 20, of Catonsville, Md.; Craig W. Anderson, 20, of San Jose, Calif.; and Michael Landner, 19, of Mount Pocono, Pa.

The four young Americans jumped ship Oct. 24 while the Intrepid was in Japan for a recreation stay after a tour bombing North Vietnam.

A Japanese peace group which looked after the deserters said they went to the Soviet Union because they apparently did not consider Japan neutral in the Vietnam war.

"I think the majority of Americans do not want to fight in Vietnam," Barilla told Pravda, "but many of them lack decisiveness. They are drafted and they do their duty."

BOOST BECOMES POSSIBILITY

Devaluation To Bear Tax Fruit?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress remains in session almost until Christmas. Congressional passage of President Johnson's proposed income tax boost became a renewed possibility today as an indirect consequence of Britain's currency devaluation.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, which calls the tax signals for Congress, announced a Nov. 28 hearing to consider a new administration surtax and cost-cutting package.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A delegation—Sen. John Tower and Reps. George Bush and Robert Price—also claimed Johnson was in trouble.

But at the White House, Christian said the British move—followed by Federal Reserve Board action boosting its interest rate on loans to member banks from 4 to 4 1/2 per cent—made the surtax package "absolutely imperative," in the opinion of the President.

Christian verified congressional reports of a determined administration drive to get the tax increase enacted by Jan. 1. He did not affirm the surmise of one reporter, framed as a question, that the administration was seizing on the British move—and the consequent concern of Congress over defense of the dollar—to get the surtax enacted.

BIG PACKAGE

White House press secretary George Christian told newsmen Monday the package calls for the $7 billion, 10 per cent income tax surcharge Johnson requested Aug. 3, plus a matching $7 billion paring of expenditures.

But congressional sources said they understood the cost-cutting actually would amount only to about $4 billion in this fiscal year, which ends next June 30, including about $1 billion of cuts already made by Congress.

Rep. Olin E. Teague, D, said voter displeasure with the Vietnam war and Great Society programs is outweighing any sympathy for Johnson's problems.

Prices reported by the Consumer and Marketing Service of Abilene ranged from as low as $11.50 per bale above the CCC loan price for high grade, short staple cotton to as much as $75.00 over the CCC loan price for long staple cotton.

Staple lengths were slightly better with the 29-32 inch cotton decreasing from 15 per cent a week earlier to 8 per cent.

Driver Crushed, Traffic Delayed

WINNIE, Tex. (AP)—A big truck loaded with lumber crashed one mile east of Winnie in Southeast Texas before dawn today, blocking Interstate 10 and killing the driver.

He was William E. Wilson, 47, of Vidor. The accident occurred 25 miles southwest of Beaumont about 3 a.m.

Investigators said the truck, owned by Discount Lumber Co. of Vidor, left the highway and flipped as the driver apparently dozed. Wilson was crushed to death in the cab.

Why Let Tension Make You Ill—And Rob You Of Precious Sleep!

Do everyday tensions often build up to the point where you find it hard to do your work? Where you have difficulty getting along with your friends? Frequently "take it out" on your family? ... even feel ready to explode? It's true! Tensions can actually make you ill.

Dear Abby

The Son Is Responsible

DEAR ABBY: Last January my son went north to get a job. While he was there he phoned to say he had met a "wonderful" girl and they had been married. Naturally we were surprised, but he seemed happy, so we were happy, too.

or not? This whole situation is very confusing. Here is what happened: Axel left for Vietnam in June. We talked about getting married when he gets home next year. First of September he wrote saying he had bought a set of rings before he left, and if I wanted to become engaged I should write and tell him and he would ask his brother Olaf to drop the rings off at my house. I wrote back, "Yes, have Olaf drop the rings off, so that's what happened. O.K. so now I have the rings, right?" My mother says this is like no engagement she ever heard of before, and I should have waited for Axel to get back and give me the rings himself. I say I don't care who gave me the rings, I am engaged. What do you say?

Well, this poor girl called us and said she had no money and nowhere to go and she couldn't go home, so we sent her money and told her to come stay with us until her baby is born.

DEAR MOTHER: If he doesn't, shame on him. He found this girl, you didn't, and even though I do not condone her actions, she is a human being. She is also his wife, until they are legally divorced. I think you did the decent and admirable thing. And hopefully so will your son after he cools off and thinks about it for a while.

A Devotional For The Day

I will bless the Lord at all times: his praise shall continually be in my mouth. (Psalms 34:1)

Magna Cum Laude

There is a little bit of W. C. Blankenship in the lives of 8,000 boys and girls (now men and women), and particularly the 3,200 who graduated from Big Spring High School, during the 28 years he served as superintendent of schools. A stroke took his life Saturday, but it could not still his great influence nor the warmth that had radiated from his personality.

Suppe Blankenship was a good man. Like any man in public life, he had those who disagreed with him, but he had few if any who ever questioned his character and integrity. If there was a valid criticism to be leveled against him, it was that he was too good for his own good. He accumulated a lot of scars on account of other people, but he wouldn't capitulate, nor would he strike back when misused.

His was a tenure during trying times. A lesser man would have given up. There was hardly a time that the Big Spring Independent School District was not either in financial crisis or trying to catch up. It is difficult to say what his full potential as an educator was, because he was hamstrung constantly by fiscal austerity. He had been here more than a quarter of a century before the budget ever approached a million dollars although enrollment had quadrupled. Indeed, during his tenure the district expended for all purposes only about $11 million; current budgets will equal that in two and a half years. The last year he was superintendent saw a million-and-a-quarter dollar budget—more than was spent for his first decade as superintendent. The combined budget of his last two years was far more than all of his second decade.

Despite these limitations, Suppe Blankenship managed somehow to keep the system going and to progress. Big Spring became one of three laboratory schools for new approaches, many of which persist to this day. Big Spring was one of the first in this region to pioneer in on-the-job vocational training. There were numerous other advancements, some which he helped shape as a member of the Gilmer-Acken Commission.

Perhaps the thing that made it possible was that Suppe inspired a deep personal loyalty on the part of the vast majority of his staff members. Somehow they passed this inspiration on to their children, who, by and large, turned out to be good citizens and to take places of leadership and often excell in their jobs and professions. This, after all, is the test of a good schoolman—a test which W. C. Blankenship passed magna cum laude.

Elusive Thing

Opponent to deny that he beats his wife twice a week.
Truth is such a many-splendored thing to so many politicians that it defies analysis, becoming as elusive as an oyster on a marble floor. Recently while Gov. George Romney was discussing President Johnson's budget, he said, "What a phony." Reporters wrote that he called the President a phony. A nettled Romney replied that he had called the budget, not the President, a phony.

The all-time classic probably is the one in which Richard M. Nixon was involved. He spoke of "that great Republican Chief Justice Earl Warren." He was immediately accused of injecting politics into the Supreme Court. Nixon retorted that reporters had left out the comma, immediately after "Republican."

Aid And Comfort To The Enemy

WASHINGTON — My good friend, Kronig, was a picture of despair. "What's the matter, Kronig?" I wanted to know.

"I can't help it," he said. "Every time I open my mouth I give aid and comfort to the enemy."

"But how?" I demanded.

"I DON'T AGREE with President Johnson's policies in Vietnam. And he said that every time we say we don't agree with him, Hanoi is encouraged and wants to continue the war."

"That's true, Kronig," I said. "The President knows from whence he speaks. North Vietnam would probably be at the negotiating table right now if people like you didn't oppose President Johnson's policies."

"But that's just the point," Kronig said.

I am an epileptic, and the biggest cross I have is not the affliction, but people's attitude toward it. Everyone shuns me socially, for fear I will have a seizure in their presence. I want to live a normal life but it seems almost impossible.

P.A. People should know that epilepsy is not the "plague," and that people who have it are not responsible for their having the affliction. I understand that with modern methods of treatment, people with epilepsy can live a normal life, and we are all grateful for this.

Having said that, I must say to you that in order to live a normal life, you must not be hypersensitive about this handicap. If you expect people to accept you, you must accept the facts concerning yourself. Helen Keller, who is a classic example of handling life's handicaps, said: "I thank God for my handicaps. For through them I have found myself, my work, and my God." Some people with handicaps much less serious than yours drown themselves in self-pity, and thus limit their usefulness and service to mankind and to God. A friend of Lord Byron's wrote: "He brooded over his lameness... until he magnified a wart into a wen. His attitude toward his handicap made him skeptical, cynical and savage." Even though a man succeeds in certain areas, if he allows bitterness and cynicism to creep into his heart, he has lost the battle. Christ healed many people with epilepsy, and He can heal you from the marks it is making upon your mind, in impairing your service for Him.

Billy Graham

"I haven't opened my trap for six months and we're not anywhere nearer resolving the problem than we were before."

YOU MEAN you haven't been loud and openly opposing President Johnson on Vietnam for six months?"

"That's right," Kronig said. "Six months ago I made a decision. I decided that according to Dean Rusk and Hubert Humphrey and President Johnson the only reason Hanoi would not cave in was because Ho Chi Minh thought the country was divided on our role in Vietnam. I took an oath not to say a word against President Johnson."

"I ADVOCATED stronger bombing, closing the port of Haiphong, defoliation of the DMZ, building a wall between the borders — everything that Johnson wanted. I signed an advertisement supporting the Joint Chiefs of Staff. I marched in the American Legion parade. And after doing all that, Hanoi still wouldn't come to the negotiating table."

"It's true, Kronig, that you have a right to be discouraged. But these things take time. You can't just stop criticizing President Johnson for six months and think the picture in Vietnam is going to change. This thing may take years."

"You mean I can't criticize President Johnson for years?"

"Not unless you want to give aid and comfort to the enemy," I said.

"But what about the elections in 1968?" Kronig said.

"YOU HAVE TO be especially careful during the elections of 1968. You see, Kronig, Hanoi is going to be watching us very carefully in '68. If there is any indication that voters don't agree with President Johnson on Vietnam, then Hanoi will fight harder. The only way to deliver a defeat to the North Vietnamese is to elect President Johnson in a landslide."

"But what about the Republicans?" Kronig asked. "If they put up a candidate in 1968, won't they be giving aid and comfort to the enemy, too?"

"YES, THEY will, Kronig, and this is what President Johnson is trying to tell them. If the Republicans would refrain from running anyone in 1968, Hanoi might cave in overnight."

"Why don't we pass up the elections in '68 altogether?" Kronig said.

"If this would shorten the war, President Johnson would probably be for it."

LBJ: Man In A Strait Jacket

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will have been in the White House four years as of Wednesday. If he had to leave right now he would probably feel terribly frustrated, disappointed and ineffectual.

Much he could have done or tried to do about problems at home he couldn't do because of the Vietnam war which has engulfed his time, thought and energy. If his problems had stayed home, he might now have one of the greatest records.

Now he is like a man alone. Members of his own party have turned against him. One is threatening to run against him for the nomination in 1968. And public confidence as measured by the Harris poll shows him at an all-time low of 23 per cent.

It seems certain Johnson will try for re-election. It also seems certain he has realized his defensiveness is dumping him towards disaster. And it seems certain he has decided to change his ways and become aggressive.

Barbie, Batman Viet Bound

NEW YORK (AP) — Barbie is off for Vietnam, along with Batman, Little Snoopy and a host of other toys American children will find under the Christmas tree.

A toy salesman on a one-man campaign, individual toy companies, charity organizations and GIs in Vietnam already have helped get toys to thousands of Vietnamese youngsters for Tet Tet Sun, the Vietnamese new year. More are on the way.

"LAST YEAR we donated a few toys to two orphanages in Vietnam, and from the letters of gratitude and the pictures of the children receiving the toys, we know how much good it can do, not only for these needy tots, but for the American image abroad," said H. H. Coords, president of Fisher-Price Toys, Inc., the preschool toy manufacturer in East Aurora, N.Y.

This fall, 100,000 wagons and balls, wheelbarrows and balloons, dolls and games, have been donated to be distributed by the Marines as part of their civic action program.

"I'M NOT a crusader or anything, but I thought it was right," said Jay Krotman, 31, the New York toy salesman who organized the drive. "My next-door neighbor is a retired Marine major, and he told me about this civic action program to help the Vietnamese."

"I sent out 325 letters, and 60 per cent responded. They were great. One manufacturer in New Jersey sent 96 cartons."

Krotman asked for—and got—art supplies, baby toys, gym sets, plastic toys, puzzles, models and plush animals.

"PLEASE DON'T send any guns and war toys," he asked. He said Marines suggested no guns.

Some toy guns have been shipped to Vietnam under other programs, however.

Daisy-Heddon division of Victor Comptometer Corp., Rogers, Ark., has sent cap pistols, toy rifles and gun holster sets to individual servicemen to give to children in their areas "almost since the first Christmas U.S. servicemen spent in Vietnam."

This year it increased its contribution to 1,000 items, 200 more than in 1966.

CATHOLIC RELIEF Services will distribute nearly 2,000 abandoned Barbie dolls traded in by their young American owners on a newer, twistier model.

Hundreds of other toys will be distributed by servicemen.

Pfc. Mike Voorhees saw the children in the village of Xuam Ho and wrote home to Tonka Corp. at Mound, Minn., which sent off 125 steel trucks.

"What you have done has brought smiles and happiness over the faces of 125 children," Voorhees wrote back.

To Your Good Health Was Her 'Ulcer A Hiatal Hernia?

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Twenty years ago I was doctored for ulcers. They apparently healed, then returned about six years ago. My present doctor ordered X-rays and said I have a hiatal hernia but no sign that I ever had an ulcer.

Does hiatal hernia cause periodic hoarseness and hurting of the throat, burning of the upper stomach, choking, coughing, spasms when I first lie down? My doctor says yes. The throat concerns me. I am 62 and 15 pounds overweight. — Mrs. A.L.

Dear Doctor, I have no dietary distress, but have other symptoms in the neck and throat area. Food gets caught, and I have a burning sensation in my throat. The doctor told me I had a hiatal hernia. Is all the trouble supposed to be in the abdominal area? — B.J.C.

First, Mrs. A.L.: Twenty years ago hiatal hernia (or hiatus hernia, or esophageal hernia, or "upside-down stomach," all being the same thing) was not a common diagnosis.

Improved X-ray techniques now identify it clearly. Hence hiatal hernia is a much more frequent diagnosis.

From other symptoms, it often is difficult to distinguish from duodenal ulcers. It was fortunate for people years ago that the treatment for hiatal hernia in many ways was much the same as that for ulcers. (There are some differences, too, however.)

All I can say is that you may really have had hiatal hernia 20 years ago, or you may have had an ulcer which healed completely. You'll probably never know for certain.

Now for Mrs. L. and B.J.C.: Discomfort from hiatal hernia is not ordinarily in the abdominal area, but higher, the pit of the stomach, or under or just below the breast bone.

The root of the trouble is at the point at which the esophagus or gullet passes through an aperture in the diaphragm and joins the stomach. If this aperture is larger than it should be, part of the stomach can force its way into the gap.

Due to reflex action, acid stomach contents can be forced into the lower gullet, causing coughing, or burning which may seem to be in the throat but usually is actually a bit lower than the throat. This can be especially annoying when one is lying down. Raising the head off the bed a few inches, or using extra pillows to raise head and shoulders often eases this.

There can also be a feeling of difficulty in swallowing, or of food "sticking in the throat."

It is not uncommon, I recall a doctor's wife who, when swallowing, put her hand on her upper chest as if trying to push the food down.

It turned out that she had a very large hiatal hernia. When it was repaired surgically, the gesture with her hand ceased entirely!

In many cases hiatal hernia can be controlled without surgery but in severe cases, surgical repair is the best answer.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading the booklet "The Way To Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Around The Rim Bending A Bit To Celebrate

In 1621 when the Pilgrims decided to have a day to voice their thanks to the Providence which had kept them alive for a year in a wild and forbidding wilderness, I do not think a single voice was raised in protest.

There were no demonstrations against the day. No one suggested that it violated the religious rights of anyone and even the Indians, who certainly didn't worship the same God the Pilgrims worshipped, did not object.

INSTEAD, the Indians cooperated. From the research I have made into the matter, I wonder if the celebration wouldn't have been pretty thin had the noble redmen in the area not lent a hand.

The Pilgrims were a pretty glib lot. They didn't think levity or gaiety had any place in life. They frowned on frivolity in all forms. That they decided to have delicious dinner as they did on that celebrated first Thanksgiving was in itself most unusual.

HAD THE PILGRIMS decided to voice their thanks to God for the first tolerable crop that their efforts had produced, the normal way would have been a four or five-hour sermon by the ministers and a day of solemn meditation and prayer. That long sermon likely was offered. It probably began at dawn on that distant November day and held on until well in the afternoon.

I wonder what the Indians thought of these preliminaries. They, on their own side, were familiar with lengthy confabs in their lodges, but these were at least interrupted by puffs from the Indian pipe and by occasional chants of different tribal orators sounding off.

THE INDIANS, I have read, brought in a couple of deer carcasses. I do not remember any reference to turkey as a part of the menu although that the luckless bird has now become the piece de resistance of the Thanksgiving Day feasts.

The Indians also brought parched corn, and it may have been that the pilgrims had found ways to crush this grain to prepare meal for a form of bread.

Wild fruits were provided. Perhaps pumpkins were a part of the menu but most likely they were roasted rather than offered in the form of savory pies.

I WOULD THINK that while quantity of food which might have been made available for that dinner was sufficient I doubt if it had the wide variety that legend has accorded it. The year before had been doubly rough on these unprepared and unyielding settlers. Many had died. That first year they had not prepared adequate shelter for themselves and the harsh New England winter had been a dreadful ordeal. Their crops had not flourished and the supply of food they had brought with them was depleted.

THAT SECOND year, with a little better conditions existing, it was fitting they be grateful. That they bent enough from their austerity to add the feast as a part of their Thanksgiving was, I think, the most unusual feature of the entire incident.

Lack Of Knowledge About Riots

WASHINGTON—Elite groups tend to believe that riots are subversively manipulated, whether they are or are not. Real and imagined grievances are equally conducive to rioting.

Most riots are not predicted, although this is usually the claim. Police weakness, rather than police brutality, is a main reason why riots persist and spread. Federal troops, despite almost universal opinion to the contrary, are the best means of riot-suppression, since they perform their duty objectively and soon depart.

THE ABOVE conclusions will be emotionally contested. Most of us prefer to believe the opposite in the main. But riotology has become too important a subject for emotional judgment. It calls for scholarship. The White House, the Senate, the House of Representatives are separately studying the case-histories, but I have not seen the raw material reduced to general principles and academic dogma except in one instance.

THE EXCEPTION is a Northern-born Negro criminologist, Adrian H. Jones, who appeared late one afternoon last month before the Un-American Activities Committee (HUAC), and got almost no coverage. Lt. Col. Jones had 20 years Army service in the police corps, with assignments in Europe, Asia and the U.S.A. He has a bachelor of science degree from the University of Maryland, an awarded masters degree in psychology from the University of Kansas City and he is writing his doctoral dissertation on civil disturbances for American University in this city.

SINCE 1962 HE has been writer-in-residence at the Center for Research in Social Systems, which does work under contract for the Defense Department. No Uncle Tom, Col. Jones demurs at discussing racial riots or Negro riots. He calls what has happened in our cities "urban ethnic riots," because of the participation of several minority groups.

In his major work thus far, a study of riot-incitation, Jones begins with the Greek city-states, the Roman Empire, and the medieval Middle East. He proceeds through peasant and factory-worker uprisings in Europe before coming to modern strike-violence and current ethnic-violence in the United States. He is looking for common factors. They are quite prevalent throughout history, he says, but in recent times the Communists have altered the pattern by drastic and ceaseless promotion of world revolution.

FOR PURPOSES of governing the country, says Jones, our congressional committees must distinguish between "legitimate dissidents" who merely want the government to make some reforms, and revolutionaries who are bent on destroying the government. The way to tell the difference is by warlike intelligence, which means the use of spies and scouts to learn what plans, propaganda and weapons are being assembled, and by whom.

If subversives with previous records and convictions are at work, it is foolish to ignore this evidence. Riots that follow most certainly will have been incited, but it is difficult to forecast when and how they will break out. Indecisiveness (such as soul-searching about the rights and wrongs of sincerely-held grievances) is the worst fault in any government or its police-arm. Even a brutal intervention by troops is forgotten sooner than much milder action by the resident police.

IT IS WELL that the White House and Capitol Hill are putting their minds to this subject for riotology is a great gap in Western civilization's self-knowledge. Col. Jones quotes the British author, Charles Reith in his book, "The Blind Eye of History," 1952:

"On the shelves of the world's libraries along miles of books... one can search in vain for a single volume which supplies even an outline of securing Law Enforcement — although this is the primary essential of all communities."

Tide Of Opinion Against The War

WASHINGTON — Hardly a man or woman in the 90th Congress but has his finger up to test the political winds blowing from across the country with increasing force.

A low, rumbling sound can be heard beneath the Capitol which, to the sensitively attuned, forecasts one of the political earthquakes that every 20 or 25 years shatter the landscape. Distrust, suspicion and doubt over the Johnson Administration's Vietnam policy add up to the principal worry for 1968 whether by hawks or doves. Recent portents are taken as showing the growing unpopularity of the war.

MRS. SHIRLEY TEMPLE BLACK was defeated for the Republican nomination for Congress by a sizable majority rolled up for a dovish war veteran, Paul McCloskey. Vietnam was the chief issue. It was the kind of rich suburban district perfectly tailored for the candidacy of rich conservative Mrs. Black.

The vote on the peace proposition on the ballot in San Francisco was hailed by spokesmen for the Administration as a victory but it was a dubious triumph. On the call for "an immediate cease-fire and withdrawal" — a flat-out proposition — 78,806 voters, 36.6 per cent, voted yes against 215,322 voting no. As newly elected Mayor Joseph Alioto put it, the amazing fact was that so many voters were for withdrawal.

A PHENOMENON making a deep impression here is the response Rep. Morris K. Udall (D., Ariz.) has had from his speech declaring he had changed his mind on the Vietnam war and advocating deescalation and de-Americanization of the conflict. Of the hundreds of letters in response to the speech the tabulation thus far shows 15 to 1 in favor of the Udall position.

SAMPLING A NUMBER of the letters coming to Udall shows one seldom-realized fact. The opposition to the war — the doubts and fears it generates — covers a broad sector of the American public. This has no relation to the extremists and the sign-waving demonstrators. The letters are typed on the crisp bond paper of a prominent law firm. They are scrawled in pencil on post cards. They are in the crabbled handwriting of the old and the bold block letters of the young.

THIS RAISES a question in the mind of many officeholders who will presumably run on the same ticket with Mr. Johnson next year. The rumor persists that in late February or early March the President will announce that most of the objectives have been achieved in Vietnam and it will be possible to start withdrawing American troops.

MANY OF THE LETTERS to Udall speak of his courage in frankly stating that he had changed his views. Many speak of the need for leadership and the conviction that others will follow his example.

The Udall example is being diligently studied by younger Democrats in the House. They know they must run with the President. But at the same time they are beginning to realize they must disassociate themselves from the President's position on Vietnam before it is too late.

Twenty-eight guests attended and were served refreshments from a table laid with a white lace cloth and appointed with crystal and silver. Centering the table was an arrangement of green carnations.

Capt. Redenbacher has been serving as adult Bible class teacher at St. Paul Lutheran Church, and the couple was presented two translations of the New Testament.

The table was decorated in the honoree's chosen colors of blue and white. Corsages were presented to the bride-elect, her mother, Mrs. Gerald Culpepper, and to the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. John Waddell.

The couple will marry Saturday evening in the Coahoma Baptist Church.

Attend Party

STANTON (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Davis were guests Sunday in the Robert Drummond home in Midland for a surprise birthday party honoring Mrs. Fannie Drummond, formerly of Stanton.

They look like black wasps and build little nests of mud around the house in protected places.

The first thing you do is to knock down most of the dirt nest with a stick or the handle end of the broom. Hit the dried mud real hard. It will crumble and fall off.

Now don't make the mistake I did by leaving some dirt struck on the wall. If you only knock the nest down he'll come right back and build in the same place again.

Make your garden hose and put it on strong-spray and actually wash the remaining crust of the dirt down. Be SURE no mud is left.

By golly, that old dirt-dobber will go find another place to put up his mud house.

Now, does anyone know a SAFE way to get rid of wasp nests? Sure would love to hear from you. . . Heloise

Dear Heloise: I just learned how to get down a dirt-dobber's nest! I know it isn't spelled right, but they are still dirt-dobbers to me.

I solved this by wetting a plastic coffee lid and sticking the plate to it. It stayed on throughout washing and drying. Then I just removed it real easily. . . Pat-Pondant

LETTER OF LAUGHTER Dear Heloise: I've used mayonnaise on my hair and on my furniture like you recommended.

Now my son informs me it's good on salads, too! . . . Juanita Maddox

Dear Heloise: Put that extra raincoat you carry in the car for an emergency in an old plastic pillowcase.

That it can be placed in the trunk with the spare tire without getting dirty. . . Thomas C. Price

Dear Heloise: If the glue has come off your postage stamps or trading stamps, and you are out of glue, just dab on a little clear fingernail polish and it works fine as a substitute. . . Marie Rogers

Dear Heloise: I find when making buttonholes that if I put iron-on-tape on the wrong side of the material first, it gives body and the material won't fray.

A great big bless you. . . Heloise (Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

The Answer: Home waves are available for every kind of hair from stubborn to easy-curl, and for every kind of hairdo from curly to sleek. Generally speaking, waves fall into these categories:

Standard home permanents for definite curl: These come in three strengths: hard-to-wave, normal-to-wave and quickly waved.

Uncurl permanents for body and curve without end curl. Kits contain jumbo curvers (curliers) and special instructions for bleached and tinted hair.

Roller perms act like a super set, providing long-term body and hold. This is the simplest of perms. The hair is rolled, permed and set in one process. LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hert

Sports dialogue: RAY PERKINS, former Alabama end, now one of Johnny Unitas' favorite receivers on the Baltimore Colts: "My first reaction when the Colts drafted me was disappointment, because Dallas had also expressed an interest in me. My wife's parents live in Texas, and it would have been nice to keep playing in the South, but when I gave it a second thought I was glad because I realized the Colts were another successful team. I learned a lot from Ray Berry, who spent long hours teaching me the subtle points of the NFL, how to read a defense, how to make a defender err and, most important, how to study a defensive back."

The late TY COBB, when asked how long a batter has to judge a pitched baseball: "Two-fifths of a second is all the time you have to decide whether to swing at the ball; and it helps to get a hit if you hate the ball, hate the pitcher, and hate everybody in the ball park when you swing."

YOGI BERRA, former catcher with the New York Yankees: "Funny thing, when we had our good clubs and would go out to eat, the fans would swarm around Mickey Mantle and me for autographs. But Whitey Ford would sit there and nobody would recognize him. Everybody thought he should have white hair, but he was blond. Whitey said he felt sorry for us because we couldn't go anywhere without being recognized."

DAN DEVINE, football coach at the University of Missouri: "Defense is tied to emotion. If you don't have the ability you can't run 65 yards for a touchdown. But if you want to get to the ball carrier badly enough, you'll get to him."

OTTO GRAHAM, coach of the Washington Redskins, on why college coaching never appealed to him: "There are pressures in that sport over which you have no control. Half your life, for example, is taken up with recruiting. In pro ball, we have scouts to do that for us. My responsibility is to the team, and I like it that way. You see, I like to control the factors that govern my job. . . . You can't control team letdowns, however. Mistakes will always be made, the ball will always bounce the wrong way. What you must have to win is effort, all-out, 100 per cent effort. We haven't had it. We're still not a tough, mean, vicious team. I don't mean that you have to be dirty. I won't tolerate that. But you have to hit the other man so hard he'll hurt. You have to discourage him. . . . Coaching is organization and preparation. It's also building a kind of team character, a certain identifiable spirit. And yet, the coach must keep his distance. He must observe the gap between employer and employee. As a player, you worry about one man — yourself; as a coach, you worry about 40 men, and you have to be the boss. You have to run the show. A coach can't afford to think like a player. It's a neurotic business in which the spoils always fall to the worthy. And it's frustrating. You see, you can never lose your emotional pitch, because if you do, the players will reflect it. And yet, unlike the player, you have no outlet for that emotion."

DICK SCESNAK, Iowa State coaching aide, on the kind of luck his team has been having: "We could go in for a blessing, and they'd probably run out of holy water."

TOM TIPPS, former Pampa mentor, now a coaching aide at the University of Washington, on why people attend sporting events: "They want to see a winner. They can see a loser every morning when they shave."

Seaver Named Best Of Frosh In AP Poll

NEW YORK (AP) — The last-place New York Mets have a first today in pitcher Tom Seaver, the National League's Rookie of the Year for 1967, and they have the luck of the draw to thank for it.

They can thank, too, the 11 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America, who voted for Seaver, the cool, confident 23-year-old winner of 16 games last season.

Two other right-handed pitchers were mentioned in the voting announced Monday. Dick Hughes of the champion St. Louis Cardinals drew six votes and Gary Nolan of Cincinnati collected three.

Hughes posted a 16-6 record while Nolan had a 14-8 mark.

"I am thrilled to win the award because there were other fine young pitchers in our league besides Hughes and Nolan, like Don Wilson of Houston and Bill Singer of Los Angeles," said Seaver in Manhattan Beach, Calif. "I felt that Hughes would win it because he won 16 games for a pennant winner."

Seaver was obtained by the Atlanta Braves in the college draft and signed to reported $40,000 contract in February, 1966. However, Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert nullified the contract because the signing violated the college rule.

Two months later, the Mets obtained the rights to the young pitcher in a special drawing in which the Cleveland Indians and Philadelphia Phillies also were involved.

Seaver is the first Mets' player ever to capture an official post-season award and the first member of a last-place team to win the rookie award in the National League.

Westbrook Wins 70-47 Verdict

WESTBROOK — The Westbrook Wildcats ran their worst record to 4-3 here Monday night by defeating the Gail Coyotes 70-47.

Bob Chambers tossed in 34 points and Don Jarratt 28 for the winners while Ab Hensley paced the Borden County team with 23.

In the girls' game, Gail won a 66-39 decision. In that one, Sheryl Williams bucketed 24 points for Gail and Christene Read 23 for Westbrook.

Astros Acquire Hector Torres

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros announced Monday night they have acquired shortstop Hector Torres from the California Angels.

Torres, 22, was acquired to complete a deal that sent pitcher Jim Weaver from the Astros' Oklahoma City farm club to the Angels last summer.

Torres, a native of Monterrey, Mexico, played with Seattle in the Pacific Coast League the past two seasons and was among the top three in fielding both years. He batted .214 in 1967 and .249 in 1966. He collected 14 doubles, seven triples, four home runs and knocked in 39 runs in 139 games last year.

Gilbert Eyeing Rushing Record

DALLAS (AP) — If mighty Chris Gilbert of Texas should roam for 35 yards Thursday at College Station he would become the all-time record holder in Southwest Conference ball-carrying.

Gaining that many yards against Texas A&M in the traditional Thanksgiving Day game sounds like an impossibility, but Gilbert rushed for 202 yards last week against Texas Christian. So he needs to do only 133 yards better to make his total a yard over the 1,302 Bob Smith of Texas A&M gained in 1950.

Gilbert leads the conference by more than 300 yards right now. He has gained 968 in 192 carries, scored nine touchdowns and averaged 5.0 per run.

Mike Leinert of Texas Tech is second with 650 on 145 tries. There's a new passing leader in the matter of completions, Mike Livingston of Southern Methodist, 13th player in conference history to complete 100 or more passes in a season, now has connected on 101 in 176 tries for 1,159 yards and seven touchdowns.

Edd Hargett of Texas A&M has the most yards and touchdowns. He has completed 90 in 191 throws for 1,323 yards and 13 scores. Robert Hailey of Rice is second in completions with 92

Aggies Can Break Several Records

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — "We have an even chance," said a grim Gene Stallings, coach of Texas A&M, today as he looked toward Thanksgiving Day when his Aggies try to break a stranglehold of 10 years and win the Southwest Conference championship for the first time in 11.

The Aggies, should they beat bitter rival Texas here Thursday, also would be setting another record—the first team to win the conference title after losing its first four games.

They are all set to label this the greatest comeback in conference history — if it comes about.

And still another angle makes the game intriguing—if A&M wins, it will set up a meeting of coach and pupil in the Cotton Bowl. The coach, in this instance, is the colorful Bear Bryant of Alabama. The pupil will be Stallings, who played for and coached with the fabulous Bryant.

"It sure would furnish a lot of good copy for you guys of the press," Stallings said with a weak attempt at a chuckle.

But, he admitted, he liked the idea himself.

Bryant had already gotten his team into the Cotton Bowl, which was nothing new for the man from Alabama. He had Kentucky in the Cotton Bowl back in 1952. Won it, too.

Bryant would have had another team in the Cotton Bowl had it not been for a little matter of probation. He was coaching at Texas A&M in 1956 when he won the conference championship and Stallings was one of his players. But the Aggies had to stay home on New Year's Day because of that probation thing.

Stallings said he figured Texas might have it over his team in running, what with the double threat of Chris Gilbert and Bill Bradley, but he figured Edd Hargett was equal to anything Texas might have at passing.

"The home field advantage will help and then there are two other things that are to be considered," said Stallings. "That's blocking and tackling. We'll try to outdo them on that to make things more equal."

Bridgers May Get Word After Campaign Ends

WACO (AP) — President Abner McCall of Baylor said today the matter of renewing football coach John Bridgers' contract would not be voted on until after the season ends.

Bridgers is winding up a five-year contract and is under fire from various quarters, including the Baylor student body.

An opinion survey in the campus newspaper, the Lariat, indicated the students want a new coach by 80 per cent.

Baylor has a 1-6-1 record with two games to go. It has broken even each season in the last three years.

McCall denied reports that the Baylor athletic council met last week and voted not to renew Bridgers' contract.

"We did meet but all our discussions were along the line of keeping ourselves informed on the situation," the Baylor president said. "We have tried to consult all abing, to make sure no one makes a statement that could be misinterpreted."

McCall admitted his mail had been heavy but that it wasn't as heavy as it was late last season. And he added that he was not surprised that much of the mail has favored a change.

"You always hear more from people who want a change," he declared. "Those who are satisfied with the situation seldom write. So it's hard to draw a conclusion right now."

Bridgers has been coach at Baylor for almost nine years. He has won 46 games, lost 44 and tied 1. He has finished second twice, third once, tied for fourth twice, fifth twice and tied for sixth once in the conference race.

Volunteers Get Last Chance To Lead Poll

By The Associated Press

Tennessee gets a last chance to dislodge Southern California from first place in the Associated Press major college football poll Saturday and an overwhelming victory by the Volunteers probably couldn't come at a more opportune time.

Lonnie Clanton

Baker, Newcomer Among Honorees

Following are the Daily Herald's nominations for Players of the Week in the Big Spring area:

BIG SPRING
Back-of-the-Week honors went to LONNIE CLANTON, who gave it everything he had despite injuries against San Angelo. He gained 36 yards in 11 attempts and scored one two-point conversion for the Steers. In addition, he blocked well for his teammates.
JOEY BAKER, who had his best night as a receiver, won Lineman-of-the-Week laurels by scoring a touchdown and taking six passes for 112 yards in net gains. Baker also punts for the Steers and has done an outstanding job all year. He booted the ball only once against San Angelo but that traveled 51 yards.

FLOWER GROVE
JIMMY WALKER was the Back-of-the-Week for Flower Grove, edging Frank Gonzales for the honor. Jimmy, a senior, was the major portion of Flower Grove's offense in a losing effort against Sands. He had only a so-so night passing, but he did well running, having one 82-yard run called back because of a clipping penalty. No lineman award was made for the week.

GARDEN CITY
TONY HANDLER, whose 142 pounds represent a lot of football dynamite, won the Back-of-the-Week nod. In the final game against Sterling City he caught five passes for 75 yards, two of them for touchdowns. He also snagged one conversion pass. Running, he carried 10 times for 32 yards. Tony is a senior who plays left halfback on offense.

ROGER LANGE won the Lineman award for the week. He caught three passes for 25 yards and took over the punting chores for the first time this year when John Wyckoff went out with a disabling injury. On defense, Roger got six tackles from his left end post.

SANDS
Back-of-the-Week is LARRY NEWCOMER, a 145-pound senior halfback who scored four touchdowns in Sands' 66-22 victory over Flower Grove. Newcomer would up with 190 yards rushing although he was used on a limited basis.
JOE GRIGG, a 210-pound center-guard who didn't play football last year, is the Lineman-of-the-Week, judged off his play against Flower Grove. He was in on seven tackles and his blocking was superb. In addition, he kicked the first field goal in the history of Sands High School, which originated at the 27-yard line.

FORSAN
Back-of-the-Week is CLAYTON MCKINNON, a 163-pound junior regular campaign by defeating UCLA 21-20 last Saturday. Tennessee has two games remaining, against Kentucky (2-7) Saturday and against Vanderbilt (2-5-1) the following week. The final poll will be taken after this Saturday's games and announced next Tuesday.

In the latest vote by a national panel of 47 sports writers and broadcasters, USC collected 51 votes for first-place and 422 points. Tennessee received 15 votes for the top position and 410 points on a basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc.

Kentucky lost its first six games, then beat West Virginia 22-7 and Vanderbilt 12-7 before bowing to Florida 28-12 last Saturday.

Tennessee boosted its record to 7-1 the past weekend by downing Mississippi, 20-7. The Vols lost only to UCLA in the season opener for both teams.

Purdue remained a solid third in the latest poll, drawing 300 points, including 90 for nine first-place votes. The Boiler-makers (8-1) beat Michigan State 21-7 last weekend.

UCLA, the leader a week ago, changed positions with Southern Cal in slipping to the No. 4 spot. Oklahoma, a 14-10 winner over Kansas, advanced two places to fifth.

Notre Dame, the defending national titleholder, climbed from ninth to sixth after routing Georgia Tech, 36-3. Wyoming is seventh followed in order by Oregon State, Alabama and Houston, the latter two teams replacing Indiana and North Carolina State in the rankings.

The Hoosiers were beaten by Minnesota 33-7 while North Carolina State lost to Clemson, 14-6. In addition to Southern California, Wyoming and Oregon State also have completed their regular campaigns.

Purdue, UCLA, Notre Dame and Houston close out their seasons this weekend. The Boiler-makers oppose Indiana, the Bruins take on Syracuse, the Irish meet Miami, Fla. and Houston plays Tulsa.

Oklahoma meets Nebraska this Saturday and ends its Dec. 2 against Oklahoma State. Alabama is idle this Saturday and concludes against Auburn on Dec. 2.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis:

San Diego Is Out To Keep No. 1 Rating

By The Associated Press

San Diego State will put its No. 1 Associated Press small college ranking on the line Dec. 9 in the Camellia Bowl at Sacramento, Calif., when the Aztecs take on high-powered San Francisco State.

Quarterback Bob "Holy" Toledo, whose credentials show 45 touchdowns passes this season and more than 3,500 yards gained in the air, leads San Francisco State. The Gators are tops in the nation in total offense and passing and second in scoring.

The nation's individual scoring leader, halfback Bert Nye, will be in the Tangerine Bowl Dec. 16 at Orlando, Fla., where his West Chester State, Pa., team will probably meet tenth-ranked Morgan State.

West Chester has a 10-0 record and the Lambert Cup, symbolic of the best college division team in the East.

Morgan State is 8-0 this season and has won 26 games in a row. Also in the running for the Tangerine Bowl are Temple, Pa., 7-2, and Northeastern, Mass., 7-1.

Second-rated North Dakota State already has a bid to the Pecan Bowl Dec. 16 at Abilene, Tex. The Associated Press was told by a reliable source that the other spot will go to Texas-Arlington, ranked sixth with a 9-1 record.

The Grantland Rice Bowl, set for Dec. 9 in Murfreesboro, Tenn., won't be completed until Friday. However, Eastern Kentucky, No. 3, has been chosen with a 7-2 record. Eastern's only loss was in the season opener to Dayton, a major opponent. Split end Aaron Marsh has caught 70 passes for nine touchdowns, including 19 passes in one game for 316 yards.

Tennessee-Martin wins Thanksgiving, it more than likely will be chosen for the Grantland game. Ball State of Indiana, 7-2, also is in contention.

All four bowl games are sponsored by the National Collegiate Athletic Association. Semifinalists in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Champion Bowl include four undefeated clubs: Northern Michigan at Fairmont State of West Virginia and Eastern Washington State at New Mexico Highlands.

Both games are scheduled for Saturday with the winners meeting on the home field of one of the finalists Dec. 9 in the Champion Bowl.

William Jewell of Liberty Mo., meets Doane, Neb. Saturday in the Mineral Water Bowl at Excelsior Springs. Mo. Doane, 9-0, will put its 18-game victory string on the line against Jewell's 10-0 mark.

Orange Bowl May Have Best Game

By The Associated Press

"It is mighty nice," said Tennessee Coach Doug Dickey, "to be wanted at a time like this."

The top postseason college football bowl games began taking shape Monday, the first day bids could be extended under NCAA rules.

Dickey's once-beaten Volunteers, rated second in the country, will meet Oklahoma, No. 5, in the Orange Bowl in Miami, Fla., the night of January 1.

"We're looking forward to the game," said Sooner Coach Chuck Fairbanks. "It's the one of my boys wanted. But we've still got two tough games left."

Oklahoma can clinch the Big Eight title by beating Nebraska Thanksgiving Day and then Oklahoma State. Tennessee can wrap up the Southeastern Conference title with victories over Kentucky and Vanderbilt.

Alabama accepted a bid to meet the Southwest Conference champion in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1 in Dallas. Bear Bryant's ninth-rated Crimson Tide is 7-1-

1. If Texas A&M wins its traditional contest with Texas Thursday, the Aggies would be the host club.

Texas Tech and Texas Christian also still have a chance to go to the bowl. It will be the third appearance in the Dallas game for Alabama, which beat A&M 29-21 in 1962 and lost to Rice 28-6 in 1964.

Wyoming, the last of the main Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans, La. The Cowboys, 10-0, are rated seventh in the latest poll. LSU is 5-3-1.

The news of the bid was warmly received in Laramie, Wyo., where students, players, the university president and even the governor showed their excitement. Some 10,000 residents of the state are expected to make the trip.

Southern California, of course, will be the host team in the Rose Bowl. The Trojans assumed themselves of the Pacific 8 title Jan. 1 in Dallas. Bear Bryant's ninth-rated Crimson Tide is 7-1-still are in contention for the Big Ten spot.

Indiana can go to the bowl if it beats Purdue or if it beats Purdue and Minnesota loses to winless Wisconsin. If both lose Indiana goes. The Hoosiers have never been to the Rose Bowl.

Colorado accepted a Bluebonnet Bowl bid for Houston on Dec. 23. The runner-up in the Southwest Conference could be the opposing team as could Georgia, which has also been sounded out by the Liberty Bowl, to be played in Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 16.

Penn State, 7-2, accepted a bid to the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 20. Chances are the opposition will be provided by the winner of this Saturday's Florida-Florida State game.

DuLong Winner

NEW YORK (AP) — Art DuLong, a 19-year-old Holy Cross sophomore, won the university division title in the 59th ICA4 Cross Country Championships Monday with a record-breaking time of 24 minutes, 44 seconds over the five-mile course at Van Cortlandt Park.

Local Men Fail To Get Deer

City Manager Larry Crow and City Attorney Tom Huckabay went into the bush in quest of deer last weekend.

They came away empty handed but the trip proved one thing: A man or men who have lost their bearings tend to walk in circles and, if they walk long enough, are prone to talk that way.

Crow and Huckabay had the misfortune of getting their pickup truck stuck in sand about four miles from Robert Lee and set out to get help. Something like 3 1/2 hours later, they stumbled back into an area which looked familiar and was — the spot where the pickup was peacefully slumbering.

The only shot the two reportedly fired was trying to attract

Devaluation Drops Commodity Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock and commodity markets reacted feverishly to devaluation of the British pound and

British Auto Picture Hazy

DETROIT (AP) — Britain's devaluation of the pound has further clouded the already hazy profit picture for the British subsidiaries of American automakers.

With tighter consumer credit in Britain already threatening auto sales there, automakers will now have to increase their export sales of British-made cars to make up for the money that will be lost in converting the devalued pound to the American dollar, an industry source said.

"The over-all outlook isn't that rosy," the source said.

All the Big Three firms have subsidiaries in Britain and other countries. General Motors makes Vauxhall's in Britain. Ford of Britain makes Anglias, Cortinas, Zephyrs and Zephyr Zodiacs. Chrysler owns 77 per cent of Rootes Motor Co. in England.

boosts in British and U.S. interest rates.

Many apprehensive traders sold Monday in an effort to protect their investments.

Prices fell sharply in early trading on the New York Stock Exchange but recovered most of their losses by the close.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials fell 14.96 points in the first half hour of trading but closed off 4.33 at 857.58.

In New York, the price of U.S. government bonds declined.

American grain prices dropped and meat prices dipped. Commodity prices, including cocoa, sugar and copper, were mixed.

Apprehension had built up among investors after the British pound was devalued to $2.40 from $2.80, the British lending rate was raised to 8 per cent from 6.5 per cent and the U.S. discount was increased to 4.5 per cent from 4 per cent during the weekend.

The devaluation was intended to bolster the sagging British economy by making exports more attractive by lowering their price by about 14.3 per cent. At the same time, the devaluation increased the price the English must pay for imports by about the same amount.

Italy won the Bermuda bowl, symbolic of international bridge supremacy, for the eighth consecutive time this year by registering a convincing victory over the North American team in the final round in Miami Beach.

For those interested in a blow-by-blow description of the World championship which also included teams from France, Venezuela, and Thailand, the American Contract Bridge league has recently published an excellent account in book form.

In the hand presented today, the Italians gained a substantial swing against the Americans as the result of a deceptive defensive play. The final contract was four spades at both tables with South as the declarer. When the Italians held the North-South cards, West opened a club. East put up the queen and South played the ace.

Declarer proceeded to dislodge the ace and king of trumps and the only other trick taken by the defense was the king of clubs. South claimed 10 tricks and Italy registered a 420 point profit, [120 for the trick score and 300 bonus for a nonvulnerable game].

The auction presented in the diagram occurred at the table where North America held the North-South cards. West, having raised his partner's diamond overcall during the bidding, chose to lead the ten, his highest card in the suit, against the final contract. South decided not to waste one of dummy's honors in a futile attempt to elicit a cover from East and the ten of diamonds was ducked around to the ace.

The ten of spades was led to East's king and the latter shifted to the queen of clubs, in the manner of one who was leading the top card of a short suit. South feared that if he put up the ace and led another spade, East would be in again with the ace and now a club return would enable West to give his partner a club ruff, if East had started with the queen doubleton.

In an effort to disrupt his opponent's line of communications, declarer ducked the queen of clubs and won East's continuation of the deuce with the ace. It was his intention to continue drawing trump and subsequently attempt to discard his two remaining clubs on dummy's queen and ten of hearts. For this play to succeed, the jack of hearts must drop by the third lead of that suit.

East upset declarer's hopes by merely cashing the king of clubs when he got in with the ace of spades to defeat the contract and pick up an additional 50 points for Italy on the deal. Perhaps South should not have been taken in by his opponent's false card, since the chance of obtaining two heart discards was somewhat remote, and the defender's play need not necessarily be taken at face value.

Kimberly shapes the season with an ingenious little A-dress of 100% wool. Innovating the swirl seam for that close little body effect. Trumpet sleeves tell a fashionable tale of tomorrow's dress today.
