

Lynda, Marine Marry In Story-Book Splendor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lynda Johnson, the President's eldest daughter, and Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb were married Saturday in the stately East Room of a White House glowing with the gaiety and spirit of Christmas.

Lynda in a pearl satin gown, Charles in his dress blue uniform, the two stood before a white altar crowned with greenery, with a hundred tiny electric candles gleaming in the background, and exchanged their marital vows, wedding rings and the "I wills" of the Episcopal marriage ritual.

DEMONSTRATORS
President Johnson, in a cutaway, placed Lynda's hand in that of the Rev. Canon Gerald N. McAllister and gave the 23-year-old girl in marriage to the handsome, slender, 28-year-old Marine who is heading for Vietnam early next year.

Shortly before the wedding, several dozen antiwar demonstrators thought it appropriate—but hardly anyone else did—to parade through nearby Lafayette Park chanting anti-Johnson slogans. They didn't stay.

Several hundred more welcome spectators watched from the park and 500 invited guests from inside the mansion.

FORMER BEAU
One of the early arrivals was Lynda's former beau, Hollywood actor George Hamilton. Another was 83-year-old Alice Roosevelt Longworth, who was a White House bride herself — 61 years ago.

And there were Cabinet members, Supreme Court justices, diplomats, members of the family and friends crammed into the East Room and bulging out into the halls.

The East Room was decked out in greens, garlands, roses, orchids, gardenias, topiary ligustrum trees glinting with white lights and the traditional profusion of holly, poinsettias and mistletoe.

Two of the trees flanked the altar, resting on an 18-inch platform 10 feet square covered in white carpet, just in front of the towering window at the rear of the room.

A huge screen of Douglas and Noble fir, shimmering with 240 small electric candles, hid the window and its gold damask drapes and provided background for a gold cross and pair of vermilion candlesticks.

and cold viands plus unspiced punch, champagne and more potent potables in the State Dining Room and a heated, gay tent on a rooftop terrace beyond; the heaving of the wedding cake with Robb's ceremonial sword; the tossing of the bridal bouquet; dancing in the East Room to Peter Duchin and his orchestra; and—the departure on a honeymoon the Washington Evening Star said would be in Hawaii.

The guest list never was given out. But it looked as if every one of the 500 persons reportedly on it surged through the doors that millions of tourists use to get into the White House at the East Gate.

The emphasis was on families, friends and officialdom. Hollywood actor George Hamilton was invited. He squared Lynda for a year and a half and was credited with glamorizing a somewhat shy, gangling girl into a sort of Cinderella—except that Chuck Robb turned up with the glass slipper.

The bride table was a bridge to romance for Lynda and Chuck. He was a White House social aide and available for casual foursomes. During the summer things got around to the dating stage. And by early August Robb proposed.

That was just a year after Luci Johnson wed Pat Nugent here at the Roman Catholic Shrine of the Immaculate Conception. Lynda was maid of honor at the ceremony.

She had a fainting spell but recovered in time to catch Luci's wedding bouquet—which meant that by tradition she should be the next girl in the wedding party to be married. And it happened that social aide Chuck Robb was standing close enough to show up in some of the pictures.

British Pilots Out On Strike

LONDON (AP) — Nearly 1,000 pilots of the state-run British Overseas Airways Corp. (BOAC) went on a 48-hour strike today, but the airline said it hoped to keep some jets in the air.

The strike—aimed at nearly doubling the pay of top pilots—affects 32 flights out of London Airport over the weekend. BOAC estimates the strike will cost $408,000 a day in lost passenger and freight revenue.

BOAC claims that about one-tenth of its pilot force is against strike action and the airline hopes to operate some scheduled services.

The pilots struck at midnight after two days of talks with Labor Minister Ray Gunter and BOAC management ended in a deadlock.

Gunter promised the pilots a full court of inquiry into their complaints. The pilots claimed however, their real argument was with the BOAC management, which had earlier refused to hold direct negotiations with them.

School Trustees Slate Meetings

School trustees will hold their monthly business meeting at 7 p.m. Monday in the Board Room, according to Superintendent Sam Anderson. A second meeting is slated at 12 noon Tuesday to hear reports from curriculum areas of the school. It will be held in the Blue Room at Cosden Country Club.

The regular meeting Monday night, in addition to routine business matters, will have the following items on the agenda: board approval of appointment of a multiple-list textbook committee for 1967-68; appointment of a school census trustee for 1968; review of parking lot operation policy; miscellaneous reports.

Racer Maker Dies

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Alfred E. Dean, 61, founder and board chairman of Dean Van Lines and sponsor of Indianapolis-type racing cars, died Friday after a long illness. Dean-sponsored cars won the national championship in 1964-65, 1965 and 1966. He started the household-moving firm in 1944 with one used truck. The firm now operates in 48 states.

For this first marriage in 53 years of a President's daughter at the White House, the Rev. Canon Gerald N. McAllister of San Antonio, Tex., officiated. He impressed the President during the year he has filled in at St. Barnabas Episcopal Church at Fredericksburg, Tex., which the Johnsons attended occasionally.

'OBEY' OUT
Under the guidance of the tall, ruggedly handsome canon, the 23-year-old Lynda and 28-year-old Robb joined hands, before the altar and vowed to love, comfort and honor one another—obey was not used—"until death do us part."

Gold wedding bands were slipped onto third fingers in the double ring ceremony. The bride and her husband knelt on a white satin cushion for the benediction and final "Amen."

As they turned and started up the aisle, the Marine Band's 32-piece chamber orchestra struck up the Mendelssohn Wedding March.

Outside the doorway, in the great cross hall, six of Robb's uniformed fellow Marine officers crossed swords to form an archway.

OVERFLOW
Waiting beyond were overflow guests; a reception in the Blue Room that is more white than

Jaycees Sponsor Pro-Con Talks On Voting Issues

A series of pro and con discussions over television and at a Town Hall meeting has been scheduled this week by the Jaycees to acquaint the public with issues of the proposed city sales tax and of the proposed airport authority and bond election.

Arrangements have been shaped by Ben Faulkner, vice president in charge of governmental affairs. Louis G. McKnight, president, will be the moderator for the Town Hall program Thursday from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. in the Howard County courtroom.

Plans call for a 10 minute discussion Monday noon over KWAB-TV on reasons supporting the approval of a one-cent sales tax for the city. Tuesday noon there will be a 10 minute program listing reasons against the tax.

Wednesday noon there will be 10 minutes of discussion against the airport authority and the companion bond issue, and Thursday noon 10 minutes will be given to a discussion stressing reasons favoring these two proposals.

At the Town Hall, the format will include five minutes of introductory remarks, followed by 7½ minutes favoring the airport authority and 7½ minutes against; then the same time and arrangement for and against the city sales tax. This will be followed by 10 minutes of rebuttal for the airport authority and the city sales tax, and 10 minutes against. A five minute summation will close out the program, which will be broadcast over KBST and KBYG.

If there is sufficient interest, a question and answer period will follow for the next 20 minutes, but this portion will not be broadcast, said McKnight.

The Jaycees have undertaken these talks as a means of making issues clear and in hopes it will stimulate voting next Saturday.

Report CAB Chairman Resigning

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House declined to confirm or deny today a report that Charles S. Murphy has submitted his resignation as chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The New York Times reported Murphy has resigned effective Dec. 31 to become a White House consultant, helping direct President Johnson's re-election campaign.

Murphy, 58, was named to the CAB in 1965. He served as a special counsel to President Harry S. Truman. A North Carolina lawyer, Murphy has worked in government since 1934.

His anticipated shift in jobs follows the confirmation of the planned transfer of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to president of the World Bank and the published reports that Ambassador to the United Nations Arthur J. Goldberg has discussed his resignation with President Johnson.

William H. Tucker announced earlier he would step down as chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission Dec. 31.

Although the changes all have become public in recent weeks there has been no indication any of them are related.

Murphy could not be reached for comment on the resignation report.

Webb Hospital Funds Okayed

A new medical center for Webb AFB is close to realization as a result of the military appropriations bill signed by President Johnson Friday.

The $2,296,000 for Webb AFB includes $2,121,000 for the new hospital facilities to replace the rambling frame structure built over a quarter of a century ago. Other items in the construction appropriation for Webb are $55,000 for a data processing center building and $120,000 for automatic sprinkler systems.

AT ROBERT LEE
New Dam Nearing Half-Way Stage

The Colorado River Municipal Water District's new dam at Robert Lee is nearing the half-way mark.

Estimated on the amount of work completed through November show that almost half of the dirt work has been finished. The rock rip-rap and gravel blanket protecting the faces of the dam is little less than a third of completion, but it necessarily lags behind the embankment.

The $2,875,000 concrete spillway is now estimated at 36.12 per cent complete. This work is emerging from some of its more tedious phases and may be expected to pick up in tempo.

The contractor, Clement Bros. of Hickory, N. C., has now put in place 4,739,239 cubic yards of wetted, rolled embankment for the dam. This compares with a total estimate of 11,448,000 cubic yards for the project.

The amount of core trench and shale excavation stands at 1,776,213, which is well over the original estimate of 1,387,000 cubic yards. This resulted from soil conditions that warranted additional shale excavation. About all the core trench that remains to be dug is that where State Highway 158 crosses the dam.

The contractor has moved 51,171 cubic yards of rock rip-rap against a total of 209,000 for the job and has put in place 25,208 cubic yards of gravel blanket against a total of $3,000.

O. H. Ivie, general manager for CRMWD, estimated that the project is running slightly ahead of schedule. So is the district's brush clearing operation in the basin.

Debate Slated On Aid-To-Education

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate resumes debate Monday on the $14.2 billion aid-to-education bill, with supporters hopeful a satisfactory compromise can be reached over desegregation procedures.

Southern senators have objected to the way the Health, Education and Welfare Department uses its power to withhold or delay school funds in order to force school districts to desegregate.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., floor manager for the administration bill, has prepared a compromise amendment to the full bill which is due to be debated next week.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., called up for a Monday vote an amendment to give states control of federal grants which would finance supplemental education centers and services.

The Senate rejected Friday Thurmond's amendment to delete a section of the bill providing federal grants for comprehensive planning and evaluation of state education programs.

In other developments in Congress Friday: —Comptroller General Elmer Staats told a joint economics subcommittee the Defense Department and armed services aren't doing a top job of keeping tabs on the $37 billion worth of supplies. He cited instances of allegedly sloppy inventory procedures resulting in denial of requisitions to military outfits when the material being sought was sitting in government warehouses.

—The Senate approved a bill to prohibit federally insured banks and savings and loan associations from selling lottery tickets directly to the public. New York state uses banks as a major outlet for ticket sales for its lottery.

—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved a resolution calling for Senate endorsement of proposals for international cooperation to build nuclear desalting and power plants in the Middle East. Such projects would not commit the United States to action or contributions.

Discounts Threat To Ark. Governor

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — State Police Director Lynn A. Davis says an "exacting, far-reaching" interview with a person who supposedly got an offer to kill Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller had failed to turn up any evidence to substantiate an alleged assassination threat.

"We concluded it was illogical and probably not an actual threat ... that it could have been the figment of the person's imagination," Davis said.

Davis refused to say if the purported threat, disclosed Friday, was tied in with an alleged assassination plot against Rockefeller that was disclosed earlier this week in San Angelo, Tex. That report is currently being investigated by Arkansas and Texas authorities.

Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins said Friday that a man, about 40, told a Conway County resident that $25,000 would be paid for Rockefeller's death and $5,000 for the death of Gene Wirges, a Morrilton newsman and political ally of Rockefeller.

Hawkins said nothing substantial in the way of evidence was turned up during an intensive two-week investigation by himself and the state police. Davis confirmed that his department had conducted a thorough search into the matter around Oct. 12.

Named as a central figure in the alleged plot disclosed earlier was Zakar Garogian, 34, identified as a drifter being held in connection with the robbery of a soft drink bottling firm at San Angelo.

Garogian was indicted Thursday by a federal grand jury in Texas on charges of burglarizing two West Texas banks and three post offices.

San Angelo Police Chief Melvin James has described the alleged plot as "authentic" and having "substantial underworld backing."

Will Speak

THE VOICE EVERYBODY KNEW

Western Union Without Jewell After 35 Years

By REBECCA NUGENT
Jewell at Western Union isn't there any more.
She retired Dec. 1 after 42 years with the company — 35 of them in Big Spring — and now faces the problem of trying to teach herself to do one thing at a time instead of 13.
Since her first day on the job in Midland Aug. 26, 1926, she's been on the telegraph end of the oil business and the war business. One of the first wells in West Texas was drilled in 1924 and from then on the rush began to lease land and buy royalties. For telegraph operators it meant a lot of work, learning a new language understood only by those in the industry. And Jewell Tippie learned it well.

RETIREES AFTER 42 YEARS
Miss Jewell Tippie

She spent the next six years working in Tyler, Corpus Christi and Big Spring before settling here in 1932 to begin a friendship with the entire town.
"During the past years I've come to know all phases of the business, but to be a success you have to know your customers — their likes, dislikes, how they'd want a message worded," she said. Many of them she knew only by voice — a fact which sometimes held a surprise for her.
One in particular she referred to as "little man," even though she had no idea of his size. For years, the nickname stuck. Later she learned her "little man" weighed 293 pounds.
"Jewell knows everybody in Big Spring," says Grady Downing, manager of the local Western Union office. "One of the outstanding things about her is that she's served almost the whole time in one town — she was very good about getting messages delivered because she knew so many people."

"Big Spring's grown from a much smaller town since I've been here — they've even paved the streets — but the people are as friendly and interesting as ever. Joe Pickle still tells everyone's age when he writes a story, businessmen take time to have coffee with me when I'm downtown, and everyone feels like a millionaire when it rains — cotton farmer or not," she said.
And while others list outdoor sports, bridge or cooking as a hobby, Jewell's is people. Her phone rings continuously and she keeps a bag partially packed for spur of the moment trips with friends.
She claims she's not much of a cook. "Betty Crocker and I make a cake every once in a while, but when it doesn't turn out it's her fault," she said with a grin.
As for television, she doesn't have one — she hasn't "stopped long enough yet to enjoy one." Perhaps next spring she'll buy one, meanwhile she's giving gardening a try and keeping coffee "boiling hot" for those frequent visitors.

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL

Trail Dust Philosophy

By ED SYERS
"Since here's where we exchange the good things of Texas, I want you to know Doug McEndor. If you're a thoughtful Texan reader, you may know him already: none writes better.
A graying, soft-spoken, modest man, Doug publishes the Matador Tribune, out in the rough red breaks below the South Plains. Aside from having experienced much in life, he has the ability, the burden and the need to feel — in lyric prose — that experience.
Doug has just republished 'Trail Dust,' a small encyclopedia of vignette philosophy that finds parables in windmills and weather, and verities in sagebrush or sunbonnets: A kind of saddle-leather Rubyat. Will you try a few?
THE UNDERPRIVILEGED
"Many winters have passed since I sat before the open oven door of the kitchen range to dry my wet shoes and warm my cold feet. I never owned a pair of overshoes until long after I had quit the feed lot, milking shed and wood pile. I know now that my family was underprivileged, but so were our neighbors and friends. We had plenty of wholesome food, but if our grocery bill was more than $4 per month, my mother would cut down on the luxury of Post Toasties. Strangely enough, there are no regrets, which is a verbose way of saying underprivileged people are not always unhappy."
PATTER OF RAIN
"Should destiny sanction, that I be allowed to hear only one sound before the thundering drums of eternity, I should choose, without hesitation, the slow patter of rain. In it, I would always hear flutes at evening, the mighty notes of a cathedral whose dome is the sky... a young mother singing to her child... a prayer."
THE COUNTRY GIRL
"Somewhere in the changing scenery for the automobile after the curtain descended without applause for the spring-bug, the country girl has become lost. There are no more country girls — only girls who live in the country."
AN ERA PASSES
"A wide-tired wagon pulled by four mules lumbered slowly down a busy highway a few weeks ago. Two cars of eastern tourists passed without turning a head. There was little to command attention of a passing era — the old range chuck wagon — the romance of windswept prairies and cattle kingdoms."

day to a thousand years too slow, offering it to the world."

I called Doug today. He had brought out 2,000 copies of "Trail Dust," wherein you'll find 300-plus vignettes that may suit you better than these few. He was astonished that already one-fourth of his books are gone.
The only "slow idea" I find with Doug is that he won't have nearly enough books to go around. Get one at your bookstore or direct to Tribune Publishing Co., Matador, 79244 ($3.85 plus tax). I've an interest in Doug's writing. Like you, I respect quality.

Salvation Army Means Compassion, Group Told

Compassion is the watchword of the Salvation Army, Dr. P. D. O'Brien, Houston, told a large group at the annual advisory board dinner here Friday evening.
He said that the Salvation Army, like Jesus, does not see an outcast, a beggar, a pile of rags or a broken, diseased individual, but rather it sees a man in its dealing with people. There is no telling what its simple acts of charity can reap. Robert Stripling and Mrs. W. D. McDonald were presented with life memberships as advisory board members by G. G. (Gibby) Morehead, the retiring chairman of the board. Both have unusually long records of service in behalf of the Salvation Army.

Installed as officers of the board were Albert Smith, chairman; Oliver Cofer, vice chairman; Wendal Parks, secretary; and Chester Cathey, treasurer. Lt. Col. Paul Thornburg, Dallas, divisional commander for Texas, conducted the installation.
Morehead expressed thanks to the board and to the community for its support during the year, and particularly for the spontaneous response in giving food and clothing to Hurricane Beulah victims. The van load of materials from here was one of the first to reach the beleaguered valley, he said. Col. Thornburg said that the outpouring of food and clothing reached almost astronomical proportions.
Lt. and Mrs. Bart Deggs, who came here in June to direct the corps works, were introduced, and he gave the accounting of stewardship showing $30,346 expended, which whittled the balance to a mere $73. Highlights included 8,424 meals served, 3,515 garments and 3,292 lodgings provided. Family services included 335 active cases, with about 15,000 items of clothing and shoes distributed during the year. Last Christmas, he said, the Salvation Army was distribution agency for 271 baskets touching 1,371 people.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Faison furnished the music for the program held in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church. Service corps representatives from Colorado City and Stanton attended. Prayers were worded by the Rev. D. M. Duke and Dr. R. Gage Lloyd. In his talk, Dr. O'Brien compared the Salvation Army to a good soldier, contending that it was ready to go, loved the cause more than life, was never absent without leave, and demonstrated that wars are won on the battlefield.

Pioneer Adds To Reserves In This Area

Pioneer Natural Gas Company has announced the signing of a twenty year gas purchase contract with Texaco Inc. covering certain acreage owned by Texaco in Ward County, Tex.
Under the terms of the contract Pioneer will purchase approximately 40 million cubic feet of gas per day from Texaco's acreage located in the Lockridge Field with initial deliveries scheduled to commence about July 1, 1968.
The reserves presently dedicated to Pioneer in the Delaware Basin under this contract and contracts with other producers are estimated to be in excess of 500 billion cubic feet.
Purchases which are made by Pioneer in the Delaware Basin are committed to intrastate markets. Pioneer and Odessa Natural Gasoline Company are jointly purchasing approximately 50 million cubic feet per day from Mobil Oil Company's Waha Plant located in Pecos County, Tex. Pioneer's portion of the joint purchase from Mobil is being delivered into Pioneer's main transmission system near Odessa, Tex., through a 20-inch pipeline jointly owned by Pioneer Transmission Corporation, a subsidiary of Pioneer, and Odessa Natural Gasoline Company. This 20-inch pipeline was placed in operation in September, 1967.
Pioneer officials said the company intends to seek additional gas supplies in the Delaware Basin to serve the continued growth of the company's future intrastate market demands and the company is presently negotiating with various producers for the acquisition of additional reserves in the Delaware Basin. Pioneer estimates that by 1971 their gas supply requirements from the Delaware Basin will be in excess of 200 million cubic feet per day.

Academy Head

NEW YORK (AP) — George F. Kennan, historian and diplomat, was named president of the American Academy of Arts and Letters Friday.

Birthday Party Issue In Man's Bid For New Trial

The birthday of Mrs. Rozella Hogue, celebrated last February while Mrs. Hogue was a member of a jury panel trying a murder case, will be recalled in detail on Dec. 19 when Narciso Joseph Santiago, 21-year-old convicted slayer, makes a bid in 118th District Court for a new trial.

The birthday celebration given Mrs. Hogue by her fellow jurors is one of the main arguments that Santiago is advancing in his plea for a new trial.

The story of that birthday party, held inside the jury room of 118th District Court, will be recited, in all probability, by the members of the jury.

George Thomas, attorney for the former airman now under conviction and his punishment set at life imprisonment, has ordered all of the jurors subpoenaed.

The panel, in addition to Mrs. Hogue, comprised Roy G. Webb, foreman, J. T. Gross, Mrs. Eloise Watkins, Bonnie Jordan, John W. McGregor, Mrs. Rufus E. Morton, Carl Bradley, Mrs. Cletus Martin, Bobby Hughes, Donald R. Bock and A. D. Nanny. Also subpoenaed is Deputy Sheriff Bill Whitton, who served the court as bailiff in the trial of Santiago.

The defendant alleges that the jurors had a birthday cake baked for Mrs. Hogue bearing the inscription "Happy birthday, Jail Bird." The cake, the motion alleges, was decorated with "bars like a jail window." The motion relates that the jurors sang "Happy Birthday in a loud tone," and alleges it could be heard outside the jury room.

Santiago alleges these activities infringed on his rights and deprived him of a fair trial.

He also complains there was a Bible in the jury room and that the panel read from the book during their deliberations.

Santiago was convicted Feb. 20 of the murder on April 25, 1966, of Sgt. M. T. Gore, of Webb AFB.

He is being held in the county jail pending final disposition of his case.

FORT WORTH—The Texas & Pacific Railway has announced the first phase of an over-all $5.5-million project to enlarge Lancaster Yard here and to convert it to an automatic freight classification yard with push-button switching and automatic speed control.

Warrants Issued For Traffic Violators

Fifty-two charges were filed in Corporation Court Tuesday through Friday and a total of $657 in fines were assessed.

Twenty-nine warrants were issued for people who have not answered their traffic violations. Two charges of being drunk have been set for hearing on Dec. 14 as have two traffic violation charges.

Fines totaling $267 were assessed for 32 traffic violations and 12 charges of being drunk brought fine totaling $300. Three charges of vagrancy were fined $70 and one charge of theft under five dollars was fined $20.

PROPOSED SITE FOR NORTH RIDGE HEIGHTS FIRE STATION

Fire Station Site Grows Into A Community Center

By SAM BLACKBURN

What set out to be a modest bid for one of the county's four trucks to combat rural fires has snowballed into an ambitious community improvement effort.

There are about 250 families involved in this movement which concentrates its operation in the Balch, Oasis, H Howard County Airport and William Greene additions, to the north and east of the city, also to a considerable number of families who live along the Gall Road and on the Snyder Highway.

"When we read that the county proposed to place the four fire trucks it had bought in strategic areas and in communities where volunteer fire fighting organizations could be set up," said Carroll Cannon, 1515 Hilltop Road, "some of us figured our area would be a good site for one of the trucks to be stationed."

This led to the temporary organization of a group calling itself the North Ridge Heights Volunteer Fire Station. Cannon, with John Turner and L. A. Griffith, acting for their neighbors, applied to the county commissioners for consideration for one of the four trucks.

BE CONSIDERED

The county commissioners to the trio that no truck is now available but that negotiations are under way to acquire one. It was indicated, Cannon says, that the community would get the truck provided it qualifies.

"We needed a building to house the truck," said Cannon, "and there is none in the neighborhood. Pete Anderson who is connected with the Anderson Estate arranged for the estate to give us about an acre of land."

This land, in two pieces, is located at the intersection of Anderson and FM 700 north. This would provide an easy outlet in four directions for the truck in event of fire, Cannon pointed out.

"Now we have a new idea," said Cannon. "Barney Edens has drawn up plans for a building which would have about 5,000 square feet of floor space. Part of this would be the two-stall section required for a fire station. The remainder of the building would be a community center."

250 FAMILIES

"We checked the 1966 poll tax rolls," he said, "and we compiled a list of all of the families in the area we hope to serve. We are sure there are really more than 250 families since not everyone had a poll tax," Cannon added.

The group would like to see the entire area renamed North Ridge Heights. The large number of additions, is confusing. This confusion would be diminished, if the entire area was consolidated under one name, the leaders think.

"We also are dreaming of a plan to develop the remainder of the land that the Anderson Estate will cede to us as a park," Cannon said. "We believe it would add to the attractiveness of the area."

In addition to the cooperative community aspect, there is an important financial angle. If the fire station becomes operable, it will bring about a sharp reduction in fire insurance rates. These, the residents say, are high due to the fact that the area is rural.

MAY ASK HELP

Every resident of the additions involved is urged to attend the meetings of the group.

"We meet Monday night at 7:30 p.m. in the North Birdwell Lane Methodist Church," said Cannon.

He is president of the temporary organization, R. Z. Cozart is vice chairman and Mrs. Leland Pierce is the secretary-treasurer.

Cannon said that manpower for the volunteer fire department is no issue.

"We read where the commissioners allocated $3,500 to the Sand Springs people," said Cannon, "to help pay for material for their fire station. Maybe they can see their way clear to help us."

Leaders point out that the community center is already needed. The area has a 4-H Club which needs a meeting place. It has Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and would like to organize a Girl Scout troop. A home demonstration club is also possible, they say, if there is a place for the club to meet and function.

'Rejection' Sign In Heart Stopped

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Tiny indications that Louis Washkansky's body might be rejecting the transplanted heart he received a week ago have disappeared following slightly intensified treatment, one of the team of doctors attending him said today.

The signs were the first suggestions that the greatest threat to the heart transplant—the tendency of the body to reject foreign tissue placed in it—might have begun.

They were so small that they were no more than a "suspicion" of rejection and first appeared Friday, said Dr. T. O'Donovan.

Special tests conducted today following a slight stepping up in the treatment to counter "immunological rejection" showed they had disappeared, he added, with the comment:

"The signs were minimal. Washkansky's general position continues to improve."

Dr. O'Donovan was a member of the transplant team of doctors headed by Dr. Christian Barnard.

Earlier Barnard said that

Washkansky could survive a slight rejection.

Drugs are being used to lessen the body's tendency to reject, but there is a limit to which these can be used because they lower the body's natural resistance to disease.

O'Donovan said that clinically Washkansky is in excellent condition.

The patient was given another cobalt treatment today to further combat the possibility of rejection. It involved his second trip out of his sterile room since his badly fibrosed heart was replaced Sunday with that of a 25-year-old woman who was killed in an auto accident.

Barnard said Friday that although it would be difficult to estimate when Washkansky would be out of danger, he thought the over-all crucial period might last three months. If improvement continued, however, Barnard said the patient might be discharged from the hospital in about three weeks.

Should rejection of the new heart occur, surgeons said it probably would not be sudden, but take place over a few days.

New Chairman

Colorado Governor John A. Love (left) passes the gavel to Rhode Island Governor John H. Chafee (right) as Chafee becomes the new chairman of the National Republican Governors Association as the Republican governors end a three day GOP conference at Palm Beach, Fla. The committee will meet again in June of 1968 at Lake Eufaula, Oklahoma.

Rio Smuggling Drive Hurting

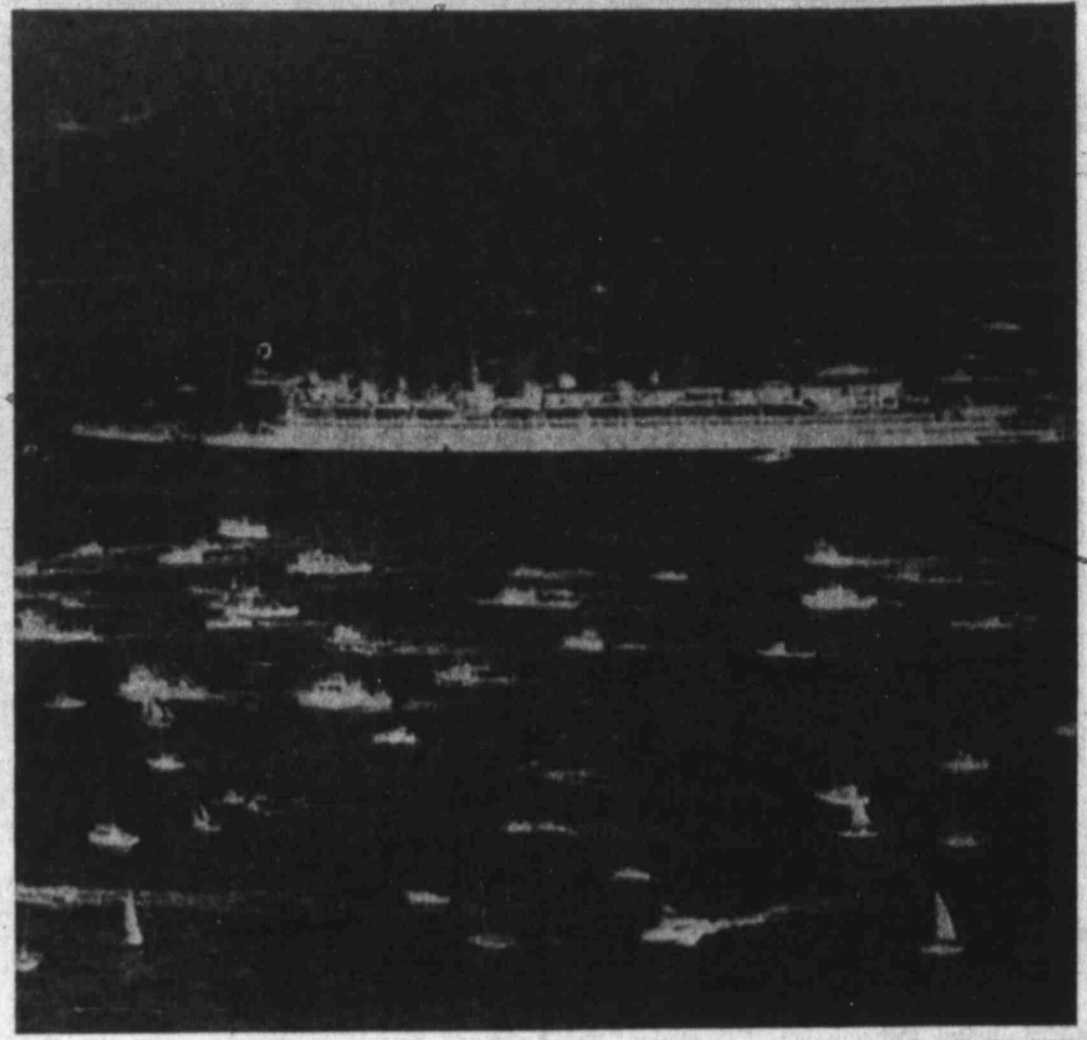

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Federal troops have joined Mexico's contraband crackdown amid scattered complaints from border towns that the anti-smuggling drive is hurting the tourist business.

Mexico has an annual campaign around Christmas to stop the illegal importation of goods from the United States.

American-made products are in great favor with Mexico's middle class but import duties often double the price of toys, watches, liquor and home appliances. So a Mexico City resident might make a quick run to the border, fill his Christmas list in Texas and try to sneak—or buy his way—past the customs men.

GOODS SEIZED
"The idea that smuggling is a little exploit of which one should be proud should be stamped out forever," the Confederation of Industrial Chambers of Commerce said in supporting the anti-smuggling drive.

One day last week customs officials confiscated three tons of contraband at the major border crossing points. Most came from individuals but there is also some organized smuggling and a couple of trailer trucks full of contraband have been seized. Mexicans who live near the border, in a special duty-free zone which extends about 14 miles into Mexico, are allowed to buy freely in the United States and bring their goods home without paying duty.

Queen Arrives At Last Home

The Queen Mary is escorted by an armada of small craft in the final moments of her final cruise as she arrived at the outer breakwater of Long Beach (Calif.) harbor Saturday. Hundreds of thousands crowded the shoreline to watch as the huge vessel arrived to become a floating hotel-convention center and maritime museum in Long Beach harbor.

Republican Governors Fail To Agree On 1968 Candidate

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Republican governors acknowledged Saturday they have no consensus—and none in prospect—on a presidential candidate for 1968. Colorado's John A. Love said it is becoming less likely that the GOP nominee will come from the ranks of the governors.

Two days of political conferences at this Florida resort produced no new commitments for any of the potential 1968 candidates. An absent GOP governor, George Romney of Michigan, is the only major contender who has formally declared his candidacy.

DISSATISFACTION
Love, retiring chairman of the Republican Governors Association, tempered his forecast of one year ago that a GOP governor would top the 1968 ticket.

WTCC To Award Scholar Citations

"Outstanding West Texas Scholar Awards" have been announced by J. Pike Godfrey, Spur, chairman of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce education committee.

The new citations will be presented to not more than two students from each of the 490 high schools in West Texas. Selection will be made by school officials in each school on the basis of grade average, school and civic honors, offices held, membership in school and civic groups, and other special accomplishments.

Nomination forms have been sent to all of the high schools in the 132-county area of the WTCC and when final selections are made the awards will be presented in public ceremonies early in 1968.

"I still think it's likely," he said, "but it is perhaps less likely than it was at that time."

Seventeen Republican state chairmen met privately and two of them expressed dissatisfaction at the governor's failure to agree on a presidential candidate.

'Messiah' Scheduled Tonight

Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," a favorite of church and concert goers for over 200 years, will be presented at 6 p.m. tonight by a 90-voice choir at the First Methodist Church.

The entire work was sketched and scored by Handel in 21 days of 1742.

A combination of chancel and chapel choirs of the First Methodist Church, members of the Howard County Junior College choir and singers from the community at large will be under the direction of Van C. Hale, music director of the First Methodist Church and head of the HJCJC music department.

Soloists are Mrs. Susan Bringer, soprano; Mrs. Joyce Bradley, soprano; Mrs. Marilyn Mewson, soprano; Mrs. Gwen McLaughlin, alto; Kenneth Roach, tenor; Kenny Sheppard, baritone.

John Stanley, organist at First Methodist and music instructor at HJCJC, and a string orchestra from Texas Tech will provide accompaniment.

An estimated 1,100 persons attended last year's performance.

date—or on machinery to produce a future agreement.

New Jersey chairman Webster B. Todd said the governors will sacrifice their influence in the 1968 campaign unless they make some move toward a candidate.

LOOK AT POLLS

Howard E. Russell, the Rhode Island chairman, said he will call a meeting of GOP chairmen from the northeastern states to discuss the situation.

Russell said Republican chairmen and governors should look at the opinion polls, then try to agree to back the man who looks like the party's most potent challenger to President Johnson.

Twenty-six strong but unable to align their power behind any potential 1968 contender, the governors had to content themselves with a drive to exert influence on the shape of the party platform.

They agreed to hold their next meeting in June at Lake Eufaula, Okla., after the presidential primaries have been held. The last of the major primaries is California's on June 4.

Quick Journey

GOLDSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Alice Sutton, 24, of nearby Pikeville, walked out of the Wayne County Health Department maternity clinic after a routine examination. A few minutes later, she was right back, and gave birth.

Nurses said her daughter arrived before they could summon a vehicle to take her to a hospital.

Salvation Army

SERVES AS

Santa Claus

A CHILD LEADS THE WAY in sharing with others as young Becky and Mark Stephens bring their gifts to the Salvation Army where they are gratefully acknowledged by Mrs. Bart Deggs. The youngsters are children of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Stephens, and the toys they donated will be brightened until they are pretty as new when they help fill another child's stocking.

SEWING A FINE SEAM is necessary when the garments are dainty clothes for a Christmas doll. For several years, area home demonstration club members have volunteered to make dresses for the hundrreds of dolls that are distributed by the Salvation Army. Working here are Mrs. L. J. Davidson, Mrs. Ernest Lillard and Mrs. J. R. Petty, all members of the Center Point HD Club.

CHILDHOOD AND OTHER CHRISTMASES are recalled during the hours of fellowship at the Salvation Army when it is time to dress dolls to look their finest for their new little mothers.

This year the chore is being undertaken by members of the Ladies Home League. Shown are Mrs. Jerry Stephens, Mrs. Jasper Williams, Mrs. W. J. McNew and Mrs. Wanda Scown.

BOYS WANT BICYCLES BENEATH THEIR TREE, and this phase of refurbishing is the special interest of local firemen. The men begin early to use their spare time to repair and paint toys of all kinds that still have many hours of pleasure left in them. As the toys are renewed, they are returned to the Salvation Army for distribution. Applying finishing touches are Fred Alton, Gene Patton and Chief H. V. Crocker.

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, DEC. 10, 1967

MRS. EDWARD GIBSON

Office Orchid

The Salvation Army has played an important role in bringing happiness to Mrs. Edward Gibson in both her professional and personal life. She found her chosen work when she first accepted a job with the organization on Aug. 13, 1961, in Austin, and it was through this association that she met her husband in that city when he became the Salvation Army's transient manager, a position he now holds in Big Spring. They were married Aug. 30, 1967.

Mrs. Gibson wears two hats at the offices here, for she is considered both a secretary and social worker. As a member of the Salvation Army, she is a handsman (playing alto sax) and teaches a teenage Sunday school class. Also, she is examiner for the Girl Guards, ages 11-15, and the Sunbeams, ages 6-10. While in Austin, she was also a songster leader and counselor for the Corps Cadettes. She is a member of the Texas State Welfare Association.

Mrs. Gibson is the former Anna Lee Smith, born and reared in Austin, where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith, still reside. After school there, she went to work for the Austin Public Schools in 1953, remaining in that job for eight years before taking a job in the State Office Building. It was almost two years later that she joined the Salvation Army, which she has worked for since that time.

Mrs. Gibson is the mother of three children, Charles Edward Herwig, Lyndon Earl Herwig and Mrs. Raymond Hitchcock, all of Austin, and she has eight grandchildren.

The Gibsons make their home in the manager's quarters in the Salvation Army Welfare Building and spend their spare time reading, playing miniature golf or bowling.

Punch was served before dinner, and a good time was had by all.

DMC started the Christmas season off Dec. 1 with a Hall and Farewell party at the home of Lt. Col. and Mrs. John Baker. Farewells were said to Lt. and Mrs. Michael Jaryna, Capt. and Mrs. Theo Tucker and Capt. William Hickson. Welcomes were extended to Capt. and Mrs. Ronald W. Kelley and Capt. and Mrs. Herbert F. Clarke.

A red and green color scheme was carried throughout the house. Red punch was served in a silver punch bowl and a small Christmas tree decorated the center of the table. Later in the evening the guests gathered around the piano to sing Christmas carols.

HOUSEGUESTS
 Several Webb families have houseguests this week. Capt. and Mrs. John J. Francis Jr. have his mother, Mrs. John J. Francis Sr., of Hollywood, Fla., as a houseguest. Visiting Capt. and Mrs. Frank Fisher is his mother, Mrs. A.

The centerpiece was a lovely white candelabra holding olive green candles with orange mums filling in the middle. Mrs. Castleton was presented a corsage and a gift.

Homemaking Students Ponder National Test

By RHOQA LEMONS
 Mrs. Jack Alexander, chairman of the Homemaking Department at Big Spring Senior High School, has 44 girls under her tutelage and just about that many problems to solve each day. This number means that just about one-half the girls in high school are taking some phase of Home Economics.

Courses offered at the school include food, clothing, child care, first aid, health and safety, home nursing, home improvement and family relations. And, during the past week, a test by the Betty Crocker "Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow" was administered to 16 senior girls and one adult. The adult was I.

Now, there are senior girls all over the United States taking these tests which are mailed to the Science Research Associates for evaluation and grading, and there were probably several newspaper reporters taking the test "just for fun."

The questions were not too hard through quite thought-provoking and, personally, I felt a few to be somewhat debatable. The questions were multiple choice, and occasionally, I felt multiple about the answers. Of course, I realize that this won't meet with scientific approval, but I feel that questions dealing with other human beings should allow for complex generalities.

Receive Awards At Colorado City Party
 The Col-Tex annual awards party, Dec. 1 in Colorado City, drew a large delegation of Cosden men, several of whom participated in presenting awards to the 20 employees of Col-Tex Refinery who had achieved milestones in tenure. Ranking honorees who received diamond-studded pins for 35 years of service were Johnnie Miller and Ira Williamson. Thirty-year pins went to James Coker, Warren Goode, C. G. Harkins, Maberry Willbanks and R. J. Wood. Diamond pins and engraved watches went to these 25-year men: J. B. Buckner, Louis J. Fisher, Lester Horn, Harvey L. Jones and Arnel B. Smith. Eight employees attained 20-year status and received ruby-studded pins: Mrs. Jo Bassinger, James E. Brown, J. D. Iglehart, Oren F. Moore, R. A. Moore Jr., Jesse Parham, E. L. Reeves and J. L. Schafer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gibson Jr. have been in Mexico City, Mexico, the past week where he attended a joint meeting of the Texas Water Pollution Control Association and the Sociedad Mexicana de Agua A. C. Hunters have grabbed the news spotlight in the Cosden family. The Warden Mays family went to the Guadalupe Mountain area and returned with a nine-point buck. M. A. Lilly and his son, Don, each got a deer. Bizzell, 13, bagged a three-pointer in Mitchell County while hunting with his father, J. R. Bizzell.

W. D. Broughton and Roy Hughes returned from a hunt in the Balmorra vicinity with one four-pointer. H. F. Merrell and C. W. Smith of Sterling City used all their tags on the first day west of Durango, Colo. The Cliff Balzers had an enjoyable weekend on their deer lease near Silver. Sam Posey had a good luck near Van Horn, downing a 10-point black-tail.

A party composed of O. G. Milam, Jimmy Bumgarner and Roy Ray went to Sterling City the first day of the season and varied subjects as discipline, first aid, economical buying, insurance premiums, warmth and weight of fabrics and the association of foreign foods with different countries. This is only a sampling, because other problems presented were based on the correct handling of difficult situations and the personality traits of infants, along with whether a wife should work and how to judge her reasons for seeking employment.

Frankly, one of the most difficult things about the test for me, was signing my name. This was my first experience with using the dot system, but by sheer endurance, I mastered the first part of the test.

Let us never underestimate the abilities and maturity of our graduating seniors. They were thorough, knowledgeable and capable in taking the test. It is amazing to me, as a homemaker of some 15 years, how much these young girls are required to know about foods, nutritional values, budget buying and the better cuts of meats along with much additional information.

While visiting the homemaking department, I was shown where students had antiqued desks and chairs for the department faculty. The desks were in deplorable condition at first, but were very handsome antiqued in red, gold, aqua, blue and green. This is another project of the department in teaching the girls how to refinish furniture.

Girls taking the test were Gay Williams, Wanda Simpson, Linda Lie, Beth Ann Ross, Sherry Stroup, Donna Reid, Jessie Houston, Barbara Johnke, Halena Wozencraft, Sheila Tidwell, Janice Morris, Nikki Thomas, Ann Heath, Carolyn Sisson, Ethel Green and Linda Sigmon.

A LOVELIER YOU Loosen Tight Curls With Two Methods

By MARY SUE MILLER

A lovely writes: Now that curls are back in fashion I have decided to have my hair straightened. It's not that I'm against curls. It's that my curls are so tight I can't comb or manage them. Please tell me the best way to straighten hair.

The answer: Generally speaking, there are two hair-straightening methods. One involves heat; the other makes use of chemicals.

The heat process calls for ironing the hair with a regular pressing iron, or for drawing it straight with a curling iron. The effect is temporary - very - and constant repetition is likely to dry and break the hair.

Chemical straighteners, now made for both salon and home use, employ new chemicals that treat the hair more gently than older types. This kind of straightening lasts for six or more weeks, depending on the hair's rate of growth. The process may be repeated if the hair is in top condition. Actually it is wise to give straightened hair conditioning treatments on a systematic basis.

It is also the better part of wisdom to take a strand test before applying straightener to the entire head. This is a must when hair is tinted. But, for every head, the test is a gauge of success.

When successfully straightened the hair is curl-free, not poker-straight. It is soft, smooth and manageable - like nature's best efforts.

Christmas Luncheon Held By Webb OWC

Cranberry and Rhine wine punch, served by Mrs. Santa Claus and her elf, set the theme for the Christmas luncheon and program, "Babes in Toyland," at the Thursday luncheon of the Officers Wives Club. The event was held in the Officers Open Mess at Webb Air Force Base, and Mrs. J. A. Leonard provided piano music during the hospitality hour.

Decorations consisted of red and green cloths on tables centered with sentry houses guarded by toy soldiers. Drums were placed at each end of the table, and all decorations were linked by greenery. A large Christmas tree centered the head table, and golden bells with streamers hung from the ceiling. The stage was decorated with a silver tree surrounded by large stuffed toys, and individual gifts were placed at each setting.

Mrs. E. A. Henningsen, retiring president, was presented a silver chafing dish as a farewell gift. She and her daughters will join Capt. Henningsen in Egypt soon. Mrs. William Lund succeeded Mrs. Henningsen as president; Mrs. Roger Shaw, first vice president; Mrs. R. Piland, second vice president; Mrs. T. B. Mother Mary was depicted by Mrs. Harold Rosson, and the modern mother was played by Mrs. C. M. Steen. The program dealt with the theme of the modern mother who said, "Christmas is for children"; and the mother of Jesus replied, "Christmas is for the whole world." The theme stressed that Christ died for all humanity, and Communion was served by Mrs. M. B. McFall, Mrs. A. A. Marchant, Mrs. John Burgess and Mrs. R. E. Hoover.

Christmas music was presented by a sextette composed of Miss Lorie Watkins, Miss Monnie Watkins, Miss Beth Hayworth, Miss Lariece Root, Miss Cathryn Carille and Miss Lila Williams, accompanied by Miss Janice Majors.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Our hometown folks have many of their people traveling in numerous spots over the world this December and they won't be here for Christmas.

MRS. ELLEN CROSLAND tells us her son, PAT, who has recently visited in her home here along with his wife and daughters, Lois, Frances and Patricia, left California Thursday for Hawaii. Pat is a park naturalist with the National Park Service and has recently been stationed in Petrified National Park in Arizona. His new post will be in the Volcanoes National Park in Hawaii.

From Acapulco, Mexico, comes a pretty post card from MRS. BEN FERRELL who says the hour she is on is a fabulous one that keeps the party members going day and night. She has been to Cuernavaca and Taxco. Somewhere they saw a performance of the Ballet Folklorica . . . couldn't figure out the order of events on the card.

W. W. (BILL) WILSON left here Thursday after visiting his mother, MRS. W. G. WILSON J.R., and Friday was on his way across the Pacific. This is a complete switch as he has just recently returned from work with an oil company in Saudi Arabia, Ethiopia and Libya. He left Terminal at 1 p.m. on Thursday and arrived in San Francisco at 4:30 and called his mother at 9:30 to tell her he was ready for the flight the next day for Honolulu, Hawaii. There have been some mighty busy hands in the Cub Scout program if the attractive decorations for the banquet tables at the Lone Star District dinner are any criteria. The numerous tables were festooned from one end to the other with little churches topped with snow, houses that looked as though they had been through a heavy snowfall and other reminders of the Christmas season. There were reindeer and Santa Clauses, Christmas elves and candies that were beautifully trimmed. It all gave a most festive air to the evening's activities.

BUYING TIPS

These Are Valuable Gifts For Christmas

By GENEVIEVE S. WOOD

The you-know-what season is at hand. Probably you are already thinking of Santa's gift list.

Among the gifts most cherished by the homemaker, whether she's an old hand or a bride, are small appliances.

Indeed, if the bride's budget will not permit the range of her dreams, she can get along quite comfortably for a while with small electrical appliances. This question has come from brides over the country so often that the United States Department of Agriculture electrification specialists made tests that prove this point, and recently issued a report on it. These appliances include an electric frying pan, a 3-quart electric saucepan, a portable cooker, and an electric roaster.

Here are small appliances that are in great demand, with some of the features to consider when buying:

Coffeemakers — Two types, percolators and vacuum, and many handsome styles. The wide range of capacities enables you to select the right size. For maximum service get the type that not only brews the coffee but also keeps it at a drinking temperature.

MIXERS

Food Mixers — In two styles, standard and the smaller portable. Most of the standard mixers can be released from their stands and used as portables. Check to make sure that the mixer has enough power for heavy duty tasks as well as whipping egg whites.

Toasters — Four-slice models for larger families, two-slice for the smaller. Special features you may like include extra wide openings for thicker slices of bread, bottom tray for toasting English muffins or making oven toast, easy-to-read dials for adjusting the color of toast desired.

Waffle makers — The new waffle bakers have interchangeable grids for cooking bacon, eggs, toasting sandwiches as well as baking waffles. They are Teflon lined now — all you do is set the dial and pour in the batter — the rest is automatic.

Slicing Knives — The popular newcomers that operate a couple of serrated slicing knives by electricity. They are charged by plugging into an electrical outlet before use or by batteries. They make carving a pushover.

FRYING PANS

Electric Frying Pans — A grand utensil with many uses. Be sure the dial is easy to read and that the heating element can be immersed. Newer pans now have a high dome top for roasting meats. Most of them are Teflon lined.

Electric Blenders — This appliance does just that — blends dips, salad dressings, soups; purees vegetables; makes crumbs, and macerates meats in a matter of moments. Especially convenient where there are small children and or elderly persons.

Can Openers — Often combined with a knife sharpener. Make sure that this appliance is well balanced so that there's no tipping of cans, also that it has the power to open a can without spilling and to cut through seams.

Electric Roasters — Wonderful work-saver for larger families, because it can roast a 20-pound turkey and large meat roasts — also a great convenience for patio parties. Those on the market are the products of well known manufacturers, who have been making them for many years.

Bean Pots — Ceramic pots with separate, low-heat hot plates. Particularly useful for the family with kiddies for chili con carne, pinto beans, soups, stews and other foods that require long, slow cooking.

Oven Toaster-Broilers — Ideal for the family who prefers oven toast, and excellent for baking biscuits, broiling bacon, cooking eggs, and other light cooking at the table. Those with thermostats and oven doors are much more useful.

Guests introduced were Mrs. Mary Ann Grasko and Mrs. Michael Hubbell. New members were Mrs. Fred Morse, Mrs. Michael McDonald and Mrs. Gary Taylor.

The first of two coffees will be held Tuesday for the NCO Club at the service club, and those assisting will be Mrs. James Sasser, Mrs. James Foxworthy and Mrs. Morse. The other coffee will be held for the Webb AFB officers Thursday at the service club, with Mrs. James Markum, Mrs. Mike McDonald, Mrs. Grasko and Mrs. Sasser serving as hostesses.

The student council is responsible every year for decorating the school for Christmas. They have decorated the patio tree and the gym. The journalism class has helped by making decorations for the hall.

The English IV class, sponsored by Mrs. Rommie Gandy, saw the production of "The Taming of the Shrew," Friday, Dec. 1. The show, taken from William Shakespeare's play of that name, was written during the period of English literature that the class is now studying.

The Fox Company will be at Sands tomorrow to take pictures of the junior class officers, FFA chapter and officers, the student council, senior class, Speech Club and the basketball teams.

Both the boys' and girls' basketball teams beat Sterling City, Tuesday, and they were entered in Garden City's tournament Friday and Saturday.

'Reel Generation' Puzzles Educators

Editor's Note: The young generation is a "cinematic" one. It was born and bred in an era of the moving picture and had seen more movies by high school graduation than some of their parents see in a lifetime. Movies have become a medium of, by and for the young. This growing rapport between film and youth is just beginning to change the course of the movie industry and influence approaches in education.

By The Associated Press

Youth is in love. With the movies.

Film, the only new art medium born in this century, is the literature of today's young generation. It is the medium in which they both find and express themselves most directly and most passionately. It is a course of study in an increasing number of their schools; it is the possessor of their leisure time, the lively topic of their conversations. It is their language.

NEW GODDESS

"To young college people, film is the new goddess—Aphrodite, form-risen full-splendored on a thousand campuses," says Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association of America—MPAA.

A preliminary market research study being done for the MPAA indicates that except for young people, the public's regular movie-going habit is decreasing. It is the exception, however, that is reshaping the thinking and planning of movie-makers.

The decline in movie attendance, the report shows, starts after age 29. That sharp drop is offset by increased attendance on the part of younger people, increased to a point where one industry spokesman estimated that 50 per cent of the total movie-going audience is under 25.

Valenti noted there were six million students in colleges and universities last year and that number will reach 7.4 million in three years—and 11.1 million in 12 years. At the same time, he said, in a dozen years there will be 100 million Americans under 25, "most of whom will have whetted their cultural appetites and sharpened their entertainment perspective."

Opening Wednesday

British secret agents Dorothy Provine and Terry-Thomas find much to talk about in this scene from Dine de Laurentie's comedy thriller in color by Technicolor, "Kiss the Girls and Make Them Die." Michael Connors, Raf Valone, Margaret Lee, Nicoletta Machiavelli and Beverly Adams also star in the Columbia Pictures release opening Wednesday at the Jet Theater.

Sea-Adventure Story Scheduled At The Jet

A spectacular sea-adventure story, humorously told through the Technicolor cameras, takes over the screen of the Jet Drive-In when Universal's King's Pirate opens Saturday. Doug McClure, Jill St. John, Guy Stockwell and Mary Ann Mobley star in the swashbuckler.

McClure plays the role of a dashing British naval officer, who masquerades as a deserter to get into an 18th century pirate stronghold. The British have been unable to penetrate the area because of strong fortifications guarding the approaches, and McClure volunteers to destroy them from the land.

Rightly suspected of being a spy, his life is spared through the intervention of Miss St. John, the beautiful pirate colony leader, who falls in love with him, thus bringing about the enmity of pirate captain Guy Stockwell, who never before had had competition for her affections.

The swiftly paced comedy reaches a peak when Stockwell unknowingly captures the daughter of the Mogul of India, played by Mary Ann Mobley, among a group of harem girls on a ship overtaken and plundered further when he learns and then attempts to conceal the identity of the princess who, also has fallen in love with him, to the jealous displeasure of Miss St. John.

As the climax nears, the action becomes furious with McClure and his cohorts attacking and successfully destroying the fortifications. With that accomplished, the British warship quickly moves in, destroys the pirates and rescues the sailors and their friends.

Christmas Music Brightens Season

By WINNIE UNGER

Attending the performance of Handel's "The Messiah," First Methodist Church at 6 p.m. today, will guarantee listeners a beautiful rapport with the true spirit of the season. This magnificent oratorio has been an inspiration for music lovers since it came into existence 200 years ago.

Van Hale, music director of the church and Howard County Junior College, has combined local talent with a string orchestra from Texas Tech to produce the memorable oratorio.

The San Angelo Symphony Orchestra, the North Texas State University Grand Chorus and four vocalists will combine next week, Dec. 18, at 8:15 p.m. in San Angelo City Auditorium to present Beethoven's "Missa Solemnis," written in 1818-23.

A reception following the performance will be held in Wood Fellowship Hall opposite the auditorium for all those attending the concert. Tickets are $3 for adults, 90 cents for students, available at the box office.

Midland Community Theatre is continuing productions of "Barefoot in the Park" Dec. 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16. Tickets may be reserved by writing Box 4847, Midland, Tex., 79701.

Four Big Spring painters, Mr. and Mrs. Al Scott, Harold Mounce and Mrs. Margaret Goodwin, are holding open house today in an "artistic tea" garage sale at the Scott home, 1212 E. 17th, for some 85 or more of their works. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., and visitors are welcome.

Peter Nero will appear in the Odessa College auditorium Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. for a piano concert. Tickets are priced at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children.

The West Texas Museum on the Texas Tech campus has opened an exhibit featuring Christmas paintings, decorations and wall hangings, to be displayed daily through Jan. 2, with the exception of Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, New Year's Eve and New Year's Day. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, 2-5 p.m. Sundays.

Each Sunday at 3 p.m. in the West Texas Museum, a Planetarium show is open to the public. The current lecture and program, today and Dec. 17, is "The Star of Bethlehem." Admission is 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for children.

Austin's Laguna Gloria Gallery's December exhibits include paintings by Rafael Navarro, Mexican artist who executed the murals for Medical Towers Building in Austin.

"Lost Command" Covers The Globe

Motion picture actors, technicians and administrative personnel must be prepared to circle the globe at short notice.

This is well illustrated by Mark Robson's production of "Lost Command," new action-adventure drama of French colonial warfare in Indo-China and Algeria, filmed in Spain for Columbia Pictures release and now at the Jet Drive-In, in Panavision and ColumbiaColor. "Lost Command" stars Anthony Quinn, Alain Delon, George Segal, Michele Morgan, Maurice Ronet and Claudia Cardinale as Aicha and co-star Gregoire Aslan.

Newlyweds Have Their Troubles In Film Tale

"The Family Way," the Warner Bros.-Seven Arts presentation in Technicolor of the Boulting Brothers' new production, is the story of newlyweds whose marriage, in the words of one character in the film, "hasn't taken on." The film opens today at the Ritz Theater.

HAYLEY MILLS In First Married Role

Hayley Mills, now grown up and displaying marvelous new talents, stars in her first married role. Her father, the remarkably versatile John Mills, stars as her father-in-law, adding another characterization to his already giant portrait gallery.

Making his motion picture debut as Hayley's bridegroom is a 23-year-old Welshman named Hywel Bennett who was described by one London reviewer as "the sexiest gentleman to arrive on the screen since Mr. Richard Burton was first flexing his compulsive charm with such cringing effect." The veteran Marjorie Rhodes rounds out the film's stellar quartet with a scene-stealing performance as Hayley's mother and Mills' wife.

Featured roles are played by Avril Angers, Liz Fraser, Wilfred Pickles, John Comer, Barry Foster and Murray Head. Many other parts are enacted by what the screen credits list as "The People of Bolton," the town in Northern England where the picture was filmed.

Twin brothers John and Roy Boulting produced and directed "The Family Way" from a screenplay by Bill Naughton (author of "Alfie"), adapted from his stage play, "All In Good Time." Paul McCartney of The Beatles composed the music as his first film score.

Roy Boulting explains the basic problem of young Arthur and Jenny Fitton, portrayed respectively by Hywel Bennett and Hayley Mills, like this: "Start with the premise that on every wedding night there are six people in the honeymoon bed—the newlyweds and both sets of parents. Until four of them have been kicked out, the marriage can't really begin."

Forced to live in the home of the boy's parents, the newlyweds discover that paper-thin walls, parental intrusion and a long lifetime of maladvice obstruct the consummation of the marriage and nearly wreck the youngsters' future.

Soybeans Don't Need Fertilizing

LAMESA (SC) — Nitrogen may be considered a cure-all to most farmers' fertility problems. But to those producing soybeans, this is certainly not the case in a 1967 demonstration on Kenneth Hamilton farm, says County Agricultural Agent Lee Roy Colgan.

Hamilton's demonstration shows yields of 1,215 pounds per acre where no fertilizer was applied. In contrast, adding 50 pounds of nitrogen per acre increased yields by only 10 pounds per acre.

Hamilton planted his soybeans on June 3 in a solid pattern at a rate of 30 pounds per acre on Amarillo fine sandy loam.

Surplus Food Helps Needy in Dixieland

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Department of Agriculture says that during the 1967 fiscal year, surplus food valued at about $145 million was distributed throughout nine Southeastern states.

The food went to school lunch programs, summer camps, needy persons in institutions and needy families in addition to victims of natural disasters.

Dr. Sam Volunteers For Peace Corps Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Peace Corps said Friday that Samuel H. Sheppard, Cleveland osteopath who served 10 years in prison but later was acquitted of second degree murder charges in the death of his first wife, has volunteered for Peace Corps duty.

A spokesman for the corps said the application was received late last week and is being processed. This normally requires about eight weeks.

Sheppard did not limit his application to volunteer work in his professional field, as an osteopathic physician, the spokesman said. He added that the corps attempts to fit an individual's skills to the particular needs of an assignment involved in a nation's request for aid.

If Sheppard has skills that would seem to fit the needs of a volunteer job he then would be considered for training.

'CARNIVAL' TRIAL

The U.S. Supreme Court ordered a new trial for Sheppard after he served 10 years. The Court said there was "prejudicial publicity" and a "carnival atmosphere" at the first trial.

In the second trial he was acquitted.

Peace Corps representatives said that insofar as they know his acquittal has restored all of Sheppard's civil rights so that legally he would be eligible for Peace Corps work.

Sheppard's first wife, Marilyn, was bludgeoned to death July 4, 1954.

His second wife, Ariane, came to the United States from Germany to help in his efforts to upset the first trial conviction and she married him the day after his release from prison.

Paper Predicts Peking To Fight

TOKYO (AP) — A Maoist Red Guard newspaper published in Canton predicts Red China will be at war by next spring and the fighting may turn into World War III.

In a translation which reached Tokyo today, the Oct. 7 edition of a tabloid published by the "Red Flag Commune" said China is besieged by reactionaries—the Soviet Union, Nationalist China, Japan and India—and "the situation is very tense."

It said a Japanese special service group had been discovered recently in Manchuria and the other nations have forces stationed on Red China's borders or just offshore.

They are prescribed by a physician and filled only by a professional pharmacist. Exact records must be kept by the dispenser. The physician specifies the particular product and the pharmacist is liable if it is not exactly as specified and potentially fresh.

In rare cases the contents of a prescription can be secured without a written prescription. The physician directs us to dispense these with a prescription label and his directions. He has good reasons for this and we do not question them, but follow his specifications exactly. When a physician gives you a prescription he specifies the one exact medicine, in the exact dosage he believes will help you most.

Woman Captures Criticism Prize

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time since 1958, when the George Jean Nathan Award for dramatic criticism was established, a woman has won the $4,000 prize. She is Elizabeth Hardwick, advisory editor of the New York Review of Books, a literary periodical.

Miss Hardwick, who has written two novels and a book of essays, was cited for the periodical's "distinguished series of reviews of plays and discussions of the situation in the American theater."

Her husband is poet Robert Lowell Jr.

It Only Cost $32 To Win Re-Election

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — It cost Human A. Pressman just $32 to win re-election as city comptroller in November's general election.

Pressman filed an expense report in compliance with a state law which showed he spent $3 in the general campaign. During the primary Pressman reported he poured $29 into his campaign.
