

CONSULTANT Says Drug Prices Can Be Reduced

WASHINGTON (AP)—A drug company consultant said today it is "clearly false and stupid" to say prescription prices can't be reduced.

George S. Squibb, a former vice president of E. R. Squibb & Sons, which bears his grandfather's name, says drug firms can reasonably expect "ordinary profits, yes, but windfalls, no."

"This may come as a shocking idea to those who set the prices," Squibb said, "but it is an idea which must be accepted or it will be imposed by regulation."

Squibb's statement was prepared for the Senate monopoly subcommittee, which made it public.

"Because the government now is preparing to pay so much of the medical bill of the public," the drug industry cannot expect ever-increasing profits, Squibb said.

"The concept of more and more profits from the miseries of the sick, the aged and the malnourished" seems "to run counter to the swelling trend toward state supported medicine," Squibb said.

The subcommittee said Squibb now is a consultant to E. R. Squibb & Sons.

Have You Seen This Man?

This is a sketch described as closely resembling the bank bandit who Tuesday afternoon held up the State National Bank. Officers ask that anyone who recognizes the man or can tell them anything about him to contact either the sheriff's office or the police station. Robert Currie, president of the bank, who was with the bandit for about 20 minutes, said that the local artist's sketch from a verbal description is exceptionally good.

Social Security Vote Due Friday

Quickly Passed Today, But Rescinded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate quickly passed and then decided today to reconsider Friday a Social Security bill that would sharply hike benefits and taxes. The net effect was to head off a possible filibuster.

Approval of the House-passed compromise came shortly after the Senate convened at 9 a.m. with little more than 12 senators on the floor.

The decision to rescind passage and reconsider the measure was reached only after agreement was reached to vote at 11 a.m. Friday.

The compromise version would raise benefits for all recipients by at least 13 per cent. The monthly minimum would go from $44 to $55 and the maximum would go from $142 to $160.50. And a wife 65 or older would get 50 per cent of her husband's basic payment.

Social Security taxes also would go up, with a maximum increase of $52.80 a year for those earning more than $6,000. Employers' contributions would be similar and there would be additional increases for both in future years.

Senators, including Fred R.

Harris, D-Okla., and Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., objected to the toughened welfare provisions in the bill. Neither was on the floor at the time of passage.

Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana, assistant Democratic leader, maneuvered the bill to passage after Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield was called out of the chamber on official business.

ON NOTICE

Long explained later he was on notice some senators did not intend to permit the compromise measure to be voted on before Congress got for this session, probably Friday.

But Mansfield replied he was prepared to stay in session until midnight today if necessary to let opponents speak and then to resume at 8 a.m. Friday. He also said he was considering filing a cloture petition under which debate could be halted by a two-thirds majority of senators voting.

Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., took the blame for permitting the bill's passage. Another opponent of the welfare provisions, he said he was supposed to keep watch on the proceedings.

Tydings said he was standing in the rear of the chamber when Long moved for approval, but thought the senator was talking about another matter.

Shortly after the passage vote, Mansfield returned to the chamber, protesting strongly the rights of individual senators had been disregarded. He asked unanimous consent for reconsideration.

Long then said he was willing to have a motion entered to reconsider the passage vote, noting he would be in position at any time to table the motion and thus cut off any filibuster since the motion would not be debatable.

The increased benefits for 24 million Americans on Social Security rolls would be effective with checks received next March 3.

DEBATE

Kennedy and Harris contended in debate Wednesday that the proposed welfare limitations would mean some needy children and their parents would be denied aid. They said many mothers would be forced to put their children into day care centers and go to work.

They referred to a provision which would set a limit on government-aided state programs for children in families with absent fathers. Each state would compute next January the proportion of aided children to all children in the state. This ratio then could not be exceeded in any expansion of the program.

GOP Slams LBJ

Cold To Continue

Backlash of the bitter winter storm which is hammering the mountain country north and west of here was in evidence this morning with a 29 degree reading at 10 a.m. and a light drizzle falling. The drizzle froze almost as it fell on the windshields of cars.

The forecast for today and tonight calls for a continuation of the same sort of weather, with warning to travelers to be careful if they have to be on the highways.

Friday will be cloudy, not quite so cold, but with occasional snow flurries.

Correct Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says reports the Soviet Union has sent war planes and technicians to participate in Yemen's civil war are "substantially accurate" and warns such intervention "is only likely to increase tension in the region."

A department spokesman also indicated that reports Soviet pilots have been flying combat missions against rebel Royalist forces near San'a, Yemen's capital, are correct.

Latest information received by informed Washington officials is that the operational Yemeni Republican air force includes six Ilyushin 28 bombers and 10 or 12 older MIG fighters. There have been recent reports that more advanced MIG models have been delivered.

Patient Gets Up

CAPETOWN, South Africa (AP) — The first man in the world to undergo a heart transplant Louis Washkansky, ventured out of bed today for the first time since his operation 11 days ago. He reclined "for a short time" in an easy chair on a balcony at Groote Schuur Hospital after being wheeled out from his ward. There were no complications as a result of this, a hospital spokesman said.

Sketch Of Bandit Made, Officers Seeking Witnesses

Robert Currie, president of the State National Bank who was held captive by a bank robber for more than 20 minutes Tuesday, has informed officers that a composite sketch drawn by a local artist is a "very good likeness" of his captor.

Officers working on the robbery of the bank, in which $12,000 in cash was stolen, are circulating copies of the sketch and asking anyone who has seen a person resembling the picture to contact them.

WALLER AGREES

They also said that Travis Waller, assistant cashier at the bank, who also was in brief contact with the bandit, has said that the drawing is a good likeness.

Meantime, Sheriff A. N. Standard said that the law enforcement agencies who are working on the bank robbery have asked any person who may have been on the north side of Gibson's store between 3:05 and 3:20 p.m., and saw anything out of the ordinary to contact them. The bandit, with his hostage, circled the Gibson block and parked the bank's white 1966 model car at the east end of the Gibson building on Twenty-third Street. It was here that Currie was forced to get out from under the wheel and lie across the seat of the car. The bandit then struck him twice with a pistol. When Currie had regained his feet, his assailant was gone.

Officers think it is possible that someone may have been driving past the bank car at the time or that someone may have seen the bandit leaving the scene. Any information of any kind, Standard said, could be helpful.

Meantime, the officers are checking out a number of slight leads they have developed. For a little while Wednesday afternoon, they had hopes the case had been solved.

A man, who resembled the bandit in general, was reported to have hired a taxicab here Tuesday night to drive him to Colorado City. He paid his fare with a $20 bill. The bandit who robbed Currie had $12,000 in $20 bills.

The suspect, officers said, was dark-haired, about the right height and weight, and was dressed approximately as the bandit had been.

Standard, with Rangers Dudley White and Ray Block, brought the suspect to Big Spring from Colorado City. He was placed in a lineup, which was viewed by Currie.

Currie said the man was not the bandit; that he was too old and his face too wrinkled. Sheriff Standard said the suspect wore a black toupee and was partially bald, when the hair-

Icing Blankets West Texas Roads

By The Associated Press

Treacherous ice coated roads across much of West Texas today and light to steady rain chilled most other sections of the state. Snow fell in places just east of the New Mexico line.

While temperatures were not severe for the waning days of fall, they were low enough to freeze in many areas behind a newly stalled cold front.

By early morning the forward edge of this front curled southward from Texarkana to Lufkin, Alice and McAllen.

Heavy snow was reported near dawn at Morton, in Cochran County west of Lubbock. Snowfalls measuring more than two feet in parts of New Mexico and Arizona generally failed to spread into Texas, however.

Icing caused the Weather Bureau to issue a special warning to motorists in the South Plains sector embracing Plainview and Lubbock. There also was at least some ice over much of the Panhandle except the north edge, and the glazed conditions extended to Wichita Falls, southward past Abilene and westward to Guadalupe Pass, in the mountains east of El Paso.

Travel warnings likewise were up for a good part of Southwest Texas on both sides of the Pecos River.

Temperatures before daylight ranged down to 17 degrees at Dalhart, which had only a trace of ice, 23 at Perryton, which was dry. Both are in the upper Panhandle.

Expanding on the prospects of danger for motorists, the Weather Bureau at Midland posted a special advisory urging caution throughout the south part of Northwest Texas and the north part of Southwest Texas east of the Pecos through tonight. It said occasional freezing drizzle, rain or snow could be expected to continue over most of the area.

Fog was mixed with a freezing drizzle or light rain at Abilene, Lubbock and Wichita Falls.

Missing Lad Returns Home

Calvin Brown, age 13, 1700 Alabama, came home at noon today after being missing since 4:45 p.m. yesterday. He was last seen Wednesday about 7 p.m. going toward the South Mountain area carrying some blankets. He had been reported missing by his mother, Mrs. Petty Foutreant.

This morning, Webb AFB sent a helicopter up in the South Mountain area in an effort to locate the boy, but had to return to the base due to icing after being up only half an hour.

Plans were being made at the time of the boy's return for ground searching parties to go into the South Mountain area.

King's Attempted Coup Is Crushed

ATHENS (AP)—Greece's military regime crushed today the last remnants of a counterforce led by King Constantine and began a roundup of suspected royalist officers and rightist politicians.

The king, stripped of his powers and replaced by a regent, Lt. Gen. George Zolotas, fled to Rome with his family. He made no immediate comment.

Col. George Papadopoulos, strong man of the military regime and now premier, announced in a broadcast that Lt. Gen. Zolotas, undersecretary of national defense, had been installed as regent.

Papadopoulos later told reporters the constitutional monarchy would be preserved and the king had voluntarily surrendered his functions.

LEARNED

Greeks learned for the first time late in the day that their king had fled. Papadopoulos' news conference was broadcast by Athens radio reporting the royal family, Premier Constantine Kollias and some officers had flown secretly to Rome.

In an early morning broadcast, Papadopoulos declared that the "antimilitary conspiracy has been crushed. The conspirators have been ousted."

TROOPS

Less than 24 hours after Constantine called Wednesday on his people to revolt against the ruling colonels in Athens, troops and armored carriers that had ringed the junta headquarters in the Parliament building, were removed. However, armed guards continued to stand outside defense headquarters on the outskirts of the capital.

Military units in northern Greece had been reported siding with the king, but the only reported fighting on the mainland was at Elefsis air force base southwest of Athens. Two army captains attempting to board a plane there for northern Greece were reported shot by troops loyal to the government, and clashes between air force and army units followed. Two buildings caught fire in the fighting.

Allies Report Last Week Was Costliest In Casualties

SAIGON (AP) — The Allied commands in South Vietnam announced casualty figures today showing that last week was one of the costliest of the year for their forces. And civilian deaths attributed to the enemy were the highest ever recorded.

During only one other week this year was the allied military death toll higher.

PATTERN

The statistics underlined the war's present pattern: The guerrilla war of attrition continuing while isolated pitched battles in remote areas become less frequent but more intense.

The allied commands said 595 of their men were killed last week—380 South Vietnamese, 194 Americans and 21 Koreans and Australians.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 1,818 Communist troops were killed last week, about the average for the past several months. But it was nearly double the total reported the week before.

The highest total of allied dead this year was in one week of May, when 628 men were killed. Statistics are not accurate for such previous years as 1964 and 1965, when the South Vietnamese were sometimes losing whole battalions in bloody battles. However, last week's losses were certainly among the highest since that period, when the government's strength was at low ebb.

The military losses were par-alleled by the highest recorded civilian toll of the war, 232 dead. This included 114 Montagnard villagers slain in the Viet Cong massacre at the village at Dak Son, but U.S. officials have estimated the death toll there probably was around 200.

DEADLY

The war communique today reported more isolated, deadly battles with little apparent pattern. There was fighting along the Cambodian frontier and in the northern provinces below the demilitarized zone, coupled with isolated Viet Cong assaults, shellings and the sabotage of a bridge on the Saigon-Dalat highway.

Battle reports listed continuing heavy Communist losses,

30 killed in one fight, 25 in another and 20 in another.

Associated Press Correspondent Robert Ohman reported troops of the American division were hotly engaged today on the coastal lowlands of Quang Tin Province, in the north. About 30 Communist soldiers had been killed in the developing action, Ohman said, and a battalion of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division was attempting an envelopment with the aid of heavy air and artillery support.

In Saigon, Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky said the South Vietnamese government would soon announce one-day cease-fires for Christmas and New Year's and a two-day truce during Tet, the Vietnamese lunar new year at the end of January.

School Aid Funds Battle Brewing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House-Mass. told the House earlier Congress could not adjourn without passing a bill extending the act. But unless agreement comes promptly today he is likely to run into heavy pressure to put it over until next year.

ONE OF FOUR

The school bill is one of four measures congressional leaders want to wrap up before the session ends, but it will take a firm hand to hold the homeward-bound legislators in Washington past Friday night.

There also could be trouble with another of the bills. Senate liberals are balking at some proposed welfare aid restrictions in a measure that would boost Social Security benefits and taxes. There is talk of trying to delay final action on it until next year.

The other two bills, appropriating funds for the foreign aid and anti-poverty programs, moved forward Wednesday and should get another boost today.

A $2.3 billion foreign-aid bill agreed to by House and Senate conferees is expected to win quick approval in the House.

And the Senate is expected to pass a $1.98 appropriation for the anti-poverty program approved by its Appropriations Committee.

FORMULA FUSS

Although the House has voted only $1.6 billion for the anti-poverty program, little difficulty is expected in reaching a compromise at about the $1.75 billion figure that Director Sargent Shriver of the Office of Economic Opportunity says he needs to continue the program at its present level of operations.

In the school bill conference, members from urban areas are quarreling with rural representatives over proposed changes in the formula for allocating funds that would increase the amounts going to rural areas at the expense of large Northern cities.

The problem arises because President Johnson, seeking to hold down federal spending, budgeted only half the amount for the program that Congress authorized, making the existing formula inoperative.

New Runnels Honor Society Has New Charter Members

Runnels Junior High School has its first National Junior Honor Society and 19 of the school's 276 eighth graders have qualified as charter members.

The new chapter was formally created at a special assembly this week with Junior Honor Society leaders from Goliad Junior High School officiating at the induction ceremonies.

Mrs. John M. Talmadge and Mrs. C. W. Tanner are sponsors.

The honor society members have to establish a grade of 90 or over and with no grade under a B and must also demonstrate citizenship, leadership and other qualities of special significance to earn membership. The members were selected by the faculty.

The charter members are Joe Arguello, Robert Armstrong, Gary Bradley, Denise Bryant, Randy Dickens, Jean Farley, Sue Fortenberry, Juanita Fuqua, Carter Hale, Dan Lewis, Sheila Lewis, Glenda Marberry, David Massey, Susan Mayo, Greg Parnell, Angie Peay, Susan Trim, Tommy Tune and Polly Wade.

Mrs. Bill Gage, sponsor of the Goliad chapter, assisted in the induction ceremonies. Students from Goliad who took part were Julie Allen, Donald Davis, Joan Crawford, Stanley Shanks and Billy Priebe.

Others taking part in the program were Cindy Adams, who played the recessional; Alan Hill, who asked the invocation; Zonell Mears, flag saluter; and Brenda Conway, the benediction.

Mrs. Harold Rosson delivered the principal address. Carter Hale sang a solo accompanied at the piano by Teresa Spears.

I. J. Motil, Runnels advisor, presented the members, and Roscoe Newell, principal, handed them their pins and membership cards.

Sophomore Sought For Fire That Killed Three

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A 20-year-old University of Pennsylvania sophomore, charged with setting a fraternity house fire that killed three persons last Sunday, was sought by police today.

Richard J. Noble of Orofino, Idaho, was charged in a warrant Wednesday night with arson, murder and setting fire to personal property.

The blaze broke out at Delta Tau Delta fraternity on the Penn campus, as a Christmas party was ending. More than 90 fraternity brothers and dates fled the three-story brick building as a tissue paper snowman and other Christmas decorations went up in smoke.

Police described Noble as a "social member" of the fraternity—one who is not actually a member but who has social privileges.

The three dead were found on the second floor, where flames

It took North and South a while to uncover their spade fit, and, they had only a seven card trump suit, four spades proved to be the only game contract that offered a chance for success.

West opened the three of diamonds, and the ace was played from dummy. A heart was led and South put up the king, losing to West's ace. The latter cashed the king of diamonds and then passed before proceeding to consider his next step.

The auction had suggested that South held six hearts and four spades—West recalled that his opponent had bid and rebid hearts before mentioning spades. Since he had shown up with two diamonds, he could not, therefore, have more than one club.

No more tricks were available in the side suits, and the remainder of the deal would be centered on declarer's attempt to establish his hearts. The obvious defense then, was to attack South's trump holding.

Inasmuch as neither defender held four trumps, spade leads would be ineffectual. West, therefore, resorted to the unorthodox tactic of giving his opponent a ruff and discard by leading a third round of diamonds. South wanted to ruff hearts, not diamonds, so in order to preserve dummy's spade holding, he was obliged to trump in his own hand.

A heart was ruffed in dummy and trumps were drawn in three pulls. The queen of hearts was cashed, but, when that suit did not divide evenly, South was thus since he was out of trumps. He ended up two tricks short.

The third round of diamonds forced declarer to play for a three-three division in both spades and hearts. Had West followed a passive line by shifting to a trump, South would have had time to trump out two hearts, one with a low spade and one with the king. He can get back to his hand once in the trump suit, and the second time by ruffing a club. When spades divide evenly, he picks the suit up and his hand is high since the hearts are now established.

Money Irregularities Within OAS Faces Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — A second congressional subcommittee will join a growing list of probes into reported financial irregularities within the Organization of American States.

Reports of alleged mismanagement of OAS money in Washington come amid announcements of OAS money irregularities abroad, the firing of a top Washington OAS official for alleged political interference and a deadlock over selection of a new secretary general.

BIZARRE DEAL

Sources cite one bizarre liquor-buying incident prior to this year's Latin American summit meeting and hint of other alleged misdoings.

A report on a special $20,000 audit of OAS financial management—paid for by the United States—is expected in mid-February but U.S. Ambassador Sol M. Linowitz says it's not aimed at the reports of irregularities.

The House Inter-American Affairs subcommittee headed by Rep. Armistead L. Selden Jr., D-Ala., called Linowitz to testify Tuesday on what he knew about the reports. Linowitz said after the closed meeting no specific clues have come to light.

Rep. John J. Rooney, D-N.Y., whose House Appropriations subcommittee approves U.S. funds for international organizations, told a reporter Wednesday that OAS and its administrative arm, the Pan American Union, will get special scrutiny at budget hearings expected in about six to eight weeks.

OVERDRAFTS

The United States supplies 66 per cent of the OAS budget—$11.4 billion in the current fiscal year.

Secretary-General Jose A. Mora, whose term expires next May, told Monday night of these actions:

- The firing of Director Julio

Cesar Banzas of the Pan American Union office in Buenos Aires "after a thorough investigation revealed the misuse of funds contributed by the Argentine government to the National Committee on the Alliance for Progress and which he received as a member of that committee." Mora said OAS funds were not involved.

—Transfer of Jose Salinas, Pan American Union office director in San Jose, Costa Rica, to Washington after numerous overdrafts in accounts. Mora said a probe is under way to determine if any money was misused.

—Instigation of an audit of OAS activities in the Dominican Republic which Mora said were being financed from the unspecified remnants of $37 million contributed by the U.S. Agency for International Development after the Dominican crisis of April, 1965. Sources indicated very small sums were involved.

trative affairs, Luis Raul Betances, was fired from his $19,000-a-year Washington job by Mora earlier this month.

Betances allegedly tried to influence the vote of the Dominican representative in balloting for a new secretary general. The voting is deadlocked and no new ballot is expected before mid-January.

Percy Says Viets Must Sacrifice

SAIGON (AP) — Sen Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., left South Vietnam today after a five-day visit and said the South Vietnamese will have to shoulder more responsibility or they will lose their nation to the Communists.

"They must begin to realize that they must make sacrifices or they are going to lose this nation," said Percy before boarding a U.S. Air Force plane for Vientiane, Laos, the next stop on the senator's world tour.

"Other rich nations such as Japan can help this nation in its nation-building effort."

He added that there can be no better policy for South Vietnam than that put forward by Gen. William C. Westmoreland in a recent speech in the United States—in Percy's words, "day by day to turn over more responsibility to the Vietnamese."

The senator said he had made numerous contacts with "anti-government but at the same time anti-Communist Vietnamese," including several scholars and former government officials.

"I think I have received a balanced picture of our problems here," Percy said.

SCOTCH FUNDS

The liquor incident described by sources involved perhaps 100 or more OAS staff personnel who flew to Punta del Este, Uruguay, for the Latin summit conference last April 12-14.

Each staff member was given money along with his airline ticket to buy three bottles of Scotch whisky at the tax-free sales room in Kennedy International Airport, New York.

The whisky was destined for an OAS reception at the conference, but the reception never was held. At the last minute, sources said, the OAS staff held its own party with the OAS-financed liquor.

Beef Credit Plan Unveiled

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. government has inaugurated a credit sales program to encourage increased exports of U. S. beef breeding cattle to countries trying to expand their own beef production.

BALANCED PICTURE

"This should not be just an American effort," said Percy.

CONVINCED

He was critical of several aspects of life in South Vietnam, including "avoidance of taxation and avoidance of sacrifice" by many people in the cities.

"The difference between the affluence of Saigon and the poverty in the countryside must be broken down," he declared, adding that measures should be taken to stop draft dodging by young Vietnamese.

The senator said he had changed one opinion about the war. He said he had been critical of the U.S. part in the pacification program being placed under the military, but "I am absolutely convinced now that the slow progress before will now go forward faster under military control."

Percy, mentioned as a possible 1968 Republican presidential nominee, said he is not running for the presidency.

"I will announce right now my desire to run for re-election to the Senate," he said.

FOR CANDY THE WHOLE FAMILY WILL ENJOY, CALL FOR PANG-BURN'S 75c TO $11.00 BOX

Under the program, approved foreign buyers will be able to acquire American stock and pay for it over a period of six months to three years. The credit will be provided by the Agriculture Department's Commodity Credit Corporation, which finances the government's multi-billion-dollar farm-aid programs.

In announcing the program, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman said it will be used initially in countries showing strong interest in upgrading stock industries while effectively using U.S. breeds of beef cattle in farm development.

The program would provide a somewhat larger market for American beef cattle producers at a time when there is a possibility that meat production is increasing at a rate that could undermine livestock prices.

"U. S. beef cattle breeds are well suited to livestock improvement programs of many countries," Freeman said. "Foreign importers, through visits in this country and prior purchases, are expressing strong and continuing interest in acquiring additional U.S. breeding cattle."

Most of the exports of these animals in recent years have been to Western Hemisphere countries, with Mexico being the largest buyer.

Better Job Of Keeping Tabs On Sanctuaries Is Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Armed Services subcommittee says allied forces in South Vietnam aren't doing a good enough job of keeping tabs on Communist troop sanctuaries in Cambodia.

"It is the firm view of the subcommittee that adequate search and surveillance measures are not being carried out," said Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., in discussing recommendations made by the subcommittee. Rivers heads the full Armed Services Committee.

Rivers told the House Wednesday the subcommittee also concluded:

—Allied progress in the war is too slow.

—Halts in bombing of the North put the U.S. forces at a disadvantage.

—Military commanders should be allowed to pick primary targets, including anti-aircraft batteries and Soviet-supplied surface-to-air missile sites.

—Haiphong, North Vietnam's principal port, shouldn't be allowed to continue processing Communist war materials. There was no specific word on whether the subcommittee felt the port should be bombed or mined.

The group also called for additional South Vietnamese troops to be trained and equipped.

In other war-related developments:

—Officials at a State Department briefing said this country would have the sympathetic understanding of major world capitals if it gave U.S. forces permission to pursue Communist troops into Cambodia.

They added there's no plan to attack Cambodia but that if incidents occurred near her border during "hot pursuit" actions, such incidents would be disturbing but nevertheless understood by governments friendly to this country.

—Canadian Prime Minister Lester Pearson said he's sure the United States knows Canada would have "grave reservations" if U.S. forces pursued Viet Cong into Cambodia. Canada's position is that this would risk widening the war with other powers getting involved, Pearson told the House of Commons.

—At the White House, President Johnson called in newsmen to interview Air Force Col. Daniel James Jr., of Phoenix, Ariz., who flew 78 combat missions over North Vietnam. Evans said American pilots don't like bombing pauses "because we catch hell when we go back." He said North Vietnamese air defenses are stronger after each pause.

—The State Department announced creation of a medal for American civilians who work for the U.S. government in Vietnam for at least a year.

—Gov. John J. McKeithen said in New Orleans that Robert F. Kennedy of New York, J. William Fulbright of Arkansas and Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota help the North Vietnamese by opposing President Johnson's Vietnam war policy.

Israel Has Peace Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Israel was scheduled to go before the United Nations today with a five-year plan for resettling Arab refugees who have been a major source of friction for nearly two decades.

—Informed sources said it calls for rehabilitation of the refugees and their integration into the economic life of the region. It also proposes that the refugee question get top priority in any Middle East settlement and stresses Israeli insistence on direct talks with the Arab states, the sources said.

Israel has already proposed establishment of a compensation fund to provide land for the refugees, economic integration and compensation for property. When the Security Council adopted its resolution last month setting guidelines for a lasting Middle East settlement, it stressed that one of the prime requirements was a solution to the refugee problem. Possibly 1.5 million Arabs have been displaced by the two Palestine wars since Israel proclaimed its statehood.

Tape Talks Are Popular

NEW YORK (AP) — A five-year-old girl in a bright green dress spoke into the microphone of a tape recorder and told her daddy: "Happy New Year—and don't forget to bring the bike."

A college girl clutched the microphone, closed her eyes and whispered to her boyfriend: "The holidays just won't be the same without you."

A mother burst into tears after telling her son: "I want to wish you a very happy Chanukah, a very Merry Christmas, and a Happy, Happy, New Year."

The three were among hundreds of New Yorkers who have been recording Christmas messages to their sons, fathers, husbands and fiancées stationed overseas.

Since Nov. 20, a steady stream of family members with servicemen abroad have been showing up at Red Cross headquarters here, taping their messages with the help of volunteers and mailing them to loved ones from Vietnam to West Germany.

"The response was very slow to begin with, but it's picked up tremendously this past week because it's getting closer to Christmas," said Catherine Sullivan, head of the Overseas Service League, the Red Cross auxiliary sponsoring the "Voices From Home" project. "As of tonight we will have made about 250 tapes," Miss Sullivan said Wednesday. "By Sunday, we hope that we'll hit 500."

Eye-Filling Raquel Going To Vietnam

Storm Slams New Mexicans

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — New Mexicans braced today against a bitter storm that dumped up to 16 inches of snow, closed a number of schools, left highways treacherous and caused wind damage.

The Weather Bureau said it was the state's most severe storm in several winters. No relief was in sight before Friday. The 16 inches of snow accumulated at Los Alamos Wednesday afternoon. Depths averaged from 10 to 12 inches in a belt from Grants northeastward to Red River in Northwest New Mexico.

Drifts forced schools to close at Questa, Cuba, Wagon Mound and Mora.

Highways were hazardous in many places because of high winds, which reduced visibility, and slick spots. New Mexico was closed between Cuba and Los Alamos. State police discouraged traffic on several other routes, including parts of US 66.

Travel in pickup trucks with campers and vehicles pulling trailers was discouraged on Interstate 25 between Albuquerque and Santa Fe because of crosswinds.

Fresh snow accumulations of four to eight inches were forecast for northern and Eastern New Mexico and mountains in the southwest portion.

Small Troupers Spark Williams' Yule Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Andy Williams' Christmas show on NBC has become a holiday institution by now and Wednesday night's 1967 edition was perhaps the most delightful of the lot.

As usual, the entire Williams tribe was assembled for the hour program—parents, brothers, in-laws, nieces and nephews. And since everybody sings—including Andy's pretty wife, Claudine—the program was able to provide entertainment with a real family feeling.

ANNUAL COMEBACK
The annual comeback of the Williams Brothers singing act was the top attraction of the Christmas show. This season they sparkled in an amusing recreation of one of their old five-minute radio shows, complete with singing commercial.

But the Williams Brothers are no longer the top guest stars of the show. Now it is Andy's children, little Noelle and Christian, who are the principal attractions. And small as they are, they are good troupers, attentive and well-behaved while their father was telling a bedtime story.

There were some elaborate production numbers on ice, and the settings, as usual on a Williams show, were as attractive as the musical portions.

HOLIDAY SPIRIT

The program was in excellent taste, as easy and informal as ever, projecting a happy holiday spirit.

NBC's "Music Hall," earlier in the evening was of special interest because it presented an assortment of younger comedians and an older one, Groucho Marx.

Marx resumed his 1928 role of Captain Jeffrey Spaulding, African adventurer, in the opening number, to demonstrate, he said, that comedy had changed over a period of 40 years. At any rate, Groucho's style—full of bite and wisecracks—was completely different from anything the young comedians had to offer.

Wreck Kills Tot

BURLESON, Tex. (AP) — Norman Goodwill, 18 months, was killed Wednesday in a car-pickup truck collision near here in North Central Texas. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Goodwill of Fort Worth. They were not injured.

Plan To Push British Issue

BRUSSELS (AP) — The five Common Market countries that want Britain in their economic bloc decided today to bring the issue to a head with France at their meeting next Monday and Tuesday, a West German official said today.

Foreign Minister Willy Brandt of West Germany and the foreign ministers of Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg made the decision at a breakfast meeting called by Brandt.

The West German official said the decision whether to start negotiations could go either way at next week's meeting of the Common Market council. But he said the five would insist on a decision.

The source said the five agreed that the decision must be unanimous. They did not question President Charles de Gaulle's right to a veto, he said.

He added that they also agreed the applications of Britain, Ireland, Denmark and Norway should remain a live issue even if the decision goes against negotiations—provided the applications still want to get in.

The officials said that if things reach that point, all concerned will have to consider what to do next.

Movies' New Love Goddess To Spice Hope's Viet Tour

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bob Hope leaves Friday for Vietnam with another Christmas cargo of laughs and lovelies including, this time, the eye-filling, 27-22½-35½ Raquel Welch.

It will be the comedian's fourth Vietnam visit and 17th annual Christmas tour but the first trouping for troops anywhere by the one-time winner of "Miss Photogenic" and "Fairest of the Fair" beauty contests. Did the prospect of deafening wolf whistles and seas of eager faces seem, perhaps, a little dismaying?

"WONDERFUL GUYS"
"No, I've been looked at a lot of times, and that's what I'll be there for. These are pretty wonderful guys."

The girl who has graced hundreds of U.S. and European magazines—but has refused offers of up to $35,000 to pose nude because "I'd just be very embarrassed"—leaves with a pre-sold audience.

Her pin-up pictures—especially one of her standing provocatively in a Stone Age doeskin bikini in "One Million Years B.C."—reportedly adorn many GI barrack walls and lockers. Miss Welch has autographed poster-size photos at the request of troop units who have elected her their mascot. The U.S. and overseas demand became so costly that 20th Century-Fox now answers it with photo postcards.

"BIRD LEGS"
Miss Welch, 26, who has been called the movies' new love goddess, is a Chicago-born product of San Diego-area schooling. In childhood she was nicknamed "Bird Legs" for her skinny build. Then she started rounding out and won such beauty contest titles as "Miss La Jolla," "Miss Contour" and "Maid of California." Of French-Spanish-German-English-Scottish descent, she stands 5-6, weighs 118 pounds and has large, hypnotic, deep-brown eyes. Her luxuriant, chestnut-brown hair falls to her bosom.

Sexy-looking even in voluminous homespun for "Bandolero!," a Western with James Stewart and Dean Martin, Miss Welch reported she'd spent a weekend in bed, "a total ache from head to foot" from immunization shots in preparation for Vietnam. The USO had sent her a list—cholera, yellow fever, typhoid, malaria, etc. She wasn't complaining.

Her manager, Patrick Curtis, 31, to whom she was married last Valentine's Day in Paris, will go along as a production aide. Hope & Co.—Barbara McNair, Phil Crosby, Les Brown's band, etc.—plan 24 two-hour shows in two weeks.

OFF BEATEN TRAIL

Texas Also Had Covered Bridge

By ED SYERS
Covered bridges, I've always associated with snowy New England pikes, early wagons or sleighs, possibly spooky horses, maybe even Ichabod Crane. But Texas? What did you cover them from, in land where man and horse were a part of each other?

Seems I was wrong. The Guadalupe apparently had its covered bridge. So believes San Antonio's Mrs. Virginia Dibreil, whose hobby "is collecting old postcards."

"One," she declares, "shows a railroad tunnel in Texas, which I did not believe for a long time." (Shame on you; OBT tunnel-hunters have found six.)

"Another card shows 'the new bridge near Gonzales over the Guadalupe.' In the foreground is an ordinary flat metal bridge with four men standing in all their importance and with a boy sitting on either side. In the background is a covered bridge!

"Does anyone know about this old covered bridge . . . or others in Texas? My family history touches on Caldwell, Hays and Gonzales counties, and I think that my grandfather Thomas Mooney may have built that bridge over the Guadalupe. He died in 1874."

FOUND FORT

Another San Antonian, Mrs. Anne Fox, volunteers time at that city's excellent Witte Mu-

'What Do You Mean By That?'

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Mrs. Loren Weiss of Sun Prairie was tentatively seated on a Circuit Court jury Monday, though she admitted the appearance of the defendants might have a slight influence upon her.

Being tried on disorderly conduct charges were six protesters involved in a University of Wisconsin antiwar demonstration in October. Some had beards and long hair.

Asked if anything she had read might influence her about the case, Mrs. Weiss said "no." She told the defense attorney, however, that the defendants themselves could be an influence.

"What do you mean by that?" the attorney asked.
"My husband," she replied, "is a barber."

seum. She likes to probe the past from which we drew our present. She is old-fort-hunting.

"Not long ago, reading Odie Faulk's new book on early Texas, I ran across a reference to a Spanish fort built in (the 1700's) . . . '18 leagues southwest of San Antonio on the La Bahia Road, at Cibolo Creek crossing.' No one to whom I wrote, coast or Corpus, had ever heard of it. (Museum people) found where Faulk must have taken it from in (Carlos Castaneda's monumental volumes on Spanish Texas — 'Our Catholic Heritage'). But this didn't help me find exactly where it was. Now an apology!

Up to this time, it had never occurred to me to look in your books . . . finally I dove into them. Your description of Helena (old, rough Chihuahua-Indiana Road interchange near Karnes City) certainly fills the bill in your telling of Alamita, the Spanish fort-town that (long) preceded Helena. Thanks for finding my fort.

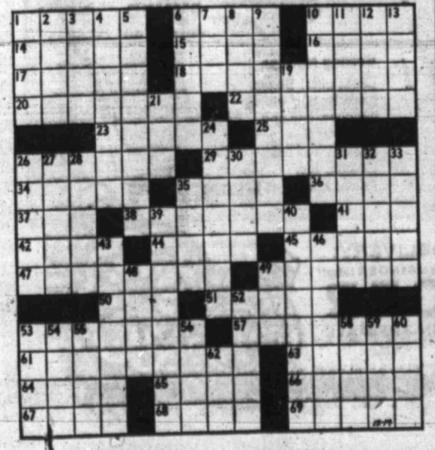

"Was its original name Arroyo del Cibolo? Where did you get your information?" (Note: From Karnes County historians comes the information forwarded you. Don't know about the logical name 'Arroyo del Cibolo,' but those folks — working to restore old ghost Helena — should provide your answer.)

MAIL BOX

Martin County Judge Jim McCoy of Stanton: "You wrote about a 'railroad that never was.' Since I was born at Sonora, the southwest end of the 'railroad,' I would like to know when it was started and by whom." (Note: Most railroad buffs know of Tillman's Lane, from Brady to Sonora. By 1811, the Fort Worth and Rio Grande, a Frisco subsidiary, pushed a cattle line south far as Menard. Frisco's stock agent, E. F. Tillman, saw further tracks would not pay, so he fenced a lane from Sonora to Brady; 100 miles long, 250 feet wide, with holding pastures, wells and windmills, but not a foot of rail. They just drove the cattle up, thousands at a time. For 10 years, into the '20s, 'Tillman's Lane' was a paying, trackless 'railroad.' Big Spring's E. W. Ballard asks if OBT has carried any description of and route to wild, spectacular Capote Falls, west-southwest of Marfa. (Yes, several times. But if you explorers don't have it, I've his detailed description-direction. It is complete, and the trip, rough but rewarding.)

Artificial Heart Developed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government says an artificial heart machine has been developed which may soon be implanted in the chest of a patient threatened with heart failure.

The heart-assisting device is almost ready for human use, researchers said Wednesday, but they didn't specify how soon.

Dr. Lester Goodman of the Public Health service told a news conference the implantation factor marks a big advance. He said the device has been implanted so far only in calves and further development will be carried out.

The government officials said the new machine has several advantages over a heart-assisting device developed by Dr. Michael E. DeBakey of Methodist Hospital in Houston, Tex. But they called DeBakey's machine a breakthrough, adding, "We aren't calling this a breakthrough."

Marshall Turner, a mechanical engineer who built the machine, said another key advantage is that it provides a smooth flow of blood. He said this should eliminate blood clots, the main problem of DeBakey's pulsating machine.

Turner said his machine would be capable of doing all the heart's work but added it wouldn't be used to that extent because clots might form in the unworking heart.

Like DeBakey's, the new ma-

Heart-Assisting Device

This closeup shows the workings of a heart-assisting device which may soon be implanted in the chest of a patient. Blood is pushed through the tube by two wheels revolving on a disc operated by a small electric motor.

The machine in the chest keeps all the blood flow inside the body. Furthermore, Turner continued, implantation cuts the danger of infection because connecting tubes aren't required.

Turner's machine, about the size of a fist, is driven by a small electric motor. It pushes the blood with two rotating wheels which run against a blood-carrying tube. The wheels compress the tube but don't close it.

Turner said a big problem so far has been with the motor. One burned out after being used for 11 days in an experiment with a calf.

The machine would have to work several weeks before it was used with humans, said Goodman, who also is a mechanical engineer, specializing in development of biomedical equipment.

The machine was developed by Turner and Dr. William Pierce of the University of Pennsylvania.

Spurned Lover Sets Self Afire

LONDON (AP) — Giuseppe Coppola died in a London hospital Monday night after setting himself alight because his love was spurned.

Coppola, a 25-year-old Sicilian, drenched himself in gasoline and lit it with a match at an Italian hostel here.

He had tried to kill himself on a previous occasion after a row with a girl by hurling himself under a subway train and lost a leg.

Announcers Plan To Get 'Stoned'

SEATTLE (AP) — Seattle Radio Station KOL announcers Dick Curtis and Bill Munson plan to drink and drink and drink until they're stone drunk while on the air Dec. 29.

A station monitor—strictly sober—will stand by to throw a switch in case the announcers get too carried away. Others will make sure Munson and Curtis get home safely.

A panel of experts from the State Patrol, National Safety Council and other organizations also will be there as part of a safety campaign to show and tell listeners how a person's reflexes are affected by liquor. It is part of KOL's campaign against New Year's drunk driving.

Big Lump Moves

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Yes, Mrs. Manuel Valencia, that lump in your living room couch probably did shift as you suspected.

After a week, Mrs. Valencia and her family grew accustomed to the lump and hardly noticed it at all.

The lump was gone Tuesday. Then, her husband discovered it coiled under the refrigerator, a 7-foot boa constrictor.

Snared with a wire loop by a man from the animal shelter, it was given to a nearby zoo. Zoo director Ted McTolridge said it was probably a snake that escaped in June. But added, "They all look the same."

Seven Vet LCB Employees Fired In Wake Of Probe

AUSTIN (AP) — A Liquor Control Board investigation that came to light after mysterious handbills circulated here and in Dallas ended Wednesday with dismissal of the board's Dallas and Victoria district supervisors and five Dallas inspectors.

The board alleged the seven veteran employees—none with fewer than eight years of service—were guilty of misconduct involving 11 bottles of liquor and a confiscated panel truck.

NAMES
Fired were Dallas Supervisor James E. Dale, a 19-year veteran, including 13 years as supervisor; Victoria Supervisor Lynn S. Burk, Dale's former assistant, a veteran of 14 years; and Inspectors R. L. Valenta, 9 years; W. B. Groce, 12 years; B. E. Rakestraw, 15 years; R. C. Honeycutt, 8 years, and J. B.

Nelms, 19 years. Coke Stevenson Jr., administrator of the liquor regulatory agency, said information regarding the case would be turned over to Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade.

Stevenson said at a news conference attended by the three liquor board members that the investigation had been going on for three months and had no connection with the handbills or a call by the Baptist General Convention of Texas for an investigation of the board.

'RIGGED' BIDS
Groce and Valenta were suspended with pay Nov. 21, the day after handbills were distributed. The circulars, signed by "The Christian Taxpayers, alleged misconduct in the Dallas office and accused Stevenson of "whitewashing irregularities in the LCB."

According to Stevenson, the case involved a panel truck confiscated when agents found it was being used to transport illicit alcoholic beverages. He said a Cleburne man related to Rakestraw bought the truck with a high bid of $78. Stevenson said the bidding was "rigged." Later, he continued, Dale acquired title. After the Dallas staff used the truck for a while, and after it was painted and "fixed up," the vehicle was sold for $200, he said. Stevenson said he did not know who profited from the sale or who purchased the truck.

PAINT PAY
An employee of a painting contractor was given 11 bottles of confiscated liquor to paint the truck, he said. Confiscated liquor may be sold only to licensed dealers in alcoholic beverages, Stevenson declared.

"They all (those fired) had knowledge of the transaction involving the truck, he said. All 11 members of the Dallas LCB staff took polygraph (lie detector) tests. All of those fired except Groce and Valenta acknowledged participating in the alleged wrongdoing after they took polygraph examinations, Stevenson said.

Groce and Valenta were fired, he said, because "of a combination of knowledge of the transaction" and the circulars. He said they were "at odds with" Dale. Stevenson said, however, he still does not know who was responsible for the broadsides.

Pioneer Might Ease The Way For Astronauts

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Pioneer 8 soared through a long looping orbit about the sun today, reporting on conditions in interplanetary space. Its findings might ease the way for moon-bound astronauts.

The 145-pound spacecraft was launched Wednesday from Cape Kennedy as part of a two-in-one shot that concluded the space agency's launch activity for 1967.

Kicked into earth orbit as the Delta booster rocket stabbed into space was a small 40-pound communications payload called TTS, which stands for test and training satellite.

The TTS beams and receives radio signals on the same frequencies that will be used on Apollo man-to-the-moon flights and thus will provide valuable practice for the 18 ground stations in NASA's global Apollo tracking network.

Pioneer 8 zipped into a wide-swinging orbit that ranges from 92 million to 101 million miles from the sun's surface and will take 386 days to complete one circuit.

On its interplanetary journey it is gathering information on the solar wind, cosmic dust, cosmic rays and electric and magnetic fields. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported all detectors were working well.

The information, combined with that from the still-operating Pioneers 6 and 7, should provide physicists with the most comprehensive view yet of conditions in the solar system. Of special interest is radiation spilled into space by sun flares.

Hopefully, the Pioneer series will lead to a means of predicting when especially dangerous radiation storms will occur and permit manned space flights to be scheduled around them.

A Devotional For The Day

When the fullness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son. (Galatians 4:4)
PRAYER: Reveal to us, O God, how to make use of the varied facilities and experiences of our times for the furtherance of Thy kingdom. For Jesus' sake. Amen.
(From the "Upper Room")

More And More Logical

More cities, including one of our neighbors, have given the one per cent sales tax their approval.
It is significant that among the latest wave of approval there were nearly a dozen of small cities in the lower Rio Grande area. This is in a sector which has a high percentage of low income families, particularly those of Mexican-American lineage. This should refute the contention by a handful of professional organization men that the tax is opposed by the lower income groups and that it is feared as a breeder of poverty.
As city after city approves the tax, it becomes more and more logical for the others. Most of our neighboring cities have — or probably will have — it. Lamesa has adopted it; Colorado City and Midland will ballot on it during the month. Odessa called off its election.

There is a good reason for the tax. It helps break out of the narrow construction of a property tax base for fundamental support of a municipality. Both the property tax and the charge for services have about reached a saturation point. Looking ahead to a source of more revenue — and one which will be geared to the expanding economy — the city sales tax appears most logical.
There were gloomy — even dire — predictions of what would happen when Texas adopted the sales tax. None of them came true. On the contrary, Texas has progressed and at the same time has been able to provide better pay for its teachers and public servants as well as expand numerous services. The same can hold true for our own city if voters approve Saturday.

Texas Suburbia Different

Over the United States today, there are now more people in metropolitan-area incorporated suburbs than in the central cities. Nationally, the big central cities have been growing slowly or not at all, or even losing population, while the incorporations on their outskirts have been mushrooming.
This has moved Democratic Party National Chairman John M. Bailey to declare that his party will make the suburbs its major political battleground in 1968 and thereafter. That is partly because the Republicans are strong in the higher-income suburbs, but mostly because the suburbs are now where most of the votes are.
Both national parties should be aware, however, that this pattern does not hold in Texas. Because this state has long had the most liberal municipal annexation law in the country, Texas cities — even the biggest ones — have relatively few incorporated suburbs with relatively low populations.

Take the four largest Texas cities: Fort Worth has 65 per cent of Tarrant County's population; Dallas 70 per cent of Dallas County's; Houston 77 per cent of Harris', and San Antonio 83.5 per cent of Bexar County's population. The central city-to-suburban population ratio is even higher in the middle-sized Texas cities.
Obviously, then, Texas is an outstanding exception to the new national political rule. Its central-cities' vote is still much greater than its suburban vote, and, under the 1963 annexation law that protects central cities' growth areas, that is likely to remain so for the foreseeable future. So, in this particular, the national parties' political strategies cannot be applied in this state.

Billy Graham

My little four-year-old said yesterday, "Mommie, if God made me and everybody, who made God? What do you say to such a question?" M.P.B.
I must say that, although I have heard this question many times, I never heard of it being asked by a four-year-old. But if he is precocious enough to ask it, he might be able to understand that this question grows out of our natural logic of cause and effect. As humans we look around us and say: This house exists, but behind it was a carpenter; this watch exists, but behind it was a watchmaker. This is true on the human level. So when we apply this reasoning to the Universe, we say: The universe exists, but behind it is a Creator—but who made the Creator? Now, right here our humanistic reasoning runs into a dead-end, for God is the Cause behind all things, and he has no beginning or end. In Revelation we read: "I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty." This eternal aspect of God is hard to grasp with our finite reasoning, for we think in terms of beginnings and endings, but God is eternal. He always was, and always will be. He said to the children of Israel in Deuteronomy: "I lift up my hand to heaven, and say, I live forever." All that we see, feel and hear, will end—for they are mere effects of Him who is the Cause. But the Cause, God has lived, and will live, forever.

FOR THAT RAINY DAY!

Hal Boyle Herald's Hal Looks Ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — What will life be like in the year 2000? Conjecturing about our future has become a popular parlor game as wounded mankind limps its way through the final third of the most astonishing century the earth has ever endured.

Sunday drivers, each car owner will be allowed to take his car out of the garage only on every other Sabbath.

Potentially, every male citizen who is in the age-bracket from 18½ years to 26 years is subject to the draft. There are certain exemptions and deferments, but the administration of such regulations is the function of the Selective Service Boards throughout the country.

THERE'S NO doubt there'll be some changes made, and the rate of change may even accelerate as we lose more anchors of the commonplace.
Assuming that human life will still exist at the dawn of the 21st century—and that is quite an assumption—here's one man's prediction of how it will operate.

MUGGING WILL die out as each citizen will be allowed to carry only $5 in change in his pocket. All purchases over that amount will be charged to individual credit accounts controlled by the federal government. Uncle Sam will collect the money from your paycheck each month. There will be no way to duck paying bills.

ANY DEMONSTRATOR who seeks to interfere with the recruitment of personnel by the military services violates a federal criminal statute. No soldier in uniform would be permitted to participate in an "anti-draft" demonstration, and neither would any member of the present draft system between the ages of 18½ years and 26 years be immune from penalties if he seeks to discourage cooperation by other persons subject to the draft.

Transplants of kneecaps will enable professional football players to stay in the game until the age of 50. Forced feeding and growth capsules fed them in youth will produce tackles who weigh a ton each on the hoof and quarterbacks eight feet tall.

Surgeons will still perform operations, but otherwise doctors will have no contact with patients. If you feel you are sick, you can have your ailment checked in a central clinic by a computer. However, to keep medicine from becoming too impersonal, you will be allowed to be diagnosed by the computer of your choice.

ENTIRELY APART from the power of discipline permitted to the military institutions of government, there are criminal provisions which declare that any one, whether or not subject to the draft, may be criminally prosecuted if he "shall knowingly hinder or interfere or attempt to do so in any way, by force or violence or otherwise, with the administration of this (act) or the rules or regulations made pursuant thereto, or who conspires to commit any one or more of such offenses." He can be imprisoned for not more than five years or fined not more than 10,000 dollars or both.

THERE WILL be fewer birds, as half the countryside will be paved. Parking places will become hereditary.
A cup of drugstore coffee will cost 50 cents. So will bubble gum. Nickels and pennies will no longer be minted, and children will regard a dime with the same contempt they now do a penny.

CHILDREN will remain in the home only until their 13th birthday. During their teen years they will be compelled to do forced labor on government prison farms and in prison factories and attend compulsory classes at which they will be taught how to behave like human beings.
All young people will be

To Your Good Health Daily Walk Won't Harm Varicose Veins

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: I am 58 and have varicose veins. I wear supporting hose, which helps. I would also like to take a walk every day, but do not know whether this would benefit or harm me. I enclose 20 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope for your booklet, "How to Deal with Varicose Veins."
— Mr. S. G.

Dear Dr. Molner: My little girl, 5, has had kidney infections. The doctor said little girls should not use bubble-bath in their bath because the "bubble stuff" can cause infection. Why? — J.J.S.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 12½ and 5 feet 7 and weigh 190 pounds. Every time I put food in my mouth my Dad yells about "calories." I have tried about six diets but they don't work. What can I do? — O.W.

Walking — and the muscular activity — promotes circulation; therefore it will benefit rather than harm your varicose veins. The supportive hose is a helpful protection.
You will note, and the booklet will make this clearer to you, that there is a vast difference between walking and merely standing.
While the blood pressure originating in the heart's action is the major force causing the blood to circulate, movement of the muscles also helps to keep the blood circulating by a sort of massage effect. This is one of the several reasons why daily exercise is good for us.
But merely standing still is not exercise in the sense that walking is, and the person with varicose veins should try to avoid standing motionless. If it is necessary to stand up for many hours, as, for one example, standing at a counter in a store, the leg muscles should be kept as active as reasonably possible. Moving just a few steps this way and that is, to some extent, an equivalent of walking. Flexing the muscles, moving the feet, even wiggling the toes means that there is movement in the leg muscles and it helps.

I'm not that you would call an exercise hobby but I do strongly endorse activity. It needn't be particularly strenuous, but an effort to get some daily activity — and walking is excellent — is good for all of us.
Dear Dr. Molner: I am 12½ and 5 feet 7 and weigh 190 pounds. Every time I put food in my mouth my Dad yells about "calories." I have tried about six diets but they don't work. What can I do? — O.W.
Yelling won't do any good — even though it's true that too many calories is what made you so fat. Ask Dad to take you to your doctor; let him prescribe a diet that will be enough to keep you healthy but not add any more fat. If you agree to eat what is on the diet — and nothing else! — I imagine that Dad will agree not to say anything about calories. You have to make up your mind to lose weight and to change your eating habits. Failure with six diets implies you haven't tried very hard with any of them.

Dear Dr. Molner: My little girl, 5, has had kidney infections. The doctor said little girls should not use bubble-bath in their bath because the "bubble stuff" can cause infection. Why? — J.J.S.
I don't think a bubble bath is the guilty factor in urinary infections. It is true, of course, that little girls are readily subject to urinary infections, but the risk is rather that the bath water itself can be contaminated with germs. In such instances, showers are better.
Don't take chances with "kidney trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. Read Dr. Molner's booklet, "Your Kidneys: Facts You Need to Know About Them." Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.
Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim The Building Of A Community

Someone — in fact, a lot of them — had worked hard and done a lot of work here before I saw Big Spring the first time more than a dozen years ago. To the newcomer of that time, it was a bustling city with a lot of people putting their shoulder to the wheel to make it so.
A NEW courthouse had just been opened, a high school was still fresh and new, a mammoth highway project was being put through the center of the city, and Webb AFB had only recently been reopened. With all these accomplishments, there were those talking of new and better things, looking to the future.
Fire protection was expanded soon after, and a police building was put up. A few years later, an airport was built and a resounding vote of confidence was given the future when a "Master Plan" vision was conceived to expand the facilities and services of the city.
SOON, a similar program was designed and developed for the school system. All the while, the junior college was looking ahead and preparing for the future. At the same time, the water district was cutting the shrouds of red tape in order to provide water for all-to-near future and the hope of West Texas.

TO STAND midst these civic workers and watch them hope, plan and build a community has carried with it an air of confidence in the future. The community has been given a continual endorsement of confidence by the people who live in it—by the people who will ultimately pay the bill.
"Let us stand for something," the Rev. Peter Marshall said, "lest we fall for anything."
THE TAXPAYERS of Big Spring have stood for progress and the evidence is all about us. I don't think progress has a stopping place, and I don't think it is cheap.
The Saturday elections can be looked at as another step along that same route which requires the vision to see beyond election day — as so many taxpayers have done on other election days.

David Lawrence Enforcement Of The Draft Law

WASHINGTON — Careful reading of the "declaration of policy" in the Universal Military Training and Service Act will answer many of the questions that are now being asked as to the right of college students to carry on anti-draft demonstrations or to interfere with the recruiting of personnel by companies engaged in national defense work.
Potentially, every male citizen who is in the age-bracket from 18½ years to 26 years is subject to the draft. There are certain exemptions and deferments, but the administration of such regulations is the function of the Selective Service Boards throughout the country.

In the Department of Justice "to coordinate prompt prosecution of offenses against the selective service laws and related statutes." The joint statement issued by Attorney General Clark and Selective Service Director Hershey says:
"THE RESPONSIBILITIES of this unit include prosecution of violations of provisions of the selective service law making it unlawful knowingly to counsel, aid, or abet others to refuse to register or serve, or knowingly to interfere by force or violation or otherwise with the administration of the system. This unit also has responsibility for prosecution of violations of the related statutes outlawing interference with the armed forces or obstruction of recruiting and enlistments."
CHANGES in draft status can be made for reasons related to national security and the maintenance of the defense system. The fundamental question at issue is the right of the selective service system to consider all persons who are subject to the draft as integral members of the military force, with an inactive status analogous to that of "reservists."

General Hershey has argued that the behavior of individuals who are subject to the draft can be a matter for local draft boards to consider. The theory is not that induction in the draft is a punishment, but that it affords the government an opportunity to take under its immediate supervision individuals of draft age who are not helping to achieve and maintain our armed strength "to insure the security of this nation," as proclaimed by Congress.

Art Buchwald Report On The Other Wedding

WASHINGTON — Now that Lynda Bird is married, the next big wedding American has to look forward to is the marriage of Miss Julie Nixon, daughter of the former vice president, to David Eisenhower, grandson of the former President of the United States.

WASHINGTON — Now that Lynda Bird is married, the next big wedding American has to look forward to is the marriage of Miss Julie Nixon, daughter of the former vice president, to David Eisenhower, grandson of the former President of the United States.

"MR. EISENHOWER, how do you feel about the news that your grandson is going to marry Miss Nixon?"
"Well, I'd like to say first — I mean, I was very — that is to say, this is a very important step for two people to take, and I think, well, when you get down to it — it ought to be a good thing — if you look at it from both sides."
"Sir, do you think this will have any effect on former Vice President Nixon's chances of getting the Republican nomination?"
"NOW, LET'S say this first. I have always had the — Dick Nixon was with me for eight years, and I think I know him, but I'm not here to make political judgments — that is to say, one way or the other, particularly at this time, about who is going to be nominated as it stands now; though this is bound to change after the convention."
"Yes, sir. Well, back to the young couple. Did you ever dream that when David and Julie were little children in the White House that someday they would fall in love with each other?"
"I WANT to make myself very clear on this. David is my grandson — as President I had great responsibilities, that is to say, I had to make many decisions. At the time, let's see, when was that?"
"From 1952 to 1960."
"Yes, well at that time, I would have said — though no one knew then. At least it seemed to me that David and Julie, and by the way, I had become very fond of Julie when what's his name was my vice president — well, it really never entered my mind."

"Did David break the news to you himself?"
"THIS IS A very interesting point you raise. David and I are very close — that is to say, we have always had a very high regard — not that I see him every day — since he goes to college and I travel a lot — but this doesn't take anything away from the fact that I'm always interested in everything he does. That is to say, as a grandfather I am, though I don't want to babble the point."
"Then from what you have told us, Mr. Eisenhower, can we say you are delighted with the upcoming nuptials?"
"NOW I'M NOT going to get involved in something that I don't know anything about. I don't have the information that I used to have and I think if you don't have all the facts you should shut up. Marriage is a serious business — I'm not saying marriage can't be fun, but at the same time — I think that you can go about it in different ways — that is to say, you either go all out to win or you don't get in the game; and I think that it is something people tend to forget, which could or could not be a mistake."
"Thank you, Mr. President."

Anger To Cost

NEW DELHI (AP) — Carelessness with the telephone directory is going to be costly in New Delhi.
Telephone officials have decided that people who turn in mutilated directories in exchange for new ones will have to pay instead of receiving the new one free.
The reason is that the telephone company sells the old directories to people who paste the pages into small paper bags. They refuse to buy mutilated directories.

Humphrey Says Johnson Has Hit Campaign Trail

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says President Johnson, who hasn't announced he'll seek another term, already "has sort of hit the sawdust trail" in a reelection campaign.

Humphrey, talking Wednesday with newsmen in Miami Beach, Fla., was referring to the President's speech to the AFL-CIO convention there the night before. Johnson, called congressional Republican leaders "wooden soldiers" whose "old Republican buggy can only go one way, and that's backwards—downhill."

On Capitol Hill, Republicans responded to the speech in predictably partisan fashion while Democrats were less predictable. Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield rose to the GOP's defense.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford commented: "The Great Society of Lyndon Johnson has become a runaway locomotive with a wild-eyed engineer at the throttle."

Ford and other GOP leaders demanded equal air time from the three television networks which broadcast Johnson's speech. The CBS network offered a half hour at 7 p.m. Friday, but there was no immediate word from NBC or ABC.

Johnson sharply criticized Republicans in Congress for opposing his domestic program but Mansfield commented: "I must say in all candor many laws wouldn't have passed this year and in past years without Republican help. So if there is any blame, I think you can spread it impartially."

"There are nay-sayers and yea-sayers in both parties," Mansfield said.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said, "I don't see how you can throw a rock at a whole party. Bills got out of committee all right... They got many Republican votes."

In other political developments:

Oregon Gov. Tom McCall, who backs Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the presidency, predicted in Salem, Ore., the New Yorker will eventually emerge as a candidate and win the GOP nomination.

McCall said he thinks Rockefeller might become a candidate in June—after the primary elections. Rockefeller has maintained he isn't and won't become a candidate.

—Rhode Island Gov. John H.

Chafee, chairman of the Republican Governors Association, winding up a visit to South Vietnam, told newsmen who asked if he thought the allies were winning the war: "I don't think in a few days anyone can come to that kind of a conclusion." He praised the fighting men and said "certainly the effort is working in some areas."

—Rep. William R. Anderson, D-Tenn., meanwhile criticized Percy for making an unscheduled helicopter landing at Dak Son Tuesday. Percy and his party ducked for cover when the Viet Cong launched a mortar attack.

"Did he want to take pictures?" Anderson asked in a House speech. "Or was it a headline gambit by an aspirant for higher office?"

Percy is sometimes discussed as a possible GOP presidential prospect.

Nato Makes Plans To Promote Peace

BRUSSELS (AP) — With dangerous tensions threatening their alliance from within, the foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization met again today to give NATO the new task of promoting peace between Western Europe and the Soviet bloc.

In Greece, King Constantine's unsuccessful attempt to overthrow the military dictatorship and his own ouster threatened NATO's southeastern flank with turmoil.

French President Charles de Gaulle, meanwhile, held firm to his determination to keep Britain, Denmark and Norway—NATO members all—out of the European Common Market, and British Foreign Secretary George Brown warned that NATO's future depends largely on the outcome of the British application to join the six-nation trading bloc.

It was partly to counter such threats that the foreign ministers, bringing their annual winter meeting to a close, resolved to give the alliance a new role which they hoped would mean a new lease on life.

The foreign ministers of the 15 nations planned a redefinition of NATO's purposes, in addition to the original mission—to deter any Communist aggressor—the alliance now will hunt for agreed solutions of Europe's big problems, beginning with the division of Germany and looking toward an East-West security system.

Romney Won't Run As Veep

BONN, Germany (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said today he would refuse the vice presidential nomination if it were offered him.

"No, no," Romney told newsmen in the West German capital's small and almost deserted railway station. "The answer to the question is no."

Grounded by fog in his round-the-world fact-finding tour, Romney spent much of Wednesday at London Airport, canceled a visit to West Berlin and arrived in Bonn by train from Amsterdam after midnight.

Touching on the idea of neutralizing Vietnam, which he mentioned in Paris last week, Romney said: "It is one of the alternatives I am exploring. It is something I am going to study as I go along. I am interested in any suggestions any of these people have as to a practical solution to the Vietnam problem."

Meetings were arranged for the governor today with members of West Germany's socialist-conservative coalition Cabinet and several members of the parliament.

He pulled off the left boot—and out poured green paint.

And as he turned around his back displayed in black letters an uncompromising, obscene comment about the Army.

Deputy marshals took him to the federal courthouse where paint remover cleaned him up. He then went before a U.S. Commissioner who set a hearing on a charge of willful injury of less than $100 to government property.

Cooper, Brownwood Favored Saturday

On four gridirons so close each can almost hear the tumult and shouting of the others, the Texas schoolboy football race finishes the last mile this week-end.

Abilene Cooper, Brownwood, Plano and Clifton will be the favorites for the championships. The weekend starts Friday night with Clifton and Tidehaven clashing at San Marcos for the Class A title. Although Tidehaven is undefeated and untied and Clifton has dropped a game, the southern team is the underdog.

This despite a great runner in Mike Jessup and sensational punting by Gary White. But Clifton has a rugged ground game and iron defense.

Saturday afternoon at Fort Worth, before more than 20,000 fans, Abilene Cooper, being compared to the great teams of schoolboy history, goes after its first state championship, in Class AAAA.

Facing Cooper and its mighty Jack Mildren will be Austin Reagan, a school that set some sort of record by reaching the finals in just three years of existence.

Reagan, paced by 197-pound Don Early who has romped to 1,097 yards and 90 points, finds Cooper the favorite by about three touchdowns—the longest odds on a championship game in years.

But there are some who think if Reagan can avoid getting off on the wrong foot, its ball control tactics might bring a tossup game.

Both teams are undefeated and untied and each has scored more than 400 points in 13 games.

At the same time that Cooper and Reagan are setting things at Fort Worth, Brownwood—seeking to make its coach the all-time winner in Texas—will be battling unbeaten, untied El Campo at Austin before an expected 12,000 fans.

Gordon Wood already has won four state championships. If his Brownwood team comes through with the Class AAA crown Saturday, Wood will become the winningest coach in championships in schoolboy football history.

His team features the quarterbacking of Si Southall, brother of Baylor's great passer Terry Southall, and the running of David Wallace, who has roamed for 1,006 yards—more than five yards per carry—will be favored to come through.

El Campo, with the running of Billy Joe Polasek as its main spring, is regarded as a rugged challenger.

The big show winds up Saturday night at Waco where Plano, seeking its second Class AA title in three years, will tangle with San Antonio Randolph, a newcomer to the finals.

Randolph is unbeaten but isn't believed to have played as strong a schedule as embattled, veteran Plano, paced by John Griggs, who has run for 1,444 yards and scored 20 touchdowns.

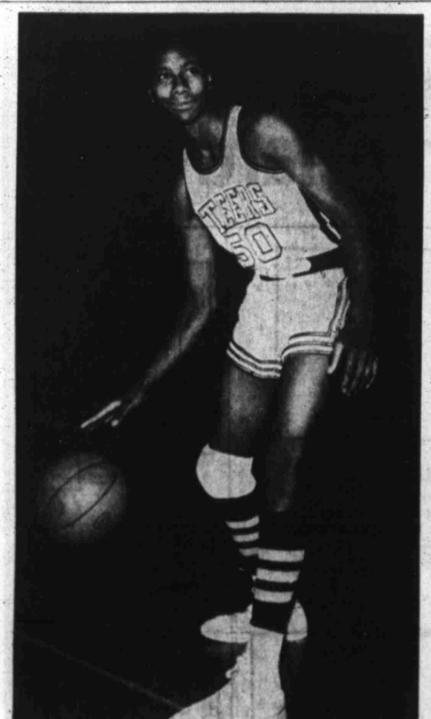

Six out of eight last week. Here's the last go-round:

Abilene Cooper-Austin Reagan—A lusty vote for Cooper.

Brownwood-El Campo—could be close but Brownwood should win it.

Plano-Randolph—A mild vote for Plano.

Tidehaven-Clifton—A shame for the division not to have an unbeaten champion but that's what will happen when Clifton wins.

Playing More Often

Cleveland Gossett, 6-9 senior, has seen an increasing amount of action in recent basketball game involving the Big Spring Steers. He'll be available when the Longhorns host Odessa Ector at 8 o'clock Friday night.

Ex-Steer Brings Ector To Town

It will be a homecoming of sorts when Gordon (Moe) Madison brings his Odessa Ector basketball team to town Friday to oppose the Big Spring Steers in an 8 o'clock basketball game at Steer Gym.

Madison was reared in Big Spring and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Madison of 301 Lorilla. He was a letterman football player and participated in other sports.

Madison has come up with a likely district winner in 2-AAA. The Eagles have won eight of their nine starts, despite the loss of a scoring ace, 5-11 Johnny Lindford, who got married recently.

The Flock's only loss was to Odessa Permian and Ector later avenged that defeat.

Probable starters for Ector here Friday include 6-5 Harold Tacker, 6-3 Lawrence Henry, 6-1 Troy Ellis, 5-5 Robert Hendrix and 5-11 Robert Smith. Hendrix is the only junior in the group—the rest are seniors.

The Ector team won the Lone Wolf tournament at Colorado City last weekend, beating Coleman in the finals, 93-58.

Ballou Help In Bowl Win

ROSWELL, N. M. — Big Spring youth Wesley Ballou whose parents reside at 2501 Carol, Big Spring, Tex., has been cited by Coach Marshall Brown in the NMMI Bronco's 20-13 win over the Cisco Junior College Wranglers in the second annual Wool Bowl played at Roswell's Municipal Stadium last Saturday.

Ballou, a 6-2 224 pound tackle, is a member of the Bronco squad which garnered an invitation to the Wool Bowl through the team's 7-2-1 season record.

The slow starting Broncos found themselves on the short end of a 13-0 score after eight minutes of play. The NMMI 11 were not to be denied, however. With surprising maturity and consistent clutch play and their outstanding individual effort, the Broncos fought back to a 13-13 tie at halftime. In the final stanza, Broncho All-American Dan Houston scored the decisive 78-yard run from scrimmage to put the Broncos ahead to stay.

Wes Ballou, who has been a valued member of the Broncho squad throughout the season, was present at the final gun for the award of the large golden trophy presented to the winner of this second playing of an annual classic.

During halftime ceremonies, Miss Marcea Nichol was crowned Miss Wool of New Mexico by the national Miss Wool Miss Sherry Briggs.

Bobby Maxwell Is Hired As Pro At Abilene CC

Bobby Maxwell, who once represented Big Spring High School and H.C.J.C. in golf, has been named head golf pro at the Abilene Country Club.

He succeeds Morgan Hampton, who resigned recently.

Maxwell, brother to touring linkster Billy Maxwell and W. O. (Junior) Maxwell of Big Spring, has been serving as first assistant at the Colonial Golf Club in Fort Worth.

BOB MAXWELL

Charles Coody will henceforth represent the Abilene Country Club on the golf tour, it has also been announced. He will spend approximately six months a year at the club, however.

Maxwell will be in complete charge of the golf program at Abilene. He will be permitted to give a full-time assistant sometime in 1968.

Bobby graduated from Big Spring High School in 1947 and at one time served as an assistant pro at the Middle Bay Country Club in Oceanside, Long Island, N.Y.

Still later, he worked in a summer program as a pro at the Century-Country Club in White Plains, N.Y., and was an assistant at the San Angelo Country Club and the Brookhaven Country Club in Dallas.

Bobby was twice a crowned champion of the Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament—in 1952 and '53.

Ronnie Hirt Unanimous Choice On All-Stars

Ronnie Hirt, Garden City quarterback, was the only unanimous choice on the All-District 3 eight-man football squad, chosen Wednesday night during a meeting of coaches held at Furr's Cafeteria in Big Spring.

Offensive and defensive platoons were named. Four Garden City boys, along with two Sands players and one each from Sterling City, Flower Grove and Borden County were named to the nine-man offensive unit.

On the ten-man defensive squad, four Sands boys were selected, along with three from Garden City, two from Sterling City and one from Flower Grove.

Esau Vargas, Sterling City; James Dubose, Garden City; Hirt; and Jim Fryar, Sands, made both teams.

Vargas plays halfback on offense and linebacker on defense. Hirt is a safety on defense. Dubose is a guard, both on offense and defense, as is Fryar.

Chosen to represent the district in the eight-man game at the annual Texas Six-Eight Man Coaches School were Esau Vargas of Sterling City, who led the voting with 23 points; Ronnie Hirt of Garden City, 21 points; Larry Newcomer, Sands, 14 points; and John Wyckoff, Garden City, also 14 points.

Selected as alternates were Gary Foster, Sterling City; Jay Smith, Borden County; Kenny Gillespie, Sands; and Neil McMorries, Flower Grove.

Wolves Topple Ballinger 5

COLORADO CITY—Colorado City rallied to topple Ballinger, 58-56, here Tuesday night.

A 20-point surge paid off for the Wolves in the final eight minutes. Ballinger could count only eight in that stretch.

Robert Bender led Colorado City with 18 points. Billy Hale counted 12 for the losers.

Rebels Batter Crane, 78-64

CRANE — Midland Lee smashed Crane, 78-64, in a basketball exhibition here Tuesday night.

Tommy Jones of Crane led all scorers with 21 points. The win was Lee's 12th in 14 starts. Crane stands at 4-5.

Andrews Cools Off Bengals

ANDREWS — Andrews cooled off Snyder in a basketball exhibition here Tuesday night, 86-71.

Mickey Allmond led Snyder with 16 points while Don January followed with 14.

Willis Helps ACC

ABILENE—Henry Willis, formerly of H.C.J.C., scored 11 points and grabbed off four rebounds as Abilene Christian College belted Hardin-Simmons, 72-68, in the H-SU gym here Tuesday night.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

If he never scored a point, senior Danny Clendenin — all six feet of him — would be worth his weight in pure platinum to the Big Spring High School basketball team.

Ned Underwood, the Snyder coach, watched Clendenin and his teammates take apart Brownfield in the first round of the Canyon Reef tournament at Snyder last week and said Danny was as good as he ever saw in high school at slipping in front of an opponent without committing a foul.

Clendenin has great mobility laterally and can shift gears like a high-priced motor buggy going forwards and backwards. He quarterbacks the Steer team. Without him, Big Spring might have trouble winning half its games.

Danny doesn't have a deft scoring touch, though it is adequate, and he probably pops the cotton more consistently while off balance than any player the school has had in years.

In baseball, he'd probably be identified as a bad-ball hitter. He's taken some impossible shots and rung the bell just when it appeared the opposition had him boxed in.

Several college coaches have eyes on him. One of those is Buddy Travis of H.C.J.C., who would dearly love to fit Danny into his play patterns next season.

Steer coach Kirby Pugh shoulders the blame for the defeat the Steers suffered at the hands of Crane in the Snyder tournament last weekend.

He says he made the mistake of letting his boys stay to see Crane in their first round game with Phillips and the Longhorns left the gym convinced they could handle the Class AA club without much trouble.

The replacement Steers fell behind early and realized too late they had a scrap on their hands. They moved to within four points of a tie late in the game but Crane pulled away again.

The loss could be a blessing in disguise in that the local athletes realize they can't take any foe for granted.

Amarillo College is tougher in junior college basketball circles than was anticipated and could make a run at the Western Conference championship. The door to the pennant room appears to be wide open at this time.

Amarillo recently knocked off Dodge City, Kan., one of the better teams in the Midwest, and Cameron, Okla.

Coach C. W. (Red) Myers is building his team around 6-3 Lynn Simmons (once committed to attend H.C.J.C., who missed about half of last season; 6-6 Bill Jordan; and 6-8 Charley Welles).

Carl Stokes, newly elected mayor of Cleveland, is the barrister who last summer convinced four Browns to walk out of camp during a salary dispute.

Leroy Kelly, who returned to the fold and proceeded to become the leading ball carrier in the NFL, was one of those influenced by Stokes.

Two of the players were traded and the fourth was cut. Kelly is playing out his option.

Four of the finest collegiate tacklers in the land probably will be playing against each other in the Liberty Bowl game at Memphis.

The University of Georgia has two of the best defensive tacklers anywhere in Bill Stanfill (one of the stars in last year's Cotton Bowl game) and Jiggy Smaha.

Georgia's Liberty Bowl foe, North Carolina State, boasts two stellar performers in Dennis Byrd and Trent Holland. Byrd made several All-America teams but there are those who will tell you that Holland is better.

Texas Tech has an Alabama-type schedule that could put it in contention for a bowl date next season.

The Raiders play Cincinnati, Colorado State and Mississippi State in non-conference games and, barring a complete collapse, should win those handily.

Dromo Has Problems

By The Associated Press

Shed a tear for John Dromo, who succeeded Peck Hickman as basketball coach of the nationally high ranked University of Louisville Cardinals.

"If we win they will say I did it with Hickman's players, such as Westley Unseld and Butch Beard," Dromo said before the season opened. "If we don't win, then I've loused up some great material."

The Cardinals, fifth-ranked in this week's Associated Press poll, suffered their second straight upset on the road Wednesday night. They took a 63-47 drubbing from the Dayton Flyers, who had been upset twice themselves last week and fell out of the AP Top Ten.

"Dayton played as if they were going for the NCAA championship in this game," Dromo said after Don May had paced the Flyers to their decisive victory with 25 points and 20 rebounds.

Don Donohoe, Dayton coach who led the Flyers to the NCAA championship final against UCLA last March, declared, "It was by far and away our best effort and a very welcomed comeback." He explained a 1-3 zone defense "stopped Louisville from moving the ball into Unseld and forced the outside men to take shots."

As a result, Louisville made only 19 of 56 field goal attempts and Jim Gottschall, Dayton soph, held Beard to just six points, his career low. Hooper made five steals in the second half to help keep the Cardinals off balance.

Unseld kept Louisville in contention until midway of the second half with 22 points and 15 rebounds.

Eastern Kentucky, which upset Dayton 76-75 last Friday, came through with another home court surprise. The Colonels erased a 14-point deficit to beat Marshall 76-73 on four free throws by Bobby Washington in the last 40 seconds. Garfield Smith was a major factor in the Colonels' triumph with 22 points and a record 33 rebounds.

Second-ranked Houston enjoyed an 86-61 romp over George Washington in the first round of Bluebonnet Classic at Houston. Elvin Hayes, the Big E, paced Houston with 40 points. Montana State beat Mississippi State 81-73 in the other first-round game and meets Houston in the Bluebonnet final tonight.

In other games involving teams in the AP Top Ten, sixth-ranked Boston College routed Fairleigh at home 96-78 and 10th-ranked Princeton made it five in a row by whipping Navy at Annapolis 76-59. Steve Adelman led BC with 27 points, Chris Thomforde paced Princeton with 19 points, including 8-for-9 from the foul line.

Unitas Named Most Valuable In Pro Loop

NEW YORK (AP) — John Unitas, the veteran quarterback who has led the Baltimore Colts through 13 games without defeat, has been voted the Most Valuable Player in the National Football League by a landslide vote of an Associated Press panel.

Only four players were mentioned in the balloting by a committee of sports writers and sportscasters, three from each league city. One panel member did not vote in the MVP competition.

Unitas, completing his 12th season in a rags-to-riches pro career, received 40 votes. Dave "Deacon" Jones, defensive end of the Los Angeles Rams, drew three and running backs Leroy Kelly of Cleveland and Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears each got two.

Although Unitas wasn't even mentioned last year when Bart Starr of Green Bay was voted the MVP and didn't even get a vote on the 1966 All-Star team, the 34-year-old recaptured his old magic this season.

Unitas' career was in danger last season when a damaged right shoulder threatened to put him on the sidelines permanently. Benched at one stage of the '66 campaign, he finished in an agony of pain and interceptions.

In training camp last summer, Unitas bled his arm and cut down to a limited number of practice throws once a day. It worked so well that he probably will have thrown more passes than ever by the time Sunday's game with the Los Angeles Rams is over. Unitas' high was 420 passes in 1961. He already has thrown 405.

During the season Unitas has added to his own NFL records for touchdown passes (251) and yards gained passing (32,815 yards or about 19 miles), and also has passed Y. A. Title for league records with most completions (2,242) and most passes attempted (4,066).

San Angelo Fives Will Play Here

Junior high basketball teams confine their activities to local courts this evening.

The Brahmas tangle with Edson Junior High of San Angelo while the Runnels eighth graders will oppose representatives from that same school.

The Toros will be at home to San Angelo Lee while Goliad's eighth graders will square away with Lee's eighth graders.

Davenport Is Top Fielder

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jim Davenport of the San Francisco Giants fielded more plays without an error last season than any other National League player.

The league's official 1967 records show Davenport took 137 fielding chances as a third baseman and 35 others at second — all without a flaw.

A total of 60 players, including 37 pitchers, had 1,000 fielding records last season, but none of them were regulars in any team's line-up. The best fielders among players who appeared in more than 100 games were Wes Parker, Woody Woodward, Cleve Boyer, Bobby Wine, Tony Gonzalez and Tim McCarver.

Parker, the Los Angeles Dodgers' first baseman had an average of .996 after handling 985 chances in 112 games. Woodward handled 620 chances in 120 games as second baseman for the Atlanta Braves.

Cleve Boyer took care of third base in 150 games for the Braves and had a .970 average after taking 471 plays, while Wine posted a .980 average as a shortstop for the Philadelphia Phils. He appeared in 134 games and handled 603 chances.

Gonzalez turned out to be the best fielding centerfielder after taking 272 chances in 143 games for the Phils. Meanwhile, McCarver handled 889 plays as catcher for the world champion St. Louis Cardinals and ran up a .997 average in 130 games.

Milt Pappas and Ron Herbel were the best fielders among the pitchers. Pappas, who posted a 16-13 record for the Cincinnati Reds, handled 49 chances in 34 games without an error. Herbel made no errors in handling 48 chances in 42 games for the Giants. His won-lost record was 4-5.

Gonzalez had led the league's outfielders in 1962 and 1964, while both Parker and McCarver had the best averages for their positions in 1965.

TRYOUTS NEXT WEEK

Little Theatre Plans For Its First Musical

Tryouts for "The Fantasticks," the first musical drama ever planned in the 12 year history of the Little Theatre of Big Spring, will be held next week, according to Sharon Ryan, executive director.

The play will be staged in late January or early February, she said, but those taking parts next week will be given scripts to study during the holidays.

Readings will be held Monday and Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the parish hall of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Miss Ryan said. Those desiring parts are urged to attend both nights.

The popular play has six speaking parts for men (four of them also singing roles), and one speaking part for a woman.

OUR THANKS

We would like to express our appreciation to those who have been so concerned during the long illness of Janice and to thank each of you for the many cards, flowers, food and other expressions of love shown us at this time.

Mrs. Ruby Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Simpson.

There is also a non-speaking woman's role. Also needed is a pianist, a string bassist, and a drummer.

Miss Ryan plans to make preliminary production plans soon after the cast has been named. Meanwhile, the theatre organization has staged two one-act plays during the holiday season.

"Sam Geebey's Christmas Angel" was performed last week for the 1946 Hyperion Club, with a cast of Mary Echols, Jeni Shaffer, Dick Shaver and Don Kiebach. Wanda Grabau and Susan Wilkins helped with the production.

"Unto Bethlehem," a religious drama, will be staged Sunday at two churches, Miss Ryan said, including a 10:15 a.m. presentation at St. Mary's Episcopal Church and a 7:30 p.m. performance at Wesley Methodist Church.

Cast members include: Carl Van Vleet, Randy Morgan, Fred Bunch, Mike Pope, Sharon Story, Shirley Pope and Barbara Todd. Dennis Brewer will handle makeup, and Sharon Pope is working up the costumes.

Arrangements are being discussed to stage another performance at Coahoma.

Steer Band Honors Slated

Members of the Big Spring Senior High School Steer Band will be guests of honor tonight at an appreciation banquet sponsored by the Hi-Noon Optimist Club.

The program starts at 7:30 p.m. at the Cosden Country Club, with Jim Baum serving as master of ceremonies. The Rev. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, will give the invocation.

The John Phillips Sousa award, a national band award sponsored by the Instrumentalist magazine, will be presented at the banquet to one of four finalists: Dwight Fortson, Helen Miller, Glenn Matlock and Gordon Marchant.

Finalists for the 10 best marchers are David Bentley, Rob Chapman, Dee Elrod, Randy Morgan, Tricia Bogard, Wesley Cook, Gordon Marchant, Margaret Cooper, Raye Nell Dyer, Dwight Fortson, Kent Fish, Lisa Hinojos, Tommy Polk and Gwen Peer.

Gaylord Crenshaw and Gordon Marchant are the nominees for best marching spirit. Best marchers from both junior high schools have already been selected and will attend tonight's banquet. Cynthia Stevens will represent Goliad and Wayne Nugent, Rannels.

Arrangements are being discussed to stage another performance at Coahoma.

Deserters Want To Tour Finland

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Four American sailors who deserted the U.S. aircraft carrier Intrepid in Japan and went to the Soviet Union want to visit Finland for "a while," an official of a Finnish peace committee with connections in Russia said today.

Mirjam Vire-Tuominen, the organization's secretary-general said it had received a message from a sister group in the Soviet Union saying the sailors want to come to Finland.

"Our committee is also willing to invite them here for talks and a series of speeches," she said. "We have already asked the Finnish foreign minister about the possibility of their obtaining visas to come here, but so far we have had no reply."

The Finnish Embassy in Moscow said it had no contact with the sailors and did not know where they are now. They left their hotel last weekend after condemning the United States role in Vietnam on Soviet television. Soviet spokesmen refused to comment on their whereabouts.

A second group in Helsinki, the Finnish Freedom Fighters, claimed it had information that the four were still in the Soviet Union, Finland's neighbor to the east.

The four deserters are Richard D. Bailey, 19, Jacksonville, Fla., John Michael Barilla, 20, Catonsville, Md., Craig W. Anderson, 20, San Jose, Calif., and Michael A. Lindner, 19, Mt. Pocono, Pa.

Accident Causes Fatality

Police check details at the intersection of NW Fourth and Gregg Tuesday afternoon where car driven by S. A. Gomez (left) collided with an automobile which the driver abandoned immediately following the accident.

dent. Mrs. Frances Gomez, passenger in the car driven by her husband, was seriously injured and died at the Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital Tuesday at 9:45 p.m.

Warrant For Motorist Linked To Death Issued

A warrant for failing to stop and render assistance has been issued for the driver of the abandoned car involved in the accident Tuesday afternoon that resulted in the death of Mrs.

Frances Gomez, 81, of 400 NW 9th. Police said the abandoned car bears a dealer license plates which had been issued to M. B. Pineda, 602 NW 7th.

The accident occurred at 4:10 p.m. Tuesday at the intersection of Northwest Fourth and Gregg. S. A. Gomez, driver of the car in which his wife was riding, was traveling north on Gregg when it collided with the second car which was making a left hand turn from Gregg into Northwest Fourth.

A man's attorney in Lubbock contacted the Big Spring police department Thursday morning. The attorney stated he and the man would be in Big Spring as soon as the weather permitted them to travel safely.

Funeral services for Mrs. Gomez were held at 3 p.m. today at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, with the Rev. James Delaney, pastor, officiating. Burial was in the Big Spring City Cemetery, with Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home in charge.

FIVE MILLION Plans To Aid Latins Mapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recommendations for helping the nation's five million Mexican-Americans are expected to be submitted to President Johnson next month.

Vicente T. Ximines, chairman of the Inter-Agency Committee on Mexican-American Affairs, met Tuesday and Wednesday to complete the agency's report with six leaders of a recent hearing in El Paso, Tex. The report is the outgrowth of testimony taken from Mexican-Americans in October at El Paso.

RECRUIT PLANS — Many of the recommendations, Ximines said, could be implemented by cabinet officers without costing money or requiring legislation. Some already are being implemented, he said.

Several cities with large Mexican-American populations were included in the model cities grants. A Mexican-American was named recently to a top level Civil Service administrative post to work on problems in that field.

The Agriculture, Health Education and Welfare, and Post Office departments all have started programs to recruit Mexican-American employees, Ximines said.

ed programs to recruit Mexican-American employees, Ximines said.

He told a news conference Wednesday several themes came through the El Paso hearings.

55,000 COMMUTERS — They included needs for bilingual education, Civil Service procedures to assist Spanish speaking persons to obtain government jobs, more higher education opportunities for Mexican-Americans and correction of the problem of Mexican citizens crossing the American border daily to work and then return.

Alberto Pineda of San Jose, Calif., president of the Community Service Organization, said a count in January, 1966, showed 55,000 daily commuters cross the U.S. border into the Southwest to work in one day. He said January was not a peak season for agriculture work, in which most of the commuters are employed.

When asked why the Labor Department had no exact statistics on the number of commuter-workers in the Southwest, Pineda said, "I think they are afraid to make a count in peak seasons."

Teachers To Nose Out Glue Sniffers

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Teachers in the Pinellas County schools are being taught to nose out glue sniffers and users of psychedelic drugs.

School Supt. Thomas B. Southard said the narcotics orientation program would begin at the fifth grade and run through teachers of high school pupils. Southard said the program would "help teachers recognize the symptoms and behavioral characteristics" of students under the influence of glue and drugs.

Big Springer Bucks Wildcatting Odds

No one needs to tell Ray A. Albaugh what are the odds in oil well wildcatting.

He's been punching holes for more than three decades in this part of the Permian Basin, and a few in Pennsylvania, too, looking for oil. In the process, he has at least five, and probably six, discoveries to his credit.

In the vicinity of what promises to be his latest discovery in southwestern Mitchell County, he's confident that other strikes will follow. In fact, he reportedly has a substantial wager that three tests now being drilled as farmouts will all make producers. The odds against one wildcat is at least 5-1, thus the odds against three hitting are mighty long. But the veteran Big Spring independent operator-wildcatter thinks he has a good bet.

Each of the farmouts carries with it a commitment of consecutive wells up to 19 in order to take advantage of discovery allowable.

THREE TESTS The three active tests on farmouts from Albaugh on a large block he has on the vast Ellwood Ranch — said to be in excess of 40,000 acres — are:

Texas Interstate Petroleum No. 1-13 Ellwood, in the southwest quarter of section 13-16, SPRR, projected to 6,000 feet to test the Strawn. It is now drilling at 3,860 in lime.

Texas Interstate No. 1-33 Ellwood, 660 from the northeast and 1,960 from the southwest lines of section 33-16, SPRR, seeking the lower Wolfcamp at 6,000. It is now at 740 to set the surface string.

Shaheen & Sons, No. 1 McDaniel, in the northwest quarter of section 21-17, SPRR, projected to the Mississippian at 8,000. This is a south offset to Ray Albaugh No. 1 McDaniel, which Albaugh has awaiting potential test as a Mississippian discovery at 7,840 feet. Shaheen No. 1 McDaniel was at 3,831 feet in lime Thursday. These two are about three miles southwest of an upper Wolfcamp discovery, Ray Albaugh No. 1-18 Ellwood, 660 from the north and east lines of section 18-17, SPRR, finalized at 4,400 feet.

SHALLOW DISCOVERY In the vicinity of Texas Interstate No. 1-33 Ellwood, Fortune Drilling Co. No. 1-39 Ellwood was completed in October as a shallow discovery in the Yates. On a 24-hour pumping potential, this well rated 18 barrels of oil and no water at a total depth of only 498 feet. Pay was topped at 458 feet.

There is considerable spread between the three tests now drilling. From the Shaheen No. 1 McDaniel, it is 10 miles east to the Texas Interstate No. 1-33 Ellwood. From this test to the Texas Interstate No. 1-13 Ellwood is another four miles. The three ventures lie almost in a straight east-west line.

OTHER DISCOVERIES Although discovered the Welch pool in northwestern Dawson County in 1935, the Ackery-Dean pool in Dawson - Borden - Martin counties in 1950, the Albaugh Fosseiman pool (now depleted) in southwestern Mitchell in 1964, and the Albaugh-Yates pool (later merged with the Howard - Glasscock field) in 1957. He is responsible for the Yates discovery on his block, and the Mississippian discovery is pending.

He has a particular interest in the current block because several major oil companies have done extensive geophysical work and have prospected in that area without coming up with a producer. Albaugh is confident that this is going to change.

Nat Shicks Will Be Honored At Anniversary Open House

When Nat and Hollie Shick observed their Golden Wedding anniversary here 10 years ago, they announced an open house from 2 p.m. until their friends stopped coming.

They are not going to make that mistake a second time—the hours, that is. When they hold open house at their home at 510 Gregg Sunday, it will be from 2 to 6 p.m. That open end invitation on their 50th resulted in the last guest showing up at 2:30 a.m. the next morning.

"That like to have killed us," confided Mrs. Shick.

There's only one other stipulation about Sunday's party — no gifts. Otherwise, the mat is out and they hope all their friends will drop by for a chat.

Actually, the open house will precede the anniversary date by a couple of days, for they were married Dec. 19, 1907. It was one of the social highlights of the year and took place half a block from where they have lived most of the time since.

Hosting the affair here Sunday will be their daughter, Mrs. Granville (Lillian) Dawson, Midland. Assisting her will be Mrs. W. S. Dill, Midland, Nell Brown, Mrs. R. Richardson, Clara Pool and Mrs. Fred Keating.

Hollie Covert was a member of the popular young set when Nat Shick came to Big Spring by chance. He was reared in Weatherford and had gone to work for the Pacific Express Company there. Soon he was transferred to Paris, then to Abilene. He slipped away to Big Spring to get a rest, but when the express company found he was here, he was back on the payroll within a week.

Noble Read drove by one day with two or three girls in his rubber-tired hugg-me-tight buggy, and he yelled at Nat, who hopped on the buggy. Before he crawled down, he had met Hollie and made a date for that evening.

"He's a fast-talking dude who only dates once," her friends warned, but she vowed, "He'll date me more than once."

Her girl friends hid behind the piano that evening to hear Hollie tell him off, but instead Nat turned out to be the "sweetest kind of nice-talking boy."

Within a few months, Mrs.

Una Covert announced the approaching marriage of her daughter to Nat, who had taken a cherished diamond stick pin and had the stone set in an engagement ring. One skeptic tested by seeing if the stone would scratch glass—it did, and his initials are still on a pane of glass in the house.

The First Baptist Church was only a half block north of the Covert home, so cheese cloth was stretched from the house to the church to protect the bridal train. After the ceremony the wedding party returned to the house for a dinner and an evening of merriment.

This is the way The Herald reported the event:

"The church was beautifully decorated with holly, mistletoe and flowers; at the back of the altar stood a wall of these decorations while festoons were arranged from the holly-covered chandelier to the rear of the altar. As the bridal party approached, Mrs. C. F. Morris sang 'Because I Love You So,' and as the strains of the wedding march pealed forth, they entered and took their places near the altar.

"Rev. S. W. Smith pronounced the ceremony in a most beautiful and impressive manner."

"The bride is a most charming young lady possessing many lovable traits. She has resided in this city since childhood and is loved and admired by a large circle of friends. The groom is a young man of worth and commands the respect of all those with whom he comes in contact, and has made many friends during his residence here."

"Immediately after the happy ceremony, the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride where congratulations followed with merry jest and cheerful conversation. An elegant lunch was served, and a jolly time was in order. The newly wedded couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts."

In their wedding party were Maud Shick (the late Maud Leonard), sister of Nat Shick; Lillian Hurt (Mrs. M. R. Shelton), Shreveport, La.; Ethel Robinson (Mrs. Hall Robinson), Tahoka, the late Mrs. Bertha Marlin and Maud Barrick (the late Mrs. James T. Brooks); also J. T. Tigner, J. A. Rix, Albert M. Fisher, Walter Patten and Noble Read. All the men except Mr. Read are deceased.

After their marriage, the Shicks were moved twice by the express company, so he resigned and they returned to Big Spring. He worked for the First National Bank until 1918. He was a land man for S.E.J. Cox's World Oil Company during the fabulous boom of 1919-20. He returned to the bank, but in 1928 went into the motor car business until he became postmaster in 1933, serving until late in 1965.

He was known all over the area and state and headed the Texas Postmasters. He also is a charter member of the Kiwanis Club and a past president; he is the senior deacon of the First Baptist Church, having been on the board for 50 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Shick will welcome their friends Sunday through the same door from whence they left to be married. Mrs. Shick would have moved a long time ago, but not Mr. Shick. "He's the sentimentalist," she says. "He wants to stay here among all his menagerie (his wooden animals), totem poles (which he carves) and garden. You can't move him."

Student President Tells Of Youths' Responsibility

Don Crockett Jr., student council president, spoke on "Today's Youth and Their Responsibility for Better Neighborhoods," at the Tuesday meeting of the Gay Hill Parent-Teacher Association.

Crockett emphasized that all young people should take advantage of opportunities for a good education because tomorrow will be their responsibility.

Mrs. Jack Brown presided, and Mrs. Hollis Puckett gave the devotion. Christmas carols were presented by the first through sixth grade music classes under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Stevenson, teacher.

Mrs. Brown was elected president, and a new vice president will be elected at the Jan. 9 meeting. George Archer, principal, urged all members to vote in Saturday's election. Room count was won by the third grade.

Refreshments were served to approximately 100. Those on the refreshment committee were Mrs. J. E. Fickling, Mrs. Travis Crow, Mrs. Ross Westbrook, Mrs. Dale McGuire, Mrs. Lois Ray and Mrs. Freddie Blalack.

Hospital Patients Honored At Party

STANTON (SC)—The Stanton Volunteer Auxiliary to the Big Spring State Hospital entertained the residents of the hospital with a Christmas party Monday at the Cap Rock Electric auditorium. Gifts were exchanged from a lighted tree, and each patient received a gift.

Mrs. Louise Tom directed the group singing, accompanied by Bill Wright, hospital resident. Refreshments were served to Dr. Frankie Williams and Mrs. E. L. Cochran, volunteer coordinator of the hospital, hospital attendants and 48 patients of Ward Five. Mrs. R. P. Odom is president of the auxiliary.

Christmas Story Scheduled Sunday

WESTBROOK (SC) — "The Story of Christmas" will be presented in scene, scripture and song at 7:30 p.m., Sunday, in the Westbrook Baptist Church, and the pastor, the Rev. L. B. MRS. LOYD WOOTEN

Loyd Wootens Share Job, Home Interests

By RHODA LEMONS
"Collecting recipes is one of my favorite hobbies," said Mrs. Loyd Wooten, 817 W. 18th. Although Mrs. Wooten is known among friends as an excellent cook, she admits that her husband is an even better one and that he actually enjoys preparing food more than she does.

Mrs. Wooten's recipes are filed alphabetically and typed on index cards in neat compartments. She uses many that she has, but has not tried all of them. Those she makes and likes are always kept, but the ones that she and her husband do not care for are discarded.

Mr. and Mrs. Wooten both are employed at Hemphill-Wells Co. She is in "accounts-payable," and he is a salesman in the men's department.

Because they both work, Mrs. Wooten prepares a large breakfast, a light lunch and the main meal in the evening. She plans menus in her mind shortly in advance of the meal. Wooten believes in keeping large supplies of groceries on hand, so Mrs. Wooten seldom has to make a "dash to the store" purchase.

The Wootens live in a white frame cottage with green shutters and the yard is landscaped with attractive shrubbery. The back yard was landscaped by Wooten who used rock and brick in making the attractive addition to the home. He has built a low brick wall around the patio and has put in much time and labor on the project. He enjoys cooking outdoors and does so as often as weather permits.

The Wootens entertain casually and enjoy having couples over for dinner in small groups. She plans the menu carefully, and almost always prepares meals that can be fixed and frozen on her day off. The night she entertains provides no real hardship, because she tosses a salad and heats the rolls and dinner is prepared. They usually play "42" following dinner.

Mrs. Wooten thoroughly enjoys her work and does not especially look forward to any period of retirement, which is not imminent. On her day off, she goes shopping, catches up on her magazine reading, and visits with friends. She tries to relax completely on that day and does only the things in which she is genuinely interested.

The Wootens have a Beagle, Rusty, who is about twice the size of an ordinary Beagle. However, he has beautiful manners and is very obedient. The Wootens usually have two weeks vacation which they spend in Central Texas with their parents.

Mrs. Wooten enjoys collecting antiques which she uses. She said that she likes "pretty" things, but does not care to own anything that cannot be used. She has some lovely antique china, and her latest acquisition is a silver sugar bowl which formerly belonged to her grandmother. With it she uses a silver spoon that belonged to her husband when he was a child.

The Wootens are avid television football fans, and they usually spend their evenings quietly in their comfortable home. They have membership in the 14th and Main Street Church of Christ, and Mrs. Wooten is a charter member of the Big Spring Credit Club. She was formerly a member of the Altrusa Club for many years.

Use Pineapple Glazes For Exotic Flavoring

When the checkbook won't support a trip to those tropical Pacific islands, bring some of that warm sunshine to the table with foods!

Pork steaks, braised and cooked with pineapple chunks, take on Hawaiian flavor. This recipe uses blade or arm steaks from the shoulder section. These are a big bargain and take only 45 minutes cooking time after browning when they're one-half inch thick.

Serve them with hot, fluffy rice, French-style green beans and water chestnuts, green salad and coconut cream pudding for dessert.

PACIFIC PORK STEAKS
4 pork shoulder steaks, cut 1/2 inch thick
1 tsp. salt
1 can (13 1/2 ounces) pineapple chunks and juice
1-3 cup raisins
1 tsp. lemon juice
1 tsp. grated lemon rind
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
2 tps. cornstarch
1/4 cup cold water
Brown steaks well on both sides. Pour off drippings. Season with salt. Add pineapple chunks and juice, raisins, lemon juice, lemon rind and nutmeg. Cover tightly and simmer 45 minutes. Remove steaks to a hot serving platter. Measure cooking liquid and, if necessary, add water to make 3/4 cup. Mix cornstarch and 1/4 cup cold water. Add to cooking liquid and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Pour sauce over steaks before serving. Four servings.

Spark Desserts With New Dish

Here is a delightful variation of an old time recipe.

APPLE SCRAPPLE
1 lb. bulk sausage
1/2 cup yellow cornmeal
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup boiling water
1 cup canned applesauce
In a 10-inch skillet-cook and cooked through; tilt skillet, pushing sausage to one side, and spoon off fat. In a medium saucepan mix the cornmeal and salt with the cold water; add boiling water.

Over low heat cook and stir until thickened; cover and continue cooking over low heat for 10 minutes. Fold in drained sausage and applesauce. Turn into a small loaf pan (7 1/2 by 3 1/4 by 2 1/4 inches). Cover and chill until firm—several hours or overnight.

Loosen sides and turn out; slice; dip in flour; fry in a small amount of butter in a hot skillet. Makes four to six servings.

Good Buys In Produce This Week

By The Associated Press

Potatoes continued to hold attention at Texas produce markets this week.

Sweet potatoes and turnips also proved abundant at most locations, according to the Agriculture Department.

Both sweet and Irish potatoes are familiar mealtime favorites. Turnips add pleasing variation. Fresh corn, cucumbers and green peppers moving out of winter garden areas cost less than a week ago.

Celery, tomatoes and oranges sold cheaper at a few points. Apples, mainly the large sizes, bore higher price tags this week, along with cranberries, grapes, small lemons and limes. Medium yellow onions and yellow squash generally cost more.

Turkeys and broilers headed the list of protein foods in unusually good supply. Farm prices of broilers figure around one to two cents a pound lower than last week. Prices paid producers for eggs strengthened slightly, but still ran well below this time last year.

Unusual Vegetable

Melt butter with a crumbled chicken bouillon cube and sliced almonds; add drained canned peas and shredded western iceberg lettuce and heat thoroughly, tossing with fork for a delightful, delicate vegetable.

Eliminate Salt

You can make your soup taste less salty by boiling a sliced raw potato in the soup for a little while. Then remove the potato which will have absorbed much of the salt.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Cook spinach, chop and season with butter. Make a "nest" of the spinach on each serving plate; slip a poached egg into the nest. Serve, with buttered toast, for a small-lunch.

Pleasant beverage: sweeten dry vermouth and pour over cracked ice. Garnish with orange slices.

Delicious soup: combine strong chicken broth with thin white sauce; add cooked rice and diced pimiento; heat to serving temperature.

Quick lunch for guests: hard-cooked eggs and curry sauce over steamed rice. Accompany the combination with toasted coconut and chutney.

To make a white layer cake extra special, fill it with chocolate frosting to which a little rum has been added. Frost the whole cake (top and sides) with more of the same!

Open Grill Fine For Pan Fish

Fish charcoal broiled over open grills is a "natural" for winter time meals, says the Interior Department's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries. Most fishery products will be in plentiful supply during the coming months and prices will remain low, according to the bureau. Sizzling fish, served right from the fire, is a taste-tempting treat which can be enjoyed while hunting and fishing or during the family's backyard cookout.

PAN DRESSED FISH
2 lbs. small pan dressed fish, fresh or frozen
2 tbsps. lemon juice
2 tpsps. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 lb. sliced bacon
Thaw frozen fish. Clean, wash, and dry fish. Brush inside of fish with lemon juice and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Wrap each fish with a slice of bacon. Place fish in well-greased, hinged wire grill. Cook about five inches from moderately hot coals for 10 minutes. Turn and cook for 10 to 15 minutes longer or until bacon is crisp and fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serves six.

Introduce Family To New Flavors

Introduce your family to a new flavor by adding one-fourth teaspoon basil, oregano or tarragon to one-half cup buttered crumbs. Sprinkle over vegetables just before serving or use to top a favorite casserole before baking. Add a gourmet touch to chicken or pork chops by breading them with equal portions of bread crumbs and Parmesan cheese. Use this same mixture to top au gratin potatoes. Dot with butter and bake.

For Festive Occasions

The perfect answer for what is different and delightful. This unusual appetizer will put a zing in your entertaining during the holiday season. It tastes good, too.

Hurry-Up Meal For Busy Day

Colors for this quick favorite are green, red, yellow and white. Except for the peppers which are fresh, all the other foods are probably on your convenience food shelf.

The total cooking time for foods in this main dish is less than 40 minutes. Have it on one of those days when you've been busier than any one person should be.

A whole pepper is used for each serving, once the top has been sliced off with seeds and membrane removed. Peppers, a very good source of Vitamin C, need a short parboiling before stuffing.

GOLD NUGGET PEPPERS

2 cans (15 1/2 ounces each) corned beef hash
1 tbsp. chopped onion
2 tbsps. catsup
1/2 tsp. oregano
1 can (8 3/4 ounces) whole kernel corn, drained
8 medium green peppers
1 tsp. salt
Combine corned beef hash, onion, catsup, oregano and corn. Mix well. Slice off the top of the green peppers, scoop out center and wash. Cook peppers eight minutes in boiling salted water. Drain. Stuff meat mixture into peppers and place in a 12x8 inch baking dish. Pour hot water to a depth of 1/2 inch in baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes or until mixture is lightly browned. Eight servings.

Ham And Pudding Go Well Together

Pretty way to fix ham!
PRUNE-PLUM PUDDING
3 lbs. fresh prune-plums
1 1/4 cups sugar
1 1-3 cups sifted regular flour
1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
1/4 tsp. salt
Wash and cut prune-plums into quarters — there should be six cups. Mix 3/4 cup of the sugar and four tablespoons of the flour; toss with plums. Turn into a 10 by 6 by 2 inch glass baking dish. Mix remaining sugar and flour; cut in butter until it is in fine particles; sprinkle over fruit.
Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven one hour or until fruit is tender and topping is browned. Makes six to eight servings. (Serve with whipped cream, if you like.) The fresh prune-plums are sometimes called Italian prunes.

Add Flavor To Gourmet Meals With Injector

There's a new and most unusual kitchen gadget available which will add great flavor to your gourmet meals. It's called the flavor jector and it literally injects flavor of many kinds into any meat you care to name, plus such other foods as experimentation and your imagination suggest.

The flavor jector consists of a red plastic flavor container and a stainless steel injector needle with a red plastic end and a yellow plastic plunger which fits into it. Here's how it works:

You fill the flavor container with any powdered or solid flavoring you wish — powdered meat tenderizer, a spice appropriate to the meat you're about to cook, a clove of garlic, pieces of ginger (preserved or fresh), pieces of fresh horseradish — what you will. You then push the injector needle containing its plunger through a hole at the bottom of the flavor container, pressing down the lid of the container at the same time. Next, you pull out the injector and insert it into the meat as deeply as you wish it to go. As you pull the injector from the meat, you press on the plunger, thus pushing the flavoring into the meat so that it stays where you want it. The insertions of flavor are made at two inch intervals through the meat.

The greater flavor thus achieved is amazing and produces dishes far more delectable than were obtained from their original recipes. If you use meat tenderizer with the flavor jector you can buy cheaper cuts, secure in the knowledge that they will be much more successfully tenderized from the inside than is the case when the tenderizer is used only on the surface of the meat.

LBJ Kill Count Jails Denton GI

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A Denton, Tex., Marine who allegedly told two other Marines that he planned to kill President Johnson has been arrested.

Pvt. Jimmy Lee McBride was arraigned Monday in San Diego. Bail was set at $1,000.

The Secret Service said McBride was arrested Friday in Denton. Authorities said McBride told two Marines at Camp Pendleton last August that he planned to take a rifle from the base to kill the President in Washington.

McBride left the base without authorization about a week later, agents said.

Horoscope Forecast FOR TOMORROW —CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The day generally is not too good but you do have a chance to get much done that is of an inventive and imaginative nature by the addressness with which you put your energies into your constructive work. Be sure to let all about see you are the one who is willing to make compromises for a right peace.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Sleep and buy that car or other choice gifts for those you like and love during a.m. spare time. Then do into your work with vigor. Do not neglect any important statements or reports that need your attention.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Follow that idea that can incorporate you further into the good practice of your career, particular profession. Be sure to take gains with your experience. This is at least 50 per cent of this month.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Be sure you study the details of certain situations that are soon to come up and you handle them ideally. A request for backing you need from higher can meet with success. Be diplomatic, though.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you contact good comrades and state your aims, desires, you find they give you assistance, cooperation you want. Then get into outfits with partners that are remunerative, interesting. Be enthusiastic.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you wish to make some concessions if you want to get that matter properly handled today, or if you want support from business, improving your credit is also wise. Get busy early and accomplish much.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Dwelling more on idealistic lines, can help make those dreams come true. Stop being so content to be in a rut. There are much greater fields to conquer. Become more active.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to be on guard with promises made home in some important matter. Garner the data you want from experts. Be more analytical of profits and losses.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Go ahead with any plans that bring the approval of allies, partners, but you must do some of the asking. Make improvements where outside business concerns are important. Be clear.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) The ideal time to find more modern ways of handling your regular duties so that you can command a better salary, big pay or profit. Listen to what coworkers have to suggest. They have fine ideas that should be followed.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You need to enjoy recreation today since you have been under a good deal of pleasurable tension, but tension that is pleasurable. Get busy early and accomplish much.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Some one in the outside world expects you to ensure some duty, but it is well you first get approval of him, otherwise sure it down. Show that you are a humanitarian with those who are unfortunate.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow — he or she will be one of those charming youngsters who is full of vim and vigor, whose father will run the full gamut of evergreen and everything, but should be taught early to discriminate, specialize, complete one course before starting another. The field of skills would be ideal here. If good food to great success.

Operation Halts Hiccups Seige

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — An 18-year-old girl stopped hiccupping for the first time in 14 days Monday, but it took an operation.

Jane Lasoski, 18, of Wilkes-Barre, underwent the operation at Wyoming Valley Hospital. Her mother, Mrs. Donald Lasoski, said the hiccups had been "constant and continuous" and all efforts by doctors to help her — short of the operation — had failed.

Pecos Soldier Killed In War

Lurleen Returns Home After Exam

HOUSTON (AP) — Gov. Lurleen Wallace of Alabama was home in Montgomery today after undergoing a checkup in M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute.

Mrs. Wallace underwent a 90-minute examination Tuesday to determine whether she suffered any ill effects from her recent radiation treatments prescribed after her July cancer surgery. A hospital spokesman said staff physicians reported all tests were normal and satisfactory.

The governor returned to Alabama following the examination.

Last July Anderson doctors removed a lemon-sized tumor from her abdomen in her second cancer operation since 1965.

The hospital spokesman said Mrs. Wallace will return to Anderson for another checkup in about two months.

 WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., has withdrawn all three libel counts of his $2 million libel and conspiracy suit against columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson. His attorney, John F. Sonnen, said Dodd "simply does not have the money" to continue pressing the case. Dodd acted after Judge Alexander Holtzoff of U.S. District Court denied a motion that Dodd be awarded a summary judgement in his favor. Pearson and Anderson said they regarded the withdrawal of the libel charges as a personal victory.

Dear Abby
Just Put On The Brakes
 DEAR ABBY: If you can come up with a solution to my problem you are a genius. We have two children, 4 and 5. My widowed grandmother, who is 64, is always after me to let our children stay overnight with her. She loves them, and they love her, but every time she asks me I try to find an excuse so I won't have to let them go. You see, Grandma drives a car, and she is the world's worst driver, and when the children are in the car with her, my husband and I worry ourselves sick. How can we tell her the real reason we don't want our kids to stay with her? She thinks she's a good driver, and if anyone says anything to the contrary she gets insulted.

STUMPED
 DEAR STUMPED: If Grandma's poor driving has been called to her attention before, she must be aware that there is some talk about it, so save yourself a lot of worry, deception, and pussyfooting, and tell her she can have the kids only if she promises not to drive them anywhere.

DEAR ABBY: After 20 years of marriage, my husband deserted his family for a tramp who already had three bad marriages to her name. One problem is that my "ex" is very good to me and the children. He never misses a birthday or Christmas, and he gives the children money to buy me something special. He does all my house repairs and is educating all four children in expensive schools. What do I do for him in return for his generosity? Regularly, three times a week I am a "wife" to him — just like old times. This is not hard for me since I still love him. I am beginning to feel cheap and dirty about it, now that I am "the other woman," because he must be lying to his wife about me just as he used to lie to me about her. Now I don't consider myself any better than the tramp he's married to.

At first I told myself I was getting even with her, but now I realize I am not hurting her, I am just fouling up my own life.

DEAR TRAPPED: If you feel "cheap, dirty, and trapped," then the only way you can feel "clean and free" is to put an end to the "old times" sessions. You are suffering from creeping loss of self-esteem. I think you know what you should do; you desperately want someone to tell you that you must.

DEAR ABBY: I am 46 and my gentleman friend is 65. When we go to dinner and a movie, he pays for it. I do all the driving and use my car because he doesn't drive. In fact, he doesn't even own a car. This has nothing to do with his financial situation as he isn't hurting for money. Do you think I should pay for all the gasoline? Also when we go on overnight trips (strictly platonic), who should pay for the motel? I like to be proper. ELMIRA DEAR ELMIRA: The gentleman should pay for everything he can gracefully pay for. Eat if you "like to be proper." I suggest you pay for your own separate lodging on those overnight trips.

Elected President Of Junior College

PARIS, (AP) — Louis B. Williams has been elected President of Paris Junior College, succeeding Frank Grimes who resigned. The college's board elevated Williams from the vice presidency and named Grimes as president emeritus. Grimes resigned because of health problems. He told the board that his hearing had grown increasingly worse and that surgery had failed to correct the problem. He will continue as a member of the college administrative staff, and will direct the student loan program. He had been president since 1963. Williams was personnel director of the Paris Works of Babcock & Wilcox until joining the college as Vice-President in May, 1967.
