COLD BRIEFS

Wintry Blast Brings Touch Of Tragedy

GALVESTON (AP) — "I couldn't get to her — the walls were burning and the wallpaper was flaming down and the floor was on fire," said Gary Knox, 14, telling how he tried desperately to save an elderly widow.

Firemen later found the charred body of Mrs. Benjamin K. Davis, 88, in a room in a small frame home where she lived alone.

Young Knox said he kicked down a back door after a thundering explosion shook the house and flames shot skyward Monday night.

"I saw her standing there and burning," he told Justice of the Peace Pete Urbani. "Her gown and hair were on fire. She gave a screaming moan and held her hands out toward me. She was about 20 feet away."

"There was a wall of flame between us that I couldn't cross. I couldn't breathe. I had to get out."

60 Below Zero

TORONTO (AP) — The second blizzard in four days raged across Newfoundland Monday and the coldest temperature of the winter — 60 below zero — was recorded in a northern Ontario village.

Schools were closed in southern Saskatchewan and Ottawa residents stuck close to home when the temperature hit 30 below overnight.

Sub-zero temperatures and winds gusting up to 50 miles an hour halted ferry services. As the storm swept western Newfoundland leaving more than six inches of snow, winds of 70 miles an hour blocked transportation.

Bus Driver Killed

HENDERSON, Tex. (AP) — A bus skidded on ice-covered Texas 43 and crashed 10 miles north of this East Texas town today, killing the driver and injuring seven passengers.

The driver was identified from a checkbook on his body as H. L. Bowman of Houston.

Six passengers from the Continental-Midwest Lines bus were taken to a hospital in Henderson. A seventh, a woman, was hospitalized in nearby Longview.

Investigators said the wreck was caused by ice forming on the roadway.

Costly Antifreeze

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — There wasn't any antifreeze in the car of Dee A. Pape, 54, and he kept running out to the garage to start it during Monday's ice storm, his wife Alice said. She last saw him there about noon. Four hours later Mrs. Pape found him dead in the front seat of the vehicle.

Authorities said the car was out of gas and Pape apparently died of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Famous Clock Froze

LONDON (AP) — Heavy snow stopped much of Britain cold today. Even the hands of the world's most famous clock, Big Ben, froze to a halt.

A six-inch blanket of snow and ice disrupted rail and road traffic in 45 counties. Heavy rains for 14 hours and high winds caused threats of floods in the west.

Stanton Voting

STANTON (SC) — Stanton voters were casting ballots today on the one per cent city sales tax. If voters approve, collection of the tax will begin July 1, according to Mayor Stanley Wheeler. The election was called by the city to improve municipal services and to "operate without a marked increase in ad valorem taxes."

Frontier Tense

TEL AVIV (AP) — The bustling Israeli-Jordanian frontier south of the Sea of Galilee remained tense today following sporadic shooting that continued until midnight.

Israel complained to the U.N. Security Council, blaming Jordan for the border clash Monday in which Israeli jets silenced Jordanian artillery positions on the east bank of the Jordan River shortly before dark.

FINAL PROBE

To Land Tonight

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 7 appears set to make a soft landing on the moon tonight. It will make the last U.S. probe of the moon before man heads there himself.

Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory will attempt to put the craft down near the rugged highlands north of the crater Tycho.

It carries a television camera, a small scoop to dig trenches, a device to analyze soil with radiation and magnets to detect iron.

If things go well, the 2,288-pound space vehicle will be slowed from 6,000 miles an hour by retro-rockets so that it will be going 3 m.p.h. 13 feet above the lunar surface. It will free fall the last 13 feet.

Landing was expected about 7:15 p.m. Big Spring Time.

The mission of the Surveyor, launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., early Sunday, is to see if there is any significant difference between the Tycho area and the equatorial plains chosen for manned landings planned for as early as next year.

Unit Landed Among Heavy Cong Forces

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong guerrillas pounced on a platoon of about 40 U.S. infantrymen as they landed by chance Monday in a Communist bivouac area, triggering a 10-hour battle 19 miles south of Saigon.

In the third big clash within 25 miles of Saigon since Saturday, 17 Americans and at least 26 guerrillas were killed and 27 Americans wounded, the U.S. Command said. American infantrymen pursued the guerrillas today but reported no contact.

HEAVY LOSS
The American platoon suffered heavy casualties but managed to hold on until a company of reinforcements arrived by helicopter, a spokesman for the U.S. 9th Infantry Division said.

Enemy gunners shot down three helicopters as they swooped low to support the outnumbered infantrymen, but all of the choppers came down in secure areas and there were no casualties, the spokesman said. The battle broke out at 1:25 p.m. after helicopters landed the infantry platoon in a muddy marsh of the Saigon River delta. American commanders had not known it was the bivouac area of an estimated 400 guerrillas.

Struggling through knee-deep mud, the Americans formed a perimeter and laid down heavy fire as the enemy massed for an all-out assault.

Helicopter gunships and fighter-bombers swarmed overhead to help the small band of Americans. At 2:45 p.m. a company of troop-carrying choppers defied the guerrilla gunners and swept in with a company of reinforcements.

The 9th Division command moved two more companies in at dusk and by midnight units of all three battalions of the division's 3rd Brigade were maneuvering through the marshes and rice paddies.

The guerrillas fought until 11:40 p.m., the U.S. Command said, then faded away through the canals and paddies.

Brig. Gen. William R. Desobry concluded a tour as senior American adviser in the Me-kong Delta today and said the Viet Cong there are "going down steadily. Defeat has been taken hold. There has been significant success."

Mound Bids Opened Today

Roland L. Scherer of Weatherford was the apparent low bidder here Tuesday on a proposal to build 17 oil well-mounds for the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Scherer's offer was for $465,058, only slightly ahead of Gilven-Terrill, Amarillo, with a proposal of $474,285.05. Third low bidder was W. D. Caldwell, Big Spring, and Price Construction, Snyder, with $722,622. There were nine offers ranging up to a top of $947,753.

A contract is due to be awarded at a meeting of the CRMWD board of directors here Wednesday at 11 a.m. Leary Eads, Fort Worth, member of the consulting engineer firm of Freese, Nichols and Endress, was here for the opening, as was Leo Willis, the engineer's representative on the dam construction job at Robert Lee.

Involved in the contract is the building of the mounds in the Humble-LAB Field of Coke County to raise the well heads above the flood level when the new lake will be impounded on the Colorado River. From the present base, a 90-inch diameter caisson will be raised and the earthen mounds piled around. The estimated 626,800 cubic yards of wetted rolled earth embankment will be required, with 24,060 cubic yards of gravel rip rap blanket, and 89,750 cubic yards of rock rip rap to protect the face of the mounds from wave action.

Scherer bid in the dirt at 35 cents a cubic yard, the blanket at $2 a yard and the rip rap at $1.85 a yard. Gilven-Terrill bid 36 cents for the dirt, $1.82 for the blanket, and $2 for the rip rap.

MANY ARE SAVED

Tenement Fire Kills 13, Injures 31 More

NEW YORK (AP) — Flames raged through a Brooklyn tenement in the predawn hours today, forcing scores of persons to flee in below-zero cold and leaving 13 dead. All but one member of two families perished.

Dead in the city's worst fire since 46 died aboard an aircraft carrier in 1960 were Mrs. Modesta Diaz and her five children, aged 3 months to 9 years; Francisco and Juanita Mojica and their four children, aged 4 to 9 years, and 85-year-old Victoria Moreno, the grandmother of the Mojica children.

SURVIVOR

Francisco Diaz, 29, the only surviving member of his family, said he was watching television with his children when he saw smoke flowing under the door of his second-floor apartment. In minutes the building was engulfed in flames, he said.

Firemen battled the five-alarm fire for 4½ hours before getting it under control. The flames were fueled by paper cartons on the first floor of the five-story building.

The fire marked the worst New York City fire disaster since 46 died in a blaze aboard the aircraft carrier Constellation at the New York Navy Yard in Brooklyn on Dec. 19, 1960. Twelve firemen were killed in a blaze in October 1966.

Quick action by police and firemen saved other tenants today. Patrolman Ralph Sorrentino, one of the first on the scene, said he ran to the alley in the rear where men and women on the second floor began throwing children to him.

He said he caught at least 20 children but missed others. "It was so difficult stumbling through the ice and darkness." One woman who jumped fell on him, he said.

A man and a woman perched on a third-floor ledge against a blazing backdrop were plucked to safety by firemen with the aid of a ladder.

Police said 14 firemen, two policemen and 15 civilians were treated for a variety of injuries at Greenpoint Hospital.

The temperature stood at a record low of two degrees for the day when the fire broke out about 12:30 a.m. and fell to one degree later. Neighbors threw blankets out of windows to the evacuees.

195 FIGHTERS

Some 195 firemen crunched along in ankle-high ice as they used some 39 pieces of equipment to fight the blaze. Firemen said flames at the outset were so fierce they could not enter the building.

The fire department said the blaze apparently started in the ground floor paper carton factory and spread swiftly upward through the tenement which was home for 24 families.

Kasperak Beset By Complications

His Condition Termed Critical

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Mike Kasperak, beset with many complications after his heart transplant operation, is in critical condition today.

The 54-year-old ex-steelworker received a new heart Saturday night to replace his failing one.

His condition became critical Monday when he began to bleed from the stomach and intestines. Blood transfusions and other measures appeared to have stopped the bleeding, which his doctors attributed to a severe pre-existing liver disease.

KIDNEYS, TOO

Physicians said he was suffering some kidney failure also.

Though conscious and able to signify responses, Kasperak needed help breathing—a tube in his throat—because of lung disease.

"These many complications are severe but soluble as long as the heart function is good," said Dr. Norman E. Shumway, head of the Stanford Medical School team that made the transplant.

Doctors said Kasperak's cardiac output was only slightly below normal and the heart appeared to be functioning very well.

His condition was satisfactory from the end of the operation until the internal bleeding began.

WATCHED TV

Kasperak even watched 10 minutes of a televised news conference about the operation, nurses said. Drs. Shumway and Donald C. Harrison, head of the medical school cardiology division, held the conference at Stanford Sunday afternoon.

He received the heart of Mrs. Virginia White, 43, of nearby Santa Clara two hours after she died. Mrs. White, mother of two, suffered a stroke—a brain hemorrhage—the night preceding the heart transplantation.

A coat of ice gave this tree a crystal appearance this morning in Big Spring, and it may be the last for a while as warmer temperatures were promised by weather forecasters.

EXCEPT IN MONTANA

Cowboys Getting Scarce

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The trained cowboy—who can handle a horse, a truck and cattle—is hard to find in these parts.

Good cowboys are scarce and getting scarcer in most of the cattle country. One exception is Montana where, "there are more cowboys than jobs," says a spokesman for employment bureaus.

NEEDED

But other states report ranchers need capable hands. Brad Stewart, president of the Arizona Cattle Growers Association, said, "The trained cowboy is becoming a vanishing breed."

Lyle Liggett of the American

National Cattlemen's Association, with headquarters in Denver, said, "The shortage is real."

"It's not just a matter of more money," he said. "The good, old-timey hardworking cowboys are dying off, and not many young men are coming along to take their places."

Liggett said cowboys are paid as much as $300 to $400 a month plus such benefits as a house, a vehicle and free beef and milk. "That makes the job comparable to most town jobs," he said. "Television is a factor, too, because cowboys who have families don't want to work at ranches that might be out of range of TV."

Dick Wilson, editor of a Texas cattlemen's magazine, said, "We're mechanizing where we can, but it's kind of hard to mechanize the cattle business." Horses are still used in many areas.

SUMMED UP

Harry Lee, who helps his father operate a 250,000-acre ranch in New Mexico, summed up one aspect of the problem: "One of the troubles is when you finish work on a range camp, you are there. But in town when you finish work you can go to a movie or do whatever you want."

DESPITE DECLINE PREDICTION

Vietnam Casualties Increase

NEW YORK (AP)—The casualty rate among U.S. troops in South Vietnam climbed significantly in 1967 over 1966. It increased both in the over-all total and on a percentage basis, despite a prediction the percentage rate would decline.

Henry Cabot Lodge, then U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, predicted last January the percentage of casualties would drop during 1967.

"I believe the purely military part of the war, which is what the Americans are engaged in, will make tremendous progress in 1967 and that the percentage of American casualties will start declining," Lodge said in an interview at that time.

many cases the wounds were minor. For example, of 437 wounded during Christmas week, 130 did not require hospitalization. Christmas week dead totaled 185. The bloodiest week so far for U.S. troops was May 14 to May 20 when 337 were killed and 2,282 wounded.

Gorton Slated To Gain Prime Minister Job

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Sen. John Grey Gorton, described by colleagues as hard working, good humored and sharp in debate, was elected leader of the Liberal party today, assuring his installation as Australia's next prime minister.

The new government leader told a televised news conference shortly after his election by the Liberal party's 81 members of the House of Representatives and the Senate: "Tomorrow I have no doubt that we will continue in this country as we should—arguments, perhaps a little bitter arguments, as in goals, as to differing priorities in differing fields of national endeavor."

Critics To Give McCarthy Moral Support—Little Else

WASHINGTON (AP) — His fellow Vietnam war critics in the Senate apparently are going to give Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy little public support in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said in New York Monday he'll remain on the sidelines in the Minnesota Democrat's primary campaigns. And Kennedy said he'll back President Johnson if the chief executive is the party's nominee.

Said Kennedy of McCarthy's campaign: "I expect that President Johnson will be the nominee, but I think this can be a healthy influence, and I am not taking a position during the period of time the primaries are going on."

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a medication with the ability, in most cases—to promptly stop itching, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids.

He said he thinks that as of now only Johnson and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, among potential candidates, have firm positions on Vietnam.

"There is one thing about the President and Nixon," he said. "You know where they stand on Vietnam. You may not agree with them, and I think a lot of people don't, but you know where they are."

Nixon, considered a frontrunner for the GOP nomination, has supported Johnson's basic premise that the war is being fought to stem Communist aggression, a position Senate war policy critics have generally challenged.

Massive Thaw Under Way In Most Areas Of Texas

By The Associated Press
Temperatures rose during the night, instead of dropping as usual during darkness, and Texas started a massive thaw today.

Weather Bureau observers reported the only freezing rain or sleet still plaguing the state in early morning occurred in the area from around Fort Worth and Dallas southward to Waco.

It was still damp in many other areas, but the mercury generally edged above freezing except in the already dry and ice-free Panhandle-Plains section.

Several trouble spots persisted.

ed. One was around Texarkana in the northeast corner of the state, where severe icing forced state police to halt traffic for a time over US 59 and 67 toward the south and east.

Ice collecting on electric lines was blamed for a temporary power interruption at Belton in Central Texas. Police radio dispatchers reported approximately the west half of Belton was blacked out about 4 a.m. when at least one transformer blew out, but most service was restored within an hour.

Rain or freezing drizzle hung on most of the night over most of North, Central and East Texas, gradually edging toward the east as frigid air loosed its grip on a widespread area chilled by the season's bitter blast.

Public schools, colleges and major industrial plants suspended operations throughout the section gripped Monday by one of the severest ice storms in several years. Some continued the holiday into today.

Although most major highways remained passable, traffic was held to snail's pace and police departments in city after city coped with auto accidents too numerous for accurate count.

Freezing rain hung on most of the night in sections ranging eastward from near Dallas, Waco, Austin and San Antonio. There was at least light rain elsewhere in the eastern half of the state.

Before dawn fog developed along with drizzle around such points as Fort Worth, Dallas, San Antonio, Waco, Galveston, Lufkin and Texarkana. It also was foggy without rain around El Paso in far west Texas, and at Childress and Wichita Falls.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 22 degrees at Amarillo and Lubbock up to 38 at Beaumont-Port Arthur, Galveston and Victoria, and 39 at Brownsville.

Forecasts called for the last rain in the state to taper off by tonight in South Central and Southeast Texas, and rising temperatures were promised in all sections.

Thai To Ask For Copters

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Thailand will ask the United States for more helicopters to help fight the growing guerrilla movement in northeast Thailand, Thai Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn said Monday night.

Thanom said on arrival from the northern city of Chiangmai that Thailand needs the helicopters to lift fresh troops and supplies to help government forces battling terrorists in several critical provinces.

Thailand already has taken delivery of about 22 helicopters and another 20 are on their way.

Thanom, who is scheduled to leave for South Vietnam Wednesday, said he will visit the Laotian border next week to assess government measures against a strong Communist force which has tied down at least two battalions of government troops in counterinsurgency operations.

The Communists, reportedly made up of dissident Meo hill tribesmen and Pathet Lao guerrillas, have provoked the biggest deployment of troops in recent years.

Foreign Banking Leaders Back LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign government and banking leaders have generally endorsed President Johnson's measures to reduce the U.S. balance of payments as "necessary, essential, courageous and absolutely unavoidable," presidential emissaries report.

TAX ANGLE
But many of them warn, the U.S. officials say, that controls on overseas investment and tourism won't work well without a domestic tax increase.

One of the touring officials, Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach, said in a news conference Monday Johnson's restrictions to defend the dollar will be sustained largely by the response of nations with balance of payments surpluses.

Immediately after the restrictions were announced Johnson sent Katzenbach and three other officials overseas to explain the move.

They said leaders in all the nations they visited urged the United States to increase taxes.

REBATE IDEA
Katzenbach said one possible way to increase exports and decrease imports is to levy a tax on imports and issue a rebate to exporters, provided they are within the rules of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

The President's proposed restrictions include mandatory control of overseas investments, an appeal to American tourists not to travel outside the Western Hemisphere, pressure to offset the cost of maintaining U.S. troops abroad by inducing the host nation to buy more American arms or U.S. Treasury bonds, and undisclosed measures to raise exports and curb imports.

Health Hints

SERIES NO. 21

You know, the body can take just so much and finally something will break or go wrong. This was the case of this patient who came to this office suffering from a severe pain in the right shoulder area which affected the right arm and made several fingers numb.

Examination clearly pointed out the nerve pressure in the spine which had brought on the symptoms but further examination showed why the symptoms were so severe and so sudden in their onset. She had never had her spine examined before and spinal disorders coupled with a most severe nervous condition and emotional strain finally broke her down. The painful symptoms rapidly corrected and she noted so much improvement in her feeling and mental outlook and mental health that she continued until she felt 15 years younger. This was her own statement. No. 3582.

When a person feels good they can take a big problem but if they feel bad, a little problem will throw them. Have your spine examined to see if you have a weakness which saps your health potential. Hansen Chiropractic Clinic across from Piggly Wiggly at 1004 Eleventh Place. adv.

Mercury Tumbles To 34 Below Zero In New York

By The Associated Press
Bone-chilling cold stung the Northeast today and sent a sharp chill through the south as well. Schools closed in much of New England as the region shivered in its coldest weather of the season.

The mercury tumbled to 34 below zero at Watertown and Massena, in northern New York, before dawn. Winds up to 25 miles an hour swept the Northeast and intensified the discomfort.

Temperature records for the date that had stood for as long as 40 years in some communities were whipped away. A -14 at Albany, N.Y., was the coldest Jan. 9 since 1943. Scranton, Pa., residents were numbed by the lowest reading for the date since 1927, 4 below zero.

New York City shivered through its coldest Jan. 8 on record Monday night when the temperature fell to two above zero. Subways were delayed by stuck doors and switches and thousands in apartments complained about a lack of heat.

As the wave of arctic air rolled southward along the Eastern Seaboard, the mercury fell to 17 degrees in Washington. Temperatures in the 20s reached as far south as the Florida panhandle and westward into Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi.

WARNINGS
The cold air swept over a band of shower activity in parts of Mississippi and southeastern Texas, turning rain to sleet and freezing drizzle.

Hazardous driving warnings extended up the Mississippi Valley and into the Ohio Valley. Freezing drizzle, occasionally mixed with snow, extended northward as far as Chicago. Similar conditions were reported as far south as central Mississippi.

Greenhouse Grows Lots Of Tomatoes
WICHITA FALLS (AP) — A greenhouse warmed by 12 heaters is helping grow tomatoes near this North Texas city.

The greenhouse, which covers 30,000 square feet, is owned by Bob Webb and Bill West, both of Wichita Falls.

Known as "The Salad Bowl Greenhouse," the structure is in the Wichita Valley between Wichita Falls and Iowa Park. Last year, the first year of operation, the greenhouse grew about 118,000 pounds of tomatoes. This year the growers are hoping for about 144,000 pounds.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Discussing business or personal interests of pleasant and interesting places can bring to light the right answer to some lived problem you have with another person in the future, depending upon how you currently handle this present situation that requires tact.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Be sure to carry through with any promise you have made instead of trying to waffle out of it. Taking time to get health and home improved can bring true benefits.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A regular contact is very anticipated so be sure to entertain show affection for proper results. Showing finest talents to persons who can help you to advance is wise. They are in a fine mood right now.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Finding better method for improving harmony of home is advisable; show that you are truly interested in their welfare. Stop being so wrapped up in yourself. This could have been the trouble in the past.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Look for some form of enlightenment in some area now, and steer clear of a battle between a good pot and one who admires you. Change your ways with mate. Stop trying to find a way out because of some outside temptation. Be true.

LEO (July 22 to Aug 21) Await a better day for recreation that could prove to be quite expensive. Make improvements of a charming nature to any real estate you own. Enjoy your home in a.m. Do some cultural reading.

VIRGO (Aug 22 to Sept 22) Calling some meeting that is vital to your progress is fine but think before you speak. Say nothing that may hurt or have to retract later. Do not take any risks in driving, walking, etc., especially in p.m.

LIBRA (Sept 23 to Oct 22) You are able now to support confidentiality from business, especially where practice is concerned, but you have to be very practical. Make your budget more workable for the days ahead. Economize where pleasure costs too much.

SCORPIO (Oct 23 to Nov 21) Don't be so successful where your ideas are concerned, since you could get into some trouble with them. Listen to what good pals have to suggest instead. Get out socially in p.m. and find greater happiness.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 22 to Dec 21) You have to be both practical and practical in handling business matters, so contact higher-ups and get things done right. Talk over ideas with those who are expert in your field. Then you make big money.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 to Jan 20) Find a better way to gain those aims that mean so much to you and show that you are determined to get ahead. Get into some educational outlet that can make you a more interesting and productive person.

Medical Schools To Cut Training?

DALLAS (AP)—Dean Charles Sprague of Southwestern Medical School at Dallas predicts that medical schools will need to increase output by looking critically at the total period of training a physician must take. The aim would be to shorten the education period. He said there will be new categories of personnel such as a physician's assistant. He spoke to the medical staff of Baylor Medical Center.

Fulbright Doubts Viet Peace Pursuit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright expresses strong doubts the Johnson administration is aggressively pursuing the possibility of peace talks with North Vietnam.

"The administration is only interested in surrender," he said Monday in an interview.

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he did not expect the White House and State Department would follow up on the recent Hanoi statement that peace talks will result if the United States ends its air strikes and other acts of war.

NOTHING NEW
Secretary of State Dean Rusk has said the administration is trying to determine whether the statement was an actual step toward negotiations or a propaganda move.

Asked whether he agreed with other Vietnam war critics who have urged a bombing halt to test the enemy's intentions, Fulbright said he had advocated that course consistently in his long-standing opposition to administration policy.

"This is the same old thing," he said of the debate over whether the bombing should be called off as a possible peace move. "There's nothing new here."

told the Portsmouth, Va., Chamber of Commerce Monday night "the wrong word in public, a wrong gesture, an ill-timed move can all make a difference" in whether talks can be arranged.

But Fulbright said the administration had "taken the position it is not interested in compromise of any kind" and he did not believe the Hanoi statement would change anything.

The Arkansas said he was becoming increasingly reluctant to comment on every turn in the conduct of the war and what should be done to end it because "I don't want to be known as a common scold."

Bronte Mayor Named To Team

BRONTE, Tex. (AP)—Bronte mayor Royce Lee has been named to the speakers team for the Small Town Economic Progress (STEP) program of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, by John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, STEP committee chairman.

Lee and other team members will visit West Texas towns of less than 12,000 population. Each team has six members, each a specialist in some field suiting him as a consultant in helping to solve problems of the small town.

Altho presenting the declarer with a ruff and discard usually indicates the presence of a neophyte at the bridge table, it can occasionally reveal the hand of a highly seasoned performer—as witness the technique of East in defending against South's four heart contract.

ance of dummy, the outlook was somewhat pessimistic for the defense, for, unless West held the ace of clubs, the only other trick in sight was the high heart.

Presently East observed a method for developing a setting trick which hinged on nothing more remote than declarer's having only a four-card heart suit in pursuance of his plan, East returned a third round of diamonds—deliberately giving his opponent a ruff and discard. South sluffed a spade from his hand and accepted the force in dummy.

The queen of hearts was led and ducked. North continued with the ten, East holding off a second time and, when West showed out, the subtle purpose behind the former's tactics was revealed.

If declarer led the last trump from dummy, East would rise with the ace to lead a fourth round of diamonds and force out declarer's remaining heart. This would establish East's long heart as a second trump trick for the defense.

South abandoned hearts and began running the clubs. East trumped it on the second round, however, and cashed the ace of hearts for the setting trick.

Be still, and know that I am God. (Psalm 46:10)
PRAYER: We thank Thee, O Lord, for the invitation to come to Thee when we strain and chafe under the burdens of life. In Thee we find strength to live and the hope to overcome despair. Thanks be to Thee, through Christ. Amen.

Emergency Action But Problem Remains

The prospect of a balance-of-payments deficit of $3.5 to $4 billion for 1967 compelled President Johnson to take broad and drastic action to strive for dollar-stabilizing equilibrium.

The United States' international exchange deficit had dropped favorably from $3.9 billion in 1966 to $1.3 billion in 1965. It was $1.4 billion in 1966 and ran at an annual rate of $1.7 billion during the first three quarters of 1967. Then the British pound devaluation and delayed impact of Vietnam war spending brought the dangerous near-record rate in the last quarter of 1967. That trend simply had to be stopped.

The President's moves—must be viewed, for the most part, as temporary expedients of uncertain effectiveness. Much will depend on congressional support, voluntary business and individual cooperation, and the reaction—and possible retaliations—abroad.

The strongest move is the moratorium on U.S. private corporation investment in continental Europe and limitations on foreign investments elsewhere. That will make a big cut in the balance-of-payments deficit, but if continued for long would have the adverse effect of reducing dollar return from such investments.

Less effect can be expected from voluntary cutbacks on U.S. tourist spending abroad, voluntary curbs on lending abroad, curbs on noncombat military spending overseas, and efforts to increase the U.S. trade surplus. But all of course will help.

The President will need his requested federal income-tax surcharge more than ever now to prevent inflation that would price U.S. goods out of foreign markets and frustrate the effort to reduce the balance-of-payments deficit. A further cut in foreign aid would not help much, however, as that is mostly in the form of material (not dollar) assistance or credits largely for purchasing U.S. goods.

Over the long haul, achieving satisfactory equilibrium in the U.S. balance of payments must depend on ending the Vietnam war and developing a new international exchange mechanism that will relieve the burden on the dollar (and gold) of bank financing the soaring quantity of world trade. The President thus has taken unavoidable emergency action, but the underlying problems creating the emergency are no nearer solution than before.

Good Team

The selection of Dr. Milton Talbot as president and Don Wornack as vice president should presage a busy year for the Chamber of Commerce.

They are experienced, and yet they are young enough to possess vigor and aggressiveness in getting things done.

Now that we have gone through a period of leveling off, adjustment and consolidation, it is time to start the locomotive drivers to rolling again. This is a good leadership team to help us do that.

Romney Views The Viet Situation

WASHINGTON — Gov. George Romney of Michigan went abroad for a month to get first hand impressions about the world situation which would help him in his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination. But he didn't come back with the recommendation that the United States get out of Vietnam. While he made some suggestions, he did not veer from the basic principles of President Johnson's foreign policy.

THIS IS A significant occurrence. Too many critics have jumped to the conclusion that the American people not only want to pull out of the war but are willing to do it on a "peace at any price" basis and toss aside the sacrifices made by the men in the armed services of the United States.

The Vietnam problem changes in some respects all the time, and public-opinion polls show a growing number of citizens — though by no means a majority — who would be content with any kind of a peace.

GOV. ROMNEY acknowledges that Vietnam is "the single most consuming issue throughout the world." He says he made it clear everywhere on his trip that "there would be no lessening of our determination to find a satisfactory settlement as a result of this year's election — there would be no abandonment of Vietnam."

The Michigan governor verified Billy Graham

I have never committed adultery, but I have immoral thoughts all the time. Somehow I feel that this is wrong, but I wanted to ask you to be sure.

 The Bible says, "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." We actually become what we think. If we meditate upon God, and think pure thoughts, we become God-like. But, if we think lustful thoughts, as a rule, these lead to lustful deeds. That is why Jesus said: "He that looketh upon a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart." The Bible indicates that God is as much concerned about our thoughts as He is our deeds. Though we cannot, at times, keep lustful thoughts from coming to our minds, we don't need to entertain them, and the Bible says that it is sin of we do. Thoughts, like bad food, can be pushed aside. Each of us has the capacity to think good thoughts or evil. Every moment we make a decision about our thoughts. But the Bible exhorts: "Whatever things are lovely, think on these things." (Phil. 4:8).

The mind is the door to the Spirit, and if we allow evil thoughts to enter the door, our hearts will be affected. God has put a label upon every portion offered to us by Satan, and the label says: "Beware! Poison!" Again the Bible warns, "Touch not, handle not, taste not." Satan is working overtime these days to "deceive the very elect." If he cannot get you to yield to temptation, he will bombard you with evil thoughts, and these should be vigorously resisted.

what has been reported before — the fact that, while American prestige is still a plus among the people of other nations, it is declining in some areas.

MR. ROMNEY did not, however, explain what he would do if he had command of America's foreign policy. All he said was that the United States needs "a global foreign policy which is more cohesive and less dominated by expediency." He was referring, to be sure, not only to American military involvements abroad but also to foreign-aid programs, as he remarked:

"We need to define and commit our resources on a more selective and less wholesale basis. We must inspire confidence rather than resentment, and we must encourage self-sufficiency rather than dependence abroad."

PRESIDENT JOHNSON would agree with every word of this, and declare that this has been and will continue to be his objective.

What the Romney analysis proves — as other political figures who have visited Vietnam also discovered — is that the United States, having intervened in that area, cannot abandon its allies and must pursue its commitments until there is some assurance of security for independent nations in Southeast Asia.

You Seldom See An Honest Blush Anymore

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Girls who bite their fingernails are usually poor cooks. They are so jittery they try to hurry the stove.

No matter how many people work in an office, there is usually only one who will go to the trouble of emptying out the pencil sharpener when it is full—and he usually makes a long speech while doing it.

PROBABLY NO repartee is more predictable than that of a fellow who asks you during a frigid spell in January, "Cold enough for you?" You know that he can hardly wait until a heat wave comes next August so that he can wind up his repertoire of seasonal wisecracks by inquiring, "Warm enough for you?"

Now is a good time to go over your Christmas list for 1968, and strike off the names of all those who didn't send you a card in 1967. That'll teach 'em to show good will if they want good will.

YOU HARDLY ever see anybody give an honest blush anymore. We have all become so sophisticated about life, so absent from innocence, so used to fibbing, so accustomed to crudity, that if we see someone blush we simply think he or she must have a fever.

If dogs kept diaries or had their lives ruled by desk calendars and appointment books, their existence would seem as trivial as burrs does at times.

THE IDEAL moonlighting job for a psychiatrist would be to get part-time work as a bartender. At least it would be a change for him to hear the customers tell their troubles standing up.

The road to executive oblivion is paved with the daydreams of guys who thought they could get ahead in the business jungle merely by dancing with the boss's wife.

The worst fate that can happen to any man is to learn how to make a perfect martini.

The trouble with many of the intellectuals you meet today who claim they enjoyed reading "Moby Dick" is that they have such a hard time remembering the name of the whale in the book.

PEOPLE WHO work from midnight until 8 a.m. enjoy more camaraderie and generally are happier at their jobs than those who toil the conventional 9-to-5:30 daytime hours. The big reason is a feeling of greater freedom—there are fewer straw bosses looking over their shoulders as they go about their tasks.

This is Leap Year. And before it is over, a lot of guys will wish they had looked longer and leaped later—if at all.

It's Mumbling Time

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is one of those mumbling times in American history, with only a few surprises, both in problems at home and in foreign affairs.

It's a time made for mumbling:

1. The early days of a presidential election year.

2. The candidates are just getting fitted for their track suits and haven't tried them on yet.

3. CONGRESS IS away and won't be back until next week.

4. And President Johnson, holed up in his Texas ranch, is working on the new budget and the programs he wants to hand Congress when it returns.

The surprises at home were of the negative kind—the desire of some of the top men around Johnson to quit—and the shifting ground of a few words by the North Vietnamese.

They used to say that if the United States quit bombing the North, this could lead to talks about ending the war. Now they say if the bombing stops, it will lead to talks.

THE JOHNSON administration's reaction to this shift is wary. It is still mulling over the substitution of "will" for "could," a situation which may puzzle historians of a more enlightened age.

They may properly wonder why the two opponents in a war couldn't manage to communicate with each other directly so there could be no hemming, hawing, wondering, or delay if they wanted to end it.

The first negative surprise came before Congress and Johnson left the city. This was the news, leaked out instead of being announced by the White House, that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was leaving to become head of the World Bank, a job Johnson got for him.

MENAMARA reportedly wanted the job because he was tired after six years as defense chief. But there is still some question about his leaving. It is still not clear whether Johnson eased him out.

Next, Arthur W. Galbraith, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, is tired of his job and wants out. This news also was leaked. Last week Johnson announced Gardner Ackley, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors, was leaving. Johnson is making him ambassador to Italy.

And last night Johnson announced Charles E. Schultze, director of the Budget Bureau, is leaving. Both Ackley and Schultze are known to have wanted to give up their Washington jobs because both felt tired.

Around The Rim

The Great Conversation Starter

I don't see what we can ever really do about the weather other than talk about it. According to Mr. Mark Twain that's all that ever has been done and no one, he says, does anything about it.

I would hate really to see the situation change. If it did change what would we do for conversation?

I WAS CAUGHT on the receiving end nine times in a row Friday by acquaintances who asked me "What's the weather going to do?"

I never had a single chance to get my shot in first. This left me with the problem of what to reply.

Since I didn't have the slightest idea what the weather would do I could — and probably should — have said, "I don't know."

UNFORTUNATELY, a fellow just doesn't always make an honest admission of his ignorance. If he is asked a question, he feels more or less obligated to come up with some sort of answer.

I tried half a dozen answers on the nine who quizzed me about the meteorological future. I told some I thought it would get colder; others that it would warm up. I solemnly advised some that the weather would stay about as it was at that time.

Now I can feel reasonably sure that among the nine I have a number who are convinced I know my weather. I was bound to be right sometime if I changed my answers enough to cover all possible developments. The others, whom I misinformed, are probably not surprised.

I SUSPECT that being the official weather forecaster for this part of Texas is probably the most frustrating job to be found anywhere.

The Weather Bureau has certain rules which it recognizes as governing weather conditions. Unfortunately, these factors act well in other parts of the country but fall completely apart in West Texas.

Everything, let us say, according to the rule book calls for a heavy snow. The Weather Bureau evaluates this information and weighs it against the other data. The only answer they come up with is snow.

THEY TELL the country. What happens? — the sun shines all day and it's as balmy as spring. But we would really be lost, wouldn't we, if there wasn't that good old reliable "Cold enough for ya?" as an opening gambit when you meet a friend or acquaintance?

You can reply that it's cold enough; too cold, or just shrug your shoulders.

ANY ANSWER does the job — the ice is broken (not referring to any ice on the street) and you can go on and ask the other meaningful questions about how does your friend feel; how is he doing and what's cooking? If we ever get a system perfected where the weatherman can forecast exactly the kind of weather we are to have we will be deprived of 95 per cent of all of our daily issue of sprightly chitchat.

Without the weather to ask about, how do we get a conversation started? — SAM BLACKBURN

Success Through Failure

WASHINGTON — As a document, President Johnson's all-network telecast of December 29 was a confession of failure — and proof positive that failure pays off in politics.

No other human enterprise than government awards its participants for choosing methods that don't work. Nonp other keeps them on the payroll for raising fuss and feathers. This is to say that the New Deal, the Fair Deal, the New Frontier and the Great Society — covering eight terms of presidential office — were all flops which stayed in business by hocus-focus. And it is to say, in dismal candor, that LBJ can subsidize his reelection on the worthless scraps of his IOU's, the unfulfilled promises of his programs.

HE CONFESSED FAILURE, if you translate him freely, when he proposed government jobs for all whom business could not employ. The IOU's had promised jobs for free enterprise. That promise was the stated purpose of Manpower, the Job Corps, the Civil Rights labor clauses, the Education Act's vocational clauses, the U.S. employment services, the dozen or so stimulants imbedded in Public Works, highway construction, housing plans, trade policies and tax policies. They were supposed to send proficient workers into the vacant positions that business was yammering to fill. It is government which has failed, not private enterprise, so what do we get? We get the ultimate in government intervention — the wholesale hiring of all whom government has not been able to train.

THERE IS ANOTHER and more depressing reason why failure to govern well ends the Great Society a new license to govern further. Johnson is doing so badly for economic freedom that he is doing exceedingly well for economic regimentation. Ironically, for a manifesto of American economic regimentation, we must turn to a non-American. He is the India-born Britisher, Robert Theobald whose 1963 book, "Free Men and Free Markets," carries the passage which numerous American socializers have since taken as their creed:

"WE (WRITES THEOBALD) will need to adopt the concept of an absolute-constitutional right to an income. This would guarantee to every citizen of the U.S., and to every person who has resided within the U.S. for a period of five consecutive years, the right to an income from the federal government sufficient to enable him to live with dignity. No government agency, judicial body, or other organization whatever should have the power to suspend or limit any payments assured by these guarantees."

THIS SORT OF economic regimentation (the "absolute constitutional right" to direct federal payments) has become the President's next program, as stated in his telecast. The Republicans, given this advance warning, might be able to thwart him were they capable of the old college try. But in 1964, even Dr. Milton Friedman, Barry Goldwater's economic adviser, decided that paying people for not working was a good way of paying them for not revolting.

The Democrats will not knowingly be outbid in such a blackmail market. Thus the Great Society's failure has become its surety of succession. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

One Toledo Is Like Another

WASHINGTON — In order to solve the U.S. balance-of-payments problem, the President has asked Americans to refrain from leaving the Western Hemisphere for the next two years. He indicated he would back his request with legislation making it difficult for Americans to travel abroad.

This is said to have been one of the toughest proposals any U.S. President has had to make, and the controversy over it is already raging in full force.

A MANAGER for one of the Republican candidates told me his nominee's slogan to the voters in 1968 would be: "If I am elected, I will let you go to Europe."

When President Johnson gets his legislation passed, the whole picture of travel could change.

Let us go to a Holiday Inn in Toledo, Ohio. Two American tourists start a conversation.

"What brought you here?" the first tourist asks.

"WE WERE SCHEDULED to go to Toledo, Spain, but when the tourist edict went through we decided to come to Toledo, Ohio, instead. We figure one Toledo's just like another."

"Ole," the other tourist said.

"I don't understand why we can't go to Europe," the first tourist's wife said.

"It's very simple," the second tourist replied. "The United States has made so many commitments abroad that Americans can't go over there any more."

"But what's the sense of having commitments if we can't see them?" the wife asked.

sign commitments. You can't expect the richest country in the world to allow its citizens to travel willy-nilly all over the globe."

"Why not?"

"Because we can't afford it."

"But if we can't travel abroad, won't people lose confidence in the American dollar?"

"Probably."

THE HUSBAND SAID, "What I don't understand is why the United States is spending $2 billion to build a supersonic airplane that will carry 450 people to London in two and a half hours if they're not going to let anybody get on the plane."

The first tourist was exasperated. "The plane is not being built for Americans. It's being built for Europeans to fly in who are not encumbered by travel restrictions."

"Well, that makes sense," the wife said.

"YOU SEE, if enough Europeans visit America, then our dollar deficit will be balanced and then we'll be allowed to visit them."

"Buy why would European tourists want to visit America?"

"Because, since American tourists haven't been permitted to visit Europe, all the anti-American feeling there has disappeared and they really have a warm spot in their heart for us again."

Get With New Styles —Or Show Your Age!

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Only a catty female judges the age of another woman, but the age of her clothes are fair game.

By the close Sunday night of the style previews held for fashion editors by the New York Couture Group the rules were well established for scoring at a glance the fashion age of a lady's costume.

Try this test:
1. Does the skirt swing? Give the girl a plus for gathers, gores, pleats—boxed, knife and fan—and give her nowhere for the shift or sheath.

2. Are her knees rosy? Then she has hiked her hemline above the knees for daytime. She's au courant, even though she may be a midi or a maxi hemline advocate, she won't as yet wear these lengths until after the sun goes down this year.

3. Does she have a waist? Though it may be larger than it was before she began to wear tents two years ago, she has it back again, if she's fashion-conscious. Belts, sashes and tucks tell it's there.

4. Are her sleeves midlength? For shame. If she is with it, she will wear wrist length sleeves or none at all.

5. Is her head woolly as a kewpie doll's? Never mind last year's straight boyish look. Never mind the curlers at the breakfast table. She's up to date with her hair style.

6. Is her dress black? Careful, this question is tricky. Give her points if she's under 40. Subtract points if she wears black for day and is past that age. It does nothing to improve her coloring.

7. Does she wear white for night? She's an angel, from the fashion designer's point of view. Score her high.

8. Does she wear high heels and pointed toes? She should go to the bottom of the fashion class. She can redeem herself by wearing platform soles, preferably contrasted in color to the shoe itself. Or she can wear squat pumps with bright-colored sculptured heels.

Gangster Styles Unveiled

Dolls Become Molls In Fashion Previews

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Geoffrey Beene has designed a wardrobe patterned after gangster styles. At the spring style shows held by the American Designer Series Monday bold broad stripes were borrowed by Beene for stark coats and jacket suits cut short over black stockings and with striped fedoras to match. His Sicilian widows were properly sad but fashionable in midlength dresses of black lace, sashed at the middle.

The Mafia moll was a flamboyant doll in bold blue and white stripe from her chin to her shins with plenty of ostrich feathers here and there to tickle her fancy.

Other roles in Beene's bag of tricks were that of the English dandy with walking stick and patent leather hat; or the music hall girl from the prohibition era, with gaudy beaded bodice and little else but those ostrich feathers; or Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm with white organza blouse and calico skirt to her ankles.

Connally Nixes Liquor Probe By Senate Panel

DALLAS (AP) — Gov. John Connally feels any investigation of the Texas Liquor Control Board should come from the board itself or from a local grand jury, the Dallas Times Herald said today.

parliament of Public Safety step into the investigation.

Committee: we haven't got any business investigating criminal stuff."

Sadler Named City Manager

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Colorado City councilmen voted Monday night to hire J. A. Sadler Jr., 42-year-old Colorado City native, as city manager to replace Ford Merritt, who is retiring Feb. 1.

Connally referred to Dallas as the "only trouble spot I've heard of," the newspaper report said.

Wade's request of help from the DPS came as it was disclosed that Coke Stevenson Jr., liquor board administrator, has ordered the transfer of Thomas W. Head to the job of Dallas district supervisor.

Pole Smash Hurts Driver

Sidney Thomas Clark Jr., 2802 Clanton, was being X-rayed this morning to determine the extent of his injuries at Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital after a car he was driving struck a utility pole at FM 700 and the south side of the Veterans Administration Hospital at 1:36 a.m.

Seven Receive Certificates

Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent, spoke to the seven graduates of the second class of nurses' aides at Big Spring State Hospital Friday in the Allred Auditorium. He discussed "Four Principles of Nursing According to Florence Nightingale."

Moves to investigate the liquor board have developed since six of its Dallas agents were fired in December over asserted irregularities.

Four Craft Posts Open

Four more places are available in the carpentry pre-apprenticeship training program, and young men interested in learning a good craft will be taken on a first-come, first-served basis until the class is filled.

Wendell Jarnigan, Jaycee President, Gave Council Results

Wendell Jarnigan, Jaycee president, gave the council the results of a recent survey of a sample cross section of citizens in strong and weak points of the town. Major deficiencies were listed as job and recreation opportunities for adult and teenagers. Schools rated excellent.

IN AMARILLO Mayor Suggests All Commissioners Quit

AMARILLO (AP) — Amarillo Mayor J. Ernest Stroud proposed Monday that he and the four members of the city commission resign, saying the "situation at city hall has come to a complete impasse."

He has no takers among the commissioners. The city commission has been stormy since it and Stroud took office last May. The latest row came last week when the commission held a series of closed hearings over charges by Stroud that city switchboard operators were listening in on official calls.

Reagan Asks Tax Overhaul; Proposes Curfew In Cities

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan asked the legislature today to forget partisanship and give him a major tax overhaul to provide relief for the man who "is working 2 1/2 hours out of every eight-hour day just to pay his taxes."

His speech dwelled on what he considers his No. 1 priority — the first overhaul of California's tax laws in 35 years. He promised to oppose any tax increase. Last year, the legislature gave him a $1 billion tax hike.

He called for changes in the sales tax, the property tax and other levies. He offered no details, saying they will come later.

Nixon Predicts 'War In Streets'

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard Nixon says the nation can expect "not riot in the streets, but war in the streets," next summer.

He says a riot is spontaneous, but "a war is subject to advance planning and the radicals are presently planning the destruction of public facilities and the bringing of great cities to their knees."

Investigations that have been made, the reports on these investigations and on various quotations from various individuals who quote blatantly — and here I'm speaking of a small, virulent group, I guess the Black Power groups — who talk in terms of revolution instead of in terms of progress and peaceful change."

DOLLAR SQUEEZE

He proposed curfew restrictions to prevent violence in the cities and trespass laws "to keep the disrupting nonstudent and the troublemakers from interfering with the orderly processes of education."

The governor also pledged to maintain law and order on the streets and the college campuses.

The former vice president also said in a speech Monday night that the United States is "torn apart by a race conflict that runs very deep."

Six Traffic Warrants Out

The weekend accumulation of charges brought the total filed in Corporation Court Monday to 40 with fines assessed in the amount of $460. Six warrants were also issued for those who had not answered their traffic violation tickets.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue: BUD HARRELSON, shortstop for the New York Mets, was asked at a sports forum what his team needed in 1968: "Well, first, a sense of humor."

CLETE BOYER, infielder for the Atlanta Braves: "They might trade me away for saying this but... we had ten or 12 guys last season who went all out all the time, guys who wanted to win. But there were others who showed no desire. You can't win every game, and I don't think professional athletes should sit around and pout when they lose a game in which they have done everything they could do to win and have still lost. But what gets me is things like what happened in St. Louis our last time in there. We had just blown a game we should have won, and some of our outfielders came walking through the dressing room laughing. I couldn't believe it. You gotta want to win worse than that. A guy that would do that would have to be a real loser. If I was the manager—a real strong 500 at that—before he could play... We had one relief pitcher last year who got bombed in a game and he was in the shower room rushing to get away from the park before I even got to my locker."

Pro footballer TOMMY McDONALD, after playing on last-place teams in Dallas, Los Angeles and Atlanta: "I've been moved to the cellar so much, people must think I'm a winemaker. And I don't even drink."

DAJ REES, British Ryder Cup golfer: "The Americans make more personal heroes of their players than do the British. The people are more excitable. They applaud if the ball is just hit straight. It doesn't have to go into the hole. A good shot sends them into ecstasies... Day in and day out, week in and week out, year in and year out, Ben Hogan was the best shotmaker who ever lived."

Chicago sports scribe JACK GRIFFITH: "There long has been an arrogance among many sports team owners about treatment of the dues-paying public, and frequently they feel the only thing the public should know is the price of the ticket."

An Ohio State professor, commenting on the many student protests taking place on campuses these days: "The only time it's dull around here is when Woody Hayes' football team plays."

BO HOGAN, football coach at Rice: "When I coached at SMU, we had trouble interesting the boys in playing Paul Hornung and Notre Dame. There's just a natural inclination down here to get ready for each other than for outsiders. When I left Georgia Tech, Frank Broyles, who had coached at Baylor, told me, 'Now you're going to find out what a conference game is really like.' And he was right."

GEORGE SISLER, former major league batting great: "Today's players should blame themselves if they don't hit 300. Any good batter can hit 300. In fact, there's no good reason why he couldn't hit over 400. It can still be done. Today's hitters guess too much. A batter who tries to guess with the pitcher—most of the time he's afraid of a certain pitch. The only way he can hit it is by guessing when it's coming. You figure most pitchers have four pitches so the odds are 3-1 against a guess right there. Then if he guesses right, he usually swings at the ball even if it's not in the strike zone. A batter needs intelligence first. Judgment. Confidence. The mental things. They're more important than the physical... Then comes body control, quick wrists, good eyes."

Commodores Lose To Vols, 64-62

The victory gave the Volunteers the defending Southeastern Conference Champions an 8-1 overall record and a 2-0 conference mark. Vanderbilt now is 10-3 overall and 3-3 in the SEC.

Fourth-ranked Kentucky, the only other Top Ten team to play Monday night, rolled to an 84-76 victory over Alabama and stayed a half-game in front of Tennessee with a 3-0 SEC record. The Wildcats are 9-1 overall.

Tennessee built up an eight-point halftime lead, but the Commodores from Nashville, Tenn., fought back to tie the game six times, the last at 60-60.

Then, Billy Hahn and Larry Mansfield made two foul shots apiece and the Orange Tie Club could relax. Gene Lockyear scored for Vanderbilt at the buzzer for the final margin.

Bill Justus led the Volunteers with 22 points and Tom Hagan topped Vanderbilt with 16. Phil Argenito broke loose with 23 of his 24 points in the second half, two of them coming on foul shots to put Kentucky ahead to stay at 78-76 with 1:12 remaining. Mike Nordholz paced Alabama with 21.

Pipers Start A New Streak In Pro Loop

By The Associated Press Pittsburgh's 15-game winning string recently was snapped but the Pipers have quickly started another streak—one game to edge within nine percentage points of first place in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball Association.

Chico Vaughn's 15-foot jump shot with two seconds remaining gave the Pipers a 109-107 road victory over Houston while first-place Minnesota was losing a 107-103 decision at Kentucky.

New Jersey topped Anaheim 124-118 at Portland, Ore., in other ABA action Monday night.

In the National Basketball Association, the New York Knicks won their fourth straight game with a 119-113 victory at Seattle in the only game scheduled.

Larry Leek, the former Odessa star, Obie Garrett and Jimmy Pose are among the South Plains standouts. HCJC will be seeking its 11th victory. The Hawks have been defeated eight times.

The Big Springers own conference victories over Lubbock Christian College and Amarillo College.

Coach Buddy Travis likely will start a team composed of Larry Linder, Robert Jackson, Walter Stuart, Terry Fields and Hiron Hubert.

HCJC visits Odessa for another league game Friday night.

The Hawks won't be seen in action here again until a week from tonight, at which time they host NMMI.

Aggies Slam Tech, 94-81

By The Associated Press Three Southwest Conference basketball teams with perfect 2-0 league records face stern tests tonight with at least one to suffer its first loss.

Chicago sports scribe JACK GRIFFITH: "There long has been an arrogance among many sports team owners about treatment of the dues-paying public, and frequently they feel the only thing the public should know is the price of the ticket."

An Ohio State professor, commenting on the many student protests taking place on campuses these days: "The only time it's dull around here is when Woody Hayes' football team plays."

BUSINESS REVIEW

BIG SPRING (TEXAS) HERALD, TUESDAY, JANUARY 9, 1968

FLEET OF EQUIPMENT
McMahon Concrete Co. has the necessary equipment for any concrete job

McMahon Can Supply All Of Your Concrete Needs

McMahon Concrete Co., 601 N. Benton, has the concrete or concrete product for any concrete job or project in the Howard County area.

They have the proper mixture of concrete for any type of job, including mixers for foundations, bridges, culverts, sidewalks, driveways, curbs, gutters and street pavement. If concrete can do the job, McMahon has the mixture.

Huge mixing shippers have been set up on the lot where trucks back under the chutes and load, an extraordinarily fast method of loading the proper mixture. Just set your forms and call McMahon's radio-equipped trucks for delivery of the concrete you need. They have 10 concrete trucks, two dump trucks, two flat-bed trucks, four pickups and five front-end loaders.

McMahon Concrete is a supplier, but should you have construction work to be done requiring concrete, they have a list of local contractors for your consideration. Put your own ideas to work in items that can be made of concrete — McMahon can make it from your own design.

Pre-cast concrete items are in the fastest growing department at McMahon Concrete. Contractors of industrial buildings as well as homes are using more pre-cast concrete to make construction quicker. The durability of concrete has been proven through the years and it is now proving its versatility.

Roof sections is one of the latest additions to the pre-cast department. They have been making pre-cast wall panels for some time. These wall panels from McMahon were used in construction of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, 306 W. 3rd. The fence at the Rehabilitation Center is also from McMahon and is pre-cast sections two inches thick and six feet in length. This particular fence is made with exposed aggregate; however, if you do not wish to have a rough surface from the exposed rock, you may have a smooth concrete surface. With the fence made in sections, two men can quickly enclose a yard.

Farmers and ranchers find using pre-cast water and feed troughs an asset in raising cattle and horses. Water standing in concrete troughs does not cause deterioration and neither does the concrete absorb heat or cold as quickly as the metal containers. Should the farmer not find the troughs or other concrete items to suit his needs, McMahon will pre-cast the needed item from the farmer's own design.

Recently McMahon made pre-cast seating for the Midland Racquet Club.

It is no longer necessary to smooth concrete with a trowel or a piece of "two by four." McMahon stocks Whitman finishing machines and tools to complete work on the poured concrete. Rotary blades finish off the mixture to the proper surface.

When you are doing your spring and summer planning, remember the patio furniture and patio blocks that have long been a popular item at McMahon. Enjoy patio furniture that will withstand any weather. It is not necessary to store your concrete patio furniture in the winter since no painting or upkeep is necessary.

Patio blocks come in a variety of sizes and colors, but should you not find in stock the size and shape you desire, McMahon will cast your blocks according to your design. Start planning now for that patio for your entire family enjoyment.

McMahon Concrete Company, located at 605 N. Benton, on the Snyder highway, is open Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and on Saturday from 7 a.m. to noon.

Cities' Noose May Grow Even Tighter

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — With the nation's central cities already tied in a knot of social and economic problems, a relatively little noted government report suggests that the noose may grow even tighter.

By 1975, said the Economic Development Administration during the weekend, additional job shortages may develop in larger cities as millions flee poverty in their rural homes.

"The projected problem is that by 1975 the 25 largest metropolitan areas, excluding those in California, will have a potential shortage of 2.9 million jobs," said the agency, a part of the Commerce Department.

Unfortunately, the inability to assimilate millions of immigrants from rural areas already is at the root of urban poverty, riots, slums and ignorance—and solutions are slow in being proposed and often botched in the attempt to carry them out.

Now, it is suggested, the factors that drove 10 million rural people to the city in the 1950s is being intensified. Rural poverty is deepening. The subsistence farmer, the tenant and the sharecropper are being forced out.

Farming today is a business. It is highly mechanized, scientific in its methods and requires a large outlay of capital. The land and buildings alone on an average farm are worth more than $57,000.

As business-like methods were introduced, farm production soared. Each farmer now supplies about 41 other people with food, a tremendous increase from the 14 he supplied just 20 years ago. Per acre corn production, for example, is up 100 per cent since the late 1940s.

It is not difficult, therefore, to see that the uneducated and poor are ill equipped to compete in modern rural society. A revolution has passed them by, and so they move to the city.

Between 1960 and 1966 farm population dropped four million, with the greatest decrease being among nonwhites and those in their mid-20s and mid-30s. In 20 years the number of farmers decreased to less than 3.7 million from 7.9 million.

This leaves the successful residents of rural America relatively better off than they used to be, but it produces the opposite for the cities which must assimilate the rural emigrants.

Many refugees from the farm are far less able to cope with city life than the earlier immigrants from Europe, some of whom had lived in cities all their lives.

One result of this is to make the city less livable, in the opinion of many old-time city dwellers. The suburbs, in the nearby areas, is still under way and may even intensify. The very people who are needed to help solve the problem have made themselves unavailable.

COMPLETE STOCK OF TIRES
Creighton Tire Co. stocks new tire by Seiberling—Super Wide Sports

Super Wide Sports Tire Now In Stock At Creighton Tire

Creighton Tire Co., 601 Gregg, has in stock a new tire by Seiberling — Super Wide Sports, the tire of 1970.

The Super Wide Sports tire has new wide-tread for high performance, longer mileage. With sporty red-line on one side and conventional white trim on the other, Super Wide Sports offers tremendous advantages.

They've been designed to fit a wide variety of automobiles. Seiberling Super Wide Sports tires deliver the superior stability and handling control required for modern, high-performance cars, and have been specially engineered to deliver top mileage, too. A combination of unique tread design and special molding process does the trick.

The 4-ply, nylon cord tires, with a flat-contour, 7-rib tread, feature a totally enclosed sides and tie-bar reinforcing between ribs, for improved handling characteristics and longer wear. Super Wide Sports are produced through a special concave-molding process that more evenly distributes rubber across the tread's face. That reduces heat build up and results in cooler run along at high speeds for extended tire life.

Top by 601 Gregg and let Charlie Creighton or Dalton Carr show you the Super Wide Sports tire that outpuls other winter tires and yet runs smoothly and quietly on dry roads.

One of their most popular tires is the Seiberling 200 Sealed-Aire. Distinctively styled and performance rated at the top, this tire provides all the desirable qualities of comfort, safety, security, control and service you would expect in the finest tire made by Seiberling.

In addition to its superiority in comfort and control, the 200 Sealed-Aire provides the security of positive puncture protection. The puncture-sealing works in the following manner: when an object punctures the tire, the sealing gum clings to the object, keeping air in. When the object is removed, gum follows it through the puncture, sealing the break. In ordinary puncture-sealing tires, normal internal heat will semi-liquify the sealant, allowing it to shift position. You lose both puncture protection and tire balance. Sealed-Aire bulkheads built permanently into the crown of the tire, keep the sealant in position, give you unflinching puncture protection and retention of balance.

The Sealed-Aire has new continental styling. They are distinctively styled from bead to crown. The Sealed-Aire is highlighted by a smart pattern of black and white radial ribs plus a slim ribbon whitewall — ideally proportioned to complement modern automotive styling. Everyone will know at a glance that you've chosen the finest tire of all.

Another exclusive feature of Sealed-Aire is thermo-vents — air conditioning vents, built into the shoulder area, permitting excess internal heat to escape, allowing the tire to run cooler. This protects against the danger of blow-outs and other heat-caused failures. Tires run cooler, safer and last longer.

This safety tire has stabilizing wrap-around tread rib descends well into the shoulder area providing traction where you've never had it before. Eliminated tread roll-over in cornering smooths out changing road patterns, rides up and over ruts and ridges with complete steering control. Provides new handling ease, unprecedented control and directional stability.

The latest advance in tire rubber compounding slows heat build-up, improves traction in all weather and extends tire life. You gain outstanding roadability, softer, quieter ride and bonus miles.

The Sealed-Aire has wide, deep hi-traction tread. Greater road contact area improves traction and stability, distributes load over larger surface for increased tread life. The highly tractive pattern provides maximum grip under braking and acceleration.

Another popular tire at Creighton Tire Co. is the Supreme 150 — the maximum performance tire. It has the wide, deep, hi-traction tread, long mileage rubber and exclusive thermo-vents to let internal heat escape. It is constructed of Nyltex cord — a balance of stronger nylon cord and easier riding rayon cord. The Supreme 150 is an outstanding, good-looking tire. It has made a lot of tire "fuss-budgets" happy.

Many other tires for automobiles and trucks are stocked by Creighton Tire Co. Farmers and ranchers are finding that the place to find any size tractor tire is at Creightons, 601 Gregg.

Take your tire problems — whether car, tractor or truck — to Creighton Tire Co. where Creighton, Carr or one of their trained personnel will have the answer for you.

Congress Pay Hikes Set Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of Congress have set themselves up for possible pay raises every four years without the public relations problems that could be involved if they actually voted themselves more money.

Formal recommendations on whether there should be an increase—and how much—will be primarily the responsibility of a special commission and the President.

$30,000 A YEAR

While the President would forward final recommendations to Congress, members would not have to stand up and be counted on whether they should be put into effect.

Their salary level, now $30,000 a year, would go automatically to the recommended figure in 30 days if Congress did not vote to reject or reduce it.

The nine-member commission will be appointed this July by the President, vice president, House speaker and chief justice. Its proposals must be in the President's hands by the end of 1969 and they will be submitted to Congress with the presidential budget message early in 1970. The procedure will be repeated every four years.

Along with recommendations for congressional salaries, the commission will propose pay scales for top-level members of the executive branch, including Cabinet officers, and for the federal judiciary.

The salary panel was created after a sharp House-Senate conflict, in a catch-all bill that, among other things, raised postal rates, boosted federal salaries and barred nepotism in congressional and other federal offices.

EASY WAY

The House was all for the salary commission. The Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee was dead set against it.

Senators contended congressmen should be willing to justify and take full responsibility for raising their salaries. Turning the job over to outsiders, they said, was taking the easy way out.

The Senators finally yielded in a conference to resolve differences on the two bills.

Agreeing to the commission was the price they paid for acceptance of their proposal to raise third-class mail rates to higher levels than those approved by the House.

The Senate—a smaller body with a greater percentage of members with sizable private incomes—was not as concerned as the House over the salary issue.

Bill Takes Aim At War Protesters

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill that would set stiff new penalties for those whose opposition to U.S. policy in Vietnam extends to aiding the enemy will kick off House debate on the war this year.

The measure sponsored by Rep. Joe R. Pool, D-Tex., would provide penalties up to $20,000 and 20 years imprisonment for persons convicted of helping the North Vietnamese or Viet Cong. The penalties could reach $10,000 and five years for those who block or try to block U.S. troops.

FLOOR FIGHT

It is one of only two bills that already have cleared the Rules Committee and thus is ready for House consideration when Congress reconvenes next week.

Backed by all but one member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, the bill generated administration opposition—plus a flurry of patriotic oratory—when the House voted last Nov. 17 by a 211 to 27 margin to consider it.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark and other administrative officials have maintained the bill is unnecessary, a stand supported by only Rep. John C. Culver, D-Iowa, among the nine committee members.

Culver says he'll wage a floor fight against the bill by warning it actually undermines "U.S. troops in Vietnam" by acting contrary to constitutional principles we all advocate in meeting a problem for which better solutions exist."

Democratic Committee Approves Vote Formula

CHICAGO (AP) — The Democratic National Committee closed a two-day briefing session for the 1968 nominating convention Monday and approved a formula which sets convention votes and delegates for each state.

The approximately 100 ranking Democrats set the total number of votes for the convention, scheduled Aug. 26 in Chicago, at 2,262.

The determination of each state's votes was reached by a three-point formula. Each state will receive three votes for each of its members of Congress. Each state which the Democrats carried in 1964 will receive 10 bonus votes and each state except Alabama will get one extra vote for each 100,000 votes cast in the state for the 1964 national ticket.

ALABAMA SLAPPED

Alabama was automatically excluded from the last category because President Johnson was not on the ballot there.

Chairman John Bailey told the meeting Monday that the President's popularity was on the upswing and that he would be nominated in August and elected in November.

He added that the Republican surge had reached its peak and was declining. Bailey said the Republicans would split their ranks after the various potential candidates attacked one another.

Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago promised the committee that there will be no interference from protest groups during the convention. He thanked the committee for selecting Chicago as the convention site.

'Feeding Frenzy' Awesome Climax To Spirited Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Sharks, said Jacques-Yves Cousteau in the warm and almost reverent voice he used for everything about his beloved ocean, are "splendid savages—magnificent inhabitants of the seas."

They are also fierce and frightening fish turned into rip-scent of blood or the sight of prey. An hour report on the investigation of these predators of the deep by the French oceanographer and the crew of his laboratory ship opened "The Undersea World of Jacques-Yves Cousteau" on ABC Monday night.

LAST FRONTIER

The photography, much of it filmed with special equipment in "man's last frontier on earth," was startlingly beautiful, and what it showed was often brutal. Shown in great detail were experiments indicating that sharks—"who have come out of the remote past virtually intact"—are attracted to food by scent, have sharp vision, and feel and react to vibrations in the water.

The awesome climax of the program was unique film of a "feeding frenzy" when a pack of hungry sharks were teased by food bait into attacking even each other. Most impressive were the daring divers working with practically no protection close to sharks in order to tag them for a study of their migratory habits.

It was a spirited, impressive start for a series which will be shown at irregular times over the next five years.

Monday's episode of ABC's "Peyton Place" should not go unobserved. For better or for worse, it was the 400th episode of the nighttime serial which is now healthily into its fourth year with no signs of structural fatigue.

It is almost impossible for the occasional viewer to know much about the plots and subplots that are constantly developing but there seems to be plenty of story tossed around.

In just 30 crowded minutes Monday night there were two assaults and one killing, and mysterious problems—the regulars obviously knew what the wrangling was about. A doctor was reminiscing to a patient at length about his boyhood. And there was talk of something being funny about the death of a woman at old Martin Peyton's place. Well, you can tell it's a busy show even if you don't know what it's all about.

INauguration Set For ASC Prexy

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Inauguration of Dr. Lloyd Drezell Vincent as president of Angelo State College is set for later this year. Dr. Vincent assumed the post Sept. 1, succeeding Dr. Raymond M. Cavness.

Dr. Ollie Cauthen of the ASC administration was named chairman of the committee to plan the inauguration.

Constitutional Doubts Raised In Death Trial

WACO (AP)—Texas statutes authorizing the death penalty were under defense attack as Oscar Francis Turner, 24, of Dallas went to trial on a murder charge today.

Turner and Willis Scott, also 24 and from Dallas, were arrested and charged after the fatal shootings of Anton Kaska, 41, and his son David, 20, last June 8—in a gas station holdup at West Scott will be tried later.

Prior to the questioning of prospective jurors today, court-appointed defense lawyers Joel Westbrook and Charles Wallace asked Monday that prosecutors be forbidden to qualify members of the jury on the death penalty. Dist. Judge Dick Hall denied the motion.

Turner's lawyers argued that

Lurleen Back For Radiation

HOUSTON (AP)—Gov. Lurleen Wallace of Alabama was to receive today her second radiation therapy treatment aimed at destroying a small growth in her pelvic area.

Doctors at M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute said the nodule—the third growth discovered in Mrs. Wallace's lower abdomen in the past two years—may be malignant.

Mrs. Wallace accompanied by her husband, former Alabama Gov. George Wallace, arrived in Houston Monday and immediately checked into a motel near the Texas Medical Center. Within an hour, Mrs. Wallace was at the hospital for her first treatment.

The nodule, about the size of a pecan, was discovered during tests last Tuesday and Wednesday at Anderson where she underwent cancer surgery in July.

The new series of powerful betatron radiation therapy treatments are expected to continue on weekdays for three to four weeks.

Mrs. Wallace, 41, will be an out-patient and go to the hospital only for the radiation treatments. She will be allowed to fly to Alabama on weekends.

Wolman Is Given Additional Time

BALTIMORE (AP)—Jerry Wolman has been given more time to file a detailed list of his assets and liabilities in his court effort to avoid bankruptcy and save investments which include the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

A deadline Monday, already an extension, was delayed until Jan. 23 by Joseph O. Kaiser, referee in bankruptcy for the U.S. District Court of Maryland.

Lawyers for the 40-year-old sportsman and real estate developer said that despite diligent efforts it had been impossible to complete a statement on Wolman's financial affairs.

Scout Exec Named

FORT WORTH (AP)—H. Kirk Henry of Fort Worth, Boy Scout executive of the Longhorn Council at Fort Worth, has been named Region 9 executive. He will supervise the 35 Scout councils in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

More Attractive Package Urged By New President

"We now must strive to put some ribbons and bows on our package—the package we try to sell to new investors," said Dr. Milton W. Talbot Jr. in brief remarks Monday to the board of directors of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

Talbot was taking over as president of the organization for 1968.

"Our mission has always been to make our town, and to make it a better place in which to live. Along with this, we must decide to offer a more attractive 'package' which we hold forth to new industries or new businesses. We need a more attractive city, and one more concerned with refinements."

Talbot also said "I think this year we need to be concerned with selling our city to ourselves. It seems to me, for a year or two, there has been evidence of apathy and even pessimism. We have got to look ahead; we must create more on-going enthusiasm; we must gain forward momentum for our city."

Talbot called on C-C directors, and all its members to carry a full share of the tasks ahead.

In addition to directors elected by the membership, the president named three others to serve a one-year term. These are Bob Hickson, Lowell Jones and Jack Little.

He also named to the executive committee John Currie and Marvin Miller. They serve with current officers: Talbot, Don Wornack, Clyde Hollingsworth, Carroll Davidson; and the immediate past president, Dr. Lee O. Rogers.

Water Bids Slated

BALMORIEA, Tex. (AP)—Engineering consultants for the Madera Valley Water Supply Corp. are making final plans in tion of water system in the spring. The group's steering committee has decided to charge $100 for a few memberships in the corporation.
