Hill Enters Race For Governor

AUSTIN (AP) — Secretary of State John L. Hill said today he will be a Democratic candidate for governor.

Hill has said previously he would resign as secretary of state at the same time he announces. "I offer myself as a free, independent, experienced and unentangled candidate who can and will make my own decisions," said the Houston lawyer who was appointed secretary of state by Gov. John Connally March 12, 1966.

'Where I Stand'

He noted that other announced candidates had said they would announce definite platforms later. "I have prepared my platform to show exactly where I stand," he said, distributing a 16½ page statement of issues.

The platform said Hill, if elected, would present the 1969 legislature a proposed new or revised state Constitution. Hill said he favored the pay-as-you-go principal in state government financing, speedier trials and less coddling of criminals, judicial redistricting, regional police academies, and expansion of the juvenile parole system.

He said he would veto any legislation to abolish the Texas Rangers. He said he would ask immediate money for a state-wide traffic safety program, traffic courts of record and strict enforcement of vehicle inspection laws.

Supports Education

Hill promised to support continued efforts for greater excellence in Texas high education, junior colleges and high schools. He said he would ask increased support to attract industry and tourists to Texas.

He said he wanted to keep the right-to-work law but he thought the industrial safety law should be strengthened and workmen's compensation payments increased. Hill said he favored the oil depletion allowance and a "continued balanced tax program — in equity to corporations and individuals."

FIGHT INFLATION

Holds Road Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Transportation Alan S. Boyd announced today that $600 million in federal highway money will be held back during the 1968 calendar year to fight inflation.

The department said this was a five per cent reduction in the level of obligation to states in 1967.

But the federal highway fund is growing each year, and the reduction will put the level about 13 per cent below what will be available this year.

"The total obligational level for this calendar year will be $4.115 billion," Boyd said. He described the holdback as a "modest but essential move to combat general inflationary tendencies in the economy."

Mustang Dog Food

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, Mont. (AP) — Say you're bothered by those 200 wild horses on your quarter-million-acre Montana ranch?

That has been the problem for 10 years at the Lingshire Ranch northwest of White Sulphur Springs.

The horses have been running wild in the area since 1954, when the ranch owner turned out a number of Morgan, American Standard, Arabian and palomino horses from his herd of riding stock.

The ranch owner was the late Wellington D. Rankin.

Corraling the maverick mustangs previously has been impossible because of the vast distances of rugged terrain involved.

As Lingshire ranch hand Joe Dedmon put it: "What's the use of killing a $300 saddle horse to catch a $35 mustang?"

The solution? A roundup in the dead of winter using snowmobiles.

Jack Jessup and his crew of snowmobile drivers — or drovers — had corralled more than 200 of the animals last week.

Less than half of the captured wild horses may be used as rodeo stock and the rest are headed for a dog food cannery.

Not Important

MOSCOW (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson flew into Moscow today to meet with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin for talks that diplomatic observers expected to produce little of significance.

Kosygin met Wilson at the snow-covered airport with the temperature at seven below zero.

Survive Destruction

Tearful women and children watch a South Vietnamese soldier walk by as U.S. and Vietnamese troops occupy a destroyed Viet Cong hamlet in the Que Son valley about 25 miles south of Da Nang. After intensive air strikes and artillery barrages, the village was taken in a sporadic firefight with guerrillas and North Vietnamese soldiers. All civilians later were evacuated.

Allies Leave Town To Red Invaders

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese defenders abandoned the town of Khe Sanh under pressure of North Vietnamese army regulars today and several thousand civilians fled for their lives.

About two dozen U.S. Marines and 40 South Vietnamese militiamen pulled out of the town in South Vietnam's threatened northwest corner after repeated weekend attacks by a force estimated to number 600 North Vietnamese.

DECISION

Marine commanders said the decision for the withdrawal was made because of the danger that the North Vietnamese could overrun the town at any time. The commanders added that 3,000 Marines based at the Khe Sanh combat camp two miles outside the town were spread too thin to provide reinforcements.

After the weekend attacks in the Khe Sanh area, the enemy set up today but continued to lob mortar rounds into U.S. and South Vietnamese positions.

Waves of B52 bombers pounded suspected enemy positions in the Khe Sanh Valley area.

Khe Sanh is seven miles east of the Laotian border and 16 miles south of the demilitarized zone dividing the two Vietnams. U.S. officials said the North Vietnamese were striking from staging bases in Communist-held territory in Laos in hopes of scoring a spectacular military victory for propaganda purposes.

Associated Press correspondent Robert D. Ohman reported from Khe Sanh residents of the town were streaming into the Marine combat camp in the valley with their pots, pans and bundles of belongings. They were forced to dive into trenches on several occasions when enemy mortar rounds fell. The refugees were being airlifted to Da Nang on the coast.

As the U.S. jets raked Communist rocket and mortar sites, North Vietnamese gunners zeroed in on a Marine A4 Skyhawk and sent it plummeting to the earth in a ball of flames, the 225th U.S. plane lost in combat over South Vietnam. The pilot parachuted and was rescued.

TWO LOST

The U.S. Command also announced the loss of two more planes over North Vietnam, bringing the total announced U.S. combat losses in the North to 792 planes. All four crewmen were missing. U.S. headquarters said an Air Force F4 Phantom went down due to "unknown causes" in the southern panhandle Saturday and a Marine A6 Intruder also was lost to "unknown causes" on Friday.

A U.S. spokesman reported two mortar rounds were fired at the Khe Sanh camp today, causing no casualties, but otherwise no fighting had been reported in the valley since Sunday.

Kasperak Dies, Doctors Say No Rejection Sign

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Although Mike Kasperak died on the 15th day after his diseased heart was replaced, his doctor feels transplant operations will be continued.

"There was no evidence of rejection of the heart," Dr. Norman E. Shumway told newsmen Sunday at Stanford University Medical Center. "If the findings of the post-mortem bear this out, then we feel we have every basis on which to plan another clinical attempt."

COMPLICATIONS

Kasperak, 54, died at 1:43 a.m. Sunday following kidney failure, liver failure and other complications.

"We think that we are in the process of making observations of tremendous importance to other possible (heart) recipients and to the medical community as well," Dr. Shumway said.

Kasperak's substitute heart, taken from the body of Mrs. Virginia White, 43, after she succumbed to a stroke, apparently functioned well to the time of his death.

Dr. Shumway, who headed the transplant team, said that "what should be emphasized is that during this time he survived a fantastic galaxy of complications which we have seen before in other kinds of cardiac patients, but never in such profusion.

"We think that because of his normal cardiac action, he was able to survive first of all renal (kidney) failure, then hepatic or liver failure and then following this three major operations, all of which were done, of course, during the time that his circulation was moved by a transplanted heart," Dr. Shumway said.

"We feel that any one of these complications I mentioned would have been lethal had it not been for the cardiac transplant."

One of Britain's leading heart specialists Dr. Donald Ross, commented in London: "It is not surprising that Mr. Kasperak died. But I am amazed that they have been able to keep him alive so long."

Ross, chief surgeon at the National Heart Hospital, said complications of internal bleeding alone would account for Kasperak's death—as for many other deaths following open heart surgery.

B52 Carrying H-Bombs Falls In Greenland

No Danger Of Explosion At Crash Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — A B52 bomber carrying nuclear weapons crashed in Greenland Sunday, the Pentagon announced today.

A Defense Department statement said the atomic devices were unarmed "so that there is no danger of a nuclear explosion at the crash site."

7 ABOARD

Seven crewmen were aboard the Air Force B52, and five are known to have survived. One body had been found and search and rescue operations are under way for the seventh.

The Pentagon said the plane crashed about 3:40 p.m. EST Sunday on the ice of North Star Bay some seven miles southwest of the runway at the Thule defense area, Greenland.

The Pentagon said the plane was attempting an emergency landing but there was no indications as to the difficulty.

The five known survivors parachuted from the plane. The craft was assigned to the 380th Bomb Wing at Plattsburgh Air Force Base, N.Y.

No civilian property was damaged, the Pentagon said.

PROBE

An Air Force investigating team from Strategic Air Command headquarters at Omaha, Neb., was sent to Thule to probe the cause of the accident.

The Pentagon said it had no further information on the accident at mid-morning.

There was no immediate word from the Air Force on whether the nuclear bombs aboard the B52 were lost, or if recovered, how badly damaged the weapons were.

Nor was it clear whether the B52 had plunged through the ice.

The B52s normally carry several hydrogen bombs and orbit the fringes of the North American continent continuously to be within close striking range of the Soviet Union in case nuclear war should erupt.

The accident was the first involving a nuclear bomb-carrying plane since January 17, 1966, when another B52 was involved in a refueling collision with a KC135 tanker off the coast of Spain.

One of four nuclear bombs aboard that B52 plunged into the Mediterranean off Spain's coast, touching off an historic weeks' long search. The Navy finally recovered the bomb.

MINOR

There was another minor incident, on the ground, on Jan. 19, 1966, when the casing of a nuclear surface-to-air missile was damaged during routine handling by the Navy at Mayport, Fla.

No accident involving nuclear weapons has ever resulted in an explosion, the Air Force said.

DEFICIT REDUCED

Action Urged On Tax Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's administration told Congress today his 10 per cent income tax surcharge is urgently needed—even though federal spending has been cut to reduce the prospective deficit below this year's level.

FOWLER

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler urged prompt action by the House Ways and Means Committee whose leaders have indicated they are not satisfied with a budget for the year beginning next July 1 forecasting $10.4 billion more spending than during the current fiscal year.

Fowler argued the increase is for defense and uncontrollable expenditures.

Moreover, he said, the normal increase in tax receipts as the economy grows more than covers the higher outlays so that "even if no changes were to be made in existing income and excise tax rates, the budget deficit would thus be lower in fiscal year 1969 than in fiscal year 1968."

Fowler offered this breakdown of the $10.4 billion increase in spending programmed for the next fiscal year:

—$3.25 billion for defense including the Atomic Energy Commission weapons program.

—$1 billion for interest on the national debt.

—$1.5 billion for civilian and military pay raises voted last year.

—$4.75 billion for payments under such programs as Social Security, public assistance and veterans' pensions.

Fowler said some government activities will have budget cuts totaling almost $3 billion from the current level.

UNPOPULAR

"Some of the program reductions will be unpopular," he warned. "The President's fiscal program represents a tough policy, but one which is responsive to the important social needs while making the hard decisions to postpone or eliminate some desirable but lower priority items."

Storm Hurls Last Blow, Then Leaves

By The Associated Press

A big system of thunderstorms hurled a last drenching blow at the Texas coast today, then moved out of the state. Skies began to clear over areas of widespread flooding from four days of rain in South Texas.

Major floods roared down the Atascosa, lower Frio and lower Neches rivers.

WORST

The flooding—the worst since Hurricane Beulah's 30-inch deluges of September—had the most effect at little Three Rivers between Corpus Christi and San Antonio.

Three Rivers' schools were closed today by water rampaging in the streets. The Three Rivers schools were closed for 16 days during Hurricane Beulah and suffered massive damage.

Some Three Rivers residents evacuated their homes, but officials said there was no immediate danger of flooding to residences.

Floodwaters roamed the lowlands far to the north of the South Texas troublespots.

The Department of Public Safety at Waco reported Farm Roads 1670 in Bell County and Farm 1829 in Coryell County closed by floodwater from the Little River.

The Weather Bureau warned farmers and ranchmen in South Texas to protect livestock and implements left in low-lying areas.

The last breath of the Texas storm dropped 2.22 inches of rain at Galveston in the six hours ending at midnight. Houston had 1.07 at the airport and many other points recorded readings of one-half inch or more as a thundershower pushed through the area. Smaller shower lines continued well into the morning from the middle coast to the Louisiana line.

The shower had rain of more than an inch an hour, the Weather Bureau said.

Amarillo had almost one-half of an inch of rain in the six hours ending at midnight and the showers continued, sporadically, across wide sections of the state before dawn today.

Quake Refugees Refuse To Leave Muddy Camps

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — Despite bitter cold and recurrent rains, many of the survivors from western Sicily's earthquakes a week ago refused to leave their muddy tent camps today for shelter in cities on the edge of the disaster zone.

The holdouts refused to go into buildings for fear of a new disaster, after shocks continued to rock the region from time to time.

Peasants told officials they were afraid if they left they would never see their fields and home sites again. Some said they had to look after their sheep and goats that survived the quake.

With pneumonia, scarlet fever and other illnesses sweeping the frigid, muddy tent camps, plans were rushed to start construction of barracks to replace the tent camps.

The search for bodies of the quake victims continued, and a total of 201 had been recovered. It was believed the final toll would be at least twice that.

Meanwhile, two babies—both boys—were born to quake survivors over the weekend.

An attendant at a Dallas filling station, Richard L. Krase, 60, died Saturday after having been gunned down during a Friday night holdup. Police arrested Johnny Fred Boyd, 30, Farmers Branch, and charged him with robbery and murder.

Police Jail 52 Latin Men

CHICAGO (AP) — State police arrested 52 Mexican men in a truck Sunday night and turned them over to the U.S. Immigration Service in Chicago for questioning.

Lorraine Hurney, director of the Immigration Service's Chicago office, said the men apparently were smuggled into the country for a fee and told they could find work here and remain undetected as illegal entrants.

State police stopped the truck near Morris because it was moving too slowly on Interstate 55. They found 49 men crammed into an 8 by 14 foot space in the rear of the truck.

The men were brought to Chicago in two chartered school buses. After they were fingerprinted and questioned by Immigration Service officials, the men were held in various institutions in the city pending deportation.

Mrs. Hurney said those without criminal records would be allowed to return to Mexico without deportation hearings.

America's Lunar Module Shot Countdown Proceeds

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The countdown ticked today toward an afternoon launching of America's first Lunar Module, an ungainly-looking space ship which next year may ferry U.S. astronauts to the moon.

A powerful, 18-story-tall Saturn I rocket was scheduled to blast the unmanned 16-ton vehicle into earth orbit. There it is to undertake a series of exacting tests to determine whether it is designed properly for the critical job of landing astronauts on the moon and lifting them off.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration designated the mission Apollo 5.

MEMORIES

The flight revives memories of the tragic fire that killed three astronauts during a ground test on an adjoining launch pad a year ago this week. The Saturn I is the same one on which the Apollo 1 spacecraft was perched when it was swept by the deadly flames last Jan. 27. Success would be a fitting memorial to the three astronauts who were to have flown the rocket and would be another big step back on the long road to recovery from the fire.

The Lunar Module, shaped like a fat bug with antennae for feelers and portholes for eyes, faced its most critical tasks late in the planned 6½-hour mission. That's when its two main engines—descent and ascent—were to ignite to simulate lunar operations in the space vacuum.

MOON MISSION

On a lunar landing mission, three astronauts will ride into orbit about the moon in the main Apollo spacecraft. Two of the spacemen then will transfer to an attached Lunar Module, detach it and fly down to the moon's surface.

The Apollo 5 flight plan called for these engine firings, with the first to occur four hours into the flight: Two descent engine burns, one to simulate the start of the drop to the moon, the second of variable thrust to simulate throttling of the engine during the descent.

Two ascent engine burns, one to simulate an emergency situation in which the astronauts decide to fly back to the main Apollo ship without landing, and the second to simulate a blastoff from the moon.

MAIDEN VOYAGE

At the controls will be a computer-controlled programmer which—flight officials—have dubbed a "mechanical boy." There was no plan to recover the Lunar Module from space. William C. Schneider, Apollo mission director, termed the test a difficult one.

"This," he said, "is the maiden voyage of a very complex machine. We cannot be assured in advance of success. It is a very busy mission with a certain amount of risk."

Schneider said that if the Apollo 5 test proved the capability of the two engines and the separation of the two engine sections, NASA possibly could eliminate a second unmanned Lunar Module flight planned in about four months.

SPEED-UP

Success of Apollo 5 would not necessarily mean a speed-up in the man-to-the-moon program. The huge Saturn 5 moon rocket, which passed its maiden launching in November, and the redesigned, more fireproof Apollo spacecraft still must be manufactured.

If all goes well with a second Saturn 5 test in the spring and a manned Apollo earth orbit flight in the summer, all pieces of Apollo hardware could be combined for an earth orbit manned journey late this year—a possible rehearsal for a landing on the moon in 1969.

For Re-Election

Congressman Omar Burleson has announced for re-election as representative from the 17th district of Texas, which includes Howard County. He has filed for a place on the Democratic primary of May 4. Burleson is completing his 10th consecutive term. He is now chairman of the Committee on House Administration and ranks second from the chairman on the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Calm Prevails As Enterprise Plans To Leave Sasebo Base

SASEBO, Japan (AP) — Calm prevailed around the Sasebo Naval Base today after four bloody clashes between radical students and police since the arrival Friday of the nuclear-powered U.S. aircraft carrier Enterprise.

In the only demonstration of the day, some 3,000 persons affiliated with the moderate Democratic Socialist Party marched quietly through the streets of Sasebo to protest the visit of the 75,000-ton carrier.

U.S. officials said the Enterprise would leave Tuesday. She is en route from Hawaii to Vietnam with the nuclear-powered frigate Truxton.

465 INJURED

Police said the four clashes injured 465 persons, including 260 police, 180 students and 25

bystanders. Police arrested 66 students.

About 250 of the student demonstrators were reported remaining in the Sasebo area to demonstrate Tuesday before the ships sail.

About a thousand of the students came from various parts of Japan to Sasebo at the height of the demonstrations last week. Students also demonstrated in Tokyo and other Japanese cities, contending that the visits of the ships link Japan to the Vietnam war. Demonstrations by older Communists and Socialists drew thousands but were peaceful.

DAILY RIOTS

The Enterprise and Truxton are the first nuclear-powered surface warships to visit Japan. U.S. nuclear submarines have been calling at Japanese ports since 1964.

The U.S. Defense Department said the ships visited Japan to give their crews shore leave and to pick up supplies. The daily riots several times delayed the start of liberty hours for the sailors, but eventually they got into the city, and no attacks were made on them personally.

About 700 students armed with sticks and rocks battled Japanese police Sunday at the bridge about 500 yards from the U.S. base. Police used tear gas, high pressure water jets and truncheons to turn back the mob.

Injured in the melee were 106 policemen, 36 students and 14 newsmen and bystanders.

REDS GATHER

About 70 students broke away and advanced on the base about 700 yards away from the main group. Six students managed to scale a six-foot wire fence surrounding the base, but Japanese police and U.S. shore patrols nabbed two of them. The others fled.

Another 3,000 students snake-danced through Yokohama, 30 miles south of Tokyo, where another big U.S. naval base is located. Police arrested seven students for obstructing traffic.

About 10,000 Socialists and Communists also gathered Sunday at the entrance to the Sasebo base to protest the visit of the carrier.

Health Hints

SERIES NO. 32

A person just can't take care of the household duties when your hands and arms are troubling you. This was the opinion of this woman when she decided to see if her spine could be causing all the trouble she was experiencing. Nothing had helped so far so perhaps it was her spine causing it all; and it was.

She complained of the arms and hands, the left shoulder pains with the hands swelling at night. They constantly were sore and tingled with discomfort in the arm pits as well as the chest and the breasts.

The spine showed a good deal of trouble so treatment was begun and within a short time the symptoms seemed to melt and disappear in relation to the amount the spine corrected and the nerves were free to perform their assigned duties. She is glad she had her spine examined so the cause of the condition could be located. No. 599.

Investigate as your spine could be the cause of your trouble. Hansen Chiropractic Clinic across from Piggly Wiggly at 1004 Eleventh Place. —Adv.

Sgt. Robert Hutchinson's car hit utility pole Saturday

Pole Smash Hurts Webb AFB Driver

Sgt. Robert L. Hutchinson, Webb AFB, remains in critical condition at Webb AFB Hospital today after being in collision with a utility pole at 8:27 p.m. Saturday at 1214 W. 3rd during the rain.

According to Patrolmen Walter Johnson and Jim Cadzow, investigating officers, Sgt. Hutchinson has been unable to make a statement and there were no witnesses to the accident.

Electrical and telephone lines were knocked down when the top of the pole snapped under the impact and traffic had to be re-routed for approximately 45 minutes. It was necessary for the person reporting the accident to go several blocks to find a telephone that was operating in order to call police.

Sgt. Hutchinson was taken to Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital before being transferred to Webb Hospital.

Two other serious traffic accidents over the weekend hospitalized one man and caused heavy damage to three motor vehicles and to two big highway marker signs, the highway patrol reported.

The first of the accidents was at 6:15 p.m. Saturday 7.3 miles south of Big Spring on US 87. A dense fog was prevailing at the time.

Jack Moser Hancock, 44, Midland, was going south in a 1968 model car. He was alone. He inadvertently crossed over partially into the northbound lane.

Gerald Tillman, 21, Webb AFB, with two passengers in his car, was travelling toward Big Spring. He saw Hancock's car and swerved in an effort to avoid a collision. The Hancock car ripped into the side of the Tillman vehicle. Both cars were badly damaged but no one was injured.

The second was a one car mishap at 1:10 a.m. Sunday at the exit lane on IS 20 at Coahoma.

Billy Michael Logsdon, 21, in a 1960 model car was turning off into Coahoma. He failed to make the curve and crashed into a huge exit sign and then bounced off to smash into another sign warning against entering the road at the point. The car was literally cut in two, the highway patrol said. The driver was thrown out of the wreckage.

Logsdon was taken to Cowper Hospital in an Alert Ambulance. His condition was said to be satisfactory today.

'Hot' Ice Box Clues Checked

Sheriff A. N. Standard and his deputies are looking for a hot refrigerator.

When they find the refrigerator, they hope it will lead them to the man who is responsible for the refrigerator's "hot" classification.

Standard said that the incident arose when a man showed up in town and pretended to be seeking a house to rent.

He alleged he had a house and went to an appliance dealer and bought the refrigerator which he paid for with a worthless check.

He asked that the appliance be delivered to the house he said he had rented.

The dealer made the delivery. When the check bounced he returned to the address to find the house empty and, naturally, the refrigerator gone. The landlord explained the applicant had not rented the house but had only looked at the property.

Now the sheriff is seeking a man with a brand new refrigerator, illegally acquired, and there is a vacant place on the display room floor of the dealer where the prodigal appliance formerly resided.

North Koreans Attempt To Assassinate Leaders

SEoul (AP) — About 30 North Koreans invaded Seoul Sunday night in a bold attempt to break into the presidential palace and assassinate high government officials. Six Reds and six South Koreans were killed by noon today.

Police searched for more than 20 North Koreans still at large. It was the first major clash inside the capital since the 1953 Korean armistice.

CHIEF GUNNED — The fighting began when the Communists, in civilian garb, fatally machine-gunned Police Chief Choi Kyoo-shik when he challenged them less than a mile from the mansion of President Chung Hee Park.

The Reds then hurled grenades at four passenger buses, killing three civilians and injuring two others. Two more civilians were killed in subsequent shootings.

Police quickly deployed in the general area, killed five Communist and captured one. Another Communist who was captured was killed when a grenade he was carrying went off during interrogation at police headquarters.

CURFEW ORDER — Three South Korean Army divisions and the 2nd U.S. Infantry Division guarding the western sector of the Korean front were alerted to help hunt the Communists in mountainous areas north of Seoul.

A dusk to dawn curfew was proclaimed in three counties and the city of Uijongbu, north of Seoul, to help block escape routes. Seoul's midnight-to-4 a.m. curfew was extended two hours to start at 10 p.m.

U.S. Army helicopters were mobilized to help the search. A joint antespionage operations headquarters was quickly activated to direct the search. It said the infiltrators were North Korean Army officers led by a captain.

It added that captured articles confirmed they were assigned to assassinate South Korean government leaders and attack major government agencies.

Justice Potter Stewart, in concurring with the majority noted that Epton, according to the New York state case, had actively helped form a group dedicated to armed revolt against the police. In this context, Stewart said "activities such as these can make no serious claim to constitutional protection."

Epton was arrested in August, 1964, a month after thousands of Harlem Negroes, angered by the slaying of a 15-year-old boy by a white police lieutenant, rioted in the predominantly Negro section of Manhattan. The officer later was exonerated of any wrongdoing.

The federal court in Montgomery ruled Nov. 8 that Alabama may not deprive children of welfare aid because of their mothers' sexual conduct.

The Alabama regulation bars aid to dependent children if there is a man—a "substitute father"—living in the home or if he meets with the mother outside the home to have sexual relations.

By taking the case, the Supreme Court broadened its examination of state welfare laws. Just last Monday it agreed to decide if states can deny benefits to welfare applicants until they satisfy residency requirements.

Prayer Banned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court let stand today a ban on recitation of a grace-type verse in public school kindergarten.

The U.S. Circuit Court in Chicago had found the verse "a prayer" and ruled its compulsory recitation by kindergarten students in a DeKalb, Ill., public school is barred by the First Amendment as interpreted by the Supreme Court.

Passenger Injured In Three-Car Crash

Clifford Vaughn, passenger in a car driven by Perry Mervin Thurman, 1106 W. 4th, was a treated at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital Friday evening and released. Thurman was in collision with two parked cars belonging to Atwell Used Cars, 1509 W. 4th, and Allie Dorsey, Sterling City Route, at US 80 West and San Antonio.

Criminal Anarchy Review Refused

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to review the criminal anarchy conviction of William Epton, vice president of the Progressive Labor Party and chairman of its Harlem branch.

Epton, a 35-year-old Negro electrical worker, challenged New York state's criminal anarchy law on free speech grounds. He is under a one-year prison sentence.

DOUGLAS DISSENTS — The law defines criminal anarchy as "the doctrine that organized government should be overthrown by force or violence." It makes it a crime to advocate criminal anarchy "by word of mouth or writing."

Justice William O. Douglas, who cast the only dissenting vote, said the court at least should have considered whether New York state's laws against criminal anarchy are constitutional.

Douglas noted that some of the charges against Epton were based at least in part on speeches he made. And Douglas said that the use of speeches—normally protected by the First Amendment of the Constitution—as a basis for conspiracy charges "might well stifle dissent and cool the fervor of those with whom society does not agree at the moment."

BLOODY RIOT — Justice Potter Stewart, in concurring with the majority noted that Epton, according to the New York state case, had actively helped form a group dedicated to armed revolt against the police. In this context, Stewart said "activities such as these can make no serious claim to constitutional protection."

Epton was arrested in August, 1964, a month after thousands of Harlem Negroes, angered by the slaying of a 15-year-old boy by a white police lieutenant, rioted in the predominantly Negro section of Manhattan. The officer later was exonerated of any wrongdoing.

The federal court in Montgomery ruled Nov. 8 that Alabama may not deprive children of welfare aid because of their mothers' sexual conduct.

The Alabama regulation bars aid to dependent children if there is a man—a "substitute father"—living in the home or if he meets with the mother outside the home to have sexual relations.

By taking the case, the Supreme Court broadened its examination of state welfare laws. Just last Monday it agreed to decide if states can deny benefits to welfare applicants until they satisfy residency requirements.

'Prayer' Banned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court let stand today a ban on recitation of a grace-type verse in public school kindergarten.

The U.S. Circuit Court in Chicago had found the verse "a prayer" and ruled its compulsory recitation by kindergarten students in a DeKalb, Ill., public school is barred by the First Amendment as interpreted by the Supreme Court.

The high court let the ban stand as it turned down the DeKalb County community school district. No explanation was given and the court noted dissenting, favoring review of the Circuit Court decision.

Wins Showmanship Award At Stanton

STANTON (SC) — Vickie Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Graves, was awarded the showmanship award of the wool division at the Martin County Junior Livestock show held Saturday.

Grocery Bandit Seeking Release

Richard Earl Snider, serving a 25-year penitentiary sentence imposed on him here by the 118th District Court, has joined the growing army of convicts who are seeking release under the recent rulings of the U.S. Supreme Court in several widely publicized cases.

Snider, who was sent to prison, March 4, 1964, has filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the 118th District Court. The petition, like all of the others which have been filed by convicts, alleges that his constitutional rights were violated in his trial and conviction.

Snider is under conviction for the holdup of the Safeway Grocery on Dec. 23, 1963. Luther Loudamy, then manager, was forced at gun point to surrender $6,000 to Snider and a partner in the holdup.

Later, nearly all the money was recovered when children playing in an alley on the north side of town found the bills fluttering in the weeds and bushes.

Survivors include her husband; one son, Homer I. Petty, stationed at Eglin AFB, Fla., with the USAF; one brother, Claude Tredaway, Midland.

Big Spring DW Case Continues

Jerry Arrick, under nine months sentence for DWI second offense, continued his hearing today on the petition for a writ of habeas corpus he has filed in 118th District Court.

Arrick, who is currently held in the county jail after his appeal to the state courts was overruled, seeks to show that his first conviction for DWI was invalid. He alleges he was not represented by counsel at the hearing and that other infringements of his constitutional rights occurred.

A district court jury assessed his punishment at nine months in the county jail on the second offense complaint. This is the case he appealed and which was overruled.

The habeas corpus hearing began on Friday and was continued over the weekend to Monday.

It is explained that when the hearing is ended, the court will prepare transcript of the proceedings, draw up a statement of facts and the entire record will be submitted to the state court of criminal appeals. If the writ is issued, it will be by the appellate court.

Tooter' Due Jurors Probe

Sheriff A. N. Standard said that no further word from Austin on Santa Fe has been heard on the next step in the case of Tom Norman (Tooter) King, held here for New Mexico on charges of kidnapping.

An application for extradition of King from Big Spring to Carlsbad was dispatched to Austin last week.

Meantime, King will be brought before the grand jury here tomorrow to answer local charges of car theft. The alleged car theft occurred prior to the kidnapping episode.

In the latter case, King is alleged to have forced a Carlsbad housewife to drive him from Carlsbad to Big Spring in her car. He was arrested on the Andrews highway a short distance northwest of town.

SOCIAL SECURITY NO. 1

Nearly One In Eight Draw Monthly Benefits

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series analyzing the changes currently being made in the Social Security and Medicare regulations.

By BRUCE BLOSSAT WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The mammoth "social benefit" enterprise called Social Security has grown from slender beginnings in 1937 to a level where, in 1968, it expects to pay out $25.2 billion to some 23.8 million Americans. Nearly one in eight draw monthly benefits. The outlay will rise, and go to more and more people as the years pass.

In late 1967, Congress enacted into law revisions of the 31-year-old system which will provide for largest total benefit increases to the elderly and others in the system's history.

BILLIONS

The total will shoot up a record $2.9 billion in 1968, and then rise in 1969 to a point $3.6 billion above where the outgo would have been under the prior law.

The average increase in benefits is in the range of 13 per cent, but a worker around 50 who can expect to contribute many more years of taxes to the system can look ahead to benefit increases up to 21.8 per cent, and a worker 25 to 27 may ultimately get benefits 30 per cent higher.

Later articles in this series will discuss in some detail the changes made in basic Social Security protection — benefits covering retirement, survivors, and disability.

NEW LAW

The new law also modified Social Security's important medicare offshoot to enlarge and improve hospital insurance protection, and make it easier for those who elect to buy the supplemental (doctor bill) insurance to handle their doctor bills.

These matters also will be more fully treated farther on in the series.

The Social Security system has a lot of critics today, as it has always had. The most common are those who argue that it is not a very good insurance program. (Actually it has been from the outset a blend of an insurance plan with citizen tax contributions and a straight assistance program.)

Because Social Security payments lift many Americans above poverty levels and we are in an era of "poverty-fighting," the system is being attacked nowadays on a new count — not doing enough to combat poverty.

Government specialists estimate, nevertheless, that the 1967 Social Security benefit increases may take another million people above the poverty level. Had the U.S. Senate's more liberal provisions gained the day, the figure might have been two million.

Even without the changes, it is figured that Social Security keeps more than 5.6 million aged poor folk out of real poverty.

Of the nearly one in every eight Americans who draw monthly Social Security benefits, just short of 17 million are 65 and over. About half of these people have no other regular income, and for most by far, their benefits are their major income source.

But since younger retirees, survivors and disabled persons represent seven million of the total of beneficiaries, and many children are included, the program has "youth aspects" often overlooked but deserving fuller examination in later articles.

NO GIFT

As recently as 1950, only about a fourth of the Americans 65 and over were protected under Social Security. Today 85 per cent are so covered, and other federal programs bring the percentage to 90. Coverage, obviously, is not far short of universal.

Of course none of this is the gift of providence. It has to be paid for — by you, the Social Security taxpayer, by your employer in matching payments, and by the government. Higher benefits are going to cost more, so taxes are going to rise. And that is another story still to be told here.

Dear Abby

Husband, Wife Should Talk

DEAR ABBY: Every day my husband picks up your column and says, "Well, let's see what Abby has to say to those nutty people who write to a newspaper psychiatrist!" He would never admit that HE could use some help.

My husband is a good provider and generally a good husband, but he is a very poor father to our six children, who range from 3 to 12. He never pays them the slightest attention unless it's to punish them.

When a male friend comes over here, the children compete for his attention and the man can't get the little ones off his lap. I am worried about how this will affect the children's lives. Will my girls be so hungry for male affection and approval that they'll be pregnant at 15? And will my sons grow up to be Mamma's boys? What can I do before it's too late? Or am I being silly?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: It's sad that a couple who have spent more than a dozen years together have so little communication between them. Why can't you tell your husband these things? You seem to be an intelligent woman and your complaints make sense. If you aren't able to get through to him, find someone who can. Your husband needs desperately to get this important message.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't laugh, but where can I buy a foam rubber fanny? I have heard that there are such things, but I never have seen one anywhere nor have I ever seen them advertised, have you?

I once asked a saleswoman who sold fannies and padded bras in a department store and she looked at me like she thought I was crazy. I would really appreciate your help, Abby. Thank you. FLAT IN BACK.

DEAR FLAT: Maybe I'm behind times, but I've never heard of such an item. However, if it exists and the manufacturers fill me in, I'll be glad to fill you out.

DEAR ABBY: It disgusts me to read the letters in your column that begin, "While straightening my daughter's room I came across one of her letters, or her diary, and after reading it, I was horrified. Where have I failed?"

Perhaps these mothers should begin by looking at their own code of ethics. It is important to children, especially teenagers, to feel that they are individuals with privacy and rights of their own. Having a mother who comes snooping around reading personal mail and examining private possessions will surely force the child to become deceptive and secretive and constantly on the defensive, rather than to feel free to discuss personal problems and share private experiences with her mother.

If a mother feels it is necessary for her to know everything that happens in her child's life, she should teach the child early to trust her and come to her and share her feelings openly. This way the mother can express feelings of her own, and perhaps point the child in the right direction without promoting the kind of mistrust and tension that develops between mother and daughter when the daughter finds she has no privacy and the mother finds her only link with her daughter is through whatever tidbit she can find "while straightening the room."

The more I read about such mothers, the more I appreciate my own.

SENATORS PRESS FOR LEGISLATIVE PROBE

Liquor Spotlight Swings To Odessa

By The Associated Press
The Texas Liquor Control Board controversy spread into West Texas today and there were more public pleas for an open statewide investigation by the Senate Investigating Committee.

State Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, Committee chairman, again declined to convene his group for any investigation of reports of widespread irregularities in the board's operations.

The spotlight on the TLCB hasse moved to Odessa in West Texas.

GAMBLING CHECK
The Dallas Times Herald, in a copyrighted story, said W.C. Noel of Odessa, chairman of the TLCB, had launched a full scale investigation and had ordered special agents into the Odessa area to check reports of gambling at a private club.

The Times Herald said Gov. John Connally made known his intentions to get to the bottom of the TLCB story, which surfaced in Dallas when TLCB administrator Coke Stevenson Jr. fired seven agents in a dispute over confiscated liquor and a panel truck.

Since then the Dallas County grand jury and a grand jury at Tyler have begun investigations. The TLCB has set a public hearing at Austin into irregularities concerning the board's operations.

DENIALS
Several news names came into the controversy Sunday. The Times Herald said it had evidence that gambling had only recently been shut down on the seventh floor of the Inn of the Golden West in downtown Odessa. The Odessa American said in a copyrighted story that Tom W. "Pinkie" Roden is a member of the corporation who took control of the hotel last October.

The Times Herald mentioned Roden in connection with Harde- man, an attorney, and Noel.

Roden, the Odessa American said, denied connection with either man.
Hardeman denied ever representing Roden in court. He also denied that he has refused to investigate TLCB operations.
"I've never refused to investigate it," Hardeman said. "I've simply said we would not interfere with any investigation now under way by judicial processes. I said we stood ready at all times, but we weren't going to jeopardize the pending investigations."

PROD PROPOSALS
Two Dallas state senators, Democrat Oscar Mauzy and Republican O. H. "Ike" Harris, renewed their proposals for a legislative investigation.

Mauzy said the senate committee could be convened without Hardeman's consent. Harris said he will ask House Speaker Ben Barnes to appoint a House committee to make an investigation if the Senate body takes no action.

Mauzy said he would contact Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, a candidate for governor, to try to get Smith to prod the Senate committee into action.

The three senators apparently the key to any investigation are J.P. "Word of Meridian," Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi and V.E. "Red" Berry of San Antonio. They have not stated a position for or against convening the five-man investigating committee.

NEVER MET
"The committee has never met and never organized," said Mauzy. "The committee members can meet and adopt whatever rules they like."

The Odessa newspaper quoted Roden as saying he has less than controlling interest in the Inn of the Golden West. He said Deen Williams, formerly of Midland and Las Vegas, Nev., was another stockholder but that none of the less than 25 shareholders could be considered in control.

Roden said he had no knowledge of a gambling operation in the hotel. He denied the Times Herald's report that both the seventh floor of the hotel and the private Golden Rooster Club on the eighth floor are leased to a company he controls.

BIG DEALER
The Times Herald said he also denied having an interest in the Acme Co., the firm the newspaper said leases the seventh and eighth floors of the hotel. Roden said he has never had any space leased on the seventh floor but did live on that floor of the hotel some years ago.

He said his only connection with the Golden Rooster Club was that he is a member.

The Times Herald story said in part:
"Following the announcement last March that the hotel would be sold to Roden, the liquor dealer said he would spend $250,000 to remodel it. He has told friends since that the work will cost much more.

"Roden is a soft-spoken, congenial man who contributes financially to most of Odessa's civic and charitable projects, his favorite project is the Odessa Boys Club operation."

"His rise to the top began 20 years ago when he entered the liquor business . . . in West Texas. Pinkie's Liquor Stores, Inc., 99.7 per cent owned by Ronow operates 15 package stores in Odessa, San Angelo, Lubbock, Tahoka, Impact and other West Texas cities.

LIQUOR OASIS
"Creation of Impact, a 43-acre liquor oasis near dry Abilene, was aided by Senator Hardeman after the project was tied up in the courts in 1962. An attorney who represents the 25th Senatorial District that includes Odessa and Impact, Hardeman filed a mandamus to force a hearing that led in turn to the first Impact liquor store.

"Senator Hardeman, a strong opponent of liquor-by-the-drink legislation who also opposes the suggested Senate probe of TLCB operations, has long been supported by Roden in political campaigns."

The Odessa newspaper said

Roden said he has been a long-time supporter of Hardeman.
"I've known Senator Hardeman for 30 years. I did support him, but I have made no financial contributions to his campaign nor did any of my companies," the newspaper quoted Roden.

The Times Herald said its investigation in Odessa revealed that the hotel suite mentioned in the gambling allegations has now been closed for remodeling and may not be reopened for months—if ever.

Arabs Line Up For Last Check

ATLIT PRISON CAMP, Israel (AP) — Several hundred Egyptian prisoners, clad in thick army uniforms but shivering in rain, lined up in this bleak, windswept camp in central Israel Sunday night for their last roll call before freedom.

Turner Gains Defense Help

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Oscar Turner, 24, of Dallas, on trial for murder, contends his constitutional rights are being violated because his court-appointed counsel is not to his liking.

The trial continues today in the court of Dist. Judge Vic Hall with a third attorney appointed to aid in the defense.

Hall named Louis Muldrow to assist Joel Westbrook, a former assistant U. S. district attorney, and Charles Wallace and to inquire into Turner's objections.

Muldrow reported to the court that the situation was not good for Turner's defense but that counsel was entirely competent and he agreed with its strategy.

The trial was recessed for the weekend with the state attempting to discredit defense contentions that Turner, a 350-pound truck driver, is insane.

Turner is charged in the shooting deaths of Anton Kaska, 41, and his son, David, 20, during a holdup of a service station at West last June 8. Willis Scott, 24, of Dallas also is charged with murder but is not on trial at this time.

The Kaskas were shot after driving into the service station while a holdup was in progress.

Fred Rymer of Austin, a state ballistics expert, testified last week that a .32 caliber pistol found in the car of Turner and Scott, who were arrested at Waxahachie was the gun that fired bullets found at the service station.

through the night to the Suez Canal 275 miles away, across the sands where they were captured by Israeli forces in the June war.

SOME SILENCE
Some grinned at the thought of home. Some held hands. Some were bewildered. Others were sullen.

They were almost the last of the Arab prisoners held in Israel. Since Jan. 12, about 4,500 Egyptians have been sent home. The few remaining go on Tuesday.

"Hamsa (five)!" barked a guard. Five men ran forward, clutching little suitcases, and climbed into a blue and white tourist bus. Another shout, another five came aboard.

"I have been well-treated. I've no complaints," said Sgt. Mustapha Zaki Shehadi. "I'm happy to go home. Very happy."

FEAR
Few others wanted to talk. They shrugged and were silent, apparently fearing to endanger their freedom.

Atlit Camp was silent and desolate. It will be closed Tuesday. In the last 25 years it has held Italians, illegal Jewish immigrants, Israeli underground fighters and Egyptian prisoners from three wars.

For some of the Egyptians captured in June it was their second time behind the Atlit wire in 11 years.

GATES OPEN
Sunday night gates were open. Clothes, blankets and pajamas were strewn near the barbed wire, thrown there by prisoners in joy as they packed their few belongings.

The camp commandant, Lt. Col. Ze'ev Bashan, 40, was visibly moved as he watched the Egyptians board the buses.

Sitting at a desk adorned by two small statuettes of an ancient Pharaoh carved by the POWs, he said: "Some of them are going back to an uncertain future. Some will be court-martialed, I'm sure. Maybe Cairo fears the others will tell what really happened in the war. It's difficult to tell what they feel about it. I hope they'll tell their people who the Israelis really are."

A Devotional For The Day

"Look at the birds of the air: they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them." (Matthew 6:26, RSV)
PRAYER: Dear Father, help to have constantly a sense of Thy presence, as did Jesus. Teach us to honestly face our problems and to seek Thy help with them. Grant that we may find our rest in Thee, in the Savior's name. Amen.

Slip-Shod Fiscal Practice

The second session of the 90th Congress opened with the usual hope for late-summer adjournment. Despite the added get-through-early pressures of a presidential election year, the August adjournment target must be viewed with skepticism, especially in a wartime atmosphere compounded by fiscal controversy and the dark prospect of unprecedented domestic unrest by next summer.
One deadline that this session of Congress should strive hard to meet, however, is completed action on regular appropriation bills before the July 1 start of the next fiscal year. Last session Congress did not complete appropriations until December, more than five months after the beginning of the current fiscal year.
For nearly half a year federal agencies had to operate on emergency authorizations without knowing how much they would have for the full year. Federal programs and federally aided state and local programs were weakened and made wasteful by uncertainty. Moreover, the administration had to plan next year's budget, which the President will present to Congress later this month, before it was known what this year's budget finally was going to be. That seriously handicaps planning.

Congress could, with reasonable committee diligence, meet the fiscal-year deadline with completed appropriations, resorting to supplemental appropriations before a delayed adjournment if emergency conditions so required. But if it should continue to fail to do that, serious consideration should be given to setting back the fiscal year's beginning date and/or making on-time budget funding mandatory. The present practice is intolerably lax and disruptive.

Legislative Probe In Order

The cloud of suspected scandal hanging over the Texas Liquor Control Board, especially thick in the Dallas area, is enough to demand thorough statewide investigation. The suggestion of a widespread bribery-protection racket, involving some TCB agents, is deeply disturbing.
The matter is already under investigation by a grand jury in Tyler, Dallas District Attorney Henry Wade, and the Texas Department of Public Service. The state attorney general's office has agreed to aid in a Jan. 29 hearing, at the request of the TCB chairman. Seven LCB employees including two district supervisors, have already been dismissed by TCB Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr.
How these investigations will go remains to be seen. But, because of legislative questions certain to be involved next session, a legislative investigation also seems in order. The outlook for that unfortunately is not promising.
The House has a general investigating committee with adequate authority, but Speaker Ben Barnes has yet to appoint its members. The Senate also has a general investigating committee, headed by Sen. Dorsey B.

Hardeman of San Angelo, but it has not been active since it concluded the state insurance scandals investigation in 1958.
Sen. Hardeman has turned down requests to investigate TCB operations on grounds that such might interfere with possible future prosecutions. But that was not a problem in the insurance investigations, and a legislative committee witness is not immunized to prosecution unless such a committee carelessly forces him to answer a question after he has formally refused for reason of possible self-incrimination.
Among the related issues the Legislature needs to weigh are the gross underpayment of LCB agents (who make less than state patrolmen) and the curious, hypocritical and often respectfully blinked liquor laws they are expected to enforce. Also, might it not be better to make liquor-law enforcement a function of the state police rather than a special board? Surely the Legislature has a responsibility to investigate this situation for strong reasons unrelated to prosecution of any individual offenses now suspected.

Stocks Boom On Inflation Scare

NEW YORK (AP)—"They're speculating wildly," a broker remarked as he watched trading on the American Stock Exchange soar to more than 10 million shares. "My customers are acting as if there were no tomorrow."
Few statements could have been further from the truth, for a very large percentage of stock speculation today results from traders knowing there will be a tomorrow — of inflation and shrinking dollars.
THIS INFLATION psychology now has a good grip on the thinking of millions of Americans. Taxes and rising living costs are devouring their bank account interest. "Fixed return" investments are shrinking in value.
To offset this shrinkage, investors have been urged to go into stocks, to hedge against inflation by owning securities that rise with the economy. Good advice or poor, it is being given abundantly.

A variety of factors now intensify this inflation psychology and also present the opportunity for it to be exploited.
FOR ONE THING, much of the money saved in recent months by average Americans has given them a cushion of confidence. With their excess funds they have stepped into the stock market and hope to duplicate the experience of friends by doubling their money.
At the same time thousands of once cautious investors very likely have become bored, irritated and frustrated as their blue chips vegetate, while young sprouts on the American Exchange soar to the sun. And so they join the crowd.
WHEREAS SOME of the solid blue chip stocks on the New York Stock Exchange sell for $100 or more, an American Exchange trader has his choice of about 60 stocks selling for less than $5 and many more for less than $10.
Lending encouragement as well as impact to this churning of stock, some Wall Street informants say, are registered representatives who speculate for their own accounts and encourage customers to do likewise.
A FEW OTHER factors also may be involved: No matter what is said for the record, credit for speculating is pretty easy to come by these days. And the suspicion exists among critics that some speculation may be manipulation.
Certainly the huge increase in the number of stockholders is having its impact as well, for the latest figure of 24 million is four times the figure of 20 years ago.

Popeye Swears

AUCKLAND (AP)—A visitor to the Auckland Zoo inspected a sulphur-crested cockatoo called Popeye, then said to a keeper: "Do you know that bird swears?"
"What did he say?" asked the keeper.
With a withering look the visitor replied: "I suggest you ask the bird."
Soon, the parrot put its head on one side and remarked: "And now what have you done with the bloody car?"
Popeye came from the Melbourne Zoo two years ago, but zoo staff believe he earlier had been a household pet in Australia.

up very valuable clues to the cause of overweight.
Is the choice of foods involved? It is not sufficiently realized how important fats are in the diet. Some fat is needed, but reducing fat by avoiding fried food, rich pastries, gravies, cream sauces and other such items rich in fat, often makes a substantial difference with no change in diet. Fat, ounce for ounce, has twice the calories of sugar — yet some people avoid sugar but eat lots of fat and wonder why they can't lose. (Of course a reducer should not overdo the sugar, either.)
Another question: Is lack of exercise, or habitual physical lethargy, accounting for some of this overweight?
The three big factors in weight are how much you eat, what kinds of food you eat, and how much you burn up as energy, instead of storing it as fat.
This boy, not yet 10, has some things going for him. He recognizes his problem now — and eating habits are more easily changed at his age than 20 or 30 years later.
He appears willing to try — but I do not recommend — ing to the point of irritability. A healthful diet which will give

The World Is Full Of Things To Do

NEW YORK (AP) — Many men fear retirement because they say they don't know what they'd do with themselves.
This is a pitiful situation. Anybody who lives merely for the sake of holding down a job might as well have been born with a saddle on his back.
The world is full of things to do, and no man ever had time to more than sample the tremendous variety available.

Danced the mazurka.
Worn a beret or a jellaba.
Helped a policeman deliver a baby in the subway.
Been cast ashore on a desert isle with a red-haired, green-eyed girl.
Stood on a burning deck whence all but me had fled.
MILKED A WALRUS or slid down a giraffe's neck.
Yep, there's no reason for a retired man to feel idle. If he gets around to doing only half the things he didn't get done during his years in the old salt mine, he'll be kept busy through two lifetimes of retirement.

Panel Uses Rubbery Language

WASHINGTON (AP) — The idea for the Citizens Committee for Peace with Freedom in Vietnam began in the head of 75-year old Paul Douglas who, after 18 years in the U.S. Senate, lost his seat to Charles H. Percy in the Illinois election of 1966.
It's a distinguished committee whose members include former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower, General of the Army Omar Bradley, two former secretaries of State, Dean Acheson and James F. Byrnes, scientists, educators, historians, journalists, businessmen and clergymen.
THE IDEA for the committee had its roots in the 1930s when Douglas, a Quaker and then a pacifist, stood in Rome and listened to Benito Mussolini announce war on little and practically defenseless Ethiopia in Africa.
Douglas' pacifism began to melt as he began to realize that, unless checked, Fascism and Nazism, both of which subordinated individual and national interests to the interests of the state, would overrun Europe. With Europe gone, he wondered how the United States could stand alone, for this country at that time was isolationist.
HE RETURNED to his teaching job as professor of economics at the University of Chicago and later joined a group, organized by William Allen White, called the Non-Partisan Committee for Revision of the Neutrality Law.
The Committee's propaganda was a big factor in swinging public opinion behind repeal of the law which banned shipment of arms to Europe.

Douglas at age 50 volunteered for the Marines as a private. He came out of the war a lieutenant colonel after service in the Pacific where one of the wounds he suffered left one of his arms almost helpless.
IN 1948 HE WAS elected to the Senate. He was one of the best and sturdiest liberals the Senate ever had. He had been for Social Security long before it became a fact in the 1930s. And in the Senate, among other things, he plugged for Medicare long before that became a fact.
This seems a fair way to state his views about men and nations:
Nations must be allowed to work out their own destiny; the freedom of individuals is precious and must be preserved; peace is necessary, but the aggressive expansion of communism must be stopped.
HE WROTE HIS views to a number of people and got a present committee of people who share his views. Various members of the committee have a hand in writing the statements issued by the committee. This is particularly true of Eisenhower. So far it has issued only two statements: one describing its policy and the other, last week, its support of continued bombing.
Ironically the latter, full of rubbery language, was like a bowl of mush. The committee is not likely to be much benefited by public thinking until it learns to state its positions precisely, clearly and unequivocally.

Around The Rim

The Poor By Any Other Name—

One thing and another: A generation or so ago, society was made up in part by a large portion referred to as "the poor," but that is no longer the case.
The phrase has been eliminated. The poor became the needy. Then the less fortunates were told it was self-defeating to think of themselves as needy and were told they were merely culturally deprived.
"Culturally deprived" was a term that created a bad image, so the segment became known as the "underprivileged." The phrase became tarnished from over-use so the people without substance evolved into "the disadvantaged."
The poor are still poor but their vocabulary has been enormously enlarged.
A MEMBER of the constabulary is a lot of things to a lot of people. One small child was telling her smaller brother it was wrong to work on Sunday.
"About policemen?" countered the boy. "They have to work on Sunday. Don't they go to heaven?"

"Of course not," replied the sister. "They don't need them there."

MY ADVICE for today: If you want to cross the street, you'd better do it today. There'll be a 100 million cars on the roads by 1970.

IF YOU REGARD the Colorado River (the big one, not the one which meanders east of here) as a clear mountain stream, you'd better get closer.

It carries so much mud that early day settlers in adjacent areas described it as "too thick to drink and too thin to plow."

I ASK YOU NOW: How can a housewife who goes into a grocery store and buys a hair spray, a carton of cigarettes, two magazines, a paring knife, a pair of hose, a comic book, two tea towels, a loaf of bread and two tomatoes complain to the clerk, after she gets her bill: "It's costing me more every day to feed my family." —TOMMY HART

They Know When To Say Goodbye

WASHINGTON — That tiresome word "responsibility" has a lot of political applications, and sometimes it just means a graceful farewell.
Two stalwart Republicans, Bourke Hickenlooper (Iowa) and Frank Carlson (Kan.) are serving their final Senate session this year, and nothing in their long careers becomes them as their leavetaking. Both are voluntarily retiring because of age. Each has passed 70. Each has admitted an inability to go through another campaign, and another six-year grind, at the top of his form.

the decision to withdraw when there was nobody in sight who could have defeated him. This fine gentleman had instincts so sensitive that, in agreeing to write me a guest column of farewell, he stipulated it should not be published until he was out of office and could not be thought to seek unseemly publicity. A few years before that, another superior man, Prescott Bush of Connecticut, bowed out—and he told me he felt a responsibility to himself and his state never to become a has-been.

MEN LIKE THESE who have spent an adult lifetime in public office automatically accumulate much knowledge, and they gain some sense of values — alas, not always self-knowledge, and not always an evaluation of duty. Much older men than Hickenlooper and Carlson have sat nodding in senility at committee meetings, unable to hear and much less to remember what's going on.

WITHOUT HICKENLOOPER, without Carlson, the Senate will for a while be a lesser place. There isn't as sage and tenacious a party leader as Hickenlooper to replace him. Nobody on the Foreign Relations or Joint Atomic Energy committees was a shrewder questioner of witnesses, and nobody had the success he did in watching out for American interests in the Foreign Aid bills. Hickenlooper has been not a stubborn conservative, but a fundamental one. He could move with the times, but only when convinced, and he couldn't be driven.

For the most part, however, a sentimental public will not remove a great old figure, and he comes to consider himself a fixture, and the seat as belonging to him instead of the voters. The sense of responsibility, the evaluation of duty, had faded with his wits. Not only in the Senate, also in the Supreme Court, and in one instance, in the White House, the illusion of indispensability becomes a comforting obsession.

Carlson, whom I have not known so well, has always been one of the quiet ones. His in one that beamed a dignity into the Senate and solid good sense into the party decisions.

HICKENLOOPER AND CARLSON, luckily in possession of their faculties and still at the crest of the hill rather than on its downslope, aren't going to wait until such descriptions are applicable to them.
Less than two years ago Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts made the Republican fortunes have to be read for downward revision. Hickenlooper might well have held the Iowa seat, and Carlson was certain to retire does them more honor than their victories would have brought.

No Real War On Crime

WASHINGTON — The members of both houses of Congress gave one sentence in President Johnson's address last Wednesday night an outburst of prolonged applause which exceeded any other manifestation of approval during the entire speech. The sentence was as follows:
We, at every level of the government — state, local, federal — know that the American people have had enough of rising crime and lawlessness in this country.

tion in public schools and restaurants. It has also used its powers to punish interstate commerce" to further unlawful activities, such as gambling, narcotics trade, arson and other crimes, including embezzlement, stealing automobiles, mail fraud and bank robberies.

BUT WHEN Mr. Johnson outlined what he intended to do about the problem, there was no display of enthusiasm. For it was evident that he was not proposing anything new and that he was not explaining why the federal government has not prosecuted those who have conspired to produce violence in various cities throughout the United States.

THE FEDERAL government, under the civil-rights laws, can prosecute conspiracies to violate the constitutional rights of civil-rights workers and other persons. The federal government also has the broad power to suppress insurrections of any kind and to punish anyone who advocates acts designed to overthrow the government by force.

THE PRESIDENT said the American people "recognize that law enforcement is first the duty of local police and local government." He then declared that the people also "recognize that the national government should help the cities and the states in their war on crime to the full extent of its resources and its constitutional authority." As he added a final phrase—"And this we shall do"—everybody expected to hear thereafter, the President went on to explain that this "Does not mean a national police force," and that what he had in mind was "Help and financial support — to develop state and local master plans to combat crime, to provide better training and better pay for police, and to bring the most advanced technology to the war on crime in every city and county in America."

Yet the Johnson administration has not prosecuted a single one of the conspirators who have openly announced that they would lead demonstrations" even if these resulted in violence. The states and cities themselves can only arrest persons for crimes committed within their own jurisdiction. The federal government alone has the constitutional authority to deal with criminals who travel between states and plot disturbances or any other violation of law.
MANY MEMBERS of Congress are dubious about the President's abstract statements concerning federal help in combating crime. This is likely to be the big issue, if not the biggest one, in the forthcoming national campaign.

Friend Finds Inscribed Rock

THIS WAS PLAINLY an effort to transfer full responsibility to the states and cities, and to place the federal government in an auxiliary role but with no direct relationship to the problem of arresting and punishing criminals.
The President's promise that the national government would help within "its constitutional authority" naturally has attracted attention. A careful examination of the federal statutes shows that the national government does not hesitate to exercise its constitutional authority "to the full extent" in prohibiting racial discrimina-

Boy At 9 Weighs 100 Pounds

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: My grandson will be 10 in a few weeks. He is 4 feet 7½ inches tall and weighs 100 pounds. He is a broad-shouldered, big-boned, big-build boy but is a little bit overweight.
He is extremely anxious to lose weight. He will go without enough food till he is very cross and irritable. I told him I would write to you for advice and he has agreed to go by your instructions. — J.F.
Even for a big-boned fellow, he sounds as though he is more than "a little bit" overweight.
If you mean what you say about following my advice, you'll start by having the boy examined by a physician. First, you can't go entirely by weight charts, but a physical examination will disclose the important question: How much excess FAT is the boy carrying?
Second, while glandular disorders are vastly overrated as a cause of obesity, they do occasionally have a bearing, and a medical examination should quickly show whether such a possibility needs to be pursued more fully.
Third, a few shrewd questions by a physician often can turn him adequate nourishment is possible so he can control his weight without ruining his disposition. Selection of protein foods which will "stay with him" and not leave him hungry soon after a meal is important.

He also needs to learn the trick of getting bulk into his stomach without too high a calorie level. Fruits and vegetables, especially low-calorie vegetables, are an answer to this.
But above all I advise starting with a visit to the doctor for this boy.
Troubled with varicose veins? To make sure you are doing all you can to relieve the problem, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald requesting the booklet, "How To Deal With Varicose Veins" enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover the cost of printing and handling.
Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

up very valuable clues to the cause of overweight.
Is the choice of foods involved? It is not sufficiently realized how important fats are in the diet. Some fat is needed, but reducing fat by avoiding fried food, rich pastries, gravies, cream sauces and other such items rich in fat, often makes a substantial difference with no change in diet. Fat, ounce for ounce, has twice the calories of sugar — yet some people avoid sugar but eat lots of fat and wonder why they can't lose. (Of course a reducer should not overdo the sugar, either.)
Another question: Is lack of exercise, or habitual physical lethargy, accounting for some of this overweight?
The three big factors in weight are how much you eat, what kinds of food you eat, and how much you burn up as energy, instead of storing it as fat.
This boy, not yet 10, has some things going for him. He recognizes his problem now — and eating habits are more easily changed at his age than 20 or 30 years later.
He appears willing to try — but I do not recommend — ing to the point of irritability. A healthful diet which will give

Blanda's Toe Costs West Stars Plenty

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — George Blanda and all his teammates on the American football league's West team are $400 poorer today than they think they should be. It's all because Blanda's old Kentucky windage deserted him.

When Joe Namath of the New York Jets risked his fragile leg on a one-yard touchdown smash and put the East All-Stars ahead 25-24 in Sunday's season finale, there were 58 seconds left.

As any pro football fan knows, this is not necessarily decisive. And Len Dawson of the Kansas City Chiefs used only 52 seconds to move the West to the East's 28.

Has Record Leap, But Is Second

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. (AP) — Teenager Adrian Watt of Duluth, Minn., better known among his pals as "Light Bulb," has set an American ski-jumping record and remained the United States' main hope in the Winter Olympics at Grenoble, France, next month.

'Beaten By Better Team,' Says UCLA's Big Lew

HOUSTON (AP) — Lucius Allen's wry, impish grin split through the gloom of UCLA's dressing room.

"No, it's not revenge," Woodden snorted. "I don't play that way. When I start playing for revenge, I'll get out of the business. As I said, they're a good team and Guy Lewis is a fine coach."

The unbeatable Bruins had just been beaten, 71-69, by Houston's second-ranked Cougars. And they'd been beaten before the largest crowd ever to see a college basketball game, 52,693 in the Astrodome Saturday night, their No. 1 ranking was almost certainly gone and their 47-game winning string was snapped 13 short of the record.

If they meet again this season, it will be in the semifinals of the national championships. And the national championships, the semifinals and finals, will be played at Pauley Pavilion in Los Angeles, the Bruins' home court.

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Kermit Zarley learned a valuable lesson in five winless years on the professional golf tour.

PTA Offers Scholarships

AUSTIN — Scholarship grants totaling $5,000 will be offered in 1968 by the Texas PTA in the association's continuing program to encourage summer study for career teachers, Mrs. L. L. Ledger, state president, has announced.

Fourteen teachers each will receive a scholarship grant of $400 for study next summer in a college or university of the teacher's choice. Mrs. Ledger said. Recipients will agree to take a minimum of six semester hours, and study must be in a field to improve the applicant's teaching proficiency. Recipients also will agree to teach in Texas the following year or repay the amount of the grant.

In 1967 twelve $400 summer scholarship grants were sought by more than 500 applicants. Any Texas teacher with at least three years' teaching experience in the state and who currently is teaching in a school with a local PTA in good standing with the Texas PTA and who is a member of a PTA in good standing is eligible for consideration. Teachers may obtain grant application blanks by writing prior to March 1, to Scholarship Committee, Texas PTA, P.O. Box 2134, Austin 78767. Completed applications must be received at the same address by March 31.

CURRENTLY BEING PRODUCED HERE

'Fantasticks' Sets Record

"The Fantasticks," current production of the Little Theatre of Big Spring, last week became the longest-running hit in the history of New York theatre. The little show was given only a lukewarm critical reception when it opened.

With performance No. 3,225, the boy-girl musical fantasy eclipsed the longevity record of "Life With Father." In total attendance, however, the latter remains far ahead because it ran in a Broadway theater seven times bigger than the 150-seat Greenwich Village playhouse which houses "The Fantasticks."

Since "The Fantasticks," Jones and Schmidt have written two Broadway musicals, "110 in the Shade" and the still-running "I Do! I Do!"

The Federal Aviation Administration has temporarily lifted the training requirement. Thompson says he will battle any renewal.

Crash That Killed Nineteen Blamed On Muzzled Engines

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal requirement that pilots rehearse emergency landings with power out in both engines on one wing is blamed by a congressman for the March, 1967, crash of a jet airliner that killed 19 persons.

The National Transportation Safety Board said in a report issued today that the two left engines on the DC8 jet were muzzled as it approached the New Orleans, La., airport. The board blamed the pilots for allowing the huge jet to slow down too soon to reach the runway on the remaining engines.

Rep. Fletcher Thompson, R-Ga. He said the single-wing landing procedure put the pilots in a dangerous position and called the training maneuver absurd.

Thomas A. Basnight Jr. of the Air Line Pilots Association said in another interview that the maneuvers were "really of little value—of no value."

Historic Ford's Theater Reopens After A Century

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ford's Theater has reopened for dramatic presentations more than a century after President Abraham Lincoln was shot fatally there while viewing a play.

The historic theater where Lincoln was assassinated April 14, 1865, has been restored to its original condition through a three-year, $2.7 million National Park Service project.

The theater's re-dedication Sunday ended a century during which it was first padlocked after Lincoln's death and later used as an office building, storehouse and museum.

Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall told the 800 persons invited to the ceremony that Park Service officials "are pleased to re-dedicate this building as a place for entertainment and pleasure—the purpose for which it was originally intended."

A cold front edged into the Northern Plains today on the heels of spring like weather that warmed much of the nation Sunday.

The theater seats 1,700 on the main floor and in two balconies. It has been restored to a gleaming white, with gold trim and red carpets.

Riot Chiefs Info Stressed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The effective use of police intelligence to identify and keep track of the potential "leadership of violence" in big-city slums will receive high priority at a series of conferences sponsored by the Justice Department for police chiefs of 125 communities.

The emphasis on intelligence-gathering was placed by Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark at a Saturday news-conference at which he said riots can be prevented by "the man in the middle"—the police.

Clark said the key to keeping the lid on potentially explosive situations is a "balance between overacting and underacting."

'Mission: Impossible' Team Triggers Superior Suspense

By CYNTHIA LOWERY (AP) — "Mission: Impossible" is certainly one of network television's superior suspense series, but the calm and righteous manner in which the superagents commit all manner of misdemeanors and felonies is one of its most fascinating aspects.

Of course, the intrepid agents are always on the right side. But still there's an old TV axiom, backed up by its code, that insists that crime may not pay.

PRECISION In Sunday night's episode — which was most entertaining, by the way—the agents specialized in elaborate cheating at cards and carefully arranged to have a homicide committed.

It seems that a bad guy had a 14-carat emerald to which was attached a top secret message that some other bad guys wanted.

Suspects Gain New Jail Cells

Calvin Pierce, held here for Brown County authorities on a charge of assault with intent to murder, was returned to Brown County on Sunday. He had been arrested here for drunkenness.

Chester Harold Cape, wanted for theft by baillee, out of Ballinger, was arrested over the weekend by the sheriff's officers and is being held here for Ballinger officers.

GOOD GUYS WIN

The good guys, of course, won the poker game and the emerald along with it. Then by another elaborate stratagem, they persuaded one of the bad guys to knock off his colleague.

Lester Gibson, wanted in Burnett for child desertion, was arrested here by sheriff's officers and Sunday was turned over to Burnett authorities who returned him to their county jail.
