AN ICY 17

New Record Cold Reading

The temperature dropped to an icy 17 degrees at the U.S. Experiment Station last night to set a new low record for Feb. 22. Coldest prior Washington's Birthday was 19 degrees in 1911. High for Thursday was a cold 30 degrees.

The dawn brought clear skies Friday, but by mid-morning, the sun was dimmed by cloud banks. However, the forecast for today, tonight and Saturday calls for slightly warmer weather than has prevailed for the past two or three days.

Tax Turned Down

TYLER, Tex. (AP)-Tyler voters turned out in heavy numbers and in snow and sub-freezing weather to defeat the one per cent city sales tax Thursday by a margin of 4,727 to 2,678.

Only one of the East Texas city's dozen voting boxes approved the plan for municipal income.

Plane Wrecked

WACO (AP)-A Department of Public Safety airplane hurtled off the end of a Waco Municipal Airport runway Thursday and was wrecked, but nobody was injured.

The DPS pilot was Louis H. Bradfute of Mesquite. Passengers were DPS chemists Charles F. Mott of Waco and George E. Brown of Dallas.

Go-Go Racer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—After being arrested in a stolen police car overtaken by the highway patrol and police in a 40-mile chase, Margaret Ann Cocio commented:

"Boy, that was a ball. Those police cars can really move.

The unemployed go-go dancer had been stopped in her own car for driving erratically. Police said she stepped into the officer's patrol car and sped off when he left it to check her license plate.

During the chase in which she was clocked at up to 120 miles an hour Miss Cocio used the siren and red light and authorities said she forced several cars and trucks off the road.

Miss Cocio, 22, was finally forced off the road. She was charged with auto theft, hit-run driving and resisting arrest

FARM BLOWING UP

Unwanted Harvest

LOUTH, England (AP)-The British army is exploding farmer William Hardy's unwanted harvest. Sappers with mine detectors have unearthed 250 mortar and smoke bombs in two days on the 80acre tract in Lincolnshire. They believe they'll find hundreds more.

The farm was a mortar range during World War II and later was declared free of danger.

'It's been like farming a minefield," said Hardy, 33. "We can plow a field and pick up 50 of these things as easily as anything. I never bothered unduly until one bomb blew a hole in a farm machine. I'd had enough so I called in the army.'

"The ground is saturated with two- and three-inch mortar bombs as well as smoke bombs," said Sgt. Malcolm Oanks of the Royal Engineers. "The official who cleared the fields for farming obviously made a big mistake."

SAIGON (AP) - North Vietnamese threw a new battalion of troops at Hue's Citadel Thursday and on another front sent their heaviest artillery barrage in two weeks thundering down on the U.S. Marine com-

South Vietnamese officers in Da Nang said government forces counterattacked and drove the enemy off killing 223 Communist troops. They said South Vietnamese casualties were light.

After a quiet day around Saigon, a 30-minute firefight flared tonight at a South Vietnamese police checkpoint four miles northeast of the center of the capital on the highway to Bien

Florida Teachers Still Out, But Reports Vary

Florida's statewide walkout by teachers ended its first week today with one third of the state's schools still closed.

However, Gov. Claude Kirk told a rally in Jacksonville Thursday night, "at the moment we're winning . . . I have to report most of the teachers are going back.'

Florida Education Association leaders labeled the reports that teachers were trickling back to their desks as "deliberate rumors to try and break the teachers and frighten them back.

The Bay County School Board voted to accept the resignations of 345 of its teacher force of 750. Palm Beach County school officials told its 1,275 "off-duty" teachers to return to the classroom Monday or face acceptance of their resignations and loss of their teaching certificates for one year. Prescription Eyewear and Be Economical,

About Your

Professional eye care from TSO is exactly what patients say it is. A Doctor of Optometry associated with TSO studies the history of your eyes and visual symptoms. He examines your eyes internally for evidence of disease or defect. Then he examines your eyes for defective vision caused by astigmatism, near or farsightedness, or muscle imbalance. If your eye examination reveals the need for glasses, they will be accurately prescribed and fitted for maximum possible seeing and wearing comfort.

The fee for a professional eye examination, prescription and finest quality single vision lenses and frame is as low as $16.00. With bifocal lenses the fee is as low as $19.00. A convenient credit plan is available without extra cost.

Single vision contact lenses are just $70.00, complete with examination and fittings. Bifocal contact lenses, too, are available at reasonable cost.

If you are particular about your eyes and your vision, and want to be economical, too, visit the Doctors of Optometry at TSO.

Capable OAS Secretary

The Organization of American divisiveness, and it indicates OAS ma-States, a regional association under the United Nations Charter, grew out of the Pan - American Conferences and Union begun in 1890. It is now the focal institution for inter-American mutual security, economic cooperation, and social and cultural exchange - for carrying out the aims of the Alliance for Progress.

And it is at a crucial crossroads in its long history. The OAS is in serious need of structural reorganization, of a shift of emphasis to Latin American leadership or at least genuine partnership, of building the capacity to act as well as talk, to operate as well as study and plan. Hope for all this has been strengthened by the election of Ecuador's Galo Plaza Lasso to replace Uruguay's Jose Antonio Mora for a 10-year term as OAS secretary-general.

The election was difficult. It took five months of debate, backstage diplomacy and numerous ballots to gain Plaza a firm majority. But that was achieved apparently without lasting compromises.

jority determination to strengthen the regional association, for such was Plaza's pledge.

Unlike the well-meaning but bureaucratic Moro, Plaza views the OAS post more as the late Dag Hammarskjold viewed the U.N. secretary-generalship, a place for leadership as well as service. And the former successful Ecuadoran president has international respect gained as a trouble-shooter for the U.N. in Lebanon in 1958, the Congo in 1960 and Cyprus in 1964-66.

It would be presumptuous, anyway premature, to hail Plaza's election as marking a new era in inter-American relations. But it is not too much to expect a freshened spirit of constructive cooperation. We might not like all Plaza may do or say-he is no Washington puppet or puppet of any other nation—but that is the minimum price the United States must pay for better relations with Latin America, to greet sincere dissent with good grace and seek fair and workable

Toward A Curtain Of Silence

It was not altogether unexpected sion in the state bar canons and codes when the American Bar Association approved the Riordan report which would place new restrictions in the ABA canons on the divulging of information concerning criminal cases prior to trial.

American media groups, and particularly those in newspaper journalism, have urged the ABA to go slow on this because of a probability of censorship of news at the source. An increasing segment of the bar gave support to this view, but in the end the theorists prevailed over those who took a more practical view.

The crux of the report which media spokesmen protest is inhibitions which would be placed upon judges and lawyers (and through contempt power upon law enforcement officers) in the divulging of information about pending criminal cases.

Presumably the ABA recommendations will trickle down to state associations for their adoption and incluof ethics. Most likely will follow suit, although we hope that the Texas Barwill not be drawn into giving a perfunctory blessing to the ABA recom-

Progress has been made in prudent restraint by media in reporting matters pertaining to criminal cases. With few exceptions, this reporting has been done with an eye to avoiding trial in print rather than in court. This may not be perfect but alongside of silence enforced by the threat of legal reprisals or professional disciplining, it is far and away better. In the meantime, it is well to remember that the ABA action constitutes a recommendation, not a law. Even when some phases of this restraint have a day in court, there will still remain the overriding issue of constitutionality. Newspapers, for one, will be willing to test this to the utmost in the most honorable way.

Holmes Alexander Bright Ray Of Hope For Water

the most precious mineral is not oil, but water, and water may be the only natural resource in which the United States is appreciably enriching itself.

This kind of increment is not sudden and spectacular. It plods along in bureaucratic brogans, and makes itself known in dull testimony read to overworked committee chairmen. This was the case recently when functionaries of the Interior Department gave a report to the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee. mostly represented by empty chairs.

BUT THE gist of the report made good news in a town that is surfeited with gloom-and-doom. Dr. Jack Hunter, director of the office of saline wa-ter, told the committee that desalted water had become a "reality . . . an available resource.

Billy Graham

What does a well-rounded prayer consist of, and for what, and to whom should we pray? D.G. The best example of a perfect prayer is the Lord's Prayer. When the disciples asked Christ to teach them to pray, He said: "After this manner pray ye," and our Lord gave them the model prayer, or the Prayer Per-

In this prayer He taught them to whom to pray: "When you pray, say: 'Our Father which art in heav-" Beautiful, isn't it that He cast God in the role of Father: No one is more generous, or more concerned. than a loving Father. He revels in His children coming with their needs and requests. And His storehouse is full, and never becomes drained of plenty for all His children.

For what are we to pray? In the Lord's Prayer we are given this answer also. He gave them, I believe, in the order of their importance. First, "Thy kingdom come." Christians groan for the fulfillment of God's kingdom upon earth. What a mess the world is in! And it is all because God's kingdom has not been received in the hearts of men. Second, "Give us this day our daily bread." This is the same as saying, "Help us to live, gracious, healthy lives." For daily bread means more than bread from the bakers. It also means the bread that comes down from heaven. For this we should pray earnestly. Third, "Forgive us our debts," or "forgive us our trespasses." Of all our needs, forgiveness is the greatest, and God is well able to grant it—and does everyday. Last, "Lead us not into temptation," or more accurately, 'Help us not to be led into temptation." The Bible is clear: "He will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able to bear." These are the things for which we should pray.

WASHINGTON-D. C. - Of course, This means something for every state and locality in America. It means that to be situated in the malodorous boroughs of New York City and New Jersey may not always be a total misfortune. Sea water from the Atlantic is one day going to be cheap and plentiful. It will make for cleaner and less expensive living, and greatly enliven the manufacturing interests. Even if no more than a psychological lift, the influx of a new resource is to be cheered

CALIFORNIA, as usual, is out ahead of the country in technology. In the arid Los Angeles area, the Bolsa Island project for power generation and desalinization is a partnership mix that describes the wave of the future. In the swim together are the Interior Department, the Atomic Energy Commission, the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California and three utilities firms. San Diego has the Clair Engle plant, named for the late California senator who did much for waresources. The Engle plant already is a record-breaker: "the highest ratio of pounds of water produced per pounds of steam . . . in the world," according to the Interior De-

THE ENGLE plant's chief purpose is to provide data for further construction, and is still more promise than production. A slight difference over the selection of a reactor in Los Angeles has caused some delay there. The field testing of brackish water rectification in the western states has lagged behind ocean desalting, partly because last year's budget squeeze cost the Interior $562,000 and caused deferral of something called the VTE (vertical tube evaporator) module.

DESALTING IS a late-starter among federal programs, although private industry and the military forces have been at it for many years. The Interior Department didn't get its saline water office until 1952, and was then authorized only for research-and-development. The Act of 1958 put Interior at the work of constructing and operating plants for demonstration. Last year Congress passed legislation which recognized that the preliminary purposes had been accomplished, and that production of fresh water no longer has all the excuses that are granted to a new science.

THIS SORT of subject doesn't make for saucy reading. I once heard my late friend, Humor Columnist Fred Othman say that his ideal story was to report a bathing beauty on the Capitol steps, scattering dollar bills with one hand and eating a hotdog with the

The can't-miss ingredients for catching attention are sex, money and food. But it strikes me that the coming abundance of water has two of those ingredients—only sex is missing.

ago in this once-Republican state Barry Goldwater was defeated by almost two to one. If there was a lesson in that defeat it appears to have escaped those still dominating the Republican party in New Hampshire and with them many of the rank and file who cherish the legend that dark conspiracy by petty defectors destroyed

INTERESTINGLY enough, 1966, a Republican year in most of the country, saw a replay of the drama of '64. With the blessing of William Loeb, publisher of the Manchester Union-Leader, an ultra-conservative, Harrison R. Thyng, a retired Air Force brigadier-general, was nominated to run for the Senate. Thyng faithfully followed the Loeb line, which is Goldwater with an extra charge of viru-

He was running against the Democratic incumbent. Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre. Though a careful organization man, McIntyre had a record that was hardly noteworthy. Yet he won re-election by 54 per cent of the vote

LOEB, AS kingmaker, set out to destroy Thyng's opponent in the primary, William R. Johnson, who had been Republican state chairman, ran only after he failed to persuade at least a half-dozen others to make the

Johnson is a moderate. As a state senator he had a part in trying to repeal certain of New Hampshire's archaic laws, including one that provides a penalty of a year in jail for anyone advocating atheism.

IN A BARRAGE of front-page editorials Loeb attacked him as an Ivy League egghead whose patriotism was questionable and whose godlessness

MANCHESTER, N.H. - Four years was established. The Union-Leader is the only morning paper in the state with the only state-wide circulation. It is generally agreed that Loeb can swing upwards of 20,000 votes, which, in a party primary, can be decisive.

From the moment his candidacy for president was evident Gov. George Romney has been subjected to the same kind of barrage. His principal crime was that in getting himself reelected governor of Michigan in 1964 he had failed to support Goldwater. And for Loeb the crime was compounded by the fact that Johnson is his New Hampshire campaign manag-

THE ATTACK on Romney lacks some of the virulence which Loeb four years ago directed at Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. He made Rockefeller's private life a continuing target, calling him a wife-swapper. This campaign of personal venom, picked up by the extreme right in primaries across the country, is one reason Rockefeller has opted out of the current contest.

The Union - Leader is supporting Richard M. Nixon, who at this juncture seems certain to win the New Hampshire prize.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE primary can go a long way toward determining the GOP presidential nominee, with Nixon sent into orbit as the winner of the state's delegation to the Miami Beach convention. The question in many minds however is whether the New Hampshire stamp is the Goldwater stamp. In short, is the dominant motive the compulsion to-cling to the Goldwater flag, with extremism a virtue, even though it means going down to one more defeat that can finish the party once and for all? #### David Lawrence 'Exchange' Deal For The Pueblo?

government is up against a challenging and complex problem in trying to obtain the release of the 82 surviving crewmen of the U.S. Navy ship "Pueblo" who were seized by the North Koreans. The question is how to get the men back without resuming the war in Korea and involving this country in a large military operation while engaged in the Vietnam war.

The Soviet government, through Premier Kosygin, emphasized last week that it would try to keep the "Pueblo" episode from escalating into a war, but in Moscow this week the counsellor of the North Korean Embassy told a news conference that the crewmen would be punished. THIS IS TAKEN to mean that the men may be indefinitely imprisoned, and not harmed. The United States will continue to exert pressure for their release. It begins to look as if there may be some bargaining. Perhaps "ransom" deals may be made such as have been worked out with the Communists from time to time during the last 17 years. Thus, in April, 1951, Robert Vogler.

an American businessman who had been imprisoned in Communist Hungary, was freed after the United States agreed to "unfreeze" some of the assets of Hungary in West Germany and to permit Hungarian consulates in the United States to reopen. In December of the same year four American fliers, who had been forced down in Hungary, were released after the United States paid a cash ransom of $123,000 in "fines."

ANOTHER INCIDENT occurred in May, 1953, when William Oatis, an American newsman who had been jailed for two years in Czechoslovakia, was freed after the United States government agreed to lift trade bans which had cost the Czechs 20 million dollars in exports to this country.

FROM 1930 TO 1934, the Chinese Communists were paid more than 100 spreading to the delicate struc- section with subsequent births. for the release of American business-

WASHINGTON-The United States men who had been jailed or had been refused exit visas. Subsequently, 11 American airmen were imprisoned in Red China. Out of our efforts to obtain their release, a formula was developed whereby more than 50 Americans held in China were to be freed while the United States returned a few Chinese "students" and some Communist assets "frozen" in other lands were to be released.

> MOSCOW HAS used the same kind of technique. In 1962, for instance, it traded Gary Powers - the American U-2 pilot who had been shot down over the Soviet Union and given 10 years in prison-for Col. Rudolf Abel, a master spy for the Communists who was serving a 30-year sentence in the United Deals of this kind are not unusual in the Orient. Distasteful as the process may be to Americans, the Communists probably will insist upon some sort of payment or concession as the price for releasing the officers and crew of the "Pueblo." The alternative, of course, would be for the United States to take military action, either by seizure of a North Korean port or ships or by a threat to attack.

THE NORTH KOREAN Embassy's counsellor in Moscow accuses the crewmen of "having committed crimes," and says they are deserving of "the punishment provided by the law of this country." This is a technical question because international law does not provide for the detention of a ship or punishment of its crew even if the vessel strays out of international waters in peacetime. If such a precedent were established, it would certainly be disturbing to the Soviets, whose trawlers are frequently close to American shores

Under the circumstances, it may well turn out that, after a lot of discussion, the Americans being held as prisoners will be released. Some "exchange" arrangement involving the freeing of North Koreans now jailed in South Korea may be effectuated.

Refreshing Outlook

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should aftend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

What an exciting, stimulating century we live in! There's so much to see and to do. From morning until night we're on the go, and sometimes we can't sleep because our minds are whirling with plans for a busy tomorrow.

It pays to take time to breathe . . . time to unwind. We need a way to restore our souls and bodies so that the demands of modern life will not be overwhelming.

The Christian faith offers in full measure that healing peace within us that the psalmist describes. The Christian outlook is refreshing in its sincere approach to the problems of our complex society.

Why not join your neighbors, and attend church this Sunday? Here is a way to find "that peace which the world cannot give."

Opening lead: King of  $\diamondsuit$  Mismanagement of the trump suit by South led to the upset of his four heart

North made a take-out double of West's opening one diamond bid, inasmuch as he held ample support for all suits. After South responded with one heart, North invited his partner to carry on by jumping to three hearts.

Observe that it would not be proper for North to proceed directly to game imself, since partner may have been dragged into the proceedings against his will. Holding two kings, South had ample to accept the invita-

South crossed over to his hand with the king of clubs to lead a small heart. West played the five and North's jack won the trick. A heart was returned and, when East showed out, declarer put up the king to dislodge West's

The queen of diamonds came back forcing dummy again, which was now reduced to one trump - the queen. It was necessary to dislodge the ace of spades and, when West got in with that card, a fourth round of diamonds supplied the finishing touch. North was obliged to trump with the queen of hearts, and West's ten became established for the setting trick.

Since the defense must be let in twice in order for declarer to establish 10 tricks, he must be careful to protect his trump holding from a fatal attack. When the jack of hearts holds, South should continue with dummy's queen-retaining the king in his own hand to complete the drawing of trumps if that suit does not divide evenly. This will counter the threat of re-peated diamond forces, for declarer can safely reserve North's small hearts for ruffing purposes while he com-pletes his chores.
