More Troops May Be Needed In Viet

Westmoreland Makes No Estimate

SAIGON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland says more American troops probably will be needed in Vietnam.

"With additional troops," he says, "we could more effectively deny the enemy his objective, capitalize on his recent defeats to a greater degree in both time and place, and clearly demonstrate to Hanoi our firm determination to prevent him from taking over any part of South Vietnam."

NO ESTIMATE

Westmoreland gave no estimate of how many more U.S. troops might be needed above the 525,000 already authorized. Some military sources estimated this may be as many as 100,000.

There are 500,000 U.S. troops here now, plus 35,000 men in 7th Fleet ships offshore and another 35,000 in Thailand at air bases from which bombing strikes are launched against North Vietnam.

Westmoreland, the U.S. commander in Vietnam, conferred over the weekend on the troop situation with Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, who was in Saigon.

Wheeler left Saigon late Sunday to return to Washington. Dispatches from Washington said a decision on whether to call up thousands of reservists is hanging fire until he gets back to the capital.

Westmoreland's views on the Vietnam situation were expressed Sunday in written answers to questions submitted by The Associated Press in which he expanded on comments voiced in a two-hour informal interview.

LAST FIGHT

He said he did not believe Hanoi could stand a long war and he likened the recent Communist Janur new year—Tet—offensive to the Battle of the Bulge of World War II, in late 1944. That battle was the last major offensive by the Germans before their defeat in 1945.

Westmoreland said he underestimated the Communist infiltration tactics in their Tet offensive but said they nevertheless "suffered a military defeat." In his wide ranging replies, the 54-year-old commander also said:

"He had no reason to believe the North Vietnamese have changed their plan to attack Khe Sanh.

"The North Vietnamese had ignored the neutrality of Laos and Cambodia and used these countries to send men and munitions into South Vietnam."

"He was confident the U.S.

"body count" of Communist troops killed in the war is accurate and even conservative.

"The Communist offensive put the allies temporarily on the defensive but the Communists have 'run into a buzz saw.'"

"NO NEED" — He saw no need to change allied strategy but the time had come for debate to end and "get on with the job."

"The Communist offensive seems to be a 'go-for-broke effort" and any follow-up attack would not have the element of surprise.

"The bombing of North Vietnam has not stopped the flow of men, material and supplies to the South but it certainly has reduced the level of the flow."

"One reason the Communists launched their big offensive was that they were seriously concerned about a deterioration of

300 WORKERS Heart Fund Canvass Set Today

The community-wide Heart Fund canvass will begin today at 5 p.m., with over 300 volunteers expected to participate in the Howard County Heart Association's main effort during February.

Mrs. W. N. Norred, who has coordinated much of the month's activities with Mrs. Donald D. Van Meter, association president, reminded residents that volunteers will be calling until 7 p.m. to accept contributions and distribute educational material.

Volunteers will then return to the Veterans Administration Hospital, the central meeting place, to tabulate donations. Mrs. Norred said that anyone wishing to make a contribution who was not contacted may stop by the hospital this evening.

Area housewives will head the canvass, assisted by several organizations, including the Jaycee-Ettes, the Demolays, 4-H boys and girls, Scout leaders, and the Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y Clubs of the YMCA.

"We encourage everyone to make generous donations," Mrs. Norred said. "Heart disease is the main killer in the United States, and this money will go toward badly-needed research and medicines."

Killed In Action

Spec. 5 Ismael Holguin, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Holguin, 1202 N. Gregg, has been killed in action in Vietnam.

His father said that Army representatives notified the family Sunday that the body of young Holguin, missing since Feb. 7, had been found. Army officials were to inform them today of arrangements for the return of the young soldier's body. The parents said no memorial services were planned, until they hear when their son's body will reach Big Spring.

Spec. 5 Holguin is a native of Big Spring. He was a graduate of Big Spring High School and enlisted in the Army Jan. 11, 1967. He had been eight months in Vietnam at the time of his death. He was married May 27, 1967. Survivors include his wife, Concha; his parents, six brothers, and two sisters.

Cool Trend Coming

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Spring came knocking at Texas' door again today. Clouds disappeared and the weather stayed mild for this time of year throughout the state.

Looking ahead a bit, however, the Weather Bureau issued long range forecasts for a new cooling trend about midweek and temperatures averaging as much as six to 10 degrees below normal.

The extended forecasts, for the period through next Friday, even held out a prospect for a little snow in Northwest Texas by the end of the week.

Sunday's temperatures ran as high as a summery 88 degrees at Presidio in the Big Bend of West Texas and 80 at McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Amarillo was one of the coolest spots with a top mark of 58.

Readings before dawn today ranged from 29 at Dalhart and 31 at Lubbock up to 60 at Brownsville.

Thousands Evacuated

FORMOSA, Argentina (AP) — Thousands of persons have been evacuated from eight towns covered with flood waters from the Pilcomayo River along the border with Paraguay in northern Argentina.

All Teachers May Walk Out

SANTA FE (AP) — Republican Gov. David Cargo is holding firm to his position that he will not call a special legislature to consider educational financing programs as teachers threaten a statewide strike.

More than 80,000 pupils in Albuquerque and nearby Belén entered a third day without classes today after 3,000 teachers in the two cities struck last Thursday.

The 11,800-teacher New Mexico Education Association (NMEA) has threatened statewide actions by noon if Cargo has not called lawmakers into session. He said Sunday he was not going to call the legislature until the state had a concrete program of educational financing to work with.

James Green, executive secretary of the NMEA, said a program is being prepared and hoped to have it ready within a week "if we don't run into complications."

Green said NMEA outfits throughout the state were "continuing getting ready for their operation to begin Tuesday morning."

Green said 15 teachers' groups had indicated they would withhold services or take professional study days Tuesday and Wednesday. He said more calls were expected.

The NMEA adopted the resolutions last week at a meeting, promising action if Cargo didn't call the legislature.

Green would not say what action the school districts would take, strike or professional study days. He said late last week that 80 to 85 per cent of the state's teachers would strike by noon unless their demand is met for a special legislature.

INDUCEMENT There was no solution to the Albuquerque and Belen strikes. Cargo said, however, he had offered Albuquerque teachers "some inducement" at a Saturday meeting.

Legislative leaders agreed to meet with education officials to-night in Tallahassee, but they called the meeting pointless, saying the legislature does not negotiate. "Negotiations have to take place at the polls," said Senate President Verle Pope.

Several county school boards, including Brevard and Palm Beach, set today as the deadline for teachers to come back to the blackboards. They threatened action on the resignations of teachers absent today.

Dr. Phil Constans, executive secretary of the Florida Education Association, requested the meeting tonight in Tallahassee. Telegrams were sent to Gov. Claude Kirk and leaders of both chambers of the legislature.

Kirk's office said the Governor was scheduled to be in Miami at the time of the meeting.

The teachers walked out after the legislature passed in special session a $254.5 million education package the teachers labeled misleading and inadequate.

SHIP CLEARED OUT, Re-Opening Canal

PANAMA (AP) — A 746-foot Japanese ship loaded with 51,806 tons of ore that grounded mid-way through the Panama Canal was moved out of Gaillard Cut today, clearing the 50-mile waterway for traffic.

SINCE SUNDAY The canal had been blocked since Sunday afternoon when the Shozan Maru scraped a rocky channel bank, gashing a 75-foot hole in her hull and settled in 47 feet of water.

Panama Canal salvage crews worked throughout the night pumping air into the flooded forward ballast tanks to lift the ship off the bottom and tugs pulled her out to a wider section of the canal.

The Gaillard Cut is 300 feet wide, the most narrow point of the canal. While the Shozan Maru was grounded, more than 60 ships were held up in both ends of the canal.

Even with the freeing of the vessel, movement of backed up traffic will be slow. One set of canal locks is being overhauled, closing one of the two navigation lanes. Ships are unable to move in both directions in some sections.

The freighter was bound from Peru to France when she struck the bank a mile from the northern end of the nine-mile cut. Water rushed into the forward ballast tanks and the boat began to settle at the bow.

Divers reported the cargo holds were undamaged although the gash was six feet high and ran just 10 feet above the Shozan Maru's keel. Even on the bottom, her deck was 12 feet above water. The ship is 104 feet wide.

HIGH BANKS The Gaillard Cut slices through the continental divide and at some points the banks are more than 300 feet high. The cut is being widened to 500 feet.

set to launch a large-scale ground attack on Khe Sanh with up to 40,000 men.

AP Correspondent John T. Wheeler reported from the base in the northwestern corner of the country that Marine jet dive bombers dropped bombs and napalm on the Communists in efforts to cover the Marines trying to get back into the base.

One air observer said he saw Marines lying on the ground and Communist soldiers swarming through the area just before the bombs fell.

The Leathernecks inside the base gave the survivors cover with tank guns, recoilless rifles and machine guns.

Marine casualties were not announced under new security regulations that went into effect today. But they obviously were heavy.

The patrol, sent out to gather intelligence, was hit 800 yards beyond the outer wire. Senior Marine officers said the young lieutenant leading the platoon went beyond the distance set for him.

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — President Ho Chi Min of North Vietnam has sent a message to Communist parties meeting here, asking for support against the United States, Communist sources said today.

The North Vietnamese Communist party was absent from the meeting, apparently because of reluctance to offend Red China. The meeting has been denounced by China as a Soviet-inspired move to harden the split in the world Communist movement.

Attacks on China were expected to be heard in the meeting, charging Mao Tse-tung's party with causing the split and with failing to support united Communist efforts to help the Vietnamese Communists.

Delegates from 64 of 81 Communist parties eligible for the meeting had arrived today as informal discussions began to reveal disagreements.

LCB ADMINISTRATOR

LCB Fills Job Temporarily

AUSTIN (AP) — The troubled Texas Liquor Control Board got a new administrator today while a Texas House committee began an investigation of the agency.

The board accepted the resignation of Coke Stevenson Jr., 54, whose organization has been criticized for months. He has been administrator since 1949.

TOOK OVER

It named O. N. Humphreys as acting administrator. He took over as assistant administrator last Monday. Earlier, he was chief of intelligence of the Department of Public Safety.

Humphrey, 43, appeared still in the running as permanent administrator. But Board Chairman W. D. Noel of Odessa said, "We have already had a number of applications for the post and we want to investigate them thoroughly."

Noel told Stevenson, "I appreciate the wonderful work you have done for us. I want to wish you luck in any endeavor you undertake."

The board also issued directives to all department heads and supervisors, asking for an evaluation of employees under them and for names and details of all employees who hold a second job.

The administrator's job pays $25,000 annually.

The probing House group was warned by the Texas attorney general that anyone giving testimony will be immune from prosecution in state courts.

"You will be so warned in asking your questions," Rep. Richard Cory of Victoria, head of the special study group, said as the meeting began.

The first witness, appearing at his own request, was Tom Ragland of Waco. He asked that any change in liquor laws provide that a private citizen would have the same right of appeal from a Texas Liquor Control Board ruling as the applicant for a license to sell alcoholic beverages.

Cory said the morning witnesses would include Rep. Vernon Stewart of Wichita Falls, head of a House Juvenile Delinquency Study Committee, and a representative of the Texas Retail Grocers Association.

The TLCB was scheduled to tell the House group at 1:30 p.m. its recommendations for improving state liquor laws. The board held a separate morning meeting to discuss a new administrator.

RULING

Cory asked Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin for a ruling on the immunity of committee witnesses after Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, head of the Senate Investigating Committee, said such testimony might affect prosecution of liquor law violations.

Hardeman was criticized by several legislators for his failure to call the Senate group into the TLCB investigation.

Garbage Piles Still Higher

MEMPHIS (AP) — Striking garbage collectors planned another march through Memphis today to dramatize their demands for union recognition and higher pay. Most are Negroes.

Garbage mounted in this city of 700,000, and many areas still had refuse uncollected since the strike began 16 days ago.

The City Council voted 9-4 Friday to back Mayor Henry Loeb's stand that the walkout is illegal.

Chancellor Robert Hoffman issued an injunction Saturday barring 15 leaders of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees from "coercing" the city "by striking, picketing or by other means" in order to get union recognition.

However, James Lawson, a preacher supporting the 1,300 striking workers, said the order would "have no effect whatsoever" on the march.

Father Sets Self Afire, Dies Today

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — A young father of three died today after pouring gasoline over his head and setting himself afire Sunday night after an argument with his wife over his four-year-old daughter.

Gilbert Pena, 25, died in Shannon Hospital here after suffering burns over about 50 per cent of his body.

Mrs. Gilbert Pena told police she could give no reason for her husband's action.

The 21-year-old housewife, expecting her fourth child in April, said her husband came to the home of her parents and asked permission to take their four-year-old daughter away.

"He told me to give him the little girl and I said no," she said, holding the child in her arms while their other two children clung to her skirt. "It was too cold."

"He said you're going to see what's going to happen, and then

I thought he was going to come in and I closed the door. I locked the door and turned around because I didn't want to see nothing."

Mrs. Pena's sister, Connie Andrade, 19, said, "I saw him pour gasoline from that can over his head. I saw him light the cigarette lighter and he put it on his head."

"That's all I saw. I closed the curtain and ran to the back door to go over to my neighbor's house and call the police."

Rudy Sevier, 12, said he saw what was going on and ran to the nearby home of Gilbert Flores.

The boy said Flores soaked a blanket in water and covered Pena with it.

RELEASED

Pena was released from jail Saturday after serving two weeks on a misdemeanor charge. Policeman Ralph Engert said Pena had refused to go home to his wife.

GEN. WESTMORELAND DEFENDS CASUALTY COUNT

Enemy Does Not Hesitate To Sacrifice

morale of the Communist troops. "I liken the recent Tet offensive by the leadership in Hanoi to the Battle of the Bulge in World War II," Westmoreland said. "By committing a large share of his forces in a major offensive, he achieved some tactical surprise. This offensive has required us to react and to modify our plans in order to take advantage of the opportunity to inflict heavy casualties upon him."

DEFEAT

"Although the enemy has achieved some temporary psychological advantage, he suffered a military defeat. He has paid a big price for what he has gained. The enemy has recently changed his strategy and now apparently wants to go-for-broke. The price that he has paid and will continue to pay should, in time, cause him to make another assessment. In any case, his ability to pursue a protracted war has been reduced by the losses that he has recently suffered."

Concerning Laos and Cambodia, Westmoreland said:

"The enemy has not used the same ground rules that we have and has ignored the neutrality of Laos and Cambodia. Southeastern Laos has been used for several years as a major line of communications for the movement of men, weapons, ammunition and supplies. It has become a defacto part of North Vietnam, since it is entirely controlled by Hanoi. The eastern border areas of Cambodia adjacent to South Vietnam are characterized by jungle-covered, unpopulated terrain. The border is ill-defined and in some areas it is under dispute. The North Vietnamese have taken advantage of this situation and have used the border areas of Cambodia for purposes of infiltration, supply, and troop rehabilitation and training. Even in the populated areas of Cambodia adjacent to South Vietnam, a smuggling operation of major proportions has been conducted to supply the Viet Cong forces with arms, ammunition and medical supplies."

EFFECT

Regarding the effect of the Communist offensive on the allied pacification program in South Vietnam, Westmoreland said: "It is reasonable to assume that in many areas, the program has been set back. On the other hand, in some areas we know it was untouched. In the areas where there was a setback, certainly it will take months in some instances to restore the effort to its former level, although the exact time involved depends on a number of imponderables."

Concerning destruction in cities in the Communist offensive he said: "A large portion of the destruction, particularly the fires, was caused directly by the Viet Cong themselves, firing mortars and recoilless rifles into the cities. Second, none of the destruction would have occurred had not the Viet Cong undertaken to attack the cities."

Regarding the allied count of Communists killed in action, Westmoreland said:

"I believe that one of the great distortions of the war has been the allegation that casualties inflicted on the enemy are padded. I can say categorically that such is not the case. I have given my personal attention to this matter and have had a number of checks made on the accuracy of our system. I am confident that the officially reported enemy killed in action figures are conservative and that any inaccuracies are more than offset by enemy deaths that we do not know about."

PROCEDURES

"Let me explain. We have set up accounting procedures that are designed to come up with the most honest and accurate count possible of enemy killed in action. Certainly, there are cases of duplication and where noncombatants have been reported as enemy casualties. This latter is particularly true of porters pressed into service who, in some cases, could be innocent civilians. However, we seldom know the number of KIA's (Killed in action) resulting from B52 tactical air and artillery strikes. We never know how many dead the enemy is able to remove from the battlefield, we never know how many die from their wounds, and this is certain to be a substantial number. Finally, we are continually finding mass graves of enemy dead. I am convinced that these unknowns more than offset the relatively small inaccuracies of our accounting system."

In reply to another question, Westmoreland said:

"There is ample evidence that the leadership in Hanoi and the Viet Cong in the South does not hesitate to sacrifice thousands of men in order to achieve political ends. There is no evidence that this policy will change. The tremendous losses during the recent offensive will have to be replaced. This is going to impose an even greater drain on the resources available to the enemy. . . . I do not believe Hanoi can hold up under a long war. The present enemy offensive attitude may indicate that Hanoi realizes this, also."

MORALE

Westmoreland also said: "We have had thousands of reports over the past year that the morale of the Viet Cong was deteriorating. These came from hundreds of captured documents and thousands of interrogations of prisoners of war and defectors. One reason that the enemy launched his recent large scale offensive was that he was seriously concerned about this deterioration of morale."

Of U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, Westmoreland said: "No reasonable person ever expected the bombing campaign to stop infiltration of personnel and the movement of supplies to the South. . . . It has slowed the movement of men and equipment to the South and has degraded the amount of weapons, ammunition, and supplies that would otherwise have arrived in the South. It has not stopped the flow of men, material and supplies, but it certainly has reduced the level that would have been possible otherwise. The fact that the enemy has waged a concerted international propaganda campaign to stop the bombing suggests that the campaign is hurting him."

About Khe Sanh, he said: "It is conceivable that the enemy's build-up around Khe Sanh is a feint, but I do not believe that I have no reason to believe at this time that his plans have changed. He can attack at any time if he is prepared to accept the casualties that would be inflicted upon him. Of course, there is always another possibility—that our heavy air attacks may force him to modify his plans."

HURT BADLY

Westmoreland said the Communist offensive put the allies on the defensive temporarily but hurt the enemy badly.

"The recent Viet Cong attacks," he said, "have necessitated a redeployment of many of our troops not only to help defend the population centers but also to take advantage of the opportunity to inflict heavy casualties on the enemy which has been accomplished, incidentally, with unprecedented success. . . . In a very real sense, when he moved out of his jungle camps, he made himself more vulnerable and gave us an opportunity to hurt him severely. That is why over 40,000 of the enemy have been killed in less than one month, which is over 40 per cent of all the enemy killed in 1967. His attack put us temporarily on the defensive but he has run into a buzz saw. We are maintaining pressure on him wherever we find him and are resuming the offensive as rapidly as possible."

At another point, Westmoreland said: "The tactic of infiltration into the population centers was used to a far greater degree than anticipated and was generally successful. . . . Without question, the capability of the enemy to employ this tactic was underestimated. Certainly it was by me, and I believe likewise by the Vietnamese. The enemy will probably try this tactic again and we must give him credit for having this potential."

FUTURE

lied strategy, Westmoreland said: "I do not visualize that the temporary success by the enemy in penetrating the cities will bring about a change in strategy, since the enemy did not enter the cities in military formation but infiltrated by road and byway and as a part of the migration of people during the Tet period, when traditionally families and close friends get together and celebrate. . . . Basically, I see no requirement to change our strategy. Friendly forces still must find, fix, fight and destroy the enemy, and concurrently provide the necessary security to the population. However, one fact is clear as the result of the challenge posed by the recent Tet offensive: The time has come for the debating to end, for everyone to close ranks, roll up their sleeves, and get on with the job."

Utility Lines For Annexed Area On City Agenda

A decision on installation of water and sewer lines in the recently annexed area of the Worth Peeler Addition will be studied by Big Spring City Commissioners Tuesday evening, meeting in regular session at City Hall at 7 o'clock. Larry Crow, city manager, is recommending that the utilities be done by contractors, as opposed to using city crews, in order to complete the work as quickly as possible. It will provide water and sewer service to residents on Alendale Road, Roberts Drive and Cindy Lane. Money to pay for the utilities has been provided in the current budget, he has pointed out. Commissioners also will: 1. Study a recommendation to purchase a new street sweeper with funds in the forthcoming budget; 2. Set public hearing for the 1968-69 fiscal year budget; 3. Call for bids from banks to act as city depository of funds; 4. Hold a public hearing for on-premises consumption of alcoholic beverages for the Sands Restaurant. The request has been approved by the building inspector, health inspector, and police; 5. Set a public hearing for the appeal by the Robb for a zoning change in the Highland South Addition, to permit the construction of an apartment center; 6. Consideration of routine successive readings of ordinances previously approved.

INDUSTRIES WOULD GET TAX BREAKS

Big-City Proposals Surprise

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposal to Congress for solving "The Crisis of the Cities" is more far-reaching than many urban experts had hoped.

The urgently worded message issued last Thursday included several proposals of potentially great impact that had not been forecast in the President's State of the Union or Budget messages. Foremost among these:

—A means for the nation's big industries to enter the low-income housing field on a large scale for the first time. The incentive: Tax breaks.

NEW CITIES —Federal backing for new planned communities to provide American families of all income levels with an alternative to what Johnson called crowded cities and sprawling suburbs.

Urban officials who asked not to be identified called the message the strongest and most important on the problems of big cities ever issued by an American President.

"It isn't the moon and the stars," said one official, "and some people are going to think he should have gone further. But considering the mood of the country and the mood of Congress, this is a stronger message than most of us had anticipated."

Calling for 300,000 new or rehabilitated lower-income housing units in the coming year and six million in the next 10 years, the President's program is designed to wipe out substandard housing in America.

The aim of involving private enterprise on a large scale, would be to draw on its expertise to replace the substandard units as quickly as possible. It assumes that business would be able to develop better, less costly low-income housing than could the government.

The proposal would permit companies to join in forming what would be called national housing partnerships.

Suggested by a presidential commission headed by industrialist Edgar G. Kaiser, the arrangement would permit companies investing in low-income housing to share their losses. The firms also could deduct their investments from their total tax bills, much the way individuals deduct interest on their home-mortgage payments.

FEDERAL CHECKS

In addition to pumping large amounts of new money into the low-income housing programs, the partnerships would be designed to provide a national resource center of technical and executive skill.

The partnerships could sponsor local housing projects on their own or enter joint ventures with local builders, developers and investors.

To develop new communities, the President proposed federal financial backing for private developers. Few now are able to hold out through the long initial investment period—six or seven years—before income starts to match outlay.

It would permit developers to sell bonds, which the government would guarantee. The government would have to approve the development plans.

What kind of communities would the government approve? "We're just not going to accept junk, I can tell you that," said an official. "We're not going to accept the ordinary kind of subdivisions you now see."

The official said the new communities would have to be self-contained, with their own industries and employment as well as schools and services.

Rockefeller's Remark Fails To Shake Nixon

By The Associated Press —Richard M. Nixon says New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's willingness to accept a genuine Republican presidential draft has no relevance—for now—beyond the New Hampshire primary.

Speculation that Rockefeller could become Nixon's chief rival for the GOP presidential nomination was heightened by the governor's statement in Detroit over the weekend that he'd accept a draft.

But Nixon told newsmen in Whitefield, N. H., Sunday the only current relevance of Rockefeller's statement is the impact it might have on write-in votes for the governor in New Hampshire.

Rockefeller continues to say he is not a presidential candidate—and expects no draft—but supporters are waging a write-in drive for the governor in New Hampshire anyway.

Nixon also told newsmen he's "not particularly encouraged" by the latest Gallup Poll showing him running even in popularity with President Johnson.

"The polls are not going to determine the Republican presidential nominee," he said.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., a Democratic presidential hopeful leveled a new attack at the Johnson administration meanwhile. And Fortune magazine said a presidential bid by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., would get almost solid opposition from business.

BAD REACTION

McCarthy said in Manchester, N.H., the Johnson administration has taken "almost no significant action to remedy the basic conditions with lead to riots in the cities."

McCarthy said Johnson's five years in office have "brought decay to replace progress, near despair to replace hope, and failure in war to replace success in the pursuit of peace."

Fortune said Sunday a poll of business leaders showed "an almost united front of business opposition" to Kennedy if he ran for President.

"Not since the thirties," the magazine said, "has a possible candidate aroused such intense opposition from the business community."

In an accompanying interview, Kennedy was asked if he thought the bad reaction from business was a valid discovery. The senator was quoted as replying: "I am sure that some of it is, yes."

Barry Sold On Domino Theory

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) —Former Sen. Barry Goldwater says he believes in the domino theory as a rationale for the American military presence in Vietnam.

The Republican presidential candidate in 1964 told an audience of 2,500 at Providence college Sunday night that "if we lose that part of Asia, we'll lose all of Asia."

Goldwater termed the recent Viet Cong offensive against cities in South Vietnam as "psychological victory for North Vietnam and a military victory for the United States." He said an American victory in the expected battle at Khe Sahn would "shorten the war."

Goldwater also said he would favor the bombing of Haiphong harbor, North Vietnam's major port, after warning all trading nations that the action was to be taken.

"I worry more about losing one American boy than 10 Russian freighters," he said.

As far as the presidential race is concerned, Goldwater said he would continue to support former vice President Richard Nixon.

Workers In Dallas Mar Auto Picture

DETROIT (AP) — With one exception, the nation's major auto makers today enjoyed full employment—no strikes or layoffs—for the first time in weeks.

The exception was a Ford Motor Co. assembly plant in Dallas, where 1,500 members of the United Auto Workers have been striking since Feb. 13 over production standards and issues involving health and safety.

General Motors Corp. returned to full employment for the first time since mid-January.

GM faces strike deadlines however, at a number of plants starting Tuesday.

The firm called 10,300 workers back to their jobs today after laying them off because of parts shortages resulting from earlier strikes at some foundries.

About 650 members of UAW Local 465 ratified a contract Sunday with the General Motors aluminum foundry in Massena, N.Y., ending a walkout that began early last week.

A contract for 3,500 UAW members at the GM assembly plant in Linden, N.J., was ratified Saturday.

Chrysler Corp. returned to normal operations after 4,100 workers ratified a contract with the firm's assembly plant in St. Louis. The workers had been striking since Jan. 8.

Bargaining is continuing between GM and the UAW on 29 more local contracts throughout the country.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Both sides vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠7 ♠AK92 ♣AK52 ♣A1097

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

Pass 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠

Dble. 1 ♠

What do you bid now?

A.—Redouble. Despite the fact that you have one spade, the redouble is in order for your high card strength should enable partner to fulfill the contract even with the weakest sort of hand. However, it is not likely that the opponents will leave it in, but you should announce to partner the strength of your hand so that when the adversaries take out to two diamonds or two clubs you will have the best opportunity to speak, and a penalty double should prove highly profitable.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠K92 ♣A1094 ♣Q93 ♣K106

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

Pass 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠

1 ♠ Pass Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two no trump. This is perhaps an overbid by the margin of an eyelash as the hand contains only 12 high card points. However, the hand does have good intermediates and the queen of diamonds is somewhat more impressive than it ordinarily would be by reason of partner's bid in that suit.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠KJ952 ♣A954 ♣K9 ♣Q6

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

3 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Dble. ?

What do you bid now?

A.—The strategic call at this point is to pass. Partner has obviously made a cue bid and will not construe your pass as a desire to play clubs, inasmuch as you have already supported hearts. He might construe a bid at this point as showing additional values, which you would prefer not to have him do.

Q. 4—As South, both vulnerable, you hold:

♠4 ♣QJ10976 ♣1085 ♣Q54

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1 ♠ Dble. 3 ♠ ?

What do you bid?

A.—At risk of being charged with recklessness, we recommend a "nut" or four hearts. This hand lacks high card strength, it has the merit of attractive distribution. East has confessed a weak hand and is trying to block you out. If partner's double is sound you are assuming no great risk of injury at this level. If you are punished it will no doubt prove that the loss was sustained in preventing the opponents from scoring a vulnerable game.

Q. 5—East, West vulnerable, and as South you hold:

♠KQ82 ♣KQ953 ♣6 ♠A73

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

1 ♠ Dble. Pass 2 ♠

Pass Pass 2 ♠ Pass

Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. It would not be good policy to contest the auction because partner probably has little or nothing and, furthermore, may have only a four-card suit. You have good defensive values, and your brightest prospect is to pick up a small set.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AK1075 ♣J8 ♣AK974 ♠2

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Our choice is for a bid of three diamonds, a jump shift. While it is true that two diamonds would be forcing and may be regarded as a proper bid, we feel that unless a jump is made at this point it will be more difficult for you to make a manifestation of strength on later rounds.

Q. 7—Neither side vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠Q873 ♣Q ♣QJ10843 ♠A6

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

Pass 1 ♠ Dble. Pass

Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three diamonds. Especially in view of your previous pass, a jump in response to the double is indicated. This is by no means forcing and, if partner's next bid happens to be three hearts, you may safely bid three spades, which partner will read as a somewhat indifferent four-card suit.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠QAKQJ1053 ♣Q95 ♠K7

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South

Pass Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—While an opening bid of one heart is technically correct, your own choice would be for four hearts. Any slam possibilities can be ruled out by the fact that partner has already passed, and the prescriptive bid will prove very effective if the opponents have a spade hand between them. In any event, partner needs very little for you to bring home 10 tricks.

EL PASO RUBS WRONG WAY?

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A proposed city ordinance in El Paso is rubbing massage parlor operators the wrong way.

The ordinance would prohibit women attendants from massaging men, and men from massaging women. It would license all massage parlors, and it would permit police to revoke licenses for violations of the law.

"I never saw a man who wanted to be massaged by another man," said Marian L. Swigart, a parlor operator. "I couldn't make a living if women were not allowed to massage men patients."

Civil Rights Bill Compromise Hint

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate headed for another vote on ending its six-week debate on civil rights legislation as Republican opponents hinted at a possible compromise.

LBJ PUSH

The fate of the civil rights protection bill and its proposed open-housing amendment, both strongly urged by President Johnson, could hinge on the outcome of today's bid to invoke cloture, or cut off debate.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who joined with Southern Democrats last week in successfully blocking cloture, talked of getting a compromise measure he could endorse if the second debate-ending move failed.

The same line was taken by Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa. He noted cloture was obtained on the landmark 1964 civil rights measure only after a compromise agreement was worked out.

But political cynics among the bill's supporters appeared likely to view Dirksen's compromise talk as a means of keeping together the conservative Republican-Southern coalition that opposed cloture in the first place.

VOTES HOPE

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has said that barring unforeseen circumstances, he would move to lay the bill aside—all but killing its chances of passage this session—if the Senate refused a second time cut off debate.

The first vote last Tuesday on ending debate was 55-37, or 7 short of the required two-thirds majority. No senator has announced a switch in his position since then.

Bipartisan sponsors of the open-housing amendment hope to pick up votes, however, by announcing they will propose modifications limiting its coverage.

The bill would make it a federal crime to interfere with Negroes in the exercise of specific rights such as attending public schools and voting. It is intended to protect not only Negroes but civil rights workers from violence or threats of violence.

The open-housing amendment would, within three years, prohibit racial discrimination in the sale or rental of about 97 percent of the nation's housing.

R&R In Sydney Blots War Scars

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Every morning at 6, a jet lands at Sydney airport with 150 American servicemen, 9½ hours out of Vietnam.

Within two hours the men have melted into the community — inconspicuous, looking just the same as thousands of other young men in this city. By that time the jet has refueled, and 150 other Americans have gone back to Vietnam.

When they reach their hotel, and don't put it on until the morning six days later when the bus calls to take them to the airport. Most bring casual clothes with them, and buy or hire suits in Sydney. At any one time there are 1,000 or so of these servicemen on Australian soil.

PHONE HOME

Sydney people are amazed at how little they see of the R and R men, but the fact is they don't pick them as vacationing Americans from Vietnam.

The first thing many of the men do in Australia is telephone the folks back home. You can get clear signals and quick connections on the cable. "It was like talking to someone in the next room," said 2nd Lt. Ken Fitzek of Naples, Fla.

Every week, says the United States Information Service, the Americans leave behind $150,000. Half a dozen R and R men have been caught bringing marijuana cigarettes into Australia and are fined around $60, but few have been getting into other trouble.

At Marker Dedication

A historical marker on the founding of Colorado City in 1880 was unveiled Sunday on the Mitchell County courthouse grounds. Principals in the ceremony were (l. to r.), Dr. Rupert N. Richardson, Abilene, one of the area's most knowledgeable historians; Mrs. Witt Hines, president of the Mitchell County Historical Committee, and County Judge Elmer Martin.

C-City Dedicates Marker On 1880 Founding Of Town

COLORADO CITY — This "mother city of West Texas" added another page to the chapter of self-history it is writing with ceremonies Sunday dedicating a historical marker on the founding of the town.

Some 75 persons, many of them descendants of C-City's pioneer families, gathered on the Mitchell County courthouse grounds for the program, highlighted by a brief review of the town's history by Dr. Rupert N. Richardson, president-emeritus of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, and one of the Southwest's great historians.

IN 1880

The marker was arranged by the Mitchell County Historical Committee, in cooperation with the Texas State Historical Survey Committee. Its wording recites the founding of the town in 1880, where the Texas & Pacific Railway crosses the Colorado River; tells of the opening of the first store, by A. W. Dunn, and continues, "the largest community between Fort Worth and El Paso, Colorado City had more millionaires than any other Texas town and the most saloons in the West. It was for a decade the central shipping point and supply depot for the sprawling ranches of West Texas and New Mexico, and in the first two years its population soared from 700 to 5,000.

Borden Show Dates Listed

GAIL — Borden County Junior Livestock Association's Annual Fat Stock Show will be held at the show barns on March 8 and 9.

Joe M. Canon, president of the association, said that the barrow and lamb show will start on Friday, March 8, with judging to begin at 3 p.m. The steer judging starts at 10 a.m. Saturday. A barbecue lunch will be served at noon Saturday for all exhibitors, their families and friends of the show.

The auction sale which climaxes the show each year will start at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. Canon said that there will be about 200 entries in the show this year. Seventy-five of these will be offered at the auction.

Bids, he said, will be taken in dollars above the floor price. The general public is invited to attend the show.

Costly Pot Fire Staged

PADUCAH, Tex. (AP) — The remainder of one of the largest caches of marijuana ever found in the United States once valued at an estimated $100,000 to $250,000 went up in smoke here.

The marijuana had been stored in the Cottle County Courthouse for evidence.

Since the evidence was no longer needed, Sheriff Elmer Clark burned it.

The evidence was half of a crop that grew on a farm near here for three years. Officials discovered the crop in August of 1962. A tenant farmer was convicted of five counts of raising and possessing the illegal plant.

Officials said finding the large crop helped clear up a ring operating in three states.

Retired Teacher Sews For Orphans

OLNEY, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Viola Krug of Olney, a retired teacher and home economist, has a hobby of making clothes—but not for herself.

Mrs. Krug, 72, makes clothes for the children in the Juliette Fowler Home, an orphan's home in Dallas.

The children receive second-hand clothes so often and enjoy getting something new, she said.

Mrs. Krug, who never had any children of her own, began making clothing for the children shortly after she retired in 1965.

Man With Broken Leg Is Rescued

DUARTE, Calif. (AP) — For three days Paul Guiteras lay with a broken leg in an isolated canyon before two Los Angeles County firemen heard him cry for help.

Guiteras, 46, was taken from the 150-foot ravine to Arcadia Methodist Hospital where his condition was listed as good. He was treated for exposure.

Jack Hinton, fire battalion chief, said Guiteras apparently fell while climbing Thursday. Hinton and James Daleo, a fireman, were on a routine patrol when they found the Duarte man.

Teachers' Pay Hike Veto Due

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Republican Gov. Dewey Bartlett was expected to veto two tax increase bills today setting the stage for chaos in the legislature and a possible walkout of the state's 27,000 school teachers later in the week.

The governor has said he will veto the two tax measures, which were passed by the legislature to finance a $1,000 per year teacher pay increase over a two-year span.

A new alliance of urban community Oklahoma Education Association units asked the OEA to call a special statewide teacher convention before the governor acts on the education legislation.

The alliance was formed upon a suggestion of members of the Oklahoma City Education Association.

Marksmen Down About 130 Deer

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The crack of rifle fire from five marksmen cut down about 130 deer on the Twin Cities Army ammunition plant grounds during the weekend as the hunt began to rid the grounds of a hazard to trucks.

Some 350 to 400 deer have roamed the 2,500-acre grounds in suburban Arden Hills.

A save-the-deer committee, working with the State Conservation Department, tried to tranquilize the deer with dope darts, then remove them to other areas of the state. However, only 27 were captured and at least a dozen died later. The Conservation Department said that attacks the brain and nervous system.

Man With Broken Leg Is Rescued

DUARTE, Calif. (AP) — For three days Paul Guiteras lay with a broken leg in an isolated canyon before two Los Angeles County firemen heard him cry for help.

Guiteras, 46, was taken from the 150-foot ravine to Arcadia Methodist Hospital where his condition was listed as good. He was treated for exposure.

Jack Hinton, fire battalion chief, said Guiteras apparently fell while climbing Thursday. Hinton and James Daleo, a fireman, were on a routine patrol when they found the Duarte man.

Teachers' Pay Hike Veto Due

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Republican Gov. Dewey Bartlett was expected to veto two tax increase bills today setting the stage for chaos in the legislature and a possible walkout of the state's 27,000 school teachers later in the week.

The governor has said he will veto the two tax measures, which were passed by the legislature to finance a $1,000 per year teacher pay increase over a two-year span.

A new alliance of urban community Oklahoma Education Association units asked the OEA to call a special statewide teacher convention before the governor acts on the education legislation.

The alliance was formed upon a suggestion of members of the Oklahoma City Education Association.

$2 Minimum Wage Proposal Pushed

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — The AFL-CIO said today the new federal minimum wage of $1.60 per hour is not enough for a worker to support a family and pressed Congress anew to enact a $2 minimum.

"The AFL-CIO's objective of a $2 minimum wage can no longer be regarded as a long-range goal. It must be reached as soon as possible," said the executive council of the 14 million member labor federation.

The $1.60 minimum that went into effect this month will fatten the paychecks of more than seven million lower paid workers by an estimated total of $2 billion a year.

$6 BILLION ANNUALLY

Nathaniel Goldfinger, chief AFL-CIO economist, said a $2 an hour minimum would put another $6 billion a year into the pockets of workers at the bottom of the nation's wage scale.

The AFL-CIO council said minimum wage hikes benefit the nation's economy because most of it flows immediately into consumer markets.

The labor leaders, discredited by some business groups that raising the minimum wage puts some firms out of business. They cited a Labor Department study of the effects of the minimum wage hike from $1.25 to $1.40 an hour a year ago, showing that out of 700,000 newly covered firms only three plant closings involving 33 workers could be found.

"In all the covered areas, employment actually went up," a Labor Department spokesman confirmed. He said the Labor Department is conducting a similar study of the impact of the latest increase to $1.60.

"The basic minimum wage of $1.60 an hour, which became effective Feb. 1, still falls far short of providing adequate support for a family," the labor council said.

It said Congress should at least extend the present $1.60 minimum to the approximately 11 million workers still not covered by the law.

Pay Deadline For Candidates

Today is the deadline for candidates, who want their names on the May 4 primary ballot, to pay their assessment to the Howard County Democratic Committee.

Any candidate who neglects to make payment by midnight will forfeit his right to be a candidate in the primary election. Only two had not paid their money Saturday, and George Thornburn, county chairman, said he expected to hear from them today.

The candidates are assessed a percentage of their first year's salary for the post they seek. County office candidates, where no opposition exists are assessed at 7½ per cent of the salary the office pays. Where opposition is listed in the race, the assessment was 4.5 per cent of the annual salary.

Thornburn said the schedule would produce $4,200 which should pay the costs for the first and second primaries. The expenses will include printing the ballots, payment of precinct officials, and other incidental expenses.

Two Suspected Gunners Jailed

Johnny Torres, 602 NW 5th, reported occupants of a car passing his house fired a gun at 11:04 p.m. Sunday. Police stopped a car coming from that direction and found a loaded shotgun, a partially filled box of shells, and a loaded pistol.

A man was arrested and charged with being drunk and in possession of a prohibited weapon and a young man in the car with him was charged with being drunk and causing a disturbance. Hearings on both charges of being drunk have been set for Thursday. The man was transferred to county jail on the charge of possession of prohibited weapon. Both men were released on bond.
