802nd JET LOST OVER NORTH VIETNAM

Hanoi Area Struck Again

SAIGON (AP) — Guided by radar, U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers flew through overcast skies today to attack targets in the Hanoi area for the second day in a row.

"We have no operational reports yet," a U.S. spokesman said.

PLANE LOST

The North Vietnamese news agency said U.S. planes raided Hanoi and its suburbs and one American jet was shot down.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported that residential quarters in the center of Hanoi were hit.

The radar-guided American warplanes attacked three vital targets around Hanoi and Haiphong on Wednesday, including an army barracks hit for the first time in the war. But the U.S. Command announced Communist gunners shot down a big four-engine C130 transport plane and three helicopters over South Vietnam, and an F105 Thunderchief fighter-bomber over the North.

One of the helicopters was a big U.S. Marine CH46 Sea Knight that was downed 11 miles northeast of the Marine fortress at Khe Sanh, in the northwest corner of South Vietnam. All 19 servicemen aboard the Sea Knight were killed, the U.S. Command said.

NEW TARGET

The latest North Vietnamese target to come off the Pentagon's restricted list was the Chuoc Son army barracks 12 miles southwest of Hanoi. Air Force F4 Phantoms raked it during 70 missions flown Wednesday, but overcast skies prevented assessment of damage.

Navy A6 all-weather Intruders made the third attack in four days on the railroad yard 1.7 miles northwest of the center of Haiphong as well as a repeat raid on a radio communications receiver station 10 miles south of Hanoi. Again weather prevented survey of the damage.

The Haiphong railroad yard is on the main Haiphong-Hanoi line, and much of the war supplies from Red China and other Communist countries funnel through it.

The Hanoi communications station is believed to be a key link in North Vietnam's air defense network and was attacked for the first time in the war Feb. 10.

GROUND FIRE

The big Sea Knight helicopter in which 19 Americans were killed was on a combat mission when it was hit shortly after noon Wednesday by heavy automatic weapons fire. The chopper crashed and exploded between Khe Sanh and Camp Carroll, the U.S. artillery post 16 miles northeast of the big Marine fortress.

The Air Force C130 cargo plane, a $2.5-million work horse of the war, and the other two helicopters were downed near the Song Be airfield 100 miles northeast of Saigon.

Field reports said the C130 was hit by a bazooka-type rocket as it approached the runway to land. The plane made a crash landing and burned but no casualties were reported.

The two helicopters were able to land safely after being hit.

The F105 Thunderchief lost Wednesday was the 802nd U.S. warplane downed in combat over the North. The U.S. Command said ground fire brought it down over North Vietnam's southern panhandle. A "jolly green giant" helicopter made the 1,000th combat rescue of the war when it lifted the pilot, Capt. Gene I. Basel, 31, of Lakeside, Calif., from enemy territory unhurt.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any escalation of U.S. troop strength in Vietnam may reportedly generate an administration call for a tax hike even higher than its 10 per cent surcharge proposal before Congress.

Government officials emphasize they believe the current situation—and they stress current—requires at the very least a 10 per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes.

COOL

Congress has been cool to the whole idea of hiking taxes and the administration has left the way clear to accept less than the 10 per cent proposal if necessary.

But any major increase in U.S. forces in Vietnam would force the administration to at least consider a higher rate. The reason: The cost of sending one man to Vietnam for a year is estimated at up to $40,000. If 50,000 more troops were authorized, the cost would be $2 billion a year.

Chairman Sarle G. Wheeler of the Joint Chiefs of Staff conferred Wednesday with President Johnson amid speculation of increases in troop strength in Vietnam and a possible new call-up of reserves.

COURSE

There was no official indication, however, of what course the administration would take.

In the present economic situation, one per cent of the surcharge means about $1 billion in additional revenues.

The last time troop strength was escalated, Johnson coupled his announcement with a formal request to Congress for the 10 per cent surcharge.

That was last Aug. 3, when Johnson authorized an increase of at least 45,000 men in Vietnam by the end of the current fiscal year, raising total strength to 525,000 men.

The men are being sent but taxes have not yet been raised. The budget sent to Congress last month for the next fiscal year envisions a leveling off of both men and money for Vietnam. Any new escalation could break that budget before it even goes into effect.

SPENDING

Military spending in the current fiscal year was pegged last month at $73.7 billion including $24.5 billion for Vietnam but this is based on a shuffling of funds in the Pentagon and cutbacks in nonwar defense programs.

The budget for the next fiscal year beginning July 1 pegged military spending at $76.6 billion including $25.8 billion for Vietnam.

Any escalation, especially if it draws on reserve forces and increases draft calls, could also be felt in increased inflationary pressure, a factor the administration undoubtedly would cite in seeking higher taxes.

When the major escalation of the war began in 1965 the unemployment rate was about 4.5 per cent but that rate now is 3.5 per cent. Withdrawals from the labor force could create shortages and drive up labor prices.

The Commerce Department reported only Wednesday the broadest increase in wholesale prices in manufacturing since the Korean War, indicating inflationary pressures are widespread.

Similarly, the continuing series of disasters that have

Rockefeller Draft May Be Shaping Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Romney has quit the Republican presidential race without a ballot cast—and the White House draft that New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has promised to answer could be taking shape now.

CHALLENGE

Many of those governors are in Washington today and Romney in withdrawing challenged them to forge a consensus around some other candidate.

The Michigan governor acknowledged he has not won rank and file Republican support. He suggested the governors look for another contender who might.

Romney thus admitted he had no hope of defeating front-running former Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the Republican nomination.

Some Republicans were doubtful the governors' agreement Romney recommended could be achieved. But the pressure on Rockefeller clearly was rising, Rockefeller said once again that he is not candidate for the nomination he has sought twice before, but that he would accept a draft if one came.

"I have no plans to change my plans," he said.

Other Republican moderates were trying to change them for him.

Romney said only he will "support wholeheartedly the candidate for president to whom the Republican governors give their support." So far, those 26 governors haven't given it to anybody.

NO PLAN

It was learned that Romney—who read his withdrawal statement to a crowd of more than 200 reporters and politicians, then would say no more—does not now plan an attempt to transfer his admittedly sparse support to Rockefeller.

Only Rockefeller and John Chafee of Rhode Island among the Republican governors went to work for the Romney cause. Chafee wasn't hinting what he will do now, although he said it is possible moderate governors will line up behind Rockefeller.

"In no meeting here do I anticipate that when the meeting's over the governors are going to come out and say 'We united behind X'," Chafee said.

Rockefeller said he had tried to persuade Romney not to withdraw.

Would the New York governor enter the race against Nixon if his fellow governors urge that course upon him?

"Let me wait and talk to them," Rockefeller replied.

The New Yorker's emphasis on conferences to ascertain the wishes of his colleagues implied that a substantial bloc of gubernatorial support might meet his terms for candidacy.

Romney's startling withdrawal set off a political shock wave that rolled from New Hampshire to Oregon.

NIXON

Campaigning for New Hampshire's March 12 primary, Nixon said Romney "will play a major role in Michigan and the nation in assuring the Republican victory in November."

Gold Front Races By

Propelled by biting north winds, the second cold front to hit Texas in 24 hours raced southward today and subfreezing weather numbed the upper Panhandle.

This one, in contrast to Wednesday's norther, was bone dry. Skies cleared except for clouds lingering before dawn in the extreme south below a line linking Del Rio and Palacios.

The forward edge of the cold air mass passed College Station and San Angelo before 5 a.m., at the same time angling toward the west and north along a line west of Big Spring and Lubbock and thence up the New Mexico border into Colorado.

Temperatures skidded below freezing as the new front advanced.

Perryton in the Panhandle's northeast corner saw the mercury nosedive to 10 degrees above zero. Another cold night was in prospect throughout the state, with marks of freezing or below expected in all sections. A little warming was promised Friday.

To Keep It

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel gave another indication today that it intends to keep Arab territory west of the Jordan River. The Interior Ministry announced that the Allenby Bridge is now an official entry point into the State of Israel as the occupied west bank is no longer considered "enemy territory."

Ships Collide

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A collision between an oil tanker and a Japanese logging ship in dense fog Wednesday killed the tanker and a fire of flames fed by 300,000 barrels of oil 340 miles off the mouth of the Columbia River.

Eight men were reported missing in the crash between the Liberian ship Mandool II and the Japanese vessel, the Suwaharu Maru. Elias Karavitis, captain of the tanker's all-Greek crew was reported seriously burned in the crash.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the captain and 32 of the 41-man Greek crew were picked up by another Japanese freighter the Kure Maru.

The Modoc, carrying a doctor, and another Coast Guard ship were steaming toward the crash site from Oregon ports. They were expected to arrive by midnight today.

Laos City Attacked

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — A spokesman for the army in the southernmost military region said today two companies of North Vietnamese troops attacked Lao Ngam in a bid to take the town. He said the attack was repulsed.

The attack followed a barrage of 122mm mortar fire on military installations of the 802 Mobile Group which defends the town. Some 20 rounds of mortars were fired on the positions. No report on casualties was available.

South of Lao Ngam, the provincial capital city of Attapeu was also subjected to mortar harassment Wednesday night. A dozen rounds of 122mm mortars were fired in and around the airport.

The Attapeu airport has been closed to planes since the beginning of Communist pressure against the city last week.

War Casualties Near High Mark

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command reported today that American casualties last week reached the second highest toll of the Vietnam war with 470 men killed and 2,675 wounded.

The U.S. casualties exceeded those of the South Vietnamese forces which reported 434 government troops killed, 1,532 wounded and 135 missing or captured.

Both tolls were for the week ending last Saturday. Many of the casualties occurred in the heavy fighting in Hue, last city to be still contested, but now in allied hands.

The Communists thrust into Hue after they launched their lunar new year offensive Jan. 30 and 31.

Other allied forces reported 19 killed for a combined total of 923 deaths.

As against this total, allied forces reported killing 579 Communist soldiers last week.

The U.S. toll of 470 dead last week was exceeded in the previous week when 543 American servicemen were killed at the height of the February fighting to set a new high for the war.

Last week's total of 2,675 Americans wounded was less than 100 below the war's highest week, the first week in February when 2,757 U.S. troops sustained wounds.

Of the wounded last week, 1,300 men required hospitalization or about half the total. The rest were treated without being hospitalized and returned to duty.

Red Cross Chapter Makes Special Appeal

In Today's HERALD Screams In Abilene

COOL

Partly cloudy, much colder today and tonight. Fair Friday and a little warmer. High today 40, low tonight 18; high tomorrow 47.

Howard-Glasscock Chapter of the American Red Cross has joined the world-wide organization in seeking to do its share in an "SOS" — Support Our Servicemen — special March campaign.

The supplemental fund effort is brought on largely by a tremendously increased load of work due to the Vietnam conflict, but also due to increased demands in disaster relief.

The national Red Cross is facing a deficit of some $12 million because of the growing burden, and during the month is asking citizens throughout the U.S. to lend a hand.

The local chapter is being asked to meet a quota of $4,372.

No personal solicitation is being made at this time, said chapter chairman R. W. Whipple. Instead, a broadcast appeal is being made, and persons who will respond are asked to mail checks—made to American Red Cross—to the local chapter, Box 626, Big Spring.

Veteran Red Cross workers pointed out that this is the first major public subscription on behalf of the organization since World War II days, when response was overwhelming.

The local Red Cross chapter customarily handles its program through United Fund participation, and even included the Hurricane Carla needs a few years ago in the UF campaign. No special fund drive was conducted after Hurricane Beulah last fall, although the Red Cross poured millions into that Texas disaster area.

The big demand now, however, is to provide adequate support to the growing number of military men. The Red Cross, by national charter, is charged with the responsibility of handling emergency matters for military men and their families.

The Vietnam situation reflects the new demands upon the Red Cross. For example, from January, 1966, to September, 1967, the number of sick and wounded servicemen served in Vietnam went up 299 per cent; the number of able-bodied servicemen assisted went up 73 per cent; the number of emergency communications handled went up 245 per cent.

E. Roland Harriman, chairman of the American National Red Cross, said:

"The financial crisis of the Red Cross is directly attributable to the fact that the organization is doing exactly what it is supposed to do . . . Our increased commitments in South Vietnam and to the armed services worldwide are a reality and must be fulfilled.

"In fulfilling of these services there have been clear expressions from the military that they regard services to the men and women of the armed forces as a vital and necessary program.

Similarly, the continuing series of disasters that have taxed the resources of the organization have reduced disaster funds to a critical position. Neither of these demands is likely to let up in the months ahead.

DEMONSTRATED "Regardless of political or other issues involved in South Vietnam, the American people do support the programs of the Red Cross. They have demonstrated their appreciation in many ways, financial support, volunteer work, and others.

"We feel that they will respond now to the "SOS" (support our servicemen) appeal."

Dunlaps Of Three Eras Are Legion Post Members

Big Spring has reason to be proud of the Oscar Dunlap family.

Dunlap, his son Foy, and grandson Jerry make up three generations in American Legion Post 355. The entire family, including Foy's brother Ray, also a Legionnaire, is looking forward to a big "birthday" party Saturday, March 9, with a ceremonial dinner at the Legion Hut commemorating the Legion's Golden Anniversary.

The war was nearly over in 1918 when Oscar Dunlap, then a young lad, enlisted in the Army to do his part to "make the world safe for democracy."

Every week they called for volunteers to go overseas," he recalls. "And, every week, I was back there putting in another volunteer statement."

Dunlap joined the local legion in 1961.

Foy Dunlap was one of the first volunteers to sign up at the Big Spring Bombardier School during World War II. He served with the Army-Air Force throughout the western United States but never saw duty overseas.

"I was a tech sergeant at Alamogordo, N. M., where I served as an instructor engineer," he said. "One of the most exciting things I can recall was an emergency parachute jump from a B-17, when the engine caught fire."

"Twelve of us jumped to safety and none was injured."

Foy was certified on all bombers of the period, through special schools in Mississippi, Washington, Colorado and New Mexico.

After the war, he returned to Big Spring and went into business for himself at 500 E. 3rd, operating a service station. He is a past commander of Post 355 and has held nearly all organization offices.

Foy's son, Jerry Dunlap, is a 24-year-old student at New Mexico State University, Las Cruces, N.M. He enlisted in the Army in November, 1962 and was discharged in 1965, spending most of his tour in Germany. He joined the Legion last year.

Jerry, a business major at the University, was born in Big Spring, and attended schools here. He was a delegate to the Texas American Legion Boys' State in 1961 and played American Legion Junior Baseball for four years.

Foy also has a daughter, Judy, now Mrs. Mike Yoder, who is living with her parents at 1417 Tucson awaiting the return of her Air Force husband from Thailand. They have one son, Mike Jr., who is two years old.

The elder Dunlap and his wife, Lucille, live at 701 E. 14th. Their other children are two sons, J. C. Dunlap and Ray Dunlap, and two daughters, Mrs. James Horton and Mrs. Joe Earnest, all of Big Spring.

Good Training Develops Your Memory Muscle

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Big Spring Herald is sponsoring a Dale Carnegie course as a means of retaining and developing leaders in the community. This article is one in a series written by Warren Quinlan, director of the Dale Carnegie Training Programs in West Texas.

Few of us are gifted with a 100 per cent recall for names, faces, and facts. Nearly everyone has experienced a time when we committed social suicide by forgetting a person's name at a time when we needed to remember it.

A young West Texas student recently defined memory as "the thing you forget with." This definition reminded me of a young West Texas couple who were charter members of the "non-rememberers club." Even though they recognized the problem and its far reaching liabilities, they pointed the finger of blame at heredity, and like many, they thought their case was hopeless.

Actually there is no such thing as a good or bad memory. The differences in memory, like the differences in intelligence, is in training. Good memory training starts by getting a clear understanding of why impression, repetition, and association are the three natural laws of concentration.

Our young couple turned themselves on by learning how to see and hear with the mind's eye and ear, and then build clear pictures of association. When they applied this plan of action they developed memory muscles, and improved their power to recall names and ideas. During one evening they remembered nearly all of the 43 people they met at a service club program, and enjoyed personal satisfaction.

Athletes, leaders, and successful people develop memory muscle to an astonishing degree through their ability to concentrate and perform almost automatically. We can turn ourselves on with the powerful untapped currents of these laws of learning which eliminate forgetfulness.

Scream Heard Night White's Wife Killed

PALO PINTO, Tex. (AP) — A mysterious scream in the night—"it sounded like a male voice"—preceded discovery last July of the bludgeoned body of Mrs. Joyce White, witnesses say.

"Joyce is hurt. Go see about her," said her husband, Alfred T. White, as he lay bound in the yard of a neighbor, witnesses said.

Such was the testimony Wednesday in the murder trial of White, 37, a veteran highway patrolman, accused of beating to death the childhood sweetheart who for 17 years had been his wife.

DEATH ASKED
State's attorneys resumed their case today against White, who they say should pay with his life for the July 14th slaying of his tall, dark-haired wife in the couple's Abilene home.

White told investigators the night of the slaying he and his wife were attacked by two intruders who left him semi-conscious and injured and his wife dead.

"About 11:30 I heard an awful scream," said Carl Douglass, whose bedroom window, he testified, is within 25 feet of the White residence.

"I got up and went to the window to see where it was coming from." He said the cry lasted "probably 30 seconds, maybe longer than that" and "sounded like a male voice."

He, his wife and daughter saw nothing unusual, and while the daughter was too terrified to return to her bedroom, Douglass said, he eventually went back to bed.

HANDS BOUND
Mrs. Douglass testified she and her daughter heard a noise about 15 minutes later that sounded like "a scratching on the screen."

She said: "I first thought it was Hot Shot (her cat) scratching on her pen." She said she and her daughter went to the pen and the cat was apparently asleep.

The prosecution also brought S. D. Monroe Jr., another neighbor, to the stand who said he found White lying in Monroe's yard, his hands bound behind his knees.

"Joyce is hurt. Go see about her!" he quoted White as saying.

Monroe said he cut White loose and went to the White home where he discovered the body, partially clothed and soaked in blood.

"I remember feeling to see if I could find a pulse," he said. "I realized she was dead."

"BAFFLED"
He said the rug, bed, walls and ceiling were splashed with blood and Mrs. White was gagged and her hands bound behind her.

Prosecutors asked if White when cut loose, had attempted to return to his home.

"Not when I first untied him. Did he try to go home later?"

"No, I don't know that he ever did."

On cross-examination of Monroe, his wife and their daughter, Debbie, 14, they testified that White looked "dazed" and was "strange—baffled" and was "only semi-conscious."

Also, an ambulance picked him up in front of the Monroe home, they said.

White, dressed in a grayish-green suit and tie, watched the courtroom drama with interest and only once gave away to emotion. That occurred when Monroe testified that White and his wife appeared to be a happily married couple, that he had seen them once holding hands as they walked to a store. Tears trickled down White's cheeks and he brushed them away with a handkerchief.

HAPPY COUPLE
Later, Mrs. Monroe testified that the Whites were "a very happy" couple, "like newlyweds."

Katharyn Duff, assistant editor of the Abilene Reporter-News, testified to an interview with White four days after the slaying and one day before he was arrested and subsequently charged.

She said he told her of returning home from a movie, of hearing his wife scream in a bedroom and of his rushing there only to encounter two Negroes who "hit and dazed and injured him."

It's Easy To Buy Marijuana In Lower Rio Grande Valley

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — Marijuana can be purchased in the Lower Rio Grande Valley as easily as a dozen eggs or chewing gum, a Harlingen television station executive said Wednesday.

CHEAP KICKS
Station manager Mal Kasanoff of KGBT-TV made the statement after he and news director, Lee Harr, disclosed that a special reporter on an undercover assignment had purchased enough marijuana for 20 cigarettes for $8.50.

Harr said the un-named person bought the marijuana from a "pusher" about 48 hours after a station employe made it known on the Texas Southmost College campus in nearby Brownsville that he wanted to purchase some of the "weed."

Kasanoff said he immediately contacted Cameron County Sheriff Boynton Fleming after the marijuana was delivered.

OFFICIALS MUM
Sheriff Fleming, who sent a deputy to the television station to pick up the marijuana, was not available for comment Wednesday and a spokesman for the sheriff's office said he knew "nothing in the world" about the case.

Fleming had told newsmen he was turning the matter over to Dist. Atty. F. T. Graham, Graham was reported out of his office Wednesday and not available for comment.

An interview telecast recently by the station quoted a Texas

Southmost College student as saying "about 40 per cent" of the students at the junior college had smoked marijuana.

Harr said—he and others doubted the report, but "quietly" began to investigate the situation in the Brownsville-Harlingen area.

He said it was this investigation that led to the marijuana purchase.

"The list (of marijuana users) is endless," Harr said.

"Many have said their first marijuana was offered to them at no charge by a person who later turned out to be a pusher, who has marijuana available day or night for a price," Harr said.

"Marijuana is everywhere" in the Valley, Harr quoted a public official as saying. The official, according to Harr, said he knew the names of marijuana pushers in Harlingen.

"Now if marijuana is that available and it is common knowledge to the law, we wonder why there are not more frequent arrests at places other than the international border crossing points," Harr said in an editorial broadcast Wednesday.

Station manager Kasanoff said the purpose of the investigation was to alert parents to the problem of marijuana smoking.

"This was not publicity stunt—we wanted to scare the heck out of the parents in the Valley," he said.

Female Monkeys To Test 'Pills'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Fourteen female squirrel monkeys will take birth control pills in an Emory University research project aimed at determining the effect of female hormones on the anatomy of the inner ear.

Scientists want to see if there is an anatomical relationship between the pills and "dizzy spells" reported by some women who use them.

Lawyer Faces Robbery Rap

HOUSTON (AP) — An Oklahoma City lawyer who vanished from his office last autumn lay in critical condition in a Houston hospital Wednesday night charged with robbery by firearms and assault to murder, and in danger of blindness.

John Burton McCaleb, 40, was shot in the face and shoulder Tuesday night by the manager of a drive-in grocery, Robert Burl Purvis told police he was counting the day's receipts when an armed robber appeared.

Robbery Lt. J. M. Albright said the robber ordered Purvis into the storeroom where a .30-06 rifle was kept, and that Purvis fired at the robber as the man stuffed money into a paper bag.

McCaleb was in the Oklahoma City law firm of Miskovsky, Sullivan, Embry, Turner, Gregg and McCaleb, but vanished last October after determining to leave the firm Dec. 1.

He left behind his files, personal effects, the wife he divorced last year and three children.

Police said his present wife, Linda, told them her husband was unemployed.

Ben Taub Hospital said the wound cost McCaleb the sight of his left eye, and the vision in his right eye was threatened.

Your Name's In That Big Book

Pauline Petty, county clerk, left, received the official list of all registered voters for 1968 from Zirah LeFevre, tax assessor-collector, Wednesday afternoon. The 230-page mimeographed list has the names, addresses and voting precinct numbers of the 14,122 men and women who have qualified themselves to vote in 1968 elections. The bulky book is the biggest on record. A copy of it has to be filed with the county clerk and the totals have to be reported to the secretary of state. Deadline for filing will be March 1, so the county's records are ahead of schedule.

Romania Asks
Soviet Union
To Back Down

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Romania today demanded apologies from the Soviet Union and other nations that have attacked Red China at the world Communist conference here and threatened to walk out if the apologies weren't forthcoming.

It appeared unlikely that any apologies would be made at the meeting of delegates of 66 Communist parties.

Romania also demanded an apology from Syrian Communists, who accused the Romanian government of following a pro-Israeli policy for nationalist reasons.

Romanian sources said the Bucharest delegation boycotted an East German speech Wednesday which criticized both China and Israel.

The organizers of the parley, which is supposed to be preparing for a full-dress world Communist conference in Moscow in November or December, had assured hesitant parties that there would be no criticism of the Chinese or other absent Communist parties.

Fifteen eligible parties, including those from North Vietnam and Red China, stayed away from the meeting inspired by the Soviets.

In a speech Wednesday, Soviet ideologist Mikhail Suslov accused Mao Tse-tung's supporters in Red China of refusing to cooperate with other Communist parties in "a joint offensive against imperialism."

He also accused the Chinese of persistently trying to disrupt preparations for the world Communist conference and said Mao had conducted a long slander campaign against the idea.

But Suslov assured the Chinese and other parties opposed to the Kremlin line that both in preparations for the conference and at the conference itself "there cannot be any condemnation or excommunication from the Communist movement of any party."

McNamara Gains Medal Of Freedom

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert S. McNamara completes today a record seven-year tour as secretary of defense, praised by President Johnson as a "brilliant and good man" but with some of his basic policies under heavy attack.

The military brass, some of whom are not sorry to see him go, arranged a gaudy good-by for the 51-year-old McNamara, complete with a 19-gun artillery salute, band music, an honor guard of troops and a "fly-over" of war planes.

VACATION NEXT

Somebody thoughtfully included in the fly-over three Air Force F111s, once called the TFX and symbols of one of the great unresolved controversies of the defense chief's administration.

McNamara, who received the Medal of Freedom from Johnson in an emotional ceremony Wednesday at the White House, was in line for another medal to be pinned on at the Pentagon ceremony.

ROBERT S. McNAMARA

He was expected to leave tonight for a month-long vacation in Aspen, Colo., before taking on his new job as president of the World Bank on April 1.

Waiting to step into McNamara's office was Clark Clifford, long-time Washington lawyer and political figure who will be sworn in Friday by Johnson. McNamara's seven years, one month and eight days as Pentagon chief is a record that may stand for a long time. It eclipses the previous mark of four years, eight months and 12 days set by the late Charles E. Wilson in the Eisenhower administration.

Some critics—and some friends—say McNamara stayed too long. Perhaps he would agree, because recently he said wistfully that he was counting the days until he could put down the burdens of his back-breaking job.

Probably McNamara's greatest disappointment and frustration is the Vietnam war. He once remarked to a visitor: "Who would have thought it would last so long?"

REFORMS

Foes used to call it McNamara's war, but late last year some war policy critics found themselves anguished by the announcement that he was leaving the Pentagon. Relatedly, some of them came to regard him as a restraining influ-

OFF THE BEATEN TRAIL

She Saw Headless Horseman Go By

By ED SYERS

Quite some time ago, OBT related the legend of Texas' "headless horseman" that terrorized our Southwest in the mid and latter 1800's.

Story had it that no less than Big Foot Wallace and sometime Ranger Creed Taylor trapped a cattle rustler they called Vidal, killed and beheaded him and, near the Needes, lashed his body on a wild Mustang to serve warning against other rustlers.

The fearful figure roamed far from western Hill Country south to Rio Grande, for its mouth was wild. And once a stranger sighted that rider, he had little inclination to investigate, particularly when it was known you couldn't shoot the phantom from his saddle.

When someone finally stopped the Mustang — rope or gun — its rider was found almost steved by shots, fired the instant before flight. But the horseman's head still swung grimly to his pommel, lashed with a leather thong worked through the jaws and sombrero, just as Wallace and Taylor had arranged him long years before. Checking Vidal's country, near Alice and little Ben Bolt, I was told that even today those wise in the land know that headless one still rides some darks of the moon, always an ill omen for any who see him.

The dusty tales have a way of working round, full circle, and so it is with this rider. Fort Worth's Mrs. James L. Minahan, whose forebears trace to San Antonio's first-coming Canary Islanders, tells one version of the headless horseman.

Texans Push
Reagan Draft

HOUSTON (AP) — The movement to draft California Gov. Ronald Reagan as a Republican presidential candidate has a Texas command post. Quarters opened Wednesday on Houston's near West Side.

Houston oilman J. R. "Butch" Butler, chairman of "Texans for Ronald Reagan" called the offices a sign of "the conviction, held by a large and rapidly increasing number of Texans, that Ronald Reagan is the only Republican who can win the presidency in November."

Butler announced the names of regional chairmen for the movement. They include Tom Clay, Tyler, East Texas; Rufus Shackelford, Harlingen, South Texas; and J. C. Barnes Jr., Midland, state finance chairman.

Sooner Teachers Schedule Walkout

By The Associated Press

Disputes affecting thousands of public school pupils hit several areas today.

In Pittsburgh, a teachers union set up picket lines outside the public schools before classes began today, despite a court order barring a strike.

In Oklahoma, the state's 27,000 teachers called for a one-day protest walkout next week.

The strike by about one-third of Florida's teachers entered its ninth day amid conflicting reports on whether Gov. Claude Kirk would sign the state's controversial education spending bill.

STRIKE VOTE

And while Albuquerque, N.M., teachers voted to return to the classroom today after a week-long walkout, the 1,500-member San Francisco Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, summoned its members to decide whether to strike.

The San Francisco union executive committee recommended that if the vote is affirmative the strike begin immediately. In contention are some 90 union demands for improvement in classroom and teaching conditions.

The San Francisco school board refused Tuesday night to act on the union's request to enter immediate negotiations.

School officials in Pittsburgh said classes for 80,000 pupils in 116 schools would be held anyway with non-striking teachers, administrators, substitutes and volunteers but conceded it would be "extremely difficult."

PAY VETO

The dispute between the city and the Pittsburgh Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, is over the union's demand for collective bargaining. The rival 1,900-member Pittsburgh Teacher Education Association has said it would not support a strike.

Allegheny County Court Judge John P. Hester issued a preliminary injunction Wednesday barring a walkout, citing a 1947 state law prohibiting strikes by public service employees.

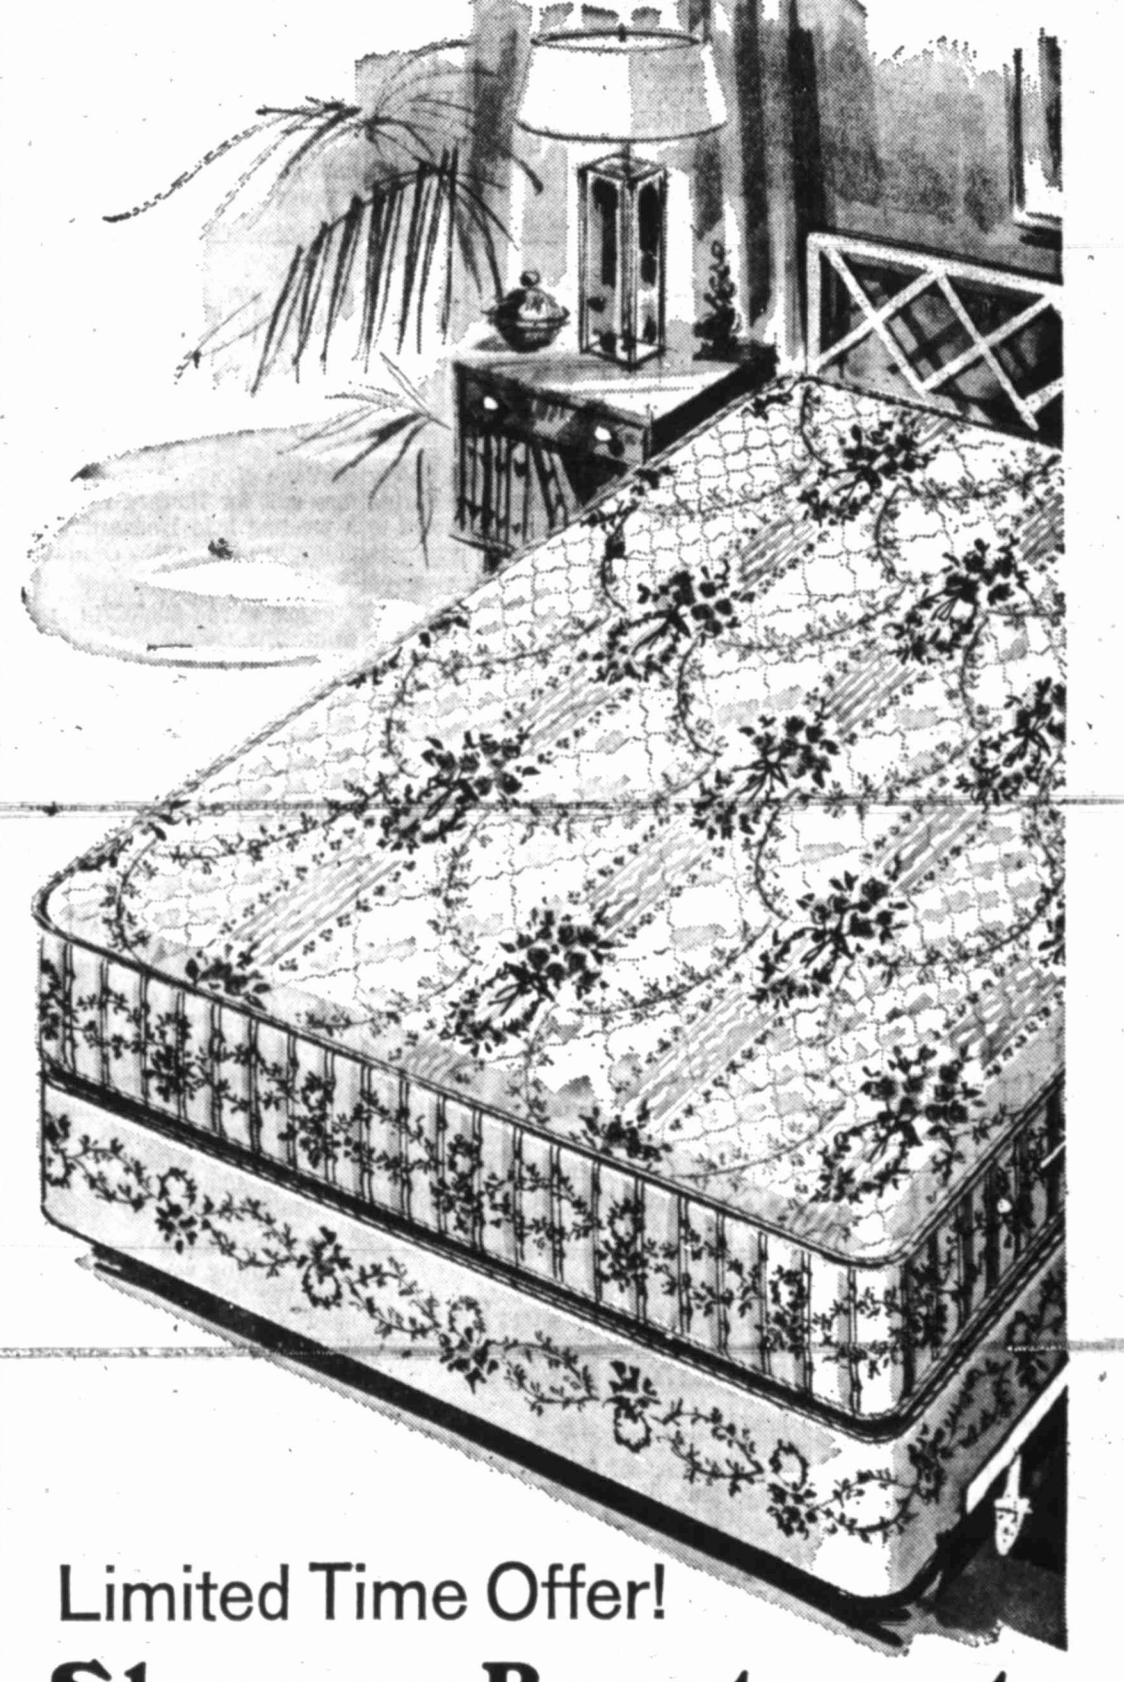

The executive committee of the Oklahoma Education Association, disturbed over the state government's failure to enact an educational program, called for a one-day statewide convention next week.

Gov. Dewey Bartlett, who vetoed a legislative tax increase-teacher pay raise package Tuesday, and legislative leaders will be invited to the teachers meeting.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

Schools in the Wellston, Mo., school district, a St. Louis suburb, were to be closed today as the district's 100 teachers met to discuss a financial crisis which threatens their salaries.

Jimmy Taylor Files For Seat On School Board

Jimmy Taylor, a vice president of the First National Bank and prominently identified in local civic affairs, has filed for a place on the board of trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District.

Three places on the board are to be filled in the election of April 6. Joe Moss, board president, and Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, secretary, have announced for re-election. Dr. Carl Marcum, whose term also expires, announced that he would not be a candidate.

Taylor, in an announcement, said, "I am motivated in offering as a candidate by nothing more than a willingness to serve my community. There is nothing more important to its welfare than our schools. I have no pre-conceived programs, do not pose as any expert. What I would want to do, if elected, is to give my best efforts to maintaining the best possible schools in Big Spring, to be always aware of the welfare of our children, and to see that our educational system functions in sound fashion.

"I would join other members of the board of education in arriving at the most practicable decisions possible to keep our schools strong and progressive."

Taylor has been a resident of Big Spring since 1955, when he came here — immediately after two years service in the Army — as Howard County agricultural agent.

He resigned that position in 1961 to join the First National Bank staff, and has worked up to a vice presidency.

Firemen Clean-Up

Firemen Garry Hanson and Garland Mabe clean-up after fire and smoke damaged a bedroom, closet, and the rest of the house at the home of Buster Dean Gartman, 2396 W. 16th, Wednesday at 5:25 p.m. Cause of the fire has not been determined, firemen said.

Rain Totals 1.48 Inches In February

Unless additional moisture boils up sometime before midnight today, February will go into the record books with 1.48 inches of rain to its credit. Even so, the month will be three-quarters of an inch wetter than the average February in Big Spring for the past 67 years. The 67 year average for the month is .72 inch.

There were eight days in February when measurable rain fell, and four or five other dates when the official report showed "trace." The heaviest rain of the month measured by the station in one 24-hour period was .61 inch.

The two months total for 1968 will stand at an even three inches if no more rain falls before midnight. Bright blue skies at mid-morning held out no promise of the moisture total being augmented.

Meantime, much colder weather is promised for today and tonight with the low tonight expected to drop to the upper teens. The chill will hold Friday, but some slight warming will be noted Friday afternoon. No moisture is foreseen but partly cloudy skies are promised.

Dirksen Will Force Civil Rights Vote?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen is moving to force a Senate showdown vote on a civil rights bill banning discrimination in sale or rental of most American housing.

A vote on Dirksen's petition to end debate—which needs two-thirds approval of those voting to carry—is scheduled for Friday. Dirksen helped forge a Southern-Republican conservative coalition that twice earlier beat back bids to end the debate. He has since played a leading role in nailing together a compromise bill.

Some Southern senators objected Wednesday to his petition, saying it wouldn't give them a chance to study the compromise or prepare amendments.

"My reputation for fairness will have to stand on my 40 years of public service," the 72-year-old Illinois Republican replied.

Dirksen defended his support of the open-housing proposal, past versions of which he has vigorously opposed, by saying Negro veterans returning from Vietnam "will be entitled to be integrated into the social and economic life of our country."

Referring to last summer's riots, he said the problems of the cities can't be solved without fairness in the field of housing.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen is moving to force a Senate showdown vote on a civil rights bill banning discrimination in sale or rental of most American housing.

The other part of the bill would provide federal criminal penalties for using force or threats to interfere with the exercise of civil rights.

The original administration bill specified Negroes and civil rights workers for such protection.

But under the compromise, no multiunit housing, effective Dec. 31, 1968. Financial institutions making housing loans and real-estate brokers would be covered at the same time.

But racial motivation would have to be involved to make interference with federally protected rights such as voting, serving on federal juries or participating in federally aided programs a federal crime.

Heart Valve Is Replaced

HOUSTON (AP) — J. F. Register, 50, of Macon, Ga., was listed in satisfactory condition at Methodist Hospital Wednesday night after a 4½-hour operation in which surgeons replaced his heart's artificial aortic valve with a new one.

The surgery was conducted by a team headed by Dr. Michael DeBakey, the heart-pump researcher whom Register's wife asked to give her husband a new heart in a transplant operation.

Instead, DeBakey chose to replace the artificial valve Register received five years ago, two years after the heart attack which disabled him.

A hospital spokesman Wednesday night called Register's post-surgery condition "as good as could be expected" considering the seriousness of Register's ailment, and of the surgery.

Thugs Carrying Fruit Off With Bags, Trucks, Boats

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Carrying fruit off by the bag, truckload and even boatload, thieves are sacking Florida's citrus groves at an increasing rate, according to an investigator.

Leslie Bessenger of Florida Citrus Mutual says growers have reported more theft losses this season—which is about half over—than during all of the 1966-67 season.

HIGHER PRICES Bessenger, chief of Mutual's central intelligence bureau, contends that the higher price of citrus this season is making it more profitable for those who steal fruit under the cover of night.

A box of oranges which sold wholesale for 75 cents last season now is worth $2 to $2.50. The most common type of thievery is the individual who drives his pickup truck into a grove after dark, fills up the rear in two or three hours, and sells the load to a dealer for $40 to $50, Bessenger said.

FRUIT BANDITS Bessenger said he has known cases where the fruit bandits pose as fishermen and drift in their boat on a lake until nightfall, then move in to plunder a grove.

Before the intelligence bureau was organized in 1963, theft losses totaled up to $2 million a year. The bureau made 246 arrests in 1964-65 and losses dropped to $365,254.

Last season there were 43 arrests and a loss of $38,000. Bessenger said tourists who stop by a roadside grove to fill up a paper bag with fruit are leaving themselves open to petty larceny charges.

"I don't think they realize they're stealing. When we see them, we try to work out some arrangement with them," he said.

The Public Health and Safety Committee of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce voted to continue efforts for a child welfare unit for Howard County at a meeting held Wednesday evening in the C-C conference room.

Plans were made to meet with the near future with the county commissioners asking them to request state participation in a child welfare unit. It was explained that the request must come from the county as the unit would be a joint endeavor between the county and state. Under normal procedure, the request to the state would be placed on a waiting list until money is available.

Charles Weeg, committee chairman and Mrs. J. H. Burnett will head the committee to appear before the commissioners.

The committee voted to work with the traffic commission and the city commissioners on safety problems. A study will be made of blind corners in the residential areas.

The need for a teenage club in Big Spring was discussed. A desirable place and management of such a club will be brought up at a later meeting.

Snow Chills Deep South

By The Associated Press An arctic cold snap rolling across the midcontinent sent its chill into Dixie today, burying parts of the Deep South under heavy snow for the second time in a week.

Cold wave warnings were in effect for an eight state area from the Central Plains to the western Great Lakes.

The mercury settled to six below zero at International Falls, freezing as far south as central Georgia and Alabama.

Cold air overran a rainy pattern in the Southeast Wednesday night, triggering heavy snows from Atlanta and Birmingham northward. Forecasters indicated accumulations up to four inches could be expected in northern sections of the two states.

Similarly heavy snows blanketed parts of the Southeast last Friday night and Saturday.

Travelers warnings extended northward into Kentucky, Tennessee and the Carolina mountains. Two inches of snow covered the ground at Chattanooga, Tenn., before dawn.

The loosely organized pattern of snow associated with the advancing cold was scattered as far west as Kansas and northward through the Appalachians.

Blowing snow and slippery pavements combined to produce occasionally monumental traffic tieups in Kansas City around midnight. Many major highways in the area were snow-packed and slippery. Nearly an hour was required to clear Kansas 10 west of Kansas City where 15 cars were scattered on and off the road near DeSoto.

Henson has shown the San Antonio grand champion three times. Cowboy must compete Thursday night with the junior champion, to be selected in afternoon judging.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two Bay Harbor islands men were arrested Wednesday on charges of transporting a stolen $45,000 Rembrandt across state lines, the Federal Bureau of Investigation said.

The 10-by-4½ drawing, "The Death of Jacob," was stolen from the wall of the second floor gallery at the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts in Canada on Oct. 14, 1966, the FBI said.

Coat, Tires, Clock Stolen

A coat, some costume jewelry and a clock were stolen from the home of Buck Payne, 605 Lancaster (rear), while he was at work Wednesday. When he returned from work, he found a bedroom window had been opened.

Police are also investigating three other thefts which were reported Wednesday. Four tires were taken from the Gage Flegg Bill Moore, 1219 Ridgeroad, reported a blue drabute was stolen from a building located at the rear of 202 Gollig. A radio receiver was stolen from the car of Mrs. Alva Reece, 511 E. 18th.

STANTON (SC) — The Stanton Rotary Club Wednesday selected Melrae Angel to represent them in the Lions Club Queen's contest to be held March 15.

Harry Sawyer, area manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. at Big Spring, introduced Glen Scott, science demonstrator for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., who spoke of telephones, past, present and future. There were 22 members and visitors present.

STANTON (SC) — Eugene Parks, 55, former Stanton resident, died Wednesday at 2 p.m. at Abbott of an apparent heart attack.

SHIP RAM HASSLE

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Cuban government charged today that U. S. Coast Guard vessels pointed cannons and used "a warlike maneuver" to interfere when a Cuban ship rammed a lifeboat in which three "traitor crewmen" were fleeing following a mutiny off the Virginia coast.

Radio Havana, in a broadcast monitored in Miami, carried a declaration from the Fidel Castro government's Foreign Ministry.

The declaration ended with a "most energetic protest against this new imperialist Yankee aggression to grasp and protect this pirate-like action that violates the principles of freedom of the seas and international laws."

The ramming incident occurred Tuesday off the Virginia coast.

Radio Havana, voicing the official government line on the incident, said three crewmen of the 550-ton Cuban vessel 26 de Julio en route to Canada took the captain and crewmen by surprise to seize the ship and change its course toward Norfolk, Va. The report said the captain and crewmen were locked up aboard the vessel.

"Immediately after the act of piracy was perpetrated, two United States Coast Guard units and a helicopter invaded the area, located 25 miles from the United States in international waters," the foreign ministry said.

TRAITORS "In manifest agreement with the Yankee war boats, and under obvious protection, the three traitor crewmen who perpetrated the villainy lowered a boat after stealing all the money and a quantity of food (aboard the ship), trying to put themselves under the protection of the North American cannons," the broadcast alleged.

Nevertheless, their miserable purpose was frustrated by the rapid action of the captain and the rest of the crew of the Cuban ship which, by a collision with the stolen boat, made them return to the ship."

The broadcast said the crewmen were disarmed and arrested "like vulgar hoodlums and traitors."

TEXAS TECH TO DEDICATE NEW HOUSING COMPLEX

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech will dedicate its new high rise residence halls — Wiggins Commons, a separate dining facility. Original plans call for a six-tower complex.

Dr. Coleman earned the title "Father of Texas Tech" when in 1916 he took the initiative in organizing a campaign to bring a four-year college to the High Plains.

He presided at the first meeting called in Sweetwater for the purpose of securing establishment of such a college and later served as chairman of the pilot organization until its work was taken over by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He continued to serve higher education as vice president of the education committee. He was president of the Texas Medical Association and for 15 years served as a regent of Austin College.

Dr. Coleman died in 1932 at the age of 78. Three of his grandchildren, Mrs. H. C. Wheeler, Midland; Dr. Maxwell Thomas, Dallas; and Preston Burchard, Palo Alto, Calif., plan to attend the dedication.

The building project, completed at a cost of $11,000,000, includes three towers plus Wiggins Commons, a separate dining facility. Original plans call for a six-tower complex.

Early Payments Hit $800,000

Approximately $800,000 is collected in early tax payments because of a one per cent discount allowed, the $8,000 as reported in Wednesday's Herald.

Don Crockett, school business manager, had said at Tuesday's board meeting some $13,000, $14,000 was paid out to prompt taxpayers annually due to the one per cent discount allowed for payment in October. He told board members if the $800,000 was invested at 5½ per cent, the school district would still realize some $12,000 from the money.

Howard County Five Awaits 7 P. M. Test

By TOMMY HART
One of the eight teams entered in the 21st annual Region V Junior College Basketball tournament starting in the high school gymnasium here at 2 p.m. today is three games away from a trip to the National Juco meet at Hutchinson, Kan.

ed today and tonight and two more will fall by the wayside tomorrow evening. The committee which chose the field in this

SCHEDULE:

THURSDAY
2 p.m.—Christian College of SW (26-6) vs. Weatherford (18-11); 4 p.m.—Cortez (18-8) vs. Hill County (24-10); 7 p.m.—Howard County (21-11) vs. Amarillo (17-7); 9 p.m.—Ranger (28-6) vs. Odessa (17-10).
FRIDAY
7 p.m.—CCSW-Weatherford winner vs. Howard County; Amarillo winner vs. Hill County; Hill County winner vs. Ranger-Odessa winner.
SATURDAY
7 p.m.—Third place game; 9 p.m.—Championship game.

Howard County, a Cinderella outfit which surprised most everyone by grabbing the Western conference title, takes the court at 7 o'clock this evening. The Jayhawks square off with Amarillo, a conference foe. The locals twice routed the Badgers in league competition but form usually goes out the window when the two clubs meet.

Christian College and Weatherford, the latter in a Johnny-come-lately quintet with the tournament committee, open the three-day roundball carnival with a 2 p.m. game while Clarendon and Hill County of Hillsboro clash at 4 p.m.

Should Howard County sneak by Amarillo, it would meet the survivor in the CCSW-Weatherford imbroglio at 7 p.m. Friday. The tournament is being staged in Big Spring for the first time in its 21-year history and the sponsoring organization, the American Business Club, has done a tremendous job in trying to see that it will be a success.

The only way for that to be insured, however, is for the community to support it. The ABC club is on the hook to the extent of $3,000 and ticket sales are the only way that expense can be made up.

Among outstanding players who will perform here are N. S. Hurd, 6-2 Odessa star; Jerry Cannon, Clarendon, who stands 5-11, a deadly shooter from the outside; Joe Hamilton, 5-10 CCSW, last year's second leading scorer in the nation among junior college players; Uric Cobb, Robert Spivey and Solomon McMillan, all of Ranger; Dennis Falk and Charles Wells, both of Amarillo; and Howard County's own Larry Linder, Hiron Hubert and Terry Fields.

Players appearing here hail from all over the United States. Cobb and McMillan of the Ranger squad are New York City products. Hamilton of CCSW grew up in Lexington, Ky. Hurd played his high school basketball in Carlsbad, N. M. CCSW has players from Phenix City, Ala.; Columbus, Ohio; and Tomball, Texas, among other places. Victor Lopez, Howard County freshman, is a Los Angeles product. Larry Overcast, the Clarendon mentor, recruited from a vast area.

Ranger beat Amarillo in last year's finals, 81-62, after having lost to Dallas Baptist in the title game two years ago, 53-64.

Tournament director is Harold Davis of the ABC club while the Regional director is D. E. (Buddy) Travis, better identified as the Howard County coach.

The all-tournament team will be announced at the conclusion of the tournament Saturday night.

Game officials will be Pete Cook, Big Spring; John Bray, Fort Worth; James Kile, Amarillo; and Earl Chancellor, Guyton, Okla.

Senior college coaches will flock here to scout them in person.

Bill Barker of the 1954 San Angelo set the single game scoring record for 49 points and that same year tallied 105 points for a three-game mark.

HCJC's 1955 club counted a record 112 points in one game while Odessa holds the tournament record (for three games) with 273 points. That was established in 1966.

Since the tournament began 21 years ago, Howard County JC has won 23 meet starts while losing 16. Only Amarillo has won more games (24) and the Badgers have also lost more (19).

TIL Planning Probe Of Tilt Rowdyism

AUSTIN (AP) — Dr. Rhea Williams, director of the University Interscholastic League, says the UIL will investigate the rowdyism at Tuesday night's Fort Worth I. M. Terrell-Dallas Thomas Jefferson bidistrict basketball game in Dallas.

I. M. Terrell, a Negro high school in its first year in the UIL, could be placed on probation or suspended by the state group. Schools are responsible for the conduct of their fans under UIL rules.

going to have to learn how to act. They are going to have to learn how to take a win and a loss graciously."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

It's entirely within the realm of possibility that some of the athletes who converge upon Big Spring for the Region V Junior College Basketball tournament starting today, can cut the mustard later in big-time college and professional ranks.

Coach Ron Butler of first-seeded Ranger College has already gone on record as saying that several of his boys are worthy of berths on the 1968 U.S. Olympic squad.

Ulric Cobb is perhaps the best-known of the Ranger players but the other four starters are capable of making it big in senior colleges around the country.

Joe Hamilton of Christian College of the Southwest, another ace due here, is a high-scoring gunner who will have recruiters camping on his doorstep when this season becomes history.

No fewer than ten players who have appeared in the National Juco tournament at Hutchinson, Kan., have gone on to become regulars in the two major professional leagues. They include:

WILLIE MURRELL, Eastern Oklahoma A&M, later with Kansas State, now with the Denver Rockets of the ABA; IRA HARGREAVE, Burlington College, Iowa, later with New Mexico University, now with the Oakland Oaks of the ABA; MECOY McLEMORE, Moberly, Mo., later with Drake, now with the Chicago Bulls of the NBA; and BOB WARRICK, Pueblo, Colo., later with Pepperdine College, now with the San Francisco Warriors of the NBA.

Also SAM SMITH, Pueblo, later with Wichita State, now with the Minnesota Muskies of the ABA; JIM BARNES, Cameron Aggies, later with U-Texas at El Paso, now with the Chicago Bulls; AUSTIN ROBBINS, Chipola of Marianna, Fla., later with Tennessee, now with the New Orleans Buccaneers of the ABA; MEL DANIELS, Burlington, later with New Mexico, now with Minnesota; FREDDIE LEWIS, Eastern Arizona of Thatcher, later with Arizona State, now with the Indiana Pacers of the ABA; and MATTHEW AITCH, Moberly, later with Michigan State, now with Indiana.

One of the tobacco firms (P. Lorillard Co.) will not renew its advertising contract with CBS on professional football telecasts for next fall.

During the season just past, the company had two minutes of advertising on each of the NFL games carried by the network.

Johnny Hilario, a promising lightweight boxer being trained here by Coach Gerald Loyd, passed up the Golden Gloves Regional tournament at Odessa when his parents decided against signing the waiver required by the tournament officials.

Lewis Robinson, a boy Hilario defeated decisively in Kermil a week prior to the meet, went ahead and won the crown in Hilario's weight division.

Look for Texas Tech to come back strong in the Southwest Conference basketball race in the next two or three years.

Observers say the Tech freshman team is so good it would be a leading contender for the league's crown this year, were it eligible.

The Harlem Globetrotters, who would like to sign both boys, rates Houston's Elvin Hayes just as high on their scouting report as UCLA's Lew Alcindor.

Hayes has expressed no interest in the touring team. He wants to go directly to the NBA.

Interest remains high in the sport here but high school people around the nation are concerned by the drop in attendance at their football games.

They point an accusing finger at pro football and its increase of week-night telecasts.

When the pros move in to rob the schoolboys of their support, they're kicking over the incubator and threatening their own existence.

Regrettably, greed is a festering sore in mankind and can't easily be contained.

They Rate High In Region V Tournament

Tarheels Are Upset By South Carolina

By The Associated Press
Wouldn't it be something if unranked South Carolina won the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball championship tournament and snatched an NCAA tournament berth away from third-ranked North Carolina and 10th-ranked Duke?

Such a possibility, far fetched only a week ago, moved out of the realm of dreams Wednesday night when the Gamecocks snapped North Carolina's 20-game winning streak 87-86 in a bid for the spotlight of a busy night in college basketball.

It was another feather in the cap of Coach Frank McGuire and made the Gamecocks a factor to be reckoned with in the ACC tourney next week. Only five days ago South Carolina upset Duke 56-50.

North Carolina is the runaway leader in the conference, but the tournament decides the NCAA bid.

Bob Cremins, a 150-pound, 6-foot-3 sophomore from New York City, paced the Gamecocks with a career high of 23 points and 15 rebounds.

Down 46-33 at the half, South Carolina rallied to go ahead by nine points, then held off the Tarheels' late surge led by Larry Miller with 26 points.

Bill Barker of the 1954 San Angelo set the single game scoring record for 49 points and that same year tallied 105 points for a three-game mark.

HCJC's 1955 club counted a record 112 points in one game while Odessa holds the tournament record (for three games) with 273 points. That was established in 1966.

Tilden To Play Kyle In Tourney

SAN MARCOS — Tilden, the District 62-B basketball team coached by ex-Big Spring Zay LeFevre, meets Kyle of 54-B in first round competition in the Regional tournament at San Marcos at 4 p.m. Friday.

Winner of that contest opposes Laredo United for the right to play in the finals. A trip to the State tournament awaits the winner of the tournament.

Tilden won its first district championship in history under LeFevre, who is the son of Mrs. Zarah LeFevre of Big Spring.

The Forsan delegation attending Thursday's meeting with the Mertzon people at Sterling City compromised on the site rather than resort to a coin toss.

Don Stevens, Forsan coach, said the Buffalo Queens wanted to play in the HCJC gym at Big Spring while Mertzon was holding out for Eldorado as a site.

Forsan, 24-8 on the year, plays a practice title with Wylie in Roscoe at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Tracksters Eye Saturday Meets

Local track teams will be active on two fronts this weekend.

Coach L. L. (Red) Lewis takes his 13-member Howard County JC squad to Fort Worth for their first outdoor test of the year.

Coaches Jack Tayrean and Gerald Loyd of Big Spring High School send their Steers out against a crack field in the Canyon Reef Relays at Snyder.

The Steers made their debut in the Comanche Relays at Fort Stockton last weekend.

SANDS PLAYS TONIGHT

Bronte Conceded Edge In VI-B Tournament

In order to avoid as much conflict as possible with the Region V Junior College tournament going on here, the schedule for the Region V (high school) meet has been rearranged, with the result that it will get under way tonight rather than Friday. Five bidistrict titlists are entered.

Tonight's schedule is an attractive one to area buffs, even though it offers only one game, because Sands of Ackerly will be facing Socorro. Tipoff time is 7 p.m., scene of action the HCJC gym.

Sands, now 20-5 on the year, is in the tournament for the fourth straight year and last spring qualified for its first trip to the state tournament.

Arlen White's Ponies blasted Barstow in bidistrict competition at Andrews Tuesday night, 93-63. Sands is the 71-B titlist while Socorro, winner over Halmorhea in its bidistrict game, represents 73-B.

The Sands-Socorro survivor meets the tournament favorite, Bronte, in semifinal action at 7 p.m. Friday. The other semifinal contest tomorrow evening

On To Regional For Sands Mustangs

THURSDAY
First round—Sands (71-B) vs. Socorro (73-B), 7 p.m.

SATURDAY

A LOVELIER YOU

Stylish Hose, Shoes Draw Eye To Ankles

By MARY SUE MILLER

If thickening ankles happen to be your figure problem, the time to begin reduction is now. Then your ankles will be in shape for spring's delightful flower-bower stockings and shoes. For the waterside life of summer, too!

Here are the routines that make a snap of ankle slimming:

1. Sit on floor, legs straight and together. Place hands lightly on knees; with knees touching draw toes along floor toward hips as far as possible. By reversing action, return to starting position. Repeat five times.

2. Sit on straight chair. Swing legs forward and up until feet are slightly higher than chair seat. Keeping knees straight and together, arch ankles and point toes — hold for five counts. Lower feet to floor, rest and repeat twice.

3. Stand on tiptoes and take 25 quick, short steps. Like a ballet dancer!

4. Stand with left foot pointing directly left and right foot pointing right, heels not quite touching. Slide right foot behind left and come up onto toes. Without changing position of feet take 20 little steps to left. Then reverse foot position and move to right.

5. Stand with feet together and

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Candy Cuts Easily If This Method Used

Dear Folks: I learned a hint during the holidays about cutting homemade candy that you gals might keep in mind when you make a big batch of it.

So many people write that they cannot cut fudge in pretty, square pieces (especially if it has pecans) after it has set in a pan.

Well, I cooked four pounds of pecan fudge and put it in four different pans. Here are some of the things I learned: If you use whole pecans "put them on top. If they are in the middle of the fudge, they "squash" and make a mess. The reason most recipes call for broken pecans is that they can be cut

HELOISE

Dear Heloise:

As a busy mother of three and a former school teacher, I have a tip for putting on little ones' coats. And best of all, they can do it themselves.

Lay the coat down with the lining side up. The child then stands at the "top" (collar) facing the coat and slips his arms into the sleeves. Then with a quick flip of the coat over his head, he's got it on.

It's surprising how even the very small children can catch on to this by watching their older brothers and sisters do it. . . Carolyn Mangold

Dear Heloise:

When I forget to take a no-iron item from the dryer and it has stayed there long enough to accumulate wrinkles, all I do is put in some wet laundry. Then I let the no-iron item go through the tumbling process along with the wet clothes.

The steam from the wet items smooths out the wrinkles in the no-iron garment. As soon as the dryer stops, I put it on a clothes hanger to preserve the smooth finish. . . Mrs. James Taylor

Glue one of those little name and address labels on the side of a wooden, snap clothespin, and carry it in your purse. Then snap the pin onto both your overshoes when they are to be left among others of a similar kind. It's sure a help in identifying them quickly. Wonderful for school children, too. . . Mr. G. L. M.

MRS. J. K. CUNNINGHAM

Combines Career And Homemaking Talents

Mrs. J. K. Cunningham has remodeled her home at 707 W. 14th, and it is filled with antique treasures, French Provincial furniture and feminine colors of pink, turquoise and orchid.

A white hand-made and carved French Provincial coffee table in a curved design highlights the living room, and nearby is a matching white chair with orchid velvet upholstery.

Mrs. Cunningham has added a den, enlarged the master bedroom and acquired a large store-room. Also, she has knocked out a couple of walls and revamped the heating and cooling system.

Mrs. Cunningham is director of Volunteer Services at the Veterans Administration Hospital and has held the position since the service was established in 1961.

She knits and is now in the process of knitting a gold woolen clutch coat. It is more than half finished and is the second one she has made. Also, she has made massive arrangements of colorful paper flowers which she uses as focal points in her home.

Mrs. Cunningham has taken organ lessons and is hopeful of developing her skill with the instrument. She has had to postpone lessons temporarily because of the work schedule, but this is one thing she plans to continue in the future.

She cooks breakfast but eats lightly at this meal; usually coffee with toast or roll. She has lunch at the hospital and often has her evening meal at a restaurant.

Mrs. Cunningham enjoys cooking for others, but doesn't like to dine alone. She has relatives in surrounding towns that visit her on weekends, and when they are coming, Mrs. Cunningham does special shopping for groceries. She does not try to keep large supplies of food on hand, except the staples, because of the waste and spoilage.

She entertains fairly often and usually serves her specialty of cherry flapjacks with crisp broiled bacon. She enjoys cooking and shopping for dinner parties and has her co-workers of Eastern Star group over as often as time permits. She prefers making desserts to any other food.

In order to keep her family close to her, Mrs. Cunningham has Thanksgiving dinner each year for all her relatives at her home. This is a festive occasion, and with two large dining tables, serving is no problem.

Mrs. Cunningham has many attractive antiques, but one that is particularly handsome is a mahogany swivel stool chest used many years ago in ladies dress shops. Mrs. Cunningham has converted it to a silver chest, and it is a piece of furniture that antique lovers might well dream about.

Other collections of Mrs. Cunningham are dishes and glassware. She has many sets, some are old and some are temporary. However, they blend with the rest of the decor of the home where a number of periods are represented.

Mrs. Cunningham is a member of the First Methodist Church. She is a member of the Order of Eastern Star and president of the Past Matrons Club.

Give The Younger Set A Real Mexican Treat

To perk up the appetites of the younger set, and at the same time introduce them to the delights of international cuisine, try a lunchtime treat featuring the taco, or sandwich as it is known in Mexico.

The taco is made from a tortilla, a thin, flat cake of corn meal, which is fried until crisp and filled with a subtly spiced meat. It has just enough seasoning to appeal to young palates.

Serve the taco sprinkled with bits of lettuce, tomato and grated cheese, and it becomes a nutritious main dish and salad in one. Arroz a la Mexicana (Mexican Rice) and fruit punch, a favorite south of the border beverage, complete the luncheon menu.

ARROZ A LA MEXICANA (Mexican Rice)

1/2 cup white long grain rice
1-3 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1 tsp. butter or margarine
3/4 cup canned tomatoes
3/4 cup beef bouillon
1/2 tsp. salt

Saute rice, onion and green pepper in butter or margarine until golden brown. Add tomatoes, bouillon and salt. Cover and cook over low heat about 25 minutes or until rice is tender. Serves four children.

Roast Or Braise A Sirloin Tip

Faced with a sirloin tip or rump roast? Shall she roast or braise it?

This may be confusing since these cuts are cooked by roasting or braising depending upon the tenderness of the cut. Tenderness cannot always be judged before cooking although grade or quality is a guide. Frequently a cut which is roasted would give better satisfaction, in tenderness and juiciness, if it were braised well-done as a pot-roast.

For the person who prefers to roast these cuts, and who may be in doubt as to their tenderness when cooked, a good rule is to cook and serve the meat rare done and to serve thinly carved slices. Each of these procedures favorably affects the tenderness impression. In Beef Neapolitan the beef is braised.

BEEF NEAPOLITAN

3 to 4 lbs. sirloin tip or rolled rump pot-roast
3 tbsps. lard or drippings
1 1/2 tps. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 clove garlic, minced
1 tsp. parsley flakes
1/2 tsp. basil
1/4 tsp. oregano
1 large onion, sliced
1 can (16 oz.) tomatoes
1 can (4 oz.) mushrooms
1/2 lb. spaghetti

Brown meat in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add salt, pepper, garlic, parsley flakes, basil, oregano, onion and tomatoes. Cover tightly and simmer three to four hours or until tender. Cook spaghetti according to package directions. Drain. Remove meat from pan and add water, if necessary, to make 2 1/2 cups liquid. Add mushrooms; stir in spaghetti and heat through. Slice pot-roast and serve with spaghetti.

Try Bacon And Beans

On a snappy winter night, there's nothing better than a truly hearty supper. Make it substantial like this Bacon-Pineapple Burst with beans, Canadian-style bacon and pineapple slices.

All the main ingredients are already cooked. They need only heating to bring to piping hot serving temperature. Bake beans are made tastefully meaty and satisfying with Canadian-style bacon which comes from the pork loin which has been cured and smoked.

Serve this meal with a green salad, ice cream cake roll and beverage. Add brown bread and butter sandwiches or crusty rolls to serve with the entree.

BACON-PINEAPPLE BURST

8 slices Canadian-style bacon, 1 cut 1/2 inch thick
1 can (1 lb. 15 oz.) baked beans
2 tps. chopped onion
1 can (9 oz.) sliced pineapple, drained

Combine beans, onion and mustard in a 1 1/2-quart baking dish. Cut pineapple slices in half. Overlap bacon and pineapple in circle on top of bean mixture. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 30 minutes. Makes four to five servings.

PINWHEEL TREAT

Along thread makes a nifty slicer for pinwheel sandwiches and helps to keep the soft dough in trim rounds. Just place the thread around the roll, crisscross the two ends over top, and pull gently but tightly

SERVE DURING LENT (Cheese-filled and delicious)

Snap Up This New Recipe For Stuffed Fish Dish

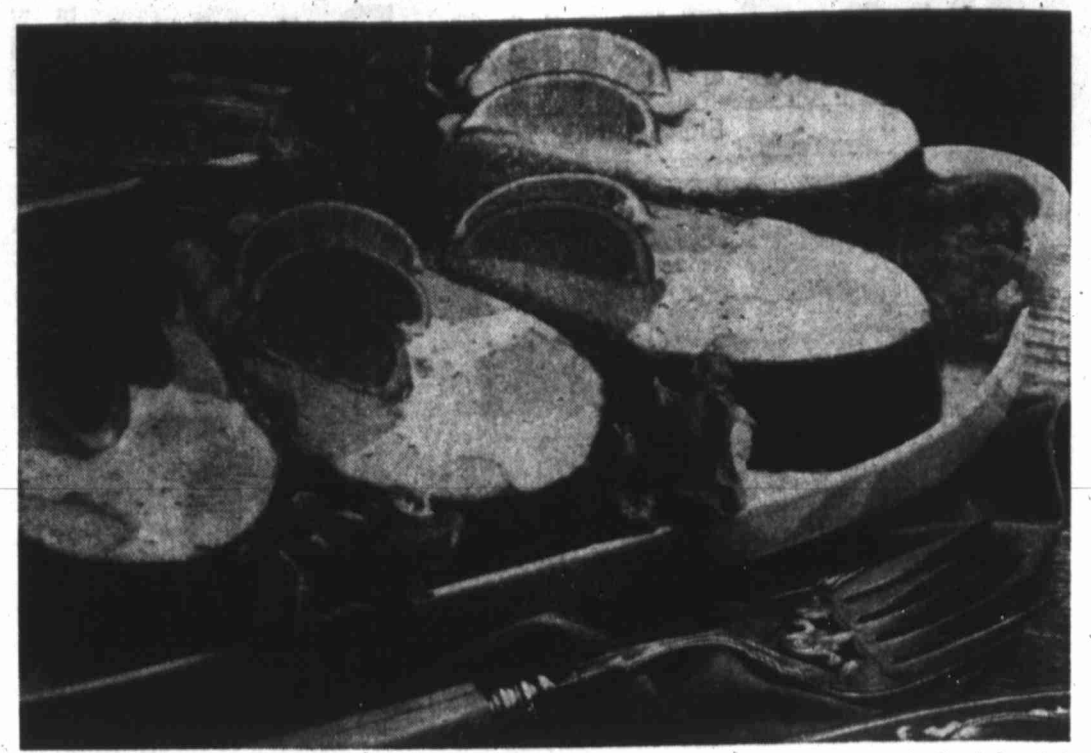

Well, snap up this recipe for a whole red snapper stuffed with the succulence of onion, bread cubes, and sharp, shredded Cheddar cheese. Scatter almonds atop the snapper, then nestle among greens.

CHEESE-FILLED RED SNAPPER

1/4 cup (1/2 stick) Danish flavor margarine or butter
3/4 cup chopped celery
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/2 tsp. salt
3 cups (1/2-inch) fresh bread cubes
2 1/2 cups (one 8-oz. bar) old-fashioned sharp Cheddar cheese, finely shredded
2 1/2 lbs. (one whole) red snapper, split and boned
1/4 cup sliced unblanched almonds, optional

In a 10-inch skillet, melt the margarine or butter. Sauté celery and onions until tender, about five minutes. Remove from heat. Add salt, bread cubes and about 1 1/4 cups shredded cheese. Gently mix thoroughly. Place fish in a well-greased 13 1/2 x 9 x 2-inch, three-quart shallow baking dish. Spoon stuffing inside; secure with wood picks. Brush with melted margarine. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven for 30 minutes. Sprinkle remaining 1 1/4 cups cheese on top of fish. If desired, sprinkle with almonds. Bake an additional 10 minutes. Serve immediately. Makes six servings.

Easy To Prepare

If you are tired of the usual dinner recipes and want to tease your family's palates, try this quick and delicious recipe. Toss a green salad, brown the bread and dinner is ready.

Bake A Salmon Steak To Liven Family Meals

A fish steak in time saves not just nine, but countless minutes of valuable time you need in meal preparation. It's salmon steaks here, but fish and shellfish of all kinds are among the best natural timesavers.

They are easy to prepare and cook quickly. But watch the clock! Don't overcook the steaks!

Breezy Salmon Bake is indeed a breeze. Only a few basic ingredients are used — a timesaver in preparation. The steaks are table-ready in less than 30 minutes. The flavor of Breezy Salmon Bake will be more than timely, it will be as timeless as good art, as delightful and fresh each time you prepare it as if you were discovering its flavor anew.

BREEZY SALMON BAKE

2 lbs. salmon steaks or other fish steaks, fresh or frozen
2 tbsps. grated onion
1 1/4 tps. dill weed
1 tsp. salt
Dash pepper
1 tps. butter or margarine
3/4 cup light cream

Thaw frozen steaks. Place steaks in a single layer in a well-greased baking dish, 12 x 8 x 2 inches. Sprinkle steaks with onion, dill weed, salt, and pepper. Dot with butter. Pour cream over steaks. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 25 to 30 minutes or until steaks flake easily when tested with a fork. Makes six servings.

Serve Pea Soup On Cold Days

Peas porridge hot, peas porridge cold.

This segment of an old nursery rhyme depicts the popularity of pea "porridge" or soup. It's delicious — hot or cold!

You'll probably prefer your pea soup hot. What a treat on a cold winter day. And you'll find supplies of dry split peas plentiful now, according to reports from the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service.

They can be utilized in many different ways — but SPLIT PEA SOUP is a favorite. You'll need two cups dry split peas, two quarts water, one ham hock, 1/2 cup finely chopped celery, 1/2 cup finely chopped carrots and one teaspoon finely chopped onion.

Place all ingredients into large kettle. Boil gently about two hours or until the consistency desired for soup. Remove ham hock. If desired, press peas through a coarse sieve to get puree. Chop meat from bone and return to soup. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Add water if needed. Yields eight servings.

For something different in pea eating, try a CASPEAN ROAST. The recipe calls for one cup cooked split peas, one cup diced celery, one cup raw chopped cashew nuts, one cup oatmeal, one cup monosodium glutamate, one cup water, 1/2 cup chopped onion, two tablespoons cooking oil, one tablespoon brewer's yeast, if desired, one tablespoon sweet basil and one tablespoon soy sauce.

Cook the split peas quite dry and thick, since they are used to bind the roast together. Combine and mix well all the ingredients. Pour into greased casserole and bake at 350 degrees F. for one hour.

Try Tomato Soup As Supper Dish

Clear tomato soup makes a tasty hot supper dish. You'll need 1 1/2 quarts fresh tomatoes, 1/2 bay leaf, 1/4 cup chopped onion, 4 cloves, 1 tablespoon melted fat, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 teaspoon sugar, if desired, 1 teaspoon salt and a dash of pepper.

Cook together the tomatoes, bay leaf, onion and cloves about 20 minutes. Press through a sieve. Blend the fat, flour and sugar. Gradually add the cooled, sieved tomatoes.

Cook over low heat, stirring constantly for about 5 minutes. Season with salt and pepper. If desired, sprinkle with finely chopped parsley and serve with toasted bread cubes.

Burleson Studies Internal Security

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Congress is facing action on three separate fronts, according to Congressman Omar Burleson, 17th District. The first is providing what is needed for efforts in Vietnam. The second is the battle against domestic crime and riots. The third, to bring about a more sound fiscal policy.

While these three confounding issues hold a serious preoccupation of the Congress, attention is being diverted from the internal security aspect of our nation. Although opinions differ among people of good intent, many of the disturbances which have been afflicting our land have been inspired by Communists and radicals. Conditions have given them a catalyst and an opportunity to foment civil strife in a most severe form. These are the people who want to see a disintegration of authority, both governmental and moral. This condition has been fed by the trend in our highest courts to tolerate such action and even assume a posture making it impossible to assert authority.

SEEK TO PLUG

A number of us in the House of Representatives and others in the Senate, are now working to formulate legislation designed to plug loopholes.

As an example of some of these trends, between 1919 and 1942 the Supreme Court accepted jurisdiction in only 11 cases involving Communist subversive activities. Seven of these 11 were decided against the radicals and four sustained their appeal.

Since 1943 the Supreme Court has accepted 147 cases involving appeals by Communists and other subversives. Of these, 93 were decided favorably for those charged and 54 against.

IMBALANCED

The fact that these radicals can win cases shows the impartiality of our judicial system in which the judges of our highest courts can overlook personal repugnance and grant justice when the law demands justice. At the same time these statistics show it has gone far to accept jurisdiction in borderline cases and has tortured the laws in such a way that there is an imbalanced weight against the safety of our nation. Recently the court voided the law making it illegal for subversive elements or members of an organization found to be a Communist front to hold jobs in desituation. In addition, it is hoped legislation being drafted are protection of federal employees from reprisals for giving information to congressional committees; making failure to surrender a U.S. passport upon request a heavy penal offense; providing severe penalties for collusion with foreign governments to evade U.S. passport regulations; deny tax-exemption status to any organization making contributions to any group, or individual found on the subversive list.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The day starts on a pretty sour note and if you do nothing whatever to cause any friction or to stir up any animosity with any other person, however, by evening much more pleasant aspects are in effect and you can gain most anything you wish by a new attitude which has an element of charm.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Don't give in to temptation to light into one who has disturbed you; be diplomatic and you will get along fine and you will out. Evening can then be particularly happy for you.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Don't be trusted over some situation during day, but keep busy at your work and the evening can be very delightful for you. By evening whatever was troubling you will blow over. Have faith.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A friend who is too blunt can give you an annoying time, so avoid. Get out with some social group and forget tensions quickly. Evening is best time to clear up any personal matters that are bothering you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 22) Take care you are discreet in all you do during day, otherwise a higher power could take you over the coals. Strive to impress instead. Make those improvements that you think are necessary.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 23) Day hours are not good for getting into new arrangements, but in p.m. you can make fascinating new plans. That trip should be studied in the evening, also. Don't permit a lesser person to change your plans.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) Forget those debts in a.m. when you are apt to get overly upset, but later in the day some expert gives right advice regarding them. Avoid arguing with mate and evening can be most happy and romantic.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Don't make changes where associates are concerned or be a nooning person during day, and by evening oil will straighten itself out. Many rather trying situations arise during day. Be calm and all is fine.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Get your work done without endeavoring to throw it off on another, and conscientiousness brings fine benefits. Work at a good rate of speed, but don't overdo.

Take health treatments you may need in p.m.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Refusing to do anything that would make trouble between you and your mate is important, and then you can be happy together for fun. Labor to make your finest hobby work nicely. Be efficient.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Kin is in a strange mood and it behooves you to not criticize or make remarks that could start trouble. Be patient in business, also. Show that you are painstaking during day. Take it easy tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Driving with particular care is important today and be very diplomatic with partners, also. Be with good friends tonight for a lolly time. Correct errors in written statements, reports of all kind.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You are tempted to spend too much during day or make wrong calculations concerning real estate, etc. Take it easy and tonight you see all more clearly. Get busy putting your budget in order.

A Devotional For The Day

When my eyes took in this sight I fell at his feet like a dead man. And then he placed his right hand upon me and said: "Do not be afraid. I am the first and the last, the living one. I am he who was dead, and now you see me alive for timeless ages! I hold in my hand the keys of death and the grave." (Revelation 1:17-18, Phillips)

PRAYER: O holy Father, take our lives and let them be consecrated wholly to Thee. Our finite minds cannot comprehend Thee fully, but through Thy Son we have learned to know Thee as our Father, and in that relationship we find our rest. In the name of Thy Son we thank Thee. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Stepped-Up Savings

The American people currently are "oversaving," not necessarily more than they should but more than they usually do. Under present wartime inflationary pressures, that is fine if the saving level remains high until those pressures are off. If anything should trigger release of that pent-up purchasing power now, even a major quick tax hike would hardly contain the resulting inflationary force.

The saving degree is impressive. The 1959-64 saving average was 5.5 per cent of "disposable personal income" (roughly the after-taxes purchasing power on the nation's consumers). That climbed to 5.8 per cent in 1965, 5.9 per cent in 1966, and then to 7.1 per cent in 1967. The 1.2 per cent of increase in 1967 over 1966 may not seem much, but with disposable personal income last year topping half a trillion dollars, that meant a $6½ billion increase in personal savings in one year.

The President's Council of Economic Advisers is unsure why personal savings have jumped so during the past year. The best guess seems to be that the cause is psychological — intensified anxiety over the cost and course of the Vietnam war. Past experience supports the theory that people generally save at a higher rate during periods of national anxiety, and certainly now is such a period.

The increase in saving is, in a sense, reassuring. For it would make it more likely that the saving level will remain high while that is beneficial to an inflation-threatened economy, with the pent-up purchasing power less likely to be released before that would be helpful in stimulating the economy when the war pressures ease. But the saving barometer will have to be watched carefully, for if the level begins to drop, to expand purchasing power prematurely, offsetting fiscal and monetary moves will have to be made quickly to avoid dangerous inflation.

Bar Backs Change

The American Bar Association is sometimes charged with being excessively resistant to change. Though there may be some merit in this view, it is refuted in part by the group's past support of numerous progressive measures. Along the same line is its current advocacy of a constitutional amendment that would provide for election of presidents by popular vote.

Under the present system a minority candidate may become president by getting a majority in the electoral college. This happened in 1876, when Rutherford B. Hayes edged out Samuel J. Tilden. The popular vote had gone for Tilden by a 250,000 margin, yet Hayes won 185 electoral votes to his rival's 134. Only a dozen years later, President Grover Cleveland, running for re-election, polled 100,000 more votes than Benjamin Harrison yet lost out in the electoral count.

The matter has special pertinence in this presidential election year. George C. Wallace, Alabama's racist former governor, has made it known that if he can keep both major candidates from getting an electoral majority, he will bargain with them for the presidency. He puts it more politely, saying that he would not seek a "covenant" with one of the major contestants. But bargaining it would be.

One can readily foresee the storm if a president were to be chosen by such a dicker. Whoever gained the White House thereby would certainly be turned out resoundingly in the next election, and there would be a crisis of confidence.

The Constitution ought to be amended to remedy the serious defect which would permit a situation like this to arise. It is good to have the Bar Association backing such an amendment.

The Captured Document Business

WASHINGTON — As everyone is aware, the best source of information concerning how things are going in Vietnam is captured enemy documents. If it weren't for these captured documents, our political and military leaders would certainly not be as optimistic about the war as they seem to be right now.

By chance I came across an enemy document myself the other day, and it was a windfall because it described how the North Vietnamese were managing to get their captured enemy documents into the hands of the South Vietnamese and Americans.

IT SEEMS that Hanoi has turned over the responsibility of manufacturing and distributing captured documents to the 101st Captured Enemy Document Brigade. The headquarters of the 101st CED Brigade is located five stories underground somewhere near the Chinese border. There, under the supervision of the notorious Col Vinh Su, a Soviet-built mimeograph machine turns out an average of 10,000 enemy documents a day.

Because of wartime conditions these captured documents are printed on a heavy low-grade paper which is one of the main reasons American intelligence believes that Hanoi is ready to throw in the towel. No country can survive long if it has to print its orders on low-grade paper.

BUT THE PAPER has a twofold purpose. After the documents are printed they are issued to North Vietnamese and Viet-Cong soldiers as part of their uniform. The captured enemy documents are used as insulation for the wet-weather jackets, as well as for stuffing into sandals when the cheap North Vietnamese leather gives out.

It is for this insulation that North Vietnamese soldiers and Viet Cong are so anxious to carry captured enemy documents on themselves.

Although all Viet Cong forces are issued captured enemy documents, the 101st CED Brigade is solely charged with carrying the highly classified ones which eventually will get to the Pentagon and then be given to pro-Administration columnists.

THE MEMBERS of the 101st are given extensive training. They are then sent out on patrol with the captured documents hidden in their knapsacks. As soon as they see a South Vietnamese or American unit they throw up their hands and surrender. While being searched they babble that they were all innocently duped by the Communists.

Needless to say, there is a big turnover in the 101st Brigade, particularly when its main mission is to be captured. But the supplying of captured enemy documents to Saigon has high-priority for Hanoi, and the demand for them has increased with each new escalation.

AS A MATTER of fact there is now a black market in captured enemy documents and many South Vietnamese have decided to manufacture them to sell to the various American intelligence agencies.

These captured documents are printed on better paper, and are easier to study since they weren't carried down from the North. Also some enterprising forgers are printing them in English to make them easier for the Americans to read. This has naturally angered the North Vietnamese who have demanded that unless the illicit traffic in captured enemy documents ceases, they will not come to the conference table.

Here's How To Win Husband

NEW YORK (AP) — Dear Pavement Plork:

So far I am a Leap Year loser. I have a target—Melvin, the bachelor of my choice.

I feel he loves me. This week he deliberately let me beat him twice in a row at Indian hand wrestling, and last summer when our crowd went on picnics I was the only girl he'd let help him look for four-leaf clovers.

BUT WHEN I speak of marriage, Melvin just gets a faraway look and pretends he doesn't know what I am talking about. What can I do to win him as a husband?

Rosemary for Remembrance

Dear Rosemary: To begin with, don't lose your cool. There are a lot of girls in your plight, each of whom believes that just because this is Leap Year she'll be able to sweep her own particular Melvin off his feet.

A MAJORITY of them will probably miss their goal because of one thing — over-eagerness.

Since they realize that there is a 366-day open season on them this year, bachelors—like any other hunted creatures—are doubly shy. Before you can catch Melvin you first must court him.

How should a modern girl go about courting a modern bachelor? The same way that porcupines court—cautiously. Don't pounce on him as if he were a mouse. Creep up on him as if he were a mouse.

WORM YOUR way into Melvin's life gradually until he will finally decide himself that you are indispensable to his happiness.

As most bachelors today are looking for security above everything else, do everything in your power to bolster Melvin's self-confidence.

If you go bowling or play pool together, let him win two times out of three, even though you have to play left-handed to do so.

DON'T TAKE him to your apartment to show him how well you can cook. Every bachelor prides himself on his culinary skill. Let him take you to his apartment and rustle up a meal. No matter how it tastes, praise every bitter bite. No man wants to spend his life with a woman who doesn't appreciate his cooking.

Assist him in every possible way. Sew on a button for him now and then. Help him write letters to his congressman or his draft board.

WHEN YOU find Melvin turns to you in every emergency, it is time to wind up the campaign. Do it in style. Have him over to your apartment and again let him cook the meal. Ply him afterward with champagne, cuddle next to him on the love seat and tell him you're doing so well on the job that you soon expect to be named the first lady vice president in the history of your firm.

Then open your bank book, let him have a good long look at it and say:

"Melvin, dear, why don't you help me spend this forever and ever and ever and ever..."

One last tip: When you leave for Niagara Falls on your honeymoon, you pay for the tickets.

Vocational Education Pushed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The dream of a college education for all young Americans, so dear to the hearts of parents and politicians, is being called into serious question on Capitol Hill.

The charge has been made in Congress that the four of every five American youths who now fail to complete college are victims of a national obsession with the goal of a college education for everyone.

EVEN IN the academic world itself it has been argued that educators have oversold the idea of a college education as the key to success.

A better goal for a national education policy, said these critics, is some sort of vocational education for all—some preparation for choosing, getting and holding a decent job. A college education may be a good way for some to get such preparation, they say but it's not the only way.

Yet in a nation where only one youth in five graduates from college, the federal government contributes nearly three times as much money to support higher education than vocational education. And the total has remained fairly level for three years in vocational education while rising rapidly for higher education.

REP. ALBERT H. QUIN, R-Minn., one of the strongest advocates of better vocational education, estimates 90 per cent of those who come into the job market without a college degree have never learned a marketable skill.

The bitter fruits of this policy, he says, are staggering rates of unemployment among young people and the $1 billion a year the government spends on work-training programs to rehabilitate them.

The framework for a national policy of universal vocational education has been prepared by a special advisory council appointed by John W. Gardner, secretary of health, education and welfare.

IT SUGGESTS occupational preparation begin in elementary school with "a realistic picture of the world of work." In junior high school, it says, all students study the economic and industrial system to become acquainted with the range of job choices available.

Why Hysterectomy Doesn't Mean A Year Of Rest

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Why is it that with a hysterectomy operation years ago you couldn't return to work or do any housework for a whole year, and now you can do both in two to four months? — A.R.

It's because we know more than we used to.

Surgery has been revolutionized in many ways in the present century, within the lifetime of many of us, and in some respects in the last decade or two.

Well into the 1920's, it was the custom to keep any surgical patient — major surgery, that is — in bed and as quiet as possible for at least a week or 10 days, often longer.

Then, weak and trembling, they were gotten up cautiously and gradually. And we didn't realize that it was bad for them!

The truth popped out by accident. Dr. Daniel J. Leithauser removed a patient's appendix and, as was customary, he was put to bed. He very soon said he wanted to get up and (of course) was told he mustn't.

But he was a stubborn cuss, and when the nurses left, he climbed out of bed and started walking around. There was all sorts of fuss when he was discovered, but there wasn't any apparent way of keeping him in bed without tying him down. The upshot was that the doctor, unable to find that any harm was resulting, let his strong-minded patient go home much sooner than usual.

This seemed — by standards of that day — so risky that others were horrified and even threatened to denounce the doctor publicly for saying that we'd been wrong about the whole custom of making patients stay in bed while they healed.

But a good idea is hard to suppress, and others tried letting patients get up sooner. Today we not only let them, we insist on it.

For experience soon showed all sorts of benefits. Sutures held incisions safely together. Getting up instead of lying in bed kept a patient's strength up — a week of lying in bed can make your muscles flabbier than you think.

Moving around prevented a great deal of trouble formerly experienced with adhesions, and the number of blood clots was drastically reduced. Circulation was better and healing was not impaired.

Early ambulation — early walking — thus was discovered through the bull-headedness of one patient and the astute observation of an open-minded surgeon.

Hysterectomy is one of many types of surgery helped by early ambulation. The patient is sitting up, and then gotten on her feet sooner. There are fewer complications. She doesn't lose her strength through weeks of immobility, so she doesn't have to spend months regaining lost muscle tone.

In the great majority of surgical cases, a patient is sitting up at least by the next day, sometimes the same day, and very often on his feet within 12 to 24 hours.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for the booklet, "Ear Noises — Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader-mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

All That Glitters Is Not Hay

I'm beginning to have second thoughts now, but not so long ago I was quite eager for our youngsters to reach the age when I could stock the back yard with a couple of steers and a lamb or two for them to prepare for the annual stock shows.

STRUGGLING with the prospect of financing their college education took on a rosy glow when I read of the several Howard County youngsters who have journeyed to big cities and sold a single steer for multiple thousands of dollars. What could be simpler, sez I to my helpmate, than pick up a few calves, let the kids feed 'em, then unload 'em on the city slickers for a fancy sum.

AS SHE is often wont to do, she explained to this city slicker that things are not quite so simple. Having been reared in such an environment, she pointed out that the kind of stock that brings such fancy prices does not come running in out of every herd for a low fee.

Next, she explained that a calf or a lamb requires daily care, and that youngsters often have other things to do. This leaves some of that care for "you-know-who," oddly enough usually coming on cold, wintry, wet mornings or nights. Then, there comes the matter of hauling the animal all over the country, which youngsters are not always capable of doing.

FINALLY, having arrived at the show, she tells me there is a fantastic crowd on hand, most of them also escorting stock that has received the same care as the family pet. All are under the impression that they will win the top money, and in most such shows, the competition is rigid and the judging close. Far from being a nifty way to raise a fast buck, she carefully pointed out that there are many hours of work for the whole family in raising a champion.

NOT FOR a moment had I doubted there was a lot of work involved, I had not fully realized that "the whole family" was trapped into some of it. Besides that, she reminded, the city has a law against keeping a cow in the back yard.

Of course, there is always the hope of landing them a paper route. I suspect the parents get ample opportunity to throw papers themselves, but at least I have some experience with that profession.

A New Way To Pay Ransom

WASHINGTON — In better days than these, the exchange of prisoners of war was a dignified business of ambassadors and commanders, often done through respected agencies like the Red Cross or through the good offices of neutral nations.

The Feb. 16 recovery of three American military pilots from North Vietnam custody was conducted by an obscure public relationist at the State Department, Frank Sieverts. It was chiefly carried out through the leader of last October's degrading pacifists' March on the Pentagon, David Dellinger.

THE STATE Department at first planned to send Dellinger and Dr. Benjamin Spock to Hanoi as "escorts" for the released flyers — Maj. Norris Overly, Capt. John David Black and Lt. (j.g.) David Matheny. A Hanoi spokesman described these officers as having displayed a "repentant attitude during the period of detention."

Dellinger and Dr. Spock, however, were not available for the trip. Dellinger had already had his passport revoked for travel law violations, and Dr. Spock was under indictment for inciting violations of the draft laws. The State Department accepted Dellinger's nomination of Professor Howard Zinn of Boston University and Father Daniel Berrigan of Cornell University.

BOTH THE PROFESSOR and the priest have conspicuous records of opposition to the Vietnam War. The Communist propaganda impact upon campus pacifists, draft-dodgers, domestic peace-mongers and the American fighting forces is too obvious to need comment. A State Department spokesman "welcomed" this release and asked Hanoi for more.

More of such "welcome" prisoner releases would presumably follow the arrangements as before. Early in 1968 the State Department sent Frank Sieverts, a press secretary to Deputy Secretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach, to New York to negotiate with David Derringer, who had a message from Hanoi. The North Vietnam government was willing to spring three "repentant" war prisoners as part of the lunar new year (Tet) truce, which later was the occasion of the Viet Cong assault on Saigon, Hue and other South Vietnam cities.

ZINN, in addition to the attempted subversion of American servicemen in Japan (from where two, at least, deserted to the Soviet Union), has led numerous pacifist demonstrations and has endorsed a proposed impeachment of President Johnson for the "high crime" of making war against communism. Father Berrigan, a perennial anti-war agitator and co-chairman of Clergy Concerned About Vietnam Committee, was arrested and jailed for his performance at the Pentagon march.

State Department negotiators, if they follow the present pattern of "welcome" prisoner exchange, would be legitimizing a strange system of diplomacy.

THE DIGNITY of ministerial arrangements would give way to hole-in-the-wall meetings between State Department subordinates and cosy-with-the-enemy dissenters like Dellinger. Instead of paying ransom for prisoners, which is shameful enough, we would pay the enemy in propaganda advantages to be used upon our own unstable citizens.

It will be said that it's "humane" to buy back prisoners of war from the Communists. But it appears that only "repentant" captives are up for release. For the U.S. government to accept such deals is pretty rough on the unrepentant buddies left behind in the prison camps. It's pretty unerving for American troops going into action, and it sets a low value upon the loyalty and steadfastness that this country traditionally asks of its soldiers and citizens.

Facing Up To The Crime Problem

WASHINGTON — MISSING hereabouts is something that can be expressed in a single word — courage. Politicians in the government have come to believe it is expedient to avoid dealing with the very factors which are producing the biggest area of unrest and fear in the nation's history.

FOR, AS THE summer approaches, the country is being told that more riots and civil disorders are to break out in many cities. But very little is being done about it. The President's Commission on Civil Disorders, which was appointed to make a thorough study of the whole problem and offer some recommendations, will issue its report this weekend. Already it is becoming known that, aside from the usual bromides about sociological inequities and injustices, the central issue isn't being tackled at all.

THE SIMPLE TRUTH is that the politically minded individuals who run the states and cities as well as the federal government, including the Congress, are aware that a large-sized Negro vote may be cast this year. Hence, many feel that any drastic measures which even remotely appear to be aimed at Negroes must be repressed.

Riots, however, are participated in by whites as well as Negroes, and anyone who creates a disorder is punishable by state law. There are persons who conspire to bring about disorders, but they go scot-free. Proposals are pending in Congress to amend the civil-rights statutes to provide for the punishment of those who cross state lines with the intent to instigate disorders. Many plots and conspiracies are planned outside the boundaries of a state where the riots break out.

BUT WHILE SUCH legislation would help, the federal government already has the power to punish anybody who incites any form of insurrection in this country. The newspaper dispatches have for several months now been telling of the plans of the leaders of "demonstrations," some of whom have used threatening language. Others have made speeches saying, in effect, that unless certain steps are taken, there will be trouble ahead as a result of a number of organized "demonstrations" or "marches" in what are known as "target cities."

THE U.S. DEPARTMENT of Justice, which has no difficulty finding a basis for prosecuting those who discriminate in housing or in restaurants—even though the individuals involved may not have travelled in interstate commerce—appears to have abandoned any idea of bringing to court the persons who incite riots by their public speeches.

It is argued that this comes under the heading of "free speech," but, oddly enough, comments or statements that are made in various public discussions related to instances of racial discrimination are regularly offered in evidence in the courts.

THE REAL QUESTION is whether public officials will have the courage to ask grand juries to indict individuals who make speeches that lead to riots when the flames of racial friction have been fanned in certain areas under previously arranged schedules of "demonstrations."

Someday perhaps the electorate will get an explanation of why there has been an absence of courage to use the nation's law-enforcement apparatus to punish any individuals or organizations which deliberately incite disorder by their "demonstrations."
